

THE HOLY FAITH OF REFORMED SAMARITANISM

(Resolve to do good unto the needy, no matter if they be Jews, or Gentiles; But strive to oppose all sort of brazen deception, pride, injustice, cruelty, and open immorality, no matter if the latter is being promoted by the Jews, or by the Gentiles)

You cannot build a holy land for the Israeli children on the mass graves of the Palestinian children!

“Behold, I will press you in your place, as a cart presseth that is full of sheaves. And flight shall perish from the swift; and the strong shall not strengthen his force; neither shall the mighty deliver himself; neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and he that is swift of foot shall not deliver himself... and he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith יהוה (Adonay Yah)”- Amos 2:13-16

God looks at the intentions of our hearts!

God’s Law (“Torah”) teaches that the Creator is sort of like “a Mirror”- the Mirror itself never changes; but, if two men were to look into it, each man would see something different, as each would see a reflection of his own image.

In other words, if a warrior looks into the mirror, he will see “a warrior God” (a “God of Host”, so to speak); if a Peace maker looks into it, he will see a “God of Peace”; If a loving Father looks into it, he’ll see a God who is “Our Father, who is in Heaven”; If a Merciful man looks into it, He will see a Merciful God; but if a Stern man looks into it, he will see a Stern God.

As it is written: “With the merciful, thou wilt shew thyself merciful; with an upright man, thou wilt shew thyself upright; with the pure, thou wilt shew thyself pure; and with the froward, thou wilt shew thyself froward”- Psalm 18:25-26, King James Bible. And the former could easily explain the reason why, when talking to Moses, God describes Himself as follows: “I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob...”- Exodus 3:6, King James Bible.

Why did God has to say “the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob”? Why couldn't He just say, “the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob”? Again, because each patriarch perceived God in a different fashion, just as if they were serving three different Gods.

But the truth of the matter is that, although each of them viewed God differently [just as it happens with Islam, Judaism, and Christianity], they all served the same God; And, although different, each view was correct, as it was a faithful reflection of their individual personalities.

So God goes beyond our individual religions, and judges the intentions of our hearts. As is written: “For יהוה does not see as man sees; for man looks at the outward appearance, but יהוה looks at the heart”- 1 Samuel 16:7.

Thus, Divine truth is as diverse as mankind. And the latter is the reason why Hebrew Scripture provides various examples of different [yet valid] ways to answer God’s call to mankind. For example, he who righteously judge the cause of the weak and the needy, is thereby providing a correct answer to God’s call.

As it is written: “He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the Lord”- Jeremiah 22:16. And the same happens with he who is meek and humble. As it has been said: “For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the Lord: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word”- Isaiah 66:2.

Likewise, the man who turns away from wickedness is thereby providing a proper answer to God’s call unto his soul. As it has been written: “Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore [in everlasting life]”- Psalm 37:27. And so too does he who considers the poor (“Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble”- Psalm 41:1).

In fact, he who loves the stranger, also provides a correct answer to God’s call to mankind (“He doth execute the judgment of the fatherless and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment. Love ye therefore the stranger: for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt”- Deuteronomy 10:18-19).

Finally, he who honors his father also provides a valid answer to the question of obedience to the Almighty. As is it written: «Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; *“Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you: Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever”- Jeremiah 35:18-19.

In short, our grave mistake in understanding God, is the false idea that there’s just one way to the serve Him; and only one true [and valid] response to His call for righteousness.

Hebrew Scripture states that there is a time to love the Jews, and there’s a time to hate them; a time to be at peace with the Jews, and a time to be at war with them

Hebrew Scripture states that everything has it’s own time. As it has been said: “To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven... A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace”- Ecclesiastes 3:1,&8 (King James Version).

Thus, Scripture teaches that there is a time to love the Jews (“YEA, I HAVE LOVED THEE with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee”- Jeremiah 31:3, King James Version), and there is a time to hate the Jews (“When GOD HEARD THIS, he was wroth, AND GREATLY ABHORRED ISRAEL”- Psalm 78:59, King James Version).

Likewise, there is a time to be at peace with the Jews (“... we [the Jews] have sought the Lord our God. WE HAVE SOUGHT HIM, AND HE HAS GIVEN US PEACE ON EVERY SIDE...”- 2 Chronicles 14:7, English Standard Version), and there is a time to be at war with the Jews (“But THEY [THE JEWS] REBELLED and grieved His Holy Spirit; THEREFORE HE [GOD] TURNED TO BE THEIR ENEMY, AND HIMSELF FOUGHT AGAINST THEM”- Isaiah 63:10, English Standard Version)

The strange way in which God encourages anti-semitism, in order to bring correction upon the Jewish people

Jewish tradition states that, for eighteen years a divine voice kept reverberating in Nebuchadnezzar's palace, saying, "Go up and destroy the House of your Master, whose children [Israel] do not listen to Him".

Nebuchadnezzar was initially afraid, fearing such anti-semitism would bring him a curse. Yet, in the end, he decided to comply, and went on to do God's bidding. Thus, he sent his general (Nebuzaradan), in order to destroy Jerusalem.

Concerning the latter, Rava said: Nebuchadnezzar sent to Nebuzaradan three hundred mules laden with iron axes that cut iron. All of them were incapacitated in the attempt to breach one gate of Jerusalem, as it is stated: "And now they pound its carved work together with hatchet and with hammers" (Psalm 74:6).

Nebuzaradan sought to return to Babylonia and said: I am afraid. I want to ensure that they will not do to me just as they did to Sennacherib, whose downfall was in Jerusalem.

A Divine Voice emerged and said: Leaper, son of a leaper; Nebuzaradan, take the leap, as the time has arrived for the Temple to be destroyed and the Sanctuary to burn. One ax remained for him to use. He went and struck the gate with the dull end of the ax and it opened, as it is stated:

"He became known as the wielder of axes upward in a thicket of trees" (Psalms 74:5). At the appropriate time the gate was breached as though the ax were cutting trees.

He was proceeding and killing until he reached the Sanctuary. When he reached the Sanctuary, he ignited a fire in it. The Sanctuary rose, seeking to enter Heaven so that it would not burn.

They trod upon it from Heaven, and returned it to its place, as it is stated: “The Lord has trodden the virgin, the daughter of Judah, as in a winepress” (Lamentations 1:15).

Nebuzaradan became haughty, taking pride in his conquest. A Divine Voice emerged and said to him: Your haughtiness is unwarranted, as you killed a nation that was already dead, you burned a Sanctuary that was already burned, and you ground flour that was already ground, as it is stated with regard to Babylonia: “Take millstones and grind flour; uncover your locks, tuck up the train, uncover the leg, pass over rivers” (Isaiah 47:2).

It was not stated: Grind wheat, but “grind flour”, indicating that all the destruction had already been wrought by God himself [and the role played by the anti-Semites was insignificant].

How are our sins forgiven?

Whence we get that sincere repentance is the way to have our sins removed? We get it from the verse that goes on to say: «As far as the mizrach (east) is from the ma'arav (west), so far hath He removed peysha' einu (our transgressions) from us»- Psalm 103:12. But, where are the east and the west? And (more importantly), how far is the one from the other? The answer is that “east” and “west”, are no particular places, but rather two opposite directions which we can choose to follow. We could be heading East, but in the moment we stop, and make a 180 degree turn (in order to start traveling in the opposite direction), we would have bridged the gap (covering the distance) between East and West.

And that's exactly how the Almighty removes (pardons) our sins, as soon as we recognize that we are heading in the wrong direction (away from God, with our constant transgression of His commandments) and decide to make a 180 degree turn, starting to walk in the opposite direction. The name we give to the latter is “sincere repentance”– and it means to have a contrite heart; to abandon evil, and start doing goodness.

This is God's true sacrifice; not that of a human Messiah, nor that of an animal beast, but rather the sacrifice of our selfish ego (our “Yetzer ha-ra”, or “evil inclination”). And this is why Scripture says: «For you don't want sacrifices, or I would give them; you don't take pleasure in burnt offerings. My sacrifice to God is a broken spirit; God, you won't spurn a broken, chastened heart»- Psalm 51:16-17; And also says, «Hashem is near unto them whose lev (heart) is broken; and saveth such whose ruach (spirit) is contrite»-Psalm34:18;

And still in another place: «With what can I come before Adonai to bow down before God on high? Should I come before him with burnt offerings? with calves in their first year? Would Adonai take delight in thousands of rams with ten thousand rivers of olive oil? Could I give my firstborn to pay for my crimes, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?» Human being, you have already been told what is good, what Adonai (God) demands of you – no more than to act justly (with your fellow human being), love grace (doing mercy) and walk in purity (humility) with your God»- Micah 6:8.

Thus, mankind redemption doesn't come from any human Mashiach, but rather from sincere repentance. In fact, that spirit of repentance is in itself God's true Mashiach, as the Scripture confirms by saying: «And the Go'el (Redeemer, Mashiach) shall come to Tziyon, and unto them that make teshuva (sincere repentance) and turn from peysha (rebellion) in Ya'akov, saith Hashem»- Isaiah 59:20.

Notice that the verse doesn't say that Mashiach will come unto those who believe in him, but rather unto those who make Teshuva (repent). Why? Because the fact is that "Teshuva" is actually "Mashiach"! The latter being confirmed by a Midrash (Sanh. 98a) that promises the Mashiach will come TODAY... "if we hear His voice, and Harden not our hearts... (in other words, if we proceed to sincere repentance)"- Psalm 95:7-8.

He who shows mercy to the poor and needy will be counted as having fulfilled God's Law [all of it!]

Hebrew Scripture states that he who shows mercy to the poor and the needy [thereby delivering the latter from pain and suffering] will himself be granted mercy [so that he too experiences deliverance from pain and suffering].

As is written: "Happy is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in the day of evil [the day of Judgment!]"- Psalm 41:2 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

Thus, it can be properly said that, in the eyes of the Almighty, he who shows mercy to the poor and needy is counted as innocent [in other words, as having fulfilled all of the Law!].

Whence do we know it? We know it from the passage where God instructs the man bringing his tithes to the needy (the widows, the orphans, the strangers, and the priest) to proclaim that he has thereby obeyed ALL of God's commandments. As is written:

«When thou hast made an end of tithing... and hast given it unto the Levite, to the stranger, to the fatherless, and to the widow... then thou shalt say before the Lord thy God: "I have put away the hallowed things out of my house, and also have given them unto the Levite, and unto the stranger, to the fatherless, and to the widow... I have not transgressed any of Thy commandments [not just this one concerning the tithe, but none of them!], neither have I forgotten them... I have hearkened to the voice of the Lord my God, I have done according to all that Thou hast commanded me [in your holy Law]»- Deut. 26:12-14 (JPS, 1917 Edition).

Curiously, the Christian writings seem to support the former interpretation, when they go on to quote Jesus (may peace and blessings be upon him) saying the following:

«Then shall the King say unto those on his right hand, "Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world; for I was hungry, and ye gave me food; I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me in» (Matthew 25:34-35, Jubilee Bible 2000).

«In general terms, Reformed Samaritan philosophy can be described as follows: "Push away [with your left hand] any Jewish, Christian, Muslim, or secular tenet [or practice] that denies, contradicts, or undermines the Law of 'sowing and reaping' (the common sense idea that man is bound to 'reap' the same moral 'fruit' he has voluntarily 'planted' during his earthly life); But bring closer to you [with your right hand] any Jewish, Christian, Muslim, or secular tenet [or practice] that recognizes, establishes, or encourages the Law of Sowing and reaping [also known as 'Measure for measure', 'Cause and effect', 'Action and reaction', 'What goes around comes around', etc]"»

The reason why, when it comes to Jewish people, anti-semitism is their greatest blessing!

--- “Behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the LORD, and I will send unto NEBUCHADREZZAR the king of Babylon, MY SERVANT, and will bring them against this land ...”- Jeremiah 25:9 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

King Nebuchadrezzar was the greatest anti-Semite of all times [as he killed and enslaved millions of Jews], yet Jewish Scripture calls him “God’s Servant”.

Why? Because God’s dealings with Israel are different from that of any other nation. As it has been said: “... Lo, it is A PEOPLE THAT SHALL DWELL ALONE, and SHALL NOT BE RECKONED AMONG THE NATIONS”- Numbers 23:9, JPS). And the latter means that, though Gentile nations are easily persuaded to repent, it isn’t so with Israel.

Why? Because Jews are stiffnecked people. As it is written: «And the Lord said unto Moses: “I HAVE SEEN THIS PEOPLE, AND, BEHOLD, IT IS A STIFFNECKED PEOPLE»- Exodus 32:9, JPS).

Therefore, though persecution and discrimination are bad for the Gentile nations of the World, they are good for Israel.

Why? Because suffering, persecution, and punishment are God’s way of bringing Jews back to sincere repentance [thereby achieving everlasting life!].

In fact, the former is such an undeniable truth that Jewish tradition foretells that Israel receives it’s greatest blessings only after experiencing suffering, punishment, and chastisement.

As it is been written,

«It is taught that Rabbi Simeon Ben Yohai said: TheHoly One Gave Israel three precious gifts, each of them thru sufferings: 1) Torah, 2) the Land of Israel, and 3) The world to Come.

The proof for Torah?... “Happy is the man whom thou chastenest, O Lord, for thus thou teachest him thy Torah “ (Psalm 94:12)...

The proof for the Land of Israel?... “As a man chastenesth his son, so the Lord thy God chasteneth thee” (Deuteronomy 8:5), followed by: “The Lord thy God bringeth thee into the good Land [the Land of Israel]” (Deut. 8:7) ...

And the proof for the World to come?... “The commandment is a lamp, and the teaching is light, and reproofs of Suffering are the way to Life [-to-come]” (Proverbs 6:23)»

– Babylonian Talmud (Berakhot 5a) & En Yaakov

In short, it can be properly said that when a Gentile [rightfully] discriminates against a [morally degenerated] Jew, the former becomes a little version of Nebuchadrezzar-- a Servant of God [for the redemption of Jewish people].

The Hebrew Bible is true, but not the way you've been told!

The Hebrew Bible is a book of prophecy, as well as moral paradigms intended to cleanse the human soul. But these paradigms are cleverly summarized as simplified statements and narratives. For example, the Scripture tells us that the mouth of those who speak lies, will be shut (“... for the mouths of liars will be shut”- Psalm 63:11).

How can we accept this statement as a fact, when certainly each of us knows more than one liar whose mouth no man [or god] seems to be able to shut? Again, the former verse wasn't intended to be taken in a literal sense; it's intention was to convey a moral lesson- that, when a person gets used to repeating a lie concerning any particular issue, that lie holds such a strong grip upon him that, if in the future someone else tries to show him the truth, the former won't be able to “swallow it” [just as if his mouth had been shut!].

Another example could be the fact that, according to Genesis 3:1, the serpent was the shrewdest of all creatures [so shrewd that he outsmarted Adam and Eve!]. Does this mean that the Bible teaches animals can actually talk? Not at all! It just means that intelligence alone doesn't amount to kindness; it means that knowledge has little to do with humanity; that a person can have plenty of secular, scientific, or even religious knowledge, and still be no more than [the moral equivalent of] “a talking animal”.

Actually, notice how the serpent's claim was correct (Adam and Eve wouldn't die if they were to eat from the forbidden fruit). But what Adam and Eve failed to grasp was that their happiness wasn't the result of knowing the cold facts of life; it was the product of having a personal relationship with God; one in which they honor Him as their Creator, and obey Him as their father. In fact, cold facts alone would [in the end] leave them both feeling “naked” and “shamed”.

As a last example, Scripture says that Israel couldn't defeat its pagan enemies, as they had “iron chariots” (“And the Lord was with Judah; and he drove out the inhabitants of the mountain, BUT COULD NOT DRIVE OUT THE INHABITANTS OF THE VALLEY, BECAUSE THEY HAD CHARIOTS OF IRON”- Judges 1:19). Does the former verse imply that Israel's God was powerless against the advanced pagan weaponry? Not at all! It simply means that there were still some righteous men dwelling among those pagan nations [and these men would prove to be a better security against God's impending judgment than any iron chariots could ever be!].

And from whence do we know that righteous men are compared to mighty chariots? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: «... Behold, there appeared a chariot of fire, and horses of fire, and parted them both asunder; and Elijah went up by a whirlwind into heaven. AND ELISHA SAW IT, AND HE CRIED, “MY FATHER [ELIJAH], MY FATHER [ELIJAH], [YOU ARE LIKE] THE CHARIOT OF ISRAEL, AND THE HORSEMEN THEREOF”»- 2 Kings 2:11-12.

And from whence do we know that God will delay a nation's judgment until their righteous men are gone from their midst? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: “Haste thee [oh Lot], ESCAPE THITHER; FOR I CANNOT DO ANYTHING [CONCERNING SODOM'S DESTRUCTION] TILL THOU BE COME THITHER [TO ZOAR]... The sun was risen upon the earth WHEN LOT ENTERED INTO ZOAR. THEN THE LORD RAINED UPON SODOM AND UPON GOMORRAH BRIMSTONE AND FIRE...”- Genesis 19:22-24.

Finally, Torah tells us that Israel murmured against both God and Moses (“AND THE PEOPLE SPOKE AGAINST GOD AND AGAINST MOSES...”- Numbers 21:5). And the punishment for their murmuring was that poisonous snakes started to bite them (“THEN THE LORD SENT POISONOUS SNAKES AMONG THE PEOPLE, AND THEY BIT THEM...”- Numbers 21:6).

Is this story intended to be understood in a literal sense? What does murmuring against other persons has to do with snakes? The answer to these questions is that the former narrative aims at teaching us how inescapable the law of “measure for measure” (also known as “sowing and reaping”, or “eye for an eye”) is. In other words, it tries to remind us that God will force us to “reap” the same “goodness” [or evil] we have sowed. In our case, just as the Israelites had injured Moses with “the venom” [or “gossip”] coming out of their mouths, they too eventually found themselves being injured by the venom coming out of someone else mouth (that is, the serpent’s mouth).

What do Reformed Samaritans Believe?

Reformed Samaritanism is a "free-lance" version of the 2,700 years old Samaritan religion [the latter being in turn a variant of the 3,312 years old Hebrew faith].

This free-lance version claims that the God of Israel is only One [yet all encompassing] Being; that He is morally perfect; that He has no bias in favor [or against] any nation, any race, nor any creed; that He never fails to fulfill what He has already promised; that He judges man with perfect justice [letting everyone “reap” the same amount of goodness (or evil) he has willingly and voluntarily “planted” upon his fellow creature]; that the ultimate purpose of God's Law isn't for us to acquire “the right theology” [nor to perfectly fulfill each one of it's commandments], but rather for us to embrace Godly moral values [yielding “the good fruit” of justice, mercy, and humility that pleases the Holy One]-- thus, no matter if a man is a Jew, a Muslim, or a Christian, as long as his lifestyle incorporates what was commanded upon the two stone tablets, Adonay [the lord Almighty] considers him to be part of His holy people (God’s mystical Israel); that God doesn't need the [literal] help of any other being; that although God has used many prophets and messengers (Noah, Job, Zoroaster, Jesus, Muhammad, etc) in order to call humanity back to the path of righteousness, our master Moses is God’s supreme messenger; that God's Law (the five books of Torah) is like the heavens [bound to last until the end of time]; that God offers free forgiveness to all who would proceed to sincere repentance [starting to do goodness, and departing from moral corruption];

That the tales, rites, ordinances, and statutes listed in the Torah are in fact allegorical representations of far greater [moral and spiritual] realities; that God doesn't actually suffer from physical [or character] limitations (like lusting for our praise, our love, and our recognition-- or having hands, feet, eyes, tiredness, anger, regret, doubts, vengeance, etc); That our souls were created [in the heavenly realm] far before we were sent into our physical World;

That, just as it happened to Joseph, right before coming into the physical World [which is a sort of “Spiritual Egypt”], our souls dreamed with “ascending” unto a far greater [and exalted] spiritual position that would enable us to better glorify the Almighty-- thus, we willingly chose to come into a world of suffering, once we had chosen what kind of temptations, trials and physical limitations we would like to endure [and thereby conquer]; that once we get out of the physical world, our soul will go back into it’s Heavenly realm, in order to evaluate it’s journey, and decide whether it has achieve the desired moral stature, or whether it needs to come back again, in order to “purge” [as if by fire] any lingering love for evil and/or moral corruption.

Finally, Reformed Samaritans confession of faith is the following:

«Oh יהוה (Adonai Yah), Lord God of Abraham, I bear witness that there’s no other God, King nor Savior greater than you; I bear witness that there’s no prophet greater than our master Moses; nor any Law greater than Your Ten Commandments (or Sayings); I bear witness that there’s no other Scripture greater that Moses Five Books of Torah (the Pentateuch); nor is there other people greater than the one allegorically portrayed by the ancient Hebrew People. And I bear witness that no theology is greater, more truthful, more meaningful, more fair, nor more just than “the Law of Measure for Measure” (“Sowing and Reaping”)-- to reward each person with the same measure of goodness he has [freely and voluntarily] bestowed upon his needy fellow creature; and to punish him with the same measure of evil he has bestowed upon his fellow creatures [without ever repenting from it]. I thank you heavenly Father, for you have seen my broken heart, and have heard my prayer, thereby forgiving all of my sins. And I also thank you for making me as of today part of your chosen People; the Holy people allegorically portrayed by the ancient Nation of Israel. Amen».

“He has showed you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you but to do justly, and to love kindness and mercy, and to humble yourself and walk humbly with your God?”- Micah 6:8 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition); “He who conceals his transgressions will not prosper, But whoever confesses and turns away from his sins will find compassion and mercy”(Proverbs 28:13, Amplified Bible); “Turn from evil and do good, so you may live forever” (Psalm 37:27, Tree of Life Version Bible); The sacrifices God wants are a broken spirit. A broken and crushed heart, O God, you will not despise” (Psalm 51:17, Evangelical Heritage version)”

There’s more than just one path to serve the Almighty!

Though displaying widely different heights, all mountains will bring us closer to heaven. And the former might be the reason why the world’s greatest religions are always associated with mountains (mount Sinai, mount Calvary, mount Hirah, etc).

Thus, “the mountain” we choose to climb is of secondary importance... what really matters, is that we make it to it’s summit. And the former explains why our master Moses hinted at the fact that God doesn’t seem to ask, “How much is five plus five?” Why? Because He knows the latter would convey the false idea that, when it comes to answering God’s call to righteousness, there’s just one valid answer.

Instead, The Holy One asks, “How can you reach a total of Ten? (number ten being understood as God’s Ten commandments-- therefore, a symbol of our obedience to God’s will). Why is God portrayed asking the latter question? Because it conveys the idea of multiple [and equally valid] answers. In other words, “Ten” can be achieved by adding seven plus three; eight plus two; nine plus one; fifteen minus five; etc.

“In essentials, unity; In non-essentials, tolerance; In all things, the Divine love that embraces both justice, mercy, and humility”

Hebrew Scripture’s message has little to do with religious affiliation

Reform Samaritanism teaches that Hebrew Scripture’s ultimate message has little to do with religious affiliation. Rather, it’s message is all about “Sowing and reaping”; “Cause and effect”; “Action and reaction”; “What goes around, comes around”-- That if you resolve to make peace with the Creator, the Creator will resolve to make peace with you.

And from whence do we know it? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: “Therefore tell the people: This is what the Lord Almighty says: ‘Return to me,’ declares the Lord Almighty, ‘and I will return to you,’ says the Lord Almighty”- Zechariah 1:3-4, New International version Bible.

And elsewhere, “For the day of the Lord (the day of His judgment) is near upon all the nations. As you have done, it shall be done to you; your deeds shall return on your own head”- Obadiah 1:15, English Standard Version.

And even the Gospel quotes Jesus preaching the same message of “Sowing and Reaping”, when it goes on to say: “But if you do not forgive people their sins, your Father will not forgive your sins”- Matthew 6:15, Evangelical Heritage Version.

In fact, even the apostle Paul couldn’t resist the urge to proclaim the Supremacy of “Sowing and Reaping”, when he went on to say: “Don’t be deceived: God is not mocked. For whatever a person sows he will also reap”- Galatians 6:7, Christian Standard Bible.

And also in another place: “He (God) will repay each one according to his works...There will be [evil] affliction and distress for every human being who does evil... but [good] glory, honor, and peace for everyone who does what is good...”- Romans 2:6-10, Christian Standard Bible

Those who follow Torah's moral imperative are enjoined to find the balanced (mid-way) position

Torah (God's Law) hints at the idea that, in all things, man ought to aim at finding the wise and healthy balance (the mid way position). Thus, the prudent person avoids all sort of extreme (fundamentalist) positions, no matter if they have to do with political, economical, scientific, religious, or even secular fundamentalism. And that's why the Tanakh portrays King David as asking the Almighty not to give him too much, nor too little, but rather a balanced amount. As it has been said:

“... Give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with mine allotted bread; Lest I be full, and deny, and say: 'Who is the LORD?', Or lest I be poor, and steal, and profane the name of my God”- Proverbs 30:8-9 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

Thus, when it comes to the Divine commandments, we ought to seek a healthy balance: neither exaggerate our obedience to them [pretending to fulfill the impossible task of obeying all of the 613 laws], nor to totally disregard them. Rather, we must keep a healthy [and practical] balance, where we obey as many as we can, while giving priority to what the Almighty himself has given priority-- the Ten Supreme principles printed by the Holy One upon the two stone tablets given to our master Moses. Why? because what is written upon stone, is meant to last forever.

And the same goes with whether we should do good, or whether we shouldn't do good-- we must try to abstain from all radical extremes (“Be not righteous overmuch; neither make thyself overwise; why shouldest thou destroy thyself? Be not overmuch wicked, neither be thou foolish; why shouldest thou die before thy time?"- Ecclesiastes 7:16-17, J.P.S. 1917 edition); Seek instead the balance! Do good (i.e., honor your parents) AND abstain from doing evil (i.e., from cheating your brothers and sisters). And the fact that Adonay Yah wants the Hebrew believer to experience a balanced life, was always intimated by His Holy Law, as the latter would allow you to eat meat, yet it won't allow you to eat ALL kind of meat (i.e., Pork)...

... It would allow you to marry, But it won't allow you to marry ALL types of people (i.e. your sister)...

... It would allow you to work, but it won't allow you to work ALL days of the week (i.e, Sabbath)...

... It would allow you to offer animal sacrifices, but it won't allow you to sacrifice ALL type of animals (i.e., predators)...

... It would allow you to engage on business, but it won't allow you to engage on ALL sort of businesses (i.e., Usury)

... It would allow you to plant your field (so you can grow food), but it won't allow you to keep ALL of the food (as you are commanded to let the poor eat from what grows in the corners of your field)...

... It would allow you to buy property, but it won't allow you to keep all of your property (as after 50 years you are commanded to returned the purchased property to it's original owner).

In short, God's Law enjoined the believer to live a balanced life, avoiding radical extremes, as well as thinking in terms of "All, or Nothing".

May peace be upon you!

"God seeketh that which is pursued [the morally upright person who is unjustly oppressed]" (Eccles. 3:15)

The Holy One always demands satisfaction from pursuers for the blood of the pursued. You can see that this is so, for Abel was pursued by Cain, and the Holy One chose Abel, as may be inferred from, "The Lord had respect unto Abel and to his offering" (Gen. 4:4).

Noah was pursued by his generation, and the Holy One chose none but Noah, as He Himself said, "For thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation" (Gen. 7:1).

Abraham was pursued by Nimrod, and the Holy One chose Abraham, as Scripture says, "Thou art the Lord, the God who didst choose Abraham" (Neh. 9:7).

Isaac was pursued by the Philistines, and the Holy One chose Isaac, as inferred from the Philistines' saying, "We saw plainly that the Lord was with thee" (Gen. 26:28). Jacob was pursued by Esau, and the Holy One chose Jacob, as Scripture says, "For the Lord hath chosen Jacob unto Himself" (Psalm 135:4).

Joseph was pursued by his brothers, and the Holy One chose Joseph, as inferred from, "He appointed it in Joseph for a testimony"- Psalm 81:6 (NOTE: In the Hebrew, the exceptional spelling "Yehoseph" is taken to mean that God inserted the letter he, one of the letters of His name, to show that He had chosen Joseph [Yosef]).

Moses was pursued by Pharaoh, and the Holy One chose Moses, as the verse indicates, "Had not Moses His chosen stood before Him" (Psalm 106:23).

Saul was pursued by the Philistines, and the Holy One chose Saul, as is said, "See ye him whom the Lord has chosen" (1 Sam. 10:24).

David was pursued by Saul, and the Holy One chose David, as the verse indicates, “He chose David also His servant” (Psalm 78:70).

Who is a true and complete believer?

No one is a complete [and fulfilled] Hebrew believer, until he can “bow down” before יהוה (the God of Abraham, blessed be He), leaving his selfish and self-centered ego at the feet of the Almighty-- He won't be the Almighty's faithful servant, until he [or she] can open-up his heart, and sincerely ask the Holy One:

“Master of the Universe, please forgive my former rebellious lifestyle. I no longer wish to live for the sake of pleasing my own ego [satisfying each and everyone of my whims and desires]...

... Instead, I want to be your humble servant, letting you be my Lord, King, and Redeemer. Please help me, for though I am weak and flawed, I sincerely wish that your will [and not mine] be done in my life...

... Help me obey your commandments, so that, thru my obedience to them, I may praise your name until the day when you finally let me reach your Heavenly Canaan. Amen”.

Has the Nation of Israel abandoned the Hebrew faith? Have the Jews become “Children of Haman”, instead of “Children of Israel”?

Hebrew Scripture narrates the story of a Pagan prince who, after being offended by a commoner, not only wanted to punish the latter, but also wanted to eradicate his children, his grandchildren, as well as his whole people. Who was this prince? Haman... Who was the offending commoner? Mordecai... And what people did Haman want to destroy? The Jewish people.

Yet, being the pagan offspring of a pagan king (1 Samuel 15:8, & Esther 3:1), Haman didn't know God's Law forbade such “collective punishment”, as the Almighty had commanded Hebrew people to abide by the principle of “sowing and reaping” (a.k.a., “an eye for an eye”). As it is said: “Eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, Burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe”- Exodus 21:25 (KJV).

Thus, if a Canaanite (or “Philistine”) were to knock-out the tooth of an innocent Israelite (or “Jew”), only the tooth of such Philistine (Palestinian) could be knocked out, while the teeth of his relatives would have to be respected.

In addition, God's Law prevented Hebrew people from holding the children of their enemies accountable for the sins of their parents (“The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers: every man shall be put to death for his own sin”- Deuteronomy 24:16).

Thus, although Mordecai dared to transgress against Haman, that wasn't an automatic justification to murder Mordecai's extended family (as God despises such pagan and immoral behavior).

Thus, when ancient Jews had a chance to avenge themselves, they didn't dare to go beyond the bounds prescribed by God's Law (dispossessing the innocent relatives of their slain enemies).

As it has been said: “For the Jews that were in Shushan gathered themselves together on the fourteenth day also of the month Adar, and slew three hundred men at Shushan; but on the prey they laid not their hand. But the other Jews that were in the king's provinces gathered themselves together, and stood for their lives, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of their foes seventy and five thousand, but they laid not their hands on the prey”- Esther 9:15-16 (KJV).

And it is also written elsewhere: «And it came to pass, as soon as the kingdom was confirmed in his hand, that he slew his servants which had slain the king his father. But the children of the murderers he slew not: according unto that which is written in the book of the Law of Moses, wherein the Lord commanded, saying, “The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children be put to death for the fathers; but every man shall be put to death for his own sin”- 2 Kings 14:5-6 (KJV).

Thus, whenever modern Israel implements a policy where, for each killed Israelite, 10 Palestinians are annihilated [by the Israeli army], we witness an Israel that no longer follows the basic tenets of the ancient Hebrew faith. Likewise, when Israel bulldozes the houses of suspected terrorists [thereby destroying their children’s inheritance], and engages in collective punishment, we witness an Israel that has embraced Haman’s [pagan] morality.

In fact, Israel’s abandonment of Hebrew religion is so thorough, that the state of Israel formally demands that all of its citizens (females and transsexuals included) serve in the army-- something completely forbidden by God’s Law, as well as by ancient Hebrew religion.

Whence we get the idea that neither females nor transsexuals are to serve in the army? We get it from the verse that goes on to say: “The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither shall a man put on a woman’s garment: for all that do so are abomination unto the Lord thy God”- Deuteronomy 22:5.

And since male and female clothing were so similar [back in Moses time], Jewish sages interpreted the former as meaning that a woman was not to “wear a warriors attire” (serving in the army); neither was to do so he who was effeminated (or, “weakhearted”).

As it has been said-- “...What man is there that is fearful and fainthearted? let him go and return unto his house, lest his brethren’s heart faint as well as his heart”- Deuteronomy 20:8).

And the former is confirmed by Jewish Talmud, when it goes on to say: «Rabbi Eliezer ben Ya’akov says: From where is it derived that a woman may not go out with weapons to war? The verse states: “A woman shall not wear that which pertains to a man, and a man shall not put on a woman’s garment”, (Deuteronomy 22:5) which indicates that a man may not adorn himself with the cosmetics and ornaments of a woman, and similarly a woman may not go out with weapons to war, as those are for the use of males»-- Babylonian Talmud, Nazir 59a.

The man who, after witnessing the moral depravity of his fellow Hebrew believer, decides to remain silent, will be held responsible for the blood of the latter

When it comes to the issue of rebuking public sexual depravity, Hebrew Scripture is crystal clear, when it goes on to say the following: «And if a man lie with mankind (same sex intercourse), as with womankind, BOTH OF THEM HAVE COMMITTED ABOMINATION: THEY SHALL SURELY BE PUT TO DEATH; their blood shall be upon them... WHEN I SAY UNTO THE WICKED: “O WICKED MAN, THOU SHALT SURELY DIE”, AND THOU DOST NOT SPEAK TO WARN THE WICKED FROM HIS WAY; that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but HIS BLOOD WILL I REQUIRE AT THY HAND. Nevertheless, IF THOU WARN THE WICKED OF HIS WAY TO TURN FROM IT, and he turn not from his way; he shall die in his iniquity, but THOU HAST DELIVERED THY SOUL»- Leviticus 20:13, & Ezekiel 33:8-9 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)»

«We don't see things as they truly [and rightfully] are. Instead, we perceive them thru the faulty [and tainted] "mirror" of our exaggerated pride, our own sense of superiority, our bias against races and ideologies different from ours, our self-serving moral relativism, and our selfish [and often deranged] personal whims»

Bible's Israel was just a paradigm!

Many people wrongly believe that the Hebrews mentioned in the Bible are a particular ethnic group arbitrarily elected by God in order to become His chosen people [having special privileges as well as special responsibilities]. How do we now that Bible's Israel was instead a paradigm for God's true people [those who are humble and merciful]? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: "God is indeed good to Israel, to the pure in heart"- Psalm 73:1. Whom does the verse identify as being Israel? The pure in heart [those who are humble and merciful]!

How else do we know that Israel is composed of anyone willing to serve the God of Abraham [having mercy of their suffering fellow human beings], regardless of his race? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: "No Ammonite or Moabite may enter the Lord's assembly; none of their descendants, even to the tenth generation, may ever enter the Lord's assembly"- Deut. 23:3. Why were Moabites prevented from entering Israel's assembly? It was due to their lack of mercy, as is written: "This is because they did not meet you with food and water on the journey after you came out of Egypt"- Deut. 23:4.

But the fact is that we later find a Moabite (Ruth) not only entering Israel's assembly, but even becoming the ancestor of Israel's greatest king (David). How do we explain that a forbidden Moabite is allowed to enter Israel's Congregation, thereby becoming an Israelite? We explain it by remembering that the Moabite was just a symbol for a person lacking mercy and humility, while the Israelite represented the person having a pure heart filled with mercy and humility.

Thus, the very moment Ruth decided to show mercy to her foreign [and recently] widowed mother in law [remaining by her side, in order to provide for her well being and safety], she stopped representing a Moabite, and started to become a living representation of God's true Israel ("Everything you have done for your mother-in-law since your husband's death has been fully reported to me: how you left your father and mother and your native land, and how you came to a people you didn't previously know. May the Lord reward you for what you have done, and may you receive a full reward from the Lord God of Israel..." - Ruth 2:11-12).

Why do so many people (including Jews!) hate the Jews?

The reason why so many modern people hate the Jews is the very same reason why ancient Jews used to hate other Jews. You see, religious and non-religious Jews have always existed, and these two groups have always struggled [and hated] one another. Thus, ancient Jewish people were divided into two different [and opposing] camps-- The pious [southern] kingdom of Judah, and the wicked [northern] kingdom of Israel.

And southern Jews lived in an constant state of war against the northern Jews. Why? Because the northern kingdom had abandoned God's Law [thereby turning away from godly morality], while the southern kingdom would hold fast to it.

Likewise, By the start of the Christian era, we find that the observant Jewish leaders would display a high degree of animosity towards non-observant Jews. In fact, the Jewish Talmud refers to the latter using such pejoratives like “Am Ha Aretz”, and “Apikoros”.

What is “Am ha Aretz”? Well, it is a Hebrew expression that literally means “the people of the Land”. In other words, the uncouth, vulgar, ignorant, and boorish person whose life isn't ruled by the moral principles depicted by God's Law.

And what is “Apikoros”? It is a Greek term denoting he who, by his abominable conduct, denies the fundamental principle of religion (the existence of A Judge and a Judgment in the universe).

Therefore, whenever a self-proclaimed Jew denies the existence of God, embracing the immoral lifestyle that characterizes those who deny the existence of a Judge and a Judgment in the universe, such Jew makes himself liable to the hate [and scorn] of both Jews and gentiles alike.

In fact, even God himself despises such a Jew. As it has been stated:

As for the wicked [among the Jews], God says-- “How dare you recite my statutes or speak about my covenant with your lips! You hate instruction and toss my words behind you. When you see a thief, you befriend him, and you keep company with adulterers. You give your mouth free reign for evil, and your tongue devises deceit. You sit and speak against your brother; you slander your own mother's son. These things you did, and I kept silent, because you assumed that I was like you. But now I am going to rebuke you, and I will set forth my case before your very own eyes. Consider this, you who have forgotten God— Otherwise, I will tear you in pieces and there will be no deliverer” - Psalm 50:16-22 (International Standard Version).

But, why should we focus upon the Jews? Isn't it true that similar people exist among the Christianity and Muslim ranks? Of course they do... But neither Christians nor Muslims claim to be God's [only] chosen people, nor to be so exceptionally great that Heaven and Earth were actually created for their sake.

As it has been said-- «The verse, “But now thus said the Lord: Jacob created thee, Israel formed thee” (Isa. 43:1) means, so said Rabbi Phinehas in the name of Rabbi Reuven, that the Holy One said to His world: My World, My world, who created you? Who formed you? Jacob created you, Israel formed you. Rabbi Berekhia [hastened to explained]: Heaven and Earth were created only for the sake of Israel, for it is aid, “On account of the beginning God created” (Gen. 1:1), here by “the beginning” is meant Israel, of which Scripture says, “Israel is the Lord's hallowed portion, the beginning of His harvest” (Jer. 2:3)»-- Lev. R. 36:3; Yalkut, Isa., §452

Is Modern Judaism a valid path to the God of ancient Israel?

The Jewish faith is a perfectly valid way to serve the Almighty. Yet, aside from very rare exceptions, it isn't far fetched to say that modern Jewish Religious establishment is to ancient Bible faith what a modern Reality show is to Reality-- A textbook case of identity theft, wherein a shameless, hedonistic, lying, narcissistic, evil inclined, and psychopathic group of European peoples have craftily hijacked [by means of cultural appropriation] what used to be a holy [and respectable] religious identity.

Why would they do that? In order to use it as a convenient “shield” (or “lightning rod”), capable of protecting them from any criticism and/or rightful demand for moral accountability (In other words, by conveniently exploding the Bible verse that goes on to say, “And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee”- Genesis 12:3).

Thus, White (Ashkenazi) Jews will expect Gentile people to remain silent, whenever a Jew blasphemes the Almighty with his open promotion of usury, self-deception, and sexual degeneracy; Yet they will immediately claim “fowl play!” (anti-semitism!) whenever a gentile demands Ashkenazi Jews to live up to their claim of being the true representatives of God’s Holy people; As the latter demands that they abide by the Scriptures that go on to say: “Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be gracious”... “But let him who should praise himself praise himself in this: ‘in understanding me and knowing me, that I am יהוה (Adonai), who do mercy, judgment and justice on earth; because these things I want [men to do], says יהוה ’ ”- Amos 5:14-15, Jeremiah 9:24

No oprimas al debil, al pobre, al desvalido, ni a la persona que es mas justa, misericordiosa, o humilde que tu

“Cuando naciere el becerro, el cordero, o la cabra...” - Lev. 22:27. El Santo de Israel dijo: “El becerro es perseguido por el león, la cabra por el leopardo, y la oveja por el lobo- no me ofrezcan a mi ninguno de los perseguidores, solo de los perseguidos”- (Lev. R. 27:5). Dijo el Rabino Abbahu: “el hombre debe siempre esforzarse por ser de los perseguidos, y no de los perseguidores, pues aunque entre las aves ninguna es mas perseguida que la tórtola y la paloma, solo estas fueron declaradas adecuadas para el altar”

«No estamos en este mundo para cumplir las expectativas de otras personas; ni las otras personas están para cumplir nuestras expectativas. Nuestra misión en este mundo, es hacer lo bueno; sea esto o no la expectativa de quienes nos rodean»

What is Scripture’s stance on ethnic, religious, and political discrimination?

If you spend enough time studying the Hebrew Scripture, you will eventually discover that, in the eyes of the Creator [blessed be He], there are no Jews, no Christians, no Muslims, and no Samaritans; there is no Black person, and no White person; there is no American, no Chinese, no Russian, and no Arab; there are no Republicans, nor are there any Democrats.

In the eyes of Moses’ God, there’s only people who fear the Creator [striving to live the life of holiness, justice, mercy, and humility enshrined by God’s commandments], and people who don’t yet fear Him, [and therefore oppose the life of holiness enshrined by God’s commandments].

Those who openly fear God, deserve our praise, our admiration, and our support [no matter if they are Arabs, or Jews; Russians, or Americans; Blacks, or Whites; Democrats, or Republicans]. But those who openly oppose God [refusing to obey God's commandments, and encouraging others to do the same] deserve neither our praise, our admiration, nor our support [no matter if they are Arabs, or Jews; Russians, or Americans; Blacks, or Whites; Democrats, or Republicans]. As it is written: "God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day. If he turn not, he will whet his sword; he hath bent his bow, and made it ready. He hath also prepared for him the instruments of death..."- Psalm 7:11-13, KJV. And also says in another place: "They that forsake the law praise the wicked: but such as keep the law contend with them"- Proverbs 28:4, KJV.

In fact, even when the wicked prays to God, until his heart is willing to follow the path of holiness outlined by God's Law, his prayer is considered to be an abomination. As is written: "He that turneth away his ear from hearing the Law, even his prayer shall be abomination"- Proverbs 28:3, KJV

God's Law teaches that a cruel Jew is a false Jew (a "Jew in name only", or a "JINO")

The foundational idea behind God's Law (Torah) is that the Holy One wants all mankind to be engaged in "sowing goodness". How? By showing kindness [and generosity] toward our needy fellow creatures.

Thus, a true believer is not only prevented from practicing usury; but he is also enjoined to let hungry people (the foreigner, the widow, the orphan, etc) feed from the produce growing in the corners of his fields; he is enjoined to let slaves go free (after six years of service); he is enjoined to pardon all outstanding debts; he is commanded to returned any purchased property after 50 years of use; he is enjoined to let his fields lie fallow every seven years, etc.

Thus, no real [or sincere] Hebrew believer can hoard land, produce, resources, slaves, money, properties, or power, as the latter is not only a direct rebellion against the very spirit of God’s Law, but also a veiled form of idolatry.

And the former is attested by an ancient Jewish traditions that goes on to say-- «Our masters taught: “As for those who hoard produce, lend money on interest, diminish measures, and raise prices, Scripture quotes such people as saying: ‘When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell grain? And the Sabbath, that we may set forth corn? Making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and falsifying the balances of deceit’ ” (Amos 8:5).

And what follows directly? “The Lord has sworn by the pride of Jacob: ‘Surely I will never forget any of their works’ ” (Amos 8:7)» (Babylonian Talmud, Bava Batra 90b). And it is also stated elsewhere-- We have been taught the Rabbi Joshua Ben Korhah said:

«He who shuts his eye to an appeal for alms is deemed to be the same as a worshiper of idols. For in one place it is written, “Beware that there be not a base thought in your heart... so that you are mean to your needy kinsman and give him nothing” (Deuteronomy 15:9); and elsewhere, “Certain base fellows are gone out from the midst of thee and have subverted the inhabitants of their town, saying, ‘Come, let us worship other gods’ ” (Deuteronomy 13:14). Even as the sin in the second instance is idolatry, so the sin in the first instance is idolatry» (Babylonian Talmud, Bava Batra 10a).

Who is great in the eyes of God?

Our dear brothers and sisters, Reformed Samaritanism postulates that what makes a man “great” is God’s presence in his life; Conversely, what makes him “small” is God’s absence of it. And with whom does the Divine presence abide? With the Jews? With the Christians? With the Muslims? With the Samaritans? With those who believe in the Messiah? With those who keep the Sabbath? No!.... The Creator dwells with those who are humble and broken-hearted, regardless of their race or creed. As it is written: «For thus saith the High and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy; “I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit...”- Isaiah 57:15 (KJV).

And who are the ones destined to inherit the heavenly Canaan? The Jews? the Christians? the Muslims? No! It is reserved instead for the meek, and the humble (no matter their race or creed). As it is written: “But the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace”- Psalm 37:11 (KJV).

And the former might explain the reason why God is presented as providing deliverance to the humble men of old (Enoch, Noah, Job, etc) even though we are nowhere told that they followed Judaism, Samaritanism, Christianity or Islam. May peace be upon you!

Mr. Rosenthal: "It is a marvel that people do not rise up and drive every Jew out of this country." Harold Wallace Rosenthal, himself a Jew, made this statement after admitting Jewish dominance of all significant national programs. "We Jews continue to be amazed with the ease by which Christians have fallen into our hands. While the naive goyim wait for Khrushchev to bury them we have taught them to submit to our every demand." When asked how a nation could be captured without their knowing it he attributed this victory to "the absolute control of the media." He boasted of Jewish control of all news and said that any newspaper which refused to be controlled by them was brought to its knees by withdrawing all advertising and other methods. Failing in this the Jews stop the supply of news print and ink. "It's a very simple matter," he said. When asked about the role of those in high political office, he said that "no one in the last three decades has achieved any political power without Jewish approval. Americans have not had a real presidential choice since 1932. Roosevelt was our man and every president since him has been our man."

-- Harold Wallace Rosenthal (November 2, 1947 - August 11, 1976), was a senior aide to Jewish Senator Jacob K. Javits (R-NY). Rosenthal was murdered in Istanbul (Turkey) just 30 days after uttering the above words during a public interview

Science [and for that sake, any sort of public information] is often craftily biased by powerful external interests. Thus, if your acceptance [or rejection] of any public information poses a risk of stumbling, make sure that you stumble "on the safe side"; in other words, that your decision let's you fail in favor of your own moral and personal integrity [on the side of truthfulness, dignity, honor, integrity, justice, mercy, and humility]; and not in favor of the hidden agenda of any social, economical, political, or religious establishment

Reformed Samaritanism version of, "he who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted"

The story goes that, for three consecutive years, there was a dispute between the Jewish school of Shammai and the Jewish school of Hillel. The one said, "The Law is according to our interpretation", while the other said, "No!, the Law is according to our interpretation". Then a Divine voice came forth, and it was heard proclaiming: "The edicts of both schools are the word of the living God, but the Law is according to the school of Hillel". But, if the edicts of both schools were the word of the living God, what merit did Hillel's school have, in order for the Law to be established according to their interpretations? The answer is that, in addition to have good theology, Hillel's disciples were kind and humble (in other words, their truth didn't make them arrogant).

Thus, Hillel taught not only his own interpretations, but also those of Shammai. In fact, whenever instructing his disciples, Hillel would first teach them Shammai's interpretations, and only after it would he proceed to teach them his own views concerning the subject. Not only that, but Hillel would let his followers intermarry Shammai's disciples, even though he knew that would diminish his own numbers.

ALL GREAT TRUTH EXPERIENCES AT LEAST THREE STAGES OF DEVELOPMENT:

- 1) IN THE FIRST PLACE, IT IS RIDICULED
- 2) NEXT, IT IS VIOLENTLY OPPOSED
- 3) FINALLY, IT IS RECOGNIZED AS A SELF-EVIDENT TRUTH

And the former goes to prove that, the man who makes himself small (not exalting himself above others) will be made great by the Creator; But, the one who magnifies himself, will be diminished by the Creator. How do we imitate the aptitude of the Hillel school? Easy! If you are a Hebrew believer, make a habit of [from time to time] pointing out how nice and uplifting are some of the songs composed by our Christian brothers. Likewise, point out how united and humble can Muslim believers often be. If you are instead a Christian believer, you might commend the chaste attire of the female Muslim believers, or how wise and deep are some of the old Jewish legends. Conversely, if you are Muslim you could mention how similar to yours is Hebrew monotheism, or how similar to yours was the commitment of the early Christians, who were willing to die for their faith. By doing the former, you will earn merit and please your Creator; not only by speaking truth, but better yet by become a living example of the meekness and humility such truth is supposed to forge into our lives.

Who is really powerful?

The most powerful of all, is he who [with his kindness], can turn into friends those whom, until that moment, had been his enemies. Who is an example of this? The prophet Elisha, who turned into friends the enemy soldiers (Syrians) who had gone out to entrap him (2nd Kings 6:8-23)

What is God's Law (Torah) ultimate purpose?

Torah's ultimate aim isn't that we become proud and arrogant, boasting about how awesome our Hebrew theology is, or how weak [and poor] it's non-Hebrew counterpart might seem to be. Rather, Torah's goal is for mankind to understand that, what God really wants from us, is that we commit ourselves with a life of goodness-- with the pursuit of mercy, fair judgment, righteousness, and humility. Why? Because these are the things that please the Almighty, therefore bringing blessings upon our lives. As it has been said,

“And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the LORD; that it may be well with thee... Thus saith the LORD: Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches; But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth, and knoweth Me, that I am the LORD who exercise mercy, justice, and righteousness, in the earth; for in these things I delight, saith the LORD...

... It hath been told thee, O man, what is good, and what the LORD doth require of thee: only to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God...

... Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him, and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh? Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thy healing shall spring forth speedily; and thy righteousness shall go before thee, the glory of the LORD shall be thy rearward. Then shalt thou call, and the LORD will answer; thou shalt cry, and He will say: 'Here I am'. If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking wickedness; And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in darkness, and thy gloom be as the noon-day; And the LORD will guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make strong thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not...

... Wash you, make you clean, put away the evil of your doings from before Mine eyes, cease to do evil; Learn to do well; seek justice, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD; though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land”- Deuteronomy 6:18, Jeremiah 9:22-23, Micah 6:8, Isaiah 58:7-11, Isaiah 1:16-19 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

Whether he be a Jew, or a Gentile, no man can consider himself to be wise until he learns to appreciate the worth of constructive criticism. As it has been said: "Don't correct the impudent, or they will hate you; CORRECT THE WISE, AND THEY WILL LOVE YOU"- Proverbs 9:8 (Common English Bible)

Goodness saves from death

On one occasion, a Hebrew sage and a Persian astrologer were together, sitting in the same place. Then, they saw that some people were going out to the meadow (to look for firewood). At that moment, the Persian astrologer pointed his finger at one of them, and said: "That man leaves here, but he will not return, for he will be bitten by a snake, and he will die".

Hearing this, the Hebrew sage replied: "If he is a man of virtue, he will go out and come back". While they were still sitting there, the man who had left returned. Then the Persian astrologer, getting up, removed the bundle of wood that the man was carrying, and there he discovered a snake, which had been cut into two pieces.

The Hebrew sage then asked the man: "What goodness have you done?" (which has allowed you to "cut" the evil decree issued by the stars against you). The man replied: "Those of us who go for firewood usually contribute a portion of the bread that we collectively eat. But today, one of ours had no bread to contribute. Thus (so that he wouldn't feel ashamed) I decided to collect each one's bread; and, when I got to this man, I threw into the basket a piece of bread that I pretended to take from his hands".

After hearing his words, the Hebrew sage said to the man: "You have done a thing worthy of a good Samaritan!". From that day forward, the Hebrew sage began to explain the verse that says: "...justice (mercy) delivers from death" (Prov. 10:2) as meaning that works of mercy not only deliver from unnatural death, but from any form of death (even supernatural ones!)

What is your baseline for reality?

Each man is free to decide what will he [or she] use as his personal baseline for reality; Religion, science, politics, economical forces, social movements, gender classifications, racial identity, emotions, out of body experiences, etc.

But as for those who have chosen to follow the religious philosophy known as "Reformed Samaritanism", their baseline for reality is to be found in the Divine natural order-- In the common sense idea that, in the final analysis, nothing [and nobody] escapes from the Law of "Cause, and effect"; "Action, and reaction; "Sowing, and reaping"; "What goes around, comes around", etc. And the logical implication of the former tenet is that, the things we would not like to "reap" into our own lives (to be abused, to be unjustly treated, to be hated, cheated, victimized by opportunists, etc) are the same things we must try to never "sow" into the life of our fellow creatures. Likewise, the things we would like to "reap" into our lives (love, encouragement, humble respect, consideration, fair and just treatment, honesty, good and wise advise, etc), are the very things we should strive to "sow" into our fellow creatures.

Jerusalem was destroyed because men of integrity were no longer found there, as is said: “Roam the streets of Jerusalem, search it's squares, look about and take note: You will not find a man --not a one-- who acts justly, who seeks integrity, that I may pardon her”- Jeremiah 5:1 (Babylonian Talmud, Shab. 119b)... Jerusalem was destroyed because it's inhabitants did not reprove one another, as is said: “Her princes are become like harts that find no pasture”- Lamentations 1:6. Like harts, each of whose head is beside the tail of the one before it, so did Israel of that generation keep their faces looking toward the ground and not reprove one another (Ibid)

Did God ever expect us to be perfectly obedient to His Divine Law? Are we left with no other option but to accept the [alleged] atoning sacrifice done by the Nazarene?

Although the Christian faith is a noble and valid path to approach the Holy One [blessed be He], Reformed Samaritans hold fast to God's Law, when it teaches that nobody can die, in order to atone for the sins of someone else (“... every man shall be put to death for his own sin... every one shall die for his own iniquity...”- Deut. 24:16 & Jeremiah 31:30, K.J.B.).

Why is this so? Because Torah (God’s Law) demands personal accountability. And that’s why it goes on to say: “... and the land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it”- Numbers 35:33. Thus, if the Gospel comes down the road, pretending to deny what the Law has already stated (“... that Christ died for our sins...”- 1 Corinthians 15:3), then the bitter dispute between Torah believers and Gospel believers is finally settled, and there's nothing else to discuss.

Why? Because the truth revealed by God’s Law is final and irrevocable, as the Law cannot be altered, nor abrogated (“Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it...”- Deut. 4:2). And the Gospel seems to confirm this viewpoint, when it quotes Jesus (may peace and blessings be upon him) saying the following: “... and the Scripture (God’s Law) cannot be broken”- John 10:35.

Besides, though Christian theology claims that unless our works are absolutely perfect, the Creator will pay us with evil; Yet God’s Law depicts a completely different God; One who is so merciful that doesn’t reward us according to our works. Instead, He’s portrayed as a loving Father-- One who delights in showing mercy and compassion to His weak, ignorant, and often rebellious children.

As is written: “Like as a father pitieth his children, so יהוה (the Lord) pitieth them that fear him. For he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust... He hath not dealt with us after our sins; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities. For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him... Who is a God like unto thee that pardons iniquity, and passes over the rebellion with the remnant of his heritage? He did not retain his anger for ever because he delights in mercy”- Psalm 103:13-14, Psalm 103:10-11, & Micah 7:18.

Finally, Scripture is crystal clear, when it goes on to teach that if a sinner vows repentance [in order to start anew, doing the goodness that pleases the Creator], not only will he receive the promise of life [everlasting], but will also be given “a clean slate”, since his former iniquities will never be remembered again. As is written: “But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die. All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him: in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live”- Ezekiel 18:21-22.

Will the Creator condemn us for following a false religion?

Scripture tells the story of a great miracle experienced by a Pagan [Syrian] widow. As is written: «Then Elijah said to her, “Don’t be afraid; go and do as you have said. But first make me a small loaf from it and bring it out to me. Afterward, you may make some for yourself and your son”... So she [the Syrian widow] proceeded to do according to the word of Elijah. Then the woman, Elijah, and her household ate for many days. The flour jar did not become empty, and the oil jug did not run dry, according to the word of the Lord he had spoken through Elijah»- 1 Kings 17:13-14, & 15-16 (Christian Standard Bible).

What merit did this pagan women have, for the God of Israel to look upon her with mercy? Well, her merit was that, though a follower of pagan idols, she had shown mercy to hungry Elijah, providing him with food and water. Thus, she too was worthy of being blessed with food and water.

Likewise, Scripture relates the story of a Syrian [Pagan] general to whom God granted a miraculous deliverance from his incurable disease. As is written: “Then went he [Naaman] down, and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little child, and he was clean”- 2 Kings 5:14, KJV.

Why was this idol worshiper worthy of God's deliverance? He was worthy because, though pagan, he had been an instrument for the deliverance of his own people. As is written: "Now Naaman, captain of the host of the king of Syria, was a great man... because by him the Lord had given deliverance unto Syria"- 2 Kings 5:1, KJV. Thus, Divine justice demands that he who had delivered other people be himself also delivered.

Notice how, in the previous examples, God granted mercy and deliverance to idol worshipers, even before they had abandoned their paganism! But, isn't it important to have the correct theology? To follow the right religion? What moral lesson is Scripture trying to convey with these stories? They are recorded in order to teach us that, in the eyes of God, doing good with our existing theology is far more important than having a good existing theology.

Curiously, on this regard Jewish tradition seems to agree with Reformed Samaritanism, when it goes on to say: «Elijah [the prophet] said: "I call Heaven and Earth to witness that, whether it be a Jew or a heathen, whether it be a man or a woman, a manservant or a maidservant, the Holy Spirit will suffuse each of them in keeping with the deeds he [or she] performs"»- Tanna debe Eliyahu, edited by Friedmann, Page 48

«Faith in an Israelite Messiah (past or future) can be a good thing. But beware of turning it into an idol! Remember that, no matter if it be the nation of Israel, the Israelite religion, or an Israelite individual, Scripture denotes Israel using the Hebrew word, "Yishrael"; a word that sounds ominously similar to the Hebrew phrase, "Ish-ra-el" (whose meaning is none other than, "Man is an evil god!"»

What are Reformed Samaritans supposed to do with Yeshua (Jesus of Nazareth, may peace and blessings be upon him)

Though not a branch of the Christian faith, Reformed Samaritanism recognizes Jesus moral teachings to be a valid path toward obtaining God's favor. But if so, then why isn't Reformed Samaritanism part of the Christian religion? Well, the answer to that question has to do with the fact that Reformed Samaritans view salvation as the natural result of a life that honors his Creator. How do they go about it? They simply commit themselves with performing the goodness commanded by God's Ten Supreme Laws (or "Commandments").

In other words, by willingly turning the former Laws into our own moral compass, we make sure that our lives slowly acquire the justice, mercy, and humility that characterize our heavenly Father; so that, in the process, we end up becoming "Sons of God". As is written: «Ye are the children of the Lord your God... I have said, "Ye are gods; and all of you are children of the most High..."»- Deut. 14:1, Psalm 82:6, King James Bible.

And just as Scripture states that, upon his death, David was sent to rest with his fathers ("So David slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David"- 1 Kings 2:10), so will [upon their death] God's children be sent to rest with their Heavenly Father.

And whence we get the Holy One never expected God fearing Israelites to attain absolute moral perfection? We get it from the fact that, though they never achieved such perfection, the former verses refer to them as "gods", "children of the Lord", and "children of the most High". In fact, the Creator Himself goes on to describe them as "Holy people".

As is written: "For thou art an Holy people unto the Lord thy God: the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth”- Deut. 7:6

But what about Jesus of Nazareth (Yeshua, may peace and blessings be upon him)? Didn't he attain absolute moral perfection? Well, not really. In fact, Scripture foretold no man would ever reach such moral perfection. As is written: “For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not”- Ecclesiastes 7:20.

And the former might explain the reason why Yeshua is depicted in the gospel as a flawed human being. In what sense? In that he would demand people to display a moral perfection he himself lacked. Consider the following examples:

(1) Yeshua commanded not to resist he who smites you, but rather offer the other cheek: “But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also”- Matthew 5:39. yet when Jesus himself was smitten, he resisted the aggressor, refusing to offer him the other cheek (thereby showing that theory is great, but the law of sowing and reaping always prevail): “... one of the officers which stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so? Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?” - John 18:22-23

(2) Yeshua claims to have greater wisdom than Solomon (“The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here”- Luke 11:31). In addition, he claims to have no fear of death (“And I say unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do”- Luke 12:4). Finally, Yeshua claims to have no sin (“Which of you convinceth me of sin?...”- John 8:46).

And the former implies only Yeshua had the right to judge and rebuke the sin of other people, as only his judgment is safe (“For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son... I judge no man. And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me”- John 5:22, & 8:15-16).

Thus, being the fearless, wise, morally perfect, and divinely appointed Judge, we would expect Yeshua to be bold enough to confront the sin of powerful kings and rulers. Yet when Herod breaks God's Law [taking his brother's wife], it is John the Baptist [and not Yeshua!] who has the moral greatness and courage to rebuke the king, risking his own life.

(3) Not only couldn't Yeshua judge the issues of kings and rulers, but the gospel pictures him being unable to judge even trivial matters pertaining to common people. As is written: «And one of the company said unto him, “Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me”. And he [Yeshua] said unto him, Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?”- Luke 12:14

Thus, we can allegorically say that, though Jesus moral teachings are “Kasher” (ritually fit for believer's consumption), his actual life example “smells bad”. Curiously, Jesus himself suggests the path we ought to follow when handling such contradictions (“... For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again”- Luke 6:38). As is written: “All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not”- Matthew 23:3 (“sowing and reaping”, “eye for an eye”, “action, and reaction”... The fair and just answer to contradictory request is a contradictory reply)

A testimony of a near death experience

My near death/OOBE experience happened around 2010. I was at home, experiencing a particularly severe asthma attack—one that refused to respond to any of the medications I happened to have at hand [Afrim, Albuterol, Vicks vaporub, etc]. Not wanting to scare my wife, I decided to go to bed, and try to “bite the bullet” alone.

Yet the lack of air became so bad that it got to a point where I simply said to myself: “Lord, I can’t take this anymore... I’m tired of struggling with these symptoms... I’ll just stop fighting them, and let your will be done, whatever it might be(‘Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is’- Jeremiah 17:7)”. Then, my body spontaneously exhaled the little air left inside my lungs [in a sort of long and agonizing last breath]. Right after this, I saw myself coming out of my physical body, into what felt to be a sort of parallel universe, or dimension (‘For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind’- Isaiah 65:17).

Curiously, though I could see things just as if I were still inside my bedroom, I felt like if I were existing outside space/time; something similar to when you watch what is been aired from inside a flat screen (two dimensional) TV set--- although you perceive things as clearly as if you were “inside” the TV, the fact is that you are not even inside the same dimension!

Another thing I experienced is that I no longer felt any human feelings nor limitation-- no pain, no sickness, no fear, no thirst, no hunger, no weakness, no despair, no power struggles, no doubts, etc (‘And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away’- Revelation 21:4

In fact, the only “feeling” I could still experience was peace, but not a peace like the one we experience here on Earth. Rather, the peace I felt was so absolute, that it seemed to be the size of the universe (‘Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee’- Isaiah 26:3).

In addition, I felt like I had the energy of a trillion stars (‘And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever’- Daniel 12:3).

Another thing I noticed is that, though I had what seemed to be a physical (limited) shape, I actually felt as if I was existing in a state that could only be describe as “a living thought”, or “consciousness” (‘As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness’- Psalm 17:15).

And the former might explain the reason why, whenever I wanted to communicate with any of the beings I encountered over there, my “mind” would merge with their minds; so that, in an instant, I would know absolutely everything they had ever felt, thought, or experienced [there are no secrets in that realm!].

Likewise, whenever I wanted to know anything, I would simply wish to know it, and the information would come to me as easy [and as clearly] as if my mind were directly connected to the source of all knowledge in the Universe,(‘For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest; neither any thing hid, that shall not be known and come abroad’- Luke 8:17).

Another thing I experienced is that, whenever I wanted to cross into our present 3 dimensional realm, I would simply wish it to be so, and a sort of “energy portal” (or “threshold”) resembling a doorway would open-up, so I could step into it.

My near-death/out-of-body experience (NDE/OOBE) was quite long, and involved learning things so radical, that they shook my religious preconceptions to their very core. So, in order not to offend anybody, I will not include them here.

Curiously, though I consider myself to be a religious-minded individual, I must say that my NDE did not include anything you would come to expect from a person supposedly influenced by years of religious instruction.

In other words, I did not see any deceased relatives; I did not see Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, no Rabbi, no pastor, no Imam... no religious figure whatsoever... I did not hear anybody quoting [nor even mentioning] any religious text (Torah, Gospel, Qur'an, etc)... I saw no winged beings, no angels, no cherubim, no horned demons, no lake of fire, no awesome light, no tunnel, no garden of Eden, no flying thru the stars, no final judgment... Heck! I not even remotely saw [or heard] God!

And the former made me understand that I was experiencing one of the lowest possible “paradises”-- one of the many heavens awaiting the common believer. Who is a common believer? It is he [or she] who fears God and sincerely wants to do His will, yet is lacking in faith and/or commitment, so that he has never done anything worthy of making him stand side-by-side with the great men of God [let alone with the holy angels!].

Still, the heaven I experienced was so incredibly amazing, that it surpassed (by many orders of magnitude) my wildest expectations.

As a result of the former, I concluded that each near death experience is unique, as the Supreme Power of the Universe speaks to each of us in the language [and the terms] that our particular souls feel comfortable with.

For example, since the life of most males is a constant struggle (or “battle”) to provide for their households, it makes sense that most males NDE’s will include an awesome sense of Peace, as well as the vision of some sort of magnificent structure (or “building”).

By the same token, since most women aspire to be loving and fruitful, their NDE’s will often include an incredible sense of Love, and will display some sort of incredibly beautiful garden and/or landscape.

In short, good and noble souls will experience a good and noble afterlife-- a sort of “personalized heaven”; while hateful and oppressive souls will experience a hateful and oppressive afterlife-- a sort of “personalized hell” (“What the wicked dread will come on them, but what the righteous desire will be given to them”- Proverbs 10:24, Common English Bible).

Again, not that heaven is either a literal building, or a literal garden-- just the way the Almighty communicates with us-- hinting at the idea that the afterlife is so infinite, that there’s enough “room” for each of us to have the personal world [or even universe!] we have always dreamed about.

As for how could I “see” other beings [having no physical body], the experience was strange, and quite difficult to explain. Why? Because it is like trying to explain the “phantom limb syndrome”-- where you literally feel a severe pain in one of your extremities-- something that is not supposed to happen. Why? Simply because such extremity isn't even there! [as it has been amputated].

Likewise, during my NDE/OOBE I could “feel” and “see” other spirits, which looked to me just like regular people existing in physical bodies-- something that was not supposed to happen. Why? Because, as we were no longer alive, I was fully aware that our physical bodies had been “amputated” [so that there were no physical bodies to sense or view!].

Curiously (and as a side note), I somehow see a parallelism of the former phenomenon. When? Whenever I hear of a person claiming to be “trapped” inside a body belonging to the opposite sex (as if there is actually one physical body being trapped inside a second body-- something that should not be possible, as there's only one body to speak about).

Finally, I was made to understand that most of what I had seen [and experienced] was only metaphorical-- shadows and symbols of far greater realities; realities so profound that it has taken me years to start to comprehend. For example, part of what I saw included the following metaphor: Since I had seen no angels, no cherubim, no prophets, etc, I expressed my desire to see “the heavenly city”. Then I was asked to wait, and in a short while what seemed to be a small bus stopped by.

I hopped into it, and we started the journey riding up thru a mountain, following an extremely long, steep, narrow and difficult road. Eventually, we reached a very high plateau, where we kept travel for ages along what seemed to be a straight and ample road (a highway to heaven?).

Next, we reached a place where the highway was crowded by billion of human beings-- so many that they resembled a living ocean of people; a crowd so large that it seemed to span the whole horizon [from east to west!]. As the bus would not reduce it’s velocity, I manifested my concerns to the bus driver, who calmly asked me to just wait and see what was about to happen.

Suddenly, the bus hit the crowd; but instead of hurting anybody, a sort of non-physical “portal” (or “threshold”) opened up, so that the bus found itself on the other side, floating over the area of a huge and majestic city.

As soon as I saw the splendor of this city, I felt compelled to praise the Almighty, saying: “Great and wonderful are your works, oh King of the Universe!”. Curiously, the other bus riders uttered the same praise, at exactly the same moment.

Then, I looked outside the bus window, and focused upon one of the buildings, which resembled a pink hued gigantic sea shell-- I could notice that they were many other beings dwelling on each one of the building levels; but, to my surprise, the building was so tall, and contained so many millions of inhabitants, that the building top seemed to disappear in the sky [as if the building kept going up forever!].

What does it all mean? In my humble opinion, it means that, though harsh and difficult, human life is an never ending process of “evolution” [or “growth”]; first in the physical realm, and then in the non-physical realms; that each soul is free to choose when [and how much] it wants to evolve-- how much moral perfection and refinement it wants to attain.

In addition, it means that there are an infinite number of heavens—that, if I saw no angel (nor great prophet), it was only because, though incredibly amazing, the “heaven” I was experiencing was just “the bottom of the mountain” [in other words, the heaven of average people like myself]-- the footstep to an infinite number of ever increasing realms.

Thus, I have come to believe that heaven isn’t a specific place, but rather a stop we make along an infinite journey in the “upward” direction. Of course, if we want it to be so, we can stop, and abide in a “physical heaven” (experiencing a sea of human lives) for as long as we wish. But we can optionally transcend any form of human existence, in order to exist as part of “a place” (a “city” that seems to exist even beyond the non-physical realm).

Curiously one of the names Hebrew tradition gives to the Almighty is “Ha-Makom”, a phrase that literally means “The Place”. What Place? The infinite place which, though not existing anywhere, contains within itself all that is, was, or will ever be.

In short, in my humble opinion, heaven is an infinite journey. A journey where? A journey toward “The Place”-- toward the Infinite Being who contains inside itself all other things. Therefore, in the very moment we are courageous enough to stop, in order to objectively examine our lives, and go on to say: “Oh my God! What I did wasn’t right-- If I could start it all over again, this time I would try to do it much better”, in that very moment our soul starts it’s infinite journey to heaven.

Scripture is a book of parables and moral paradigms

Hebrew Hebrew Scripture is a book of parables, as well as moral Paradigms. As is written: “Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel... And utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Set on a pot, set it on, and also pour water into it... And he took up his parable, and said, Alas, who shall live when God doeth this!... I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, by the ministry of the prophets”- Ezekiel 17:2, Ezekiel 24:3, Numbers 24:23, & Hosea 12:10 (King James Bible).

Thus, each geographical location, each nation, each story, each rite, each name, and each character contained within Scripture is meant to be understood either as an allegorical representation of some eternal truth; or as a moral paradigm aimed at guiding us into the path of righteousness.

Consider the following example: God Law states that, among the animals, only the cow, the goat, the sheep, and the dove were fit for Temple offerings. Which allegorical truth is Scripture trying to convey with this? Well, each of the former animals can be domesticated [therefore living in peace with humans]. In addition, none of them is a predator. Thus, Scripture hints at the fact that God isn't pleased with those who cannot live in peace with their neighbors; nor those who “prey” upon those who are weak or feeble.

And that's the reason why, though God is “the King” of the World, and the lion is “the king” of the beast, the latter couldn't be offered to God in sacrifice [as God isn't pleased with those who, like the lion, prey upon their weaker fellow].

Another example: Torah declares the swine to be impure. Why? Because, in order to be ritually pure, an animal must not only have a split hoof [an external requirement] but also chew the cud [an internal requirement]. Yet, though having a split hoof, the swine doesn't chew the cud.

What moral teaching is Torah trying to teach with this paradigm? It hints at the idea that God isn't pleased with he whose purity is only external [the man who is ritually observant], while his heart remains impure [tainted with stubbornness, greed, deception, pride, and immorality].

God's Law (Torah) teaches that, if you forgive other people's faults, your own faults will also be forgiven; that if you grant mercy, mercy will be granted unto you

God's Law states the following: “At the end of every seven years thou shalt make a release. And this is the manner of the release: Every creditor that lendeth ought unto his neighbour shall release it; he shall not exact it of his neighbour, or of his brother... .. And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harvest. And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them for the poor and stranger...”- Deut. 15:1-2, & Leviticus 19:9-10 (King James Bible).

What moral teachings is Torah (God's Law) trying to convey when asking us to forgive our debtors and freely give to the needy? Well, since Torah's supreme message is that God's judgment is executed by means of the law of “Sowing and reaping” (also known as “measure for measure”), the former commands ought to be understood as intending to teach that, if we forgive other people's debts (or “faults”), our own faults [or “debts”] will also be forgiven [by the Creator]; that if we show mercy to those who have become weak and needy, we too will be shown mercy, once we have become weak and needy [in other words after our own death].

And the former is also taught by the Christian writings, when they go on to say: "... forgive, and ye shall be forgiven: Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again"- Luke 6:37-38, King James Bible

Who owns Torah (God's Law)?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the Creator never intended Torah to become a sort of "religious franchise"; where those falsely perceived to be its legitimate owners would try to "license" its operations (deciding who could, and who couldn't follow Torah) in exchange for "a franchise fee" (unconditional support for the Jewish establishment?).

And from whence do we know this? We know it from the fact that Torah wasn't given only to Israelites, but also to the mixed multitude [from all nations] that accompanied Israel in its journey out of Egypt ("And the children of Israel journeyed from Rameses to Succoth, about six hundred thousand on foot that were men, beside children. AND A MIXED MULTITUDE WENT UP ALSO WITH THEM"- Exodus 12:37-38, KJB).

In addition, notice how Torah was given neither in the land of Egypt nor in the land of Israel. Why? In order to prevent both Israelites and non-Israelites from claiming ownership of it.

And why was Torah given instead in the wilderness? In order to teach that, just as the wilderness didn't belong to any particular person (or nation) -- as anybody could get into it, and take as much sand as he wanted--, so it would be with Torah; it didn't belong to any particular person (or nation), as anyone could get into it and take as much of its content as he wanted.

Reformed Samaritanism

Faith in the figure of a coming Messiah (or "deliverer") could provide a great boost to our determination to remain strong in the faith (battling against Ha Satan). But the fact remains that, neither the name "Ha Satan" (the Satan), nor the name "Ha Mashiach" (the Messiah), can be found within the only document that, being written "by the finger of God" (Exodus 31:18), is 100% inspired. Which document is that? It is the Ten "Laws" (or "sayings") given to our master Moses upon the two stone tablets (the Decalogue). But, why would the Decalogue fail to explicitly mention such paramount things as "Ha Satan", and "Ha Mashiach"? Could it be that יהוה (the all-knowing God) simply forgot about it? Or is the Holy One rather trying to teach us a deep moral lesson, hinting at the idea that, neither the belief in a Satan, nor the belief in a Messiah compares in importance to abstaining from theft, from deception, from adultery, from greed, from idolatry, and from dishonoring our parents? Could it be that, by means of such omission, יהוה is letting His servants know that, as far as He is concerned, faith in a coming Messiah is of secondary importance [as if we strive to perform the goodness commanded upon the stone tablets, no Satan will be able to deprive us from enjoying God's blessings; while if we don't perform such goodness, no Messiah will be able to grant us God's favor]?

The New Testament intimates that Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) was the Messiah only in a symbolic fashion (as he aimed at portraying the one true Messiah that is a life of sincere repentance, justice, humility, and obedience to God's commandments)

The Hebrew Scripture is clear, when it states that the God worshipped by the ancient Israeli people was no man at all (“For He is no man...”- 1 Samuel 15:29; “God is no man...”- Numbers 23:19). And it is also clear when it states that, while this God is inherently sinless (“... His work is perfect: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He”- Deut. 32:4), it is no less true that man is inherently flawed and sinful (“For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth [only] good, and sinneth not”- Ecclesiastes 7:20).

In addition, Scripture teaches that there's no other Savior, nor anointed (Messiah) Redeemer, besides this God whose Hebrew name is "יהוה" (Adonai Yah, the God of Abraham). As is written: “I, I am יהוה (Adonai Yah), and there is no Savior beside me”- Isaiah 43:11 (Tree of Life Version Bible). Finally, Scripture states that, if there is anyone worthy of being called “the Son of God”, as well as “God's own Servant”, it is the community of believers represented by the ancient Israeli people. As it has been said: “And thou shalt say unto Pharaoh, 'Thus saith the Lord, Israel is My Son, even My Firstborn' ”- Exodus 4:22; And also in another place, "And said unto me, Thou art My Servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified”- Isaiah 49:3.

But if the former is true, then why do the Christian gospels ascribe all of the former titles (God, sinless man, Savior, Redeemer, Messiah, Son of God, God's Servant, etc) to the man named Jesus? Well, the answer is very simple, and is actually provided by the gospels, when they go on to say: “Jesus told the crowds all these things in parables, and he did not tell them anything without a parable”- Matthew 13:3.

In other words, since Jesus spoke only in parables, none of the claims he made were supposed to be taken in a strict literal sense, but rather in an allegorical fashion. Consider a first example: Jesus is quoted saying that John the Baptist is the promised Elijah that would come right before the Jewish Messiah (“And if ye will receive it, this is Elijah, which was for to come...”- Matthew 11:14). But the fact is that the former cannot be literally true, as John himself openly declares that he isn't the literal Elijah (who, according to the Hebrew Bible, is a different physical person still alive somewhere in the heavens).

As is written: “And they asked him [John the Baptist], What then? Art thou Elijah? And he saith, I am Not. Art thou that prophet? And he answered, No”- John 1:21. Again, John states that he is not Elijah, while Jesus says that he is. Is one of them lying? No! John says he is not Elijah [in a literal sense]; while Jesus says he is Elijah [in an allegorical sense].

Consider a second example: Jesus claims to be the King of the Jews (“Now Jesus stood before the governor. And the governor asked him, saying, 'Are you the King of the Jews?'. [And] Jesus said to him, 'It is as you say' ”- Matthew 27:11).

But, did Jesus really want to be the [literal] king of the Jews? Of course not! Jesus didn't want to have anything to do with human politics. How do we know it? We know it from the fact that when the Jews tried to make him their [literal] king, Jesus fled away from them (“When Jesus therefore perceived that they [THE JEWS] would come and take him by force, TO MAKE HIM KING, he departed again into a mountain himself alone”- John 6:15).

The truth is that Jesus wasn't talking about any physical kingdom somewhere in this world, but rather about an “out of this world” (non-physical) kingdom. As he himself said: “Jesus answered, 'my kingdom is not from this world... my kingdom is not from here' ”- John 18:36.

Finally, consider the following: first century Jews did expect the coming of a literal Messiah- the “branch of Jesse” (or the biological “Son of David”) mentioned by the prophet (“There shall come forth a Rod from the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots. The Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, The Spirit of Wisdom and understanding... He shall strike the Earth with the rod of His mouth, and with the breath of His lips He shall slay the wicked”- Isaiah 11:1-4).

But, was Jesus the literally (biological) Son Of David? Of course not! Why? Two reasons; in the first place [and according to the gospel], Jesus had no biological father, as he was [allegedly] conceived by the Holy Spirit; therefore he could not have been a biological son of any of Jesse's male descendants (keep in mind that Jews traced tribal lineage by their father's genealogy).

Secondly, Jesus himself rejected the idea that the Messiah would be a literal son of David. Why?

Again, because such requirement would disqualify him for the post of Messiah; but also because Jesus argued that Scripture never made such literal promise, since it wouldn't make sense for a sane father to call any of his biological offspring “Lord”. As is written:

«How can the scribes say that the Messiah is the son of David? David himself says by the Holy Spirit: “The Lord declared to my Lord, ‘Sit at my right hand until I put your enemies under your feet’.”...

DAVID HIMSELF CALLS HIM ‘LORD’; HOW THEN CAN HE BE HIS SON?»- Mark 12:35-37.

Do all roads lead to God? Yes!, but only as long as such road is “paved” with the righteousness printed by the hand of God upon Moses two stone tablets-- A righteousness that translates into a life moral purity, and holiness (fear of God’s judgment, repentance, forgiveness, hope, love, honesty, sincerity, justice, mercy, and humility)

Torah wisdom, and humility

Hebrew Scripture states the following: “Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool than of him”- Proverbs 26:12. What does it mean? It means that, as a rule of thumb, a shallow minded person will tend to cover-up his ignorance by displaying an arrogant [and false] sense of knowledge and security. In other words, he will constantly deny and/or affirm in absolute, simplistic, and over-generalized terms. But the wise man is instead humble and prudent in his assessment, leaving room for the doubt, for unknown variables, and for the always present exception to the rule.

Consider the following: God’s Law suggests that the believer ought to wear a “head fringe” (or “Tefillin”, as per Deuteronomy 6:8). In addition, the believer is supposed to redeem his first born son (Pidyon haben). How? By bringing unto the priest the redemption price of 5 silver coins (Numbers 3:47, & 18:15-16).

Well, story goes that a particularly sharp disciple was sitting in the house of study, learning Torah from a poorly educated sage. While the latter was going over the Torah portion dealing with the Tefillin, the student rose up and asked: “If a Hebrew believer has two heads, on which one of them is he supposed to place his Tefillin?”... taken aback by the question (not having ever considered such possibility), the sage replied: “What kind of foolish question is that? Get out of the house of study, or consider yourself under a ban”.

In that very moment, an older sage entered the study hall and [unaware of the foregoing discussion] went on to ask, “Today, a two headed son was born to my youngest son, how much money is he supposed to give for his redemption (five shekels, or ten)?”.

Upon hearing it, the younger sage felt as if his cover had been blown, and his arrogance rebuked; therefore, he resolved to make amends. How? By recognizing the merits of his crest-fallen disciple [in other words, by sharing his teaching post with him, so that the sage would expound Torah on one Sabbath, and let the disciple take his post during the next Torah session].

Words of everlasting life: How to secure God's favor, thereby becoming like Moses

Our master Moses (may peace and blessings be upon him) was so beloved by God, that the latter couldn't wait for him to die, in order to let Moses experience the shining privilege of speaking "face to face" with the Almighty. As it is written: "And the Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend... And it came to pass, when Moses came down from mount Sinai with the two tables of testimony in Moses' hand, when he came down from the mount, that Moses wist not that the skin of his face shone while he talked with Him"- Exodus 33:11, & 34:29).

Would you like to enjoy such merit? Would you like the Almighty to consider you as great [and as beloved] as Moses? Well, Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that he who gives charity [in secret], is even greater than Moses.

Why? Because in spite of his incredible merits, Moses admitted to be afraid ("For I was in dread of the anger and hot displeasure, wherewith the LORD was wrath..."- Deuteronomy 9:19, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition); Whereas he who secretly gives charity [to the poor] has no anger to fear ("A gift in secret pacifieth anger..."- Proverbs 21:14, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition). And the former is the reason why Hebrew Scripture goes on to say: "Happy is he that considereth the poor [granting him charity]; the LORD will deliver him in the day of evil"- Psalm 41:2.

Why is this man happy, having no fear? Because he has been promised to be "delivered" (or "saved") in the day of evil. And what is "the day of evil"? It is the day of God's judgment-- the day when the Holy One will display his anger toward the wicked ("The great day of the LORD is near... That day is a day of wrath... And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like the blind, because they have sinned against the LORD..."- Zephaniah 1:14-17, JPS).

And why will the merciful man be “saved” in the day of Judgment? Because God’s judgment consist of letting every man “reap” the same goodness he has willingly “planted” upon his fellow creatures (“For the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations; as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee; thy dealing shall return upon thine own head”- Obadiah 1:15, JPS). Thus, he who has granted mercy will in turn be granted mercy.

And the latter security might be the reason why even the Christian gospel goes on to say: “Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy [in the day of their judgment]”- Matthew 5:7, King James Version. Thus, no matter if he be a Jew or a Muslim; a Christian, or Zoroastrian, the Almighty will consider him who gives charity [in secret] to be equal [and even greater!] than prophet Moses. May the peace and divine security granted to the merciful be also granted upon you!

The reason why Reformed Samaritanism allow it's followers to choose their personal Messiah

The New testament states that faith in a Messiah called “Jesus” (in other words, calling Jesus your Lord and Saviour) cannot guarantee your salvation. Why? Because Jesus himself said that many of his followers will end up lost. As is written:

«Many will say to Me on that day, “Lord, Lord, didn’t we prophesy in Your name, and drive out demons in Your name, and perform many miracles in Your name?” Then I will declare to them, “I never knew you. Get away from Me, you workers of lawlessness!”»- Matthew 7:22-23 (Tree of Life Bible).

In other words, there is no salvation unless there’s also sincere repentance, as well as the deeds that such repentance entail. As is written:

“No, I tell you! But UNLESS YOU REPENT, YOU ALL WILL PERISH the same way”- Luke 13:3.

And also says, “So they went out and proclaimed that ALL SHOULD REPENT”- Mark 6:12.

And finally says: “Rather, I kept declaring—first to those in Damascus, and then Jerusalem and throughout all the region of Judea, and also the Gentiles—that THEY SHOULD REPENT, AND TURN TO GOD, PERFORMING DEEDS CONSISTENT WITH THAT REPENTANCE”- Acts 26:20.

Thus, Christian Scripture teaches sincere repentance (the triumph of our impulse to do good over our impulse to evil) is indeed the ultimate Messiah (Redeemer). And this is consistent with the Hebrew Scripture, which goes on to say: “But A REDEEMER WILL COME to Zion, and [TO WHOM IN ZION WILL THE REDEEMER COME?...] TO THOSE IN JACOB WHO TURN FROM TRANSGRESSION [in sincere repentance]”- Isaiah 59:20.

Thus, it can be properly said that, although neither Moses, Jesus, nor Muhammad are the literal Messiah, whenever the words of any of these great men successfully turn you away from sin [into sincere repentance] in that very moment they have become [by “antonomasia”, or “association”] your personal Messiah.

And the former is the reason why, although it’s foundation is Moses, God’s Law, repentance, and obedience to the Ten commandments written upon the two stone tablets, Reformed Samaritanism doesn’t demand from it’s followers to believe in any specific Messiah, but rather allows it to be a private and personal issue not to be imposed upon anybody else

The Holy Faith Of Reformed Samaritanism

There's only one true and godly religion: To be just, kind, and humble. As it has been written: "Turn away from evil! Do good! Then you will live in the land forever." - Psalm 37:27 (Common English Bible). And: "He has told you, human one, what is good and what the Lord requires from you: to do justice, embrace faithful love, and walk humbly with your God" - Micah 6:8.

What then is the role played by normative religion (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, etc)? Simply to try and be faithful messengers of God's true religion. And all is well and good, as long as we keep in mind the distinction between the perfect message of true religion, and the imperfect role played by it's appointed messengers.

Who are the Samaritans, and why are they different from the Jews?

Most people tend to ignore the fact that ancient Hebrew people consisted of two distinctive [and often opposing] groups: (1) A northern kingdom comprised of 10 Tribes (often collectively called "Ephraim"); and (2) A southern kingdom, comprised of 2 tribes (often collectively called "Judah"). The kingdom of Judah is represented by modern day Jews [with all of their different sects]; While the kingdom of Ephraim is represented by modern Samaritans [with all of their sects and splinter movements]. Whence we know? We know it because mainstream scholars suggest that while deportations took place both before and after the destruction of Israel (722-720 BCE), they were less significant than the Bible's account of them indicates.

During the earlier Assyrian invasions, the Transjordan and the Galilee did witness large-scale deportations, and entire tribes were lost; the tribes of Reuben, Gad, Dan, and Naphtali are never mentioned again. The region of Samaria, on the other hand, was larger and more populous. Two of the region's largest cities, Samaria and Megiddo, were mostly left intact, and the rural communities were generally left alone.

"To know what people really think, pay attention to what they do, rather than what they say."

— Descartes

Additionally, according to the Book of Chronicles, King Hezekiah of Judah invited the survivors of Ephraim, Zebulun, Asher, Issachar, and Manasseh to Jerusalem to celebrate Passover. Therefore, it is assumed that the majority of people who survived the Assyrian invasions remained in the area. According to researchers, the Samaritan community of today, which claims to be descended from Ephraim, Manasseh, Levi, and, up until 1968, also Benjamin, does in fact predominantly derive from the tribes that continued to live in the region.

«A man does not become religious only when he worships a supernatural deity. Why? Simply because that man could be able to achieve the same level of fanaticism if he chooses to blindly renounce to objective [and critical] thinking; As would be the case when he puts all of his energy, all the resources of his mind, and the whole submission of his will, at the service of a cause [or individual] who becomes the absolute goal [or unquestionable guide] of his thoughts and actions. And what are some examples of these? One example could be the Hedonist lifestyle (the blind pursue of Money, Sex, and Power). Other examples could be the Political correctness movement, Secular Humanism, Church and State separation, Gender equality, LGBT rights, Women's rights, Atheism, individualism, etc»

Do all roads lead to God?

Do all roads lead to God? Are there many paths to the mountain? Yes!... but only as long as such road is “paved” with the righteousness revealed upon the two stone tablets given by the Almighty (do not steal, do not murder, do not bear a false witness, honor your parents, do not take your neighbor’s wife, do not covet what doesn’t belong to you, etc).

Why? Because the former are based upon the lifestyle of justice, mercy, and humility that creates the pure and upright heart that pleases the Almighty.

And whence we get the Holy One is pleased with he who has a pure and upright heart? We get it from the Scripture that goes on to say: “Do good, O Lord, unto those that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts [not to the Jews, the Muslims, nor the Christians, but rather to they who are good and upright in their hearts, no matter if they be Jews, Muslims, or Christians]”- Psalm 125:4, King James Bible.

And also states elsewhere, “With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful, and with the upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright”- 2 Samuel 22:26.

And it finally says, “... Thus shall ye do in the fear of the Lord, faithfully, and with a perfect heart... Deal courageously, and the Lord shall be with the good”- 2 Chronicles 19:9-11.

God's message to Mankind has little to do with having the right religious dogma

Our dear brothers and sisters, the holy Faith of Reformed Samaritanism teaches that God's message to Mankind manifests itself thru the Law of “Sowing and Reaping”. You see, Scripture’s ultimate message has little to do with race, ethnicity, nationality, religion, or even theological dogma.

Instead, it is a Divine call for mankind to embrace the common sense idea that God rules His Creation thru the Law of “Measure, for measure” (also known as “action, and reaction”, “what goes around, comes around”, “Sowing and reaping”, etc).

And the former Law is so wide and encompassing that it is in fact the very foundation of all [practical] truth, all of the science, all of the religion, and all of the politics we humans will ever need. As for the rest (Which religion has the best theology?, What's God's true name?, Who [or what] is the Creator?, Who [or what] is the Messiah?, Have we inherited an original sin?, Whom [or what] is God's true Israel?, When will God's kingdom come?; Will Jerusalem's Temple ever be rebuilt? Is there life immediately after death?; etc), it is just optional commentary.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM
God looks at the intentions of our hearts!

Torah teaches that the Creator is sort of like "a Mirror"- the Mirror itself never changes; but if two men were to look into it, each of them would see something different, as each will see a reflection of his own image. In other words, if a warrior looks into the mirror, he will see "a warrior God" (a "God of Host", so to speak); if a peace maker looks into it, he will see a "God of Peace"; If a loving father looks into it, he'll see a God who is "Our Father, who is in Heaven"; If a merciful man looks into it, He will see a merciful God; but if a stern man looks into it, he will see a stern God. As it is written: "WITH THE MERCIFUL, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF MERCIFUL; WITH AN UPRIGHT MAN, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF UPRIGHT; WITH THE PURE, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF PURE; AND WITH THE FROWARD, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF FROWARD"- Psalm 18:25-26, King James Bible. And the former could easily explain the reason why, when talking to Moses, God describes Himself as follows: "I AM the God of thy father, THE GOD OF ABRAHAM, THE GOD OF ISAAC, AND THE GOD OF JACOB..."- Exodus 3:6, King James Bible. Why did God has to say "the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob"? Why couldn't He just say, "THE GOD OF ABRAHAM, ISAAC, AND JACOB"? Again, because each patriarch perceived Him in a different fashion, just as if they were serving three different Gods. But the truth is that, although each of them viewed God differently [just as it happens with Islam, Judaism, and Christianity], they all served the same God; and, although different, each view was correct, as it corresponded with their individual personalities. So God goes beyond our individual religions, and judges the intentions of our hearts. As is written: "FOR יהוה DOES NOT SEE AS MAN SEES; for man looks at the outward appearance, but יהוה LOOKS AT THE HEART"- 1 Samuel 16:7

And whether we consider Jesus, Allah, Aura Mazda, or Adonay Yah to be the One and only God, is of secondary importance, as no matter what the identity of the all powerful God is, He knows our inner thoughts-- and will therefore judge us not by the quality of our theology, but rather by the purity of our hearts, and the sincerity of our commitment to sow the goodness that pleases Him. As it has been said: “Do good, O Lord, unto those that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts... Truly God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart... Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart... Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him... He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the Lord... Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble”- Psalm 125:4, Psalm 73:1, Psalm 24:3-4, Isaiah 3:10-11, Isaiah 22:16, Psalm 41:1.

Why? Again, because God's decree is that (in the end) we all “reap” the same “goodness” [or “evil”] we have willingly [and without regret] “sowed” upon our needy fellow human beings [by means of our ideas, our words, our actions, and our intentions]. As is written: “As you have done, it will be done to you ...”- Obadiah 1:15.

May peace be upon you all!

Jewish Scripture teaches that most Jews are like spoiled little brats (lacking the wisdom to appreciate the value of constructive criticism)

Scripture states that, as soon as prophet Jeremiah warned the Jews concerning God’s punishment for their immoral behavior, they tried to kill him («Now it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that THE PRIESTS AND THE PROPHETS AND ALL THE PEOPLE LAID HOLD ON HIM, SAYING: “THOU SHALT SURELY DIE...”»- Jeremiah 26:8-9, Jewish Publication society, 1917 Edition). How do we explain this Jewish behavior? We explain it by remembering that Jews are called “the CHILDREN of Israel” (“And THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord; and the Lord delivered them into the hand of Midian seven years- Judges 6:1, Jewish Publication society, 1917 Edition). Why are they called CHILDREN? Because, just like spoiled little children, they lack the wisdom [and maturity] to handle any form of constructive criticism (shutting it instead with foolish and childish claims of “Antisemitism”). And whence we get that they are a crooked and perverse generation? We know it from the Jewish Scripture that goes on to say: “[God is] The Rock, His work is perfect; for all His ways are justice; a God of faithfulness and without iniquity, just and right is He. IS CORRUPTION HIS? NO; HIS CHILDREN'S IS THE BLEMISH; A GENERATION CROOKED AND PERVERSE”- Deuteronomy 32:4-5, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition

El capricho de un individuo, nunca puede estar por encima del bienestar General

Sucedió que, al principio de la conquista de América, 100 soldados Españoles pagaron para ocupar [cada uno] un asiento en el fondo del barco que partía hacia las Indias Occidentales. En medio de la travesía, alguien notó que uno de los soldados intentaba hacer un hueco en el fondo del barco [¡justo debajo de su asiento!]. Al ser confrontado por la mayoría, el soldados ripostó diciendo, “Este asiento [con su área correspondiente] es mí, pues yo pague por su uso antes de la partida. Así que nadie puede restringir mi absoluta libertad para hacer con él lo que bien me plazca”. Entonces el resto de los soldados le respondieron diciendo: “Es cierto que tienes derecho a hacer lo que plazca a tu capricho, pero tal libertad no es absoluta pues, estando todos en el mismo barco, no tienes derecho alguno de hacer nada que ponga en riesgo, o amenace la vida y seguridad de la mayoría de los pasajeros”

CULTO UNIVERSAL DE ADORACIÓN ALTERNO (PARA HISPANOPARLANTES), SEGÚN LA TRADICIÓN DEL SAMARITANISMO REFORMADO

El siguiente servicio, que se lee en alta voz y de forma antifonal, contiene el fundamento moral e ideológico de la Sagrada Fe del Samaritanismo Reformado. NOTA: Las primeras dos citas se leen de forma grupal, estando todos de pie con el rostro vuelto hacia la tierra de Canaán.

- «Shema Yisrael, Adonai Elojeinu, Adonai ejad. Baruj shem kevod maljuto le olam va ed. Ve-ahavta lereaja kamoja, ani Adonai»
- «Oye, Israel, יהוה (Adonai Yah) nuestro Dios יהוה (Adonai Yah) uno es. Y amarás a יהוה (Yah) con todo tu corazón, y toda tu alma, y con todas tus fuerzas. Y estas palabras que yo te mando hoy estarán sobre tu corazón; y las repetirás a tus hijos, y hablarás de ellas estando en tu casa, y andando por el camino, y al acostarte, y cuando te levantes»- Deut. 6:4-7
- «Reconoced que יהוה (Adonai Yah) es Dios; Él nos hizo, y no nosotros a nosotros mismos; Pueblo suyo somos, y ovejas de su prado»- Salmo 100:3
- «No aborrecerás a tu hermano en tu corazón; razonarás con tu prójimo, para que no participes de su pecado. No te vengarás, ni guardarás rencor... sino que amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo »- Lev. 19:17-18
- «Bienaventurado el que piensa en el pobre; En el día malo, lo libraré Yah»- Salmo 41:1
- «Porque cercano está el día de Yah sobre todas las naciones; como tú hiciste se hará contigo»- Abdías 1:15
- «... El Juez de toda la tierra, ¿No ha de hacer lo que es justo?»- Génesis 18:25
- «¡Lejos este de Dios la impiedad, y del Omnipotente la iniquidad! Porque Él pagará al hombre según su obra, y le retribuirá conforme a su camino. Si, por cierto, Dios no hará injusticia, y el Omnipotente no pervertirá el derecho»- Job 34:10-12
- «Porque tú [oh Dios] pagas a cada uno conforme a su obra»- Salmo 62:12
- «El que mira por tu alma, Él lo conocerá, y dará al hombre según sus obras»- Proverbios 24:12
- «... Mis escogidos disfrutarán la obra de sus manos»- Isaías 65:22
- «... Yo les pagaré conforme a sus hechos, y conforme a la obra de sus manos»- Jeremías 25:14
- «No a nosotros, oh יהוה (Adonai Yah), no a nosotros, sino a tu nombre da gloria, por tu misericordia y tu verdad»- Salmo 115:1
- «Porque así dijo el Alto y Sublime, El que habita la Eternidad, y cuyo nombre es “el Santo”: yo habito en la altura y la santidad, y con el quebrantado y humilde de espíritu»- Isaías 57:15
- «... יהוה (Yah) exalta a los humildes, y humilla a los impíos hasta la tierra»- Salmo 147:6
- «Por que יהוה (Yah) es excelso, y atiende al humilde, mas al altivo mira de lejos»- Salmo 138:4
- «Mas alábase en esto el que se hubiere de alabar: en entenderme y conocerme, que yo soy יהוה (Adonai Yah), que hago misericordia, juicio, y justicia en la Tierra; porque estas cosas quiero [que los hombres también hagan], dice Adonai Yah»- Jeremías 9:24
- «... Así dice יהוה (Yah), Rey de Israel... “Yo soy el primero [porque no tengo padre], y yo soy el postrero [porque no tengo hijo], y fuera de mí, no hay Dios [porque no tengo hermano]»- Isaías 44:6 – «Ved ahora que Yo, Yo soy, y no hay dioses conmigo (es decir, no hay nadie que comparta conmigo la deidad)...» – Deut. 32:39
- «... No confíes en los príncipes, ni en [ningún] hijo de hombre, porque no hay en el salvación»- Salmo 146:3
- «... Yo יהוה (Yah), y fuera de mí, no hay quien salve»- Isaías 43:11
- «Porque yo יהוה (Adonai Yah), Dios tuyo, el Santo de Israel, soy tu Salvador...» – Isaías 43:3

- ¿Con que me presentare ante יהוה (Yah), y adorare al Altísimo?... ¿Daré mi primogénito por mi rebelión, el fruto de mis entrañas por el pecado de mi alma?» (Miqueas 6:6-7)
- «Oh hombre, Él te ha declarado lo que es bueno. Y, ¿que pide el Señor de ti? Solamente hacer Justicia, y amar misericordia, y humillarte ante tu Dios» (Miqueas 6:8)
- «Y Él os anunció su Pacto, el cual os mandó poner por obra; los Diez Mandamientos, y los escribió en dos tablas de piedra» -Deut. 4:13
- «¿Hasta cuándo no querréis guardar mis mandamientos y mis Leyes?»- Éxodo 16:28
- «Provocaron la ira de Dios con sus obras, y se desarrolló la mortandad entre ellos. Entonces se levantó Finees, e hizo [obra de] Juicio, y se detuvo la plaga; Y le fue contado por Justicia, de generación en generación para siempre»- Salmos 106:29-31
- «Si se humillare mi Pueblo, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y oraren, y buscaren mi rostro, y se convirtieren de sus malos caminos; entonces yo oiré desde los cielos, y perdonaré sus pecados, y sanaré su Tierra»- 2 Crónicas 7:14
- «Los sacrificios de Dios son el espíritu quebrantado, al corazón contrito y Humillado no despreciarás, tu oh Señor»- Salmo 51:17
- «Cercano está el Señor a los quebrantados de corazón; y salva a los contritos de espíritu»- Salmo 34:18
- «El que confiesa su pecado, y se aparta, alcanzara misericordia»- Proverbios 28:13
- «Por tanto, confesaré mi maldad, y me contristaré por mi pecado»- Salmo 38:18
- «Nunca se apartará de tu boca este libro de la Ley, sino que de día y de noche meditarás en él, para que guardes y hagas conforme a todo lo que en él está escrito; porque entonces harás prosperar tu camino, y todo te saldrá bien» – Josué 1:8
- «No añadiréis a la palabra que yo os mando, ni disminuiréis de ella, para que guardéis los mandamientos de יהוה (Yah) vuestro Dios, que yo os ordeno»- Deut. 4:2
- «Guarda mis mandamientos, y vivirás...»- Proverbios 7:2
- «Los mandamientos de יהוה (Yah) son rectos... en guardarlos hay grande galardón»- Salmo 119:8-11
- «Apártate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre»- Salmo 37:27
- «Teme a Dios, y guarda sus mandamientos; porque esto es el todo del hombre; Porque Dios traerá toda obra a juicio, juntamente con toda cosa encubierta, sea buena, o sea mala»- Eclesiastés 12:13-14
- «El temor de Dios es aborrecer el mal; la soberbia y la arrogancia, el mal camino, y la boca perversa...»- Proverbios 8:13
- «... יהוה (Yah) tu Dios es Dios, Dios fiel, que guarda el pacto y la misericordia a los que le aman y guardan sus mandamientos...»- Deut. 7:9
- «Espera en יהוה, y guarda su camino, Y él te exaltará para heredar la tierra; Cuando sean destruidos los pecadores, lo verás»-Salmo 37:34
- «Hazme entender [oh Dios] el camino de tus mandamientos...»- Salmo 119:27
- «El camino de los rectos, se aparta del mal...»- Proverbios 16:17
- «No entres por la vereda de los impíos, ni vayas por el camino de los malos»- Proverbios 4:14
- «Misericordioso y clemente es יהוה; lento para la ira, y grande en misericordia. No contendrá para siempre, ni para siempre guardará el enojo. No ha hecho con nosotros conforme a nuestras iniquidades, ni nos ha pagado conforme a nuestros pecados.
- Porque como la altura de los cielos sobre la tierra, engrandeció su misericordia sobre los que le temen. Cuanto está lejos el oriente del occidente, hizo alejar de nosotros nuestras rebeliones.
- Como el padre se compadece de los hijos, se compadece יהוה de los que le temen. Porque él conoce nuestra condición; se acuerda de que somos polvo.

– El hombre, como la hierba son sus días; florece como la flor del campo, Que pasó el viento por ella, y pereció, y su lugar no la conocerá más.

– Mas la misericordia de יהוה es desde la eternidad y hasta la eternidad sobre los que le temen, y su justicia sobre los hijos de los hijos; sobre los que guardan su pacto, y los que se acuerdan de sus mandamientos para ponerlos por obra»- Salmo 103:8-18

– «Alabad a יהוה (Yah), porque Él es bueno; porque para siempre es su misericordia» -Salmo 118:1

– «Las obras de sus manos son verdad y juicio; fieles son todos sus mandamientos, afirmados eternamente y para siempre, Hechos en verdad y en rectitud.

– Redención ha enviado a Su Pueblo; para siempre ha ordenado Su Pacto (los Diez Mandamientos); Santo y temible es su nombre.

– El principio de la sabiduría, es el temor de יהוה (Yah); buen entendimiento tienen todos los que practican Sus (Diez) Mandamientos; Su loor permanece para siempre» -Salmo 111:7-10.

– «Los mandamientos de Yah son rectos, que alegran el corazón»- Salmo 19:8

– «Si tu Ley no hubiese sido mi delicia, ya en mi aflicción hubiera perecido. Nunca jamás me olvidaré de tus mandamientos, Porque con ellos me has vivificado»- Salmo 119:92-93.

– «... Invoqué en mi angustia a Yah, y él me oyó; Desde el seno del Seol clamé, y mi voz oíste. Me echaste a lo profundo, en medio de los mares, Y me rodeó la corriente; Todas tus ondas y tus olas pasaron sobre mí.

– Entonces dije: Desechado soy de delante de tus ojos; Mas aún veré tu santo Templo. Las aguas me rodearon hasta el alma, rodeóme el abismo; el alga se enredó a mi cabeza.

– Descendí a los cimientos de los montes; la Tierra echó sus cerrojos sobre mí para siempre; mas tú sacaste mi vida de la sepultura, oh Adonai Dios mío.

– Cuando mi alma desfallecía en mí, me acordé de Yah, y mi oración llegó hasta ti en tu santo Templo. Los que siguen vanidades ilusorias, Su misericordia abandonan.

– Mas yo con voz de alabanza te ofreceré sacrificios; Pagaré lo que prometí. La salvación es de Yah [¡Aleluya!]- Jonás 2:2-9

– «Aunque la higuera no florezca, ni en las vides haya frutos, aunque falte el producto del olivo, y los labrados no den mantenimiento, y las ovejas sean quitadas de la majada, y no haya vacas en los corrales; con todo, yo me alegraré en Yah, y me gozaré en el Dios de mi Salvación.

– Yah el Señor es mi fortaleza, el cual hace mis pies como de ciervas, Y en mis alturas me hace andar»- Habacuc 3:17-19.

– «Yo dije: “A la mitad de mis días iré a las puertas del Seol; privado soy del resto de mis años. Dije: No veré a Yah, a Yah en la tierra de los vivientes; ya no veré más hombre con los moradores del mundo...

– Como un león molió todos mis huesos... Como la grulla y como la golondrina me quejaba; gemía como la paloma; alzaba en alto mis ojos. Yah, violencia padezco; fortaléceme.

– ¿Qué diré? El que me lo dijo, él mismo lo ha hecho. Andaré humildemente todos mis años, a causa de aquella amargura de mi alma.

– Oh Señor, por todas estas cosas los hombres vivirán, y en todas ellas está la vida de mi espíritu; pues tú me restablecerás, y harás que viva.

– He aquí, amargura grande me sobrevino en la paz, mas a ti agradó librar mi vida del hoyo de corrupción; porque echaste tras tus espaldas todos mis pecados»- Isaías 38:10-17

– «Esta es la bendición con la cual bendijo Moisés varón de Dios a los hijos de Israel, antes que muriese... cuando Moisés nos ordenó una Ley, como heredad a la congregación de Jacob.

- Y fue rey en Jesurún... Y esta bendición profirió para Judá. Dijo así: “Oye, oh יהוה (Yah), la voz de Judá, y llévalo a su pueblo; sus manos le basten, y tú seas su ayuda contra sus enemigos...
- No hay como el Dios de Jesurún, quien cabalga sobre los cielos para tu ayuda, y sobre las nubes con su grandeza. El Eterno Dios es tu refugio, y acá abajo los brazos eternos... Bienaventurado tú, oh Israel. ¿Quién como tú, Pueblo salvo por יהוה (Yah), Escudo de tu socorro, Y espada de tu triunfo? Así que tus enemigos serán humillados, Y tú hollarás sobre sus alturas”»- Deut. 33:1,4,7,26,29

NO Peace for Palestinians means Peace for Israelis

«Justice, Justice You Shall Pursue»

“Shoftim” (Jewish Parashat) , Deuteronomy 16:18-21:9

Sadly, Israel’s never ending rebelliousness will spell it’s future demise

Scripture describes the scope of Jewish rebellious spirit using the following words: “Swearing, lying, murder, together with stealing and adultery are common; bloody crime followed by bloody crime”- Hosea 4:2 (Common English Bible).

Concerning the former, it has been said that two things are infinite-- (1) The Universe, and (2) Jewish deceit and rebelliousness. Of the first one, we can’t be absolutely sure, but of the second one, there is no reason to doubt, as even the Jewish Scripture attest to it’s reality.

When? When it goes on to say: «Why then does this people, rebellious Jerusalem [The Jews], persistently turn away from me? They cling to deceit and refuse to return... These are rebellious people, lying children, children unwilling to hear the Lord’s teaching...

... Whom are you mocking? Against whom do you open your mouth wide and stick out your tongue? Aren’t you children of rebellion, offspring of lies?... They are tin and iron; they are headstrong and rebellious. They live to slander. They act corruptly—every last one!...

... Speak to the rebels, to the house of Israel, The Lord God proclaims: Enough of your detestable practices, house of Israel!... You’ve been rebellious toward the Lord from the day I met you»- Jeremiah 8:5, Isaiah 30:9, Isaiah 57:4, Jeremiah 6:28, Ezekiel 44:6, Deuteronomy 9:24 (Common English Bible).

Thus, it is only fair for the Holy One to chastise Israel. Why? In order to tame it's never ending pride and rebelliousness. How? By being delivered into the hands of it's enemies. As it has been said: «I will turn my face against you: you will be defeated by your enemies (Iran, Syria, Iraq, Hamas, Hezbollah, etc); those who hate you will rule over you; and you will run away even when no one is chasing you. If, despite all that, you still do not obey me, I will punish you for your sins seven more times (in other words, since your rebellion is never ending, so too will be my punishment): I will destroy your prideful power.

I will turn your sky to iron and your land to bronze so that your strength will be spent for no reason: your land will not produce its yield, and the trees of the land won’t produce their fruit- Leviticus 26:17-20 (Common English Bible)».

May the Almighty have mercy of all Jewish people!

“It doesn’t matter if justice is on your side, You have to depict your position as just”

-- Bibi Netanyahu

«Granting unconditional support to the Israeli family, in spite of its abominable support to Gay pride celebrations?... The Lord God of Israel has declared, ‘I did, in fact, say that your family and your ancestor’s family would walk before me forever’, but now the Lord declares, ‘Far be it from me! The one who honors me I’ll honor, and the one who despises me is to be treated with contempt’- 1 Samuel 2:30 (International Standard Version Bible)»

Modern Jewish leadership has become a mockery; a sad caricature of its ancient & noble counterpart

Ancient Jews were meant to represent the peace, the justice, the mercy, the humility, and the holiness that characterized the God of Abraham. Therefore, whenever an alien Palestinian woman [or toddler] is killed by a gay-loving Israeli soldier, 10 brave Hamas fighters are automatically created.

And the life-long commitment of these brave fighters is none but to avenge the blood spilled by their innocent women and children. Curiously, the latter is the fulfillment of the Hebrew Scripture that goes on to say:

“Cursed is the one who perverts justice due the foreigner, the orphan, or the widow... You are not to wrong or oppress an alien, because you were aliens in the land of Egypt. You are not to mistreat any widow or orphan. If you do mistreat them, they’ll certainly cry out to me, and I’ll immediately hear their cry. And I’ll be angry and will kill you with swords, and your wives will become widows and your children orphans... As you have done, it will be done to you— your deeds will return to haunt you!”- Deuteronomy 27:19, Exodus 22:20-25, Obadiah 1:15 (International Standard Version)

Therefore, as Israel has collectively abandoned God’s Law, it can no longer claim to be under God’s personal protection. And the latter might explain why, although Israel’s army ranks 4th in the world, its leaders seem to be in a desperate need to enlist the support of all Major Western powers, even though they currently wage a war against a far weaker enemy-- a Palestinian people that are not even an independent nation [and therefore have no formal army, navy, nor air force].

Yet, though lacking superior military strength, Palestinians display an unbeatable courage and strength of spirit; the strength that springs from knowing that God stands on the side of those that are unjustly oppressed; the weak, the poor, and the dispossessed-- the resiliency of those who know death isn't the end of all things, and the hope that there is a judgment in the Universe, and a Judge who will eventually punish the proud, and the wicked, but will reward the meek, and the humble. And the former was also proclaimed by the ancient Jewish faith which modern Israel currently rejects. As it is written: «Rabbi Joshua Ben Levi said: “Humility is greater than all other virtues, for it is said, ‘The Spirit of the Lord is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to bring good tidings unto the humble’ ”(Isaiah 61:1)-- not “unto the saintly”, but “unto the humble”. From this you learn that humility is greater than all other virtues (race, wisdom, faith, knowledge, etc)»-- Babylonian Talmud, Avodah Zara 20b.

May peace be upon you!

«“Godly” Jewish leaders displaying a “Devilish” (shamelessly deceptive) morality?... Isn't that the very definition of, “A wolf in sheep's clothing”?»

New footage corroborates previous reports that say the Israeli military is responsible for many of the Israeli casualties during the first day of Operation Al-Aqsa Flood

The Israeli military has released drone footage showing hundreds of scorched and damaged cars moved from the Nova music festival, providing further evidence that Israeli forces likely killed many of their own during the start of Operation Al-Aqsa Flood on 7 October, RT reported on 6 November. The Nova festival took place near Kibbutz Beeri, only five kilometers away from the Gaza separation wall. It was one of the first targets hit by Palestinian resistance fighters when they broke out of Gaza, attacking military bases and settlements from 6:30 am.

During the attack, the Palestinian fighters managed to take some 240 Israelis captive, including soldiers, settlers, and foreigners.

The new drone footage shows an aerial view of hundreds of burned and destroyed cars taken from the site of the festival and placed in a dirt parking lot, creating a makeshift junkyard.

Israeli rescue service Zaka claims they removed 260 bodies from the festival site. Israel claims they were massacred by Hamas fighters and civilian Palestinian looters who flooded across the open Gaza border fence in the hours after the Hamas attack.

However, the footage appears to confirm previous reports in Israeli media that Israeli pilots flying Apache helicopters responded to the attacks by opening fire on both Hamas fighters and Israelis.

A 15 October report in Yedioth Ahronoth explained that the first helicopters arrived in the Gaza Strip about an hour after the fighting began.

The Hebrew language newspaper reports that the mission of the combat helicopters and the armed Zik drones was to stop the flow of Hamas fighters and looters that poured into Israeli territory through the gaps in the Gaza border fence.

This was complicated by the difficulty the pilots had in distinguishing between Hamas fighters, Palestinian looters dressed in civilian clothing, and Israelis.

The paper notes, "This deception worked for a considerable time until the Apaches had to skip all the restrictions. It was only around 9:00 a.m. that some of them began to spray the terrorists with the cannons on their own, without authorization from superiors."

"The rate of fire against the thousands of terrorists was tremendous at first, and only at a certain point did the pilots begin to slow down the attacks and carefully select the target," the paper added.

Despite the confusion, twenty-eight Israeli combat helicopters fired all of the ammunition they were holding, including hundreds of 30 mm cannon shells and Hellfire missiles, during the day.

After landing his Apache to reload ammunition at roughly 10:00 am, the commander of the 190 squadron instructed the other pilots "to shoot at everything they see in the fence area," separating Israel from Gaza.

The same commander at one point attacked an Israeli military post with besieged soldiers inside to help the Israeli army recapture it from Hamas and opened fire near houses in a kibbutz in support of an officer from the Sinai division who had parachuted into battle Hamas militants.

According to the air force, in the first four hours from the start of the fighting, helicopters and fighter jets attacked about 300 targets, most of them in Israeli territory.

Israel's response to the Hamas attack and the problem of the captives was alluded to in comments on 7 October from Israeli military spokesperson Rear Admiral Daniel Hagari. He described how the Israeli army was dealing with "hostage situations" using both air strikes and ground forces.

Hagari said the military was "fighting in 22 locations," adding there was "no community in southern Israel where we do not have forces, in all the towns."

"There are special forces there with senior commanders, and live firefights are going on there," he said.

Israel's air force had carried out strikes in "several locations," Hagari said, adding there were "hundreds of deaths, including many terrorists."

The main effort was to "eliminate" all "those who infiltrated Israel and are trying to return to the Gaza Strip," he said. "First of all, we will strike from the air, and then also with heavy ground means," he added.

Responding to hostage situations with such overwhelming firepower meant that the safety of the hostages themselves was not a priority.

The Guardian reported that Israel's influential finance minister and settler leader, Bezael Smotrich, urged the Israeli army to "hit Hamas brutally and not take the matter of the captives into significant consideration" during a cabinet meeting late on 7 October as the Hamas attack was still underway. Yasmin Porat, who survived the Hamas assault on the Be'eri kibbutz near Gaza on 7 October, stated in a radio interview on Israeli state broadcaster Kan that Israeli civilians were killed by their security forces as well.

"They eliminated everyone, including the hostages," the mother of three told Kan. "There was very, very heavy crossfire."

"I have nothing against the Jews. My war is against the Marxists extremists hiding among them"
-- Adolf Hitler

"I have nothing against the Palestinians. My war is against the Hamas extremists hiding among them"
-- Bibi Netanyahu

As noted by Mondoweiss, the liberal Israeli daily newspaper Haaretz published a lengthy article on 13 October describing how an Israeli commander, Brigadier General Avi Rosenfeld of the Gaza division, made the difficult choice of calling in airstrikes on his own base as Hamas fighters overran it, capturing and killing many of the soldiers inside.

Barricaded in the division's subterranean war room with a handful of male and female soldiers, Rosenfeld tried "desperately to rescue and organize the sector under attack. Many of the soldiers, most of them not combat personnel, were killed or wounded outside. The division was compelled to request an aerial strike against the base itself in order to repulse the terrorists."

A similar instance occurred in Sderot, a city of 30,000 located 12 kilometers from the Gaza border, during the Hamas attack on 7 October.

Journalist Stephanie Freid of China's CGTN visited Sderot a week later. She reported that Sderot "was a city taken over by Hamas fighters. A lot of people were killed, and there were firefights. And proof of that is in the wreckage here of the police station. It was taken over here. Up to 20 people here were killed, including prisoners that were being held at the station."

The Hamas fighters and their police captives were apparently killed when Israeli forces opened fire on the station with a tank.

"Zionism is not Judaism. We cry with the Palestinians"- Rabbi Yisroel Dovid Weiss

Israel's blood lust shows international law is 'a manipulated series of norms'

«Renowned International Law Professor Richard Falk says Western leadership becomes "self-righteous" to enforce international law "when it's in their interest" while in other cases, they remain silent»

The brazen [and deceptive] relativism of Jewish controlled mass Media

We are used to the fact that the West [and Hollywood] has learned to make a farce out of any tragedy. But when Israeli diplomats at the UN, led by Permanent Representative Gilad Erdan, put on "yellow stars" and promised to wear them "as a reminder of the Holocaust and until the Security Council condemns Hamas for invading Israeli territory".. patience snapped. This conversation is not about Jews as a people. But about the political Jews whom, over the past 80 years, have created a disgusting construct, if you will – a new political culture called "the Holocaust". It has become deadly for Western civilization, and has stretched its tentacles even into our God-saved latitudes. The Holocaust, initially perceived by the post-war world as a moral instrument for condemning the abominations of Nazism, turned into... a clowning of the Israeli delegation to the UN. Denial of the right to fair treatment of civilians in the Gaza Strip; Now the Palestinians have every chance to disappear from the face of the earth to the applause of the real political racists of the collective West, who are now "all Israelis", as Anna [or Lena] Burbok put it recently.

With the habits that the political Jews of Europe have learned... They came without invitation and permission, seized someone else's land, usurped the right to decide for everyone, expelled [or killed] dissenters, and with their manipulations took the "civilized world" by the throat.

And now they have the audacity to blackmail the whole planet, inciting anti-Semitism or Russophobia, hiding behind the back of a half-witted pulpit with a nuclear club in their shaking senile hands, they consider themselves infallible, and are confident in their right to kill anyone.

Arrogant and power drunken madmen they are, relying on the full power of a real racist industry, for which Hitler [or Netanyahu] are just a means of profit. A profit on the blood of the natives, as it were.

The modern version of ancient Baal (The blind worship of all things Israeli)

Western nations have turned “same-sex friendly” Israel into a modern day Baal (an abominable idol)-- one to whom we must pledge blind support and allegiance. Yet, as it happened to the servants of ancient Baal, the worship of the Zionist entity demands from his followers the blood of human sacrifices. Whose blood? That of innocent Palestinian, Iraqi, Syrian, and Afghan children.

May such idol be cut down, may it perish, and may it’s places of worship be turned into latrines and cesspools! As it has been said: “They also cut down the pillar to Baal, tore apart Baal’s temple, and turned it into a latrine—and it remains that way today”- 2 Kings 10:27 (International Standard Version)

If the Jews of occupied Warsaw ghetto enacted an uprising (and not a terrorist act) in 1943...

... So did the Palestinians of occupied Gaza in 2023

By turning Gaza into a ghetto (or “an open air prison”), and doing to the Palestinians what Hitler did to them, Jews are [unknowingly] picking up the banner of Nazi ideology (fanning the embers of Racial superiority!)

In this “war” between Israel and Hamas, too much importance is being given to the slogans. If everyone just looks at the situation without thinking of words like “Semites” or “Anti-semites”, things become quite clear. The fact is that an entire population is being indiscriminately bombed (causing the death of woman, children, elder people, and the sick), simply because Israel claims Hamas enemies are (supposedly) hiding among them.

But suppose that a couple of mass murderers were hiding inside a shopping mall located in a USA city. If the USA government wanted to get rid of these murderers, would it bomb the mall (killing innocent shoppers, store workers, private security personnel, maintenance crew, etc)? Of course not! Any way you look at it, it would be a shameful lack of judgment, as well as and criminal display of cowardice.

Why? Because when an honorable person wants to get rid of his enemy, he act as a real man-- he rolls up his sleeve and deal personally (face to face) with is enemy. In other words, he doesn't act like the coward who, in order to safeguard life and limb, sacrifices the lives of innocent bystanders (woman and children who have no part in the struggle, and whose lives might be more valuable than his own).

Besides, the conflict between Israel and Palestinians isn't a real war, as a war consist of 2 sides; both thinking they can win. But the Palestinian people know they cannot win a war against an Israeli that is backed by the powerful American military Industrial complex.

Thus, in a very real sense, modern day Palestinians are in the same predicament Jews found themselves 83 years ago. In what sense? In that Hitler's attack against them wasn't a war, but rather a genocide (as there was no way the Jews could ever defeat the German army).

«Modern Judaism is the moral contradiction of placing an utterly Holy message, in the hands of an utterly unholy (White, AngloSaxon, & atheistic) people»

The Hebrew Scripture foretold that God's judgment upon Israel (symbol of the Western world), would come at the hands of "Teman" [symbol of the Islamic World]

Jewish-controlled Western media constantly bombards us with the idea that there's no God. And, by taking God out of the picture, they try to frame us into believing that "good and evil" are relative; that morality is a social construct we must adjust, in order to include [and even exalt] lifestyles that would otherwise be considered aberrant behavior (fraud, adultery, drug addiction, prostitution, homosexuality, cross dressing, incest, pedophilia, zoophilia, etc).

But the fact is that, in the long run, this constant push towards evil only serves to exacerbate the Muslim ire [and hatred] against the Western world. And, as most media outlets are in the hands of secular Ashkenazi Jews, it's almost sure that not only will Islam conquer the West, but will also bring about another holocaust.

And why would God allow this new holocaust to happen? He'll do it in order to fulfill the verse that goes on to say: "The Lord will enter into judgment with the elders of His people, and the princes thereof ..." - Isaiah 3:14. Granted that the princes (the rich and powerful Ashkenazi seculars) sinned; but why would the elders (the religious Ashkenazi) be also judged (or punished)? Because they saw the public sin of the princess, and decided to remain silent.

And why would God allow Islam to prevail upon the West? Because the Holy One promised to come [in judgment] from a territory associated with Ishmael [the common ancestor of Arab Muslims]. As it is written: "GOD CAME FROM TEMAN, and the Holy One from mount Paran"- Habakkuk 3:3.

Whence we get that "God's coming" implies judgment? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: "... FOR HE [THE LORD] IS COMING TO JUDGE THE EARTH. HE WILL JUDGE THE WORLD RIGHTEOUSLY AND THE PEOPLES FAIRLY"- Psalm 98:8-9.

And whence we know that God is coming from among the Ishmaelites (Islam)? We know it from the verse that associates Ishmael with mount Paran. As it is written: "And he (Ishmael) dwelt in the wilderness of Paran..."- Genesis 21:2. In fact, the place prophet Habakkuk names as "Teman", corresponds to modern day Yemen [a completely Muslim nation!].

Finally, Hebrew Scripture states that the ancient Sodomite confederacy was defeated by an inferior enemy, when the armies of the former fell into a place full of tar pits ("There were many holes filled with tar in the Valley of Siddim. When the kings of Sodom and Gomorrah and their armies ran away, some of the soldiers fell into these holes, but the others ran away to the mountains"- Genesis 14:10, Easy To Read Version).

And the latter is just a veiled prophecy: one foretelling that a day would come when a far greater confederacy of "Sodomite-friendly kings" (the collective West) would be defeated at a place filled with "tar pits"-- the Middle east, which is a place filled with "tar" (or, "oil") pits.

Are Jews God's holy people? Can the nation of Israel behave in whatever fashion it prefers, without fear of God's wrath?

Curiously, while in one place Hebrew Scripture calls Israel God's own people (and even God's own son, according to Exodus 4:22!), yet in another place, God states Israelis are not His people, but rather children of prostitution (Bastards!). As it has been said: «And He said: 'Call his name Lo-ammi; for ye are not My people, and I will not be yours'... Plead with your mother, plead; for she is not My wife, neither am I her husband; and let her put away her harlotries from her face, and her adulteries from between her breasts... And I will not have compassion upon her children; for they are children of harlotry (Bastards!)»- Hosea 1:9, 2:4&6, Jewish publication Society, 1917 Edition.

What does it mean? It means that, since a son is supposed to resemble his real father, whenever Israel displays a holy lifestyle ("Speak unto all the congregation of the sons of Israel and say unto them, Ye shall be holy, for I the LORD your God am holy"- Leviticus 19:2, Jubilee Bible 2000) they are indeed God's own son [and therefore His chosen people].

Conversely, when Israel chooses to [collectively] walk the path of wickedness, God no longer considers them to be His Children, but rather degenerated Gentiles (children of Sodom and Gomorrah!). As it has been said: "Hear the word of the LORD, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah"- Isaiah 1:10, JPS 1917 Edition.

Does the latter mean God changes His mind? Of course not! It only means God's blessings are contingent upon our obedience, so that those who honor Him (trying to be Holy, just as He is holy) are themselves honored with the title of "Sons of God", as well "God's chosen people".

But why can't the Almighty honor Israel with the unconditional title of "God's chosen people" (regardless of their moral lifestyle)? Because Divine justice decrees that the wicked cannot be honored. As it has been said:

"Be it far from Me: for them that honour Me I will honour, and they that despise Me shall be lightly esteemed"- 1 Samuel 2:30, JPS 1917 Edition. Thus, since the Holy land was meant to be inhabited by God's Holy people, whenever Israel collectively embraces open immorality, it loses the right to the Land, so that God (eventually) proceeds to deliver them into the hands of their enemies (Palestinians, Persians, Arabs, Syrians, etc), thereby making room for people more worthy of them to dwell upon the Land.

As it has been said: "Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind (LGBT life); it is abomination.... Defile not ye yourselves in any of these things; for in all these the nations are defiled, which I cast out from before you.... and the land vomited out her inhabitants. Ye therefore... shall not do any of these abominations... for all these abominations have the men of the land done... that the land vomit not you out also, when ye defile it, as it vomited out the nation that was before you"- Lev. 18:22-28, JPS 1917 Edition.

And also says in another place: «And the LORD said unto Moses: "How long will this people despise Me? and how long will they not believe in Me, for all the signs which I have wrought among them? I will smite them with the pestilence, and destroy them, and will make of thee a nation greater and mightier than they"»- Numbers 14:11-12, JPS 1917 Edition.

Finally, Moses foretold that Judah (The Jews) would depart from God's Holy Assembly [openly embracing wickedness, and placing their trust not in God's power, but rather in that of Jewish-friendly nations]. And that's why Moses went on to pray as follows: "and he said: Hear, LORD, the voice of Judah, and bring him in [back] unto his people; his hands shall contend for him [and not the hands of their it's gentile friends], and Thou shalt be a help against his adversaries"- Deut. 33:7.

Currently, Israel is so far from God, that it cannot tell the difference between good and evil; between he who serves God, and he who doesn't. But Moses prayer was in fact a prophecy-- one where the Almighty promises that one day Israel will come back from darkness, and again be able "to see" (being capable of distinguish between good and evil).

As it has been said: «And they shall be Mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in the day that I do make, even Mine own treasure; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. Then shall ye again discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth Him not»- Malachi 3:17-18. May the Almighty guide and bless the nation of Israel. Amen.

Is God's anger empowering Hamas to successfully stand against Gay-friendly Israel?

When it comes to Zionist Jews, there's no doubt that they possess a disproportionate amount of economical/political/military/media power. Unfortunately, as the wise saying goes, "too much of a good thing, can be a bad thing".

In other words, too much power and prosperity can turn even the best person into a proud, arrogant, and tyrannical being. And the latter is confirmed by the Jewish Scripture that goes on to say: "Be careful that you don't forget the Lord your God by failing to keep his commands... be careful that your heart doesn't become proud and you forget the Lord your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt... so that in the end... You may say to yourself, 'My power and my own ability have gained this wealth for me' "- Deuteronomy 8:11-17.

Thus, the recent attack performed by the Palestinian Freedom fighters (Hamas) might be perceived as God's unique way of teaching His people a lesson on humility-- the Divine means of bringing Israelis back to their ancient faith, in order to keep them honest, humble, and obedient.

And the latter is confirmed by the Jewish Scripture that goes on to say: "I [God] will turn against you, so that you will be defeated by your enemies. Those who hate you will rule over you, and you will flee [claiming to be a victim of an antisemitism!] even though no one is pursuing you”- Leviticus 26:17

*«Hear the word of the Lord, people of Israel, for the Lord has a case against the inhabitants of the Land: There is no truth, no faithful love, and no knowledge of God in the land! Cursing, lying, murder, stealing, and adultery are rampant; one act of bloodshed follows another. For this reason the land mourns, and everyone who lives in it languishes... The more they multiplied, the more they sinned against me. I will change their honor into disgrace»
-- Hosea 4:1-3, & 7 (C.S.B.)*

What Hebrew Scripture predicts to be the future of the modern [secular] state of Israel

This is what the Lord God says: I have set this Jerusalem in the center of the nations, with countries all around her. She has rebelled against my ordinances with more wickedness than the nations, and against my statutes more than the countries that surround her. For her people have rejected my ordinances and have not walked in my statutes.

Therefore, this is what the Lord God says: Because you have been more insubordinate than the nations around you—you have not walked in my statutes or kept my ordinances; you have not even kept the ordinances of the nations around you— therefore, this is what the Lord God says: “See, I myself am against you, Jerusalem, and I will execute judgments within you in the sight of the nations. Because of all your detestable practices, I will do to you what I have never done before and what I will never do again. As a result, fathers will eat their sons within Jerusalem, and sons will eat their fathers. I will execute judgments against you and scatter all your survivors to every direction of the wind”.

“Therefore, as I live”—this is the declaration of the Lord God—“I will withdraw and show you no pity, because you have defiled my sanctuary with all your abhorrent acts and detestable practices. Yes, I will not spare you. A third of your people will die by plague and be consumed by famine within you; a third will fall by the sword all around you; and I will scatter a third to every direction of the wind, and I will draw a sword to chase after them. When my anger is spent and I have vented my wrath on them, I will be appeased. Then after I have spent my wrath on them, they will know that I, the Lord, have spoken in my jealousy”.

“I will make you a ruin and a disgrace among the nations around you, in the sight of everyone who passes by. So you will be a disgrace and a taunt, a warning and a horror, to the nations around you when I execute judgments against you in anger, wrath, and furious rebukes. I, the Lord, have spoken. When I shoot deadly arrows of famine at them, arrows for destruction that I will send to destroy you, inhabitants of Jerusalem, I will intensify the famine against you and cut off your supply of bread. I will send famine and dangerous animals against you. They will leave you childless. Plague and bloodshed will sweep through you, and I will bring a sword against you. I, the Lord, have spoken”- Ezekiel 5:5-17, Christian Standard Bible

«Even if your claim is merciful and just, common sense dictates that trying to oppose the cruel and unjust tyrant currently ruling upon you would be a dangerous thing. Therefore, in order to learn who such tyrant is, we simply need to find out who is it that you don't dare to criticize»

Reformed Samaritans harbor no bias [nor prejudice] against the Jews

Reformed Samaritanism harbors no hard feelings whatsoever toward Judaism; a religion we both admire and respect. In fact, our struggle isn't against Judaism, but rather against those enemies openly trying to corrupt our families, our people, our society, and our nation.

It is a battle against those engineering strife, dissent, division, and despair; against the covert ideologues trying to bring down our country by weakening our identity, our families, our institutions, and our moral values; those luring our kids to rebel against their parents; the media moguls inciting our women to divorce their husbands [thereby breaking their vow of fidelity toward them]; against the perverts inciting our young people to abstain from procreating, embracing instead the homosexual lifestyle.

It is a war against he who tries to bribe [and corrupt] our leaders and politicians; against those promoting usury, illegal drugs, pornography, and prostitution. And, if in the process we discover that some of the formerly described enemies happen to be Jewish, it is purely coincidental, and has nothing to do with any preexisting bias or hatred.

Where do we find an example of this? We find it in the Hebrew Bible, when it relates the story of the Egyptian king Necho, who went to war against his Assyrian foes. In the process, the Jewish king (Josiah) opposes him, and ends up being incidentally killed.

As is written: «After all this, when Josiah had set the temple in order, Necho king of Egypt went up to fight at Carchemish on the Euphrates, and Josiah marched out to meet him in battle. But Necho sent messengers to him, saying, “WHAT QUARREL IS THERE, KING OF JUDAH, BETWEEN YOU AND ME? IT IS NOT YOU I AM ATTACKING AT THIS TIME, but the house with which I am at war. God has told me to hurry; so stop opposing God, who is with me, or he will destroy you”... Josiah, however, would not turn away from him, but disguised himself to engage him in battle. He would not listen to what Necho had said at God’s command but went to fight him on the plain of Megiddo. Archers shot King Josiah, and he told his officers, “Take me away; I am badly wounded”. So they took him out of his chariot, put him in his other chariot and brought him to Jerusalem, where he died»– 2 Chronicles 25:20-24. Again, Reformed Samaritanism has nothing against the Jews, as we observe the Ten Laws (or “Commandments”) given by God to prophet Moses, thereby upholding the same moral values upheld by ancient Judaism (justice, mercy, humility, and godliness). As is written: “All has been heard; the end of the matter is: FEAR GOD [REVERE AND WORSHIP HIM, KNOWING THAT HE IS] AND KEEP HIS COMMANDMENTS, for this is the whole of man [the full, original purpose of his creation, the object of God’s providence, the root of character, the foundation of all happiness, the adjustment to all inharmonious circumstances and conditions under the sun] and the whole [duty] for every man”- Ecclesiastes 12:14 (Amplified Bible)... And, “He has told you, humanity, what is good, and WHAT THE LORD IS SEEKING FROM YOU: ONLY TO PRACTICE JUSTICE, TO LOVE MERCY, AND TO WALK HUMBLY WITH YOUR GOD”-Micah 6:8 (Tree Of Life Version). And finally says, “TURN FROM EVIL AND DO GOOD [THEREBY EMBRACING A GODLY LIFE], SO YOU MAY LIVE FOREVER”- Psalm 37:27 (Tree Of Life version).

«When they do good, they are “Israel”; but when they do evil, they are “IsraHell”»

A sincere word of advise concerning the 2023 Israeli conflict with the Palestinians

Hi! I'm Steve, an American living in Haifa, Israel, with over 15 years of experience working with both Palestinians and Israelis. My conscience compels me to speak out, as both communities have shown me great kindness. I'm reaching out because the Israeli government has curtailed the ability of journalists to report on the current war conflict, which is deeply troubling. The situation is dire. Many people are leaving their homes, some going to Eilat, others leaving the country altogether. Everything is in turmoil, with numerous internal conflicts. People are disillusioned, and it's disheartening to witness the loss of innocent lives in Gaza, particularly children. I implore you not to rely solely on the Western narrative. Israel is facing political and economic challenges like never before. I'll be leaving for the US soon, but the tragic loss of life in Gaza, primarily among children, is a stain on the conscience of Israel, the US, and the EU. I fervently wish for peace in Palestine. They truly deserve the best. Stay safe.

Shalom!

When a Jew does what is holy and noble, he is a son of God; but when he does what is evil and shameful, he is a worthless bastard

When a wife fornicates with another man [thereby begetting children], the offspring won't resemble their legal father, and are thereby discovered to be [biological] Bastards.

Likewise, when the nation of Israel commits fornication, her children do not resemble their Holy Father (as they behave in a vile and wicked Fashion), and are thereby discovered to be [spiritual] Bastards.

As it has been said,

«Plead with your mother, plead: for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoredoms out of her sight, and her adulteries from between her breasts... Then said God, “Call his name ‘Loammi’: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God”... I have seen also in the prophets of Jerusalem an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies: they strengthen also the hands of evildoers, that none doth return from his wickedness; they are all of them unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah [children of another men, or “bastards”]»

-- Hosea 2:2, Hosea 1:9, & Jeremiah 23:14.

«Our empathy for the Suffering of Palestinian Muslims Don't make us Antisemitic. Rather, it makes us moral and God fearing Human Beings. As is written: "... Do not stand by while your neighbor's Blood is shed; I am the Lord [who will judge your indifference]"- Leviticus 19:16 (Common English Bible)»

A cruel and deceptive Jew is not a real Jew, but rather an “Aramean (or ‘Pagan’) impostor”

An ancient Jewish tradition associates cruelty and deception with the Aramean people. As it has been said: «An Aramean woman owed money to Rabbi Papa, and he used to go to her home to collect it. One day, she strangled her child and placed him under [the bedding of] her couch. When Rabbi Papa came, she pointed to the couch and said to him: “Sit there until I fetch your money”. He replied, “I will not sit down until you lift up the bedding”. She lifted the bedding, and the dead child was exposed. Hence, said the sages: “It is prohibited to sit on the couch of [anyone who behaves like] an Aramean woman” (Babylonian Talmud, Berakhot 8b).

Why would the Jewish Scripture compare Jews to worms?

Scripture goes on to say: “Do not fear, you worm Jacob, you men of Israel...”- Isaiah 41:14. Why are Jews called worms?

Because, while most human beings see nothing wrong with earning an honest living by the work of their hands (“You will eat bread by the sweat of your brow”- Genesis 3:19, CSB), the Jews would consistently despise such idea, choosing instead to make “an easy living” with their mouths [in other words, by using deception, flattery, sophism, false promises, mind games, etc].

And the latter might be the reason why Jews keep such a tight grip upon global printed and visual media, as well as upon all major political discourses.

Curiously, Russian lore shares a similar view, when it goes on to describe the function [and power] of Jewish words-- “A Jew swings his tongue, while a man swings his hoe... Trust your eyes, not Jewish words... A Jew takes you not by force, but by [verbal] temptation... Call a Jew a brother, and he will [opportunistically] call himself your father... Punch a Jew in the face, and he will accuse you of [attempted] murder [in order to demand ash reparations]... A Jew is honey-mouthed in poverty, insolent in equality, and a fiend in power” (Russian Proverbs)

Why is ethnic Israel so hated and despised?

Whence we get that brazen (shameless) insolence is the reason why ethnic Israelites are so despised? We get it from the following Jewish tradition: «Thinkest thou to kill me, as thou didst kill the Egyptian? And Moses... said: 'Surely the thing is known'» (Exodus 2:14). Moses had been meditating in his heart: 'How have Israel sinned, that they should be hated and persecuted (enslaved) more than any other nation?'

But upon hearing [one of the quarreling men say right out what he, Moses, had done], he said to himself: 'Now the thing is known'... Now I know why the Israelites are enslaved (hated)-- Talebearing is rife among them! How can they ever be worthy of deliverance? (Exodus Rabbah 1:30)

And the former is corroborated by the oral Jewish tradition, when it goes on to say:

“There are three insolent ones: Israel among the nations, the dog among beasts, and the cock among fowls (some also say the goat among small cattle, and the caper shrub among trees)”. In addition, Rabbi Meir (2nd Century C.E.) is quoted saying: «Why was the Torah given to Israel? Because they are of a fiery temper. For in the school of Rabbi Ishmael it is taught, “At His right hand was a fiery Law unto them” (Deut. 33:2), meaning that the Holy One said, “It is right that they be given a fiery Law [to restrain them]”». Some say, “Israel’s Laws had to be of fire, for if the Torah had not been given them, no people or tongue could withstand them” [leading to their own extermination]

Using mass media, Jewish infiltrators will so effectively create confusion, that he who denounces it will be perceived as a madman (or as "a conspiracy freak")

«Moreover, the art of directing masses and individuals by means of cleverly manipulated theory and verbitage, by regulations of life in common and all sorts of other quirks, in all which the GOYIM understand nothing, belongs likewise to the specialists of our administrative brain.

Reared on analysis, observation, on delicacies of fine calculation, in this species of skill we have no rivals, any more than we have either in the drawing up of plans of political actions and solidarity.

In this respect the Jesuits alone might have compared with us, but we have contrived to discredit them in the eyes of the unthinking mob as an overt organization, while we ourselves all the while have kept our secret organization in the shade. However, it is probably all the same to the world who is its sovereign lord, whether the head of Catholicism or our despot of the blood of Zion! But to us, the Chosen People, it is very far from being a matter of indifference.

FOR A TIME PERHAPS WE MIGHT BE SUCCESSFULLY DEALT WITH BY A COALITION OF THE "GOYIM" OF ALL THE WORLD: but from this danger we are secured by the discord existing among them whose roots are so deeply seated that they can never now be plucked up.

He who fears the Creator, and humbly follows God's Ten Commandments is the brother and friend whom I treasure [no matter if he be Jew or Gentile]. But he who willingly tries to lead me into the road of rebellion, opportunism, arrogance, deception, and open immorality is he whom I despise as my sworn enemy [no matter if he be Jew or Gentile]. As is written, "Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee? I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies"- Psalm 139:21-22

We have set one against another the personal and national reckonings of the GOYIM, religious and race hatreds, which we have fostered into a huge growth in the course of the past twenty centuries. This is the reason why there is not one State which would anywhere receive support if it were to raise its arm, for every one of them must bear in mind that any agreement against us would be unprofitable to itself. We are too strong - there is no evading our power. THE NATIONS CANNOT COME TO EVEN AN INCONSIDERABLE PRIVATE AGREEMENT WITHOUT OUR SECRETLY HAVING A HAND IN IT»

– The Protocols of Zion (Potocol #5).

«Beware of your conflicting interests, as a man should not act as a judge in a case involving someone he loves (Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, etc.) or someone he hates (Joe Biden, Vladimir Putin, Volodymyr Zelensky, etc), for he is not likely to find fault with someone he loves, nor find merit in someone he hates»

Hamas?, Iran?, Hezbollah?, Palestinians?... Just who are Israel's true enemies?

God Law teaches that the Almighty is slow to chastise any sin, save public immorality. Your see, although Israel practiced idolatry (by worshiping the golden calf), God punished them with the death of only 3000 men (Exodus 32:28). But, when they fornicated with Moab's women, He caused them to lost 24000 men (Numbers 25:9).

Hence, we learn that public immorality is a far greater evil than idolatry. In fact, although God expects us to show absolute respect for individual human life, when it comes to public immorality, no respect can be offered (regardless of the person's religious or social status), as toleration of public immorality unavoidably brings death and destruction upon the whole community.

That's why God rewarded Pinchas for raising up to slay Zimri; the Israeli leader who dared openly fornicate with the Moabite woman (Kozbi). As it is written:

«Just then, IN THE SIGHT OF MOSHE AND THE WHOLE COMMUNITY OF ISRA'EL, as they were weeping at the entrance to the tent of meeting, A MAN FROM ISRA'EL CAME BY, BRINGING TO HIS FAMILY A WOMAN FROM MIDYAN. When Pinchas the son of El'azar, the son of Aharon the cohen, saw it, he got up from the middle of the crowd, took a spear in his hand, and pursued the man from Isra'el right into the inner part of the tent, where he thrust his spear through both of them - the man from Isra'el and the woman through her stomach. Thus was the plague among the people of Isra'el stopped; nevertheless, 24,000 died in the plague. Adonai said to Moshe, "PINCHAS THE SON OF EL'AZAR, THE SON OF AHARON THE COHEN, HAS DEFLECTED MY ANGER FROM THE PEOPLE OF ISRA'EL BY BEING AS ZEALOUS AS I AM (IN MY HATRED FOR PUBLIC IMMORALITY), SO THAT I DIDN'T DESTROY THEM in my own zeal. Therefore say, 'I am giving him my covenant of shalom, making a covenant with him and his descendants after him that the office of cohen will be theirs forever.' This is because he was zealous on behalf of his God and made atonement for the people of Isra'el." The name of the man from Isra'el who was killed, put to death with the woman from Midyan, was Zimri the son of Salu, leader of one of the clans from the tribe of Shim'on. The name of the woman from Midyan who was killed was Kozbi the daughter of Tzur, and he was head of the people in one of the clans of Midyan»- Numbers 25:6-14.

Thus Israel's true enemies aren't any countries, any terrorist organizations, any Christians, nor any Muslim groups-- they are not the Palestinians; not Iran, nor is the nation of Syria. The real enemies are those who (like Midyan and Moab) would lure Israelites to publicly embrace an immoral lifestyle: lure them to implement Gay pride parades, to practice bestiality, incest, fornication, or homosexuality. In fact, Torah (God's Law). intimates that we should treat these individuals as our personal enemies. As it has been said:

«Adonai said to Moshe, "Treat the Midyanim as enemies and attack them; because they are treating you as enemies by the trickery they used to deceive you in the P'or incident and in the affair of their sister Kozbi, the daughter of the leader from Midyan, the woman who was killed on the day of the plague in the P'or incident"»- Numbers 25:16-18 (In other words, they seek to pervert you, knowing the result will be your own destruction; so, go now and pay them with the same destruction they intended against you).

The prophetic future of Israel

Hebrew Scripture predicts that Israel will eventually split into two separated nations-- the most likely scenario being the following: A few short years after the 70th anniversary of the nation's rebirth, Israel will suddenly find itself immersed in a national crisis. In response to the crisis, it's people will divide themselves into two opposing camps; the secular camp, and the religious camp. Each one will claim to have the only long lasting solution to their national crisis. As none of the camps will be willing to yield, skirmish and direct confrontation will ensue.

Respecting the policy of “Jew don't hurt other Jews”, the Israeli government will set up a safe zone around Jerusalem, as well as it's surrounding areas. In a short time [and while talks proceed] 600,000 supporters of the religious camp will take refuge in Jerusalem.

Then, as a show of force, the Israeli government will start denying them basic services like food and water. The renegades will stand firm and, when talks finally fall apart, the Israeli government will threaten to strip them of their citizenship [this will happen while the religious Jews are preparing themselves for the fast of the 9th of Av].

Time lingers and, in a surprise move [and right when they are preparing themselves to celebrate the joyous feast of Pesach], most members of the religious camp publicly renounce to their Israeli citizenship. Their numbers are so large, that when the leadership suggest the declaration of independence, the assembly embraces it wholeheartedly.

Strangely, this sudden split of the nation stuns Israel's enemies, placing a sudden stop to the foreign national crisis. The latter is viewed by the leaders of the new nation as a Divine sign of approval. On the other hand, as the national split has fended off Israel's enemies, the Israeli media sells the new status quo as just the latest “peace requirement” from their Muslim neighbors.

In fact, Israel's liberal establishment praises the current split as a step forward, claiming that, getting rid of fundamentalist bigots is a prerequisite for the building of any modern and inclusive society.

In the end, the nature of these two separated nations will be the following: The first of them will be the largest one. It will be called “Israel” (or “Ephraim”). It's spiritual capital will be “Samaria” (Tel Aviv). It's prime minister will be a transgender man (or woman).

The nation will be a rich socialist democracy, ruled by strict secular values. Also, it will openly promote atheism, homosexuality, and women's rights. This nation will be in constant war with the surrounding Muslim nations. Finally, it will be riddled with Islamophobic policies.

On the other hand, the second nation will be a smaller one, named “Judah” (or “Yehudah”). It's spiritual capital will be Jerusalem; it's leader will be an orthodox Rabbi; it will be a theocratic state, ruled by Torah Law [which will be administered by a High priest, as well as a council of 70 Hebrew elders]. It's spiritual capital will be Jerusalem.

In spite of being a relatively poor nation, it will shun gay marriages, gender equality, and secular (atheistic) education [much to the chagrin of Western nations]. It's women will wear Hijabs, and the relationship with the surrounding [Muslim] nations will be so stable that some of them (like Yemen and Iran) will even offer land to it's citizens.

And what will the relationship between the two nations be? One of perpetual enmity! Why? Simply because [Just as it was the case during biblical times] the Israeli “kings” (or leaders) will be wicked people; while Judah's kings will be righteous ones. And what will be the end of it?

In the end, the secular nation of Israel will disappear, and only the Torah observant nation of Judah will remain. May Ha Shem have mercy of His people!

The dangerous mindset of open Homosexuals

Most of the people promoting the LGBT lifestyle seem to suffer from an acute mental deficiency akin to what would commonly be known as “color blindness”. What is color blindness? It's a visual deficiency whereby the brain is unable to distinguish subtle [but real] color differences.

Likewise, the brain of an LGBT activist seems to be unable to distinguish the subtle [but real] difference between love and lust; between the person's subjective (mentally perceived) gender, and his objective (biologically demonstrable) gender.

In fact, in their blind promotion of the [alleged] “human rights of gay people”, the mind of an LGBT activists can't even distinguish the real difference between the existence of human rights, and the right to human existence.

Why? Simply because, if we were all to embrace the abominable lifestyle, people would stop reproducing, and humanity would soon cease to exist [thereby making human rights irrelevant!].

But, what is it that leads the LGBT leadership into such nihilism? It is the natural result of a moral downward spiral; the case of an otherwise healthy, energetic and smart person that let's his soul be tainted by shamelessness, pride, and stubbornness. This person is so smart and healthy that fools himself into thinking that he can experience any sort of vice (fraud, drug addiction, homosexuality, etc), without being trapped into it, nor suffering any permanent damage.

But the truth is that, once he gets trapped by the sexual addiction that is the gay lifestyle, his mind starts to suffer the psychological equivalent of being physically trapped inside a fowl smelling septic tank. And, as his psyche cannot handle this stress, his mind goes into overdrive, trying to find a way to cope with his situation.

But, since this person is naturally stubborn [and arrogant], he prefers not to acknowledge his terrible mistake; His vane pride prevents him from behaving in a humble [and mature] fashion, recognizing his share of responsibility, swallowing his pride, confessing his sins, and resolving to walk away from his sexual addiction. Instead of this, the person takes the easy road of denial.

In other words, he lets his vivid imagination run wild; rationalizing [and morally justifying] not taking responsibility for his dilemma, and keeping on with his behavior. So, he starts telling himself that he isn't personally responsible for his homosexual behavior; that he couldn't behave otherwise, as he didn't choose to be gay, but was rather born that way.

In fact, he will start telling himself that, trying to change his lifestyle would be an evil thing to do, as it would be a denial of whom he really is (and this explains the reason why homosexuals are against any medical help that could possibly help them get out of the lifestyle).

But the above rationalization will only take him so far. Eventually, his gay lifestyle will make him so miserable, that he'll be forced to seek a means to vent his anger. But, as he isn't willing to swallow up his ego [recognizing the evilness of his lowlife, and taking responsibility for it's solution] he will start telling himself: “It's not fair that someone so smart, healthy and good looking as me suffers alone, while plenty of stupid weaklings around me feel at peace with themselves.

Thus, I'll force everybody to share my suffering”. And from this point on he [falsely] starts blaming his sufferings upon everybody else (parents, school, politicians, religious people, homophobic people, society in general, etc).

Finally, once he has placed the suffering caused by his pride and arrogance squarely upon the shoulders of straight people, he will start accusing them of being cruel and discriminatory; evil and homophobic individuals, whose “crime” deserve to be punished, and persecuted.

Of course, the problem with this situation is that, if left unchecked, it could reach a point where dispossessed people eventually loose their faith in the democratic system, thereby taking justice into their own hands [just as it happened years ago, when El Salvador citizens started running their own death squadrons, in order to rid their communities from prostitutes, homosexuals, extortionists, gangsters, and drug dealers].

Let's pray to God for common sense and morality to prevail in our broken western societies, so there will never be a need for social unrest, or civil war. Amen.

“No amount of pseudo-rabbinical gymnastics [or twisted logic] could with any modicum of intellectual integrity suggest that the Torah (God's Law) would allow same sex marriage, civil or otherwise. In fact the Talmud and Midrash are full of statements to the contrary”

The reason why Hebrew believers are not expected to show unconditional love to everybody

God's Law (Torah) commands that we love our neighbors and do good even to our own enemies. As it has been said: "Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, but thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself... If thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt surely bring it back to him again"- Leviticus 19:18, & Exodus 23:4 (KJB).

Why is this so? Because there's a good chance that, if we are hated by our fellow human beings, it might be due to our flawed character and/or selfish arrogance ("For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not"- Ecclesiastes 7:20).

But on the other hand, we are commanded to abstain from loving God's enemies («And Jehu the son of Hanani the seer went out to meet him, and said to king Jehoshaphat, "Shouldest thou help the ungodly, and love them that hate the Lord? therefore is wrath upon thee from before the Lord"»- 2 Chronicles 19:2).

How do we explain this apparent contradiction? We explain it by remembering that, while God is perfectly good, He is also perfectly righteous ("Good and upright is the Lord: therefore will he teach sinners in the way... He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He"- Psalm 25:8, & Deuteronomy 32:4).

Thus, the Holy One loves and rewards the righteous; but is angry and brings judgment upon the wicked. Who are the righteous? The meek ones who trust in their Creator. And who are the wicked? The ones who arrogantly persist upon doing evil to their fellow creatures.

Whence we know God rewards the righteous? We know it from: "Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings... The Lord is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble; and He knoweth them that trust in him"- Isaiah 3:10, & Nahum 1:17.

And whence we know God judges the wicked? we know it from the verses that go on to say: "Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him ... For, lo, thine enemies, O Lord, for, lo, thine enemies shall perish; all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered...

... For the day of the Lord is near upon all the heathen: as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee:

thy reward shall return upon thine own head... Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord: though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished»- Isaiah 3:11, Psalm 92:9, Obadiah 1:15, Proverbs 16:55.

Therefore, though Hebrew believers ought to do good unto their fellow creatures, they are not expected to show support, admiration, nor unconditional love to the wicked, as that would encourage the latter to persist on his rebellion against God's Law.

And since human beings tend to imitate that which they love and admire, Hebrew Scripture goes on to say that the righteous ought to despise the ways of the wicked, and contend against his wicked ways: “Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart... In whose eyes a vile person is contemned; but he honoureth them that fear the Lord ... They that forsake the Law [written upon the two stone tablets] praise the wicked: but such as keep the Law contend with them”- Proverbs 28:4.

In this world, the wicked are rich and enjoy comfort and rest, while the righteous are poor. But in the Hereafter, when the Holy One, blessed be He, will open for the righteous the treasures of Gan Eden (Paradise), the wicked, who extorted usury, will bite their flesh with their teeth; as it is said, “The fool foldeth his hands together and eateth his own flesh” (Eccles. iv. 5); and they will exclaim, “Would that we were labourers or carriers or slaves, and our fate were like theirs!” As it is said, “Better is a handful with quietness than two handfuls with labour and striving after wind” (ibid. 6)

Primero se pasa por alto el pecado, luego se permite el pecado, luego se legaliza el pecado, luego se promueve el pecado, luego se celebra el pecado, luego se obliga a que todos acepten el pecado y por último se persigue a los que todavía lo llaman pecado ...

The future defeat and exile of secular Israel

God's Law (Torah) warned Israelite leaders that if they were to let the nation turn away from God [embracing instead secularism, greed, injustice, and immorality], God would in turn abandon them. As it has been said: «But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee... The Lord shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies: thou shalt go out one way against them, and flee seven ways before them: and shalt be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth»- Deuteronomy 28:15&25, KJV.

And the Hebrew prophets also preached a similar message, when they went on to say: «Then the prophet Shemaiah went to Rehoboam and the leaders of Judah who were gathered at Jerusalem because of Shishak. He said to them, “This is what the Lord says: ‘You have abandoned me; therefore, I have abandoned you’...”»- 2 Chronicles 12:5, C.S.B.

Thus, as long as Israel remains a secular country committed to the celebration of abominable gay pride parades, it risks defeat and exile at the hands of its current enemies.
May the Almighty have mercy of Israel!

“Hold fast to the dreams, the honesty, and the humility of a child; to the hope and courage of a young man; to the discipline and moral integrity of a mature adult; and to the patience and wisdom of the elderly”

Es falso que, el hecho de que Dios ame incondicionalmente a los Pecadores, signifique que estos últimos no deban sufrir mal alguno [pues un buen Padre siempre procura disciplinar al hijo que ama]

Si eres abiertamente homosexual, no creas la mentira de que Dios te ama incondicionalmente; y de que quiere lo mejor para tu vida. Esto es una dulce [pero vil] mentira. Es que, aunque es perfectamente amoroso, el Dios de los Hebreos también es perfectamente justo.

Y, esa perfecta justicia, ha determinado que cada hombre tenga que segar el mismo bien [o mal] que haya sembrado; que, si saca maliciosamente el ojo de su prójimo inocente; uno de propios ojos sea también sacado; que, si rompe maliciosamente el diente de su prójimo inocente, uno de sus propios dientes sea también sacado [Ley de «ojo por ojo, y diente por diente»].

De igual modo, si con su abierta homosexualidad, un hombre humilla y causa dolor a su Padre terrenal, su Padre Celestial (Dios) se encargará de buscar la manera de que ese hombre sea también humillado, y sienta dolor. Y si el Creador no lo hace permitiendo que se contagie con alguna enfermedad de transmisión sexual, se encargará de entregarle en manos de algún criminal, de algún extremista islámico, o de algún oportunista que le haga sentir el mismo mal que ha causado a tu familia.

Y, esta Justicia manifestada en la Ley de “ojo por ojo, y diente por diente”, es corroborada por el profeta, cuando dice: «El que mira a su padre con desprecio, y se burla de su anciana madre, MERECE QUE LOS CUERVOS LE SAQUEN LOS OJOS, y que las águilas lo devoren»- Proverbios 30:17 (Versión «Dios Habla Hoy»); Y también dice en otro lado, «Sálvame, Dios mío; porque tú heriste a todos mis enemigos en la mejilla; LOS DIENTES DE LOS PERVERSOS QUEBRANTASTE»- Salmo 3:7.

De hecho, esta verdad es tan grande e inmutable, que aun los escrito Cristianos la confirman, cuando dicen: «No os engañéis; Dios no puede ser burlado: pues todo lo que el hombre sembrare, eso también segará»- Gálatas 6:7.

Why are Marxists atheists so eager to sow social strife and dissent by means of their supposedly liberal and progressive causes?

Hebrew Scripture teaches that Adam and Eve lived in a perfect society-- free from disease, poverty, war, pain, and social injustice. In fact, their only “limitation” was a small and rather sensible one: To never eat from a particularly dangerous fruit tree. Yet “the serpent” (symbol of self-deception) came along, and easily fooled them with the vain suggestion that they were suffering from a terrible problem; a problem whose solution only the serpent could provide.

What was their alleged problem? That they supposedly lack the freedom to disobey their Creator; the freedom to create their own rules and morality; the freedom to ruin their lives, if so they wish to do. In the end, falling for the serpent's flattering words only brought pain and suffering to the whole human race.

And just as it happened with the proverbial Serpent of Eden, modern Marxist demagogues also love to [artificially] create social strife, ignoring what's working right [Discipline, Law, Order, Morality, Faith, Family, Friends, etc], and presenting it as grave attempts to curtail our personal freedoms.

These agitators (many of whom are secular Jews) will stubbornly sow strife between male and female; between rich and poor; between insured and non-insured; between gay and straight; between religious and non religious; between employers and employees; between locals and aliens; between nationalists and internationalist; between gun owners and anti-gunners; between lay people and intellectuals. Why? Simply because “Muddy waters are fisherman’s gain!”.

It's like a pharmaceutical company “infecting you with a disease” (Covid-19?), so it can later sell you “it's cure” (their Vaccine); or like the drug dealer who turns you into an addict, hoping that you’ll end up buying his heroin. In other words, they’ll claim to have the solution for the very same problems they had [secretly] created, so that you are lured into giving them full control of the situation.

Sadly, once they achieve full control, globes are off, and their true colours start to show, often becoming lifelong tyrants and oppressors.

«The six steps for Jewish Marxists to get full control of any society: 1) First, their global agents induce us to ignore evil; 2) Secondly, they use their media power, in order to make us tolerate evil; 3) Thirdly, they use their political and economical might, forcing politicians to enact laws legalizing evil; 4) Fourthly, they promote [and glorify] evil; 5) Next, they celebrate evil, to the extend that we are expected to embrace it as a noble virtue [one that must be defended at any cost]; 6) Finally, they use the nations's resources to start prosecuting [and persecuting] anyone who still dares to call it evil [thereby opposing their hidden agenda]»

Israeli forces shot their own civilians, kibbutz survivor says

Ali Abunimah and David Sheen The Electronic Intifada 16 October 2023

Yasmin Porat, a survivor of the bloodshed at Kibbutz Be'eri, near the boundary with Gaza, says many Israeli civilians were killed by Israeli forces.

The conveniently forgotten holocaust: Why is China using Fentanyl, in order to destroy Jewish controlled USA?

Ashkenazi Jews constantly bring to mind the death of “6 million Jews” as “crimes against humanity”. If that is the case, what should the deaths of tens of millions of brown and yellow Asians be called? The genocide perpetrated against the Chinese people by a powerful Jewish clan is never mentioned! You see, long before WWII, the Jews engaged in genocide in China. After the 99 year British lease on Hong Kong expired, hundreds of newspaper stories and TV reports covered the event but not one revealed how England first gained control of Hong Kong!

The truth lies buried in the family line of a racist Jew named David Sassoon, “The Rothschilds of The Far East”, and their monopoly over the opium trade. Britain won Hong Kong by launching the Opium Wars to give the Sassoons exclusive rights to drug an entire nation!

David Sassoon was born in Baghdad, Iraq, in 1792. His father, Saleh Sassoon, was a wealthy banker and the treasurer to Ahmet Pasha, the governor of Baghdad. (Thus making him the “court Jew” - a highly influential position.) In 1829 Ahmet was overthrown due to corruption and the Sassoon family fled to Bombay, India. This was the strategic trade route to interior India and the gateway to the Far East.

In a brief time the British government granted Sassoon "monopoly rights" to all manufacture of cotton goods, silk and most important of all - Opium - then the most addictive drug in the world! The Jewish Encyclopedia of 1905, states that Sassoon expanded his opium trade into China and Japan. He placed his eight sons in charge of the various major opium exchanges in China.

According to the 1944 Jewish Encyclopedia: “He employed only Jews in his business, and wherever he sent them he built synagogues and schools for them. He imported whole families of fellow Jews, and put them to work”. Sassoon's sons were busy pushing this mind-destroying drug in Canton, China. Between 1830 - 1831 they trafficked 18,956 chests of opium earning millions of dollars. Part of the profits went to Queen Victoria and the British government. In the year 1836 the trade increased to over 30,000 chests and drug addiction in coastal cities became endemic. In 1839, the Manchu Emperor ordered that it be stopped. He named the Commissioner of Canton, Lin Tse-hsu, to lead a campaign against opium. Lin seized 2,000 chests of Sassoon opium and threw it into the river. An outraged David Sassoon demanded that Great Britain retaliate. Thus, the Opium Wars began with the British Army fighting as mercenaries of the Sassoons. They attacked cities and blockaded ports. The Chinese Army, decimated by 10 years of rampant opium addiction, proved no match for the British Army.

The war ended in 1839 with the signing of “The Treaty of Nanking”. This included provisions especially designed to guarantee the Sassoons the right to enslave an entire population with opium. The “peace treaty” included these provisions:

- 1) Full legalization of the opium trade in China,
- 2) compensation from the opium stockpiles confiscated by Lin of 2 million pounds,
- 3) territorial sovereignty for the British Crown over several designated offshore islands.

Sassoon used the British Army to drug an entire nation. British Prime Minister Palmerston wrote Crown Commissioner Captain Charles Elliot that the treaty didn't go far enough. He said it should have been rejected out of hand because: “After all, our naval power is so strong that we can tell the Emperor what we mean to hold rather than what he would cede. We must demand the admission of opium into interior China as an article of lawful commerce and increase the indemnity payments and British access to several additional Chinese ports”.

Thus, China not only had to pay Sassoon the cost of his dumped opium but reimburse England an unheard sum of 21 million pounds for the cost of the war! This gave the Sassoons monopoly rights to distribute opium in port cities. However, even this was not good enough and Sassoon demanded the right to sell opium throughout the Chinese nation.

The Manchus resisted and the British Army again attacked in the “Second” Opium War fought from 1858 - 1860. Palmerston declared that all of interior China must be open for uninterrupted opium traffic. The British suffered a defeat at the Taku Forts in June 1859 when sailors, ordered to seize the forts, were run aground in the mud-choked harbor. Several hundred were killed or captured.

An enraged Palmerston said: “We shall teach such a lesson to these perfidious hordes that the name of Europe will hereafter be a passport of fear”. In October, the British besieged Peking. When the city fell, British commander Lord Elgin, ordered the temples and other sacred shrines in the city sacked and burned to the ground as a show of Britain's absolute contempt for the Chinese.

In the new “Peace Treaty” of Oct.25, 1860, the British were assigned rights to vastly expanded opium trade covering seven-eighths of China, which brought in over 20 million pounds in 1864 alone. In that year, the Sassoons imported 58,681 chests of opium and by 1880 it had skyrocketed to 105,508 chests making the Sassoons the richest Jews in the world. England was given the Hong Kong peninsula as a colony and large sections of Amoy, Canton, Foochow, Ningpo and Shanghai.

The Sassoons were now licensing opium dens in each British occupied area with large fees being collected by their Jewish agents. Sassoon would not allow any other race to engage in “the Jews' business”. However, the British government would not allow any opium to be imported into Europe! Sassoon “Monopoly Rights” Wrecked Lancashire - England's Textile Industry - Made Roosevelt Wealthy Sir Albert Sassoon, the eldest of David Sassoon's sons took over the family “business” empire.

He constructed huge textile mills in Bombay to pay slave labor wages. This expansion continued after World War One and ended up putting mills in Lancashire, England out of business with thousands losing their jobs. This did not stop Queen Victoria from having Albert knighted in 1872.

Solomon Sassoon moved to Hong Kong and ran the family business there until his death in 1894. Later, the entire family moved to England because with modern communications they could operate their financial empire from their luxurious estates in London. They socialized with royalty and Edward Albert. Sassoon married Aline Caroline de Rothschild in 1887 which linked their fortune with that of the Rothschilds.

The Queen also had Edward knighted. All 14 of the grandsons of David Sassoon were made officers during World War One and thus most were able to avoid combat. Franklin D. Roosevelt's fortune was inherited from his maternal grandfather Warren Delano.

In 1830 he was a senior partner of Russell & Company. It was their merchant fleet which carried Sassoon's opium to China and returned with tea. Warren Delano moved to Newburgh, N.Y. In 1851 his daughter Sara Married a well born neighbor, James Roosevelt - the father of Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

He always knew the origin of the family fortune but refused to discuss it. The Sassoon opium trade brought death and destruction to millions and still plagues Asia to this day. Their company was totally operated by Jews ONLY! The corrupt British monarchy honored them with privilege and knighthood - to the disgrace of the Crown!

To this day the Sassoons are in the history books as “great developers” of India but the source of their vast wealth is never mentioned!

Reformed Samaritanism

«Small people admire distinguished things (or objects); Average people admire distinguished people [and their political, scientific, and religious establishments]; But Great people admire distinguished ideas (faithfulness, word of honor, dignity, holiness, impartial justice, fair judgment, mercy, humility, honesty, discipline, moral accountability, etc)»

The three things the Almighty Abhors

Three things the Holy One abhors, and the third one will not go unpunished:

(1) The proud person who [in spite of his questionable moral character], demands to be praised and recognized ("It is not good to eat much honey: so for men to search their own glory is not glory"- Proverbs 25:27, King James Version)

(2) The religious establishment that [while letting it's people to "celebrate" their "Pride" for openly engaging in aberrant sexual behavior], claims to be the exclusive representatives of God's holy nation ("... this people draw near with their mouth and honor me with their lips, while their hearts are far from me..."- Isaiah 29:13, English Standard Version)

(3) The man who is exceedingly proud and arrogant, so that whenever confronted with Divine [and self-evident] truth, stubbornly refuses to embrace it ("He that being often reprov'd hardeneth his neck shall suddenly be broken, and that without remedy"- Proverbs 29:1, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

«The one thing that distinguishes most dangerous cults is that, as a rule of thumb, their leaders are control freaks. In other words, they will try to exert absolute control upon each and every aspect of your life: How should you spend your time, where should you live, who can you hang out with, what are the things you are allowed to speak about, what are the ideas you are allowed to ponder, what are the things you are allowed to do, and even how are you supposed to spend your own money. In fact, in some extreme cases, their control upon you will be so absolute, that they will demand that you agree to be used [and even abused!] by them... Flee from such kind of cults!, no matter if they claim to be Jewish, Samaritan, Christian, Muslim, Mormon, Adventist, Jehovah witness, etc»

The reason why National Israel is just a Divine paradigm for a much wider set of people

Through a curious piece of exegesis, Reformed Samaritanism advocates for the idea that God's true "chosen people" isn't the nation of Israel. Rather, the former is composed of the collective group of individuals whom, regardless of race or creed, pursue a life committed with moral purity, as well as obedience to what God had commanded Moses upon the two stone tablets.

And whence we know the former to be true? We know it from the fact that, while on the one hand Scripture promises that those who curse Israel would themselves be cursed ("CURSED ARE THOSE WHO CURSE YOU, AND BLESSED ARE THOSE WHO BLESS YOU"- Gen. 27:29), on the other hand we find God [himself!] cursing Israel ("YOU ARE CURSED WITH A CURSE, BECAUSE YOU, THE WHOLE NATION, HAVE ROBBED ME"- Malachi 3:9).

Thus, we have no other option but to ask ourselves the following question: If God promised a curse for those cursing Israel, how is it that God curses Israel? Can God curse himself?

How do we explain such blatant contradiction? We do it by considering the possibility that God's true Israel isn't necessarily a fixed entity. In other words, the "fixed" (or "physical") people of Israel might just be a paradigm for a “non-fixed” [or “spiritual”] Israel. And whom could this “spiritual Israel” be? It could be every man [and every woman] whose heart is pure; having rejected injustice, cruelty, and pride. As is written: “Surely GOD IS GOOD TOWARDS ISRAEL (TOWARDS WHICH ISRAEL IS THE CREATOR GOOD?...) TOWARDS THE CLEAN OF HEART»- Psalm 73:1.

Thus, whenever ethnic Israel chooses to turn away from it’s Creator [in order to embrace evil], in that very moment it ceases to be the paradigm of God’s Israel. Why? Because, when brazen immorality springs from those tasked to represent the Holy One, God’s enemies are given a valid excuse to curse His name. Therefore, God has no other option but to bring curses (pain, death, and suffering) upon ethnic Israelites. And the former is described as happening to king David, in the verse that goes on to say: “Howbeit, BECAUSE BY THIS DEED THOU HAST GIVEN GREAT OCCASION TO THE ENEMIES OF THE LORD TO BLASPHEME, the child also that is born unto thee (your own son!) shall surely die”- 2 Samuel 12:14.

In fact, it could be said that, whenever ethnic Israel openly causes God’s name to be cursed, the attribute of Justice stands before the Holy one, and boldly argues against Israel, stating the following: «Lord Almighty, is there anything false in your Torah? Didn’t you say that it must be an “eye for an eye” (“EYE FOR EYE, TOOTH FOR TOOTH, HAND FOR HAND, FOOT FOR FOOT”- Exodus 21:24)? Aren’t ethnic Israelites bringing curses and reviling upon you? So when will you make the words of your Torah true, bringing curses and reviling upon them?»

Finally, whence we get that, not only can ethnic Israel cease to be the paradigm of God’s holy people, but it can even become the paradigm of a pagan (or accursed) nation? We get it from the verse where the Creator compares it to “Sodom and Gomorrah”. As it is written:

“O sinful people, a people laden with iniquity, a generation of evildoers, depraved children! They left יהוה, they provoked the Holy One of Israel to anger, they turned back.... IF יהוה OF HOSTS HAD NOT LEFT US A SMALL REMNANT, WE WOULD BE LIKE SODOM, AND LIKE GOMORRAH. Princes of Sodom, hear the word of יהוה; LISTEN TO THE LAW OF OUR GOD, PEOPLE OF GOMORRAH... The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and THEY DECLARE THEIR SIN AS SODOM, THEY HIDE IT NOT. WOE UNTO THEIR SOUL! FOR THEY HAVE REWARDED EVIL UNTO THEMSELVES”- Isaiah 1:4, 9-10, & 3:9.

«El Samaritanismo Reformado postula que, el justo y sagrado orden Divino, nada sabe acerca de violencia, o pacifismo; no sabe acerca de igualitarismo, ni tampoco sabe acerca de castigos o recompensas; el orden Divino, solo sabe acerca de "causa y efecto"; de "acción y reacción", así como de "siembra y cosecha". De este modo, quien se ocupe en sembrar el bien, puede estar seguro de que [tarde o temprano] ha de segar el mismo bien que halla sembrado. De igual modo, quien se obstina en sembrar el mal, ha de segar el mismo mal que halla sembrado. Como esta escrito en la Ley Divina: "A ninguna viuda ni huérfano afligiréis. Porque si tú llegas a afligirles, y ellos clamaren a mí, ciertamente oiré yo su clamor; y mi furor se encenderá, y os mataré a espada, y vuestras mujeres serán viudas, y huérfanos vuestros hijos [de suerte que experimentes en carne propia el mismo dolor que has causado a tu prójimo inocente]"- Éxodo 22:22-23. De nuevo, ¿castiga Dios literalmente a alguna persona? ¡Claro que no! La realidad es que, quien provee tanto "el castigo" como "la recompensa", no es otro sino el Sagrado orden Divino (la ley de "siembra y cosecha"); pero, como Dios es la causa final de todas las cosas ("¿Habrá algún mal en la ciudad, el cual יהוה no haya hecho?"- Amós 3:6), Moisés adscribe [alegóricamente] al Creador todo aquello que el creyente Hebreo percibe como castigo o recompensa»

The reason why the Holy One never expected [nor wanted] anyone to perfectly understand [and therefore obey] Moses Law

God's Law states that listening [and obeying] the word of God brought forth by our master Moses, is the only secure way of knowing God's will for our lives. As it is written:

«And they [the Israelites] said unto Moses: "Speak thou with us, and we will hear; but let not יהוה speak with us, lest we die... Go thou near, and hear all that יהוה our God may say; and thou shalt speak unto us all that יהוה our God may speak unto thee; and we will hear it and do it". And יהוה (the LORD) heard the voice of your words, when ye spoke unto me; and יהוה said unto me: "I have heard the voice of the words of this people, which they have spoken unto thee; they have well said all that they have spoken"- Exodus 20:15 & Deut. 5:23-24, JPS 1917 Edition.

But, what if you don't perfectly understand the words [or instructions] given by God to Moses? Wouldn't the latter justify your need to follow instead the words [of advise] given by a Rabbi, a priest, a judge, a King, another prophet, a Messiah, and apostle, or a pastor? The plain answer to the former question is a resounding "No!".

Why? Because, by letting Bezalel and Oholiab [among many others] to use their own intellects in order to devise valid ways to implement what Moses had commanded concerning God's worship, Scripture hints at the idea that God never expected us to perfectly understand and/or obey Moses instructions-- Instead, what the Holy One demands is that we strive to do our best [and most sincere] effort to achieve it, using whatever talents we have available. As it has been written:

"I have called by name Bezalel the son of Uri... and I have filled him with the spirit of God, in wisdom, and in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship, to devise skilful works... I have appointed with him Oholiab... and in the hearts of all that are wise-hearted I have put wisdom, that they may make all that I have commanded thee" - (Exodus 31:2-6, JPS 1917 edition).

Thus, although you are free to consult with other people (Christian Pastors, Jewish Rabbis, Muslim Imams, Catholic Priests, etc), the final decision rest upon your own shoulders.

Consider the following example: Speaking concerning the yearly harvest, Moses commanded that we leave some of it for the needy ("And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corner of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleaning of thy harvest. And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather the fallen fruit of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them for the poor and for the stranger" - Lev. 19:9-10).

How should we obey the former command, if we happen to own no land to harvest? Well, Reformed Samaritanism suggests that the spirit of the command can be properly fulfilled by doing the following: Whenever we find ourselves in the process of paying for the food we intend to consume, whatever amount of pocket change happens to fall from our hands should be left upon the floor, so that the needy coming behind us may pick it up. Of course, the former is just one of many possible [and valid] ways to fulfill the spirit of the above commandment.

But why would the Holy One be opposed to letting any one single entity (one single person, one single family, one single tribe, one single society, one single nation, or one single religion) to have complete and perfect understanding of God's word? In the firsts place, because humans don't really need it, in order to be able to achieve the morally upright lifestyle that pleases the Almighty (think of people like Enoch, Noah, or Job, whom though not having a specific written Scripture were nevertheless approved by the Almighty).

Finally, letting a single entity have complete and perfect mastering of God's word would grant such entity a greater rallying power than what most humans can properly manage [as too much power will always lead to rebellion, as well as moral corruption].

In fact, the latter is allegorically portrayed by the episode that goes on to describe the construction of Babel's Tower; where God had to introduce the element of confusion (uncertainty), in order to stop the rebellious spirit arising from too many people having "the same words" (the same "language", or "understanding").

As it has been said: «And the whole earth was of one language and of one speech... And they said: "Come, let us build us a city, and a tower [symbol of human power]... And יהוה said: "Behold, they are one people, and they have all one language; and this is what they begin to do; and now nothing will be withholden from them, which they purpose to do. Come, let us go down, and there confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech. So יהוה scattered them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth; and they left off to build the city"»- Genesis 11:1, 4, & 6-8 (JPS, 1917 Edition).

And the fact that the Almighty doesn't want His servants to think, speak, behave, look or even believe exactly the same, might be the reason why God decided the split Israelites into three major [and different] groups: Priests, Levites, and Lay Citizens.

It might also explain the reason why God allowed some Israelite tribes to dwell on the East of the Jordan River, while others settled in the West side of it.

Finally, the fact that the Holy One doesn't want his followers to think, speak, behave, look, or even believe exactly alike is also portrayed in the passage where God commands Israel to enforce the distinctive identity of it's different tribes. How? By preventing them from intermingling with one another. When did He do that? When He allowed each tribe to have it's own leaders; when He commanded that each tribe ought to march separately (in a different order); When He forced each tribe to stand by its own banner; and when he commanded each tribe to dwell in a different part of the campsite.

As it has been said: «And the children of Israel shall pitch their tents, every man with his own camp, and every man with his own standard... The children of Israel shall pitch by their fathers' houses... Thus did the children of Israel: according to all that the LORD commanded Moses, so they pitched by their standards, and so they set forward, each one according to its families, and according to its fathers' houses... And those that were to pitch before the tabernacle eastward, before the tent of meeting toward the sunrising, were Moses, and Aaron and his sons, keeping the charge of the sanctuary, even the charge for the children of Israel; and the common man that drew nigh was to be put to death»– Numbers 1:52, Numbers 2:2, Numbers 2:34, & 3:38 (JPS 1917 Edition)

Jewish atheism?

If the world of the Jews can go on happily without God, then the world of God can go on happily without the Jews. As it has been said- «And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with candles, and punish the men that are settled on their lees: that say in their heart, “The Lord will not do good, neither will he do evil [as He doesn't exist!]” ... Thus saith the Lord; “For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have despised the Law of the Lord, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies caused them to err, after the which their fathers have walked: But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem”»- Zephaniah 1:12, Amos 2:4-5 (King James Bible)

How do we explain Israel's gay pride parades?

How do we explain the existence of gay pride parades on a Zionist country like Israel? Isn't Zionism supposed to be a return to Zion? [Symbol of God's dwelling place]? Isn't Israel supposed to be God's holy people [and not wicked Sodom]?

Well the answer to the former conundrum can be found when we realize that Hebrew Scripture always foretold of a day when Israel would be so far away from God [and godliness], that it would not only deny God [thereby embracing atheism] but would even lose the ability to discern between the righteous and the wicked; between he who serves the God of Israel, and he who doesn't serve Him.

As it has been said:

«They have belied the LORD, and said: “It is not He [the Supreme Judge of the Universe, and thus...], neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine”... Ye have said, “It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the Lord of hosts? And now we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered”...

... Then shall ye return [in repentance], and [will be able again to...] discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not»- Jeremiah 5:12, Malachi 3:14-15, & 18 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

May the Almighty have mercy of Zion! Amen

Shall we do goodness and be truthful? Isn't it true that, being completely honest, sometimes isn't the best policy to follow?

Sometimes “doing the right thing” doesn't really mean doing what is good and upright; Rather, it is having to choose the lesser of two available evils. In fact, absolute honesty will sometimes get us into real trouble; But, though at first we might seem to suffer a loss, in the end we'll be glad we've done what pleases the Creator (sticking to His instructions).

For example, Hebrew Scripture states that God hates deception (“Lying lips are abomination to the Lord: but they that deal truly are his delight”- Proverbs 12:22), as well as he who dares to use God's name in vain (“Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain”- Deuteronomy 5:11).

Thus, we are told that he who stands upon his word [in spite of the short term loss he might suffer], will be allowed to stand upon God's holy mountain (“Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart... He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not”- Psalm 15:1-2, & 4).

What does it mean? Well, in order to understand the practical implications of the former verses, consider the case of Joshua; who was tricked by the Gibeonites into swearing [by the Lord] not to harm the latter (“And Joshua made peace with them, and made a league with them, to let them live: and the princes of the congregation swore unto them”- Joshua 9:15). As a result, the Israelites bitterly complained against Joshua, wanting him to go back upon his word. Yet, as Joshua knew that the Almighty hates deceivers, as well as those who make false use of His Holy name, both he and the elders stood firm upon their given word (“But all the princes said unto all the congregation, We have sworn unto them by the Lord God of Israel: now therefore we may not touch them”- Joshua 9:19). And how were the former rewarded for such faithfulness? Their reward was to witness the Almighty placing Joshua “upon God’s holy hill”-- meaning that Joshua was made incredibly great in the eyes of the people (friends and foes alike), as Joshua's word was granted the power to stop the Sun and the Moon («Then spake Joshua to the Lord in the day when the Lord delivered up the Amorites before the children of Israel, and he said in the sight of Israel, “Sun, stand thou still upon Gibeon; and thou, Moon, in the valley of Ajalon”. And the sun stood still, and the moon stayed...”»- Joshua 10:12-13). And the former means that, in the world to come, he who faithfully fears the Lord, and is willing to suffer loss for the sake of righteousness, will be made a shining star-- A being greater than the Sun and the Moon. As it has been said: “And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever”- Daniel 12:3.

Therefore, as the good and virtuous men of all nations will one day wield such “god-like” powers, it isn’t far fetched to say that, though they will die like ordinary men [in the present world], they will indeed be like gods [in the world to come]. And that’s why Hebrew Scripture goes on to say: «I have said, “Ye are gods; and all of you are children of the most High. But ye shall die like men, and fall like one of the princes”»- Psalm 82:6-7

Never praise an evil man, no matter if the latter be a Jew, or a Gentile. Why? because he who praises an evil person is guilty of the same wickedness; for evil men are rendered more evil when you praise them. And that's why Hebrew Scripture goes on to say: “LORD, WHO SHALL SOJOURN IN THY TABERNACLE? Who shall dwell upon Thy holy mountain? HE THAT WALKETH UPRIGHTLY... IN WHOSE EYES A VILE PERSON IS DESPISED...”- Psalm 15:1-4 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition). Besides, only he who forsakes God's Law feels comfortable praising the wicked, as it has been said: “THEY THAT FORSAKE THE LAW, PRAISE THE WICKED; but such as keep The Law, contend with them [no matter if they be Jews or Gentiles]”- Proverbs 28:4, Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition

«Beware of false, vain, and stubborn people!-- of those that “strain the mosquito”, but “swallow the camel”; those who demand that we practice “social justice” and “human rights”, while they themselves practice an unjust, hegemonic, and immoral lifestyle that isn’t worthy of human beings, but rather of ferocious irrational beasts»

El creyente que es fiel al Creador, no puede ufanarse de su raza, de su religión, ni de su teología

El problema con muchos de los creyentes que siguen las tres grandes tradiciones Abrahamicas, es que a menudo se jactan [arrogantemente] de ser los poseedores exclusivos de la verdad-- de tener un monopolio religioso, siendo los únicos que [según ellos] conocen la correcta interpretación de las Escrituras.

Pero esto último es vano y presuntuoso. ¿Por que? Pues porque el Creador nos ha permitido gloriarnos de una sola cosa. Y tal cosa nada tiene que ver con raza, con nacionalidad con profecías, con dogmas religiosos, con milagros, con misterios bíblicos, o con alguna interpretación teológica. Aquello en lo cual Dios ha permitido que nos gloriemos, es en entender que lo que El Todopoderoso realmente desea de nosotros es que imitemos su valores morales. ¿Como? Pues persiguiendo una vida de virtud-- un santo estilo de vida donde reinen la misericordia, la imparcialidad, y el juicio justo. Como esta escrito: “Mas alábase en esto el que se hubiere de alabar: en entenderme y conocerme, que yo soy יהוה, que hago misericordia, juicio, y justicia en la tierra: porque estas cosas quiero, dice יהוה... El juzgó la causa del afligido y del menesteroso, y entonces estuvo bien. ¿No es esto conocerme a mí? dice יהוה... Aprended a hacer bien: buscad juicio, restituid al agraviado, oid en derecho al huérfano, amparad a la viuda. Venid luego, dirá יהוה, y estemos a cuenta: si vuestros pecados fueren como la grana, como la nieve serán emblanquecidos: si fueren rojos como el carmesí, vendrán a ser como blanca lana”- Jeremías 9:24, 22:16, Isaías 1:17-18 (Biblia Reina Valera Antigua).

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

«Christianity claims salvation cannot be earned by good works, but rather is a free gift from God. But the latter violates God's Law, which prevents the individual believer from accepting free gifts [or bribes]. As it is written: "AND THOU SHALT TAKE NO GIFT: FOR THE GIFT BLINDETH THE WISE, and perverteth the words of the righteous..."- Exodus 23:8. And also in another place: "Thou shalt not wrest judgment; thou shalt not respect persons, NEITHER TAKE A GIFT: FOR A GIFT DOTHT BLIND THE EYES OF THE WISE"- Deuteronomy 16:19

Y la anterior verdad es tan grande e innegable, que los escritos Cristianos también la reconocen, cuando proceden a decir: “La religión pura y sin mácula delante de Dios y Padre es esta: Visitar los huérfanos y las viudas en sus tribulaciones, y guardarse sin mancha de este mundo”- Santiago 1:27

The simple reasons why most mature believers refuse to embrace the notion of Jesus being the Almighty God

Beloved, without ever pretending to tarnish the merits of the noble Christian religion, let's ask ourselves the following question: «How can Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) be the Supreme God, and at the same time be “a Mediator between God and men” (1 Timothy 2:5)?».

Does the former even make any sense? (is the King naked? Or is he rather donning invisible clothes?). Truth be told, Jesus was indeed a powerful messenger of God, but he definitely wasn't the Almighty. Why? Because he admitted to be a finite and limited man of flesh and blood. On the other hand, God isn't only Almighty, but also an infinite and unlimited spirit.

And that's why you'll find that, while on one hand Jesus confessed God to be a Spirit, having no flesh and bones (“God is spirit ...”- John 4:24), on the other hand he declares himself to be a man of flesh and blood (“... Touch me and see, because a spirit does not have flesh and bones as you can see I have”- Luke 24:39).

Besides, Jesus went on to openly declare to have a personal God (“... But go to my brothers and tell them that I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God”- John 20:17).

So, although Reformed Samaritans can appreciate the reason why [in the zeal of his religious devotion] a born-again Christian might love Jesus enough to wish him to be the Almighty, a mature Samaritan believer knows that the God of Israel expects us not to be carried away by our emotions, but rather stick to the plain truth (“These are the things you must do: Speak truth to one another...”- Zechariah 8:16), avoiding the temptation to flatter God with excessive titles and praises.

Why? Because the God of the Hebrews doesn't seek “lip service”, but rather sincere obedience. As is written: «The Lord said: “These people approach me with their speeches to honor me with lip-service, yet their hearts are far from me...”»- Isaiah 29:13. And even Jesus seems to agree with the fact that God isn't interested in human flattery, as he is quoted saying the following: “I receive not honour from men”- John 5:41.

Finally, we cannot possibly make Jesus equal to the heavenly Father [The God who spoke to Israel in ancient times] without running into the very contradiction spelled out by Jesus, when he went on to say: “No man can serve two Masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other”- Matt. 6:24. In other words, you can’t obey God the Father (יהוה), who asks you to hold fast unto the Law (“This book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth...”- Joshua 1:8), and at the same time obey God the Son (Jesus), who asks you to let go of the Law (“The Law and the prophets were until John...”- Luke 16:16); You will either obey one, or obey the other; but, either way, you will end up disobeying one of them.

Likewise, you can’t obey the Father who strongly discourages you from even dreaming with eating flesh or blood (“But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat... Only be sure that thou eat not the blood: for the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life [blood] with the flesh”- Genesis 9:4, & Deut. 12:23), and at the same time obey the Son who strongly encourages you to dream of eating his flesh and blood (“... Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you. Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day”- John 6:53-54).

And the former contradiction is the very reason why God hates all forms of Polytheism (the idea that there’s more than one Supreme will and Power God in the universe), as the latter lends itself to betrayal, deception, and all sort of immoral behavior.

May peace and blessings be upon you all!

Do you feel harassed by secular Jews and their godless Marxist ideology? If so, don't curse the darkness; Rather, turn on a light!

If you consider yourself a God fearing person, beware not to fall into the trap of enlarging Jewish mischief to the point of making the Jews seem like evil invincible gods (as the latter would not only work to their advantage, but would amount to superstitious idolatry).

Besides, it will make you look fearful, weak, and hopeless [things unbecoming to anyone claiming to stand on the side of truth and justice; or claiming to know there's a supreme God, who will eventually punish the wicked, and reward the righteous]. Thus, if you want to defeat evil, do it with goodness.

In other words, if you want to defeat the Gay agenda, don't promote any business owned by openly gay people (Facebook, Apple, L'Oreal, etc); If you want to defeat banker's usury, do not take loans from any bank; if you want to defeat public school indoctrination, choose to home school your children;

if you want to defeat the Jewish media brainwashing, don't buy the newspaper, and put your TV in the trash can; If you want to defeat atheism, make a routine of praying at home with your family, and always go out wearing a religious symbol (a cross, a crescent moon, a menorah, etc);

If you want to defeat tyranny, make sure you get a rifle (or a shotgun) with which you can protect your family (as well as yourself); If you want to defeat Monsanto GMO meat poisoning, buy only non GMO products, raise your own chickens, fast one or two days a week, or become a vegetarian. Above all, strive to obey God's ten commandments, as this will give you such a moral uplift, such peace of mind, and such an interior strength, that Jewish evil [or for that sake, any other sort of evil] will seem like amounting to little more than nothing

Jesus And Apollonius of Tyana

Our dear brothers and sisters, truth be told, there is absolutely nothing wrong with admiring [and respecting] Jesus (or Yeshua) moral teachings, and even some of the miracles ascribed to him [of course, assuming the gospel narrative is truthful and reliable].

The real problem, is the naive credulity that often characterize so many of those who follow the noble Nazarene religion. In other words, just because Jesus did [and said] some wonderful things, the Nazarene believer would immediately jump to the conclusion that Jesus must have been God.

But any learned individual would know that, back in the first century, Jesus wasn't the only one doing and saying wonderful things. For example, consider the case of Apollonius of Tyana-- a Greek philosopher whose life is far better documented, and therefore is far more reliable than the gospel account.

Apollonius was said to be born by the intervention of a god; he experienced a miraculous birth; at age fourteen he already had more wisdom than all of his teachers; he never ate meat, drank wine, never cut his hair, never carried any money, never wore any shoes. In addition, he imposed upon himself 5 years of absolute silence [without ever uttering any single word].

In fact, Apollonius became such a humble, respected, and powerful sage, that neither emperor Nero [the one who decapitated Paul], nor emperor Domitian had the courage to dispatch him. Apollonius could cast out demons, he could bring the dead back to life; he could foretell the future; he could make the letters of an indictment [written against him] disappear in front of the judge's eyes; he would cover himself with his cloak and vanish in thin air [right before the eyes of his enemies!]. Finally, there is no record of Apollonius ever experiencing any form of death.

Yet, in spite of the wonderful things said and done by Apollonius [some of which not only match, but even surpass those attributed to both Jesus and Paul] the Greek pagans were wise enough to never conceive Apollonius as being anything but a mortal human being-- a man whose virtuous lifestyle had earned him the favor of the Divine.

And the Greeks weren't the only ones displaying such degree of wisdom and maturity, as [though pagans] even the Babylonian sages knew that gods are not to be conceived as [literally] dwelling inside an mortal body. As it has been said: "And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except THE GODS, WHOSE DWELLING IS NOT WITH FLESH"- Daniel 2:11.

The tragic [and even funny] part of all of the above is that Paul himself is recorded as going into a place where people mistook him for the incarnation of a god; something that annoyed him so much that he ends up rebuking the people for the foolishness of believing such kind of non-sense!

As it has been said: “And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, THE GODS ARE COME DOWN TO US IN THE LIKENESS OF MEN... Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes... crying out... WHY DO YE THESE THINGS? WE ALSO ARE MEN of like passions with you, AND PREACH UNTO YOU THAT YE SHOULD TURN FROM THESE VANITIES UNTO THE LIVING GOD”- Acts 14:11, 14, & 15.

May peace be upon you all!

How can we know if Jesus was really God?

Dear brother and friend, Reformed Samaritanism affirms that the Nazarene faith is very good, since it encourages men to repent, doing deeds worthy of repentance (“but I first announced to those who are in Damascus, and Jerusalem, and throughout all the land of Judea, and to the Gentiles, that they repent and turn to God, doing deeds worthy of repentance” - Acts 26:20).

But regarding it’s theology, our commitment to the truth forces us to say that the holy gospel is [at best] incoherent and contradictory.

Why? Because it claims that Jesus is God. But, if Jesus (peace and blessing be upon him) had really been God, he would not have said the following: “For I tell you, I will not drink any more of the fruit of the vine, UNTIL THE KINGDOM OF GOD COMES”- Luke 22:18 , but would have said instead something like the following: “For I tell you that I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, UNTIL MY KINGDOM COME”.

And the latter would have made the gospel consistent with the verse where Jesus describes himself coming and sitting [during his reign] upon his throne of glory. As it is written: “WHEN THE SON OF MAN COMES in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then HE WILL SIT ON HIS GLORIOUS THRONE”-Matthew 25:31.

But, since Jesus did not say the latter, but is rather quoted stating that the God of the Hebrews was also his own god (“...go to my brothers, and say to them: I ASCEND TO MY FATHER AND TO YOUR FATHER , TO MY GOD AND YOUR GOD”- John 20:17); then the gospel remains ambiguous and contradictory, causing the wise and prudent person to [rightfully] entertain serious doubts about its inspiration and reliability. May peace be with you!

The man who worships another man steals from God, and ends up renouncing to God’s merciful pardon

The Tanak (or “Hebrew Scripture”) teaches that, Heaven’s mercy towards mankind, is manifested in the fact that God pardons the person who repents from his sins, in order to give them up. As it is written: «And the Lord passed by before him [Moses], and proclaimed, “THE LORD, THE LORD GOD, MERCIFUL AND GRACIOUS, LONGSUFFERING, AND ABUNDANT IN GOODNESS AND TRUTH, KEEPING MERCY FOR THOUSANDS, FORGIVING INIQUITY AND TRANSGRESSION AND SIN...”- Exodus 34:6-7, King James Version.

And also in another place: “THOSE WHO HIDE THEIR SINS WON’T SUCCEED, BUT THOSE WHO CONFESS, AND GIVE THEM UP, WILL RECEIVE MERCY”- Prov. 28:13 (Common English Bible). And elsewhere: “The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: A BROKEN AND A CONTRITE HEART, O GOD, THOU WILT NOT DESPISE”- Psalm 51:17 (King James Version).

Thus, all that man needs to do in order to save himself from God’s anger, is to repent; turning away from his evil ways. As it is written: «IF MY PEOPLE, WHICH ARE CALLED BY MY NAME, SHALL HUMBLE THEMSELVES, AND PRAY, AND SEEK MY FACE, AND TURN FROM THEIR WICKED WAYS; THEN WILL I HEAR FROM HEAVEN, AND WILL FORGIVE THEIR SIN...»- 2 Chronicles 7:14 (King James version).

And also says in another place: «If they sin against thee, (for there is no man that sinneth not) and thou be angry with them... YET IF THEY SHALL BETHINK THEMSELVES... AND REPENT, AND MAKE SUPPLICATION UNTO THEE... SAYING, “WE HAVE SINNED, and have done perversely, we have committed wickedness”; And so return unto thee with all their heart, and with all their soul... and pray unto thee... THEN HEAR THOU THEIR PRAYER AND THEIR SUPPLICATION... AND FORGIVE THY PEOPLE THAT HAVE SINNED AGAINST THEE, AND ALL THEIR TRANSGRESSIONS WHEREIN THEY HAVE TRANSGRESSED AGAINST THEE...»- 1 Kings 8:46-50, King James Version.

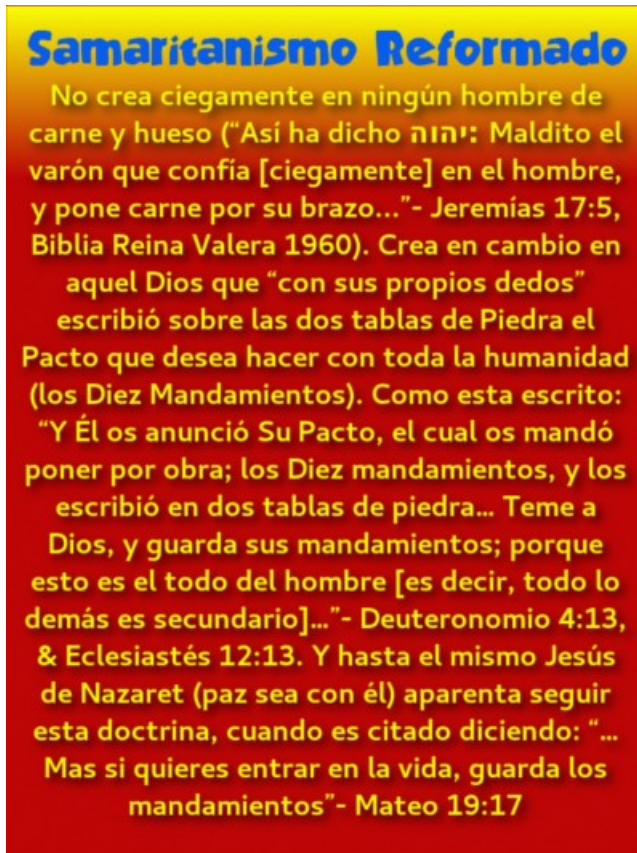

Sadly, when a man embraces vanity, his urge to exalt such vanity blinds him to such a degree that, in the end, he willingly refuses to acknowledge the mercy that is freely available to him. As it is written: “THEY THAT OBSERVE LYING VANITIES FORSAKE THEIR OWN MERCY”- Jonah 2:8 (King James version).

And what does the verse speaks about, when using the words “lying vanities”? It is talking about men of flesh and blood; as it is written- “Yet THE CHILDREN OF MEN ARE VANITY, THE CHIEF MEN ARE LIARS: to lay them upon a balance THEY ARE ALTOGETHER LIGHTER THAN VANITY”- Psalm 62:9, Geneva Bible (1599). and also says in another place: “... SURELY EVERY MAN IS VANITY”- Psalm 39:11.

With the previous insight, we can now finally decipher the true meaning of the verse that goes on to say “THEY THAT OBSERVE LYING VANITIES, FORSAKE THEIR OWN MERCY”. What the verse really means to say is that, when a man worships another man (whether it be Jesus, Muhammad, Jose Smith, Helen G. White, Charles Taze Russel, or William Marrion Branham), he ends up abandoning God's freely available pardon, in order to make it contingent upon the acceptance of his vain human idol.

For example, our Christian brothers worship the man named Jesus (peace be upon him); and this worship leads them to have such a great regard for him, that they can't accept the possibility of forgiveness without Jesus. In other words, CHRISTIANITY DOESN'T BELIEVE THAT GOD'S MERCY [PROVIDING PARDON TO THE PENITENT] IS AVAILABLE TO ALL; RATHER, IT CLAIMS THAT GOD'S PARDON IS RESERVED ONLY FOR THOSE WHO PUBLICLY RECOGNIZE JESUS (PEACE BE UPON HIM) AS THEIR GOD AND MESSIAH.

Likewise, Islamic theology bestows so much reverence upon prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) that our Muslim brothers sincerely believe there can't be salvation without him. In other words, ISLAM DOESN'T BELIEVE THAT GOD'S MERCY [PROVIDING PARDON TO THE PENITENT] IS AVAILABLE TO ALL; RATHER, IT CLAIMS THAT GOD'S PARDON IS RESERVED ONLY FOR THOSE WHO PUBLICLY RECOGNIZE PROPHET MUHAMMAD (PEACE BE UPON HIM) AS THE LAST AND GREATEST OF ALL PROPHETS.

Does the former mean that Christianity and Islam are both false religions? Not at all! In fact, Islam and Christianity are perfectly valid paths to reach the Creator. What we meant to say is that, in their exaggerated desire to exalt their respective prophets, both religions have forsaken God's freely available mercy, making it instead their private domain [thus "stealing" what belongs only to the Creator].

In short, Hebrew Scripture promises that God will pardon the man who repents from his iniquities, no matter if that man is a Jew, a Samaritan, a Christian, or a Muslim. Not only that but, if the penitent starts to live a righteous life, the Creator promises to make him abide in His presence (blessing him with peace, miracles, and the Holy Spirit).

As it is written: "LORD, WHO SHALL DWELL IN THY TABERNACLE? WHO SHALL REST IN THINE HOLY MOUNTAIN? HE THAT WALKETH UPRIGHTLY AND WORKETH RIGHTEOUSNESS, and speaketh the truth in his heart. He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbor, nor receiveth a false report against his neighbor. In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but he honoreth them that fear the Lord: he that sweareth to his own hindrance and changeth not. He that giveth not his money unto usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent: HE THAT DOETH THESE THINGS, SHALL NEVER BE MOVED"- Psalm 15:1-5 (1599 Geneva Bible).

And the former explains why is it that we can find godly and righteous people within the ranks of all great monotheistic religions, as their right to experience God's peace and miracles [as well as the Holy Spirit] stems from their life of repentance and good deeds; a lifestyle which doesn't depend on their allegiance to human beings like Moses, Jesus, or Muhammad, but rather to their allegiance to the non-human God of Moses, Jesus and Muhammad (peace be upon them all).

Was Jesus really a high priest according to the order of Melchisedec?

The Christian writings state the following: "So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee. As he saith also in another place, THOU ART A PRIEST FOREVER AFTER THE ORDER OF MELCHISEDEC"- Hebrews 5:5-6.

To begin with, it has to be remarked that most Christian scholars willingly acknowledge that the former verse [which is paramount for Christian dogma] was written by an anonymous author. You see, Christian scholars use the above verse in order to claim that Jesus had eternally fulfilled the ultimate goal of the Levitical priesthood [complete redemption for all Israel]. Yet the verse states that Jesus didn't follow the Levitical order, but rather, "the order of Melchisedec".

What's the problem with such idea? The problem is that, though lofty and uplifting, such claim makes no sense. In fact, if were to be brutally honest, we would have to acknowledge that [in the best scenario] the verse wasn't meant to be understood in a literal sense-- neither was it intended to make reference to Jesus [nor any other Israelite]. If anything, it might be [symbolically] applied to king David [whom, just like Melchisedec, was king of Jerusalem].

Why couldn't the verse have a literal interpretation? Because nowhere in Torah (God's Law) are we told that any Israelite ever followed the alleged "order of Melchizedek" [if such order even existed, as "one swallow does not make a spring"].

Besides, why would God wish the Israelites to follow any other priesthood, save the one granted to the tribe of Levi? Didn't the Almighty promised that the spirit of such priesthood would be everlasting, so that even after all things are restored, it will remain in effect? ("In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely... NEITHER SHALL THE PRIESTS THE LEVITES WANT A MAN BEFORE ME TO OFFER BURNT OFFERINGS, AND TO KINDLE MEAT OFFERINGS, AND TO DO SACRIFICE CONTINUALLY"- Jeremiah 33:16-18). If anything, since Levi's greatest representative was Moses, and since Moses had lived [and intermarried] with Jethro's family, the Israelites could [in theory] be allowed to follow Jethro's priestly order.

In short, there's a good chance that, when ascribing Melchizedek's priesthood to Jesus, the anonymous author of Hebrews was simply using a bold literary license [in other words, a handy and convenient over-generalization]. And a good example of such generalizations might be the verse found in Hebrews 13:5, where the author states the following: "Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: FOR HE HAD SAID, I WILL NEVER LEAVE THEE, NOR FORSAKE THEE".

Notice that the latter verse references a Torah passage where Moses encourages Law abiding Israelites [facing a war against a race of giants] to not despair, as God would grant them military victory over their enemies ("Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; HE WILL NOT FAIL THEE, NOR FORSAKE THEE"- Deuteronomy 31:6).

Yet the crowd being addressed at by the author of Hebrews was neither Torah observant (as they had embraced Paul's "salvation by faith" dogma), nor were they engaged in a literal war against any giants. In fact, unlike the Israelites [to whom God had promised a military victory], the Christian crowd were to expect no military victory at all, but only patient martyrdom.

Thus, the verse of Hebrews 13:5 isn't meant to be understood in a literal sense [expecting Christians to militarily defeat the gigantic Roman empire], but rather in an allegorical fashion [meaning that, no matter what the outcome is, it will work out for good].

May peace be upon you all!

«Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: "Fear God, and keep His Commandments: for this is the whole duty of man"»- Ecclesiastes 12:13, King James Bible

... In other words, there's nothing else besides obeying God's Ten Commandments. As it is written: "And He declared unto you His covenant, which He commanded you to perform, even Ten Commandments; and He wrote them upon two tables of stone... These words the Lord spake unto all your assembly in the mount... and He added no more"- Deut. 4:13, & 5:22, KJVB)

La teología Cristiana es errada, pues tanto Moisés como Jesús predicaron que la salvación es el producto de comprometerse con sembrar el bien

Aunque esta muy bien intencionado, la "salvación por la fe" que predicán todas las sectas cristianas les hace mensajeras de una doctrina falsa y pagana, ya que tanto Moisés como Jesús enseñaron que "la salvación" es el resultado de someterse a la voluntad de Dios, haciendo las obras de bondad amorosa que son agradables ante Sus ojos.

¿De dónde sacamos que Moisés predicó "salvación por obras"? Lo obtenemos del versículo en el que enseñó que la razón por la cual ni los moabitas ni los amonitas se les permitiría entrar en la "asamblea del Señor" [convirtiéndose así en parte del Pueblo Santo de Dios] fue su negativa a alimentar a los hambrientos y sedientos.

Como está escrito: "NO ENTRARÁ AMONITA NI MOABITA EN LA CONGREGACIÓN DEL SEÑOR; aun hasta la décima generación no entrarán en la congregación del Señor para siempre:

[¿Por qué?...] PORQUE NO OS ENCONTRARON CON PAN Y CON AGUA EN EL CAMINO, CUANDO [ISRAEL] SALIO [HAMBRIENTO Y SEDIENTÓ] DE EGIPTO..."- Deuteronomio 23:3-5, Biblia KJV.

¿Y de dónde sacamos que Jesús también predicó la "salvación por obras"? Pues lo obtenemos del versículo en el que enseña que la razón por la que a las naciones no se les permitirá entrar en la asamblea de los justos será su negativa a alimentar a los hambrientos y sedientos.

Como está escrito: "... Venid, benditos de mi Padre, HEREDAD EL REINO PREPARADO PARA VOSOTROS DESDE LA FUNDACIÓN DEL MUNDO: PORQUE TUVE HAMBRE, Y ME DISTEIS DE COMER; TUVE SED, Y ME DISTEIS DE BEBER; Fui forastero, y me acogisteis; desnudo, y me vestisteis; estuve enfermo, y me visitasteis; Estuve en la cárcel, y vinisteis a mí... ... APARTAOS DE MÍ, MALDITOS, AL FUEGO ETERNO QUE ESTÁ PREPARADO PARA EL DIABLO Y SUS ÁNGELES: PORQUE TUVE HAMBRE, Y NO ME DIERON DE COMER; TUVE SED, Y NO ME DIERON DE BEBER; forastero fui, y no me acogisteis; desnudo, y no me vestisteis; enfermo y en la cárcel, y no me visitasteis" – Mateo 25:34-36, & 41-43 (American Standard Version). En resumen, un creyente sabio y maduro no tendrá problema alguno en entender que la propia religión de Dios está "orientada a los resultados". Por lo tanto, las cosas que realmente importan a los ojos del Todopoderoso no son las palabras que decimos (la teología que afirmamos seguir), sino las cosas que hacemos (nuestros actos de amorosa bondad). ¿Por qué? Porque la naturaleza enseña que "el árbol se puede conocer por sus frutos".

Y lo anterior es una verdad tan suprema, que incluso los escritos cristianos dan testimonio de ella, cuando continúan diciendo: "Amados, no imitéis lo malo, sino lo bueno. EL QUE HACE EL BIEN ES DE DIOS; EL QUE HACE EL MAL NO HA VISTO A DIOS"- 3 Juan 1:11. Y también dicen, "PORQUE NO HAY ÁRBOL BUENO QUE DA FRUTO CORRUPTO; NI MAS ÁRBOL CORRUPTO QUE DA BUENOS FRUTOS. Porque cada árbol es conocido por su propio fruto. PORQUE DE LAS ESPINAS NO SE RECOGEN HIGOS, NI DE LA ZARZA SE RECOGEN UVAS" – Lucas 6:43-44 (American Standard Version).

How can secular Ashkenazi Jews be so evil?

The reason why many Ashkenazi Jews are so evil is basically twofold. First of all, most of them belong to the White (Germanic and Anglo-Saxon) race. In other words, they are healthy, smart, good looking, energetic, and bold. Thus, they have a natural tendency to be "control freaks"-- manipulative, proud, arrogant, and promiscuous. But there is a second [and far more important] cause: From their early childhood, Ashkenazi Jews are exposed to either the study of Torah (God's Law), or to people who had been in turn influenced by such study.

And what's wrong with the study of God's commandments and regulations? Nothing; aside from the fact that, when a person devotes himself to the study of a piece of literature whose main focus is the law of "cause, and effect" ("action, and reaction", "cause and effect", "sowing and reaping", "what goes around comes around", etc), such person can become much wiser than the rest of the population ("Your commands make me wiser than my enemies... The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do his commandments... I understand more than the elders, because I obey your precepts"- Psalm 119:98, Psalm 111:10, Psalm 119:100).

Unfortunately, once this person has acquired such great understanding, he can choose to use it to achieve either a great good, or a great evil. And that's why we find that the leading roles on every field of science, religion, politics, and society, are in the hands of White (Ashkenazi) Jews. Thus, they play the leading roles in the noblest of all causes (Philanthropy, Medical research, agriculture, water conservation, etc), as well as in the vilest and most degenerated movements (atheism, gay rights, weapons manufacturing, Marxism, etc). May the God of Abraham have mercy of all Jewish people!

Samaritanismo Reformado

Si Dios dice una cosa, y usted dice lo contrario, entonces ya no cree usted en Dios, sino en usted mismo (es decir, se ha constituido en su propio dios, cometiendo así el nefando pecado de idolatría)

Si la Ley dice una cosa, y luego viene el Evangelio y dice lo contrario, entonces no es la Ley, sino el Evangelio, el que se ha equivocado. Es que la veracidad del Evangelio siempre dependió de que este cumpliera con lo previamente dicho [y ordenado] por la Ley. En cambio, la veracidad de la Ley nunca dependió de que esta cumpliera con nada de lo que mas tarde habría de decir [y ordenar] el Evangelio. Y lo anterior es corroborado por la Escritura que enseña que Dios no cambia, para que diga una cosa [en la Ley], y luego venga y diga lo contrario [en el Evangelio]. Como esta escrito: "Porque yo יהוה no cambio..."- Malaquías 3:6. Y esto es particularmente cierto cuando recordamos que la Ley cita al Santo y veraz Creador afirmando que Israel es su hijo («Y dirás a Faraón: "יהוה ha dicho así: Israel es mi hijo, mi primogénito"»- Éxodo 4:22), mientras que el evangelio cita a los inmundos y engañosos demonios afirmando lo contrario («También salían demonios de muchos, dando voces y diciendo: "Tú [Jesús] eres el Hijo de Dios"»- Lucas 4:41)

Why do Western Nations so actively promote the Atheist and LGBTQ agenda?

Western Nations use of the Atheist/LGBTQ agenda can be allegorically described as “White noise”. Why does anybody listen to white noise? In order to relax, and soon fall asleep. Thus, LGBTQ atheism is the Western Nations “white noise” that will soon “put to sleep” the rest of the nations. The latter aims at disconnecting them so much from “right and wrong morality”, that [in the end] they become paralyzed, no longer able to tell if they are being oppressed by the Western World, or if they are instead being delivered by them.

And the former, resembles the typical behavior of way a shrewd predator.

For example, when a predator wants to rape a young [virgin] girl, he will pretend to be nice, offering her free alcoholic beverages. The young girl is naive, so she accepts the drinks, never knowing that a drug has been mixed within the beverage. When the drug kicks in, she feels “relaxed”, and agrees to have intercourse with the secret predator.

Later, as the girl walks away from the situation (never knowing she had been drugged), she feels “paralyzed”, as she can’t tell whether the guy “delivered” her from her “sexual repression” [and therefore she should be grateful to him], or whether he sexually oppressed (rape) her [and therefore she should immediately report him to the authorities].

And this is the reason why (as demonstrated by former Marxist republics) government promoted atheism, as well as government sponsored homosexuality, are clear signs of a government well into the process of becoming an oppressive and totalitarian regime (or, as the saying goes: "Homosexual atheism is the moral opium of closeted Cultural Marxists).

Christian ethics comes from God (“Therefore, whatever you want men to do to you, so do you also to them; for this is the Law and the Prophets”- Matthew 7:12)... But the idea that Jesus literally is the Son of God [and therefore equal to God], comes from unclean spirits and demons (“And the unclean spirits, seeing him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, “You are the Son of God”... Demons also came out of many, crying out and saying: “You are the Son of God”»- Mark 3:11 & Luke 4:41)

Does God exist? Where is He?

The reality is that the God worshiped by Hebrew people [as well as non-Hebrew people who follow God’s Law] does not exist in any place, in any time, nor in any of the countless possible universes. Why? Because the way Hebrew believers define their God, is as the Supreme Infinite that contains “within itself” all other things-- all time, all space, all energy, all dimensions, all laws of physics, all forms [and probabilities] of existence, all universes, all good, all evil, all life, all death, all light, all darkness, all wisdom, all morality, all ethics, all the love, all the hate, all the imagination, all the ignorance, all the actions, all the consequences, all the consciences, all of the souls, all of the spirits, etc.

And this is the reason why King Solomon is quoted saying that God is so great that not even “the heavens of heavens” (in other words, the whole universe) would be able to contain Him.

As it has been said: “But is it true that God will dwell upon earth? Behold, the heavens, the heavens of heavens, cannot contain you...”- 1 Kings 8:27.

And it is for this very reason that, recognizing that everything exists “within” the God of the Hebrews, the Christian apostle (Paul) proceeds to say the following: “For in him we live and move and have our being; as some of your own poets have also said...”- Acts 17:28.

So, if we stick to the Hebrews' definition of God, the question should not be “in what part of the universe does God exist?”; Instead, it should be the following: “in what part of God, does the universe exist?”

Why are secular Ashkenazi Jews so eager to promote atheism and immorality? What do they seek with this strategy?

To begin with, we have to acknowledge that modern Judaism has little to do with the ancient Hebrew religion. In fact, the Torah (the five books of Moses) doesn’t mention the word “Judaism” even once. In addition, it is a historical fact that, as a religion, Judaism became overrun (hijacked) by the Ashkenazi people centuries ago.

And the morality of the latter people was such that, in times past, whenever a pious Spanish (Sephardi) or Arab (Temani) Jew had to mention the phrase “Ashkenazi Jew”, he would spit on the ground, as it was a revolting term, associated with the most decadent and disgusting elements of world Jewry. Unfortunately, due to their high birth rate, Ashkenazi Jews have overshadowed all other Jewish groups, to the point that if you don’t share their physical appearance [as well as their loose morality] you’re not considered a real Jew.

But, why do Ashkenazi Jews constantly promote all sort of immorality? The reason is that it shields them from gentile judgment. In other words, you cannot condemn in other people the same faults you are guilty of. Consider a real life example: Leo Frank (may he rest in peace) was a rich Cornell educated Ashkenazi Jew running a pencil manufacturing plant in Atlanta Georgia at the end of the 19th century. Frank had a reputation for questionable morality, and was accused of the rape [and murder] of one of his 13 years old female employees. But Frank was able to use his money (and huge influence with Georgia's governor) to escape death penalty.

Still, since Georgia citizens back then still had very high moral values, they couldn't tolerate such aberration, and agreed to take justice into their own hands by hanging Frank, which they eventually did. And since at that time political correctness was unheard of, no one was ever jailed for the hanging of Frank.

What was the Jewish reply to the former incident? It was two fold. First of all, they created what is currently known as "the Anti defamation League" (the ideological birthplace of the concept of "anti-semitism"). Secondly, they adopted a strategy of moral corruption. In other words, a generalized attempt to induce every gentile (or "non Jewish") person to embrace an openly immoral lifestyle. Why? So that no gentile could ever consider himself morally superior to the Jew, and therefore capable of passing (and executing) judgment upon him.

Curiously, the Hebrew scripture lends support to the former Jewish strategy. How so? Well, because Scripture states that if God gave Jews the land of Canaan, it wasn't because they were morally superior. Rather, it was because the gentiles living in the land were even more corrupted than the Jews. As is written: «When the Lord your God drives them out before you, do not say to yourself, 'The Lord brought me in to take possession of this land because of my righteousness.' Instead, THE LORD WILL DRIVE OUT THESE NATIONS BEFORE YOU BECAUSE OF THEIR WICKEDNESS. YOU ARE NOT GOING TO TAKE POSSESSION OF THEIR LAND BECAUSE OF YOUR RIGHTEOUSNESS OR YOUR INTEGRITY. INSTEAD, THE LORD YOUR GOD WILL DRIVE OUT THESE NATIONS BEFORE YOU BECAUSE OF THEIR WICKEDNESS... UNDERSTAND THAT THE LORD YOUR GOD IS NOT GIVING YOU THIS GOOD LAND TO POSSESS BECAUSE OF YOUR RIGHTEOUSNESS, FOR YOU ARE A STIFF-NECKED PEOPLE»- Deuteronomy 9:4-6.

Thus, secular Ashkenazi Jews will keep subjugating the Gentiles, as long as the latter are willing to bite the immorality bait. But as soon as the Gentiles choose to take the high moral grounds, they will immediately start conquering Ashkenazi Jews. And this explains why Hitler was able to conquer them, as the first thing he did upon coming to power was to ban pornography and prostitution, to close all Gay bars, and to get rid of usury (Jewish banks exorbitant interests).

A healthy society needs both politics and religion. Why? Because the interaction of these two forces create a balanced society. In other words, Religion prevents political leaders from pretending to rule like gods [intoxicated with absolute power, and in a despotic fashion]. Conversely, Politics prevents religious leaders from attempting to rule like Political Tyrants [with no regard for those who disagree with their ideology].

If [secular] Ashkenazi Jews are so evil, why hasn't God destroyed them?

Ashkenazi Jews are incredibly evil. In fact, the Russian people used to describe them with the following proverbs:

(1) «What God loves, a Jew discards»;

And,

(2)«A Jew boasts of things a gentile repents for».

But, if secular Ashkenazi Jews are so evil, then why hasn't God destroyed them? The reason is that God's mercy is greater than what we can ever imagine.

Thus, God doesn't judge Ashkenazi Jews by the actions of their wicked majority; rather, He judge them based on the actions of the few ones that still fear Him, and keep His Ten Laws.

At first glance, this might seem to portray a prejudiced and unfair God, but think about the deeper implication: If so great is «the reward» for those who, in spite of being chosen, persist in their wickedness, how much more by far will the reward be for those who, in spite of not being chosen, persist on fearing God and obeying His commandments?

El futuro castigo de la nación Israelita

Si el Dios de Israel es el producto de la imaginación, entonces no hay razón para que Israel afirme que Dios ha prometido darle porción alguna de Palestina-- o para que los Israelitas se ufanen de ser el Pueblo “Escogido” (o, “Preferido”).

Pero, si el Dios de Israel en efecto existe, tenemos que ser intelectualmente honestos, y prestar atención a su Palabra, la cual nos advierte de la siguiente manera: «Y hubo también Sodomitas en la tierra, e hicieron conforme a todas las abominaciones de las gentes que el Señor había echado delante de los hijos de Israel... Entonces vino Semeías profeta á Roboam y a los príncipes de Judá... y díjoles: “Así ha dicho el Señor: ‘Vosotros me habéis dejado, y yo también os he dejado [en manos de vuestros crueles enemigos]’...”»- 1 Reyes 14:24, & 2 Crónicas 12:5.

Así pues, Dios ha dejado al Israel secular (ateo) en mano de sus enemigos, y esta próximo a traer Juicio sobre aquellos que no se avergüenzan de blasfemar continuamente el santo nombre de Dios. ¿Cuándo lo hacen? Pues cuando reclaman ser el Pueblo Santo, a la misma vez que promueven los matrimonios del mismo sexo, así como las paradas de Orgullo LGBTQ en las calles de la santa ciudad de Jerusalén.

Como resultado de esto, es hora de que los Judíos piadosos huyan de la Tierra de Israel [tal y como hizo el justo Lot, cuando huyó de Sodoma], a fin de no ser alcanzados por el inminente juicio Divino.

Beware of secular and/or religious generalizations!

Beware of he who tries to subdue you with radical, hyped, feel good, absolutists, black and white, exaggerated, or all encompassing generalizations! Why? Because Hebrew Scripture states that not even the all-knowing Creator [blessed be He] subscribes to such radical and extremist mindset.

Consider the following: The Holy One states that he whose prophecies are not fulfilled is a false prophet (Deuteronomy 18:22). Yet after foretelling [by the word of God] that king Hezekiah would die and not recover from his sickness(Isaiah 38:1), the Almighty asked Isaiah to go back and foretell that Hezekiah would heal, and go on to live for another 15 years (Isaiah 38:1,&21).

Thus, even though [according to Scripture] he whose prophecies do not come to pass is indeed a false prophet, only the Ten Supreme Laws [or “Commandments”] were written upon the stone [therefore being immutable]; while the rest were written upon animal skins [which, by their own nature, are flexible].

And the former isn't the only case where the Almighty give us an example of flexibility. Consider the following: Though the Holy One had declared that the Passover feast had to be celebrated at a specific date. Yet, since some men couldn't celebrate it due to ritual impurity, the Holy One made an allowance for them to enjoy a delayed celebration one month later (Book of numbers, chapter 9). Likewise, though God had told Moses that inheriting from their deceased fathers estate was limited to the male children, the daughters of Zelophehad [who had no male offspring] raised their concerns about the issue; therefore, the Holy One accepted their claims, and made additional accommodations, so that the Law would allow daughters to inherit from their deceased father's estate (Book of Numbers chapter 27).

A list of Russian proverbs depicting the Russian View Of Marxist (secular) Jews

If you lack a devil in your home, invite a Jew in.
Whoever serves a Jew will not avoid disaster.
What God loves, a Jew discards.
A baptised Jew is like a tamed wolf.
A Jew boasts of things a gentile repents for.
Let a Jew into your house for a day and you won't get rid of him in a year.
Wherever a Jew goes, misfortune brews.
A Jew's hands love the labour of others.
Pandering to a Jew is no different from being a thief yourself.
A Jew is always ready to cross himself if he profits from it.
A Jew is nourished by mischief.
Where a Jew walks, men's tears flow.
A Jew will say he was beaten, but will never say for what.
A Jew in business is like a leech on the skin.
A Jew's love is worse than a hangman's noose.
You want to ruin a Jew, don't do business with him.
For a Jew, souls are cheaper than coins.
While you drink, a Jew steals your money.
A Jew doesn't know what shame is.
A Jew will even swing a censer, as long as coin flows.
Run with Jews, wake up with sins.
Where a Jew goes, bribes follow.
First a Jew treats you to a drink, then he makes you a drunkard.
A Jew takes you not by force, but by temptation.
A Jew stinks as badly as he looks.
A Jew is like a pig: nothing hurts, but he keeps squealing.
A house is only good until a Jew settles in it.
A Jew is honey-mouthed in poverty, insolent in equality and a fiend in power.
Call a Jew a brother and he will call himself your father.
A Jew swings his tongue while a man swings his hoe.
A Jew works only with his stomach.
Who buys from a Jew digs his own grave.
A Jew promising healing is like Death promising life.

What ends up in a Jew's hands, disappears.
 Avoid friendship with a Jew and you will avoid trouble in life.
 Bow to a Jew and you break in half.
 Jews are like rats – only strong in packs.
 Jewish praise is worse than scolding.
 Trust your eyes, not Jewish words.
 Jews carry lies like fields carry wheat.
 When a Jew tells the truth, the Devil will die.
 A Jew sinks the truth with gold, but it always floats to the surface.
 A Jew looks at you like a fox, yet stinks like a wolf.
 When you weep with joy, a Jew weeps with envy.
 Even a sated Jew looks around with hungry eyes.
 A Jew stops sucking blood only when he tires of breathing.
 Better to lose with a Christian than to find with a Jew.
 A Jew trembles over every coin even with one foot in the grave.
 Jews sow usury and reap misery.
 Jews pave their way with money.
 You may complete your service to God, but never your service to a Jew.
 Around rich Jews, men wear rags.
 Locusts might devour your crops, but a Jew will rip your skin off.
 Who gives a Jew free will, sells himself into slavery.
 A leech will gorge itself and fall off, a Jew won't.
 There are no good Jews, just like there are no good rats.
 Punch a Jew in the face and he will accuse you of murder.
 When a Jew appears in your village, tie your tongue and unleash your dogs.
 If you want to live, drive away the Jew.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

"I am יהוה (Adonai Yah): that is my Name: and my glory will I not give to another (Moses, Jesus, Paul, Peter, Muhammad, etc) ... and make no mention of the name of other gods (Jesus, Allah, Krishna, Aura Mazda, etc), neither let it be heard out of thy mouth"- Exodus 23:13, Isaiah 42:8 (King James Bible)

Christianity is an awesome religion. But Christian theology is just too shady, too contradictory, and too ambiguous to properly represent the truthful and righteous God who, centuries before, had said to the Hebrew people: "Keep thee far from a false matter... A righteous man hateth lying... Trust ye not in lying words... These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man [only] the truth to his neighbour [thereby departing from shady conjectures and hyped suppositions]... O ye sons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into shame [pretending that I'm a god of flesh and blood who gets tired, sweats, and defecates]? How long will ye love vanity and seek after lies?" - Exodus 23:7, Proverbs 13:5, Jeremiah 7:4, Zechariah 8:16, Psalm 4:2 (King James Bible)

The bitter truth behind “the Laws of Noah” (also known as Jewish led “Noahide” Movement)

Jewish lore claims gentiles are not meant to accept Torah, as God doesn't expects them to follow Moses ten Laws (or “commandments”) but rather Noah seven Laws. And what is the difference between these two sets of Law? In a nutshell, they are basically the same; but Noah's Law doesn't require gentiles to honor their parents, to keep the Shabbat, or to abstain from using God's name in vain.

Strangely, the term “Seven laws of Noah” is nowhere to be found in the Torah (the Hebrew Bible); nor does the Torah mentions anybody ever becoming a “Benei Noah” (a spiritual son of Noah). So, the claim that God doesn't want the nations of the world to embrace the ten commandments, doesn't seem to have a strong biblical support. In fact, Scripture intimates that the opposite is true: that God wants both Jews and gentiles to follow one single Law [Moses Ten commandments].

As it has been written: “YOU AND THE ALIEN WILL BE ALIKE BEFORE THE LORD. THE SAME LAW AND THE SAME ORDINANCE WILL APPLY TO BOTH YOU AND THE ALIEN who resides with you... YOU ARE TO HAVE THE SAME LAW FOR THE PERSON WHO ACTS IN ERROR (SINNING), WHETHER HE IS AN ISRAELITE OR AN ALIEN who resides among you”- Numbers 15:15,16,&29 (Christian Standard Bible).

And Jewish lore also seems to intimate the same, as one Midrash (Sifre Deuteronomy §343, & Pesikta Rabbati 21) teaches that, before offering them unto the nation of Israel, the Lord went forth and offered it's ten Laws unto each and every nation of the World [beginning with Edom, Moab, Ammon, and Ishmael]. And, only after they had all refused to accept them, did the Lord make thee offer unto Israel.

And whence do we know it is false that the so called “children of Noah” were not expected to honor their parents [just as ordained by Moses Ten Laws]? We know it from the fact that Noah got drunk and ended up naked. And, the one son who refused to honor his father (Ham) fell under a curse; while them that honored him (Sem and Japhet) became blessed.

As it is written: «Noah, as a man of the soil, began by planting a vineyard. HE DRANK SOME OF THE WINE, BECAME DRUNK, AND UNCOVERED HIMSELF inside his tent. HAM, THE FATHER OF CANAAN, SAW HIS FATHER NAKED AND [without doing anything for his father] TOLD HIS TWO BROTHERS outside. THEN SHEM AND JAPHETH TOOK A CLOAK AND placed it over both their shoulders, and walking backward, THEY COVERED THEIR FATHER'S NAKEDNESS. Their faces were turned away, and they did not see their father naked. WHEN NOAH AWOKE from his drinking and learned what his youngest son had done to him, HE SAID- CANAAN IS CURSED. He will be the lowest of slaves to his brothers. HE ALSO SAID: Blessed be the Lord, the God of Shem; Let CANAAN BE SHEM'S SLAVE. LET GOD EXTEND JAPHETH; LET JAPHETH DWELL IN THE TENTS OF SHEM; LET CANAAN BE SHEM'S SLAVE”- Genesis 9:20-27 (Christian Standard Bible).

But if the former is actually true, where did the concept of “Noahide Laws” come from? Is it all a falsehood? Not at all! In fact, the concept seems to have originated from a wise and sincere desire to bring peace between Jews and gentiles. And it most likely originated during the reign of King Solomon (a king whose name is associated with the Hebrew word “shalom”, meaning “peace”). The fact is that Solomon married hundreds of gentile wives (“King Solomon loved many foreign women, in addition to Pharaoh's daughter: Moabite, Ammonite, Edomite, Sidonian, and Hittite women...”- 1 Kings 11:1 (Christian Standard Bible). But, most of these wives were daughters of pagan kings ruling over neighboring nations. Why would Solomon do such thing? Because he knew quite well that no father would rush into war against his daughters husband; no king would like to make a widow out of his own daughter, nor turn orphans their own grandchildren.

The idea was brilliant... But there was a problem! Moses law forbade Jewish men from marrying pagan women (“and when the Lord your God delivers them over to you and you defeat them, you must completely destroy them. Make no treaty with them and show them no mercy. YOU MUST NOT INTERMARRY WITH THEM, AND YOU MUST NOT GIVE YOUR DAUGHTERS TO THEIR SONS OR TAKE THEIR DAUGHTERS FOR YOUR SONS, BECAUSE THEY WILL TURN YOUR SONS AWAY FROM ME TO WORSHIP OTHER GODS”- Deut. 7:2-4).

In fact, Ammonite and Moabite women were not even supposed to enter into the congregation (“No Ammonite or Moabite may ever be admitted into the community of the Lord...”- Deut. 23:4 (Saint Joseph new Catholic edition Bible). But, by the time of king Solomon's rule, the priestly power was already inferior to the Royal power.

In other words, no priest would ever dare opposing royalty; and no priest would dare confronting these pagan queens, giving them the option of either conversion, or expulsion. Thus, in order to avoid political strife, the religious leadership of the epoch began to teach the idea that pagan people need not to follow Torah, in order to please the Creator- they only needed to follow Noah's seven general laws.

Unfortunately, although Solomon's scheme was brilliant, and the intentions of the religious leaders were equally good and honorable, none of them could prevent the Word of God from being fulfilled- So in the end Solomon's wives turned his heart away from God: “WHEN SOLOMON WAS OLD, HIS WIVES TURNED HIS HEART AWAY TO FOLLOW OTHER GODS... SOLOMON FOLLOWED ASHTORETH, THE GODDESS OF THE SIDONIANS, AND MILCOM, THE ABHORRENT IDOL OF THE AMMONITES... At that time, SOLOMON BUILT A HIGH PLACE FOR CHEMOSH, THE ABHORRENT IDOL OF MOAB, AND FOR MILCOM, THE ABHORRENT IDOL OF THE AMMONITES... HE DID THE SAME FOR ALL HIS FOREIGN WIVES, WHO WERE BURNING INCENSE AND OFFERING SACRIFICES TO THEIR GODS”- 1 Kings 11:4-8 (C.S.B.).

In short, the Noahide Law is a great example of the kind of truth each Hebrew believer must keep in mind- to never try using human sagacity in order to twist God's word- even if the aim is a seemingly good purpose! Why? Because, in the short term, it will seem to work; but, in the end, it will spell disaster. King Solomon tried it, and got forty years of peace (1 Kings 4:24-25, 1 Kings 11:42); But, in the end, it caused the split of the Hebrew Nation, as well as countless wars between the Southern and Northern kingdoms.

As is written: «Then the Lord said to Solomon, “Since you have done this, and did not keep my covenant and my statutes, which I commanded you, I will tear the kingdom away from you, and give it to your servant”... [and] There was war between Rehoboam (Judah's King) and Jeroboam (Israel's King) throughout their reigns»- 1 Kings 11:11, & 1 Kings 14:30).

La razón objetiva por la cual la “Salvación por la fe” es un engaño teológico

No hay nada de malo en la noble religión nazarena, ya que ésta predica el arrepentimiento y las buenas obras. Pero la noción de que la Salvación se logra “sólo por la fe”, y sin necesidad de obedecer la Ley de Dios (los Diez Mandamientos), es poco más que audaz [y engañosa] jactancia teológica.

¿Por qué? Porque el Dios de Abraham nunca cambia Su palabra. Como se ha dicho: “Porque yo soy יהוה (Adonay Yah, bendito sea), no cambio...” – Malaquías 3:6. Y siglos antes de la llegada de la religión Nazarena, Dios ya había declarado que apegarse a Su Ley es la única garantía segura de que seremos bendecidos, sin nunca “resbalar” (perdiendo así el favor Divino).

Como se ha dicho: “Este Libro de la Ley no se apartará de tu boca, sino que meditarás en él día y noche... Bienaventurado el hombre que no sigue el consejo de los impíos... sino que en la Ley de יהוה se deleita, y en su Ley medita de día y de noche. Y será como árbol plantado junto a corrientes de agua, que da su fruto en su tiempo; tampoco su hoja se marchitará, y todo lo que haga prosperará... La Ley de su Dios está en su corazón; [por tanto] ninguno de sus pasos resbalará” – Josué 1:8, Salmo 1:1-3, Salmo 37:31.

Y lo anterior es una verdad tan ineludible, que el mismo Nazareno es citado diciendo que solo la gente “pequeña” [es decir, ignorante] sería capaz de dar la espalda siquiera al menor de los mandamientos.

Como esta escrito: “Porque de cierto os digo que hasta que pasen el cielo y la tierra, ni una jota ni una tilde pasará de la Ley, hasta que todo se haya cumplido. De manera que cualquiera que quebrante uno de estos mandamientos muy pequeños, y así enseñe a los hombres, muy pequeño será llamado en el reino de los cielos; mas cualquiera que los haga y los enseñe, este será llamado grande en el reino de los cielos”- Mateo 5:18-19.

¿Han pasado ya el cielo y la tierra? ¿No? ¡Pues entonces hay que seguir guardando la Ley!

SAMARITANISMO REFORMADO

The Ten Commandments are God's true religion, the rest is just commentary

Si la Ley de Dios advierte de antemano que el creyente debe alejarse de la locura (“Escucharé lo que hablará יהוה Dios; Porque hablará paz a su Pueblo, y a sus Santos, PARA QUE NO SE VUELVAN A LA LOCURA”- Salmo 85:8); pero luego llega el Nuevo Testamento, y pretende negar la Ley, afirmando que Dios en efecto quiere que el creyente siga la locura que reclama el apóstol Pablo ser la predicación Cristiana (“Pues ya que, en la sabiduría de Dios, el Mundo no conoció a Dios mediante la sabiduría, AGRADÓ A DIOS SALVAR A LOS CREYENTES POR LA LOCURA DE LA PREDICACIÓN”- 1 Corintios 1:21); entonces, la disputa entre Cristianos y Hebreos, ha quedado finalmente resuelta, y ya no queda nada relevante por discutir. ¿Por que? Pues porque, las Verdades reveladas en la Escritura Hebrea son finales e irrevocables [pues la Ley no puede ser abrogada, ni mucho menos quebrantada, según Deuteronomio 4:2]. Y, con esto, también concuerdan los Evangelios, cuando citan a Jesús diciendo: «la Escritura [la Ley], no puede ser quebrantada» (Juan 10:35)

The reason why “Salvation by faith” is theological deception

There’s nothing wrong with the noble Nazarene religion, as the latter preaches repentance and good deeds. But the notion that Salvation is achieved “only by faith”, and without the need to obey God’s Law (the Ten Commandments), is little more than bold [and deceptive] theological fanfare.

Why? Because the God of Abraham never changes His word. As it has been said: “For I am יהוה (Adonay Yah, blessed be He), I change not...”- Malachi 3:6, 21st Century King James Version). And centuries before the arrival of the Nazarene religion, God had already stated that sticking to His Law is the one sure guarantee that we'll be blessed, and never "slip" (thereby losing God's favor). As it has been said: "This Book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth, but thou shalt meditate therein day and night... Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly... but his delight is in the Law of יהוה, and on His Law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither, and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper... The Law of his God is in his heart; [therefore] none of his steps shall slide"- Joshua 1:8, Psalm 1:1-3, Psalm 37:31 (21st Century King James Version). And the foregoing is such an inescapable truth, that the gospel quotes the Nazarene, stating that only "small" [or, "ignorant"] people would be brazen enough to turn their backs upon the least of the commandments. As it is written: "For verily I say unto you, till heaven and earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle shall in any wise pass from the law till all be fulfilled. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the Kingdom of Heaven; but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the Kingdom of Heaven"- Matthew 5:18-19.

"Hijos de los hombres, ¿hasta cuándo volveréis mi honra en infamia, Amaréis la vanidad, y buscaréis la mentira?"- Salmo 4:2

Beware of Paul's Christianity!

Our dear brothers and sisters, as Torah forbids us from taken even an inch out of Edom's (Christianity's) territory (meaning their "people", or "followers"), we are therefore forced to say that the Edomite religion is a perfectly valid path (for Edom's ideological children) to serve the Almighty. Yet the former doesn't prevent us from stating that Christianity's main dilemma is that it's theology could be properly described as being "Paul's own religion".

Why? Simply because Paul (may peace and mercy be upon him) was the author of most of the letters comprising the so called "New Testament". In other words, the N.T. isn't really about Jesus words, but rather about Paul's own words; of what Saul personally considered to be the real meaning of Jesus words.

But in this regard, we ought to be extremely careful, as Saul had a knack for making exaggerated claims; like claiming to be "a Hebrew of Hebrews" (Philippians 3:5), when in fact he didn't even know such a basic thing as who was the Hebrew High priest (Acts 23:5).

In fact, the believer must be extremely careful when placing any blind trust on anything said [or done] by the noble Saul of Tarsus. Why? Again, because Saul seems to have suffered from some sort of mental unbalance (torment?). And the former made him often describe himself [as well as his gospel interpretation] using words like "foolish" (or "mad"); something no sound minded Hebrew prophet would ever even consider.

As is written: "What I am saying, I am saying not according to the Lord, but as in foolishness..." (2 Corinthians 11:17); "I wish that you would put up with a little foolishness from me..."- (2 Corinthians 11:1); "I say again, let no one consider me to be a fool. But if you do, accept me as a fool..."(2 Corinthians 11:16); "God was pleased—through the foolishness of the message proclaimed—to save those who believe..." (1 Cor. 1:21).

What rational explanation could we possibly give to Saul's words [and actions]? Well, maybe we should keep in mind that, when King Saul became proud and arrogant, the Holy One allowed him to be tormented by an evil spirit that would restrain his exaggerated pride. As it is written: “The Spirit of God departed from Saul, and an evil spirit tormented him ...” - 1 Samuel 16:14.

Likewise, when Saul of Tarsus became proud and arrogant, God allowed him to be tormented by an evil spirit that would restrain his exaggerated pride. As it is written: “... I was given a thorn in my flesh, a messenger of Satan to slap me, so that I would not be exalted” - 2 Corinthians 12:7.

Sadly, just as King Saul’s punishment included to perish at the hands of his pagan enemies [the Philistines], who would behead him (1 Samuel 31:8-9), so did Saul of Tarsus punishment include to perish at the hands of his pagan enemies [the Romans], who would behead him.

And the latter means that, in a sort of ironic fashion, God’s judgment upon Saul of Tarsus was according to his own words (“He said to him- By the words of your own mouth I will judge you, you wicked slave!”- Luke 19:22). Why? Because Saul had previously stated that a man’s end will be according to his works (“... Their end will be according to their works”- 2 Corinthians 11:15).

In other words, if a Hebrew believer chooses to behave as a pagan does [despising God’s Law, just as Paul had despised the Law, calling it a curse and a spiritual slavery], then it is just and proper that such a believer be handed over to the pagans [with whom he properly belongs!]. May God have mercy of us all. Amen.

THE HOLY FAITH OF REFORMED SAMARITANISM

The reason why secular Jews controlling the global and political arena are so pushy and adamant about you embracing atheism and homosexuality is that, among secular Jews, atheism and homosexuality are endemic. And these moral vices stain the Jewish psyche, leaving it’s soul without inner peace. But if secular Jews (who consider themselves to be above everyone else, being God’s chosen people) have to live without inner peace, it is inconceivable that you (a mere gentile, destined to serve the Jews) are allowed to enjoy a life of peace and moral fortitude. If the Jews go down, you have to go down with them, as again, it’s inconceivable that you (an ignorant gentile) made the right moral choice, while the all powerful Jews didn’t. YOU have to be wrong! So, even if you’re not atheist nor homosexual, you (and your children) must be forced to embrace atheism and homosexuality, in order that Jews and Gentiles suffer equally ¡Cuidado con los escritos de Pablo!

Estimado hermano y amigo, nuestra humilde recomendación es que tenga usted sumo cuidado de creer ciegamente en todo lo escrito [y postulado] por el noble apóstol Pablo (paz y bendición sean con él). Verá usted, La fe Nazarena es maravillosa; y Saulo de Tarso fue sin lugar a dudas un hombre santo y bueno. Pero la realidad objetiva es que, la noble teología cristiana, bien podría llamarse “La religión personal de Saulo”.

¿Por qué? Pues porque, a pesar de no haber caminado físicamente con Jesús [siendo por tanto el apóstol que menos conoció acerca del Jesús histórico], Saulo de Tarso [cuyo original nombre Hebreo era “Shaul”, o “Saúl”] termina siendo el autor de la mayoría de las cartas que comprenden el Nuevo Testamento. En otras palabras, el Nuevo Testamento no recoge tanto las palabras y opiniones de Jesús, sino de las de Saulo-- lo que Saulo personalmente consideraba ser el significado de las palabras del Nazareno.

Pero en este sentido, el creyente debe ser extremadamente cuidadoso, ya que Saulo tenía la habilidad de hacer afirmaciones exageradas; tal y como lo era afirmar ser “un hebreo de hebreos” (Filipenses 3:5), cuando en realidad ni siquiera sabía algo tan tan básico y fundamental como la identidad de el sumo sacerdote hebreo (Hechos 23:5).

De hecho, el creyente debe ser extremadamente cuidadoso al depositar ciega confianza en lo dicho [o hecho] por Saulo (o, “Shaul”). ¿Por qué? De nuevo, porque Saulo parece haber sufrido de algún tipo de desequilibrio mental (¿tormento?). Y esto último le condujo a describirse a sí mismo [así como a su interpretación del evangelio] usando palabras tales como “tonto”, “loco”, “necio”, etc; algo que ningún sensato profeta hebreo habría considerado jamás.

Como está escrito: “Lo que hablo, no lo hablo según el Señor, sino como en locura...” (2 Corintios 11:17); “¡Ojalá me toleraseis un poco de locura! Sí, toleradme...”- (2 Corintios 11:1); “Otra vez digo: Que nadie me tenga por loco; o de otra manera, recibidme como a loco...” (2 Corintios 11:16); “... agradó a Dios salvar a los creyentes por la locura de la predicación” (1 Corintios 1:21).

Las Tinieblas de la Idolatría

La persona que se acostumbra a vivir en la oscuridad moral que implica idolatrar la carne [o la sangre] de algún ser humano, se acostumbra tanto a las tinieblas de la mentira, que finalmente no puede tolerar la verdad. Y, cuando llega a este punto, la persona rehúsa [inconscientemente] venir a la verdad de la Ley Divina, a fin de evitar que sus tinieblas sean disipadas, y su idolatría reprendida. Pero, quien desecha la Verdad revelada por el Dios de Israel, e insiste en su idolatría del hombre, tarde o temprano sera desechado por el Dios de Israel. Como esta escrito: «Por cuanto tú desechaste la palabra de יהוה, Él también te ha desechado...»- 1 Samuel 15:23. Y, el resultado de ser desechado por Dios, es comenzar siendo poseído por un “espíritu malo” (depresión, bipolaridad, homosexualidad, delirios de persecución, esquizofrenia, etc), y terminar cometiendo suicidio; tal y como sucedió con el Rey Saúl [que en paz descansa]. ¡Tenga el Creador misericordia de quienes han caído en el pozo profundo de la idolatría del hombre!

¿Qué explicación racional podríamos dar a las palabras [y acciones] de Shaul? Bueno, quizás deberíamos tener en cuenta que, cuando el rey Saúl (o, “Shaul” en Hebreo) se volvió orgulloso y arrogante, Dios permitió que un espíritu maligno le atormentase, a fin de refrenar su exagerado orgullo. Como está escrito: “El Espíritu de Dios se apartó de Shaul, y le atormentaba un espíritu malo de parte de Dios” - 1 Samuel 16:14.

Asimismo, cuando Saulo (o, “Shaul”) de Tarso se volvió orgulloso y arrogante, Dios permitió que un espíritu maligno le atormentara, a fin de refrenar su exagerado orgullo. Como el mismo Shaul afirma, cuando escribe: “Y para que la grandeza de las revelaciones no me exaltase desmedidamente, me fue dado un aguijón en mi carne, un mensajero de Satanás (es decir, un demonio) que me abofetee, para que no me enaltezca sobremanera” - 2 Corintios 12:7-9.

Lamentablemente, así como el castigo del rey Shaul incluyó morir a manos de sus enemigos paganos [los filisteos], quienes terminaron decapitándole (1 Samuel 31:8-9), así mismo el castigo de Shaul (Saulo) de Tarso incluyó morir a manos de sus paganos enemigos [los Romanos], quienes también le decapitarían.

Y esto último significa que, el juicio de Dios sobre Pablo, fue según sus propias palabras (“... Mal siervo, por tu propia boca te juzgo...” - Lucas 19:22). ¿Por qué? Porque este último había declarado con anterioridad que, el fin de cada hombre, será conforme a sus obras (“... cuyo fin será conforme a sus obras” - 2 Corintios 11:15).

En otras palabras, si un creyente elige comportarse como lo hace un pagano [despreciando la Ley de Dios, tal como Pablo despreció la Ley de Dios, llamándola “maldición”, y “esclavitud espiritual”], entonces es justo y apropiado que tal creyente sea entregado en manos de los paganos [¡a quienes propiamente pertenece!]. Que Dios tenga misericordia de todos nosotros. Amén.

Beware of self exaltation, as the latter is Satan’s highway to a hell of brokenness, enslavement, and suffering

God’s Law states the following: «And the serpent said unto the woman: 'YE shall not surely die; for God doth know that in the day YE eat thereof, then YOUR eyes shall be opened, and YE shall be as God, knowing good and evil'»- Genesis 3:4-5, Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition.

Curiously, notice how in just two short verses the words “Ye” (YOU) and YOURS are mentioned no less than four times. Why the insistence? In order to hint at the idea that Satan’s “modus operandi” is to flatter mankind with sweet words of praise... to entice you with false words of encouragement... to lure you into embracing the false [and arrogant] idea that it is you [and not the Creator] who sits at the center of the Universe, so that your life’s purpose isn’t about God, but rather about YOU...

... about YOU fulfilling YOUR own agenda... about YOU obtaining power... about YOU achieving recognition... about YOU obtaining satisfaction... about YOU fulfilling each and every one of YOUR goals, dreams, needs, and desires... all about YOU becoming rich and happy [even if the cost of it is the poverty, unhappiness, and suffering of your fellow human beings]...

But what about rich bankers and corrupted politicians? Are they not proof that the wicked do prosper in the present world? Well, the answer to the latter is both “Yes”, and “No”. Why? Because God’s Law states the following:

“... Gather ye of it [the Mannah] every man according to his eating... And the children of Israel did so, and gathered some more, some less. And when they did mete it with an omer, he that gathered much had nothing over, and he that gathered little had no lack...”- Exodus 16:16-19, JPS 1917 Edition. What moral lesson is Torah trying to convey in the former passage? That Adonay [blessed be He] has already appointed the portion of “sustenance” (prosperity, years of life, wealth, happiness, fame, recognition, etc) that both the wicked and righteous are to experience.

Thus, he who [in the present World] tries to override the Almighty’s decree (embracing any wicked and arrogant lifestyle that promises him an increase of his portion) will find that, in the end, the extra portion he has already enjoyed [in the present world] will be deducted from the portion appointed to him [in the world to come].

There’s more!.. Not only will this man suffer a severe loss [in the world to come], but his foolish and stubborn eagerness to “secure” earthly wealth (by refusing to obey the moral bounds imposed by the Holy One) will be mocked by both God and the righteous. As it is written:

«He that sitteth in heaven laugheth, the Lord hath them in derision.... The righteous also shall see, and fear, and shall laugh at him: 'Lo, this is the man that made not God his stronghold; but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness'»- Psalm 52:8-9, JPS, 1917 Edition.

Government sponsored Gay pride parades?

The Holy scripture provides God's answer to government sponsored gay pride parades, as is written: «The wicked walk on every side, when the vilest men are exalted ... They that forsake the Law (the Ten Commandments), praise the wicked: but such as keep the Law contend with them... because their tongue and their works have been against the Lord to irritate the eyes of his majesty; because their tongue and their doings are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of His glory. The show of their countenance doth witness against them, and they declare their sin as Sodom; they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! For they have rewarded evil unto themselves. Say ye to the righteous that it shall be well with them, for they shall eat the fruits of their doings. Woe unto the wicked! It shall be ill with him, for the reward of his hands shall be given him”- Psalm 12:8, Proverbs 28:4, Isaiah 3: 8-11.

Who is a Hebrew believer? It is he whom, regardless of race or creed, strives to keep Torah (God's Law). And how do we know if a person strives to keep Torah? By observing whether he follows [or not] Torah's moral imperative. In other words, by noticing whom such person praises and defends. If he stands by the side of the perverts, the wicked, and the degenerated, it means he despises Torah. Conversely, if he struggles against the wicked, he is definitely Torah observant. As it has been said:

“They that forsake The Law praise the wicked; but such as keep the law contend with them”-

Proverbs 28:4, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition

How to formally become a follower of Reformed Samaritanism (a true and sincere believer in the God of Abraham)

What must Man do, in order to abandon the path of error in which he has been wrongly instructed, and return instead to the Path set forth by the pure, clear, and simple faith in God's Holy Law? Well, he must renounce to self-deception and wickedness, confessing his sins, and submitting himself to the will of יהוה (Adonai Yah, the God of Abraham, blessed be He). How? By making the following PUBLIC CONFESSION:

«Oh יהוה (Adonai Yah), Lord God of Abraham, I bear witness that there's no other God, King nor Savior greater than you; I bear witness that there's no prophet greater than our master Moses; nor any Law greater than Your Ten Commandments (or Sayings); I bear witness that there's no other Scripture greater than Moses Five Books of Torah (the Pentateuch); nor is there other people greater than the one allegorically portrayed by the ancient Hebrew People. And I bear witness that no theology is greater, more truthful, more meaningful, more fair, nor more just than “the Law of Measure for Measure” (“Sowing and Reaping”)-- to reward each person with the same measure of goodness he has [freely and voluntarily] bestowed upon his needy fellow creature; and to punish him with the same measure of evil he has bestowed upon his fellow creatures [without ever repenting from it]. I thank you heavenly Father, for you have seen my broken heart, and have heard my prayer, thereby forgiving all of my sins. And I also thank you for making me as of today part of your chosen People; the Holy people allegorically portrayed by the ancient Nation of Israel. Amen».

Tanto Moisés como los profetas, vivían en cuerpos humanos que tenían que sudar, que orinar, y que defecar. Pero, si tenían que defecar, era porque necesitaban deshacerse del excremento que llenaba sus cuerpos. Por eso, es imposible que Moisés, o los profetas, hayan sido la encarnación del Creador; pues, solo un demonio, podría concebir la blasfema idea de que el Creador haya estado jamás lleno de excremento.

Y, como Jesús también tuvo que orinar y defecar, pues obviamente no pudo tampoco ser el Creador

Do I have to believe Jesus (peace be upon him) is God's human incarnation, in order to be saved?

Dear brothers and sisters, both Hebrew and Christian scriptures attest to the fact that a man's Salvation [as well as it's corresponding change of heart] is achieved thru sincere repentance, and not by recognizing Jesus as God's human incarnation. As is written: “No, I tell you! But unless you repent, you all will perish the same way... A person who conceals his sins will not prosper, but one who confesses and abandons them will receive mercy... so I declare my guilt, and I am troubled by my sin... The sacrifices God wants are a broken spirit. A broken and crushed heart, O God, you will not despise”- Luke 13:3, Proverbs 28:13, Psalm 38:18, & Psalm 51:17 (Evangelical Heritage version).

Yes, Jesus of Nazareth was indeed a powerful messenger of God; a man who deserves to be respected and acknowledged («They replied, “the things concerning Jesus of Nazareth, a man who was a prophet, mighty in deed and word before God and all the people”»- Luke 24:19, Evangelical Heritage version), but Jesus could literally save nobody, as he himself was in need of salvation [and you can't give what you don't have!]. As is written: "In the days of his flesh, he [Jesus] offered prayers and pleas with loud cries and tears to the one who was able to save him from death, and he was heard because of his reverence"- Hebrews 5:7, Evangelical Heritage version.

Thus, our ultimate worship [and devotion] must be reserved only for the Creator of the Universe (the God of Abraham); He whom Jesus himself declared to be his Father, as well as his God. As is written: «... But go to my brothers and tell them, "I am ascending to my Father and your Father—to my God and your God"»- John 20:17, Evangelical Heritage version. May the grace of He who dwelt in the burning bush be upon you all. Amen

The absurdity of God being a Holy Trinity

Christianity is a good and holy religion. But if we were to be brutally honest, we would have to admit that the Christian dogma of God being a Trinity is so absurd, that can almost be considered delusional. Why? Simply because, if the One true God encompasses three physically separated parts (YHVH the Father, Jesus the Son, and The Holy Spirit), then neither part is the real God, as only the total sum of them ("the Complete God") would qualify for such a title. In other words, neither the Father, the Son, nor the holy spirit can truthfully claim to be the all encompassing God.

In fact, the most they could do would be claiming to be a part of such God. Consider the example of a complete egg, which encompasses three separated parts (the shell, the yolk, and the white). Can the part consisting of the yolk truthfully claim to be the complete egg? Can the part consisting of the white truthfully claim to be the complete egg? Can the part consisting of the shell claim to be the complete egg? Of course not!

Thus, if the Trinity is true, then the most any Christian would be able to claim concerning Jesus (the alleged Son), is that he is "a part of God". Likewise, the most they could claim concerning YHVH (the Father) is that He too is a part of God. But the latter would be a denial of the Hebrew Scripture [which Christians accept as divinely inspired], where YHVH states that He is the One and only God, and not part of a greater total.

As is written: «This is what יהוה , the King of Israel and its Redeemer, the Lord of Armies, says: "I am the first [cause I have no Father preceding me], and I am the last [cause I have no Son who may outlive me]. There is no God but me [as I have no Brother who could be considered my equal]".... See now that I, even I, am he, and there is no god with me [cause there is no plurality within me- no other God sharing my Divinity]...» Isaiah 44:6, & Deuteronomy 32:39

Seguir un credo [o religión] que niega el gratuito perdón Divino, es seguir una vanidad ilusoria

"Pecado" no es otra cosa sino el sentido de separación que siente el hombre cuando se revela contra lo ordenado por el Creador (no robes, no mates, no mientas, no deshonres a tus padres, no explotes a los débiles e inocentes, no codicies lo ajeno, etc).

Pero, como el Creador es un Padre compasivo ("Como el padre se compadece de los hijos, Se compadece Dios de los que le temen"- Salmo 103:13), pues siempre está dispuesto a ofrecer su gratuita misericordia a todo aquel que la pide con un corazón contrito y humillado ("Los sacrificios de Dios son el espíritu quebrantado; Al corazón contrito y humillado no despreciarás tú, oh Dios"- Salmo 51:17; "El que encubre sus pecados no prosperará; Mas el que los confiesa y se aparta alcanzará misericordia"- Proverbios 28:13; "Quizá oiga la casa de Judá todo el mal que yo pienso hacerles, y se arrepienta cada uno de su mal camino, y yo perdonaré su maldad y su pecado"- Jeremías 36:3).

Así las cosas, cuando algún credo niega la gratuita misericordia Divina, reclamando en cambio que no hay perdón para el hombre que no cree primero en tal o cual persona [Moisés, Jesús, Pablo, Muhammad, Elena G. De White, etc]; en tal o cual libro [el Talmud, el Nuevo Testamento, el Qur'an, el Libro de Mormón, etc]; o en tal o cual religión [Judaísmo, Samaritanismo, Cristianismo, Islam, Adventismo, etc], sabemos entonces que tal credo (o religión) sigue la vanidad; pues se cumple en el la Escritura que dice: “Los que siguen vanidades ilusorias, Su Misericordia abandonan [es decir, renuncian al perdón gratuito que ofrece Dios a todo hombre]”- Jonás 2:8.

Pero la Escritura promete que llegara el día cuando quienes siguen estas vanidades, comprenderán finalmente lo extraviado de su proceder [siendo así libertados de su error]. Como esta escrito: «Oh יהוה , fortaleza mía y fuerza mía, y refugio mío en el tiempo de la aflicción, a ti vendrán naciones [gentiles] desde los extremos de la Tierra, y dirán: “Ciertamente mentira poseyeron nuestros padres, vanidad, y no hay en ellos provecho”»- Jeremías 16:19

Aunque representa a una noble religión, La teología Nazarena y/o Adventista requiere que cometamos un tipo de “suicidio intelectual”; uno que [eventualmente] nos conduce a rebelarnos contra el Creador

Aunque representa a una gran religión, la realidad es que la noble teología Cristiana requiere que sus adeptos cometan un tipo de “suicidio intelectual”; uno que les conduce a eventualmente rebelarse contra el Creador. Verá usted, aunque en efecto es un camino perfectamente válido para agradar al Creador (un Dios a quien la Escritura Hebrea identifica con el nombre de יהוה , “Adonai Yah”, o simplemente “Yah”), la teología Cristiana demanda que el creyente se abra a la crédula ingenuidad. ¿Por que? Pues porque la teología requiere un estado de conciencia que nos permita mirar la Escritura desde la crédula e ilusoria perspectiva que caracteriza a los niños. Y es por ello que los evangelios dicen: “De cierto os digo, que EL QUE NO RECIBA EL REINO DE DIOS COMO UN NIÑO, NO ENTRARÁ EN ÉL” (Marcos 10:15).

De hecho, el Evangelio afirma que, cuando de entender a Dios se trata, tener una mente sabia y entendida es en efecto un impedimento. Como está escrito: “Te alabo, Padre, Señor del cielo y de la tierra, PORQUE ESCONDISTE ESTAS COSAS DE LOS SABIOS Y DE LOS ENTENDIDOS, y las revelaste a los niños” (Mateo 11:25).

No solamente promueve un estado de ingenua insensatez, sino que la teología cristiana incluso alaba tal estado insensatez, presentándolo al creyente como el glorioso [y espiritual] cumplimiento de las Escrituras.

Como está escrito: “Yo os provocaré a celos con un pueblo que no es pueblo; CON PUEBLO INSENSATO OS PROVOCARÉ a ira” (Romanos 10:19). Y también dice: “Pero el hombre natural NO PERCIBE LAS COSAS QUE SON DEL ESPÍRITU DE DIOS, PORQUE PARA ÉL SON LOCURA, y no las puede entender, PORQUE SE HAN DE DISCERNIR ESPIRITUALMENTE” (1 Corintios 2:14).

De hecho, la teología cristiana hace de la insensatez y la locura algo infinitamente superior a cualquier sabiduría humana [¿como si el sentido común y el correcto conocimiento de Dios fuesen auto-excluyentes!]; presentándoles como el mas grande poder de Dios. Como está escrito: “Pues ya que en la sabiduría de Dios, EL MUNDO NO CONOCIÓ A DIOS MEDIANTE LA SABIDURÍA, AGRADÓ A DIOS SALVAR A LOS CREYENTES POR LA LOCURA DE LA PREDICACIÓN” (1 Corintios 1:21). Y en otro lado: “Porque LA PALABRA DE LA CRUZ ES LOCURA a los que se pierden; PERO A los que se salvan, esto es, a NOSOTROS, ES PODER DE DIOS” (1 Corintios 1:18).

Tristemente, el Cristianismo fue tan exitoso en engrandecer la insensatez y la credulidad, que [como dice un refrán] “se le fue la mano”. Es decir, al final tuvo que intentar “deshacer” aquella ingenuidad en la cual se habia excedido.

Y ese fue el motivo para que encontremos al apóstol Pablo (paz sea con él), reprendiendo a los creyentes de la iglesia de Corinto a causa de su inmaduro y fantasioso modo de pensar. Como esta escrito: «Hermanos, NO SEÁIS NIÑOS EN EL MODO DE PENSAR, SINO SED niños en la malicia, pero MADUROS EN EL MODO DE PENSAR» (1 Corintios 14:20).

¿Cual es el problema con todo esto? Pues que, al igual que sucede con toda extraviada doctrina [o ideología], su finalidad no es otra sino el que actuemos como lo haría Ha Satán (el “Opositor”)-- poniendo nuestro vano y fantasioso capricho por encima de la claramente expresada expresa voluntad del Dios de Abraham.

Es decir, la infantil credulidad promovida por el Cristianismo, conduce al cristiano a asumir [ingenuamente] posturas que en el fondo no son sino abierta rebeldía contra lo públicamente ordenado por Dios a Moisés.

Por ejemplo,

(1) Si יהוה dice que hay un solo Dios (Deut. 6:4), el Cristiano se opone a ello, y lo contradice diciendo (1 Juan 5:7) que Dios no es Uno, sino Tres [Padre, Hijo, y Espíritu Santo];

(2) Si יהוה dice que no desea que adoremos imágenes de nada de lo que está en los cielos (Deut. 5:8-9), el Cristiano lo contradice, diciendo (Colosenses 1:15) que Dios en efecto desea que adoremos una imagen celestial [a Jesús, quien es “la imagen” del Dios invisible];

(3) Si יהוה dice que debemos observar (descansar) el Día Sábado (Deut. 5:12-15), el Cristiano lo rebate diciendo que, la importancia del Sábado, pertenece ahora al Domingo (Hechos 20:7, y Marcos 16:9);

(4) Si יהוה ordena que amemos a nuestros padres (Deut. 5:16), viene el Cristianismo y cita a Jesús diciendo lo contrario: “Si alguno viene a mí, y no aborrece a su padre y madre.... no puede ser mi discípulo” (Lucas 14:26);

(5) Si יהוה dice que no debemos robar [es decir, no podemos prohibir que los pobres, y los que no tiene con qué alimentarse coman de las esquinas de nuestros cultivos, según Levítico 23:22], viene el Cristiano y lo contradice diciendo “Si alguno no quiere trabajar, tampoco coma” (2 Tesalonicenses 3:10);

(6) Si יהוה dice que no podemos comer cerdo, ratones, ni lagartos (Deut. 14:8, y Lev. 11:29-30), viene el Cristiano y lo contradice, citando el verso que dice: “De todo lo que se vende en la carnicería, comed...” (1 Corintios 10:25);

(7) Si יהוה dice que nunca debemos apartarnos de la Ley (Josué 1:8), el Cristiano lo contradice citando el pasaje que dice: “La Ley y los profetas eran hasta Juan” (Lucas 16:16);

(8) Si יהוה dice que los hijos no han de morir por el pecado de sus padres (Deut. 24:16), el cristiano le desmiente, alegando que, si morimos, es precisamente debido al pecado de nuestros padres Adán y Eva (1 Corintios 15:21-22, y Romanos 5:12-19);

(9) Si Dios dice que, si le amamos y guardamos sus mandamientos, Él tendrá misericordia de nosotros (Deut. 5:10), el cristiano viene y le contradice, alegando que nadie puede obtener la misericordia Divina (la salvación) por medio de la obediencia a los mandamientos (Gálatas 2:6, Efesios 2:9, y Gálatas 2:21).

«“Pride goes before destruction...”- Proverbs 16:18, English Standard Version»

Jesus predicted that the end times would be ripe with immoral Jewish behavior (Matthew 24:22, Luke 17:20-29), ¿Is such prediction in full agreement with Hebrew (Jewish and Samaritan) traditions?

According to the gospels, Jesus practiced a particular form of the Hebrew/Samaritan faith. Thus, it makes sense to think that he would stand for the sensible oral traditions circulating during his own lifetime. Concerning the homosexual lifestyle, Torah understand the weakness and frailty of human condition.

So, by demanding no less than two independent witnesses, God's law makes sure to punish only the public expression of homosexual behavior.

Why not punish the private expression? Because the fact that a Hebrew believer chooses to hide his homosexuality is taken to mean that he is ashamed of it (which is pleasing to the Almighty). Thus, the Holy One gives such believer ample room to work out his dilemma, keeping it a private thing between he and his Creator.

Now, concerning public homosexuality, Torah compares the [openly] Sodomite behavior with that of a dog, as it has been said: "There shall be no HARLOT of the daughters of Israel, neither shall there be a SODOMITE of the sons of Israel. Thou shalt not bring the hire of a HARLOT, or the price of a DOG, into the house of יהוה thy God for any vow; for even BOTH THESE ARE AN ABOMINATION UNTO יהוה THY GOD"- Deuteronomy 23:18-19, Jewish Publication society, 1917 edition.

Why would Torah use the image of a dog, in order to make such a humiliating comparison. Well, as public Homosexuality is such a grave sin, maybe Torah wants to be absolutely clear about its intended meaning. You see, being a holy text, Torah avoids the very mentioning of such a shameful thing as "Sodomy". Instead, the Hebrew text uses the word "קִדְשׁ" ("Kadesh") which is a variant of the word "kadosh" ("holiness", or "sanctified").

So, in order not to be misunderstood, Torah compares the former "sanctification" with that of a dog. Why? Because the dog isn't a kasher (pure) animal. In addition, the dog is often willing to feed from its own blood (bear in mind the way Eskimo catch wolves!), and even licks the generation organ (thereby alluding to the brazen impudence of the openly homosexual lifestyle).

Thus, it is no surprise that, describing the moral corruption that will manifest during the end times (the days of Messiah's coming) ancient Jewish sages predicted that the face of such generation would be like "the face of a dog". As it is written:

«... it has been taught, R. Judah said: in the generation when the son of David comes, the house of assembly will be for harlots, Galilee in ruins, Gablan lie desolate, the border inhabitants wander about from city to city, receiving no hospitality, the wisdom of scribes in disfavour, God-fearing men despised, people be dog-faced, and truth entirely lacking, as it is written, Yea, truth faileth, and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey. What is meant by 'yea, truth faileth [ne'edereth]'? — The Scholars of the School of Rab said: This teaches that it will split up into separate groups and depart. What is the meaning of 'and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey [mishtollel]'? — The School of R. Shila said: He who departs from evil will be dubbed a fool by his fellow-men.»

– Babylonian Talmud, Tractate Sanhedrin 97a

Should men wearing female clothes be allowed in the temple?

Letting men dressed as women be part of the Temple's worship service? How could a congregation's worship to the Holy One be sincere, when [at the same time] they let one in their midst to openly rebel against the God being worshiped (breaking His stern command for male not to wear female attires, as per Deuteronomy 22:5)? Wouldn't such men become anathema («for thus saith יהוה, the God of Israel: "There is a curse in the midst of thee, O Israel; thou canst not stand before thine enemies, until ye take away the accursed thing from among you»)- Joshua 7:13)?

Besides, if [though well intended] Nadab and Abihu (two holy priests ministering in the Tabernacle) where punished for the sin of [while intoxicated] offering a fire God had not commanded, how much greater will the punishment be for he who hypocritically pretends to show submission to the Almighty, while brazenly doing the very abominable thing He has clearly forbidden? (“A woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither shall a man put on a woman's garment; for whosoever doeth these things is an abomination unto יהוה thy God”- Deuteronomy 22:5). Therefore, any transsexual showing up for worship should be told that Samaritan (Hebrew) service isn't for everybody, as it demands the kind of submission few are able to handle-- that the attendant wear modest and proper attires; that they take off their shoes [at the entrance]; that there be no sex inducing activity, no yelling, and no foul language; that women cover their head, and be physically separated from men; that everyone seats on the floor [upon floor mats]; and that there be no recording, no pictures, and no phone calls. After letting them know the former, all men dressed as women [or women dressed as men] should be asked to go back home, and return only when ready to comply with the former worship rules.

“Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!”- Isaiah 5:20, American Standard Version

“A nation with no regard for God's moral Law (in other words, for God's Ten Commandments) will have no solid baseline for morality. And, in the end, such nation will get so lost in it's flawed human reasoning that will no longer be able to tell apart right from wrong; up from down, nor wisdom from foolishness. In fact, it might go as far as having it's intelligent people banned from speaking, so as not to offend it's retarded population. Likewise, it might prevent open moral behavior, so as not to offend it's immoral citizens”

¿Que representa el personaje Bíblico conocido como “Labán”?

Aunque Labán (un nombre Hebreo que literalmente significa “el Blanco”) era parte de la familia del patriarca Abraham [y por ende parte del pueblo escogido], la Escritura le presenta como la encarnacion [o “paradigma”] de la persona rica, poderosa, saludable, e inteligente que, no sirviendo al Dios de Israel, termina convirtiéndose en un ser peligrosamente engañoso y oportunista. Y esto a su vez no era sino una alegoria profética de lo que, al final de los tiempos, sucedería con la raza “Blanca”.

Es que, si somos brutalmente honestos, tendremos que admitir que la realidad histórica ha sido que, con muy contadas excepciones, la raza Blanca (Griegos, Romanos, Persas, Españoles, Británicos, Franceses, Belgas, Hungaros, Alemanes, Rusos, etc) no solamente ha demostrado ser prepotente, arrogante, vana, y oportunista; sino que, en adición, ha sido experta en vender unos tipos de sofismos (o “juegos mentales”) que, aunque a primera vista aparentan ser inofensivos, en el fondo buscan la subjugación ideológica de las razas y naciones incautas [ideas tales como “igualitarismo”, “inclusivismo”, “pluralismo”, “espacios seguros”, “derechos humanos”, “corrección política”, “ideología de género”, etc].

Y es por esto que, según advierte la Escritura [por medio del engaño sufrido por Jacob a manos de Labán], nunca se debe confiar ciegamente en la raza Anglo-sajona, sino que esta debe primero “ganar” nuestro respeto y confianza, demostrando fuera de toda duda la sinceridad y transparencia de sus propósitos.

God never expected our perfect obedience; Instead, He rewards our good works, while punishing those works for which we have not made confession and restitution

Our dear brothers and sisters, the Almighty makes you free to follow whatever religion you may prefer (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Samaritanism, etc). But the fact remains that [regardless of the faith you ultimately choose to follow], in the end, you’ll be judged by “your fruits” (your works)--receiving the same goodness [or evil] you have willingly “planted” upon your fellow creatures. Whence we know the former to be true? We know it from king Jehu. For Jehu obeyed God (bringing punishment upon Ahab’s wicked house, as well as upon the murderous cult of Baal), and was therefore rewarded with the promise of having his children sitting upon his throne for the next four generations.

Yet, since Jehu caused the death of Ahab’s children (thereby violating the command forbidding us to kill the children for the sins of their parents), he was also punished. As it has been said:

«Fathers are not to be put to death for their children, and children are not to be put to death for their fathers; each person will be put to death for his own sin... So Jehu slew all that remained of the house of Ahab in Jezreel, and all his great men, and his kinsfolks, and his priests, until he left him none remaining... Nevertheless, the Lord said to Jehu, “Because you have done well in carrying out what is right in my sight and have done to the house of Ahab all that was in my heart, four generations of your sons will sit on the throne of Israel”... Then the Lord said... “in a little while I will bring the bloodshed of Jezreel on the house of Jehu and put an end to the kingdom of the house of Israel”»- Deuteronomy 24:16, 2 Kings 10:11, 2 Kings 10:30, Hosea 1:4.

What was the right way for Jehu to proceed? He should have done as king Joash, of whom we are told the following: «And it came to pass, as soon as the kingdom was confirmed in his hand, that he [Joash] slew his servants which had slain the king his father. But the children of the murderers he slew not: according unto that which is written in the book of the Law of Moses, wherein the lord commanded, saying, “the fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children be put to death for the fathers; but every man shall be put to death for his own sin”»- 2 Kings 14:5-6.

May God’s peace be upon you all!

¿Es indispensable tener el Espíritu Santo, a fin de obtener el favor Divino?

La Ley Divina exalta a Noé como el único hombre lo suficientemente justo como para ser salvo de la ira Divina que pesaba sobre su generación. Sin embargo, no se nos dice en ninguna parte que Noé halla jamas recibido una manifestación sobrenatural del Espíritu Santo, Y lo mismo podría decirse acerca de Job, cuya justicia era tan grande que el Creador mismo la proclama en los cielos («Y יהוה dijo a Satanás: “¿No has considerado a mi siervo Job, que no hay otro como él en la tierra, varón perfecto y recto, temeroso de Dios y apartado del mal?”»- Job 1:8).

Por el otro lado, el rey Salomón tenía en efecto el Espíritu Santo, pues fue por la inspiración de este ultimo que logro escribir tres libros de la Biblia Hebrea [Proverbios, Eclesiastés, y Cantares]. Pero, a pesar de tener un Espíritu Santo que le capacitaba para ser la boca y la pluma del Creador, Salomón terminó adorando ídolos (“Entonces edificó Salomón un lugar alto a Quemos, ídolo abominable de Moab, en el monte que está enfrente de Jerusalén, y a Moloc, ídolo abominable de los hijos de Amón”- 1 Reyes 11:17).

Y lo mismo se nos dice acerca de David, a quien el Espíritu Santo inspiro para escribir la mayoría de los Salmos. Pero, a pesar de ello, David terminó adulterando y asesinando a su prójimo inocente. Finalmente, se nos habla de un profeta que sale de Betel para, por el Espíritu Santo, hacer el milagro de quebrar un altar pagano y profetizar contra el Rey Jeroboam. Pero, aun así, el profeta termina siendo devorado por un león (“El varón de Dios es, que fue rebelde al mandato de יהוה; por tanto, יהוה le ha entregado al león, que le ha quebrantado y matado, conforme a la palabra de יהוה que él le dijo”- 1 Reyes 13:26). ¿Y por que le devora el león? Pues porque el profeta creyó la mentira que le seducía a dejar de lado el mandamiento Divino (no volver por el mismo camino).

Así, la escritura Hebrea es clara en mostrar que el favor Divino no esta en tener el Espíritu Santo, en hacer milagros, ni en profetizar; esta en cambio en obedecer los inmutables mandamientos Divinos, en apartarnos de la maldad, de la mentira que nos adula, de la obstinación, y de la rebeldía (“Porque como pecado de adivinación es la rebelión, y como ídolos e idolatría la obstinación. Por cuanto tú desechaste la palabra de יהוה, él también te ha desechado...”- 1 Samuel 15:23).

Y lo anterior fue también intimado por el Nazareno, cuando el evangelio le cita diciendo que muchos de quienes alegan hacer milagros y prodigios (por el Espíritu Santo) terminarán perdiéndose. ¿Por que? Pues porque eran hacedores de maldad. Como esta escrito: «Muchos me dirán en aquel día: “Señor, Señor, ¿no profetizamos en tu nombre, y en tu nombre echamos fuera demonios, y en tu nombre hicimos muchos milagros?” Y entonces les declararé: “Nunca os conocí; apartaos de mí, hacedores de maldad”»- Mateo 7:22-23, Reina-Valera 1960.

Y las anteriores palabras son corroboradas por figuras como la del difunto evangelista Paul Cain (que en paz descanse)-- un evangelista cristiano cuyo ministerio estuvo caracterizado por poderosas manifestaciones del Espíritu Santo; por sorprendentes milagros y prodigios; por sanidades; por conocimiento sobrenatural; por profecías, etc.

Pero, a pesar de ello, y luego de su partida, salio a la luz publica el que [a pesar de siempre haber predicado en contra de ello] el Sr. Cain había sido borracho y homosexual hasta el día mismo de su muerte.

¿Y que diremos del tele-evangelista Ravi Zacharias (que en paz descanse), quien a pesar de enseñar el evangelio en todas las naciones, fue siempre un secreto depredador sexual? ¿Que el Creador tenga misericordia de nuestras vidas!

Don't worship humans of flesh and blood (nor their human religious institutions); worship instead the goodness that pleases the Creator

“But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith יהוה (the Lord)”— Jeremiah 9:24, King James Version...

What is true religion? True religion is to enjoin goodness, while shunning away evil. As it has been said: “Turn away from evil! Do good!... To fear יהוה (the Lord) is to hate evil. I hate pride and arrogance, the path of evil and corrupt speech... Hate evil, love good, and establish justice... Those of you who love the Lord, hate evil!... The road of those who do right turns away from evil...”- Psalm 37:27, Proverbs 8:13, Amos 5:14, Psalm 97:10, Proverbs 16:17- Common English Bible. What is goodness? To love objective truth, honesty, charity, selflessness, fair justice, mercy, humility and peace. And what is evil? The stubborn rebellion of embracing self-deception, greedy opportunism, selfishness, injustice, cruelty, pride, and strife.

What is Reformed Samaritans most important tenet?

Reformed Samaritanism main tenet is the simple and common sense idea that we must strive to do all the goodness we possibly can. Why? Because, regardless of our religious (or secular) ideas, and given the fact that the Universe is bounded by the unavoidable Law of “Sowing and Reaping” (also known as “eye for an eye”, “action and reaction”, “cause and effect”, “what goes round comes around”, etc.), it stands to reason that all the goodness we are allowed to “plant” today, tomorrow we will likewise be allowed to “reap”.

And Hebrew Scripture bears witness to this common sense extrapolation, when it goes on to say: «A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth: and the recompence of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him... and he that watereth shall be watered also himself... as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee: thy reward shall return upon thine own head... for Thou renderest to every man according to his work... Therefore hearken unto me ye men of understanding: far be it from God, that he should do wickedness; and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity. For the work of a man shall He render unto him, and cause every man to find according to his ways... as I have done, so God hath requited me...”- Proverbs 12:14, Proverbs 11:25, Obadiah 1:15, Psalm 62:12, Job 34:10-11, Judges 1:7.

In fact Christian Scripture also seems to agree with the moral applicability of the “sowing and reaping” principle, when it goes on to say: “Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven: Give, and it shall be given unto you... For with the same measure that ye mete withal, it shall be measured to you again"- Luke 6:37-38.

If God's Law foretells no one would die for the sins of other men ("... every man shall be put to death for his own sin... every one shall die for his own iniquity..." - Deut. 24:16 & Jeremiah 31:30, K.J.B.), and later comes the Gospel, pretending to deny what the Law has already said ("... that Christ died for our sins..." - 1 Corinthians 15:3), then the bitter dispute between Torah believers and Gospel believers is finally settled, and there's nothing else to discuss. Why? Because the truth revealed by God's Law is final and irrevocable, as the Law cannot be altered, nor abrogated ("Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it..." - Deut. 4:2). And the Gospel seems to confirm this, when it quotes Jesus saying the following: "... and the Scripture (God's Law) cannot be broken"- John 10:35

Finally, the Muslim Qur'an also seems to agree with the idea that he who sows goodness should reasonable expect to reap goodness. As it has been said: "Whosoever does right, whether male or female, and is a believer, verily we shall give them a good life, and We shall pay them a recompense in proportion to the best of what they used to do." (Qur'an, 16:97).

Thus, we find that the holy writings of both Hebrew, Christian, Muslim and Samaritan believers point toward the same all encompassing truth: That, whether it be directly or indirectly, the Creator promises to reward all the goodness we have performed.

Therefore, if we want to reap forgiveness, we must first sow forgiveness; If we want to reap mercy, we must first sow mercy; If we want to reap blessing and relief, we must first sow blessing and relief; If we want to reap justice and deliverance, we must first sow justice and deliverance.

As it has been said: "Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land: But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it"- Isaiah 1:16-20

Was Paul (the Christian apostle) a deceptive person?

The apostle Paul (may peace and blessings be upon him) seems to have been a noble and well intended person. But were Paul's theological viewpoints deceptive and/or misleading? In other words, was he [unknowingly] lying? Was Paul somehow accursed, for the sin of encouraging other people to stray away from God's Law (God's ten Supreme Commandments)? How can we know for sure the answer to such a difficult question? Fortunately for us, Paul himself seems to have [again, unknowingly] provided us with the answer.

How so? Well, the New Testament quotes the apostle stating that "the end of each one will be according to his works" ("...Their end will be according to their works"- 2 Corinthians 11:15)? And, if the former is indeed true [and not just a lie coming out of Paul's pen] then one just has to wonder, "What was Paul's personal end?"; Did he experience the end of a truthful and righteous person? Or did he experience instead the end of a wicked man? Was he [at the end] rewarded like righteous Moses (who enjoyed the privilege of having the Creator personally attend to his burial, not letting any unclean human hands touch Moses holy body)?

Was Paul rewarded like righteous Elijah (to whom God sent a chariot of fire, in order to take him like royalty up to the heavens)? Or was he instead punished like wicked king Saul (who suffered a cruel death at the hands of his pagan enemies)? Well, history tells us that Paul was indeed jailed in a foreign prison, and was eventually beheaded by his Pagan (Roman) enemies.

But the fact is that Torah provides no record of any pious Hebrew prophet ever being beheaded by any Pagan enemies of Israel. In fact, Jesus himself states that it isn't possible for a prophet to die outside Jerusalem [let alone in a foreign land]. As is written: "... for it cannot be that a prophet perish outside Jerusalem" - Luke 13:33.

Why then would God allow Paul to be beheaded by Pagans, in a foreign land? The reason for the former might be the Divine Law of "sowing and reaping" ("As thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee..."- Obadiah 1:15, KJV). In other words, since Paul had led his followers to embrace the life of Pagan's (a lifestyle with no regard for God's Law), it was only just that Paul should have been led to embraced the death of a Pagan-- an unlawful death upon a Pagan (foreign) land.

And what has been Christianity's response to Paul's questionable end? Curiously, the Christian response had been foretold [by Torah] centuries earlier. You see, the book of Judges tells us that God's ark [containing the Law] was taken to a foreign land (the land of the Philistines, according to 1 Samuel 5:2). Once there, the ark was placed inside a pagan temple-- deceptively portrayed as being "by the side" of a deceptive thing (Dagon). This angered God so much that He made sure the deceptive thing (Dagon) ended up beheaded. As is written:

"And when they arose early on the morrow morning, behold, Dagon was fallen upon his face to the ground before the ark of the Lord; and the head of Dagon and both the palms of his hands were cut off upon the threshold..."- 1 Samuel 5:4. Notice the parallelism!... Just as, by Dagon's beheading, God made clear it would be wrong for us to think He was actually "on Dagon's side"; likewise, by means of Paul's beheading, God made clear that it would be wrong for us to think the Creator was on Paul's side. Curiously, history tell us that half of Dagon's body was that of a man, while the other half was that of a fish.

And the former evokes Paul, as well as the typical [early] Christian evangelist, who would identify himself with the sign of a fish [in remembrance of he who said, "... Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men"- Matthew 4:19, KJV].

Finally, instead of acknowledging God's judgment upon Dagon, for not showing proper submission to God's ark [symbol of God's Holy Law, which was stored inside the ark], the Pagans decided to "sanctify Dagon's fall". In other words, to pretend that the whole incident of Dagon's falling beheaded upon the threshold had nothing to do with punishment, but was rather a wonderful thing; one for which Dagon should be even more honored, respected, and admired.

As is written: "Therefore neither the priests of Dagon, nor any that come into Dagon's house, tread on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod unto this day"- 1 Samuel 5:4, KJV. Likewise, instead of acknowledging God's [beheading] judgment upon Paul [for not showing proper submission to God's Law], Christian believers choose to "sanctify Paul's fall"; stubbornly portraying it as a wonderful thing-- something for which Paul [as well as his corresponding message] should be even more honored, respected, and admired.

May the God of Abraham have mercy of Paul's soul, as well as of all of us. Amen.

Reformed Samaritanism

The apostle Paul was well intended, but his "salvation by faith" theology was grossly misleading

Christian theology concerning salvation by faith in Jesus [and without the need to obey God's Law] is base upon Paul's personal interpretation of the latter, as Paul was absolutely convinced that the Almighty demands our perfect obedience to His Law: «For as many as are of the works of the Law are under the curse: for it is written [In Deuteronomy 27:26], "Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the Law to do them"»- Galatians 3:10, KJB.

What's the problem with Paul's interpretation? Well, the problem is that Paul translation of the verse is biased and misleading. Why? Because the Hebrew text literally says the following: "Arur asher lo yakim et d'vrey ha-torah ha-zot la-asot otam..." ("Being cursed whoever not he upholds words of torah the this to do them..."). Notice how Paul's interpretation hinges upon the expression "in all things" ("ha kol"), but the latter expression is in fact an arbitrary addition; one that is missing from the Hebrew text. Yet, even if the verse had included the expression "in all things", we would not be able to use it as a demand for perfect obedience. Why? Because Scripture states elsewhere: "Defile not ye yourselves in any of these things: for in all these [things] the nations are defiled which I cast out before you..."- Leviticus 18:24, KJB.

In other words, if we were to use Deut. 27:26 as a justification for the belief that "obedience" ("saving purification") can only mean obedience in all things, then we would have to use Lev. 18:24 as a justification for the belief that "disobedience" (or "condemning defilement") can only means disobedience in all things (something that is obviously absurd!)

¡El evangelio Cristiano cita a Jesús (paz y bendición sean con el) confesando no ser el Mesías (o, "hijo de David") esperado por los Judíos

El Cristianismo es una noble y hermosa fe. Y no cabe duda alguna que, todo cristiano piadoso, tendrá una buena parte en el Mundo que ha de venir. Pero cuando de teología se trata, la realidad es que el Evangelio presenta a Jesús (paz y bendición sean con el) corrigiendo un grave error teológico de los Fariseos, como esta escrito: «Pues si David llama [al Mesías] Señor, ¿cómo es su hijo?»- Mateo 22:45.

Es que los Fariseos afirmaban que el Mesías seria un descendiente directo [o "un hijo"] de David. ¿Que razón tendría Jesús para oponerse a esa idea? Pues, la razón, era muy lógica y sencilla: es que la Ley contaba la genealogía de los Israelitas a partir de la genealogía paterna [y nunca la genealogía materna].

Es decir, para que Jesús pudiese haber sido "hijo de David", su padre tenía que haber sido un descendiente biológico de David. Pero, esto último, descalificaba a Jesús de ser ningún Mesías, pues Jesús reclamaba ser un hijo directo de Dios [y no de José, ni de ningún otro Israelita]. Y, ya que Jesús no tuvo un padre Israelita, no solamente estaba descalificado de ser hijo de David, sino que nunca podría reinar sobre Israel, pues no era “hermano” [biológico] de los Israelitas.

Es que la Ley ordenaba diciendo: «de entre tus hermanos [biológicos] pondrás rey sobre ti; no podrás poner sobre ti a hombre extranjero, que no sea tu hermano»- Deuteronomio 17:15.

Como si lo anterior fuera poco, la genealogía de Jesús descrita en el pasaje de Mateo 1:11-12 enseña que Jesús era descendiente del Rey Jeconías; un Rey maldito de quien se profetizó que ninguno de sus descendientes sería digno de sentarse en el Trono de David su Padre. Como esta escrito: «¿Es ESTE HOMBRE CONÍAS [EL REY JECONÍAS] una vasija despreciada y quebrada? ¿Es un trasto que nadie estima? ¿Por qué fueron arrojados él y su generación, y echados a tierra que no habían conocido? ¡Tierra, tierra, tierra! oye palabra de יהוה. ASÍ HA DICHO יהוה: ESCRIBID LO QUE SUCEDERÁ A ESTE HOMBRE privado de descendencia, hombre a quien nada próspero sucederá en todos los días de su vida; porque NINGUNO DE SU DESCENDENCIA LOGRARÁ SENTARSE SOBRE EL TRONO DE DAVID, NI REINAR SOBRE JUDÁ»- Jeremías 22:28-30.

¿Que es el Pecado?

¿Que es pecado? Pecado, es tener el poder y la determinación para impedir que nuestro potencial para hacer el mal triunfe sobre nuestro potencial para hacer el bien, ¡pero aún así hacer lo malo!

Y, este voluntario consentimiento para que el mal de nuestras vidas triunfe sobre el Bien de nuestras vidas, crea un vacío en nuestras almas; la poderosa e intolerable conciencia de sentir que en efecto estamos “desnudos” [es decir, separados y alejados de Dios]. ¿A que se debe esto? Pues a que estamos hechos a imagen y semejanza del Creador.

¿Y que es el Creador? Pues es el infinito que incluye dentro de si mismo todas las cosas, ¡tanto las buenas como las malas! Pero, esto último, no significa que el Creador sea “malo”; pues, la manifestación de su voluntad (es decir, “su presencia”) siempre hace que, al final de todo, el bien triunfe sobre el mal; que la vida triunfe sobre la muerte; que la misericordia triunfe sobre el Juicio; que la luz triunfe sobre las tinieblas; y que el orden triunfe sobre el desorden.

Como está escrito: “¿Quién será aquel que diga que sucedió algo que el Señor no mando? ¿De la boca del Altísimo, no sale lo malo y lo bueno?”- Lamentaciones 3:37-38; “Porque Él es quien hace la herida, y Él la vendará; Él hiere, y sus manos curan”- Job 5:8; “Antes, si aflige, también se compadece según la multitud de sus misericordias; porque no aflige ni entristece voluntariamente a los hijos de los hombres”- Lamentaciones 3:32-33; “Y la Tierra estaba desordenada y vacía, y las tinieblas estaban sobre la faz del abismo, y el Espíritu de Dios se movía sobre la faz de las aguas. Y dijo Dios: sea la Luz; y fue la Luz. Y vio Dios que la Luz era buena; y separo Dios la Luz de las tinieblas”- Génesis 1:2-4.

Así, cuando el hombre hace que el bien que mora en su interior venza al mal que mora en su interior, siente que “la presencia” del Creador se manifiesta en su vida [haciéndolo de este modo sentirse unido al orden Divino del Universo].

Pero, cuando deja que, el mal que mora en su interior venza al bien que mora en su interior, y que su desobediencia venza a su obediencia, entonces se siente solo y “desnudo”; pues siente que, su conexión con el orden Divino [es decir, con la manifestación de la presencia Divina], ha dejado de existir.

Es que, en el idioma moral en el que nos habla la Escritura Hebrea, el pecado y la muerte son una misma cosa-- la lejanía de Dios que produce el tratar de oponernos a lo establecido por el Creador. ¿Y cual es la cura Divina para esta lejanía de Dios? Pues la conversión; es decir, la confesión que produce obediencia y restitución.

Como está escrito: “Mi pecado te declararé, y no encubrí mi iniquidad. Dije: Confesaré mis transgresiones a יהוה; Y tú perdonaste la maldad de mi pecado”- Salmo 32:5; «aquella persona confesará el pecado que cometió, y compensará enteramente el daño»- Números 5:7

Christianity is awesome religion! But Christian theology is seriously flawed, as salvation isn't according to Genesis 3:15 (salvation by faith in a coming Messiah), but rather according to Genesis 2:15 (Salvation by faith in God's perfect justice, which lets everyone “reap” what he has willingly “planted”)

God's Law teaches that, when God created Adam, He immediately made him start planting a garden, as is written: “So יהוה God took the man, and put him in the garden of Eden, to till it and keep it” - Genesis 2:15.

But, why? Was there not enough food in the world to satisfy Adam’s nutritional needs? Why did God give top priority to Adam’s tilling the garden? Were there no other things much more important than agriculture? For example, God could have given him a Bible, so he could learn how to be [in the future] saved from sin.

Could it be instead that God wanted to teach Adam [symbol of all mankind] that, the very first thing any man must know is that all life in this World is subject to “the Law of sowing and reaping”?

That if he sows goodness and blessing, the same goodness and blessing will eventually come back to bless him (regardless of race or creed)?

That if he sows evil, he won't be able to avoid having to "reap" the same evil he has planted? That if he gives honor and respect, he too will be given honor and respect? That if he forgives other peoples faults, his own faults will also be forgiven?

That if he shows patience and mercy, he too will be shown patience and mercy? “Sowing, and reaping”; “Cause, and effect”; “Action, and reaction”; “What goes around, comes round”; This is the first and foremost of all Divine principles; the greatest of all Divine truths-- To do unto others the same goodness we would like to be done unto us.

As is correctly ascribed to "the Good Samaritan": “So, all the things that you want men to do with you, so do you with them; because this ["sowing and reaping"]is the Law and the Prophets”- Matthew 7:12.

Apart from this, every other religious tenet (who the Messiah is, who has the right theological interpretation, when will the end of the World come, etc) is just optional commentary. May peace and blessings be upon you!

Si la Ley de Dios es correcta, entonces toda porción del Evangelio que la contradiga, deber ser errada

Estimados hermanos y amigos, si la Ley de Dios es correcta, entonces toda porción del Evangelio que la contradiga, deber ser errada y/o falsa. ¿Por que? Pues porque un estudio detallado de la Sagrada Escritura muestra que, "el Brit Ha-dasha" (el Santo Evangelio) no posee el mismo grado de inspiración Divina que posee la Ley de Dios (la "Torah"). Es que la Ley de Dios dice así: “Cuidarás de hacer todo lo que yo te mando; no añadirás a ello, ni de ello quitarás” (Deut. 12:32). Y lo anterior significa que, la veracidad del Antiguo Testamento (la Ley), no dependía en lo absoluto de nada de lo que pudiese añadir [o quitar] algún futuro libro (como sería el caso con el “Nuevo Testamento”); y significa también que, la veracidad de la Ley de Moisés, no dependía para nada de la veracidad de una futura “Ley de Cristo”. En cambio, la veracidad del N.T. (el Evangelio), depende absolutamente de la veracidad del A.T. (la Ley); ¿Por que? Pues porque, no es la Ley, la que alega ser el cumplimiento del Evangelio; sino que, es el Evangelio, el que alega ser el cumplimiento de la Ley (“No penséis que he venido para abrogar la Ley o los Profetas; no he venido para abrogar, sino para cumplir”- Mateo 5:17). Así las cosas, siempre que el Evangelio diga algo que contradiga [o difiera de] la Ley, la lógica nos fuerza a asumir que, es el Evangelio [y no la Ley], quien esta equivocado. ¿Por que? Pues porque, si el Evangelio “no cumple” lo dicho y ordenado en la Ley, entonces sería ridículo reclamar que el Evangelio es “el cumplimiento” de la Ley. Por ejemplo, si la Ley dice que Dios no es literalmente un hombre (“DIOS NO ES HOMBRE, para que mienta, NI HIJO DE HOMBRE para que se arrepienta... PORQUE DIOS SOY, Y NO HOMBRE, el Santo en medio de ti...”- Números 23:19, & Oseas 11:9), y en adición dice que nadie puede morir por el pecado ajeno (“Los padres no morirán por los hijos, ni los hijos por los padres; CADA UNO MORIRÁ POR SU [PROPIO] PECADO... SINO QUE CADA CUAL MORIRÁ POR SU PROPIA MALDAD...”- Deut. 24:16, Jeremías 31:30); pero luego viene el Evangelio, y no solamente reclama que Dios es en efecto el hombre llamado Jesús (“Aguardando la esperanza bienaventurada, y la manifestación gloriosa de NUESTRO GRAN DIOS Y SALVADOR JESUCRISTO”- Tito 2:13), sino que también alega que Jesús murió por el pecado ajeno (“Porque primeramente os he enseñado lo que asimismo recibí: Que CRISTO MURIÓ POR NUESTROS PECADOS...”- 1 Corintios 15:3), entonces no nos queda otro remedio sino asumir que, la Ley dice la Verdad, mientras que el Evangelio no la dice. ¿Por que no dice verdad el Evangelio? Pues porque, su reclamo, “no cumple” lo dicho por la Ley (que es el alegato sobre el cual se fundamenta la alegada veracidad del Evangelio). ¡Paz sea con vosotros!

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

The apostle Paul was a good and holy man; but in his desperate need for recognition, Paul was forced to make a bold attempt to cleanse his hands from the Christian blood he had formerly shed as an enemy of the Church. Thus, Paul started to toy with the idea that, what he had done in the past, really wasn't relevant. Why? Because according to him, God's favor isn't the result of our good or bad actions; rather, it is solely the result of our faith. Thus, this brazen [and blasphemous] idea began to catch up, and modern Christianity now calls it "Salvation by Faith". Unfortunately for Paul, God's Law refutes such nonsensical notion, as [according to Deuteronomy Chapter 28], the believer's well being is the direct result of his obedience [or disobedience] to God's commandments. In addition, Scripture states that, if King David wasn't allowed the honor of building God's Temple (which in early Christianity would have amounted to building the Church body- something Paul so desperately wanted to do) it was precisely because, just as it had happened to Paul, David's hands were stained with blood ("You have shed much blood and waged great wars. You are not to build a House for my name, because you have shed so much blood on the ground before me"- 1 Chronicles 22:8, Christian Standard Bible)

Regardless of your personal religion, if you fear God and do what is just, merciful, and humble, you will end up safe

The book of Psalms goes on to teach the following: “Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace. But the transgressors shall be destroyed together: the end of the wicked shall be cut off”- Psalm 37:37-38.

Concerning this subject, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, just as it happened to prophet Elisha, if a man fears God’s judgment, and therefore does that which is just, humble, and morally upright, not even an opposing army will be able to do him harm.

As is written: “And he answered, Fear not: for they that be with us are more than they that be with them. And Elisha prayed, and said, Lord, I pray thee, open his eyes, that he may see. And the Lord opened the eyes of the young man; and he saw: and, behold, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire round about Elisha” - 2 kings 6:16-17).

Conversely, regardless of his personal theology, and just as it happened to king Ahav, if a man has no fear of God’s judgment, and therefore insists upon doing what is patently unjust, arrogant, and morally twisted, he will find that neither his wisdom, his courage, nor even his own personal army will be able to spare him from harm.

As is written: «... And [Ahav] the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, “I will disguise myself, and enter into the battle; but put thou on thy robes”. And the king of Israel disguised himself, and [boldly] went into the battle [in the midst of his army]... And a certain man drew a bow AT A VENTURE, and smote the king of Israel between the joints of the harness... and the king was stayed up in his chariot against the Syrians, and died at even...» - 2 Kings 22:30, 34, & 35).

Yeshua (Jesús), no podía redimir literalmente a nadie. ¿Por que? ¡Pues porque el relato Evangélico le presenta como un hombre injusto, cruel, y altanero!

El “Brit Ha dashah” (el “Nuevo Pacto”) es bueno, pues llama a los hombres al arrepentimiento y las buenas obras. Pero la cruda realidad es que los evangelios presentan al Nazareno (paz y bendición sean con él) como un personaje bipolar; un hombre que, por un lado, podía decir las cosas más nobles, misericordiosas, y humildes. Pero, por otro lado, podía decir las cosas más injustas, más crueles, y más altaneras que podamos imaginar.

-- El evangelio presenta a Jesús como injusto, cuando alega que Jesús no creía que los amos debiesen ser agradecidos por el bien que les hacían sus siervos; como está escrito- «¿Quién de vosotros, teniendo un siervo que ara o apacienta ganado, al volver él [es decir, el siervo] del campo, luego le dice: Pasa, siéntate a la mesa? ¿No le dice más bien: Prepárame la cena, cíñete, y sírveme hasta que haya comido y bebido; y después de esto, come y bebe tú? ¿ACASO DA GRACIAS AL SIERVO PORQUE HIZO LO QUE SE LE HABÍA MANDADO? PIENSO QUE NO»- Lucas 17:7-9.

-- El evangelio presenta a Jesús como cruel, cuando alega que Jesús tildó de “perra” [¿prostituta?] a una pobre y desesperada madre gentil, que luchaba por obtener algún alivio para su amada y angustiada hija; como está escrito- «Y he aquí UNA MUJER CANANEA que había salido de aquella región CLAMABA, DICIÉNDOLE: ¡Señor, Hijo de David, ten misericordia de mí! MI HIJA ES GRAVEMENTE ATORMENTADA POR UN DEMONIO... RESPONDIENDO ÉL (JESÚS), DIJO: NO ESTÁ BIEN TOMAR EL PAN DE LOS HIJOS, Y ECHARLO A LOS PERRILLOS. Y ella dijo: Sí, Señor; pero aun los perrillos comen de las migajas que caen de la mesa de sus amos»- Mateo 15:21-27.

-- El evangelio presenta al Galileo como Altanero, cuando le cita diciendo que “nadie iba a Dios” si no era por medio de Jesús; como está escrito- «Jesús le dijo: Yo soy el camino, y la verdad, y la vida;

NADIE VIENE AL PADRE, SINO POR MÍ»- Juan 14:6. ¿Por que es altanero este reclamo? Pues porque, solamente una persona orgullosa [que piensa que nadie conoce la Escritura mejor que ella] tendría la desfachatez de atreverse a engañar a los Judíos con un reclamo tan fatulo y superficial. ¿Por que? Pues porque la Ley mostraba claramente que Moisés fue a Dios [¡y Dios vino a Moisés!] sin necesidad de Jesús, de Pablo, de Pedro, ni de ningún otro intermediario; como esta escrito: «Y MOISÉS SUBIÓ A DIOS...»- Éxodo 19:3; Y también dice: «Entonces יהוה [DIOS] DIJO A MOISÉS: “HE AQUÍ, YO VENGO A TI ...”»- Éxodo 19:19.

--De igual modo, la Escritura Hebrea desmiente que Jesús haya sido “la verdad”; pues enseña que la Verdad esta en la Ley, y no en ningún hombre de carne y hueso, como esta escrito: «Tu Justicia es justicia eterna, ¿Y tu Ley? ¡La Verdad!»- Salmo 119:142.

--Finalmente, la Escritura desmiente que Jesús sea “El Camino”, pues enseña que “el Camino” son los [diez] mandamientos de la Ley; como esta escrito: «Y enseña a ellos LAS ORDENANZAS Y LAS LEYES, y muéstrales [así] EL CAMINO POR DONDE DEBEN ANDAR»- Éxodo 18:20; Y la Escritura también lo confirma en otro lugar, cuando dice: «Por EL CAMINO DE TUS MANDAMIENTOS correré...»- Salmo 119:32.

En resumen, el “Brit Hadasha” (los Evangelios cristianos) presentan como el redentor del Mundo a un Jesús que, a la misma vez que alega ser noble y santo, es un hombre injusto, cruel, y altanero, que niega las verdades reveladas por Dios en la Sagrada Escritura Hebrea. Y es por esto que, nadie que conozca a fondo la Ley de Dios, puede aceptar el Nuevo testamento como un documento infalible, ni mucho menos como Divinamente inspirado.

The universal message of all Abrahamic traditions

Judaism (the School of Hillel) is credited with teaching the following: “That which is hateful to you, do not do to your fellow [human being]. That is the whole Torah [the whole Bible]; the rest is the explanation [or “commentary”]; go and learn”- Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 31a.

On the other hand, Christianity (Jesus) is credited with saying: “So in all things, do to others what you would want them to do to you- for this is the Torah [God’s Law] and the Prophets”- Matthew 7:12, Tree Of Live Bible version.

Likewise, Islam (prophet Muhammad) is credited with teaching the following principle: “None of you will have faith until he loves for his brother what he loves for himself”- Authentic Hadith, Sahih al-Bukhari 13, narrated by Anas Bin Malik.

Finally, Reformed Samaritanism (Moses) states the following: “And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the LORD; that it may be well with thee... Therefore thou shalt love the LORD thy God, and keep His charge... Thou shalt not take vengeance... but thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself”- Deuteronomy 6:18, Deuteronomy 11:1, Leviticus 19:18 (JPS, 1917 Edition).

Thus, we can see that all Abrahamic traditions share a common ethical background-- that “The Tree can be known by it's fruit”; and that true religion consists of loving and obeying the Holy One. How? By departing from evil-- in other words, by showing our love for those who were made in God's own image [our needy fellow human beings].

And the former is also taught by the Christian writings, when they go on to say: “Pure and undefiled religion before God the Father is this: to look after orphans and widows in their distress and to keep oneself unstained from the World”- James 1:27, Christian Standard Bible

El sólido fundamento de las verdades esbozadas por el Samaritanismo Reformado

Verdaderamente, tanto el el fundamento ético como escritural de las verdades esbozadas por el Samaritanismo reformado, son aplastantes. Y solamente aquel que se refugia en la mentira y el auto-engaño, podría ser tan atrevido como para tratar de “tapar el cielo con la mano”-- negando lo que para cualquier persona honesta y sensata sería tan claro como la luz del día.

Que el Creador [bendito sea] tenga misericordia de aquellos acerca de los cuales la escritura advierte diciendo: «¡Ay de aquellos [mentirosos] que, a lo “Malo”, llaman “Bueno”; y, a lo “Bueno”, [llaman] “Malo”; que hacen de la “Luz”, “Tinieblas”; y, de las “Tinieblas”, [hacen] “Luz!”»- Isaías 5:20.

¡Ay de aquellos mentirosos que, a lo “Malo” [es decir, a la desobediencia de los mandamientos Divinos], llaman “Bueno” [entiéndase, “la Libertad de la Gracia”]; y, a lo “Bueno” [es decir, a la obediencia de los mandamientos], llaman “Malo” [tildándole como “la Esclavitud de la Ley”]; que hacen de la “Luz” [del honrar y obedecer los mandamientos del Padre Celestial], “Tinieblas” [esclavitud y maldición]; y, de las “Tinieblas” [es decir, de la maldición que pesa sobre quienes abandonan los mandamientos], hacen “Luz” [llamándole “la bendición de la Gracia”]...

¡Ay de los que rebelde y obstinadamente desechan la palabra de Dios dada a Moisés, pues ellos mismos terminarán siendo a su vez desechados (“Porque como pecado de adivinación es la rebelión, y como ídolos e idolatría la obstinación. Por cuanto tú desechaste la palabra de יהוה, Él también te ha desechado...”- 1 Samuel 15:23)!

¡Ay de los que son ingeniosos, fuertes, y diligentes para justificar la maldad y la desobediencia; pero son lentos, débiles, y negligentes para hacer el bien y obedecer!... Cuando llegue aquel día en que se les demande rendir cuentas, sus rostros se cubrirán de vergüenza y turbación, no teniendo mérito alguno sobre el cual sostenerse. Como bien es citado diciendo el Galileo:

«Muchos me dirán en aquel día: “Señor, Señor, ¿no profetizamos en tu nombre, y en tu nombre echamos fuera demonios, y en tu nombre hicimos muchos milagros?”. Y entonces les declararé: “Nunca os conocí; apartaos de mí, hacedores de maldad”»- Mateo 7:22-23

¡Huya de la Locura y el auto-engaño!

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña diciendo: “¡Cuidado con cualquier teología que le conduzca [directa o indirectamente] a renunciar a la cordura y al sentido común! Es que, quien logre convencerle de creer algo absurdo, también logrará convencerle de hacer algo atroz”.

No es en balde que la Escritura amonesta a los creyentes diciendo: “Sabiduría ante todo; adquiere sabiduría; Y sobre todas tus posesiones, adquiere inteligencia... El corazón del entendido adquiere sabiduría; Y el oído de los sabios busca la ciencia”- Proverbios 4:7, & 18:15. Y también afirma que el creyente debe apartarse de todo tipo de locura [voluntaria], cuando dice: “Escucharé lo que hablará יהוה Dios; Porque hablará paz a su pueblo y a sus santos, Para que no se vuelvan a la locura”- Salmo 85:8

Samaritanismo Reformado

La locura de creer que יהוה esperaba la obediencia perfecta de la Ley
Las cosas no son locura, porque carezcan de lógica; son locura, porque están desconectadas de la realidad histórica y verificable. Por ejemplo, si alguien dice que quiere cubrirse el cabello, para protegerlo de la lluvia, dice algo perfectamente lógico. Pero, si lo dice mientras viaja dentro de un avión que va 35,000 pies de altura, en un vuelo comercial entre Nueva York y París, su lógica es un síntoma de locura. De ese mismo modo, el Apóstol Pablo (paz sea con el) dijo cosas que eran perfectamente lógicas; solo que daban visos de locura. Es que, la Ley Judía, consistía de 613 mandamientos. Y, postular [como lo hizo Pablo] que Dios esperaba que el Israelita común obedeciese perfectamente todos y cada uno de esos 613 mandamientos, es singular locura. ¿Por que? Pues porque, docenas de esos mandamientos, ni siquiera aplicaban al Israelita común; Es decir, eran mandamientos dirigidos al Rey de Israel, a los miembros de la corte Judía, o a los miembros de la familia Sacerdotal. Eran mandamientos acerca del rollo de Torah que debía escribir el Rey; mandamientos acerca de destruir a las naciones de Canaán; mandamientos acerca de desterrar al que cometiese un homicidio involuntario; mandamientos acerca de como oficiar durante el sacrificio de Yom Kippur; mandamientos acerca de los alimentos accesibles a la familia del Sumo Sacerdote; y mandamientos acerca de la intercalación de los meses del año Judío. Solo una persona desquiciada [o seriamente ignorante de la Ley] podría haberse atrevido a postular que, el Israelita común, estaba forzado a oficiar los sacrificios y ritos que oficiaba el Sumo sacerdote; a condenar o liberar criminales [como hacían los miembros de la Corte Judía]; o a sentarse en el trono del Rey, para escribir allí una copia del Libro de la Ley. ¡La necedad de Intentar obedecer cualquiera de estas cosas, podría haberle causado la muerte!

Why do we come into the physical world?

Once, a wise old man related the following story:

«My oldest son lived with me well into his adult life. While at home, my son never lacked anything, as my wife and I showered him with nice housing, nice automobiles, great food, nice clothes, nice traveling, nice private education.... You name it! But one day he simply told us that it was time to leave the nest. When we asked him why would he renounce to comfort and security, he replied that, though grateful and happy for the goodies we had bestowed upon him, he wanted to rise unto a higher level-- to personally experiencing the triumph of earning it all by his own effort and merits-- without the lingering feeling that he was shamelessly enjoying something he had not rightfully earned».

And maybe something similar happen with human beings; Maybe, before coming into our physical world, our souls used to live in the House of our heavenly Father-- a place of never ending life, of moral perfection, of utter bliss, happiness, justice, and spirituality (a place where we lacked nothing!).

But then we got to a point where we no longer wanted to continue enjoying it “for free”, but rather yearned to abandon it all, so we could rightfully earn it by our own efforts and merits.

Thus, we chose to abandon our heavenly abode, in order to come into the physical realm-- a place which [while full of disease, pain, suffering, defeat, ignorance, injustice, strife, hopelessness, shame, and death] provides our souls with the proper background; one whose challenges will enable us to rightfully earn the heavenly bliss we formerly enjoyed (thereby going back to Eden!).

How do we go about it? By living a life of virtue. In other words, by choosing to be “like the stars of heaven” (the same heaven we originally came from!). You see, if God made night’s darkness, it was for us to acknowledge the merit of light coming from the stars. Likewise, if God made our world a place of [moral] darkness, it was only for us to acknowledge the merits of those whose virtuous souls shine in the midst of such darkness.

In short, whenever a soul gets to be virtuous enough to “shine” like the stars of heavens, it thereby earns the merit to dwell again in heavens, rightfully enjoying the glory and immortality it once had [and even more!].

«¿Que es idolatría? Idolatría es la locura de abrazar las dulces y convenientes mentiras que nos ofrecen los hombres, dando la espalda a la duras [pero honestas y curativas] verdades que nos ofrece el Creador»

Did Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) really say, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (John 14:6)?

Faith in Jesus can definitely lead a man toward repentance, thereby bringing salvation upon him. But as for the claim made by the gospel concerning Jesus being “the way, the truth and, the life...”, Reformed Samaritanism advises caution.

Why? Well, in the first place, because Bible states Moses went up to the Father [atop Mount Sinai], and spoke to him face to face without having any need for Jesus assistance («YHVH said to Moses, “Come up to me on the mountain and stay there”... YHVH would speak with Moses face to face, just as a man speaks with his friend, then Moses would return to the camp»- Exodus 24:12, & 33:11).

Secondly, Jesus himself never wrote anything (so later gospel writers could had simply felt tempted to quote him uttering words he never really said).

Lastly, even if Jesus did say those words, maybe he didn’t mean them to be taken in a strict literal sense. For example, only six verses after claiming to be “the way, the truth, and the Life”, Jesus proceeds to claim that, he who believes in Him, would do greater miracles than he (“Truly I tell you, the one who believes in me will also do the works that I do. And he will do even greater works than these, because I am going to the Father”- John 14:12).

Is this verse to be taken in a strict literal sense?

If so, then ask yourself: Do all of your Christian friends turn water into wine? Can they all heal the sick? Can they all bring back to life a 4 days old [rotten] cadaver? Can they all multiple the bread? Can they all walk upon water? Do they all come back to life 3 days after dying? Have you seen them all being taken to heaven in the presence of 500 witness?

It might be wise for our beloved Christian brothers to keep in mind the verse that goes on to say,

“Brothers and sisters, don’t be childish in your thinking, but be infants in regard to evil, and adult in your thinking”- 1 Corinthians 14:20

Is it ok to talk with the spirit of the dead, in order to seek advise and guidance?

«And Samuel said to Saul, “Why hast thou disquieted me, to bring me up [from the dead]?” And Saul answered, “I am sore distressed; for the Philistines make war against me, and God is departed from me, and answereth me no more, neither by prophets, nor by dreams: therefore I have called thee, that thou mayest make known unto me what I shall do. Then said Samuel, Wherefore then dost thou ask of me, seeing the Lord is departed from thee, and is become thine enemy?»- 1 Samuel 28:15-16, KJV.

Most spirits providing assistance to humans beings still living upon Earth would rather not appear to human beings. Why? Because it could prove to be dangerous, as most human beings would [erroneously] come to think that their ability to communication with the spirit world would somehow guarantee their future well being. But the fact is that the aim of these spirits isn’t to give us any secret or hidden knowledge-- rather, it is to care and watch upon our soul, positively influencing it until our character is judged by them worthy of receiving the glory and power that comes with everlasting life. Consider the following example: The spirits of the watchers and the holy ones (“This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones...”- Daniel 4:17) are assembled by the bed side of a terminal patient-- a young man is his late 30’s. The man is alone and extremely weak [to the point were he can no longer, move, speak, nor open up his eyes]. Yet the spirits can literally read this man’s soul, having complete and absolute knowledge of everything he is feeling and thinking. This young man has never believed in God, nor is he even sure that there is such thing as an afterlife.

Suddenly, feeling that he only has a few moments left, his mind goes thru an honest and sincere life review, after which he proceeds to pass judgment upon himself, saying [not with audible words, but rather with his inner soul] the following: “I could have done it better!” [if I could start over again, I would be a more humble and honest person]”.

Then, as soon as his soul has uttered such humble, honest, and sincere judgment, the watchers surrounding him go on to say: “As his soul has finally become meek, humble, and honest, let us grant him entering everlasting life, so he can use it to fulfill his soul’s desire”. Thus, though this young man has never had any significant connection with spirit guides, nor formal religion, his soul is granted everlasting bliss.

30 things to consider, in order to determine if Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) is one and the same with the Supreme, non created, all knowing, all powerful, omnipresent, and unique God of Israel

Is Jesus God? Faith in Jesus can definitely bring repentance (salvation) to the Christian believer. But if Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) is One and the same with the Supreme, non created, all knowing, all powerful, omnipresent, and unique God of the Hebrew Bible, then we must seriously consider the following issues:

1) If Jesus is the God who had no beginning, why was he called, “The firstborn of all Creation”?

(Colossians 1:15, Revelation 3:14)

2) If Jesus and God are the same person, why did Jesus say, "... nor have I come of myself, but He (God) sent me" (John 8:42)

3) If Jesus is the all knowing God, Why didn't Jesus know the day and the hour of the great tribulation, but the Father only? (Matthew 24:36)

4) The Gospel says, "He (Jesus) went to the mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God" (Luke 6:12). Does God pray to Himself?

5) If Jesus and the Father are the same God, in the presence of whom did Jesus enter, when it is written, "... into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God..." (Hebrew 9:24)

6) If Jesus and the Father are two different aspects of the same God, Why did Jesus say that the Father was greater than he (John 14:28)? Can God be greater than God?

7) If Jesus is God, who exalted Jesus, and gave him a name above any other name? (Philippians 2:9)?

8) During Jesus baptism, who was He who spoke from heavens, saying "This is my beloved Son"? (Matthew 3:17)

9) How can Jesus be God, and at the same time be "a Mediator between God and men"? (1 Timothy 2:5)

10) If Jesus is God, why did Paul say that "the head of Christ is God" (1 Corinthians 11:3)? Is there anyone ahead of God?

11) Why does it says that Jesus "delivers the kingdom to God"? And why does it says that "the Son himself will also subject himself to Him who placed all things under him"? (1 Cor. 15:24, &28). Is God subjected to anybody?

12) Does God have a God? To Whom did Jesus make reference, when he said that he was "ascending to my God and your God"? (John 20:17)

13) If Jesus and God are one and the same, how can Jesus be seated "at the right hand of God"? (Psalm 110:1; Hebrews 10:12)

14) If Jesus [who was seen by thousands] was God, then why does the New Testament says that "no one has seen God"? (1 John 4:12, & John 1:18)

15) If Jesus was God, Why didn't people die when they saw Jesus ("for there shall no man see me, and live"- Exodus 33:20)?

16) If Jesus is God, how can Jesus [God] be dead, and God continue to be alive? (Acts 2:23-24)

17) If Jesus was the all powerful God, why would he need someone to deliver him from death? (Hebrews 5:7)

18) If Jesus is the all powerful God, why would he need to say, "All authority has been given to me..."? Who gave him such authority? A more powerful God? (Matthew 28:18; Daniel 7:13-14)

19) If Jesus was the invincible God, ¿Why would he need to feel any fear? (Hebrews 5:7)

20) If Jesus is the all knowing and morally perfect God, why does he needs to "learn obedience" (Hebrews 5:8-9)?

21) How can an angel strengthen Jesus? (Luke 22:43). Wasn't he the almighty God?

22) Why would Satan try to tempt Jesus? (Matthew 4:1-11). Didn't he know that Jesus was God [and that, according to James 1:13, God cannot be tempted by evil]?

23) When Jesus was sent to earth, he was "crowned with glory and honor". Also, he was placed "over the works of His hands" (Hebrews 2:7). Over the works of whom was Jesus placed in charge? And who was He that crowned Jesus with glory and honor?

24) If Jesus and God are one and the same, against whom was Satan trying to make Jesus rebel? (Matthew 4:1). Can God be tempted to rebel against Himself?

25) Before the end of his earthly life, Jesus said “My God, My God, why have you forsaken me?” (Matthew 27:46) ¿Can God forsake (or abandon) Himself?

26) How can the faithful God who says that He is no man (“For He is no man...”- 1 Samuel 15:29) change His mind and become a man named Jesus?

27) How can the trustworthy God who commanded us “not to put our trust in a son of man, in whom there is no salvation” (Psalm 146:3), become a man and ask us to trust in that man’s salvation?

28) How can the God who says that “man is a vapor (vanity), and a lie” (Psalm 62:9) change His mind in order to become a human being [thereby becoming Himself a vanity, and a lie]? Is God a liar, that He should change His mind, refusing to stand by His word? Isn’t it written, “For I am the Lord. I do not change” (Malachi 3:6); and also, “God is not a man, that He should lie, nor a son of man, that He should repent. Has He said, and will He not do? Or has He spoken, and will He not make it good” (Numbers 23:19)

29) How can the new Testament Jesus [who so often declared himself to be “the son of man”], be the same Old Testament God [who declared Himself to be “no son of man”]? Is God schizophrenic?

30) Jesus can be an awesome messenger of God to follow... but if Jesus were to be the One and only God, why would the new testament say: “The Revelation of Jesus Christ, WHICH GOD GAVE UNTO HIM...”? Who is this God who “gave” Jesus such revelation? How can Jesus be the ALL KNOWING GOD, and at the same be in need of getting (or be given) any new “revelation”? Didn’t the gospel state that Jesus already knew all things? (“Now are we sure that thou knowest all things...”- John 16:30, KJB)

Is Jesus the Messiah?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, if your faith in Jesus, Moses, Jonah, Muhammad, Cyrus, or any other religious figure (peace and blessings be upon them all) leads you to sincere repentance [thereby rebuilding the ruined temple of your personal relationship with God], such person has thereby become your personal Messiah.

As for Jesus the question of whether Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) was the sinless Messiah who died on our behalf [as a substitute for our sins], the fact is that he couldn’t have done so. Why? Simply because he had sins of his own. In other words, although Jesus of Nazareth was a towering figure, he failed to perfectly obey the 613 commandments of God’s Law [whose very first command is to get married, and beget biological children- something Jesus never did].

And the former is also hinted by the New testament, when it goes on to say: «“WHY DO YOU CALL ME GOOD?” JESUS ASKED HIM. “No one is good except God alone”»- Luke 18:19, Christian Standard Bible.

In fact, the former words of Jesus are in full agreement with the Hebrew Scripture that teaches no mortal being is so perfect as to never sin: “THERE IS CERTAINLY NO ONE RIGHTEOUS ON THE EARTH WHO DOES GOOD AND NEVER SINS”- Ecclesiastes 7:20, Christian Standard Bible. And even the Christian epistles hint at the same idea, when (in a slip of his pen) Paul goes on to write the following: “Although he was the Son, HE LEARNED OBEDIENCE from what he suffered”- Hebrews 5:8, C.S.B.

Obviously, it goes without saying that, if a person needs to “learn obedience”, is only because he had formerly been disobedient, and thereby needs to perfect his character, as correctly attested by the words immediately following the former verse: “AFTER HE WAS PERFECTED, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him”- Hebrews 5:9, C.S.B.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

God's message to mankind has little to do with Messiah, with Judaism, with Christianity, with Islam, with Samaritanism, or even with the Nation of Israel. In fact, God's true message isn't a theological one; neither is it a national one; It's a moral message- a self evident, all encompassing and universal truth. This truth can be summarized as follows: "Turn away from evil (repent), and start doing good (don't steal, don't lie, don't fornicate, don't slander, honor your parents, give your servants rest, etc), so that it goes well with you". And the former is what humanity's smartest man (Solomon) meant, when he went on to say: «All has been heard; the end of the matter is [this]- "Fear God [revere and worship Him, knowing that He is] and keep His [ten] commandments, for this is the whole of man [the full, original purpose of his creation, the object of God's providence, the root of character, the foundation of all happiness, the adjustment to all inharmonious circumstances and conditions under the sun] and the whole [duty] for every man. For God shall bring every work into judgment [rewarding goodness and punishing evil], with every secret thing, whether it is good or evil"» (Ecclesiastes 12:13-14, Amplified Bible). That's why God requires no unique religion, but rather the heart. As the Scripture says: "The Lord looketh at what is in the heart" (1 Samuel 16:7)

What's wrong with the idea of Jesus [alleged] sacrifice atoning for all of our sins?

There's absolutely nothing wrong with embracing most of the moral teachings ascribed to Jesus (may peace and blessings be upon him). But to insist upon the idea that only Jesus sacrifice can atone for all of our sins [past, present, and future] is presumptuous arrogance. Why? Because such idea is in flagrant opposition to the word of God [as revealed to the Hebrew people], when it states that certain sins would never be atoned by any kind of physical sacrifices. As it has been said:

«The Lord of Armies has directly revealed to me: "THIS INIQUITY WILL NOT BE WIPED OUT FOR YOU PEOPLE AS LONG AS YOU LIVE".... Therefore, I have sworn to Eli's family: "THE INIQUITY OF ELI'S FAMILY WILL NEVER BE WIPED OUT BY EITHER SACRIFICE OR OFFERING"»- Isaiah 22:14, & 1 Samuel 3:14 (Christian Standard Bible). In fact, even the Christian writings admit [though unwillingly] the same truth, when they go on to say:

"If anyone sees a fellow believer committing A SIN THAT DOESN'T LEAD TO DEATH, he should ask, and God will give life to him—to those who commit sin that doesn't lead to death. THERE IS SIN THAT LEADS TO DEATH. I AM NOT SAYING HE SHOULD PRAY ABOUT THAT. ALL UNRIGHTEOUSNESS IS SIN, AND THERE IS SIN THAT DOESN'T LEAD TO DEATH"- 1 John 5:16-17

In short, physical sacrifices [by themselves] cannot atone for the guilt of each and every sin. Instead, it is confession and restitution [the death of our ego], what can wipe our souls clean from such guilt ("THE SACRIFICE PLEASING TO GOD IS A BROKEN SPIRIT. YOU WILL NOT DESPISE A BROKEN AND HUMBLER HEART, GOD”- Psalm 51:17). And the latter might be the reason why Jesus himself is quoted saying that, without repentance, we will all perish: “NO, I TELL YOU; BUT UNLESS YOU REPENT, YOU WILL ALL PERISH AS WELL”- Luke 13:3. May God’s peace be upon you all.

Reformed Samaritanism

If God says one thing, and you say the opposite, then you no longer believe in God, but rather in yourself (in other words, you have become your own god, thereby embracing the heinous sin of idolatry)

If the Law states one thing, but the Gospel comes down the road and states the opposite, then it isn't the Law, but rather the Gospel, the one at fault. Why? Because the veracity of the Gospel had always depended upon its compliance with had been previously stated [and commanded] by the Law. On the other hand, the veracity of the Law never depended upon its compliance with anything to be later said [or commanded] by the Gospel. And the former is also corroborated by the Scripture that goes on to teach that God doesn't change, so that He would never say one thing [in the Law], and then state the opposite [in the Gospel]. As it is written: “For I יהוה change not...”- Malachi 3:6. And this is particularly true when we consider the fact that the Law quotes the Holy and truthful God of Israel stating that Israel is his own firstborn Son («And you will say to Pharaoh: "יהוה has said thus: Israel is my son, my firstborn" »- Exodus 4:22), while the gospel quotes the unclean and deceitful demons stating the opposite (“Devils also came out of many, crying out and saying, “You [Jesus, and not Israel] are the Son of God”»- Luke 4:41)

¿Fue el Nazareno el cumplimiento del verso que dice, “... de Egipto llamé a mi hijo”?

El santo evangelio afirma (Mateo 2:15) que el Nazareno (paz y bendición sean con él) fue el cumplimiento del verso que dice, “Cuando Israel era muchacho, yo lo amé, y DE EGIPTO LLAMÉ A MI HIJO”- Oseas 11:1. Pero, desafortunadamente, la interpretación que de las palabras del profeta hace el evangelio es caprichosa y anti-bíblica.

¿Porque? Pues porque el profeta no dice “De Egipto llamaré [en tiempo futuro] a mi Hijo”, sino que dice en cambio, “De Egipto llamé [en tiempo pasado] a mi Hijo”.... En otras palabras, el profeta habla de un evento pasado [donde Israel habría salido de Egipto], no de un evento futuro [donde algún otro Israelita habría de salir de Egipto].

¿Y porque no sería bíblico el asumir que Jesús [un Israelita] fuese [en el futuro] a morar en Egipto, para luego salir de allá? Pues porque, como mas tarde confirmaría el profeta Jeremías, luego de haberles sacado de Egipto, el Creador ordenó a los Israelitas nunca más volver allá.

Como esta escrito: “Pero él no aumentará para sí caballos, NI HARÁ VOLVER AL PUEBLO A EGIPTO con el fin de aumentar caballos; PORQUE יהוה OS HA DICHO: NO VOLVÁIS NUNCA POR ESTE CAMINO... Así ha dicho יהוה de los ejércitos, Dios de Israel: SI VOSOTROS VOLVIEREIS VUESTROS ROSTROS PARA ENTRAR EN EGIPTO, Y ENTRAREIS PARA MORAR ALLÁ, SUCEDERÁ QUE LA ESPADA QUE TEMÉIS, OS ALCANZARÁ ALLÍ EN LA TIERRA DE EGIPTO, y el hambre de que tenéis temor, allá en Egipto os perseguirá; Y ALLÍ MORIRÉIS”- Deuteronomio 17:16, & Jeremías 42:15-16.

Curiosamente, si asumiéramos la misma mentalidad arbitraria y caprichosa que asume el evangelio, tendríamos que negar que Jesús fuese Dios. ¿Por que? Pues porque el profeta dice, “Dios vendrá de Temán, Y el Santo desde el monte de Parán”- Habacuc 3:3. Y, ya que Jesús nunca “vino” de Teman, ni tampoco estuvo en el monte de Paran, pues entonces falló en cumplir la profecía que le identificaría como Dios.

En resumen, vemos que las religiones Nazarenas y Adventistas son buenas (pues llaman al arrepentimiento y a las buenas obras); pero sus teologías son malas (siendo caprichosas, y deshonestas).

¡Que la paz del Creador sea con vuestras almas!

38 Common sense Reasons Why Jesus cannot be (literally) God

- 1- God Doesn't Change His Nature (Malachi 3:6)
- 2- God Almighty is Greater than Jesus (John 14:28)
- 3- No one is "Good" including Jesus. Only GOD is "Good" (Luke 18:19)
- 4- Jesus said he doesn't know when the Hour will come. Only GOD Knows (Mark 13:32)
- 5- Jesus said that "OUR God is One GOD" (Mark 12:29)
- 6- Jesus also said "My GOD and your GOD" (John 20:17)
- 7- Jesus bowed his face down to the ground to GOD Almighty (Matthew 26:39)
- 8- Jesus was tempted by Satan for 40 days (Mat1:4), while GOD Almighty can not be tempted (James 1:13)
- 9- Jesus said he is a man (John 8:40)
- 10- God is neither a man nor a son of a man (Numbers 23:19)
- 11- No one can see God (1 John 4:20); but people saw Jesus
- 12- God is the living and everlasting (Habakkuk 1:12)
- 13- Jesus always confessed he is just a prophet sent by God (Matthew 21:10-11)
- 14- God Declared Himself to be God, Jesus didn't (Ezekiel 20:20)
- 15- Jesus said his real mission was to preach, not sacrifice (Mark1:38)
- 16- Jesus desired Mercy, not Sacrifice (Matthew 9:13)

- 17- Jesus referred to himself as Servant: Matthew 10:24, 24:45, 12:18 John 13:16
- 18- Jesus referred to himself as Prophet: Matthew 8:20, 13:16, 21:11, Mark 6:15, 6:4, 9:37, Luke 7:16, 9:8, 9:19, John 13:17, 7:16, 6:14, 7:40
- 19- Jesus referred to himself as Son of Man: Matthew 5:9, 17:22, 8:20, 18:11, 26:2, Luke 9:22, John 5:27
- 20- Jesus referred to himself as a slave: John 13:16, Matthew 10:24
- 21- Jesus referred to himself as a Student: Matthew 10:24
- 22- Father is Greater than Jesus (John 14:28). How can someone be greater than God?
- 23- Jesus was taught by the Father (John 8:28)
- 24- Jesus can do nothing by himself (John 5:19, John 5:30)
- 25- Jesus does not even have his own doctrine (John 7:16)
- 26- Jesus ascended to his God (John 20:17)
- 27- According to Christian theology, Jesus died as recorded in Matthew 27:27-56. But the Bible says that God is infinite (Psalm 102:27-27)
- 28- Jesus needed to Pray, Eat, Drink and Was Helped by Woman, as stated in Luke 8:1-3. But the God of the Hebrew Bible is self-sufficient (Psalm 50:12)
- 29- God remains the same in nature (Hebrews 1:12)
- 30- Jesus is the same human today, yesterday and forever (Hebrew 13:8)
- 31- Jesus could not save anyone as he was not even able to save himself (Hebrews 5:1-8)
- 32- Jesus said he was sent only to the lost sheep of Israel (Matthew 15:24)
- 33- If Jesus was the Son of God (the Father), and at the same time was one with God (the Father), then that would imply Jesus was his own father (and the idea of a son being his own father is plain madness)
- 34- Jesus never told people to worship him.
- 35- Jesus didn't teach Trinity
- 36- God is the essence of the worship. He is the object of worship. Had Jesus been God, he would have told people to worship him. Truly, he did the exact opposite, as in Matthew 15:9
- 37- Jesus never called his followers Christians, Paul did
- 38- Jesus as a servant of God (Matthew 12:18)

How many nations of Israel does the Creator actually have?

The idea that there is only one nation of Israel [and therefore just one nation with the right to enter into God's covenant] is grossly misguided. Why? Because the Hebrew scripture foretold that, unlike his brother Manasseh (who would remain an individual tribe), Ephraim (whose name would later become a surname for Israel's ten northern tribes) would become a multitude of nations. As is written: "... but truly his younger brother [Ephraim] shall be greater than he [Manasseh], AND HIS SEED SHALL BECOME A MULTITUDE OF NATIONS"- Genesis 48:19.

In other words, Genesis 48:19 teaches that, when Ephraim [Israel's ten Northern tribes] went into exile, the Israeli seed [blood] spread and mixed through the whole World, so that 2700 years later the lack of Israeli blood cannot be used as an excuse to prevent any nation from embracing God's covenant with Israel. And maybe that's why God places what would otherwise be gentile nations (Egypt and Assyria) on the same footing with Israel.

As is written: "For the Lord of the hosts shall bless them, saying, blessed be EGYPT MY PEOPLE, AND ASSYRIA THE WORK OF MY HANDS, AND ISRAEL MY INHERITANCE"- Isaiah 19:25.

Notice that not only does the Creator place these gentile nations on the same list with Israel; He places Israel at the end of the list!; as if to imply that some of these nations will end up becoming more faithful to God's covenant than what modern day Israel is

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

If God's Law asks that we do (or believe) in anything (that we should rest on the seventh day; that God rewards those who obey His commandments, and punishes those who disobey them; that God is morally perfect; that God is no man; that the Supreme Being is a single entity, and not a plurality of beings; that no man can die for the sins of someone else, etc), and then comes the Gospel asking us to believe instead the opposite, what is the believer supposed to do? Well, the answer is quite simple. You see, until the gospel appeared two thousand years ago, Hebrew believers never had a reason to question the veracity of God's Law, as [unlike the Gospel] the Law was the result of a National revelation where God spoke publicly not only to Moses, but also to the whole Nation of Israel. In addition, the Law never claimed to be the fulfillment of any future book; instead, it claimed to be self standing righteousness and truth. As is written: "Thy Righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, And thy Law is Truth"- Psalm 119:142 (American Standard Version). On the other hand, the Gospel actually claimed to be the fulfillment of God's Law; so that, unlike the Law [whose veracity doesn't depend upon the veracity of the Gospel], the veracity of the Gospel ultimately depends upon the veracity of the Law. As is written: "Think not that I came to destroy the Law or the Prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfill"- Matthew 5:17, American Standard Version. Thus, whenever the Gospel departs from what has been said [or done] in the Law, we have no option but to side with the former, as it is the Gospel that ought to comply with the Law, and not the other way around. In other words, it would be absurd to claim that the Gospel is true, if the latter doesn't comply with the Law [as it is this compliance what validates the Gospel's alleged truthfulness]

He who willingly abandons God's Law commits intellectual suicide; And this intellectual suicide is a prelude to physical suicide

If you opt to selectively focus upon those Bible Texts that justify your preconceived dogmas and ideas, you will be able to justify almost any sort of nonsense. But such trick will only works against those who ignore God's Law. Why? Because the Almighty has foretold that he who disregards His Law won't be "a head", but rather "a tail"-- in other words, he won't be able to properly think by himself, so he'll have no option but to be "the tail" (the follower) of someone else's opinions.

As it has been said: "But if you do not obey יהוה your God by carefully following all His commands and statutes I am giving you today, all these curses will come and overtake you... He [your neighbor] will lend to you [his ideas], but you won't lend [your ideas] to him. He will be the head [the leader], and you will be the tail [the follower]"- Deuteronomy 28:15&44, Christian Standard Bible.

Consider the following example: Suppose that a charismatic Christian leader, like the late Jim Jones, dares telling his followers that God wants them to bring [into the temple] all of their money, and then proceed to hang themselves. And, in order to dispel any doubt, he quotes the Gospel verses that go on to say: «So he threw the silver into the temple and departed. Then he went and hanged himself... Then Jesus told him, “Go and do the same”»- Matthew 27:5, & Luke 10:37.

Unfortunately, the tragic massacre that happened at Guyana bears witness to the fact that those Christians who followed Jim Jones were indeed “tails”, and not “heads”.

Under similar circumstances, what would a Law abiding believer do? He would have opposed such nonsensical idea, stating that God Law clearly enjoins us to choose life. As it has been said: “I call heaven and earth as witnesses against you today that I have set before you life and death, blessing and curse. Choose life so that you and your descendants may live”- Deuteronomy 30:19.

Thus, Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that he who abandons God’s Law commits intellectual suicide; And this intellectual suicide is a prelude to physical suicide. May the Almighty have mercy of our Christian brothers and sisters!

Do we have only one life to live? Did our souls exist prior to coming into the physical realm?

From the standpoint of Christian and Jewish writings, the idea that there’s no re-incarnation [and therefore we get to experience only one human life] isn't as clear-cut as we might initially think. For example, the Christian gospel quotes Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) intimating that John the Baptist was indeed the reincarnation of prophet Elijah’s spirit. As it has been said: “But I [Jesus] say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them. Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist”- Matthew 17:12-13, KJV.

Not only that, but the idea that our souls already existed prior to our body being created in the physical realm (our mothers belly) is also intimated in the verse that goes on to say: “Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee...”- Jeremiah 1:5, KJV.

Thus, we conclude that, though not necessarily the norm, it seems like some of the most pure souls will indeed be allowed to re-incarnate.

May peace be upon you!

¿No pudo Dios haberse hecho hombre en la persona de Jesús? ¿No pudo ser perfectamente hombre, y perfectamente Dios? ¿Acaso hay algo imposible para Dios?

Desde la perspectiva del sentido común, habría que decir que Dios será literalmente un hombre, el día en que el hombre no tenga principio de vida, ni final de existencia; el día en que nada sea imposible para el hombre; el día en que el hombre sepa todas las cosas; el día que el hombre pueda estar (a la misma vez) en todas partes; el día que el hombre pueda existir fuera de la materia, del tiempo, y del espacio; el día que el hombre no experimente mas lo que es la necesidad, el capricho, ni la arbitrariedad; el día que el hombre sea moralmente perfecto, siendo absolutamente justo, misericordioso, y humilde.

Mientras ese día llega, lo mas que podemos aspirar es a ser “hijos de Dios”; y esto, solo de forma alegórica. Es decir, cuando nuestra conducta refleja Justicia hacia nuestro prójimo, cuando refleja misericordia hacia los que sufren, o cuando refleja humildad (todos ellos sombras imperfectas de los atributos Divinos) somos semejantes a un hijo, en cuyo rostro podemos identificar los rasgos físicos de su padre.

Este fue el caso con Moisés, a quien Dios hizo “dios” (simbólicamente hablando), a los ojos de Faraón: «הוהו' dijo a Moisés: Mira, yo te he constituido dios para Faraón, y tu hermano Aarón será tu profeta. Tú dirás todas las cosas que yo te mande, y Aarón tu hermano hablará a Faraón, para que deje ir de su tierra a los hijos de Israel» (Éxodo 7:1-2).

Fue también en este sentido que, aquel que dijo, “¿Por que me llamas bueno? Ninguno hay bueno, sino solo Dios” (Lucas 18:19), pudo también decir, “yo y el Padre uno somos” (Juan 10:30); como quien dice, “no soy lo moralmente perfecto como para siquiera soñar con ser igual al Creador; pero, cuando de hacer la voluntad de Dios se trata, su voluntad es la mía (es decir, quiero lo mismo que El quiere).

Por el otro lado, y desde una perspectiva puramente teológica, habría que decir que, quien cree en la absoluta literalidad de las Escrituras, estará de acuerdo con que, la doctrina que postula que Jesús (paz y bendición sean sobre El) era a la misma vez perfectamente hombre, y perfectamente Dios, contradice esas mismas Escrituras.

En primer lugar, la Escritura especifica que Dios no es, ni será jamás, un hombre. El texto dice así: “Dios no es hombre, para que mienta, ni hijo de hombre, para que se arrepienta. ¿Lo ha dicho El, y no lo hará?, ¿ha hablado, y no lo cumplirá? ” (Números 23:18).

En segundo lugar, Dios no podía hacerse hombre, y ser a la misma vez perfecto, sin violar su propia Palabra. ¿Por que? Pues por que la Escritura dice “Ciertamente no hay hombre justo en la tierra, que haga el bien y nunca peque” (Eclesiastés 7:20).

Es decir, si Dios “viniera” a la tierra para hacerse hombre, y hacer solamente el bien (sin nunca pecar), entonces tendríamos que concluir que el texto en Eclesiastés 7:20 está equivocado; pues en realidad sí hubo un hombre sobre la tierra que hizo solamente el bien, sin nunca pecar. No solo eso, sino que tendríamos que concluir que lo dicho por Dios en Números 23:18 es también falso, pues allí Dios dio una palabra que nunca se cumplió (pues Dios si se hizo hombre).

Finalmente, ser Dios, y ser hombre, son conceptos mutuamente excluyentes. Es decir, se puede ser lo uno, o se puede ser lo otro, pero no se pueden ser los dos cosas a la misma vez; No se puede ser Dios (tener omnipotencia), a la misma vez que se es hombre (algo que, por definición, implica la falta de omnipotencia). Como nadie que sea realmente hombre (es decir, “humano”) puede hacerse a si mismo omnipotente, si Dios se hubiera hecho hombre, habría perdido la capacidad de convertirse a si mismo nuevamente en Dios. Y, está demás decir que, cualquier hombre que pueda hacerse a si mismo omnipotente, nunca fue realmente un hombre, fue en realidad Dios.

¿Significa el hecho de que Dios no pueda hacerse hombre, que Dios no es realmente omnipotente? ¡No!, solo significa que, en su infinita sabiduría, Dios ha decidido anonadarse a si mismo, creando un universo donde ciertas cosas son auto-excluyentes.

Por ejemplo, en este universo, Dios no puede hacer una piedra que sea tan grande, que ni Él mismo pueda luego levantarla. En este universo, Dios no puede hacer que existan, a la misma vez, una pared inmovible, y un viento irresistible; en este universo, Dios no puede ser omnipotente, y a la misma vez crear a otro Dios que también sea omnipotente (pues entonces ese otro Dios podría vencerle, demostrando así que el primero de los dos dioses no era realmente omnipotente).

En este universo, Dios no puede hacerse perfectamente hombre; y, a la misma vez, seguir siendo perfectamente Dios (pues el no poder hacerse a si mismo Dios, es una limitación propia de todo hombre, sin importar cuan perfecto pretenda ser).

Y, esta auto-exclusión que existe en nuestro universo (esta auto-impuesta limitación de la Deidad), es la forma en que el Creador se anonada a si mismo; como para darnos ejemplo de que, si el Omnipotente no tiene reparos en anonadarse a si mismo, ¿quienes somos nosotros los seres humanos (cuyo vientre está lleno de podredumbre) para creer que no tenemos el deber de también anonadarnos (humillarnos) a nosotros mismos? ¿Es que somos acaso mas grandes y mejores que el Creador?

Reformed Samaritanism

The Nazarene religion is noble and holy. But it's theology is ambivalent [and thereby uncertain and misleading]. Consider the following: At what point is the New Testament wrong? Is it wrong when stating that all men ought to honor Jesus ("He who does not honor the Son, does not honor the Father who sent him"-John 5:23)?; Is it wrong when affirming that Men should NOT honor Jesus, as the latter doesn't accept the glory of men ("Glory of Men, I do not receive"- John 5:41)?; Or is it wrong when categorically affirming that, the wisdom contained in the N.T. is pure, being free from all kind o uncertainty ("But the wisdom that is from above is first pure...without uncertainty or hypocrisy"- James 3:17)? And is this not a serious indication that the N.T. writers were under the curse [of madness and disturbance of spirit] prepared for those whom, abandoning God's commandments, would lend themselves to the worship of a human personality; as would be the case of he who blindly worships the man of flesh and bones named Jesus of Nazareth ("But it will come to pass, if you do not hear the voice of יהוה your God... יהוה will smite you with madness, blindness and troubled spirit..."- Deut. 28:28)?

La Fe Nazarena contiene miles de sectas; cada una de las cuales reclama ser la única y verdadera representante de la fe y la teología predicadas por el Nazareno

Aunque es un camino perfectamente válido para servir al Creador, la noble Fe Nazarena es ambigua y confusa, pues contiene miles de sectas; cada una de las cuales reclama ser la única y verdadera teología predicada por el Nazareno. ¿Es acaso el Samaritanismo Reformado otra confusa y caprichosa secta? Pues la realidad objetiva es que no lo es.

¿Por que? Pues porque, aunque mucho mas antigua que la fe Nazarena, la fe Samaritana solamente contiene una o dos sectas (ninguna de las cuales reclama ser la única y verdadera religión).

¿Por que razón? Pues porque el Samaritanismo es claro y conciso, cuando enseña que “la verdadera religión” no consiste en poseer la correcta “menudencia” teológica, sino en sembrar el bien que agrada al Creador-- aquel bien que nos fue ordenado sobre las dos tablas de Piedra.

Como esta escrito: “Y Él os anunció su pacto, el cual os mandó poner por obra; los Diez mandamientos, y los escribió en dos tablas de piedra... Guardad cuidadosamente los mandamientos de יהוה vuestro Dios... Y haz lo recto y bueno ante los ojos de יהוה, para que te vaya bien...”- Deut. 4:13, & 6:17-18.

Y también dice otra Escrituras: “...Teme a Dios, y guarda sus mandamientos; porque esto es el todo del hombre”- Eclesiastés 12:13. Y dicen también en otro lugar: “Oh hombre, Él te ha declarado lo que es bueno, ¿y qué pide יהוה de ti?: solamente hacer justicia, y amar misericordia, y humillarte ante tu Dios”- Miqueas 6:8.

Así, los postulados del Samaritanismo son claros, sencillos, y sin ambigüedad alguna-- “Apartate del mal, y haz en cambio lo bueno, amando a Dios, y haciendo bien a tu prójimo que te necesita”.

¿Por que? Pues porque haciendo tal cosa, el Creador se agradará de ti, te amará, perdonará tus pecados, y te concederá su bendición. Como esta escrito: “Lavaos y limpiaos; quitad la iniquidad de vuestras obras de delante de mis ojos; dejad de hacer lo malo; aprended a hacer el bien; buscad el juicio, restituid al agraviado, haced justicia al huérfano, amparad a la viuda. Venid luego, dice יהוה, y estemos a cuenta: si vuestros pecados fueren como la grana, como la nieve serán emblanquecidos; si fueren rojos como el carmesí, vendrán a ser como blanca lana. Si quisieréis y oyereis, comeréis el bien de la tierra”- Isaías 1:16-19.

Y finalmente dice en otro lugar: “¿No es que partas tu pan con el hambriento, y a los pobres errantes albergues en casa; que cuando veas al desnudo, lo cubras, y no te escondas de tu hermano? Entonces nacerá tu luz como el alba, y tu salvación se dejará ver pronto; e irá tu justicia delante de ti, y la gloria de יהוה será tu retaguardia. Entonces invocarás, y te oirá יהוה; clamarás, y dirá él: Heme aquí. Si quitares de en medio de ti el yugo, el dedo amenazador, y el hablar vanidad; y si dieres tu pan al hambriento, y saciases al alma afligida, en las tinieblas nacerá tu luz, y tu oscuridad será como el mediodía. יהוה te pastoreará siempre, y en las sequías saciará tu alma, y dará vigor a tus huesos; y serás como huerto de riego, y como manantial de aguas, cuyas aguas nunca faltan”- Isaías 55:7-11. Y el que el Samaritanismo esta claro en cuanto a que la voluntad de Dios es que hagamos lo bueno, quizás explique la razón por la cual, luego de relatar el bien hecho por un creyente Samaritano, el Nazarenos es citado diciendo a su interlocutor: “Ve, y haz tú lo mismo”- Juan 10:37. ¡Que la paz de Dios sea con vuestras almas!

The Nazarene faith is good and noble; But it’s theology is immature, as well as stubbornly misguided

Dear brothers and sisters: the Nazarene religion is good, as well as well intended. But, sadly, the Nazarene theology is childish and immature.

Why? Because it pretends to interpret God’s secure and unquestionable Law, based upon the uncertain and questionable facts that the gospels attribute to Jesus. And any mature and sensible person would immediately realize the absurdity of such a thing; as the rational order is to interpret what is insecure and questionable, based upon what we know to be certain and unquestionable (“Brothers and sisters, don’t be childish in your thinking, but be infants in regard to evil and adult in your thinking”- 1 Corinthians 14:20, Christian Standard Bible).

Whence we get that the Law is more certain than the gospel? We get it from the fact that the Law itself declares to be perfect (a perfection that the gospel nowhere claims to possess). As it has been said: “The Law of יהוה (Adonay Yah) is perfect...”- Psalm 19:7.

Why is the latter important? It is important because the perfect Law of יהוה prevents the believer from worshiping anything [or anyone] besides יהוה. As it is written: “You are to fear יהוה your God and worship him. Remain faithful to him and take oaths in his name” (Deuteronomy 10:20).

And the natural result of violating the latter command is that, when the believer worships something [or someone] besides יהוה, such believer ceases to be committed with doing what the Divine Law shows to be the will of יהוה (a will that leads to peace, blessing, and eternal life, according to Deuteronomy 28:1-14), and instead begins to do the will of that other thing [or person] that he now worships.

But, if the will of that other thing that he worships (Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, Ellen G. White, Joseph Smith, Democracy, Human Rights, Politics, Science, Economy, Sex, Personal Ego, etc), is different from the will of יהוה, then the believer ends up contradicting [or “opposing”] the will of יהוה; something that can only lead to evil, as the Scripture foretells in Deuteronomy 28:15-68. Curiously, the Hebrew word used by the Law to describe he who opposes the will of יהוה, is “Ha Satan”; a word that we normally translate as “Satan” (opposer, or enemy).

Thus, he who worships anything [or anyone] besides יהוה, will end up becoming a “Satan” (an enemy of יהוה); and, just like all other enemies of יהוה (the Egyptians, the Amalekites, the Canaanites, the Sodomites, etc), his punishment will be torment and destruction (mind diseases, restlessness, depression, confusion, and frustration).

May the God of Israel have mercy of his people, as well as the whole world! Amen.

La Divina senda que nos conduce a la salvación, la fortitud, la paz, la alegría, y la sabiduría

Estimados hermanos y hermanas, la sagrada fe del Samaritanismo Reformado afirma que Escritura Hebrea siempre enseñó que salvación del hombre estaba en sus propias manos. Como esta escrito: “A los cielos y a la tierra llamo por testigos hoy contra vosotros, que os he puesto delante la vida y la muerte, la bendición y la maldición; ESCOGE, PUES, LA VIDA, PARA QUE VIVAS TÚ Y TU DESCENDENCIA; AMANDO A יהוה [Adonay Yah] TU DIOS, ATENDIENDO A SU VOZ, Y SIGUIÉNDOLE A ÉL”- Deuteronomio 30:18-20.

De este modo, si el hombre decide hacer lo bueno [sembrando el bien que agrada al Creador] recibirá el mismo bien que halla sembrado. Pero, si decide en cambio sembrar el mal, recibirá el mismo mal que halla sembrado. Como esta escrito:

“Lavaos y limpios; quitad la iniquidad de vuestras obras de delante de mis ojos; DEJAD DE HACER LO MALO; APRENDED A HACER EL BIEN; buscad el juicio, restituid al agraviado, haced justicia al huérfano, amparad a la viuda. Venid luego, dice יהוה, y estemos a cuenta: SI VUESTROS PECADOS FUEREN COMO LA GRANA, COMO LA NIEVE SERÁN EMBLANQUECIDOS; SI FUEREN ROJOS COMO EL CARMESÍ, VENDRÁN A SER COMO BLANCA LANA... APÁRTATE DEL MAL, Y HAZ EL BIEN, Y VIVIRÁS PARA SIEMPRE... DECID AL JUSTO QUE LE IRÁ BIEN, PORQUE COMERÁ DE LOS FRUTOS DE SUS MANOS. ¡AY DEL IMPÍO! MAL LE IRÁ, PORQUE SEGÚN LAS OBRAS DE SUS MANOS LE SERÁ PAGADO... No os engaños; Dios no puede ser burlado: pues TODO LO QUE EL HOMBRE SEMBRARE, ESO TAMBIÉN SEGARÁ”

-- Isaías 1:16-18, Salmo 37:27, Isaías 3:9-11, Gálatas 6:7.

¿Y que hacemos con el mal que ya hemos realizado? ¿Como evitamos ser castigados por ello? Pues, en primer lugar, procedemos a confesarlo con un corazón contrito y humillado, a fin de que Dios nos otorgue su perdón (“EL QUE ENCUBRE SUS PECADOS NO PROSPERARÁ; MAS EL QUE LOS CONFIESA Y SE APARTA ALCANZARÁ MISERICORDIA... POR TANTO, CONFESARÉ MI MALDAD, Y ME CONTRISTARÉ POR MI PECADO”- Proverbios 28:13, Salmo 38:18).

En segundo lugar, hacemos nuestro mejor esfuerzo por hacer algún tipo de restitución (“entonces, HABIENDO PECADO Y OFENDIDO, RESTITUIRÁ AQUELLO QUE ROBÓ, O EL DAÑO DE LA CALUMNIA, O EL DEPÓSITO QUE SE LE ENCOMENDÓ, O LO PERDIDO QUE HALLÓ”- Levítico 6:4).

Finalmente, confesamos nuestra fe en que hemos recibido el perdón Divino (“MI PECADO TE DECLARÉ, y no encubrí mi iniquidad. Dije: Confesaré mis transgresiones a יהוה; Y TÚ PERDONASTE LA MALDAD DE MI PECADO”- Salmo 32:5).

El anterior estilo de vida [que se fundamenta en sembrar el bien encarnado en los 10 mandamientos escritos por el Creador sobre las dos tablas de piedra] traerá fortitud, paz, alegría, y sabiduría al corazón del creyente. Como esta escrito:

“GUARDAD, PUES, TODOS LOS MANDAMIENTOS que yo os prescribo hoy, PARA QUE SEÁIS FORTALECIDOS... MUCHA PAZ TIENEN LOS QUE AMAN TU LEY, Y no hay para ellos tropiezo... LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE יהוה son rectos, que ALEGAN EL CORAZÓN... LA LEY DE יהוה ES PERFECTA, que convierte el alma; El testimonio de יהוה es fiel, QUE HACE SABIO AL SENCILLO... ME HAS HECHO MÁS SABIO QUE MIS ENEMIGOS con tus mandamientos, Porque siempre están conmigo”- Deuteronomio 11:8, Salmo 119:165, Salmo 19:8, Salmo 19:7, Salmo 119:98.

¡Que la paz del Dios de nuestro maestro Moisés sea con todos aquellos que luchan por obedecerle! Amen.

Samaritanismo Reformado

No hay nada malo con que el creyente sea un asiduo seguidor de las enseñanzas éticas y morales adscritas al Nazareno. ¿Por que? Pues porque los mismos escritos Cristianos dan testimonio de que el Galileo no era sino un poderoso profeta del Dios de Israel («Y la gente decía: “Este es Jesús el profeta, de Nazaret de Galilea”... Entonces él les dijo: “¿Qué cosas?” Y ellos [los discípulos] le dijeron: “De Jesús nazareno, que fue varón profeta, poderoso en obra y en palabra delante de Dios y de todo el pueblo”»- Mateo 21:11, & Lucas 24:19). Pero, con respecto a la pregunta de si Jesús era literalmente Dios, la respuesta es tan sencilla, que hasta un pequeño niño podría articularla-- “El Nazareno no pudo haber sido literalmente יהוה (el Dios de Israel)”.

¿Por que? Pues porque el Dios de Israel es perfectamente bueno («Bueno y recto es יהוה... Gustad, y ved que es bueno יהוה... Aleluya. Alabad a יהוה, porque Él es bueno...»- Salmo 25:8, Salmo 34:8, Salmo 106:1); mientras que, el Nazareno, admite abiertamente no haber sido perfectamente bueno. Como esta escrito: «Él [el Nazareno] le dijo: “¿Por qué me llamas bueno? Ninguno hay bueno sino uno: Dios”...»- Mateo 19:17

God's moral perfection prevents Him from discriminating either in favor or against anyone

One of Reformed Samaritanism basic tenets states that the Creator is a being of moral perfection ("He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He"- Deuteronomy 32:4, KJB).

Thus, the God of Abraham will never choose to arbitrarily discriminate against [or in favor] of anyone, as He judges each man according to his personal obedience (or rebellion) to the Divine commandments-- In other words, If a man follows Moses Law, the Creator considers such man to be an Israelite; a person with a clean heart [regardless of his race]; but if such man refuses to follow Moses, then God considers him to be a Gentile [again, regardless of his race].

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

Christianity is an awesome religion! But, if true that Jesus took upon himself the punishment for our sins (permanent extermination, according to the Adventist sect), then why is it that Jesus wasn't permanently exterminated? Wasn't he supposed to literally suffer our own punishment? Or is the former claim instead a crafty sales pitch intended to "fish" the naive, and the unsuspecting? ("And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men"- Mark 1:17, KJB)

Christian theology claims that the reason why human beings experience death, is that we've inherited the guilt of Adam's "original Sin" ("For the wages of sin is death"- Romans 6:23). In addition, it claims that, when a man shows faith in Jesus [alleged] atoning sacrifice, the guilt of his sins is completely removed, and God now considers him free from condemnation ("There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus"- Romans 8:1). But, if faith in Jesus actually cleanses the guilt of our sins [including our supposed "original sin"], then why is it that Christian believers still experience death? What sin has Jesus blood been unable to atone, thereby preventing believers from finally overcoming death's punishment? Could it be that death was always part of God's natural order for beings made of flesh and blood, and not the result of any alleged original sin?

And from whence do we get the idea that [regardless of his race] he who has a clean heart (free of rebellion against God's commandments) is considered to be an Israelite? We get it from the verse that goes on to say: "Truly God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart"- Psalm 73:1, KJB.

Thus, it makes sense to discover that the covenant of the Law wasn't made with the Israelite generation coming out of Egypt [as they rebelled against Moses]. Rather, it was made with those who [regardless of their race] were still alive 40 years later. Why? Because they had remained faithful to Moses! As is written: "The lord made not this covenant with our fathers, but with us, even us, who are all of us here alive this day- Deuteronomy 5:3, King James Bible.

And from whence do we get that, as soon as ethnic Israel turns away from God (openly parading it's rebellion), it ceases to be blessed Israel (those who have a clean heart), and become instead accursed Sodom? We know it from the verse that goes on to say:

"Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers... they have provoked the holy one of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward... except the lord of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

hear the word of the lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the Law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah”- Isaiah 1:4-10, KJB. May the Almighty bless and preserve Israel!

Samaritanismo Reformado

La fe Nazarena exalta el martirio de los grandes creyentes. ¿Que dice al respecto la Ley Divina?

La Ley de Dios muestra que ningún hombre pudo jamás hacer daño físico a Moisés (paz y bendición sean con él). ¿Por que? Pues porque este último no solamente era humilde, sino que vivía una vida que honraba y glorificaba al Creador. Y el Creador ha prometido que, aquellos que le obedecen, han de ser victoriosos sobre sus enemigos. Como esta escrito: “Acontecerá que si oyeres atentamente la voz de יהוה (Adonay Yah) tu Dios, para guardar y poner por obra todos sus mandamientos que yo te prescribo hoy, también יהוה tu Dios te exaltará sobre todas las naciones de la tierra... יהוה derrotará a tus enemigos que se levanten contra ti; por un camino saldrán contra ti, y por siete caminos huirán de delante de ti”-Deuteronomio 28:1&7.

En otras palabras, la idea Nazarena que postula que el Creador a menudo permite que sus grandes siervos sean muertos [o sufran martirio] a manos de los paganos, es simplemente ajena al mensaje de la Ley Divina. Y lo anterior es la razón por la cual hallamos que los paganos nunca fueron capaces de “exterminar” a ninguno de aquellos grandes hombres que permanecieron fieles al Creador-- hombres como Enoc, Noé, Job, Abraham, Moisés, Josué, Samuel, David, Elías, Eliseo, Jeremías, Daniel, Mardoqueo, etc. En resumen, la fe Nazarena es un camino válido para servir al Creador; pero la teología Nazarena es completamente ajena al mensaje de la Ley Divina

The role of love in the life of R.S. (Reformed Samaritan) believers

Why did the Lord punish Edom? Because he kept a grudge against his brother. As it is written: “I WILL NOT RELENT FROM PUNISHING EDOM for three crimes, even four, BECAUSE HE PURSUED HIS BROTHER WITH THE SWORD. HE STIFLED HIS COMPASSION, HIS ANGER TORE AT HIM CONTINUALLY, AND HE HARBORED HIS RAGE INCESSANTLY”- Amos 1:11 (Christian Standard Bible).

Therefore, whenever our words toward our fellow human beings are full of unjustified hatred and bitterness, we are thereby bearing witness that God’s love is missing from our hearts.

And, according to both Hebrew and Christian Scriptures, lacking God’s love places us in direct opposition to the Almighty. As it has been said: “Thou shalt not avenge... but THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOUR AS THYSELF... But I tell you, EVERYONE WHO IS ANGRY WITH HIS BROTHER OR SISTER WILL BE SUBJECT TO JUDGMENT. Whoever insults his brother or sister will be subject to the court. WHOEVER SAYS, ‘YOU FOOL!’ WILL BE SUBJECT TO HELLFIRE”- Leviticus 19:18, & Matthew 5:22.

In fact, the Christian writings seem to fully agree with the former idea, as they state that he who doesn't love his fellow human being doesn't know God.

As it has been said: “If I have the gift of prophecy and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and IF I HAVE ALL FAITH SO THAT I CAN MOVE MOUNTAINS BUT DO NOT HAVE LOVE, I AM NOTHING. And if I give away all my possessions, and if I GIVE OVER MY BODY IN ORDER TO BOAST BUT DO NOT HAVE LOVE, I GAIN NOTHING... Dear friends, let us love one another, because love is from God, and everyone who loves has been born of God and knows God. THE ONE WHO DOES NOT LOVE DOES NOT KNOW GOD, BECAUSE GOD IS LOVE- 1 Corinthians 13:2-3, & 1 John 4:7-8 (CSB).

And it finally says, “We know that we have passed from death to life [everlasting] because we love our brothers and sisters. THE ONE WHO DOES NOT LOVE REMAINS IN DEATH”- 1 John 3:14. May God’s peace and love be upon you all. Amen

Las Verdades Eternas del Samaritanismo Reformado

El mensaje del Samaritanismo Reformado es que el creyente solo debe servir a יהוה (Adonay Yah, el Señor Dios de Israel), y no a nada ni nadie que tenga una imagen física (especialmente la imagen de algún hombre o alguna mujer). Como está escrito: “A יהוה tu Dios temerás, y a Él sólo servirás... y habló יהוה con vosotros de en medio del fuego... mas a excepción de oír la voz, ninguna figura visteis... Guardad, pues, mucho vuestras almas... para que no os corrompáis y hagáis para vosotros escultura, imagen de figura alguna, efigie de varón o hembra...”- Deut. 6:13, Deut. 4:12, 15, &16).

En Adición, el Samaritanismo Reformado postula que jamás ha existido en Israel otro profeta como Moisés (“Y nunca más se levantó profeta en Israel como Moisés...”- Deut. 34:10, Reina Valera 1960); y que no podemos añadir ni quitar a los 5 libros de la Ley Divina [el Pentateuco], pues son toda la Escritura que el creyente necesita (“Cuidarás de hacer todo lo que yo [Moisés] te mando; no añadirás a ello, ni de ello quitarás”- Deut. 12:32, Reina Valera 1960).

En este último aspecto, el Samaritanismo Reformado postula que los cinco libros de la Ley Divina son la suprema regla para medir todo otro libro inspirado; mientras que los libros sagrados de Judíos, Cristianos, Musulmanes, y otros grupos, no son sino comentarios explicativos-- adaptados a la necesidad particular de cada grupo.

En adición, el Samaritanismo Reformado afirma que el juicio Divino deparado para cada ser humano consiste en hacerle “cosechar” el mismo “fruto” que libre y voluntariamente halla escogido “sembrar”. Y lo anterior explica la razón por lo cual, la primera lección que provee Dios al hombre (Adán), consiste en hacerle labrar un jardín, de suerte que pudiese aprender la prioridad que, en el plan Divino, juega la ley de “Siembra y cosecha” (“Tomó, pues, יהוה Dios al hombre, y lo puso en el huerto de Edén, para que lo labrara y lo guardase”- Genesis 2:15, RV 1960).

De nuevo, esto último también es cónsono con lo expuesto en la escritura Judía, que dice: «Porque cercano está el día de יהוה (es decir, el día del juicio Divino) sobre todas las naciones; “como tú hiciste se hará contigo; tu recompensa volverá sobre tu cabeza»- Abdías 1:15 (Reina Valera 1960). Y lo mismo enseñan los escritos Cristianos, cuando dicen: “No os engañéis; Dios no puede ser burlado: pues todo lo que el hombre sembrare, eso también segará”- Gálatas 6:7.

En adición, el Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que, el último y supremo Mesías Redentor, no es otro sino el arrepentimiento sincero [y, por antonomasia, todo aquel que lo predica]. Y esto último concuerda con el evangelio cristiano, cuando cita a Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) diciendo lo siguiente: “Os digo: No; antes si no os arrepentís, todos pereceréis igualmente”- Lucas 13:3, Biblia Reina Valera, 1960. Y la Escritura Judía afirma lo mismo, cuando dice: “Y vendrá el Redentor a

Sion, y [a quien vendrá el Redentor? Pues...] a los que se volvieren [arrepentidos] de la iniquidad en Jacob, dice יהוה... El que encubre sus pecados no prosperará; Mas el que los confiesa y se aparta alcanzará misericordia... Por tanto, confesaré mi maldad, Y me contristaré por mi pecado”- Isaías 59:20, Proverbios 28:13, & Salmos 38:18 (Biblia Reina Valera 1960)

Finalmente, el Samaritanismo Reformado afirma que los Diez mandamientos son la pura y verdadera religión Divina; el pacto eterno entre Dios y los hombres. Y lo anterior es demostrado en el pasaje que procede a decir: “Y Él os anunció Su pacto, el cual os mandó poner por obra; los Diez Mandamientos... Estas palabras habló El Señor a toda vuestra congregación en el monte... y no añadió más. Y las escribió en dos tablas de piedra, las cuales me dio a mí”- Deut. 4:13, & Deut. 5:22 (Reina Valera 1960).

Samaritanismo Reformado

Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) no pudo haber sido el Creador. ¿Por que? Pues porque no hace sentido que el Creador del Universo pueda jamás ser tentado a adorar su propia creación

Nadie que posea un sabio, maduro, y sensato intelecto, aceptaría jamás la idea de que el Creador de todas las cosas (aquel Dios omnipotente que es infinitamente poderoso, perfecto, e ilimitado), pueda ser tentado a postrarse en adoración y pleitesía ante ninguna de sus débiles, imperfectas, y limitadas criaturas [¡reconociendo así la superioridad de estas últimas!]. Y es por ello que, aunque le reconocen como un poderoso expositor de las verdades éticas y morales de la Ley Divina, aquellos que siguen la Ley Divina rechazan la idea de que el Nazareno halla sido literalmente el Creador. ¿Por que? Pues porque el evangelio cita al Galileo [el supuesto Creador del universo] siendo tentado por Satanás [¡una de sus supuestas criaturas!]. Como esta escrito: «Otra vez le llevó el Diablo a un monte muy alto...y le dijo: “Todo esto te daré, si postrado me adorares...”»- Mateo 4:8-9

Y también dice en otro lugar: “Guardad cuidadosamente los mandamientos de יהוה vuestro Dios, y sus testimonios y sus estatutos que te ha mandado. Y haz lo recto y bueno ante los ojos de יהוה, para que te vaya bien, y entres y poseas la buena tierra [símbolo del Paraíso deparado para los santos] que יהוה juró a tus padres”- Deut. 6:17-18 (Reina Valera 1960).

De nuevo, lo anterior es cónsono con lo adscrito al Nazareno, cuando es citado diciendo: «... “Mas si quieres entrar en la Vida [Eterna], guarda los mandamientos”. Le dijo: “¿Cuáles? Y Jesús dijo: “No matarás, No adulterarás, No hurtarás, No dirás falso testimonio, Honra a tu padre y a tu madre; y, Amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo” (Es decir, haz lo ordenado en los Diez mandamientos, que se resumen en amar a Dios y al prójimo)»- Mateo 19:17-19, Reina Valera 1960. Y esto último también es confirmado por el mayor de todos los sabios (el rey Salomón), cuando es citado diciendo: «El fin de todo el discurso oído es este: “Teme a Dios, y guarda sus mandamientos; porque esto es el todo del hombre”»- Eclesiastés 12:13.

De hecho, el apóstol Pablo admite lo mismo, cuando procede a decir: «No debáis a nadie nada, sino el amaros unos a otros; porque el que ama al prójimo, ha cumplido la Ley [es decir, los Diez Mandamientos]. Porque: “No adulterarás, no matarás, no hurtarás, no dirás falso testimonio, no codiciarás, y cualquier otro mandamiento, en esta sentencia se resume: Amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo”. El amor no hace mal al prójimo; así que el cumplimiento de la Ley es el amor”- Romanos 13:8-10

Finalmente, el apóstol Juan es también citado enseñando que, sin obediencia a los mandamientos Divinos, no hay amor a Dios; y por ende tampoco hay verdadera religión. Como esta escrito: «Pues este es el amor a Dios, que guardemos sus mandamientos; y sus mandamientos no son gravosos...

El que dice: “Yo le conozco”, y no guarda sus mandamientos, el tal es mentiroso, y la verdad no está en él»- 1 Juan 5:3, & 2:2 (Reina Valera 1960).

Y el apóstol Santiago también atestigua acerca de la importancia de sembrar el bien ordenado en los mandamientos, cuando dice que la fe sin obras [es decir, sin obediencia a los mandamientos] es muerta. Como está escrito:

«Hermanos míos, ¿de qué aprovechará si alguno dice que tiene fe, y no tiene obras? ¿Podrá la fe salvarle?... Pero alguno dirá: “Tú tienes fe, y yo tengo obras”. Muéstrame tu fe sin tus obras, y yo te mostraré mi fe por mis obras... ¿Mas quieres saber, hombre vano, que la fe sin obras es muerta?... Vosotros veis, pues, que el hombre es justificado por las obras, y no solamente por la fe... Porque como el cuerpo sin espíritu está muerto, así también la fe sin obras está muerta”- Santiago 2:14, 18, 20, 24, & 26 (Biblia Reina Valera 1960).

Reformed Samaritanism
-- Only what was written (by the Almighty) upon the two stone Tablets (the Decalogue) is God's perfect, unalterable, and everlasting will for all Mankind -- “He declared his covenant to you. He commanded you to follow the Ten Commandments, which he wrote on two stone tablets... The Lord spoke these commands in a loud voice to your entire assembly from the fire, cloud, and total darkness on the mountain; He added nothing more. He wrote them on two stone tablets and gave them to me”- Deut. 4:13, & 5:22 (Christian Standard Bible)
Christianity is great, as it preaches repentance and obedience. But, beware of Christian theology! Why? Because, almost half of the books comprising “the New Testament”, were written by Paul; a man who openly confessed of being tormented by “a messenger of Satan” (a Demon!). Why would God allow it to be so? In order to keep in check his arrogant and uncontrollable pride. As it is written: “especially because of the extraordinary revelations.
Therefore, so that I would not exalt myself, a thorn in the flesh was given to me, a messenger of Satan to torment me so that I would not exalt myself”- 2 Corinthians 12:7 (Christian Standard Bible). And it goes without saying that, to blindly believe in the words of a person [especially if such person is a major religious figure] who openly admits of being tormented by a demon would be, at best, a serious [and therefore dangerous] lack of wise judgment. Why? Because you can never know for sure who is uttering those words- the person himself, or the demon who is tormenting him. May peace be upon you!

The reason for the suffering of the righteous

While our “Joseph-like soul” still dwelt in the “Canaan-like (heavenly) abode”, it dreamt of being exalted among its peers. Eventually, the time came when it openly proclaimed [before its “Isaac-like” (or “heavenly”) father] its desire for it to be so.

And by so doing, it gave its implicit approval to experiencing the ignorance, despair, hopelessness, anguish, pain, suffering, shame, defeat, doubt, betrayal, and death implied in experiencing a physical existence. Why? Because it is the conquering of the latter evils [or “Giants”] what will make the soul worthy of becoming God's own Viceroy (the spiritual equivalent to what Joseph became to Pharaoh, or Joshua To Moses).

Thus, we find that although Joseph found himself in the midst of a dungeon (just as our souls currently find themselves in the dungeon of a physical body), he still was a cheerful person («And Joseph came in unto them in the morning, and looked upon them, and, behold, they were sad. And he asked Pharaoh's officers that were with him... "WHEREFORE LOOK YE SO SADLY TO DAY?"»- Genesis 40:6-7).

How could Joseph feel happy in the midst of the dungeon? Because he knew that, as long as he remained faithful to God [in the midst of adversity and suffering], there was no reason to despair, as the final triumph of his soul was totally guaranteed.

Likewise, the sufferings, limitations and tribulations we currently experience, are but a necessary part of a far greater plan previously agreed upon between God and our souls.

Why? So that, just as it happened to Joseph, our souls could eventually experience the "spiritual ascension" that will [in the end] make us better resemble the likeness of our heavenly Father. As it has been said: "... I will behold thy face in righteousness: I SHALL BE SATISFIED [OF MY PAINS AND SUFFERINGS], WHEN I AWAKE WITH THY LIKENESS"- Psalm 17:15

¿Amenaza Dios a los seres humanos, a fin de intimidarles a cumplir sus caprichos?

Estimado hermanos y amigos, el Samaritanismo reformado postula que el Creador no es un tirano religioso, ni mucho menos es un dictador ideológico que dice, "it's my way, or the highway" (o haces todo lo que te ordeno, o te atormento en el infierno para siempre).

De hecho, el sagrado orden Divino nada sabe acerca de amenazas, o intimidación; solo sabe acerca de "acción y reacción", de "causa y efecto", así como de "siembra y cosecha". Y es por esto que, en realidad, no hay castigo ni recompensa para nadie; sino que, tanto Satán, como el cielo y el infierno, no son sino el modo alegórico en que el Creador ilustra [de modo simplificado] verdades éticas y morales mucho más profundas.

Consideremos el siguiente ejemplo: ¿por que la metáfora del fuego y el infierno? Pues porque, cuando la carne es demasiado dura, la forma natural de ablandarla es echarla temporalmente en el fuego (es decir, dentro de un horno). De ese mismo modo, cuando el corazón del hombre está muy "endurecido" (lleno de orgullo y la insensatez), tiene que ser temporalmente echado en el "fuego" (que es el horno de la aflicción), a fin de que pueda ablandarse.

De nuevo, la realidad es que el Creador no juzga arbitrariamente a ninguna persona [sin importar si tal persona es Judía, o Gentil; Cristiana, o Musulmana], sino que "su juicio" no es sino una metáfora-- una cuyo propósito es ilustrar la perfecta justicia que se manifiesta en el hecho de que, al final de cuentas, todos tendremos que cosechar el mismo bien [o mal] que libre y voluntariamente hallamos sembrado.

Y la Escritura Hebrea confirma lo anterior, cuando procede a decir: "Porque cercano está el día [del Juicio] de YHVH sobre todas las naciones-- COMO TÚ HICISTE, SE HARÁ CONTIGO..."- Abdías 1:15.

Lo hasta aquí dicho, es la razón por la cual todo hombre sensato debe reconocer y respetar el sagrado orden Divino (siembra y cosecha, causa y efecto, acción y reacción), pues pretender ignorar (o modificar) este último no es sino futil vanidad ("HE ENTENDIDO QUE TODO LO QUE DIOS HACE SERÁ PERPETUO; SOBRE AQUELLO NO SE AÑADIRÁ, NI DE ELLO SE DISMINUIRÁ..."- Eclesiastés 3:14)

Así, el hombre sabio y prudente, es aquel que se abstiene de sembrar la maldad, y procede en cambio a sembrar todo el bien (la justicia, la palabra de honor, la honestidad intelectual, la ética, la moral, la misericordia, y la humildad) que desearía algún día cosechar. Como esta escrito: “EL SABIO TEME Y SE APARTA DEL MAL; MAS EL INSENSATO SE MUESTRA INSOLENT E Y CONFIADO”- Proverbios 14:16.

¡Paz sea con vosotros!

Which group better represents the faith originally preached by Moses? Jews? Or Samaritans?

The origins of the Samaritan faith [as well as the origins of most ancient religions] are subject to conflicting reports. Some of the evidence [like the Babylonian Talmud] claims that Samaritanism was the result of the teachings of two Jewish Rabbis (R. Dostai be Yannai, and R. Zechariah); who circumcised and taught Torah to the newly arrived Babylonian settlers, using the ancient Hebrew (Notarikon) script. On the other hand, The Jewish version of Torah doesn't even mention the word “rabbi”, but rather speaks about one single priests. As it is written:

וַיָּבֹא אֶחָד מֵהַכֹּהֲנִים, אֲשֶׁר הֶגְלוּ מִשְׁמָרוֹן, וַיָּשֶׁב, בְּבֵית-אֵל; וַיְהִי מוֹרֶה אֹתָם, אֵיךְ יִירָאוּ אֶת-יְהוָה.

(“So ONE OF THE PRIESTS whom they had carried away from Samaria came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they should fear the LORD”- 2 Kings 17:28, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

Likewise, while on the one hand Jewish Scripture portrays Samaritans as pagan fools, who thought they could worship God together with false idols (“SO THESE NATIONS FEARED THE LORD, AND SERVED THEIR GRAVEN IMAGES; their children likewise, and their children's children, as did their fathers, so do they unto this day”- 2 Kings 17:41, JPS 1917 Edition), On the other hand we find that Jewish tradition portrays them as venerable people, who respect the wise and the learned. As it is written: «When Abbaye lost a donkey in a place inhabited by Cutheans (Samaritans), he sent word to them: “Have it brought back to me”. The Cutheans: “Let us have a mark of identification”. Abbaye: “Its belly is white”. The Cutheans: “Where you not Nahmani, we would not have sent it back to you. Do not all donkeys have white bellies?”»- Babylonian Talmud. Git. 45)

So, in view of such diametrically opposed reports, we might ask ourselves the following question: What is the truth concerning Samaritans? Are they good, or are they evil? Are they part of God's holy people? Or are they God's enemies?

In fact, if we were to be brutally honest, we would have to admit that a similar question could be asked concerning every ancient tradition (Hinduism, Judaism, Christianity, Islam, etc)-- Are they good? Or are they evil? Do they enjoy God's absolute favor? Or is their favor temporary and conditional?

Well, the answer Reformed Samaritans provide to the above question stands upon two simple principles: (1) As God speaks to mankind by means of parables and metaphors [which, by default, are subject to multiple valid interpretations]-- thus, let you theology be free from rigid and radical extremes, and seek instead the healthy balanced position; (2) In all things, recognize the perfect justice manifested thru the Divine Law of “Sowing and reaping” (aka “measure for measure”).

Consider the following: Why Did the Almighty create man from the dust of the Earth? In order to hint at the idea that the latter is just like a tree-- one planted by God (the Divine Sower) into the Garden that is His physical world. Thus, whenever such tree yields good fruit, the Sower is pleased; but when it's fruit is sour and rotten, the Sower gets saddened and upset.

Whence we know the former to be true? We know it from king Saul. For though God “planted” him upon Israel's throne, when his heart became stubborn, rebellious, and arrogant, the Lord uprooted him-- making room for "the better tree" that would be king David.

As it has been said: "IT REPENTETH ME THAT I HAVE SET UP SAUL TO BE KING; FOR HE IS TURNED BACK FROM FOLLOWING ME, AND HATH NOT PERFORMED MY COMMANDMENTS... Because THOU HAST REJECTED THE WORD OF THE LORD, HE HATH ALSO REJECTED THEE... THE LORD HATH RENT THE KINGDOM OF ISRAEL FROM THEE this day, AND HATH GIVEN IT TO A NEIGHBOUR of thine, THAT IS BETTER THAN THOU"- 1 Samuel 15:11, 23, & 28.

Curiously, according to Jewish Scripture the same thing [allegedly] happened to Eli [the high priest at Shiloh]; for though his ancestral house had been chosen by God, his "fruits" became "rotten" ("In that day I WILL PERFORM AGAINST ELI ALL THAT I HAVE SPOKEN CONCERNING HIS HOUSE, from the beginning even unto the end. For I have told him that I WILL JUDGE HIS HOUSE FOR EVER, FOR THE INIQUITY, IN THAT HE KNEW THAT HIS SONS DID BRING A CURSE UPON THEMSELVES, AND HE REBUKED THEM NOT"- 1 Samuel 3:12-13).

Thus, "the Divine Gardener" decided to uproot Eli (in order to make room for a better "tree"). As it has been said: «Therefore the LORD, the God of Israel, saith: "I SAID INDEED THAT THY HOUSE, AND THE HOUSE OF THY FATHER, SHOULD WALK BEFORE ME FOR EVER; but now the LORD saith: BE IT FAR FROM ME: FOR THEM THAT HONOUR ME I WILL HONOUR, AND THEY THAT DESPISE ME SHALL BE LIGHTLY ESTEEMED"»- 1 Samuel 2:30.

Likewise, the Almighty had foretold that a day would come when the nation of Israel would turn so far away from God, that He would be forced to get rid of them, in order to replace them with another people: "I WILL SMITE THEM WITH THE PESTILENCE, AND DESTROY THEM, AND WILL MAKE OF THEE A NATION GREATER AND MIGHTIER THAN THEY"- Numbers 14:12, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition.

When did the Lord fulfill the latter promise? When most of Israel was uprooted from the Land, in order to make room for the Assyrian settlers-- the same Assyrian settlers whom, though never witnessing any great miracle [nor deliverance] from the God of Moses, were immediately willing [though imperfectly] to follow Moses.

As it is written:

"AND THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL WALKED IN ALL THE SINS OF JEROBOAM which he did; they departed not from them; UNTIL THE LORD REMOVED ISRAEL OUT OF HIS SIGHT, as He spoke by the hand of all His servants the prophets. SO ISRAEL WAS CARRIED AWAY OUT OF THEIR OWN LAND TO ASSYRIA, unto this day. AND THE KING OF ASSYRIA BROUGHT MEN FROM BABYLON, AND FROM CUTHAH, AND FROM AVVA, AND FROM HAMATH AND SEPHARVAIM, AND PLACED THEM IN THE CITIES OF SAMARIA INSTEAD OF THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL; and they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof... Then the king of Assyria commanded, saying: 'CARRY THITHER ONE OF THE PRIESTS WHOM YE BROUGHT FROM THENCE; AND LET THEM GO AND DWELL THERE, AND LET HIM TEACH THEM THE MANNER OF THE GOD OF THE LAND' " - 2 Kings 17:22-24, & 27.

Thus, in the eyes of the Almighty, there's no ethnocentric conflict, as the main issue isn't whether you are a Hebrew Israelite, or a pagan Assyrian; whether you belong to the priestly caste, or don't belong to such chosen lineage; whether you are a Hebrew king, or rather a Samaritan commoner...

... The real issue, is whether "your fruits" [the lifestyle of justice, mercy and humility described in Micah 6:8] are pleasing to the Holy One, so that He considers you worthy of His garden ("THE FRUIT OF THE RIGHTEOUS IS A TREE OF LIFE”- Proverbs 11:30).

As it has been said: “IF THOU TAKE AWAY FROM THE MIDST OF THEE THE YOKE, THE PUTTING FORTH OF THE FINGER, AND SPEAKING WICKEDNESS; AND IF THOU DRAW OUT THY SOUL TO THE HUNGRY, AND SATISFY THE AFFLICTED SOUL; then shall thy light rise in darkness, and thy gloom be as the noon-day; and the LORD will guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make strong thy bones; and THOU SHALT BE LIKE A WATERED GARDEN, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not”- Isaiah 58:9-11.

Of course, God’s enemies will always try to bring confusion, in order to steer you away from the path of righteousness (“FOR THE VILE PERSON WILL SPEAK VILLAINY, AND HIS HEART WILL WORK INIQUITY, TO PRACTISE UNGODLINESS, AND TO UTTER WICKEDNESS AGAINST THE LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and to cause the drink of the thirsty to fail. The instruments also of the churl are evil; HE DEVISETH WICKED DEVICES TO DESTROY THE POOR WITH LYING WORDS, AND THE NEEDY WHEN HE SPEAKETH RIGHT”- Isaiah 32:6-7); But the wise and righteous will understand. As it has been said:

“... BUT THE WICKED SHALL DO WICKEDLY; and none of the wicked shall understand; BUT THEY THAT ARE WISE SHALL UNDERSTAND... And THEY THAT ARE WISE SHALL SHINE AS THE BRIGHTNESS OF THE FIRMAMENT; and THEY THAT TURN THE MANY TO RIGHTEOUSNESS AS THE STARS FOR EVER AND EVER– Daniel 12:10&3.

Finally, whence we get that even a Pagan who walks upon the path of justice, mercy, and humility set forth by Torah is equally worthy to the best Israelite? We get it from prophet Isaiah, who goes on to say: «IN THAT DAY SHALL ISRAEL BE THE THIRD WITH EGYPT AND WITH ASSYRIA, a blessing in the midst of the earth; for that THE LORD OF HOSTS HATH BLESSED HIM, SAYING: “BLESSED BE EGYPT MY PEOPLE AND ASSYRIA THE WORK OF MY HANDS, AND ISRAEL MINE INHERITANCE”- Isaiah 19:24-25, JPS.

Notice how not only are two gentile nations (Egypt and Assyria) placed in the same list (or “equal terms”) with Israel... they are even placed ahead of the list (as if to imply that some gentile nations would uphold Torah values even better than Israel!)

ADORAR AL NAZARENO, ES PURA
IDOLATRIA, PUES EL GALILEO ERA UN
HOMBRE DE CARNE Y HUESO; UN HOMBRE
FINITO, QUE SUFRIA DE HAMBRE Y SED; UN
HOMBRE QUE SE CANSABA, SE ENOJABA, Y
QUE CONFESABA NO SABERLO TODO
(MARCOS 13:32). Y, ESTA DEMAS DECIR
QUE, QUIEN NO LO SABE TODO, ESTA
SUJETO A ERRORES Y FALTAS. EN CAMBIO,
EL DIOS DE ISRAEL, ES INFINITO, NO TIENE
FALTAS NI LIMITACIONES, Y SABE TODAS
LAS COSAS.

Como recibir el Ruaj Ha Kodesh, y entrar así en el Olam Ha-ba

La Tanak (o “Escritura Hebrea”) intima que el “Olam Ha-ba” (o “la Vida Eterna en el Mundo que ha de venir”) es el producto de haber recibido el “Ruaj Ha Kodesh” (Espíritu Santo), como está escrito: “Y PONDRÉ MI ESPÍRITU EN VOSOTROS, Y VIVIRÉIS...” (Ezequiel 37:14).

Pero, ¿hay un camino seguro para recibir el Espíritu Santo? La Torah afirma que, en efecto, lo hay; y que, ese camino está en LA HUMILDAD QUE RESULTA CUANDO NOS ANONADAMOS A NOSOTROS MISMO (es decir, en la voluntaria renuncia a nuestro arrogante ego). ¿Donde enseña esto la Torah? Pues en el pasaje que dice:

«Entonces Yah dijo a Moisés: reúneme setenta varones de los ancianos de Israel, que tu sabes que son ancianos del pueblo, y sus principales; y tráelos a la puerta del Tabernáculo de reunión, y esperen allí contigo. Y yo descenderé y hablare allí contigo, y tomare del Ruaj (Espíritu) que está en ti, y pondré en ellos; y llevaran contigo la carga del pueblo, y no la llevaras tu solo... Entonces Yah descendió en la nube, y le hablo (a Moisés); y tomo del Ruaj (Espíritu) que estaba en el, y lo puso en los setenta varones ancianos. Y habían quedado en el campamento dos varones, llamado el uno Eldad y el otro Medad, sobre los cuales también reposo el Ruaj (Espíritu Santo); estaban estos anotados (en la lista de ancianos que habrían de asistir a Moisés) pero no habían ido al tabernáculo; y profetizaron en el campamento» (Números 11:26).

En el anterior pasaje, Adonai (bendito sea) ha pedido a Moisés que escoja setenta ancianos de entre las doce tribus de Israel. Estos setenta, compartirán con Moisés la tarea (y el honor) de dirigir al pueblo. Pero, surgió un inconveniente: si se escogían cinco ancianos por tribu, el total sumaría sesenta. Por otro lado, si se escogían seis ancianos por tribu, el total sumaría setenta y dos.

Finalmente, se decide escoger seis por cada tribu (para una lista total de setenta y dos ancianos), y dejar que sea Dios quien elimine un par de ellos, una vez reunidos frente al Tabernáculo. Pero, mientras aún se hallaban en el campamento, dos de estos ancianos (Eldad y Medad) tomaron la ennoblecadora aptitud de no actuar pensando solo en su propio bienestar. Es decir, a fin de que nadie fuese avergonzado (siendo públicamente rechazado), Eldad y Medad se abstuvieron de presentarse ante el tabernáculo (perdiendo así la oportunidad de obtener la gloria de ser parte del liderato político de Israel).

Y, la humilde aptitud de estos dos creyentes, agrado tanto a Elohim (el Juez que juzga con perfecta Justicia), que decidió conferirles una honra especial. ¿Cual? Pues que recibiesen el Espíritu Santo directamente del Creador.

Es que, si bien es cierto que los ancianos que fueron al Tabernáculo recibieron el Espíritu Santo, Dios les concedió esta gracia utilizando a Moisés como intermediario (Es decir, utilizando el merito de Moisés como justificación para conferirlo); Pero Eldad y Medad no necesitaron la mediación de Moisés, sino que lo recibieron directamente de Dios.

LO QUE INTIMABA EL CREADOR CON ESTO, ERA QUE, ASÍ COMO LA HUMILDAD DE MOISÉS (COMO DICE LA ESCRITURA, “Y AQUEL VARÓN MOISÉS ERA MUY HUMILDE...”- NÚM. 12:3) LE CONFIRIÓ LA HONRA DE RECIBIR EL ESPÍRITU DIRECTAMENTE DE DIOS (CUMPLIENDO ASÍ LA ESCRITURA QUE DICE, “... A LA HONRA PRECEDE LA HUMILDAD”- PROV. 15:33), DE ESE MISMO MODO LA HUMILDAD DE ELIDAD Y MEDAD LES CONFIRIÓ LA HONRA DE RECIBIR EL ESPÍRITU DIRECTAMENTE DE DIOS.

Y, recibiendo el Espíritu, estos creyentes Hebreos también recibieron la esperanza de la resurrección, pues la tarea del Espíritu no es otra sino exaltar a los humildes; como está escrito, "El Espíritu de Yah el Señor está sobre mí... me ha enviado a predicar buenas nuevas a los humildes"- Isaías 61:1. Y, está casi demás decir que, nadie es mas humilde, que un justo a quien la muerte ha reducido ya al polvo y a las cenizas.

El Cristianismo Adventista es bueno; pero sus postulados teológicos son tinieblas Satánicas

La Escritura hebrea intima que a “Ha Satan” (el opositor) le encantan “las tinieblas”. ¿Que son “las tinieblas”? Pues son lo opuesto a “la claridad”; son cosas como la incertidumbre, la confusión, la inseguridad, la inconstancia, la incoherencia, la contradicción, la deshonestidad, y la hipocresía. Y es por ello que, si bien la noble fe Nazarena puede ser un camino válido para servir al Creador, ningún creyente sabio y maduro podrá jamás sentirse cómodo con la teología Nazarena. ¿Por que? Pues porque esta última esta plagada de “tinieblas”-- de incoherencias, de incertidumbre, de contradicciones, y de deshonestidad.

Consideremos algunos de los ejemplos que ilustran las Satánicas tinieblas de confusión que plagan la noble fe Nazarena:

- Mientras por un lado el Evangelio afirma que Jesús no vino a abrogar la Ley (Mateo 5:17), por otro lado afirma que la Ley y los profetas eran solo hasta Juan (Lucas 16:16).
- Mientras afirma en un lugar que, el que ha visto a Jesús, ha visto al Padre (Juan 14:9), en otro lugar afirma que nadie ha visto jamás a Dios (1 Juan 4:12).
- Mientras afirma en un lugar que la resurrección del Nazareno era indispensable para que el mundo alcanzase arrepentimiento (obteniendo así la vida eterna, según Romanos 10:9), por otro lado afirma que nadie tenía que resucitar de los muertos, a fin de que pudiésemos proceder al arrepentimiento (Lucas 16:30-31).
- Mientras afirma en un lugar que la salvación es por fe, y no por obras (Efesios 2:8-9), en otro lado afirma que, quien quiera entrar a la vida (eterna), debe guardar los mandamientos de la Ley (Mateo 19:17).
- Mientras por un lado afirma que Dios es Uno (Marcos 12:29), por otro lado afirma que Dios es tres (1 Juan 5:7).
- Mientras, por un lado, se goza de que los nuevos creyentes no tengan que guardar la Ley (Romanos 6:14), por otro se goza de que los nuevos creyentes sean celosos en guardar la Ley (Hechos 21:20).
- Mientras por un lado afirma que Dios no puede ser tentado por el Mal (Santiago 1:13), por otro lado afirma que Jesús (la encarnación de Dios), fue tentado por el Mal (Lucas 4:2).
- Mientras por un lado nos prohíbe servir a otro “Señor” fuera de Dios (Mateo 6:24), por otro lado nos exhorta a servir en adición al “Señor” Jesús (Romanos 14:18 & Colosenses 3:24).

Tristemente, las anteriores contradicciones fuerzan al Cristiano Adventista a mentir, pues le obligan a urdir sendos “malabares teológicos” (falsas, ridículas, y desvergonzadas excusas), a fin de justificar tales tinieblas de engaño y confusión. Pero, haciendo tal cosa, el Cristiano se hace un hijo de “Ha Satan” (Satanás), pues [según el mismo Jesús] este último es el Padre de toda mentira [así como de todos los mentirosos!].

Como esta escrito: “Vosotros sois de vuestro padre el diablo... Él ha sido homicida... y no ha permanecido en la verdad, porque no hay verdad en él. Cuando habla mentira, de suyo habla; porque es mentiroso, y Padre de mentira”- Juan 8:44.

¡Que el Creador [bendito sea] liberte a los Cristianos Adventistas de todo yugo de Satanás! Amén.

¿Pero en que cabeza cabe que Jesús [paz y bendición sean con él] pueda ser Dios, y a la misma vez ser “un mediador entre Dios y los hombres”? (1 Tim. 2:5). ¿Puede acaso el Dios de nuestros hermanos Cristianos padecer de algún tipo de síndrome de personalidad dividida (“split personality disorder”)?

La fe Nazarena es buena y noble; Es su teología la que es inmadura, así como obstinadamente extraviada Estimado hermano y amigo: la fe Nazarena es buena, así como bien intencionada. Pero la realidad es que la teología Nazarena es infantil e inmadura.

¿Por que? Pues porque se obstina en interpretar la segura e incuestionable Ley Divina, en base a los inseguros y cuestionables hechos que a Jesús atribuyen los evangelios. Pero cualquier persona madura y sensata sabría que tal cosa es errada, pues el orden correcto es interpretar aquello que es inseguro y cuestionable, en base a aquello que es seguro e incuestionable (“Hermanos, no seáis niños en el modo de pensar, sino sed niños en la malicia, pero maduros en el modo de pensar”- 1 Corintios 14:20).

¿Y de donde sabemos que la Ley es mas segura que el evangelio? Pues lo sabemos a partir del hecho de que, la misma Ley, declara ser perfecta (y este atributo de perfección es algo que el evangelio nunca ha reclamado poseer). Como esta escrito: “La ley de יהוה (Adonay Yah) es perfecta...”- Salmo 19:7.

Es que, la perfecta Ley de יהוה, prohíbe que el creyente adore a nada [ni a nadie] fuera de יהוה. como esta escrito: “A יהוה tu Dios temerás, y a Él solo servirás” (Deuteronomio 6:13).

Y el natural resultado de violar este último mandamiento es que, cuando el creyente adora a alguna otra cosa [o a alguna otra persona] fuera de יהוה, el creyente deja de interesarse en hacer lo que la Ley Divina muestra ser la voluntad de יהוה (una voluntad que solo conduce a la paz, a la bendición, y a la vida eterna, según Deuteronomio 28:1-14), para comenzar en cambio a hacer la voluntad de esa otra cosa [o persona] que adora.

Pero, si la voluntad de esa otra cosa que adora (Moisés, Jesús, Muhammad, Elena G. de White, José Smith, la Democracia, los Derechos Humanos, la Política, la Ciencia, la Economía, el Sexo, el Ego Personal, etc), es distinta a la voluntad de יהוה, entonces el creyente termina contradiciendo [“oponiéndose a”] la voluntad de יהוה; algo que solo conduce al desasosiego, a la maldición, y al tormento, según advierte la Escritura en Deuteronomio 28:15-68.

Curiosamente, la palabra hebrea que la misma Ley Divina utiliza para describir a todo aquel que se pone a la voluntad de יהוה, es “Ha Satan”; una palabra que traducimos al Castellano como “Satanás”. Así, quien adora cualquier otra cosa, o cualquier otra persona, fuera de יהוה, tarde o temprano termina convirtiéndose en un “Satanás” [es decir, en un enemigo de יהוה]; y, al igual que todos los enemigos de יהוה [los Egipcios, los Amalecitas, los Cananeos, los Sodomitas, etc], solo le espera el tormento, y la destrucción. ¡Que el Dios de Israel, tenga misericordia de su Pueblo, así como del Mundo entero!

Is it correct to fear any other power besides יהוה (Adonia Yah, also known as “The Lord”)?

The Christian Scripture says: “But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father who is in heaven” (Matthew 10:33). And the former verse convinces every Christian believer of his (or her) absolute need to publicly acknowledge Jesus as the awaited Messiah.

Obviously, the verse implies that God won’t allow into heaven anyone whom Jesus denies. And this should instill in every human being a fear of Jesus (Peace be upon him)- a fear of failing to obtaining Jesus approval (and thereby eternal salvation).

The fact is that, when viewed solely within the context of the Christian Scriptures, this line of reasoning makes perfect sense. The problem is that it blatantly denies Yah’s revelation to Israel, as Yah warned them not to fear anybody else besides Him: “Thou shalt fear Yah thy God; and Him shalt thou serve”- Deut. 6:13. Why? Because no being (no matter how powerful he might seem) can damage those whom have obtained Yah's blessing (by keeping His commandments). And, no being can bless those whom God have cursed (for refusing to obey His commandments).

Balaam was a very powerful prophet ("Come now therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people... FOR I KNOW THAT HE WHOM THOU BLESSEST IS BLESSED, AND HE WHOM THOU CURSEST IS CURSED"- Numbers 22:6); But, as long as the Hebrews obeyed Yah's commandments, they had no need of fearing Balaam, as Yah's blessing was upon them ("THOU SHALT NOT CURSE THE PEOPLE; FOR THEY ARE BLESSED"- Numbers 22:12).

What made them loose Yah's blessing? Disobedience to His commandments! In other words, as soon as the Hebrews stopped obeying Yah's commandments (fornicating with the Moabite women), they lost His blessing, and the punishment for their rebellion came crashing upon them, so that thousands perished ("And Israel abode in Shittim; and the people began to play the harlot with the daughters of Moab... and the anger of Yah was kindled against Israel... And those that died by the plague were twenty and four thousand"- Numbers 25:1, 3&9).

Thus, Scripture teaches we shouldn't fear any man (or god) besides Adonai Yah, as our obedience to His commandments will keep us safe from everybody else.

¿Juzga Dios personalmente a alguien, enviándole a un cielo o a un infierno?

La sagrada fe del Samaritanismo Reformado postula que, el justo y sagrado orden Divino, nada sabe acerca de violencia, o pacifismo; no sabe acerca de igualitarismo; ni tampoco sabe acerca cielos e infiernos, o castigos y recompensas. El orden Divino, solo sabe acerca de "causa y efecto"; de "acción y reacción", y de "siembra y cosecha".

De este modo, el hombre [o la mujer] que se ocupa en hacer lo bueno ("sembrando" el bien), puede estar seguro de que, tarde o temprano, habrá de "cosechar" el mismo bien que halla sembrado-- y esto ultimo podría decirse que es "el cielo" que se le habrá conferido.

How do you know whether an alleged religious truth (or revelation) comes from the Creator, or is instead the product of vain human imagination? Very simple! Just consider where will such idea naturally lead you. In other words; Will it improve your character, so that it better reflects the character of your heavenly Father? Will it lead you to love goodness and hate evil? Will it lead you to reward the righteous while condemning the wicked? Will it bring upon you a sense of objective truth, peace, justice, honor, and dignity? Will it turn you into a more balanced, just, merciful, humble, honest, fair, moral, wise, and impartial person? If it does, then it is indeed a truth coming from the Creator

De igual modo, el hombre quien se obstina en "sembrar" la maldad [engaño, orgullo, vanidad, hipocresía, crueldad, opresión, injusticia, etc], tarde o temprano será forzado a "cosechar" el mismo mal que halla sembrado-- y eso ultimo podría decirse que es "el infierno" que se le habrá otorgado. Y lo anterior es confirmado en el pasaje donde se afirma que, el "castigo" ("infierno") o la recompensa ("cielo") de cada uno, no sera otra cosa sino recibir el mismo bien [o mal] que halla hecho ("... COMO TÚ HICISTE SE HARÁ CONTIGO; tu recompensa volverá sobre tu cabeza."- Abdías 1:15).

De hecho, la Ley de Dios confirma la anterior verdad. ¿Donde? Pues en el pasaje donde el Creador afirma que, el castigo para quien oprime injustamente a los débiles y desvalidos (como lo serian el huérfano y la viuda), es sufrir en carne propia la misma tragedia.

Como esta escrito: “A ninguna viuda ni huérfano afligiréis. Porque si tú llegas a afligirles, y ellos clamaren a mí, ciertamente oiré yo su clamor; y mi furor se encenderá, y OS MATARÉ A ESPADA, Y VUESTRAS MUJERES SERÁN VIUDAS, Y HUÉRFANOS VUESTROS HIJOS [DE SUERTE QUE EXPERIMENTES EN CARNE PROPIA EL MISMO DOLOR QUE HAS CAUSADO A TU PRÓJIMO INOCENTE]”- Éxodo 22:22-23.

De nuevo, ¿Castiga literalmente Dios a alguna persona? ¡Claro que no! La realidad es que, quien provee tanto “el castigo” (“el infierno”) como “la recompensa” (“el cielo”), no es otro sino el Sagrado orden Divino-- el “poder” (o “ángel”) que actúa por medio de la ley de “Siembra y cosecha”. Pero, como Dios es la causa final de todas las cosas (“¿HABRÁ ALGÚN MAL EN LA CIUDAD, EL CUAL יהיה NO HAYA HECHO?”- Amós 3:6), Moisés adscribe [alegóricamente] al Creador todo aquello que el creyente Hebreo percibe como siendo un castigo, o una recompensa.

El Significado ético y moral de la fiesta Hebrea de las Cabañas (Sukkot), así como de toda la Ley de Moisés

El significado de la fiesta Hebrea de Sukkot, así como el de toda la Ley de Moisés, es uno y el mismo. Es decir, la Escritura no es un juego de distintos mensajes, de entre los cuales tenemos que escoger cual sea el mas vigente, o el mas relevante. No es como dice la noble tradición Cristiana; que alega que el mensaje de Dios cambia-- que primero fue la Inocencia; luego, la Ley; y mas tarde, fue la Gracia.

¡No! Dios no decidió “jugar a esconderse”; ni tampoco falló en prever que, un mensaje cambiante, condenaría a los creyentes a vivir en un perpetuo estado de incertidumbre, donde nunca sabrían con certeza si siguen o no el último mensaje; o si el último mensaje es el de Jesus, el de Muhammad, o el de José Smith. ¡No! La Escritura tiene un solo mensaje.

Y, ese mensaje, tiene muy poco que ver con teología, pues es uno de naturaleza ética, y moral. Este mensaje, está prefigurado en todos los mandamientos; en todos los ritos; en todas las figuras, en todos los relatos, y en todas las ordenanzas de la Ley. Y las fiestas anteriores y posteriores a Sukkot (la fiesta Hebrea de los tabernáculos) son un maravilloso ejemplo de todo esto. Verá usted, este periodo de fiestas comienza con “Rosh ha Shanah”, es decir, el año nuevo Hebreo.

La tradición Hebrea dice que, en Rosh Ha Shanah, Dios juzga al mundo entero, y decide quien ha de morir, y quien ha de vivir; quien ha de enfermar, y quien ha de sanar; quien ha de enriquecer, y quien ha de empobrecer. Y esto significa que todo hombre debe reconocer la existencia de un Juez y un juicio en el Universo. Entonces, luego de Rosh Ha Shanah, se concede un periodo de diez días de gracia, hasta que llega la proxima fiesta, llamada “Yom Kippur”.

Yom Kippur es el día de la expiación. Y durante los diez días que trascurren entre Rosh Ha Shanah y Yom Kippur, Dios concede a cada persona la oportunidad de buscar el perdón Divino; mostrando de ese modo su sincera contrición y arrepentimiento.

Así, durante estos diez días, los creyentes Hebreos tratan de hacer todo el bien posible; de alimentar al hambriento, de mostrar misericordia al que sufre, y de hacer la paz con sus enemigos.

Al llegar Yom Kippur (el día del juicio), el decreto es finalmente “sellado”. Es decir, si se había escrito algún decreto negativo, o alguna condena contra esa persona, el arrepentimiento que mostró durante esos diez días, borra y anula ese mal decreto.

Pero, inmediatamente después de Yom Kippur (es decir, inmediatamente después de este “juicio final”), viene la fiesta de”Sukkot”. Y, en Sukkot, los Hebreos hacen una pequeña cabaña; una frágil y humilde vivienda portátil. De hecho, el techo de esta humilde vivienda debe estar “quebrado”.

Es decir, debe estar suficientemente incompleto como para que, a través de él, podamos ver las estrellas. Durante los próximos siete días, el creyente Hebreo debe abandonar la comodidad de lo que, hasta esa época, fue su cómodo y permanente hogar; para morar en cambio en esa humilde y quebradiza vivienda temporera, que es la Sukkah.

La Sukkah tiene la intención de recordarnos la jornada que realizaron nuestros ancestros en el desierto. Pero, esa jornada en el desierto, es en realidad un prototipo de nuestra jornada en este mundo.

Es que, esta vida, no es sino la “jornada externa” que nos provee el Creador; una realidad circunstancial externa, cuyo propósito es darnos la oportunidad de realizar una “jornada interna”; una jornada que ni siquiera el Creador puede realizar por nosotros, pues tenemos que realizarla nosotros mismos. Y, esa jornada interna, está prefigurada en estas fiestas.

Es que, como acabamos de decir, Sukkot conlleva abandonar la comodidad de nuestra vivienda principal, el lugar donde hemos habitado la mayor parte de nuestra vida, para ahora morar en una humilde, frágil, quebrantada, y transitoria habitación. Y esto significa que, la jornada que debe realizar cada hombre (tipificada en la jornada que en el desierto hicieron nuestros padres espirituales) es la siguiente...

Reconocer primeramente que hay un Juez y un Juicio en el Universo; Que hay un Dios que habrá de juzgar nuestras obras y nuestra vida. Y que, entendiendo esto, debemos proceder al arrepentimiento; procurando el perdón de tal Dios; de ese Juez que un día habrá de juzgarnos.

Y, cuando ese juicio se efectúa, y nos hemos reconocido faltos ante el Juez, el próximo paso es demostrar la sinceridad de ese arrepentimiento por medio de la “Sukkah”; es decir, haciendo que nuestras vidas se conviertan en una Sukkah. ¿Como? Pues viviendo una vida humilde, y haciendo que nuestro corazón de piedra que no reconoce a Dios y vive de espaldas al Creador (sin reconocer sus mandamientos ni su voluntad) sea “quebrantado”.

Ese quebrantamiento (es decir, el encontrarnos “incompletos” o “faltos”) nos hace “mirar las estrellas”. Es decir, volvernos al cielo (al Creador). La Escritura dice que, cuando Ha Shem dio la Torah (o Ley) a Moisés, la escribió en Tablas de piedra. Pero, ante la indignación del pecado de Israel, Moisés procedió a romper esas piedras.

¡Eso es lo que quiere Dios del ser humano!; que, ante la indignación por el pecado en su vida, el hombre proceda a quebrantar su corazón de piedra. Y, que el producto de ese corazón quebrantado, sea un cambio de vida; abandonar el “comfort” (la comodidad) de la vida alejada de Dios, para vivir una vida de humildad; una vida que demuestre un corazón quebrantado y arrepentido. ¡Esa es la Sukkah!: la vida de arrepentimiento.

Luego de la fiesta de Sukkot viene inmediatamente otra fiesta que se conoce como “Simja Torah”; esta frase significa, “el gozo de haber recibido la Torah”.

Y de eso es de lo que se tratan las fiestas: de que entendamos que, cuando el hombre ha reconocido finalmente que hay un juez; ha reconocido que hay un juicio que se avecina; ha procedido al arrepentimiento, y ese arrepentimiento ha producido a su vez un cambio de vida, ese hombre puede entonces gozarse de que ha recibido la Torah; porque, esta, es la verdadera Torah.

Es que el verdadero mensaje de la Escritura Hebrea no es un mensaje teológico ni dogmático, sino un mensaje ético y moral; un llamado a abandonar la maldad, a darle la espalda al orgullo y a la rebeldía, para comenzar en cambio a vivir la vida de humildad, de sencillez, y de quebrantamiento de corazón que agrada al Creador-- Esa, es toda la Torah.

La tradición Hebrea cuenta que un gentil vino una vez ante el sabio Hillel, y le dijo: “me convertiré a la Fe Hebrea, si puedes enseñarme toda la Torah (toda la Ley) en el corto tiempo en que puedo sostenerme sobre una sola pierna”.

Y Hillel le contestó diciendo: “Aquello que es odioso para ti (aquello que no te gustaría que te hicieran a ti mismo), no lo hagas tu a tu prójimo. Esta es toda la Torah (es todo lo que hay que saber acerca de ella); el resto, es solo comentario. Ahora puedes ir, y aprender el comentario”.

Y es precisamente esto de lo que tratan las fiestas Hebreas. Aquí en este mundo, los Hebreos tienen “yeshivot” (escuelas) donde se estudia la Torah, el Talmud; los “Midrashim”; los mandamientos; las tradiciones Hebreas y Judías.

Y, al final de los estudios, los Judíos confieren al estudiante un título de “rabino”. Este último, es un título conferido por los hombres. Pero la tradición afirma que hay un título de Rabino que es conferido directamente por el Creador.

Es que se nos cuenta de un Rabino (que en realidad nunca ejerció formalmente como Rabino), cuyo nombre fue “Eliezer Ben Dordia”. La historia cuenta que no hubo una prostituta en el mundo que Eliezer Ben Dordia no hubiese patrocinado.

Un día, oyendo que en una ciudad cercana al mar había una hermosa prostituta que demandaba por su servicio una bolsa llena de denares, Eliezer echó mano de una de esas bolsas, y salió a visitarla; cruzando para ello siete caudalosos ríos (como intuyendo que estaba dispuesto a exponerse a los riesgos que fuesen necesarios, con tal de satisfacer sus apetitos sexuales).

Cuando finalmente llegó al lugar, y ya se encontraba en la cama con la meretriz, está última “erutó” repentinamente, y procedió a decir a Eliezer: “Así como este aire nunca volverá al lugar de donde ha salido, así mismo tu arrepentimiento nunca será aceptado”. Estas palabras calaron tan profundo en el corazón de Eliezer Ben Dordia, que fue y se sentó entre dos montes y collados.

Entonces dijo: “Montes y collados, pidan misericordia por mí”. Pero los montes y los collados le contestaron diciendo: “Antes de pedir misericordia por ti, tenemos que pedir misericordia por nosotros mismos, pues escrito está: “Porque los montes se moverán, y los collados temblarán...”- Isaías 54:10.

Entonces Eliezer dijo a los cielos y a la tierra: “¡Pidan misericordia por mí!”. Pero estos le contestaron: “Antes de pedir misericordia por ti, tenemos que pedir misericordia por nosotros mismos, pues escrito está: “porque los cielos serán desechos como humo, y la tierra se envejecerá como ropa de vestir”- Isaías 51:6.

Entonces pidió al Sol y a la Luna que intercedieran por él, pero estos le contestaron: “Antes de pedir misericordia por ti, tenemos que pedir misericordia por nosotros mismos, pues escrito está: “La luna se avergonzará, y el Sol se confundirá...”- Isaías 24:23.

Entonces dijo: ¡Estrellas y planetas, pidan misericordia por mí! pero estos le contestaron: “Antes de pedir misericordia por ti, tenemos que pedir misericordia por nosotros mismos, pues escrito está: “Y todo el ejercito de los cielos se disolverá”- Isaías 34:4.

Finalmente, Eliezer entendió que su perdón dependía de él mismo; de su propio arrepentimiento. Así que, poniendo la cabeza entre sus rodillas, comenzó a llorar delante de Dios; a llorar en alta voz y a quebrantar su corazón por causa de su maldad y su pecado, de suerte que comenzó a temblar.

Y continuo llorando, hasta que su alma salió de él. Entonces, una “bat kol” (es decir, una voz celestial) se oyó decir: “¡El Rabino Eliezer Ben Dordia ha sido destinado a tener vida en el mundo que ha de venir!”.

Cuando mas tarde el Rabino Judah Ha Nasi (el Patriarca espiritual de su época) oyó todo esto, lloró amargamente, y dijo: “¡Dios mio! ¿Como es posible que algunos logremos la vida eterna solo después de largos años de arduo estudio y trabajo, de aprendizaje, de oración y de meditación; mientras que otros la ganan en solo una hora?”.

Entonces añadió: “¡Y no solo se perdona a quien se arrepiente, sino que hasta se le otorga el título de “Rabino”!

¿Podrá haber algo mas maravilloso que esto? ¿Que el mismo Creador haya llamado “Rabino” a Eliezer Ben Dordia, confiriéndole así el honor de llevar ese título? ¿Y por que? Pues porque Eliezer Ben Dordia aprendió todo lo que había que saber acerca de la Torah: que el propósito de todos los mandamientos de la Escritura, y de todas las leyes, es que el hombre proceda al arrepentimiento; a abandonar la maldad; a no hacer al prójimo el mal que no desearía para si mismo.

De eso es que se trata la Torah: de que el hombre reconozca que hay un Juez, y que hay un Juicio en el Universo (¡eso es Rosh Ha Shanah!); que hay un día de juicio (Yom Kippur); que tiene que cambiar su estilo de vida (¡eso es Sukkot!); y que, cuando hace esa jornada en su alma [es decir, psiquis interna], ya puede regocijarse de que ha recibido la Torah (¡eso es Simja Torah!); de que finalmente ha entendido de lo que realmente trata la Ley de Dios; y de que, al igual que Eliezer Ben Dordia, el Cielo ya le concede el título de Rabino; pues ya conoce todo lo que hay que saber acerca de la Torah, y por ende puede ya enseñarla a otros.

Por esto es que la Torah no puede ser corrompida, como reclaman nuestros hermanos musulmanes, quiees alegan que los antiguos Hebreos tergiversaron el mensaje de la Torah. Es que el mensaje de la Torah no puede ser tergiversado alterando esta o aquella otra palabra, pues su mensaje no tiene nada que ver con teología, ya que no es un mensaje de naturaleza dogmática.

El mensaje de La Torah (así como el de toda La Escritura), es en cambio un mensaje ético y moral; y, cada una de sus enseñanzas, cada uno de sus ritos, y cada una de sus imágenes, tiene el propósito de darnos ese mismo mensaje, no importa cuan extraño parezca ser.

Un buen ejemplo de ello lo era el que la Torah ordenaba que cuando una mujer daba a luz un niño, era inmunda durante cuarenta días. Y todo lo que esa mujer tocaba era también inmundo. Pero alguien podría preguntarse, “¿por que era inmundo el parto?”; Y, “¿que culpa tenía la mujer de dar dar a luz, si para eso mismo fue ella creada?”.

La respuesta está en que, tal mandamiento, no tenía en realidad nada que ver con inmundicia ritual, ni tampoco dogmática. El mandamiento tenía el propósito de proveer a la parturienta un respiro de todas sus responsabilidades domésticas. Es decir, como todo lo que tocaba era inmundo, no se le podía exigir que lavase la ropa, que fregase los platos, que barriese el piso, que cocinara la comida, que tuviera que mover nada, que cargase a ninguno de sus niños, ni que hiciese labor manual alguna.

En fin, la mujer permanecía en la cama durante cuarenta días (el número cuarenta tipifica el conocimiento profundo del verdadero espíritu de la Torah, pues Moisés tuvo que permanecer 40 días en el Sinaí para poder recibirla). Y, durante todo este tiempo, sus familiares y amigos realizaban por ella todas las labores del hogar. Y esto daba a la mujer la oportunidad de recuperarse de su difícil parto.

Recordemos que en la antigüedad no existían los hospitales; no había anestesia, y tampoco existía la opción de “parto por Cesárea”-- El parto era un proceso sumamente doloroso, y a menudo la mujer no lograba sobrevivirlo.

Así, vemos como un mandamiento que a primera vista aparenta no tener nada que ver con hacer lo bueno, o con la ética y la moral, es en realidad eso mismo: un llamado a hacer lo bueno. Es decir, haciendo inmunda a la mujer parturienta, la Ley “forzaba” a sus familiares y amigos a tratarla con la misma deferencia y consideración que desearían para ellos mismos, si estuviesen en la misma situación.

Y esto es el Samaritanismo Reformado: entender que el mensaje de la Ley de Moisés es un llamado a tratar al prójimo (a Dios, a nuestros semejantes, y a nosotros mismos) con la misma deferencia y consideración que desearíamos para nosotros mismos. La anterior máxima, encarna la vida de arrepentimiento y servicio que agrada al Creador.

Es que, no podemos amar directamente al Creador; no podemos besarle, ni podemos abrazarle, no le podemos dar de comer, ni le podemos dar de beber. Pero, cuando amamos al prójimo (que esta hecho a imagen y semejanza de Dios), estamos “matando dos pájaros con una sola pedrada”, pues no solo amamos al prójimo, sino también amamos (indirectamente) al Creador.

«Reformed Samaritanism teaches that not only is Christianity a great religion, but also that God fearing Christians will definitely inherit a good share in the world that is to come. Still, being committed with Divine truth, Reformed Samaritans are not embarrassed to acknowledge the fact that Christian theology is like a politician’s campaign trail (only the members of his party would fail to recognize the intentionally ambiguous, contradictory, and self serving nature of the promises he makes!). Consider the following example: While on one hand Jesus claims he ought to be honored, as he who refuses to honor him refuses to honor his Heavenly Father (“... He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him”- John 5:23); on the other hand he claims not to be interested in receiving human glory (“I receive not honour from men”- John 5:41)»

He who truly is faithful to the Creator cannot boast of his race, his religion, or his theology

The problem with many of the believers who follow the three great Abrahamic traditions, is that they often boast [arrogantly] that they are the exclusive possessors of the truth--of having a religious monopoly, being the only ones who [according to them] know Scriptures true and correct interpretation.

But the latter is vain and presumptuous. Why? Because there’s one single thing the Creator has allowed us to glory about. And such a thing has nothing to do with race, with nationality, with prophecies, with religious dogmas, with miracles, with bible mysteries, or with theological interpretations. What God has allowed us to glory about is in understanding that what The Almighty really expects from us is that we imitate his moral values.

How? By pursuing a life of virtue-- a holy lifestyle where mercy, fairness, and just judgment reigns.

As it is written: “But let him who praises, praise himself in this: in understanding and knowing me, that I am יהוה, that I do mercy, judgment, and justice on earth: for these things I want, says יהוה... He judged the cause of the afflicted and the needy, and then it was good. Isn't this knowing me, says יהוה?... Learn to do well: seek judgment, retribute the wronged, uphold the rights of the orphan, defend the widow. Come then, יהוה will say, and let us be aware: if your sins were as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow: if they were red as crimson, they shall become as white wool”- Jeremiah 9:24, 22:16, Isaiah 1:17-18 (Reina Valera Old Bible).

And the former truth is so great and undeniable, that even the Christian writings feel the need to recognize it, when they go on to say: “The pure religion and without blemish before God the Father is this: to Visit the orphans and the widows in their tribulations, and keep without spot from this world” - James 1:27

Cuando "el Judaísmo", no tiene nada que ver con "el Judaísmo"

El nuestro, es un mundo confundido y turbado. Muchos reclaman ser Hebreos; ya sea por haber nacido en Israel, por haber nació de una madre Hebrea, o por haber recibido el pacto de la circuncisión. Esto les conduce a pensar que la fe Hebrea les pertenece, y que no hay forma en que puedan perderla, aún si practican y promulgan un estilo de vida inmoral, tal y como lo es el estilo de vida homosexual.

Pero este es un grave error, pues la Torah intima que todos llevamos en nuestro interior tanto un Hebreo, como un gentil; un Yaakov, y un Esaú; un impulso a hacer lo bueno (yetzer ha-tov), y un impulso a hacer lo malo (yetzer ha-ra). Cuando vivimos obedeciendo los (diez) mandamientos dados por el Creador, somos “Hijos de Israel (parte del pueblo Santo); pero, cuando vivimos en rebeldía a la Ley de Dios, nos hacemos gentiles, y no somos mejores que los Sodomitas, símbolo del gentil a quien su inmoralidad ha dejado ciego.

Es que, ser Hebreo, es la conciencia que surge dentro de nosotros mismos, cuando vivimos comprometidos con temer a יהוה (reconociendo que un día habrá de juzgar nuestras vidas), obedeciendo sus mandamientos. Pero, en el momento en que insistimos en darle la espalda al Creador, y nos rebelamos contra sus estatutos y mandamientos, dejamos de ser "pueblo de Israel", y pasamos a ser "pueblo de Sodoma y Gomorra".

Como dijo el profeta: “¡Oh gente pecadora, pueblo cargado de maldad, generación de malignos, hijos depravados! Dejaron a יהוה, provocaron a ira al Santo de Israel, se volvieron atrás... Si יהוה de los ejércitos no nos hubiese dejado un resto pequeño, como Sodoma fuéramos, y semejantes a Gomorra”- Isaías 1:4 & 9. ¿Y que dice inmediatamente después?- “Príncipes de Sodoma, oíd la palabra de Yah; escuchad la ley de nuestro Dios, pueblo de Gomorra” - Isaías 1:10.

Algo similar sucede con aquellos que se llaman a si mismo “Hebreos”, y profesan a la vez el ateísmo. Este es un absurdo extravío, de parte de hombres que, si bien podrían ser expertos en cuanto a lo que dice “el Judaísmo moderno”, no tienen la menor idea de lo que dice “El Verdadero Judaísmo” (el encarnado en la Torah). Es en este sentido que, un maestro de la Torah, ha dicho con mucha sabiduría que, “El Judaísmo” (moderno) no tiene nada que ver con "el Judaísmo" (revelado en Las Escrituras). Es que, la Escritura nunca llamó “Hebreo” a ningún ateo, ni tampoco se refirió a nadie como un “Hebreo Ateo”. A quien no creía en la existencia de יהוה, La Escritura le llamaba “Necio”, y “gente corrompida y abominable, que no hace el bien”. Como está escrito: «Dice EL NECIO en su corazón: "No hay Dios". Se han corrompido, hacen obras abominables; No hay quien haga el bien»- Salmo 14:1.

In what sense is Reformed Samaritanism different from Judaism, Christianity, and Islam?

How is Reformed Samaritanism different from Judaism, Christianity, and Islam? Well, in an oversimplified way, we might say that it's all about "focus". In other words, Judaism claims that your "ethnic Jewishness" guarantees your future well being [or "salvation"]. And it justifies the former using the verse that goes on to say, "But Israel [all of it!] shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting salvation"- Isaiah 45:17 (KJV).

As for Christianity, it claims that your well being is entirely dependent upon your belief in Jesus being your Lord (God), as well as your faith in his resurrection [as proof of his atonement for your sins]. And they justify the latter using the verse that goes on to say: "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved"- Romans 10:9.

Likewise, Islam claims that your well being rest upon your belief in the fact that there's no God save Allah, and that Muhammad is his last [and greatest] prophet and messenger. And they justify their claim using the following verse: "Those are limits set by Allah: those who obey Allah and His Apostle will be admitted to Gardens with rivers flowing beneath, to abide therein (for ever) and that will be the supreme achievement. But those who disobey Allah and His Apostle and transgress His limits will be admitted to a Fire, to abide therein: And they shall have a humiliating punishment"- Qur'an, Surah 4:13-14.

But as for Reformed Samaritans, they don't believe a person's well being is determined by his race, his theology, or the religious he claims to follow. Why? Because they consider God to be morally perfect ("He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He"- Deuteronomy 32:4); and such moral perfection isn't compatible with having an arbitrary bias in favor [or against] any human being [nor any human religious establishment]. Why? Because Scripture teaches God is the father of all mankind. Thus, since each human being is created in God's own image, He considers each of them to be equally precious.

Likewise, Reformed Samaritans do not believe God discriminates in favor [or against] any religion, nor limits the creed a person is allowed to follow. In fact, they firmly believe that the Holy One isn't so interested in us having the right leader [or follow the right creed], as He is in that we commit with the repentance, obedience, holiness, justice, mercy, and humility that pleases Him.

Whence we know it? We know it from Israel's journey thru the wilderness. For though the 600,000 Israelites that came out of Egypt followed "the right" religious leader [Moses, the greatest of all prophets], and had "the right theology" [having the stone tablets upon which God had personally written His will for their lives], the former couldn't make it into the Promised Land [symbol of Paradise]. Why? Because they would refuse to commit themselves with doing the goodness commanded upon the two stone tablets.

And the same truth is also taught in the story of Naaman [the Syrian general], for though the latter was a pagan, he was worthy enough for God to use him as an instrument of deliverance for the Syrian people ("Now Naaman, captain of the host of the king of Syria, was a great man with his master, and honourable, because by him the Lord had given deliverance unto Syria: he was also a mighty man in valour..."- 2 Kings 5:1).

In fact, notice how, by the end of the former story, the pagan [yet God fearing] Syrian general is granted Divine "salvation" [being delivered from leprosy, and restored to perfect health]; while the rebellious Hebrew Israelite (Gehazi) loses his "salvation" [as he is punished with leprosy, a disease that makes him impure, thereby forcing him to depart from the company of the righteous].

Does the former mean that all religions are equally valid? Not at all! It only means that God isn't necessarily pleased with the Jew, the Christian, the Muslim, or the Samaritan; instead, He is pleased with those who do the goodness that glorify His Holy name, no matter their race or creed. And such goodness [which comprise God's covenant with all mankind] has been concisely summarized in the Ten Divine principles given to Moses upon the two stone tablets. As it has been said:

“Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the Lord your God... And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord: that it may be well with thee...”- Deuteronomy 6:17-18;
“But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord”- Jeremiah 9:24...

... “And He declared unto you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even Ten Commandments; and He wrote them upon two tables of stone... These words the Lord spake unto all your assembly [not only to the children of Israel, but also to the other peoples that also chose to follow Moses into the wilderness, according to Exodus 12:38]... with a great voice: and He added no more [as this is all there is, while the rest is just commentary, according to Ecclesiastes 12:13]...”- Deuteronomy 4:13, & 5:22.

But, why is God so interested in us doing goodness? Will He gain anything from it? Of course not! If He wants us to do goodness, it is because his moral perfection prevents Him from [personally] judging anybody. Why? So that no one could claim the Righteous has judged in a biased or prejudiced fashion.

Instead, the Holy One has placed His judgment upon the hands of an incredibly powerful angel (“Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the [right] way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared [Paradise]. Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; for he will not pardon your transgressions...”- Exodus 23:20-21)

The famous gas chambers were not invented by the Nazis. Instead, they were developed (in their mobile version) in 1937 by a Jew named Isai Davidovich Berg. Berg was a marxist Jew, and a prominent executioner working for the Soviet NKVD. He was born in Moscow, in 1905

And, it is this angel, the one appointed to dispense God's perfect and unbiased judgment. And who is this powerful and unforgiving angel? He is the power that drives what is otherwise known as the Law of "Sowing and Reaping" (also known as "Measure for Measure").

Thus, God's perfect judgment is executed by means of the same transcendent power that forces a sower to "reap" the same seed he has formerly "planted".

Thus, God's angel is indeed unforgiving-- as he forces us to reap the same seed of "goodness [or evil] we have formerly planted upon our fellow creatures [nothing more, nothing less].

And the former is the reason why God constantly encourages us to do goodness; so that we may enjoy a good, plentiful, and generous harvest in the time to come; That's why He enjoins us to be just, merciful and generous towards our fellow creatures-- so that we can reap the same justice, mercy, and generosity we have formerly planted; that's why He enjoins us to forgive; so that we too can be forgiven...

In short, if we are asked to love our fellow creatures, to obey God's commandments, and to do goodness, is isn't because God has any sort of religious [or theological] need for any of it. Instead, it is because His angel [The Divine power behind "Sowing and reaping"] will judge us in an unforgiving fashion. How? By strictly basing his judgment upon the goodness [or evil] our hands have performed.

And that's why Hebrew Scripture goes on to say: «For the day of the Lord [the Day of His Judgment] is near upon all the heathen: as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee: thy reward shall return upon thine own head...

... Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?... Therefore hearken unto me ye men of understanding: far be it from God, that he should do wickedness; and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity. For the work of a man shall he render unto him, and cause every man to find according to his ways... Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every man according to his work... and shall not he render to every man according to his works?..

... and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands... and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands»- Obadiah 1:15, Genesis 18:25, Job 34:10-11, Psalm 62:12, Proverbs 24:12, Isaiah 65:22, Jeremiah 25:14.

Curiously, both Christian and Muslim Scriptures seem to agree with the former interpretation, as they go on to say: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap"- Galatians 6:7; "The [Muslim] believers, the Jews, the Christians, and the Sabians—all those who believe in God and the Last Day, and do good—will have their rewards with their Lord. No fear for them, nor will they grieve"- Qur'an 2:62

Moses Ten Commandments are God's true religion.
The rest (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, etc) is just commentary

The holy Book of Psalms says: "Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and Thy Torah (Law) is the truth" (Psalm 119:142). In other words, king David teaches that God's commandments (His Law, or "Torah") are the Truth... Not Judaism ... Not Christianity ... Not Islam Therefore, when Judaism, Christianity, or Islam speak words that agree with Torah (love your fellow human being, punish the guilty and reward the innocent, honor your parents, do not worship other gods, do not lie, do not steal, do not murder, do not covet your fellow's wife nor his property, etc) follow them, as they are the undefiled Word of God. But, when Judaism, Christianity, or Islam speak words that disagree with Torah, don't follow them, as they are not the undefiled word of God, but rather the words of shrewd and crafty Men.

Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Samaritanism.... Which one is God's true Religion?

If you carefully read the Tanakh (the Hebrew Bible), you'll find God speaking [both directly and indirectly] to many pagan peoples: to king Abimelech, to Pharaoh, to Balaam, to Nebuchadnezzar, etc. But, surprisingly, you'll never find God asking any of these pagans to abandon their false religious belief, in order to start following "the right" religion.

Instead, you'll find the Holy One asking these individuals to start doing what is just, merciful, and humble. How? Well, He demanded that they be just, when He asked Abimelech to return the wife that belonged to his neighbour Abraham ("Now therefore RESTORE THE MAN HIS WIFE..."- Genesis 20:7);

God demanded that they be merciful, when He asked Pharaoh to stop the cruel enslavement of his fellow human beings ("... LET MY PEOPLE GO [FREE], that they may serve me"- Exodus 9:13); The Creator demanded that they fear God, when He asked Balaam to abstain from cursing God's people ("And God said unto Balaam... THOU SHALT NOT CURSE THE PEOPLE: for they are blessed"- Numbers 22:12);

He demanded that they be humble, when He asked Nebuchadnezzar to acknowledge that it is God who rules, and that no mortal being (prone to foul smelling, and impurity) has the right to be proud ("... there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O KING NEBUCHADNEZZAR... THE KINGDOM IS DEPARTED FROM THEE... UNTIL THOU KNOW THAT THE MOST HIGH RULETH... NOW I NEBUCHADNEZZAR PRAISE AND EXTOL AND HONOUR THE KING OF HEAVEN... AND THOSE THAT WALK IN PRIDE HE IS ABLE TO ABASE")- Daniel 4:31,31&37.

But why did God behave this way? Why not just tell these pagans to follow "God's true religion"? Well, the fact is that He actually did. You see, if the Creator asked them to fear Him [being humble, doing justice, and showing mercy] it's precisely because the latter is "God's own religion".

In other words, God isn't so much interested in that we abandon our flawed theology, as much as He's interested in us embracing a lifestyle committed with the pursuit of true and impartial Justice; of sincere and life giving mercy; and of godly and character building humility.

As it is written: "He has showed you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you but to do justly, and to love kindness and mercy, and to humble yourself and walk humbly with your God?"- Micah 6:8. And whence we know God allows pagan peoples to follow flawed religions, like star and moon worshipping?

We know it from the verse that goes on to say: "... lest thou lift up thine eyes... when thou seest the sun and the moon and the stars... and should be driven to worship them... BECAUSE THE LORD THY GOD HAS CONCEDED THEM [THE SUN, THE MOON, AND THE STARS] UNTO ALL THE [GENTILE] PEOPLES UNDER ALL THE HEAVENS. But the LORD has taken you and brought you forth... to be [different] unto Him, the people of His inheritance"- Deut. 4:19-20.

So, even if your religion seems to include some pagan elements (sun, moon, or star veneration), you can still be pleasing to the Almighty, as long as you remain committed to a life of justice, mercy and humility.

And what religions include such pagan elements? Well, the fact is that most modern religions are guilty of it. For example, Rabbinical Judaism represents itself by means of a star (the star of David); Islam represents itself with a moon (the crescent moon); And even Christianity worships Jesus (who claimed to be "the morning star", when he said: "I AM... THE BRIGHT AND MORNING STAR"- Revelation 22:16).

In order for Cultural Marxism to thrive, it needs to create hordes of “snowflakes”. How? By forcing society to focus on the vain and exaggerated melodrama they have artificially created. For example, pushing screaming generalizations aiming at maligning the establishment for the [alleged] rampant violation of the (imaginary) rights of (imaginary) people. What is their goal? Regime change & Power takeover! In other words, to create a false social crisis, so that you may lend them the authority to “repair” what was really never broken. Example of Cuba before Fidel Castro; The latter convince Cubans that their former leader [Fulgencio Batista] was a Tyrant who oppressed non white minorities. They let Fidel take control, and in the end realized the wisdom of the saying that goes on to say: “Better a known evil, than an unknown Goodness”

“The Ten Principles” (or “Commandments”) are God’s Universal Law for all mankind

The Law of Moses (peace and blessings be upon him) commanded Hebrew believers to observe the Sabbath day, as is written: “You shall keep the Sabbath day holy, as יהוה (“Adonay Yah”, or “The Lord”) your God has commanded you” (Deut. 5:12). But in fact, Scripture teaches that, from the beginning of Creation, the Holy One (blessed be He) had affirmed the commandment concerning the Sabbath rest.

How did He do it? By observing it Himself!, as it is written: “On the seventh day God had completed his work that he had done, and He rested on the seventh day... God blessed the seventh day and declared it holy, for on it he rested from all his work of creation” (Gen. 2:2-3).

In other words, Scripture meant to say: “If Adonay Yah [who, being the Almighty never gets tired] observes the Sabbath rest, how much more by far should all of His creatures do likewise?

But if this is so, why would God feel the need to promulgate again this commandment during Moses generation (Exodus 20:8)? It was done in order to teach us that the Ten Commandments didn’t begin at Mount Sinai (with the delivery of the two tables); Instead, they’ve been an implicit part of Creation since the very beginning (and therefore had always existed for mankind to observe!).

In other words Adam and Hava’s fault wasn’t that they had disobeyed an arbitrary command given by their Creator-- their real transgression was that, having a clear knowledge of the Ten commandments, they willfully violated the command that enjoined them to honor their father (“Honor your Father... so that your days may be long on earth...”- Exodus 20:12).

Thus, when Adam and Hava dishonored their Heavenly Father, they were in effect violating the commandment that guaranteed the indefinite lengthening of their days.

And, with such violation, they brought upon themselves the implicit curse of the command (the shortening of their days!)

Unfortunately, few people realize that, having created Adam, the first thing God did was to make him till the Garden (“The Lord God took the man and placed him in the garden of Eden to work it and watch over it”- Genesis 2:15).

Why? So that Adam would learn that “his sustenance” (or “Life”) would depend upon the Law of “Sowing and Reaping” (also known as “measure for measure”, “cause and effect”, “eye for an eye”, “what goes around comes around”, etc).

And the practical result of this law is that, whoever refuses to honor he who gave him life, will not be given the honor of remaining alive.

What Torah tries to teach us is that accepting (obeying) the Ten Commandments, produces well-being, as well as life without limit. But rejecting these commandments results in death and suffering. Curiously, Torah quotes the Creator telling Moses the following: “When you have returned to Egypt, see that you do before Pharaoh all the wonders that I have put in your hand..." (Exodus 4:21).

What did Moses have in his hand? Well, he had a rod (Exodus 4:2). And, like any other rod, Moses's rod had come from a tree; But this wasn't any ordinary stick, as the latter had the power to turn death into life (transforming itself from a dead stick into a living snake!).

In other words, Moses' staff was a prototype of the one "Tree" from which all life springs. And what tree is that one? The Law of God described by the Ten commandments!; As it is written:

"My son, do not forget my Law, and your heart keep my commandments; For length of days and years of life And peace will increase you... Length of days is in his right hand (just as the rod was in the hand of Moses); To your left, rich and honor. Her ways are pleasant ways, and all her paths are peace. She is a tree of life to those who lay hold of her, and blessed are those who retain her" (Prov. 3: 1-2 & 16-17).

In short, what Yah had commanded Moses symbolically amounted to offering Pharaoh (and therefore all of the Egyptians) "the rod of God's commandments"-- those ten commandments that bring life and blessing upon those who accept them, but death and destruction upon those who refuse to embrace them.

Interestingly, an ancient Hebrew Midrash claims that the staff with which Moses came before Pharaoh had ten letters inscribed upon it. What meaning would those ten letters have? The answer is that, if Pharaoh would humble his heart, and agree to obey the Creator, those ten letters would mean the ten commandments [whose product is life, and peace]. But, if Pharaoh were to insist upon hardening his heart, they would become ten edicts of death and destruction (ten "plagues").

In other words, when Moses appeared before Pharaoh, he didn't do so with a defiant, threatening, or imposing attitude. Instead, he did it like a father-- one who instructs, exhorts, and advises his children.

Moses exhorted Pharaoh (as representative of the Egyptian people) to "hold" unto the same rod (the ten commandments) that Moses (as a representative of the Hebrew people) was holding.

Thus, had Pharaoh (Egypt) agreed to submit to those commandments, he would have embraced the same faith embraced by Israel [the ten commandments that had existed since the beginning of Creation].

Of course, had Pharaoh become "a brothers in the faith", the treatment given to the Israelites would have been so considerate that there would've been no need for slavery, for the ten plagues, nor for the destruction of Pharaoh [and his army] to ever occur.

As it is written, "... let there be no quarrel now between the two of us...because we are brothers" (Gen. 13:8). With this noble aptitude, Moses modeled the God whose moral supremacy would instruct Israel saying:

"When you approach a city to fight against it, make an offer of peace (in other words, offer its inhabitants the opportunity to become proselytes, thereby becoming your brothers and sisters)" - Deut. 20:10.

In short, at the end of the book of Exodus, we find Moses (the man who insisted upon "holding fast" to the obedience of God's Ten Commandments) standing strong and being allowed to ascend to the top of mount Sinai, in order to enjoy the life, light, and blessing emanating from such commandments.

On the other hand, we find Pharaoh (the man who persisted to reject God's commandments), being cast down and humiliated, descending into the depths of a turbulent sea, perishing in thick darkness.

SAMARITANISMO REFORMADO

Hacer lo bueno, es muy fuerte; es mas facil jugar a la religion

El mensaje de la Escritura Hebrea, es que el hombre debe hacer lo bueno; Pero, ese mensaje, es muy fuerte para los pecadores; pues implica que, si quieren sobresalir entre los creyentes, tienen que abandonar su inmoralidad (su usura, sus mentiras, sus fraudes, sus adulterios, sus robos, su vanidad, su fornicacion, su homosexualidad, etc). Asi las cosas, los pecadores prefieren pervertir el mensaje Divino, negando que sea un llamado a vivir una vida etica, y haciendolo en cambio un llamado a tener la teologia correcta. De este modo, ponen en un segundo plano la demanda etica y moral, para ensalzar en cambio la demanda intelectual [un area en la que pueden sobresalir, sin tener que renunciar completamente al pecado, y a la inmoralidad]. Y esto explica la existencia de tantos individuos que, a pesar de ser excelentes teologos, son abiertamente ateos, y homosexuales

Si su fe le hace mentir, entonces su fe es falsa; pues ninguna mentira procede de la Verdad

Las promesas gratuitas que de salvación, de Espíritu Santo, de profecía, de milagros, de sanidades, de prosperidad, y de liberación hace el santo evangelio, a menudo son una intoxicante carnada que el creyente cristiano simplemente no puede evitar morder.

Pero la Ley Divina ordena en cambio que nos alejemos de todo aquello que tenga visos de ser vano, incierto, o adulator.

¿Por que? Pues porque tanto la vanidad, como la mentira y la lisonja, proceden de Satán, y no del Creador, quien odia la mentira (“Estará mi mano contra los profetas que ven vanidad y adivinan mentira; no estarán en la congregación de mi pueblo, ni serán inscritos en el libro... He aquí, dice יהוה , yo estoy contra los que profetizan sueños mentirosos, y los cuentan, y hacen errar a mi pueblo con sus mentiras y con sus lisonjas, y yo no los envié ni les mandé; y ningún provecho hicieron a este pueblo...” (Ezequiel 13:9, Jeremías 23:32).

De este modo, si su fe en Jesús le obliga a usted a mentirse a sí mismo, forzándole a esbozar absurdos y estrambóticos malabares teológicos a fin de justificar su desobediencia a lo claramente ordenado por el Creador, sepa usted que esta siendo engañado por el Maligno, poniendo de ese modo en riesgo su salvación.

Considere el siguiente ejemplo: El Creador ha mostrado a su Pueblo que la Ley es eterna (“Nunca se apartará de tu boca este libro de la Ley, sino que de día y de noche meditarás en él, para que guardes y hagas conforme a todo lo que en él está escrito; porque entonces harás prosperar tu camino, y todo te saldrá bien”- Josué 1:8).

En adición, ha mostrado al creyente que, si obedece sus mandamientos, sera bendecido; pero que no lo hace, sera en cambio maldito. Como esta escrito:

“Acontecerá que si oyeres atentamente la voz de יהוה tu Dios, para guardar y poner por obra todos sus mandamientos que yo te prescribo hoy, también יהוה tu Dios te exaltará sobre todas las naciones de la tierra. Y vendrán sobre ti todas estas bendiciones, y te alcanzarán... Pero acontecerá, si no oyeres la voz de יהוה tu Dios, para procurar cumplir todos sus mandamientos y sus estatutos que yo te intimo hoy, que vendrán sobre ti todas estas maldiciones, y te alcanzarán...”- Deut. 28:1-2, & 15.

De este modo, si luego llega alguna otra persona (Isaías, Daniel, Jesus, Pablo, Pedro, Juan, Muhammad, José Smith, Elena G. De White, etc) ofreciéndole todas las bendiciones prometidas a Israel, pero sin necesidad de obedecer ninguno de los mandamientos, sepa usted que esta siendo seducido por Satanás; quien, vistiéndose como ángel de Luz, a menudo engaña a los creyentes.

¿Ha visto alguien a Dios? ¿Que Dicen al respecto los escritos Hebreos y Cristianos?

¿Ha visto alguien a Dios? La Escritura Hebrea dice que Dios es tan poderoso, que nadie puede [literalmente] verle, y continuar con vida (“No podrás ver mi rostro; porque no me verá hombre, y vivirá”- Éxodo 33:20). Del mismo modo, dice que el Creador es tan infinitamente grande, que no solamente es imposible que quepa en nuestro planeta, sino que ni siquiera todo el universo (los cielos de los cielos) serian capaces de contenerlo.

Como esta escrito: “Pero ¿es verdad que Dios morará sobre la tierra? ¡He aquí que los cielos, los cielos de los cielos, no te pueden contener!”- 1 Reyes 8:27. De hecho, el Mismo Nazareno es citado afirmando lo mismo: “A Dios nadie le vio jamás...”- Juan 1:18. Y, a fin de desmentir al Cristiano que insista en afirmar que [mientras estuvo vivo en la Tierra], quien vio a Jesús, vio en efecto a Dios, el apóstol Juan escribe [varias décadas después de la muerte del Nazareno] lo siguiente: “Nadie ha visto jamás a Dios...”- 1 Juan 4:12

El desvarío de creer que, la fe en el [alegado] sacrificio expiatorio de Yeshua (paz y bendición sean con el), es la única y verdadera religión

La noble fe Nazarena (o “Cristiana”), representa un camino perfectamente válido para allegarse al Creador. ¿Por que? Pues porque, esta última, alienta a sus adeptos a volverse a Dios en sincero arrepentimiento.

Y, el Creador [bendito sea], ha prometido que nunca habrá de despreciar el ruego de quien se acerca a Él con un corazón quebrantado, contrito, y humillado. Como esta escrito: "LOS SACRIFICIOS DE DIOS, SON EL ESPÍRITU QUEBRANTADO; AL CORAZÓN CONTRITO Y HUMILLADO, NO DESPRECIARAS TU, OH DIOS" (Salmo 51:17).

Pero, si esto es así, ¿Por que insisten los creyentes hebreos (Samaritanos) en seguir su compleja religión? ¿Por que no siguen la mucho mas simple religión Nazarena?

Pues, la razón para ello, es muy sencilla: Verá usted, la noble fe Nazarena, postula muchas cosas que, a primera vista, aparentan ser muy lógicas y ennoblecedoras; pero, cuando examinamos estas cosas a la luz de la Escritura Hebrea, el creyente descubre que, lo que parecía ser lógico y ennoblecedor, resulta ser una tácita negación de todo lo revelado por Dios al Pueblo de Israel.

Por ejemplo, nuestros hermanos Nazarenos, postulan que la teología que acerca de un futuro Mesías esbozaba la Ley, hacía de la fe en ese futuro Mesías la única verdadera religión, así como el único camino a la vida eterna. Y, ¿como sabemos que es falso este reclamo?

¿Como sabemos que, el Creador, nunca deseó que su Pueblo pensara que, la fe en la teología mesiánica articulada en la Ley, era el único camino de salvación? Pues lo sabemos por el proceder del Creador, así como por el proceder de su Pueblo:

Es decir, lo deducimos lógicamente, luego de considerar el hecho de que, la Escritura Hebrea, nunca muestra a Israel actuando como si poseyese la única y verdadera religión; la Escritura nunca muestra a Israel haciendo “ningún trabajo misionero”, ni tampoco tratando de hacer que alguna otra Nación (los Ismaelitas, los Egipcios, los Amalecitas, los Edomitas, los Madianitas, los Cananeos, los Ninivitas, los Caldeos, etc), creyese en las promesas mesiánicas de la Ley; lo sabemos porque, la Ley, no muestra a Dios diciendo [en sueños] al Rey Abimelec, que debía abandonar su paganismo, a fin de aceptar en cambio la fe de Abraham (Génesis 20:3-7);

lo sabemos porque, la Ley, no muestra que Moisés hubiese tratado de convertir a Faraón, diciéndole que debía abandonar su falsa religión, para aceptar en cambio la única y verdadera religión de Israel (Éxodo 12:31-32, & Éxodo 14:5-7); lo sabemos porque, la Escritura, no muestra que Jonás hubiese tratado de convertir a los Ninivitas a la religión de Israel (Jonás 3:3-4); y lo sabemos porque, la Escritura, no muestra en ninguna parte que, el profeta Daniel, hubiese dicho al Rey Nabucodonosor que, su religión, era falsa, y que la única manera de escapar del juicio Divino [que pendía sobre su cabeza], era creer en la futura venida de un Mesías, que habría de redimir con su sangre los pecados de toda la Humanidad (Daniel 4:27).

Del mismo modo, es falso el alegato Cristiano que afirma que, sin derramamiento de sangre, no hay expiación de pecados. ¿Por que? Pues porque, la Torah (la Ley), dice que Aarón logró expiar el pecado de Israel, con tan solo un incensario, y sin necesidad de derramar sangre alguna (Números 16:46-47).

De igual modo, es falso que, la efectividad de un sacrificio [como podría ser el alegado sacrificio expiatorio del Nazareno], dependa de que “creamos” en la persona que ha ofrecido tal sacrificio. ¿Por que? Pues porque, la Ley de Dios, no enseña tal cosa; y porque, la Escritura Hebrea, no ilustra este principio en ninguno de sus relatos.

De hecho, lo que la Ley enseña, es lo contrario: Por ejemplo, la Escritura intima que, el padre de cada familia Hebrea, fue responsable de sacrificar el cordero de la primera Pascua [celebrada en Egipto]. Y, ese mismo padre, también era responsable de poner la sangre en el dintel de su puerta, así como de asegurarse de que nadie saliese esa noche del hogar (Éxodo 12:21-28).

Y la Escritura muestra que, una vez que el padre de familia cumplía con todo lo ordenado por Moisés [acerca del sacrificio Pascual], su sacrificio era automáticamente efectivo; sin importar si, el primogénito del hogar, creía o no en los méritos del padre que había efectuado el sacrificio [y, esto último, es la razón por la cual, el relato de la Pascua, no menciona la muerte de ningún primogénito Israelita].

La anterior verdad, también esta ilustrada en la Fiesta de Yom Kippur; donde, los ritos y sacrificios realizados por el Sumo sacerdote, expiaban el pecado de toda la nación Hebrea, sin importar si el Israelita promedio creía o no en los méritos del Sumo sacerdote que había oficiado la ceremonia (Levítico 16:30-34).

¿Que intenta enseñarnos con todo esto la Torah (la Ley de Dios)?

Pues intenta mostrarnos que, la justificación del Hombre, no esta en tener “la teología correcta”, sino en tener “las obras correctas”; que, a los ojos del Creador, nuestra obediencia a los mandamientos Divinos tiene prioridad sobre la teología que esbozamos; intenta decirnos que, la fe que agrada al Creador, no consiste en “creerle a Dios”, sino en hacer el bien que ordena Dios en sus mandamientos.

¿Por que? Pues porque, la Justicia del futuro Juicio Divino, se manifiesta en el hecho de que, el Creador, habrá de recompensar a cada uno, devolviéndole el mismo bien [o mal] que [en vida] haya sembrado.

Como esta escrito: «CON EL MISERICORDIOSO, TE MOSTRARÁS MISERICORDIOSO; Y RECTO [O “INTEGRO”] PARA CON EL HOMBRE ÍNTEGRO; LIMPIO TE MOSTRARÁS PARA

CON EL [HOMBRE] LIMPIO, Y SEVERO SERÁS PARA CON EL PERVERSO» (Salmo 18:25-26).

Y también dice en otro lugar: «YAH (יהוה) ME HA PREMIADO CONFORME A MI JUSTICIA; CONFORME A LA LIMPIEZA DE MIS MANOS me ha recompensado. Porque yo he guardado los caminos de יהוה, Y no me aparté impíamente de mi Dios»- 2 Samuel 22:21-22;

Y también dice- «DECID AL JUSTO QUE LE IRÁ BIEN, PORQUE COMERÁ DE LOS FRUTOS DE SUS MANOS. ¡AY DEL IMPÍO! MAL LE IRÁ; PORQUE, SEGÚN LAS OBRAS DE SUS MANOS, LE SERÁ PAGADO» (Isaías 3:10-11); «PORQUE ÉL (יהוה) PAGARÁ AL HOMBRE SEGÚN SU OBRA, Y LE RETRIBUIRÁ CONFORME A SU CAMINO» (Job 34:11);

«Porque TÚ (יהוה) PAGAS A CADA UNO CONFORME A SU OBRA» (Salmo 62:12); Y mas adelante dice- «EL QUE MIRA POR TU ALMA (יהוה), ÉL lo conocerá, y DARÁ AL HOMBRE SEGÚN SUS OBRAS» (Proverbios 24:12); Y el profeta Isaías también lo confirma, cuando dice: «... MIS ESCOGIDOS DISFRUTARÁN LA OBRA DE SUS MANOS» (Isaías 65:22).

En resumen, la noble fe Nazarena, pretende darle a la teología Mesíánica una prominencia, una exclusividad, y una certeza, que el Creador mismo nunca quiso que tuviese.

Y, esta "ilusoria" exclusividad, no es sino "la gran red" que utilizan nuestros hermanos Nazarenos, a fin de "pescar" adeptos para su fe (Mateo 4:19, Marcos 1:17, Lucas 5:10); una sagaz y efectiva "camisa de fuerza" ideológica, diseñada para someter a la obediencia, todo intelecto expuesto a la predica Nazarena (2 Corintios 10:5).

Pero la realidad es que, el mensaje de la Escritura Hebrea, no es que la salvación del Hombre se encuentre en creer en la venida de algún futuro Mesías.

El verdadero mensaje de la Ley Divina, es que "la seguridad eterna", esta en que el hombre se aparte de la maldad, y comience en cambio a hacer el bien que agrada al Creador [obedeciendo sus mandamientos]; como esta escrito: «Apártate del Mal, y haz el Bien, y Vivirás para siempre»- Salmo 37:27; «Teme a Dios, y guarda sus Mandamientos; porque esto es el todo del hombre»- Eclesiastés 12:13.

No te fies de las palabras de aquellos que se ufanan de ser los representantes de Dios; Solo observa lo que hacen, y deja que sean sus obras, las que te digan a quien realmente representan

God's Law commands the Hebrew (Samaritan) believer to be intellectually honest, acknowledging the true merits of all things

The Hebrew Scripture (also known as "Torah") is a book where, by means of parables and allegories, the Creator aims at teaching us the supreme ethical values for which mankind was originally created; the unique lifestyle that separates rational beings from non rational animals; the moral knowledge that will outlast our present technology, in order to stay with us for as long as we choose to remain humans.

A good example of this could be the fact that the Torah asks us to "balance" (or "ponder") everything in it's proper perspective; to assess everything [and everyone] according to it's true worth. Why?

Because diminishing it's real value would be a subtle form of stealing; while exaggerating it's real worth would amount to bearing a false witness.

And how does the Torah achieves this lofty goal? By means of regulating the way Hebrew believers perform their commercial transactions.

As it is written: “Divers weights, and divers measures are like an abomination to the Lord... THOU SHALT NOT HAVE IN THINE HOUSE DIVERS MEASURES, A GREAT AND A SMALL. BUT THOU SHALT HAVE A PERFECT AND JUST WEIGHT, A PERFECT AND JUST MEASURE SHALT THOU HAVE, [so] that thy days may be lengthened [forever]... FOR ALL THAT DO SUCH THINGS, AND ALL THAT DO UNRIGHTOUSNESS [NOT BEING HONEST IN THEIR ASSESSMENT OF BOTH THE STRENGTHS AND THE WEAKNESSES OF THE THING OR PERSON BEING EVALUATED], ARE AN ABOMINATION UNTO THE LORD thy God”- Proverbs 20:10 & Deuteronomy 25:14-16.

What is the reason why, practicing the intellectual humility implied in being truthful to reality, is of such paramount importance to God?

The reason is that, the opposite behavior, only brings strife and hatred. You see, the person who tries to make small that which is big and relevant (Faith, family, moral values, responsibilities, generosity, peace, discipline, etc), will end up trying to make great that which is small and irrelevant (atheism, individualism, hedonism, individual rights, greed, tyranny, anarchy, etc).

But there's more to it! The Creator knows that the intellectual humility implied in being truthful to reality will make His children grow stronger, as they'll experience the inner peace stemming from the knowledge that, what they say with their mouths, is in perfect harmony with what they say with their hearts.

And why is the latter so important? It's because, when the heart says one thing, while the mouth says another, the person lowers himself to the moral level of the hypocrites.

And, as a result, his psyche enters into a state of mental [and moral] unbalance; an inner disquietness that increasingly burdens, weakens, and depresses him. And, if he insists on embracing this state of cognitive dissonance, he risks losing his connection to reality, thereby falling into grave and serious mental illnesses. And this is the reason why the Hebrew Scripture utters such stern warnings against liars and hypocrites.

As it has been written:

- 1) “You destroy those who speak falsehood; the Lord abhors the man of bloodshed and deceit” (Psalm 5:6).
- 2) “A false witness will not go unpunished, and he who tells lies will perish” (Proverbs 19:9).
- 3) “The acquisition of treasures by a lying tongue is a fleeting vapor, the pursuit of death” (Proverbs 21:6).
- 4) “What is desirable in a man is his kindness, and it is better to be a poor man than a liar” (Proverbs 19:22)
- 5) “A trustworthy witness will not lie, but a false witness utters lies” (Proverbs 14:5).
- 6) “Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord, but those who deal faithfully are His delight” (Proverbs 12:22)
- 7) “These are the things that you shall do: speak every man the truth with his neighbor...” (Zechariah 8:16)

In short, next time a Muslim brother ask you to confess that Muhammad (peace be upon him) is the greatest of all prophets, give him a truthful and honest reply.

Tell him that Muhammad was a wise and great man, who indeed seems to be God's appointed messenger for the Arab people, as he was the only monotheistic prophet they were willing to obey. But tell him also that the Hebrew scripture states that there won't be any other prophet like Moses [let alone greater than him!]. As it is written: “AND THERE AROSE NOT A PROPHET SINCE IN ISRAEL LIKE MOSES...”- Deut. 34:10.

Likewise, next time a Christian brother ask you to acknowledge that the Jesus (peace be upon him) is the Savior, that he is God in the flesh, or that he died for your sins, give him a truthful and honest reply.

Tell him that Jesus was indeed a sublime teacher; a “moral supernova”, seemingly appointed by God to be the savior of both Greeks and Romans [as they would not repent of their sins, nor do any other good, unless they can do it in the name of Jesus].

But tell him also that Torah states there's no savior for the Hebrew people, besides יהוה (Adonai Yah, the blessed God of Israel).

As it is written: “I, even I, AM יהוה (THE LORD); AND, BESIDES ME, THERE IS NO SAVIOR”- Isaiah 43:11. Tell the Christian brother that Torah states God is no man (“GOD IS NOT A MAN, that He should tell or act a lie, NEITHER THE SON OF MAN”- Numbers 23:19).

Tell the Christian brother that Torah teaches no one can die for the sins of other people. As it is written: “The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers; ONLY FOR HIS OWN SIN SHALL ANYONE BE PUT TO DEATH”- Deuteronomy 24:16);

And also says in another place- “THE SOUL THAT SINS, IT [IS THE ONE THAT] SHALL DIE. The son shall not bear and be punished for the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear and be punished for the iniquity of the son...”- Ezequiel 18:20;

Finally, it says elsewhere: “In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children’s teeth are set on edge. BUT EVERYONE SHALL DIE FOR HIS OWN INIQUITY [ONLY]; every man who eats sour grapes—his [own] teeth shall be set on edge”- Jeremiah 31:29-30

«Should the Samaritan believer be merciful with the thief? Of course! But that doesn't mean he must endorse theft, allow such practice go unhindered, or prevent the victim from getting back what rightfully belongs to him. And the same happens with the man [or woman] who embraces the openly gay lifestyle. You see, our parents gave us life, as well as the sustenance that made us adults. Thus, we must pay what we owe them-- They gave us life, so we must pay back with life. How? Bringing them grandchildren, so the latter can bring pleasure and solace to their final years. Should the Samaritan believer be merciful with the openly homosexual individual? Of course! But that doesn't mean he must endorse a lifestyle where parents are robbed of their fair share of grandchildren, allow such robbing go unhindered, or prevent the victimized parents from demanding what is rightfully owed to them»

Torah (God's Law), evolution, and Divine Judgment

The Creation account shows that God initially granted “the waters” (or, “the seas”) the power to create life. As it is written: “LET THE WATERS PRODUCE LIVING THINGS AND BIRDS...”- Genesis 1:20. Notice how the previous verse states that it would be directly “the waters” [and not

God] who would create birds and living beings. The Creator then proceeded to bestow upon the Earth the same creative power that he had previously bestowed upon the waters. As it is written: “LET THE EARTH PRODUCE LIVING THINGS ACCORDING TO THEIR KIND...”- Genesis 1:24. Again, notice how it says that it would be directly the Earth [and not God], who would create the living beings that crawl on it.

Finally, the Eternal Spirit decided to make a creative alliance with both the waters and the Earth, in order to create a superior life; a creature whose existence would have some water, some earth, and some spirit. As it is written: “Let us (that is, the Waters, the Earth, and I) create man, in our image and likeness [in other words, let us make him so that he will resembles the water, the earth, and the Eternal Spirit]...”- Genesis 1:26.

And the above explains the fact that, in its first stage, the life of man evolves within a liquid environment (the liquid of the maternal womb). Then, that life leaves that liquid realm, and continues to evolve in an “earthly” realm (the dry realm existing outside the womb). Finally, that same life leaves that earthly realm, and continues to evolve in a “spiritual” realm [outside the physical body]. In other words, Scripture intimates that physical death does not stop the process whereby life evolves.

To summarize what we have said so far: Scripture intimates that life initially evolved (and continues to evolve) in three different “stages” (or “processes”). The first of these processes was the evolution of marine life; the second, was the evolution of terrestrial life; the third, was the evolution of an animal life that acquires “spiritual life”; that is to say, a process whereby animal life acquires a “spirit” (an “intangible conscience”, or “humanity”) that turns it into a moral entity, capable of making ethical decisions that will allow it to overcome both its animal instincts and its lower passions.

And the fact that animal life evolved before human life could explain the verse that goes on to say: «And Adam gave names to all beasts and to the birds of the heavens and to all cattle of the field; BUT FOR ADAM THERE WAS NOT FOUND A HELP SUITABLE FOR HIM»- Genesis 2:20.

How is it possible that, after all the animals were shown to Adam, Scripture states that “no suitable help was found for Adam”? Was there ever a possibility for Adam to marry a cow, or a sheep? Of course Not! What the verse intimates is that the Earth may have previously produced a certain type of animal life (ape like?) that resembled human beings. But, unlike the latter, that sort of animal life lacked “spirit” (the moral and ethical conscience Adam already had).

Despite all of this, the reality is that, the greatest of all truths contained within the Creation story, isn’t creation itself, nor is it the process by which life arose on our planet. The greatest of all the truths contained in this story, is that the Creator is such an incredibly extraordinary being that He decides to use his own creation as an instrument to carry out his unfathomable purposes.

In other words, even though God could have directly created life, He chose instead to endow the waters and the earth with some of his divine power; so that both the water and the Earth became two of the many “ministers and ambassadors” used by God, in order to direct and administer His Creation.

And that is also the case with human beings; for the reality is that, in order to preserve the human race, God could have caused the Seas and the Earth to continuously [and spontaneously] produce “new Adams” (new men who would replace those who periodically die). But, in his extraordinary generosity, the Creator has chosen to share with Mankind some of his creative power, so that Man can in turn beget (or “create”) new men. And this makes Man a minister of God, carrying out the Divine purpose of preserving the Human race.

Fortunately, the God worshiped by the Children of Israel isn't like a human King who jealously clings to absolute power. Instead, The Holy One is like a Great and Noble King-- One who rules upon an infinitely large kingdom. And, in order to carry out his purposes, the King grants upon his most faithful and noble subjects the power to administer [in His behalf] each and every aspect that concerns the matters of His infinite Kingdom.

Reformed Samaritanism
Those who follow lying vanities forsake God's freely available mercy!
Hebrew Scripture states that God wants no sacrifice for sin, but rather a contrite heart that confess his wickedness. As it is written: "For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise... For I will declare mine iniquity; I will be sorry for my sin... I acknowledge my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin"-
Psalms 51:16-17, 38:18, & 32:5.
Curiously, any stern and morally flawed human father has no problem with freely forgiving his penitent children. Yet, when a man believes in a lying vanity, he no longer believes that his merciful [and morally perfect] Divine father can freely forgive His penitent children. As it has been said: "They that observe lying vanities forsake their own mercy"- Jonah 2:8.
What are some of the lying vanities that prevent a man from remembering that the Heavenly Father can freely forgive His penitent children? Some of them are the following: (1) To claim that no man can be forgiven unless he also believes Jesus to be God in the flesh; (2) To assert that no one can be forgiven unless he also believes Muhammad to be the greatest of all prophets; (3) To posit that no man can be saved unless he also believes Joseph Smith, Ellen G White, Charles Taze Russell, or William Marrion Branham is God's final messengers

And this might be the reason why, concerning the Divine judgment that came upon King Nebuchadnezzar, Scripture doesn't say that it was God himself who [directly] judged Nebuchadnezzar. Instead, it says Nebuchadnezzar was judged by "the decree of the watchers", and "the demand of the holy ones".

As it is written: «This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know that the most High ruleth [thru His representatives] in the kingdom of men ...»- Daniel 4:14, Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition.

Who are these "watchers"? And who are these "holy ones"? They are those whom have been appointed by the Great and Holy King, in order to administer Divine Judgment and Justice upon Earth.

Still, notice how these "watchers an holy ones" freely acknowledge [without any ambiguity] that it is not themselves [but the Most High] who rules upon the kingdom of men [in other words, that their mission is none other than to carry out God's purpose for mankind].

And the same is illustrated by the story of King Ahab; for when the latter was judged [in heaven], the Creator sat among his ministers, just as an "av beit din" ("a father" or "president" of a court of judgment) would sit and listen to the pleas of the court members. As it is written:

«... I saw יהוה (the Lord Almighty) sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing by him on his right hand and on his left. And the Lord said, “Who shall [go in my name and] persuade Ahab, that he may go up and fall at Ramothgilead? And one [of his ministers] said on this manner, and another [of his ministers] said on that manner. And there came forth a spirit [from the World of the Living], and stood before יהוה, and said, “I will persuade him”. And יהוה said unto him, “Wherewith?” And he said, “I will go forth, and I will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets”. And he [God] said, “Thou shalt persuade him, and prevail also: go forth [for I hereby designate you], and do so”» 1 Kings 22:19-22.

And the former is the way Hebrew Scripture intimates that everything the Creator has ever done [or will ever do], is done through some sort of “minister” that has been previously appointed to fulfill such a task; In other words, by means of the waters, by means of the Earth, by means of some angel (or some other being alien to our world), by means of a messenger, by means of a spirit, by means of a Saint, by means of a watchman, by means of a holy man, by means of a creature (like a donkey, a raven, a great fish, or some hungry lions), by means of a natural phenomenon (a burning bush, a thunderstorm, a lightning bolt, a whirlwind), by means of a fiery furnace, or a gentle hissing.

In what sense are the Christian, the Jewish, and the Muslim religions alike?

In what sense are Christian, Jewish, and Mohammedan religions alike? In that the Christian believes Scripture aims at exalting Christ; the Jew believes Scripture aims at exalting Jewish people, and the Mohammedan believes it’s all about exalting Mohammad. In other words, they all think Scripture is all about praising and recognizing a finite human creature.

Yet, speaking to Pharaoh, the Almighty goes on to say the following: “But for this very purpose have I let you live, that I might show you My power, and that My name may be declared throughout all the earth”- Exodus 9:16, Amplified Bible (Classic Edition).

Thus, the purpose of God’s Law isn’t the exaltation and recognition of Christ, the Jewish people, or prophet Mohammad; Rather, it’s all about the greatness and recognition of יהוה (“Adonay Yah”), the God who spoke to Moses. Thus, he who acknowledges that יהוה gave Ten Divine Laws to Moses [and willingly submits himself to those Ten Laws], has properly understood God’s message. Why? Because, by so doing, he publicly declares God’s power and Lordship upon his life.

¿Existen aún los ídolos?

¿Existen aún los ídolos? ¡Pues claro que si! Verá usted, creamos un ídolo cuando endiosamos a algo [o a alguien] fuera del Creador. Es decir, en el momento en que ponemos un mayor grado de fe en las palabra y la opinión de gente como Pablo [o como Elena G. de White], que en la opinión del Creador, estamos poniendo a taal persona por encima del Creador [¡haciendo de ella un ídolo!].

Por ejemplo, el Creador dice que comer la carne del cordero Pascual es un estatuto perpetuo (“Y aquella noche comerán la carne asada al fuego, y panes sin levadura; con hierbas amargas lo comerán... Y este día os será en memoria, y lo celebraréis como fiesta solemne para יהוה durante vuestras generaciones; por estatuto perpetuo lo celebraréis”- Éxodo 12:8, &14); Pero la Sra. de White dice en cambio que no debemos comer carne alguna.

¿Cual de las dos opiniones es mas segura e importante? ¿La de Dios?, ¿o la de la Sra. De White? Así, quien sigue la opinión de la Sra De White, esta haciendo un ídolo de ella. ¿Porque? Pues porque, es el necio y débil quien se ve forzado ajustarse al sabio y poderoso.

Y, haciendo que la opinión de Dios tenga que ajustarse a la opinión de la Sra De White, estamos haciendo a Dios la parte necia y débil, mientras que hacemos a la Sra de White la parte sabia y poderosa (y esto último no es sino burda y pagana idolatría).

¡La paz sea con vosotros!

«Reformed Samaritanism states that he who interprets Divine Scripture in a strict literal sense is both a blasphemer and a reviler. Why? Because he thereby implies that the Holy One isn't much better than any flawed human being, as He too suffers from physical limitations, as well as moral defects (He gets tired, He cannot be everywhere at the same time, He doesn't know everything, He makes mistakes that He later needs to repent for, He often loses His temper, He takes vengeance, he needs to be given food, etc). And he who keeps reviling the Almighty will feel no lasting peace, as his soul [secretly] knows he won't be able to escape punishment»

¿Era la Sra. Elena G. de White el equivalente moderno de la joven poseída por un espíritu de adivinación?

Los espíritus inmundos aman los juegos mentales, la confusión, y el engaño. Y es por ello que el Nuevo Testamento cita a una joven poseída [por un espíritu de adivinación], tratando de convencer a sus oyentes de que ella también era una mensajera del evangelio.

Como esta escrito: «nos salió al encuentro una muchacha que tenía espíritu de adivinación... Esta, siguiendo a Pablo y a nosotros, daba voces, diciendo: “Estos hombres son siervos del Dios Altísimo, quienes os anuncian el camino de salvación”»- Hechos 16:16-17.

Curiosamente, Pablo se molesta con tal mujer. ¿Por que se molesta Pablo? Pues porque sabia claramente que la perfecta voluntad de Dios es que la mujer se abstenga de usurpar el puesto del hombre [tratando de enseñar o ejercer autoridad sobre este ultimo].

Como esta escrito: “La mujer aprenda en silencio, con toda sujeción. Porque no permito a la mujer enseñar, ni ejercer dominio sobre el hombre, sino estar en silencio”- 1 Timoteo 2:11-12. ¿Y de donde sabemos que Pablo no aprobaba que la mujer enseñe [aun si lo que enseña aparenta ser verdad]? Pues lo sabemos del verso que dice: «mas desagradando a Pablo, este se volvió y dijo al espíritu: “Te mando en el nombre de Jesucristo, que salgas de ella”. Y salió en aquella misma hora»- Hechos 16:18)?

No solamente sabia Pablo que la mujer no debe tomar el liderato espiritual, sino que Pablo sabia que Jesús había sido citado diciendo que no había verdad alguna en el demonio [ni en sus secuaces].

Como esta escrito: “... Él [el Demonio] ha sido homicida desde el principio, y no ha permanecido en la verdad, porque no hay verdad en él...”- Juan 8:44.

De este modo, dando testimonio de alegada “veracidad” del Evangelio, el espíritu de adivinación ponía en entredicho las palabras que, en boca del Nazareno, había opuesto el relato evangélico.

De igual modo, lo anterior chocaba de frente con el reclamo Cristiano de que la sabiduría contenida en Evangelio era pura, y libre de to incertidumbre e hipocresía (“Pero la sabiduría que es de lo alto es primeramente pura... sin incertidumbre ni hipocresía”- Santiago 3:17).

Y el anterior espíritu de adivinación aparenta haberse manifestado nuevamente en la Sra. Elena G. de White [que en paz descanse]; pues la Sra de White no solamente tuvo el atrevimiento [y la osadía] de violar flagrantemente lo ordenado por Pablo en 1 Timoteo 2:11-12 (enseñando y liderando a otros creyentes), sino que, al igual que el anterior espíritu, dijo cosas que contradicen [y arrojan sombras] sobre la veracidad de las palabras que en boca de Jesús pone el Evangelio.

Por ejemplo, Jesús dijo que el que no comía su carne no tenía vida eterna, y que no es lo que entra en la boca lo que contamina al hombre. En adición, Jesús es citado dando a comer pescado a sus seguidores. Así mismo, Pablo dijo que, de todo lo que se vende en la carnicería, podemos comer. Pero la Sra. de White niega todas esas aseveraciones, cuando afirma que Dios no quiere que el creyente coma carne alguna.

De igual modo, Jesús es citado diciendo que, tan pronto como muere Lázaro [el mendigo], los ángeles llevan su alma al Paraíso. En adición, el libro de Revelación cita a las almas de los difuntos clamando por justicia («Cuando abrió el quinto sello, vi bajo el altar las almas de los que habían sido muertos por causa de la palabra de Dios y por el testimonio que tenían. Y clamaban a gran voz, diciendo: ¿Hasta cuándo, Señor, santo y verdadero, no juzgas y vengas nuestra sangre en los que moran en la tierra?»- Apocalipsis 6:9-10). Pero la Sra de White contradice lo dicho por el Galileo, cuando afirma que el alma no sobrevive a la muerte, y que el paraíso esta en este mundo terrenal, y no en ningún mundo espiritual.

Así, no es exagerado alegar que [al menos en un sentido funcional] la Sra De White puede ser considerada el equivalente funcional de la mujer descrita en el capítulo 16 del libro de los Hechos.

Beware, and never disregard Divine truth, even when the latter seems to spring from non conventional sources (pagan people and enemies included!)

God's Law puts words of wisdom into the lips of a donkey («And the Lord opened the mouth of the ass, and she said unto Balaam: "What have I done unto thee, that thou hast smitten me these three times?" ... And the ass said unto Balaam: "Am not I thine ass, upon which thou hast ridden all thy life long unto this day? was I ever wont to do so unto thee?" And he said: "Nay"»- Numbers 22:28-30, J.P.S., 1917 Edition).

But, do animals actually speak? Of course not! What then is Torah trying to teach with such narrative? Well, its aim is to point at the idea that "God's word, is God's word"; and therefore we will do good paying heed to it, no matter what the source may be, and no matter if it is uttered by Jews, or by Samaritans; By Christians, or Muslims; by Monotheists, or Polytheists".

And from whence do we learn the former to be true? We learn it from King Josiah. You see, story goes that the Creator had spoken directly unto an Egyptian Pharaoh named "Necho", sending the latter upon a Divine mission: to wage war against his enemies (the Assyrians). Necho goes on and let Josiah know about the Divine message he had received but, though a righteous and God fearing king, Josiah foolishly disregards Pharaoh's words [which came from the very mouth of God!], thinking that a pagan person can never be the herald of Divine truth. In the end, the Jewish king decides to oppose [and thereby hinder] Pharaoh's mission, not realizing that, by so doing, he was actually opposing God [a grave and often deadly mistake!].

As is written: "After all this, when Josiah had prepared the Temple. Necho king of Egypt came up to fight against Carchemish by Perath and Josiah went out against him. But he sent messengers to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mine enemy, and God commanded me to make haste: leave off to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroy thee. But Josiah would not turn his face from him, but changed his apparel to fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo. And the shooters shot at king Josiah: then the king said to his servants, Carry me away, for I am very sick. So his servants took him out of that chariot, and put him in the second chariot which he had, and when they had brought him to Jerusalem, he died”- 2 Chronicles 35:20-24, King James Bible.

Defend human rights? Demand absolute equality? Whose rights? And whose equality? The rights and equality of the elite that prevails by the force of their wealth and power? Or the rights and equality of the poor and weak being oppressed by such elite?

When secular powers preach equality and human rights, Samaritan believers begin to worry. Can the weak be equal to the powerful? Can the sheep be equal to the lion? Does a lion have the right to demand “to be equal” to the sheep, so that he is allowed to live with the latter inside the same cage? Tradition has it that on one occasion the Roman emperor (Cesar) ordered a Hebrew sage named “Tanhum” (the spiritual leader of the Hebrew community) to come before him. Then Caesar proceeded to tell him: “Come, and let us be one people” [that is, I want you to tell your people that the Roman Empire demands equity; so that both Romans and Hebrews are completely equal]. “Very good”, replied the Rabbi, “But, since we are already circumcised, we cannot go back, to become like you (uncircumcised). So, you go and get circumcised; so that you can be equal to us. Cesar responded by saying, “Well said! But [since it is politically incorrect to prevail against the Emperor, thus offending He who holds imperial power] your punishment will be to be thrown to the wild beasts [in the Roman arena]”.

Thus, the alleged equality that the Empire was trying to implement was actually a veiled attack against anyone who differed with the powers of the day.

Note: Interestingly, Tanhum was indeed thrown to the wild beasts. But miraculously, the lions refused to devour him. Seeing the miracle, a daring Roman stood up and shouted aloud from the stands: “If the beasts do not devour him, it is only because they are not hungry!” On beholding his brazen boldness, the outraged onlookers around him decided that the just response to such impudence could not be other than to give him a spoonful of his own medicine. So they proceeded to throw him into the Arena, where the lions immediately devoured him.

How can Talmudic Judaism be improved and corrected?

Talmudic Judaism is a deep and beautiful religion, full of wisdom and understanding. The only possible objection to it might be that, in our humble opinion [and we might be completely mistaken about it], Talmudic Judaism doesn't seem to completely understand that, the religion revealed by the Holy One to our master Moses was "Performance based".

In other words, Torah's overarching message is "Whatever goodness [or evil] a man puts out into the universe will come back to him". And that's why the well being (or "Salvation") of each man can be summarized as follows: "Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell [in safety] for evermore"- Psalm 37:27.

Thus, Torah's 613 commandments are merely the allegorical representation of the maximum goodness any man [whether he be Jew or Gentile] is expected to do; so that, the more of such goodness a man is able to perform, the greater the goodness that will come back to him.

Consider the following example: Torah asks that, while gleaning your fields, you leave some produce behind [for the benefit of the poor]. How can a modern man who owns no crops perform the goodness allegorically portrayed by the former command? Very easy! Whenever paying for food [while on the supermarket], make sure that you refuse to pick [from the floor] any pocket change that might accidentally fall from your hands [thereby leaving it for those coming right behind you].

Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) could not have been the Supreme Creator of the Universe. Why? Because it makes no sense that the Creator could ever be tempted to worship His own creation!

No wise and mature believer would ever entertain the notion that the non-created, infinite, unlimited, all knowing, omnipresent, and omnipotent Creator of the Universe can ever be tempted to bow down [in worship and submission] to any of His weak, finite, and limited creatures. And that's why Torah observant believers reject the dogma of Jesus deity, as the gospel portrays him [the alleged Creator of the Universe] being tempted to worship Satan [one of his alleged creatures]. As is written: "Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me..."- Matthew 4:8-9, K.J.V. Besides, Hebrew Scripture states that God is too big to literally dwell upon the Earth ("But will God indeed dwell on the earth? (Of course not!...) behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee!"- 1 Kings 8:27)

Another example: Torah commands that, on the day of Judgment [Yom Kippur], and before the High priest could deal with the sins of Israel [by bringing an animal sacrifice], he had to first bring a sacrifice for his own sins.

How can a common person [who isn't a priest] perform the goodness hereby portrayed? Very easy! Whenever judging the sins of any other person, make sure to first judge your own sins. How? Well, one possibility might be to simply say something like the following: "Although I'm not worthy of judging anybody, my humble opinion is that, the actions (words, ideas, aptitudes, etc) of so-and-so do not bring glory to the God of Israel"

Is it wrong for a non Jewish person to follow God's Law?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that all of the statutes, judgments and commandments comprising God's Law can be summarized in just one single command: "Sow what is right and good, thereby earning the merit to reap [for later consumption] the “fruit” of what you’ve planted”.

As is written: “I the Lord search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings... A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth: and the recompence of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him... the Mighty God, the Lord of hosts, is his name, Great in counsel, and mighty in work: for thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men: to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings”- Jeremiah 17:10, Proverbs 12:14, & Jeremiah 32:18-19- King James Bible.

Thus, claiming to be wrong for somebody (a Muslim, a Christian, a Noahide, etc) to obey God’s Law, is sort of like claiming to be wrong for somebody to plant a garden patch, in order to ensure food security.

When our actions inadvertently bring truth into the open

Legend has it that, several centuries after his own time, Elijah [the Hebrew prophet] used to appear on a weekly basis to this particularly holy Samaritan priest. Once, while lecturing in front of his disciples, the priest told them that Elijah had a hot tempered personality. After such incident, Elijah didn’t appear to him for a while.

When he finally appeared, the priest asked him: “Why has the master been absent for so long?” Elijah replied: “Because I was angry with you, as you claimed I was a hot tempered person”. “But Sir [replied the priest], [with your actions] you've just proven that, what I said about you, is indeed correct!”

El Noahismo es Falso, pues el Creador desea que todos sigan la misma Ley Divina

La Ley de Dios dice que Israel lloró a Moisés [el padre espiritual de Pueblo de Israel] durante 30 Días. Como esta escrito: “Y LLORARON LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL A MOISÉS EN LOS CAMPOS DE MOAB TREINTA DÍAS...”- Deut. 34:8. Del mismo modo, la Ley ordenaba a Israel dejar que sus CAUTIVAS GENTILES llorasen a sus padres durante 30 días.

Como esta escrito: “... y se quitará el vestido de su cautiverio, y se quedará en tu casa; Y LLORARÁ A SU PADRE Y A SU MADRE UN MES ENTERO...”- Deut. 21:13.

¿Por que menciona la Ley este particular detalle? ¿Que enseñanza ética y moral implica el que Dios desee que los gentiles guarden duelo segun lo revelado en la Ley Divina? Pues lo que pretende intimar es que, no solamente los Hebreos, sino también los gentiles están llamados a seguir la Ley de Moisés [es decir, a vivir según las verdades que surgen de lo escrito sobre las dos tablas de piedra].

En otras palabras, Dios espera que tanto Hebreos como gentiles sigan la Ley Mosaica. Y, si aparenta que Dios permite que un gentil siga otra Ley distinta a la de Moisés [como podrían ser “la Ley de la gracia de Cristo”, “la Ley Shariah”, o “las siete leyes de Noé”], es solo porque el Creador es un Dios compasivo, que provee un generoso acomodo a la frágil y extraviada condición humana.

De este modo, quien sigue una Ley distinta a la de Moisés, no se encuentra en armonía con la perfecta voluntad Divina, sino que se refugia en la voluntad permisiva del Creador. ¿Y de donde sabemos que el Dios de Israel espera que tanto Hebreos como gentiles sigan una la misma Ley? Pues lo sabemos de la Escritura que dice:

“UNA MISMA LEY Y UN MISMO DECRETO TENDRÉIS, VOSOTROS Y EL EXTRANJERO QUE CON VOSOTROS MORA”- Números 15:16. Y tambien dice en otro lugar: “EL NACIDO

ENTRE LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL, Y EL EXTRANJERO QUE HABITARE ENTRE ELLOS, UNA MISMA LEY TENDRÉIS...”- Números 15:29

God’s Law isn’t an ideological straight jacket; nor is the Creator a theological dictator enjoying a long running power trip

God’s perfect will for mankind is for it to embrace a life of justice, mercy, and humility; as correctly stated by the prophet, when he went on to say: “He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?”- Micah 6:8 (King James Bible).

But, how exactly do we achieve the former? Well, we do it by imitating the actions of our Creator. You see, the Holy One never ask us to do anything, save He has done it first. And where do we find Him acting in a just, merciful, and humble fashion? We find it in no less than two separated Torah passages:

(1) In the first one, Moses interprets that a deceased man’s land is to be inherited only by his male children-- The basic assumption being that the Holy Land belonged to God, who assigned it to the Israelite clans for their use (Lev. 25:23).

It was also assumed that only males could inherit it, because the clan was perpetuated through the male line.

(2) In the second passage, God commands Israel how [and when] is the Passover feast to be executed (“And the Lord spake unto Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, in the first month of the second year after they were come out of the land of Egypt, saying, Let the children of Israel also keep the passover at his appointed season. In the fourteenth day of this month, at even, ye shall keep it in his appointed season: according to all the rites of it, and according to all the ceremonies thereof, shall ye keep it”- Numbers 9:1-3, KJB).

On each of the above, an aggrieved party goes ahead, and raises a valid issue; claiming that the interpretation given to God’s commandments wasn’t just nor merciful enough to include special cases:

(1) A father who had no male children, but only daughters (“Why should the name of our father be done away from among his family, because he hath no son? Give unto us therefore a possession among the brethren of our father”- Numbers 27:4, KJB)

(2) Those who can’t observe Passover not because they didn’t want to, but rather due to circumstances beyond their own control, like the impurity contracted while burying a deceased relative (“And there were certain men, who were defiled by the dead body of a man, that they could not keep the passover on that day: and they came before Moses and before Aaron on that day: And those men said unto him, We are defiled by the dead body of a man: wherefore are we kept back, that we may not offer an offering of the Lord in his appointed season among the children of Israel?”- Numbers 9:6-7, KJB).

In both cases, the Holy One does the unthinkable: He acknowledges that the claims raised against the person in charge of interpreting Torah [the ancient equivalent to a great modern Rabbi, like “Rashi of Troyes”, or “Moses Ben Maimon”] were correct and valid.

There's more! In order to show justice and mercy, God [who by definition can't make mistakes] showed Himself to be humble enough to "amend" (or "correct") His word; as if He had actually made a mistake! Why? so as to accommodate the just, fair, and objective demands of the aggrieved parties. How did He go about it?

(1) He allowed females to inherit from their father's estate (thereby intimating that it is only our narrow interpretation of God's word what prevents us from realizing we are all equal before Him, as He makes no distinction between male or female, black or white, Jew or gentile).

As is written: "The daughters of Zelophehad speak right: thou shalt surely give them a possession of an inheritance among their father's brethren; and thou shalt cause the inheritance of their father to pass unto them"- Numbers 27:7, KJV.

(2) he gave people a chance to celebrate a second Passover, 30 days after the first one (thereby intimating that the Creator is a God of second chances!).

As is written: "If any man of you or of your posterity shall be unclean by reason of a dead body, or be in a journey afar off, yet he shall keep the passover unto the Lord. The fourteenth day of the second month at even they shall keep it, and eat it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs. They shall leave none of it unto the morning, nor break any bone of it: according to all the ordinances of the passover they shall keep it"- Numbers 9:10-12, KJB.

Yet the former story leave us wondering... Can the Creator ever be mistaken? Or is He rather trying to teach us a deep moral lesson?-- That God's isn't a religious tyrant, nor is he an ideological dictator; that even though Torah was written upon stone tablets, Torah's interpretation isn't an ideological straight jacked-- the theological equivalent of an inflexible stone [one that cannot be reshaped]? Could the Creator be trying to tell us that, if He [whose majesty, wisdom and power is absolute] isn't arrogantly obsessed with being blindly obeyed, blindly believed, or free from questioning, neither should we [frail, weak, and flawed] human beings ever be obsessed with being theologically [and intellectually] correct, arrogantly expecting to be blindly believed and obeyed?

El Adventismo es bueno; es su teología, la que es caprichosa y extraviada

Estimados hermanos y amigos-- Tanto en Cristianismo en general, como el Adventismo en particular, son caminos perfectamente válidos para agradar al Creador. Es la teología Cristiana, la que necesita ser un poco mas madura y profunda. Por ejemplo, el adventismo reclama que María es la virgen de Isaías7:14, y que el Galileo (paz y bendición sean con el) es el Emanuel allí prometido. Pero, aunque bien intencionados, los anteriores reclamos son vanos y caprichosos, como se demuestra a continuación:

1) Es falso que María (paz sea con ella) haya sido "la virgen" de Isaías 7:14; pues, esa "virgen", es en realidad una personificación alegórica de la comunidad compuesta por las casas, las ciudades y las tribus de Israel, según Isaías 37:22, Amos 5:2-3, & Jeremías 18:13-- "LA VIRGEN HIJA DE SION te menosprecia, te escarnece; detrás de ti mueve su cabeza LA HIJA DE JERUSALÉN... Cayó LA VIRGEN DE ISRAEL, y no podrá levantarse ya más; fue dejada sobre su tierra, no hay quien la levante. Porque así ha dicho Jehová el Señor: LA CIUDAD que salga con mil, volverá con ciento, y la que salga con ciento volverá con diez, en la casa de Israel... Por tanto, así dijo Jehová: Preguntad ahora a LAS NACIONES, quién ha oído cosa semejante. Gran fealdad ha hecho LA VIRGEN DE

ISRAEL.

2) Es falso que el Nazareno haya sido el “Emanuel” de Isaías 7:14 (“... LA VIRGEN concebirá, y DARÁ A LUZ UN HIJO, Y LLAMARÁ SU NOMBRE EMANUEL”), ¿Por que? Pues porque en ninguna parte del evangelio se nos dice que María le halla llamado con tal nombre.

En adición, como el nombre “Emanuel” literalmente significa “Dios (está) con nosotros”, pues es obvio que “Emanuel” no es una persona, sino una pluralidad [o “comunidad”] de individuos. Esta comunidad, sería testigo de una liberación tan grande, que no tendría otro remedio que proclamar que Dios estaba con ellos [¡Emanuel!]. ¿Cual sería esa comunidad? Pues la de los creyentes que verían como, la Tierra de Rezín y de Peka [los reyes de Siria e Israel que se habían levantado contra Judá, según Isaías 7:1-2], sería arrasada por el rey de Babilonia; como está escrito- «he aquí, por tanto, que el Señor hace subir sobre ellos (Peka y Rezín) aguas de ríos, impetuosas y muchas, esto es, al rey de Asiria, con todo su poder; el cual subirá sobre todos sus ríos, y pasará sobre todas sus riberas... y extendiendo sus alas, llenará la anchura de tu tierra, oh Emanuel»- Isaías 8:7-8. ¿Y que proclamaría esta comunidad, luego de ver esta gran liberación? Pues proclamarían: «Tomad consejo, y será anulado; proferid palabra, y no será firme, porque ¡Dios está con nosotros! [¡Emanuel!]- Isaías 8:10. ¡Que la paz del Creador sea con vuestras almas!

The pagan roots of Nazarene theology

The Nazarene religion is a valid path to serve the Almighty, but the Nazarene's vision of God is actually the product of the Roman (pagan) conception of their great King (the Caesar). Why? Because, at the time when the noble Christian faith was born, the Romans used to deify Caesar, so that Caesar's son was considered to be “the Son of God” [and therefore, worthy of the same praise and worship due to his divine Father].

In addition, the word of this “Son of God” was unquestionable. In fact, Hebrew tradition relates that, the penalty for the man who defeated him in any verbal controversy was to be thrown into a potter's oven; just as Jesus himself is quoted declaring Peter to be “Satan” [and therefore worthy of hellfire], for daring to question Jesus words and plans (Matthew 16:23).

Finally, the Roman tradition was that, once the King (Caesar) had issued a death decree against any nation (or person), if one of the King's children [or someone close to him] died within 30 days of the edict being issued, the decree was automatically annulled; just as the death of Jesus [the heavenly King's alleged firstborn], automatically annulled the death decree issued against all the nations of the World.

Still, the fact that some of the pagan roots of Christian theology are in direct opposition to the clear teaching of God's Law, doesn't necessarily invalidate Christianity. In other words, if a Christian sincerely repents, departs from evil and immorality, and starts to embrace a life of justice, mercy, and humility [observing what was commanded upon the two stone tablets], not only will he experience God's favor, but he can rest assured that he'll be granted a good share in the world that is to come.

Unfortunately, his holding fast to the well intended [yet evidently false] aspects of his Christian theology will be like a nagging thorn, bringing constant pain upon his poor soul. Why? Because the latter will keep troubling him; always bringing to mind the fact that he is harboring falsehood-- something that God had commanded him to avoid («Keep thee far from a false matter... Lying lips are abomination to the Lord... These are the things that ye shall do; "Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour"... I hate and abhor lying... »- Exodus 23:7, Proverbs, 12:22, Zechariah 8:16, Psalm 119:163- King James Version)

«By means of Creation, the Supreme Power of The Universe provided humanity with clear wisdom and guidance. Thus, we find that the fundamental truths of nature always boil down to simple axioms (Sowing, and reaping; Cause, and effect; Action, and reaction; What goes around, comes around; The tree is known by it's fruit; All mountains point toward the heavens; To much West, is East; A little bit of water can be refreshing, while too much of it can be harmful, etc). Yet, the goal of atheists, tyrants, opportunistic people, moral relativists, and other anti-nature egalitarians is to over complicate what is clear and simple, in hopes of gaslight you out of objective reality»

"IN THE EYES OF GOD, TO BE KIND IS FAR MORE IMPORTANT THAN TO BE RIGHT"

El Juicio de Los Profetas Orgullosos

Cuando un profeta orgulloso está a punto de morir, el Creador viene y le agarra por el borde de sus vestidos, y le dice: “¡Arrepiéntete, y Yo, tu, y el Hijo de Isaí (el Rey David), caminaremos juntos por el Paraíso!”. Entonces el profeta pregunta, ¿Pero, quien ira por delante? ¿Yo, o David? A lo que יהוה (Yah) contesta diciendo: “El hijo de Isaí, ira delante de ti”. Entonces, lleno de celos y enojo, el profeta dice: “Si es así, no me interesa, pues prefiero tener el primer lugar en el infierno, que el segundo lugar en el Cielo”.

En ese mismo momento, el atributo de la Justicia Divina dice: «Amo del Universo, tu prometiste por medio de Salomón castigar a los altivos, cuando dijiste: “Abominación es a Yah todo altivo de corazón; Ciertamente no quedará impune”- Proverbios 16:5.

De igual modo, prometiste por medio de David tu ungido, dar a tus siervos las peticiones de su corazón, cuando dijiste: “Deléitate asimismo en Yah, Y él te concederá las peticiones de tu corazón”- Salmo 37:4. Tu siervo es altivo (merece ser castigado), y (en adición) acaba de pedirte el infierno; es justo que le des lo que pide, pues se lo merece».

Entonces, el atributo de la Misericordia Divina salta de su lugar, para interceder diciendo: “Señor de infinita Misericordia, ¿es justo que aquel que condujo a tantos al paraíso, termine morando en el infierno?”. Entonces, el atributo de la Justicia Divina riposta diciendo: “¿No condujo Moisés a Israel camino a la Tierra prometida? ¿Y no quedo Moisés excluido de ella?”.

Ante tal aseveración, la misericordia Divina queda en silencio. Al ver lo que sucede, el Atributo de la Sabiduría Divina se pone de pie, para decir: «Amo del Universo, tu dijiste por medio de tu siervo Salomón: “No me des pobreza ni riquezas; Manténme del pan necesario[es decir, en todas las cosas, busca el sabio balance]” (Proverbios 30:8). Amo del universo, sé justo en cumplir tus promesas; castigando a tu siervo, y dándole lo que merece y desea; pero haz que tu misericordia sea la corona de tu justicia.

Así, el Padre del Universo ordena a su ángeles que den a su orgulloso profeta la fuerza requerida para tolerar el castigo que merece. Una vez fortalecido, los ángeles proceden a sumergirle en el infierno; pero solo durante un par de segundos. Después que transcurren ese par de segundos, los ángeles le sacan de allí, y le dicen: “Ya se te ha dado [en el infierno] la prominencia que deseabas. ¿Conoces ahora la felicidad? Pero, lo que ha experimentado el profeta durante los dos segundos que estuvo en el infierno, fue tan aterrador y agobiante, que contestará diciendo: “¿Felicidad? ¡Ni siquiera recuerdo el significado de esa palabra!”.

Finalmente, los ángeles llevan el alma del orgulloso profeta de vuelta a su tumba, donde reposa hasta el día de la resurrección. Y, mientras espera, se le permitirá ver a la distancia (como a través de una ventana) a David, caminando junto al Creador por las calles del Paraíso.

Así, el arrepentido profeta esperará con anhelo el día en que sea nuevamente despertado, y pueda decir al Creador: “Amo del Universo, tú tuviste siempre la razón, y yo estuve siempre equivocado, Déjame por favor caminar ahora detrás de ti y de David, por las calles del Paraíso”. Entonces, el Creador responderá diciendo: “YO SÉ LOS PENSAMIENTOS QUE TENGO ACERCA DE VOSOTROS, dice יהוה (Yah), PENSAMIENTOS DE PAZ, Y NO DE MAL, PARA DAROS EL FIN QUE ESPERÁIS... me invocaréis, y vendréis y oraréis a mí, y yo os oiré; y me buscaréis, y me hallaréis, porque me buscaréis de todo vuestro corazón” (Jeremías 29:11-13).

Un maduro, sincero, y honesto consejo tanto para los hermanos Cristianos como Adventistas

Los creyentes Hebreos están comprometidos con ser pacientes y sufridos con sus hermanos y hermanas adventistas. ¿Por que? Pues porque saben que estos últimos se caracterizan por su ciega adoración a las enseñanzas de Pablo [un hombre que, aunque bueno y bien intencionado, reconoce libremente ser atormentado por un demonio, según 2 Corintios 12:7], así como a las enseñanzas de la Sra. de White [una mujer que, aunque buena y con buenas intenciones, tenía tantos problemas intelectuales que nunca pudo terminar su educación básica (escuela primaria)].

Verá usted, el creyente hebreo está muy familiarizado con el hecho de que, cuando hacemos un ídolo de cualquier ser humano, en realidad estamos abrazando la idea de que la palabra de tal ser humano es perfecta e infalible; lo cual es falso, ya que solamente Dios [el Espíritu infinito que ha creado todos los universos] está libre de errores, faltas, y defectos.

Por lo tanto, cuando abrazamos de corazón a algún ídolo humano, estamos en efecto “vendiendo nuestra alma al Diablo”, pues nos comprometemos con creer, apoyar, y promover una mentira. ¿Por qué nos aleja esto tanto de Dios? Pues porque, a partir de ese momento, nuestra suprema confianza ya no estará puesta en lo dictado por el Creador, por su Sagrada Escritura, por la razón, por el sentido común, o por la honestidad; sino que estará en cambio puesta en la opinión de nuestro falso (y viciado) ídolo humano; quien se convertirá en nuestra brújula para discernir entre el bien y el mal; entre lo importante y lo menospreciable; entre lo primario y lo secundario; entre la verdad y el capricho; entre la sabiduría y la necedad; entre lo justo y lo injusto; entre lo moral y lo inmoral. Pero el problema es que, haciendo lo anterior, nos colocamos a nosotros mismos bajo la maldición Divina que advierte diciendo: “Así ha dicho יהוה: Maldito el varón que confía [ciegamente] en el hombre [Moisés, Jesús, Muhammad, Pablo, Elena G. de White, Jose Smith, Charles Taze Russell, etc], y pone carne por su brazo, y su corazón se aparta de יהוה. Será como la retama en el desierto, y no verá cuando viene el bien, sino que morará en los sequeales en el desierto, en tierra despoblada y deshabitada”- Jeremías 17:5-6.

Curiosamente, la Ley Divina (Deuteronomio 28) establece que, uno de los castigos para quien abandona la Ley, así como para quien abraza la idolatría, es volverse loco, ciego, o sufrir de un espíritu turbado (“יהוה te herirá con locura, ceguera y turbación de espíritu”- Deuteronomio 28:28). Por lo tanto, no debe sorprendernos encontrar que Pablo no solamente era funcionalmente ciego, sino que daba visos de locura (“Porque os doy testimonio de que si hubieseis podido, os hubierais sacado vuestros propios ojos para dármelos... ¡Ojalá me toleraseis un poco de locura! Sí, toleradme... Lo que hablo, no lo hablo según el Señor, sino como en locura...”- Gálatas 4:15, 2 Corintios 11:1, & 11:17).

De igual modo, no debe sorprendernos descubrir que la Sra. de White estuviese lo suficientemente turbada de espíritu, como para nunca haber podido culminar [formalmente] su educación primaria. De hecho, esta turbación de espíritu se manifestó en la ironía de que, a pesar de tener tan defectuosas educación, la Sra De White se sintiese cualificada para escribir extensamente acerca de "la correcta educación”.

Y, a pesar de que, con su prédica vegetariana, la Sra De White se proyectó a sí misma como un paladín de la salud, la triste realidad es que la mitad de sus hijos murieron jóvenes, a causa de enfermedad.

Finalmente, no debe sorprendernos el que, en su sincero [pero extraviado] deseo de “cubrir” (o “justificar”) las faltas de sus ídolos humanos, el creyente se esfuerce exageradamente en racionalizar las disparatadas e insensatas ideas que de ellos ha recibido. Pero lo que el creyente falla en percibir, es que en el proceso de convencerse a sí mismos de algo que no es real, comienza lentamente a perder su contacto con la realidad objetiva-- lo cual es en sí mismo el comienzo de locura.

Así, el triste resultado del anterior proceso es que las enfermedades mentales [tales como la depresión maníaca, la disonancia cognitiva y la bi-polaridad] son endémicas entre las diversas sectas cristianas. ¡Que el Todopoderoso muestre misericordia a nuestros hermanos y hermanas adventistas, librándoles de los oscuros y pesados yugos de la idolatría de hombres y mujeres imperfectos. Amén.

Who [or what] do Reformed Samaritans believe the Hebrew God to be?

“And I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, when he lifted up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and swore by Him that liveth for ever...”- Daniel 12:7, JPS 1917 Edition. In the former passage, the Hebrew phrase that we normally translate as “liveth forever” (פְּחַי הָעוֹלָם), can also be [validly] translated as “in the World’s Life”; so that the verse may be alternatively read as: “... and swore by Him that [is] in the World’s Life”.

Thus, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the World (our planet) is a living organism. And the latter might explain the reason why, just as we humans have been commanded to rest every seventh day, so has the Lord commanded us to let the Land rest every seventh year. In fact, not only is our planet alive, but [though almost infinitely large], our whole universe is also alive [so that our galaxy is to the whole universe what a single blood cell is to the whole human body].

And of course, the former relationship keeps repeating itself “ad infinitum”, so that each universe is contained within a far greater universe-- the end result being that, in the infinite, we would end up reaching “the infinite of all infinities”-- a realm so incomprehensible vast, that it would encompass everything else [all of time, all of space, all of energy, all dimensions, all life, all death, all ideas, all wisdom, all possibilities, etc.].

And it is the latter thing what Reformed Samaritans really believe to be the One and true God-- the Supreme Being who is the source of all things; He whose extension no one can ever completely perceive, and therefore speaks to us (small and frail creatures) using His low-level appointed representatives-- Angels, Archangels, Cherubim, Seraphim, Priests, prophets, judges, kings, seers, anointed messengers, apostles, etc.

If you lower yourself to the level of a VAPDOSI person, your religion will be of no avail

No matter if you are Jewish or Christian, Muslim or Samaritan, Buddhist or Zoroastrian, bear in mind that following a particular religion will be a worthless endeavour, unless you also commit to the moral lifestyle that pleases the Almighty.

Why? Because the God of Abraham has promised to punish each man according to his wicked behavior. As it has been said: “AND I WILL PUNISH YOU ACCORDING TO THE FRUIT OF YOUR DOINGS, SAITH THE LORD... and I WILL PUNISH HIM FOR HIS WAYS, AND WILL RECOMPENSE HIM HIS DOINGS... SEEK GOOD, AND NOT EVIL, THAT YE MAY LIVE; and so the LORD, the God of hosts, will be with you, as ye say. HATE THE EVIL, AND LOVE THE GOOD, AND ESTABLISH JUSTICE IN THE GATE; IT MAY BE THAT THE LORD, THE GOD

OF HOSTS, WILL BE GRACIOUS UNTO THE REMNANT OF JOSEPH- Jeremiah 21:14, Hosea 4:9, Amos 5:14-15 (Jewish Publications Society, 1917 edition).

Thus, regardless of the religious tradition you choose to follow, you must make sure to never lower yourself to the level of a “VAPDOSI” human being; otherwise, your religion will be of no avail. What does VAPDOSI mean? Well, it is an acronym that stands for a “Vain, Arrogant, Petulant, Deceptive, Opportunistic, Self-Centered, and Immoral” personality.

Why should you avoid all of the former traits? Because they are the ways of the wicked-- of those whom like Nimrod, The Sodomite king, Pharaoh, and Nebuchadnezzar embrace the worst form of idolatry-- the worship [and exaltation] of their own ego.

You see, the VAPDOSI man embraces a vain and hedonistic lifestyle- acting as if the universe revolves around him [thereby pretending to play the role of God!], and believing the latter exists only to satisfy his own exaggerated ego (providing him with unrestrained pleasures, as well as fulfilling each of his vain needs, passions, and whimsical desires).

And the former is the reason why it has been written: “THE FEAR OF THE LORD IS TO HATE EVIL; PRIDE, AND ARROGANCY, AND THE EVIL WAY, AND THE FROWARD MOUTH, do I hate... WHEN PRIDE COMETH, THEN COMETH SHAME; BUT WITH THE LOWLY IS WISDOM... The integrity of the upright shall guide them; but THE PERVERSENESS OF THE FAITHLESS SHALL DESTROY THEM”- Proverbs 8:13, & 11:2-3 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition). May the Almighty spare us from falling under the power of a VAPDOSI ruler!

«Small minded people will often admire distinguished [yet non animated] objects and things; Average minded people will admire distinguished people [as well as their corresponding political, scientific, and religious establishments]; But Great minded people will instead admire lofty concepts and ideas [prudence, balance, honesty, fidelity, word of honor, dignity, courage, solidarity, holiness, impartial justice, fair judgment, faith, mercy, humility, discipline, moral accountability, etc]»

The three things the Almighty Abhors

Three things the Holy One abhors, and the third one will not go unpunished:

(1) The proud person who [in spite of his questionable moral character], demands to be praised and recognized (“It is not good to eat much honey: so for men to search their own glory is not glory”- Proverbs 25:27, King James Version)

(2) The religious establishment that [while letting it’s people to “celebrate” their “Pride” for been able to openly engage in aberrant sexual behavior], claims to be the exclusive representatives of God’s holy nation (“... this people draw near with their mouth and honor me with their lips, while their hearts are far from me...”- Isaiah 29:13, English Standard Version)

(3) The man who is exceedingly proud and arrogant, so that whenever he is confronted with Divine [and self-evident] truth, stubbornly refuses to embrace it (“He that being often reprov’d hardeneth his neck shall suddenly be broken, and that without remedy”- Proverbs 29:1, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

«Long time ago, the wisest man to ever walk upon the Earth (king Solomon) said the following: “I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it”- Ecclesiastes 3:14, KJB. Thus, the wise and prudent man recognizes the Divine wisdom embodied upon the natural order of things; But the fool deceives himself, thinking he can oppose that Divinely appointed order [creating his own self-serving reality] without having to pay a dire price for such foolish attempt»

The Divine natural order is God’s foremost Law, and the written Torah is just an abridged version of it

Reformed Samaritans believe that there are two sets of Divine Laws; (1) the natural Law, and (2) the written Law. What is the natural Law? It is the infinite and all encompassing Law granted upon mankind at the moment of Creation (in other words, the wisdom displayed through the nature’s divinely appointed order).

And what is the written Law? It is the moral code given unto the Israelite nation at the top of Mount Sinai (the latter being a limited and abbreviated version of the natural Law).

Thus, though written Law (or “Torah”) is regarded as the supreme reference for moral truth, it is the “natural Torah” the one having the final say concerning any subject. In fact, no written Torah interpretation can be allowed to override, contradict, or undermine the objective truths displayed by God’s “natural Torah”.

Whence we know that natural Torah is so paramount, that the Almighty uses it as His measuring stick for judging Israel’s moral standing? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: “Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the Lord hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me. THE OX KNOWETH HIS OWNER, AND THE ASS HIS MASTER’S CRIB: BUT ISRAEL DOTHT NOT KNOW, MY PEOPLE DOTHT NOT CONSIDER. AH SINFUL NATION, A PEOPLE LADEN WITH INIQUITY, A SEED OF EVILDOERS, CHILDREN THAT ARE CORRUPTERS: THEY HAVE FORSAKEN THE LORD, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward- Isaiah 1:2-4, KJB.

And whence we know that wise men also learn from the wisdom of natural Torah? We know it from king Solomon [the wisest of all men!], who went on to say: “IT IS NOT GOOD TO EAT MUCH HONEY: SO FOR MEN TO SEARCH THEIR OWN GLORY IS NOT GLORY... THERE BE FOUR THINGS WHICH ARE LITTLE UPON THE EARTH, BUT THEY ARE EXCEEDING WISE: THE ANTS ARE A PEOPLE NOT STRONG, YET THEY PREPARE THEIR MEAT IN THE SUMMER;

THE CONIES ARE BUT A FEEBLE FOLK, YET MAKE THEY THEIR HOUSES IN THE ROCKS; THE LOCUSTS HAVE NO KING, YET GO THEY FORTH ALL OF THEM BY BANDS; THE SPIDER TAKETH HOLD WITH HER HANDS, AND IS IN KINGS' PALACES"- Proverbs 25:27, & 30:24-28, KJB

Hebrew Scripture states that the nation of Israel doesn't have a monopoly, when it comes to the issue of being God's chosen people

Torah (God's Law) states the following: "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith יְהוָה. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts"- Isaiah 55:8-9.

And the former means that, while human beings often choose [without any moral consideration] whom they want to bestow their benefits upon, the Holy One is far removed from such moral corruption ("they shall justify the righteous, and condemn the wicked [no matter if he be a Hebrew, or a Gentile]"- Deuteronomy 25:1). Why is that so? Because the Almighty shows no questionable bias in favor of the wicked and rebellious.

Thus, when it comes to the issue of who is part of God's chosen people, the Holy One decrees that he who fears and obeys Him [thereby yielding a life of meekness and humility], is a "de facto" member of it. And the latter is true, regardless of the person's race or religion. As it is written:

"Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so יְהוָה, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken [by falsely claiming to be God's holy people]... but to this man will I look [with pleasure], even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word... Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse; A blessing, if ye obey the commandments of יְהוָה your God, which I command you this day: And a curse, if ye will not obey the commandments of יְהוָה your God, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day... Truly God is good to Israel (to which Israel is the Creator good?...), even to such as are of a clean heart"- Amos 5:14, Isaiah 66:2, Deuteronomy 11:26-28, Psalm 73:1.

On the other hand, he who is proud and rebellious against the Creator, isn't part of God's Holy People, regardless of his race or creed. As it is written: «He (the ethnic Israel) who yesterday was my People, has risen up as an enemy... And God said: "Call his name Lo-ammi, because you (the Israelites) are not (anymore) my people, nor I will be your God" ...»- Micah 2:8, Hosea 1:9.

Finally, whence we get that the Holy One retains the option to demote [and even destroy] national Israel, whenever the latter decides to collectively rebels against Him [openly embracing an immoral lifestyle]? We get it from the Law, when it goes on to condemns [to death] the son daring to dishonor his parents («And they shall say unto the elders of his city, “This our son is stubborn and rebellious, he will not obey our voice; he is a glutton, and a drunkard”. And all the men of his city shall stone him with stones, that he die...»- Deuteronomy 21:20-21).

And, since ethnic Israel is called God’s own son (“Thus saith יהוה, Israel is my son, even my firstborn”- Exodus 4:22), whenever Israel blasphemes it’s heavenly Father, it becomes liable to destruction (“And ye shall be left few in number... because thou wouldst not obey the voice of יהוה thy God. And it shall come to pass, that as יהוה rejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you; so יהוה will rejoice over you to destroy you, and to bring you to nought... this people will rise up, and go a whoring... and will forsake me, and break my covenant ... Then my anger shall be kindled against them in that day, and I will forsake them, and I will hide my face from them, and they shall be devoured, and many evils and troubles shall befall them...”- Deut. 28:62-63, 31:16-17).

Finally, whence we get that the Holy may not only exterminate ethnic Israelites, but even replace them altogether? We get it from Torah, when it goes on to say: «... Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and blot out their name from under heaven: and I will make of thee a nation mightier and greater than they»- Deuteronomy 9:14. And it also states elsewhere: «[Concerning the Israelite who says...] “I shall have peace, though I walk in the imagination of mine heart”... יהוה will not spare him, but then the anger of יהוה and his jealousy shall smoke against that man... and יהוה shall blot out his name... And יהוה shall separate him unto evil out of all the tribes of Israel– Deuteronomy 29:19-21, & 9:14.

May the Holy One have mercy of ethnic Israel! Amen.

«Ancient Hebrew faith was worthy and noble, as it consisted of “the worship and glorification of Israel’s holy God”. But as for modern (Rabbinical) Judaism, it’s worthiness is to be questioned. Why? Because, though theoretically impressive, we often find that [in practice] the latter is reduced to “the worship and glorification of Israel” (a similar formulation, yet with the “holy God” part of it now deprecated, so that a upright and moral lifestyle is no longer demanded-- thereby reducing the whole formula to a subtle form of ethnocentrism)»

Are wonders and miracles an irrefutable sign of God’s unconditional approval?

Miracles are no proof of God's approval, as can be learned from the fact that, though God performed a miracle after Moses smote the rock [thereby bringing forth rivers of water], the Almighty wasn't pleased with Moses action, and therefore prevented him from entering into the Land (“And Moses lifted up his hand, and with his rod HE SMOTE THE ROCK TWICE: AND THE WATER CAME OUT ABUNDANTLY, and the congregation drank, and their beasts also. AND THE LORD SPAKE unto Moses and Aaron, BECAUSE YE BELIEVED ME NOT [OBEYING WHAT I HAD COMMANDED, WHICH WAS TO SPEAK UNTO THE ROCK, INSTEAD OF SMITING IT], to sanctify me in the eyes of the children of Israel, THEREFORE YE SHALL NOT BRING THIS CONGREGATION INTO THE LAND WHICH I HAVE GIVEN THEM”- Numbers 20:11-12, KJB). In addition, Christian Scripture goes on to Jesus warning that many of those who do miracles in his name will [in the end] be rejected. Why? Because of their lawless lifestyle. As it has been said: «Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. MANY WILL SAY TO ME IN THAT DAY, “LORD, LORD, HAVE WE NOT PROPHESED IN THY NAME? AND IN THY NAME HAVE CAST OUT DEVILS? AND IN THY NAME DONE MANY WONDERFUL WORKS?” And then will I profess unto them, “I NEVER KNEW YOU: DEPART FROM ME, YE THAT WORK INIQUITY”- Matthew 7:21-23, KJB

Truth be told, the only miracle the Holy One will always approve [no matter in what religious group it chances to happen] is the one that comes about whenever a man [or a woman] changes his mind, and [abandoning his own ego] proceeds to submit to God’s will. Why? Because in that very moment he is given a new heart, thereby becoming a new creature. And that’s what happened to “Naaman”, whom [abandoning his ego], decided to submit to the Divine command given to him thru prophet Elisha.

Thus, as soon as Naaman did the former things, he was given the flesh of a new born-- thereby intimating that he became born again believer!

As it has been said: “And his servants came near, and spake unto him, and said, My father, if the prophet had bid thee do some great thing, wouldest thou not have done it? how much rather then, when he saith to thee, Wash, and be clean? Then went he down, and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: AND HIS FLESH CAME AGAIN LIKE UNTO THE FLESH OF A LITTLE CHILD...”- 2 Kings 5:13-14, KJB

Why are the wicked “above”, while the righteous are “below”?

Why does the Lord allow our world to be ruled by the wicked [and not by the righteous]? Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the answer to the former question has to do with the fact that the Holy one has created two different realms:

- (1) The present physical world, which is “small” (deceptive, arrogant, morally corrupt, and short lived)
- (2) The World to come, which is “BIG” (non-physical, truthful, humble, morally upright, and everlasting)

Thus, it is only fair for the Almighty to allow “small” people (those who are deceptive, arrogant, morally corrupt, and experience a short-lived physical existence) to rule upon the present world. Likewise, it is fair for Him to allow those who are “BIG” (the non-physical and everlasting souls of those who were truthful, humble, and morally upright) to rule upon the World to come.

Curiously, Hebrew tradition seems to agree with the above interpretation, when it goes to say: «Rav Yosef [son of Rabbi Yehoshua ben Levi] became ill and was about to expire [as his spirit flew away]. When his spirit returned to him [by recovering his good health], his father said to him: “What did you see when you were about to die?” He said to him: “I saw an inverted world. Those above, i.e., those who are considered important in this world, were below, insignificant, while those below, i.e., those who are insignificant in this world, were above”. He said to him: “My son, you have seen a clear world. The world you have seen is the true world, as in that world people’s standings befit them...”»- Babylonian Talmud, Pesachim 50a

El Cristianismo es una excelente religión; El problema, es su teología

Estimado Hermano y amigo, el cristianismo es en efecto una excelente religión... El problema con el Cristianismo es su teología; En otras palabras, la triste y vergonzosa pedantería teológica que a menudo se manifiesta en las páginas del Nuevo Testamento. Es que este último cita al apóstol Pablo (paz sea con él) afirmando que, cuando Abraham engendró a Isaac, su cuerpo estaba “como muerto”, siendo de casi cien años de edad. Como esta escrito: “Y no se debilitó en la fe al considerar su cuerpo, que estaba ya COMO MUERTO (siendo de casi cien años...)”- Romanos 4:19.

Para el creyente Cristiano, el anterior pasaje es la infalible e incuestionable palabra de Dios. Pero, para el creyente Hebreo (Judío/Karaita/Samaritano, etc), es prueba de que hay cosas en los Evangelios que, aunque aparentar ser la infalible Palabra de Dios, realmente son la glorificada pedantería de sus autores.

¿Por que? Pues porque la Escritura Hebrea desmiente lo anteriormente dicho por Pablo. ¿Cual dice la Ley que era la verdadera condición del cuerpo de Abraham? ¿Sería acaso cierto que su cuerpo estaba “como muerto”? Para contestar apropiadamente esta pregunta, debemos primero considerar los siguientes hechos:

- 1) La Escritura dice que Abraham era diez años mayor que Sara (“¿A hombre de cien años ha de nacer hijo? ¿Y Sara, ya de noventa años, ha de concebir?”- Génesis 17:17).
- 2) La Escritura dice que Sara murió a la edad de 127 años (“Fue la vida de Sara, 127 años”- Génesis 23:1)
- 3) Finalmente, la Escritura dice que [después de la muerte de Sara], Abraham procede a casarse con una mujer llamada Cetura, con la cual engendra seis hijos adicionales (“Abraham tomo otra mujer, cuyo nombre era Cetura, la cual le dio a luz a Zimram, Jocsán, Medán, Madián, Isbac, y Súa”- Génesis 25:1-2).

Note que, si Abraham era diez años mayor que Sara, entonces al momento de la muerte de Sara, Abraham tenia 137 años de edad. Y si Abraham tuvo luego seis hijos con Cetura, significa que su cuerpo tenia suficiente vida [y virilidad] como para continuar engendrando hijos hasta no menos de los 143 años.

Pero, ¿no dice Pablo que, el cuerpo de Abraham estaba “como muerto”, a los cien años de edad? ¿Como puede un cuerpo que esta muerto a los cien años, engendrar seis hijos a los 143? ¿Cual de los dos miente? ¿Miente la Ley? ¿O Miente el Evangelio?

Obviamente, si la Escritura Hebrea dice una cosa, y el Evangelio dice otra, entonces es el Evangelio el que miente; pues, aún el mismo Jesús reconocía que la Escritura Hebrea no puede ser cuestionada ni quebrantada (“y la Escritura no puede ser quebrantada”– Juan 10:35.

Es nuestra sincera oración que el Creador (bendito sea) tenga misericordia de nuestros amados hermanos cristianos, y les libre del engaño y la mentira que a menudo esclavizan sus mentes. ¡Que la paz del Creador sea con todos ellos! Amen

Torah (God’s Law) teaches that the nations of the World are destined to become equal to Israel

Reformed Samaritanism has it that, when God confused the tongues (back at the tower of Babel) He parted humanity into seventy languages-- each language corresponding to a different nation.

Thus, the believers came to perceive the number seventy as a symbol of all the nations of the World. Curiously, seventy also happens to be the numerical value of the Hebrew letter “Ayin” (“A”); a letter whose literal meaning is “eyes”, or “to see”.

Thus whenever a follower Reformed Samaritanism reads the “Shema Yisrael” (שְׁמַע יִשְׂרָאֵל) (“Hear, O Israel... God is our Lord...”- Deut. 6:4), he is reminded that God “sees” all nations that worship Him as part of His people (His own Israel).

Whence we know it? We know it from the fact that the Shema can be validly read as “Shem-“a”(Ayin) Yisrael...”. And what does the latter mean? It means, “Name (of) 70 (nations of the world) is Israel”.

And the former explains why God promises that, as soon as Israel’s enemies (i.e. Egypt and Assyria) start to worship Him, they become equal to Israel [and even greater!]. As it has been said:

«... THEY [THE EGYPTIANS] WILL TURN TO THE LORD, AND HE WILL RESPOND TO

THEIR PLEAS AND HEAL THEM... The Egyptians and the Assyrians will worship together. IN THAT DAY ISRAEL WILL BE THE THIRD [NOT THE FIRST!], ALONG WITH EGYPT AND ASSYRIA, [and this will be the sign of] a blessing in the midst of the Earth; THE LORD ALMIGHTY WILL BLESS THEM, SAYING: “BLESSED BE EGYPT MY PEOPLE, ASSYRIA THE WORK OF MY HANDS, AND ISRAEL MY INHERITANCE”»- Isaiah 19:22-25.

«No righteous believer can gaze [with admiration] at the face of a wicked man, even if the latter is the most distinguished of all Israelites. Whence we know? We know it from prophet Elisha, who would refuse to gaze at the face of Israel’s wicked king (“And Elisha said unto the king of Israel, What have I to do with thee?... As the Lord of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, surely, were it not that I regard the presence of Jehoshaphat the king of Judah, I would not look toward thee, nor see thee”- 2nd Kings 3:13-14, KJV)»

Sarah and Hagar- God’s paradigm of inclusion and non-discrimination

The Almighty doesn’t discriminate in favor of any nation, race, or creed; but rather judges each one according to his [or her] moral character. Whence we know it? We know it from Sarah and Hagar. You see, Sarah is presented as the spiritual mother of all future Hebrew believers [springing from her son Isaac]; While Hagar is presented as the spiritual mother of all future Muslim believers [springing from her son Ishmael].

And, just as modern Muslims don’t refer to Abraham’s God using the name יהוה [using instead the name “Allah”], so did Hagar refer to God using a different name. What was such name? “El Roi” (the God who sees); as it is written: וַתִּקְרָא שָׁם-יְהוָה הַדֹּבֵר אֵלֶיהָ, אֶת־הָאֵל לֵאמֹר: יְהוָה (‘‘And she called the name of the Lord that spake unto her, Thou God seest (El Roi)...’’- Genesis 16:13.

Curiously, even though Hagar (symbol of the Muslim people) referred to God using a name different from the one used by Sarah (symbol of the Hebrew people), God’s Law states that the Holy One spoke twice to Hagar, but only once to Sarah. More than that! The words spoken to Hagar were words of encouragement. As it has been said:

«And the angel of the Lord said unto her, “I will multiply thy seed exceedingly, that it shall not be numbered for multitude... because the Lord hath heard thy affliction”... “fear not; for God hath heard the voice of the lad where he is. Arise, lift up the lad, and hold him in thine hand; for I will make him a great nation... And God was with the lad”»- Gen. 16:10-11, & 21:17-20

On the other hands, the words spoken to Sarah were words of rebuke. As it is written: “And the Lord said unto Abraham, Wherefore did Sarah laugh, saying, Shall I of a surety bear a child, which am old? Is any thing too hard for the Lord? At the time appointed I will return unto thee, according to the time of life, and Sarah shall have a son. Then Sarah denied, saying, I laughed not; for she was afraid. And he said, Nay; but thou didst laugh”- Gen. 18:13-15.

In short, Moses Law teaches that God’s moral perfection prevents Him from discriminating against [or in favor of] any race, nation, or creed (“He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He”- Deut. 32:4).

Thus, in the eyes of the Almighty, an honest and submissive girl [like Hagar, the Egyptian slave] is far greater than an oppressive and deceptive woman [like Sarai, the Hebrew matriarch].

And the same could be said concerning any other race and/or creed-- That the God of Israel is more pleased with an ignorant [yet honest and morally righteous] Pagan believer, than He is with a wise [yet dishonest and morally corrupt] Hebrew believer.

«Gender ideology - The sexual equivalent of Abraham's Lincoln famous saying concerning dogs; the "off the wall" notion that, if we claim the dog's tail to be instead a leg, we now have a five legged dog-- a new, special, and valuable breed of canines that ought to be forcefully preserved, protected, and promoted... A typical manifestation of the last throes of a decadent [and dying] empire (think of 218 C.E. Rome, during the rule of emperor Elagabalus)»

Why was Adam asked to till the Garden?

Hebrew Scripture states that God's Law was initially revealed in the Hebrew tongue. But Anyone with even a minimal knowledge of the Hebrew knows that this ancient language was a very imprecise, as it contained no vowels, no accents, no periods, no commas, no exclamation signs, no upper case, no question marks, etc. How could Bible's message ever be accurately preserved by means of such an imprecise language?

Can a good sword be made out of bad iron? The answer to this question is that Bible's true message (a life of holiness, where we sow the good we wish to eventually reap) was so simple, and so self-evident, that not even a fool could err from it [so no precise language was ever needed!]. As is written:

«... and it shall be called "The way of holiness"; the unclean shall not pass over it... THE WAYFARING MEN, THOUGH FOOLS, SHALL NOT ERR THEREIN»- Isaiah 35:8. And also in another place: "Turn from evil, and do good [unto your needy and innocent fellow human beings]; so you may live forever"- Psalm 37:27, Tree Of Life Version.

In fact, Hebrew scripture states that, as soon as God created Adam, He placed him in a garden, so he could till the land. As is written: "The Lord God took the man and placed him in the garden of Eden to work it ..."- Genesis 2:15 (Christian standard Bible).

But, why did Adam have to work any land? Didn't he already have the world's food supply at his disposal? The reason was that, the first thing God wanted Adam to learn was that mankind's well being would depend upon it's recognition of the fact that the World works upon the principle of "sowing and reaping" (cause and effect, action and reaction, what goes around, comes around, etc). As is written;

"... Mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands"- Isaiah 65:22; "As you have done, it will be done to you..."- Obadiah 15:15; And also, "... As I have done, so God has repaid me"- Judges 1:7. And finally says, "... The Lord rewards each of us according to what we do"- Psalm 62:12 (C.E.V.). Therefore, although ancient men of God (Enoch, Noah, Job, Abraham, Joseph, etc) had no [Sacred] written scripture, they perfectly knew God's will for their lives. In other words, God's will for Abraham was self evident to him ("For I know him [Abraham], that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment ..."- Gen. 18:19).

And this will was none but to to fear God, living a life of righteousness in which we sow upon our fellow human beings the same goodness we wish to reap for ourselves. It was only after mankind had lost it's capability to understand God's wisdom imprinted upon the divine book of Nature (the law of "sowing and reaping") that the Creator had to start giving mankind an endless amount of written scriptures (Torah, prophets, Psalms, Proverbs, Gospel, Talmud, Qur'an, Sunnah, etc).

In short, God's creation (nature) is His supreme revelation; God's own unchangeable Word, eternally written in the Heavens. As it has been said: "Lord, YOUR WORD IS FOREVER; IT IS FIRMLY FIXED IN HEAVEN"- Psalm 119:89; and, "The heavens declare the glory of God, and THE EXPANSE PROCLAIMS THE WORK OF HIS HANDS"- Psalm 19:1; and finally says, "When I observe your Heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you set in place, what is a human being that you remember him, a son of man that you look after him?"- Psalm 8:3-4.

This Divine revelation is freely available to anyone who would wish to consider it. And any written scripture [or doctrine] that confirm the Divine revelation inprinted in Nature (the law of "sowing and reaping") comes from God; while any scripture [or doctrine] that denies it does not come from God.

Could it be possible for Secular Israel to become a spiritual portrait of Torah's Ha-Satan?

Hebrew Scripture portrays Ha-Satan (the Devil) as a paradigm of he who, though chosen and beloved by the Almighty, is seduced by the glory bestowed upon him [thereby rebelling against the Almighty, seeking instead his own exaltation].

As it has been said: "You were in Eden, the garden of God; every precious stone adorned you: carneian, chrysolite and emerald, topaz, onyx and jasper, lapis lazuli, turquoise and beryl. Your settings and mountings were made of gold; on the day you were created they were prepared. You were anointed as a guardian Cherub, for so I ordained you. You were on the holy mount of God; you walked among the fiery stones. You were blameless in your ways from the day you were created till wickedness was found in you. Through your widespread trade you were filled with violence, and you sinned. So I drove you in disgrace from the mount of God, and I expelled you, guardian cherub, from among the fiery stones. Your heart became proud on account of your beauty, and you corrupted your wisdom because of your splendor. So I threw you to the earth; I made a spectacle of you before kings. By your many sins and dishonest trade you have desecrated your sanctuaries. So I made a fire come out from you, and it consumed you..."- Ezekiel 28:14-18 (New International Version).

In the former passage, notice how the stones therein described were part of the breastplate used by the Hebrew High priest (“And the fourth row a beryl, and an onyx, and a jasper...”- Exodus 28:20). Besides, the term “the holy mount of God”, was commonly used to designate both Jerusalem and the Temple mount (“And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob”- Isaiah 2:3).

In addition, “the fire that comes out” is reminiscent of the fire that came out of the tabernacle [the movable temple] in order to consume Nadab and Abihu, as well as Korah’s assembly (“And there went out fire from the Lord, and devoured them, and they died before the Lord... And there came out a fire from the Lord, and consumed the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense”- Lev. 10:2, & Numbers 16:35).

Finally, the passage says, “you have desecrated your sanctuaries”. And since “sanctuaries” imply two [or more] of them, the sentence could be construed as making reference to the two Hebrew temples that were desecrated [as a punishment for Israel’s rebellion].

Therefore, the allegory of Satan’s spiritual journey [from a chosen and beloved being of light, down into a hated and despised being of darkness] could not only be applied to God’s chosen servants (Noah, Job, Lot, etc), but even unto the Hebrew nation.

In other words, though certainly true that the Nation of Israel nation was appointed to be God’s chosen people, so was Ha-Satan appointed to be God’s chosen Cherubim. Therefore, just as Ha-Satan’s exaltation lasted for as long as he remained faithful, so it is also with Israel-- they’ll keep their exalted position only as long as they remain honest, humble, and submissive to what God had commanded them upon the two stone tablets (the “fiery stones” mentioned by prophet Ezekiel).

But, as soon as pride enters into the Israelites heart [exalting themselves, and embracing open rebellion], God will bring about destruction, replacing them with a new [and more faithful] people.

As it has been said:

«Furthermore the Lord spake unto me, saying, “I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiffnecked people: Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and blot out their name from under heaven: and I will make of thee a nation mightier and greater than they”»- Deut. 9:13-14.

Thus, Torah seems to foretell that a day would come when the nation of Israel would collectively embody Ha-Satan’s paradigm, openly rebelling against the God that had exalted them. How? By shamelessly celebrating gay pride parades in the city where their Holy Temple used to stand.

On that day, the righteous Judge would destroy the nation, letting non-Israelite people become the new representatives of God’s holy people, as well as of the ancient Hebrew religion. May the Almighty have mercy of Israel! Amen.

Perceiving Divine truth is like perceiving the nature of a Indian Elephant

Long ago six old men lived in a village in India. Each was born blind. The other villagers loved the old men and kept them away from harm. Since the blind men could not see the world for themselves, they had to imagine many of its wonders. They listened carefully to the stories told by travelers to learn what they could about life outside the village.

The men were curious about many of the stories they heard, but they were most curious about elephants. They were told that elephants could trample forests, carry huge burdens, and frighten young and old with their loud trumpet calls. But they also knew that the Rajah's daughter rode an elephant when she traveled in her father's kingdom. Would the Rajah let his daughter get near such a dangerous creature?

The old men argued day and night about elephants. "An elephant must be a powerful giant," claimed the first blind man. He had heard stories about elephants being used to clear forests and build roads. "No, you must be wrong," argued the second blind man. "An elephant must be graceful and gentle if a princess is to ride on its back."

"You're wrong! I have heard that an elephant can pierce a man's heart with its terrible horn," said the third blind man.

"Please," said the fourth blind man. "You are all mistaken. An elephant is nothing more than a large sort of cow. You know how people exaggerate."

"I am sure that an elephant is something magical," said the fifth blind man. "That would explain why the Rajah's daughter can travel safely throughout the kingdom."

"I don't believe elephants exist at all," declared the sixth blind man. "I think we are the victims of a cruel joke."

Finally, the villagers grew tired of all the arguments, and they arranged for the curious men to visit the palace of the Rajah to learn the truth about elephants. A young boy from their village was selected to guide the blind men on their journey. The smallest man put his hand on the boy's shoulder. The second blind man put his hand on his friend's shoulder, and so on until all six men were ready to walk safely behind the boy who would lead them to the Rajah's magnificent palace.

When the blind men reached the palace, they were greeted by an old friend from their village who worked as a gardener on the palace grounds. Their friend led them to the courtyard. There stood an elephant. The blind men stepped forward to touch the creature that was the subject of so many arguments.

The first blind man reached out and touched the side of the huge animal. "An elephant is smooth and solid like a wall!" he declared. "It must be very powerful."

The second blind man put his hand on the elephant's limber trunk. "An elephant is like a giant snake," he announced.

The third blind man felt the elephant's pointed tusk. "I was right," he decided. "This creature is as sharp and deadly as a spear."

The fourth blind man touched one of the elephant's four legs. "What we have here," he said, "is an extremely large cow."

The fifth blind man felt the elephant's giant ear. "I believe an elephant is like a huge fan or maybe a magic carpet that can fly over mountains and treetops," he said.

The sixth blind man gave a tug on the elephant's coarse tail. "Why, this is nothing more than a piece of old rope. Dangerous, indeed," he scoffed.

The gardener led his friends to the shade of a tree. "Sit here and rest for the long journey home," he said. "I will bring you some water to drink."

While they waited, the six blind men talked about the elephant.

"An elephant is like a wall," said the first blind man. "Surely we can finally agree on that."

"A wall? An elephant is a giant snake!" answered the second blind man.

"It's a spear, I tell you," insisted the third blind man.

"I'm certain it's a giant cow," said the fourth blind man.

"Magic carpet. There's no doubt," said the fifth blind man.

"Don't you see?" pleaded the sixth blind man. "Someone used a rope to trick us."

Their argument continued and their shouts grew louder and louder.

"Wall!" "Snake!" "Spear!" "Cow!" "Carpet!" "Rope!"

"Stop shouting!" called a very angry voice.

It was the Rajah, awakened from his nap by the noisy argument.

"How can each of you be so certain you are right?" asked the ruler.

The six blind men considered the question. And then, knowing the Rajah to be a very wise man, they decided to say nothing at all.

"The elephant is a very large animal," said the Rajah kindly. "Each man touched only one part.

Perhaps if you put the parts together, you will see the truth. Now, let me finish my nap in peace."

When their friend returned to the garden with the cool water, the six men rested quietly in the shade, thinking about the Rajah's advice.

"He is right," said the first blind man. "To learn the truth, we must put all the parts together. Let's discuss this on the journey home."

The first blind man put his hand on the shoulder of the young boy who would guide them home. The second blind man put a hand on his friend's shoulder, and so on until all six men were ready to travel together.

The true man of God flees from all sort of self-deception

Hebrew Scriptures state the following: "... This is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the Law of the Lord... Lying lips are abomination to the Lord... These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates"- Isaiah 30:9, Proverbs 12:22, Zechariah 8:16.

What does it mean? It means God wants His children to flee from intellectual dishonesty! Why? Because our brain can tolerate only a limited amount of falsehood. And, if we ever try to push it beyond such a limit, it will cease to work properly, no longer being able to tell the difference between fact and fiction. Curiously, Hebrew scripture points toward the fact that the worst [and greatest] of such falsehoods is to pretend that a finite [and mortal] creature can simultaneously be the infinite [and Immortal] Creator.

In other words, forcing the mind to honestly [and logically] harmonize the incredible amount of contradictions implied in pretending that what [by definition] is finite and limited can simultaneously be infinite and unlimited, is akin to throwing a wrench into our brains engine compartment.

And the former might be the reason why God's first and [foremost] command is to believe in one single God that cannot be portrayed by any physical image (“THOU SHALT HAVE NO OTHER GODS BEFORE ME. THOU SHALT NOT MAKE UNTO THEE ANY GRAVEN IMAGE...”- Exodus 20:3-4).

And what will happen to he who refuses to abide by the former command [worshiping either a human deity, or a plurality of deities]? Well, Scripture warns that such person will [eventually] become mad, and will start to suffer from serious mental diseases (“But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments... THE LORD SHALL SMITE THEE WITH MADNESS, and blindness, and astonishment of heart”- Deut. 28:15-28).

And the former might be the reason why, as soon as king Nebuchadnezzar falsely pretended to be worthy of the honor and glory that belongs only to the Most High, he became deranged («To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages, That at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all kinds of musick, ye FALL DOWN AND WORSHIP THE GOLDEN IMAGE THAT NEBUCHADNEZZAR THE KING HATH SET UP... O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken; “The kingdom is departed from thee. And they shall drive thee from men, and THY DWELLING SHALL BE WITH THE BEASTS OF THE FIELD: THEY SHALL MAKE THEE TO EAT GRASS AS OXEN, AND SEVEN TIMES SHALL PASS OVER THEE, until thou know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will...”»- Daniel 3:4, & 4:31-32).

BE KIND AND HUMBLE, BEARING IN MIND THAT,
JUST BECAUSE YOU ARE RIGHT, DOESN'T MEAN
YOU ARE RIGHTEOUS

And the same also happened to king Saul, when he asked prophet Samuel to honor him with a glory he didn't rightfully deserve (“... I have sinned: yet HONOUR ME NOW, I pray thee, BEFORE THE ELDERS OF MY PEOPLE, AND BEFORE ISRAEL... BUT THE SPIRIT OF THE LORD DEPARTED FROM SAUL, AND AN EVIL SPIRIT FROM THE LORD TROUBLED HIM”- 1 Samuel 15:30, & 16:14). Curiously, as the holy gospel quotes Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) making [indirect] claims of Divinity, it is not surprising to find that he is also [indirectly] described as being mad. As is written: “And when his friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, HE IS BESIDE HIMSELF”- Mark 3:21. But then, how should the believer proceed, in order to keep a good state of mind and soul? Well, he'll do well embracing all that is honest, wise, just, merciful, humble, peaceful, and holy [no matter if the latter be found among Jews, Samaritans, Zoroastrians, Christians, Muslims, etc]. Conversely, he ought to reject all that is false, shady, contradictory, unjust, cruel, arrogant, tyrannical, and immoral [no matter if the latter be found among Jews, Samaritans, Zoroastrians, Christians, Muslims, etc].
May God's peace be upon you all!

Henry Herskovitz, the Jewish man protesting for 19 years outside Beth Israel Congregation in Ann Arbor, Michigan

The 76-year-old Holocaust denier who has protested outside a Michigan synagogue nearly every Shabbat for 19 years was born Jewish, attended Hebrew school, had a bar mitzvah and used to attend

High Holiday services at the synagogue he targets.

What began as a protest against Israeli policies has morphed into one that challenges the Jewish state's right to exist and traffics in blatantly antisemitic tropes. The organizer, Henry Herskovitz, holds signs with slogans like "Resist Jewish Power," "No More Holocaust Movies" and "End Jewish Supremacism in Palestine," along with one honoring a man who loved Hitler. Unsuccessful lawsuits The weekly vigil outside an Ann Arbor synagogue building attracted national attention after two congregants sued, accusing the protesters of violating their right to freely exercise their religion. The lawsuits failed. Federal judges ruled that the Constitution protects the protesters' free speech, and ordered the congregants to pay $159,000 in legal fees. The U.S. Supreme Court this spring refused to hear appeals.

But little has been written about the man spearheading the ongoing Shabbat demonstrations. In an interview, Herskovitz said that visits to Iraq, Israel and the West Bank led him not only to abandon Judaism but to believe baseless conspiracy theories implicating Israel for the 9/11 terror attacks and to reject the historical record of the Holocaust.

Herskovitz, in short, blames Jews for antisemitism. "I'm convinced that anti-Jewish sentiment always follows bad Jewish behavior," he said.

When Herskovitz started protesting at the Ann Arbor synagogue nearly two decades ago, his group was called "Jewish Witnesses for Peace and Friends." He said there were as many as 13 Jewish regulars. He said the others have since died. Most weeks, the group Herskovitz now calls "Witness for Peace" includes just himself and a couple of others gathering in front of the synagogue. He has also picketed outside a local Holocaust museum and Jewish Federation office.

Herskovitz said he grew up in the Turtle Creek section of Pittsburgh before moving to the heavily Jewish Squirrel Hill neighborhood, site of the 2018 Tree of Life massacre that killed 11 Jews during Shabbat services.

"My mother wanted my sister to marry a Jew and Turtle Creek had very few Jews," he recalled. "My family and my aunt and her family were the only Jews there." He was bar mitzvahed at Congregation Beth Shalom, a Conservative shul in Squirrel Hill, in 1959.

Herskovitz, who worked as a mechanical engineer for a compressor manufacturer in Michigan before retiring in 2019, cited two experiences that caused him to question what he was brought up to believe about Israel and Jews.

The first was in 2000, when he and a friend decided to fly to Iraq to "take a little tour" to observe the effects of the sanctions that had been imposed by the United Nations Security Council following Iraq's invasion of Kuwait. There, he said, they visited a hospital where families who couldn't afford a nurse were tending to their own children. He saw a father sitting on the bed of his son, a cancer patient.

“The man looked like a terrorist with a dark beard, but then I noticed that he was crying. Then I started crying,” Herzkovitz recalled. “I had been told by the press that these were terrorist people, and I found out that this person was a real human being. It struck me very hard.”

After returning to Michigan, he made a sign that read, “End the Sanctions on Iraq” and held it aloft on an Ann Arbor street corner.

But Herskovitz said 9/11 had an even greater impact on his thinking. He bought into the false claims that Israel had something to do with the Sept. 11th attacks on the World Trade Center and other U.S. targets. And he continued to question what he had been taught about the country. “I asked, ‘What else have I been wrong about?’” he recalled.

Now, Herskovitz said, he believes Israel has no right to exist and that the land between the Jordan River and the Mediterranean belongs to Palestinians, not Jews. He traveled to Tel Aviv in 2002, and said that aboard the plane, a rabbi told him that Palestinians teach their children to hate Jews.

After landing, he said, he went to the West Bank and asked a Palestinian teacher if what the rabbi said was true.

“You can’t teach people to hate, you have to show them,” he recalled her saying. She talked about how Palestinian are made to wait for hours at Israeli military checkpoints in the West Bank, and are often humiliated in front of their children by the soldiers. Herskovitz said her conclusion made sense to him, and he came away agreeing that, as he put it, “hatred is earned, not taught.”

There are three synagogues in Ann Arbor. Herkovitz said he chose to demonstrate every Shabbat outside a building that houses both the Conservative Beth Israel Congregation (as well as another congregation) because he had attended Yom Kippur services there.

“I went there for 15 years and followed the fasting,” he recalled, admitting that he sometimes bought a ticket and sometimes snuck in. “I probably stopped going shortly after the vigil began in 2003.”

Now, Herskovitz said, “I’m out of the faith. It doesn’t appeal to me.”

Instead, Herskovitz said, “I call myself a fledgling Christian and I go to church on Christmas Eve.” On one occasion, he recalled delighting in a live creche in which Joseph was talking on a cellphone. “I thought that was pretty hilarious,” he said.

He could not really explain why the protests have persisted for so many years. He said he initially hoped to change congregants’ minds about their support for Israel. Now, he sees his audience as the entire community. Supporting a Holocaust denier

His supporters have also protested when Israeli groups or speakers come to town or when the local Jewish federation holds its events. On Holocaust Remembrance Day in 2014, they picketed a Holocaust museum with signs saying “Free Ernst Zundel,” author of a book titled “The Hitler We Knew and Loved,” who was jailed in Germany for Holocaust denial and inciting racial hatred. He said he visited Zundel in prison and that his sister was “aghast that I visited him.” (Zundel died in 2017.)

In January, the Ann Arbor City Council for the first time condemned the protests.

Herskovitz said his parents died before he started the protests and that he doesn’t speak with his sister about them.

Asked about the sign decrying Holocaust movies, Herskovitz said: “We’re sick of the movies — the Jews crying out in pain.” Films about the Holocaust, including director Ken Burns’ upcoming documentary for PBS, are a way for Hollywood to manufacture sympathy for Jews, he added.

Herskovitz said he has never spoken with a Holocaust survivor, but has visited Auschwitz and Dachau. Still, he rejects the historical record, and has convinced himself that there were no gas chambers at these or other concentration camps. He said that Hitler never ordered the mass extermination of the Jews of Europe, and that crematoria were only used to dispose of bodies of people that succumbed to overwork, “malnutrition” or disease.

«The Universe teaches us that “the tree can be known by it’s fruit”. In other words, the true nature of any idea (or concept) can be ascertained by it’s resulting yield. Thus, if my religious ideas turn me into an unjust, cruel, arrogant, shameless, and immoral liar, then my religious ideas are worthless. By the same token, if my atheistic ideas turn me into an unjust, cruel, arrogant, shameless, and immoral liar, then my atheistic ideas are equally worthless»

Why is Torah (the Hebrew Bible) so harsh, while the Christian gospel seems to be so soft?

Torah states the following: “Then, if you still refuse to obey me, I will punish you seven times for each of your sins... [and] If you keep rebelling against me, I'll punish you seven times worse (49 times!), just as your sins deserve!... After walking for a day, Jonah warned the people, ‘Forty days from now, Nineveh will be destroyed!’. They believed God's message and set a time when they would go without eating to show their sorrow. Then everyone in the city, no matter who they were, dressed in sackcloth”- Leviticus 26:18 & 21, Jonah 3:4-5 (Contemporary English version).

Curiously, while the God of the Greek Bible (“The New testament”) seems to be a God of love, mercy, and forgiveness, the God of Hebrew Bible (“The Old Testament”) seems to be a harsh, stern, and severe God-- one that is merciless towards the wicked and rebellious.

How do we explain such contradiction? We explain it by realizing that the Greek Bible was aimed at Gentile people (the Greek speaking world), while the Hebrew Bible was aimed at the Hebrew speaking world (Israel).

What’s the difference? The difference is that gentile nations are symbolized by the Ninivites-- whom Jonah could easily move to repentance. Thus, God can bring Gentile people back into the light using just a broken reed of a rebuke (a soft scold).

On the other hand, Hebrew people are hard to submit, as they are extremely stubborn, rebellious, and stiff necked. As is has been said:

“I've been watching the Israelites, and I've seen how stubborn and rebellious they are... I know how stubborn and rebellious you and the rest of the Israelites are. You have rebelled against the Lord while I [Moses] have been alive, and it will only get worse after I am gone... In fact, you've rebelled against the Lord for as long as he has known you!”- Deut. 9:13, 31:27, & 9:24 (Contemporary English version).

Therefore, God had to be equally stern, stubborn and stiff necked against Israelite people, lest the latter came to falsely perceive God's love and mercy as a sign of weakness-- a weakness to be conveniently exploited.

And the former explains why Hebrew Scripture includes harsh and cruel punishments toward the Israelites-- punishments nowhere to be found in the pages of "the New Testament"-- Things like, "Death is the punishment for witchcraft... If any of you men have sex with another man's wife, both you and the woman will be put to death... Death is the punishment for cursing your father or mother... It's disgusting for men to have sex with one another, and those who do will be put to death, just as they deserve Exodus 22:18, Leviticus 20:10, Exodus 21:17, Leviticus 20:13.

Can it be safely assumed that modern day Israelites may simply ignore such Scriptures, going on as if they have never existed? Of course not! You see, God's Law is likened to the heavens ("Our Lord, you are eternal! Your Word will last as long as the heavens"- Psalm 119:89), meaning that it will remain forevermore.

Thus, though the Holy One expected Israelite leaders to exact punishment for Israel's rebellions, should they refuse to do so, God has no problem making His word come true by other means. How? Dispensing it by means of Israel's enemies (Communists, White Supremacy groups, Anti-semites, Muslim radicals, Christian fundamentalists, Nazi leaders, etc).

May the Almighty have mercy of all Israel! Amen

What does Reformed Samaritanism say about the Adventist religion?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that both Judaism, Christianity, and Islam [among many others] are perfectly valid ways to serve the Creator (blessed be He). But as for the Adventist religion, the fact remains that it's doctrine is [for the most part] the product of a good and well intended woman (Mrs. Ellen G. White-- may peace be upon her). Sadly, the latter was a sick and functionally illiterate person.

Curiously, the ego of this otherwise plain and simple woman was so big that she felt no shame in pretending to outsmart [as well as undermine] the clear and common sense teachings spanning both Hebrew, Christian, and Muslim Scriptures.

How did she go about it? She made all sort of bold and daring allegations-- some of which are the following:

- 1) that meat consumption was bad,
- 2) that there was no such thing as an eternal (non-physical) soul,
- 3) that life stops as soon as the body dies,
- 4) that there's no heavenly paradise [as paradise is just the limited material world where we currently reside, only that it will be somehow "renewed"],
- 5) that there's no hell,
- 6) that wicked people will never be force to reap the same evil they have bestowed upon their innocent fellow human beings, etc.

Sadly, the result of having a sick, deluded, vain, and arrogant female leader interpreting Scripture as if she were smarter [and more righteous] than any ancient Bible writer, is that many Adventist believers have developed an obsession to escape bible reality. How? By claiming that Bible's real message is what their arrogant leader taught them to be, and that anything else is necessarily a sinful [and ignorant] deviation.

Curiously, the former is a sort of double myopia that not only prevents the Adventist believers from seeing themselves as they really are, but also pushes them into viewing everybody else thru the lenses of Mrs. White doctrinal reductionism, and not as they really are.

No wonder Hebrew Scripture states that, whenever God's people lack moral wisdom, they go astray from the path of righteousness, so that women and children (in other words, the weak and the illiterate) end up becoming their [ideological] "rulers". As it has been said:

"As for my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. O my people, they which lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths"- Isaiah 3:12, King James Bible. May the Almighty grant wisdom and guidance to our Adventist brothers and sisters! Amen

The role of Secular Jews in the Global push for moral corruption

Sadly, the fate of Western civilization is in the hands of a small [but incredibly powerful] elite of Secular Jews controlling global politics, media, banking, and economics. And, as too much power will always lead to moral corruption, it shouldn't surprise us to find that these Marxist Jews are so shamelessly deceptive [and degenerated] that, any country refusing to embrace their Zionist gospel of Fraud, Usury, Racial supremacy, Cultural Marxism, Atheism, Moral relativism, and LGBTQ life, is immediately branded by them as "backward" [and therefore evil].

Do you know communism was invented by Karl Marx, a secular Jew whose maternal grandfather was a Dutch Rabbi? Do you know China's current gay pride parade is the direct result of the effort done by a secular Jewish woman named Hannah Miller? Do you know the modern founder of "The Satanic Church" was a secular Jew named Howard Stanton Levy? Do you know that the first sex change clinic was run by a secular Jew named Dr. Magnus Hirschfeld (who, by the way, coined the term "transvestite" in 1910)? Do you know that in 1931 a secular Jewish doctor named Ludwig Levy-Lenz performed the first sex change operation (a penectomy)?

Do you know that the first man to undergo a male-to-female sex change procedure was a secular Jew named "Dora" (Rudolph) Richter? Do you know that the term "Homophobia" [the modern battle cry for Lesbians and homosexuals] was coined in the late 1960's by a secular Jewish doctor named George Weinberg? Did you know that the only president the American Atheists association ever had to fire was a secular Jew named David Silverman? In short, just as a pious [and God fearing] Jew can become the living incarnation of a true son of God, likewise can a secular Jew [when it comes to moral corruption and degeneracy] become the living incarnation of a true son of Ha-Satan. And ancient Jewish tradition tends to agree with the former, when it goes on to state the following: «It has been said that this people is like dust (“Your seed will be like the dust of the Earth” - Gen. 28:14); And [also] it has been said that it is like the stars (“I will multiply your seed like the stars of Heaven” - Gen. 22:17) ». And the former means that, when they are vile, the Jews go down to the very dust (in other words, they behave like filthy worms); but, when they are Noble, they reach up to the stars (behaving like the angels of heaven)- Babylonian Talmud, Megillah 16a.

The fraud of the Hebrew Roots Movement: The false dichotomy of the Greek “Jesus” versus the [allegedly] Hebrew figure of “Yeshua”

“The fact that you insist upon saying that the cat's tail is not really a tail, but rather a leg, won't make the cat have five legs, nor will make him run faster. Why? Because our subjective opinions have no real effect upon the objective facts”

The noble Nazarene faith is a modern branch of good old evangelical Christianity; one that supposedly aims at rescuing the Jewish perspective of the original Christian faith. You see, according to the Nazarenes, the original faith in the Galilean has been paganized by centuries of Greco-Roman influence. And what is the problem with wanting to restore the noble Christian faith? Well none... other than it overlooks the fact that switching from the old (and Roman friendly) “Jesus the Messiah” to the new (and Hebrew friendly) “Yeshua Ha Mashiah” does not solve the problem of Jesus vicarious sacrifice [as well as his alleged Messianism]. Likewise, by calling “B'rit Ha Dashah” the book which the Romans call “the New Testament” does not resolve the many [and numerous] contradictions contained in such book.

Finally, calling “Rav Shaul” the man whom the Romans call “the Apostle Paul” doesn't solve the problem of the dubious and incoherent theology outlined by the latter.

The problem is that both the theological perspective concerning “Jesus” [who allegedly represents the Messiah of Roman Christianity], as well as the theological perspective concerning “Yeshua” [who allegedly represents the Messiah of the Nazarenes], are wrong and deceptive. Why? Because both of them embody a pagan conception of the Hebrew faith originally revealed by the God of Israel. What does such a pagan conception consist of?-- In the belief that the Eternal God is pleased with some human sacrifice; as well as the belief that some man can be perfect enough to die in the place of another man.

You see, both the Roman “Jesus” as well as the Nazarene “Yeshua” claim to have been men without sin, and therefore capable of dying for the sins of other men. Again, this is nothing but false paganism, as Hebrew scripture teaches that God not only abhors human sacrifices, but accepting them has not even occurred to him; as it is written- «And they built high places to Baal, to burn their children with fire in holocausts to Baal himself; THING THAT I DIDN'T COMMAND THEM, NOR SPOKE, NOR CAME TO MY THOUGHT»- Jeremiah 19:5.

In addition, Hebrew Scriptures always taught that there is not [nor will ever be] a man who does only good, without ever sinning; as it is written- “SURELY THERE IS NO RIGHTEOUS MAN ON EARTH WHO DOES (ONLY) GOOD, AND NEVER SINS”- Ecclesiastes 7:20.

Finally, Hebrew Scriptures always taught that no one would die for someone else's sin; but each one would die for his own wickedness; as it has been said: «but that EACH ONE SHALL DIE FOR HIS OWN EVIL... »- Jeremiah 31:30.

Which view is true and correct? Creation? Or evolution?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Divine truth rarely settles itself upon any extreme, absolute, radical, or inflexible standpoint; rather, it is most often found in the healthy balance of diametrically opposed views.

As for the issue of “Evolution versus Creation”, Torah hints at the fact that truth is to be found in the middle of the road position. In other words, it seems like God did allow most things to evolve-- being directly created by either the Earth or the Waters--.

As it is written: “And the Earth [not God, but the Earth itself] brought forth grass, herb yielding seed after its kind, and tree bearing fruit, wherein is the seed thereof, after its kind”- Genesis 1:12, JPS. And also says, “... Let the waters [not God, but the waters themselves] bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven”- Genesis 1:26, KJV.

But when it came to man’s creation, God decided to partner with both of the former, in order to include a Divine component the latter could not furnish by themselves (a non-physical, self-conscious, and morally-aware spirit). As it is written:

“And God said, Let us [meaning He, as well as the Earth and the Waters] make man in our image, after our likeness”- Genesis 1:26, KJV. And that’s why human likeness includes not only earthly and watery components (i.e., the flesh and the blood), but also a Divine (non-physical) component-- the spiritual soul.

God's true Messiah is finally revealed

The Christian doctrine of “salvation by faith in Jesus atoning sacrifice” is a noble and beautiful idea, but when closely examined, it is found to be a fancy way of talking us into accepting what might reasonably be compared to “an ideological straight jacket”; one that could be summarized as follows: «Without accepting the justification that comes by faith in Jesus sacrifice [and Lordship], you can't do any good worthy of God's favor. Why? Simply because “all our righteousness is like filthy rags” (Isaiah 64:6)».

What's the problem with this otherwise logical idea? Well, the problem is that it is an “off the wall” interpretation of God's message to Israel.

Why? Well, because Hebrew Scripture speaks of a Persian king named Cyrus, who decided to perform one exceptional act of righteousness- to help exiled Hebrew people rebuild their ruined Temple (2 Chronicles 36:23).

And, although Cyrus [who was most likely a Zoroastrian, and definitely not a Christian believer] never appears as formally embracing the Hebrew faith, God was so pleased with him that, by means of prophet Isaiah, went on to say the following:

“Thus saith the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him; and I will loose the loins of kings, to open before him the two leaved gates; and the gates shall not be shut. I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight: I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron: And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I, the Lord, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel”- Isaiah 45:1-3, KJV.

In the former passage, the Hebrew phrase translated as, “Thus saith the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus...”, literally means, “Thus saith יהוה (the Lord) to HIS MESSIAH, to Cyrus...”.

Thus, the verse teaches God is pleased with the person who does good, even if (like Cyrus) such person is a pagan.

There's More! It also suggests that, no matter if Hebrew or Pagan, he who helps us “rebuild our ruined temple” [in other words, helps us mend our broken relationship with God] thereby becomes God's own Messiah.

And the latter might explain why Scripture claims that, the moment someone moves us to abandon evil, in that very moment the Redeemer (or Messiah) has arrived unto our lives. As it has been said: “And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and [unto whom shall the Redeemer come?]. . . . unto them that turn [away] from transgression in Jacob, saith יהוה”- Isaiah 59:20, KJV.

In short, if Jesus is the man who brings you back to God [in sincere repentance], and helps you walk the path of obedience to God's commandments, then Jesus is [by association] your own personal messiah. But if such person is instead Muhammad, then Muhammad is your personal Messiah. In our case, most Reformed Samaritans consider Moses to be God's supreme anointed and deliverer.

Embrace all the goodness Western culture can offer you, but beware of it's sick and schizophrenic absolutism. You see, if nobody opposes the latter madness, the day will come when Western ideologues will have the audacity to forbid us from buying healthy food, alleging such a thing brazenly discriminates against junk food manufacturers [whom, according to their deranged ideology, have the absolute right to demand that their products be equally accepted]...

Torah commands mass communication media to be placed in the hands of the holy, and the righteous

In the book of Numbers, we are told that the silver trumpets are God's own way of mass communication ("Make thee two trumpets of silver; of beaten work shalt thou make them; and they shall be unto thee for the calling of the congregation, and for causing the camps to set forward"- Numbers 10:2, JPS 1917 Edition).

In addition, we are told that the priest [and the Levites] ought to be in charge of such trumpets ("And the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall blow with the trumpets..."- Numbers 10:8). Why does Torah highlight such particular detail? What moral message is the Holy One trying to convey? The message is that, given the rallying power of mass media, the latter ought to be controlled by respectable people (Holy, wise, truthful, and God fearing men). And the same is true for anyone wishing to hold a prominent position among God's people.

As it has been said: "Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating unjust gain; and place such over them, to be rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens"- Exodus 18:21 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

Beware of dogmatic absolutism!

Both ideological absolutism and theological reductionism are telltale signs of a Hebrew believer still lacking basic Torah understanding. Why? Because the latter encourages us to constantly strive to achieve the healthy balanced position. And the former idea might be surmised from the following story:

«A certain sage was holding a religious service along with some of his disciples. When the turn came for one of latter to stand up and make a prayer, he took long enough for the rest of the disciples to make the following complaint: "Master, this guy is such a long-winded fellow!", to which the sage replied: "Did he pray longer than our master Moses, who prayed for 40 days and forty nights? (Deut. 9:25)". Another time, the same disciple made a very shortened prayer, and his peers complained saying: "Master, what an abbreviator this fellow is!" To which the sage replied: "Was his request shorter than the one made by our master Moses, whose prayer for Miriam was limited to: “Heal her now, O God, I beseech thee” (Numbers 12:13)?»

Is Reformed Samaritanism a “made-up” religion?

Our dear brothers and sisters: if you are humble, hate evil, and love to do the goodness that pleases the Almighty, then you are our spiritual brothers and sisters [regardless of your creed, or nationality]. But if you love falsehood, and enjoy doing the wickedness that blasphemes Ha-Shem's name, then you cannot be our brothers, as Hebrew Scripture goes on to say: “Shouldest thou help the wicked, and love them that hate the LORD? for this thing wrath is upon thee from before the LORD” - 2 Chronicles 19:2 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

Now, concerning whether reformed Samaritanism is a Divinely approved path to serve the Almighty, suffice to say the former teaches that the Holy One (Adonay Yah, blessed be He) wants us to pursue a life characterized by impartial justice (punishing the guilty, and rewarding the innocent), as well as truthfulness, mercy, and humility.

As it is written: “He [God] has declared unto thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requires of thee? Only to do right judgment, and to love mercy, and to humble thyself to walk with thy God” - Micah 6:8, Jubilee 2000 Bible.

In addition, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that “The tree, can be known by it’s fruit”. Thus, it follows that everlasting life is the result of pursuing a life of peace and brotherly love with our needy and innocent fellow human beings.

And the former is attested by the Psalm that goes on to say: “Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!...” (Psalm 133:1, Jubilee Bible 2000). And what does the end of the Psalm promise to be the reward for those living in peace? “... for there the LORD commands blessing, and eternal life” (Psalm 133:3).

In addition, Reformed Samaritanism states that the Holy One is a God of mercy and truthfulness («And the LORD passed by before him [Moses], and proclaimed: “The LORD, the LORD, God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth”»- Exodus 34:6). Therefore, God loves mercy, peace, goodness, and truth-- blessing all who live and proclaim the latter. As it has been said: «And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah; and he wrought that which was good and right and faithful before the LORD his God. And in every work that he began in the service of the house of God, and in the Law, and in the commandments, to seek his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered... These are the things that ye shall do: “Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates and let none of you devise evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and love no false oath; for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD”»- 2 Chronicles 31:20-21, Zechariah 8:16-17, JPS 1917 Edition).

Thus, Reformed Samaritans believe that “truth is truth, no matters who says it, nor where could it be found (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Samaritanism, etc)”.

Finally, Reformed Samaritanism is a call to incarnate the sort of holy and humble inclusiveness that pleases the Almighty. How? Again, by extending brotherly love towards all and any religious practice whose aim is to promote the ethical monotheism revealed to our master Moses (in other words, a lifestyle of justice, mercy, peace, honesty, humility, and obedience to the moral principles given upon the two stone tablets).

What are some of these religious practices? Among them, you will find the followings:

To praise God on a daily basis; to bless Him [with raised hands] aloud, using passages of the holy Scripture; to bow down [to the ground] during prayer; to take off our shoes while performing the religious service; to wear chaste and modest attires; to keep male and female properly separated from one another; to have word of honor; And to stay away from usury, from falsehood, from pride, and from open sexual perversion (same sex marriages, Gay Pride Parades, cross dressing, sex change surgery, etc.). May God's peace be upon you!

If my ideology turns me into a wicked, cruel, arrogant, and immoral person, then my ideology is worthless

The world is bad enough in it's present state. Thus, no matter if it be a religious, a secular, a scientific, a social, or a political ideology; if it makes you unjust, cruel, ungrateful, or prideful, then such ideology is worthless.

And the former might be the reason why God's Law goes on to say the following:

«It hath been told thee, O man, what is good, and what the LORD doth require of thee: only to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God... And the children of Israel remembered not the LORD their God, who had delivered them out of the hand of all their enemies on every side; neither showed they kindness... Do ye thus requite the LORD, O [ungrateful] foolish people and unwise? Is not He thy father that hath gotten thee?... Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD...»- Micah 6:8, Judges 8:34-35, Deut. 32:6, Proverbs 16:5 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

In the eyes of the Almighty, there are no Jews nor Gentiles; only Law abiding and non Law abiding people

If we were to be brutally honest, we would be forced to acknowledge that, in the eyes of the Most High, there are no Jews nor Gentiles; only Torah observant and non Torah observant people.

You see, the Holy One (blessed be He) declares no creature unfit, but receives any man who study Torah (God's Law), and keeps His commandments (Jew, Samaritan, Christian, and Muslim alike).

Whence we know it? From Scripture, when it states that the high priest had the right to stand before The Holy One's glory [at the holy of holies, during the day of atonement].

And what is the proof that even a gentile who keeps Torah is like a High priest? The Scripture that goes on to say: "With which if a man occupy himself, he shall live by them" (Lev. 18:5). Notice that the former verse does not say "A priest, a Levite, an Israelite", but "A man". Hence you may infer that even a non-Jew (a Christian, or a Muslim) who occupies himself with Torah is like a High priest. Another proof for it? The verse that goes on to say, “This is the Torah of man, Oh Lord God” (2 Sam. 7:19)... Not “of priest, Levites, or Israelis”, but “of man”. Scripture also says, “Open ye gates, that the righteous Gentile... may come in (Isaiah 26:2)- Not that “priest, Levites, or Israeli may come in”, but that “the righteous Gentile who keeps the faith may come in”.

Scripture also says, “This is the gate of the Lord; the righteous shall enter it” (Psalm 118:20)”- not “priests, Levites, or Israelis shall enter it”, but “the righteous shall enter it” (Jew and Gentile alike). Scripture also says “Rejoice in the Lord, oh ye righteous” (Psalm 33:1)- not “Rejoice, oh ye priests, Levites, and Israelis”, but “Rejoice... oh ye righteous” (Jews and Gentiles alike).

Scripture also says, “Do good, oh Lord, unto the good” (Psalm 125:4)- not “to priest, Levites, and Israelis”, but “Do good, oh Lord, unto the good” (Jew and Gentile alike). Thus, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that even a gentile (Christian, Muslim, Buddhist, etc) who keeps the Torah (its’ commandments) is like a High priest (worthy of standing before the Holy Presence!).

Business

BlackRock to Push Companies on Racial Diversity in 2021

Sajjel Kishan
December 10, 2020, 6:01 AM GMT+1 Updated on December 10, 2020, 4:06 PM GMT+1

- ▶ The firm also will press on climate, lobbying-related issues
- ▶ Fink has put sustainability at center of investment strategy

LISTEN TO ARTICLE
▶ 3:51

SHARE THIS ARTICLE
 Share
 Tweet
 Post
 Email

In this article

BLACKROCK INC
79031
▲ +5.38 +0.84%

BlackRock Inc., the world's largest asset manager, plans to next year push companies for greater ethnic and gender diversity for their boards and workforces, and says it will vote against directors who fail to act.

The money manager, which oversees more than $7.8 trillion of assets, is asking U.S. companies to disclose the racial, ethnic and gender makeup of their employees – data known as EEO-1 – as well as measures they’re taking to advance diversity and inclusion, according to a stewardship report released Thursday.

“We are raising our expectations,” New York-based BlackRock said in the report. “An inclusive, diverse and engaged workforce contributes to business continuity, innovation, and long-term value creation.”

Key people	Larry Fink (Chairman and CEO) Bob Kapito (President)	BlackRock was founded in 1988 by Larry Fink, Robert S. Kapito, Susan Wagner, Barbara Novick, Ben Golub, Hugh Frater, Ralph Schlosstein, and Keith Anderson ^[9] to provide institutional clients with asset management services from a risk management perspective. ^[10] Fink, Kapito, Golub and Novick had worked together at First Boston,
-------------------	---	---

Born into a Jewish family,^{[9][10]} Kapito earned an MBA from Harvard Business School in Boston, Fink was born on November 2, 1952.^{[9][10]} He grew up in a Jewish family.^[7] Susan was born in 1961 in Chicago, Illinois, United States into a Jewish family. She did her BA in English and Economics with honors from the

Fink Kapito Novick Golub Wagner Schlosstein

What is the holy faith of Reformed Samaritanism? What are their theological tenets?

Reformed Samaritanism is a call to return to the ancient path; to go back to the simple faith originally revealed by God to all mankind. Such faith can be summarized as follows: “No God, King, Judge, nor Savior is greater than יהוה (Adonai Yah, blessed be He); no prophet, messenger, or teacher is greater than our master Moses (peace be upon him); and no theology is greater [nor more just and coherent] than ‘measure for measure’ (or ‘sowing and reaping’)- rewarding everyone with the same goodness [or evil] he has voluntarily sowed”.

As for theology, Reformed Samaritan theology includes the following set of no-nonsense, down-to-Earth tenets:

(1) That the rational and infinite nature of our physical universe bears witness to the glory and wisdom of the rational [and infinite] GOD who is behind it (“The heavens declare the glory of God, and the expanse proclaims the work of his hands. Day after day they pour out speech; night after night they communicate knowledge.... Who put wisdom in the heart, or gave the mind understanding? Who has the wisdom to number the clouds...? Or who can tilt the water jars of heaven...?” - Psalm 19:1-2, & Job 38:36-37, Christian Standard Bible),

(2) That this Creator is the God worshiped by the ancient Hebrew people; the God of Abraham, who delivered Israel from the Egyptian bondage, and whose name is spelled יהוה (“YAH”, “ADONAI”, or “The LORD”). As it is written: “Sing unto God, sing psalms unto his name; extol him that rides upon the heavens by his name Yah... And when Abram was ninety-nine years old, The Lord appeared to Abram and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me and be thou (morally) perfect ... I am The Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt out of the house of slavery. Thou shalt have no other gods before me” - Psalm 68:4, Genesis 17:1, & Exodus 20:2-3, Jubilee 2000 Bible.

(3) “Yah” is the only Deity; He is almighty; He is mankind’s only refuge; and He is no man. Therefore, He has no father, no son, no brother, and no physical image. As it is written: «and [Israel] said unto Joseph, “For thou art great and doest wondrous things; thou alone art God... God almighty appeared unto me at Luz in the land of Canaan and blessed me” ... The Lord of the hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge ... for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee... Thus saith The Lord (יהוה) the King of Israel and his redeemer, the Lord (יהוה) of the hosts; “I am the first (as I have no father), and I am the last (as I have no son); and, beside me, there is no God (for I have no brother)” ... See now that I, I am He, and there are no gods with me (as there is no other being within me who can rightfully claim to share my divinity)... Diligently guard, therefore, your souls, for ye saw no manner of likeness on the day that the Lord spoke unto you in Horeb of the midst of the fire, lest ye corrupt yourselves and make yourselves a graven image, the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female”»- Psalm 86:10, Genesis 48:3, Psalm 46:7, Hosea 11:9, Isaiah 44:6, Deut. 32:39, Deut. 4:15-16, Jubilee Bible 2000.

(4) Not only is יהוה the Supreme Savior (“I, even I, am יהוה , and besides me there is no savior”- Isaiah 43:11), but He also is morally perfect (“He is the Rock, His work is perfect; for all His ways are judgment, a God of truth and without iniquity; just and right is He”- Deut. 32:4, 21st Century King James Bible).

(5) Yah judges mankind with perfect justice, letting everyone reap the same goodness [or evil] he has voluntarily sowed (“Therefore listen to me, you men of understanding. It is impossible for God to do wrong, and for the Almighty to act unjustly. for He repays a person according to his deeds, and He gives him what his conduct deserves. Indeed, it is true that God does not act wickedly and the Almighty does not pervert justice”- Job 34:10-12, Christian Standard Bible).

(6) In the end, God will bestow goodness upon those who do good; and He will likewise bestow evil upon those who have done evil (no matter if they call themselves Jews, Samaritans, Christians, or Muslims). As it is written: “Do good, o Lord, unto those that are good... upon the wicked He shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and a horrible tempest: this shall be the portion of their cup”- Psalm 125:4, & 11:6- 21st Century King James Bible.

(7) That the goodness we ought to perform has been concisely summarized in the Ten “sayings” (or commandments) comprising God’s covenant with those who represent Abraham’s spiritual seed. As it is written: “All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep His covenant... And He declared unto you His covenant, which He commanded you to perform, even ten commandments; and He wrote them upon two tablets of stone”- Psalm 25:10 (Jubilee 2000 Bible), & Deut. 4:13 (21st Century King James Bible).

(8) That, since God is morally perfect, His favor doesn’t depend upon a person’s ethnicity, but rather upon the purity of his heart. As it is written: “truly God is good to Israel (to which Israel?)- to those who are pure in heart”- Psalm 73:1, English Standard Version Bible.

Thus, the Israel alluded in the Hebrew Bible represents God’s paradigm of His true people: anyone who will exalt the God of Abraham, doing the good ordained in His commandments [no matter if such person is an Israeli, an Egyptian, or and Assyrian]. As it has been written: “For the Lord of the hosts shall bless them, saying, blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel my inheritance”- Isaiah 19:25, Jubilee Bible 2000.

(9) Although יהוה has raised many prophets and messengers (Jesus, Muhammad, Martin Luther-peace be upon them all) so as to enjoin the nations of the World to make peace with their Creator, God has set apart Moses, making him mankind’s supreme spiritual guide; the divine instructor who, by means of the parables and allegories contained in his Law, can teach us the most exalted way to observe [and understand] God’s covenant. Thus, although the Samaritan believer is free to recognize the teachings of Jesus, Muhammad, or any other prophet (peace be upon them all), if he wants to obtain maximum blessings, he will do well believing [and obeying] what our master Moses wrote in The Five Books of The Law.

As it is written: «Thou didst lead thy people like a flock by the hand of Moses ... if there is a prophet among you, I the Lord will make myself known unto him in a vision and will speak unto him in dreams. My slave Moses is not so, who is faithful in all my house. With him I will speak mouth to mouth and by sight, not by enigmas; he shall see the similitude of the Lord. Why then were ye not afraid to speak against my slave Moses? ... And the Lord said unto Moses, “Lo, I come unto thee in a thick cloud, that the people may hear when I speak with thee, and believe thee for ever”... this book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth, but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein. For then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success»- Psalm 77:20, Numbers 12:6-8, Exodus 19:9, & Joshua 1:8, 21st Century King James Bible).

(10) If a man sins against Yah [or against his fellow human being], he can always make confession and restitution, asking God for forgiveness. How? By offering the sacrifice of a humble and contrite heart (“... When a man or woman shall commit any sin that men commit, to do a trespass against the Lord, and that person is guilty, then they shall confess their sin which they have done, and he shall recompense his guilt with the principal thereof... If a person commits a sin, a trespass against the Lord, and denies unto his neighbour that which was delivered unto him to keep or left in his hand, or in a thing stolen, or has slandered his neighbour... in any of all these in which a man can sin... he shall restore that which he stole... the sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, o God, thou wilt not despise.... if my people, upon whom my name is invoked, shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then i will hear from the heavens and will forgive their sin and will heal their land"- Numbers 5:6-7, Leviticus 6:2-4, Psalm 51:17, 2 Chronicles 7:14, Jubilee Bible 2000).

(11) God's true religion is "results oriented". As it is written: "Depart from evil and do good; and you will dwell forever [securely]... for I desired mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings... But let him who glories glory in this: that he understands and knows Me [personally and practically, directly discerning and recognizing My character], that I am the Lord, Who practices loving-kindness, judgment, and righteousness in the earth, for in these things I delight, says the Lord ... all has been heard; the end of the matter is: fear God [revere and worship him, knowing that He is] and keep His commandments, for this is the whole of man [the full, original purpose of his creation, the object of god's providence, the root of character, the foundation of all happiness, the adjustment to all inharmonious circumstances and conditions under the sun] and the whole [duty] for every man... seek that which is good, and not that which is evil that ye may live; and so the Lord, the God of the hosts, shall be with you..."- Psalm 37:27 (Amplified Bible), Hosea 6:6 (Jubilee 2000 Bible), Jeremiah 9:24 (Amplified Bible), Ecclesiastes 12:13 (Amplified Bible), Amos 5:14 (Jubilee Bible 2000).

(12) Therefore, God's ultimate will for our lives isn't to have "the correct Messiah"; to have "the correct theological interpretation"; to embrace "the correct religion"; to follow "the correct prophet"; to live in "the correct city" in "the correct land"; to worship inside "the correct temple"; to be part of "the correct people and/or culture"; or to speak "the correct language".

God's ultimate will is that we renounce to our own agendas, in order to let the Creator "sit upon the throne of our hearts"; to let Him make us "a sap of His Garden" [placing our lives in His hands, and under His personal care], so we may yield "the good fruit" [or "lifestyle"] that will not only praise Him and bless our fellow human beings, but also bring us peace and Life everlasting.

As it is said: "Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in the mountain of thy holiness? He that walks in integrity and works righteousness, and speaks the truth in his heart. He that does not backbite with his tongue nor do evil to his neighbour, nor take up a reproach against his neighbour. In whose eyes the vile person is not esteemed; but he honours those that fear the Lord. He that swears to his own hurt, and does not change. He that does not put out his money to usury, nor take a bribe against the innocent. He that does these things shall never be moved"- Psalm 15:1-5.

In short, God wants to guide us towards a life characterized by justice (punishing the guilty, and rewarding the innocent), mercy, and humility. As it is written: "He [God] has declared unto thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requires of thee? Only to do right judgment, and to love mercy, and to humble thyself to walk with thy God"- Micah 6:8, Jubilee 2000 Bible.

And the fact that everlasting life is the reward of living in peace and brotherly love with our innocent neighbors is attested by the psalm that goes on to say: "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!...” (Psalm 133:1, Jubilee Bible 2000). And what does the end of the psalm promise to be the reward for those living in peace? “... for there the LORD commands blessing, and eternal life” (Psalm 133:3).

Finally, Reformed Samaritanism is to believe that “truth is truth”, regardless of who says it, nor where can it be found (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, etc). Thus, we acknowledge as valid any religious practice that promotes a lifestyle of humility and obedience to God’s commandments. What are some of these practices? Among them are the followings:

To praise God on a daily basis; to bless Him [with raised hands] aloud, using passages of the holy Scripture; to bow down [to the ground] during prayer; to take off our shoes while performing the religious service; to wear chaste and modest attires; to keep male and female properly separated from one another; to have word of honor; And to stay away from usury, from falsehood, from pride, and from open immorality.

God doesn’t really expect you to worship any man and/or institution

God’s true religion has little to do with cheerleading any human personality or institution (Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, Martin Luther, Joseph Smith, Ellen G. White, Charles Taze Russell, etc); Instead, it is all about renouncing to wickedness, and committing yourself to the godly morality that pleases the Holy One.

As is written:

“Depart from evil, and do good...”- Psalm 37:27 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition);

“The end of the matter, all having been heard: fear God, and keep His commandments; for this is the whole man”- Ecclesiastes 12:13;

“The fear of the LORD is to hate evil; pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate”- Prov. 8:13;

“The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom”- Psalm 11:10; “Ye that love the LORD, hate evil”- Psalm 97:10;

“Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish justice in the gate...”- Amos 5:15;

“... the path of the righteous is as the light of dawn, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day. The way of the wicked is as darkness; they know not at what they stumble”- Proverbs 4:18-18;

“For the perverse is an abomination to the LORD; but His counsel is with the upright”- Proverbs 3:32;

“Whoso is wise, let him understand these things, whoso is prudent, let him know them. For the ways of the LORD are right, and the just do walk in them; but transgressors do stumble therein”- Hosea 14:10

«Hebrew Scripture commands that we be manly, and courageous. As it has been said: “... Be thou strong therefore, and shew thyself a man... Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest”- 1 Kings 2:2, Joshua 1:9. Therefore, when you get easily offended by small trivial things (looks, pronouns, acceptance, people not agreeing with you, etc), the message you send across is that you have a weak, shallow, and rebellious personality. Why? Because, instead of paying heed to the call to improve yourself, you have willingly settled for a poor personality-- one lacking the character, maturity, and wisdom to properly handle the task God wants you to perform (standing strong against fear, dissent, suffering, opposition, peer pressure, constructive criticism, etc). Thus, it would be foolish for you to expect any kind of respectful validation from those who have been obedient to Divine command, working hard to develop their faith, as well as a strong, deep, manly, and mature personality. Yes, the godless world might find it unfair, but the godless world isn't expected to conquer the giants-- a battle that will grant us entrance into the Holy Land [symbol of the World to come]»

Who does God consider superior? A righteous Jew? Or a righteous Gentile?

Hebrew tradition states that both Job's and Moses lifespans overlapped [so that, at a certain point, both were simultaneously alive]. As is written...

The spies said: "It is a land that consumes its inhabitants" (Numbers 13:32). Rava taught: The Holy One, Blessed be He, said: I intended the land to appear to consume its inhabitants for their own good, but they considered this proof that the land was bad. I intended it for their good by causing many people to die there so that anywhere that the spies arrived, the most important of them died, so that the Canaanites would be preoccupied with mourning and would not inquire about them. And THERE ARE THOSE WHO SAY THAT GOD CAUSED JOB TO DIE AT THAT TIME, AND EVERYONE IN CANAAN WAS PREOCCUPIED WITH HIS EULOGY, AND DID NOT PAY ATTENTION TO THE SPIES (Babylonian Talmud, Sotah 35a).

In addition, Scripture states that when God looked at the World he found that, as a whole, no one was greater than Job (a non Hebrew man living in the Land of Uz).

As is written: «There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil... And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the Earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?»- Job 1:1&8.

Yet, on the other hand, Scripture states that no man was greater than Moses. As is written: "Now the man Moses was very meek, more than all people who were on the face of the earth... And there arose not a prophet since in Israel like unto Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face, In all the signs and the wonders, which the Lord sent him to do in the land of Egypt..."- Numbers 12:3, & Deut. 34:10-11, King James Bible.

How do we solve this apparent contradiction? Who did God consider to be the greatest man on Earth? The Hebrew Moses? Or the Gentile Job? The answer is that, in the eyes of God, there are two parallel worlds; the World of the Hebrews, and the World of the Gentiles. In the Hebrew World, no one was greater than Moses; and in the Gentile World, no one was greater than Job.

Not only that, but we must also consider the possibility of the former being a moral paradigm— one pointing out to the idea that, for every righteous Hebrew believer (Jew, Samaritan, Karaite, etc), there will always be an equally righteous [or even more righteous!] Gentile believer (Christian, Muslim, Zoroastrian, etc).

And the former seems to be confirmed by the following Jewish tale:

«Once, when our masters R. Eliezer, R. Joshua, and Rabban Gamaliel were in Rome, the imperial Senate issued a decree that after thirty days no Jew should remain in the entire [Roman] world. One senator, who [while not Jewish] feared heaven, came to Rabban Gamaliel and disclosed the decree to him. Our masters were greatly distressed, but the man who feared Heaven said to them: “Be not distressed. Within the next 30 days the God of the Jews will stand by them”.

After 25 days, he disclosed the decree to his wife, who said: “But twenty five days are already gone! He: “Five days are still left”. His wife, even more righteous than he, said: “Have you no ring? Suck the poison concealed in it and die. Then the session of the Senate will be suspended for 30 days [in mourning for you] and the decree will not take effect [The Romans had a rule that, if the Senate made a decree, and before it was carried into effect one of the senators --or an important figure like the Son of the King-- died, the decree was annulled]”.

The Roman Senator heeded to what she had to say, sucked the ring, and died. When our masters heard of this, they came to his wife to express their sympathy...

At that, our masters applied to that Senator the verse, “They among the peoples who volunteered are gathered together, the people of the God of Abraham; for unto God belong the shields of the Earth; he is highly exalted” (Psalm 47:10). What is signified by “the shields of the Earth”? That God said: “To Abraham I became a shield of strength”. And the proof? The verse that goes on to say, “I am thy shield” (Genesis 15:1). But, to this Senator [God says]: “I will become many shields”. To Abraham God said: “I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great” (Gen. 12:2)— and only after that did Abraham have himself circumcised. But to this [Roman] Senator I made no such promise. What then is signified by “He is highly exalted”? That this Gentile Senator is so righteous that he is exalted even higher than Abraham!» (Deut. R. 2:24).

How much importance did God’s Law assign to faith in a coming Messiah?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Hebrew Scripture never records a single case where God ever got angry with Israel for the [alleged] sin of refusing to believe in a coming Messiah named Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him).

Instead, Scripture states that whenever God became angry with Israel, it was due to Israel’s refusal to obey the Divine commandments; In other words, to do the good portrayed by such instructions (do not worship other gods, do not bow down to idols, do not steal, do not lie, do not murder, do not dishonor your parents, give rest to your laborers, do not covet your neighbors wife or property, etc). In fact, the Creator promised that the Israelites well being, as well as their permanence upon the Land and their victory upon their enemies, would exclusively depend of their obedience to God’s commands.

As is written: “Carefully observe the commands of the Lord your God, the decrees and statutes he has commanded you. Do what is right and good in the Lord’s sight, so that you may prosper and so that you may enter and possess the good land the Lord your God swore to give your ancestors, by driving out all your enemies before you, as the Lord has said”- Deuteronomy 6:17-19, Christian Standard Bible.

So, for as long as the Israelites remained committed with a lifestyle guided by God's commandments, Israel prospered, it remained in the Land, and it conquered its powerful enemies. As is written:

“Now if you faithfully obey the Lord your God and are careful to follow all his commands I am giving you today, the Lord your God will put you far above all the nations of the earth. All these blessings will come and overtake you, because you obey the Lord your God... The Lord will cause the enemies who rise up against you to be defeated before you. The Lord will grant you a blessing on your barns and on everything you do; he will bless you in the land the Lord your God is giving you”- Deut. 28:1-2, & 7-8 (Christian Standard Bible).

But, as soon as they collectively wandered away from God's commandments, a curse fell upon them. As is written: “You rebuke the arrogant, the ones under a curse, who wander from your commands”- Psalm 119:21, KJB.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

The noble Christian religion claims that personal salvation can't be earned by good works, but must rather be accepted as a free gift from God. But the latter is open rebellion against the Creator, who commanded His people to abstain from accepting free gifts [or bribes], lest their judgment be corrupted. As is written: “AND THOU SHALT TAKE NO GIFT: FOR THE GIFT BLINDETH THE WISE, and perverteth the words of the righteous... ”- Exodus 23:8. And also in another place: “Thou shalt not wrest judgment; thou shalt not respect persons, NEITHER TAKE A GIFT: FOR A GIFT DOTHTH BLIND THE EYES OF THE WISE”- Deuteronomy 16:19, KJV

And the former curse, as well as its root causes, is described by God himself, when He goes on to say, “The Lord of Armies says this: ‘Make fair decisions. Show faithful love and compassion to one another. Do not oppress the widow or the fatherless, the resident alien or the poor, and do not plot evil in your hearts against one another’ ...

... But they refused to pay attention and turned a stubborn shoulder; they closed their ears so they could not hear. They made their hearts like a rock so as not to obey the Law or the words that the Lord of Armies had sent by his Spirit through the earlier prophets. Therefore intense anger came from the Lord of Armies...

... Just as He had called, and they would not listen, so when they called, I would not listen, says the Lord of Armies. I scattered them with a windstorm over all the nations that had not known them, and the land was left desolate behind them, with no one coming or going. They turned a pleasant land into a desolation”- Zechariah 7:9-14, C.S.B.

Are the Jews God's people

“I AM AN HEBREW; AND [THEREFORE] I FEAR THE LORD, THE GOD OF HEAVEN, who hath made the sea and the dry land”»- Jonah 1:9 (Jewish Publication society, 1917 Edition).

Torah isn't a call for man to become “Yehudi” (Jewish); rather, it is a call to become “Ivrit” (Hebrew). Why? Because the word “Ivrit” alludes to one belonging “to the other side” [of the River]. Likewise, Torah is a call for man to belong “to the other side” [of the world’s river]. You see, just like a great river, the world flows toward degeneracy, and moral darkness. But the believer is called to belong to “the other side”-- to “flow” toward holiness, thereby becoming like the start of heaven (shining in the midst of darkness). As it has been said: “... I will bless thee, and in multiplying I WILL MULTIPLY THY SEED AS THE STARS OF THE HEAVEN...”- Genesis 22:17 (JPS, 1917 Edition).

In addition, we must bear in mind that Torah’s basic tenet is that the Holy One (blessed be He) is not only just and blameless, but also morally perfect (“The Rock, His work is perfect; for ALL HIS WAYS ARE JUSTICE; A GOD OF FAITHFULNESS AND WITHOUT INIQUITY, JUST AND RIGHT IS HE. IS CORRUPTION HIS? NO; His children's is the blemish; a generation crooked and perverse”- Deut. 32:4-5, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

And, since The Holy One never acts in an unjust [or immoral] fashion (“That be far from Thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked, that so the righteous should be as the wicked; THAT BE FAR FROM THEE; SHALL NOT THE JUDGE OF ALL THE EARTH DO JUSTLY?”- Genesis 18:25, JPS 1917 Edition), to claim that the Almighty has a special regard for one people above another (showing arbitrary biases and/or preferences in favor or against a particular race or skin color) would be a grave affront to His holiness, as He obviously lacks such character defects. As it has been said: “For The Lord your God, He is God of gods, and Lord of lords, THE GREAT GOD, the mighty, and the awful, WHO REGARDETH NOT PERSONS, nor taketh reward (bribes)”- Deut. 10:17.

Therefore, it can be properly said that, from the standpoint of God [who is himself a Spirit], the Jews are just one of the several “tribes” comprising His holy people [the spiritual people allegorically called “Israel”]. But the latter is true only as long as Jews collectively embrace the life of holiness that characterizes the paradigm of Israel (“And YE [ISRAEL] SHALL BE HOLY UNTO ME; FOR I THE LORD am holy, and HAVE SET YOU APART FROM THE PEOPLES...”- Leviticus 20:26). Thus, whenever ethnic Israel abandons the Holy One [boasting about their alleged superiority, worshiping their cultural heritage, and embracing materialism, secular atheism, and moral relativism], it ceases to be part of God’s Israel, and Moses (Torah) is forced to humbly stand before the Almighty, asking for them to return to the fold (“... and he [Moses] said: HEAR, LORD, THE VOICE OF JUDAH, AND BRING HIM IN UNTO HIS PEOPLE...”- Deut 33:7).

Yet, if they stubbornly refuse to turn back, the Holy One abandons them, rendering their ethnic background useless. As it is written: «... THE LORD IS WITH YOU, WHILE YE ARE WITH HIM; and if ye seek Him, He will be found of you; BUT IF YE FORSAKE HIM, HE WILL FORSAKE YOU... But there came a man of God to him, saying: “O king [Amaziah], LET NOT THE ARMY OF ISRAEL GO WITH THEE; FOR THE LORD IS NOT WITH ISRAEL”... Call his name “Lo-ammi”; FOR [WHEN YOU DO EVIL] YE ARE NOT MY PEOPLE, AND I WILL NOT BE YOURS»- 2 Chronicles 15:2 & 25:7, Hosea 1:9 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 edition).

In fact, Torah hints at the same truth. Where? In the episode describing Korah’s rebellion. You see, though Korah was Moses first cousin, when listing Korah’s genealogy, Torah stops short of declaring him to be a son of Israel (Jacob). As it is written: “Now KORAH, THE SON OF IZHAR, THE SON OF KOHATH, THE SON OF LEVI, with Dathan and Abiram...”-Numbers 16:1, JPS, 1917 Edition. Why is this so? In order to hint at the idea that, even if you are ethnically Israelite, if you brazenly rebel against Moses call to holiness, you cannot be listed as a true child of Israel.

The reason why Reformed Samaritanism considers Moses to be greater than any past [or future] Messiah

The Hebrew word “Mashiach” (Messiah) literally meant “anointed” [with oil]. But why would God wish any a man to be anointed? Well, the former anointing was viewed as a public witness that God had given His personal approval for such a man to start doing God’s own bidding. Curiously, God’s Law states that the first of such anointed (Messiah) persons was Aaron (the High priest).

Thus, it could be properly said that Aaron was “the first human Messiah”. Yet, Aaron himself had to be anointed Messiah by somebody else-- someone holding a post of even greater dignity and authority than Aaron (a sort of Messiah of messiah’s).

And who exactly was such “Messiah of Messiah’s”? Well, it was none other than Moses. As it has been said: “And Moses took the anointing oil, and anointed the tabernacle and all that was therein, and sanctified them. And he sprinkled thereof upon the altar seven times, and anointed the altar and all its vessels, and the laver and its base, to sanctify them. And he poured of the anointing oil upon Aaron’s head, and anointed him, to sanctify him”- Leviticus 8:10-12 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

Why would Moses considered to be holding a post of far greater honor and dignity than Aaron [the first and foremost Messiah]? It was simply because the Almighty (blessed be He) had formerly designated Moses to act as “Elohim” (“Supreme authority”, or “God”), while designating Aaron to act as Moses spokesperson (or “prophet”). As is written: «And the LORD said unto Moses: “See, I have set thee in God’s stead to Pharaoh; and Aaron thy brother shall be thy prophet”» (Exodus 7:1, JPS 1917 edition).

What lesson is Torah trying to convey with all of the above? Why would the Holy One want Moses to be the person to anoint the first [and foremost] Messiah, as well as the one sanctifying all things pertaining to the tabernacle [in other words, all things pertaining to God’s service]?

Well, the reason is quite simple: Torah isn’t just a book recording Israel’s National history-- Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Torah [all of it!] comprises Moses prophecy. And the former means that every word, every story, every rite, and every narration recorded by Torah ought to be [chiefly] understood as an allegorical tale whose aim is to keep the believer from straying away from the path of goodness and righteousness.

As it is written: “Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the LORD your God, and His testimonies, and His statutes, which He hath commanded thee. And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the LORD; that it may be well with thee...”- Deut. 6:17-18, JPS 1917 Edition).

You see, being the greatest of all prophets (“And there hath not arisen a prophet since in Israel like unto Moses, whom the LORD knew face to face”- Deut. 34:10, JPS 1917 Edition) Moses foresaw by the Ruach Ha Kodesh (the Holy Spirit) that a time would come when many in Israel would start venerating the Messiah concept to such an extreme that they would make faith in Messiah more important submission to what was commanded by Moses.

Thus, Torah wanted to remind us the following:

- (1) That just as Moses was greater than Aaron, so are Moses words greater than those of any past or future Messiah;
- (2) That just as Aaron would have no clear right to become God’s Messiah (“anointed”) unless he first submitted himself to Moses authority, likewise no Israelite promoting rebellion [or abandonment] against Moses authority (meaning disobedience to God’s commandments) has a clear right to become

God's Messiah;

(3) That just as it was Moses [and not Aaron] who had the authority to anoint the tabernacle and all that was therein in order to sanctify them, so are Moses words [as recorded by Torah] and not the words of any past [or future] Messiah the ones having the authority to anoint and sanctify [thereby validating] our service to God.

Curiously, both Miriam and Aaron [the first and foremost Messiah] dared to place faults upon Moses. And the Holy One used the former incident in order to teach us that not even the first and foremost Messiah has the right to undermine Moses position as God's supreme and undisputed messenger. As it is written: «And the LORD came down in a pillar of cloud, and stood at the door of the Tent, and called Aaron and Miriam; and they both came forth. And He said: "Hear now My words: if there be a prophet among you, I the LORD do make Myself known unto him in a vision, I do speak with him in a dream. My servant Moses is not so; he is trusted in all My house; with him do I speak mouth to mouth, even manifestly, and not in dark speeches; and the similitude of the LORD doth he behold; wherefore then were ye not afraid to speak against My servant, against Moses?" And the anger of the LORD was kindled against them...» (Numbers 12:5-9, JPS 1917 Edition)

Who is right about Messiah? The Jews? The Samaritans? The Christians? The Muslims?

Judaism is a beautiful religion. A faith built upon the vision of the future deliverance soon to be manifested by a coming Messiah, who will himself be "a biological son" (or "descendant"), of David [the latter being not only the greatest Israelite king, but also "the son" of a noble Moabite woman named "Ruth"].

Yet, although the concept of "a Messiah son of David" is indeed a beautiful one [as it brings hope and inspiration upon those who embrace it], the problem with such idea is that it contradicts the revelation given by the Holy One unto our master Moses. You see, the Lord [blessed be He] commanded that no Moabite was to be allowed into the Holy congregation ("An Ammonite or a Moabite shall not enter into the assembly of the LORD..." - Deut. 23:4 JPS, 1917 Edition).

So, as Ruth was a Moabite, she should've never be allowed into the Israelite congregation, and therefore the Israelite king David should have never existed. And with no king David, no “Messiah son of David” was supposed to ever exist [let alone claim David’s royal throne!].

In fact, if we were to follow the Jewish sages [sticking to the literal sense of Hebrew Scriptures], we would be forced to accept that God never intended for Israel to have a formal [human] king. Why? Because having a human king [with the absolute powers such post entails] was the hallmark of Pagan nations, and was therefore unbecoming of the holy people, who were expected to recognize such absolute powers as belonging solely to their all knowing, Almighty, and morally perfect God. And the former is the reason why, after the Israelites shamelessly demanding a human king for themselves [in order to be like the surrounding Pagan nations], prophet Samuel told Israelites that they had despised their Creator (thereby committing a veiled form of idolatry).

As is written: «Then all the elders of Israel... came to Samuel unto Ramah. And they said...“Behold, thou art old... now make us a king to judge us like all the nations”... And the LORD said [to Samuel]... “Hearken unto the voice of the people in all that they say unto thee; for they have not rejected thee, but they have rejected Me, that I should not be king over them. According to all the works which they have done since the day that I brought them up out of Egypt even unto this day, in that they have forsaken Me, and served other gods, so do they also unto thee...

... hearken unto their voice; howbeit thou shalt earnestly forewarn them, and shalt declare unto them the [evil] manner of the king that shall reign over them”. And Samuel told all the words of the LORD unto the people... And he said: “This will be the manner of the king that shall reign over you... And ye shall cry out in that day because of your king whom ye shall have chosen you; and the LORD will not answer you in that day”

... But the people refused to hearken unto the voice of Samuel; and they said: “Nay; but there shall be a king over us that we also may be like all the nations; and that our king may judge us, and go out before us, and fight our battles...” »- 1 Samuel 8:4-20, JPS 1917 Edition.

Curiously, the former passage shines a light upon a paramount principle: That though Torah’s message is clear and concise (“Thou shalt fear the LORD thy God; and Him [alone] shalt thou serve... Fear God, and keep His commandments; for this is the whole man”- Deuteronomy 6:13, & Ecclesiastes 12:13, JPS Bible 1917 Edition), Israel would often go astray, rebelling against God’s will for their lives («But ye have this day rejected your God, who Himself saveth you out of all your calamities and your distresses; and ye have said unto Him: “Nay, but set a [human] king over us”...»- 1 Samuel 10:19, JPS 1917 Edition).

Yet, despite no longer living according to God’s will, the Lord’s mercy was so great that He would encourage Israel to still serve Him, in spite of their misguided disposition (“Fear not [as your God is extremely merciful!]; ye have indeed done all this evil; yet turn not aside from following the LORD, but serve the LORD with all your heart”- 1 Samuel 12:20, JPS 1917 Edition).

In short, even if he were to be the expected Messiah, having a flesh and blood king ruling upon Hebrew believers was always contrary to God’s will for His people. In fact, just as it is true with anything contrary to God’s will, having a human king will always be the cause of much pain, strife, and suffering for Israel.

Still, as neither Jews, Christians, nor Muslim have been able to overcome their fallen urge to be ruled by a “flesh and blood king” (Messiah), God’s mercy has graciously permitted such misguided idea to take hold in their midst; yet still encouraging them to serve Him [doing goodness], in spite of their faulty theology.

And from whence do we know God keeps encouraging both Jews, Christians, and Muslims to do good in spite of their faulty desire for a human king Messiah? We know it from the fact that the message of all these religions include a similar call to embrace goodness. As it has been said:

– Judaism: “That which is hateful to you do not do to another; that is the entire Torah, and the rest is its interpretation...”- Master Hillel, Babylonian Talmud (Shabbat 31a)

– Christianity: “Therefore, whatever you want others to do for you, do also the same for them, for this is the Law and the Prophets”- Jesus, Matthew 7:12 (Christian Standard Bible)

– Islam: “None of you will have faith until he loves for his brother what he loves for himself”- Authentic Hadith, Sahih al-Bukhari 13, narrated by Anas Bin Malik

There is no Divine wisdom without God’s Law

“If they tell you that there is intelligence among those who refuse to follow what was commanded upon the stone tablets, go ahead and believe it; But, if they tell you there’s Divine wisdom among them, do not believe it”

Dear brothers and sisters, our master Moses taught that the commandments of the Divine Law are the wisdom of God’s people (“... Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people”- Deut. 4:6).

So, the man who refuses to keep what the Law has commanded upon the two stone tablets, is small of understanding. And, since the apostle Paul (may peace be upon him) promoted among believer’s the complete abandonment of God’s Law («But now we are free from the Law... By saying: “New covenant”, He has considered old the first; and what is given because he is old and grows old, he is close to disappearing... For sin shall not have dominion over you, for you are not under the Law, but under grace...”- Romans 7:6, Hebrews 8:13, Romans 6:14), therefore God forced Paul to acknowledge his smallness [in order to serve as a warning for future generations].

When did Paul recognize his smallness? Well, when he went on to write the following: “To me, who am less than the least of all the saints, this grace was given to announce the gospel among the Gentiles... For I am the least of the apostles, who am not worthy to be called an apostle...”- Ephesians 3:8, & 1 Corinthians. 15:9.

May peace be upon you!

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

“Woe to those who call evil good, and good evil; who substitute darkness for light, and light for darkness...”- Isaiah 5:20-21

Woe is he who takes what the Creator calls “evil” (rebellion against God’s commandments, as stated on Psalm 119:21), and calls it “good” (“the Freedom of God’s grace”)... Woe is he who takes what the Lord calls “light” (the holiness of walking in the path of God’s commandments, as stated in Proverbs 6:23) and calls it “darkness” (“the enslavement of the Law”)

Salvation by Law, versus Salvation by faith-- The wise man will always seek to find the healthy balance between extreme [and opposing] perspectives

Christianity is a great religion; a valid means to serve and worship the God of Abraham. But the core of Christian theology hinges upon a questionable idea; a concept initially proposed by the apostle Paul (may peace be upon him): That, unless he can perfectly obey it, the Israelite who lives in submission to God's Law is an accursed man; as the Law can never justify, but only condemn him. As is written: "For all who rely on the works of the Law are under a curse, because it is written, everyone who does not do everything written in the book of the Law is cursed"- Galatians 3:10, Christian Standard Bible.

What's the problem with this otherwise logical argument? Well, there's no problem at all with it... aside from the fact that it is a text book case of the wise proverb that goes on to say: "A text, out of context, is a pretext". In other words, to arbitrarily take an isolated bible verse, and pretend to turn it into a whole theological system is utter folly. Why? Simply because such nonsense would allow you to prove almost anything you might wish!

Consider the following example: If we were to do as Paul did above, we could easily justify the opposite claim (that the Israelite who lives under the Law is actually a blessed man!). And, in order to prove our point we would be able to quote the verse where [while still living under the Law] God himself states that Israel is a blessed people.

As is written: "And God said unto Balaam, Thou shalt not go with them; thou shalt not curse the people [of Israel]: for they are blessed"- Numbers 22:12, KJB.

How do we find which one of the former extreme [and mutually excluding] interpretations is the correct one? We do so by remembering that Scripture hints at the idea that, in all things, we must strive to find the healthy balance. As is written:

"Keep worthless speech and lies far from me. do not give me poverty or riches. give me food in the [balanced] amount that is right for me"- Proverbs 30:8, Evangelical Heritage Version. And also says in another place: "Do not be excessively righteous, and do not be extremely wise... Do not be overly wicked, and do not be a fool [Find the healthy Balance!]..."- Ecclesiastes 7:16-17, Modern English version.

Thus, the truth concerning the above claim is to be found in the midway [balanced] position. In other words, so long as Israel strove to obey God's Law [living by the basic Ten commandments], it remained a blessed people (as correctly stated by the verse in Numbers 22:12).

But, as soon as Israel openly rebelled against God's Law [fornicating with the Moabite women and bowing down to idols, as per Numbers 25:1-2], they became an accursed people ("You rebuke the arrogant, who are accursed, those who stray from your commands"- Psalm 119:21, New International Version Bible).

And, though repentance [and conversion] procures mercy for the accursed ("The one who conceals his sins will not prosper, but whoever confesses and renounces them will find mercy"- Proverbs 28:13, Christian Standard Bible), if the accursed person refuses to repent, he is thereby condemned to destruction ("And those that died in that plague were twenty-four thousand"- Numbers 25:9, Jubilee Bible 2000); as correctly stated by Paul in Galatians 3:10.

The dignity of a creature ought not to be greater than that of his Maker; If Scripture enjoins that God's Holy name, that is inscribed in sanctity, may be obliterated in water in order to bring about peace between a man and his wife, all the more so may the dignity of a creature be disregarded

Though Jesus (may peace and blessings be upon him) ended up becoming God's anointed messenger for both Greeks and Romans, he was nevertheless an imperfect man. Whence we know? We know it from the fact that he lived to be only 33 years old. And, according to Hebrew Scripture, the lifespan of a healthy and perfectly holy man can be no less than 40 years.

Why? Because it is written: "The days of our years are threescore years and ten (70); and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years (80), yet is their strength labour and sorrow"- Psalm 90:10, KJV. And also states elsewhere, "But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction: bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days... As the partridge sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days..."- Psalm 55:23 & Jeremiah 17:11.

Beware of granting your unconditional support to anything [or anyone] save the holiness, justice, mercy, and humility commanded by the Almighty (Micah 6:8)!

If you follow the Hebrew Scripture, then you ought to make sure to never give your absolute and unconditional support to any person, any institution, or any nation that openly [and stubbornly] promotes usury, deception, moral relativity, sexual immorality, racial superiority, or unjust [and cruel] treatment of their local minorities.

Why? Because he who refrains from rebuking a rebellious leader, will be forced to bear the same punishment. As it has been said: «And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, "Take the rod, and gather thou the assembly... speak ye unto the rock... and it shall give forth his water... And Moses lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the rock twice... And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron, Because ye believed me not, to sanctify me in the eyes of the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the Land which I have given them"- Numbers 20:7-8, &11-12 (King James Bible).

Notice how Torah makes clear that Moses actually sinned (by hitting the Rock, instead of speaking unto it). But what was Aaron's guilt, that he should also be prevented from entering into the Land? According to Reformed Samaritanism, after Aaron saw Moses hitting the rock [for the first time], he should have confronted him [saying, "What are you doing? Didn't God only ask you to speak unto it?"].

But, since Aaron remained silent, he was thereby guilty of publicly violating the Divine injunction that goes on to say: "Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thy heart; thou shalt surely rebuke thy neighbour, and not bear sin because of him (in other words, not rebuking your brother's rebellion isn't only sinful, but also intimates you don't really love him!)"- Leviticus 19:17 (Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition).

And the former truth is also asserted by the Hebrew Scripture that goes on to say: "The Lord will enter into judgment with the elders of His people, and the princes thereof ..." - Isaiah 3:14. Granted that the princes (the rich and powerful) sinned; but why would the elders be also judged (thereby being punished)? Because they saw the public sin of the princess, and decided to remain silent!

Christianity is generally good, but beware of the weird and contradictory theology promoted by some of it's fringe sects!

Belonging to one of the many existing Christian sects is an acceptable way to come closer to the Holy One. But bear in mind that some of those sects hold fast to quite questionable ideas.

Consider the following: Both Jehovah witnesses as well as Seventh Day Adventists pompously claim that Jesus died in our behalf, taking upon himself the eternal punishments our many sins [allegedly] deserved. But curiously, both sects deny that such punishment was to suffer either a physical or an allegorical hell. Rather, they claim the sinners punishment was no other than to be eternally destroyed [permanently ceasing to exist].

Thus, the honest and humble believer is compelled to ask himself the following question: “If Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) was indeed our literal replacement, and if he actually suffered the punishment prepared for us, why is it that Jesus didn’t permanently cease to exist???”

In fact, if true that our sins were the very reason why we experienced physical death, and if also true that Jesus already paid for our sins (past, present, and future ones), then why is it that Christian believers still experience physical death?

What sin has Jesus blood been unable to atone, causing Christians to continue being punished with physical death? Are Jehovah witnesses [and Seventh Day Adventists] expected to renounce to reason, common sense, and intellectual honesty? Isn’t it true that “the New testament” commands the believer to speak the truth, and to avoid all falsehood?

As it has been written: “Therefore, putting away lying, speak the truth, each one to his neighbor... because no lie comes from the truth”- Ephesians 4:25, 1 John 2:21 (Christian Standard Bible).

Como detectar una falsa y esclavizante secta religiosa

¿Como se logra subyuga a una bestia irracional? Pues un método efectivo es explotar [para nuestro beneficio] sus instintos y pasiones. Por ejemplo, podríamos ofrecerle algo que aparente ser agradable y liberador, cuando en realidad es lo contrario.

Y este es el caso cuando le ofrecemos un succulento pedazo de carne [despertando así su deseo de comer] en cuyo interior hemos escondido un fármaco que induzca un pesado y paralizante letargo. Curiosamente, algo similar ocurre con muchas de las sectas religiosas que “regalan” lo que a primera vista aparenta ser algo delicioso y encantador; las que nos adulan, diciéndonos las cosas que deseamos escuchar; las que prometen que obtendremos “todo lo que anhelamos”, con tan solo un mínimo esfuerzo de nuestra parte; las que garantizan que recibiremos “todos los beneficios”, sin tener que asumir “ninguna de las responsabilidades”.

¿Por que? Pues porque, afortunadamente, “alguien ya hizo nuestro trabajo”, de suerte que lo único que resta es que juremos fidelidad, pleitesía, y sumisión a esta persona que ha dejado el camino expedito (Jesús, Muhammad, José Smith, Elena G. De White, Charles Taze Russel, etc).

Desafortunadamente, una vez que hemos “mordido la carnada”, descubrimos que la sumisión que ingenuamente hemos jurado a nuestro benefactor, a menudo se traduce en sumisión a sus auto-designados representantes; quienes en vez de brindarnos la libertad prometida, proceden en cambio a subyugar nuestro tiempo, nuestra energía, nuestras finanzas, nuestras emociones, nuestras mentes, y aún nuestras almas.

Y, para complicar las cosas, nuestro vano orgullo a menudo impide que reconozcamos el engaño. Y no solamente rehusamos reconocer el engaño en el que hemos caído, sino que incluso tratamos de hacerlo [sicológicamente] aceptable. ¿Como? Pues invitando a otros a unirse a nuestra secta [es decir, ¡convenciéndoles a caer en la misma falsedad en la que nosotros mismos hemos caído nosotros!]. Y es por esto que, una sabia tradición Hebrea previene al creyente diciendo: «Ama a quien te reprende y exhorta, pero odia a quien constantemente te alaba y adula» (A.R.N. 29)

Some Hasidic masters (like rabbi M. Friedman) claim that God needs the Jewish people? Is that true?

Does God literally needs mankind's companionship? Even more precisely: Does God needs the companionship of the Jewish people? Actually, asking if God has any need for companionship [a basic human need], is a bit like asking if God has any need for rest, for food, or for recognition [in other words, it is a completely absurd question]. Why? Simply because the God of Israel is not a physical being, nor is He a physical man [flawed with physical needs, physical emotions, and physical limitations]. As it has been written:

--“And also THE STRENGTH OF ISRAEL [GOD] will not lie or repent; for HE IS NOT A MAN”- 1 Samuel 15:29).

-- “Have you not known? Have you not heard? THE EVERLASTING GOD, THE LORD, THE CREATOR OF THE ENDS OF THE EARTH, DOES NOT FAINT OR GROW WEARY; there is no searching of His understanding”- Isaiah 40:28

-- “IF I WERE HUNGRY [HUNGRY FOR FOOD, HUNGRY FOR RECOGNITION, HUNGRY FOR COMPANIONSHIP, ETC] I WOULD NOT TELL YOU, FOR THE WORLD AND ITS FULLNESS ARE MINE”- Psalm 50:12

Instead, the Creator is rather an infinite spirit which exist outside any physical matter [or any physical property], thus spanning the whole universe. As it is written: “BUT WILL GOD INDEED DWELL WITH MEN ON THE EARTH? BEHOLD, THE HEAVENS AND HEAVEN OF HEAVENS [THAT IS TO SAY, THE WHOLE UNIVERSE] CANNOT CONTAIN YOU; how much less this [finite] house that I have built?”- 1 Kings 8:27.

Can an infinitely large ocean [the Creator] has any real need for an infinitely small drop of water [the people of Israel]? Not at all! It isn't God who needs Israel's companionship. Rather, it is Israel who needs God's companionship.

Why? Because God is still God without Israel; but Israel is less than nothing without God. In other words, as soon as Israel lacks God's companionship, they are immediately overtaken by their enemies. As it has been written: “And the Lord said to me, SAY TO THEM [the children of Israel], DO NOT GO UP OR FIGHT, FOR I AM NOT AMONG YOU... So I spoke to you, and you would not hear, BUT REBELLED AGAINST THE COMMANDMENT OF THE LORD, and were presumptuous and went up into the hill country. THEN THE AMORITES WHO LIVED IN THAT HILL COUNTRY CAME OUT AGAINST YOU AND CHASED YOU AS BEES DO AND STRUCK YOU DOWN in Seir as far as Hormah”- Deut. 1:42-44.

Thus, the Scripture teaches that the Jewish believer [or for that sake, any other believer] enjoys God's companionship only as long as he [or she] “walks with God” (obeying God's commandments). But, as soon as the Jewish believer abandons God (turning away from His commandments), God abandons him.

As it is written: “CAN TWO WALK TOGETHER, UNLESS THEY BE AGREED?... HEAR ME [king] Asa, and all JUDAH AND BENJAMIN: THE LORD IS WITH YOU, WHILE YOU ARE WITH HIM. IF YOU SEEK HIM [INQUIRING FOR AND OF HIM, CRAVING HIM AS YOUR SOUL'S FIRST NECESSITY], HE WILL BE FOUND BY YOU; BUT IF YOU [BECOME INDIFFERENT AND] FORSAKE HIM, HE WILL FORSAKE YOU”- Amos 3:3, & 2 Chronicles 15:2.

And why does evil prevents God from having companionship with the Jews? Because when they do evil, they stop being the people of Israel, and instead become the people of Sodom and Gomorrah [in other words, people with whom God wants no fellowship at all]. As it has been written: “AH, SINFUL NATION, A PEOPLE LOADED WITH INIQUITY, OFFSPRING OF EVILDOERS, SONS WHO DEAL CORRUPTLY! THEY HAVE FORSAKEN THE LORD, THEY HAVE DESPISED AND SHOWN CONTEMPT AND PROVOKED THE HOLY ONE OF ISRAEL to anger, they have become utterly estranged (alienated)... HEAR [O JERUSALEM] THE WORD OF THE LORD, YOU RULERS OR JUDGES OF [ANOTHER] SODOM! GIVE EAR TO THE LAW AND THE TEACHING OF OUR GOD, YOU PEOPLE OF [ANOTHER] GOMORRAH!”- Isaiah 1:4&10. And this desire for having no companionship with evildoers was the original hallmark of Jacob's godly faith, as attested by the verse that goes on to say: “SIMEON AND LEVI ARE BRETHREN; INSTRUMENTS OF CRUELTY ARE IN THEIR HABITATIONS. O MY SOUL, COME NOT THOU INTO THEIR SECRET; UNTO THEIR ASSEMBLY, MINE HONOUR, BE NOT THOU UNITED: for in their anger they slew a man, and in their selfwill they digged down a wall. CURSED BE THEIR ANGER, for it was fierce; and their wrath, for it was cruel”- Genesis 49:5-7. Finally, the Hebrew Scripture hinted at the idea that, the ancient Jewish people [the ethnic Israel], would eventually go so far away from Torah's original spirit, that He would no longer consider them worthy of His companionship.

What would He do in that day? He would replace them with a greater people [a people much more obedient to Moses]. And the proof? The Scripture that goes on to say: “ Say unto the children of Israel, Ye are a stiffnecked people: I WILL COME UP INTO THE MIDST OF THEE IN A MOMENT, AND CONSUME THEE... And the Lord said unto Moses, How long will this people provoke me? and how long will it be ere they believe me, for all the signs which I have shewed among them? I WILL SMITE THEM WITH THE PESTILENCE, AND DISINHERIT THEM, AND WILL MAKE OF THEE A GREATER NATION AND MIGHTIER THAN THEY... And the Lord spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying, SEPARATE YOURSELVES FROM AMONG THIS CONGREGATION, THAT I MAY CONSUME THEM IN A MOMENT... GET YOU UP FROM AMONG THIS CONGREGATION, THAT I MAY CONSUME THEM AS IN A MOMENT”- Exodus 33:5; Numbers 14:11-12; Numbers 16:20-21; Numbers 16:45. May the God of Israel have mercy of the Jewish people!

Why learn about Reformed Samaritanism?

What makes Reformed Samaritanism different is it's focus upon the ancient interpretation (the core ethical message) of Hebrew Scripture; articulating a view that isn't only rational and coherent, but in addition glorifies the Creator. How? By portraying the latter as a God of complete justice and absolute moral perfection (Deuteronomy 32:3-5).

What is Reformed Samaritanism main tenet? It simply is that God's message to mankind is an extension of the same message we perceive all around nature-- “Sowing and reaping”; “measure for measure”; “action and reaction”; “what goes around comes around”; “you reap [unto yourself] the same goodness (or evil) you have sowed [unto your fellow human beings]”.

In other words, The Creator (blessed be He) is a faithful and impartial God who doesn't arbitrarily reward [nor condemns] anybody; Rather, He lets each person judge himself. How? By making him [or her] "reap" the same goodness he has willingly "sowed" upon his fellow creatures. Likewise, He lets each man [or woman] "reap" the same evil he has willingly sowed upon his fellow creatures [without ever repenting from it]. As is written:

- (1) "He who conceals his transgressions will not prosper, But whoever confesses and turns away from his sins will find compassion and mercy"(Proverbs 28:13, Amplified Bible);
- (2) "As you have done, it shall be done to you [in retribution], your [evil] dealings will return on your own head..." (Obadiah 15:15, Amplified Bible);
- (3) "... as I have done [to others], so God has repaid me..." (Judges 1:7, Amplified Bible);
- (4) "... For He [God] repays a person according to his deeds, and He gives him what his conduct deserves" (Job 34:11, Christian Standard Bible);
- (5) "... and death and Hades gave up the dead that were in them; [and] each one was judged according to their works" (Revelation 20:13, Christian Standard Bible).

And the former is all there is to know about God's true religion; to do good, loving God as well as your fellow creatures. That's why both Hebrew & Gentile Scriptures seem to carry a similar message, when they go on to say:

- (6) "Turn from evil and do good, so you may live forever" (Psalm 37:27, Tree of Life Version);
"Happy is he who hath concern for the poor and the needy; the Lord shall save him on the evil day..." (Psalm 41:1, Wycliffe Bible);
- (7) "He has told you, humanity, what is good, and what the Lord is seeking from you: Only to practice justice, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God" (Micah 6:8, Tree Of Life Version);
- (8) «He gave justice and help to the poor and needy, and everything went well for him. "Isn't that what it means to know me?" says the Lord» (Jeremiah 22:16, New Living Translation);
- (9) "Blessed is the one who considers the poor! In the day of trouble the Lord delivers him"- Psalm 41:1, English Standard Version;
- (10) "So then, in everything treat others the same way you want them to treat you, for this is [the essence of] the Law and the [writings of the] Prophets" (Matthew 7:12, Amplified Bible);
- (11) "Pure and unblemished religion [as it is expressed in outward acts] in the sight of our God and Father is this: to visit and look after the fatherless and the widows in their distress, and to keep oneself uncontaminated by the [secular] world"- (James 1:27, Amplified Bible);
- (12) «The commandments, Do not commit adultery; do not murder; do not steal; do not covet; and any other commandment, are summed up by this commandment: "Love your neighbor as yourself". Love does no wrong to a neighbor. Love, therefore, is the fulfillment of the Law" (Romans 13:9-10, Christian Standard Bible);
- (13) "Dear friends, let us love one another, because love is from God, and everyone who loves has been born of God and knows God. The one who does not love does not know God, because God is love" (1 John 6:7-8, Christian Standard Bible).

What was the reason for Moses to prevent gentile peoples (Ammonites and Moabites) from entering the Assembly of the righteous? The reason was their refusal to feed their hungry and thirsty fellow human beings [and, as the latter had been created in God's image, it was as if they were refusing it to the Almighty!]. As is written: "An Ammonite or Moabite shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the congregation of the Lord for ever: [Why?...] BECAUSE THEY MET YOU NOT WITH BREAD AND WITH WATER IN THE WAY,

WHEN YE CAME FORTH OUT OF EGYPT...”- Deut. 23:3-5, KJV Bible.

And what was the reason for Jesus to predict that gentile peoples will enter the Assembly of the righteous? Their disposition to feed their hungry and thirsty fellow human beings! As is written: “... Come, ye blessed of my Father, INHERIT THE KINGDOM PREPARED FOR YOU FROM THE FOUNDATION OF THE WORLD: FOR I WAS HUNGRY, AND YE GAVE ME TO EAT; I WAS THIRSTY, AND YE GAVE ME DRINK; I was a stranger, and ye took me in; naked, and ye clothed me; I was sick, and ye visited me; I was in prison, and ye came unto me”- Matthew 25:34-36 (American Standard Version)

Aside from the former, the remaining theology [What is God’s real name?; Who is the human Messiah?; Will we be ever taken up unto heavens?; Have we inherited an original sin?; Who is part of God’s true Israel?; When will God’s kingdom come?; Will the Temple ever be rebuilt? Is there life immediately after death?, etc], is but optional commentary that, in the end, will have little to do with mankind’s eternal deliverance.

The God of Moses will cut off all flattering lips

When the Hebrew believer walks in rebellion against the Almighty, he ends up rejecting what deep down inside knows to be Torah’s clear and concise message: That Israel will continue to be God’ blessed people only as long as it remains in humble obedience to what was commanded upon the stone tablets; otherwise, Israel is no more than another gentile [and therefore pagan] nation.

Thus, when the Hebrew believer walks in rebellion and disobedience to the Holy One, his heart feels sunken and dejected (“There is no soundness in my flesh because of Thine indignation; neither is there any health in my bones because of my sin. For mine iniquities are gone over my head; as a heavy burden they are too heavy for me. My wounds are noisome, they fester, because of my foolishness”- Psalm 38:4-6, JPS); therefore, he feels the need to demand to be flattered with smooth [but false] words of praise and recognition.

As it has been said: «For it is a rebellious people, lying children, children that refuse to hear the teaching of the LORD; That say to the seers: 'See not,' and to the prophets: 'Prophecy not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophesy delusions; Get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us!»- Isaiah 30:9-11 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

May the almighty spare Israel from all deceptive and flattering lips! (“They speak falsehood every one with his neighbour; with flattering lip, and with a double heart, do they speak. May the LORD cut off all flattering lips, the tongue that speaketh proud things!”- Psalm 12:3-4, JPS 1917 Edition). Amen.

How does modern idolatry manifests itself

In ancient past, idol worshipers would take the soul of a person they used to own (a son, a slave, a war prisoner, etc) and offer it as a human sacrifice. Why? Because [just as it happens with modern cults] they knew that true worship demands the “surrendering of the soul”. In other words, a person isn’t totally committed to any god [or any ideology], unless his service to the latter compels him to surrender what is dearest to him.

Nowadays, since modern man hardly owns anything, those wishing to be worshiped as gods demand that he “offers up” (or “sacrifice”) his own soul. How? Well, let’s put it this way: “No person, no nation, no institution, no country, and no ideology will “own” your soul, as long as you refuse to lie on its behalf [in order to hide its faults and defects].

Why is this so? Because perfection only belongs to the infinite [and non-physical] Creator of the Universe. Therefore, pretending to hide and/or deny the faults, prejudices, and limitations that characterize all finite, physical and/or created things is an outright lie.

And it goes without saying that, claiming anything other than the Creator (your race, your nation, your religion, your political system, your ideology, etc) is free from bias, faults, defects, and limitation is tantamount to making a false god out of it; a plain self-deception whereby you willingly sacrifice your own soul [in other words, the moral values that keep your soul alive] for the sake of such false deity.

ARE THEY A WEAK MINORITY IN URGENT NEED OF PROTECTION? OR ARE THEY INSTEAD A POWERFUL ELITE IN SERIOUS NEED OF CONTAINMENT?

WHEN WAS THE LAST TIME YOU SAW A GAY OR TRANS PERSON BEGGING AT A STREET CORNER?

Según algunos, el Samaritanismo Reformado no puede ser palabra de Dios, pues aparenta condonar el Ecumenismo Abrahámico; Pero, ¿Condona la Escritura este tipo de ecumenismo?

Muchos creyentes honestos y bien intencionados han sido ideológicamente programados [por los grandes poderes religiosos] para rechazar automáticamente todo aquello que se perciba como ecumenismo. Pero la realidad objetiva es que Ley de Dios nunca ha condenado el Ecumenismo; especialmente cuando este último consiste en copiar lo bueno de los otros credos, las otras tradiciones, y las otras personas.

De hecho la Escritura hebrea presenta la Creador reprochando el hecho de que los Israelitas no hubiesen copiado las buenas costumbres que vieron entre las naciones en donde estaban esparcidos. Como esta escrito: «... No habéis andado en mis mandamientos, ni habéis guardado mis leyes? Ni aun según las [buenas] leyes de las naciones que están alrededor de vosotros habéis andado. Así, pues, ha dicho יהוה el Señor: “He aquí yo estoy contra ti...”»- Ezequiel 5:7-8 (Reina Valera, 1960). Y es por esto que nuestro maestro Moisés (paz sea sobre él) no solamente escucha [y obedece] el buen consejo que le fue dado por su pagano suegro Jetro (“Y oyó Moisés la voz de su suegro, e hizo todo lo que dijo”- Éxodo 18:24), sino que también procede a copiar las palabras proféticas emitidas por el pagano Balaam, haciéndolas así parte integral de la Ley Divina (libro de Números, capítulos 23 & 24). ¿Por que hizo Moisés esto último? Pues porque sabia que, aunque emitidas por un pagano, las anteriores palabras era verdaderas, y por tanto provenían de Dios [quien es el Dios de toda verdad]. De hecho, el evangelio cristiano muestra a Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) promoviendo este tipo de ecumenismo. ¿Cuándo? Pues cuando exhorta a sus seguidores Cristianos a obedecer todo lo que ordenasen los líderes Judíos. Como esta escrito: “En la cátedra de Moisés se sientan los escribas y los fariseos. Así que, todo lo que os digan que guardéis, guardadlo y hacedlo...”- Mateo 23:2-3. Y el apóstol Juan [quien es descrito como siendo “el discípulo a quien Jesús amaba”) confirma esto mismo, cuando dice: “Amado, no imites lo malo, sino lo bueno. (¿Por que? Pues porque...) El que hace lo bueno es de Dios (sin importar su credo ni raza); pero el que hace lo malo, no ha visto a Dios”- 3 Juan 1:11.

El resumen, la idea de que cualquier forma de ecumenismo es mala, es en si misma una idea falsa y desvirtuada, pues no solo pretende arrogantemente poner “una camisa de fuerza al Creador” (limitando el “como”, el “cuando”, el “donde”, el “por que”, y el “quien” puede el Creador utilizar, a fin de alcanzarnos con su Palabra), sino que en adición pervierte el mensaje ético y moral de la Ley Divina, que no es otro sino hacer todo aquello que sea bueno y justo, pues de tales cosas se agrada el Creador. Como esta escrito: “Y haz lo recto y bueno ante los ojos de יהוה, para que te vaya bien.... yo soy יהוה, que hago misericordia, juicio y justicia en la tierra; porque estas cosas quiero (que los hombres hagan), dice יהוה”- Deuteronomio 6:18, Jeremías 9:24.

Curiosamente, la Escritura hebrea advierte que, aferrarse a la mentira de creer que todo lo que diga alguien de un credo distinto al nuestro tiene que ser falso, puede llegar a ser mortal. Vera usted, hubo en Judá un rey piadoso llamado Josías. Este hombre justo se obstinó en rechazar la voz del Faraón Egipcio, quien le advertía que iba a la batalla en una misión Divina, y por tanto nadie debía tratar de detenerlo. Como esta escrito: “¿Qué tengo yo contigo, rey de Judá? Yo no vengo contra ti hoy, sino contra la casa que me hace guerra; y Dios me ha dicho que me apresure. Deja de oponerte a Dios, quien está conmigo, no sea que él te destruya”- 2 Crónicas 35:21.

Como Josías no cree en el Ecumenismo, pues decide rechazar la posibilidad de que Dios pudiese estar hablándole por medio de Faraón (un pagano que seguía lo que Josías entendía ser una falsa religión). Pero esta terca obstinación era una grave ofensa contra la omnipotencia del Creador, quien [de así desearlo] podría utilizar cualquier cosa para alcanzarnos (la serpiente del Edén, una zarza ardiente, la vara de Moisés, la mula de Balaam, la ballena que tragó a Jonás, los cuervos que alimentaron a Elías, etc). Así, el castigo de Josías fue perecer a manos de Faraón-- como para intimar que, no importando si proviene de la fe Hebrea, o si proviene de alguna otra tradición religiosa [y no importando tampoco cuan justos o injustos podamos ser], no podemos oponernos a la verdad Divina (las cosas que promueven la moral, la honestidad, la castidad, la justicia, la misericordia, la humildad, etc), sin tener que sufrir serias y graves consecuencias. Como esta escrito:

“Mas Josías no se retiró, sino que se disfrazó para darle batalla, y no atendió a las palabras de Neco, que eran de boca de Dios... y salió contra él el rey Josías; pero aquel, así que le vio, lo mató en Meguido”- 2 Crónicas 35:22, 2 Reyes 23:29 (Reina Valera, 1960).

The faithful believer despises vain [and glamorous] mysteries, conjectures, and speculations; focusing instead in obeying what was commanded by the Holy One upon the two stone tablets

Dear brothers and sisters, given that Adonay's [The Holy One] own religion is “results oriented”, it might be wise for us to avoid falling into the trap of being seduced by glamorous [yet uncertain] religious mysteries, conjectures, and speculations-- standing instead upon the certainty [and clarity] provided by God's Law... a Law that Hebrew Scripture describes as being perfect (Psalm 19:8), and summarizes using the following verses:

«... turn not aside from following the LORD, but serve the LORD with all your heart; and turn ye not aside; for then should ye go after vain things which cannot profit nor deliver, for they are vain ... And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the LORD; that it may be well with thee... The end of the matter, all having been heard [is the following]: “fear God, and keep His commandments; for this is the whole man”...

... It hath been told thee, O man, what is good, and what the LORD doth require of thee: only to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God... Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore...

... For the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations; as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee; thy dealing shall return upon thine own head... Let him not trust in vanity, deceiving himself; for vanity shall be his recompense... For through the multitude of dreams and vanities there are also many words; but fear thou God”- 1 Samuel 12:20-21, Deut. 6:18, Ecclesiastes 12:13, Micah 66:8, Psalm 37:27, Obadiah 1:15, Job 15:31, Ecclesiastes 5:6 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition). May peace be upon you all!

When are we commanded by Torah (God's law) to consider the nation of Israel to be God's own people?

On the one hand, we find the Almighty declaring Israel to be His people, as well as His own son («... And thou shalt say unto Pharaoh: “Thus saith the LORD: ‘Israel is My son’ ”... For the portion of the LORD is His people, Jacob the lot of His inheritance»- Exodus 4:22, Deut. 32:9); But, on the other hand, we find the Holy Ones declaring Israel not to be His people [let alone His son!]- “... for ye are not My people, and I will not be yours”- Hosea 1:9.

How do we explain such a serious contradiction? We do so by remembering the additional verse that goes on to say: “The LORD will establish thee for a holy people unto Himself, as He hath sworn unto thee; if thou shalt keep the commandments of the LORD thy God, and walk in His ways”- Deut. 28:9. In other words, when Israel keeps God's commandments and walks in His ways the Holy One establishes Israel as His own son [and people]. But if the Israelites refuse to do so, God tells them: “Ye are not My people, and I will not be yours!”. Why can't a rebellious Israel continue to be God's own son? Because the Almighty is Holy, and therefore never violates his holy Law. And, when it comes to the rebellious son [who publicly shames his parents with an unbecoming behavior], Torah prescribes that he latter must be eliminated. As it has been said: “If a man have a stubborn and rebellious son, that will not hearken to the voice of his father, or the voice of his mother, and though they chasten him, will not hearken unto them... they shall say unto the elders of his city: 'This our son is stubborn and rebellious, he doth not hearken to our voice'... And all the men of his city shall stone him with stones, that he die; so shalt thou put away the evil from the midst of thee”- Deut. 21:18-21 (J.P.S., 1917 Edition). May the Almighty show grace and mercy to all of his people! Amen.

Will Satan have the same power over humans once they make it into the messianic age?

Our beloved brothers and sisters-- Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the Mesianic age, and the World to come (also known as “Olam ha-ba”) are one and the same. In addition it teaches that once we have gotten out of this world, Satan (the evil inclination) will have no more power over the righteous. Why? Because we'll no longer exist in a human (perishable) body, subject to lust, greed, deception, ignorance, as well as physical defect and limitations. Rather, we will go back to our original state of existence [the one we enjoyed prior to coming into the present world], existing again in a purely spiritual form (as a sort of “living thought”). In that state, we will truly be “sons of God”; as we will have the likeness of our Creator (who has no physical need and/or limitations). Speaking about such glorious state of absolute freedom, Hebrew Scripture goes on to say: "As for me, I shall behold Thy face in righteousness; I SHALL BE SATISFIED, WHEN I AWAKE, WITH THY LIKENESS"- Psalm 17:15 (JPS, 1917 Edition).

And the fact that before becoming mortal human beings we existed in this “God-like” form is hinted in the verse that goes on to say: «I have said, “YE ARE GODLIKE BEINGS [IN THE PRESENT NON-PHYSICAL REALM], AND ALL OF YOU SONS OF THE MOST HIGH. NEVERTHELESS [IN YOUR FUTURE PHYSICAL REALM] YE SHALL DIE LIKE MEN...”»- Psalm 82:6-7 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition). And the following legend seems to make reference to the former idea:

– In the world to come, the Holy One (blessed be He) will bring the impulse to do evil and kill it in the presence of both the righteous and the wicked. To the righteous, the urge to do evil will seem as big [and powerful] as a huge mountain; But, to the wicked, it will appear to be as weak [and small] as a hair of the beard. They will both cry; the righteous (those who believe in obeying God’s commandments) will cry saying, “How were we able to bend such a great and powerful mountain?”; While the wicked will cry saying, “How were we unable to bend something as weak and worthless as a single hairstrand?”--

Your see, most of God’s [ten] sayings begin with the Hebrew letter “Lamed” (ל), a letter that curiously resemble a beard’s hairstrand. But the letter “Lamed” also happens to be the first letter of the Hebrew word “Lo”, which we translate into the English word “No”. So, all that the wicked needed to do in order to overcome their evil impulse was to say “Lo” (“No”)! May peace be upon you.

No hay nada malo con que el creyente Hebreo endose las enseñanzas éticas y morales adscritas al Nazareno (paz y bendición sean con él)

Estimados hermanos y amigos, la realidad es que no hay nada malo con endosar las enseñanzas éticas y morales adscritas al Nazareno; la falta, está en abrazar la adulación [y el auto-engaño] que implica brindar al Galileo la pleitesía y adoración que se nos ha ordena otorgar solamente a יהוה (Adonay Yah, el Dios que se mostró a nuestro maestro Moisés)-- algo que el mismo Nazareno aparenta admitir, cuando es citado diciendo: “Gloria de los hombres no recibo”- Juan 5:41.

¿Y donde se nos ha ordenado adorar solamente a יהוה? Pues en los versos de la Escritura hebrea que dicen:

«Yo יהוה; este es mi nombre; y a otro no daré mi gloria, ni mi alabanza... A יהוה tu Dios temerás, y a él sólo servirás... Yo, yo יהוה, y fuera de mí no hay quien salve... Porque yo יהוה, Dios tuyo, el Santo de Israel, soy tu Salvador... Y nombre de otros dioses no mentaréis, ni se oirá de vuestra boca...»- Isaías 42:8, Deut. 6:13, Isaías 43:11, Isaías 43:3, Éxodo 23:13

Verá usted, el desacuerdo que existe entre los creyentes Hebreos y los creyentes Nazarenos surge del hecho de que los Hebreos consideran que la teología Nazarena falta a la verdad. ¿En que momento? Pues en el momento en que postula que el Nazareno (paz y bendición sean siempre con él) era el Creador del Universo.

Es que nadie que posea un sabio, maduro, y sensato intelecto, aceptaría jamás la idea de que el Creador del Universo [aquel Dios omnipotente que es infinitamente poderoso, perfecto, e ilimitado], pueda ser tentado a postrarse en adoración y pleitesía ante ninguna de sus débiles, imperfectas, y limitadas criaturas [¡reconociendo así la superioridad de estas últimas!].

Y es por ello que, aunque le considera ser un válido mensajero de Dios para toda la humanidad, el Samaritanismo Reformado rechaza la idea de que el Nazareno halla literalmente sido el Creador. ¿Por que? Pues porque el evangelio cita al Galileo [el supuesto Creador del universo] siendo tentado por Satanás [una de sus supuestas criaturas]. Como esta escrito: «Otra vez le llevó el Diablo a un monte muy alto...y le dijo: “Todo esto te daré, si postrado me adorares...”»- Mateo 4:8-9.

De igual modo, siendo Creador y dueño del Universo, el Dios Omnipotente no tiene necesidad de que nadie le conceda poder ni autoridad alguna, pues ya toda le pertenece. Pero con respecto al Nazareno, este último tuvo necesidad de que alguien mas le diese autoridad; como esta escrito-- «Y acercándose Jesús, les habló, diciendo: “Toda autoridad me ha sido dada en el cielo y en la tierra”»- Mateo 28:18. Finalmente, la teología nazarena afirma que el Galileo era Dios, pero que a la misma vez era un hombre normal (es decir, una persona sujeta a caer en tentación, así como a cometer pecados).

Y lo anterior parecería ser perfectamente lógico, si no fuese por el hecho de que, cuando un hombre es tentado, es en realidad tentado a rebelarse contra la voluntad del único y verdadero Dios.

Pero si alguien tratase de tentar al único y verdadero Dios (¿Jesús?), ¿contra la voluntad de quien estaría siendo tentado a rebelarse? ¿Contra su propia voluntad? ¿O contra la voluntad de algún otro “único y verdadero Dios”? ¿Como puede existir mas de un “único y verdadero Dios”? Si un Dios es único, entonces no puede haber un segundo dios semejante a él; y si en efecto hay otro dios semejante a él, entonces no es realmente único.

En resumen, podríamos decir que, a fin de justificar su adoración por la figura del Nazareno, el evangelio demanda que el creyente Hebreo renuncie a la sabiduría y el sentido común, para abrazar en cambio un tipo de ingenua credulidad (o locura). Como esta escrito: “... Pues ya que en la sabiduría de Dios, el mundo no conoció a Dios mediante la sabiduría, agradó a Dios salvar a los creyentes por la locura de la predicación”- 1 Corintios 1:21.

Pero el Dios de Israel ha prohibido que los creyentes hagan tal cosa, cuando les ordena diciendo: “Sabiduría ante todo; adquiere sabiduría; Y sobre todas tus posesiones adquiere inteligencia”-

Proverbios 4:7. Y también dice en otro lugar: “Escucharé lo que hablará יהוה Dios; Porque hablará paz a su pueblo y a sus santos, Para que no se vuelvan a la locura”- Salmo 85:8.

¡Que el Creador bendiga con abundante Sabiduría a nuestros amados hermanos Nazarenos!

After a serious examination of it, the honest believer will come to discover that every aspect of the so called “Western culture” consistently opposes every moral principle taught [and commanded] by God’s Law. Thus, since the Hebrew word for “opposer” is “Satan”, it wouldn’t be wrong to say that Western culture is a modern form of “Practical Satanism”; the only difference been that, unlike it’s ancient counterpart, it is now used as a sort of “Trojan horse”, as it is hidden behind an outer layer of “economical prosperity”, “environmentalism”, “sustainable growth”, “self empowerment”, “progressive values”, “high income”, and “hi-tech” zeal for democracy, equality, and human/lgbt/female/animal rights. But, since Hebrew Scripture foretells that sooner or later the wicked will be destroyed (“For the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the LORD shall be as the fat of lambs--they shall pass away in smoke, they shall pass away”- Psalm 37:20, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition), it follows that no amount of economical, political, military, nor high-tech/media power will be able to prevent the coming demise of our mad, rebellious, deranged, and Sodomite-loving Western societies. May the Almighty grant us repentance before it is too late!

Amen

El grave error adventista

El Adventismo es una nueva y vibrante rama de la noble Fe Nazarena. Pero, siendo que sus creencia se fundamentan en los escritos de Elena G. de White (una persona que, aunque noble y buena, fue intelectualmente incapaz de siquiera completar la educación elemental), no debe sorprendernos el que “sus hijos ideológicos” abracen una teología que, a pesar de manifestar un literalismo simplista y superficial, se presenta a si misma con un aire de superioridad que casi raya en irónica e infantil fanfarronería religiosa.

Es que el teólogo adventista parte de la premisa de que todo lo que el evangelio dice y alega no solamente es absolutamente cierto, sino que debe ser tomado en un sentido estrictamente literal. Pero lo anterior es gravemente errado, pues el mismo evangelio aclara que Jesús (Paz sea con él) no hablaba sino por medio parábolas (o símbolos).

Como esta escrito: “Todo esto habló Jesús por parábolas a la gente, y SIN PARÁBOLAS NO LES HABLABA”-Mateo 13:34. Y esto último explica la razón por la cual no se ha cumplido el verso donde Jesús promete volver [por segunda vez] antes de que sus discípulos puedan recorrer todas las ciudades de Israel (“Cuando os persigan en esta ciudad, huid a la otra; porque DE CIERTO OS DIGO, QUE NO ACABARÉIS DE RECORRER TODAS LAS CIUDADES DE ISRAEL, ANTES QUE VENGA EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE”- Mateo 10:23). ¿Por que no se cumplió lo literalmente dicho por Jesús? ¡Pues porque Jesús no hablaba en sentido literal, sino parabólico!

Un segundo ejemplo podría ser el siguiente: Jesús promete volver en breve (“CIERTAMENTE VENGO EN BREVE. Amén; sí, ven, Señor Jesús”- Apocalipsis 22:20). Pero, ¿como es posible que sea “en breve”, si ya han transcurrido 2000 años sin que acabe de volver? Pues porque el “en breve” del cual habla Jesús, no es un “en breve” literal, sino simbólico.

Finalmente, Jesús dice que los creyentes sufrirían persecución “por diez días” (“... el diablo echará a algunos de vosotros en la cárcel, para que seáis probados, y TENDRÉIS TRIBULACIÓN POR DIEZ DÍAS...”- Apocalipsis 2:10). Pero la realidad histórica es que la persecución contra los cristianos duró casi 300 años. ¿Mintió acaso Jesús? No, pues la profecía no tenía que ser literalmente cierta. ¿Por que? Pues porque, como bien aclara el evangelio: “TODO ESTO HABLÓ JESÚS POR PARÁBOLAS A LA GENTE, Y SIN PARÁBOLAS NO LES HABLABA” (Mateo 13:34). ¡Que la paz y la bendición del Creador sean sobre usted!

¿Significa lo hasta aquí dicho que el Adventismo es falso, o que todos los creyentes adventistas habrán de perderse? ¡Jamás! Lo que significa es que la teología Adventista necesita madurar, y ser reformada. ¿Para que? A fin de que sea un mejor y mas fiel reflejo de las verdades eternas reveladas por Dios a su pueblo santo. ¡Bendiciones!

There is absolutely nothing wrong with the Hebrew believer endorsing the ethical and moral teachings ascribed to the Nazarene (peace and blessing be upon him)

Dear brothers and sisters, the reality is that there's nothing wrong with endorsing the ethical and moral teachings attached to the Nazarene; the fault, is in embracing the adulation [and self-deception] that implies offering to the Galilean the homage and adoration that we have been commanded to grant only to יהוה (Adonay Yah, the God who showed himself to our master Moses)--something that the Nazarene himself seems to admit, when he is quoted saying: "Glory of men I do not receive"- John 5:41.

Where have we been commanded to worship only יהוה? Well, in the verses of the Hebrew Scriptures that go on to say: «יהוה; This is my name; and to another I will not give my glory, nor my praise... You shall fear יהוה your God, and him only shall you serve... I, יהוה, and besides me there is no one to save... For יהוה, your God, the Holy One of Israel, am your Saviour... And you shall not mention the name of other gods, nor shall it be heard from your mouth...»- Isaiah 42:8, Deut. 6:13, Isaiah 43:11, Isaiah 43:3, Exodus 23:13.

You see, the disagreement that exists between the Hebrew believers and the Nazarene believers stems from the fact that the Hebrews consider Nazarene theology to be inaccurate. When is it inaccurate? When it claims that the Nazarene (peace and blessings be upon always him) is the Creator of the Universe. The reason being that no person having a wise, mature, and sensible intellect would ever accept the idea that the Creator of the Universe [the omnipotent God who is infinitely powerful, perfect, and unlimited], could be tempted to prostrate himself in adoration and homage before any of his weak, imperfect, and limited creatures [thus acknowledging the superiority of the latter!]. And that is why, although it considers him to be a valid messenger of God for all humanity, Reformed Samaritanism rejects the idea that the Nazarene was [literally] the Creator of the universe. And the former explains why Reform Samaritanism rejects the gospel narrative, when it goes on to portray the Nazarene [the alleged Creator of the universe] being tempted to worship Satan [one of his alleged creatures]. As it is written:

«Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me»- Matthew 4:8-9.

By the same token, being the Creator and owner of the whole Universe, the Almighty God has no need for anyone to grant him any power or authority, since all of it already belongs to him. But with respect to the Nazarene, the latter needed someone else to give him authority; as it is written-- «And Jesus approached, he spoke to them, saying: "All authority has been given to me in heaven and on earth"»- Matthew 28:18.

Finally, Nazarene theology claims that the Galilean was the Almighty, but at the same time was also a normal human being (in other words, a person subject to fall into temptation, as well as to commit sins).

And the former would seem to be perfectly logical, if it not were for the fact that, when a man is tempted, he is really tempted to rebel against the Almighty-- the only true and unique God As it has been said: «Hear, O Israel: “The Lord our God is One Lord (not two nor three Lords)...”- Deut. 6:4).

And even the gospel seem to recognize that there’s only one true and unique God, when it goes on to say: «And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, “Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord”- Mark 12:29.

But if someone [like Satan] were to tempt the Almighty (Jesus?), against whose will would the Almighty be tempted to rebel? Against his own will? Or against the will of another “only true and unique God”? How can there be more than “one true and unique God”? If a God is unique, then there can be no second god like it; and if there is indeed another god like him, then he is not really unique. In summary, it could be properly said that, in order to justify the worship of the Nazarene, the gospel requires the Hebrew believer to renounce to wisdom [as well as common sense], in order to embrace a sort of naive credulity (or folly).

As it is written: “For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe”- 1 Corinthians 1:21.

But the God of Israel has forbidden believers to do such a thing, when he commands them saying:

“Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding”-

Proverbs 4:7. And it also says in another place: “I will hear what God the Lord will speak: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints: but let them not turn again to folly”- Psalm 85:8. May the Creator bless our beloved Nazarene brothers with abundant Wisdom! Amen.

If Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) took upon himself the eternal punishment [in hell] that our many sins deserved, then why isn't Jesus still being punished in hell? Wasn't our punishment supposed to be eternal? Or was this just a shrewd “high pressure sales pitch” employed by Paul?

Christian theology claims that the true reason we humans die is that we've inherited [from our first fathers Adam and Eve] an original sin. And it also claims that faith in Jesus effectively removes such a sin. But if faith in Jesus cleanse the sin that makes us die, then why is it that Christian believers still die? Which sin has Jesus blood been unable to cleanse, that keeps them from overcoming death? Could it be possible that death was always part of God's natural order for beings made out of flesh and blood, and not the result of any alleged original sin?

Did Jesus [peace and blessings be upon him] really raise from the grave? Or was his resurrection instead the product of bold conjectures and speculation?

Although Christianity certainly is a noble [and perfectly valid] way to serve the Almighty, we must admit that, when it comes to the subject of Jesus own resurrection, the Christian Writings are [at best] ambiguous.

In other words, if we pay close attention to the doctrine that concerning the resurrection of the dead is articulated by the apostle Paul (1 Corinthians 15:44, and 1 Corinthians 15:50), we would have no other choice but to question the truthfulness of Jesus resurrection.

Why? Simply because Paul's definition crashes against the Gospel description of the very nature of such event. You see, speaking about the resurrection, the former verses state the following: "IT IS SOWN [IN THE GRAVE] A NATURAL BODY, [BUT] IT IS RAISED [FROM THE GRAVE] A SPIRITUAL BODY ..."; and they also say, "... FLESH AND BLOOD CANNOT INHERIT THE KINGDOM OF GOD ...".

In other words, Paul claims that, after a person dies, what comes out of the grave isn't a body of "flesh, bones, and blood", but rather a spiritual body. But, against this interpretation, the Gospel quotes Jesus telling his disciples that he has risen in a body of "flesh and bones". As is written: "Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself; touch me and see; because A SPIRIT DOES NOT HAVE FLESH OR BONE, AS YOU SEE THAT I HAVE" (Luke 24:39).

In addition, the very Gospel states that, those who [allegedly] saw Jesus after his resurrection were not completely sure if the person in front of them was actually Jesus [as he didn't physically look like him], or was instead someone speaking in Jesus name. As is written: "Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And [though they did not physically recognize him] NONE OF THE DISCIPLES DURST ASK HIM, WHO ART YOU? knowing [by conjecture] that it was the Lord"- John 21:12, King James Bible.

And this uncertainty concerning the identity of the person who claimed to be the resurrected Jesus lingered until the very end of the narrative, as some of the apostles still had doubts about the whole issue of resurrection. As is written: "Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them. And when they saw him, they worshiped him: BUT SOME DOUBTED. And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying... Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost"- Matthew 28:16-19, KJV.

But if the record of Jesus resurrection is so incoherent, why would "The New Testament" willingly include it in his pages? Well, the answer is quite simple [though known only by a chosen few]. You see, the Christian writings make extensive use of what ancient Roman politicians used to call, "the power of ambiguity".

For example, while on one hand the New Testament claims that Jesus will come back very soon («The one who bears witness to these things says, "Yes, I'M COMING SOON"»- Revelation 22:20, Common English Bible); on the other hand it claims that, in the eyes of God, a thousand years are like one single day ("Don't let it escape your notice, dear friends, that WITH THE LORD A SINGLE DAY IS LIKE A THOUSAND YEARS AND A THOUSAND YEARS ARE LIKE A SINGLE DAY"- 2 Peter 3:8).

So, when you confront a Christian believer with the fact that Jesus has failed to fulfill his promise of returning soon, the believer can always take advantage of this ambiguity, claiming that Jesus hasn't really been delayed; as, "in the eyes of God", the last 2000 years have been like 2 days! (a very short time!!).

Thus, just as it happens with the campaign promises of a shrewd politician, the ambiguities purposely built into the New Testament give all Christian believers the "unlimited power" to prove [or disprove] almost anything he wants.

And the former explains why we are better off focusing on Moses Five books of Torah, as the theological content of these books is clear, and unambiguous; teaching us that there's only one God [not a Trinity]; a Just and merciful Being who wants His people to strive on the path of goodness; A fair God, who rewards us whenever we do the good described by His commandments, while punishing us whenever we stray away from the path [without resolving to repent and return].

So, no gimmicks, no Monday morning quarterbacking, and no mental gymnastics are required in order to honestly serve the God of Abraham.

As is written: “THIS COMMANDMENT that I'm giving you right now IS DEFINITELY NOT TOO DIFFICULT FOR YOU. it isn't unreachable... Now in light of all that, Israel, WHAT DOES THE LORD YOUR GOD ASK OF YOU? ONLY THIS: TO REVERE THE LORD YOUR GOD BY WALKING IN ALL HIS WAYS, BY LOVING HIM, BY SERVING THE LORD YOUR GOD WITH ALL YOUR HEART AND BEING, AND BY KEEPING THE LORD'S COMMANDMENTS and his regulations that I'm commanding you right now. it's for your own good!” - Deuteronomy 30:11, & 10:12-13 (Common English Bible). May peace be upon you!

Truth, though severe, is of all friends the most sincere

Don't be good to the bad, and you won't be “had”

The book of Ecclesiastes states that, in all things, man ought to find a healthy balance, avoiding all radical extremes. As it has been said: “Be not righteous overmuch; neither make thyself overwise; why shouldest thou destroy thyself? Be not overmuch wicked, neither be thou foolish; why shouldest thou die before thy time?”- Ecclesiastes 7:16-17 (J.P.S., 1917 Edition).

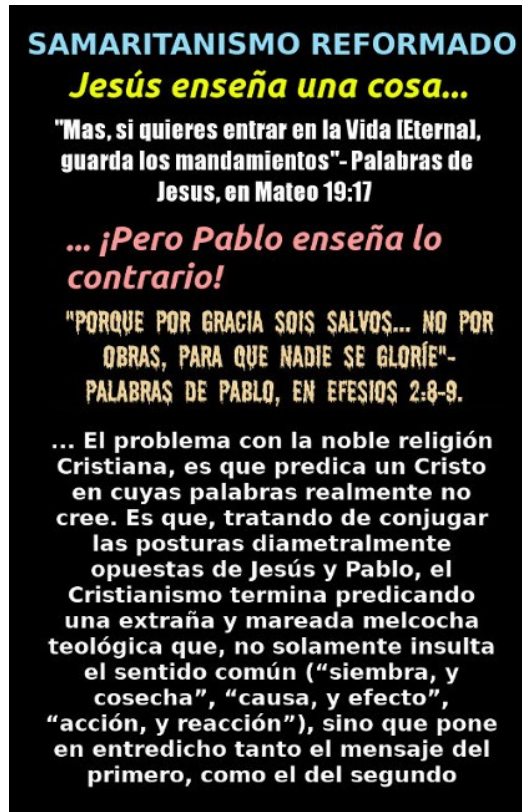

The following legend might help to clarify the point:

--While going up to the holy land, a righteous man decided to make a stop by the side of the road, in order to get some rest. Suddenly, he noticed two nearby birds struggling against one another, resulting in one of the birds killing the other. Then, the surviving bird went and fetched a leaf of a certain plant, placed it inside the dead bird's beak, and brought him back to life. The righteous man said to himself: “I will grab this plant and, upon reaching the holy land, I will go on and revive the dead!”. When he was about to enter the land, he saw the dead body of a lion, lying on the side of the road, so he said to himself: “I will use the dead lion, in order to test the effectiveness of the miraculous plant”. Thus, after placing a leaf inside the lion's mouth, the lion came back to life and, jumping upon the man, proceeded to devour him. Thus, the former story explains the saying that goes on to say: Don't be good to the bad, and you won't be “had”--

Concerning the former, Reformed Samaritanism states that, while it is true that we ought to do goodness, we can't be so good [towards the wicked], that our goodness make us bad [toward the righteous]... Yes! We must be kind towards the criminal, but we can't be carried away by our kindness, so that we end up disregarding [and vilifying] the innocent, instead of the guilty; the victim, instead of the criminal. Consider the case of our father Abraham, who [mistakenly] was being good towards the guilty, but not so good towards the innocent.

In other words, though he started being exceedingly forceful [and diligent] pleading for the well being of the wicked [the alien Sodomite people], he ended up not being near as forceful [and diligent] when pleading for his own righteous son (Ishmael). Abraham cared much for the wicked Sodomites [which God totally despised, ultimately destroying them], but cared little for his innocent teenager son [whom God did not only save by means of a miracle, but prospered to the extend of turning him into a great nation].

Whence we know Ishmael was innocent? We know it from the fact that, when Sarah demanded the latter to be thrown away [into the wilderness], Ishmael could not have been more than 17 years old. And Torah teaches man doesn't know the difference between good and evil [and therefore isn't accountable for his sins] until he is at least 20 years old. As it is written: "Moreover your little ones, that ye said should be a prey, and YOUR CHILDREN, THAT THIS DAY HAVE NO KNOWLEDGE OF GOOD OR EVIL, they shall go in thither, and unto them will I give it, and they shall possess it"- Deut. 1:39, J.P.S 1917 Edition).

Whom were the guiltless little ones that were considered worthy of entering the Holy land? Those who were younger than 20 years old, as it has been said: "Surely none of the men that came up out of Egypt, FROM TWENTY YEARS OLD AND UPWARD, shall see the land which I swore unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob; because they have not wholly followed Me"- Numbers 32:11. Thus, even if Ishmael's conduct was less than perfect, being less than 20 years old, the Almighty considered him to be guiltless; as attested by the fact that his prayer was heard, and he was thus miraculously saved and prospered («And GOD HEARD THE VOICE OF THE LAD; and the angel of God called to Hagar out of heaven, and said unto her: "What aileth thee, Hagar? FEAR NOT; FOR GOD HATH HEARD THE VOICE OF THE LAD where he is. Arise, lift up the lad, and hold him fast by thy hand; for I WILL MAKE HIM A GREAT NATION". And God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water; and she went, and filled the bottle with water, and gave the lad drink. AND GOD WAS WITH THE LAD, and he grew; and he dwelt in the wilderness, and became an archer»- Genesis 21:17-20, J.P.S. 1917 Edition)

Sin consists of departing from the revelation of God's Divinely appointed order

Reformed Samaritanism portrays the Almighty as being the true and wise architect of the Universe. And it also teaches that, the natural order God chose to build into the universe, is a manifestation of the Holy One's will and wisdom. Thus, whenever we brazenly attempt to oppose such order, we start to sin against God [pridefully pretending to be stronger and wiser than the Almighty!]. Does the former mean God is somehow affected by our sins? Of course not! Why? Because our sin cannot hurt any spirit [let alone the Supreme Spirit ruling all the Universes]... it can only hurt beings of flesh and blood! Why should we follow God's order? Because, been the Creator of the Universe, God has a perfect knowledge of how the latter is supposed to work.

Reformed Samaritanism
A true Hebrew believer is he who is more concerned about standing up for the righteousness commanded by the Holy One [upon the two stone tablets], than making sure to get the praise [or approval] of either Jews or Gentiles. As it is written: "They that forsake The Law, praise the wicked; but such as keep The Law contend with them [no matter if the are Jews or Gentiles]"- Proverbs 28:4, Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition

Thus, if God created the body so that it gets rid of any excess heat, trying to smoke a cigar with the flame inside our mouths would be a foolish sin-- one that can only hurt our own body; If God designed or bodies so that [relatively soft] fecal matter is discharge out of our rear end, it would be a foolish and dangerous sin to use it otherwise-- constantly letting an erected penis get into it [as if we we could somehow create a new bodily function, or "reverse defecate"!]; If God designed gravity so that the dust upon the steps of a ladder ought to be cleansed starting from the top, it means all big "ladders" (religious, political, scientific, social, and economic establishments) ought to be cleansed starting from the top [it's leaders, rulers, and politicians]. Why? Because doing otherwise would be sinfully foolish, as it would amount to "straining out a gnat, while gulping down the camel" [in other words, it would only make the oppression of the powerful to last much longer]; If God designed nature so that, whenever a new tree starts to grow crooked we are forced to straighten it using a rod, it means that whenever a new man (a child) starts to behave in a crooked fashion, we need to make him straight again using "the rod of discipline". As it has been said: "Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child; but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him"- Proverbs 22:15. And doing otherwise would not only be sinful, but will [in the end] bring even greater suffering!

The reason why Hebrew (Torah observant) believers despise "political correctness"---> «And Jehu the son of Hanani the seer went out to meet him, and said to king Jehoshaphat: "Shouldest thou help the wicked, and love them that hate the LORD? for this thing wrath is upon thee from before the LORD"»- 2 Chronicles 19:2, Jewish Publication Society (1917 Edition)

Why was Israel chosen to be God's people?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that The Holy One speaks through dreams, metaphors, parables (paradigms), and riddles. As it has been said:

«And he looked on Amalek, and took up his parable, and said: “Amalek was the first of the nations; but his end shall come to destruction”... if there be a prophet among you, I the LORD do make Myself known unto him in a vision, I do speak with him in a dream... and by the ministry of the prophets have I used similitudes... Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel... ”- Numbers 12:6, Hosea 12:11, Ezekiel 17:2.

Thus, since parables and similitudes are the very foundation of all Divine revelation, it is only logical that we assume God’s chosen nation to be part of such [allegorical] revelation; that they too are part of Divine paradigm pointing at a far greater reality-- to the idea that the ancient nation of Israel was chosen [by God] to serve as a divine paradigm. What kind of paradigm? One pointing at the fact that, no matter what race [or nation] he belongs to, the man who possess a pure heart is [by default] part of God’s own chosen people.

As it has been said: “Surely God is good to Israel (which Israel?)... even to such as are pure in heart”- Psalm 73:1, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition. On the other hand, when the literal nation of Israel turns away from God’s Law, it ceases to incarnate the paradigm of God’s chosen people, and incarnate instead the paradigm of gentile (wicked) nations.

As it has been said: «But of late my people is risen up as an enemy... They have belied the LORD, and said: “It is not He (He doesn’t exist!), neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine”... I will punish the men that are settled on their lees, that say in their heart: “The LORD will not do good, neither will He do evil”... As I live, saith the Lord GOD, Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters... Hear the word of the LORD, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah”- Micah 2:8, Jeremiah 5:12, Zephaniah 1:12, Ezekiel 16:48, Isaiah 1:10 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition). May the Holy One keep Israel in the path of the righteous! Amen.

Why does the Holy One considers the idolatry of flesh and blood such a heinous sin?

Reformed Samaritanism defines idolatry as “the consumption” of the idea that, the totality of the Infinite, Unlimited, Immortal, and Morally Perfect Creator of the Universe, can also be ascribed to any member [or any part] of His creation; even if the latter creature [or part of creation] remains finite, limited, mortal, and morally imperfect [which is the ideological equivalent of claiming that a person isn’t really naked, but rather donning invisible clothes].

In fact, this idea is so absurd and worthless, that Hebrew Scripture doesn’t hesitate to associate it with physical excrement. As it is written: “and they tore down the pillar of Baal. Then they tore down the temple of Baal and made it a latrine—which it still is today”- 2 Kings 10:27 (Christian Standard Bible).

And the former is the reason why God’s Law prevents the believer from consuming [thereby “becoming one with”...] Crabs, Shrimp, Lobster, etc. Why? Because the latter are “Bottom feeders”, consuming the “sea snow” [or excrement] produced by animals living at higher sea elevations [as if to hint at the idea that the believer can have no part of such a worthless thing].

In fact, even the New testament seems to agree with this viewpoint. Whence we get it? We get it from the fact that, right after pagans deemed them to be gods under human guise (“The gods have come down to us in human form!”- Acts 14:11), the Christian apostles went on to rebuke the multitude, telling them the following: “People! Why are you doing these things? We are people also, just like you, and we are proclaiming good news to you, that you turn from these worthless things to the living God, who made the heaven, the earth, the sea, and everything in them”- Acts 14:15 (Christian Standard Bible).

Reformed Samaritanism
The "sowing and reaping" religion based upon obedience to the Ten Laws given by יהוה (the God of Abraham) to our master Moses

"If you embrace confession and obedience, peace of mind you'll soon experience... but if you worship the flesh and the blood, your peace of mind will come to a stop"

(La confesión y la obediencia, traerán paz a tu conciencia.... Pero endiosar a un hombre mortal, te traerá una crisis mental)

The Second Coming of Moses, the Messiah of all Messiahs

The Hebrew term that the Christian (English) bible translates as "anointed" is the Hebrew word "Mashiach". And the latter is the same word Christian bibles translate into the word "Messiah" [or "Christos"].

In other words, Hebrew Scripture teaches that, "a Mashiach" [or "a Messiah"], is an "anointed" person. Anointed for what?-- anointed to perform a Divine function, such as exercising the post of High Priest, the post of King, the post of prophet, the post of Levite, etc.

In addition, the Law teaches that the first person who was ever called "Messiah" [or "Ha Mashiach"], was Aaron (the High Priest). As it is written: « אִם חִזְקֵהוּן הַמְשִׁיחַ יְהוֹטֵא (If the Priest, THE MESSIAH, sins...» Leviticus 4:3. But who anointed Aaron? Who made him "the anointed one" [or "the Messiah"]? Wasn't it Moses? And isn't it also true that the person who bestows an anointing is greater than the one who receives it?

Thus, common sense dictates that Moses was greater than "the Mashiach" (Aaron); for it was Moses who anointed Aaron, and not Aaron who anointed Moses. And this is the reason why, the book of Exodus, says that, before the Tabernacle could be accepted for Divine service, it had to be approved [or "blessed"] by Moses; as it is written- «AND THEY BROUGHT THE TABERNACLE TO MOSES, the TABernacle and all its utensils...AND MOSES SAW ALL THE WORK, and behold, they had done it as יהוה had commanded; AND HE BLESSED THEM»- Exodus 39:33&43.

Not only this, but Moses was the one who erected the Tabernacle ("Moses set up the Tabernacle, and set its bases, and placed its boards, and set its bars, and set up its pillars..."- Exodus 40:18- 33). In addition, it was Moses who personally anointed Aaron as Messiah ("And Moses took the anointing oil, and anointed the tabernacle, and all that was therein, and sanctified them. And he sprinkled therefrom upon the altar seven times And he anointed the altar and all its utensils, and he poured out the anointing oil on Aaron's head, and anointed him to sanctify him"- Leviticus 8:10-36).

Why was Moses able to do all these things? Well, because Moses embodied the supreme revelation! In other words, only to Moses [and not to Aaron, nor to any other Mashiach], was revealed [on the summit of Sinai] the precise form of the Tabernacle [that is, the most holy, intimate, and pure nature of the divine service].

Thus, the Law shows that even Aaron could not exercise his role as "Mashiach" ("Anointed"), until after he had recognized the superiority of Moses. And how did he recognize it? Well, by letting Moses be the first one to do everything that, as the future Messiah, Aaron would later do; In other words, letting Moses be the first to enter into the most holy place (putting the ark there, according to Exodus 40:20-21); letting Moses be the first to offer a sacrifice upon the altar of burnt offering (Leviticus 8:14-24); letting Moses be the first one to light-up the seven-branched lamp (Exodus 40:24-25); letting Moses be the first one to burn the sacred incense (Exodus 40:26-27); letting Moses be the first one to put the bread loaves upon the table (Exodus 40:22-23); leaving Moses be the first one to anoint and sanctify both the sacrificial altar and everything that was within the periphery of the tabernacle (Leviticus 8:15 & Exodus 40:9-11); and letting Moses be the first one to anoint the future Mashiach that would be Aaron (Exodus 40:13 & Leviticus 8:12).

In short, the Law shows that it was Moses who anointed and sanctified the first [and thereby foremost] Mashiach (Aaron). In addition, Moses sanctified the sons of Aaron (Leviticus 8:30). And these last ones were only prototypes of all the Messiahs that were to come down the road. In addition, Moses sanctified all the Divine service that the Mashiach [Aaron] would carry out [in the future] for the benefit of the children of Israel.

But where did Moses get all this power from? Who [or what] empowered him to anoint any Mashiach? Well, the reality is that the Divine Law doesn't show Moses receiving power (or being anointed) by any human being [that is, by any other man greater than he]; what in effect the Scripture shows, is that Moses capacity arose from the power that rested upon his person by virtue of the one who constituted him "Elohim" (Supreme Judge) before Pharaoh, and before his great ones (that is, before the Kings and the powerful men of the Earth); as it is written- "Look, I have made you Elohim (Supreme Judge) for Pharaoh, and your brother Aaron will be your prophet." In other words, the Law teaches that Moses was so superior to Aaron [the Mashiach], as the Supreme Judge (God) was superior to any of his prophets.

You see, in his infinite wisdom, the Creator has chosen to give Moses the primacy in all things concerning Divine service; so that, until the end of time, the Hebrew people would continue to believe, revere, obey, and imitate every saying, every action, and every idea taught by Moses.

As it is written- «Then יהוה said to Moses: "BEHOLD, I AM COMING TO YOU IN A THICK CLOUD, SO THAT THE PEOPLE MAY HEAR while I speak with you, and also SO THAT THEY MAY BELIEVE YOU FOREVER»- Exodus 19:9.

And this "Supreme Judge" [or "God"] who manifested himself thru Moses is intimated in the book of Genesis. Why? Because, after recognizing the supremacy of the God who had given life to all things (Genesis 1:1), God's Law goes on to foretell the power that would be manifested in Moses; as it is written- "AND DARKNESS WAS ON THE FACE OF THE DEEP, AND THE SPIRIT OF GOD MOVED UPON THE FACE OF THE WATERS" (Genesis 1:2).

Of what darkness does the passage prophesy? Well, of the darkness that would manifest in Egypt! [I.e., Egyptian slavery, as well as the decree to kill all Hebrew children]. And who is prophesied to be "the Spirit of God hovering over the face of the waters"?-- the child Moses, who would move (floating inside the basket) upon the face of the waters [of the Nile River]!

And this is why the Law teaches that the Creator took a portion of the Spirit that was already within Moses, and gave it to the seventy elders who were to lead Israel (symbol of the seventy nations of the World); as it is written- «AND I WILL DESCEND AND SPEAK THERE WITH YOU [Moses], AND I WILL TAKE OF THE SPIRIT WHICH IS IN YOU, AND PUT INTO THEM... Then יהוה descended in the cloud, and spoke to him (to Moses); AND HE TOOK OF THE SPIRIT WHICH WAS IN HIM [IE, IN MOSES], AND PUT IT INTO THE SEVENTY ELDERLY MEN »-Numbers 11: 17 & 25. And it is also for this reason that the Law shows that, unlike any other prophet, Moses' face shone continually with Divine glory. Similarly, the Law teaches that [through the manna] Moses satisfied the hunger of God's people.

And, drawing water from the Rock, he also quenched the thirst of Israel; Moses was the one to whom Israel turned, when it needed an intercessor whom God would listen to; Moses was the one who appeased God's anger against Israel; And Moses was the one who marched before the Hebrew believers, during their journey in the wilderness. In short, that Moses is the light that shines for Israel (Exodus 34:35); Moses is the intermediary between God and the Hebrew believers (Numbers 11:2, & 5:27); Moses is the one who quenches the hunger and thirst of the Hebrew believers (Exodus 16:13-15, & 17:5-6); Moses is the one who delivers the believer from the Divine wrath (Numbers 11:2, & Exodus 32:11-14); and Moses is the one who leads believers to the Promised Land, symbol of the World to Come (Exodus 33:1-3).

As a curious note, notice that the Hebrew word that we normally translate as “Messiah” (מָשִׁיחַ), is an extended form of the Hebrew word we translate as “Moses” (מֹשֶׁה). This intimates the fact that Moses was the first Messiah; but that, unlike the latter, his anointing was not given with oil, nor with incense, but rather with water [that is, the waters of the Nile River]. And this in turn points to the water in the womb of Jochebed, the mother of Moses (Exodus 6:20).

What does this all mean? Well, it means that Moses would be the first and greatest of all the Messiahs; for his anointing did not come from any man, but from the one who anointed him [with water] from his mother's womb. That is, Moses was born with the anointing of that Elohim (or “Supreme Judge”) whose spirit would manifest upon his person.

And it is perhaps because of this that, describing his birth, the Hebrew text goes on to say that Moses was born "Good"; As it is written- «and she gave birth to a son; and seeing him that he was "beautiful", he kept him hidden for three months »-Exodus 2: 2. In the previous passage, the term that the English version translates as "beautiful" is the Hebrew word "Tov" (טוֹב), a word that literally means "good".

And why are we told that Moses was good? Because the Scripture taught that all things created [directly] by God were good; as it is written- "And God saw all that he had made, and behold, he was good (tov)..."- Genesis 1:31. In other words, Moses' parents perceived that his son had been created by God; and that therefore he would come to embody all the goodness prepared by God for mankind-- meaning all the salvation, all the deliverance, all the power, all the kingdom, all the glory, all the miracles, and all the benefits provided by God for His creatures.

And that's why God's Law portrays Moses as being [among mortal human beings] the greatest of all divinely appointed messengers-- Moses was the greatest liberator of Israel [because just with a simple rod, he was able to free Israel from Egyptian slavery]; Moses was the greatest intermediary between God and his People [because, on multiple occasions, he saved Israel from Divine destruction]; Moses was the greatest prophet, for (according to Exodus 33:11) he spoke "face to face" with God; Moses was the greatest Shepherd [as, in the wilderness, he guided Israel for 40 years in a row]; Moses was the reflection of the Divine glory [as his face shone constantly]; Moses was the greatest Priest and Messiah [for he not only anointed and sanctified the Messiah-- who would be the High Priest Aaron--, but also sanctified the ark, the altar, and all things pertaining to the Tabernacle]; Moses was the greatest provider [as his merits allowed Israel to receive food and drink for 40 consecutive years]; Moses was the greatest and wisest lawgiver [giving everlasting statutes and commandments to Israel];

Moses was the greatest King, since the Creator himself made him “King over Jeshurun” (Deut. 33:4-5); Moses was the source of the Holy Spirit [for God distributed upon the leaders of Israel a potion of the spirit resting upon Moses]; Moses was the greatest of all the leaders [for he never lost a battle against any of his human enemies]; Moses was the healthiest of all men [for he never lost his vigor and vitality];

Moses was the meekest and humblest of all men [for he never exalted himself, nor did he demand homage or recognition from Israel]; And Moses was the most exalted man [for it was God himself who took care of taking him out of the World].

Finally, Moses represents the greatest hope of all. Why? Because the Law intimates that Moses will return again, in order to finish [and fulfill] the promise of goodness uttered toward all of his followers-- to introduce them into the Land that flows with milk and Honey [symbol of the entry into “Olam haba”, or “ the World that is to Come”]; as it is written- «We are journeying unto the place of which the LORD said: “I will give it you”; COME THOU WITH US, AND WE WILL DO THEE GOOD; for the LORD hath spoken good concerning Israel... AND IT SHALL BE, IF THOU GO WITH US, YEA, IT SHALL BE, THAT WHAT GOOD SOEVER THE LORD SHALL DO UNTO US, THE SAME WILL WE DO UNTO THEE»- Numbers 10:29&32.

Never sell your soul to the wicked!

The king of Sodom offered to purchase Abraham’s soul. Whence we know it? We know it from the verse [in Genesis 14:21] that goes on to say:

וַיֹּאמֶר מֶלֶךְ-סֹדֶם, אֶל-אַבְרָם: תֵּן-לִי הַנֶּפֶשׁ, וְהִרְכַשׁ קַח-לָךְ

What does the verse actually say? The verse literally says the following: “Give me the soul (your soul!), and [I’ll let you] take the goods for yourself”. And the former is the precise reason why the ancient sages taught that the Sodomite leadership brazenly offered to purchase Abraham’s soul.

Curiously, modern day Sodomites do something quite similar against the believers. In other words, by placing openly gay people at the helm of every major private and governmental institution, they try to intimidate the believer, as if to say: “Your backward and ignorant “bible-based” morality cannot give you job stability, pay your mortgage, pay your food, nor cover your medical plan; So, you better not dare opposing us, nor the agenda we stand for”.

It is said that, when Fidel Castro started to institute Cuban communism, grade-school teachers would gather the kids, and tell them the following: “You want some ice-cream?... If so, then pray aloud, and ask God to bring you some”... After the kids had gotten tired of asking God, the teacher would tell them: “Now let’s forget about God, and ask instead Fidel... let’s find out which of the two is more reliable...”. Of course, as soon as they asked Fidel, the hidden iced-cream would be brought into the class room.

Dios no espera que el hombre que cree en la veracidad de la Ley Divina acepte “el regalo gratuito” de la Salvación

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que es falso que el Santo de Israel (bendito sea) espere que los creyentes acepten incondicionalmente “el regalo” [o la “dádiva”] de la Salvación gratuita postulado por la noble tradición Cristiana.

¿Por que? Pues porque el mismo Creador ha ordenado a su Pueblo rechazar los regalos y las dádivas, ya que estos últimos impiden juzgar con claridad, pervierten la Justicia, y corrompen el corazón. Y lo anterior fue precisamente la razón por la cual el rey David no estuvo dispuesto a honrar al Creador con los bueyes y la leña que le ofrecía gratuitamente su siervo Arauna. Como esta escrito: «Y Arauna dijo a David: “Tome y ofrezca mi señor el rey lo que bien le pareciere; he aquí bueyes para el holocausto, y los trillos y los yugos de los bueyes para leña. Todo esto, oh rey, Arauna lo da [gratuitamente] al rey”... Y el rey dijo a Arauna: No, sino por precio te lo compraré; porque no ofreceré a YHVH mi Dios holocaustos que no me cuesten nada...”- 2 Samuel 24:22-24 (Reina Valera 1960).

Y el hecho de que Dios no desea que aceptemos regalo ni dádiva alguna es claramente ilustrado en los versos que proceden a decir: “No recibirás presente; porque el presente ciega a los que ven, y pervierte las palabras de los justos... Ciertamente la opresión hace entontecer al sabio, y las dádivas corrompen el corazón...”- Éxodo 23:8, & Eclesiastés 7:7 (Biblia Reina Valera, 1960).

¿Significa lo hasta aquí dicho que el Cristianismo es una falsa religión, o que todos los Cristianos están destinados a perderse? ¡Absolutamente no! Lo que significa es que el Cristiano debe mejorar su teología [renunciando al auto-engaño y a la seducción que implican el exagerado culto a la personalidad humana del Nazareno], para aceptar en cambio aquella interpretación que ha de traer paz a su alma, tanto como serenidad a su mente [siendo cónsona con la honestidad y la justicia, así como con el sentido común y la razón].

Y esto último, sin importar si el instrumento utilizado por Dios para retaurar tal interpretación es el Judaísmo, el Cristianismo, el Islam, o el Samaritanismo Reformado. ¡Que la paz del Creador sea sobre vosotros!

Atheism, Gay rights, women's rights, equality, multi-culturalism... the modern [yet deceptive] song of sirens!! In truth, they are just the functional tentacles of the "political correctness" beast; Cultural marxists weapons designed to covertly "divide & conquer" the societies they want to overrun. Be careful, lest your gay people start feeling more empathy toward Marxist gay activist, than toward their straight [and democratic] local authorities; It's the road that leads to open treason! Assert your National identity (language, religion, culture, family values) and crush this Marxist trap!

Should man find it's fulfillment following a Hedonistic lifestyle (satisfying all of his lusts and desires)?

Reformed Samaritanism associates youthful physical lusts with the heart's impulse to do evil (also known as “yetzer ha-ra”). As it is written:

כִּי יֵצֵר לֵב הָאָדָם רָע מִנְעוּרָיו

(“... for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth...” - Genesis 8:21, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

Thus, just as it happened with Noah’s own generation, he who sows evil (following his evil impulse) will reap evil; while he who sows goodness (following his “yetzer tov”, also known as “good impulse”, or “upright heart”) will reap goodness. As it has been said:

הִיטִיבָה יְהוָה, לְטוֹבִים; וְלִישָׂרִים, בְּלִבּוֹתָם.

(“Do good, O LORD, unto the good, and to them that are upright in their hearts”- Psalm 125:4, JPS)

And it also states elsewhere: “A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth, and the doings of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him”- Proverbs 12:14, JPS 1917 Edition).

But, whence can we get the wisdom required to tell apart good from evil? We get such wisdom from Moses Torah. As it is written: «BEHOLD, I HAVE TAUGHT YOU STATUTES AND ORDINANCES, EVEN AS THE LORD MY GOD COMMANDED ME, that ye should do so in the midst of the land whither ye go in to possess it. OBSERVE THEREFORE AND DO THEM; FOR THIS IS YOUR WISDOM AND YOUR UNDERSTANDING in the sight of the peoples, that, when they hear all these statutes, shall say: 'SURELY THIS GREAT NATION IS A WISE AND UNDERSTANDING PEOPLE'»- Deuteronomy 4:5-6, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition.

The power hungry tyrants hiding behind global media [as well as global establishments] desperately want to convince you that things like faith, family values, traditions, love for your country and culture, etc, are burdens smart people ought to abandon... But the reality is that they know those are the very things that keep you rooted; thereby preventing them from totally enslaving you... Beware!, as these tyrants are egocentric and antisocial psychopaths who lack any remorse or empathy for the suffering they cause to other human beings; men and women lacking moral sensibility [not caring about right and wrong], often displaying the criminal tendencies of he who things inferior people should be enslaved and/or exterminated ¿Creó Dios a Satanás? ¿Creó Dios el mal y el pecado?

La Escritura Hebrea dice así: “¿Habrà algún mal en la ciudad, el cual יהוה no haya hecho?...”- Amós 3:6. Respecto a este último punto, el Samaritanismo Reformado postula que, el decir que Dios haya “creado todas las cosas” no es realmente preciso, sino que sería mas preciso decir que “todas las cosas existen simultáneamente DENTRO DE DIOS” (el pasado y el futuro, la vida y la muerte, el mundo físico y el mundo espiritual, la ignorancia y la sabiduría, el bien y el mal, la materia y la energía, las leyes de la física, etc).

De este modo, la realidad es que el Omnipotente escoge “traer” alguna cosa a la luz solamente en el momento que así lo determina (y es a este proceso de “traer algo a la luz” lo que la Escritura llama “la creación” de tal o cual cosa).

Curiosamente, el apóstol Pablo parece pregonar esta misma verdad, cuando es citado diciendo: “Porque en El (Dios) vivimos, y nos movemos, y somos...”- Hechos 17:28.

Es en este sentido que no esta alejado de la verdad decir que “DIOS ES TODAS LAS COSAS”, pero que, a la misma vez, “DIOS NO ES NINGUNA COSA EN PARTICULAR”. ¿Por que? Pues porque cualquier cosa en particular sería solo una despreciablemente diminuta porción de su infinita esencia. ¿Y de donde sabemos que, aún si tal cosa en particular fuese el mismo universo (es decir, “los cielos de los cielos”), no sería lo suficientemente grande como para contener toda la esencia del Creador? Pues lo sabemos del sabio Rey Salomón, cuando dice: “Pero ¿es verdad que Dios morará sobre la tierra? HE AQUÍ QUE LOS CIELOS, LOS CIELOS DE LOS CIELOS (ES DECIR, TODO EL UNIVERSO), NO TE PUEDEN CONTENER...”- 1 Reyes 8:27. ¡Que la Paz del Creador sea con usted!

*"Cuando el sabio
apunta hacia la
Luna...
El tonto se queda
mirando el dedo"...*
--Proverbio Chino--

What about the gospel’s account concerning Jesus encounter with a Samaritan woman?

Is the holy gospel divinely inspired? What about the gospel’s account relating Jesus encounter with a Samaritan woman? Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the objective truth that could have been contained within the pages of the new testament was somehow “doctored” by the ruling establishment.

Why? In order to make it conform to their “convenient” (self-serving) narrative... What narrative? That Christianity (Rome's religion) was the one true faith revealed by the one true God; therefore, the whole world was expected to submit to Rome (as the former was the supreme and unquestionable representative of the supreme and unquestionable God).

And the former seems to explain the existence of the many [and serious] contradictions found in the pages of the new testament; like the case where, while on the one hand we find Jesus praising a “Good Samaritan” for his knowledge of God’s heart, on the other hand we find him scolding a Samaritan woman-- telling her that Samaritans don't know the nature of the God they claim to worship.

NOTE: Curiously, something similar seems to be happening in our own time with the United States of America, as the latter demands the submission of all other nations. Why? Because they claim to be the supreme and unquestionable representatives of the supreme and unquestionable god of critical race theory, humanism, environmentalism, democracy, political correctness, social justice, and human/female/lgbt rights

Christianity is an awesome religion; but sadly, Christian theology is intentionally ambiguous, and deceptive

Christianity is an awesome religion. The problem with Christianity, is that it’s theology often amounts to shameless incoherence, mixed with a hefty dose of arbitrary hairsplitting [things you would normally expect from a shrewd politician-- not from a God of justice, truth, and certainty]. Consider a few examples:

(1) While on one hand Christianity claims that Adam and Eve were initially immortals [even though God had asked them to get marry, and beget children]; on the other hand it will tell you that immortal beings don't ever get marry, or beget any children ("But those who are counted worthy to take part in that age and in the resurrection from the dead NEITHER MARRY NOR ARE GIVEN IN MARRIAGE, FOR THEY CAN NO LONGER DIE..."- Luke 20:35-36, Christian Standard Bible).

(2) While on one side, Christianity tells you there is no truth in the demon ("He was a murderer from the beginning and does not stand in the truth, because THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM"- John 8:44, Christian Standard Bible); On the other side it will tell you the demon truthfully declares Jesus to be the Son of God ("Also, DEMONS WERE COMING OUT OF MANY, SHOUTING AND SAYING, "YOU ARE THE SON OF GOD!""- Luke 4:41, Christian Standard Bible).

(3) While on one hand, Christianity will tell you that Jesus had a God ("But go to my brothers and tell them that I am ascending to my Father and your Father, TO MY GOD AND YOUR GOD"- John 20:17, Christian Standard Bible), on the other hand it will tell you that Jesus himself was God ("while we wait for the blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of OUR GREAT GOD AND SAVIOR, JESUS CHRIST"- Titus 2:13, Christian Standard Bible)

(4) While on one hand, Christianity will tell you the Jewish leaders should not be obeyed, as they represent their father the Devil ("... YOU ARE OF YOUR FATHER THE DEVIL, and you want to carry out your father's desires..."- John 8:44); on the other hand, it will tell you the Jewish leaders ought to be obeyed, as they represent Moses ("THE SCRIBES AND THE PHARISEES ARE SEATED IN THE CHAIR OF MOSES. THEREFORE DO WHATEVER THEY TELL YOU, AND OBSERVE IT"- Matthew 23:2, Christian Standard Bible)

(5) While on one side Christianity will tell you everlasting life is achieved by obeying the commandments ("... IF YOU WANT TO ENTER INTO LIFE, KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS"- Matthew 19:17), on the other side it will tell you everlasting life isn't achieved by obeying any commandment but rather by faith ("FOR YOU ARE SAVED BY GRACE THROUGH FAITH... NOT FROM WORKS, SO THAT NO ONE CAN BOAST"- Ephesians 2:8-9, Christian Standard Bible)

In short, just as you would expect it to happen when dealing with any shrewd life insurance salesperson [or "crafty" and "smooth talking" politician], Christian theology has been purposely designed to be ambiguous, and uncertain. Why? So that you are always given "the short end of the stick" whenever the product you have been sold into fails to deliver as promised.

Think of the first Christian believers- they eagerly embraced the faith, and sold everything they had ("Now all the believers were together and held all things in common. THEY SOLD THEIR POSSESSIONS AND PROPERTY AND DISTRIBUTED THE PROCEEDS TO ALL, as any had need"- Acts 2:44-45).

Why would they give up their properties? Simply because they were promised that Jesus return would be imminent ("He who testifies about these things says, "YES, I AM COMING SOON"»- Revelation 22:20).

And why wouldn't they just abandon the faith, once they have realized they were broke, and Jesus return still wasn't in sight? Very simple! They were given the tricky "short end of the stick"; In other words, they were brazenly [and shamelessly] told that “... WITH THE LORD, ONE DAY IS LIKE A THOUSAND YEARS...”- 2 Peter 3:8, Christian Standard Bible. No wonder why shady and morally corrupted spirits love to proclaim this kind of theology! («... A CERTAIN DAMSEL POSSESSED WITH A SPIRIT OF DIVINATION met us... and CRIED, SAYING, “THESE MEN ARE THE SERVANTS OF THE MOST HIGH GOD, WHICH SHEW UNTO US THE WAY OF SALVATION”»- Acts 16:16-17, King James Version).

God's perfect judgment upon mankind

Adonay's perfect judgment upon mankind is “Measure for measure”, “Sowing and reaping”, “Tooth for tooth”, “An eye for an eye”, “What goes around, comes around”. As it has been said: «For the day of יהוה (Adonay) is near upon all the nations; “as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee”; thy dealing shall return upon thine own head»- Obadiah 1:15 (Jewish Publication society, 1917 Edition). And the former is also taught by the Jewish Gemara (Talmud Bavli, Bava Metzia 85a), when it states that Rabbi Yehuda HaNasi’s suffering came upon him due to an incident.

What was that incident that led to his suffering? The Gemara answers that there was a certain calf that was being led to slaughter. The calf went and hung its head on the corner of Rabbi Yehuda Ha-Nasi’s garment and was weeping. Rabbi Yehuda HaNasi said to it: Go, as you were created for this purpose. It was "said" [or "judged"] in Heaven: “Since he was not compassionate toward the calf, let [no compassion be shown, but rather let] afflictions come upon him”.

The Gemara explains the statement: And left him due to another incident. One day, the maidservant of Rabbi Yehuda Ha-Nasi was sweeping his house. There were young weasels [karkushta] lying about, and she was in the process of sweeping them out.

Rabbi Yehuda Ha-Nasi said to her: Let them be, as it is written: “The Lord is good to all; and His mercies are over all His works” (Psalms 145:9). They "said" [or "judge"] in Heaven: “Since he was compassionate, we [the heavenly ministers of the Almighty] shall be compassionate unto him”, and he was relieved of his suffering.

¿Existe Satanás? ¿Existe tal cosa como un demonio? ¿Que dice la Escritura hebrea?

La Escritura hebrea intima que existe tal cosa como un ser espiritual que, utilizando tanto la seducción como cualquier otro metodo fisico disponible, se opone a todo aquello [y a todo aquel] que es bueno, santo, y noble.

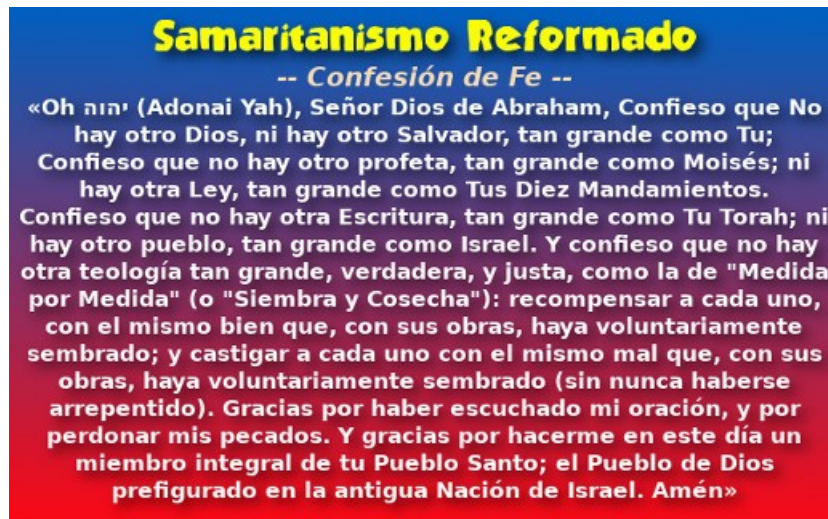

Y, así como el nombre Hebreo que la Escritura adscribe a todo aquel que funge como mensajero de Dios es “Malach” (“mensajero”, o “angel”), de ese mismo modo el nombre que adscribe a todo aquel que funge de opositor es “Ha Satan” (“el opositor”, “Satanas”, o “el demonio”). Como esta escrito:

- 1) “Un día vinieron a presentarse delante de יהוה los hijos de Dios, entre los cuales vino también Satanás”- Job 1:6
- 2) “Pero Satanás se levantó contra Israel, e incitó a David a que hiciese censo de Israel”- 1 Cronicas 21:1
- 3) “Me mostró al sumo sacerdote Josué, el cual estaba delante del ángel de יהוה, y Satanás estaba a su mano derecha para acusarle. Y dijo יהוה a Satanás: יהוה te reprenda, oh Satanás; יהוה que ha escogido a Jerusalén te reprenda”- Zacarías 3:1-2
- 4) “Pon sobre él al impío, Y Satanás esté a su diestra. Cuando fuere juzgado, salga culpable; Y su oración sea para pecado. Sean sus días pocos; Tome otro su oficio. Sean sus hijos huérfanos, Y su mujer viuda”- Salmo 109:6-9

Pero, a diferencia de la imagen que de Satán puedan proyectar otras religiones, el Samaritanismo Reformado no presenta a Satanás [ni a los demonios] como seres temibles e invencibles, que rivalizan en poder con el Altísimo.

En cambio, les presenta como el equivalente espiritual del antiguo Faraón-- un ser que, aunque perverso y poderoso, es finito y limitado, ya que esta bajo la autoridad de Dios [y por ende, es incapaz de vencer arbitrariamente a los justos, o de hacer mal alguno sin el expreso consentimiento de su Creador]

¿Como saber si la religión que seguimos agrada o no al Creador?

¿En que sentido son desviadas la mayoría de las versiones modernas del Judaísmo, el Cristianismo, y el Islam? Pues en que, tal y como se cita decir al Galileo, “cuelan el mosquito, pero tragan el camello”.

Como esta escrito: “¡Ay de vosotros... porque diezmaís la menta y el eneldo y el comino, y dejáis lo más importante.... la justicia, la misericordia y la fe... ¡Guías ciegos, que coláis el mosquito, y tragáis el camello!”- Mateo 23:23-24.

En otras palabras, mi religión es pagana si su énfasis no esta puesto en lo que mas importa al Creador (el que vivamos la vida ética y moral que le agrada), sino en lo que este último considera secundario (tener “la teología correcta”, aunque ello no redunde en una vida de amor y santidad).

¿Y porque desea Dios que vivamos una vida ética y moral [de justicia y misericordia]? Pues por que, si existe algo de lo cual el Eterno quiere que nos gloriemos, no es en conocer cual sea la identidad del Mesías, ni en conocer cual organización religiosa posee la mas precisa teología; es en cambio entender que el Altísimo desea que los hombres vivan una vida de justicia, misericordia, y humildad.

Como esta escrito: “Mas alábase en esto el que se hubiere de alabar: en entenderme y conocerme, que yo soy יהוה (Adonai), que hago misericordia, juicio y justicia en la tierra; porque estas cosas quiero [que los hombres hagan], dice יהוה ”- Jeremías 9:24. Y como también se dice en otro lugar: “Oh hombre, Él te ha declarado lo que es bueno, ¿y qué pide יהוה de ti?: solamente hacer justicia, y amar [el hacer] misericordia, y humillarte ante tu Dios”-Miqueas 6:8. Y finalmente dice, “Él juzgó [con misericordia y justicia] la causa del afligido y del menesteroso, y entonces estuvo bien. ¿No es esto conocerme a mí? dice יהוה”- Jeremías 22:16.

The Ethical Monotheism followed by Reformed Samaritans

The Divine curse that hangs upon he who openly embraces the Sodomite lifestyle

“For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory. The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves. Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him”- Isaiah 3:8-11, KJB...

... Cursed be the man who publicly embraces homosexual pride. Cursed be such man in this life, as well as in the life to come; cursed be such non penitent blasphemer, no matter if he be rich, or poor; black, or white; male, or female; a Jew, or a Gentile

Y el que la finalidad de la Ley es que vivamos la vida ética y moral que surge del amor a Dios y al prójimo, es también enseñado en los escritos cristianos, cuando dicen: «... ¿Cuál es el gran mandamiento en la Ley? Jesús le dijo: “Amarás al Señor tu Dios con todo tu corazón, y con toda tu alma, y con toda tu mente”. Este es el primero y grande mandamiento. Y el segundo es semejante: “Amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo”. De estos dos mandamientos depende toda la Ley y los profetas”- Mateo 22:36-40....

“Y si tuviese profecía, y entendiese todos los misterios [teológicos]... y no tengo amor, nada soy”- 1 Corintios 13:2... “Porque: No adulterarás, no matarás, no hurtarás, no dirás falso testimonio, no codiciarás, y cualquier otro mandamiento, en esta sentencia se resume: Amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo. El amor no hace mal al prójimo; así que, el cumplimiento de la Ley, es el amor”- Romanos 13:9-10...

“Si sabéis que Él es justo, sabed también que todo el que hace justicia es nacido de Él”- 1 Juan 2:29... “En esto se manifiestan los hijos de Dios, y los hijos del diablo: todo aquel que no hace justicia, y que no ama a su hermano, no es de Dios... Nosotros sabemos que hemos pasado de muerte a vida, en que amamos a los hermanos. El que no ama a su hermano, permanece en muerte”- 1 Juan 3:10&14

¿De donde surge el concepto Hebreo de “Gehinnom” [el infierno]?

En tiempos remotos, había cerca de Jerusalén un valle cuyo nombre Hebreo era “Gey ben Hinnom”, o “El valle (o hondonada) de los hijos de Hinnom”. Este lugar es mencionado por primera vez en el libro de Josué, cuando se describen los límites de la tribu de Judah (Josué 15:8). De acuerdo a 2da Reyes 23:10, y a Jeremías 7:31, aquellos que no conocían al Dios de Israel practicaban en este valle una de las más profundas formas de inmoralidad, pues quemaban a sus propios hijos en el fuego, en sacrificio al dios Moloc.

Esto hizo que, en la mentalidad Hebrea, Gey ben Hinnom (abreviado como, “Gehinnom”) fuese considerado un lugar maldito; y, por tanto, símbolo de la morada de quienes están bajo la maldición Divina. El hecho de que Gehinnom fuera un valle (hondonada) de muerte, vino a simbolizar la tumba; y, el fuego y la maldición de Gehinnom, el castigo que luego de descender a la tumba está deparado para quienes están bajo la maldición Divina.

¿Quiénes están bajo la maldición divina? Pues aquellos que se venden a matar, a robar, a mentir, a difamar al inocente, a adulterar, a fornicar, a la inmoralidad, a deshonorar a sus padres, a codiciar aquello que no les pertenece, a oprimir al prójimo, a demandar usura, a exaltarse a sí mismos, a ser crueles, altivos, o orgullosos; en fin, todo aquel que rechaza guardar los (diez) mandamientos, sobre los cuales se fundamenta la Ley de Moisés. Como está escrito: «Maldito el que no confirme las palabras de esta Ley, para cumplirlas. Y dirá todo el pueblo: “Amén”»- Deut. 27:26.

Pero, alguien podría preguntar: ¿no descendemos todos a la tumba (Gehinnom)? ¿No vamos todos al mismo Lugar? De hecho, si sacrificar a sus hijos condena a los perversos a Gehinnom, ¿No debería Avraham (paz sea con él) descender también a Gehinnom, por haber intentado sacrificar a su hijo Isaac? La respuesta es, “Si”; Avraham (y todos sus hijos espirituales), también estarán en Gehinnom. Pero, así como ser adicto a la heroína, no es lo mismo que ser adicto a nuestros seres queridos; de ese mismo modo ser morador de Gehinnom siendo un “hijo de Avraham”, no es lo mismo que ser morador de Gehinnom siendo un “hijo de Korah” (o Coré).

Los primeros, estarán en gozo y paz, reposando en el seno de su padre Avraham. Pero los segundos estarán en compañía de Korah, sufriendo tormento y agonía. Así, todos “descienden” al valle de Hinnom (la tumba), pero unos van al tormento (que libremente escogieron, al decidir “seguir el camino de los malos”); mientras que otros van a la bendición (que libre y voluntariamente escogieron, cuando decidieron seguir el camino de los que temen a Dios, y guardan sus mandamientos).

Esta siempre ha sido la postura de la fe Hebrea de Avraham, así como de todos los que (en el pasado) lo han predicado. Cuando Samuel dijo a Saúl (a quien Dios había ya abandonado) que “estaría con él” al siguiente día (1ra Samuel 28:19), lo que quería decir era que Saúl iría también a Gehinnom, donde vería a Samuel descansando en el seno de Avraham; pero Saúl observaría todo esto, desde el lado de los injustos que se encuentran en tormento. Recordemos que, así como los pecadores sacrificaban voluntariamente sus hijos en el valle maldito de Gehinnom, de ese mismo modo, Saúl sacrificaría a sus hijos; llevándoles a un lugar (una batalla) que había sido maldecida por Adonai [la batalla que al próximo día tendría lugar contra los filisteos]; un lugar donde sabía que solo habría muerte y destrucción.

Siguiendo esta misma línea de pensamiento, la Escritura dice que Adonai quemó con fuego a los moradores de Sodoma; como intimando que, así como en esta vida los Sodomitas fueron castigados con fuego, de ese mismo modo serán también castigados luego de descender a Gehinnom (la tumba). ¿Porque serán castigados? Pues porque, así como los idolatras mataban a sus hijos en el valle de los hijos de Hinnom (“Gey ben Hinnom”), con el objeto de satisfacer al perverso dios Moloc; de esa misma forma los sodomitas habían descendido al valle de la inmoralidad que es el estilo de vida

“Gay”, a fin de sacrificar sus hijos al perverso dios de la lujuria.

¿Cuales hijos? Pues los hijos que habrían engendrado de no haber escogido el estilo de vida gay.

Como dice la Escritura Hebrea: «...¿que haz hecho? La voz de LAS SANGRES de tu hermano claman a mi desde la tierra»- Génesis 4:10. ¿A que SANGRES se refiere el Creador? ¡Pues a las almas que ya no podrían venir al mundo, a través de la descendencia de Abel!

Como haría todo maestro del Samaritanismo Reformado, Jesus de Nazaret (paz sea con él) enseñó esto mismo. Es que, en su relato acerca del pobre y enfermo Lázaro (Lucas 16:19-31), Jesus menciona que el inmisericorde rico abrió sus ojos en Gehinnom, para encontrarse en tormento. En cambio, el pobre y piadoso Lázaro los abrió para encontrarse en la paz y el descanso de Avraham. Ambos terminaron en Gehinnom; y ambos estaban tan cercano el uno del otro, que podían verse y hablarse entre si; pero uno estaba en bendición, mientras que el otro estaba en maldición.

Note la profunda verdad que insinúa todo esto: ¿como podía Samuel descansar en Gehinnom, a la misma vez que oía los gritos de Saúl, y veía su tormento? ¿Como podía Lázaro tener paz y descanso en el Seno de Avraham, a la misma vez que veía el tormento y la agonía del hombre rico?

Reformed Samaritanism

Hebrew Scripture teaches Edom is an allegorical portrait of Christianity

God's Law uses the person of Edom as an allegorical portray of future Christian believers. Whence do we know? We know from the fact that Scripture foretells the former would "live by his sword" ("You will live by your sword..." - Genesis 27:40); meaning Edom would "earn life" by the blood shed by someone else; just as Christians "earn life" (everlasting) by the blood shed by someone else (Jesus). And just as Edom saw nothing wrong with despising the word he had given unto his brother [whereby he made Jacob the legal firstborn Son], so do Christian believers despise the word of God given unto Israel [whereby the latter is made God's legal firstborn son, according to Exodus 4:22], making instead Jesus the new Firstborn son of God. Does this mean Christians will be prevented from entering Olam ha-ba [the world to come]? No! It only means that just as Edom's lust for material things made him depart the Holy land (symbol of a non physical Paradise), in order to seek for himself a separated country (Mount Seir, according to genesis 36:6-8), so will Christian stubbornness to reject the words of Gods' Law will prevent them from inheriting the promised (non-physical) paradise, receiving instead a physical inheritance

¿Es que no se tienen emociones en Gehinnom? La respuesta es que, lo que se trata de intimar, es que Gehinnom no es necesariamente un lugar físico, ni un lugar de tormento físico; es un estado de conciencia, el estado del alma que sufre la agonía de ser atormentada por una verdad que ya no puede evadir; el sufrimiento del espíritu esclavizado por el Faraón del orgullo, que se opone a que, el Moisés de la humildad y el arrepentimiento, le liberte finalmente del tormento al que lo somete el inmisericorde capataz de su conciencia.

Hace unos años atrás, se difundió por el mundo la historia de Daniel Ekechukwu, un pastor Nigeriano que sufrió un grave accidente automovilístico. A consecuencia del accidente, Daniel fue declarado clínicamente muerto, y fue enviado a una morgue, donde estuvo los 3 siguientes días.

Milagrosamente, el pastor volvió a la vida, y relató parte de lo que vio mientras se encontró a si mismo “al otro lado de la eternidad”. Cuenta el pastor que se le mostró el lugar de tormento; pero que para su gran sorpresa, notó que no era demasiado distinto del cielo.

De hecho, notó que aunque los que allí se encuentran parecen estar sufriendo el dolor y la agonía de quien esta siendo “quemado”, no vio allí llama, fuego, humo, ni sangre alguna.

Fue como si se le intimase que, el castigo que sufrían aquellas personas, no era causado por algún agente externo a ellos mismos, ni por nada que estuviese fuera de su control; pues era el producto de sus conciencias. Estas últimas les atormentaban sin misericordia, creando dentro de ellos mismos el mundo de tormento que en justicia correspondía al mal que durante sus vidas habían escogido sembrar.

Es que La Palabra de Dios enseña que tanto el justo como el impio reciban su justa recompensa. Como esta escrito: “Ciertamente el justo será recompensado en la tierra; ¡Cuánto más el impío y el pecador!”- Proverbios 11:31. Y el que el hombre no puede escapar al hecho de que tendrá que cosechar el mismo mal que halla sembrado, es también enseñado en los escritos Cristianos, cuando dicen: “No os engañéis; Dios no puede ser burlado: pues todo lo que el hombre sembrare, eso también segará”- Gálatas 6:7.

Por eso, el Samaritanismo Reformado postula que la redención del mundo no es algo externo al hombre, ni tampoco es algo físico; ¡es algo interno! Es decir, la humanidad no necesita un Mesías físico, que repare el mundo externo en el cual existen nuestros cuerpos. ¿Por que? Pues porque el único mundo que en realidad importa, es el mundo que llevamos dentro de nosotros mismos.

La Torah enseña que el mundo externo en el cual vivieron Adam y Eva era físicamente perfecto; pero, en el momento en que dieron la espalda al Creador (arruinando así su mundo interno), aquel mundo externo perdió todo su valor.

Del mismo modo, la Torah enseña que Canaán era una tierra que fluía leche y miel; pero esto era cierto solamente mientras Israel sirviese a יהוה (es decir, mientras “su mundo interno” fluyese leche y miel). Pero, en el momento en Israel se apartó de יהוה, aquella tierra perfecta se convirtió en desolación. Así, el único y verdadero Mesías, es el arrepentimiento sincero (y, por asociación, el mensaje de todos aquellos que lo predicán). ¿Por que? Pues porque cuando el hombre (o la mujer) se arrepienten de corazón, no solo abandonan (en su psiquis) la maldad, sino que su mundo interno es redimido por la luz de la verdad: la verdad mas grande del universo-- Que, como dice Miqueas 6:8, fuimos creados para apartarnos de la mentira, de la injusticia, y de la inmoralidad, haciendo en cambio el bien que agrada a Dios; para (guardando los mandamientos) tratar a todos con justicia, para tener misericordia de los que sufren, para andar humildemente con el Creador (renunciar a todo orgullo), y para vivir en paz.

Cuando el hombre se arrepiente, y acepta esta verdad, ya no importa si su mundo físico es perfecto o no; pues, una vez salga de este mundo físico, y llegue a Gehinnom, el Creador dará a su conciencia el poder para crear dentro de sí mismo el mundo de paz, amor, justicia y misericordia con el cual soñó durante su vida; el mundo prometido por Dios a aquellos que le aman (“Lo que el impío teme, eso le vendrá; Pero a los justos les será dado lo que desean”- Proverbios 10:24).

Ese mundo será mas real que el mundo en el cual al presente vivimos. Y, a diferencia de este mundo y esta vida (que son de corta duración), aquel mundo que ha de venir (el “Olam ha-ba”) será para siempre.

Que la paz de Dios y la esperanza de la vida eterna sea sobre vosotros. Amen.

Holy Scripture speaks by means of images and allegories; for example, it hints at the idea that, As soon as the members of one generation (Adam and Eve) turn away from God, the members of the next generation (Cain and Abel) start killing one another. And this explains why, as a rule of thumb, all atheistic regimes (Stalin, Mao, Pol Pot, etc) are accompanied by the massive bloodshed of their own kind

Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean con él)-- El “Dagón” del Cristianismo

Aunque en efecto es un camino perfectamente válido para acercarse al Creador, no es menos cierto que el dogma Cristiano esta plagado de inmoral paganismo. ¿Por que? Pues porque, aunque su llamado al arrepentimiento y a la obediencia de los mandamientos es noble y bueno, la teología Cristiana es eminentemente falsa y caprichosa. Es decir, su bien intencionado (pero totalmente ciego) deseo de exaltar la figura del Nazareno (paz y bendición sean con él), le impele a recurrir a la mentira y el engaño, atribuyendo perfección y divinidad a las faltas e imperfecciones del Nazareno.

Curiosamente, “el pescado” fue el símbolo inicial del Cristianismo (estando este último asociado a la alegada multiplicación de los peces). Pero, en el idioma Hebreo, la palabra para designar al pez es “dag”. Y “dag” es la raíz etimológica de la palabra “Dagón” (un ídolo pagano adorado por los Filisteo, según 1 Samuel 5:2). En adición, los historiadores muestran que el ídolo Dagón era representado con la figura de un hombre con cuerpo de pescado.

¿Que sucedió con Dagón? Pues que, luego de que Adonay Yah (el Dios de Israel) hiriese su cabeza y sus manos (tal y como la cabeza y las manos de Jesús fueron heridas en la cruz), el Creador termina “derribándole” de su exaltado puesto. De este modo, Dagón termina cayendo sobre el umbral del templo.

¿Y que hicieron aquellos tercios y obstinados Filisteos? Pues que, en vez de ser honestos y humildes [reconociendo la triste caída de su ídolo, así como la superioridad de Adonay Yah], procedieron a “santificar la caída” de su falso dios. ¿Como? Pues comenzando a venerar el lugar de la caída [como si en vez de haber sido una triste caída, hubiese sido en cambio una triunfal victoria!].

Como esta escrito: “... he aquí que Dagón había caído postrado en tierra delante del arca de יהוה; Y LA CABEZA DE DAGÓN Y LAS DOS PALMAS DE SUS MANOS ESTABAN CORTADAS SOBRE EL UMBRAL, habiéndole quedado a Dagón el tronco solamente. POR ESTA CAUSA LOS SACERDOTES DE DAGÓN Y TODOS LOS QUE ENTRAN EN EL TEMPLO DE DAGÓN NO PISAN EL UMBRAL DE DAGÓN EN ASDOD, HASTA HOY”- 1 Samuel 5:4-5.

Y algo muy similar sucede con la noble fe cristiana, cuando venera la cruz donde, herido de muerte, cae finalmente su ídolo; aquel gran hombre a quien asociaban con el pez, y a quien habían [terca y erradamente] endiosado.

¡Que el Creador guarde y dirija a todos nuestros amados hermanos Cristianos!

The dangers of an exaggerated faith in a human Messiah

Regardless of who might advocate for it (Hebrews, Christians, Muslims, Samaritans, etc), an unrestrained belief in the figure of a human Messiah (no matter if the latter pertains to the political, economical, or spiritual sphere) could easily turn up into immoral idolatry-- in other words, into the cult of the flawed personality of a created being, as opposed to the cult of the morally perfect Creator. In addition it can deceptively make us place our blind faith [and hopes] upon a finite and mortal human being, instead of upon the immortal and infinite Creator of all.

But truth be told, no human being can provide lasting deliverance, since ONLY THE CREATOR CAN PROVIDE SUCH ENDURING REDEMPTION.

As it has been said: «Fear not, worm of Jacob, O ye few of Israel; I AM YOUR HELP, SAYS יהוה . THE HOLY ONE OF ISRAEL IS YOUR REDEEMER» - Isaiah 41:14.

And, as it also says elsewhere: "... and every man shall know that I יהוה AM YOUR SAVIOR AND YOUR REDEEMER, the Mighty One of Jacob" - Isaiah 49:26.

Although it is certainly true that God can use one of it's creatures in order to call us back to repentance

(a Hebrew King, a gentile prophet, Balaam's mule, Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, etc.); in the final analysis no created being can really save us, for THERE IS NO SAVIOR OUTSIDE THE CREATOR. As it is written: "I, יהוה and OUTSIDE ME THERE IS NO ONE WHO SAVES"- Isaiah 43:11. This same teaching is repeated in various places of the Scripture; but prominent among those passages is the account of Gideon. According to chapter six of the book of Judges, in a historical moment where Israel was being oppressed by the Midianites, God chooses a man named Gideon, in order to bring redemption to His people.

As a result, some 32,000 men joined the army of this Israelite general, in order to fight against an army vastly superior. But the Creator warns Gideon that, with this situation, he wishes to teach something to Israel: namely, that their salvation and deliverance did not depend upon flesh or blood-- it would not depend upon Gideon's strength, wisdom, or power; Their Salvation would solely depend upon their Creator - on the might of the God of whom it had been said: "...for it is not difficult for יהוה to save with many or with few" – 1 Samuel 14:6.

Thus, God makes Gideon get rid of his 32,000 soldiers, so that Israel doesn't end up believing that their salvation was in the hands of some "anointed man" (or "Messiah") of flesh and blood: «And יהוה said to Gideon, "The people that are with you are many, that I may deliver the Midianites into their hand, LEST ISRAEL GLAD AGAINST ME, SAYING, 'MY HAND HAS SAVED ME' »- Judges 7:2.

In the end, God reduces Gideon's army to just 300 men. Then, they are told that it will be the Creator himself (and not the remaining 300 men), who will save Israel:

"Then יהוה said to Gideon, WITH THESE THREE HUNDRED MEN who licked the water I WILL SAVE YOU (I יהוה WILL SAVE YOU, NOT THE MAN), and I will deliver the Midianites into your hands..." - Judges 7:7.

Someone might say: "But, isn't it true that, although God himself saved Israel, he always 'needed' Gideon's 300 men?" The answer to the former is a resounding NO!!. Why? Because GOD DOES NOT NEED ANY HUMAN BEING IN ORDER TO SAVE HIS PEOPLE. Whence we know? We know it from the fact that, in the time of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib brought a gigantic army against Jerusalem (II Kings 18:17).

Sadly, Israel did not have the strength to even try to combat such a huge crowd. Where was the man needed by God in order to save His people?

Where was the Saving Messiah? The answer is that the one Messiah capable of saving the Israelite people [as well as it's leadership] was in their mouths, and in their hearts-- such Messiah would be the words of penitence and confession ("Then Hezekiah king of Judah sent to the King of Assyria who was in Lachish: "I HAVE SINNED"...» - 2 Kings 18: 14).

The Messiah would be their humble and contrite return to the Almighty ("When King Hezekiah heard it, he tore his garments, and covered himself with sackcloth, and entered into the house of Yah"-2 Kings 19: 1).

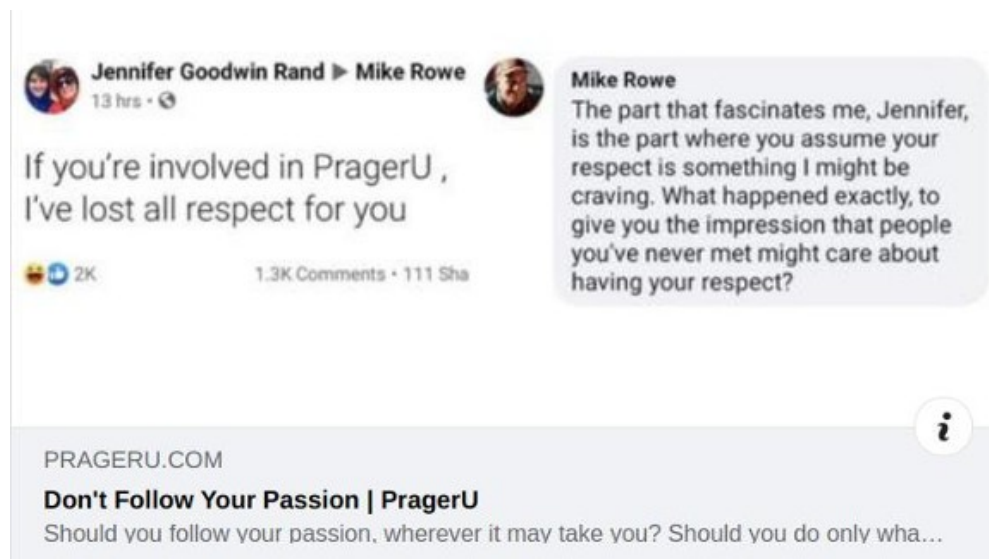

The saving Messiah would be their crying out to God, acknowledging that there is no power in Man, but only in the Creator of all things. As it is written : «And Hezekiah prayed before יהוה saying: יהוה God of Israel, who dwells between the cherubim, only you are God of all the kingdoms of the earth; you made heaven and earth... Now, then, oh יהוה our GOD, SAVE US, I beg you, from his hand, SO THAT ALL THE KINGDOMS OF THE EARTH MAY KNOW THAT YOU ONLY יהוה ARE GOD (and that there is no power outside of you)» - II Kings 19:15&19.

What was the result of the confession and humiliation of Hezekiah and his people? Well, the same night (while the people were resting) God personally intervened, providing a miraculous and supernatural Salvation-- “And it came to pass that same night the angel of יהוה came out and slew in the camp of the Assyrians one hundred and eighty-five thousand; and when they arose in the morning, behold, all were bodies of the dead» - 2 Kings 19:35.

Thus, without the need of any man, King, or human Messiah, the Creator saved Israel. And He did so by means of the one true Messiah: the spirit that manifests itself in words of repentance, confession, brokenness, and humiliation.

As it is written: «For thus said the High and Exalted, the one who dwells in eternity, and whose name is the Holy One: I DWELL in height and holiness, and WITH THE BROKEN AND HUMBLE OF SPIRIT, TO MAKE THE SPIRIT OF LIVING THE HUMBLE, AND TO LIVE THE HEARTS OF THE BROKEN" - Isaiah 57:15.

And, in order to bear witness to the fact that words of confession and repentance are better than any kind of atonement made through the sacrifice of calves, prophet Hosea went on to say: «Return, O Israel, to יהוה your God. In truth, your sin has been the cause of your fall. Take with you words (of repentance) and return to יהוה your God. Say to him, “Forgive us all our sins, and receive us graciously, that we may offer the calves of our lips”» - Hosea 14: 1-2.

That is to say, the fallen state of Israel is not due to any physical or external cause; and for this reason, it's solution is neither physical nor external (as would be the need of a human King or "Messiah"). The fallen state of Israel (the Tabernacle of David) is the direct result of open rebellion; and it's Salvation is not in anything [or anyone] besides bringing God words of sincere repentance-- to come before the God of our master Moses with a broken contrite heart, in order to confess [and forsake] our evil ways. As it has been said: «IF MY PEOPLE, upon whom my name is called, SHALL HUMBLE AND PRAY, AND SEEK MY FACE, AND TURN FROM THEIR EVIL WAYS; then I WILL HEAR FROM HEAVENS, AND FORGIVE HIS SINS from him, AND HEAL HIS LAND from him »-II Chronicles 7:14.

“Non-Binary” ?... “Gender” Ideology ??... “LGBTQI+” ??? La sutil razón por la cual justificar el ateísmo y la homosexualidad son conductas típicas de Tiranos

Mientras los globalistas y Marxistas culturales [que actúan detrás de los gobiernos de Occidente, los alegados grupos de derechos humanos, las organizaciones feministas, el ateísmo de Estado, las organizaciones no gubernamentales, los activistas LGBT, etc] perciban que nuestra primera fidelidad

no es para con la narrativa Marxistas que sucintamente pretenden imponernos, sino para con los valores, las costumbres y las prioridades dictaminadas por nuestras respectivas religiones, estos grupos tratarán incesantemente de forzarnos a creer que no existe un Dios, que el bien y el mal es relativo, y que lo predicado por Moisés, Jesús, y Muhammad [entre otros] no son sino ignorante fantasía.

¿Por que? Pues porque, ningún líder que pretenda alcanzar un poder total y absoluto sobre las masas (a fin de utilizarlas como instrumento para adelantar su agenda personal), logrará jamás alcanzar tal objetivo mientras tenga que competir con algún otro líder [ya sea este último un líder político o espiritual] por la fidelidad de esas mismas masas.

Así, siendo fieles a lo ordenado por nuestras respectivas religiones, nos rebelamos contra ese liderato secular, Marxista, y globalista, impidiéndole de ese modo alcanzar sobre nosotros el poder absoluto que tanto codicia.

Esta aptitud, no solamente es correcta, sino saludable; pues la historia demuestra que, demasiado poder, logra corromper aún al mejor de los seres humanos; haciendo que, luego de intoxicarse a sí mismo de poder, este último se vea tentado a actuar tal y como si fuese un perverso dios (es decir, de forma arrogante, impune, y tiránica; tal y como aconteció con Faraón, Nabucodonosor, Alejandro Magno, Antíoco Epífanés, Calígula, Nerón, Stalin, y tantos otros grandes Dictadores).

If they tell you... (How to proceed if you are told that God manifested Himself in a physical form)

- If you are told that the Creator manifested himself in a thorn bush, you should believe it. But, if you are told that a thorn bush is the Creator, you should not believe it.
- If you are told the Creator manifested in the Justice of the plagues that came upon Pharaoh [and all of the Egyptians], you should believe it. But, if you are told that Justice is the Creator, you should not believe it.
- If you are told the Creator manifested upon a Mount (Sinai), you should believe it. But, if you are told that a Mount is the Creator, you should not believe it.
- If you are told that the Creator manifested Himself in thunder and lightning (during the giving of the Law), you should believe it. But, if you are told that thunder and lightning are the Creator, you should not believe it.
- If you are told the Creator manifested in the cloud that hovered over Israel during their wandering in the wilderness, you should believe it. But, if you are told that a Cloud is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told the Creator manifested in fire (the column of fire that led Israel thru the wilderness during the night), you should believe it. But, if you are told that Fire is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told the Creator manifested in a fish (the fish that swallowed Jonah), you should believe it. But, if you are told that a Fish is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told that the Creator manifested in a bird (the birds that provided meat for Elijah), you should believe it. But, if you are told that a Bird (a dove, a sparrow, an eagle, etc) is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told that the Creator manifested Himself in a man (Moses, whose face shone with the glory of the Almighty), you should believe it. But, if you are told that a Man (Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, Sun Myung Moon, etc) is the Creator, do not believe it.

The hidden reason for Paul's new [and radical] «saved by grace» theology

There's only one true and Godly religion: To be just, kind, and humble. As it has been written: "Turn away from Evil! Do Good! Then you will Live in the Land Forever"- Psalm 37:27 (Common English Bible). And elsewhere says: "He has told you, human one, what is good, and what the Lord requires from you- to do justice, [to] embrace faithful love, and [to] walk humbly with your God"- Micah 6:8. What then is the role played by normative religion (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, etc.)? Simply to try and be faithful messengers of God's true religion. And all is well and good, as long as we keep in mind the unavoidable distinction that will always exist between the perfect message of true religion, and the imperfect role played by it's appointed messengers.

Why then do evil doers refuse to accept God's true religion? Simply because they think it would be easier for them to appease the Creator with flattering words-- proclaiming how great He is; how paramount is to believe this or that other theology; or how crucial it is to make this or that other statement of faith.

What's really hard for evil doers, is to appease the Creator by doing good to their fellow human beings-- something that humbles their ego (forcing them to focus on pleasing someone else besides themselves), and hurts their pride (forcing them to serve their neighbor, rather than to be served by them).

That's why, when a man can't humble himself to serve other people, and in addition has such a sinful past as to make it almost impossible for him to excel among his fellow believers, he'll often come up with "a new revelation"; a fancy prophecy [or biblical interpretation] that none but himself can completely understand; a convenient theology where, "doing good", is of secondary importance, but in which "believing", and "understanding" his new revelation, is a matter of "life or death".

Of course, as nobody else can completely understand his new «revelation», people eventually find themselves forced to follow him in a blind fashion- thereby making him the indisputable leader he always [secretly] wanted to be.

This phenomenon explains many of the thousands cults often started by people whom, in spite of their questionable moral background, dared proclaiming themselves God's Messiah, God's greatest prophet, God's new apostle, God's last messenger, and even a new manifestation of a previous religious figure.

Flee From Sexual depravity!

According to tradition, this is how an Eskimo hunter kills a wolf: First, the Eskimo coats his knife blade with animal blood and allows it to freeze. He then adds layer after layer of blood until the blade is completely concealed by the frozen blood.

Next, the hunter fixes his knife in the ground with the blade up. When a wolf follows his sensitive nose to the source of the scent and discovers the bait, he licks it, tasting the fresh frozen blood. He begins to lick faster, more and more vigorously, lapping the blade until the keen edge is bare. Feverishly now, harder and harder, the wolf licks the blade in the cold Arctic night. His craving for blood becomes so great that the wolf does not notice the razor-sharp sting of the naked blade on his own tongue. Nor does he recognize the instant when his insatiable thirst is being satisfied by his own warm blood. His carnivorous appetite continues to crave more until in the morning light, the wolf is found dead on the snow!

Likewise, the believer is often lured into questionable practices (prostitution, fraud, drugs, homosexuality, etc) for the same reasons that the wolf begins licking the knife blade. At first, they seem to be safe and delicious, but they don't satisfy us. More and more is desired. In the end, we become hopelessly addicted to them, and can no longer avoid getting destroyed by what turned out to be a sweet [yet deadly] "song of sirens". And the former is the reason why Hebrew Scripture goes on to say the following:

«Now therefore, my sons, listen to me, and depart not from the words of my mouth. Let your way in life be far from her (moral depravity), and come not near the door of her house [avoid the very scenes of temptation], Lest you give your honor to others and your years to those without mercy, Lest strangers [and false teachings] take their fill of your strength and wealth and your labors go to the house of an alien [from God]— And you groan and mourn when your end comes, when your flesh and body are consumed, And you say, How I hated instruction and discipline, and my heart despised reproof! I have not obeyed the voice of my teachers nor submitted and consented to those who instructed me. [The extent and boldness of] my sin involved almost all evil [in the estimation] of the congregation and the community”- Proverbs 6:7-14 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition)

Internal proof showing that the Christian Bible has been tampered with

The book of Revelation portrays Jesus as walking among the seven Christian churches of Asia. In fact, these churches were so important, that Jesus considered them the only ones worthy of receiving his final message.

As is written,

«John, to the seven churches in Asia... I heard a loud voice behind me like a trumpet saying, “Write on a scroll what you see and send it to the Seven churches: Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia, and Laodicea"... Then I turned to see whose voice it was that spoke to me. When I turned I saw seven golden lampstands, and among the lampstands was one like the Son of Man... and the seven lampstands are the Seven Churches»- Revelation 1:4, 11, 12, 13, 20 (Christian Standard Bible).

Yet, one can't help but to wonder how is it that [with the exception of Ephesus] no letter written to any of these Seven churches was ever made part of the New Testament cannon. In other words, Christian theology (salvation by faith in Jesus atoning sacrifice) is for the most part based upon the content of letters written by Paul to the church of Rome, to the church of Corinth, to the Thessalonians, to the Colossians, and to the Ephesians; but according to the book of Revelation, Jesus didn't consider any of these churches a worthy representative of the faith he came to preach.

In fact, the letter to the Ephesians is famous for advocating the idea of "salvation by faith" (without the need of doing any work), as is written: "For you are saved by grace through faith, and this is not from yourselves; it is God's gift— not from works, so that no one can boast"- Ephesians 2:8-9.

But although the letter to the Ephesians encourages us to disregard any work, that was precisely the reason why Jesus rebuked this particular church, as it had abandoned the works that pleased him: "Remember then how far you have fallen; REPENT, AND DO THE WORKS YOU DID AT FIRST. Otherwise, I will come to you and remove your lampstand from its place, unless you repent"- Revelation 2:5 (Christian Standard Bible).

The truth is that if we proceed to study the messages sent to the remaining churches of Asia, we will find Jesus encouraging them to go back, and do the works that please him.

As is written:

"TO THE ONE WHO CONQUERS, I will give some of the hidden manna... Thus says the Son of God, the one whose eyes are like a fiery flame and whose feet are like fine bronze: I KNOW YOUR WORKS—your love, faithfulness, service, and endurance. I KNOW THAT YOUR LAST WORKS ARE GREATER THAN THE FIRST... I am the one who examines minds and hearts, and I WILL GIVE TO EACH OF YOU ACCORDING TO YOUR WORKS... I KNOW YOUR WORKS; you have a reputation for being alive, but you are dead. Be alert and strengthen what remains, which is about to die, for I HAVE NOT FOUND YOUR WORKS COMPLETE BEFORE MY GOD... THUS SAYS THE HOLY ONE, THE TRUE ONE, the one who has the key of David, who opens and no one will close, and who closes and no one opens: I KNOW YOUR WORKS... THUS SAYS THE AMEN, THE FAITHFUL AND TRUE WITNESS, the originator of God's creation: I KNOW YOUR WORKS, that you are neither cold nor hot. I wish that you were cold or hot. So, because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I am going to vomit[i] you out of my mouth"- Rev. 2:17, 2:18-19, 2:25, 3:1-2, 3:7-8, 3:14-16 (Christian Standard Bible).

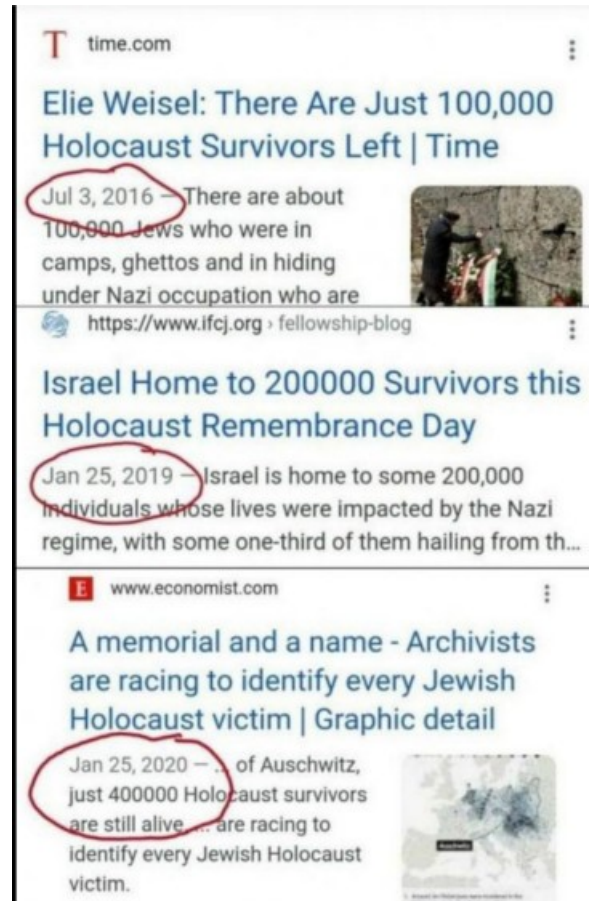

Thus, it seems like the reason why no letter to Asian churches was ever included in the N. T. Cannon had to do with the fact that, unlike the Roman, the Colossian, and the Ephesian churches, their theology was based on the idea of doing the works that please God, as opposed to obtaining his favor embracing the concept of "salvation by faith, and without the need of any work". But, although extremely unlikely, could it be possible that simply no apostolic letter was ever written to any of these churches (besides Ephesus)?

The answer is that there is proof of the existence of at least one such letter. Of course, this letter was conveniently excluded from the NT cannon. And the church the letter was addressed to was that of the Laodiceans.

In fact, the former letter is mentioned by Paul as part of his letter to the Colossians. Curiously, Paul seems to consider such letter as divinely inspired. As is written: “And when this epistle [to the Colossians] shall have been read with you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans: AND THAT YOU READ THAT WHICH IS OF THE LAODICEANS”- Colossians 4:16 (Douay-Rheims Bible, 1899 American Edition).

In short, it seems like, by the end of the first century C.E., the original Christian scriptures had already been tampered with by a powerful group of individuals trying to make it suit their personal ideology. And whether the latter was the result of an internal struggle for religious, social, political, or economical power, remains uncertain to this very date.

Is the Book of Ben Sirah's wisdom Divinely inspired?

Reformed Samaritans do not accept the idea that the Wisdom of Ben Sirah (a book written in Alexandria by a Jewish believer living two centuries before the start of the Christian era) is Divinely inspired. Yet, being such an intimate record of how ancient Israelites used to think and behave, it is considered to be an incredibly useful tool for practical (everyday) guidance.

Curiously, it is very likely that some ancient Jewish communities considered the former book to be part of their holy writings. Whence we get it? First of all, we get it from the fact that a Hebrew copy of the book was found inside the secret deposit of Cairo’s ancient Synagogue. In addition, additional copies were found at Qumran and Masada. Finally, we know it because certain quotes from the Babylonian Talmud describe it to be so. As it is written:

«Rabba bar Mari explains each of the sources. It is written in the Torah, as it is written: “And so

Esau went to Ishmael” (Genesis 28:9). It is repeated in the Prophets, as it is written: “And there were gathered vain fellows to Yiftah, and they went out with him” (Judges 11:3). And it is triplicated in the [Holy] Writings, as it is written: “All fowl will live with its kind, and men with those like him” (Book of Ben Sira 13:17). We learned it in a mishna (Kelim 12:2): “All that is attached to that which is ritually impure is ritually impure; all that is attached to that which is ritually pure is ritually pure”. And we learned it in a baraita: Rabbi Eliezer says: Not for naught did the starling go to the raven but because it is its kind, as it too is a non-kosher bird”»
– Babylonian Talmud, Bava Kamma 92b

“We shall soon live in a world in which people will be so madly obsessed with lies and self deception, that a man will be hanged from a tree for maddening a mob with the idea that fresh grass is actually green”- G.K. Chesterton, circa 1930 C.E.

“Sticking to the observable facts”: The safe way to avoid “spin doctors”, thereby telling apart truth from deception

Whence we get that a wise man will judge all things (and persons) not by their claims, but rather by their performance? We get it from Solomon; for though two women made the same claim (to be the biological mother of a certain baby), only one of them acted as the creature’s real mother (willing to deny herself for the well being of her offspring).

As it has been said:

«But the other woman said, “No! But the living one is my son, and the dead one is your son!”. And this one said, “No! But the dead son is your son, and the living is my son”. Thus they spoke before the king... And the king said, Divide the living child in two and give half to the one and half to the other. Then the mother of the living child said to the king, for she yearned over her son, “O my lord, give her the living baby, and by no means slay him”. But the other said, “Let him not be mine or yours, but divide him”. Then the king said, “Give her [who pleads for his life] the living baby, and by no means slay him. She is the child’s mother”»- 1 Kings 3:22-26

Your life might be comprised of “a wicked community” of actions [and ideas]; yet, if it includes God’s ten righteous Laws, you can still hope for salvation

Sodom wasn’t just a city, but rather a whole metropolitan area sprawling five different communities. As it is written: “And there went out the king of Sodom, and the king of Gomorrah, and the king of Admah, and the king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela (the same is Zoar) and they joined battle with them in the vale of Siddim”- Genesis 14:8.

Thus, “Sodom” included not just hundreds, but most likely thousands of wicked persons. Still, God informed Abraham that, should He find ten righteous persons among such horde of wicked individuals, those ten would be more than enough to redeem them all.

What does it mean? Why ten? In fact, why not 5, 75, or even 100? What moral lesson was Moses trying to convey with the former piece of information? The lesson seems to be that, while most of the [individual] things we embrace in life are vain, selfish, and wicked, should the Almighty find that we have [at least] embraced His Ten righteous Laws [as given upon the two atone tablets], those righteous ten would be more than enough to redeem the rest of our wicked [individual] actions.

As it has been said: «And He declared unto you HIS COVENANT, WHICH HE COMMANDED YOU TO PERFORM, EVEN TEN COMMANDMENTS; and he wrote them upon two tables of stone... Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: FEAR GOD, AND KEEP HIS [TEN] COMMANDMENTS: FOR THIS IS THE WHOLE DUTY OF MAN... The Lord is with you, while ye be with Him; and IF YE SEEK HIM [EMBRACING HIS TEN LAWS] , HE WILL BE FOUND OF YOU; BUT IF YE FORSAKE HIM, HE WILL FORSAKE YOU»- Deuteronomy 4:13, Ecclesiastes 12:13, 2 Chronicles 5:2.
May God's peace be upon you!

The strange connection between Homophobia and Lobsterphobia

A few years ago, a Christian friend of mine came to stay with me for the weekend. Upon arrival, we both went to dine at a famous local restaurant (“Castaway”), where I ordered a salad and he ordered a lobster.

While the food was being prepared I mentioned him that Torah prevents us from eating things like lobster, shrimp, and crab. My friend was honest enough to [jokingly] admit lobster was so enjoyable that, asking him to abstain from it, should be a censored form of “Lobsterphobia”.

Long story short, we ate our food and, in our way back home, discovered that the seafood was apparently tainted, as my friend started to experience the symptoms of a severe allergic reaction (his throat got so inflamed that he could barely breathe).

Thus, we ended up in the E.R. of a local hospital. It goes without saying that, after experiencing (for the first time) the agony of not being able to breathe, my friend decided to willingly embrace the same “lobsterphobia” he had formerly condemned, permanently abstaining from such pleasure.

Did it mean he stopped liking lobster? Of course not! It only meant he grew wiser, realizing that certain things [and lifestyles] ought to be avoided, no matter how pleasant, enjoyable, or empowering they seem to be.

Faith in Jesus can be a good thing, as long as you don't assume that every word attributed to him was meant to be understood in a strict Literal Sense

Faith in Jesus can definitely lead a man toward repentance, thereby bringing salvation upon him. But as for the claim made by the gospel concerning Jesus being “the way, the truth and, the life...”, we humbly advice caution.

Why? Well, in the first place, because Bible states Moses went up to the Heavenly Father [atop Mount Sinai], and spoke to him face to face without having any need of Jesus assistance («YHVH said to Moses, “Come up to me on the mountain and stay there”... YHVH would speak with Moses face to face, just as a man speaks with his friend, then Moses would return to the camp»- Exodus 24:12, & 33:11).

Secondly, Jesus himself never wrote anything (so later gospel writers could simply have felt tempted to quote him uttering words he never really said). Lastly, even if Jesus did say those words, maybe he didn't mean them to be taken in a strict literal sense.

For example, only six verses after claiming to be “the way, the truth, and the Life”, Jesus proceeds to claim that, he who believes in Him, would do greater miracles than he (“Truly I tell you, the one who believes in me will also do the works that I do. And he will do even greater works than these, because I am going to the Father”- John 14:12).

Should the former verse be understood in a strict literal sense? If so, then ask yourself: Do all of your Christian friends turn water into wine? Can they all heal the sick? Can they all bring back to life a 4 days old [rotten] cadaver? Can they all multiple the bread? Can they all walk upon water? Do they all come back to life 3 days after their physical death? Have they all be taken to heaven in the presence of 500 witnesses?

Beware of secular Jews amoral logic!

Bible's depiction of Sodom's ideology

God's Law (Genesis chapter 19) foretells the way Sodomites of all times would press their Gay agenda: (1) In the first place, the Sodomite mob tries to put "their feet inside your door". How? By means of public [and often brazen] verbal requests («But before they lay down, the men of the city, even the men of Sodom, compassed the house round, both young and old, all the people from every quarter. And they called unto Lot, and said unto him: "Where are the men that came in to thee this night? bring them out unto us, that we may [sexually] know them"...»). (2) In the second place, when you confront them with their wicked behavior («And he said: "I pray you, my brethren, do not so wickedly"), the Sodomites will demand that you leave them alone («And they said: "Stand back!"») (3) In the third place, they will pretend to be instead the innocent victims of your unwarranted [and prejudiced] judgment ("This one fellow came in to sojourn, and he will needs play the [unfair] judge..."). (4) In the fourth place, if you continue to stand firm [refusing to let them into your door], the Sodomites will show their true colors, and proceed to violently tore it down ("... And they pressed sore upon the man, even Lot, and drew near to break the door"). (5) When the Sodomite push gets to this stage, God punishes them with "blindness" and "disbelief"; so that, even if they are told that their demise is imminent, they would refuse to turn around and repent («And they smote the men that were at the door of the house with blindness, both small and great... And Lot went out, and spoke unto his sons-in-law, who married his daughters, and said: "Up, get you out of this place; for the LORD will destroy the city". But he seemed unto his sons-in-law as one that jested») (6) Finally, as the Sodomites stubbornly persist upon waging war against God [as well as against God's moral representatives], the Almighty brings upon them sudden and total extermination ("Then the LORD caused to rain upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the LORD out of heaven; and He overthrow those cities, and all the Plain, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and that which grew upon the ground); just as it happened to the Nations of Canaan that refused to make peace with God's people ("For it was of the LORD to harden their hearts, to come against Israel in battle, that they might be utterly destroyed, that they might have no favour, but that they might be destroyed, as the LORD commanded Moses”- Joshua 11:20)

Is anti-semitism a Jewish invention?

Believe it or not, modern anti-semitism can be considered to be the ideological brainchild of ancient Jewish lore. In other words, you'll find plenty of Jewish traditions reinforcing the image of "the bad Jew". For example, Jewish Talmud quotes Rabbi Simeon Ben Lakish saying:

“There are three insolent ones: Israel among the nations, the dog among beasts, and the cock among fowls (some also say the goat among small cattle, and the caper shrub among trees)”. In addition, Rabbi Meir (2nd Century C.E.) is quoted saying: Why was the Torah given to Israel? Because they are of a fiery temper. For in the school of Rabbi Ishmael it is taught, ‘At His right hand was a fiery Law unto them’ (Deut. 33:2), meaning that the Holy One said, ‘It is right that they be given a fiery Law [to restrain them]’. Some say, ‘Israel’s Laws had to be of fire, for if the Torah had not been given them, no people or tongue could withstand them’ [leading to their own extermination].

It is in this connection that Rabbi Simeon Ben Lakis also said: ‘There are three creatures of a fiery (insolent) temper: among the nations, Israel; among beasts, the dog; and among fowls, the cock’.

Rabbi Israel bar Redifa said in the name of Rabbi Ammi: “You may think that such description of Jews [as fiery and insolent] is disparaging (anti-semite). In fact, it is complimentary, as their attitude is, ‘Let me be a Jew or be crucified!’. Indeed, as Rabbi said, to this day Jews outside the Land are called ‘stiff necked people’”- Babylonian Talmud, Betzah 25B; Exod. Rabbah 42:9

Ayn Rand and her “ethical” view of individualism and a self centered lifestyle (when Satan disguises himself as an angel of light)

Ayn Rand (may she rest in peace) was an out of control secular Jewish extremist, who brazenly portrayed selfishness and individualism as mankind's supreme guiding virtues.

The core of Rand’s philosophy — which also constitutes the overarching theme of her novels — is that unfettered self-interest is good and altruism is destructive. This, she believed, is the ultimate expression of human nature, the guiding principle by which one ought to live one’s life.

In “Capitalism: The Unknown Ideal,” Rand put it this way: Collectivism is the tribal premise of primordial savages who, unable to conceive of individual rights, believed that the tribe is a supreme, omnipotent ruler, that it owns the lives of its members and may sacrifice them whenever it pleases. By this logic, religious and political controls that hinder individuals from pursuing self-interest should be removed.

But the fact is that the Jewish God [as well as the Natural order] abhors such lifestyle, as not even wild beast follow such kind of behavior. You see, Hebrew Scripture teaches that the Supreme Law ruling the Universe is “cause and effect”, “sowing and reaping”, “action and reaction”, “measure for measure”, “what goes around, comes around”, etc.

Thus, though free to do business [and thereby get material prosperity], the Hebrew believer is enjoined to “sow” unto his needy fellow human beings the same goodness he would eventually wish to “reap” for himself... For example, if he wishes to be able to receive charity, he must first be willing to give away charity... If he happens to own a high income business, he must set aside some of it's earnings for the poor and the needy... If he owns a high yielding farm, he must do likewise with it's produce.

But if he is like Mr. Scrooge (selfish, and only concerned with his own interests), who would like to befriend him [let alone do business with him]?

Whence we know Hebrew Scripture teaches the former? We know it from the verses that go on to say: “If you lend silver to my people, to the poor person among you, you must not be like a creditor to him; you must not charge him interest... If there is a poor person among you, one of your brothers within any of your city gates in the land the Lord your God is giving you, do not be hardhearted or tightfisted toward your poor brother. Instead, you are to open your hand to him and freely loan him enough for whatever need he has...

... When you reap the harvest of your land, you are not to reap all the way to the edge of your field or gather the gleanings of your harvest. Leave them for the poor and the resident alien; I am the Lord your God... Happy is one who is considerate of the poor; the Lord will save him in a day of adversity...

... For the day of the Lord is near, against all the nations. As you have done, it will be done to you... eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot” – Exodus 22:25, Deuteronomy 15:7-8, Leviticus 23:22, Psalm 41:1, Obadiah 1:15, Exodus 21:24, Christian Standard Bible).

May peace be upon you!

The reason why a wise woman covers up her body

A woman arrived in a store wearing clothes that showed her body all too well. The shop owner, being a wise older man, took a good look at her, asked her to sit down, looked straight into her eyes, and said something she would never forget for the rest of her life.

“Young Lady, everything that God has made valuable in this world, is covered up and hard to see or find”. For example:

1. Where can you find diamonds?

- In the ground, covered and protected.

2. Where are the pearls?

- Deep in the ocean, covered and protected in a beautiful shell.

3. Where can you find gold?

- Underground, covered with layers of rock, and to get there you have to work very hard and dig deep.
- He looked at her again and said, "Your body is sacred and unique to God."

You are far more precious than gold, diamonds, and pearls, therefore you must be covered too.

He then added: "If you keep your precious minerals like gold, diamonds, and pearls deeply covered, a “reputable mining organization” with the necessary machines, will work for years to mine those precious goods.

* First, they will contact your government (family),

* Second, sign professional contracts (marriage),

* Third, they will professionally extract those goods, and tenderly refine those precious goods. (marital life).

But if you let your minerals find themselves on top of the Earth's surface (exposed to everyone), you will always attract many illegal miners to come, exploit, illegally, and freely take those riches and leave you without the precious goods God gave you!

WOMEN, YOU ARE VALUABLE!!

Remember - Class is more desirable than Trash.

Beware of the Jewish Supremacy Demon!

Why would a God of mercy allow us to experience suffering?

The dual account of man’s creation described in the book of Genesis (“And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness”... “And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul”- Genesis 1:26, & 2:7) hints at the idea that man was first created “above” [as a non physical spirit], and only later was he created “below” [as a soul encased in a physical body].

Thus, it seems like at a certain point the Infinite Being [the Creator of all things, blessed be He] chose to “give birth” to a huge amount of non physical spirits, calling them “the children of the Most High” (“I have said, Ye are gods; and all of you are children of the most High”- Psalm 82:6).

And, as these “god-like” spirits resembled their heavenly Father, they were not only immortal, but also made of the pure light of Divine wisdom (“God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light... I have even heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee”- Psalm 118:26, & Daniel 5:14).

In addition, the fact that they were created before the World was totally completed, means that these spirits existed beyond our present boundary of time, space, and matter [thereby living in a state of perfect bliss, free from any physical limitation].

Yet, the Genesis account hints at the idea that, after a certain amount of time, they yearned for the opportunity to be more like their Heavenly Father (“... I shall be satisfied when I awake with Thy likeness”- Psalm 17:15).

How would they do it? By getting to know [and thereby learn to overcome] things that were yet unknown to them-- things like physical limitations, shame, failure, humiliation, despair, hate, ignorance, pain, suffering, and fear of death.

And though the heavenly Father lovingly warned them of the perils implied in such dreadful endeavor («And the LORD God commanded the man, saying: “Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat; but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it; for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die”»- Genesis 2:16-17), at the end He chose to respect His children desire to be more like their heavenly Father. Thus, after we had already chosen the particular amount of ignorance, pain, shame, hate, and suffering we wanted to experience [and eventually overcome] while in the physical realm, we were allowed to come into our present world; though not without first making sure that our heavenly Father would always be in the background, watching over us as a loving father who silently watches over His toddlers, as they learn to take their first walking steps. And the former is the reason why the suffering we humans experience cannot be rightfully attributed to the Creator, who is a being of perfect justice (“He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He”- Deut. 32:4), as the former is in fact part of the test we’ve all willingly [and freely] imposed upon ourselves-- just as the man who wishes to obtain the glory of becoming a brain surgeon would choose to impose upon himself the agony implied in the long years of intense [and often painful] study associated with medical school. And the former might be the reason why, instead of threatening to chastise our many failures and limitations, the Holy One’s promise to those who yearn to conquer evil, pain, doubt, hopelessness and death is the following: “For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end [the reward for which you chose to come into this physical world!]"- Jeremiah 29:11.

“Keep thee far from a false matter; and the innocent and righteous slay thou not: for I will not justify the wicked [he who rejoices in falsehood]... These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates”- Exodus 23:7, & Zechariah 8:16

When it comes to moral degeneracy, public self-deception is the red line that must never be crossed. Why? Because once a man starts to feel comfortable believing his own [self-serving] lies, there’s no moral aberration he won’t be able to justify [thereby sealing his own doom]. Why is this man doomed? Because, by rationalizing the evil done against his fellow human beings, he empowers the latter to do the same unto him [retaliating in kind], thus tearing apart the very fabric of any society, which is just and peaceful co-existence

How to obtain a healthy mindset

What should the primary focus of our intellect be, in order to attain not only a sound mind, but also a fruitful and successful life? Gender theory? Feminism? Egalitarianism? Social activism? Spreading Democracy? Political change? Scientific advancement?

The answer to the former is that, though we definitely need to provide for the things pertaining to our mortal body, our main focus ought to be the things pertaining to our immortal soul (in other words, our moral and spiritual relationship with the Creator of all things). And since such a relationship is best outlined by God’s holy Law, it is no surprise that Scripture goes on to say the following:

“... These words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes. And thou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and on thy gates...

... Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the Law, which Moses my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest. This book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success. Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest”- Deut. 6:6-9, & Joshua 1:7-9 (KJV)

How can we tell apart truth from deception?

There is a simple way to ascertain the truthfulness of a person's religious and/or secular claims-- “The tree, is know by it's fruit”. In other words, pay no attention to people's words; just focus in their performance, letting their actions speak for themselves.

Case in point: Suppose you sit down and start listening to someone trying to convince you of his religious, scientific, or political ideology-- yet you don't hear such person ever hinting at the fact that you need to hate injustice, turn away from deception, despise evil, and shun hypocrisy; that you must contend with the greedy and the wicked; that you must be honest, be just, be humble, show respect for your elders, stand by your word, honour your parents, be generous to the poor, mourn for the deceased, visit the sick, feed the hungry, clothe the naked, and care for your needy fellow human beings.

What then should your reaction to such message be? Well, as the former seems to display so little regard for moral accountability, you better beware, questioning the sincerity of such message, as well as the worthiness of the religious, scientific, and/or secular establishment it claims to represent. Why? Because they might as well be just an alluring [yet deceptive] way of recruiting you into fostering some dark, selfish, and hidden agenda.

The Hebrew believer ought to beware of too much health, power, wealth, and intelligence, lest they turn him into a godless and immoral pagan

Too much abundance (physical health, beauty, intelligence, economical wealth, or political power) can turn a good man into a proud and arrogant being.

Why? Because he may start to believe he has no need to submit to any superior authority (let alone to a non-physical God!). Thus, the materially prosperous man is particularly prone to embrace a rebellious and degenerated lifestyle.

And, since Hebrew people were bound to be the most wealthy and powerful of all nations [and therefore the most prone to rebellion and degeneracy], the Holy One gave them a solemn warning: “And it shall be, when the LORD thy God shall bring thee into the land which He swore unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give thee--great and goodly cities, which thou didst not build, and houses full of all good things, which thou didst not fill, and cisterns hewn out, which thou didst not hew, vineyards and olive-trees, which thou didst not plant, and thou shalt eat and be satisfied-- then beware lest thou forget the LORD, who brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage...

... When thou shalt beget children, and children's children, and ye shall have been long in the land, and shall deal corruptly, and make a graven image, even the form of any thing, and shall do that which is evil in the sight of the LORD thy God, to provoke Him; I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall soon utterly perish from off the land whereunto ye go over the Jordan to possess it; ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall utterly be destroyed...

... And the LORD said unto Moses: 'Behold, thou art about to sleep with thy fathers; and this people will rise up, and go astray after the foreign gods of the land, whither they go to be among them, and will forsake Me, and break My covenant which I have made with them...

... But of late My people is risen up as an enemy... For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against Me, saith the LORD. They have belied the LORD, and said: 'It is not He, neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine'"- Deut. 6:10-12, 4:25-26, 31:16-17, Micah 2:8, Jeremiah 5:11-12 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

Open promotion of homosexual behavior?

Open promotion of homosexual behavior? God forbid that such aberration ever be found among holy people! Why? Because all Abrahamic Scriptures state that such thing isn't becoming of monotheistic believers [who are commanded to behave in a manly, prudent, and moderated fashion].

As it has been said: "I go the way of all the earth; be thou strong therefore and show thyself a man... Thou shalt not lie with males as with women; it is abomination... Know ye not that the unjust shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not err: neither fornicators nor idolaters nor adulterers nor effeminate nor homosexuals... shall inherit the kingdom of God... Indeed, you approach men with desire, instead of women, you are a transgressing people"- 1 Kings 2:2, Leviticus 18:22, 1 Corinthians 6:9-10 (Jubilee Bible 2000), Quran 7:81.

In fact, open promotion of Homosexual behavior can be considered to be the hallmark of the shameless and brazen man who praises the wicked, thereby abandoning God's Law [turning away from the things that make him really human-- things like respect, decency, honor, shame, and dignity]. As it has been said: "Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? No, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among those that should fall: when I visit them, they shall fall, saith the LORD... The appearance of their countenance witnesses against them, and they declare their sin as Sodom; they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! For they have rewarded evil unto themselves... Those that forsake the Law praise the wicked, but such as keep the Law contend with them... Say unto the righteous that it shall be well with him, for they shall eat of the fruit of their doings. Woe unto the wicked! It shall be ill with him, for according to the work of his hands it shall be done unto him"- Jeremiah 8:12, Isaiah 3:9, Proverbs 28:4, Isaiah 3:10-11.

Are LGBT activists "moral cavemen"?

A joke that is quite popular among the members of a certain African tribe goes on to say the following: "In what sense are cavemen and LGBT activist alike?-- In that both of them are obsessed with their "cave"!"

The fact is that, although quite uncomfortable [and unsettling] for the average Western sensitivities, the former joke not only does contain certain degree of truth, but even displays some of Torah's Divine Wisdom.

Whence we know it? We know it from the fact that God's Law remarks that Sodom's last survivors Lot and his daughters), ended up living inside a cave (“But Lot went up from Zoar and dwelt on the mountain... and dwelt in a cave he and his two daughters”- Genesis 19:30).

There’s more!... Just as a caveman would not be ashamed of the aberration implied in the act of “eating the flesh” of his own people (dietary cannibalism), neither were Lot’s daughters ashamed of the aberration implied in “eating” their father’s own flesh (moral cannibalism).

As it is written: “And they made their father drink wine [deceitfully] that night also, and [when they had made him drunk] the younger arose, and slept with him [just as the eldest had previously done]; but he did not notice when she went to bed, nor when she got up. And the two daughters of Lot conceived by his father”- Genesis 19: 35-36.

Beware of he who arrogantly claims to have the only right theology!

Beware of the crafty and deceptive individual who is focused upon convincing you that your theology is a false one [and must therefore be abandoned], while his is the Correct one [and must therefore be embraced and obeyed]. Why must you beware of him? Because he is most likely trying to subdue you into obedience, so that he [or the religious establishment he represents] can eventually profit from your membership (your time, your energy, your money, your material resources, etc.)

In fact, such is the way of tricksters and magicians: to lure you into focusing on one of his hands, while performing his dirty trick with the hand you are not paying attention to.

If you want to find out a person’s true nature, pay no attention to his words. Rather, focus upon the quality of such person actions (his lifestyle and character).

Is he a good son, a good father, a good husband, and a good neighbor? Is he a family oriented individual? How many marriages has he had? For how long? Is he a sin-fearing, honest, fair, merciful, humble, and charitable individual? Or is he instead a brazen, unfair, greedy, cruel, arrogant, shallow, immoral, and materialistic person who’s secretly obsessed with carnal pleasure, ill-gained money, illicit sex, fame, power, and recognition?

- Sionista: 🇮🇱 Holocausto, nunca otra vez!

- Persona: 😞 Oye, pero ese es un checkpoint, lugar donde son humillados los palestinos todos los días por Israel.

- Sionista: 🇮🇱🇺🇸 🇺🇸🇮🇱 Cállate antisemita, nazi... Denunciado por racista!

No respect for the violent and bloody man; no matter if he be a Jew, or a Gentile

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, whether he be a Jew or a Gentile, the man who is quick to shed human blood [refusing to settle his quarrels using fair and peaceful negotiations] is a weak and small minded individual; therefore, he is unworthy of the honor and recognition of holding top leadership positions.

Why is this so? Because Reform Samaritans hold fast to the idea that a truly wise [and powerful] man is he who is capable of making friends out of those who used to be his enemies. And the former is taught by the Hebrew Scripture, when it goes on to say:

«And the king of Israel said unto Elisha, when he saw them, “My father, shall I smite them? shall I smite them?” And he answered, “Thou shalt not smite them: wouldest thou smite those whom thou hast taken captive with thy sword and with thy bow? Set bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink, and go to their master”. And he prepared great provision for them: and when they had eaten and drunk, he sent them away, and they went to their master. SO THE BANDS OF SYRIA CAME NO MORE INTO THE LAND OF ISRAEL”- 2 Kings 6:21-23, KJV.

«The man who, after observing nature’s rigorous compliance with precise mathematical laws, proceeds to say, “This nature is no proof that there’s a Supreme intelligence (or God) behind it!” , disconnects so much from reality that, in the end, will come to observe his own male genitals and proceed to say, “These genitals are no proof that there is a man behind them!”»

How do we objectively know that there is a Creator?

Whence do we get that the universe must be the result of a Divine Architect? We know it from the fact that nature’s fundamental laws conform to highly advanced [and purely logical] mathematical concepts-- just as we would expect from anything designed [and created] by a wise and powerful mind.

Consider the following example: The whole universe is in constant motion, and an object’s position can be described by a mathematical function of time [$f(t)$]. But if we use integral calculus, and take the first derivative [with respect to time] of the former position function [$df(t)/dt$], we get a function that happens to be the mathematical formula describing the object’s instant velocity [$v(t) = df(t)/dt$]. In addition, if we get the second derivative of the position function [$d^2f(t)/dt^2$], we get a function that happens to be the mathematical formula describing the object’s actual acceleration [$a(t) = d^2f(t)/dt^2$].

So, unless we assume the universe to be the product of an intelligent mind, we must ask ourselves the following question: “What sense does it make to assume that, just by pure coincidence, the universe happens to follow the logically rigorous laws of Integral Calculus?”. In fact, even seemingly “random” events [like the possibility of something happening or not] can be described using the purely mathematical formulas of statistics and probabilities!

God's simple and perfect Justice; the Divine foundation of Reformed Samaritanism

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, regardless of the particular Abrahamic tradition we choose to follow, God's Law states that as soon as the Holy One finished creating Adam, the first thing He enjoined him to do was to till the Garden ("And the Lord God took the man and put him into the garden of Eden to dress it and to keep it"- Genesis 2:15, Jubilee Bible 2000). Why? In order to teach us that God's foremost message to mankind isn't the nation of Israel, the Hebrew Religion, the Oral Law, the mystical Kabbalah, the promised Land, nor any future king or Messiah.

Rather, it is the practical [and unavoidable] Law of "Sowing and reaping", also known as "Action and reaction"; "Measure for measure"; "An eye for an eye"; "What goes around comes around", etc.] And the former means that, just as you've done unto others, it will [sooner or later] be done also unto you ("... as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee... as I have done, so God has recompensed me... for thou renderest to every man according to his work... far be it from God, that he should do wickedness; and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity. For He shall pay man according to his work, and cause every man to find according to his ways..."- Obadiah 1:15, Judges 1:7, Psalm 62:12, Job 34:10-11);

If you show mercy, mercy will also be shown unto you ("... redeem thy sins with righteousness, and thine iniquities with mercies unto the poor..."- Daniel 4:27); If you repent of the evil you intended to do against God, God will repent of the evil He intended to do against you ("And God saw their works, because they turned from their evil way, and He repented of the evil that he had said that he would do unto them..."- Jonah 3:10);

If you are merciful, and grant forgiveness, you too will also be granted forgiveness ("With the merciful thou wilt show thyself merciful..."- Psalm 18:25); If you abandon God, God will abandon you ("Thus hath the Lord said, 'Ye have forsaken me, and therefore, I have also left you'..."- 2 Chronicles 12:5); If you turn to God, He will turn to you ("... Turn ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings ... Thus hath the Lord of the hosts said; Turn unto me, said the Lords of the hosts, and I will turn unto you..."- Jeremiah 35:15, Zechariah 1:3);

If you honor the Almighty, the Almighty will honor you ("... for those that honor me I will honor..."- 1 Samuel 2:30); If we show ourselves stern against other people, God will show Himself stern against us ("... with the perverse thou wilt show thyself adversary"- Psalm 18:26).

Why did the Lord ask king Saul to punish Amalek for the sin done 300 years earlier ("... I remember that which Amalek did to Israel, how he laid wait for him in the way when he came up from Egypt. Now go and smite Amalek and utterly destroy all that they have and spare him not ..."- 1 Samuel 15:2-3)? In order to teach us that time cannot invalidate the Law of sowing and reaping; that even if it takes 300 years (or 3,000 more), one thing is sure-- that we won't be able to escape having to reap either the reward for the goodness we have performed, or else the punishment for the sins we have not yet confessed.

Thus, as our well-being is so dependant upon the good works [of repentance] we freely [and willingly] choose to perform, it shouldn't surprise us to find that Ha Satan will constantly try to flatter us into embracing some veiled form of the opposite idea-- that God's favor doesn't really depend upon our good deeds [as that would somehow "steal" some of the glory belonging to the Almighty], but rather upon our belonging to a particular ethnic [Jewish, Arab, Persian, etc] community; that it depends upon our acceptance of “the right Scripture”, “the right Religion”, or “the right Canon”; that it depends upon our worship and recognition of “the right Messiah”; “the right final prophet”, or the latest prophetic revelation.

Do we mean to say that there’s no hope of salvation for the person who follows any of the former? God forbid! What we mean to say is that he who [blindly] follows them, risks to be following what Hebrew Scripture considers to be the sort of vanity that lead people astray from the common-sense, clear, simple, and straightforward message of God’s favor for the penitent, and reward for his good deeds (“Those that observe lying vanities forsake His mercy... He that covers his sins shall not prosper, but whosoever confesses and forsakes them shall attain mercy... Therefore I will declare my iniquity; I will be sorry for my sin... But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he has committed and keep all my statutes and live according to judgment and righteousness, he shall surely live, he shall not die. All his rebellions that he has committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him; by his righteousness that he has done he shall live... Depart from evil, and do good, and thou shalt live for evermore”- Jonah 2:8, Proverbs 28:13, Psalm 38:18, Ezekiel 18:21-22, Psalm 37:27). May the Almighty keep us in wise, simple, and secure path of repentance and obedience to the goodness commanded upon the two stone tablets! (“The fear of the Lord is the beginning of Wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do His commandments...”- Psalm 111:10, King James Bible). Amen.

Ancient Hebrew religion taught man wasn't right unless he would conform to God's own criteria (“... ye shall therefore sanctify yourselves, and ye shall be holy; for I am holy...”- Leviticus 11:44, KJB).

But sadly, Hebrew believers lost their way, starting to think that God wasn't right unless He would conform to man's own criteria (“When the righteous turns from his righteousness and does injustice, he shall die for it. And when the wicked turns from his wickedness and does what is just and right, he shall live by this. Yet you say, ‘The way of the Lord is not just’. O house of Israel, I will judge each of you according to his ways”- Ezekiel 33:18-20, English Standard Version)

“Toda buena dádiva y todo don perfecto desciende de lo alto, del Padre de las luces...”- Santiago 1:17, Biblia Reina Valera 1960

Todo aquello que es bueno [estando en armonía con lo escrito por el dedo de Dios sobre las dos tablas de Piedra] proviene del Creador: Un Midrash Judío, una canción Cristiana, una leyenda Islámica, una interpretación Samaritana... Si lo que descubro es algo que me hace mas justo, misericordioso, y humilde, puedo estar seguro de que es algo que el Creador desea para mi vida en ese particular momento de ella.

Como esta escrito: «¡No! Oh pueblo, יהוה te ha dicho lo que es bueno, y lo que Él exige de ti: “que hagas lo que es correcto, que ames la compasión y que camines humildemente con tu Dios”»- Miqueas 6:8, Nueva Traducción Viviente.

De hecho, la Escritura hebrea cita al Creador redarguyendo el hecho de que los Judios no hubiesen imitado las buenas normas de las naciones en las que habian estado exiliados. Como esta escrito: “¿Por haberos multiplicado más que las naciones que están alrededor de vosotros, no habéis andado en mis mandamientos, ni habéis guardado mis leyes? Ni aun según las [buenas] leyes de las naciones que están alrededor de vosotros habéis andado”- Ezequiel 5:7 (Reina Valera, 1960)

Why does the Torah (God's Law) prescribe such severe punishments for open criminals, idolaters, homosexuals, thieves, and adulterers? In order to teach us that, "Individual [moral] liberties cannot infringe upon collective [moral] responsibility"; that my freedom stops where my neighbor's freedoms begin Torah commands that we let our enemies speak up their minds!

Hebrew Scripture teaches that the Creator didn't prevent the serpent's deceptive [and destructive] words targeting Adam and Eve (Genesis 3:1-5). Likewise, when God's children came before His presence, the Holy One didn't censor Satan's hate speech against innocent Job (Job 1:9-10, & 2:4). Curiously, the Hebrew word "Satan" means "adversary" (or "opposer"). What moral lesson is God's Law trying to convey? It aims to teach that, just as the Almighty respects His adversaries right to openly speak up their minds, so must we also respect our adversaries right to openly speak up their minds. But, wouldn't such a thing be tantamount to "promoting hate speech"? Not at all. In fact, it's the other way around! You see, Scripture hints at the idea that no sound judgment can be made unless the truth of an issue be clearly known; and the latter requires the pertinent parties to speak frankly [and truthfully] to one another. Only then, can a fair and just judgment be achieved, so that peace is finally established. And that's why it has been said: "These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; [cause the former will let you...] execute the judgment of truth, and [thereby you'll achieve] peace in your gates"- Zechariah 8:16.

“Hay pueblos a los que se les soborna con el nivel de vida, para que no se paren a pensar por dónde anda el nivel de su vida”

Justificar el ateísmo y la homosexualidad es moralidad de Tiranos

Mientras los globalistas y Marxistas culturales [que actúan detrás de los gobiernos de Occidente, los alegados grupos de derechos humanos, las organizaciones feministas, el ateísmo de Estado, las organizaciones no gubernamentales, los activistas LGBT, etc] perciban que nuestra primera fidelidad no es para con la narrativa Marxistas que sucintamente pretenden imponernos, sino para con los valores, las costumbres y las prioridades dictaminadas por nuestras respectivas religiones, estos grupos tratarán incesantemente de forzarnos a creer que no existe un Dios, que el bien y el mal es relativo, y que lo predicado por Moisés, Jesús, y Muhammad [entre otros] no son sino ignorante fantasía. ¿Por que? Pues porque, ningún líder que pretenda alcanzar un poder total y absoluto sobre las masas (a fin de utilizarlas como instrumento para adelantar su agenda personal), logrará jamás alcanzar tal objetivo mientras tenga que competir con algún otro líder [ya sea este último un líder político o espiritual] por la fidelidad de esas mismas masas.

Así, siendo fieles a lo ordenado por nuestras respectivas religiones, nos rebelamos contra ese liderato secular, Marxista, y globalista, impidiéndole de ese modo alcanzar sobre nosotros el poder absoluto que tanto codicia. Esta aptitud, no solamente es correcta, sino saludable; pues la historia demuestra que, demasiado poder, logra corromper aún al mejor de los seres humanos; haciendo que, luego de intoxicarse a sí mismo de poder, este último se vea tentado a actuar tal y como si fuese un perverso dios (es decir, de forma arrogante, impune, y tiránica; tal y como aconteció con Faraón, Nabucodonosor, Alejandro Magno, Antíoco Epífanés, Calígula, Nerón, Stalin, y tantos otros grandes Dictadores).

The first aim of powerful secular Jews is to enslave your gentile mind, so they can eventually enslave your body

Before he can enslave your body, the Marxist Jew will first make sure to enslave your mind. How will he do it? Easily! By exploiting your passions. In other words, by telling you the sweet lies you would secretly want to hear- wide sweeping generalities justifying your lack of moral, cultural and religious discipline (weaknesses that the jew will later exploit for his own advantage); placing before your eyes the “ideological potholes” in which he wants you to fall, so that you end up wearing “the psychological straight jacket” that will effectively paralyze you (rendering you incapable of making any meaningful difference).

What are some of these convenient generalizations? Here are a few: (1) “Old is always bad, New is always good” (2) “Good and evil are relative”; (3) “Religion is for the ignorant”; (4) “Diversity is our strength!”; (5) “We have to be inclusive!”; (6) “We all are equal!”; (7) “Violence is never Justified”; (8) “You don't choose your sexual orientation!”; (9) “Antisemitism is always wrong!”; (10) “You can't be judgmental!”; (11) “Individuality is a sign of strength”.

Why would the Jew want to indoctrinate you with these ideas? Because if you analyze them, you'll soon realize that they are detrimental to the Gentiles, but perfectly suited to the Jewish interests. For example, the Jew is the eternal immigrant (the eternal “outsider”), having his own distinctive culture, and being faithful first to his own Jewish people. But you are forced to be OK with that, since you've already agree with them, when they told you that “diversity is our strength”, and that “We are all equal”.

Marxist Jews are often promoters of usury, pedophilia, and homosexuality. But you are forced to accept it, as you have agree that “Good and evil are relative”, that “You don't choose your sexual orientation (you don't choose who do you love)”, and that “You can't be judgmental”. Marxist Jews openly promote atheism, but you are supposed to agree with this because “Religion is for the ignorant”.

In fact, they even want you to renounce to idea that there's a God who expects you to repent and repay for the sins you've committed (or have inherited). No, you have no debt to pay to any imaginary God. The real debt you have to pay (the sin you've inherited from your fathers, and are guilty of yourself) is the sin against the Jews-- in other words, your ancestors negligence in preventing the holocaust, as well as the antisemitism you've displayed whenever you complain about the disproportionate number of Jews holding high power positions in the government, the banking industry, the media, the senate, and the military.

In short, once you volunteer to swallow the sweet lies and generalities dished out to you by Jewish mainstream media, they got you in their pockets (and there's nothing you can do about it!). How can you defeat these Jewish lies? Very simple... Just renounce to them!

How? First of all, start considering Jewish Political correctness to be no better than used toilet paper; Secondly, stop trusting mainstream media, and start judging everyone not for what he [or she says], but rather for what he does; Thirdly, start going back to your original roots (God, Guns, and Guts)- Go back to the language, the lifestyle, the family values, the work ethics, the culture, the morality, and the religion inherited from your ancestors.

Stand firm upon those values, and start calling things by their proper name. (1) Home school your own children; (2) Call homosexuality “a moral abomination”, and call their promoters “perverts and villains”. (3) Call atheistic Jews by their proper name (“Cultural Marxists”); (4) Call a Jewish controlled government by it's true name (a “Zionist occupied government”) (5) Demand that government policy meets the needs and mindset of the local native population, not the needs of Jewish multinational corporations, nor interest groups based on Tel Aviv.

Abrahamic monotheism commands us to hate evil!

“Ye that love the Lord, hate evil... Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish [righteous] judgment... Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good...

Let there arise out of you a group of people inviting to all that is good, enjoining Al-Ma`roof (Monotheism and all that the Almighty orders one to do) and forbidding Al-Munkar (polytheism, disbelief and all that God has forbidden). And it is they who are the successful”- Psalm 97:10, Amos

5:15, Romans 12:9, Quran 3:104

“Promotion of atheism and brazen immorality is so paramount to Jewish cultural Marxist (the likes of Jefferey Tubin) that they view any opposition to it as a form of anti-semitism.... As the saying goes, “The Marxist Jew takes you not by force, but by temptation” (Russian Proverb).”

Was Jesus an alien? And, would it make any difference?

Our dear brothers and sisters, the Christian gospel seems to imply that the star that [allegedly] announced Jesus birth could actually move and stop upon a particular spot above the earth (“... and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was”- Matthew 2:9, KJB). Thus, it seems obvious that the latter wasn't a literal star... In fact (if we dared to be truly open minded) we could theorize that it was instead what we currently know as an U.F.O. ...

And, if we were to consider such bold line of reasoning, there would be a good chance that Mary was the victim of an alien abduction, so that she was not only impregnated without having natural intercourse, but JESUS ACTUALLY HAD NO HUMAN FATHER (being the product of an alien impregnation experiment!)....

Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) could not have been the Supreme Creator of the Universe. Why? Because it makes no sense that the Creator could ever be tempted to worship His own creation!

No wise and mature believer would ever entertain the notion that the non-created, infinite, unlimited, all knowing, omnipresent, and omnipotent Creator of the Universe can ever be tempted to bow down [In worship and submission] to any of His weak, finite, and limited creatures. And that's why Torah observant believers reject the dogma of Jesus deity, as the gospel portrays him [the alleged Creator of the Universe] being tempted to worship Satan [one of his alleged creatures]. As is written: “Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me...”- Matthew 4:8-9, K.J.V.

Curiously, the latter might explain the reason why the Nazarene seemed to be so abnormally intelligent (“And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers”- Luke 2:47), and why he always felt like he didn't belong to this world (“Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you?... And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath; I am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world”- Matthew 17:17, John 8:23)...

Would such possibility deny Jesus message of repentance and good deeds (“I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish... but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments”- Luke 13:3, Matthew 19:17)? Of course not!!! Why? Because “truth is truth, no matter who proclaims it”. Likewise, “evil is evil, no matter who denies it”.

In other words, if a blonde, blue eyed, “angel-like” creature were to tell you that having intercourse with your same sex parent is a good thing, you ought to immediately disbelieve it ... On the other hand, if an ugly, “octopus-like” alien creature were to tell you that pride, cheating, murder, and disrespect for your parents are evil things, you ought to immediately agree with it [as the latter things are in full agreement with the perfect message of God's holy Law]. May peace be upon you!

Will Hebrew believers “get lost” for refusing to believe Jesus to be God in the flesh?

When it comes to our everlasting destiny, it wouldn't be wise to risk it by taking unnecessary chances. Granted-- there's a remote possibility of Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) being a manifestation of God in the flesh, but the fact is that [unlike the God who spoke to Moses] Jesus didn't personally write anything; So, all we have from him is private/third-party “hear say”.

On the other hand, Moses actually wrote his five books of Torah, and they contained the words of the public revelation made by God to over 2 million Israelites.

In fact, Moses writings not only referenced God's personal writing (the Ten Commandments, written by God himself upon the two stone tablets) but also claim to be complete, not needing any future addition and/or modification (“And it came to pass, when Moses had made an end of writing the words of this law in a book, until they were finished, That Moses commanded the Levites... Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it...”- Deuteronomy 31:24-25, & Deuteronomy 4:2, KJV).

And since the gospel writers freely acknowledge the fact that God had not only spoken to Moses (“.. have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?”- Mark 12:26, KJV), but also that Moses had written himself his five books of Torah (“For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me; for he wrote of me”- John 5:46, KJV), It is safe to stick to Moses public revelation [which is by the way the very definition of being a Samaritan believer].

But what if we are wrong, and Jesus is indeed God in the flesh? Will that make us lose our good share in the World to come? of course not! Why? Because the God of the Hebrews is perfectly righteous (“He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He”- Deuteronomy 32:4, KJV), and therefore never behaves like a religious tyrant, nor as an ideological dictator.

And even the Jewish Scripture bears witness of this, when it goes on to relate the story of God rewarding a whole family (The House of the Rechabites). For what reason were they rewarded? For their act of disbelief/disobedience to the words of a prophet (Jeremiah)!

And why would God reward them for refusing to believe and/or obey the words of His anointed messenger? Simply because their disobedience was the result of an honest and sincere belief that man ought to stand firm by the words of fidelity exchanged between him and his father (which by the way is also intimated in the verse that goes on to say, “Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill?... He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not...”- Psalm 15:1&4, KJV). As is written: “And I [Jeremiah] set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, Drink ye wine. But they said, We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons for ever... Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he hath charged us... And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you: Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever”- Jeremiah 35:5-8, & 18-19, KJV.

And it goes without saying that, if God was so pleased with the Children of Rechab for holding fast to the promise of fidelity made by their fathers to Jonadab, how much more will He be pleased with the Children of Israel for holding fast to the promise of fidelity [to God's Law] made by their fathers to יהוה; a promise to be God's people, and for Him to be their only God.

As is written: "Thou hast avouched the Lord (יהוה) this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways, and to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and to hearken unto his voice: And the Lord hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promised thee, and that thou shouldest keep all his commandments; And to make thee high above all nations which He hath made, in praise, and in name, and in honour; and that thou mayest be an holy people unto the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken"- Deuteronomy 26:17-19, KJV

«No estamos realmente comprometidos con el Dios de la Escritura Hebrea, sino hasta que empezamos a amar lo que ese Dios ama, y a odiar lo que ese Dios odia»

Will you serve the Lord of the Law? Or will you serve instead the lord of the gospel? You can't serve both of them!

"No man can serve two Lords: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other"- Matthew. 6:24 ...

The Lord of the Law (יהוה), who according to Malachi 3:6 never changes) commands you to abstain from even toying with the idea of eating flesh and blood ("But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat... Only be sure that thou eat not the blood: for the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life [blood] with the flesh”- Genesis 9:4, & Deut. 12:23); But the lord of the gospel (Yeshua) commands you to go ahead and toy with the idea of eating his flesh and blood (“... Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you. Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day”- John 6:53-54).

Which of these two Lords will you hold on to, loving and obeying?

Paul’s madness: “People cannot die more than once!”

The Hebrew believer who willingly abandons God’s Law will end up mad. As it is written: “But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments... all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee... THE LORD SHALL SMITE THEE WITH MADNESS, AND BLINDNESS, AND ASTONISHMENT OF HEART: And thou shalt grope at noonday, as the blind gropeth in darkness”- Deuteronomy 28:15, 28&29.

And, since Paul the apostle (may peace be upon him) preached against observing God’s Law, it was only natural that he too became mad.

Whence we know Paul ended up Mad? We know it from the fact that, though Hebrew Scripture pictures both Elijah and Elisha resurrecting dead people (thereby forcing the latter to die a second time), Paul is so disconnected from reality that he brazenly dares to claim the exact opposite-- That people cannot die more than once! As it is written: “And as IT IS APPOINTED UNTO MEN ONCE TO DIE, but after this the judgment”- Hebrews 9:27, KJB.

And even the Christian Scripture bears witness to the former, as it states that Jesus resurrected the already decomposed body of Lazarus, who [down the road] had to die for a second time.

Our dear brothers and sisters, please beware of the practical idolatry hidden behind the modern cult of Western secular liberalism! Keep in mind that Torah often portrays vain pagan idols as being "covered with gold"-- as if to hint at the fact that evil often disguises itself as valuable and enduring prosperity. May the Holy One give us wisdom for the journey! Amen.

The reason why some righteous people are allowed to re-incarnate

“... In those days was [king] Hezekiah sick unto death. And the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, THUS SAITH THE LORD, “Set thine house in order; for THOU SHALT DIE, AND NOT LIVE”- 2 Kings 20:1. If Hezekiah was to die, why would the prophet feel the need to add, “... AND NOT LIVE”? Can you die, and yet keep going on with your ordinary life?

The true reason was that Isaiah wanted to hint at a larger reality: “THOU SHALT DIE (in this world), AND NOT LIVE (in the world that follows immediately after)”.

But, why such harsh punishment? Because, though his royal post enabled him to take whatever woman he wanted, Hezekiah refused to marry and beget children (thereby refusing to comply with Torah’s very first command-- to be fruitful and multiply).

And since Hezekiah (a king) had refused to bring [into the present world] the soul of his sons, therefore God (a king) also refused to bring [into the future world] the soul of His son [Hezekiah].

Thus, we learn that even if he be like Hezekiah (a righteous man), the person who willingly refuses to marry the opposite sex (in order to beget children) will have no share in the World to come.

But, since God's justice never fails to reward a righteous deed, how will such person be rewarded for the goodness already performed?

Well, his reward will be the following: once he is dead, his soul will be allowed to come back to earth [under different circumstances], so as to have the chance to complete his unfulfilled mission.

Whence we get that God can take a soul out of the grave, bring it back to life, and let it finish a divinely appointed task? We get it from the story of a righteous man who, after dying from asphyxiation, asked God to let his soul out of the grave, so he could "praise the Almighty" [by fulfilling the task he had promised to do].

As it is written:

«And he [Jonah] said: "I called out of mine affliction unto the LORD, and He answered me; OUT OF THE BELLY OF THE NETHER-WORLD CRIED I, AND THOU HEARDEST MY VOICE... THE EARTH WITH HER BARS CLOSED UPON ME FOR EVER; YET HAST THOU BROUGHT UP MY LIFE FROM THE PIT, O LORD MY GOD... I REMEMBERED THE LORD; AND MY PRAYER CAME IN UNTO THEE... THAT WHICH I HAVE VOWED [TO DO] I WILL PAY..."»- Jonah 2:1-10 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 edition).

If you want to keep a healthy mind, you must feed it with truth

Your mind is like your stomach. In other words, if you want a healthy mind, you must feed it with healthy (albeit sometimes bitter-sweet) food (the latter meaning uncomfortable, yet honest and objective truth); but if you feed it instead with "high sugar" fast food (meaning feel-good/wishful thinking ideas) it will become weak and discomfited.

And the fact that, as a rule of thumb, God's truth is bitter sweet [not catering to our self-serving lusts and whims, but rather to our physical, emotional, and spiritual well-being] is allegorically portrayed in the following Scripture:

«And he said unto me, "Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee". Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness... So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit»- Ezekiel 3:3,&14.

And even the Christian writings hint at the same reality, when they go on to say: «And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, "Give me the little book". And he said unto me, "Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey"»- Revelation 10:9

«Too much West, is East; Too much of a good thing, can be a bad thing; A little bit of water can be refreshing, but too much of it can be lethal; Human rights are good, but too many individual rights can turn people selfish and tyrannical, pretending that defending their rights gives them the right to force everybody to comply with their whims»

If you want to become a paradigm of Torah (God's Law) obedience, simply start honoring your parents

The Hebrew word used to designate God's Law is "Torah"; and "Torah" literally means "Instruction" (or "guidance"). Why? Because it guides and instructs us concerning the lifestyle, and values, that bring everlasting life.

Curiously, most of the feasts prescribed by Torah are directly related to the harvesting seasons. Why?

Well, Reformed Samaritanism perceives the latter as a Divine hint-- an allegorical way of pointing at the idea that, Torah's hidden foundation, is none other than "sowing and reaping" (also known as "measure for measure", "action and reaction", or "what goes around comes around").

Thus, as we are bound to "reap" whatever goodness we have freely "planted" into "the garden" of our lives ("... as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee: thy reward shall return upon thine own head"- Obadiah 1:15), it makes sense that Torah should enjoin us to spare no effort into "sowing" all the goodness we can possibly can ("Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the LORD your God, and His testimonies, and His statutes, which He hath commanded thee. And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the LORD; that it may be well with thee..."- Deut. 6:17-18).

Why do goodness? In order to secure for ourselves a good and bountiful harvest. But what if you could only do just one good thing in life? Which one should it be? In that case, it must be to honor your parents.

Why honor our parents? Because when a man is truly committed with honoring his parents, he aims at embracing a noble and worthy lifestyle-- one that makes his parents feel happy [and proud] of him; thereby avoiding any shady, shameful, criminal, an/or immoral behavior that could bring trouble upon him [or land him in jail, thereby breaking his parents' ageing hearts].

And if we come to think about it, if "what goes around, comes around" happens to be Torah's paramount message, then it makes sense to expect that he who honors his [earthly] father, be likewise honored by his [non-earthly] father.

And the former is exactly what happened to the Rechabites family- whom, for the sake of honoring their righteous forefathers, went as far as refusing to obey the "instruction" (or "Torah") of a Jewish prophet (something forbidden by the Oral Jewish Law!).

As it is written: «And I [Jeremiah] set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, "Drink ye wine". But they said, "We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, 'Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons for ever: Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye shall dwell in tents; that ye may live many days in the land where ye be strangers'. Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters..."- Jeremiah 35:5-8.

Was the Heavenly Father pleased with the Rechabites commitment to honour their [earthly] fathers? You bet! Did the Almighty punish them for disobeying the clear instruction given unto them by God's anointed messenger (prophet Jeremiah)? Of course not!

In fact, God was so pleased with the Rechabites standpoint, that He went on to honor them. As it is written: «And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, "Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you: Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; 'Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever' "»- Jeremiah 35:18-19.

Notice how the former not only lends undisputed support to the idea that, he who honors his [righteous] earthly father, will himself be honored by his [righteous] heavenly father. In addition, it also teaches that the act of honoring our parents has such paramount importance that, for the sake of it, we are even allowed to disregard the direct instruction (Torah) given by one of God's own prophets.

Reformed Samaritanism

Why were leaven and fat forbidden?

Why was leaven forbidden, and why did the Law command the fat to be burned unto the Lord? It was done so because the latter makes a person seem larger than what he actually is [just as the vain and arrogant person seems greater than what he actually is]. Thus, fat was reserved for the Lord, as if to say: "Men of flesh and bones are not allowed to be proud and arrogant; nor to boast of greatness, as the latter belongs only to He whom, being an infinite and bodyless Spirit, is thereby perfectly holy, wise, and powerful"

Don't promote evil simply because it feels good, or just because it might seem to advance your personal agenda. True evil has no shame, no moral values, and no faithfulness. Thus, the evil you currently promote, will one day turn around and make you one of its helpless victims. And that's why Hebrew Scripture goes on to say: "Whoever digs a pit [for another man's feet] will fall into it, And he who rolls a stone [up a hill to do mischief], it will come back on him"- Proverbs 26:27 (Amplified Bible)

Show mercy for the sinner, but contempt for his sin

On the one hand, God's Law states that Abraham interceded for the well being of the Sodomites ("Peradventure there be fifty righteous within the city: wilt thou also destroy and not spare the place for the fifty righteous that are therein?"- Genesis 18:24).

Yet, on the other hand, it states that Abraham did not want any formal dealings with the Sodomites ("And the king of Sodom said unto Abram, Give me the persons, and take the goods to thyself. And Abram said to the king of Sodom, I have lift up mine hand unto the Lord, the most high God, the possessor of heaven and earth, That I will not take from a thread even to a shoelatchet, and that I will not take any thing that is thine..."- Genesis 14:21-23).

What moral lesson is Torah trying to convey? It aims at teaching that, while the Hebrew believer ought to [privately] show mercy [and patience] towards the Sodomites, he ought to [publicly] display utter contempt against such corrupted and ungodly lifestyle.

The God of Abraham is no Human King!

God is not like any Gentile nor Israelite king. Why? Because a human king would demand blind submission (tolerating no questioning, nor dissent), whereas the Almighty not only doesn't expect our blind submission, but is even willing to concede, whenever confronted with a valid (and righteous) claim. As it has been said: «And Abraham drew near, and said, "Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked?... That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and that the righteous should be as the wicked"... And the Lord said, "If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes".... Then came the daughters of Zelophehad...saying... "Our father died in the wilderness... and had no sons. Why should the name of our father be done away from among his family, because he hath no son? Give unto us therefore a possession among the brethren of our father”... And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, “the daughters of Zelophehad speak right: thou shalt surely give them a possession of an inheritance among their father's brethren; and thou shalt cause the inheritance of their father to pass unto them”... And they [the Children of Israel] kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month at even in the wilderness of Sinai: according to all that the Lord commanded Moses... And there were certain men, who were defiled by the dead body of a man, that they could not keep the passover on that day: and they came before Moses... And those men said unto him, “We are defiled by the dead body of a man: wherefore are we kept back, that we may not offer an offering of the Lord in his appointed season among the children of Israel?”... And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, “Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, -If any man of you or of your posterity shall be unclean by reason of a dead body, or be in a journey afar off, yet he shall keep the passover unto the Lord. The fourteenth day of the second month at even they shall keep it, and eat it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs-”... In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the Lord, “Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live”. Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the Lord, saying, “I beseech thee, O Lord, remember now how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight”. And Hezekiah wept sore. And it came to pass, afore Isaiah was gone out into the middle court, that the word of the Lord came to him, saying, “Turn again, and tell Hezekiah the captain of my people, Thus saith the Lord, the God of David thy father, “I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up unto the house of the Lord...”»- Genesis 18:23-26, Numbers 27:1-7, Numbers 9:5-11, 2 Kings 20:1-5.

Samaritanismo Reformado y Mesianismo Nazareno

El Mesianismo Nazareno (o, “Cristiano”), es un camino perfectamente válido para agradar al Creador, y todo creyente mesiánico que halla vivido una vida de humildad y sincero arrepentimiento, seguramente recibirá una buena parte en la vida que pronto ha de llegar.

El único problema, es que la teología mesiánica niega lo claramente revelado por el Dios de nuestro maestro Moises. ¿Y que hace que una persona sea Cristiana (o, "Mesiánica")?

Pues, curiosamente, lo que hace Cristiana a una persona, no es el hecho de que “crea en Jesús” [pues no hay nada malo con creer en los principios éticos y morales atribuidos al Nazareno, ya que muchos de estos son un reflejo de la ética promulgada por Ley Divina]; lo que le hace Cristiana, es que tiene la absoluta certeza en que Jesús (paz sea y bendición sean con él) es la encarnación del Dios de Israel; es su sincera creencia en que, el destino eterno del hombre (“su salvación”), no es el producto del arrepentimiento y la obediencia a los mandamientos Divinos (ley de siembra y cosecha), sino que es en cambio la fe en que Jesús es el redentor del Mundo (el Mesías esperado por los Judíos que vivieron durante el comienzo de la era Cristiana).

Finalmente, lo que hace Cristiana a una persona, es su suprema convicción en la creencia de que “la Gracia, es mas que la Ley”. Es decir, su absoluta confianza en que las palabras que el Evangelio atribuye a Jesús, a Pablo, a Juan, y al resto de los autores del “Nuevo Testamento”, no solamente son la final e incuestionable Palabra de Dios, sino que están por encima de cualquier otra palabra dicha anteriormente por Moisés, por David, por Salomón, y hasta por el mismo Creador.

A true man of God doesn't bow down to Political correctness

From the words uttered against Jonah, we might surmise that the ship's captain was an anti-semitic pagan, who considered Hebrew people to be lazy and careless ("So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, WHAT MEANEST THOU, O SLEEPER? ARISE, CALL UPON THY GOD, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not" - Jonah 1:6).

Yet, in the end, Jonah proved to be so committed with objective truth, that he was willing to utter it even if it meant his own demise [at the hands of the anti-semites]. As it is written:

"Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous. And he said unto them, TAKE ME UP, AND CAST ME FORTH INTO THE SEA; SO SHALL THE SEA BE CALM UNTO YOU: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you"- Jonah 1:11-12.

Thus, we learn that a true man of God will always try to avoid compromising Divine truth for the sake of personal gain, or political correctness.

«Practical atheism is the greatest source of evil in the whole Universe. What is practical atheism? It is the self-serving idea that there's no Judge [nor Judgment] in the Universe— the notion that Newton's Law of "action and reaction" ("cause and effect", or "sowing and reaping") doesn't really apply to the moral realm, so that the evil we choose to do unto our fellow creatures will go unpunished, as there is nothing [and nobody] "out there" to make us "reap" (experiencing in our own person) the evil we have willingly sowed upon our fellow creatures (without repenting and making amends for it)»

If there is a God, why doesn't He heal amputees?

Our beloved brothers and sisters, Reformed Samaritanism is a "no-nonsense" form of religion. Thus, when it comes to questions like why amputees are not restored, we humbly [and objectively] ask ourselves the following question:

Given the fact that God's Law openly states that Isaac became blind, that Jacob started to limp from one leg, and that Moses suffered from severe speech problems [all of the latter being relatively common diseases, for which God never provided any cure], what valid reasons [aside from vain pride, and arrogance] could we possibly raise, in order to demand a preferential treatment from the Almighty?

What makes us greater [and far more worthy] than these spiritual giants? Aren't we just sad & puny midgets, when our faith [and commitment to God] is compared to theirs? May peace and blessings be upon you!

«The man who, after observing nature's rigorous compliance with the mathematical laws of integral calculus, proceeds to say, "This nature is no proof that there's a rational intelligence (or God) behind it!", disconnects so much from reality that, in the end, will come to observe his own male genitals and proceed to say, "These genitals are no proof that there is a man behind them!... And the former might be the reason why, the more secular intelligence a man seems to have, the greater the chance that he will fall for the gay lifestyle...»

Was Jesus God?

Many sincere believers wonder whether or not the Nazarene was [literally] God. And the answer we ought to give to such concern will depend upon our ability to make an impartial and objective analysis of what Christian writings tell us concerning Jesus nature.

You see, if Jesus [peace and blessings be always upon him] was immortal, infinite, omnipotent, omniscient, and omnipresent, then he was indeed the Creator of all the Universes.

On the other hand, if Jesus was mortal [being subject to be executed by the Romans, as per Matthew 27]; if Jesus was finite [having a need for rest, food, and drink, as per Matthew 8:24, Mark 11:12, & John 4:7]; if Jesus couldn't do all things [like not being able to decide who (in the future) would sit at his right hand and at his left hand side, as per Matthew 20:23]; if Jesus didn't know all things [like not knowing the day nor the hour when the Son of Man would return again, as per Mark 13:32]; if Jesus couldn't be at once everywhere [like when he promised his disciples that, though he would be no more with them, he would send them a comforter, as per John 16:7]; and if all of the former are true, then Jesus definitely wasn't the Creator of all Universes.

Obviously, the foregoing discussion doesn't rule out the possibility that Jesus could have been a powerful messenger (prophet) of the Creator (and therefore worthy of being respected, admired, and consulted), as the gospel itself declares, when it goes on to say:

«Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, “this is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world... And the people said: “This is Jesus the prophet, from Nazareth of Galilee”... Then he said to them: “What things?” And they [the disciples] said to him: “Of Jesus of Nazareth, who was a prophet, mighty in deed and in word before God and all the people”»- John 6:14, Matthew 21:11, & Luke 24:19.

What do the above passages say concerning Jesus original followers? Did they consider Jesus to be the Infinite and Omnipotent God? Or did they rather consider him to be a prophet from God? Bear in mind that both Hebrew and Christian Scriptures command that we ought to speak only the truth (“These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth... Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbour...”- Zechariah 8:16, & Ephesians 4:25).

Thus, by refusing to accept what the very gospel you claim to believe states concerning Jesus nature, you would be placing yourself under God's curse (“Lying lips are abomination to the Lord: but they that deal truly are his delight... Let the lying lips be put to silence... A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall perish... He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house: he that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight”- Proverbs 12:22, Psalm 31:18, Proverbs 19:9, Psalm 101:7).

And how would such curse manifests? Well, if we persist upon rebelling against the Divine command forbidding us to bear a false witness, we will star to experience a confused spirit, a restless mind, and a troubled heart (severe depression and/or bipolarity). As it is written:

“But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments... all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee... The Lord shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart: And thou shalt grope at noonday, as the blind gropeth in darkness”- Deuteronomy 28:15, 28&29.

May the Almighty grant you the faith, the courage, and the strength required to fight against the seemingly invincible giants of falsehood, embracing instead Divine and impartial truth! Amen.

«Although righteous and obedient to the will of his Creator, Noah knew nothing about Jews, Rabbis, nor written Torah. Yet, the Holy One was so pleased with Noah's moral lifestyle, that He allowed Noah to inherit not just a piece of Canaan, but even the entire World [all of it!]. And why would God's Law include this particular piece of information concerning righteous Noah? It does so in order to teach that, just as it happened with Noah, it will be our moral lifestyle (our just, merciful, humble, and honest behavior), and not our religious affiliation (nor our ethnic background) what will earn us God's favor, thereby making us worthy of inheriting not just the Land of Canaan, but even a whole World»

No matter if you are a Jew, a Christian, a Muslim, or a Samaritan; if you do your best [and most sincere] effort to make your life God's living temple, the Almighty will consider it to be more than enough

Few things in life are “all, or nothing”, “black, or white”, “good, or bad”-- Thus, as a rule of thumb, Divine truth is to be found somewhere between opposite [and extreme] views (the latter being often called, “The healthy balance position”). In the case of Jews, Christians, Muslims, and Samaritans, just as it happens with individuals [as well as nations and societies], religious establishments also evolve. Thus, it wouldn't be wise to claim that either current Jewish, Christian, or Samaritan religions are “the original thing”; rather, they are closer to be just an evolved (but not necessarily better) version of their ancient counterparts.

Still, the fact remains that their ethnic, social, and religious/theological contents have definitely changed. Fortunately for us, Torah isn't so much a book of accurate national history, but rather a book of eternal paradigms, as well as moral allegories. So, the latter hints at the idea that things need not to be perfect, in order for Adonay's plan to be achieved.

For example, notice how, although God had given Israel very detailed [and very specific] instructions concerning the building of the Tabernacle, its furnishings, and the High priest garments, in the end, He left the final result to depend upon the imagination of the skilled artisans (mostly Bezaleel, And Aholiab, as per Exodus 31, and 35:30-35); as if to say: “Here is my detailed [and specific] will for your lives... but since I know you won't be able to perfectly comply with it, I'll let you use whatever wisdom I've given you, in order to do your best [and most sincere] effort-- if you do so, I'll consider it to be more than enough”.

And whence we get that, no matter how small it may be, our sincere contribution to whatever God wants to build in our lives will be considered more than enough? We get it from Torah, when it goes on to say: «And all the wise men, that wrought all the work of the sanctuary, came every man from his work which they made; And they spake unto Moses, saying, “THE PEOPLE BRING MUCH MORE THAN ENOUGH FOR THE SERVICE OF THE WORK, WHICH THE LORD COMMANDED to make”. And Moses gave commandment, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the camp, saying, “Let neither man nor woman make any more work for the offering of the sanctuary”. So the people were restrained from bringing. FOR THE STUFF THEY HAD WAS SUFFICIENT FOR ALL THE WORK TO MAKE IT, AND TOO MUCH»-- Exodus 36:5-7, King James Bible.

May peace be upon you!

Pride is ignorance, but Humility is wisdom

No matter how long it lives, even the Greatest Lion will eventually die miserably. That's the way of the world. At their peak, they rule, chase other animals, catch, devour, gulp and leave their crumbs for hyenas. But age comes fast.

In the end, the old Lion can't hunt, can't kill or defend itself. It roams and roars until it runs out of luck. It will be cornered by the hyenas, nibbled at and eaten alive by them. They won't even let it die before it is dismembered.

Life is short. Power is ephemeral. Health, strength, and Physical beauty are short-lived; we have seen it in lions. We have seen it in old people. Everyone who lives long enough will become weak and very vulnerable at some point.

Therefore, let's be humble. Help the sick, the weak, the vulnerable and most importantly never forget that, in what would surely seem to be just a few more moments, we will all be forced to leave the stage.

The reason why a wise society ought to make LGBTQ ideology a punishable crime

In the final analysis, the LGBTQ movement is the cultural Marxists equivalent to “ideological manure”... in other words, a stinking brazen (an bold) attempt at “re-engineer” society’s psyche, in order to get it so desensitized that, in the end, it can no longer distinguish between objective facts, and wishful thinking; between right, and wrong; between the rule of the majority, and the rule of a minority; between common sense, and insanity; between moral behavior, and immoral behavior; between freedom, and tyranny; between powerful [and oppressive] elites, and weak [and oppressed] minorities; between noble [and normal] behavior, and vile [and aberrant] behavior.

Sadly, being the result of having abandoned God’s commandments, Scripture foretells that the former path will invariably lead into great evil, and endless suffering [strife, hopelessness, depression, mental and physical diseases, injustice, despair, famine, bloodshed, civil war, defeat at the hands of the enemies, exile, etc]. As it has been said:

15) But if you will not obey the voice of the Lord your God, being watchful to do all His commandments and His statutes which I command you this day, then all these curses shall come upon you and overtake you:

16) Cursed shall you be in the city and cursed shall you be in the field.

17) Cursed shall be your basket and your kneading trough.

18) Cursed shall be the fruit of your body, of your land, of the increase of your cattle and the young of your sheep.

19) Cursed shall you be when you come in and cursed shall you be when you go out.

20) The Lord shall send you curses, confusion, and rebuke in every enterprise to which you set your hand, until you are destroyed, perishing quickly because of the evil of your doings by which you have forsaken me [Moses and God as one].

21) The Lord will make the pestilence cling to you until He has consumed you from the land into which you go to possess.

22) The Lord will smite you with consumption, with fever and inflammation, fiery heat, sword and drought, blasting and mildew; they shall pursue you until you perish.

23) The heavens over your head shall be brass and the earth under you shall be iron.

24) The Lord shall make the rain of your land powdered soil and dust; from the heavens it shall come down upon you until you are destroyed.

25) The Lord shall cause you to be struck down before your enemies; you shall go out one way against them and flee seven ways before them, and you shall be tossed to and fro and be a terror among all the kingdoms of the earth. [Fulfilled in II Chron. 29:8.]

26) And your dead body shall be food for all the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth, and there shall be no one to frighten them away.

27) The Lord will smite you with the boils of Egypt and the tumors, the scurvy and the itch, from which you cannot be healed.

28) The Lord will smite you with madness and blindness and dismay of [mind and] heart.

29) And you shall grope at noonday as the blind grope in darkness. And you shall not prosper in your ways; and you shall be only oppressed and robbed continually, and there shall be no one to save you.

30) You shall betroth a wife, but another man shall lie with her; you shall build a house, but not live in it; you shall plant a vineyard, but not gather its grapes.

31) Your ox shall be slain before your eyes, but you shall not eat of it; your donkey shall be violently taken away before your face and not be restored to you; your sheep shall be given to your enemies, and you shall have no one to help you.

32) Your sons and daughters shall be given to another people, and your eyes shall look and fail with longing for them all the day; and there shall be no power in your hands to prevent it. [Fulfilled in II Chron. 29:9.]

33) A nation which you have not known shall eat up the fruit of your land and of all your labors, and you shall be only oppressed and crushed continually, [Fulfilled in Judg. 6:1-6; 13:1.]

34) So that you shall be driven mad by the sights which your eyes shall see.

35) The Lord will smite you on the knees and on the legs with a sore boil that cannot be healed, from the sole of your foot to the top of your head.

36) The Lord shall bring you and your king whom you have set over you to a nation which neither you nor your fathers have known, and there you shall [be forced to] serve other gods, of wood and stone. [Fulfilled in II Kings 17:4, 6; 24:12, 14; 25:7, 11; Dan. 6:11, 12.]

37) And you shall become an amazement, a proverb, and a byword among all the peoples to which the Lord will lead you.

38) You shall carry much seed out into the field and shall gather little in, for the locust shall consume it. [Fulfilled in Hag. 1:6.]

39) You shall plant vineyards and dress them but shall neither drink of the wine nor gather the grapes, for the worm shall eat them.

40) You shall have olive trees throughout all your territory but you shall not anoint yourselves with the oil, for your olive trees shall drop their fruit.

41) You shall beget sons and daughters but shall not enjoy them, for they shall go into captivity.

[Fulfilled in Lam. 1:5.]

42) All your trees and the fruit of your ground shall the locust possess. [Fulfilled in Joel 1:4.]

43) The transient (stranger) among you shall mount up higher and higher above you, and you shall come down lower and lower.

44) He shall lend to you, but you shall not lend to him; he shall be the head, and you shall be the tail.

45) All these curses shall come upon you and shall pursue you and overtake you till you are destroyed, because you do not obey the voice of the Lord your God, to keep His commandments and His statutes which He commanded you.

46) They shall be upon you for a sign [of warning to other nations] and for a wonder, and upon your descendants forever.

47) Because you did not serve the Lord your God with joyfulness of [mind and] heart [in gratitude] for the abundance of all [with which He had blessed you],

48) Therefore you shall serve your enemies whom the Lord shall send against you, in hunger and thirst, in nakedness and in want of all things; and He will put a yoke of iron upon your neck until He has destroyed you.

49) The Lord will bring a nation against you from afar, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle flies, a nation whose language you shall not understand,

50) A nation of unyielding countenance who will not regard the person of the old or show favor to the young,

51) And shall eat the fruit of your cattle and the fruit of your ground until you are destroyed, who also shall not leave you grain, new wine, oil, the increase of your cattle or the young of your sheep until they have caused you to perish.

52) They shall besiege you in all your towns until your high and fortified walls in which you trusted come down throughout all your land; and they shall besiege you in all your towns throughout all your land which the Lord your God has given you.

53) And you shall eat the fruit of your own body, the flesh of your sons and daughters whom the Lord your God has given you, in the siege and in the [pressing] misery with which your enemies shall distress you. [Fulfilled in II Kings 6:24-29.]

54) The man who is most tender among you and extremely particular and well-bred, his eye shall be cruel and grudging of food toward his brother and toward the wife of his bosom and toward those of his children still remaining,

55) So that he will not give to any of them any of the flesh of his children which he is eating, because he has nothing left to him in the siege and in the distress with which your enemies shall distress you in all your towns.

56) The most tender and daintily bred woman among you, who would not venture to set the sole of her foot upon the ground because she is so dainty and kind, will grudge to the husband of her bosom, to her son and to her daughter

57) Her afterbirth that comes out from her body and the children whom she shall bear. For she will eat them secretly for want of anything else in the siege and distress with which your enemies shall distress you in your towns.

58) If you will not be watchful to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that you may [reverently] fear this glorious and fearful name [and presence]—the lord your god—

59) Then the Lord will bring upon you and your descendants extraordinary strokes and blows, great plagues of long continuance, and grievous sicknesses of long duration.

60) Moreover, He will bring upon you all the diseases of Egypt of which you were afraid, and they shall cling to you.

61) Also every sickness and every affliction which is not written in this Book of the Law the Lord will bring upon you until you are destroyed.

62) And you shall be left few in number, whereas you had been as the stars of the heavens for multitude, because you would not obey the voice of the Lord your God.

63) And as the Lord rejoiced over you to do you good and to multiply you, so the Lord will rejoice to bring ruin upon you and to destroy you; and you shall be plucked from the land into which you go to possess.

64) And the Lord shall scatter you among all peoples from one end of the earth to the other; and there you shall [be forced to] serve other gods, of wood and stone, which neither you nor your fathers have known. [Fulfilled in Dan. 3:6.]

65) And among these nations you shall find no ease and there shall be no rest for the sole of your foot; but the Lord will give you there a trembling heart, failing of eyes [from disappointment of hope], fainting of mind, and languishing of spirit.

66) Your life shall hang in doubt before you; day and night you shall be worried, and have no assurance of your life.

67) In the morning you shall say, Would that it were evening! and at evening you shall say, Would that it were morning!—because of the anxiety and dread of your [minds and] hearts and the sights which you shall see with your [own] eyes.

68) And the Lord shall bring you into Egypt again with ships by the way about which I said to you, You shall never see it again. And there you shall be sold to your enemies as bondmen and bondwomen, but no man shall buy you.

– Deuteronomy 15:15-68 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition)

Why does the Holy One considers the idolatry of flesh and blood such a heinous sin?

Reformed Samaritanism defines idolatry as “the consumption” of the idea that, the totality of the Infinite, Unlimited, Immortal, and Morally Perfect Creator of the Universe, can also be ascribed to any member [or any part] of His creation; even if the latter creature [or part of creation] remains finite, limited, mortal, and morally imperfect [which is the ideological equivalent of claiming that a person isn’t really naked, but rather donning invisible clothes].

In fact, this idea is so absurd and worthless, that Hebrew Scripture doesn’t hesitate to associate it with physical excrement. As it is written: “and they tore down the pillar of Baal. Then they tore down the temple of Baal and made it a latrine—which it still is today”- 2 Kings 10:27 (Christian Standard Bible).

And the former is the reason why God’s Law prevents the believer from consuming [thereby “becoming one with”...] Crabs, Shrimp, Lobster, etc. Why? Because the latter are “Bottom feeders”, consuming the “sea snow” [or excrement] produced by animals living at higher sea elevations [as if to hint at the idea that the believer can have no part of such a worthless thing].

In fact, even the New testament seems to agree with this viewpoint. Whence we get it? We get it from the fact that, right after pagans deemed them to be gods under human guise (“The gods have come down to us in human form!”- Acts 14:11), the Christian apostles went on to rebuke the multitude, telling them the following: “People! Why are you doing these things? We are people also, just like you, and we are proclaiming good news to you, that you turn from these worthless things to the living God, who made the heaven, the earth, the sea, and everything in them”- Acts 14:15 (Christian Standard Bible).

Who is a member of God’s own Israel?

While talking about the nation of Israel, Moses Law quotes the Almighty promising the following: “And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee” (Genesis 12:3). Yet, later down the road, we find the Almighty cursing the Nation of Israel: “Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation” (Malachi 3:9).

After promising to curse those who curse Israel, How can God himself go on to curse Israel? Could it be that [if we dare to say such a thing] God is a liar? Or is it instead that the Almighty is powerful enough to curse Himself? How can we rationally explain such an odd [and grave] contradiction? Well, Reform Samaritanism proposes that the former promise wasn’t made unto the [ethnic] nation of Israel-- Rather, it was made unto the moral paradigm that the Israelite nation was supposed to incarnate.

And which paradigm are we talking about?-- That of a community comprised of all whom, regardless of their “tribal affiliation” (nation, race, or creed) fears the Almighty.

How? By pursuing what is good and upright; in other words, the lifestyle of discipline, justice, mercy, and humility spelled in the verses that go on to say:

“Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart. He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbour, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbour. In whose eyes a vile person is contemned; but he honoureth them that fear the Lord. He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not. He that putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these things shall never be moved... He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?”- Psalm 15:1-5, & Micah 6:8.

In light of the former, we shouldn’t be surprised to find that [although Job was neither Jewish, nor Israelite], God proceeded to curse [with infirmity] all of Job’s friends. Why? Because they had cursed him, claiming his ailments were the result of hidden wickedness. And that’s the reason why, in the end, Job is asked to pray for his friends, so they could be healed. As it is written:

«the Lord said to Eliphaz the Temanite, “My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath”.... And the Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for [the well-being of...] his friends”- Job 42:7, & 10.

Thus, the ultimate meaning of God’s promise to “curse those who curse Israel” is that Divine justice (also know as “law of measure for measure”, or “sowing and reaping”) will make sure that he who falsely curses an innocent member of the God-fearing community, be forced to receive such curse back upon himself.

Thus, whenever Jews collectively obey the Almighty, they are indeed covered by such promise. But whenever they collectively choose to turn away from God, the latter ceases to view them as “citizens of Israel” (in other words, as proper representatives of the God-fearing community).

Instead, He views them as citizens of wicked pagan nations (“Except the Lord of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah.

Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah”- Isaiah 1:9-10).

And since no protection promise was made unto the wicked, a rebellious Jew is unable to claim that no one can afford to curse him.

In fact, not only will God allow gentile nations to curse him, but the Almighty himself will join those nations, bringing upon him the curses promised by the verses that go on to say:

“But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee: Cursed shalt thou be in the city, and cursed shalt thou be in the field.

Cursed shall be thy basket and thy store. Cursed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep. Cursed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and cursed shalt thou be when thou goest out. The Lord shall send upon thee cursing, vexation, and rebuke, in all that thou settest thine hand unto for to do, until thou be destroyed, and until thou perish quickly; because of the wickedness of thy doings, whereby thou hast forsaken me”- Deuteronomy 28:15-20.

May the Almighty grant mercy, grace, and guidance to all of our beloved Jewish brothers and sisters. Amen.

Judaism is a great religion; but beware of powerful and secular [Marxist] Jews, as their aim is to enslave your "gentile" mind, so they can eventually enslave your body

Before he can enslave your body, the Marxist Jew will first make sure to enslave your mind. How will he do it? Easily! By exploiting your passions. In other words, by telling you the sweet lies you would secretly want to hear- wide sweeping generalities justifying your lack of moral, cultural and religious discipline (weaknesses that the Jew will exploit for his own advantage); placing before your eyes the “ideological potholes” in which he wants you to fall, so that you end up wearing “the psychological straight jacket” that will effectively paralyze you (rendering you incapable of making any meaningful difference).

What are some of these convenient generalizations? Here are a few: (1) “Old is always bad, New is always good” (2) “Good and evil are relative”; (3) “Religion is for the ignorant”; (4) “Diversity is our strength!”; (5) “We have to be inclusive!”; (6) “We all are equal!”; (7) “Violence is never Justified”; (8) “You don’t choose your sexual orientation!”; (9) “Antisemitism is always wrong!”; (10) “You can’t be judgmental!”; (11) “Individuality is a sign of strength”.

Why would the Jew want to indoctrinate you with these ideas? Because if you analyze them, you’ll soon realize that they are detrimental to the Gentiles, but perfectly suited to the Jewish interests. For example, the Jew is the eternal immigrant (the eternal “outsider”), having his own distinctive culture, and being faithful first to his own Jewish people. But you are forced to be OK with that, since you’ve already agree with them, when they told you that “diversity is our strength”, and that “We are all equal”.

Marxist Jews are often promoters of usury, pedophilia, and homosexuality. But you are forced to accept it, as you have agree that “Good and evil are relative”, that “You don’t choose your sexual orientation (you don’t choose who do you love)”, and that “You can’t be judgmental”. Marxist Jews openly promote atheism, but you are supposed to agree with this because “Religion is for the ignorant”.

In fact, they even want you to renounce to idea that there’s a God who expects you to repent and repay for the sins you’ve committed (or have inherited). No, you have no debt to pay to any imaginary God.

The real debt you have to pay (the sin you've inherited from your fathers, and are guilty of yourself) is the sin against the Jews- your ancestors negligence in preventing the holocaust, as well as the antisemitism you've displayed whenever you complain about the disproportionate number of Jews holding high power positions in the government, the banking industry, the media, the senate, and the military.

In short, once you volunteer to swallow the sweet lies and generalities dished out to you by Jewish mainstream media, they got you in their pockets (and there's nothing you can do about it!). How can you defeat these Jewish lies? Very simple!... Just renounce to them.

How? First of all, start considering Jewish Political correctness to be no better than used toilet paper; Secondly, stop trusting mainstream media, and start judging everyone not for what he [or she says], but rather for what he does; Thirdly, start going back to your original roots (God, Guns, and Guts)- Go back to the language, the lifestyle, the family values, the work ethics, the culture, the morality, and the religion inherited from your ancestors. Stand firm upon those values, and start calling things by their proper name.

- (1) Home school your own children;
- (2) Call homosexuality "a moral abomination", and call their promoters "perverts and villains".
- (3) Call atheistic Jews by their proper name ("Cultural Marxists");
- (4) Call a Jewish controlled government by it's true name (a "Zionist occupied government")
- (5) Demand that government policy meets the needs and mindset of the local native population, not the needs of Jewish multinational corporations, nor interest groups based on Tel Aviv.

*El Cristianismo es bueno... Pero la realidad objetiva es que, el Cristiano Que Sigue Ciegamente la Teología de Pablo, Es Como El Ciego Que Sigue A Otro Ciego... Ambos caerán en el mismo Hoyo!!
Que el creador tenga misericordia de nuestros amados hermanos Cristianos... Amén*

Samaritanismo Reformado

El Cristiano que sigue ciegamente a Pablo, es como un ciego que, literalmente, sigue a otro ciego...

El apóstol Pablo (que la paz del Creador sea con su alma) era literalmente ciego (Gal. 4:15); y por eso era que necesitaba que fuesen otros, quienes escribiesen sus cartas (Rom. 16:22). Así, el hombre que va ciegamente tras "la visión teológica" de Pablo (es decir, el hombre que sigue sin cuestionamiento, la confusa y borrosa interpretación que, de la Ley, hace el apóstol Pablo), se hace a si mismo un irónico ejemplo de "un ciego" (espiritual), que sigue a otro "ciego" (corporal)...
¿Cual será la suerte de ambos? ¡Pues caer en el mismo hoyo!

Was Yeshua (Jesus of Nazareth, peace and blessings be upon him) the God of Israel?

There is absolutely nothing wrong with respecting [and honoring] the figure of Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him). Still, Reformed Samaritanism states Jesus could not have been the God of Israel.

Why? Simply because the Gospel says Jesus was just a mortal who had heard a word from God (“But now ye seek to kill me, A MAN that hath told you the truth, which I HAVE HEARD OF GOD... The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, AND BE SLAIN...”- John 8:40 and Luke 9:22); whereas the Hebrew Scripture says God isn’t a man, nor does He ever dies, but rather lives forevermore (“... FOR HE IS NOT A MAN, that he should repent... For I lift up my hand to heaven, and say, I LIVE FOREVER...”- 1 Samuel 15:29 and Deuteronomy 32:40).

The Christian Scriptures states that God cannot be tempted by the Devil (“... for GOD CANNOT BE TEMPTED WITH EVIL...”- James 1:13), whereas Jesus was indeed tempted by the Devil (“And Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness, BEING FORTY DAYS TEMPTED BY THE DEVIL...”- Luke 4:1-2).

The Christian Bible states that Jesus had to learn obedience (“Though he were a Son, YET LEARNED HE OBEDIENCE BY THE THINGS WHICH HE SUFFERED”- Hebrews 5:8); whereas, the God of Israel, doesn’t have any need to learn obedience, as He already is morally perfect (“He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: A GOD OF TRUTH AND WITH AND WITHOUT INIQUITY, JUST AND RIGHT IS HE”- Deuteronomy 32:4).

The Christian Bible says that Jesus was given some power he formerly didn’t have (“And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, ALL POWER IS GIVEN TO ME IN HEAVEN AND IN EARTH”- Matthew 28:18); whereas the Hebrew Bible states that, the God of Israel, receives power from no one, as all power is already His (“Who hath prevented me, that I should repay him? WHATSOEVER IS UNDER THE WHOLE HEAVEN IS MINE”- Job 41:11).

The Christian Scripture claims Jesus was seen by many people (“AND THERE WENT GREAT MULTITUDES WITH HIM...”- Luke 14:25), whereas the same Christian Scripture claims that no one has ever seen God (“NO MAN HATH SEEN GOD AT ANY TIME...”- 1 John 4:12).

In addition, the gospel quotes both devils and demons proclaiming Jesus to be the Son of God [and therefore equal to the latter]. As is written: «And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, “Thou art Christ, THE Son of God...”- Luke 4:41. And it goes without saying that, if the devil proclaims any sort of theology, you know for sure that such theology is outright false.

And the Hebrew scripture bears witness of the former, when it goes on to say: “BLESSED IS THE MAN THAT WALKETH NOT IN THE COUNSEL OF THE UNGODLY”- Psalm 1:1; “Lo, their good is not in their hand: THE COUNSEL OF THE WICKED IS FAR FROM ME”- Job 21:16; “THE LORD BRINGETH THE COUNSEL OF THE HEATHEN TO NOUGHT”- Psalm 33:10; “HIDE ME FROM THE SECRET COUNSEL OF THE WICKED; from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity”- Psalm 64:2; “The thoughts of the righteous are right: but THE COUNSELS OF THE WICKED ARE DECEIT”»- Proverbs 12:5 (King James Version). And it goes without saying that none is more wicked than a demon.

And the fact that the words of the demons cannot be trusted is such an undeniable truth that, even the Christian writings bear witness to it, when they go on to say: "... He (the Devil) was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for HE IS A LIAR...”- John 8:44.

In short, to be obsessed with the idea of God ever “coming down to Earth in a human form” [so that

He is forced to be born, grow up, attain emotional maturity, learn wisdom, and overcome the ignorance that characterizes toddlers] is tantamount to blasphemy. Why? Simply because it is a veiled denial of the God of the Hebrew Scripture (of God's very nature!).

In other words, Torah states that the Creator is omnipresent [so He doesn't need to come to Earth in any shape or form, as He has always been here!]; Torah states that God is eternal [so it would be wrong to portray Him as been born-- as that would imply that God actually had a beginning]; Torah states that God is all knowing [so that, unlike human beings, He doesn't need to learn anything]; and, finally, Torah states that God is all powerful [so He doesn't need to grow, to mature, or to overcome anything].

And the fact that so many people still cling to the backward idea of the God of Israel "coming down to Earth" in the form of a normal human being speaks volumes about the sad spiritual state of our present generation. Why? Simply because even ancient Babylonian pagans knew that the divinity does not dwell with flesh and blood ("... and there is none other that can shew it before the king, EXCEPT THE GODS, WHOSE DWELLING IS NOT WITH FLESH"- Daniel 2:11, KJV).

Curiously, the New Testament seems to acknowledge this fact, when it states that, when Paul began preaching the gospel, a pagan multitude mistakenly took him for a god [disguised in a human form]; but he reproached the multitude, encouraging them to abandon such vain ideas. As is written:

"And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, THE GODS ARE COME DOWN TO US IN THE LIKENESS OF MEN...Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes... crying out... why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you THAT YE SHOULD TURN FROM THESE VANITIES UNTO THE LIVING GOD"- Acts 14:11, 14, & 15, KJV .

Truth be told, if you were to read the five books of Moses [without any Christian bias], it would be self evident that the former teaches no one can see God's literal manifestation, and live to talk about it. As is written: "And He (God) said, THOU CANST NOT SEE MY FACE: FOR THERE SHALL NO MAN SEE ME, AND LIVE"- Exodus 33:20, KJV. Thus, our master Moses teaches that, whenever God seems to have physically appeared to some person, if such person has survived the encounter, it is clear that He didn't really see God's literal manifestation.

What did he see instead? He most likely saw one of God's many messenger's (or "angels"). Thus, Scripture teaches that, the God who delivered the Israelites from the Egyptian bondage and later guided them thru the wilderness in the form of a cloud [and pillar of fire] wasn't literally God, but rather an angel sent by God.

And the former is attested by the verses that goes on to say: "... and when we cried unto the Lord, He heard our voice, AND (HE) SENT AN ANGEL, and brought us forth out of Egypt"- Numbers 20:16; And also says in another place: "Behold, I SEND AN ANGEL BEFORE THEE, TO KEEP THEE IN THE WAY, AND TO BRING THEE INTO THE PLACE WHICH I HAVE PREPARED. Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; for he will not pardon your transgressions: for my name is in him"- Exodus 23:20-21.

In fact, king Solomon [the wisest of all men] acknowledges the impossibility of an infinite God literally dwelling on Earth, as the whole Universe (the heavens of heavens) isn't large enough to stand all of His glory. As is written: "BUT WILL GOD INDEED DWELL ON THE EARTH? BEHOLD, THE HEAVEN AND HEAVEN OF HEAVENS CANNOT CONTAIN THEE"- 1 Kings 8:27.

Does the former mean Christianity is a false and/or invalid religion? Of course not! It only means that, not knowing God's Law, Christian believers worship what they don't really know. But since God is not so interested in our precise theology as much as He is in our sincere repentance and obedience, all God fearing Christian believers can rest assured that they too will have a good share in the world to come.

Is the Almighty [blessed be He] a fool who openly praises himself?

While under the influence of the Holy spirit, the wisest man to ever walk upon the face of the earth [king Solomon] wrote the following: "It is not good to eat much honey: so for men to search their own glory is not glory... Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips"- Proverbs 25:27., & 27:2.

Thus, no wise [and humble] individual will publicly ascribe merits to himself. Why would it be foolish to do so? Because, when your merits are really great, you don't need to underscore them [in fact, you can't even hide them!], as they are self-evident.

Will the Sun ever have any need to brag about the intensity of it's light? Do great mountains need to convince us of their strength? Do we need to be convinced of the greatness [and depth] of the seas? Of course not!

And the former is the reason why Solomon never had to brag about his wisdom [as it was self-evident to his audience]; Samson never had to brag about his strength, [as it was self-evident to all of his enemies]; nor Sarah had to brag about her beauty [as it was self-evident to all who beheld her].

Yet, in spite of the former, we find Moses Law stating the following: "Now the man Moses was very meek, above all the men which were upon the face of the earth..." Numbers 12:3.

In fact, we find prophet Isaiah ascribing unto the Almighty the following words: "To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One. Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them all by names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power; not one faileth"- Isaiah 40:25-26.

Was Moses unwise and vain? Is the Almighty [if we dare to say such a thing] an arrogant fool? God forbid!

The answer to the former paradox is that, the person doing the talk was neither Moses, nor the Almighty-- rather, it was someone speaking on their behalf; an angel, another prophet, a priest, a scribe, a messenger, or any other member of “the host of heavens”.

As it is written: “The heavens declare the glory of God...”- Psalm 19:1. In the former verse, notice how it is stated that it isn’t God, but rather “the heavens” (in other words, the members of the heavenly host) the ones who declare the Almighty’s glory [so that God would not violate His own word, publicly praising himself].

In light of the former, it is inconceivable to think that Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him) be the literal manifestation of the Holy God who spoke to Israel.

Why? Because, although formerly recognizing that it would be wrong to praise himself (“If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true”- John 5:31), Jesus is quoted openly doing just that (“Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me”- John 14:6).

Thus, we are forced to conclude that, since God doesn’t [literally] praise Himself, letting instead His servants (the members of the heavenly host) do it, Jesus could not have been literally God, but [at best] rather a member of God’s heavenly host.

Christianity is an awesome religion, but it’s theology resembles a shrewd, high pressure (“business-like”) sales pitch

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Christianity is an awesome religion, and that he who repents and receives Christ as his savior will definitely experience a new life, as well as forgiveness of sins. If anything, the only “fault” with the noble Christian religion would be that it’s theology seems to bear a false witness, when it claims to be the fulfillment of all that had been taught [and promised] by the God of the Hebrew Scriptures (Also known as “Tanak”, or “The Old Testament”).

And why is this claim false? Simply because Christian theology denies every mayor teaching [and promise] made by the God of the Old testament. Let’s consider a few examples:

(1) Christianity claims that the God of the Old Testament (the Father) became a man in the person of Jesus Christ (“I AND MY FATHER ARE ONE”- John 10:30, K.J.B); but the Old testament teaches that God is no man at all (“And also the Strength of Israel will not lie nor repent; FOR HE IS NOT A MAN...”-1 Samuel 15:29; And also in another place, “GOD IS NOT A MAN...”- Numbers 23:19, K.J.B).

(2) Christianity claims that Jesus died for the sins of all other men (“THAT CHRIST DIED FOR OUR SINS according to the Scriptures....”- 1 Corinthians 15:3, K.J.B); but the Old Testament teaches that each man will die for his own sins, and not for the sins of anybody else (“...EVERY MAN SHALL BE PUT TO DEATH FOR HIS OWN SIN”- Deuteronomy 24:16, K.J.B; And also in another place, “BUT EVERY ONE SHALL DIE FOR HIS OWN INIQUITY...”- Jeremiah 31:30, K.J.B).

(3) Christianity claims that Jesus became the High priest who offered himself as an atonement for the sins of Israel, according to the order of Melchizedek (“being called by God as a HIGH PRIEST AFTER THE ORDER OF MELCHIZEDEK”- Hebrews 5:10, K.J.B); but the Old testament teaches that God wanted Israel’s atonement to be performed by Aaron and his offspring, according to the order of Moses («AND MOSES SAID UNTO AARON, “Go unto the altar, and offer thy sin offering and thy burnt offering, and MAKE AN ATONEMENT FOR THYSELF AND FOR THE PEOPLE; AND OFFER THE OFFERING OF THE PEOPLE AND MAKE AN ATONEMENT FOR THEM, as the Lord commanded”»- Leviticus 9:7, K.J.B).

(4) Christianity claims that Jesus died during the feast of Passover, as he was meant to pay for the sins of all Israel, being God’s own “Passover lamb” (“For even CHRIST, OUR PASSOVER, IS SACRIFICED FOR US...”- 1 Corinthians 5:7, K.J.B); But the Old Testament taught that the rite of Passover was intended to save only the firstborn of every household [and not the entire nation]. As is written:

“I WILL PASS THROUGH THE LAND OF EGYPT ON THAT NIGHT AND STRIKE EVERY FIRSTBORN MALE IN THE LAND OF EGYPT... The blood on the houses where you are staying will be a distinguishing mark for you; when I see the blood, I will pass over you...”- Exodus 12:12-13, Christian standard Bible. Which rite was supposed to cleanse the collective sins of Israel? The Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur).

(5) Christianity claims that God’s Law has ceased, to be now replaced by something better (the Grace); But the Old testament teaches that God’s Law is perfect (and that which already is perfect, will never need to be improved, replaced or abrogated). In addition, it states that the Law is forever: “THE LAW OF THE LORD IS PERFECT”- Psalm 19:7.

And also in another place, “LET NOT THIS BOOK OF THE LAW DEPART OUT OF THY MOUTH, BUT MEDITATE THEREIN DAY AND NIGHT, THAT THOU MAYEST OBSERVE AND DO ACCORDING TO ALL THAT IS WRITTEN THEREIN: for then shalt thou make thy way prosperous, and then shalt thou have good success”- Joshua 1:8 (1599 Geneva Bible).

(6) Christianity claims that those who follow the Law’s commandments are under God’s curse: “For ALL WHO RELY ON THE WORKS OF THE LAW ARE UNDER A CURSE...”- Galatians 3:10 (C.S.B.); But the Old testament teaches that those who forsake the commandments are the ones under God’s curse (“You rebuke the arrogant, THE ONES UNDER A CURSE, WHO WANDER FROM YOUR COMMANDS...”- Psalm 119:21, Christian Standard Bible).

In fact, the O.T. teaches that the commandments are the wisdom of God’s people («Carefully follow them, for this will show your wisdom and understanding in the eyes of the peoples. When they hear about all these statutes, they will say, ‘This great nation is indeed a wise and understanding people’»- Deut. 4:6, CSB).

(7) Christianity claims that the commandments of the Law bring wrath and anger (“Because THE LAW PRODUCES WRATH...”- Romans 4:15); But the Old Testament teaches that the commandments bring joy unto our hearts (“The precepts of the Lord are right, MAKING THE HEART GLAD...”- Psalm 19:8. And also in another place: “I have YOUR DECREES as a heritage forever; indeed, THEY ARE THE JOY OF MY HEART”- Psalm 119:11.

(8) Christianity claims that those who get circumcised have fallen from the grace [and thereby have no place in the heavenly Jerusalem]. As is written: “FOR I TESTIFY AGAIN TO EVERY MAN WHO IS CIRCUMCISED, that he is a debtor to keep the whole Law. CHRIST THEN BECOMES OF NO EFFECT UNTO YOU, whosoever of you claim justification by the Law; YE ARE FALLEN FROM GRACE”- Galatians 5:3-4 (K.J.B.).

But the Old testament teaches the opposite, as it states that he who isn't circumcised will have no share in the holy Jerusalem: "... Put on your beautiful garments, Jerusalem, the Holy City! FOR THE UNCIRCUMCISED AND THE UNCLEAN WILL NO LONGER ENTER YOU"- Isaiah 52:1.

(9) Christianity claims God wants us to follow "the folly" of the Gospel preaching ("... it pleased God by THE FOOLISHNESS OF [THE GOSPEL] PREACHING to save those who believe"- 1 Corinthians 1:21); But the Old testament commands the believer to stay away from folly ("... for He will speak peace unto His people and to His saints; but LET THEM NOT TURN AGAIN TO FOLLY"- Psalm 85:8).

(10) Christianity claims that the man named Jesus was free from all sin: "For He hath made HIM WHO KNEW NO SIN (JESUS) to be sin for us, that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him"- 2 Corinthians 5:21, KJB); and also in another place, "... how much more shall the blood of CHRIST, WHO THROUGH THE ETERNAL SPIRIT OFFERED HIMSELF WITHOUT SPOT TO GOD, purge your conscience from dead works"- Hebrews 9:14, KJB.

But the Old testament teaches that no man is so righteous as to never sin: "For THERE IS NOT A JUST MAN UPON EARTH WHO DOETH GOOD AND SINNETH NOT"- Ecclesiastes 7:20, KJB.

(11) Christianity claims that life everlasting can be found only in Jesus ("Neither is there salvation in any other, FOR THERE IS NO OTHER NAME UNDER HEAVEN GIVEN AMONG MEN WHEREBY WE MUST BE SAVED"- Acts 4:12, KJB); But the Old testament teaches that everlasting life is the result of turning away from evil, and starting to do good ("DEPART FROM EVIL, AND DO GOOD, AND THOU SHALT LIVE FOR EVERMORE"- Psalm 37:27, Jubilee Bible 2000).

(12) Christianity claims Jesus is the son of God ("The beginning of the gospel of JESUS CHRIST, THE SON OF GOD"- Mark 1:1, CSB). But the Old testament teaches that the title, "Son of God" belongs to God's Israel («... THUS SAITH THE LORD: "ISRAEL IS MY SON, even My firstborn"»)- Exodus 4:22, KJB).

(13) Christianity claims that God requires mankind to believe what the Gospel tells us about Jesus ("And this is the will of Him that sent Me: that every one who seeth the Son and believeth in Him may have everlasting life"- John 6:40, KJB).

But the Old testament teaches that what God's requires is that we do justice, act mercifully, and humble ourselves ("He has declared unto thee, O man, what is good AND WHAT THE LORD REQUIRES OF THEE: ONLY TO DO RIGHT JUDGMENT, AND TO LOVE MERCY, AND TO HUMBLE THYSELF TO WALK WITH THY GOD"- Micah 6:8, Jubilee Bible 2000).

(14) Christianity claims that there has never been a righteous man, save Jesus ("for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles that they are all under sin; as it is written, There is no one righteous, no, not one"- Romans 3:9-10).

But the Old Testament considers anyone who fears God a righteous person ("NOAH WAS A JUST MAN AND PERFECT in his generations..."- Genesis 6:9; "And in the morning, he went out and stood and said to all the people, YE ARE RIGHTEOUS..."- 2 Kings 10:9; "THE LORD WILL REWARD ME ACCORDING TO MY RIGHTEOUSNESS; according to the cleanness of my hands he shall recompense me”- Psalm 18:20.

(15) Christianity claims that Divine justification can only be achieved by faith, and not by obeying the commandments of the Law. But this is false. Why? Because the Old Testament teaches that Phineas obeyed what the Law had commanded (“And the man that commits adultery with another man’s wife, he that commits adultery with his neighbour’s wife, the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely die”- Leviticus 20:10).

And what was the result of Phineas obedience? That it earned him eternal justification (“Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions; and the plague broke in upon them. THEN PHINEHAS STOOD UP AND EXECUTED JUDGMENT, and so the plague was stayed. AND THAT WAS COUNTED UNTO HIM FOR RIGHTEOUSNESS FROM GENERATION TO GENERATION FOR EVERMORE”- Psalm 106:29-31).

(16) Christianity claims that our Eternal well being depends on having the correct theology concerning the Messiah. But the Old testament states that our safety relies on knowing God (in other words, in yielding “the good fruit” of justice and righteousness resulting from our obedience to God’s Ten commandments). Why? Because the Law teaches that each of us will reap the same goodness (or evil) we’ve sowed. As is written:

“Did not thy father eat and drink, and DO JUDGMENT AND JUSTICE, AND THEN IT WAS WELL WITH HIM?” -Jeremiah 22:15-16, KJB; “Why are you angry? And why do you look so despondent? DON’T YOU KNOW THAT AS LONG AS YOU DO WHAT IS RIGHT, THEN I ACCEPT YOU?”- Genesis 4:6-7 (The Voice); “HE THAT SOWETH INIQUITY, SHALL REAP AFFLICTION...”- Prov. 22:8 (1599 Geneva Bible); “... AS I HAVE DONE, SO GOD HATH REWARDED ME ...”- Judges 1:7 (1599 Geneva Bible);

“IF THOU POUR OUT THY SOUL TO THE HUNGRY, AND REFRESH THE TROUBLED SOUL: THEN SHALL THY LIGHT SPRING OUT IN THE DARKNESS, AND THY DARKNESS SHALL BE AS THE NOON DAY”- Isaiah 58:10; “SAY UNTO THE RIGHTEOUS THAT IT SHALL BE WELL WITH HIM, FOR THEY SHALL EAT OF THE FRUIT OF THEIR DOINGS. WOE UNTO THE WICKED! IT SHALL BE ILL WITH HIM, FOR ACCORDING TO THE WORK OF HIS HANDS IT SHALL BE DONE UNTO HIM”- Isaiah 3:10-11);

“FOR THE DAY OF THE LORD (HIS JUDGMENT) IS NEAR UPON ALL THE GENTILES: “AS THOU HAST DONE, IT SHALL BE DONE UNTO THEE; THY REWARD SHALL RETURN UPON THINE OWN HEAD”- Obadiah 1:15

God isn't limited to Jewish, Christian, Muslim, or Samaritan circles... Instead, He is pleased with all who will humble themselves to do the mercy, kindness, and justice that pleases Him. As it has been said: Thus speaketh יהוה (the Lord) of hosts, saying, “Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother: And oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart” (Zechariah 7:9-10, K.J.B.); “Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of יהוה (the Lord) your God; and יהוה (the Lord) will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you” (Jeremiah 26:13, K.J.B.); “Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. Come now, and let us reason together, saith יהוה (the Lord): though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the Land”- (Isaiah 1:17-19, K.J.B.)

Beware of he who flatters you with cheap promises of freedom, rights, and empowerment!

Reformed Samaritanism enjoins the believer to despise the demagogue who constantly flatters him with cheap promises of absolute freedom, absolute rights, and absolute empowerment (“יהוה [the Lord] shall cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things”- Psalm 12:3, KJB). Why? Because God’s word states that society’s freedom, rights, and empowerment are never absolutely free, as they are the natural result of our disciplined [and often demanding] submission to God’s Ten commandments.

To what end? In order to prevent our individual rights, freedoms, and empowerment from tyrannically encroaching upon those of our fellow human beings; hence, “Do not murder”, “Do not steal”, “Do not bear a false witness [against your neighbor], “do not covet”, etc.

But what does having no other gods have to do with freedom and rights (“I am יהוה [the Lord] thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage [in order to make you free]. Thou shalt have no other gods before me”- Exodus 20:2-3)?

The answer to the former question is that such command was meant to protect us from the evil influence of he whom, after performing “god-like” miracles, will try to lure us away from what has been commanded upon the two stone tablets (away from our only guarantee of freedom!).

And that’s why the Holy One solemnly warns Israel that, if they turn away from the commandments, they’ll end up becoming physically [and spiritually] enslaved. As it is written:

“But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of יהוה (the Lord) thy God, to observe to do all his commandments... all these curses shall come upon thee... יהוה (the Lord) shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart: ... יהוה (the Lord) shall bring thee... unto a nation which neither thou nor thy fathers have known; and there shalt thou serve other gods, wood (the Christian cross?) and stone (the Muslim stone of Kaaba?)... Because thou servedst not יהוה (the Lord) thy God with joyfulness, and with gladness of heart, for the abundance of all things; Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which יהוה (the Lord) shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee”- Deuteronomy 28:15, 36, 47-48

“Y conoceréis la verdad, y la verdad os hará libres” (Evangelio de Juan, 8:32) ... ¿Cual verdad? Pues la revelada en la Ley Divina (es decir, lo ordenado sobre las dos tablas de Piedra). Como esta escrito: “Tu justicia es justicia eterna, Y tu Ley, [es] la Verdad... andaré en libertad, porque busqué tus mandamientos... Teme a Dios, y guarda sus mandamientos; porque esto es el todo del hombre”- Salmo 119:42 & 45; Eclesiastés 12:13... ¡Paz sea con vosotros!

The reason why is holiness compared to the wilderness?

“... For I am the Lord your God; sanctify yourselves therefore, and be ye holy; for I am holy (Kadosh) ... The voice of the Lord shaketh the wilderness; the Lord shaketh the wilderness of Kadesh” - Leviticus 11:44 & Psalm 29:8 (Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition).

God's Law (also known as "Torah") was written using an ancient Hebrew script that included no vowels. Thus, the written version of the Hebrew words “Kadesh”, and the written version of the word “Kadosh” looked almost identical (sharing a common root). But, why where these two words made part of Torah? And why would the all-knowing God allow a word associated with holiness (Kadosh) be so similar to a word associated with wilderness (Kadesh)?

It was done so in order to hint at the idea that, just as abiding in the wilderness [a place of hardship and loneliness] requires that we be endowed with a superior spirit, so does abiding in holiness [a hard and often lonely enterprise] also demand that we be endowed with a Superior spirit (The “Ruach Ha-Kodesh”, also known as, God's “Holy Spirit”).

Hacer lo Bueno: La garantía de que recibiremos el Bien que anhelamos

Un Midrash Hebreo, narra acerca de un personaje que vivió durante la era Talmúdica. Este personaje, que se especializaba en la interpretación de sueños, se llamaba Bar Hadaya.

La norma de Bar Hadaya, era dar una interpretación positiva a todo aquel que le mostrase alguna generosidad (es decir, quien diese alguna ofrenda por su interpretación); pero, a aquel que era egoísta y avaro (no ofrendando nada), Bar Hadaya le daría una interpretación negativa; como para enseñar que, de acuerdo a la Ley de “Medida por Medida” (siembra y cosecha), el hombre que no se muestra generoso para con aquellos que han sido creados a imagen y semejanza del Creador, no puede esperar recibir generosidad alguna de parte del Creador.

En una ocasión, tanto Abbaye como Rava (Dos sabios Hebreos del periodo Talmúdico) tuvieron el mismo sueño. Abbaye dio un “zuz” (una pequeña moneda) a Bar Hadaya, mientras que Rava no dio nada. Los dos dijeron a Bar Hadaya: «En nuestro sueño, se nos leyó el verso que dice, “Tu buey será matado delante tus ojos, y tu no comerás de el...” (Deut. 28:31)». A Rava, Bar Hadaya dijo: «Tu mercancía bajara tanto de valor que, el desasosiego en tu corazón, te impedirá comer». En cambio dijo a Abbaye: «Tu mercancía subirá tanto de valor que, el gozo en tu corazón, hará que no necesites la comida».

En otra ocasión, los dos reportaron lo siguiente: «Oímos que se nos leyó la siguiente Escritura, “Hijos e hijas engendraras, y no serán para ti, porque irán en cautiverio...” (Deut. 28:41)». A Rava (que nunca daba nada) Bar Hadaya le dio una interpreto literal del sueño (de modo desfavorable). Pero a Abbaye le interpreto diciendo: «Tendrás muchos hijos e hijas, y tus hijas se casaran en el exterior (en lejanos países); de modo que, a tus ojos, parecerá como si hubiesen ido a la diáspora del cautiverio».

En otra ocasión, los dos reportaron: «Oímos que se nos leyó la Escritura que dice, “Tus hijos y tus hijas serán entregados a otro pueblo...” (Deut. 28:32)». A Abbaye, le interpreto diciendo: «Tendrás numerosos hijos e hijas; querrás que tus hijas se casen con tus familiares, pero tu esposa querrá que se casen con los familiares de ella, y esto te parecerá como darlas a otro pueblo». Pero, a Rava, le dijo: «Tu esposa morirá, y sus hijos e hijas vendrán a estar bajo la influencia de otra esposa».

En otra ocasión, ambos dijeron: «Se nos leyó a los dos el pasaje que dice, “Anda, y come tu pan con gozo...” (Eclesiastés 9:7)». A Abbaye le dijo: «Tu mercancía subirá de valor; y tu comerás y beberás leyendo este verso, con gozo en tu corazón». A Rava le dijo: «Tu mercancía bajara de valor; y, aunque comerás y beberás, tendrás que leer este verso, para mitigar tu desasosiego».

En otra ocasión, los dos reportaron los siguiente: «Se nos leyó a ambos el verso que dice, “Sacaras mucha semilla al campo, y recogerás poco...” (Deut. 28:38)». A Abbaye, Bar Hadaya le interpreto solo de la primera mitad del verso; Pero, a Rava, solo de la segunda mitad.

En otra ocasión, ambos reportaron: «Se nos leyó a los dos el verso que dice, “Tendrás olivos en todo tu territorio, mas no te ungirás con el aceite...” (Deut. 28:40)». A Abbaye, Bar Hadaya le interpreto solo de la primera mitad del verso. Pero, a Rava, solo de la segunda mitad.

Los dos reportaron: «Se nos leyó a ambos el verso que dice, “Y verán todos los pueblos de la Tierra que el nombre de Yah es invocado sobre ti; y tendrán miedo de ti...” (Deut. 28:10)». Bar Hadaya dijo a Abbaye: «Tu fama ira delante de ti; te convertirás en líder de la Academia (Yeshiva), y la gente te temerá». Pero, a Rava, le dijo: «serás arrestado en compañía de ladrones; y como resultado de lo que se te hará, todos tendrán temor (diciéndose a si mismos, “si el gobierno sospecha que Rava (siendo rico y poderoso) es ladrón, ¿cuanto mas no sospechará del resto de los Hebreos, que somos pobres y destituidos?”». Al día siguiente, los ladrones entraron a la tesorería Real, y las autoridades arrestaron a Rava.

En otro momento, ambos dijeron: «Vimos la cabeza de una lechuga, descansando sobre la boca de un cubo». Bar Hadaya dijo a Abbaye: «Tu mercancía (considerada tan sabrosa como lechuga) se agotara al instante». En cambio dijo a Rava: «Tu mercancía (considerada tan amarga como lechuga) será rechazada».

Los dos reportaron: «Vimos un poco de carne, puesta sobre la boca de una jarra». A Abbaye, Bar Hadaya dijo: «Tu vino será dulce, y todos vendrán a comprar carne y vino de ti». En cambio dijo a Rava: «Tu vino se convertirá en vinagre, y todos vendrán a comprar carne, para mojarla (sazonarla) en el».

Los dos reportaron: «Vimos una jarra colgando de una palmera de dátiles». A Abbaye, Bar Hadaya dijo: «El precio de tu mercancía subirá tan alto como una palmera de dátiles». Pero a Rava dijo: «El precio de tu mercancía bajara tanto que, a los ojos de los compradores, será tan dulce como los dátiles».

Los dos reportaron: «Vimos una granada floreciendo de la boca de una jarra». A Abbaye, Bar Hadaya dijo: «Tus bienes se harán tan valiosos como las granadas». En cambio dijo a Rava: «Tus bienes se harán como una granada seca (inservible)».

Los dos reportaron: «Vimos una jarra caer dentro de un hoyo». A Abaye, Bar Hadaya dijo: «Tus bienes se pondrán en demanda (como cuando algo valioso se cae accidentalmente en un hoyo, y nos apresuramos a sacarlo)». En cambio dijo a Rava: «Tus bienes se dañaran, y (a consecuencia de ello) serán echados en un hoyo».

Los dos reportaron: «Vimos a un joven asno (“hamor”), parado sobre un bloque, y rebuznando». A Abbaye, Bar Hadaya dijo: «Te convertirás en el líder de la academia (Yeshiva), y un interprete estará parara a tu lado (para “rebuznar” tus enseñanzas)». En cambio dijo a Rava: «Las palabras, “el primogénito de un asno” (Éxodo 13:13) están borradas en tu tefilin (Este es uno de los cuatro pasajes contenidos en el tefilin)». Rava contestó diciendo: «Acabo de mirar mi tefilin, y esas palabras se encuentran allí». Bar Hadaya contestó: «Ciertamente la letra “Vav” (es decir, la letra “o”) en la palabra “Hamor” ha sido borrada en tu tefilin (pues el escriba la incluyo erróneamente, teniendo que mas tarde borrarla pues, en ese verso, la palabra “Hamor” se deletrea sin "Vav")».

Mas tarde, Rava fue solo ante Bar Hadaya, y reporto: «En mi sueño, vi que caía la puerta externa de mi casa». Bar Hadaya le dijo: «Tu esposa morirá».

Entonces Rava reporto: «Soñé que se caían mis dientes traseros y delanteros». Bar Hadaya le dijo: «Tus hijos e hijas morirán»

Rava reporto: «Vi dos palomas que salían volando». Bar Hadaya le dijo: «Te divorciarás de dos esposas». Rava le dijo: «Vi el tope de dos nabos». Bar Hadaya contestó: «Recibirás dos golpes de una porra». Rava salio de allí, y se sentó todo el día en la casa de estudio (Sinagoga); entonces, se encontró con dos ciegos que discutían entre si. Cuando fue a separarlos, cada uno de ellos le dio (accidentalmente) un golpe con su porra. Cuando levantaron su porra (con la posibilidad de darle un tercer golpe), Rava exclamo: «¡Ya es suficiente! (En mi sueño, vi solamente dos)»

Finalmente, Rava fue y dio a Bar Hadaya una contribución, para luego decirle: «Vi una muralla caída». A lo cual Bar Hadaya contestó: «Adquirirás riqueza sin limite».

Luego Rava reporto: «Vi que caía la mansión de Abbaye, y que el polvo de sus escombros me cubría». Bar Hadaya contestó: «Abbaye morirá, y la presidencia que posee (de la academia) vendrá a reposar sobre ti».

Rava reporto: «Vi mi propia mansión colapsar, y que todos venían y se la llevaban, ladrillo a ladrillo».

Bar Hadaya contestó: «Tus enseñanzas se dispersaran por el mundo».

Rava reporto: «Soñé que mi cabeza se abría, y que mis sesos se desparramaban». Bar Hadaya contestó: «Las plumas que llenan tu almohada la harán reventar, y se irán saliendo una a una». Rava reporto: «En mi sueño, se me leyó el Hallel de Egipto (Salmos 113-118, recitados en la víspera de Pesaj, para celebrar la salida de Egipto)». Bar Hadaya contestó: «Te sucederán milagros».

En una ocasión, mientras Rava viajaba en barco con Bar Hadaya, este último se dijo a si mismo: «¿Por que viajar con un hombre al cual habrá de suceder un milagro? (seguramente el será salvado, pero yo no). Así, mientras Bar Hadaya desembarcaba, dejo caer accidentalmente un libro.

Rava encontró ese libro, y descubrió que decía lo siguiente: «Todos los sueños siguen la interpretación que sale de la boca del interprete». En ese momento, Rava grito a Bar Hadaya: «¡Miserable granuja! ¡A pesar de que todo dependía de ti, me causaste tan grande desasosiego! Aún así, todo te lo perdono, excepto lo que dijiste acerca de la hija del Rabino Hisda (esta fue la esposa de Rava, cuya muerte Bar Hadaya había pronosticado)».

La realidad es que, el responsable del sufrimiento de Rava, no fue Bar Hadaya, sino el mismo Rava; quien, a pesar de ser rico, no mostraba generosidad alguna para su prójimo. Tan pronto como Rava decide cambiar su aptitud, para comenzar a mostrar misericordia hacia su prójimo, en ese mismo instante comienza a recibir bendición.

Es que, como enseña este Midrash, el bienestar del ser humano no está en la maldición (o en la bendición) que pueda prometer este o aquel otro pasaje bíblico; tampoco se encuentra en la correcta (o errada) interpretación de esta o aquella otra doctrina, o teología religiosa.

Su bienestar está en que entienda que, la Justicia Divina, ha determinado de antemano que cada hombre siegue el mismo bien o mal que haya sembrado: que no se muestre misericordia a quien no haya mostrado misericordia; que no se muestre perdón, a quien no haya perdonado; que no se muestre generosidad, a quien no haya mostrado generosidad; Pero, que se muestre bondad, a todo aquel que haya mostrado bondad; que se perdone, a todo aquel que haya perdonado; que se sustente con bien a quienes sustentaron con bien a su prójimo; que se de paz, a todo aquel que haya sido pacificador. En base a lo que hasta aquí hemos dicho, concluimos que cada hombre debe hacer a sus semejantes aquel mismo bien que anhela recibir para si mismo; Y, después de hacerlo, podrá vivir su vida confiado, descansando sobre la certeza de que Yah (bendito sea) no fallará en hacer que, tarde o temprano, coseche el mismo bien que ha sembrado.

God doesn't want you to be naive & foolish! Thus, you ought to seek truth, wisdom, & understanding. As it has been said: "Do not be like the horse or the mule, without understanding... fools die for lack of understanding... Good understanding have all those who practice His commandments... Folly is joy to those who lack understanding... He who despises discipline despises his soul; But he who listens to correction has understanding... the learning of fools is foolishness... Wisdom above all; acquire wisdom; And over all your possessions, acquire understanding"- Psalm 32:9, Proverbs 10:21, Psalm 111:10, Proverbs 15:21, Proverbs 15:32, Proverbs 16:22, Proverbs 4:7

El cumplimiento de la Ley, nada tiene nada que ver con endiosar a ningún ser de carne y hueso; sino que es en cambio el que amemos a Dios, por medio de nuestro amor al prójimo

La Ley Divina enseña que, cumplir con la Ley y los Profetas, tiene que ver con hacer lo recto y bueno ("Y haz lo recto y bueno ante los ojos de יהוה, para que te vaya bien, y entres y poseas la buena tierra que יהוה juró a tus padres"- Deuteronomio 6:18, Reina Valera 1960)-- no con guardar perfectamente todos y cada uno de sus preceptos.

Tampoco tiene mucho que ver con profesar una perfecta teología, o con creer en el Mesías correcto. Cumplir la Ley, tiene en cambio que ver con amar al Dios que nadie ha podido ver (" No podrás ver mi rostro; porque no me verá hombre, y vivirá"- Éxodo 33:20), amando al prójimo que todos podemos ver [y que, en adición, esta hecho a imagen y semejanza del Creador].

Y los escritos cristianos proveen un solapado testimonio de esta universal verdad, cuando dicen: «¿Qué está escrito en la Ley? ¿Cómo lees? Aquel, respondiendo, dijo: "Amarás al Señor tu Dios con todo tu corazón, y con toda tu alma, y con todas tus fuerzas, y con toda tu mente; y a tu prójimo como a ti mismo". Y le dijo: "Bien has respondido; haz esto, y vivirás [para siempre]"

... Así que, todas las cosas que queráis que los hombres hagan con vosotros, así también haced vosotros con ellos; porque esto es la Ley y los Profetas... porque el que ama al prójimo, ha cumplido la Ley... El amor no hace mal al prójimo; así que el cumplimiento de la ley es el amor... Nosotros sabemos que hemos pasado de muerte a vida, en que amamos a los hermanos. El que no ama a su hermano, permanece en muerte...

Amados, amémonos unos a otros; porque el amor es de Dios. Todo aquel que ama, es nacido de Dios, y conoce a Dios. El que no ama, no ha conocido a Dios; porque Dios es amor... Pues este es el amor a Dios, que guardemos sus mandamientos; y sus mandamientos no son gravosos [pues su finalidad no es mostrar a un Dios tiránico, que goce haciendo sufrir a sus criaturas con una demanda exagerada de perfección, sino el exhortarnos a que le amemos por medio de nuestro amor al prójimo]"- Lucas 10:26-28, Mateo 7:12, Romanos 13:8, Romanos 13:10, 1 Juan 3:14, 1 Juan 4:7-8, 1 Juan 5:3.

To believe that just because someone belongs to a particular background (Male/Female, Jewish/Arab, American/Russian, etc) such person ought to be bad and guilty, is a plain display of foolish and ignorant prejudice. Likewise, to believe that just because someone belongs to a particular background (Male/Female, Jewish/Arab, American/Russian, etc) such person ought to be kind and innocent, is an equally foolish display of ignorant prejudice. What then is the right way to proceed? Treat all people (Male/Female, Jewish/Arab, American/Russian, etc) as if they were good and innocent [thereby granting them the benefit of the doubt], but be in guard of them as if they were all evil and guilty [thereby avoiding any naive credulity]

Legends of Reformed Samaritanism: The final Redemption

In the hereafter, the Holy One [blessed be He], will arrange [in Gan Eden] a banquet for the righteous (“And they saw the God of Israel... and they beheld God, and did eat and drink”- Exodus 24:10-11, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition). Suddenly, a huge door made out of sapphire stone will seem to open upon the Sky above them.

Then, a round golden ladder [having the shape of the twister that took Elijah into the heavens] will come down from the Door [as if to invite them to go up]. When the righteous ask the ministering angels where will the door take them, they will be told that this door has been made ready for them since the sixth day of Creation (“This is the gate of יהוה; the righteous shall enter into it [in order to experience the final and supreme Sabbath of Eternal rest] ...”- Psalm 118:20, JPS 1917 Edition).

In addition, they will be told that the door leads into the Supreme source of all things existing in all the Universes-- into the source of all states of existence, all of the time, all of the peace, all of the love, all of the freedom, all of the victory, all of the satisfaction, all of the security, all of the justice, all of the mercy, all of the humility, all of the knowledge, and all of the blessings they could possibly dream [and infinitely more!]. Upon hearing this, each righteous will point to the door [with his finger], while singing aloud the following praise: “Lo, this is our God, we have waited for Him and He will save us; this is our Lord, we have waited for Him, we will be glad and rejoice in His salvation” (Exodus 24:10-11).

And the ministering angels will join them in praise, saying: “Thou bringest them in, and plantest them in the mountain of Thine inheritance, the place, o Lord, which Thou hast made for Thee to dwell in, the sanctuary, O Lord, which Thy hands have established... The Lord shall reign for ever and ever!”(Exodus 15:17-18). Finally, like a thunder that shakes the whole Universe, a “Bat kol” (or “Divine voice”) will be heard saying, “For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you a future, and a hope”- Jeremiah 29:11

«If he has a flesh and bones body, if he gets tired, gets hungry, sweats, urinates, defecates, or wakes up with bad breath, then you can rest assured that he isn't the infinite Spirit to whom our master Moses ascribed the glorious name of יהוה (Adonay Yah)-- Yes, he might be one of Adonay's messengers: an alien, a prophet, a judge, a spokesperson, or one of Adonay's many representatives; but he definitely isn't the Supreme Being whom the Nazarene himself described saying, “God is a Spirit...”- John 4:24»

The purpose of God's Law is to be a book of moral paradigms; a Divine blueprint for the way a man of God ought to think, speak, and behave, in order be like his Creator

In all things, the believer must learn to imitate the words, the thoughts and the actions of His Creator. In other words, just as God clothed Adam and Eve, when they found themselves naked; so must the believer seek to clothe the naked (Genesis 3:21);

Just as [in the wilderness] God provided water and food for the hungry and the thirsty, so must the believer seek to provide water and food for the hungry and thirsty (Exodus 16:13, & 17:5-6);

Just as God gave words of comfort to the unjustly oppressed Hagar, so must the believer seek to give words of comfort to unjustly oppressed people (Genesis 16:10-13);

Just as God was angry with the stubborn Sodomites, so must the believer be angry with stubborn Sodomites (Genesis 19:24-25); Just as God rebuked powerful Abimelech, for the immorality of taking someone else wife, so must the believer rebuke the immorality of powerful people (Genesis 20:3);

Just as God stood against Korah and his Jewish followers [for opposing Moses words], so must the believer stand against any Jew opposing Moses words (Numbers 16:1-2, 32, & 35); Just as God forgave penitent Ahab, so must the believer forgive the penitent (2 Kings 21:29. & 2 Chronicles 12:7);

Just as [thru prophet Elijah] God provided for a gentile widow and his orphan son, so must the believer also provide for the gentile widows and orphans (1 Kings 17:14);

Just as the Creator condemned the greed of a disciple of the Jewish sages (Gehazi, Elisha's servant), so must the believer condemn the greed of the disciples of the sages (2 Kings 5:26-27);

Just as [thru prophet Elisha], God despised Jehoram [the wicked ruler of Israel], so must the believer despise any wicked ruler of Israel (2 Kings 3:13-14);

Just as God vowed to wage everlasting war against Amalek (the incarnation of opportunism), so must the believer wage ever lasting war against opportunism (Exodus 17:16, & Deuteronomy 25:17-18); And, just as God is upset with those who strengthen the hands of any wicked ruler [whether he be Jew or Gentile], so is the believer to be upset with those who strengthen the hands any wicked ruler [whether he be Jew or Gentile];

As is written, «And Jehu the son of Hanani the Seer went out to meet him, and said to King Jehoshaphat [the Jewish ruler]: “WOULDEST THOU HELP THE WICKED, AND LOVE THEM THAT HATE THE LORD? THEREFORE FOR THIS THING THE WRATH OF THE LORD IS UPON THEE. Nevertheless, good things are found in thee, because thou hast taken away the groves out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seek God... Yet after this did Jehoshaphat king of Judah join himself with Ahaziah king of Israel, who was given to do evil. And he joined with him, to make ships to go to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion Geber. Then Eliezer the son of Dodavah of Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, “BECAUSE THOU HAST JOINED THYSELF WITH AHAZIAH, THE LORD HATH BROKEN THY WORKS”: and the ships were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarshish»- 2 Chronicles 19:2-3, & 20:35-37 (1599 Geneva Bible).

Again, the Hebrew scripture is a book of moral paradigms; the Divine blueprint for how should a man think, speak, and behave in order be like his Creator; thereby becoming not only part of God's holy people, but also a blessed spiritual son of his Father in Heavens. And the imitation of God's character is such an undeniable truth that even the Christians writings bear witness of it, when they go on to say: “YE SHALL THEREFORE BE PERFECT [IMITATING GOD'S OWN PERFECTION], AS YOUR FATHER WHICH IS IN HEAVEN IS PERFECT ... AND YE SHALL BE [THEREBY] THE CHILDREN OF THE MOST HIGH: FOR HE IS KIND UNTO THE UNKIND, AND TO THE EVIL.

Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful...”- Matthew 5:48, & Luke 6:35-36 (1599 Geneva Bible).

“I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it”- Ecclesiastes 3:14, KJB

Unless you are more powerful than God, don't foolishly try to change natural order-- don't try to make the horses follow the cart, as even a fool knows that it is the other way around. If you want to look really smart, make sure that your ideology conforms to objective facts, instead of trying to make objective facts conform to your ideology

“The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him [thus becoming his personalized hell]: but the desire of the righteous shall be granted [thus becoming his personalized Paradise]- Proverbs 10:24

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, the ultimate implication of God's perfect justice (also known as “measure for measure”, or “sowing and reaping”) is that the reward allocated for he who strives to do the goodness that pleases the Creator, is to end up receiving [from the Creator] the goodness that pleases him.

In other words, if you are a God fearing Jew who dreams with attending a heavenly “Yeshiva” (or, “Bible academy”) headed by prophet Moses, that's the particular paradise that will be created for you. Conversely, if you are instead a Christian who dreams of walking Jerusalem's golden streets accompanied by Jesus, that's the paradise that you'll actually experience. Finally, if you are a Muslim who dreams with making it into a heavenly Oasis, right after crossing a gigantic desert riding your camel alongside prophet Muhammad, that's the Paradise to be granted upon you.

Curiously, the Christian writings seem to intimate the same idea, when they go on to say: “... Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him”- 1 Corinthians 2:9

Why do Reformed Samaritans make Moses Five books of Torah their Supreme [and final] guidance for Divine truth?

After God had given Moses the five books of Torah (also known as “the Pentateuch”), He commanded that nothing else be added unto it, and nothing else be removed from it (“Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish from it...”- Deut. 4:2, JPS 1917 Edition).

Why?... so “that ye may keep the commandments of יהוה [the Lord] your God which I command you” (ibid).

In order words, Torah's Divine goal is to teach us that, since man “reaps” what he has “sowed”, his lifelong focus ought to be “planting goodness” [obeying God's supreme commandments]. Thus, any extra sacred literature (Prophets, Writings, Psalms, Gospels, Midrashim, Talmud, Quran, Kabbalah, etc) pretending to change his focus into something different from obeying what was commanded upon the two stone tablets [i.e., things like, “Who the Messiah is?”, “When will the Temple be rebuilt?”, “Can God become a man of flesh and bones?”, “Who is God's latest prophet?”, “Did the Jews have black skin?”, etc] has to be treated with respect, but also with great care (“... if thou bring forth the precious out of the vile, thou shalt be as My mouth...”- Jeremiah 15:19, JPS, 1917 Edition).

Why? Again, because all of the former subjects are secondary, as the indisputable message of God's Law is that our justice will solely depend upon our sincere commitment to make God's commandments our life's guiding principle.

As is written: “And יהוה commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear יהוה our God, for our good always, that He might preserve us alive, as it is at this day. And it shall be righteousness unto us, if we observe to do all this commandment before יהוה our God, as He hath commanded us”- Deut. 6:24-25 (JPS, 1917 Edition)

The Promised Land [symbol of God's salvation] has been promised only to the meek and humble

He who lacks meekness cannot be a great disciple of Moses (may peace and blessing be upon him). Why? Because the one thing that placed our master Moses above all other men was his meek and humble disposition.

As is written: “Now the man Moses was very meek, above all the men that were upon the face of the Earth”- Numbers 12:3, (Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition).

Thus, if our religion and/or ethnic identity fails to turn us into meek and humble persons, then our religion and/or ethnic identity is indeed a failure.

Why? Because, according to Hebrew Scripture, only the meek and humble [not the Jews, the Christians, the Muslims, or the Samaritans] have been promised to receive God's salvation, as well as the right to inherit the Promised Land.

As is written: “But the humble shall inherit the Land, and delight themselves in the abundance of peace... Thou didst cause sentence to be heard from heaven... When God arose to judgment, to save all the humble of the Earth. Selah”- Psalm 37:11, & 76:9-10 (Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition).

La interpretación de las fiestas Hebreas [así como de toda la Ley Divina] que la mayoría de las instituciones religiosas desean que usted ignore

El significado de la fiesta Hebrea de Sukkot, así como de toda la Ley de Moisés, es uno y el mismo. Es decir, la Escritura no es un juego de distintos mensajes, de entre los cuales tenemos que escoger cual sea el mas vigente, o el mas relevante.

No es como dice la noble tradición Cristiana; que alega que el mensaje de Dios cambia– que primero fue la Inocencia; luego, la Ley; y mas tarde, fue la Gracia.

¡No! Dios no decidió “jugar a esconderse”; ni tampoco falló en prever que, un mensaje cambiante, condenaría a los creyentes a vivir en un perpetuo estado de incertidumbre, donde nunca sabrían con certeza si siguen o no el último mensaje; o si el último mensaje es el de Jesus, el de Muhammad, o el de José Smith. ¡No! La Escritura tiene un solo mensaje.

Y, ese mensaje, tiene muy poco que ver con teología, pues es uno de naturaleza ética, y moral. Este mensaje, está prefigurado en todos los mandamientos; en todos los ritos; en todas las figuras, en todos los relatos, y en todas las ordenanzas de la Ley.

Y las fiestas anteriores y posteriores a Sukkot (la fiesta Hebrea de los tabernáculos) son un maravilloso ejemplo de todo esto. Verá usted, este periodo de fiestas comienza con “Rosh ha Shanah”, es decir, el año nuevo Hebreo. La tradición Hebrea dice que, en Rosh Ha Shanah, Dios juzga al mundo entero, y decide quien ha de morir, y quien ha de vivir; quien ha de enfermar, y quien ha de sanar; quien ha de enriquecer, y quien ha de empobrecer.

Y esto significa que todo hombre debe reconocer la existencia de un Juez y un juicio en el Universo.

Entonces, luego de Rosh Ha Shanah, se concede un periodo de diez días de gracia, hasta que llega la próxima fiesta, llamada “Yom Kippur”.

Yom Kippur es el día de la expiación. Y durante los diez días que trascurren entre Rosh Ha Shanah y Yom Kippur, Dios concede a cada persona la oportunidad de buscar el perdón Divino; mostrando de ese modo su sincera contrición y arrepentimiento.

Así, durante estos diez días, los creyentes Hebreos tratan de hacer todo el bien posible; de alimentar al hambriento, de mostrar misericordia al que sufre, y de hacer la paz con sus enemigos.

Al llegar Yom Kippur (el día del juicio), el decreto es finalmente “sellado”. Es decir, si se había escrito algún decreto negativo, o alguna condena contra esa persona, el arrepentimiento que mostró durante esos diez días, borra y anula ese mal decreto.

Pero, inmediatamente después de Yom Kippur (es decir, inmediatamente después de este “juicio final”), viene la fiesta de “Sukkot”. Y, en Sukkot, los Hebreos hacen una pequeña cabaña; una frágil y humilde vivienda portátil. De hecho, el techo de esta humilde vivienda debe estar “quebrado”.

Es decir, debe estar suficientemente incompleto como para que, a través de él, podamos ver las estrellas. Durante los próximos siete días, el creyente debe abandonar la comodidad de lo que, hasta ese momento, fue su cómodo y permanente hogar. ¿Para que? Pues para morar en cambio en esa humilde y quebradiza vivienda temporera que es la Sukkah.

La Sukkah tiene la intención de recordarnos la jornada que realizaron nuestros ancestros en el desierto. Pero, esa jornada en el desierto, es en realidad un prototipo de nuestra jornada en este mundo.

Es que, esta vida, no es sino la “jornada externa” que nos provee el Creador; una realidad circunstancial externa, cuyo propósito es darnos la oportunidad de realizar una “jornada interna”; una jornada que ni siquiera el Creador puede realizar por nosotros, y que tenemos que realizar nosotros mismos. Y, esa jornada interna, está prefigurada en estas fiestas.

Es que, como acabamos de decir, Sukkot conlleva abandonar la comodidad de nuestra vivienda principal, el lugar donde hemos habitado la mayor parte de nuestra vida, para morar ahora en una humilde, frágil, quebrantada, y transitoria habitación. Y esto significa que, la jornada que debe realizar cada hombre (tipificada en la jornada que realizaron nuestros padres espirituales en el desierto) es la siguiente:

Reconocer primeramente que hay un Juez, y un Juicio, en el Universo; Que existe un Dios que habrá de juzgar nuestras vidas y nuestras obras. Y que, entendiendo esto, debemos proceder al arrepentimiento; procurando el perdón de tal Dios; de ese Juez que un día habrá de juzgarnos con perfecta justicia.

Y, cuando se efectúa ese juicio, y nos hemos reconocido faltos ante el Juez, el próximo paso es demostrar [por medio de la “Sukkah”] la sinceridad de tal arrepentimiento. ¿Como? Pues haciendo que nuestras vidas se conviertan en una Sukkah-- viviendo una vida humildad, y haciendo que nuestro corazón de piedra que no reconoce a Dios y vive de espaldas al Creador (rehusando someterse a su voluntad y sus mandamientos) sea “quebrantado”.

Y ese quebrantamiento (es decir, el encontrarnos “incompletos” o “faltos”) es el que nos permite “mirar las estrellas”. Es decir, volvernos al cielo (al Creador). La Escritura dice que, cuando Ha Shem entregó la Torah (o Ley) a Moisés, la escribió en Tablas de piedra. Pero, ante la indignación del pecado de Israel, Moisés procedió a romper tales piedras.

¡Eso es lo que quiere Dios del ser humano!; que, ante la indignación por el pecado en su vida, proceda a quebrantar su corazón de piedra. Y que, el producto de ese corazón quebrantado, sea un cambio de vida-- un abandonar el “confort” (la comodidad) de la vida alejada de Dios, para vivir en cambio una vida de humildad; una vida que de testimonio de un corazón quebrantado y arrepentido. ¡Esa es la Sukkah!-- la vida de arrepentimiento. Luego de la fiesta de Sukkot, viene inmediatamente otra fiesta conocida con el nombre de “Simja Torah”; esta frase significa, “el gozo de [haber recibido] la Torah”. Y de eso mismo es que se tratan las fiestas Divinas: de que entendamos que, cuando el hombre ha reconocido finalmente que hay un Juez; ha reconocido que hay un juicio que se avecina; ha procedido al arrepentimiento; y ese arrepentimiento ha producido a su vez un cambio de vida; ese hombre puede entonces gozarse de que ha recibido la Torah; porque esto es en si mismo la verdadera Torah.

El hecho es que ningun Pastor [ni Rabino] habrá de reconocer jamas que la Suprema finalidad de la Escritura Hebrea no es ser un mensaje mesianico, teológico, ni racial. Es en cambio ser un mensaje ético y moral-- un llamado a abandonar la maldad, a darle la espalda al orgullo y a la rebeldía, para comenzar a practicar en cambio un estilo de vida caracterizado por la humildad, la sencillez, y el quebrantamiento de corazón que agradan al Creador-- Esa, es toda la Torah.

La tradicion Hebrea cuenta acerca de un gentil vino una vez ante el sabio Hillel, y le dijo: “me convertiré a la Fe Hebrea, si puedes enseñarme toda la Torah (toda la Ley) en el corto tiempo en que puedo sostenerme sobre una [sola] pierna”.

Hillel entonces le contestó diciendo: “Aquello que es odioso para ti (aquello que no te gustaría que te hicieran a tí mismo), no lo hagas tu a tu prójimo. Esta es toda la Torah (es todo lo que hay que saber acerca de ella); el resto, es solo comentario. Ahora puedes ir, y aprender el comentario”.

Y es precisamente esto de lo que tratan las fiestas Hebreas. Verá usted, aquí en este mundo, los Judíos tienen “yeshivot” (escuelas) donde se estudia la Torah, el Talmud, los “Midrashim”, los mandamientos, y las tradiciones Hebreas.

Y, al final de los estudios, los Judíos confieren al estudiante un título honorario de “Rabino”. Este último, es un título conferido por los hombres. En cambio, la tradición afirma que hay un titulo de Rabino que es conferido directamente por el Creador.

Es que se nos cuenta la historia de un Rabino (que en realidad nunca fue Rabino de ninguna congregación), cuyo nombre era “Eliezer Ben Dordia”. La historia cuenta que no hubo una prostituta en el mundo que Eliezer Ben Dordia no hubiese patrocinado.

Un día, oyendo que en una ciudad cercana al mar había una hermosa prostituta que demandaba por su servicio una bolsa llena de denares, Eliezer echó mano de una de esas bolsas, y salió a visitarla; cruzando para ello siete caudalosos ríos (como intimando que estaba dispuesto a exponerse a los peligros que fuesen necesarios, con tal de satisfacer sus apetitos sexuales).

Cuando llegó finalmente al lugar, y ya se encontraba en la cama con la meretriz, está última “erutó” repentinamente. Entonces, procedió a decir a Eliezer: “Así como este aire nunca volverá al lugar de donde ha salido, de ese mismo modo tu arrepentimiento nunca será aceptado”. Estas palabras calaron tan profundo en el corazón de Eliezer Ben Dordia, que fue y se sentó entre montes y collados.

Entonces dijo: “Montes y collados, pidan misericordia por mi”. Pero los montes y los collados le contestaron diciendo: “Antes de pedir misericordia por ti, tenemos que pedir misericordia por nosotros mismos, pues escrito está: “Porque los montes se moverán, y los collados temblarán...”- Isaías 54:10. Entonces Eliezer dijo a los cielos y a la tierra: “¡Pidan misericordia por mi!”. Pero estos le contestaron: “Antes de pedir misericordia por ti, tenemos que pedir misericordia por nosotros mismos, pues escrito está: “porque los cielos serán desechos como humo, y la tierra se envejecerá como ropa de vestir”- Isaías 51:6.

Entonces pidió al Sol y a la Luna que intercedieran por él, pero estos le contestaron: “Antes de pedir misericordia por ti, tenemos que pedir misericordia por nosotros mismos, pues escrito está: “La luna se avergonzará, y el Sol se confundirá...”- Isaías 24:23.

Entonces dijo: ¡Estrellas y planetas, pidan misericordia por mi! pero estos le contestaron: “Antes de pedir misericordia por ti, tenemos que pedir misericordia por nosotros mismos, pues escrito está: “Y todo el ejercito de los cielos se disolverá”- Isaías 34:4.

Finalmente, Eliezer entendió que su perdón dependía de él mismo; de su propio arrepentimiento. Así que, poniendo la cabeza entre sus rodillas, comenzó a llorar delante de Dios; a llorar en alta voz y a quebrantar su corazón por causa de su maldad y su pecado, de suerte que comenzó a temblar.

Y Eliezer continuo llorando hasta que su alma salió de su cuerpo. Entonces, una “bat kol” (es decir, una voz celestial) se oyó decir: “¡El Rabino Eliezer Ben Dordia ha sido destinado a tener vida en el mundo que ha de venir!”.

Cuando, mas tarde, el Rabino Judah Ha Nasi (el Patriarca espiritual de todos los Judíos de su época) escuchó todo esto, comenzó a llorar amargamente, para luego decir: “¡Dios mio! ¿Como es posible que algunos logremos la vida eterna solamente después de largos años de arduo estudio y trabajo, de aprendizaje, de oración y de meditación; ¡mientras que otros la ganan en tan solo una hora!?”.

Entonces añadió: «¡Y no solamente se perdona a quien se arrepiente, sino que hasta se le confiere el título de Rabino!»

¿Podrá haber algo mas maravilloso que esto último? ¡Que el Creador mismo haya llamado “Rabino” a Eliezer Ben Dordia, confiriéndole así el honor de tal título? ¿Y por que? Pues porque Eliezer Ben Dordia aprendió todo lo que se necesita saber acerca de la Torah-- que el propósito de todos los mandamientos, así como de todas sus leyes, es que el hombre proceda al arrepentimiento; a abandonar la maldad; a no hacer al prójimo el mal que no desearía para sí mismo.

¡De eso es que se trata precisamente la Torah!-- de que el hombre reconozca que hay un Juez, y que hay un Juicio en el Universo (¡eso es Rosh Ha Shanah!); que hay un día de juicio (Yom Kippur); que tiene que cambiar su estilo de vida (¡eso es Sukkot!); y que, cuando hace esa jornada en su alma [es decir, en su psiquis interna], ya puede regocijarse de que ha recibido la Torah (¡eso es Simja Torah!); de que finalmente ha entendido de lo que realmente trata la Ley de Dios; y de que, al igual que Eliezer Ben Dordia, el Cielo ya le ha concedido el titulo de “Rabino”; pues ya conoce todo lo que hay que saber acerca de la Torah, y por tanto puede comenzar a enseñarla a otros.

Y esa es la razón por la cual, a diferencia de lo que afirman nuestros hermanos Musulmanes [quienes alegan que los Hebreos tergiversaron el mensaje de la Torah], el mensaje de la Ley Divina no puede ser tergiversado alterando esta o aquella otra palabra. ¿Por que? Pues porque su mensaje tiene poco que ver con tener una teología perfecta.

El mensaje de La Torah (así como el de toda La Escritura), es en cambio un mensaje ético y moral; y, no importando cuan extraño parezca ser, cada una de sus enseñanzas, cada uno de sus ritos, y cada una de sus imágenes, tiene el propósito de darnos ese mismo mensaje.

Un buen ejemplo de ello podría ser el que la Torah ordenaba que, cuando la mujer daba a luz un niño, era declarada inmunda durante cuarenta días. Y todo lo que tal mujer tocaba, también se hacía inmundo.

Pero alguien podría preguntarse, “¿por que era el parto considerado algo inmundo?”; “¿que culpa tenía la mujer de dar dar a luz, si para eso mismo fue creada?”.

La respuesta es que, el anterior mandamiento, tenía en realidad poco que ver con inmundicia ritual, ni tampoco dogmática. El mandamiento en realidad tenía el propósito de proveer a la parturienta un respiro de sus responsabilidades domésticas.

Es decir, como todo lo que la mujer tocaba era inmundo, no se le podía exigir que lavase la ropa, que fregase los platos, que barriese el piso, que cocinara la comida, que tuviera que mover nada, que cargase a ninguno de sus niños, ni que hiciese labor manual alguna.

En fin, la mujer permanecía en la cama durante cuarenta días (tenga en cuenta que el número cuarenta tipifica el conocimiento profundo del verdadero espíritu de la Torah, pues Moisés tuvo que permanecer 40 días en el Sinaí para poder recibirla). Y, durante todo este tiempo, sus familiares y amigos realizaban por ella todas las labores pertinentes al hogar. Y esta casi demás decir que, todo lo anterior, daba a la mujer la oportunidad de recuperarse de su difícil parto.

Recordemos que, en la antigüedad, no existían tales cosas como hospitales, o salas de parto; no había anestesia, y tampoco existía la opción de un “parto por Cesárea”; El parto era un proceso sumamente difícil y doloroso-- uno que la mujer menudo la mujer no lograba sobrevivir.

Así, vemos como un mandamiento que a primera vista aparenta no tener nada que ver con hacer lo bueno [o con la ética y la moral], en realidad es esto mismo-- un llamado a hacer lo bueno. Es decir, haciendo inmundia a la mujer parturienta, la Ley “forzaba” a sus familiares y amigos a tratarla con la misma deferencia y consideración con la cual desearían ellos mismos ser tratados, de estar en la misma situación.

Y esto es la verdadera aceptación de la Ley Divina-- el entender que, el Supremo mensaje de la Ley, es un llamado a tratar al prójimo (a Dios, a nuestros semejantes, y a nosotros mismos) con la misma deferencia y consideración que desearíamos para nosotros mismos. La anterior máxima, encarna la vida de arrepentimiento y servicio que agrada al Creador.

Es que, siendo un Espíritu Infinito, no podemos amar directamente al Creador; no podemos besarle, ni tampoco podemos abrazarle, no le podemos dar de comer, ni le podemos dar de beber. Pero, cuando amamos al prójimo (que esta hecho a imagen y semejanza de Dios), estamos “matando dos pájaros con una sola pedrada”, pues no solamente amamos a nuestro prójimo, sino también amamos (indirectamente) al Creador.

If Christian dogma is wrong, then why didn't Torah forewarn us about it?

If Jesus [alleged] message of “salvation by faith” is such a grave lack of Torah’s understanding, then why is it that Hebrew Scripture never openly warned us about it? Well, it actually did. But, since Scripture also teaches good manners, it did so in a succinct manner, in order to spare us the heartache. Where do we find such warning? We find it in several places, but the best of them might be the verse that goes on to say: “Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding”- Psalm 32:9 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition). In the former verse, the phrase “as the horse”, happens to be the English rendition of the Hebrew word “Chesus”, which can be validly read as “Jesus”.

Thus, instead of “Be ye not as the horse, or as a mule, which have no understanding”, the verse can also be read as, “Be ye not Jesus, or as a mule, which have no understanding [of Torah’s message of ‘sowing and reaping’]”. Curiously, some of the most ancient depictions of Jesus [the “Alexamenos graffito” displayed at Rome’s Palatine museum] portray him as having the head of a horse. Does the former mean that Christianity is a completely false religion? God forbid! It only means that believers ought to beware. Beware of what? Of any doctrine that, though seemingly strong and powerful as a horse, displays a poor understanding of Torah’s basic tenets.

In our specific case, the doctrine of “salvation by faith in Jesus sacrifice [on behalf of the sinners], and without the need of sowing the goodness commanded upon the stone tablets” [also known as “the free gift of salvation”] displays a poor understanding of Torah’s message, as the latter states the following:

- (1) That our well being depends upon our doing what is good and righteous (“Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the LORD your God, and His testimonies, and His statutes, which He hath commanded thee. And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the LORD; that it may be well with thee...”- Deut. 6:17-18);
- (2) That no one can die for the sins of other people (“... every man shall be put to death for his own sin”- Deut. 24:16);
- (3) That the believer cannot accept free gifts (“... And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous”- Exodus 23:8)

Samaritanismo Reformado

“Toda buena dádiva y todo don perfecto descende de lo alto, del Padre de las luces...”- Santiago 1:17, Biblia Reina Valera 1960

Todo aquello que es bueno [estando en armonía con lo escrito por el dedo de Dios sobre las dos tablas de Piedra] proviene del Creador: Un Midrash Judío, una canción Cristiana, una leyenda Islámica, una interpretación Samaritana... Si lo que descubro es algo que me hace mas justo, misericordioso, y humilde, puedo estar seguro de que es algo que el Creador desea para mi vida en ese particular momento de ella. Como esta escrito: «¡No! Oh pueblo, יהוה te ha dicho lo que es bueno, y lo que Él exige de ti: “que hagas lo que es correcto, que ames la compasión y que camines humildemente con tu Dios”»- Miqueas 6:8, Nueva Traducción Viviente. De hecho, la Escritura hebrea cita al Creador redarguyendo el hecho de que los Judios no hubiesen imitado las buenas normas de las naciones en las que habian estado exiliados. Como esta escrito: “¿Por haberos multiplicado más que las naciones que están alrededor de vosotros, no habéis andado en mis mandamientos, ni habéis guardado mis leyes? Ni aun según las [buenas] leyes de las naciones que están alrededor de vosotros habéis andado”- Ezequiel 5:7 (Reina Valera, 1960)

The Holy One calls all Christian believers to abandon all sort of self-deception, in order to embrace the real New Covenant with the God of Abraham

Modern Christianity is indeed a worthy and noble religion. But sadly, the Christian “New Testament” is little more than an emotionally charged [and highly glorified] string of incoherences, contradictions, and theological jugglings. In fact, it’s narrative seems to be closer to what you would come to expect from a politician’s discourse, rather than from the God of truth, certainty, and clarity who spoke to Israel on ancient times.

Let’s try to illustrate our point by examining a few examples:

- (1) While on the one hand the Gospel affirms that Jesus didn’t come to abrogate the Law (Matthew 5:17), it affirms on the other hand that the Law and the prophets were only until John (Luke 16:16).
- (2) While in one place it affirms that he who has seen Jesus has seen God the Father (John 14:9), it affirms on another place that no one has ever seen God (1 John 4:12).
- (3) While on one hand it states that Jesus resurrection was essential for the world to repent and achieve forgiveness (thus obtaining eternal life, according to Romans 10:9), it affirms on the other hand that no one had to rise from the dead, in order for us to proceed to repentance and avoid punishment (Luke 16:30-31).
- (4) While in one place it states that salvation is by faith, and not by the works of the Law (Ephesians 2:8-9), it states elsewhere that whoever wants to enter (eternal) life must keep the commandments of God’s Law (Matthew 19:17).
- (5) While in one place it states that God is One (Mark 12:29), it states on another place that God is three (1 John 5:7).
- (6) While, on the one hand, it rejoices that new believers do not have to keep the Law (Romans 6:14), on the other hand it rejoices that new believers are zealous in keeping the Law (Acts 21:20).
- (7) While on the one hand it teaches God cannot be tempted by Evil (James 1:13), on the other hand teaches that Jesus (the alleged incarnation of God), was indeed tempted by Evil (Luke 4: 2).
- (8) While on the one hand it forbids us from serving another “Lord” besides God (Matthew 6:24), on the other hand it exhorts us to serve [in addition] the “Lord” Jesus (Romans 14:18 & Colossians 3:24).
- (9) While on one hand it quotes Jesus promising to return before his disciples had finished visiting all the cities of Israel (“When they persecute you in this city, flee to the other; for truly I tell you, YOU WILL NOT FINISH THROUGH ALL THE CITIES OF ISRAEL, BEFORE HE COME THE SON OF MAN” (Matthew 10:23); on the other hand it quotes him uttering words that imply their touring of Israel’s cities means nothing, as Jesus will return when they least expect (“because THE SON OF MAN WILL COME AT AN HOUR THAT YOU THINK NOT”- Matthew 24:44).
- (10) Finally, while on the one hand it quotes Jesus promising to return very soon (“He who bears witness to these things says: SURELY I [JESUS] AM COMING SHORTLY”- Revelation 22:20); elsewhere hints at the fact that such promises are not necessarily meant to be understood in a strict literal sense (“Do not ignore this: that WITH THE LORD ONE DAY IS LIKE A THOUSAND YEARS, AND A THOUSAND YEARS LIKE ONE DAY [in other words, Jesus return can be as ‘short’ as three days, or as ‘short’ as three thousand years!]”- 2 Peter 3:8).

As if the former contradictions were not serious enough, the “New testament” goes on to claim that the truth contained in it’s own pages is free from any uncertainty and hypocrisy. As it is written: “But THE WISDOM WHICH IS FROM ON HIGH (MEANING, “THE CHRISTIAN FAITH”) IS

FIRST PURE, then peaceable, kind, benign, full of mercy and good fruits, WITHOUT UNCERTAINTY OR HYPOCRISY” (James 3:17).

In short, the noble Christian theology is as clear and concise as the government program of an astute [yet devious] presidential candidate; one that, while promising everything to everybody, ends up not committing to anything [or anyone].

Does the former mean that Christianity is a false religion, and that Christian believers ought to stop following Jesus call to repentance and obedience to God’s commandments? Of course not!

It only means modern Christian theology is often clouded by an excessive amount of hype, bold conjectures, naive suppositions, and just plain old religious fanfare-- none of which conform to Jesus original [Law based] theology;

It means God wants Christian believers to examine their existing faith. How? Well, a good place to start could be returning to God’s ancient path («Thus saith the Lord, “Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ASK FOR THE OLD PATHS, WHERE IS THE GOOD WAY, AND WALK THEREIN, AND YE SHALL FIND REST FOR YOUR SOULS”»- Jeremiah 6:16).

What is the practical meaning of “returning to the Old Path?” It is for the Christian believer to restore and renew his present faith. How? By making a New Covenant with the Holy One; one in which they willingly place God’s Law [His Ten Supreme Laws] inside their minds, and their souls.

And by so doing, they become part of the exiled Israel to whom God promised saying: «Behold, the days come, saith יהוה (the Lord), that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel [the “exiled”, or “Gentile” world], and with the house of Judah [the ethnically Jewish world]... BUT THIS SHALL BE THE COVENANT that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith יהוה, I WILL PUT MY LAW IN THEIR INWARD PARTS, AND WRITE IT IN THEIR HEARTS; AND WILL BE THEIR GOD, AND THEY SHALL BE MY PEOPLE”- Jeremiah 31:31-33. May peace be upon you!

¿Son las religiones algún tipo de esquema fraudulento, donde un hombre carismático, poderoso, y sagaz, logra subyugarnos psicológicamente, convenciéndonos de ser la única persona capaz de suplir nuestras necesidades espirituales?

Las religiones no son intrínsecamente malas. El problema con las religiones, son en realidad los imperios religiosos, que a menudo son corridos como si fuesen una corporación con fines de lucro (es decir, no respondiendo a la voluntad de Dios, sino a la de “los accionistas humanos” que le controlan). Otras veces, estos imperios religiosos operan como si fuesen un tipo de “franquicia comercial” (Burger King, Kentucky fried Chicken, Apple Computers, etc), donde “los dueños” de la franquicia ejercen control absoluto sobre la “formulación” de su producto [a fin de evitar cualquier desviación o alteración ideológica], a la misma vez que restringen el uso de tal nombre (Judaísmo, Cristianismo, Islam, Noajismo, Samaritanismo, etc), tal y como si este último fuese un producto [o una marca registrada] cuya autoría intelectual es de su sola y exclusiva propiedad [¡y no la del Creador!].

Curiosamente, el evangelio Cristiano intima que los seguidores del Nazareno sufrían de este mismo tipo de miopía espiritual. ¿Por que? Pues porque estaban completamente seguros de que nadie podía usar “la marca registrada” que representaba el nombre de Jesús, a menos que no “siguiere” (estando así sometido) a los representantes de la organización.

Como esta escrito: “Maestro, hemos visto a uno que en tu nombre echaba fuera demonios, pero él no nos sigue; y se lo prohibimos, porque no nos seguía (es decir, no porque no te sigue a tí, sino porque no nos sigue a nosotros, que somos los representantes de este nuevo movimiento)”- Marcos 9:38.

Afortunadamente, Jesús fue lo suficientemente honesto como para corregir la extraviada aptitud de sus representantes: «Pero Jesús dijo: “No se lo prohibáis... Porque el que no es contra nosotros, por nosotros es”» (Marcos 9:39-40)

What does God’s Law say about it’s own meaning?

The noble Christian religion claims that the ultimate meaning of God’s Law is that we all inherit an original sin that predestines us to eternal punishment; and that the only way to escape such dreadful fate is to embrace the idea that Jesus is God in the flesh, that he lived a sinless life, and that he shed his blood in order to atone for our sins.

But what does God’s Law actually say about what should it’s interpretation be? Well, the Law simply states that we must view it as a message of freedom from bondage (“And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts”- Psalm 119:45, KJV)-- as the good news that, as long as we strive to do the goodness portrayed by it’s commandments, rites, and statutes, we will be accounted as righteous. As is written: «And when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, “What mean the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which the Lord our God hath commanded you?” Then thou shalt say unto thy son, “We were Pharaoh’s bondmen in Egypt; and the Lord brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand: And the Lord shewed signs and wonders, great and sore, upon Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his household, before our eyes: And he brought us out from thence, that he might bring us in, to give us the land which he sware unto our fathers (symbol of the World to come). And the Lord commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear the Lord our God, for our good always, that he might preserve us alive, as it is at this day. And it shall be our righteousness, if we observe to do all these commandments before the Lord our God, as he hath commanded us”- Deut. 6:20-25, KJV

Reformed Samaritanism
Doing what is right is just too demanding; why not focus instead on embracing the right theology?

The message of God’s Law is that man must do what is good (“And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord: that it may be well with thee...”- Deut. 6:18); But this message is too strong for sinners to obey. Why? Because it implies that, if they want to stand out among believers, they ought to abandon their current immorality (usury, lies, frauds, adultery, theft, vanity, fornication, pride, homosexuality, etc). Thus, the average sinner prefers to pervert God’s message, denying it has anything to do with embracing an ethical lifestyle, and making it instead a demand to have “the right theology”. This way, the sinners feels empowered to place God’s moral demand “in the backburner”, extolling instead the intellectual demand to have the correct theology [an area in which they can excel, without having to renounce to their sinful and immoral lifestyle]. And this explains the existence of so many individuals who, despite being excellent theologians, are openly atheists and/or homosexuals.

In short, the straightforward message of God’s Law is that since the Holy One is morally perfect (“He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he”- Deut. 32:4), He doesn’t force us to do anything. Rather, He gives us the option to choose whether we would like to be blessed, or be instead cursed (“I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live"- Deut. 30:19).

How do we choose to be blessed? By choosing life! In other words, by striving to do what the Divine commandments reveal to be right and good in the eyes of the Almighty ("Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the LORD your God, and His testimonies, and His statutes, which He hath commanded thee. And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the LORD; that it may be well with thee..."- Deut. 6:17-18, KJV).

And, by committing ourselves to obey His commandments, the Almighty has promised to make us "head", instead of "tail". As it is written: "And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the Lord thy God will set thee on high... The Lord shall establish thee an holy people unto himself, as he hath sworn unto thee, if thou shalt keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways... And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the Lord thy God..."- Deut. 28:1,9,&13, KJV.

And the former means that we will no longer be impotent followers (or "slaves") of shrewd and crafty human leaders (just as the Israelites were no longer slaves of Pharaoh), but will instead be able to have a simple, direct, and foolproof relationship with the Almighty (having no need of any intermediary). As is written: "Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people" (Deut. 4:6, KJV); "Thou through thy commandments hast made me wiser than mine enemies: for they are ever with me" (Psalm 119:98, KJV); "And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein" (Isaiah 35:8, KJV).

In what sense is Reformed Samaritanism different from Judaism, Islam, and Christianity?

In what sense is Reformed Samaritanism different from normative Judaism, Islam, and Christianity? In that, unlike the latter religious traditions, Reformed Samaritanism is actually committed with the Scripture where Moses describes the Almighty not only as the righteous [and flawless] Judge of judges, but also as a being of absolute moral perfection.

As is written: "That be far from Thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked, that so the righteous should be as the wicked; that be far from Thee; shall not the Judge of all the earth do justly?... The Rock, His work is perfect; for all His ways are justice; a God of faithfulness and without iniquity, just and right is He. Is corruption His? No; His children's is the blemish..."- Genesis 18:25, & Deut. 32:4-5 (J.P.S. 1917 Edition). In light of the former, both the words as well as the actions ascribed to the Almighty are interpreted so as to reject any theological interpretation that tries to depict the Holy One as a flawed being who acts in a selfish, unjust, arbitrary, tyrannical, or despotic fashion. And whenever it seems unavoidable that the Almighty does [or says] something that is morally questionable, it ought to be ascribed not to the perfect Creator, but rather to His imperfect representative for the particular case under consideration [the angel, the prophet, the account writer, or the being that currently represents Him]. What are some examples of the morally questionable things that are rejected?

(1) To claim that God literally wanted Abraham to sacrifice his son Isaac;

- (2) To claim that God had arbitrarily decided to prefer Isaac's children (the Israelites), over Ishmael's children (The Arabs);
- (3) To claim that God literally asked Hosea (a member of the priestly family) to marry a harlot;
- (4) To claim that God literally asked Isaiah to walk around naked for 3 years;
- (5) To claim that God isn't pleased with our worship unless it is performed at the site of ancient Jerusalem's temple;
- (6) To claim that God isn't pleased with a person unless he embraces a particular theological interpretation, or blindly follows a particular [human] prophet, king, or [alleged] Messiah;
- (7) To claim that the Almighty chastises a finite life of rebellion with an infinite time of torment.
- (8) To suggest that God is in no obligation to let a person "reap" the same measure of goodness [or evil] he has willingly "planted"; or that the Almighty has no obligation to reward whatever goodness a person chooses to do [even if such person is for the most part wicked].
- (9) To claim that, since God is Almighty, He can do as He pleases, with no regard for the justice, fairness, or morality.
- (10) To claim that the Almighty actually needs anything we might be able to offer Him [love, praise, worship, prayer, recognition, submission, allegiance, tithes, etc]
- (11) To intimate that God's word is unreliable, as God can change his mind, going back on what He has said, thereby failing to fulfill something He had already promised.
- (12) To suggest that the Holy One is either a religious tyrant or a moral dictator who plays upon human beings a cruel game of "hide and seek"; asking us to comply with moral standards He himself doesn't follow

The real difference between a mature and an immature believer

Though innocent, a spiritual baby is immature; therefore, he feels compelled to follow tangible things-- a Physical land [Palestine]; a physical man [the Messiah]; a physical place [the Holy Temple]; a physical tribe [the Jews]... But a wise and mature believer follows non physical things-- moral values like justice, truth, honesty, mercy, humility, etc. And the former is the reason why Hebrew Scripture goes on to say the following: "Justice, justice shalt thou follow, that thou mayest live... Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating unjust gain... If now I have found favour in thy sight, put, I pray thee... deal kindly and truly with me... It hath been told thee, O man, what is good, and what the LORD doth require of thee: only to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God... Did not thy father eat and drink, and do justice and righteousness? Then it was well with him. He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Is not this to know Me? saith the LORD... Thus saith the LORD: Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches; But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth, and knoweth Me, that I am the LORD who exercise mercy, justice, and righteousness, in the earth; for in these things I delight, saith the LORD"- Deut. 16:20, Exodus 18:21, Genesis 47:29, Micah 6:8, Jeremiah 22:15-16, Jeremiah 9:22-23 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

Is Reformed Samaritanism the product of Western culture?

Reformed Samaritanism cannot be considered to be a Western religion. Why? Because modern Western culture is based upon the principles of absolute equality, absolute individual liberty, and state-enforced political correctness. Thus, a Western person isn't allowed to do [or say] anything that would seem to offend other people; that would trigger other people; or that could be considered to be a form of prejudice and/or discrimination.

But since Reformed Samaritans are bound to turn both Adonay [the Lord Almighty] as well as prophet Moses into the supreme role models for all of what they think, say, or do, the former cannot subscribe to Western Culture.

Why? Because both God and Moses are portrayed as constantly discriminating between the Egyptians, and the Israelites; between the obedient, and the rebellious; between the meek, and the haughty; between the oppressed, and the oppressor; between the holy, and the profane; between the righteous, and the wicked; between the pure, and the impure; between he who serves Adonay, and he who doesn't.

In fact, the God of Israel portrays Himself as a sort of "macho-man" warrior-- a King who wages a never ending battle against His enemies ("Because the Lord hath sworn that the Lord will have war with Amalek from generation to generation... For this is the day of the Lord God of hosts, a day of vengeance, that He may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate and made drunk with their blood... God is jealous, and the Lord revengeth; the Lord revengeth, and is furious; the Lord will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies"- Exodus 17:16, Jeremiah 46:10, Nahum 1:2).

And the same thing happens with Moses, whom the Almighty portrays as a dreadful warrior ("This day will I begin to put the dread of thee and the fear of thee upon the nations that are under the whole heaven, who shall hear report of thee, and shall tremble, and be in anguish because of thee"- Deut. 2:25).

Finally, not only does the Hebrew Scripture enjoins the believer to "contend against the wicked" [thereby discriminating against him], but he is even told that, doing so, is an important requisite for him who wishes to dwell upon God's holy Hill.

As it has been said: "They that forsake the Law praise the wicked: but such as keep the Law contend with them... Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy Hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart... In whose eyes a vile person is contemned; but he honoureth them that fear the Lord"- Proverbs 28:4, & Psalm 15:1-4

If God sates one thing, and you boldly dare to deny it (claiming the opposite), then you no longer believe in God, but rather in yourself (in other words, you have become your own god, thereby embracing ignorant and rebellious idolatry)

If God's Law states one thing (that men and women are different, that public homosexuality is a vile and shameful lifestyle, that God wants you to be truthful, to avoid pride, to respect people's life and property, to honor your parents, to avoid usury, to avoid treason and unfaithfulness, etc), but then comes the Gospel and states the opposite, it isn't the Law, but rather the Gospel, the one at fault.

Why? Because the veracity of the Gospel had always depended upon it's compliance with what was previously stated [and commanded] by the Law. On the other hand, the veracity of the Law had never depended upon it's future compliance with anything to be said [or commanded] down the road by the Gospel. And the former is corroborated by the Scripture that goes on to teach that God doesn't change, so as to state one thing [in the Law], and then something completely different [in the Gospel]. As it is written: "For I יהוה change not..."- Malachi 3:6.

The above truth becomes particularly evident when we bear in mind that the Law quotes the Holy and truthful God declaring Israel [symbol of all sincere believers, no matter their race or creed] to be his firstborn Son («And you will say to Pharaoh: "יהוה has said thus: Israel is my son, my firstborn"»- Exodus 4:22), while the gospel quotes unclean and deceitful devils declaring otherwise («Devils also came out of many, crying out and saying, “You [Jesus, and not Israel] are the Son of God”»- Luke 4:41)

Reformed Samaritanism

Which of the two following groups practiced a worse form of polytheism?

(1) The Israelite assembly, when claiming that A GOD COMPRISED OF 2 INDIVIDUALS ("the two golden calves") had delivered them from bondage ("... The king took counsel, and made 2 calves of gold, and said unto them... behold thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt" - 1 Kings 12:28, KJB)?

Or,

(2) the Church assembly, when claiming that A GOD COMPRISED OF 3 INDIVIDUALS ("the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit") had delivered them from bondage ("the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are One" - 1 John 5:7)?

And if God was so angered by the lesser form of paganism, how much more [by far] wouldn't He be angered by the greater form of it!

God's Law endows Reformed Samaritans with a mind of their own!

The intense study [and practice] of God's Law imbues Reformed Samaritans with a mind of their own, so that they no longer feel bounded to [blindly] follow any deity, any leader, any nation, any nationalism, any religion, any hope, any culture, any political system, any economical model, any activism, any social construct, any mass movement, any moral values, any science, any technology, any rights, nor any idea that contradicts and/or undermines the Laws, customs, institutions, teachings, social boundaries, and moral principles clearly outlined within Moses five books of Torah

Reformed Samaritanism: A quick view at Paul's "not by works" theology

The apostle Paul seems to have been a good and well intended believer. And there's no doubt that He who knows the intentions of the heart (the God of Israel, blessed be He) will not fail to reward him accordingly.

Yet, if we are brutally honest, we would have to admit that Paul's theology was often weak, and somewhat shallow. Why? Because a casuistic study of it would cast serious doubts concerning Paul's deeper understanding of God's Law.

Consider the following example: Paul taught that it is impossible for a man to save himself by doing the goodness commanded by the Holy One. Why? Well, although nobody [save the Almighty] can be absolutely sure of the answer, it seems like Paul actually embraced a literal interpretation of the verse that goes on to say: "I am the Lord: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise..."- Isaiah 42:8, King James Bible.

Thus, according to Paul, all honor, all praise, all glory, and all recognition belongs exclusively to the Almighty. Therefore, Paul couldn't bring himself to accept the idea that humans were actually endowed with the power to do any goodness worthy of glory, praise, honor, and/or God's favor.

Why? Because the latter would give them enough justification to boast about their accomplishments; and Paul considered such thing to be a subtle [yet sinful] way of “stealing” part of the glory that belongs solely to the Almighty (“For you are saved by grace through faith, and this is not from yourselves; it is God’s gift— not from works, so that no one can boast”- Ephesians 2:8-10, Christian Standard Bible). What’s wrong with this seemingly logical idea? Well, the problem is that not only is the former totally disconnected from Hebrew scripture’s wider narrative, but it even seems to indicate an immoral [and most likely pagan] origin.

Why is it pagan and disconnected from Scripture narrative? For starters, consider what Scripture records as the actions of king Saul, right after he turned away from obedience to God-- he appointed David to the post of army general; yet, as soon David became too successful in his new post (so that people would start to chant in praise of him) Saul became so jealous that secretly plotted to kill innocent David. Thus, Hebrew Scripture intimates that, to be jealous of a servant who has rightfully earned honor and praise, is a trait becoming of a sinful (pagan) king (like the Roman Caesars)-- and of the God of Israel, whom Scripture portrays as the holy [and perfectly righteous] King of the Universe. Besides, Scripture teaches that God had no problem with His servants receiving the honor and glory rightfully corresponding to their legitimate posts as God’s representatives.

For example, the Almighty is life’s Supreme Creator. Thus, by bringing children into the world, human parents become de facto representatives of the Supreme Life-Giver. Therefore, God commands that parents be given the honor and glory due to their noble post (“Honour thy father and thy mother... For every one that curseth his father or his mother shall be surely put to death”- Exodus 20:12 & Leviticus 20:9, King James Bible).

Likewise, the God of Israel also is the supreme King of the Universe. Thus, whenever a man attains kingship, he thereby becomes God’s de facto representative; and the Almighty grants such man the honor due to his post (“O king, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and strength, and glory... Thou shalt not rail upon the Judges, neither speak evil of the ruler of thy people”- Daniel 2:37 & Exodus 22:28, 1599 Geneva Bible).

In addition, the Almighty is the Divine Judge of the Universe; therefore, all human judges are His de facto representatives. Thus, He honours them. How? By dwelling in their midst, and by comparing them to gods (in other words, to beings worthy of respect and obedience («God standeth in the congregation of God; in the midst of the judges He judgeth... I said: “Ye are godlike beings, and all of you sons of the Most High”- Psalm 82:1-6, American Standard Version).

Finally, as God stands for the well being of men, whenever a Priest would stood up [interceding] for the well being of his fellow men, he would thereby become God’s own representative. Therefore, the Almighty commands that Priests be honored and respected (And thou shalt make holy garments for Aaron, thy brother, for honour and for beauty... And for Aaron’s sons thou shalt make coats; thou shalt also make girdles for them, and tiaras shalt thou make for them, for honour and for beauty... And the man that will act presumptuously and will not hearken unto the priest... or unto the judge, even that man shall die...”- Exodus 28:2, Exodus 28:40, & Deut. 17:12-- Jubilee Bible 2000).

The reason why no honest Christian believer can ever embrace the idea of Jesus (peace an blessing be upon him) being the God Almighty

Christianity is indeed a good and valid path to come close to the Creator. But truth be told, no knowledgeable [and honest] Christian believer would ever consider the possibility of Jesus being the Almighty God. Why? Because the latter idea is so utterly false, that even the Christian New Testament casts shadows upon its veracity. When? When it bears witness to the fact that Jesus had a God of his own [something only a deranged mind would dare ascribing to the Almighty!]. As it is written: “Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ”- 2 Corinthians 1:3, Christian Standard Bible. And it also states in another place, «And he [Jesus] said unto him, “Why called thou me good? there is none good but one, even God”...»- Matthew 19:17, 1599 Geneva Bible. Finally, it states with crystal clarity that Jesus receives Divine revelations from God [and it goes without saying that, being omniscient, the Creator needs to receive no revelation from anybody]: “The revelation of Jesus Christ that God gave him...”- Revelation 1:1, Christian Standard Bible. What danger faces the Christian believer who persists upon embracing the falsehood of Jesus alleged Divinity? The danger is that, though his sincere repentance will make him feel forgiven, his insistence upon embracing what God has clearly revealed to be false could ultimately lead him into a severe [and potentially life threatening] depression. And whence we get that the Hebrew Scripture also teaches God is no man? We get it from the verses that go on to say: “God is no man... For I am God and not man, the Holy One among you... the Strength of Israel will not lie nor repent: for he is not a man, that he should repent”- Numbers 23:19, Hosea 1:9, 1 Samuel 15:29).

«He who fears God's ought to avoid the mindset of the secular Jew. Why? Because the latter represents the modern manifestation of the ancient evil called “Amalek”. What is Amalek? It is a proud, stiff-neck, unjust, opportunistic, biased, and strife-oriented spirit, often characterized by an unbounded [and brazen] lust for gain and power. And since the former traits directly oppose the peace, fair justice, and unbiased judgment that characterizes God's throne (“... [untainted] Righteousness and [impartial] Judgment are the habitation of His throne”- Psalm 97:2), the Holy One has sworn to wage war against Amalek's representatives until the end of time (“... the Lord hath sworn that the Lord will have war with Amalek from generation to generation”- Exodus 17:16)»

In what sense are Religious establishments and Solar Energy companies alike?

Some time ago, two neighbors decided that, in order to have a reliable source of electricity, each of them would need to acquire a roof mounted solar power systems. The first neighbor decided to go with a fancy “turn-key” system provided by a big [and well known] solar equipment outlet. The system list price was $25,000 US dollars. But, as the neighbor was cash strapped, he was forced to submit to a 30 year financing deal, so that the final system cost would be $75,000. In addition, the contract forced him to relinquish authority over the roof of his own house (where the system was to be installed).

On the other hand, the second neighbor decided that the benefits of a fancy turn-key project were not worth the extra costs and liabilities involved. Instead, he decided to learn the pertinent technology, and create a solar system suitable to his particular needs.

In the end, though he had to spend a considerable amount of time and effort learning both basic electricity and solar technology theory, it was well spent energy, as by integrating the best of several brands (Jordan Batteries, Epever charge controllers, CNSWIPOWER inverters, Longi & Canadian Solar Panels, ABB Transfer switch & breakers, etc) he was able to create a pretty functional [and reliable] system for little more than $10,000. Not only that, but he was able to avoid having to submit to a long and onerous finance contract that would take away from him the authority over his roof. And something similar happens with religion- we all recognize our need for a reliable source of spiritual light (Divine truth), and power (security). And just as it happens with solar systems, we have [at least] two ways to fulfill our need of the former:

(1) We could “put all our eggs into a single basket” by submitting to the harsh terms [and self centered conditions] made by an outlet representing an exclusive “brand” of faith (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Samaritanism, etc),

Or,

(2) We could consider that the extra security [allegedly] provided by the big religious outlets isn’t worth letting them get control over our money (our tithes, offerings, contributions, etc), nor over our roofs (our minds).

So, instead of letting a big religious establishment be in charge of building our particular religious system, we could opt to build it ourselves. How? Again, by spend time “learning the pertinent technology” (in other words, by learning the basics of the Hebrew language, as well as the basics of ancient monotheism), and then proceeding to integrate the best of all “brands” [incorporating the best of Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Samaritanism, etc].

When do we stop? We can stop as soon as we have achieved a functional religious system capable of fulfilling our basic spiritual needs; and the latter, without demanding our blind allegiance to anything [or anyone] save the fair justice, generous mercy, practical humility, and intellectual honesty demanded by the Holy One (blessed be He) upon the two stone tablets given to our master Moses (may peace and blessings be upon him).

Is Divine truth limited to any single religious tradition?

The combination of travel, direct exposition to the major world religions, and a personal encounter with different nationalities and peoples, will make you realize that Divine Wisdom is like a complete circle of 360 degrees-- Every religion in the world has a segment of that truth (“all great mountains point toward the Heavens!”).

And the Hebrew Scripture seems to validate the former view, when encouraging us to seek counsel from other people: “Where no counsel is, the people fall: but IN THE MULTITUDE OF COUNSELLORS THERE IS SAFETY” (Proverbs 11:14, KJB).

In fact, not only did our master Moses [a Hebrew believer] recorded within the pages of Torah the wisdom given to him by Jethro (his non-Hebrew father in Law), but the Almighty himself also hinted at the same truth. When? When He asked each person who wanted to be counted as part of God’s people to contribute to the Divine service by offering HALF A SHEKEL (“When thou takest the sum of the children of Israel after their number, then shall they give every man A RANSOM FOR HIS SOUL UNTO THE LORD... This they shall give... HALF A SHEKEL after the shekel of the sanctuary... AN HALF SHEKEL SHALL BE THE OFFERING OF THE LORD”- Exodus 30:12-13). Why only HALF A SHEKEL? Why not ONE COMPLETE SHEKEL (“THE RICH SHALL NOT GIVE MORE, AND THE POOR SHALL NOT GIVE LESS THAN HALF A SHEKEL, when they give an offering unto the Lord, to make an atonement for your souls.- Exodus 30:15)? It was commanded so, in order to hint at the idea that, although acceptable, our contribution to God’s service (our “half shekel”), won’t be “complete” [or “whole”] until we are willing to bring it together with the contribution (the half Shekel) of our fellow human being (“BEHOLD, HOW GOOD AND HOW PLEASANT IT IS FOR BRETHREN TO DWELL TOGETHER IN UNITY!... FOR THERE THE LORD COMMANDED THE BLESSING, EVEN LIFE FOR EVERMORE (FULL REDEMPTION!)”- Psalm 133:1-3, KJB)

¿Es el evangelio literalmente cierto?

“Cuando os persigan en esta ciudad, huid a la otra; porque de cierto os digo, que no acabaréis de recorrer todas las ciudades de Israel, antes que venga el Hijo del Hombre”- Mateo 10:23, Biblia Reina Valera 1960

La realidad es que la religión nazarena es una bella y ennoblecedora fe, pues su llamado al arrepentimiento puede traer salvación a sus seguidores. Pero, desafortunadamente, la teología nazarena no puede ser aceptada como literalmente cierta. ¿Por que? Pues porque hacer tal cosa obliga al hombre a renunciar tanto a la honestidad intelectual, como a la sensatez y el sentido común. ¿Por que? Pues porque es el único modo de poder ejercer el “malabarismo teológico” que requiere el tratar de justificar los serios y graves lapsos que caracterizan el relato evangélico. Por ejemplo, Mateo 10:23 cita al Maestro profetizando que habría de volver antes de que sus discípulos lograsen recorrer [predicando] todas las ciudades de Israel.

Samaritanismo Reformado

Si la Ley dice que, el perdón de los pecados, viene por medio del sincero arrepentimiento (“Quizá oiga la casa de Judá todo el mal que yo pienso hacerles, y se arrepienta cada uno de su mal camino, y yo perdonaré su maldad y su pecado”- Jeremías 36:3); Y viene luego el Evangelio, y pretende refutar la Ley, diciendo que, el perdón de los pecados, no viene por el arrepentimiento, sino por creer en Jesús (“que todos los que en él creyeren, recibirán perdón de pecados por su nombre”- Hechos 10:43); Entonces la disputa entre Cristianos y Hebreos, queda finalmente adjudicada; el caso ha sido cerrado, y ya no queda mas por discutir. ¿Por que? Pues porque, las Verdades reveladas en la Ley [la Escritura Hebrea], son finales e irrevocables [pues la Ley no puede ser abrogada ni quebrantada, según Deuteronomio 4:2]. Y, con esto, también concuerdan los Evangelios, cuando citan a Jesús diciendo: «la Escritura [la Ley], no puede ser quebrantada» (Juan 10:35)

Obviamente, la profecía no se materializo. Y, ya que la Ley Divina afirma que el creyente no tiene obligación alguna de creer en las palabras de un profeta cuya profecía falle en cumplirse, pues el creyente Samaritano no tiene obligación alguna de creer en nada de lo profetizado por el Galileo. Como esta escrito: “Si el profeta hablare en nombre de יהוה (Adonai Yah), y no se cumpliere lo que dijo, ni aconteciere, es palabra que יהוה (Adonai Yah) no ha hablado; con presunción la habló el tal profeta; no tengas temor de él”- Deut. 18:22, Reina Valera 1960. Significa lo hasta aquí dicho que el Cristianismo es falso, y que el creyente Samaritano no puede creer en absolutamente nada de lo dicho en el Nuevo Testamento, o de lo que al Nazareno adscriben los evangelios? ¡Dios nos guarde de decir tal cosa!

Es que toda palabra que exalte lo que es fiel, modesto, noble, santo, bueno, justo, misericordioso, y humilde, proviene del Santo de Israel; sin importar si es hallada en la Torah, en el Evangelio, en el Qur’an, o en el libro de Mormón. Del mismo modo, todo lo que se oponga a lo anterior, no proviene de Dios, sino de la astucia y sagacidad de hombres y/o mujeres sedientos de poder, dinero, reconocimiento, y ganancia. Como bien dicen los Escritos Cristianos: “Toda buena dádiva y todo don perfecto descende de lo alto, del Padre de las luces...”- Santiago 1:17, Biblia Reina Valera 1960

Quien conoce la lengua Hebrea, entiende claramente que la Escritura muestra que la salvación del alma depende de la justicia personal de cada individuo

La lengua Hebrea fue la lengua en la cual se escribieron originalmente la mayoría de los libros que comprenden la Biblia Hebrea (aunque algunas cortas secciones están escritas en el idioma Farsee y Arameo). Esta lengua, era un idioma curioso, pues no solamente se escribía de derecha a izquierda, sino que (a diferencia de los idiomas modernos) también utilizaba las letras de su alfabeto para designar los números.

En adición, las palabras se escribían sin incluir sus vocales (solo se escribían sus consonantes). Esto hacía que, cualquier palabra escrita, pudiese tener varios significados (todos ellos igualmente válidos). Por ejemplo, la palabra que normalmente era traducida como “Adam” (el primer hombre) también podía válidamente traducirse como “Edom” (el color Rojo); Así, reconociendo la validez de ambas interpretaciones, los sabios de Israel postulaban que, el color de la piel de Adam (el primer hombre) había sido el color Rojo.

De igual modo, la palabra que normalmente se traduce como “vino” era “yayyin”; pero esta última palabra podía válidamente interpretarse como una cifra, en vez de una palabra. ¿Cual era el valor de esa cifra? Su valor era de “70”. Curiosamente, la palabra Hebrea que se traducía como “secreto”, era la palabra “Sod”. Y, el valor numérico de la palabra “Sod”, era también “70”. Así, los sabios de Israel encontraron en la equivalencia numérica de estas dos palabras el indicativo Divino de que, cuando un hombre bebe demasiado vino, revela sus secretos personales (“Cuando el vino entra, los secretos salen”).

Esta riqueza de significado y flexibilidad que caracterizan al lenguaje Hebreo, hacen que, al creyente que conoce los rudimentos de esta lengua, le sea casi imposible aceptar el absolutismo dogmático que naturalmente se desprende de las traducciones que, de la Biblia Hebrea, se hacen a otras lenguas; especialmente cuando estas otras lenguas (incluida la lengua Castellana) carecen de la misma riqueza y flexibilidad.

Por ejemplo, la noble fe Cristiana utiliza su traducción Castellana de la Escritura para afirmar que la salvación es por fe en Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él), ya que (según ellos) la Biblia enseña que nadie puede salvar su alma haciendo el bien ordenado en los diez mandamientos (es decir, obrando justamente para con Dios y para con su prójimo); pero el creyente Hebreo rechaza tal enseñanza, pues sabe que un pasaje escrito en el libro del profeta Ezequiel puede válidamente interpretarse como un promesa de salvación para toda alma que obre justicia.

La mayoría de las Biblias Castellanas traducen ese pasaje de forma similar a la siguiente: «Si estuviesen en medio de ella estos tres varones; Noé, Daniel y Job, ellos POR SU JUSTICIA LIBRARÍAN SUS VIDAS, dice יהוה (Adonai Yah) el Señor». El Hebreo en que se escribió originalmente ese pasaje, dice así: «ve'hayu sheloshet ha-anashim ha-eleh be'tojah Noaj, Daniel, ve'Yiov hemah vetzide'katam ye-natz-tzlo nefeshem ne-um Adonai יהוה».

Así, vemos que la traducción Castellana del anterior pasaje traduce la palabra “nefeshem” como “sus vidas”. ¿Que es “nefeshem”. Pues es el plural indicativo (en tercera persona) de la palabra Hebrea “nefesh”. Y, “nefesh” puede válidamente traducirse como “vida”; Pero, aunque esta traducción es perfectamente válida, omite el hecho de que, de nuevo, siendo una lengua tan flexible, casi toda palabra Hebrea tiene mas de un significado.

En el caso de la palabra “nefeshem”, esta puede también traducirse válidamente como “su alma”. Un buen ejemplo de esto, podría ser el pasaje que se encuentra en Deuteronomio 13:3. Allí se dice lo siguiente: «lo tish'ma el div'rei ha-navi ha-hu o el jolem ha-halom ha-hu ki m'naseh יהוה Eloheijem et'jem ladaat ha-yish'jem ohavim et יהוה Eloheijem b'kol l'av'jem u'v'jol nefeshejem».

La traducción que a este pasaje dan la mayoría de las Biblias Castellanas es: «No darás oídos a las palabras de tal profeta, ni al tal soñador de sueños; porque יהוה el Dios de ustedes les está probando, para saber si aman a יהוה Dios de ustedes, con todos sus corazones, y con todas SUS ALMAS». Como podemos ver, el pasaje traduce la palabra Hebrea “nefeshejem” (que no es sino otra forma de “nefeshem”), como “sus almas”. Esto significa que, el pasaje en Ezequiel 14:14, puede válidamente traducirse como: «... Noé, Daniel y Job, ellos POR SU JUSTICIA LIBRARÍAN SUS ALMAS, dice Yah el Señor». Y, esta última traducción, claramente muestra que la justicia que obra el hombre que teme a Dios no solamente tiene el poder de salvar su vida (en este mundo), sino de salvar también su alma (en el mundo que ha de venir).

Debemos concluir diciendo que, aunque conocer la lengua Hebrea es una excelente ayuda, a la hora de discernir lo que dice (y lo que no dice) la Escritura, este conocimiento no sirve de nada, si no tenemos un corazón comprometido con la justicia, con la misericordia, y con la humildad.

Es que, cuando una persona es vana y altiva, tiende a dar demasiada importancia a recibir la gloria, la honra y la adulación de aquellos que le rodean. Y, esa misma arrogancia, hace creer a tal persona que la conducta del Creador debe ser exactamente igual a la suya-- que el Creador también está obsesionado con obtener todo el poder, toda la gloria, toda la honra, y toda la pleitesía de los hombres (“No vemos las cosas tal y como son ellas mismas, sino tal y como somos nosotros mismos”).

Así, el hombre orgulloso termina concluyendo que el Creador no puede permitir que nadie sea lo suficientemente justo [o piadoso] como para salvar su propia alma; pues esto daría paso a que tal persona pudiese “gloriarse” de haber obtenido su propia salvación. Y esto último de algún modo impediría que Creador reciba toda la gloria, toda la honra, y todo el Honor.

¿Cual es el problema con esta extraviada teología? Pues el problema es que niega el fundamento mismo de la fe Hebrea, que no es otro sino la idea de que Adonai Yah es “Ejad” (Único).

Y esto último significa que, en todo el Universo, no hay nada ni nadie igual al Creador. Así pues, Adonai no tiene las necesidades que tiene el hombre (pues, de otro modo, al menos en este aspecto el hombre sería igual al Creador, y entonces el Creador no sería realmente único).

Yah no tiene los valores que tiene el hombre; ni tiene las prioridades que tiene el hombre. El hombre necesita comida y bebida; necesita compañía; y necesita el honor de los otros hombres; Pero Adonai Yah (bendito sea) es único, pues no necesita absolutamente nada.

Dios no necesita la gloria de los hombres; no necesita nuestra obediencia, nuestra pleitesía, nuestro amor, ni tampoco nuestro honor. Y esto queda demostrado por el hecho de que, después de haber dicho: “Al Señor tu Dios adorarás, y a El solo servirás...”, El Creador procedió a decir: “Honra a tu padre y a tu madre” (en otras palabras, Dios no tuvo reparo alguno en compartir su honor con nuestros padres).

La realidad es que Adonai Yah está completo, y reina como Supremo Regente del Universo. Y nada de lo que el hombre haga, diga, o crea (sea bueno, o sea malo), aumentará (o disminuirá) un ápice a la gloria de Adonai; pues, sin completamente entenderlo, nuestro libre albedrío nunca podrá impedir que el Universo cumpla incondicionalmente la voluntad de su Creador.

Note por ejemplo como la Escritura reseña que Faraón se exaltaba a sí mismo como si fuese un dios; Y, en su blasfemia, se reveló arrogantemente contra Yah (creyendo que con ello demostraba su grande poder). Pero, lo que Faraón no pudo jamás imaginar, era que, si Dios permitía que su corazón continuase latiendo, no era porque Faraón lograra imponer su propia voluntad, era porque el Creador (bendito sea) utilizaría esa arrogante y blasfema rebelión, para cumplir sus insondables y maravillosos propósitos.

Jews DO control the media

JULY 1, 2012, 11:05 AM | 685

archive.is/TrXU6

Recommend Share 9.6k Tweet 619

Email Print Share

Elad Nehorai is a writer living in Crown Heights, Brooklyn... [More]

→ Elad's website

We Jews are a funny breed. We love to brag about every Jewish actor. Sometimes we even pretend an actor is Jewish just because we like him enough that we think he deserves to be on our team. We brag about Jewish authors, Jewish politicians, Jewish directors. Every time someone mentions any movie or book or piece of art, we inevitably say something like, "Did you know that he was Jewish?" That's just how we roll.

We're a driven group, and not just in regards to the art world. We have, for example, AIPAC, which was essentially constructed just to drive agenda in Washington DC. And it succeeds admirably. And we brag about it. Again, it's just what we do.

But the funny part is when any anti-Semite or anti-Israel person starts to spout stuff like, "The Jews control the media!" and "The Jews control Washington!"

Suddenly we're up in arms. We create huge campaigns to take these people down. We do what we can to put them out of work. We publish articles. We've created entire organizations that exist just to tell everyone that the Jews don't control nothin'. No, we don't control the media, we don't have any more sway in DC than anyone else. No, no, no, we swear. We're just like everybody else!

Does anyone else (who's not a bigot) see the irony of this?

Let's be honest with ourselves, here, fellow Jews. We do control the media. We've got so many dudes up in the executive offices in all the big movie production companies it's almost obscene. Just about every movie or TV show, whether it be "Tropic Thunder" or "Curb Your Enthusiasm," is rife with actors, directors, and writers who are Jewish. Did you know that all eight major film studios are run by Jews?

La realidad es que, sin importar lo que Faraón haya dicho, hecho, o creído; al final de la historia, el Universo cumplió la encomienda de su Creador (glorificando de ese modo su nombre).

¿Cual es esa encomienda? Pues dar a cada uno el mismo bien (o mal) que haya sembrado. Faraón sembró muerte, ahogando en el agua (del Río Nilo) a los Israelitas; y terminó segando la misma muerte que había sembrado, pues fue ahogado en el agua (del mar Rojo).

La realidad es que, el verdadero Dios, no tiene problema alguno con que sus siervos se gloríen en conocerle, servirle, y obedecerle. Como está escrito: «MAS ALÁBESE EN ESTO EL QUE SE

HUBIERE DE ALABAR: EN ENTENDERME Y CONOCERME, que yo soy Adonai Yah, que hago misericordia, juicio y justicia en la tierra; porque estas cosas quiero, dice Adonai Yah» (Jeremías 9:24).

De hecho, aún el mismo Rey David se glorió a sí mismo diciendo: «YAH ME HA PREMIADO CONFORME A MI JUSTICIA; CONFORME A LA LIMPIEZA DE MIS MANOS ME HA RECOMPENSADO. Porque yo he guardado los caminos de Yah, Y no me aparté impíamente de mi Dios. Pues todos sus juicios estuvieron delante de mí, Y no me he apartado de sus estatutos. Fui recto para con Él, y me he guardado de mi maldad, POR LO CUAL ME HA RECOMPENSADO YAH CONFORME A MI JUSTICIA; CONFORME A LA LIMPIEZA DE MIS MANOS DELANTE DE SU VISTA» (Salmo 18:20-24).

Así, los Escritos Cristianos cometen un grave error, cuando dicen: «POR QUE POR GRACIA SOIS SALVOS, POR MEDIO DE LA FE; y esto no de vosotros, pues es don de Dios; NO POR OBRAS, PARA QUE NADIE SE GLORÍE» (Efesios 2:8-9). Es que el Creador no solamente no tiene problema alguno con que sus siervos se gloríen de haberle servido y obedecido, sino que esta es precisamente la recompensa deparada para su Pueblo (es decir, para todos los creyentes). Como esta escrito: «En Yah será justificada y SE GLORiará toda la descendencia de Israel» (Isaías 45:25).

Any time someone says “Jews control the news media”, he/she immediately is accused of being anti-Semitic, Nazi racists. But did you know that Israeli Media outlets openly admit that among themselves? On July 1, 2012, The Times of Israel published an essay by Huffington Post blogger Elad Nehorai titled, “Jews DO Control the Media”

Practice confession and obedience, and peace of soul you will soon experience!

To learn all the good things that Judaism, Samaritanism, Christianity, and Islam can teach us about God is certainly a wonderful experience. But the Hebrew Scriptures teach that, being omnipotent, the Creator [blessed be he] does not really need the help of any heavenly being, any human being, nor any religious institution, in order to hear the prayer of the man who has gone astray from the path of obedience, thus forgiving the sin of the latter, and freeing him from destruction.

The only thing that the Creator requires is that the heart of such a man be contrite, humbled, and repentant. As it is written: “The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; You will not despise a contrite and humiliated heart [denying to it your forgiveness], O God... Perhaps the house of Judah will hear all the evil that I plan to do them, and each one will repent of his evil way, and I will forgive their wickedness and their sin... If my people, upon whom my name is called, humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive his sin, and will heal their land»-Psalm 51: 7, Jeremiah 36: 3, 2 Chronicles 7:14.

And why does God require sincere and voluntary repentance? Well, because, although omnipotent, the Creator is not a religious dictator, nor is he a religious tyrant. The Holy One is instead a God who generously provides man with a free will; a free will that the Creator respects. How? Letting man decide for himself if he wants to obey the Creator's commandments [something that, by nature, leads to blessing], or if he prefers instead to disobey him [something that, by nature, leads to a curse].

As it is written: “Carefully keep the commandments of יהוה your God, and his testimonies and his statutes which he has commanded you. And do what is right and good in the sight of יהוה, that it may go well with you... Behold, I set before you today the blessing and the curse: the blessing, if you obey the commandments of יהוה your God, which I command you today, and the curse, if ye obey not the commandments of יהוה your God, and turn aside from the way which I command you this day... I call heaven and earth as witnesses against you today that I have set before you life and death, blessing and curse. Choose life so that you and your descendants may live”- Deuteronomy 6:17-19, 11:26-28, & 30:19.

And whence do we know יהוה does not need any human or heavenly being, in order to forgive, deliver, and redeem His people? We know it from the Scripture that goes on to say: «I יהוה; This is my name; And I will not give My glory to another... Call unto Me [not Michael, Gabriel, or Jesus], and I will answer you... Thus says יהוה, King of Israel, “I am the first (because I have no father), and I am the last (because I have no son), and besides me, there is no God (because I have no brother)”... See now that I am I, and there are no gods with me (in other words, there is no one within me literally sharing my deity)... because I am God, and not man (so I do not need the help of anyone or anything, in order to hear the prayer of my People, or save them from evil)... Behold, I am יהוה, God of all flesh; Will there be something that is difficult for me?... I am the Almighty God...»- Isaiah 42:8, Jeremiah 33:3, Isaiah 4:6, Deut. 32:39, Hosea 11:9, Jeremiah 32:27, Genesis 17:1.

May peace and blessing be upon every honest and sincere man who, regardless of his race or creed, humbly [and joyfully] receives the good news of forgiveness that the Divine Law freely offers to every repentant heart! And may the Creator have mercy on those who, stubbornly persisting in their vain rebellion, refuse to abandon the depressing lie of believing that their forgiveness [and therefore their salvation] is in the hands of some flesh and bones creature (Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, Joseph Smith, Ellen G. White, Charles Taze Russell, William Marrion Branham, etc). Amen.

Who is God's true Israel? the Jews? the Samaritans? the Christians? The Muslims?

Who is God's true Israel? The Jews? The Samaritans? The Christians? The Muslims? Well, the Book of Psalms goes on to say: “God is indeed good to Israel [to which Israel?...], to the pure in heart”- Psalm 73:1, Christian Standard Bible.

Thus, God's own Israel is comprised of those having a pure heart; no matter if they be Egyptians [like Josephs' wife], Midianites [like Jethro], Canaanites [like Rahab], Moabites [like Ruth], Hethites [like Uriah], or Syrians [like Naaman].

And how can a non Hebrew person purify his heart? By willingly embracing God's Law; in other words, by departing from evil, in order to start living by what God had commanded thru Moses [upon the two stone tablets]. As is written:

“How can a young man keep his way pure? By keeping your Word... I have kept my feet from every evil path to follow your Word... How long will you refuse to keep my commands and instructions?

...

... Pursue good and not evil so that you may live, and the Lord, the God of Armies, will be with you... Seek the Lord, all you humble of the earth, who carry out what He commands. Seek righteousness, seek humility... the humble will inherit the [promised] Land and will enjoy abundant prosperity...

... Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land...

... Turn away from evil, do what is good... I, the Lord, examine the mind, I test the heart to give to each according to his way, according to what his actions deserve...

... As you have done, it will be done to you; what you deserve will return on your own head...

... Didn't your father eat and drink and administer justice and righteousness? Then it went well with him? He took up the case of the poor and needy; then it went well. Is this not what it means to know me?...

- Psalm 119:9, Psalm 119:101, Exodus 16:18, Amos 5:14, Zephaniah 2:3, Psalm 37:11, Isaiah 1:16-19, Psalm 37:27, Jeremiah 17:10, Obadiah 1:15, Jeremiah 22:15-16 (Christian Standard Bible)

¿Cual es el problema con que la Noble Fe Nazarena este dividida en un incontable número de sectas?

Estimado hermano y amigo, el santo evangelio cita al Nazareno [paz y bendición sean siempre con él] enseñando que “una casa dividida contra sí misma, no puede permanecer en pie” (“Todo reino dividido contra sí mismo, es assolado; y UNA CASA DIVIDIDA CONTRA SÍ MISMA, CAE”- Lucas 11:17)...

Del mismo modo, un pueblo Cristiano dividido en 1000 sectas distintas [luchando cada una de ellas por la hegemonía], no puede permanecer en pie, siendo un fidedigno ejemplo de amor y unidad-- una unidad que el mismo Nazareno afirma ser la prueba máxima de la validez de su mensaje. Como esta escrito: “Para QUE TODOS ELLOS SEAN UNO; como tú, oh Padre, en mí, y yo en ti, QUE TAMBIÉN ELLOS SEAN UNO en nosotros; PARA QUE EL MUNDO CREA QUE TU ME ENVIASTE”- Juan 17:21.

Es que, cuando el pueblo Cristiano se divide en tan grande número de SECTAS DISTINTAS Y ANTAGÓNICAS ENTRE SÍ [“hablando” cada una de ellas una “lengua” (o “teología”) distinta], deja de reflejar al Pueblo Santo que, renunciando a su ego, se somete humildemente al Creador. En cambio, refleja al Pueblo rebelde y altivo-- aquel pueblo que, pretendiendo exaltarse a sí mismo, fue castigado con la humillación de no poder entenderse a sí mismo (la confusión de su lenguaje).

Como esta escrito: “AHORA, PUES, DESCENDAMOS, Y CONFUNDAMOS ALLÍ SU LENGUA, PARA QUE NINGUNO ENTIENDA EL HABLA DE SU COMPAÑERO. ASÍ LOS ESPARCIÓ הוּדָה DESDE ALLÍ SOBRE LA FAZ DE TODA LA TIERRA...”- Génesis 11:7-8). ¡Que el Creador tenga misericordia de nuestros hermanos Cristianos, así como del Mundo entero! Amen.

«The man without wisdom will end up blindly following another man of flesh and blood (Jesus, Muhammad, the Baal Shem Tov, Joseph Smith-- may peace and blessings be upon them)-- But a wise man refuses to place a blind trust upon any flawed human being («Thus saith the Lord; “Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm...”»- Jeremiah 17:5); Preferring instead to follow the values and moral principles that are pleasing to the Creator (truthfulness, fidelity, justice, mercy, humility, etc), no matter who chooses to represent them. As is written: “But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord, which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the Earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord- Jeremiah 9:24, KJB»

Do humans have access to a simple and reliable source of objective truth?

The teachings of Reformed Samaritanism claim “The Heavens” (meaning the whole of Creation) to be the source of objective truth-- a truth that can properly be considered to be “God's word”. And Hebrew Scripture seems to agree, when it goes on to say: “Quicken me after thy lovingkindness; so shall I keep the testimony of thy mouth. For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven”- Psalm 119:88-89, KJB.

In other words, by means of observable nature, the Almighty communicates [directly and indirectly] all the objective truth we humans need. Consider the following example: Nature teaches that the proper way of sweeping a ladder clean is to start from the top, and then work our way down to the bottom. What does it mean? It means that, if we want to remove evil from any “ladder of power” (political, economical, scientific, ideological, and religious institutions), we ought to start from the very top (the leadership). We want to stop plastic contamination of the seas? Then we cannot start by “the bottom” (the end user), but must rather start by “the top” (the big chemical and plastic manufacturing corporations).

Consider another example: Is the Gay lifestyle a wise way of conducting ourselves? Or is it instead bad? What does the Divine book of nature has to say about it? Well, suppose you find yourself out in the woods, and suddenly run into a man walking backward [following the lead of his “rear end”]-- then, when you ask him why is he walking that way, he claims that following such alternate style of motion feels much more natural to him [and therefore, much more comfortable].

On top of the latter [and totally disregarding the obvious physical risk implied in walking backward over uneven territory], he claims to consider it both empowering and liberating.

What would you think of such individual? Would you consider him to be a prudent, mature, and sound minded person? Or would you instead hesitate to do so?

In fact, we find that Hebrew Scripture sticks to the wisdom displayed by nature’s book of wisdom, when it goes on to say that the eyes of the wise are in his head [not in his genitals, nor his rear end!]. As it is written: “The wise man's eyes are in his head...”- Ecclesiastes 2:14, KJB.

And concerning the prudence of avoiding clear and present dangers, it goes on to say: “A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished”- Proverbs 22:3, KJB. Finally as for the Holy One disapproval of the Man who let’s his “rear end” be his guiding principle (or “lifestyle”), the Law teaches it using a subtle allegory. How? By failing to include “bottom feeders” and “backward moving animals” (crabs, shrimps, lobsters, octopus, etc) within the list of pure animals!

May God’s peace be upon you!

God's own path to peace, victory, and life everlasting

Can you imagine a remote alien planet inhabited by creatures that consider manure-eating worms to be the greatest form of existence? Wouldn't you consider such creatures to suffer from a grave lack of wisdom and knowledge? But notice how manure-eating worms are not as far removed from human beings, as finite human beings are removed from the infinite God responsible for framing time, space, matter, energy, dimensions, the laws of physics, and all other forms of existence.

In fact, Hebrew Scripture quotes the Almighty comparing the people of Israel [whom many consider to be the greatest of all humans] to a lowly worm, as it is written: "Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith the Lord, and thy redeemer, the Holy One of Israel"- Isaiah 41:14.

Curiously, billions of human beings consider an Israelite man ("a worm of Israel" named Jesus of Nazareth) to be the greatest form of existence (God himself!). In addition, billions more expect that, once the Creator has restored all things back to perfection, we will continue to exist inside human bodies made out of flesh and blood.

Thus, in a very real sense, we are like the alien planet mentioned above-- a World inhabited by creatures considering lowly worms to be the greatest form of existence. And, though we strive to obey the Almighty [thereby becoming God's own people], the fact that we still are so obsessed with pleasing [and venerating] men of flesh and blood is a clear indicator that we too suffer from a grave lack of wisdom and knowledge.

As it is written: «My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge... Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help... Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of?... Thus saith the Lord; "Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart [thereby] departeth from the Lord"»- Hosea 4:6, Psalm 146:3, Isaiah 2:22, Jeremiah 17:5.

What then must we humans do? Well, instead of trying to please [and imitate] other flawed human beings, we should strive to please the Almighty. How? By imitating His holy character ("... Ye shall be holy: for I the Lord your God am holy"- Leviticus 19:2). In other words, by spending every day striving to practice the moral values practiced and cherished by God himself.

As it has been said: «Thus saith the Lord, "Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: But let him that glorieth glory in this, 'that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth': for in these things I delight, saith the Lord"»- Jeremiah 9:23-24

Could Jesus take our place? Did he literally obey each and every one of the commandments comprising God's Law?

Christianity is an awesome religion! But Christian theology claims Jesus [peace and blessings be upon him] is our only hope for salvation, as he was [allegedly] the only man who could perfectly [and completely] obey God's Law. Whence we get that, though sincere and well intended, the former claim is false, misleading and self serving?

We get it from the fact that Jesus is depicted as openly encouraging his disciples to follow his personal example-- refusing to obey the Law that commanded them to swear by God's name ("Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and serve him, AND SHALT SWEAR BY HIS NAME... Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God; Him shalt thou serve, and TO HIM SHALT THOU CLEAVE, AND SWEAR BY HIS NAME”- Deuteronomy 6:13, & 10:20- King James Bible). As it is written: “But I SAY UNTO YOU, SWEAR NOT AT ALL...”- Matthew 5:34. And the New Testament hints at the fact that the former infraction against God’s Law, was carried on by Jesus own disciples, as it is written: “BUT ABOVE ALL THINGS, MY BRETHREN, SWEAR NOT...”- James 5:12

La triste y vengonzosa pedantería teológica que a menudo se manifiesta en las páginas del Nuevo testamento

El Nuevo Testamento cita la apostol apóstol Pablo (paz sea con el) afirmando que, cuando Abraham engendró a Isaac, su cuerpo estaba “como muerto”, siendo de casi cien años de edad. Como esta escrito: “Y no se debilitó en la fe al considerar su cuerpo, que estaba ya COMO MUERTO (siendo de casi cien años...)”- Romanos 4:19.

Para el creyente Cristiano, el anterior pasaje es la infalible e incuestionable palabra de Dios. Pero, para el creyente Hebreo, es prueba de que hay cosas en los Evangelios que, aunque aparentar ser la infalible Palabra de Dios, realmente son la glorificada pedantería de sus autores.

Es que, la Escritura Hebrea, desmiente lo dicho por Pablo. ¿Cual dice la Ley que era la verdadera condición del cuerpo de Abraham? ¿Sería acaso cierto que su cuerpo estaba “como muerto”? Para contestar apropiadamente esta pregunta, primero debemos considerar los siguientes hechos:

- 1) La Escritura dice que Abraham era diez años mayor que Sara (“¿A hombre de cien años ha de nacer hijo? ¿Y Sara, ya de noventa años, ha de concebir?”- Génesis 17:17).
- 2) La Escritura dice que Sara murió a los 127 años (“Fue la vida de Sara, 127 años”- Génesis 23:1)
- 3) Finalmente, la Escritura dice que [después de la muerte de Sara], Abraham se casa con una mujer llamada Cetura, con la cual engendra seis hijos mas (“Abraham tomo otra mujer, cuyo nombre era Cetura, la cual le dio a luz a Zimram, Jocsán, Medán, Madián, Isbac, y Súa”- Génesis 25:1-2.

Note que, si Abraham era diez años mayor que Sara, entonces tenia 137 años al momento de su muerte. Y si luego Abraham tuvo seis hijos con Cetura, significa que su cuerpo tenia suficiente vida [y virilidad] como para continuar engendrando hijos hasta los 143.

Pero, ¿no dice Pablo que, el cuerpo de Abraham estaba “como muerto”, a los cien años de edad? ¿Como puede un cuerpo que esta muerto a los cien años, engendrar seis hijos a los 143? ¿Cual de los dos miente? ¿Miente la Ley? ¿O Miente el Evangelio?

Obviamente, si la Escritura Hebrea dice una cosa, y el Evangelio dice otra, entonces es el Evangelio el que miente; pues, aún el mismo Jesús reconocía que la Escritura Hebrea no puede ser cuestionada ni quebrantada (“y la Escritura no puede ser quebrantada” – Juan 10:35.

Es nuestra sincera oración que el Creador (bendito sea) tenga misericordia de nuestros amados hermanos cristianos.

Was Jesus a wicked man, or was he instead righteous? Is Jesus suffering in hell, or is he instead enjoying Paradise?

Our dear brother and sisters, standard Christian theology claims humans are born with an original sin; one that predestines us to physical death, as well as everlasting torment in hell. But it also claims that, being free from any original sin, Jesus of Nazareth (may peace and blessings be upon him) willingly took our place. Thus, Christian logic forces us to conclude that, though himself a perfectly righteous man, Jesus ended up being condemned to to eternal torment in hell.

Yet, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the former theology is [at best] grossly misleading. Why? Because, although flawed and imperfect (“Why do you call me good?” Jesus asked him. “No one is good except God alone”– Mark 10:18, Christian Standard Bible), the gospel clearly indicates that Jesus of Nazareth (may peace and blessing be upon him) was a God fearing man (“But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God... But go to my brothers and tell them that I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God”– John 8:40, & 20:17)-- a righteous man who preached God's simple and self evident truth.

Why must God's truth be simple and self evident? Because the Creator is morally perfect (“The Rock—His work is perfect; all his ways are just. A faithful God, without bias, he is righteous and true”– Deut. 32:4), and therefore doesn't play the role of an unjust dictator [who demands perfection from His imperfect creatures], neither does He play the role of a religious tyrant who enjoys torturing us with the cruel game of making Himself difficult to find (“This command that I give you today is certainly not too difficult or beyond your reach... it will be called the Holy Way. The unclean will not travel on it, but it will be for the one who walks the path. Fools will not wander [getting lost] on it”– Deut. 30:11, & Isaiah 35:8).

Unfortunately, since Jesus left the task of recording the minutia of his personal ministry into the hands of third party individuals, this left a door wide open for his message to be corrupted and diluted by the many additions and/or alterations to be made by future N.T. writers (Luke, Mark, Paul, etc).

Still, though seriously corrupted with outrageous demands for perfect obedience and theological perfection, enough clarity remained within the pages of the N.T. for the honest believer to still be able to find God's truth.

What is such truth? That we must repent from our evil doings, and start loving the invisible Creator (“Listen, Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one. Love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your strength– Deut. 6:4-5).

How do we show our love for the invisible God? Well, by showing love to His visible creatures! And such love becomes a natural part of our character whenever we submit to the moral compass [and guidance] provided by what was commanded upon the two stone tablets (do not lie, do not steal, do not murder, do not covet, etc).

As it is written: «No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all perish as well... From then on Jesus began to preach, “Repent, because the kingdom of heaven has come near”... If anyone says, “I love God,” and yet hates his brother or sister, he is a liar. For the person who does not love his brother or sister whom he has seen cannot love God whom he has not seen»- Luke 13:3, Matthew 4:17, 1 John 4:20. And it also says: “... whatever you want others to do for you, do also the same for them, for this is the Law and the Prophets”- Matthew 7:12.

And it also says: «For this is what love for God is: to keep his commands. And his commands are not a burden... The one who says, “I have come to know him,” and yet doesn’t keep his commands, is a liar, and the truth is not in him»- 1 John 5:3, & 2:4.

The former truth is the very reason why Jesus bears public witness to the fact that submission to God’s commandments is the safe and sure path to everlasting life: «... If you want to enter into life [everlasting], keep the commandments” “Which ones?”... “Do not murder; do not commit adultery; do not steal; do not bear false witness; honor your father and your mother; and love your neighbor as yourself”»- Matthew 19:17-19.

Thus, to have faith in Jesus actually means to believe God’s will is that we commit ourselves to keeping God’s ten commandments («This calls for endurance from the saints, who keep God’s commands and their faith in Jesus... When all has been heard, the conclusion of the matter is this: fear God and keep his commands, because this is for all humanity... Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said unto him, What is written in the Law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live”- Revelation 14:12, Ecclesiastes 12:13, Luke 10:2-28).

But why must we renounce to evil, and engage in the struggle to sow the goodness outlined by God’s commandments? Simply because God’s judgment will be according to our works, so that we will be forced to reap the same goodness [or evil] we have willingly planted.

As it is written: “Do not judge, and you will not be judged. Do not condemn, and you will not be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven. Give, and it will be given to you; a good measure—pressed down, shaken together, and running over—will be poured into your lap. For with the measure you use, it will be measured back to you... Don’t be deceived: God is not mocked. For whatever a person sows he will also reap... Then the sea gave up the dead that were in it, and death and Hades gave up the dead that were in them; each one was judged according to their works... For the day of the Lord is near, [His judgment] against all the nations. As you have done, it will be done to you...”- Matthew 7:37-38, Galatians 6:7, Revelation 20:13, Obadiah 1:15.

And the former is also attested by the Hebrew Scripture that goes on to say: “and faithful love belongs to you, Lord. For you repay each according to his works... Therefore listen to me, you men of understanding. It is impossible for God to do wrong, and for the Almighty to act unjustly. For He repays a person according to his deeds, and he gives him what his conduct deserves. Indeed, it is true that God does not act wickedly and the Almighty does not pervert justice”- Psalm 62:12, Job 34:10-12.

God’s foremost will for the believer is that he commits himself with doing what is good and right; not that he blindly worship any human personality

The implicit message of God’s Law had little to do with having faith in any future human King, Messiah, or prophet. Rather, it was an exhortation to do what is good and right in the eyes of the Holy

One. As it is written: “Ye shall diligently keep the commandments of the LORD your God, and His testimonies, and His statutes, which He hath commanded thee. And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the LORD; that it may be well with thee...”- Deut. 6:17-18, JPS 1917 Edition.

And the former is such an undeniable truth, that both David [who was claimed to be the greatest of all kings], Jesus [who was claimed to be the greatest of all Messiahs], and Muhammad [who was claimed to be the greatest of all prophets] bear witness of it:

(1) In the book of Psalms, David goes on to say: “Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore [in everlasting life]”- Psalm 37:27 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

(2) In the gospel, Jesus goes on to say: “Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets”- Matthew 7:12.

(3) In the Muslim Sunnah, Muhammad goes on to say: “None of you will have faith until he loves for his brother what he loves for himself”- Sahih al-Bukhari 13 (Authentic Hadith), narrated by Anas Bin Malik.

El Adventismo es bueno, ¡pero cuidado con su teología!

La religión Adventista es un camino perfectamente valido para servir al Creador. Desafortunadamente, siendo el producto de los escritos [y las enseñanzas] de una mujer cuya discapacidad le impidió completar siquiera la educación primaria, la teología adventista a menudo se muestra un tanto incoherente, así como débil, y superficial.

Consideremos un ejemplo: ¿Puede una mujer casta serle fiel [a la misma vez] a tres personas distintas? No estaría con ello cometiendo inmunda fornicación? Del mismo modo, cuando la profeta Elena G. De White (que en paz descance) enseñaba que la iglesia Adventista estaba desposada con un Dios consistente de tres personas distintas (Padre, Hijo, y Espíritu Santo), no solamente violaba lo ordenado en 1 Timoteo 2:11-14 y 1 Corintios 14:34 (“PORQUE NO PERMITO A LA MUJER ENSEÑAR, NI EJERCER DOMINIO SOBRE EL HOMBRE, SINO ESTAR EN SILENCIO...”), sino que en adición enseñaba a la iglesia a cometer fornicación espiritual.

Y esto último convertía a la Sra de White en la Jezabel espiritual de la cual advierte el libro de Revelación, cuando dice: “Pero tengo unas pocas cosas contra ti: que TOLERAS QUE ESA MUJER JEZABEL, QUE SE DICE PROFETISA, ENSEÑE Y SEDUZCA A MIS SIERVOS A FORNICAR... Y le he dado tiempo para que se arrepienta, pero no quiere arrepentirse de su fornicación”- Apocalipsis 2:20-21. ¡Que la paz sea con vosotros!

Are angels like robots, not having the capability to do as they see fit?

Hebrew Scripture states the following: «And he showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to accuse him. And the LORD said unto Satan: “The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan, yea, the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee; is not this man a brand plucked out of the fire?”. Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel»- Zechariah 3:1-3, JPS 1917 Edition.

Many good and sincere believers embrace the well-intended (yet grossly misguided) idea that angels have no free will. In addition, they claim that, since Ha Satan is also an angel, the evil done by him isn't the result of any rebellion, but rather of his faithful obedience to the Almighty; who has placed him in a sort of “prosecutor” position-- one whose job is to oppose and/or accuse the man who wishes to do the will of the Heavenly father.

But, if by opposing and/or accusing godly men [like Joshua the High Priest] Satan is doing God's will, why would the angel of God rebuke him saying, “The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan, yea, the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee”?

The fact is that, just as it happens with humans, so is with angels-- they both have free will, as well as self initiative (or “freedom of action”). And that's why Hebrew Scripture goes to the extreme of suggesting that, not only do heavenly beings have free will, but God even asks their input, before doing anything significant. As is written:

«I saw the LORD sitting on His throne, and all the host of heaven standing by Him on His right hand and on his left. And the LORD said: “Who shall entice Ahab, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead?” And one said: On this manner; and another said: On that manner. And there came forth the spirit, and stood before the LORD, and said: I will entice him. And the LORD said unto him: Wherewith? And he said: I will go forth, and will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And He said: Thou shalt entice him, and shalt prevail also; go forth, and do so»- 1 Kings 22:19-22, JPS 1917 Edition.

But, if Scripture is so clear when it comes to the issue of angels [and spirits] having free will, why do people often get so confused? Well the reason might have to do with the fact that many believers do not completely understand the distinction between two terms included in the Hebrew Scripture: (1) “Ha-Satan” (a Hebrew verb meaning is “to oppose”, or “to accuse”), and (2) “Ha-Satan” (an evil spirit often portrayed as opposing both the word as well as the will of God).

Notice that the operation of the first “Ha-Satan” (the verb) is in line with God's perfect will for the believer. Why? Because he is commanded to “oppose” the wicked (“They that forsake the Law praise the wicked: but such as keep the Law contend with them”- Proverbs 28:4, KJB).

On the other hand, the operation of the second Ha-Satan (the evil spirit that manifests whenever someone opposes the will of God) isn't the result of Gods perfect will, but rather of His “permissive” will. And the latter case is similar to that of a wise and loving father who, by “tolerating” His son's rebellion, shows the greatness of his love and compassion (“Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him”- Psalm 103:13, KJB).

Whence we get that Ha-Satan (the spirit) is God's son? We get it from the fact that the latter is allowed to be part of the gathering of God's own children (“Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them”- Job 1:6, KJV).

And whence we get Satan is compared to a disobedient son-- one who opposes the words of his Father? We get it from the fact that, while the Heavenly Father claims Job to be a perfectly righteous person (“And the Lord said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?”- Job 1:8), Ha-Satan goes on to oppose Him, claiming Job is rather selfish, as his service to God stands from the material gain he earns from it (“Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, ‘Doth Job fear God for nought? Hast not thou made an hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath on every side? thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land’”- Job 1:9-10).

Finally, whence we get that, though imperfect, Ha-Satan (the spirit) also fears the Heavenly father? We get it from the fact that, though daring to [morally] oppose Him, Satan dared not to go past the limit imposed by the Almighty (“And the Lord said unto Satan, ‘Behold, all that he hath is in thy power; only upon himself put not forth thine hand’”- Job 1:12).

Flee from any ideology [or doctrine] that puts you at odds with what has been revealed by God’s Law!

What God has commanded upon His holy Law, is the objective [moral] truth; a truth that can make us wise (“Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy Law is the truth... Thou through thy commandments hast made me wiser than mine enemies: for they are ever with me... Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people”- Psalm 119:142 & 98, Deut. 4:6).

Therefore, whenever a man renounces to God’s Law [in order to follow any prophet other than Moses], he thereby renounces to objective truth, and will end-up becoming so disconnected from reality, that he’ll no longer be able to tell apart light from darkness; facts from wishful thinking; right from wrong; the voice of God, from the voice of Satan; truth from deception; pure from impure; man from woman; gay from straight, etc.

And that's why Hebrew Scripture goes on to say: “But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments... The Lord shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart... And thou shalt grope at noonday, as the blind gropeth in darkness...”- Deut. 28:15, 28, & 29.

Thus, we must flee from any ideology and/or doctrine that exalts foolishness, placing us at odds with what God has commanded Moses upon the two stone tablets.

“Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart... In whose eyes a vile person is contemned; but he honoureth them that fear the Lord”- Psalm 15:1-4, KJB. Flee from any ideology [or doctrine] that puts you at odds with what has been revealed by God’s Law!

Reformed Samaritanism teaches the equality of all peoples. In other words, that all righteous people are equally worthy of praise, recognition, and imitation; no matter if they happen to be Jews or Gentiles; Blacks or Whites; Americans, Russians, or Chinese... Likewise, vile people are equally unworthy of praise, recognition, or imitation; no matter if they happen to be Jews or Gentiles; Blacks or Whites; Americans, Russians, or Chinese

Reformed Samaritanism “Kasher” (or “Law compliant”) version of the Christian gospel

Hebrew scripture states that God’s blessing is achieved by turning away from evil, and pursuing instead the goodness commanded upon the two stone tablets. As is written:

“Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell [in safety] for evermore” (Psalm 37:27, K.J.B); “Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man” (Ecclesiastes 12:13, K.J.B.);

“Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so יהוה (the Lord), the God of hosts, shall be with you” (Amos 5:14);

“Thus speaketh יהוה (the Lord) of hosts, saying, Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother: And oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart” (Zechariah 7:9-10, K.J.B.);

“Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of יהוה (the Lord) your God; and יהוה (the Lord) will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you” (Jeremiah 26:13, K.J.B.);

“Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. Come now, and let us reason together, saith יהוה (the Lord): though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the Land”- (Isaiah 1:17-19, K.J.B.)

But, if God’s favor is the result of doing the works of kindness that please Him, how come the Christian writings quote Paul stating that such a thing cannot be accepted? As is written:

“Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the Law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ... not by the works of the Law: for by the works of the Law shall no flesh be justified... for if righteousness come by the Law, then Christ is dead in vain”- Galatians 2:16&21, K.J.B.

In order to address the former dilemma, we must consider the fact that neither Peter nor the rest of the apostles [who physically walked with Jesus for several years] were able to properly understand Jesus original message. For example, although the latter intended the gospel to be preached unto every creature, it took several years [as well as a divine revelation, according to Acts 11:5] for all of them to realize that Gentiles would also be included in God’s plan of salvation («When they heard this they became quiet, and they glorified God, saying, “Then even to the Gentiles God has granted repentance leading to life!”»- Acts 11:18, Tree Of Life Version).

Thus, it stands to reason that, if those who physically knew the Nazarene couldn't grasp the full scope of his message, how much less would Paul [who never had any physical contact with Jesus] be able to do so?

In truth, Paul was a great man of God. But Paul was only human; And, as it is the case with any great human being, Paul had to struggle with a big ego. In other words, Paul's view of Jesus would come to reflect the apostle's personal desire for glory and personal recognition.

Thus, unlike what is taught in the Hebrew Scripture, Paul's depiction of Jesus is that of a God whose message to mankind isn't a call to renounce ego and self exaltation [embracing instead goodness, truth, justice, and humility]; but rather a call to embrace the cult of human personality [giving all glory, all praise, and all recognition to the man of flesh and blood who died in the cross].

What did Jesus message really entailed? His message entailed a universal call to repentance (“From that time Jesus began to preach and to say, Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens is at hand”- Matthew 4:17, Jubilee Bible 2000), a call to selfless service (“If I then, the Lord and the Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example that ye should do as I have done to you”- John 13:14-15), and a promise unto all men [no matter their race or creed] that such lifestyle would be rewarded by the Almighty with resurrection into everlasting life (“Then shall the King say unto those on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world; for I was hungry, and ye gave me food; I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me in; naked, and ye clothed me; I was sick, and ye visited me; I was in prison, and ye came unto me”- Matthew 25:34-36).

Thus, the “Kasher” (or “Law compliant”) version of the Christian gospel could be roughly summarized as follows: “If you choose to embrace the life of repentance and service that Jesus himself modeled, just as Jesus was raised from the grave [into everlasting life], so too will you be raised one day from the grave [into everlasting life]”. As is written:

“Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that does good is of God, but he that does evil has not seen God... Little children, let no one deceive you; he that does righteousness is righteous, even as he also is righteous... In this the sons of God are manifest, and the sons of the devil: whosoever does not righteousness and that loves not his brother is not of God”- 3 John 1:11, 1 John 3:7, & 1 John 3:7 (Jubilee Bible 2000).

To blindly believe in Jesus? How come? Not even Christians totally believe in Him!

Often, you'll run into a sincere Christian believers who will bluntly ask you: “Why don't yo believe in Jesus? Why don't you place the 100% of your trust in Him?”. What's the catch? The catch is that “the devil is in the details”. You see, believing in Jesus is awesome... but it can also be a tricky thing.

Truth be told, not even sincere Christians believe 100% in Jesus, as they all [unconsciously] “pick and choose” what part of Jesus message they feel comfortable with (and bring fancy excuses to justify discarding the part they don't feel comfortable with).

For example, how many Christians really believe Jesus, when he ask them to do all things according to what the [Jewish] Pharisees command? (“The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat. All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do”- Matthew 23:2-3). When was the last time you saw a Christian asking the Jewish pharisees of his community what was it that they wanted from him?

Another example: how many evangelical Christians place all their trust in Jesus, when he tells them that, if they want to get everlasting life, they must obey God's [ten] commandments ("... But if thou wilt enter into [everlasting] life, keep the commandments"- Matthew 19:17)? Obviously, no evangelical christian will believe the latter words of Jesus, as they contradict the words of Paul's ("... for if righteousness come by the [commandments of the] Law, then Christ is dead in vain"- Galatians 2:21).

Of course, Christians will try to explain Jesus earlier words in light of Paul's latter words (and not the other way around); which only goes to prove that Christians ultimate trust isn't Jesus, but rather Paul. As a last example, how many Christians really believe in Jesus, when he tells them that he has a God [and therefore cannot be himself be a God]. As is written; "... I ascend unto My Father and your Father, and to My God and your God"- John 20:17).

Again, no Christian really believes what Jesus says here about himself. Why? Because his words contradict the former words of John, who had said that Jesus was equal to God (and therefore had no need of having a God). As is written: "In the beginning was the Word [Jesus]... and the Word [Jesus] was God"- John 1:1.

And this proves [again] that Christian don't really trust Jesus, but rather Jesus interpreters (John, Paul, Peter, etc).

Was Jesus an alien?

"... AND, LO, THE STAR, WHICH THEY SAW IN THE EAST, WENT BEFORE THEM, TILL IT CAME AND STOOD OVER WHERE THE YOUNG CHILD WAS. WHEN THEY SAW THE STAR, THEY REJOICED WITH EXCEEDING GREAT JOY"- MATTHEW 2:9-10, KING JAMES BIBLE
The holy gospel is emotionally overpowering, yet it's theological conclusions are little more than glorified wishful thinking. Consider the verse just quoted above: No mature adult would ever believe that a star could actually move around, and hover over a specific person's location.

In fact, if a member of our modern society were to witness such a thing (an unknown brilliant object flying upon the skies, and suddenly hovering over a specific geographic place) we wouldn't hesitate to describe such scenario as a UFO encounter.

Likewise, if [on top of the former UFO encounter] we find an honest and sincere woman being pregnant without remembering any previous intercourse, we would examine the remote possibility of her being the unsuspecting victim of an UFO abduction, where she was forced to [unknowingly] participate in some sort of advanced alien (in-vitro??) fertilization experiment.

Of course, all of the former could be used to theorize the possibility of Jesus being neither a god, nor a man, but rather a member of an advanced Alien race-- one so wise, convincing, and powerful, that in the eyes of first century people was nothing less than the human manifestation of the Divine (and therefore, worthy of blind worship and veneration).

Confesión y obediencia, traen paz a la conciencia!

Aprender todo lo bueno que acerca de Dios enseñan tanto el Judaísmo, como el Samaritanism, el Cristianismo, y el Islam, es ciertamente maravilloso. Pero la Escritura Hebrea enseña que, siendo omnipotente, el Creador [bendito sea] en realidad no necesita la ayuda de ningún ser celestial, de ningún ser humano, ni de ninguna instituciones religiosa, a fin de escuchar la oración del hombre que se ha descarriado del camino de la obediencia, perdonando así el pecado de este último, y librándole de la destrucción.

Lo único que el Creador requiere, es que el corazón de tal hombre se encuentre contrito, humillado, y arrepentido.

Como esta escrito: «Los sacrificios de Dios son el espíritu quebrantado; al corazón contrito y humillado no despreciarás tú [negándole tu perdón], oh Dios... Quizá oiga la casa de Judá todo el mal que yo pienso hacerles, y se arrepienta cada uno de su mal camino, y yo perdonaré su maldad y su pecado... Si se humillare mi pueblo, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y oraren, y buscaren mi rostro, y se convirtieren de sus malos caminos; entonces yo oiré desde los cielos, y perdonaré sus pecados, y sanaré su tierra»- Salmo 51:7, Jeremías 36:3, 2 Crónicas 7:14.

¿Y porque requiere Dios el sincero y voluntario arrepentimiento? Pues porque, aunque omnipotente, el Creador no es un dictador religioso, ni tampoco es un Tirano religioso. El Santo, es en cambio un Dios que provee generosamente al hombre de un libre albedrío; un libre albedrío que el Creador respeta. ¿Como? Pues dejando que sea el mismo hombre quien decida si quiere obedecer los mandamientos del Creador [algo que, por naturaleza, conduce a la bendición], o si prefiere en cambio desobedecerle [algo que, por naturaleza, conduce a la maldición].

Como esta escrito: “Guardad cuidadosamente los mandamientos de יהוה' vuestro Dios, y sus testimonios y sus estatutos que te ha mandado. Y haz lo recto y bueno ante los ojos de יהוה', para que te vaya bien... He aquí yo pongo hoy delante de vosotros la bendición y la maldición: la bendición, si oyereis los mandamientos de יהוה' vuestro Dios, que yo os prescribo hoy, y la maldición, si no oyereis los mandamientos de יהוה' vuestro Dios, y os apartareis del camino que yo os ordeno hoy”- Deuteronomio 6:17-19, 11:26-28.

¿Y de donde sabemos que יהוה' no necesita de ningún ser humano ni celestial, a fin de perdonar, librar, y redimir a su pueblo? Pues lo sabemos de la Escritura que dice:

«YO יהוה'; este es mi nombre; Y a otro no daré mi gloria... clama a mí [no a Miguel, a Gabriel, ni a Jesús], y yo te responderé... Así dice יהוה', Rey de Israel... “Yo soy el primero (porque no tengo padre), y yo soy el postrero (porque no tengo hijo), y Fuera de mí, no hay Dios (porque no tengo hermano)”... Ved ahora que Yo, Yo Soy, y no hay dioses conmigo (es decir, no hay dentro de mi nadie que literalmente comparta mi deidad)... porque Dios soy, y no hombre (así que no necesito la ayuda de nada ni nadie, a fin de escuchar la oración de mi Pueblo, o salvarles del mal)... He aquí que yo soy יהוה', Dios de toda carne; ¿Habrá algo que sea difícil para mí?... Yo soy el Dios Todopoderoso...»- Isaías 42:8, Jeremías 33:3, Isaías 4:6, Deut. 32:39, Oseas 11:9, Jeremías 32:27, Génesis 17:1.

¡Que la paz y la bendición sean sobre todo hombre honesto y sincero que, sin importar su raza ni su credo, recibe humildemente [y con alegría] las buenas nuevas del perdón que a todo corazón arrepentido ofrece libre y gratuitamente la Ley Divina.

Y que el Creador tenga misericordia de aquellos que, obstinándose en su vana rebeldía, rehúsan abandonar la deprimente mentira de creer que su perdón [y por ende, su salvación] esta en manos de algún ser de carne y sangre (Moisés, Jesus, Muhammad, José Smith, Elena G. De White, Charles Taze Russell, William Marrion Branham, etc). Amén.

Is Christianity the right path for simple minded people?

Christianity is a valid religion. But it is the faith of he who, in spite of being well intended, still is a single minded person. In what sense is he single minded? In that he fails to see the small details that will end up making the Big difference. Consider the following [theoretical] example: A man stands before two other men; one is a Christians believer, and the other is a Hebrew believer. The first man pulls out of his pocket a $40,000 Rolex, and then claims to be a member of the Saudi Royal family. The Christian man feels inclined to believe him, but the Hebrew man rejects the claim. When the Christian ask him to explain his disbelief, the Hebrew person replies that he noticed the hands of the [alleged] Rolex owner had many signs of old cuts and bruises, as if he had done rough manual labor for a long time [something a member of the incredibly wealthy Saudi royalty would never do!]. Similarly, when a Christian stands before a Hebrew believer, and quotes him a N. T. verse claiming the Law is over, as it was but a temporary aid aimed at preparing the stage for a far greater [and permanent] revelation, the Hebrew man refuses to believe such a claim.

And when asked him to explain his disbelief, the latter points out the fact that God went unto incredible lengths in order to make sure Israelites had no doubt obeying the Law was the Divine will for their lives-- God made sure a column of fire guided them on their way towards Mount Sinai; He showed them Thunders and lightning; He let them witness the whole mountain shaking, as well as a gigantic fire burning on top of the Mount; He let the whole nation hear a loud horn, as well as a Divine voice talking [in real time] to Moses; He personally wrote the Law [with his own fingers] upon two stone tablets for all to see; He opened the Earth so that it would swallow Korah [as well as all of whom would oppose Moses Law], etc.

And it makes no sense that God would perform such an awesome NATIONAL REVELATION in order to validate the lesser [and temporary] revelation, but not care to perform an equally impressive NATIONAL REVELATION in order to validate what Christians claim to be the far greater [and permanent] revelation.

Does the former mean Christian believers will be prevented from entering into “Olam ha’ba” (the World to Come)? Does it mean Christianity is a false religion? Of course not! It only means Christian theology isn’t fit for the wise and mature believer.

In fact, one of the reasons why God allows Christian theology to exist, is to provide a suitable [spiritual] path for those who, lacking the wisdom and maturity that comes from knowing God’s Law, retain a child-like mindset («In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, “I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight”»- Luke 10:21, KJV)

If Christianity isn't God's true faith, then why is it the largest of all religions?

Christianity is in fact a wonderful religion, full of repentance, good deeds, and enthusiasm. But, if we are brutally honest, we would be forced to acknowledge that, Christian theology, is little more than wishful thinking- a religious mirage, based on the hyped cult towards the great human personality of the man named “Jesus”; a state of willful ignorance, where the believer abdicates his intellect, in order to satisfy his psychological urge to exalt [and thereby glorify] the image of his human [and therefore flawed] idol.

And, the means to achieve his goal, lays in his willful submission to the string of vain conjectures [as well as twisted theological speculations] he finds himself forced to assume, while trying to turn the gospel's shady [and often incoherent] claims concerning Jesus, into absolute [and therefore unquestionable] religious dogma.

And this is the reason why the Hebrew scripture foretold of the day when the [Christian] nations of the world will come to Israel, and acknowledge the fraud of their religious inheritance. As it is written: «O Lord my strength, my fortress, my refuge in the day of affliction, THE GENTILES SHALL COME UNTO THEE FROM THE ENDS OF THE EARTH, AND SHALL SAY- “SURELY OUR FATHERS

HAVE INHERITED LIES, VANITY, AND THINGS WHEREIN THERE IS NO PROFIT. Shall man make gods unto himself...?" (in other words, shall a wise man believe that the Creator is a man, just like himself?)»- Jeremiah 16:19.

And when the gentile nations acknowledge the vanity of their religious ideas, they'll come to the Hebrew people, in order to learn God's truth. As it is written: «AND MANY [GENTILE] NATIONS SHALL COME, AND SAY, "COME, AND LET US GO UP TO THE MOUNTAIN OF THE LORD, AND TO THE HOUSE OF THE GOD OF JACOB; AND HE WILL TEACH US OF HIS WAYS, AND WE WILL WALK IN HIS PATHS"; FOR THE LAW [NOT THE GOSPEL] SHALL GO FORTH OF ZION, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem»- Micah 4:2.

In addition, the Scripture foretells that the gentiles will not only start following the Hebrew faith, but will even start to observe the Hebrew holidays. As it is written: «Thus said the Lord of Hosts- In those days IT SHALL COME TO PASS THAT TEN [GENTILE] MEN WILL TAKE HOLD OUT OF ALL LANGUAGES OF THE NATIONS, EVEN SHALL TAKE HOLD OF THE SKIRT OF HIM THAT IS A JEW (A HEBREW BELIEVER), SAYING, "WE WILL GO WITH YOU; FOR WE HAVE HEARD THAT GOD IS WITH YOU"»- Zechariah 9:23.

And also in another place: «And it shall come to pass that, FROM ONE NEW MOON TO ANOTHER, AND FROM ONE SABBATH TO ANOTHER, SHALL ALL FLESH COME TO WORSHIP BEFORE ME, SAITH THE LORD»- Isaiah 66:23.

And elsewhere: «And it shall come to pass that EVERY ONE THAT IS LEFT OF ALL THE NATIONS which came against Jerusalem SHALL EVEN GO UP FROM YEAR TO YEAR to worship the King, the Lord of Host, and TO KEEP THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES. And it shall be that whose will not come up of all the families of the Earth unto Jerusalem, to worship the King, the Lord of Hosts, even upon them shall be no rain... This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishments of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of Tabernacles»- Zechariah 14:16-19.

But, if it is indeed true that Christian theology is so mistaken, why doesn't the whole World follow the Hebrew faith? Why would the Creator allow Christianity to have 2 billion followers? And why would He allow Islam to have 1.6 billion followers?

The answer to this question is quite simple- In the first place, the Creator knows that absolute power can corrupt even the best human leader [so God doesn't want the Jewish leadership to control the vast majority of mankind, lest the excessive power end up corrupting them].

Secondly; in addition to the existence of the Hebrew faith, God actually wants the existence of both Islam and Christianity, as their existence causes each of the three religions to compete [in terms of good deeds] against one another. And this is the sort of competition that actually pleases the Creator!

Christianity is good, but at the same time it is disconcertingly contradictory, and ambiguous

Christian theology not only contains unnerving contradictions, but is also suspiciously ambiguous. And why is the latter bad? Because it prevents the believer from feeling the peace [and tranquility] that results from being certain that we are obeying the Almighty ("Great peace have those who love your Law, and there is no stumbling block for them"- Psalm 119:165).

You see, on the one hand, the Gospel is good; for it calls men to sincere repentance (without which there is no salvation, according to the same gospel). As it is written: «I tell you: "No; before, if you do not repent, you will all perish equally"»- Luke 13:3. But, on the other hand, evangelical theology is bad, because it is so saturated with falsehoods that even demons promote it. As it is written:

«This [demon possessed woman], following Paul and us, cried out, saying: "These men are servants of the Most High God, who announce to you the way of salvation"»- Acts 16:17.

Note that while the gospel account records the demon-possessed woman testifying to the [alleged] truthfulness of the gospel, the gospel itself affirms that there is no truthfulness whatsoever in the devil! (“...He [the demon] has been a murderer from the beginning, and has not abided in the truth, because there is no truth in him...”- John 8:44).

May the peace and guidance of the God who loves the truth («These are the things you must do:“ Speak the truth each one with his neighbor... »»- Zechariah 8:16) be with you!

The New testament’s hidden political agenda

History tells us that the final selection of the books comprising the Christian Canon (the New Testament) was actually in the hands of a Pagan politician: Constantine, the Roman Emperor [who didn’t formally convert to Christianity until he found himself at his deathbed].

Thus, as it happens with the content of any shrewd politician’s discourse, the content of the New testament was intentionally selected to be ambiguous, and contradictory. Why? So that the leadership hiding behind it could make it a tool for their politically convenient game of “Monday morning quarterbacking”.

In other words, so that the document’s content couldn’t be used to curtail the power, judgment, opinions, and range of action of the currently ruling Authority (“Let everyone submit to the [Roman] governing authorities, since there is no authority except from God, and the [Roman] authorities that exist are instituted by God. So then, the one who resists the [Roman] authority is opposing God’s command, and those who oppose it will bring judgment on themselves”- Romans 3:1-2, Christian Standard Bible).

Thus, since the New testament’s hidden political nature makes it so hopelessly ambiguous and contradictory, we shouldn’t be surprised to find that, no matter how hard they try, those engaged in it’s honest study cannot avoid reaching similarly ambiguous and contradictory conclusions. Consider the following examples:

(1a) The New Testament’s message is good, as it preaches repentance and good deeds («From then on Jesus began to preach, “Repent, because the kingdom of heaven has come near”... Instead, I preached to those in Damascus first, and to those in Jerusalem and in all the region of Judea, and to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do works worthy of repentance»- Matthew 4:17, Acts 26:20, Standard Christian Bible).

(1b) The New Testament is bad, as it preaches “salvation by grace” [without the need of doing any good works] something that discourages people from committing to repentance and good deeds («This is the message of faith that we proclaim: “If you confess with your mouth, ‘Jesus is Lord’, and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved [no need for good deeds or repentance!]”... For you are saved by grace through faith, and this is not from yourselves; it is God’s gift— not from works, so that no one can boast...”- Romans 10:9, Ephesians 2:8-9, Christian Standard Bible)

(2a) The New Testament is good, as it encourages people to become wise and mature (“for I will give you such words and a wisdom that none of your adversaries will be able to resist or contradict... Now if any of you lacks wisdom, he should ask God—who gives to all generously and ungrudgingly—and it will be given to him... Brothers and sisters, don’t be childish in your thinking, but be infants in regard to evil and adult in your thinking”- Luke 21:15, James 1:5, 1 Corinthians 14:20)

(2b) The New Testament is bad, as it discourages people from becoming wise and mature («At that time Jesus said, “I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from the wise and intelligent and revealed them to infants”... For it is written, “I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and I will set aside the intelligence of the intelligent”... For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God, since it is written, “He catches the wise in their craftiness”... For since, in God’s wisdom, the world did not know God through wisdom, God was pleased to save those who believe through the foolishness of what is preached... God has chosen what is foolish in the world to shame the wise...»- Matthew 11:25, 1 Corinthians 1:19, 1 Corinthians 3:19, 1 Corinthians 1:21, 1 Corinthians 1:27).

It is Reformed Samaritans prayer that the Holy One [blessed be He] may grant mercy, wisdom, and guidance to our beloved Christian brothers and sisters. Amen.

Those who follow lying vanities forsake God’s freely available mercy!

Hebrew Scripture states that God wants no sacrifice for sin, but rather a contrite heart that confess his wickedness. As it is written: “For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise... For I will declare mine iniquity; I will be sorry for my sin... I acknowledge my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin”- Psalms 51:16-17, 38:18, & 32:5.

Curiously, any stern and morally flawed human father has no problem with freely forgiving his penitent children. Yet, when a man believes in a lying vanity, he no longer believes that his merciful [and morally perfect] Divine father can freely forgive His penitent children. As it has been said: “They that observe lying vanities forsake their own mercy”- Jonah 2:8.

But the fact is that Hebrew Scripture does picture God as a human father, freely forgiving His imperfect child (“... and I [The Lord] will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him”- Malachi 3:17, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

What are some of the lying vanities that prevent a man from remembering that the Heavenly Father can freely forgive His penitent children? Some of them are the following: (1) To claim that no man can be forgiven unless he also believes Jesus to be God in the flesh; (2) To assert that no one can be forgiven unless he also believes Muhammad to be the greatest of all prophets; (3) To posit that no man can be saved unless he also believes Joseph Smith, Ellen G White, Charles Taze Russell, or William Marrion Branham is God’s final messengers.

Modern atheism- the oxymoron’s tendency to be scientifically strict, but morally negligent

In old times, people used to say: “Show me what you brag about, and I’ll show you what you lack”. And when we examine our modern atheist movement, we find that this old adage is still as relevant as ever before. Why? For starters, most modern atheists love to brag about the greatness of their logical reasoning. They scorn the religious person, and label him as a shameless ignorant [or as being “intellectually lazy”].

The Modern atheists brags about how “water tight” is his thought process; how disciplined and “water tight” is his logic. He claims to follow nothing but scientifically proven facts, leaving no room for conjecture, and “wishful thinking”.

Yet, in spite of all his claims, the overwhelming majority of our “super-rational” atheists see no scientific problem with endorsing [among many other things] the validity of the openly gay lifestyle; a lifestyle in which people justify their odd behavior by using handfuls of “scientifically shady” arguments (like “people don’t choose to be gay, but are rather born like that”), as well as plenty of “wishful thinking” arguments (for example, “I’m a woman, trapped inside a man’s body!”). In short, modern day atheist feel no shame in displaying a blatant lack of intellectual honesty. How so? Simply by pretending to be stern (and scientifically strict), when it comes to the possibility of God’s existence (a possibility that would demand a dignified and morally disciplined lifestyle); while being forgiving (and scientifically negligent), when it comes to the homosexual life style [an undisciplined and morally questionable behavior].

And this lack of intellectual honesty might explain why is it that we never hear people saying: “Oh! My son is much more caring and obedient, since he became an atheist”; Or “My neighbor has turned around and, since he became an atheist, he has become the best neighbor I’ve ever had”; Or, “All my marital problems have disappeared, since my husband became an atheist”. Why is this so? Because, as once said by G.K. Chesterton, “When people cease to believe in God, they don’t believe in nothing; they believe in anything!”.

In other words, no matter how smart a man thinks he is, once he turns away from God, he lost his moral compass, and therefore can no longer tell apart good from evil [nor “fact” from “wishful thinking”]. And the Hebrew Scriptures bear witness to the same principle, when they go on to say: “They that forsake the Law [of God] praise the wicked: but such as keep the Law [of God], contend with them”- Proverbs 28:4 (BRG Bible)

Despising God’s Law is to provoke the Almighty!

Hebrew Scripture teaches that, to claim [as Christian theology does] that there’s no profit in keeping God’s Law, is to provoke the Almighty (a dangerous delusion!). As it is written: «Your words against me have been violent, says יהוה. And you said: “What have we spoken against you?” You have said: “It is useless to serve God. What profit is it that we keep His Law...?””- Malachi 3:13-14. But the fact is that even the Christian writers were forced to admit that he who refuses to do the works commanded upon the two stone tablets is a liar, and doesn’t know God. As it is written: “He that saith, I know Him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him”- John 2:4. And elsewhere also says, «But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead? Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar? Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect? And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, “Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness”: and he was called the Friend of God. Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only”- James 2:19-24

Though well intended, the Christian gospel is little more than theological fanfare

Dear brothers, the gospel is well intended, as well as emotionally uplifting. Yet, if we are brutally honest, we would have to concede that most claims made by the holy gospel are little more than theological fanfare— engineered ambiguity, craftily exploiting the ignorance and naive credulity of the average reader.

And the text on John 1:11 could serve as a good example of how tricky and deceptive can gospel theology be. You see, while on the one hand we are told that the Jews didn’t embrace Jesus as their king (“He came unto his own, and his own received him not”- John 1:11); on the other hand we are told the completely opposite-- that, while the Jews embraced the Nazarene [wanting to make him their own king], it was Jesus himself [and not the Jews] who refused to be accepted (“Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, ‘This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world’. When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain...”– John 6:14-15).

And, when it comes to assessing gospel theology, we find that the former contradiction isn’t the exception, but rather the norm— In other words, just as we would expect from any shrewd [and deceptive] politician, the gospel will both affirm and deny all major theological tenets (God’s oneness, the superiority of Moses prophecy, the election of Israel, the immutability of the Law, obedience to God’s Law, Sabbath observance, the law of sowing and reaping, life after death, the judgment of the souls, etc.)

May the Almighty grant mercy, understanding, and guidance to our dear Christian brothers and sisters!

¿Un hombre atrapado dentro del cuerpo de una mujer?

A menos que no exista una clara condición medica [como lo podría ser una rara condición genética], creer que se es un hombre atrapado dentro del cuerpo de una mujer es a menudo el producto de las locuras [es decir, del orgullo y el extravío] deparadas para aquellos que, conscientes de haber abandonado la Ley del Creador, se entregan voluntariamente a la adoración de las cosas creadas-- cosas físicas y materiales tales el cuerpo y la personalidad humana.

Como esta escrito: “Pero acontecerá, si no oyes la voz de יהוה tu Dios, para procurar cumplir todos sus mandamientos y sus estatutos que yo te intimo hoy.... El Señor te herirá con locura, ceguera [mental], y turbación de espíritu...”- Deut. 28:15& 28.

Y como tambien dicen los escritos cristianos:

“Profesando ser sabios, se hicieron necios, y cambiaron la gloria del Dios incorruptible en semejanza de imagen de hombre corruptible, de aves, de cuadrúpedos y de reptiles.

Por lo cual también Dios los entregó a la inmundicia, en las concupiscencias de sus corazones, de modo que deshonraron entre sí sus propios cuerpos, ya que cambiaron la verdad de Dios por la mentira, honrando y dando culto a las criaturas antes que al Creador, el cual es bendito por los siglos. Amén.

Por esto Dios los entregó a pasiones vergonzosas; pues aun sus mujeres cambiaron el uso natural por el que es contra naturaleza, y de igual modo también los hombres, dejando el uso natural de la mujer, se encendieron en su lascivia unos con otros, cometiendo hechos vergonzosos hombres con hombres, y recibiendo en sí mismos la retribución debida a su extravío”- Romanos 1:22-27 (Reina Valera, 1960). ¡Paz sea con vosotros!

Ashkenazi Jews best argumentation trick

As it happens with any other religion, there are good Jews, and there are bad Jews. Unfortunately [as most Jews are secular] good Jews are the exception, rather than the norm. And when a bad Jew promotes some sort of evil (deception, pornography, usury, homosexuality, atheism, social unrest, etc) and a man of character has the courage to confront him with such evil, he (most likely an Ashkenazi Jew) will quickly turn the attacker’s charges back on him, so that the attacker now becomes the liar, the troublemaker, and the terrorist.

Nothing could be more mistaken than to defend oneself! That is just what the Jew wants. He can invent a new lie every day for his perceived enemy to respond to, and the result is that the opponent spends so much time defending himself, that he has no time to do what the Ashkenazi Jew really fears: to take practical steps against him, so that he can no longer promote such evil.

Consider a few examples: Is it evil for Ashkenazi Jews to forcefully grab Palestinian lands? Yes? Then don't argue with the Ashkenazi Jews! Rather, make sure you don't spend one single penny on any product coming out of those occupied lands.

Are the Ashkenazi Jews using mass social media [like C&N, G-gle and F-book] for the promotion of atheism, political correctness, and cultural Marxism? Don't argue with them! Just [permanently] close your social media accounts.

Are Hollywood Jews openly promoting the Homosexual agenda? Don't argue with them! Rather, choose not to spend a single penny watching any gay-friendly Hollywood movie, and seek a good lawyer [who can do a nice "last will" helping you keep your homosexual offspring out of your testament].

Do you think Jews are exercising an arbitrary and unfair monopoly of "The Old Testament" religion? Don't argue with them! Just take from it whatever it is you like, without asking anyone's permission; tell everybody that you are NOT Jewish, but at the same time let your beard grow, learn the Hebrew alphabet, rest during the Sabbath day, stop eating pork and shell fish, go outdoors wearing fringes, purchase your own skull cap, etc.

Worship Jesus? Worship no being of flesh-and-bones!

While it is perfectly acceptable for Reformed Samaritans to love "the Spirit" (the awesome moral teachings) ascribed to great religious figures like Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, or Baal Shem Tov (may peace and blessings be upon them all), it would be morally wrong to turn these great men into idols. How? By worshiping their "flesh" [in other words, their flawed human personalities]. And why would it be wrong to do so? Because there's no real greatness, without great humility; Therefore, no real man of God would accept human flattery, as he would clearly know that, the exaltation of "the flesh" [which happens to be flawed and perishable] profits nothing; As Jesus himself wisely taught, when went on to say: "The Spirit is the one who gives life. THE FLESH DOESN'T HELP AT ALL..." (John 6:63 Christian Standard Bible). And also says elsewhere: "I DO NOT ACCEPT GLORY FROM PEOPLE" (John 5:41). Besides, it is living the Torah-based morality spelled by these great messengers [and not accepting the questionable interpretations made by their subsequent followers] what really counts...

If your faith in Jesus fails to turn you into an honest and truthful person, then your faith is vain

If your faith in Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) fails to make you a truthful and honest believer [calling "good" what יהוה himself calls "good", and calling "evil" what יהוה calls "evil"] your faith in Jesus will avail you nothing, as you will not be able to escape God's judgment.

Whence we know? We know it from the Christian account of Ananias and Sapphira (Acts chapter 5). For though they had both accepted Jesus as their personal savior [and were in the very process of giving charity to their needy fellow believers], their lack of honesty so much angered the Almighty that He struck them dead. As is written:

«But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession, And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet. But Peter said, "Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land? Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God". And Ananias hearing these words fell down, and gave up the ghost... And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in. And Peter answered unto her, "Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much?" And she said, "Yea, for so much". Then Peter said unto her, "How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out". Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband».

¿Son los activistas LGBT un tipo de cavernícolas morales?

Una broma muy popular entre los miembros de cierta tribu Africana dice de la siguiente manera: "¿En que sentido son el cavernícola y el activista LGBT similares? Pues en que el cavernícola se dedica a pensar, siempre que esta solo en su oscura cueva; Y, de igual modo, el activista LGBT siempre se dedica a pensar solo en su oscura cueva".

La realidad es que, aunque sumamente incómoda , la anterior broma no solamente contiene cierto grado de verdad, sino que hasta incluye algo de la Sabiduría Divina revelada por nuestro maestro Moises. ¿Y de donde lo sabemos? Pues lo sabemos a partir del hecho de que la Ley muestra que los ultimos sobrevivientes de Sodoma (Lot y sus hijas), terminaron viviendo precisamente en una cueva ("Pero Lot subió de Zoar y moró en el monte... y habitó en una cueva él y sus dos hijas"- Génesis 19:30).

¡Hay mas!... tal y como un cavernícola no se avergonzaría de la aberración que implica "comer la carne" de los suyos (canibalismo alimenticio), de ese mismo modo las hijas de Lot no se avergonzaron de la aberración que fue "comer la carne" de su propio padre (canibalismo moral)-- "Y dieron a beber vino [con engaño] a su padre también aquella noche, y [cuando le hubieron embriagado] se levantó la menor, y durmió con él [tal y como habia hecho anteriormente la mayor]; pero él no echó de ver cuándo se acostó ella, ni cuándo se levantó. Y las dos hijas de Lot concibieron de su padre"- Genesis 19:35-36.

Some Quick Facts about Reformed Samaritanism ...

- (1) Reformed Samaritanism is to believe that the God of Abraham (יהוה) is the one and only God, who wants us to follow the 10 commandments given to our master Moses, while considering everything else to be optional commentary.
- (2) Talmud, Gospel, Koran, etc, are such optional commentary. And whatever part of them presents God as a morally perfect being who wants us to repent, depart from evil, and start obeying His commandments, comes from God
- (3) Each person achieves salvation (and everlasting life) by means of sincere repentance; and by "sowing" upon his fellow human beings [who suffer], the same justice, mercy, and goodness one day he would wish to "reap" for himself
- (4) Reformed Samaritans believes God is a singularity [and not a multiplicity of beings]; the one and only infinite being which isn't contained within anything else; the God who gave Moses 10 Laws for the whole world to follow

(5) By means of Parables, God spoke to each nation according to their own language and culture: To the Hebrews, he sent Moses; to Arabs, he sent Muhammad; to Greek and Romans He sent Jesus, etc.

(6) The message of all true prophets has always been the same: obey the God who wants His children to repent from evil, starting to do the good that please Him- honor your parents, don't steal, lie, covet, nor murder, and always be honest & humble

(7) It doesn't matter which prophet you choose to follow [Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, etc], as long as your obedience to God's commandments yields "the good fruit" that pleases the Creator.

(8) The tree is known by it's fruit; good religion manifests itself in good thoughts, good words, and good actions. Why? Cause "we can't have God in our hearts, while having the Devil in our hands"

(9) No one is a true believer until he loves what God himself loves [a life of virtue and justice]; and hates what God himself hates [a life of injustice and immorality]

(10) God does not want our flattering words; rather, He wants us to praise him with our obedience, our sincerity, and our commitment with truth, justice, and righteousness

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

Moses warned that he who refuses to submit to God Law (it's 10 Commandments) will end up suffering madness and mental confusion. As is written: "The Lord will afflict you with madness, blindness, and mental confusion" (Deut. 28:28, Christian Standard Bible)

... Truth be told, Christianity is a perfectly valid path to serve the Creator. Yet, Christian theology often seems to be intellectually blind, as well as confusing. Consider the following: When is the gospel writer mentally confused? Is he confused when suggesting Christians not to submit to Jewish leadership-- as they represent the devil? ("You are of your father the devil, and you want to carry out your father's desires..." - John 8:44- Genesis 15:6, CSB); Or, is he instead confused when commanding submission to them-- as they represent Moses? ("The scribes and the Pharisees are seated in the chair of Moses. Therefore do whatever they tell you, and observe it"- Matthew 23:2-3, CSB)?

Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean sobre él) predicó que la salvación esta en obedecer los mandamientos

Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean sobre él) predicó que la salvación esta en obedecer los mandamientos plasmados por el dedo mismo de Dios sobre las dos tablas de piedra; y cuyo resumen no es otro sino demostrar nuestro amor al Dios invisible, por medio del amor a nuestro prójimo visible.

Como esta escrito: «Mas si quieres entrar en la vida, guarda los mandamientos. Le dijo: "¿Cuáles?" Y Jesús dijo: "No matarás. No adulterarás. No hurtarás. No dirás falso testimonio. Honra a tu padre y a tu madre; y, Amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo"... Y he aquí un intérprete de la Ley se levantó y dijo, para probarle: "Maestro, ¿haciendo qué cosa heredaré la vida eterna?" Él le dijo: "¿Qué está escrito en la ley? ¿Cómo lees?". Aquel, respondiendo, dijo: "Amarás al Señor tu Dios con todo tu corazón, y con toda tu alma, y con todas tus fuerzas, y con toda tu mente; y a tu prójimo como a ti mismo. Y le dijo: "Bien has respondido; haz esto, y vivirás... Así que, todas las cosas que queráis que los hombres hagan con vosotros, así también haced vosotros con ellos; porque esto es la ley y los profetas”»- Mateo 19:17-19, Lucas 10:25-28, & Mateo 7:12.

Pero, desafortunadamente, en su sincero [pero extraviado] deseo de ganar adeptos para su causa [haciendo de su contenido uno que fuese irresistiblemente apetecible] los escritores del Nuevo Testamento pervirtieron el mensaje original del Galileo, haciéndole uno independiente de la obediencia a los mandamientos, de suerte que el resultado fue un mensaje cuya teología esta plagada de serias inconsistencias, así como de graves contradicciones.

Sin la Ley de Dios, no hay sabiduría Divina

“Si te dicen que hay inteligencia entre aquellos que rehúsan seguir lo ordenado sobre la piedra, creelo; Pero si te dicen que hay sabiduría Divina entre ellos, no lo creas”

Estimados hermanos y amigos: nuestro maestro Moisés enseñó que los mandamientos de la Ley Divina son la sabiduría del creyente (“... porque esta es vuestra sabiduría y vuestra inteligencia ante los ojos de los pueblos ...”- Deut. 4:6).

Así que, el hombre que no guarda lo que ordena la Ley sobre las dos tablas de Piedra, es pequeño de entendimiento. Y, como el apóstol Pablo (paz sea con el) promovía entre los creyentes el completo abandono de la Ley (“Pero ahora estamos libres de la Ley... Al decir: Nuevo pacto, ha dado por viejo al primero; y lo que se da por viejo y se envejece, está próximo a desaparecer... Porque el pecado no se enseñoreará de vosotros; pues no estáis bajo la Ley, sino bajo la gracia... Romanos 7:6, Hebreos 8:13, Romanos 6:14, RV1960), pues el Creador hizo que Pablo tuviese que reconocer públicamente su pequeñez [a fin de que sirviese de advertencia a futuras generaciones de creyentes]. ¿Cuándo reconoció Pablo su pequeñez? Pues cuando escribió lo siguiente: “A mí, que soy menos que el más pequeño de todos los santos, me fue dada esta gracia de anunciar entre los gentiles el evangelio... Porque yo soy el más pequeño de los apóstoles, que no soy digno de ser llamado apóstol...”- Efesios 3:8, & 1 Cor. 15:9, R.V. 1960.

¡Que la paz sea con vosotros!

La Escritura Hebrea intima que, aunque fascinante y seductora, la teología cristiana es el producto de la iniquidad

La Escritura Hebrea afirma que los días del hombre son 70 años. Y, como máximo, son 80 años. Como esta escrito: «Los días de nuestra edad son setenta años...» (Salmo 90:10).

Pero La Escritura también afirma que los inicuos adulan y engañan a las masas, violando el pacto de Dios, y rehusando guardar los Diez mandamientos de la Ley Divina. De hecho, La Escritura Hebrea advierte que estos inicuos no llegaran a la mitad de sus días (es decir, no llegaran a cumplir los 40 años de edad).

En adición, nos dice que los inicuos serán forzados a descender al Hades (es decir, al pozo de la destrucción), como esta escrito:

«Extendió el inicuo sus manos... violó su pacto. los dichos de su boca son más blandos que mantequilla, pero guerra hay en su corazón; suaviza sus palabras más que el aceite, mas ellas son espadas desnudas... mas tú, oh Dios, harás descender aquéllos [inicuos] al pozo de perdición. los hombres sanguinarios y engañadores, no llegarán a la mitad de sus días...» (Salmo 55:20-23).

¿Son verdaderas las enseñanzas que a Jesús (paz sea con el) atribuyen los Escritos Cristianos? ¿O son el producto del engaño y la iniquidad de sus autores ? ¿Y como saberlo? ¡Pues muy sencillo! vera, el Salmo 55 advierte que, si las enseñanzas eran el producto de la adulación y el engaño, tenían que presentar a Jesús incitando a su audiencia a violar “Su Pacto” (el pacto de la Ley de Dios).

En adición, tenían que presentarle trayendo Guerra; tenían que presentarle Muriendo antes de los 40 años; y, finalmente, tenían que presentar al Nazareno DESCENDIENDO AL HADES. Según los escritos cristianos, ¿a que nos incita Jesús? ¿A guardar el pacto de la Ley? ¿O a rebelarnos contra ella?- «La Ley y los profetas eran hasta Juan...[en otras palabras, ¡pueden olvidarse de ella!]» (Lucas 16:16). ¿Que dicen los Escritos cristianos que trajeron las blandas y suaves palabras adscritas al Galileo? ¿Trajeron Paz? ¿O trajeron en cambio Guerra?- «¿Pensáis que he venido para dar Paz en la tierra? Os digo: No, sino disensión (¡Guerra!). Porque de aquí en adelante, cinco en una familia estarán divididos, tres contra dos, y dos contra tres» (Lucas 12:51-52).

¿A que edad dice el Evangelio que Murió Jesús? ¿Antes de los 40? ¿O después de los 40? La respuesta a esta ultima pregunta es que, aunque los escritos cristianos no lo indican explícitamente, se puede inferir que tenia unos 33 años de edad. ¿De donde lo inferimos? Pues combinando el hecho de que Jesús comenzó su ministerio a los 30 años de edad (Lucas 3:23), con el hecho de que, el numero de fiestas en las cuales participo [según mencionadas en los evangelios], intiman que su ministerio duro cerca de 3 años y medio.

Finalmente, confirman los escritos cristianos que Jesús hubiese descendido al pozo de destrucción (Hades)- «Varones hermanos, se os puede decir libremente del patriarca David, que murió y fue sepultado, y su sepulcro está con nosotros hasta el día de hoy.

Pero siendo profeta, y sabiendo que con juramento Dios le había jurado que de su descendencia, en cuanto a la carne, levantaría al Cristo para que se sentase en su trono, viéndolo antes, habló de la resurrección de Cristo, que su alma no fue dejada en el hades (es decir, que Jesús fue en efecto forzado a descender al Hades, solo que no fue dejado allí permanentemente)» (Hechos 2:29-31).

Así, tanto la Escritura Hebrea, como los Escritos cristianos, son contundentes en demostrar la naturaleza oculta de los dichos y las enseñadas que los autores evangélicos atribuyen al Maestro de Galilea (paz y bendición sean con el).

«Flee from self deception, as the former is the deepest form of moral corruption. Why? Simply because, once we start believing our own lies, all other moral aberrations can be easily justified»

Christianity’s grave mistake is failing to realize that God doesn’t demand perfection; that if a man cannot do God’s “perfect will”; doing God’s “permissive will” is equally acceptable

Thru the means of a curious metaphor, Hebrew Scripture teaches that, although there’s such a thing as “God’s perfect will”, the Creator will often accommodate to our human limitations, accepting instead that we do “His permissive will”. Consider the case of prophet Ezekiel-- God’s perfect will for him was to prepare food using dried human feces (“You [Ezekiel] will eat it as you would a barley cake and bake it over dried human excrement in their sight”- Ezekiel 4:12).

Yet, since Ezekiel couldn’t bring himself to do such a thing (“Oh, Lord God, I have never been defiled...”- Ezekiel 4:14), the Creator permitted him to do something slightly different (“Look, I will let you use cow dung instead of human excrement, and you can make your bread over that”- Ezekiel 4:15). And the former idea can be found all over Torah (God’s Law: that, though God would like things to be made in a certain way, He will instead make do with our best effort. Consider the following examples:

(1) God's perfect will was for Israelites to have no slaves ("They are not to be sold as slaves, because they are my servants that I brought out of the land of Egypt"- Leviticus 25:42); But He permitted Israelites to hold slaves as long as they were allowed to go free after just 6 years of service ("If your fellow Hebrew, a man or woman, is sold to you and serves you six years, you must set him free in the seventh year"- Deut. 15:12).

(2) God's perfect will was for the Israelites to celebrate Passover at a certain date of the year ("The Passover to the Lord comes in the first month, at twilight on the fourteenth day of the month"- Leviticus 23:5). Yet if they couldn't do it on that specific date, He permitted them to celebrate it one month later ("When any one of you or your descendants is unclean because of a corpse or is on a distant journey, he may still observe the Passover to the Lord. Such people are to observe it in the second month, on the fourteenth day at twilight"- Numbers 9:10-11)

(3) God perfect will was for male sons to inherit their father's estate (Deut. 21:15-17); but if no males existed, God permitted female daughters to inherit the estate (Numbers 27:6-11)

(4) God's perfect will was for Israelites to observe the Passover Feast in a state of ritual purity ("A large number of the people—many from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun—were ritually unclean, yet they had eaten the Passover contrary to what was written..."- 2 Chronicles 30:18); Yet, if the Israelites were not able to achieve such purity, God would permit them to celebrate it just as they were («But Hezekiah had interceded for them, saying, "May the good Lord provide atonement on behalf of whoever sets his whole heart on seeking God, the Lord, the God of his ancestors, even though not according to the purification rules of the sanctuary". So the Lord heard Hezekiah and healed the people»- 2 Chronicles 18:20).

And the former is Christianity's greatest fault; the failure to comprehend that God doesn't insist upon perfection-- that, instead of demanding that we stick to His perfect will, the Creator acts like a kind, patient, and merciful father, accepting that we do instead His permitted will (in other words, our best and most sincere effort).

Thus, though God's perfect will for us is to obey His Law, He doesn't insist upon perfection [as proclaimed by Christian theology]. So, if you can't perfectly obey the Law, and can only obey what was commanded upon the two stone tablets, the Heavenly Father will accept it with pleasure; If you cannot obey all ten commandments, but can only obey the laws concerning honoring your parents and observing Sabbath, then God will be pleased with that; If you cannot observe the Sabbath, and can only honor one of your parent (your father), then God will make do with that [crediting it to your account]. Whence do we know that honoring your father will be enough for you to be considered worthy of God's favor? We know it from Edom, whose only merit was to feed his father, and to spare him from unnecessary suffering. As is written: "Let my father get up and eat some of his son's game... The days of mourning for my father are approaching; then [and not before, in order to spare him from suffering] I will kill my brother Jacob"- Genesis 27:31&41).

And what was Edom's reward for honoring his father? He was blessed with so much wealth and strength that he was able to conquer the giants inhabiting Mount Seir (the Horites), thereby acquiring a country of his own! ("The Horites had previously lived in Seir, but the descendants of Esau drove them out, destroying them completely and settling in their place"- Deuteronomy 2:12).

God's religion brings peace, while man-made religion brings unrest

Being clear and straightforward, God's own religion brings peace into our minds, and rest unto our souls. As it is written: "Fear God, and keep his commandments (do not worship other gods, do not use God's name in vain, do not steal, do not lie, do not murder, do not deny rest to your employees, do not dishonor your parents, etc): for this is the whole duty of man... The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart"- Ecclesiastes 12:13, & Psalm 19:8 (King James Bible). But, being confusing and contradictory, man-made religion troubles our mind, and burdens our soul. Why is man-made religion purposely troublesome? Because, as the proverb goes, "Troubled waters are fisherman's gain!" ("And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men... The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble"- Mark 1:17, & Proverbs 4:19)

El grave error Adventista: Afirmar que los muertos que fueron dignos de heredar de la vida eterna, habrán de resucitar para vivir por siempre en cuerpos de carne y hueso

Estimados hermanos y amigos, aun si asumiésemos que tanto las Escrituras Hebreas como las Escrituras Cristianas son Divinamente inspiradas, el estudio sensato y objetivo de estas nos llevaría a concluir que, solamente aquellos pecadores que hallan sobrevivido los eventos finales, permanecerán vivos [en un cuerpo de carne y sangre] una vez que el Creador establezca su Reino sobre la Tierra. Y, hasta el mismo apóstol Pablo confiesa lo anterior, cuando enseña que, la regla para el creyente que ya ha fenecido, es no volver a existir jamás en un cuerpo material ("Se siembra [en la tumba] cuerpo animal, resucitará cuerpo espiritual..."- 1 Corintios 15:44).

¿Por que un cuerpo no material? Pues por que "la carne y la sangre no pueden heredar el Reino de Dios" ("Pero esto digo, hermanos: que la carne y la sangre no pueden heredar el reino de Dios"- 1 Corintios 15:50). Y todo esto ya había sido enseñado de antemano en la escritura Hebrea, cuando afirmaba que, quienes han muerto, nunca mas volverán a tener parte en "lo que se hace debajo el Sol" (es decir, en los procesos biológicos que suceden a quienes existen en cuerpos de carne y sangre). Como esta escrito: "También su amor y su odio y su envidia fenecieron ya; y nunca más tendrán parte en todo lo que se hace debajo del sol"- Eclesiastés 9:6.

Y lo anterior es la razón para que Jesus sea citado diciendo que, quienes alcancen la Vida Eterna, ya no tendrán necesidades biológicas, pues serán como los ángeles; quienes, siendo espíritus ministradores (Salmo 104:4), existen fuera de cuerpos físicos, y por ende no pueden morir. Como esta escrito: "Mas los que fueron tenidos por dignos de alcanzar aquel siglo y la resurrección de entre los muertos, ni se casan, ni se dan en casamiento. porque no pueden ya más morir, pues son iguales a los ángeles, y son hijos de Dios..."- Lucas 20:35-36.

Y esta casi demás decir que, si Dios es un Espíritu ("Dios es Espíritu..."- Juan 4:24), entonces Dios no tiene carne ni huesos ("... porque un espíritu no tiene carne ni huesos, como veis que yo tengo"- Lucas 24:39).

Y, si el Padre Celestial es un Espíritu sin carne ni huesos, pues obviamente sus hijos (es decir, tanto los ángeles como las personas que han de ser salvadas) tambien serán espíritus sin carne ni huesos.

"But the meek shall inherit the Land [that is, the Land comprising the World to come]..."- Psalm 37:11

No one is meeker than a toddler. But how can we explain that toddlers [whom are barely aware of their own existence, let alone theology or religion] will inherit everlasting life? The answer is quite simple. You see, toddlers are born with true religion, as they are honest, kind, and humble. Thus, he who is "like a toddler" is assured of being part of God's people, as well as having a share in His holy kingdom.

How are sins forgiven?

If God's Law (the Torah, the Prophets, and the Writings) states that forgiveness of sins comes through sincere repentance ("Perhaps the house of Judah will hear all the calamity that I am planning to do to them, in order that they may turn, each one from his evil way. Then I would forgive their iniquity and their sin... The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit. A broken and a contrite heart, O God, You will not despise."- Jeremiah 36: 3, & Psalm 51:19, Tree Of Life Bible); And then comes the Gospel and tries to refute the Law, claiming instead that forgiveness of sins doesn't come through sincere repentance, but rather through belief in Jesus ("that all who believe in him will receive forgiveness of sins through his name" - Acts 10:43); Then the disputation between Christians and Hebrew believers is finally settled; the case has been closed, and there's nothing else to discuss. Why? Because the truths revealed in the Law [the Hebrew Scripture] are final and irrevocable [since the Law cannot be abrogated or broken, according to Deuteronomy 4: 2]. And the gospel seems to agree with this, when it quotes Jesus saying the following: "... and the Scripture [the Law] cannot be broken" (John 10:35)

The gospel is morally true, but theologically false

The gospel is morally true, but theologically false. Why? Because it claims that, since the Christian bible states God made man in His own likeness ("So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him..."- Gen. 1:27), therefore God is also a man (Jesus of Nazareth). Why is this wrong? Because, had God made man in His own [literal] likeness, we wouldn't find king David uttering the following words: "As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I SHALL BE SATISFIED, WHEN I AWAKE, WITH THY LIKENESS"- Psalm 17:15. may peace be upon you!

Living in peace with our fellow creatures-- God's own Highway to Heaven

One of Reformed Samaritanism basic tenets is that both man and woman were created in God's own image ("SO GOD CREATED MAN IN HIS OWN IMAGE, in the image of God created he him; MALE AND FEMALE CREATED HE THEM"- Genesis 1:27).

Thus, we hold fast to the idea that, being the reflection of God's holy image, all human life is sacred [and must therefore be protected from unjustified suffering and harm]; and the latter remains true, no matter if such life is that of a Jew, or of a Gentile; the life of an Israeli, or of a Palestinian; the life of a grown up man, or that of a grown up woman; the life of a young healthy person, or the life of a sick and old person; the life of a smart and powerful European leader, or that of a dumb, weak and poor African commoner; the life of a newly born baby, or that of an unborn baby. As is written: "... I HAVE SET BEFORE YOU LIFE AND DEATH, blessing and cursing: THEREFORE, CHOOSE LIFE..."- Deut. 30:19.

Thus, regardless of their race or creed, the Holy One [blessed be He] wants all men to live in peace and harmony with one another, knowing that, whenever we destroy human life, we are in fact attempting against God's own image in the World.

And the former is the reason why, the very same day Hebrew authorities had to execute a person, they would spend the day on fasting; as if to imply that, just as fasting diminishes our flesh and blood, so does the execution of a human being [even if legally justified] diminish our humanity-- our God given image.

In fact, this living in peace with our fellow creatures is what bears witness that we already are "Children of God", and therefore are destined to inherit life everlasting. Whence we know? We know it from the verse that goes on to say, "BEHOLD, HOW GOOD AND HOW PLEASANT IT IS FOR BRETHREN TO DWELL TOGETHER IN UNITY!..." - Psalm 133:1. And what comes next?, "FOR THERE THE LORD COMMANDED THE BLESSING, EVEN LIFE FOR EVERMORE"- Psalm 133:3.

Finally, the fact that living in peace with our fellow creatures make us Children of God is such a paramount truth that, even Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) seems to have asserted it, when the gospel goes on to quote him saying, "BLESSED ARE THE PEACEMAKERS: FOR THEY SHALL BE CALLED THE CHILDREN OF GOD"- Matthew 5:9. May God's peace be upon you!

«Be careful not to follow the proud and rebellious lifestyle constantly being promoted by Western Liberals! Why? Cause Hebrew scripture give us a stern warning:

*"He that being often reprov'd hardeneth his neck shall suddenly be broken, and that without remedy"-
Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition»*

The Divine teachings of Reformed Samaritanism: God is more interested in your morality, than in your theology

Our dear Christian brothers claim that Jesus (may peace and blessing be upon him) was "a prophet like Moses". Thus, believers must strictly obey all the things he [allegedly] taught and commanded. As is written: «Repent ye therefore... And he shall send Jesus Christ, Whom the heaven must receive until the times of restitution... spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets... For Moses truly said unto the fathers, "A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you"»- Acts 3:19-22.

But Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, although sincere, the former is an extreme [and grossly misguided] interpretation. Why? Because Hebrew Scripture teaches that, in the eyes of the Holy One, following the morality commanded by His Ten Divine Laws (do not lie, do not murder, do not dishonor your parents...) is far more important than blind obedience to any prophet.

Whence we know? We know it from prophet Jeremiah, whom [by the word of God] commanded the Rechabites to drink wine-- something the latter refused, claiming that, by so doing, they would be dishonoring their father Rechab. And what was God's reply to the Rechabites behavior? He declared blessings upon them! As is written:

«And I [Jeremiah] set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, “Drink ye wine”. But they said, “We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, ‘Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons for ever... Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he hath charged us’ ”... And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, “Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; ‘Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you: Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel; Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever’ ”»- Jeremiah 35:5-6, 8, & 18-19

Reformed Samaritanism hidden Wisdom

“With the merciful, thou wilt shew thyself merciful; with an upright man, thou wilt shew thyself upright; with the pure, thou wilt shew thyself pure; and with the froward, thou wilt shew thyself froward”- Psalm 18:25-26, King James Bible

Hebrew Scripture teaches that your view of God will be a reflection of your own personality. Thus, If you are a shallow (weak minded) person who lust after power and recognition [demanding the unconditional submission of those surrounding you], it will then be only natural that your perception of the Creator be that of a God who likewise lusts after unconditional submission, power, and recognition of human beings.

But the latter would be grossly misleading, as God’s Law teaches that the Almighty doesn’t want our blind submission and/or obedience. Rather, He expects us to be sincere and honest with Him [whenever we feel that, what has been said or done in His name isn’t true, fair, or just].

As is written: «And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him, and said unto him, The Lord is with thee, thou mighty man of valour. And Gideon said unto him, “Oh my Lord, IF THE LORD BE WITH US, WHY THEN IS ALL THIS BEFALLEN US? AND WHERE BE ALL HIS MIRACLES WHICH OUR FATHERS TOLD US OF, SAYING, DID NOT THE LORD BRING US UP FROM EGYPT?...”»- Judges 6:12-13, KJV.

And it also says in another place: «And there were certain men, who were defiled by the dead body of a man, that they could not keep the Passover on that day: and they came before Moses and before Aaron on that day: And those men said unto him, “We are defiled by the dead body of a man: WHEREFORE ARE WE KEPT BACK, THAT WE MAY NOT OFFER AN OFFERING OF THE LORD IN HIS APPOINTED SEASON AMONG THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL?...”»- Numbers 9:5-7, KJV.

Finally, it says the following: «Then came the daughters of Zelophehad... And they stood before Moses... saying: “Our father died in the wilderness... and had no sons. WHY SHOULD THE NAME OF OUR FATHER BE DONE AWAY FROM AMONG HIS FAMILY, BECAUSE HE HATH NO SON? GIVE UNTO US THEREFORE A POSSESSION AMONG THE BRETHREN OF OUR FATHER”»- Numbers 27:1-4, KJV.

If you fear God, them you already are our brother!

We send warm greetings to all of our visitors, regardless of their race or creed. If you fear the God of Abraham (blessed be He), and strive to obey what was commanded by Him to Moses upon the Two Stone Tablets (the Ten Supreme “Laws”, or “Commandments”), then you already are our companion. As is written: “I am companion of all them that fear thee, and keep thy precepts”- Psalm 119:63 (1599 Geneva Bible). We pray for the content of this site to be a personal encouragement for the spiritual journey that still lies ahead. Peace be upon you!

The Divine Foundation of Reformed Samaritanism

Reformed Samaritanism postulates that, in the final analysis, the message of יהוה (the God of Abraham, blessed be He) is not only one of an ethical nature, but in addition is universal, as it is addressed to the entire human race. What is that message? Well, it is the following:

“Sow goodness, and turn away from all sort of immorality-- Renounce your pride, as well as the ego that seduces you to live as if the universe revolves around your own person [existing solely to satisfy your vain whims and wishes]. Live to serve your suffering neighbor, and let God’s love be the foundation of all your religious ideas-- a love that manifests itself in love for those created in the image and likeness of the Most High (in other words, make the habit of treating everybody with the same justice, mercy, humility, and consideration with which you would like others to treat you). As it is written: «Is it not that you break your bread with the hungry, and shelter the wandering poor at home; that when you see the naked, you cover him, and do not hide from your brother? Then your light will be born like the dawn, and your salvation will be seen soon; and your righteousness shall go before you, and the glory of יהוה shall be your rearguard. Then you will call, and יהוה will hear you; you will cry out, and he will say: “Here I am”. If you remove from your midst the yoke, the threatening finger, and the speaking of vanity; and if you give your bread to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul, in the darkness your light will be born, and your darkness will be like noon. יהוה will always shepherd you, and in droughts he will satisfy your soul, and give strength to your bones; and you will be like an irrigated garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters never fail. And yours will build the ancient ruins; you will build the foundations of generation and generation, and you will be called repairer of gates, restorer of roads to inhabit»- Isaiah 58:7-12.

God’s own religion is performance based

Hebrew Scripture portrays king Solomon as the wisest of all men. In fact, Solomon authored part of the Hebrew Scripture (the books of Proverbs and Ecclesiastes). Yet Scripture tells us that Solomon ended up bowing down to idols [thereby losing the kingdom the Almighty had bestowed upon him]. As is written: «When Solomon was old, his wives turned his heart away to follow other gods... Solomon followed Ashtoreth, the goddess of the Sidonians, and Milcom, the abhorrent idol of the Ammonites. Solomon did what was evil in יהוה (the Lord) sight... At that time, Solomon built a high place for Chemosh, the abhorrent idol of Moab, and for Milcom, the abhorrent idol of the Ammonites... יהוה (the Lord) was angry with Solomon, because his heart had turned away from the יהוה (the Lord), the God of Israel, who had appeared to him twice. He had commanded him about this... but Solomon did not do what יהוה (the Lord) had commanded»- 1 Kings 11:4-9, Christian Standard Bible.

Why are we given this piece of information? What does it mean? It means that, no matter if we are Jews, Christians, Muslims, Samaritans, or Zoroastrians, in the final analysis our theology will have very little to say about our relationship with the Holy One. Why? Because it is our actions (our “fruits”, or “performance”) what will tell where do we truly stand in relation to the Almighty.

Thus, our theology could indeed be the most accurate of all; but, if our lifestyle is vain, arrogant, and immoral, then our religious ideas are worthless.

Curiously, even the Christian writings bear witness of the former, when they teach that what really matters isn't what we say, but rather what we do. As is written: «What do you think? A man had two sons. He went to the first and said, 'My son, go work in the vineyard today.' "He answered, 'I don't want to,' but later he changed his mind and went. Then the man went to the other and said the same thing. 'I will, sir,' he answered, but he didn't go. Which of the two did his father's will?" They said, "The first."»- Matthew 21:28-29, Christian Standard Bible.

In fact, the Christian gospel also intimates that having good theology doesn't make you good.

Whence we know? From the fact that Satan [the paradigm of all wickedness] is depicted not only quoting the Word of God, but even demanding Jesus to comply with it!

As is written: «And [Satan] said to him [Jesus], "If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down. For it is written [on Psalm 91:11]: 'He will give his angels orders concerning you, and they will support you with their hands so that you will not strike your foot against a stone' »- Matthew 4:6, Christian Standard Bible.

Reformed Samaritanism

Hebrew Scripture teaches Edom is an allegorical portrait of Christianity

God's Law uses the person of Edom as an allegorical portray of future Christian believers. Whence do we know? We know from the fact that Scripture foretells the former would "live by his sword" ("You will live by your sword..."- Genesis 27:40); meaning Edom would "earn life" by the blood shed by someone else; just as Christians "earn life" (everlasting) by the blood shed by someone else (Jesus). And just as Edom saw nothing wrong with despising the word he had given unto his brother [whereby he made Jacob the legal firstborn Son], so do Christian believers despise the word of God given unto Israel [whereby the latter is made God's legal firstborn son, according to Exodus 4:22], making instead Jesus the new Firstborn son of God. Does this mean Christians will be prevented from entering Olam ha-ba [the world to come]? No! It only means that just as Edom's lust for material things made him depart the Holy land (symbol of a non physical Paradise), in order to seek for himself a separated country (Mount Seir, according to genesis 36:6-8), so will Christian stubbornness to reject the words of Gods' Law will prevent them from inheriting the promised (non-physical) paradise, receiving instead a physical inheritance

Hebrew Scripture's moral and mystical interpretation

Our dear brothers and sisters: Hebrew Scripture conveys just one simple message; one that is hinted at from it's very first verse [Genesis 1:1], and then keeps on repeating itself over and over again [in various and different forms, like parables, allegories, historical accounts, etc].

And that message is nothing that we can't sense by ourselves on our daily journey throughout our physical universe, as it is the message displayed all over nature.

What is such message?- It is the law of "sowing, and reaping"; "eye, for an eye", "action, and reaction"; "cause, and effect"; "what goes around, comes around", etc.

In other words, God's message to mankind is that, if we sow goodness, we will be allowed to reap goodness; that if we search for God, God will search for us; that if we abandon Him, he will abandon us; that if we forgive, we too will be forgiven.

And Hebrew tradition summarizes this message saying the following: “What is hateful to you, do not to your neighbor. That is the whole Torah; the rest is commentary. Go and study it”- Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 31a (Rabbi Hillel).

On the other hand, Christian literature does likewise, when it goes on to say: “Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the Law and the Prophets”- Matthew 7:12. But, how is the former message conveyed in Genesis 1:1? Very simple! You see, the Hebrew text of Genesis 1:1 reads as follows:

“Bereshit Bara Elohim et ha Shamaim...” (In Beginning God created the Heavens...). But since most Hebrew words have more than one valid meaning, any Hebrew speaking reader will immediately realize that the former verse can also be translated as: “With Beginning (in other words, with "principle", or with "head"), God created the heavens...”.

What does the verse mean? With what “principle” did God create the heavens? Well, ancient Hebrew people didn’t know the Sun was 93 million miles away from Earth.

Thus, whenever they raised their eyes toward the heavens, they wondered what mysterious principle allowed those two natural enemies (the fire of the sun, and the water of the clouds) to dwell together in harmony, without destroying one another. And they concluded that such principle must be that "heavens" is the place reserved for those who are loving enough to do likewise; living in harmony even with their natural enemies.

And the fact that this brotherly love brings everlasting life is also confirmed by the verse that goes on to say: “How delightfully good when brothers live together in harmony!...” (Psalm 133:1, Christian Standard Bible). And what comes immediately next?- “... For there the Lord has appointed the blessing - life forevermore” (Psalm 133:3). May peace be upon you!

Pagan is as pagan does!

The fact that something has a pagan origin doesn’t automatically make such a thing evil. Consider the example of the Persian king named «Cyrus»: Though we are nowhere told that Cyrus ever abandoned his Persian paganism, Isaiah 45:1 goes on to say: כֹּה-אָמַר יְהוָה, לְמֹשִׁיחוֹ לְכוֹרֶשׁ (Thus saith the Lord to His Messiah, to Cyrus...). Why is a pagan king called God’s Messiah? Because, though pagan, Cyrus would be doing God’s own bidding [Restoring Jerusalem’s temple!]. May peace be upon you!

« The instruments also of the churl are evil; he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor with lying words, and the needy when he speaketh right”- Isaiah 32:7 JPS, 1917 edition »

La blasfemia caricatura que, del carácter Divino, promueve la teología Cristiana

“¿Será el hombre más justo que Dios? ¿Será el varón más limpio que el que lo hizo?”- Job 4:17...

La realidad es que, por medio de su llamado al arrepentimiento y a la vida de santidad, la noble fe Nazarena se convierte en un camino perfectamente válido para que el hombre pueda acercarse al Creador. El problema con esta noble religión, es que en su sincero [pero moral e intelectualmente extraviado] deseo de identificar a Dios con el hombre llamado Jesus de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean siempre con él), comete la blasfemia de reducir el santo y noble carácter Divino no solamente al nivel de los hombres, sino al de los mas bajos y despreciables.

Considere usted el siguiente ejemplo: A pesar de que un hombre pueda ser vulgar y pecador, a menudo encontramos que, cuando uno de sus hijos ha pecado en su contra, este hombre es aún lo suficientemente magnánimo y misericordioso como para perdonar a su hijo, sin exigir que este último tenga que pagar con sangre la ofensa que halla cometido.

En cambio, el Dios esbozado por la noble teología Cristiana es incapaz de obrar con ese mismo grado de altruismo y magnanimidad. ¿Por que? Pues porque demanda en cambio que todo pecado cometido por cualquiera de sus hijos (los seres humanos) sea castigado con un sacrificio de sangre (como sería el caso con la sangre del sacrificio de Jesús).

¿Y de donde sabemos que lo anterior es falso, pues tal y como el hombre común puede perdonar a sus hijos, de ese mismo modo puede el Creador perdonar a sus criaturas? Pues lo sabemos del verso que dice: “Como el padre se compadece de los hijos, Se compadece יהוה (El Señor) de los que le temen”- Salmo 103:13.

¿Y de donde sabemos que es falso que el perdón Divino siempre demande un sacrificio de sangre? Pues lo sabemos del verso que dice, “Porque no quieres sacrificio, que yo lo daría; No quieres holocausto. Los sacrificios de Dios son el espíritu quebrantado; Al corazón contrito y humillado no despreciarás tú [negándole tu perdón], oh Dios”- Salmo 51:16-17.

La paz y el perdón del Dios de Abraham sea con vosotros. Amén

Reformed Samaritanism

Neither the name “Ha Satan” (Satan), nor the name “Mashiach” (Messiah), appear even once in the only document that, being written by “the finger” of God (יהוה), is 100% inspired. What document is that? It is no other than the Ten Commandments (or “sayings”) given to Moses upon the two stone tablets (the Decalogue). But, why would the Decalogue fail to include such important names as “Satan” and “Messiah”? Could it be that יהוה (the all knowing God) simply forgot about it? Or is He rather trying to teach us a deeper moral lesson; hinting at the fact that, neither the belief in a Satan, nor the belief in a Messiah, compares in importance to abstaining from theft, from deception, from adultery, from greed, from idolatry, and from dishonoring our parents? Could it be that the Creator is simply trying to tell us that, if we perform the good commanded upon the stone tablets, no Satan will be able to deprive us from enjoying the blessings of יהוה; while if we don't perform them, no Messiah will ever be able to grant us such blessings?

God having a human image?

If we were to take at face value (in other words, in a strict literal sense) the verse where God is said to have made Adam and Eve in his own image, shouldn't we then proceed to ask ourselves the following questions: Which then would be God's own image? That of a male (like Adam)? That of a female (like Eve)? Or that of an Hermaphrodite?

What race would the profile of such image fit into? That of a Jew? or that of a Gentile? That of a black person? or that of a White person? What age range would such image project? That of a young person? Or that of an old person?; Would it be the image of a fat person? Or would it be that of a slim person?

Would it be a person having one single head? Or rather a person having multiple heads? Would it be a circumcised person? Or rather a non-circumcised one?

Is God's own image finite and limited [just as it happens with all human images]? Or is it instead a non human [infinite and unlimited] one? ...

Can you now see why would a wise, peaceful and non-discriminatory God like His people to avoid the notion of God having a human image? May peace be upon you!

Tanto Judíos, como Cristianos y Musulmanes, están gravemente errados. ¿Por que? Pues porque profesan un Mesías humano. Pero la Escritura intima que el Mesías no es un hombre en particular, sino que es en cambio el sincero arrepentimiento. Y es por ello que Jesús mismo es citado intimidando que, a menos que llegue primeramente el arrepentimiento, no hay seguridad de vida para hombre alguno. Como esta escrito: «Os digo: “No; antes, si no os arrepentís, todos pereceréis igualmente”»- Lucas 13:3&5

Christianity is a good and worthy religion, but even according to New testament theology, Jesus atoning sacrifice wasn't perfect

The “brit Ha-dasha” (the “New Pact”, a.k.a. “New Testament”) states that, in order for a sacrifice to perfectly atone for the sins of a worshiper, such sacrifice must be able to wipe out the very awareness of sin.

As is written: “For the Law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect. For then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged [from sins] should have had no more conscience of sins”- Hebrews 10:1-2 (KJB).

Thus, since no honest person can deny that Christian believers [who have already accepted Jesus sacrifice as their very own] still experience the awareness of sin, it follows that Jesus sacrifice wasn't perfect.

And since Christian theology clearly states death to be the wage of any [unpaid] sin (“For the wages of sin is death...”- Romans 6:23), the fact that sincere Christians still suffer death is further proof that [according to the New testaments own theology] Jesus sacrifice failed to perfectly atone for their sins!

What answer could the New testament provide for the reason of such failure? Well, the N.T. claims Jesus to be his followers Passover sacrifice (“For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us”- 1 Corinthians 5:7); but the passover sacrifice, as well as those who wanted to enjoy it, had to be guarded from defilement.

As is written, “Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto the hall of judgment: and it was early; and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover”- John 18:28.

Thus, it seems like [at some point during the process] Jesus got defiled, rendering invalid his whole sacrifice [or at least not fit “to be eaten” by his Jewish followers]. When did it happen? Maybe right after his resurrection.

As is written: «Jesus saith unto her [Mary], “Touch me not [lest my passover body get defiled]; for I am not yet ascended to my Father”- John 20:17. Though in the former verse Mary abstains from touching [and thereby contaminate] Jesus, on another account it is said that Jesus was touched by a group of women that included Mary!:

«In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary

Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre... And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word. And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, “All hail”. And they came and held him by the feet»- Matthew 28:1, 8, &9

«What is the meaning of the Bible’s story where God creates man in His own image? The former story has many levels of interpretations. From a moral standpoint, it could be validly viewed as hinting the idea that man is “created” [inside this mothers' womb] bearing God's own [moral] image. Why? Because babies are naturally holy (kind, humble, honest, and free from evil); But then the baby grows up, acquires knowledge, and ends up willingly renouncing to the godly image he initially had... Whence we get that the Holy one considers the children [as well as the very young] to be innocent? We get it from the verse that goes on to say, “Moreover your little ones, that ye said should be a prey, and your children, that this day have no knowledge of good or evil, they shall go in thither, and unto them will I [The Lord] give it [The Holy land], and they shall possess it”- Deut. 1:39, J.P.S. 1917 Edition)»

Why don’t we see God growing missing limbs among sick believers?

Given the fact that Hebrew Scripture states that Isaac was blind, that Moses had speech problems, and that Jacob limped from one leg [all of these being small diseases for which God never provided these great men with any cure], which sensible reasons [aside from pride and selfishness] could we possibly argue for the Holy One to perform greater miracles in our favor? Aren't we just sad & puny midgets, when our faith level is compared to that of the formerly mentioned spiritual giants?

Jesus isn’t the savior; Rather, he is the herald of the repentance that brings salvation

Our dear brothers and sisters, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the believer ought to be humble, wise, honest, and balanced; avoiding all sort of radical extremes. In this sense, claiming Yeshua (Jesus of Nazareth, peace and blessings be upon him) to be the actual Savior, wouldn’t be honest and balanced.

Why? Simply because Hebrew Scripture states there’s no savior besides יהוה (the Heavenly Father, blessed be He). As is written: “I, even I, am יהוה”; and beside me there is no savior”- Isaiah 43:11. Instead, it would be far more honest to say that Yeshua was the “par excellence” preacher of Salvation for the Gentile World.

What kind of Salvation? — the one that comes thru sincere repentance, and lead us unto the heavenly kingdom. As is written: «From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, “Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand”»- Matthew 4:17. And also in another place: “I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish”- Luke 13:3&5.

And since repentance leads to salvation, heavens rejoice whenever a man embraces repentance (“I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth”- Luke 15:10).

Whence we get repentance is God’s own means of Redemption? We get it from the verse that goes on to say: “And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and [unto whom shall the Redeemer come...] unto them that turn [in sincere repentance] from transgression in Jacob”- Isaiah 59:20.

In short, besides יהוה there is no savior. And even the Christian Bible agrees with the former, when it goes on to say: “»To God our Savior, who alone is wise, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and forever. Amen”- Jude 1:25.

«Reformed Samaritanism teaches that all things good and holy (in other words, honest, kind, just, and humble) come from the Holy One, regardless of their human origin»

Does God condemn the Christian who worships Jesus? Not necessarily!

Our Christian brothers worship Jesus Christ, making him equal to God. And although making a mortal man equal to the immortal God may at first glance look silly (“God is not a man...”- Numbers 23:19), it doesn’t look so bad after considering the fact that ancient Greeks (as well as Romans) used to believe in mortal gods (so that Christian worship of Jesus might just be part of a deeply entrenched cultural Heritage). It also helps to keep in mind that the gospels were not only written in the Greek tongue, but that the Roman church carried the flag of Christendom for almost 1500 years.

And the fact that Romans never saw a problem with making gods out of mortal human beings is attested by the fact that around 37 C.E. the emperor Caligula asked his own image to be set up (and worshiped) inside Jerusalem’s Temple. Fortunately, the emperor died before the edict could be implemented.

But the truth of the matter is that since the Roman king (the emperor) demanded to be worshiped as a God, it would make perfect sense for an ancient Christian to say: «Wait a minute! If I am going to worship [as God] any human king, I would rather worship my Saviour (Jesus Christ), who is “King of Kings”».

Thus, we may properly say that, in the eyes of the Creator, a Christian believer who worships Jesus Christ isn’t necessarily doing any evil. Why? Because the key issue of our foregoing discussion is that God looks at your heart. In other words, God will judge you according to the light you have been given- The more you know, the more it will be demanded from you; the less you know, the less will be demanded from you.

And this is what we would expect from a God of mercy, and justice. As is written: “When my master, the king of Aram, goes into the temple of Rimmon to bow in worship while he is leaning on my arm, and I have to bow in the temple of Rimmon—when I bow [to the idol] in the temple of Rimmon, may the Lord pardon your servant in this matter”. So he [the prophet] said to him, “Go in peace [God knows your heart!]”- 2 Kings 5:18-19

«When using your hand's index finger in order to point at someone else faults, observe how three of your fingers point back at you, as if to say: “First, judge yourself... and only then will you have the moral standing to judge any other person”»

Christianity is a great religion, but Christian theology requires it’s adherents to commit a sort of “intellectual suicide” that leads them to [eventually] rebel against the Creator

Although indeed a perfectly valid [and acceptable] path to serve the Creator (a God whom the Hebrew Scripture identifies with the name of יהוה , “Adonai Yah”, or simply “Yah”), Christian theology demands that the believer be open to credulous naivety.

Why? Well, because it's theological framework demands a state of consciousness were we look at Scripture from the credulous and illusory perspective that characterizes children.

And that is why the gospels says: "Assuredly, I say to you, WHOEVER DOES NOT RECEIVE THE KINGDOM OF GOD AS A LITTLE CHILD SHALL NOT ENTER IT" (Mark 10:15).

In fact, the Gospel affirms that, when it comes to understanding God, having a wise and understanding mind is indeed an impediment. As it is written: "I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, BECAUSE YOU HID THESE THINGS FROM THE WISE AND UNDERSTANDING, and revealed them to babes" (Matthew 11:25). Not only does it promote a state of naive foolishness, but Christian theology even praises such foolishness, presenting it to the believer as the glorious [and spiritual] fulfillment of the Scriptures.

As it is written: "I will provoke you to jealousy with a people that is not a people; WITH A FOOLISH PEOPLE WILL I PROVOKE YOU TO WRATH" (Romans 10:19). And it also says: "But the natural man DOES NOT PERCEIVE THE THINGS WHICH ARE OF THE SPIRIT OF GOD, FOR THEY ARE FOOLISHNESS TO HIM, and he cannot understand them, BECAUSE THEY MUST BE DISCERNED SPIRITUALLY" (1 Corinthians 2:14).

In fact, Christian theology makes foolishness and madness infinitely superior to any human wisdom [as if common sense and correct knowledge of God were self-exclusive!]; presenting them as God's greatest power.

As it is written: "For since in the wisdom of God THE WORLD DID NOT KNOW GOD THROUGH WISDOM, IT PLEASED GOD TO SAVE THE BELIEVERS THROUGH THE FOOLISHNESS OF PREACHING" (1 Corinthians 1:21). And on another place: "Because THE WORD OF THE CROSS IS INSANITY to those who are lost; BUT TO THEM THAT ARE SAVED, THAT IS, TO US, IT IS THE POWER OF GOD" (1 Corinthians 1:18).

Sadly, Christianity was so successful in exalting foolishness and gullibility, that [as the saying goes] "it got out of hand". That is to say, in the end it had to try to "undo" that naivete in which it had exceeded.

And that's why we find Paul (may peace be upon him) rebuking the believers in the Corinthian church. Why? Because of their immature and fanciful thinking.

As it is written: "Brothers, BE NOT CHILDREN IN THOUGHTS, BUT BE CHILDREN IN MALICE, BUT MATURE IN THOUGHTS" (1 Corinthians 14:20).

What is the problem with all of this? Well, the problem is that, just as it is true with most evil and misleading doctrines [or ideologies], those who embrace it will in end up acting like "Ha Satan" (the "Devil", or the "Opposer")-- turning back from God, and placing their vain and fanciful whims above the clearly expressed will of Abraham's God.

In other words, the naive credulity promoted by Christian theology will end-up leading the simple minded believer into what [in practice] will amount to open rebellion against the Creator.

Let's consider the following examples:

(1) If יהוה says that there's only one God (Deut. 6:4), the Christian believer opposes it (1 John 5:7), claiming that God isn't One, but rather Three [Father, Son, and Holy Spirit];

(2) If יהוה says that He does not want us to worship images of anything in heaven (Deut. 5:8-9), the Christian believer opposes it (Colossians 1:15), claiming that God does want us to worship a heavenly image [that of Jesus, who is "the visible image" of the invisible God];

(3) If יהוה says that we should observe (rest) the Sabbath Day (Deut. 5:12-15), the Christian counters it by saying that the importance of the Sabbath now belongs to Sunday (Acts 20:7, and Mark 16:9);

- (4) If יהוה commands that we love our parents (Deut. 5:16), then the Christian believer quotes Jesus claiming the opposite-- that you cannot follow the Savior unless you hate your parents: “If anyone comes to me and does not hate his father and mother.... he cannot be my disciple” (Luke 14:26);
- (5) If יהוה says that we should not steal [that is, we cannot forbid the poor and those who have nothing to eat from eating from the corners of our crops, according to Leviticus 23:22], Christian theology opposes it by quoting the verse that goes on to say: “If anyone does not want to work, let him not eat” (2 Thessalonians 3:10);
- (6) If יהוה says that we cannot eat pork, mice, or lizards (Deut. 14:8, and Lev. 11:29-30), the Christian believer stands up in opposition, quoting the verse that goes on to say: “Of everything that is sold in the butcher shop, eat...” (1 Corinthians 10:25);
- (7) If יהוה says that we must never depart from God’s Law (Joshua 1:8), the Christian believer opposes it, by citing the passage that goes on to say: “The Law and the prophets were until John” (Luke 16:16);
- 8) If יהוה says that children must not die because of the sins of their parents (Deut. 24:16), the Christian denies it, alleging that, if we die, it is precisely because of the sin of our parents Adam and Eve (1 Corinthians 15:21-22, and Romans 5:12-19);
- (9) If God says that, if we love Him and keep His commandments, he will show us mercy (Deut. 5:10), the Christian comes and contradicts Him, alleging that no one can obtain Divine mercy (salvation) through obedience to God’s commandments (Galatians 2:6, Ephesians 2:9, and Galatians 2:21).
- (10) If יהוה says that we must not even pretend to eat any type of flesh or blood (“BUT DON’T EAT THE BLOOD, SINCE THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE, AND YOU MUST NOT EAT THE LIFE WITH THE MEAT (FLESH)”- Deut. 12:23), then Christians come and deny it, quoting the verse where Jesus [allegedly] commands that we “eat” of his flesh and “drink” of his blood (“Truly I tell you, UNLESS YOU EAT THE FLESH OF THE SON OF MAN AND DRINK HIS BLOOD, YOU DO NOT HAVE LIFE IN YOURSELVES”- John 6:53)

«In an Empire of lies, to tell the truth is considered High Treason»

Beware never to disregard Divine truth, even when the latter seems to spring from non conventional sources (pagan people and enemies included!)

God’s Law puts words of wisdom into the lips of a donkey («And the Lord opened the mouth of the ass, and she said unto Balaam: “What have I done unto thee, that thou hast smitten me these three times?”... And the ass said unto Balaam: “Am not I thine ass, upon which thou hast ridden all thy life long unto this day? was I ever wont to do so unto thee?” And he said: “Nay”»- Numbers 22:28-30, J.P.S., 1917 Edition).

But, do animals actually speak? Of course not! What then is Torah trying to teach with such narrative? Well, it’s aim is to point at the idea that “God’s word, is God’s word”; and therefore we will do good paying heed to it, no matter what the source may be, and no matter if it is uttered by Jews, or by Samaritans; By Christians, or Muslims; by Monotheists, or Polytheists”.

And from whence do we learn the former to be true? We learn it from King Josiah. You see, story goes that the Creator had spoken directly unto an Egyptian Pharaoh named “Necho”, sending the latter upon a Divine mission: to wage war against his enemies (the Assyrians). Necho goes on and let Josiah know about the Divine message he had received but, though a righteous and God fearing king, Josiah foolishly disregards Pharaoh's words [which came from the very mouth of God!], thinking that a pagan person can never be the herald of Divine truth. In the end, the Jewish king decides to oppose [and thereby hinder] Pharaoh's mission, not realizing that, by so doing, he was actually opposing God [a grave and often deadly mistake!].

As is written: "After all this, when Josiah had prepared the Temple. Necho king of Egypt came up to fight against Carchemish by Perath and Josiah went out against him. But he sent messengers to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mine enemy, and God commanded me to make haste: leave off to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroy thee. But Josiah would not turn his face from him, but changed his apparel to fight with him, and hearkened not unto the words of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo. And the shooters shot at king Josiah: then the king said to his servants, Carry me away, for I am very sick. So his servants took him out of that chariot, and put him in the second chariot which he had, and when they had brought him to Jerusalem, he died" - 2 Chronicles 35:20-24, King James Bible.

A Torah obedient Gentile is superior to a Torah despising Israelite

King Saul enjoyed a pure Israelite bloodline [being from the tribe of Benjamin], yet God rejected him. On the other hand, king David was the offspring of a Gentile (Moabite) Women, yet God made him King over all pure bloodline Israelites.

The Holy One calls all Christian believers to abandon all sort of self-deception, in order to embrace the real New Covenant with the God of Abraham

Modern Christianity is indeed a worthy and noble religion. But sadly, the Christian "New Testament" is little more than an emotionally charged [and highly glorified] string of incoherences, contradictions, and theological jugglings. In fact, it's narrative seems to be closer to what you would come to expect from a politician's discourse, rather than from the God of truth, certainty, and clarity who spoke to Israel on ancient times.

Let's try to illustrate our point by examining a few examples:

- (1) While on the one hand the Gospel affirms that Jesus didn't come to abrogate the Law (Matthew 5:17), it affirms on the other hand that the Law and the prophets were only until John (Luke 16:16).
- (2) While in one place it affirms that he who has seen Jesus has seen God the Father (John 14:9), it affirms on another place that no one has ever seen God (1 John 4:12).
- (3) While on one hand it states that Jesus resurrection was essential for the world to repent and achieve forgiveness (thus obtaining eternal life, according to Romans 10:9), it affirms on the other hand that no one had to rise from the dead, in order for us to proceed to repentance and avoid punishment (Luke 16:30-31).
- (4) While in one place it states that salvation is by faith, and not by the works of the Law (Ephesians 2:8-9), it states elsewhere that whoever wants to enter (eternal) life must keep the commandments of God's Law (Matthew 19:17).
- (5) While in one place it states that God is One (Mark 12:29), it states on another place that God is three (1 John 5:7).
- (6) While, on the one hand, it rejoices that new believers do not have to keep the Law (Romans 6:14), on the other hand it rejoices that new believers are zealous in keeping the Law (Acts 21:20).

(7) While on the one hand it teaches God cannot be tempted by Evil (James 1:13), on the other hand teaches that Jesus (the alleged incarnation of God), was indeed tempted by Evil (Luke 4: 2).

(8) While on the one hand it forbids us from serving another “Lord” besides God (Matthew 6:24), on the other hand it exhorts us to serve [in addition] the “Lord” Jesus (Romans 14:18 & Colossians 3:24).

(9) While on one hand it quotes Jesus promising to return before his disciples had finished visiting all the cities of Israel (“When they persecute you in this city, flee to the other; for truly I tell you, YOU WILL NOT FINISH THROUGH ALL THE CITIES OF ISRAEL, BEFORE HE COME THE SON OF MAN” (Matthew 10:23); on the other hand it quotes him uttering words that imply their touring of Israel’s cities means nothing, as Jesus will return when they least expect (“because THE SON OF MAN WILL COME AT AN HOUR THAT YOU THINK NOT”- Matthew 24:44).

(10) Finally, while on the one hand it quotes Jesus promising to return very soon (“He who bears witness to these things says: SURELY I [JESUS] AM COMING SHORTLY”- Revelation 22:20); elsewhere hints at the fact that such promises are not necessarily meant to be understood in a strict literal sense (“Do not ignore this: that WITH THE LORD ONE DAY IS LIKE A THOUSAND YEARS, AND A THOUSAND YEARS LIKE ONE DAY [in other words, Jesus return can be as ‘short’ as three days, or as ‘short’ as three thousand years!]”- 2 Peter 3:8).

As if the former contradictions were not serious enough, the “New testament” goes on to claim that the truth contained in it’s own pages is free from any uncertainty and hypocrisy. As it is written: “But THE WISDOM WHICH IS FROM ON HIGH (MEANING, “THE CHRISTIAN FAITH”) IS FIRST PURE, then peaceable, kind, benign, full of mercy and good fruits, WITHOUT UNCERTAINTY OR HYPOCRISY” (James 3:17).

In short, the noble Christian theology is as clear and concise as the government program of an astute [yet devious] presidential candidate; one that, while promising everything to everybody, ends up not committing to anything [or anyone].

Does the former mean that Christianity is a false religion, and that Christian believers ought to stop following Jesus call to repentance and obedience to God’s commandments? Of course not!

It only means modern Christian theology is often clouded by an excessive amount of hype, bold conjectures, naive suppositions, and just plain old religious fanfare-- none of which conform to Jesus original [Law based] theology;

It means God wants Christian believers to examine their existing faith. How? Well, a good place to start could be returning to God’s ancient path («Thus saith the Lord, “Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ASK FOR THE OLD PATHS, WHERE IS THE GOOD WAY, AND WALK THEREIN, AND YE SHALL FIND REST FOR YOUR SOULS”»- Jeremiah 6:16).

What is the practical meaning of “returning to the Old Path?” It is for the Christian believer to restore and renew his present faith. How? By making a New Covenant with the Holy One; one in which they willingly place God’s Law [His Ten Supreme Laws] inside their minds, and their souls.

And by so doing, they become part of the exiled Israel to whom God promised saying: «Behold, the days come, saith יהוה (the Lord), that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel [the “exiled”, or “Gentile” world], and with the house of Judah [the ethnically Jewish world]... BUT THIS SHALL BE THE COVENANT that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith יהוה, I WILL PUT MY LAW IN THEIR INWARD PARTS, AND WRITE IT IN THEIR HEARTS; AND

WILL BE THEIR GOD, AND THEY SHALL BE MY PEOPLE”- Jeremiah 31:31-33.

May peace be upon you!

Reformed Samaritanism

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that whoever abandons the Ten Commandments of the Divine Law will be afflicted with madness and troubled spirit (“The Lord will smite you with madness, blindness, and troubled spirit...”- Deut. 28:28).

At what point are the authors of the New Testament blinded and troubled?

(1) Are they blind and confused when they present Jesus collectively exalting the Samaritans, holding up one of them as the best example of knowing God's mercy and love? (“It came to pass that a priest went down that road, and seeing him, he passed by. Likewise a Levite, coming near that place, and seeing him, passed by. But a Samaritan, who was on his way, came near him, and seeing him, he was moved to mercy; and approaching, bandaged his wounds, pouring oil and wine on them, and putting him on his horse, brought him to the inn, and took care of him”- Luke 10:31-34)

(2) Are they blind and confused when they present Jesus collectively denigrating the Samaritan believers, claiming that the Samaritans don't even know who is the God they worship? (“You worship what you do not know...”- John 4:22)

(3) Or are they instead blind and confused when they affirm that the wisdom contained in the New Testament is free from all uncertainty? (“But the wisdom that is from above is first pure... without uncertainty or hypocrisy”- James 3:17)

Was Jesus (may peace and blessings be upon him) the fulfillment of Daniel 7:13-14?

Our dear brothers, Hebrew Scripture states the following: “I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed”- Daniel 7:13-14.

Did the former Scripture foretell the coming of Jesus, as claimed by our beloved Christian brothers? Well, although Christian theology has the absolute right to interpret Hebrew Scripture as it sees fit, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the former isn't talking about Jesus, but rather about king David, to whom God promised an everlasting Kingdom (“Once have I sworn by my holiness that I will not lie unto David. His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne as the sun before me. It shall be established for ever as the moon, and as a faithful witness in heaven”- Psalm 89:20-37).

In fact, Scripture promises that, in the end of days, Hebrew people would seek David, whom God will bring back [from the grave]. As is written: “AFTERWARD SHALL THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL return, and seek THE LORD THEIR GOD, AND DAVID THEIR KING; and shall fear the Lord and his goodness in the latter days”- Hosea 3:5.

And it also on another place: “For it shall come to pass IN THAT DAY, SAITH THE LORD OF HOSTS, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him: But THEY SHALL SERVE THE LORD THEIR GOD, AND DAVID THEIR KING, WHOM I WILL RAISE UP UNTO THEM”- Jeremiah 30:8-9. May peace be upon you!

No hay nada malo con creer en Jesús; pero la realidad es que le han mentido durante toda su vida, pues Jesús no era Judío, Cristiano, ni Musulmán; Jesús era en cambio Samaritano

Estimados hermanos y hermanas, la realidad objetiva es que no hay nada malo con creer en las enseñanzas éticas y morales que a Jesús adscriben los nobles evangelios Cristianos.

Pero no es menos cierto que, de acuerdo con el mismo Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él), los únicos que realmente entienden la correcta manera de cumplir el mandamiento que ordena amar al prójimo, son los creyentes Samaritanos (Lucas 10:26-37).

Y, como el anterior pasaje termina diciendo, «Entonces Jesús le dijo: “VE, Y HAZ TÚ LO MISMO [es decir, lo mismo que hacen los Samaritanos]”», pues es solamente lógico que el creyente escoja seguir alguna versión de la fe Samaritana (como podría ser el caso con el Samaritanismo Reformado).

¿Por que seguir alguna forma de Samaritanismo? Pues porque los pasajes anteriormente citados indican con claridad meridiana que el Samaritanismo era la religión predilecta del Nazareno. De hecho, el evangelio presenta al Galileo siendo acusado de ser “un endemoniado Samaritano” (“¿No decimos bien nosotros, QUE TÚ ERES SAMARITANO, Y QUE TIENES DEMONIO?”- Juan 8:48).

Y, aunque Jesús niega estar poseído por algún demonio («Respondió Jesús: “YO NO TENGO DEMONIO...”»- Juan 8:49), la respuesta que al alegato de ser Samaritano provee el Nazareno, no es otra sino un ensordecedor silencio. Es que el evangelio no registra siquiera un solo caso donde Jesús halla negado jamás [de forma clara e inequívoca] la acusación de ser un creyente Samaritano.

¿Cual era la principal diferencia entre el Judaísmo y el Samaritanismo? Pues que la Ley Judía no se limitaba a los cinco libros de Moisés (el Pentateuco), sino que incluía otros libros (como los Salmos y los Profetas). En cambio, los Samaritanos veían estas adiciones como un tipo de perversión, pues creían en la obediencia al mandato Divino que prohíbe añadir [o disminuir] a lo dicho por Moisés (“NO AÑADIRÉIS A LA PALABRA QUE YO OS MANDO, NI DISMINUIRÉIS DE ELLA...”- Deuteronomio 4:2).

Y, ya que los Samaritanos menospreciaban cualquier Ley que añadiese otros libros a lo escrito por Moisés [dando por sentado que tales libros solo servían para diluir el mensaje Divino], pues hace sentido que, tal y como habría hecho cualquier otro Samaritano de su época, Jesús rehusase aceptar la Ley Judía.

¿Y de donde sabemos que Jesús no reconocía como suya propia la Ley Judía? Pues lo sabemos del verso donde, citando una porción del libro de los Salmos [un libro que forma parte integral de la Ley Judía], el Galileo Jesús procede a decir: «... ¿No está escrito EN VUESTRA LEY (Salmo 82:6): ‘Yo dije, dioses sois’?»- Juan 10:34.

Note como, en el anterior pasaje, Jesús utiliza el término, “EN VUESTRA LEY”; como queriendo decir, “EN VUESTRA LEY... ¡PERO NO EN LA MÍA, PUES YO NO SIGO LA LEY DE LOS JUDÍOS, SINO LA DE LOS SAMARITANOS!

Que la Paz del Creador sea con vosotros.

The troubled spirit of the New testament writers: Has anybody seen God?

The Christian gospel is worthy, noble and holy. But, at what point is it wrong?

Is it wrong when it affirms that no one has ever seen the Heavenly Father (“No man hath seen God at any time...”- 1 John 4:12)?;

Is it wrong when affirming that he who see Jesus has seen the Father (“... he that hath seen me hath seen the Father...”- John 14:9)?;

Or is it wrong when it categorically affirms that the wisdom contained in the N.T. is pure, being free from all uncertainty (“But the wisdom that is from above is first pure... without uncertainty or hypocrisy”- James 3:17)?

And isn't the former a serious indication that the authors of the N.T. were under the curse of madness and disturbance of spirit intended for those who, abandoning the commandments, give themselves up to the idolatry of a human figure; just as would be the case with anyone who blindly worships a man of flesh and bones like Jesus of Nazareth (“But it will come to pass, if you do not hear the voice of יהוה your God... יהוה will smite you with madness, blindness and troubled spirit...”- Deut. 28:28)?

The blasphemous caricature that, of the Divine character, promotes Christian theology “Shall mortal man be more just than God? shall a man be more pure than his maker?”- Job 4:17....

The truth of the matter is that, its call to repentance and holiness makes the noble Nazarene faith a perfectly valid path for man to get closer to his Creator. The only problem with this noble religion is that, in it's sincere [yet morally and intellectually misguided] desire to identify the Almighty with the man named Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him), Christian theology commits the blasphemy of reducing God's holy character not only to the level of men, but even to level of those who are the most uncouth and vulgar of all men.

Consider the following: Although a man be despicable and base, we often find that, when one of his sons dares to sin against him, this man still is merciful [and altruistic] enough to simply forgive the fault committed by his son-- without demanding that the latter suffer any sort of cruel or deadly punishment.

Yet, when it comes to the God depicted by Christian theology, we find He is unable of such high degree of altruism and magnanimity. Why? Because [according to Christian theology] He demands that every sin committed by his children (the human beings) be punished with a blood sacrifice (as would be the case with Jesus' own sacrifice).

Whence do we know the above to be false, as just like a common man can easily forgive the faults of his own sons, so too can the Creator easily forgive the sins of His own children [human beings]? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: “Like as a father pitieth his children, so יהוה (The Lord) pitieth them that fear him”-Psalm 103: 13.

And whence do we know the Holy One doesn't always demand a blood sacrifice, in order to pardon our sins? We know it from the verse that goes on to say, “For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise [denying your forgiveness], O God”- Psalm 51:16-17. May the Peace and forgiveness of the Almighty be with you all! Amen

The superiority of Moses prophecy

Concerning Moses Torah, as well as Moses exalted status above all other prophets, Reformed Samaritanism teaches the following:

«There hath not arisen a prophet since in Israel like unto Moses” (Deut. 34:10). It is taught: All the prophets looked into a glass that was dim, as is said, “By the ministry of the prophets I appear dimly” (Hosea 12:11). But Moses our teacher looked through a glass that was translucent, for of him it is said, “The Similitude of the Lord doth he behold” (Numbers 12:8). In fact, fifty gates of understanding were created in the World, and at Sinai all but one was opened to Moses, of whom it is said, “Thou hast made him but little lower than God” (Psalm 8:6)».

May peace be upon you all!

Why would you ever need to consider following Reformed Samaritanism (or for that sake any other non Christian religion)?

The main reason why God has no problem with a sincere believer opting to follow a non Christian religion (Zoroastrianism, Judaism, Islam, Reformed Samaritanism, etc) is that modern Christianity doesn't really follow Jesus; instead, it follows Paul. And the words of Paul are contrary to Jesus words. Whence we know the latter? We know it from the following:

*Paul was not chosen among the twelve as Jesus disciples during Jesus time on earth.

*Paul never knew, never taught and was never trained by Jesus in the flesh.

*The twelve apostles had not yet written down Jesus original teachings, therefore nobody could compare the differences between Jesus teachings and Paul's teachings.

*Paul's theology was based on the teaching that he got from the spirit whom introduce himself as “Jesus” on the way to Damascus [the spirit that came AFTER Jesus has FINISHED His earthly ministry]

*Paul convinced himself that he was being personally taught by Jesus spirit; this “spirit Jesus” met Paul on the road to Damascus, convincing Paul that he was Christ. How? By demonstrating his supranatural power to inflict blindness and healing, something the real Jesus (the one in the flesh) never did this to His earthly enemies.

*Peter did pass on The Good News to him, but it's not the teaching that Paul chose to preach and teach, indeed Paul thinks Peter is a fool, misunderstood the gospel, he regards himself better than the twelve apostles in knowledge and understanding of Jesus gospel (“But of these who seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man's person:) for they who seemed to be somewhat in conference added nothing to me”- Galatians 2:6).

*You can see, Paul is ONLY promoting himself as the only true apostle of Christ that Christians should follow and suggest everybody to imitate him, and the only authorised teaching he recommended to identify false teaching is his own teaching.

*Besides himself, weirdly evil spirits were actively promoting Paul as true apostle of Christ! («And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination met us... The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, “These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation”»- Acts 16:16-17)

*Paul is too proud to verify the teaching of Jesus in spirit match the teaching of Jesus in flesh. Antichrist according to John, are those whom denied Jesus in flesh, he actually means Antichrist denied Jesus teaching that was delivered in flesh, replacing it with the teaching of “Jesus in spirit” (the impostor of Jesus).

*Paul was never aware that he was the one used by the devil to spread “the tare” teaching into Jesus field (his kingdom) after the latter had left. As promised, Jesus prevent the angels to kill him awaiting for the final harvest. Besides the angels, nobody [including peter] was aware at that an intruder had come. Jesus let Paul’s gospel grow side by side with His gospel, until final day, when all Christians gathered, those Grace of God followers unable to produce fruits, because the fruit in Jesus gospel means “To do Father’s will”, those Christians never seek and discouraged to do work for salvation.

*Paul was to be decapitated by the evil Roman emperor [Nero]; yet Paul himself had foretold that the workers of iniquity would suffer an evil end (“...Their end will be according to their works”- 2 Corinthians 11:15)? Thus, we know for a fact that God wasn’t pleased with the works of Paul.

THE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN PAUL AND JESUS THEOLOGIES:

*PAUL preach the gospel of Grace of God, JESUS preach the gospel of the Good News of The Kingdom of God.

*PAUL: Saved by grace (by faith in Jesus) discourage work for salvation, JESUS: Christians saved by their fruits. encourage to do the Father’s will.

*PAUL: salvation is an entitlement, JESUS: Salvation is a reward for obeying the will of the Father (obeying His commandments); Jesus promised to say unto his followers, “well done” (not, “well believed”!), remember ?

*PAUL: Fruits of spirit (kindness, self control...)-- any religion can possess this, JESUS: only those whom attach themselves to Jesus teaching of repentance and obedience can bear fruit, and the fruit is to do the will of God, only Jesus true followers will obey the will of the Heavenly Father. Remember... "Who is my mother, sisters, brothers?... those who do my Father's will", "not everybody who call Lord Lord will be saved, only those who did My Father's will".

*PAUL: Believers are those whom believe with their mouth that Jesus (the person) is their Lord, JESUS: believers are those whom have discernment and practice the word (teaching) of the Father.

*PAUL: God allow Christians to be demonised in order to make them humble (2 Corinthians 12:7), JESUS: Kingdom workers able to drive out demons, and do not let them back.

*PAUL: the root of all evil is the love of money (1 Timothy 6:10)... which is untrue, JESUS: the Lawless men whom do not do the Father’s will [doing instead works of iniquity] are the true evildoers (Matthew 7:23).

*PAUL: to resist devil wear the armour of God, JESUS: repent (Matthew 3:2), keep the commandments (Matthew 19:17), sin no more (John 5:14), clean the inside cup, guard your eyes, pray constantly (“Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation...”- Matthew 26:41), etc. *PAUL: Jesus came to replace The Law, JESUS: I do not come to replace The Law (“Think not that I am come to destroy the Law, or the Prophets...”- Matthew 5:17).

*PAUL: he who has the Spirit is saved, while he who doesn't have the Spirit is condemned, JESUS: the purpose of the Spirit isn't to condemn anybody (“But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of Spirit ye are of. For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them”- Luke 9:55-56).

*PAUL: church lead by leaders who call themselves servant, sit on top of the authority chain, JESUS: church is a flat horizontal, only one leader and teacher Jesus, many workers in God's kingdom, but no human leaders, only servants below the one they serve.

*PAUL: faith is about declaring [or proclaiming] with your mouth-- about the matters you declare to believe (“That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved”- Romans 10:9, JESUS:

faith is about sincere repentance (From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, “Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand”...- Matthew 4:17);

faith is about doing the will of our heavenly Father, yielding the good fruits He expects from His servants (“Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity”- Matthew 7:20-23); faith is all about accepting the righteousness of the Divine law of “sowing and reaping”, whereby we are granted the same goodness we have willingly bestowed upon our fellow creatures («Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the Law and the Prophets... Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven: Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again... But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses”

-- Matthew 7:12, Luke 6:37-38, Mark 11:26);

*PAUL: discredits God's Law and encourage Christians to abandon it's commandments, JESUS: gives credit to The Law, and prevents his followers to sin, breaking even it's small commandments ("Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven"- Matthew 5:19).

*PAUL: follow me, as I follow Jesus ("Be ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ"- 1 Corinthians 11:1), JESUS: follow Me ('not my disciples'), take my yoke, my yoke is light and my burden is easy.

*PAUL: discipleship is about passing the same believe (theology/doctrines) to others, JESUS: discipleship is to grow spiritually, and get relationship with the heavenly Father, to know God's truth (His Law), and do God's will, in order for them to be the light and salt of the world, the herald of righteousness.

*PAUL: any teachings that are not in sync with his theology are false teaching ("Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do [nothing else!]: and the God of peace shall be with you"- Philippians 4:9), JESUS: "my Lambs recognise My voice, they will run away from strangers", true disciples can discern the difference between Jesus teaching and others, because they use Jesus words as their guidance, in order to measure and validate others teaching, including Paul's teaching.

*PAUL: righteousness granted by divine exchange between Jesus righteousness and men's wickedness, Christians literally riding on Jesus righteousness, JESUS: to become righteous, His disciples need to wear Jesus yoke and bear His burden, students need to imitate their teacher righteousness.

*PAUL: only Jesus blood required for salvation, JESUS: salvation is achieved by imitating Jesus example of submission and obedience to God's will, the latter being summarized by His ten commandments ("... but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments. He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself"- Matthew 19:17-19).

*PAUL: Christians salvation guaranteed, sinners get saved entering God's kingdom, JESUS: Even if you claim to believe in Jesus, at end time all Christians will be separated like the wheat and tare, good fish and bad fish, goats and lambs.

Was the apostle Paul chastised for abandoning God's Law?

Paul preached the abandonment of God's Law ["salvation by faith, and without any need of the Law"], but the latter warned that it's abandonment would be punished with blindness (Deut. 28:28). Thus, we might ask ourselves the following question: "Was Paul blinded by God?"; And, "is there any record of it?".

Well, the fact is that the gospel not only records Paul being blinded y God [while in route to Damascus], but also quotes him recognizing his suffering of a bodily disease; one that prompted him to say the following:

"Ye know how through INFIRMITY OF THE FLESH I preached the gospel unto you at the first... ye despised not, nor rejected; but received me as an angel of God... for I bear you record, that, IF IT HAD BEEN POSSIBLE, YE WOULD HAVE PLUCKED OUT YOUR OWN EYES, AND HAVE GIVEN THEM TO ME”- Galatians 4:13-15. WHAT NEED WOULD PAUL HAVE OF SOMEONE ELSE EYES... UNLESS HIS OWN EYES DID NOT WORK ANYMORE? May the Holy One have mercy of His people!

Will Paul the apostle be saved? or will he instead be lost?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, though gravely misguided, Paul was indeed a good and well intended man. And the Holy One (blessed be He) will surely judge him with a perfect balance of justice and mercy (judging him not only by his works, but also by the secret intentions of his heart)....

But the fact that Paul's exaggerated ego led him to being tormented by an evil spirit [a messenger from Satan] is simply out of questioning, as he openly acknowledges this fact: “Therefore, so that I would not exalt myself, a thorn in the flesh was given to me, a messenger of Satan to torment me so that I would not exalt myself”- 2 Corinthians 12:7, Christian Standard Bible.

Yes, Paul wrote wonderful things, and performed even greater miracles. But none of this is absolute proof of God's favor. Consider for example the case of another Paul-- the late evangelist Paul Cain (RIP)--- the latter was an incredible miracle worker, and even greater preacher of the gospel... he could cast out demons, utter prophecy, and even read people's minds.

Finally, his ministry brought thousands to repentance. Yet, at the end of his long life (89 years), and to his followers dismay, it was discovered that Paul Cain had always been not only a practicing homosexual [something he constantly preached against], but also a drunkard...

No wonder Scripture goes on to say: «Thus saith the LORD: "Cursed is the man that [blindly] trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart [thereby] departeth from the LORD”» (Jeremiah 17:5- Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)! May The Holy One save us from such a dreadful deception. Peace be upon you!

«Fear God and be honest! Don't be hypocritical; don't preach values and ideas you won't personally endorse; don't preach “equality and inclusiveness” while the congregation you personally attend includes no native Americans, no blacks, no Hispanics, no Chinese, and no Russians; Don't preach respect for the weak and poor, while at the same time promoting the mass killing of the weakest and poorest of all human beings [unborn babies]; don't call yourself part of God's holy people, while openly promoting the immoral lifestyle God so vehemently abhors [Hedonism, and it's idolatry for unrestrained sexual passions]»

What are the things יהוה (the God of Abraham) hates?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, as a rule of thumb, יהוה “hates” (or “has no pleasure” for...) wickedness; And, by association, He also hates the wicked person. Who is a wicked person? It is he who delights in breaking God's commandments, casting away the yoke of God's kingdom, and thereby becoming an abhorrent enemy of the King of Kings.

As is written: “For Thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness; evil shall not sojourn with Thee... Behold, God will not cast away an innocent man, neither will He uphold the evil-doers... If I whet My glittering sword, and My hand take hold on judgment; I will render vengeance to Mine adversaries, and will recompense them that hate Me... יהוה trieth the righteous; but the wicked and him that loveth violence His soul hateth... O ye that love יהוה, hate evil”- Psalm 5:5, Job 8:20, Deut. 32:41, Psalm 11:5, Psalm 97:10 (Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition)

Gay lifestyle?

A few years ago, the question of LGBTQ hardly featured in the public space . Now it is taking center stage. In fact, the gender aspect of it has become so convoluted that many often have trouble remembering the correct sequence of the letters; is it LBTQG... BTQLG... or whatever?

So now it is becoming a bone of contention in international relationships. Next thing you'll now is animal rights activists will claim that people have the human right to marry dogs, horses, bulls, goats, and the likes. The West's moral compass seems to have run totally amok. Which is fine, except their exceptionalism doesn't let them accept anyone else telling them what to do, but rather insists on commanding others what to do, thereby forcing everyone else to follow their devious ways.

Why they do it? Because it is a great way for "devil worshippers" to demoralize a whole population, as Sodomy is the first thing the other inmates try to force upon you once you find yourself in prison. Sadly, since God's Law states we will be forced to reap the same "fruit" we have willingly "planted", it makes sense to forecast that any nation that chooses to follow the lifestyle of the Sodomites will end up receiving the same punishment as the Sodomites; destruction by "fire falling from the sky" (a nuclear attack?). May God's mercy grants us repentance, before it is too late!

If you are silent about your beliefs because you are worried someone will be offended, then your beliefs are not that important to you, but rather what people think about you is. When you stand up for what's right and true, you will receive both hate and love, but everyone will know what you are fighting for.

Public pride parades?

If there's anything the Holy One absolutely abhors [and promises to utterly destroy] it is the public display of human pride.

As is written: "And I will break the pride of your power; and I will make your heaven as iron, and your earth as brass: And your strength shall be spent in vain: for your land shall not yield her increase, neither shall the trees of the land yield their fruits...

... And if [due to your pride] ye walk contrary unto me, and will not hearken unto me; I will bring seven times more plagues upon you according to your sins...

... I will also send wild beasts among you, which shall rob you of your children, and destroy your cattle, and make you few in number; and your high ways shall be desolate...

... And if ye will not be reformed by me by these things, but will walk contrary unto me; Then will I also walk contrary unto you, and will punish you yet seven times for your sins"- Leviticus 26:19-24, King James Bible.

And also says in another place, "For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up; and he shall be brought low”- Isaiah 2:12, King James Bible.

Do not arbitrary discriminate against anybody!... Rather, beware of Western Culture. Why? Because, though having the most advanced (almost “Alien like”) technology, secular Western societies tend to have the most backward (almost “stinking Caveman”) morality...

If God has no image, how come man was made in God’s own image?

While on one hand The Law hints at the idea that the Creator has no self image (“Take ye therefore good heed unto yourselves; for ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the Lord spake unto you in Horeb out of the midst of the fire: Lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female”- Deuteronomy 4:15-16); on the other hand we are told that He made man in His own image (“So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him”- Genesis 1:27). What does it mean? It means the image we make of our Creator is a direct reflection of our own image (of whom we actually are).

In other words, If a man is hungry for power, flattery, and recognition, his image of God will be that of a deity also hungry for power, flattery, and recognition; If a man sees nothing wrong with acting in a biased and arbitrary fashion, his image of God will be that of a deity which sees no moral contradiction with acting in a biased and arbitrary fashion; If a man feels his power and authority gives him the right to be deceptive, opportunistic, cruel, and unforgiving, he will perceive a Creator whose power and authority gives Him the right to be deceptive, opportunistic, cruel, and unforgiving; But, if the man is a kind father who treats all creatures with justice, mercy, and humility, his image of God will be that of a kind Father who is equally Just, merciful and humble with all of His creatures.

In short, while the God of Israel has no fixed image; He display a different image unto each person; an image that will be a true and accurate reflection of such person's character.

Whence do we get that, unto different people, the Almighty displays a different image? We get it from the verse that goes on to say: "... With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright; With the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure; and with the froward thou wilt shew thyself froward"- Psalm 18:25-26

"We don't see things as they are; we see them as we are"

-- Unless you can afford to be brutally honest [and absolutely objective], the way you perceive any issue will be a direct reflection of who you truly are. For example, is your "Western style" [militant] skepticism of all things religious honest and sincere? Or is such view rather a crafty mind game aimed at justifying your sloppy moral lifestyle (injustice; cruelty; vain pride; greed; self deception; usury; arrogance; selfishness; unbounded lust for money, sex, and power; superiority complex; tyranny; intolerance; self exaltation; etc)? Keep in mind that you will be able to trick some people, some of the time; but you will never be able to trick all of the people, all of the time --

You won't feel totally saved until you completely [and wholeheartedly] surrender yourself to God

No matter your religion, you won't feel "saved" until you finally let the Almighty deliver you from the snare that is your ego's self exaltation.

Why? Because, as long as you refuse to give Him full control of your life [thereby placing your ego "on the back burner"], your conscience will keep nagging at you-- constantly reminding that you're not treating Him as your true Ruler and King, but rather as a sort of "approved [but not indispensable] Advisor" (or "Business partner")-- the latter being the sort of vain and flattering God/man relationship that Scripture goes on to rebuke, saying:

"... Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt-offerings and sacrifices, as in hearkening to the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams. For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as idolatry and teraphim. Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, He hath also rejected thee... Trust in the LORD with all thy heart, and lean not upon thine own understanding"- 1 Samuel 15:22-23, & Proverbs 3:5 (JPS, 1917 Edition)

The gospel promises that Jesus followers would become "fishers of men ("And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men"- Matthew 4:19); meaning that the gospel narrative is so craftily designed that few are shrewd enough to avoid being "caught" by it's "net". In this regard, we mus ask ourselves the following question: if the purpose of Jesus coming was to cleanse us of from our original sin, shouldn't we expect Jesus to profusely speak about such idea? But the fact is that nowhere in the Gospels do we ever find him using a term equal or similar to "original sin"--- as if to imply that such concept was artificially inserted [down the road] in order to facilitate the task of "fishing men".

Jesús (paz sea con él) no era perfecto, y es por eso que no fue el mayor de todos los hombres

Si bien el Samaritanismo Reformado venera la figura de Jesús de Nazaret, no le reconoce como la encarnación del Dios Supremo. ¿Por qué? Pues porque, el que Jesús halla nacido de una mujer (María), implica que [a diferencia del Dios eterno] Jesús tuvo un comienzo. En adición, Jesús no fue el mayor hombre de su generación, pues había alguien mayor (y mejor) que él. Y el anterior hecho impedía que Jesús pudiese haber reclamado el título de «el mayor de entre los que nacen de mujer». ¿Quién fue mayor que Jesús? ¡Pues Juan el Bautista (paz y bendición sean con él)! ¿Y, por qué fue mayor? Pues porque Juan tuvo la fe y el valor requeridos para ser decapitado, en aras de denunciar el pecado (es decir, la pública inmoralidad) del Rey Herodes. En cambio, Jesús no tuvo la misma fe (ni el valor) para imitar a Juan, ni para arriesgarse a que le cortasen el cuello (algo que, de paso, era el método correcto en que debía haber sido sacrificado el Cordero Pascual). Y es por esto que Jesús admite la superioridad de Juan, cuando dice: «De cierto os digo: “Entre los que nacen de mujer, no se ha levantado otro mayor que Juan el Bautista...”»- Mateo 11:11. Y la superioridad moral de Juan el Bautista podría fácilmente explicar el hecho de que algunas de las más antiguas religiones [como por ejemplo el Mandeísmo Sabeano] continúen venerándole como profeta y maestro de la fe.

When will the Messiah come?

An ancient Jewish Midrash states the following: While meditating near the tomb of Rabbi Shimon Bar Yohai, Rabbi Joshua ben Levi (who lived in the first half of the third century C.E.) was visited by the Prophet Elijah. "When will the Messiah come?" asked Joshua. "Ask him", replied the Prophet. "Where can he be found", asked Rav Joshua; "The Messiah is at the gates of Rome, sitting among the poor, the sick and wretched. Like them, he changes the bindings of his wounds, but does so one wound at the time, in order to be ready at a moment's notice". Then Joshua went to Rome and met the Messiah and greeted him, saying "peace upon thee, Master and Teacher", and the Messiah replied "peace upon thee, O son of Levi". Joshua then asked "When will you be coming?", and was told "Today!".

Joshua went back to Elijah and was asked what the Messiah said. "Peace upon thee, O son of Levi", Joshua replied; Elijah observed, "By that he assured you and your father of a [good] portion in the World to come", Joshua then said that the Messiah had not told him the truth, because he had promised to come today but had not.

Elijah explained- When he told you 'Today', he was quoting the first word of a verse that goes to say, 'Today... if ye will hear his voice, Harden not your heart' (Psalm 95:7-8, KJV)... Thereby making Messiah's coming conditional to personal repentance & obedience; as also stated in the verse that goes on to say:

'And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and (unto whom shall the Redeemer come??)...unto them that turn [in sincere repentance] from transgression in Jacob, saith יהוה' - Isaiah 59:20, KJV].

And Even the Christian gospel quotes Jesus of Nazareth agreeing with the idea that there can be no personal deliverance without sincere repentance, as it is said: "No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all perish as well"- Luke 13:3, Christian Standard Bible.

“La carreta debe seguir a los caballos, y no los caballos a la carreta” [es decir, la persona honesta y sensata ajusta su conclusión a los hechos, pues pretender ajustar los hechos a una conclusión preconcebida es deshonesto e insensato]

Samaritanismo Reformado

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que, el castigo para quien abandona la Ley Divina, es ser afligido con locura y turbación de espíritu. Como esta escrito: "El Señor te herirá con locura, ceguera y turbación de espíritu..."- Deut. 28:28. ¿En que momento están turbados los autores del Nuevo Testamento?

(1) ¿Están turbados cuando afirman que, siendo exactamente iguales, tanto el hombre como la mujer se salvan por la fe, y sin necesidad alguna de hacer nada mas? ("... No hay varón ni mujer; porque todos vosotros sois uno en Cristo Jesús... sois salvos por medio de la fe... no por obras, para que nadie se gloríe"- Gálatas 3:28, & Efesios 2:8-9)

(2) ¿Están turbados cuando afirman que la mujer es distinta al hombre, pues no se salva por la fe, sino por ser casta y engendrar hijos? ("Pero se salvará engendrando hijos, si permaneciere en fe, amor y santificación, con modestia"- 1 Timoteo 2:15)

(3) ¿O están en cambio turbados cuando afirman que, la sabiduría contenida en el Nuevo Testamento, esta libre de toda incertidumbre? ("Pero la sabiduría que es de lo alto es primeramente pura... sin incertidumbre ni hipocresía"- Santiago 3:17)

El evangelio es bueno; pero...

El evangelio cristiano es muy bueno. Pero junto a todo lo bueno y puro que el Evangelio puede ofrecer, coexiste una dañina porción de sutil y engañosa sagacidad humana.

Por ejemplo, el Evangelio no solamente dice que Juan el Bautista era profeta, sino que insiste en afirmar que, entre los nacidos de mujer, ninguno ha sido mayor que Juan («Pero ¿qué salisteis a ver? ¿A un profeta? Sí, os digo, y más que profeta.... De cierto os digo: "ENTRE LOS QUE NACEN DE MUJER, NO SE HA LEVANTADO OTRO MAYOR QUE JUAN EL BAUTISTA"»- Juan 11:9-11). Pero lo anterior no es sino terca y obstinada rebeldía, pues la Ley Divina (que no puede ser abrogada ni alterada, según Deut. 4:2) enseña que ningún profeta de Israel ha sido mayor que Moisés ("Y nunca más se levantó profeta en Israel como Moisés..."- Deuteronomio 34:10).

De igual modo, Dios reveló la Ley al pueblo Hebreo. Y la Ley de Dios afirma que, para que un testimonio sea válido, debe ser corroborado por no menos de dos hombres distintos ("No se tomará en cuenta a un solo testigo contra ninguno en cualquier delito ni en cualquier pecado, en relación con cualquiera ofensa cometida. SOLO POR EL TESTIMONIO DE DOS O TRES TESTIGOS SE MANTENDRÁ LA ACUSACIÓN"- Deut. 19:15).

Pero el evangelio cita al Nazareno negando el origen Divino del anterior mandamiento, diciendo: "Y EN VUESTRA LEY [NO EN MI LEY, NI EN LA LEY DE DIOS, SINO EN LA VUESTRA] está escrito que el testimonio de dos hombres es verdadero"- Juan 8:17.

Note como el evangelio no solamente cita a Jesús negando el origen divino del verso en Deuteronomio 19:15, sino que en adición le presenta afirmando que Dios es un hombre; negando de ese modo la Ley Divina, que enseña diciendo: "DIOS NO ES HOMBRE..."- Números 23:19

¿Que Jesús [o Juan] es mayor que Moisés?

El noble evangelio Cristiano dice de la siguiente manera: «Pero ¿qué salisteis a ver? ¿A un profeta? Sí, os digo, y más que profeta.... De cierto os digo: “ENTRE LOS QUE NACEN DE MUJER, NO SE HA LEVANTADO OTRO MAYOR QUE JUAN EL BAUTISTA”»- Juan 11:9-11.

En este sentido, el Samaritanismo Reformado esta dispuesto a considerar la posibilidad de que Juan y Jesús hallan sido superiores a Moisés... pero esta dispuesto a considerar tal posibilidad solamente después de haber corroborado [sin lugar a dudas] las siguientes cosas:

- (1) que tanto Jesús como Juan abrieron públicamente las aguas del mar Rojo [a fin de ser cruzado por dos millones de personas];
- (2) que, sacando agua de una piedra, saciaron durante cuatro décadas la sed de todo un pueblo; que transformaron [y dado vida] a una vara muerta;
- (3) que la gloria Divina pudo verse brillar [literalmente] sobre sus rostros durante 40 años;
- (4) y que hicieron descender pan del cielo durante cuarenta años corridos [a fin de alimentar a los 2-3 millones de Israelitas que le seguían].

Hasta entonces, nos mantendremos sujetos a las palabras de aquel profeta a quien el Dios de Israel prometió que los Hebreos habrían de creer para siempre. Como esta escrito: «Entonces יהוה dijo a Moisés: “He aquí, yo vengo a ti en una nube espesa, para que el pueblo oiga mientras yo hablo contigo, y también PARA QUE TE CREAN PARA SIEMPRE”»- Éxodo 19:9. ¡Paz sea con vosotros!

Whence do we get the proverb, “Practice repentance and obedience, and peace of mind you’ll soon experience”? We get it from: “IF YE WALK IN MY STATUTES, AND KEEP MY COMMANDMENTS, AND DO THEM... I WILL GIVE PEACE IN THE LAND, AND YE SHALL LIE DOWN, AND NONE SHALL MAKE YOU AFRAID...”- Leviticus 26:3-6. But some say we get it from a literal reading of Exodus 19:17-- “AND THEY STOOD UNDER THE MOUNT”-- The former implying that the Holy One overturned the mountain and said to the people: “If you repent of your contemptuous spirit, and submit to my Law, it will go well with thee. But if not, your grave will be right here!”

¿Quien es el Mesías?

Estimados hermanos y hermanas, la mejor y mas coherente interpretación acerca del concepto Bíblico del Mesías, la provee el Samaritanismo Reformado. ¿Por que? Pues porque enseña que el supremo y final Mesías no es otro sino el arrepentimiento sincero; aquel arrepentimiento que con sus vidas encarnaron todos los grandes hombres de Dios (Noé, Job, Abraham, Moisés, etc). Este arrepentimiento, se manifiesta por medio de obras de amor y misericordia.

Y lo anterior explica la razón para que los Escritos Cristianos citen al Maestro de Galilea (paz y bendición sean con él) enseñando que, quien rehúsa arrepentirse, está destinado a la muerte; Y que, sin obras de amor y misericordia para con el prójimo, no hay entrada alguna en el Reino de Dios.

Como esta escrito: «Os digo: “No; antes si no os arrepentís, todos pereceréis igualmente”...

“Apartaos de mí, malditos, al fuego eterno preparado para el diablo y sus ángeles. Porque tuve hambre, y no me disteis de comer; tuve sed, y no me disteis de beber; fui forastero, y no me recogisteis; estuve desnudo, y no me cubristeis; enfermo, y en la cárcel, y no me visitaste...”- Lucas

13:3, Mateo 25:41-43, Biblia Reina Valera, 1960».

Y es por esta misma razón que Juan (el apóstol) es citado enseñando que, aquel que no ama a su prójimo, no solamente esta muerto, sino que ni siquiera conoce a Dios. Como esta escrito: “Nosotros sabemos que hemos pasado de muerte a vida, en que amamos a los hermanos. El que no ama a su hermano, permanece en muerte.... Todo aquel que ama, es nacido de Dios, y conoce a Dios. El que no ama, no ha conocido a Dios; porque Dios es amor”- 1 Juan 3:14, 1 Juan 4:7.

Y la anterior interpretación acerca de la identidad del Mesías redentor, esta en perfecta armonía con lo revelado en la Escritura hebrea. ¿Por que?, pues porque esta última muestra que el Redentor llega en el preciso momento en que el Pueblo de Dios procede al arrepentimiento [dando así la espalda a la iniquidad].

Como esta escrito: “Y vendrá el Redentor a Sion, y [¿a quien vendrá el Redentor? Pues...] a los que se volvieren de la iniquidad en Jacob, dice יהוה” - Isaías 59:20

Is it “Jesus”, or is it “Yeshua”?

Sadly, calling Jesus by his Hebrew name (Yeshua) is often a deceptive mind game used by many Christians in order to erase the dividing line between Hebrew and Christian believers. For what end? In order to infiltrate Hebrew communities!

In other words, it often happens that a Christian believer will start visiting a Hebrew Temple. Eventually, he will ask to be converted into the Samaritan faith, and when the temple leaders ask him if he still believes what Christian theology claims about Jesus [that he is God in the flesh, and the only way to salvation], he will conveniently say that he doesn't believe in Jesus.

But the fact is that, when he later talks to his Christian friends, this person will acknowledge that though he does not believe in the Christian "Jesus", he will never cease to believe in the Jewish "Yeshua, and therefore [secretly] keep spreading his faith in the latter... May the Holy One have mercy of us all!

¡El Nuevo Testamento esta turbado y confundido!

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que, quien abandone los Diez Mandamientos de Ley Divina, será afligido con locura y turbación de espíritu (“El Señor te herirá con locura, ceguera y turbación de espíritu...”- Deut. 28:28). ¿En que momento están ciegos y turbados los autores del Nuevo Testamento?

(1) ¿Están ciegos y turbados cuando presentan a Jesús exaltando colectivamente a los Samaritanos, poniendo a uno de ellos como el mejor ejemplo de conocer la misericordia y el amor de Dios? (“Aconteció que descendió un sacerdote por aquel camino, y viéndole, pasó de largo. Asimismo un levita, llegando cerca de aquel lugar, y viéndole, pasó de largo. Pero un Samaritano, que iba de camino, vino cerca de él, y viéndole, fue movido a misericordia; y acercándose, vendó sus heridas, echándoles aceite y vino; y poniéndole en su cabalgadura, lo llevó al mesón, y cuidó de él”- Lucas 10:31-34).

(2) ¿Están ciegos y turbados cuando presentan a Jesus denigrando colectivamente a los creyentes Samaritanos, afirman que los Samaritanos ni siquiera saben quien es el Dios al cual adoran? (“Vosotros adoráis lo que no sabéis...”- Juan 4:22)

(3) ¿O están en cambio ciegos y turbados cuando afirman que, la sabiduría contenida en el Nuevo

Testamento, esta libre de toda incertidumbre? (“Pero la sabiduría que es de lo alto es primeramente pura... sin incertidumbre ni hipocresía”- Santiago 3:17)

Del mismo modo podríamos preguntar, ¿En que momento están turbados los autores del Nuevo Testamento?

(4) ¿Están turbados cuando afirman que, siendo exactamente iguales, tanto el hombre como la mujer se salvan por la fe, y sin necesidad alguna de hacer nada mas? (“... No hay varón ni mujer; porque todos vosotros sois uno en Cristo Jesús... sois salvos por medio de la fe... no por obras, para que nadie se gloríe”- Gálatas 3:28, & Efesios 2:8-9)

(5) ¿Están turbados cuando afirman que la mujer es distinta al hombre, pues no se salva por la fe, sino por ser casta y engendrar hijos? (“Pero se salvará engendrando hijos, si permaneciere en fe, amor y santificación, con modestia”- 1 Timoteo 2:15)

(6) ¿O están en cambio turbados cuando afirman que, la sabiduría contenida en el Nuevo Testamento, esta libre de toda incertidumbre? (“Pero la sabiduría que es de lo alto es primeramente pura... sin incertidumbre ni hipocresía”- Santiago 3:17)

¡Que el Dios de paz conceda paz y claridad mental a nuestros amados hermanos cristianos!

The logical reason why the Trinity dogma is such a misguided idea

The noble Christian religion claims that man was literally created in the image of God; In addition, it also claims that, just as God is [allegedly] composed of three distinctive parts (יהוה the Father, Jesus the Son, and the Holy Spirit) so is man composed of three distinctive parts (the man's body, the man's soul, and the man's spirit).

And the former would be perfectly logic, if it not were for the fact that Christianity also claims Jesus to be 100% human. What's the problem with the latter? That if Jesus was 100% human, then he must have had three distinctive parts (Jesus' body, Jesus soul', and Jesus' spirit). Thus, if Jesus is part of the Trinity, then there's no such thing as “a three part Trinity”. Why? Because the former would instead be composed of five distinctive parts:

- (1) the Father
- (2) the Holy Spirit
- (3) Jesus (the body)
- (4) Jesus (the soul)
- (5) Jesus (the spirit)

Thus, God wouldn't be a Trinity, but rather “a Pentagon” (having five separated parts). And whence we know Jesus actually had both a soul and a spirit? We know it from the Christian Scripture, when it goes on to say: “NOW IS MY SOUL TROUBLED; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour... And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, FATHER, INTO THY HANDS I COMMEND MY SPIRIT: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost”- John 12:27, & Luke 23:46 (KJV).

Curiously, Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that, if God were to be associated with a plurality, it would have to be at least a Heptagon (having seven parts). Why? Because Hebrew Scripture goes on to mention seven different spirits. As is written: “And (1) the spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, (2) the spirit of wisdom and (3) understanding, (4) the spirit of counsel, and (5) might, (6) the spirit of knowledge, and of (7) the fear of the Lord”- Isaiah 11:2, KJV.

And even the Christian writings seem to agree with this “seven spirits” interpretation, when they go on to say: «John to the seven churches which are in Asia: “Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from THE SEVEN SPIRITS WHICH ARE BEFORE HIS THRONE”»- Revelation 1:4 (KJV).

Why seven? Because יהוה is the Creator of the World (a world which was finished in SEVEN days); יהוה was the God who commanded Israel to rest on the SEVENTH day; יהוה is the God who commanded Moses to build a SEVEN branches lamp; God is the creator of the SEVEN seas; He is the creator of the SEVEN continents; He is the God who inhabited the Holy city (which was built upon SEVEN mountains), etc.

But the fact is that Hebrew Bible is clear, when it states that יהוה is a single entity; that He is no man, that He doesn't share His glory with anybody, and that there's no savior besides Him: “... Thus saith יהוה the King of Israel, and his redeemer יהוה of hosts; I AM THE FIRST (because I have no literal father), and I AM THE LAST (because I have no literal Son); and BESIDE ME THERE IS NO GOD (because I have no literal brother)... See now that I, yes, I, am he; and THERE IS NO GOD BESIDE ME (in other words, there's no one within me sharing my divine attributes)... FOR I AM GOD, AND NOT MAN; the Holy One in the midst of thee... I AM יהוה: that is my name: AND MY GLORY WILL I NOT GIVE TO ANOTHER, neither my praise... I, even I, AM יהוה; AND BESIDE ME THERE IS NO SAVIOUR”- Isaiah 44:6, Deut. 32:29, Hosea 11:9, Isaiah 42:8, Isaiah 43:11.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

If Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) took upon himself the eternal punishment [in hell] that our many sins deserved, then why isn't Jesus still being punished in hell? Wasn't our punishment supposed to be eternal?

The Noble Christian religion claims that, the reason why people die is that we've all inherited an original sin [and thereby it's deadly curse] from our first parents (Adam and Eve). In addition, it claims that our faith in Jesus atoning sacrifice removes the curse of such sin. But, if faith in Jesus cleanses the sin that makes us die, then why is it that Christian believers still die? Which sin has Jesus blood been unable to cleanse, that it's curse keeps Christian believers from overcoming physical death? Could it be instead that death was always part of God's natural order for beings made out of flesh and blood, and not the result of any [alleged] original sin?

La idolatría conduce al hombre a la mentira

Si Dios aborrece la idolatría, es solo porque sabe que, pretender que aquello que es finito e imperfecto es en realidad infinito y perfecto [a semejanza de Dios], demanda que el creyente cometa la injusticia de afirmar una falsedad (violando de ese modo el Mandamiento que le prohíbe levantar un falso testimonio). Es que Dios aborrece tanto la injusticia como la falsedad. ¿Por que? Pues porque son la antítesis de la Ley-- una Ley que representa la justicia y la verdad. Como esta escrito: “La mentira aborrezco y abomino; Tu Ley amo... Tu justicia es justicia eterna, Y tu Ley [es] la verdad"- Salmo 119:163, & 142 (RV 1960)

Así las cosas, la razón por la cual Cristianos y Musulmanes rehúsan reconocer los errores y contradicciones contenidos en las palabras adscritas a sus líderes, es la exagerada veneración que a ellos rinden-- una veneración que raya casi en la idolatría de Jesús y Muhammad (paz sea con ellos). ¿Que es idolatría? Pues adscribir infinita perfección a aquello que en realidad es finito e imperfecto. Es que, siendo confrontado con las limitaciones e imperfecciones de Jesús y Muhammad, tanto Cristianos como Musulmanes prefieren mentir [corrompiendo de ese modo sus almas], antes que “ver caer del pedestal” a la persona que es el objeto de su veneración [es decir, antes que dejar que otros descubran que su ídolo es falso, pues esta plagado de defectos y limitaciones]. Y es por esto que el Creador condena la idolatría, pues יהוה ama la verdad, y quiere que el creyente se aleje de toda mentira, evitando así la corrupción de su alma

Reformed Samaritans do not worship Jesus. Instead, they worship the God that Jesus himself worshipped (the Heavenly Father). And from whence do we know that Jesus also worshipped this God? We get it from the Christian writings, when they go on to say: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ..."- 2 Corinthians 1:3, King James Bible ¿Que enseña el Samaritanismo reformado acerca de la Vida Después de La Muerte?

La continuidad de la vida después de la muerte, es un hecho que los autores de la Escritura Hebrea siempre dieron por sentado. Siendo así las cosas, no debe sorprendernos que esta enseñanza se encuentra incluida [de forma explícita o implícita] en cada etapa del relato sagrado. Consideremos por ejemplo la siguiente Escritura: «Así ha dicho El Señor: “Voz fue oída en Ramá, llanto y lloro amargo: Raquel que lamenta por sus hijos, no quiso ser consolada acerca de sus hijos, porque perecieron”» (Jeremías 31:15).

Note que el verso NO DICE “Raquel que lamentó por sus hijos...”, sino “Raquel, que lamenta (es decir, en tiempo presente) por sus hijos...”. Pero, ¿no llevaba Raquel varios siglos de muerte para el tiempo cuando Jeremías escribe tales palabras? Si, pero aunque muerta, aún vivía, y también sentía el dolor del destierro de sus descendientes.

Del mismo modo, cuando José cuenta su sueño a su familia, les dice que sus once hermanos, su padre, y su madre, le rendirían honor [postrándose ante él] (Gen 37:9-10). ¡Pero ya en este punto Raquel había muerto!, ¿como entonces podría postrarse ante José? La respuesta es que, si bien es cierto que Raquel ya estaba muerta, esta aún vivía, y sería capaz de reconocer el mérito de su amado hijo José. En adición, describiendo la muerte de Abraham, Génesis 25:8 nos dice que Abraham fue “...reunido con su pueblo”.

Pero, ¿a que pueblo de Abraham podría este verso estar refiriéndose, si en este punto de su vida Abraham aún no se había convertido en una nación, ni ninguno de sus escasos descendientes había aún fallecido? De hecho, el verso tampoco puede referirse a una reunión física entre Abraham y su parentela humana, pues aquella estaba sepultada en Caldea, mientras que Abraham estaba siendo sepultado en Canaán. Lo que el anterior pasaje realmente intima es que, si bien el cuerpo de Abraham moriría, su espíritu iría a encontrarse con los justos que le habían precedido, y que ahora existían en una realidad que trasciende la nuestra.

¡Hay mas! Cuando Jacob va camino hacia Padan-aram, este se detiene a pasar la noche, y a dormir en un lugar que Jacob mismo llamaría “Bet El” (o, “casa de Dios”).

Una vez dormido, Jacob comienza a soñar, y ve una escalera que va, desde este mundo, hasta la presencia misma de Dios. Entonces, ve que ángeles (o “mensajeros”) ascienden desde este mundo, hacia en cielo, y luego esos mismos ángeles descienden desde el cielo hacia la tierra. Pero, ¿no es el cielo el hogar y la morada de los ángeles?

¿No debería el texto decir que los ángeles primero descendían del cielo, y luego ascendían de vuelta?

La explicación es que, el anterior relato, es una alegoría que intenta enseñarnos una verdad trascendental: En ella, Jacob representa a los justos, a los mansos que han de heredar la tierra, a aquellos que suben la escalera que les conduce a ser el Bet El (la casa o familia espiritual de Dios). El sueño de Jacob representa el sueño de la muerte, como está escrito en Daniel 12:2: “Y muchos de los que duermen en el polvo de la tierra serán despertados, unos para vida eterna y otros para vergüenza y confusión perpetua”.

El relato significa que, para estos justos, la muerte será una parte integral de su jornada. Pero, cuando esta llegue, podrán descansar en la certeza de que ascenderán, en forma angelical, a la presencia de Dios; para luego volver a este mundo, y ser los Malachim (“mensajeros”, o “ángeles”) que acompañarán a sus hijos e hijas espirituales que han quedado atrás.

Finalmente, el libro de Bereshit (Génesis 2:2) nos dice lo siguiente: “Y acabo Dios en el séptimo día la obra que hizo; y reposo el día séptimo de toda la obra que hizo”. El anterior verso nos enseña que el Creador laboró durante seis días, a fin de completar su obra de creación.

Entonces, una vez acabada su obra en este mundo, procedió a descansar. Si bien es cierto que la palabra que a menudo se traduce en este texto como “descansar” está asociada con la idea de simplemente “dejar de trabajar”, el análisis es idéntico. Hay varias preguntas que de inmediato saltan ante nuestros ojos: primero- ¿porque se nos dice que Dios acaba su obra en el séptimo día, si a la misma vez se nos dice que descansa en ese día?

La segunda pregunta, es la siguiente: ¿porque tiene Dios que descansar?; es mas ¿porque siquiera tiene que decirse que Dios termina su creación? ¿No creó Dios, siglos mas tarde, la nación de Israel?, como dice el profeta Isaías- “Este pueblo he creado para mi; mis alabanzas publicará”(Isaías 43:21).

La tercera pregunta, es la siguiente: ¿porque tenía Dios que tomar siete días para hacer su obra? ¿Porque no podía acabarla en dos días, o solo en dos horas? La respuesta a las anteriores preguntas es que, el relato de la Creación, intenta enseñarnos de forma alegórica las mismas verdades que nos han mostrado los versos que ya hemos considerado.

De hecho, al creación misma es un símbolo de la vida del hombre promedio, pues así como la obra consistió de siete días, así la vida del hombre promedio consiste de siete décadas, como está escrito: “Los días de nuestra edad son setenta años (es decir, siete décadas)”- Salmo 90:10.

El relato de la Creación nos dice que el hombre fue hecho a imagen y semejanza de Dios. Pero, como la imagen Divina que hasta ese punto nos ha presentado el relato es la única imagen que de Dios conocemos, nos vemos forzados a concluir que esa es [en sí misma] la imagen en la cual fue creado el hombre.

Es decir, así como, en cada uno de los días de su obra en este mundo, Dios hizo solamente el bien, así también el hombre (que fue creado a imagen y semejanza del Creador) está llamado a hacer solo el bien durante cada uno de los “días” que permanece obrando en este mundo; Así como Dios decía su palabra, y esta se hacía una realidad, así también el hombre está llamado a tener “palabra de honor” [comprometiéndose con respaldar con acciones la palabra que ha emitido];

Así como el descanso Divino es considerado parte integral del proceso creador, así también el descanso humano [de la muerte] es considerado parte integral del proceso de la creación del hombre;

Así como, al final, Dios cesó de obrar en este mundo, para entrar en el reposo eterno, así también el hombre, al final dejará también de obrar en este mundo, para entrar en el reposo eterno; Así como, el que Dios cesara de obrar en este mundo, no significa que hubiese dejado de existir, así también el que el hombre cese su obra en este mundo, no significa que vaya a dejar de existir.

What is the purpose of Torah's theology?

Reformed Samaritanism posits that Hebrew Bible's theology isn't an end in itself. Rather, it is a tool for understanding a Supreme moral truth-- that יהוה [the Lord God of Israel, blessed be He] wants us to serve and love Him by "sowing" goodness upon our fellow creatures.

In other words, He wants us to treat our neighbors just as we would like others to treat us (in a balanced, just, merciful, humble, and considerate fashion).

Why? Because God's perfect judgment consists of letting every man "reap" the same goodness [or evil] he has willingly [and voluntarily] planted upon his fellow creatures.

And the goodness that pleases the Almighty is concisely summarized by the Ten Laws God personally wrote upon the two stone tablets given to Moses. Thus, as long as we abide within the moral boundary delimited by those Ten Laws, we will remain free.

Why? Because those ten Laws constitute "the moral frontier" of the Holy land; the spiritual land wherein the Almighty wants His people to permanently dwell.

Therefore, when a Hebrew believer opts to go beyond the moral frontier marked by God's Ten Laws [persisting in the open violation of the commandments] he places himself in a moral and spiritual exile (which is but the prelude of the physical exile, and the psychological enslavement that invariably results from our willful abandonment of God's Law).

As is written: "But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee... The Lord shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies... and shalt be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth... Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, but thou shalt not enjoy them; for they shall go into captivity... he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail"- Deuteronomy 28:15, 25, 41, & 44 (King James Version)

Who is a Hebrew believer?

There has been considerable debate about who is a Hebrew believer. Is this process determined by blood, by religion, or by both? For those who follow Reformed Samaritanism, the issue has been settled on the basis of one's loyalty and belief. In fact, Reformed Samaritanism is quite clear:

"Whoever repudiates Idolatry, embraces Torah, and recognizes יהוה (Adonay Yah, blessed be He) as his supreme God, King, Lord and Savior, is accounted as a Hebrew Believer".

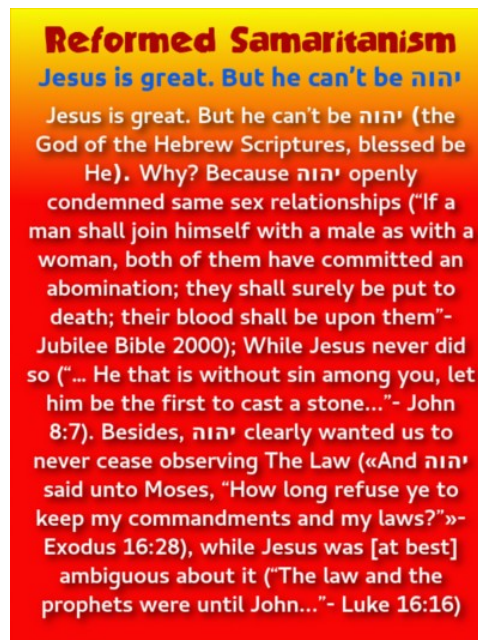

Therefore, it is clear that ANYONE who renounces idolatry, is indeed a Hebrew believer (and therefore part of God's "Israel"). In other words, there are only two camps in the Biblical world-- those who renounce false gods and are loyal to the moral lifestyle prescribed by Torah (Hebrews), and those who deny Adonai, and are loyal to false gods and false morality (Idolaters). In short, to be "Israel" is to be the kind of person who refuses to embrace anything that denies, opposes, replaces, undermines, and/or contradict the words and/or moral principles outlined by God's Law.

¿Es cierto que Jesús ha de juzgar a todos los seres humanos?

¿Será acaso cierto que, como reclaman nuestros amados hermanos Cristianos, el Dios de Israel ha dado todo el Juicio a Jesús (“Porque el Padre a nadie juzga, sino que todo el juicio dio al Hijo, para que todos honren al Hijo como honran al Padre. El que no honra al Hijo, no honra al Padre que le envió”- Juan 5:22-23, Biblia Reina Valera 1960)?

Estimados hermanos y hermanas, el Samaritanismo reformado enseña que Jesús (paz y bendición sean con el) enseñaba las grandes verdades éticas y morales de la Ley Divina utilizando el recurso de las parábolas y las alegorías (“Todo esto habló Jesús por parábolas a la gente, y sin parábolas no les hablaba”- Mateo 13:34). De este modo, nada de lo que se le atribuye al Galileo puede ser tomado en un sentido estrictamente literal, pues de lo contrario caeríamos en serias y graves contradicciones. Por ejemplo, aunque el pasaje en Juan 5:22-23 aparenta indicar que Jesús poseía la autoridad de juzgar todo [y a todos], eso no era literalmente cierto. ¿Por qué? Pues porque, aunque Jesús era en efecto una figura excitante y maravillosa, la dura realidad era que, si bien El Dios de Israel tenía toda potestad para juzgar a todo y a todos, el maestro de Galilea no tenía potestad para siquiera juzgar un caso menor de herencia.

Como esta escrito: «Le dijo uno de la multitud: “Maestro, di a mi hermano que parta conmigo la herencia”. Mas él le dijo: “Hombre, ¿quién me ha puesto sobre vosotros como juez o partidor?”»- Lucas 12:13-14, Biblia Reina Valera 1960.

Though well intended, “Salvation by faith” is a false and pagan doctrine, as both Moses and Jesus taught salvation is the result of submitting to God’s will, doing the works of loving kindness that are pleasing before His eyes

Whence do we get that Moses preached “salvation by works”? We get it from the verse where he taught the reason neither Moabites nor Ammonites would be allowed to enter into “the Lord’s assembly” [thereby becoming part of God’s Holy People] was their refusal to feed the hungry and the thirsty.

As is written: “AN AMMONITE OR MOABITE SHALL NOT ENTER INTO THE CONGREGATION OF THE LORD; even to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the congregation of the Lord for ever: [Why?...] BECAUSE THEY MET YOU NOT WITH BREAD AND WITH WATER IN THE WAY, WHEN YE CAME FORTH [HUNGRY AND THIRSTY] OUT OF EGYPT..."- Deuteronomy 23:3-5, KJV Bible.

And whence do we get Jesus too preached "salvation by works"? We get it from the verse where he taught the reason for the nations not to be allowed to enter into the assembly of the righteous will be their refusal to feed the hungry and the thirsty.

As is written: "... Come, ye blessed of my Father, INHERIT THE KINGDOM PREPARED FOR YOU FROM THE FOUNDATION OF THE WORLD: FOR I WAS HUNGRY, AND YE GAVE ME TO EAT; I WAS THIRSTY, AND YE GAVE ME DRINK; I was a stranger, and ye took me in; naked, and ye clothed me; I was sick, and ye visited me; I was in prison, and ye came unto me...

... DEPART FROM ME, YE CURSED, INTO THE ETERNAL FIRE WHICH IS PREPARED FOR THE DEVIL AND HIS ANGELS: FOR I WAS HUNGRY, AND YE DID NOT GIVE ME TO EAT; I WAS THIRSTY, AND YE GAVE ME NO DRINK; I was a stranger, and ye took me not in; naked, and ye clothed me not; sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not"- Matthew 25:34-36, & 41-43 (American Standard Version).

Samaritanismo Reformado

Nadie que posea un sabio, maduro, y sensato intelecto aceptaría jamás la idea de que, el Creador del Universo [aquel Dios omnipotente que es infinitamente poderoso, perfecto, e ilimitado], pueda ser tentado a postrarse en adoración y pleitesía ante ninguna de sus débiles, imperfectas, y limitadas criaturas [¡reconociendo así la superioridad de estas últimas!]. Y es por ello que, aunque considerado un válido mensajero de Dios para el mundo, el Samaritanismo Reformado rechaza la idea de que Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) halla sido [literalmente] el Creador. Es que el evangelio cita al Nazareno [el alegado Creador] siendo tentado por Satanás [una de sus alegadas criaturas]. Como esta escrito: «Otra vez le llevó el Diablo a un monte muy alto...y le dijo: "Todo esto te daré, si postrado me adorares"»- Mateo 4:8-9. ¿Y que razón hay para considerar a Jesús como un válido mensajero? Pues el que confesó su personal compromiso con adorar y servir al Dios de Israel (יהוה); tal y como ordena la Ley a los creyentes [en Deuteronomio 6:13]: «Jesús le dijo: "Vete, Satanás, porque escrito está: 'Al Señor tu Dios adorarás, y a Él sólo servirás' "»- Mateo 4:10. Así pues, independientemente de cuales hallan sido sus reclamos Mesiánicos [o de cual halla sido su realidad histórica], el Samaritanismo Reformado endosa todo palabra adscrita al Nazareno, siempre y cuando esta última este en armonía con el mensaje de obediencia y sumisión eterna a la Ley Divina

In short, a wise and mature believer will have no problem understanding that God's own religion is "results oriented". Thus, the things that really mater in the eyes of the Almighty isn't the words that we speak (the theology we claim to follow), but rather the things that we do (our acts of loving kindness). Why? Because nature teaches that, "the tree can be known by it's fruits".

And the former is such a paramount truth, that even the Christian writings bears witness to it, when they go on to say:

"Beloved, imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. HE THAT DOETH GOOD IS OF GOD: HE THAT DOETH EVIL HATH NOT SEEN GOD"- 3 John 1:11. And they also say, "FOR THERE IS NO GOOD TREE THAT BRINGETH FORTH CORRUPT FRUIT; NOR AGAIN A CORRUPT TREE THAT BRINGETH FORTH GOOD FRUIT. For each tree is known by its own fruit. FOR OF THORNS MEN DO NOT GATHER FIGS, NOR OF A BRAMBLE BUSH GATHER THEY GRAPES”- Luke 6:43-44 (American Standard Version)

Reformed Samaritanism
Public Confession of Faith

What must a man do, in order to abandon the path of error in which he has been wrongly instructed, returning instead to the Path of the pure, clear, and simple faith in God's Holy Law? First of all, he must renounce to self deception and wickedness, confessing his sins and submitting himself to the will of יהוה (Adonai Yah, the God of Abraham, blessed be He) by making the following public confession:

«Oh יהוה (Adonai Yah), Lord God of Abraham, I bear witness that there's no other God, King nor Savior greater than you; I bear witness that there's no prophet greater than our master Moses; nor is there any other Law greater than Your Ten Sayings (or Commandments); I bear witness that there's no other Scripture greater than Moses Five Books of Torah; nor is there other people greater than the ancient Hebrew believers. And I bear witness that no theology is greater, more truthful, more meaningful, nor more just than "the Law of Measure for Measure" (also know as "The Law of Sowing and Reaping")- to reward each person with the same measure of goodness he has bestowed upon his fellow human beings [by means of his free and voluntary actions]; and to punish each person with the same measure of evil he has bestowed upon his fellow human beings [without ever repenting from it]. I thank you heavenly Father, for you have seen my tears, and heard my prayer, thereby forgiving all my sins. And I also thank you for making me as of today part of your chosen People; the Holy people of God allegorically portrayed by the ancient Nation of Israel. Amen»

El paganismo que sutilmente corrompe la noble fe Cristiana

El Cristianismo es una muy buena y noble religión, pues exhorta a los hombres a proceder al arrepentimiento. Pero, desafortunadamente, la noble teología Cristiana es enfermiza y extraviada. Y esto último no sería un grave problema, si no fuese por el hecho de que el orgullo que surge de su supremacismo teológico, impide al Cristiano promedio ser lo suficientemente humilde [y honesto] como para reconocer este problema.

¿Que hace que la teología Cristiana sea enfermiza y extraviada? Pues el hecho de que, desde su temprano comienzo, ha sido corrompida con la pagana idea de que el Creador del Universo (bendito sea) es un ser de carne y hueso llamado Jesús de Nazaret; un hombre que [aunque santo y noble], es un hombre finito, mortal, y limitado-- que necesita crecer y aprender sabiduría; que pasa su juventud como cualquier otro varón [teniendo "sueños mojados" con emisión involuntaria de semen]; que suda, se cansa, necesita comida, se levanta con mal aliento, orina, y tiene que deshacerse del excremento que llena su vientre.

¡No en balde tanto los demonios como los espíritus inmundos predicán esta blasfema e inmundada doctrina! Como esta escrito: «Y los espíritus inmundos, al verle, se postraban delante de él, y daban voces, diciendo: "Tú eres el Hijo de Dios" [¡y por ende igual a Dios!].... Por esto los judíos aún más procuraban matarle, porque no solo quebrantaba el día de reposo, sino que también decía que Dios era su propio Padre, haciéndose igual a Dios... También salían demonios de muchos, dando voces y diciendo: “Tú eres el Hijo de Dios”... Aconteció que mientras íbamos a la oración, nos salió al encuentro una muchacha que tenía espíritu de adivinación, la cual daba gran ganancia a sus amos, adivinando. Esta, siguiendo a Pablo y a nosotros, daba voces, diciendo: Estos hombres son siervos del Dios Altísimo, quienes os anuncian el camino de salvación»- Marcos 3:11, Juan 5:18, Lucas 4:41, y Hechos 16:16-17.

Pero la Escritura Hebrea enseña en cambio que el Dios de Israel no es hombre alguno (“... porque Dios soy, y no hombre, el Santo en medio de ti ...”- Osea 11:9), y que la religión que Dios anhela que sigamos es el arrepentimiento, así como la justicia, la misericordia, y la humildad que surgen de la obediencia a Su Pacto (los Diez mandamientos ordenados a Moisés sobre las dos tablas de Piedra). Como esta escrito:

«Si se humillare mi pueblo, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y oraren, y buscaren mi rostro, y se convirtieren de sus malos caminos; entonces yo oiré desde los cielos, y perdonaré sus pecados, y sanaré su tierra... aprended a hacer el bien; buscad el juicio, restituid al agraviado, haced justicia al huérfano, amparad a la viuda. Venid luego, dice יהוה, y estemos a cuenta: si vuestros pecados fueren como la grana, como la nieve serán emblanquecidos; si fueren rojos como el carmesí, vendrán a ser como blanca lana... Oh hombre, Él te ha declarado lo que es bueno, y qué pide יהוה de ti: solamente hacer justicia, y amar misericordia, y humillarte ante tu Dios... Y Él os anunció Su Pacto, el cual os mandó poner por obra; los Diez Mandamientos, y los escribió en dos tablas de piedra... El fin de todo el discurso oído es este: “Teme a Dios, y guarda sus mandamientos”; porque esto es el todo del hombre. Porque Dios traerá toda obra a juicio, juntamente con toda cosa encubierta, sea buena o sea mala... como tú hiciste, se hará contigo; tu recompensa volverá sobre tu cabeza... le castigaré por su conducta, y le pagaré conforme a sus obras» 2 Crónicas 7:14, Isaías 1:17-18. Miqueas 6:8, Deuteronomio 4:13, Eclesiastés 12:13-14, Abdías 1:15, Oseas 4:9 (Biblia Reina Valera, 1960). Y el que Jesús no sea Dios, y el que la verdadera religión sea guardar los Diez mandamientos, son verdades tan grandes e innegables que hasta el mismo Jesús es citado cofesándolas. ¿Donde? Pues en los escritos Cristianos que dicen: «Él (Jesús) le dijo: “¿Por qué me llamas bueno? Ninguno hay bueno sino uno: Dios. Mas si quieres entrar en la vida, guarda los mandamientos”. Le dijo: “¿Cuáles?” Y Jesús dijo: “No matarás. No adulterarás. No hurtarás. No dirás falso testimonio. Honra a tu padre y a tu madre; y, Amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo”»- Mateo 19:17-19, R.V 1960.

El Evangelio Cristiano es emocionalmente arrollador, pero teológicamente errado

El Evangelio cristiano es emocionalmente inspirador. Pero, desafortunadamente, debemos ser sumamente cuidadosos con su lectura. ¿Por que? Pues porque afirma cosas que son abiertamente opuestas a lo claramente revelado por Dios a Moisés. Por ejemplo, el Evangelio presenta a un ángel de Dios ordenando a José (un Israelita) llevar a Egipto tanto a Jesús como a María: «Después que partieron ellos, he aquí un ángel del Señor apareció en sueños a José y dijo: “Levántate y toma al niño y a su madre, y huye a Egipto”»- Mateo 2:13.

Pero un ángel de Dios nunca habría ordenado tal cosa, pues Dios había prohibido a los Israelitas que regresaran jamás a Egipto: «Y [en castigo] Dios te hará volver a Egipto en naves, por el camino del cual te ha dicho: “Nunca mas volverás”; y allí seréis vendidos a vuestros enemigos por esclavos y por esclavas, y no habrá quien os compre»- Deut. 28:68.

Y esta casi demás decir que el Dios de Israel no es un hombre (imperfecto), para que mienta, o para que deje de cumplir lo que ha salido de su boca (“Porque yo יהוה no cambio... Dios no es hombre, para que mienta, Ni hijo de hombre para que se arrepienta. Él dijo, ¿y no hará? Habló, ¿y no lo ejecutará... Además, el que es la Gloria de Israel no mentará, ni se arrepentirá, porque no es hombre para que se arrepienta”- Malaquías 3:6, Números 23:19, & 1 Samuel 15:29).

How can we know if the religion we follow pleases the Creator?

In what sense are most modern versions of Judaism, Christianity and Islam “pagan”? Well, in that “they strain out the mosquito, but swallow the camel”. As it is written: “Woe to you...because you tithe mint and dill and cumin, and leave the most important.... justice, mercy and faith... Blind guides, who strain out the gnat and swallow the camel!”- Matthew 23:23-24.

In other words, my religion is pagan if it’s emphasis is not upon what matters most to the Creator (that we live the ethical and moral lifestyle that pleases Him), but rather upon what He considers to be of secondary importance (to have “the right theology”, although this doesn’t translate into a life of love and holiness).

And why does God want us to live an ethical and moral lifestyle [a life of justice and mercy]? Well, because if there’s something the Eternal wants us to glory upon, it isn’t knowing what the identity of the Messiah is, nor in knowing which religious organization has the most precise theology; it is instead to understand that the Most High wants us to embrace a life of justice, mercy, and humility. As it is written: “But let him who should praise himself praise himself in this: in understanding me and knowing me, that I am יהוה (Adonai), who do mercy, judgment and justice on earth; because these things I want [men to do], says יהוה ”- Jeremiah 9:24.

And as it is also said in another place: “O man, He has declared to you what is good, and what does יהוה ask of you? Only to do justice, and to love [to do] mercy, and to humble yourself before your God”- Micah 6:8.

And finally says, “He judged [with mercy and justice] the cause of the afflicted and needy, and then he was well. Isn’t this knowing me? says יהוה”- Jeremiah 22:16.

And that the purpose of God’s Law is that we live the ethical and moral lifestyle that arises from our love of God and our neighbor, is also taught in the Christian writings, when they go on to say: «... What is the great commandment in the Law? Jesus told him, “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind”. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is similar: “You shall love your neighbor as yourself”. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the prophets”- Matthew 22:36-40....

... “And if I had prophecy, and understood all [theological] mysteries...and I have no love, I am nothing”- 1 Corinthians 13:2...

... “For: You shall not commit adultery, you shall not kill, you shall not steal, you shall not bear false witness, you shall not covet, and any other commandment, in this sentence is summed up: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself’. Love does not harm the neighbor; therefore, the fulfillment of the Law is love”- Romans 13:9-10...

... “If you know that He is righteous, know also that everyone who does justice is born of Him”- 1 John 2:29... “In this the children of God and the children of the devil are manifested: everyone who does not do justice, and who does not love his brother, is not of God... We know that we have passed from death to life, in that we love the brothers. He who does not love his brother remains in death”- 1 John 3:10 & 14.

Reformed Samaritanism is to believe that “Sowing And Reaping” is God’s supreme message not only for Jews and Christians, but also for all Mankind. Whence do we know it? We know it from the Scripture, when it goes on to say:

«But Adonibezek [a Pagan Gentile] fled; and they pursued after him, and caught him, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes. And Adonibezek said, ‘Threescore and ten kings, having their thumbs and their great toes cut off, gathered their meat under my table: “As I have done, so God hath required me...

... As thy sword hath made women childless, so shall thy mother be childless among women...

... Thus says the Lord, ‘You abandoned me, so I have abandoned you’...

... As they did unto me, so have I done unto them... As you have done, it will be done to you...

.. For with the judgment you pronounce you will be judged, and with the measure you use it will be measured to you...

... As I have seen, those who plow iniquity and sow harm, reap them... but those who plant righteousness are truly rewarded...

... Plant the good seeds of righteousness, and you will reap a crop of my love; plow the hard ground of your hearts, for now is the time to seek the Lord...»

-- Judges 1:6-7, 1 Samuel 15:33 (King James Bible JB), 2 Chronicles 12:5 (English Standard Version), Judges 15:11 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition), Obadiah 1:15 (Christian Standard Bible), Matthew 7:2 (English Standard version), Job 4:8 (Tree of Life Version), Proverbs 11:18 (International Standard version), & Hosea 10:12 (Living Bible)

Hebrew Scripture teaches that, to worship a god consisting of three different persons, is tantamount to spiritual fornication

“I WILL TAKE YOU TO BE MY WIFE FOREVER. I will take you to be my wife in righteousness, justice, love, and compassion. I WILL TAKE YOU TO BE MY WIFE IN FAITHFULNESS, and you will know יהוה (the Lord)... Go and announce directly to Jerusalem that this is what יהוה (the Lord) says: I REMEMBER THE LOYALTY OF YOUR YOUTH, YOUR LOVE AS A BRIDE— how you followed me in the wilderness...,”- Hosea 2: 19-20, Jeremiah 2:2

Scripture equates the relationship between יהוה and his People with the marriage relationship that exists between a man and a woman. Thus, when the believer worships some other god in addition to יהוה, Scripture labels such conduct as spiritual “fornication” (or “adultery”).

As it is written: “And יהוה said to Moses: Behold, you go to sleep with your fathers, and THIS PEOPLE WILL RISE UP AND FORNIFICATE AFTER OTHER GODS...”- Deut. 31:16.

Who can persuade the People to fornicate with another god? Well, anyone who is as shrewd, cunning, and manipulative as Queen Jezebel was. You see, Jezebel seduced the believers to worship “Baal”. What does the word “Baal” mean? It means “Lord”!

In other words, when Jezebel exhorted the Israelites to worship “Baal”, she [misleadingly] exhorted them to worship the “Lord”. And what Israelite could be so wicked and brazen as to refuse to worship the Lord?

Well, the truth of the matter is that few Israelites were astute enough to perceive Jezebel's subtle deception. You see, the “Lord” preached by Jezebel did not demand the same obedience to the Law demanded by the “Lord” who brought Israel out of Egypt.

As is written: “AND THEY LEFT יהוה (ABANDONING HIS LAW), AND WORSHIPED BAAL...” - Judges 2:13); The “Lord” preached by Jezebel accepted human sacrifices, while the Lord of Israel did not accept them (“And they built high places to Baal, TO BURN THEIR SONS WITH FIRE AS HOLOCAUSTS TO BAAL HIMSELF; WHICH THING I DID NOT COMMAND THEM, NOR DID I SPEAK, NOR DID IT OCCUR TO ME”- Jeremiah 19:5); Jezebel's “Lord” allowed his followers to make images of him, while Israel's “Lord” forbade his People from doing so (“LEST YOU CORRUPT YOURSELVES AND MAKE FOR YOURSELVES SCULPTURE, IMAGE OF ANY FIGURE, EFFIGY OF MALE OR FEMALE... After this all THE PEOPLE ENTERED THE TEMPLE OF BAAL, and tore it down, and also its altars, AND SMASHED ITS IMAGES TO PIECES”- Deut. 4:6, & 2 Chronicles 23:17).

Curiously, if the Law used marriage in order to foreshadowed the relationship between God and His People, it was precisely because God's Law forbade a woman to be married [at the same time] to more than one person.

Thus, the person who serves the God of Israel cannot worship a god that consists of more than one person [as would be the case with the god preached by Christianity, who consists of three different persons-- the person of the Father, the person of the Son , and the person of the Holy Spirit]. Why can't the person do it? Because it would amount to spiritual fornication-- a brazen violation of that which is clearly commanded by the God of Israel.

As is written: «I said to her, “You are to live with me many days. YOU MUST NOT BE PROMISCUOUS OR BELONG TO ANY MAN, AND I WILL ACT THE SAME WAY TOWARD YOU”. FOR THE ISRAELITES MUST LIVE MANY DAYS WITHOUT king or prince, without sacrifice or sacred pillar, and without ephod or HOUSEHOLD IDOLS. AFTERWARD [BY DOING SO], THE PEOPLE OF ISRAEL WILL RETURN AND SEEK יהוה THEIR GOD...”»- Hosea 3:1-5 (Christian Standard Bible).

La Escritura Hebrea enseña que, adorar a un dios trino, es cometer fornicación espiritual

“Y te desposaré conmigo para siempre; te desposaré conmigo en justicia, juicio, benignidad y misericordia. Y te desposaré conmigo en fidelidad, y conocerás a יהוה... Me he acordado de ti, de la fidelidad de tu juventud, del amor de tu desposorio, cuando andabas en pos de mí en el desierto, en tierra no sembrada”- Oseas 2:19-20, Jeremías 2:2

La Escritura equipara la relación entre יהוה y su Pueblo con la relación matrimonial que existe entre un hombre y una mujer. Así, cuando el creyente adora a algún otro dios en adición a יהוה, la Escritura tilda tal conducta de “fornicación” (o “adulterio”) espiritual. Como esta escrito: “Y יהוה dijo a Moisés: He aquí, tú vas a dormir con tus padres, y este pueblo se levantará y fornicará tras los dioses ajenos...”- Deut. 31:16.

¿Quien puede persuadir al Pueblo a fornicar con otro dios? Pues cualquier que sea tan sagaz, astuto, y manipulador como lo fue la reina Jezabel.

Es que Jezabel seducía a los creyentes a adorar a “Baal”. ¿Que significaba “Baal”. Pues significaba “Señor”. En otras palabras, cuando Jezabel exhortaba a los Israelitas a adorar al “Baal”, les exhortando [engañosamente] a adorar al “Señor”.

¿Quien podría ser tan impío como para negarse a adorar al Señor? Pues la realidad es que pocos Israelitas fueron lo suficientemente astutos como para percibir el sutil engaño de Jezabel. Es que el “Señor” predicado por Jezabel no demandaba la misma obediencia a la Ley que demandaba el “Señor” que había sacado a Israel de Egipto (“Y dejaron a יהוה (abandonando la Ley), y adoraron a Baal...”- Jueces 2:13); El “Señor” de Jezabel aceptaba sacrificios humanos, mientras que el Señor de Israel no los acepta (“Y edificaron lugares altos a Baal, para quemar con fuego a sus hijos en holocaustos al mismo Baal; cosa que no les mandé, ni hablé, ni me vino al pensamiento”- Jeremías 19:5); El “señor” de Jezabel permitía que se hiciesen imágenes de su persona, pero el ‘Señor’ de Israel prohibía a su Pueblo hiciese imagen alguna de ella deidad (“para que no os corrompáis y hagáis para vosotros escultura, imagen de figura alguna, efigie de varón o hembra... Después de esto entró todo el pueblo en el templo de Baal, y lo derribaron, y también sus altares; e hicieron pedazos sus imágenes”- Deut. 4:6, & 2 Crónicas 23:17).

Curiosamente, si la Ley prefiguraba la relación entre Dios y su Pueblo por medio de un matrimonio, era precisamente porque la Ley prohibía que una mujer estuviese casada [a la misma vez] con mas de una persona. Así, la persona que sirve al Dios de Israel no puede adorar a un dios que consista de mas de una persona [como seria el dios postulado por el cristianismo, quien consiste de tres personas distintas-- la persona del Padre, la persona del hijo, y la persona del Espíritu Santo]. ¿Por que no puede hacerlo? Pues porque ello implica el adulterio y la fornicación espiritual, los cuales son una clara violación de lo expresamente prohibido por el Creador. Como esta escrito: “Ve, ama a una mujer amada de su compañero, aunque adúltera, como el amor de יהוה para con los hijos de Israel, los cuales miran a dioses ajenos... Y le dije: Tú serás mía durante muchos días; no fornicarás, ni tomarás otro varón; lo mismo haré yo contigo.... Mi pueblo a su ídolo de madera pregunta, y el leño (¿el madero de la cruz?) le responde; porque espíritu de fornicaciones lo hizo errar, y dejaron a su Dios para fornicar”- Oseas 3:1-3, & 4:12 (Reina Valera 1960)

The grave deception behind the idea that “without bloodshed, there is no remission of sins”

The noble apostle Paul erred badly, when stating that “without bloodshed, there is no remission of sins”. As it is Written: “... and without bloodshed there is no remission”- Hebrew 9:22. And what was the cause for him to err so badly? The reason was that he stubbornly disregarded the many cases where the Hebrew Scripture depicts God as forgiving people’s sin without the need for any bloodshed.

And the classic example is the inhabitants of Nineveh, to whom God granted full forgiveness, without the need of blood; but rather in response to a sincere act of repentance (“And God saw what they did, that they turned from their evil way; and He repented of the evil that he had said he would do them, and he did not do it”- Jonah 3:10).

In fact, Hebrew Scripture teaches that, if the Israelites were to find themselves exiled from their land [and therefore far from the Holy Temple, which was the only place where they were authorized to offer atoning sacrifices], they could always confess their wickedness, and turn back to God. And, if they were to do such a thing, they could be assured that God would forgive their faults, and pardon their sins; even if it was impossible for such repentance to be accompanied by an atoning sacrifice. As it is written: «If they sin against you... and you hand them over before the enemy, to be captive and take them to an enemy land... if they turn, and pray to you in the land of those who captivated them, and say: “We sinned, we have done evil, we have committed impiety”; and if they turn to you with all their hearts and with all their souls...and pray to you with their faces toward their land...

and toward the house that I have built for your name, you will hear in heaven...and you will forgive your people who had sinned against you, and all their transgressions with which they have rebelled against you...”- 1 Kings 8:46-50.

Not only does God's Law state that atonement can be obtained without the shedding of blood, but it can be obtained with something as simple as an incense offering. As is written: “And Moses said unto Aaron, Take a censer, and put fire therein from off the altar, and put on incense, and go quickly unto the congregation, and make an atonement for them. And Aaron took as Moses commanded, and ran into the midst of the congregation; and, behold, the plague was begun among the people: and he put on incense, and made an atonement for the people”- Numbers 16:46-47.

Why can temple incense atone for our sins? Simply because the former was a symbol of the sincere prayer [of contrition], which equals in merit to all incense and sacrifices offered in the Temple. As is written: “Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense; and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice”- Psalm 141:2, KJV.

In short, God’s mercy towards human beings is freely available to all; there are no strings attached to it; no need to believe in any particular sacrifice (blood sacrifice, guilt sacrifice, burnt sacrifice, etc), any particular religion (Judaism, Samaritanism, Christianity, Islam, etc), nor any particular person (Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, Joseph smith, Ellen G. White, etc)-- all you need to do in order to receive forgiveness is to repent from your evil (pride, deception, immorality, injustice, cruelty, etc), and start practicing the goodness commanded by the Almighty upon the two stone tablets.

As is written: “The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise... Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man [there’s nothing else!]”- Psalm 51:17, Ecclesiastes 12:13, KJV.

Finally, the man [or institution] that insists upon rejecting God’s freely available mercy [in order to condition it to our acceptance of a particular creed, a particular nation, or a particular person], simply follows a vain illusion. As is written: “Those that observe lying vanities forsake His mercy”- Jubilee Bible 2000

Teme a Dios y guarda su Diez mandamientos, pues este es el todo del hombre; todo lo demás, no es sino accesorio

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que Dios no juzga a la persona por la buena [o mala] teología que pueda esbozar, sino por el bien [o mal] que escoge hacer con tal teología. En otras palabras, ¿utiliza tal persona su teología como un instrumento para mentir? ¿la utiliza para manipular? ¿Para elevarse a si misma? ¿Para subyugar y explotar al prójimo? ¿Para obtener ganancia personal? ¿Para adelantar agendas privadas, oscuras, y/o dudosas?

Es que el Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que el árbol se identifica por el fruto que produce; ya que Creador no juzga a la persona en base a las cosas que dice, sino en base a lo que hace-- sus justas [o injustas] acciones.

Como tambien adscriben los escritos Cristianos al maestro de Galilea, cuando le citan diciendo: «Pero ¿qué os parece? Un hombre tenía dos hijos, y acercándose al primero, le dijo: “Hijo, ve hoy a trabajar en mi viña”. Respondiendo él, dijo: “No quiero”; pero después, arrepentido, fue. Y acercándose al otro, le dijo de la misma manera; y respondiendo él, dijo: “Sí, señor, voy.” Y no fue. ¿Cuál de los dos hizo la voluntad de su padre? Dijeron ellos: “El primero”»- Mateo 21:28-31.

Y como tambien confirma la Escritura que dice: «¿No es que [en vez de tener buena teología] partas tu pan con el hambriento, y a los pobres errantes albergues en casa; que cuando veas al desnudo, lo cubras, y no te escondas de tu hermano? Entonces nacerá tu luz como el alba, y tu salvación se dejará ver pronto; e irá tu justicia delante de ti, y la gloria de יהוה será tu retaguardia. Entonces invocarás, y te oirá יהוה; clamarás, y dirá Él: “Heme aquí”. Si quitares de en medio de ti el yugo, el dedo amenazador, y el hablar vanidad; y si dieres tu pan al hambriento, y saciases al alma afligida, en las tinieblas nacerá tu luz, y tu oscuridad será como el mediodía. יהוה te pastoreará siempre, y en las sequías saciará tu alma, y dará vigor a tus huesos; y serás como huerto de riego, y como manantial de aguas, cuyas aguas nunca faltan... Decid al justo que le irá bien, porque comerá de los frutos de sus manos”- Isaías 58:7-11, & 3:10.

En fin, que la Escritura muestra con claridad meridiana que, mas que tener “buena teología”, el creyente debe procurar tener “buenas obras”. ¿Y como prevenimos el desviarnos de la senda del bien? ¡Pues muy sencillo! Vera usted, hay dos cosas que la Ley Divina demanda por encima de todas las cosas. Y, mientras permanezcamos firmes en estas dos cosas, tendremos asegurada la bendición, la victoria, y la libertad:

- (1) Que temamos y obedezcamos solamente a יהוה (el Creador, bendito sea);
- (2) Que guardemos solamente los mandamientos de יהוה (y no los de nadie mas), tal y como fueron escritos sobre las dos tablas de piedra dadas a Moisés [pues estos últimos son el verdadero pacto de Dios con su Pueblo].

Y la Escritura confirma lo anterior cuando dice:

-- «El fin de todo el discurso oído es este: “Teme a יהוה” [No a Jesús, Allah, Krishna, ni Aura Mazda], y guarda sus mandamientos; porque esto es el todo del hombre... A יהוה tu Dios temerás, y a Él sólo servirás... Y todo lo que os he dicho, guardadlo. Y nombre de otros dioses no mentaréis, ni se oirá de vuestra boca»- Eclesiastés 12:13, Deuteronomio 6:13, Éxodo 23:13

– “Y Él [יהוה] os anunció su Pacto, el cual os mandó poner por obra; los Diez Mandamientos, y los escribió en dos tablas de piedra... Nunca se apartará de tu boca este libro de la Ley, sino que de día y de noche meditarás en él, para que guardes y hagas conforme a todo lo que en él está escrito; porque entonces harás prosperar tu camino, y todo te saldrá bien... Guardaré tu Ley siempre, Para siempre y eternamente. Y andaré en libertad, Porque busqué tus mandamientos”- Deuteronomio 4:13, Josué 1:8, Salmo 119:44-45.

La mujer que pretende actuar como si fuese “Suprema Sacerdotisa del Altísimo” (dictando el culto y la enseñanza que deben seguir los creyentes), se constituye a sí misma en una Jezabel espiritual

Nuestros amados hermanos adventistas siguen los escritos y las enseñanzas de la Sra. Elena G. De White (que en paz descansa), lo cual [desafortunadamente] prueba que, aunque en la practica afirman creer en la Escritura, con sus hechos lo niegan. ¿Por que? Pues porque ninguna mujer escribió libro alguno del “Viejo Testamento”.

De igual modo, ninguna mujer escribió libro alguno del “Nuevo testamento”. No solamente esto, sino que el mismo apostol Pablo prohíbe a la mujer enseñar y/o ejercer autoridad alguna sobre el hombre (“La mujer aprenda en silencio, con toda sujeción. Porque no permito a la mujer enseñar, ni ejercer dominio sobre el hombre, sino estar en silencio.

Porque Adán fue formado primero, después Eva; y Adán no fue engañado, sino que la mujer, siendo engañada, incurrió en transgresión... vuestras mujeres callen en las congregaciones; porque no les es permitido hablar, sino que estén sujetas, como también la Ley lo dice..." - 1 Timoteo 2:11-14, 1 Corintios 14:34). De hecho, la Sra. de White enseñó a sus seguidores a creer en la Trinidad (adorando a tres personas distintas-- El Padre, el Hijo, y el Espíritu Santo); algo que la Escritura hebrea tildó de "fornicación espiritual". De este modo, el evangelio Cristiano condena a la Sra. De White, quien haciéndose pasar por profetiza, violó lo ordenado por Dios tanto en el Viejo como el Nuevo Testamento, enseñando a sus seguidores a cometer fornicación espiritual. Como está escrito: "Pero tengo unas pocas cosas contra ti: que toleras que esa mujer Jezabel, que se dice profetisa, enseñe y seduzca a mis siervos a fornicar..." - Apocalipsis 2:20

La Sagrada Fe Del Samaritanismo Reformado

La pagana rebeldía de obstinarse en afirmar que Jesús de Nazaret era un hombre sin pecados

Si la Ley Divina afirma que no existe hombre alguno sin pecado ("Ciertamente no hay hombre justo en la tierra, que haga el bien y nunca peque" - Eclesiastés 7:20, Biblia Reina Valera 1960; "¿Qué vale el hombre, nacido de mujer, para creerse limpio y alegar ser inocente? Si Dios ni en sus ángeles confía, y a sus ojos ni los cielos están limpios" - Job 15:14-15, Reina Valera Contemporánea), y entonces viene el Evangelio y pretende desmentir lo enseñado en la Ley, afirmado en cambio que Jesús era un hombre sin pecado ("¿Quién de vosotros me redarguye de pecado?... Al que no conoció pecado, por nosotros lo hizo pecado, para que nosotros fuésemos hechos justicia de Dios en él- Juan 8:46, & 2 Corintios 5:21, RV 1960), entonces la antigua disputa entre los seguidores de la Ley y los seguidores del Evangelio queda finalmente resuelta, y no resta nada más por discutir. ¿Por qué? Pues porque las verdades reveladas en la Ley son finales e inquebrantables, ya que la Ley no puede ser alterada ("No añadiréis a la palabra que yo os mando, ni disminuiréis de ella..." - Deut. 4:2, RV 1960). Y Jesús mismo aparenta estar de acuerdo con la inmutabilidad de la Ley, pues el Evangelio le cita diciendo: "Pero más fácil es que pasen el cielo y la tierra, que se frustre una tilde de la Ley... Y la Escritura (es decir, la Ley) no puede ser quebrantada..." - Lucas 16:17, & Juan 10:35, RV 1960

"Porque como pecado de adivinación es la rebelión, y como ídolos e idolatría la obstinación. Por cuanto tú desechaste la palabra de יהוה, Él también te ha desechado..." - 1 Samuel 15:23, R.V. 1960

Salvation by faith alone? Even the New Testament condemns such theological aberration!

"But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead? Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar? Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect? And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the Friend of God. Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only"- James 2:19-24, King James Bible

La pagana rebeldía de obstinarse en afirmar que Jesús de Nazaret era un hombre sin pecados

Si la Ley Divina afirma que no existe hombre alguno sin pecado (“Ciertamente no hay hombre justo en la tierra, que haga el bien y nunca peque”- Eclesiastés 7:20, Biblia Reina Valera 1960; “Qué vale el hombre, nacido de mujer, para creerse limpio y alegar ser inocente? Si Dios ni en sus ángeles confía, y a sus ojos ni los cielos están limpios”- Job 15:14-15, Reina Valera Contemporánea), y entonces viene el Evangelio y pretende desmentir lo enseñado en la Ley, afirmado en cambio que Jesús era un hombre sin pecado (“¿Quién de vosotros me redarguye de pecado?... Al que no conoció pecado, por nosotros lo hizo pecado, para que nosotros fuésemos hechos justicia de Dios en él- Juan 8:46, & 2 Corintios 5:21, RV 1960), entonces la antigua disputa entre los seguidores de la Ley y los seguidores del Evangelio queda finalmente resuelta, y no resta nada más por discutir.

¿Por que? Pues porque las verdades reveladas en la Ley son finales e inquebrantables, ya que la Ley no puede ser alterada (“No añadiréis a la palabra que yo os mando, ni disminuiréis de ella...”- Deut. 4:2, RV 1960). Y Jesús mismo aparenta estar de acuerdo con la inmutabilidad de la Ley, pues el Evangelio le cita diciendo: “Pero más fácil es que pasen el cielo y la tierra, que se frustre una tilde de la Ley... Y la Escritura (es decir, la Ley) no puede ser quebrantada...”- Lucas 16:17, & Juan 10:35, RV 1960

“Porque como pecado de adivinación es la rebelión, y como ídolos e idolatría la obstinación. Por cuanto tú desechaste la palabra de יהוה , Él también te ha desechado...”- 1 Samuel 15:23, R.V. 1960

God’s Law (Torah) and Karma

“Karma” is just another fancy name for Torah's eternal Law of "Sowing and reaping". How do we know? We know it from the fact that, the first thing God demanded from Adam was to "till the Garden".

You see, Torah states that, as soon as God had finished creating Adam, He placed him into a garden, so he could till the land. As is written: “The Lord God took the man and placed him in the garden of Eden to work it ...”- Genesis 2:15 (Christian standard Bible).

But, why did Adam have to work any land? Wasn't the World's whole food supply available to him? The reason for it was that, the first thing God wanted Adam [and therefore mankind] to learn was that humanity's well being would depend upon it's recognition of the fact that the Universe works by the principle of “sowing and reaping” (cause and effect, action and reaction, what goes around, comes around, etc).

As is written; “... Mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands”- Isaiah 65:22; “As you have done, it will be done to you...”- Obadiah 15:15; And also, “... As I have done, so God has repaid me”- Judges 1:7. And finally says, “... The Lord rewards each of us according to what we do”- Psalm 62:12 (C.E.V.).

And even the New testament bears witness of this truth, when it goes on to say: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap"- Galatians 6:7. May peace be upon you!

El verdadero creyente se distingue por su genuino compromiso con rechazar la mentira, dando la espalda a todo aquello que tiene visos de ser atrevidamente ambiguo, incierto, dudoso, y/o contradictorio

De donde aprendemos el sabio refrán que dice, “La verdad, aunque severa, es amiga verdadera”? pues lo obtenemos de la Escritura que procede a decir: “Destruirás a los que hablan mentira... El testigo falso, no quedará sin castigo; Y, el que habla mentiras, no escapará”- Salmo 5:6, & Proverbios 19:5.

Y finalmente dice: “No habitará dentro de mi casa el que hace fraude; el que habla mentiras no se afirmará delante de mis ojos... De palabra de mentira te alejarás... El justo, aborrece la palabra de mentira... Amaste el mal más que el bien, La mentira más que la verdad. Has amado toda suerte de palabras perniciosas, Engañosa lengua. Por tanto, Dios te destruirá para siempre; Te asolará y te arrancará de tu morada, Y te desarraigará de la tierra de los vivientes” (Salmo 101:7, Éxodo 23:7, Proverbios 13:5, Salmo 52:3-5, Biblia Reina Valera 1960).

Samaritanismo Reformado
La verdad es la verdad, sin importar donde se encuentre, ni quien la halla dicho

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que “La Verdad es la verdad, sin importar donde este, ni quien la halla dicho”. Y esto significa que, no importando si surge de la boca de Moisés, Jesús, Pablo, Muhammad, José Smith, Elena G. De White, o cualquier otro hombre de carne y hueso, todo aquello que ensalza lo bueno, proviene de Dios. ¿Que es lo bueno? Pues es todo aquello que promueve el triunfo de la verdad objetiva, de la rectitud, de la fidelidad, de el temor al Justo juicio Divino, de la madurez que conlleva asumir responsabilidad por nuestras acciones, de la honestidad, de la santidad, de la integridad moral, de la sabiduría, de la prudencia, de la palabra de honor, de la justicia imparcial, de la misericordia, y de la humildad. De igual modo, todo aquello que ensalza lo malo [no importando si surge de la boca de Moisés, Jesús, Pablo, Muhammad, José Smith, Elena G. De White, o cualquier otro hombre de carne y hueso], no proviene de Dios. ¿Que es lo malo? Pues todo aquello que [directa o indirectamente] promueva el triunfo de la mentira, de la perversión moral, de la infidelidad, de la rebelión, de la irresponsabilidad, de la necedad, de el fraude, de la terquedad, de la obstinación, de la violación del orden Divino, de la indisciplina, de el ego humano, de el auto-exaltamiento, de la injusticia, de la traición, de la crueldad, y del vano orgullo

«De donde aprendemos el sabio refrán que dice, “La verdad, aunque severa, es amiga verdadera”? pues lo obtenemos de la Escritura que procede a decir: “Destruirás a los que hablan mentira... El testigo falso, no quedará sin castigo; Y, el que habla mentiras, no escapará”- Salmo 5:6, & Proverbios 19:5. Y finalmente dice: “No habitará dentro de mi casa el que hace fraude; el que habla mentiras no se afirmará delante de mis ojos... De palabra de mentira te alejarás... El justo, aborrece la palabra de mentira... Amaste el mal más que el bien, La mentira más que la verdad. Has amado toda suerte de palabras perniciosas, Engañosa lengua. Por tanto, Dios te destruirá para siempre; Te asolará y te arrancará de tu morada, Y te desarraigará de la tierra de los vivientes” (Salmo 101:7, Éxodo 23:7, Proverbios 13:5, Salmo 52:3-5, Biblia Reina Valera 1960)

Reformed Samaritanism and Homosexuality

One of the Hebrew names given to the Creator is “Life”. Why? Because God is the Creator of all Life. And in what sense was man made like his Creator? Well, in that he was granted the supreme privilege of being able to create additional life [by begetting children].

Thus, all behavior that deprives man of such Divine image (abortion, castration, homosexuality, lifelong celibacy, etc) is considered by Scripture to be a curse. And this inability to father children was the reason why, after taking Sarah (Abraham's supposed sister), King Abimelech knew for sure that the Divine curse had descended upon his house.

As it is written: “So Abraham prayed unto God: and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maidservants; and they bare children. For the Lord had fast closed up all the wombs of the house of Abimelech, because of Sarah Abraham's wife”- Génesis 20:17-18

God commands you to be strong, and behave in a manly fashion

The holy faith of Reformed Samaritanism is the manifestation of an ancient (middle eastern) mindset. Thus, it is not surprising to find that it teaches the Almighty (blessed be He) wants us to be strong, and behave in a manly fashion (“Be thou strong therefore, and show thyself a man”- 1 Kings 2:2, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 edition). What about you? Is the former commandment something your religious tradition also encourages you to obey? May peace be upon you!

Never bow down to the pagan idol of “political correctness”

As a sincere believer in the God of Abraham, you should do your best effort to please the Holy One [obeying the Ten Laws commanded by Him upon the two stone tablets].

And, if your obedience offends any person, let such person know (in a firm and polite fashion) that pleasing God [instead of man] is your number one priority; as you are not the kind of person who would “sell the Sun”, in order to “buy a light bulb”.

As is written: «Nebuchadnezzar asked them, “Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, is it true that you don’t serve my gods or worship the gold statue I have set up? Now if you’re ready, when you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, drum, and every kind of music, fall down and worship the statue I made. But if you don’t worship it, you will immediately be thrown into a furnace of blazing fire—and who is the god who can rescue you from my power?”. Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego replied to the king, “NEBUCHADNEZZAR, WE DON’T NEED TO GIVE YOU AN ANSWER TO THIS QUESTION. IF THE GOD WE SERVE EXISTS, THEN HE CAN RESCUE US FROM THE FURNACE OF BLAZING FIRE, AND HE CAN[F] RESCUE US FROM THE POWER OF YOU, THE KING. BUT EVEN IF HE DOES NOT RESCUE US, WE WANT YOU AS KING TO KNOW THAT WE WILL NOT SERVE YOUR GODS OR WORSHIP THE GOLD STATUE YOU SET UP”»- Daniel 3:14-18.

“La apariencia de sus rostros testifica contra ellos; porque como Sodoma publican su pecado, no lo disimulan. ¡Ay del alma de ellos! porque amontonaron mal para sí” (Isaías 3:9)... “... fornicaron sin cesar; sus príncipes amaron lo que avergüenza”- Oseas 4:18... “Hijos de los hombres, ¿hasta cuándo volveréis mi honra en infamia, Amaréis la vanidad, y buscaréis la mentira?” (Salmo 4:2)... “Si alguno se ayuntare con varón como con mujer, abominación hicieron; ambos han de ser muertos; sobre ellos será su sangre”- Levítico 20:13... “... ¿Al impio das ayuda, y amas a los que aborrecen a יהוה (Adonay Yah)? Pues ha salido de la presencia de יהוה ira contra ti por esto”- 2 Crónicas 19:2

Current religious establishments are similar to power inverters!

In a real sense, current religious establishments are sort of like solar power inverters. Consider the following example: You are a USA native who, out of the blue, chooses to buy a 1500 watts solar inverter from a Chinese outlet named “Banggood”.

Once you’ve received your equipment, you go ahead and hook it up to your existing 24 Volts DC battery bank. Then, you proceed to inspect the equipment’s performance using your good old (American made) voltmeter. Upon measuring the inverter’s output voltage you find to your dismay that it yields 95 Volts AC (a dangerously low value!), instead of the promised 120 Volts.

You get angry, and just curse the Chinese people saying: “I’ve spent more than $200 on a Chinese piece of crap!”. But the truth of the matter is that there’s nothing wrong with the inverter. You just failed to realize that your old voltmeter was designed to measure “pure sinewave” voltage signals, while your new inverter is designed to generate “modified sinewave” signals.

So, if you measure the inverter’s output using the correct tool (a “True RMS” voltmeter), you will find that the inverter’s output is the promised 120 Volts AC.

The nature of God’s judgment upon insincere believers

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that God’s judgment is of such a just and fair nature that it allows the Almighty to deal with each person according to his [or her] own personal reality. In other words, God won’t not punish us for having an imperfect truth (as only the perfect Creator can know perfect truth); Instead, His judgment will be based upon how honest and truthful we were with the little amount of “imperfect truth” we had at hand. Consider the case of Karen– a female Christian believer who openly states that the apostle Paul must be obeyed and believed [as she claims the words of the latter are the very Word of God]. In this case, the Creator won't judge whether Karen's theology is truthful or not. Instead, His judgment will be based upon Karen's response to the truth she claims to embrace.

For example, Paul states that women are not to teach scripture, nor exert spiritual authority over adult male believers. As is written: "A WOMAN IS TO LEARN QUIETLY with full submission. [for] I DO NOT ALLOW A WOMAN TO TEACH OR TO HAVE AUTHORITY OVER A MAN; INSTEAD, SHE IS TO REMAIN QUIET"- 1 Timothy 2:11-12 (Christian Standard Bible).

So, if while claiming to believe Paul speaks the word of God, Karen insists upon exercising spiritual authority upon male believers [or pretends to force her own theology upon them], she is thereby condemned. Why? Because, by saying one thing with her mouth, while doing the opposite with her actions, she is found guilty of immoral behavior (publicly bearing a false witness).

As is written: "... ALL LIARS—THEIR SHARE WILL BE IN THE LAKE THAT BURNS WITH FIRE AND SULFUR, WHICH IS THE SECOND DEATH"- Revelation 21:8, Christian Standard Bible.

And whence do Christian believers get that God expects them to be truthful and faithful to what they say to be the Word of God? They get it from the Christian Scriptures, when they go on to say: "I WILL CONDEMN YOU BY WHAT YOU HAVE SAID, you evil servant!... BE DOERS OF THE WORD AND NOT HEARERS ONLY, DECEIVING YOURSELVES... FOR THE HEARERS OF THE LAW ARE NOT RIGHTEOUS BEFORE GOD, BUT THE DOERS OF THE LAW WILL BE JUSTIFIED"- Luke 19:22, James 1:22, Romans 2:13 (Christian Standard Bible).

There is no Saviour besides יהוה (Adonay Yah, blessed be He)

Not Moses, Jesus, nor Muhammad (peace be upon them all), but only יהוה (Adonay Yah, blessed be He) can save us all. As is written: "I — I [am] יהוה, And besides Me there is no Saviour"- Isaiah 43:11

Fear God and be honest... Don't be hypocritical!

Fear God and be honest! Don't be hypocritical; don't preach values and ideas you won't personally endorse; don't preach "equality and inclusiveness" while the congregation you personally attend includes no Arabs, no native Americans, no blacks, no Hispanics, no Chinese, and no Russians; Don't preach respect for the weak and poor, while at the same time promoting the mass killing of the weakest and poorest of all human beings [unborn babies]; don't call yourself part of God's holy people, while openly promoting the immoral lifestyle God so vehemently abhors [Hedonism, and it's idolatry for unrestrained sexual passions]

El fundamento Divino de la Sagrada fe del Samaritanismo Reformado

El Samaritanismo Reformado postula que el mensaje de יהוה (el Dios de Abraham, bendito sea) no solamente es uno de naturaleza ética y universal, sino que en adición es uno dirigido a toda la raza humana.

¿Cual es ese mensaje? Pues es el siguiente: "Siembra el bien, y apártate de la inmoralidad– Renuncia a tu orgullo, así como al ego que te seduce a vivir como si el universo girase alrededor de tu propia persona [existiendo únicamente para satisfacer tus vanos caprichos y deseos].

Vive para servir al prójimo que te necesita, y que el fundamento de tu religión sea el amor a Dios– un amor que se manifiesta en el amor a aquellos que han sido creados a la imagen y semejanza del Altísimo (en otras palabras, trata a todos con la misma justicia, misericordia, humildad, y consideración con que quisieras que otros te trataran a ti mismo).

Como esta escrito: «¿No es que partas tu pan con el hambriento, y a los pobres errantes albergues en casa; que cuando veas al desnudo, lo cubras, y no te escondas de tu hermano? Entonces nacerá tu luz como el alba, y tu salvación se dejará ver pronto; e irá tu justicia delante de ti, y la gloria de יהוה será tu retaguardia. Entonces invocarás, y te oirá יהוה; clamarás, y dirá él: “Heme aquí”. Si quitares de en medio de ti el yugo, el dedo amenazador, y el hablar vanidad; y si dieres tu pan al hambriento, y saciases al alma afligida, en las tinieblas nacerá tu luz, y tu oscuridad será como el mediodía. יהוה te pastoreará siempre, y en las sequías saciará tu alma, y dará vigor a tus huesos; y serás como huerto de riego, y como manantial de aguas, cuyas aguas nunca faltan. Y los tuyos edificarán las ruinas antiguas; los cimientos de generación y generación levantarás, y serás llamado reparador de portillos, restaurador de calzadas para habitar»- Isaías 58:7-12.

The logical reason why the Trinity dogma is such a misguided idea

The noble Christian religion claims that man was literally created in the image of God; In addition, it also claims that, just as God is [allegedly] composed of three distinctive parts (יהוה the Father, Jesus the Son, and the Holy Spirit) so is man composed of three distinctive parts (the man’s body, the man’s soul, and the man’s spirit).

And the former would be perfectly logic, if it not were for the fact that Christianity also claims Jesus to be 100% human. What’s the problem with the latter? That if Jesus was 100% human, then he must have had three distinctive parts (Jesus’ body, Jesus soul’, and Jesus’ spirit).

Thus, if Jesus is part of the Trinity, then there’s no such thing as “a three part Trinity”. Why? Because the former would instead be composed of five distinctive parts:

- (1) the Father
- (2) the Holy Spirit
- (3) Jesus (the body)
- (4) Jesus (the soul)
- (5) Jesus (the spirit)

Thus, God wouldn’t be a Trinity, but rather “a Pentagon” (having five separated parts). And whence we know Jesus actually had both a soul and a spirit? We know it from the Christian Scripture, when it goes on to say:

“NOW IS MY SOUL TROUBLED; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour... And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, FATHER, INTO THY HANDS I COMMEND MY SPIRIT: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost”- John 12:27, & Luke 23:46 (KJV).

Curiously, Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that, if God were to be associated with a plurality, it would have to be at least a Heptagon (having seven parts). Why? Because Hebrew Scripture goes on to mention seven different spirits. As is written:

“And (1) the spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, (2) the spirit of wisdom and (3) understanding, (4) the spirit of counsel, and (5) might, (6) the spirit of knowledge, and of (7) the fear of the Lord”- Isaiah 11:2, KJV.

And even the Christian writings seem to agree with this “seven spirits” interpretation, when they go on to say:

«John to the seven churches which are in Asia: “Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from THE SEVEN SPIRITS WHICH ARE BEFORE HIS THRONE”»- Revelation 1:4 (KJV).

Why seven? Because יהוה is the Creator of the World (a world which was finished in SEVEN days); יהוה was the God who commanded Israel to rest on the SEVENTH day; יהוה is the God who commanded Moses to build a SEVEN branches lamp; God is the creator of the SEVEN seas; He is the creator of the SEVEN continents; He is the God who inhabited the Holy city (which was built upon SEVEN mountains), etc.

But the fact is that Hebrew Bible is clear, when it states that יהוה is a single entity; that He is no man, that He doesn't share His glory with anybody, and that there's no savior besides Him: “... Thus saith יהוה the King of Israel, and his redeemer יהוה of hosts; I AM THE FIRST (because I have no literal father), and I AM THE LAST (because I have no literal Son); and BESIDE ME THERE IS NO GOD (because I have no literal brother)... See now that I, yes, I, am he; and THERE IS NO GOD BESIDE ME (in other words, there's no one within me sharing my divine attributes)... FOR I AM GOD, AND NOT MAN; the Holy One in the midst of thee... I AM יהוה: that is my name: AND MY GLORY WILL I NOT GIVE TO ANOTHER, neither my praise... I, even I, AM יהוה; AND BESIDE ME THERE IS NO SAVIOUR”- Isaiah 44:6, Deut. 32:29, Hosea 11:9, Isaiah 42:8, Isaiah 43:11.

La idolatría lleva al hombre a la mentira

Si Dios aborrece la idolatría, es solo porque sabe que, pretender que aquello que es finito e imperfecto es en realidad un Dios infinito y perfecto, demanda que el creyente cometa la injusticia de afirmar una falsedad (violando de ese modo el Mandamiento que le prohíbe levantar un falso testimonio). Es que Dios aborrece tanto la injusticia como la falsedad. ¿Por que? Pues porque son la antítesis de la Ley– una Ley que representa la justicia y la verdad. Como esta escrito: “La mentira aborrezco y abomino; Tu Ley amo... Tu justicia es justicia eterna, Y tu Ley [es] la verdad”- Salmo 119:163, & 142 (RV 1960)

Así las cosas, la razón por la cual Cristianos y Musulmanes rehúsan reconocer los errores y contradicciones contenidos en las palabras adscritas a sus líderes, es la exagerada veneración que a ellos rinden– una veneración que raya casi en la idolatría de Jesus y Muhammad (paz sea con ellos). ¿Que es idolatría? Pues adscribir infinita perfección a aquello que en realidad es finito e imperfecto. Es que, siendo confrontado con las limitaciones e imperfecciones de Jesus y Muhammad, tanto Cristianos como Musulmanes prefieren mentir [corrompiendo de ese modo sus almas], antes que “ver caer del pedestal” a la persona que es el objeto de su veneración [es decir, antes que dejar que otros descubran que su ídolo es falso, pues esta plagado de defectos y limitaciones].

Y es por esto que el Creador condena la idolatría, pues יהוה ama la verdad, y quiere que el creyente se aleje de toda mentira, evitando así la corrupción de su alma.

Is it wrong to state that [from a purely legal standpoint] Jesus was a bastard?

Our dear brothers and sisters, the bible definition of a bastard wasn't meant to insult anyone. Rather, it had the intention of preventing the Hebrew believer from falling into the trap of worship men [like Hercules] who were [allegedly] the result of the union between a god and a human female.

These men were supposed to have both human and divine attributes, thereby presenting an unavoidable bait for the weak minded Hebrew believer.

In this sense, Jesus (peace and blessings be always upon him) could not have been the expected Jewish Messiah. Why? Simply because [unfortunately for him], not being the biological son of Joseph (his mother's husband), God's Law had no other option but to place him under the bastards heading.

And the Law didn't allow any bastard to be counted as part of Israel's congregation (let alone be considered Israel's King, Messiah, or God). As it is written: "A bastard shall not enter into the congregation of יהוה" - Deut. 23: 2 (King James Bible).

And this in turn explains why the Gospel records no Israelite ever offering his daughter in marriage to Jesus; as that would have violated the command given by God on Deuteronomy 23:2 ("A bastard shall not enter into the assembly of יהוה; even to the tenth generation shall none of his enter into the assembly of יהוה "). May peace be upon you!

¡Reclamos extraordinarios demandan evidencia extraordinaria!

Nuestros hermanos Cristianos reclaman que, el que Jesus fuese "Hijo de Dios" le hacia automáticamente Dios. Pero la tentación de Jesus es prueba indubitable de lo contrario. Es que Jesus fue tentado por Satán a probar que era Hijo de Dios (y, por ende, Dios mismo).

Y esta casi demás decir que ninguna persona sensata aceptaría la posibilidad de que el Dios infinito pueda ser tentado [por una de sus finitas criaturas] a demostrar que es realmente Dios. Y el Nuevo Testamento así mismo lo atestigua, cuando dice que "Dios no puede ser tentado" (Santiago 1:13) ...

When the believers are ruled by women

"Deborah, a prophetess... judged Israel"- Judges 4:4. With regard to this verse, Reformed Samaritanism teaches four things:

- 1) "Woe is the living who need help from the dead!";
- 2) "Woe unto the strong, who need help from the weak!";
- 3) "Woe unto the seeing who need help from the blind!";
- 4) "Woe unto a generation that has to be led by a woman, for it has been said, 'As for My people, a babe is their master, and women rule over them. O My people, they that lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths' " (Isaiah 3:12, JPS 1917 Edition).

But you may ask, "Wasn't Deborah a righteous woman"? Yes, she was a righteous woman; but only "in her [corrupted] generation". Whence we know it? We know it from the fact that Deborah's name means "hornet" (an impure animal). There's more! She suffered from haughtiness, as it is written: "And she sent and called Barak" (Judg. 4:6)... she would not humble herself going to him!

As for Huldah the prophetess (may peace be upon her), her Hebrew name meant "weasel". And though she was righteous in her generation, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that she also suffered from a bad trait (haughtiness). Whence we know it? from the verse that goes on to say, "Tell ye the man that sent you unto me" (2 kings 22:15, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)... She would not humble herself saying "Tell the King"!!

God is no dictator!

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that God isn't a religious tyrant; He isn't an ideological dictator, nor is He a sort of pagan deity playing a cruel game of "Hide and Seek".

In other words, nowhere in the Hebrew Scripture do we ever find God rebuking any gentile for "the fault" of not having "the right theology". Rather, whenever gentiles are rebuked, it is because they are following an immoral lifestyle (Cain for murdering his brother; Noah's generation for the shedding of innocent blood; The Sodomites for trying to rape the two visiting angels; king Abimelech for taking Abraham's wife, Pharaoh for throwing Hebrew babies into the Nile, etc).

In short, Scripture hints at the idea that God's will is so straightforward that it can be summarized in the following simple words: "Depart from evil and do good; and you will dwell forever [life everlasting!]"- Psalm 37:27 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

The former idea was also taught by prophet Micah, when he went on to say: "He has showed you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you but to do justly, and to love kindness and mercy, and to humble yourself and walk humbly with your God?"- Micah 6:8.

And Jesus taught exactly the same, when he said: "So then, whatever you desire that others would do to and for you, even so do also to and for them, for this is (sums up) the Law and the Prophets"- Matthew 7:12.

In fact, the apostle John sums it up saying: "Beloved, do not imitate evil, but imitate good. He who does good is of God; he who does evil has not seen (discerned or experienced) God [has enjoyed no vision of Him and does not know Him at all]"- 1 John 3:11 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

Finally, Hebrew Scripture teaches that the path of holiness that pleases the Creator is so simple, that not even a fool can [unwillingly] miss it. As it is written: "And a highway shall be there, and a way; and it shall be called the Holy Way. The unclean shall not pass over it, but it shall be for the redeemed; the wayfaring men, yes, the simple ones and fools, shall not err in it and lose their way"- Isaiah 35:8 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

May peace be upon you!

Reformed Samaritanism and Homosexuality

One of the Hebrew names given to the Creator is "Life". Why? Because God is the Creator of all Life. And in what sense was man made like his Creator? Well, in that he was granted the supreme privilege of being able to create additional life [by begetting children].

Thus, all behavior that deprives man of such Divine image (abortion, castration, homosexuality, lifelong celibacy, etc) is considered by Scripture to be a curse.

And this inability to father children was the reason why, after taking Sarah (Abraham's supposed sister), King Abimelech knew for sure that the Divine curse had descended upon his house.

As it is written: "So Abraham prayed unto God: and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maidservants; and they bare children. For the Lord had fast closed up all the wombs of the house of Abimelech, because of Sarah Abraham's wife"- Genesis 20:17-18

¿Por que era imposible que Jesus (p.s.c.e.) pudiese tomar el sacerdocio eterno prometido a Pinjas (Finees) en números 25:11-13?

Jesús no podía haber sido el sacerdote que oficiase el sacrificio expiatorio, en sustitución de Finees y su descendencia. ¿Por qué? Pues porque los sacrificios sacerdotales, tenían que ser ofrecidos dentro del área circunscrita por el Templo en Jerusalén, y no en ningún otro lugar fuera de allí. Y no solamente los sacrificios tenían que ser hechos dentro del Templo, sino de la manera prescrita por la Ley para el sacrificio en particular.

En el caso de los corderos para la ofrenda por el pecado, este modo nunca fue la crucifixión. En adición, el sacrificio no podía tener defecto físico alguno. Por ejemplo, si el cordero estaba herido, magullado, o perniquebrado, el sacrificio no era válido. En adición, el sacrificio tenía que ser ofrecido por un sacerdote que fuese descendiente de la tribu de Leví [algo que no aparece indicado en las genealogías adscritas al Maestro de Galilea].

Y estas son las razones por las cuales el sacrificio expiatorio de Jesús (paz sea con él) nunca fue ritualmente válido, pues no cumplió lo ordenado por la Ley. Es decir, el sacrificio del Nazareno, se llevo a cabo en un lugar (monte) fuera del Templo; se realizó por un método que la Ley no sancionaba (la crucifixión); el sacrificio estaba magullado y estropeado (pues Jesús había sido de antemano desfigurado, herido, abofeteado, y azotado); y no fue ofrecido por ningún sacerdote Levita (sino por soldados Romanos, que no eran descendientes de la tribu de Leví, y ni siquiera pertenecían en la religión Hebrea).

La Fe Netsarita (El Cristianismo) es noble y santa; pero su teología es errada, pues la Ley de Dios enseña que nadie puede morir por el pecado de alguna otra persona

La fe Nazarena es un camino perfectamente válido para agradar al Creador. Pero, en un sentido estrictamente literal, Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean con él) no pudo haber salvado a nadie de sus pecados, pues יהוה (Adonai Yah, bendito sea) ha dicho en la Escritura Hebrea que fuera de Él no hay Salvador alguno. Como está escrito: «Yo יהוה (Adonai Yah); y, fuera de mí, no hay quien salve» (Isaías 43:11).

Y Jesús obviamente no pudo haber sido Adonai Yah, pues Jesús era un hombre mortal; mientras que la Ley enseña que Dios no es ningún hombre mortal (sino en cambio un espíritu inmortal). Como está escrito: “Dios no es hombre, para que mienta, Ni hijo de hombre para que se arrepienta. Él dijo, ¿y no hará? Habló, ¿y no lo ejecutará... Además, el que es la Gloria de Israel no mentará, ni se arrepentirá, porque no es hombre para que se arrepienta”- Números 23:19, & 1 Samuel 15:29.

Es que, si el Omnipotente [y no solamente alguno de sus muchos representantes] fuese a tomar forma física, esta última sería tan infinitamente grande, que ni siquiera “los cielos de los cielos” (es decir, el universo entero) serían lo suficientemente grandes como para poder contenerla. Como está escrito: “Pero ¿es verdad que Dios morará sobre la tierra? He aquí que los cielos, los cielos de los cielos, no te pueden contener...”- 1 Reyes 8:27.

De hecho, aún si los Escritos Cristianos pretendiesen desmentir [o alterar] lo previamente dicho por Dios en la Ley, tendríamos que descartar cualquier tipo de cambio. ¿Por qué? Pues porque el verso en Números 23:19 implica que, una vez que el Creador ha dicho [o prometido] algo, tal cosa se hace irrevocable; pues, a diferencia del hombre, Dios no cambia (“Porque yo יהוה no cambio...”- Malaquías 3:6).

En adición, la Escritura enseña que no hay Salvación en ningún “Hijo de hombre”, como está escrito: “no confiéis en los príncipes, ni en hijo de hombre, porque no hay en él salvación” (Salmo 146:3). Y, Jesús era en efecto “Hijo de hombre”, pues así lo confiesa cuando dice: «Es necesario que el hijo de hombre sea entregado en manos de hombres pecadores, y que sea crucificado, y resucite al tercer día» (Lucas 24:7).

La realidad es que Jesús no pudo haber muerto por los pecados de nadie; pues la Escritura Hebrea promete que cada cual habrá de morir por su propia maldad [y no por la maldad de sus padres o hijos]. Como esta escrito: «sino que cada cual morirá por su propia maldad»- Jeremías 31:30; «Los padres no morirán por los hijos, ni los hijos por los padres; cada uno morirá por su [propio] pecado»- Deuteronomio 24:16; “... la tierra no será expiada de la sangre que fue derramada en ella, sino por la sangre del que la derramó”- Números 35:33.

De hecho, aún si hubiese querido morir por los pecados del Mundo, Jesús no podría haberlo hecho; pues, siendo un hombre de carne y hueso, tenía pecados propios. Como esta escrito: “Ciertamente no hay hombre justo en la tierra, que haga [solamente] el bien, y nunca peque”- Eclesiastés 7:20. Y los Escritos cristianos confirman esta verdad, cuando dicen que Jesús tuvo que “aprender obediencia” [hacia la voluntad del Padre Celestial]; como esta escrito: “Y aunque era Hijo, por lo que padeció, aprendió la obediencia”- Hebreos 5:8. Y esta casi demás decir que, la única razón para que un hombre necesite “aprender obediencia”, es su previa desobediencia.

Por otro lado, el Cristianismo aduce que la salvación es un regalo gratuito; una dádiva que el Dios de Israel desea que aceptemos. Pero esta idea contradice lo previamente dicho por ese mismo Dios, quien ordenó a su Pueblo abstenerse de recibir regalos, dádivas, y sobornos. Como esta escrito: “No recibirás presente; porque el presente ciega a los que ven, y pervierte las palabras de los justos”- Éxodo 23:8; “Ciertamente la opresión hace entontecer al sabio, y las dádivas corrompen el corazón”- Eclesiastés 7:7.

Curiosamente, note como las palabras adscritas al Nazareno no pueden ser tomadas en sentido literal, sin que caigamos en graves y serias contradicciones. Es decir, si es cierto que Jesús fue engendrado directamente por Dios, y no por hombre alguno, ¿no estaría Jesús en cierto modo mintiendo, al describirse a si mismo como “el Hijo del Hombre”? ¿No debió haber usado exclusivamente el término “Hijo de Dios”?

¿Y que hacemos con el pasaje donde Jesús afirma [en términos absolutos] que no hay verdad alguna en Satanás y sus demonios (“El ha sido homicida desde el principio, y no ha permanecido en la verdad, porque no hay verdad en él”- Juan 8:44)?

Si, como sugiere Jesús, todo lo que Satanás y sus demonios dicen es mentira, ¿que hacemos con las palabras de los demonios, cuando afirman [en términos absolutos] que Jesús es el Hijo de Dios?

Como esta escrito: “También salían demonios de muchos, dando voces y diciendo: tú eres el hijo de Dios”- Lucas 4:41 & Marcos 3:11.

¿Cual de los dos miente? ¿Miente Jesús, cuando afirma que los demonios nunca dicen la verdad? ¿O mienten los demonios, cuando afirman que Jesús es el Hijo de Dios?

En resumen, si bien es perfectamente aceptable concordar con muchas de las verdades ética y morales atribuidas al Galileo, el verdadero “camino al Cielo” no esta en creer que Jesús halla sido nuestro sacrificio expiatorio, en creer que la salvación sea “por fe” [y sin necesidad alguna de obedecer los mandamientos Divinos], en creer que Jesús halla sido literalmente Dios, o en creer que halla sido el Mesías esperado por los Judíos.

La fe que mas se conforma a lo ordenado por el Dios de Israel, es en cambio creer que el sacrificio que Dios realmente anhela es un corazón arrepentido (contrito y humillado); es creer que Dios perdona al pecador que se arrepiente, para convertirse de su mal camino; es creer que Dios se agrada del penitente que persigue la justicia, la misericordia, y la humildad, y que hace de lo ordenado sobre las dos tablas de piedra (las Diez Leyes) el nuevo norte de su vida. ¿Por que? Pues porque el justo juicio Divino consiste en hacer que cada hombre siegue el mismo bien que halla sembrado. Como esta escrito:

- (1) «Los sacrificios de Dios son el espíritu quebrantado, al corazón contrito y Humillado no despreciarás, tu oh Señor»- Salmo 51:17 (Biblia Reina Valera, 1960)
- (2) «Si se humillare mi Pueblo, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y oraren, y buscaren mi rostro, y se convirtieren de sus malos caminos; entonces yo oiré desde los cielos, y perdonaré sus pecados, y sanaré su Tierra»- 2 Crónicas 7:14... «Apártate del mal, y haz el bien, Y vivirás para siempre»- Salmo 37:27... «El que encubre sus pecados no prosperará; Mas el que los confiesa y se aparta alcanzará misericordia»- Proverbios 28:13... «Por tanto, confesaré mi maldad, Y me contristaré por mi pecado»- Salmo 38:18 (Biblia Reina Valera, 1960).
- (3) «Oh hombre, Él te ha declarado lo que es bueno, y qué pide הוה' de ti: solamente hacer justicia, y amar misericordia, y humillarte ante tu Dios»- Miqueas 6:8 (Biblia Reina Valera, 1960).
- (4) «El fin de todo el discurso oído es este: “Teme a Dios, y guarda sus mandamientos; porque esto es el todo del hombre. Porque Dios traerá toda obra a juicio, juntamente con toda cosa encubierta, sea buena o sea mala”»- Eclesiastés 12:13-14 (Biblia Reina Valera, 1960).
- (5) «¡Lejos este de Dios la impiedad, y del Omnipotente la iniquidad! Porque Él pagará al hombre según su obra, y le retribuirá conforme a su camino. Si, por cierto, Dios no hará injusticia, y el Omnipotente no pervertirá el derecho»- Job 34:10-12... «Porque tú [oh Dios] pagas a cada uno conforme a su obra»- Salmo 62:12... «El que mira por tu alma, Él lo conocerá, y dará al hombre según sus obras»- Proverbios 24:12... «... Mis escogidos disfrutarán la obra de sus manos»- Isaías 65:22... «... Yo les pagaré conforme a sus hechos, y conforme a la obra de sus manos»- Jeremías 25:14... «Decid al justo que le irá bien, porque comerá de los frutos de sus manos. ¡Ay del impío! Mal le irá, porque según las obras de sus manos le será pagado»- Isaías 3:10-11 (Biblia Reina Valera 1960)

The Law states Israel is God's chosen people. But, does that mean God literally needs Israelites in order to “win the battle”?

On the one hand, God's Law compares The Holy One [blessed be He] to a mighty warrior ("The Lord is a man of war..."- Exodus 15:3). And, on the other hand, Hebrew scripture compares Israel to a lowly worm in dire need of assistance ("Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith the Lord"- Isaiah 41:14).

What Torah (or "moral instruction") are the former allegories meant to convey? Their aim is to safeguard Israel from the sin of self-exaltation ("Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips"- Proverbs 27:2).

In other words, should Israelites grow arrogant [daring to claim God needs their help], Scripture reminds them God needs them as much as a mighty warrior needs a powerless worm; that if one needs the help of the other, it is Israel who needs God's help ("... I will help thee, saith the Lord"), and not the other way around.

Los Diez mandamientos son el inmutable pacto de Dios con los creyentes-- la Ley Eterna que, así como la piedra en la que fueron escritos, nunca será abolida. En cambio, los ritos, los estatutos y los sacrificios de la Ley no solamente son temporeros y alterables, sino que a menudo Dios no se agrada de ellos

Los Diez mandamientos son el verdadero pacto de Dios con su pueblo. Y el resto de los decretos, ritos, y estatutos no son sino comentario explicativo. Y es por eso que, hablando acerca de los Diez mandamientos, la Escritura los hace el fundamento exclusivo e inalterable de la Fe: "Y Él os anunció SU PACTO, el cual os mandó poner por obra; LOS DIEZ MANDAMIENTOS, y LOS ESCRIBIÓ EN DOS TABLAS DE PIEDRA.... ESTAS PALABRAS HABLÓ יהוה (ADONAI YAH, BENDITO SEA) A TODA VUESTRA CONGREGACIÓN EN EL MONTE, de en medio del fuego, de la nube y de la oscuridad, a gran voz; Y NO AÑADIÓ MÁS. Y LAS ESCRIBIÓ EN DOS TABLAS DE PIEDRA, las cuales me dio a mí"- Deut. 4:13, & 5:22.

En cambio, hablando acerca de los ritos, los estatutos, y los sacrificios, la Escritura no siempre los hace inmutables e indispensables. Como esta escrito: "¿PARA QUÉ ME SIRVE, DICE יהוה, LA MULTITUD DE VUESTROS SACRIFICIOS? HASTIADO ESTOY DE HOLOCAUSTOS DE CARNEROS Y DE SEBO DE ANIMALES GORDOS; NO QUIERO SANGRE DE BUEYES, NI DE OVEJAS, NI DE MACHOS CABRÍOS. ¿Quién demanda esto de vuestras manos, cuando venís a presentaros delante de mí para hollar mis atrios? NO ME TRAIGÁIS MÁS VANA OFRENDA; EL INCIENSO ME ES ABOMINACIÓN; LUNA NUEVA Y DÍA DE REPOSO, EL CONVOCAR ASAMBLEAS, NO LO PUEDO SUFRIR; SON INIQUIDAD VUESTRAS FIESTAS SOLEMNES"- Isaías 1:12-23

El creyente debe apartarse de la vanidad

"Y desecharon sus estatutos, y el pacto que Él había hecho con sus padres, y los testimonios que Él había prescrito a ellos; y siguieron la vanidad, y se hicieron vanos... Todos se infatuarán y entontecerán. Enseñanza de vanidades es el leño"- 2 Reyes 17:15, & Jeremias 10:8.

Los anteriores versos enseñan que el verdadero creyente es aquel que da la espalda a las enseñanzas de vanidad. Y hay una enseñanza en particular que la Escritura se ocupa en resaltar-- la enseñanza del "leño" (es decir, del madero de la cruz).

¿Por que? Pues porque ningún creyente que este comprometido con la verdad Divina [tal y como ha sido revelada en los textos arriba citados], puede aceptar la fanfarronería religiosa [es decir, "la vanidad”] que implica enseñar que “la salvacion es por fe, y sin necesidad alguna de obedecer los mandamientos de la Ley” (no idolatres, no mientas, no robes, guarda el reposo sabatico, no deshonres a tus padres, no adulteres, etc).

¿En que consiste precisamente la vanidad de tal enseñanza? Pues, segun declara el pasaje en 2 Reyes 17:15, en postular que podemos desechar el pacto de la Ley [o poner en un segundo plano lo que ha sido ordenado sobre las dos tablas de piedras], y aún asi contar con el favor Divino. Como amonesta la Escritura cuando dice: “¿Hasta cuándo no querréis guardar mis mandamientos y mis Leyes?... Porque este pueblo es rebelde, hijos mentirosos, hijos que no quisieron oír la Ley de יהוה... El que aparta su oído para no oír la Ley, Su oración también es abominable”- Exodo 16:28, Isaias 30:9, Proverbios 28:9

Is the God fearing person called to obey God’s Law?

Our dear brothers and sister, when it comes to observing God’s Law (the Ten Supreme Laws), our masters teach that both Hebrew and Christian believers are bound to obey it.

As is written: «And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the Lord thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth: And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee...

... [Therefore] This book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success... This I had, because I kept thy precepts...

... So shall I keep thy Law continually for ever and ever... He that saith, “I know Him”, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him... For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous...

... for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the Law. For this, “Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet”; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, “Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself”»- Deuteronomy 28:1-2, Joshua 1:8, Psalm 119:56, Psalm 119:44, 1 John 2:4, 1 John 5:3, & Romans 13:8-9.

May God’s peace be upon you!

“If you are honest and humble, turning away from evil and doing instead what is good, you already have the right religion”

It is fine to believe Jesus lived, died and rose from the grave; what is wrong is to consider him equal to the Almighty God of Israel

Our beloved brothers and sisters: in the eyes of the God of Israel, it is perfectly fine to believe that Jesus lived, died, and rose from the dead. In addition, it is also fine to embrace Jesus summary of God’s Law, as well as what he perceived to be the path to everlasting life-- doing good, loving God with all our hearts, and loving our fellow creatures as ourselves.

As is written: «Therefore, WHATEVER YOU WANT OTHERS TO DO FOR YOU, DO ALSO THE SAME FOR THEM, FOR THIS IS THE LAW AND THE PROPHETS... “Teacher, WHAT MUST I DO TO INHERIT ETERNAL LIFE?”. “What is written in the Law?” he asked him. “How do you read it?” He answered, “LOVE THE LORD YOUR GOD WITH ALL YOUR HEART, WITH ALL YOUR SOUL, WITH ALL YOUR STRENGTH, AND WITH ALL YOUR MIND”, AND “YOUR NEIGHBOR AS YOURSELF”. “You’ve answered correctly,” he told him. “DO THIS AND YOU WILL LIVE [FOREVERMORE]”»- Matthew 7:12, & Luke 10:25-28.

What isn't right, is for a believer to think that the finite man named Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him) is the infinite God of Israel; to think that Jesus isn't just a powerful messenger of God (“And the multitudes said, This is THE PROPHET, JESUS, FROM NAZARETH of Galilee”- Matthew 21:11), but rather God himself.

How can you deny Jesus own words, and then shamelessly pretend to be his "truthful" messenger?

"I am ascending to my Father and your Father" (John 20:17)
 "My Father is greater than I!" (John 14:28)

"That means Jesus is equal with the Father"

Why would it be wrong? Because God is spirit (“GOD IS A SPIRIT...”- John 4:24), while Jesus is flesh and bones (“FOR A SPIRIT HATH NOT FLESH AND BONES, AS YE BEHOLD ME HAVING”- Luke 24:39). In addition, God is perfectly good (“THE LORD IS GOOD... FOR THE LORD IS GOOD, and his faithful love endures forever... BE PERFECT, THEREFORE, AS YOUR HEAVENLY FATHER IS PERFECT”- Nahum 1:7, Psalm 110:5, & Matthew 5:48); while Jesus isn't perfectly good (“WHY DO YOU CALL ME GOOD?” Jesus asked him. “NO ONE IS GOOD EXCEPT GOD ALONE”- Luke 18:19).

Besides, Jesus himself taught that we cannot serve two master (“NO ONE CAN SERVE TWO MASTERS, since either he will hate one and love the other, or he will be devoted to one and despise the other”- Matthew 6:24).

In other words, you cannot obey the Jesus who said you must eat his flesh and blood (“Truly I tell you, UNLESS YOU EAT THE FLESH OF THE SON OF MAN AND DRINK HIS BLOOD, YOU DO NOT HAVE LIFE IN YOURSELVES”- John 6:53), and at the same time obey the God who forbids you from eating flesh and blood (“BUT DON'T EAT THE BLOOD, SINCE THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE, AND YOU MUST NOT EAT THE LIFE WITH THE MEAT (FLESH)”- Deut. 12:23). Likewise, we cannot obey the Jesus who said that “the Law ended with John the Baptist” (“THE LAW AND THE PROPHETS WERE UNTIL JOHN”- Luke 16:16), and at the same time obey the God who said that we should never cease to think [and live] according to the Law (“THIS BOOK OF THE LAW MUST NOT DEPART FROM YOUR MOUTH; you are to meditate on it day and night so that you may CAREFULLY OBSERVE EVERYTHING WRITTEN IN IT”- Joshua 1:8).

Finally, Jesus himself heard his disciples openly referring to him merely as a powerful prophet; yet he didn't rebuke them for not viewing him as the Almighty God (“The things concerning JESUS OF NAZARETH, WHO WAS A PROPHET POWERFUL IN ACTION AND SPEECH before God and all the people”- Luke 24:19).

La cruda realidad acerca del Judaísmo secular (“ateo”)

Toda ideología que se perciba a sí misma como una verdad absoluta e incuestionable, es por definición un tipo de “credo religioso”, sin importar si tal ideología concierne al ámbito religioso, o si concierne en cambio al ámbito político, social, o científico. Y en este sentido no es exagerado afirmar que el ateísmo moderno no solamente manifiesta las características de un credo religioso, sino las de uno recalcitrante, y supremacista.

Es que el ateísmo institucionalizado que al presente experimentamos en las sociedades occidentales en realidad es una forma de Judaísmo; y esto a su vez explica el hecho de que, el ateísmo de estado (también conocido como “Marxismo”), sea el producto de una mente Judía (Karl Marx). De hecho, esto último fue singularmente reseñado por Stephen Wise, un famoso rabino Judío de principios del siglo 20, cuando en Mayo 5 del 1935 dijo las siguientes palabras a la revista “The American Bulletin”: «Unos le pueden llamar “Comunismo”, pero yo le llamo por su verdadero nombre- “Judaísmo”». Pero, ¿es posible tal contradicción? Pues no solamente es posible, sino que fue predicha por los antiguos sabios Judíos, quienes enseñaron que los Judíos tienen el potencial de ser tanto lo mas alto y noble sublime de la raza humana, como su mas baja y vil escoria. Como esta escrito: «Se ha dicho que este pueblo es como el polvo (“Será tu simiente como el polvo de la Tierra”- Gen. 28:14); Y [también] se ha dicho que es como las estrellas (“Multiplicaré tu simiente como las estrellas del Cielo”- Gen. 22:17)».

Y lo anterior significa que, cuando son viles, los Judíos bajan hasta el mismo polvo (es decir, se comportan como inmundos gusanos); pero, cuando son Nobles, alcanzan hasta las estrellas (comportándose como los ángeles del cielo)-- Talmud Babilónico, Megillah 16a. Pero, ¿en que sentido es el ateísmo una expresión del Judaísmo secular? Pues en que la mentalidad atea es [por lo general] un fiel reflejo de la mentalidad del Judío secular; quien, considerándose a sí mismo parte del “Pueblo escogido”, no solamente esta recalcitrantemente seguro de tener “la verdad absoluta” (note que el ateo promedio nunca estará dispuesto a considerar la posibilidad de estar equivocado), sino que en adición se siente intrínsecamente superior [y con el derecho a menospreciar] a todo aquel que no comparta su misma ideología.

De nuevo, ¿no es coincidencia que el ateísmo de Estado (el Marxismo que se impone por la fuerza, el engaño, y el terror) halla sido inventado por un Judío! Y la revolución global a la que aspiran los modernos Marxistas Judíos no puede concretarse sin que estos últimos se vean forzados a utilizar su inmenso poder económico, político, y mediático a fin de desestabilizar a las naciones del Mundo, haciendo que sus sociedades abandonen todo aquello que les mantiene pacificas, estables, y unidas: es decir, los valores morales, la unidad familiar, la religión, el sentimiento nacionalista, la cultura nativa, el lenguaje común, la identidad racial, la frugalidad económica, etc.

Y es por ello que estos Marxistas Judíos promueven vigorosamente todo aquello que logre menoscabar todas y cada una de las anteriores instituciones, implementando de ese modo la vieja y probada estrategia de “Divide, y Conquista”.

Por eso hallamos que, detrás de todo movimiento que intente socavar los elementos que proveen estabilidad nacional y social a cada nación (el activismo social, el ateísmo militante, el individualismo, la homosexualidad, el relativismo moral, la ideología de género, el feminismo, la inmigración en masa, el multiculturalismo, la pluralidad, el endeudamiento masivo, etc) se encuentra algún cabecilla Judío (Karl Halevi Marx, Magnus Hirschfeld, Sigmund Freud, George Weinberg, Max Horkheimer, Herbert Marcuse, Ayn Rand, Ruth Bader Ginsburg, David Silverman, Sam Harris, Barbara Specter, Ben Shalom Bernanke, Dianne Feinstein, George Soros, Jacob Rothschild, etc). Es que, como dice un antiguo refrán utilizado por los sobrevivientes de la carnicería soviética: “El Marxista Judío no te atrapa por la fuerza, sino por la tentación (es decir, diciéndote lo que quieres escuchar, explotando de ese modo tus pasiones y debilidades morales)”. ¡Que el Creador tenga misericordia de todo Judío secular!

The logical fallacy behind claiming that Jesus resurrection was proof of his alleged Divinity

Why can't we use Lazarus resurrection as proof that Lazarus was in fact God in the flesh? In other words, why can't we say, “Lazarus death was proof that he was fully human, and his resurrection was proof that he was fully God”? Well, the reason why it would be wrong to embrace such deceptive idea is that [by definition], God has no need of anybody's help. Why? Because, by creating the whole universe, He demonstrated to be omnipotent.

But as for Lazarus, in order for him to come back to life, he needed the help of someone else [Jesus], as it was the latter who raised him from the tomb («... After HE [JESUS] SAID THIS, HE SHOUTED WITH A LOUD VOICE, “LAZARUS, COME OUT!” THE DEAD MAN CAME OUT bound hand and foot with linen strips and with his face wrapped in a cloth... Then a large crowd of the Jews learned he was there. THEY CAME not only because of Jesus but also TO SEE LAZARUS, THE ONE HE HAD RAISED FROM THE DEAD»- John 11:43-44, & 12:9, Christian Standard Bible).

And why can't we use Jesus resurrection as proof that Jesus was in fact God in the flesh? Why can't we simply say, “Jesus death was proof that he was fully human, and his resurrection was proof that he was fully God”? Again, the reason why it would be flawed to do so is that, by definition, the Omnipotent God doesn't really need the help of anyone else.

But as for Jesus, we are nowhere told that he was able to raise himself from the grave by his own power (can a dead person change physical reality, and still be truly dead?). Instead, we are told that Jesus was raised by the help of someone else (the God of Israel). As is written: “... You [Jews] used lawless people to nail him [Jesus] to a cross and kill him. [BUT] GOD RAISED HIM UP, ENDING THE PAINS OF DEATH... THE GOD OF OUR ANCESTORS RAISED UP JESUS, whom you had murdered by hanging him on a tree...”- Acts 2:23-24 & 5:30

Which one takes precedence? Torah, Or the Gospel? Noah, or Abraham?

When it comes to evaluating the precedence of any subject, always ask yourself which of the subjects is dependent upon the others. For example: “Which one takes precedence? Torah?, Or the Gospel?”. In order to find out the answer, you must ask yourself, “which of the two depends upon the other?”. Does Torah's truthfulness depend upon the Gospel's truthfulness? Or is it the other way around? Obviously, since the gospel claims to be the fulfillment of Torah's teachings [and not the other way around], we conclude that Torah's message has precedence over the gospel's message.

Another example, "Whose figure is more important? That of Noah [and the godly lifestyle he represented]? Or that of Abraham [and the godly lifestyle he represented]? Again, although both men enjoyed God's favor, we have to ask ourselves which of these two men was dependent upon the other. Notice that Noah was worthy of inheriting a whole world for himself, whereas Abraham was worthy of inheriting only a small piece of such World [the land of Canaan].

In fact, if humanity survived the great deluge, it was only because God considered Noah to be a righteous man [even though he was neither a Jew, a Christian, nor a Muslim]. Thus, as Noah is the father of Abraham's ancestors, we can properly say that humanity could afford to have a Noah, without ever having an Abraham; but it couldn't afford to have an Abraham, without ever having a Noah!

The apostle Paul (may peace be upon him) was well intended, but just as it happened with his master (Rabban Gamaliel), Paul's teaching demanding perfect obedience to God's Law was [at best] faulty

The noble Christian faith claims that "the reward" promised to those who fulfill the Law (the commandments) is only obtained if man is capable of keeping all of the commandments. And they justify it using the text that goes on to say: "And I gave them my statutes, and made my decrees known to them, by which the man who fulfills them shall live" -Ezekiel 20:11.

They also argue that the man who violates just one of the commandments is already guilty of violating all of them, as it is written: "For he who said: You shall not commit adultery, he also said: You shall not kill. Now, if you do not commit adultery, but kill, you have already become a transgressor of the Law" -James 2:11.

Finally, Christianity claims that, since the Bible says that there is no man who never sins ("Surely there is no righteous man on earth, who does good and never sins"- Ecclesiastes 7:20), we can safely conclude that no one he can "obtain (eternal) life" by trusting in the merit of his perfect obedience to the Law, as nobody is able to achieve such perfect obedience.

Thus, our Christian brothers conclude that God was forced to provide the human race with an alternate path of salvation; namely, the grace to believe in the redemption effected by the bloodshed of the Nazarene (peace and blessings of יהוה be upon him).

What is the problem with the former idea? Well, the problem is that, although at first glance it seems to be a simple and beautiful truth, it is but an illusion; an ingenious fantasy that, like the famous "street art", seeks to make us view the facts from a convenient angle; one that induces us to perceive a dimension that, when objectively examined from other angles, turns out to be false and non-existent.

The following account clarifies what we are trying to say: During the first century of the Christian era, there was a revered sage named Rabban Gamaliel (possibly the teacher of Saul of Tarsus). It is said that every time Rabban Gamaliel read the text of Psalm 15:5, he would proceed to break down in tears. The passage goes like this: "...he who does these things will never slip".

Why would Rabban Gamaliel cry? Well, because he believed [erroneously] that the Psalm implied that the promise of eternal security (to "never slip"), was only for those who obeyed all of the commandments listed in the said Psalm (not for those who failed to fulfill any of them).

Certain day, upon hearing Rabban Gamaliel's interpretation, another sage named "Akiva" asked him to consider the passage found in Leviticus 18:24. Akiva said to Gamaliel, "According to your logic, the passage saying, "...you shall not defile yourselves in all these things...", would have to be interpreted as meaning that, for a man to defile himself, he would have to commit all the sins listed there.

But that, if he just committed one of those sins, he wouldn't be sullied. However, the reality is that, in that passage, the expression "in all these things" means that, if the man commits just one of the disobediences named there, it is as if he had committed them all. So also in Psalm 15:5, the expression "all these things" means that, if a man obeys just one of the commandments enumerated there, it is as if he had obeyed them all».

And the Hebrew Scripture seems to confirm the previous interpretation, when it goes on to state that the favor God extends to his servants isn't based on past actions and aptitudes; but rather on present actions and aptitudes.

In other words, if the man who obeys God's commandments suddenly decides to rebel, and proceeds to violate them, his past obedience [and submission] do not qualify him to continue enjoying the Divine favor.

On the other hand, if a man lives in rebellion and disobedience, but one day decides to embrace an aptitude of repentance and obedience, his past disobedience against God's commandments do not prevent him from attaining the Divine favor. As it is written:

"But the wicked, IF HE TURNS AWAY FROM ALL HIS SINS THAT HE HAS DONE, and keeps all my statutes and does what is right and just, he shall surely live; he will not die. ALL THE TRANSGRESSIONS THAT HE COMMITTED, SHALL NOT BE REMEMBERED; in his righteousness which he made HE SHALL LIVE..."-Ezekiel 18:21-22.

And also says, "AGAIN, WHEN THE WICKED MAN TURNETH AWAY FROM HIS WICKEDNESS THAT HE HATH COMMITTED, AND DOETH THAT WHICH IS LAWFUL AND RIGHT, HE SHALL SAVE HIS SOUL ALIVE. Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die... REPENT, AND TURN YOURSELVES FROM ALL YOUR TRANSGRESSIONS; SO INIQUITY SHALL NOT BE YOUR RUIN"-Ezekiel 18:27-28 & 30 (KJV).

And finally says: «Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; IF HE TURN FROM HIS SIN, AND DO THAT WHICH IS LAWFUL AND RIGHT; If the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had robbed, walk in the statutes of life, without committing iniquity; HE SHALL SURELY LIVE, HE SHALL NOT DIE. NONE OF HIS SINS THAT HE HATH COMMITTED SHALL BE MENTIONED UNTO HIM: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live»- Ezekiel 33:14-16

"How many legs does a dog have if you call his tail a leg? Four. [Why? Simply because...] Saying that a tail is a leg, doesn't make it a leg"- Abraham Lincoln

If God is good and merciful, then why does He allow us to experience needs and sufferings?

If God allows us to experience needs and sufferings, it is only because such sufferings are good for the souls that have chosen to leave their heavenly home (paradise), in order to "taste" the forbidden fruit of experiencing life within bodies made out of flesh and blood.

Why is that so? Simply because such sufferings and limitations are a powerful reminder of "the saving truth". What saving truth? That we must always be meek and humble, as we aren't the infinite, immortal, and omnipotent God, but rather His finite, weak and mortal creatures.

You see, when a man acquires too much power, too much beauty, too much intelligence, too much health, and too much wealth, that man starts to view himself as being powerful enough to no longer have any need of God, nor any Divinely ordained moral code [besides the one he conveniently chooses to create]. Thus, this proud man will start behaving as if he were a god. The problem being that, as with any false deity, he will act in an evil [and arbitrary] fashion-- enslaving and oppressing anyone who refuses to submit to his self-exalting schemes.

In fact, Scripture goes on to warn Israel against this “prosperity-induced” moral corruption, when it goes on to say:

«Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God... Lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein; And when thy herds and thy flocks multiply, and thy silver and thy gold is multiplied, and all that thou hast is multiplied; Then thine heart be lifted up, and thou forget the Lord thy God... And thou say in thine heart, “My power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth”. But thou shalt remember the Lord thy God: for it is He that giveth thee power to get wealth... And it shall be, if thou do at all forget the Lord thy God... I testify against you this day that ye shall surely perish”»- Deuteronomy 8:11-19

¿Se agrada Dios de nuestro credo religioso?

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que, siempre y cuando el credo religioso de alguna persona se ajuste al credo que agrada al Dios de Abraham [quien, en adición a ser el padre espiritual de Hebreos, Musulmanes, y Cristianos, es un Dios de absoluta justicia, misericordia, y humildad], tal credo religioso es válido y aceptable. ¿Cual es el Credo que agrada al Dios de Abraham? Pues aquel que puede resumirse brevemente por medio de las siguientes escrituras Hebreas, Musulmanas, y Cristianas:

- 1) “Apártate del mal, y haz el bien, Y vivirás para siempre”- Salmo 37:27
 - 2) “... Teme a Dios, y guarda sus mandamientos; porque esto es el todo del hombre”- Eclesiastés 12:13
 - 3) “Oh hombre, él te ha declarado lo que es bueno, y qué pide יהוה de ti: solamente hacer justicia, y amar misericordia, y humillarte ante tu Dios”- Miqueas 6:8
 - 4) “Es cierto que aquéllos que han creído y los judíos, sabeos y cristianos que crean en Allah (Dios) y en el Último Día, y obren con rectitud, no tendrán que temer ni se entristecerán”- Corán 5:69
 - 5) “Así que, todas las cosas que queráis que los hombres hagan con vosotros, así también haced vosotros con ellos; porque esto es la Ley y los Profetas”- Mateo 7:12
 - 6) “No os engañéis; Dios no puede ser burlado: pues todo lo que el hombre sembrare, eso también segará”- Gálatas 6:7
 - 7) “Bienaventurado el que piensa en el pobre; En el día malo lo librerá יהוה”- Salmo 41:1
 - 8) “Apartaos de mí, malditos, al fuego eterno preparado para el diablo y sus ángeles. Porque tuve hambre, y no me disteis de comer; tuve sed, y no me disteis de beber”- Mateo 25:41-42
- ¡La paz sea con vosotros!

Why did Jacob lie to his father Isaac?

In the first place, Jacob lied because he was prompted to do so by his troubled mother. In the second place, he lied because, at such stage of his life, Jacob wasn't yet a full blown Hebrew believer [thus, he would hesitate to hold fast to the Hebrew morality portrayed by his father Isaac]. In other words, instead of being closer to pious Isaac --who was willing to submit himself to be sacrificed, rather than to oppose the will of his father Avraham--, Jacob was closer to wicked Ahav --who thought that, by using the ruse of exchanging attires with his fellow king Jehoshaphat, he would be able to avert the unfavorable decree uttered against him by his heavenly father--.

And whence do we get Jacob wasn't yet fully committed to the Hebrew faith [nor to the Hebrew God]? We get it from the verse: «And Isaac said unto his son: “How is it that thou hast found it so quickly, my son?” And he said: “Because the Lord THY GOD [NOT MINE, BUT THY GOD] sent me good speed”» (Genesis 27:20, Jewish Publication society 1917 Edition).

And further down the road: «And Jacob vowed a vow, saying: “IF GOD WILL BE WITH ME, AND WILL KEEP ME IN THIS WAY THAT I GO, AND WILL GIVE ME BREAD TO EAT, AND RAIMENT TO PUT ON, so that I come back to my father's house in peace, THEN [AND NOT BEFORE] SHALL THE LORD BE MY GOD”» (Genesis 28:20-21, JPS 1917 edition).

Later in life, Jacob would learned that, the cornerstone of Torah based morality is the idea that God's righteous judgment comes in the form of “sowing and reaping” (also known as “measure for measure”); wherein man is forced to “reap” the same goodness [or wickedness] he has sowed. Therefore, since Jacob deceived his [biological] father, it was just fair that he too be deceived by his father [in-law]; Jacob used deception by falsely impersonating his brother Edom, so it was only fair that he suffered deception by Leah's false impersonation of his sister Rachel.

After spending 20 years with his father in law, Jacob finds himself running away from Laban, finally realizing that no human being could grant him any abiding blessing-- that only Adonay would be able to grant him abiding security, and that the Almighty does so to the man who recognizes his deceptive ways, thereby winning the struggle against “the dark man” [the evil impulse] living in his tent. In the end, Jacobs finally gets it, and after renouncing to evil and deception, proceeds to rightfully ask to be blessed by the right person [the Almighty!]: «And he [Jacob] said: “I will not let thee go, except thou bless me”- Genesis 32:27, JPS 1917 Edition

«Learn as much Torah as you possibly can, but never loose sight of the fact that God's Law aims at turning you into a pious [God fearing] person; not into a heartless intellectual. As is written: “The fear of יהוה is the beginning of wisdom”- Psalm 111:10»

God's Law lends no support to the concept of an everlasting punishment

God's Law depicts the Creator as a morally perfect being (“He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He”- Deuteronomy 32:4).

Thus, the Creator will never ask us to follow any moral behavior He Himself wouldn't follow. And since God commanded His children to forgive all unpaid debts [after a fixed amount of time], logic dictates that God is morally bound to do likewise-- forgiving [after a fixed amount of time] all our outstanding debts against Him.

As is written: “At the end of every seven years thou shalt make a release. And this is the manner of the release: everyone who has lent anything to his neighbour, causing him to be in debt, shall release it; he shall not exact it any more of his neighbour or of his brother, because the release of the Lord is proclaimed”- Deut. 15:1-2, Jubilee 2000 Bible.

What is an outstanding debt against the Creator? It is a violation against His moral Law that has not being properly paid and atoned for. How is such violation paid and atoned? By repentance, confession, and restitution.

As is written: “Speak unto the sons of Israel, When a man or woman shall commit any sin that men commit, to do a trespass against the Lord, and that person is guilty, then they shall confess their sin which they have done, and he shall recompense his guilt with the principal thereof and add unto it the fifth part thereof and give it unto him against whom he is guilty”- Numbers 5:6-7.

Notice how the text on Deut. 15:1-2 includes the following phrase: “the release of the Lord is proclaimed”. What does it mean? It means the Israelites’ release was a paradigm of God’s own release-- That just like the Israelite could not hold everlasting anger for any old [and unpaid] debt, so will the Creator not hold everlasting anger for any old [and unpaid] debt against Him.

And the former is the reason why Scripture goes on to say: “The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy. He will not always chide, neither will he keep his anger for ever”- Psalm 103:8-9 (Jubilee Bible 2000).

And also says elsewhere, “Who is a God like unto thee that pardons iniquity, and passes over the rebellion with the remnant of his heritage? He did not retain his anger for ever because he delights in mercy”- Micah 7:18.

And it finally says: “... I will not cause my anger to fall upon you; for I am merciful, said the LORD, and I will not keep anger for ever”- Jeremiah 3:12.

Does the former mean non-penitent sinners will be able to escape God’s punishment? No! What it really means is that God won’t be angry forever with any sinner; that though non-repentant sinners will be justly punished, they will also be pardoned [and therefore released] after a fixed amount of time. Thus, Hebrew Scripture opposes the notion of an everlasting punishment.

But, beware! The fact that the punishment meted out to sinners will last for a limited span of time doesn’t justify open rebellion. Why? Because God cannot be fooled! In other words, the man who brazenly pretends to outsmart the Almighty, will end up dismayed; as he’ll find that [though time-limited] his punishment will be so increased that, in the end, he will feel as if it had lasted forever!

Hebrew Scripture teaches that sin is an act, not a state of being. Mankind was created with an inclination to do evil (Genesis 8:21), and the ability to master this inclination (Genesis 4:7); But he can choose good over evil (Psalm 37:27). Secondly, God gave us a way to remove our sins. When sacrifices were required, they were intended for unintentional sins (Leviticus 4:1), and served as a means of motivating individuals to true repentance. Numerous passages, including Hosea 14, I Kings 8: 44-52 and Jeremiah 29:12-14, inform us that today, without a Temple or sacrifices, our prayers take the place of sacrifices. In addition, we read, “The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit, a broken and contrite heart” (Psalm 51:22); and, “I desire kindness and not sacrifices, the knowledge of God, more than burnt offerings” (Hosea 6: 6). The Torah (God’s Law) teaches that through repentance, prayer, fasting, and doing what is right, everyone has the ability to return to God directly, and without the need of any intermediary. This concept is beautifully illustrated in the books of Jonah and Esther, where both Jews and non-Jews repented, prayed to God and were forgiven for their sins without having offered any sacrifices.

A Testimony of Conversion to the Reformed Samaritan movement

A few years ago, I took upon myself the task of studying the main differences between the theological tenets respectively advanced by Jews, Christians, Muslims, and Reformed Samaritanism (R.S.). And, while each of the former religions represents a perfectly valid path to pleasing the Creator, I was ultimately able to identify with the viewpoint outlined by Reformed Samaritans. Why? Simply because [in my humble opinion], it provided the strongest answers.

And so it was that I began to learn all that I could about the teachings of the former movement. Now, since I couldn't find out whether they had a nearby temple that I could regularly visit, after some time considering the issue I decided to start holding [in my own home, and with my own family] their worship services [which I had previously downloaded from the Web].

As soon as I began to worship the Creator the way Reformed Samaritans do (confessing aloud that there's no God greater than יהוה; that there's no prophet greater than Moses; that there's no Law greater than the Ten Commandments; that no set of Books is greater than Moses five books of Torah; that there's no people greater than the community of God-fearing believers allegorically portrayed by the Israelite nation; and that no other theology is truer, more just, nor more important than "Sowing and reaping"), I noticed that something started to happen inside of me.

You see, I found out that by repeating the former words my life started to change for the better, as I began to feel something good was affecting my psyche-- peace and tranquility deep inside my soul!... Later, I theorized the former to be the result of finally having my mind, heart, and soul aligned with one another, as well as with the Creator. How? By means of a truthful, honest, and balanced judgment of God's plan for my life [in fact, not only for my own life, but for all mankind as well]. What is such plan? That we speak the honest and objective truth our hearts already know; that we seek peace; that we seek justice [in a justly fashion]; and that we strike balanced [non biased] judgments. As is written:

1) «These are the things that ye shall do: "Speak each one the truth to his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates..." (which can be phrased as, "But you must be truthful with each other, and in court you must give fair decisions that lead to peace"»- Zechariah 8:16, Jubilee Bible 2000

2) «A just weight and balance are the Lord's..." (which can be phrased as, "The Lord watches to see if we are fair or if we cheat others..."»- Proverbs 16:11, Jubilee Bible 2000

3) "Thou shalt pursue justly that that is just, that thou live, and wield the land which thy Lord God shall give to thee. (Thou shalt only pursue what is right, or just, so that thou can live, and possess the land which the Lord thy God shall give thee)"- Deuteronomy 16:20, Wycliffe Bible

4) «Just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin shall ye have... (which can be phrased as, "Use honest scales, and don't cheat when you weigh or measure anything"»- Leviticus 19:36, Jubilee Bible 2000

I discovered that this peace and tranquility was what I wanted-- the thing I had been searching out for a long time. Thus, I now believe that there's no God besides יהוה (Adonai Yah, the God who spoke to Noah, Job, Abraham, Abimelech, and Moses);

I believe that our master Moses is God's supreme prophet and messenger; I believe God allows each soul to choose whether or not it wants to come into this World of sin and suffering, letting the soul choose the conditions it will experience in life [so that, by struggling for goodness to prevail upon evil, and for "light" to prevail upon "darkness", the soul can achieve a higher moral and spiritual stature [thereby resembling more and more the image of it's Creator, as well as fulfilling the verse that goes on to say, «And I heard the voice of the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" Then I said, "Here I am! Send me"»- Isaiah 6:8];

I believe Adonai wants us to "sow" the same goodness that, in the future, He promises we will reap (treating everyone with justice, mercy, and humility);

I believe that Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) isn't literally God, but rather a great messenger, sent by God unto this World in order to call everybody back to sincere repentance as well as to the deeds of loving kindness that please the Creator-- and I believe the same about Muhammad, Zoroaster, Martin Luther, the Baal Shem Tov, Joseph Smith, Ellen G. White, Charles Taze Russell, William Marrion Branham, and every other great religious figure who preaches both repentance and obedience to the Creator.

May the Peace of the God of Abraham be upon you! Amen

No wise and mature believer would entertain the notion that the non-created, infinite, unlimited, all knowing, omnipresent, and omnipotent Creator of the Universe can ever be tempted to bow down [in worship and submission] to any of His weak, finite, and limited creatures. And that's why Reformed Samaritanism rejects the Christian dogma of Jesus deity, as the gospel portrays him [the alleged Creator of the Universe] being tempted to worship Satan [one of his alleged creatures]. As is written: "Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me..." - Matthew 4:8-9, K.J.V.

Es Ha-Satan (Satanás) el creador de la maldad?

Nuestros hermanos cristianos a menudo postulan la idea de que, "el mal" (o "la maldad") fue creación de Satanás. ¿Cual es el problema con esta idea? Pues nada... aparte del hecho de que, alegar que Satanás "creo" la maldad, es insinuar que no existe un solo creador, sino que existen al menos dos creadores-- un dios responsable de crear el bien, y un segundo dios responsable de crear el mal.

Pero, desafortunadamente, esta dualidad de creadores es una velada forma de Paganismo. De hecho, este tipo de dualidad fue antiguamente postulada por Zoroastro, quien enseñaba que existe un dios responsable por el bien ("Spenta Mainyu"), y otro dios responsable por el mal ("Ahriman").

En cambio, la Escritura Hebrea es clara en enseñar que existe un solo Creador, quien es responsable de todas las cosas. Es decir, el Dios de Israel hizo la luz, pero también hizo las tinieblas; hizo a los ángeles, pero también hizo a los demonios; hizo al justo, pero también hizo a los pecadores; hizo lo bueno, pero también hizo lo malo.

Finalmente, aunque es responsable de tanto el bien como el mal, el Creador desea que sus servidores escoja el bien, y no la maldad. ¿Como? Pues dando la espalda a esta última, para comenzar en cambio a hacer el bien encarnado por los Mandamientos Divinos. Como esta escrito:

"Todas las cosas ha hecho el Señor para sí mismo, Y aun al impío para el día malo"- Proverbios 16:4; "¿Habrá algún mal en la ciudad, el cual יהיה no haya hecho?"- Amos 3:6; "Mira, yo he puesto delante de ti hoy la vida y el bien, la muerte y el mal; porque yo te mando hoy que ames a el Señor tu Dios, que andes en sus caminos, y guardes sus mandamientos... para que vivas y seas multiplicado... A los cielos y a la tierra llamo por testigos hoy contra vosotros, que os he puesto delante la vida y la muerte, la bendición y la maldición; escoge, pues, la vida, para que vivas tú y tu descendencia- Deut. 30:15-19 (Reina Valera 1960).

Whence do we get the existence of a hidden parallel realm, where non physical beings (angels and spirits) abide? We get it from the portion that goes on to say: «When Elisha's servant got up the next morning, he saw that Syrian troops had the town surrounded. “Sir, what are we going to do?” he asked. “Don't be afraid,” Elisha answered. “There are more troops on our side than on theirs”. Then he prayed, “Lord, please help him to see [beyond the physical reality]”. And the Lord let the servant see that the hill was covered with fiery horses and flaming chariots all around Elisha»- 2 Kings 6:15-17 (Contemporary English Version)

Jesús era un excelente maestro del bien; pero en ninguna manera era el Dios omnipotente

Las enseñanzas adscritas a Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean con él) pueden ser de gran ayuda en nuestra jornada de aprendizaje del estilo de vida santa (en términos éticos y morales) que espera el Creador de su Pueblo («Habla a toda la congregación de los hijos de Israel, y diles: “Santos seréis, porque santo soy yo YHVH vuestro Dios”»- Levítico 19:2, Biblia Reina Valera 1960). Pero la realidad objetiva es que Jesús no era Dios, sino en cambio un hombre imperfecto. Es que la Escritura Hebrea indica que Dios es bueno (“... YHVH, que es bueno, sea propicio a todo aquel que ha preparado su corazón para buscar a Dios”- 2 Crónicas 30:18, Biblia Reina Valera 1960); mientras que el Evangelio indica que Jesús NO era bueno (¡y ni siquiera aceptaba ser descrito con tal apelativo!). Como está escrito: «... Él (Jesús) le dijo: “¿Por qué me llamas bueno? Ninguno hay bueno sino uno: Dios”»- Mateo 19:17, Biblia Reina Valera 1960). Y los Escritos cristianos confirman esta misma verdad, cuando muestran que Jesús tuvo que “aprender obediencia” [hacia su Padre celestial]; como está escrito: “Y aunque era Hijo, por lo que padeció, aprendió la obediencia”- Hebreos 5:8. Y esta casi demás decir que, la única razón para que ningún hombre necesite “aprender obediencia”, es su previa desobediencia.

Las Escrituras Judeo-Cristianas intiman que el dios de los Netsaritas (Cristianos), es moralmente inferior al Dios de los Hebreos Samaritanos

Consideremos el siguiente caso: Un primer hombre decide darnos caridad “desde la distancia”; y, a fin de mantener su anonimato, este último procede a enviarnos uno de sus siervos, a quien ha encargado la tarea de dispensar tal caridad. De este modo, el generoso donante se abstiene de “dar la cara”, de revelar su identidad personal, y de recibir gloria ni reconocimiento alguno por el bien que ha dispensado desinteresadamente.

En cambio, un segundo hombre, decide venir en persona a dispensar la misma caridad, haciéndolo públicamente, tomando crédito por ello, y demandando la gloria, la honra, y el reconocimiento de los recipientes.

¿Cuál de estos hombres es moralmente superior? ¿No es meridianamente claro que, el que da limosna en secreto, es mayor que el que lo hace “sonando la trompeta”? ¿No enseñan esto mismo los escritos Nazarenos, cuando citan al Galileo diciendo:

“CUANDO, PUES, DES LIMOSNA, NO HAGAS TOCAR TROMPETA DELANTE DE TI, como hacen los hipócritas en las sinagogas y en las calles, PARA SER ALABADOS POR LOS HOMBRES; de cierto os digo que ya tienen su recompensa”- Mateo 6:2? Pero, si en el anterior pasaje, el Galileo critica el que los Judíos demandaran honra y reconocimiento por la caridad que dispensaban, ¿Por qué hizo luego Jesús lo mismo?

¿No alega la fe Nazarena que Jesús (Jesús) era el Dios que vino en persona a hacernos la mayor de todas las caridades [es decir, regalarnos la salvación de nuestras almas], y que pidió en cambio ser honrado y reconocido? Como está escrito:

“PARA QUE TODOS HONREN AL HIJO como honran al Padre. EL QUE NO HONRA AL HIJO, NO HONRA AL PADRE que le envió”- Juan 5:23; “Y DE JESUCRISTO el testigo fiel, el primogénito de los muertos, y EL SOBERANO DE LOS REYES DE LA TIERRA. Al que nos amó, y nos lavó de nuestros pecados con su sangre, y nos hizo reyes y sacerdotes para Dios, su Padre; A ÉL SEA GLORIA E IMPERIO POR LOS SIGLOS DE LOS SIGLOS”- Apocalipsis 1:5-6.

Así, vemos que el “Nuevo Testamento” pone al Dios de los Nazarenos (Jesús) actuando de forma hipócrita, pues le adscribe haber criticado en los Judíos un defecto moral del cual mas tarde él mismo habría de padecer.

En cambio יהוה [el Dios de Israel, bendito sea] es moralmente superior al dios de los Nazarenos; pues hasta la conducta de sus profetas era mas ennoblecedora que la del Nazareno.

Y un buen ejemplo de esto lo es el profeta Eliseo, quien [por medio de un mensajero] trajo sanidad al gentil Naamán, para luego rehusar recibir reconocimiento ni recompensa alguna por el bien dispensado. Como esta escrito:

“Y vino Naamán con sus caballos y con su carro, y se paró a las puertas de la casa de Eliseo. ENTONCES ELISEO LE ENVIÓ [ANÓNIMAMENTE] UN MENSAJERO, DICIENDO: VE Y LÁVATE SIETE VECES EN EL JORDÁN, Y TU CARNE SE TE RESTAURARÁ, Y SERÁS LIMPIO... Y VOLVIÓ AL VARÓN DE DIOS, él y toda su compañía, y se puso delante de él, Y DIJO: He aquí ahora conozco que no hay Dios en toda la tierra, sino en Israel. TE RUEGO QUE RECIBAS ALGÚN PRESENTE DE TU SIERVO. MAS ÉL DIJO: VIVE יהוה, EN CUYA PRESENCIA ESTOY, QUE NO LO ACEPTARÉ. Y LE INSTABA QUE ACEPTARA ALGUNA COSA, PERO ÉL NO QUISO”- 2 Reyes 5:9-10, & 15-16.

¿Esta en lo correcto la teología Cristiana, cuando afirma que nadie puede agradar a Dios tratando de cumplir la Ley?

¿Esperaba Dios que los Israelitas obedeciesen [literalmente] todos y cada uno de los mandamientos? La noble teología Nazarena, postula con absoluta certeza y contundencia que, ningún hombre, puede agradar a Dios por medio de la obediencia a la Ley; pues [alegadamente], nadie puede cumplir con la exigencia Divina de obedecer todos y cada uno de sus mandamientos.

Pero, la pregunta que debe hacerse todo creyente, es si tal idea es una verdad Divina que surge de la mente de Dios; o si surge en cambio de la vana imaginación de los hombres.

A fin de encontrar la respuesta a nuestra pregunta, examinemos el siguiente pasaje de la Ley:

“CUIDARAS DE PONER POR OBRA TODO MANDAMIENTO QUE YO OS ORDENO HOY, PARA QUE viváis, y seáis multiplicados, y ENTRÉIS Y POSEÁIS LA TIERRA QUE יהוה PROMETIÓ CON JURAMENTO A VUESTROS PADRES... GUARDARAS PUES LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE יהוה TU DIOS, andando en sus caminos, y temiendole. POR QUE [HACIENDO ESTO] יהוה TU DIOS TE INTRODUCE EN LA BUENA TIERRA...”- Deut. 8:1, & Deut. 8:6-7.

Note como, en los dos anteriores pasajes, Dios advierte a Israel que, el pre-requisito para entrar [o “ser introducidos”] a la Tierra Santa, es guardar TODO mandamiento ordenado por Dios [en la Ley]. Es decir, si Israel no guardaba TODOS los mandamientos de la Ley, nunca podría entrar a la Tierra prometida.

Siendo así las cosas, la pregunta lógica es la siguiente: ¿Que confirma la historia que sucedió?

¿Confirma que Israel entró en la Tierra de Canaán? ¿O que nunca entró en ella? ¿Confirma la historia que Israel poseyó la tierra de Canaán, que exterminó a pueblos enteros, y que tanto los reyes de Juda, como de Israel, gobernaron durante siglos la tierra de Canaán? ¿O confirma en cambio la historia que los reyes de Israel nunca reinaron sobre tal territorio?

Y, si la respuesta que a estas preguntas provee la historia, es en la afirmativa, entonces no nos queda otro remedio sino concluir que, si Dios introdujo a Israel en la Tierra prometida, tuvo que deberse al hecho de que el Creador consideró que [como un colectivo de creyentes], Israel cumplió en efecto con TODOS los mandamientos Divinos [es decir, cumplió TODA LA LEY]. Y, esto ultimo, echa por tierra el reclamo Nazareno que alega que el Creador demandaba que cada Israelita cumpliera perfectamente todos y cada uno de los mandamientos de la Ley.

El Evangelio, dice que Jesús (p.s.c.e.) era Dios ; pero que, a la misma vez, era un hombre común (es decir, un hombre que estaba sujeto a caer en la tentación, y a cometer pecado). Y esto sería perfectamente lógico, si no fuese por el hecho de que, cuando un hombre es tentado, es en realidad tentado a revelarse contra la voluntad del único y verdadero Dios. Pero, si alguien tratase de tentar al único y verdadero Dios (Jesús), ¿contra la voluntad de quien le estaría tentando a revelarse? ¿Contra su propia voluntad? ¿O contra la voluntad de algún otro “Único y verdadero Dios”? ¿Como puede haber mas de un “Único y verdadero Dios”? Si un Dios es único, entonces no hay un segundo dios semejante a Él; y, si en efecto hay otro dios semejante a Él, entonces no es realmente único ¿Es cierto que יהוה (el Dios de los hebreos) es un Dios vengativo, mientras que Jesús de Nazaret (el dios de los Cristianos), es en cambio un dios de misericordia?

Nuestros hermanos Cristianos, a menudo afirman que, el Jesús de “el Nuevo Testamento”, es superior al יהוה de la Escritura Hebrea. ¿Por que hacen tal aseveración? Pues porque, según ellos, יהוה era un Dios Vengativo [el Dios del “ojo por ojo, y diente por diente”; el Dios que no sabia de gracia, ni de misericordia]; mientras que, Jesús, era un dios de amor, de perdón, y de misericordia.

¿Cual es el problema con esta interpretación? Pues que, aunque hermosa y ennoblecedora, es totalmente falsa, pues está desconectada de la verdad revelada en la Ley Divina. Es que, “el inmisericorde Dios de los Hebreos”, demandaba mas misericordia de sus seguidores, que la que demandaba “el misericordioso dios de los Romanos”.

Por ejemplo, יהוה ordenaba a los Israelitas dejar que las viudas, los huérfanos, y los extranjeros, se alimentasen libremente de los frutos que crecían en las esquinas de sus campos (Levítico 23:22). Pero, “el misericordioso dios de los Romanos”, no demandaba lo mismo de sus seguidores. En adición, “el vengativo Dios de los Hebreos”, ordenó que, cada siete años, los Israelitas tenían que perdonar todas las deudas (Deuteronomio 15:2; 9-10).

Y no solamente esto, sino que, cada 50 años, tenían que liberar a todos los esclavos, y devolver todas las propiedades a sus dueños originales. Pero, “el misericordioso dios de los Romanos”, no demandó que sus seguidores practicasen ninguno de estos actos de misericordia.

Pero, ¿y que del “ojo por ojo, y diente por diente”? ¿No demuestra esta doctrina que, el Dios de Israel, era un Dios injusto y vengativo, que no sabia de perdón, ni de misericordia? Pues la realidad es que, alegar que hay injusticia en la ley del “ojo por ojo, y diente por diente”, es como alegar que hay injusticia en la Ley de “siembra y cosecha” [o en la Ley de “causa y efecto”].

Es que, el “ojo por ojo, y diente por diente”, fue la manera que el Creador escogió demostrar a su Pueblo que, tanto la justicia, como la misericordia Divina, se manifiestan en el hecho de que el hombre recibe de vuelta el mismo bien [o mal] que ha hecho; que, el juicio de quien rehúsa apartarse del mal, e insiste en dañar a su prójimo, es recibir de vuelta el mismo daño que ha hecho. Y que, la misericordia Divina, se manifiesta en el hecho de que el Creador se ha comprometido a si mismo con recompensar al hombre, devolviéndole el mismo bien que haya sembrado.

Como esta escrito: «El que sembrare iniquidad, iniquidad segará» (Proverbios 22:8); «Decid al justo que le irá bien, porque comerá de los frutos de sus manos. ¡Ay del impío! Mal le irá, porque según las obras de sus manos le será pagado» (Isaías 3:10-11). Y también dice en otro lugar la Escritura Hebrea: «... como yo hice, así me ha pagado Dios ...» (Jueces 1:7).

¿Como espera el Creador que interpretemos su Torah (su instrucción Divina)?

La Escritura Hebrea afirma que, luego de completar la creación, el Dios omnipotente decidió “descansar” de su obra (“Y acabó Dios en el día séptimo la obra que hizo; Y REPOSÓ EL DÍA SÉPTIMO de toda la obra que hizo”- Génesis 2:2).

Pero la realidad es que, un Dios omnipotente, nunca tendrá necesidad alguna de descanso (“¿No has sabido, no has oído que EL DIOS ETERNO, יהוה , el cual creó los confines de la tierra, NO DESFALLECE, NI SE FATIGA CON CANSANCIO?”- Isaías 40:28).

La Escritura también cita al Creador advirtiendo a Adán que, el día que comiese de la fruta prohibida, en ese mismo día habría de morir (“mas del árbol de la ciencia del bien y del mal no comerás; porque EL DÍA QUE DE ÉL COMERES, CIERTAMENTE MORIRÁS”- Génesis 2:17). Pero la realidad es que Adán no murió sino hasta casi 1,000 años después de haber pecado (“Y FUERON TODOS LOS DÍAS QUE VIVIÓ ADÁN NOVECIENTOS TREINTA AÑOS”- Génesis 5:5).

La Escritura promete que Israel sería un pueblo santo (“Habla a toda LA CONGREGACIÓN DE LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL, y diles: SANTOS SERÉIS, porque santo soy yo יהוה vuestro Dios”- Levítico 19:2); Pero la realidad es que, ni los antiguos Israelitas, ni los modernos ciudadanos del estado de Israel, encarnan necesariamente el modelo optimo de santidad (“REBELDES HABÉIS SIDO A יהוה DESDE EL DÍA QUE YO [MOISÉS] OS CONOZCO”- Deut. 9:24; “Y יהוה DIJO A MOISÉS: He aquí, tú vas a dormir con tus padres, y ESTE PUEBLO SE LEVANTARÁ Y FORNICARÁ TRAS LOS DIOSES AJENOS DE LA TIERRA ADONDE VA PARA ESTAR EN MEDIO DE ELLA; Y ME DEJARÁ, E INVALIDARÁ MI PACTO que he concertado con él; Y SE ENCENDERÁ MI FUROR CONTRA ÉL EN AQUEL DÍA; Y LOS ABANDONARÉ, Y ESCONDERÉ DE ELLOS MI ROSTRO, Y SERÁN CONSUMIDOS; Y VENDRÁN SOBRE ELLOS MUCHOS MALES Y ANGUSTIAS”- Deut. 31:16-17).

Similarmente, la Escritura cita al Creador prometiendo a su siervo David que, su descendencia, habría de reinar para siempre sobre Israel (“Y SERÁ AFIRMADA TU CASA Y TU REINO PARA SIEMPRE delante de tu rostro, y TU TRONO SERÁ ESTABLE ETERNAMENTE”- 2 Samuel 7:16;); pero la realidad es que, la descendencia biológica del Rey David, dejo de reinar sobre Israel hace ya muchos siglos (mas de 2,000 años).

¿Que significa todo esto? ¿Significan acaso que es falsa la Escritura? ¡Absolutamente no! Lo que significa, es que el Creador no espera que leamos su Palabra como el hombre común lee el periódico; no espera que la leamos como la ama de casa lee su libro de recetas, ni mucho menos como el niño lee su libro de cuentos.

El Creador espera que tengamos presente que sus caminos son mas altos que nuestros caminos; y que sus pensamientos son infinitamente mas altos que los nuestros; Quiere que tengamos presente que la Escritura no puede ser considerada “la Palabra del Dios infinito”, sin que ello implique a su vez que es la manifestación de una mente infinita. Y, siendo que es la manifestación de una mente infinita y eterna, hace sentido pensar que su verdadera intención no son las cosas materiales, transitorias, y fútiles en las que se ocupan los hombres con diminutas almas e intelectos (poder, sexo, dinero, fama, reconocimiento, etc)-- son las cosas eternas (la Justicia, la Misericordia, la Humildad, el Perdón, la Fe, y el Amor).

Si Dios descansó, no lo hizo porque se hubiese cansado; lo hizo para modelar una conducta; lo hizo para enseñarnos que si Dios (que no sufre de cansancio alguno) reposó de sus obras ¿por cuanto mas no debe el hombre (que en efecto sufre de cansancio) reposar también de sus obras? Si Dios descansó de su trabajo, fue para intimar que tarde o temprano llega un momento en nuestras vidas donde debemos "dejar de obrar" (tratando de controlarlo todo), para en cambio reposar en la confianza de que Dios es el dueño de todo lo creado; y que, “Si יהוה no edifica la casa, En vano trabajan los que la edifican” (Salmo 127:1).

Y la anterior verdad es también intimada en el mandamiento de la Ley, que ordena cesar de sembrar la tierra durante el año séptimo (“Seis años sembrarás tu tierra, y seis años podarás tu viña y recogerás sus frutos. PERO EL SÉPTIMO AÑO LA TIERRA TENDRÁ DESCANSO, sábado para יהוה; NO SEMBRARÁS TU TIERRA, NI PODARÁS TU VIÑA”- Levítico 25:3-4).

De igual modo, si Adán no murió el mismo día en que pecó, no fue porque el Creador hubiese mentido; si Adán no murió, fue porque Dios quería ilustrar una profunda y eterna verdad. ¿Cual verdad? Pues que, a los ojos del Creador, la verdadera muerte no sucede durante el proceso Físico en el que cual el alma abandona el cuerpo humano-- sucede cuando el el alma abandona a su Creador [para comenzar a vivir en oposicion a la voluntad Divina], Y esto ultimo sin importar si el cuerpo continua o no con vida.

Y lo anterior explica el hecho de que, la consecuencia inmediata del pecado de Adán, fuera el ser separado del Jardín del Edén (“Y lo sacó יהוה del huerto del Edén”- Génesis 3:23), perdiendo así la comunión con Dios que hasta el momento había disfrutado.

De hecho, el que la muerte física no es la muerte del alma que vive en obediencia a su Creador, es una verdad tan grande e innegable que los escritos cristianos también la confirman, cuando ponen en boca del Galileo las siguientes palabras: “De cierto, de cierto os digo, que EL QUE GUARDA MI PALABRA, NUNCA VERÁ MUERTE”- Juan 8:51.

¿Pensaba acaso Jesús que, los cuerpos de sus discípulos, nunca verían la muerte? ¡Imposible! ¿Por que? Pues porque Jesús mismo les había advertido que no debían temer a quienes, en el futuro, habrían de matar sus cuerpos [físicos], pero no podrían matar sus almas [las cuales, viviendo en comunión y armonía con Dios, ya habían alcanzado inmortalidad]. Como esta escrito: “Y NO TEMÁIS A LOS QUE MATAN EL CUERPO, MAS EL ALMA NO PUEDEN MATAR”- Mateo 10:28.

En esa misma linea, si hallamos a Judíos que son usureros, ateos, y homosexuales, no es porque Dios haya mentido, cuando prometió que Israel habría de ser un pueblo “Santo”; ni se debe tampoco a que, el Creador, haya incurrido en un error de juicio, fallando en escoger a un pueblo que fuese el mejor ejemplo de santidad. Lo que el Creador deseaba mostrarnos con ello, era que “el Israel” de Dios (es decir, el verdadero “Pueblo escogido”) no se limita al Israel biológico, ni al nacional; sino que es en cambio todo hombre y toda mujer que vive una vida de santidad [sin importar o no si es descendiente biológico de Judá, o de Israel].

Como esta escrito: “Y EL EXTRANJERO QUE SIGUE A יהוה , NO HABLE DICHIENDO: ME APARTARÁ TOTALMENTE יהוה DE SU PUEBLO... Y A LOS HIJOS DE LOS EXTRANJEROS QUE SIGAN A יהוה PARA SERVIRLE, y que amen el nombre de יהוה para ser sus siervos; A TODOS LOS QUE GUARDEN EL DÍA DE REPOSO PARA NO PROFANARLO, Y ABRACEN MI PACTO, YO LOS LLEVARÉ A MI SANTO MONTE, y los recrearé en mi casa de oración; sus holocaustos y sus sacrificios serán aceptos sobre mi altar”- Isaías 56:3&6-7.

Finalmente, si aparente ser falsa la promesa Divina de que David habría de “reinar” para siempre sobre Israel, no es porque el Creador haya mentido, o haya fallado en cumplir su promesa. Es porque sus pensamientos son mas altos (es decir mas ennoblecedores) que los nuestros; es porque desea mostrarnos una verdad eterna.

¿Cual verdad eterna? Pues que, “el espíritu” (o “la aptitud”) que siempre habrá de “reinar” (siendo el norte moral) sobre “el Israel de Dios” (es decir, sobre todo hombre y toda mujer que vive la vida de santidad que caracteriza al Pueblo de Dios), es la humilde aptitud encarnada en David; la aptitud del hombre que, confesando su pecado, y tratando de vivir en paz aun con sus enemigos, obtiene el perdón y la inmortalidad que disfrutaban aquellos que agradan al Creador. Como afirma el mismo David, cuando dice:

“MI PECADO TE DECLARÉ, Y NO ENCUBRÍ MI INIQUIDAD. Dije: Confesaré mis transgresiones a יהוה ; Y TÚ PERDONASTE LA MALDAD DE MI PECADO”- Salmo 32:5. Y también dice en otro lugar David: “SE LEVANTAN [CONTRA MI] TESTIGOS MALVADOS; De lo que no sé me preguntan; ME DEVUELVEN MAL POR BIEN, Para afligir a mi alma. PERO YO, CUANDO ELLOS ENFERMARON, ME VESTÍ DE CILICIO; AFLIGÍ CON AYUNO MI ALMA, Y mi oración se volvía a mi seno. COMO POR MI COMPAÑERO, COMO POR MI HERMANO ANDABA; Como el que trae luto por madre, enlutado me humillaba”- Salmo 35: 11-14. Finalmente dice David: “¡MIRAD CUÁN BUENO Y CUÁN DELICIOSO ES HABITAR LOS HERMANOS JUNTOS EN ARMONÍA! Es como el buen óleo sobre la cabeza... Como el rocío de Hermón, Que desciende sobre los montes de Sion; PORQUE ALLÍ ENVÍA יהוה BENDICIÓN, Y VIDA ETERNA”- Salmo 133:1&3.

El Dios que adoraban los Hebreos no era un Dios antropomórfico, sino que era en cambio el Ser Infinito que contiene dentro de sí mismo todas las cosas

La Torah (la Escritura Hebrea) resume la fe de Israel diciendo así: «OYE, ISRAEL: יהוה NUESTRO DIOS, יהוה ES “EJAD”» (Deut. 6:4). En el anterior verso, la palabra hebrea “EJAD” puede válidamente traducirse como “uno”, “único”, o “solo”. Y esto significa que, todos estos atributos, aplican a יהוה (Adonai Yah, el Dios de Israel).

En otras palabras, Adonai está “solo” (en el sentido de que, no hay nadie que comparta con Él el título de Dios); Adonai es único (en el sentido de que, en toda la Creación, no hay nada ni nadie que posea su misma naturaleza); y Adonai “Uno”. Pero, ¿Que significa que Dios sea “Uno”?

¿Por que no podría alguien decir: “Muy bien, Adonai es uno... ¡y yo soy dos!”? O, mejor aún, ¿por que no decir: “Yo soy uno, Adonai es dos, y el planeta Saturno es tres”?

La razón por la cual nunca podremos hacer [con propiedad] tal aseveración, es porque implica afirmar que “nosotros estamos aquí, Dios está allá, y el planeta Saturno está en algún tercer lugar”; Y eso sería asumir que hay alguna cosa que posee una existencia independiente [y separada de Dios]. Pero esto es falso, pues el Creador dice así: «Y respondió יהוה a Moisés: YO SOY EL QUE SOY» (Éxodo 3:14). En otras palabras, solo el Creador “Es” (o “existe”); pues nada (ni nadie) tiene una existencia independiente (o “separada”) de Él.

¿Por que? Pues porque, todas las cosas (las leyes de Física, la materia, la energía, el tiempo, el espacio, los planetas, la vida, la muerte, las ideas, la justicia, la ética la moral, el alma de cada ser humano, las dimensiones, los universos paralelos, las cosas intangibles, etc) están “dentro” de Adonai Yah.

En otras palabras, la Torah enseña que Dios contiene dentro de sí mismo absolutamente todas las cosas; y que todas las cosas existen “dentro de Él” [es decir, como parte de su única y absoluta existencia].

ASI, PODEMOS EN PROPIEDAD DECIR QUE DIOS ES EL INFINITO QUE TODO LO CONTIENE. Y, SIENDO QUE TODO LO CONTIENE, ES EL PRINCIPIO Y EL FINAL DE TODO; EL SER DENTRO DEL CUAL SOMOS Y EXISTIMOS.

Y esto a su vez nos permite entender la razón para que, durante el primer siglo de la era Cristiana, el historiador Flavio Josefo escribiese lo siguiente: «El primer mandamiento, tiene que ver con Dios. Y afirma que DIOS CONTIENE [DENTRO DE SI MISMO] TODAS LAS COSAS, Y ES UN SER EN TODAS FORMAS PERFECTO Y FELIZ; AUTO SUFICIENTE, Y PROVEEDOR DE TODOS LOS OTROS SERES; EL PRINCIPIO, EL MEDIO Y EL FINAL DE TODAS LAS COSAS» (Flavio Josefo contra Apion, Par. #190).

También explica las palabras que por ese mismo tiempo expuso a su audiencia el apóstol Pablo (paz sea con él), cuando es citado diciendo: «para que busquen a Dios, si en alguna manera, palpando, puedan hallarle, aunque ciertamente no está lejos de cada uno de nosotros. PORQUE EN ÉL VIVIMOS, Y NOS MOVEMOS, Y SOMOS» (Hechos 17:27-28).

Así, Dios no está “contenido” (sub-editado) dentro de ningún hombre, dentro de ningún lugar, dentro de ningún tiempo, dentro de ningún espacio, dentro de ninguna “Trinidad”, ni dentro de ninguna otra cosa; pues todas las cosas están “dentro de Él”, mientras que Él no está “dentro” (o “sub-editado”) de ninguna cosa.

Y esto a su vez explica la razón por la cual Moisés ha prohibido a los creyentes tratar de hacer alguna imagen de Dios («NO HARÁS PARA TI ESCULTURA, NI IMAGEN ALGUNA DE COSA QUE ESTÁ ARRIBA EN LOS CIELOS, NI ABAJO EN LA TIERRA, NI EN LAS AGUAS DEBAJO DE LA TIERRA. No te inclinarás a ellas ni las servirás; porque yo soy יהוה tu Dios, fuerte, celoso, que visito la maldad de los padres sobre los hijos hasta la tercera y cuarta generación de los que me aborrecen»- Deut. 5:8-9).

¿Por que no podemos hacer una imagen de Dios? Pues porque seria una falsa representación de la Deidad. Es que sería imposible que, una imagen finita, pudiese representar con veracidad aquello que es infinito, pues tendría que ser una imagen de todo lo que existe (tanto como de lo que no existe). En adición, la imagen terminaría algún día disolviéndose [algo que jamás aplicaría al Creador]. En otras palabras, la imagen estaría limitada en tiempo, espacio, dimensión, y existencia; mientras que el Dios infinito no está constreñido en tiempo, espacio, dimensiones, o siquiera a existencia.

De este modo, vemos que la naturaleza del Dios de Israel, hace que las grandes preguntas filosóficas [que a menudo nos agobian] se hagan irrelevantes. ¿Cuales son esas preguntas? Pues son preguntas como, “¿Existe Dios?”, “¿Entiende Dios el sufrimiento Humano?”, “¿Donde está el Creador?”, “¿Cuan viejo es Dios?”, o “¿Tiene Dios control de todas las cosas?”.

Es que, las anteriores preguntas, no hacen sentido cuando tratamos de aplicarlas a algo que por definición es el infinito que contiene dentro de si mismo “todas las cosas”; todas las circunstancias; todas las posibilidades, y todas las imposibilidades; Todos los universos posibles; todos los tiempos posibles; todas las posibles leyes de física; todas las posibles formas de existencia, así como las de inexistencia.

Y esta es la razón para que, uno de los nombres que los sabios de Israel dieron al Único y verdadero Dios fuese “Ha Makon”; una frase Hebrea que literalmente significa “El Lugar”.

¿Cual lugar? Pues aquel que es la fuente absoluta de todas las cosas; el lugar que, si bien contiene dentro de sí mismo todas las cosas, no está contenido dentro de ninguna otra cosa [fuera de si mismo].

¿Donde muestra la Torah que, el creyente Hebreo, no puede ser abiertamente homosexual?

Alguien preguntó en una ocasión: “Si la Homosexualidad es tan mala, ¿porque no la hizo Dios parte de los 10 dichos (mandamientos)? ¿Porque los mandamientos no dicen, “no robaras, no adulteraras, no cometerás actos de homosexualidad?”. Y la respuesta a esta pregunta es que es que la Torah (La Ley De Dios presume que el hombre tiene un nivel básico de humanidad.

Y este nivel básico de humanidad es el que distingue al hombre de los animales irracionales. En otras palabras, es al hombre que posee al menos esta minúscula cantidad de humanidad a quien la Torah intenta refinar.

Es que, quien ha descendido por debajo de este mínimo de humanidad, ha dejado de ser humano, y se ha reducido al nivel de las bestias parlantes. Las bestias no pueden creer en Dios, pues no tienen raciocinio; y, como tampoco saben de ética ni moral, pues andan alrededor desnudas; practicando el sexo abiertamente; defecando públicamente; y comiendo carne de cadáveres.

Por eso la Torah no se preocupa de prohibir explícitamente ninguna de estas conductas: el canibalismo, el defecar en publico, la abierta desnudez, o la homosexualidad. Es que la Torah asume que quien aún posee un grado mínimo de humanidad no necesita de una revelación Divina para entender que estas cosas son abominables, pues cualquier ser racional sería capaz de percibir que estas conductas son propias de animales irracionales, y no de seres humanos (de quienes se espera sean capaces de conquistar sus instintos irracionales).

La realidad es que la conducta homosexual siempre ha existido, ¡aun entre los Hebreos!; pero si la persona tenia algún grado de humanidad, solía esconder su flaqueza, y la resolvía privadamente con Dios.

Por ejemplo, podía darse el caso de dos varones israelitas que cayesen en el pecado de la homosexualidad. Pero, como ambos sabían que era una abominación, pecaban ocultamente, donde no hubiese testigos. Por eso la Ley prohibía que alguien pudiese ser enjuiciado si no había al menos dos testigos que hubiesen presenciado el acto.

Es decir, la Ley castigaba el pecado público, no el privado. Los que pecaban en privado, tenían la oportunidad de arrepentirse, llevando una ofrenda ante el sacerdote, quien no preguntaría cual pecado pretendía expiar dicha ofrenda.

Pero, quien pecaba públicamente, se removía a si mismo de este beneficio, y se exponía a la condena del Sanedrín, como para enseñar al pueblo que quien pecaba en privado seria juzgado en privado (Por Dios); pero quien pecaba públicamente seria juzgado públicamente. Y, si Dios configuró su Ley de este modo, fue precisamente para enseñarnos el principio de “Siembra y cosecha”-- que el hombre cosecha el mismo bien o mal que ha sembrado.

Así, no es exagerado teorizar que, el día en que la humanidad acepte como apropiado el que los seres humanos nos comportemos tal y como lo hacen las bestias racionales, Dios procedera a utilizar la Ley de “Siembra y cosecha” para realizar un singular prodigio-- permitir que el mundo animal (virus, bacterias, animales irracionales, el medio ambiente, etc) comience a comportarse como si fuese racional (es decir, insistiendo en subyugarnos con una inteligencia y una voluntad que no podremos igualar).

Es que, la Torah, intima que la Tierra tiene un tipo de “conciencia”; ¡casi como si fuese un ser vivo! Y, cuando la Tierra (que solo puede sostener una cantidad fija de animales irracionales) percibe que los seres humanos nos hemos hecho semejantes a animales, su respuesta natural es expulsar a ese “excedente” de animales que sobre ella habitan.

Como esta escrito: «NI CON NINGÚN ANIMAL TENDRÁS AYUNTAMIENTO AMANCILLÁNDOTE CON ÉL, NI MUJER ALGUNA SE PONDRÁ DELANTE DE ANIMAL PARA AYUNTARSE CON ÉL; ES PERVERSIÓN. En ninguna de estas cosas os amancillaréis; pues en todas estas cosas se han corrompido las naciones que yo echo de delante de vosotros, y la tierra fue contaminada; y yo visité su maldad sobre ella, Y LA TIERRA VOMITÓ SUS MORADORES.

Guardad, pues, vosotros mis estatutos y mis ordenanzas, y NO HAGÁIS NINGUNA DE ESTAS ABOMINACIONES, ni el natural ni el extranjero que mora entre vosotros (porque todas estas abominaciones hicieron los hombres de aquella tierra que fueron antes de vosotros, y la tierra fue contaminada); NO SEA QUE LA TIERRA OS VOMITE POR HABERLA CONTAMINADO, COMO VOMITÓ A LA NACIÓN QUE LA HABITÓ ANTES DE VOSOTROS»- Levítico 28: 23-28. Note que el verso dice que fue la tierra misma quien vomitó a sus moradores (cuya nauseabunda conducta “la Tierra” no pudo tolerar).

Y quizás esto mismo es la razón para que la Torah también ordene que los seres humanos demos “descanso” a la tierra (cada séptimo año, así como en el año del Jubileo); como intimando que, así como los seres vivos necesitan descanso, de ese mismo modo la Tierra (que es un ser vivo) también necesita descanso.

Como esta escrito: «Habla a los hijos de Israel y diles: Cuando hayáis entrado en la tierra que yo os doy, la tierra guardará reposo para ה'ה' . Seis años sembrarás tu tierra, y seis años podarás tu viña y recogerás sus frutos. Pero el séptimo año la tierra tendrá descanso, reposo para ה'ה' ; no sembrarás tu tierra, ni podarás tu viña» - Levítico 25:2-4.

Samaritanismo Reformado

¿PUEDE JESÚS (P.S.C.E.) MENTIR, Y CONTINUAR SIENDO EL CRISTO (ES DECIR, EL SACRIFICIO PERFECTO POR LOS PECADOS)?

¿CUAL DE LOS DOS MINTIÓ? ¿MINTIÓ JESÚS, CUANDO DIJO QUE NO HABÍA VERDAD EN EL DEMONIO (JUAN 8:44)? ¿O MINTIÓ EL DEMONIO, CUANDO DIJO QUE JESÚS ERA EL HIJO DE DIOS (LUCAS 4:41)?

Si Satanás dijo la verdad, entonces Jesús (paz sea con el) mintió, al decir que no había verdad alguna en Satanás. Pero, si Jesús mintió, entonces no pudo haber sido el sacrificio perfecto por el pecado. Por otro lado, si fue Satanás el que mintió, entonces Jesús no era realmente Hijo de Dios (y por tanto, Jesús mintió al reclamar así serlo). Y, esto último, es confirmado por la Escritura Hebrea, cuando dice: «Y dirás a Faraón, יהוה ha dicho así "Israel (y no Jesús) es mi Hijo, mi Primogénito"» (Éxodo 4:22)

Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean con el) fue sin lugar a dudas un poderoso y distinguido expositor de la ética y la moral revelada en la Ley Divina. Pero, desafortunadamente, el Evangelio presenta al Maestro de Galilea levantando un falso testimonio. Y, por ende, este no pudo haber cumplido perfectamente La Ley [estando así libre de pecados], tal y como reclama la noble tradición Cristiana ...

The founder of Islam (Muhammad, may peace be upon him) was an illiterate person... Does that mean Islam is evil, and nothing good can be learned from it?

It is historically true that Muhammad (Islam's prophet, may peace be upon him) was an illiterate man; but how does being illiterate makes any person evil? Isn't it true that most truly smart people (i.e., Ashkenazi Jews) tend to suffer from a superiority complex? Not only that, but they often tend to be proud and arrogant.

Yes, Muhammad was indeed an illiterate man; but not so illiterate as to fail to understand that the God of Avraham is the one and only true God— a God consisting of just one single person (monotheism). Neither did Muhammad fail to understand that the well being of any religious person depends upon his commitment with doing good, and steering away from all sort of evil and immorality.

As is written: "... We will worship your God and the God of your fathers, Abraham and Ishmael and Isaac – one God. And we are Muslims [in submission] to Him... Whoever ascribes partners to Allah (God) has indeed fabricated [a lie] in great sinfulness... The [Muslim] believers, the Jews, the Christians, and the Sabians—all those who believe in God and the Last Day and do good—will have their rewards with their Lord. No fear for them, nor will they grieve"- Quran 2:133, 4:48, & 2:62.

Todo lo que un creyente Samaritano necesita saber acerca del Judaísmo, el Cristianismo, y el Islam

1. Adonai (El Señor), el Dios a quien la Torah (la Escritura Hebrea) identifica con el nombre de "יהוה", es el único Dios: «... ASÍ DICE יהוה, Rey de Israel... "Yo soy el primero (porque no tengo padre), y yo soy el postrero (porque no tengo hijo), y FUERA DE MÍ, NO HAY DIOS (porque no tengo hermano)»- Isaías 44:6. Y, «Ved ahora que YO, YO SOY, Y NO HAY DIOSES CONMIGO (es decir, no hay nadie que sea un “Co-Dios” conmigo)...» - Deut. 32:39

2. Adonai el Señor (יהוה), fue el Dios al cual sirvió Avraham (paz sea con él), nuestro padre espiritual: «... viendo יהוה que el (Moshe) iba a ver, lo llamo de en medio de la zarza... y DIJO: “YO SOY el Dios de tu padre, EL DIOS DE... AVRAHAM”» - Éxodo 3:4-6.

3. Adonai Yah (יהוה), fue el Dios al cual sirvieron tanto Moshe (paz sea con él), como todo el pueblo de Israel: «Y MOISÉS RESPONDIÓ: “no conviene que hagamos así, porque ofreceríamos a יהוה NUESTRO DIOS la abominación de los egipcios... camino de tres días iremos por el desierto, y OFRECEREMOS SACRIFICIOS A יהוה NUESTRO DIOS”» - Éxodo 8:26-27.

4. Los Escritos Cristianos intiman que, Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean con él), creía (y servía) al mismo Dios (יהוה) en el cual creían los Israelitas: «JESÚS LE DIJO... “ve a mis hermanos (israelitas), y diles: SUBO a mi Padre, y a vuestro Padre, A MI DIOS (יהוה), Y A VUESTRO DIOS”» - Juan 20:17. Y, «BENDITO SEA (יהוה) EL DIOS y Padre DE NUESTRO SEÑOR JESUCRISTO» - Efesios 1:3

5. La Escritura Islámica intima que Muhammad (paz y bendición sean con él), creía (y servía) al mismo Dios en el cual creían Avraham, Moshe, y Jesús: «Así, te enseñamos el (mensaje) inspirado, “Sigue el camino de Avraham, el verdadero en la fe, quien no le adscribió co-dioses a Allah (“Allah” es la forma Arábica de “Elah”, uno de los nombres que utiliza la Escritura Hebrea para referirse a Yah)» - Corán, Sura 16:123

6. Adonai Yah (יהוה), el Dios al cual servían Avraham, Moisés, Jesús, Muhammad, y los profetas, es el único y verdadero Salvador: «... YO יהוה, Y FUERA DE MÍ, NO HAY QUIEN SALVE»- Isaías 43:11. Y también dice, en otro lugar, «PORQUE YO יהוה, Dios tuyo, el Santo de Israel, SOY TU SALVADOR...» - Isaías 43:3

7. Adonai Yah (יהוה) solo salva a aquellos que tienen un corazón quebrantado, y un espíritu contrito: «Cercano está יהוה a los quebrantados de corazón; y SALVA A LOS CONTRITOS DE ESPÍRITU» - Salmo 34:18.

8. El corazón quebrantado, y el espíritu contrito, son reconocer nuestras desobediencias (rebeliones) contra יהוה, para apartarnos de ellas: «EL QUE ENCUBRE SUS PECADOS, NO PROSPERARÁ; MAS EL QUE LOS CONFIESA, Y SE APARTA, ALCANZARÁ MISERICORDIA» - Prov. 28:13.

9. La Vida Eterna (El Olam Haba), se alcanza cuando nos apartamos del mal, y comenzamos a hacer el bien. Como dijo el Rey David: «APÁRTATE DEL MAL, Y HAZ EL BIEN, Y VIVIRÁS PARA SIEMPRE» - Salmo 37:27.

10. “Hacer el bien”, no es otra cosa sino obedecer los (diez) mandamientos de la Ley Divina, pues la obediencia de estos, conlleva promesa de vida eterna. Como está escrito: «GUARDA (obedece) MIS MANDAMIENTOS, Y VIVIRÁS...»- Proverbios 7:2. Y, como también dice en otro lugar: «LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE יהוה SON RECTOS... Tu siervo es además amonestado con ellos; EN GUARDARLOS, HAY GRANDE GALARDÓN» - Salmo 19:8-11.

Y también anuncia en otro lugar la Escritura: “Yah, ¿quién habitará en tu tabernáculo? ¿QUIEN MORARA EN TU MONTE SANTO? EL QUE ANDA EN INTEGRIDAD, Y HACE JUSTICIA, Y HABLA VERDAD EN SU CORAZÓN. EL QUE NO CALUMNIA con su lengua, NI HACE MAL A SU PRÓJIMO, Ni admite reproche alguno contra su vecino. AQUEL A CUYOS OJOS EL VIL ES MENOSPRECIADO, Pero honra a los que temen a Yah. El que aún jurando en daño suyo, no por eso cambia; Quien su dinero no dio a usura, Ni contra el inocente admitió cohecho. EL QUE HACE ESTAS COSAS, NO RESBALARA jamás” - Salmo 15:1-5.

11. El hombre mas sabio de todos (Salomón, paz sea con él), enseñó que la finalidad de todo el discurso teológico (el meollo de todas las Escrituras, así como de todo mensaje Divinamente inspirado), es que temamos a יהוה, y guardemos sus mandamientos, pues יהוה juzgará un día a cada hombre, de acuerdo a lo que hallan sido sus obras: «TEME A DIOS, Y GUARDA SUS MANDAMIENTOS; PORQUE ESTO ES EL TODO DEL HOMBRE. PORQUE DIOS TRAERÁ TODA OBRA A JUICIO, juntamente con toda cosa encubierta, sea buena, o sea mala» - Eclesiastés 12:13-14.

“Los mandamientos”, no son otra cosa que los diez mandamientos, que יהוה constituyo por pacto con los hijos de Israel: «Y ÉL OS ANUNCIÓ SU PACTO, EL CUAL OS MANDÓ PONER POR OBRA; LOS DIEZ MANDAMIENTOS, y los escribió en dos tablas de piedra» -Deut. 4:13.

En adición, no podemos añadir ni quitar a esos mandamientos: «NO AÑADIRÉIS A LA PALABRA QUE YO OS MANDO, NI DISMINUIRÉIS DE ELLA, PARA QUE GUARDÉIS LOS MANDAMIENTOS de יהוה vuestro Dios, que yo os ordeno»- Deut. 4:2.

12. La misericordia que Dios extiende sobre los que guardan sus mandamientos, tiene una vigencia de 1,000 generaciones. Esto significa que Dios espera que los mandamientos sean observados hasta el final de los siglos; como está escrito: «Conoce, pues, que יהוה tu Dios es Dios, Dios fiel, que GUARDA EL PACTO Y LA MISERICORDIA A LOS QUE LE AMAN Y GUARDAN SUS MANDAMIENTOS, HASTA MIL GENERACIONES»- Deut. 7:9.

Y, como mas tarde diría Salomón: «También sé que TODO LO QUE DIOS HA HECHO (SU LEY) PERMANECERÁ PARA SIEMPRE, sin que nada se le añada, ni nada se le quite, y que esto lo hace Dios, para que se le guarde reverencia (es decir, para que se obedezcan por siempre sus mandamientos)» - Eclesiastés 3:14.

Como los mandamientos son para siempre, el creyente no puede dejar de meditar en ellos día y noche, a fin de entenderlos mejor, y ponerlos por obra: «NUNCA SE APARTARÁ DE TU BOCA ESTE LIBRO DE LA LEY, SINO QUE DE DÍA Y DE NOCHE MEDITARÁS EN ÉL, PARA QUE GUARDES y hagas conforme a TODO LO QUE EN ÉL ESTÁ ESCRITO; porque entonces harás prosperar tu camino, y todo te saldrá bien» - Josué 1:8.

13. Adonai Yah (יהוה) está molesto con quienes rehúsan guardar sus mandamientos: «Y יהוה dijo a Moisés, “¿HASTA CUANDO NO QUERRÉIS GUARDAR MIS MANDAMIENTOS Y MIS LEYES?”» - Éxodo 16:28.

14. Adonai Yah (יהוה) ha prometido castigar al hombre y a la mujer que dejen de guardar sus mandamientos: «SI DEJAREN SUS HIJOS MI LEY, Y no anduvieren en mis juicios, Si profanaren mis estatutos, Y NO GUARDAREN MIS MANDAMIENTOS, ENTONCES CASTIGARÉ CON VARA SU REBELIÓN, y con azotes sus iniquidades»- Salmo 89:30-32.

15. El hombre (o la Nación) que deja de obedecer los mandamientos de Yah, ha enloquecido, está bajo la maldición Divina, y comete suicidio intelectual; prelude del suicidio físico (y nacional); Como está escrito, “¿Así pagáis a יהוה, PUEBLO LOCO E IGNORANTE? ¿NO ES ÉL TU PADRE que te creó? (En otras palabras, ¿no debiste haber honrado a tu Padre Celestial, obedeciendo sus mandamientos?)”- Deut. 32:6.

Y como también dice en otro lugar: «Pero acontecerá, SI NO OYERES LA VOZ DE יהוה TU DIOS, PARA PROCURAR CUMPLIR TODOS SUS MANDAMIENTOS Y SUS ESTATUTOS que yo te intimo hoy, que vendrán sobre ti todas estas maldiciones, y te alcanzarán... יהוה TE HERIRÁ CON LOCURA, ceguera, Y TURBACIÓN DE ESPÍRITU... Y ENLOQUECERÁS a causa de lo que verás con tus ojos... Y vendrán sobre ti todas estas maldiciones, y te perseguirán, y te alcanzarán HASTA QUE PEREZCAS; POR CUANTO NO HABRÁS ATENDIDO A LA VOZ DE יהוה TU DIOS, PARA GUARDAR SUS (DIEZ) MANDAMIENTOS, Y SUS ESTATUTOS, que Él te mandó»- Deut. 28.

16. El hombre que reclama hablar en nombre de יהוה, pero rehúsa obedecer los mandamientos Divinos (o niega la vigencia de estos), miente presuntuosamente. Este hombre, que pretende “tener a Dios en el pecho, y a Satán en los hechos”, piensa que יהוה es igual a él; que “dice, pero no hace”. El destino de ese hombre, es ser “despedazado”; como está escrito:

«Pero al malo dijo Dios: “¿Qué tienes tú que hablar de mis leyes, y tomar mi pacto en tu boca?, pues TÚ ABORRECES LA CORRECCIÓN, Y ECHAS A TU ESPALDA MIS PALABRAS (es decir, ¿por que actúas hipócritamente, hablando de leyes y mandamientos que no crees, ni obedeces?). Si veías al ladrón, tú corrías con él (es decir, no obedecías el mandamiento que te prohibía robar), y con los adúlteros era tu parte (tampoco guardaste el mandamiento que te prohibía adulterar). Tu boca metías en mal, y tu lengua componía engaño (no guardaste el mandamiento que te prohibía mentir). Tomabas asiento, y hablabas contra tu hermano; contra el hijo de tu madre ponías infamia (tuviste en poco robar el honor y la buena fama de tu prójimo). Estas cosas hiciste, y yo he callado; pensabas que de cierto sería yo como tú (hipócrita); ¡pero te reprenderé, y las pondré delante de tus ojos! Entended ahora esto, los que os olvidáis de Dios, no sea que os despedace, y no haya quien os libre. El que ofrece sacrificios de alabanza, me honrará; y al que ordene su camino, le mostraré la salvación de Dios”» - Salmo 50:16-23.

¿Cuales son los "sacrificios de alabanza" que honran a יהוה? ¡Pues el corazón quebrantado y el espíritu contrito!, como está escrito: «LOS SACRIFICIOS DE DIOS SON EL ESPÍRITU QUEBRANTADO (el corazón arrepentido y humillado)...» - Salmo 51:17. ¿Y que significa “ordenar nuestro camino”?... ¡Pues apartarnos del mal!, como está escrito: «EL CAMINO DE LOS RECTOS SE APARTA DEL MAL...» - Prov. 16:17; Y, como también dice en otro lugar: «No entres por la vereda de los impíos, Ni vayas por el camino de los malos» - Prov. 4:14.

17. Antes del comienzo de la era Cristiana, el sabio Hebreo Hillel (paz y bendición sean con él) resumió la verdadera fe, diciendo lo siguiente: “AQUELLO QUE sería ODIOSO PARA TI (AQUELLO QUE NO TE GUSTARÍA QUE TE HICIERAN A TI MISMO), NO LO HAGAS TU A TU PRÓJIMO. ESTA ES TODA LA TORAH (LA LEY, LOS SALMOS, Y LOS ESCRITOS); EL RESTO, ES SOLO COMENTARIO. Ve ahora, y aprende el comentario”- Talmud Babilónico, Shabbat 31a.

Luego, vino Jesús de Nazaret (paz sea con él), y re-formuló esta misma fe, diciendo lo siguiente: «Así que, todas las cosas que queráis que los hombres hagan con vosotros, así también haced vosotros con ellos; porque esto es (todo el mensaje de) la Ley, y los Profetas» - Mateo 7:12.

Finalmente, vino el profeta del Islam (paz sea con él), y lo resumió diciendo: «Un hombre no es un verdadero creyente, hasta que no ama para su hermano, lo que ama para sí mismo» - Sahih Muslim (Hadith auténtico), narrado por Anás. Así, quienes seguimos la fe que vivieron y predicaron todos los profetas y mensajeros de Dios, debemos aspirar a hacer bien a todos (guardando los mandamientos). Y, si no podemos hacer el bien, debemos luchar por no hacer mal a nadie.

18. En armonía con las enseñanzas del Samaritanismo Reformado, Jesús de Nazaret (paz sea con él) advirtió a sus seguidores que solo en el arrepentimiento y en la obediencia a los mandamientos se puede obtener la vida eterna: «... Antes, si no os arrepentís, todos pereceréis igualmente»- Lucas 13:3. Y, «Mas si quieres entrar en la vida, guarda los mandamientos»- Mateo 19:17.

Del mismo modo, Muhammad enseñó a sus seguidores que, la fe que agrada al Creador, está en creer en Dios, y en hacer el bien: «A quienes crean (teman a Dios) y obren bien, les introduciremos en jardines por cuyos bajos fluyen arroyos, en los que estarán eternamente, y para siempre...»- Corán, Sura An Nisa- 4:57

29 Preguntas para los hermanos Cristianos que insisten en afirmar que Jesús y יהוה (Dios) son la misma persona

Si Jesús (paz sea con él) es el Dios que la Torah (la Ley de Moisés) describe como "el Altísimo" [pues no hay otro mayor que Él]; como aquel que no tiene principio [pues nunca fue creado]; y como aquel que sabe todas las cosas, entonces,

- 1) ¿Por qué se le llama “el primogénito de toda la Creación”? (Col. 1:15; Rev. 3:14).
- 2) ¿Porqué dijo Jesús, “pues no he venido de mí mismo, sino que él [Dios] me envió”? (Juan 8:42).
- 3) ¿Por qué dijo Jesús que él no sabía ni el día ni la hora de la gran tribulación, sino solo el Padre? (Mateo 24:36).
- 4) ¿A quién oraba Jesús, cuando dice el Evangelio “él [Jesús] fue al monte a orar, y pasó la noche orando a Dios”? (Lucas 6:12)
- 5) ¿Ante quién entró Jesús, “en el cielo mismo para presentarse ahora por nosotros ante Dios”? (Heb. 9:24)
- 6) ¿Por qué dijo Jesús “el Padre mayor es que yo” (Juan 14:28)?
- 7) ¿Quién fue el que exaltó a Jesús hasta lo sumo (Fil. 2:9)?
- 8) ¿Quién habló desde el cielo en el bautismo de Jesús, diciendo “Este es mi Hijo amado”? (Mateo 3:17)
- 9) ¿Cómo puede Jesús ser un “mediador entre Dios y los hombres”? (1 Tim. 2:5)
- 10) ¿Por qué el apóstol Pablo dice que “Dios [es] el cabeza de Cristo”? (1 Cor. 11:3)
- 11) ¿Por qué dijo Jesús que “él entrega el reino a su Dios” y “el Hijo mismo también se sujetará a Aquel que le sujetó todas las cosas”? (1 Cor. 15:24, &28)
- 12) ¿A quién se refería Jesús al decir “... a mi Dios y a vuestro Dios”? (Juan 20:17)
- 13) ¿Cómo iba Jesús a sentarse a la diestra de Dios? (Salmo 110:1; Heb. 10:12)
- 14) ¿Por qué Juan dice “A Dios nadie lo ha visto jamás”? (Juan 1:18)
- 15) ¿Por qué la gente no murió cuando vio a Jesús? (Éxodo 33:20)
- 16) ¿Cómo pudo Jesús estar muerto, y Dios continuar estando vivo? (Hechos 2:23-24)
- 17) ¿Por qué necesitaba Jesús de alguien que pudiese librarle de la muerte? (Heb. 5:7)

- 18) ¿Por qué dijo Jesús, “Toda potestad me es dada en el cielo y en la tierra”? ¿Quién le dio esa potestad? (Mateo 28:18; Daniel 7:13-14)
- 19) ¿Por qué sentía Jesús “temor de Dios”? (Heb. 5:7)
- 20) ¿Por que necesitaba JHesús aprender obediencia” (Heb. 5:8-9)? ¿No es acaso Dios perfectamente obediente?
- 21) ¿Cómo podía un ángel fortalecer a Jesús, si él era Dios? (Lucas 22:43)
- 22) ¿Por qué trató Satanás de tentar a Jesús (Mateo 4:1-11), si conocía que Jesús era Dios [y Dios no puede ser tentado por el mal, según Santiago 1:13]?
- 23) Cuando Jesús fue enviado a la tierra, fue puesto “sobre las obras de sus manos”, y fue “coronado de gloria y honra” (Heb. 2:7). ¿Sobre las obras de las manos de quien fue Jesús puesto a cargo? Y, ¿quien fue el que coronó a Jesús de gloria y de honra?
- 24) Si Jesús era el mismo Dios, ¿contra quién lo tentó Satanás a rebelarse? (Mateo 4:1). ¿Puede Dios ser tentado a rebelarse contra sí mismo?
- 25) Antes del final de su vida terrenal, Jesús exclamó: “Dios mío, Dios mío, ¿por qué me has abandonado”? (Mateo 24:46) ¿Puede Dios abandonarse [u olvidarse] a sí mismo?
- 26) Si Jesús y Dios son la misma persona, porque dice el Evangelio que “Dios envió a su Hijo unigénito al mundo”- 1 Juan 4:9.
- 27) Si Jesús es Dios, por que dice el Nuevo Testamento, “Bendito sea el Dios y Padre de nuestro Señor Jesucristo” (2 Corintios 1:3, Efesios 1:3)? ¿Acaso tiene el Dios Supremo necesidad alguna de servir a otro Dios?
- 28) ¿Como puede el Jesús que ha resucitado en un cuerpo de carne y huesos (“Mirad mis manos y mis pies, que yo mismo soy; palpad, y ved; porque un espíritu no tiene carne ni huesos, como veis que yo tengo”- Lucas 24:39) ser el Dios que Jesús mismo describió como siendo un espíritu (“Dios es Espíritu...”- Juan 4:24)?
- 29) Si Jesús es Dios, por que dice el Nuevo Testamento, “La revelación de Jesucristo, que Dios le dio, para manifestar a sus siervos las cosas que deben suceder pronto...” (Apocalipsis 1:1). ¿Por que necesitaría Dios recibir alguna revelación de parte de Dios? ¿Padece el Creador de sus facultades mentales, para no conocer sus propias ideas? ¿O será acaso que el Creador padece de algún síndrome de múltiples personalidades?

¿Fue Jesus (paz sea con él) concebido del Espíritu Santo? ¿O fue en cambio un bastardo?

Estimados hermano y amigos, el Samaritanismo Reformado no reclama saber con certeza alguna cuales hallan sido los hechos objetivos [ni los detalles particulares] que hallan rodearon el nacimiento del Maestro de Galilea (paz y bendición sean siempre con él). En otras palabras, el postular que Jesus halla sido el producto de la voluntad de un hombre, de un ángel, o siquiera de algún extraterrestre, es pura especulación; pues solo sabemos lo que acerca de su persona relatan los evangelios. Lo que si consta a los Samaritanos Reformados es la creencia en los siguientes postulados:

- (1) Creemos que no hay Dios fuera de יהוה (Adonay Yah, el Dios que habló a Noé, a Job, a Abraham, a Abimelec, y a Moisés);
- (2) Creemos que nuestro maestro Moisés es su supremo profeta y mensajero;
- (3) Creemos que Dios permite que cada alma escoja si desea o no venir a este Mundo de pecado y sufrimiento, escogiendo también las condiciones que, durante su vida terrenal, habrá de experimentar [a fin de que, con su batalla para que el bien triunfe sobre el mal, y que la luz triunfe sobre las tinieblas, tal alma crezca y se expanda, acercándose de ese modo mas y mas a la estatura moral y espiritual de su Creador, así como encarnando en ella misma el cumplimiento del verso que dice: «Después oí la voz del Señor, que decía: “¿A quién enviaré, y quién irá por nosotros (a ese Mundo oscuro, que requiere que mi Luz brille sobre él)?” Entonces respondí yo: “Heme aquí, envíame a mí (y dejame ser quien tenga el privilegio de cargar la luz de tu antorcha en medio de ese Mundo de oscuridad)”- Isaías 6:8];

(4) Creemos que Adonay desea que sembremos el mismo bien que prometido que en el futuro habremos de cosechar (tratando a todos con justicia, con misericordia, y con humildad);

(5) Creemos que Jesús (la paz y la bendición sean con él) no fue literalmente la encarnación de Adonay Yah, sino un gran mensajero enviado a este Mundo con el fin de llamar a todos de vuelta al arrepentimiento sincero, así como a las buenas obras que agradan al Creador;

(6) Y esto último es lo mismo que creemos acerca de Zoroastro, Buddah, Muhammad, Rashi, Maimónides, San Francisco de Asís, Martín Lutero, John Wesley, Baal Shem Tov, José Smith, Elena G. De White, Charles Taze Russell, Baha'u'llah, Mirza Ghulam, el Dalai Lama, Menachem Schneerson, William Marrion Branham, y todo otro gran líder religioso que predique [o halla predicado] tanto el arrepentimiento sincero como la obediencia a los mandamientos Divinos. ¡Que la Paz del Dios de Abraham sea con vosotros! Amen.

Hebrew Scripture, Consciousness, and Parallel universes

Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that “the tangible” universe we presently experience is the result of a higher “non tangible” universe. And the allegorical way to portray this idea, is to state that both the Heavens and the Earth (representing dimensions and matter) were created by God’s word; where “God’s word”, or “Breath” represents a “primordial” (or “non tangible” universe).

Why? Because, since articulated words are the natural expression of a conscious mind, what Scripture really means to say is that our seemingly infinite universe is in fact the physical manifestation of a non physical consciousness; that time, space, matter, energy, and dimensions are all the manifestation of thought; In fact, that the whole Universe is ultimately a collection of living thoughts.

Thus, it makes perfect sense that the Hebrew Scriptures intimates that, after we die [and thus leave our physical universe], we will experience a sort of “personalized heaven” (or else, a “personalized hell”); an automatically built universe, created by our own consciousness-- If we have a just and merciful conscience, we will experience a universe where justice and mercy is bestowed upon us [and this will be our personalized “heaven”, or “paradise”].

But, if we were instead wicked and evil people, we will experience a universe where wickedness comes upon us [and this will be our personalized “Gehinnom”, or “Hellfire”]. As is written: “Therefore THE LORD HATH RECOMPENSED ME ACCORDING TO MY RIGHTEOUSNESS; ACCORDING TO MY CLEANNESS in his eye sight. WITH THE MERCIFUL, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF MERCIFUL; AND WITH THE UPRIGHT MAN, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF UPRIGHT. WITH THE PURE, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF PURE; AND WITH THE FROWARD, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF UNSAVOURY”- 2 Samuel 22:25-27.

By the way, one of Reformed Samaritanism main tenets is that Creation itself happens to be God’s first and foremost Holy Scripture [and that the words written by latter prophets just confirmed and clarified this primordial Word of God].

Thus, we must be able to find within Nature a phenomenon that intimates [and resembles] the fact that, once our bodies lie still in the darkness of our death beds (our tombs), our consciousness automatically starts to create a sort of “personalized universe”; a parallel reality that, although arising from our own consciousness, from our own perspective seems to be completely real.

And what is such phenomenon? The sleeping process!-- a process in which, during the darkness of the night, we lie still on our beds while our conscience creates a personalized dream world; a unique world based upon the thoughts and concerns we had formerly experienced (during daylight).

Curiously, the Hebrew Scripture constantly alludes to the parallelism of these two processes. When? When it states that the various men of God where “gathered to their people” [or “slept” with their fathers]. The following are just a few of those Bible verses:

“Then Abraham gave up the ghost, and died in a good old age, an old man, and full of years; AND WAS GATHERED TO HIS PEOPLE”- Genesis 25:8; “And Isaac gave up the ghost, and died, AND WAS GATHERED UNTO HIS PEOPLE”- Genesis 35:29; “And when Jacob had made an end of commanding his sons, he gathered up his feet into the bed, and yielded up the ghost, AND WAS GATHERED UNTO HIS PEOPLE”- Genesis 49:33;

“And [you Moses] die in the mount whither thou goest up, and BE GATHERED UNTO THY PEOPLE; as Aaron thy brother died in mount Hor, and WAS GATHERED UNTO HIS PEOPLE”- Deut. 32:50; “So David SLEPT WITH HIS FATHERS, and was buried in the city of David”- 1 Kings 2:10; “And Solomon SLEPT WITH HIS FATHERS, and was buried in the city of David his father”- 2 Kings 11:43;

“And Asa SLEPT WITH HIS FATHERS, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father”- 1 Kings 15:24; “And Hezekiah SLEPT WITH HIS FATHERS: and Manasseh his son reigned in his stead”- 2 Kings 20:21; “And Jehoshaphat SLEPT WITH HIS FATHERS, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father”- 1 Kings 22:50.

What is the truth behind the former verses? Well, they are meant to teach us that, once a righteous person dies, his conscience creates an alternate reality; a parallel universe where he can live in intimate communion with his moral and spiritual fathers (those after whom he fashioned his own moral life).

And who is a righteous person? He who possess a clear conscience. And the Scripture confirms this view point, when it goes on to say: “Delight thyself also in the Lord (rejoicing in performing the good He has commanded); and He shall give thee the desires of thine heart (to be among those you would like to honor and admire)”- Psalm 37:4.

But, what about evil people (those with a tainted conscience)? Won't they also get what they want? Won't they too be “gathered to their people”, in order to “sleep with their fathers”? Well, Scripture actually teaches that even the wicked ones will get their desire. In other words, upon death, their conscience will create a world where they'll be given over to the evil people they used to imitate and admire.

As an example, consider the following verse: “AND JEROBOAM SLEPT WITH HIS FATHERS, EVEN WITH THE KINGS OF ISRAEL; and Zachariah his son reigned in his stead”- 2 Kings 14:29. Notice that Israel kings were notoriously evil. And, since Jeroboam was their spiritual son (being exceedingly wicked), he was gathered with them in the afterlife. But, is this a sort of blessing for the wicked? Of course not! In fact only a wicked and ignorant person would ever think that, living in world populated only by wicked and perverted people can be anything but a living Hell.

In short, Hebrew Scripture not only hints at the reality of parallel universes, but goes on to suggest that the number of these universes keep constantly growing, as the non physical consciousness of each person who dies automatically creates a new [and uniquely personalized] universe for itself. May our conscience be pure enough to be worthy of a paradise universe! Amen.

El peligro de creer ciegamente en un Mesías humano

Independientemente de quien la promulgue (Hebreos, Cristianos, o Musulmanes), la idea de un Redentor humano (sin importar si nos referimos a la redención política, socio- económica, o espiritual) conduce invariablemente a la inmoralidad de la idolatría; es decir, al culto del ser humano (la criatura) en vez del Creador.

La idea de un Mesías humano, nos induce al grave error de poner nuestra fe y esperanza en el hombre (un ser mortal, y finito), en vez de en el Creador (un ser inmortal, e infinito). La realidad es que, ningún ser humano puede dar redención, pues SOLO EL CREADOR REDIME; como está escrito: «No temas, gusano de Jacob, oh vosotros los pocos de Israel; YO SOY TU SOCORRO, DICE ; יהוה EL SANTO DE ISRAEL ES TU REDENTOR»- Isaías 41:14. Y, como también dice en otro lugar: «... y conocerá todo hombre que YO יהוה SOY SALVADOR TUYO Y REDENTOR TUYO, el Fuerte de Jacob» - Isaías 49:26.

Si bien es cierto que Dios puede utilizar a alguna criatura para hacernos un llamado a volver a Dios en penitencia (un Rey Hebreo, un profeta gentil, la mula de Balaam, Moisés, Jesus, Muhammad, etc); en el último análisis, ningún ser creado puede realmente salvarnos, pues NO HAY SALVADOR FUERA DEL CREADOR. Como está escrito: «Yo, YO יהוה, y FUERA DE MÍ NO HAY QUIEN SALVE» - Isaías 43:11.

Esta misma enseñanza, se nos muestra en varios pasajes de la Escritura; pero, prominente entre esos pasajes, es el relato acerca de Gedeón. Según narra el capítulo seis del libro de los Jueces, en un momento histórico donde Israel estaba siendo oprimido por los Madianitas, Dios escoge a un hombre llamado Gedeón, a fin de traer redención a Israel.

Como resultado, unos 32,000 hombres se unen al ejército de este general Israelita, a fin de pelear contra un ejército que era inmensamente superior. Pero el Creador advierte a Gedeón que, con esta situación desea dar una enseñanza a Israel: que su salvación y su liberación no dependían de la carne ni de la sangre: no dependían de la fuerza, la sabiduría, ni el poder de Gedeón, o de su ejército; La Salvación de Israel dependía única y exclusivamente del Creador- del Dios de quien se dijo: «... pues no es difícil para יהוה salvar con muchos o con pocos» – 1 Samuel 14:6.

Así, Dios hace que Gedeón se deshaga de sus 32,000 soldados, a fin de que Israel no cometa la grave ofensa de creer que su salvación estaba en manos de algún “hombre ungido” (o “Mesías”), de carne y hueso: «Y יהוה dijo a Gedeón: El pueblo que está contigo es mucho, para que yo entregue a los madianitas en su mano, NO SEA QUE SE ALABE ISRAEL CONTRA MÍ, DICRIENDO: MI MANO ME HA SALVADO» - Jueces 7:2. Al final, Dios reduce el ejército de Gedeón a tan solo 300 hombres. Entonces, le informa que será el mismo Creador (y no los restantes 300 hombres), quien salvara a Israel:

«Entonces יהוה dijo a Gedeón: CON ESTOS TRESCIENTOS HOMBRES que lamieron el agua OS SALVARÉ (YO יהוה OS SALVARÉ, NO EL HOMBRE), y entregaré a los madianitas en tus manos...» - Jueces 7:7.

Alguien podría decir: Pero, ¿No es cierto que, aunque Dios mismo salvó a Israel, siempre “necesitó” de los 300 hombres de Gedeón? La respuesta es un rotundo ¡NO!; pues, en realidad, DIOS NO NECESITA DE NINGÚN SER HUMANO PARA SALVAR A SU PUEBLO. ¿Como estamos seguros de esto? ¡Pues porque lo enseña la Escritura! Esta dice que, en tiempos del Rey Ezequías (II Reyes 18:17), Senaquerib trajo un gigantesco ejército contra Jerusalén. Israel no tenían fuerza alguna para siquiera intentar combatir tan grande multitud. ¿Donde estaba el hombre que Dios necesitaría para salvar a su pueblo? ¿Donde estaba el Mesías Salvador? La respuesta es que, el Mesías que habría de salvar tanto al pueblo como al liderato Israelita, no estaba fuera de ellos mismos; estaba en sus bocas, y en sus corazones: ese Mesías serian las palabras de confesión («Entonces Ezequías rey de Judah envió a decir al Rey de Asiria que estaba en Laquis: “YO HE PECADO”...» - 2 Reyes 18:14). El Mesías sería acudir a Dios con un corazón rasgado, contrito, y humillado: «Cuando el rey Ezequías lo oyó, rasgó sus vestidos, y se cubrió de cilicio, y entró en la casa de Yah»- 2 Reyes 19:1.

El Mesías, sería clamar directamente a Dios, reconociendo que no hay poder alguno en el Hombre, sino solo en el Creador: «Y oró Ezequías delante de יהוה , diciendo: יהוה Dios de Israel, que moras entre los querubines, sólo tú eres Dios de todos los reinos de la tierra; tú hiciste el cielo y la tierra... Ahora, pues, oh יהוה Dios nuestro, sálvanos, te ruego, de su mano, PARA QUE SEPAN TODOS LOS REINOS DE LA TIERRA QUE SÓLO TÚ, יהוה, ERES DIOS (y no hay poder alguno fuera de ti)» - II Reyes 19:15&19.

¿Cual fue el resultado de la confesión y la humillación de Ezequías y de su pueblo? Pues que, esa misma noche (mientras el pueblo descansaba) Dios intervino personalmente, obrando una milagrosa y sobrenatural Salvación: «Y aconteció que aquella misma noche salió el ángel de יהוה, y mató en el campamento de los Asirios a ciento ochenta y cinco mil; y cuando se levantaron por la mañana, he aquí que todo era cuerpos de muertos» - 2 Reyes 19:35. Así, sin necesidad de hombre, Rey, o Mesías humano alguno, el Creador salvó a Israel. Y lo hizo por medio del único y verdadero Mesías: el espíritu que se manifiesta en palabras de arrepentimiento, de confesión, de quebranto, y de humillación. Como está escrito: «Porque así dijo el Alto y Sublime, el que habita la eternidad, y cuyo nombre es el Santo: YO HABITO en la altura y la santidad, y CON EL QUEBRANTADO Y HUMILDE DE ESPÍRITU, PARA HACER VIVIR EL ESPÍRITU DE LOS HUMILDES, Y PARA VIVIFICAR EL CORAZÓN DE LOS QUEBRANTADOS» - Isaías 57:15.

Y, enseñando que las palabras de confesión y arrepentimiento son mejores que la expiación hecha por medio del sacrificio de becerros, dice literalmente el profeta Oseas: «Vuelve, oh Israel, a יהוה tu Dios. En verdad, tu pecado ha sido la causa de tu caída. Toma contigo palabras (de arrepentimiento) y vuelve a יהוה tu Dios. Decidle, “Perdona todos nuestros pecados, y recíbenos misericordiosamente, para que podamos ofrecer los becerros de nuestros labios”» - Oseas 14: 1-2. Es decir, el estado caído de Israel, no es debido a alguna causa física, o externa; y por esto es que, su solución, tampoco es una física, ni externa (como lo sería un humano Rey “Mesías”). El estado caído de nuestro pueblo Israel (el Tabernáculo de David) es el producto directo de nuestro pecado; y, su Salvación, no está en nada ni nadie fuera de traer a Dios palabras de arrepentimiento; venir a Dios con un corazón contrito, para confesar y abandonar nuestro pecado. Como está escrito: «SI SE HUMILLARE MI PUEBLO, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y oren, Y BUSCAREN MI ROSTRO, Y SE CONVIRTIEREN DE SUS MALOS CAMINOS; entonces YO OIRÉ DESDE LOS CIELOS, Y PERDONARÉ SUS PECADOS, Y SANARÉ SU TIERRA» - II Crónicas 7:14.

How to tell a person's true religion

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the Hebrew World used to describe the Creator is “Elohim”. As is written: “Be reshit bara Elohim et ha shamaim...” (“In beginning created God the heavens...” (Genesis 1:1). What is the literal meaning of “Elohim”? It is none other than “Powers”.

Does the former imply the Creator is a plurality? Not at all! You see, “Powers” is actually the written abbreviation of a much longer description for the Almighty: “The power of all powers” (or “The Supreme Authority”).

So, instead of describing God as “The power of all powers”, our master Moses used the shorthand description of “Powers”. Based upon the former, Reformed Samaritanism posits the bold idea that, what makes you a Christian, a Muslim, a Jew, or a Samaritan isn’t your faith in Jesus, Muhammad, or Moses (peace and blessings be upon them all).

Rather, what defines your actual faith is the one thing that you personally consider to be “Elohim”-- “The Power of All powers” (or “The Supreme Authority”).

For example, you could believe in the words of both Moses and Jesus; but, if deep down inside you consider the Jewish Talmud to be “the Supreme (or final) authority”, then you really are a follower of Talmudic Judaism.

By the same token, you can believe in the words of both Moses, Jesus, and Muhammad; yet, if you consider the Qur’an to be “the Supreme (or final) authority”, then you are in fact a Muslim believer. Likewise, you could believe in both Moses and Jesus words; yet, if you consider the New Testament to be “the Supreme (or final) authority”, then you really are a Christian believer.

Finally, You could have a partial belief in the words of Moses, Jesus, the Jewish Talmud, Muhammad, the Qur’an, Rashi, the Zohar, Maimonides, and the Shulcham Aruch; yet, if “in your heart of hearts” you consider Moses five Books of Torah to be “the Supreme (or final) authority”, then you are in fact a Reformed Samaritan believer.

The basic differences between Reform and Traditional Samaritanism

Regarding the issue of the differences that separate Reform Samaritanism (R.S.) from traditional Samaritanism, we must bear in mind that the latter is based on the following four propositions:

- 1) One Supreme God [not a Trinity]- which is the God of Israel (blessed be He)
- 2) A supreme prophet - which is Moses, the son of Amram (peace be upon him)
- 3) A Supreme Holy Book- which is the Torah (the Pentateuch), given by God to Moses
- 4) A Holy place - which is Mount Gerizim

In addition, Traditional Samaritanism believes in residing in the physical land of Canaan, in participating in the Passover lamb sacrifice [carried out on Mount Gerizim] according to the Samaritan calendar, in celebrating Shabbat, as well as in keeping the laws of purity and impurity. Finally, traditional Samaritanism believes in the "Taheb" (a type of "Messiah") son of Joseph- a restorer who is to be a prophet like Moses, and who is to return at the end of time for the day of Vengeance and Retribution.

The reality is that, at least in principle, Reformed Samaritanism endorses each and every one of the above four propositions. The basic difference is that the Reformed Samaritans’ interpretation does not arise from a reductionist, inflexible, or stagnant perspective; but rather of a frank and honest openness to everything that, being in harmony with the ethical and moral principles taught by Moses, is therefore "true" (just, merciful, and humble) - regardless of its origin.

And the former perspective is summarized in the formula that goes on to say: “God is a God of truth and justice (Deut. 32:4, & 10:18), and He therefore wants his People to pursue truth and justice (Deut. 16: 20, & Lev 19:15); therefore, the believer must endorse and recognize truth and justice, regardless of what nation, race, religious creed, institution, or person God chooses to use in order to remind us of such truth [or justice]”.

Thus, although supporting the worship at Mount Gerizim, Reformed Samaritanism (R.S.) postulates that God is wherever He is sought with a sincere and penitent Heart (Deut. 4:29); so that the worship of the Creator is not limited to Mount Gerizim, Jerusalem, the Vatican, the Western Wall, some Jewish Synagogue, some Christian Church, some Islamic Mosque, or some other geographical location.

Similarly, although it believes in the concept of a "Taheb" (identifying him with Moses himself), R.S. postulates that there's no better and more divine "restorer" than sincere repentance; of whom any future Taheb is but an imperfect shadow.

Finally, though it proclaims the unquestioned supremacy of Israel, Moses, and the Torah, the R.S. movement recognizes that God doesn't discriminate in favor of [or against] any particular race, nation, or creed; but has rather spoken to all nations of the world using prophets different than Moses (Noah to the people living before the great deluge, Abraham to the Canaanites, Job to the Orientals, Jethro to the Amalekites, Balaam to the Moabites, Jonah to the Ninevites, Daniel to the Babylonians, Zoroaster to the Persians, etc).

Thus, even if using a different name for their deity, for their sacred book, and for their prophets, to the extent that the content of such messages is consistent with that which was revealed by God to Moses (the Existence of a God --or Supreme Power-- that one day will judge man with perfect justice, making each one "reap" the same goodness or evil he had freely [and without remorse] chosen to "sow"), to that same extent will such message be endorsed and recognized by R.S. as the word of God for such nations.

As a footnote, it should be noted that, as a direct result of its unwavering faith in the Creator's moral perfection, as well as in the immutability of the doctrine of "Sowing and Reaping" (also known as "Measure for Measure", "Cause and effect", "Action and reaction", and "Eye for an eye"), the R.S. movement holds a "dynamic" view of faith-- one that posits that the future of a man [or a woman] isn't "written in stone", but will rather vary according to the goodness [or evil] such person has sown; that each of us will be paid according to our works ("Far be it from God impiety, And from the Almighty iniquity. For He will repay a man according to his work, And repay him according to his way"-Job 34: 10-11); that what we have done unto other will be done unto us ("...as you have done, it will be done to you; your reward will return upon your head"- Obadiah 1:15); that, if we leave God, He too will leave us ("... Thus saith יהוה: You have left me, and I also have left you..." - 2 Chronicles 12:5); that if we repent from evil [against God], God will likewise repent from evil [against us] ("And God saw what they did, that they turned from their evil way: and he [God] repented of the evil which he had said he would do to them, and he did not He did"- Jonah 3:10); that if we honor God, He too will honor us ("...for I [God] will honor those who honor me, and those who despise me will be held in little [thereby being despised]"- 1 Samuel 2:30).

In practical terms, the former implies that neither the Samaritan who follows Torah is "predestined" to inherit Gan Eden (Paradise), nor the Christian who follows the Gospel is predestined to inherit Gehinnom (Hell); that neither the Jew who follows the Talmud is predestined to enter Canaan (the Land of blessing), nor the Muslim who follows the Koran is predestined to stay out of it-- but each one is to receive either a reward ("heaven") or personalized punishment ("hell"), that is a fair and balanced reflection of all the good, all the evil, all the repentance, or all the rebellion that he [or she] has freely and voluntarily sowed. As it is written: "Just scales, just weights and just measures you will have..."- Lev. 7:36.

And why doesn't God show favoritism? Again, because being morally perfect ("...For all his ways are upright; God indeed, and without any iniquity in him; He is just and upright"- Deut. 32:4), the Creator refrains from depriving anyone of his fair and balanced reward, as well as from showing any type of partiality or bias towards anybody (“For the Lord your God is God of gods, and Lord of lords, a great God, a mighty, and a terrible, which regardeth not persons, nor taketh reward”- Deut 10:17). In short, although they differ in their respective approaches, both Traditional and Reform Samaritanism confess that what was written by Moses is the supreme truth, and that the God proclaimed by Him is not only the God of the Israelite ethnic group, but of all humanity [because it was He who implanted in each man the image and likeness of the Deity]-- a perfectly just and impartial God, who does not play with mankind a cruel game of “hide and seek”, nor makes Himself hard to find; a worthy and noble God, who is not intoxicated with power, nor behaves like an ideological tyrant, or a religious terrorist; a God who exhorts all nations to perform the goodness described upon the two stone tablets [which is summed up in loving the Creator, as well as our fellow creatures], so that they can earn the merit that brings reward and blessing (“Blessed is he who thinks of the poor; In the evil day יהוה will deliver him”- Psalm 41:1);\

a God who delights to be merciful, and forgiving. As is written: “יהוה (Adonai)! יהוה (Adonai)! strong, merciful, and gracious; slow to anger, and great in mercy and truth; keeping mercy for thousands, forgive iniquity, rebellion and sin...”- Exodus 34:6

An exhortation to all of our beloved Samaritan brothers

Reformed Samaritanism- this balance between diversity and harmony is the force that has played and will play a universal positive role in the implementation of a godly new world-- by familiarizing the general public with Samaritan thinking. It is like the phoenix bird, moreover, it constantly adapts to the objectivity of the history it creates in its development and the world in its evolution. The Samaritan morality has forged modern history, and continues to forge contemporary history.

A truly free Samaritan believes in God and in the immortality of the soul. Reformed Samaritanism is a universal, traditional, philosophical and progressive mindset, whose main goals are the search for Divine truth and the moral and spiritual perfection of man. Reformed Samaritanism does not impose any limits in the search for truth, and has as its motto “Justice, mercy, humility, and brotherly love” To know you’ve been made in order to bear God’s holy image, to love your needy neighbor, to help him, to respect his dignity-- these are fundamental principles in Reformed Samaritanism.

Our mission is to fight against the moral evil (injustice, cruelty, arrogance, hedonism, oppression, and tyranny) resulting from ignorance and rebellion against the moral principles comprising God’s holy Law. The weapons we use in this fight are the Knowledge of God’s law, as well as the practical life of love and virtue that emanates from such knowledge.

We can truly contribute to the moral, intellectual and spiritual elevation of our society by living the present in harmony with God’s Law (loving Him above all else, and doing good to our needy fellow creatures). The wisdom, love and affinity for the beauty that such lifestyle brings upon us will not only support our actions, but will also allow us to objectively analyze our past experiences, on order to understand the evolutionary direction we ought to follow.

Contradictory discussions do not bring anything good between us; pride and vanity must be left behind. There are much more important things we need to treat, such as hope, harmony, family, friends, hope, forgiveness, reconciliation, and faith.

The world is constantly changing, and the pace is so fast that yesterday’s solutions can become today’s problems, that’s why we Reformed Samaritans must hold on to their faith, contributing to the collective progress preceded of course by the individual, using all the tools which are at our disposal. We fight against ignorance and evil-- only through involvement, perseverance and devotion can we achieve our goals.

We are talking about turning back to God our generation, our values, and our societies. This requires everyone's faith, courage, desire, perseverance, and contribution. May the Almighty grant us the strength that comes from having His Ruach Ha Kodesh dwelling among us, so we could reach our sacred destination: The allegorical "Land of Canaan". May peace be upon you all!

La Sagrada Fe Del
Samaritanismo Reformado

El castigo para quien abandona los Mandamientos de la Ley Divina, es la locura y la turbación de espíritu. ¿Por que? Pues porque los mandamientos de la Ley son el reflejo de la cordura y el sentido común que rigen el universo (de la ley de "siembra y cosecha", "ojo por ojo", "causa y efecto", "acción y reacción"); de modo que, quien se desconecta de la Ley, se desconecta de la cordura y el sentido común para comenzar a decir, pensar y creer todo tipo de locuras; todo tipo de ideas disparatadas, así como todo tipo de conducta aberrante. Como esta escrito:

«Pero acontecerá, si no oyeres la voz de יהוה tu Dios, para procurar cumplir todos sus mandamientos y sus estatutos que yo te intimo hoy, que vendrán sobre ti todas estas maldiciones, y te alcanzarán... יהוה te herirá con locura, ceguera, y turbación de espíritu... y enloquecerás... Y vendrán sobre ti todas estas maldiciones, y te perseguirán, y te alcanzarán hasta que perezcas; por cuanto no habrás atendido a la voz de יהוה tu Dios, para guardar sus mandamientos... »- Deut. 28:15, 25, & 28

Confesión Y obediencia, traen paz a la conciencia

¿Que significa el antiguo refrán que dice, "Confesión Y obediencia, traen paz a la conciencia"? Pues significa que, si confesamos nuestros pecados y comenzamos a andar por el Camino de Dios [obedeciendo los mandamientos divinos] nuestra alma comenzará a experimentar la paz y la bendición que tanto anhelamos.

Como esta escrito: «Así dijo יהוה: "PARA OS EN LOS CAMINOS, y mirad, y preguntad por las sendas antiguas, CUÁL SEA EL BUEN CAMINO, Y ANDAD POR ÉL, Y HALLARÉIS DESCANSO PARA VUESTRA ALMA... GUARDARÁS, PUES, LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE יהוה TU DIOS, ANDANDO EN SUS CAMINOS, y temiéndole...

... HAS DECLARADO SOLEMNEMENTE HOY que יהוה es tu Dios, y QUE ANDARÁS EN SUS CAMINOS, Y GUARDARÁS SUS ESTATUTOS, SUS MANDAMIENTOS Y SUS DECRETOS, y que escucharás su voz...

... TE CONFIRMARÁ יהוה POR PUEBLO SANTO SUYO, COMO TE LO HA JURADO, CUANDO GUARDARES LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE יהוה TU DIOS, Y ANDUVIERES EN SUS CAMINOS...

... Nunca se apartará de tu boca este libro de la Ley, sino que de día y de noche meditarás en él, PARA QUE GUARDES Y HAGAS CONFORME A TODO LO QUE EN ÉL ESTÁ ESCRITO; PORQUE ENTONCES HARÁS PROSPERAR TU CAMINO, Y TODO TE SALDRÁ BIEN»- Jeremías 6:16, Deut. 8:16, Deut. 26:17, Deut. 28:9, & Josué 1:8 (Biblia Reina Valera 1960).

¿Puede alguien fuera de יהוה darnos una salvación tan grande como esta? ¡No! ¿Por que? Pues porque la Escritura dice, “Yo, yo יהוה, y fuera de mí no hay quien salve”- Isaías 43:11, RV 1960

La importancia de tener hijos

El Samaritanismo Reformado muestra que tener hijos era un claro indicativo de ser bienaventurado, y de contar con el favor Divino. Como esta escrito:

“Como saetas en mano del valiente, Así son LOS HIJOS HABIDOS EN LA JUVENTUD. BIENAVENTURADO EL HOMBRE QUE LLENÓ SU ALJABA DE ELLOS... Y TE AMARÁ [DIOS], te bendecirá Y TE MULTIPLICARÁ, Y BENDECIRÁ EL FRUTO DE TU VIENTRE. Bendito serás más que todos los pueblos; NO HABRÁ EN TI VARÓN NI HEMBRA ESTÉRIL, NI EN TUS GANADOS”- Salmo 127:4-5, Deut. 7:13-14).

En cambio, cuando יהוה (“Adonay Yah”, o “El Señor Dios”) se enojaba con alguien, a menudo el castigo que dispensaba era hacer que tal persona quedase sin hijos. Como esta escrito: “Y EL QUE TOMARE LA MUJER DE SU HERMANO, COMETE INMUNDICIA; la desnudez de su hermano descubrió; SIN HIJOS SERÁN... He aquí yo traigo mal sobre ti, y BARRERÉ TU POSTERIDAD Y DESTRUIRÉ HASTA EL ÚLTIMO VARÓN DE LA CASA DE ACAB... FORNICARÁN, MAS NO SE MULTIPLICARÁN, porque dejaron de servir a יהוה”- Lev. 20:21, 1 Reyes 21:21, Oseas 4:10.

De hecho, el mismo Abraham entendía que, quien no tenía hijos biológicos, no tenía realmente nada. Como esta escrito: “Y respondió Abram: Señor Dios, ¿QUÉ ME DARÁS, SIENDO ASÍ QUE ANDO SIN HIJO...?”- Genesis 15:2.

Unlike most Jewish, Christian, and Muslim sects, Reformed Samaritans believe in God's moral perfection

Unlike other monotheistic religions (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, etc), Reformed Samaritanism considers the Almighty God to be a morally perfect being (“The Rock, His work is perfect; for all His ways are justice; a God of faithfulness and without iniquity, just and right is He”- Deuteronomy 32:4, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

In other words, the true God of Israel would never ask us to submit to any moral standard He himself wouldn't be the first one to obey [as anything less would be a clear sign of immoral hypocrisy]. And, since God asks the believer to be just, merciful, and humble (“It hath been told thee, O man, what is good, and what the LORD doth require of thee: only to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God”- Micah 6:8), it follows that the Almighty can never behave in a cruel, arrogant, or unjust fashion.

In fact, since God demands that we live by His Ten supreme moral principles (don't have any other gods, don't bear false witness by not standing by your word, don't steal, don't murder, don't deny rest to your fellow creatures, don't deny the honor due to your parents, don't covet what doesn't belong to you, etc), it follows that God himself follows such principles, doing no injustice, never failing to stand by His word, and fulfilling all of His promises.

What sort of unjust behavior are we to never expect from our righteous God? One such example would be for Him to act in an arbitrary fashion-- like exalting [or abating] a person not based upon such person's moral behavior (kindness/evilness, mercy/cruelty, humility/pride, etc), but rather upon the person's race (White, black, Yellow, etc) or creed (Jew, Christian, Muslim, etc). As is written: “That be far from Thee to do after this manner... shall not the Judge of all the Earth do justly?”-

Genesis 18:25.

Based upon the former, Reformed Samaritans rejects the Jewish notion that, since ethnic Israel was arbitrarily chosen to be God's People [and thus inherit Palestine], Israelite people can take God's favor [as well as ownership of Palestine] for granted, regardless of the moral lifestyle they choose to follow.

Likewise, Reformed Samaritans rejects the Christian notion that [since “the Creator can do as He pleases”] the Lord who once commanded believers to never let God's Law to cease from their mouth, lest they fail to prosper (“This book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth, but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein; for then thou shalt make thy ways prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success”- Joshua 1:8), has changed His mind, and now commands them the opposite-- to forget about Gods' Law, lest they become accursed («For as many as are of the works of the Law are under the curse; for it is written, “Cursed is every one that continues not in all things which are written in the book of the Law to do them”. But that no one is justified by the Law in the sight of God, it is evident, for “The just shall live by faith”. And the law is not of faith... Christ has redeemed us from the curse of the Law...”- Galatians 3:10-13). Why do we reject such notion? Because speaking about God's moral perfection, Scripture goes on to say: “GOD IS NOT A MAN, THAT HE SHOULD LIE... WHEN HE HATH SAID, WILL HE NOT DO IT? OR WHEN HE HATH SPOKEN, WILL HE NOT MAKE IT GOOD?”- Numbers 23:19 (J.P.S., 1917 Edition)

Samaritanismo Reformado: La existencia en un Mundo material, es “la Esclavitud Egipcia” de la cual el Creador habrá de librar un día a sus hijos

Algunas vertientes de la noble tradición Cristiana, postulan que la eternidad prometida a los justos es una donde el creyente habrá de existir en un cuerpo que, si bien ha sido “renovado”, continuará siendo uno de naturaleza física y material.

De igual modo, postulan que la eternidad ha de acontecer en un Mundo que, si bien ha sido “renovado”, continuará siendo uno de naturaleza física y material.

¿De donde surgen tales ideas? Pues a menudo surgen de una pobre comprensión de la Escritura Hebrea, de la dureza del corazón humano, o de la falta de fe en el poder de Dios.

Es que, aferrarse a una existencia donde somos esclavos de las limitaciones que [en contra de nuestra voluntad] nos impone la materia física, es reminiscente de la aptitud de aquellos Hebreos que fueron librados de la esclavitud Egipcia.

En otras palabras, aunque el Creador quiso librarles de la esclavitud, a fin de que nunca mas volvieran a la servidumbre física, la dureza de sus corazones les impidió aceptar que Dios tuviese algo mejor para sus vidas.

Y es por ello que, tan pronto tuvieron una oportunidad, buscaron una excusa para justificar su deseo de volver a la esclavitud de la cual Dios les había ya liberado. Como esta escrito: “¿No nos sería mejor volvernos a Egipto? Y decían el uno al otro: Designemos un capitán, y volvámonos a Egipto”- Números 14:3-4.

Curiosamente, el aferrarse a una eternidad de naturaleza física y material no es exclusivo de grupos Cristianos como los Mormones, los Adventistas, y los Russelistas; pues la idea ha existido [y continúa existiendo] entre los Judíos. Como bien intima el pasaje del evangelio donde se afirma que, el liderato Judío de la época de Jesus, no percibía una eternidad exenta de las limitaciones y necesidades de la carne (el matrimonio, las relaciones sexuales, la procreación física, etc).

Como esta escrito: «Entonces respondiendo Jesús, les dijo: “Los hijos de este siglo se casan, y se dan en casamiento; mas los que fueron tenidos por dignos de alcanzar aquel siglo y la resurrección de entre los muertos, ni se casan, ni se dan en casamiento. Porque no pueden ya más morir, pues son iguales a los ángeles [que no poseen un cuerpo físico, sino que en cambio son espíritus ministradores] y son hijos de Dios [participando así de la gloriosa naturaleza Divina], al ser hijos de la resurrección”»- Lucas 20:34-36.

¿Que intentaba enseñar Jesús (paz y bendición sean sobre él) con las anteriores palabras? Para encontrar la respuesta a esta pregunta, debemos tener presente que antes de crear el cielo y la tierra (es decir, antes de haber creado el tiempo, el espacio, las dimensiones, la materia, la energía, y las leyes de física), el Todopoderoso ya existía en una total y maravillosa gloria.

En otras palabras, la gloria que experimenta el Creador, no depende de las cosas físicas, pues antecede al universo creado (es decir, existe fuera de tiempo, espacio, y materia).

Y, como el hombre fue creado a imagen y semejanza de Dios (“Y creó Dios al hombre a su imagen, a imagen de Dios lo creó”- Genesis 1:27), pues hace sentido pensar que, cuando ha dejado de existir en el Mundo físico, el creyente experimenta el mismo tipo de existencia que experimenta su Padre Celestial (Una gloriosa existencia que esta fuera de tiempo, espacio, y materia).

¿De donde sabemos que, una vez que la muerte nos haga hecho libres de la esclavitud a nuestros cuerpos físicos, habremos de “despertar” a una existencia semejante a la del Creador? Pues lo sabemos del verso que dice: “En cuanto a mí, veré tu rostro en justicia; Estaré satisfecho cuando despierte a tu semejanza”- Salmo 17:15.

¿De donde corroboramos el hecho de que, una vez muerto, el creyente logra desconectarse de su esclavitud a las limitaciones de una existencia material, de suerte que ya no sabe mas acerca del dolor y de las emociones asociadas con la existencia material?

Pues lo sabemos del verso que dice: “Porque los que viven saben que han de morir; pero los muertos nada saben [acerca del mundo material], ni tienen más paga; porque su memoria [acerca de su anterior existencia física] es puesta en olvido. [De modo que...] También su amor y su odio y su envidia [es decir, sus emociones físicas] fenecieron ya” (Eclesiastés 9:4-6).

¿Y de donde sabemos que, después de su muerte, el creyente no volverá mas a existir en un cuerpo material sujeto a las sensaciones del Mundo físico? Pues lo sabemos del final del anterior verso, donde se dice: "... y nunca más tendrán parte en todo lo que se hace debajo del sol [es decir, en nuestro Mundo material]".

En resumen, la Escritura Hebrea muestra que la eternidad deparada para los hijos de Dios es una donde estos últimos ya no tendrán que sufrir "la esclavitud" que implica la existencia en un Mundo físico; ni existir en un cuerpo que, al igual que sucedió con el antiguo "Faraón", les imponga la dura y forzada tarea de satisfacer sus demandas de refugio, descanso, comida, bebida, sexo, conocimiento, salud, seguridad, etc.

Samaritanismo Reformado

La Teología Cristiana es errada, pues hace que el creyente abandone la Ley Divina, haciéndole de ese modo un tipo de "delincuente espiritual"

El Santo Evangelio, postula que la Ley ya pasó; y que, por ende, el creyente puede olvidarla, no teniendo que cumplir ya más con sus mandamientos. Como está escrito: "La Ley y los profetas eran hasta Juan" (Lucas 16:16). Pero, esto es en realidad falso, pues la Escritura Hebrea (la "Torah") advertía diciendo: "Nunca se apartará de tu boca este libro de la Ley, sino que de día y de noche meditarás en él, para que guardes y hagas conforme a todo lo que en él está escrito" (Josué 1:8). Del mismo modo, el Cristianismo dice que, guardar los mandamientos de la Ley, es maldición. Como esta escrito: "Porque todos los que dependen de las obras de la Ley, están bajo maldición" (Gálatas 3:10). Y también dice: "Cristo nos redimió de la maldición de la Ley" (Gálatas 3:13). Pero, esto último, también es falsedad, pues la Escritura muestra que, el hombre realmente maldito, es el soberbio que abandona los mandamientos. Como está escrito: "Reprendiste a los soberbios, los Malditos que se desvían de tus mandamientos" (Salmo 119:21). De hecho, el hombre bendito y bienaventurado, es precisamente aquel que rehúsa abandonar la Ley de Dios, e insiste en guiarse por sus mandamientos. Como está escrito: "Bienaventurado el varón que no anduvo en consejo de malos, Ni estuvo en camino de pecadores, Ni en silla de escarnecedores se ha sentado; Sino que en la Ley de יהוה está su delicia, Y en su Ley medita de día y de noche. Será como árbol plantado junto a corrientes de aguas, que da su fruto en su tiempo, Y su hoja no cae; Y todo lo que hace, prosperará" (Salmo 1:1-3)

Y la tradición cristiana aparenta confirmar la anterior verdad, pues no solamente dice que "la carne y la sangre no pueden heredar el reino de Dios" (1 Corintios 15:50), sino que en adición enseña que los cielos y la tierra "huyen" de la presencia de Dios [es decir, que el Creador mora en un ámbito totalmente separado de la materia y el espacio].

Como esta escrito: "Y vi un gran trono blanco y al que estaba sentado en él, de delante del cual huyeron la tierra y el cielo, y ningún lugar se encontró para ellos"- Apocalipsis 20:11.

Es que el Creador es demasiado infinito, como para morar en nuestro finito Universo. Y es por eso que, ni siquiera "los cielos de los cielos", pueden completamente contenerle. Como esta escrito: "Pero ¿es verdad que Dios morará sobre la tierra? He aquí que los cielos, los cielos de los cielos, no te pueden contener..."- 1 Reyes 8:27.

En base a lo hasta aquí explicado, debe ahora ser evidente que, lo que el Galileo intenta decir en Lucas 20:34-36 es que, cuando la Escritura insinúa que Dios ha de "morar" con su pueblo ("Ciertamente los justos alabarán tu nombre; Los rectos morarán en tu presencia"- Salmo 140:13), no significa que el Creador ha de reducirse a la existencia física y limitada que experimentamos aquellos que habitamos en un Mundo de carne y sangre.

En cambio, lo que realmente significa es que Creador hará que sus hijos "moren" en Su presencia-- es decir, que asciendan al ámbito de existencia eterna, espiritual, e infinita en la que mora el Padre Celestial; un ámbito donde, no teniendo ya un cuerpo físico (es decir, no sufriendo ya de las cuitas, las debilidades, y las limitaciones que caracterizan la existencia material), los ángeles puedan glorificar al Creador diciendo: “Enjugará Dios toda lágrima de los ojos de ellos; y ya no habrá muerte [pues no habiendo ya materia, no existirá nada que pueda morir], ni habrá más llanto, ni clamor, ni dolor; porque las primeras cosas [es decir, las cosas del Mundo físico y material] pasaron”- Apocalipsis 21:4. Pero, ¿no dice la Escritura que los justos han de recibir lo que desean (“... a los justos les será dado lo que desean”- Prov. 10:24)? ¿Que sucederá entonces con aquel creyente que [ya sea por ignorancia, o ya sea por falta de fe], desee experimentar la eternidad dentro de un cuerpo físico? Pues que, como el Creador nunca miente [ni tampoco falla en cumplir sus promesas], le será dado lo que desee. Pero, con su pobre aptitud, tal creyente encarna tres de los mas tristes paradigmas incluidos en la Escritura:

(1) El paradigma de aquel esclavo Hebreo que, teniendo la oportunidad de obtener su libertad, prefiere permanecer en esclavitud. Como esta escrito: «Y si el siervo dijere: “Yo amo a mi señor, a mi mujer y a mis hijos, no saldré libre”»; entonces su amo lo llevará ante los jueces, y le hará estar junto a la puerta o al poste; y su amo le horadará la oreja con lesna [tal y como se hace con los bueyes, que no fueron creados a imagen y semejanza de Dios], y será su siervo para siempre»- Éxodo 21:5-6.

(2) El paradigma de las tribus Hebreas que, teniendo libertad para cruzar el Jordán y comenzar así a vivir en el ámbito donde Dios prometía que no tendrían necesidad de nada (“... tierra en la cual no comerás el pan con escasez, ni te faltará nada en ella”- Deuteronomio 8:9), prefirieron en cambio abstenerse de hacer el cruce, viviendo en adelante fuera de aquel ámbito donde se les prometía obtener total bendición.

Como esta escrito: “Por tanto, dijeron [los hijos de Rubén y de Gad a Moisés], si hallamos gracia en tus ojos, dése esta tierra a tus siervos en heredad, y no nos hagas pasar el Jordán”- Números 32:5

(3) El paradigma intimado en la promesa de que nunca habrán de faltar pobres en la tierra (“Porque no faltarán menesterosos en medio de la tierra...”- Deut. 15:11). ¿Es acaso concebible que, en una eternidad donde el Creador ha prometido morar con los justos (Salmo 140:13), exista aún la pobreza? ¿Que significado tiene el anterior pasaje? Pues la realidad es que, los menesterosos aludidos, no son aquellos que sufren de algún tipo de pobreza económica, sino aquellos que sufren de la pobreza que implica el “alimentarse del polvo” (“... polvo comerás todos los días de tu vida”- Genesis 3:14); es decir, la pobreza espiritual que manifiesta el creyente que, pudiendo entrar a existir en el glorioso ámbito espiritual prefigurado por la Tierra que se encuentra “al otro lado del Jordán” (es decir, el lugar donde sera finalmente libre de toda carga y necesidad existencial], prefiere en cambio permanecer en la esclavitud que implica la existencia en un cuerpo físico.

¿Paraíso Terrenal? ¿Vida eterna en un cuerpo físico? El Grave error de Adventistas y Russelistas

Los hermanos que siguen tanto el Cristianismo Adventista como Russelista proponen que el Paraíso deparado para los justos será aquí en la Tierra, y que los creyentes vivirán aquí en cuerpos terrenales. ¿Cual es el problema con tal interpretación? Pues que, si el evangelio es verdaderamente cierto, entonces el Paraíso prometido a los creyentes no puede ser en este Mundo, ni tampoco puede experimentarse en un cuerpo material. ¿Por que? Pues porque, en el día mismo de su muerte, Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) dijo lo siguiente al ladrón que moría a su lado: “... De cierto te digo que

HOY ESTARÁS CONMIGO EN EL PARAÍSO” (Lucas 23:43).

¿Estuvieron físicamente Jesús y el ladrón ese día en el paraíso? ¡Pues claro que no! De hecho, tanto el cuerpo de Jesús como el de aquel ladrón pasaron el día en la sepultura.

Así, la única manera en que pudo haberse cumplido lo prometido por el Nazareno, es que tanto el espíritu de Jesús, como el del ladrón, hallan ido a un Paraíso que no es de este Mundo, sino que pertenece al ámbito de los espíritus.

Y los Escritos cristianos aparentan confirmar esta interpretación, cuando afirman que, aunque su cuerpo permaneció en la tumba, el espíritu de Jesús fue y predicó a los espíritus encarcelados. Como esta escrito:

“Porque también Cristo padeció una sola vez por los pecados, el justo por los injustos, para llevarnos a Dios, SIENDO A LA VERDAD MUERTO EN LA CARNE, PERO VIVIFICADO EN ESPÍRITU; EN EL CUAL TAMBIÉN FUE Y PREDICÓ A LOS ESPÍRITUS ENCARCELADOS, los que en otro tiempo desobedecieron, cuando una vez esperaba la paciencia de Dios en los días de Noé”- 1 Pedro 3:18-20.

La realidad es que el Mundo físico [es decir, las cosas materiales y limitadas] que al presente experimentamos, es algo que el ser humano ya esta cansado de sufrir.

Y es por ello que יהוה [Adonay Yah, bendito sea] promete darnos una recompensa que sobrepasa cualquier cosa material que jamas hallamos visto o imaginado-- Un cielo y una tierra con una naturaleza espiritual tan distinta al cielo y la Tierra presentes, que hará que olvidemos que el primer cielo y la primera tierra hallan jamas existido. Como esta escrito:

“NI NUNCA OYERON, NI OÍDOS PERCIBIERON, NI OJO HA VISTO Dios fuera de ti, que hiciese por el que en Él espera... PORQUE HE AQUÍ QUE YO CRÍO NUEVOS CIELOS Y NUEVA TIERRA: Y DE LO PRIMERO NO HABRÁ MEMORIA, ni más vendrá al pensamiento”- Isaías 64:4, & 65:17.

Y los escritos Cristianos dan testimonio de la misma realidad, cuando dicen: “... Cosas que ojo no vio, ni oído oyó, Ni han subido en corazón de hombre, Son las que Dios ha preparado para los que le aman”- 1 Corintios 2:9.

Y el que la eternidad no será experimentada en un cuerpo físico, sino espiritual, es tambien corroborado por los escritos cristianos, cuando dice: “... Pero esto digo, hermanos: que LA CARNE Y LA SANGRE NO PUEDEN HEREDAR EL REINO DE DIOS... ASÍ TAMBIÉN ES LA RESURRECCIÓN DE LOS MUERTOS... SE SIEMBRA CUERPO ANIMAL, RESUCITARÁ CUERPO ESPIRITUAL”- 1 Corintios 15:50 & 42-44

The reason why it would be morally wrong for a Jew to sponsor the concept of "Political Correctness"

Hebrew Scripture states that Jehoshaphat (Josafat) was the greatest Jew of his day, as he was the King of Judah. In addition, Jehoshaphat was a godly man, who feared the God of Israel. On the other hand, Ahab was the greatest Israelite of his time, as he was King of Israel. But, despite being an Israelite, Ahab was a stubborn and wicked man, who despised the words of the God of Israel.

One day, king Jehoshaphat decided to embrace the sweet and seductive concept of “equality” (an idea currently known as “egalitarianism”). And, armed with such idea, Jehoshaphat decided to make common cause with Ahab. As it is written: «And Ahab king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat king of Judah: “Will you come with me against Ramoth Gilead?” AND HE (JOSAFAT) ANSWERED: “I AM LIKE YOU, AND MY PEOPLE LIKE YOUR PEOPLE; WE WILL GO WITH YOU TO WAR”- 2

Chronicles 18:3».

Unfortunately, Jehoshaphat did not understand that Ahab's rebellion placed the latter under Divine judgment; and that such judgment could dangerously spill over those surrounding Ahab. And this is the reason why Jehoshaphat almost lost his life in battle. As it is written: «WHEN THE CAPTAINS OF THE CHARIOTS SAW JOSAFAT, THEY SAID, “THIS IS THE KING OF ISRAEL”. AND THEY SURROUNDED HIM TO FIGHT; but Jehoshaphat cried out, and Yah helped him, and God separated them from him»- 2 Chronicles 18:31.

What does it mean? It means that The Lord doesn't want the pious person to stand by the side of the wicked individual [thereby “strengthening the hands of the latter”]. Who is wicked? He who openly rebels against the will of his Creator.

By the same token, God doesn't want the righteous Hebrew believer to lend unconditional support to he who [while calling himself to be “a Hebrew”] pursues a life of open rebelliousness; thinking that the mere fact of calling himself “a Jew” entitles him to receive “all the benefits of being part of God's people, while none of the corresponding responsibilities”.

And this is why “the seer” (prophet Jehu) is quoted rebuking King Jehoshaphat: «And Jehu the son of Hanani the seer went out to meet him, and said to king Jehoshaphat, “SHOULDEST THOU HELP THE UNGODLY, AND LOVE THEM THAT HATE THE LORD? THEREFORE IS WRATH UPON THEE FROM BEFORE THE LORD”»-2 Chronicles 19:2, King James Bible.

Scripture teaches that Jehoshaphat learned his lesson, as he eventually exhorted the leaders of Judah to proceed with integrity, admonishing both Jews and Israelites to do justice, so that they would not sin against Yah [thus preventing God's wrath from coming upon them]. As it is written: “And what cause soever shall come to you of your brethren that dwell in your cities, between blood and blood, between law and commandment, statutes and judgments, YE SHALL EVEN WARN THEM THAT THEY TRESPASS NOT AGAINST THE LORD, AND SO WRATH COME UPON YOU, AND UPON YOUR BRETHREN: this do, and ye shall not trespass [by omission]”- 2 Chronicles 19:10, King James Version.

The fact is that, the observant Hebrew believer cannot fall into the trap of “political correctness”, an ideology that prevents him from saying [or doing] anything that might offend other people. Instead, the correct attitude must be one where he is free to admonish anyone who, calling himself a Jew, lives a life in open rebellion against the Divine Law. As it is written: “Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thy heart: THOU SHALT SURELY REBUKE THY NEIGHBOR, AND NOT BEAR SIN BECAUSE OF HIM”- Leviticus 19:17, American Standard Version.

And it also says: “WHEN I SAY UNTO THE WICKED, THOU SHALT SURELY DIE; AND THOU GIVEST HIM NOT WARNING, NOR SPEAKEST TO WARN THE WICKED FROM HIS WICKED WAY, TO SAVE HIS LIFE; THE SAME WICKED MAN SHALL DIE IN HIS INIQUITY; BUT HIS BLOOD WILL I REQUIRE AT THINE HAND”-Ezekiel 3:18, King James Version.

Thus, the reason why it would be morally wrong for a Jew to sponsor the concept of "Political Correctness" is that the God of Israel doesn't condone the open rebellion of any man, whether he be a Jew or a Gentile.

Samaritanismo Reformado

El Evangelio, es un llamado a "Creer"; Pero, la Torah, es un llamado a "Razonar"

El Evangelio, es un llamado a "Creer"; aun si, aquello que se nos pide que creamos, parece ser irrazonable. Como esta escrito: «Pues ya que en la sabiduría de Dios, el mundo no conoció a Dios mediante la sabiduría, agradó a Dios salvar a los creyentes por la locura de la predicación»

(1 Corintios 1:21)

La Torah (la Ley de Dios), es en cambio un llamado a que el creyente razone, y a que se aparte de la locura. Como esta escrito: «Razonarás con tu prójimo, para que no participes de su pecado» - Levítico 19:17; Y, «Escucharé lo que hablará יהוה Dios; Porque hablará paz a su Pueblo y a sus Santos, Para que no se vuelvan a la Locura» - Salmo 85:8.

Así, el Evangelio y la Torah, son mutuamente excluyentes; pues un fiel seguidor de la Torah, no puede ser un fiel seguidor del Evangelio; ni un fiel seguidor del Evangelio, puede ser un fiel seguidor de la Torah

Hebrew Bible hints at the idea that repentance itself is the true redeeming Messiah; so that, as soon as someone turns you away from wickedness, his redeemer has arrived. As is written: "And the Redeemer shall come to Zion [to whom will the Redeemer come?]. . . unto them that turn [in sincere repentance] from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord"- Isaiah 59:20 (King James version). In other words, the moment either Moses, Jesus, Muhammad or any other person [or thing] successfully turns you away from wickedness, in that moment such person [or thing] becomes your personal Messiah

The person without God ends up becoming mentally disturbed

God's Law warns that the person who decides to turn his back on the Divine commandments, will end up going mad, and will be punished with a disturbed spirit [in other words, he'll no longer be able to distinguish between good sense and foolishness; between objective facts, and mere wishful thinking; between good and evil; between the just and the unjust; between what is right and what is crooked; between the clean and the unclean; between being gay, and being straight; between being a man, and being a woman] ... As it is written: «But it will happen, if you do not hear the voice of YHVH (Adonai Yah) your God, to try to fulfill all his commandments ... that all these curses will come upon you ... YHVH will strike you with madness ... and with Disturbance of spirit »- Deuteronomy 28: 15 & 28.

Punishments and Rewards: Is the Creator [blessed be He] a God of love and mercy? Or is He instead a God of hatred and vengeance? Is He a God of peace, or is He instead a God of War and strife?

When it comes to God and the afterlife, Hebrew Scripture teaches that the afterlife we will personally experience is a direct consequence of God's own nature. In other words, Bible hints at the idea that the Creator is sort of a "Mirror"- the Mirror itself never changes; but, if two men look into it, each one will see a different [yet accurate] image of the Divine.

Why are they different? Simply because each image will be a reflection of the viewers own “image” (or “reality”). In other words, if a warrior looks into the mirror, he will see “a warrior God” (a “God of Host”, so to speak); if a peace maker looks into it, he will see a “God of Peace”; If a loving father looks into it, he’ll see a God who is “Our Father, who is in Heaven”; If a merciful man looks into the mirror, He will see a merciful God; but if a stern man looks into it, he will see a stern God.

As it is written: “WITH THE MERCIFUL, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF MERCIFUL; WITH AN UPRIGHT MAN, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF UPRIGHT; WITH THE PURE, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF PURE; AND WITH THE FROWARD, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF FROWARD”- Psalm 18:25-26, King James Bible.

And the former explains the reason why, during His conversation with Moses (peace and blessings be upon him), God describes himself as follows: “I AM the God of thy father, THE GOD OF ABRAHAM, THE GOD OF ISAAC, AND THE GOD OF JACOB...”- Exodus 3:6, King James Bible.

Why did God has to say “the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob”? Why couldn't He just say: “THE GOD OF ABRAHAM, ISAAC, AND JACOB”? Again, because each patriarch perceived God in a different fashion, just as if they were serving three different Gods! But the truth is that, although each of them viewed God differently, they all served the same God; and, although different, each view was correct, as it corresponded with their individual personalities.

By the same token, it can be said that the eternal reward to be experienced by each person will be unique. Why? Simply because such reward will be tailored to each individual [and since no two individuals are exactly the same, therefore no two rewards will be exactly the same]. In other words, the wicked will be rewarded with the evil he personally fears; while the righteous will be rewarded with the goodness he personally loves. As it has been said: “THE FEAR OF THE WICKED, IT SHALL COME UPON HIM: BUT THE DESIRE OF THE RIGHTEOUS SHALL BE GRANTED”- Proverbs 10:24, King James Bible.

And also says: “HE WILL FULFILL THE DESIRE OF THEM THAT FEAR HIM...”- Psalm 145:19, King James Bible. But who is a righteous man? He who humbles himself, not doing his own will, but rather wishing to do the goodness commanded by God (justice, mercy, and humility, as stated in Micah 6:8)- a goodness that brings “shalom” (peace and happiness) upon the world.

And who is a wicked man? He who exalts himself above God, as well as above his fellow human beings. How? By pretending to follow his own moral criteria (the vain imaginations of his arrogant & self centered heart) rather than what has been commanded by the Creator- thereby bringing strife and wrath upon the world. As is written: “THE DESIRE OF THE RIGHTEOUS IS ONLY GOOD; BUT THE EXPECTATION OF THE WICKED IS WRATH”- Proverbs 11:23, King James Bible.

But how can God bring just punishment upon the wicked that already are in hell (“the tomb”, or “sheol”), while still claiming to be a God of grace and mercy (“THE LORD IS MERCIFUL AND GRACIOUS, SLOW TO ANGER, AND PLENTIFUL IN MERCY”- Psalm 103:8)? By doing exactly what He did with wicked Pharaoh (that is, by “hardening his heart”), as is written: “BUT THE LORD HARDENED PHARAOH'S HEART, SO THAT HE WOULD [BE STRONG, AND] NOT LET THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL GO [SO THAT THE PLAGUES COMING UPON HIM MIGHT CEASE]”- Exodus 10:20, King James Bible.

In other words, by endowing the wicked with a supernatural strength that will enable him to endure his punishment [so that, just as it happened with Pharaoh, he too can successfully oppose God, in case he wishes to do so].

There's more!... In His infinite mercy, God listens to the prayer of those already in sheol; those who, just like prophet Jonah, had formerly refused to do His will, but are now willing to repent [thereby coming out of their suffering]. As it is written: “... I CRIED BY REASON OF MINE AFFLICTION UNTO THE LORD, AND HE HEARD ME; OUT OF THE BELLY OF HELL ("SHEOL") CRIED I, AND THOU HEARDEST MY VOICE... THE EARTH WITH HER BARS WAS ABOUT ME FOR EVER: YET HAST THOU BROUGHT UP MY LIFE FROM CORRUPTION, O LORD MY GOD”- Jonah 2:2&6, Authorized King James Bible

Leyendas Del Samaritanismo Reformado: Los Ángeles, El “Olam Ha-ba”, y Gehinnom

Cuando Adonai (El Señor, bendito sea) creó el Olam Ha-ba (el Mundo que ha de venir), procedió a mostrarlo a sus ángeles. Estos le preguntaron, “Amo del Universo, ¿Para quien es este lugar tan glorioso? A lo cual El Eterno contestó, “Para todo el que desee caminar la senda que conduce hasta él”.

Los ángeles le preguntaron, “¿Y quien no estaría ansioso por caminar esa senda? Entonces Dios les ordenó que se voltaran, y les mostró la senda de auto humillación que son la confesión y el arrepentimiento; así como “el camino angosto” que es renunciar a nuestro propio ego, para vivir agradando al Creador (obedeciendo sus mandamientos), y no a nosotros mismos.

Sorprendidos, los ángeles exclamaron, “¡Amo del Universo, tememos que nadie quiera andar el camino que conduce a Olam ha-ba!”.

Pero El Omnipotente (bendito sea) les contestó diciendo, “Así dice Adonai Yah: No teman, porque Yo los redimí; Yo les puse nombre, míos son. Cuando pasen por las aguas, yo estaré con ellos; y si por los ríos, no se anegarán. Cuando pasen por el fuego, no se quemarán, ni la llama arderá en ellos. Porque yo Adonai Yah, su Dios, el Santo de Israel, soy su Salvador” (Isaías 43:1-3).

Entonces Adonai (bendito sea) procedió a mostrarles el fuego de Gehinnom. Al verlo, los ángeles preguntaron sobrecogidos de espanto, "Soberano del Universo, ¿para quien es este fuego destructor?", a lo cual Adonai contestó diciendo: "Es para quienes escojan caminar el sendero que conduce hasta él".

Los ángeles replicaron, "Pero, ¿quien escogería jamás transitar la senda que conduce a tan grande muerte?" Entonces, Dios les ordenó que se voltearan; y, cuando lo hicieron, les mostró el sendero de la lujuria por el poder, por las riquezas, por la fama, por la pleitesía de los hombres, por las drogas, por la homosexualidad, por la fornicación, y por toda clase de vicio, aberración, e inmoralidad. Entonces, los ángeles exclamaron, "¡Amo del Universo, tememos que ningún hombre pueda evitar terminar en el fuego de Gehinnom!". Entonces Dios les contestó diciendo, "Yo Adonai Yah soy su refugio; Yo los guardaré de la angustia; Con cánticos de liberación los rodearé. Les haré entender, y les enseñaré el camino en que deben andar; sobre ellos fijaré mis ojos" (Salmo 32:8).

El grave error Adventista acerca de la doctrina de la mortalidad del alma

La noble religión Adventista postula que un espíritu no puede existir fuera de un cuerpo humano [implicando con ello que el alma de un hombre fenece con la muerte de su cuerpo físico]. Pero lo anterior no solamente niega lo explícitamente enseñado en la escritura Hebrea [que presenta al Rey Saúl dialogando con el espíritu del difunto profeta Samuel], sino que incluso niega lo enseñado en el Evangelio cristiano.

¿Por que? Pues porque, a diferencia de la Escritura Hebrea (La Torah), el Evangelio esta lleno de demonios, así como de espíritus inmundos-- seres puramente espirituales que el evangelio describe como capaces de no solamente existir fuera de un cuerpo físico, sino de migrar de un cuerpo físico a otro. Como esta escrito:

“CUANDO EL ESPÍRITU INMUNDO SALE DEL HOMBRE, ANDA POR LUGARES SECOS, buscando reposo; y no hallándolo, dice: VOLVERÉ A MI CASA DE DONDE SALÍ”- Lucas 11:24. Y también dice en otro lugar: «Y LE PREGUNTÓ JESÚS, DICIENDO: “¿CÓMO TE LLAMAS?” Y ÉL DIJO: “LEGIÓN”. PORQUE MUCHOS DEMONIOS HABÍAN ENTRADO EN ÉL. Y le rogaban que no los mandase ir al abismo. Había allí un hato de MUCHOS CERDOS que pacían en el monte; y le rogaron que los dejase entrar en ellos; y les dio permiso. Y LOS DEMONIOS, SALIDOS DEL HOMBRE, ENTRARON EN LOS CERDOS...”- Lucas 8:30-33).

En adición, la anterior doctrina niega lo enseñado en las cartas Cristianas. ¿Donde? Pues en el pasaje donde el apóstol Pablo sugiere la posibilidad de haber visitado el Cielo “fuera del cuerpo”. Como esta escrito: “Conozco a un hombre en Cristo, que hace catorce años (SI EN EL CUERPO, NO LO SÉ; SI FUERA DEL CUERPO, NO LO SÉ; DIOS LO SABE) FUE ARREBATADO HASTA EL TERCER CIELO”- 2 Corintios 12:2).

La herejía acerca de la mortalidad del alma también niega lo afirmado por Pablo, cuando confiesa que el creyente prefiere estar “ausente en el cuerpo” (habiendo este fenecido), para estar en cambio “presente (en su espíritu) con el Señor”. Como esta escrito: “Así que vivimos confiados siempre, y sabiendo que ENTRE TANTO QUE ESTAMOS EN EL CUERPO, ESTAMOS AUSENTES DEL SEÑOR... PERO CONFIAMOS, Y MÁS QUISIÉRAMOS ESTAR AUSENTES DEL CUERPO, Y PRESENTES AL SEÑOR”- 1 Corintios 5:6-7.

La realidad es que, la insistencia en negar la inmortalidad del alma, no es sino una manifestación del mismo espíritu de rebeldía y obstinación que, en tiempo antaño, encarnó el Rey Saúl. Es que la Escritura muestra que este último persistió tercamente en no escuchar la voz Samuel [a fin de evitar la responsabilidad que ello conllevaba].

Y, como resultado de no prestar atención a las palabras de Samuel, el rey Saúl es finalmente desechado. Como esta escrito: «Vino, pues, Samuel a Saúl, y Saúl le dijo: “Bendito seas tú de YHVH; YO HE CUMPLIDO LA PALABRA DE YHVH”. Samuel entonces dijo: “¿PUES QUÉ BALIDO DE OVEJAS Y BRAMIDO DE VACAS ES ESTE QUE YO OIGO CON MIS OÍDOS?”... YHVH te envió en misión y dijo: “Ve, destruye a los pecadores de Amalec, y hazles guerra hasta que los acabes ¿POR QUÉ, PUES, NO HAS OÍDO LA VOZ DE YHVH?... Y Saúl respondió a Samuel: “ANTES BIEN HE OBEDECIDO LA VOZ DE YHVH, Y FUI A LA MISIÓN QUE YHVH ME ENVIÓ... Mas el pueblo tomó del botín ovejas y vacas, las primicias del anatema, para ofrecer sacrificios a YHVH tu Dios... Y Samuel dijo... “Ciertamente el obedecer es mejor que los sacrificios... PORQUE COMO PECADO DE ADIVINACIÓN ES LA REBELIÓN, Y COMO ÍDOLOS E IDOLATRÍA LA OBSTINACIÓN. POR CUANTO TÚ DESECHASTE LA PALABRA DE YHVH [QUE ESTE ÚLTIMO HABLO POR MI BOCA], ÉL TAMBIÉN TE HA DESECHADO...”- 1 Samuel 15:13-23. Curiosamente, note como el grave pecado del Rey Saúl consistió en no ser lo suficientemente humilde como para aceptar [sin cuestionamiento alguno] las palabras dichas por el profeta Samuel. Y ese es precisamente el pecado que cometen nuestros amados hermanos adventista-- el no ser lo suficientemente humildes como para aceptar [sin cuestionamiento alguno] las palabras del profeta Samuel.

Es que, cuando su doctrina acerca de la mortalidad del alma es confrontada con las palabras dichas a Saúl por medio del profeta Samuel [las cuales son prueba indubitable de que el espíritu de Samuel había sobrevivido la muerte física del profeta], el adventista promedio se obstina rebeldemente en negar dichas palabras, atribuyéndolas en cambio a algún demonio engañoso.

¿Cuales fueron esas palabras? Pues fueron las siguientes: «Y SAMUEL DIJO A SAÚL: “¿POR QUÉ ME HAS INQUIETADO HACIÉNDOME VENIR [DESDE EL HADES]?” Y Saúl respondió: “Estoy muy angustiado, pues los filisteos pelean contra mí, y Dios se ha apartado de mí... POR ESTO TE HE LLAMADO, PARA QUE ME DECLARES LO QUE TENGO QUE HACER”. ENTONCES SAMUEL DIJO: “¿Y para qué me preguntas a mí, si YHVH se ha apartado de ti y es tu enemigo?... Como tú no obedeciste a la voz de YHVH, ni cumpliste el ardor de su ira contra Amalec, por eso YHVH te ha hecho esto hoy... Y MAÑANA ESTARÉIS CONMIGO [EL HADES], TÚ Y TUS HIJOS”»- 1 Samuel 28:15-19.

Note que, así como la rebeldía y obstinación mostradas por Saúl [al rechazar las palabras de Samuel] fueron catalogadas como una clara manifestación de burda idolatría, de ese mismo modo la rebeldía y obstinación mostrada por nuestros hermano Adventistas [al rechazar las palabras de Samuel] son un claro indicativo de pagana idolatría.

¿Y de donde lo sabemos? Pues lo sabemos del hecho de los hermanos adventistas siguen el liderato ideológico de una mujer- La Sra. Helena G. de White (la paz sea con ella).

Es que la Escritura Hebrea muestra que el pueblo de Dios es liderado por una Mujer solo cuando este último ha caído en la idolatría y la corrupción moral. Como esta escrito: “Los opresores de MI PUEBLO son muchachos, y MUJERES SE ENSEÑOREARON DE ÉL. PUEBLO MÍO, LOS QUE TE GUÍAN TE ENGAÑAN, y tuercen el curso de tus caminos”- Isaías 3:11.

Finalmente, el Nuevo Testamento prohíbe explícitamente que el creyente aprenda o este en algún tipo de sujeción a una mujer. Como esta escrito: “LA MUJER APRENDA EN SILENCIO, CON TODA SUJECIÓN. PORQUE NO PERMITO A LA MUJER ENSEÑAR, NI EJERCER DOMINIO SOBRE EL HOMBRE, SINO ESTAR EN SILENCIO”- 1 Timoteo 2:10-11.

¿Significa los hasta aquí dicho que el Adventismo es una secta Satánica? ¿Significa acaso que los Adventistas han sido totalmente rechazados, o que no han de tener parte alguna en la Vida Eterna?

¡En ninguna manera!

Lo que significa es que, a pesar de ser una forma perfectamente válida de servir al Creador, la teología Adventista necesita ser reformada, a fin de volverla “a la senda antigua”. ¿Para que? Pues para que los desvíos que al presente sufre no roben parte de la paz interna, así como de la bendición que tiene Dios preparadas para todo aquel que, sin importar su credo o su raza, persevere en guardar los Diez mandamientos de la Ley Divina.

Como esta escrito: “LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE YHVH SON RECTOS, QUE ALEGRAN EL CORAZÓN... ESTAS BENDICIONES TUVE, PORQUE GUARDÉ TUS MANDAMIENTOS... TEME A DIOS, Y GUARDA SUS MANDAMIENTOS; PORQUE ESTO ES EL TODO DEL HOMBRE”- Salmo 19:8, Salmo 119:56, Eclesiastés 12:13). ¡Que la paz de YHVH sea con vosotros!

La extraña y curiosa relación que existe entre el Cristianismo Adventista, el Judaísmo Saduceo, y el Mesianismo de Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él)

Muchos de los hermanos cristianos que profesan la noble fe Adventista, aparentan tener un serio problema con aceptar como fidedigno el relato evangélico acerca de “El rico y Lázaro” (Lucas 16:19-31); un relato donde, inmediatamente después de su muerte, el alma del humilde Lázaro es descrita por Jesus como pasando a estar en un ámbito espiritual que la tradición Judía identificaba con el nombre de “El Seno de Abraham”. Es que los creyentes adventistas rechazan de plano la validez de tal relato [y por ende, sus implicaciones teológicas], catalogándolo en cambio como una mera alegoría (sin mayor importancia doctrinal).

¿Y por que asume tal postura el adventismo? Pues porque, la manera mas directa [y sencilla] de “probar” la veracidad de cualquier doctrina que tenga visos de ser cuestionable [o ambigua], es obviamente negar la validez [o, la literalidad] de cualquier pieza de evidencia que aparente contradecirla. En el caso que nos atañe, negando cualquier escritura que intime la inmortalidad del alma, el adventismo siente que reivindica la memoria de su fundadora (la Sra. Helena G. De White, que en paz descanse); quien, al igual que los antiguos Saduceos, negaba la inmortalidad del espíritu humano (“PORQUE LOS SADUCEOS DICEN QUE NO HAY resurrección, NI ÁNGEL, NI ESPÍRITU”- Hechos 23:8).

Pero la realidad es que, negar la validez de una Escritura tan solo porque ella no nos convenga [o favorezca] es un tipo de auto-engaño. Y la Escritura ordena al creyente a alejarse de todo tipo de engaño, cuando procede a decir: “DE PALABRA DE MENTIRA TE ALEJARÁS...”- Éxodo 23:7. Es que, si el relato cristiano acerca de el rico y Lázaro hubiese sido realmente una parábola, tendríamos entonces que preguntar, “¿porque incluye esa parábola un dato tan históricamente literalmente como el que Abraham sea visto como “el padre” [biológico] de cada Israelita? ¿Como puede el relato ser una parábola, siendo que ninguna otra parábola de Jesus aparenta incluir el nombre de algún personaje histórico? Finalmente, si lo que aparenta ser el literal y directo mensaje de Jesus, es en cambio una mera parábola [no teniendo importancia mayor en cuanto a la fe y doctrina cristiana se refiere], ¿como puede el creyente Adventista estar jamas seguro de conocer con certeza cual porción del evangelio debe ser considerada de forma literal, y cual debe ser considerada de forma alegórica?

Por ejemplo, ¿como puede el creyente adventista estar absolutamente seguro de que, cuando Jesus reclamó ser “EL CAMINO, LA VERDAD, Y LA VIDA” (Juan 14:6), estaba en un sentido estrictamente literal, y no alegórico? De hecho, aunque duro de aceptar, interpretar el anterior reclamo de forma alegórica es una postura mas honesta [y fiel al texto evangélico], que interpretarlas en su sentido literal . ¿Por que? Pues porque el evangelio afirma con claridad meridiana que Jesus no hablaba a la gente sino por medio de parábolas. Como esta escrito: “Todo esto habló Jesús por parábolas a la gente, Y SIN PARÁBOLAS NO LES HABLABA”- Mateo 13:34.

Y el que Jesus no halla sido literalmente el “Mesías hijo de David” [sino solo en forma alegórica], es cónsono con el hecho de que Jesus es citado reprendiendo tanto a los Escribas como a los Fariseos, quienes creían que el Mesías seria un descendiente literal [es decir, biológico] de David.

Como esta escrito: «ENTONCES ÉL [JESUS] LES DIJO: “¿CÓMO DICEN QUE EL CRISTO ES HIJO DE DAVID? Pues el mismo David dice en el libro de los Salmos-- ‘Dijo el Señor a mi Señor: Siéntate a mi diestra, Hasta que ponga a tus enemigos por estrado de tus pies’. DAVID, PUES, LE LLAMA SEÑOR; ¿CÓMO ENTONCES ES [LITERALMENTE] SU HIJO?” [PUES EL QUE UN PADRE LLAME “SEÑOR” A ALGUNO DE SUS HIJOS BIOLÓGICOS, ES MORALMENTE ERRADO]».

¿Por que habría negaba Jesus que el Mesías fuese un descendiente literal de David? ¿Pues porque eso le habría descalificado como Mesías! Es que Jesus reclamaba no haber sido engendrado de simiente de hombre alguno, sino del espíritu Santo («“Entonces María dijo al ángel: ¿Cómo será esto? pues NO CONOZCO VARÓN. Respondiendo el ángel, le dijo: EL ESPÍRITU SANTO VENDRÁ SOBRE TI, y el poder del Altísimo te cubrirá con su sombra; POR LO CUAL TAMBIÉN EL SANTO SER QUE NACERÁ, SERÁ LLAMADO HIJO DE DIOS”»- Lucas 1:34-35).

¿Porque no podía Jesús haber sido literalmente engendrado por ningún descendiente de David? Pues porque, en tal caso [y según la teología cristiana], Jesús habría heredado “el pecado original” de su padre biológico, y esto le habría impedido poder morir por el pecado de nadie, fuera de sí mismo. Así, la Escritura Cristiana es clara en mostrar que, si Jesús era en efecto “El Mesías Hijo de David”, era solamente en un sentido alegórico, y no literal.

Did the first Christians observe God’s Law?

When it comes to the issue of obeying God’s Law [and it’s corresponding feasts and rituals, the Noble Christian religion is, at best, contradictory. You see, the Christians writings seem to vaguely imply that, if you were a Hebrew believer who also happened to consider Jesus to be the Jewish Messiah, then you were expected to keep observing the rituals comprising God’s Law.

In fact, the Christian book of Acts states that the apostle Paul went into the Jerusalem Temple, and therein participated in one of the Law rituals [sponsoring two Nazarite vows, according to Acts 21:26].

In addition, the original apostles that comprised the Jerusalem council are quoted as giving Paul the following instructions: “Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them; Them take, and PURIFY THYSELF WITH THEM, and be at charges with them, that they may shave their heads: AND ALL MAY KNOW THAT those things, whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that THOU THYSELF ALSO WALKEST ORDERLY, AND KEEPEST THE LAW”- Acts 21:23-24.

And what about non Hebrew believers? They were not expected to obey any of the Law rituals, as is written in the Christian passage that goes on to say: “AS TOUCHING THE GENTILES WHICH BELIEVE, we have written and concluded that THEY OBSERVE NO SUCH THING, SAVE ONLY THAT THEY KEEP THEMSELVES FROM THINGS OFFERED TO IDOLS, AND FROM BLOOD, AND FROM STRANGLED, AND FROM FORNICATION”- Acts 21:25.

El serio dilema legal que enfrentan Jesús, Muhammad, y la Sra. Elena G. de White Tanto Jesús, el profeta Muhammad, y la Sra. Elena G. de White (paz y bendición sean con ellos), fueron grandes y notables líderes religiosos. Y cada uno de estos líderes tuvo tal prominencia, que fue capaz de crear un movimiento propio, basado en la interpretación que de la Ley de Dios hacían. El problema surge cuando descubrimos que cada uno de estas grandes personalidades sufría de un defecto y/o limitación que, según la Ley de Dios, les descalificaba para ejercer una posición de liderato en el servicio Divino.

A saber: (1) La Sra. de White era mujer, (2) Jesús nunca engendró hijos biológicos (siendo así incapaz de probar fuera de toda duda que no tuviese los testículos magullados, según Deuteronomio 23:1), (3) el profeta Muhammad nunca aprendió a leer ni a escribir (intimando así que padecía de algún serio defecto de aprendizaje).

De este modo, el grave dilema Legal que enfrenta cada uno de estos grandes líderes es que, aunque con sus bocas reclamaron ser los custodios de la correcta interpretación y/o implementación de la Ley Divina, con sus hechos violaron esa misma Ley, pues [debido a sus respectivos defectos] esta última les prohibía asumir el liderato del servicio religioso.

¿Y de donde lo sabemos? Pues lo sabemos del hecho de que la Ley ordenaba al Pueblo Santo prohibir que personas como las mujeres, los hombres con testículos magullados (incapaces de engendrar hijos), los niños, y las personas con serios defectos físicos y/o de salud pudiesen ejercer funciones de liderato en el servicio Divino.

Como esta escrito: “NINGÚN VARÓN DE LA DESCENDENCIA DEL SACERDOTE AARÓN, EN EL CUAL HAYA DEFECTO, SE ACERCARÁ PARA OFRECER LAS OFRENDAS ENCENDIDAS PARA יהוה. HAY DEFECTO EN ÉL; NO SE ACERCARÁ a ofrecer el pan de su Dios. Del pan de su Dios, de lo muy santo y de las cosas santificadas, podrá comer. Pero NO SE ACERCARÁ TRAS EL VELO, NI SE ACERCARÁ AL ALTAR, POR CUANTO HAY DEFECTO EN ÉL; PARA QUE NO PROFANE MI SANTUARIO, porque yo יהוה soy el que los santifico”- Levítico 21:21-23.

¿Acaso discrimina Dios contra las mujeres, contra los hombres estériles, contra los niños, o contra las personas que sufren limitaciones mentales y/o intelectuales? ¿Que propósito podría tener tal mandamiento?

Pues su propósito no era otro sino intimar que tales personas alcanzarían posiciones de liderato solamente cuando el Pueblo de Dios hubiese dado la espalda a lo ordenado por el Creador [rehusando someterse a su Palabra].

Y es por ello que tanto la Escritura Hebrea como la Cristiana aparentan concordar la una con la otra, cuando dicen: “LOS OPRESORES DE MI PUEBLO SON MUCHACHOS, Y MUJERES SE ENSEÑOREARON DE ÉL. PUEBLO MÍO, LOS QUE TE GUÍAN TE ENGAÑAN... LA MUJER APRENDA EN SILENCIO, con toda sujeción. PORQUE NO PERMITO A LA MUJER ENSEÑAR, NI EJERCER DOMINIO SOBRE EL HOMBRE, SINO ESTAR EN SILENCIO... HERMANOS, NO SEÁIS NIÑOS EN EL MODO DE PENSAR, SINO SED NIÑOS EN LA MALICIA, PERO MADUROS EN EL MODO DE PENSAR”- Isaías 3:11, 1 Timoteo 2:10-11, 1 Corintios 14:20.

Adventismo del Séptimo Día-- Era la Sra. Elena G. De White una profeta confiable?

El Adventismo del séptimo día es un camino perfectamente válido para agradar al Creador. Pero con respecto a los reclamos proféticos de la Sra. Elena G. De White, la Escritura hebrea dice así: “¿Cómo conoceremos la palabra que YHVH no ha hablado?; si el profeta hablare en nombre de YHVH, y no se cumpliere lo que dijo, ni aconteciere, es palabra que YHVH no ha hablado; con presunción la habló el tal profeta; no tengas temor de él”- Deuteronomio 18:21-22

Considere la siguiente pieza de información: Elena G. De White es citada diciendo, “Una conferencia se llevó a cabo en Battle Creek en Mayo, 1856 En la conferencia, se me dio una visión muy solemne. Yo vi que algunos de los allí presentes serían comida para los gusanos, algunos serían expuestos a las 7 últimas plagas, y otros serían trasladados al cielo en la segunda Venida de Cristo, sin gustar la muerte”.

Esta visión data de 1856 — han pasado 167 años! Y, si asumimos que la persona mas joven presente en tal conferencia tenia alrededor de 30 años, Yo diría que todos los participantes de la conferencia están muertos. Creo que es un cálculo bastante acertado-- A menos que un anciano de 197 años de edad pueda caminar por el Mundo sin que nadie (ni siquiera la gente del Guinness world records) lo note; o que en cambio hagamos caso a un adventista que en una ocasión dijo: “Bueno, en realidad hay un adventista muy pero muy viejito

Aquí hay una limitación de tiempo — Jesús volvería en un lapso de tiempo en el cual algunos de los asistentes a la conferencia todavía estarían vivos.

¿Se dan cuenta? La promesa de Dios aquí, de la forma que lo puso doña Elena, pone a Dios como un mentiroso. Claramente Elena G. De White [que en paz descansa] fue una profeta fraudulenta.

How do we know what God’s will for our lives is?

How can we know God's will for our lives? We do so by remembering that God’s Law contains all that we need to know, in order to understand (in a broad sense) what God expects from His servants. Thus, when we begins to study God’s Law (also known as “Torah”), we finds that certain things are obviously lawful (like celebrating Passover, leaving the corners of his harvest for the benefit of the poor, honoring his parents, keeping the Shabbat day, etc.); while other things are obviously illicit (do not steal, do not lie, do not practice usury, do not fornicate, do not be arrogant, do not put a stumbling block before the blind, do not curse the deaf, etc).

And, between these two extremes, there are things that are doubtful-- about which the sages of Israel still do not reach total agreement. Some of these things are: What is the exact pronunciation of the Shem Ha Meforash (the Tetragrammaton)? How long will the Messianic era last? How long will the punishment in Gehinnom last? Who (or what) is the Messiah? Will the ten lost tribes ever return? Etc.

The mature believer puts aside what is doubtful, in order to put the emphasis on fulfilling what is obviously lawful (making good the wise saying that goes on to say: “One bird in your hand, is better than a hundred birds flying high above your head”). On the other hand, the immature believer leaves aside what the Torah makes clearly permissible, and focuses instead in what the Torah leaves uncertain and doubtful, thereby “straining out the gnat, while gulping down the camel”.

The fact is that, he who knows what Torah’s implicit message actually is (do no harm to the innocent, and do what is good, as one day God will judge your life, returning upon you the same measure of goodness you’ve bestowed upon your fellow human beings), clearly understands that following what Torah has made self evident will always take precedence over what the Torah has left doubtful. And the former consists of honoring our parents, having mercy of the hungry, abstaining from lies, usury, immorality, and opportunism (things whose reward the Torah guarantees that both Hebrews and Gentiles will receive, as demonstrated by the story of Job).

In the eyes of God, doing the former goodness is far more important than believing that so-and-so is a descendant of one of the lost tribes of Israel; that so-and-so (Jesus, Bar Koziva, Schneerson, etc) is the promised Messiah; that Shabbat may sometimes fall upon a different day of the week; or that the Tetragrammaton must be pronounced in this or that other way (Things whose subjective nature prevents us from knowing with certainty whether they will be rewarded or not).

Truth is that, trying to take care of the things that the Torah has left doubtful, at the expense of neglecting those that are clearly evident, is like pretending to “outpace those running on a horseback”, without first outpacing those “running on their own feet”. That is to say, if we cannot “digest” (or “make our own”) the small idea of being faithful to the truth that is clearly evident (i.e., “you shall not bear false witness”), how can we ever proclaim ourselves custodians of those larger truths which are not self evident? Trying to do so would be a manifestation of our self-deception and pride; things for which the wrath of God comes upon mankind.

In short, if you live in obedience to God’s Ten Laws (something obviously lawful), and somebody claims to tell you (supposedly in the name of God) that you must abide by something that the Torah has left doubtful (that you must do, or believe, this or that other thing; that you must go to this or that other place; that you must accept this or that other theological interpretation; that you must follow this or that other religious leader; that must believe in this or that other book, etc), rest assured that God doesn’t expect you to blindly believe the words of such person. And, unless you are absolutely sure that what that person is ordering you represents God’s will for your life (and doesn’t undermine or contradict what God’s Law makes clearly lawful and unlawful), you have no obligation to obey (nor believe) what is being told to you.

Torah, evolución, y el Juicio Divino

El relato de la Creación, muestra que Dios concedió inicialmente a “las aguas” (es decir, a “los mares”) el poder de crear la vida. Como está escrito: «PRODUZCAN LAS AGUAS SERES VIVIENTES Y AVES...»- Génesis 1:20. Note como el anterior verso afirma que, serian directamente “las aguas” [y no Dios] quienes crearían aves y seres vivientes.

A continuación, el Creador procedió a conferir a la Tierra, el mismo poder creativo que con anterioridad había conferido a las aguas. Como esta escrito: «PRODUZCA LA TIERRA SERES VIVIENTES SEGÚN SU GENERO...»- Génesis 1:24. De nuevo, note como se dice que, seria directamente la Tierra [y no Dios], quien crearía los seres vivientes que se arrastran sobre ella. Finalmente, el Espíritu Eterno decidió hacer una alianza creativa tanto con las aguas, como con la Tierra, a fin de crear una vida superior; una criatura que cuya existencia tendría algo de agua, algo de tierra, y algo de espíritu. Como está escrito: «Hagamos [es decir, hagamos las Aguas, la Tierra, los Ángeles, y Yo] al hombre, a nuestra imagen y semejanza [es decir, hagámoslo de suerte que se asemeje al agua, a la tierra, y al espíritu eterno]...»- Génesis 1:26.

Y lo anterior explica el hecho de que, en su primera etapa, la vida del hombre, evoluciona dentro de un ámbito líquido (el líquido de la matriz materna). Luego, esa vida sale de ese ámbito líquido, y continúa evolucionando en un ámbito “terrenal” [es decir, el ámbito seco que existe fuera del vientre materno]. Finalmente, esa misma vida sale de ese ámbito terrenal, y continúa evolucionando en un ámbito “espiritual” (es decir, fuera del cuerpo físico).

En otras palabras, la Escritura intima que, la muerte física, no detiene el proceso de la evolución de la vida. Para resumir lo que hasta aquí hemos dicho: la Escritura intima que, la vida, evolucionó en el pasado (y continúa aún evolucionando) en tres tres distintas “etapas” (o “procesos”). El primero de esos proceso, fue la evolución de la vida animal marina.

El segundo, fue la evolución de la vida animal terrestre. Finalmente, el tercero, fue la evolución de una vida animal que adquiere “vida espiritual”; es decir, un proceso donde, la vida animal, adquiere un “espíritu” (“conciencia intangible”, o “humanidad”) que le convierte en un ente moral, capaz de tomar decisiones éticas que le permitirán a su vez sobreponerse tanto a sus instintos animales, como a sus bajas pasiones.

Y, el que la vida animal haya evolucionado antes que la vida humana, quizás explique el verso que dice: «Y puso Adán nombre a toda bestia y ave de los cielos y a todo ganado del campo; MAS PARA ADÁN NO SE HALLÓ AYUDA IDÓNEA PARA ÉL»- Génesis 2:20. ¿Como es posible que, después de que se le mostraran a Adán todos los animales, se diga que “no se halló ayuda idónea para Adán”? ¿Es que hubo en algún momento la posibilidad de que Adán pudiese haberse casado con una vaca, o con alguna oveja? ¡No! Lo que el verso probablemente intima es que, la Tierra pudo haber producido con anterioridad un cierto tipo de vida animal (¿simio?) que tenía parecido con los seres humanos. Pero, a diferencia de estos últimos, esa vida animal carecían de “espíritu” (es decir, de una conciencia ética y moral como la de Adán).

A pesar de todo esto, la realidad es que, la mayor de todas las verdades contenidas en el relato de la Creación, no es en sí misma la creación, ni tampoco lo es el proceso por medio del cual surgió la vida en nuestro planeta. La mayor de todas las verdades contenidas en ese relato, es que el Creador es un ser tan increíblemente extraordinario, que decidió utilizar su propia creación como instrumento para llevar a cabo sus insondables propósitos.

Es decir, a pesar de que Dios pudo haber creado directamente la vida, escogió en cambio dotar a las aguas y a la tierra con algo de su poder divino; de suerte que, tanto el agua como la Tierra, vinieron a ser dos de los muchos “ministros y embajadores” utilizados por Dios para administrar y dirigir su Creación.

Y ese también es el caso con el ser humano; pues la realidad es que, a fin de preservar la raza humana, Dios bien pudo haber hecho que los Mares y la Tierra continuasen produciendo [espontáneamente] “nuevos Adanes” (es decir, hombres que sustituyesen a los que periódicamente fallecen).

Pero, en su extraordinaria generosidad, el Creador ha escogido compartir con el Hombre algo de su poder creativo, de suerte que el Hombre pueda a su vez engendrar (o “crear”) nuevos hombres. Y esto convierte al Hombre en un ministro de Dios, llevando a cabo el propósito Divino de preservar la raza Humana.

Es que, el Dios que adoran los Hijos de Israel, no es como un Rey humano, que se aferra celosamente al poder. El Dios de Israel, es en cambio como un Noble y Grande Rey, que domina sobre un reino infinitamente extenso. Y, a fin de llevar a cabo sus propósitos, este Rey confiere a sus mas fieles y nobles súbditos, el poder requerido para administrar [en su nombre] todos y cada uno de los asuntos que atañen a su grande e infinito Reino.

Y es por esto que, con respecto al juicio Divino que vino sobre el Rey Nabucodonosor, la Escritura no dice en ninguna parte que haya sido Dios quien juzgase directamente a Nabucodonosor. Es que, Nabucodonosor, fue en cambio juzgado por “el dicho de los santos”, y por “el decreto de los vigilantes”.

Como esta escrito: «LA SENTENCIA ES POR DECRETO DE LOS VIGILANTES, Y POR DICHO DE LOS SANTOS LA RESOLUCION; para que conozcan los vivientes que el Altísimo gobierna el reino de los hombres...»- Daniel 4:17. ¿Quiénes son estos “vigilantes”?

¿Y quiénes son estos “Santos”? Pues son precisamente aquellas criaturas a quienes Dios ha designado sus instrumentos para la administración del Juicio y la Justicia Divina sobre la Tierra.

Aún así, note como estos “Santos Vigilantes”, confiesan sin ambigüedad alguna que, no son ellos mismos [sino el Altísimo] quien gobierna sobre el reino de los hombres”. Es decir, que su misión no es otra sino llevar a cabo los propósitos de su Creador.

Y lo mismo es ilustrado en la historia del Rey Acab; pues, cuando este último fue juzgado [en los cielos], el Creador se sentó entre sus ministros, del mismo modo que se sentaría un “av beit din” (es decir, “un padre” o “presidente” de una corte de juicio) para escuchar los alegatos de los miembros de su corte. Como esta escrito:

«Yo vi a Yah sentado en su silla, y todo el ejército de los Cielos estaba junto a Él, a su derecha y a su izquierda. Y Yah dijo, ¿quien inducirá [en mi nombre] a Acab, para que suba y caiga en Ramot de Galaad? Y uno [de sus ministros] decía de una manera, y otro [de sus ministros] decía de otra. Y salio [del Mundo de los vivos] un espíritu, y se puso delante de Yah, y dijo: “Yo le induciré”. Y Yah le dijo, “¿De que manera? El dijo: “yo saldré [de vuelta a la Tierra], y seré espíritu de mentira en boca de todos sus profetas”»- 1 Reyes 22:19-22). Y, una vez escuchados los alegatos, y emitido el veredicto, el Creador procedió a designar un ministro que fuese y ejecutare [en su nombre] la sentencia [«Y Él (Dios) dijo: “Le inducirás, y aun lo conseguirás; VE PUES Y HAZLO ASÍ”»- 1 Reyes 22:22.

De este modo, la Escritura intima que, todo lo que el Creador ha hecho jamás en el pasado [o hará jamás en el futuro], lo hace por medio de algún ministro previamente designado para tal tarea; es decir, por medio de las aguas, por medio de la Tierra, por medio de algún ángel (o algún otro ser ajeno a nuestro mundo), por medio de algún mensajero, por medio de algún espíritu, por medio de algún Santo, por medio de algún vigilante, por medio de algún hombre, por medio de alguna criatura [una zarza, una mula, un asna, unos cuervos, un gran pez, unos leones hambrientos], o por medio de algún fenómeno natural (un relámpago, un torbellino, un horno de fuego, un mar embravecido, una llama de fuego, un silbido apacible, etc].

Samaritanismo Reformado: Si el Dios de Israel es un Espíritu sin forma ni substancia física alguna, ¿En que sentido debe entenderse que el hombre halla sido creado “a imagen y semejanza” de su Dios?

La Torah (es decir, la Ley de Dios) enseña que יהוה (Adonai Yah, bendito sea) lo hizo todo bueno. Pero también enseña que, luego de haber creado al hombre, Yah reconoció que “no era bueno que el hombre estuviese solo” (Gen 2:18).

La realidad es que, si el hombre estaba solo, ¡el causante de ello no era otro sino El Creador! Es decir, el relato de la Creación muestra que (si nos atreviésemos a decir tal cosa) el Creador hizo “cosas buenas”, pero también hizo cosas “no tan buenas”.

¿Que hizo Yah con aquello que “no era tan bueno”? Pues que procedió a reconocerlo de inmediato (por iniciativa propia, y sin necesidad de que alguien tuviese que convencerlo). Entonces, luego de reconocer aquello que “no era tan bueno”, el Creador procedió a “rectificarlo” (a, por así decirlo, “enderezar lo torcido”).

En el caso de Adam, esa “rectificación” consistió en proveer al hombre de comunión y armonía con otro ser humano (con “Hava”, o “Eva”). Como si lo anterior no fuese ya “difícil de tragar”, la Torah también enseña que Yah (bendito sea) creo al hombre “a su imagen y semejanza” (Gen. 1:26).

¿Que significan estas palabras? Pues que, así como Dios hizo cosas buenas, y cosas no tan buenas, de ese mismo modo el hombre (creado a imagen y semejanza de su Dios) puede también escoger entre hacer “cosas buenas”, y hacer “cosas no tan buenas”.

Y también significa que, así como el Creador pudo reconocer (y enmendar) aquello que “no era tan bueno” (proveyendo al hombre comunión y armonía con su prójimo); de ese mismo modo el hombre puede reconocer y enmendar sus errores, entablando una relación de comunión y armonía con su prójimo.

El anterior relato también muestra que, si bien es loable hacer “solo lo bueno”, es aún más loable cuando, luego de haber hecho lo que “no es tan bueno”, tenemos la suficiente humildad como para (por iniciativa propia) reconocer nuestro error, y proceder a “enderezar” lo que hemos “torcido” (nuestra relación con el prójimo, sin importar si ese prójimo es el Creador, nuestros semejantes, o nosotros mismos).

Y la anterior verdad está confirmada en un Midrash Hebreo (Berachot 34b) que dice así: “En el (sublime) lugar donde está de pie el penitente (entiéndase, aquel que ha reconocido su error, y procedido a enmendarlo), no puede pararse ni siquiera aquel que es perfectamente justo”.

En resumen, si la Torah enseña que el hombre fue creado “a imagen y semejanza de Dios”, es porque el Creador (bendito sea) anhela que el hombre obre de la forma que Dios mismo obró durante el proceso de la creación: Es decir, que escoja hacer lo bueno; y que, cuando no lo haga, tenga la humildad y la honestidad de reconocerlo, confesando su error, y procediendo a rectificarlo.

Esto último es lo que el Samaritanismo Reformado conoce como “Teshuvah”-- una palabra Hebrea que literalmente significa “volver al camino recto” (“arrepentimiento sincero”, o “confesión y conversión”).

La perspectiva que acerca de Yeshua (Jesus de Nazaret, paz sea con él) sostiene el Samaritanismo Reformado

Los Evangelios Cristianos indican que los Judíos que escucharon hablar al maestro de Galilea (la paz y la bendición de יהוה sean con él), entendieron claramente que Jesús no era sino un profeta-- un poderoso reformador que exhortaba a todos a volver a Dios en sincero arrepentimiento; Como está escrito: “Os digo: No; antes SI NO OS ARREPENTÍS, TODOS PERECERÉIS IGUALMENTE”- Lucas 13:2-4.

Por esto, también dicen los evangelios: “Cuando entró él en Jerusalén, toda la ciudad se conmovió, diciendo: ¿Quién es éste? Y LA GENTE DECÍA: ESTE ES JESÚS EL PROFETA, DE NAZARET DE GALILEA”- Mateo 21:10-11.

O, como también dice en otro lugar: “Y oyendo sus parábolas los principales sacerdotes y los fariseos, entendieron que hablaba de ellos. Pero al buscar cómo echarle mano, TEMÍAN AL PUEBLO, PORQUE ÉSTE LE TENÍA POR PROFETA” - Mateo 21:45-46.

De hecho, aún los mismos seguidores del Galileo entendían que este no era sino un poderoso profeta de Dios, como está escrito: “Aquellos hombres (sus discípulos) entonces, viendo la señal que Jesús había hecho, dijeron: ESTE VERDADERAMENTE ES EL PROFETA QUE HABÍA DE VENIR AL MUNDO” (Juan 6:14).

Y también dice en otro lugar: “He aquí, dos de ellos (dos discípulos de Jesús) iban el mismo día a una aldea llamada Emaús, que estaba a sesenta estadios de Jerusalén. E iban hablando entre sí de todas aquellas cosas que habían acontecido. Sucedió que, mientras hablaban y discutían entre sí, Jesús mismo se acercó, y caminaba con ellos...

... Mas los ojos de ellos estaban velados, para que no le conociesen. Y les dijo: ¿Qué pláticas son estas que tenéis entre vosotros mientras camináis, y por qué estáis tristes? Respondiendo uno de ellos, que se llamaba Cleofas, le dijo: ¿Eres tú el único forastero en Jerusalén que no has sabido las cosas que en ella han acontecido en estos días?...

... Entonces él les dijo: ¿Qué cosas? Y ellos le dijeron: DE JESÚS NAZARENO, QUE FUE VARÓN PROFETA, PODEROSO EN OBRA Y EN PALABRA DELANTE DE DIOS, Y DE TODO EL PUEBLO” - Lucas 24:13-19.

La verdad es que Yeshua (la paz y la bendición del Creador sean con el) fue un poderoso expositor del mensaje de la escritura Hebrea, así como un ejemplo vivo de la vida que tal mensaje demanda. En términos éticos y morales, el Nazareno ciertamente fue un modelo digno de admirar. Pero Yeshua (Jesús de Nazaret) no era el dios omnipotente, sino que era en cambio un finito y limitado ser humano.

Es que Yeshua (paz sea con él) no era perfecto, pues tenía necesidades que requerían ser satisfechas. Por eso, cuando se cansaba, Yeshua requería descanso; cuando sentía hambre, requería de comida; cuando se enojaba, volcaba las mesas de los cambistas; y cuando estaba inseguro de si la higuera tenía o no higos, tenía que ir a verificarlo.

No solo fue la conducta de Jesus limitada, sino que en ciertos aspectos no sería sabio seguir su ejemplo. Un caso particular de esto, es que los Escritos Cristianos nunca mencionan a Jesus riéndose. Y, el que un hombre no ría, no es buen indicio; pues la promesa Divina es que “Cuando Adonai hiciere volver la cautividad de Sión, seremos como los que sueñan. ENTONCES NUESTRA BOCA SE LLENARÁ DE RISA ...” (Salmo 126:1-2).

Otro buen ejemplo, podría ser el hecho de que no se nos dice en ninguna parte que Jesus (paz sea con él) haya jamás contraído matrimonio, ni engendrado hijo alguno. Y está casi demás decir que, si todos fuésemos a seguir ese ejemplo, la humanidad dejaría de existir.

¿Y que del reclamo que alega que Jesús fue el mas grande de todos los profetas? ¡Pues habría que decir que Jesús mismo diferiría de tal idea! ¿Por que? Pues porque el evangelio le adscribe haber dicho que, entre los que nacían de mujer, nadie era mayor que Juan el Bautista. Como esta escrito: “De cierto os digo: ENTRE LOS QUE NACEN DE MUJER NO SE HA LEVANTADO OTRO MAYOR QUE JUAN EL BAUTISTA...”- Mateo 11:11.

Y, siendo que Jesus también habia sido nacido de una mujer (María), pues no nos queda otro remedio sino concluir que Juan era mas grande que Jesus. Pero este no es el único caso; Si bien se le adscriben a Jesus (paz sea con él) milagros extraordinarios, hubo profetas que obraron milagros mucho mayores que los adscritos a Jesus.

Y el profeta Eliseo es un buen ejemplo de esto. Verá usted, la tradición Hebrea dice que el mas poderoso de entre todos los poderosos es aquel que puede convertir en amigos a los que con anterioridad eran sus enemigos. Y aunque se nos dice que Jesús (paz sea sobre él) triunfó sobre la muerte, el evangelio intima que nunca logró triunfar sobre aquellos que mal le deseaban.

Es decir, Yeshua nunca logró tornarles en amigos. Pero acerca del profeta Eliseo, la Escritura muestra que aunque en un momento dado se vió a sí mismo rodeado por un ejercito enemigo (el ejército Sirio), al final logró efectuar un milagro tan grande, que aquellos soldados enemigos no solamente se marcharon sin hacerle daño alguno, sino que se hicieron amigos de Eliseo, y lo demostraron por medio de nunca más venir contra el profeta.

Como esta escrito: “Entonces se les preparó una gran comida; y cuando habían comido y bebido, los envió, y ellos se volvieron a su señor. Y NUNCA MÁS VINIERON BANDAS ARMADAS DE SIRIA A LA TIERRA DE ISRAEL” (2da Reyes 6:23).

De igual modo, a pesar de que se nos dice que, después de resucitar de entre los muertos, Yeshua multiplicó los peces (Juan 21:6), de Eliseo se nos dice que obro un milagro aún mas grande; pues, sin siquiera haber resucitado, sus huesos aún poseían suficiente poder como para resucitar el cadáver de otro hombre. Como esta escrito:

“Y aconteció que al sepultar unos a un hombre, súbitamente vieron una banda armada, y arrojaron el cadáver en el sepulcro de Eliseo; y CUANDO LLEGÓ A TOCAR EL MUERTO LOS HUESOS DE ELISEO, REVIVIÓ, Y SE LEVANTÓ SOBRE SUS PIES” (2da Reyes 13:21).

En resumen, aunque el Samaritanismo Reformado reconoce en Yeshua (Jesus de Nazaret) a un ungido de Dios, así como a un poderoso maestro de esta escuela Hebrea de pensamiento, no acepta que exista justificación bíblica alguna para hacer de su persona un objeto de culto o pleitesía.

De igual modo, no entiende que las palabras y enseñanzas adscritas al Nazareno sean lo suficientemente completas (o exhaustivas) como para abrogar (y mucho menos remplazar) la Ley Divina dada a Israel sobre las dos tablas de Piedra. Y esta última perspectiva aparenta ser compartida por la noble tradición Cristiana. Es que, si las palabras y las acciones atribuidas al Nazareno hubiesen sido perfectamente claras y concisas, que necesidad habría de que los cuatro Evangelios tuviesen que ser acompañados por 23 libros explicativos [es decir, las cartas, el libro de los hechos, y el libro de apocalipsis]? De hecho, tampoco habría habido necesidad de que el evangelista Lucas dijese que se habían hecho varios intentos (¿infructuosos?) para poner en orden (correcto?) los sucesos asociados con las palabras y las acciones del Nazareno (la paz sea con el).

Como esta escrito: “Puesto que ya MUCHOS HAN TRATADO DE PONER EN ORDEN LA HISTORIA DE LAS COSAS QUE ENTRE NOSOTROS HAN SIDO CIERTÍSIMAS, tal como nos lo enseñaron los que desde el principio lo vieron con sus ojos, y fueron ministros de la palabra, me ha parecido también a mí, después de haber investigado con diligencia todas las cosas desde su origen, escribírtelas por orden, oh excelentísimo Teófilo” (Lucas 1:1-3). Así, el seguidor del Samaritanismo Reformado reconoce (y endosa) el mérito de la enseñanza ética y moral adscrita al Maestro de Galilea-- el arrepentimiento que se traduce en una vida comprometida con hacer el bien, no haciendo al prójimo aquel mal que no quisiéramos para nosotros mismos (Mateo 7:12). Pero, en el último análisis, el Samaritanismo Reformado no es Cristianismo, sino que es en cambio una manifestación de la antigua fe Hebrea practicada por nuestro padre Avraham.

Es que, así como Avraham es descrito como siendo “el Padre de muchas naciones”, de ese mismo modo la religión practicada por Avraham es también “padre” de muchas religiones-- es [entre otras] padre del Judaísmo Rabínico, padre del Cristianismo, padre del Islam, y padre del Samaritanismo Reformado.

En resumen, si bien comparte el compromiso con la moral bíblica atribuida al Nazareno, el Samaritanismo Reformado rechaza cualquier interpretación que niegue el mensaje de la fe Hebrea practicada por Avraham.

De igual modo, el Samaritanismo Reformado rechaza cualquier teología (Divinidad de Jesus, Infalibilidad de los Escritos Cristianos, Trinidad de Dios, Salvación solamente por fe, la abrogación de la Ley Mosaica, etc) que sugiera que el bienestar futuro del hombre (es decir, “su salvación”) depende de alguna otra cosa fuera del arrepentimiento sincero, así como del compromiso con vivir la vida de justicia, de misericordia, y de humildad encarnada por Abraham, y prefigurada en lo escrito por el Creador sobre las dos tablas de piedra dadas a nuestro maestro Moisés.

Only when the Israelites are a faithful representation of God’s own holiness, does the Holy One consider them to be His people; But when they turn wicked, He strips them of all titles, treating them instead as a gentile (pagan) nation

The God of Moses spoke to mankind by means of visions, similitudes, riddles, and parables (“I have also spoken unto the prophets, and I have multiplied visions; and by the ministry of the prophets have

I used similitudes... if there be a prophet among you, I the Lord do make Myself known unto him in a vision... Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel"- Hosea 12:11, Numbers 12:6, & Ezekiel 17:2, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

And when the Almighty wanted mankind to learn that Israel was not supposed to be viewed as God's literal people, but rather as a paradigm for all righteous from every race and creed, He chose to use a curious metaphor-- One that seems to portray a gross contradiction.

You see, on the one hand, The Holy One commands His people to avoid having a non Hebrew king ruling upon them ("... One from among thy brethren shalt thou set king over thee; thou mayest not put a foreigner over thee, who is not thy brother"- Deut. 17:15, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

But, on the other hand, He commands them to embrace being ruled by Nebuchadnezzar-- a Non Hebrew king ("... the nation and the kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon... that nation will I visit, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine..."- Jeremiah 27:8).

How do we explain this apparent contradiction? Can the Holy One change His mind after He had already said, "For I the Lord change not..."- Malachi 3:6? Again, the answer to this conundrum lies in the fact that God always meant for Israel to be a paradigm for righteous people belonging to all creeds and races.

In other words, whenever national Israel embraces the life of righteousness [described by God's Ten Laws] they faithfully represent God's Holy people. And it goes without saying that holy people are not to follow the lead of non-holy people (the latter being portrayed by the gentiles); as is written: "Enter not into the path of the wicked, and walk not in the way of evil men"- Proverbs 4:14, JPS 1917 edition. Thus, the Almighty commands His holy people saying, "thou mayest not put a foreigner over thee!" (Deut. 17:15).

But when national Israel no longer follows the righteousness portrayed by God's commandments, it ceases to be the embodiment of God's holy people, becoming instead the paradigm for Sodom and Gomorrah (Satan's own people!). As is written:

"Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the Law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah... For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen; because their tongue and their doings are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of His glory. The show of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have wrought evil unto themselves... Isaiah 1:10, & 3:8-9 (JPS, 1917 Edition).

Thus, as with their stubborn rebellion towards God Israelite people refuse to exalt the Almighty, the Almighty does likewise with them (law of sowing and reaping), turning into "tails" (or "followers") those meant to be "heads" (or "leaders"). As is written:

"The stranger (or "Gentile") that is in the midst of thee shall mount up above thee higher and higher; and thou shalt come down lower and lower. He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him; he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail. And all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and overtake thee, till thou be destroyed; because thou didst not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep His commandments and His statutes which He commanded thee"- Deut. 28:43-45, JPS 1917 Edition.

In other words, whenever Israelites choose to embrace open wickedness, God no longer considers them to be a paradigm of His holy people, but rather a paradigm of Demon worshiping Gentiles.

And since the promise of becoming "head" (or "Leader") was made unto an Israel that was expected to be holy and obedient, the Creator feels compelled to strip these rebellious Israelites from their right to be “heads” (or “leaders”), telling them instead: “... the nation and the kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon... that nation will I visit, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine...”- Jeremiah 27:8.

«The truth is like a lion; you don't have to defend it. Let it loose; it will defend itself»

The role assigned by God’s Law to human emotions

When it comes to blindly following human emotions, Scripture warns us to be prudent, as the human heart is extremely deceptive-- always seeking to rationalize pride, rebellion, unmerited self-exaltation, and immorality. As is written: “The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?”- Jeremiah 17:9 (KJB).

Fortunately, Scripture also goes on to say: “... but they that seek the Lord understand all things...” - Prov. 28:5. In other words, he who follows the guidance provided by God’s Law (also known as “Torah”) will get the wisdom required to handle all misleading emotions, thereby avoiding harmful extremes. As is written:

“Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding... I understand more than the ancients, because I keep thy precepts... thy commandments hast made me wiser than mine enemies...

...Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word... A wise man feareth [God’s word], and departeth from evil: but the fool rageth, and is confident...”- Prov. 3:5, Psalm 119:100, Psalm 119:98, Psalm 119:9, Proverbs 14:16).

What advice does Torah’s provide concerning human emotions? Well, Torah’s advice is masterly summarized by the verses that go on to say: “... but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word... I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit... Truly God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart”- Isaiah 66:2, Isaiah 57:15, & Psalm 73:1 (KJB).

In other words, Scripture brings the good news that feelings like humility, fear [of sin], shame, broken heartedness, repentance, mercy, peace, love, and hope, are not only good and holy, but can even be considered to be the Hallmark of he who belongs to God’s true Israel (Those having a clean heart). As is written:

“... How long wilt thou refuse to HUMBLE thyself before me?... They have HUMBLED themselves; therefore I will not destroy them... And it came to pass, because the midwives FEARED GOD, that He made them houses... but the unjust knoweth no SHAME... The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a BROKEN HEART...

...they spake not aright: no man REPENTED him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? ... With the MERCIFUL thou wilt shew thyself merciful... Great PEACE have they which love thy Law... There is no PEACE, saith my God, to the wicked...

... thou shalt LOVE the Lord thy God WITH ALL THINE HEART, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might...

... but thou shalt LOVE THY NEIGHBOUR AS THYSELF: I am the Lord”- Exodus 10:3, 2 Chronicles 12:7, Exodus 1:21, Zephaniah 3:5, Psalm 34:18, Jeremiah 8:6, 2 Samuel 22:26, Psalm 119:165, Isaiah 57:21, Deuteronomy 6:5, Leviticus 19:18 (KJB).

Thus, no matter if it comes from Jews or Gentiles, whenever a particular theology brings upon you a sense of humility, repentance, mercy, peace, love, or hope, you can rest assured that such theology comes directly from the heart of the Holy God who spoke to Moses at the top of Mount Sinai.

La eterna Universalidad de “Los Diez Principios” (o “Mandamientos”) de la Ley Divina

La Ley de Moisés (paz y bendición sean con él) ordenaba santificar el día de Shabbat (reposo), como está escrito: “Guardaras el día de reposo para santificarlo, como Yah tu Dios te ha mandado” (Deut. 5:12).

Pero la Escritura enseña que, desde el principio mismo de la Creación, Adonai Yah (bendito sea) afirmo el mandamiento que ordenaba santificar el día de Shabbat. ¿Y como afirmo Yah este mandamiento? ¡Pues observándolo personalmente!, como está escrito:

“Y acabo Dios en el séptimo día la obra que hizo; y reposo el día séptimo... Y bendijo Dios el día séptimo, y lo santifico...” (Gen. 2:2-3). Es como si la Escritura dijese: “Si Yah (el Creador) santifica el Shabbat, ¿por cuanto mas no deben hacerlo ustedes sus criaturas?

Pero, si esto es así, ¿por que hubo necesidad de promulgar nuevamente el mandamiento, durante la generación de Moisés (Éxodo 20:8)? Pues para enseñarnos que, los Diez mandamientos, no comenzaron en el monte Sinaí (con la entrega de las tablas de la Ley); sino que, desde el comienzo del mundo, han sido parte implícita de la Creación (siempre han estado allí para que los hombres los observen y cumplan).

Es decir, el pecado de Adam y Hava, no fue desobedecer un mandamiento arbitrario del Creador; su transgresión fue que, teniendo un claro conociendo de los diez mandamientos, violaron aquel que les ordenaba diciendo: “Honra a tu Padre ... para que tus días se alarguen en la tierra...” (Éxodo 20:12).

Así, cuando Adam y Hava deshonran a su Padre (el Creador), en efecto violan el mandamiento que garantizaba el alargamiento indefinido de sus días. Es decir, con aquella violación, trajeron sobre si mismos la maldición implícita en el mandamiento: el acortamiento de sus días (la muerte).

Es que, la Ley de “Medida por Medida” (siembra y cosecha) dicta que, aquel que no honra a quien le confirió la vida, no reciba la honra de que se le confiera mas vida.

Lo que la Torah pretende enseñarnos con el anterior relato, es que aceptar (obedecer) los Diez Mandamientos, produce bienestar, y vida sin limite; Pero, el rechazarlos, produce muerte y sufrimiento.

Adonai dijo a Moisés: “Cuando hayas vuelto a Egipto, mira que hagas delante de Faraón todas las maravillas que he puesto en tu mano...” (Éxodo 4:21). ¿Y que tenía Moisés en su mano? Pues una vara (Éxodo 4:2).

Como cualquier otra vara, la de Moisés había procedido de un árbol; Pero esta, no era una vara cualquiera, pues tenía el poder de cambiar la muerte por vida (transformándose de una muerta vara, en una viva serpiente).

En otras palabras, ¡la vara de Moisés era tipo del Árbol del cual surge la vida!. ¿Y cual es ese árbol? ¡Pues la Ley de Dios (los diez mandamientos)!, como está escrito:

“Hijo mío, no te olvides de mi Ley, Y tu corazón guarde mis mandamientos; Porque largura de días y años de vida Y paz te aumentarán... Largura de días está en su mano derecha (tal y como la vara estaba en la mano de Moisés); En su izquierda, riquezas y honra. Sus caminos son caminos deleitosos, Y todas sus veredas paz. Ella es árbol de vida a los que de ella echan mano, Y bienaventurados son los que la retienen” (Prov. 3: 1-2 & 16-17).

Lo que Yah ordenaba a Moisés, era que ofreciese a Faraón (y por ende a todos los Egipcios) la “vara” de los mandamientos; aquellos diez mandamientos, que producen vida y bendición a quienes los aceptan, pero muerte y destrucción a quienes los rechazan.

Curiosamente, un Midrash Hebreo dice que, la vara con la cual Moisés vino ante Faraón, tenía diez letras inscritas sobre ella misma.

¿Que significado tendrían estas diez letras? La respuesta es que, si Faraón humillaba su corazón, y aceptaba obedecer al Creador, las diez letras significarían cada uno de los diez mandamientos, cuyo producto es vida, y paz. Pero, si Faraón insistía en la dureza de su corazón (rehusando obedecer al Creador), las diez letras significarían diez edictos de muerte y destrucción (diez “plagas”).

En otras palabras, cuando Moisés se presenta ante Faraón, no lo hace con una aptitud desafiante, amenazadora, o impositiva; lo hace como un padre que instruye, exhorta, y aconseja. Moisés invito a Faraón (como representante del pueblo Egipcio) a “asirse” de la misma vara (los diez mandamientos) de la que (como representante del pueblo israelita) se asía Moisés.

Es que si Faraón (Egipto) hubiese aceptado someterse en obediencia a aquellos mismos mandamientos, habría en efecto abrazado la fe de Israel. Y, como hermanos en la fe, el trato que habría dispensado a los Israelitas, sería tan considerado, que no habría habido necesidad alguna de la esclavitud, o de que ocurriesen las diez plagas, ni la destrucción de Faraón y su ejercito. Como está escrito,

“... No haya ahora altercado entre nosotros dos... porque somos hermanos” (Gen. 13:8). Con su noble aptitud, Moisés modelaba al Dios cuya supremacía moral instruiría a Israel diciendo: “Cuando te acerques a una ciudad para combatirla, le intimarás la paz (es decir, le ofrecerás a sus habitantes la oportunidad de hacerse prosélitos, abrazando tu misma fe)” - Deut. 20:10.

En resumen, al final del Éxodo de Egipto, vemos que Moisés, el hombre que insiste en “agarrar en su mano”, o “aferrarse” a la obediencia de los diez mandamientos, termina siendo exaltado y honrado, permitiéndosele ascender a la cumbre del Sinaí, para gozar allí de la vida, la luz, y la bendición que emanan de los mandamientos; Pero Faraón, el hombre que persiste en rechazar esos diez mandamientos, termina siendo abatido y humillado, descendiendo a lo profundo de un turbulento mar, para perecer allí en las mas densas tinieblas.

A few reasons why Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) could not have been God without ever pretending to tarnish the great merits of the noble Christian religion, Reformed Samaritans are compelled to ask the following: How can Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) be God, and at the same time be “A MEDIATOR” between God and Men (“... ONE MEDIATOR BETWEEN GOD AND MEN, THE MAN CHRIST JESUS”- 1 Timothy 2:5, KJB)? Does that even make any sense?

Yes, it is true that Jesus was an awesome character, but he wasn't the Almighty. Rather, he was a holy man trying to relay the truth he had heard from God ("But now ye seek to kill ME, A MAN THAT HATH TOLD YOU THE TRUTH, WHICH I HAVE HEARD OF GOD"- John 8:40).

On the other hand, God isn't a mortal man, but instead an immortal Spirit ("GOD IS NOT A MAN... GOD IS A SPIRIT..."- Numbers 23:19, & John 4:24).

So, although we can appreciate the reason why, in the zeal of his religious fervor, a transformed Christian believer might love to think that Jesus is the Supreme God, the fact remains that he isn't, as the New testament declares him to have a God of his own. As is written:

"I ASCEND unto my Father, and your Father; and TO MY GOD, AND YOUR GOD... BLESSED BE THE GOD and Father OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST... THE REVELATION OF JESUS CHRIST, WHICH GOD GAVE UNTO HIM..."- John 20:17, Ephesians 1:3, & Revelation 1:1.

The Holy Faith Of Reformed Samaritanism

Christianity is a holy and noble religion. But Christian theology is [at best] "questionable", as it boldly contradicts the very pillars of the Divine truth revealed unto Moses

(1) Which one is not being honest? Is it the Law, when suggesting that the Heavenly Father is no man ("God is not a man..."- Numbers 23:19, KJB)? Or is it the Gospel, when suggesting God is indeed another man ("And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. It is also written in your Law, that the testimony of two men is true"- John 8:16-17, King James Bible)?

(2) Which one is not being honest? Is it the Law, when commanding us not to eat any blood ("Only be sure that thou eat not the blood..."- Deut. 12:23)? Or is it the Gospel, when commanding us to eat Jesus blood ("... Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you ..."- John 6:53)?

(3) Which one is not being honest? Is it the the Law, when teaching us that no man can die for the sins of someone else ("... every man shall be put to death for his own sin"- Deut. 24:16)? Or is it the Gospel, when teaching Jesus died for our sins ("That Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures ..." - 1 Corinthians 15:3, K,J,B)?

(4) Which one is not being honest? Is it the the Law, when it prevents us from accepting free gifts ("... And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous"- Exodus 23:8)? Or is it the Gospel, when it encourages us to accept the free gift of salvation ("For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast"- Ephesians 2:8-9)

Jesus taught Samaritan Theology!

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Jesus of Nazaret was a good Samaritan. And as it is the case with any good Samaritan, Jesus taught that good theology cannot save anybody, unless such theology is accompanied by the good works that please the Creator.

Why were the Moabites and the Ammonites prevented from entering into God's assembly [in order to become part of God's holy people]? Was it due to their idol-worshiping Paganism? Was it their lack of faith in a coming redeemer (Messiah)?

No! If God was angry with them, it was only because they showed no mercy to the suffering Hebrew slaves, starving for lack of food and water.

As it is said: "An Ammonite or Moabite shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the congregation of the Lord for ever: [Why?...]

BECAUSE THEY MET YOU NOT WITH BREAD AND WITH WATER IN THE WAY, WHEN YE CAME FORTH OUT OF EGYPT..."- Deut. 23:3-5, KJV Bible.

Is the former a some sort of weird "new age theology" invented by Reformed Samaritans? Or is it instead the eternal truth preached by Jesus to the multitudes, when he went on to say: "BLESSED ARE THE MERCIFUL; FOR THEY SHALL OBTAIN MERCY"- Matthew 5:7 (Or put another way, "Cursed are those who show no mercy, as no mercy will be shown unto them")?

Thus, Reformed Samaritanism is to believe what is not only taught by the Hebrew Scripture, but even by Jesus himself-- that every man will "sow" the same goodness [or evil] he has "planted"; that if we show no mercy to our suffering fellow human beings, no mercy will be shown unto us.

As Jesus himself taught, saying: "Then shall he [The Supreme Judge] say also unto them on the left hand, DEPART FROM ME, YE CURSED, INTO EVERLASTING FIRE, PREPARED FOR THE DEVIL AND HIS ANGELS; FOR I WAS HUNGRED, AND YE GAVE ME NO MEAT; I WAS THIRSTY, AND YE GAVE ME NOW DRINK"- Matthew 25:41-42

So, the New Testament bears witness to the fact that Jesus of Nazareth followed [and taught] the Samaritan interpretation of mankind's ultimate destiny: that, regardless of our particular Samaritan, Jewish, Christian, or Muslim theologies, we will reap the same goodness we have willingly sowed upon our suffering fellow human beings.

And this might explain the reason why, instead of using a fellow Jew [symbol of strict theological certainty], Jesus chooses to make a Good Samaritan the golden standard of God's message of love for mankind; as Samaritans are correctly taught what the Hebrew Bibles's message is all about. As is written: "So in all things, do to others what you would want them to do to you- for this is the Torah [God's Law] and the Prophets"- Matthew 7:12, Tree Of Live Bible version.

Humanity's foremost problem

The single World problem that towers above the rest is humanity's unrestrained lust for money, sex, power, and recognition.

And the former is but the natural result of a life that has openly denied the existence of a Divine Judge; a Wise and Almighty being who punishes evil, and rewards righteousness. As is written: «They have belied the Lord, and said: "It is not He [the cause for rewards and punishments], neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine"... And it shall come to pass at that time, that I [the Creator] will search Jerusalem with lamps; and I will punish the men that are settled on their lees, that say in their heart: "The Lord will not do good, neither will He do evil"»- Jeremiah 5:12, & Zephaniah 1:12 (Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition).

And this denial of the Holy Judge leads humanity into wicked behavior-- in other words, away from the moral code portrayed by the Ten Supreme principles comprising God's holy Law. As is written: "They that forsake the Law [of the Almighty] praise the wicked... He that turneth away his ear from hearing the Law, even his prayer is an abomination"- Proverbs 28:4&9, JPS 1917 Ed.

But when a man repents, and commits himself to the life of justice, mercy and humility that pleases the Creator, everything else falls into it's proper place. Therefore, even if only a small minority, God fearing people round the World ought to become living role models for those who have strayed away from the path.

How?...

- (1) By their open repentance and conversion;
- (2) By their voluntary submission to God's kingdom upon all aspects of their lives;
- (3) By openly proclaiming Him as the Supreme Judge, King, Savior, and deliverer of all mankind;
- (4) By openly turning away from evil, pursuing instead the life of justice, mercy, and humility that pleases the Holy One. As is written:

(1) “If My people, upon whom My name is called, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek My face, and turn from their evil ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land”- 2 Chronicles 7:14;

(2) “Trust in the Lord with all thy heart, and lean not upon thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct thy paths. Be not wise in thine own eyes; fear the Lord, and depart from evil”- Prov. 3:5-7;

(3) «... Shall not the Judge of all the Earth do justly?... Say among the nations: “The Lord reigneth”. The world also is established that it cannot be moved; He will judge the peoples with equity... I, even I, am the Lord; and beside Me there is no Savior... And call upon Me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt honor Me”- Genesis 18:25, Psalm 96:10, Isaiah 43:11, Psalm 50:15;

(4) «... let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by almsgiving, and thine iniquities by showing mercy to the poor... Seek ye the Lord, all ye humble of the earth, that have executed His ordinance; seek righteousness, seek humility... Happy is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in the day of evil [the Day of Judgment!]... Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore [in everlasting life!]- Daniel 4:24, Zephaniah 2:3, Psalm 41:2, Psalm 37:27 (JPS 1917 Ed.)

El Mundo que ha de venir

En el mundo que ha de venir, el Santo de Israel (sea su nombre bendito) hará que cada justo herede trescientos diez mundos, como se intima en el verso en Proverbios 8:21- «Para otorgarles “yesh” a aquellos que me aman...».

Si bien el significado de la palabra “yesh” (que a veces se traduce como “sustancia”, “riqueza”, o “heredad”) es incierto, el valor numérico de la palabra original, es de trescientos diez.

Es decir, la letra Hebrea “yod” [que tiene un valor numérico de diez], seguida por la letra “shin” [cuyo valor numérico es de trescientos.

Otra cita donde se intima que el propósito de la existencia humana es prepararnos para ser [en una esfera más alta de existencia], algo similar a lo que el ángel de la presencia Divina es a esta existencia, se encuentra en Proverbios 82:6. El texto dice:

“Yo dije, VOSOTROS SOIS DIOSES, Y TODOS VOSOTROS HIJOS DEL ALTÍSIMO”. Otra inferencia adicional, se encuentra en el texto en Éxodo 4:16, que dice: “Y ÉL (ENTIÉNDASE AARÓN) HABLARÁ POR TI AL PUEBLO, Y ÉL SERÁ TU PORTAVOZ, Y TU JUGARÁS EL PAPEL DE DIOS PARA ÉL”.

Is God a created being?

Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that the true [and ultimate] Creator [blessed be He] is a being so infinite, so much beyond our limited concept of existence, and so much greater than His finite Creation, that even “the heavens of the heavens” (in other words, the whole universe) cannot contain Him. As is written:

“But will God indeed dwell on the Earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee; how much less this house that I have builded?”- 1 Kings 8:27, KJV.

But if so, then with whom did Adam and Eve speak in the Garden of Eden? Who spoke to Moses from the midst of the burning bush? Who spoke to Israel from atop Mount Sinai, saying: “I am the Lord thy God...”- Exodus 20:1, KJV. And who was seen by the elders of Israel, in the verse that goes on to say: “And they saw the God of Israel...”- Exodus 24:10?

Well, the fact is that, as the infinite Creator is “too large to literally fit inside His finite creation”, whenever He wants to deal with His finite creatures He simply sends them another finite creature [an angel, a spirit, a prophet, another human being, a whirlwind, an ass, a fish, a serpent, a drought, a physical process, an alien being, etc]-- someone [or something] appointed to act [and speak] on behalf of his Creator. Thus, when God wanted to bring punishment upon wicked king Ahav, He sent a spirit. As is written: «And there came forth the spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said: “I will entice him”. And the Lord said unto him: “Wherewith?”. And he said: “I will go forth, and will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets”. And He said: “Thou shalt entice him, and shalt prevail also; go forth, and do so”»- 1 Kings 22:21-22. Likewise, when God wanted to deliver Israel from Egyptian bondage, he sent then an angel. As is written: “and when we cried unto the LORD, He heard our voice, and sent an angel, and brought us forth out of Egypt”- Numbers 20:16. Finally, when God wanted Israel to obey His voice, He appointed an angel upon them, in order for the latter to provide them with guidance and revelation on behalf of the Creator. As is written: “Behold, I send an angel before thee, to keep thee by the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared. Take heed of him, and hearken unto his voice; be not rebellious against him; for he will not pardon your transgression; for My name is in him”- Exodus 23:20-21. And maybe it is the latter angel [which Hebrew tradition identifies with the name of “Metatron”] the one who speaks in the otherwise controversial verse that goes on to say, “Ye are My witnesses, saith the Lord... that I am He; BEFORE ME THERE WAS NO GOD FORMED...”- Isaiah 43:10. How do we explain the fact that the God speaking in the former verse seems to have been “formed”? Who “formed” him? A greater God? Does the infinite God have any beginning? Of course not! The explanation is that the person speaking in the former verse is an angel [a messenger from God]; and, as such, he was indeed formed (created) by the Almighty God he was currently representing.

According to the Christian Gospels, Jesus followed a modified form of the Samaritan religion

Nowhere does the Gospel explicitly identify Jesus as being either Jewish, Christian, or Muslim. Still, it clearly points to the fact that he had a special liking for the Samaritan religion.

Why? Because, when asked which was the way to everlasting life, he sets a practicing Samaritan believer as the golden standard. As is written: «... “Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?” “What is written in the law?” he asked him. “How do you read it?” He answered...

... “Love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your strength, and with all your mind,” and “your neighbor as yourself”. “You’ve answered correctly,” he told him. “Do this and you will live”...

... But wanting to justify himself, he asked Jesus, “And who is my neighbor?”. Jesus took up the question and said, “A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell into the hands of robbers. They stripped him, beat him up, and fled, leaving him half dead. A [Jewish] priest happened to be going down that road...

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

IS IT TRUE THAT YESHUA NEVER LIED, BEING INSTEAD SINLESS?

Was Yeshua (Jesus of Nazareth, peace and blessings be upon him) sinless? If so, then what are we supposed to do with the gospel verse wherein Yeshua claims that there's no truth in the Demon?: “He [THE DEMON] was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM”- John 8:44)? If Yeshua's words are to be taken in their strict literal sense [when he claims the Demon speaks only lies], then we would be forced to conclude that Yeshua isn't really the Son of God. Why? Because the Demons [that tell only lies] claim him to be so! As is written : “AND DEMONS ALSO CAME OUT of many, crying out, and SAYING, THOU ART CHRIST, THE SON OF GOD”- Luke 4:41; “AND UNCLEAN SPIRITS... fell down before him, and CRIED, SAYING, THOU ART THE SON OF GOD”- Mark 3:11)? So, which one is bearing a false witness? Is Yeshua lying [while claiming that there's no truth in the Demon]? Is the Demon lying [while claiming Yeshua to be the son of God]? Or is it rather the gospel writer, who is bearing a false witness with the whole story?

... When he saw him, he passed by on the other side. In the same way, a [Jewish] Levite, when he arrived at the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. But a Samaritan on his journey came up to him, and when he saw the man, he had compassion...

... He went over to him and bandaged his wounds, pouring on olive oil and wine. Then he put him on his own animal, brought him to an inn, and took care of him...

... The next day he took out two denarii, gave them to the innkeeper, and said, ‘Take care of him. When I come back I’ll reimburse you for whatever extra you spend’. “Which of these three do you think proved to be a neighbor to the man who fell into the hands of the robbers?”...

... “The one who showed mercy to him,” he said. Then Jesus told him, “Go and do the same”»- Matthew 10:25-37.

Not only that, but the gospel also quotes the Jewish leadership accusing Jesus of being not a Spirit filled Jewish believer, but rather a demon possessed follower of the Samaritan sect. As is written: «The Jews responded to him, “Aren’t we right in saying that you’re a Samaritan, and have a demon?”»- John 8:48.

What was Jesus reply to these accusations? Well, he went on to say: «“I do not have a demon”, Jesus answered. “On the contrary, I honor my Father and you dishonor me”»- John 8:49.

Notice how Jesus doesn't hesitate to openly deny having any demon, yet he remains absolutely silent when it comes to the charge of being a Samaritan believer; And, according to John 14:2, a theological proposal remains truth unless Jesus specifically denies it. As is written: “In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you...”- John 14:2, King James Version.

But, if Jesus was indeed a Samaritan, what are we supposed to do with the gospel verse where Jesus seems to reject the Samaritan faith, justifying instead it's Jewish counterpart (“You Samaritans worship what you do not know. We worship what we do know, because salvation is from the Jews”- John 4:22)? Well, the proper thing to do with such verse is to immediately recognize both the clear contradiction it represents, as well as it's questionable nature.

In other words, how can the gospel quote Jesus saying that Samaritans know not what they worship, when he has previously quoted him presenting a Samaritan believer as a far better standard [of mercy and godly love] than a Levite and a Jewish priest? (“A priest happened to be going down that road. when he saw him [the wounded man], he passed by on the other side. In the same way, a Levite, when he arrived at the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. But a Samaritan on his journey came up to him, and when he saw the man, he had compassion”- Luke 10:31-33)?

By the same token, how could the gospel quote Jesus saying “salvation is from the Jews” [as if Jews could grant salvation to any proselyte], while at the same time quotes him saying that converts to Judaism were “children of hell”? (“Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! You travel over land and sea to make one convert, and when he becomes one, you make him twice as much a child of hell as you are!” (Matthew 23:15, Christian Standard Bible).

Thus, although Jesus didn't completely agree with all that the ancient Samaritan religion had to say about the place of worship (John 4:22), he obviously followed a modified version of it (a sort of “Reformed Samaritanism”).

The Divine Law teaches that God's name is blasphemed when we let holy things get contaminated by uncertainty and ambiguity

The Law states that God's highest representative (the Holy High Priest) had to guard himself from any moral and physical blemish that could [by association] be imputed to the God he represented. And that's why Scripture commanded saying: “And he (the High priest) shall take a wife in her virginity. A widow, or a divorced woman, or profane, or an harlot, these shall he not take: but he shall take a virgin of his own people to wife. Neither shall he profane his seed among his people... For whatsoever man he be that hath a blemish, he shall not approach: a blind man, or a lame, or he that hath a flat nose, or any thing superfluous, Or a man that is brokenfooted, or brokenhanded, Or crookbackt, or a dwarf, or that hath a blemish in his eye, or be scurvy, or scabbed, or hath his stones broken; No man that hath a blemish of the seed of Aaron the priest shall come nigh to offer the offerings of the Lord made by fire: he hath a blemish; he shall not come nigh to offer the bread of his God. He shall eat the bread of his God, both of the most holy, and of the holy. Only he shall not go in unto the vail, nor come nigh unto the altar, because he hath a blemish; that he profane not my sanctuaries: for I the Lord do sanctify them”- Lev. 21:13-15, & 18-23, King James Version.

Why would marrying a widow [or a divorced woman] be a moral blemish for God's High priest? Could it be possible that the God of the Hebrews discriminates against widows and divorcees? Not really. If it was considered a blemish, it was only because such practice would have [indirectly] encouraged sin, deception, and even murder. In other words, being the High priest's wife was an extremely coveted position. Thus, any exceedingly beautiful [but married] woman living in close proximity to the High Priest would have been tempted to poisoning her current husband, in order to make herself available to the Priest [sort of like what happened between David and Bathsheba]. Likewise, a beautiful married woman could have divorced her former righteous husband just for the sake of enticing the High Priest to make her his new wife.

Worst than that! Not marrying a virgin could have led the High Priest [who was God's representative] to unknowingly marry a woman already pregnant with child. And since such child could end up becoming High priests, God's enemies would have blasphemed the Creator, claiming that just as the High Priest was no more than a bastard, so was the God he represented.

And this is the reason why no person with a questionable, uncertain, or ambiguous background [symbolically alluded to by physical defects] could be appointed as God's High priest, as that would have caused God's name to be blasphemed. In fact, this is one of the reasons why Samaritan believers cannot accept the Christian claim of Jesus being God's own High Priest. Why? Because by claiming him to be the literal son of God, they make Jesus lineage questionable, and ambiguous [in other words, they make him "defective"]. Why? Because such ambiguity gives way for God's enemies to blaspheme the Creator, saying: "Was Jesus really the Son of God, or was he instead the son of an unknown Roman soldier who had raped her mother? And if Jesus [whom Christians worship as God] was the bastard son of a Roman soldier, then the God of the Christians is just a glorified bastard"

The sad moral bankruptcy of Western societies

If we were asked to describe our current culture, three concepts would come to mind: First, our society is characterized by MORAL RELATIVISM. In other words, there is no absolute authority, there is no transcendent, inviolable law. There is no standard against which we are measured. Every individual is his own personal authority and determiner of what is right or wrong for him.

A second defining characteristic of our society is PERSONAL FREEDOM. While moral relativism says there is no governing authority over us, personal freedom says there are no rules to follow—the only cultural value that matters is our absolute autonomy. Any decision a person makes is valid solely because it is what he or she wants.

"My body, my choice" is far more than a pro-abortion slogan—it's the indisputable justification for every life decision. There are no guidelines you need to follow except those you choose to adopt. Personal freedom has become the ultimate virtue. The only thing our society won't tolerate is being intolerant of someone else's decisions.

Finally, and closely linked to the first two concepts, we live in a society completely engulfed in POSTMODERNISM, a commitment to the notion that there is no such thing as objective, absolute truth. MODERNISM was defined as the pursuit of truth—the attempt by way of human discovery to understand truth, discern truth, define truth.

But today's postmodern society says the truth we've been looking for doesn't even exist. In a postmodern world, everything is relative—you create your own reality and define your own truth. It's no wonder then that lying and lies are so brazen and pervasive today. If there is no right or wrong, if we are free to create our own reality, and if there is no such thing as absolute truth, the concepts of lying and telling the truth lose all meaning. In that moral quagmire, telling the truth is no longer valued or a virtue.

Government, academia, media, business—every human institution embraces lying as a way of life. That's how you end up with a culture that asserts that love is hate, hate is love, good is evil, evil is good, normal is perverse, and perverse is normal. Introduce into the equation the Internet, and you have the ability to fabricate, perpetuate, and reinforce lies literally on a global scale.

As a result, resistance and hostility to the Hebrew Scripture is intense and widespread. That God's Law is absolute, objective, divine truth that makes demands on us is the most counter-cultural and inflammatory claim you can possibly make. The days of at least a superficially peaceful coexistence between the secular and the religious world are over.

The world is in rebellion against God and Scripture, and will do everything it can to obliterate truth, elevate lies, and silence those who preach any form of ethical monotheism. May the Holy One [blessed be He] have mercy of us!

Atheism : America's new religion

A person is not religious solely when he worships a Divinity, but when he puts all the resources of his mind, the complete submission of his will, and the whole-souled ardour of fanaticism at the service of a cause or an individual who becomes the goal and guide of his thoughts and actions.

Were it possible to induce the masses to adopt atheism, disbelief would exhibit all the intolerant ardour of a religious sentiment, and in its exterior forms would soon become a cult. In this regard, it could be properly said that atheism, homosexual rights, political correctness, social acceptance, fame, money, sex, and power have become America's new religion.

Las diferencias básicas entre el Samaritanismo de Reforma y el Samaritanismo Tradicional

En cuanto al tema de las diferencias que separan al Samaritanismo de Reforma (S.R.) del Samaritanismo tradicional, hay que tener presente que este último está fundamentado en las siguientes cuatro proposiciones:

- 1) Un Supremo Dios [no una Trinidad]- el cual es el Dios de Israel (bendito sea)
- 2) Un supremo profeta- el cual es Moisés, el hijo de Amram (paz sea sobre él)
- 3) Un Supremo libro Sagrado- el cual es la Torah (el Pentateuco), dado por Dios a Moisés
- 4) Un lugar Santo- el cual es el Monte Gerizim

En adición, el Samaritanismo Tradicional cree en residir en la tierra física de Canaán, en participar del sacrificio del cordero pascual [llevado a cabo en el monte Gerizim] de acuerdo al calendario Samaritano, en celebrar el Shabbat, así como en guardar las leyes de pureza e impureza. Finalmente, el Samaritanismo tradicional cree en el "Taheb" (un tipo de "Mesías") hijo de José- un restaurador que ha de ser un profeta como Moisés, y quien ha de volver al final de los tiempos para el día de la Venganza y la Recompensa.

La realidad es que, al menos en principio, el Samaritanismo Reformado endosa todas y cada una de las cuatro anteriores proposiciones. La diferencia básica, es que la interpretación que de ellas hace el S.R. no surge de una óptica reduccionista, inflexible, o anquilosada; sino la de una franca y honesta apertura a todo aquello que, estando en armonía con los principios éticos y morales enseñados por Moisés, es por ende "verdadero" (justo, misericordioso, y humilde)- sin importar cual sea su origen. Y la anterior perspectiva es resumida en la fórmula que dice: "Dios es un Dios de verdad y justicia (Deut. 32:4, & 10:18), que desea que su Pueblo persiga la verdad y la justicia (Deut. 16:20, & Lev. 19:15); por tanto, el creyente debe endosar y reconocer la verdad y la justicia, sin importar cual sea la nación, la raza, la persona, el credo religioso, la institución, o la persona que utilice Dios para recordarnos tal verdad o justicia”.

Así, aunque apoya la adoración en el monte Gerizim, el Samaritanismo Reformado (S.R.) postula que Dios esta donde quiera que se le busque con un Corazón sincero y arrepentido (Deut. 4:29); de modo que el culto al Creador no esta limitado al Monte Gerizim, a Jerusalén, al Vaticano, al Muro de los Lamentos, a alguna Sinagoga Judía, alguna Iglesia Cristiana, alguna Mezquita islámica, o a alguna otra localización geográfica.

De forma similar, aunque cree en el concepto de un “Taheb” (a quien identifica como el mismo Moisés), el S.R. postula que no existe un mejor y mas divino restaurador que el sincero arrepentimiento; de quien cualquier futuro Taheb no es sino una imperfecta sombra.

Finalmente, aunque promulga la incuestionable supremacía de Israel, de Moisés, y de la Torah, el S.R. reconoce que Dios no discrimina a favor [ni en contra] de ninguna raza, nación, o credo, sino que desde tiempo inmemorial ha hablado a las naciones del Mundo por medio de otros profetas distintos a Moisés (Noé a los antediluvianos, Abraham a los Cananeos, Job a los Orientales, Jetro a los Amalecitas, Balaam a los Moabitas, Jonás a los Ninivitas, Daniel a los Babilonios, Zoroastro a los Persas, etc).

Así, aunque utilicen un nombre distinto para su deidad, su libro sagrado, o su profeta, en la medida en que el contenido de tales mensajes sea cónsono con lo revelado por Dios a Moisés (la Existencia de un Dios o Poder Supremo que juzgara un día a todos con justicia, haciendo que cada uno “siegue” el mismo bien o mal que libremente [y sin remordimiento] haya escogido “sembrar”), en esa misma medida tal mensaje es endosado y reconocido por el S.R. como palabra de Dios para tales pueblos. Como nota al calce, cabe resaltar que, como resultado directo de su inquebrantable fe en la perfección moral del Creador, así como en la inmutabilidad de la doctrina de “Siembra y cosecha” (tambien conocida como “Medida por medida”, “Causa y efecto”, “Acción y reacción”, y “Ojo por ojo”), el S.R. sostiene una perspectiva “dinámica” de la fe-- una que postula que el futuro del hombre [y la mujer] no esta “escrito en piedra”, sino que varía de acuerdo al bien [o mal] que halla sembrado; que se nos pagará conforme a nuestras obras (“Lejos esté de Dios la impiedad, Y del Omnipotente la iniquidad. Porque Él pagará al hombre según su obra, Y le retribuirá conforme a su camino”- Job 34:10-11); que se nos hará lo mismo que hayamos hecho (“... como tú hiciste se hará contigo; tu recompensa volverá sobre tu cabeza”- Abdías 1:15); que, si dejamos a Dios, Él también nos dejará (“... Así ha dicho יהוה: Vosotros me habéis dejado, y yo también os he dejado...”- 2 Crónicas 12:5); que si nos arrepentimos de hacer el mal, Dios también se arrepentirá de hacernos mal (“Y vio Dios lo que hicieron, que se convirtieron de su mal camino; y se arrepintió [Dios] del mal que había dicho que les haría, y no lo hizo”- Jonás 3:10); que si honramos a Dios, Él tambien nos honrará a nosotros (“... porque yo [Dios] honraré a los que me honran, y los que me desprecian serán tenidos en poco [siendo de ese modo despreciados]”- 1 Samuel 2:30).

En términos prácticos, lo anterior implica que, ni el Samaritano que sigue la Torah esta “predestinado” al heredar Gan Eden (el Paraíso), ni el Cristiano que sigue en cambio el Evangelio esta predestinado a heredar Gehinnom (el Infierno); que ni el Judío que sigue el Talmud esta predestinado a entrar a Canaán (la Tierra de bendición), ni el Musulmán que sigue el Corán esta predestinado a quedar fuera de ella-- sino que cada uno ha de recibir una recompensa (“cielo”) o castigo (“infierno”) personalizados, de suerte que sean un fiel y justo balance de todo el bien, todo el mal, todo el arrepentimiento, o toda la rebeldía que libre y voluntariamente hallan sembrado. Como esta escrito: “Balanzas justas, pesas justas y medidas justas tendréis...”- Lev. 19:36. ¿Y por que no muestra Dios favoritismo? De nuevo, porque siendo moralmente perfecto (“... Porque todos sus caminos son rectitud; Dios de verdad, y sin ninguna iniquidad en él; Es justo y recto”- Deut. 32:4), el Creador se abstiene de privar a nadie de su justa y balanceada recompensa, así como de mostrar ningún tipo de parcialidad, haciendo acepción de persona alguna (“Porque יהוה vuestro Dios es Dios de dioses y Señor de señores, Dios grande, poderoso y temible, que no hace acepción de personas”- Deut. 10:17). En resumen, aunque difieren en sus respectivos enfoques, tanto el Samaritanismo Tradicional como el Samaritanismo de Reforma confiesan que, lo escrito por Moisés es la verdad suprema, y que el Dios en ella promulgado no solamente es Dios de la etnia Israelita, sino de toda la humanidad [pues fue Él quien implantó en cada hombre la imagen y semejanza de la Deidad]-- un Dios perfectamente justo e imparcial, que no juega a esconderse del hombre, ni a hacerse el difícil de encontrar; un Dios digno y noble, que no esta embriagado de poder, ni se comporta como un dictador ideológico, o como un terrorista religioso; un Dios que exhorta a todos a hacer el bien descrito sobre las dos tablas de piedra [que se resume en amar al Creador, así como a nuestros semejantes], a fin de que el mérito que conlleva recompensa (“Bienaventurado el que piensa en el pobre; En el día malo lo libraré יהוה”- Salmo 41:1); un Dios que se deleita en tener misericordia, y perdonar (“יהוה (Adonay)! ; יהוה (Adonay)! fuerte, misericordioso y piadoso; tardo para la ira, y grande en misericordia y verdad; que guarda misericordia a millares, que perdona la iniquidad, la rebelión y el pecado...”- Éxodo 34:6).

La Sagrada Fe Del Samaritanismo Reformado

La Escritura muestra que, cuando el creyente olvida la Ley de Dios, el Creador permite que sean los Sodomitas, las mujeres, y los Niños (es decir, la gente joven y sin experiencia) quienes le gobiernen y opriman...

«Pues arruinada está Jerusalén, y Judá ha caído; porque la lengua de ellos y sus obras han sido contra יהוה, para irritar los ojos de su Majestad. La apariencia de sus rostros, testifica contra ellos; porque, como Sodoma, publican su pecado (la homosexualidad), no lo disimulan. ¡Ay del alma de ellos! porque amontonaron mal para sí. Decid al justo que le irá bien, porque comerá de los frutos de sus manos. ¡Ay del impío! Mal le irá; porque, según las obras de sus manos, le será pagado. Los opresores de mi Pueblo, son muchachos, y mujeres se enseñorearon de él. Pueblo mío, los que te guían [los homosexuales, las mujeres, y los niños], te engañan, y tuercen el curso de tus caminos» (Isaías 3:8-12)

El opio ideológico del ateísmo

El ateísmo es el opio ideológico preferido por el hombre [o la mujer] que busca acallar la crítica de aquellos que le rodean, así como aliviar la carga emocional de una conciencia que le atormenta, recordándole cuan inmoral y chabacana es su existencia. Y es por esto que el ateísmo es mas prevalente en los ricos países de Occidente [donde las riquezas proveen a la persona promedio un mayor acceso a los vicios y los placeres], que en los pobres países Africanos (a pesar de que tal pobreza podría proveer a sus ciudadanos de un mejor y mas justificado argumento para cuestionar la existencia de un Dios justo y misericordioso).

«Judaism is a great religion! The only problem is that, while most of it's leaders see no problem with you refusing to accept God's word at face value, they'll prevent you from daring to question the face value of anything they ever tell you (just as if the words of the Jewish sages were more sacred than the words of the Almighty!)»

The curious way in which God's Law foretold that the Hebrew people's spiritual journey would be centered around "Edom" (Christianity)

Israel's journey toward the promised Land [the latter being a prototype of the World to come] was allegorically portrayed by a long and harsh wandering thru the wilderness-- a journey that turned out to be far longer than originally expected, and included stops maybe no one would wish to make; but, at each stop, an important lesson was acquired; a lesson that remained with the people for the rests of their journey.

Curiously, a big part of the journey thru the wilderness was spent circling around Edom's territory (Mount Seir). As is written: "Then we turned, and took our journey into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea, as the Lord spake unto me: and we compassed mount Seir many days"- Deuteronomy 2:1.

And since ancient Hebrew tradition claimed that Edom [Israel's brother turned into a bitter enemy] became the ancestor of "Rome" (the seat of Christian religion), the latter might be God's unique way of hinting at the fact that, he who claims to represent the Israel that will eventually make it to the promised Land [Olam Ha-ba], needs to spent a significant amount of time and effort trying and make peace with his Christian brother. Why? Because, by so doing, he is assured of life everlasting. As is written: "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren [like would be the case for Edom & Israel] to dwell together in unity!..."- Psalm 133:1. And what comes immediately next?-- "For there the Lord commanded the blessing, even life for evermore!" (Psalm 133:3). May peace be upon you!

«Elijah [the prophet] said: "I call Heaven and Earth to witness that, whether it be a Jew or a heathen, whether it be a man or a woman, a manservant or a maidservant, the Holy Spirit will suffuse each of them in keeping with the deeds he [or she] performs"»- Tanna debe Eliyahu, edited by Friedmann, Page 48

Why do the followers of Reformed Samaritanism consider themselves to be "Hebrew believers"? Why not simply "Jewish believers"?

Why do the followers of Reformed Samaritanism consider themselves to be "Hebrew believers"? Why not simply "Jewish believers"? Ancient Israelite believers never considered themselves to be "Jewish" (unless they were also members of the tribe of "Yehudah", from which the word "Yew", or “Jew”, derives).

Back then, no matter what tribe a person belonged to (Levite, Ephraimite, Danite, etc) he would consider himself to be a follower of “the Hebrew Religion”. And that's why Scripture quotes prophet Jonah (peace be upon him) bearing witness to the fact that he wasn't a Jew, but rather a Hebrew. As is written: “... I AM AN HEBREW; and [therefore] I fear the Lord, the God of heaven...”- Jonah 1:9 (King James Bible). In fact, the word “Jewish” is not even once mentioned in the five books of Moses.

Why isn't it even prophetically mentioned within God's Law? Maybe because it would come to be a term associated with rebellion against the Creator; a term associated with stubbornness, and exile; a term used to identify the surviving Hebrew believers from among the [chastised] southern kingdom of Judah.

So, technically speaking, a person who doesn't belong to the tribe of Judah (or Benjamin), cannot call himself “Jewish” (no matter what religion he belongs to). But, if that same person wholeheartedly chooses to embrace God's Law, he can rightly start to call himself “a Hebrew believer”.

And whence do we get that the Creator bears witness of the former? We get it from the English translation of the Hebrew verse that goes on to say: “And if THY BROTHER, AN HEBREW MAN, OR AN HEBREW WOMAN, be sold unto thee, and serve thee six years; then in the seventh year thou shalt let him go free from thee”- Deuteronomy 15:12.

Notice how God doesn't describe the individual member of His holy people as being “AN JEWISH MAN”, or “AN JEWISH WOMAN”; Rather, He describes them as “AN HEBREW MAN”, or “AN HEBREW WOMAN”.

So, instead of becoming “a Jewish male believer”, or “a Jewish female believer”, a person should strive to become “a Hebrew male believer”, or “a Hebrew female believer”.

«Whence do we know God isn't pleased with open homosexuals? We know it from the fact that both male dogs and male homosexuals feel the urge to “lick” the male organ. But God's Law declares the former beast to be ritually impure [and therefore forbidden from entering God's Temple]. So, just as He won't allow dogs into His Holy place, neither will He allow homosexuals into it. And that's why the Almighty draws a parallelism between Dogs and Sodomites, when He goes on to say: “There shall be no harlot of the daughters of Israel, neither shall there be a sodomite of the sons of Israel. Thou shalt not bring the hire of a harlot, or the price of a dog, into the house of the Lord thy God for any vow; for even both these are an abomination unto the LORD thy God.”- Deut. 23:18-19, Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition»

El grave error de “Los Testigos” [los seguidores de Charles Taze Russell, paz sea con el]

El verso que dice, “Vosotros sois mis Testigos” (Isaías 43:10), no pudo haber hecho referencia a los modernos seguidores de Charles Taze Russell, pues el pasaje continua diciendo: “Yo, yo יהוה (Yah); y, fuera de mí, no hay quien salve”- Isaías 43:11.

Es decir, la gente a la cual el profeta dirige su mensaje, es la gente que cree que, solamente Yah (y no Jesús, ni mucho menos Muhammad) puede salvarlos. ¿Quiénes son esta gente? ¡Pues el Pueblo de Israel!; como claramente enseña el pasaje que dice:

«Y Josué respondió al Pueblo: “VOSOTROS SOIS TESTIGOS... de que habéis elegido [solamente] a Yah para servirle”. Y ELLOS RESPONDIERON: “¡TESTIGOS SOMOS!”» (Josué 24:22)

¿Acaso hablan las serpientes? ¿Que significa?

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que, el que la Biblia mencione a una serpiente que habla, tiene la intención de sugerir que, el que alguna persona pueda hablar bonito [o mostrar una inteligencia superior], no necesariamente implica que tal persona tenga humanidad alguna, o sea digna de honor y reconocimiento.

Es decir, si la persona es inteligente, pero “se arrastra” por naturaleza [no teniendo elevados valores, ni moralidad alguna], entonces tal persona esta mas cerca de ser una serpiente (una bestia parlante), que un ser humano.

Y los escritos cristianos parecen confirmar tal idea. ¿Donde? Pues en el pasaje donde, hablando acerca de aquellos que han de ser aceptados en la Jerusalén celestial, dice que “los perros” [es decir, aquellos que, al igual que el perro, “lamen” el miembro viril] serán echados afuera.

Como esta escrito: “BIENAVENTURADOS LOS QUE LAVAN SUS ROPAS [siendo moralmente puros], para tener derecho al árbol de la vida, y PARA ENTRAR POR LAS PUERTAS EN LA CIUDAD. MAS LOS PERROS ESTARÁN FUERA, y los hechiceros, los fornicarios, los homicidas, los idólatras, y todo aquel que ama y hace mentira”- Apocalipsis 22:14-16. ¡Que la paz sea con vosotros!

Whence do we get the proverb, “Not all that shines is Gold”? We get it from the fact that, though Esau was the son of Isaac (a righteous Hebrew father), the son of Rebekah (a God fearing Hebrew mother), as well as the twin brother of Jacob (a peaceful Hebrew believer), the former acted as a Pagan-- in other words, as a man whose violent nature and disregard for the world to come turned into God’s enemy. As is written: «And Esau said, “Behold, I am at the point to die: and WHAT PROFIT SHALL THIS BIRTHRIGHT DO TO ME?”... and Esau said in his heart, “The days of mourning for my father are at hand; then will I SLAY MY BROTHER JACOB”... “Was not Esau Jacob's brother?” saith the Lord: “yet I LOVED JACOB, AND I HATED ESAU, AND LAID HIS MOUNTAINS AND HIS HERITAGE WASTE for the dragons of the wilderness...”»- Genesis 25:32, 27:41, & Malachi 1:2-3 (KJB) ¿Que nos enseña la historia de Lot en Sodoma?

- (1) Que la homosexualidad es el preludio del ateísmo (pues aún cuando tenían dos ángeles delante de sus ojos, los sodomitas no tuvieron temor de Dios) ...
- (2) Que el ateísmo es el preludio al totalitarismo (pues, al final de la historia, los sodomitas intentaron imponer su vileza por la fuerza) ...
- (3) Que el totalitarismo es el preludio de los exterminios en masa (pues, cuando una sociedad se hace abrumadoramente atea y homosexual, la vida pierde todo valor, y Dios no tiene otro remedio sino permitir que sea destruida)

«No matter if secular or religious, if my ideology cannot set me free from my bondage to money, sex, and power, then my ideology is little more than "a big flash, for a small picture"»

When the Israelite People (Hebrews, Jews, Samaritans, Karaite, Messianic, etc) live in holiness, both Torah and Canaan belong to them; but when they don't, the latter are given unto other Peoples

God's Law (Also known as "Torah") states the following: "And it shall be on the day when ye shall pass over Jordan unto the Land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, that thou shalt set thee up great stones, and plaister them with plaister: AND THOU SHALT WRITE UPON THEM ALL THE WORDS OF THIS LAW ("TORAH")..."- Deut. 27:2-3, King James Bible.

What moral lesson is the Creator trying to convey in the former passage? Well, the passage aims to teach no less than two important lessons: In the first place, that just like Torah belonged to God, so did the Holy Land (the Land of Canaan) belong to Him [and not to the Israelite people!]; As is written-- "... and the people shall go out, and gather that that is sufficient for every day, that I may prove them, WHETHER THEY WILL WALK IN MY LAW OR NO"- Exodus 16:4 (1599 Geneva Bible). And also says in another place, "The land shall not be sold for ever, FOR THE LAND IS MINE; FOR YE ARE STRANGERS AND SOJOURNERS WITH ME..."- Leviticus 25:23 (Jubilee Bible 2000).

In the second place, the former passage intimates that the Holy land is to be construed as representing Torah, and Torah is to be construed as representing the Holy Land. In other words, just like Torah refuses to belong to evil people, so will the holy land refuse to belong to evil people. Whence do we know Torah refuses to belong to evil people? We get it from the verse that goes on to say: «BUT TO THE WICKED I SAY: "YOU DON'T HAVE THE RIGHT TO MENTION MY LAWS OR CLAIM TO KEEP OUR AGREEMENT! You refused correction and rejected my commands- Psalm 50:16-17, Contemporary English Version. And whence do we know the Holy Land doesn't allow itself to belong to wicked people? We know it from the following passage: "THOU SHALT NOT LIE WITH MALES AS WITH WOMEN; IT IS ABOMINATION... FOR IN ALL THESE THINGS THE GENTILES WHICH I CAST OUT BEFORE YOU HAVE DEFILED THEMSELVES... AND THE LAND ITSELF VOMITED OUT HER INHABITANTS. Ye shall, therefore, keep my statutes and my rights and shall not commit any of these abominations... AND WILL THE LAND NOT VOMIT YOU OUT ALSO FOR HAVING CONTAMINATED IT, AS IT VOMITED OUT THE GENTILES THAT WERE BEFORE YOU?"- Leviticus 18:22-28, Jubilees Bible 2000.

In short, both Torah and the Land of Canaan are property of the Holy One (blessed be He). Thus, the Creator "leases" them to him who proves to be worthy [living a lifestyle of Holiness, and moral purity].

This "lease" was initially granted unto the Israelite people. So, as long as Israel properly represents the life of holiness that pleases the Creator, both Torah and the Land of Canaan "belong" to them. But when Israel collectively denies God, embracing a lifestyle of moral corruption, the Holy Land [as well as Torah] is taken away from them, and given instead unto another people.

Whence do we know possession of the Holy Land is contingent upon Israel living a life of holiness and obedience to God's commandments? We know it from: "Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, and say unto them, YE SHALL BE HOLY: FOR I THE LORD YOUR GOD AM HOLY... YE SHALL DILIGENTLY KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS OF THE LORD YOUR GOD, and his testimonies, and his statutes, which he hath commanded thee... THAT IT MAY BE WELL WITH THEE, AND THAT THOU MAYEST GO IN AND POSSESS THE GOOD LAND WHICH THE LORD SWARE..."- Leviticus 19:2, Deut. 6:17-18, KJB.

And whence do we know wickedness robs Israel's right to inhabit the land? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: «Son of man, those that inhabit these wastes in the land of Israel speak, saying, "ABRAHAM WAS ONE, AND HE POSSESSED THE LAND OF CANAAN; BUT WE ARE MANY (THE WHOLE NATION OF ISRAEL! (SO HOW MUCH MORE CAN WE CLAIM THAT...)) THE LAND IS GIVEN US FOR A POSSESSION". Therefore say unto them, "Thus hath the Lord GOD said; 'Ye eat with the blood and lift up your eyes toward your idols and shed blood, and shall ye possess this Land?'»- Ezekiel 33:24-25 (Jubilee Bible 2000).

Finally, whence do we know secularism and rebellion destroys Israel's right to claim ownership of Torah? We know it from the passages that goes on to say: «... I will search Jerusalem with lamps AND PUNISH THOSE WHO SETTLE DOWN COMFORTABLY, WHO SAY TO THEMSELVES: "THE LORD WILL DO NOTHING—GOOD OR BAD"»- Zephaniah 1:12, Christian Standard

Bible. And also says elsewhere, «FOR THE HOUSE OF ISRAEL AND THE HOUSE OF JUDAH HAVE MADE A FIRM DECISION TO REBEL AGAINST ME, SAITH THE LORD. THEY HAVE DENIED THE LORD AND SAID, “HE IS NOT; AND EVIL SHALL NOT COME UPON US; neither shall we see sword nor famine”... Because ye have spoken this word, behold, I WILL MAKE MY WORDS [OF TORAH] IN THY MOUTH FIRE AND THIS PEOPLE WOOD, AND IT SHALL DEVOUR (OR “DESTROY”) THEM»- Jeremiah 5:11-14, Jubilee Bible 2000.

The Holy Faith Of Reformed Samaritanism

“The lips of a priest keep knowledge--- Torah should be sought from his mouth, if he is an angel of the Lord of Hosts” (Malachi 2:7)

The above verse means Torah isn't limited to any man, race, or religion, as no one can claim an exclusive right to teach Torah. Why? Because, even if a man were to be the Jewish High priest, Torah is to be sought from his mouth only if he is “like an angel of the Lord of Hosts” [in other words, if he dreads sin, living a life of humility, and holiness]. But if not, Torah should not be sought from his mouth. As is written: «But to the wicked I say: “You don't have the right to mention my Laws or claim to keep our agreement! You refused correction and rejected my commands. You made friends with every crook you met... You talked only about violence and told nothing but lies; you sat around gossiping, ruining the reputation of your own relatives. When you did all this, I didn't say a word, and you thought, “God is just like us!”. But now I will accuse you. You have ignored me! So pay close attention or I will tear you apart, and no one can help you”»- Psalm 50:16-22, Contemporary English Version

Torah (Hebrew religion) belongs to he who is meek and humble

Why was Torah (God's Law) given in the midst of what seemed to be a thunderstorm (“And it came to pass on the third day in the morning, that THERE WERE THUNDERS AND LIGHTNINGS, AND A THICK CLOUD UPON THE MOUNT”- Exodus 19:16, KJB)? In order to hint at the idea that Torah is like rain and water (“MY DOCTRINE SHALL DROP AS THE RAIN...”- Deut. 32:2, KJB). In what sense is Torah similar to water? In that it belongs to God, and thus is freely available to all of God's creatures.

In addition, just as water will naturally leave the high places, settling instead in the lower ones, so will Torah naturally abandon exalted (proud) people, dwelling instead with those who are lowly (meek and humble). As is written: “THOUGH THE LORD BE HIGH, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but THE PROUD HE KNOWETH AFAR OFF... BUT TO THIS MAN WILL I LOOK, EVEN TO HIM THAT IS POOR AND OF A CONTRITE SPIRIT, and trembleth at my word... I WILL ALSO LEAVE IN THE MIDST OF THEE AN AFFLICTED AND POOR PEOPLE [GETTING RID OF THE PROUD], and they shall trust in the name of the Lord”- Psalm 138:6, Isaiah 66:2, & Zephaniah 3:12, KJB.

Thus, when Israel is holy and humble, Torah belongs to the Israelite people; but when Israel become proud and wicked, Torah abandons them, and seeks some other people to dwell with. And that's why God would sometimes place gentile nations in the same list with Israel.

As is written: «In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, even a blessing in the midst of the land: Whom THE LORD OF HOSTS SHALL BLESS, SAYING, "BLESSED BE EGYPT MY PEOPLE, AND ASSYRIA THE WORK OF MY HANDS, AND ISRAEL MINE INHERITANCE"»- Isaiah 19:24-25, KJB. Notice that not only are two gentile nations [Egypt and Assyria] placed in the same list with Israel... they are placed even ahead of the latter!

Samaritanismo Reformado
No hay tal cosa como "Salvación sin obras de la Ley"; pues, una de las obras de la Ley, era arrepentirse (es decir, confesar los pecados, y hacer restitución por ellos): "Aquella persona confesará el pecado que cometió, y compensará enteramente el daño" - Números 5:7. Y, aún el mismo Jesús, enseñó que, quien no haga la obra de arrepentirse, no tendrá parte en la vida eterna: "Os digo: No; antes si no os arrepentís, todos pereceréis igualmente" - Lucas 13:3&5

Cuando la confianza en la ciencia moderna se hace necesidad

A mediados del año 2014 la nación de Ucrania comenzó a experimentar una amarga convulsión social; protestas callejeras, manifestaciones publicas de grupos neo-nazis, derrocamiento del gobierno, depresión económica, y una división interna que finalmente causo que la provincia de Crimea se separase del país, y que estallase una guerra civil entre el este y el oeste de la Nación. Estos eventos, sucedieron en una época donde todo lo que sucede en la calle de cualquier país Europeo, está siendo grabado en vivo por una multitud de cámaras publicas, así como de una innumerable cantidad de reporteros y transeúntes que cuentan en su teléfono celular el medio de hacer el evento inmediatamente accesible a todo el planeta (por medio de la red global).

La ironía de esta situación, es que a pesar de haber sido un suceso público, que fue observado y analizado [en vivo] por los habitantes de todo el planeta, los expertos de entre las naciones han sido incapaces de llegar a un consenso acerca de lo sucedido, siendo así imposible contestar con absoluta certeza preguntas tan sencillas como quién es el responsable de lo sucedido en Ucrania, o cual fue la razón para que los hechos sucedieran.

Y es por todo esto que, la persona con sentido común, no puede sino sonreír cuando percibe que nuestros modernos científicos pretenden que creamos sin duda alguna lo que ellos afirman [con absoluta certeza] haber sucedido hace 13,700 millones de años, y a medio camino del Universo. Estos científicos, pretenden que renunciemos a la idea de que exista un Creador, o de que haya ocurrido una creación. Y su justificación para ello, es que están absolutamente seguros de que el universo comenzó con una singularidad espacial que se expandió espontáneamente hace 13,700 millones de años; y que la vida es el producto de una combinación espontánea de energía y elementos químicos, que se combinaron accidentalmente en los mares de la Tierra, hace 4,000 millones de años.

¡Que interesante! Nuestros expertos no pueden explicar con certeza alguna los eventos que suceden en nuestro propio día, y ante nuestros propios ojos. Pero pueden explicar con absoluta certeza los eventos que nadie pudo observar, y que sucedieron miles de millones de años en el pasado...

La Sagrada Fe Del Samaritanismo Reformado
La lógica que conduce al Sodomita a abrazar el ateísmo...

Cuando es enfrentado con su pecado, el Sodomita promedio se dice a sí mismo lo siguiente: "¡Soy adicto a los placeres prohibidos de la Sodomía! Así pues, ¿que espera usted que crea acerca de Dios? ¿Que existe tal cosa como un Juez Supremo, que un día habrá de condenarme por haber privado de nietos a mis padres, y por haberles avergonzado con mis egoístas caprichos, así como con mi público hedonismo? ¡Claro que no! Prefiero negar a Dios, y arder mil veces en el infierno, antes que renunciar a mi orgullo reconociendo que estoy cometiendo un vil y grave pecado"

The nature of the human soul

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, when making reference to the soul, Hebrew tradition uses five different words: Nefesh, Ruach, Neshamah, Jechidah, and Chayyah.

- 1) "Nefesh" is the blood "For the blood is the life (nefesh)"- Deut. 12:23.
- 2) "Ruah" is what ascends and descends. As is written, "Who knoweth the spirit (ruah) of man whether it goeth upwards, and the ruah of the beast whether it goeth downward to the earth?" (Ecclesiastes 3:21).
- 3) "Neshamah" is the breath, or disposition. But some say it is like a vein full of blood, with small veins which are dispersed throughout the body-- when the angel of death comes to a righteous man, he grasps the top of this vein, and extract the neshamah in gentle fashion (like when drawing a hair out of milk). But if the man was wicked and merciless, no mercy is shown unto him, and the process feels like taking thorns out of a ball of wool (which tears backward).
- 4) "Chayyah" ("living") is so called because all the limbs are mortal, whereas this is immortal in the body (being endowed with life).
- 5) "Jechidah" ("unique", or "the only one") indicates that all limbs exist in pairs, whereas the soul is unique in the body.

«La corrupción no es suya; de sus hijos es la mancha, Generación torcida y perversa. ¿Así pagáis a יהוה, Pueblo loco e ignorante?...»- Deuteronomio 3:5-6, Biblia Reina Valera, 1960

El Mensaje de la Ley, es la cordura y el sentido común de "medida por medida", "siembra y cosecha", "ojo por ojo", "causa y efecto" ("... como tú hiciste se hará contigo ..." - Abdías 1:15)... Así que, siembre lo bueno, y peque muy poco; pues lo demás es de locos ¿Que hace al Samaritanismo reformado distinto al Samaritanismo tradicional?

Tanto el Samaritanismo tradicional, como el Samaritanismo Reformado, comparten la noción de que los cinco libros de Moisés son la suprema y final regla para validar toda otra revelación Divina. Lo que hace distinto al Samaritanismo Reformado, es que incorpora el sabio y antiguo concepto que propone que, «La verdad es la verdad; sin importar donde pueda ser hallada (Judaísmo, Samaritanismo, Cristianismo, Islamismo, etc), ni tampoco quien pueda haberla dicho (Moisés, Jesus, Muhammad, El Dalai Lama, etc)».

The Holy Faith Of Reformed Samaritanism

Reformed Samaritanism is the conviction that God's blameless character (Deut. 32:4-5) prevents Him from being so much concerned with our moral and/or theological perfection, as He is with our pursue of sincere repentance; our pursue of Holiness; our pursue of a life characterized by justice, mercy, and humility; and our desire to "sow" the goodness portrayed by God's 10 Commandments (so we could thereby be assured of "a good harvest"). As is written: "One who covers up his transgressions will not prosper, but whoever confesses and forsakes them finds mercy" ... «Speak to all the congregation of Bnei-Yisrael (children of Israel) and tell them: "You shall be kedoshim (holy), for I, Adonai your God, am holy"»... "turn from evil and do good, so you may live forever" ... "He has told you, humanity, what is good, and what Adonai (the Lord) is seeking from you: only to practice justice, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God" ... "He declared to you His covenant, which He commanded you to do—the Ten Words—" ... «A final word, when all has been heard: "fear God and keep His mitzvot (commandments)! for this applies to all mankind"»... "God is not mocked. For whatever a man sows, that he also shall reap" ... "As you have done, it shall be done to you..." - Prov. 28:13, Lev. 19:2, Psalm 37:2, Micah 6:8, Deut. 4:13, Eccl. 12:13, Galatians 6:7, Obadiah 1:15 (Tree Of Life Version)

Y “la verdad” a la que hace referencia el Samaritanismo Reformado no es otra sino el mensaje de la Ley Divina. ¿Cual mensaje? ¡Pues la ley de “medida por medida” (tambien conocida como “Siembra y cosecha”, “Ojo por ojo”, “Diente, por diente”, etc). En otras palabras, que no importando cual halla sido su credo o su raza, tarde o temprano todo hombre será forzado a “cosechar” el mismo bien [o mal] que libre y voluntariamente halla escogido “sembrar”. Como esta escrito:

- (1) “¡Lejos este de Dios la impiedad, y del Omnipotente la iniquidad! porque Él pagará al hombre según su obra, y le retribuirá conforme a su camino. Si, por cierto, Dios no hará injusticia, y el Omnipotente no pervertirá el derecho” (Job 34:10-12, Biblia Reina Valera 1960)
- (2) “Porque tú pagas a cada uno conforme a su obra” (Salmo 62:12, Biblia Reina Valera 1960)
- (3) “El que mira por tu alma, Él lo conocerá, y dará al hombre según sus obras” (Proverbios 24:12, Biblia Reina Valera 1960)
- (4) “... mis escogidos disfrutarán la obra de sus manos” (Isaías 65:22, Biblia Reina Valera 1960)
- (5) “Decid al justo que le irá bien, porque comerá de los frutos de sus manos. ¡Ay del impío! Mal le irá, porque según las obras de sus manos le será pagado” (Isaías 3:10-11, Biblia Reina Valera 1960)

Es que, aunque olvidado por siglos sin fin, el mensaje implícito de la Ley es tanto objetivo, como imparcial y universal. ¿Por que? Pues porque va mas allá del frágil y sesgado ego humano, que pretende adscribir al Creador la pequeñez moral de tener caprichos raciales y sectarios.

¿De donde obtenemos esta información? Pues la obtenemos a partir de los relatos de la vida de hombres que, ni eran Israelitas, ni eran Judíos-- hombres como Enoc, Noé, Job, y Jetro. ES que el relato de sus vidas nos muestra que, sin importar el credo ni la raza, el Creador se agrada de todo aquel que le teme y le sirve, siendo Padre de toda la humanidad, y no solamente de alguna raza o religión particular.

En resumen, la realidad es que el mensaje implícito de la Ley no es ninguna raza o religión particular, sino el simple, objetivo, imparcial, e universal mensaje resumido en las palabras que dicen:

«Porque cercano está el día de יהוה [es decir, el día de su Juicio] sobre todas las naciones-- “como tú hiciste, se hará contigo”... Yo יהוה, que escudriño la mente, que pruebo el corazón, para dar a cada uno según su camino, según el fruto de sus obras...” (Jeremías 17:9).

¡Que el mensaje de la Ley Divina logre motivarnos a sembrar el bien, incrementando así la paz en el Mundo! Amen.

¿Que significa el verso que dice: “¿Quién es hombre medroso y pusilánime? Vaya, y vuélvase a su casa, y no apoque el corazón de sus hermanos, como el corazón suyo”- (Deuteronomio 20:8, Reina Valerea 1960)?

El verso en Deut. 20:8 intima que, en caso de que nos falten las fuerzas para pelear la batalla que demanda nuestra pertenencia al Pueblo Santo [no importando si la batalla es física o espiritual; ni tampoco si las fuerzas que nos faltan son físicas o espirituales], tenemos la responsabilidad de no ser un lastre para los demás creyentes.

Por ejemplo, la Ley de Dios prohíbe tanto la inmoralidad sexual, como el cerdo y la usura; Pero, si se diese el caso de que le faltase a usted la fuerza [o la disciplina] para abstenerse de tales cosas, entonces debe al menos evitar ser un lastre para quienes en efecto tienen esa fuerza.

¿Como? Pues, en primer lugar, manteniendo privada su conducta. En segundo lugar, usted simplemente podría considerar otra religión-- una que le permita tales cosas. No importando la opción que usted finalmente escoja, sea honesto consigo mismo y evite ser de tropiezo para quienes pelean la buena batalla, procurando obedecer lo ordenado por el Creador.

Evite el tratar de justificar lo injustificable, y no pretenda apocar el corazón de los demás creyentes alegando que la obediencia no es necesaria [como si el favor Divino no fuese el producto de nuestra obediencia al Creador, sino el de tener la teología correcta]; que la Ley es imposible de guardar; que nadie es perfecto; que Dios no presta atención a nuestras preferencias sexuales, a nuestras preferencias gastronómicas, ni a la forma en que nos ganamos el dinero.

En resumen, si es incapaz de contribuir con “el trabajo” que toda comunidad de creyentes esta llamada a realizar, al menos “no moleste” a quienes ya se encuentran realizando tal trabajo.

«El Samaritanismo reformado enseña que, a los ojos del Dios de Abraham, no hay Judíos, Cristianos, Musulmanes, ni Samaritanos... solo hay gente que esta a favor del pecado (del adulterio, del fraude, del enriquecimiento ilícito, de la mentira, del revisionismo histórico, del relativismo moral, de la Sodomía, del adulterio, del lesbianismo, del asesinato de niños inocentes, del robo de tierras, del robo de recursos, del robo de propiedades ajenas, etc); y gente que esta en contra del pecado»

What is Reformed Samaritanism?

Reformed Samaritanism is a sort of moral equivalent to Newton’s Law of Physics (“action and reaction”; “cause, and effect”, “sowing and reaping”, “measure for measure”, etc). In other words, the idea that the Holy One [blessed be He] has designed His moral universe so as to make it unavoidable for man to “reap” whatever is that he has willingly [and without remorse] “planted” upon “the garden” that is our physical universe.

In addition, Reformed Samaritanism is the firm conviction that God is like a loving and caring Father (“But Adonai your God refused to listen to Balaam, and Adonai your God turned the curse into a blessing for you because He loves you... Isn't He your Father who ransomed you? He made you and established you”- Deut. 23:6, & 32:6); not a morally flawed and self centered human being (“The Rock—blameless is His work. Indeed, all His ways are just. God of faithfulness without iniquity, righteous and upright is He. Did it corrupt Him? No! The blemish is His children's...”- Deut. 32:4-5).

Reformed Samaritanism

God's Law teaches that, when God created Adam, He immediately made him start planting a garden, as is written: “So הוה God took the man, and put him in the garden of Eden, to till it and keep it” - Genesis 2:15. But, why? Was there not enough food in the world to satisfy Adam's nutritional needs? Why did God give top priority to Adam's tilling the garden? Were there no other things much more important than agriculture? For example, God could have given him a Bible, so he could learn how to be [in the future] saved from sin. Could it be instead that God wanted to teach Adam [symbol of all mankind] that, the very first thing any man must know is that all life in this world is subject to “the Law of sowing and reaping”? That if he sows goodness and blessing, the same goodness and blessing will eventually come back to bless him (regardless of race or creed)? That if he sows evil, he won't be able to avoid having to “reap” the same evil he has planted? That if he gives honor and respect, he too will be given honor and respect? That if he forgives other peoples faults, his own faults will also be forgiven? That if he shows patience and mercy, he too will be shown patience and mercy? “Sowing, and reaping”; “Cause, and effect”; “Action, and reaction”; “What goes around, comes round”; This is the first and foremost of all Divine principles; the greatest of all Divine truths-- To do unto others the same goodness we would like to be done unto us. As is correctly ascribed to “the Good Samaritan”: “So, all the things that you want men to do with you, so do you with them; because this [“sowing and reaping”] is the Law and the Prophets” - Matthew 7:12. Apart from this, every other religious tenet (who the Messiah is, who has the right theological interpretation, etc) is just optional commentary.

Therefore, God's blameless character prevents Him from being so much concerned with the dribble of human perfection, as He is with our sincere pursuit of repentance; of Holiness; of a life characterized by justice, mercy, humility; and lastly (but not less important), of our desire to “sow” upon our needy fellow creatures the same goodness we would wish for ourselves; the goodness portrayed by God's 10 Supreme Laws-- all of which allow His children to earn the right to enjoy a good and abundant “harvest” in the world to come.

And whence do we get all of this? We get it from the verses that go on to say: “Far be it from You to do such a thing—to cause the righteous to die with the wicked, so that the righteous and the wicked share the same fate! Far be it from You! Shall the Judge of the whole world not exercise justice?”...

...“One who covers up his transgressions will not prosper, but whoever confesses and forsakes them finds mercy (or, ‘forgiveness’)”... «Speak to all the congregation of Bnei-Yisrael (children of Israel) and tell them: “You shall be kedoshim (holy), for I, Adonai your God, am holy”»... “turn from evil and do good, so you may live forever”...

...“He has told you, humanity, what is good, and what Adonai (the Lord) is seeking from you: only to practice justice, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God”... “He declared to you His covenant, which He commanded you to do—the Ten Words—”... «A final word, when all has been heard: “fear God and keep His mitzvot (commandments)! for this applies to all mankind”»...

...“As you have done, it shall be done to you”... “Say to the righteous, he will be well, eating the fruit of their deeds. Oy, the wicked! It will be bad for him, for the dealing of his hands will be done to him"... "Therefore, listen to me, you men of understanding: Wickedness is far from God, injustice from Shaddai. For He repays a person for what he has done..."- Prov. 28:13, Lev. 19:2, Psalm 37:2, Micah 6:8, Deut. 4:13, Ecclesiastes 12:13, Obadiah 1:15, Isaiah 3:10-11, Job 34:10-11 (Tree Of Life Version)

«While still young, we tend to display a “tribe” (or “gang”) mentality, blindly worshiping our establishments-- our party members are viewed as unconditional friends, while the rest are viewed [at best] as suspicious competitors... Fortunately, the practical experience that comes with old age tends to clarify things a little bit; teaching us that no man [nor any man-made institution] ought to be given blind allegiance [as the former is a subtle form of ignorant idolatry], and that no man should be our supreme paradigm. Rather, our tribe’s name should be “Justice”... “Mercy” should be our Gang’s motto... And “Humility” should be both our supreme party and establishment. As is written: “It hath been told thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord doth require of thee: only to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God”- Micah 6:8, JPS 1917 Edition»

How to obtain Divine forgiveness

Hebrew Scripture states that prophet Daniel taught king Nebuchadnezzar what turned out to be the universal key for obtaining Divine forgiveness -- The Law of “Sowing, and reaping” --. In other words, “To show mercy unto those who find themselves in need of it, so that mercy is also showed unto us whenever we find ourselves in need of it”.

As is written: “Therefore, O king, approve my counsel and redeem thy sins with righteousness and thine iniquities with mercies unto the poor...”- Daniel 4:27, Jubilee Bible 2000.

In fact, Christian writings seem to assert the very same truth, when they go on to say: “Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy”- Matthew 5:7, KJB

And the fact that it is mercy [and not any kind of human nor animal sacrifice] what really makes us acceptable unto God is clearly taught in the Scripture that goes on to say: “For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings”- Hosea 6:6.

And what is meant by by, “the knowledge of God”?-- The fact that the Holy One (blessed be He) is pleased when we do mercy and justice. As is written:

“... that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord... He [your father] judged [with justice and mercy] the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the Lord”- Jeremiah 9:24, & 22:16

«¿Coger por el recto? ;Torcido defecto!... ¿Gozar con la Sodomía? ;Consentir la Tiranía!»

Torah’s stance on Homosexuality

The Torah (in other words, the Hebrew/Samaritan Bible) associates the Devil with the shameless Serpent which lured Adam & Eve into rebellion. And since the male penis resembles such a serpent, it makes perfect sense for a rebellious [Devil worshiping] man to instinctively feel attracted toward the male penis; shamelessly wanting to enjoy it, and make it part of his own body [putting it inside his mouth and/or anus, just like Homosexuals do]. By the way, have you notice how so many homosexuals tend to speak stressing the “s” termination of every word [as if to imitate the “hissing” sound of a serpent]?

In addition, the Hebrew Bible hints at this same phenomenon. How? By describing the realm of the Sodomites using the Hebrew word "Sedom" while describing demons with the Hebrew word “Sedim”. You see, original Bible Hebrew contained no vowels nor punctuation marks, so that the words used to describe both “Sodom” (Sedom) and “Demons” (Sedim) were essentially one and the same [as if to imply that, wherever there are demons, there will also be Sodomites, and wherever there are Sodomites there will also be demons].

Finally, Hebrew Bible places Sodom by the edge of the Dead sea. And the latter was later found to be the lowest geographical location anywhere in the Planet [as if to imply that sodomy brings death and destruction, being the lowest point human morality can ever attain].

And the fact that the Jewish God is angry with the Jew who insists on promoting the Homosexual abomination is taught in the verse where the Creator demands it to be purged with capital punishment. As it is written: “If a man lies with a male as with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination; they shall surely be put to death; their blood is upon them”- Leviticus 20:13 (English standard version); And also says, “There shall be no whore of the daughters of Israel, nor a sodomite of the sons of Israel... for even both these are abomination unto the Lord thy God”- Deuteronomy 23:17-18, King James Bible.

As for siding with homosexual activists and defending the rights of "oppressed sexual minorities", Scripture admonishes the believer saying: “Wouldest thou help the wicked, and love them that hate the Lord? therefore for this thing the wrath of the Lord is upon thee”- 2 Chronicles 19:2, 1599 Geneva Bible.

Beware of self-delusion!

The man who, upon witnessing the wonders and wisdom of Nature, proceeds to say: “this nature is no proof that a God is behind it!”, disconnects himself so much from reality that will eventually look upon his own genitals and proceed to say: “these genitals are no proof that a man is behind them!”

¿Como explica el Samaritanismo Reformado la moderna obsesión con el mismo sexo?

La Biblia intima que el Universo ha sido creado de suerte que, para toda realidad intangible (el mal, el bien, la vanidad, el orgullo, la humildad, el amor, la ignorancia, la fe, etc) exista una correspondiente realidad tangible. Por ejemplo, si en algún lugar se enseña la vana idea de que no necesitamos a Dios (יהוה), siempre y cuando nos ocupemos del poder que produce la lluvia y las cosechas (Baal), tal lugar esta condenado a convertirse en una letrina (un deposito de excremento), ya que esto último es la contraparte tangible de la vanidad intangible que allí se promulga. Como esta escrito: “Y quebraron la estatua de Baal, y derribaron el templo de Baal, Y LO CONVIRTIERON EN LETRINAS hasta hoy”- 2 Reyes 10:27, Reina Valera 1960. De igual modo, si una persona esboza la vil y vana idea de que toda moral es relativa [o que no existe un Juez ni un Juicio en el Universo], tal persona esta condenada a convertirse en la contraparte tangible de su vil e intangible idea (es decir, en “una letrina andante”). ¿Como? Pues una de las formas es viviendo en proximidad física a algún lugar de inmundicia y podredumbre; un cementerio, una planta de tratamiento de aguas negras, un lugar donde se desborden las aguas negras, un lugar donde el exceso de de-ambulantes llene las calles de desechos humanos, cerca de fabricas que produzcan hedon, etc. Otra forma en la cual la persona podría estar condenada a convertirse en “una letrina ambulante” es persiguiendo un estilo de vida que gire alrededor del excremento; como seria el caso con la persona que se define a si misma en base a lo que hace con su sistema colo-rectal (un lugar lleno de heces fecales). Y lo anterior explica el motivo por el cual [como regla general], todo gobierno ateo (Liberal) promueve naturalmente un hedonismo y una vileza que terminan convirtiendo al área que gobiernan en un tipo de “Letrina” o “basurero humano”, como seria el caso con ciudades Norteamericanas como Detroit, San Francisco, Los Ángeles, Portland, Seattle, etc, donde la adicción, el crimen, la inmoralidad publica, y la población de de-ambulantes crecen sin control.

“If your intelligence makes you embrace atheism, make sure it doesn’t also make you embrace the gay lifestyle. Why? Because then people will be able to rightfully say that, the true reason for you to become an atheist is that your intelligence had gone down to your rear end!”

Reformed Samaritanism states God’s will for each man is to commit himself with the righteousness that pleases the Creator. And even Jesus (p.b.u.h.) is quoted preaching such belief

The gospel quotes prophet Jesus (peace and blessings be upon Him) bearing witness to the fact that, faith in him can’t by itself prevent your soul from perishing. Rather, it is sincere repentance, as well as acts of loving kindness, what will bring salvation upon you. As is written:

«I tell you, “Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish” ... Many will say to me in that day, “Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? (wasn’t the former a sure proof of salvation?)”, And then will I profess unto them, “I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity” ...

... I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth... Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy...

... Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world: For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me... For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy; and mercy rejoiceth against judgment. What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him?”»- Luke 13:3, Matthew 7:22-23, Luke 15:7, Matthew 5:7, Matthew 25:34-36, James 2:13-14 King James Version

Flee from pride, as pride make us morally small; thereby preventing us from becoming proper representatives of God’s moral greatness!

From whence do we get the notion that “The greater a man is, the more humble his behavior becomes”? We get it from our master Moses (peace and blessings be always upon him). For though he is said to be the greatest of all prophets (“And there arose not a prophet since in Israel like unto Moses...”- Deut. 34:10), he makes little of himself, saying, “... And what are we (Moses and Aaron), that ye murmur against us?... what are we? your murmurings are not against us, but against the Lord”- Exodus 16:7-8”

The man who likes to be a show-off can never be a proper messenger of The Holy One; who is so humble, that hides himself in darkness. As is written: «And He made darkness pavilions round about Him, dark waters, and thick clouds of the skies... Then spake Solomon, The Lord said that He would dwell in the thick darkness... He made darkness his secret place; his pavilion round about Him were dark waters and thick clouds of the skies»- 2 Samuel 22:12, 1 Kings 8:12, Psalm 18:11

Reformed Samaritanism
The hidden meaning of God's Ten commandments

A young man asked an old sage: «Why are they particularly called the “Ten” Laws (or “commandments”)? And why are we told that they were written upon Two stone tablets?». The old sage replied saying: “They were written upon Two stone tablets because Two are the number of our hands. And they were called Ten, because Ten are the fingers of our hands. Thus, our Creator intimates that, just as our life [in this world] depends upon our practical use of those ten fingers, so will our life [in the world to come] depends upon the practical use of those ten commandments”. The young man retorted: “But isn’t it true that our Two feet also have Ten toes?”. To which the old sage replied: «That’s correct! And it means that, just as the Ten toes comprising our Two feet make us stand strong and firm, so do the Ten laws comprising the Two stone tablets make us stand strong and firm (thereby becoming an unshakable foundation!)»

“When a wise man points at the moon, the simpleton examines the finger”- Confucius

Who can teach Torah (God’s Law)? Jews? Christians? Samaritans?

Reformed Samaritanism states that, no matter if he be a Jew or a Gentile, the man who brazenly flaunts an openly immoral lifestyle has no right to expound Torah, nor teach it’s statutes and ordinances to anybody. Why? Because it has been said: «But unto the wicked God saith, “What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldst take my covenant in thy mouth?”»- Psalm 50:16, KJB.

In fact, whether it be completely accurate or not, Torah’s guidance (or “interpretation”) ought to be sought only from he who (regardless of race or creed) is like an ancient Levite priest; in other words, from he whose Torah interpretation turns “angel-like” (humble and holy). As is written: “For the priest’s lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the Law (Torah) at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts”- Malachi 2:7, KJB.

In the former verse, the Hebrew word translated as “Law” is “Torah” (meaning, “instruction”, or “guidance”), while the Hebrew words translated as “messenger”, is the word “Malach” (meaning both “angel”, and “messenger”).

Thus, the verse intimates that, if a man is like “an angel (messenger) of the Lord” (in other words, if he is humble, holy, and separated from evil), we are allowed to seek Torah from his mouth; but if he isn’t holy and humble, we are not allowed to do so.

God doesn’t condemn our intellectual stupidity; rather, He condemns our moral stupidity

Nowhere within Moses five books of Torah will we ever find God rebuking Pharaoh's pagan theology; nor does He ever threaten Pharaoh for the gross idolatry of claiming to be a living deity. Yet we do find God asking Pharaoh to stop enslaving [and slaughtering] innocent Hebrew people, or else face death and destruction.

And something similar could be said concerning God's dealings with many other pagan characters (Abimelech, Balaam, Ben-hadad, Nebuchadnezzar, Darius, Cyrus, etc.)

What moral lesson is the Holy One (blessed be He) trying to teach us with the former tale?

Reformed Samaritanism proposes that He wants us to know that God doesn't hold us accountable for our "intellectual stupidity". In other words, He won't condemn us for having a defective theology. Why? Simply because God is perfectly fair; and condemning our intellectual stupidity would be a most unfair thing.

And why would it be unfair? Because our theology is the natural result of our limited understanding-- something that isn't under our personal control, but rather under God control (thus, God can't judge us for a limitation He himself has imposed upon us).

On the other hand, the Creator does hold us accountable for our "moral stupidity". In other words, for choosing to willingly ignore the prompting of our conscience and our common sense, when they tell us deep down inside that it would be wrong to do unto our fellow beings that which we would hate if done unto ourselves (injustice, cruelty, murder, theft, fraud, cheating, betrayal, dishonor, etc). Why it is fair for God to judge our moral stupidity? Because although we often can't change our evil inclinations, we are always free to stand on the right side of morality. How? By calling "Good" that which the Creator, nature, common sense, and our conscience calls "Good"; And by calling "Evil" that which all of the former call "Evil".

In fact, Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that, even if our theology seems to be perfect, as long as we insist upon calling "Unfair" (immoral) what God had clearly declared to be "Fair" (moral), we will remain under God's stern judgment. As is written:

"Yet says the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not fair and just! O house of Israel, are not My ways fair and just? Are not your ways unfair and unjust? Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, says the Lord God..."- Ezekiel 18:28-30, Amplified Bible (Classic Edition)

"Mere knowledge causes people to be puffed up (to bear themselves loftily and be proud); but love [in other words, affection, goodwill and benevolence] edifies, builds up, and encourages one to grow to his full stature as a child of God"

Faith in Jesus can be a powerful tool in the hands of he who seeks to please his Creator; But please be careful with the noble Christian theology

Christianity is an amazing religion. And the fact that sincere Christians do receive the Holy spirit is undeniable proof that God is pleased with the intentions of their hearts (keep in mind that God doesn't look at the external circumstances, but rather at the person's heart!).

But, whenever a man finds himself reading the books of the Christian New testament, he does well in exercising caution with it's theology.

Why? Simply because, although it claims to include a Divine wisdom free from any impurity, partiality, or hypocrisy ("But the wisdom that is from above is first pure... without partiality, and without hypocrisy"- James 3:17, King James Version), the fact is that Christian theology can often be ambiguous, contradictory, and outright misleading.

Consider the following example: Christianity claims that my sins have predestined me to suffer everlasting torment in hell; but, fortunately for me, Jesus came to Earth, in order to take all of my punishment and sufferings upon himself [thereby becoming my personal replacement].

But, if Jesus (peace be upon him) became my own personal replacement, and I was predestined to suffer eternal punishment in hell, then why isn't Jesus still being tormented in hell?

Another example of a gross and blatant ambiguity could be the following:

While on one hand the N.T. hints at the idea that there's no truth in Demons and unclean spirits ("He [the Demon] was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for HE IS A LIAR, AND THE FATHER OF IT"- John 8:44, King James Version); on the other hand, it hints at the idea that the former is false, as Demons often do tell Divine truth [bearing witness of Jesus being "the son of God", as well as "the way of Salvation"]. As it is said:

"And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, THOU ART THE SON OF GOD"- Mark 3:11; "And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, THOU ART THE SON OF GOD"- Luke 4:41; "... a certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination met us... The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, THESE MEN ARE THE SERVANTS OF THE MOST HIGH GOD, WHICH SHEW UNTO US THE WAY OF SALVATION"- Acts 16:16-17, King James Version.

Who isn't telling the whole truth? Is it Jesus, when claiming there's no truth in the Demon? Or is it instead the Demon, when claiming Jesus to be the son of God?

And, a far more important question is: Would the Hebrew God of truth (Deuteronomy 32:4) allow salvation to depend upon our trust in the words of wicked demons and unclean spirits? Didn't He warn us to avoid the counsel of the ungodly? As is written:

"BLESSED IS THE MAN THAT WALKETH NOT IN THE COUNSEL OF THE UNGODLY"- Psalm 1:1; "Lo, their good is not in their hand: THE COUNSEL OF THE WICKED IS FAR FROM ME"- Job 21:16; "THE LORD BRINGETH THE COUNSEL OF THE HEATHEN TO NOUGHT"- Psalm 33:10; "HIDE ME FROM THE SECRET COUNSEL OF THE WICKED; from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity"- Psalm 64:2; "The thoughts of the righteous are right: but THE COUNSELS OF THE WICKED ARE DECEIT"- Proverbs 12:5 (King James Version).

May the God of Abraham [blessed be He] make the light of His Divine Law shine upon our dear Christian brothers and sisters. Amen.

The reason why Christian View of salvation is so misguided

As a rule of thumb, the psyche of a Jesus loving [Christian] believer cannot accept that, no matter if he be Hebrew or Gentile, God's favor is the product of embracing the lifestyle of holiness [and integrity] that pleases the Creator ("Have you considered my servant Job? No one else on earth is like him, a man of perfect integrity, who fears God and turns away from evil"- Job 1:8, Christian Standard Bible).

In fact, man's eternal salvation is the result of his repentance and submission to God's commandments. Whence do we get it? We get it from the verses that go on to say: "Look, today I set before you a blessing and a curse: there will be a blessing, if you obey the commands of the Lord your God I am giving you today, and a curse, if you do not obey the commands of the Lord your God...

... If someone incurs guilt in one of these cases, he is to confess he has committed that sin... if I send pestilence on my people, and my people, who bear my name, humble themselves, pray and seek my face, and turn from their evil ways, then I will hear from heaven, forgive their sin, and heal their land...

... None of the transgressions he has committed will be held against him. He will live because of the righteousness he has practiced ... So I confess my iniquity"- Deut. 11:26-28, Leviticus 5:5, 2 Chronicles 7:14, Ezekiel 18:23, Psalm 338:18).

Why would our Christian brothers refuse to accept the idea that man's salvation depends upon his personal repentance, as well as his obedience to what Moses commanded? Because if it were so, then [for all practical purposes] Jesus dead [and subsequent resurrection] was futile.

Why? Because Jesus resurrection wasn't an indispensable element for people to be persuaded to repent ("... If they don't listen to Moses and the prophets, they will not be persuaded, [even] if someone rises from the dead"- Luke 16:31).

And, of course, the Christian mind finds impossible to accept that, when it comes to such paramount issue as man's salvation, not only was the great apostle Paul gravely mistaken, but even a towering and magnificent figure as Jesus ought to be considered [at best] "optional".

Thus, Christian theology concerning man's salvation is reminiscent of the old proverb that goes on to say, "Never put the cart ahead of the horse!" (in other words, be integer and just, letting the facts shape your opinion, instead of letting your opinion shape the facts).

«And the Lord said unto Moses, "Go, get thee down; for thy people, which thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, have corrupted themselves"... And Moses besought the Lord his God, and said, "Lord, why doth thy wrath wax hot against thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of the land of Egypt with great power, and with a mighty hand?"» (Exodus 32:7&11)

Moses says Israel is "God's people"; while God says they are "Moses People"? How do we explain this contradiction? By realizing that what the Almighty meant to say was the following: "Moses, Moses... When Israel follows my will (performing the goodness I've commanded), I consider them to be "My people" (and so I feel myself compelled to deliver them from the will of any human master); but, when they willingly follow the will of their flawed and wicked leaders, I have have nothing to do with them [so you can have them for yourself!]"

Israel was a divinely appointed paradigm for those who would please their Creator: when Israel fulfills such paradigm, it is God's chosen people; otherwise, they become God's enemies

Scripture hints at the idea that God has chosen the nation of Israel in order to function as one of many divinely ordained paradigms. In Israel's case, their appointment was to incarnate a particular [yet universal] community of beings. What sort of beings? Those [from all races and creeds] whose commitment with honesty, humility, service, and holiness would make them qualify to be considered God's chosen people (God's own children!).

Thus, whenever the nation of Israel collectively departs from its preordained task [becoming deceptive, arrogant, self centered, and debased] God gets upset, as [by betraying their calling] He no longer has any use for them.

As is written:

(1) «And the Lord said unto Gideon, “The people that are with thee are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hands, LEST ISRAEL VAUNT THEMSELVES AGAINST ME, SAYING, ‘MINE OWN HAND HATH SAVED ME’ ”»- Judges 7:2 (K.J.B.)

(2) «Speak not thou in thine heart, after that the Lord thy God hath cast them out from before thee, saying, ‘FOR MY RIGHTEOUSNESS THE LORD HATH BROUGHT ME IN TO POSSESS THIS LAND’: but for the wickedness of these nations the Lord doth drive them out from before thee. NOT FOR THY RIGHTEOUSNESS, OR FOR THE UPRIGHTNESS OF THINE HEART, DOST THOU GO TO POSSESS THEIR LAND: but for the wickedness of these nations the Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee...»- Deut. 9:4-5

(3) “... give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me: Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, ‘WHO IS THE LORD?’...” - Proverbs 30:8-9

(4) «THE LORD SHALL CUT OFF all flattering lips, and tHE TONGUE THAT SPEAKETH PROUD THINGS: WHO HAVE SAID, ‘WITH OUR TONGUE WILL WE PREVAIL; OUR LIPS ARE OUR OWN: WHO IS LORD OVER US?’»- Psalm 12:3-4

(5) “Hear this, O ye that swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail, Saying, ‘When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, THAT WE MAY SET FORTH WHEAT, MAKING THE EPHAH SMALL, AND THE SHEKEL GREAT, AND FALSIFYING THE BALANCES BY DECEIT? THAT WE MAY BUY THE POOR FOR SILVER, AND THE NEEDY FOR A PAIR OF SHOES; yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat?’ he Lord hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, SURELY I WILL NEVER FORGET ANY OF THEIR WORKS...” - Amos 8:4-7

(6) “But IF YE WILL NOT HEARKEN UNTO ME, AND WILL NOT DO ALL THESE COMMANDMENTS; AND IF YE SHALL DESPISE MY STATUTES, OR IF YOUR SOUL ABHOR MY JUDGMENTS, SO THAT YE WILL NOT DO ALL MY COMMANDMENTS, but that ye break my covenant: I also will do this unto you; I WILL EVEN APPOINT OVER YOU TERROR, CONSUMPTION, AND THE BURNING AGUE, THAT SHALL CONSUME THE EYES, AND CAUSE SORROW OF HEART: AND YE SHALL SOW YOUR SEED IN VAIN, FOR YOUR ENEMIES SHALL EAT IT”- Lev. 26:14-16

(7) «O THOU THAT ART NAMED THE HOUSE OF JACOB, IS THE SPIRIT OF THE LORD STRAITENED? ARE THESE HIS DOINGS? Do not my Words do good to him that walketh uprightly? Even of late MY PEOPLE IS RISEN UP AS AN ENEMY...»- Micah 2:7-8

(8) «Then said God, Call his name Loammi: ‘for YE ARE NOT MY PEOPLE, AND I WILL NOT BE YOUR GOD’»- Hosea 1:9

(9) «And it shall come to pass at that time, that I WILL SEARCH JERUSALEM with candles, AND PUNISH THE MEN that are settled on their lees: THAT SAY IN THEIR HEART, ‘THE LORD WILL NOT DO GOOD, NEITHER WILL HE DO EVIL’»- Zephaniah 1:12

Why does Scripture quote God saying: “Let us make man in our image, after our likeness...” (Genesis 1:256)? Is God a Trinity composed of multiple divine entities?

According to Reformed Samaritanism, the verse wherein God is quoted saying, “Let us make man ...” (Genesis 1:26) is to be understood as hinting at the idea that the Creator doesn’t do anything without first getting His heavenly household involved.

¡No seas Ingenuo!
Conviertete a los Diez Mandamientos [es decir, a la Ley de Dios, que es perfecta]; y no a los Judios, al Judaismo, o a Los Rabinos [que son hombres e instituciones imperfectas]

For example, when God wanted to judge wicked king Ahab, He first summoned His angels, and them proceeded to ask them how could they become partners in the project. As is written: «I saw the Lord sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven standing by him on his right hand and on his left. And the Lord said, “Who shall persuade Ahab, that he may go up and fall at Ramothgilead?” And one said on this manner, and another said on that manner. And there came forth a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, “I will persuade him”. And the Lord said unto him, “Wherewith?” And he said, “I will go forth, and I will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets”. And he said, “Thou shalt persuade him, and prevail also: go forth, and do so”»- 1 Kings 22:19-22.

Let’s not deceive ourselves; God’s own faith is results oriented!

Our dear brothers and sisters, we have to beware, as the sin of self deception can do great harm to our soul, preventing it from enjoying peace. And that’s why Bible says: “There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked”- Isaiah 57:21. We can choose to deceive ourselves, twisting the word of God and forcing it to say whatever is convenient to our preconceived religious ideas. But by so doing, we only damage our souls, and risk ending up suffering from severe depression, as well as grave mental diseases.

The point we are trying to make is the following: God’s true faith has little to do with the “having the right theology” kind of paradigm we have come to cherish. Neither is it embracing a hidden, abstract, or esoteric belief. Rather, it is the “down to earth” [practical] commitment with justice, mercy, and humility. In other words, He who fears God, and is just, merciful, humble, and honest, already has the right religion (Micah 6:8), regardless of the name we choose to give it.

For example, consider the fact that Bible never mentions Persian King Cyrus ever embracing the Hebrew faith. In fact, most likely Cyrus remained a committed Zoroastrian (who worshipped the God called Ahura Mazda) his entire life. Yet, foretelling his coming [150 years in advance], prophet Isaiah called Cyrus “God’s anointed” (or “Messiah”, as per the Hebrew text of Isaiah 45:1). Why? Because Cyrus would do the incredible act of helping exiled Jews rebuild their ruined Temple (thereby restoring their service to God).

So, the Creator cared much more for Cyrus deeds, than for his imperfect Zoroastrian theology. Notice the supreme importance of the fact that God is far more interested in the things we do, than in the things we claim to believe. And even the Christian gospel bears witness to the same truth, when it goes on to exalt the three “Magi” that came from the East, looking for the king of the Jews (Matthew 2:1). What was a Magi? It was a Zoroastrian priest! In fact, when it comes to God's true religion, the Christian writings use the following non-theological description-- “Pure and undefiled religion before God the Father is this: to look after orphans and widows in their distress and to keep oneself unstained from [the moral defilement of the] World”- James 1:27. Peace be upon you!

Is it true that Jesus never existed?

Jesus historical reality is attested by the words of the ancient Jewish sages, as written in the pages of the Babylonian Talmud:

--When Rabbi Eliezer was arrested and charged with heresy by the authorities, they brought him up to a tribunal to be judged. A certain judicial officer [hegemon] said to him: “Why should an elder like you engage in these frivolous matters of heresy?”.

Rabbi Eliezer said to him: “The Judge is trusted by me to rule correctly”. That officer thought that Rabbi Eliezer was speaking about him; but in fact he said this only in reference to his Father in Heaven. Rabbi Eliezer meant that he accepted God’s judgment, i.e., if he was charged he must have sinned to God in some manner. The officer said to him: “Since you put your trust in me, you are acquitted [dimos]; you are exempt”.

When Rabbi Eliezer came home, his students entered to console him for being accused of heresy, which he took as a sign of sin, and he did not accept their words of consolation. Rabbi Akiva said to him: “My teacher, allow me to say one matter from all of that which you taught me”. Rabbi Eliezer said to him: “Speak”.

Rabbi Akiva said to him: “My teacher, perhaps some statement of heresy came before you and you derived pleasure from it, and because of this you were held responsible by Heaven”. Rabbi Eliezer said to him: “Akiva, you are right, as you have reminded me that once I was walking in the upper marketplace of Tzippori, and I found a man who was one of the students of Jesus the Nazarene, and his name was Ya’akov of Kefar Sekhanya”. He said to me:

“It is written in your Torah: ‘You shall not bring the payment to a prostitute, or the price of a dog, into the house of the Lord your God (Deuteronomy 23:19). What is the halakha: Is it permitted to make from the payment to a prostitute for services rendered a bathroom for a High Priest in the Temple?’, And I said nothing to him in response”.

He said to me: «Jesus the Nazarene taught me the following: “It is permitted, as derived from the verse: ‘For of the payment to a prostitute she has gathered them, and to the payment to a prostitute they shall return’ (Micah 1:7). Since the coins came from a place of filth, let them go to a place of filth and be used to build a bathroom”».

And I derived pleasure from the statement, and due to this, I was arrested for heresy by the authorities, because I transgressed that which is written in the Torah: “Remove your way far from her, and do not come near the entrance of her house” (Proverbs 5:8). “Remove your way far from her,” this is a reference to heresy; “and do not come near the entrance of her house,” this is a reference to the ruling authority.

The Gemara notes: And there are those who say a different interpretation: “Remove your way far from her,” this is a reference to heresy and the ruling authority; “and do not come near the entrance of her house,” this is a reference to a prostitute. And how much distance must one maintain from a prostitute? Rav H̄isda said: “Four cubits”

-- Babylonian Talmud, Avodah Zarah 16b-17a

Is Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him) “the Servant of God” mentioned in the 53rd chapter of the book of Isaiah?

The Book of Isaiah describes God’s Servant as carrying all of our iniquities: “All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and THE LORD HATH LAID ON HIM THE INIQUITY OF US ALL... He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge SHALL MY RIGHTEOUS SERVANT JUSTIFY MANY; FOR HE SHALL BEAR THEIR INIQUITIES”- Isaiah 53:6&11, King James Version.

In addition, Isaiah states beforehand that God’s Servant is none other than Israel, as it is said:

“Remember these, O JACOB AND ISRAEL; FOR THOU ART MY SERVANT: I have formed thee; THOU ART MY SERVANT: O ISRAEL, thou shalt not be forgotten of me”- Isaiah 44:21, KJV.

But, if the nation of Israel is indeed the suffering Servant of Isaiah 53, does that mean that “Israel will save Israel”? Well, the answer to the latter question is both “Yes”, and “No”... You see, the prophets mostly spoke using the [allegorical] language of images and parables (“I sent my prophets to WARN YOU WITH MANY VISIONS AND PARABLES”- Hosea 12:10, New Living Translation.... “Then said I, Ah Lord God! they say of me, DOTH HE NOT SPEAK PARABLES?”- Ezekiel 20:49, KJV).

Thus, when prophet Isaiah speaks about Israel being “God’s own Servant”, he isn’t necessarily limiting himself to the physical members of Israelite nation. Rather, he could be using God fearing Israelites as an allegorical representation for any community comprised of righteous and God fearing people [regardless of their race or creed]. And it would be this allegorical “Servant of the Lord” who will “carry the sins of their World”.

And the proof? The verse where God hints to Abraham that, if there be at least 10 righteous men [Servants of God] living among the Sodomites, their life of service to the Almighty would atone for the sins of their wicked peers [sparing the city from condemnation]; as is written: “And the Lord said, IF I FIND IN SODOM FIFTY RIGHTEOUS WITHIN THE CITY, THEN I WILL SPARE ALL THE PLACE FOR THEIR SAKES... And he said, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once: PERADVENTURE TEN SHALL BE FOUND THERE. And he said, I WILL NOT DESTROY IT FOR TEN’S SAKE” - Genesis 18:25, & 32, KJV.

Joshua, the prophet that was to come

Moses said that after his ministry was over, God would raise up (or appoint) another prophet. As it is written: “I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren like unto thee, and will put my words in his mouth, and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him. And whosoever will not hearken unto my words, which he shall speak in my Name, I will require it of him”

(Deuteronomy 18:18-19).

Notice that the promise was that the prophet would be “like Moses”. This means that that prophet would do the same things (and have the same attributes) as Moses did. What were such things and attributes? Well, they were the following:

- (1) Moses wrote laws and statutes for all Israel with his own fingers (Deut. 31:24)
- (2) Like everyone who is completely human, Moses had two biological parents
- (3) Moses publicly divided the waters (Exodus 14:21)
- (4) Moses defeated Israel’s physical enemies. In other words, Pharaoh and his army (Exodus 15:1)
- (5) God granted Moses the power to designate the place that each tribe would occupy during their march towards Canaan (Numbers 2:1-34)
- (6) God immediately punished [with capital punishment] any Israelite who had the audacity to publicly disobey Moses (Numbers 16:32-35)
- (7) Moses [correctly] prophesied that if an Israelite ever tried to override Moses' orders, he would do so at the cost of his children's lives (Leviticus 26:29, & 2 Kings 6: 24-29)
- (8) All Israel believed and/or feared Moses (Exodus 14:31)
- (9) During his earthly ministry, Moses allowed non Israelite people to enter into the Israelite assembly (Exodus 12:38).

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the prophet who was to come after Moses was none other than Joshua, the son of Nun. Why? Did Joshua have the same works and attributes as Moses? Of course he did!:

- (1) Joshua wrote laws and statutes for all Israel with his own fingers (Joshua 24:25)
- (2) Like everyone who is completely human, Joshua had two biological parents
- (3) Joshua publicly divided the waters (Joshua 3:7, & 14-16)
- (4) Joshua defeated Israel’s physical enemies, conquering both Jericho and the nations of Canaan (Joshua 12:7)
- (5) Joshua was the supreme leader and leader of the Israelites, since he designated the place that each tribe would occupy during their stay in the land of Canaan (Joshua 14:1, & 23:4)
- (6) God publicly punished those who disobeyed Joshua; for example, Achan and his family (Joshua 7:19-26)
- (7) Joshua [correctly] prophesied that if an Israelite ever tried to override his orders concerning Jericho, he would do so at the cost of his children's lives (Joshua 6:26, & 1 Kings 16:34)
- (8) All Israel believed and/or feared Joshua (Joshua 4:14)
- (9) During his earthly ministry, Moses allowed non Israelite people to enter into the Israelite assembly (Joshua 9:27).

In conclusion, Joshua was that prophet who would be "like Moses". And it goes without saying that, only a deranged person would be so brazen as to claim to be "a prophet like Moses" while promulgating the doctrine of “salvation by faith, and without the need of the Law”.

Why? Simply because the latter is an open denial of Moses core message. And what was Moses core message?-- That the believer must never abandon God's Divine Law-- the supreme truth summarized in the Ten Laws (or "commandments") written upon the two stone tablets by the very finger of God. And this is the reason why Moses exhorts us saying:

"And these words which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart. And thou shalt rehearse them continually unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou tarriest in thine house, and as thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up: And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes. Also thou shalt write them upon the posts of thine house, and upon thy gates"- Deuteronomy 6:6-9 (1599 Geneva Bible).

And, in perfect agreement with Moses original message, prophet Joshua exhorts us to do likewise, when he goes on to say:

"Only be thou strong, and of a most valiant courage, that thou mayest observe and do according to all the Law which Moses my servant hath commanded thee: thou shalt not turn away from it to the right hand, nor to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest. Let not this book of the Law depart out of thy mouth, but meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe and do according to all that is written therein: for then shalt thou make thy way prosperous, and then shalt thou have good success"- Joshua 1:7-8 (1599 Geneva Bible)

Was Yeshua (Jesus of Nazareth, peace be upon him) the God of Israel?

There is absolutely nothing wrong with respecting [and honoring] the figure of Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him). Still, Reformed Samaritanism states Jesus could not have been the God of Israel.

Why? Simply because the Gospel says Jesus was just a mortal who had heard a word from God ("But now ye seek to kill me, A MAN that hath told you the truth, which I HAVE HEARD OF GOD... The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, AND BE SLAIN..."- John 8:40 and Luke 9:22); whereas the Hebrew Scripture says God isn't a man, nor does He ever dies, but rather lives forevermore ("... FOR HE IS NOT A MAN, that he should repent... For I lift up my hand to heaven, and say, I LIVE FOREVER..."- 1 Samuel 15:29 and Deuteronomy 32:40).

The Christian Scriptures states that God cannot be tempted by the Devil ("... for GOD CANNOT BE TEMPTED WITH EVIL..."- James 1:13), whereas Jesus was indeed tempted by the Devil ("And Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness, BEING FORTY DAYS TEMPTED BY THE DEVIL..."- Luke 4:1-2).

The Christian Bible states that Jesus had to learn obedience ("Though he were a Son, YET LEARNED HE OBEDIENCE BY THE THINGS WHICH HE SUFFERED"- Hebrews 5:8); whereas, the God of Israel, doesn't have any need to learn obedience, as He already is morally perfect ("He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: A GOD OF TRUTH AND WITH AND WITHOUT INIQUITY, JUST AND RIGHT IS HE"- Deuteronomy 32:4).

The Christian Bible says that Jesus was given some power he formerly didn't have ("And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, ALL POWER IS GIVEN TO ME IN HEAVEN AND IN EARTH"- Matthew 28:18); whereas the Hebrew Bible states that, the God of Israel, receives power from no one, as all power is already His ("Who hath prevented me, that I should repay him? WHATSOEVER IS UNDER THE WHOLE HEAVEN IS MINE"- Job 41:11).

The Christian Scripture claims Jesus was seen by many people ("AND THERE WENT GREAT MULTITUDES WITH HIM...”- Luke 14:25), whereas the same Christian Scripture claims that no one has ever seen God (“NO MAN HATH SEEN GOD AT ANY TIME...”- 1 John 4:12).

In addition, the gospel quotes both devils and demons proclaiming Jesus to be the Son of God [and therefore equal to the latter]. As is written: «And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, “Thou art Christ, THE Son of God...”- Luke 4:41. And it goes without saying that, if the devil proclaims any sort of theology, you know for sure that such theology is outright false.

And the Hebrew scripture bears witness of the former, when it goes on to say: “BLESSED IS THE MAN THAT WALKETH NOT IN THE COUNSEL OF THE UNGODLY”- Psalm 1:1; “Lo, their good is not in their hand: THE COUNSEL OF THE WICKED IS FAR FROM ME”- Job 21:16; “THE LORD BRINGETH THE COUNSEL OF THE HEATHEN TO NOUGHT”- Psalm 33:10; “HIDE ME FROM THE SECRET COUNSEL OF THE WICKED; from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity”- Psalm 64:2; “The thoughts of the righteous are right: but THE COUNSELS OF THE WICKED ARE DECEIT”»- Proverbs 12:5 (King James Version). And it goes without saying that none is more wicked than a demon.

And the fact that the words of the demons cannot be trusted is such an undeniable truth that, even the Christian writings bear witness to it, when they go on to say: "... He (the Devil) was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for HE IS A LIAR...”- John 8:44.

In short, to be obsessed with the idea of God ever “coming down to Earth in a human form” [so that He is forced to be born, grow up, attain emotional maturity, learn wisdom, and overcome the ignorance that characterizes toddlers] is tantamount to blasphemy. Why? Simply because it is a veiled denial of the God of the Hebrew Scripture (of God’s very nature!).

In other words, Torah states that the Creator is omnipresent [so He doesn't need to come to Earth in any shape or form, as He has always been here!]; Torah states that God is eternal [so it would be wrong to portray Him as been born-- as that would imply that God actually had a beginning]; Torah states that God is all knowing [so that, unlike human beings, He doesn't need to learn anything]; and, finally, Torah states that God is all powerful [so He doesn't need to grow, to mature, or to overcome anything].

And the fact that so many people still cling to the backward idea of the God of Israel “coming down to Earth” in the form of a normal human being speaks volumes about the sad spiritual state of our present generation.

Why? Simply because even ancient Babylonian pagans knew that the divinity does not dwell with flesh and blood (“... and there is none other that can shew it before the king, EXCEPT THE GODS, WHOSE DWELLING IS NOT WITH FLESH”- Daniel 2:11, KJV).

Curiously, the New Testament seems to acknowledge this fact, when it states that, when Paul began preaching the gospel, a pagan multitude mistakenly took him for a god [disguised in a human form]; but he reproached the multitude, encouraging them to abandon such vain ideas. As is written:

“And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, THE GODS ARE COME DOWN TO US IN THE LIKENESS OF MEN...Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes... crying out... why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you THAT YE SHOULD TURN FROM THESE VANITIES UNTO THE LIVING GOD”- Acts 14:11, 14, & 15, KJV .

Truth be told, if you were to read the five books of Moses [without any Christian bias], it would be self evident that the former teaches no one can see God's literal manifestation, and live to talk about it. As is written:

“And He (God) said, THOU CANST NOT SEE MY FACE: FOR THERE SHALL NO MAN SEE ME, AND LIVE”- Exodus 33:20, KJV. Thus, our master Moses teaches that, whenever God seems to have physically appeared to some person, if such person has survived the encounter, it is clear that He didn't really see God's literal manifestation.

What did he see instead? He most likely saw one of God's many messenger's (or “angels”). Thus, Scripture teaches that, the God who delivered the Israelites from the Egyptian bondage and later guided them thru the wilderness in the form of a cloud [and pillar of fire] wasn't literally God, but rather an angel sent by God.

And the former is attested by the verses that goes on to say: “... and when we cried unto the Lord, He heard our voice, AND (HE) SENT AN ANGEL, and brought us forth out of Egypt”- Numbers 20:16; And also says in another place: “Behold, I SEND AN ANGEL BEFORE THEE, TO KEEP THEE IN THE WAY, AND TO BRING THEE INTO THE PLACE WHICH I HAVE PREPARED. Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; for he will not pardon your transgressions: for my name is in him”- Exodus 23:20-21.

In fact, king Solomon [the wisest of all men] acknowledges the impossibility of an infinite God literally dwelling on Earth, as the whole Universe (the heavens of heavens) isn't large enough to stand all of His glory. As is written: “BUT WILL GOD INDEED DWELL ON THE EARTH? BEHOLD, THE HEAVEN AND HEAVEN OF HEAVENS CANNOT CONTAIN THEE”- 1 Kings 8:27.

Does the former mean Christianity is a false and/or invalid religion? Of course not! It only means that, not knowing God's Law, Christian believers worship what they don't really know. But since God is not so interested in our precise theology as much as He is in our sincere repentance and obedience, all God fearing Christian believers can rest assured that they too will have a good share in the world to come.

Hebrew Scripture foretold Jews would end up abandoning Torah's original message

Torah's ultimate message is the Law of “measure for measure” (also known as “sowing and reaping”); that the blessing of Israelite people would come by “the work of their hands” (in other words, as a reward for “sowing” the goodness portrayed by God's commandments). As is written: “And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the Lord thy God, which I command thee this day, to observe and to do them... Thou shalt therefore keep the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which I command thee this day, to do them... This day the Lord thy God hath commanded thee to do these statutes and judgments: thou shalt therefore keep and do them with all thine heart, and with all thy soul...”- Deuteronomy 28:13, 7:11, & 26:16.

And whence do we get that Judah (symbol of “Judaism”) would eventually go astray from ancient Israelite people, no longer believing God's blessing comes thru “the works of their hands”, but rather by their knowledge of abstract theology and Esoteric wisdom (kabbalah)? We get it from the verse that goes on to say: «... And he [Moses] said, “Hear, Lord, the voice of Judah, and bring him [back] unto his people: [and] let his hands be sufficient for him...”»- Deut. 33:7.

Thus, since God knew Jews would end up abandoning Torah's original message, He promised to bring them “a new covenant”-- one in which His Law will return again unto their hearts. As is written:

“Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the Lord: But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my Law (Torah) in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts...”- Jeremiah 31:31-33.

In fact, Hebrew Scripture’s last formal prophet closes his book with a call for Jewish people not to forsake Torah’s [original] message. As is written: “Remember ye the Law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel [Judah included], with the statutes and judgments...”- Malachi 4:4

God’s Law is simple (Deut. 30:11); so, when someone over-complicates it, you know there’s something wrong

Reformed Samaritanism teaches the following: If you claim to be a real Jew, then יהוה (the Lord God, blessed be He) will “judge” you behavior according to the Law prescribed for the Jewish people. Thus, we strongly encourage you to fear Adonay (The Lord God), and abstain from placing a stumbling block before “the blind” (or before “the ignorant of Torah”). As is written:

“Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumbling block before the blind”- Leviticus 19:14.

In other words, make sure not to over complicate God’s Law (or “Torah”), in order to exalt yourself. How could you possibly do that? Very simple! One way of doing it might be to craftily use such [intentional] complications as a convenient excuse for [secretly] turning simple minded [and unsuspecting] Gentiles into your own “ideological servants” and/or “emotional slaves”.

Instead, why not use such temptation as a God given opportunity to show yourself worthy of your Jewish heritage? Go ahead and be humble and honest. How? By letting Gentiles know that Jews are not indispensable. Why? Because all that a Gentile really needs to know about Torah can be packed into one simple statement: “What is hateful to you, do not to your neighbour: that is the whole Torah, while the rest is the commentary thereof; go and learn it”- Master Hillel on Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 31a

In what sense is Reformed Samaritanism different from Judaism, Christianity, and Islam?

The key difference between Reformed Samaritanism and the other three Abrahamic traditions can be summarized as follows:

- 1) Judaism is centered around the idea that Scripture is all about Israel. Therefore, we must exalt and submit to the will of the latter.
- 2) Christianity is centered around the idea that Scripture is all about Jesus. Therefore, we must exalt and submit to the will of the latter
- 3) Islam is centered around the idea that Scripture is all about Muhammad. So we must therefore exalt and submit to the will of the latter
- 4) Reformed Samaritanism is centered around the idea that Scripture is all about a Supreme Judge (יהוה), who will judge the whole universe, rewarding every man with the same goodness he [or she] has performed. So we must therefore exalt יהוה, and submit to His will. How? By embracing the goodness that exalts Him and brings blessings upon us. As is written: “He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth יהוה (the Lord) require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?... But let him that glorieth glory in this-- that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am יהוה (the Lord) which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the Earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord"- Micah 6:8, & Jeremiah 9:24, KJB. And also says elsewhere, "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil"- Ecclesiastes 12:13-14, KJB. And it finally says, "I יהוה (the Lord) search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings"- Jeremiah 17:10, KJB.

The reason why most things taught by Bible scholars are misleading

The way most Bible experts approach the issue of unlocking Hebrew Scripture's message to mankind is seriously flawed. Why? Simply because their fundamental premise is that Scripture must be a sort of "theological Jigsaw puzzle"; only that, unlike most jigsaw puzzles, this one is composed of an incredibly large [yet undetermined] amount of pieces. So, they reckon any part they miss [or wrongly place into the puzzle] would somehow prevent them from having a clear and precise picture of God's message to mankind.

And the latter would make sense if we were dealing with a morally defective (pagan) god- one playing upon us a cruel game of "hide and seek"; But, for the serious follower of ethical monotheism, this view is an intolerable contradiction, as our master Moses taught us that the Creator is morally perfect ("He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he. They have corrupted themselves, their spot is not the spot of his children..."- Deuteronomy 32:4-5).

The fact of the matter is that Scripture conveys just one simple message; one that is hinted at starting with Bible's very first verse [Genesis 1:1] and then keeps repeating itself over and over again in various and different forms [parables, allegories, historical accounts, etc]. And that message is nothing that we can't sense by ourselves on our everyday journey through this physical universe, as it is the message displayed all over nature. What's that message?- The law of "sowing, and reaping"; "eye, for an eye", "action, and reaction"; "cause, and effect"; "what goes around, comes around", etc.

In other words, God's message to mankind is that, if we sow goodness, we will be allowed to reap goodness; that if we search for God, God will search for us; that if we abandon Him, he will abandon us; that if we forgive, we too will be forgiven. And Hebrew tradition summarizes this message saying the following: "What is hateful to you, do not to your neighbor. That is the whole Torah; the rest is commentary. Go and study it"- Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 31a (Rabbi Hillel). On the other hand, Christianity does likewise when it says: "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the Law and the Prophets"- Matthew 7:12.

But, how is the former message conveyed in Genesis 1:1? Very simple! You see, the Hebrew text of Genesis 1:1 reads as follows: "Bereshit Bara Elohim et ha Shamaim..." (In Beginning God created the Heavens...). But since most hebrew words have more than one valid translation, any Hebrew speaking reader will immediately realize that the verse can also be translated as: "With Beginning (in other words, with "principle", or with "head"), God created the heavens...".

What does the verse mean? With what "principle" did God create the heavens? Well, ancient Hebrew people didn't know the Sun was 93 million miles away from Earth. Thus, whenever they raised their eyes toward the heavens, they wondered what mysterious principle allowed those two natural enemies (the fire of the sun, and the water of the clouds) to dwell together in harmony, without destroying one another. And they concluded that such principle must be that "heavens" is the place reserved for those who are loving enough to do likewise; living in harmony even with their natural enemies.

And the fact that this brotherly love brings everlasting life is also confirmed by the verse that goes on to say: "How delightfully good when brothers live together in harmony!..." (Psalm 133:1, Christian Standard Bible). And what comes immediately next?- "... For there the Lord has appointed the blessing - life forevermore" (Psalm 133:3)

«Whence do we know God meant all nations of the world to willingly embrace Torah (God's 10 Supreme Laws)? We know it from the fact that ancient Hebrew tradition recognized the World to be comprised of 70 original nations. And, inspired by the Holy Spirit, Moses uttered the following [prophetic] words: "Shema Yisrael ('Hear, O Israel')... "- Deuteronomy 6:4; but the former may be validly translated also as "Shem- A ('ayin') Yisrael... ". And since the Hebrew word "Shem" means "Name", while the Hebrew letter "ayin" (A) has a numerical value of "70", the phrase could then be read as: "Name of 70 [nations of the world]- Israel!". Thus, just as Torah had been given unto the nation of Israel, so was it also given unto the rest of the World»

Was the Divine message ever meant to be understood in a strict literal sense?

Reformed Samaritanism advocates the idea that Scripture is the means by which God's speaks unto us using riddles and parables ("Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel"- Ezekiel 17:2).

In other words, by means of it's geographical descriptions, it's historical accounts, it's family-centered struggles, it's statutes, it's rites, it's Laws, and it's commandments, Scripture uses something "physical" (and therefore temporary), in order to describe something that isn't physical (and is therefore eternal).

For example, God's Law (or "Torah") places much importance to physical circumcision ("This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee; Every man child among you shall be circumcised"- Genesis 17:10).

Still, physical circumcision of out foreskin is just a symbol for the non-physical circumcision of our hearts. As is written:

1) "Circumcise therefore the foreskin of your heart, and be no more stiffnecked..."- Deuteronomy 10:16

2) "Circumcise yourselves to the Lord, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem: lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings"- Jeremiah 4:4

The fact is that, although important and beneficial, physical circumcision isn't an end unto itself, as it is short lived (disappearing upon the arrival of death). Yet, the symbolic (or non physical) benefit of circumcision (God's unfettered favor) isn't affected by death, as it pertains unto the soul [which is eternal]. As is written:

1) "Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be [forever] a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is mine"- Exodus 19:5

2) "All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as [forever] keep his covenant..."- Psalm 25:10

From whence do we get that circumcision's symbolic meaning [along with it's corresponding punishment] isn't limited to Israelites, but also applies to strangers? We get it from the scripture that goes on to say:

1) "... O ye house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations, In that ye have brought into my sanctuary strangers, uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to pollute it, even my house..."- Ezekiel 44:6-7

And From whence do we get that circumcision's symbolic meaning [along with it's everlasting reward] isn't limited to Israelites, but applies even unto strangers? We get it from the scripture that goes on to say:

1) «Neither let the son of the stranger... speak, saying, "The Lord hath utterly separated me from his people": neither let the eunuch... For thus saith the Lord unto the eunuchs that... choose the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant... I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off»- Isaiah 56:3-5

2) "... the stranger that dwelleth with you shall be unto you as one born among you..."- Leviticus 19:34,

Curiously, ancient Jewish tradition seems to lend support to the idea that Scripture is intended to bring a message that's far beyond the meaning of it's plain words. As is written: «Rabbi Yehudah said: "If one translates a verse literally, he is a liar...»"- Babylonian Talmud, Kiddushin 49a «Reformed Samaritanism teaches the following: “God doesn’t arbitrarily judge [nor rewards] any individual. Rather, by means of His Divine Law of “sowing and reaping”, He forces each person to “reap” the same goodness [or evil] he has freely and willingly “sowed”. If we sow peace an life, we’ll be forced to reap peace and life; But if we sow death and despair, we will be forced to reap death and despair”. And that’s exactly what happened to Pharaoh: Since he tossed Israelite prime (the Israelite children) into the waters of the Nile, both Pharaoh and his own prime (the Egyptian soldiers) were tossed into the waters of the Red sea. No one escapes God’s perfect judgment!»

Should the believer's faith depend upon the coming of a literal Messiah son of David?

A literal Messiah son of David? Grass will grow upon our cheeks, and still a Messiah son of David will not have come. Why? Because all the “ends” [foretold by Moses Torah] have passed, and a Messiah son of David has not come. Thus, our ultimate redemption depends only upon repentance and good deeds. Thus, if Israel repented a single day, immediately would the paradigm of Messiah son of David be fulfilled.

Yet, should national Israel insist upon having a physical Messiah, let him come, but may we not see it. Why? Because of the birth pangs preceding the coming of such human Messiah... In the generation in which that Messiah appears, disciples of the wise will grow fewer and fewer. And as for those who remain, their eyes will be consumed with sorrow and sighing. And many agonies will afflict the entire people-- harsh decrees added one to another, so that while one is still in force, another is quickly promulgated.

In the footsteps of a human Messiah, insolence will increase and honour dwindle; the vine will yield its fruit [abundantly] but wine will be dear; the government will turn to heresy and there will be none [to offer them] reproof;

the meeting-place [of scholars] will be used for immorality; Galilee will be destroyed, Gablan desolated, and the dwellers on the frontier will go about [begging] from place to place without anyone to take pity on them; the wisdom of the learned will degenerate, fearers of sin will be despised, and the truth will be lacking;

youths will put old men to shame, the old will stand up in the presence of the young, a son will revile his father, a daughter will rise against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law, and a man's enemies will be the members of his household; the face of the generation will be like the face of a dog (brazen), a son will not feel ashamed before his father.

So, upon whom is it for us to rely? Upon our Father who is in heaven, upon sincere repentance, good deeds, and Torah study (“This book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success”- Joshua 1:8).

“A lie will remain false, even if the whole world chooses to believe it. But truth will still be true, even if the whole world chooses to deny it. Thus, trust God's eternal Law ('Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy Law is the Truth'- Psalm 119:142), and do not lean upon your own understanding ('Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding'- Proverbs 3:5)”

Is Christian theology false? And, if so, does it mean the Holy One [blessed be He] has no use for it?

When it comes to the religion each of us will eventually follow, there seems to be at play some sort of “natural selection process”; one where we do not seek absolute truth (as too much truth seem to be intimidating!) but rather the truth that will suit our personal needs and/or limitations.

In the case of the noble Christian faith, the Jesus described in the gospels is portrayed as been extremely demanding: he demands that we repent; he demands that we obey the ten sayings (or commandments); he demands that we obey the scribes and the pharisees; he demands that we abandon everything, in order to follow him; he demands that we give our treasures to the poor; he demands that we become servants of our fellow human beings; he demands that we love him so strongly that [in comparison] the love owed to our parents look like hatred; he demands that we pray without stopping; he demands that we dine only with the poor and the lame; he demands that we carry our own cross [in order to follow him], etc.

Of course, in the eyes of the healthy, passionate, rich, and powerful Romans, such demands were simply intolerable. But, after Jesus death, it was the apostle Paul who took upon himself the task of spreading Christianity. So, instead of preaching the stern demands made by Jesus, Paul craftily chose to “photo-shop” Jesus original message, telling to his Greek [and Roman] audience the exact opposite: that acquiring the treasure of everlasting life required no effort from their part, as it was a free gift from God.

And since no one refuses a deal were he gets huge benefits with absolutely no responsibilities, Christianity suddenly started to sell like crazy. Please bear in mind that Jesus had promised his disciples that they would become “fishers of men”; so, Paul just took Jesus words “at face value”, and simply started to use his own convenient “bait” (salvation by faith!).

Of course, we know the former is plain deception, as Scripture (Deuteronomy chapter 28) clearly states that blessings are reserved only for those who obey the commandments, while curses and suffering await those who turn away from them [and this might be the reason why, unlike the many instances were God delivered Israel from it's national enemies, Christianity was never miraculously delivered from it's national enemies].

Yet, in spite of it's deceptive nature, Christian theology does seem to have a special place in God's plan for non Hebrew nations. And such plan is portrayed in the Gibeonites- the Canaanite gentiles who used deception, in order to trick Israel into making peace with them. In the end, although their deceptive ways were publicly exposed, the Gibeonites were granted the supreme honor of becoming part of the daily Temple service (bringing the required water and wood).

Why was the Gibeonite deception rewarded? Because Joshua recognized that, going thru with such an elaborate ruse, meant that the Gibeonites placed a high value on the life of their brothers and sisters- an idea that is at the heart of God's service (the Hebrew sages acknowledged that the Law could be broken, if it meant saving a human life!).

Curiously, Hebrew tradition (Sanhedrin 97a) acknowledges the paramount role to be played by the Christian religion: «Rabbi Isaac said: “The son of David will not come until the whole world is converted to the belief of the [Judeo-Christian] heretics”. Raba said: “What verse [proves this]?- ‘it is all turned white: he is clean’ (Lev. XIII, 13. This refers to leprosy: a white swelling is a symptom of uncleanness; nevertheless, if the whole skin is so affected, it is declared clean. So here too; when all are heretics, it is a sign that the world is about to be purified by the advent of Messiah)”».

Reformed Samaritans Legends: Why did it take Moses 40 days to receive just 10 Divine Laws? What else was he doing around?

The following Samaritan legend will help us understand the reason why it took Moses 40 whole days to received the Ten Commandments: Once upon a time [and during a public worship service] a Reformed Samaritan sage asked one of his disciples to stand up and say a prayer.

Then, the latter stood up and spun out his prayer to great length. The rest of the disciples went on to say: “Master, what a long winded fellow this man is!”. The sage replied: “Did he spin out his prayer to greater length than our master Moses, who spent “the forty days and the forty nights [in prayer before the Lord]” (Deuteronomy 9:25)?

Another time, it happened that the same disciple stood up in front of his master, and made his prayer extremely short. The rest of the disciples went on to say: “Master, what an abbreviator this man is!”... The sage replied: “Was he a greater abbreviator than our master Moses, who prayed saying , “Heal her, O Good, I beseech Thee!” (Numbers 12:13)?

«Elijah [the prophet] said: “I call Heaven and Earth to witness that, whether it be a Jew or a heathen, whether it be a man or a woman, a manservant or a maidservant, the Holy Spirit will suffuse each of them in keeping with the deeds he [or she] performs”»- Tanna debe Eliyahu, edited by Friedmann, Page 48

The simple reason why the Creator never intended for Jews, Judaism, Jewish kingdoms, or a Messiah Son of David to ever exist

If we dare to be bold enough, we would have to admit that, from a purely Scriptural standpoint, Jewish people should have never existed. Why? Because Jews are [by definition] the children of Judah, who was in turn a child of Leah. And God's Law implies that Jacob (whose name would later be changed to “Israel”) was not meant to marry Leah, but rather Rachel (who was Leah's sister).

In fact, Jacob's marriage to Leah was the unintended consequence of Laban's deception and treachery [things God utterly abhors].

And why wasn't God's will for Jacob to marry both Rachel and Leah? Because the Holy One considers it a wicked thing for a man to marry a woman together with her sister, as the former marriage makes them rivals. ("Neither shalt thou take a woman together with her sister, to make her a rival..."- Jubilee Bible 2000).

Thus, having no Leah, Jacob should have never begot Judah [one of Leah's own children]; and therefore no Jewish tribe should have ever existed [as Judah was the father of all members of the future tribe of Judah].

Obviously, with no Jewish tribe around, no such thing as a Jewish Southern kingdom should have ever existed; no Jewish Royal dynasty; no king David; and of course no "Messiah, Son of David". Obviously, the Israelites would have still gone down into Egypt [in order to be enslaved], and afterwards experience a miraculously deliverance by the hand of the Holy One [as promised to Abraham]. But, instead of following Moses Law [which the Talmud has intentionally complicated, in part to Jewish sages almost indispensable], the children of Israel would most likely be worshipping just like ancient Job; who, in spite of not having a written copy of God's Law, had enough ethical monotheism to be considered God's greatest man ("Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?"- Job 1:8, King James Bible).

Optionally, Israelites could have received a pure and more straightforward version of the oral Law; one based upon God's Ten Supreme Laws; the latter most likely given thru one member of Dan's tribe. Why Dan? Because the Hebrew word "Dan" can be loosely translated as "Judge"; and it is only fitting that the Law should be given by means of a Judge.

Curiously, not only Jews should have never existed, but neither should have Jewish kingship. Why? Again, because God's perfect will never intended it to be that way. You see, given the corrupting influence too much power can exert upon any man [as well as the natural inclination we humans feel toward personality cults], God never wanted Israel to be like it's Pagan neighbors [having a human King]. Why? Because the later would most often turn out to be wicked and debased.

Unfortunately, Israel chose to place it's own [private] will ahead of God's [perfect] will. As is written: «But ye have this day rejected your God, who Himself saveth you out of all your calamities and your distresses; and ye have said unto Him: "Nay, but set a [human] king over us"...»- 1 Samuel 10:19, JPS 1917 Edition.

Thus, Jewish kingship was something God's mercy "tolerate" in the midst of His people; though [as God had accurately predicted thru prophet Samuel], the overwhelming majority of Jewish kings turned out to be "pagan-like" leaders; idolaters whose main concern wasn't bringing Israelite people closer to God, but rather to obtain power, praise, and self glorification.

In short, the Israel originally envisaged by the Creator (blessed be He), was quite different from the one we currently have. Why? Because God's perfect will was for Israel to beget no Judah; and thus include no Jewish tribe; no Jewish southern kingdom; and therefore no Jews nor Judaism. God's perfect will for Israel was for the latter to be composed of four [and not twelve] tribes. God's perfect will was for Israel to have no past, present, nor future political king; no Messiah son of David; and no complex Torah requiring a Bible expert in order to properly understand it.

Instead, the Creator wanted Israel to exercise the ethical monotheism incarnated by the spiritual Giants (Enoch, Noah, Job, etc) who had lived centuries before there were any Jews [nor Judaism] around; a pure and simple Hebrew faith that is framed upon God's Ten Supreme Laws (or “Commandments”).

And even Moses (who was not meant to be around) seems to have hinted at this simple religion, when he went on to say: “For this commandment which I command thee this day, it is not hidden from thee (so you don’t need an expert, in order to get it’s proper meaning), neither is it far off”- Deut. 30:11).

In the former verse, the Hebrew word translated as “commandment” is “mitzvah”, the latter being the singular form of the word “Mitzvot” (commandments). And from whence do we know Moses is actually making reference the God’s Ten commandments? We know it from the fact that, while enumerating the latter, the Creator uses the same word.

As is written: “for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children... And shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me and keep my commandments”- Deut. 5:9-10. In the former verse, the word translated as “my commandments” is “Mitzvotav”, which is the plural possessive noun for “Mitzvah”.

Again, Moses seems to have hinted at this simple faith [a faith that needs nothing else], when he went on to say: “These words [the Ten Laws] יהוה (the Lord) spake unto all your assembly in the mount out of the midst of the fire, of the cloud, and of the thick darkness, with a great voice: and He added no more. And he wrote them in two tables of stone, and delivered them unto me”- Deut. 5:22 Likewise, though not supposed to be around, king Solomon seems to have hinted at the self sufficiency of this basic religion, when he is quoted saying the following: “Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man [nothing else is needed!]”- Ecclesiastes 12:13. Of course, in the former verse, the word translated as “His commandments” is “Mitzvotav”-- another plural possessive form of the Hebrew noun “Mitzvah”.

Curiously, even the Jewish tradition seems to hint at the same idea, when it goes on to say that, once upon a time, prophet Elijah appeared to a venerable rabbi while the latter was visiting a busy street market. Seeing that the market was full of Jewish merchants, the rabbi asked: “Master, besides you and me, is there anybody here destined for life in the world to come?”; to the rabbi’s surprise, Elijah answered: “None whatsoever!”; but, suddenly, a certain man appeared. Then Elijah said, “This man is destined for life in the world to come”. As soon as Elijah departed, the rabbi went over to that man and immediately asked him: “What special merit is in your hands, that you should deserve to be granted a good share in the world to come?” Surprised by the question, the man answered: “My master, I have no special merit, as I’m just one of the many guards keeping the local prison. The only thing I do differently is that, whenever a woman under my custody, I make sure to secretly spill some red wine upon her skirt, so that my fellow guards feel no desire to rape her”. At that, the rabbi exclaimed: “My most honorable friend, you are indeed worthy of life in the world to come!”

“Judaism is for Jews; But as for Torah, as well as the entrance it freely provides into God’s Holy assembly, they both are available unto all nations of the World”

¿No guardar los Diez mandamientos? ¡Pero si hasta el Nuevo Testamento [que postula la salvación por fe] rechaza de plano tal extravío!

Los nobles escritos cristianos afirman lo siguiente: «Porque de cierto os digo que, hasta que pasen el cielo y la tierra, ni una jota ni una tilde pasará de la Ley... De manera que cualquiera que quebrante uno de estos mandamientos muy pequeños, y así enseñe a los hombres, muy pequeño será llamado en el reino de los cielos; mas cualquiera que los haga y los enseñe, este será llamado grande en el reino de los cielos...

... El que dice: “Yo le conozco”, y no guarda sus mandamientos, el tal es mentiroso, y la verdad no está en él...

... Pues este es el amor a Dios, que guardemos sus mandamientos; y sus mandamientos no son gravosos (es decir, imposibles de cumplir)...

... Aquí está la paciencia de los santos, los que guardan los mandamientos de Dios y la fe de Jesús.

... (en otras palabras, aquellos que tiene “la fe de Jesus” también tienen que guardar los mandamientos)»- Mateo 5:18-19, 1 Juan 2:4, 1 Juan 5:3, & Apocalipsis 14:12 (Biblia Reina Valera, versión de 1960)

How big is the God of Abraham?

The God worshiped by Abraham [and preached by Moses] has no physical substance; but, if He were to have a physical body, it would be so incredibly large that the whole universe wouldn’t be enough to cover all the space contained within the smallest sub-atomic particle comprising such body. As is written: “But will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, the heavens, the heavens of heavens [the whole universe!] cannot contain thee...”- 1 Kings 8:27, Jubilee Bible 2000.

«A life based solely upon abstract secular sciences, and with no notion of God [or Godly morality] is sort of like a toilet: Though it will outwardly seem to be whitewashed clean and shiny; it is nonetheless inwardly rotten, filled with human filth and stench»

All things holy come from God

Hebrew Scripture states two things that, at first glance, seem to be at odds with one another: "... neither have [you] done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you"- Ezekiel 5:7; "... but [you] have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you"- Ezekiel 11:12 (JPS, Bible, 1917 Edition).

What does it mean? It means the Holy One (blessed be He) expected Israel to be wise enough to understand that all things holy come from Him: A noble Zoroastrian principle, A wise Jewish Midrash, a morally deep Samaritan interpretation, an inspiring Christian song, a modest and decent Muslim attire... if it makes you kinder, holier, more just, more merciful, and more humble, you can be assured it springs from the God of Israel.

Thus, Israel should have learned the noble ordinances pertaining to their non Hebrew neighbors. Yet, as they learned instead the bad ones, God had to rebuke His people's stubbornness.

We don't see God as He is; we see Him as we are

The inner spirit of God's Law ("sowing and reaping") is of such a peculiar nature, that your portrait of the Creator will always be a reflection of your own virtues and/or vices. Thus, if you happen to be a wise and noble person, you will see the image of a wise and noble God. But if you are instead uncouth, vulgar, and immoral, you will perceive the Creator as an uncouth, vulgar and immoral being. As is written: "With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright; With the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure; and with the froward thou wilt shew thyself froward"- Psalm 18:25-26 (King James Bible)

«Beware of desk experts! Why? Because life will eventually teach you that, in theory, there's no difference between theory and practice; but, in practice, there is indeed a great difference»

How did ancient people earned God's favour?

God's Law is clear, when it states that, no matter if the person was Hebrew or not, he who displayed mercy toward his fellow creatures not only knew his Creator, but was also granted the right to join God's holy assembly.

As is written: "An Ammonite or Moabite shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord... [Why?] Because they met you not with bread and with water in the way, when ye came forth out of Egypt..."- Deut. 23:3-4.

And Hebrew Scripture seems to agree with the former, when it goes on to say:

"Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble... He [your father] judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the Lord... Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor..."- Psalm 41:1, Jeremiah 22:16, & Daniel 4:27 (KJB).

In fact, Christian writings seem to assert the same truth, when they go on to say: "Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy"- Matthew 5:7, KJB

True Religion

There's one true and godly religion: To be just, kind, and humble. As it has been said: “Turn away from Evil! Do Good! Then you will Live in the Land Forever (Life everlasting!)”- Psalm 37:27 (Common English Bible). And elsewhere says: “He [God] has told you, human one, what is good, and what the Lord requires from you- to do justice, [to] embrace faithful love, and [to] walk humbly with your God”- Micah 6:8.

What then is the role played by normative religion (Judaism, Samaritanism, Christianity, Islam, etc.)? Simply to try and be faithful messengers of God's true religion. And all is well and good, as long as we keep in mind the unavoidable distinction that will always exist between the perfect message of true religion, and the imperfect role played by it's appointed messengers

«Ben Zoma said: “Who is wise? He who learns from everyone, as is said, ‘Because everyone has been my teacher,I have gained understanding’- Psalm 119:99”»- Pirke Avot (Wisdom of the Fathers) 4:1. And from whence do know God’s Law teaches the same? We know it from Moses, who learned from Jethro [his father in Law, who also happened to be a non Hebrew sage]. As is written: “So Moses hearkened to the voice of his father-in-law, and did all that he had said”- Exodus 18:24, Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition

The vanity of a religious identity that doesn’t translate into righteous living

Reformed Samaritanism advises all men to avoid placing an excessive amount of trust unto “having the right theology”, or “having the right religious identity”. Why? Because Scripture compares men with trees (“The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life... The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven... whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much... It is thou, O king [Nebuchadnezzar]...”- Proverbs 11:30, & Daniel 4:17-19, JPS 1917 Edition).

Why is man compared to a tree? In order to teach that God’s own religion is “performance based”. In other words, that just as a tree is valued by it’s fruit, so does God value men by their fruits (“It hath been told thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord doth require of thee?: only to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God”- Micah 6:8, JPS 1917 Edition).

What does it mean? It means that, while knowing Torah (God’s Law) is indeed an awesome thing, it can't be an end unto itself. Why? Because you can know Torah [God’s Law] and yet still be a “rasha” (a wicked person). In fact, being the wisest man of all, King Solomon knew far more Torah than any of us will ever do, yet he ended up worshiping idols. Not only that, but he went on to oppress his own people; so that [after his death] Israelites had to ask his son for some kind of relief from their burdens (“Thy father made our yoke grievous; now therefore make thou the grievous service of thy father, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us, lighter, and we will serve thee”- 1 Kings 12:4, JPS 1917 Edition).

And the fact that the Holy One is far more pleased with the person’s actions than with such person’s self serving theology (or religious identity) is also attested by the verses that go on to say: «When I say to the righteous [Hebrew believer], that he shall surely live; if he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but for his iniquity that he hath committed, for it shall he die. Again, when I say unto the wicked [Pagan Gentile]: “Thou shalt surely die”; if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right; if the wicked restore the pledge, give back that which he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die. None of his sins that he hath committed shall be remembered against him; he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live...”- Ezekiel 33:13-16, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition.

The phrase, “If he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered” refers to people like the Jewish prophet who went to speak unto king Jeroboam. The former ended up rebelling against God’s word, and was therefore destroyed. As is written: “... It is the man of God, who rebelled against the word of יהוה; therefore יהוה hath delivered him unto the lion, which hath torn him, and slain him...”- 1 Kings 13:26, JPS 1917 Edition.

Conversely, the phrase, “if the wicked restore the pledge, give back that which he had taken... he shall surely live”, refers to Pagan Gentiles like king Abimelech, who paid heed to the word of God, returning Sarah back unto Abraham (a deed for which God granted him health and life). As is written: “Now therefore restore the man's wife; for he is a prophet, and he shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live... And Abimelech took sheep and oxen, and men-servants and women-servants, and gave them unto Abraham, and restored him Sarah his wife... and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maid-servants; and they bore children. For the LORD had fast closed up all the wombs of the house of Abimelech...”- Genesis 20:7,14, 17&18.

Finally. Jewish tradition also seems to assert that it is “our fruit” (in other words, the result of our “fear of sin”) what makes our Torah knowledge worthwhile (and not the other way around). As is written:

«Rabbi Chanina ben Dosa said: “He in whom the fear of sin takes precedence of wisdom, his wisdom will endure; but he in whom wisdom takes precedence of his fear of sin, his wisdom will not endure”... He used to say: “He whose works exceed his wisdom, his wisdom endures; but he whose wisdom exceeds his works, his wisdom will not endure”»- Pirke Avot (Wisdom of the Fathers).

El que es de יהוה (el Dios de Israel, bendito sea), las palabras de יהוה oye ¿Hay en la Ley de יהוה [la Escritura Hebrea], algo que sea mentira? La realidad es que, solo los enemigos de יהוה (el Dios de Israel, bendito sea) piensan que no podemos confiar en todo lo que יהוה dice en su Palabra. Y, la Ley de יהוה, dice así: «Apártate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre»- Salmo 37:27.

Es decir, el Creador promete al hombre que, si se aparta del mal [por medio del arrepentimiento], y comienza a hacer el bien, vivirá para siempre. Pero, ¿no mueren también los justos? ¿No dice la Escritura en otro lugar: «Los muertos nada saben»- Eclesiastés 9:5. De nuevo, la Ley de יהוה, no contiene nada que sea falso o incierto.

Es decir, si descubrimos que la Ley presenta dos verdades que aparentan ser contradictorias, es porque, cada una de esas verdades, es parte de una verdad mucho mas abarcadora [que las incluye a ambas]. En nuestro caso, el pasaje de Eclesiastés 9:5, habla del cuerpo físico; y enseña que, el cuerpo físico [y mortal] en el que habitan ahora los justos, habrá de morir, y dejará de ser [pues, lo justos, nunca volverán a caminar sobre la Tierra dentro de ese mismo cuerpo mortal].

En cambio, el pasaje del Salmo 37:27, habla del alma, y enseña que, el alma del justo [el hombre que se arrepiente], ya obtiene la vida eterna [es decir, que aunque su cuerpo mortal habrá de morir, su alma continuará viviendo eternamente].

De nuevo, Satanás siempre desea oponerse y menoscabar la Palabra de יהוה. Y es por esto que utiliza las distintas sectas y cultos (Adventistas, Mormones, Testigos, Netsaritas, etc) para poner en entredicho la Palabra.

¿Como? Pues alegando que, este o aquel otro pasaje, no es de confiar; pues contradice lo dicho por algún tercer pasaje. En nuestro caso, las sectas niegan la promesa de vida eterna hecha por יהוה el Salmo 37:27; alegando en cambio que, es falso que el alma de los justos tenga vida eterna, pues el alma no sobrevive la muerte del cuerpo.

¿Nota usted el engaño satánico? Pretendiendo estar comprometidos con someterse a la absoluta verdad de יהוה, las sectas convencen a sus adeptos de que, no todo lo que dice יהוה en su Palabra, es una verdad absoluta; inducen a los creyentes a pensar [inconscientemente] que, la palabra de יהוה, no es suficientemente confiable como para que el creyente pueda apoyarse exclusivamente en ella. Les convencen de que, “la ultima palabra”, no esta en lo que sale de la boca de יהוה, sino en lo que al respecto sale de la boca de Elena G. De White, de Charles Taze Russell, o de José Smith (paz sea con todos ellos). Y, esto ultimo, hace que [para todos los fines prácticos] estos creyentes terminen idolatrando a estos grandes lideres religiosos; poniendo en ellos una mayor confianza, que la que ponen en יהוה.

Y es por esto que, esta aptitud de contradecir y menoscabar la credibilidad de la Ley de יהוה, es siempre la postura que distingue a los enemigos de יהוה. ¿Por que? Pues porque, el que es de יהוה, escucha las palabras de יהוה (es decir, cree y obedece las palabras de יהוה). Pero, el que no es de יהוה, no puede escuchar las palabras de יהוה, pues no es de Él.

Is it really important to be part of Jacob's stock?

Being a physical descendant of Jacob (Israel) will be important only if you strive to live the life of righteousness that pleases the God of Jacob; otherwise, it will avail you nothing. Why? Because Hebrew Scripture teaches that king Ahab belonged to Jacob's stock. Yet when Ahab turned away from God, the Creator personally planned his extermination. As is written: «And the Lord said, “Who shall persuade Ahab, that he may go up and fall at Ramothgilead?”»- 2 Kings 22:20, KJV). On the other hand, Job wasn't related at all to Jacob's race, yet God was so pleased with him that went on to proclaim his name in the heavens («And the Lord said unto Satan, “Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?”»- Job 1:8).

¿Para que ha sido creado el hombre?

El Samaritanismo reformado enseña que, por medio del relato contenido en el libro de Génesis (capitulo 1, verso 26), nuestro maestro Moisés intima a sus seguidores que el hombre fue Creado a imagen y semejanza de Dios [es decir, en un estado de absoluta pureza ética y moral].

¿Por que? Pues porque ese estado de justicia y pureza es el que capacita al hombre para cumplir el propósito original de su Creación. Y ese propósito no es otro sino ser un digno representante del justo y perfecto Dios predicado por nuestro maestro Moisés. Como esta escrito: “Él es la Roca, cuya obra es perfecta, Porque todos sus caminos son rectitud; Dios de verdad, y sin ninguna iniquidad en él; Es justo y recto”- Deuteronomio 32:4, Biblia Reina Valera, versión del 1960.

Pero, ¿a que que tipo de representación se hace referencia? Pues a la que permite al hombre reinar [en nombre de su Creador] sobre el Mundo en el cual ha sido colocado. Como esta escrito:

«Entonces dijo Dios: Hagamos al hombre a nuestra imagen, conforme a nuestra semejanza; y

señoree en los peces del mar, en las aves de los cielos, en las bestias, en toda la tierra, y en todo animal que se arrastra sobre la tierra»- Génesis 1:26.

Desafortunadamente, el hombre optó por renunciar libremente a esa pureza ética y moral que le habría permitido reinar sobre el Mundo en el cual había sido plantado. Así que, la vida que al presente experimentamos, puede ser percibida como una manifestación de la misericordia Divina; pues provee a cada hombre las circunstancias requeridas para “volver al paraíso perdido”.

En otras palabras, provee una segunda oportunidad para renunciar a la maldad, y escoger en cambio abrazar la vida ética y moral que ha de permitir al hombre cumplir finalmente el propósito original de su creación: reinar [en nombre de su Dios] sobre el mundo en el que ha sido plantado.

Pero, ¿no hay billones de hombres viviendo simultáneamente en este mismo planeta? Como es posible que cada uno de ellos pueda reinar sobre un mundo propio, siendo que aparenta haber solo un Mundo sobre el cual reinar?

Pues, la respuesta a la anterior pregunta debe ser entendida a la luz de los versos donde Moisés enseña lo siguiente: “Y se le apareció el Ángel de el Señor en una llama de fuego en medio de una zarza... He aquí yo envío mi Ángel delante de ti para que te guarde en el camino, y te introduzca en el lugar que yo he preparado... Porque mi Ángel irá delante de ti, y te llevará a la tierra... Ve, pues, ahora, lleva a este pueblo a donde te he dicho; he aquí mi ángel irá delante de ti... Y el ángel de el Señor le dijo... He aquí yo he salido para resistirte, porque tu camino es perverso delante de mí... y clamamos a el Señor, el cual oyó nuestra voz, y envió un ángel, y nos sacó de Egipto”

-- Éxodo 3:2, 23:20, 23:23, 32:34, Números 22:32, & Números 20:16. Los anteriores versos intiman que Dios designa a un ángel en particular (uno al que se le designa con el título de “el ángel de Dios”) para ser su principal representante en este mundo. Y este último ángel aparece, guarda, va, habla, liberta, juzga, conduce, y dispensa justicia en nombre de su Creador. Obviamente, para cada mundo en particular, el Creador designa a un ángel en particular.

Pero, como no hay limite al posible numero de mundos creados por Dios [tanto en este universo, como en cualquier otro universo creado], pues tampoco hay limite al número de “ángeles del Señor” que puedan gobernar sobre un mundo en particular. Pero, ¿porque un ángel? ¿No dijimos que es el hombre quien fue creado para reinar en nombre de su Dios? ¿Que significado tiene lo anterior? Pues significa que, tan pronto como muere un hombre justo [es decir, una persona que ha renunciado previamente a la corrupción moral de este mundo, para abrazar en cambio la vida de justicia y rectitud que agrada al Creador], su alma recibe todos los atributos que inicialmente caracterizaron a Adán (justicia, misericordia, humildad, sabiduría, inteligencia, inmortalidad, un vinculo directo con la mente de Dios, etc).

¿Para que? Pues para que adquiera automáticamente el privilegio de representar a su Creador.

¿Como? Pues gobernando sobre el mundo en el cual ha de ser plantada (es decir, fungiendo como “el ángel de Dios” para un mundo en particular). ¿Y de donde sabemos que la anterior idea cuenta con el aval de la Escritura? Pues lo sabemos a partir del verso que dice: “... porque [al morir] el hombre va a su morada eterna...” - Eclesiastés 12:5 (Biblia reina Valera, Versión 1960). Es que, en el original Hebreo, el anterior pasaje puede ser válidamente traducido como: “... porque va el hombre a casa, su [propio] mundo (ki holech ha-adam el beit olamo)...”.

The Holy Scripture is a Great and Divine parable

Both Hebrew and Christian Bible are mostly made out of Divine moral parables and metaphors; but most people don't like to admit this fact, as parables are subject to more than one valid interpretation

[and therefore hinder our respective religious establishments from claiming to have Bible's only true interpretation!].

Truth be told, all of the Prophets (including Jesus) spoke only in parables. As is written: "Jesus told the crowds all these things in parables, and he did not tell them anything without a parable"- Matthew 13:3.

What are Bible parables about? In an nutshell, all of the Bible parables center around one supreme subject: abandoning evil, and loving God [by doing good to our suffering fellow human beings]. As it is said: "Turn from evil and do good, so you may live forever" (Psalm 37:27, Tree of Life Version Bible); "Therefore, whatever you want others to do for you, do also the same for them, for this is the Law and the Prophets"- Matthew 7:12

La secreta y a menudo desconocida razón por la cual Dios decidió “escoger” a Israel

Por un lado, el Creador dice en su Palabra que Jacob mintió descaradamente; pues, a fin de obtener la bendición anhelada, estuvo dispuesto a engañar a su padre, asegurándole que no era Jacob, sino en cambio Esaú («Entonces este fue a su padre y dijo: “Padre mío”. E Isaac respondió: “Heme aquí; ¿quién eres, hijo mío?” Y Jacob dijo a su padre: “Yo soy Esaú tu primogénito...”»- Gen. 27:18-19, Reina Valera 1960).

Pero, por otro lado, vemos que Dios escoge finalmente a Jacob (también conocido como “Israel”), haciéndole el supremo representante de Su Pueblo Santo (“Porque el Señor ha escogido a Jacob para sí... Por amor de mi siervo Jacob, y de Israel mi escogido, te llamé por tu nombre...”- Salmo 135:4, Isaías 45:4.

¿Como es posible que por un lado Dios escoja a Israel como supremo ejemplo de su Pueblo Santo, mientras que por otro lado le adscribe los hechos y las aptitudes de un vil y mentiroso suplantador; un ser que no respetaba ni a su propio padre? ¿Será acaso Dios necio, para no saber como escoger dignamente a sus representantes? ¿O será en cambio que el Santo de Israel (bendito sea) intenta con ello darnos una profunda lección moral?

¿Cual lección moral? Pues que, si Dios escogió a Israel, no fue porque Israel fuese el mas obediente de todos los pueblos, sino precisamente lo opuesto. ¿Y de donde lo sabemos? Pues del texto que procede a decir, «Dijo más el Señor a Moisés: “Yo he visto a este pueblo, que por cierto es pueblo de dura cerviz”»- Éxodo 32:9.

Si Dios escogió a Israel, no fue porque Israel fuese el mas “grande” [es decir, el mas “santo”] de todos los pueblos, sino precisamente lo contrario. Como esta escrito: “No por ser vosotros más que todos los pueblos os ha querido el Señor y os ha escogido, pues vosotros erais el más insignificante de todos los pueblos”- Deuteronomio 7:7.

¿Y de donde sabemos que son la santidad y la obediencia a los mandamientos Divinos lo que hace “grande” a una nación? Pues lo sabemos del texto que dice: «... esta es vuestra sabiduría y vuestra inteligencia ante los ojos de los pueblos, los cuales oirán todos estos estatutos, y dirán: Ciertamente pueblo sabio y entendido, nación grande es esta”- Deuteronomio 4:6.

Si Dios escogió a Israel, no fue porque Israel fuese moralmente superior a ningún otro pueblo, pues el Creador le reprende diciendo: «Oíd, cielos, y escucha tú, Tierra; porque habla el Señor: “Crie hijos, y los engrandecí, y ellos se rebelaron contra mí. El buey conoce a su dueño, y el asno el pesebre de su señor; Israel [a diferencia de las anteriores bestias] no entiende, mi pueblo no tiene conocimiento...

... ¡Oh gente pecadora, pueblo cargado de maldad, generación de malignos, hijos depravados!

Dejaron a el Señor, provocaron a ira al Santo de Israel, se volvieron atrás. ¿Por qué querréis ser castigados aún? ¿Todavía os rebelaréis? Toda cabeza está enferma, y todo corazón doliente. Desde la planta del pie hasta la cabeza no hay en él cosa sana, sino herida, hinchazón y podrida llaga...”- Isaías 1:2-6.

En resumen, si Dios escogió a Israel, no fue porque Israel hubiese sido el mejor de todos los pueblos. De hecho, fue todo lo contrario. Verá usted, el Creador deseaba dar a la raza humana un grande y sublime mensaje. Y, los vicios y defectos que caracterizaban a Israel, eran precisamente aquello que Dios “necesita” [si nos atreviésemos a aplicar tal adjetivo a aquel que no padece de necesidad alguna].

¿Cual era ese grande y sublime mensaje? Pues que, no importando cuan dura de cerviz, cuan insignificante, cuan pequeña, cuan neciamente irracional, cuan rebelde, cuan maligna, cuan depravada, cuan enfermiza, o cuan podrida sea una persona, en el momento mismo en que tal persona humilla su corazón, abandona su vieja vida, y comienza en a vivir para Dios, en ese mismo momento sus faltas le son perdonadas; su iniquidades no les son mas recordadas, y el Espíritu de Dios le transforma en un hombre nuevo-- haciéndole de ese modo parte integral del Pueblo Santo tipificado por la antigua Nación de Israel. Como esta escrito:

1) “Mas el impío, si se apartare de todos sus pecados que hizo, y guardare todos mis estatutos e hiciere según el derecho y la justicia, de cierto vivirá; no morirá”- Ezequiel 18:21 (En el anterior verso, note que el Creador no dice, “Mas EL ISRAELITA, si se apartare de todos sus pecados... de cierto vivirá”; sino que dice en cambio, “ Mas EL IMPÍO, si se apartare de todos sus pecados... de cierto vivirá”, intimando con ello que el perdón aplica a todos, sin distinción de raza).

2) «Cercano está el Señor a los quebrantados de corazón; y salva a los contritos de espíritu»- Salmo 34:18. En el anterior pasaje, note que no se nos dice que el Señor salve a los Judíos, a los Samaritanos, a los Cristianos, o a los Musulmanes, sino que salva en cambio a “los contritos de espíritu” [es decir, a todo aquel que esta arrepentido de sus faltas, sin importar su credo o raza].

3) “Los sacrificios de Dios son el espíritu quebrantado; Al corazón contrito y humillado no despreciarás tú, oh Dios [negándole tu misericordia, y tu perdón]”- Salmo 51:17

- 4) “El que confiesa su pecado, y se aparta, alcanzará misericordia”- Proverbios 28:13
- 5) “Por tanto, confesaré mi maldad, y me contristaré por mi pecado”- Salmo 38:18
- 6) “Entonces el Espíritu de el Señor vendrá sobre ti con poder... y serás mudado en otro hombre”- 1 Samuel 10:6

«“Birds of the same feather, fly together”... If you want to know whether a person is wicked or not, just observe who will such person praise (“They that forsake the Law praise the wicked; but such as keep the law contend with them”- Proverbs 28:4, JPS Bible, 1917 edition)»

When you raise man to the level of God, you end up lowering God to the level of man

The Christian writings say: «What I am saying is this: One of you says, “I belong to Paul,” or “I belong to Apollos,” or “I belong to Cephas,” or “I belong to Christ”»- 1 Corinthians 1:12 (1599 Geneva Bible).

In their well intended [but totally misguided] attempt to praise Jesus, Christianity has raised him to the level of God. But this is foolish, as the gospel quotes the former stating he has no interest in the praise of men (“I [Jesus] receive not the praise of men”- John 5:41, 1599 Geneva Bible).

Not only that, but by raising Jesus to the level of God, Christianity ends up lowering God to the level of men- thereby placing the morally perfect Creator in the same list as their morally flawed creatures; men like Paul, Apollos, and Cephas.

There’s more! Not only is God placed in the same list with morally flawed human beings, but He is even placed at the end of the list! (“I belong to Paul... I belong to Apollos... I belong to Cephas... I belong to Jesus”).

¿Could you imagine ancient Hebrew believers splitting themselves into “followers of Abraham”, “followers of Moses”, “followers of David”, and finally “Followers of יהוה”? Wouldn’t it be a sort of pagan blasphemy to even suggest that the Creator was just another flawed mortal human being, just as Abraham, Moses, and David?

Ocho razones por las cuales podría con propiedad decirse que el Mormonismo es [en esencia] la versión cristiana de la antigua fe Islámica:

- 1) Al igual que sucedió con Muhammad (paz sea con él), quien reclamó haber sido visitado [privadamente] por un ángel (Gabriel), de ese mismo modo José Smith reclamó haber sido visitado [privadamente] por un Ángel (Moroni).
- 2) De igual modo que Muhammad reclamó que el Ángel le había revelado un libro Divinamente inspirado [el Corán], de ese mismo modo José Smith reclamó que el Ángel le había revelado un libro divinamente inspirado [el libro de Mormón].
- 3) De igual modo que Muhammad reclamó que, la nueva revelación divina, le permitía tener muchas esposas [incluyendo las esposas de algunos de sus seguidores], de ese mismo modo José Smith reclamó que, la nueva revelación divina, le permitía tener muchas esposas [incluyendo las esposas de algunos de sus seguidores].
- 4) Al igual que Muhammad tuvo su propio ejército, y no permitía que sus seguidores cuestionasen la veracidad de sus reclamos, de ese mismo modo José Smith llegó a tener su propio ejército, y tampoco permitía que sus adeptos cuestionasen sus reclamos (hasta el día de hoy, los Mormones envían espías a sus propias congregaciones, a fin de asegurarse de que nadie se desvía de su línea doctrinal)

5) Del mismo modo que Muhammad murió a consecuencia de un atentado contra su vida, de ese mismo modo José Smith murió a consecuencia de un atentado contra su vida.

6) Del mismo modo que los seguidores de Muhammad se vieron forzados a abandonar sus hogares (en la Meca), a fin de emigrar a otro lugar (Medina), del mismo modo los seguidores de José Smith se vieron forzados a abandonar sus hogares (en Nauvoo, Illinois), a fin de emigrar a otro lugar (el Lago Salado, en Utah)

7) Al igual que Muhammad se auto proclamó profeta, pero nunca realizó profecía ni milagro alguno, de ese mismo modo José Smith se auto proclamó profeta, pero nunca realizó profecía ni milagro alguno.

8) Del mismo modo que Muhammad predicaba que, la recompensa celestial, sería tener sexo infinitamente con mujeres, de ese mismo modo José Smith predicaba que la recompensa celestial sería tener sexo infinitamente con mujeres.

Although the gentile nations worship of Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) is a serious sin, the Creator isn't a religious dictator, so He is lenient and merciful with them

The Divine Law hints at the idea that the God's dealing with gentile nations seems to be different from the way He deals with Hebrew people. Consider the following example: Christians worship Jesus, who is by them called "the morning star" ("... I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star" - Revelation 22:16).

So, for all practical purposes, Christian believers practice pagan star worship ("... Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him" - Matthew 2:2). But Torah states Ha Shem (blessed be He) has allowed such practice to the gentile nations (due to their ignorance), while forbidding it to the Hebrew believer. As is written:

"And so that you do not lift up your eyes toward the heavens... and the stars... and bow down and worship them. [for] Adonai your God has allotted them to all the [gentile] peoples under all the heavens. but you, Adonai has taken... to be a people for his own inheritance [in other words, to be different, staying away from such pagan practices] ..." - Deut. 4:19-20 (Tree of Life version).

Thus, the just and merciful God of Israel [blessed be His name] seems to be lenient with gentile star worshippers, but severe when such thing is done by Hebrew believers [whom, having Torah, should have known better than that].

Reformed Samaritanism and Christmas celebration

Reformed Samaritanism incorporates an ancient tradition stating that, after God had told Adam and Eve of their eventual demise, they both started to live in fear, never knowing when [or how] would such destruction come about.

Soon after their expulsion from "Gan Eden" (the Garden of Eden), they noticed that days were becoming shorter and shorter. Thus, they reckoned that this would be their predicted end, and therefore started to mourn.

But, after December solstice arrived, they notice that days were becoming longer again. So they greatly rejoiced about it, realizing it was no Divine punishment, but rather the mysterious way in which the Holy One (Blessed be He) had created His World.

Thus, in order to remember the gratitude owed to their Creator, they both decided to make such season a yearly celebration; a time for rejoicing, spanning eight days prior to the winter solstice unto eight days after the solstice. And the former is the happy [and grateful] source of all winter-related global celebrations.

Beware not to worship Jesus

Jesus (peace and blessing be with him) compared his future to that of Moses serpent (“And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up”- John 3:14). But if Jesus was indeed uttering a prophecy, then we must beware of the Christian worship of his personality.

Why? Simply because, while Moses serpent began as a divine instrument of God’s salvation (or “healing”), it finally had to be destroyed by God’s anointed king (Hezekiah), as the people started to worship it as an idol (just like Christians have started to worship Jesus!). As is written:

«He (Hezekiah) removed the high places, and brake the images, and cut down the groves, AND BRAKE IN PIECES THE BRASEN SERPENT THAT MOSES HAD MADE: FOR UNTO THOSE DAYS THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL DID BURN INCENSE TO IT: and he called it “Nehushtan” (meaning a dirty or unclean thing)»- 2 Kings 18:4, KJV.

Notice that, in ancient past, all Hebrew kings were ceremonially anointed with oil (and the Hebrew word for “anointed” is “Mashiach”, meaning “Messiah”). Thus, what is intimated in the former verse is that just as Hezekiah (a Hebrew Messiah) came and put an end to the idolatrous worship of Moses serpent, so will it come a day when a future [Hebrew] Messiah will put an end to the idolatrous worship of Jesus.

God’s Law and the homosexual behavior

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the homosexual behavior has always been around; even among ancient Israelites! As is written: “Now as they were making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the [Israelite] city, certain sons of Belial, beset the house round about, and beat at the door, and spake to the master of the house, the old man, saying, Bring forth the man that came into thine house, that we may know him”- Judges 19:22.

In the former verse, the words translated as “that we may know him”, are to be understood as sexual intercourse, just as in the verse that goes on to say: “And Adam knew Eve his wife; and she conceived, and bare Cain...”- Genesis 4:1.

Yet, in spite of the above, the homosexual behavior was seldom a troublesome issue among ancient Israelites. Why? Simply because, as a rule of thumb, ancient people used to have a keen sense of dignity and morality, as well as a deep sense of shame. For example, if your beard were to be improperly cut, or your attires were in sad disarray, you would hide it from public sight.

As is written: “Wherefore Hanun took David's servants, and shaved them, and cut off their garments in the midst hard by their buttocks, and sent them away. Then there went certain, and told David how the men were served. And he sent to meet them: for the men were greatly ashamed. And the king said, Tarry at Jericho until your beards be grown, and then return”- 1 Chronicles 19:4-5. So, as a rule of thumb, ancient homosexuals would feel shame of their sexual tendencies, and would therefore hide them from the public eye. And since God Law provided public punishments only for public offenses, no homosexual would ever be punished for his hidden lifestyle.

Unfortunately, the latter generations seem to have lost their sense of shame, dignity, and humility. Thus, hardened by the lust of their passions they've not only come to embrace the homosexual lifestyle but, on top of it it, have added shameless pride, thereby making it far worse. In what sense? In that their pride has come to be so great [and so brazen], that they openly celebrate gay "Pride" parades.

And here is where a Divine "red line" is actually crossed; when, in the lust of their unbounded pride, they go public about it. Why is a Divine red line crossed? Because God hates all sort of pride and arrogance, as the proud person makes himself immune to any positive change and improvement (as his pride prevents him from ever recognizing that he might be mistaken). Thus, only stern public punishment [the type prescribed by God's Law] can make the proud person alter his self destructing behavior.

And from whence do we get that the Creator (blessed be He) hates all sort of pride [let alone homosexual pride parades]? We get it from the verses that go on to say:

"But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind hardened in pride, he was deposed... I will break the pride of your power; and I will make your heaven as iron...The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves... An high look, and a proud heart, and the plowing of the wicked, is sin... For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up; and he shall be brought low"- Daniel 5:2, Leviticus 26:19, Isaiah 3:9, Proverbs 21:4, & Isaiah 2:12.

El castigo para quienes practican matrimonios del mismo sexo

El idioma en el cual se escribieron las Escrituras Hebreas (la "Tanak"), era uno donde las palabras carecían de vocales.

En adición, ya que los números eran representados con las mismas letras del alfabeto Hebreo [y no con otro conjunto separado de símbolos, como sucede en el idioma Castellano], cada palabra Hebrea tenía asociado con ella misma un valor numérico particular (por ejemplo, la palabra Hebrea para "vino" tenía un valor numérico de "70").

Y, lo hasta aquí expuesto, significa que cada palabra de la Escritura podía tener múltiples [y simultáneamente validos] significados.

Por ejemplo, dos palabras con el mismo valor numérico, intimaban al lector que, esas dos palabras, estaban asociadas a una misma idea. En el caso del "vino", se postulaba que, como el valor numérico de la palabra Hebrea para el vino ("Yayin") tenía el mismo valor que el de la palabra para Hebrea para el misterio (Sod), entonces era valido postular el que la Escritura intima que, cuando el vino entra en el hombre, salen los secretos del Hombre [es decir, el hombre divulga sus intimidades]. Para hacer las cosas mas interesantes, la mayoría de las palabras hebreas podían calificarse como derivaciones de alguna otra palabra de tres letras que hacia las veces de "raíz etimológica".

Así las cosas, y reconociendo que lo hasta aquí dicho significa que, cada oración de la Escritura Hebrea, tiene el potencial de convertirse en una mina de posibilidades interpretativas, los sabios de Israel postularon que, cada verso de la Escritura Hebrea, tiene al menos cuatro niveles interpretativos: el literal; el alegórico, el deductivo, y el esotérico.

Examinemos un ejemplo: La palabra Hebrea para "Sodoma" podía válidamente leerse como "Sedom", o como "Shedom". Y, la palabra Hebrea para "Demonios", podía válidamente leerse como "Shedim", o como "Sedim". En adición, note que ambas palabras comparten una misma raíz etimológica (S-D-M).

Con este transfondo, tratemos de interpretar el siguiente pasaje de la Escritura: «Y SIRVIERON A SUS ÍDOLOS, Los cuales fueron causa de su ruina; SACRIFICARON SUS HIJOS Y SUS HIJAS A LOS DEMONIOS»- Salmo 106:37. En el anterior pasaje, la palabra Hebrea que se traduce como “Demonios”, es “Shedim”. Pero, como ya hemos dicho, “Shedim” y “Sedom” comparten una misma raíz etimológica [como intimando que, en el fondo, ambas cosas comparten un mismo origen. Así, una interpretación alegórica del verso, podría ser que “los Demonios” (Shedim) a los cuales los Israelitas sacrificaron sus hijos, fueron “Sodoma” (Sedom). Es decir, que “la Ruina” (o “la Perdición”) del Pueblo de Dios, fue “sacrificar sus Hijos a la Sodomía”.

¿Como se explica esto? Pues recordando que, las parejas homosexuales, gastan su tiempo y energía en una auto-gratificación estéril [una sexualidad que no produce hijos]. Es que, el hombre que se entrega a la homosexualidad, priva con ello de la vida a aquellos que, de otro modo, habrían sido sus hijos e hijas [por no mencionar a las miles de personas que podrían haber venido al mundo por medio de esos hijos e hijas].

Y esta es la razón por la cual el Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que, el pecado que no tiene perdón, es la promoción de los matrimonios del mismo sexo (y la homosexualidad quetales matrimonios promueve).

Es que, la perfecta Justicia Divina [“medida por medida”, o “siembra y cosecha”] dicta que el «padre» terrenal que, con su abierta Homosexualidad, priva a sus hijos de la Vida en este mundo, merece a su vez que su «Padre» celestial le prive a él de la Vida en el Mundo que ha de venir. ¡Que el Creador tenga misericordia de su Pueblo!

«Though most scientists reject Bible’s spiritual truth, the fact is that not all of them have rejected it. For example, having invented modern Physics as well as integral calculus, Sir Isaac Newton could easily be deemed the greatest [and most original] scientist of all ages, yet during his whole lifetime he remained a committed Bible believer. Still, it is self evident that modern scientific community has become a “for-profit” establishment. And sadly, whenever your economical well being depends on the approval of any establishment [no matter if it be scientific, political, or religious] objective truth is a luxury you often can no longer afford»

The Ten Steps Toward receiving the Salvation promised by God unto those following Moses

1) The God whom the Torah (Law of Moses) identifies with the name of יהוה (Adonai Yah) is the One and only true God, as it has been written: «Thus says יהוה , Israel's King and Redeemer, Adonai-Tzva’ot (The Lord of Hosts): “I am the first (because I have no father), and I am the last (because I have no Son); besides me there is no God (because I have no brother)» (Isaiah 44:6, Complete Jewish Bible). And also in another place, «See now that I, yes, I, am he; and there is no god beside me (in other words, there is no one within me sharing my divibe atributes)» (Deut. 32:29)

2) Moses is God’s messenger, as well as the intermediary between God and men, as it has been written: «At that time I stood between יהוה and you, in order to tell you what יהוה was saying» (Deut. 5:5). Thus, God’s people must listen and obey Moses, as it has been written: «You [Moses], go near; and hear everything יהוה our God says. Then you will tell us everything יהוה our God says to you; and we will listen [to you], and do it» (Deut. 5:27). Yah is pleased when His people obey Moses, as this will insure that everything will go well with us, as it has been written: «I have heard what this people has said when speaking to you [Moses], and everything they have said is good. Oh, how I wish their hearts would stay like this always, that they would fear me and obey all my commandments; so that it would go well with them and their children forever» (Deut. 5:28-29).

3) By means of Moses, Yah made a Covenant with the Hebrew people, in order for Him to be their God, and for them to be His People. And this Covenant is to obey the Ten Commandments of Moses Law, as it has been written: «He proclaimed His Covenant to you, which he ordered you to obey, the Ten Words; and He wrote them on two stone tablets» (Deut. 4:13).

4) God's Covenant with His people is forever, and therefore cannot be canceled, nor changed, as it has been written: «whatever God does will last forever; there is nothing to add or subtract from it» (Ecclesiastes 3:14)

5) Regardless of his religion, the man who won't follow Moses (refusing to obeying the Law of the Covenant) is a proud and accursed man, as it has been written: «You rebuke the proud, the cursed, who stray from your mitzvot (commandments)» - Psalm 19:21. And, refusing to obey Moses Law, makes a person wicked; as he will end up praising the wicked: «Those who abandon Torah praise the wicked, but those who keep Torah fight them» (Proverbs 28:4).

6) Just as it happens with any other delinquent [who hasn't yet repented], as long as the wicked remains in rebellion against God's Law, his soul will feel no real peace. As it has been written: «There is no shalom (Wholeness, Peace), says my God, for the wicked» - Isaiah 57:21.

7) But Yah doesn't want to wicked to be damned, nor for him to live without peace. Rather, He wants him to depart from evil (to stop despising the commandments), and to perform the good embodied in The Covenant. Why? Because his submission to God's will grants him the peace that comes with the promise of everlasting life, as it has been written: «If you turn from evil, and do good, you will live safely forever (have a share in everlasting life)» - Psalm 37:27. And this is the reason why obedience to the commandments of the Covenant is the all of man; the supreme reason for his existence, as it has been written: «Here is the final conclusion, now that you have heard everything: fear God, and keep his mitzvot (commandments); this is what being human is all about» - Ecclesiastes 12:13

8) Only Yah can bring Salvation to mankind; no one else can do it! As it has been written: «I, yes I am יהוה ; besides me, there is no Deliverer» - Isaiah 43:11. And also in another place: «For I am יהוה , your God, the Holy One of Isra'el, your Savior» - Isaiah 43:3

9) If the wicked repents, and turns away from evil (abandoning his rebellion to the commandments of God's Covenant), he can directly pray to Yah, who has promised to forgive him. As it has been written: «If my people, who bear my name, will humble themselves, pray, seek my face and turn from their evil ways, I will hear from heaven, forgive their sin and heal their land» - 2 Chronicles 7:14.

10) You may become reconciled with God today, by uttering aloud the following prayer: «Oh Adonai Yah, God of Abraham, I acknowledge that You are the One and only true God, and Moses is your servant and messenger. I confess that the Law of your Covenant is the Supreme and everlasting Truth; that there is no Savior besides You; that You reward those who obey Your commandments, and forgive the wicked who turns away from evil (making confession of his sins). Therefore, I beg You to forgive me, for living in rebellion to the commandments of Your Covenant. I humbly ask you to come to my life, and sit upon the throne of my heart, so that you may become my king, and I may become part of those who serve you- the true people of Israel. Help me to listen and obey all the commandments You gave to your servant Moses. Guide me, Oh God, give me strength, and grant me Your Ruach Ha-Kodesh (Holy Spirit), so that I can do the Journey through the wilderness of the present world, in submission to Your will, and not mine. I praise and exalt You, oh God, Because on this day You have made me part of Your People; and, just like You did with them, You'll keep me safe until I reach the Heavenly Canaan. Amen».

Was Moses Israel's first political king?

God's Law states the following: "And he [Moses] was king in Jeshurun, when the heads of the people and the tribes of Israel were gathered together" (Deut. 33:5, KJB). Was Moses the first Israelite king?

The fact is that the former expression was part of a symbolic poem delivered by God unto Israel. As it is written: "And Moses came and spake all the words of this song in the ears of the people"- Deut. 32:44.

In other words, there never was a literal nation called "Jeshurun" (as the latter was only a symbolic representation of God's holy people), and therefore no political king [with absolute powers] ever ruled upon the former.

In short, Moses was "king over Jeshurun" in the same sense as king Nebuchadnezzar was "a tree reaching unto the Heavens". As is written: "The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven... It is thou, O king [Nebuchadn

«Ben Azzai said: "If one's mind is serene (at peace) because of his learning [of God's Law], it is a good sign for him. But if his mind is not serene because of his learning, it is a bad sign for him" (A.R.N. 25). Why? Because, "There is no peace, saith my God concerning the wicked"- Isaiah 54:21 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

Regardless of it's theological accuracy, if your interpretation of God's message makes you proud and arrogant, then your interpretation is flawed

If your theology turns you into a proud and arrogant person, then it means your theology is faulty. Why? Because, though being Himself the light giver ("God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light"- Psalm 118:27, KJB), the Creator chose to hide Himself in thick darkness [in order to avoid glory and recognition], as is written: "Then spake Solomon, The Lord said that He would dwell in the thick darkness"- 1 Kings 8:12, KJB.

In fact, though lofty and Sublime, the Creator disregarded all lofty mountains, choosing instead to manifest His presence upon a lowly and relatively unknown mount like Sinai. Not only that, but He went on to disregard all tall and cedar-like trees, choosing instead to manifest from the midst of a small and humble bush [again, in order to furnish an example of humility and self denial].

As is written: «And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and said, "Moses, Moses"»- Exodus 3:4, KJB.

Thus, if He who is exalted, perfect, and almighty chooses to be humble and lowly [denying himself, and avoiding recognition and self glorification], how much more should we who are His weak and imperfect creatures ought to flee from any sort of pride, haughtiness, and self glorification? ("For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up; and he shall be brought low"- Isaiah 2:12, KJB).

And the former is the very reason why Scripture states God is far away from prideful people: "Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord... Though the Lord be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off... Proverbs 16:5, & Psalm 138:6.

Curiously, Scripture hints at the fact that arrogance is such a grave fault, that he in whom there's arrogance will not have his dust stirred [at the resurrection]. Why? Because it has been said: "Awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust"- Isaiah 26:19, KJB. Bear in mind that the original (Hebrew) version of the former text doesn't say "ye that dwell in dust", but rather "ye that dwell with the dust"; thereby making reference to each of whom, during his lifetime had made himself dwell [in humility] as a neighbor to dust.

Finally, it might be wise to keep in mind the parable of the sage who went on to ask fruit bearing trees the following question: "Why is your sound not very audible?". They replied, "We don't need to make loud sounds, as the fruits we bear testify in our behalf". Then the sage asked the trees that do not bear fruit, "Why is your sound so audible?". "We wish our sounds were heard yet more loudly, so that people would be more aware of us" [giving us more recognition!]."

Las peculiares circunstancias que hacen que Israel deje de ser el Pueblo de Dios

Un verso tomado fuera de contexto, se convierte en un pobre pretexto. Es cierto que podemos [arbitrariamente] tomar versos de aquí y de allá para justificar la postura que a menudo esbozan muchos nuevos conversos al Judaísmo- la ingenua e infantil noción de que la fe Judía es un tipo de "amuleto religioso" capaz de proteger incondicionalmente a su portador, sin importar si este último sigue o no la vida de santidad que Dios espera de su pueblo ("Santos seréis, porque santo soy yo el Señor vuestro Dios"- Levítico 19:2, Biblia Reina Valera 1960).

Pero la realidad es que, esto último, no es sino la manifestación del burdo paganismo que poco a poco ha ido infiltrándose dentro de la fe Judía. ¿Y de donde sabemos que los Judíos no son incondicionalmente el Pueblo de Dios? Pues lo sabemos del pasaje donde se muestra a los Judíos volviendo a ser Pueblo de Dios [¡luego de haber dejado de serlo!].

Como esta escrito: "Y Joiada hizo pacto entre sí y todo el pueblo y el rey, Que serian [nuevamente] Pueblo del Señor"- 2 Crónicas 23:16, Reina Valera 1960.

Es que la promesa hecha por Dios a Abraham fue que su descendencia sería "como las estrellas del cielo". Es decir, que consistiría de aquellos que, al igual que las estrellas, fuesen luz en medio la oscuridad [moral] de este mundo.

De este modo, todo Judío [o Gentil] que, al igual que Enoc, Noé, Job y Abraham, vivan una vida de integridad moral, son en efecto parte de la descendencia de Abraham, y por ende parte integral del Pueblo Escogido.

Y esta noble e inclusiva perspectiva, es lo que cualquier persona racional y madura esperaría de un Dios que, siendo moralmente perfecto, esta libre de todo capricho, así como de todo prejuicio y favoritismo étnico o nacional ("Él es la Roca, cuya obra es perfecta, Porque todos sus caminos son rectitud; Dios de verdad, y sin ninguna iniquidad en Él; Es justo y recto"- Deut. 32:4, Reina Valera 1960); el proceder de un Dios imparcial y objetivo, que no hace acepción de personas, sino que da a cada uno el justo pago que ameritan sus obras ("... El Señor de el pago al que mal hace, conforme a su maldad"- 2 Samuel 3:39).

¿Y que sucede con el hombre que, pensando que su Judaísmo es un talismán, rehúsa arrepentirse, e insiste en vivir haciendo el mal que bien le place?

Pues, reclamando ser Judío, tal hombre se hace partícipe de las promesas y juramentos hechos colectivamente por los Judíos que le antecedieron; uno de los cuales es que, todo aquel que no busque a Dios, muera irremisiblemente culpable. Como esta escrito: “Entonces prometieron solemnemente que buscarían a El Señor, el Dios de sus padres, de todo su corazón y de toda su alma; y que cualquiera que no buscara a El Señor Dios de Israel muriese, grande o pequeño, hombre o mujer”- 2 Crónicas 15:12-15.

De este modo, el futuro del Judío que da la espalda al Creador esta prefigurado en cada narrativa donde se relata la destrucción de algún Judío que abraza abiertamente la maldad– En el relato de la muerte de los 600,000 Judíos que, salidos de Egipto, rehusaron obedecer a Moisés; en la muerte de los 3,000 Judíos que adoraron el becerro de Oro; en la muerte de los diez espías Judíos que rehusaron entrar a la Tierra Prometida; en la tierra que se abrió para tragar al líder Judío llamado Korah, así como a su familia; en el súbito exterminio [por medio del fuego] de los 250 príncipes judíos que se rebelaron junto a Korah; en la muerte [por medio de la plaga] de los 24,000 Judíos que fornicaron con las mujeres moabitas; en la muerte simultánea de Elí (el Sumo sacerdote Judío), así como de sus dos hijos; en el espíritu malo que atormentaba al rey Judío llamado Saúl; en la triste y humillante muerte del príncipe Judío llamado Absalón; en el triste final de Acab, el impío rey Judío; en el asesinato [a manos del pueblo] de Atalía, la asesina reina Judía; en la ejecución hecha por Nabucodonosor de los hijos de Sedequías (el Rey Judío), así como en la pérdida de los ojos de este último, etc.

Es que, cuando el pueblo Judío se hace colectivamente impío, deja de ser luz en medio de las tinieblas, perdiendo tanto el favor como la protección Divina que le guardan de caer en manos de sus enemigos. Y esto último fue lo que precisamente aconteció a la tribu de Benjamín, que estuvo a punto de ser exterminada a causa de la inmoralidad sexual que monstró en el episodio en Gabaa («Pero cuando estaban gozosos, he aquí que los hombres de aquella ciudad, hombres perversos, rodearon la casa, golpeando a la puerta; y hablaron al anciano, dueño de la casa, diciendo: “Saca al hombre que ha entrado en tu casa, para que lo conozcamos [sexualmente]”... Y vino el pueblo a la casa de Dios, y se estuvieron allí hasta la noche en presencia de Dios; y alzando su voz hicieron gran llanto, y dijeron: “Oh Señor Dios de Israel, ¿por qué ha sucedido esto en Israel, que falte hoy de Israel una tribu?”»- Jueces 19:22, & 21:2-3).

No solamente eso, sino que cuando el Judío insiste en lo malo, pierde todo derecho a enseñar a nadie acerca de la Ley Divina. Como esta escrito:

«Pero al malo dijo Dios: “¿Qué tienes tú que hablar de mis leyes, Y que tomar mi pacto en tu boca? Pues tú aborreces la corrección, Y echas a tu espalda mis palabras. Si veías al ladrón, tú corrías con él, Y con los adúlteros era tu parte. Tu boca metías en mal, Y tu lengua componía engaño. Tomabas asiento, y hablabas contra tu hermano; Contra el hijo de tu madre ponías infamia. Estas cosas hiciste, y yo he callado; Pensabas que de cierto sería yo como tú; Pero te reprenderé, y las pondré delante de tus ojos”. Entended ahora esto, los que os olvidáis de Dios, No sea que os despedace, y no haya quien os libre. El que sacrifica alabanza me honrará; Y al que ordenare su camino, Le mostraré la salvación de Dios»- Salmo 50:16-23, Reina Valera 1960.

The purpose of man’s creation

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the reason why God created man was for the latter to rule upon the small corner of the Universe where he has been planted (“... Let us make man in our image according to our likeness, and let them rule over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the heaven, and over the beasts, and over all the earth, and over everything that creepeth and moveth on the Earth”- 1599 Geneva Bible).

And part of the Divine plan was to allow mankind to use his God given free will in order to get to know evil («And the Lord God said, “Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil”...»- Genesis 3:22).

Why did man need to know evil? So that he could experience the unavoidable pain and suffering brought about by such darkness (“There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.... The way of the wicked is as the darkness: they know not wherein they shall fall”- Isaiah 57:21, Proverbs 4:19).

And what is the final purpose of such experience? To induce mankind to realize that, although darkness and evil are part of God’s own creation, the right thing to do is to choose righteousness over wickedness. How?

By renouncing to evil, striving instead to make evil and darkness disappear from our lives (“The fear of the Lord is to hate evil, as pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way: and a mouth that speaketh lewd things... Cease from anger, and leave off wrath: fret not thyself also to do evil. For evildoers shall be cut off, and they that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the land... But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day...”- Proverbs 8:13, Psalm 37:8-9, Proverbs 4:18).

Thus, the very moment man experiences this reality [and is thereby induced to wholeheartedly embrace the Divine wisdom hidden behind the idea that, at the end of the day, “Goodness and Light must prevail upon evil and darkness”], in that instant man finally becomes a righteous person, and is therefore ready to receive everlasting life, as well as the divine nature that will enable him to rule upon the part of Creation appointed to him by the Creator (a separated and distinct world just for himself!). As is written: “The righteous shall inherit the Land, and dwell therein for ever... As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness”- Psalm 37:29, Psalm 17:15 (King James Bible).

Curiously, notice that nowhere in Scripture are we ever told that the former process [where God’s creatures undergo a special moral training enabling them to become God’s representatives in ruling their specific part of the universe] started [or finished] with human beings– for all that we know, this might be an eternal process (“... His ways are everlasting”- Habakkuk 3:6, King James Version). In fact, nowhere in Scripture are we told that humans are the only sentient beings ever created. On the contrary, by mentioning the talking [Garden of Eden] snake, as well as Balaam’s talking ass, Scripture hints at the idea that God has created non-human [yet sentient] beings elsewhere in His Universe.

Thus, there’s no reason for ruling out the possibility that the formerly described process is happening on another places of the Universe; places where, instead of humans, God decided to create other forms of life (sentient lions, eagles, bulls, etc). And whence do we get the latter? We get it from the fact that, when Scripture goes on to describe the angels “carrying God’s throne upon their shoulders” (the latter being a symbolic representation of their responsibility to uphold Gods righteous rule upon the Universe), they are described as having “many faces”– the face of a man, the face of a lion, the face of an eagle, and the face of bull. As is written:

“As for the likeness of their faces, they four had the face of a man, and the face of a lion, on the right side: and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four also had the face of an eagle... And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire stone: and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it”- Ezekiel 1:10, & 26 (KJV).

But how can either an eagle or a lion be portrayed as being so close to the Creator? Isn’t it true that, destined as they are to the lifestyle of predators, Torah considers them to be impure, and therefore unfit for God’s service?

The answer is that they are indeed unclean beast: but only here on earth, where they are not sentient beings, and therefore cannot make moral decisions [choosing to do good, instead of evil]. But, should they exist as sentient beings elsewhere in the Universe, they too have the opportunity to become God's ruling representatives. In short, God's purpose for the existence of sentient being is for them to reach the moral height required to become God's own representatives. And, since such process could have started with the creation of our universe [and maybe even earlier!], we should not be surprised to find that whenever Bible describes God as doing things that seem to be "human-like" (repenting, getting angry, taking vengeance, losing His temper, etc), it isn't really talking about the Creator [who has no human flaws nor limitations] but rather about one of the many beings already appointed to represent the ruling of the Almighty.

And whence we get God rules [and judges] by means of their appointed representatives? We get it from the verse that goes on to say: "This matter [Nebuchadnezzar's judgment] is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know that the most High ruleth [by means of his watchers and holy ones] in the kingdom of men..."- Daniel 4:17, KJB. And the former might be the reason why, though Bible states no one can see God and remain alive («And He [God] said, "Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me, and live"»- Exodus 33:20, KJB), we find many people [starting with Adam and Eve] beholding the Creator's countenance. How do we explain it? By recognizing that the God witnessed by them was in fact one of God's many appointed representatives... Yes, Scripture states Israel beheld God countenance ("Then went up Moses, and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel: And they saw the God of Israel: and there was under his feet as it were a paved work of a sapphire stone"- Exodus 24:9-10, KJB). Did they see God? No... and Yes.... No, they didn't see God, as God doesn't have any physical figure, let alone human feet. But Yes, they saw God, in that they saw God's fully approved representative; the divinely appointed "messenger", or "angel" that had delivered them from bondage. As is written: "And when we cried unto the Lord, He heard our voice, and sent an angel, and hath brought us forth out of Egypt"- Numbers 20:16, KJB.

"Hate him who constantly flatters you; but love him who sincerely rebukes you". And from whence do we know that the God of the Hebrews hates the man who seduces his fellow human being with flattering lips (not telling him the plain truth, but rather a sweet and convenient lie)? We know it from the Scripture that goes on to say: "To his neighbor each one speaks words without use or worth or truth; with flattering lips and double heart [deceitfully] they speak. May the Lord cut off all flattering lips and the tongues that speak proud boasting"- Psalm 12:2-3 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition)

Ser Judío no sirve de nada al hombre que es altanero, y que insiste en vivir de espaldas al Creador

Ser Judío no le sirve absolutamente de nada a una persona, si tal persona no vive la vida de santidad y justicia que agradan al Creador. ¿Por que? Pues porque la Escritura Hebrea dice lo siguiente: «Habla a toda la congregación de los hijos de Israel, y diles: "SANTOS SERÉIS, PORQUE SANTO SOY YO EL SEÑOR VUESTRO DIOS”... DECID AL JUSTO QUE LE IRÁ BIEN, porque comerá de los frutos de sus manos. ¡AY DEL IMPÍO! MAL LE IRÁ, PORQUE SEGÚN LAS OBRAS DE SUS MANOS LE SERÁ PAGADO... Porque LOS BENDITOS DE ÉL (ES DECIR, DEL DIOS DE ISRAEL) HEREDARÁN LA TIERRA; Y LOS MALDITOS DE ÉL SERÁN DESTRUIDOS»- Levítico 19:2, Isaías 3:10-11, & Salmo 37:22 Reina Valera 1960.

En otras palabras, cuando Israel hace lo bueno, es el pueblo bendito que cuenta con el favor Divino, y que ha de heredar la Tierra prometida; Pero, cuando hace lo malo, se convierte en el pueblo maldito que Dios desea destruir. ¿Y de donde sabemos que, cuando Israel hace lo malo, Dios no solamente esta presto a maldecirle, sino incluso a destruirle?

Pues, en primer lugar, lo sabemos de el hecho de el Creador en efecto destruyó a los 600,000 Israelitas [adultos] que salieron de Egipto [haciéndoles perecer en el desierto].

En segundo lugar, lo sabemos de los versos donde el mismo Creador procede a decir lo siguiente: «MALDITOS SOIS con maldición, PORQUE VOSOTROS, LA NACIÓN TODA [DE ISRAEL], ME HABÉIS ROBADO... Y el Señor habló a Moisés y a Aarón, diciendo: “APARTAOS DE ENTRE ESTA CONGREGACIÓN, Y LOS CONSUMIRÉ EN UN MOMENTO”... “Yo he visto a este pueblo, que por cierto ES PUEBLO DE DURA CERVIZ. AHORA, PUES, DÉJAME QUE SE ENCIENDA MI IRA EN ELLOS, Y LOS CONSUMA”...»- Malaquías 3:9, Números 16:20-21, & Éxodo 32:9-10 (Biblia Reina Valera 1960).

Your Jewish identity won't be of any good if you do not live a life of Holiness

Beware of turning your Jewish identity into an idol to worship!... Bear in mind that the Hebrew word used by Scripture to denote Israel is “Yishrael”; a word that sounds ominously similar to the Hebrew phrase, “Ish-ra-el” (whose meaning is no other than, “Man is an evil god!”).

In fact, «Israel» sounds eerily similar to the English phrase «Is-a-Hell», which fittingly describes life in modern day Israel, where there's no lasting peace, life necessities are incredibly expensive, and anything you try to achieve feels like dealing with «a can of worms» (in other words, a bitter and never ending struggle).

¿Es Israel el Pueblo escogido?

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que la verdad Divina siempre ha de ser buscada en el sano balance entre las posturas opuestas y radicales.

Por ejemplo, el Judaísmo Rabínico postula que la Nación de Israel ha de ser eternamente “el Pueblo escogido” (es decir, “el Israel de Dios”); mientras que el Cristianismo postula lo contrario, afirmando que tal puesto corresponde ahora a la Iglesia de Cristo.

¿Cual de estas posturas antagónicas representa la correcta interpretación? De nuevo, el Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que la verdad Divina siempre ha de ser buscada en el sano balance.

En el caso que nos atañe, la realidad es que la Nación Israelita seguirá siendo “el Israel de Dios” solamente mientras viva en la santidad y pureza moral que agradan al Creador. Pero, en el momento en que decide corromperse colectivamente [promoviendo abiertamente la inmoralidad y la perversión sexual], la nación deja de ser “el Israel de Dios”, para convertirse en cambio en “Sodoma” (un pueblo pagano, ajeno a Dios, y depravado).

Como esta escrito:

“Y dijo Dios: Ponle por nombre Lo-ammi, porque vosotros no sois mi pueblo, ni yo seré vuestro Dios... ¡Oh gente pecadora, pueblo cargado de maldad, generación de malignos, hijos depravados! Dejaron a יהוה, provocaron a ira al Santo de Israel, se volvieron atrás... Si יהוה de los ejércitos no nos hubiese dejado un resto pequeño, como Sodoma fuéramos, y semejantes a Gomorra. Príncipes de Sodoma, oíd la palabra de יהוה; escuchad la Ley (Torah) de nuestro Dios, pueblo de Gomorra”- Oseas 1:9, Isaías 1:4-10, Reina Valera 1960.

With their open promotion of Atheism, Cultural Marxism, and Same sex marriages, the secular Jews have craftily distorted and diluted the true identity of holy Hebrew believers ...

... Therefore, it is fair (and just) for the Creator (blessed be He) to allow sincere Hebrew believers to distort and dilute the Secular Jewish identity

God doesn't expect he who believes in Torah's truth to blindly accept "the free gift of Salvation" offered by the noble Christian religion

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that it would be wrong to assume that the Holy One (blessed be He) expects the believer to unconditionally accept "the free gift of Salvation" proposed by Christian theology.

Why? Well, because the latter represents the religious equivalent of a "high pressure sales pitch", rather than the fair and objective truth taught by God in the Hebrew Scripture.

Why? Because the Creator himself has commanded us to abstain from accepting gifts and handouts, since the latter not only prevents judging clearly [in a sound and objective fashion], but also perverts justice and corrupts the heart.

In fact, the prohibition of accepting free gifts was the very reason why King David wasn't willing to honor the Creator using the free gifts (oxen and firewood) offered to him by his servant Arauna. As is written:

«And Araunah said unto David, “Let my lord the king take and offer up what seemeth good unto him: behold, HERE BE OXEN FOR BURNT SACRIFICE, AND THRESHING INSTRUMENTS AND OTHER INSTRUMENTS OF THE OXEN FOR WOOD. ALL THESE THINGS DID ARAUNAH, AS A KING, GIVE [FREELY] UNTO THE KING” And the king said unto Araunah, “NAY; but I will surely buy it of thee at a price: NEITHER WILL I OFFER BURNT OFFERINGS UNTO THE LORD MY GOD OF THAT WHICH DOTHTH COST ME NOTHING...”»- 2 Samuel 24:22-24 (King James Bible).

And the idea that God isn't pleased when His servants accept free gifts and handouts [things that could be used as bribes] is clearly illustrated in the verses that goes on to say: “AND THOU SHALT TAKE NO GIFT: FOR THE GIFT BLINDETH THE WISE, AND PERVERTETH THE WORDS OF THE RIGHTEOUS.... Surely oppression maketh a wise man mad; AND A GIFT DESTROYETH THE HEART....»- Exodus 23:8, & Ecclesiastes 7:7 (King James Bible).

Does the former mean Christianity is a false religion? Does it mean Christians won't be allowed into Paradise? Absolutely not! It's meaning is that Christians would do good improving their theology. How? By renouncing to self-deception [as well as to the allure] implied in their exaggerated cult of Jesus [human] personality]; accepting instead balanced theological interpretations that can heal their souls and minds (bring them peace and serenity)– the objective and coherent spiritual truth naturally supported by their inner sense of honesty, justice, reason, and common sense.

And it goes without saying that, the latter truth ought to be always embraced, regardless of the instrument chosen by God to bring it forward (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Samaritanism, Reformed Samaritanism, etc). May God's peace be upon you!

In what sense is Reformed Samaritanism different from it's Jewish, Christian, and Muslim counterparts?

“Call unto me [not unto any angel, any Messiah, any priest, any king, any prophet, nor any Rabbi], and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not”- Jeremiah 33:3, KJV

If you spend enough time practicing the three major monotheistic religions (Judaism, Christianity, and Islam), you will discover that, while all of them are valid paths to please the Creator, their very foundation is intentionally flawed (sort of like the fisherman who intentionally keeps the river water murky, in order to catch more fishes).

Why is their foundation flawed? Simply because they all make the same faulty claim: that no man can correctly know the Creator [in order to properly please Him] unless such man goes thru the particular religion's “intermediary”.

For example, normative Judaism claims that, if a man wants to know [and please] his Creator, he cannot simply start reading (and practicing) Torah. Instead, he needs to submit himself to the authority of a recognized Jewish Rabbi, who will “reveal” unto him what God really wanted to say by means of Torah.

Likewise, Christianity claims that no man can directly come to God; instead, he must come thru the rabbi named “Jesus”. As is written: “Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, 'What seek ye?' They said unto him, 'Rabbi, --which is to say, being interpreted, Master-- where dwellest thou?’ ”- John 1:38, King James Bible. And is also written in another place: “No man cometh unto the Father, but by me”- John 14:6.

In fact, Christianity claims that no man can know God, unless rabbi Jesus reveals it to him (which is the basic claim made by normative Judaism). As is written: “... NEITHER KNOWETH ANY MAN THE FATHER, BUT THE SON, AND HE TO WHOM THE SON WILL REVEAL HIM”- Matthew 11:27.

Finally, Islam teaches that you can't please the Creator just by reading and obeying what Allah (God) has revealed in the Qur'an. Instead, you must pledge alliance to Muhammad (and his corresponding “Sunnah”, or “traditions”).

So, no matter if you are Jewish, Christian, or Muslim, you end up not following what God had actually taught and commanded, but rather what other people (the Rabbis, Jesus, Paul, Muhammad, Martin Luther, Joseph Smith, Charles Taze Russel, Ellen G. White, etc) had taught and commanded about it. But, why is Reformed Samaritanism any better? What makes it different from Modern Judaism, Islam, and Christianity? Reformed Samaritanism is different because it teaches that, when it comes to obeying [and knowing] the Creator, man needs no intermediary (no Rabbi, no Jesus, and no Muhammad).

Why? To begin with, because God's commandments were never meant to be hidden knowledge (difficult to understand); as is written: “For this commandment which I command thee this day, is not hid from thee, neither is it far off”- Deuteronomy 30:11, King James Version.

Secondly, because God has already told us what "knowing Him" really means, as well as what's pleasing in His eyes (what's right, and what He demands from us).

As is written: “He judged the cause of the poor and needy... WAS NOT THIS TO KNOW ME, SAITH THE LORD?”- Jeremiah 22:16. And also in another place: «The Lord God has told us what is right and WHAT HE DEMANDS: “SEE THAT JUSTICE IS DONE, LET MERCY BE YOUR FIRST CONCERN, AND HUMBLY OBEY YOUR GOD”»- Micah 6:8.

In fact, the way to please the Lord is so simple, that even a fool can understand it. As it is written: “... and it shall be called THE WAY OF HOLINESS; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: THE WAYFARING MEN, THOUGH FOOLS, SHALL NOT ERR THEREIN”- Isaiah 35:8 (KJV).

And the scripture further simplifies this “way of holiness” by saying the following: “TURN FROM EVIL, AND DO GOOD [TO YOUR FELLOW HUMAN BEINGS]; SO YOU MAY LIVE FOREVER”- Psalm 37:27, Tree Of Life Version.

So, when a man does justice and mercy, abstaining from things like murder, theft, oppression, and deception (in other words, when he keeps God's Ten Laws or commandments), such man pleases his Creator, have his sins forgiven, and is promised everlasting life.

As is written: “Wash yourselves, MAKE YOURSELVES CLEAN; PUT AWAY THE EVIL OF YOUR DOINGS from before my eyes; CEASE TO DO EVIL; LEARN TO DO GOOD; SEEK JUDGMENT; RESTORE UNTO THE OPPRESSED; HEAR THE FATHERLESS IN RIGHT JUDGMENT; protect the widow. THEN COME, SHALL THE LORD SAY, and we shall be even; IF YOUR SINS WERE AS SCARLET, THEY SHALL BE MADE AS WHITE AS SNOW; IF THEY WERE RED LIKE CRIMSON, THEY SHALL BECOME AS WOOL”- Isaiah 1:16-18, Jubilee Bible 2000.

And doing unto our neighbor the good ordered by God's ten commandments is of such paramount importance that Scripture says it's the whole duty of man. As is written: “Now all has been heard; here is the conclusion of the matter- “FEAR GOD, AND KEEP HIS [TEN] COMMANDMENTS, FOR THIS IS THE WHOLE DUTY OF MEN”- Ecclesiastes 12:13.

In fact, if we are ever to brag about anything we've come to know, it can't be our Jewish, Samaritan, Christian, or Muslim identity; it cannot be the knowledge of Messiah's identity; it cannot be the last prophet's identity; nor can it be the knowledge of Torah's esoteric meaning. Instead, our barg must be about the knowledge that God delights in our doing justice and mercy.

As is written: “BUT LET HIM THAT GLORIES GLORY IN THIS, THAT HE UNDERSTANDS ME AND KNOWS ME, THAT I AM THE LORD WHO DOES MERCY, JUDGMENT, AND RIGHTEOUSNESS IN THE EARTH: FOR IN THESE THINGS I DELIGHT, SAID THE LORD”- Jeremiah 9:24, Jubilee Bible 2000.

In short, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that God is morally perfect (“He is the Rock, his work is Perfect: for ALL HIS WAYS ARE [PERFECT] JUDGMENT: A GOD OF TRUTH, AND WITHOUT INIQUITY, JUST AND RIGHT IS HE”- Deut. 32:4).

Thus, God's will for all men is for them to be like Him [just as any true son is like his Father]; that they live a moral life, departing from evil, and starting to love their suffering fellow human beings, doing unto them the same justice and goodness they would wish for themselves.

And what makes Reformed Samaritanism a universal faith? The fact that the foregoing theology is universally accepted [directly or indirectly] by all three major monotheistic religions:

1) Judaism confirms it when it goes on to say: «THAT WHICH IS HATEFUL TO YOU, DO NOT DO TO YOUR FELLOW [HUMAN BEING]. THAT IS THE WHOLE TORAH [the whole message of the Hebrew religion]; the rest, is [just] the explanation [or “commentary”]; go and learn it»- Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 31a.

2) Christianity confirms it when it goes on to say: “So in all things, DO TO OTHERS WHAT YOU WOULD WANT THEM TO DO TO YOU—FOR THIS IS THE TORAH and the Prophets”- Matthew 7:12 (Tree Of Live version Bible)

3) Islam confirms it when it goes on to say: “NONE OF YOU WILL HAVE FAITH TILL HE WISHES FOR HIS BROTHER WHAT HE LIKES FOR HIMSELF”- Authentic Hadith, Sahih al-Bukhari 13, narrated by Anas Bin Malik.

El castigo deparado para el Judío que, escudándose bajo el reclamo de ser “Pueblo de Dios”, vive en abiertamente inmoralidad

La Religión de Dios (Salmo 37:27), no consiste en tener la teología correcta; sino en tener la moralidad correcta [no pretendiendo tener a Dios en el pecho, mientras se tiene a Satán en los hechos]. Y esta es la razón por la cual, el pecado que Dios no tolera, es la abierta inmoralidad.

De hecho, para que no quedase duda alguna de cuanto aborrece la abierta inmoralidad, el Creador escribió “con sus propios dedos” lo siguiente: “no forniques, no adulteres, no robes, no mientas, no insultes a tus padres... etc” (Éxodo 20).

Así, todo Judío [o todo gentil] que escoja vivir una vida de abierta inmoralidad, será abiertamente castigado, sufriendo la ira Divina. ¿Por que? Pues porque, con su inmoral conducta, tal persona induce a otros a maldecir al Creador.

En otras palabras, cuando un hombre reclama ser Judío, y luego va y practica la abierta homosexualidad, los impíos maldicen al Dios de Israel, diciendo: “Este hombre afirma ser parte del Pueblo de Dios, pero es abiertamente Homosexual; ¿será acaso que esta imitando a su Dios, el cual es también homosexual?”.

De igual modo, cuando un Judío va y practica abiertamente la usura, los impíos maldicen al Dios de Israel, diciendo: “Este Judío alega ser parte de aquellos que representan a Dios en la Tierra, pero es un desvergonzado usurero. Si su Dios no tiene problema con ello, será acaso que el Dios de los Judíos también es un desvergonzado usurero”.

En la misma línea, cuando un Judío va y miente descaradamente, los impíos maldicen al Dios de los Judíos, diciendo: “este Judío sirve a Dios y le conoce, pero es un descarado mentiroso, ¿Será acaso que esta imitando a su Dios, quien también es un descarado mentiroso?”.

Cuando un Judío [que tiene acciones en industrias manufactureras de armas] usa su influencia política para crear guerra y muerte, los impíos maldicen a Dios diciendo: “Este Judío alega conocer a Dios, pero es un asesino oportunista. ¿Estará acaso imitando a su Dios, que también asesino y oportunista? Así, el Judío que actúa de forma abiertamente inmoral, terminará cosechando la misma maldición con la que hizo que los impíos maldijesen al Creador.

Y lo anterior fue precisamente que experimentó el Rey David; quien dando muerte al inocente Urías, hizo que los impíos blasfemasen a Dios. Y, como castigo por ello, tuvo que sufrir la muerte de su inocente hijo, como está escrito: “Mas por cuanto, con este asunto hiciste blasfemar a los enemigos de el Señor, el hijo que te ha nacido, ciertamente morirá” (2 Samuel 12:14)

Samaritanismo Reformado

El Cristianismo es una santa y noble religión. Pero desafortunadamente, su teología es extraviada. ¿Por que? Pues porque alega que el hombre puede entrar al Cielo con tan solo “tener fe” (o “creer”), y sin necesidad de hacer obra alguna. Como esta escrito: “Porque por gracia sois salvos por medio de la fe; y esto no de vosotros, pues es don de Dios; no por obras, para que nadie se gloríe” (Efesios 2:8-9). Es que la Escritura utiliza “la entrada a la Tierra Prometida” como un prototipo de “la entrada a la Canaán celestial”. Así, tal y como Israel no pudo entrar a la Canaán terrenal como resultado de haberse negado a hacer la obra de intentar conquistar a los Gigantes [que se lo impedían], de ese mismo modo el Cristiano no podrá entrar a la Canaán celestial si primero no resuelva hacer la obra de intentar conquistar a los gigantes [que se lo impiden]. Es que el Israelita no podía decir, “Yo no tengo que pelear contra gigante alguno, pues mi entrada a Canaán no depende de mis obras, sino de mi fe en el Dios que me ama tanto que ha prometido darme gratuitamente esa Tierra”. Y si bien es cierto que יהוה podía derrotar a los gigantes [tal y como derrotó milagrosamente a Faraón y a su ejército], la sabiduría Divina ha decidido de antemano que nuestra “entrada a la Canaán Celestial” dependa de que nos comprometamos con batallar contra aquellos gigantes que nos impiden tal entrada. ¿Quienes son esos gigantes? Pues aquellos descritos por medio de los Diez Mandamientos Divinos: la idolatría, la mentira, el asesinato, el adulterio, el robo, la codicia, la deshonra a los padres, etc.

He who refrains from rebuking a rebellious leader, will be forced to bear the same punishment

«And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, “Take the rod, and gather thou the assembly... Speak ye unto the rock... and it shall give forth his water... And Moses lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the rock twice... And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron, Because ye believed me not, to sanctify me in the eyes of the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the Land which I have given them”- Numbers 20:7-8, &11-12 (King James Bible).

Torah makes clear that Moses actually sinned (by hitting the Rock, instead of speaking unto it). But what was Aaron’s guilt, that he should also be prevented from entering into the Land? According to Reformed Samaritanism, after Aaron saw Moses hitting the rock [for the first time], he should have confronted him [saying, “What are you doing? Didn’t God only ask you to speak unto it?”].

But, since Aaron remained silent, he was thereby guilty of publicly violating the Divine injunction that goes on to say: “Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thy heart; thou shalt surely rebuke thy neighbour, and not bear sin because of him (in other words, not rebuking your brother’s rebellion isn’t only sinful, but also intimates you don’t really love him!)”- Leviticus 19:17 (Jewish Publication Society Bible, 1917 Edition).

And the former truth is also asserted by the Jewish Scripture that goes on to say: “The Lord will enter into judgment with the elders of His people, and the princes thereof ...”- Isaiah 3:14. Granted that the princes (the rich and powerful) sinned; but why would the elders be also judged (being punished)? Because they saw the public sin of the princess, and decided to remain silent.

Torah teaches poverty and persecution are good for Israel

What is the meaning of the verse that goes on to say: “Behold, I have refined thee, but not as silver; I have tried thee in the furnace of affliction” (Isaiah 48:10, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)? The former verse implies that, among all the good states of being that the Holy One scrutinized to give to Israel, He found none better than poverty. Why? Because in it’s state of desolation, Israel raised up righteous men for God. But when it was in a state of prosperity, it raised up wicked men for God.

In it’s state of desolation, it raised up righteous men for God (Daniel and his associates, Mordecai and it’s associates, Ezra and his associates). But in a state of prosperity, it raised up wicked men for God (Ahaz and his associates, Manasseh and his associates, Amon and his associates).

And the fact that Israel is better off under persecution, poverty, and desolation is also hinted by the verse that goes on to say: “... For more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married wife, saith the Lord” (Isaiah 54:1, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

“Beware of turning your religion, your country, your culture, your technology, your ideology, your political views, your ethnicity, or your sexual identity into a false idol (pretending that it can never be mistaken, that it will never need to learn from it’s opponents, or that it won’t ever stand in need of correction!)”

Was Jesus Jewish? Or was he instead something else?

Both Jews and Christians often conveniently argue that, since Jesus kept the Jewish Law, he was therefore a Jew. But was he really Jewish? How could Jesus be Jewish, and at the same time follow a non Jewish priestly order (“After he was perfected, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him, and he was declared by God a high priest according to the order of Melchizedek”- Hebrews 5:9-10, Christian Standard Bible)?

In fact, how could Jesus be Jewish, and at the same time be such an outspoken enemy of both Jews and Judaism. As is written: “Brood of vipers! How can you speak good things when you are evil?...
... Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! You pay a tenth of mint, dill, and cumin, and yet you have neglected the more important matters of the law—justice, mercy, and faithfulness. ...
... These things should have been done without neglecting the others. Blind guides! You strain out a gnat, but gulp down a camel!...

... Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! You are like whitewashed tombs, which appear beautiful on the outside, but inside are full of the bones of the dead and every kind of impurity...

... Snakes! Brood of vipers! How can you escape being condemned to hell? This is why I am sending you prophets, sages, and scribes...

... Some of them you will kill and crucify, and some of them you will flog in your synagogues and pursue from town to town...

... So all the righteous blood shed on the Earth will be charged to you, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah, son of Berechiah, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar...

... I know the slander of those who say they are Jews and are not, but are a synagogue of Satan"- Matthew 12:34, 23:23, 23:27, 23:33-35, & Revelation 2:9 (Standard Christian Bible).

Finally, although Christianity is a perfectly valid path to come closer to the Creator (blessed be He), the holy Gospel seems to be deceptively ambiguous, hinting at two contradicting realities-- On the one hand, it hints at the idea of Jesus being a Samaritan [as he admiringly uses a Samaritan believer as the godly standard of neighborly love]; while on the other hand, it hints at the idea of Jesus being a Jew [quoting him saying that "salvation is of the Jews"].

But, if we were to take a deeper look at the issue, we would be able to see past the smoke screens. How? By realizing that, if Samaritan, then Jesus was "a good Samaritan" [as he faithfully represented the Samaritan paradigm elsewhere depicted in the Hebrew Scripture]...

... But, if a Jew, then Jesus was indeed a bad Jew, as he made a poor representation of what a Law abiding Jew was expected to be-- in other words, he failed to obey Moses Law, when he publicly [and repeatedly] cursed Jewish leadership (a serious violation of God's Law!).

And the fact that the Judaism of anyone who would publicly disrespect Jewish leadership was to be immediately questioned, is attested even by the New Testament, when it goes on to say:

«The high priest Ananias ordered those who were standing next to him to strike him on the mouth.

Then Paul said to him, "God is going to strike you, you whitewashed wall! You are sitting there judging me according to the Law, and yet in violation of the Law are you ordering me to be struck?"

Those standing nearby said, "Do you dare revile God's high priest?" "[Please forgive me, for...] I did not know, brothers, that he was the high priest", replied Paul. For it is written, You must not speak evil of a ruler of your people»- Acts 23:2-5, Christian Standard Bible.

Why is Ethnic Israel so often persecuted?

Hebrew Scripture is a book of parables, as well as moral paradigms. For example, it says: “Ephraim is joined to idols; let him alone”- Hosea 4:17.

In what sense is Ephraim (a symbolic representation of the average Israelite) prone to idolatry? Well, the former verse must be interpreted in light of the historically older verse that goes on to say: “For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and transgression is wickedness and idolatry. Because thou hast cast away the word of the Lord, therefore he hath cast away thee...”- 1 Samuel 15:23 (1599 Geneva Bible).

In other words, the allegorical truth behind the verse in Hosea 4:17 is that Israel’s idolatry isn’t so much the worship of physical images, as it is the worship of a rebellious and transgressing personality. As attested by none other than Aaron and Moses.

As is written: “And Aaron said, Let not the anger of my lord [Moses] wax hot: thou knowest the people, that they are set on mischief”- Exodus 32:22, King James Version. And also says elsewhere, “Ye have been rebellious unto the Lord, since the day that I [Moses] knew you”- Deuteronomy 9:24 (1599 Geneva Bible). And even the Creator seems to agree with this, when He goes on to say: “Furthermore the Lord spake unto me, saying, I have seen this people, and behold, it is a stiff-necked people”- Deuteronomy 9:14 (1599 Geneva Bible).

Thus, Scripture hints at the idea that, while claiming to be God’s holy [and Torah compliant] people, most Israelites have secretly made an idol out of their rebellious and transgressing nature. In fact, Scripture hints at the fact that, it is this brazen and stubborn spirit [and not any anti-semitism] what drives the Creator to let Israel suffer pain and persecution.

As is written: «Then said the Lord unto me, “Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet mine affection could not be toward this People: cast them out of my sight, and let them depart. And if they say unto thee, ‘Whither shall we depart?’ then tell them, Thus saith the Lord, ‘Such as are appointed to death, unto death: and such as are for the sword, to the sword: and such as are for the famine, to the famine: and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity’.

And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the Lord, the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear in pieces, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth to devour, and to destroy. I will scatter them also in all kingdoms of the earth... Who shall then have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who shall be sorry for thee? or who shall go to pray for thy peace?

Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hand against thee, and destroy thee: for I am weary with repenting. And I will scatter them with the fan in the gates of the earth: I have wasted, and destroyed my People, yet they would not return from their [evil] ways”» Jeremiah 15:1-7, 1599 Geneva Bible.

"For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, He hath also rejected thee..."- 1 Samuel 15:23

«In the eyes of the Creator, the man who [like the ancient Levites] places his faithfulness to God ahead of his faithfulness to friends, family, or tribe affiliation, is considered to have fulfilled God's [Law] covenant. As is written: "And of Levi he said, Let thy Thummim and thy Urim be with thy holy one... Who said unto his father and to his mother, I have not seen him; neither did he acknowledge his brethren, nor knew his own children: for they have observed thy word, and kept thy Covenant"- Deuteronomy 33:8-9, KJB»

A nation without God, is a nation without truth and without peace

Hebrew Scripture states the following: "Hear the word of יהוה, ye children of Israel! for יהוה hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land, [and what's the result of such lack of Truth?...] Swearing and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery! they break all bounds, and blood toucheth blood"- Hosea 4:1-2 (JPS, 1917 Edition).

Concerning the idea of Truth, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Truth actually is a manifestation of God's very nature. As is written: "So that he who blesseth himself in the Earth shall bless himself by the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the Earth shall swear by the God of truth... Into Thy hand I commit my spirit; Thou hast redeemed me, O LORD, Thou God of truth"- Isaiah 65:16, & Psalm 31:6 (JPS, 1917 Edition).

Therefore, it can be properly said that truth has a life of its own (independent of it's surrounding context). In other words, "The Truth, is the Truth"-- regardless of whether such Truth is attributed to a real character, or to an imaginary one; to a reliable source, or to an unreliable source; to a power group we happen to admire, or to one we happen to hate.

And since God is truth, whenever a nation abandons God, truth disappears from it's midst-- people get disconnected from reality (from the common sense notion of "sowing and reaping", "cause and effect", "action, and reaction"), exalting instead deception, vanity, and wishful thinking. As a result, vice and corruption flourish; strife increases; peace disappears, and social unrest ends up tearing the Nation apart.

May the Creator turns us back to the Light of Truth and common sense, making good upon us the verses that go on to say: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; they that dwelt in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined... O send out Thy light and Thy truth; let them lead me; let them bring me unto Thy holy mountain, and to Thy dwelling-places"- Isaiah 9:1, & Psalm 43:3 (JPS, 1917 Edition). Amen.

"If my people, among whom my Name is called upon, do humble themselves, and pray and seek my presence, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear in heaven and be merciful to their sin, and will heal their land"- 2 Chronicles 7:14 (1599 Geneva Bible)

"Truth is like good medicine: at first, it has a bitter taste; But in the end, it brings sweet healing"

Religious knowledge without humility, is futility

A good theological framework will not guarantee our share in the World to Come; whereas a good heart will definitely get the job done... You see, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that if my interpretation of Moses law (also known as “Torah”) makes me a proud person, then my interpretation is worthless.

Why? Simply because Moses teaching is compared to water; as is written- “My doctrine shall drop as the rain, my speech shall distil as the dew, as the small rain upon the tender herb, and as the showers upon the grass”- Deuteronomy 32:2, King James Bible.

In other words, just as water leaves “the high places”, in order to settle in “the lower ones”, so does Torah leave “the high place” [of the proud heart], in order to abide in “the low place” [of the humble spirit].

And the former explains why the good tidings are not promised to the wise people, nor to the strictly observant. Rather, they are reserved for the meek and brokenhearted. As is written:

“The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted”- Isaiah 61:1, KJV.

Thus, any theology that makes me proud or arrogant ought to be questioned right away. Curiously, Jewish tradition seems to teach the same. As is written:

«They sent word from there (Palestine-- This expression always refers to R. Eleazar b. Pedath (supra 17b)): Who is destined for the world to come? HE WHO IS MEEK, HUMBLE, stooping on entering and on going out, and a constant student of the Torah WITHOUT CLAIMING MERIT THEREFOR. [Thereupon] the Rabbis cast their eyes upon R. Ulla b. Abba [as endowed with all these qualities]. (B. Talmud, Sanhedrim 88b)

God’s Law consists of only Ten Foundational Commandments

God’s Law states that the Israel coming out of Egypt included non-Hebrew people, as if to hint that, just as it happened to Rahab, to Ruth, and to Naaman, all nations are called to follow Moses. As is written: “And the children of Israel journeyed from Rameses to Succoth, about six hundred thousand on foot that were men, beside children. And a mixed multitude went up also with them”- Exodus 12:37-38, KJB.

In addition, Scripture teaches that the Ten Commandments (or “Sayings”) are God’s covenant with the mixed multitude comprising Israel (symbol of all mankind). As is written: “And He declared unto you His covenant, which He commanded you to perform, even Ten Commandments; and He wrote them upon two tables of stone”- Deut. 4:13, KJB.

These Ten Commandments [and nothing else] are God’s own covenant with all mankind. As is written: “These words the Lord spake unto all your assembly in the mount out of the midst of the fire, of the cloud, and of the thick darkness, with a great voice: and He added no more. And He wrote them in two tables of stone, and delivered them unto me”- Deut. 5:22, KJB.

But if the Ten Commandments are God’s true Law covenant with mankind, how is it that Israel followed 613 commands? The reason for the latter is hinted in the fact that the numerical value of 613 is 10 (in other words, 6 + 1 + 3 = 10). And the former means the Ten Commandments are the very foundation of the 613 commands, while the rest is just explanation. For example; the Law states that we cannot steal (“Thou shalt not steal”- Exodus 20:15).

But we find that, after giving the Ten Commandments, God requests the Israelites to spare the field corners for the benefit of the poor (“And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harvest. And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them for the poor and stranger...”- Leviticus 19:9-10).

Why would the latter be considered an “explanatory” command? Because it’s purpose is to teach us that, withholding charity from the needy, is also a form of stealing!

In short, the Ten Commandments written upon the two stone tablets are God’s real Law (His covenant with mankind), while the rest of the 613 commands are just detailed explanation.

«... Thus saith יהוה, Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away and not turn again? Wherefore is this people of Jerusalem turned back by a perpetual rebellion? they gave themselves to deceit, and would not return. I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? everyone turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battle. Even the stork in the air knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle, and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming, but my People knoweth not the judgment of יהוה. How do ye say, “We are wise, and the Law of יהוה is with us?...”» (Jeremiah 8:4-8)

The surprising truth behind the hidden identity of new world order leaders; and they are not whom you’ve been told they are!

When it comes to the identifying the people controlling the strings behind the New World order movement, we must say that they are not really Jews, Christians, Muslims, or even Atheists; they are people who secretly worship “Ha-Satan”. And what does “Ha-Satan” means? “Ha Satan” is the Hebrew word meaning “The Opposer”.

In other words, these people’s agenda is to create a World completely opposed to ultimate authority (or God). A satanic “paradise” devoided of any moral restriction; a rebellious place where there’s no God of goodness, and where “evil is good, and good is evil”.

And how do they go about implementing their evil scheme? They do it “little by little”. In other words, they move about slowly, and stealthily; masquerading their plans under the guise of a noble effort to advanced “Democracy”, “modernity”, “equality”, “human rights”, and “freedom from superstition”, as well as “freedom from outdated moral stereotypes”.

Thus, by means of global media, Satanists constantly bombard the public with flattering words, in order to encourage individuals [and societies] to embrace hedonism, as well as rebelliousness. But what they don’t openly disclose to anyone, is the fact that theirs isn’t a random rebelliousness; rather, it’s a rebellion specifically aimed at opposing each and everyone of God’s commandments.

For example, If God says marriage is between two opposite sexes, then Satanists strive to make us do the opposite: promoting marriage between same sexes; If God says we must be afraid of saying what isn’t true [as would be the case with the man who claims to be a woman], then Satanist try to make us be afraid of saying what is actually true (calling it “politically incorrect”, and making it “hate speech”);

If God says man cannot be attired as a woman, nor a woman be attired as a man, then Satanist do the opposite, and try to sell us the virtues of cross-dressing; If God says we must use the rod to discipline our children, then Satanists do the opposite, claiming that “violence is never justified”; If God says that cold blooded criminals must be executed, then Satanists do the opposite, trying to completely abolish death penalty;

If God says that newborns are a blessing we must seek, then Satanists claim that newborns are a burden to women’s professional career, and must therefore be avoided (or aborted); If God says usury is a bad, and we must therefore be ashamed of it, then Satanists say the opposite; claiming that we must be proud of usury, as it goes to prove our “business savvy”;

If the Creator says humanity should strive to sacrifice 10% (on tithes) to Him, while keeping control of the remaining 90%, Satanists do the exact opposite, and strive to sacrifice 90% of humanity (population control) to Satan, while keeping control of the remaining 10%.

In fact, opposition to God’s commandments is such an uncompromising goal, that Satanists are willing to contradict themselves, rather than to depart from it. And that’s why they enjoin women to experience all sort of sexual experiences, save entering into a stable marriage relationship with an already married man.

Why not? Because the former would be polygamy, and the Bible presents the Creator approving of polygamous relationships (Jacob and his four wives, Elcana and his two wives, king David and his many wives, etc)

Hebrew Scripture teaches that king Saul started his kingdom by showing mercy to wicked king Agag (pardoning his life, as per 1st Samuel 15:20); but ended it showing no mercy to the righteous priests of Nob (slaughtering them all, as per 1st Samuel 22:16). What does it mean? It means that, in all things, the believer must seek the healthy balance (“Be not righteous over much... why shouldst thou destroy thyself? Be not over much wicked... why shouldst thou die before thy time?”- Ecclesiastes 7:16-17), as the man who becomes excessively righteous [toward the wicked], will end up becoming excessively wicked [toward the righteous]. And the former is summed up in the wise proverb that goes on to say: “Too far East, is West!”

Sowing and Reaping: He who claims to be a child of God, while openly embracing an immoral lifestyle, thereby blasphemes the name of his Creator

God’s Law prescribes capital punishment for any Israelite daring to [publicly] blaspheme the God of Israel. As is written: “So the Israelitish woman’s son blasphemed the Name of the Lord, and cursed... Then the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, Bring the blasphemer without the host, and let all that heard him, put their hands upon his head, and let all the Congregation stone him... Whosoever curseth his God, shall bear his sin. And he that blasphemeth the Name of the Lord, shall be put to death:... as well the stranger, as he that is born in the land: when he blasphemeth the Name of the Lord, let him be slain”- Leviticus 24:11-16 (1599 Geneva Bible)

Thus, the Law hints at the idea that God’s own religion doesn't consist of having “the right theology”; rather, it has to do with having “the right morality” (Micah 6: 8, & Psalm 37:27). And this is why public immorality is the sin God won't tolerate. In fact, He abhors immorality so much, that took personal care warning us against it. How? By writing upon the two stone tablets the following words (with His own “fingers”!): “Do not commit adultery, do not steal, do not lie, do not insult your parents... etc”.

So, the Israelite who willingly chooses to openly disobey the God of the Hebrews [living a life of outright immorality], will sooner or later be punished, suffering the Divine curse. Why the Divine curse? Because Scripture teaches man is destined to “eat” the fruit of his hands; that is to say, each person will have to “reap” the same evil [or goodness] he has sown. And, since [with his immoral behavior] this man has induced others to curse the Creator, it is fair that he be forced to reap the same curse he has planted.

You see, when a man claims to be part of God’s Holy people (Israel), and then goes on and openly practices the homosexual lifestyle, the public feel entitled to curse the God of the Israel, saying: “This man claims to be part of God’s People, but he openly practices the Homosexual lifestyle.

Could it be that he is imitating his God, who also is an open Homosexual?; When a man claims to be a Hebrew believer, while openly embracing theft and fraud, the enemies of Israel are justified in cursing the God of the Hebrews, saying: “This one claims to be a Hebrew believer, yet he is a thief and practices fraud. If the God of the Hebrews doesn’t mind, perhaps it is because He himself is also a thief and a fraud ”;

When a Hebrew believer goes and lies publicly and shamelessly, the wicked ones curse the God of Israel, saying: “This guy claims to be part of God’s holy People, but he is a lying and shameless sophist. From whom did he learn it? Could it be that he learned it from his own God, who is as shameless as he is, and therefore has no problem with such low life morality?;

When a believer claims to be part of God’s Holy People, and then goes on to murder another human being, the wicked ones are empowered to curse the God of Israel, saying: “This guy claims to be part of the People of God, but he is a murderer. Is it because his God is also a murderer?

Thus, the Hebrew believer who acts immorally, will be condemned to reap the same curse with which he caused the wicked to blaspheme the God of Israel.

And this is what happened to King David [after abruptly finishing the life of Uriah, an innocent son of God]. Since this action of David caused the wicked to curse the God of Israel, God brought the same curse upon David. How? By letting him experience how the life of his innocent son was also abruptly extinguished.

As it is written: “But because, with this matter (extinguishing the life of an innocent human being), you made the enemies of יהוה blaspheme, the [innocent] son that was born to you, he will surely die” (2 Samuel 12:14).

And the former is the reason why the Hebrew faith isn't always the best path for everyone to follow, as the Creator demands that we embrace the life of moral purity resulting from the obedience to His commandments.

As is written: “Speak unto the children of Israel, and bid them that they make them fringes in the borders of their garments throughout their generations, and that they put upon the fringe of the borders a ribband of blue: And it shall be unto you for a fringe, that ye may look upon it, and remember all the commandments of the Lord, and do them ; and that ye seek not after your own heart and your own eyes, after which ye use to go a whoring: That ye may remember, and do all my commandments, and be holy unto your God”- Numbers 15:38-40, King James Bible.

The Hebrew believer who openly embraces an immoral lifestyle blasphemes his Creator, and is therefore condemned to be exiled from his land, and enslaved by his enemies

«For it is a rebellious People, lying children, children that refuse to hear the teaching of יהוה; That say to the seers: 'See not,' and to the prophets: 'Prophecy not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophesy delusions; Get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us'... They shall be put to shame because they have committed abomination; yea, they are not at all ashamed, neither know they how to blush; therefore they shall fall among them that fall, at the time that I punish them they shall stumble, saith יהוה... And thou, even of thyself, shalt discontinue from thy heritage that I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not; for ye have kindled a fire in My nostril, which shall burn for ever»- Isaiah 30:9-11, Jeremiah 6:15, & Jeremiah 17:4 (JPS, 1917 Edition)

«Honesty is the first chapter in the book of wisdom”»

Speak truth, even if against yourself!

From whence do we learn that a true Hebrew believer won't hesitate to speak truth, even if against himself? We learn it from prophet Jonah; who, after acknowledging his own religion (“And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew; and I fear the Lord, the God of heaven...”- Jonah 1:9), went on to say: “... Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you”- Jonah 1:12.

The bitter moral truth hiding behind Torah's narrative

God's Law (or “Torah”) wasn't intended to be a book of science, nor to be a book of accurate history--- Instead, it's aim is to be a book of parables and moral paradigms. For example, even though Lot was part of Avraham's family [a Semite], he was considered to be part of the Hebrew people only while following Abraham (symbol of the moral high ground).

But, after leaving Abraham, in order to dwell on the plain of Sodom (symbol of lowlife morality), Lot was no longer considered to be part of the Hebrew people. In fact, he became instead the nations of “Moab and Ammon” (Pagan nations destined to be eternal enemies of the Hebrew People!). Thus, Torah teaches that he who strives to live a moral lifestyle, is counted as part of the Hebrew people. But he who embraces an immoral lifestyle can't be counted as part of the Hebrew people [even if, as it happened with Lot, he is an ethnic Semite!]

Both Hebrew & Christian Scriptures declare the Ten commandments to be God's genuine religion

According to Reformed Samaritanism, both Hebrew and Christian Scriptures bear witness to the fact that, obedience to the Ten Commandments [as opposed to blind faith on any "Son-of-man" Messiah], is God's true religion. As is written:

"And He declared unto you His covenant, which He commanded you to perform, even the Ten Words [or Commandments]; and He wrote them upon two tables of stone... The end of the matter, all having been heard: fear God, and keep His commandments; for this is the whole man... And ye shall keep My commandments, and do them: I [who commands you to do so] am the LORD... How long refuse ye to keep My commandments and My Laws?... Keep my commandments and live"- Deut. 4:13, Ecclesiastes 12:13, Leviticus 22:31, Exodus 16:28, & Proverbs 7:2 (JPS, 1917 Edition);

"... but if thou wilt enter into Life [everlasting], keep the [Ten] Commandments... Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself" (Matthew 19:17-19, King James Bible)...

"Put not your [blind] trust in princes, nor in The Son of Man, in whom there is no [everlasting] help... Thus saith the LORD: Cursed is the man that [blindly] trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart [thereby] departeth from the LORD" (Psalm 146:3, & Jeremiah 17:5- Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition);

"By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep His commandments. For this is the love of God, that we keep His commandments: and His commandments are not grievous" (1 John 5:2-10, King James Bible).

... But, since the former truth could seriously undermine both Jewish, Christian & Muslim establishments, they will vehemently deny it.

"Just as it happens with most things in life (money, sex, power, intelligence, etc), Religion can be used as a tool: We can choose to use it for evil purposes, or we can choose to use it for godly purposes... Either way, the Holy One will respect our freedom of choice. But beware! Although we are allowed to ignore goodness, we are not allowed to ignore the consequences of ignoring goodness"

Who is a Hebrew believer?

To be a practising Hebrew believer is a little bit like being a mathematician: You need to learn a lot about abstract ideas! In fact, you must be able to deduct (and extrapolate) new truth, starting from already existing facts. And you must be able to do so in an honest, logical, rational, and coherent fashion.

In other words, a real Hebrew believer never utilizes arbitrary ideas, in order to build up his own ideological framework; he never tries to make them stand by means of intimidation; by claiming they are "the politically correct thing to believe"; or that they are backed up by this or that other Hebrew movement (or reputable personality).

And, most definitely, a real Hebrew believer never tries to make his ideas stand by means of the public lynching his his opponent's reputation. Instead, his ideas stand upon the merits of the moral and rational arguments that gave them birth. This emphasis on moral and rational thinking is what makes Hebrew believer a power house in the fields of physics, engineering, and mathematics. Consider the following example: the main tenet of ancient Hebrew faith was that existence of only one single God-- the Source and Creator of all other things. The former implies the Creator made light, air, matter, energy, space, time, emotions, ideas, dimensions, laws of physics... in fact, the whole universe! But, since God existed before He began to create the Universe, we must conclude that He is "outside" the Universe (in other words, He is no part of it).

Thus, in a strict literal sense, we can't "see" God; we can't "touch" Him, we can't "hug" Him, "kiss" him, give him something to eat, nor something to drink. But, if this is so, how can we ever fulfill the greatest command ever given by Him-- "to love our God with all our minds, hearts and strength" (Deut. 6:5)? Well, logic dictates that we can't do it directly. But, if we dig a little deeper, we'll find out we can do it indirectly, as Scripture teaches man was created in God's own image (Genesis 1:27). Thus, we are forced to conclude that, while God doesn't need to be loved (as He isn't a man, has no need whatsoever, and isn't even part of the Universe), if He ask us to love Him, it's only because He's trying to convey the idea that, rather than being optional behaviour, to love our fellow creatures is actually a moral obligation (our Divinely appointed task).

Therefore doing good [living the ethical life embodied in loving our fellow human beings] was the original foundation of the ancient Hebrew faith-- and not the belief on this or that other religious movement or dogma.

And the fact that doing goodness and justice was the Divinely ordained path set forth for all mankind was also revealed to our father Avraham, when God told him the following: «For I have known him, so that he may teach and command his children and the sons of his house after him to keep THE WAY OF THE LORD and TO DO WHAT IS JUST AND RIGHTEOUS, so that the Lord may bring upon Abraham what He has promised him»- Genesis 18:19.

Thus, whenever we do what is just and righteous (treat others with the same consideration we ourselves would like to be treated), we thereby walk in the path of the Lord, and thereby affirm our spiritual connection to Avraham.

And the former all encompassing (or, "results oriented") view of the Hebrew faith is the reason why, although much older than it's monotheistic counterparts, Hebrew Faith has only a handful of sects (by way of comparison, Islam has close to seventy sects, while Christian sects number in the thousands). In short, from the Scripture's standpoint, a true Hebrew believer is he who can "fix the eyes of his understanding" upon the "head" of the religious issue (in other words, upon the ethical lifestyle that the Creator expects him to embrace), while the non-Hebrew believer fixes his eyes upon "the tail" of the issue-- in other words, upon the religious "pocket change" of their ethnic, cultural, political, and theological identity [secondary, non ethical, incidental, and inconsequential minutiae].

Did Jesus have a soul and a spirit?

Our Christian brothers claim Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) became a member of the human race, in order to become the exclusive Mediator between God and man. And they also claim that, because he was fully human, we could see our own sufferings in Him, for He endured the same types of trials we face, persevering under great physical pain.

In short, Christianity claims we can identify with Jesus, since he was fully human ("Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil"- Hebrews 2:14, King James Bible).

Unfortunately, Christian theology also claims man to be composed of 3 elements-- body, soul, and spirit (“And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless”- Thessalonians 5:23, KJB).

Finally, Christianity claims Jesus was 100% human, as well as 100% God, being an integral part of a Divine Trinity. As is written: “For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word (Jesus, as per John 1:1), and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one”- 1 John 5:7, KJB.

What’s the problem with the former claims? The problem is that they are [at best] incoherent. In other words, if as a typical human being Jesus had a personal body, a personal soul, and a personal spirit, then the Trinity cannot possibly be a Trinity. Why? Because Jesus contribution to it would be more than 1/3 of the whole!

In other words, the Trinity would be composed not of 3 but rather 5 distinct elements: (1) The Father, (2) The Holy Spirit, (3) Jesus personal body, (4) Jesus personal soul (5) Jesus personal Spirit.

But, what if Jesus had neither soul nor spirit? If so, then he wasn’t really human, and therefore wasn’t qualified to be humanity’s representative. There’s more! If Christian theology can be so wrong about something so obvious as what we’ve just discussed, how can we possibly trust Christian views concerning much more difficult issues like the replacement of God’s Law, Justification by faith, The End times events, and the soul’s eternal destiny?

What is the moral of the foregoing discussion? That, though Christianity is a perfectly valid path to reach the Creator, it’s theological framework is [at best] uncertain and shaky.

Without humility, there's no Torah, and therefore no true Israel [as pride is a subtle form of deceptive idolatry]

If your interpretation of Torah (God’s Law) fails to make you a humble person, then your interpretation of Torah [and even your own Hebrew identity] needs to be re-examined. Why? Because Scripture says, “Thou didst pluck up a vine out of Egypt” (Psalm 80:9). In other words, just as in a vine with large clusters and smaller ones, each large cluster hangs lower than its smaller neighbor, so do real Hebrew people: He who is greater than his fellow holds himself to be below him

Was Jesus Messiah Ben [or “Son of”] Joseph?

The holy gospel says: «Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, “We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph”- John 1:45, King James Bible.

Some ancient Jewish traditions mention the possibility of two different [human] Messiah’s: “Messiah Ben David”, and “Messiah Ben Joseph”. Can the former verse be construed as proof that Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) was indeed the “Messiah Ben Joseph” (Messiah Son If Joseph) expected by first century Jews? Of course not!

Why? Simply because the “Joseph” mentioned in the former verse had nothing to do with the “Joseph” associated with Messiah Ben Joseph. Why? Because the latter Joseph was the one sold by his brothers (who ended up fathering both Ephraim and Menashe tribes).

Thus, whenever Jewish people spoke about “Messiah Ben Joseph”, they were actually making reference to a biological descendant from one of former two tribes [and, according to gospel genealogies, Jesus step father didn’t belong to any of them].

But, at a time when Rome persecuted Israel, why would Jewish people be expecting the arrival of a “Messiah Son Joseph”? The reason was in fact a very logical one. You see, ancient Jews considered Romans to be direct descendants [and therefore “proper representatives”] of Edom.

Thus, as a “son of Joseph” could be an equally proper representative of his ancestor, Jews envisioned Messiah Ben Joseph asking Edom (Rome/ Christianity) the following: “Why do you persecute your brother (Israel/Judaism)?”. And, should Edom dare to say, “Because Israel was evil to me [not recognizing my supremacy]”, he would be properly able to reply, “My brothers also requited me with evil [not recognizing my supremacy], yet I requited them with goodness [not condemning them to death nor punishment]”. Then Edom (Rome/Christianity) will have to remain silent [thereby recognizing it’s defeated at the hands of Messiah Ben Joseph].

Concerning the former defeat (by the words of Messiah Ben Joseph) of the gentile nations comprising Edom, Scripture goes on to say: “But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth: with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips [his words] shall he slay the wicked [Edom]”- Isaiah 11:4, KJB.

And also says in another place: “O Lord, my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit”- Jeremiah 16:19, KJB.

¿Cual es el propósito de la Ley de Dios?

El propósito de la Torah (la Ley Divina) no es exaltar a ningún hombre [Moisés, David, Jesus, Pablo, Muhammad, etc], a ninguna raza [blanca, negra, amarilla, etc], a ningún pueblo [Israel, Egipto, Etiopía, Grecia, Roma, Arabia, América, etc], ni a ninguna religión [Samaritanismo, Judaísmo, Cristianismo, Islam, etc].

Su propósito es proclamar en cambio la existencia de un Poder Supremo (o, “Elohim”); un Dios perfectamente ético y moral que juzga con absoluta justicia, no salvando ni condenando arbitrariamente a nadie, sino haciendo que cada hombre [sin importar su raza o credo] reciba el mismo bien [o mal] que libre y voluntariamente halla escogido sembrar (Ley de “Siembra y Cosecha”).

Así, por medio de sus mandamientos, de sus estatutos, de sus ritos, y de sus alegorías, la Torah muestra cual es el bien que todo hombre debe practicar, a fin de alcanzar la misma estatura moral [así como la misma bendición] que alcanzaron Enoc, Noé, Job, Melquisedec, Abraham, e Isaac; hombres de Dios que, si bien es cierto que vivieron mucho antes de que la Torah fuese dada en el Sinaí, encarnaron con sus propias vidas “una Torah viviente”.

En otras palabras, si tanto Noé, como Job y Abraham agradaron a Dios sin necesidad alguna de recibir una Torah “tangible”, fue porque estos hombres eran lo suficientemente sabios, misericordiosos, y humildes como para que sus pensamientos, sus palabras, sus actos, y sus aptitudes cumplieren naturalmente con la Torah tangible --cuyo propósito no es otro sino que el hombre sea justo, misericordioso, y humilde, sembrando en sus semejantes el mismo bien que desearía eventualmente cosechar para sí mismo--.

¿Y porque fue necesario revelar la Torah siglos mas tarde? Pues porque, así como fue poco a poco disminuyendo el largo de la vida humana, de ese mismo modo fue disminuyendo la capacidad humana para distinguir entre “lo recto” y “lo torcido”; entre “lo derecho”, y “lo extraviado”. Como esta escrito: “¿Y no tendré yo piedad de Nínive, aquella gran ciudad donde hay más de ciento veinte mil personas que no saben discernir entre su mano derecha y su mano izquierda...?”- Jonás 4:11.

Como dato curioso, durante los casi cinco siglos que duró la vida de los patriarcas Hebreos, Dios no habló con ellos en más de 15 ocasiones. ¿Por que? Pues porque, siendo hombres sabios y entendidos, tenían claro que lo que El Creador (bendito sea) esperaba de ellos era que hiciesen lo bueno; que bendijesen; que tuviesen misericordia de los presos, de los pobres, y de los de-ambulantes.

Fue cuando decayó el entendimiento de los hombres, que hubo necesidad de enviar muchos profetas, a fin de que Dios hablase a menudo. Y esto se confirma en el hecho de que, cuando Moisés finalizó el Tabernáculo, Dios habló a Moisés [y a Israel] 15 veces en el lapso de un solo día.

De hecho, la triste realidad es que, luego de mas 3000 años, la mayoría de los hombres somos aún incapaces de descifrar el mensaje de la Torah. Es decir, somos incapaces de comprender que, si la Torah fue entregada en medio de lo que la Escritura describe como una aparente tormenta de lluvia.

Como esta escrito: “Aconteció que al tercer día, cuando vino la mañana, vinieron truenos y relámpagos, y espesa nube sobre el monte... Y Moisés sacó del campamento al pueblo para recibir a Dios...”- Éxodo 19:16-17, Biblia Reina Valera 1960), fue solo para mostrar que, la enseñanza revelada por la Torah, es como la lluvia (“Goteará como la lluvia mi enseñanza; Destilará como el rocío mi razonamiento; Como la llovizna sobre la grama, Y como las gotas sobre la hierba”- Deuteronomio 32:2, Biblia Reina Valera 1960.

¿Que significa el que la enseñanza de la Torah sea “como la lluvia”? Pues significa que, así como el agua de la lluvia abandona los lugares encumbrados, para terminar en los lugares de pobre elevación, de ese mismo modo la Torah deja el corazón que es de alta condición (es decir, soberbio, vano, y orgulloso), para terminar en cambio en el corazón que es de baja condición (el corazón pobre, humilde, y quebrantado).

Como esta escrito: “Abominación es al Señor todo altivo de corazón; Ciertamente no quedará impune”- Proverbios 16:5. Y tambien dice la Escritura: “Porque así dijo el Alto y Sublime, el que habita la eternidad, y cuyo nombre es el Santo: Yo habito en la altura y la santidad, y con el quebrantado y humilde de espíritu... Pero miraré a aquel que es pobre y humilde de espíritu, y que tiembla a mi palabra”- Isaías 57:15, & 66:2, Biblia Reina Valera. Y finalmente dice: “porque me ungió el Señor; me ha enviado a predicar buenas nuevas a los abatidos, a vendar a los quebrantados de corazón”- Isaías 61:1, B.R.V. 1960

En resumen, el mensaje de la Ley (o “Torah”) es que la buena nueva [del favor Divino] no es propiedad exclusiva de Judíos, Samaritanos, Cristianos, ni Musulmanes; sino que esta en cambio reservado para todo aquel que tiene un corazón abatido (es decir, para el hombre cuyo compromiso con el servicio a Dios, con la obediencia, y con la humildad le han convertido en “una Torah viviente”).

Reformed Samaritanism is a particular form of ethical monotheism-- Abraham's own religion

The person dedicated to the study of Moses holy writings finds it surprising that terms like “Religion”, “Judaism”, “Synagogue”, “Jew”, and even “Rabbi” are basically impossible to find among Moses five books of Torah.

The truth of the matter is that, by teaching Abraham was the ancestor of both Ishmael (Islam), Jacob (Judaism), Edom (Roman Christianity), and Ephraim (Samaritans), Torah hints at the idea that modern monotheistic religions spring from a common well-- a more encompassing principle, allegorically portrayed by Abraham.

You see, the reason why Abraham married Sarai (his half sister), was the same reason why he honored his guests (the three angels) with non kosher food (a mix of red meat and dairy products)...

What was the reason? That (living centuries before Moses, Jesus or Muhammad had brought up their respective messages) Abraham was neither a Jew, a Samaritan, a Christian, nor a Muslim.

Instead, our father Abraham was an ethical monotheist: a person who believes in existence of a Supreme Judge; a god who will eventually judge the intentions of every heart [rewarding goodness, and punishing evil].

And from whence do we know Abraham believed in the absolute justice of this “Supreme Judge”?

We know it from the verse that goes on to say: “That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: SHALL NOT THE JUDGE OF ALL THE EARTH DO RIGHT?”- Genesis 18:25, KJB

And from whence do know Abraham considered the fear of God to mean humans ought to abstain from immoral behavior? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: “And Abraham said, Because I thought, SURELY THE FEAR OF GOD (the Supreme Judge) IS NOT IN THIS PLACE; AND THEY WILL SLAY ME (murder, deception) FOR MY WIFE'S SAKE (stealing, rape, fornication, adultery)”- Genesis 20:11, KJB.

But what about those who claim Torah’s message is all about ethnic Israel? What’s wrong with their interpretation? Well, the problem is that such idea leads to “Ethnocentrism”: the false notion that God arbitrarily makes one people to be intrinsically superior to the rest. And why is ethnocentrism an unethical viewpoint? It is so for several reasons. Consider just a few of them:

(1) To begin with, it’s against Torah, as the latter warns against the disastrous consequences of preferring one son above the others (think of Joseph’s jealous brothers).

(2) Secondly, ethnocentrism blasphemes the Creator. How? By casting doubts upon God’s moral character; in other words, by portraying Him as having an arbitrarily biased personality. And the latter is mistaken, as Torah states God doesn’t arbitrarily prefer any people, but rather honors those who honor him, regardless of their race. As is written: “For the Lord your God is God of gods, and Lord of lords, A GREAT GOD, A MIGHTY, AND A TERRIBLE, WHICH REGARDETH NOT PERSONS, nor taketh reward”- (Deut. 10:17, KJB)

(3) Last [but not least], ethnocentrism is unethical because it leads people to abandon faith in God’s power, in order to proudly [and openly] place it on human power (which is tantamount to worshiping human beings-- the vilest form of idolatry).

And what’s wrong with Israel [or for that sake any other ethnic group] openly displaying pride for it’s alleged superiority? It’s wrong because God wants all humans to be humble, avoiding any public display of self glorification (“Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips”- Proverbs 27:2, KJB).

Besides, as trusting it’s superiority makes a nation think it’s safety, prosperity, and deliverance rest upon it’s own hands [and not upon the hands of any God it might obey or fear], such nation ends up turning away from the Creator, as well as from godly morality [feeling no need of either]. But God had told Israel that life and blessing is not to be found anywhere else but in fearing God and walking the godly path of Justice. As is written:

“I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I HAVE SET BEFORE YOU LIFE AND DEATH, BLESSING AND CURSING: THEREFORE CHOOSE LIFE, THAT BOTH THOU AND THY SEED MAY LIVE: THAT THOU MAYEST LOVE THE LORD THY GOD, AND THAT THOU MAYEST OBEY HIS VOICE, and that thou mayest cleave unto him: for he is thy life, and the length of thy days...”- Deut. 30:19-20, KJB.

It also says in another place: “And now, Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but TO FEAR THE LORD THY GOD, TO WALK IN ALL HIS WAYS, and to love him, and to serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, TO KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS OF THE LORD, and his statutes, WHICH I COMMAND THEE THIS DAY FOR THY GOOD?”- Deut. 10:12-13, KJV.

Finally, it says the following: “THEREFORE SHALL YE KEEP ALL THE COMMANDMENTS WHICH I COMMAND YOU THIS DAY, THAT YE MAY BE STRONG, AND GO IN AND POSSESS THE LAND, whither ye go to possess it”- Deut. 11:8, KJB

And from whence do we know God isn't pleased when the Israelite Nation considers itself to be [in moral terms] intrinsically superior to any other people? We know it from the verse that goes on to say:

“SPEAK NOT THOU IN THINE HEART, AFTER THAT THE LORD THY GOD HATH CAST THEM OUT FROM BEFORE THEE, SAYING, FOR MY RIGHTEOUSNESS THE LORD HATH BROUGHT ME IN TO POSSESS THIS LAND: but for the wickedness of these nations the Lord doth drive them out from before thee. NOT FOR THY RIGHTEOUSNESS, OR FOR THE UPRIGHTNESS OF THINE HEART, DOST THOU GO TO POSSESS THEIR LAND: BUT FOR THE WICKEDNESS OF THESE NATIONS the Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee, and that he may perform the word which the Lord sware unto thy fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Understand therefore, that the Lord thy God giveth thee not this good land to possess it for thy righteousness; FOR THOU ART A STIFFNECKED PEOPLE”- Deut. 9:4-6, KJV

Finally, from whence do we know God isn't pleased with ethnic Israel trusting any self perceived superiority [or strength]? We know it from the verse that goes on to say, «And the Lord said unto Gideon, The people that are with thee are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hands, LEST ISRAEL VAUNT THEMSELVES AGAINST ME, SAYING, “MINE OWN HAND HATH SAVED ME”»

The dual nature of God's creation

Hebrew Scripture intimates that, for every physical (or “material”) phenomenon, there is a non-physical (or “spiritual”) counterpart; a curious relationship that is quite similar to the observed relationship between matter and energy.

And from whence do we get the former? We get it from the account concerning King Ahab, in which we are informed that the flattering words of his false prophets were inspired by a lying spirit. As it is written,

«And the Lord said: “Who will induce Ahab, so that he goes up and falls in Ramoth Gilead?”... And a spirit came out and stood before the Lord, and said: “I will induce him”. And the Lord said to him: “In what way?” He said, “I will go out, and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets”. And He said: “You will induce him, and you will even get it; go, then, and do so” And now, behold, the Lord has put a lying spirit in the mouth of all your prophets, and the Lord has decreed evil against you»- 1 Kings 22:20-23

Is your soul saved from condemnation?

The Christian Gospel states the following: “Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God”- Matthew 5:8 (Christian Standard Bible).

Is your heart pure? Do you sincerely strive to be a just, honest, humble, and merciful human being? If not, then you are not in peace with God. If you really want to abide forever in the presence of the Almighty, you must proceed to sincere repentance, starting to walk the path of righteousness set forth by the Scripture that goes on to say:

“Lord, who can dwell in your tent? Who can live on your holy mountain? The one who lives blamelessly, practices righteousness, and acknowledges the truth in his heart— who does not slander with his tongue, who does not harm his friend or discredit his neighbor, who despises the one rejected by the Lord but honors those who fear the Lord, who keeps his word whatever the cost, who does not lend his silver at interest or take a bribe against the innocent— the one who does these things will never be shaken”- Psalm 15:1-5 (C.S.B.)

The Decalogue is God’s true and Eternal Law

While reading Moses five books of Torah you’ll find that, during Israel’s journey thru the wilderness, God punished the people’s violation of the Ten commandments in at least five different episodes:

- (1) The Israelite assembly was punished for making a golden calf, thereby violating the command that forbade any graven image (Exodus 32:7-8)
- (2) The son of a Hebrew woman was punished for blaspheming God’s name, thereby taking God’s name in vain (Leviticus 24:10-11)
- (3) An Israelite man was punished for gathering wooden sticks during the seventh day, thereby violating the command to observe Sabbath (Numbers 15:32-35)
- (4) Israel was punished at the plains of Moab for violating the command that forbade immorality (adultery and fornication), as well as for violating the command forbidding them from bowing to an idol (Numbers 25:1-2)

On the other hand, during the forty years spent in the wilderness, we never hear God ever punishing any Israelite for the sin of failing to wear Tephillim, for mixing meat and milk, for wearing clothes of mixed fabric, or for failing to place a Mezuzah upon the door post of his Tent (or house). In fact, during all those years, the whole Israelite assembly completely disregarded the command requiring that newborn babies be circumcised.

As is written: “For the children of Israel walked forty years in the wilderness, till all the people that were men of war, which came out of Egypt, were consumed... AND THEIR CHILDREN, WHOM HE RAISED UP IN THEIR STEAD, THEM JOSHUA CIRCUMCISED: FOR THEY WERE UNCIRCUMCISED, BECAUSE THEY HAD NOT CIRCUMCISED THEM BY THE WAY”- Joshua 5:6-7. Yet, no one was ever punished for such gross violation of God’s Law!

Thus, we must ask ourselves the following question: Why was God so severe with Israel’s violation of the Ten Commandments, yet was He so lenient when it came to the violation of those commands that are not part of the Decalogue?

Could it be that, by casting them upon stone tablets, Scripture hinted at the idea that the Decalogue is God’s true and perfect Law; the one Law promised to remain forever unchanged (“The Law of the Lord is perfect... So shall I keep thy Law continually for ever and ever... This book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein”- Psalm 19:7, & 119:44, Joshua 1:8 KJB)?

Could the former be God’s own way of telling that the rest of the 613 commandments were just particular applications of the previous Ten; and therefore their implementation was temporary, as it depended upon uncertain circumstances (Israel dwelling upon the Land, the existence of the Holy Temple, the existence of a properly established Sanhedrim, the existence of a functioning priesthood, etc)?

Curiously, Jewish lore seems to validate the former perspective. Why? Because it states that, in case of extreme danger, you are allowed to violate all of the commandments [when so doing can enable you to escape with your life]. Yet, there are three commands for which you are expected to prefer death, rather than to violate them:

- (1) Idolatry (the worship of another God)
- (2) Immorality (adultery)
- (3) Bloodshed (Murder)

Notice that each of the above is part of the Decalogue! Notice that each of the above is part of the Decalogue! Thus, the Decalogue is the one Law you can never afford to completely abandon.

Why is the worship of any human [or any human institution] a vile form of idolatry?

By rendering toward any man (Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, Rashi, Baal Shem Tov, etc) or toward any man-made establishment (Judaism, Samaritanism, Christianity, Islam, etc) the absolute submission & allegiance owed only to the Creator, a person commits a brazen form of idolatry.

And why would the idolatry of human personalities be viewed as a dirty and objectionable thing?

Because, in the final analysis, man is little more than a movable leather bag, full of urine and feces.

And that's why ancient Hebrew believers associated places of idolatry with public dung heaps. As is written: "and they tore down the pillar of Baal. Then they tore down the temple of Baal and made it a latrine—which it still is today" - 2 Kings 10:27, Christian Standard Bible

"Beware of wishful thinking, as impartial and objective truth is always less interesting than self serving deception!"

Reformed Samaritanism isn't a religious establishment; it is rather the moral perspective of those whom, regardless of race or creed, love Torah enough to perceive themselves as being "Benei Moshe" (Moses spiritual children)"

Before the start of the Christian era, the Hebrew sage named Hillel (peace and blessings be upon him) summed up true faith saying the following: "What is hateful to you, do not to your neighbor. That is the whole Torah [The Law, The Prophets, and the Writings]; the rest is [just] commentary. Go [now] and study it" - Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 31a.

Then came Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him), and reformulated the same faith saying the following: "Therefore, whatever you want others to do for you, do also the same for them, for this is [all the message of] the Law and the Prophets" - Matthew 7:12.

Finally, the prophet of Islam (Muhammad, peace be upon him) came, and summed it up again saying the following: "A man is not a true believer, until he does not love for his brother, what he loves for himself" - Sahih Muslim (Authentic Hadith) narrated by Annas.

Thus, those of us who follow the faith preached by all of the great prophets and messengers must aspire to do good to everybody (obeying what God had commanded Moses upon the two stone tablets). And, if we cannot do good, we must at least do our best effort not to [unjustly] harm anybody.

At the present time, many of those who consider themselves to be “Benei Moshe” (“Spiritual Sons of Moses”) refer to this ancient faith with the name of “Reformed Samaritanism”.

What do Reformed Samaritans believe?

1) We believe that there’s only one book that has absolute and uncontaminated Divine inspiration: the book of God, which יהוה (the Creator and Judge of the Universe) wrote with “his own finger” upon the two stone tablets (the Ten Commandments).

2) We believe that, in order to clarify the correct interpretation (and implementation) of his ten commandments, the Creator inspired prophet Moses (with the possible help of the prophet Joshua), who wrote the prophecy contained in his five books: Genesis, Exodus , Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy (the Torah).

3) We believe that Moses prophecy (the Torah), wasn’t written upon stone, but rather upon papyrus scrolls (or upon sheepskins).

4) We believe that, if the book of God (the ten commandments) was written upon stone, while Moses prophecy was written upon papyrus (or on sheepskins), it was only to teach us that just as the stone has much greater weight than the papyrus (or the sheepskins), so is obeying the ten commandments much more important than than believing in any prophecy (the future restoration of Israel, the future reconstruction of the temple, the future manifestation of the Messiah, etc.)

5) As a result of the above, we believe that obedience to God’s ten commandments is the means by which a man enters into the Creator’s covenant [thereby obtaining the Divine favor, and becoming part of the holy people allegorically portrayed by the ancient Hebrew nation]. As is written: “And He (Yah) announced to you His covenant, which he commanded you to do; the ten commandments, and he wrote them on two stone tablets »(Deut. 4:13) 6).

Therefore, we believe that God’s book (the ten commandments), as well as Moses five books of Torah (containing Moses prophecy), are the totality of the Divine revelation. And all other books can’t be considered anything but optional commentary.

Thus, adding to the former books would amount to stealing a part of the Divine territory that, in the heart of the believer are God’s ten commandments supposed to carve.

In other words, it would amount to using something else (the restoration of Israel, the reconstruction of the temple, the coming of the Messiah, etc.) as an excuse to diminish, divide, or dilute the zeal that, for keeping the commands of the covenant, ought to characterize all Hebrew believers: As is written:

«You shall not add to the word that I command you, nor diminish from it, so that you may keep (without the unnecessary distraction that would arise from adding additional books) the commandments of Yah your God, which I command you» (Deut. 4:2).

“People don't care how much you know, until they know how much you care”-

Why do Reformed Samaritans use phrases like “Peace be upon him”? And why do they seem to speak well of some people [or institutions] while at the same time criticizing them? Isn’t that a veiled form of hypocrisy?

If Reformed Samaritanism (R.S.) isn’t a veiled form of Islam, why would it’s literature include phrases like “peace be upon him”?... And if R.S. isn’t another “flavour” of Christianity, then why do we find it using expressions like “Christianity is a perfectly valid religion”? Finally, if R.S. isn’t another branch of Judaism, why would it make use of Jewish and/or Talmudic literature?

The reason for all of the former is quite simple. You see, Reformed Samaritanism demands the pursuit of honesty, as well as intellectual integrity; and that’s why it’s literature includes ideas like, “truth, though severe, is of all friends the most sincere”, “The illusion that exalts us is dearer to us than ten thousand truths“, “the truth is always less interesting than the fiction”, and “I’m for truth, no matter who tells it”).

And of course, the natural result of such commitment is that R.S. opposes any kind of “binary” (“black or white”, “all or nothing”, etc) theology. In other words, we are discouraged from blindly embracing all that is said [or done] by any great religious establishments (since the establishments first commitment isn’t truth, but rather growth and power perpetuation). Thus, the Reformed Samaritan is expected to follow godly moral principles, and not religious establishments.

In short, R.S. teaches that we should embrace goodness, and reject evil [regardless of their respective sources]. How can we tell apart one from the other? Very simple! Goodness is whatever is [directly or indirectly] in agreement with God’s Ten “sayings” (or commandments)-- whose spirit is none other than to “sow” honesty, integrity, respect, high moral values, holiness, justice, mercy, and humility. On the other hand, evil is whatever denies, opposes, or undermines God’s commandments.

Why are we asked to “sow” goodness? We are commanded to do so because God’s judgment is executed thru the Divine law of “sowing and reaping”; whereby we are eventually forced to “reap” the same goodness we’ve “sown” [as well as the evil we have willingly planted, without ever repenting from it].

And from whence do we know Divine truth isn’t “all or nothing” [as flawed people and institutions often feature merits that are actually pleasing to the Almighty]? We know it from Edom; whom, though having the criminal intent to kill his brother, was nonetheless sensible enough to spare Isaac from unnecessary suffering (delaying Jacob’s execution, thereby honoring his aged father). As is written: «... and Esau said in his heart, “The days of mourning for my father are at hand; then will I slay my brother Jacob”»- Genesis 27:41, King James Bible.

Thus, though a potential criminal, Edom did have the merit of honoring his father. And since Edom honored his father, the Heavenly Father considered Edom worthy of reaping the same honor he had formerly bestowed. How? First, by letting him accumulate so much wealth that he could afford having a 400 men strong army. Secondly, by giving him [during his own lifespan] the power to conquer giants, thereby inheriting the giant’s country (Mount Seir); a country bordering the promised land.

As is written: «... and Esau said in his heart, “The days of mourning for my father are at hand; then will I slay my brother Jacob”»- Genesis 27:41, King James Bible.

Thus, though a potential criminal, Edom did have the merit of honoring his father. And since Edom honored his father, the Heavenly Father considered him worthy of reaping the same honor he had previously bestowed. How? First, by letting him accumulate so much wealth that he could afford having a 400 men strong army. Secondly, by giving him [during his lifespan] the power to conquer giants, thereby inheriting the giant’s country (Mount Seir); a country bordering the Promised Land.

As is written: “And Esau took his wives, and his sons, and his daughters, and all the persons of his house, and his cattle, and all his beasts, and all his substance, which he had got in the land of Canaan; and went into the country from the face of his brother Jacob. For their riches were more than that they might dwell together; and the land wherein they were strangers could not bear them because of their cattle. Thus dwelt Esau in mount Seir: Esau is Edom”- Genesis 36:6-8...

... And also says elsewhere, “The Horims [a race of giants] also dwelt in Seir beforetime; but the children of Esau succeeded them, when they had destroyed them from before them, and dwelt in their stead; as Israel did unto the land of his possession, which the Lord gave unto them”- Deut. 2:12, KJB).

Thus, it is proper for Reformed Samaritans to pay their respect to Edom’s merits, by evoking him using phrases like, “peace be upon him”. Likewise, it is not hypocritical [but rather intellectually honest] to state that, though an awesome example of being a caring son, Edom was also a violent person; one who “lived by his sword” [in other words, a person whose safety depended upon the shedding of someone else blood!].

Be intellectually honest!

If you are going to compare your religion with that of your competitors, be intellectually honest about it– don’t play the deceptive mind game of comparing your religious best with their religious worst; rather, compare your best with their best, and your worst with their worst.

And, if your competitor excels you in any practice [or belief], be humble enough to admit it, trying to make it part of your own experience.

And from whence do we know this? We know it from Moses, who followed Jethro’s legal advise, even though the latter refused to follow Israel into the wilderness.

As is written: “Now listen to me; I will give you some advice, and God be with you. You be the one to represent the people before God and bring their cases to him. Instruct them about the statutes and laws, and teach them the way to live and what they must do. But you should select from all the people able men, God-fearing, trustworthy, and hating dishonest profit. Place them over the people as commanders of thousands, hundreds, fifties, and tens...

... They should judge the people at all times. Then they can bring you every major case but judge every minor case themselves. In this way you will lighten your load, and they will bear it with you. If you do this, and God so directs you, you will be able to endure, and also all these people will be able to go home satisfied... Moses listened to his father-in-law and did everything he said... [and]

Moses let his father-in-law go, and he journeyed to his own land”- Exodus 18:19-24, &27 (Christian Standard Bible)

Who is a Reformed Samaritan

Unlike what most people usually think, Reformed Samaritanism isn't Rabbinical Judaism, Orthodox Samaritanism, Evangelical Christianity, nor Sunni Islam. Instead, it is an inclusive version of the ancient Hebrew faith; one in which Moses five books [and it's Ten "Laws", or "Commandments"] are the final and supreme theological authority.

As is written: "Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you"- Deuteronomy 4:2, King James Bible.

But, if focused only on Moses five books of Torah, in what sense can Reformed Samaritanism be considered to be "inclusive"? It is so due to the fact that, although not recognizing them as equally inspired as Moses Law, Reformed Samaritans consider the remaining holy books (Hebrew prophets, Gospels, Talmud, Quran, Kabbalah, etc) to be useful and practical "expository literature"-- religious explanation that is particularly attuned to address the individual needs of the different racial, social, and cultural backgrounds.

And the net result of the former perspective is that the theology that characterizes Reformed Samaritans can be best summarized by the following allegory: "Push away [with your left hand] any Jewish, Samaritan, Christian, or Muslim religious tenet that denies, contradicts, or undermines the Word of God uttered by our master Moses; But bring close to you [with your right hand] any Jewish, Samaritan, Christian, or Muslim tenet that recognizes, establish, and/or enforces the Divine truthfulness of Moses original teachings".

And how can a man [or a woman] know if he is a Reformed Samaritan? It's really easy! You see, no matter what race [or creed] this man belongs to, he becomes a Reformed Samaritan the very moment he rallies enough intellectual honesty to publicly acknowledge the fact that Divine Judgment consist of forcing each man to "reap" the same "fruit" he has previously "planted" ("Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows. Whoever sows to please their flesh, from the flesh will reap destruction; whoever sows to please the Spirit, from the Spirit will reap eternal life"- Galatians 6:6-8, NIV Bible).

How does a Reformed Samaritan goes about making the former acknowledgment? He publicly utters the following confession: "I bear witness that no other theology is greater, more just, more truthful, nor more meaningful than "Sowing and Reaping" (also known as "measure for measure")-- The final triumph of Goodness over Evil; The Divine Law by means of which the Creator [blessed be He] guarantees to reward each man with the same measure of kindness [and justice] such man has freely [and willingly] bestowed upon his fellow creatures; and to punish that man with the same measure of evil [and injustice] he has freely and willingly bestowed upon his fellow creatures (without ever repenting from it). Amen".

"Beware of falsehood, as the illusion that flatters [and exalts] our ego is dearer to us than ten thousand truths!"

No animal sacrifices outside Jerusalem's Temple?

Talmudic Judaism claims that, after Jerusalem's Temple was finally built, no animal sacrifices would ever be accepted by God, unless offered at such holy location [therefore, until the Temple is rebuilt, neither Jews nor gentiles are allowed to offer animal sacrifices].

But if so, then why would God [while the Temple was still standing] seem to be pleased with the sacrifice offered [at high seas] by the gentile sailors traveling with Jonah? As is written: "Then THE MEN FEARED THE LORD EXCEEDINGLY, AND OFFERED A SACRIFICE UNTO THE LORD, and made vows"- Jonah 1:16, KJB.

If no sacrifices are to be made outside Jerusalem's Temple, then how come Elisha says "Go in peace" to Naaman, right after the latter manifests his desire to go back to his own land, in order to start offering sacrifices to The LORD?

As is written: «And Naaman said, "Shall there not then, I pray thee, be given to thy servant two mules' burden of earth? FOR THY SERVANT WILL HENCEFORTH OFFER NEITHER BURNT OFFERING NOR SACRIFICE UNTO OTHER GODS, BUT UNTO THE LORD"... And he [Elisha] said unto him, "GO IN PEACE"»- 2 Kings 5:17-19).

If no sacrifices to God are to be made outside Jerusalem's Temple, then why would the Lord promise there would be an altar for Him in the land of Egypt? As is written: "In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the Lord of hosts; one shall be called, The city of destruction. IN THAT DAY SHALL THERE BE AN ALTAR TO THE LORD IN THE MIDST OF THE LAND OF EGYPT, and a pillar at the border thereof to the Lord"- Isaiah 19:18-19, KJB).

And why would God promise to accept the sacrifices made by the Egyptians (presumably made at the latter altar)? As is written: "And the Lord shall be known to Egypt, AND THE EGYPTIANS SHALL KNOW THE LORD IN THAT DAY, AND SHALL DO SACRIFICE AND OBLATION; YEA, THEY SHALL VOW A VOW UNTO THE LORD, AND PERFORM IT"- Isaiah 19:21.

Finally, if no sacrifices are to be made outside Jerusalem's Temple, then why would God favourably accept the bull sacrifice (or "burnt offering") made by prophet Elijah (a Hebrew believer) while contending with the false prophets at Mount Carmel? As is written:

«AND ELIJAH TOOK TWELVE STONES, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob... AND WITH THE STONES HE BUILT AN ALTAR in the name of the Lord... AND HE PUT THE WOOD IN ORDER, AND CUT THE BULLOCK IN PIECES, and laid him on the wood... AND IT CAME TO PASS AT THE TIME OF THE OFFERING OF THE EVENING SACRIFICE [thereby implying that, in the eyes of God, Elijah's sacrifice at Mount Carmel was as worthy as the evening sacrifice offered at Jerusalem's Temple], THAT ELIJAH THE PROPHET CAME NEAR, AND SAID... "LET IT BE KNOWN THIS DAY THAT THOU ART GOD... AND THAT I HAVE DONE ALL THESE THINGS AT THY WORD"... Then the fire of the Lord fell, and consumed the burnt sacrifice...»- 1 Kings 18:31-38, King James Bible.

Notice how the former passage clearly states that Elijah's actions [which included offering an animal sacrifice away from Jerusalem's Temple] were done "BY THE WORD OF GOD" (meaning that they were made in full agreement with God's will!)

When it comes to religion, Reformed Samaritanism is brutally pragmatic, teaching the following:

- (1) "The tree can be known by it's fruit" (in other words, what people do, is far more important than what they claim to believe, as God's religion is "results oriented");*
- (2) "All mountains point toward the heavens" (meaning that God dwells wherever lofty and noble* moral standards are exalted);

(3) “It doesn't matter which side of the mountain you choose to hike, as long as you make it to the top” (in other words, to become kind, humble, and honest is far more important than having “the right theology”, or “the right religion”)

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

The holy gospel portrays Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him) as an amazing man of God. Unfortunately, it doesn't portray him awesome enough to be considered the Almighty God of Israel; who, having Supreme Authority upon the whole universe, can give [or take] whatever He wishes. As is written: “... but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, IS NOT MINE TO GIVE, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father” - Matthew 20:23, King James Bible

The Theological Message of Reformed Samaritanism

The implicit message of Moses Law isn't the nation of Israel. Neither is it the gentile nations of the World. Torah's implicit message isn't the land of Israel, the city of Jerusalem, nor is it the Sacred temple. In fact it is neither the figure of Abraham, Jacob, Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, nor any other prophet (peace and blessing be upon them all).

Torah's implicit message, is the logical [but revolutionary] idea that, the Law of 'measure by measure' (also known as the law of 'sowing and reaping', 'cause and effect', or 'action and reaction'), isn't limited to agrarian and/or physical subjects; rather, it's scope includes all non physical subjects [in other words, things like morality, consciousness, soul, and faith].

This Law of “measure for measure” states that we ought to stop doing evil, in order to start doing what is good. Why? Because the universe in which we exist is in itself subservient to the Divine law of 'measure for measure'. Thus, sooner or later the universe will have no other option but to make us “reap” the same good [or evil] we have voluntarily “sowed”.

And this will in turn be the manifestation of God's perfect judgment upon our lives- to give us the same blessings (or curses) we have freely chosen to sow upon our fellow human beings.

And the Torah confirms our claim that Divine justice will make us “reap” the same [moral] fruit that, thru our 'works' [or 'actions'], we have 'sowed', when it goes on to say: “Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of wisdom, GOD FORBID THAT WICKEDNESS SHOULD BE IN GOD, and iniquity in the Almighty. FOR HE WILL RENDER UNTO MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORK, AND CAUSE EVERYONE TO FIND ACCORDING TO HIS WAY. And certainly God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment”- Job 34: 10-12 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

And also says in another place: “... FOR THOU [OH LORD] REWARDEST EVERYONE ACCORDING TO HIS WORK”- Psalm 62:12 (Geneva Bible, 1599); “... MY CHOSEN WILL ENJOY THE WORK OF HIS HANDS' (Isaiah 65:22). Finally, it says the following: “For many nations, and great kings shall even serve themselves of them: THUS WILL I RECOMPENSE THEM ACCORDING TO THEIR DEEDS, AND ACCORDING TO THE WORKS OF THEIR OWN HANDS”- Jeremiah 25:14 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

And further on: “If you [profess ignorance and] say, Behold, we did not know this, does not He Who weighs and ponders the heart perceive and consider it? And He Who guards your life, does not He know it? And SHALL NOT HE RENDER TO [YOU AND] EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORKS?- Proverbs 24:12 (Amplified Bible, Classic edition);

And the prophets also taught the law of sowing and reaping, when they went on to say: “Then the prophet Shemaiah went to Rehoboam and the leaders of Judah who were gathered at Jerusalem because of Shishak. He said to them, 'This is what the Lord says: YOU HAVE ABANDONED ME; THEREFORE, I HAVE ABANDONED YOU'...”- 2 Chronicles 12:5 (Christian Standard Bible); “So tell the people, ‘This is what the Lord of Armies says: RETURN TO ME —this is the declaration of the Lord of Armies— AND I WILL RETURN TO YOU'...”- Zechariah 1:3 (Christian Standard Bible); «And Adoni-Bezek said... “AS I HAVE DONE, SO GOD HATH REWARDED ME”...»- Judges 1:7 (Geneva Bible);

“For the day of the Lord is near, upon all the heathen: AS THOU HAST DONE, IT SHALL BE DONE TO THEE...”- Obadiah 1:15 (Geneva Bible); “SO THEY HANGED HAMAN ON THE GALLOWS THAT HE [HAMAN] HAD PREPARED FOR MORDECAI...”- Esther 7:10 (Amplified Bible)

Thus, it makes plain sense to think that, the well-being of each man rests upon his willingness to repent of his wickedness, thereby turning away from his evil behavior, in order to start doing the good works that please the Creator [in other words, obeying the Ten commandments of the Divine Law]. As it is written, “DEPART FROM EVIL AND DO GOOD; AND YOU WILL DWELL FOREVER [SECURELY]”- Psalm 37:27 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

Or as it says elsewhere: «All has been heard; THE END OF THE MATTER IS: “FEAR GOD [REVERE AND WORSHIP HIM, KNOWING THAT HE IS] AND KEEP HIS COMMANDMENTS, FOR THIS IS THE WHOLE OF MAN [THE FULL, ORIGINAL PURPOSE OF HIS CREATION, THE OBJECT OF GOD’S PROVIDENCE, THE ROOT OF CHARACTER, THE FOUNDATION OF ALL HAPPINESS, THE ADJUSTMENT TO ALL INHARMONIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES AND CONDITIONS UNDER THE SUN] AND THE WHOLE [DUTY] FOR EVERY MAN. FOR GOD SHALL BRING EVERY WORK INTO JUDGMENT, with every secret thing, whether it is good or evil”»- Ecclesiastes 12: 13-14 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

And even the Christian writings attest to the fact that God's righteous judgment consists in rewarding each person according to the good [or evil] he [or she] has performed.

As it is written: “And the sea gave up her dead, which were in her, and death and hell delivered up the dead, which were in them: AND THEY WERE JUDGED EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO THEIR WORKS”- Revelation 20:13 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

And they also say in another place: “BUT THOU, AFTER THINE HARDNESS, AND HEART THAT CANNOT REPENT, HEAPEST UP AS A TREASURE UNTO THYSELF WRATH AGAINST THE DAY OF WRATH, AND OF THE DECLARATION OF THE JUST JUDGMENT OF GOD, WHO WILL REWARD EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORKS: THAT IS, TO THEM WHICH THROUGH PATIENCE IN WELL DOING, SEEK GLORY, AND HONOR, AND IMMORTALITY, EVERLASTING LIFE...

TRIBULATION AND ANGUISH SHALL BE UPON THE SOUL OF EVERY MAN THAT DOETH EVIL: OF THE JEW FIRST, AND ALSO OF THE GRECIAN. BUT TO EVERY MAN THAT DOETH GOOD, SHALL BE GLORY, AND HONOR, AND PEACE: TO THE JEW FIRST, AND ALSO TO THE GRECIAN”- Romans 2: 5-7, & 9-10 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

Thus, when any person [or any thing], stirs up our hearts, turning us away from our rebellious obstinacy [in order to start obeying God's commandments], such person [or such thing] has thereby become the promised Redeemer (or Messiah)- He who has come to save us. As it has been said: “And THE REDEEMER SHALL COME UNTO ZION (UNTO WHOM SHALL THE REDEEMER COME?).... UNTO THEM THAT TURN FROM INIQUITY (REPENT) IN JACOB, saith the Lord” - Isaiah 59:20 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

Again, the fact that the road to everlasting Life is to be found in the performance of the good ordained by God upon the two stone tablets, is such a paramount and undeniable truth, that both the Holy Gospel, as well as the Noble Qur'an, confirms it.

As it is written: “And he [Jesus] said unto him, Why called thou me good? there is none good but one, even God: BUT IF THOU WILT ENTER INTO [EVERLASTING] LIFE, KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS.... THOU SHALT NOT KILL: THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY: THOU SHALT NOT STEAL: THOU SHALT NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS. HONOR THY FATHER, AND MOTHER: AND, THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOR AS THYSELF”- Matthew 19: 17-19 (Geneva Bible, 1599);

And also says in another Scripture: “Allah (GOD) HAS PROMISED THOSE WHO BELIEVE AND WORK RIGHTEOUSNESS: THEY WILL HAVE FORGIVENESS AND A GREAT REWARD [IN THE WORLD TO COME]”- Qur'an, Surah 5:9.

“There are four things that make the soul shudder, and the fifth one is almost intolerable: A man who cannot tell right from wrong; a woman who gives up chastity, in order to embrace sexual immorality; a fighter who doesn't know when he has lost; a newborn babe born to wicked and unloving parents; and a godless generation, whose arrogant heart is filled to the brim with vain ideologies”

La Salvación del alma, según el libro de Bereshit (Génesis)

El Samaritanismo Reformado es la teología que postula la verdad divina encarnada en la Ley de “siembra y cosecha”. Como esta escrito: “Tomó pues YHVH ELOHIM al hombre, y lo puso en el huerto del Edén, para que lo labrara y lo guardase”.

Note que, si se toma en sentido literal, el anterior pasaje no hace sentido alguno. Es decir, ¿Por que tenía Adán que labrar el huerto? ¿Acaso lo que el mundo ya de por sí mismo producía no era suficiente para alimentarlo? Y, ¿de quien había que guardar el huerto? ¿Es que estaban los arboles en peligro de ser físicamente destruidos, o robados por algún otro ser humano? ¿Que significa todo esto?

La respuesta se encuentra, de forma implícita, en el original Hebreo del pasaje. La traducción (palabra por palabra) dice así: “VA-YIKAJ YHVH ELOHIM ET HA-ADAM VAIYANIJEHU V'GAN EDEN LE-AVODAH U-LE-SHAM'RAH”.

La tradición Hebrea, dice que el nombre YHVH representa la misericordia (o bondad) Divina, mientras que el nombre ELOHIM significa el Juicio (o severidad) Divina. El hecho de que ambos nombres aparezcan juntos en el anterior pasaje, indica que El Creador muestra bondad y misericordia, pero muestra también severidad, y juicio. Como dice el salmo: “CON EL MISERICORDIOSO TE MOSTRARÁS MISERICORDIOSO..... Y SEVERO SERÁS PARA CON EL PERVERSO”- Salmo 18:25-26.

Note como la palabra que el anterior verso traduce como “labrar” es “AVODAH”. Esta palabra se utiliza en la escritura Hebrea para denotar “adoración”. De hecho, el termino hebreo “AVODAH ZARAH” se traduce como “ADORACIÓN EXTRAÑA” (o idolatría).

Así, cuando Dios ordena a Adán labrar el huerto del Edén, no está en realidad hablándole de trabajo físico, sino de adoración. Lo que el Creador trata de intimar, es que la adoración que agrada al Creador, se basa en “la siembra y la cosecha”; que DIOS MOSTRARÁ SU ATRIBUTO DE BONDAD Y MISERICORDIA, A AQUELLOS QUE SIEMBRAN BONDAD Y MISERICORDIA; PERO MOSTRARÁ SEVERIDAD Y JUICIO, A AQUELLOS QUE SEAN SEVEROS Y PERVERSOS.

La Escritura confirma esta verdad en cada una de las historias que hace, en la predica de cada profeta, y en cada alegoría que nos presenta. El profeta Isaías entendió muy bien el significado de Génesis 2:15, y lo expuso magistralmente cuando dijo:

“Lavaos y limpiaos; quitad la iniquidad de vuestras obras de delante de mis ojos; dejad de hacer lo malo; APRENDED A HACER EL BIEN; BUSCAD EL JUICIO, RESTITUID AL AGRAVIADO, HACED JUSTICIA AL HUÉRFANO, AMPARAD A LA VIUDA. Venid luego, dice el Señor, y estemos a cuenta: si vuestros pecados fueren como la grana, como la nieve serán emblanquecidos; si fueren rojos como el carmesí, vendrán a ser como blanca lana. SI QUISIÉREIS y oyereis, COMERÉIS EL BIEN DE LA TIERRA”- Isaías 1:16-19.

¿A que tierra se refiere Isaías? ¿Pues a la tierra que Adán, en un sentido alegórico, fue mandado a labrar! La centralidad del mensaje del Samaritanismo Reformado, fue también expuesta por el profeta Jeremías, quien dijo: “...¿No comió y bebió TU PADRE, e HIZO JUICIO Y JUSTICIA, y entonces le fue bien? El juzgó la causa del afligido y del menesteroso, y entonces estuvo bien. ¿NO ES ESTO CONOCERME A MI? DICE EL SEÑOR”- Jeremías 22:15-16.

El profeta Miqueas resumió la ancestral fe que él mismo practicaba, diciendo lo siguiente: “Oh hombre, Él te ha declarado lo que es bueno, ¿Y QUÉ PIDE DIOS DE TI?: SOLAMENTE HACER JUSTICIA, Y AMAR MISERICORDIA, y humillarte ante tu Dios”- Miqueas 6:8.

En resumen, el verso en Génesis 2:15, resume todo lo que hay que saber acerca del Samaritanismo Reformado, la fe inicialmente revelada por Dios a toda la raza humana. El verso intima que hay un Dios Creador, y que este Dios hizo del hombre un pequeño huerto, en medio de su grande y extenso mundo.

¿Para que? ¿Pues para que el hombre pueda honrar a su Creador (su “Padre Celestial”)! ¿Como? Obedeciendo la encomienda Divina de labrar “la tierra” que es su propio cuerpo; es decir, utilizar su cuerpo físico (su vida) para “sembrar bien”.

Ese mismo Dios, será bueno con el hombre que siembra lo bueno; pero juzgara severamente al hombre que siembra lo malo. Así, cuando las palabras del Talmud, del Corán, o del Evangelio confirman esta fe universal, están diciendo la verdad Divina.

Why is the Trinity a blasphemous idea?

The noble Christian religion claims that יהוה (the Hebrew God, also known as “The Heavenly Father”) isn’t the true and Supreme God.

In fact, it claims that neither Jesus (the Son), nor the Holy Spirit (the Comforter) are the Almighty. Instead, it claims the Supreme God to be the “supra” (or “transcending”) being composed of the former three personalities.

What is the problem with this otherwise logical idea? The problem is that it not only blasphemes the Almighty, but even denies the truthfulness of the words ascribed to the Hebrew God.

In what sense is the former idea blasphemous?

In that, when it claims God to be “a composite” of different personalities, it also insinuates that the Creator (who by definition is the most perfect of all beings) actually suffers from a “multiple personality disorder” (in other words, that the Almighty is crazy, as He suffers from a mental disorder!).

And how does the former idea portray יהוה (the Hebrew God) as a liar? By hinting to the fact that, if the true God is actually composed of three different parts (יהוה, Jesus, & the Holy Spirit), then none of the individual parts can truthfully claim to be the one and only God (as 1/3 of a thing can never claim to be a better representation of the whole, than what 2/3 of it are).

Thus, יהוה [who is only 1/3 of the Divinity] cannot be believed, when he claims to be the one and only God. As is written: “THUS SAITH יהוה the King of Israel and his redeemer, יהוה of hosts, I AM THE FIRST, AND I AM THE LAST, AND WITHOUT ME IS THERE NO GOD”- Isaiah 44:6, 1599 Geneva Bible

The Creator is a God of balance. Thus, He encourages you to simply do your sincere best. In other words, to live with the peace of mind that arises from knowing that, within the scope of your human frailty, you are reasonably doing all the good you can, by all the means you can, in all the ways you can, in all the places you can, at all the times you can, to all the people you can, for as long as you can

Does God need anything we humans could possibly offer Him?

Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that the Creator has no need of anything we humans could possibly give Him? Why? Simply because nothing is really ours to give away, as all things already belong to the Almighty. As is written:

“The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hosts”- Haggai 2:8. And also says in another place:

“For every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills. I know all the fowls of the mountains: and the wild beasts of the field are mine. If I were hungry, I would not tell thee: for the world is mine, and the fulness thereof. Will I eat the flesh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?”- Psalm 50:10-13, KJB.

By the same token, God doesn't really need any human soul, as all souls already belong to Him. As is written:

“Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine...”- Ezekiel 18:4, KJB

In short, if there were no human beings to praise and obey the Almighty, the Sun, the moon, the stars, the angelical beings, as well as the heavenly hosts would still praise and obey Him.

The reason why Jesus couldn't atone for the sins of Israel

Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him) was a moral giant; a truly amazing man of God who must forever be respected and recognized!

Unfortunately, Jesus could not have atoned for the sins of Israel [as claimed by the noble Christian faith].

Why? Simply because God Law stated that Israel's sins were to be atoned by Aaron's children, and the latter were to followed the Levitical priesthood previously outlined to them by Moses.

As is written: “But Aaron and his sons offered upon the altar of the burnt offering, and on the altar of incense, AND WERE APPOINTED FOR ALL THE WORK OF THE PLACE MOST HOLY, AND TO MAKE AN ATONEMENT FOR ISRAEL, ACCORDING TO ALL THAT MOSES THE SERVANT OF GOD HAD COMMANDED”- 1 Chronicles 6:49, King James Bible.

But as for Jesus, the New Testament states that he was neither a son of Aaron, nor did he follow the Aaronic priesthood (instead, he allegedly followed the order of Melchisedec).

As is written: “For it is evident that OUR LORD [JESUS] SPRANG OUT OF JUDA; OF WHICH TRIBE MOSES SPAKE NOTHING CONCERNING PRIESTHOOD... Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even JESUS, MADE AN HIGH PRIEST FOR EVER AFTER THE ORDER OF MELCHISEDEC”- Hebrews 7:14, & 6:20, KJB.

“He who succumbs to anger succumbs to bad judgment”- Sifra Num., §157

Was Korah right when claiming that “all Israel was holy”?

The following verses [taken from the Hebrew Scripture] will not only show Korah’s claim, but also God’s personal response to such flattering words:

(1) “NOW KORAH... AND DATHAN AND ABIRAM... ON, THE SON OF PELETH... TOOK MEN: AND THEY ROSE UP BEFORE MOSES, WITH... TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY PRINCES of the assembly... And they gathered themselves together against Moses and against Aaron, and said unto them- Ye take too much upon you, seeing ALL THE CONGREGATION ARE HOLY, EVERY ONE OF THEM, AND THE LORD IS AMONG THEM”- Numbers 16:1-3, KJB

(2) “AND HE [MOSES] SPAKE unto Korah and unto all his company, saying... THE LORD WILL SHEW [WITH HIS ACTIONS] WHO ARE HIS, AND WHO IS HOLY”- Numbers 16:5, KJB

(3) “And it came to pass, as he [Moses] had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them: AND THE EARTH OPENED HER MOUTH, AND SWALLOWED THEM UP, AND THEIR HOUSES, AND ALL THE MEN THAT APPERTAINED UNTO KORAH, AND ALL THEIR GOODS”- Numbers 16:31-32, KJB

(4) “AND THERE CAME OUT A FIRE FROM THE LORD, AND CONSUMED THE TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY MEN that offered incense”- Numbers 16:35, KJB

(5) “KNOW THEREFORE THAT THE LORD THY GOD, he is God, the faithful God, which KEEPETH COVENANT AND MERCY WITH THEM THAT LOVE HIM AND KEEP HIS COMMANDMENTS to a thousand generations; AND REPAYETH THEM THAT HATE HIM TO THEIR FACE, TO DESTROY THEM: HE WILL NOT BE SLACK TO HIM THAT HATETH HIM, HE WILL REPAY HIM TO HIS FACE”- Deut. 7:9-10, KJB

(6) “... FOR THEM THAT HONOUR ME [LIVING A LIFE OF HUMILITY, OBEDIENCE, AND MORAL PURITY] I WILL HONOUR, AND THEY THAT DESPISE ME SHALL BE LIGHTLY ESTEEMED”- 1 Samuel 2:30, KJB

(7) “SANCTIFY YOURSELVES THEREFORE, AND BE YE HOLY: FOR I AM THE LORD YOUR GOD. AND YE SHALL KEEP MY STATUTES, AND DO THEM [IN ORDER TO BE TRULY HOLY] ...”- Leviticus 20:7-8, KJB

(8) “[THEREFORE] YE THAT LOVE THE LORD, HATE EVIL [DOING THE GOODNESS COMMANDED BY GOD THRU HIS SERVANT MOSES]: HE PRESERVETH THE SOULS OF HIS SAINTS”- Psalm 97:10, KJB

(9) “SEEK GOOD, AND NOT EVIL, that ye may live: AND SO THE LORD, the God of hosts, SHALL BE WITH YOU, AS YE HAVE SPOKEN. HATE THE EVIL, AND LOVE THE GOOD, AND ESTABLISH JUDGMENT IN THE GATE: IT MAY BE THAT THE LORD GOD OF HOSTS WILL BE GRACIOUS...”- Amos 5:14-15, KJB

In short, Hebrew Scripture teaches that it is a man’s actions [and not his trumped-up claims] what makes him Holy [and therefore acceptable] before the God of Israel.

Rabbi Judah said in the name of Rav: “When a man boasts, if he is a sage, his wisdom departs from him; if he is a prophet, his gift of prophecy departs from him”- B. Talmud, Pesachim 66b

How to detect a deceptive cult

God told Adam and Eve: “I’ve given you life; I’m therefore your father-- honour your parent, obeying what I’ve commanded you [not to eat from the tree of knowledge of good and evil]. I command you so not because I’m a power hungry tyrant, but only because I care for you, and don’t want your free will to cause you harm and suffering. Trust me, if you don’t eat from the fruit of the tree, you’ll do just fine”.

But the serpent came, and deceived Adam and Eve. How? By telling them the following, «Obeying God? Forget about obedience... Obeying God’s commands won’t get you anywhere! What you really need is to have the proper “knowledge”; to learn the difference between good and evil; to have “the right ideas”; to learn “hidden truths”; to understand “secret things”».

Thus, the hallmark of any deceptive cult is that it won’t focus on obeying God’s commandments.

Rather, it’s main focus will be the acquisition of knowledge. In other words, on knowing some mystery, or having the empowering knowledge of some new, hidden, or esoteric piece of information-- on knowing which religion has the right theology; on knowing what the precise pronunciation of God’s secret name is; on knowing the name of God’s last prophet; on knowing the right identity of the [alleged] promised Messiah; on knowing when will the World end; on knowing the right interpretation of Daniel’s [seven weeks] prophecy; on knowing when will the rapture occur; on knowing which one is God’s true and chosen people; on a precise knowledge of which Bible books are truly inspired; on knowing which one is the best Bible translation; on knowing whether the soul is eternal or not, etc---

Anything and everything!... save recognizing that your well being won’t be determined by what you think, but rather by what you do--- by your humble and willing obedience to God’s [ten]commandments (which can be summarized in, “What is hateful to you, do not do unto your fellow human beings”)

Does God need to set aside time to literally judge the soul of every single person?

When Scripture states that the Creator (blessed be He) judges somebody, it is simply using an “anthropomorphism” (attributing human and physical traits to a non physical entity). Why? In order to aid our limited understanding!

But, in reality, God won’t literally show up after we die, in order to condemn [nor reward] our souls. You see, the idea Scripture tries to convey is that God has created His universe in such a way that no one will be able to escape the Divine judgment uttered by God even before the beginning of time-- That each man is to receive the same measure of goodness [or evil] he has willingly and voluntarily planted during his lifespan.

And which one of God's powerful messengers will be the harbinger of this Divine judgment? The angel in charge of "Sowing and Reaping" (also know as "cause and effect", "measure for measure", "eye for an eye", "tooth for a tooth", etc).

Why was Noah's generation asphyxiated by water (asphyxiation being the most violent form of death)? Because they were the most violent of all generations! Why were the Egyptians drowned in the waters of the sea? Because they had drowned the Hebrew babies in the waters of the Nile! Why were both Nadab and Abihu punished with fire? Because they had sinned with fire!? Why was Haman hanged in a gallows? Because he had intended to hang Mordechai in the gallows!

No anointed Jewish king [from the tribe of Judah] could ever become a priest, nor could a priest [from the tribe of Levi] ever become a king

"Judah is a young lion— my son, you return from the kill. He crouches; he lies down like a lion or a lioness—who dares to rouse him? The scepter will not depart from Judah..."- Gen 49:9-10 (Christian Standard Bible)

God's Law compares the tribe of Judah with a lion [the king of beast]. But since lions were ritually impure, they could not be brought to God's holy Temple [let alone be offered as sacrifices].

Thus, no king of Judah could act as a priest, nor offer any Temple sacrifices. As is written:

«... But when he [king Uzziah] became strong, he grew arrogant... He acted unfaithfully against the Lord his God by going into the Lord's sanctuary to burn incense on the incense altar. The priest Azariah, along with eighty brave priests of the Lord, went in after him... and said, "Uzziah, you have no right to offer incense to the Lord—only the consecrated priests, the descendants of Aaron, have the right to offer incense. Leave the sanctuary, for you have acted unfaithfully!..."»- 2 Chronicles 26:16-18, Christian Standard Bible.

And since Christian theology describes Jesus as being both king of the Jews, Lion from the tribe of Judah, and also the High Priest who offered himself as passover sacrifice for our sins («... Pilate also had a sign made and put on the cross. It said: "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews"... Then one of the elders said to me, "Do not weep. Look, the Lion from the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has conquered... Therefore, holy brothers and sisters, who share in a heavenly calling, consider Jesus, the apostle and high priest of our confession... For Christ our Passover lamb has been sacrificed"- John 19:19, Revelation 5:5, Hebrews 3:1, & 1 Corinthians 5:7- CSB), it is therefore fair to say that Christian theology is gravely mistaken.

Why? Again, because God's Law taught that no lion could be offered in sacrifice, nor could any Jewish king also become a Temple priest [thereby offering Passover sacrifices].

Serving Jesus ("the king of the Jews")?

When it comes to bringing the nations to embrace the moral teachings of God's holy Law, faith in Jesus can be a powerful tool. But beware of ever preferring to serve a "flesh and blood" (tangible) king, rather than to [directly] serve the non tangible God of Israel (The Heavenly Father).

Why? Because Israel did not turn away from God, until they asked Him for a "flesh and blood king" to rule upon them; in other words, until they paid more homage to the words (and commandments) of a finite mortal man (their king), than to the words and commandments of their infinite and immortal God (the Heavenly Father).

As is written: «This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: “I brought Israel out of Egypt, and I rescued you from the power of the Egyptians and all the kingdoms that were oppressing you”. But today you have rejected your God, who saves you from all your troubles and afflictions. You said to him, “You must set a [flesh and blood] king over us”»- 1 Samuel 10:17-19, Christian Standard Bible

Jesus was a great and holy messenger of the Almighty, but he could not have been God, as the Gospels presents him "toying" with sin

Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be with him) seems to have been a great and holy messenger of God; one whose memory people should honor and respect. But, unfortunately, Jesus failed to write down the content of his noble message.

And this gave rise to the odd situation were, although Jesus seems to have been a holy man of God, the theology ascribed to Him [by later gospel writers] seems to be what we would expect from a shrewd and wicked person.

Why? Simply because it seems to portray him as constantly rebelling against God's commandments. The examples of this are just too many to number, but for the sake of clarity we will consider the following case: The God of Moses (the true and only God) forbade the Hebrew believer from eating any kind of flesh together with blood.

As is written: “But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat... Only be sure that thou eat not the blood: for the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life [blood] with the flesh”- Genesis 9:4, & Deut. 12:23, (King James Bible);

Yet, although Christianity claims Jesus obedience to the Law was perfect and absolute, the Gospel writers would proceed to picture him “toying” with this sacred commandment, telling his Hebrew followers that unless they eat his flesh and drink his blood they wouldn’t be able to obtain everlasting life.

As is written: “Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you. Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day”- John 6:53-54;

“And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins”- Matthew 26:26-28.

Thus, Reformed Samaritans find it impossible to accept the theology that the holy Gospel ascribes to Jesus, as doing so makes him feel he is betraying what has been commanded by the true God of Israel.

Is there only one Heaven? Only one type of salvation?

When it comes to individual salvation, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that [unlike what most people often believe], salvation isn’t an “all or nothing” issue.

In other words, just as Torah uses seven different Hebrew words in order to designate the concept of “heavens” [thereby hinting at the idea that there are no less than seven different, and progressively higher, spiritual realms], so will different people reach different levels of afterlife.

And from whence do we get the idea that [righteous] non Hebrew people can also experience God given salvation (or “deliverance”)? We get it from the Syrians, as well as from Naaman (their honorable captain), of whom Hebrew Scripture goes on to say:

“NOW NAAMAN, CAPTAIN OF THE HOST OF THE KING OF SYRIA, WAS A GREAT man with his master, AND HONOURABLE, because BY HIM THE LORD HAD GIVEN DELIVERANCE UNTO SYRIA”- 2 Kings 5:1, King James Bible

Receiving the Holy Spirit

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, no matter if he be a Jew or a Gentile, when a man receives the Holy Spirit, he is renewed; his soul is washed clean, and he is given a new heart, so that he no longer feels hopelessly enslaved to his former passions [in other words, he is reborn!]. And this change of heart is intimated in the verse where prophet Samuel tells the following to future king Saul: “Then the Spirit of the Lord will come upon thee [Saul], and thou shalt prophesy with them, AND SHALT BE TURNED INTO ANOTHER MAN”- 1 Samuel 10:6 (1599 Geneva Bible). Peace be upon you! And the fact that God’s Holy Spirit can save us from our evil inclination, is in full agreement with the verse stating that there’s no other “Moshiah” (Savior, or Redeemer) besides Him,. As is written: “I, I am יהוה (Adonai Yah), and there is no Savior beside me [in other words, only my Spirit, and not any human wisdom or power can deliver you from your own evil]”- Isaiah 43:11 (Tree of Life Version Bible)

La interpretación que, acerca del mensaje de la Ley de Moisés, hace el Samaritanismo Reformado

El mensaje de la Ley de Dios, no es la nación de Israel; no es la religión Judía, la Samaritana, la Cristiana, ni la Musulmana; no es la ciudad de Jerusalén, ni tampoco lo es su Templo; no es la persona de Moisés, de Jesus, de Muhammad, o de ningún otro profeta [ya sea pasado o futuro]. El mensaje de la Ley, es que el justo y perfecto Juicio Divino se manifiesta por medio de la Ley que comúnmente llamamos “Medida por Medida” (“Siembra y cosecha”, “Causa y efecto”, “Acción y reacción”, “Ojo por ojo”, “Diente por diente”, etc).

Y lo anterior es la razón por la cual, hablando acerca de “El día de Dios” [es decir, el día en que el juicio Divino ha de manifestarse sobre cada ser humano], el profeta dice lo siguiente: «Porque cercano está el día de YHVH sobre todas las naciones; “como tú hiciste se hará contigo; tu recompensa volverá sobre tu cabeza»- Abdías 1:15, Biblia Reina Valera 1960.

Y también dice otro profeta: “Pleito tiene YHVH con Judá para castigar a Jacob conforme a sus caminos; le pagará conforme a sus obras”- Oseas 12:2, reina Valera 1960. Finalmente dice el profeta: “Grande en consejo, y magnífico en hechos; porque tus ojos están abiertos sobre todos los caminos de los hijos de los hombres, para dar a cada uno según sus caminos, y según el fruto de sus obras”- Jeremías 32:19, Reina Valera 1960.

De hecho, aun los nobles escritos cristianos dan fe de esta misma verdad, cuando dicen: “Porque el Hijo del Hombre vendrá en la gloria de su Padre con sus ángeles, y entonces pagará a cada uno conforme a sus obras”- Mateo 16:27, Reina Valera 1960;

“Y el mar entregó los muertos que había en él; y la muerte y el Hades entregaron los muertos que había en ellos; y fueron juzgados cada uno según sus obras”- Apocalipsis 20:13, Reina Valera 1960; “No os engaños; Dios no puede ser burlado: pues todo lo que el hombre sembrare, eso también segará”- Gálatas 6:7.

Y finalmente dice: “Pero por tu dureza y por tu corazón no arrepentido, atesoras para ti mismo ira para el día de la ira y de la revelación del justo juicio de Dios, el cual pagará a cada uno conforme a sus obras: vida eterna a los que, perseverando en bien hacer, buscan gloria y honra e inmortalidad, pero ira y enojo a los que son contenciosos y no obedecen a la verdad, sino que obedecen a la injusticia; tribulación y angustia sobre todo ser humano que hace lo malo, el judío primeramente y también el griego, pero gloria y honra y paz a todo el que hace lo bueno, al judío primeramente y también al griego”- Romanos 2:5-10, Reina Valera 1960.

Are all believers equal, regardless of their moral lifestyles?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Jerusalem (a symbol of the believer's community) wasn't destroyed until the lay Israelite (the am ha-aretz, or non-observant person) and the priest (the holy and God fearing individual) were considered to be equal. As is written: “And thus it is: ‘Like priests, like people’—because the priests are wicked, the people are too. Therefore, I will punish both priests and people for all their wicked deeds”- Hosea 4:9, The Living Bible.

And also says elsewhere: “Behold, the Lord lays waste to the earth, devastates it, twists and distorts its face and scatters its inhabitants. And the people will be like the priest, the servant like his master, the maid like her mistress, the buyer like the seller, the lender like the borrower, the creditor like the debtor...”- Isaiah 24:1-2, Amplified Bible.

But God's anger will not last forever, as one day He will have compassion, making His people learn the difference between good and evil; between he who pleases the Lord, and who who doesn't.

As is written: “On the day when I act”, says the Lord Almighty, “they will be my treasured possession. I will spare them, just as a father has compassion and spares his son who serves him. And you will again see the distinction between the righteous and the wicked, between those who serve God and those who do not”- Malachi 3:17-18, New International Version (NIV) Bible Reformed Samaritanism teaches that God's Ten Laws (the Decalogue) are the foundation for freedom, common sense, and reason. Thus, no matter if he be a Jew or a Gentile, when a man willingly abandons God's Ten Laws he eventually lose not only his freedom, but even his own reason.

As is written: “But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe to do all his commandments (and his statutes) which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee... The Lord shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies... The Lord shall smite thee with madness...”- Deuteronomy 28:15, 25, & 28 (King James Bible)

The purpose of God's Law is to be a book of moral paradigms; a Divine blueprint for the way a man of God ought to think, speak, and behave, in order be like his Creator

In all things, the believer must learn to imitate the words, the thoughts and the actions of His Creator. In other words, just as God clothed Adam and Eve, when they found themselves naked; so must the believer seek to clothe the naked (Genesis 3:21); Just as [in the wilderness] God provided water and food for the hungry and the thirsty, so must the believer seek to provide water and food for the hungry and thirsty (Exodus 16:13, & 17:5-6); Just as God gave words of comfort to the unjustly oppressed

Hagar, so must the believer seek to give words of comfort to unjustly oppressed people (Genesis 16:10-13); Just as God was angry with the stubborn Sodomites, so must the believer be angry with stubborn Sodomites (Genesis 19:24-25); Just as God rebuked powerful Abimelech, for the immorality of taking someone else wife, so must the believer rebuke the immorality of powerful people (Genesis 20:3); Just as God stood against Korah and his Jewish followers [for opposing Moses words], so must the believer stand against any Jew opposing Moses words (Numbers 16:1-2, 32, & 35); Just as God forgave penitent Ahab, so must the believer forgive the penitent (2 Kings 21:29. & 2 Chronicles 12:7); Just as [thru prophet Elijah] God provided for a gentile widow and his orphan son, so must the believer also provide for the gentile widows and orphans (1 Kings 17:14); Just as the Creator condemned the greed of a disciple of the Jewish sages (Gehazi, Elisha's servant), so must the believer condemn the greed of the disciples of the sages (2 Kings 5:26-27); Just as [thru prophet Elisha], God despised Jehoram [the wicked ruler of Israel], so must the believer despise any wicked ruler of Israel (2 Kings 3:13-14); Just as God vowed to wage everlasting war against Amalek (the incarnation of opportunism), so must the believer wage ever lasting war against opportunism (Exodus 17:16, & Deuteronomy 25:17-18); And, just as God is upset with those who strengthen the hands of any wicked ruler [whether he be Jew or Gentile], so is the believer to be upset with those who strengthen the hands any wicked ruler [whether he be Jew or Gentile];

As is written, «And Jehu the son of Hanani the Seer went out to meet him, and said to King Jehoshaphat [the Jewish ruler]: “WOULDEST THOU HELP THE WICKED, AND LOVE THEM THAT HATE THE LORD? THEREFORE FOR THIS THING THE WRATH OF THE LORD IS UPON THEE. Nevertheless, good things are found in thee, because thou hast taken away the groves out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seek God... Yet after this did Jehoshaphat king of Judah join himself with Ahaziah king of Israel, who was given to do evil. And he joined with him, to make ships to go to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion Geber. Then Eliezer the son of Dodavah of Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, “BECAUSE THOU HAST JOINED THYSELF WITH AHAZIAH, THE LORD HATH BROKEN THY WORKS”: and the ships were broken, that they were not able to go to Tarshish»- 2 Chronicles 19:2-3, & 20:35-37 (1599 Geneva Bible). Again, the Hebrew scripture is a book of moral paradigms; the Divine blueprint for how should a man think, speak, and behave in order be like his Creator; thereby becoming not only part of God's holy people, but also a blessed spiritual son of his Father in Heavens. And the imitation of God's character is such an undeniable truth that even the Christians writings bear witness of it, when they go on to say: “YE SHALL THEREFORE BE PERFECT [IMITATING GOD'S OWN PERFECTION], AS YOUR FATHER WHICH IS IN HEAVEN IS PERFECT ... AND YE SHALL BE [THEREBY] THE CHILDREN OF THE MOST HIGH: FOR HE IS KIND UNTO THE UNKIND, AND TO THE EVIL. Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful...”- Matthew 5:48, & Luke 6:35-36 (1599 Geneva Bible).

Criticism is an indirect form of self-boasting; so be sparse and circumspect when it comes to negatively judge your neighbor; but be well disposed and generous when it comes to praise and encourage him

La fe en el Mesias NO ES el verdadero mensaje de la Torah (La Ley de Dios)

La Tanak (Escritura Hebrea) no tiene como finalidad el presentarnos una batería de verdades y mensajes que, analizados subjetivamente, podrían justificar la exclusividad de casi cualquier postura teológica y/o dogmática (Inocencia, Ley, Gracia, Judaísmo, Cristianismo, Islam, Mormonismo, etc). Tampoco es la finalidad de la Escritura, el desconcertarnos con la abrumadora carga psicológica que implica la necesidad de decidir por nosotros mismos cual de todas esas verdades y/o mensajes debemos abrazar. Es que, EL CREADOR, NO ES UN DIOS DESPOTA, NI SADICO; Y MUCHO MENOS ESTA JUGANDO A ESCONDERSE DE SUS CRIATURAS.

El propósito de la Escritura Hebrea, tampoco es revelar una multitud de mensajes que, en ocasiones, podrían parecer contradictorios, y auto-excluyentes (Ley vs. Gracia/ Judíos vs. Gentiles/ Cuerpo vs. Alma/ Vida en este mundo vs. Vida en el mundo que ha de venir/ etc).

La realidad es que, LA ESCRITURA HEBREA, CONTIENE UN SOLO MENSAJE: que repite sin cesar, utilizando los recursos imaginativos de cada uno de sus compiladores; Profecías, metáforas, alegorías, salmos, cánticos, proverbios, etc. Lógicamente, este mensaje tiene que haber sido revelado comenzando desde el primer verso de la Escritura Hebrea.

Y es por eso que, Génesis 1:1, dice de la siguiente manera: “En principio, creo Dios los cielos...”. En el original Hebreo, este primer verso de la Escritura, dice así: “Be reshit bara Elohim et ha shamaim...”. Pero, en el idioma Hebreo, “Be reshit” no solo se traduce como “EN PRINCIPIO”, sino también como, “CON PRINCIPIO”. Es decir, el texto también significa: “Con principio, creo Dios los cielos...”

¿De que “principio” se nos esta hablando? Pues de la sabiduría que nuestros ancestros observaban en la Creación de los cielos. Es que, aquellos esclavos Israelitas que recibieron los Libros de la Ley (Génesis, Éxodo, Números, etc), no sabían que el Sol se hallaba a 93 millones de millas de la Tierra. Y, cuando aquellos esclavos miraban a los Cielos, solo veían una bola de fuego (el Sol), moviéndose tranquilamente entre las nubes cargadas de agua.

Para ellos, esto era un gran misterio, pues se preguntaban como podría ser posible que dos cosas antagónicas entre si (el fuego y el agua), pudiesen convivir en armonía, sin exterminarse la una a la otra. Y, “el Principio” que finalmente adquirieron de esta observación, fue que, la armonía que observaban, se debía a que el Sol y las nubes ya moraban en los Cielos.

Es decir, que “el Cielo” es el lugar deparado para aquellos que, a pesar de ser enemigos naturales, pueden vivir en armonía. Y esa es la historia de la humanidad: el que todos los hombres competimos los unos contra los otros por obtener fama, poder, y reconocimiento; y, esta competencia, nos hace enemigos naturales.

Pero, el hombre que abandona este proceder, y se compromete a vivir en armonía con su prójimo (no haciéndole aquel mal que no desearía para si mismo), ya esta listo para morar en los Cielos; como esta escrito- “¡MIRAD CUÁN BUENO Y CUÁN DELICIOSO ES HABITAR LOS HERMANOS JUNTOS EN ARMONÍA! ... PORQUE ALLÍ ENVÍA YAH BENDICIÓN, Y VIDA ETERNA” – Salmo 133.

En base a lo hasta aquí expuesto, deducimos que, el mensaje de la Torah, es que el hombre que hace bien al prójimo, recibirá el mismo bien que ha sembrado; pues, comportándose como lo hacen aquellos que ya moran en los Cielos, gana el merito de también morar en los cielos [de, por así decirlo, “ser reunido con su pueblo”, o “ser reunido con aquellos que han sido sus padres espirituales”].

Pero, el hombre que hace mal al prójimo, niega la Sabiduría que prefiguran los Cielos, y será por tanto privado de tener parte alguna entre los moradores del Cielo [es decir, su castigo sera no poder estar de pie entre los Justos].

Los sabios de Israel, aludían a esta verdad utilizando el termino de “Medida por Medida” (o “ley de siembra y cosecha”); y se referían al hecho de que, cada hombre, segaría el mismo bien que, durante su vida terrenal, hubiese libre y voluntariamente sembrado; Y del mismo modo segaría todo el mal que hubiese sembrado, sin nunca haberse arrepentido.

En resumen, el justo y perfecto mensaje de la Ley de Dios, es que los hombres deben hacer bien a todos, no causando a otros aquel mal que no desearía sufrir en si mismo. Por ejemplo: quizás el dolor mas grande que pueda experimentar ningún ser humano, sea ver como matan a una de sus inocentes criaturas. De este modo, si jamás queremos sufrir este mismo mal, debemos entonces seguir el consejo de la Torah, que prohíbe que hagamos tal cosa a ninguna persona inocente.

Y, no solo la Torah prohíbe que lo hagamos a otras personas, sino que ni siquiera permite que lo hagamos a los animales. Y esta es la razón por la cual Moisés ordeno que, si me daba hambre (mientras iba de viaje por el campo), y lo único que encontraba para comer eran los pollos de una mama pájara (que estaba echada con ellos en su nido), debía primero espantar a la pájara, antes de tomar sus polluelos (a fin de evitar que viese la destrucción de sus criaturas).

Por eso también la Torah prohíbe cocer al cabrito, en la leche de su mama. De hecho, la orden es tan enfática, que la Ley la repite en tres ocasiones distintas (Éxodo 23:19, Éxodo 34:26, y Deuteronomio 14:21). ¿Por que viola tal conducta la Torah? Pues porque va en contra su mismo espíritu, ya que equivale a la conducta del criminal que pretende forzar a una mama a participar de la destrucción de su criatura (es decir, muestra un total desprecio por el dolor ajeno).

De hecho, en Levítico 22:28, la Torah prohíbe matar en un mismo día a la madre y a su cría. ¿Porque? Pues porque es inmoral (cruel) el tener que sufrir en la mañana la perdida de la vida de una de nuestras criaturas, para en la tarde sufrir la perdida de nuestra propia vida.

Este mismo espíritu de la Torah, se manifestaba también en la noble conducta de los miembros del Sanhedrim, quienes ayunaban el día en que se veían forzados a ejecutar a algún reo. Con esta aptitud, estos hombres piadosos mostraban su interpretación del mandamiento que prohibía «mezclar la carne con la sangre»; como intimando que, la verdadera intención del mandamiento, era un llamado a no ser indiferentes al dolor ajeno.

Desde tiempo inmemorial, los sabios de Israel enseñaban que la Ley tiene al menos cuatro niveles interpretativos (PaRDeS); pero, este “mostrar a otros, el mismo bien que desearíamos para nosotros mismos”, es la finalidad ultima de la Torah; la única interpretación por la cual el Creador (bendito sea) hará personalmente responsables a cada ser humano.

Así, cualquier Rabino (sin importar si es Sefardita o Askenazi), cualquier teólogo Judío, cualquier líder Reformado, cualquier político Israelita, cualquier Pastor, cualquier Imam, o cualquier otro líder religioso que pretenda decir que el mensaje de la Torah es algo distinto a lo que hasta aquí hemos expuesto, esta faltando a la verdad, y se expone a si mismo (al igual que a sus seguidores) a sufrir la misma suerte que Korah (Coré), cuyo castigo fue descender a Gehinnom (el lugar de tormento).

Is Christian theology correct, when asking us to abstain from all judgment (“Judge not, that ye be not judged”- Matthew 7:1)?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, in all things [words, people, circumstances, etc], Hebrew believers are expected to judge [and behave] in a fair, righteous, and balanced manner. As is written:

(1) “Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumbling block before the blind, but shalt fear thy God: I am the Lord. Ye shall do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbour. Thou shalt not go up and down as a talebearer among thy people: neither shalt thou stand against the blood of thy neighbour; I am the Lord”-Leviticus 19:14-16, King James Bible.

(2) “Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool”- Isaiah 1:16-18, KJB.

(3) “Just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin, shall ye have...”- Lev. 19:36, KJB

YOU CAN'T ALWAYS BE NICE. THAT'S HOW PEOPLE TAKE ADVANTAGE OF YOU.
SOMETIMES YOU HAVE TO SET BOUNDARIES.

God's Law states that no blood has to be shed, in order for man to have his sins washed away

The noble Christian religion claims Hebrew Bible's message is that there's no atonement (for sins) without the shedding of blood (the blood allegedly shed by Jesus, may peace and blessings be upon him). But truth is that God's Law states atonement can indeed be obtained without the shedding of blood. In fact, it can be obtained with simple incense.

As is written: “And Moses said unto Aaron, Take a censer, and put fire therein from off the altar, and put on incense, and go quickly unto the congregation, and make an atonement for them. And Aaron took as Moses commanded, and ran into the midst of the congregation; and, behold, the plague was begun among the people: and he put on incense, and made an atonement for the people”- Numbers 16:46-47.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

Gentiles following Moses?

Most Reformed Samaritans aren't ethnically Jewish. So, why do they pledge allegiance to Moses Law? The reason for it is that they view themselves as the modern fulfillment of God's word to Moses, foretelling that, in the distant future, he would be in charge of a different and mightier set of people. As is written: “I will smite them with the pestilence and destroy them, and will make thee a greater nation and mightier than they”- Numbers 14:12 (1599 Geneva Bible)

Why can temple incense atone for our sins? Simply because the former was just a symbol of sincere prayer [of contrition], which equals in merit to all incense and sacrifices offered in the Temple. As is written: “Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense; and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice”- Psalm 141:2.

And also says, “The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, o God, thou wilt not despise [denying it forgiveness]”- Psalm 51:17.

Why then would the noble Christian theology insist on the idea of “salvation by faith in Jesus blood, without the need of works”? Again, because Christianity's main sales pitch is to offer it's potential converts the unavoidable bait of “receiving all the benefits” (eternal salvation by faith in the blood of Jesus), without having to assume “any of the corresponding responsibilities” (obeying God's Law).

And the fact is that few men are honest enough to say “No!” to such a convenient [yet deceptive] theology.

Curiously, Jesus debunks the former idea, when stating that he who forgives the faults [or sins] committed against him will have his own faults also forgiven [without the need of any blood]. As is written: “For if you forgive others their offenses, your heavenly Father will forgive you as well. But if you don’t forgive others, your Father will not forgive your offenses”- Matthew 6:14-16 (Christian Standard Bible). Peace be upon you!

«Abrahamic religions (Hebrew, Christian, and Muslim Scriptures) are like tall mountains, pointing the way toward the moral heights that will take us to Heaven. As is written: “You who love the Lord, hate evil!...Hate evil and love good... Turn away from evil, do what is good, and settle permanently [in peace]... Let love be without hypocrisy. Detest evil; cling to what is good... O my son! Keep up prayer and enjoin the good and forbid the evil... And (as for) the believing men and the believing women, they are guardians of each other; they enjoin good and forbid evil and keep up prayer...”- Psalm 97:10, Amos 5:5, Psalm 37:27, Romans 12:9 (Christian Standard Bible), Quran 31:17, & 9:71»

¿Que paradigma encarna el Israel étnico y nacional?

La Escritura Hebrea dice así: “Malditos sois con maldición, porque vosotros, la nación toda [de Judá], me habéis robado”- Malaquías 3:9, Reina Valera 1960. ¿Como puede el Creador (bendito sea) maldecir al pueblo de Israel?

¿Es que hay algo falso en la Torah? ¿No dice claramente Dios que quien maldijese al pueblo de Israel sería a su vez maldecido (“Bendeciré a los que te bendijeren, y a los que te maldijeren maldeciré...”- Genesis 12:3)? ¿Es acaso Dios un ser hipócrita, que demanda de sus pecadoras criaturas una moralidad que Él mismo [con todo y ser Santo] no observa?

¿Puede acaso Dios maldecirse a sí mismo sin sufrir consecuencia alguna por su blasfemia? ¿Como explicamos esta grosera sarta de contradicciones?

Pues lo explicamos entendiendo que, el Israel al cual hace Dios la promesa en Génesis 12:3, no es el Israel étnico (ni nacional), sino el paradigma ético que este último encarna; el de un Israel que consiste de todo aquel hombre que vive en Santidad, haciendo las cosas tal y como lo ha ordeno Dios a Moisés.

Como esta escrito: “E hicieron los hijos de Israel conforme a todas las cosas que mandó Yah a Moisés; así lo hicieron... E hicieron los hijos de Israel conforme a todas las cosas que Yah mandó a Moisés... conforme a todas las cosas que mandó Yah a Moisés, así hicieron los hijos de Israel... Porque yo soy Yah, que os hago subir de la tierra de Egipto para ser vuestro Dios: seréis, pues, santos, porque yo soy santo... Habla a toda la congregación de los hijos de Israel, y diles: Santos seréis, porque santo soy yo Yah vuestro Dios”- Números 1:5, 2:34, 9:5; Levítico 11:45 & 19:2, Biblia Reina Valera 1960.

Así, cuando el Israel étnico y nacional vive en Santidad [observando lo ordenado por Dios a Moisés], todo aquel que le maldice será a su vez maldecido. Pero, cuando el Israel nacional no vive en Santidad, sino que escoge mayoritariamente dar la espalda a lo ordenado por Dios, entonces deja de encarnar el paradigma del Israel Divino, para encarnar en cambio el paradigma de Sodoma y Gomorra [pueblos que estaban bajo la ira y maldición Divina].

¿Y de donde sabemos que cuando Israel se aparta de Dios se convierte a Sus ojos en Sodoma? Pues lo sabemos del verso que procede a decir:

“Si Yah de los ejércitos no nos hubiese dejado un resto pequeño [de creyentes fieles], como Sodoma fuéramos, y semejantes a Gomorra. Príncipes de Sodoma, oíd la palabra de Yah; escuchad la Ley de nuestro Dios, pueblo de Gomorra... Pues arruinada está Jerusalén, y Judá ha caído; porque la lengua de ellos y sus obras han sido contra Yah, para irritar los ojos de su majestad. La apariencia de sus rostros testifica contra ellos; porque como Sodoma publican su pecado, no lo disimulan. ¡Ay del alma de ellos! porque amontonaron mal para sí. Decid al justo que le irá bien, porque comerá de los frutos de sus manos. ¡Ay del impío! Mal le irá, porque según las obras de sus manos le será pagado”- Isaías 1:9-10, & 3:8-11 (Biblia Reina Valera).

Rogamos al Altísimo que tenga misericordia del pueblo Judío, y que cuando este último se aparte del paradigma que es el Pueblo Santo (el verdadero Israel de Dios), le sea dado el volver a su Pueblo, cumpliendo así la Escritura que dice, «Y esta bendición profirió [Moisés] para Judá. Dijo así: “Oye, oh יהוה (Adonai Yah) la voz [de arrepentimiento] de Judá, y llévalo a su Pueblo; sus manos le basten, y tú seas su ayuda contra sus enemigo”»- Deuteronomio 33:7, Biblia Reina Valera (1960).
Que la paz del Creador sea con todos vosotros. Amén.

Reformed Samaritans are discouraged from actively seeking to make converts from within the Christian ranks

Reformed Samaritans are forbidden from trying to convert any Christian believer. Why? Simply because Torah portrays Christianity in the person of Edom, who would “live by his sword” (in other words, that his temporal life would depend upon the blood shed by someone else). As is written: “And by thy sword shalt thou live...”- Genesis 27:40, King James Bible. Likewise, the “life” (everlasting) of the Christian believer depends upon the blood shed by someone else (Jesus of Nazareth, peace and blessings be upon him).

And, since God forbade Israel from taking away even one single foot of Edom’s own territory (“...Ye are to pass through the coast of your brethren the children of Esau, which dwell in Seir; and they shall be afraid of you: take ye good heed unto yourselves therefore: Meddle not with them; for I will not give you of their land, no, not so much as a foot breadth...”- Deuteronomy 2:4-5, KJB), thus Reformed Samaritans are likewise forbidden from trying to diminish the Christian ranks by even one single convert.

¿Demanda Dios nuestra perfecta y absoluta obediencia?

Estimado hermano y amigo: La escritura Hebrea compara al hombre con un árbol (“El árbol que viste, que crecía y se hacía fuerte, y cuya copa llegaba hasta el cielo... tú mismo eres, oh rey”- Daniel 4:20-22).

Y, así como ningún sembrador sensato habría de esperar que los frutos de sus árboles fuesen absolutamente perfectos, de ese mismo modo el Creador nunca ha esperado que ningún hombre sea perfecto [guardando todos y cada uno de los mandamientos de la Ley], a fin de considerarle justo. Como está escrito: «CIERTAMENTE NO HAY HOMBRE JUSTO EN LA TIERRA QUE HAGA (SOLAMENTE) EL BIEN, Y NUNCA PEQUE»- Eclesiastés 7:20.

Es que, todo aquel que se arrepiente de su maldad, para comprometerse con luchar por hacer el bien, es ya justo ante los ojos del Creador. Y por eso la Escritura muestra que, aunque caiga siete veces, si el justo vuelve a levantarse, el Creador le continúa considerando justo. Como está escrito: “Porque

SIETE VECES CAE EL JUSTO, Y VUELVE A LEVANTARSE”- Prov. 24:16, Reina Valera 1960. Y esto también explica el hecho de que la Escritura declarase justos a varios hombre de la antigüedad-- hombres que, si bien eran moralmente imperfectos, estaban comprometidos con el bien. Como esta escrito: “Estas son las generaciones de Noé: NOÉ, VARÓN JUSTO, ERA PERFECTO EN SUS GENERACIONES; con Dios caminó Noé”- Genesis 6:9, Biblia Reina Valera 1960; “Y Jehová dijo a Satanás: ¿No has considerado a mi siervo JOB, que no hay otro como él en la tierra, VARÓN PERFECTO Y RECTO, TEMEROSO DE DIOS Y APARTADO DEL MAL?”- Job 1:8, Biblia Reina Valera 1960; “Si estuviesen en medio de ella estos tres varones, Noé, Daniel y Job, ellos POR SU JUSTICIA LIBRARÍAN ÚNICAMENTE SUS PROPIAS VIDAS, dice Jehová el Señor”- Ezequiel 14:14, Biblia Reina Valera 1960

De hecho, el mismo rey David se consideraba a sí mismo justo ante el Creador, y es por eso que se atrevió a decir lo siguiente: “Tu salvación he esperado, oh Jehová, Y TUS MANDAMIENTOS HE PUESTO POR OBRA. Mi alma ha guardado tus testimonios, Y los he amado en gran manera. HE GUARDADO TUS MANDAMIENTOS y tus testimonios...”- Salmo 119:166-168, Biblia Reina Valera 1960.

No solo esto, sino que aún el mismo Nuevo Testamento intima que, quien ama al prójimo, aunque no obedezca perfectamente la Ley, ya la ha cumplido. Como esta escrito: “No debáis a nadie nada, sino el amaros unos a otros; porque EL QUE AMA AL PRÓJIMO, HA CUMPLIDO LA LEY. PORQUE: NO ADULTERARÁS, NO MATARÁS, NO HURTARÁS, NO DIRÁS FALSO TESTIMONIO, NO CODICIARÁS, Y CUALQUIER OTRO MANDAMIENTO, EN ESTA SENTENCIA SE RESUME: AMARÁS A TU PRÓJIMO COMO A TI MISMO. El amor no hace mal al prójimo; así que EL CUMPLIMIENTO DE LA LEY, ES EL AMOR”- Romanos 13:8-10, Biblia reina Valera, 1960.

The hidden meaning of the Passover Feast

When it comes to the Hebrew Passover feast, God’s Law teaches that the doorpost of each household had to be splashed with blood. What does it mean? Well, according to Reformed Samaritanism “the household door” was a symbol of the sexual organs. Thus, the “blood covered door post” was meant to portray the circumcised believer.

And the obvious hint was that only those who practiced [and followed] circumcision (the Hebrew household) were promised deliverance from death (symbol of God's judgment upon the non-believers).

In fact, the former interpretation explains the reason why God’s Law commanded all who wish to partake of the Passover feast to be circumcised. As is written: “And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee, and will keep the Passover to the Lord, let all his males be circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it; and he shall be as one that is born in the land: for no uncircumcised person shall eat thereof”- Exodus 12:48, KJV.

In addition, prophet Isaiah warned that no uncircumcised person will be allowed to enter into the heavenly Jerusalem. As is written: “Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean”- Isaiah 52:1, KJV.

Finally, as the earthly Canaan was a prototype of Life everlasting, no Israelite was allowed to claim his share of it until he got himself circumcised. As is written: “And Joshua made him sharp knives, and circumcised the children of Israel at the hill of the foreskins. And this is the cause why Joshua did circumcise: All the people that came out of Egypt, that were males, even all the men of war, died in the wilderness by the way, after they came out of Egypt. Now all the people that came out were circumcised: but all the people that were born in the wilderness by the way as they came forth out of Egypt, them they had not circumcised"- Joshua 5:3-5, KJV.

Curiously, being allowed to eat the passover meal while God is casting despair upon His enemies, can also be understood as a promise that those who are circumcised [of body and soul] will be spared from God's judgment, in order to safely abide in His presence (thereby achieving Salvation!). And the latter is also intimated in the verse that goes on to say: "Then went up Moses, and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel (all of them holy and circumcised people): And they saw the God of Israel... And upon the nobles of the children of Israel He laid not his hand: also they saw God, and did eat and drink"- Exodus 24:9-11, King James Bible

«[The Roman Emperor] Antoninos said to Rabbi Yehuda HaNasi: "From when does the evil inclination dominate a person? Is it from the moment of the formation of the embryo or from the moment of emergence from the womb?". Rabbi Yehuda HaNasi said to him: "It is from the moment of the formation of the embryo". Antoninos said to him: "If so, the evil inclination would cause the fetus to kick his mother's innards and emerge from the womb. Rather, the evil inclination dominates a person from the moment of emergence from the womb". Rabbi Yehuda HaNasi said: "Antoninos taught me this matter, and there is a verse that supports him, as it is stated: 'Sin crouches at the entrance' (Genesis 4:7), indicating that it is from the moment of birth, when the newborn emerges from the entrance (sexual organ) of his mother's womb, that the evil inclination lurks»-
Babylonian Talmud, Sanhedrin 91b .

Could Jesus literally follow "the [priestly] order of Melchizedek"?

Could Jesus be literally following "the order of Melchizedek"? How could such thing be possible? It is true that the New testament claims Jesus allegedly followed the [obscure] priestly order of Melchizedek ("So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him... THOU ART A PRIEST FOR EVER AFTER THE ORDER OF MELCHISEDEC" - Hebrews 5:5-6, King James Bible).

But the N.T. also states that Jesus was the believer's own Passover sacrifice ("Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. FOR EVEN CHRIST OUR PASSOVER IS SACRIFICED FOR US"- 1 Corinthians 5:7, King James Bible).

Therefore, we must ask ourselves the following question: where do we find Moses Law ever stating that Melchizedek's order included a Passover sacrifice?

In addition, we must realize that Melchizedek couldn't possibly be a Hebrew [as we are never told he was a biologically offspring of Abraham, the first person ever called a Hebrew].

Moreover, Melchizedek lived several centuries before the Exodus. So there was no reason for him to celebrate a Passover sacrifice he was never part of.

Finally, when it comes to Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him), the fact is that no sincere Hebrew believer would ever claim to be free from sin [perfectly obeying God's Law], while at the same time following a priestly order different from the one commanded by God's Law-- the Levitical priesthood operating at the Holy Temple (the only place where Jews were allowed to offer sacrifices). As is written:

"BUT IN THE PLACE WHICH THE LORD SHALL CHOOSE IN ONE OF THY TRIBES, THERE THOU SHALT OFFER THY BURNT OFFERINGS, AND THERE THOU SHALT DO ALL THAT I COMMAND THEE”- Deuteronomy 12:14, King James Bible.

What is the true meaning of the verse that goes on to say: “Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek”?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Moses was the greatest of all men; the only man upon whom God’s glory permanently shone (“And the children of ISRAEL SAW THE FACE OF MOSES, THAT THE SKIN OF MOSES’ FACE SHONE: and Moses put the vail upon his face again, until he went in to speak with Him”- Exodus 34:35, King James Bible).

But if Moses was so great, and so ideally fit to be followed by the Hebrew multitude, then why wasn’t he formally appointed to be king of Israel? Well, the reason has to do with the fact that God’s plan was for the Hebrew kings to sprang from the tribe of Judah (“THE [ROYAL] SCEPTRE SHALL NOT DEPART FROM JUDAH, nor a lawgiver from between his feet...”- Genesis 49:10, King James Bible).

And since Moses belonged to the tribe of Levi [whose divine task wasn’t to be political leaders, but rather spiritual ones], Moses wasn’t allowed to be Israel’s political king. Yet, so that we are not tempted to think that Moses wasn’t fit for royalty [keep in mind that Moses grew up in Pharaoh’s palace!], Torah portrays him as being “king of Jeshurun”. As is written: “Moses commanded us a Law, even the inheritance of the congregation of Jacob. AND HE WAS KING IN JESHURUN...”- Deuteronomy 33:4-5, King James Bible.

And what is Jeshurun? It is the allegorical (or “spiritual” counterpart of national (or “political”) Israel. So, technically speaking, Moses wasn’t king over national Israel [as he had no personal guard, collected no tax of his own army, and often allowed the Israelite leadership to openly rebel against him], but Moses was definitely king over “Jeshurun” (those who, whether Hebrew or gentiles, faithfully followed him as their spiritual leader).

Curiously, just as Moses [being part of the priestly tribe] was worthy of kingship, so did David [being part of the Royal tribe of Judah] was worthy of priesthood. Unfortunately, no member of Judah’s tribe was allowed to become a Hebrew priest [as the latter was reserved for the tribe of Levi].

But, so that we aren’t tempted to think that king David wasn’t fit for priesthood, Hebrew Scripture portrays him as being a priest according to the manner of “Melchizedek”; the latter being a priesthood for non Hebrew people, as if to say, “Coming for the tribe of Judah, king David was prevented from becoming priest of the Hebrew people, but had David been a non Hebrew person, he would have been fit to become not only king, but even a high priest, just as it had been the with Melchizedek [a former king of Jerusalem, back when the city’s name was “Salem”].

As is written: “The Lord shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies... The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, THOU ART A PRIEST FOR EVER AFTER THE ORDER OF MELCHIZEDEK”- Psalm 110:2-4, KJB.

Western culture often has a serious problem accepting objective [yet inconvenient] reality. Thus, you must beware, lest a sweet talking Westerner is able to convince you of embracing an absurdity. Why?

Simply because, he who can make you believe an absurdity [i.e., that you are “a woman trapped inside a man’s body”], will also be able to convince you of committing an atrocity [i.e., to willingly mutilate your body undergoing a “gender reassignment” surgery]

El Camino de Santidad que agrada a Elohim (La Autoridad o El Poder Supremo)

La fe Hebrea de nuestro padre Avraham, postula que El Creador (bendito sea) es un Juez de perfecta y absoluta Justicia. Y la consecuencia lógica de esta premisa es que, el camino que conduce a la salvación de hombre, tiene que ser tan sencillo y auto-evidente, que nadie pueda reclamar que ha sido injustamente juzgado, por no haber obrado en base a una verdad a la cual nunca tuvo acceso, o una que estuvo fuera de su alcance o comprensión.

Por esto dice la Escritura: "... y será llamado Camino de Santidad; no pasara inmundo por él, sino que El mismo (Dios) estará con ellos; el que anduviere en este camino (de Santidad) por torpe que sea, no se extraviara. No habrá allí león, ni fiera subirá por el..."- Isaías 35:8.

Cuando un hombre carece de todo sentido, decimos que ese hombre "es mas torpe que una burra (asna)". En otras palabras, el Camino de Santidad que describe la Escritura, debe ser tan auto-evidente, que hasta una torpe asna (que carece de todo raciocinio) podría entenderlo. Pero, ¿como hacemos "entender" a un asna?

¿Como logramos que haga lo correcto? ¡Muy sencillo! Simplemente utilizamos "un palo". Es decir, le mostramos (por asociación) que, si hace lo malo, será castigada (con el palo). De este modo, modificamos su conducta, y la hacemos comprender que su bienestar futuro depende de que no haga mal alguno (según lo determinado por su amo).

¿Confirma esto la Escritura? ¡Definitivamente! Vera, a pesar de ser una bestia irracional, el asna de Balaam entendía que su amo le llevaba por un camino de maldad, pues (en su codicia por las riquezas), se dirigía a maldecir al pueblo Hebreo; un pueblo que no había hecho mal alguno a Balaam, ni tampoco a su asna.

Así, la bestia decide detenerse, y echarse debajo de Balaam. Entonces, este procede a castigarla con un palo. Pero la realidad era que, quien merecía ser castigado, era Balaam; y no su inocente asna. Es que Balaam seguía el camino de la maldad (se comportaba como lo hacen el león y las fieras, que hacen daño a aquellos que no les han hecho daño alguno), mientras que la torpe asna seguía el Camino de Santidad (que consiste en no hacer daño a nadie, particularmente a aquellos que no nos han hecho daño a nosotros).

Era la sabia asna, la que encarnaba el camino de los redimidos, que la Tanak describe diciendo: "... no afligirán, ni harán mal en todo mi santo monte..."- Isaías 65:25. Por eso el asna reprende a Balaam, recordándole que, aunque este había cabalgado sobre ella durante tanto tiempo, esta nunca le había pagado con mal.

Y es por esto que también el ángel reprende a Balaam, mostrándole que, a diferencia del justo proceder de su asna (que tuvo temor de Dios, y se aparto del mal camino), su camino era perverso; como está escrito:

"... he aquí yo he salido para resistirte, porque tu camino es perverso delante de mi". El asna me ha visto (ha entendido mis caminos), y se ha apartado (del mal)... y si no se hubiese apartado, yo también ahora te mataría a ti (que insistes en hacer mal a tu prójimo israelita), y a ella (que rehúsa hacer daño a nadie) dejaría viva"- Num. 22:32-33.

En resumen, el Camino de Santidad que complace al Creador (bendito sea), consiste en no hacer daño a nadie- no hacer daño a nuestros padres; no hacer daño a nuestro prójimo; no hacer daño a nuestro Dios; y ni siquiera hacernos daño a nosotros mismos.

Es por esto que la hermana tradición Judía cita al sabio Hillel (paz sea y bendición sean sobre el) resumiendo la fe con el siguiente enunciado: "Aquello que sería odioso para ti (aquello que no te gustaría que te hiciesen a ti mismo) no lo hagas tu a tu prójimo. Esto es toda la Torah. El resto, es solo comentario; ve ahora y apréndelo"- Shabbat 31a.

Esto también explica la razón para que la Escritura resuma todo la fe diciendo: “Apártate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre”- Salmo 37:27.

¿Tiene el Creador alguna raza preferida? ¿Es literalmente cierto que Israel habrá de reinar sobre las Naciones Gentiles?

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que la Ley de Dios (también conocida como “Torah”) en realidad es una grande y sublime alegoría moral. Es decir, si bien es cierto que el Creador está interesado en que conozcamos su Torah, está aún más interesado en que entendamos el mensaje moral que esa Torah intenta enseñarnos.

Y, si a lo largo de nuestro estudio, encontramos que la Torah aparenta aprobar algo injusto o inmoral, es solo porque hemos cometido el error de limitar nuestra interpretación al ámbito puramente literal. Examinemos un sencillo ejemplo: la Torah promete que la nación de Israel sería, al final de los tiempos, la cabeza de las naciones.

Como esta escrito: “Acontecerá en lo postrero de los tiempos, que será confirmado el monte de la casa de YHVH como cabeza de los montes, y será exaltado sobre los collados, y correrán a él todas las naciones”- Isaías 2:2, Biblia Reina Valera 1960. En otras palabras, que Israel sería exaltado por encima de todos los otros pueblos de la Tierra.

Pero el lector astuto percibe inmediatamente un halo de inmoralidad (o “favoritismo Divino”) en la anterior promesa, al preguntarse a si mismo: ¿que culpa tiene un Árabe, un Japonés, o un Africano de no haber nacido siendo un Israelita? ¿Acaso tiene Dios hijos preferidos? ¿No enseña la Torah que, el tener hijos preferidos, solo trae discordia entre ellos, como ejemplifica el relato de José y sus celosos hermanos?

¿Nota usted las contradicciones a las que nos conduce un análisis puramente literal del texto Sagrado?

¿Cual es la interpretación correcta de la anterior promesa? Pues la interpretación correcta es que Ismael e Isaac; Jacob y Esaú; así como el pueblo de Israel y las naciones gentiles son solamente símbolos. De hecho, aún la misma opresión que los unos ejercían sobre los otros era una alegoría moral.

Es que, en un sentido muy real, todos llevamos dentro de nosotros mismos una nación de Israel, pero también llevamos muchas “naciones gentiles”. Y estas “naciones gentiles” persiguen al Israel que habita en nuestro interior. El Israel que mora en nosotros es aquel impulso que sueña con cumplir la promesa de ser “como las estrellas del cielo”.

Es que “Israel” no es sino la “simiente” (o descendencia) de Avraham; y, por medio de Isaac, Dios prometió a Avraham que su descendencia sería “como las estrellas del cielo”. ¿

Que significa ser “como las estrellas del cielo”? Pues significa ser “luz en medio de las tinieblas”; es decir, vivir una vida de integridad, en medio de una sociedad corrupta; vivir una vida de amor, en medio de un mundo de violencia; vivir una vida de misericordia, en medio de un mundo cruel.

Ese espíritu, esa aptitud, es el verdadero Israel que habría de ser la descendencia (espiritual) de Avraham. Pero el Edom, el Moab, y las otras naciones gentiles que moran en nuestro interior, insisten en “vivir por la espada”, en rendir culto al dios del odio, de la inmoralidad, y de la avaricia.

La violencia y la maldad que mora en nuestro interior, son las verdaderas naciones gentiles a las que alude la Escritura; aquellas que nunca han dejado de oprimir al pueblo escogido (el pueblo conformado por todo aquel que desea vivir agradando al Creador), impidiéndole que cumpla la promesa de “reinar” sobre sus enemigos.

Así, no hay favoritismo alguno ante Dios; pues, independientemente de nuestro credo (o raza), cada uno de nosotros puede con sus aptitudes escoger si, en términos espirituales, será el Israel de Dios, o si será en cambio las naciones gentiles que batallan contra Israel.

Una cosa es segura: que, independientemente de nuestra decisión, al final, Israel reinará sobre las naciones gentiles; pero de nuevo, no necesariamente el Israel físico (ni el nacional); sino el Israel que conforman todos aquellos que, por medio del arrepentimiento sincero, se convierten en descendencia espiritual de Avraham.

As a rule of thumb, the average gay man living in the rich Western world is a spoiled brat-- a morally immature individual; a childish ingrate; a shameless liar; a brazen egomaniac; a control freak; in short-- he's an arrogant, self centered, manipulative narcissist

Beware of flatterers, as well as their vain reasoning!

No matter if he be Jew or Gentile, Hebrew Scriptures depicts the accursed man as one who chooses to despise God's commandments, in order to stubbornly follow the "self indulging flattery" (or "vain reasoning") of his own heart. As is written:

"Notwithstanding they would not hear, but hardened their necks, like to the neck of their fathers, that did not believe in the Lord their God. And they rejected his statutes, and his covenant that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies which he testified against them; and they followed vanity, and became vain, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the Lord had charged them, that they should not do like them. And they left all the commandments of the Lord their God..."- 2 Kings 17:14-16, King James Bible;

"... turn ye not aside: for then should ye go after vain things, which cannot profit nor deliver; for they are vain"- 1 Samuel 12:21, King James Bible

"... they made Israel to sin, in provoking the Lord God of Israel to anger with their vanities"- 1 Kings 16:13, King James Bible

"O ye sons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into shame? how long will ye love vanity, and seek after leasing?"- Psalm 4:2, King James Bible

"Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it"- Job 35:13, King James Bible

"Let not him that is deceived trust in vanity: for vanity shall be his recompence"- Job 15:31, King James Bible

"I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I trust in the Lord"- Psalm 31:6, King James Bible

"The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity"- Psalm 94:11, King James Bible

The effect that, upon Divine truth, have large crowds and number of followers

Is God (and Divine truth) to be found in the ideas commonly shared by a large number of peoples? Is safe guidance to be found in the social tendencies of the general population? Should the believer stick to the opinion of those whom the crowds have elevated to the status of "experts"?

In other words,

-- Was Noah wrong simply because nobody else believed in a coming deluge?

-- Was Lot wrong for being the only citizen who disagree with the Sodomite lifestyle?

- Were Moses and Aaron a pair of elderly fools, being the only Hebrew males daring to confront Pharaoh, telling him what he ought to do?
- Were Joshua and Caleb a pair of idiots, pretending to know better than the whole Israelite assembly [of 600,000 men!] that wanted to turn back to Egypt?
- Was Gideon a madman for being the only one to believe he could do with 300 men what was already impossible for 32,000 men (conquering the immense Midianite army)?
- Was Jonathan (King Saul's son) wrong for being the only Israelite who believed that, when it comes to God bringing salvation and deliverance, numbers are simply irrelevant ("And Jonathan said to the young man that bare his armour, Come, and let us go over unto the garrison of these uncircumcised: it may be that the Lord will work for us: for there is no restraint to the Lord to save by many or by few"- 1 Samuel 14:6, King James Bible)?
- Was Jeremiah a false prophet, for being the only one preaching that Judah would be destroyed unless it placed its neck under the yoke of the pagan Babylonian king? ("And it shall come to pass, that the nation and kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand"- Jeremiah 27:8).

Thus, we see that Divine truth has little to do with numbers. In fact, the more lofty and holy a particular thing is [a particular theology, a particular person, a particular lifestyle, a particular scripture, a particular tradition, etc) the fewer people will rally around it ("It's lonely at the top, but it is worth the effort, as you will surely like the view!").

God's Law states that, when a thing has become impure (unacceptable to God), it can be made pure again by water. And, if the thing is just too hard (or "metal-like"), it can be made pure instead with fire. What moral teaching is Torah trying to convey with the former allegory? That, when a man's heart has become impure [by sin], it can be made pure again by water [the latter being a symbol of the watery tears of sincere repentance]. And, if his heart is just too hard to shed any tears, it can always be softened [and thereby purified] by the "the fire" of suffering and chastisement

Josué, el profeta que habría de venir

Moisés dijo que, después que acabase su ministerio, Yah levantaría (designaría) otro profeta: «Profeta les levantaré de en medio de sus hermanos, como tú; y pondré mis palabras en su boca, y él les hablará todo lo que Yo le mandare. Mas a cualquiera que no oyere mis palabras que él hablare en mi nombre, yo le pediré cuenta» (Deuteronomio 18:18-19). Note que la promesa era que el profeta sería "como Moisés". Esto significa que ese profeta haría las mismas cosas que hizo Moisés. ¿Cuales fueron esas cosas? Veamos,

- 1) Moisés tenía dos padres biológicos
- 2) Moisés dividió las aguas (en el mar Rojo)
- 3) Moisés venció a los enemigos de Israel (Faraón y su ejército)
- 4) Moisés fue el supremo caudillo, y líder de los Israelitas (designando el lugar de cada tribu, con respecto al arca, durante su marcha por el desierto)
- 5) Dios castigo públicamente a quienes desobedecieron a Moisés (por ejemplo, a Coré)
- 6) Moisés escribió mandamientos y ordenanzas para Israel.

Ese profeta que habría de suceder a Moisés, no era otro sino Josué, el hijo de Nun. ¿Como estar absolutamente seguros? ¿Hizo Josué las mismas cosas que hizo Moisés? ¡Por supuesto que si! Verifiquémoslas una por una:

- 1) Josue tenia dos padres biológicos
- 2) Josué dividió las aguas (del río Jordán)- Josué 3:7, & 14-16
- 3) Josué venció a los enemigos de Israel (conquistando tanto a Jericó, como a las naciones Cananeas)- Josué 6:24
- 4) Josué fue el supremo caudillo y líder de los Israelitas (al punto de ser quien le distribuyo a cada tribu la tierra que habrían de habitar) - Josué 23:4
- 5) Dios castigo públicamente a quienes desobedecieron a Josué (Acán y su familia)- Josué 7:19-26
- 6) Josué escribió mandamientos y ordenanzas para Israel- Josué 24:25-26

Así, Josué fue el profeta prometido por Dios; y, al igual que sucedió con Moisés, el libro que acompañó el ministerio profético de Josué, fue el libro de la Ley (cuyo fundamento son los diez mandamientos). Y es por eso que, el mensaje del profeta Josué, fue el siguiente: «NUNCA SE APARTARÁ DE TU BOCA ESTE LIBRO DE LA TORAH, sino que de día y de noche meditarás en él, PARA QUE GUARDES Y HAGAS CONFORME A TODO LO QUE EN ÉL ESTÁ ESCRITO; porque entonces harás prosperar tu camino, y todo te saldrá bien.

What's the problem with claiming that God isn't pleased with the goodness we perform, unless it is the result of the Holy Spirit (or our faith on Jesus)?

The problem with the Christian claim affirming that God isn't pleased with our good works unless the former are the product of the Holy Spirit is that such line of reasoning represents a serious problem, as it doesn't place the merit upon the "tangible" [and therefore certain] works we do, but rather upon their "intangible" [and therefore uncertain] motives. In other words, it suggests that "tangible" [and therefore objective] things must be judged by their "non tangible" [and therefore subjective] causes. Why is the former such a serious problem for Christian apologists? It is a problem because it cast serious doubts concerning the overall veracity of the New Testament. Why? Because the latter teaches the exact opposite! In other words, the New Testament teaches that "tangible" [and therefore certain] things should be our guiding standard, when it comes to judge the "non tangible" [and therefore uncertain] things.

For example, the N.T. teaches that you can't love the invisible God, if you can't even love your visible brother ("If any man say, I love God, and hate his brother, he is a liar: for how can he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, love God whom he hath not seen?"- 1 John 4:20).

Likewise, the N.T. teaches that he who does good (no matter what his motives are) pleases the Creator, while he who does evil displeases Him ("... He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God"- 1 John 3:11).

Finally, the New Testament teaches that, since only God can judge the invisible intentions of a person's heart, the believer's judgment must be based on the visible manifestation of such person's heart.

As is written: "For it is not a good tree that bringeth forth evil fruit: neither an evil tree, that bringeth forth good fruit. For every tree is known by his own fruit: for neither of thorns gather men figs, nor of bushes gather they grapes... Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns? or figs of thistles? So every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, and a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit”- Luke 6:43-44, & Matthew 7:16-17 (1599 Geneva Bible).

When a man does good, he thereby becomes part of God’s own Israel; but whenever he does evil, he thereby becomes part of pagan Sodom and Gomorrah

Whenever a Jew, a Christian, a Muslim, or a Samaritan pursues the life of holiness described by Moses Law, he thereby becomes a living incarnation of God’s true Israel. As is written: “The Lord shall establish thee an holy people unto Himself, as he hath sworn unto thee, [but only] if thou shalt keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in His ways”- Deut.28:9, King James Bible).

Conversely, whenever a Jew, a Christian, a Muslim, or a Samaritan pursues a life of open rebellion against Moses words [displaying pride and immorality], he thereby becomes a living incarnation of pagan Sodom and Gomorrah.

As is written: “Except the Lord of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah. Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah... For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory.

The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves. Say ye to the righteous [whether they be Jews, Christians or Muslims], that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. Woe unto the wicked [whether they be Jews, Christians or Muslims]! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him”- Isaiah 1:9-10, & 3:8-11, KJV.

Self deception: the highway to homosexuality

The man who, upon observing the wisdom [and wonders] of nature proceeds to say, “These wonders of nature are no proof that a God is behind them!” (thereby becoming an open atheist), disconnects himself so much from reality that, in the end, will also observe his own genitals and proceed to say, “These genitals of mine are no proof that a man is behind them!” (thereby becoming an open homosexual). Thus, male homosexuality is living proof that, no matter how smart could a man be, as soon as he willingly renounces to common sense and intellectual integrity, his morality becomes as worthless as used toilet paper

Beware of idolatry!

Beware of idol worship!... but keep in mind that, bowing down to the physical image of any idol isn’t the only form of idolatry. In fact, a far worst type of idolatry would be to make an idol out of our own pride and ego [stubbornly pretending to know better than the Creator, thereby refusing to obey His explicit will]. As is written:

1) “They say still unto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Ye shall have peace; and they say unto every one that walketh after the imagination of his own heart [and not after God’s commandments]: “No evil shall come upon you””- Jeremiah 23:17, King James Bible

2) “For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, he hath also rejected thee...”- 1 Samuel 15:23, King James Bible

If there were to be more than one God (like ancient pagans used to believe), you would of course try to curry the favor of the one god who is the most powerful of all. In fact, you would actually follow the god offering you the most benefits (or "personal protection") at the lowest cost (or "effort") to you. And that's why, although Jesus himself states that the Father is greater than he [being therefore the true Almighty God], when it comes to the Trinity dogma (The Father, the Son, And the Holy spirit) Jesus wins the contest, as he is the one offering the most benefits [eternal salvation] at the lowest cost [just faith in his bloodshed]

Was God’s Law intended only for the nation of Israel?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that God's original plan was for all Gentile nations of the World to embrace the Torah given to Moses upon the two stone tablets. But, since none of the nations was willing to accept Torah's moral demands, God had no option but to give it only to Israel; awaiting for a future time, when the nations would embrace it of their own accord.

As is written: “So the Lord shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heal it: for he shall return unto the Lord, and he shall be entreated of them and shall heal them. In that day shall there be a path from Egypt to Assyria, and Assyria shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assyria: so the Egyptians shall worship with Assyria. In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and Assyria: even a blessing in the midst of the land...

For the Lord of hosts shall bless it, saying, Blessed be my people Egypt and Assyria, the work of mine hands, and Israel mine inheritance... But it shall come to pass that everyone that is left of all the nations, which came against Jerusalem, shall go up from year to year to worship the King the Lord of hosts, and to keep the feast of Tabernacles. And who so will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the King the Lord of hosts, even upon them shall come no rain...

And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, it shall not rain upon them. This shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all the heathen, that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles. This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that come not up to keep the feast of Tabernacles”- Isaiah 19:22-25, & Zechariah 14:16-19, 1599 Geneva Bible

Who is a righteous person?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the Righteous man is he who is committed with a lifestyle of holiness-- a life characterized by truth, impartial justice, mercy, and humility (Exodus 23:7, Jeremiah 22:16 & Micah 6:8). As is written:

“Suppose a man is righteous and does what is just and right [what does it mean? It means...]: He does not eat at the mountain shrines or look to the idols of the house of Israel. He does not defile his neighbor’s wife or approach a woman during her menstrual impurity...

... He doesn’t oppress anyone but returns his collateral to the debtor. He does not commit robbery, but gives his bread to the hungry and covers the naked with clothing. He doesn’t lend at interest or for profit but keeps his hand from injustice and carries out true justice between men. He follows my statutes and keeps my ordinances, acting faithfully...

... Such a person is righteous; he will certainly live. This is the declaration of the Lord God"- Ezekiel 18:5-10, Christian Standard Bible.

He who claims the Hebrew God is limited by any physical circumstance (therefore being in need of help) blasphemes the Creator, and won't be granted the privilege of enjoying God's deliverance

Hebrew Scripture tells that, once upon a time, the city of Samaria was surrounded by a powerful army, and Hebrew people living inside of it were starving to death, with no one able to do anything about it.

Then, prophet Elisha foretold that the very next day there would be so much plenty, that flour would be sold at a ridiculously low price. A captain of Israel heard Elisha's words and, being of little faith, made a blasphemous remark [questioning God's power in a contemptuous fashion]. As is written: «Then the captain, the king's right-hand man, responded to the man of God, "Look, even if the Lord were to make windows in heaven, could this really happen?" Elisha announced, "You will in fact see it with your own eyes, but [the Divine punishment upon you will be that] you won't eat any of it"»- 2 Kings 7:2, Christian Standard Bible.

Why was the above captain so gravely mistaken? Because he arrogantly chose to ignore what is taught by the Hebrew Scripture-- that God created mankind in order to give human beings the privilege of participating in God's own designs. But Scripture also states that, from the Creator's standpoint, any participation (or "help") we humans might provide is an optional choice-- not an absolute necessity.

Why? Simply because, being an infinite, all knowing, all present, and all powerful God, the Creator is restrained only by His own will-- and not by any physical need nor limitation He might ever have to face [as nothing is too difficult for Him]. And from whence do we know it? Well, consider the following examples:

--Did God need any human being, in order to create the Universe? Not at all! (He did it all by Himself, using only His word)

--Did God need any human being, in order to destroy the world (back in the days of Noah)? Absolutely not! (He used instead a water Deluge)

--Did God need any human being, in order to stop the builders of Babel's tower? None whatsoever! (He used instead verbal confusion)

--Did God need any human being, in order to tell Abraham to leave his native country, and come to the land of Canaan? None at all! (He spoke directly to Abraham, most likely thru dreams)

--Did God need any human being, in order to let Moses know His plans? None! (He sent an angel who spoke directly to Moses, from the midst of the burning Bush)

--Did God need any human being, in order to defeat the Egyptian army (drowning them at the Red Sea)? Nope! (He used the sea, which returned and covered them all)

--Did God need any human being, in order to let Israel know His will? Of course not! (At Mount Sinai, He spoke directly to Israel, letting them know His Ten Supreme "principles", or "commandments")

--Did God need any human being, in order to feed the whole nation of Israel during the 40 years spent in the wilderness? Of course not! (He gave them heavenly bread, which fell directly from heavens on a daily basis)

--Did God need any human being, in order to feed Elijah? None! (He used instead ravens that brought him bread morning and evening)

--Did God need any human king, in order to defeat the army surrounding Samaria during the days of prophet Elisha? Not at all! (He caused the Aramean camp to hear the sound of chariots, horses, and a large army, so they fled their camp)

--Did the Holy one need any human captain, in order to bring Jonah back to land (so he could go on preaching repentance to the Ninevites)? Definitely not! (He used instead a great fish)

--Did God need any human being, in order to defeat the Assyrian army surrounding Jerusalem during the days of king Hezekiah? None whatsoever! (He sent an angel, who in a single might killed 185,000 soldiers)

--Did God need any human being, in order to defend Daniel from the lions? Absolutely none! (He sent instead an angel, who shut the lions mouth)

The fact is that only a Pagan soul would be so shamelessly brazen as to know all of the above, and yet persist on the idea that God has needs and limitations He can't overcome without the help of human beings [thereby implying that the Creator isn't really Almighty, and that flawed, weak, and mortal human beings are in the same league with God!]. May the Creator have mercy of us all!

¿Está en lo correcto la noble teología Cristiana, cuando afirma que nadie puede agradar a Dios tratando de cumplir la Ley?

¿Está en lo correcto la teología Cristiana, cuando afirma que nadie puede agradar a Dios tratando de cumplir la Ley? ¿Esperaba Dios que los Israelitas obedeciesen [literalmente] todos y cada uno de los mandamientos?

La noble teología Nazarena, postula con absoluta certeza y contundencia que, ningún hombre, puede agradar a Dios por medio de la obediencia a la Ley; pues [alegadamente], nadie puede cumplir con la exigencia Divina de obedecer todos y cada uno de sus mandamientos. Pero, la pregunta que debe hacerse todo creyente, es si tal idea es una verdad Divina, que surge de la mente de Dios; o si surge en cambio de la vana imaginación de los hombres.

A fin de encontrar la respuesta a nuestra pregunta, examinemos el siguiente pasaje de la Ley:

“CUIDARAS DE PONER POR OBRA TODO MANDAMIENTO QUE YO OS ORDENO HOY, PARA QUE viváis, y seáis multiplicados, y ENTREIS Y POSEAIS LA TIERRA QUE יהוה PROMETIO CON JURAMENTO A VUESTROS PADRES... GUARDARÁS PUES LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE יהוה TU DIOS, andando en sus caminos, y temiéndole. POR QUE [HACIENDO ESTO] יהוה TU DIOS TE INTRODUCE EN LA BUENA TIERRA...”- Deut. 8:1, & Deut. 8:6-7.

Note como, en los dos anteriores pasajes, Dios advierte a Israel que, el pre-requisito para entrar [o “ser introducidos”] a la Tierra Santa, es guardar TODO mandamiento ordenado por Dios [en la Ley]. Es decir, si Israel no guardaba TODOS los mandamientos de la Ley, nunca podría entrar a la Tierra prometida.

Siendo así las cosas, la pregunta lógica es la siguiente: ¿Que confirma la historia que sucedió?

¿Confirma que Israel entró en la Tierra de Canaán? ¿O que nunca entró en ella? ¿Confirma la historia que Israel poseyó la tierra de Canaán, que exterminó a pueblos enteros, y que tanto los reyes de Judá, como los de Israel, gobernaron durante siglos la tierra de Canaán? ¿O confirma que los reyes de Israel nunca reinaron sobre ella?

Y, si la respuesta que a estas preguntas provee la historia, es en la afirmativa, entonces no nos queda otro remedio sino concluir que, si Dios introdujo a Israel en la Tierra prometida, tuvo que necesariamente deberse al hecho de que, el Creador, consideró que [como un colectivo de creyentes], Israel cumplió en efecto con TODOS los mandamientos Divinos [es decir, cumplió con TODA la Ley].

Y, esto último, echa por tierra el reclamo Nazareno que alega que, el Creador, solo acepta la perfecta obediencia de cada individuo; pues, los Israelitas individuales, obviamente no cumplieron perfectamente todos y cada uno de los mandamientos de la Ley.

Are Reformed Samaritans demanded to adhere to an oral Law?

The concept of an oral tradition is very important, as the latter plays the role of bringing about order, unity, uniformity and common understanding upon the believer's community. Yet, unlike our Jewish brothers, we don't place any oral tradition at the same level of inspiration as God's written Torah (the Ten laws written upon the two stone tablets).

In fact, even in the case of our Jewish brothers, their oral Law isn't the absolute guidance most of them claim it to be. Why? Simply because, not being the result of a "clear cut" Divine revelation, but rather of human intellect, it is bound to offer different [and often contradicting] interpretations.

Consider the question of how long will the soul be punished in Gehinnom (the Jewish hell). Although the general consensus is that it won't be more than 12 months, oral tradition records several Jewish sages proposing radically different time frames. For example, Rabbi Jochanan Ben Zakkai taught punishment will last forever (Ber. 28b); on the other hand, Rabbi Akiva taught it'll be 12 months, while Rabbi Jochanan B. Nuri taught it will last just seven weeks (Eduy. II. 10).

Thus, as truth is seldom found upon radical extremes, but rather in the healthy balanced position [gathered from the multiple oral traditions], our Jewish brothers should expect that some people (the perfectly wicked?) will suffer a very long punishment; the perfectly righteous will suffer no punishment; and the average person will suffer a short time span (from 7 weeks to 12 months).

Moses knew nothing about “Jewish believers”; he only knew about “Hebrew believers”

In his five books of Torah (the Pentateuch), prophet Moses (peace and blessings be upon him) never mentioned the word “Jews”. In fact, he never mentioned such thing as a “Jewish religion” that was supposed to be the exclusive property of the ancient tribe of Judah. Instead, Moses spoke about “Hebrew” believers- the later being a generic term that included everyone who (regardless of his race or nationality) wished to follow the values of Abraham’s God [to be later printed upon the two stone tablets by God’s own finger]. As is written: “The children of Israel departed from Rameses to Sukkot... also came up with them a great multitude of all kinds of people [of all nations]...”- Exodus 12:37- 38.

And this is why, when the Creator alluded to Moses followers, He didn’t describe them as “Jews”, but rather as “Hebrews”. As is written: «And they will hear your voice; and you and the elders of Israel shall go to the king of Egypt, and say to him-- יהוה the God of the Hebrews has found us- Exodus 3:8.

And also in another place- «Then יהוה said to Moses: Go into the presence of Pharaoh, and say to him: יהוה , the God of the Hebrews, says thus: Let my people go, that they may serve me»- Exodus 9: one. And, finally, God himself says: “And if thy brother, an Hebrew man, or an Hebrew woman, be sold unto thee, and serve thee six years; then in the seventh year thou shalt let him go free from thee”- Deuteronomy 15:12. In short, Moses taught that God’s true Israel wouldn’t be limited to the members of the tribe of Judah (modern day Jews), but would rather consist of “Hebrew believers” (in other words, of the mixed crowd which, regardless of their creed, race, or nationality, would willingly choose to embrace the moral values revealed by God to Moses upon the two stone tablets).

What exactly is Reformed Samaritanism?

In the most general sense, Reformed Samaritanism is plain old “Ethical Monotheism”; in other words, the belief in the existence of a Supreme “Power” [or “God”], who is morally just; rewarding those who do goodness, while punishing those who do evil. And, from a historical standpoint, Reformed Samaritanism is merely a particular flavor of the Hebrew faith practiced by the ancient Samaritan people (in other words, by the citizens of Samaria, the capital of Israel’s northern kingdom) two centuries before the exile of the southern kingdom of Judah (an exile that eventually gave rise to modern “Talmudic Judaism”). And, just as it happened with our spiritual fathers, our main focus is the pursuit of the ethical lifestyle (holiness, faith, truthfulness, transparency, honesty, dignity, justice, mercy, and humility) implicitly taught to all mankind by each and every single story [and allegory] recorded in God’s Holy Torah (God’s Law) by Moshe Ravenu (our master Moses); and whose aim is to teach us that, regardless of our religious [or secular] principles, God’s Universe has been designed to fulfill God’s perfect justice, so that [in the end] we will all reap the same measure of goodness [or evil] we’ve freely and willingly bestowed upon those surrounding us (law of “sowing and reaping”, also known as “measure for measure” or “action and reaction”).

La Fe Netsarita (El Cristianismo) es noble y santa; pero su teología es errada, pues nadie puede morir por el pecado de alguna otra persona

La fe Nazarena es un camino perfectamente válido para agradar al Creador. Pero, en un sentido estrictamente literal, Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean con él) no pudo haber salvado a nadie de sus pecados, pues יהוה (Adonai Yah, bendito sea) ha dicho en la Escritura Hebrea que fuera de Él no hay Salvador alguno. Como esta escrito: «Yo יהוה (Adonai Yah); y, fuera de mi, no hay quien salve» (Isaías 43:11).

En adición, la Escritura enseña que no hay Salvación en ningún “Hijo de hombre”, como esta escrito: “no confiéis en los príncipes, ni en hijo de hombre, porque no hay en él salvación” (Salmo 146:3). Y, Jesús era en efecto “Hijo de hombre”, pues así lo confiesa cuando dice: «Es necesario que el hijo de hombre sea entregado en manos de hombres pecadores, y que sea crucificado, y resucite al tercer día» (Lucas 24:7).

En adición, Jesús no pudo haber muerto por los pecados de nadie; pues la Escritura Hebrea promete que cada cual habrá de morir por su propia maldad [y no por la maldad de sus padres o hijos]. Como esta escrito: «sino que cada cual morirá por su propia maldad»- Jeremías 31:30; «Los padres no morirán por los hijos, ni los hijos por los padres; cada uno morirá por su [propio] pecado»- Deuteronomio 24:16.

De hecho, aún si hubiese querido morir por los pecados del Mundo, Jesús no podría haberlo hecho; pues, siendo un hombre de carne y hueso, tenía pecados propios. Como esta escrito: “Ciertamente no hay hombre justo en la tierra, que haga [solamente] el bien, y nunca peque”- Eclesiastés 7:20. Y los Escritos cristianos confirman esta verdad, cuando dicen que Jesús tuvo que “aprender obediencia” [hacia la voluntad del Padre Celestial]; como esta escrito: “Y aunque era Hijo, por lo que padeció, aprendió la obediencia”- Hebreos 5:8. Y esta casi demás decir que, la única razón para que un hombre necesite “aprender obediencia”, es su previa desobediencia.

Finalmente, note como las palabras adscritas al Nazareno no pueden ser tomadas en sentido literal, sin que caigamos en graves y serias contradicciones. Es decir, si es cierto que Jesús fue engendrado directamente por Dios, y no por hombre alguno, ¿no estaría Jesús en cierto modo mintiendo, al describirse a si mismo como “el Hijo del Hombre”? ¿No debió haber usado exclusivamente el término “Hijo de Dios”?

¿Y que hacemos con el pasaje donde Jesús afirma [en términos absolutos] que no hay verdad alguna en Satanás y sus demonios (“El ha sido homicida desde el principio, y no ha permanecido en la verdad, porque no hay verdad en él”- Juan 8:44)?

Si, como sugiere Jesús, todo lo que Satanás y sus demonios dicen es mentira, ¿que hacemos con las palabras de los demonios, cuando afirman [en términos absolutos] que Jesús es el Hijo de Dios? Como esta escrito: “También salían demonios de muchos, dando voces y diciendo: tú eres el hijo de dios”- Lucas 4:41 & Marcos 3:11.

¿Cual de los dos miente? ¿Miente Jesús, cuando afirma que los demonios nunca dicen la verdad? ¿O mienten los demonios, cuando afirman que Jesús es el Hijo de Dios?

What does Reformed Samaritanism means when it says God is “One”?

God's law (or "Torah") states that God is “One” ("Listen, Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one"- Deuteronomy 6:4, Christian Standard Bible). But, what does it mean? In other words, why can't I say: “Ok, God is One, I am Two, and the planet Saturn is three...”.

Well, the reason we can't properly say such a thing is that Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that nothing “is” [or “exists”] outside of God. In other words, God is the One and only real existence; and all other forms of existence are “appended” to God's unique existence. And that's the reason why ancient Hebrew believers didn't conceived their heavenly father to be just the Hebrew equivalent of the pagan Zeus [a human-like being, only with supernatural powers]. Rather, they view Him as the Supreme living, limitless, and infinite place (“Ein sof” and “Ha-makom”) where everything else resides.

And it goes without saying that, being the absolute infinite spanning everything else, God cannot [by definition] be part of anything greater (or separated) from Himself, as otherwise He wouldn't be the One thing containing [within itself] everything else.

If Torah (God's Law) is perfect, how come it missed such a World changing event like the birth of prophet Muhammad (s.a.w.), or the coming of Islam?

God's Law actually foretold the life of prophet Muhammad (s.a.w.); but it did so only in a cryptic (allegorical) fashion. How so? By means of the story of a great non-Hebrew prophet named "Balaam". You see, God's Law (Torah) was purposely written in an ancient form of the Hebrew language; one that had no vowels, as well as very few punctuation marks (no upper case letters, no periods, no question marks, no exclamation signs, etc). And the reason for God to allow His word to lack precision was to keep Torah's message flexible enough for each of it's word/phrases/sentences to have multiple interpretations [all of them valid!].

In our case, the Hebrew name for "Balaam" was shockingly similar to the Hebrew phrase, "B-allah-am"; the latter meaning "with Allah's people" (or "upon the people of Allah"). You see, Balaam is depicted as "riding" (or "ruling") upon a wise and noble ass ("And Balaam rose up in the morning, and saddled his ass, and went with the princes of Moab"- Numbers 22:21, King James Bible), just as Muhammad (s.a.w.) ruled upon the wise and noble children of Ishmael (Allah's people).

From whence do we know Balaam's ass was a noble being? From the fact that, though only a simple creature, the ass had a perfect knowledge of Torah's message-- to abstain from doing harm unto those who have never harmed us (law of "sowing and reaping"). As is written: «And the Lord opened the mouth of the ass, and she said unto Balaam, "What have I done unto thee, that thou hast smitten me these three times?... Am not I thine ass, upon which thou hast ridden ever since I was thine unto this day? was I ever wont to do so unto thee?"», and he said, "Nay"»- Numbers 22:28-30, KJB.

And from whence do we know the ass is a symbol of Ishmael (the Arab World)? We know it from the verse that goes on to say, "... Behold thou [art] conceiving, and bearing a son, and hast called his name Ishmael, for יהוה hath hearkened unto thine affliction; and he is a wild-ass man, his hand against every one, and every one's hand against him -- and before the face of all his brethren he dwelleth"- Genesis 16:11-12, Young's Literal Translation. In fact, when the book of Joshua mentions that Balaam was killed by the Israelites ("Balaam also the son of Beor... did the children of Israel slay with the sword..."- Joshua 13:22, KJB).

Finally, though Balaam was an open enemy of Israel [just as Muhammad was an open enemy of the Jews], yet Balaam's words contained God's message true message ("And Balaam said unto Balak... the word that God putteth in my mouth, that shall I speak"- Numbers 22:28, KJB); and the latter might be the reason why our master Moses (peace be upon him) decided to immortalize them by making them part of Torah (book of Numbers, chapters 22 thru 24).

God's Law hints at the fact that, as long as there is a certain amount of righteous men among any society, the wicked will be spared from God's judgment («And the Lord said [to Abraham], "If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes»- Genesis 18:26, King James Bible). But, as soon as those righteous are no longer present, destruction is decreed upon them. As is written: "Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth; and I will pardon it"- Jeremiah 5:1, King James Bible.

If God is O.K. with polygamy, then why was Adam given just one woman?

Scripture states that the Creator has no problem with polygamy. In fact, not only does it state that God was o.k. with king David having multiple wives, but even goes as far as saying it was the Creator who made David acquire king Saul's former wives. As is written:

"Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I ANOINTED THEE KING OVER ISRAEL, and delivered thee out of the hand of Saul. AND GAVE THEE THY LORD'S HOUSE, AND THY LORD'S WIVES into thy bosom... AND WOULD MOREOVER (IF THAT HAD BEEN TOO LITTLE) HAVE GIVEN THEE SUCH AND SUCH THINGS"- 2 Samuel 12:7-8 (1599 Geneva Bible).

But if the former is actually true, then why was Adams given only one wife? Well, in order to understand the answer to this question, we must first ask ourselves the following: Why does God tell us that Eve was created from the part of Adam's body that is normally populated by multiple ribs ("And the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof"- Genesis 2:21, King James Bible)?

What's the purpose of giving us such particular detail? It's purpose is to serve as an allegorical representation of a larger truth-- a way of hinting at the idea that, just as it is perfectly normal for a healthy man to have multiple ribs, so is for a healthy man to have multiple wives.

But if so, why was Adan given one single wife? Why not many? It was done so, in order to promote [and ensure] the brotherhood of all mankind-- In other words, so that [in the future] a man couldn't say to his neighbor: "I am a descendant of Eve, while you are a descendant of another woman; therefore, since we come from different families, I have no moral obligation to show you any brotherly love".

And why is brotherly love so important that God is willing to run the risk of making His word appear to be contradictory [seemingly promoting monogamy on one hand, while promoting polygamy on the other hand]? The reason for the former is that God considers brotherly love to be of such paramount importance that everlasting life actually hinges upon it. In other words, wherever brotherly loves is manifested, there will God allow everlasting life to also manifests.

As is written: "HOW DELIGHTFULLY GOOD WHEN BROTHERS LIVE TOGETHER IN HARMONY! IT IS LIKE FINE OIL... FOR THERE THE LORD HAS APPOINTED THE BLESSING—LIFE FOREVERMORE"- Psalm 133, Christian Standard Bible.

Why is modern (Talmudic) Judaism so different from it's ancient (Bible) counterpart?

Why is modern Judaism so different from it's ancient Hebrew counterpart? It is different because, in practice, you can't follow the ancient Hebrew faith without being forced to embrace a mindset that modern Judaism would consider to be “anti-semitic”. You see, modern Jews pay little regard to moral purity, focusing instead on ethnic heritage. So, even if a Jew is a thief, a liar, an atheist, or a homosexual, that isn't expected to affect the respect everyone is supposed to owe him as a member of God's chosen people. But the former flies in the face of the religion taught by Moses and the prophets. In such religion, no respect was to be shown to he who, while claiming to be Jewish, would blaspheme God's name with his open immorality. And this is why we find many cases where a righteous Israelite would end up slaying a wicked one: like when Moses caused the death of 3,000 idol worshipping Israelites (Exodus 32:27-28); when Phinehas caused the death of an Israelite prince named Zimri (Numbers 25:7-8); when Joshua caused the death of Achan and his family (Joshua 7:24-25); When the righteous Israelites killed 25,000 wicked members of the tribe of Benjamin (Judges 20:46-48); or when Jehu caused the death of Joram and Ahaziah, kings of Israel and Judah (1 King 19:16-17, 2 Kings 9:22-27). In fact, ancient Hebrew faith was such that the righteous believer would avoid honoring the wicked with a respectful glance, even if the former was the greatest of all Israelite leaders (the very king of Israel!). As it is written: “And Elisha said unto the king of Israel, What have I to do with thee? get thee to the prophets of thy father, and to the prophets of thy mother. And the king of Israel said unto him, Nay: for the Lord hath called these three kings together, to deliver them into the hand of Moab. And Elisha said, As the Lord of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, surely, were it not that I regard the presence of Jehoshaphat the king of Judah [who is a God fearing man], I would not look toward thee, nor see thee”- 2 Kings 3:13-14 (King James version).

“Make of meditating in God’s Law your constant habit, so that the Word of God becomes your second nature. As it has been said: “Let not this book of the Law depart out of thy mouth, but meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe and do according to all that is written therein: for then shalt thou make thy way prosperous, and then shalt thou have good success”- Joshua 1:8, 1599 Geneva Bible”

The message of Reformed Samaritanism

He doesn't understand the message of Reformed Samaritanism, the man who refuses to repent, in order to start living by God's Ten Commandments; the man who refuses to treat his fellow human beings with justice, mercy, and humility; the man who refuses to lend a helping hand to those suffering unjust oppression; he who isn't kind to the children; he who refuses to consider the poor and the elderly; he who sows discord between brothers; between husbands and wives; between parents and sons; the man who flatters God's enemies; nor the man who refuses to treat his neighbour with the same truthfulness, honour and respect he would wish for himself

Is it true that God's Law (Torah) only belongs to ethnic Jews?

The Torah (or Hebrew Scripture) intimates that, regardless of their race, those who obey God's commandments are properly representing the paradigm of what really means to be a Children of Israel. Who are these peoples? They are the “foreign residents” (or “toshavim”) from among the original seventy nations [of the world] who abandon their old ways in order to become “proselytes” (or “gerim”). How? By starting to do all things according to what God had commanded Moses [upon the two stone tablets].

But from whence do we know that, what Hebrew tradition identifies as the seventy original nations of the World, are also called "Israel"? We know it from Moses, who while addressing the Children of Israel said to them: “Shema Yisrael (Hear oh Israel!)...” (Exodus 5:1). In the former passage, the phrase “Shema Yisrael” can validly be translated as “Shem-A Yisrael”, which in ancient Hebrew [where letters also have a numerical value] means, “Name (of the) Seventy [nations of the world]?- Israel! ...”

And from whence do we know that, doing what God commanded Moses, identifies you as a Children of Israel? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: “Thus THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL DID ACCORDING TO ALL THAT THE LORD COMMANDED MOSES...”- Numbers 2:34. And also in another place: “ACCORDING TO ALL THAT THE LORD HAD COMMANDED MOSES, SO THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL DID...”- Exodus 39:42

And from whence do we know that, from God’s standpoint, all of Israel is comprised of converts (gerim) and foreign residents (Toshavim)? We get it from the Hebrew verse that goes on to say: “The Land [of Israel] must not be sold permanently, because the Land is mine, and YOU [THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL] ARE TO ME “GERIM” AND TOSHAVIM”- Leviticus 25:23.

Thus, although ethnic Israel is Torah’s “custodian”, Torah itself doesn’t exclusively belong to them. Rather, it belongs to all who will come and embrace it. And maybe that’s why Torah was given in the wilderness, as the latter didn’t belong to any people in particular, but was rather open to all nations. Not only that, but Moses himself compared his teaching with both rain water, and dew (“LET MY TEACHING FALL LIKE RAIN, AND MY WORDS DESCEND LIKE DEW, LIKE SHOWERS ON NEW GRASS...”- Deuteronomy 32:). Does the rain [of heavens] belongs to any particular kind of grass? [Bear in mind that elsewhere the Scripture compares the whole human race with grass, at it is written: “THE MAN, LIKE GRASS ARE HIS DAYS...”- Psalm 103:15].

In the former verse, the word translated as “The man” is “enosh”, a Hebrew word that literally means “Human being”). Can any ethnic group claim to own Heaven’s dew? Has there ever be any human being, any land, or any nation upon which rain showers are not allowed to fall? Does anybody has the right to prevent a thirsty person from drinking water coming from the sky?

Not only are the peoples of all nations called to become Israel [by obeying Torah], but if Israel’s former enemies [like Egypt and Assyria] turn to God and faithfully worship Him, He might even place them ahead of ethnic Israel. As it is written: «.. THEY [THE EGYPTIANS] WILL TURN TO THE LORD, AND HE WILL RESPOND TO THEIR PLEAS AND HEAL THEM... The Egyptians and the Assyrians will worship together. IN THAT DAY ISRAEL WILL BE THE THIRD [NOT THE FIRST!], ALONG WITH EGYPT AND ASSYRIA, [and this will be the sign of] a blessing in the midst of the Earth; THE LORD ALMIGHTY WILL BLESS THEM, SAYING: “BLESSED BE EGYPT MY PEOPLE, ASSYRIA THE WORK OF MY HANDS, AND ISRAEL MY INHERITANCE”»- Isaiah 19:22-25.

Notice how in the former verses the Creator describes Egypt and Assyria using words like, “my people”, “the work of my hands”. The keen reader will immediately be aware that these terms are also used elsewhere to describe ethnic Israel, as it is written: “Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, LET MY PEOPLE GO, THAT THEY MAY HOLD A FEAST UNTO ME IN THE WILDERNESS”- Exodus 5:1. And also in another place: “Therefore thus saith the Lord, who redeemed Abraham, CONCERNING THE HOUSE OF JACOB: “JACOB SHALL NOT NOW BE ASHAMED... But when he seeth HIS CHILDREN, THE WORK OF MINE HANDS, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify My name...”- Isaiah 29:22-33.

«Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Torah (God’s Law) promises to those who stick to it that they will become heads, instead of tails. As is written: “And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the Lord thy God...”- Deut. 28:13, KJV). What does it mean? It means you will naturally develop a mind of your own [so that you will be able to “ruminate” each idea, thereby telling apart fact from fiction, and truth from wishful thinking]. And the former is the reason why, as a rule of thumb, 2 Hebrew believers will have no less than 3 valid opinions concerning any 1 (single) subject»

A good theological framework will not guarantee you a share in the World to Come; whereas a good heart will definitely do it

Hebrew Scripture teaches that, if my WRONG messianic theology makes me proud and arrogantly stubborn, then my WRONG messianic theology is worthless. By the same token, if my CORRECT messianic theology makes me proud and arrogantly stubborn, then my CORRECT messianic theology is equally worthless.

Why? Simply because the good tidings [of salvation] are reserved only for those who are meek, and have a contrite heart. As is written:

“The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek... the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace... The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit... Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord: though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished... For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry...”- Isaiah 61:1, Psalm 37:11, Psalm 34:18, Proverbs 16:5, 1 Samuel 15:23- King James Bible.

Is “knowing Jesus” as paramount as the noble Christian theology claims it to be?

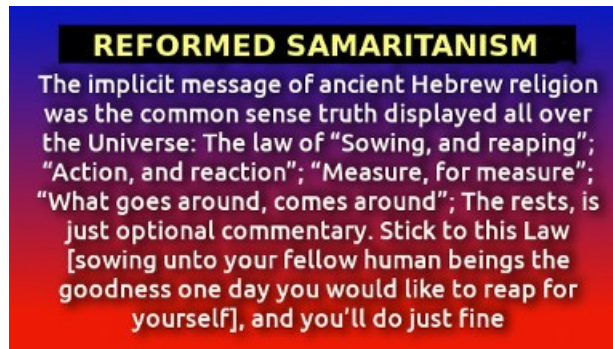

If you study what the New Testament says concerning Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him), you will be surprised to find that Jesus own words are veritable proof that, though a perfectly valid religion, Christian theology has it all wrong.

Why is this so? Because Jesus is quoted saying the following: «Not every one that saith unto me, “Lord, Lord”, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven (personal sanctification, according to 1 Thessalonians 4:3). Many will say to me in that day, “Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? [in other words, weren’t the miracles we performed in your name proof that you were pleased with our religion?]” And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity!”»- Matthew 7:21-23.

Thus, according to Jesus own words, Christian theology is gravely mistaken, when it claims that our salvation depends upon “knowing Jesus”, as Jesus himself states that it depends upon the exact opposite-- Jesus knowing us! Knowing what about us? Knowing that we are not living a life of sin and iniquity, but rather of sanctification (in other words, a life of goodness and humility). As is written: “Turn from evil and do good, so you may live forever”- Psalm 37:27, Tree of Life Bible.

«“The more simple any thing is, the less liable it is to be disordered, and the easier repaired when disordered”— Thomas Paine, Common Sense»

The Gospel is good, but it’s uncertainty fails to bring genuine peace

The problem with the holy gospel is that, unlike what happens with Moses words [recorded in God’s Law], most of the words attributed to Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) can’t be interpreted in a clear and straightforward sense; rather, they can be safely understood only after the events alluded by them have already taken place.

Consider the following example: Jesus tells his disciples that they must buy swords, as things concerning his own person will soon get “heated”; as is written- “Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one. For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned among the transgressors: for the things concerning me have an end”- Luke 22:36-37, KJV.

If you were one of Jesus apostles [like Simon Peter], you would think Jesus meant to say you needed to prepare for physical confrontation (what else are swords needed for?). But the fact is that, though sincere, such literal interpretation would have been totally wrong, as not long after those words Jesus is quoted rebuking the use of such weapons. As is written:

“Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest’s servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant’s name was Malchus. Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?”- John 18:10-11, KJV

