If were to be intellectually honest, we would have to recognize that Jesus had clearly asked his disciples to get swords; but the fact is that they weren’t sure what to make out of Jesus words. Did he mean to say they were allowed to use the swords? Or were they not? Truth be told, they would have to wait for events to unfold, in order to know what the correct interpretation was. As is written:

(1) “And while he yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him. But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword? And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him”- Luke 22:47-51, KJV.

(2) “And, behold, one of them which were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest’s, and smote off his ear. Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels? But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be?”- Matthew 26:51-54, KJV
And something similar happens with almost every utterance attributed to Jesus: You can never know [in advance] whether it must be understood in a literal sense, or whether it should be viewed in an allegorical fashion. In other words, Was Jesus sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel? (“... I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel”- Matthew 15:24, KJV). Would Christians believers never experience death? (“Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death”- John 8:51). Would John remain alive until Jesus return? (“Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?”- John 21:22).

Would Christian persecutions last only ten days? (“Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days...”- Revelation 2:10). Would Jesus return soon after John received his apocalyptic revelation? (“He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly”- Revelation 22:20). Sadly, history proved that those who interpreted the former promises as literal future events were consistently wrong.

In short, instead of feeling the godly peace and security experienced by those having a clear knowledge of God’s plan for their lives (“Great peace have they which love thy Law: and nothing shall offend them”- Psalm 119:165, KJV), our Christian brothers remain hopelessly uncertain [and insecure] of what God’s plan for their lives actually is. And the displayed security concerning future (literal) events they often take for granted (the rise of an anti-Christ, the rapture of the church, the great tribulation, Jesus return in glory, etc) is little more than theological bravado; bold conjectures and suppositions, similar to those made by their earlier Christian predecessors (all of them refuted by ancient church history).

May the Creator bless and guide our dear Christian brothers and sisters! Amen.

Circumcision, the sign of salvation

There is definitely life for the circumcised believer, as the former is the sign of the covenant between God and His own people. As is written: “This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee; Every man child among you shall be circumcised”- Genesis 17:10, King James Bible.

Why circumcision? Because it is the symbol of our commitment to fulfill the verse promising that, the seed of the woman [Israel], would “bruise” the serpent’s head (“And the Lord God said unto the serpent... I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head...”- Genesis 3:14-15, King James Bible)

How so? Well, notice how the male organ resembles a serpent, while it’s end (which is “bruised” by the circumcision procedure) resembles a serpent’s “head”. In other words, by undergoing circumcision, the believer demonstrates his willingness to shed his own blood for the sake of fulfilling God’s will. And that’s why Scripture states that salvation requires the shedding of blood (“... for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul”- Leviticus 17:11, King James Bible).

What blood makes atonement for the soul? The blood of the bulls and rams? No!, Rather, the atonement is made by the blood of the individual person [spilled during the circumcision process].

And from whence do we know that it is the persons' own blood [and not that of someone else] that makes atonement? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: "So ye shall not pollute [with sins] the land wherein ye are: for blood it defileth the land: and the land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it"- Numbers 35:33, King James Bible

“Beware of he who is arrogant, pretending to have an unquestionable knowledge of abstract [unverifiable] things happening at a far away location, while being unsure about [verifiable] things happening at his own neighborhood; Beware of he who pretends to have perfect knowledge of God’s infinite mind, yet cannot understand the limited mind of his next door neighbor”

How do I know which religion to follow?

True religion has little to do with theology. Why? Because God has different plans for different peoples. In other words, if you study God’s Law, you will find that the Creator never asked Hebrew people to make converts; nor is there any record of Moses ever asking the Israelites to go overseas and try to turn other peoples into Hebrew believers.

Why? Maybe because the religion God wants for each particular man, is the one that will make such man [and not someone else] feel the freedom of mind, the Hope, the Peace of heart, and the clear conscience that he so desperately needs. For some people, such religion will be Judaism; For others, it will be Christianity, Islam, Samaritanism, etc.

Truth be told, the name, size, location, or antiquity of the creed we finally choose to follow doesn’t really matter. What’s really important, is that we feel secured that it represents God’s particular way of providing for our intellectual, emotional, and spiritual needs, so we can serve Him without any racial, cultural or linguistic hindrance.

“Whenever you find yourself on the side of the majority, it is time to pause and reflect”- Mark Twain. The meaning of this quote is the following: Don't follow the crowd without first thinking for yourself. Don't choose something just because a majority of the people do that, as having different views and perspectives is part of nature’s Divine order. Have no shame in challenging both the wisdom, fairness, and truthfulness of the ideas conforming the current “status quo”. Fear no shame in wishing to be the voice of conscience, common sense, and reason.

El Significado oculto de la Ley de Moisés

¿Por qué enfatiza la Escritura Hebrea ciertos detalles de la vida de sus protagonistas que a primera podrían parecernos inconsecuentes? Y, ¿que significan las extrañas ordenanzas ilustradas en la Ley De Moisés? Pues la respuesta es que, como regla general, estos relatos y leyes tienen el propósito de ser al menos una de las tres siguientes cosas:

- 1) Una alegoría ética y Moral;
- 2) una alegoría profética;
- 3) una ley que, en adición a mantener la salud social de la nación Hebrea, sirve como una alegoría ética y/o profética.

Consideremos algunos ejemplos: La Ley ordenaba que, el día en que el Sumo sacerdote tenía que encargarse de resolver el problema del pecado de Israel (el día de la expiación, o “Yom Kippur”), el sacerdote tenía que primeramente resolver el problema de su propio pecado. ¿Como? Pues ofreciendo un becerro (es decir, un animal que se distinguía por sus grandes y anchos labios). Como esta escrito: «Y hará traer Aarón el becerro que era para la expiación suya, y hará la reconciliación por sí, y por su casa... Después, degollará el macho cabrío en expiación por el pecado de Pueblo...»- Levítico 16:11&15.

¿Que significado ético tiene este rito? Pues significa que, antes de poder juzgar el pecado ajeno, el creyente que vive en santidad (tal y como vivían en santidad los sacerdotes del Templo), debe juzgarse a sí mismo. ¿Como? Pues reconociendo [con sus labios] que también esta falto, y necesitado. Como confirma la escritura que dice: «Conviértete, oh Israel, al Señor tu Dios, porque por tu pecado has caído. Tomad con vosotros palabras, y convertíos al Señor, y decidle: “Tomad con vosotros palabras, y convertíos al SEÑOR, y decidle: Quita toda iniquidad, y acéptanos con gracia, Y DAREMOS LOS BECERROS DE NUESTROS LABIOS»- Oseas 14:1-2, Biblia Jubileo 2000. Un segundo ejemplo, podría ser el hecho de que la Ley ordenaba que, el sacerdote, debía evitar contaminarse tocando un cadáver. Y, en el caso del Sumo sacerdote, este último no podía contaminarse ni siquiera por su padre, o por su madre. Como esta escrito: «Y el Sumo sacerdote entre sus hermanos, sobre cuya cabeza fue derramado el aceite de la unción... no descubrirá su cabeza... ni entrará donde haya alguna persona muerta; NI POR SU PADRE NI POR SU MADRE SE CONTAMINARÁ»- Levítico 21:10-11.

¿Que enseñanza moral tiene esta alegoría? Pues que, mientras mas “ungido” (o “santo”) es un hombre, mayor es su compromiso con vivir la vida de pureza moral que agrada al Creador. Y, ni siquiera su compromiso con aquellos a quienes deben honor y respeto (simbolizados en el padre y en la madre) podría persuadirlo de contaminarse. Y la prueba de ello esta en el joven Daniel, quien a pesar de deber honor y respeto al Rey Nabucodonosor, rehusó contaminarse con la comida del Rey. Como esta escrito: «Y DANIEL PROPUSO EN SU CORAZÓN NO CONTAMINARSE CON LA PORCIÓN DE LA COMIDA DEL REY, ni con el vino que él bebía; pidió, por tanto al jefe de los eunucos, que no se le obligase a contaminarse»- Daniel 1:8.

Un tercer ejemplo, podría ser el que la Ley dice por un lado que Coré reunió a 250 príncipes de Israel, a fin de rechazar y oponerse a Moisés. Y la Escritura advierte que, estos hombres, descendieron al Seol, y fueron consumidos por el fuego. Como esta escrito: «Core hijo de Izhar... y Datan y Abiram... tomaron gente, y se levantaron contra Moisés con 250 varones... príncipes de la congregación... Y aconteció que, cuando cesó él (Moisés) de hablar... se abrió la tierra que estaba debajo de ellos... Y ELLOS, CON TODO LO QUE TENÍAN, DESCENDIERON VIVOS AL

SEOL... TAMBIÉN SALIÓ FUEGO DE DELANTE DE YAH, Y CONSUMIÓ A LOS 250 HOMBRES”»- Números 16: 1, 2, 31-33, &35.

Por otro lado, la Escritura dice que el fuego no tuvo poder alguno sobre los tres varones Hebreos, que rehusaron obedecer al gran Rey Nabucodonosor [quien demandaba que se le rindiese culto a su imagen]. Como esta escrito: «Y ESTOS TRES VARONES, SADRAC, MESAC, Y ABED NEGO, CAYERON ATADOS DENTRO DEL HORNO DE FUEGO ARDIENTE... Entonces Nabucodonosor se acercó a la puerta del horno de fuego ardiendo, y dijo- “Sadrac, Mesac, y Abed Nego, siervos del Dios Altísimo, salid y venid”. ENTONCES SADRAC, MESAC, Y ABED NEGO SALIERON DEL FUEGO.... Entonces Nabucodonosor dijo- “BENDITO SEA EL DIOS DE ELLOS.... QUE ENVIÓ SU ÁNGEL, Y LIBRÓ A SUS SIERVOS QUE CONFIARON EN ÉL, Y QUE NO CUMPLIERON EL EDICTO DEL REY, y entregaron sus cuerpos, antes que servir y adorar a otro dios que su Dios»- Daniel 3:26&28.

¿Que significan estos dos relatos? Pues el primero de ellos significa que, quien no se somete a Moisés [guardando lo ordenado por él sobre las dos tablas de piedra] está bajo la maldición Divina, y no solamente “cava su propia sepultura”, sino que, su fin, será en las llamas (de Gehinnom). Como esta escrito: “Reprendiste a los soberbios, LOS MALDITOS QUE SE DESVÍAN DE TUS MANDAMIENTOS”- Salmo 119:21; “Que la muerte les sorprenda; DESCENDAN VIVOS AL SEOL, PORQUE HAY MALDAD EN SUS MORADAS (PUES HAN DEJADO LOS MANDAMIENTOS)...”- Salmo 55:15; “PORQUE FUEGO SE HA ENCENDIDO EN MI IRA, Y ARDERÁ HASTA LAS PROFUNDIDADES DEL SEOL... Yo amontonaré males sobre ellos...”- Deut. 32:22-23.

En cuanto al segundo relato, este último significa que, ni el fuego de este mundo, ni el del mundo venidero, tendrá poder alguno contra quienes obedecen lo ordenado por Moisés, rehusando adorar a ningún dios con un nombre distinto al de יהוה (Adonai Yah, bendito sea). Como ha sido ordenado: “Yo soy Yah tu Dios... NO TENDRÁS DIOSES AJENOS delante de mi... NO HARÁS PARA TÍ ESCULTURA NI IMAGEN ALGUNA de cosa que esta arriba en los cielos, ni abajo en la tierra, ni en las aguas debajo de la Tierra. NO TE INCLINARÁS A ELLAS...”- Deut. 5:6-9.

Otro ejemplo de una alegoría profética, es el hecho de que la Ley prohibía que el Sumo sacerdote (el mas santo de todos los Israelitas) pudiese casarse con una viuda (“Tomará por esposa a una mujer virgen, NO TOMARÁ VIUDA NI REPUDIADA...”- Levítico 21:13-14). Pero, por otro lado, la Ley ordenaba que el israelita se casara con la viuda de su difunto hermano, si este último no engendró hijos con ella (“Cuando hermanos habitaren juntos, y muriere alguno de ellos, y no tuviere hijo, LA MUJER DEL MUERTO NO SE CASARÁ FUERA CON HOMBRE EXTRAÑO; SU CUÑADO SE LLEGARÁ A ELLA, Y LA TOMARÁ POR MUJER, y hará con ella parentesco”- Deut. 25:5).

Así que, el Sumo sacerdote, cuyo hermano había muerto sin engendrar hijos, violaba la Ley si se casaba con la viuda de su hermano, y violaba la Ley si no se casaba con la viuda de su hermano. ¿Por que incluyó la Escritura esta aparente contradicción? Pues porque Yah deseada que sirviese a modo de alegoría profética.

Es decir, como un relato cuya finalidad era mostrarnos que Dios nunca esperó tal cosa como la obediencia perfecta de todos y cada uno de los mandamientos de su Ley (pues diseñó esta última de forma que su perfecta obediencia fuese literalmente imposible).

¿Y por que era eso importante? Pues porque prepararía al pueblo de Dios contra una futura herejía; contra un futuro engaño que postularía que, el Dios de los Hebreos, demanda la perfecta obediencia de todos y cada uno de los detalles de la Ley; de suerte que nadie [fuera de la alegada encarnación del Creador] fuese capaz de reclamar la promesa de vida eterna hecha a quienes cumplen el Bien en ella ordenado (“Apartate del Mal, y haz el Bien, y vivirás para siempre”- Salmo 37:27).

Otro ejemplo, es que el mas sabio de todos los hombres (Salomón) recibió de su padre el mandamiento de esforzarse, y ser un hombre. Como esta escrito: «Llegaron los días en que David había de morir, y ordenó a Salomón su hijo, diciendo: Yo sigo el camino de todos en la tierra; ESFUÉRZATE, Y SÉ HOMBRE»- 2 Reyes 2:1-2.

Este pasaje significa que, el hombre sabio, es aquel que reconoce que, la voluntad de su Padre (el gran Rey), es que haga su mejor esfuerzo por comportarse varonilmente (asumiendo las responsabilidades que corresponden al hombre). Y, esta última verdad, serviría para poner en resguardo a las futuras generaciones de creyentes, que tendrían que lidiar contra el pernicioso engaño que propone que, ya que el hombre y la mujer son exactamente iguales, da lo mismo si la mujer se comporta como un hombre [sintiéndose atraída hacia las mujeres], o si el hombre se comporta como una mujer [sintiéndose atraído hacia los hombres].

Por otro lado, un ejemplo de un precepto que mantenía la salud social de la comunidad, a la vez que servía de alegoría profética, era el que la Torah mostraba que, uno de los propósitos del reposo Sabático, era dejar que los animales descansasen. Como esta escrito: “Seis días trabajarás, y AL SÉPTIMO DÍA REPOSARÁS, PARA QUE DESCANSE TU BUEY Y TU ASNO...”- Éxodo 23:12. ¿Por que era esto una alegoría profética? Pues porque preparaba al creyente para una futura herejía; un engaño que postularía [entre muchas otras falsedades] que Dios no tiene cuidado alguno de los animales. Como esta escrito: «Porque en la Ley de Moisés está escrito: “No pondrás bozal al buey que trilla”. ¿TIENE DIOS CUIDADO DE LOS BUEYES, O LO DICE ENTERAMENTE POR NOSOTROS? PUES POR NOSOTROS SE ESCRIBIÓ...»- 1 Corintios 9:9-10.

Así, los creyentes sabrían que, el conocimiento que acerca de la Escritura Hebrea poseía el hombre que escribiría mas de la mitad de las epístolas de “el Nuevo testamento” (es decir, el apóstol Pablo), era [en el mejor de los casos] “cuestionable”.

Y lo mismo podría decirse acerca del hecho de que, la Ley, dedique tanto tiempo en narrar las jornadas de Israel, siguiendo a Moisés en el desierto camino hacia la Tierra prometida (la Canaán terrenal). Es que el relato dice que, los que siguieron a Moisés, obtuvieron finalmente el supremo galardón; pero, quienes rehusaron obedecer lo ordenado por Moisés (los diez espías, Coré, Datan, Abiram, etc) quedaron excluidos de entrar en la Tierra prometida, y terminaron cayendo en el desierto.

¿Que significa este relato? Pues significa que Moisés es “el Camino” a la Canaán celestial; y que la Torah de Moisés es la Verdad, y la Vida. Y esta verdad pondría a los creyentes en resguardo contra una futura herejía, una que siglos mas tarde postularía que Moisés no es el camino, y que su Torah no es la verdad y la vida; sino que, el verdadero Camino, no es otro sino el maestro de Galilea (paz sea con él). Así mismo, postularía que, la verdad y la vida, no esta en la Torah, ni tampoco esta en seguir lo ordenado por Moisés, sino en seguir en cambio las palabras adscritas al Nazareno [palabras que a menudo contradicen lo dicho por Moisés], y que no hay vida alguna para quien no viva por las palabras del Nazareno. Como esta escrito: «Jesús le dijo: YO SOY EL CAMINO, Y LA VERDAD, Y LA VIDA; NADIE VIENE AL PADRE [ES DECIR, NADIE LLEGA A LA CANAÁN CELESTIAL], SINO POR MÍ [ES DECIR, SIGUIÉNDOME A MI]»- Juan 14:6.

Nuestro último ejemplo, surge del hecho de que, cuando David escapaba de su hijo Absalón, un hombre [llamado Simei] procedió a maldecirle fuertemente, y en público. Entonces, cuando el general de David [Abisai] le pidió permiso para castigar a Simei, David le contestó diciendo que no era justo condenar el rechazo y los insultos de un extraño como Simei, cuando su propio hijo [Absalón] le buscaba para matarle.

Como esta escrito: «Y el Rey [David] respondió: ¿Que tengo yo con vosotros hijos de Sarvia? Si él así maldice, es porque Yah le ha dicho que maldiga a David... HE AQUÍ, MI HIJO QUE HA SALIDO DE MIS ENTRAÑAS, ACECHA MI VIDA; ¿CUANTO MAS AHORA UN HIJO DE BENJAMÍN [ES DECIR, UN MIEMBRO DE LA TRIBU DEL DIFUNTO REY SAÚL]. DEJADME QUE ME MALDIGA, PUES YAH SE LO HA DICHO. Quizás mirara Yah mi aflicción, y me dará Yah bien por sus maldiciones de hoy»- 2 Samuel 16:10-12.

¿Por que es profética la anterior alegoría? Pues porque muestra la naturaleza del espíritu manifestado en el Rey David [y, por ende, el espíritu que debería caracterizar a todo aquel que en el futuro reclamara ser un “hijo de David”]. Este espíritu contaba tanto con el favor Divino, que cuando Dios se agradaba grandemente con algún otro rey de Israel, decía que David había sido “su padre”. Como esta escrito:

 “COMENZÓ A REINAR EZEQUÍAS siendo de veinticinco años... E HIZO LO RECTO ANTE LOS OJOS DE YAH, CONFORME A TODAS LAS COSAS QUE HABÍA HECHO DAVID SU PADRE- 2 Crónicas 29:1-2.

Es que, siglos mas tarde, vendría uno reclamando ser tanto “el Hijo de David”, como “el Rey de reyes”. Pero, a diferencia de David, este “Rey de reyes” no mostraría el mismo espíritu de humildad y justicia que caracterizaron a David. ¿Por que? Pues porque David reconoció que, si no había sido lo suficientemente grande como para que su familia cercana (es decir, su hijo) le aceptase como Rey y Señor, sería entonces injusto [y arrogante] esperar que, quienes no eran su familia cercana, le honraran y obedecieran.

Pero, nuevamente, esta no es la aptitud que al Nazareno adscribe el “B’rit Hadasha” (“Nuevo Testamento”), pues el evangelio afirma que sus hermanos no le reconocían como Señor («y le dijeron sus hermanos, “sal de aquí y vete a Judea, para que tambien tus discípulos vean las obras que haces. Porque ninguna que procura darse a conocer hace algo en secreto. Si estas cosas haces, manifiéstate al Mundo. PORQUE NI AÚN SUS HERMANOS CREÍAN EN ÉL”- Juan 7:3-5).

En adición, el evangelio reconoce que los suyos pensaban que Yeshua estaba “fuera de si” (es decir, “desquiciado”). Como esta escrito: «Y se agolpó de nuevo la gente, de modo que ellos ni aún podían comer pan. Cuando lo oyeron LOS SUYOS, VINIERON PARA PRENDERLE, PORQUE DECÍAN: “ESTA FUERA DE SI”»- Marcos 3:20-21.

Pero, a pesar de que los que le conocen de primera mano le rechazan y menosprecian, Yeshua exige [arrogantemente] la incuestionable aceptación y pleitesía de aquellos que no le conocen de primera mano, so pena de condenación eterna. Como esta escrito: «Por que no envió Dios a su Hijo al Mundo para condenar al Mundo, sino para que el Mundo sea salvo por él. EL QUE EN ÉL CREE, NO ES CONDENADO; PERO EL QUE NO CREE, YA HA SIDO CONDENADO, PORQUE NO HA CREÍDO EN EL NOMBRE DEL PRIMOGÉNITO HIJO DE DIOS»- Juan 3:17-18; «Por que el Padre a nadie juzga, sino que todo el juicio dio al hijo, PARA QUE TODOS HONREN AL HIJO COMO HONRAN AL PADRE. EL QUE NO HONRA AL HIJO, NO HONRA AL PADRE QUE LE ENVIÓ»- Juan 5:22-23.

Note como Yeshua no tuvo la misma honestidad intelectual que tuvo David, quien reconoció que, si Simei le rechazaba y maldecía, es porque así lo había querido Dios. En otras palabras, a pesar de que Yeshua reclama ser Dios (es decir, “el Logos creador de todas las cosas”, según Juan 1:1-3), vemos a un Yeshua frustrado y enojado ante el rechazo y la incredulidad de sus oyentes («ENTONCES [JESÚS], MIRÁNDOLOS ALREDEDOR CON ENOJO, ENTRISTECIDO POR LA DUREZA DE SUS CORAZONES, dijo al hombre: “Extiende tu mano”. Y él la extendió, y la mano le fue restaurada sana. Y salidos los fariseos, tomaron consejo con los herodianos contra él para destruirle»- Marcos 3:5-6).

Este último verso muestra que Jesús es incapaz de reconocer que, tal y como sucedió entre David y Simei, si los Judíos le rechazaban y vituperaban, era porque así lo había querido el único y verdadero Dios [de suerte que, la respuesta apropiada del Nazareno, no debía ser las amenazas y los enojos contra los Judíos, sino una de humilde y serena resignación].

Finalmente, note que Yeshua no solo falla en imitar la humildad y la honestidad intelectual de David, sino que en adición tergiversa la Escritura, pues no solamente se atribuye a sí mismo el título de “Hijo de Dios”, sino que reclama la honra que tal título conlleva. ¿Y por que es esto una tergiversación? Pues porque la Escritura muestra claramente que, el título de “Hijo de Dios”, corresponde a la nación de Israel [y no al Nazareno]. Como esta escrito:

«Yah ha dicho así: “ISRAEL ES MI HIJO, MI PRIMOGÉNITO”»- Éxodo 4:22. Y, es a este hijo de Dios llamado “Israel” [y no al Nazareno], a quien el Creador quiere que todos honren. Como esta escrito: «HONRAD AL HIJO [DE DIOS], PARA QUE NO SE ENOJE [SU PADRE], Y PEREZCÁIS EN EL CAMINO; Pues se inflama de pronto su ira...»- Salmo 2:12.

Pero, si lo hasta aquí dicho es cierto, y tanto las teologías cristianas como las Musulmanas son erradas, ¿como entonces explicamos los milagros y las transformaciones de vida que producen estas nobles tradiciones religiosas? Pues lo explicamos entendiendo que El Creador (bendito sea) siempre dará mas peso a la intención de nuestro corazón, que a la exactitud de nuestra teología.

Es decir, a los ojos del Creador, un corazón lleno de un sincero deseo de hacer el bien, vale más que una cabeza llena de precisa y grandilocuente teología. Y esto explica el curioso fenómeno que observamos en las escrituras sagradas de nuestros amados hermanos cristianos. Este extraño fenómeno, consiste en que el Evangelio presenta a alguien diciendo [o haciendo] algo sobrenatural y/o maravilloso; a pesar de que, lo que se dice [o se hace], parte de un conocimiento errado [o “defectuoso”] de la Escritura Hebrea. Citemos algunos ejemplos:

1) El evangelio presente a Jesús (paz sea con él) muriendo de un modo noble y admirable; es decir, recitando con sus labios las emotivas palabras del salmo 22:1. Como esta escrito: «Cerca de la hora novena, Jesús clamó a gran voz, diciendo: “Elí, Elí, ¿lama sabactani?” Esto es- “Dios mío, Dios mío, ¿por qué me has desamparado?”»- Mateo 27:46.

¿Cual es el problema con este inspirador pasaje evangélico? Pues ninguno... aparte del hecho de que, desde un punto de vista puramente lingüístico, el pasaje “confunde la gimnasia, con la magnesia”. Es decir, el texto Hebreo del salmo 22:1, no dice “¿lama SABACTANI?”, sino que dice, “¿lama AZAVTANI?”

2) Antes de morir de forma sobrenatural (viendo “los cielos abiertos”), el mártir cristiano identificado con el nombre de “Esteban” aparece reprendiendo al liderato Judío de su época, recordándoles (entre otras cosas) que Jacob fue enterrado en el campo de sepultura que compró Avraham de mano de los hijos de Hamor, allá en la ciudad de Siquem. Como dice la biblia Griega: «Así descendió Jacob a Egipto, donde murió él, y también nuestros padres; LOS CUALES FUERON TRASLADADOS A SIQUEM, Y PUESTOS EN EL SEPULCRO QUE A PRECIO DE DINERO COMPRÓ ABRAHAM DE LOS HIJOS DE HAMOR EN SIQUEM»- Hechos 7:15-16.

De nuevo, ¿cual es el problema con este noble e inspirador pasaje evangélico? Pues ninguno.... aparte del hecho de que, el campo de sepultura comprado por Avraham, no fue comprado de mano de los hijos de Hamor, y tampoco fue comprado en Siquem. El campo comprado por Avraham, en realidad fue adquirido de Efrón (hijo de Zohar). En adición, este campo no estaba localizado en Siquem, sino en Hebrón. Como esta escrito: «Si tenéis voluntad de que yo sepulte mi muerta de delante de mí, oídme, E INTERCEDED POR MÍ CON EFRÓN HIJO DE ZOHAR, PARA QUE ME DÉ LA CUEVA DE MACPELA, que tiene al extremo de su heredad.... DESPUÉS DE ESTO, SEPULTÓ ABRAHAM A SARA SU MUJER EN LA CUEVA DE LA HEREDAD DE MACPELA AL ORIENTE DE MAMRE, QUE ES HEBRÓN...»- Génesis 23:19.

La realidad es que, el noble mártir Esteban, estaba simplemente confundido; pues quien compró terreno de mano de los hijos de Hamor, no fue Avraham, sino su nieto Jacob. Como esta escrito: «Y ENTERRARON EN SIQUEM LOS HUESOS DE JOSÉ, que los hijos de Israel habían traído de Egipto, EN LA PARTE DEL CAMPO QUE JACOB COMPRÓ DE LOS HIJOS DE HAMOR, PADRE DE SIQUEM...»- Josué 24:32.

3) El Evangelio de Mateo afirma que, por medio de la traición de Judas Iscariote, Jesús cumplió milagrosamente lo que con siglos de anterioridad había sido predicho por el profeta Jeremías- que “el amado” sería vendido por treinta piezas de plata, las cuales serían luego utilizadas para adquirir un campo de sepultura. Como esta escrito: «ASÍ SE CUMPLIÓ LO DICHO POR EL PROFETA JEREMÍAS, CUANDO DIJO: Y TOMARON LAS TREINTA PIEZAS DE PLATA, PRECIO DEL APRECIADO, SEGÚN PRECIO PUESTO POR LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL; Y LAS DIERON PARA EL CAMPO DEL ALFARERO, COMO ME ORDENÓ EL SEÑOR»- Mateo 27:9-10.

¿Que problema hay con este emocionante pasaje? Pues en realidad ninguno... aparte del hecho de que, el profeta Jeremías, nunca dijo nada de lo que el evangelio le atribuye. Quien dijo algo similar [pero no idéntico], fue el profeta Zacarías, quien es citado diciendo: «Y les dije: Si os parece bien, dadme mi salario; y si no, dejadlo. Y PESARON POR MI SALARIO TREINTA PIEZAS DE PLATA. Y me dijo Yah- “Échalo al tesoro; ¡hermoso precio con que me han apreciado!”. Y tomé las treinta piezas de plata, Y LAS ECHÉ EN LA CASA DE YAH, AL TESORO»- Zacarías 11:12-13.

4) El Evangelio presenta al Nazareno (paz sea con él) enfrentando con poder y gallardía el destino para el cual había sido [alegadamente] enviado a este Mundo. Como esta escrito: «HE AQUÍ, ECHO FUERA DEMONIOS Y HAGO CURACIONES hoy y mañana, y al tercer día termino mi obra. SIN EMBARGO, ES NECESARIO QUE HOY Y MAÑANA Y PASADO MAÑANA SIGA MI CAMINO; PORQUE NO ES POSIBLE QUE UN PROFETA MUERA FUERA DE JERUSALÉN» Lucas 13:32-33.

¿Que problema hay con los milagros y las curaciones? ¿Que mal puede haber con que, al igual que sucedió con todos los otros profetas, Jesús deseara morir en Jerusalén? Pues la realidad es que no hay mal alguno... aparte del hecho de que es completamente falso que un profeta no pueda morir fuera de “Jebus” (o “Jerusalén”). Es decir, tanto Avraham, como Isaac y Jacob, fueron en efecto profetas; y, a pesar de ello, murieron fuera de Jerusalén. De hecho, el mayor de todos los profetas (el profeta Moisés) también murió fuera de Jerusalén. Como esta escrito: «Y MURIÓ ALLÍ MOISÉS siervo de Yah, EN LA TIERRA DE MOAB, conforme al dicho de Yah»- Deut. 34:5.

5) El santo evangelio, hace una grande y poderosa revelación: que, el sacrificio del cordero pascual, hecho por los Israelitas en Egipto, tenía el propósito de prefigurar el sacrificio expiatorio del Galileo, quien no solamente habría de morir para redimir a cada Israelita, sino a toda la humanidad. Como esta escrito: «Limpiaos, pues, de la vieja levadura, para que seáis nueva masa, sin levadura como sois; PORQUE NUESTRA PASCUA, QUE ES CRISTO, YA FUE SACRIFICADA POR NOSOTROS»- 1 Corintios 5:7.

¿Y cual es el problema con expiar los pecados de todo Israel durante la fiesta de la Pascua? Pues ninguno.... aparte del hecho de que, el sacrificio pascual efectuado en Egipto, no tuvo el propósito de expiar el pecado de nadie, sino salvar de la muerte al primogénito de cada familia Hebrea. Es que, si los hebreos tenían un sacrificio donde se expiaban todos los pecados de Israel, tal sacrificio no era La Pascua, sino “Yom Kippur” (es decir, el Gran día de la expiación). Como esta escrito: «Y HARÁ LA EXPIACIÓN por el santuario santo, y el tabernáculo de reunión; también hará expiación por el altar, por los sacerdotes y POR TODO EL PUEBLO DE LA CONGREGACIÓN. Y ESTO TENDRÉIS COMO ESTATUTO PERPETUO, PARA HACER EXPIACIÓN UNA VEZ AL AÑO POR TODOS LOS PECADOS DE ISRAEL»- Levítico 16:33-34.

Y, durante esta fiesta de Yom Kippur, el animal que sellaba el proceso de expiación nacional, no era el cordero [que era sacrificado], sino el macho cabrío [que vivía, siendo enviado al desierto]. Como esta escrito: «y pondrá Aarón sus dos manos sobre la cabeza del MACHO CABRÍO VIVO, Y CONFESARÁ SOBRE ÉL TODAS LAS INIQUIDADES DE LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL, TODAS SUS REBELIONES Y TODOS SUS PECADOS, PONIÉNDOLOS ASÍ SOBRE LA CABEZA DEL MACHO CABRÍO, y lo enviará al desierto por mano de un hombre destinado para esto. Y AQUEL MACHO CABRÍO LLEVARÁ SOBRE SÍ TODAS LAS INIQUIDADES DE ELLOS a tierra inhabitada; y dejará ir el macho cabrío por el desierto»- Levítico 16:21-22.

En resumen, el “Brit Hadasha” (el “Nuevo Pacto”, o “Nuevo Testamento”) contiene relatos fascinantes; dichos y hechos tan emocionalmente arrolladores, que podrían cautivar y/o transformar el corazón mas empedernido. Pero, los autores del evangelio, a menudo exhiben un desconocimiento craso de la Escritura Hebrea, así como un pobre entendimiento de las verdades Divinas en ella reveladas. Y, si por medio de los milagros y los prodigios, el Creador aparenta respaldar la predica cristiana, esto no significa en ninguna manera que tal cosa represente un endoso divino a la pobre y descuidada teología cristiana, sino que es en cambio el producto de la gracia que extiende Dios a todo ser humano.

De hecho, el que los milagros y los prodigios no son garantía alguna de que la persona cuente con el favor Divino, es una verdad tan grande e innegable, que el mismo evangelio la confirma, cuando pone en boca del Galileo las siguientes palabras: «Muchos me dirán en aquel día: “SEÑOR, SEÑOR, ¿NO PROFETIZAMOS EN TU NOMBRE, Y EN TU NOMBRE ECHAMOS FUERA DEMONIOS, Y EN TU NOMBRE HICIMOS MUCHOS MILAGROS?”. Y entonces les declararé: “NUNCA OS CONOCÍ; APARTAOS DE MÍ, HACEDORES DE MALDAD”»- Mateo 7:22-23.

If God doesn't have a body, how come man was created in God's own image?

If the God preached by Moses has no type of spiritual [nor physical] image, then why does Scripture state that man was created in God's own image?

Well, the reason for it may be the following: The Creator [blessed be He] is an absolutely Glorious being who is totally perfect and complete. This Supreme Being contains all things within Himself, and therefore His glory isn't increased [nor decreased] the least by anything we might possibly say or do.

In other words, He doesn't really need our praise, our faith, our love, our obedience, our acknowledgement, etc. Besides, as the whole universe exists within Himself, He has a perfect knowledge of it's Laws and regulations, one of which is the Law of "Measure for measure" (also known as "An eye for an eye", "Action and Reaction", Or "Sowing and Reaping").

And this law of "Sowing and Reaping" means that each man is bound to reap the same fruit he has actively sowed upon his fellow creatures. Thus, our merciful Creator has decided to implement a clever scheme, aimed at encouraging us to "sow" upon our fellow creatures the same love and mercy who would wish to "reap" for ourselves. How? By asking us to love Him! ("And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might"- Deuteronomy 6:5, KJV).

But how can you possibly love a Being who has no physical form nor spiritual shape [and therefore has no physical needs]? Can you hug such God? Can you kiss Him? Can you cure His wounds? Can you help Him heal from His sickness? Can you clothe His nakedness? Can you quench His thirst? Can you calm His hunger? Can you give Him consolation? Of course not!

But, since man was created in God's own image ["So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created He him"- Genesis 1:27, KJV], each time you do [to your fellow human beings] any of the things formerly described you are in fact "killing two birds with a single stone".

Why? Because you are [indirectly] loving God, while at the same time you are sowing upon your fellow human beings the love and mercy you are destined to [eventually] reap for yourself.

And the former might be the reason why even towering religious figures like Jesus of Nazareth [peace and blessings be upon Him] are quoted summarizing the whole of Hebrew Scripture as a straight process of "action, and reaction" [or "sowing, and reaping"]; as it is written, "Therefore, whatever you want others to do for you, do also the same for them, for this is the Law and the Prophets"- Matthew 7:12, Christian Standard Bible.

What are Heaven and Hell?

How does Reformed Samaritanism explain the Hebrew Scripture's concept of Heaven and hell? The following parable might help us understand it: A man dies and is shown two different rooms. In the first room, he sees tables with sumptuous food, but all the people looked emaciated, and were moaning and crying.

He saw that the people all had long spoons in their hands, but had no elbows, and thus were unable to feed themselves any of this food. The man was told that this was hell.

The man was then brought to the other room. In there, he saw the same tables filled with sumptuous food. Here again the people had no elbows and had long spoons in their hands. These people seemed very happy, laughing and talking with each other.

The man then saw someone using his spoon to take some of the food, and then reaching across the table in order to feed the person seated at the opposite side of it. The recipient enjoyed the food, thanking the other person and returning the favor by offering a spoonful of food to that person. All of the people continued to be happy and well sated. The man was then told that this was heaven.

The message behind this simple parable is the following: Our actions will end up creating our own heaven or hell. It is true that we all have to face the same realities, but if we face them in a proud, godless and selfish fashion, we will turn them into a living hell; whereas if we are just, merciful, and humble (working to bless and care for each other), we can turn the same realities into a personal heaven.

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Hell is absence of God; the state of consciousness naturally arising from the proud soul who willingly chooses to set his own course of life-- one with no regard for God's will, nor for the Divinely appointed order of Creation (the law of sowing and reaping). In fact, the only reason hell exists, is to preserve the freedom of choice which God grants to human souls

Who is a Samaritan (Hebrew) believer?

The answer the question of who is a Hebrew believer is exactly the same as for the questions of who is a Jew, a Christian, or a Muslim believer. And what would that answer be? That “the Tree is known by it’s fruits”!

In other words, if your lifestyle bears witness to the fact that the supreme standard for all of what you say, do, or think are the life, teachings, and actions ascribed [by God’s Law] to Moses, then you are indeed a true Hebrew believer; if it is instead the life, teachings and actions ascribed [by the Gospels] to Jesus, then you are a Christian believer; Finally, if it is the life, teachings and actions ascribed [by the Qur’an] to Muhammad, then you are a Muslim believer.

A nation run by bankers will never be out of debt.
A nation owned by weapons manufacturers will never know peace.
A nation that allows a small segment of its citizens to write the laws will never know justice.
And if these elements own the media, we will never know the truth.

As for the theological differences between these monotheistic traditions, it would be wise to remember that, in the eyes of God, it is “our fruit” what really matters, as God gives much more importance to our personal morality, than to our personal theology.

And the former is clearly attested by king David, when he goes on to say that the righteous will abide in God's holy mountain, regardless of their personal theology; As is written:

“Lord, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shall rest in thine holy Mountain? He that walketh uprightly and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart. He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbor, nor receiveth a false report against his neighbor. In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but he honoreth them that fear the Lord: he that sweareth to his own hindrance and changeth not. He that giveth not his money unto usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent: he that doeth these things, shall never be moved”- Psalm 15:1-5 (1599 Geneva Bible).

The God of the Hebrew Bible isn't an ideological dictator, nor is He a Religious Tyrant

The Supreme God preached by our master Moses [blessed be He] isn't an ideological dictator, nor is He a religious tyrant who says: "It's my way, or the highway" [In other words, either you do, say, and believe exactly as I demand, or else you are doomed!].

And that's why we often find the Creator “setting up the stage” in such a way as to allow His stern judgment [as well as His manifested will] to be “conquered” [or “swayed”] by the human plead for mercy and compassion.

And this is what happened to king Hezekiah, who after being told that he would die, was told instead the following, “... Thus saith the Lord, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up unto the house of the Lord”- 2 Kings 20:5, KJV.

And something similar could have happened to Sodom-- God would have pardoned it, had He found at least 10 righteous men inside of it. As is written, “And he [Abraham] said, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once: Peradventure ten shall be found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for ten's sake”- Genesis 18:32, KJV.

In short, God's mercy always prevails upon His stern judgment, so that humans are never paid according to their wickedness (“He hath not dealt with us after our sins; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities. For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear Him”- Psalm 103:10-11, Christian Standard Bible).

And the former might explain the reason why, though God had told Adam that he would die the very day he ate of the tree (“But you must not eat from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, for on the day you eat from it, you will certainly die”- Genesis 3:17, C.S.B.), Adam was allowed to live almost 1,000 additional years (“So Adam's life lasted 930 years; then he died”- Genesis 5:5, CSB). Likewise, though the Creator had cursed the Ground (“And He said to the man... The ground is cursed because of you” - Genesis 3:17, C.S.B.), the latter was still fruitful enough to feed the whole mankind.

Finally, although God had cursed the woman (“He said to the woman: I will intensify your labor pains; you will bear children with painful effort. Your desire will be for your husband, yet he will rule over you” - Genesis 3:16, C.S.B.), when the latter is pretty, everybody runs after her.

In what sense was Christian theology foreshadow by the story of King Saul?

Truth be told, Christian religion is an awesome faith, and Christian believers have absolutely nothing to envy from their Hebrew counterparts (Jews, Samaritans, Karaites, Noahides, etc). Unfortunately, you will find that Christian theology is often at odds with the most basic tenets revealed by God's Law. Consider the example of people speaking different languages (“speaking in tongues”)-- While the gospel presents the latter as a sign of God's blessing and approval upon the believers [during Pentecost, at the upper room], God's Law portrays it as the result of God's curse [and disapproval] against the rebellious unbelievers [at the tower of Babel].

Consider a second example: While the gospel portrays physical circumcision as equivalent to not being part of God's flock ("For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole Law. Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the Law; ye are fallen from Grace"- Galatians 5:3-4, KJV), God's Law portrays it as being the opposite ("And the uncircumcised man child whose flesh of his foreskin is not circumcised, that soul shall be cut off from his people; he hath broken my covenant"- Genesis 17:14).

Finally, consider the example of taking oaths-- While God's Law commands the believer to make his oaths using God's name ("Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God... and shalt swear by His name"- Deuteronomy 6:13), The gospel teaches the opposite, as the latter forbids the believer from making any oath ("But I say unto you, Swear not at all"- Matthew 5:34).

And a similar analysis could be made for almost each single tenet comprising Christian theology; always arriving at the same result-- that, although a godly and valid religion, Christianity encourages it's followers to think [and behave] in a way that directly opposes God's Law. In fact, it makes them oppose God's Law in such a clever way that most Christian sincerely believe they are actually doing the opposite (fulfilling the Law's truest and deepest meaning!).

In this sense, it could be properly said that Christianity was foreshadowed in the story of king Saul; who, while openly disobeying the word of God brought upon him by prophet Samuel (to destroy Amalek, including all of it's cattle), dared to claim the opposite (that he had actually obeyed God's word!). As is written: "... and Saul said unto him, Blessed be thou of the Lord: I have performed the commandment of the Lord. And Samuel said, What meaneth then this bleating of the sheep in mine ears, and the lowing of the oxen which I hear?"- 1 Samuel 15:13-14.

Sadly, just as Saul's rebellion [against the word of God] resulted in Israel being led by a man troubled by an evil spirit (“But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the Lord troubled him”- 1 Samuel 16:14), so did Saul of Tarsus rebellion [against the word of God] resulted in Christianity being led by a man troubled by an evil spirit (“... there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure”- 2 Corinthians 12:7).

May the Almighty bless and guide the hearts and minds of our beloved Christian brothers and sister!

El Cristianismo es una santa, noble, e inspirante religión; pero la cruda realidad es que la teología Cristiana no es sino una ingeniosa sarta de incoherencias, de contradicciones, de fanfarronería religiosa, y de atrevidos malabares teológicos

La teología del Samaritanismo Reformado es tan clara y sólida como la piedra sobre la cual fue escrita la Ley Divina. ¿Por que? Pues porque, estando cimentada sobre la inviolable ley de “Medida por medida” (o, ‘Siembra y Cosecha”), provee al creyente la absoluta certeza de que, si se compromete con vivir por los mandamientos Divinos (no teniendo Dios fuera de YHVH; no haciendo ni adorando imágenes de hombres, aves, peces, ni bestias; no asesinando; no robando; no adulterando, no calumniando; honrando a los padres, guardando el día de Reposo, etc), será a la postre exaltado por el Creador.

Como está escrito: «Acontecerá que SI OYERES ATENTAMENTE la voz de Yah tu Dios, PARA GUARDAR Y PONER POR OBRA TODOS SUS MANDAMIENTOS que yo te prescribo hoy , también YAH TU DIOS TE EXALTARÁ SOBRE TODAS LAS NACIONES DE LA TIERRA» (Deut. 28:1). De igual modo, la teología Samaritana provee al creyente la claridad de saber que, si decide darle la espalda a los mandamientos, le alcanzará la maldición.

Como está escrito: «Pero acontecerá, SI NO OYERES LA VOZ DE YAH TU DIOS, PARA PROCURAR CUMPLIR TODOS SUS MANDAMIENTOS y sus estatutos que yo te intimo hoy, que VENDRÁN SOBRE TI TODAS ESTAS MALDICIONES, y te alcanzarán» (Deut. 28:15).

Pero, a diferencia de la claridad, sencillez, y pureza que ofrece la teología Nazarena, la teología de la hermana fe Cristiana está intencionalmente plagada de ambigüedades e incertidumbre. Es que, si examinamos cuidadosamente los Escritos de esta noble tradición hallaremos que, mientras por un lado proveen argumentos para justificar una postura teológica, por otro lado proveen argumentos para justificar la postura contraria.

Es algo así como el discurso del astuto y taimado candidato político que, a fin de seducir a su electorado, promete darle todas las cosas a todos los votantes. ¿Por que? Pues porque sabe que, enredando las cosas, no se compromete en realidad con nada, ya que siempre podrá justificar su incumplimiento alegando que simplemente ha sido malentendido.

De este modo, la ambivalencia de la noble teología Cristiana hace que sus creyentes sientan que “el templo de su fe” va de aquí para allá, como quien deambula por el desierto. Es decir, mientras por un lado el Evangelio afirma que Jesus no vino a abrogar la Ley (Mateo 5:17), en otro lado afirma que la Ley y los profetas eran solo hasta Juan (Lucas 16:16).

Mientras afirma en un lugar que, el que ha visto a Jesus ha visto al Padre (Juan 14:9), en otro lugar afirma que nadie ha visto jamás a Dios (1 Juan 4:12).

Mientras afirma en un lugar que la resurrección del Nazareno era indispensable para que el mundo alcanzase arrepentimiento (obteniendo así la vida eterna, según Romanos 10:9), por otro lado afirma que nadie tenía que resucitar de los muertos, a fin de que pudiésemos proceder al arrepentimiento (Lucas 16:30-31).

Mientras afirma en un lugar que la salvación es por fe, y no por obras (Efesios 2:8-9), en otro lado afirma que, quien quiera entrar a la vida (eterna), debe guardar los mandamientos de la Ley (Mateo 19:17).

Mientras por un lado afirma que Dios es Uno (Marcos 12:29), por otro lado afirma que Dios es tres (1 Juan 5:7). Mientras, por un lado, se goza de que los nuevos creyentes no tengan que guardar la Ley (Romanos 6:14), por otro se goza de que los nuevos creyentes sean celosos en guardar la Ley (Hechos 21:20).

Mientras por un lado afirma que Dios no puede ser tentado por el Mal (Santiago 1:13), por otro lado afirma que Jesús (la encarnación de Dios), fue tentado por el Mal (Lucas 4:2). Mientras por un lado nos prohíbe servir a otro "Señor" fuera de Dios (Mateo 6:24), por otro lado nos exhorta a servir en adición al "Señor" Jesús (Romanos 14:18 & Colosenses 3:24).

Irónicamente, los Escritos Cristianos afirman que no hay en ellos incertidumbre alguna. Como está escrito: «Pero la sabiduría que es de lo alto (la fe Cristiana) es primeramente pura, después pacífica, amable, benigna, llena de misericordia y de buenos frutos, sin incertidumbre ni hipocresía» (Sant. 3:17). Pero la realidad es que la ambigüedad y la incertidumbre son el fundamento de la fuerza de atrape que caracteriza a la fe Nazarena.

Y, ya que la Escritura Cristiana dice "Si" y "No" (simultáneamente) a cada una de las posturas teológicas previamente esbozadas en la Ley (una Ley que contiene solamente la verdad), no es exagerado afirmar que, la palabra de Dios que pueda haber contenido el Evangelio, ha sido de algún modo contaminada con "la palabra del hombre" (es decir, sus errores de juicio); pues es imposible argumentar (simultáneamente) a favor de dos posturas extremas (y auto-excluyentes), sin que al menos uno de nuestros dos argumentos este al menos parcialmente errado.

¿Con que analogía podríamos ilustrar este fenómeno? Pues quizás con la del agua que hizo Moisés brotar de la peña, a fin de calmar la sed del pueblo Hebreo. En esta alegoría, "la Peña" son los diez mandamientos de la Ley; "el agua", es la verdad que emana de esos mandamientos; y, "la sed del pueblo", es la necesidad que de esta verdad tienen aquellos que buscan la vida (eterna).

El creyente Samaritano es aquel que bebe el agua pura que mana directamente de la peña (de los 10 mandamientos). Por otro lado, el creyente Cristiano también bebe de esa misma agua; pero, como se encuentra "lejos de la peña" (pues piensa que la obediencia a la Ley ya no es obligatoria), el Cristiano no bebe en sí del agua que sale directamente de la piedra, sino de la que, para llegar hasta él, ha tenido que recorrer un largo tramo. Y, a lo largo de ese tramo, el agua que inicialmente era pura, ha adquirido impurezas (arena, polvo, paja, sedimentos, etc).

La Ley (o "Torah") enseña que, en su deambular por el desierto, Dios concedió a los Israelitas construir un arca de madera que sería el centro de su culto. Este centro de culto no era fijo, sino movable. En otras palabras, el arca deambulaba "de aquí para allá", tal y como los Israelitas deambulaban "de aquí para allá".

De este modo, aunque adoraban al Creador, el culto de aquellos Israelitas tenía un aspecto de incertidumbre, pues nunca sabían donde se hallaría el arca en la próxima ocasión. Pero, cuando llegaron finalmente a Canaán (la tierra de seguridad y bendición), su culto dejó de ser ambulante, pues eventualmente construyeron un Templo de piedra (un templo sólido y estable) en la ciudad de Jerusalén (es decir, en un lugar fijo).

Lo anterior, no es sino una alegoría. Es que, al igual que aquel arca movable, “el arca” de la fe Cristiana (es decir, su culto y adoración) está construido con madera. ¿Cual? Pues “la madera de la cruz”. Del mismo modo, el Cristiano que ya ha abandonado el pecado, está prefigurado en el Israelita que ha salido de Egipto.

En otras palabras, así como el Israelita divagaba por el desierto, de ese mismo modo el creyente Cristiano divaga en su corazón, pues no conoce con certeza cual es el camino (las enseñanzas) de YHVH (Yah). Como está escrito, "... Y dije, pueblo es que divaga de corazón, y no han conocido mis caminos" (Salmo 95:10).

Aunque libre del pecado, este creyente Cristiano siente que divaga por el desierto de su fe [y de sus EscrituraS]; deambulando de una postura teológica a la otra. Y esto quizás explique el que literalmente existan miles de sectas cristianas; cada una de ellas reclamando ser la interpretación correcta de las mismas Escrituras. ¡Pero esto no tiene que ser de esta manera! Al igual que los antiguos Israelitas, el Cristiano puede “llegar a Canaán” (abrazar la fe Samaritana que surge de la Ley), y sustituir su ambulatorio culto por un culto permanente; un culto basado en un arca de piedra (es decir basado en premisas claras, fijas, y solidas).

Esta “piedra”, no es otra cosa sino “la piedra” de los Diez Mandamientos.

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that “too far East, is West”. And the former means that, "too much of a good thing, can be a bad thing"; that, in all things, the believer must be wise and prudent, avoiding any extreme [or radical] stances; that he should be neither too stern, nor too merciful; neither too generous, nor too scant; neither too credulous, nor too skeptic; neither too shy, nor too bold; neither too talkative, nor too silent; neither too simple, nor too complicated; neither too active, nor too passive; neither too much attached to material things, nor completely detached from them; neither drinking too much wine, nor being a complete abstinent of it. And king Solomon [the wisest of all men!] hints at the same truth, when he goes on to say: “Remove far from me vanity and lies: give me not poverty, nor riches: feed me with food convenient for me, Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or lest I be poor and steal, and take the Name of my God in vain”- Proverbs 30:8-9, 1599 Geneva Bible.

A little parable showing what to do with he who cares nothing about truth

The donkey told the tiger: The grass is blue.

The tiger replied: No, the grass is green.

The discussion became heated, and the two decided to submit the issue to arbitration and to do so, they approached the lion.

Before reaching the clearing in the forest where the lion was sitting on his throne, the donkey started screaming: "Your Highness, isn't it true that the grass is blue?"

The lion replied: "True, the grass is blue".

The donkey rushed forward and continued: "The tiger disagrees with me and contradicts me and annoys me. Please punish him".

The king then declared: "The tiger will be punished with 5 years of silence".

The donkey jumped with joy and went on his way, content and repeating: "The grass is blue".

The tiger accepted his punishment, but he asked the lion: "Your Majesty, why have you punished me, after all, the grass is green?"

The lion replied: "In fact, the grass is green".

The tiger asked: "So why do you punish me?"

The lion replied:

That has nothing to do with the question of whether the grass is blue or green. The punishment is because it is not possible for a brave, intelligent creature like you to waste time arguing with a donkey, and on top of that, to come and bother me with that question.

The worst waste of time is arguing with the fool and fanatic who doesn't care about truth or reality, but only the victory of his beliefs and illusions. Never waste time on discussions that make no sense... There are people who, for all the evidence presented to them, do not have the ability to understand, and others who are blinded by ego, hatred and resentment, and the only thing that they want is to be right even if they aren't.

When ignorance screams, intelligence shuts up. Your peace and tranquillity are worth more.

"Our dear Christian brothers and sisters: Please bear in mind that the aim of the information herein provided isn't to persuade you to abandon your faith in the Messianic claims of Jesus Christ (peace and blessings be upon him). Rather, their sole purpose is to demonstrate the reason why Reformed Samaritans cannot embrace Christian theology, as by so doing we feel we would be embracing a subtle form of self deception (in other words, we would be "rationalizing" the rebellion implied in going against the plain and simple teaching of God's Law). Thus, although we consider Christianity to be a noble and godly religion, we believe Christian theology isn't the right path for he who believes in the Divine inspiration of God's Law, and therefore wants to live by it's precepts. Peace be upon you!"

The problem with raising a man [i.e., Jesus] to the level of God, is that you end up lowering God to the level of man!

The Christian writings say: «What I am saying is this: One of you says, "I belong to Paul," or "I belong to Apollos," or "I belong to Cephas," or "I belong to Christ"»- 1 Corinthians 1:12 (1599 Geneva Bible).

In their well intended [but totally misguided] attempt to praise Jesus, Christianity has raised him to the level of God. But this is foolish, as the gospel quotes the former stating that he has no interest in the praise of men ("I receive not the praise of men"- John 5:41, 1599 Geneva Bible).

Not only that but, by raising Jesus to the level of God, Christianity ends up lowering God to the level of men- thereby placing the morally perfect Creator in the same list as their morally flawed creatures; men like Paul, Apollos, and Cephas.

There's more! Not only is God placed in the same list with morally flawed human beings, but He is even placed at the end of the list! ("I belong to Paul... I belong to Apollos... I belong to Cephas.... I belong to Jesus").

¿Could you imagine ancient Hebrew believers splitting themselves into "followers of Abraham", "followers of Moses", "followers of David", and finally "Followers of the Lord"? Wouldn't it be a sort of pagan blasphemy to even suggest that the Creator was just another flawed mortal human being, just as Abraham, Moses, and David?

Did Jesus [peace and blessings be upon him] perfectly fulfill the 613 commandments comprising God's Law?

Christianity is a noble and godly religion. But, though well intended, Christian theology is misleading, and incoherent. Consider the following example: Christianity claims Jesus to be sinless, and therefore suitable to be the atoning sacrifice commanded at Passover [and Yom Kippur] by Moses Law.

But, did Jesus literally fulfill the 613 commandments comprising Moses Law? In fact, given that Christianity claims him to be the perfect [and supreme] Jewish high priest, we may also ask ourselves: Did Jesus actually follow what the Law had to say concerning atoning sacrifices... Did he perfectly obey all that was commanded to the Aaronic priests? And even more importantly-- did he sacrifice himself according to what was commanded by Moses Law?

Sadly, the answer to the former questions is a resounding, "No!". Actually, how could he had done so, when his priesthood had in fact nothing to do with the Aaronic order prescribed [and regulated] by Moses Law, but rather with the [pagan] order of Melchizedek [for which the Law had nothing to command]?

And from whence do we know Jesus didn't follow the Aaronic priesthood prescribed by God's Law? We know it from the verse that goes on to say:

"Although he [Jesus] was the Son, he learned obedience from what he suffered... and he was declared by God a high priest according to the order of Melchizedek... Jesus has entered there on our behalf as a forerunner, because he has become a high priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek... Now if perfection came through the Levitical priesthood (for on the basis of it the people received the Law), what further need was there for another priest to appear, said to be according to the order of Melchizedek and not according to the order of Aaron?... Now it is evident that our Lord [Jesus] came from Judah, and Moses said nothing about that tribe concerning priests. And this becomes clearer if another priest like Melchizedek appears, who did not become a priest based on a legal regulation about physical descent... For it has been testified: You are a priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek"- Hebrews 5:8-10, 6:20, 7:11, 7:14-16, 7:17, Christian Standard Bible.

Thus, it is self evident that Jesus sinned, by failing to obey the Law; In other words, by not offering his own sacrifice according to what the Law had clearly commanded Aaron (sacrifices to be made only inside the holy Temple, and only by the hand of Aaron's offspring), but rather according to the obscure and uncertain dictum of a pagan order [which apparently allowed sacrifices to be made on top of open hills, and by the hand of idol worshiping Heathens].

Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) is the son of God... and so too are all who embrace God's Law

Being a Hebrew believer that had received [or “accepted”] the word of God, Jesus was indeed son of God... But so am I, as well as all who have embraced Torah. In fact, not only does receiving the word of God makes me Son of God, but [in a sense] it also makes me share God's Divine nature.

As is written: «I [God] said, “You are gods; you are all sons of the Most High...”»- Psalm 82:6, CSB. And, while defending his claim to being Son of God, Jesus confirmed all of this, when he went on to say: «Isn't it written in your Law, “I said, you are gods”? If He called those to whom the word of God came ‘gods’—and the Scripture cannot be broken— do you say, “You are blaspheming” to the one the Father set apart and sent into the world, because I said: “I am the Son of God?”»- John 10:34-36, CSB

The Divine Law teaches God is no man (“God is not a man...”- Numbers 23:19). But the New Testament claims Jesus to be not only God but even “the Second Adam”. As is written: “I and the Father are one”- John 10:30; “And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.. The first man is of the earth, earthy; the second man is the Lord from heaven” (1 Corinthians 15:45-47, KJV). So, he who follows God's Law can properly say that, while the Serpent started out trying to convince Eve that Adam [the First Man] could be LIKE God (“In fact, God knows that when you eat it your eyes will be opened and YOU WILL BE LIKE GOD...”- Genesis 3:5); it ended up making an ever greater claim- that the Second Adam could not only be LIKE God but he could actually be God!

If gentile people worship Jesus, can Hebrew believers do likewise?

Man worships that which he perceives as being superior to himself. And that's the reason why God allowed the gentile nations of old to worship the Sun, the moon, and the Stars (“... The Lord your God has granted these things to all the nations who live under heaven”- Deut. 4:19, Common English Bible). Why did they worship stars? Because, unlike human beings [which are little more than movable talking leather bags full of sweat, urine and feces], the stars were perceived as being free from these contaminants. Thus, it is preferable to follow the pagan practice of worshipping the Sun, the moon, or the stars, rather than to worship any defecating deity.

Curiously, The New testament portrays Jesus as a Star (“I am... the bright and morning star”- Revelation 22:16, KJV). So, though worship of Jesus would resemble the pagan worship of stars, the verse in Deuteronomy 4:19 states that gentile nations are allowed to do so.

But as for Hebrew believers, no such thing is allowed to them, as they have been chosen to be a special people [worshipping a God who has no shape nor body]. As is written: “But the Lord took you and brought you out of that iron furnace, out of Egypt, so that you might be his own treasured people, which is what you are right now”- Deut. 4:20, Common English Bible.

In what sense does Christian theology strain out the gnat, but gulps down the camel?

The Gospel quotes Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) blasting the Jewish leadership for focusing on secondary issues, while disregarding the important ones. As is written: “Blind guides!

You strain out a gnat, but gulp down a camel!”- Matthew 23:24, C.S.B.

Curiously, after 2000 years of development, the former words could also be applied to the noble Christian religion. In other words, modern Christian theology strains out (or “disregards”) what God's Law states on easy, clear, and certain terms (“the mosquito”), in order to exalt (or “gulp down”) what the Law only references on a shady and allegorical fashion.

But, what exactly are the things that God’s Law references in clear and certain terms? Some of them are the following:

(1) That he who sins must repent, making confession and restitution (“Tell the Israelites: When a man or woman commits any sin against another... the person is to confess the sin he has committed. He is to pay full compensation...”- Numbers 5:6-7, CSB);

(2) That the purpose of man's life is to obey God's commandments («Here is the final conclusion, now that you have heard everything: fear God, and keep his mitzvot (commandments); this is what being human is all about. For God will bring to judgment everything we do, including every secret, whether good or bad»- Ecclesiastes 12:13-14);

(3) That if we want to enjoy an everlasting abode, we must depart from evil and start doing goodness («Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore [in everlasting life]»- Psalm 37:27, King James Bible);

(4) And that God only wants man to be just, merciful, and humble (“He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?”- Micah 6:8, KJV).

And what is referenced by the Law only on shady and allegorical terms? Well, some of it is the following: (1) The existence of such thing as an inherited original sin, (2) The meaning of the temple sacrifices, (3) The end times chronology, (4) the role [and identity] of any future Messianic figure, (5) the future re-building of Jerusalem's Temple, etc.

The gospel makes sense only when considering Jesus words to be allegorical (“All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them”- Matthew 13:34). Else, we would have to view him as a shameless liar; one who fails to fulfill his promise of a speedy return (“But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone over the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come [again]”- Matthew 10:23, King James Bible)

The possible hidden reasons for Paul's new and radical "saved by grace" theology

There's only one true and Godly religion: To be just, kind, and humble. As it has been written: “Turn away from Evil! Do Good! Then you will Live in the Land Forever”- Psalm 37:27 (Common English Bible). And elsewhere says: “He has told you, human one, what is good, and what the Lord requires from you- to do justice, [to] embrace faithful love, and [to] walk humbly with your God”- Micah 6:8. What then is the role played by normative religion (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, etc.)? Simply to try and be faithful messengers of God's true religion. And all is well and good, as long as we keep in mind the unavoidable distinction that will always exist between the perfect message of true religion, and the imperfect role played by it's appointed messengers.

Why then do evil doers refuse to accept God’s true religion? Simply because they think it would be easier for them to appease the Creator with flattering words. In other words, proclaiming how great He is; how paramount is to believe this or that other theology; or how crucial it is to make this or that other statement of faith.

What's really hard for evil doers, is to appease the Creator by doing good to their fellow human beings-- something that humbles their ego (forcing them to focus on pleasing someone else besides themselves), and hurts their pride (forcing them to serve their neighbor, rather than to be served by them).

That's why, when a man can't humble himself to serve other people, and in addition has such a sinful past as to make it almost impossible for him to excel among his fellow believers, he'll often come up with "a new revelation"; a fancy prophecy [or biblical interpretation] that none but himself can completely understand; a convenient theology where, "doing good", is of secondary importance, but in which "believing", and "understanding" his new revelation, is a matter of "life or death".

Of course, as nobody else can completely understand his new "revelation", people eventually find themselves forced to follow him in a blind fashion- thereby making him the indisputable leader he always [secretly] wanted to be.

This phenomenon explains many of the thousands cults often started by people whom, in spite of their questionable moral background, dared proclaiming themselves God's Messiah, God's greatest prophet, God's new apostle, God's last messenger, and even a new manifestation of a previous religious figure.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

Mose's Torah (God's Ten Laws) is the Truth, The Way, And the Life; No one comes to the Heavenly Father, save he who walks toward the moral horizon described by God's Holy Torah. As is written: «All has been heard; the end of the matter is: "Fear God [revere and worship Him, knowing that He is] and keep His commandments, for this is the whole of man [the full, original purpose of his creation, the object of God's providence, the root of character, the foundation of all happiness, the adjustment to all inharmonious circumstances and conditions under the sun] and the whole [duty] for every man"»- Ecclesiastes 12:13, Amplified Bible- Classic Edition)

Why do our Christians brothers follow Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him)?

2 Billion Christian believers willingly submit to a Jewish man named Jesus. Why? Simply because they claim Jesus perfectly submitted to God's Holy Law. And, by placing their hope in Jesus, our Christian brothers are [unwillingly] forced to bear witness of the fact that there's no salvation without obedience to God's Law. In other words, they are [again, unwillingly] proclaiming that Mose's Torah (in other words, God's Ten Laws) is the Truth, The Way, And the Life; and that No one comes [directly or indirectly] to the Heavenly Father, save he who walks toward the moral horizon described by God's Holy Torah. As is written: «All has been heard; the end of the matter is: "Fear God [revere and worship Him, knowing that He is] and keep His commandments, for this is the whole of man [the full, original purpose of his creation, the object of God's providence, the root of character, the foundation of all happiness, the adjustment to all inharmonious circumstances and conditions under the sun] and the whole [duty] for every man"»- Ecclesiastes 12:13, Amplified Bible- Classic Edition.

Salvation is by faith-- by faith in God's mercy, which manifests in the fact that the Almighty is willing to forgive all who will sincerely repent [confessing their sins and striving to depart from them]. As is written: "The one who conceals his sins will not prosper, but whoever confesses and renounces them will find mercy"- Proverbs 28:13, Christian Standard Bible

Is death penalty ever justified?

Torah hints at the idea that, the Divine order of the Universe is "Cause, and effect"; "Action, and reaction"; "Sowing, and reaping", "Measure, for measure"; "What goes around, comes around". Thus, death penalty is justified, as if a person is guilty of premeditated murder, he too should be exposed to premeditated execution [by a properly recognized tribunal]. As is written: "... but life shall go for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot"- Deuteronomy 19:21, K.J.V.

The Supreme God preached by our master Moses [blessed be He] isn't an ideological dictator, nor is He a religious tyrant who says: "It's my way, or the highway" [In other words, either you do, say, and believe exactly as I demand, or else you are doomed!]. And that's why we often find the Creator "setting up the stage" in such a way as to allow His stern judgment [as well as His manifested will] to be "conquered" [or "swayed"] by the human plead for mercy and compassion. And this is precisely what happened to king Hezekiah; who, after being told that he would die, was told instead the following, "... Thus saith the Lord, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up unto the house of the Lord"- 2 Kings 20:5, KJV. And something similar could have happened to Sodom-- God would have pardoned it, had He found as little as 10 righteous men inside of it. As is written, "And he [Abraham] said, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once: Peradventure ten shall be found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for ten's sake"- Genesis 18:32, KJV

"Measure for Measure"-- Hebrew Scripture's true message

The supreme message of the Hebrew Scripture is that The Creator of the universe (blessed be He) isn't an ideological dictator, nor is He a religious tyrant. Rather, He is a righteous Judge ("...Shall not the Judge of all the Earth do Right?"- Genesis 18:25, King James Version). Therefore the Holy One of Israel doesn't arbitrarily or capriciously judge [or condemn] anybody, but instead allows each person to judge himself.

How? By means of the Law of "Eye for Eye, and Tooth for a Tooth", also known as "the Law of Measure, for Measure", "Law of Sowing, and Reaping", "Law of Cause, and Effect", or simply "Law of Action, and reaction". In other words, the Creator allows us to "reap" the same goodness [or wickedness] we've freely and voluntarily "sown". For example, Hebrew Scripture narrates the story of a son of Judah who married the widow of his deceased brother; but the former avoided giving offspring to the latter.

As it is written: "And Judah said unto Onan, Go in unto thy brother's wife, and marry her, and raise up seed to thy brother. And Onan knew that the seed should not be his; and it came to pass, when he went in unto his brother's wife, that he spilled it on the ground, lest that he should give seed to his brother”-Genesis 38: 8-9, King James Version.

What would the Creator allow to be the righteous judgment for a man who, while having the power to give his deceased brother a son, wickedly chooses not to do so? Well, based on what we have previously said, it can be nothing else besides having to “reap” the same sort of wickedness (“... AS THOU HAST DONE, IT SHALL BE DONE UNTO THEE: THY REWARD SHALL RETURN UPON THINE OWN HEAD”- Obadiah 1:15, KJV).

In other words, to make him a deceased brother, who had no son of his own. And this is why the Creator allowed Onan to experience a premature death. As is written, “And the thing which he did displeased the Lord: wherefore he slew him also”- Genesis 38:10, King James Version. Not only that, but the Creator even prevented Tamar from marrying Selah (Judahs’ third boy), so that the latter would not beget with her any son who could properly be counted as Onan’s offspring. How just and fair is the Creator’s justice! May his name be blessed forevermore!

Hebrew Scripture is all about “Sowing and Reaping”; thus, if we repent of the evil we have intended against God, God will likewise repent of the evil He has intended against us (Jonah 3:10)

From whence do we know that repentance (and turning away from evil) is the way to have our sins removed? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: «As far as the mizrach (east) is from the ma’arav (west), so far hath He [God] removed peysha’einu (our transgressions) from us»- Psalm 103:12.

Where are “East” and “West” Located? And, how far is the East from the West? The answer to this question is that “East” and “West” are no particular locations, but rather opposite directions which we willingly choose to follow. In other words, we could be heading East, yet in the moment we stop, and make a 180 degree turn (in order to start traveling in the opposite direction), we have thereby bridged the gap covering “the distance” between East and West.

And that’s exactly how God removes (pardons) our sins-- they are removed the very moment we recognize we are heading in the wrong direction (away from God, with our constant transgression of His commandments) and choose to make a 180 degree turn [in order to start walking in the opposite direction].

This 180 degree turn is what we normally call “sincere repentance”- to have a contrite heart; to abandon evil, and to start doing good. This is God’s true sacrifice; not that of a human Messiah, nor that of any animal beast, but the sacrifice of our selfish ego (our “Yetzer ha-ra”, or “evil inclination”). And this is why Scripture goes on to say: «For you don’t want sacrifices, or I would give them; you don’t take pleasure in burnt offerings. My sacrifice to God is a broken spirit; God, you won’t spurn a broken, chastened heart»- Psalm 51:16-17;

And also, «Hashem is near unto them whose lev (heart) is broken; and saveth such whose ruach (spirit) is contrite»- Psalm 34:18; And still in another place: «With what can I come before Adonai to bow down before God on high? Should I come before him with burnt offerings? with calves in their first year? Would Adonai take delight in thousands of rams with ten thousand rivers of olive oil?

Could I give my firstborn to pay for my crimes, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?” Human being, you have already been told what is good, what Adonai (God) demands of you - no more than to act justly (with your fellow human being), love grace (doing mercy) and walk in purity (humility) with your God»- Micah 6:8.

Thus, mankind redemption doesn’t come from any human Mashiach, but rather from sincere repentance. In fact, it could be validly said that repentance is [in itself] God's true Mashiach, as it is taught in the verse that goes on to say: «And the Go'el (Redeemer, or Mashiach) shall come to Tziyon, and unto them that make teshuva (sincere repentance) and turn from peysha (rebellion) in Ya'akov, saith Hashem»- Isaiah 59:20.

Notice how the verse doesn't say that Mashiach will come unto those who believe in him, but rather unto those who make Teshuva (repent). Why? Because "Teshuva" and "Mashiach" are actually the same. And the former is also confirmed by a Jewish Midrash (Sanh. 98a) that promises that Mashiach will come TODAY... "if we hear His voice, and Harden not our hearts... (in other words, if we proceed to sincere repentance)"- Psalm 95:7-8.

Is it true that people living in "the Old Testament" period were saved by faith in a coming Messiah?

When it comes to inspire and uplift, faith in a coming Messiah can be a powerful tool. The only problem with the idea of Old Testament people being saved by "looking forward to the Messiah" is that it seems to be sort of "disconnected" from Bible's own narrative.

In other words, Hebrew Bible doesn't record even one single instance where any person [whether he be Hebrew or Gentile] was ever condemned by God for the sin of refusing to believe in a coming Messiah. Yet, Hebrew Scripture provides numerous examples of specific people being punished for refusing to obey God's commandments [as well as people being rewarded for their obedience to them].

Of course, we recognize that at the end of the day, "the tree can be known by it's fruit". So, if your individual theology concerning Jesus of Nazareth [peace and blessings be upon him] brings you peace and deliverance, it would be wise for you to hold fast to it. As for ourselves, we can't find inner peace following any sort of theology that would leave us feeling as if we are not being completely honest with ourselves (with that which we sincerely believe to be Divine and objective truth), thereby making us liable for violating the Divine command that forbids us from bearing a false witness.

As is written, "Keep thee far from a false matter..."- Exodus 23:7, King James Bible. And also says, "These are the things you must do: Speak truth to one another; make true and sound decisions within your city gates"- Zechariah 8:16 (Christian Standard Bible).

Moral Perfection? We are not expected to reach the destination, but rather to do the journey

The God of the Hebrews expects His people to walk towards the moral perfection outlined by His commandments; those written by Him upon the two stone tablets (don't worship other gods, don't make images of God, don't bear false witness, keep the Sabbath rest, don't steal, don't murder, honor your parents, don't covet, etc). But the commandments are just "the horizon"; they are not the destination! In other words, God will hold us accountable for avoiding the Journey towards moral perfection [and not for being unable to attain such perfection!].

That's why, as we embark in the journey, we often find that the Creator effectively limits the amount of good we are allowed to perform (by not giving us the required health, wisdom, courage, or resources to achieve it).

And from whence do we know that Scripture validates this truth? We know it from the story of King David, who wanted to do the great good implied in building a house of praise and worship for the Creator. But, in the end, God himself prevented him from doing the good he wanted. As it is written: «Then David the king stood up upon his feet, and said, Hear me, my brethren, and my people: As for me, I HAD IN MINE HEART TO BUILD AN HOUSE OF REST FOR THE ARK OF THE COVENANT OF THE LORD, AND FOR THE FOOTSTOOL OF OUR GOD, AND HAD MADE READY FOR THE BUILDING: BUT GOD SAID UNTO ME, “THOU SHALT NOT BUILD AN HOUSE FOR MY NAME, because thou hast been a man of war, and hast shed blood”»- 1 Chronicles 28:2-4 (King James Bible).

And the same is taught in the story of Jonah- although the sailors tried to do good (by not casting Jonah into the rough sea waters), God didn't allow it, but rather force them to throw him overboard. As it has been written: «Nevertheless the men rowed hard to bring it to the land; but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous against them. Wherefore they cried unto the Lord, and said, “We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, LET US NOT PERISH FOR THIS MAN'S LIFE, AND LAY NOT UPON US INNOCENT BLOOD: FOR THOU, O LORD, HAST DONE AS IT PLEASSED THEE”. SO THEY TOOK UP JONAH, AND CAST HIM FORTH INTO THE SEA: and the sea ceased from her raging”- Jonah 1:13-15 (King James Bible).

Thus, the purpose of the many limitations God has imposed upon us is to provide the existential context required in order for us to understand the extend of God's power and glory; to show us that He isn't limited by our weakness and limitations. As it has been written: “And Jonathan said to the young man that bare his armour, Come, and let us go over unto the garrison of these uncircumcised: it may be that the Lord will work FOR US: FOR THERE IS NO RESTRAINT TO THE LORD TO SAVE BY MANY OR BY FEW”- 1 Samuel 14:6 (King James Bible).

And the fact that God doesn't depend on the strength [nor the perfection] of His people, is further attested in the verse that goes on to say: “And the Lord said unto Gideon, THE PEOPLE THAT ARE WITH THEE ARE TOO MANY FOR ME TO GIVE THE MIDIANITES INTO THEIR HANDS, LEST ISRAEL VAUNT THEMSELVES AGAINST ME, SAYING, MINE OWN HAND HATH SAVED ME”- Judges 7:2 (King James Bible).

«Be just, be merciful, be humble, be honest, and be kind... That's all the religion God really requires from you... The rest, is just private commentary. Now that you know what God truly demands, you can go in peace, and study the commentary...»

Is it true that the God of Israel isn't pleased with anything less than perfect obedience?

Is God only pleased with perfect obedience? When it comes to the subject of obedience to God, to claim that the God of mercy [and justice] accepts nothing less than perfect obedience to each and every single command of His Law [thereby implying that He isn't pleased with any form of partial obedience to His will] is not only an affront to God's perfect moral character, but also evident proof that our knowledge of Scripture is [at best] deficient.

Why? Simply because Scripture teaches that, although God was angry with king Jehoshaphat, he was nonetheless pleased with the good deeds performed by the former king.

As it is written: «Then Jehu son of the seer Hanani went out to confront him, and said to King Jehoshaphat, “Do you help the wicked and love those who hate the Lord? Because of this, the Lord's wrath is on you. However, some good is found in you, for you have eradicated the Asherah poles from the land and have determined in your heart to seek God”»- 2 Chronicles 19:2-4, KJV.

Christianity And Islam are both good religions; but beware, as the cult given to any great human personality can make us abandon God’s mercy, which is freely available to all (no matter our creed)

Truth be told, both Judaism, Christianity, and Islam are good & valid religions; but beware!!, as the cult given to any great human personality can make us abandon God’s mercy, which is freely available to all (no matter our creed). You see, Hebrew Scripture’s original message is that the Creator is a just and compassionate God; A God whose mercy is manifested in the fact that He freely forgives anyone who comes before him with a contrite heart, and a humbled spirit. As clearly stated by the verse that goes on to say: “The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; YOU SHALL NOT DESPISE A CONTRITED AND HUMBLE HEART, O GOD”- Psalm 51:17.

And as it also says in another place: “And God saw what they did, that they TURNED FROM THEIR EVIL WAY from him; AND HE REPENT [GOD] OF THE EVIL WHICH HE HAD SAID HE WOULD DO TO THEM, AND HE DID NOT”-Jonah 3:10.

Unfortunately, even well intended people will often fall prey to one of the many existing cults that seek to deify their own leader. How do they go about it? By making the words (and deeds) ascribed to such leader (Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, Joseph Smith, William Marrion Branham, etc) equal to (or even greater) than the words and deeds ascribed to יהוה (Adonai Yah, the God of Israel).

Thus, once a man has fallen prey to the deception of making his mortal leader equal or greater than the immortal God, he reasons that worship and obedience to God alone isn’t enough, as it misses the worship [and obedience] owed to his particular leader; whom he considers to be equally important (or even more important) than God.

And this is the process by which this man stops believing in God’s Divine mercy (that is, in the freely available forgiveness granted by God to all who would repent). Instead, such man will now claim that there’s no forgiveness for he who would refuse to join him in the cult given to his great leader’s personality.

And the former is the reason why Islam claims that there’s no forgiveness for the penitent, unless the latter recognizes that Muhammad (peace be upon him) is the last and greatest of all prophets.

Likewise, the former is the reason why the noble Christian religion claims that there’s no forgiveness (or mercy) for the penitent, unless he first accepts Jesus as his own God, Savior, and Messiah.

Finally, the fatal error of abandoning God’s freely available pardon for the sake of our vain desire to exaggerate our great [yet finite and mortal] leader was foretold by the Hebrew Scripture. Where? In the verse that goes on to say: “THOSE WHO FOLLOW ILLUSIONARY VANITIES (LIKE HUMAN PERSONALITY CULTS), HIS (FREELY AVAILABLE) MERCY FORSAKE”- Jonah 2:8.

“The ultimate forms of tyranny and slavery aren't those of the body, but rather those of the mind, and of the soul: the tyranny of those who would force you to stand [against your will] on the side of the vile and degenerated; The torture of your own soul, when it rebukes your cowardice, for openly pretending to follow [and believe] a narrative that deep down inside you know to be deceptive, debased, and wicked”

Satan: Human values greatest defender

An ancient Hebrew legend explains the way on which the perfidy of the Sodomites used to operate. You see, back then commercial banks did not yet exist. So, whenever a foreigner would arrive into Sodom, he would immediately proceed to bury [in a secret place] all of his valuables.

What would the average Sodomite do? Well, holding in his hands a bunch of fragrant and expensive perfumes, he would ask the newcomer to include the perfume in the lists of valuables he was about to secretly hide. In his naivety, the newcomer would not see anything wrong with such request, so he would accepted the offer.

But, when the night had already fallen, the Sodomites would come out of their houses and, like bloodhounds, would sniff out the scent of perfume until they finally found the place where everything was buried. Thus, when the foreigner returned the next morning in order to pick up his valuables, he would discoverer that his willingness to keep the valuables of the Sodomites had caused him to lose his own valuables.

And Something similar happens in our present time. How so? Well, whenever a newcomer comes to embrace the Hebrew faith, he acquires the values clearly taught by the Hebrew Scripture; but it often happens that a Sodomite [posing as a believer] will show up, and suggest that he include among his owns the following values: equality of sexes, LGBT rights, women's' rights, rights of atheists, absolute freedom of expression, etc.

The believer will fail to perceive anything wrong with such request, and will proceed to accept the Sodomite's offer. What he fails to understand is that the former is just a cunning ideological game, whose sole purpose is to strip him of his own values (the values he has learned from God's Law), thereby condemning his soul. You see, the idea that "we should all be equal" is Satan's oldest deception.

In fact, it is so old that it was mankind's first temptation; the very one used by Eden's serpent, in order to trick Adam and Eve. The serpent said: "...You shall not die, but God knows that, in the day you eat of it...you shall be as God...(you shall be equal to God!)" - Gen. 3:4-5.

Thus, by encouraging Adam & Eve to hold fast to a moral "value" (Equality) that they [supposedly] didn't have, the serpent ended up stripping them of the greater values they actually had [innocence, respect, obedience, and communion with their heavenly Father]; so they ended up moving away (hiding) from God.

Similarly, whenever a believer accepts the idea that men and women are completely equal, he is [unconsciously] forced to erase all distinction between male and female sexes, so that the aptitudes and inclinations of the man, are as valid [and acceptable] as the aptitudes and inclinations of the woman (as the opposite would mean man and woman are not actually equal).

Thus, the believer is led to embrace the idea that, if it is perfectly acceptable for a woman to use make-up, then it should be perfectly acceptable for a man to do likewise; if it is normal for a woman to use female clothes and underwear, then it should be perfectly normal for a man to use female clothes and underwear; if it is natural for a woman to be sexually attracted to males, then it should also be just natural for a man to be sexually attracted to males [as the contrary would imply that males and females are not really equal].

In short, the former line of reasoning traps the believer inside the ideological box of accepting Transvestism & homosexuality as perfectly logic [and therefore valid] behavior. And once this deceived believer has reached the latter stage, he reasons within himself that, as his acceptance of homosexuality is the logical product of embracing the unequivocal value of "absolute equality" it follows that if God's Law condemns homosexuality, it can only mean that God's Law is grossly mistaken.

But if God's Law is so mistaken, then it cannot be the true word of God, and therefore its values [and message] have no Divine origin that would justify obeying it any longer. Thus, at the end of the day, the believer who opts to keep [as his own] the values offered to him by the Sodomite community will not only end up endorsing Transvestism and homosexuality, but will also renounce to the word of God [thereby losing his own values].

Which one is greater? Jesus?, or Moses?

Curiously, the Hebrew name “Yeshua” (Jesus) is just a slightly different version of the Hebrew name “Yehoshua” (Joshua). But, why would the Holy One [blessed be He] allow this to be so? In order to hint at the idea that, just as Yehoshua was inferior to Moses [the latter being a symbol of God's Law, to which we must all be permanently subjected], so too was Yeshua inferior to Moses [and therefore subject to him].

And from whence do we get that Yehoshua (Joshua) was inferior to Moses? We get it from the verse that goes on to say: “And the Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. And he turned again into the camp: but HIS SERVANT JOSHUA, the son of Nun, a young man, departed not out of the tabernacle”- Exodus 33:11, KJV.

And also says, “And Joshua the son of Nun, THE SERVANT OF MOSES, one of his young men, answered and said, MY LORD MOSES, forbid them”- Numbers 11:28, KJV. In fact, not only was Jesus [peace and blessings be upon him] inferior to Moses, but he was even inferior to Elijah [as the latter seem to have gone up to heaven without ever tasting death]. And from whence do we know that the gospel hints at this very same idea?

Is Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) God?
Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, if God's Law states God is no man, that He might fail to fulfill what He has said (“God is not a man, that he might lie ...”- Numbers 23:19, Christian Standard Bible), while the Gospel pretends to deny the former, claiming God is indeed a man named Jesus (“while we wait for the blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ”- Titus 2:13, CSB), then the bitter disputation between Law and Gospel believers is over, and the issue is finally settled. Why? Simply because God's Law can't be altered, as its followers have been forbidden to add or subtract to it (“Be careful to do everything I command you; do not add anything to it or take anything away from it”- Deut. 12:32, CSB). And, on this regard, the gospel seems to [unwillingly] side with Reformed Samaritanism, as it quotes Jesus saying the following: “... and the Scripture (God's Law) cannot be broken”- John 10:35, CSB

We get it from the verse where both Moses & Elijah appear to Yeshua, in order to instruct him concerning the upcoming events of his life. As is written: “Suddenly, two men were talking with him —MOSES AND ELIJAH. They appeared in glory AND WERE SPEAKING OF HIS DEPARTURE, WHICH HE WAS ABOUT TO ACCOMPLISH IN JERUSALEM”- Luke 9:30, Christian Standard

Bible. Who is supposed to provide instruction and guidance? The disciple to his Master? Or is it rather the Master to his disciple?

Was Jesus [peace and blessings be upon him] sinless?

Was Jesus the perfect and sinless man who would be worthy of dying for the sins of mankind? Well, Jesus was indeed a great paradigm for the life of faith, mercy, and obedience to our Heavenly Father (a life also known as “the path of all Good Samaritans”), and as we’ve just said Jesus moral teachings can definitely be a great role model to follow into our journey toward everlasting life; But, when it comes to salvation, Jesus could literally save nobody.

Why? Simply because he was a man, and Scripture states that all men are sinful (“For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not”- Ecclesiastes 7:20, KJV).

Thus, Jesus himself needed a Saviour; As is written: “Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears UNTO HIM THAT WAS ABLE TO SAVE HIM FROM DEATH, was heard because of his reverent fear”- Hebrews 5:7, Jubilee Bible 2000.

And the former is further attested by the verse that goes on to teach that Adonay (The Lord YHVH, blessed be He) is the only true Savior [as He is the only one that will never need to be saved by anybody else]. As it is said: “I, I am Adonai— and there is no Savior beside Me”- Isaiah 43:1, Tree Of Life Version.

But there's another reason why Jesus couldn't be the perfect (and sinless) man who would be worthy of dying for the sins of mankind. What reason is that? The fact that, just as it happens with all human beings, Jesus had some deception of his own.

And from whence do we know this? We know it from the Hebrew Scripture, when it goes on to state that, the days of our life, are seventy years (“The days of our age are seventy years...”- Psalm 90:10); in addition Scripture states that a deceitful man will not live out to reach even half of his days (“Bloody and deceitful men shalt not live out half of their days...”- Psalm 55:23).

Thus, since half of 70 comes out to be 35, any grown-up man who dies before the age of 35 must be considered to have been under the curse foretold by the former Psalm. And it goes without saying that, since Jesus died at age 33, he too must have had a serious problem with the sin of deception.

Is Jesus God?

Christianity definitely is a valid way to serve the Creator. But as for Jesus [peace and blessings be upon him] alleged deity, how can Jesus [a mortal man of flesh and bones] be God? Didn't Jesus himself say that God is an immortal Spirit (“God is spirit...”- John 4:24)??

Besides, Scripture states that God is good (“Truly God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean hear”- Psalm 73:1); while Jesus didn't consider himself worthy of being called good (“And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God”- Matthew 19:17).

In addition, Jesus confessed to be a servant of Israel's God (“And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee... If thou therefore wilt worship me... And Jesus answered... Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve”- Luke 4:6-8).

Not only that, but Jesus is quoted as recognizing that his disciples God was also his personal God

("... but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God, and your God"-John 20:17).

Finally, even the epistles of the New testament confirm the fact that the heavenly Father is Jesus own God ("Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ"- Ephesians 1:3).

In short, the evidence supporting the fact that Jesus doesn't share God's nature [the way a son would share his Father's nature] is so overwhelming, that only a demon would dare insisting on such a blasphemy.

In fact, that might be the very reason why the gospel depicts both demons and unclean spirits continually shouting that Jesus was the Son of God [and therefore equal to God]. As is written: "Whenever the unclean spirits saw him, they fell down before him and cried out, "you are the son of God!""- Mark 3:11.

And elsewhere says: "Also, demons were coming out of many, shouting and saying, "you are the son of God!...""- Luke 4:41. Thus, no honest believer can ever embrace the idea of Jesus being the literal "Son of God" [let alone God himself!]. In fact, the gospel even quotes Jesus words, warning us that there is absolutely no truth in the demon [and therefore none of what he says can be believed]. As is written: "He was a murderer from the beginning and Does not stand in the truth, because there is no truth in him"- John 8:44, Christian Standard Bible. And the former is consistent with the Hebrew Scripture, that warns us to never follow the counsel of the wicked and ungodly man [let alone the council of demons and unclean spirits]. As is written: "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly"- Psalm 1:1; "Lo, their good is not in their hand: the counsel of the wicked is far from me"- Job 21:16; "The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought"- Psalm 33:10; "hide me from the secret counsel of the wicked; from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity"- Psalm 64:2; "The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceit"- Proverbs 12:5 (King James Version).

Do Moses Five Books of Torah give any support to the idea of God personally coming to Earth in the form of a man named Jesus?

To begin with, we must state that, to be obsessed with the idea of God ever "coming to Earth in a human form" [so that He is forced to be born, grow up, attain emotional maturity, learn wisdom, and overcome the ignorance that characterizes toddlers] is tantamount to blasphemy. Why? Simply because it is a veiled denial of the God of the Hebrew Scripture (of God's very nature!).

In other words, Torah states that the Creator is omnipresent [so He doesn't need to come to Earth in any shape or form, as He has always been here!]; Torah states that God is eternal [so it would be wrong to portray Him as been born-- as that would imply that God actually had a beginning]; Torah states that God is all knowing [so that, unlike human beings, He doesn't need to learn anything]; and, finally, Torah states that God is all powerful [so He doesn't need to grow, to mature, or to overcome anything].

And the fact that so many people still cling to the backward idea of the God of Israel "coming down to Earth" in the form of a normal human being speaks volumes about the sad spiritual state of our present generation.

Why? Simply because even Babylonian pagans knew that the divinity does not dwell with flesh and blood ("... and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh"- Daniel 2:11, KJV).

Curiously, the New Testament seems to acknowledge this interpretation, stating that when Paul began preaching the gospel, a pagan multitude mistakenly took him for a god [disguised as a human being]; but he reproached the multitude, and encouraged them to abandon such vain ideas. As is written "And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men... Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes... crying out... why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God"- Acts 14:11, 14, & 15, KJV .

Truth be told, if you were to read the five books of Moses [without any Christian bias], it would be self evident that the former teaches no one can see God's literal manifestation, and live on to talk about it. As is written: "And He (God) said, Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me, and live"- Exodus 33:20, KJV. Thus, our master Moses teaches that, whenever God seems to have physically appeared to some person, if such person has survived the encounter, it is clear that He didn't really see God's literal manifestation. What did he see instead? He most likely saw one of God's many messenger's (or "angels"). Thus, Scripture teaches that, the God who delivered the Israelites from the Egyptian bondage [and later guided them thru the wilderness in the form of a cloud [and pillar of fire] wasn't literally God, but rather an angel sent by God. And the former is attested by the verses that go on to say: "... and when we cried unto the Lord, He heard our voice, and (He) sent an angel, and brought us forth out of Egypt"- Numbers 20:16; And also says in another place: "Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared. Beware of him, and obey his voice, provoke him not; for he will not pardon your transgressions: for my name is in him"- Exodus 23:20-21.

In fact, king Solomon [the wisest of all men] acknowledges the impossibility of an infinite God literally dwelling on Earth, as the whole Universe (the heavens of heavens) isn't large enough to stand all of His glory. As is written: "But will God indeed dwell on the earth? behold, the heaven and heaven of heavens cannot contain thee"- 1 Kings 8:27

Does the former mean Christianity is a false and/or invalid religion? Of course not! It only means that, not knowing God's Law, Christian believers worship what they don't really know. But since God is not so interested in our precise theology as much as He is in our sincere repentance and obedience, all God fearing Christian believers can rest assured that they too will have a good share in the world to come.

The Creator [blessed be He] doesn't say: "This [religious] path will lead you to me, but this other path won't lead you to me"... He rather says, "No matter which path you choose to follow, it can lead to me, if you decide to live it so that it leads to me"... And maybe this is what the Christian gospel really means, when it goes on to say: "You'll recognize them by their fruit. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes or figs from thistles? In the same way, every good tree produces good fruit, but a bad tree produces bad fruit"- Matthew 7:16-17 (Christian Standard Bible). And also in another place: "Dear friend, do not imitate what is evil, but what is good. The one who does good is of God; the one who does evil has not seen God"- 1 John 3:11 (Christian Standard Bible).

The Creator is a fair Judge; One who judges each man according to his particular circumstances

When it comes to the Almighty [blessed be He], "Right" & "Wrong" are relative terms, as the Creator's judgment is "results oriented". In other words, what matters to Him isn't the accuracy of our theology, but rather the goodness [or evil] we do with whatever truth we happen to have in our hands.

Consider the case of the Holy Ark- The Philistines took it [in war] and impudently placed it inside the temple of their pagan god (“When the Philistines took the ark of God, they brought it into the house of Dagon, and set it by Dagon”- 1 Samuel 5:2). Then they moved it around unto another city (1 Samuel 5:10). Finally, they put it upon an ox driven cart, and sent it back to Israel (“And the men did so; and took two milch kine, and tied them to the cart, and shut up their calves at home: And they laid the ark of the Lord upon the cart, and the coffer with the mice of gold and the images of their emerods”- 1 Samuel 6:10-11, KJV). During this whole process, the Philistines touched the Ark, they pushed it around, and even opened it.

Yet, though they touched the Ark [and looked inside of it], we don't see God killing [right away] any Philistine, as they had no knowledge concerning how to handle God's holy things. On the other hand, Scripture tells us that, as soon as the Ark returned to Israel, the Hebrew dwellers of Bethshemesh looked inside of it, and they were immediately stricken by God. As is written: “And He [God] smote the men of Bethshemesh, because they had looked into the ark of the Lord, even he smote of the people fifty thousand and threescore and ten men: and the people lamented, because the Lord had smitten many of the people with a great slaughter”- 1 Samuel 16:19, KJV.

Not only that, but Scripture records another case where a Hebrew man named Uzzah dared to touch the Ark, and was immediately struck down by God: “And when they came to Nachon's threshingfloor, Uzzah put forth his hand to the ark of God, and took hold of it; for the oxen shook it. And the anger of the Lord was kindled against Uzzah; and God smote him there for his error; and there he died by the ark of God”- 2 Samuel 6:6-7, KJV.

In short, the Holy One is lenient with the Gentile, who doesn't know exactly what God expects from Him; but He is stern with the Hebrew believer, who has extensive knowledge of Torah. And this also agrees with the Christian Gospel, when it goes on to say: “And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes. But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more”- Luke 12:47-48, KJV

Why can't the Hebrews believe all of what the New Testament has to say about God (blessed be He), about Jesus (peace be upon him), and about Salvation?

Hebrews can't believe the N.T. because, in order for the N.T. to be the inspired word of God, it must perfectly agree with what was already proven to be the “Real” Word of God (the Hebrew Scriptures). Thus, if we are able to prove that the N.T. openly contradicts the Hebrew Scriptures, we would have thereby proven that the N.T. isn't the inspired word of God.

Does the N.T. openly contradict the Hebrew Scriptures? Of course! And the proof? The apostle Paul (p.b.u.h.), who teaches that he who gets circumcised cannot be “saved”, as he has fallen from “the grace”. As it has been said: «Behold, I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing. For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole Law.

Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the Law; ye are fallen from grace» (Galatians 5:2-4). And why does the former contradict the Hebrew Scripture? Because the latter goes on to say that, it is the uncircumcised who will be prevented from entering Paradise (the heavenly Jerusalem). As is said:

"... Put on your beautiful garments, Jerusalem, the holy city! For the uncircumcised and the unclean will no longer enter you"- Isaiah 52:1, Christian Standard Bible. Likewise, the gospel contradicts Hebrew Scripture, when it claims that it is impossible for a prophet to die outside Jerusalem ("because it is not possible for a prophet to perish outside of Jerusalem"- Luke 13:33); whereas Hebrew scripture teaches that not only Abraham, Isaac and Jacob (all of whom were prophets), but even Moses (the greatest of all prophets) died outside of Jerusalem.

As is written: "So Moses the servant of the Lord died there in the land of Moab, according to the Lord's word"- Deut. 34:5, C.S.B.

The New testament is good; but beware, as it is plagued with contradictions

The New testament can be a powerful tool to make Gentile peoples come to embrace Bible's monotheism. But the New testament isn't perfect, as it's pages are plagued with brazen contradictions.

Let's consider one example: Suppose someone comes to you making the following claim-- "I believe salvation comes from faith in Jesus perfect obedience to God's Law, and not from my imperfect obedience to anything the Law has commanded; But, since I was born in a Jewish home, and I also happen to be circumcised, I must therefore observe the Jewish feasts prescribed by the Law". Would you believe anything else said by such person? Wouldn't you consider him to be a brazen liar? If so, then why was it o.k. for Paul to preach "salvation by faith [and without the works of the Law]" while at the same time he would personally keep observing the feast prescribed by the Law? As is written: «When they desired him [Paul] to tarry longer time with them, he consented not; But bade them farewell, saying, "I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Jerusalem": but I will return again unto you, if God will"»- Acts 18:20-21, KJV.

«No man should act as a judge in a cause he loves, or a cause he hates, for he isn't likely to find fault in what he loves, nor find merit in what he hates»

Is it true that Hebrew scripture is all about telling the history of the Hebrew people?

Is it true that Hebrew scripture is all about telling the history of the Hebrew people? If we were to be brutally honest, we would have to say that, had the Torah's narrative started with the Hebrew people's departure from their Egyptian bondage, we would agree that Torah was all about the nation of Israel.

But the fact is that Torah's narrative starts thousands of years earlier than Israel's deliverance from Egypt. Not only that, but since Torah's earlier narrative doesn't hesitate to include [and exalt without any regard for ethnic background] people from all kind of non-Hebrew background (Enoch, Noah, Melchizedek, Job, etc), we must therefore conclude that Hebrew Scripture is actually God's message not only to the nation of Israel, but also to all mankind-- it's message being that, regardless of his race or nationality, he who willingly fears and obeys the one true God [the God worshipped by Avraham], thereby becomes part of God's chosen people. And from whence do we know that the seventy [original] nations [of the World] are also called to become Israel? We know it from Moses, who while addressing the Children of Israel said to them: “Shema Yisrael (Hear oh Israel!)...” (Exodus 5:1). In the former passage, the phrase “shema Yisrael” can validly be translated as “Shem-a Yisrael”, wch in ancient Hebrew means, “Name of (the) Seventy [nations of the world]?- Israel! ...”.

What is the purpose of God's Law?

The ultimate purpose of the Divine Law revealed to Moses [at the top of Mount Sinai] is no other than to teach mankind that God expects us to pursue a life of virtue; that, by walking in the path of God's commandments [whose aim is love for God, as well as for our fellow creatures] we are actually “sowing” the good moral fruit that will guarantee that we get rewarded with a blessed and bountiful “harvest”. As is written:

“And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the Lord thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth: And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God”- Deuteronomy 28:1-2, KJV.

Thus, it is no surprise that Scripture associates idolatry to the abandonment of God's Law. Why? Because, in the very moment that we embrace any idea [or theology] that lures us away from God's commandments, we are in fact embracing idolatry [going after a false god]; as we are turning away from the perfect will of the one true God, in order to follow instead after a vain thing. As is written: “Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse; A blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day: And A CURSE, IF YE WILL NOT OBEY THE COMMANDMENTS OF THE LORD YOUR GOD, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, TO GO AFTER OTHER GODS, WHICH YE HAVE NOT KNOWN”- Deuteronomy 11:26-28.

Why do good people suffer?

Hebrew Scripture promises salvation for he who is meek and humble, regardless of his race and/or creed. As is written: “BUT THE MEEK SHALL INHERIT THE EARTH; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace”- Psalm 37:11. Unfortunately, it often happens that only extreme suffering can successfully turn a man into a humble person, thereby restoring unto him the real humanity originally given to mankind by his Creator.

During the 2nd world War, a Russian soldier came home from the front lines for a short break. When he approached the apartment where he lived with his wife, he saw a pile of bodies stacked in the street and men loading them into a waiting flatbed truck for burial. As he drew nearer, he saw a woman's legs wearing shoes that he recognized as his wife's. He ran up and demanded his wife's body. After an argument the men gave in, and the soldier took his wife in his arms and, after examining her, realized she was still alive. He carried her up to their apartment and nursed her back to health.

Eight years later, in 1952, their son Vladimir Putin was born.

From Hillary Clinton's book "Hard Choices"

In fact, the more pleased God is with a man, the more He crushes him with suffering, for Scripture says, “THE LORD WAS GREATLY PLEASED WITH [HIM, HENCE] HE CRUSHED HIM BY DISEASE (Isaiah 53:10). Now, you might think that this is so, even if the man did not accept his suffering with love. Therefore the verse goes on to say, “To see if he regarded himself as an offering for guilt” (ibid). Thus, chastisements are good for the believer, and that’s why Scripture teaches that three great treasures (Torah, the Land of Canaan, and Life in the World to come) were bestowed upon Israel as a result of chastisements and suffering. And what is the proof for the Torah? The verse that goes on to say: “BLESSED IS THE MAN WHOM THOU CHASTENEST, O Lord, AND [THEREBY] TEACHEST HIM THY TORAH”- Psalm 94:12. And the proof for the land of Canaan? The verse that says: “As a man chasteneth his son, so THE LORD THY GOD CHASTENETH THEE...”- Deut. 8:5. And what comes immediately next? “For THE LORD THY GOD BRINGETH THEE INTO A GOOD LAND [THE LAND OF CANAAN]...”- Deut. 8:7. And the proof for Life everlasting? The verse that goes on to say: “For the commandment is a lamp, and the Law is light; and REPROOFS OF INSTRUCTION ARE THE WAY OF LIFE [EVERLASTING]”- Proverbs 6:23.

God isn't racist!

Is God [blessed be He] morally flawed? Is He a racist? Will the infinite being act like a flawed and sinful human being [in a capricious fashion], arbitrary preferring one race above another? One skin color above another? One country above another? One culture above another? Or is He rather the perfect Judge of the Universe- A being whose character is above reproach, judging everyone in a fair and impartial manner; rewarding each individual according to his moral worth, regardless of race, sex, language, culture, or skin color? As it is written: "For He is no man..."- 1 Samuel 15:29; "God is no man..."- Numbers 23:19; "[He is] The Rock, His work is perfect; For all his ways are justice: A God of faithfulness and without iniquity, Just and right is He"- Deut. 32:4. And also says in another place: "for them that honour me I will honour, and they that despise me shall be lightly esteemed"- 1 Samuel 2:30, KJV

THE HOLY FAITH OF REFORMED SAMARITANISM

«And behold [rebellious] joy and gladness, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine: "let us eat and drink [enjoying the pleasures of this World]; for to morrow we shall die [and, after death, there's no bliss to be enjoyed, nor curse to be suffered!]" . And it was revealed in mine ears by the Lord of hosts, "Surely this iniquity [or 'pagan mindset'] shall not be purged from you till ye die [and find out by yourself that you can't escape having to reap the same goodness, or evil, you have voluntarily sowed], saith the Lord God of hosts"»- Isaiah 22:13-14, KJV

Bible's Israel was just a moral paradigm!

Many people wrongly believe that the Hebrews mentioned in the Bible are a particular ethnic group arbitrarily elected by God in order to become His chosen people [having special privileges as well as special responsibilities]. How do we now that Bible's Israel was instead a paradigm for God's true people [those who are humble and merciful]? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: "God is indeed good to Israel, to the pure in heart"- Psalm 73:1.

Whom does the verse identify as being Israel? The pure in heart [those who are humble and merciful]! How else do we know that Israel is composed of anyone willing to serve the God of Abraham [having mercy of their suffering fellow human beings], regardless of his race? We know if from the verse that goes on to say: "No Ammonite or Moabite may enter the Lord's assembly; none of their descendants, even to the tenth generation, may ever enter the Lord's assembly"- Deut. 23:3.

Why were Moabites prevented from entering Israel's assembly? It was due to their lack of mercy, as is written: "This is because they did not meet you with food and water on the journey after you came out of Egypt"- Deut. 23:4. But the fact is that we later find a Moabite (Ruth) not only entering Israel's assembly, but even becoming the ancestor of Israel's greatest king (David).

How do we explain that a forbidden Moabite is allowed to enter Israel's Congregation, thereby becoming an Israelite? We explain it by remembering that the Moabite was just a symbol for a person lacking mercy and humility, while the Israelite represented the person having a pure heart filled with mercy and humility.

Thus, the moment Ruth decided to show mercy to her foreign [and recently] widowed mother-in-law [remaining by her side, in order to provide for her safety and well being], in that very moment she stopped representing a Moabite, and started to become a living representation of God's true Israel. As it is written:

"Everything you have done for your mother-in-law since your husband's death has been fully reported to me: how you left your father and mother and your native land, and how you came to a people you didn't previously know. May the Lord reward you for what you have done, and may you receive a full reward from the Lord God of Israel..."- Ruth 2:11-12.

«(AFTER) ALL HAS BEEN HEARD; THE END OF THE MATTER IS (THIS): “FEAR GOD [revere and worship Him, knowing that He is (the Supreme Judge)], AND KEEP HIS COMMANDMENTS, FOR THIS IS THE WHOLE (PURPOSE) OF MAN [the full, original purpose of his creation, the object of God's providence, the root of character, the foundation of all happiness, the adjustment to all inharmonious circumstances and conditions under the sun] and the whole [duty] for every man”»- Ecclesiastes 12:13 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

The reason why the soon to come nuclear war against america [and the western world] is now unavoidable

«This is what the Lord says: “You [Americans] have abandoned me; therefore, I have abandoned you...”»- 2 Chronicles 12:5

Why is Paganism morally questionable?

What is the problem with the belief in the existence of multiple gods? Is there anything wrong with the idea of God being composed of three different persons? Why can't we serve both “The Father”, “The Son”, and “The Holy Spirit”? Well, the problem with the former is that [as Jesus wisely puts it] you can't serve more than one “Master” at the same time [in other words, you can't obey more than one will].

Why is this so? Simply because (according to Jesus) you'll end up despising one of them. As is written: “No man can serve two Masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other”- Matt. 6:24.

For example, You can't obey the Father (YHVH) who asks you to hold fast unto the Law (“This book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth...”- Joshua 1:8), and at the same time obey the Son (Jesus) who asks you to let go of the Law (“The Law and the prophets were until John...”- Luke 16:16); You will either obey one, or obey the other; but either way you will end up disobeying one of them. And the former contradiction is the very reason why God hated Polytheism, as it lends itself to immoral behavior.

In other words, whenever the ancient needed supernatural protection, he would have to choose (among the many existing gods) which one to serve. And, of course, he would be naturally tempted to "bargain" with the deities-- choosing to serve the god offering him the most, while demanding of him the least; the god asking him the minimum amount of moral and physical demands, while promising him the most protection and security.

By the same token, whenever a man is forced to choose between the God named YHVH [who demands that he lives the life of holiness depicted by the Law], and the god named Jesus [who asks him no such moral demands], this man will always fall for the morally inferior life offered by the god named Jesus.

And this might explain the reason why, although the Law of YHVH prevented the believer from holding slaves (no matter if the latter be Hebrews or Gentile converts) longer than six years (“If thou buy a Hebrew servant, six years he shall serve; and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing”- Exodus 21:2), Christianity allowed instead his followers to hold them for life [which is obviously a morally inferior standard].

Why can't the God fearing person embrace the idea of Jesus being God? Because the God of the Hebrews has commanded us not to follow the counsel of the wicked!

The gospel quotes both unclean spirits and demons proclaiming Jesus to be the Son of God [and therefore equal in nature to the Heavenly Father]. As is written: "Whenever THE UNCLEAN SPIRITS saw him, they fell down before him and CRIED OUT, "YOU ARE THE SON OF GOD!"- Mark 3:11. And elsewhere: "Also, DEMONS were coming out of many, SHOUTING AND SAYING, "YOU ARE THE SON OF GOD!..."- Luke 4:41.

Thus, no honest believer can ever embrace the idea of Jesus being the actual "Son of God" [let alone God himself]. Why? Because the gospel also quotes Jesus warning us that there is absolutely no truth in the demon [and therefore none of what the says can be believed]. As is written: "He was a murderer from the beginning and DOES NOT STAND IN THE TRUTH, BECAUSE THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM"- John 8:44, Christian Standard Bible.

And the former is consistent with the Hebrew Scripture, that warns us to never follow the counsel of the wicked and ungodly man [let alone that of demons and unclean spirits]. As is written: "BLESSED IS THE MAN THAT WALKETH NOT IN THE COUNSEL OF THE UNGODLY"- Psalm 1:1; "Lo, their good is not in their hand: THE COUNSEL OF THE WICKED IS FAR FROM ME"- Job 21:16; "THE LORD BRINGETH THE COUNSEL OF THE HEATHEN TO NOUGHT"- Psalm 33:10; "HIDE ME FROM THE SECRET COUNSEL OF THE WICKED; from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity"- Psalm 64:2; "The thoughts of the righteous are right: but THE COUNSELS OF THE WICKED ARE DECEIT"- Proverbs 12:5 (King James Version).

Faith in Jesus [peace and blessings be upon him] can be both beautiful as well as emotionally overpowering.... But, if Christian theology is actually true [and not just a clever potpourri of personality cult, mixed with a hefty dose of hyped religious cheerleading] then why is it that Christian believers still experience physical death? And why isn't Jesus still suffering our eternal punishment in Hell?

Can you embrace Reformed Samaritanism and still believe in Jesus or Muhammad?

When it comes to matters of faith, things are seldom either "black or white". Rather, truth is always somewhere in the middle of the all opposite extremes. Case in point: Does faith in Jesus necessarily demand that you embrace all of the claims made by the noble Christian religion? Well, not in all cases.

In fact, Reformed Samaritanism allows his followers to believe in the words attributed to any prophet [Jesus, Moses, Muhammad, Zoroaster, etc], as long as such words are in full agreement with the Torah (instruction) brought forth by our master Moses [peace and blessing be always upon him]... So, you can indeed follow Reformed Samaritans, and at the same time believe in Jesus.

What you can't do, is to believe that Jesus is the Supreme God; that his words are above the words revealed to our master Moses; that the New Testament completes and supersedes the Old testament; that Jesus perfectly obeyed God's commandments (so that you don't have to obey them); Or that God's favor is the result of your personal faith, and not of your personal obedience to the good commanded by the Creator.

Why can't Reformed Samaritans believe any of these things? Because they directly contradict the unquestionable word of God given to our master Moses. And, when it comes to such paramount issues, the God of Moses doesn't change His mind. As is written: "For I am יהוה (the Lord), I change not..."- Malachi 3:6, King James Bible...

In what sense is Christianity "the good thief" religion?

The Gospel's narrative is emotionally overpowering, as it claims Jesus was God's true Passover lamb, who was sacrificed in order to redeem all men, regardless of their race. As is written: "For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed. Therefore let us keep the Festival... And he died for all, that those who live should no longer live for themselves, but for him who died for them and was raised again"- 1 Corinthians 5:7-8, & 2 Corinthians 5:15 (New International Version).

What's the problem with claiming Jesus to be the literal fulfillment of the Passover feast described in the Law? Well, the problem is that "the facts, don't match the theory". In other words, the gospel states that Jesus was killed in order to redeem all men, by the method of crucifixion, on an open mount (mount Calvary), and by murdering foreign soldiers (Romans) representing an enslaving regime. Finally, Jesus was supposedly raised from the grave on the third day, thereby making good his sacrifice.

But God's Law tells otherwise, as it says by the third day the Passover lamb was already spoiled [so it could no longer be eaten by anybody]; it tells that the lamb's throat had to be cut, and it's body roasted over fire (not nailed to a cross, in order to be crucified); it tells that only the loving Hebrew parents could kill the lamb (and not any cruel, blood stained soldier from any oppressing regime); it tells that the lamb had to be sacrificed indoors (and not outdoors, nor upon any hill, as the latter would have been considered idolatry); and it finally tells that only the firstborn son of the Hebrew household's would be redeemed by the lamb's sacrifice (and not any other person from any other family, let alone other race).

Thus, the discrepancies between the two narratives are so great [and so many], that we could fairly say that the Christian claim of Jesus being "God's Passover lamb" is an elaborated forgery; an ancient case of "identity theft". On the other hand, we could also say that, if Christianity has stolen the Passover narrative, it's theology can be considered to be that of "a good thief"; sort of like the person who steals someone's else identity [or bears a false witness], in order to achieve what he [or she] considers to be a good and worthy goal (which for Christians would be to bring people into faith in Jesus).

And the pages of the Hebrew scripture are full of similar cases, were even good and noble people were tempted to do the same: Think of Sarah, pretending to be Abraham's sister (in order to keep him safe from those who would lust after her); think of Tamar, pretending to be a harlot (in order avoid a childless death); think of Jacob, pretending to be Esau (in order to receive the firstborn blessing); think of Leah, pretending to be Rachel (in order to obey her father, and get married before her younger sister); think of Joseph, pretending to be a native Egyptian (in order to eavesdrop on his unsuspecting brothers); think of the Gibeonites, pretending to be members of a far away nation (in order to strike a peace deal with the unsuspecting Israelites).

So, although definitely a sinful behavior to be avoided by all true believers, to falsely impersonate someone else [or to bear a false witness] doesn't necessarily means that you [or your religion] does not count with God's favor, as "doing good" often means choosing the lesser of two evils. May the God of Abraham bless and guide all of our beloved Christian brothers!

Why doesn't Torah openly teach Physics and Science?

The truth of the matter is that, although men do need to learn physics [in order to understand things like nuclear reactions], the Sun doesn't need to learn any physics, in order to perfectly create its own nuclear reactions. Likewise, men need to learn aeronautics, fluid mechanics, and navigation, in order to cross the skies; But the birds don't need to learn any aeronautics, in order to perfectly migrate to their distant destinations.

By the same token, no modern scientist is smart enough to make himself invisible; but the dumb sea octopus has no problem at all making himself perfectly undetectable within his habitat. Finally, no human brain has been able to give life to dead minerals, while brainless viruses have no problem at all living for thousands of years, often switching back and forth from a mineral-like [inactive] state to a life-like [active] state, thereby conquering death.

What's the meaning of this? It means that, the wisdom displayed by the universe doesn't need to be "perfected" by science [in order to be attuned to mankind whims]; rather, it's mankind what needs to be "perfected", in order to attune itself to the wisdom displayed by the universe. In other words, science shouldn't be focusing on perfecting the world existing outside human beings, but rather the world within each of us- the one comprising our intimate humanity.

And maybe that's why the wisdom of the universe has made religion to be so natural to most human beings; as, unlike what happens with modern science, religion aims at the right goal- the perfection of man's interior world.

And the Hebrew scripture seems to hint at this same phenomenon, when it goes on to say that, although Adam and Eve lived in a perfect external world (a paradise), as soon as their inner world [their will] became out of tune with the will of the Supreme wisdom that gave rise to their lives, they both were expelled from paradise (as if to imply their new disconnection from the wisdom of the universe, as well as the resulting lost of their share of perfection).

And from whence do we know that, before this point, Adam and Eve had a share in the perfect wisdom of the universe? Because the Scripture tells us that Adam had no need to learn any language (in other words, the ability to speak a language was part of Adan's intrinsic nature!). By the same token, Eve didn't have to be taught how to communicate with Adan [or for that sake even with the serpent!], as it was all part of her intrinsic original nature.

And this seems to be the promise made by the Hebrew Scriptures; that after man's will gets finally attuned with the will of the supreme wisdom [or God] that manifest itself in nature, man's flawed [and disconnected] physical body might eventually die, but when it does, man will go on to experience another kind of existence, one in which he is once again perfectly attuned with the wisdom of the universe, so that he no longer needs to learn anything, nor does he experiences any longer a limited [physical] existence.

And the latter seems to be the allegorical meaning of God's promise to eventually bring humanity back to it's lost paradise- a return to his original plane of existence; where the old things will be all forgotten, as everything [including his own nature] will be renewed and perfected. As it has been written: "For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind"- Isaiah 65:17.

And what is the will of the supreme wisdom of the universe? For man to turn away from evil thoughts, evil words, and evil actions, in order to start sowing unto his fellow creatures the same goodness he would like to reap for himself (law of action and reaction). As it has been written: "Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore [in everlasting life]"- Psalm 37:2.

In short, it is mistaken to claim that the Bible doesn't teach us any science. In fact, it teaches us the greatest and most enduring of all sciences- the one that leads mankind into repairing it's inner world, so that it can experience not just a better outward world, but an infinitely greater form of existence.

Is Salvation Achieved By Faith? Or Is It Rather Achieved By Works?

The separating wall between Hebrew & Christian believers isn't the Messianic claims of Jesus.

Rather, it is the answer each of these two groups give to the following question: Do "Works" follow "Salvation"?, Or is salvation followed instead by works? Our dear Christian brothers claim that Salvation goes first, and obedience to God's commandments comes in the second place. But Hebrew believers claim otherwise: that obedience to God's commandments goes first, and Salvation comes in the second place. Which of these two groups is right?

Well, the answer to this centuries old dilemma is surprisingly simple: You see, when the Creator delivered the Hebrews from Egyptian bondage, He made them conform to a very specific pattern, so as to teach them an important moral lesson. In other words, God first took them to Mount Sinai [in order to make them commit to obeying the Divine Law set forth by Moses words]; and only then did He allowed them to proceed into their journey toward the Promised Land (symbol of the good World to come, or "Eternal Salvation").

On the other hand, Torah clearly states that those who refused to follow Moses words (the ten spies, Korah, etc) were not allowed to enter into the Promised land, but were rather punished and left to die in the wilderness. What does it all means? It means that those who refuse to obey God's Law [as set forth by Moses] will not be allowed to enter into "the promised Land" (again, a symbol of entering into the good World to come).

And the former is consistent with the fact that, the first thing God wanted from Adam, was for the latter to till the land (“So the Lord God took the man [He had made] and settled him in the Garden of Eden to cultivate and keep it”- Genesis 2:15, Amplified Bible).

Why should Adam have any need of tilling the land? Wasn’t the World’s food supply available to him? Of course! But God wanted to teach him a moral lesson of paramount importance: that the human’s well being is controlled by the God given law of “sowing and reaping” [also known as “measure for measure”, “action, and reaction”, “cause, and effect”, “what goes around, comes around”]; so that, if you “sow” goodness, goodness will come back to you; but if you abstain from sowing goodness, you shouldn't expect any goodness to come your way.

In short, Torah's eternal message is that, by means of His just, merciful, and humble commandments, the Creator has showed us what is good (“He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?”- Micah 6:8, KJV); and that God’s perfect justice and mercy will allow every man to “reap” the same measure of goodness [or evil] he has willingly and voluntarily sowed upon his fellow creatures. As it is said: “Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: FOR THOU RENDEREST TO EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORK”- Psalm 62:12, KJV. And even the Christian writings attest to this fact, when they go on to say: “Be not deceived; God is not mocked: FOR WHATSOEVER A MAN SOWETH, THAT SHALL HE ALSO REAP”- Galatians 6:7, KJV.

To whom does the glory belong?

Who does the glory belong to? God (the heavenly Father), or Jesus? Who is greater? The heavenly father, or Jesus? Well, Hebrew Scripture teaches that the glory belongs to the God of Avraham, as is written: “I am יהוה : that is my name: and MY GLORY WILL I NOT GIVE TO ANOTHER...”- Isaiah 42:8, KJV. And even the Christian gospel quotes Jesus openly recognizing the superiority of the Heavenly father, when he goes on to say: “If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father: FOR MY FATHER IS GREATER THAN I”- John 14:28, KJV.

Whom is one to follow? Should the Hebrew believer follow the Christian believer? Or should it be the other way around?

As for whom is to follow whom at the end of the journey, it would be wise to let the word of God [the Hebrew Scripture] speak for itself, thereby making clear the truth of the matter:

- 1) Lord, my strength and my stronghold, my refuge in a time of distress, the nations will come to you from the ends of the earth, and they will say, “Our ancestors inherited only lies, worthless idols of no benefit at all”- Jeremiah 16:19, Christian Standard Bible
- 2) The Lord of Armies says this: In those days, ten (Gentile) men from nations of every language will grab the robe of a Jewish man tightly, urging: “Let us go with you, for we have heard that God is with you”- Zechariah 8:23, CSB
- 3) And many nations will come and say, “Come, let’s go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob. He will teach us about his ways so we may walk in his paths”. For instruction (Torah) will go out of Zion and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem- Micah 4:2, CSB
- 4) Then all the survivors from the [Gentile] nations that came against Jerusalem will go up year after year to worship the King, the Lord of Armies, and to celebrate the Festival of Shelters [thereby practicing the Hebrew religion]- Zechariah 14:16

Moses Ten Laws Are The True Hebrew Religion

Moses Ten Laws (Commandments) is all the moral guide the believer will ever need. Besides, from their original enumeration (Exodus chapter 20) it is clear that these laws don't demand him to blindly follow any particular prophet, religion, race, or land [in other words, they provide ample room for everybody; for every race, every religion, every culture, and every nation]. In fact, the commandments are so inclusive that they simply ask us to follow the moral lifestyle that pleases the Creator ("sowing and reaping"); doing unto our fellow human beings the same goodness we would like to be done unto ourselves (which makes perfect sense, as "what goes around, comes around"). Therefore, it would not be far fetched to say that Moses ten Laws intimate that God's true Israel is composed of those who are committed with doing good, and thus have a pure heart (regardless of their ethnic background, nationality, or their religious creed). And the Hebrew scripture bears witness of this, when it goes on to say: "Depart from Evil, and do Good, and [no matter if you are a Jew, or a gentile, you will] dwell for evermore [obtaining everlasting life]"- Psalm 37:27; And also in another place, "How good God is to Israel [to which Israel?...], to those who are pure in heart!"- Psalm 73:1. Curiously, from time immemorial huge swats of the Hebrew population had argued that Moses ten laws were in fact the true Hebrew religion. But for many centuries the Jewish leaders had strongly opposed such a notion, as they had made of the Talmud [and not of Moses Ten Laws], the true "separating wall" between the Hebrew, Muslim and Christian traditions. And this wall is one which they were not willing to tear down, nor replace.

And if you think about it, it makes perfect sense. In other words, Moses ten Laws were just too simple! Jews could easily learn them, without the need of their learned leaders! Thus, the Rabbis insisted on keeping Judaism complex and cumbersome, so that individual Jews had to depend on their Yeshiva's [Jewish learning institutions] as well as their expert Rabbis for it's accurate interpretation [sort of like the fisherman who likes to keep the water murky, in order to catch more fishes]. And it is in this sense that modern Judaism is closer to Christianity than what it is to the ancient Hebrew religion. In other words, in Christianity you can't know God without first coming to Jesus. While in modern Judaism you can't know God without first coming to a Jewish Rabbi [who will make you know the mind of God]. And the latter begs the question, "is God playing hide and seek? Is He making Himself difficult to find? Which Rabbi instructed Enoch, Noah, and Job?"). May God have mercy of Modern Judaism!

Christianity is an awesome religion. But the holy gospel quotes Jesus [peace and blessings be upon him] claiming that only he who is free from sins can condemn other people ("... he [Jesus] stood up and said to them, The one without sin among you should be the first to throw a stone at her"- John 8:7, Christian Standard Bible). So, as Christian theology claims only Jesus is free from sins, how do you explain the fact that it is John the Baptist [and not Jesus] the one who "throws the stone" at King Herod, condemning the latter for the sin of illegally marrying his brother's wife? («For Herod had arrested John, chained him, and put him in prison on account of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, since John had been telling him, "It's not lawful for you to have her"»- John 14:3-4)

The man who demands praise and recognition from his fellow human beings has lost his mind [No matter if he be Moses, Jesus, or Muhammad, peace be upon them all]

In the final analysis, the human being is little more than a mobile [and talking] leather bag, full of urine and feces.

Therefore, only a foolish person would exalt himself. Thus, no matter if the name of the person is Moses, Jesus, or Muhammad (peace be upon them all), when a man is so arrogant as to demand glory and praise from his fellow human beings, he thereby displays the sort of madness that brings him closer to the beasts, than to rational human beings.

And from whence do we know that the man who exalts himself behaves like a brute beast? We know it from king Nebuchadnezzar, who glorified himself, and ended up eating grass (like a brute beast).

As it is written:

“The king spake, and said, Is not this great Babylon, that i have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majesty? While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying... The kingdom is departed from thee. And they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen... and he was driven from men, and did eat grass like an oxen...”- Daniel 4:30-33.

And from whence do we know that the man who lust for honor and praise ends up under the influence of an evil spirit? We know it from king Saul, who dared to ask Samuel to publicly honor him, and ended up being tormented by an evil spirit. As it has been written: “Then he said, I have sinned: yet honour me now, i pray thee, before the elders of my people, and before Israel... But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the Lord troubled him”- 1 Samuel 15:30 & 16:14.

And, from this standpoint, it is troubling to find that the holy gospel presents the man Jesus (peace be upon him) exalting himself to the level of God (“I and my Father are one”- John 10:30).

Why is this troubling? Simply because [as we've just explained] for a leather bag full of feces and urine to claim to be the exalted Creator of the Universe, is plain madness. And the gospel confirms this truth, when it goes on to say:

“And when those who belonged to Him (His kinsmen) heard it, they went out to take him by force, for they kept saying, he [jesus] is out of his mind (beside himself, deranged)!”- Mark 3:21 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition). And something similar happened with prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him), who exalted himself by claiming to be the seal of all prophets. As it is written:

“Muhammad is not the father of any of your men, but (he is) the messenger of Allah (God), and the seal of the prophets...”- Qur'an, Surat 33:40 (Yusuf Ali translation). And why is the latter verse so troubling? Simply because [according to Muslim tradition] the man who exalted himself above all other prophets, ended up behaving as a bewitched person (in other words, in a deranged fashion). As it is written: v «It was narrated that ‘Aa’ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) said: A spell was put on the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) until He imagined that he had done a thing when he had not done it. One day he made du’aa’ then he said: “Do you know that Allah has shown me in what lies my cure? Two men came to me and one of them sat at my head and the other at my feet. One of them said to the other, ‘What is ailing the man?’ He said: ‘He has been bewitched.’ He said: “Who has bewitched him?’ He said: ‘Labeed ibn al-A’sam.’ He said, ‘With what?’ He said: ‘with a comb, the hair that is stuck to it, and the skin of pollen of a male date palm. He said: ‘Where is it?’ He said, ‘In the well of Dharwaan...’”»- Narrated by al-Bukhaari, 3268; Muslim, 2189.

Does the former means that Christianity and Islam are false religions? Absolutely not! The truth is that these two religions are perfectly valid paths to come to the Creator. And all pious Christians and Muslims will indeed enter Paradise. What it means is that, it is wrong [and sinful] for men to exalt themselves, as pride and haughtiness weren't made for human beings, but rather meekness and humility. As it is written:

“Before destruction, the heart of man is haughty; and, before honour, is humility”- Proverbs 18:12 (King James Bible); “Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the lowly, than to divide the spoil with the proud”- Proverbs 16:19 (King James Bible); “Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the Earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness”- Zephaniah 2:3 (King James Bible). May peace and blessings be upon you!

Is astrology [the study of the stars] evil?

Astronomy is evil only when we use it as an amulet. In other words, when we believe that our well being depends on what the stars tell, and not on the merits earned with our obedience to God's commandments. As is written: "And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the Lord thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth: And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God"- Deuteronomy 28:1-2, KJV.

By the way, this is the reason why Samaritans refuse to embrace the Christian concept of "salvation by faith, and without the need of works", as any dogma that pretends to tell you that blessing can be achieved without obedience to God's commandments is a veiled form of paganism. Why? because Scripture specifically tells that if you turn away from God's commandments you'll end up mad and confused. As is written: «But if you do not obey the Lord your God by carefully following all his commands... these curses will come and overtake you: ... the Lord will afflict you with madness, blindness, and mental confusion»- Deuteronomy 28: 15 & 28, Christian Standard Bible.

God created nature, so we could learn from it the ways of the Almighty. In addition, nature is the means by which the infinite Being help us understand (by way of logical extrapolations) the truths currently beyond direct observation. For example, consider the question of an after life: Do we humans experience more than one form of existence? Or is rather our "air-based" environment the only state we will ever experience? Well, nature hints at the idea that, when the baby is inside his mother's womb, he feels as if the watery environment he currently dwells is the only one capable of sustaining life; but that is obviously wrong, as we all know he will eventually experience (outside his mother's the womb) a different [air-based] existence. By the same token, most people believe life can only exist within material bodies; but they forget that matter is just concentrated energy, so that [in principle] “non-physical” (“energy like”, or “spiritual”) life should be as likely to exist.

Salvation by faith, and without the need to obey God's Commands? The Creator wants your obedience, not your faith!

The New Testament states that God's favor (and His forgiveness), isn't achieved by doing good, but rather by faith- “FOR BY GRACE YOU HAVE BEEN SAVED, THROUGH FAITH, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, NOT BY WORKS, lest anyone should boast” (Ephesians 2:8-9). But this passage contradicts the Scripture, that teaches the Lord is not only pleased with those who do good and abandon evil, but will even grant them forgiveness: “PUT AWAY THE EVIL OF YOUR DOINGS from before My eyes. CEASE TO DO EVIL, LEARN TO DO GOOD; SEEK JUSTICE, REBUKE THE OPPRESSOR; DEFEND THE FATHERLESS, PLEAD FOR THE WIDOW. Come now, and let us reason together, says the Lord, THOUGH YOUR SINS ARE LIKE SCARLET, THEY SHALL BE AS WHITE AS SNOW; THOUGH THEY ARE RED LIKE CRIMSON, THEY SHALL BE AS WOOL. IF YOU ARE WILLING AND OBEDIENT (TO THIS COMMAND) YOU SHALL EAT THE GOOD OF THE LAND; but if you refuse and rebel, You shall be devoured by the sword” (Isaiah 1:16-20).

Abandon all kind of falsehood! Enter the Kingdom of God, by saying the following prayer: “Oh God, I repent from my sins. I acknowledge you want me to stop doing evil, and start doing that good which pleases You. You want me to fear You, by obeying your (Ten) commandments (Ecclesiastes 12:13-14). I’m weak, oh Lord!, please grant me the strength I need, in order to live the life that pleases you; a life of justice, mercy, and meekness (Micah 6:8); a life of obedience to your commandments (Leviticus 18:5). Thank you God, ‘cause I know that, if I do my part, you’ll do Your part, thus completing what I’m missing, and letting me into your Holy City (the Kingdom of God). Thank you, for what you have done in my life, and for the victory you’ll show me in the end (Jeremiah 29:11). Amen.

IF A SINGLE MAN WERE TO BE LIKE GOD [WHO HAS HIS OWN PROPHETS AND MESSENGERS], SUCH MAN COULD ONLY BE MOSES. WHY? BECAUSE GOD HIMSELF STATES SO. AS IS WRITTEN: «THE LORD ANSWERED MOSES, “SEE, I HAVE MADE YOU LIKE GOD TO PHARAOH, AND AARON YOUR BROTHER WILL BE YOUR PROPHET”»- EXODUS 7:1, CHRISTIAN STANDARD BIBLE. THUS, MOSES CAN PROPERLY BE CONSIDERED TO BE GOD'S HUMAN MANIFESTATION UPON THE EARTH

What should a Reformed Samaritan say to his beloved Christian brothers

Next time a Christian brother asks you to acknowledge that Jesus (peace be upon him) is the Savior, that he is God in the flesh, or that he died for your sins, give him a truthful and honest reply.

Tell him that Jesus was indeed a sublime teacher; a “moral supernova”, seemingly appointed by God to be the savior of both Greeks and Romans [as they would not repent of their sins, nor do any other good commanded by the God of Israel, unless they can do it in the name of Jesus].

But tell him also that Torah states there's no savior for the Hebrew people, besides יהוה (Adonai Yah, the blessed God of Israel). As it is written: “I, even I, AM יהוה (THE LORD); AND, BESIDES ME, THERE IS NO SAVIOR”- Isaiah 43:11. Tell the Christian brother that Torah states God is no man (“GOD IS NOT A MAN, that He should tell or act a lie, NEITHER THE SON OF MAN”- Numbers 23:19).

Tell the Christian brother that Torah teaches no one can die for the sins of other people. As it is written: “The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers; ONLY FOR HIS OWN SIN SHALL ANYONE BE PUT TO DEATH”- Deuteronomy 24:16);

Tell him that Torah also says- “THE SOUL THAT SINS, IT [IS THE ONE THAT] SHALL DIE. The son shall not bear and be punished for the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear and be punished for the iniquity of the son..."- Ezekiel 18:20;

Finally, tell him [in a lovingly fashion] that Torah says elsewhere: "In those days they shall say no more, 'The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge'. BUT EVERYONE SHALL DIE FOR HIS OWN INIQUITY [ONLY]; every man who eats sour grapes—his [own] teeth shall be set on edge"- Jeremiah 31:29-30.

May the Holy One [who rightfully judges the hidden intentions of our hearts], show us His kindness and mercy! Amen

How can Scripture say that Moses would be like God? Isn't God perfect? Does God stutter? Didn't Moses murder?

Many Christian believers claim that the verse where God promises to make Moses just like Him ("See, I HAVE MADE YOU LIKE GOD to Pharaoh, and Aaron your brother will be your prophet"- Exodus 7:1, Christian Standard Bible) cannot be considered to be inspired [as it would mean it is Moses, and not Jesus, who is the human representation of the Deity].

But the fact of the matter is that, just as the Creator, Moses was morally perfect; and his stuttering wasn't a weakness, but rather a sign of humility [therefore a virtue]. Besides, Moses never murdered any innocent person [but rather performed God's judgment against the wicked].

Sadly, when a Christian believer accuses Moses of murdering innocent people, he is actually siding with the wicked congregation of 14,700 men whom God exterminated in the wilderness, as result of their slander against Moses & Aaron. As is written:

«The next day the entire Israelite community complained about Moses and Aaron, saying, "YOU HAVE KILLED THE LORD'S PEOPLE [YOU ARE MURDERERS]!"... and the Lord said to Moses, "Get away from this community so that I may consume them instantly"... Then Moses told Aaron, "Take your firepan, place fire from the altar in it, and add incense. Go quickly to the community and make atonement for them, because WRATH HAS COME FROM THE LORD; the plague has begun"... But THOSE WHO DIED FROM THE PLAGUE NUMBERED 14,700, in addition to those who died because of the Korah incident"- Numbers 16:41-49, Christian Standard Bible.

And the former is the reason why, although we highly respect the figure of Jesus [peace and blessings be upon him], no instructed Samaritan believer would ever embrace Paul's Christian theology.

Why? Simply because Paul claims Moses Law is one of sin and death, only resulting in curse and anger. As is written: "Because the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus (the Gospel) has set you free from THE LAW OF SIN AND DEATH (Moses Law)"- Romans 8:2, CSB; "Christ redeemed us from THE CURSE OF THE LAW..."- Galatians 3:13, CSB; "Because THE LAW PRODUCES WRATH..."- Romans 4:15, CSB.

Thus, by claiming that the Law brought forth by Moses only brings death and suffering upon his millions of followers, Paul [indirectly] accuses Moses of being a mass murderer; thereby siding with the wicked slanderers whom The Creator punished in the wilderness.

Curiously, the New Testament quotes Paul stating that "the end of each one will be according to his works" ("...Their end will be according to their works"- 2 Corinthians 11:15)? But if so, one has to wonder: What was Paul's own end? Was he rewarded like righteous Moses, who enjoyed the privilege of having the Creator personally taking care of his private burial? Was he rewarded like righteous Elijah, to whom God sent a chariot of fire, in order to be taken up into the heavens? Or was he instead punished like wicked king Saul, who suffered a cruel death at the hands of his pagan enemies? Of course, when it comes to the above issue, Samaritan believers do not judge our beloved Christian brothers, as daring to belittle Moses is often the result of poor knowledge of Scripture's basic tenets.

Good and evil-- They both come from God

Truth and Deception, Wisdom and foolishness, Good and Evil... they all come from the same source (God), and they are all part of the drama by means of which He teaches us the reason why light is superior to darkness; and why the Creator's way is far better than the creature's way.

As is written: "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts"- Isaiah 55:8-9, KJB.

And from whence do we know evil comes from God? From the verse that goes on to say: "... Shall evil befall a city, and the LORD hath not done it?"- Amos 3:6, Jewish Publication Society (1917 Edition)

The Samaritan View Of Heaven And Hell

Many well intended people have a strong conviction of the existence of a future [literal] Judgment, as well as in a future [physical] Hell [or Heaven] awaiting all human beings in the afterlife. But as the human soul isn't a physical entity, it follows that any "heaven" [or "hell"] experienced by the soul can only be a particular state of consciousness [like one of extreme joy, or conversely one of extreme remorse].

Besides, Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that "The Supreme Power of the Universe" (the God of Abraham, blessed be He) won't personally reward [nor punish] anybody, as His judgment seems to have been issued since before the beginning of time. What judgment is that? None other than letting humans judge themselves. How? By forcing them to "reap" the same amount of "heaven" (goodness) or "hell" (evil) they have freely and willingly bestowed upon their needy fellow creatures (in other words, by subjecting them to the eternal law of "measure for measure", "sowing and reaping", or "action and reaction").

As it is has been said: "AS YOU HAVE DONE, IT WILL [ALSO] BE DONE TO YOU..."- Obadiah 1:15... "And Adoni-bezek said, Threescore and ten kings, having their thumbs and their great toes cut off, gathered their food under my table: AS I HAVE DONE, SO GOD HATH REQUITED ME"- Judges 1:7... "Also unto Thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy, FOR THOU RENDEREST TO EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORK"- Psalm 62:12... "... AND SHALL NOT HE RENDER TO EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORKS?"-Proverbs 24:12... "... MINE ELECT SHALL LONG ENJOY THE WORK OF THEIR HANDS"- Isaiah 65:22.

An the fact that man chooses his own heaven [or hell] is also confirmed by a Jewish Midrash that goes on to relate that, when emperor Titus was about to die, he asked his servant to cremate his body and scatter his ashes upon the seven seas (so that the God of the Jews wouldn't be able to find him in order to pass judgment upon him). They did so and several years later it happened that [with the aid of a Necromancer] his nice (Onkelos) brought up Titus spirit. When Onkelos asked Titus what his punishment (hell) in the afterlife was, Titus replied saying: "My punishment is what I declared for myself- every day my ashes are collected from the seven seas, I'm formed as a human being, judgment is passed upon me, I'm burned, and my ashes are scattered upon the seven seas"

Should we follow God's Law (The Ten Commandments), or should we follow instead the Gospel?

The Christian faith is an awesome religion. Why? Simply because the repentance preached by it can lead the Christian believer to save his soul. Yet, unfortunately, Christian theology is pitiful. Why? Because it is ambiguous and contradictory; and the latter generates uncertainty, despair, and restlessness in the soul of the believer.

In what sense is the New Testament ambiguous and contradictory? Well, one example of it could be the fact that, while on the one hand it affirms (John 14: 9) that he who has seen Jesus [the Son] has also seen God [the Father], on the other hand it affirms that no one has ever seen God (1 John 4:12). Another example could be the fact that, while on the one hand it presents the apostle Paul claiming that whoever is circumcised "has fallen from grace, and has separated himself from Christ" (Galatians 5: 3-4), on the other hand it presents Paul as personally circumcising Timothy, one of his close companions in the faith (Acts 16: 3).

The reality is that, if we are absolutely objective, we will be forced to recognize that Moses wrote most of the books comprising the Divine Law (a Law that is described as being "perfect" according to Psalm 19:7). On the other hand, the apostle Paul wrote most of the books comprising the New Testament (a Testament that is nowhere described as being perfect). Regarding Moses, the Law says that he was so full of God that his skin shone with the Divine glory (Exodus 34:35). But as for Paul, the New Testament states that he was tormented by a messenger of Satan (that is, by a demon, according to 2 Corinthians 12: 7).

Regarding Moses, the Law never shows anyone ever calling him mad, crazy, or unhinged. But with respect to Paul, the New Testament calls him mad on 3 separated occasions within the same chapter (2 Corinthians, chapter 11). With regards to Moses, we are told that the latter experienced a peaceful death, dying surrounded by those who loved him, enjoying full health, and by the merciful hand of the Creator (Deuteronomy 34: 1-7); But, with respect to Paul, secular history narrates that he experienced a cruel death (being beheaded), away from his own, after suffering from hunger and cold in a Roman jail, and at the hands of his pagan enemies.

Interestingly enough, the New Testament quotes Paul saying that "the end of those ministers of Satan who disguise themselves as ministers of righteousness, will be according to his [evil] works” (2 Corinthians 11: 14-15). But if this is so, then in light of the kind of end that both Moses and Paul experienced, we would have to ask ourselves: which of these two men was a minister of justice, and which one was a minister of Satan?

Do we mean to say that Christianity is from Satan? Of course not! What we mean to say is that, whenever the words ascribed to Paul in the pages of New Testament seems to contradict the words ascribed to Moses by the Divine Law, it is Paul [and not Moses] the one who is at fault. Why? Simply because no sensible person would ever put the word of a man who confesses to being tormented by Satan (the apostle Paul, according to 2 Corinthians 12:7) ahead of the word of a man upon whose face the Divine glory shines (Moses, according to Exodus 34:29).

What God really desires from those who want to be His people

“Is not this the fast I choose: to release the bonds of wickedness, to untie the cords of the yoke, to let the oppressed go free, and to tear off every yoke? Is it not to share your bread with the hungry, to bring the homeless poor into your house? When you see the naked, to cover him, and not hide yourself from your own flesh and blood?

Then your light will break forth like the dawn, and your healing will spring up speedily. Your righteousness will go before you, the glory of Adonai as your rear guard.” Then you will call, and Adonai will answer. You will cry and He will say, “Here I am.” If you get rid of the yoke among you — finger-pointing and badmouthing—

If you give yourself to the hungry, and satisfy the desire of the afflicted, then your light will rise in darkness, and your gloom will be like midday. Then Adonai will guide you continually, satisfy your soul in drought and strengthen your bones. You will be like a watered garden, like a spring of water whose waters never fail.

Some of you will rebuild the ancient ruins, will raise up the age-old foundations, will be called Repairer of the Breach, Restorer of Streets for Dwelling. If you turn back your foot from Shabbat, from doing your pleasure on My holy day, and call Shabbat a delight, the holy day of Adonai honorable,

If you honor it, not going your own ways, not seeking your own pleasure, nor speaking your usual speech, then You will delight yourself in Adonai, and I will let you ride over the heights of the earth, I will feed you with the heritage of your father Jacob”. For the mouth of Adonai has spoken”.

---- Isaiah 58:6-14, Tree Of Life Bible Version

Can faith in Jesus of Nazareth bring salvation to non-Hebrew believers?

Faith in Jesus of Nazareth (peace be upon him) can certainly lead non Hebrew believers into everlasting life; but only if such faith makes them obey the goodness that has been commanded by God's Law (a lifestyle summarized by Justice, mercy, and humility, as per Micah 6:8).

As is also taught in the Gospel, when it goes on to say: "Not every one that saith unto me, 'Lord!, Lord!' (in other words, not all who claim that I'm their Messiah, as well as the son of God), shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven (Matthew 7:21, KJV)

... but if thou wilt enter into Life [everlasting], keep the Commandments...

Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself (Matthew 19:16-19, KJV)

... for love is from God, and whoever loves has been born of God and knows God (1 John 4:7)

... Then the King will say... Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world: For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me (Matthew 25:34-36, KJV)

... shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works (James 2:18, KJV)... whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother (1 John 3:10, KJV)

... Then he will say... Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels: For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not (Matthew 25:41-43, KJV)... He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love (1 John 4:8, KJV)"

Christianity is an awesome religion, but Christian theology is the fisherman's theology: "Make the water muddy (make the theology shady and ambivalent), so that potential fishes fail to see the hidden hook"

The dress code of a godly woman

There is a beautiful Jewish story (Babylonian Talmud, Yoma 47a) about Shim'on, the son of a woman named Kimchit. The former went out to speak to a king on the eve of Yom Kippur, and a drop of saliva sprayed from [the king's] mouth onto [Shim'on's] garments. Thereby, Shim'on became impure, so that his brother Yehudah entered and served as the high priest in his stead. Thus, their mother [Kimchit] had the honor of witnessing two of her sons [serve as] high priests on the same day.

In fact, Kimchit had seven sons; and all of them served in the position of high priest. The sages sent [a question to her] and asked: "What good deeds have you done [lit. have in your possession, in order to merit such a great honor]?" She answered them: "May [evil] befall me if, in my days, the beams of my house saw the hair of my head or the seams of my tunic (undergarment)". They said [about Kimchit]: “All flour is flour, but the flour of Kimchit is fine flour”. And they applied to her the verse that goes on to say: “All her glory—the daughter of a king—is inside and her raiment is of golden settings” (Psalms 45:14). In short, Kimchit [correctly] assumed that a mother’s modest behavior positively affects the outcome of her progeny. Thus, all God fearing women are called to dress in a chaste and modest fashion, in order to bring honor and blessings upon their households.

Hebrew Scripture and idolatry

Babylonian Talmud (Sanhedrin 103b) says that Rabbi Nathan taught there were three Roman miles between Gareb (the town where Micah erected his idol) and Shiloh (where the altar of God was located). This distance was short enough that the smoke from the altar in Shiloh, and that of Micah's idol, mixed with each other. When the Ministering Angels wanted to finish off Micah, The Holy One of Israel rebuked them, saying: “Let him be, since his bread is available to the wayfarers! (As the passage in Judges 17: 9-11 intimates)”. So, when it comes to idolatry, it seems like deeds of loving kindness are effective in appeasing the wrath of Ha-Shem. On the other hand, it would be wrong not to condemn idolatry. Why? Because of Micah’s idol in Gareb [which his neighbors permitted], the death penalty was visited upon many men of Israel who fought the tribe of Benjamin to avenge the concubine in Gibeah (in the initial battles, the men of Israel lost forty thousand of their number- see judges 20:21 & 20:25). The Holy One (blessed be He) said to the men of Israel: “For my Honor [tarnished by Micah’s idol], you put up no fight, but for a woman’s honor, you did”

Christian dogma is Fishers' theology

The God of the Hebrews is morally perfect, and therefore despises deceptive behavior. And that’s why The Hebrew scriptures records no fisherman ever being called to become God’s own spokesperson. But as for the gospel, it quotes Jesus himself telling his disciples: “... Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men” - Matthew 4:19, KJV. Do Hebrew Scriptures ever mention the existence of any hunter prophet? Any fisherman prophet? Of course not! Why? Simply because prophets were expected to be worthy representatives of the Holy God of of Abraham; and, making a livelihood out of fishing (or hunting), evokes the morally questionable attitude of he who profits from deception; he who makes a living leading others astray [something God abhors!].

Thus, we shouldn't be surprised to find that Torah only mentions two hunters: Nimrod, and Edom [both of them violent and wicked men!]. So, our dear Christian brothers and sisters should keep believing in Jesus; but at the same they should always keep questioning the accuracy of the theology they have received, lest they [unwillingly] find themselves fulfilling the verse that goes on to say: “SURELY OUR FATHERS HAVE INHERITED LIES, VANITY, AND THINGS WHEREIN THERE IS NO PROFIT. Shall man make gods unto himself...?” (in other words, shall a wise man come to believe that the Creator is mere dust, just like himself?)»- Jeremiah 16:19

God's Law [also known as "Torah"] commands the Hebrew believer to be intellectually honest, acknowledging the true merits of everything

The Hebrew Scripture (also known as “Torah”) is a book where, by means of parables and allegories, the Creator aims at teaching us the supreme ethical values for which mankind was originally created; the unique lifestyle that separates rational beings from non rational animals; the moral knowledge that will outlast our present technology, in order to stay with us for as long as we choose to remain humans.

A good example of this could be the fact that the Torah asks us to “balance” (or “ponder”) everything in it's proper perspective; to assess everything [and everyone] according to it's true worth. Why? Because diminishing it's real value would be a subtle form of stealing; while exaggerating it's real worth would amount to bearing a false witness.

And how does the Torah achieves this lofty goal? By means of regulating the way Hebrew believers perform their commercial transactions. As it is written: “Divers weights, and divers measures are like an abomination to the Lord... THOU SHALT NOT HAVE IN THINE HOUSE DIVERS MEASURES, A GREAT AND A SMALL. BUT THOU SHALT HAVE A PERFECT AND JUST WEIGHT, A PERFECT AND JUST MEASURE SHALT THOU HAVE, [so] that thy days may be lengthened [forever]... FOR ALL THAT DO SUCH THINGS, AND ALL THAT DO UNRIGHTEOUSNESS [NOT BEING HONEST IN THEIR ASSESSMENT OF BOTH THE STRENGTHS AND THE WEAKNESSES OF THE THING OR PERSON BEING EVALUATED], ARE AN ABOMINATION UNTO THE LORD thy God”- Proverbs 20:10 & Deuteronomy 25:14-16.

What is the reason why, practicing the intellectual humility implied in being truthful to reality, is of such paramount importance to God? The reason is that, the opposite behavior, only brings strife and hatred. You see, the person who tries to make small that which is big and relevant (Faith, family, moral values, responsibilities, generosity, peace, discipline, etc), will end up trying to make great that which is small and irrelevant (atheism, individualism, hedonism, individual rights, greed, tyranny, anarchy, etc).

But there's more to it! The Creator knows that the intellectual humility implied in being truthful to reality will make His children grow stronger, as they'll experience the inner peace stemming from the knowledge that, what they say with their mouths, is in perfect harmony with what they say with their hearts. And why is the latter so important? It's because, when the heart says one thing, while the mouth says another, the person lowers himself to the moral level of the hypocrites.

And, as a result, his psyche enters into a state of mental [and moral] unbalance; an inner disquietness that increasingly burdens, weakens, and depresses him. And, if he insists on embracing this state of cognitive dissonance, he risks loosing his connection to reality, thereby falling into grave and serious mental illnesses. And this is the reason why the Hebrew Scripture utters such stern warnings against liars and hypocrites. As it has been written:

- 1) “You destroy those who speak falsehood; the Lord abhors the man of bloodshed and deceit” (Psalm 5:6).
- 2) “A false witness will not go unpunished, and he who tells lies will perish (Proverbs 19:9)”
- 3) “The acquisition of treasures by a lying tongue is a fleeting vapor, the pursuit of death” (Proverbs 21:6).
- 4) “What is desirable in a man is his kindness, and it is better to be a poor man than a liar” (Proverbs 19:22)
- 5) “A trustworthy witness will not lie, but a false witness utters lies” (Proverbs 14:5).
- 6) “Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord, but those who deal faithfully are His delight” (Proverbs 12:22)
- 7) “These are the things that you shall do: speak every man the truth with his neighbor...” (Zechariah 8:16)

In short, next time a Muslim brother ask you to confess that Muhammad (peace be upon him) is the greatest of all prophets, give him a truthful and honest reply. Tell him that Muhammad was a wise and great man, who indeed seems to be God's appointed messenger for the Arab people, as he was the only monotheistic prophet they were willing to obey. But tell him also that the Hebrew scripture states that there won't be any other prophet like Moses [let alone greater than him!]. As it is written: “AND THERE AROSE NOT A PROPHET SINCE IN ISRAEL LIKE MOSES...”- Deut. 34:10.

Likewise, next time a Christian brother ask you to acknowledge that the Jesus (peace be upon him) is the Savior, that he is God in the flesh, or that he died for your sins, give him a truthful and honest reply. Tell him that Jesus was indeed a sublime teacher; a “moral supernova”, seemingly appointed by God to be the savior of both Greeks and Romans [as they would not repent of their sins, nor do any other good, unless they can do it in the name of Jesus].

But tell him also that Torah states there's no savior for the Hebrew people, besides יהוה (Adonai Yah, the blessed God of Israel). As it is written: “I, even I, AM יהוה (THE LORD); AND, BESIDES ME, THERE IS NO SAVIOR”- Isaiah 43:11. Tell the Christian brother that Torah states God is no man (“GOD IS NOT A MAN, that He should tell or act a lie, NEITHER THE SON OF MAN”- Numbers 23:19).

Tell the Christian brother that Torah teaches no one can die for the sins of other people. As it is written: “The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers; ONLY FOR HIS OWN SIN SHALL ANYONE BE PUT TO DEATH”- Deuteronomy 24:16); And also says in another place- “THE SOUL THAT SINS, IT [IS THE ONE THAT] SHALL DIE.

The son shall not bear and be punished for the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear and be punished for the iniquity of the son...”- Ezequiel 18:20; Finally, it says elsewhere: “In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children’s teeth are set on edge. BUT EVERYONE SHALL DIE FOR HIS OWN INIQUITY [ONLY]; every man who eats sour grapes—his [own] teeth shall be set on edge”- Jeremiah 31:29-30

The ethical need for life after death (the immortality of the our spirit)

Hebrew Scripture teaches that, when we die, we go to “sleep with our fathers” (1 Kings 2:10, 1 Kings 11:43, 1 Kings 15:24). Why does scripture uses the “sleep” allegory? Simply to teach us that, just as when you are asleep, you are not really dead, but rather experiencing another state of consciousness, so is when you die- you are not really dead, but rather experiencing another state of consciousness. Besides, we must ask ourselves: would God be a righteous Judge if He were to violate His own laws? Of course not! So, since God’s Law states that workers must be paid their reward as soon as their work is over [at the end of the day, and not at the end of the upcoming night], So is God also committed to reward us as soon as our work for Him is over [right after we die, and not after “the night of death” has passed, in some distant future]. As it is written: “You are not to oppress a hired servant... On that day you are to give him his wages—the sun is not to set on it—”- Deut. 24:14-15, Tree Of Life Bible.

How does Torah confirms that man's spirit is as immortal as it’s Creator? It does so by stating that The Creator wanted the Temple lamp to constantly burn. As is written: “COMMAND THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL, that they bring unto thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, TO CAUSE THE LAMP (נֵר) TO BURN CONTINUALLY”- Leviticus 24:2, King James Bible.

In the former verse, what does the Temple represent? It represents the human body!, as correctly taught by the Christian gospel, when it goes on to say: “Jesus answered and said unto them, DESTROY THIS TEMPLE, and in three days I will raise it up.... BUT HE SPAKE OF THE TEMPLE OF HIS BODY”- John 2:19-21.

And what does the Temple lamp represents? It represents man’s spirit, as is written: “THE SPIRIT OF MAN IS THE CANDLE OF THE LORD (נֵר יְהוָה, נְשָׁמַת אָדָם) ...”- Proverbs 20:27. In the former verse, notice how the words translated as “candle” is the Hebrew word נֵר, which is the same word translated on Leviticus 24:2 as “Lamp”.

Thus, Hebrew Scripture teaches that, just as The Almighty doesn’t want the lamp (or “candle”) of His Temple to ever become extinguished, so He doesn’t want the spirit (the “candle”, or “lamp” of the human temple) to ever become extinguished.

Faith in the Gospel is a step forward for the secular [Gentile] world; But a step backward for the Torah observant [Samaritan] believer Reformed Samaritanism teaches that faith in Jesus of Nazareth [peace and blessings be upon him] can definitely bring repentance [and therefore salvation] upon the Gentile world. But, when it comes to the Samaritan (Hebrew) believer, embracing Christian theology [blindly accenting all that is said by the gospel] is often a step backward.

Why? Because it means leaving the strength and certainty of Torah’s crystal clear instruction (“Sowing and reaping”, “Measure for measure”, “Cause and effect”, “Action and reaction”, “If you forgive, you too will be forgiven”, “God honors those who honor Him”, “The tree can be known by it’s fruit”, etc.) in order to replace it with the weakness implied in the uncertainty [and ambiguity] that often characterizes the Gospel narrative. Consider just a few examples:

(1) On one hand, the gospel teaches “Salvation” is from the Jews, and therefore the believer ought to submit himself to the Jewish leadership (“Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews... Then spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples, Saying The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat: All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do...”- John 4:22, & Matthew 23:1-3).

But, on the other hand, the gospel teaches Jewish leaders are Satan's own children (pure evil!), and he who submits to them becomes a children of hell (“Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do... Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves”- John 8:44, & Matthew 23:15)

(2) Christian theology teaches no one is free from sins, save Jesus (“Who among you can convict me of sin?”- John 8:46); So, only Jesus is fit to judge [and condemn the sins] of any human being («“Teacher”, they said to him, “this woman was caught in the act of committing adultery... So what do you say?” ... he stood up and said to them, “The one without sin among you should be the first to throw a stone at her”»- John 8:4-7).

Yet, when king Herod took his brother’s wife [a sinful act, according to God’s Law], it wasn’t Jesus [the sinless man] but rather John the Baptist [a sinner] who judges and rebukes Herod (“For Herod had arrested John, chained him, and put him in prison on account of Herodias, his brother Philip’s wife, since John had been telling him, “it’s not lawful for you to have her”. Though Herod wanted to kill John, he feared the crowd since they regarded John as a prophet”- Matt. 14:3-5)... (Why wasn’t Jesus the one “throwing the stone” at Herod?)

(3) The Gospel states Jesus had the Divine authority to judge the whole Humankind (“The Father, in fact, judges no one but has given all judgment to the Son”- John 5:22).

Yet, when a private person asks Jesus to judge how should a small inheritance be split, Jesus refuses to do so, claiming he had no authority to judge («Someone from the crowd said to him, “Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me”. “Friend”, he said to him, “Who appointed me a judge or arbitrator over you?”»- Luke 12:13-14).

(4) While on one side the gospel states that Jesus didn’t come to abolish the Law, but rather to fulfill it (“Don’t think that I came to abolish the Law or the Prophets. I did not come to abolish but to fulfill”- Matt. 5:17), on the other side it states that the Law was abolish with the advent of John the Baptist (“The Law and the prophets were until John...”- Luke 16:16).

(5) While on one hand we are told that whoever believes in Jesus shall not perish, but have everlasting life (“For God loved the world in this way: He gave his one and only Son, so that everyone who believes in him will not perish but have eternal life- John 3:16); on the other hand we are told that many of those who followed Jesus will be banned from entering into life everlasting. As is written: “not everyone who says to me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only the one who does the will of my Father in heaven. On that day many will say to me, ‘Lord, Lord, didn’t we prophesy in your name, drive out demons in your name, and do many miracles in your name?’ Then I will announce to them, ‘I never knew you. depart from me, you Lawbreakers!’”- Matt. 7:21-23, Christian Standard Bible.

In short, while God’s Law is certain and clear as daylight, the holy Gospel is somewhat shady and uncertain. Why? Because the latter could potentially be used to prove almost anything; including conflicting and self contradicting view points of paramount importance for the Hebrew believer.

Why is the gospel wrong when stating that Jesus (peace be upon him) wanted his disciples to become “Fishers of men”?

The Holy Gospel quotes Jesus [peace and blessings be upon him] saying the following: "... Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men"- Matthew 4:19, KJV. But, do Hebrew Scriptures ever mention the existence of any hunter prophet? Any fisherman prophet? of course not! Why? Simply because prophets were expected to be worthy representatives of the Holy God of of Abraham; and, making a livelihood out of fishing (or hunting), evokes the morally questionable attitude of he who profits from deception; he who makes a living leading others astray [something God abhors!].

Thus, we sholdn't be surprised to find that Torah only mentions two hunters: Nimrod, and Edom [both of them violent and wicked men!]. So, our dear Christian brothers and sisters should keep believing in Jesus; but at the same they should always keep questioning the accuracy of the theology they have received, lest they [unwillingly] find themselves fulfilling the verse that goes on to say: “SURELY OUR FATHERS HAVE INHERITED LIES, VANITY, AND THINGS WHEREIN THERE IS NO PROFIT. Shall man make gods unto himself...?” (in other words, shall a wise man come to believe that the Creator is mere dust, just like himself?)»- Jeremiah 16:19

Worship Jesus? Is it correct for a Hebrew believer to fear any other power besides יהוה (Adonai Yah, blessed be He)?

The Christian Scripture says: “But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father who is in heaven” (Matthew 10:33). This verse convinces every Christian believer of his (or her) absolute need to publicly acknowledge Jesus as the awaited Jewish Messiah. Obviously, the verse implies that God won’t allow into heaven anyone whom Jesus denies. And this should instill in every human being a fear of Jesus (Peace be upon him)- a fear of failing to obtaining Jesus approval (and thereby eternal salvation).

When viewed solely within the context of the Christian Scriptures, this line of reasoning makes perfect sense. The problem is that it blatantly denies Yah’s revelation to Israel, as Yah warned them not to fear anybody else besides Him: “Thou shalt fear Yah thy God; and Him shalt thou serve”- Deut. 6:13.

Why? Because no being (no matter how powerful he might seem) can damage those whom have obtained Yah’s blessing (by keeping His commandments). And, no being can bless those whom God have cursed (for refusing to obey His commandments).

Balaam was a very powerful prophet (“Come now therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people... for I know that he whom thou blessest is blessed, and he whom thou cursest is cursed”- Numbers 22:6); But, as long as the Israelis obeyed Yah’s commandments, they had no need of fearing Balaam, as Yah’s blessing was upon them (“thou shalt not curse the people; for they are blessed”- Numbers 22:12).

What made them loose Yah’s blessing? Disobedience to His commandments! In other words, as soon as the Israelis stopped obeying Yah’s commandments (fornicating with the Moabite women), they lost His blessing, and the punishment for their rebellion came crashing upon them, so that thousands perished (“And Israel abode in Shittim; and the people began to play the harlot with the daughters of Moab... and the anger of Yah was kindled against Israel... And those that died by the plague were twenty and four thousand”- Numbers 25:1, 3&9).

Thus Scripture teaches we shouldn’t fear any man (or god) besides Yah, as our obedience to His commandments will keep us safe from everybody else.

Scripture teaches that Moses was a far greater prophet than Jesus (peace and blessings be upon them)

The Christian gospel teaches that Jesus (p.b.u.h.) was a prophet. As it has been written: “The things concerning Jesus, THE NAZARENE, WHO WAS A PROPHET MIGHTY IN DEED AND WORD BEFORE GOD AND ALL THE PEOPLE” (Luke 24:19). And also in another place: «And the multitude said, “THIS IS Jesus THE PROPHET OF NAZARETH of Galilee”» (Matthew 21:11). And a third time: «Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, “THIS IS OF A TRUTH THAT PROPHET THAT SHOULD COME INTO THE WORLD”» (John 6:14).

Jesus wasn't God, but only a great man, chosen to be a prophet. Why? Simply because no finite man can ever be the infinite God. Not only that, but Jesus himself bore witness of the fact that he was just a man who had heard from God. As it has been written: “But now ye seek to kill ME, A MAN THAT HATH TOLD YOU THE TRUTH, WHICH I HAVE HEARD FROM GOD” (John 8:40).

Not only did Jesus recognized he wasn't God, but he even considered Himself a servant of the same God [and Heavenly Father] worshiped by the rest of the Israelites. As it has been written: «Jesus saith unto her... “go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ASCEND UNTO MY FATHER, AND YOUR FATHER; AND TO MY GOD, AND YOUR GOD”» (John 20:17). This explains why the Christian writings also state the following: “Blessed be THE GOD AND FATHER OF OUR LORD Jesus CHRIST” (Ephesians 1:3).

Why did the Israelites refer to Yah (God) as their “Father”? Because Moses Law taught them that the whole nation of Israel was God's firstborn son. As it has been written: «This is what יהוה (Yah) says- “ISRAEL IS MY SON, EVEN MY FIRSTBORN”» (Exodus 4:22).

Although Jesus was a prophet, he wasn't as great as Moses. Why? Simply because the Hebrew Scripture predicted that no prophet equal to Moses (let alone greater) would ever arise: “AND THERE AROSE NOT A PROPHET SINCE IN ISRAEL LIKE UNTO MOSES, WHOM THE LORD KNEW FACE TO FACE” (Deut. 34:10).

The gospels confirm that Jesus was indeed a lesser prophet than Moses, as they state that Jesus could do no miracle of his own. On the other hand, the Torah teaches that Moses could indeed do miracles of his own. In other words, when Jesus worked wonders, it was Israel's Father who performed the works. As it has been written: “THE FATHER THAT DWELLETH IN ME, HE DOETH THE WORKS” (John 14:10). And also in another place: “I must work THE WORKS OF HIM (the Father) THAT SENT ME...” (John 9:4).

But as for Moses, Israel's Father (Adonai Yah, blessed be He) was so exceedingly pleased with him, that He gave him the virtue to perform miracles of his own will. As it is said: «And יהוה (Yah) said unto Moses, “When thou goest to return into Egypt, see that thou do (Moses would do them, not God) all those wonders before Pharaoh, which I have put in thine hand (in Moses hand, not in God's hand)”» (Exodus 4:21).

Notice that the Scripture we have just quoted states that Moses miracles were performed by Moses himself [not by God]. Thus, Yah (blessed be He) empowered Moses to perform miracles at his own will, and without needing the faith [or obedience] of anybody else. This is why, when the Jewish leaders asked Moses to demonstrate (by means of a miracle) that he was God's chosen messenger, he was able to perform the miracle at once [even before the leaders had any faith in him]. As it has been written: “AND MOSES and Aaron WENT AND GATHERED TOGETHER ALL THE ELDERS OF THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL. And Aaron spake all the words which the Lord had spoken unto Moses, AND DID THE SIGNS IN THE SIGHT OF THE PEOPLE. AND THE PEOPLE BELIEVED... then they bowed their heads and worshiped” (Exodus 4:29-31).

But as for Jesus, when the Jewish people asked him to demonstrate (by means of a miracle) that he was indeed God's messenger, he couldn't do anything, aside from answering them with a play of words. As it has been written: «They said therefore unto him, “WHAT SIGN SHEWEST THOU THEN, THAT WE MAY SEE, AND BELIEVE THEE? WHAT DOST THOU WORK? Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, 'He (Moses) gave them bread from heaven to eat' ”. THEN Jesus SAID UNTO THEM, “VERILY, VERILY, I SAY UNTO YOU, MOSES GAVE YOU NOT THAT BREAD FROM EARTH; BUT MY FATHER IN HEAVEN GIVETH YOU THE TRUE BREAD FROM HEAVEN”» (John 6:30-32).

Unlike Moses, who could perform all sort of miracles without the need of Israel's faith (turning the staff into a living serpent, making the ten plagues come down upon Egypt, opening the Red sea, bringing down the Manna, getting water from the rock, opening the earth under the tents of Dathan and Abiram's family, making Aaron's staff to blossom, etc), Jesus found himself unable to perform miracles [without the faith of those who would receive them]. That's why the gospel says: «Jesus left that place and came to his hometown... On the Sabbath, he began to teach in the synagogue. Many who heard him were surprised... “Isn't this the carpenter? Isn't he Mary's son and the brother of James, Joses, Judas, and Simon? Aren't his sisters here with us?"... Jesus said to them, "Prophets are honored everywhere except in their own hometowns, among their relatives, and in their own households". HE WAS UNABLE TO DO ANY MIRACLES THERE, EXCEPT THAT HE PLACED HIS HANDS ON A FEW SICK PEOPLE AND HEALED THEM. HE WAS APPALLED BY THEIR DISBELIEF» (Mark 6:1-6)

In short, Moses was given a gift that neither Jesus nor any other prophet ever had: the power to do at will any miracle he wanted [and as many times as he wished]. In fact, God elevated Moses to a place no other prophet ever had; making him so much like Adonay, that Moses could in turn have his own prophet (Aaron). As it is written: «And YAH SAID UNTO MOSES, "SEE, I HAVE MADE THEE ELOHIM (GOD) TO PHARAOH; AND AARON THY BROTHER SHALL BE THY PROPHET"» (Exodus 7:1). And also in another place: "AND HE (AARON) SHALL BE THY SPOKESMAN UNTO THE PEOPLE: and he shall be, even he shall be to thee instead of a mouth, AND THOU SHALT BE TO HIM INSTEAD OF ELOHIM (GOD)" (Exodus 4:16).

Why did the Creator elevate Moses above all other men? In order to teach us [without any shadow of a doubt] that he who obeys Moses [following his Ten Sayings, or Commandments], isn't obeying Moses, but rather Elohim (The Creator). And that this obedience will lead Moses followers into the Heavenly Canaan.

The Seventy weeks of Daniel: Did prophet Daniel predict the exact date of the Messiah's death?

Daniel's prophecy concerning the 70 weeks (or 490 years) could have not predicted the exact date of Jesus death in the cross. Why? Simply because it would have been such a strong proof of Jesus claims, that all Christian authors (Luke, Paul, Peter, James, John, etc) would have included it in their writings. But the truth is that it isn't mentioned at all in the New Testament. How could they all miss something so extremely important? Very simple!- Back then, no christian writer considered Daniel's prophecy as referring to Jesus, but rather to King Cyrus- whom the prophet Isaiah describes as being "God's annointed", or "Messiah" (Isaiah 45:1).

Could this grave flaw in Christian theology be explained out by claiming that the New testament writers never thought their writings would become holy Scripture? Could it be that they didn't feel the need to do it, because they thought their readers were intimately familiar with the Hebrew Scriptures?

Well, did any of the Christian writers think he was writing scripture? Certainly! For example, Peter put Paul's writings at the same level with the [Hebrew] Scriptures existing back in his time. As it is written: "... even as our beloved BROTHER PAUL also, according to the wisdom given unto him, HATH WRITTEN UNTO YOU, as also IN ALL HIS EPISTLES, SPEAKING IN THEM OF THESE THINGS. Therein are some things hard to understand, WHICH THOSE WHO ARE UNLEARNED AND UNSTABLE WREST, AS THEY DO ALSO THE OTHER SCRIPTURES"- 2 Peter 3:15-15...

Did the Christian writers think that their readers were intimately familiar with the Tanach (The Hebrew Scriptures)? Of course they didn't! Why? Simply because the overwhelming majority of Christians converts were former pagans (Romans, Corinthians, Ephesians, Greeks, etc). In fact, the Christian authors knew that the converts instruction had to start from ground zero; and include the very basics teachings of the Tanach.

As it is written: "AND I, BRETHREM, COULD NOT SPEAK UNTO YOU AS UNTO SPIRITUAL, BUT AS UNTO CARNAL, EVEN AS UNTO BABES IN CHRIST. I HAVE FEED YOU WITH

MILK AND NOT WITH MEAT; FOR HITHERTO YOU WERE NOT ABLE TO BEAR IT, neither yet now are ye able"- 1 Corinthians 3:1-2. And also SAYS in another place: "We have a great deal to say about this, and it is difficult to explain, since you have become too lazy to understand. ALTHOUGH BY THIS TIME YOU OUGHT TO BE TEACHERS, YOU NEED SOMEONE TO TEACH YOU THE BASIC PRINCIPLES OF GOD'S REVELATION again. YOU NEED MILK, NOT SOLID FOOD"- Hebrews 5:11-12

If God's Law asks that we do (or believe) in anything (that we should rest on the seventh day; that God rewards those who obey His commandments, and punishes those who disobey them; that God is morally perfect; that God is no man; that the Supreme Being is a single entity, and not a plurality of beings; that no man can die for the sins of someone else, etc), and then comes the Gospel asking us to believe instead the opposite, what is the believer supposed to do? Well, the answer is quite simple. You see, until the gospel appeared two thousand years ago, Hebrew believers never had a reason to question the veracity of God's Law, as [unlike the Gospel] the Law was the result of a National revelation where God spoke publicly not only to Moses, but also to the whole Nation of Israel. In addition, the Law never claimed to be the fulfillment of any future book; instead, it claimed to be self standing righteousness and truth. As is written: "Thy Righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, And thy Law is Truth"- Psalm 119:142 (American Standard Version). On the other hand, the Gospel actually claimed to be the fulfillment of God's Law; so that, unlike the Law [whose veracity doesn't depend upon the veracity of the Gospel], the veracity of the Gospel ultimately depends upon the veracity of the Law. As is written: "Think not that I came to destroy the Law or the Prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfill"- Matthew 5:17, American Standard Version. Thus, whenever the Gospel departs from what has been said [or done] in the Law, we have no option but to side with the former, as it is the Gospel that ought to comply with the Law, and not the other way around. In other words, it would be absurd to claim that the Gospel is true, if the latter doesn't comply with the Law [as it is this compliance what validates the Gospel's alleged truthfulness]

Standing with the homosexuals killed at Orlando's Gay Club?

Does Scripture show Abraham weeping over the death of Gomorrah's dwellers? Do we find Lot mourning the holocaust suffered by his deceased Sodomite neighbors? Yes, it is true that [from the Scripture's standpoint] human life is sacred; but the fact of the matter is that, showing solidarity with those who pride themselves in their open immorality will [sooner or later] lead us into showing solidarity with their rebellious lifestyle.

And the latter is equivalent to praising such debased behavior, as man sympathizes only with that which he admires and praises. But the latter is the natural result of abandoning God's Law, as Scripture teaches that he who turns away from God's Law will end up praising the wicked. As it is written: "THOSE WHO TURN AWAY FROM THE LAW, PRAISE THE WICKED; [but] those who keep it are against him»- Prov. 28:4, God Speaks Today Bible Version.

Steer away from the foolishness of being excessively kind [pretending to be more merciful than the Creator]. Why? Because whoever does so will end up being destroyed. As it is written: "DO NOT BE TOO JUST, nor be too wise; WHY SHOULD YOU DESTROY YOURSELF?"- Ecclesiastes 7:16. In short, the true man of God is he who gladly opposes every form of evil and/or open immorality; while he who sympathizes with the latter is instead "a wolf in sheep's clothing" (in other words, "a shameless impostor"). As it has been said: "YOU HAVE LOVED RIGHTEOUSNESS AND HATED EVIL; THEREFORE GOD, your God, HAS ANOINTED YOU WITH THE OIL OF GLADNESS... THE JUST LORD IS IN THE MIDST THEREOF; HE WILL NOT DO INIQUITY... BUT THE UNJUST KNOWETH NO SHAME" - Psalm 45:7 & Zephaniah 3:5 (King James Version)

Which one is right? God's Law?, Or the Gospel?

If God's Law asks that we do (or believe) in anything (that we should rest on the seventh day; that God rewards those who obey His commandments, and punishes those who disobey them; that God is morally perfect; that God is no man; that the Supreme Being is a single entity, and not a plurality of beings; that no man can die for the sins of someone else, etc), and then comes the Gospel asking us to believe instead the opposite, what is the believer supposed to do?

El verdadero mensaje de la escritura Hebrea

El mensaje de la Escritura Hebrea es que, El Creador del universo (bendito sea), no es un dictador ideológico, ni tampoco es un tirano religioso, sino que es un Juez justo ("... El Juez de toda la Tierra, ¿no ha de hacer lo que es justo?" - Genesis 18:25, Reina Valera 1960).

Así, el Santo de Israel no juzga ni condena a nadie de forma arbitraria o caprichosa, sino que permite en cambio que cada persona se juzgue a sí misma. ¿Como? Pues por medio de "la Ley de Ojo por ojo, y diente por diente", también conocida como "Ley de Medida, por medida", "Ley de Siembra, y cosecha", "Ley de Causa, y efecto", o simplemente "Ley de Acción, y reacción". En otras palabras, el Creador permite Dios que, al final, cada cual "coseche" el mismo bien [o mal] que libre y voluntariamente haya "sembrado".

Por ejemplo, la Escritura Hebrea narra que un hijo de Judá se casó con la viuda de su difunto hermano; pero el primero evitaba darle descendencia a este último. Como esta escrito: "Entonces Judá dijo a Onán: Llégate a la mujer de tu hermano, y despósate con ella, y levanta descendencia a tu hermano. Y sabiendo Onán que la descendencia no había de ser suya, sucedía que cuando se llegaba a la mujer de su hermano, vertía en tierra, por no dar descendencia a su hermano”- Génesis 38:8-9, Reina Valera 1960.

¿Cual es el justo juicio Divino sobre el hombre que, teniendo poder para dar descendencia a su difunto hermano, malvadamente escoge no hacerlo? ¡Pues hacer que coseche la misma maldad que ha sembrado! Es decir, convirtiéndole en un difunto que tampoco tenga descendencia. Y es por esto que el Creador permite la muerte prematura de Onán; Como esta escrito...

... “Y desagradó en ojos de El Señor lo que hacía [Onán], y a él también le quitó la vida”- Genesis 38:10, Reina Valera 1960. No solamente esto, sino que el Creador impide en adición que Tamar pueda casarse con Sela (el tercer hijo de Judá), de modo que este último tampoco engendrase con ella hijos que pudiesen ser contados como descendencia a Onán. ¡Cuan justos y maravillosos son los caminos del Creador, sea su nombre bendito!

To claim that Jesus is God, is to justify all the paganism that has ever existed in the World

Christianity is a perfectly valid religion. And all God fearing Christians will have a share in Olam Habba (the World to come, also know as "Gan Eden", or "Paradise"). But Christian theology is gravely mistaken, when it claims Jesus is the Almighty God. You see, to claim that Jesus is the human manifestation of God, makes as much sense as claiming that Hermes, Jupiter, Zeus, Neptune, Mercury, or Krishna were physical manifestations of God. In other words, if God could manifest Himself in Jesus, why couldn't He manifest Himself in Buddha, in Zoroaster, or even the Dalai Lama?

And if the Holy Spirit (which Christian theology claims to be the third person of the Trinity) could physically manifest Himself as a dove (according to Luke 3:22), why couldn't He manifest as an eagle, a lamb, a lion, or even a Crocodile? Doesn't Christianity claim that all things are possible to God? And if God could manifest as a dove, why couldn't He manifest as a calf? How can we completely discard the possibility that, when Egyptians worshipped the calf, they weren't [correctly] worshipping a former manifestation of God?

Truth be told, claiming that the Creator chooses to take the form of a human being [or for that sake, of any one of his creatures] is to open a Pandora's box, as it can lead to the idolatry of any man who is shrewd enough to convince us that he's the newest Human manifestation of God (see Acts 14:11-23). Besides, as human beings are [as a matter of fact] little more than talking leather bags full of urine and excrement, claiming that God do has a human body is blasphemous, as it implies that the Almighty (blessed be He) is also “full of excrement” [something only a demon, or an unclean spirit, would dare to suggest].

And the latter might explain the reason why the gospel records demons and impure spirits preaching the Gospel, as well as ascribing deity to Jesus (calling him ‘The Son of God’, thereby making him equal to the Almighty). As is written: “... And it came to pass as we went to prayer, A CERTAIN DAMSEL POSSESSED BY A SPIRIT OF DIVINATION met us...The same followed Paul and us, crying out and saying, “THESE MEN ARE THE SERVANTS OF THE MOST HIGH GOD, WHO SHOW UNTO US THE WAY OF SALVATION”- Acts 16:16-17. And in another place; “Whenever THE UNCLEAN SPIRITS saw him, they fell down before him and CRIED OUT, “YOU ARE THE SON OF GOD!”- Mark 3:11. And elsewhere: “Also, DEMONS were coming out of many, SHOUTING AND SAYING, “YOU ARE THE SON OF GOD!...”- Luke 4:41.

21 Bible facts demonstrating the superiority of Moses over Jesus (peace and blessings be upon both of them)

- 1) Moses fasted for 80 days (Exodus 24:18 and 34:28); while Jesus only fasted for 40 days.
- 2) Moses spent 40 years in the wilderness; while Jesus spent only 40 days in the wilderness.
- 3) Israel could see Moses face shining with glory, every time he spoke with God (Exodus 34:34-35); while Jesus face shone only once (at the mount of transfiguration), and only his disciples could see it.
- 4) Moses could successfully cope with the Jewish leadership [as well as with the whole nation], for 40 consecutive years; while Jesus could only cope [unsuccessfully] with the Jewish leadership [not with the whole nation, most of which was still exiled in another countries], for only three and a half years.
- 5) Moses provided Israel with bread from heaven, and this for 40 consecutive years; while Jesus furnished heavenly bread (it's multiplication) only twice, and only to his close followers.
- 6) Moses delivered Israel from the Egyptian bondage; while Jesus didn't deliver Israel from the Roman bondage.
- 7) Moses gave physical health to the whole nation of Israel (Psalm 105:37); while Jesus healed only those he could pray for [and these wouldn't heal unless they had enough faith].
- 8) Moses gave the whole people of Israel physical living water [from the rock], and this he did for 40 consecutive years. But Jesus could do no more than to promise spiritual water, and this only to those who believed in him.
- 9) Moses gave Israel a Divine, fair, and precise legal code, by which Israel could serve as an example to the Nations of the world (Deut. 4:6). But Jesus left no such working set of legal rules and regulations, so that his followers had no option but to follow pagan (Roman) law, when settling disputes.
- 10) Moses lived a life of perfect health (he never lost his vigor, nor his eyesight) during his 120 years lifespan (Deut. 34:7); while Jesus perfect health life lasted only 33 years.
- 11) Moses got himself, as well as the whole nation of Israel, to conquer the [Red] sea [passing over it]; while Jesus could only conquer a lake [the "sea" of Galilee], but couldn't make anybody else do it (Peter tried to walk over the sea, and failed).
- 12) Moses defeated all his enemies (Pharaoh, Korah, Balaam, Og, the Amalekites, the ten spies, etc); while Jesus was defeated by all his enemies [Judas, the Romans, the Pharisees, the Sadducees, etc].
- 13) Jesus claimed to be the spiritual vine, and his followers the branches that couldn't bear fruit away from him (John 15:5). Moses made no such allegorical claims, but actually made a wooden staff bear flowers and fruits (Numbers 17:7-8).
- 14) God personally spoke to Moses, and nobody had any doubt about it (Exodus 33:8-11); but, when God spoke with Jesus, it was only a voice, and those who heard it were not sure if it was God's voice, or just a thunder (John 12:29).
- 15) Moses wrote down his own teachings [and prophecies], so we could all be certain about them; while Jesus didn't write anything, so we can never be sure if he really taught what the gospels attribute to him.
- 16) No word of any demon is ever quoted in Moses Torah; but the gospel of Jesus quotes demons bearing witness of him, proclaiming Jesus to be the Son of God (Mark 3:11, Luke 4:41, and Acts 16:16-17).
- 17) Moses Torah never quotes him exalting himself, or demanding to be honored or worshiped by the Jews [even when the Creator made Moses God in the eyes of Pharaoh!]; but the gospel portrays Jesus demanding to be honored and exalted as one with the Father, as the way, the life, and the truth (John 18) Jesus gave life to a dead man, and also gave eyesight to a man who had been born without eyesight; but Moses gave life to dead wooden staff (making it become a serpent), thereby giving eyes to what could have never had any eyesight.

19) In just 40 years, Moses was able to fulfill the promise he had made to his followers: to bring them into the Holy land. But 2,000 years have not been enough for Jesus to fulfill the much easier promise made to his followers: to return again (“He who testifies to these things says, “Surely I am coming soon.” Amen. Come, Lord Jesus!”- Apocalypse 22:20)

20) The gospels claim Jesus conquered death, but no follower was present at his tomb [at the moment of his resurrection] to bear witness of the event. On the other hand, Moses is said to have been defeated by death, but no man was there [at the time of his death] to bear witness of it (Deut. 34:5-6).

21) As for Moses, the Creator made him God: “See! I have made you God to Pharaoh, and your brother Aaron will be your prophet (Exodus 7:1). And also in another place: “he [Aaron] shall be your spokesman, and you [Moses] shall be God to him” (Exodus 4:16). But as for Jesus, he made himself God: “I and the father are one” (John 10:30). and also in another place: “he who sees me sees also the father” (John 14:9).

In view of the former, it can be properly said that, if the Christian Gospel is indeed correct, and is in fact a true and faithful recollection of Jesus teachings, then Jesus followers should convert to the Hebrew faith (in order to become part of the house of Israel), for Jesus is quoted saying: “I was not sent except to the lost sheep of the house of Israel” (Matthew 15:24).

Are you part of the house of Israel [the way Jesus meant it in the above verse? No? Then you must convert to the Hebrew faith! What does the Hebrew faith can offer you that no other faith can? The teachings of Moses, the greatest of all prophets! What? You claim Jesus is a greater prophet than Moses? Why? Have we not already showed that Moses did far greater miracles than Jesus? Is it because the gospel claims Jesus conquered death?

What if you find out that Moses conquered death long before the Nazarene? Wouldn't that be proof that Moses teachings have a greater approval [from Heaven] than Jesus teachings? Again, if the gospels are true and reliable, then Moses is still alive (after 35 hundred years!) and thus conquered death before Jesus did! How do we know it? Simply because the gospel quotes Jesus making the following statement: “Nevertheless, I must go my way today and tomorrow and the next day, for it cannot be that a prophet perish outside Jerusalem” - Luke 13:33.

But, wasn't Moses the greatest of all prophets? (Deut. 34:10). Didn't Moses die in the land Moab (Deut. 34:5), outside of Jerusalem? How could Jesus words be true, unless Moses is still alive? Thus, the gospel hints that Moses death [as described in Deut. 34:5] was only an allegorical one, as he actually conquered death.

By the way, this would be consistent with the fact that Luke 9:30-31 tells us that Moses appeared (alive) to Jesus, in order to advised him concerning his soon to come death. Hence, we must ask ourselves: Who needs the counseling of who? Does the greater prophet (Jesus) needs to take counsel from the lesser (and dead) prophet (Moses)? Or does the lesser prophet (Jesus) need to take counsel from the greater (and alive) prophet (Moses)?

Thus, if the gospel narrative is indeed true, the gentile followers of Jesus must convert to the Hebrew faith, and start following Moses, as the latter one not only made far greater miracles than Jesus, but also defeated death long before the Nazarene did [and therefore is in every aspect greater than him]. On the other hand, if the gospel isn't true, then it isn't the word of God. But, if it isn't a reliable source of Divine truth, what is it? At best, it's a human commentary on Christian theology [sprinkled with the truth it often quotes from the pages of the Hebrew Scriptures]; and, at worst, it's a string of vain claims, as well as wishful thinking statements.

Thus, in a very real sense, the Hebrew believer doesn't deny the portion of truth that may lay hidden within the Christian, Muslim, or Buddhist writings; He just places the final authority in the words of Moses, the greatest of all prophets.

When ethnic Israel abandons God [embracing Marxist atheism and moral relativism], it ceases to be God's chosen people, and therefore God despises and abandons them. As it is written: «The Lord is with you while you are with Him. If you seek him, He will be found by you, BUT IF YOU FORSAKE HIM, HE WILL FORSAKE YOU... But a man of God came to him [to King Amaziah] and said: “O king, do not let the army of Israel go with you, FOR THE LORD IS NOT WITH ISRAEL”...»- 2 Chronicles 15:2, & 25:7 (English Standard Version)

Reformed Samaritanism, Covid-19, and Medical treatment

Although Reformed Samaritans embraces the principle stating that “Truth is truth, no matters who says it”, when it comes to faith and behavior, the Torah (in other words, the five Books comprising God' Holy Law) is our final source of guidance and authority. And Moses Torah states that the believer ought to be honest and transparent in all his dealings, steering away from [and refusing to promote] any sort of deception or questionable behavior.

As is written: “Just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin, shall ye have”- Leviticus 19:36; And also says, “Thou shalt not have in thy bag divers weights, a great [for selling] and a small [for buying]. Thou shalt not have in thine house divers measures, a great [for selling] and a small [for buying]. But thou shalt have a perfect and just weight, a perfect and just measure shalt thou have: that thy days may be lengthened in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. For all that do such [deceptive] things, and all that do unrighteously, are an abomination unto the Lord thy God”- Deuteronomy 25:13-16 (Authorized King James Bible).

What does this mean? It means that, when our business dealings are clear, honest, and fair, “our days are lengthened” in the land (in other words, peace reigns among the citizens, and deadly wars and social strife are avoided). Thus, the believer cannot engage in the promotion or encouragement of any kind of shady (or biased) behavior (or business dealing). And the former is especially true when doing so might negatively affect his own health, dignity, or reputation.

In this regard, the Samaritan believer is justified in rejecting any medication, any treatment, or any procedure whose provider and/or manufacturer claims to be safe while at the same time refusing to assume liability for any adverse reaction arising from the use of such product or procedure. Are we supposed to construe the believer's freedom to refuse medical treatment as an all encompassing excuse to disregard the health [or safety] of his fellow human beings? Of course not! Bear in mind that, although Torah respects our free will, it also holds us accountable for the consequences of our actions, as may be learned from the verse where it states that he who digs a pit must cover it, in order to prevent damaging other parties. As is written: "And if a man shall open a pit, or if a man shall dig a pit, and not cover it, and an ox or an ass fall therein; the owner of the pit shall make it good, and give money unto the owner of them; and the dead beast shall be his"- Exodus 21:33.

So, just as it happens with the pit mentioned in the former verse, if your "pits" (mouth and nose) can compromise the health or safety of somebody else (infecting them with any disease), you are commanded to cover it (use face mask and keep social distance!).

Finally, in case of national emergency, can a person be forced to get a vaccine [or undergo any other medical procedure] even if he is afraid of it's potential side effects [or questions the honesty of the science backing-up such vaccine or procedure]? The answer provided by God's Law is that free will and human dignity are inviolable. Why? Simply because not even God, [who, being the Creator of the Universe has the right to do with His creatures as He sees fit] is willing to violate the free will and the dignity of human beings.

Rather, He gives us the available options, proceeds to recommend the best alternative, and leaves in our hands the final decision. As is written: "I call Heaven and Earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore [I recommend that you] choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live"- Deuteronomy 30:19.

In fact, there is no greater emergency that a national war (where both life, limb, land, property and liberty are in grave risk of disappearing). Yet not even in this case are free will and dignity taken away from the individual believer. In other words, if a man lacks the will [or courage] to join the battle, he is allowed to go back home, supporting instead the war effort by providing indirect assistance (like money, food, military equipment, supplies, etc).

And why isn't he forced to go into battle? In order to spare him from the lingering shame that would otherwise pursue him [for the rest of his life], should his lack of strength [or manliness] become evident in the eyes of his fellow soldiers and/or citizens. As is written: "And the [military] officers shall speak further unto the people, and they shall say, What man is there that is fearful and fainthearted? let him go and return unto his house, lest his brethren's heart faint as well as his heart. And it shall be, when the officers have made an end of speaking unto the people, that they shall make captains of the armies to lead the people"- Deuteronomy 20:8-9

Salvation by hope in a future Messiah?

The noble Christian religion claims that, prior to Jesus (peace be upon him) arrival, Hebrew believers achieved "salvation" by means of their hope in the future coming of a supreme Messiah. In other words, Christian theology states that, each Jewish generation had awaited the coming of a Messiah who would bring them complete and everlasting deliverance.

In fact, the gospel depicts the Pharisees (the Jewish religious leaders of their time) sending priests and Levites to John the Baptist. Why? In order to ask this new prophet whether he was the long awaited Messiah (John 1:19-25). But, if this Christian claim is in fact correct, how come we never find the Hebrew Scripture showing former generations leaders asking any of the great prophets (Moses, Joshua, Samuel, David, Elijah, Micah, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, etc) whether they were the expected Messiah?

Is it true that Yeshua (Jesus of Nazareth, peace be upon him) was God's pascal lamb?

The holy gospels claim that salvation is through faith in Yeshua (Jesus of Nazareth, peace and blessings be upon him). As it is written: "And they said, BELIEVE ON THE LORD JESUS CHRIST, AND THOU SHALT BE SAVED, and thy house"- Acts 16:13 (King James Bible). And also elsewhere: "Knowing that A MAN IS NOT JUSTIFIED BY THE WORKS OF THE LAW, BUT BY THE FAITH OF JESUS Christ"- Galatians 2:16 (King James Bible).

And how does the gospel justifies salvation by faith in Yeshua? It does so by claiming Yeshua was God's pascal lamb; the one who would die in our place [so we could be saved from death]. As it is written: "Clean out the old leaven so that you may be a new unleavened batch, as indeed you are. FOR CHRIST OUR PASSOVER LAMB HAS BEEN SACRIFICED"- 1 Corinthians 5:7.

At first glance, this sort of "theological extrapolation" seems to make perfect sense. In fact, it even seems to be inspiring, and uplifting. The problem is that, upon further examination, we find it to be little more than "wishful thinking". Why? Simply because the pascal lamb wasn't intended to save all Jews from death (in fact, it could only save the family's firstborn!). In addition, the firstborn child didn't even have to understand (let alone believe in) the sacrifice being performed.

In other words, as long as the father would perform the sacrifice commanded by the Law, the firstborn was safe. So, the effectiveness of the Passover sacrifice didn't depend on the recipient's faith, but rather on his parents obedience to what the Law had commanded; something dismissed by the Christians, whom argue that salvation isn't the product of doing what the Law commands. As it is written: "... FOR IF RIGHTEOUSNESS COMES THROUGH [OBEDIENCE TO] THE LAW, THEN CHRIST DIED FOR NOTHING"- Galatians 2:21

In short, the Hebrew Scripture lends no support to the Christian claim that salvation of the Hebrew people can only be obtained thru faith in Yeshua's [alleged] atoning sacrifice. Still, the Nazarene religion is a valid means for the non Hebrew people to worship the Creator, and perform the works of righteousness that please Him.

Christianity is a great religion; but Christian dogma is often found to be just loud theological fanfare

The theological claims made by the noble Christian religion seem to be as huge [and absolute] as powerful mountains. Yet, upon deeper examination of Hebrew Scriptures, we often find that “the powerful mountain of claims” actually hangs from evidence that is as small [and weak] as “a hair strand”.

Thus, although Christianity is indeed a noble and valid religion, it's theological claims are mostly based on hyped generalizations, bold speculation, daring conjectures, and good old boasting. And, though it might seem crazy, it all makes perfect sense.

Why? Simply because most of the New testament's theology was written by Paul, a man who [though good and noble] suffered from such a mental unbalance that he calls himself "a fool" three times within a single New testament chapter. As is written:

"I say again, let no man think me a fool; if otherwise, yet as a fool receive me... Howbeit whereinsoever any is bold, (I speak foolishly) I am bold also... Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as a fool) I am more..."- 2 Corinthians 11:16,22,& 23- KJV.

Not only that, but Paul even confesses to being tormented by “a messenger of Satan” (a demon!). As is written:

“Therefore, so that I would not exalt myself, a thorn in the flesh was given to me, a messenger of Satan to torment me ...”- 2 Corinthians 12:7, Christian Standard Bible.

In short, though Christianity is a perfectly valid path to come closer to the Creator, we would humbly advice caution when placing any sort of blind faith upon the words of any person [let alone a major religious figure] who openly admits to being tormented by a demon [as you can never know for sure who is speaking thru his body- the person himself, or the demon who is tormenting him!]

The relative value of ideas, and why some theological interpretations are much better than others

Ideas have an intrinsic value. And in such regard it can be properly said that some ideas are better than others. Why? because the latter have a greater potential to generate goodness.

For example, the Christian dogma of Jesus being the coming Messiah is indeed a good idea. Why? Because it brings unto the Christian believer a dear hope for a better future. But the former concept has a serious limitation-- that, as Jesus [allegedly] is the only Messiah [and therefore he is the only one capable of solving the grave problems afflicting our World], it stands to reason that until Jesus returns again [something that might still take a while] we will have no other option but to endure a hopelessly deteriorating [and thereby ever depressing] World.

Thus, a much better idea than a single returning Messiah would be the idea of many Messiahs being constantly available to each generation. And the following ancient tale may help us drive home our point:

It happened during the Middle ages that a certain European monastery used to house a large number of monks. Most of the latter came from different countries; so, they had a serious problem getting along with one another. The abbot (or headmaster) of the Monastery had tried for a while to bring peace unto their midst, but to no avail.

One day, out of desperation the abbot decided to go into the countryside, in order sit in prayer at the top of a nearby hill. Upon arriving unto the hill, the abbot found a Hebrew sage reciting his daily prayers. Out of pure curiosity, the abbot asked the latter for some advice as to how to deal with monks constant quarrels. And the answer given by the sage was the following: “I don't really know how to bring peace unto your community, but one thing I know for sure- that one among you is the Messiah!”. Greatly excited, the abbot went back to his monastery and, after assembling the monks [at the end of the day], informed them of the good news. After hearing what he had to say, each monk went back silently to his respective cell. But when the next day arrived, a miracle began to happen: Each time a monk would get angry with his fellow monk, he would restrain his anger saying to himself: “How can I mistreat my fellow monk? What would happen to me if I offend him, and later find that he is the Messiah?”. It goes without saying that, the idea that each of the monks could be the Messiah was powerful enough to bring the peace that the community so desperately needed. In short, the idea of a single coming Messiah is indeed a good one. But the idea of any righteous man being capable of becoming the appointed Messiah for his generation is an even better idea (can you imagine how much better could our World be if each parent were to raise his kids as if they were to be their generation's Messiah??).

The body is something that, by it's very nature, is limited in extension [and therefore finite]... but the God who created time, space, matter, and dimensions is not only unlimited, but also infinite. So, if you "can see it" [and can therefore scope the whole of it], then it isn't really God, but rather someone [or something] acting as His messenger... A limited shadow of the unlimited God.

In what sense are Judaism, Christianity and Islam the same religion?

Both Judaism, Christianity, and Islam are different manifestations of the very same religion- the belief in the one and only God of Avraham; the perfectly righteous Judge, who expects His servants to do good to their fellow human beings. And from whence do we know this? We know it from the fact that, before the start of the current Christian era, the greatest of all Jewish sages (master “Hillel”, peace and blessings be upon him) summarized the Hebrew faith by saying the following: “What is hateful to you, do not unto your fellow Human being; this is the whole Torah- the rest, is just commentary. Go now and learn the commentary” (Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 31a). Later came Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon Him) and also summarized the Scripture's message saying the following: “So then, whatever you desire that others would do to and for you, even so do also to and for them, for this is (sums up) the Law and the Prophets”- Matthew 7:12. Finally came prophet Muhammad (peace and blessings be upon him) and summarized Islam saying: “None of you [truly] believes until he loves for his brother that which he loves for himself” - Sahih Muslim (authentic Hadith narrated by Anas). Thus, no matter if you are a Jew, a Christian, or a Muslim; if you do good to your fellow human being (respect his honor, and don't steal, lie, cheat, or kill him), you will find yourself following the one true religion. And, in the end, the Creator will judge you with perfect justice; letting you reap the same goodness you have sowed upon your fellow human beings [This will be your personal paradise!]. But, if you do evil to your fellow human beings [and never repent of it], in the end you'll be forced to reap the same evil you have sowed [And this will be your personal hell]

Did the noble apostle Paul suffer from a mind disease?

The apostle Paul (peace be upon him) was a good man; a holy man who did his best in order to serve God within the constraints of his human limitations. But if truth is to be told, it seems like Paul suffered from some sort of mental unbalance.

Why? Simply because he would make Bible claims that, though at first glance seemed to be perfectly logical, upon further examination were found to be a sort of madness (a kind of “disconnection from reality”). Consider the following: Paul claims that, in the eyes of God, no man is perfect, as no man [save Jesus] can perfectly obey God's Law.

Again, although the former claim seems to be perfectly logical, upon further examination we find it to be totally disconnected from Bible reality. In other words, Hebrew Scripture clearly lists several Hebrew believers whom God considered to be perfect.

Actually, king David was considered to be so perfect, that the Creator made him the moral standard for measuring future Hebrew kings. As is written: “And he [king Jeroboam] walked in all the sins of his father, which he had done before him: AND HIS HEART WAS NOT PERFECT WITH THE LORD HIS GOD, AS THE HEART OF DAVID HIS FATHER”- 1 Kings 15:3, KJV.

In fact, not only does Hebrew Scripture state that sincere Law abiding believers were considered to be perfect, but even gentile believers with no formal knowledge of God's Law [let alone of it's perfect obedience] were also considered to be perfect. And such was the case with Job, of whom the Creator Himself said the following:

“And the Lord said unto Satan, HAST THOU CONSIDERED MY SERVANT JOB, that there is none like him in the earth, A PERFECT AND AN UPRIGHT MAN, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?”- Job 1:8, KJV. And also says in another place: “And the Lord said unto Satan, HAST THOU CONSIDERED MY SERVANT JOB, that there is none like him in the earth, A PERFECT AND AN UPRIGHT MAN, ONE THAT FEARETH GOD, AND ESCHEWETH EVIL? AND STILL HE HOLDETH FAST HIS INTEGRITY...”- Job 2:3, KJV.

In short, Paul's theology might have been well intended, but the fact is that such theology is in direct opposition to the word of God as clearly revealed to the Hebrew people. And the Hebrew words used by God's Law in order to describe he who opposes it is “Ha Satan”, a phrase that literally means “the Satan”...

There is no Divine wisdom aside from God's Law

The Reformed Samaritan faith is based upon The Law, as given by God to our master Moses at the top of Mount Sinai. And the nature of this Divine code is such that it gives it's followers a clarity of mind that naturally makes them “head”, instead of “tail” (leaders, instead of followers). As is written: “And THE LORD SHALL MAKE THEE THE HEAD, AND NOT THE TAIL; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the Lord thy God, which I command thee this day, to observe and to do them”- Deuteronomy 28:13. Not only that, but God himself promises that even the gentile (non Hebrew believing) nations of the World would recognize their wisdom. As is written: «Keep therefore and do them; FOR THIS IS YOUR WISDOM AND YOUR UNDERSTANDING IN THE SIGHT OF THE NATIONS, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, “SURELY THIS GREAT NATION IS A WISE AND UNDERSTANDING PEOPLE!”»- Deuteronomy 4:6.

Thus, as soon as the Hebrew believer abandons God's Law, he loses his intelligence, and can no longer tell apart the left path, from the right path (the animal-like behavior, from the human-like behavior). As is written: “... should not I spare Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than SIXSCORE THOUSAND PERSONS THAT CANNOT DISCERN BETWEEN THEIR RIGHT HAND AND THEIR LEFT HAND...?”- Jonah 4:11.

In fact, the man who abandons God's Law loses his wisdom, and can no longer tell apart good from evil; thus, he ends up praising the wicked, currying their approval. As is written: "THEY THAT FORSAKE THE LAW PRAISE THE WICKED: but such as keep the Law contend with them"- Proverbs 28:4.

But what is the precise nature of this Divine wisdom? How does it work? Well, the answer to this question is surprisingly simple. You see, obedience to God's commandments (do not steal, do not lie, do not murder, keep the Sabbath, honor your parents, do not commit adultery, help the needy, do not oppress the weak, let slaves go free, respect other people's property, flee from corruption, etc) puts your mind in tune with the Divine order of the Universe; with the universal law of "measure, for measure"; "sowing, and reaping"; "cause, and effect"; "you reap, what you have sowed"; "what goes around, comes around"; "the tree, is known by it's fruit", etc.

Thus, the Hebrew believer cannot be easily fooled by ideological smoke screens, theological sophism, logical fallacies, nor crafty flattering techniques. Why? Because God's Law has shaped his psyche, giving him a "results oriented" mindset. Therefore, the seemingly unsolvable issues that so often mislead the gentile mindset (Is homosexuality OK? Are men and women really equal? Is salvation achieved by faith?, Is Jesus God? Is Muhammad God's great last prophet?, Has the Law been abolished?, etc) are non issues for the Hebrew believer.

Why? Because he instinctively knows that, no matter the name that is given to the issue, anything that push him away from the Law [or tries to seduce him to deny what the Law commands], amounts to the worship of a strange God. As is written: "Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse; A blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day: And A CURSE, IF YE WILL NOT OBEY THE COMMANDMENTS OF THE LORD YOUR GOD, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, TO GO AFTER OTHER GODS, WHICH YE HAVE NOT KNOWN"- Deuteronomy 11:26-28.

Beware of theological hair splitting!

The theological hair-splitting that often characterizes the noble Christian religion can become a serious [and even dangerous] thing. Why? Because, sooner or later, it's false sense of honesty [as well as of intellectual integrity] will fall under it's own weight (getting the Christian believer seriously depressed).

In other words, deep down inside, his soul will start groaning, wondering the reason why, if Christian theology is the absolute truth, he still has to labour so hard [doing all sort of dizzy intellectual gymnastics, as if he were holding the post of a White House press secretary] in order to justify what any otherwise objective and rational being would immediately recognize as being just loud theological fanfare, bold suppositions, hyped conjectures, false syllogisms, half cooked lies, wishful thinking, brazen incoherences, and shameless contradictions.

And the former might [partially] explain the reason for the grave problem of severe depression, mental diseases, and suicide cases currently sweeping through so many Christian communities. And why would this be so? Because Christianity's open abandonment of God's Law makes it's followers liable to fall under the curse of madness, and of mental confusion foretold by God's Law.

As is written: «BUT IF YOU DO NOT OBEY THE LORD YOUR GOD BY CAREFULLY FOLLOWING ALL HIS COMMANDS... these curses will come and overtake you: ... THE LORD WILL AFFLICT YOU WITH MADNESS, BLINDNESS, AND MENTAL CONFUSION»-

Deuteronomy 28: 15 & 28, Christian Standard Bible. May the Creator have mercy of our dear Christian brothers!

The relationship between God's sovereignty, free will, sin, and suffering

The way Reformed Samaritans explain the relation between free will, sin, and suffering is the following: God initially created all souls in a perfect state, and in a perfect environment-- a heavenly [non physical] realm with no evil, pain, disease, death, suffering, ignorance, strife, injustice, condemnation, etc.

But, after an almost infinite amount of time, the created souls yearned to "grow up", in order to become moral entities [thereby becoming like their Heavenly Father, who not only knows good and evil, but also makes goodness conquer evil just as light conquers darkness]. Thus, God created a physical realm filled with pain and evil-- a sort of "school" for the souls, where the latter could willingly choose to attend.

Thus, whenever a heavenly soul wants to increase it's moral stature, it is given the opportunity to choose beforehand the kind of physical life it wants to experience on Earth-- how much pain, suffering and bad decisions it needs to experience, in order to continue it's journey toward moral perfection.

But, before making such decision, the soul can pick all the details of it's earthly journey-- when will it be born, where will it meet it's end, what will all of it's decisions be, and what kind of punishments and/or rewards will such decisions entail.

Once the soul makes it's final selection concerning the kind of life it wants to experience, it is asked to sign it's name upon the Book of Life. Why? So that if [in the future] any soul dares accusing God of it's personal sufferings, it could be demonstrated that it was the soul [and not the Creator] the one who chose the Life such soul now experiences.

After the soul makes it's final decision, an angel strikes it's forehead [thereby making it forget everything it has experienced in heaven], and immediately places it inside the womb of it's future mother.

The soul will then be born, and proceed to experience the life it has already chosen. At the end of it's earthly journey, when the soul is in the process of transitioning back into it's heavenly real, it is given a fast review of it's whole life, so that it can pass judgment upon it.

If the soul has been walking the path of those who seek God, a congregation of "past graduates" comes to cheer and salute it [just as if you had been running a long marathon, and your intimate family members are waiting for you at the finish line].

But, even if the soul had chosen a wrong lifestyle, if the soul's [sincere] judgment is, "The life I have lived was wrong; if I could start all over again, I would make it better", that alone would be enough for it to "pass it's grade", and therefore be allowed to stand again with the righteous, back in the heavenly realm.

The end of Western Civilization

Sadly, the Western World is coming to it's end, as we are currently experiencing the proverbial "death by a thousand cuts" (Family breakdown, Drug addiction, economic uncertainty, gang violence, media deception, atheism, fraud, moral relativism, divorce, abortion, chronic depression, suicide, homelessness, feminism, gender & critical race theory, forced vaccinations, etc).

Soon, Western societies will bleed themselves to death. Unfortunately, just as it happened right after the Titanic hit the proverbial iceberg, there's nothing anyone can do to stop America's demise. Unless the Creator (blessed be He) performs a miracle, and America turns back to Him, our big and proud Ship will soon find itself at the bottom of the Sea.... May God have mercy of America!

The reason why even conflicting religious traditions can be validly viewed as “spiritual anesthetics” in the hands of a wise and merciful Creator

Although each of the several monotheistic traditions claims (directly or indirectly) to be the sole custodian of theological truth, the fact is that, if you spend enough time among Jews, Samaritans, Muslims, and Christians, you will be surprised to find that there's holy people among each of these groups; God fearing people reflecting the justice, mercy, and humility that characterizes those walking the path of righteousness.

But how can people following diverting [and often opposing] theologies achieve the same noble results? The answer might be illustrated by the following example: Three patients go and visit the same urologist, in order to get a circumcision. After the procedure is over, you asks each patient to describe their procedure and find out that each one received a different kind of anesthetic. Why? Because not all of them responded equally well to the same medication, so the doctor wisely chose to personalize the medication, in order to meet their different needs.

And something similar happens when it comes to God's dealings with mankind. Why? Because the Divine physician wants every man to undergo a similar circumcision; only that this one is a circumcision of the heart. As is written: “CIRCUMCISE THEREFORE THE FORESKIN OF YOUR HEART, and be no more stiffnecked”- Deuteronomy 10:16, & Jeremiah 4:4, KJV.

This “circumcision of the heart” consists of letting go of evil (“DEPART FROM EVIL, AND DO GOOD; and dwell for evermore”- Psalm 37:27, KJV), in order to start embracing a life of holiness; of justice, mercy, and humility (“He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and WHAT DOTHTHE LORD REQUIRE OF THEE, BUT TO DO JUSTLY, AND TO LOVE MERCY, AND TO WALK HUMBLY WITH THY GOD?”- Micah 6:8, KJV).

Just as it happens with our physical circumcision, our spiritual circumcision can be a painful process, and therefore demands the help of some sort of personalized (spiritual) anesthetic.

And that's precisely the role played by the different monotheistic traditions-- to be God's personalized (spiritual) anesthetic. Consider the following case: If God were to tell a young, healthy, blue eyed, blond haired, nicely shaped western woman that He wants her to live a life of holiness, so she must therefore start covering up her body [in order to avoid adultery and fornication], it would be almost impossible for her to undergo such transition.

But, if God were to allow this woman to believe that salvation doesn't depend on her modest attire, but rather on her faith in Muhammad's message, she will soon become a Muslim, and in no time will end up dressing in the modest and holy fashion God that always wanted for her. So, in the former case, Islam played the role of God's personalized anesthetic for the circumcision of the woman's heart.

And something similar happens with both Christianity and Judaism, where their respective theologies work as Divine anesthetics for people with different mindsets and personalities.

Consider the case of Roman Christianity-- Jesus urged his followers to be merciful, caring for the poor. Thus, he asked his followers to sell all of their belongings, and give them to the needy (“... SELL ALL THAT THOU HAST, AND DISTRIBUTE UNTO THE POOR, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me”- Luke 18:22, KJV).

But such self-denial would have been impossible for the average Roman citizen, as back then Rome owned the whole world. Thus, in order to achieve the same result, God started to use Christianity’s “spiritual anesthetic”. How? By letting Paul preach the idea that your salvation has nothing to do with your actions, but rather is the result of your faith in Jesus Lordship and resurrection (“FOR BY GRACE ARE YE SAVED THROUGH FAITH; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: NOT OF WORKS, LEST ANY MAN SHOULD BOAST... THAT IF THOU SHALT CONFESS WITH THY MOUTH THE LORD JESUS, AND SHALT BELIEVE IN THINE HEART THAT GOD HATH RAISED HIM FROM THE DEAD, THOU SHALT BE SAVED”- Ephesians 2:8-9, & Romans 10:9). Thus, thousands of Roman citizens started to embrace Christian theology, without suspecting that the former was being used as the divine anesthetic to help them endure their spiritual circumcision. And from whence do we know that it was effective enough? We get it from the fact that, in the end, these believers had no problem embracing a life of selflessness and charity.

As is written: “Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: THIS WOMAN WAS FULL OF GOOD WORKS AND ALMSDEEDS WHICH SHE DID”- Acts 9:36, KJV; “IF A BROTHER OR SISTER BE NAKED, AND DESTITUTE OF DAILY FOOD, AND one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding YE GIVE THEM NOT THOSE THINGS WHICH ARE NEEDFUL TO THE BODY; WHAT DOTHTH IT PROFIT?”- James 2:15-16, KJV; “... I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring YE OUGHT TO SUPPORT THE WEAK, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, IT IS MORE BLESSED TO GIVE THAN TO RECEIVE”- Acts 20:25, KJV; “... AND [YOU] TOOK JOYFULLY THE SPOILING OF YOUR GOODS, KNOWING IN YOURSELVES THAT YE HAVE IN HEAVEN A BETTER AND AN ENDURING SUBSTANCE”- Hebrews 10:34, KJV.

In short, the “spiritual anesthetic” (Islam, Christianity, Judaism, etc) used by our Creator [while performing our heart’s circumcision] is of secondary importance, as what really matters is the end result: that we part ways from our evil behavior (pride, deception, selfishness, immorality, etc), and start embracing goodness (obeying God’s commandments, as by so doing we start sowing unto our fellow creatures the same goodness we will eventually reap for ourselves).

As is written: “IS NOT THIS THE FAST I CHOOSE: TO RELEASE THE BONDS OF WICKEDNESS, TO UNTIE THE CORDS OF THE YOKE, TO LET THE OPPRESSED GO FREE, AND TO TEAR OFF EVERY YOKE? IS IT NOT TO SHARE YOUR BREAD WITH THE HUNGRY, TO BRING THE HOMELESS POOR INTO YOUR HOUSE? WHEN YOU SEE THE NAKED, TO COVER HIM, AND NOT HIDE YOURSELF FROM YOUR OWN FLESH AND BLOOD?

Then your light will break forth like the dawn, and your healing will spring up speedily. Your righteousness will go before you, the glory of Adonai as your rear guard.” THEN YOU WILL CALL, AND ADONAI WILL ANSWER. YOU WILL CRY AND HE WILL SAY, “HERE I AM.” If you get rid of the yoke among you— finger-pointing and badmouthing— IF YOU GIVE YOURSELF TO THE HUNGRY, AND SATISFY THE DESIRE OF THE AFFLICTED, THEN YOUR LIGHT WILL RISE IN DARKNESS, AND YOUR GLOOM WILL BE LIKE MIDDAY. Then Adonai will guide you continually, satisfy your soul in drought and strengthen your bones. You will be like a watered garden, like a spring of water whose waters never fail.

Some of you will rebuild the ancient ruins, will raise up the age-old foundations, will be called Repairer of the Breach, Restorer of Streets for Dwelling. If you turn back your foot from Shabbat, from doing your pleasure on My holy day, and call Shabbat a delight, the holy day of Adonai honorable, If you honor it, not going your own ways, not seeking your own pleasure, nor speaking your usual speech, then You will delight yourself in Adonai, and I will let you ride over the heights of the earth, I will feed you with the heritage of your father Jacob”. For the mouth of Adonai has spoken”- Isaiah 58:6-14, Tree Of Life Bible Version

Is Christianity correct when it claims Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) to be the Son of God?

Christianity is an awesome religion. But Christian theology is [at best] misleading. Why? Simply because the latter claims Jesus (a mortal man of flesh and blood) to be the literal Son of God; And it also goes on to claim that, being “the Son of God” implies Jesus shared God’s own nature [thereby being equal to God, and worthy of our worship and praise].

Yet despite their Father/Son relationship, Christianity persists to claim the status of a monotheistic religion; one that worships one single God. Can you imagine a Greek pagan claiming that, since Zeus was the father of Vulcan, Apollos, Mars, and Neptune, they all share the same nature; and thus were all just one single God... Would you ever believe the Greek religion to be a monotheistic one?

Truth be told, if anyone has the right to claim to be “the Son of God”, it is the nation of Israel. Why? Because God personally bears witness to it. As is written: “... Thus saith the Lord, ISRAEL IS MY SON, EVEN MY FIRSTBORN”- Exodus 4:22.

And the fact of Israel being “the Son of God”, also implies that each Israelite is a “god-like” creature, as attested by the Creator, when He goes on to say: “I [God] have said, YE ARE GODS; AND ALL OF YOU ARE CHILDREN OF THE MOST HIGH”- Psalm 82:6, KJV.

Curiously, no sincere Hebrew believer would ever dare claiming any sort of Divinity for himself.

Why? Because true believers are expected to be meek and humble, avoiding all sort of self exaltation. As is written: “LET ANOTHER MAN PRAISE THEE, AND NOT THINE OWN MOUTH; A STRANGER, AND NOT THINE OWN LIPS...”- Proverbs 27:2, KJV.

And it is also written in another place: “The high and lofty One who inhabits eternity, the Holy One, says this: I LIVE IN THAT HIGH AND HOLY PLACE WHERE THOSE WITH CONTRITE, HUMBLE SPIRITS DWELL; AND I REFRESH THE HUMBLE...”- Isaiah 57:15, Living Bible

God, and the openly Homosexual lifestyle

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that God is slow to chastise any sin; save open immorality... He is slow to chastise any open immorality, save openly homosexual immorality.... Why? Because the latter violates God’s commandments (All of them!).

In other words, the homosexual man dishonors his parents (... putting them to shame with his homosexual conduct); he steals ("robbing his parent’s share of grandchildren); he bears false testimony (claiming to be "a woman trapped inside a man's body");

he murders (the souls of the offspring he refuses to bring into the world as a result of his homosexual lifestyle);

he blasphemes his Creator (hinting that God isn’t perfect, as He assigned him "the wrong biological sex");

he covets what doesn’t belong to him (the role of the woman, which was given to her as "an exclusive property");

he serves and worship a "serpent-like" idol (the male penis, which has the shape of "a serpent"); he violates Shabbat (with the "extraneous fire" of his homosexual passion).

«Then was Jesus led up of the [Holy] Spirit into the wilderness, to be tempted of the devil... And when the tempter came to him, he said, "if thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread... And saith unto him, if thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down..."»- Matthew 4:1-3, & 6- KJV

Is it God's will that we question Jesus real identity? Of course it is! In fact, if [according to the Gospel] the Holy Spirit wanted Jesus [who knew himself better than anybody else] to be tempted into questioning his own identity, how much more should it be true for us [who never knew him personally] to do likewise?

In fact, there's no sin homosexuality doesn't violate. That's why, even when God was angry with many cities (Niniveh, Tyre, Sidon, Babylonia, etc), He gave them centuries to repent. But as for Sodom and Gomorrah, He exterminated them at once (again, as if to imply that He is slow to judge any sin, save open homosexuality).

Joshua, the prophet promised by God

God promised to send Israel a prophet like Moses, as is written: "I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee, and will put my words in his mouth..."- Deuteronomy 18:18, King James Bible. In what sense would this prophet be like Moses? In that, just as Moses had written Torah (God's Law), he too would write Torah. And who was this prophet?- Joshua, of whom it is said: "And Joshua wrote these words in the book of the Law of God..."- Joshua 24:24, KJV.

But, didn't Joshua write his own book? What words would Joshua write in the book of the Law?.... He did write many words, including the verse stating that Moses was the most humble of all men ("Now the man Moses was very meek, above all the men which were upon the face of the earth"- Numbers 12:3, KJV), as well as the way Moses did eventually die (the last 8 verses of the book of Deuteronomy, starting with the phrase-- "So Moses the servant of the Lord died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the Lord..."- Deuteronomy 34:5, KJV)

Don't let anyone entice you to be "devoured" by the lion!

Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that, once the God of the Hebrews has commanded you to do [or say] something (get yourself circumcised, keep Shabbat, abstain from pork and shell fish, Keep the sacred feasts, constantly meditate in Torah, etc), you should not let anyone fool you into embracing the [false] idea that the Almighty has arbitrarily changed His mind concerning you.

Indeed, you should keep in mind the incident that happened to the prophet whom God had sent to rebuke wicked king Jeroboam. You see, the Creator had told this prophet that he shouldn't eat nor drink while at Samaria; but suddenly a false prophet showed up, and convinced him that God had changed His mind [so that the prophet could now do what God had formerly forbidden him to do]. In the end, this false prophet not only rebuked God's real prophet, but even foretold him that his rebellion would be severely punished [being eventually devoured by the lion].

As is written: «Then he [the false prophet] said unto him, "Come home with me, and eat bread". And he [the real prophet] said, "I may not return with thee, nor go in with thee: neither will I eat bread nor drink water with thee in this place: For it was said to me by the word of the Lord, 'Thou shalt eat no bread nor drink water there, nor turn again to go by the way that thou camest' ". He said unto him, "I am a prophet also as thou art; and an angel spake unto me by the word of the Lord, saying, 'Bring him back with thee into thine house, that he may eat bread and drink water' ". But he lied unto him. So he went back with him, and did eat bread in his house, and drank water.... And he cried unto the man of God that came from Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, "Forasmuch as thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the Lord, and hast not kept the commandment which the Lord thy God commanded thee, But camest back, and hast eaten bread and drunk water in the place, of the which the Lord did say to thee, Eat no bread, and drink no water; thy carcase shall not come unto the sepulchre of thy fathers"... And when he was gone, a lion met him by the way, and slew him»- 1 Kings 13:15-19, 20-22, & 24- King James Bible.

Why was "the lion" image used in connection with the former allegorical story of rebellion and punishment? And why are we told that the real prophet was from the tribe of Judah [therefore being a Jew]? It was used in order to serve as "a hint"; one foretelling that, in the future, all Jewish believers would need to exercise caution when dealing with the ideas surrounding the image of "a coming lion" (Jesus, whom Christianity describes as being "the lion of Judah's tribe").

Thus, any Jewish (or Hebrew) believer who embraces the false notion that God no longer wants him to abstain from what God has forbidden him [by means of Moses Law], is thereby listening to a false prophet, and just as it happened to the ancient Jewish prophet, he too will risk being "devoured" [suffering harm] by "the lion". May Adonay have mercy of all Hebrew believers...

But what about "an eye for an eye"? Isn't it backward?

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that there is indeed one true and verifiable religion.

And this religion doesn't relies upon miracles nor supernatural revelations, but rather upon the simple observation of God's Creation.

This self evident religion has been described by many names ("sowing and ripping", "cause and effect", "action and reaction", "eye for an eye", "what goes around, comes around", etc), but all these names point toward the same universal truth: "whatever is that you do unto others, that very thing will (sooner or later) be done unto you". If you steal from other people, other people will eventually steal from you; if you kill without having a just cause, someone else will eventually kill you, without having a just cause; if your lies hurt your neighbor, your neighbor's lies will eventually hurt you; if you oppress your fellow human being, you too will end up being oppressed by your fellow human being; if (as a child) you bring suffering upon your dad, your own child will one day bring suffering upon his Dad.

In short, we are given the same good (or evil) we have given. That's why the Hebrew Bible summarizes this natural faith by enjoining us to do what is good, and forbidding us what is evil: "Turn thou away from evil, and do good (obey God's Ten commandments); and thou shalt live forever" (Psalm 37:27, Wycliffe Bible).

La Escritura no apoya la doctrina de un pecado original!

Respecto al pecado original, la Torah (o Ley de Dios) muestra que, si el hombre muere, es porque fue inicialmente creado como un ser mortal. Es decir, la Torah intima que, al igual que sucede con la desnudez, la muerte se convirtió en un dilema para el hombre solo después que éste abandonase su comunión con el Creador.

Es que mientras el hombre tuvo acceso [o intimidad] tanto con Dios como con su árbol de Vida, estos prevenían su temerosa conciencia de la muerte y la desnudez. De hecho, si el pecado de Adam hubiese conllevado la muerte física, sería imposible que la Escritura afirmase que, luego de su desobediencia, Adam podía aún vivir para siempre, si tan solo comía del árbol de la Vida. Como esta escrito: “Y dijo El Señor: He aquí el hombre es como uno de nosotros, sabiendo el bien y el mal; ahora, pues, que no alargue su mano, y tome también del árbol de la vida, y coma, y viva para siempre”- Génesis 3:22.

La realidad es que la idea de un pecado original es ajena a la fe de las escrituras Hebreas. El profeta Miqueas (paz sea con él) dijo lo siguiente: ¿Con qué me presentaré ante Adonai, y adoraré al Dios Altísimo? ¿Me presentaré ante Él con holocaustos, con becerros de un año? ¿Se agrada Adonai el Señor de millares de carneros, o de diez mil arroyos de aceite? ¿Daré mi primogénito por mi rebelión, el fruto de mis entrañas por el pecado de mi alma?- Miqueas 6:6-7.

Note como el profeta equipara a su niño con los becerros y carneros que se ofrecen en el Templo. ¿Por que? Pues porque así como los becerros y carneros eran puros y aceptos al Creador, así el hombre, cuando es niño, también es puro y acepto al Creador; Dios no le ve como un ser malo, pecaminoso e inmundo [pues si así fuera, no le sería acepto].

El que el hombre nace sin pecado, es la razón por la cual Dios muestra favor a los niños, cuando es citado diciendo las siguientes palabras: “Tuviste tú lástima de la calabacera, en la cual no trabajaste, ni tú la hiciste crecer; que en espacio de una noche nació, y en espacio de otra noche pereció. ¿Y no tendré yo piedad de Nínive, aquella gran ciudad donde hay más de ciento veinte mil personas que no saben discernir entre su mano derecha y su mano izquierda, y muchos animales?”- Jonás 4:10-11.

¿Quiénes eran estos Ninivitas que no sabían distinguir entre su mano izquierda, su mano derecha, y muchos animales? ¡Obviamente, los niños recién nacidos! Y el que el hombre nazca limpio de pecado, fue también enseñado por el Galileo, quien es citado diciendo que el reino de Dios pertenecía a los niños. Es decir, a aquellos cuya alma es limpia; como esta escrito: “... Dejad a los niños venir a mí, y no se lo impidáis; porque de los tales es el reino de Dios”- Marcos 10:14.

De igual modo, el que el hombre era mortal (aún antes de caer), fue también enseñado por nuestro maestro Moisés (paz y bendición sean siempre sobre él) cuando, previo a la desobediencia del hombre, cita al Creador diciendo a Adán y Eva las siguientes palabras- “y díjoles Dios: Fructificad y multiplicad, y henchid la tierra...”(Génesis 1:28).

¿Por que le ordena Dios a Adam y a Eva que se multipliquen? Pues porque, siendo mortales, necesitaban engendrar a la generación que habría de reemplazarles [luego de su muerte]. Pero tenemos que recordar que [por definicion], aquellos que son inmortales no tienen necesidad de casarse (a fin de engendrar hijo alguno); pues jamás necesitarán ser sustituidos por alguna otra persona.

Por eso, aún los Escritos Cristianos citan al Nazareno (paz y bendición sean siempre sobre él) diciendo: “Los hijos de este siglo se casan, y se dan en casamiento; mas los que fueren tenidos por dignos de alcanzar aquel siglo, y la resurrección de entre los muertos, ni se casan, ni se dan en casamiento. porque no pueden ya mas morir....”- Lucas 20:34-36.

En otras palabras, Jesús enseña que la inmortalidad releva al hombre de la necesidad de casarse y multiplicarse.

Can any man force God to answer his prayers? Can Moses, Samuel, or Jesus do it?

Since God knows all things, it is self evident that He listen to all prayers. But, when it comes to answering prayer, the story is quite different. You see, when the prayer comes from a rebellious [and non penitent] heart, God doesn't answer the prayer.

On the other hand, when the prayer comes from a person who goes out of his way in order to honour God [living the life of justice, mercy, and humility that pleases the Creator, according to Hosea 6:8], the Holy One is favorable disposed towards such prayer. As is written:

- 1) "They [the rebellious] cried, but there was none to save them, even unto the Lord, but he answered them not"- Psalm 18:41 (1599 Geneva Bible).
- 2) "Wherefore the Lord God of Israel saith... for them that honour me I will honour, and they that despise me shall be lightly esteemed"- 1 Samuel 2:30, King James Bible.

And even the Christian gospel agrees with the former, when it goes on to say: "Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him He heareth"- John 9:31, KJB.

Does the former means that any pious believer [or a great religious figure like Moses, Samuel, or Jesus] can "force" the Creator to answer his prayer? Nor at all!

And from whence do we know that sometimes even Moses prayer cannot avert God's evil decree upon the Hebrew believer who stubbornly refuses to repent? We know it form the Scripture that goes on to say:

«Then said the Lord unto me, "THOUGH MOSES AND SAMUEL STOOD BEFORE ME, YET MY MIND COULD NOT BE TOWARD THIS PEOPLE: CAST THEM OUT OF MY SIGHT, AND LET THEM GO FORTH". And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, "Whither shall we go forth?" then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the Lord; "SUCH AS ARE FOR DEATH, TO DEATH; AND SUCH AS ARE FOR THE SWORD, TO THE SWORD; AND SUCH AS ARE FOR THE FAMINE, TO THE FAMINE; AND SUCH AS ARE FOR THE CAPTIVITY, TO THE CAPTIVITY"- Jeremiah 15:1-2, KJB.

From whence do we know that even Jesus own intercession can't always ensure the blessing we ask? We know it from the Christian writings, when they go on to say:

«Then came to him the mother of Zebedees children with her sons... SHE SAITH UNTO HIM [JESUS], "GRANT THAT THESE MY TWO SONS MAY SIT, THE ONE ON THY RIGHT HAND, AND THE OTHER ON THE LEFT, IN THY KINGDOM. But Jesus answered and said... Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but TO SIT ON MY RIGHT HAND, AND ON MY LEFT, IS NOT MINE TO GIVE, BUT IT SHALL BE GIVEN TO THEM FOR WHOM IT IS PREPARED OF MY FATHER"»- Matthew 20:20-23, KJB

And from whence do we know that even Jesus personal intercession can't always ensure that a man will be spared from the suffering he would rather avoid? We know it from the Christian gospel, when it goes on to say:

"AND HE [JESUS] was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, AND KNEELED DOWN, AND PRAYED, SAYING, FATHER, IF THOU BE WILLING, REMOVE THIS CUP FROM ME: NEVERTHELESS NOT MY WILL, BUT THINE, BE DONE”- Luke 22:41-43, KJB

La Torah predecía que Israel terminaría olvidando la Ley de Dios; Y que el Mesías habría de restaurarla

La Escritura Hebrea afirma que, la Ley de Dios (la Torah), es perfecta (“La Ley de יהוה es perfecta...”- Salmo 19:7). Y, lo que ya es perfecto, no tiene necesidad de ser mejorado, sustituido o abrogado por algo mejor [pues, si necesita ser mejorada, significa entonces que, de arranque, no era realmente perfecta]. Pero, la tradición Hebrea, dice que el Mesías ha de traer una nueva Torah.

¿Que significa? A fin de entender la respuesta a esta difícil pregunta, tenemos que recordar que la Escritura habla de un hombre justo, que fue ungido como rey de Israel (y la palabra Hebrea que traducimos como “ungido”, es “Mashiach”, o “Mesías”). En adición, la Escritura también dice que David era “el padre” de este rey [es decir, que este rey era “hijo de David”, tal y como se promete que sería el Mesías].

El rey al cual hacemos referencia, no es otro sino “Josías”. Como esta escrito: “Cuando Josías comenzó a reinar, era de ocho años [note que el numero ocho evoca la circuncisión que se hacia a los niños Hebreos, como señal de su fidelidad al pacto con su Dios], y reinó en Jerusalén treinta y un años... E HIZO LO RECTO ANTE LOS OJOS DE יהוה , y anduvo en todo el camino de DAVID SU PADRE, sin apartarse a derecha ni a izquierda”- 2 Reyes 22:1-2.

La Escritura dice que Josías inicio las labores de re-edificación de la Casa de Dios. Como esta escrito: “A los dieciocho años del rey Josías, envió el rey a Safán... a la casa de יהוה , diciendo: Ve al sumo sacerdote Hilcías, y dile que recoja el dinero que han traído a la casa de יהוה ... y que lo pongan en manos de los que hacen la obra, que tienen a su cargo el arreglo de la casa de יהוה , y que lo entreguen a los que hacen la obra de la casa de יהוה , para reparar las grietas de la casa...”- 2 Reyes 22:3-5.

Y, en el proceso de reconstruir “el tabernáculo de David, que estaba caído”, aquellos que re-edificaban la casa terminaron “descubriendo” la Ley. Como esta escrito: “Entonces dijo el sumo sacerdote Hilcías al escriba Safán: HE HALLADO EL LIBRO DE LA LEY en la casa de יהוה «- Reyes 22:8.

Note como la Escritura menciona que, luego que se descubre el libro de la Ley, este es leído en presencia del rey Josías. Y, al descubrir el contenido de la Ley, Josías procede a llorar, así como a rasgar sus vestiduras [como intimando cual debe ser la función de todo verdadero ungido de Dios- modelar la contrición y el arrepentimiento que debe surgir del corazón que descubre su consciente [o inconsciente] rebeldía contra los mandamientos Divinos.

Como esta escrito: “Así ha dicho יהוה el Dios de Israel: Decid al varón que os envió a mí [el rey Josías]: Así dijo יהוה: He aquí yo traigo sobre este lugar, y sobre los que en él moran, todo el mal de que habla este libro que ha leído el rey de Judá; por cuanto me dejaron a mí, y quemaron incienso a dioses ajenos, provocándome a ira con toda la obra de sus manos; mi ira se ha encendido contra este lugar, y no se apagará. Mas al rey de Judá que os ha enviado para que preguntaseis a יהוה , diréis así: Así ha dicho יהוה el Dios de Israel: Por cuanto oíste las palabras del libro, y tu corazón se enterneció, y te humillaste delante de יהוה , cuando oíste lo que yo he pronunciado contra este lugar y contra sus moradores, que vendrán a ser asolados y malditos, y rasgaste tus vestidos, y lloraste en mi presencia, también yo te he oído, dice יהוה . Por tanto, he aquí yo te recogeré con tus padres, y serás llevado a tu sepulcro en paz, y no verán tus ojos todo el mal que yo traigo sobre este lugar”- 2 Reyes 22:15-20. ¿Que significado tiene este relato? ¿Y que tiene que ver con la idea de que, el Mesías, habrá de traer una nueva Torah? Pues la respuesta es que, el anterior relato, no es sino una alegoría profética; una parábola cuyo propósito es predecir que, en lo porvenir, Israel “perdería” la Ley de Dios. En otras palabras, que a pesar de que hubiese “sacerdotes” que oficiasen los ritos de la Ley (como hacen los modernos rabinos), y a pesar de que hubiese un tipo de Templo (como lo es la moderna sinagoga), Israel terminaría olvidando por completo el verdadero significado de la Ley.

Pero, un día, llegara un gran rey Mesías con una nueva Torah; no porque sea realmente nueva sino que, su novedad, consiste en que nunca antes había sido escuchada por su audiencia. Esta nueva Torah sera la antigua Torah, solo re-descubierta. Es que el Mesías enseñará a Israel que, el mensaje olvidado de la Ley, no es el Sionismo; no es la reconstrucción del antiguo Templo Hebreo; no es los ayunos, ni las nuevas lunas; no es la Cábala; no es la lucha por la justicia social; no es la lucha por la igualdad de genero, por el secularismo, o por los derechos humanos.

La “nueva” Torah que, con su ejemplo enseñara el Mesías, es que el propósito original de la Ley, no fue otro sino la contrición de espíritu, y el sincero arrepentimiento que conduce al hombre a abrazar una vida sometida al Creador; una vida que renuncia a la abierta inmoralidad, para comprometerse en cambio con la justicia, con la misericordia, y con la humildad que agradan al Creador. Y que, al igual que sucedió con el rey Josías, este sincero deseo de dar la espalda a la maldad, para en cambio comenzar a vivir en sumisión a la voluntad Divina, traerá al penitente la luz, la paz, y el descanso prefigurados por el ayuno que agrada al Creador. Como esta escrito:

“¿No es más bien el ayuno que yo escogí, desatar las ligaduras de impiedad, soltar las cargas de opresión, y dejar ir libres a los quebrantados, y que rompáis todo yugo? ¿No es que partas tu pan con el hambriento, y a los pobres errantes albergues en casa; que cuando veas al desnudo, lo cubras, y no te escondas de tu hermano? Entonces nacerá tu luz como el alba, y tu salvación se dejará ver pronto; e irá tu justicia delante de ti, y la gloria de יהוה será tu retaguardia. Entonces invocarás, y te oirá יהוה; clamarás, y dirá él: Heme aquí. Si quitares de en medio de ti el yugo, el dedo amenazador, y el hablar vanidad; y si dieres tu pan al hambriento, y saciases al alma afligida, en las tinieblas nacerá tu luz, y tu oscuridad será como el mediodía. יהוה te pastoreará siempre, y en las sequías saciará tu alma, y dará vigor a tus huesos; y serás como huerto de riego, y como manantial de aguas, cuyas aguas nunca faltan. Y los tuyos edificarán las ruinas antiguas; los cimientos de generación y generación levantarás, y serás llamado reparador de portillos, restaurador de calzadas para habitar”- Isaías 58:6-12

If God is really just, why would He allow human beings to cause so much pain and suffering to one another?

If the Holy One [blessed be His name] is indeed a God of moral perfection, why does He allow human beings to cause each other so much harm and suffering? The answer to this ancient question is based on the idea that the Creator is no man.

What does it mean? It means God's behavior will always be more just, more merciful, more humble, and more noble than the best human being (“Perfect is the work of the mighty God: for all his ways are judgment. God is true, and without wickedness: just and righteous is He”- Deut. 32:4, 1599 Geneva Bible).

For example, when a human King issues a law (for his subjects to keep), the King can choose whether or not he wants to keep that Law as well; But, with the Creator, it is different. In other words, when the Lord commands us to keep something, He is the first one to observe what has been commanded.

Consider the following: when Adonai (the Lord) commands that we renounce to our selfish will, in order to let His will be done, it is because He has first denied Himself, in order to let our will be done-- in other words, God granted us the free will that enable us to do our will (i.e., doing harm to our fellow human beings), instead of God's own will (that we do only good to our fellow human beings).

And the former might explain the reason why, whenever we write God's sacred name (יהוה) in a vertical fashion, the latter forms the image of a man whose arm, leg, and back appear to be "broken". Why? Because, by giving man a free will that will allow him to harm his fellow creatures, God became "broken" [as He opened up to the possibility of man disobeying Him]... In other words, by placing a limit upon His absolute will and power, the Creator effectively denied Himself, which is tantamount to inflicting pain and suffering upon His own infinite nature.

Thus, it can be properly said that, although man experiences pain and suffering, it was God Himself the one who first experienced what pain and suffering is [so man does not suffer alone, as God also suffers with him!]. Yet, if we are brutally honest, we would have to acknowledge that suffering is God's greatest gift to mankind.

Why? Simply because God's Law (also known as "Torah") promises salvation only for the meek and humble ("But the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace"- Psalm 37:11); and, unfortunately, only extreme suffering can successfully turn a man into a meek and humble person.

In fact, the more God is pleased with a man, the more He crushes him with suffering, for Scripture says, "The Lord was greatly pleased with [him, hence] He crushed him by disease (Isaiah 53:10). Thus, chastisements (sufferings) are good for the believer, and that's why Scripture teaches that three great treasures (Torah, the Land of Canaan, and Life in the World to come) were bestowed upon Israel as a result of chastisements and suffering.

And what is the proof for the Torah? The verse that goes on to say: "Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O Lord, and [thereby] teachest him thy Torah"- Psalm 94:12.

And the proof for the land of Canaan? The verse that goes on to say: "As a man chasteneth his son, so the Lord thy God chasteneth thee..."- Deut. 8:5. And what comes immediately next? "For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land [the land of Canaan]..."- Deut. 8:7.

And the proof for Life everlasting? The verse that goes on to say: "For the commandment is a lamp, and the Law is light; and reproofs of instruction are the way of life [everlasting]"- Proverbs 6:23.

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña, que mientras mas exalta Dios a una persona, mayor es su demanda de que tal persona viva una vida de Santidad y pureza moral. Y dado que, en la jerarquía bíblica, el profeta estaba por encima del sacerdote, cuando un profeta pecaba su castigo era correspondientemente mayor que el de un sacerdote. Y esto explica el hecho de que, aunque tanto María como Aarón pecan murmurando contra Moisés (Números 12:1), el castigo dado a María parezca haber sido mayor que el de Aarón. ¿Y de donde sabemos que María era profeta? Pues del verso que procede a decir: "Y María la profetisa, hermana de Aarón, tomó un pandero en su mano, y todas las mujeres salieron en pos de ella con panderos y danzas"- Éxodo 15:20, Biblia Reina Valera,

God's purpose for mankind

The relation between human beings and their Creator might be loosely described as that of a super advanced alien scientist, and his newly created lab specimens. In other words, picture a scientist belonging to an alien race so incredibly advanced that it not only exist on a higher dimensional realm, but can fold time/space and even turn raw energy into living matter.

Now, suppose this super advanced alien scientist decides to create a thing called "physical life"-- say, the first ever colony of single celled bacteria.

In addition, suppose that the scientist long term goal is to guide the evolution of his dumb bacteria colony unto a point where the latter becomes as wise, as kind, and as enlightened as it's creator.

Under such circumstances, what would be the very first thing he ought to teach his primitive creatures? Well, for starters, he needs to teach them not to destroy themselves!

And, although God is infinitely more kind, wise, and powerful than what any alien being could ever be, that's exactly what God does with mankind. Thus, Scripture states the Creator's main desire is for man to be humble, and love Him by showing kindness, justice, and mercy to his suffering fellow men.

As is written: "You shall not hate your brother in your heart... You shall not take revenge or bear any grudge against the sons of your people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself..."- Leviticus 19:17-18 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition);

And also says-- "But let him who glories glory in this: that he understands and knows Me [personally and practically, directly discerning and recognizing My character], that I am the Lord, Who practices loving-kindness, judgment, and righteousness in the earth, for in these things I delight, says the Lord"- Jeremiah 9:24, (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition);

And also-- "He judged and defended the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Was not [all] this [what it means] to know and recognize Me? says the Lord."- Jeremiah 22:16, (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition);

And it finally says: "He has showed you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you but to do justly, and to love kindness and mercy, and to humble yourself and walk humbly with your God?"- Micah 6:8 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

The serious dilemma of Jesus genealogy

The Holy Gospel of Matthew alleges that Yeshua (Jesus of Nazareth, peace and blessings be upon him), was a direct descendant of King David. Why? Well, because, according to Matthew, Joseph [Yeshua's putative] was a descendant of King Solomon (that is, of a legitimate heir to David's throne).

As it is written: «BOOK OF THE GENEALOGY OF JESUS CHRIST, SON OF DAVID, son of Abraham. Abraham fathered Isaac, Isaac fathered Jacob, and Jacob fathered Judah and his brothers... Jesse fathered King David, and KING DAVID fathered SOLOMON.... Eliud fathered Eleazar, Eleazar fathered Matthan, Matthan fathered Jacob; AND JACOB BECAME JOSEPH, THE HUSBAND OF MARY, OF WHOM WAS BORN JESUS, who is called the Christ»- Matthew 1:1-16.

But the holy Gospel of Luke denies the genealogy given by Matthew; for it asserts that Joseph was not a direct descendant of Solomon (the legitimate heir to David's throne), but that he was instead the descendant of an illegitimate heir. Who was this illegitimate heir? Could it be Jonathan? Was it Adonijah? Nope! Joseph's alleged ancestor was Nathan, a son of David of whom Scripture never records that he held the royal chair. As it is written:

“JESUS HIMSELF AT THE BEGINNING OF HIS MINISTRY WAS ABOUT THIRTY YEARS OF AGE, THE SON, ACCORDING TO BELIEVED, OF JOSEPH, son of Eli, son of Mattath, son of Levi, son of Melchi, son of Hana, son of Joseph, son of Mattathias, son of Amos... son of Melea, son of Menna, son of Mattatha, son of Nathan, son of David, son of Jesse, son of Obed...”- Luke 3:23-32.

Obviously, Joseph could not be a direct descendant of two different sons of David- Either he was a descendant of Solomon, or was he a descendant of Nathan; but under no circumstance can he be a direct descendant of both men.

So this is one of those cases where there is no doubt that one of the two gospels is making a serious mistake.

But if one of the two gospels is wrong, then there's also a chance that both gospels are wrong. And how do we know that the latter is the case? Well, we know it because from the fact that the gospels claims Jesus wasn't Joseph's biological son [he was instead son of God!]. And, if so, then Joseph's [alleged] Davidic ancestry is irrelevant; as it could not be used as evidence for Yeshua's royal ancestry.

In fact, according to God's Law, the Nazarene (peace be upon him) was technically a bastard. Why? Simply because he wasn't the biological son of his mother's legal husband. And the Law not only prevented such persons from aspiring to David's throne, but even from becoming part of Israel's congregation [which in practice meant Jesus couldn't marry any female Israelite-- something the gospel seems to confirm]. As it is written:

“NO BASTARD SHALL ENTER THE CONGREGATION OF ADONAI YAH; not even to the tenth generation shall they enter into the congregation of Adonai Yah”- Deut. 23:2.

Does what has been exposed here mean that the Nazarene (Christian) faith is false? Does it mean that faith in Yeshua is incapable of transforming a life for good-- thereby bringing it closer to the Creator? Of course not! It simply means that, although a perfectly valid path to serve the Creator, Christianity's theological foundation doesn't perfectly agree with the things revealed by God to Israel.

In other words, Christianity is one of several Divine approved paths given to the gentile nations; but it isn't the path of Torah compliance entrusted by God to the people of Israel. As it is written:

- 1) “So shall I keep thy Law continually for ever and ever. And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts”- Psalm 119:44-45 (King James Bible).
- 2) “... Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them”- Deut. 5:1
- 3) “Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently”- Psalm 119:4
- 4) “ With my whole heart have I sought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments”- Psalm 119:10.
- 5) “I am a companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts”- Psalm 119:63
- 6) “ The wicked have laid a snare for me: yet I erred not from thy precepts”- Psalm 119:110
- 7) “And the Lord said unto Moses, How long refuse ye to keep my commandments and my Laws?”- Exodus 16:28
- 8) “Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed, which do err from thy commandments”- Psalm 119:21.
- 9) “O that there were such an heart in them, that they would fear me, and keep all my commandments always, that it might be well with them, and with their children for ever!”- Deut. 5:29

10) "This day the Lord thy God hath commanded thee to do these statutes and judgments: thou shalt therefore keep and do them with all thine heart, and with all thy soul. Thou hast avouched the Lord this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways, and to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and to hearken unto his voice: And the Lord hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promised thee, and that thou shouldest keep all his commandments; And to make thee high above all nations which he hath made, in praise, and in name, and in honour; and that thou mayest be an holy people unto the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken"- Deut. 26:16-19.

The delusion of Western nations economical prosperity

It is a slow day in the small town of rural Missouri, and the streets are deserted. Times are tough, everybody is in debt, and everybody is living on credit.

A tourist visiting the area drives through town, stops at the motel, and lays a $100 bill on the desk saying he wants to inspect the rooms upstairs to pick one for the night.

As soon as he walks upstairs, the motel owner grabs the bill and runs next door to pay his debt to the butcher. The butcher takes the $100 and runs down the street to retire his debt to the pig farmer. The pig farmer takes the $100 and heads off to pay his bill to his supplier, the Co-op. The guy at the Co-op takes the $100 and runs to pay his debt to the hotel and pays off a room bill with the hotel owner... .. The hotel proprietor then places the $100 back on the counter so the traveler will not suspect anything. At that moment the traveler comes down the stairs, states that the rooms are not satisfactory, picks up the $100 bill and leaves...

... No one produced anything. No one earned anything. However, the whole town now thinks that they are out of debt and there is a false atmosphere of optimism and glee. And that, my friends, is how a "stimulus package" works!

Does Space-Time has any need of human beings? If Space-Time has no need of humans, how much less would the Creator of Space-Time have any need of them!

Some people claim that the God of Abraham needs the help of human beings? Is that true? Does God literally needs any man, in order to accomplish anything?

Actually, asking if God has any need [a basic limitation of flawed human beings], is a bit like asking if God has any need for rest, for food, or for recognition [in other words, an absurd question].

Why? Simply because the God of Israel isn't a physical being, nor is He a physical man [flawed with physical needs, physical emotions, and physical limitations]; a being for which nothing is difficult. As it has been written:

--"And also THE STRENGTH OF ISRAEL [GOD] will not lie or repent; for HE IS NOT A MAN"- 1 Samuel 15:29).

-- "Have you not known? Have you not heard? THE EVERLASTING GOD, THE LORD, THE CREATOR OF THE ENDS OF THE EARTH, DOES NOT FAINT OR GROW WEARY; there is no searching of His understanding"- Isaiah 40:28

-- "IF I WERE HUNGRY [HUNGRY FOR FOOD, HUNGRY FOR RECOGNITION, HUNGRY FOR COMPANIONSHIP, ETC] I WOULD NOT TELL YOU, FOR THE WORLD AND ITS FULLNESS ARE MINE"- Psalm 50:12

-- “Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh: IS THERE ANY THING TOO HARD FOR ME [SO THAT I CANNOT DO IT BY MYSELF]?”- Jeremiah 32:27, King James Bible

Can a female believer breastfeed her child in public?

The Divine Law teaches that the God of the Hebrews is the Creator of all. And, as Creator of the Universe, He perfectly understands the interrelationship of everything, including the sequence of events that will eventually arise from each of our decisions; from each of our actions; each of our abilities; each of the ideas, and each value that we choose to embrace. In short, the God of Israel (blessed be He), foresees the path we will all be forced to travel, as result of our decisions and priorities. And, in the whole of Creation, there’s no darker and more slippery path than the path of nudity and sexual perversion. For this reason, each believer must make his most sincere effort to avoid all kind of nudity; all kind of behavior, all kinds of language, all kind of clothing, all kind of ideas, all kind of values, all kind of social trends, and all kind of public [or private] situation that could passively [or privately] promotes any form of nudity or immorality . And this is the reason why God’s law devotes an entire chapter to deal with the subjects of nudity, incest, adultery, homosexuality, and bestiality. And in doing so it warns us that these sexual perversions where the very reason why the Creator allowed the Land of Canaan to “vomit” its inhabitants [in other words, to bring about the extermination of the Canaanite nations].

As it is written: «And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, “Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, I am the Lord your God. After the doings of the land of Egypt, wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not do: and after the doings of the land of Canaan, whither I bring you, shall ye not do: neither shall ye walk in their ordinances. Ye shall do my judgments, and keep mine ordinances, to walk therein: I am the Lord your God. Ye shall therefore keep my statutes, and my judgments: which if a man do, he shall live in them: I am the Lord. None of you shall approach to any that is near of kin to him, to uncover their nakedness: I am the Lord. The nakedness of thy father, or the nakedness of thy mother, shalt thou not uncover: she is thy mother; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

The nakedness of thy father's wife shalt thou not uncover: it is thy father's nakedness. The nakedness of thy sister, the daughter of thy father, or daughter of thy mother, whether she be born at home, or born abroad, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover. The nakedness of thy son's daughter, or of thy daughter's daughter, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover: for theirs is thine own nakedness.

The nakedness of thy father's wife's daughter, begotten of thy father, she is thy sister, thou shalt not uncover her nakedness. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister: she is thy father's near kinswoman. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister: for she is thy mother's near kinswoman. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's brother, thou shalt not approach to his wife: she is thine aunt. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy daughter in law: she is thy son's wife; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy brother's wife: it is thy brother's nakedness. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of a woman and her daughter, neither shalt thou take her son's daughter, or her daughter's daughter, to uncover her nakedness; for they are her near kinswomen: it is wickedness. Neither shalt thou take a wife to her sister, to vex her, to uncover her nakedness, beside the other in her life time. Also thou shalt not approach unto a woman to uncover her nakedness, as long as she is put apart for her uncleanness. Moreover thou shalt not lie carnally with thy neighbour's wife, to defile thyself with her. And thou shalt not let any of thy seed pass through the fire to Molech, neither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the Lord. Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination. Neither shalt thou lie with any beast to defile thyself therewith: neither shall any woman stand before a beast to lie down thereto: it is confusion. Defile not ye yourselves in any of these things: for in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you: And the land is defiled: therefore I do visit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself vomiteth out her inhabitants. Ye shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations; neither any of your own nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you: (For all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled;) That the land spue not you out also, when ye defile it, as it spued out the nations that were before you. For whosoever shall commit any of these abominations, even the souls that commit them shall be cut off from among their people. Therefore shall ye keep mine ordinance, that ye commit not any one of these abominable customs, which were committed before you, and that ye defile not yourselves therein: I am the Lord your God' ”» (Leviticus 18, King James Bible).

Thus, if a female believer has to breastfeed one of her children outdoors, she must do it away from the sight of any male who, seeing himself aroused by the woman's breasts, could be tempted to make her a dishonest proposal. Along the same lines, if the woman needs to be examined by a medical doctor, or to be assisted by a specialist [in her baby's delivery], she should prefer a female doctor [or nurse], rather than a male one. Similarly, men should prefer male doctors and nurses. Obviously, the [male] believer should avoid contact with openly gay people; and female believers should avoid contact with openly lesbian women.

The latter isn't due to any contempt [nor prejudice] against Gay or lesbian people, but rather the natural result of the believer's commitment to abide by the Divine command that prevents him from contaminating his soul with any of these abominable practices [in order to avoid the dire consequences that such behavior will inevitably entail].

It's funny how, after God and religious ideology were taken away from Western Schools [as well as from political parties], the vacant space was immediately occupied by LGBT and Gender ideology activists (a.k.a. "Cultural Marxists")... So, for all practical purposes, we've turned homosexuals into our new gods, and gender ideology into our new religion... No wonder our world feels like a smelly latrine (a living hell hole)!...

Science and Secular wisdom [alone] can't bring peace unto the World

«Should someone tells you- “There is [secular] wisdom among the [gentile] nations”, believe him. Should he say to you- “There is Torah [moral wisdom] among the [gentile] nations”, do not believe him». The meaning of the former maxim is that, although God has endowed the gentile nations of the World with secular wisdom, this type of knowledge is no substitute for the moral wisdom that can be achieved only by those who learn [and practice] God's moral Law. Why? Simply because knowledge alone can't turn men into better people, as it can also make for more devious [and cunning] individuals.

In fact, not secular wisdom, but only practical spirituality (Justice, mercy, truthfulness, and Humility) can turn men into real human beings. And this is attested by the fact that, no less than one third of Nazi death camps commanders, had either a masters degree, or a doctoral degree. In short, intelligence and schooling alone cannot change people's nature. Although secular wisdom can prove to be an useful tool, our free will can always give us the option to use it for evil, thereby turning it into a deadly weapon.

The fact of the matter is that, in order to achieve “true humanity”, our minds [and hearts] must first pledge allegiance to Torah's moral standard.

This godly standard (also displayed by nature thru the law of “sowing and reaping”, or “action and reaction”), was summarized by the Hebrew prophets with the following words: “He has showed you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you but to do justly, and to love kindness and mercy, and to humble yourself and walk humbly with your God?”- Micah 6:8.

Or, as stated in an ancient Hebrew Midrash: “What is hateful to you, do not to your neighbour: that is the whole Torah, while the rest is the commentary thereof; go and learn it”- Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 31a.

Don't make Science your personal God!

La ciencia es buena. Pero sería ingenuo pensar que la ciencia es siempre objetiva, e incapaz de ser afectada por la corrupta influencia de intereses particulares (es decir, por las grandes empresas farmacéuticas; los ricos intereses bancarios y/o monetarios; las poderosas agendas sociales, culturales y políticas; etc.). Además, hay que tener en cuenta que, “Demasiado hacia el Oriente, es Occidente”. En otras palabras, “la ciencia abstracta” debe guiarse tanto por el sentido común como por la realidad empririca [“¡la carreta debe seguir a los bueyes!”]. No hay ningun problema con ser un fiel adepto de la ciencia, pero tenga presente que “la realidad, es la realidad”, mientras que “la ciencia” solo puede ser [en el mejor de los casos] una aproximación de la realidad. ¡No cometa usted el error de entusiasmarse tanto con la ciencia, que termine convirtiéndola en una secta religiosa! ¿Como? Pues tratando de que la realidad empírica [es decir, aquella realidad concreta y observable] se ajuste al dogma científico, en vez de hacer que el dogma científico se ajuste a la realidad empírica.

El Maravilloso Plan Divino para toda la Humanidad

La Escritura Hebrea intima la existencia de una jerarquía de autoridad Divina; de una cadena de autoridad que comienza con la mas elemental realidad física, extendiéndose ininterrumpidamente hasta el Infinito [es decir, hasta la Infinita y Suprema Autoridad que es el mismo Creador]. Y, como parte de esa escala infinita de jerarquía, a cada ser humano se le habrá de asignar un puesto directamente proporcional a la estatura moral que, durante su existencia terrenal, haya logrado alcanzar.

La Escritura revela que, la manifestación de lo que en si mismo es El Creador, es tan abarcadora e infinita, como la vida que le distingue. ¿Que es precisamente la vida? ¿En que número infinito de formas y maneras puede esta última manifestarse? ¿Está vivo un virus? ¿Esta vivo un planeta? ¿Y que de una galaxia? ¿Podrá estar vivo un universo?

Así, el Creador es algo tan increíblemente avanzado a nuestra realidad física y moral, que el lenguaje laico carece de los elementos necesarios para conjugar la suma de todo lo que tendría que describirse. Una ilustración que podríamos utilizar, es la fabula acerca de tres animales; un oso polar, un águila, y una lagartija tropical. Estos animales fueron un día llevados dentro de un cuarto oscuro y cerrado. El techo de este cuarto, consistía de tres ventanas de vidrio. Todas las ventanas estaban cubiertas. El vidrio de la primera ventana, era blanco; el segundo, era azul; y el tercero, era verde. Una vez descubiertas las ventanas, el dueño del edificio pidió a cada animal que identificase a través de cual de todas las ventanas entraba “la luz verdadera”.

El oso polar contestó que, “la verdadera luz”, entraba por la ventana blanca. Su razón para ello era muy sencilla: el blanco, no solo era el color de su propia piel, sino el de el helado ámbito en el que habitaba. Por su parte, el águila contestó que, la verdadera luz, entraba por la ventana azul; pues este era el color tanto del cielo como de los mares que surcaba. En cambio, la lagartija afirmó que, la verdadera luz, entraba por la ventana verde. ¿Por que? Pues porque, el bosque donde habitaba, eran de ese mismo color.

Cuando el dueño del edificio procedió a preguntar a los animales si deseaban saber cual era “la luz verdadera”, todos asintieron al unísono. Entonces, apuntando hacia la puerta, el dueño procedió a decir: “¡La verdadera Luz, esta afuera del edificio!”. La moraleja de esta historia, es que todos percibimos a Dios dentro de los limites que nos impone nuestra realidad existencial; pero, la Divinidad misma, es mas amplia, diversa, y multiforme, que lo que puede captar nuestra limitada percepción, surcando los lindes y fronteras teológicas, culturales, y nacionales que producen nuestra inhabilidad de comprender a Dios como un todo infinito, y unificador.

La realidad es que, las Escrituras Sagradas de los diversas tradiciones religiosas, sirven como apuntadores a una concepción de Dios que no puede en si misma ser restringida por la revelación. La razón para ello, es que esta última no podía explícitamente exceder la capacidad cognoscitiva, ni la limitación existencial del receptor. Por poner un ejemplo, en las escrituras, Dios no nos habla de ciencias físicas, no por que no quiera que nos intereseamos en esa materia, sino porque los antiguos no habrían sido capaces de comprender tal grado de revelación.

Es decir, si Moisés hubiese hablado explícitamente en su Torah acerca de micro organismos bacteriológicos, o acerca de la creación del tiempo, sus enseñanzas habrían sido consideradas por sus contemporáneos como el producto de una mente desquiciada. Siendo así las cosas, encontramos a Dios revelando estas cosas solo de forma sucinta e indirecta, utilizando argumentos como el mandamiento acerca del lavado de manos, así como el del relato edénico, donde se utiliza la designación “día y noche” (términos usamos para designar el tiempo mismo), antes de mencionar la creación del sol y la luna (por cuyos ciclos medimos el paso del tiempo). Este es el gran misterio que parece estar velado a los ojos del moderno mundo religioso: que Dios es mas que lo que los escritos sagrados parecen revelar; es mas noble, justo, y misericordioso que lo que el Texto Sagrado logra mostrar. Y, del mismo modo, su plan para con los seres humanos, es infinitamente superior a lo que nuestro sencillo entendimiento puede sospechar.

Es que, segun la Escritura, Dios crea un planeta entero, para luego ponerlo en manos del primer hombre, a fin de que este último señoree sobre el planeta. Es decir, este primer hombre [Adán] vino a ser “un pequeño dios”; el embajador del Creador (o “su representante”), en este mundo. Pero, a diferencia del Creador, el reino de Adán estaba limitado, pues no incluía entes morales, ya que reinar sobre entes morales requería un conocimiento que, hasta ese momento, solo el Creador poseía. ¿Cual era tal conocimiento? Pues el conocimiento del bien y el mal.

Cuando Dios creó a Adam, estampó sobre él su imagen, la imagen de aquel que es Infinito. Y, esta esencia del Infinito, le impide al hombre hallar satisfacción alguna sino hasta el momento en que su vida asume espontáneamente la aptitud que le compele a extenderse hacia ese infinito que, instintivamente, reconoce como parte de su propia naturaleza. De ahí el que los seres humanos necesitemos pertenecer a algo mas grande que nosotros mismos; De ahí la necesidad de vivir persiguiendo siempre una meta mas alta y ennoblecedora.

Es que fuimos creados para extendernos hacia ese Infinito que, en el ultimo análisis, no es otra cosa sino el mismo Creador. El relato Edénico narra que, inicialmente, Dios moldeó a Adán del polvo de la tierra; pero luego Dios espiritualiza esta “tierra” que es nuestra humanidad, dándole eternidad por medio del acto de poner dentro de ella algo de lo que inicialmente estaba dentro del Creador. Esto no fue otra cosa sino “el aliento de vida”; la verdadera vida- No la vida que corresponde a nuestro finito cuerpo animal, sino la vida de Dios- una vida sin fin.

Ese impulso de extenderse hacia el infinito [puesto por Dios dentro de cada hombre], hace que este último anhele ser igual a su Creador. Este impulso, no es en sí mismo malo; de hecho, en un sentido muy real, esta en armonía tanto con el propósito como con las circunstancias de la creación de la raza humana. Pero, para llegar a ser igual al Creador, el hombre tenía primero que adquirir un conocimiento que solo Dios poseía: el conocimiento del bien y el mal. El Creador tiene una existencia propia e independiente, es decir, fuera de tiempo y espacio. Pero el hombre existe, y esta circunscrito, a tiempo y espacio. Es decir, el hombre esta sujeto a “causa y efecto”. Esta limitación se traduce en que, para conocer realmente las implicaciones del bien y el mal, este hombre creado por Dios tenía que vivir (o sea, experimentar en carne propia), ese mal que le impedía extenderse hacia ese infinito que anhelaba alcanzar. Así las cosas, Dios no intercede para impedir la caída de Adán. Al igual que en la historia de José y de sus hermanos, el Eterno decide utilizar lo que a primera vista podría parecer una tragedia humana, para llevar a cabo un plan mucho mas abarcador. Adán quiere ser como Dios, y para llegar a esta meta, decide utilizar el camino de la desobediencia, de la separación del Creador. En el camino de este plan que llevara a cabo el Creador, este último le mostrará al hombre la forma correcta de alcanzar su preciada meta. Pero, en la gracia Divina, Dios no solo cumplirá el deseo de Adán, sino que incluirá en ese deseo a toda su descendencia, es decir, a toda la raza humana.

Y, al final de este maravillosos plan, los seres humanos finalmente comprenderemos que, no nos hacemos divinos constituyéndonos en nuestros propios modelos de divinidad; en nuestro propio “estándar”, separados y opuestos al Creador. Es que, por definición misma, nada creado podrá jamas ser una mejor norma que su Creador. Así las cosas, Dios hizo del tropiezo de Adán, un trasfondo para proveernos una experiencia existencial donde se nos ayude a entrar en el camino correcto hacia la divinidad- es decir, el ser “Uno con Dios”; ser, tal y como es el Creador, “luz en medio de las tinieblas”; el dejar que los atributos de Dios (justicia, amor y misericordia) se conviertan en nuestros propios atributos.

La Escritura Hebrea ha descrito a Dios como “La Vida del Mundo (o “la vida del Universo”). Como esta escrito: “El hombre vestido de lino... alzó su diestra y su siniestra hacia los cielos, y le oí jurar por aquel que es la vida del Mundo”- Daniel 12:7, Biblia Hebrea. Y alguien ha dicho que, cada ser humano es, en sí mismo, un micro universo. Es en este sentido que nuestro espíritu puede verse como “el dios de nuestro propio universo”. Pero, como el Creador se manifiesta en nuestro plano de existencia por medio de la justicia, la misericordia, y la humildad (Deut. 32:4 & Miqueas 6:8), no podremos ser iguales al Creador, sino hasta que nuestro micro universo esté también lleno de estos mismos atributos. Es solo hasta entonces, que habremos logrado ser “uno con Dios”, estando así preparados para reinar con Él sobre el resto del universo, alcanzando de ese modo la esperanza última de redención mesiánica.

Cuando llegemos a la Eternidad, miraremos hacia atrás (al pasado), y comprenderemos que, el sufrimiento que experimentamos durante nuestra vida terrenal, fue absolutamente necesario; pues fue la mejor manera de entender con claridad las funestas implicaciones de la maldad.

Es que, no podemos “ascender” a nuestra próxima etapa de existencia, ni tampoco se nos puede dar inmortalidad, ni poder sobrenatural para reinar sobre otros mundos (y sobre otros seres morales), sin que primero hayamos aprendido a aborrecer la maldad. Y, esto último, no como producto de un conocimiento de segunda mano (como el que podríamos adquirir de alguien que intentase explicarnos el sufrimiento que invariablemente produce la maldad), sino por la experiencia de haberlo vivido en carne propia, y de haber sufrido sus consecuencias.

Es por esto que, en la Fe Hebrea, la salvación viene por el arrepentimiento. Es decir, el propósito último para el cual nos trajo Dios a esta existencia, no se cumplirá en nosotros sino hasta que renunciemos voluntariamente a la maldad, y abracemos en cambio el bien. Cuando llega ese momento, ya estamos listos para partir hacia la eternidad; a un plano superior de existencia.

Son muchos los textos Sagrados que aluden a esta interpretación del propósito de la vida. Incluso el Talmud judío hace claras referencias a este tema. Pero, como toda interpretación demasiado radical para la mente común, a menudo fue expuesto de forma sucinta, e indirecta. Por ejemplo, el libro de Bereshit (Génesis 1:26) menciona a Dios diciendo: “Hagamos al hombre a nuestra imagen, conforme a nuestra semejanza....” implicando así que Dios hace a sus “mensajeros” copartícipes de la administración de su creación. Luego, cuando los tres ángeles aparecen a Avraham (Gen 18:22), uno de ellos habla y actúa como si fuese el mismo Dios. Claro, a diferencia de la noble fe Cristiana, la tradición Hebrea prefigura al Creador como existiendo fuera de tiempo y espacio; así que, cada vez que se le adscribía deidad a un “malach” (ángel o mensajero), o a cualquier otra manifestación física, el judío entendía inmediatamente que se trataba de un representante divino, y no de la Divinidad en si misma.

Por ejemplo, la Torah dice en Éxodo 23:20-21: “He aquí yo envío mi ángel delante de ti, para que te guarde en el camino, y te introduzca en el lugar que Yo he preparado. Guardate delante de él, y oye su voz; no le seas rebelde; por que él no perdonara vuestra rebelión, porque mi nombre esta en él”. Y el verso 23 del mismo capítulo, dice: “Por que mi ángel ira delante de ti y te llevara a la tierra del amorreo...”. En la literatura talmúdica, a este ángel se le da el nombre de “Metatron”, o “El Precursor”. También es conocido como el “Ángel de la Presencia”. Este ángel, representa con tanta fidelidad al Creador, que se dice que “el nombre de Dios esta en él”.

Desde la perspectiva Hebrea Talmúdica, se entendía que a cada nación se le asignaba un ángel en particular. Por ejemplo, el ángel puesto sobre Egipto, era llamado “Mizraim”; mientras que, el ángel sobre Babilonia, era llamado “Kal”. Desde esta perspectiva, se reconocía una jerarquía de dignidad que seguía una cadena que llegaba hasta cada individuo. Por citar un ejemplo; un Midrash dice que, a cada individuo, se le asignaban dos ángeles para que le acompañasen durante toda su vida. En el otro extremo de la Jerarquía, la tradición decía que, aun los elementos (aire, tierra, fuego, agua. etc.) estaban bajo la asignación de algún ángel en particular. Por ejemplo, un midrash relata que, el ángel a cargo del fuego, es llamado “Gabriel”; mientras que, el ángel puesto a cargo del granizo, es llamado

Así, no debe sorprendernos que la exégesis que de la Escritura Hebrea hacían los sabios de Israel postulase que, a cada justo, habrá de asignársele al menos un mundo sobre el cual reinar (de hecho, una tradición postula que no sera un mundo, sino que serán 310 mundos). Y esto esta claramente expresado en el siguiente midrash talmúdico:

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

Hebrew Scripture utilizes Edom as a paradigm for the noble Christian religion

Christianity is to Hebrew Faith what Edom was to Jacob; Rivals from the very onset! In fact, Hebrew Scripture made Edom a prototype of future Christianity. Why? Because it foretold Edom's source of life would be "his Sword". As is written: "You will live by your sword ..." - Genesis 27:40; In other words, the blood shed by someone else, would be Edom's source of life and blessings- just as the blood shed by someone else (Jesus) is the Christian source of life and blessings. And the former might explain why, speaking to Mary about Jesus future ministry, the New Testament goes on to say: "And a sword will pierce your own soul..." - Luke 2:35. Not only that, but Jesus himself is portrayed as a sort of Divine Edom-one whose word is like a sword, shedding the blood of whole nations: "A sharp sword came from his mouth, so that he might strike the nations with it" - Revelation 19:15

Se cuenta que, en una ocasión, cuando el Rabino Simeón Ben Halafta retornaba a su casa un viernes en la tarde, encontró que no tenía dinero para comprar lo necesario para la cena del Shabbat (Sábado). Así descorazonado, salió solo fuera de la ciudad, y oró a Dios por su necesidad. De inmediato, una piedra preciosa le fue dada desde el Cielo. Fue entonces a los cambiadores de dinero, y vendió la piedra. Con lo que obtuvo, procedió a comprar comida para el Sábado. Sin embargo, su esposa le pregunto: “¿De donde viene toda esta comida?” El contestó: “De lo que ha provisto el Santo de Israel”. Ella le dijo: “Si no me dices de donde vino verdaderamente todo esto, no tocaré ni un bocado”. Así que él procedió a contar todo lo que había sucedido, para concluir diciéndole: “Oré a Dios y, desde el Cielo, Él me proveyó la piedra preciosa”. Ella dijo en incredulidad: “No voy a tocar ni un bocado hasta que me prometas que, al finalizar el Shabbat, devolverás la piedra preciosa”. Él preguntó: “¿Y por que habría de hacerlo?” Ella contestó: “¿Quieres que tu mesa (en el Cielo) este falta de recompensas, mientras que la de tus colegas este llena de ellas?” Ante tales palabras, Simeón fue y contó lo ocurrido al Rabino Judah I (el Patriarca), quien le contestó diciendo: “Vuelve y di a tu esposa que, lo que falte en tu mesa celestial, yo lo completaré de la mía”.

Cuando volvió, y relató estas palabras a su esposa, esta le tomó de la mano, y le dijo: “Ven y volvamos a aquel que te enseñó esa Torah”. Cuando llegaron de vuelta, ella le dijo al Rabino Judah: «Maestro, en el Mundo que ha de venir, ¿podrá un hombre ver a su colega? ¿No tendrá cada justo un mundo para si mismo? Por que la Escritura dice en Eclesiastés 12:5, “El hombre va a su propio mundo (o sea, su casa en la eternidad)”». Tan pronto como el Rabino Simeón Ben Halafta oyó lo que su esposa dijo, se apresuró a tornarse y devolver al Cielo la piedra preciosa. Los sabios de Israel dijeron: “El segundo milagro, fue aún mas grande que el primero”; por que, tan pronto como el Rabino Simeón extendió su mano para devolver la piedra al Cielo, un ángel descendió para tomarla de su mano (y una tradición dice que el Cielo da, pero no toma de vuelta)- Avodah Zara 3:1, 42c; Exod. R. 52:3; Yalkut, Prov., 890 mundo que vendrá, el Santo de Israel (sea su nombre bendito) hará que cada justo herede trescientos diez mundos, como se intima en el verso en Proverbios 8:21-“Para otorgarles “yesh” a aquellos que me aman...”. Si bien el significado de la palabra “yesh” (que a veces se traduce como “sustancia” o “riqueza”) es incierto, el valor numérico de la palabra original, es de trescientos diez: la letra “yod” [que tiene un valor numérico de diez], seguida por la letra “shin” [cuyo valor numérico es de trescientos].

Otra cita donde se intima que el propósito de la existencia humana es prepararnos para ser [en una esfera mas alta de existencia], algo similar a lo que el ángel Metatron es a esta existencia, se encuentra en Proverbios 82:6- El texto dice: “Yo dije, vosotros sois dioses, y todos vosotros hijos del Altísimo”. Otra inferencia adicional, se encuentra en el texto en Éxodo 4:16, que dice: “Y el (entiéndase Aarón) hablará por ti al pueblo, y el será tu portavoz, y tu jugarás el papel de Dios para él”.

Para resumir: hay una jerarquía de autoridad Divina, que comienza con nuestra realidad física mas elemental, y que se extiende hacia el Infinito [es decir, en dirección a la Infinita y Suprema Autoridad que es el Creador]. En esta infinita escala de jerarquía, se le asignará a cada ser humano un puesto directamente proporcional a la estatura moral a la que haya aspirado durante su vida terrenal. Es decir, mientras mas nos acerquemos al perfecto paradigma de justicia, de misericordia, y de humildad que es nuestro Creador, tanto mas honrosa será la jerarquía Divina que se nos habrá de asignar. Tanto la Torah como el Talmud Hebreo, muestran de modo alegórico estas mismas verdades. ¿Como?, pues enseñando que, “la cena” que disfruta el creyente [una vez ha llegado el día de Shabbat], consiste de lo que ha preparado con anterioridad [durante la víspera del Shabbat]. Y esto surgía del hecho de que estaba prohibido que el hombre encendiese un fuego durante el Shabbat [y pudiese por ende cocinar].

Así, en la anterior alegoría, la víspera del Shabbat representa la vida presente; mientras que, el día de Shabbat, no es otra cosa sino el Mundo que ha de venir (o “la Eternidad”); por otro lado, “la cena del Shabbat”, es la recompensa deparada para el hombre en el mundo que ha de venir; y, lo que preparamos durante la víspera del Shabbat, no es sino el bien que “cocinamos” (o “realizamos”) durante el tiempo en que habitamos nuestro cuerpo mortal.

Independientemente de la exactitud teológica de lo hasta aquí expuesto, si el mensaje de la Ley Divina logra fortalecer la fe del creyente Hebreo, de modo que este último deje de percibir la imitación de los valores Divinos (la obediencia a los diez mandamientos) como una pesada e impositiva carga; sino que los perciba en cambio como la maravillosa oportunidad que le provee Dios de ser co-partícipe del plan Divino [y a la vez arquitecto de su propio futuro], sentiremos que el nombre de Elohim (bendito sea) ha sido de ese modo apropiadamente glorificado.

¿Que debe hacer el Hombre que desea abandonar la senda del error en la cual ha sido instruido, para volver en cambio a la Senda antigua de la pura, clara, y sencilla fe en la Ley de Dios?

¿Que debe hacer el Hombre que desea abandonar la senda del error en la cual ha sido instruido, para volver en cambio a la Senda antigua de la pura, clara, y sencilla fe en la Ley de Dios? Pues debe renunciar al engaño y la maldad; jurando fidelidad y obediencia a יהוה (Adonai Yah, el Dios de Israel, bendito sea); y haciendo la siguiente confesión pública- «Oh יהוה (Adonai Yah), Señor Dios de Abraham, Confieso que No hay otro Dios, ni hay otro Salvador, tan grande como Tu; Confieso que no hay otro profeta, tan grande como Moisés; ni hay otra Ley, tan grande como Tus Diez Mandamientos.

Confieso que no hay otra Escritura, tan grande como Tu Torah; ni hay otro pueblo, tan grande como Israel. Y confieso que no hay otra teología tan grande, verdadera, y justa, como la de "Medida por Medida" (o "Siembra y Cosecha"): recompensar a cada uno, con el mismo bien que, con sus obras, haya voluntariamente sembrado; y castigar a cada uno con el mismo mal que, con sus obras, haya voluntariamente sembrado (sin nunca haberse arrepentido). Gracias, porque has escuchado mi oración, y has perdonado [como prometiste] mis pecados. Y gracias por haberme hecho en este día, miembro integral de tu Pueblo Santo; el Pueblo de Dios que está prefigurado en la Nación de Israel. Amén».

El Milagro de la Sumisión a los Mandamientos Divinos

Cuando un hombre cree en los mandamientos de יהוה (Adonai Yah), y somete su alma a la obediencia de ellos, se obra en ese hombre un milagro tan grande como el de la creación de la vida de Adam (Adán). ¿Y la prueba? Pues Naamán, quien creyó lo ordenado por Dios, y procedió a sumergirse siete veces en el Jordán. Y, ¿por que siete? Pues porque “el siete” tipifica el acto de completar una nueva creación, como está escrito: “Y acabó Dios en el día séptimo la obra que hizo...”- Génesis 2:2. Es decir, cuando Naamán se sometió a la obediencia de lo ordenado por el Creador (sumergiéndose siete veces en el Jordán), una nueva vida fue creada dentro de él, tal y como sucedió durante la creación de Adam; En otras palabras, ¡Naamán volvió a nacer! Por eso dice la Escritura: “... entonces descendió, y se zambulló siete veces en el Jordán, conforme a la palabra del varón de Dios; y su carne se volvió como la carne de un niño (recién nacido), y quedó limpio” - 2 Reyes 5:14.

What Torah And Moses have to say about Human rights

«In those days, there was no King over Israel; every man did that which was right in his own eyes» (Judges 21:25). When it comes to human rights, our Master Moses teaches us that God's infinite wisdom gives Him the right to rule over humanity, just as a human king would rule over his subjects. Thus, it is God (and not mankind) who defines the boundaries of human culture, speech, actions, lifestyle, and rights.

In practice, this Divine boundary is embodied by Moses ten commandments. These commandments, are the moral manifestation of God's supernatural wisdom. A wisdom that teaches the Supreme Law that rules the whole universe: God's Divine Justice- the principle of action, and reaction; of cause, and effect; of measure, for measure; of sowing, and reaping.

Therefore, knowing in advance that every man will reap whatever is it he has sowed, God commands His human subjects to do the goodness ordered by Moses, abstaining from doing any kind of evil, as well as from evil ideas.

Thus, the believer cannot pretend to use his so called “freedom of speech” to violate the command that forbids him from bearing false witness. Neither can he use it to defame his neighbor [thereby stealing his honor], thus violating the command forbidding him from stealing anything (Exodus 20:15). By the same token, a gay person cannot claim that his “gender ideology” gives him the right to put his parents to shame with his open, undisciplined sexuality (gay, lesbian or transgender lifestyle); nor use it to rob them of their future grandchildren (thus violating “honor thy father and thy mother”, and “do not murder”- Exodus 20:12&13).

The fact is that, no one who claims to be a servant of the King of the Universe, has the “human right” to openly do any sort of evil; and, if he so does, he deserves to be punished: «THEN SHALL YE DO UNTO HIM, AS HE HAD THOUGHT TO HAVE DONE UNTO HIS BROTHER: so shalt thou put the evil away from among you. AND THOSE WHICH REMAIN SHALL HEAR, AND FEAR, AND SHALL HENCEFORTH COMMIT NO MORE ANY SUCH EVIL AMONG YOU. And THINE EYE SHALL NOT PITY; BUT LIFE SHALL GO FOR LIFE, EYE FOR EYE, TOOTH FOR TOOTH, HAND FOR HAND, FOOT FOR FOOT»- Deut. 19:19-21.

On the other hand, and regarding “multiculturalism”, the idea implies that all cultures have similar value; that those practices which are considered by one particular culture evil, may be considered good by another. Within this ideological framework, good and evil are not absolute moral imperatives, but rather optional [cultural] norms.

Again, Moses standpoint on multiculturalism, is the same as toward human rights, freedom of speech, and gender ideology: that God’s people cannot follow the cultural immorality of the heathen nations (those that refuse to be ruled by Moses commands): «WHEN THOU ART COME INTO THE LAND WHICH THE LORD THY GOD GIVETH THEE, THOU SHALT NOT LEARN TO DO AFTER THE ABOMINATIONS OF THOSE NATIONS. There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch. Or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer. FOR ALL THAT DO THESE THINGS ARE AN ABOMINATION UNTO THE LORD: and because of these abominations the Lord thy God doth drive them out from before thee. Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God. For these nations, which thou shalt possess, hearkened unto observers of times, and unto diviners: but as for thee, the Lord thy God hath not suffered thee so to do» - Deut. 18:9-14.

And also in another place: «And YE SHALL NOT WALK IN THE MANNERS OF THE NATION, which I cast out before you: FOR THEY COMMITTED ALL THESE THINGS, AND THEREFORE I ABHORRED THEM. But I have said unto you, Ye shall inherit their land, and I will give it unto you to possess it, a land that floweth with milk and honey: I AM THE LORD YOUR GOD, WHICH HAVE SEPARATED YOU FROM OTHER PEOPLE. YE SHALL THEREFORE PUT DIFFERENCE BETWEEN CLEAN beasts AND UNCLEAN, and between unclean fowls and clean [between the morally pure, and the impure]: and ye shall not make your souls abominable by beast, or by fowl, or by any manner of living thing that creepeth on the ground, which I have separated from you as unclean. And YE SHALL BE HOLY unto me: for I the Lord am holy, and have severed you from other people, that ye should be mine» - Leviticus 20: 23-26.

Thus, God’s Law (also known as “Torah”) hints at the fact that, the culture which naturally arises among any group of people that allows itself to be shaped by Torah's commandments, will be of such a superior nature that it’ll be praised by other cultures: «Behold, I have taught you statutes and judgments, even as the Lord my God commanded me, that ye should do so in the land whither ye go to possess it. Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of THE NATIONS, WHICH SHALL HEAR ALL THESE STATUTES, AND SAY, SURELY THIS GREAT NATION IS A WISE AND UNDERSTANDING PEOPLE. For what nation is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them, as the Lord our God is in all things that we call upon him for?» - Deut. 4:5-7. And also in another place: «And it came to pass, when Hiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoiced greatly, and said, BLESSED BE THE LORD this day, which hath given unto David a wise son OVER THIS GREAT PEOPLE» - 1 Kings 5:7.

Thus, in a God fearing culture, any person who attempts to use his alleged “human rights” to openly harm the well being of the people [whether by corrupting the community's moral values, or whether by harming individual members of the community], should be punished by the authorities without any hesitation.

"Pfizer has been hesitant to go into some of the countries because of the liability problems, they don't have a liability shield" - World Bank President David Malpass

If Pfizer is so confident that its vaccine has been proven safe in rigorous trials, why is it unwilling to take responsibility for any problems? And if it is unwilling to take the risk with its own product, how is that going to persuade the vaccine-hesitant to take the risk themselves?

The promise of shutting down the Virus with Vaccines has failed as infections continue to spread. 400,000 Americans died in 2020 before the Vaccines, and 400,000 Americans have now died in 2021 despite 200 million Americans being jabbed. Conversely, Adverse Effects and scientific literature warning of chronic, long-term risks from the Vaccines continues to grow.

As of December 10th 2021, VAERS records 20,244 Vaccine-related Deaths, and 965,841 Adverse Events, 106,129 Vaccine-related Hospitalisations, 106,308 needing Urgent Care, 151,187 Doctors Visits, 8516 Anaphylaxis Shock, 12,127 cases of Bell's Palsy, 3,297 Miscarriages after Vaccination, 10,229 Heart Attacks, 19,039 Cases of Myocarditis/Pericarditis, 33,675 Permanently Disabled, 4,807 for Thrombocytopenia, 22,953 in Life-Threatening conditions, 35,529 Severe Allergic Reaction, and 11,126 cases of Shingles.

In FOIA Disclosure of FDA Confidential Documents, Pfizer listed 9 pages of Adverse Effects 'of special interest'. Populations are being experimented on. Adverse Events for the Covid Vaccines are greater than all other Vaccines combined in the last 30 years. Research studies show that VAERS records only a fraction of the true number. Scientists writing in the American Heart Journal and European Heart Journal are worried about an iceberg of Coronary Disease surfacing in the next ten to fifteen years.

It is clear from FOIA disclosures and changing political narratives that too little is known about the experimental vaccines to regard them as safe or effective. Pathways have been demonstrated to show all kinds of potential harms, from Neuro-degenerative disease, Immuno-compromise, Fertility problems and DNA modification in future progeny.

Pharmaceutical companies are profit-driven entities and rules on transparency and liability exist to keep them honest and ensure only safe, effective drugs are provided to the public. It may turn out to be a big mistake to have allowed them to avoid this scrutiny and accountability just because many were desperate for a medical way out of the pandemic.

Ethical Monotheism: How do we know that Noah was a better [and greater] believer than Abraham (peace and blessings be upon them both)?

How do we know that Noah was a far greater believer than Abraham? We know it because Abraham served (or obeyed) God only during the last 100 years of his life (starting at age 75); but, as for Noah, he served his Creator during his whole life (930 years).

We know Noah was greater than Abraham because God gave Abraham only the land of Israel, whereas He gave the entire world Noah; We know it because God only allowed Abraham to start a new family (the children of Israel); whereas God allowed Noah to start a new human race.

We know it because Noah's redemptive role was given to him at birth ("And he [Lamech] called his name Noah, saying, THIS SAME SHALL COMFORT US [THE WHOLE HUMAN RACE] concerning our work and toil of our hands..."- Genesis 5:29), whereas Abraham's redemptive role wasn't given to him until he was a 75 years old man ("... and in thee shall ALL FAMILIES OF THE EARTH be blessed"- Genesis 12:3).

We know it because Noah didn't just verbally warned his evil generation concerning the impending destruction; he went the extra mile, and spent 120 years building the ark, so that everybody could see that he was for real, as he was willing to "put his money, where his mouth was".

We know that Noah was greater than Abraham because, by saving his own family, as well as the animals, Noah was able to preserve the world. On the other hand, not only wasn't Abraham able to save Sodom and Gomorrah; he wasn't even able to his nephew's family [as they ended up so morally corrupted, that never again did they join Abraham's camp].

We know that Noah was greater than Abraham because God himself attests to the fact that Noah was blameless. As it is written: "These [are] the generations of Noah: NOAH WAS A JUST MAN [AND] PERFECT IN HIS GENERATIONS, [and] Noah walked with God"- Genesis 6:9. But as for Abraham, he still lacked perfection [as he would ask Sarah to lie to the Egyptians], so God had to actually ask him to be blameless: "When Abram was ninety-nine years old, the Lord appeared to Abram and said to him, "I am Almighty God; walk before Me and BE BLAMELESS..."- Genesis 17:1

Finally, we know that Noah was a greater believer than Abraham because, unlike Abraham, Noah is described as being "just and perfect in his generations". But, since the word "generations" imply at least two different generations, it stands to reason that Scripture hints at the idea that Noah's behavior would have made him a just person not only during his current generation, but even during any other generation.

In other words, if while being the only righteous person in an utterly depraved generation, Noah remained faithful, how much more by far would he had been able to remain faithful in the midsts of any other not so depraved generation? And the former is also confirmed by Hebrew scripture, when it goes on to list Noah [instead of Abraham] as one of the three most righteous believers ever to walk upon the face of the Earth; as is written: "Son of man, when the land [of Israel] sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it... THOUGH these three men, NOAH, Daniel, and Job, WERE IN IT, they should deliver but their own souls BY THEIR RIGHTEOUSNESS, saith the Lord God"- Ezekiel 14:13.

But, why was Noah more successful than Abraham? Simply because while Abraham placed his trust on "saving words" [words of intercession], Noah placed his trust on "saving actions". In other words, Abraham represents the kind of believer who says: "The decree of Destruction is in God's hand's, so let me pray to Him, and see if I can convince Him to change His mind".

On the other hand, Noah represents the kind of believer who knows that [in the eyes of the Lord]

"actions speak louder than words". He represents the man who knows that, well intended words [words of prayer, words of learning, etc] are of little avail if they aren't followed by concrete actions. And this is why, when prophet Moses is praying for Israel's deliverance, God tells him to start doing something concrete [to move forward], as it is written: "And the Lord said unto Moses, "Why criest thou unto Me? SPEAK UNTO THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL, THAT THEY GO FORWARD"- Exodus 14:15.

Likewise, when David prays that Jerusalem be spared from God's judgment, God answers by asking him to do something concrete: to build an altar. As it is written: "And David spoke unto the Lord when he saw the angel who smote the people, and said, "Lo, I have sinned, and I have done wickedly. But these sheep, what have they done? Let Thine hand, I PRAY THEE, BE AGAINST ME AND AGAINST MY FATHER'S HOUSE. And Gad came that day to David and said unto him [in the name of the Lord], "GO UP, REAR AN ALTAR UNTO THE LORD on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite"- 2 Samuel 24:17-18.

The former also explains why prophet Daniel advised king Nebuchadnezzar to save himself from God's judgment not by saying good words, but by doing good actions. As it is written: "Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee; and BREAK OFF THY SINS BY RIGHTEOUSNESS AND THINE INIQUITIES BY SHOWING MERCY TO THE POOR"- Daniel 4:27.

In short, it is good and well to be Abraham's spiritual children [learning Torah, practicing it's rites, and praying to the God of Israel]; but we will be even better off if, in addition to children of Abraham, we also become Noah's spiritual children. How? Moving forward, building our own altar to the Lord, doing righteousness, and showing mercy to the poor.

And maybe this is the reason why the Jewish Talmud quotes Rava saying the following: "The purpose of learning [words of Torah] is repentance and good deeds"- Berakhot 17a.

And, as for he who learns words of Torah without the intention to back them up with good deeds, the Talmud says in the name of Rav Huna: "He who occupies himself only with studying Torah, acts as if he has no God [in other words, as an atheist]"- Avoda Zarah 17b.

And the ancient Jewish tradition (Pirke Avot 1:17) summarizes the whole lesson by saying the following: "IT IS NOT THE STUDY [OF WORDS OF TORAH] THAT IS ESSENTIAL, BUT RATHER THE ACTION"

Gender violence involving gay people?

If you are openly homosexual, bisexual, lesbian, or trans-sexual, the first thing you need to do in order to stop the "gender violence cycle" is to apologize to your own victims (your parents, as well as your near relatives)... If they are still alive, go ahead and call your Mom and Dad; then ask their forgiveness for all the pain, the suffering, and the shame that you brought upon them with your openly Gay lifestyle... Ask to be forgiven for the violence of depriving them of their fair share of natural grandchildren... Tell them you are sincerely sorry, and that from now on you'll try to live a different life; one that makes them feel proud of you. If you do so, you will not only be "returning to the straight path" (pun intended), but you will also start to experience the peace with God your soul so desperately needs (as the proverb goes: "Stand up for Confession and obedience, and peace of mind you'll soon experience")

Science Values are Being Influenced by Immoral Individuals

Scientific research has become controlled by immoral group of individuals, which allows atrocities to be committed all under the name of progress. Although the majority of talented scientists are humane, most hierarchal individuals in charge of this industry are self serving individuals who would stop at nothing to achieve their desired outcome at anyone's or any group's expense.

When scientists work individually on their own to find a solution for a problem related to health or a technological invention of any kind; they usually are genuinely trying to help humanity with their inventions. But when an organization becomes involved in controlling these inventions, that's when they turn a moral ethical invention to an immoral unethical use of such a discovery. Usually with the help of so called law, the inventor will be prosecuted, suppressed, robbed from the invention or forced to give it up to those who desire more control and more power.

Having a large organization controlling the majority of what must be allowed and disallowed have a major repercussion on our human rights. One or two self serving individuals decides for the majority of people on what they can or can't do regarding health, technology, or even inventions.

If we are free to live our lives the way we see fit without harming others, then why are we allowing someone else to make the decision for us? Our rights as individuals are slowly being taken away because we keep on letting the bullies make the rules in the playground of our world.

In order to change this warped system of control, we must be allowed to freely express ourselves in our personal lives, work, inventions and discoveries without someone else's self serving interfering intentions. The problem with private wealthy organizations is that they are also involved with governmental control decisions. So not only are they controlling the business market, they are also controlling the law as well; while money is no object to them, who do you think is losing in the end?!

What we nowadays call "atheism", is in fact a very old idea; one that has tried to conquer humanity's mind since the beginning of time. The Sodomites, Esav, Pharaoh, Korah, and Nebuchadnezzar are just a few ancient examples of practical atheists: people who refused to submit to any Supreme Being, other than themselves.

Up until 2,000 years ago, Hebrew people referred to Atheists with the Greek word "Apicoros" (Epicureans). In our present time, modern atheists clothe their ideology with a halo of scientific respectability, as if scientific respectability is a sort of magic wand, capable of erasing Hebrew history; it's liberation from Egypt, it's miraculous wandering in the wilderness, the conquest of the promised land, it's continued survival.

Modern atheists propose that Hebrew historians are a bunch of liars: that there was no Moses, no Exodus, no Holy Ark, no manna, no stone tablets, no staff of Aaron, etc. In fact, they even suggest that the Hebrew feast of Pesach is a dirty lie, as there was no death of Egyptian firstborns.

Modern atheist wants us to believe that there is no Creator, and that our present reality (all of it!) is the result of a mindless [and random] process of evolution; an evolution that is solely driven by "the survival of the fittest".

What's the problem with this argument? The problem is that it's self defeating. In other words, If evolution is true, then "reason" is just a figment of our imagination: a clever illusion devised by the evolutionary process, in order to assist us to adapt and survive our hostile environment. Why?

Because, having no intrinsic intelligence within itself, evolution's primary goal cannot be to give us "reason", nor for that sake any tool that would reliably enable us to ascertain "the Truth" (or even "the Reality") of our environment (our universe); It's all about survival !!

In other words, evolution has no "reason" to give us any "reason"; no reason to let us accurately understand "the truth" of our existence. Instead, what evolution aims at, is forcing us to interpret our surroundings in a way we can cope with; a way that fosters our survival [regardless of the "truthfulness", or the "accuracy" of our interpretation]. Thus, in a rather ironic fashion, evolution gives us no "reason" to blindly believe in "reason".

In fact, the reason why some pretend to use their alleged reason in order to justify their atheism might be that such mechanism is indeed evolution's way of helping them survive an environment they perceive as hostile. In other words, it is evolution's way of helping the homosexual [or the morally weak personality] to adapt and survive what he perceives as a threatening religious environment. So, if pure evolution is indeed true, the evolutionary "mirage" of "reasoned Atheism" is evolution's way to let atheists survive their hostile environment.

And, if so, they shouldn't feel ashamed to be intellectually honest, and proceed to acknowledge it. It's sort of like the story of the American soldier who, while serving in Vietnam, fell in love with a Vietnamese girl. Sadly, the girl was so poor, that she couldn't even afford to buy deodorant. What did the soldier do? He stopped using deodorant himself.

After a while, he got so used to his hostile environment (both his girlfriend's as well as his own bad odor), that he no longer sensed it-- of course, the lack of stench was only a fancy illusion, with no connection to reality, but with lot's of survival value (they ended up having a baby!).

Beware Of Critical Race Theory and Gender ideology!- The N.W.O. wants to crash the system, to build back better (building a totalitarian state!)

Both "Gender Ideology" (invented by Dr. John Money), as well as "Critical Race Theory" (invented by secular Jews belonging to "the School of Frankfurt", which after 1933 operated at the grounds of Columbia University) are artificially created social constructs, currently serving as convenient "ideological beach heads" for those who would (secretly) profit from promoting the Cultural Marxists agenda.

What are they trying to achieve with the former ideologies? Very Simple! They just want to split [and divide] Western societies into opposing [and antagonistic] camps: Proletariat against Bourgeoisie; Female against Male; Gay against Straight; Black against White; Atheist against Religious; Employee against Employer; Citizen against Government; etc... To what end? In order to create within each of these societies "a carbon copy" of the "class struggle" environment that, back in 1917, gave rise to Russia's Marxist revolution.

In other words, to collapse Western societies, filling them with an intolerable sense of social injustice, insecurity, disassociation, and conflict, so that the average citizen feels compelled to rebel against the existing "Democratic Establishment".

"The Gay lifestyle is to wholesome morality, what a madman is to mental clarity"

Si vives mucho tiempo cerca de una "letrina", eventualmente dejarás de sentir "la peste"... Y si siempre haz vivido cerca de esa letrina [sin nunca haberte despegado de ella], no solamente puede que hayas olvidado que las letrinas apestan, sino que hasta te sientas orgulloso de haber crecido en tal lugar. Y esto mismo sucede con "las letrinas morales" en las que a menudo nos desenvolvemos [la tiranía, la hipocresía, el fraude, el auto-engaño, el orgullo, el robo, el adulterio, la homosexualidad, el ateísmo, el lenguaje profano, la envidia, etc]... Con el tiempo, nos acostumbramos tanto a su "peste", que no solamente dejamos de sentirla, sino que hasta nos molestamos con aquellos que, no estando acostumbrados a ellas, protestan por su incómoda hediondez...

Never give your blind trust to any establishment! (The Tuskegee Syphilis Study)

«The Tuskegee Study of Untreated Syphilis in the Negro Male (informally referred to as the Tuskegee Experiment or Tuskegee Syphilis Study) was an ethically abusive study conducted between 1932 and 1972 by the United States Public Health Service (PHS) and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) on a group of nearly 400 African Americans with syphilis. The purpose of the study was to observe the effects of the disease when untreated, though by the end of the study it was entirely treatable. The men were not informed of the nature of the experiment, and more than 100 died as a result.

TUSKEGEE C.D.C. SYPHILIS STUDY (NEVER TRUST THE ESTABLISHMENT!)

A doctor draws blood from one of the Tuskegee test subjects

Dates: 1932-1972

Locations: Tuskegee, Alabama

Funding: U.S. Public Health Service

The Public Health Service started the study in 1932 in collaboration with Tuskegee University (then the Tuskegee Institute), a historically Black college in Alabama. In the study, investigators enrolled a total of 600 impoverished African-American sharecroppers from Macon County, Alabama. Of these men, 399 had latent syphilis, with a control group of 201 men who were not infected.[5] As an incentive for participation in the study, the men were promised free medical care. While the men were provided with both medical and mental care that they otherwise would not have received, they were deceived by the PHS, who never informed them of their syphilis diagnosis and provided disguised placebos, ineffective methods, and diagnostic procedures as treatment for "bad blood".

The men were initially told that the experiment was only going to last six months, but it was extended to 40 years. After funding for treatment was lost, the study was continued without informing the men that they would never be treated. None of the infected men were treated with penicillin despite the fact that, by 1947, the antibiotic was widely available and had become the standard treatment for syphilis.

The study continued, under numerous Public Health Service supervisors, until 1972, when a leak to the press resulted in its termination on November 16 of that year.[14] By then, 28 patients had died directly from syphilis, 100 died from complications related to syphilis, 40 of the patients' wives were infected with syphilis, and 19 children were born with congenital syphilis.

The 40-year Tuskegee Study was a major violation of ethical standards, and has been cited as "arguably the most infamous biomedical research study in U.S. history." [16] Its revelation led to the 1979 Belmont Report and to the establishment of the Office for Human Research Protections (OHRP) and federal laws and regulations requiring institutional review boards for the protection of human subjects in studies. The OHRP manages this responsibility within the United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). Its revelation has also been an important cause of distrust in medical science and the US government amongst African Americans.

On May 16, 1997, President Bill Clinton formally apologized on behalf of the United States to victims of the study, calling it shameful and racist: "What was done cannot be undone, but we can end the silence," he said. "We can stop turning our heads away. We can look at you in the eye, and finally say, on behalf of the American people, what the United States government did was shameful and I am sorry."

Reformed Samaritanism And Abortion

One of names Reformed Samaritans ascribe to God is "Life" ("Hai"). As is written: "And I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, when he lifted up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and swore by Life ("Hai") [of] the World..." (Daniel 12:7, Hebrew Bible literal translation).

Thus, the devaluation of human life purest expression (in other words, the murdering of innocent children) can be said to be the hallmark of any truly pagan (or godless) society.

Even the Christian gospel bears witness to this, when it quotes Jesus [God's alleged incarnation] saying the following: "And whoever welcomes one child like this in my name, [he thereby] welcomes me. But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to fall away [or die]—it would be better for him if a heavy millstone were hung around his neck and he were drowned in the depths of the sea"- Matthew 18:5-6, Christian Standard Bible.

Freedom of Speech?

Freedom of speech is when you are allowed to utter honest and legitimate criticism. Before that, to criticize the rulers would get you the chop, no matter if it was legitimate or not. So freedom of speech was introduced because legitimate criticism was found to be beneficial. Unfortunately, the definition has been flipped on its head, and freedom of speech now is wearing a bikini in a Jewish synagogue, or vandalizing the building of a Christian church; while genuine freedom of speech [honest, constructive, and legitimate criticism] gets you labelled "a terrorist" [The very thing it was trying to do away with it!]

Genderless Restrooms And Home Schooling

In the possessed spirit of these woke times, Chicago Public Schools has moved to designate restrooms free-for-alls to promote 'inclusivity.' The only thing the initiative will achieve, however, is to confuse and endanger students.

Back in 1972, a famous television commercial, sponsored by the United Negro College Fund, extolled the virtues of a wholesome education by proclaiming, "a mind is a terrible thing to waste." What a difference half a century has made. Today, the slogan would be more accurate if it proclaimed, 'a radical liberal agenda to screw with the minds of children is a terrible thing to waste.' Chicago Public Schools (CPS), putting its woke credentials on full display, has mandated that institutions make restrooms 'gender-neutral,' thereby allowing students to relieve themselves in restrooms that align with their gender identity, and I'm guessing pronouns, too.

It's almost as though CPS never heard the recent story about the boy who, allegedly dressed in a skirt, proceeded to rape a female classmate in a girls' restroom at Stone Bridge High School in Ashburn, Virginia. The parents of the sexually assaulted girl said the now-charged teenager was "gender fluid" sparking backlash against the school's policy that allows students to use the restrooms that match their gender identity. (That policy, however, was introduced after the assault). Instead of coming clean about the incident, administrators quietly transferred the boy to another school, where he allegedly committed – surprise! – yet another sexual assault against a female.

Separating biological males from females in bathrooms and locker rooms is such a no-brainer that it seems ridiculous wasting time discussing it. Yet school administrators continue to act as though sexual predators have been safely confined to horror fiction, or that females have never been raped before. Their primary concern is to massage their egos by virtue-signaling on behalf of ill-conceived legislation. Everyone deserves protection, but to cast the 99 percent to the wolves out of concern for the one percent is yet another liberal experiment doomed to explode.

Mary Ann Fergus, CPS Executive Director of Media Relations, justified the unisex bathroom mandate by saying: "Our restrooms are open for use to anyone who feels comfortable in that space". Note that all of the focus is on the 'comfort' of the 'gender-fluid' individual, while providing zero consideration to the majority of females who must use the facilities on a daily basis.

The problem, however, goes beyond the threat of physical assault, as serious as that is. There is also a very real 'mental assault' being committed against children. When schools endorse such 'gender-fluid’ restroom policies, they are exposing elementary-school children to highly complex ideas that are far beyond their mental abilities to grasp. It’s not as though these restroom policies exist in a vacuum; young schoolchildren are already being exposed to transgender ideology inside of the classroom, where indoctrinators encourage kids to ‘question their gender’.

Suggesting to young and impressionable children that they may be ‘trapped in the wrong body’ has led to a wave of ‘gender dysphoria’ among youth, predominantly among girls, who become completely confused about their sexuality. The result is that an increasing number of adolescents seek to alter their bodies with the assistance of radical medical techniques, including irreversible surgical procedures, a lifetime of hormone drugs, and even puberty blockers. The medical community is slowly awakening to the risk of these ‘transitioning’ techniques as many of the recipients say they regret having made the decision of going through with these life-altering decisions.

Western education is stuck in the proverbial toilet because that is really where the brains of educators have been focused for the last decade or so. Last month, for example, a high school in Austin, Texas removed the doors from its bathrooms in a lamebrain quest to create a “safe environment.”

Apparently the occasional marijuana deal and cigarette break was going down in the loo, as they have been forever, so the best course of action was to destroy – in true totalitarian fashion – the freedoms enjoyed by the majority due to a few bad apples.

Looking for some good reading material in that unisex toilet? Fairfax County School Board in Virginia has said it would return to its library bookshelves glorious works of literature with inspirational titles like, “Gender Queer: A Memoir” and “Lawn Boy,” which graphically depict – with illustrations – sexual acts between adults and children. In other words, what the US criminal law typically refers to as ‘pedophilia’.

Parents from the Virginia school district had hoped to force the books off the library shelves and into the dumpster, but the school board voted, in all of its collective wisdom, to keep these titles available to “serve the needs of LGBTQ+ students.” That’s very strange. After all, nowhere is the initial ‘P’ to be found in the LGBTQ+ acronym parade. But if it has been snuck in there somewhere, along with the other rubbish, then perhaps someone should call the cops, not the school librarian.

Personally, my question with regards to this escalating madness is how so many generations of Americans passed through the public education system without the necessity of hearing about transgender lifestyles, gender equity, unisex toilets, and the like. The general rule was that not until senior year in high school did students get that first uncomfortable ‘sex education’ lesson, which endorsed the irrefutable biological fact, clearly observable under the microscope, that humans exist due to the existence of XX and XY chromosomes, identifying females and males, respectively. Mindless chatter today about the existence of dozens of gender types is flights of fancy that simply confuses the youth and some adults, which is most likely the motivating factor behind all of this craziness.

So how to escape the institutional madness that seems to have settled on America for the long haul? One answer among an increasing number of parents seems to be homeschooling their children. The movement got its impetus in part from the shortsighted Covid lockdowns, when children were forced to attend classes remotely via Zoom. Alice Salles, from the Libertarian Institute, observed that the pandemic gave parents a golden opportunity to understand firsthand “just how abysmal the curricula and tutelage were”.

These new perceptions about the US public education system, none of them very positive, forced many families to make the transition to homeschooling. Citing statistics from the US Census Bureau, Salles noted that from 2012 to 2019 the homeschooling rate was around 3.3% of US students from kindergarten-to-12. The figure jumped to 5.4% by Spring 2020. By fall of last year, it had more than doubled, to 11.1%.

While some of the change in attitude could be attributed to the Covid pandemic, judging by the outpouring of anger and frustration that have become a regular part of school-board meetings these days, some of the fallout is due to the perception that the US public school system is simply failing children. Too many parents fear that woke nonsense is being passed off to their children inside of the classroom under the guise of 'education.'

And while it's not an option open to everyone, homeschooling is one very effective way of sending a message to the government: that parents are no longer willing to accept the indoctrination of their children with concepts that border on pure insanity.

Biological sex is objective reality; while "Gender" is just a private [and therefore subjective] interpretation of such objective reality. And, when it comes to subjective interpretations, it might be wise to remember Abe Lincoln's famous quote: "If you call a tail a leg, how many legs has a dog? Five? No, calling a tail a leg don't make it a leg" ...

El mensaje [implícito] de la noble Fe Cristiana, es que el Creador posee un ego de proporciones gigantescas. Y, este inmenso ego, le hace ser sumamente caprichoso, pues espera que todos le rindamos ciega pleitesía y adulación; y que respondamos servilmente, diciendo "Si", a todo lo que ese Dios diga y ordene, sin importar si lo que alegadamente dice [u ordena] no hace sentido, es injusto, o es arbitrario. Pero, el mensaje implícito de la Fe Hebrea, es un poco mas ennoblecedor, pues postula que, el verdadero Dios, no necesita absolutamente nada, y es moralmente perfecto; no teniendo caprichos ni deseos que necesiten ser satisfechos pues [nuevamente], no necesita absolutamente nada de los seres humanos [es decir, no necesita que creamos en el, no necesita que le amemos, que le adoremos, ni que le obedezcamos]. Como resultado de esto, el juicio de Dios no está basado en ningún capricho que el Creador pueda poseer [en nada que podamos haberle «dado», o dejado de dar], sino en la justicia que se manifiesta en conceder a cada individuo el mismo bien o mal que, con sus obras, haya libre y voluntariamente escogido. Como confirma la Escritura Hebrea cuando dice: «¡LEJOS ESTE DE DIOS LA IMPIEDAD, y del Omnipotente la iniquidad! PORQUE ÉL PAGARÁ AL HOMBRE SEGÚN SU OBRA, Y LE RETRIBUIRÁ CONFORME A SU CAMINO. Si, por cierto, DIOS NO HARÁ INJUSTICIA, y el Omnipotente no pervertirá el derecho» (Job 34:10-12). Y también dice en otro lugar: «Porque TÚ PAGAS A CADA UNO CONFORME A SU OBRA» (Salmo 62:12). Y mas adelante dice: «El que mira por tu alma, ÉL lo conocerá, Y DARÁ AL HOMBRE SEGÚN SUS OBRAS» (Proverbios 24:12). Y también dice el profeta: «... MIS ESCOGIDOS DISFRUTARÁN LA OBRA DE SUS MANOS» (Isaías 65:22). Y fue precisamente esa justicia Divina (la ley de la siembra y la cosecha) el motivo para que el Rey Adoni-bezec [quien había cortado los pulgares de muchos reyes] mereciese que sus pulgares fuesen también cortados. Como dice la Escritura: «Y subió Judá, y Yah entregó en sus manos al cananeo y al ferezeo; e hirieron de ellos en Bezec a diez mil hombres. Y hallaron a Adoni-bezec en Bezec, y pelearon contra él; y derrotaron al cananeo y al ferezeo. MAS ADONI-BEZEC HUYÓ; y le siguieron y le prendieron, Y LE CORTARON LOS PULGARES DE LAS MANOS Y DE LOS PIES. ENTONCES DIJO ADONI-BEZEC: "SETENTA REYES, CORTADOS LOS PULGARES DE SUS MANOS Y DE SUS PIES, RECOGÍAN LAS MIGAJAS DEBAJO DE MI MESA; COMO YO HICE, ASÍ ME HA PAGADO

DIOS"» (Josué 1:4-7). Fue esa misma justicia Divina, la que condenó al Rey Agag a morir por la espada; pues, con su espada, había dado muerte a muchos inocentes. Como está escrito: «COMO TU ESPADA DEJÓ A LAS MUJERES SIN HIJOS, ASÍ TU MADRE SERÁ SIN HIJO entre las mujeres. Entonces Samuel cortó [con su espada] en pedazos a Agag delante de Yah en Gilgal» (1 Samuel 15:33) Finalmente, el justo Juicio Divino que se manifiesta en la Ley de “medida por medida” (siembra y cosecha), hizo que el malvado Aman acabase ahorcado en la misma horca en la que había escogió acabar con Mardoqueo: «Así COLGARON A AMÁN EN LA HORCA QUE ÉL HABÍA HECHO PREPARAR PARA MARDOQUEO» (Ester 7:10)

"Never brag about your intellectual capability, lest your opinions lose all credibility"

(The fool fails to understand why self praise must always be met with Skepticism)

Oid la profecía que el Eterno (sea su nombre bendito) trae para el hombre y la mujer que, con terquedad y obstinación de corazón, rehúsa someter su cuello bajo el yugo de Dios [guardando los diez mandamientos de la Ley Divina]: “Como no habéis querido someter voluntariamente vuestro cuello bajo el yugo del Dios que os ama, y desea vuestro bienestar, seréis forzados a ponerlo bajo el yugo de aquellos que os odian, y desean destruirlos; pues El Creador os entregará en manos de vuestros enemigos, para que os derroten, y humillen vuestro vano orgullo. Como está profetizado: «Pero acontecerá, SI NO OYERES LA VOZ DE YAH TU DIOS, PARA PROCURAR CUMPLIR TODOS SUS MANDAMIENTOS y sus estatutos que yo te intimo hoy, QUE VENDRÁN SOBRE TI TODAS ESTAS MALDICIONES, Y TE ALCANZARÁN... YAH TE ENTREGARÁ DERROTADO DELANTE DE TUS ENEMIGOS; por un camino saldrás contra ellos, y por siete caminos huirás delante de ellos; Y SERÁS VEJADO por todos los reinos de la tierra. Y TUS CADÁVERES SERVIRÁN DE COMIDA A TODA AVE DEL CIELO, Y FIERA DE LA TIERRA, Y NO HABRÁ QUIEN LAS ESPANTE» (Deut. 28:15, 25&26)”.

The Atheistic religion: a Dogmatic comparison with the Monotheistic traditions

Although atheists claim to be both against God and religion, the fact of the matter is that modern atheism has all the trappings of a religious cult, including the radical demand that it’s followers adhere to a strict set of moral and ideological tenets (or “dogmas”); some of which often make no sense at all. And, as a rule of thumb, you’ll find the latter dogmas (or tenets) to be the exact opposite of those hold dear by the three Abrahamic (monotheistic) religions. Consider the following:

(1) While monotheistic religions hold fast to the idea that the lost of a life is a cause for mourning, atheism will force its followers to make it a cause for celebration (“celebrating” the life of the deceased);

(2) While monotheistic religions claim men and women are different, followers of atheism are forced to abandon reason, as their dogma demands them to embrace the idea of both male and female being exactly the same;

(3) While monotheistic dogma condemns the man who wears female attire (or the female who wears male attire), followers of atheism are forced to praise such gender-confusing behaviour, calling it “courageous” and “empowering”;

(4) While monotheistic religions place supreme worth in having children (babies), the atheist religion places supreme worth in terminating the life of such children (abortion);

(5) While followers of monotheistic religions scold the idea of loneliness [as the bible teaches that, “it is not good for man to be alone”], followers of the atheist religion are expected to believe that the opposite (a life of individuality) is a virtue to be cherished and defended;

(6) While monotheistic religions teach that we must separate the pure from the impure, and what is good from what is evil, followers of atheism are expected to hold fast to the idea that there is no such thing as pure and impure, or good and evil, as absolute morality doesn’t really exist;

(7) While monotheistic religions claim God will [in the future] make dead matter (“dead corpses”) to become alive (resurrection); atheism claims such thing already happened [with the spontaneous evolution of life, starting from non living elements] without the need of any God.

(8) While on one hand the basic tenet of all monotheistic religions is that there’s hope for humanity, as well as a purpose for the Universe [being the handiwork of an infinitely wise Creator], the basic tenet of atheism is that there’s no hope for humanity, nor purpose for the Universe, as they both are the result of “random” [non-intelligent, hopeless, and purposeless] variables.

An irrational fear (or anger) at the possibility of God's existence is a typical trait of Marxists, Gays, Pedophiles, drug addicts, and Homosexuals. Why? Because it seems like their psyche feels terrorized by the idea of an afterlife (with its corresponding judgment). But the fact is that terror and fear make people insecure (and therefore weak). Yet the man who lives at peace with his own conscience (striving for a life of virtue) is as bold as a lion, as he isn't afraid of God, death, nor judgment. And in this regard the Bible is correct, when it goes on to say: "The wicked run away, even though no one pursues them; but the righteous are as confident as a lion"- Proverbs 28:1 (Common English Bible) ¿Que significa el verso que dice que, “los muertos, nada saben” (Eclesiastés 9:5)?

La Escritura Hebrea, dice así: «Porque, “los que viven”, saben que han de morir; pero, “los muertos”, nada saben» (Eclesiastés 9:5, Biblia Hebrea). ¿Que intenta decirnos con esto la Escritura? ¿Por que se nos presenta [como si fuese una gran revelación divina], algo que aun el mas tontos de los pecadores conoce [que, todo aquel que vive, algún día tendrá que morir]?

Pues lo hace para mostrarnos una verdad mas profunda. Es que, cuando el verso habla de “los vivos”, no esta refiriéndose a aquellos cuyos cuerpos están vivos, sino a los justos [aquellos cuyas almas están vivas, pues ya tienen vida eterna]. Estos “vivos”, saben que sus cuerpos habrán de morir, pero no tienen temor, pues saben que sus almas vivirán para siempre.

Por el otro lado, cuando el verso habla de “los muertos”, esta refiriéndose a los injustos [aquellos que se oponen a la Ley de Dios], cuyos cuerpos están vivos, pero cuyas almas están “muertas en vida”. Es que, el alma que no se fundamenta en la Ley Divina, esta “muerta”, y “nada sabe” de las verdades de Dios. Y, si esta alma esta muerta, aun cuando su cuerpo esta vivo, ¿cuanto mas no estará muerta cuando su cuerpo haya fallecido?

The reason why no prudent person would ever brag about being an atheist

Belief in the God of the Hebrew Bible, doesn't demand you to portray the Creator as being "an old man living in the Sky". What it actually entails, is the belief in the existence of a Supreme (yet undetermined) Power, who rules and judges mankind according to a simple but unavoidable moral Law: a Law that could be summarized as "sowing and reaping" (also know as law of "measure for measure").

In other words, that if you do good, sooner or later goodness will be done unto you ("what goes around, comes around"); if you forgive, you too will be forgiven; if you show mercy, mercy will be shown unto you; if you talk to God (in prayer), God will somehow manage to talk back to you; if you exalt the Creator, the Creator will also exalt you; if you try to [unjustly] destroy someone else, someone else will also try to destroy you; and if you cheat and lie unto other people, other people will in the end try to cheat and lie unto you.

Thus, it befits the wise and prudent person never to tell anyone he harbors atheistic ideas.

Why? Because knowledgeable people might lose their trust in him, as they'll think this person doesn't believe there's reward for the good he can do, nor any punishment for the evil he might perform (a stance we wouldn't tolerate on anyone responsible for an important duty, like taking care of our elderly parents, or trying to heal our sick children).

In short, to brag about being an atheist is no good at all, as it shows our lack of prudence and good judgment (signs of a corrupted mind). And maybe that is the reason why the Hebrew Scripture goes on to say: "The fool said in his heart: "There is no God". They are corrupt; their deeds are vile..." (Psalm 14:1, Tree Of Life Bible)

The 7 Steps plan for Cultural Marxist to destroy Civilization, thereby achieving Global Tyranny

- 1) Promote secular materialism, so that people conceive life as a struggle to obtain as much money, sex, power, pleasure, fame, and recognition as possible
- 2) Promote the belief that, in this world, there's nothing more important [or more gratifying] than money, sex, power, pleasure, fame, and recognition.
- 3) Promote atheism and moral relativism, so that people feel no remorse whenever they have to cheat, steal, lie, kill or enslave other people, in order to achieve the money, sex, power, pleasure, fame and recognition they need.
- 4) Promote the idea that those who achieve money, sex, power, pleasure, fame and recognition are "the good guys"; "the winners" we must all pay respect, encourage, admire, and imitate.
- 5) Promote the idea that "the end justifies the means"
- 6) Promote people's rejection of the idea that "all life is sacred". Instead, make them believe that, the life of "the good guys" (the Winners) is far more valuable than that of "the losers", as winners are good for the World, while losers are bad for it.
- 7) Convince people that secular, gay, and Marxists Jews are "the winners" we should all aim to become; that their "success" deserve our respect and admiration. Convince people that we should not dare insult the Jews, as they have achieved the money (banking industry), the power (political establishments), the sex & pleasure (porn industry), the fame (Hollywood industry), and the recognition (Mass media) that only the best of the good guys deserve...

The point of being against Vaccine passports isn't that we care about going to Gyms or Restaurants. The point is that we should never submit to any sort of "social credit system" similar to that of godless (Marxist) North Korea or China, where a rootless ruling elite gets to [arbitrarily] decide what behavior merits total access to society. You see, to let this covert form of Marxism take hold of our country [without any opposition] would be a shameful disrespect to the supreme sacrifice made by our forefathers (who sacrificed themselves fighting such tyranny in places like North Korea, and Vietnam)

God, the Universe, and mathematical theory

By inventing integral calculus, Sir Isaac Newton [the greatest scientist of all ages] demonstrated that articulating complex mathematical theory demands possession of a rational mind endowed by great logical and reasoning powers.

Thus, the fact that the universe's behavior can be described by means of theoretical (mathematical) equations (Einstein's equation defining the relationship between mass and energy, The equation of Gravity and the equations of motion postulated by Newton, the Laws of probability and statistics, Bernoulli's equation governing fluid mechanics, Ohm's and Faraday's equations governing the behavior of electricity and magnetism, etc.) is evident proof of the veracity of one of the following statements: (1) The Universe [with everything it contains] has a rational mind [and thereby is a conscious being]; (2) The Universe is the manifestation of the logic and reasoning of a rational mind that, although conscious, is not contained within the Universe [thus being prone to be called its "Architect", or "Creator"]

Moisés es la manifestación de יהוה (Dios) en la Tierra

La Escritura Hebrea, confirma que Moisés (y no Jesús), es la personificación de Dios en la Tierra. ¿De donde deducimos esto? Pues, en primer lugar, lo deducimos del hecho de que Moisés era un Israelita. Es que, hablando acerca de los Israelitas, יהוה [el Creador, bendito sea] nos muestra que estos son dioses [es decir, que podían efectuar los mismos milagros que los impíos adscribían a sus dioses paganos]. Como esta escrito: «Vosotros sois dioses, Y todos vosotros hijos del Altísimo»- Salmo 82:6.

En segundo lugar, si sabemos que Moisés era Dios, es porque la Escritura no solamente enseña que Moisés era "un dios"; sino que afirma que era "El Dios"; es decir, que Moisés es el "Elohim" que el libro de Génesis identifica como el Creador de todo el Universo. Como esta escrito: «Mira, yo te he constituido "Elohim" (el Dios de la Creación) para Faraón»- Éxodo 7:1. Y, todo esto, explica la razón por la cual nadie [fuera de Moisés], pudo jamás volver a abrir las aguas del mar Rubio; nadie fuera de Moisés pudo volver a sacar agua de la Peña; nadie fuera de Moisés logro volver a hacer que descendiese Mana durante cuarenta años; y nadie fuera de Moisés, logro volver a hacer que su rostro brillase con la gloria Divina durante cuarenta años. Es que, así como el Creador (Elohim) es único, de ese mismo modo Moisés (su manifestación en la Tierra) es también único.

En resumen, cuando la Ley promete que Dios mismo estaría presente entre su Pueblo («Porque yo mismo que hablo, he aquí estaré presente»- Isaías 52:6); o cuando promete que Dios vendría a reinar sobre la Tierra («Y יהוה será rey sobre toda la tierra»- Zacarías 14:9), en realidad hablaba tanto de las cosas que, durante siglos, ha hecho Moisés; como de las cosas que hará Moisés en el futuro, cuando se manifieste por segunda vez a Israel, y todos comprendan finalmente que "Moshe" (Moisés), es el "Moshia" (el "Mesías", o "ungido" que libera a los escogidos).

The mind games played by Marxist politicians, in order to achieve absolute powers

For any specific country, the Marxist agenda will typically move along the following guidelines: In the First place, underhanded Marxist leaders will try to strip the nation from anything that brings into it any significant measure of hope, stability, and cohesion [it's right to self-defense, it's native culture, it's native traditions, it's native religion, it's moral values, it's family values, it's peaceful coexistence, etc] ... Secondly, when they have managed to bring the society into total despair, Marxist leaders will proceed to collapse it's economy, making government institutions non-functional... Lastly, as at this stage the general public no longer has any other hope [or whom else to lean upon] besides the government, when people cry out in desperation, Marxist leaders convince them that the only way out of the crisis is to grant them full and total control of everything (state laws, state institutions, individual freedoms, private industry, national resources, public and private property, etc)

«“There is no peace for the wicked”, says my God» (Isaiah 57:21)

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that Sin gives people a guilty conscience, thereby robbing them of their inner peace. That's why it has been wisely said: “Practice confession and obedience, and peace of mind you'll soon experience”.

You see, the rebellious sinner has no inner peace, and that's why you'll find him always complaining, always contending, always trying to corrupt somebody, always spreading strife, dissent and rebelliousness.

But he who walks in obedience to the will of his Creator [pursuing a life of moral purity, justice, mercy, and humility] is able to find peace, happiness and gratefulness even in the midst of great pain and suffering.

And the latter is what makes a person really strong, giving him the strength required to conquer life's greatest storms. As it is said: "The wicked flee when no one [save their guilty conscience] is pursuing them, but the righteous are as bold as a Lion"- Proverbs 28:1

“To take care of his own health is the right aptitude for the man who is wise enough to understand that health is the greatest of all gifts. Yet, letting his fear of death becoming the norm that dictates his lifestyle would be an immature act of childish cowardice. Why? Simply because, when we live in fear of losing our lives, in a very real sense we have already lost our lives (as we have lost the peace, security, and freedom that make life worth living!)”

Does religion make people weak and/or ignorant?

If religion makes people weak and ignorant, then how come the Taliban [who practice a strict form of ancient Islam] were able to defeat [and almost humiliate] the greatest, most powerful, and most technologically advanced army the world has ever seen [the USA army]???

“Homosexual atheism is a Marxist tool; a dangerous, totalitarian and demagogic sect, built upon a biased and highly hedonistic ideology that aims at exploiting the passions of the masses; brainwashing it's followers, while blackmailing it's opponents”

La trampa ideológica del Marxismo Cultural ¿Paz? ¿Honor? ¿respeto por la vida? ¿Pero como podrá darse la revolución que tanto anhela nuestra poderosa élite Marxista, si primero no logra que perdamos toda sensibilidad por la paz, por el respeto, y por la dignidad de la Vida humana?

¿Que hay que vivir en paz? ¡No! Hay que inducir a la gente a renunciar a la paz, viviendo en cambio en un constante estado de confrontación contra aquellos que rehúsan “pelear” por alcanzar la alegada “justicia social” que constantemente demanda el Marxismo Cultural...

¿Que el hombre esta hecho a imagen y semejanza de Dios, de suerte que debe perseguir una vida de honor y respeto? ¡No! Díganle a la gente que la religión es para personas retrogradas e ignorantes...

¿Que hay que defender toda vida humana (incluyendo los bebes en el vientre)? ¡No! Díganle a las masas que la vida de quienes discrepan de “la narrativa” no merece ser defendida, pues representa un escollo al [alegado] progreso prometido por la agenda social Marxista; enséñenle a la gente que la defensa de las causas ecológicas (los animales, el ambiente, el planeta) tiene la prioridad!!

How can a few secular Jews be rigging the entire World?

How is it possible for a small bunch of secular (Hellenistic) Jews to rule upon the entire World? Well, the answer is quite simple: they are incredibly rich, and effectively control mass media, so they can corrupt, entice and delude the gentile to play their game. If the gentile is stupid enough to fall for this trap, then he deserves what the secular Jew gives him. The gentile has the potential to be better than the Jew, but he abandons his moral advantage and tries to play the Jew's immoral game; a game that he is bound to lose. Why is he bound to lose it? Because no one is better at collective immorality than the secular Jew, who at this point has it in his genes. Thus, the game result is not only correct, but also fair.

In this sense, it can be said that the Hellenistic Jew is God's punishment for the evil and greed of the gentile person. Conversely, by delivering upon humanity the lessons (or "punishments") that humanity needs, the secular Jew earns for himself the post of "tormenting demon"; a demon that, while doing God's bidding of punishing the wicked, is bound to end up himself in hell. May God have mercy!

Beware of the Jew without God!

Beware of the man without God, as sooner or later he will proceed to create his own self serving morality, and will start acting as if he himself were a god; in other words, pretending to rule upon your mind, upon your speech, upon your actions, upon your marriage, upon your family, upon your kids, upon your money, upon your property, upon your freedom, and upon each and every aspect of your life. And this is the reason why atheism and moral relativism is the root locust of all Marxist and totalitarian Regimes.

Acerca del aborto

Cuando la gente abandona a Dios, se vuelve inmoral y bajuna. Considere el caso del aborto: aunque en raras ocasiones este último es inevitable, a menudo simplemente es usado como una conveniente excusa para actuar de forma vil y despreciable. Ejemplo de la chica que, como producto de su adulterio, de su fornicación, o de su intoxicación queda [involuntariamente] embarazada. Entonces, recurre al aborto como excusa para evadir las consecuencias de su extravío. Pero el Creador dice al respecto lo siguiente: “Los padres no morirán por los hijos, ni los hijos [morirán] por los padres; cada uno morirá por su [propio] pecado”- Deut. 24:16. En otras palabras, “Mama, tu bebé es inocente- no actúes de forma vil y criminal, forzándole a morir por tu pecado”.

¿Defender los derechos? ¿Demandar igualdad? ¿Cuales derechos? ¿Y cual igualdad? ¿Los de la élite que se impone por la fuerza de su riqueza y su poder? ¿O la de los pobres y débiles que son oprimidos?

Cuando los politicos predicán la igualdad y de los derechos humanos, los ciudadanos con conciencia histórica comienzan a preocuparse. ¿Es que pueden los débiles ser iguales a los poderosos? ¿Acaso puede la oveja ser igual al león? ¿Tiene acaso un león el derecho a demandar “ser igual” a la oveja, de suerte que se le permita habitar con ella dentro del mismo corral?

La tradición Hebrea narra que en una ocasión el César Romano ordenó a el líder espiritual de la comunidad Judía de su época (el Rabino Tanhum) que viniese ante su presencia. Entonces el César procedió a decirle: “Ven, y seamos un mismo pueblo” [es decir, quiero que digas a los tuyos que, el Imperio Romano, demanda la equidad; de suerte que tanto Romanos como Hebreos seamos completamente iguales].

Así, la alegada igualdad que intentaba implementar el Imperio, era en realidad un velado atentado contra todo aquel que osara difirir de los poderes de turno.

Nota aclaratoria: Curiosamente, la tradición Hebrea afirma que el Rabino Tanhum fue en efecto arrojado a las fieras. Pero, milagrosamente, los leones rehusaron devorarlo. Viendo el milagro, un atrevido Romano gritó en alta voz desde las gradas: “¡Si las fieras no le devoran, no es porque haya ocurrido ningún milagro, sino que las fieras simplemente no tienen hambre!”. Al oír lo anterior, los indignados espectadores que le rodeaban decidieron que, la justa respuesta a tal descaro, no podía ser otra sino “darle una cucharada de su propia medicina”. Así que procedieron a lanzarle a la Arena, donde los leones procedieron a devorarlo de inmediato (Talmud Babilónico, Sanh 39a)

There is no such thing as a pure atheist, as in practice they just revert to ancient paganism

Pure atheism doesn't really exist. In other words, when a person ceases to believe in God, he doesn't end up becoming a real atheist; instead, the empty space left inside his psyche will begin to be filled with Pagan ideas. And that's why you will find him slowly reverting to ancient paganism. What are some of these ancient pagan practices?

Well, to begin with, most pagans used to worship nature's own mechanisms (rain, thunderstorm, fertility, etc). In addition, Babylonian pagans used to surgically remove the sex organs (testicles) from their own servants, thereby turning them into eunuchs. On the other hand, Greek pagans [as well as some Canaanites] used to practice open Sodomy; Pagan Philistines used to practice human sacrifices; Egyptian pagans used to worship animals; and Sidonian Pagans worshiped a female being named "Ashtoreth".

Likewise, we find that self-proclaimed atheists will also embrace these pagan practices (only difference being calling them by new and trendy names): the worship of nature (evolution), the removal of sex organs (sex re-assignment), the practice of open Sodomy (lgbtq life), human sacrifices (abortion), the worship of animals (animal rights groups), and the worship of female beings (feminism).

Beware of Western opportunism!

Beware of how Western opportunism ends up enslaving whole populations: First, they will sell us the seemingly noble idea that we should all demand the existence of "Safe Spaces"; But then, in order to be consistent with the idea of absolute safety, they will force us to accept a vaccine that we do not really want ... First, they'll sell us the innocent idea that we must demand the existence of spaces that include all kinds of people ("Inclusive Spaces"); But then they will come and, using the notion of "safe spaces", will proceed to exclude us from our favorite spaces (jobs, tourist destinations, cinemas, restaurants, concerts, plane flights, etc); thus, making their alleged "inclusive spaces" become instead "exclusive spaces", as they will exclude anyone who refuses to blindly obey everything said and commanded by them. And the former is the reason why, describing the deceitful nature of Western societies, people will often say: "Western ideologues are like the Devil- they won't get you buy force, but rather by temptation (by the seduction of their sweet and flattering words)"

Beware of atheists!

No matter if he be a Jew or a Gentile, the person who refuses to believe that there is a Divine Judge [and an afterlife Judgment] in the Universe, is a potentially dangerous individual. Why? Because considering his physical life to be all he'll ever experience, his heart is prone to be filled with an unrestrained urge to enjoy all of it (money, sexual pleasures, power, fame, recognition, etc). And as he thinks his actions will never be judged by anybody, he'll find no reason to restrain himself from saying [or doing] whatever lie or abomination is required, in order to achieve the money, sex, power, fame, and recognition he so desperately lusts for. And the former could easily explain the moral bankruptcy displayed by most secular societies, when it comes to their power, money, sex, and fame related establishments (politics, banking, mass media, science, etc).

Speak truth, no matter how harsh it might sound, but remember that, "to be kind, is more important than to be right"

1. Always remember that you can grow without destroying others.*
2. Always remember that your dreams can be fulfilled without sabotaging others.*

3. Always remember that nobody must go down for you to rise.*
4. Always remember that nobody must be shamed or embarrassed for your smile to be sustained.*
5. Always remember that while others are rising, you can also rise.*
6. Always remember that finding satisfaction in the pain of others will never bring you true happiness.*
7. Always remember that what you wish others is a prayer for yourself.*
8. Become the good fire that genuinely lights up others, not one that ruins the joy, goodwill, and expectation of others.*

THE TWISTED LOGIC BEHIND THE MARXIST TRAP OF "INCLUSION" AND "DIVERSITY"

9. Never take delight in causing pain or sponsoring the tears of another.*
10. Never ever use your position in authority to punish others for fear that your position would be taken from you. You never know tomorrow. Life is uncertain.
Also, never use the position you occupy today to frustrate others, for you never can tell what the future holds tomorrow.
11. Allow the true FEAR OF GOD to guide your days, STRENGTHEN YOUR RELATIONSHIPS and SET YOUR COURSE.*

This is the path to true peace, lasting influence and meaningful living!

Stay blessed and take care, for those you meet on your way up are the people you meet on your way down.

«Proud men end in shame, but the meek become wise»- Proverbs 11:2, Living Bible

No matter if he be Jew or Gentile, the man who is arrogant [and stubbornly rebellious] can't ever achieve true wisdom. Why? Simply because the process of achieving wisdom requires that we be humble [and flexible] enough to judge ourselves in an objective fashion, so that we may recognize the faults and limitations that ought to be amended. Otherwise, we would forever be stuck in the same foolish loop of constantly repeating [and thereby reinforcing] the same flaws, defects, and limitations that hinder our growth

The hidden reason why so many secular Jews aggressively promote atheism

Secular (Marxists) Jews love to promote atheism. Why? Simply because they know that, if they manage to convince you that there's no God [No Supreme Authority], then you'll be forced to accept that "Divine commands" don't really exist. And if Divine commands do not exist, then there's no absolute morality--- "Good and Evil" are relative, and the morality arising from the Bible commands preventing us to kill, steal, lie, or commit adultery is the product of falsehood.

And, with this convenient background of moral relativism, the secular Jew feels empowered to keep stealing, killing, and lying [both from the Palestinian people, as well as as from to the rest of the Gentile World], without anyone having a valid argument to claim that such behavior is evil, vile, and despicable [and must therefore be vigorously opposed by those who believe in Divinely inspired morality].

How to become a Son of God?

The believer becomes a child of God when, with a contrite and humbled heart, he begs the Creator to come into his life, renouncing in his heart to sin and immorality. How should this believer journey thru the rest of his life once he has committed his fate to God? He must daily pray for God's Spirit to provide him with the moral and spiritual strength required to stay on the path leading to life everlasting. That is, to persevere in its commitment to "bear the fruit" that pleases the God of Abraham: a balanced lifestyle whose north is honesty, humility, integrity, mercy, love, justice, and faith in God's promises made thru His servant Moses.

"The Sanhedrin is backed by the power of great wealth in all countries. The plan is to enslave the people, bankrupt all nations & put a descendant of King David on the throne of the world"- Henry Klein 1946

The end of Western Civilization

Hebrew Scripture teaches that, when a society turns away from the knowledge of God's Law (the Ten Commandments), such society is bound to be destroyed. As it is written: "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee... seeing thou hast forgotten the Law of thy God, I also will forget thy children"- Hosea 4:6, Christian Standard Version.

And the latter abandonment of godly moral principles explains the reason why, for several decades now, the Western World has been experiencing a systematic destruction equivalent to the proverbial "death by a thousand cuts" (Family breakdown, Drug addiction, economic uncertainty, gang violence, media deception, atheism, fraud, moral relativism, divorce, abortion, chronic depression, suicide, homelessness, feminism, gender and critical race theory, forced vaccinations, etc).

The fact is that the USA has become so infected with hatred for God, as well as with an unfettered lust for money, sex, power, fame, & moral relativism that [in practice] the average American generally agrees with the idea that "No good deed should go unpunished". In other words, anything that hinders usury, fraud, greed and moral decadence is considered a dangerous opposition to the American "values" system. And anything opposing America is a potential security threat; a threat that must be eliminated.

But truth be told, Western societies have become so broke, shallow, and weak, that no wise person doubts their fate is that of the great Titanic, right after hitting the iceberg back in 1912; In other words, there's nothing any human being can do to stop America's demise. In a short time, the big and proud American liner will find itself at the bottom of the Sea. May God have mercy of America!

“Tanto Ateos y Políticos, así como Religiosos e Intelectuales, gustan de complicar una misma verdad; una verdad tan sencilla y clara como el agua. ¿Cual es esa verdad? Pues que, “El árbol, puede conocerse por su fruto”. ¿Y por que gustan de complicar esta grande y sencilla verdad? Pues porque, “Río revuelto [es decir, una verdad hecha ambigua], es ganancia de pescadores”

Question: Scripture says man was created in God's own image (Genesis 1:27). Does that mean God is a man of flesh and blood?

Reply: God forbid that we ever become so morally corrupted as to consider the Creator to be little more than a glorified talking [and movable] leather bag, full of urine and feces [as is the case with human beings]!

The Five Pillars of True and Practical Religion

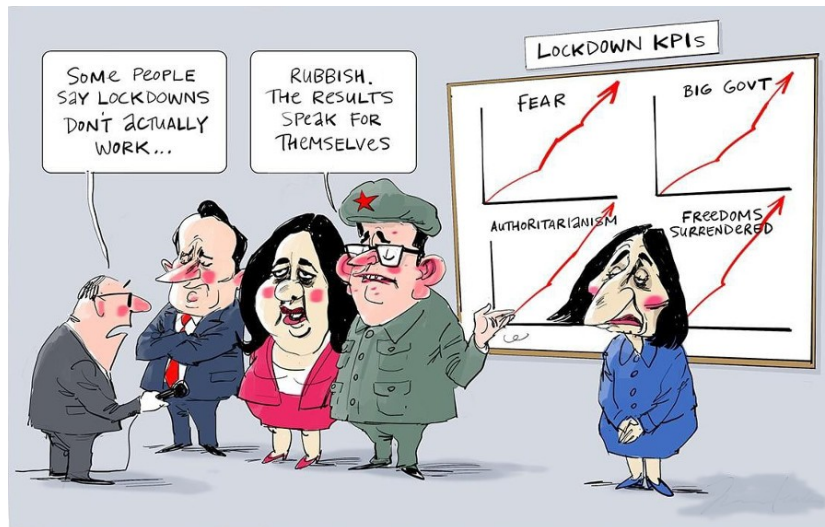

- 1) Don't be atheist nor gay, as these are foolish and abominable traits ("Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: IT IS AN ABOMINATION... THERE SHALL BE NO WHORE of the daughters of Israel, NOR A SODOMITE of the sons of Israel... THE FOOL hath said in his heart, There is no God"- Leviticus 18:22, Deut. 23:17, & Psalm 14:1)
- 2) Renounce to your sinful ego, and start living instead to serve [and commune with] your Creator; the Holy Spirit who spoke to Moses, and led ancient Israel out of Egyptian bondage ("I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me"- Exodus 20:2-3)
- 3) Obey God's [Ten] Commandments and abandon all sort of evil, so you may live forevermore ("Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man... Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell [living] for evermore"- Ecclesiastes 12:13, & Psalm 37:27)

4) Be honest [speaking only truth, and despising evil and deception], judge all things with righteousness, and seek peace ("Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment ... These are the things you must do: Speak truth to one another; make true and sound decisions within your city gates. Do not plot evil in your hearts against your neighbor, and do not love perjury, for I hate all this"- Amos 5:15, Zechariah 8:16-17)

5) Be strong and manly, but also meek and humble, as God hates the proud in heart, loving instead the meek ("I go the way of all the earth: be thou strong therefore, and shew thyself a man... Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord: though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished... And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low... But the meek shall inherit the Earth"- 1 Kings 2:2, Proverbs 16:5, Isaiah 2:17, & Psalm 37:11)

"El bueno y el malo, si no en esta vida, en la otra tendrán el pago"

Seven signs your friend or family member has fallen victim to the "Woke" mind virus

- 1) Smugness. An absolute, unwavering, and arrogantly condescending attitude toward all non-woke opinions (While a trait in itself, it is related to number 2).
- 2) Lack of introspection. No trace of self-questioning or apparent inner monologue. No sense of fairness or understanding of relative opinion.
- 3) Quickness to anger. Willingness to not only voice their opinion on any occasion, with anyone, even when outnumbered, but to do so angrily. A willingness to cut off any friend or family member who won't comply with woke belief.
- 4) Nihilist atheism. They will rant a lot about science, while at the same time ignoring science that doesn't comply with their beliefs. They tend to assume you are dogmatically religious if you don't agree with them. They will cling to a strongly negative nihilism believing that everything is ultimately hopeless, and that it is sardonic hubris to do or believe in anything (which ties into number 6).

5) Dishonesty. They are willing to be openly dishonest to further their viral ideas. If they lose a point in an argument, they move on to a new point, never acknowledging or acquiescing that a point was lost. When all attack points are used, personal attacks begin. The past is a blank slate open to revision.

6) Self-absorbed. This one takes a while to notice, but it seems a give-away idiosyncrasy that you are dealing with a woke-infection if the person has become abnormally self-centered, and in conversation, does not so much reciprocate, as talk about themselves, always positive or self-aggrandizing, often unrealistically. They may also insert self-pity, it seems to generally exacerbate a need for attention-seeking.

7) Depression, low self-worth, anxiety (likely the subconscious result of numbers 4 and 6 in particular). Any genuine personal questioning of the subject usually reveals deep worries and angst, and often mental health issues.

“It isn’t far fetched to say that, in practice, atheism is the mindset typically found among Marxists, depressed people, drug addicts, and homosexuals”

Biological nature determines the existence of just two human sexes. Then, whether due to lack of health, discipline, or morality, a tiny sector of the population has a tendency to disagree with its nature. Faced with such scenario, the believer has the responsibility to respect such person; but he should not feel any obligation to applaud such a deviation, let alone to instill it into those who do not suffer from it (especially children). As the noble Christian religion teaches, when it goes on to say: “See to it that you don’t despise one of these little ones, because I tell you that in heaven their angels continually view the face of my Father in heaven... It would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck and he were thrown into the sea than for him to cause one of these little ones to stumble”- Matthew 18:10 & Luke 17:2 (Christian Standard Bible).

Why do so many Westerners give up logic and common sense?

The Western World currently experiences a phenomenon where the secular Jews (“Cultural Marxists”) who control most mass media have been incredibly successful in making the majority of Gentiles to renounce logic and common sense. How have they achieved this trick? In a very simple way! They've been able to convince them [on a subconscious level] that, as [allegedly] is the case with morality and religion, logic and common sense have no relevance in a world where their well-being doesn't depend upon following “the Truth”, but rather upon being clever [and daring] enough to embrace only those ideas [and view points] considered to be “politically correct”; That is, in blindly agreeing with anything [and everything] said by those who hold the reigns of power over banking, media, politics, and economy [whom also conveniently happen to be secular Jews!].

“Do not follow a crowd to do evil. Nor are you to testify in a case, to follow a crowd and pervert justice”- Exodus 23:2 (Tree Of Life Bible)”

Sadly, fraud and deception have become such a fundamental part of the very fabric of Western culture, that any attempt to examine the objective facts concerning an issue affecting our societies (Pfizer's Jab reliability, Afghanistan withdrawal, the alleged threat posed by Russia & China, the far reaching implications of allowing minors to undergo gender re-assignment surgery, the future status of Palestine, the political and economical implications of the aid given to Israel, etc) is viewed as amounting to a moral crime: a vile act of treason against the crowd comprising your country, your government, your mainstream media, as well as your next door neighbors

How to tell if Cultural Marxists have taken over your country?

Stop and ponder, whenever you see a constant (and forceful) media campaign aimed at empowering the authorities [under the guise of protecting minority rights] to exercise total control of every aspect of your social, political, economical, religious, and medical life: to tyrannically dictate how are we supposed to behave, to speak, or to believe; to impose upon us which countries, which secular ideas, which political system, which gender, which morality, which ethnic groups, or which pharmaceutical companies are we supposed to embrace and support without hesitation.

When you see these things happening in your own country, know that it has already been hijacked by Tel-Aviv based cultural Marxists (in other words, by powerful secular Jews)

“Thus saith Adonai [the Lord]; For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have despised the Law of the Lord, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies caused them to err, after the which their fathers have walked: But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem. Thus saith the Lord; For three transgressions of Israel, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes; That pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and turn aside the way of the meek: and a man and his father will go in unto the same maid, to profane my holy name”- Amos 2:4-7, King James Bible

Hitler’s return, and the end of Jewish religion as we known it

The Hebrew scripture states that all that was written by Moses was a prophecy concerning the way God would in the future deal not only with the nation of Israel but also with the rest of the world. For example, Moses states that God punished the Sodomites, burning them with fire. This means that, in the future, God will burn with fire the non penitent Sodomites. But Moses also wrote that Israel would eventually become itself a sort of Sodom. As is written: “For their vine is of the vine of Sodom, and of the fields of Gomorrah...”- Deut. 32:32.

And prophet Isaiah bears the same witness elsewhere, when he goes on to describe his fellow Israelites as follows: “For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen... The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not”- Isaiah 3:8-9. And also says in another place: “Hear the word of the Lord, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah.”- Isaiah 1:10. What does this means? It means God foretells that one day the Jews would embrace open homosexuality, and in that day God would punish them with Fire.

And this explains the reason for the holocaust, as a Jew named Magnus Hirschfeld was the first German doctor who openly advocated for national acceptance of open homosexuality, as well as cross dressing. In fact, it turned out so bad that, by the time Hitler came to power, Berlin was Europe’s most decadent city. Not only that, but most of Berlin’s gay clubs, as well as it’s pornographic industry was in the hands of Jews.

So, when God decided to make good His promise of burning the Sodomites, He let Hitler take over Germany, so he could burn [in the concentration camps ovens] countless of Sodomy friendly Jews. And the same is about to happen again in our present time, when Jews not only rejoice in celebrating Gay pride parades in their own land, but not happy enough by controlling the global pornography market, also insist on forcing the rest of the world into accepting Sodomy as a respectable and even dignified lifestyle.

Again, since Moses foretold God would burn Sodomite Jews, you can rest assured that He’ll soon allow another “Hitler like” figure to raise to power, so he can do God’s bidding, reducing to ashes countless amounts of Sodomite Jews.

Can the severe decree against Jewish people be averted? No; not unless they are willing to turn back to God in sincere repentance. Does this means the Jewish faith will be eradicated? To a great extend, it will, as only the God fearing believers (the meek and humble) will remain alive; and the lifestyle of the latter will be so different from that of modern day Jews that it will seem as if they were part of another people following a different religion [the true Hebrew faith!].

And the latter will be the fulfilment of the verse where The Lord [blessed be He] tells Moses one day He will wipe out Israel, letting Moses be at the helm of a "greater" (or "spiritually stronger") people.

As is written: “I will smite them with the pestilence, and disinherit them, and will make of thee a greater nation and mightier than they”- Numbers 14:12 (King James Bible). May God have mercy of Jewish people!

Gay pride parades? Homosexual activists are natural criminals!

What sort of pride could any decent man feel for the sick enjoyment of being anally sodomized by another man?

If being sodomized is something they actually cherish so much, then common sense dictates that we should expect gay people to be naturally attracted to a criminal lifestyle- displaying all kind of violent, rebellious, and lawless behaviour.

And why would they be attracted by such a lifestyle? Simply because they know they can thus act with impunity, as the system is flawed, and biased in their favor. In other words, the homosexual knows that any jail punishment he could possibly suffer, wouldn't be a punishment at all, but rather a chance to fulfill his wildest gay fantasy: To be locked up in the same prison with hundreds of “female starved” male inmates.

Truth is that “gay pride parades” are an oxymoron. In reality, things like gay pride parades, LGBT rights, female rights, political correctness, gender equality, and social justice movements, are just a “cover up” for the fancy propaganda tools currently in the hands of our crafty cultural Marxists elite [the likes of George Soros and company]. These tools have been socially engineered so as to lead us into willingly abandon the foundational values of Western civilization (borders, culture, language, faith, family, morality, etc).

In lieu of the former, the Marxist controlled media want us to embrace the rebellious, shallow, selfish, secular, totalitarian, and atheistic mindset that will in turn produce the social unrest [revolution] needed to bring about the demise of Western civilization.

The Western world will indeed fall, as expected by cultural Marxists. But the Hebrew Scripture foretells that it won't be the cultural Marxists [nor any powerful secular Jewish elite] whom will raise up with the power. Instead, the Western lands that currently pride themselves in their gay pride parades [Israel included], will be ruled by Islam [and it's Shariah Law].

Why will the Muslim world prevail? Is it because Muslim nations like Iran and Saudi Arabia are better than Western nations like USA and Israel? No! But the Creator has promised that, as long as Israel lives a holy lifestyle, Israel's pagan enemies won't be able to prevail. But since present day Iran lives the holy lifestyle that God would expect from Israel [promoting the fear of God, and making gay pride parades illegal], while Israel lives the wicked lifestyle that God would expect from a pagan nation [promoting atheism, as well as the gay lifestyle], it is Israel who won't be able to defeat Iran in battle. May God have mercy of our Western world, as well as Israel [and it's Marxist elite!].

Conspiraciones Judías?

Entre aquellos "mercaderes del templo" que controlan los medios globales de comunicación, las conspiraciones son tan comunes, que casi podría decirse que se han vuelto parte de su legado genético: Abraham conspiró con su esposa Sara para mentir a Faraón; Isaac conspiró con su esposa Rebeca para mentir al rey Abimelec; Jacob conspiró con su mamá Rebeca para mentir a su ciego padre Isaac; Raquel conspiró con su hermana Lea para mentir a Jacob; Labán [el tío de Jacob] conspiró con sus hijos para engañar a Jacob [despojándole de su salario]; Raquel conspiró para robar los dioses de su padre Labán; Los hermanos de José conspiraron contra él para tratar de matarlo; José conspiró con sus siervos egipcios para entrapar a sus hermanos, a fin de poder retener con él a su hermano Benjamín; Saúl conspiró contra David para matarlo; David conspiró contra Urías para achacarle injustamente un hijo; Adonías conspiró para tomar el reino de su padre David; Absalón conspiró para matar a David su padre; etc, etc, etc

("Those who reject the Law praise the wicked, but those who keep the Law pit themselves against them"- Proverbs 28:4)

La oculta razón por la cual tantos Judíos Sionistas promueven agresivamente el ateísmo

Los Judíos seculares (Marxistas) aman promover el ateísmo. ¿Por que? Pues porque saben que, si logran convencerme de que Dios no existe, entonces me veré forzado a aceptar la consecuente lógica de tal postura: Que "el bien y el mal" son relativos [y por ende la moral que surge de los mandamientos que prohíben matar, robar, y mentir no tiene valor alguno]. Y, con este conveniente trasfondo, el Judío secular queda libre para seguir robando, matando, y mintiendo [tanto al pueblo Palestino como al resto del Mundo], sin que tenga yo un argumento válido para reclamar que tal conducta es mala, vil, y despreciable [debiendo por tanto ser vigorosamente reprimida por todo aquel que crea en la ética y la moral].

"Clichés, estribillos, y generalidades; modernas excusas para viejos vicios y males"

"El problema no son los derechos, la igualdad, el pluralismo, las ideologías, las armas, la política, la economía, ni la religión; el problema es la gente inmoral y oportunista, que abusa de los derechos, de la igualdad, del pluralismo, de las ideologías, de las armas, de la política, de la economía, y de la religión"

Beware of Demagogues!

Scripture says: "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight! Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink: Which justify the wicked for reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him! Therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: because they have cast away the law of the Lord of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel”- Isaiah 5:20-24 (King James version).

In other words, Scripture urges the believer to beware of Demagogues and flatterers, not placing any trust whatsoever in any religion, any government, any scientific establishment, or any institution that tries to earn his trust [or psychological submission] by telling him what his lower passions would love to hear: That there's no God, that there's no absolute morality; that there's nothing wrong with homosexuality, pedophilia, bestiality, incest, or adultery; that gender is a social construct; that there are no consequences to our actions; that freedom must be absolute; And that we have the right to live [and do] as we please, without any regard to the hurt we might cause to those to whom we owe loyalty, fidelity, respect, and consideration (our family, our friends, our fellow citizens, etc).

Is salvation the product of obedience? Or is rather obedience the product of salvation?

Holy Scripture teaches that, prior to bringing them into the Land of Canaan [Symbol of Paradise], Moses forced the Israelites to make a stop at Mount Sinai, so they could first accept God's 10 Commandments. What is the meaning of this narrative? Well, it is intended to be an allegorical teaching. You see, our Christian brothers teach that doing good is the result of embracing "salvation by faith", without the need of obeying any Law. But the Hebrew Scripture teaches the opposite, as it states that “reaching Canaan” [in other words, reaching Paradise] requires that we first “stop at Sinai” [in other words, that we commit ourselves with the goodness outlined by God's Ten Commandments].

TRUTH sounds like HATE to those who hate the truth...

What is theophobia? And what is moralphobia?

The·o·pho·bi·a (thē'ō-fō'bē-ă) is a medical term defined as a Morbid fear of God [G. theos, god, + phobos, fear]. It can also be understood as an abnormal fear of the wrath of God. As for moralphobia, it is a new term, currently defined by the urbandictionary web page as the irrational insecurity felt by moralphobes; people living alternative lifestyles who realize that others find their lifestyles morally repugnant. Usual symptoms include retaliatory labeling with words such as "homophobia" and "intolerance", as well as the abuse of the "recommend for deletion" link existing on most websites. The predictable political response of moralphobes is to curb free speech and promote intolerance of the expression of moral values dissenting from their own.

Neither the name "Ha Satan" (Satan), nor the name "Mashiach" (Messiah), appear even once in the only document that, being written by "the finger" of God (יהוה), is 100% inspired. What document is that? It is no other than the Ten Commandments (or "sayings") given to Moses upon the two stone tablets (the Decalogue). But, why would the Decalogue fail to include such important names as "Satan" and "Messiah"? Could it be possible that יהוה (the all knowing God) simply forgot about it? Or is He rather trying to teach us a deep moral lesson; hinting at the idea that, neither the belief in Satan, nor the belief in a Messiah, compares in importance to abstaining from theft, from lying, from adultery, from greed, from idolatry, and from dishonoring our parents? Could it be that the Creator is simply trying to tell us that, if we perform the good commanded upon the stone tablets, no Satan will be able to deprive us from enjoying the blessings of יהוה; while if we don't perform them, no Messiah will be able to grant us such blessings?

God's existence isn't a scientific issue. In fact, the scientific misgivings most people have concerning God's existence are often "smoke screens"; a convenient cover up for a deeper moral issue. Which moral issue? The fact that we humans are self centered, stubborn, proud, and arrogant; thus, we hate to be told what to do [or how should we behave], even if what is being asked from us is fair and correct.

In fact, Scripture portrays our human dilemma by means of a very simple allegory; that of two young, smart, good looking and perfectly healthy human beings [Adam and Eve] living in a perfect paradise free from sorrow, disease, social injustice, crime, or poverty. What was their only problem? That their Creator would claim the right to tell them what to do. So, even when their social and political environment was perfect, it wasn't good enough for them, and [just as it would later happen with the proverbial "prodigal son"] they were willing to risk everything. Why? Again, because they were proud, and wanted to exalt themselves, no longer tolerating anyone [nor even He to whom they owe their very existence!] telling them what to do.

So, humanity's supreme problem isn't inequality, suffering, injustice, poverty, or disease; it's that we are proud and arrogant; too stiff-necked to do what is right and correct. As it is written: «The Lord also said to Moses, "I have seen this people, and they are indeed a stiff-necked people"»- Exodus 32:9.

And the former also explains why it is the meek [those who abandon arrogance and pride] who will inherit the World lost by Adam and Eve. As it is written: "But the meek shall inherit the land, and delight themselves in abundant peace"- Psalm 37:11, English Standard Version.

The problem with homosexual activists is that most of them are both theophobic (having a sick fear of God's judgment) as well as moralphobic (feeling an exaggerated hatred for the basic rules of morality). And the latter explains the fact that homosexual activists do not perceive anything wrong with the promotion of Gay pride parades. You see, no man with faith in God, with moral values, or with self respect, would ever promote homosexual pride parades. Why? Simply because no man with a sound mindset would feel proud of being sodomized by another man, as that would be a sad and shameful attempt at justifying what clearly is a sick form of sadomasochism

Salvation by faith, according to Reformed Samaritanism

The salvation of man is effected through faith; through faith in the fact that God will not fail to return unto each person the same goodness he has sown upon his fellow human beings. As correctly stated by the noble Christian tradition: "Judge not, and you will not be judged; do not condemn, and you will not be condemned; forgive, and you will be forgiven. Give, and it will be given to you; good measure, pressed, shaken and overflowing they will give in your lap; for with the same measure with which you measure, they will measure you again "- Luke 6: 37-38

A social worker wisely describes The issues facing homeless America

I spent six years, feeding, clothing, and housing the homeless in Chattanooga, TN. I did it for another four years in Wichita, KS and four more years in Sioux Falls, SD. My experience was first hand, as a ministry, face to face, dealing with the homeless and the municipalities in addressing the issue. In my experience, the population of homeless breaks down like this: 1/3 are totally committed to the lifestyle. They've checked out of our culture, they don't care to make a deposit to get the power cut on, they don't care to live the lifestyle the vast majority of Americans still choose to live. These people are sane, intelligent, healthy, some very well educated, many very talented, and refuse to remain a part of this culture we have crafted. And they do well in that world. Their numbers continue to grow at a higher rate than the other 2/3rds and at some point they may become a force we will have to deal with, like it or not. These folks look at life and their values system is a vast departure from the American norm.

The second third are folks who are just totally incapable of helping themselves and there is no social net to help them. When I was feeding in Chattanooga, there was a man with some form of epilepsy who could not keep food on his fork from plate to mouth. Twice a week I fed him in the same fashion I fed my one year old child. I was told innumerable times by other homeless that those were the only two solid meals he got in a week. I believe that several other members of his community started helping him. But for him, there are twenty others I can bring up as bad or worse with no one to help them. I could help that one and I did, but he was but the tip of the iceberg. Social services has nothing for this segment, hospitals won't take them in, no sanitariums, nothing, just whatever charities and ministries that step forward to help is it.

Point is, about a 1/3 of them cannot help themselves, they truly are society's refuse. The last third is a bit more complicated. These are what I called the "one-handers." One helping hand and they'd gladly rejoin society. Some are dodging ages old arrest warrants or lawsuits, many are families trying to stay together while ADC agents are actively trying to take the children, many have accrued onerous indebtedness that once they have a paycheck (turn up on the radar), the court will garnish so much they have nothing left to live on. So what's the point of working? Point is this segment, this 1/3 of all homeless are pushed there because they fell afoul of a very unforgiving system, judicial and societal. With a good attorney and a compassionate judge, most of these people would be back to work in no time. And they would return to normal society again. But without that one helping hand to help keep the family together, to arrange rational garnishment to recoup debts, to reconcile an old warrant for disorderly conduct or fleeing the scene of whatever, they will get locked up and will have to appear undefended before a judge who in all likelihood will remand them without regard that they've lived the last eight years without offense.

I do take exception to the repeated use of "mental illness" in order to describe the community. Take ANY American, deprive him of regular meals for two weeks and very irregular sleep with spotty hygiene opportunities and tell me they won't get 'loopy.' The simple fact is this, most Americans have not experienced hunger, physical insecurity, and lack of sleep for any protracted periods. Most Americans put into those circumstances would fold like a lawn chair. These people are tough, but more importantly, they are survivors of adverse circumstances and living conditions. I saw no more evidence of mental illness, alcoholism, or drug use in their community than I did at work, church, or the local filling station. The problem is we are looking for a reason to not help, to not get involved, to wash our hands of participating in a solution. The fact is, the problem with damaged people is that they know they can survive. And that frightens normal Americans.

Now one can argue harshly about all of this and that is their right. When I first went into that ministry in 2001, I had the standard Republican attitude about the homeless. I was wrong and so are most people. But here is the final point, while many choose to argue, they choose to argue because they do not choose to help. To help their fellow man where his homelessness is not his problem but rather an effect of another underlying issue. A third of them we cannot help because they reject our lifestyle. But we can help 2/3's, but that would involve enabling ministries and many other charities to take the fight to the street. There are plenty of people willing to take this on, but there is institutional and civic resistance to it. The municipalities resist the help through onerous licensing and permitting for the charities, law enforcement preys upon people trying to get help by surveilling and arresting people in line for a meal, the list goes on. We've created the problem by creating a culture, a legal system, and a social order that is so harsh and unforgiving that perfectly capable and rational people choose to affiliate with society's refuse rather than continuing to participate in it. Cancel culture = Counter culture.

God's Ten Laws (Commandments) are mankind's only secure connection to reality (sowing, and reaping; cause, and effect; measure, for measure; what goes around, comes around). Thus, when a man abandons God's Law, he ends up mad, believing he can live the life of the wicked, yet expect the reward of the righteous. As is written: "But if you do not obey the Lord your God by carefully following all His commands... The Lord will afflict you with madness, blindness, and mental confusion"- Deut. 28:15&28

Reformed Samaritanism Confession Of Faith

«Oh יהוה (Adonai), Lord God of Abraham, I bear witness that there's no other God, King, nor Savior greater than You; I bear witness that there's no other prophet greater than our master Moses, nor any other Law greater than your "Ten Words" (or "Commandments"). I bear witness that there's no Scripture greater than your Torah (composed of Moses five books), nor any other people greater than Your own Israel (allegorically portrayed by means of the ancient community of holy Hebrew believers). And I bear witness that there's no other theology as great, as true, nor as just, as "Measure for Measure" ("Sowing and reaping"): to let every man "reap" the same measure of goodness that, with his own works he has freely [and voluntarily] "sowed" upon his needy fellow human beings; and to punish every man with the same measure of evil that, with his own works, he has freely [and voluntarily] sowed upon his needy fellow human beings (without ever repenting of it). Amen»

--Physical suicide is often the unavoidable result of intellectual suicide. Sadly, we've turned Science into a sort of pagan god, and it's corresponding scientific establishment into a religious guild, where each doctor or scientists has become a kind of "priest"- one whose words cannot be doubted or questioned. And, by forcing their experimental vaccine upon our innocent children, these pagan priest are in fact demanding that we start offering human sacrifices to our newly found god. You see, amoral paganism will always demand human victims (it's the way the cookie crumbles!). What else could we have expected?--

Those who can make you believe absurdities [i.e., that you are a woman trapped inside a man's body], can make you commit atrocities [i.e., mutilate your own body undergoing a "gender reassignment" surgery]

God's thoughts are not man's thoughts

Hebrew scripture says: "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are my ways your ways" (Isa. 55:8). When a mortal has a vessel, he rejoices in it as long as it is entire; when it is broken, he has no use for it. Now, what is the Holy One's precious vessel? Man's heart! When the Holy One sees a man proud in heart, He has no use for him, as is said: "Everyone that is proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord (Prov. 16:5). But when the heart is broken, He says, "This one is mine!", as is said: "The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart" (Ps. 34:19)

Beware!... "the welfare of humanity" (also known as "repairing the world") has always been the alibi of tyrants. In fact, "the urge to save humanity" is often a false front for the urge to rule as a despot

La abundancia y las riquezas producen homosexualidad y ateísmo

La homosexualidad y el ateísmo son el natural producto de un ambiente de mucha salud, de mucha energía, de mucha belleza, de mucha abundancia, y de mucha riquezas; un ambiente hedonista, en el que nos volvemos adictos a los placeres, llegando a creer que podemos obrar con impunidad y alevosía. Y ejemplo de ello lo fue el joven, guapo, y saludable Rey Roboam, el cual fue mimado desde pequeño en el lujoso palacio de su rico padre Salomón.

¿Que dice la Escritura que sucedió con Roboam? Pues que, tan pronto ascendió al trono, comenzó a actuar con impunidad [algo que pagó muy caro, pues perdió el señorío sobre la mayoría de las tribus de Israel]. ¿Y que dice la Escritura que sucedió durante el reinado de Roboam? Pues que apareció la Sodomía (“HUBO TAMBIEN SODOMITAS EN LA TIERRA, e hicieron conforme a todas las abominaciones de las naciones...”- 1 Reyes 14:24). Y, como el que practica esta impiedad, nunca experimenta la paz (“NO HAY PAZ, DIJO MI DIOS, PARA LOS IMPIOS”- Isaías 57:21), pues el país estuvo en constante guerra (“Y HUBO GUERRA entre Roboam y Jeroboam TODOS LOS DIAS...”- 1 Reyes 14:30).

De este modo, es casi imposible que el hombre que se acostumbra a vivir en un ambiente de riquezas y placeres [como seria el caso con muchos de los ricos Israelitas que habitan en Tel Aviv, o los ricos Norteamericanos que habitan en San Francisco] no termine haciéndose ateo y/o homosexual.

De hecho, así como Israel abandono al Creador en medio de la abundancia que le ofreció la Tierra prometida, de ese mismo modo el exceso de abundancia puede hacer que el hombre sea tentado a olvidarse de su Creador. Como esta escrito: «PUES SI ME HAGO RICO, PODRÍA NEGARTE Y DECIR: “¿QUIÉN ES EL SEÑOR?”»- Proverbios 30:9, Biblia “Nueva Traducción Viviente”

Cain, the first cultural Marxist

Cain was the first cultural Marxists. How do we know it? We know it from two facts: In the first place, according to Genesis 4:16, Cain was wandering away from God [in other words, just as any other cultural Marxist, Cain had become an atheist]; As is written: “And Cain went out [away] from the presence of the Lord”. Secondly, since [due to the effect of God’s curse upon him] Cain couldn’t successfully till the land, thereby providing for his own sustenance (“when thou tillest the ground, it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her strength”- Genesis 4:12), Cain did what any cultural Marxist would have done- come up with a tricky and self serving ideology.

In other words, Cain built a new city [a new “establishment”, so to speak]; As is written: “and he [Cain] builded a city, and called the name of the city, after the name of his son, Enoch”- Genesis 4:17. Why did Cain build a city? So that, under the pretense of securing "a safe space" for it’s dwellers, he could justify their economical exploitation (the arbitrary collection of taxes and fees).

Modern religious skepticism passes as wisdom, but when closely examined, it turns out to be simplistic (shallow), and short sighted

Hebrew Scripture says: “Can you fasten the chains of the Pleiades, or loosen the belt of Orion? Can you bring out the constellations in their season---? Do you know the [mathematical] Laws of heaven?”- Job 38:31-33.

If there’s a wisdom we can learn from nature it is the law of “sowing and reaping”; That we “sow” the same “fruit” we’ve planted. Thus, a prudent man makes sure to “plant” goodness, so that he can [in the future] be able to reap a good harvest. Is the former a random wisdom? Or is it instead the product of an intelligent mind?

Well, in order to find the answer, we must first ask the following: Does the capability to articulate advanced mathematics prove the existence of a powerful mind? (Was Isaac Newton an intelligent being?). Of course it is! But if so, what powerful mind chose to make planetary motion follow the laws of advanced Calculus? What mind chose to make speed exactly the first derivative [with respect to time] of the position variable?

And which powerful mind chose to make acceleration precisely the second derivative of the position variable? In fact, why does nature has to follow any precise mathematical model at all? Does Nature have a mind of it’s own? Or is it instead [as the Hebrew scripture teaches] the reflection of another [even greater] mind? It is this Supreme Mind that impresses wisdom into nature that we believers choose to call God.

«Oddly, our time is one where we have 21st century C.E. Technology (The Age of Space exploration), as well as 21st century B.C.E. Morality (The Age of Sodom and Gomorrah!); as if to imply that, «The more our “forward” technology advances, the more we depart from God; and the more we depart from God, the more “backward” our morality becomes»

Torah And The Observant Jew perspective of Political Correctness

If one weighs with weights that are deficient by the standards agreed upon in his locality, or measures with a measuring vessel deficient by the agreed standards, he violates a negative commandment, for Scripture states (Vayikra 19:35), ‘You shall do no unrighteousness in judgment, in length, in weight, or in measure.

– Maimonides, Mishneh Torah

“Political correctness” does not have an exemplary history. In the middle of the past century, it was, according to Wikipedia, "...associated with the dogmatic application of Stalinist doctrine..." Hardly a ringing endorsement. Its use now, as part of our toxic political discourse, is generally used as a club with which to hammer the opposition. Although used most against "liberals", the truth is that political correctness is difficult to define, as it almost always resides in the eyes of the user.

Social justice without God is Soviet Style (Marxist) Socialism. The best way to bring about REAL social justice isn't to let Marxists, Atheists, Feminists and Homosexuals to run the country. The best way is to achieve a profound change is to encourage all citizens to Repent of their sins and injustices, so they may start obeying the God who demands from them a life of Justice. As is written: "He has told you, human one, what is good; and what the Lord requires from you? To do Justice, [to] embrace faithful love, and walk humbly with your God" - Micah 6:8

To more conservative commentators, "political correctness" covers nearly every perceived weakness of a more liberal worldview. To those same liberals, the use of the term by conservatives is "code" to paper over fairness and decency. After all, discourse we now consider "wrong" – use of the "N-word", derogatory words to describe or characterize Jews – was once normal and acceptable until, that is, someone identified it as "politically incorrect" even though it was not called that then. Our tradition is very clear as to the respect and decency that is to be afforded all people. Our concern, however, is that the desire to be "politically correct" has gone overboard; that we no longer defend who a person is but we now find ourselves in an environment where demands are made that we also defend whatever anyone might think or claim for themselves; that we might also be called upon to implicitly or explicitly defend behaviors that the Torah deems wrong.

This is not consistent with our tradition.

Our tradition teaches that every human being, created in the image of God, deserves compassion and sensitivity. But as our code of behavior makes clear, not every form of behavior should be granted that same consideration.

This is certainly true when it comes to matters of sexuality. God makes clear in the very first parsha of Torah that He created man, and he created woman, and He ordained the institution of marriage. In matters of Torah, the changing perspectives of society and culture have no bearing on what is right and wrong.

Sensitivity and compassion, yes.

Approval, no.

Hosea's last verse, which Rabban Yochanan ben Zakai used to teach his lesson for all time, begins with the words, mi chacham, Who is wise?

The Malbim teaches, "A person is capable of achieving understanding in many areas through his own intelligence. However, when dealing with matters beyond human comprehension, he must first acquire the necessary wisdom and only then can he deepen his understanding through his logical prowess..." His insight applies particularly to the knowledge of the ways of Hashem, along with matters of Godliness. So, Who is wise? He who has acquired the wisdom of Hashem's ways, and can thereby build upon that wisdom to achieve understanding. This teaching makes clear that, when it comes to matters of Godliness, the very notion of "political correctness" is irrelevant.

The accusation of and shield of "political correctness" has created an environment in which there is fake news and fake facts. There are numerous examples of how this has poisoned the political discourse and caused people to be fearful of speaking out. It is madness when more than three-quarters of all babies born in Detroit are born to unwed mothers, yet it is “politically incorrect” to suggest that there is something wrong with this! It is frightening when a high school in California recently sent five students home from school for wearing shirts displaying the American flag on Cinco de Mayo. And for Chris Matthews of MSNBC to suggest that it was “racist” when conservatives used the term, “Chicago” borders on malpractice. In such a damaged environment, it is easy to reduce Godliness to just another “talking point”.

But as history and tradition has taught us, Godliness is not so easily diminished by the whim and foolishness of man.

Not long after a recent conversation about the perils of this “politically correct/incorrect” environment we live in, I returned to my study of that particular day’s Daf Yomi which had, for the previous few days, devoted several Talmudic dapim to the many halachic details to assuring honest weights and measures.

The Torah commands the need for the absolute accuracy of the scales and all their components so there could be no doubt about honest dealings in commerce between man and man. The Talmud elaborates on the essential need for such accuracy and honesty. R’ Levi suggests that the punishment for dishonest weights is even more severe than for illicit relations; that stealing from humans is worse than stealing from God [from Hekdesh].

The Torah is clear; there can be no compromise in these matters. Among the many details taught on the Daf (Bava Bathra 89), is the instruction not to use scales made of wood, lead, or other metals (for they corrode or become sticky with grease – affecting their accuracy). We learn that the utensil used to flatten off the top of the materials being weighed should not be too hard or too soft, along with other detailed instructions – all to guarantee that no one ever be cheated.

After elucidating these instructions, we hear uncertainty from the greatest scholar of all, Rabban Yochanan be Zakai. Having these teachings, should he actually teach them? “Woe unto me if I teach it to them and woe unto me if I don’t teach it to them.” In other words, in teaching these things, he might very well reveal the “tricks of the trade” – which dishonest people could then use to cheat more effectively. But in not teaching these things, dishonest people will believe the talmidei chachamim, the rabbis and religious teachers, are ignorant about thievery and dishonesty – that is, that they know nothing about contemporary issues!

So, the Talmud asks, What did R’ Yochanan ben Zakai actually do. Rav Shmuel bar Yitzchok teaches that R’ Yochanan ben Zakai did teach all of the passages detailing the various methods of weights and measures. He did not hide God’s word simply because the ramaim might glean untruths by evaluating truthfulness.

Recall, R’ Yochanan was not only the greatest of scholars but he was also a successful businessman. He knew there were those who would use any opportunity to cheat but he was not concerned about being “politically correct” (for, after all, today’s ramaim are those who seek to be politically correct at the expense of truth, honesty, and morality). R’ Yochanan spoke truth honestly and forcefully.

Certainly it was as difficult for him to do so in his time as it is for us in ours. Why did he do it? Where did he find the courage? Rav Shmuel bar Yitzchak suggests the answer. Because the last verse in Hosea’s impassioned prophecy balances blunt judgment with love and mercy. “For the ways of HaShem are straight; the righteous will walk with them and sinners will stumble over them.” From this, R’ Yochanan taught that God’s absolute truth must be revealed without hesitation or fear.

There is no political correctness in Torah. Teach Torah because the “righteous will walk with them.” The righteous need to know the truth if they are to do right. The righteous want to know God’s will. And, as for the “sinners”, they “will stumble over them”. The sinners will always find new ways of thievery. Their sinfulness should never be an excuse for withholding God’s Torah.

As Hebrew believers, our tradition and God’s teaching command that we speak out. Marriage is between man and woman. Other forms of union can be described in many ways – but not as marriage. Ish is ish. Isha, isha. Man is man. Woman, woman. No political movement can change that. No governmental law or edict can compromise that.

Terrorism is terrorism. A murderer is a murderer.

Our tradition teaches compassion and sensitivity to the person, not the act. Many factors and variables contribute to the people we become. Children are abused. Families are dysfunctional. There is alcohol and drug abuse. Terrible, terrible things. But they do not excuse behavior that God condemns.

R’ Yochanan’s lesson is not just about weights and measures, it is an eternal lesson to be applied to all situations – the world’s righteous, even in silence, deserve and need to hear truth while the cheaters and charlatans will inevitably stumble, truth or no truth.

Those who seek only “political correctness” are uninterested in God’s truth.

R’ Eliezer of Beaugency teaches of Hosea’s statement, “The wayward see the ways of Hashem as being the source of their downfall, for their sole interest in life is fulfilling their whims and desires, and the ways of the Torah stand in their way.” R’ dak elaborates, “The stumblers say there is no mesader u’manhig ha’olam (Godly law and order) and there is no absolute yosher so they follow their hearts’ whims and desires.

“They will fail and will be lost.”

R Yochanan be Zakai taught truth to power and, in doing so, saved the Jewish nation in the midst of destruction and hopelessness.

To teach or not to teach? The answer is clear. We must always teach Torah truth. Teach to those who will hear and, for those others, those who will stumble, they will find their equally stumbling and lost “leaders”.

“When the unseen [underground] foundations of a big and fancy building (Surfside Florida 12 story Champlain tower) start to deteriorate, such building comes under the threat of a catastrophic failure. Likewise, when the unseen [moral and spiritual] foundations of a big and fancy Nation (Israel) start to deteriorate, such nation comes under the threat of a catastrophic failure”

God punishes the foul language of Semites and non Semites alike

The true believer abstains from using obscene language. Why? Because in punishment for obscene speech, troubles multiply, cruel decrees are proclaimed anew, the young men of Israel (God forbid) die, and the fatherless and widows cry out and receiving no answer, for Scripture says, “Therefore the Lord shall have no joy in their young men, neither shall He have compassion on their fatherless and widows; for everyone is profane and an evildoer, and every mouth speaketh obscenity. For all this His anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still”- Isaiah 9:16

When ethnic Israel abandons God [embracing Marxist atheism and moral relativism], it ceases to be God's chosen people, and therefore God despises and abandons them. As it is written: «The Lord is with you while you are with Him. If you seek him, He will be found by you, BUT IF YOU FORSAKE HIM, HE WILL FORSAKE YOU... But a man of God came to him [to King Amaziah] and said: “O king, do not let the army of Israel go with you, FOR THE LORD IS NOT WITH ISRAEL”...»- 2 Chronicles 15:2, & 25:7 (English Standard Version)

Although Reformed Samaritans embraces the principle stating that “Truth is truth, no matters who says it”, when it comes to faith and behavior, the Torah (in other words, the five Books comprising God's Holy Law) is our final source of guidance and authority. And Moses Torah states that the believer ought to be honest and transparent in all his dealings, steering away from [and refusing to promote] any sort of deception or questionable behavior.

As is written: “Just balances, just weights, a just ephah, and a just hin, shall ye have”- Leviticus 19:36; And also says, “Thou shalt not have in thy bag divers weights, a great [for selling] and a small [for buying]. Thou shalt not have in thine house divers measures, a great [for selling] and a small [for buying]. But thou shalt have a perfect and just weight, a perfect and just measure shalt thou have: that thy days may be lengthened in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. For all that do such [deceptive] things, and all that do unrighteously, are an abomination unto the Lord thy God”- Deuteronomy 25:13-16 (Authorized King James Bible).

What does this mean? It means that, when our business dealings are clear, honest, and fair, “our days are lengthened” in the land (in other words, peace reigns among the citizens, and deadly wars and social strife are avoided). Thus, the believer cannot engage in the promotion or encouragement of any kind of shady (or biased) behavior (or business dealing). And the former is especially true when doing so might negatively affect his own health, dignity, or reputation.

In this regard, the Samaritan believer is justified in rejecting any medication, any treatment, or any procedure whose provider and/or manufacturer claims to be safe while at the same time refusing to assume liability for any adverse reaction arising from the use of such product or procedure.

Are we supposed to construe the believer's freedom to refuse medical treatment as an all encompassing excuse to disregard the health [or safety] of his fellow human beings? Of course not! Bear in mind that, although Torah respects our free will, it also holds us accountable for the consequences of our actions, as may be learned from the verse where it states that he who digs a pit must cover it, in order to prevent damaging other parties. As is written: “And if a man shall open a pit, or if a man shall dig a pit, and not cover it, and an ox or an ass fall therein; the owner of the pit shall make it good, and give money unto the owner of them; and the dead beast shall be his”- Exodus 21:33.

So, just as it happens with the pit mentioned in the former verse, if your “pits” (mouth and nose) can compromise the health or safety of somebody else (infecting them with any disease), you are commanded to cover it (use face mask and keep social distance!).

Finally, in case of national emergency, can a person be forced to get a vaccine [or undergo any other medical procedure] even if he is afraid of it's potential side effects [or questions the honesty of the science backing such vaccine or procedure]? The answer provided by God's Law is that free will and human dignity are inviolable. Why? Simply because not even God, [who, being the Creator of the Universe has the right to do with His creatures as He sees fit] is willing to violate the free will and the dignity of human beings. Rather, He gives us the available options, proceeds to recommend the best alternative, and leaves in our hands the final decision. As is written: “I call Heaven and Earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore [I recommend that you] choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live”- Deuteronomy 30:19. In fact, there is no greater emergency that a national war (where both life, limb, land, property and liberty are in grave risk of disappearing). Yet not even in this case are free will and dignity taken away from the individual believer. In other words, if a man lacks the will [or courage] to join the battle, he is allowed to go back home, instead supporting the war effort by providing indirect assistance (like money, food, military equipment, supplies, etc). And why isn't he forced to go into battle? In order to spare him from the lingering shame that would otherwise pursue him for the rest of his life should his lack of strength [or manliness] become evident in the eyes of his fellow soldiers and/or citizens. As is written: “And the [military] officers shall speak further unto the people, and they shall say, What man is there that is fearful and fainthearted? let him go and return unto his house, lest his brethren's heart faint as well as his heart. And it shall be, when the officers have made an end of speaking unto the people, that they shall make captains of the armies to lead the people”- Deuteronomy 20:8-9

Never try to rationalize bad behavior, as it is a shameful thing

After disobeying their heavenly Father, Adam dared to tell God, “I'm innocent... It's all Eve's fault!”. On the other hand, Eve dared to say, “I'm innocent... It's all the Serpents' fault!”. And what happened next? That, upon beholding the sad image of finite creatures hoping to fool their all knowing Creator, the latter proceeds to cover their nakedness; as if to hint at the idea that, in the eyes of God, trying to rationalize bad behavior is a sort of nakedness [a shameful thing He doesn't want to see in the human beings He has created]

The Ford Pinto Madness: A reminder of how prone are Big Corporations [Pharmaceutical Giants included] to place profits above safety

There was a time when the “made in Japan” label brought a predictable smirk of superiority to the face of most Americans. The quality of most Japanese products usually was as low as their price. In fact, few imports could match their domestic counterparts, the proud products of Yankee know-how. But by the late 1960s, an invasion of foreign-made goods chiseled a few worry lines into the countenance of the U.S. industry. In Detroit, worry was fast fading to panic as the Japanese, not to mention the Germans, began to gobble up more and more of the subcompact auto market. Never one to take a back seat to the competition, Ford Motor Company decided to meet the threat from abroad head-on. In 1968, Ford executives decided to produce the Pinto. Known inside the company as “Lee's car,” after Ford president Lee Iacocca, the Pinto was to weigh no more than 2,000 pounds and cost no more than $2,000.

Eager to have its subcompact ready for the 1971 model year, Ford decided to compress the normal drafting-board-to-showroom time of about three-and-a-half years into two. The compressed schedule meant that any design changes typically made before production-line tooling would have to be made during it.

Before producing the Pinto, Ford crash-tested various prototypes, in part to learn whether they met a safety standard proposed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) to reduce fires from traffic collisions. This standard would have required that by 1972 all new autos be able to withstand a rear-end impact of 20mph without fuel loss, and that by 1973 they be able to withstand an impact of 30 mph. The prototypes all failed the 20-mph test. In 1970 Ford crash-tested the Pinto itself, and the result was the same: ruptured gas tanks and dangerous leaks. The only Pintos to pass the test had been modified in some way—for example, with a rubber bladder in the gas tank or a piece of steel between the tank and the rear bumper.

Thus, Ford knew that the Pinto represented a serious fire hazard when struck from the rear, even in low-speed collisions. Ford officials faced a decision. Should they go ahead with the existing design, thereby meeting the production timetable but possibly jeopardizing consumer safety? Or should they delay production of the Pinto by redesigning the gas tank to make it safer and thus concede another year of subcompact dominance to foreign companies? Ford not only pushed ahead with the original design but stuck to it for the next six years.

What explains Ford’s decision? The evidence suggests that Ford relied, at least in part, on cost-benefit reasoning, which is an analysis in monetary terms of the expected costs and benefits of doing something. There were various ways of making the Pinto’s gas tank safer. Although the estimated price of these safety improvements ranged from only $5 to $8 per vehicle, Ford evidently reasoned that the increased cost outweighed the benefits of a new tank design.

How exactly did Ford reach that conclusion? We don’t know for sure, but an internal report, “Fatalities Associated with Crash-Induced Fuel Leakage and Fires,” reveals the cost-benefit reasoning that the company used in cases like this. This report was not written with the Pinto in mind; rather, it concerns fuel leakage in rollover accidents (not rear-end collisions), and its computations applied to all Ford vehicles, not just the Pinto. Nevertheless, it illustrates the type of reasoning that was probably used in the Pinto case.

In the “Fatalities” report, Ford engineers estimated the cost of technical improvements that would prevent gas tanks from leaking in rollover accidents to be $11 per vehicle. The authors go on to discuss various estimates of the number of people killed by fires from car rollovers before settling on the relatively low figure of 180 deaths per year. But given that number, how can the value of those individuals’ lives be gauged? Can a dollars-and-cents figure be assigned to a human being? NHTSA thought so. In 1972, it estimated that society loses $200,725 every time a person is killed in an auto accident (adjusted for inflation, today’s figure would, of course, be considerably higher). It broke down the costs as follows:

Future productivity losses

Direct.....$132,000

Indirect.....$41,300

Medical costs

Hospital.....$700

Other.....$425

Property damage.....$1,500

Insurance administration.....$4,700

Legal and court expenses.....$3,000

Employer losses.....$1,000

Victim’s pain and suffering.....$10,000

Funeral.....$900

Assets (lost consumption).....$5,000

Miscellaneous accident costs.....$200

Total per fatality.....$200,725

Putting the NHTSA figures together with other statistical studies, the Ford report arrives at the following overall assessment of costs and benefits:

Benefits

Savings: 180 burn deaths, 180 serious burn injuries, 2,100 burned vehicles

Unit cost: $200,000 per death, $67,000 per injury, $700 per vehicle

Total benefit: $(180 \times $200,000) + (180 \times $67,000) + (2,100 \times $700) = $49.5$ million

Costs

Sales: 11 million cars, 1.5 million light trucks

Unit cost: $11 per car, $11 per truck

Total cost: 12.5 million X $11 = $137.5 million

Thus, the costs of the suggested safety improvements outweigh their benefits, and the “Fatalities” report accordingly recommends against any improvements—a recommendation that Ford followed. Likewise in the Pinto case, Ford’s management whatever its exact reasoning, decided to stick with the original design and not upgrade the Pinto’s fuel tank, despite the test results reported by its engineers. Here is the aftermath of Ford’s decision:

 Between 1971 and 1978, the Pinto was responsible for a number of fire-related deaths. Ford puts the figure at 23; its critics say the figure is closer to 500. According to the sworn testimony of Ford engineers, 95 percent of the fatalities would have survived if Ford had located the fuel tank over the axle (as it had done on its Capri automobiles).

 NHTSA finally adopted a 30-mph collision standard in 1976. The Pinto then acquired a rupture-proof fuel tank. In 1978 Ford was obliged to recall all 1971-76 Pintos for fuel-tank modifications.

 Between 1971 and 1978, approximately fifty lawsuits were brought against Ford in connection with rear-end accidents in the Pinto. In the Richard Grimshaw case, in addition to awarding over $3 million in compensatory damages to the victims of a Pinto crash, the jury awarded a landmark $125 million in punitive damages against Ford. The judge reduced punitive damages to 3.5 million.

 On August 10, 1978, eighteen-year-old Judy Ulrich, her sixteen-year-old sister Lynn, and their eighteen-year-old cousin Donna, in their 1973 Ford Pinto, were struck from the rear by a van near Elkhart, Indiana. The gas tank of the Pinto exploded on impact. In the fire that resulted, the three teenagers were burned to death. Ford was charged with criminal homicide. The judge in the case advised jurors that Ford should be convicted if it had clearly disregarded the harm that might result from its actions, and that disregard represented a substantial deviation from acceptable standards of conduct. On March 13, 1980, the jury found Ford not guilty of criminal homicide.

For its part, Ford has always denied that the Pinto is unsafe compared with other cars of its type and era. The company also points out that in every model year the Pinto met or surpassed the government’s own standards. But what the company doesn’t say is that successful lobbying by it and its industry associates was responsible for delaying for seven years the adoption of any NHTSA crash standard. Furthermore, Ford’s critics claim that there were more than forty European and Japanese models in the Pinto price and weight range with safer gas-tank position. “Ford made an extremely irresponsible decision,” concludes auto safety expert Byron Bloch, “when they placed such a weak tank in such a ridiculous location in such a soft rear end.”

Has the automobile industry learned a lesson from Ford’s experience with the Pinto? Some observers thought not when, in February 1993, an Atlanta jury held the General Motors Corporation responsible for the death of a Georgia teenager in the fiery crash of one of its pickup trucks. At the trial, General Motors contended in its defense that when a drunk driver struck seventeen-year-old Shannon Moseley’s truck in the side, it was the impact of the high-speed crash that killed Moseley. However, the jury was persuaded that Moseley survived the collision only to be consumed by a fire caused by his truck’s defective fuel-tank design. Finding that the company had known that its “side-saddle” gas tanks which are mounted outside the rails of the truck’s frame, are dangerously prone to rupture, the jury awarded $4.2 million in actual damages and $101 million in punitive damages to Moseley’s parents.

What undoubtedly swayed the jury was the testimony of former GM safety engineer Ronald E. Elwell. Although Elwell had testified in more than fifteen previous cases that the pickups were safe, this time he switched sides and told the jury that the company had known for years that the side-saddle design was defective but had intentionally hidden its knowledge and had not attempted to correct the problem. At the trial, company officials attempted to paint Elwell as a disgruntled employee, but his testimony was supported by videotapes of General Motors’ own crash tests. After the verdict, General Motors said that it still stood behind the safety of its trucks and contended “that a full examination by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration of the technical issues in this matter will bear out our contention that the 1973-1987 full size pickup trucks do not have a safety related defect.”

Since then, however, the Department of Transportation has determined that GM pickups do pose a fire hazard and that they are more prone than competitors’ pickups to catch fire when struck from the side. Still, GM has rejected requests to recall the pickups and repair them. Meanwhile, the Georgia Court of Appeals has thrown out the jury’s verdict in the Shannon Moseley case on a legal technicality—despite ruling that the evidence submitted in the case showed that GM was aware that the gas tanks were hazardous but did not try to make them safer to save the expenses involved.

"Democracy destroys itself because it abuses its right to freedom and equality; Because it teaches its citizens to consider audacity as a right, lawlessness as a freedom, abrasive speech as equality, and anarchy as progress"

Phantom Limb Syndrome is a common medical condition where a person “senses the presence” and even “feels the pain” of a body part that doesn't really exist, as it isn't physical there (often due to a former amputation). And a similar mechanism seems to manifest itself in the “Transsexual” man who “senses the presence” and even “feels the pain” of the alleged “female aspect” of his body, even though such female aspect doesn't really exist, as it isn't physically there (nor should it be, unless it is the negative byproduct of harmful genetic, chemical, physical, environmental, or psychological influences).

Fortunately, just as the phantom limb syndrome can respond well to medical treatment, so could Trans syndrome sufferers also respond well to medical treatment.

Hispanidad.com ha publicado que el millonario de origen húngaro George Soros se dedica a financiar --por medio de su entramado de asociaciones, fundaciones, etc.--, todo aquello que quiera acabar con los fundamentos de la civilización cristiana.

Y es que el magnate húngaro es un gran impulsor del Nuevo Orden Mundial, ese conjunto de instituciones internacionales que quieren implantar en todo el mundo leyes contrarias a la ley natural, como el aborto, la ideología de género -una de cuyas derivadas es el matrimonio homosexual o el transexualismo-, etc. Y uno de los organismos internacionales que más lucha por ello es la ONU. Hispanidad.com también recogió una entrevista en Alto y Claro TV al profesor de la Universidad Complutense Juan Antonio de Castro -coautor del libro 'Soros, rompiendo España'- en la que se aborda cómo el multimillonario Georges Soros está detrás del intento de ruptura de España -en Cataluña- como base para eliminar la soberanía nacional en todos los países de Europa e imponer el tsunami globalista y el relativismo moral.

El profesor De Castro también denunciaba que Soros "tiene una serie de conceptos pseudo morales, como el LGTB al extremo, como el género al extremo, como el feminismo al extremo, el abortismo, contra la vida..., que es el que trata de imponer, como si fuera el código genético moral que nos tenemos que tragar todos".

La ONU se ha convertido en una de las instituciones clave del Nuevo Orden Mundial

Asimismo, Hispanidad viene insistiendo en que la ONU se ha convertido en una de las instituciones clave del Nuevo Orden Mundial, para extender el aborto, la ideología de género -una de cuyas derivadas es el matrimonio homosexual-, la pornografía también entre los menores...

Asimismo, Hispanidad recogió recientemente que el activista-asesor de las cuestiones LGTB de la ONU, Víctor Madrigal-Borloz, dijo que cambiar el sexo o el género basado en la propia autodeterminación es un "derecho" según el Derecho internacional de los derechos humanos.

Y todas estas informaciones quedan confirmadas con la noticia publicada por Actual, según la cual un informe del Centro Europeo para la Ley y la Justicia revela los mecanismos por los que la Fundación Ford y la Open Society de George Soros financian la labor de los relatores especiales y por tanto dirigen sus informes y conclusiones. El informe se basa en el estudio y análisis de los estados financieros desde el 2015 al 2019 y en entrevistas personales de una hora con 28 relatores especiales entre el 2010 y el 2020. La conclusión es que un 30% de relatores especiales de la ONU -37 de los 121 analizados- recibieron financiación privada, principalmente de la Fundación Ford y de la Open Society de George Soros.

Como dice Actual, la realidad es que "nadie financia nada gratis", tal y como señalan los relatores entrevistados. Y tanto la Fundación Ford y la Open Society, mediante su financiación, influyen en los relatores de la ONU para, por ejemplo, criticar la objeción de conciencia con el aborto, caminar hacia la despenalización del aborto, la luz verde a la inmigración ilegal, censurar los valores de la familia tradicional o enseñar las 'bondades' del sadomasoquismo...

Por cierto, al igual que a los relatores ONU, Soros 'bonifica' a los verificadores de Internet, ejemplo, a uno de los más agravios y mentirosos buscadores de bulos, Maldita.es, a la que financia con el 7,9% de su presupuesto.

Hebrew Scripture states that Gideon had an army of 32,000 “Jewish” soldiers (Book of Judges, chapter #7). But in the end, God showed him that only 300 of them were truly worthy of being part of God's army. What does it mean? It means that [taking into account the fact that 32,000/300 is more than 99% of the total], when it comes to Jewish people, the stand of the overwhelming [secular] majority of them is simply irrelevant [as the ones favored with God's grace are often less than 1%]. In fact, notice how, out of the 600,000 thousand adult men departing from Egypt, only two of them were worthy of entering the Promise Land (Joshua And Caleb).

Does the Holy Land of Israel belong to the Jews?

Does the land of Israel belongs exclusively to the Jewish people? Not at all! In fact, the land belongs to God; not to the Jews, not to the Christians, and not to the Muslims. And from whence do we know this? We know it from the fact that God himself says that the Jews are but foreigners in the Land. As it is written: “The land must not be sold permanently, because THE LAND IS MINE [SAYS THE LORD] AND YOU RESIDE IN MY LAND AS FOREIGNERS AND STRANGERS” (Leviticus 25:23). You see, God is Holy, and therefore He demands Holiness to be practiced upon His land. As is written: “YOU SHALL NOT LIE WITH A MAN AS WITH A WOMAN; IT IS AN ABOMINATION. Neither shall you lie with any beast and defile yourself with it; neither shall any woman yield herself to a beast to lie with it; it is confusion, perversion, and degradedly carnal. DO NOT DEFILE YOURSELVES IN ANY OF THESE WAYS, FOR IN ALL THESE THINGS THE NATIONS ARE DEFILED WHICH I AM CASTING OUT BEFORE YOU. AND THE LAND IS DEFILED; THEREFORE I VISIT THE INIQUITY OF IT UPON IT, AND THE LAND ITSELF VOMITS OUT HER INHABITANTS. So you shall keep My statutes and My ordinances and shall not commit any of these abominations, neither the native- born nor any stranger who sojourns among you, For all these abominations have the men of the land done who were before you, and the land is defiled— [DO NONE OF THESE THINGS] LEST THE LAND SPEW YOU OUT WHEN YOU DEFILE IT AS IT SPEWED OUT THE NATION THAT WAS BEFORE YOU. Whoever commits any of these abominations shall be cut off from among [his] people”- Leviticus 18:22-29. In short, the Holy land belongs to God [He is the Big Landlord!], and the various ethnic groups that have formerly inhabited the Land (Jews, Greeks, Arabs, Turks, etc) are just “sojourners” dwelling in it [with God's special permission]. And the Land's “occupancy contract” demands from the current dweller that he follows certain moral guidelines. If he doesn't, he is eventually “evicted”, and the Landlord proceeds to bring a new tenant; one more worthy of fulfilling the terms of the occupancy contract.

The word “Anti-semitism” is nowhere to be found in the five books of Moses. So never be soft with an atheistic Jews

You can't be soft with Jewish atheists, as they perceive it as a sign of weakness. You see, Jews have always suffered from a natural superiority complex. In other words, they think that, no matter how crooked they might become, they still are “God's chosen people” (His literal representatives!). But, when this superiority complex isn't checked by a strong demand for moral accountability, you'll find that, as soon as a Jew reaches any significant power position, he starts acting as if he were actually a kind of god. Problem is that, if he has no moral commitment, he ends up behaving as “an evil god” (in other words, like a demon).

And the Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that [with Jews] it has always been like this: When they are good, they are like Elijah (holy and saintly); but when they are evil, they are like Ahab (an immoral and murderous tyrant). And the fact that we can't be soft with any Jew who willingly chooses to walk the path of wickedness is attested by the verse that goes on to say: “Though the wicked [Jew] is shown compassion and favor, He does not learn righteousness; In the land of uprightness [the Land of Israel] he deals unjustly, And refuses to see the majesty of the Lord”- Isaiah 26:10 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition). Curiously, the Hebrew word “Israel” is strangely similar to the Hebrew phrase “Ish-ra-el” which literally means, “[Jewish] Man [is] Evil God”.

¿Creer en Jesús?

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que, el que un Gentil (es decir una persona que no es de la persuasión Hebrea) tenga fe en Jesús de Nazaret, es algo muy beneficioso; pero que Jesús será el Mesías (Salvador) de esa persona solamente si la fe que en Jesús ha depositado le conduce al abandono de la maldad, al sincero arrepentimiento, y a una vida de compromiso con el bien ordenado en las Diez Leyes dadas por Dios a Moisés sobre las dos tablas de Piedra (monoteísmo ético). Pero, si esa persona se obstina en cambio en continuar con una vida caracterizada por la maldad y la desobediencia al Creador (mintiendo, robando, blasfemando, adulterando, deshonrando a sus padres, etc), su fe en Jesús no le servirá absolutamente de nada, pues la ha convertido en un inmundo amuleto pagano.

Jesús no sera el Salvador de tal persona, sino su verdugo; pues negará el haberle conocido, condenándole de ese modo al tormento.

Como esta escrito: «¡FUERA DE AQUÍ, USTEDES, LOS MALDITOS, AL FUEGO ETERNO PREPARADO PARA EL DIABLO Y SUS DEMONIOS! PUES TUVE HAMBRE, Y NO ME ALIMENTARON. TUVE SED, Y NO ME DIERON DE BEBER. FUI EXTRANJERO, Y NO ME INVITARON A SU HOGAR. ESTUVE DESNUDO, Y NO ME DIERON ROPA. ESTUVE ENFERMO Y EN PRISIÓN, Y NO ME VISITARON”.... “Les digo la verdad, cuando se negaron a ayudar al más insignificante de estos, mis hermanos, se negaron a ayudarme a mí”. Y ellos [los hacedores de maldad] irán al castigo eterno, pero los justos entrarán en la vida eterna»- Mateo 25:41-46.

Y también dice en otro lugar: «El día del juicio, muchos me dirán: “¡Señor, Señor! [Nosotros somos tus escogidos, pues...] Profetizamos en tu nombre, expulsamos demonios en tu nombre, e hicimos muchos milagros en tu nombre”. Pero yo les responderé: “Nunca los conocí. ALÉJENSE DE MÍ, USTEDES, QUE VIOLAN LAS LEYES DE DIOS”»- Mateo 7:22-23 (Nueva Traducción Viviente)

Atheism? Please help us believe!

We have spent several decades trying to find honest [and enough] reasons to justify modern atheism; but, after searching for so many years, the facts have consistently showed us that modern atheism amounts to little more than "intellectual suicide" [or as a sort of "wishful thinking"]. Why? Simply because we haven't found the slightest shred of evidence to support the idea that the Universe (as well as it's fixed governing laws) have no Creator, but rather are the result of dumb and random evolution. In other words, we've never seen any life form positively evolving before our own eyes (as one would expect to be the case if sudden and rapid evolution were actually true); never seen any random physical change that would positively improve the existing natural order (like gravity reversing itself periodically for a few seconds, allowing men to fly, or to raise heavy loads); never found any person whose immunological system would suddenly evolve, so as to make him immune to cancer and death; never found anybody growing functional wings, or growing gills (so men could breathe underwater); never met anybody acquiring the ability to hibernate during harsh winters; never found any wild beast randomly giving birth to a human being, nor a human being randomly giving birth to a wild beast; never found a mute person suddenly becoming a telepath, etc.

In fact, instead of experiencing forward evolution, it seems like mankind is experiencing a sort of "reverse evolution". Why? Simply because most modern people aren't even close to having as much physical, intellectual, or emotional strength as their grandfathers used to do. For example, in a typical Hispanic family, it isn't surprising to find that the grandmother gave birth to 12 children; the mom gave birth to 6 children, and the grand daughter only gave birth to one or two children.

Human males also seem to be experiencing this sort of "reverse evolution", as male sterility and homosexuality seems to be rampant. Bear in mind that, according to science, the evolutionary process depends on gene replication [having children!]. Thus, if people do not replicate any more, the evolutionary process basically stops.

Maybe the most stunning finding is the fact that no one has ever been able to tell us: "My employees have all embrace atheism, so they no longer steal from our company, nor are they as lazy [or dishonest] as before"; "My son has become an atheist, and therefore has become a more caring, peaceful, and sincere person"; "My husband is much more faithful to me now that he has embraced atheism", etc.

Rather, what we see on a daily basis, is that atheism makes people angry, hopeless, arrogant, and self-destructive; so that they often end up embracing self destructive ideas and behaviors (Marxism, homosexuality, moral relativism, extreme selfishness, shallow mindedness, fowl language, etc).

Many centuries ago, a Jewish Rabbi named Simeon Ben Lakish said, "There are three insolent ones: Israel among the nations, the dog among beasts, and the cock among fowls (some also say the goat among small cattle, and the caper shrub among trees)" In addition, Rabbi Meir (2nd Century C.E.) is quoted saying: Why was the Torah given to Israel? Because they are of a fiery temper. For in the school of Rabbi Ishmael it is taught, 'At His right hand was a fiery Law unto them' (Deut. 33:2), meaning that the Holy One said, 'It is right that they be given a fiery Law [to restrain them]'. Some say, 'Israel's Laws had to be of fire, for if the Torah had not been given them, no people or tongue could withstand them' [leading to their own extermination]. It is in this connection that Rabbi Simeon Ben Lakis said, 'There are three creatures of a fiery (insolent) temper: among the nations, Israel; among beasts, the dog; and among fowls, the cock'. Rabbi Israel bar Redifa said in the name of Rabbi Ammi: 'You may think that such description of Jews [as fiery and insolent] is disparaging (anti-semitic). In fact, it is complimentary, as their attitude is, 'Let me be a Jew or be crucified!' Indeed, as Rabbi said, to this day Jews outside the Land are called 'stiff necked people'. - Babylonian Talmud, Betzah 25B; Exod. Rabbah 42:9

Why are secular Jews so dangerous to non Jewish societies?

Problem with most secular Jews is that they tend to be very smart, extremely brazen, incredibly cunning, and entirely devoid of any moral values. Thus, whenever they seize control of any non Jewish society [like in Western countries], they can do as much harm as a pack of hungry lions freely roaming inside a lamb's corral. That's why God wants this kind of Jew to suffer antisemitism, as it is basically the only way he can ever repent, desisting from his evil inclinations.

The hidden reason why secular Jewish media moguls are so fond of promoting atheism and anti-religious propaganda

Unlike what happened during the Middle ages (when secular Jews were expelled over a 100 times from Western countries), modern Jews have been able to subdue the vast majority of Western societies. But, how could those backward middle age societies succeed in an area where we moderns have failed so miserably? Well, the answer is surprisingly simple, yet astonishingly profound: It's all about "Religion"! In other words, ancient Western societies were deeply religious, and their mindsets were shaped and molded by the teachings of the Holy Bible.

And the Bible taught them that the Jews were a separated people, whose fate was to remain confined to the land promised by God to their ancestor Abraham. As is written: "And to you and your future offspring I will give the land where you are residing—all the land of Canaan—as a permanent possession... I am the Lord your God who set you apart from the peoples... There is a people living alone; it does not consider itself among the nations"- Gen 17:8; Lev. 20:24; Num. 23:9 . In fact, ancient western believers knew quite well that if there were Jews living among them, it was only because those Jews were under a curse, as exile from their own land was God's punishment for their wickedness. As is written:

"But if you do not obey the Lord your God by carefully following all his commands and statutes I am giving you today, all these curses will come and overtake you... The Lord will bring you and your king that you have appointed to a nation neither you nor your ancestors have known, and there... You will become an object of horror, scorn, and ridicule among all the peoples where the Lord will drive you... You will be ripped out of the land [of Canaan] you are entering to possess. Then the Lord will scatter you among all peoples from one end of the earth to the other... You will find no peace among those nations, and there will be no resting place for the sole of your foot"- Deut. 28:15, 36-37, 63-65. Thus, knowing the Jew did not belong into Western [Gentile] societies, but was rather "an accursed wanderer", medieval people correctly chose to treat him as a dangerous foreigner; forced to live apart, and confined to his own quarter (or "Ghetto"). Of course, it goes without saying that only a medieval idiot would have allowed the accursed Jew to hold any power position upon him; so Jews were properly excluded from any power position (government, banking, land ownership, learning institutions, etc). And the latter successfully curtailed Jewish corrosive influence upon medieval Western societies.

In short, the fact that Christianity and Islam [as well as all other religions in general] were so damaging to the Jew living during the Middle Ages [and so thoroughly effective in shielding Western societies from his corrosive influence] explains why our Jewish media moguls are so fond in their attempt to secularize the entire Western World. How do they go about it? By constantly glorifying every idea and every lifestyle that goes against God, against Religion, and against Moral and Social cohesion; the "around the clock" promotion of things like Moral relativism, Marxism, Atheism, Homosexuality, Sex re-assignment, Late term Abortion, Same Sex Marriages, pornography, Incest, Drugs abuse, Feminism, Multiculturalism, Forced Immigration, Political Correctness, etc. So, the one thing secular Jews fear the most is the possibility of large segments of our Western populations “going back to basics”; in other words, returning to the old [but proven] Conservative/Fundamentalist religious ideas that gave rise [and shaped] our western Civilization; the simple yet strong ideas that will let us “cut to the chase”, allowing the eyes of our intellect to see through the Jewish “smoke screen” of “non judgmental equality, and inclusivism”. The day our people finally decide to return en masse to “old time Religion” will be the last day the accursed Jewish demon will rule upon us; the day we will finally savor the same triumph our ancestors tasted, forcing the Jew back into his ghetto [or better yet, to repentance, and unto his land of origin]. May it be so speedily, and in our lifetime. Amen.

March 14, 2019— What do cats have that newborn babies don't? Democrats' support. In one of the sickest ironies no one is talking about, Senate liberals picked this moment — 17 days after they voted to kill America's perfectly healthy infants — to fight for the humane treatment of kittens. Maybe the DNC's strategists are out to lunch, or maybe the Left really is this shameless, but I can't wait to see some of these politicians standing on debate platforms next year telling the American people that when it comes to protecting living things: We chose cats over kids.

For sponsors like Senator Jeff Merkley (D-Ore.), the optics are nauseating. Here he is, arguing that America “must stop killing kittens,” when, three weeks ago, he stood in the U.S. Capitol and agreed with 43 Democrats that human beings should be put down. “The USDA's decision to slaughter kittens after they are used in research is an archaic practice and horrific treatment, and we need to end it,” Merkley said with a passion that he and his colleagues couldn't muster for a generation of perfectly healthy newborns. His Kittens in Traumatic Testing Ends Now — or KITTEN — Act wouldn't stop the research, but it would keep the animals from being destroyed.

“The KITTEN Act will protect these innocent animals from being needlessly euthanized in government testing,” Merkley told reporters, “and make sure that they can be adopted by loving families instead.” Does he even hear himself? They should be treated and adopted? That's exactly what Americans have requested for living, breathing babies. Democrats said no. Killing a child is a “personal decision,” they said, and Congress shouldn't get in the way. What a comfort for abortion survivors like Melissa Ohden to know that, given the choice, Democrats would save a stray cat over her.

“The fact that we need a piece of legislation to tell the federal government to stop killing kittens is ridiculous on its face,” Congressman Brian Mast (R-Fla.) argued. But “ridiculous” doesn't begin to describe a party that tells America to back away from the tables of crying newborns while it rushes to the rescue of kittens instead. I suppose we should also tell firefighters when they run into burning houses to look for the pets first? After all, on the Democrats' sliding scale of "wantedness," shouldn't we find out how loved someone is before we decide if they're worth saving? Meanwhile, as if legal infanticide isn't revolting enough, House Democrats have decided Americans should pay for it. In what's turning out to be a test for the most unpopular majority in history, Speaker Nancy Pelosi's (D-Calif.) chamber is pushing a bill that would force a country who overwhelmingly opposes late-term abortion to bankroll it — along with abortions in any trimester. Rep. Diana DeGette (D-Colo.), another liberal who can't seem to take taxpayers' "No!" for an answer, is trying to overturn the Hyde amendment. "It's just important as we move forward that we pass legislation that honors women's reproductive health and their decisions," she said. But what about honoring taxpayers — two-thirds of whom fiercely oppose the idea of financing the Left's killing machine? And that includes "pro-choicers." Although the bill doesn't stand a chance in the Senate, it could still make history. If Pelosi keeps up with the Left's tone-deafness and brings DeGette's bill up for the vote, it would be the first time the House has voted to overturn Hyde in history.

THE HOLY FAITH OF REFORMED SAMARITANISM

The reason why secular Jews controlling the global and political arena are so pushy and adamant about you embracing atheism and homosexuality is that, among secular Jews, atheism and homosexuality are endemic. And these moral vices stain the Jewish psyche, leaving it's soul without inner peace. But if secular Jews (who consider themselves to be above everyone else, being God's chosen people) have to live without inner peace, it is inconceivable that you (a mere gentile, destined to serve the Jews) are allowed to enjoy a life of peace and moral fortitude. If the Jews go down, you have to go down with them, as again, it's inconceivable that you (an ignorant gentile) made the right moral choice, while the all powerful Jews didn't. YOU have to be wrong! So, even if you're not atheist nor homosexual, you (and your children) must be forced to embrace atheism and homosexuality, in order that Jews and Gentiles suffer equally

While House and Senate Democrats seem obsessed with taking lives, at least one court is helping states protect them. In what may turn out to be the ruling that turned the Supreme Court tide, the Sixth Circuit Court sided with Ohio in defunding Planned Parenthood. For three years, the Buckeyes have been fighting to redirect the $1.5 million for abortion providers to real health clinics. Buckeye leaders, including former Governor John Kasich, were sick of "using abortion providers as the face of state health care programs." A lower court said too bad. But 11 judges on the Sixth Circuit disagreed, insisting that Ohio's law doesn't violate the Constitution "because the affiliates do not have a due process right to perform abortions." And while President Trump didn't have anything to do with the ruling, he had plenty to do with the people who made it. Four of the 11 judges who defended Ohio's law were appointed by this White House. If you're wondering how much this administration's commitment to nominations matters, this is proof. There are men and women on benches across America today who are literally saving lives because this president made the courts a priority. Thanks to Donald Trump, pro-lifers know better than anyone: you don't need Congress to win on life.

Why it is impossible to alter God's Word?

God's Law (Torah) teaches that the Creator personally wrote His Law upon "the stone tablets". What does it mean? It means God's Law cannot be altered. It also means that the purest form of Divine revelation isn't the one written upon goat skins, nor even upon papyrus (both of which can be altered and/or destroyed); Why? Because The Creator has chosen to write His Law upon "The stones" of the Earth, the Sun, the moon, and the stars (in other words, into our surrounding Nature); and no man had a share in such process. Thus, the day mankind is able to alter the law of "Cause and Effect", it will also be able to alter Torah. The day mankind is able to alter the Law of "sowing and reaping", it will also be able to alter Torah. The day mankind can remove both the clouds and the moon from heavens, men will be able to alter Torah. The day mankind becomes capable of preventing the Sun from shining and rising in the horizon, they'll be able to alter Torah. The day mankind can prevent light from conquering darkness, it would have annulled Torah.

Why is this so? Simply because the totality of God's revelation, can be understood by looking at the skies, and pausing to consider both the Laws as well as the order of Nature. How do we know that doing good will bring us good? By observing the law of sowing and reaping; if a man sows goodness, he will reap goodness (he will be exalted), but if he sows evil, he will reap evil (he will stumble). And how do we know evil is darkness, while goodness is light? Because a man cannot see with clarity (and therefore stumbles), when surrounded by darkness, and this makes him anxious. But when surrounded by light, the man is at ease, since the light enables him to see with clarity, and without fear of stumbling. Therefore, the Torah of Nature teaches us that mankind must avoid the darkness of evil, and seek the light of goodness.

How do we know that it is evil for man to "devour" (harm) his fellow man? Because the Torah written in Nature teaches that, even the wild (irrational) beasts, devour one another only for want of food (and not out of greed, power, or envy). Thus, it is unbecoming for human beings (which are superior to irrational beasts) to harm one another for vain and selfish reasons.

And how do we know that thanking God and singing His praises should have the priority on our daily living? Because the first thing birds (the most "elevated" of all irrational creatures) do in the morning, is to sing praises to their Creator. If irrational beings behave this way, how can rational human beings do any less?

How do we know that the best way to bring "life" unto the rest of the world is by "yielding good fruit" (doing what is good)? We know it from the trees, for they don't go on missionary trips, neither do they go on preaching campaigns; They simply yield good fruit, and he who is hungry, and starving to death, can simply come and eat of it's fruit, thereby receiving life.

In short, God chose to personally write His will and Law in a Torah that can't be altered nor cancelled by any human being. This pure and unmarred Torah is the Law of Nature that our Universe displays. It is true that there have been other books (Torah of the Jews, Torah of the Gospels, Torah of the Quran, etc) written by men of God. These other books aspire to be a reflection of God's personal Torah. But, any part of these books which denies, contradicts, or tries to supersede God's own Torah, must be discarded [or be hold as no more than human commentary]. And any part of these books which is in full agreement with God's Torah [as written in Nature] must likewise be considered the Word of the living God (blessed be Him).

If you become a practical atheist, you will thereby guarantee the success of your atheistic Jewish neighbor

Secular Jews will always be able to exploit the unrestrained lifestyle that characterizes non religious Gentiles. For example, although the Jew himself will often abstain from seeking pleasure and luxury (in order to save significant amounts of money), he will often enjoin his gentile neighbor to become non religious, luring him into an unrestrained lifestyle of luxury and pleasure seeking. Why? Because he knows such lifestyle demands large amounts of money- Money he [or other members of his clan] will be able to loan to the gentiles (thereby reducing them to servitude!). And this explains the aversion most secular Jews feel against gentile religions demanding from their followers a sober, disciplined, and ethical lifestyle, as it would mean the ruin of their establishment. For example, have you ever wondered why Amish people have no problem with the Jews? It is because their religion promotes a simple and disciplined lifestyle; one that bankrupts secular Jews. In fact, Amish people don't even need car insurance, as they are contented with their old-fashioned horse-and-buggies! (Fortunately for the Jews, Amish religion is so small that represents no serious danger to the Jewish Banking establishment. But should millions of Americans start following this ideology, Jewish controlled media wouldn't hesitate to declare war upon them). So, if you want to start conquering the atheistic Jews agenda, a good place to start might be embracing a religious ideology that prevents you from promoting any establishment controlled by the secular Jews: a faith that bans usury, deception, luxurious living, pleasure seeking, atheism, prostitution, pornography, and homosexuality. By doing so, you'll become one of the godly heroes our deranged World so desperately needs; breaking the Jewish strangle hold on the gentile psyche, one life at a time.

 ¿Cual de los dos Miente? ¿Miente la Ley de Dios, cuando dice que la Pascua es una fiesta de יהוה (Exodo 12:11, Numeros 28:16, & Levitico 23:5)? ¿O miente el Evangelio, cuando dice que la Pascua es una fiesta de los Judios (Juan 2:13, Juan 11:55 & Juan 6:4)?

Bible based “equality” doesn't mean “literal” equality; it means God is equally please with different persons (Jew or Gentile, Black or White, Male or female; Wise or foolish, etc), as long as they both serve the Creator to the best of their God-given capabilities [which often implies literal inequality!].

For example, since unlike what happens to women, men don't have to cope with the difficulties of random and painful monthly periods, Hebrew faith relieves women from the obligation to perform any commandment that needs to be performed at a specific time or date. So, though following different degrees of observance, in the eyes of the Creator both males and females are “equally worthy”.

Urdir una falsedad, nos fuerza siempre a urdir alguna otra falsedad, aún si se trata de una ciencia tan rigurosa como lo son las matemáticas

En un sentido estrictamente literal, las matemáticas son falsedad; es decir, un mundo ficticio, creado por el hombre para tratar de cuantificar los fenómenos que observamos en la naturaleza. En ese mundo imaginario, definimos arbitrariamente que, cuando elevamos un valor “X” a una potencia “n”, lo que queremos decir es que, el valor de “X”, se debe multiplicar por si mismo “n” cantidad de veces. Por ejemplo, X^5 significa, por definición, lo siguiente:

$$X^5 = (X)(X)(X)(X)(X)$$

del mismo modo, X^3 significa por definición lo siguiente:

$$X^3 = (X)(X)(X)$$

Note que, si multiplicásemos X^5 por X^3 , tendríamos lo siguiente:

$$(X)(X)(X)(X)(X)(X)(X)(X) = X^8$$

Note en adición como nuestro nuevo exponente es la suma de los exponentes individuales (es decir, $8 = 5+3$). Así que podríamos decir que, cuando multiplicamos una misma variable que [posee dos exponentes distintos], el resultado de la operación será la misma variable, pero con un exponente que resulta ser la suma de los exponentes individuales.

De igual modo, cuando dividimos una misma variable [pero con distintos exponentes], el producto de la división tendrá un exponente que resulta ser la resta de los exponentes individuales. Por ejemplo:

$$\begin{aligned} & (X^5) / (X^3) \\ &= (X)(X)(X)(X)(X) / (X)(X)(X) \\ &= (X)(X) \\ &= X^2 \end{aligned}$$

Pero note que, según hemos dicho, $X^2 = X^{(5-3)}$

Note en adición que, si bien hemos definido la exponenciación como el producto de un número por si mismo, y en adición hemos establecido que los exponentes de una variable se suman en la multiplicación, y se restan en la división, todo esto es el producto de nuestra imaginación, y no de una realidad concreta. Es decir, la idea no es sino una conveniente falsedad, que hemos urdido para ayudarnos a entender el mundo que nos rodea. Y, si algún fenómeno parece contradecir nuestra dulce falsedad, pues nos vemos obligados a urdir otra falsedad; una que nos ayude a validar nuestra primera falsedad.

Por ejemplo, si es realmente cierto que el exponente de una variable indica el número de veces que debe multiplicarse por si misma una variable, ¿que valor tendría una variable X , si decidimos elevarla a un exponente con valor de cero?

En otras palabras, ¿cuanto es X^0 ? Pues la verdad es que, en la vida real, X^0 no hace sentido alguno; Pero si queremos ser consistente con la fantasía que hemos creado [diciendo que los exponentes se suman o se restan], tendríamos entonces que inventar otra fantasía- la fantasía de alegar que el valor de X^0 , no es otro sino el número 1. A fin de entender la razón de nuestra nueva fantasía, analicemos el siguiente ejemplo:

Segun la regla de la suma de exponentes, ¿cuanto es X^3 multiplicado por X^0 ?

$$\text{Respuesta: } (X^3)(X^0) = X^{(3+0)} = X^3$$

En otras palabras, $(X^3)(X^0) = X^3$. Pero, para que un número X^3 sea multiplicado por un número X^0 , y el resultado de la multiplicación siga siendo X^3 , entonces el valor de X^0 tiene que [por fuerza] ser igual a "1". Así que, en aras de sostener nuestra primera fantasía [respecto a la suma y la resta de los exponentes], nos vemos obligados a inventar una segunda fantasía [la fantasía de decir que, una variable elevada a un exponente con valor cero, siempre tendrá un valor total de "1"].

What is the meaning of the verse that goes on to say, "the dead know not any thing" (Ecclesiastes 9: 5)?

The Hebrew Scripture says: «For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing...» (Ecclesiastes 9: 5, King James Version). What is Scripture trying to tell us by this? Why is it presented to us [as if it were a great divine revelation], something that even the most foolish of sinners knows [that everyone who lives will one day have to die]? Well, it is done in order to teach us a deeper truth. You see, when the verse speaks of "the living", it is not referring to those whose bodies are alive, but to the righteous [those whose souls are alive, since they already have eternal life]. These "living" know that their bodies will die, but they have no fear, because they know that their souls will live forever.

On the other hand, when the verse speaks of "the dead", it is referring to the unjust [in other words, those who oppose God's Law]; whose bodies are alive, but whose souls are already "dead". In other words, the soul that isn't cemented upon the Divine Law is "dead", and "knows nothing" of God's truth. And if this soul is dead even while its body is still alive, how much more by far will it be dead once its body is no longer alive?

The God who publicly spoke to the whole nation of Israel on top of Mt. Sinai said to them: "Obey me alone! How? By refusing to lie, murder, steal, dishonor your parents, etc". If anyone does these things, he will be serving the same God as Israelites did, no matter if he calls Him Jesus, Allah, Aura Mazda, or even Khrishna. And maybe the former is the reason why God's original name (YHVH) was written without any vowels [so that nobody could know for sure it's exact pronunciation]; as if to imply that, the only way to know we are serving the same God as the Israelites, is by doing the same things The Israelite God had commanded

Bible literalism is the greatest source of modern atheism

Bible literalism is sort of like the small minded child who no longer believes in his Father. Why? Because he heard him say that he was "the apple of his eyes" (something the boys know to be a dirty lie, as no apple grows inside the eye!).

And something similar happens when a man stops believing in his heavenly father because he reads that the Bible says God repents, or is jealous, or gets angry, or is vengeful.... He simply cannot understand that none of it is literal, as God is no man [but rather an immortal Spirit] and therefore isn't liable to flawed human passions and emotions.

The fact is that, all of what the Bible says about God is just a metaphorical way of speaking about something that is incredibly difficult to explain in straight human terms (so God chooses to phrase it in over simplified terms, so that the general public can grasp the basic idea).

Take for example the case of Bible's punishments and rewards. Most people think there is a future judgment, and a literal heaven or hell awaiting for us. But the truth of the matter is that The Supreme Power of the Universe (God) won't personally judge nor condemn anybody. The truth of the matter is that His judgment was already issued since before the beginning of time, and will consist of letting each person reap the same "heaven" (goodness) or "hell" (evil) he has freely and willingly bestowed upon his needy fellow creature (in other words, the eternal law of "sowing and reaping", or "action and reaction")

The problem with modern atheists is their belief in such things as "absolute truth" (scientific truth, evolutionary truth, mathematical truth, political truth, racial truth, etc). But the fact is that such an attitude is in itself the hallmark of any old-fashioned religious leader, as all of the former have claimed to possess absolute truth [something any common-sense individual would reject right from the start]. As is written:

"Jesus replied. 'I was born for this... to testify to THE TRUTH. Everyone who is of THE TRUTH listens to my voice...' , '[And] What is truth?' said Pilate"- John 18:37-37.

The fact is that human beings have no means to ascertain absolute truth. In other words, our senses will only allow us to perceive "relative truth"; afterward, we are just expected to do the best we can with the relative truth we have grasped.

And maybe that's the reason why the Hebrew Bible never records any Hebrew prophet, king, or priest ever asking any non-Hebrew person to embrace the Hebrew religion. Rather, it portrays them exhorting non-Hebrew people to do good [practicing justice, mercy, and humility] within the constraints of the [relative] religious truth they already have.

And from whence do we get that He who we perceive as "the Creator" just asks us to do the best we can within the constraints of the relative truth we've perceived? We know it from the Hebrew prophet Daniel, who while advising king Nebuchadnezzar never asked him to abandon his pagan religion, but rather do good within it. As is written: "Therefore, your majesty, may my advice be acceptable to you: Stop your sinning, do what's right, and put a stop to your wickedness by showing kindness to the oppressed..."- Daniel 4:27 (International Standard Version)

Show respect to all men, but never show any love nor admiration for the evil of the wicked (arrogance, theft, deception, immorality, injustice, cruelty, atheism, paganism, etc), as the latter brings Divine wrath upon mankind. As it is said: «Then Jehu son of the seer Hanani went out to confront him, and said to King Jehoshaphat, "Do you help the wicked (Ahab) and love those who hate the Lord (Jezebel)? Because of this, the Lord's wrath is on you"»- 2 Chronicles 19:2, Christian Standard Bible

The demise of our impulse to do evil

In the future, the Holy One (blessed be He) will bring the impulse to do evil and kill it in the presence of both the righteous and the wicked. To the righteous, the urge to do evil will seem as strong and big as a huge mountain; But, to the wicked, it will appear to be as weak [and small] as a hair of the beard.

They will both cry; the righteous (those who believe in obeying God's commandments) will cry saying, "How were we able to bend such a great and powerful mountain?"; While the wicked will cry saying, "How were we unable to bend something as weak and worthless as a single hairstrand?"

Your see, most of God's commandments begin with the Hebrew letter "Lamed" (ל), a letter that curiously seem to have the shape of a beard's hairstrand. But the letter "Lamed" is also the first letter of the Hebrew word "Lo", which we normally translate into English as "No". So, all that the wicked needed to do in order to overcome their urge to do evil, was to say "Lo!" ("No!") to wickedness.

What we do with "the truth" we have at hand is much important that whether or not what we have at hand is the actual truth. "Sow" goodness with whatever "truth" you have at hand, and you'll be just fine

Si no se arrepiente, y vuelve a la senda antigua [es decir, al camino de la Ley De Dios], la Nación de Israel será pronto destruida

Con respecto al futuro de la nación de Israel, así como de las paradas de orgullo homosexual que anualmente se celebran en lo que antiguamente solía ser la Santa Ciudad de Jerusalén, la Escritura Hebrea advierte lo siguiente:

“¿Por qué te jactas [celebrando paradas] de maldad, oh poderoso? ... Agravios maquina tu lengua; Como navaja afilada hace engaño [manipulando los medios masivos de información]. Amaste el mal [el ateísmo y la Sodomía] más que el bien; la mentira [de la ideología de Genero], más que la verdad... Por tanto, Dios te destruirá para siempre [entregándote en manos de las naciones enemigas]; Te asolará y te arrancará de tu morada [la Tierra De Israel], Y te desarraigará de la tierra de los vivientes”- Salmo 52:1-5. Biblia Reina Valera 1960

Samaritanismo Reformado

(Salmo 19:7)

La Torah (la Ley) dada por יהוה a Moisés, es la perfecta (completa, no abrogable, no reemplazable, e indiscutible) palabra de Dios. Así que, todo lo que digan tanto el Evangelio como el Corán, que confirme lo dicho en la Torah, es también palabra de Dios; Pero, todo lo que digan contradiciendo, alterando, o abrogando la Torah, no es Palabra de Dios, sino mentira de los hombres. Y יהוה ha prometido cerrar la boca de los que hablan mentira. Como esta escrito:

“Our planet has been created so that while some humans get up [in the morning], another set of humans [living in the opposite side of the planet] get down [to sleep at night]; as if to imply that God's will is for those in the light to get up, while those in darkness get down. In other words, that once they have been enveloped by “darkness” (the "darkness" of immorality), all human powers must come to an end”

Life isn't black or white

Life isn't black or white. Since there's some goodness and some evil in all things, we should never totally accept [or reject] anything. Rather, we should take all that is good, holy, honest, and humble, while discarding what is evil; then we just keep moving forward in our quest for Divine truth ¿Que hay de malo con seguir la teología esbozada por la noble fe Cristiana?

La noble tradición Cristiana postula que, a diferencia de lo que a diario corroboran nuestros sentidos, por medio de la Ley de siembra y cosecha (es decir, que el hombre recoge el mismo fruto que ha sembrado), cuando de la justificación del alma se trata, el bien o el mal que podamos haber sembrado es totalmente irrelevante; pues el Creador no justifica (no declara limpio de pecados) a nadie que no guarde perfectamente la Ley (es decir, que no posea absoluta perfección ética y moral). Y, según el Cristianismo, esa perfección solo puede ser alcanzada creyendo en Jesús (la paz y la bendición de יהוה sean con el).

En otras palabras, cuando un hombre cree en el sacrificio expiatorio de Jesús (p.s.c.e.), la justicia de la vida perfecta que (alegadamente) vivió el Nazareno, le es imputada a este individuo, de suerte que Dios ahora le ve como moralmente perfecto. Para justificar esta idea, el Cristianismo cita un pasaje de la Ley, donde se intima que Abraham fue justificado con tan solo creer en la promesa hecha por Dios: "Y creyó a יהוה, y le fue contado por justicia" - Gen. 15:6.

¿Valida la Escritura Hebrea esta interpretación? ¿Que problema hay con la anterior teología? El problema es que, aunque a primera vista aparenta ser una idea seductora y atractiva, cuando se analiza en detalle, se encuentra que es una forma sutil de hechicería (es decir, la noción de que, diciendo estas o aquellas otras palabras; o creyendo en este o aquel otro conjuro, lograremos obtener lo que anhelamos). Esta teología es falsa y abominable, pues niega el fundamento mismo de la Revelación dada por Dios a Israel, cuando ordeno diciendo: "Por tanto, GUARDARÉIS MIS ESTATUTOS Y MIS ORDENANZAS; LOS CUALES, HACIENDO EL HOMBRE, VIVIRÁ. Yo יהוה"

Es decir, la Ley prometía vida y bendición para todo el que obedeciese los (diez) mandamientos; pero muerte y destrucción, para quienes rehusasen obedecerlos: "CUIDATE DE NO OLVIDARTE DE יהוה TU DIOS, PARA CUMPLIR SUS MANDAMIENTOS, sus decretos, y sus estatutos que yo te ordeno hoy... MAS SI LLEGARES A OLVIDARTE DE יהוה TU DIOS, Y ANDUVIERES EN POS DE DIOSES AJENOS, Y LES SIRVIERES, Y A ELLOS TE INCLINARES, YO LO AFIRMO HOY CONTRA VOSOTROS, QUE DE CIERTO PERECERÉIS. Como las naciones que יהוה destruirá delante de vosotros, así pereceréis, por cuanto no habréis atendido a la voz de יהוה vuestro Dios" - Deut. 8:11,19&20.

De hecho, si como alega el Cristianismo, Jesús (p.s.c.e.) fue el único hombre capaz de obedecer perfectamente la Ley, podríamos en justicia afirmar que, entre los nacidos de mujer, no hay otro mayor que Jesús; Pero esto solo sería "wishful thinking" (pensar que nuestra falsa ilusión corresponde a la realidad de los hecho), pues Jesús mismo es citado afirmando lo contrario: "De cierto os digo: ENTRE LOS QUE NACEN DE MUJER NO SE HA LEVANTADO OTRO MAYOR QUE JUAN EL BAUTISTA...”-Mateo 11:11. Así, el Evangelio muestra que, no solo estaba Jesús descalificado para la perfección, sino que (al menos en términos morales) aún Juan el Bautista era mayor que el.

El pasaje dice así, “Respondiendo Jesús, dijo: ¿No son diez los que fueron limpiados? Y los nueve, ¿dónde están? ¿No hubo quien volviese y diese gloria a Dios, sino ESTE EXTRANJERO?” - Lucas 17:17-18. O, como cuando cita a Jesús equiparando a la mujer Siro-fenicia con una perra: “Pero Jesús le dijo: Deja primero que se sacien los hijos, porque NO ESTÁ BIEN TOMAR EL PAN DE LOS HIJOS Y ECHARLO A LOS PERRILLOS”- Marcos 7:27. Otro ejemplo ilustrativo, podría ser el que surge (por inferencia lógica), a partir de la experiencia vivida por el apóstol Pablo (paz sea con él). Es que, el evangelio presenta a Pablo confesando que había violado lo ordenado en la Ley de Dios; al referirse al Sumo Sacerdote con el epíteto de “Pared Blanqueada”. El pasaje dice así: “Entonces Pablo le dijo: ¡Dios te golpeará a ti, pared blanqueada! ¿Estás tú sentado para juzgarme conforme a la Ley, y quebrantando la Ley me mandas golpear? Los que estaban presentes dijeron: ¿Al Sumo Sacerdote de Dios injurias? Pablo dijo: No sabía, hermanos, que era el Sumo Sacerdote; pues escrito está: No maldecirás a un Príncipe de tu pueblo”- Hechos 23:3-5.

Note como, en el anterior pasaje, Pablo confiesa que ha pecado, violando la Ley que, en Éxodo 22:28, ordena no maldecir a los líderes de Israel. El pasaje dice así: “No injuriarás a los jueces, ni maldecirás al Príncipe de tu pueblo”. Note que, si fue pecado que Pablo se refiriese públicamente al liderato Hebreo con el relativamente inocuo epíteto de “pared blanqueada” (las paredes podían o no ser impuras), ¿cuanto mas pecaminoso no sería el que Jesús (paz sea con él) se refiriese públicamente a ese mismo liderato con el mas fuerte epíteto de “sepulcros blanqueados”? (¡en la fe Hebrea los cadáveres y los sepulcros SIEMPRE ERAN IMPUROS!); Como dice el Evangelio: “¡Ay de vosotros, escribas y fariseos, hipócritas! porque SOIS SEMEJANTES A SEPULCROS BLANQUEADOS, que por fuera, a la verdad, se muestran hermosos, mas POR DENTRO ESTÁN LLENOS DE HUESOS DE MUERTOS Y DE TODA INMUNDICIA”- Mateo 23:27.

La realidad es que, quienes oyeron y caminaron inicialmente con Jesús (paz sea con él), entendieron claramente que el Galileo no fue sino un poderoso profeta (un hombre ungido por el Creador, para exhortar al pueblo a volver a su Dios en sincero arrepentimiento); como aclara el mismo Nazareno, cuando es citado diciendo: “Pero ahora procuráis matarme A MÍ, HOMBRE QUE OS HE HABLADO LA VERDAD, LA CUAL HE OÍDO DE DIOS...”- Juan 8:40. Los discípulos del Galileo dieron este mismo testimonio, cuando fueron citados diciendo: “Y ellos le dijeron: De JESÚS NAZARENO, QUE FUE VARÓN PROFETA, PODEROSO EN OBRA Y EN PALABRA DELANTE DE DIOS Y DE TODO EL PUEBLO...”- Lucas 24:19.

El hecho de que Jesús (la paz y la bendición de יהוה sean con el) no fue “el hombre perfecto” que alega el Cristianismo (y mucho menos la encarnación del Creador) es adicionalmente corroborado por el siguiente pasaje, donde Pablo se dirige a los creyentes de la recién inaugurada iglesia de Corinto: “Porque he sido informado acerca de vosotros, hermanos míos, por los de Cloé, que hay entre vosotros contiendas. Quiero decir, que cada uno de vosotros dice: Yo soy de Pablo; y yo de Apolos; y yo de Cefas (O Pedro); y yo de Cristo” - 1 Corintios 1:11-12.

Note lo asombroso de este pasaje, que echa por tierra los reclamos acerca de la Deidad y la perfección moral del Nazareno (paz y bendición sean con él). Estos primeros discípulos (que conocían de primera mano la realidad histórica del naciente movimiento Cristiano) se habían dividido a si mismos en cuatro bandos; y cada bando seguía a quien entendía ser el mejor modelo de lo que era ser un verdadero Cristiano.

Así, unos seguían a Pablo; otros seguían a Apolos; otros a Pedro; y los últimos, seguían a Jesús.

¿Entiende usted las implicaciones lógicas de este pasaje? Si Jesús era moralmente perfecto (a diferencia de Pablo, de Apolos, y de Cefas), ¿como era posible que, a algunos de estos creyentes, se les ocurriese no seguir el moralmente perfecto modelo que era Jesús, para seguir en cambio a los imperfectos modelos que eran Pablo, Apolos, o Cefas? Y, si creían que Jesús era en efecto el Dios Omnipotente, ¿como era posible que, en vez de seguir a ese Dios Omnipotente, se les ocurriese en cambio seguir a hombres finitos y mortales como lo eran Pablo, Apolos, y Cefas? ¡La comparación ya de por si misma es blasfema!

De hecho, no solo se ponía a Jesús compitiendo en una misma lista contra hombres mortales e imperfectos como Pablo, Apolos, y Cefas, ¡sino que hasta se le ponía al final de esa lista! (... soy de Pablo...de Apolos... de Cefas... de Cristo). ¿A quien se le ocurriría reducir al Creador a el nivel de sus criaturas?

¿Puede usted imaginar a los antiguos Israelitas divididos entre “seguidores de Avraham”, seguidores de Moisés”, “seguidores de Isaías”, y “seguidores de יהוה”? ¿No habría insinuado esto la blasfemia de que יהוה no era sino otro hombre mortal, tal y como lo eran Avraham, Moisés, e Isaías? La explicación lógica de esta aberrante situación era que, si esto sucedía en Corinto, era solo porque (como ya hemos explicado) estos primeros Cristianos no creían que Jesús fuese el hombre perfecto (ni mucho menos la encarnación de la Deidad) que luego postularía la naciente teología Cristiana. Para ellos, Jesús había sido un poderoso profeta; un hombre de Dios, tal y como lo eran Pablo, Apolos, y Cefas; De hecho, habiendo sido Pablo y Cefas autores de la mayoría de las cartas consideradas por ellos como Divinamente inspiradas, no veían nada malo en seguir a estos hombres de Dios. Tengamos presente que, a diferencia de Pablo y Cefas, Jesús no escribió ningún libro inspirado; tampoco dejo por escrito ninguna instrucción acerca de como debían de vivir los creyentes la fe que había venido a revelarles.

En este aspecto, los Corintios dependían exclusivamente del consejo y la revelación de los autores apostólicos; hombres como Pablo, Apolos, y Cefas. De paso, note en esto la superioridad de la revelación dada por Dios a Moisés: A diferencia de los evangelios, la Ley Mosaica detallaba la forma precisa en que cada Israelita debía vivir su fe en el Dios de Israel.

Tratemos ahora el aspecto de la justificación por la fe en la expiación que, alegadamente, proveyó el sacrificio vicario que representó la vida del Nazareno (paz y bendición sean con él). Según la teología Cristiana, la validez de este sacrificio descansa sobre el fundamento de que Jesús guardo perfectamente la Ley; y, esa perfección, le es imputada al creyente Cristiano. Pero, como ya hemos demostrado, el Nazareno no cumplió perfectamente esa Ley; de paso, quizás fue esa misma incapacidad de cumplir perfectamente lo ordenado en la Ley, lo que motivo al Galileo a participar del bautismo de Juan; un bautismo para arrepentimiento.

Es decir, si Jesús hubiese sido perfectamente obediente a la Ley, ¿de que habría tenido que arrepentirse? El correspondiente pasaje dice así: “Bautizaba Juan en el desierto, y predicaba el bautismo de arrepentimiento, para perdón de pecados”- Marcos 1:4 (De hecho, según el mismo Jesús, si alguien estaba mas cualificado que el Nazareno para ser un sacrificio vicario, era precisamente Juan el Bautista).

¿No era la Ley Moisés suficiente revelación Divina como para inducir al hombre al arrepentimiento, de modo que evitase terminar en Gehinnom (el infierno)? ¿Había necesidad de que un hombre (como Jesús) muriese y resucitase de entre los muertos, a fin de que los hombres pudiesen ser persuadidos a arrepentirse? ¿Que contestación habría dado a esta pregunta el hombre que alegadamente fue justificado por la "fe sin obras" (Avraham)?

Curiosamente, el relato Cristiano en efecto presenta a Avraham dándonos la respuesta: "... porque tengo cinco hermanos, para que les testifique, a fin de que no vengan ellos también a este lugar de tormento. Y ABRAHAM LE DIJO: A MOISÉS Y A LOS PROFETAS TIENEN; ÓIGANLOS. ÉL entonces dijo: NO, PADRE ABRAHAM; PERO SI ALGUNO FUERE A ELLOS DE ENTRE LOS MUERTOS, SE ARREPENTIRÁN. Mas ABRAHAM LE DIJO: SI NO OYEN A MOISÉS Y A LOS PROFETAS, TAMPOCO SE PERSUADIRÁN, AUNQUE ALGUNO SE LEVANTARE DE LOS MUERTOS"- Lucas 16:28-31.

Es decir, Avraham afirma que, aún si alguien se levantase de los muertos (como afirma el Cristianismo que sucedió con Jesús), esto no es en realidad necesario, pues los hombres tienen en Moisés y en los profetas toda la exhortación que necesitan para persuadirse a proceder al arrepentimiento (evitando así acabar en el mismo tormento en el cual acabo el hombre rico).

En resumen, realmente nunca ha existido tal cosa como un sacrificio vicario, donde un hombre perfecto ofrende literalmente su alma, en remplazo por la imperfecta humanidad. Ese hombre perfecto (sin pecado) no existe, ni existirá jamás, pues la Escritura dice: "Ciertamente NO HAY HOMBRE JUSTO EN LA TIERRA, QUE HAGA EL BIEN Y NUNCA PEQUE"- Eclesiastés 7:20.

De hecho, el peligro con la idea de un sacrificio vicario, es que pudo haber sido la base para que tanto Israelitas como paganos practicasen antiguamente el sacrificio de seres humanos (niños).

Es que, si la muerte de una persona inocente, pudiese hacer expiación por el pecado, entonces un padre se vería tentado a buscar expiación para sus pecados, ofreciendo a uno de sus inocentes pequeñitos (como lo podría ser por el ejemplo su hijo primogénito). Y es quizás por esto mismo que el profeta Miqueas se sintió compelido a denunciar lo extraviado de esta teología, cuando es citado diciendo:

"¿Con que me presentare ante יהוה , y adorare al Altísimo?... ¿DARÉ MI PRIMOGÉNITO POR MI REBELIÓN, EL FRUTO DE MIS ENTRAÑAS POR EL PECADO DE MI ALMA? (Miqueas 6:6-7). ¿Que respuesta da el profeta? ¿Como puede el hombre obtener el favor Divino?: «Oh hombre, El te ha declarado lo que es bueno, ¿Y QUE PIDE יהוה DE TI?: SOLAMENTE HACER JUSTICIA, Y AMAR MISERICORDIA, Y HUMILLARTE ANTE TU DIOS»- Miqueas 6:8.

El Creador (bendito sea) da testimonio de su aceptación del hombre que tiene misericordia de su prójimo, cuando por medio del profeta Oseas dice lo siguiente: «Porque misericordia quiero, y no sacrificio; y conocimiento de Dios, mas que holocaustos» - Oseas 6:6. ¿Y que es conocimiento de Dios? Pues hacer justicia y misericordia, como está escrito: «... ¿No comió y bebió tu padre, e HIZO JUSTICIA Y JUICIO, Y ENTONCES LE FUE BIEN? EL JUZGO LA CAUSA DEL AFLIGIDO Y DEL MENESTEROSO, y entonces estuvo bien. ¿NO ES ESTO CONOCERME A MI, DICE יהוה?»- Jeremías 22:15-16.

Por otro lado, la teología Cristiana utiliza el texto en Génesis 15:6 para aducir que la salvación era por la fe, y no por las obras ("Y creyó a Dios, y le fue contado por Justicia"); pero, si fuésemos a utilizar el mismo criterio para la revelación dada a Moisés (400 años mas tarde), tendríamos que concluir que "la salvación por fe" (sin necesidad de obras) fue ya abrogada por el Creador, para ser en cambio sustituida por "la salvación por obras" (es decir, por la obediencia a las obras ordenadas en la Ley).

Es que la Torah dice: “Y he aquí un varón de los hijos de Israel vino y trajo una madianita a sus hermanos, a ojos de Moisés y de toda la congregación de los hijos de Israel, mientras lloraban ellos a la puerta del tabernáculo de reunión. Y lo vio Finees hijo de Eleazar, hijo del sacerdote Aarón, y se levantó de en medio de la congregación, y tomó una lanza en su mano; y fue tras el varón de Israel a la tienda, y los alanceó a ambos, al varón de Israel, y a la mujer por su vientre. Y cesó la mortandad de los hijos de Israel...”- Num. 25:6-8.

El anterior pasaje dice que Finees tomo la iniciativa de actuar de acuerdo a lo ordenado en la Ley de Moisés; esta Ley, decía lo siguiente: “Si un hombre cometiere adulterio con la mujer de su prójimo, el adúltero y la adúltera indefectiblemente serán muertos”- Levítico 20:10.

En este pasaje, se nos indica que Dios estaba airado con los Israelitas, a causa de su pecado. ¿Como podría ser Israel justificado? ¿Teniendo fe en un Mesías que vendría a redimirle? ¿O volviendo a Dios en obediencia a lo ordenado en la Ley Divina? Finees decidió que la manera correcta de obtener la justificación Divina, era obedeciendo lo ordenado en los mandamientos; así que administro el castigo que esta Ley demandaba para los adúlteros, condenando así al pecado.

¿Como vio Dios las acciones de Finees? ¿Le condenó por tratar de agradar a Dios por medio de las obras de la Ley? Veamos lo que dice la Escritura: “Se unieron asimismo a Baal-peor, Y comieron los sacrificios de los muertos. Provocaron la ira de Dios con sus obras, Y se desarrolló la mortandad entre ellos. Entonces SE LEVANTÓ FINEES E HIZO JUICIO, y se detuvo la plaga; Y LE FUE CONTADO POR JUSTICIA, DE GENERACIÓN EN GENERACIÓN, PARA SIEMPRE”- Salmo 106:20-31.

Este pasaje afirma que Dios se agrado tanto de Finees, que su “obrar de acuerdo a lo ordenado en la Ley”, le fue contado por Justicia (tal y como había sucedido con Abraham). Es decir, si “el creer” le fue contado a Abraham por justicia, ahora ese “creer” era remplazado por el “obrar” (según la Ley). No solo eso, si no que, a diferencia de la justificación dada a Abraham (que no incluía garantía alguna de permanencia), la justificación dada a Finees conlleva promesa de inmutabilidad. Es decir, la justificación que recibe quien (al igual que Finees) guarda los mandamientos de la Ley, es “DE GENERACIÓN EN GENERACIÓN, PARA SIEMPRE”.

De hecho, quizás sea esta la razón por la cual la justificación dada a Abraham no incluía promesa de permanencia alguna, pues Moisés previo que aquella sería remplazada por la justificación eterna que recibirían quienes obedeciesen la Ley de Dios (¿Quien es mejor súbdito de un Rey? ¿Aquel que cree en el Rey, o aquel que obedece las leyes del Rey?).

Es que Abraham no sabía de los 613 mandamientos de la Ley Divina; y por tanto no podía ser justificado por la obediencia a mandamientos que no conocía; solo podía ser justificado por su fe en lo prometido por Dios para sus descendientes; que Dios les sacaría del cautiverio con brazo fuerte y extendido, para ser su Dios y Rey (haciendo que siguiesen sus leyes). Pero, una vez manifestada la Ley, ya no había justificación para no obedecer lo expresamente ordenado por el Creador.

Es decir, si Abraham hubiese vivido lo suficiente como para estar vivo cuando Moisés recibió la Ley, no habría utilizado la promesa de “justificación por fe” como excusa para no guardar la Ley, sino que habría exhortado a todos a oírla (obedecerla). Lo curioso de esto es que, como todo maestro del Samaritanismo Reformado, Jesús confirmo todo esto, cuando puso en boca de Abraham (paz y bendición sean siempre con el) las palabras que ya hemos citado: “Y Abraham le dijo: A MOISÉS Y A LOS PROFETAS TIENEN; ÓIGANLOS (¡obedézcanlos!)”- Lucas 16:29.

Por esto, tampoco sorprende a ningún Hebreo (que sea conocedor de la Torah), el leer las palabras que citan al Galileo diciendo que nadie puede ser grande (a los ojos del Creador), si no guarda lo ordenado en la Ley de Moisés: “De manera que CUALQUIERA QUE QUEBRANTE UNO DE ESTOS MANDAMIENTOS MUY PEQUEÑOS, Y ASÍ ENSEÑE A LOS HOMBRES, MUY PEQUEÑO SERÁ LLAMADO EN EL REINO DE LOS CIELOS; MAS CUALQUIERA QUE LOS HAGA Y LOS ENSEÑE, ÉSTE SERÁ LLAMADO GRANDE EN EL REINO DE LOS CIELOS”- Mateo 5:19.

Tampoco sorprende leer a Jesús diciendo: “... MAS SI QUIERES ENTRAR EN LA VIDA, GUARDA LOS MANDAMIENTOS”- Mateo 19:17.

Todo esto concuerda con la predica que esperaríamos oír de un buen maestro (o “Rabino”) que predique el Samaritanismo Reformado (es decir, la ética de la Ley Divina). Es interesante notar que hay cierto paralelismo entre lo sucedido con Finees, y la conducta que los evangelios adscriben a Juan el Bautista. Es decir, mientras Moisés (paz sea con él) calla ante el pecado de Israel, Finees muestra su incuestionable fidelidad a la Ley (algo por lo cual Moisés tiene luego que reconocerle).

De la misma manera, mientras Jesús calla ante el pecado (adulterio) del representante de Israel (Herodes, el rey de los Hebreos), Juan decide mostrar su incuestionable fidelidad a la Ley (¡una fidelidad por la cual estuvo dispuesto no solamente a ir a la cárcel, sino a ser decapitado!). Por esto Jesús, tiene luego que reconocer a Juan (su superioridad moral), diciendo que "entre los que nacen de mujer (esto incluye obviamente al mismo Jesús), no se ha levantado otro mayor que Juan El Bautista" (Mateo 11:11).

En resumen, la moderna teología Cristiana, es totalmente errada; y ni siquiera corresponde a lo enseñado por el Maestro de Galilea. Quien realmente quiera "creer en Jesús", tiene que comenzar a practicar el Samaritanismo Reformado que Jesús mismo practicó, renunciando a la mentira de “la salvación por fe” (sin necesidad de obedecer los mandamientos de la Ley Divina). De igual modo, debe renunciar al extravió de creer que Jesús fue la encarnación de la Deidad; el hombre perfecto que garantizo el perdón de los pecados de la humanidad.

Es que, si un hombre siembra maldad, ninguna cantidad de fe en el Nazareno lograra evitar que coseche la misma maldad que ha sembrado. Como enseñó el Galileo (paz sea con él), cuando dijo: “Mas si no perdonáis a los hombres sus ofensas, tampoco vuestro Padre os perdonará vuestras ofensas”- Mateo 6:15. Es decir, si el hombre no hace bien a su prójimo (no le perdona, no tiene misericordia de el, ni provee para su sustento), tampoco puede esperar recibir de Dios perdón, misericordia, ni sustento alguno, independientemente de su fe en Jesús.

Es que Jesús vino a exhortarnos a volver al verdadero espíritu de la Ley (a hacer a los demás el mismo bien que deseáramos que se nos hiciese a nosotros mismos), no a “liberarnos del yugo de la Ley”.

De hecho, Jesús es citado exhortando a sus discípulos a imitarle, tomando sobre si ese mismo yugo (¡recuerde que Jesús guardaba la Ley de Moisés!): “LLEVAD MI YUGO SOBRE VOSOTROS, Y APRENDED DE MÍ, que soy manso y humilde de corazón; y hallaréis descanso para vuestras almas...”- Mateo 11:29. ¿A que yugo hacia referencia el Nazareno? Jesús hacia referencia al pasaje que dice: “Tu maldad te castigará, y TUS REBELDÍAS TE CONDENARÁN; sabe, pues, y ve CUÁN MALO Y AMARGO ES EL HABER DEJADO TÚ A יהוה TU DIOS, Y FALTAR MI TEMOR EN TI, dice el Señor, יהוה de los ejércitos. Porque DESDE MUY ATRÁS ROMPISTE TU YUGO y tus ataduras, Y DIJISTE: NO SERVIRÉ...”- Jer. 2:19-20.

En otras palabras, el yugo al cual Jesús hacia referencia, era la vida de obediencia (servicio) a Dios, por medio de la obediencia a sus mandamientos; cuyo espíritu es, “hacer justicia, amar misericordia, y andar humildemente con Dios” (Miqueas 6:8).

Así como nadie puede “temer” a una poderosa autoridad humana, si primero no está dispuesto a obedecer los mandamientos que emite esa autoridad; de ese mismo modo, nadie puede tener “temor de Dios” (temor de la autoridad Divina), si primero no está dispuesto a obedecer los mandamientos emitidos por esa Autoridad Divina.

En fin, creer en Jesús, es creer la buena nueva de que El Creador (bendito sea) justifica al hombre y a la mujer que se arrepienten, y comienzan a obedecer lo ordenado en los diez mandamientos de su Ley; viviendo la vida ética y moral que no solamente modeló el Nazareno, sino Moisés, Avraham, y todos los profetas (la paz del Creador sea sobre todos ellos); Como está escrito:

Alguien podría argumentar que, lo hasta aquí expuesto, no puede ser correcto; pues, sin creer en ninguna de estas cosas, ya en algún momento ha experimentado la milagrosa intervención de Dios en su vida. ¡Esto es un grave error! La Escritura enseña que los milagros y las intervenciones Divinas que experimentamos, son una manifestación de la Misericordia de יהוה ; y no una confirmación de la veracidad de nuestra teología.

El capítulo once del libro de los Jueces, narra que Israel estaba siendo oprimido por sus enemigos Amonitas (símbolo y figura de la opresión que sufre el creyente a manos de la inmoralidad de nuestra época, de las pruebas, las enfermedades, la necesidad económica, y los sinsabores de la vida). Entonces, un hombre llamado Jefté pidió a Dios que le utilizara como instrumento para obrar el milagro de liberar a Israel.

Pero la teología de Jefté era extraviada, pues creía que el favor Divino podía ser comprado con algún sacrificio (¡incluyendo el sacrificio de seres humanos!). Así, Jefté hace un voto a Adonai, prometiendo ofrecer en sacrificio a Adonai, lo primero que saliese a recibirle, cuando retornase victorioso de la batalla (Jueces 11:30). ¡Este fue un voto extraviado! ¿Se imagina usted lo que habría sucedido si lo que hubiese salido a recibirle fuese un perro, o un cerdo (animales inmundos, según la Ley)?

Al final, la misericordia Divina da el triunfo a Jefté. Y, cuando este regresa de la batalla, no es nadie sino su propia hija, quien sale a recibirle. Así, Jefté termina sacrificando a su propia hija. ¿Significa el milagro (el triunfo militar) obrado en Jefté, que Dios se agradaba de su teología (del sacrificio de seres humanos)? ¡Absolutamente no! Ningún milagro tiene valor alguno, si nos conduce a obrar maldad (es decir, a violar alguno de los diez mandamientos).

La Ley Divina prohibía explícitamente el asesinato (privar de la vida a una persona inocente). Así, a pesar del milagro obrado en Jefté, este terminó obrando impíamente (asesinando a su propia hija, una persona inocente); Y, tanto su conducta, como su teología, deben ser enérgicamente rechazadas.

La realidad es que, cualquier genuino maestro del Samaritanismo Reformado, sabría que los milagros NO SON confirmación de la aprobación Divina de la conducta (ni de la teología) esbozada por quien recibe o ejecuta el milagro (Faraón y sus magos hacían milagros, pero Dios termino exterminándolos en el mar Rojo). Por eso, no es de sorprender que el mismo Jesús sea citado enseñando esta misma verdad; que alguien puede obrar y recibir milagros (como podría ser el caso de adivinos, astrólogos, y hechiceros), y ni siquiera conocer a Dios. Como está escrito:

«Muchos me dirán en aquel día: Señor, SEÑOR, ¿NO PROFETIZAMOS EN TU NOMBRE, Y EN TU NOMBRE ECHAMOS FUERA DEMONIOS, Y EN TU NOMBRE HICIMOS MUCHOS

MILAGROS? Y ENTONCES LES DECLARARE: NUNCA OS CONOCÍ; ¡APARTAO DE MI, HACEDORES DE MALDAD!» (Mateo 7:22-23).

¿Quiere obtener el descanso y la alegría de corazón a los cuales hacia referencia el Galileo? Pues comience a vivir por los mandamientos; renuncie a la mentira de creer que la Ley es muerte y maldición; pues la verdad es que el Creador ha prometido alegrar el corazón a todos aquellos que guardan sus mandamientos. Como está escrito: "LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE יהוה SON RECTOS, QUE ALEGAN EL CORAZÓN" - Salmo 19:8.

The contemporary situation is that we do see some modern Orthodox rabbis utilise xenophobic sources in modern rulings. Orthodox rabbis in organisations such as “Rabbis for Human rights” are sadly the exception rather than the rule»

--Dan Rickman, Jewish Journalist--

The only thing we humans can be absolutely certain of is that Nature works according to the Law of “Cause, and Effect”, “Action, and Reaction”, “Sowing, and Reaping”, “What goes around, comes around”, etc. So, we should try our best to do good, “sowing” into our needy fellow human beings the same goodness we would like to eventually “Reap” for ourselves. As it is confirmed by the Scripture that goes on to say: “As you have done, it will be done to you...”- Obadiah 1:15

Bible's Israel was just a paradigm!

Many people wrongly believe that the Hebrews mentioned in the Bible are a particular ethnic group arbitrarily elected by God in order to become His chosen people [having special privileges as well as special responsibilities]. How do we now that Bible's Israel was instead a paradigm for God's true people [those who are humble and merciful]? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: "God is indeed good to Israel, to the pure in heart"- Psalm 73:1. Whom does the verse identify as being Israel? The pure in heart [those who are humble and merciful]!

How else do we know that Israel is composed of anyone willing to serve the God of Abraham [having mercy of their suffering fellow human beings], regardless of his race? We know if from the verse that goes on to say: "No Ammonite or Moabite may enter the Lord's assembly; none of their descendants, even to the tenth generation, may ever enter the Lord's assembly"- Deut. 23:3. Why were Moabites prevented from entering Israel's assembly? It was due to their lack of mercy, as is written: "This is because they did not meet you with food and water on the journey after you came out of Egypt"- Deut. 23:4.

But the fact is that we later find a Moabite (Ruth) not only entering Israel's assembly, but even becoming the ancestor of Israel greatest king (David). How do we explain that a forbidden Moabite is allowed to enter Israel's Congregation, thereby becoming an Israelite? We explain it by remembering that the Moabite was just a symbol for a person lacking mercy and humility, while the Israelite represented the person having a pure heart filled with mercy and humility.

Thus, the very moment Ruth decided to show mercy to her foreign [and recently] widowed mother in law [remaiing by her side, in order to provide for her well being and safety], she stopped representing a Moabite, and started to become a living representation of God's true Israel ("Everything you have done for your mother-in-law since your husband's death has been fully reported to me: how you left your father and mother and your native land, and how you came to a people you didn't previously know. May the Lord reward you for what you have done, and may you receive a full reward from the Lord God of Israel..."- Ruth 2:11-12).

Si la Ley dice que Israel es el Hijo de Dios ("Yah ha dicho así: Israel es mi hijo, mi primogénito"- Éxodo 4:22); Y después viene el Evangelio a refutarla, citando a los espíritus inmundos, que afirman que no es Israel, sino Yeshua, el verdadero Hijo de Dios ("Y los espíritus inmundos, al verle, se postraban delante de él, y daban voces, diciendo: ¡Tú eres el Hijo de Dios!"- Marcos 3:11); Entonces, la disputa entre Hebreos y Nazarenos, queda finalmente adjudicada; el caso ha sido cerrado, y no queda nada relevante por discutir. ¿Por que? Pues porque, las Verdades reveladas en la Ley Divina [la Escritura Hebrea], son finales e irrevocables [pues la Ley no puede ser abrogada, ni tampoco quebrantada, según Deuteronomio 4:2]. Y, con esta verdad, también concuerdan los Evangelios, cuando citan a Yeshua diciendo: «la Escritura [la Ley], no puede ser quebrantada» (Juan 10:35)

"The problem with the Western World is that, for the rest of mankind, two plus two equals four; while for the Western World two plus two equals twenty two"

Reformed Samaritanism And Unidentified Flying Objects; Is there any other reality beyond the one we can currently observe?

Physical reality is intrinsically subjective. In other words, we can never ascertain with absolute certainty whether our perceived reality is a complete, total, and independent reality, or is instead an illusion created by "a greater" reality. Consider for example a theoretical two dimensional realm existing on a lake's surface.

Naturally, the entities inhabiting such realm would be "area like" beings; and would be unaware of the existence of any higher dimension reality. In fact, if a three dimensional being (a man) were to walk into the lake [starting from the lake shore], the area beings living inside the two dimensional surface would perceive him not as a three dimensional being, but rather as two “growing area beings” suddenly appearing out of the blue (these would be the areas caused by the person’s legs getting deeper into the lake). In fact, as the person keeps moving ahead until the water level gets up to his torso, the beings living on the lake’s surface would perceive the two new area growing larger until finally merging into one single [and larger] being. Of course, all of it would be a mere illusion; a false reality created by a limited two dimensional universe during it’s interaction with a three dimensional being. And the latter might explain the observed phenomena of unidentified flying objects (UFO’s) often performing velocity [and directional] maneuvers that seem to defy the laws of physics currently ruling our three dimensional universe. In fact, it might even suggest a logical explanation for things like souls, angels, demons, etc. In other words, God’s creation is much larger than what we can even perceive; there might be an infinite amount of higher dimensions, populated with extra dimensional creatures; some of them might be good, and some of them might be evil; some of them might fear the omnipotent God [and thereby lend themselves to do God’s bidding for lower dimensional beings], but some of them might opposed any notion of God [and thereby willingly lend themselves to struggle against anything having to do with God]

Demand a stop to the state sponsored apartheid being perpetrated against the native Palestinian population!

God's message to Mankind is the Divine justice that manifest in the Law of "Sowing and Reaping"

Holy Scriptures ultimate message has little to do with faith, or even religion. Instead, it is a Divine attempt to make us embrace the common sense idea entailed in the concept of “sowing and reaping”; to teach us that the Creation is ruled by the principle of “measure, for measure”, “action, and reaction”; “what goes around, comes around”, etc.

And the former law is so encompassing that it provides the solid foundation for all the [practical] truth, all the science, all the religion, and all the politics we humans will ever need. As for the rest

(Which religion has the best theology?, What's God's true name?, Who [or what] is the Creator?, Who [or what] is the Messiah?, Have we inherited an original sin?, Whom [or what] is God's true Israel?, When will God's kingdom come?; Will Jerusalem's Temple ever be rebuilt? Is there life immediately after death?; etc), it is just optional commentary. And whether Jesus, Allah, Auro Mazda, or Yahweh is God, is almost irrelevant, as no matter what the identity of the all powerful God is, He knows what's inside our hearts. Thus, He has decreed that (in the end) we all "reap" the same "goodness" [or "evil"] we have willingly [and without regret] "sowed" upon our needy fellow human beings [by means of our ideas, our words, our actions, and our intentions]. As is written: "As you have done, it will be done to you ..."- Obadiah 1:15.

"All great Evil carries the seeds of it's own destruction"

What is the meaning of "Cleaving to your God" (Deuteronomy 13:5)?

What is the meaning of that which is written: "After the Lord your God shall you walk, and Him shall you fear, and His commandments shall you keep, and unto His voice shall you hearken, and Him shall you serve, and unto Him shall you cleave"(Deut. 13:5)? But is it actually possible for a person to follow the Divine Presence? Hasn't it already been stated: "For the Lord your God is a devouring fire, a jealous God" (Deut. 4:24)? One cannot approach fire! Rather, the meaning is that one should follow the attributes of the Holy One, Blessed be He. He provides several examples. Just as He clothes the naked, as it is written: "And the Lord God made for Adam and for his wife garments of skin, and clothed them" (Gen. 3:21), so too, should you clothe the naked. Just as the Holy One, Blessed be He, visits the sick, as it is written with regard to God's appearing to Abraham following his circumcision: "And the Lord appeared unto him by the terebinths of Mamre" (Gen. 3:21), so too, should you visit the sick. Just as the Holy One, Blessed be He, consoles mourners, as it is written: "And it came to pass after the death of Abraham, that God blessed Isaac his son" (Gen. 25:11), so too, should you console mourners. Just as the Holy One, Blessed be He, buried the dead, as it is written: "And he was buried in the valley in the land of Moab" (Deut. 34:6), so too, should you bury the dead

The tree can be known by it's fruit! Reformed Samaritanism teaches that "saved" people can be identified by their "fruit", as there's no salvation for the man who refuses to yield "the good fruit" [of doing goodness]. In fact, Jesus himself taught that, if you refuse to do the good work of feeding, giving drink, and clothing your hungry neighbor [when you have ample means to do so], you'll have no share in everlasting life. As it is written: "Depart from Me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels. For I hungered, and ye gave Me no meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave Me no drink; I was a stranger, and ye took Me not in; naked, and ye clothed Me not; sick and in prison, and ye visited Me not"- Matthew 25:41-43

Scripture teaches that the man who lures other people away from Moses (in other words, away from God's 10 commandments) digs his own pit, and will end up being devoured by fire

God's Law records the story of two different men who refused to follow Moses: The first one was Moses father-in-law ("Hobab", also know as "Jethro"); while the second one was Korah (Moses cousin). Concerning Hobab, Scripture says the following: «AND MOSES SAID UNTO HOBAB, the son of Raguel the Midianite, Moses' father in law, "We are journeying unto the place of which the Lord said, 'I will give it you': COME THOU WITH US, AND WE WILL DO THEE GOOD: for the Lord hath spoken good concerning Israel". AND HE SAID UNTO HIM, "I WILL NOT GO; BUT I WILL DEPART TO MINE OWN LAND, AND TO MY KINDRED... And Moses let his father in law depart; AND HE WENT HIS WAY INTO HIS OWN LAND"»- Numbers 10:29-30, & Exodus 18:27 (KJV).

But with regards to Korah, it is said the following: "NOW KORAH, the son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi, AND DATHAN AND ABIRAM... TOOK MEN: AND THEY ROSE UP BEFORE MOSES, WITH certain of the children of Israel, TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY PRINCES OF THE ASSEMBLY... AND THE EARTH OPENED HER MOUTH, AND SWALLOWED THEM UP... They, and all that appertained to them, went down alive into the pit, AND THE EARTH CLOSED UPON THEM... AND THERE CAME OUT A FIRE FROM THE LORD, AND CONSUMED THE TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY MEN..."- Numbers 16:1-2, & 32-35.

Why were Jethro and his associates allowed to depart in peace to their own land [and people], while Korah and his followers were not only removed from the midst of their people, but were even forced to go down to the pit, and be consumed by Fire? Well, in order understand the answer to the former question, we must first consider the Bible verse that goes on to say: "Whoso diggeth a pit, shall fall therein..."- Proverbs 26:27. In the former verse, the Hebrew word translated as "whose diggeth" is "Koreh". But since the Hebrew used during Bible times was originally written with no vowels, the words "Korah" and "Koreh" were essentially the same. In other words, Scripture hints at the fact that, whosoever opposes Moses ("Korah"), diggeth his own pit ("Koreh")!

But why didn't Jethro suffer the same fate as Korah? If he didn't, it was in order to teach that God doesn't force anyone to follow Moses [nor does He force us to become part of the physical Nation of Israel]. The fact is that, if Korah and his followers were not pleased with Moses spiritual leadership, they could have simply walked away from it [just as Jethro and his associates had formerly done]. If Korah was punished, it was only because he chose to play the same role played by "The serpent of Eden"; in other words, Korah used deception and demagoguery (moral relativism) in order to undermine Moses prophetic ministry and inflame the passions of the Hebrew people, that they might rally against Moses and turn away from obeying the word of God brought by the latter.

As is written: “AND THEY GATHERED THEMSELVES TOGETHER AGAINST MOSES and against Aaron, AND SAID UNTO THEM, YE TAKE TOO MUCH UPON YOU, seeing ALL THE CONGREGATION ARE HOLY, EVERY ONE OF THEM, AND THE LORD IS AMONG THEM: WHEREFORE THEN LIFT YE UP YOURSELVES ABOVE THE CONGREGATION of the Lord? ... But on the morrow ALL THE CONGREGATION OF THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL MURMURED AGAINST MOSES AND AGAINST AARON, saying, Ye have killed the people of the Lord! And it came to pass, when THE CONGREGATION WAS GATHERED AGAINST MOSES AND AGAINST AARON, that they looked toward the tabernacle of the congregation...” - Numbers 16:3, & 41-42

This is the Divine truth that brings peace and hope unto the human heart: That God isn't a religious tyrant, nor is He an ideological dictator. Rather, He is a perfect Judge- one who doesn't arbitrarily condemn nor reward anybody, but rather let us [with our willing and voluntary actions] choose the reward [or punishment] we want to eventually receive

Dios aborrece la idolatría; sin importar si esta proviene de los Cristianos, de los Judíos, o de los Musulmanes

La idolatría, es la locura de quien se obstina en afirmar que, aquello que es finito (Moisés, Jesús, Muhammad, la Ciencia, el Evangelio, La Torah, el Corán, etc), es en realidad Infinito (Dios). Y, ¿como justifica el idolatra, esta corrupción de su alma? ¡Pues urdiendo mentiras!; Es decir, atribuyendo falsos atributos y virtudes a su ídolo, a fin de esconder sus faltas, y negar sus limitaciones. Y es por esto que יהוה (Yah, bendito sea) esta enojado con aquellos que se entregan conscientemente a la idolatría; pues יהוה es un Dios de verdad, que aborrece todo tipo de mentira, y que no falla en castigar a los mentirosos.

Como esta escrito: “Dios de verdad, y sin ninguna iniquidad en él”- Deuteronomio 32:4; “Destruirás a los que hablan mentira; Al hombre sanguinario y engañador abominará יהוה”- Salmo 5:6; “Porque la boca de los que hablan mentira será cerrada”- Salmo 63:11; “El que habla mentiras no se afirmará delante de mis ojos”- Salmo 101:7; “El justo, aborrece la palabra de mentira”- Proverbios 13:5; “El testigo falso, no quedará sin castigo; Y, el que habla mentiras, no escapará”- Proverbios 19:5; “Por cuanto entristecisteis con mentiras el corazón del justo, al cual yo no entristecí, y fortalecisteis las manos del impío, para que no se apartase de su mal camino, infundiéndole ánimo, por tanto, no veréis más visión vana, ni practicaréis más adivinación”- Ezequiel 13:22-23

We cannot know the whole truth, which belongs to God alone, but our task nevertheless is to seek to know what is true. And if we offend gravely enough against what we know to be true, as by failing badly enough to deal affectionately and responsibly with our land and our neighbors, truth will retaliate with ugliness, poverty, and disease

A scientific explanation of the God honored by Modern [Reformed] Samaritans

What we define as an object "Mass" is just concentrated energy ($E = MC^2$). And since all matter is composed of mass, then it follows that all that we see [or perceive] happening in the universe is just a different manifestation of the same fundamental energy [the total sum of energy comprising the whole universe]. Finally, it is this infinite amount of energy comprising the universe [which manifests itself in all that we see, experience, perceive, think, or even imagine], what we could properly call "the Creator" [or "Source"] of all things.

Is it a fancy computer simulation? No!, but rather an infinite amount of energy manifesting itself in an infinite amount of ways [including consciousness!]. And if our theory is correct, then God can be found anywhere there is any manifestation of energy [any matter, any time, any space, etc], and therefore there's no place where we could ever escape from His presence. And the Hebrew Scripture seems to agree with our theory, when it goes on to say: "... whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there. If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me"- Psalm 139:7-10.

Thus, the rational God Samaritans worship is The infinite source of Potential from which all things draw their subordinated existence. And how do we know God manifests Himself in all possible ways? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: "And God said unto Moses, I Am That I Am: and He said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel- I Am hath sent me unto you"- Exodus 3:14. "I am..."; I am the angel who visited Abraham; I am the whirlwind that spoke to Job; I am the fire manifesting itself in the burning Bush; I am the voice that speaks to you; I am the holy ground where you stand in my Presence; I am the pillar of fire that will go with you during the night; I am the cloud that will cover Israel during their daily journey thru the wilderness; I am the fire you will see on top of Mount Sinai; I am the bread falling from the Sky; I am the water flowing from the Rock; I am The Ark of the Covenant being carried by the Levite priests; I am the young warrior who will one day appear to Joshua; I am the old man of days who will eventually appear to Ezekiel, etc

Miss Nevada 2021 a Trans woman... Is this a new social experiment to prove the rest of the World how stupid can Western people be?

Is to literally Cancel real women in every way--- to prove, like a slap in the face, that most of us prefer illusion, delusion, fantasies to real life?

Could this be "the Beast" System foretold in the Christian Bible??

“... Shall there be Evil in a city, and the Lord hath not done it?”- Amos 3:6... Evil [pain], and Suffering are God's most precious gifts to mankind, as most men will refuse to turn to God [in repentance] unless they have been touched by great pain and suffering. As is written: “... for only when you come in judgment on the Earth to punish it will people turn away from wickedness and do what is right”- Isaiah 26:9, Living Bible

All nations of the World are called to submit to Moses [not to Judaism, but rather to Moses]

While finally approaching the Promised land, God told Moses the following: “This day will I begin to put the dread of thee and the fear of thee upon the nations that are under the whole heaven, who shall hear report of thee, and shall tremble, and be in anguish because of thee”- Deuteronomy 2:25. Notice that the verse doesn't promise that the Gentile nations would fear Israel; instead, it says they would fear Moses! But how could this be? Wouldn't Moses be prevented from entering into the land [thereby being unable to battle any Gentile nations dwelling over there]? In fact, didn't Moses die just a short time after writing the book of Deuteronomy? What does the verse mean? It's true meaning is that Moses Law would eventually be heard by all Nations of the World, which after listening to God's commandments would fear and tremble, asking themselves: “We haven't accepted Moses, nor have we bowed down to what he commanded upon the two stone tablets; will we end up like Korah (book of Numbers, chapter 16), whose company was eventually sent down to the underworld, and destroyed by fire? (In other words, will our refusal to submit to Moses Ten Commandments condemn us to hell?)”. As is written: “And the children of Israel spake unto Moses, saying- Behold, we die, we perish, we all perish”- Book of Numbers, 17:12 (King James Version)

The man who, upon observing the wonders of nature, proceeds to say, “These wonders of nature are no proof that a God is behind them!” (thereby becoming an open atheist), disconnects himself so much from reality that, in the end, he'll observe his own genitals, and shamelessly proceed to say, “These genitals of mine are no proof that a man is behind them!” (thereby becoming an open homosexual). Thus, male [public] homosexuality is living proof that, no matter how smart could a man be, when he willingly renounces to common sense and intellectual integrity, his morality becomes as worthless as used toilet paper

No hay diferencia entre los Diez mandamientos, y el resto de los 613 mandamientos de la Ley. Por ejemplo, cuando obedecemos el mandamiento que nos ordena dejar para los pobres las esquinas de nuestros cultivos, lo que en realidad hacemos, es cumpliendo el mandamiento que nos impide robar; robar al pobre de nuestra limosna, que en justicia le pertenece.

How do we know all nations of the World are meant to become part of God's People? We know it from the fact that ancient Hebrew tradition recognized that the world was initially composed of 70 nations. And, inspired by the Holy Spirit, our master Moses uttered the following [prophetic] words: "Shema Yisrael..." - Deuteronomy 6:4 ("Hear, O Israel..."); but the former verse could be validly translated as "Shem- A (ayin) Yisrael...". And since the Hebrew word "Shem" means "Name", and the Hebrew letter "ayin" means "70", the phrase could also be read as: "Name of 70 [nations of the world]- Israel".

La manera mas sencilla de vencer el mal, es obstinarse en decirle "¡No!" a la maldad

En lo porvenir, El Santo (bendito sea) traerá el impulso a hacer lo malo, y lo matará en presencia de tanto justos como perversos. Para los justos, el impulso a hacer lo malo, parecerá tan fuerte y grande como una montaña; Pero, para los perversos, parecerá tan débil y pequeño como un simple cabello de la barba.

Ambos llorarán; los justos (aquellos que creían que era malo violar los mandamientos), llorarán diciendo, "¿Como fuimos capaces de doblegar tan grande y poderosa montaña?"; Mientras que, los perversos, llorarán diciendo, ¿Como es posible que hallamos sido incapaces de doblegar un simple y despreciable cabello?

Es que, la mayoría de los mandamientos, comienzan con la letra Hebrea "Lamed" (ל), una letra que curiosamente tiene la forma de un cabello de la barba. Pero "lamed" es también la primera letra de la palabra Hebrea "Lo", que traducimos al Castellano como "No". Así pues, todo lo que los perversos necesitaban hacer para vencer el impulso a hacer lo malo, era insistir en decirle "No" a la maldad.

Careful with what you do! Remember that, though free to behave in whatever way you please (religious/atheist; gay/straight; law abiding/criminal; etc), you will never be completely free from having to face the consequences of your behavior

Only God's Law Is Perfectly Inspired (Psalm 19:7)!

Neither the name "Ha Satan" (Satan), nor the name "Mashiach" (Messiah), appear even once in the only document that, being written by "the finger" of God (יהוה), is 100% inspired. What document is this? It is the ten Commandments (or "sayings") given by God to Moses upon the two stone tablets (the Decalogue). But, why would the Decalogue fail to include names as important as "Satan" and "Messiah"? Could it be possible that יהוה (the all knowing God) simply forgot this all important detail? Or is He rather trying to teach us a moral lesson, hinting at the fact that neither the belief in Satan, nor the belief in the Messiah, compares in importance to refraining from theft, from lying, from adultery, from greed, from idolatry, and from dishonoring our parents? Could it be possible that the Creator is simply trying to tell us that, if we perform the good commanded upon the stone tablets, no Satan will ever be able to deprive us from enjoying the favor and blessings of יהוה; while if we don't perform them, no Messiah will be able to grant us the favor and blessings of יהוה?

From a purely spiritual standpoint, an adult man who yearns to be sodomized by another man could be displaying signs of demonic possession [as he symbolically wants another man's "serpent" to enter into his body]. In fact, not having any vowels, the original Hebrew word for Demons (Sedim), and the Hebrew word for Sodom (Sedom) were almost identical; as if to hint at the idea that one thing is similar to the other [or that the Sodomite behavior is the products of a demonic presence]

¿Que dice realmente la Escritura hebrea acerca de los grandes reclamos que hace la noble Teología Nazarena (Cristiana)?

A pesar de que, la noble religión Netsarita (Cristiana), es un camino perfectamente valido para agradar al Creador, sus postulados teológicos niegan y contradicen todo lo revelado por Dios a su Pueblo Israel. Y es por esto que, el creyente Hebreo que conoce a fondo la Torah (la Ley de Dios), no puede aceptar la teología Cristiana; pues siente que, haciendo tal cosa, se presta voluntariamente para cometer suicidio intelectual [algo abominable entre los creyentes Hebreos]. Es que, aunque los reclamos que hace la noble teología Cristiana, son tan grandes e imponentes como una montaña, la evidencia que de ellos provee la Tanak (la Ley, los Salmos, y los Profetas) es tan débil, tan frágil, y tan relativa, como un pelo de la barba; pues, si interpretamos de forma literal las Escrituras, hallaremos que estas desmienten todos y cada uno de los grandes postulados teológicos del Cristianismo.

¿Por que? Pues porque tanto las Escrituras Samaritans como las Hebreas muestran que “Yeshua” (Jesús de Nazaret, paz y bendición sean con él) no pudo haber sido la encarnación de la Deidad [pues Dios no es hombre, ni Hijo de hombre, según Números 23:19; y Dios es demasiado grande, como para morar en la Tierra, según 1 Reyes 8:27].

Jesús tampoco pudo haber muerto por la maldad de ninguna otra persona [pues “cada cual morirá por su propia maldad”, según Jeremías 31:30].

Así mismo, Jesús no fue “el Hijo de Dios”, y tampoco fue “el Siervo de Dios” [pues esos dos títulos pertenecen a Israel, según Éxodo 4:22, e Isaías 44:21]. Jesús tampoco es el Rey ungido [o “Mesías”] que un día habrá de reinar sobre Israel [pues, ese puesto, corresponde al Rey David, según Jeremías 30:8-9, y Ezequiel 37:24]. Jesús no pudo haber sido el Sumo sacerdote que oficiase el sacrificio expiatorio por los pecados de toda la nación de Israel [pues, el Sumo Sacerdote, tenia que ser de la tribu de Levi, según ordenaba la Ley en Éxodo 28:1, y en Números 18:7].

Jesús tampoco pudo haber sido el Salvador del Mundo [pues no hay otro Salvador fuera de יהוה , según Isaías 43:11]. De igual modo, la Tanak muestra que, el hombre llamado Jesús de Nazaret (paz sea con el), no vivió una vida libre de pecados [pues “no hay hombre que haga solo el bien, y nunca peque”, según Eclesiastés 7:20]. En adición, es falso que, la Vida Eterna, sea el producto de creer que Jesús haya sido el Mesías [pues la Vida Eterna es en realidad el producto de apartarse del mal, para comenzar a hacer el bien, según el Salmo 37:27]. Es falso también que Jesús sea “la Verdad” [pues, es “la Ley”, y no el Nazareno, lo que realmente es “la Verdad”, según Salmos 119:142]. En adición, es también falso que hayamos heredado la muerte espiritual, a consecuencia del pecado de nuestros Padres Adán y Eva [pues los hijos no han de morir por el pecado de sus padres, según Deuteronomio 24:16]. Y es también falso que Jesús sea igual o mayor que Moisés [pues nunca se levanto en Israel, un profeta como Moisés, según Deuteronomio 34:10]. De igual modo, es falso que, lo que pide Dios del Hombre, sea que crea en Jesús [pues, lo que Dios realmente pide, es que amemos obrar con justicia, con misericordia y con humildad, según Miqueas 6:8]. Es falso que “la gracia viniera por medio de Jesucristo” [pues, Noé, hallo “gracia” ante los ojos de Dios, según Génesis 6:8; y, Moisés, invoco sobre Israel “la gracia del que habito en la zarza”, según Deuteronomio 33:16]. Y es también falso que Dios espere que los creyentes Hebreos acepten “el presente”, o “regalo”, de la Salvación gratuita [pues los regalos impiden juzgar con claridad, pervierten la Justicia divina, y corrompen el corazón, según Éxodo 23:8, y Eclesiastés 7:7]. Así, el seguidor de la Fe Hebrea [es decir, el hombre que sirve a יהוה, el Dios de Israel, y guarda los 10 mandamientos de la Ley Divina], respeta y admira la figura de Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean con el); pero rechaza las cosas que, acerca de su persona, afirma la noble Teología Cristiana. ¿Por que las rechaza? Pues porque, todas ellas, niegan y contradicen lo dicho claramente por יהוה en la Ley, en los Profetas, y en los Escritos. Y, la palabra Hebrea que utiliza la Ley para designar a quien se opone a la dicho y ordenado por el Creador, es “Ha Satan”; un termino Hebreo que literalmente significa “El Satán”. ¿Que debe entonces hacer el hombre, a fin de obtener el perdón de sus faltas, alcanzar la Vida Eterna, y seguir la Verdad? Debe abandonar la maldad, para comenzar en cambio a hacer el Bien. ¿Como? Pues pidiendo perdón por sus pecados; confesando que no hay Dios fuera de יהוה (Adonai Yah, el Dios de Israel); que Moisés es su supremo mensajero y profeta; y, que lo escrito sobre las dos tablas de Piedra [la Torah], es la eterna e inmutable guía de fe y conducta para el Pueblo de Dios. Como esta escrito:

- 1) «El que encubre SUS PECADOS, no prosperará; Mas EL QUE LOS CONFIESA, Y SE APARTA, ALCANZARÁ MISERICORDIA»- Prov. 28:13
- 2) «SI SE HUMILLARE MI PUEBLO, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y oraren, y buscaren mi rostro, Y SE CONVIRTIEREN DE SUS MALOS CAMINOS; entonces yo oiré desde los cielos, y PERDONARÉ SUS PECADOS, y sanaré su tierra”- 2 Crónicas 7:14 »
- 3) «BIENAVENTURADO EL HOMBRE QUE PUSO EN יהוה SU CONFIANZA»– Salmo 40:4
- 4) «MEJOR ES CONFIAR EN יהוה QUE CONFIAR EN PRÍNCIPES»– Salmo 118:9
- 5) «HE AQUÍ, YO VENGO A TI [MOISES] en una nube espesa, para que el pueblo oiga mientras yo hablo contigo, y también PARA QUE TE CREAN PARA SIEMPRE»- Éxodo 19:9
- 6) «El fin de todo el discurso oído es este: TEME A DIOS, Y GUARDA SUS [DIEZ] MANDAMIENTOS; PORQUE ESTO ES EL TODO DEL HOMBRE» – Eclesiastés 12:13
- 7) «APÁRTATE DEL MAL, Y HAZ EL BIEN, Y VIVIRÁS PARA SIEMPRE»- Salmo 37:27
- 8) «Oh hombre, Él (Dios) te ha declarado lo que es bueno, ¿Y QUÉ PIDE יהוה DE TI? ¡SOLAMENTE HACER JUSTICIA, Y AMAR MISERICORDIA, Y HUMILLARTE ANTE TU DIOS!»– Miqueas 6:8.
- 9) «ACORDAOS DE LA LEY DE MOISÉS MI SIERVO, al cual encargué en Horeb ordenanzas y leyes para todo Israel»- Malaquías 4:4
- 10) «LA LEY DE יהוה ES PERFECTA, QUE CONVIERTE EL ALMA; El testimonio de יהוה es fiel, QUE HACE SABIO AL SENCILLO. LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE יהוה SON RECTOS, QUE ALEGAN EL CORAZÓN; EL PRECEPTO DE יהוה es puro, que ALUMBRA LOS OJOS. El temor de יהוה es limpio, que permanece para siempre; LOS JUICIOS DE יהוה son verdad, todos justos. Deseables SON MÁS QUE EL ORO, y más que mucho oro afinado; Y DULCES MÁS QUE MIEL, y que la que destila del panal. Tu siervo es además amonestado con ellos; EN GUARDARLOS HAY GRANDE GALARDÓN»- Salmo 19:7-11

The future is not written on stone, as prayer can change things for good

Hebrew Scripture teaches that prayer can change things for good. And the proof? King Hezekiah, who was told he would never arise from his sickbed, but actually did, after pouring his heart before

God: «In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And the prophet Isaiah the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, “Thus saith the Lord, Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live”.. Then he [Hezekiah] turned his face to the wall and prayed to Adonai.... [and then answered to him saying] Thus saith the Lord, the God of David thy father, “I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up unto the house of the Lord”» - 2 Kings 20:1, 2 &5. Thus, the death decree upon king Hezekiah was torn apart by his sincere prayer.

Science is good. But it would be naive to think that science will always be completely objective, and never be biased by powerful external forces (big pharmaceuticals companies; banking and monetary interests; social, cultural, and political agendas; etc). Besides, we must keep in mind that “Too much East, is West”. In other words, abstract science has to be guided by both common sense, as well as objective reality [“the cart must follow the horses!”]. Believe in science, but keep in mind that “reality is reality”, while science can only be [at best] an approximation of such reality. Don’t make the mistake of becoming so enthusiastic with science, that you end up trying to force objective [observable] reality to conform to abstract science, instead of trying to make abstract science conform to objective [observable] reality.

If we tell you a lie, the responsibility is on us; but if we tell you the truth, the responsibility is on you

Hebrew Scripture teaches that deliverance and salvation arrive when we embrace sincere repentance. And that’s the reason why sincere repentance is God’s true Redeemer (Messiah). As it is written: “But a Redeemer will come to Zion, and [to whom in Zion will the Redeemer come?...] to those in Jacob who turn from transgression [in sincere repentance]”- Isaiah 59:20. And it goes without saying that, anyone who would preach sincere repentance [Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, etc] is [by association] a manifestation of such Messiah. In this regard, it must be said that, although himself a good man, the apostle Paul [who authored most of the books comprising the New Testament] never seems to have properly understood that God didn’t need any animal [nor human] sacrifice, in order to be able to forgive our sins. Why? Simply Because the sacrifice He wants is a broken (penitent) heart. As it is written: “The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, o God, thou wilt not despise [denying it forgiveness]”- Psalm 51:17

Let's not deceive ourselves; God's own faith is results oriented!

We have to beware, as the sin self deception can do great harm to our soul, preventing it from enjoying peace. And that's why Bible says: "There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked"- Isaiah 57:21. We can choose to deceive ourselves, twisting the word of God and forcing it to say whatever is convenient to our preconceived religious ideas. But by so doing, we only damage our souls, and risk ending up suffering from severe depression, as well as grave mental diseases.

The point we are trying to make is the following: the Bible teaches God's true faith has little to do with the "having the right theology" type of religion that is so often sold unto us. Neither is it an abstract, esoteric belief. Rather, it is the "down to earth" commitment with justice, mercy, and humility. In other words, He who fears God, and is just, merciful, humble, and honest, already has the right religion (Micah 6:8), regardless of the name we choose for it.

For example, consider the fact that Bible never mentions Persian King Cyrus ever embracing the Hebrew faith. In fact, most likely Cyrus remained a committed Zoroastrian (who worshiped the God called Ahura Mazda) his entire life. Yet, foretelling his coming [150 years in advance], prophet Isaiah called Cyrus "God's anointed" (or "Messiah", as per the Hebrew text of Isaiah 45:1). Why? Because Cyrus would do the incredible act of helping exiled Jews rebuild their ruined Temple (thereby restoring their service to God). So, the Creator cared much more for Cyrus deeds, than for his imperfect Zoroastrian theology.

Notice the supreme importance of the fact that God is far more interested in the things we do, than in the things we claim to believe. And even the Christian gospel bears witness to the same truth, when it goes on to exalt the three "Magi" that came from the East, looking for the king of the Jews (Matthew 2:1). What was a Magi? It was a Zoroastrian priest!

Anti-Semitism has become so ridiculous that if Moses [or even God himself] was to come back to the Earth, he would promptly be jailed for spreading anti-Semitic hate speech

God's Law (Torah) records the following words; which by modern Jewish standards would be considered criminal and anti-Semitic hate speech: "Ye have been rebellious against the Lord from the day that I knew you... For I know that after my death ye will utterly corrupt yourselves... because ye will do evil in the sight of the Lord.... they are a perverse and crooked generation. Do ye thus requite the Lord, O foolish people and unwise?... They provoked Him to jealousy with strange gods, with abominations provoked they him to anger. They sacrificed unto devils, not to God... And when the Lord saw it, He abhorred them... And He said, 'I will hide my face from them... for they are a very froward generation'... I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation. For a fire is kindled in mine anger... I will heap mischiefs upon them; I will spend mine arrows upon them. They shall be burnt with hunger, and devoured with burning heat, and with bitter destruction: I will also send the teeth of beasts upon them, with the poison of serpents of the dust"- Deut. 9:24, 31:29, 32:5-6, & 16-24

Is God a man?

Hebrew Scripture says: "God is no man..."- Numbers 23:19. Thus, whenever the Bible gives any human attributes to the God of Abraham [that He speaks, that he rests, that He repents, that he gets angry, that He is jealous, that he keeps grudges, that he has hands or feet, etc], it is either speaking in an allegorical fashion, or making reference to someone [or something] finite that speaks or does God's bidding [a law of nature, an angel, a prophet, a messenger, etc].

The Hebrew Bible also hints at the idea that the God of Abraham has an independent existence [as He doesn't exist within anything else], so that the existence of everything else (ideas, morality, consciousness, time, space, matter, energy, life, death, good, evil, etc) is just a sub-set of God's own existence.

In other words, the God worshiped by Abraham isn't a physical being, but rather "the infinite Place" containing everything else; the sentient and infinite Realm where everything else is happening; a sort of Supremely intelligent "Warehouse" where all things [past, present, and future] are stored until it's use is required. And since this God doesn't really have physical attributes, He chooses to speak thru parables, so that we might at least remotely understand His ways.

Consider the following: God's Law tells the Israelites that, if a man abuses the orphan and the widow, God's anger will kindle, and He will kill such man, letting his wife become a widow, and his kids become orphans. Does God personally kills anyone? Of course not! What it means is that the Law of "sowing and reaping" [which God Himself created] will manifest to be so ruthlessly unbreakable that the end result would seem to be as if God himself had killed the guy.

Another example: the Bible claims there was a meeting in heavens, where God allowed Satan to rise against Job, taking everything away from Him [note: Satan is an allegorical representation for the natural inclination to do the evil that opposes God's will for our lives]. Does Satan personally goes and takes anything from Job? Of course not! But the damage done unto Job' property by the effect of the Tornado, the Chaldean raiders, and the lightnings that destroyed Job property and sons could allegorically be seen as if God had delivered Job into Satan's own hands.

Truth be told, the Hebrew Bible was not only written by Hebrew people, but was also specifically written for the Hebrew people [and maybe that's why nowhere in the Hebrew scripture will we find a Hebrew person ever inviting a gentile to embrace the Hebrew religion]. And since the Hebrew people were naturally born philosophers, it is only normal for gentiles [who are not much interested in philosophy] to barely be able to make any sense out of it.

How then can a gentile know for certain that the God of the Hebrews is real? Very simple! Using the "sowing and reaping technique"; in other words, he can try sowing the goodness commanded by God on the book of the Law ("NOW IF YOU REALLY OBEY THE LORD YOUR GOD'S VOICE, BY CAREFULLY KEEPING ALL HIS COMMANDMENTS that I am giving you right now, then... ALL THESE BLESSINGS WILL COME UPON YOU AND FIND YOU IF YOU OBEY THE LORD YOUR GOD'S VOICE... BUT IT SHALL COME TO PASS, IF THOU WILT NOT HEARKEN UNTO THE VOICE OF THE LORD THY GOD, TO OBSERVE TO DO ALL HIS COMMANDMENTS... THAT ALL THESE CURSES SHALL COME UPON THEE, AND OVERTAKE THEE... THE LORD SHALL SMITE THEE WITH MADNESS, and blindness, and astonishment of heart"- Deut. 28:1-2, Deut. 28:15&28). If after doing so for a prudent amount of time, the person does not reap the godly reward promised to those who obey such commandments, then the person can honestly walk away from it.

Historically speaking, the so called "Ashkenazi Jews" are not really Semites (so technically they can't be the victims of any sort of "anti-semitism"). From whence do we get that that Ashkenazi people are not Semitic? We get it from the fact that a Semite is [by definition] a descendant of Shem (Noah's first son), while Ashkenazi people are instead descendants [by means of Ashkenaz] of Noah's third Son (Japheth). As is written: "Now these are the generations of the sons of Noah, Shem, Ham, and Japheth... The sons of Japheth; Gomer... And the sons of Gomer; Ashkenaz..."- Genesis 10:1-3

Ciro, un prototipo del Mesías de Israel

La Escritura Hebrea dice así: “Koh amar יהוה le Meshicho, le Chosh...”- Isaías 45:1. La correcta traducción del anterior verso es como sigue: “Así dice יהוה a su Mesías, a Ciro...”. ¿Por que dice La Escritura que Ciro (un rey pagano) era el Mesías de Dios? Pues porque este rey pagano se comprometió con la tarea de restaurar el Santo templo de Jerusalén, según indicado en Esdras 1:2. ¿Que mensaje ético intenta enseñarnos con esto el profeta Isaías? El mensaje es que, si el compromiso de Ciro con levantar el arruinado templo de piedra en el que se rendía servicio al Creador, le convirtió en el Mesías de Dios, ¿Por cuanto mas no sera también Mesías de Dios, todo hombre y toda mujer que, por medio del sincero arrepentimiento, se compromete a levantar y reconstruir el arruinado templo de su vida? ¿No es el hombre (creado a imagen y semejanza de Dios), un mayor y mas excelente templo que el de Jerusalén?

¿No enseñan esto mismo aun los Escritos Cristianos, cuando citan al Galileo diciendo: “Respondió Jesús y les dijo: Destruid este templo, y en tres días lo levantaré... Mas ÉL HABLABA DEL TEMPLO DE SU CUERPO (es decir, de su propia vida)”- Juan 2:19-21?

Así, el supremo y verdadero Mesías, es el Espíritu de Arrepentimiento; aquel Santo Espíritu que lleva al hombre a reparar su vida, convirtiéndola en un templo vivo, donde se rinde servicio al Dios de Israel; Como mas tarde confirmaría también el profeta Isaías, al decir las siguientes palabras: "El Redentor vendrá a Sión, a aquellos en Jacob que se arrepienten de sus pecados, dice Dios"- Isaías 59:20.

En otras palabras, el Mesías de Jacob (Israel) llegara el día en que nos arrepintamos de nuestros pecados. ¿Y, por que se le llama Mesías? Pues porque, al igual que los Mesías humanos, este verdadero Mesías esta también ungido, solo que no con aceite, sino con una mas pura y santa substancia: las lágrimas del corazón arrepentido.

Science will not be really advance until it can match what we already observe in nature. What do we observe? That other living beings have no need of scientific knowledge, in order to do what is scientifically correct [as science seems to be built into their very nature]- That birds do not need to know meteorology, in order to know when to migrate; That bats don't need to know aeronautics, in order to use their natural sonar capabilities; That birds do not need construction knowledge, in order to properly build their nests, etc.

Los paganos que moraban en la ciudad de Listra, demostraron su idolatría cuando afirmaron que los dioses habían descendido a ellos, en la semejanza de seres humanos. Como dicen los Escritos Cristianos: «Dioses bajo la semejanza de hombres, han descendido a nosotros» (Hechos 14:11). Pero, la realidad es que, no solo los paganos de Listra afirmaban estas cosas; sino que, los creyentes Cristianos, afirman exactamente lo mismo, pues alegan que Dios ha descendido a nosotros, bajo la semejanza del hombre llamado “Jesús de Nazaret”. Y esta es la razón por la cual, el verdadero creyente Hebreo, sabe que la veneración del Nazareno, no es sino burda y Pagana idolatría, pues aún los Escritos cristianos dan testimonio de ello.

The fact that God wants the believer to learn and embrace all goodness [no matter where can the latter be found] is taught in the verse where Moses learns from Jethro, his [pagan] Father in Law ("So Moses hearkened to the voice of his father in law, and did all that he had said"- Exodus 18:24).

I addition, it is taught in the passage where God rebukes Israel for not imitating the good "judgments" (ordinances) they found while exiled among the Pagan nations. As is written: "... neither have kept my judgments, neither have done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you; Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, am against thee, and will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations"- Ezekiel 5:7-8

The faith of our beloved Christian brothers is placed in the man Jesus, while the faith of the Samaritan believers is placed on something much larger: the God of Jesus- the Heavenly Father whom Jesus himself confessed to be greater than him. As is written: “for MY FATHER IS GREATER THAN I”- John 14:28. And, “... I am ascending to my Father and your Father, TO MY GOD and your God”- John 20:17

“The fear of God [in other words, the fear of God’s judgment , which is executed by means of His unbreakable Law of “sowing and reaping”] is the beginning of wisdom. All who follow His precepts [thereby sowing the goodness they would like to eventually reap for themselves] have good understanding”- Psalm 111:10 (The Living Bible)

The fundamental truths of nature always boil down to simple axioms (sowing, and reaping; cause, and effect; action, and reaction; what goes around, comes around, the tree is known by it’s fruit, etc). It is the goal of atheist, tyrants, moral relativists, and other anti-nature egalitarians to over complicate what is simple, in hopes of gaslight you out of objective reality.

Internal proof showing that the Christian Bible has been tampered with

The book of Revelation portrays Jesus as walking among the seven Christian churches of Asia. In fact, these churches were so important, that Jesus considered them the only ones worthy of receiving his final message.

As is written, «John, to the seven churches in Asia... I heard a loud voice behind me like a trumpet saying, “Write on a scroll what you see and send it to the Seven churches: Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia, and Laodicea”... Then I turned to see whose voice it was that spoke to me. When I turned I saw seven golden lampstands, and among the lampstands was one like the Son of Man... and the seven lampstands are the Seven Churches»- Revelation 1:4, 11, 12, 13, 20 (Christian Standard Bible).

Yet, one can’t help but to wonder how is it that [with the exception of Ephesus] no letter written to any of these Seven churches was ever made part of the New Testament canon. In other words, Christian theology (salvation by faith in Jesus atoning sacrifice) is for the most part based upon the content of letters written by Paul to the church of Rome, to the church of Corinth, to the Thessalonians, to the Colossians, and to the Ephesians; but according to the book of Revelation, Jesus didn’t consider any of these churches a worthy representative of the faith he came to preach.

In fact, the letter to the Ephesians is famous for advocating the idea of “salvation by faith” (without the need of doing any work), as is written: “For you are saved by grace through faith, and this is not from yourselves; it is God’s gift— not from works, so that no one can boast”- Ephesians 2:8-9. But although the letter to the Ephesians encourages us to disregard any work, that was precisely the reason why Jesus rebuked this particular church, as it had abandoned the works that pleased him: “Remember then how far you have fallen; REPENT, AND DO THE WORKS YOU DID AT FIRST. Otherwise, I will come to you and remove your lampstand from its place, unless you repent”- Revelation 2:5 (Christian Standard Bible).

The truth is that if we proceed to study the messages sent to the remaining churches of Asia, we will find Jesus encouraging them to go back, and do the works that please him.

As is written: “TO THE ONE WHO CONQUERS, I will give some of the hidden manna... Thus says the Son of God, the one whose eyes are like a fiery flame and whose feet are like fine bronze: I KNOW YOUR WORKS—your love, faithfulness, service, and endurance. I KNOW THAT YOUR LAST WORKS ARE GREATER THAN THE FIRST... I am the one who examines minds and hearts, and I WILL GIVE TO EACH OF YOU ACCORDING TO YOUR WORKS... I KNOW YOUR WORKS; you have a reputation for being alive, but you are dead. Be alert and strengthen what remains, which is about to die, for I HAVE NOT FOUND YOUR WORKS COMPLETE BEFORE MY GOD... THUS SAYS THE HOLY ONE, THE TRUE ONE, the one who has the key of David, who opens and no one will close, and who closes and no one opens: I KNOW YOUR WORKS... THUS SAYS THE AMEN, THE FAITHFUL AND TRUE WITNESS, the originator of God's creation: I KNOW YOUR WORKS, that you are neither cold nor hot. I wish that you were cold or hot. So, because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I am going to vomit[i] you out of my mouth"- Rev. 2:17, 2:18-19, 2:25, 3:1-2, 3:7-8, 3:14-16 (Christian Standard Bible).

Thus, it seems like the reason why no letter to Asian churches was ever included in the N. T. Cannon had to do with the fact that, unlike the Roman, the Colossian, and the Ephesian churches, their theology was based on the idea of doing the works that please God, as opposed to obtaining his favor embracing the concept of "salvation by faith, and without the need of any work". But, although extremely unlikely, could it be possible that simply no apostolic letter was ever written to any of these churches (besides Ephesus)?

The answer is that there is proof of the existence of at least one letter written to them. Of course, this letter was conveniently excluded from the NT cannon. And the church this letter was addressed to was that of the Laodiceans. This letter was mentioned by Paul on his letter to the Colossians, where he treats it as if it were divinely inspired. As is written: "And when this epistle [to the Colossians] shall have been read with you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans: AND THAT YOU READ THAT WHICH IS OF THE LAODICEANS"- Colossians 4:16 (Douay-Rheims Bible, 1899 American Edition).

In short, it seems like by the end of the first century C.E. the original Christian scriptures had already been tampered with by a powerful group of people trying to make it suit their personal agenda. And whether the latter was the result of an internal struggle for religious, social, political, or economical power, remains uncertain to this very date

Cuando la lógica se convierte en locura

Una vieja broma cuenta la historia de un profesor que, en cierta ocasión, puso una rana sobre su escritorio, ante la vista de todos sus discípulos. Entonces, procedió a decir a la clase: "Hoy voy a mostrarles el método que utilizamos los expertos para hacer las grandes deducciones científicas". Entonces, dirigiéndose hacia la rana, procedió a gritarle diciendo, "¡¡Salta!!"; a lo cual, la rana (ya sea por el entrenamiento que había recibido, o ya sea por la sorpresa), respondió dando un gran salto. Acto seguido, el profesor tomó un par de tijeras, y cortó despiadadamente las patas del pobre animal. Entonces, luego de ponerla de vuelta sobre el escritorio, volvió a gritarle, "¡¡Salta!!!". Pero, en esta ocasión, el triste animal no se movió ni un solo centímetro. Entonces, volteándose hacia sus atónitos discípulos, el profesor procedió a decirles con aire triunfalista: "¿Ven lo que ha sucedido? Acabo de demostrarles científicamente que, si cortamos las patas de una rana, ¡la hacemos completamente sorda!"

¿Que significado tiene esta "sórdida" broma? Pues significa que las cosas no son ciertas por el mero hecho de que sean lógicas. ¿Por que? Pues porque hay cosas que aparentan ser perfectamente lógicas, pero en realidad son un tipo de locura. ¿Y por que son locura? Pues simplemente porque están desconectadas de la realidad. Y, algo muy similar, ocurre con el "Nuevo Testamento"; un libro que, aunque muy noble, a veces alega cosas que de entrada aparentan ser perfectamente lógicas; pero que cuando se contrastan con la realidad resultan ser un tipo de locura. Un buen ejemplo de ello podría ser el apóstol Pablo (paz y bendición sean con el), quien alega que nadie será justificado por obedecer los mandamientos de la Ley Divina; pues, la justificación del hombre no viene por "obedecer" a Dios, sino por "creerle" a Dios (Romanos 2:17-25, & 3:19-20).

¿Podría usted imaginar a algún conductor negligente, alegando ante el Juez de su ciudad que, lo importante no es obedecer la ley de transito, sino “creer” en su redactor? ¿Decir que lo importante no es obedecer los limites de velocidad, sino “creer” en ellos? ¿Que diría usted si le escuchase alegar que, ya que nadie puede guardar perfectamente la Ley de transito, ningún conductor es responsable de hacerlo? ¿No pensaría usted que tal persona esta algo desquiciada?

“The LGBTQ lobby has all the trappings of a dangerous cult: One that brainwashes, traps, and blackmails it’s followers”

What do Reformed Samaritans mean, when they claim Christian theology is true only in an allegorical sense?

The Hebrew Scripture is clear, when it states that the God worshiped by the ancient Israeli people was no man at all (“For He is no man...”- 1 Samuel 15:29; “God is no man...”- Numbers 23:19). And it is also clear when it states that, while this God is inherently sinless (“... His work is perfect: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He”- Deut. 32:4), it is no less true that man is inherently flawed and sinful (“For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth [only] good, and sinneth not”- Ecclesiastes 7:20). In addition, Scripture teaches that there's no other Savior, nor annointed (Messiah) Redeemer, besides this God whose Hebrew name is "YHVH" (Adonai Yah, the God of Abraham). As is written: “I, I am יהוה (Adonai Yah), and there is no Savior beside me”- Isaiah 43:11 (Tree of Life Version Bible). Finally, Scripture states that, if there is anyone worthy of being called "the Son of God", as well as "God's own Servant", it is the community of believers represented by the ancient Israeli people. As it has been said: "And thou shalt say unto Pharaoh, 'Thus saith the Lord, Israel is My Son, even My Firstborn' "- Exodus 4:22; And also in another place, "And said unto me, Thou art My Servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified"- Isaiah 49:3.

But if the former is true, then why do the Christian gospels ascribe all of the former titles (God, sinless man, Savior, Redeemer, Messiah, Son of God, God's Servant, etc) to the man named Jesus? Well, the answer is very simple, and is actually provided by the gospels, when they go on to say: “Jesus told the crowds all these things in parables, and he did not tell them anything without a parable”- Matthew 13:3. In other words, since Jesus spoke only in parables, none of the claims he made were supposed to be taken in a literal sense, but rather in an allegorical fashion. Consider a first example: Jesus is quoted saying that John the Baptist is the promised Elijah that would come right before the Jewish Messiah (“And if ye will receive it, this is Elijah, which was for to come...”- Matthew 11:14). But the fact is that the former cannot be literally true, as John himself openly declares that he isn't the literal Elijah (who, according to the Hebrew Bible, is a different physical person still alive somewhere in the heavens). As is written: "And they asked him [John the Baptist], What then? Art thou Elijah? And he saith, I am Not. Art thou that prophet? And he answered, No"- John 1:21. Again, John states that he is not Elijah, while Jesus says that he is. Is one of them lying? No! John says he is not Elijah [in a literal sense]; while Jesus says he is Elijah [in an allegorical sense].

Consider a second example: Jesus claims to be the King of the Jews (“Now Jesus stood before the governor. And the governor asked him, saying, 'Are you the King of the Jews?'. [And] Jesus said to him, 'It is as you say' "- Matthew 27:11. But, did Jesus really want to be the [literal] king of the Jews? Of course not! Jesus didn't want to have anything to do with human politics. How do we know it? We know it from the fact that when the Jews tried to make him their [literal] king, Jesus fled away from them (“When Jesus therefore perceived that they [THE JEWS] would come and take him by force, TO MAKE HIM KING, he departed again into a mountain himself alone"- John 6:15). The truth is that Jesus wasn't talking about any physical kingdom somewhere in this world, but rather about an "out of this world" (non physical) kingdom. As he himself said: "Jesus answered, 'my kingdom is not from this world... my kingdom is not from here' "- John 18:36.

Finally, consider the following: Jews expected a literal Messiah- the "branch of Jesse" (or the biological "Son of David") mentioned by the prophet ("There shall come forth a Rod from the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots. The Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, The Spirit of Wisdom and understanding... He shall strike the Earth with the rod of His mouth, and with the breath of His lips He shall slay the wicked"- Isaiah 11:1-4). But, was Jesus the literally (biological) Son Of David? of course not! Why? Two main reasons; in the first place [and according to the gospel], Jesus had no biological father, as he was [allegedly] conceived by the Holy spirit; therefore he could not have been a biological son of any of Jesse's male descendants (keep in mind that Jews traced tribal lineage by their father's genealogy). Secondly, Jesus himself rejected that the Messiah would be a literal son of David. Why? Because, according to Jesus, it would be odd for a father to call any of his offspring "Lord". As is written: "How can the scribes say that the Messiah is the son of David? David himself says by the Holy Spirit: The Lord declared to my Lord, 'Sit at my right hand until I put your enemies under your feet'... DAVID HIMSELF CALLS HIM 'LORD'; HOW THEN CAN HE BE HIS SON?"- Mark 12:35-37.

The basic difference between Hebrew and Christian believers isn't Jesus identity: Rather, it is whether God is morally perfect or not; Whether He has a word of honour [and is therefore trustworthy and reliable], or He isn't Don't waste your time reasoning with anyone whose thinking process is similar to that of a secular [atheistic] Ashkenazi Jew. Why? because they are the very reason for the proverb that goes on to say: "To every answer, you can always find a new question [thereby justifying your stubborn rejection of what for any unbiased person would otherwise be a clear, objective, and self evident truth]"

If Jesus (peace be upon him) died for our sins, why isn't he still in hell?

Christian theology claims that the true reason we humans die is that we've inherited [from our first fathers Adam and Eve] an original sin. And it also claims that faith in Jesus effectively removes such a sin. But if faith in Jesus cleanses the original sin that makes us all die, then why is it that Christian believers still die? Which sin has Jesus blood been unable to cleanse, that keeps them from overcoming death? Could it be possible that death was always part of God’s natural order for beings made out of flesh and blood, and not the result of any alleged original sin?

In addition, if Jesus took upon himself the eternal punishment [in hell] that our many sins deserved, then why isn’t Jesus still being punished in hell? Wasn’t our punishment supposed to be eternal? Or was this just a shrewd “high pressure sales pitch” employed by the apostle Paul?

Samaritan believers do not belong to any LGBT community; Rather, they belong to the LGEND (Leviticus, Genesis, Exodus, Numbers, Deuteronomy) community

“Cursed is he who perverts the justice due to the sojourner or the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow. All the people shall say, Amen... [but] blessed is he who considers the weak and the poor; the Lord will deliver him in the time of evil and trouble”- Deut. 27:19, Psalm 41:1

Western world Gender madness

Over the past several years in the West, there has been a veritable crusade – or jihad, as we can’t discriminate – to replace the concept of biological sex with “gender,” a category previously reserved only for language.

According to this, gender is all in one’s head, and if a person decides they are really of a different gender than the one “assigned” to them at birth, society has an obligation to “affirm” this – with some surgical assistance, should the person so desire. Question this and you’re a bigot. Refer to the person by their previous identity – “deadnaming” – and you’re committing a hate crime!

More recently, there has been a push to make “gender-affirming” surgeries and puberty blockers available to minors without parental consent. You can’t buy tobacco before 18 or alcohol before 21, but you can pick your gender at eight or 10 – at least according to US President Joe Biden. There are even knitted genitalia being marketed to “trans” toddlers. Object to any of this, and you’ll get “canceled” by the woke – not just the activists, but the political parties, media and corporate cartels aligned with them.

Why is all this happening? Simply because most Western societies have turned away from God. And God’s word states that, whenever a person [let alone a whole society] turns away from God, the natural result is that [not having a fixed baseline for truth and morality] such person becomes mad, and thus can no longer tell apart objective facts [i.e., male/female biology] from wishful thinking [non binary, intersex, and trans genders]. As it is written: “But if you do not obey the Lord your God by carefully following all his commands and statutes I am giving you today, all these curses will come and overtake you:...THE LORD WILL AFFLICT YOU WITH MADNESS, blindness, and MENTAL CONFUSION...”- Deuteronomy 28:15&28 (Christian Standard Bible)

“If the young ones say to you: ‘Let us rebuild the Temple! (globalization, egalitarianism, women’s rights, gender equality, moral relativism, etc)’, don’t listen to them. But if the elders say to you, ‘Let’s Destroy the Temple’, then pay heed to them. Why? Because [being inexperienced] “the building” of the young ones often leads to destruction, while “the Destruction” of the elders often leads to a better construction”

¿Por qué enfatiza la Escritura Hebrea ciertos detalles de la vida de sus protagonistas que a primera podrían parecernos inconsecuentes? Y, ¿que significan las extrañas ordenanzas ilustradas en la Ley De Moisés? Pues la respuesta es que, como regla general, estos relatos y leyes tienen el propósito de ser al menos una de las tres siguientes cosas: 1) Una alegoría ética y Moral; 2) una alegoría profética; o 3) una ley que, en adición a mantener la salud social de la nación Hebrea, sirve como una alegoría ética y/o profética. Consideremos algunos ejemplos:

La Ley ordenaba que, el día en que el Sumo sacerdote tenía que encargarse de resolver el problema del pecado de Israel (el día de la expiación, o “Yom Kippur”), el sacerdote tenía que primeramente resolver el problema de su propio pecado. ¿Como? Pues ofreciendo un becerro (es decir, un animal que se distinguía por sus grandes y anchos labios). Como esta escrito: «Y hará traer Aarón el becerro que era para la expiación suya, y hará la reconciliación por sí, y por su casa.... Después, degollará el macho cabrío en expiación por el pecado de Pueblo...»- Levítico 16:11&15.

¿Que significado ético tiene este rito? Pues significa que, antes de poder juzgar el pecado ajeno, el creyente que vive en santidad (tal y como vivían en santidad los sacerdotes del Templo), debe juzgarse a sí mismo. ¿Como? Pues reconociendo [con sus labios] que también esta falto, y necesitado. Como confirma la escritura que dice: «Convíértete, oh Israel, al Señor tu Dios, porque por tu pecado has caído. Tomad con vosotros palabras, y convertíos al Señor, y decidle: “Tomad con vosotros palabras, y convertíos al SEÑOR, y decidle: Quita toda iniquidad, y acéptanos con gracia, Y DAREMOS LOS BECERROS DE NUESTROS LABIOS»- Oseas 14:1-2, Biblia Jubileo 2000. Un segundo ejemplo, podría ser el hecho de que la Ley ordenaba que, el sacerdote, debía evitar contaminarse tocando un cadáver. Y, en el caso del Sumo sacerdote, este último no podía contaminarse ni siquiera por su padre, o por su madre. Como esta escrito: «Y el Sumo sacerdote entre sus hermanos, sobre cuya cabeza fue derramado el aceite de la unción... no descubrirá su cabeza... ni entrará donde haya alguna persona muerta; NI POR SU PADRE NI POR SU MADRE SE CONTAMINARÁ»- Levítico 21:10-11.

¿Que enseñanza moral tiene esta alegoría? Pues que, mientras mas “ungido” (o “santo”) es un hombre, mayor es su compromiso con vivir la vida de pureza moral que agrada al Creador. Y, ni siquiera su compromiso con aquellos a quienes deben honor y respeto (simbolizados en el padre y en la madre) podría persuadirlo de contaminarse. Y la prueba de ello esta en el joven Daniel, quien a pesar de deber honor y respeto al Rey Nabucodonosor, rehusó contaminarse con la comida del Rey. Como esta escrito: «Y DANIEL PROPUSO EN SU CORAZÓN NO CONTAMINARSE CON LA PORCIÓN DE LA COMIDA DEL REY, ni con el vino que él bebía; pidió, por tanto al jefe de los eunucos, que no se le obligase a contaminarse»- Daniel 1:8.

Un tercer ejemplo, podría ser el que la Ley dice por un lado que Coré reunió a 250 príncipes de Israel, a fin de rechazar y oponerse a Moisés. Y la Escritura advierte que, estos hombres, descendieron al Seol, y fueron consumidos por el fuego. Como esta escrito: «Core hijo de Izhar... y Datan y Abiram... tomaron gente, y se levantaron contra Moisés con 250 varones... príncipes de la congregación... Y aconteció que, cuando cesó él (Moisés) de hablar... se abrió la tierra que estaba debajo de ellos... Y ELLOS, CON TODO LO QUE TENÍAN, DESCENDIERON VIVOS AL SEOL... TAMBIÉN SALIÓ FUEGO DE DELANTE DE YAH, Y CONSUMIÓ A LOS 250 HOMBRES»- Números 16: 1, 2, 31-33, &35.

Por otro lado, la Escritura dice que el fuego no tuvo poder alguno sobre los tres varones Hebreos, que rehusaron obedecer al gran Rey Nabucodonosor [quien demandaba que se le rindiese culto a su imagen]. Como esta escrito: «Y ESTOS TRES VARONES, SADRAC, MESAC, Y ABED NEGO,

CAYERON ATADOS DENTRO DEL HORNO DE FUEGO ARDIENTE... Entonces Nabucodonosor se acercó a la puerta del horno de fuego ardiendo, y dijo- “Sadrac, Mesac, y Abed Nego, siervos del Dios Altísimo, salid y venid”. ENTONCES SADRAC, MESAC, Y ABED NEGO SALIERON DEL FUEGO.... Entonces Nabucodonosor dijo- “BENDITO SEA EL DIOS DE ELLOS.... QUE ENVIÓ SU ÁNGEL, Y LIBRÓ A SUS SIERVOS QUE CONFIARON EN ÉL, Y QUE NO CUMPLIERON EL EDICTO DEL REY, y entregaron sus cuerpos, antes que servir y adorar a otro dios que su Dios»- Daniel 3:26&28.

¿Que significan estos dos relatos? Pues el primero de ellos significa que, quien no se somete a Moisés [guardando lo ordenado por él sobre las dos tablas de piedra] está bajo la maldición Divina, y no solamente “cava su propia sepultura”, sino que, su fin, será en las llamas (de Gehinnom). Como esta escrito: “Reprendiste a los soberbios, LOS MALDITOS QUE SE DESVÍAN DE TUS MANDAMIENTOS”- Salmo 119:21; “Que la muerte les sorprenda; DESCENDAN VIVOS AL SEOL, PORQUE HAY MALDAD EN SUS MORADAS (PUES HAN DEJADO LOS MANDAMIENTOS)...”- Salmo 55:15; “PORQUE FUEGO SE HA ENCENDIDO EN MI IRA, Y ARDERÁ HASTA LAS PROFUNDIDADES DEL SEOL... Yo amontonaré males sobre ellos...”- Deut. 32:22-23.

En cuanto al segundo relato, este último significa que, ni el fuego de este mundo, ni el del mundo venidero, tendrá poder alguno contra quienes obedecen lo ordenado por Moisés, rehusando adorar a ningún dios con un nombre distinto al de יהוה (Adonai Yah, bendito sea). Como ha sido ordenado: “Yo soy Yah tu Dios... NO TENDRÁS DIOSES AJENOS delante de mi... NO HARÁS PARA TÍ ESCULTURA NI IMAGEN ALGUNA de cosa que esta arriba en los cielos, ni abajo en la tierra, ni en las aguas debajo de la Tierra. NO TE INCLINARÁS A ELLAS...”- Deut. 5:6-9. Otro ejemplo de una alegoría profética, es el hecho de que la Ley prohibía que el Sumo sacerdote (el mas santo de todos los Israelitas) pudiese casarse con una viuda (“Tomará por esposa a una mujer virgen, NO TOMARÁ VIUDA NI REPUDIADA...”- Levítico 21:13-14).

Pero, por otro lado, la Ley ordenaba que el israelita se casara con la viuda de su difunto hermano, si este último no engendró hijos con ella (“Cuando hermanos habitaren juntos, y muriere alguno de ellos, y no tuviere hijo, LA MUJER DEL MUERTO NO SE CASARÁ FUERA CON HOMBRE EXTRAÑO; SU CUÑADO SE LLEGARÁ A ELLA, Y LA TOMARÁ POR MUJER, y hará con ella parentesco”- Deut. 25:5). Así que, el Sumo sacerdote, cuyo hermano había muerto sin engendrar hijos, violaba la Ley si se casaba con la viuda de su hermano, y violaba la Ley si no se casaba con la viuda de su hermano. ¿Por que incluyó la Escritura esta aparente contradicción? Pues porque Yah deseada que sirviese a modo de alegoría profética. Es decir, como un relato cuya finalidad era mostrarnos que Dios nunca esperó tal cosa como la obediencia perfecta de todos y cada uno de los mandamientos de su Ley (pues diseñó esta última de forma que su perfecta obediencia fuese literalmente imposible). ¿Y por que era eso importante? Pues porque prepararía al pueblo de Dios contra una futura herejía; contra un futuro engaño que postularía que, el Dios de los Hebreos, demanda la perfecta obediencia de todos y cada uno de los detalles de la Ley; de suerte que nadie [fuera de la alegada encarnación del Creador] fuese capaz de reclamar la promesa de vida eterna hecha a quienes cumplen el Bien en ella ordenado (“Apartate del Mal, y haz el Bien, y vivirás para siempre”- Salmo 37:27).

Otro ejemplo, es que el mas sabio de todos los hombres (Salomón) recibió de su padre el mandamiento de esforzarse, y ser un hombre. Como esta escrito: «Llegaron los días en que David había de morir, y ordenó a Salomón su hijo, diciendo: Yo sigo el camino de todos en la tierra; ESFUÉRZATE, Y SÉ HOMBRE»- 2 Reyes 2:1-2. Este pasaje significa que, el hombre sabio, es aquel que reconoce que, la voluntad de su Padre (el gran Rey), es que haga su mejor esfuerzo por comportarse varonilmente (asumiendo las responsabilidades que corresponden al hombre). Y, esta última verdad, serviría para poner en resguardo a las futuras generaciones de creyentes, que tendrían que lidiar contra el pernicioso engaño que propone que, ya que el hombre y la mujer son exactamente iguales, da lo mismo si la mujer se comporta como un hombre [sintiéndose atraída hacia las mujeres], o si el hombre se comporta como una mujer [sintiéndose atraído hacia los hombres].

Zionism is only around 100 years old it is the transformation from religion to nationalism, to materialism created by non religious Jews who hated the religion. The reason why they use the name Israel, the star of David, hijacking, stealing the identity of Judaism and the Jewish people is in order to get a legitimacy for their existence that people should say "oh it's God given to them" and that they should put fear and intimidate people from speaking up against their actions because they will call them anti Semitic, it couldn't be anything further from the Truth.

Rabbi Weiss

Por otro lado, un ejemplo de un precepto que mantenía la salud social de la comunidad, a la vez que servía de alegoría profética, era el que la Torah mostraba que, uno de los propósitos del reposo Sabático, era dejar que los animales descansasen. Como esta escrito: “Seis días trabajarás, y AL SÉPTIMO DÍA REPOSARÁS, PARA QUE DESCANSE TU BUEY Y TU ASNO...”- Éxodo 23:12. ¿Por que era esto una alegoría profética? Pues porque preparaba al creyente para una futura herejía; un engaño que postularía [entre muchas otras falsedades] que Dios no tiene cuidado alguno de los animales. Como esta escrito: «Porque en la Ley de Moisés está escrito: “No pondrás bozal al buey que trilla”. ¿TIENE DIOS CUIDADO DE LOS BUEYES, O LO DICE ENTERAMENTE POR NOSOTROS? PUES POR NOSOTROS SE ESCRIBIÓ...»- 1 Corintios 9:9-10.

Así, los creyentes sabrían que, el conocimiento que acerca de la Escritura Hebrea poseía el hombre que escribiría mas de la mitad de las epístolas de “el Nuevo testamento” (es decir, el apóstol Pablo), era [en el mejor de los casos] “cuestionable”.

Y lo mismo podría decirse acerca del hecho de que, la Ley, dedique tanto tiempo en narrar las jornadas de Israel, siguiendo a Moisés en el desierto camino hacia la Tierra prometida (la Canaán terrenal). Es que el relato dice que, los que siguieron a Moisés, obtuvieron finalmente el supremo galardón; pero, quienes rehusaron obedecer lo ordenado por Moisés (los diez espías, Coré, Datan, Abiram, etc) quedaron excluidos de entrar en la Tierra prometida, y terminaron cayendo en el desierto.

¿Que significa este relato? Pues significa que Moisés es “el Camino” a la Canaán celestial; y que la Torah de Moisés es la Verdad, y la Vida. Y esta verdad pondría a los creyentes en resguardo contra una futura herejía, una que siglos mas tarde postularía que Moisés no es el camino, y que su Torah no es la verdad y la vida; sino que, el verdadero Camino, no es otro sino el maestro de Galilea (paz sea con él). Así mismo, postularía que, la verdad y la vida, no esta en la Torah, ni tampoco esta en seguir lo ordenado por Moisés, sino en seguir en cambio las palabras adscritas al Nazareno [palabras que a menudo contradicen lo dicho por Moisés], y que no hay vida alguna para quien no viva por las palabras del Nazareno. Como esta escrito: «Jesús le dijo: YO SOY EL CAMINO, Y LA VERDAD, Y LA VIDA; NADIE VIENE AL PADRE [ES DECIR, NADIE LLEGA A LA CANAÁN CELESTIAL], SINO POR MÍ [ES DECIR, SIGUIÉNDOME A MI]»- Juan 14:6.

Nuestro último ejemplo, surge del hecho de que, cuando David escapaba de su hijo Absalón, un hombre [llamado Simei] procedió a maldecirle fuertemente, y en público. Entonces, cuando el general de David [Abisai] le pidió permiso para castigar a Simei, David le contestó diciendo que no era justo condenar el rechazo y los insultos de un extraño como Simei, cuando su propio hijo [Absalón] le buscaba para matarle. Como esta escrito: «Y el Rey [David] respondió: ¿Que tengo yo con vosotros hijos de Sarvia? Si él así maldice, es porque Yah le ha dicho que maldiga a David... HE AQUÍ, MI HIJO QUE HA SALIDO DE MIS ENTRAÑAS, ACECHA MI VIDA; ¿CUANTO MAS AHORA UN HIJO DE BENJAMÍN [ES DECIR, UN MIEMBRO DE LA TRIBU DEL DIFUNTO REY SAÚL]. DEJADME QUE ME MALDIGA, PUES YAH SE LO HA DICHO. Quizás mirara Yah mi aflicción, y me dará Yah bien por sus maldiciones de hoy»- 2 Samuel 16:10-12.

¿Por que es profética la anterior alegoría? Pues porque muestra la naturaleza del espíritu manifestado en el Rey David [y, por ende, el espíritu que debería caracterizar a todo aquel que en el futuro reclamara ser un hijo de David]. Este espíritu contaba tanto con el favor Divino, que cuando Dios se agradaba grandemente con algún otro rey de Israel, decía que David había sido “su padre”. Como esta escrito:

THE TRUE GRACE OF GOD

Es que, siglos mas tarde, vendría uno reclamando ser tanto “el Hijo de David”, como “el Rey de reyes”. Pero, a diferencia de David, este “Rey de reyes” no mostraría el mismo espíritu de humildad y justicia que caracterizaron a David. ¿Por que? Pues porque David reconoció que, si no había sido lo suficientemente grande como para que su familia cercana (es decir, su hijo) le aceptase como Rey y Señor, sería entonces injusto [y arrogante] esperar que, quienes no eran su familia cercana, le honraran y obedecieran.

Pero, nuevamente, esta no es la aptitud que al Nazareno adscribe el “B’rit Hadasha” (“Nuevo Testamento”), pues el evangelio afirma que sus hermanos no le reconocían como Señor («y le dijeron sus hermanos, “sal de aquí y vete a Judea, para que tambien tus discípulos vean las obras que haces.

Porque ninguna que procura darse a conocer hace algo en secreto. Si estas cosas haces, manifiéstate al Mundo. PORQUE NI AÚN SUS HERMANOS CREÍAN EN ÉL”- Juan 7:3-5).

En adición, el evangelio reconoce que los suyos pensaban que Yeshua estaba “fuera de sí” (es decir, “desquiciado”). Como esta escrito: «Y se agolpó de nuevo la gente, de modo que ellos ni aún podían comer pan. Cuando lo oyeron LOS SUYOS, VINIERON PARA PRENDERLE, PORQUE DECÍAN: “ESTA FUERA DE SI”»- Marcos 3:20-21.

Pero, a pesar de que los que le conocen de primera mano le rechazan y menosprecian, Yeshua exige [arrogantemente] la incuestionable aceptación y pleitesía de aquellos que no le conocen de primera mano, so pena de condenación eterna. Como esta escrito: «Por que no envió Dios a su Hijo al Mundo para condenar al Mundo, sino para que el Mundo sea salvo por él. EL QUE EN ÉL CREE, NO ES CONDENADO; PERO EL QUE NO CREE, YA HA SIDO CONDENADO, PORQUE NO HA CREÍDO EN EL NOMBRE DEL PRIMOGÉNITO HIJO DE DIOS»- Juan 3:17-18; «Por que el Padre a nadie juzga, sino que todo el juicio dio al hijo, PARA QUE TODOS HONREN AL HIJO COMO HONRAN AL PADRE. EL QUE NO HONRA AL HIJO, NO HONRA AL PADRE QUE LE ENVIÓ»- Juan 5:22-23.

Note como Yeshua no tuvo la misma honestidad intelectual que tuvo David, quien reconoció que, si Simei le rechazaba y maldecía, es porque así lo había querido Dios. En otras palabras, a pesar de que Yeshua reclama ser Dios (es decir, “el Logos creador de todas las cosas”, según Juan 1:1-3), vemos a un Yeshua frustrado y enojado ante el rechazo y la incredulidad de sus oyentes («ENTONCES [JESÚS], MIRÁNDOLOS ALREDEDOR CON ENOJO, ENTRISTECIDO POR LA DUREZA DE SUS CORAZONES, dijo al hombre: “Extiende tu mano”. Y él la extendió, y la mano le fue restaurada sana. Y salidos los fariseos, tomaron consejo con los herodianos contra él para destruirle»- Marcos 3:5-6).

Este último verso muestra que Jesús es incapaz de reconocer que, tal y como sucedió entre David y Simei, si los Judíos le rechazaban y vituperaban, era porque así lo había querido el único y verdadero Dios [de suerte que, la respuesta apropiada del Nazareno, no debía ser las amenazas y los enojos contra los Judíos, sino una de humilde y serena resignación].

Finalmente, note que Yeshua no solo falla en imitar la humildad y la honestidad intelectual de David, sino que adicionalmente tergiversa la Escritura, pues no solamente se atribuye a sí mismo el título de “Hijo de Dios”, sino que reclama la honra que tal título conlleva. ¿Y por que es esto una tergiversación? Pues porque la Escritura muestra claramente que, el titulo de “Hijo de Dios”, corresponde a la nación de Israel [y no al Nazareno]. Como esta escrito: «Yah ha dicho así: “ISRAEL ES MI HIJO, MI PRIMOGÉNITO”»- Éxodo 4:22. Y, es a este hijo de Dios llamado “Israel” [y no al Nazareno], a quien el Creador quiere que todos honren. Como esta escrito: «HONRAD AL HIJO [DE DIOS], PARA QUE NO SE ENOJE [SU PADRE], Y PEREZCÁIS EN EL CAMINO; Pues se inflama de pronto su ira...»- Salmo 2:12.

Pero, si lo hasta aquí dicho es cierto, y tanto las teologías cristianas como las Musulmanas son erradas, ¿como entonces explicamos los milagros y las transformaciones de vida que producen estas nobles tradiciones religiosas? Pues lo explicamos entendiendo que El Creador (bendito sea) siempre dará mas peso a la intención de nuestro corazón, que a la exactitud de nuestra teología.

Es decir, a los ojos del Creador, un corazón lleno de un sincero deseo de hacer el bien, vale más que una cabeza llena de precisa y grandilocuente teología. Y esto explica el curioso fenómeno que observamos en las escrituras sagradas de nuestros amados hermanos cristianos. Este extraño fenómeno, consiste en que el Evangelio presenta a alguien diciendo [o haciendo] algo sobrenatural y/o maravilloso; a pesar de que, lo que se dice [o se hace], parte de un conocimiento errado [o

1) El evangelio presente a Jesús (paz sea con él) muriendo de un modo noble y admirable; es decir, recitando con sus labios las emotivas palabras del salmo 22:1. Como esta escrito: «Cerca de la hora novena, Jesús clamó a gran voz, diciendo: “Elí, Elí, ¿lama sabactani?” Esto es- “Dios mío, Dios mío, ¿por qué me has desamparado?”»- Mateo 27:46.

¿Cual es el problema con este inspirador pasaje evangélico? Pues ninguno... aparte del hecho de que, desde un punto de vista puramente lingüístico, el pasaje “confunde la gimnasia, con la magnesia”. Es decir, el texto Hebreo del salmo 22:1, no dice “¿lama SABACTANI?”, sino que dice, “¿lama AZAVTANI?”

2) Antes de morir de forma sobrenatural (viendo “los cielos abiertos”), el mártir cristiano identificado con el nombre de “Esteban” aparece reprendiendo al liderato Judío de su época, recordándoles (entre otras cosas) que Jacob fue enterrado en el campo de sepultura que compró Avraham de mano de los hijos de Hamor, allá en la ciudad de Siquem. Como dice la biblia Griega: «Así descendió Jacob a Egipto, donde murió él, y también nuestros padres; LOS CUALES FUERON TRASLADADOS A SIQUEM, Y PUESTOS EN EL SEPULCRO QUE A PRECIO DE DINERO COMPRÓ ABRAHAM DE LOS HIJOS DE HAMOR EN SIQUEM»- Hechos 7:15-16.

De nuevo, ¿cual es el problema con este noble e inspirador pasaje evangélico? Pues ninguno.... aparte del hecho de que, el campo de sepultura comprado por Avraham, no fue comprado de mano de los hijos de Hamor, y tampoco fue comprado en Siquem. El campo comprado por Avraham, en realidad fue adquirido de Efrón (hijo de Zohar). En adición, este campo no estaba localizado en Siquem, sino en Hebrón. Como esta escrito: «Si tenéis voluntad de que yo sepulte mi muerte de delante de mí, oídme, E INTERCEDED POR MÍ CON EFRÓN HIJO DE ZOHAR, PARA QUE ME DÉ LA CUEVA DE MACPELA, que tiene al extremo de su heredad... DESPUÉS DE ESTO, SEPULTÓ ABRAHAM A SARA SU MUJER EN LA CUEVA DE LA HEREDAD DE MACPELA AL ORIENTE DE MAMRE, QUE ES HEBRÓN...»- Génesis 23:19. La realidad es que, el noble mártir Esteban, estaba simplemente confundido; pues quien compró terreno de mano de los hijos de Hamor, no fue Avraham, sino su nieto Jacob. Como esta escrito: «Y ENTERRARON EN SIQUEM LOS HUESOS DE JOSÉ, que los hijos de Israel habían traído de Egipto, EN LA PARTE DEL CAMPO QUE JACOB COMPRÓ DE LOS HIJOS DE HAMOR, PADRE DE SIQUEM...»- Josué 24:32.

3) El Evangelio de Mateo afirma que, por medio de la traición de Judas Iscariote, Jesús cumplió milagrosamente lo que con siglos de anterioridad había sido predicho por el profeta Jeremías- que “el amado” sería vendido por treinta piezas de plata, las cuales serían luego utilizadas para adquirir un campo de sepultura. Como esta escrito: «ASÍ SE CUMPLIÓ LO DICHO POR EL PROFETA JEREMÍAS, CUANDO DIJO: Y TOMARON LAS TREINTA PIEZAS DE PLATA, PRECIO DEL APRECIADO, SEGÚN PRECIO PUESTO POR LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL; Y LAS DIERON PARA EL CAMPO DEL ALFARERO, COMO ME ORDENÓ EL SEÑOR»- Mateo 27:9-10.

De nuevo, ¿que problema hay con este emocionante pasaje? Pues en realidad ninguno... aparte del hecho de que, el profeta Jeremías, nunca dijo nada de lo que el evangelio le atribuye. Quien dijo algo similar [pero no idéntico], fue el profeta Zacarías, quien es citado diciendo: «Y les dije: Si os parece bien, dadme mi salario; y si no, dejadlo. Y PESARON POR MI SALARIO TREINTA PIEZAS DE PLATA. Y me dijo Yah- “Échalo al tesoro; ¡hermoso precio con que me han apreciado!”. Y tomé las treinta piezas de plata, Y LAS ECHÉ EN LA CASA DE YAH, AL TESORO»- Zacarías 11:12-13.

4) El Evangelio presenta al Nazareno (paz sea con él) enfrentando con poder y gallardía el destino para el cual había sido [alegadamente] enviado a este Mundo. Como esta escrito: «HE AQUÍ, ECHO FUERA DEMONIOS Y HAGO CURACIONES hoy y mañana, y al tercer día termino mi obra. SIN EMBARGO, ES NECESARIO QUE HOY Y MAÑANA Y PASADO MAÑANA SIGA MI CAMINO; PORQUE NO ES POSIBLE QUE UN PROFETA MUERA FUERA DE JERUSALÉN» Lucas 13:32-33.

¿Que problema hay con los milagros y las curaciones? ¿Que mal puede haber con que, al igual que sucedió con todos los otros profetas, Jesús deseara morir en Jerusalén? Pues la realidad es que no hay mal alguno... aparte del hecho de que es completamente falso que un profeta no pueda morir fuera de “Jebus” (o “Jerusalén”). Es decir, tanto Avraham, como Isaac y Jacob, fueron en efecto profetas; y, a pesar de ello, murieron fuera de Jerusalén. De hecho, el mayor de todos los profetas (el profeta Moisés) también murió fuera de Jerusalén. Como esta escrito: «Y MURIÓ ALLÍ MOISÉS siervo de Yah, EN LA TIERRA DE MOAB, conforme al dicho de Yah»- Deut. 34:5.

5) El santo evangelio, hace una grande y poderosa revelación: que, el sacrificio del cordero pascual, hecho por los Israelitas en Egipto, tenía el propósito de prefigurar el sacrificio expiatorio del Galileo, quien no solamente habría de morir para redimir a cada Israelita, sino a toda la humanidad. Como esta escrito: «Limpiaos, pues, de la vieja levadura, para que seáis nueva masa, sin levadura como sois; PORQUE NUESTRA PASCUA, QUE ES CRISTO, YA FUE SACRIFICADA POR NOSOTROS»- 1 Corintios 5:7.

Y, durante esta fiesta de Yom Kippur, el animal que sellaba el proceso de expiación nacional, no era el cordero [que era sacrificado], sino el macho cabrío [que vivía, siendo enviado al desierto]. Como esta escrito: «y pondrá Aarón sus dos manos sobre la cabeza del MACHO CABRÍO VIVO, Y CONFESARÁ SOBRE ÉL TODAS LAS INIQUIDADES DE LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL, TODAS SUS REBELIONES Y TODOS SUS PECADOS, PONIÉNDOLOS ASÍ SOBRE LA CABEZA DEL MACHO CABRÍO, y lo enviará al desierto por mano de un hombre destinado para esto. Y AQUEL MACHO CABRÍO LLEVARÁ SOBRE SÍ TODAS LAS INIQUIDADES DE ELLOS a tierra inhabitada; y dejará ir el macho cabrío por el desierto»- Levítico 16:21-22.

En resumen, el “Brit Hadasha” (el “Nuevo Pacto”, o “Nuevo Testamento”) contiene relatos fascinantes; dichos y hechos tan emocionalmente arrolladores, que podrían cautivar y/o transformar el corazón mas empedernido. Pero, los autores del evangelio, a menudo exhiben un desconocimiento craso de la Escritura Hebrea, así como un pobre entendimiento de las verdades Divinas en ella reveladas. Y, si por medio de los milagros y los prodigios, el Creador aparenta respaldar la predica cristiana, esto no significa en ninguna manera que tal cosa represente un endoso divino a la pobre y descuidada teología cristiana, sino que es en cambio el producto de la gracia que extiende Dios a todo ser humano.

De hecho, el que los milagros y los prodigios no son garantía alguna de que la persona cuente con el favor Divino, es una verdad tan grande e innegable, que el mismo evangelio la confirma, cuando pone en boca del Galileo las siguientes palabras: «Muchos me dirán en aquel día: “SEÑOR, SEÑOR, ¿NO PROFETIZAMOS EN TU NOMBRE, Y EN TU NOMBRE ECHAMOS FUERA DEMONIOS, Y EN TU NOMBRE HICIMOS MUCHOS MILAGROS?”. Y entonces les declararé: “NUNCA OS CONOCÍ; APARTAO DE MÍ, HACEDORES DE MALDAD”»- Mateo 7:22-23.

“There’s no real freedom outside the moral boundaries outlined by God’s 10 Laws (don’t steal, don’t cheat, don’t kill, don’t covet, etc), as anything outside of it will end up becoming oppressive, and tyrannical. Why? Because some power hungry man [the likes of Mao and Stalin] will sooner or later fill up the moral gap left by God’s absence”

Is it true that the Bible wine was really grape juice, or was it rather an intoxicating drink?

Hebrew Bible states that, whether it is new (juice) or old (aged wine), the wine alluded to in the Scripture was indeed intoxicating. As it is said: “Awake, ye drunkards, and weep, And howl all drinking wine, because of the juice, For it hath been cut off from your mouth”- Joel 1:5 (Christian Standard Bible). And from whence do we get that priest were allowed to drink from this wine [as part of the sacrifice offerings]? From the verse that goes on to say: “All the best of the oil, and all the best of the new wine, and wheat -- their first-[fruits] which they give to the Lord -- to thee I have given them”- Numbers 18:12 (Young's Literal translation)

Los orígenes de la tiranía ideológica que caracterizan al rico y poderoso Judío secular

La Ley Divina dada a nuestro maestro Moisés (Moshe) muestra a un Israelita llamado Coré (Korah) haciendo uso de la demagogia [es decir, adulando a las masas, a fin de inflamar sus pasiones y poder así manipularlas]. ¿Para que? Pues a fin de rebelarse contra nuestro maestro, justificando de ese modo su desobediencia a la Ley Divina por medio de él fue revelada. ¿De que forma aduló Coré a las masas? Pues alegando [públicamente] que todos y cada uno de los Hebreos eran igual de santos [e igual de valiosos] que Moisés; de suerte que este último no tuviese derecho alguno de reclamar la obediencia de los Israelitas (“¡Basta ya de vosotros! Porque TODA LA CONGREGACIÓN, TODOS ELLOS SON SANTOS, y en medio de ellos está YHVH; ¿por qué, PUES, OS LEVANTÁIS VOSOTROS SOBRE LA CONGREGACIÓN DE YHVH?”- Números 16:3).

¿Que intima la Escritura al narrar la rebeldía de Coré [quien, de paso, no solamente tenía un puesto en el servicio del Tabernáculo, sino que era muy rico y poderoso, siendo primo-hermano de Moisés]? Pues intima que, tal y como sucedió con Coré, todo rico y poderoso Judío que en el futuro escogiese rebelarse contra Moisés [haciéndose de ese modo un ateo practicante], utilizaría también la demagogia y la adulación como medio de obtener poder sobre las masas.

Y lo anterior explica la paradoja del Judío secular ejemplificado en la figura de Carlos Marx, quien [a pesar de estar casado con una mujer rica, y poseer una sirvienta a la cual dejó embarazada] adulaba a las masas con la idea de que los pobres debían rebelarse contra los ricos, impidiéndoles la injusticia y el ultraje. De igual modo, explica la demagogia de los Judíos seculares ejemplificados en la figura de Jorge Soros, quien a pesar de ser billonario, adula las masas promoviendo activamente el marxismo cultural (la lucha de clases, el ateísmo, el aborto, la abierta homosexualidad, el multi-culturalismo, etc).

En resumen, por medio de la alegoría encarnada en la rebelión de Coré, nuestro maestro Moisés profetizó que, en lo porvenir, los ricos y poderosos Judíos seculares no intentarían subyugarnos por medio de la fuerza, sino por medio de la adulación (es decir, inflamando nuestro ego, tentándonos así a rebelarnos contra el orden Divino y la moral establecida por Moisés)

Advanced thought isn't achieved by the dull skepticism of sticking to rigorous scientific logic [rejecting anything that hasn't yet been scientifically corroborated]; instead, it is made by daring to extrapolate bold and news ideas starting from what we already know to be a fact; Sort of like the ancient Greek philosopher who, after observing the burning of a lamp, goes on to wonder if the Sun isn't just "a big lamp" (a Great ball of fire)

El Mensaje del Samaritanismo Reformado

El mensaje implícito de la Escritura Samaritana (También conocida como “La Torah”, o “El Pentateuco”) es que, no hay falta alguna en el Dios de Moisés [el Creador del Universo], ya que este último es moralmente perfecto (“ÉL ES LA ROCA, SU OBRA ES PERFECTA: porque todos sus caminos son juicio: UN DIOS DE VERDAD Y SIN INIQUIDAD, JUSTO Y RECTO ES ÉL ”- Deuteronomio 32: 4). Y esta perfección moral evita que el Creador juzgue arbitrariamente a sus criaturas.

Más bien, el Juez de toda la Tierra ha creado el universo de modo que la ley de “medida por medida” (también conocida como “siembra y cosecha”, o “acción y reacción”), haga que cada una de sus criaturas termine juzgándose [imparcialmente] a sí misma. ¿Cómo? Pues viéndose obligada a “segar” la misma bondad [o maldad] que libre y voluntariamente haya “sembrado” en su prójimo. Por ejemplo, si un hombre oportunista escoge explotar el desamparo de la viuda o del huérfano de algún otro hombre, entonces la justicia Divina hará que tal oportunista perezca prematuramente, de suerte que su mujer quede viuda, y sus hijos huérfanos.

¿Para que? Pues para que este hombre "siegue" el mismo mal que ha sembrado; siendo su viuda y sus huérfanos también explotados por algún otro oportunista. Como está escrito: “A NINGUNA VIUDA NI HUÉRFANO AFLIGIRÉIS. PORQUE SI TÚ LLEGAS A AFLIGIRLES, y ellos clamaren a mí, ciertamente oiré yo su clamor; y mi furor se encenderá, y OS MATARÉ A ESPADA, Y VUESTRAS MUJERES SERÁN VIUDAS, Y HUÉRFANOS VUESTROS HIJOS”- Éxodo 22:22-24.

Por esto mismo, nadie puede ufanarse de conocer a Dios sin lograr primero entender que lo que este último desea para el hombre no es que se convierta en Samaritano, Judío, Cristiano, o Musulmán; sino que no importando cual sea su credo, cada hombre muestre a su prójimo [que sufre] la misma justicia y misericordia que desearía algún día cosechar para sí mismo. Como esta escrito:

«Así dijo El Señor: “NO SE ALABE EL SABIO EN SU SABIDURÍA, ni en su valentía se alabe el valiente, ni el rico se alabe en sus riquezas. MAS ALÁBESE EN ESTO EL QUE SE HUBIERE DE ALABAR: EN ENTENDERME y conocerme, que yo soy יהוה (El Señor), QUE HAGO MISERICORDIA, JUICIO Y JUSTICIA en la Tierra; PORQUE ESTAS COSAS QUIERO [QUE LOS HOMBRES HAGAN], dice יהוה... ¿NO COMIÓ Y BEBIÓ TU PADRE, E HIZO JUICIO Y JUSTICIA, y entonces le fue bien? EL JUZGÓ LA CAUSA DEL AFLIGIDO Y DEL

MENESTEROSO, y entonces estuvo bien. ¿No es esto conocerme a mí dice יהוה ?» - Jeremías 9:23-24, & 22:15-16.

Islam (Muhammad) is credited with saying the following: “None of you will have faith until he loves for his brother what he loves for himself” - Authentic Hadith, Sahih al-Bukhari 13, narrated by Anas Bin Malik. On the other hand Judaism (the School of Hillel) is credited with saying the following: “That which is hateful to you, do not do to your fellow [human being]. That is the whole Torah [the whole Bible]; the rest is the explanation [or “commentary”]; go and learn” - Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 31a. Finally, Christianity (Jesus) is credited with saying the following: “So in all things, do to others what you would want them to do to you- for this is the Torah [God's Law] and the Prophets” - Matthew 7:12, Tree Of Live Bible version. So we can see that, in the end, Both Muslims, Jews and Christians share a common religious ideology: that the tree can be known by it's fruit; and that true religion is to love God, by loving those who are made in God's image [our needy fellow human beings]

The Bible cannot be properly understood unless we startup with the assumption that the Supreme God is morally perfect (Deut. 32:4)

Any serious study of the Bible needs to start off with the assumption that God is morally perfect. So, any verse that seems to portray the Creator as having moral defects (that He gets tired of humans, that he repents, that He makes mistakes, that He is vengeful, Jealous, arbitrary, etc) has to be understood as an allegorical way of describing a finite thing (or person) that acts in the name of the Lord (an angel, a natural process, a prophet, etc).

In other words, God is infinite, patient, and morally perfect, but His messengers are often not. As is written: “I am going to send an angel before you to protect you on the way and bring you to the place I have prepared. Be attentive to him and listen to him. Do not defy him, because [unlike me] he will not forgive your acts of rebellion...” - Exodus 23:20-21

Women leading the country? Underage boys choosing their own gender? The Hebrew Scripture intimates that when a Pagan society lacks courage and maturity, it is women and children who run the nation. As it is written: “The oppressors of my people are boys, and women rule over them. My people, those who guide you deceive you, and twist the course of your ways” - Isaiah 3:12

The ugly side of Atheistic Judaism

Any ideology that is perceived as absolute and unquestionable truth is by definition a type of “religious creed”, regardless of whether such ideology concerns the religious sphere, or if it concerns instead the political, social, or scientific sphere. And in this sense it is not an exaggeration to affirm that modern atheism not only manifests the characteristics of a religious creed, but also those of a recalcitrant, supremacist one.

It is that the institutionalized atheism that we currently experience in Western societies is actually a form of Judaism; and this in turn explains the fact that state atheism (also known as "Marxism") is the product of a Jewish mind (Karl Marx). In fact, the latter was singularly noted by Stephen Wise, a famous Jewish rabbi of the early 20th century, when on May 5, 1935, he said the following words to the magazine "The American Bulletin": "Some may call it 'Communism', but I call him by his real name- 'Judaism'».

But is such a contradiction possible? For not only is it possible, but it was predicted by the ancient Jewish sages, who taught that Jews have the potential to be both the highest, the most noble and the most sublime of the human race, as well as its lowest and vilest scum. As it is written: «It has been said that this people is like dust (“ Your seed will be like the dust of the Earth ”- Gen. 28:14); And [also] it has been said that it is like the stars (“I will multiply your seed like the stars of Heaven” - Gen. 22:17) ». And the above means that, when they are vile, the Jews go down to the very dust (that is, they behave like filthy worms); but, when they are Noble, they reach up to the stars (behaving like the angels of heaven) - Babylonian Talmud, Megillah 16a.

But in what sense is atheism an expression of secular Judaism? For in that the atheistic mentality is [generally] a faithful reflection of the mentality of the secular Jew; who, considering himself part of the "Chosen People", is not only recalcitrantly certain that he has "the absolute truth" (note that the average atheist will never be willing to consider the possibility of being wrong), but also feels intrinsically superior [and with the right to belittle] anyone who does not share the same ideology. Again, it is no coincidence that state atheism (Marxism imposed by force, deception, and terror) was invented by a Jew!

And the global revolution to which the modern Jewish Marxists aspire cannot be realized without the latter being forced to use their immense economic, political, and media power in order to destabilize the nations of the World, causing their societies to abandon all that. that keeps them peaceful, stable, and united: that is, moral values, family unity, religion, nationalist sentiment, native culture, common language, racial identity, economic frugality, etc. And that is why, through demagoguery (that is, flattery and manipulation) these Jewish Marxists vigorously promote everything that manages to undermine each and every one of the previous institutions, thus implementing the old and proven strategy of "Divide, and Conquer".

That is why we find that behind any movement that attempts to undermine the elements that provide national and social stability to each nation (social activism, militant atheism, individualism, homosexuality, moral relativism, gender ideology, feminism, mass immigration, multiculturalism, plurality, massive indebtedness, etc.) you will find some Jewish ringleader (Karl Halevi Marx, Magnus Hirschfeld, Sigmund Freud, George Weinberg, Max Horkheimer, Herbert Marcuse, Ayn Rand, Ruth Bader Ginsburg, David Silverman, Sam Harris, Barbara Specter, Ben Shalom Bernanke, Dianne Feinstein, George Soros, Jacob Rothschild, etc). It is that, as an old saying used by the survivors of the Soviet carnage says: "The Jewish Marxist does not catch you by force, but by temptation (that is, telling you what you want to hear, thereby exploiting your passions and weaknesses moral) ". May the Creator have mercy on every secular Jew!

When measured against the infinitely large scale of the physical Universe, the individual man comes out to be little more than nothing; an infinitely small (yet incredibly vain) speck of dust pretending to be large (and important) enough to deserve playing the role of a god (creating it's own reality, even if this alleged reality goes against common sense, as well as the natural order); a talking and movable leather bag that, though filled with urine and feces, fancies itself with the belief that the Universe revolves around it, and that the sole purpose of the latter is to fulfill each and every one of it's whimsical desires

A tree can be known by it's fruit! A true believer will contend against the wicked (no matter if the latter be Jew, or Gentile), while a non believer will praise and honor the wicked

The God of Moses has promised to extend His blessing upon the [good] works of he who fears and obeys Him ("Now IF THOU WILT HEAR THE VOICE OF THE LORD THY GOD, TO DO AND KEEP ALL HIS COMMANDMENTS, which I command thee this day... THE LORD WILL SEND FORTH A BLESSING upon thy storehouses, and UPON ALL THE WORKS OF THY HANDS..." - Deut. 28:1&8, Douay Rheims Bible, 1899). But when a believer befriends [thereby honoring] the wicked (no matter if the latter be a Jew or a Gentile), God cancels the merit of his good works.

As is written: «After these things JOSAPHAT king of Juda MADE FRIENDSHIP WITH OCHOZIAS king of Israel, WHOSE WORKS WERE VERY WICKED. And he was partner with him in making ships, to go to Tharsis: and they made the ships in Asiongaber. And Eliezer the son of Dodau of Maresa prophesied to Josaphat, saying: "BECAUSE THOU HAST MADE A LEAGUE WITH OCHOZIAS [A WICKED HEBREW BELIEVER], THE LORD HATH DESTROYED THY WORKS"...»- 2 Chronicles 20:35-37, Douay Rheims Bible, 1899.

Why is this so? Because when a man obeys God's Law, he feels a healthy amount of phobia against any sort of open evil (blasphemy, usury, fraud, deception, theft, adultery, dishonor parents, murdering, incest, atheism, homosexuality, bestiality, etc), and therefore feels the need to contend against the wicked.

As it is written: (1) "HORROR HATH TAKEN HOLD UPON ME BECAUSE OF THE WICKED THAT FORSAKE THY LAW"- Psalm 119:53, King James version Bible.

(2) "LORD, WHO MAY DWELL IN YOUR SACRED TENT? Who may live on your holy mountain?... [HE] WHO DESPISES A VILE PERSON, BUT HONORS THOSE WHO FEAR THE LORD..."- Psalm 15: 1, & 4 (New International version).

(3) «... "Do you come in peace, Jehu?" He said, "HOW CAN THERE BE PEACE AS LONG AS THE IMMORALITIES OF YOUR MOTHER JEZEBEL AND HER MANY ACTS OF SORCERY CONTINUE?"»- 2 Kings 9:22, Common English Bible.

(4) "DEPART FROM ME, YE EVILDOERS; FOR I WILL KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS OF MY GOD"- Psalm 119:115, Jubilee Bible 2000.

(5) «And the tribes of Israel sent men... saying, "WHAT WICKEDNESS IS THIS THAT IS DONE AMONG YOU?" NOW THEREFORE DELIVER US THOSE MEN, THE SONS OF BELIAL... THAT WE MAY PUT THEM TO DEATH AND PUT AWAY THE EVIL FROM ISRAEL...»- Judges 20:12-13, Jubilee Bible 2000.

But when a man abandons God's Law, he no longer feels the need to oppose wicked people. In fact, he not only starts feeling comfortable among the wicked, but even dare to go as far as standing by their side, offering them his praise and support. As it is written: “THEY THAT FORSAKE THE LAW, PRAISE THE WICKED; But such as keep the Law, contend with them”- Proverb 28:4, American Standard Version Bible

Why are Jewish media outlets so obsessed with promoting Moral degeneracy?

Jewish controlled media (CNN, Google, Facebook, Yahoo, Youtube, etc) is constantly engaged in the promotion of things like cultural Marxism, Atheism, abortion and LGBTQ lifestyle. Why? Simply Because the former traits accurately describe the average [secular] Jew. In other words, by forcing us to show respect to Marxists, Atheists, and Gays, Jewish media is coercing us into accepting the secular Jews current leadership [regardless of their questionable morality]. But the problem is that, when it comes to appointed leaders, respect cannot be given away for free [as Jewish media so conveniently wish]. Instead, the leaders must first earn our respect. How? By their proven record of a higher performance in the fields of service, selfishness, humility, fidelity, truthfulness, integrity, and wisdom.

If your religion changes you to the point where you now feel the obligation to love and accept all sort of people [regardless of their moral lifestyle], then your religion hasn't turned you into a better person; rather, it has turned you into a moral latrine ...

La solución al problema del pecado

El problema no es que el hombre peque [cometiendo robo, mentira, asesinato, adulterio, deshonrando a sus padres, o practicando la homosexualidad], pues todo hombre eventualmente comete algún tipo de pecado. El verdadero problema, surge cuando el hombre peca y no se avergüenza de su maldad; endureciendo de ese modo su conciencia, y alejándose así del sincero arrepentimiento.

Es que, si bien es cierto que obstinarse en pecar corrompe el espíritu del ser humano [pues le convierte en un vano y egocentrico narcisista, que solo piensa en satisfacer sus caprichos y deseos sin importar a quien pueda herir en el proceso], el perdón de Dios esta siempre disponible para aquel que se avergüenza de su maldad, mostrando un corazón contrito y humillado. Pero, ese mismo perdón, no esta disponible para el hombre que es tan rebelde y osado como para atreverse a justificar su maldad [ya sea jactándose abiertamente de ella, o ya sea celebrándola por medio de alguna parada de orgullo]. Como esta escrito:

(1) “El que encubre sus pecados no prosperará; Mas el que los confiesa y se aparta, alcanzará misericordia”- Proverbios 28:13

(2) “Por tanto, confesaré mi maldad, Y me contristaré por mi pecado.”- Salmo 38:18

(3) “Cercano está YHVH a los quebrantados de corazón; Y salva a los contritos de espíritu”- Salmo 34:18

(4) “Los sacrificios de Dios son el espíritu quebrantado; Al corazón contrito y humillado no despreciarás tú, oh Dios”- Salmo 51:17

(5) “Si se humillare mi pueblo, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y oren, y buscaren mi rostro, y se convirtieren de sus malos caminos; entonces yo oiré desde los cielos, y perdonaré sus pecados, y sanaré su tierra”- 2 Crónicas 7:14

(6) “Porque no quiero la muerte del que muere, dice YHVH el Señor; convertíos, pues, y viviréis”- Ezequiel 18:32

(7) «Mi pecado te declaré, y no encubrí mi iniquidad. Dije: “Confesaré mis transgresiones a YHVH”; Y tú perdonaste la maldad de mi pecado”»- Salmo 32:5

Reformed Samaritanism believes in inclusion and diversity; that's why our theology “includes” all the goodness, holiness and nobility contained in the “diverse” rainbow of Abrahamic religions (Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Samaritanism, etc)

«No tyranny can last forever in power, unless the tyrant first creates his own god [his own supreme authority], as well as his own religion [or creed]. This god will, of course, be a reflection of the tyrant's altered ego, and it's religion will be a reflection of his thoughts, aspirations, and values [or lack of them]. For example, Stalin's god was the Soviet State, and it's religion was the amoral and godless communist manifesto. Likewise, in our days cultural Marxists have shunned the God of the West, in order to replace it with the new gods of technology, political correctness, human rights, and male-female equality. And what is their new religion? The unquestionable dogma of gay lifestyle, and moral relativism»

Attempting to reason with people who have abandoned morality (Feminists, LGBT activists, atheists, liberals, Marxists, etc)

They are contaminated; they are programmed to think and react to certain stimuli in a certain pattern. You cannot change their mind[s], even if you expose them to authentic information, even if you prove that white is white and black is black, you still cannot change the basic perception and the logic of behaviour. In other words, these people... the process of demoralization is complete and irreversible.

-Yuri Bezmenov (KGB defector)

No true Hebrew believer can afford to be part of any group promoting the “LGBTQ” lifestyle, as the former contravenes God’s Law banning deception, arrogance, pride, demagoguery, indecency, hedonism, pornography, and all sort of aberrant behaviour. Why is this so? Because the open promotion of the former lifestyles are the highway leading straight into Hell. And it goes without saying that the God of Israel (who is a God of mercy) doesn't want us to end up in Hell. What a true believer must seek instead, is to become part of the “LGEND” community, as the latter stands for the community of those committed to the lifestyle of discipline, virtue, and holiness described in the 5 books comprising God's Holy law (“Leviticus, Genesis, Exodus, Numbers, Deuteronomy”)

--The grave problem with Christian theology is that it wrongly pretends to interpret Jesus words [and their corresponding claims] in their strict literal sense, when the gospel itself states that Jesus intended them to be understood in an allegorical fashion. In fact, all of the Prophets (Jesus included) spoke only in parables. As is written: “Jesus told the crowds all these things in parables, and he did not tell them anything without a parable”- Matthew 13:3. Thus, until Christian believers start to address the interpretative issue of gospel literalism, any theological conversation between Christian, Muslim, and Hebrew believers will be seriously hampered--

Toda ideología que sea percibida como verdad absoluta e incuestionable, es por definición un tipo de “credo religioso”, sin importar si tal ideología concierne al ámbito religioso, o si concierne en cambio al ámbito político, social, o científico. Y en este sentido no es exagerado afirmar que el ateísmo moderno no solamente manifiesta las características de un credo religioso, sino las de uno recalcitrante, y supremacista.

Es que el ateísmo institucionalizado que al presente experimentamos en las sociedades occidentales en realidad es una forma de Judaísmo; y esto a su vez explica el hecho de que, el ateísmo de estado (también conocido como “Marxismo”), sea el producto de una mente Judía (Karl Marx). De hecho, esto último fue singularmente reseñado por Stephen Wise, un famoso rabino Judío de principios del siglo 20, cuando en Mayo 5 del 1935 dijo las siguientes palabras a la revista “The American Bulletin”: «Unos le pueden llamar “Comunismo”, pero yo le llamo por su verdadero nombre- “Judaísmo”».

Pero, ¿es posible tal contradicción? Pues no solamente es posible, sino que fue predicha por los antiguos sabios Judíos, quienes enseñaron que los Judíos tienen el potencial de ser tanto lo mas alto, noble y sublime de la raza humana, como su mas baja y vil escoria. Como esta escrito: «Se ha dicho que este pueblo es como el polvo (“Será tu simiente como el polvo de la Tierra”- Gen. 28:14); Y [también] se ha dicho que es como las estrellas (“Multiplicaré tu simiente como las estrellas del Cielo”- Gen. 22:17)». Y lo anterior significa que, cuando son viles, los Judíos bajan hasta el mismo polvo (es decir, se comportan como inmundos gusanos); pero, cuando son Nobles, alcanzan hasta las estrellas (comportándose como los ángeles del cielo)-- Talmud Babilónico, Megillah 16a.

Pero, ¿en que sentido es el ateísmo una expresión del Judaísmo secular? Pues en que la mentalidad atea es [por lo general] un fiel reflejo de la mentalidad del Judío secular; quien, considerándose a sí mismo parte del “Pueblo escogido”, no solamente esta recalcitrantemente seguro de tener “la verdad absoluta” (note que el ateo promedio nunca estará dispuesto a considerar la posibilidad de estar equivocado), sino que en adición se siente intrínsecamente superior [y con el derecho a menospreciar] a todo aquel que no comparta su misma ideología. De nuevo, ¿no es coincidencia que el ateísmo de Estado (el Marxismo que se impone por la fuerza, el engaño, y el terror) halla sido inventado por un Judío!

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

The apostle Paul was a good and holy man; but in his desperate need for recognition, Paul was forced to make a bold attempt to cleanse his hands from the Christian blood he had formerly shed as an enemy of the Church. Thus, Paul started to toy with the idea that, what he had done in the past, really wasn't relevant. Why? Because according to him, God's favor isn't the result of our good or bad actions; rather, it is solely the result of our faith. Thus, this brazen [and blasphemous] idea began to catch up, and modern Christianity now calls it "Salvation by Faith". Unfortunately for Paul, God's Law refutes such nonsensical notion, as [according to Deuteronomy Chapter 28], the believer's well being is the direct result of his obedience [or disobedience] to God's commandments. In addition, Scripture states that, if King David wasn't allowed the honor of building God's Temple (which in early Christianity would have amounted to building the Church body- something Paul so desperately wanted to do) it was precisely because, just as it had happened to Paul, David's hands were stained with blood ("You have shed much blood and waged great wars. You are not to build a House for my name, because you have shed so much blood on the ground before me"- 1 Chronicles 22:8, Christian Standard Bible)

Y la revolución global a la que aspiran los modernos Marxistas Judíos no puede concretarse sin que estos últimos se vean forzados a utilizar su inmenso poder económico, político, y mediático a fin de desestabilizar a las naciones del Mundo, haciendo que sus sociedades abandonen todo aquello que les mantiene pacíficas, estables, y unidas: es decir, los valores morales, la unidad familiar, la religión, el sentimiento nacionalista, la cultura nativa, el lenguaje común, la identidad racial, la frugalidad económica, etc.

Y es por ello que, por medio de la demagogia (es decir, el halago y la manipulación) estos Marxistas Judíos promueven vigorosamente todo aquello que logre menoscabar todas y cada una de las anteriores instituciones, implementando de ese modo la vieja y probada estrategia de “Divide, y Conquista”.

Por eso hallamos que, detrás de todo movimiento que intente socavar los elementos que proveen estabilidad nacional y social a cada nación (el activismo social, el ateísmo militante, el individualismo, la homosexualidad, el relativismo moral, la ideología de género, el feminismo, la inmigración en masa, el multiculturalismo, la pluralidad, el endeudamiento masivo, etc) se encuentra algún cabecilla Judío (Karl Halevi Marx, Magnus Hirschfeld, Sigmund Freud, George Weinberg, Max Horkheimer, Herbert Marcuse, Ayn Rand, Ruth Bader Ginsburg, David Silverman, Sam Harris, Barbara Specter, Ben Shalom Bernanke, Dianne Feinstein, George Soros, Jacob Rothschild, etc). Es que, como dice un antiguo refrán utilizado por los sobrevivientes de la carnicería soviética: “El Marxista Judío no te atrapa por la fuerza, sino por la tentación (es decir, diciéndote lo que quieres escuchar, explotando de ese modo tus pasiones y debilidades morales)”. ¡Que el Creador tenga misericordia de todo Judío secular!

Western Secular Societies No Longer Worship And Obey God. They Now Worship And Obey Secular Jews!!!

“Los Hijos de Israel” (es decir, el reino universal de creyentes, del cual el reino de de Israel era solo un paradigma), consiste de todos los hombres (y todas las mujeres) que, sin importar su raza, viven una vida de obediencia al Pacto dado por Dios a Moisés sobre las dos tablas de Piedra (los “diez mandamientos”, o “diez dichos”). Y, escuchando la voz de Dios, y viviendo esta vida de santidad (y la palabra “santidad” significa “apartado del mal”), estos creyentes encarnan a los antiguos sacerdotes (es decir, a los hijos de Leví).

Es que, el Israel de Dios, es un pueblo donde cada creyente es un sacerdote que vive la santidad que espontáneamente resulta de la obediencia a los mandamientos Divinos. Y es por esto que el Creador dice: «Ahora pues, SI DIEREIS OÍDO A MI VOZ, Y GUARDAREIS MI PACTO, vosotros seréis mi especial tesoro sobre todos los pueblos... Y VOSOTROS ME SERÉIS UN REINO DE SACERDOTES, Y GENTE SANTA...»- Éxodo 19:5-6.

Desafortunadamente, el “Israel Nacional” no solamente incluye a muchos “Hijos de Israel” (es decir, gente santa, que vive en sujeción a lo ordenado por Dios a Moisés), sino que también incluye “Hijos de Zimri”. Es decir, personas que han hecho de Zimri su padre espiritual (imitando su conducta e ideología).

Es que la tradición Hebrea postula que, en las llanuras de Moab, nuestro maestro Moisés confrontó a Zimri [un líder de la tribu de Simeón]. Y, la impudencia y desfachatez con la cual este último contestó a Moisés, dejó claro que [aunque era un descendiente biológico de Israel] Zimri no era un verdadero “Hijo de Israel”. La historia dice así- «Entonces Zimri se levantó y dijo: “Sí, tu Moisés estas de hecho en libertad de utilizar esas leyes que tanto te gustan; leyes a las cuales, acostumbrándote a su uso, haz hecho firmes. Pero si las cosas no hubiesen sido de ese modo, ya a menudo habrías sido castigado, y habrías sabido que los Hebreos no son fáciles de manejar.

Pero no me tendrás a mi como un seguidor de tus tiránicos mandamientos; porque no haces otra cosa que, bajo pretensión de leyes, y de Dios, imponernos perversamente esclavitud, ganando dominio para ti mismo, mientras nos privas a nosotros de la dulzura de la vida; que consiste en actuar de acuerdo a nuestra propia voluntad; lo que es el derecho de todo hombre libre, así como de aquellos que no tienen [ningún] Señor sobre ellos. No, de hecho, este hombre [Moisés] es mas duro contra los Hebreos, que lo que fueron los mismos Egipcios; pues, de acuerdo a sus leyes, pretende castigar el que cada uno pueda hacer lo que mejor le convenga.

Pero eres tu [Moisés] quien merece sufrir el castigo, pues presumes abolir lo que todos reconocen ser lo mejor para ellos mismos, e intentas hacer que tu opinión personal tenga mas fuerza que la del resto de nosotros. Y lo que ahora hago, y pienso estar correcto, no negaré que está de acuerdo a mis propios sentimientos. Como bien puedes ver, me he casado con una mujer extranjera , y oyes de mi propia boca lo que hago, como de uno que es libre; porque ciertamente no pretendo esconderme.

También reconozco que he ofrecido sacrificios a aquellos dioses a los cuales tú no consideras correcto ofrecer sacrificios; y pienso que es correcto llegar a la verdad buscándola de entre muchas personas, y no como uno que vive bajo tiranía; sufriendo el que toda mi esperanza de vida dependa de un [solo] hombre; ni tampoco dejaré que alguien pueda encontrar causa de regocijo diciéndose a si mismo que tiene mayor autoridad sobre mi vida, que la que yo mismo tengo».

Así, vemos que Zimri encarna al hombre que, a pesar de identificarse a si mismo como Judío, rehúsa vivir según lo ordenado por Dios a Moisés; el hombre que niega la inspiración Divina de la Escritura, que niega la validez de sus enseñanzas éticas y morales, que niega la inmutabilidad de sus principios, y que niega la segura esperanza de sus firmes y eternas promesas. Zimri es el sofista que esconde su egocentrismo, su rebeldía, y su inmoralidad, detrás de la linda máscara que es “la lucha por la libertad, y por los derechos humanos”. Zimri es el relativista moral, que abdica de la escueta verdad que está claramente expuesta ante sus ojos, para seguir en cambio la fantasía que inflama sus bajas pasiones: algo similar al hombre que afirma descaradamente [y sin vergüenza alguna] que es una mujer, solo que “atrapada” dentro del cuerpo de un hombre; es la persona que, a lo bueno, llama malo; y a lo malo, llama bueno.

El pobre y extraviado Zimri (descanse en paz su alma), insistía en la rebelde locura que implica el postular que, el hombre, tiene el derecho absoluto de hacer y decir lo que bien le plazca; sin importar las consecuencias, y sin importar tampoco si es justo, o injusto; bueno, o malo; moral, o inmoral. Y, como el mensaje de la Escritura Hebrea es que el hombre será [tarde o temprano] forzado a “segar” el fruto de sus obras, pues el Creador permitió que Zimri se viese obligado a “segar” la consecuencia natural de su rebelde ideología. Es decir, si era cierto que Zimri tenía el derecho de violar el mandamiento Divino que le impedía adulterar con una extranjera (Éxodo 20:14); entonces Finees también tenía el derecho de violar el mandamiento Divino que le impedía matar a un hermano Israelita (Éxodo 20:13).

Y esto explica el que Dios haya honrado la conducta de Finees; pues, con su sabio proceder, este último alumbró la oscuridad moral que amenazaba con arropar [y finalmente destruir] al Pueblo de Dios: «Y he aquí un varón de los Hijos de Israel (Zimri) vino y trajo una Madianita a sus hermanos, a ojos de Moisés y de toda la congregación... Y lo vio Finees... y fue tras el varón de Israel... y los alanceó a ambos... y cesó la mortandad de los hijos de Israel... entonces יהוה habló a Moisés diciendo... Finees ha hecho cesar mi furor... Por tanto diles, “He aquí yo establezca mi pacto de paz con él. Y tendrá él, y su descendencia después de él (es decir, sus hijos espirituales), el pacto del sacerdocio perpetuo...”» (Números 25:7-13).

Así, el Creador prefiguró en la persona de Finees, el hecho de que, el sacerdocio que anhela Dios para su Pueblo (Éxodo 19:5-6), no es otra cosa sino tener el suficiente celo por los mandamientos Divinos, como para estar dispuesto a contender [en una guerra santa] contra quienes promueven la impiedad. Como está escrito: «Los que dejan la Ley, alaban a los impíos. MAS, LOS QUE LA GUARDAN, CONTENDERÁN CON ELLOS»- Proverbios 28:4. Y como también dice en otro lugar: «¿NO ODIÓ OH יהוה A LOS QUE TE ABORRECEN, Y ME ENARDEZCO CONTRA TUS ENEMIGOS? LOS ABORREZCO POR COMPLETO, LOS TENGO POR ENEMIGOS».

La realidad es que, si el Creador concedió a Finees la alegría de recibir su pacto de paz, fue para que se cumpliese en Finees el verso que dice: «HAZ AMADO LA JUSTICIA, Y ABORRECIDO LA MALDAD. POR TANTO TE UNGIÓ DIOS, EL DIOS TUYO, CON ÓLEO DE ALEGRÍA...»- Salmo 45:7. Y también el verso que dice: «DE MAÑANA DESTRUIRÉ A TODOS LOS IMPÍOS DE LA TIERRA, PARA EXTERMINAR DE LA CIUDAD DE יהוה A TODOS LOS QUE HAGAN INIQUIDAD»- Salmo 101:8. De igual modo, si el Creador permitió que Zimri muriese a manos de Finees, fue para que se cumpliese en Zimri (descanse en paz) el verso que dice: «... el hombre perverso, sera aborrecido [por los suyos]»- Proverbios 14:17.

Es que, aún si un hombre pudiese reclamar el privilegio de ser un descendiente directo de Israel, en el momento en que tal hombre abraza públicamente la maldad, deja de ser “un Hijo de Israel”, para convertirse en cambio en un “Hijo de Zimri” (un enemigo de Dios). Como esta escrito: «Mas ellos fueron rebeldes, e hicieron enojar su Santo Espíritu; por lo cual se les volvió enemigo, y Él mismo peleó contra ellos»- Isaías 63:10. Y también dice otra Escritura: «El que ayer era mi Pueblo (“Los Hijos de Israel”), se ha levantado [contra mi] como enemigo (“Los Hijos de Zimri”)»- Miqueas 2:8.

“The Lord says: Cursed is the man who puts his trust in mortal man, and turns his heart away from [the word of] God”- Jeremiah 17:5

God judges no one!

Hebrew scripture hints at the idea that the Creator (blessed be He) judges nobody, but rather let each of us choose our own “heaven” (reward) or “hell” (punishment), based upon what we've freely [and willingly] chosen to do unto our fellow human beings [as well as unto ourselves].

Think of wicked Haman- he wanted to hang righteous Mordechai, so “the hell” God let him experience was to be hanged upon the same gallows he had willingly intended for Mordechai [who was a far better person than Haman!]. As is written: “SO THEY HANGED HAMAN ON THE GALLOWS THAT HE HAD PREPARED FOR MORDECAI...”- Esther 7:10 (Amplified Bible). In other words, God allowed Haman to become his own judge!

And the former is consistent with what Hebrew scripture teaches elsewhere: «And Adoni-Bezek said... “AS I HAVE DONE, SO GOD HATH REWARDED ME”...»- Judges 1:7 (Geneva Bible); “For the day of the Lord is near, upon all the heathen: AS THOU HAST DONE, IT SHALL BE DONE TO THEE...”- Obadiah 1:15 (Geneva Bible); “... God forbid that wickedness should be in God, and iniquity in the almighty, FOR HE WILL RENDER UNTO MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORK, AND CAUSE EVERYONE TO FIND ACCORDING TO HIS WAY”- Job 34:10-12

“The Lord is with you when you are with Him. If you seek Him, He will be found by you, but if you abandon Him, He will abandon you”- 2 Chronicles 15:2

If you don't listen to God, don't expect Him to listen to you; If you don't obey Him [doing the good He wants from you], don't expect Him to obey you [doing the good you want from Him]

The Hebrew believer (Samaritan, Jew, Karaite, etc.) who openly proclaims himself to be an atheist, or a homosexual, blasphemes God with his behavior

The Religion of God does not consist in having “the right theology”; rather, it consists instead of having “the right morality” (Micah 6: 8, & Psalm 37:27). For this reason, immorality is precisely the sin that God does not tolerate. In fact, God abhors so much immorality, that He personally warned against it, writing the following words “with his own fingers”- “Do not commit adultery, do not steal, do not lie, do not insult your parents ... etc”.

So, the Hebrew believer who chooses to openly disobey the God of the Hebrews [living a life of outright immorality], will sooner or later be punished, suffering the Divine curse. Why the Divine curse? Well, because Scripture teaches man is destined to “eat” the fruit of his hands; that is to say, each person will have to “reap” the same evil [or good] he has sown. And, since the immoral believer induces others to curse God, it is only fair that such believer reaps the same curse he has sowed.

You see, when a person claims to be part of the Holy people of Israel, but then goes on and openly practices a homosexual lifestyle, the wicked feel the right to curse the God of the Hebrews, saying: “This person claims to be part of God’s People, but openly practices a Homosexual lifestyle. Could it be that he is imitating his God, who is also an open Homosexual?”

When a man claims to be a Hebrew believer, and openly practices theft and fraud, the enemies of Israel are justified in cursing the God of the Hebrews, saying: “This one claims to be a Hebrew believer, but he is a thief and a fraud. If the God of the Hebrews doesn’t mind, perhaps it is because He himself is also a thief and a fraud”

When a Hebrew believer goes and lies publicly and shamelessly, the wicked ones curse the God of Israel, saying: “This guy claims to be part of God’s holy People, but he is a lying and shameless sophist. From whom did he learn it? Could it be that he learned it from his own God, who is as shameless as he is, and therefore has no problem with such low life morality?”

When a believer claims to be part of God’s Holy People, and then goes on to murders another human being, the wicked ones are empowered to curse the God of Israel, saying: “This guy claims to be part of the People of God, but he is a murderer. Is it because his God is also a murderer?”

Thus, the Hebrew believer who acts immorally, will be condemned to reap the same curse with which he caused the wicked to blaspheme the God of Israel. And this is what happened to King David [after abruptly extinguishing the life of Uriah, an innocent son of God]. Since this action of David caused the wicked to curse the God of Israel, God brought the same curse upon David. How? By letting him experience how the life of his innocent son was also abruptly extinguished by God.

As it is written: “But because, with this matter (extinguishing the life of an innocent human being), you made the enemies of יהוה blaspheme, the son that was born to you, he will surely die” (2 Samuel 12:14).

Faith in Jesus can definitely lead a man towards sincere repentance and good deeds; whereby the latter can obtain everlasting life. But the believer ought to be truthful to God’s word [as revealed in His Holy Law] avoiding self deception, as well as theological “cherry picking” and intellectual “hair splitting”. Why? Because it is this commitment with truth and honesty what will make him a true Israelite. As it is also taught in the gospel: «Then Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward him and said about him, “Here truly is an Israelite in whom there is no deceit”»- John 1:47

“Science cannot solve the ultimate mystery of Nature. And that is because, in the last analysis, we ourselves are a part of the mystery that we are trying to solve (sort of like an eyeball that wishes to see directly into all things, not realizing it will never be able to directly see into itself)”
— Max Planck

In no case can we ever rest assured that what is absolute in Science today will remain absolute for all time. We see in all modern scientific advances that the solution of one problem only unveils the mystery of another. Each hilltop that we reach discloses to us another hilltop beyond. We must accept this as a hard-and-fast irrefutable fact... The aim of science... is an incessant struggle towards a goal which can never be reached. Because the goal is of its very nature unattainable. It is something that is essentially metaphysical and as such is always again and again beyond each achievement.

“La nación que condona al abierto adulterio, esta destinada a convertirse en una sociedad de bastardos”

La Ley de Dios condena al hombre que expone [abiertamente] su pecado ante dos o mas testigos (es decir, a quien peca públicamente). Como esta escrito: “Por dicho de dos o de tres testigos morirá el que hubiere de morir; no morirá por el dicho de un solo testigo... Y el hombre que adulterare con la mujer de otro, el que cometiere adulterio [públicamente] con la mujer de su prójimo, indefectiblemente se hará morir al adúltero y a la adúltera”- Deuteronomio 17:6 & Levitico 20:10. Es que, la nación que condona al abierto adulterio, esta destinada a convertirse en una sociedad de bastardos.

Cuando los Reyes de las Naciones del Mundo, oyeron el Primer Mandamiento de יהוה (“Yo soy el Señor tu Dios...”), no fueron muy impresionados, pues arguyeron diciendo: “¿Qué soberano desea ser negado? Al igual que cualquier otro rey, יהוה ordena que se le reconozca”. Luego, cuando escucharon acerca del Segundo Mandamiento (“No tendrás dioses fuera de mi...”), similarmente observaron: “¿Existe algún soberano que tolere alguna otra autoridad? Al igual que todos los reyes, יהוה quiere que se le adore a Él solamente. ¡Ese es el por qué decretó que nadie sirviese a otros dioses!”. Tampoco se conmovieron los Reyes de la Tierra, cuando escucharon el tercer Mandamiento (“No tomaras en vano el nombre de tu Dios”, pues comentaron diciendo: “¿Qué rey querría que sus súbditos juraran falsamente en su nombre? יהוה tampoco lo quiere”. Luego, cuando escucharon acerca del Shabbat (“Seis días trabajarás, mas en el séptimo día, descansarás...”), dijeron: “¡Desde luego! Todos los reyes gustan que su día especial sea celebrado...”

Pero, cuando escucharon acerca de la mitzvá (mandamiento) acerca de honrar a los padres (“Honra a tu padre y a tu madre...”), todos los reyes se levantaron de sus tronos, y alabaron a יהוה, admitiendo: “Si alguien en nuestros círculos es elevado a un noble rango, inmediatamente niega a sus [plebeyos] padres; pero יהוה es mucho más noble, y actúa de un modo distinto, ¡El ordenó que todos honren a sus padres!”.

Así, los reyes de la Tierra “admitieron” (que estaban equivocados), y entendieron retro-activamente que, los mandamientos de יהוה no fueron dados [como originalmente imaginaron] con el fin de honrar a יהוה. ¡Los mandamientos fueron dados para el beneficio de todos los seres humanos! Con respecto a esta “admisión” de los reyes de la tierra, la antigua traducción Hebrea del Salmo 138:4 dice de la siguiente manera: “Todos los Reyes de la Tierra, oh Señor, admitieron (que estaban equivocados), después que oyeron las palabras (entiéndase, los mandamientos) de tu boca”.

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que, el hombre que rehúsa hacer obras de justicia y misericordia, no tendrá parte en La Vida eterna, como también enseñó el Nazareno, cuando es citado diciendo: “... Apartaos de mí, malditos, al fuego eterno preparado para el Diablo y sus ángeles. Porque tuve hambre, y no me disteis de comer; tuve sed, y no me disteis de beber; fui forastero, y no me recogisteis; estuve desnudo, y no me cubristeis; enfermo, y en la cárcel, y no me visitasteis”- Mateo 25:41-43, Biblia Reina Valera 1960

Technological adults, but spiritual and moral infants (Modern Western Culture is practical Devil worship)

The Hebrew Bible describes the Devil using the phrase “Ha Satan” (“The One who Opposes”). Why such description? In order to teach that, whenever someone [or something] opposes God, such person [or thing] has become an evil “Ha Satan” (the Devil). It is in this sense that Western culture can be said to be practical Devil worshipping. Why? Because just as you would expect from Ha Satan, it exalts whatever the Hebrew God condemns, and condemns whatever the Hebrew God exalts. Consider the case of death: the Hebrew God demands that we “mourn” for a deceased person; but Western culture opposes such a thing, demanding instead that we “celebrate” his life [so that, in the end, we find ourselves forced to “celebrate” the life of deceased atheists, pedophiles, and gay activists!]. In addition, consider the case of both marriage and premarital sex: the Hebrew God forbids promiscuity, encouraging opposite sex people to get married and procreate children; But Western culture opposes all these things, encouraging instead promiscuity, same sex marriages, and abortion. Finally, the Hebrew God tells us that, to be alone, isn't good for our souls; but Western culture opposes this mindset, encouraging us instead to seek individuality, as well as independent living.

“Cuando una confesión religiosa carece de sabiduría y valor, son las mujeres y los jóvenes quienes la dirigen. Como esta escrito: “Los opresores de mi pueblo son muchachos, y mujeres se enseñorearon de él. Pueblo mío, los que te guían te engañan, y tuercen el curso de tus caminos” (Isaías 3:12, Biblia Reina Valera 1960)

«Si los jóvenes te dicen: “¡Construyamos el Templo! (es decir, hagamos un templo a los derechos humanos, al feminismo, al estilo de vida homosexual, a la democracia, a la globalización, al capitalismo, a la igualdad de los sexos, etc)”- no los escuches. Pero, si los ancianos te dicen “¡Destruyamos el Templo!”- escúchales. Es que, careciendo de suficiente experiencia vivencial, el “construir” de los jóvenes a menudo redundaba en destrucción; mientras que el “destruir” de los ancianos a menudo redundaba en construcción»

La noble fe Cristiana, postula que la “recompensa” prometida para los que cumplen la Ley (los mandamientos), solo se obtiene si el hombre es capaz de guardar todos los mandamientos. Y, citan como justificación el texto que dice: «Y les di mis estatutos, y les hice conocer mis decretos, por los cuales el hombre que los cumpliera vivirá» -Ezequiel 20:11.

También aducen que, el hombre que viola tan solo uno de los mandamientos, ya se hace culpable de violarlos todos, como está escrito: «Porque el que dijo: No cometerás adulterio, también ha dicho: No matarás. Ahora bien, si no cometes adulterio, pero matas, ya te has hecho transgresor de la Ley» -Santiago 2:11.

Finalmente, el Cristianismo reclama que, como la Biblia dice que no hay hombre que nunca peque («Ciertamente no hay hombre justo en la tierra, que haga el bien y nunca peque»- Eclesiastés 7:20), podemos concluir con seguridad que nadie puede “obtener la vida (eterna)” confiando en el merito de su perfecta obediencia a la Ley; pues, en la practica, nadie es capaz de lograrlo. Así, nuestros hermanos cristianos concluyen que Dios se vio forzado a proveer a la raza humana un camino alternativo de salvación; a saber, la gracia de creer en la redención efectuada por el derramamiento de la sangre del Nazareno (la paz y la bendición de יהוה sean con el). ¿Cual es el problema con esto? Pues que, aunque a primera vista aparenta ser una hermosa y sencilla verdad, no es sino una ilusión; una ingeniosa fantasía que, al igual que el famoso “arte callejero” (o “street art”), busca que observemos los hechos desde un conveniente angulo; uno que nos induce a percibir una dimensión que, cuando se examina desde otros ángulos, resulta ser falsa e inexistente. El siguiente relato aclara lo que intentamos decir: Durante el primer siglo de la era Cristiana, hubo entre los Hebreos un venerado rabino llamado Rabban Gamaliel (posiblemente, el maestro de Saulo de Tarso). Se cuenta que, cada vez que Rabban Gamaliel leía el texto del Salmo 15:5, procedía a romper en lágrimas. El pasaje dice así: «... el que hace estas cosas, no resbalará jamás». ¿Por que lloraba el Rabino Gamaliel? Pues porque creía [erróneamente] que el Salmo implicaba que, la promesa de seguridad eterna (el “no resbalar jamás”), era solo para quienes obedecieran todos los mandamientos listados en el dicho Salmo (no para aquellos que fallaran en cumplir alguno de ellos). Un día, oyendo la interpretación que hacía Rabban Gamaliel, el Rabino Akiva le citó el original Hebreo del pasaje que se encuentra en Levítico 18:24. Akiva dijo a Gamaliel, «De acuerdo a tu lógica, el pasaje que dice, “... no os amancillaréis en todas estas cosas...”, tendría que interpretarse como que, para que un hombre se amancille, tendría que cometer todos los pecados allí enumerados. Pero que, si tan solo comete uno de aquellos pecados, no se amancillaría. Sin embargo, la realidad es que, en ese pasaje, la expresión “en todas estas cosas” significa que, si el hombre comete tan una sola de las desobediencias allí nombradas, es como si las hubiera cometido todas. Así también en el Salmo 15:5, la expresión “todas estas cosas” significa que, si el hombre obedece tan uno de los mandamientos allí enumerados, es como si los hubiese obedecido todos».

Man who claimed to have escaped Auschwitz admits he lied for years

Joseph Hirt said he fabricated story of being sent to camp and meeting Nazi doctor Josef Mengele to 'keep memories alive' about history of the Holocaust

A Pennsylvania man who claimed for years to have escaped from Auschwitz, met track and field star Jesse Owens and Nazi doctor Josef Mengele, confessed on Friday that he had fabricated the entire story.

La Escritura Hebrea confirma la anterior enseñanza, pues postula que el favor que extiende Dios a sus siervos, no está basado en acciones y aptitudes pasadas; sino en sus aptitudes y obras presentes. Es decir, si el hombre que obedece los mandamientos, decide un día rebelarse y violarlos, su pasada obediencia y sumisión no le cualifican para continuar gozando del favor Divino. Por otro lado, si el hombre vive en rebeldía y desobediencia, pero decide tomar una aptitud de arrepentimiento y obediencia, su pasada desobediencia a los mandamientos no le impide alcanzar de nuevo el favor Divino. Como está escrito:

“Mas el impío, si se apartare de todos sus pecados que hizo, y guardare todos mis estatutos e hiciere según el derecho y la justicia, de cierto vivirá; no morirá. TODAS LAS TRANSGRESIONES QUE COMETIÓ, NO LE SERÁN RECORDADAS; en su justicia que hizo vivirá...” - Ezequiel 18:21-22. Y en otro lugar: “Y apartándose el impío de su impiedad que hizo, y haciendo según el derecho y la justicia, hará vivir su alma. Porque miró y se apartó de todas sus transgresiones que había cometido, de cierto vivirá; no morirá...CONVERTÍOS, Y APARTAOIS DE TODAS VUESTRAS TRANSGRESIONES, Y NO OS SERÁ LA (PASADA) INIQUIDAD CAUSA DE RUINA” - Ezequiel 18:27-28&30.

Y también mas adelante: “cuando yo dijere al impío: De cierto morirás; si él se convirtiere de su pecado, e hiciere según el derecho y la justicia, si el impío restituyere la prenda, devolviere lo que hubiere robado, y caminare en los estatutos de la vida, no haciendo iniquidad, vivirá ciertamente y no morirá. NO SE LE RECORDARÁ NINGUNO DE SUS PECADOS QUE HABÍA COMETIDO; hizo según el derecho y la justicia; vivirá ciertamente” - Ezequiel 33:14-16

La locura teológica de creer que Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) es “la Simiente” de Abraham

El apóstol Pablo (paz sea con él), era una de esas personas capaces de decir cosas que, a primera vista, parecían ser perfectamente lógicas; pero que, cuando se examinaban a fondo, resultaban ser singular locura. Un buen ejemplo de esto, podría ser el análisis que Pablo hacía del texto que se encuentra en Génesis 22:18. Allí, la Escritura dice lo siguiente: “En TU SIMIENTE serán benditas todas las naciones de la Tierra, por cuanto obedeciste a mi voz”.

Escribiendo en la carta a los Hebreos (cuyo autor el Cristianismo asume ser Pablo), el apóstol aduce que, en el anterior pasaje, la palabra “Simiente” representa a un individuo en particular (Jesús); lo cual no sería el caso, si la palabra utilizada hubiese sido “simientes” [pues entonces habría hecho referencia a los Israelitas]. Este razonamiento de Pablo, es perfectamente lógico. El único problema, es que es un tipo de locura; pues está completamente desconectado de la realidad. Es que, la palabra Hebrea que el pasaje traduce como “simiente”, es “zera” (זֵרָה); y, en el Hebreo de la Escritura, el plural de esta palabra, simplemente no existía; Es decir, la palabra “Simientes”, no aparece en ninguna parte de la Escritura Hebrea.

¿Podemos confirmar objetivamente estas cosas? ¿Pues claro que si! Verá usted, en Génesis 13:14-16, la Escritura dice lo siguiente: «Y יהוה (Yah) dijo a Abram... “Alza ahora tus ojos, y mira desde el lugar donde estás hacia el norte y el sur, y al Oriente y al Occidente. Porque TODA LA TIERRA QUE VES, LA DARÉ A TI Y A TU DESCENDENCIA para siempre. Y HARÉ TU DESCENDENCIA COMO EL POLVO DE LA TIERRA; que si alguno puede contar el polvo de la tierra, también tu descendencia será contada”». En el anterior pasaje, la palabra Hebrea traducida como “DESCENDENCIA”, también es “zera” (זרע), la misma palabra que Génesis 22:18 traduce como “Simiente”. Pero, ¿Cual fue la “zera” que se hizo tan numerosa como el polvo de la tierra? ¿Cual fue la “zera” (simiente) de Abram que heredo la Tierra prometida? Obviamente, fueron los Israelitas, y no Jesús de Nazaret.

Así que, el pasaje en Génesis 22:18, que promete hacer de la “zera” de Abram una bendición para todo el mundo, hace en realidad referencia al Pueblo de Israel, y no a Jesús de Nazaret. ¿Por que sería Israel de bendición para el resto del mundo? Pues porque [a diferencia del Cristianismo, del Islam, y de todas las demás naciones del Mundo], Israel sería el único pueblo que nunca olvidaría [por completo] la Ley de Dios. Y, ya que la bendición del mundo está en guardar esa Ley (Deut. 28:1-14), el ejemplo de Israel iluminaría al mundo entero.

Como está escrito: «Mirad, YO OS HE ENSEÑADO ESTATUTOS Y DECRETOS, como יהוה mi Dios me mandó, para que hagáis así en medio de la tierra en la cual entráis para tomar posesión de ella. GUARDADLOS, PUES, y ponedlos por obra; PORQUE ESTA ES VUESTRA SABIDURÍA Y VUESTRA INTELIGENCIA ANTE LOS OJOS DE LOS PUEBLOS, LOS CUALES OIRÁN TODOS ESTOS ESTATUTOS, Y DIRÁN: CIERTAMENTE PUEBLO SABIO Y ENTENDIDO, NACIÓN GRANDE ES ESTA» (Deuteronomio 4:5-6)

Become a Marxist, embrace atheism, and start suffering the terror of vile men playing to be God... --

The God of the Hebrew Bible hates political correctness

The Hebrew Bible teaches that the God of Israel hates political correctness. Why? Simply because [for the most part] political correctness isn't about pleasing the Creator (obeying His Ten Commandments), but rather about pleasing powerful (and often morally corrupted) men. And pleasing the sinful men in charge of the current establishment often means submitting ourselves to their shameless lies and morality [something the Creator abhors].

A good example of it might be the story of king Jeroboam (peace be upon him). The Hebrew bible tells us that once king Jeroboam rose to the throne of Israel (the ten northern tribes), he realized that if he wanted to stay in power he couldn't allow the politically incorrect situation where his Israelite subjects would go up to worship their God at Jerusalem's Temple.

What was the politically correct solution for Jeroboam's dilemma? To come up with new Gods, new priests, new feasts, and new Temple [in order to sever Israel's psychological submission to the religious leaders of the southern kingdom of Judah]. So, Jeroboam provided Israel with different Gods (two golden calves), with a different altar (at Beth-El), with different feast (the fifteen day of the eighth month), and with different priests (common people, not of the stock of Aaron).

Of course, all these were just lies; vain human inventions, with no connection whatsoever to reality... But it was the politically correct thing to do, as nobody had the courage to oppose the powerful king!! Problem is that, again, fraud and deception are the hallmark of political correctness; and government sponsored fraud and deception will always lead a country into moral bankruptcy and political turmoil.

You see, all Israelites knew the Exodus story. They all knew the death and destruction brought about by the golden calf. In fact, they knew that these golden calves were false [man made] gods; that to worship even one of them (let alone two!) was an attempt to normalize madness; a vain and foolish thing, proven by their history to bring God's anger upon the whole nation. Yet, they were so afraid of offending the sensibilities of their corrupt leaders, that they were willing to play along, abandoning God's truth with their passive submission to a dirty lie.

Why was the former conduct deadly wrong? It was wrong because, such feeble submission would allow wicked men to become the masters of their minds, and their souls. But God doesn't want us to fear [or serve] any wicked man, for man can bring no salvation, as in all things the final judgment is always in God's own hands. As it is written: "Ye shall not respect persons in judgment, but ye shall hear the small as well as the great. YE SHALL NOT BE AFRAID OF THE FACE OF MAN, FOR THE JUDGMENT IS GOD'S"- Deut. 1:17.

And also says in another place: "Be strong and of good courage, FEAR NOT, NOR BE AFRAID OF THEM; FOR THE LORD THY GOD, HE IT IS WHO DOTHS GO WITH THEE. He will not fail thee nor forsake thee"- Deut. 31:6. And further ahead says: "PUT NOT YOUR TRUST IN PRINCES, NOR IN A SON OF MAN, IN WHOM THERE IS NO HELP"- Psalm 146:3. And finally says elsewhere: "THOU SHALT FEAR THE LORD THY GOD; HIM SHALT THOU SERVE, AND TO HIM SHALT THOU CLEAVE and swear by His name"- Deut. 10:20.

TO BE KIND, IS WISER THAN TO BE RIGHT

And from whence do we know that, if we let political correctness make us forsake God, God will [in the end] also forsake us? We know it from the story of king Rehoboam, who led the people away from God, and was in the end punished along with his people. As it is written: «And Rehoboam the son of Solomon reigned in Judah. Rehoboam was forty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the Lord chose out of all the tribes of Israel to put His name there. And his mother's name was Naamah, an Ammonitess. AND JUDAH DID EVIL

IN THE SIGHT OF THE LORD, AND THEY PROVOKED HIM TO JEALOUSY WITH THEIR SINS WHICH THEY HAD COMMITTED, ABOVE ALL THAT THEIR FATHERS HAD DONE. For they also built for themselves high places, and images and Asherah poles on every high hill and under every green tree. AND THERE WERE ALSO SODOMITES IN THE LAND, AND THEY DID ACCORDING TO ALL THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE NATIONS WHICH THE LORD CAST OUT BEFORE THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL...

... And it came to pass, WHEN REHOBOAM HAD ESTABLISHED THE KINGDOM AND HAD STRENGTHENED HIMSELF, HE FORSOOK THE LAW OF THE LORD, AND ALL ISRAEL WITH HIM. AND IT CAME TO PASS THAT IN THE FIFTH YEAR OF KING REHOBOAM, SHISHAK KING OF EGYPT CAME UP AGAINST JERUSALEM, BECAUSE THEY HAD TRANSGRESSED AGAINST THE LORD, with twelve hundred chariots, and threescore thousand horsemen; and the people were without number who came with him out of Egypt: the Lubims, the Sukkiims, and the Ethiopians...

... And he took the fortified cities which pertained to Judah, and came to Jerusalem. Then came Shemaiah the prophet to Rehoboam and to the princes of Judah, who were gathered together in Jerusalem because of Shishak, and said unto them, “THUS SAITH THE LORD: ‘YE HAVE FORSAKEN ME, AND THEREFORE HAVE I ALSO LEFT YOU IN THE HAND OF SHISHAK’”. Whereupon the princes of Israel and the king humbled themselves, and they said, “The Lord is righteous”...

And when the Lord saw that they humbled themselves, the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah, saying, “THEY HAVE HUMBLLED THEMSELVES. Therefore I will not destroy them, but I will grant them some deliverance, and My wrath shall not be poured out upon Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak. NEVERTHELESS THEY SHALL BE HIS SERVANTS, THAT THEY MAY KNOW [TO DISTINGUISH BETWEEN THE BENEFITS OF] MY SERVICE, AND THE SERVICE OF THE KINGDOMS OF THE COUNTRIES”...

So Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, and took away the treasures of the house of the Lord and the treasures of the king’s house. He took all: he carried away also the shields of gold which Solomon had made»- 1 Kings 14:21-24, & 2 Chronicles 12:1-9

--If the all knowing God of the Scripture states that a certain thing (usury, adultery, deception, homosexuality, etc) is evil, and then you pretend to know better than Him [claiming that such a thing isn’t evil at all], then it means you no longer believe in the God of the Scripture. Instead, you believe in yourself (in other words, you’ve become your own god!)

«En la geografía Bíblica, Sodoma y Gomorra estaban localizadas en el punto mas bajo de la tierra de Canaán (las inmediaciones del mar muerto). ¿Por que? Pues para enseñarnos que la Sodomía publica y el libertinaje sexual son el punto mas bajo al cual puede descender la moral de un creyente. Es que, el hombre que da rienda suelta a sus pasiones (acercándose a la Sodomía), esta espiritualmente muerto, y terminará devorando “su propia carne” (cometiendo incesto), como ilustra la historia de Lot y sus dos hijas»

Stay away from all illegal or criminal conduct

Whoever violates the Law of men, meddles in illegal activity. And if the violation is such that capital punishment is demanded, it is because the seriousness of such conduct warrants it to be considered a serious crime. And the same happens with God's Law, which prescribes light punishments (confession, restitution, fines, whipping, etc.) for minor violations, but prescribes capital punishment for those violations whose nature is so serious and/or corrupted that they merit being considered criminal behavior (kidnapping, enslavement, public incest, public adultery, open homosexuality, etc). And since (unlike Human law) no one violates God's Law and goes unpunished, it is wise to stay as far as possible from any illegal behavior (anything that would violate what was commanded to mankind upon the two stone tablets), as well as from any conduct deemed criminal by God's Holy Law (idolatry, occultism, fraud, adultery, public incest, pedophilia, bestiality, homosexuality, lesbianism, etc.)

Los activistas homosexuales que se presentan a sí mismos como paladines de la moral y los derechos humanos, son en realidad como los inodoros: Aunque “por fuera” se pintan del mas puro y limpio color blanco, “por dentro” están llenos de la peor inmundicia del ser humano

La Ley de Dios demandaba la muerte del hijo contumaz que, después de ser físicamente castigado, persistía en su rebelde borrachera y glotonería. Como esta escrito: «Si alguno tuviere UN HIJO CONTUMAZ Y REBELDE, que no obedeciere a la voz de su padre ni a la voz de su madre, y habiéndole castigado, no les obedeciere; entonces lo tomarán su padre y su madre, y lo sacarán ante los ancianos de su ciudad, y a la puerta del lugar donde viva; y dirán a los ancianos de la ciudad: ESTE NUESTRO HIJO ES CONTUMAZ Y REBELDE, NO OBEDECE A NUESTRA VOZ; ES GLOTÓN Y BORRACHO. Entonces todos LOS HOMBRES DE SU CIUDAD LO APEDREARÁN, Y MORIRÁ; ASÍ QUITARÁS EL MAL DE EN MEDIO DE TI, y todo Israel oirá, y temerá»- Deuteronomio 20:18-21.

Y, si la Ley Divina demandaba la muerte del hijo contumaz que se entregaba abiertamente a la borrachera y a la glotonería, ¿Por cuanto mas no habría de demandar la muerte del hijo contumaz, que se entregaba abiertamente a la perversión homosexual? Como esta escrito: «SI ALGUNO SE AYUNTARE CON VARÓN COMO CON MUJER, ABOMINACIÓN HICIERON; AMBOS HAN DE SER MUERTOS; sobre ellos será su sangre»- Levítico 20:13.

«Trust those who seek the truth, but doubt those who claim [with pride and arrogance] to have found it»

¿No dijo el Nazareno, “Yo soy el camino, la verdad, y la vida; nadie viene al Padre sino por mi”?

Los escritos cristianos, citan al; Nazareno (paz sea con el) diciendo lo siguiente: “Yo soy el camino, la verdad, y la vida; nadie viene al Padre sino por mi”. Esta cita, que pretende demostrar la supremacía del Galileo, en lo que atañe a la salvación de la Humanidad, es muy común entre la mayoría de nuestros amados hermanos Cristianos. Y, aunque bien intencionada (pues intenta honrar la memoria y las enseñanzas de un gran maestro del Samaritanismo), su interpretación es totalmente errada.

Es algo así como la apócrifa leyenda de lo que ocurrió en una isla de la Polinesia francesa, allá para finales del siglo 19. Se cuenta que, un nativo de estas islas, oyó el rumor de que, cuando las noches eran muy oscuras, a menudo aparecía en la playa de su isla, un extraño personaje. Una noche particularmente tenebrosa, el osado nativo decidió investigar por cuenta propia la veracidad del relato. Habiendo llegado a la playa, casi al filo de la de la media noche, encontró para su sorpresa a este extraño individuo, de pie sobre la arena de la playa, justo donde rompían las olas.

Acercándose con cautela, el nativo le saludo diciendo: «¡Bienvenido extraño! ¿Podría decirme quien es usted, y de donde viene?» Con un grave y majestuoso tono de voz, el extraño contestó diciendo: «Yo soy Jesús, Hijo de David». Entonces el aborigen respondió con un: «Bienvenido, Jesús, Hijo de TAVID». A lo cual el extraño contestó: «Jesús, hijo de David, con “de” de “Dinamarca”». Acto seguido, el extraño desapareció en la oscuridad de la noche.

A la mañana siguiente, el aborigen reunió a toda su tribu. Una vez congregados, procedió a decirles: «¡El extraño es real!»- ¿Como lo sabes?- Preguntaron los nativos; «¡Pues porque anoche hable personalmente con el!»; ¿Como se llama?- «¡Se llama Jesús!»; ¿Quien es su padre?- «Su padre, es un tal “David”»; ¿Que vino a hacer a esta isla?- «¡Vino ser nuestro Rey!»; ¿Como lo sabes?- «¡Pues porque me dijo que pertenecía a la nobleza!»; ¿Estas seguro de eso? ¿Cuales fueron sus palabras exactas?- «¡Sin lugar a duda! Sus palabras exactas fueron: “Yo soy Jesús, hijo de David, conde de Dinamarca”...».

Algo similar, ocurre cuando un creyente Cristiano afirma que no hay salvación para nadie que no acepte a Jesús (paz sea con él) como su Rey, y no le considere ser la última y absoluta verdad. En Juan 14:6, se le adscribe a Jesús haber dicho las siguientes palabras: «YO SOY el camino, y LA VERDAD, y la vida; nadie viene al Padre, sino por mí». Pero, estas palabras, deben ser interpretadas a la luz de las palabras que, 5 versos mas tarde, se le adscriben también a Jesús, cuando afirma lo siguiente: «De cierto, de cierto os digo: El que en mí cree, las obras que yo hago, él las hará también; y aún mayores hará, porque yo voy al Padre»- Juan 14:12.

¡Pero esto no hace sentido, pues Jesús mismo dio testimonio de que, la Palabra de Dios, es verdad!, como está escrito: «Santifícalos en tu verdad; TU PALABRA ES VERDAD»- Juan 17:17.

Concluimos pues que, si Jesús creía que el Salmo 119:142 era verdad, entonces la única forma en que pudo haber emitido las palabras que se le adscriben en Juan 14:6, es asumiendo que sus oyentes tendrían suficiente claridad de juicio como para entender que, tanto estas palabras, como las palabras emitidas en el pasaje de Juan 14:12, no tenían un sentido literal, pues de otro modo estarían “quebrantando” la Escritura; algo que Jesús había con anterioridad declarado completamente inaceptable: «Jesús les respondió: ¿No está escrito en VUESTRA LEY: “Yo dije, dioses sois”? Si llamó dioses a aquellos a quienes vino la palabra de Dios (y LA ESCRITURA NO PUEDE SER QUEBRANTADA), ¿al que el Padre santificó y envió al mundo, vosotros decís: Tú blasfemas, porque dije: Hijo de Dios soy?» - (Salmo 82:6).

Note que, tal y como siempre ha enseñado la fe Hebrea, “la Ley” no solo son los cinco libros de Moisés, sino que incluye los Salmos (y los profetas). Jesús dijo que, ESA LEY (QUE COMPRENDEN LOS LIBROS DE MOISÉS, ASÍ COMO LOS PROFETAS, Y LOS SALMOS, O “ESCRITOS”) ES LA ESCRITURA QUE NO PUEDE jamás SER QUEBRANTADA (anulada, descartada, contradicha). Es por esta razón que el Samaritanismo Reformado promulga que, la verdadera religión, es renunciar a la maldad, y comenzar a vivir haciendo el bien; es decir, guardando (obedeciendo) los mandamientos de la Ley Divina (de la Torah). ¿Por que? Pues porque esto es lo que la Ley misma ordena, cuando dice: «El fin de todo el discurso oído es este: TEME A DIOS, Y GUARDA SUS MANDAMIENTOS; PORQUE ESTO ES EL TODO DEL HOMBRE»- Eclesiastés 12:13.

Note que, si la ley hubiera acabado con este último pasaje (es decir, si no se hubiese escrito nada más, después de este pasaje en Eclesiastés) habría sido mas que suficiente, pues Salomón afirma que “esto es el todo del hombre”; en otras palabras, fuera de temer a Dios, guardando los mandamientos, nada más realmente importa. Es que la Ley no está sujeta a “caducar”; ni tampoco está sujeta a ser “quebrantada”, pues es eterna. Como dice el salmista : «Guardaré TU LEY siempre, PARA SIEMPRE Y ETERNAMENTE»- Salmo 119:44.

De esta verdad da testimonio el Nazareno, cuando se le adscribe haber dicho las siguientes palabras: «Porque de cierto os digo que, HASTA QUE PASEN EL CIELO Y LA TIERRA, NI UNA JOTA NI UNA TILDE PASARÁ DE LA LEY, hasta que todo se haya cumplido»- Mateo 5:18. ¿Han pasado el cielo y la tierra? ¿Todavía no? ¡Pues entonces hay que seguir cumpliendo cada jota y cada tilde de la Ley! (hay que obedecer meticulosamente los diez mandamientos).

Finalmente, si bien Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) es como la zarza (una antorcha cuyo fuego rehúsa apagarse, y cuya luz alumbra a quienes están en tinieblas), la zarza en si misma alumbra solo mientras arde con el fuego Divino que se manifestó sobre la cumbre del monte Sinaí; es decir, solo mientras este fundamentada en la obediencia de la Ley (los diez mandamientos) dada por Dios a Moisés.

Jesús enseñó esto a sus discípulos de un modo alegórico, cuando les prometió no morir sin primero “ver” (es decir, “entender”) el reino de Dios. ¿Que sucedió luego? Pues que, ocho días después, les llevo a la cumbre de un monte (tal y como Moisés y Elías habían llevado al pueblo de Israel a la cima de un respectivo monte, para tornarlos a la Ley). Allí, sus vestiduras se hicieron resplandecientes (como el fuego), y se le aparecieron Moisés y Elías.

Pero, ¿que es ese fuego Divino? ¡Pues no es otro que la Ley! (o, como le llama Jesús, “la Escritura que no puede ser quebrantada”); como está escrito: «¿No es mi palabra como fuego, dice יהוה, y como martillo que quebranta la piedra?» Y, ¿Para que quiere Dios que recibamos ese martillo que es la Escritura (la Ley)? Pues para permitirle quebrantar la piedra de nuestro corazón, como está escrito: «y quitaré de vuestra carne el corazón de piedra... »- Ezequiel 36:26.

En resumen, Jesús vivió y predico una versión reformada de la antigua fe Samaritana, enseñándole a sus discípulos que, el reino de Dios, consiste en un llamado a abandonar la maldad (arrepentirse), para proceder a abrazar la Ley (guardar los mandamientos); y que el comienzo y el final de todo gran ministerio profético, es recibir ese fuego divino (La “Torah”, o “Los Mandamientos”) que descendió sobre la cumbre del monte que humeaba (el Sinaí).

Jesús enseñó a sus discípulos que la Ley (la Torah) es un fuego purificador, pues quebranta los corazones de piedra. Y enseñó de forma explícita que, la puerta a la vida eterna, está en guardar los mandamientos. Como está escrito: «... Mas si quieres entrar en la vida, guarda los mandamientos»- Mateo 19:17. Solo en la medida en que el creyente Cristiano abrace esta verdad, podrá decir (de modo alegórico) que Jesús (sus enseñanzas) son el camino, la verdad, y la vida.

«Why does the Torah [the Hebrew Scripture] places Sodom and Gomorrah in the vicinity of the dead sea? It does so because the ancients knew it to be the lowest geographical point within the promised land [in fact, it was later discovered to be the lowest point upon the whole Earth, as it's location is well over 1000 feet below sea level]. What moral teaching does Torah tries to convey with this particular detail? It tries to impress upon us the idea that, he who abides with the Sodomites, is spiritually dead, as he displays the lowest possible sort of human morality. In other words, although things like theft, mass murdering, cheating, or adultery are morally reprehensible, none of these vices is so morally degrading [and vulgar] than the sin of Sodomy (the open promotion of gay lifestyle, as well as same sex marriages). In fact, he who comes close to the Sodomites will in the end eat his own flesh (as attested by Lot's daughters, whom ended up having sex with their own father)»

When will the Messiah come?

Our ancient sages taught that a person cannot be a true follower of Reformed Samaritanism until he renounces to theological absolutes. And the subject of Messiah provides a good example of it. You see, from time immemorial, our sages have realized that Scripture teaches men have two different impulses. The first one is known as “yetzer tov”, and represents our impulse to do good. The second one is known as “yetzer ha-ra”, and represents our impulse to do evil.

Concerning the word “Messiah”, it comes from the Hebrew word “Mashiach”. And the Hebrew word Mashiach simply means “anointed”. Anointed for what? Anointed to do God’s will. That’s why, in both Samaritan and Hebrew Scriptures, the word “Mashiach” (Messiah) is applied to several people: to the Hebrew Kings; to the High priests; to Cyrus (a gentile king), and even to the people of Israel. In this sense Avraham was Messiah, Moshe (Moses) was Messiah, Hezekiah was Messiah, Yeshua (Jesus) was Messiah, Mother Theresa was Messiah, and Menachem Schneerson was Messiah. But these were just shadows and symbols of a deeper reality: That the “Real” Messiah isn’t anyone outside of us; rather, it’s our Yetzer Tov (our impulse to do good). Thus, the issue isn’t who is the Messiah, or when will he come to rule upon the physical World; but rather when will He start ruling upon our inner world (our mind, and soul). And the answer to it is that He will do it “Today... if ye will hear his voice” (Psalm 95:7). In other words, Messiah will come to rule upon our world (our own lives) the day our Yetzer Tov (our impulse to do good) conquers our Yetzer Ha-ra (our impulse to do evil).

This will become a reality the day we hear (obey) God’s call to repentance, and resolve to turn away from evil, once and forever. This is what the Scripture teaches, when it goes on to say: “The Redeemer will come to Zion, and [to whom will the Redeemer come?...] to those who turn [in repentance] from transgression in Jacob, says the Lord”- Isaiah 59:20.

Three things always true about [secular] Western politicians:

- (1) They have no regard for truth; thus, everything they say must be taken “with a grain of salt”.
- (2) In the long run, everything they do only makes things worse.
- (3) Most of them are “desk experts”, so only a madman [or an idiot] would blindly trust anything they do or say.

La lógica que hace que muchos ateos terminen convirtiéndose en Satanistas

Ha-Satan (Satanás), es una expresión Hebrea que alude a la idea de “un opositor” [como sería el caso con quien “se opone” a Dios]. Y, el proceso de fabricar un Satanista (es decir, un adorador de Satanás), es el siguiente: Primero, se convence a la persona de que los religiosos son gente retrógrada, hipócrita e ignorante. Luego, se le inculca el desprecio por toda forma de religión.

Con el tiempo, ese desprecio se convierte en odio, y la persona comienza a sentirse cómoda difamando y ridiculizando públicamente a Dios y a la religión. En este punto, la persona ya está receptiva al satanismo, pues encuentra perfectamente lógica la idea de hacer “una liga” con Satanás. ¿Por que? Pues porque, como dice un sabio refrán, “¡El enemigo (es decir, el “Ha Satan”, o “el opositor”) de mi enemigo (Dios), es mi amigo!”. Y es por esto que, aunque la mayoría de los ateos no promueven abiertamente el Satanismo, la realidad es que, la mayoría de los Satanistas, en efecto promueven el ateísmo.

El Milagro económico de la Alemania que seguía el orden Divino

"Se otorgaron generosos préstamos, amortizables en diez años, a parejas de recién casados para que pudieran comprar sus propias casas. Al nacer cada hijo, se canceló una cuarta parte de la deuda. Cuatro niños, a la tasa normal de un recién llegado cada dos años y medio, fueron suficientes para cancelar la deuda del préstamo completo. Una vez, durante una conversación con el canciller, expresé mi asombro por esta política. "Pero entonces, ¿nunca recuperas el monto total de tus préstamos?", Le pregunté. "¿Cómo es eso?" él respondió, sonriendo. "Durante un período de diez años, una familia con cuatro hijos aporta mucho más que nuestros préstamos, a través de los impuestos recaudados en cientos de artículos diferentes de consumo".

Tal como sucedió, los ingresos fiscales aumentaron cada año, en proporción al aumento de los vencimientos de los programas sociales de hitler. En solo unos años, los ingresos por impuestos se triplicaron. La Alemania de Hitler nunca experimentó una crisis financiera"-- León Degrelle.

¿Por que tantos Cristianos no pueden evitar ser victimas de los mercaderes de la fe [los Apostoles y Pastores de la mal llamada “prosperidad”]?

En el Capitulo 28 del libro de Deuteronomio, el Dios de Israel advierte a su pueblo que, quien abandone los (Diez) mandamientos de Ley Divina, recibirá la maldición de terminar convirtiéndose en “cola” [en vez de en “cabeza”]. Como esta escrito: «El extranjero que estará en medio de ti, se elevará sobre ti muy alto, y tú descenderás muy abajo. Él te prestará a ti, y tú no le prestarás a él; ÉL SERÁ POR CABEZA, Y TÚ SERÁS POR COLA»- Deut. 28:43-44).

Y es imposible que, quien es meramente una cola, pueda resistir su natural impulso de tarde o temprano suscribirse a alguna grande y poderosa cabeza [es decir, a alguien con ideas propias; es decir, a algún gran apóstol, algún gran profeta, o algún gran pastor de la mal llamada “prosperidad”]. En adición, la Escritura profetiza que, quien abandone los mandamientos de la Ley, terminará siendo robado y desposeído, sin que ningún hombre (o Mesías) pueda librarle de ello («Y NO SERÁS SINO OPRIMIDO Y ROBADO TODOS LOS DÍAS, Y NO HABRÁ QUIEN TE SALVE»- Deut. 28:29). Así que, quien abandona los Diez mandamientos de la Ley Divina, para abrazar en cambio LA GRACIA del Evangelio (salvación por fe, y sin necesidad de obra alguna de la Ley), termina escogiendo maldición para su vida. Como esta escrito: “Reprendiste a los soberbios, LOS MALDITOS, QUE SE DESVÍAN DE TUS MANDAMIENTOS” (Salmo 119:21)

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

There's only one true and godly religion: To be just, kind, and humble. As it has been said: “Turn away from Evil! Do Good! Then you will Live in the Land Forever (Life everlasting!)”- Psalm 37:27 (Common English Bible). And elsewhere says: “He [God] has told you, human one, what is good, and what the Lord requires from you- to do justice, [to] embrace faithful love, and [to] walk humbly with your God”- Micah 6:8. What then is the role played by normative religion (Judaism, Samaritanism, Christianity, Islam, etc.)? Simply to try and be faithful messengers of God's true religion. And all is well and good, as long as we keep in mind the unavoidable distinction that will always exist between the perfect message of true religion, and the imperfect role played by it's appointed messengers

Sadly, most secular Jews [no matter if they be Americans or Europeans] tend to be stubborn people (stiff necked and arrogant). In fact, you'll seldom find any of them wise enough to handle constructive criticism in a mature fashion... May the God of our master Moses have mercy of them, and grant them repentance!

Is all truth relative?

When someone says that truth is relative, what he normally means is that there is no absolute truth. Some things may appear true to you but not true to me. If you believe it, it is true for you. If I don't believe it, it is not true for me. No one really believes that all truth is relative. No sane person says, “Gravity works for you, but not for me,” and proceeds to jump off tall buildings believing no harm will follow. When someone says that truth is relative, what he normally means is that there is no absolute truth. Some things may appear true to you but not true to me. If you believe it, it is true for you. If I don’t believe it, it is not true for me. When people say things like “that’s fine if God exists for you, but He doesn’t exist for me”, they are expressing the popular belief that truth is relative. The whole concept of “relative truth” sounds tolerant and open-minded. However, upon closer analysis, it is not open-minded at all. In essence, to say that “God exists for you but not for me” is to say that the other person’s concept of God is wrong. It passes judgment. But no one really believes that all truth is relative. No sane person says, “Gravity works for you, but not for me,” and proceeds to jump off tall buildings believing no harm will follow. The statement “truth is relative” is, in fact, a self-refuting statement. In saying, “Truth is relative,” one states a purported truth. But, if all truth is relative, then that statement itself is relative as well—which means we can’t trust it to be true all the time.

It’s easier to bounce back from a nuclear holocaust than endure six decades of Liberalism

Certainly, there are some statements that are relative. For example, “the Ford Mustang is the coolest car ever made” is a relative statement. A car enthusiast may think this to be true, but there is no absolute standard by which to measure “coolness.” It is simply one’s belief or opinion. However, the statement “there is a red Ford Mustang parked outside in the driveway, and it belongs to me” is not relative. It is either true or false, based on objective reality. If the Mustang in the driveway is blue (not red), the statement is false. If the red Mustang in the driveway belongs to someone else, the statement is false—it does not match reality.

Generally speaking, opinions are relative. Many people relegate any question of God or religion to the realm of opinion. “You prefer Jesus—that’s fine if it works for you”.

What Reformed Samaritanism says (and God’s Law teaches) is that truth is not always relative, as there is an objective spiritual reality, just as there is an objective physical reality. God is unchanging (“For I am the Lord, I change not”- Malachi 3:6); Moses likened His teachings to the constant and unchangeable phenomena of rain and dew (My doctrine shall drop as the rain, my speech shall distil as the dew, as the small rain upon the tender herb, and as the showers upon the grass- Deuteronomy 32:2, King James Version).

Thus, striving to perform the good commanded to Moses upon the two stone tablets is the way of salvation, and this is absolutely true for every person at all times. As is written: “Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man [not just of Jews, or Gentiles, but of all men from all nations]”- Ecclesiastes 12:13, KJV).

Just like people need to breathe in order to live, people need to turn away from evil, and start doing the goodness commanded by God to Moses, in order to experience spiritual deliverance (“And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts”- Psalm 119:45).

Si no se arrepiente, y vuelve a la senda antigua [es decir, al camino de la Ley De Dios], la Nación de Israel será pronto destruida

Con respecto al futuro de la nación de Israel, así como de las paradas de orgullo homosexual que anualmente se celebran en lo que antiguamente solía ser la Santa Ciudad de Jerusalén, la Escritura Hebrea advierte lo siguiente:

“¿Por qué te jactas [celebrando paradas] de maldad, oh poderoso? ... Agravios maquina tu lengua; Como navaja afilada hace engaño [manipulando los medios masivos de información]. Amaste el mal [el ateísmo y la Sodomía] más que el bien; la mentira [de la ideología de Genero], más que la verdad... Por tanto, Dios te destruirá para siempre [entregándote en manos de las naciones enemigas]; Te asolará y te arrancará de tu morada [la Tierra De Israel], Y te desarraigará de la tierra de los vivientes”- Salmo 52:1-5. Biblia Reina Valera 1960.

Gay rights? Hebrew Scripture prevents real believers from standing on the side of the Sodomites!!

The Torah teaches that, the name of Gomorrah’s king was “Birsha” (Genesis 14:2). Why does the Holy scripture cares to give us this particular detail? It does so in order to teach us a moral lesson. You see, ancient Hebrew language didn’t include any vowel. Thus, the Hebrew word we normally translate as “Birsha” could also be validly translated as “Be-Rasha” (a Hebrew phrase meaning “with a Villain”, or “in a Villain”).

In addition, Torah states that the name of Sodom’s king was “Bera” (ibid), a name that could also be validly translated as “Be-ra”. But “Be-ra” was a Hebrew phrase meaning “with evil” or “in evil”. In other words, Torah wanted to forewarn us that, the best among the Sodomites (i.e. their kings) were no more than wicked and evil villains. Interestingly, speaking about the wicked, the Hebrew scripture says the following: “How happy is the one who does not walk in the advice of the wicked, or stand in the pathway with sinners...”- Psalm 1:1. Thus, Torah intimates that no true Hebrew believer can stand with the Sodomites (gay and same sex marriage activists); he cannot take their advice, nor can he accept from them any personal benefit (money, endorsement, publicity, etc).

And from whence do we know that, those who claim to be the children of Avraham cannot let themselves be bribed by the goods offered by the Sodomites? We know it from our father Avraham, who refused to receive anything from the Sodomite king Bera. As it is written: “And the king of Sodom said to Abram, Give me the persons and keep the goods for yourself. But Abram said to the king of Sodom, I have lifted up my hand and sworn to the Lord, God Most High, the Possessor and Maker of heaven and earth, That I would not take a thread or a shoelace or anything that is yours...”-

Genesis 14:21-23, Amplified Bible

Marxismo Cultural, ateísmo, y homosexualidad

Mientras los globalistas y Marxistas culturales [que actúan detrás de los gobiernos de Occidente, los alegados grupos de derechos humanos, las organizaciones feministas, el ateísmo de Estado, las organizaciones no gubernamentales, los activistas LGBT, etc] perciban que nuestra primera fidelidad no es para con la narrativa Marxistas que sucintamente pretenden imponernos, sino para con los valores, las costumbres y las prioridades dictaminadas por nuestras respectivas religiones, estos grupos tratarán incesantemente de forzarnos a creer que no existe un Dios, que el bien y el mal es relativo, y que lo predicado por Moisés, Jesús, y Muhammad [entre otros] no son sino ignorante fantasía. ¿Por que? Pues porque, ningún líder que pretenda alcanzar un poder total y absoluto sobre las masas (a fin de utilizarlas como instrumento para adelantar su agenda personal), logrará jamás alcanzar tal objetivo mientras tenga que competir con algún otro líder [ya sea este último un líder político o espiritual] por la fidelidad de esas mismas masas.

Así, siendo fieles a lo ordenado por nuestras respectivas religiones, nos rebelamos contra ese liderato secular, Marxista, y globalista, impidiéndole de ese modo alcanzar sobre nosotros el poder absoluto que tanto codicia. Esta aptitud, no solamente es correcta, sino saludable; pues la historia demuestra que, demasiado poder, logra corromper aún al mejor de los seres humanos; haciendo que, luego de intoxicarse a sí mismo de poder, este último se vea tentado a actuar tal y como si fuese un perverso dios (es decir, de forma arrogante, impune, y tiránica; tal y como aconteció con Faraón, Nabucodonosor, Alejandro Magno, Antíoco Epífanos, Calígula, Nerón, Stalin, y tantos otros grandes Dictadores).

The Marxist New World Order - get prepared before they get you!

There's nothing wrong with a New World Order.... as long as it isn't A SECULAR JEWISH WORLD ORDER. Why? Cause most secular Jews are committed to a Jewish ideology called “Marxism”. And the latter means most secular Jews don't believe in any God [besides their own ego]. In other words, the Marxist Jew feels no need to submit to any sort of moral Law, ethical code, or humane regulation.

And this is why they are so eager to promote all sort of vice (strife, dissent, social unrest, crime, war, fraud, cheating, usury, hedonism, homosexuality, etc). In fact, they make themselves gods, thereby invoking the privilege to toy with the life of the goyim [even disposing of it at will]. In fact, as the Marxist Jew sees nothing wrong with treason, cheating, stealing, murdering, abortion, adultery, and homosexuality [among other things], if they ever happen to get world domination, they won't hesitate to try and exterminate all non Jewish population. How? If necessary, they'll even use mass murdering (just as Stalin and Mao did in their respective countries).

But since they hold almost total control of media, politics and Banking economy, they'll first try to simply “ratchet up” the “silent extermination” they currently executes upon us- Poisoning with their GMO food; forcing us into accepting dangerous vaccination; promoting abortion; rendering us sterile; encouraging young adults to remain single; encouraging multiculturalism [so we willingly renounce to our distinctive ethnic/linguistic/ territorial/religious identity]; promoting drug addiction, hedonism, secularism, and consumerism; dissolving the family institution; promoting the mass homosexualization of our societies; abolishing individual freedom, religious freedom, intellectual dissent and/or critical thinking; and wiping out any nationalistic movement.

In short, if we ever fall under a Secular Jewish New World Order, Marxist Jews will make sure we willingly renounce to anything (any idea, any institution, any faith, any race, any language, or any movement) that can unite us, or make us strong enough to oppose their extermination plans.

Get prepared for the coming global battle against Marxist Jews. Make sure to oppose their destructive agenda by strengthening what they would like to see destroyed: Stand for your rights, and defend your cultural identity [thereby becoming a real Patriot]; grow a beard; get married; get a shotgun [if at all possible, get instead an AR-15 rifle]; have many kids; teach survival skills wife and kids, as well as proper weapons handling techniques; embrace family values; get a Bible; say grace [with the whole family] before each meal; grow your own vegetables; raise your own chicken; dig a well and/or collect your own rain water; build a work bench; learn carpentry; question anything you see [or hear] on mainstream media; place no trust on politicians; and develop strong relationships with your next door neighbors.

Creer en Jesus, es opcional; Pero, creer en Moises, no lo es

Todos los que se opusieron a Moisés (Faraón, los Diez espías, Datan, Coré, Los Moabitas, etc) , fueron inmediatamente castigados por el Creador. Pero, no sucedió lo mismo, con ninguno de cuantos se opusieron a Jesús. ¿Por que? Pues para mostrarnos que, ninguno de los que "se oponen a Jesús" [rehusando aceptar su reclamo Mesianico], esta necesariamente bajo la ira Divina; Pero que, todos aquellos que "se oponen a Moisés" [rehusando reconocer la vigencia de la Ley Divina], están en efecto bajo maldición, pues la ira y el Juicio Divino se ciernen sobre ellos. Como dice la Ley:

«Reprendiste a los soberbios, los malditos, que se desvían de tus mandamientos» (Salmo 119:21);
«Porque este pueblo, es rebelde, hijos mentirosos, hijos que [al igual que los gentiles] no quisieron oír la Ley de יהוה » (Isaías 30:9);
«El que aparta su oído, para no oír la Ley, Su oración también es abominable» - Proverbios 28:9.
«Apartaos de mi malignos, pues yo guardare los mandamientos de mi Dios» (Salmo 119:115)

No importando cual sea nuestro credo o raza, aquel que no intenta observar el espíritu de la Ley de Moisés (guardando lo ordenado sobre las dos tablas de piedra) no sirve apropiadamente al Creador

Cuando un pueblo desconoce la Ley de Dios (o se olvida de ella), ese pueblo es destruido, pues Dios se olvida de tal Pueblo. Como esta escrito: "Mi pueblo fue destruido, porque le faltó conocimiento... y porque olvidaste la Ley de tu Dios, también Yo me olvidaré de tus hijos"- Oseas 4:6. Y también dice en otro lugar: "Porque este pueblo es rebelde, hijos mentirosos, hijos que no quisieron oír la Ley de Dios; que dicen... No nos profeticéis lo recto, decidnos cosas halagüeñas, profetizad mentiras"- Isaías 30:9-10.

Es que la Ley de Dios intima en el capitulo 28 del libro de Deuteronomio que, toda teología que pretenda decir que podemos obtener el favor Divino sin necesidad de obedecer lo ordenado sobre las dos tablas de piedra, no es sino falso y vano paganismo.

Y lo mismo aplica a cualquier sacrificio [ya sea sea el sacrificio de animales, o el alegado sacrificio de Jesús de Nazaret], pues ningún sacrificio puede sustituir la obediencia a los mandamientos. Como esta escrito: “¿Se complace Dios tanto en los holocaustos y víctimas, como en que se obedezca a LAS PALABRAS DE DIOS? Ciertamente el obedecer es mejor que los sacrificios, y el prestar atención que la grosura de los carneros. Porque como pecado de adivinación es la rebelión, y como ídolos e idolatría la obstinación”- 1 Samuel 15:22-23.

¿Y como sabemos que el término “LAS PALABRAS DE DIOS” se refieren a los 10 mandamientos? Pues lo sabemos por el hecho de que, en el Hebreo en que se escribió originalmente la Escritura, lo que al presente describimos como “LOS 10 MANDAMIENTOS”, es en realidad descrito como “AZRET HA-DEVARIM”, una frase Hebrea que literalmente significa “LAS 10 PALABRAS [DE DIOS]”. Y la anterior verdad es tan grande e innegable, que aún los escritos Cristianos presentan al maestro de Galilea diciendo: “Mas si quieres entrar en la vida [eterna] guarda los mandamientos... no matarás, no adulterarás, no hurtarás, no dirás falso testimonio, honra a tu padre y a tu madre; y, amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo”- Mateo 19:17-19, & Juan 8:40

El mito de “la Salvación sin obras”

La realidad objetiva mostrada por la Escritura Hebrea, es que [a diferencia de lo que postula la noble fe Cristiana] no hay tal cosa como “Salvación por Fe, y sin necesidad de obra alguna de la Ley”. Es que, una de las obras ordenadas en la Ley, era que el pecador tenia que arrepentirse (es decir, confesar sus pecados, y hacer restitución por ellos). Como esta escrito:

“Aquella persona confesará el pecado que cometió, y compensará enteramente el daño”- Números 5:7. Y, aún el mismo Jesús de Nazaret, enseñó que, quien no haga esta obra de arrepentimiento, no tendrá parte en la Vida Eterna. Como bien dice el Evangelio Cristiano: «Os digo: “¡No!; antes, si no os arrepentís, todos pereceréis igualmente”»- Lucas 13:3&5.

He who does good is a good Hebrew believer; but a bad Hebrew believer is no Hebrew at all

The Torah (or Hebrew Scripture) intimates that, regardless of their race, those who obey God's commandments are properly representing the paradigm of what really means to be a Children of Israel. Who are these peoples? They are the "foreign residents" (or "toshavim") from among the original seventy nations [of the world] who abandon their old ways in order to become "proselytes" (or "gerim"). How? By starting to do all things according to what God had commanded Moses [upon the two stone tablets].

But, from whence do we know that the seventy nations [of the World] are also called Israel? We know it from Moses, who while addressing the Children of Israel said to them: "Shema Yisrael (Hear oh Israel!)..." (Exodus 5:1). In the former passage, the phrase "shema Yisrael" can validly be translated as "Shem-a Yisrael", which in ancient Hebrew means, "Name of (the) Seventy [nations of the world]?- Israel! ..."

And from whence do we know that, doing what God commanded Moses, identifies you as a Children of Israel? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: "Thus THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL DID ACCORDING TO ALL THAT THE LORD COMMANDED MOSES..."- Numbers 2:34. And also in another place: "ACCORDING TO ALL THAT THE LORD HAD COMMANDED MOSES, SO THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL DID..."- Exodus 39:42

And from whence do we that, from God's standpoint, all of Israel is comprised of converts (gerim) and foreign residents (Toshavim)? We get it from the Hebrew verse that goes on to say: "The Land [of Israel] must not be sold permanently, because the Land is mine, and YOU [THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL] ARE TO ME "GERIM" AND TOSHAVIM"- Leviticus 25:23.

Thus, although ethnic Israel is Torah's "custodian", Torah itself doesn't exclusively belong to them. Rather, it belongs to all who will come and embrace it. And maybe that's why Torah was given in the wilderness, as the latter didn't belong to any people in particular, but was rather open to all nations. Not only that, but Moses himself compared his teaching with both rain water, and dew ("LET MY TEACHING FALL LIKE RAIN, AND MY WORDS DESCEND LIKE DEW, LIKE SHOWERS ON NEW GRASS..."- Deuteronomy 32:).

Does the rain [of heavens] belongs to any particular kind of grass? [Bear in mind that elsewhere the Scripture compares the whole human race with grass, at it is written: "THE MAN, LIKE GRASS ARE HIS DAYS..."- Psalm 103:15]. In the former verse, the word translated as "The man" is "enosh", a Hebrew word that literally means "Human being"]. Can any ethnic group claim to own Heaven's dew? Has there ever be any human being, any land, or any nation upon which rain showers are not allowed to fall? Does anybody has the right to prevent a thirsty person from drinking water coming from the sky?

Not only are the peoples of all nations called to become Israel [by obeying Torah], but if Israel's former enemies [like Egypt and Assyria] turn to God and faithfully worship Him, He might even place them ahead of ethnic Israel. As it is written: «... THEY [THE EGYPTIANS] WILL TURN TO THE LORD, AND HE WILL RESPOND TO THEIR PLEAS AND HEAL THEM... The Egyptians and the Assyrians will worship together. IN THAT DAY ISRAEL WILL BE THE THIRD [NOT THE FIRST!], ALONG WITH EGYPT AND ASSYRIA, [and this will be the sign of] a blessing in the midst of the Earth; THE LORD ALMIGHTY WILL BLESS THEM, SAYING: "BLESSED BE EGYPT MY PEOPLE, ASSYRIA THE WORK OF MY HANDS, AND ISRAEL MY INHERITANCE"»- Isaiah 19:22-25.

Notice how in the former verses the Creator describes Egypt and Assyria using words like, "my people", and "the work of my hands". The keen reader will immediately be aware that these terms are also used elsewhere to describe ethnic Israel, as it is written: “Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, LET MY PEOPLE GO, THAT THEY MAY HOLD A FEAST UNTO ME IN THE WILDERNESS”- Exodus 5:1. And also in another place: “Therefore thus saith the Lord, who redeemed Abraham, CONCERNING THE HOUSE OF JACOB: “JACOB SHALL NOT NOW BE ASHAMED... But when he seeth HIS CHILDREN, THE WORK OF MINE HANDS, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify My name...”- Isaiah 29:22-33.

In short, Hebrew scripture hints at the idea that he who follows Torah is part of the children of Israel [no matter if he be Jew or Gentile]; but he who refuses to follow Torah isn't part of the Children of Israel [no matter if he be Jew or Gentile].

«Huya del activismo LGBT! ¿Por que? Pues porque, sin siquiera darse cuenta, el hombre que se valora a sí mismo en base a lo que entra por sus asentaderas (un pene), implica con ello que vale lo mismo que sale por sus asentaderas (excremento)»

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

Don't let yourself be deceived; the tree is known by it's fruit! Therefore, pay no attention to the words of he who brags about being God's anointed man. Just take a close look at his behavior, and let his works tell you who does he really represents

El evangelio cita a Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) prometiendo a los suyos que, si siguen la Ley, habrán de ser salvos

El santo evangelio dice así: «Maestro, ¿haciendo que cosa heredare la vida eterna? El le dijo, “¿Que está escrito en la Ley?, ¿Como lees?”. Aquel, respondiendo, dijo: “Amarás al Señor tu Dios con todo tu corazón, y con toda tu alma, y con todas tus fuerzas, y con toda tu mente; y a tu prójimo como a ti mismo”. Y le dijo (Jesús): “Bien haz respondido; HAZ ESTO Y VIVIRÁS”»- Lucas 10:25-28.

En otras palabras, Jesús promete a los suyos que, si siguen el espíritu de lo ordenado por Dios a Moisés (los Diez mandamientos), recibirán vida eterna. Y con palabras tan contundentes como las anteriores, ¿como es posible que el Cristiano no logre entender que no hay salvación para quien, aferrándose a la idea de “salvación por fe”, rehúsa seguir lo ordenado por Dios a Moisés?

Acaso no saben nuestros amados hermanos Cristianos que el mismo Nuevo Testamento afirma que las puertas de la Ciudad Celestial solo llevan los nombres de las 12 tribus de Israel? Como esta escrito:

“Tenía (la Nueva Jerusalén) un muro grande y alto con DOCE PUERTAS; Y EN LAS PUERTAS, DOCE ÁNGELES, Y NOMBRES INSCRITOS, QUE SON LOS DE LAS DOCE TRIBUS DE LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL”- Apocalipsis 21:12. ¡Lo anterior significa que nadie que no sea un creyente Hebreo (ya sea por nacimiento, o por conversión) podrá entrar por las puertas de la Jerusalén Celestial!

Why do good people suffer?

God's Law (also known as "Torah") promises salvation for the meek and humble ("BUT THE MEEK SHALL INHERIT THE EARTH; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace"- Psalm 37:11). Unfortunately, only extreme suffering can successfully turn a man into a really humble person, thereby restoring his lost humanity [originally given to him by his Creator].

In fact, the more pleased God is with a man, the more He crushes him with suffering, for Scripture says, "THE LORD WAS GREATLY PLEASED WITH [HIM, HENCE] HE CRUSHED HIM BY DISEASE (Isaiah 53:10). Now, you might think that this is so, even if the man did not accept his suffering with love. Therefore the verse goes on to say, "To see if he regarded himself as an offering for guilt" (ibid).

Thus, chastisements are good for the believer, and that's why Scripture teaches that three great treasures (Torah, the Land of Canaan, and Life in the World to come) were bestowed upon Israel as a result of chastisements and suffering. And what is the proof for the Torah? The verse that goes on to say: "BLESSED IS THE MAN WHOM THOU CHASTENEST, O Lord, AND [THEREBY] TEACHEST HIM THY TORAH"- Psalm 94:12.

And the proof for the land of Canaan? The verse that says: "As a man chasteneth his son, so THE LORD THY GOD CHASTENETH THEE..."- Deut. 8:5. And what comes immediately next? "FOR THE LORD THY GOD BRINGETH THEE INTO A GOOD LAND [THE LAND OF CANAAN]..."- Deut. 8:7.

And the proof for Life everlasting? The verse that goes on to say: "For the commandment is a lamp, and the Law is light; and REPROOFS OF INSTRUCTION ARE THE WAY OF LIFE [EVERLASTING]"- Proverbs 6:23.

La disonancia cognitiva que encarna la doctrina Nazarena acerca de "la salvación por fe"

La noble teología Nazarena postula que, las naciones gentiles del Mundo [aquellas que han abrazado la fe en el Nazareno], son la nueva nación de Israel. En adición, postula que es pecaminoso que la antigua Nación Israelita trate de agradar a Dios haciendo las obras de justicia, misericordia, y humildad que prescribe la Ley; pues Dios no se agrada de nuestro carnal deseo de intentar hacer nada de lo cual podamos alabarnos. Es que, según la teología Nazarena, lo que el Creador desea de nosotros, no es que tratemos de alcanzar el favor Divino haciendo lo bueno [pues entonces por demás habría muerto Yeshua], sino que lo recibamos como un regalo gratuito e inmerecido.

Como dicen los escritos Cristianos: «SIENDO JUSTIFICADOS GRATUITAMENTE POR SU GRACIA, mediante la redención que es en Cristo Jesús»- Romanos 3:24; «Porque por gracia SOIS SALVOS POR MEDIO DE LA FE; y esto no de vosotros, pues es don de Dios; NO POR OBRAS, PARA QUE NADIE SE GLORÍE»- Efesios 2:8-9; «SABIENDO QUE EL HOMBRE NO ES JUSTIFICADO POR LAS OBRAS DE LA LEY, SINO POR LA FE DE JESUCRISTO, nosotros también hemos creído en Jesucristo, para ser justificados por la fe de Cristo y no por las obras de la ley, POR CUANTO POR LAS OBRAS DE LA LEY NADIE SERÁ JUSTIFICADO»- Gálatas 2:16. Y el anterior reclamo podría parecer perfectamente lógico, si no fuese por el hecho de que contiene tanta vanidad, y esta tan alejado de lo revelado por Dios a Israel, que el creyente Hebreo no puede sino cuestionar la salud mental de sus autores.

Es que la Ley muestra de forma inequívoca que, lo que Dios pide y espera de Israel, es que haga precisamente las obras de Justicia, misericordia y humildad que encarnan la Ley Divina; como esta escrito- «Casa de David, así dijo יהוה: HACED DE MAÑANA JUICIO, Y LIBRAD AL OPRIMIDO DE MANO DEL OPRESOR, PARA QUE MI IRA NO SALGA COMO FUEGO, Y SE ENCIENDA Y NO HAYA QUIEN LO APAGUE, por la maldad de vuestras obras »- Jeremías 21:12; «Oh hombre, Él te ha declarado lo que es bueno, ¿Y QUÉ PIDE יהוה DE TI? ¡SOLAMENTE HACER JUSTICIA, Y AMAR MISERICORDIA, y humillarte ante tu Dios!»- Miqueas 6:8;

«Abre tu boca, JUZGA CON JUSTICIA, Y DEFIENDE LA CAUSA DEL POBRE Y DEL MENESTEROSO»- Proverbios 31:9; ¿No comió y bebió tu padre, e HIZO JUICIO Y JUSTICIA, Y ENTONCES LE FUE BIEN?; EL JUZGÓ LA CAUSA DEL AFLIGIDO Y DEL MENESTEROSO, y entonces estuvo bien. ¿NO ES ESTO CONOCERME A MÍ? DICE יהוה»- Jeremías 22:15-16; «¿NO ES QUE PARTAS TU PAN CON EL HAMBRIENTO, Y A LOS POBRES ERRANTES ALBERGUES EN CASA; QUE CUANDO VEAS AL DESNUDO, LO CUBRAS, Y NO TE ESCONDAS DE TU HERMANO? ENTONCES NACERÁ TU LUZ COMO EL ALBA, Y TU SALVACIÓN SE DEJARÁ VER PRONTO; E IRÁ TU JUSTICIA DELANTE DE TI, Y LA GLORIA DE יהוה SERÁ TU RETAGUARDIA. Entonces invocarás, y te oirá יהוה; clamarás, y dirá Él: Heme aquí. Si quitares de en medio de ti el yugo, el dedo amenazador, y el hablar vanidad; y SI DIERES TU PAN AL HAMBRIENTO, Y SACIARES AL ALMA AFLIGIDA, EN LAS TINIEBLAS NACERÁ TU LUZ, Y TU OSCURIDAD SERÁ COMO EL MEDIODÍA»- Isaías 58:7-10;

«APRENDED A HACER EL BIEN; BUSCAD EL JUICIO, RESTITUID AL AGRAVIADO, HACED JUSTICIA AL HUÉRFANO, AMPARAD A LA VIUDA. VENID LUEGO, DICE יהוה, Y ESTEMOS A CUENTA: SI VUESTROS PECADOS FUEREN COMO LA GRANA, COMO LA NIEVE SERÁN EMBLANQUECIDOS; SI FUEREN ROJOS COMO EL CARMESÍ, VENDRÁN A SER COMO BLANCA LANA»- Isaías 1:17-18.

De hecho, Dios no solo desea que el verdadero Israel haga las obras de Justicia y misericordia que prescribe la Ley; sino que hasta les permite alabarse [es decir, “gloriarse”] a ellos mismos por ello. ¿Por que? Pues porque, apegarse a los actos de justicia y misericordia de la Ley, requiere una sabiduría que las naciones gentiles admiran y alaban. Como esta escrito:

«Así dijo יהוה: No se alabe el sabio en su sabiduría, ni en su valentía se alabe el valiente, ni el rico se alabe en sus riquezas. MAS ALÁBESE EN ESTO EL QUE SE HUBIERE DE ALABAR: EN ENTENDERME, Y CONOCERME, QUE YO SOY יהוה; QUE HAGO MISERICORDIA, JUICIO Y JUSTICIA EN LA TIERRA; PORQUE ESTAS COSAS QUIERO, DICE יהוה»- Jeremías 9:23-25; «Mirad, YO OS HE ENSEÑADO ESTATUTOS Y DECRETOS, como יהוה mi Dios me mandó,

PARA QUE HAGÁIS ASÍ EN MEDIO DE LA TIERRA en la cual entráis para tomar posesión de ella. GUARDADLOS, PUES, Y PONEDLOS POR OBRA; PORQUE ESTA ES VUESTRA SABIDURÍA Y VUESTRA INTELIGENCIA ANTE LOS OJOS DE LOS PUEBLOS [GENTILES], LOS CUALES OIRÁN TODOS ESTOS ESTATUTOS, Y DIRÁN: CIERTAMENTE PUEBLO SABIO Y ENTENDIDO, NACIÓN GRANDE ES ESTA»- Deuteronomio 4:5-6

Prophet Moses First words

¿Why is it that, the first words ascribed by the Torah (God's Law) to our master Moses (peace and blessings be always upon him) are the following: “Why are you hitting your fellow Hebrew?” (Exodus 2:13, New International Version)? The reason lies in the fact that Torah intends to be a Divine call for men to live in peace and brotherly love with one another.

And what was the reason for the Torah to be given on top of a mountain named “Sinai”? It was in order to show us that, on top of any other reason, Torah’s purpose is for men to restrain themselves from hatred. And from whence do we know this? We know it from the fact that, the Hebrew word for “Sinai” is etymologically linked to the Hebrew word “Sinah” [also spelled “Sinat”].

And the meaning of “Sinat” is none other than “Hatred”. Thus, Torah’s purpose is for men to restrain themselves from hatred toward one another. And this makes perfect sense, as the Hebrew tradition summarizes the true spirit of ancient Hebrew faith using the following words: “What is hateful to you, do not to your neighbor. That is the whole Torah; the rest is [just] commentary...”

La Escritura Hebrea afirma que no puede haber paz en el Pueblo de Israel, mientras sus lideres sean abiertamente inmorales. Como esta escrito: «Cuando vio Joram (el Rey de Israel) a Jehú, dijo: “¿Hay paz, Jehú?”. Y él respondió: “¿Qué paz [puede haber], con las fornicaciones de Jezabel tu madre, y sus muchas hechicerías?”»- 2 Reyes 9:22.

Es que los profetas predijeron que, cuando un pueblo se obstina en apartarse de Dios [para confiar en cambio en la mentira y vanidad de su propia imaginación], el Creador le entrega en manos de sus enemigos, a fin de ser destruidos. Como esta escrito:

¿Mudará el etíope su piel, y el leopardo sus manchas? Así también, ¿podréis vosotros hacer bien, estando habituados a hacer mal? Por tanto, yo los esparciré al viento del desierto, como tamo que pasa. Esta es tu suerte, la porción que yo he medido para ti, dice Adonai, porque te olvidaste de mí y confiaste en la mentira. Yo, pues, descubriré también tus faldas delante de tu rostro, y se manifestará tu ignominia, tus adulterios, tus relinchos, la maldad de tu fornicación sobre los collados; en el campo vi tus abominaciones. ¡Ay de ti, Jerusalén! ¿No serás al fin limpia? ¿Cuánto tardarás tú en purificarte? ... »- Jeremías 15:1-4, & 13:23-27

There are no Jews or Gentiles before God, only obedient (Torah observant), or disobedient (non Torah observant) children

The Holy One declares no creature unfit, but receives any man who study Torah (God's Law), and keeps His commandments (Jew, Samaritan, Christian, and Muslim alike). Torah teaches that the high priest had the right to stand before The Holy One's glory. What is the proof that even a gentile who keeps the Torah is like a High priest? The Scripture that goes on to say: "With which if a man occupy himself, he shall live by them" (Lev. 18:5).

It does not say "A priest, a Levite, an Israelite", but "A man". Hence you may infer that even a non-Jew (a Christian, or a Muslim) who occupies himself with Torah is like a High priest. Another proof for it? The verse, "This is the Torah of man, Oh Lord God" (2 Sam. 7:19)- not "of priest", Levites, or Israelis", but "of man". Scripture also says, "Open ye gates, that the righteous Gentile... may come in (Isa. 26:2)- not that "priest, Levites, or Israeli may come in", but that "the righteous Gentile who keeps the faith may come in".

Scripture also says, "This is the gate of the Lord; the righteous shall enter it" (Psalm 118:20)"- not "priests, Levites, or Israelis shall enter it", but "the righteous shall enter it" (Jew and Gentile alike). Scripture also says "Rejoice in the Lord, oh ye righteous" (Psalm 33:1)- not "Rejoice, oh ye priests, Levites, and Israelis", but "Rejoice... oh ye righteous" (Jews and Gentiles alike).

Scripture also says, "Do good, oh Lord, unto the good" (Psalm 125:4)- not "to priest, Levites, and Israelis", but "Do good, oh Lord, unto the good" (Jew and Gentile alike). Thus, Reformed Samaritanism teaches that even a gentile (Christian, Muslim, Buddhist, etc) who keeps the Torah (its' commandments) is like a High priest (worthy of standing before the Holy Presence!).

La miopía intelectual del reduccionismo Cientificista

Un antiguo refrán dice que, "cuando el sabio apunta hacia la Luna, el tonto se queda mirando al dedo". Este proverbio apunta al "reduccionismo" (o "miopía") intelectual que a menudo caracteriza a quienes, ufanándose de intelectualidad, insisten en reducirlo todo a su correspondiente explicación científica (un dogma ideológico también conocido como “Cientificismo”). Este tipo de persona, no logra comprender que, las explicaciones puramente mecánicas que ofrecen las ciencias modernas, no siempre son lo suficientemente abarcadoras como para explicar satisfactoriamente la totalidad de la experiencia existencial.

Por ejemplo: Un sabio británico invita un científico a su hogar. Una vez en la casa, el sabio pregunta a su huésped si conoce la razón por la cual hierve el agua de la cacerola [que se encuentra sobre la estufa]. El científico responde que, la razón por la cual hierve el agua, es que la transferencia de calor hace que la temperatura del líquido alcance el punto de ebullición correspondiente a la presión atmosférica.

Ante tal respuesta, el sabio sonríe, y procede a explicar a su huésped que, aunque su explicación es científicamente correcta, la verdadera razón por la cual hierve el agua, es que [deseando ser un buen anfitrión Británico] el dueño de la casa desea preparar para su huésped una sabrosa taza de té.

Otro ejemplo similar podría ser el de un turista extranjero que, durante una excursión a la Casa Blanca (la residencia oficial del presidente Norteamericano), pregunta la razón por la cual ninguna avioneta puede sobrevolar el área. El experto [y muy técnico] guía turístico, procede a contestarle que, la razón para ello es que el área está protegida por radares, por aviones de combate, e incluso por baterías anti-aéreas.

Entonces, uno de los norteamericanos que allí se encontraban [y que por casualidad había escuchado la conversación] ripostó diciendo: “Si no hay avioneta alguna que pueda sobrevolar la Casa Blanca, es porque el Gobierno norteamericano [es decir, el máximo poder de la tierra] ha hecho de ello una ley [con el fin de proteger a los residentes de La Casa Blanca]. Y, mientras no exista un poder mayor [que pueda anularla], la ley seguirá siendo obedecida”.

¿Que significa todo esto? Pues significa que, aunque la ciencia moderna es muy útil para explicar el “¿cómo?” de las cosas, a menudo es incapaz de explicar el “¿quién?”, o el “¿por qué?” de las cosas. Y es por esto que, cuando un hombre inquisitivo observa el modo en el cual “la casa” [es decir, el planeta] en el que vive produce los frutos que le son necesarios, no puede evitar preguntarse a sí mismo: “¿Quién [o que] es el dueño de esta casa, a la cual he sido traído para ser agasajado tan generosamente con toda esta comida y bebida?

Del mismo modo, cuando observa la inmutabilidad de las leyes que gobiernan "el área" que comprende “su Casa” (es decir, las leyes de gravedad, de electromagnetismo, de siembra y cosecha, de causa y efecto, etc), se pregunta a sí mismo: ¿Que (o quien) es el Poder supremo que preserva la inmutabilidad de estas leyes? ¿Cual es el propósito de ellas? ¿A quien pretenden estas leyes proteger?

El resumen de la Sabiduría encarnada en la Torah (la Ley de Dios)

El resumen de toda la Sabiduría encarnada en la Ley de Dios es “Medida por medida”, “Ojo por ojo”, “Diente por diente”, “Siembra y cosecha”, “Causa y efecto”, “Acción y reacción”, “El árbol se conoce por su fruto”, “Con la misma vara con que midas a tu prójimo, serás tu también medido”, etc....

Y la anterior es toda la filosofía, toda la ciencia, toda la religión, y toda la política que el hombre habrá jamás de necesitar a fin de sobrevivir y prosperar en todas las cosas, tanto terrenales como celestiales.

Y todo aquello que pretenda negar o menoscabar esta suprema verdad no es sino conjetura, y vana especulación; el producto de hombres sagaces y engañadores que pretenden “enturbiar las aguas del cristalino río de la verdad”, a fin de obtener “una buena pesca” (“atrapando” de ese modo a los ignorantes, a los ingenuos, y a los incautos).

La Fe Nazarena es válida; pero el “B'rit Hadasha” (el Evangelio) es teológicamente errado, pues menoscaba, niega, y contradice todas y cada una de las grandes verdades Divinas, previamente reveladas por Dios a Moisés y a los Profetas

La noble religión Nazarena, es un camino perfectamente válido para agradar al Creador, pues alienta a sus adeptos a volverse a Dios en sincero arrepentimiento. Pero, a pesar de las muchas [y grandes] virtudes de esta noble fe, sus postulados teológicos niegan y contradicen todo lo revelado por Dios a los Hijos de Israel.

Y es por esto que, la persona que ha conocido el mensaje de la Ley Divina [que no es otro sino tratar a todos con la misma bondad, justicia, y humildad con que deseáramos ser nosotros mismos tratados], no puede asentir con la teología Nazarena; pues, afirmando como cierto, algo que niega la verdad Divina, comete un tipo de “suicidio intelectual”; y viola el mandato Divino que le ordena alejarse de toda falsedad (Éxodo 23:7).

Y es por eso que, el Dios de Israel, odia a los mentirosos, y ha prometido cerrarles la boca (Proverbios 13:5, & Salmo 63:11).

La realidad es que, aunque los reclamos que hace la teología Nazarena, parecen ser tan grandes como una montaña, la evidencia que de ellos provee la Tanak (la Ley, los Profetas, y los Escritos), es tan pequeña, que parece ser un cabello de la barba [de suerte que, la poderosa montaña de reclamos, termina colgando de un débil cabello de evidencia].

Es que, si interpretamos literalmente la Biblia Hebrea (o "Tanak"), descubriremos que, esta última, echa por tierra todos y cada uno de los grandes reclamos teológicos esbozados por nuestros hermanos Edomitas (Nazarenos). Por ejemplo:

(1) Es falso que los creyentes Hebreos deban seguir a los creyentes Nazarenos; pues la Ley muestra que, al final de los tiempos, todas las naciones subirán a Jerusalén, a fin de celebrar la fiesta Hebrea de los Tabernáculos, la fiesta de la Luna Nueva, y la fiesta del Sábado Hebreo (Zacarías 14:16, & Isaías 66:23).

En adición, la Ley dice que 10 hombres [gentiles] echarán mano de un creyente Hebreo, para acompañarle a Jerusalén, pues reconocerán que Dios está de parte de los Hebreos (Zacarías 8:23). Finalmente, será la Ley de los Hebreos [y no la Gracia de los Nazarenos] la que saldrá de Sion (Jerusalén), hacia el resto de las naciones del Mundo, a fin de que todos puedan aprenderla (Isaías 2:3).

¿Y que harán las naciones gentiles, que se obstinaron en desobedecer la Ley? Pues que vendrán, y confesarán el extravío de sus tradiciones religiosas; como está escrito- «... A ti vendrán Naciones [gentiles] desde los extremos de la Tierra, y dirán: “Ciertamente mentira poseyeron nuestros padres, vanidad, y no hay en ellos provecho”» (Jeremías 16:19).

(2) Es falso que el Creador haya hecho de “Yeshua” (paz y bendición sean con él) “la imagen visible del Dios invisible”; pues es inconcebible que, el Dios que catalogó de corrupto, el que su Pueblo adorase la imagen de algún hombre (Deut. 4:23, & Deut. 4:15-16), venga luego y asuma la imagen del hombre llamado Yeshua, [¡un hombre que demandaba ser adorado!].

Y es desquiciado creer que, el Padre Celestial, que dijo que “los hijos de los hombres” son vanidad, son mentira, y son menos que nada (Salmo 62:9), venga luego y se convierta a si mismo en un hijo de hombre (Juan 10:30, & Juan 14:10), haciéndose de ese modo vanidad, mentira, y menos que nada. Finalmente, Dios es un Espíritu (Salmo 139:7); pero Yeshua admitió en cambio ser un hombre de carne y hueso (Lucas 24:39).

(3) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido la encarnación de la Deidad [pues Dios no es hombre, ni Hijo de hombre, según Números 23:19, & 1 Samuel 15:29].

(4) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido el Creador, que vino [literalmente] a la Tierra; pues el Creador es demasiado grande como para morar [literalmente] en la Tierra, según 1 Reyes 8:27.

(5) Es falso que Yeshua sea parte de una Trinidad con el Dios de Israel, pues no hay otros dioses con el Creador [es decir, no hay nadie que sea un “co-Dios” con el Creador], según Deuteronomio 32:39.

(6) Es falso que la Ley fuese una “barrera de separación”, que mantuviese a los Gentiles alejados del Pueblo de Dios; pues, la Ley, siempre alentó a los gentiles a convertirse a la Fe Hebrea, según Isaías 56:6-7.

(7) Es falso que el Creador haya decidido salvar al mundo por medio de “la locura de la prédica” [del Evangelio]; pues Dios prohíbe a su Pueblo volverse a la locura (Salmo 85:8).

(8) Es falso que el creyente deba a Yeshua, la misma gloria que debe al Dios de Israel; pues, este último, no comparte su gloria con nadie, y no desea que sus hijos mencionen el nombre de otros dioses (Yeshua, Allah, Krishna, etc), según Isaías 42:8 & Éxodo 23:13. Y Yeshua también lo confirma, cuando rehúsa aceptar la gloria que le ofrecen los hombres (Juan 5:41).

(9) Es falso que el hombre no pueda escoger abandonar la maldad, para hacer en cambio lo bueno; pues “aunque el pecado está a la puerta, el hombre puede enseñorearse de él” (Génesis 4:7).

(10) Es falso que Dios espere que el hombre obedezca perfectamente la Ley, a fin de obtener el beneplácito Divino. ¿Por que? Pues porque, el Creador, dio testimonio de haberse agradado del Rey David, a pesar de que David no obedeció perfectamente la Ley (1 Reyes 14:8). En adición, Dios juzgó que, la conducta de Job, era perfecta; a pesar de que Job era un hombre imperfecto (Job 1:8, & 2:3).

(11) Es falso que la Ley haya sido abrogada, para ser en cambio sustituida por la Gracia. ¿Por que? Pues porque no podemos quebrantar la Ley (quitándole ni añadiéndole nada), según Deuteronomio 12:32; porque, quienes rehúsan obedecer la Ley, terminan siendo cola, en vez de cabeza (Deut. 28:44); porque, quienes abandonan la Ley, son castigados con ceguera, locura, y turbación de espíritu

porque, la locura de abandonar la Ley, conduce al hombre a alabar a los impíos (Prov. 28:4); y porque, la Ley, es perfecta [y, lo que ya es perfecto, nunca tendrá necesidad de ser mejorado, sustituido, ni abrogado por ninguna otra cosa, según el Salmo 19:7].

(12) Es también falso que los mandamientos sean una maldición; pues los mandamientos alegran el corazón (Salmo 19:8), y son la sabiduría y la inteligencia del Pueblo Santo (Deut. 4:6).

(13) Es falso que el creyente no tenga que seguir obedeciendo los 10 Mandamientos. ¿Por que? Pues porque, el hecho de que fueron escritos en Piedra (Deut. 4:13), significa que los Mandamientos son para siempre, habiendo sido afirmados eternamente (Salmo 111:7-8); porque, guardar los mandamientos, son el todo del hombre (Eclesiastés 12:13);

porque, los que dejan los mandamientos, son gente soberbia y maldita (Salmo 119:21); porque, Dios no escucha la oración del que no hace caso de la Ley (Prov. 28:9); y porque, el Creador, ha ordenado que meditemos día y noche en la Ley, a fin de obedecer lo que en ella se nos ordena [si es que deseamos obtener la bendición y la prosperidad Divina, según Josué 1:8].

(14) Es falso que, el “B'rit Hadasha” [que predica “el abandono de la Ley”], sea el cumplimiento del “Nuevo pacto” aludido en Jeremías 31:31; pues, cuando llegue ese nuevo pacto, Israel no abandonará la Ley, sino que la tendrá en lo mas profundo de su mente, y de su corazón (Jeremías 31:33); Cuando llegue ese nuevo pacto, todo Israel conocerá a Dios (Jeremías 31:34); y, cuando llegue ese nuevo pacto, el Creador hará solamente bien a Israel, no teniendo que reprocharle sus pecados, ni su incredulidad (Jer. 32:38-42).

(15) Es falso que Yeshua sea “la roca” a la cual deben mirar los creyentes Hebreos [pues la Escritura muestra que esa roca es Avraham, según Isaías 51:1-2].

(16) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido tanto “el Hijo de Dios”, como “el Siervo de Dios” [pues, estos dos títulos, pertenecen a Israel, según Éxodo 4:22 & Isaías 44:21].

(17) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido el “Rey ungido” [o "Rey Mesías"] que habrá de reinar un día sobre Israel [pues, este puesto, corresponde al Rey David, según Jeremías 30:8-9, y Ezequiel 37:24].

(18) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido el alegado Mesías de Isaías 53:1-7; pues, el personaje allí descrito, engendraría tantos hijos biológicos, que “su generación” [es decir, sus descendientes] no podría ser contada (Isaías 53:8). Pero en cambio Yeshua, no engendro ni siquiera un solo hijo [pues nunca se casó].

(19) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido “el Hijo” [o “renuevo”] de David, descrito en Isaías 11:1-5. ¿Por que? Pues porque, según la Ley, la descendencia sigue la línea del Padre biológico de la criatura (Génesis 5:1-32); y, como el B'rit Hadasha afirma que Yeshua no tuvo un padre biológico [pues alegadamente fue engendrado por el Espíritu Santo], entonces Jesús no era un descendiente biológico de David.

En adición, Isaías dice que, la manera en que sabremos que el personaje descrito en su libro, finalmente ha llegado, es que veremos una transformación milagrosa en la naturaleza; pues el león dejará de comerse al becerro, y comerá en cambio paja; el lobo no comerá mas al cordero, ni el leopardo comerá al cabrito; la serpiente no morderá a ninguna persona; y un niño podrá pastorear [confiadamente] una manada de fieras salvajes (Isaías 11:6-9).

(20) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido el sacrificio expiatorio por los pecados del mundo, pues nadie puede morir por la maldad de alguna otra persona, sino que “cada cual morirá por su propia maldad” (Jer. 31:30, Ezeq. 18:20-22, & Deut. 24:16).

En adición, las ofrendas por el pecado, tenían que ser sin defecto (Lev. 22:19); Pero, desafortunadamente, Yeshua tenía defectos; pues, siendo un hombre de carne y hueso, es imposible que haya hecho solamente el bien, sin nunca haber pecado (Eclesiastés 7:20).

De hecho, en Mateo 19:17, el B'rit Hadasha admite que Yeshua no era “bueno”; y esto es prueba adicional de que, Yeshua, no era el Dios de Israel, quien es absolutamente bueno (Salmo 106:1). En adición, Lucas 7:28 admite que, Juan el Bautista, era mayor que Yeshua; pues, a diferencia de este último, estuvo dispuesto a ser decapitado (Lucas 3:19-20, & Marcos 6:27), obedeciendo el mandamiento que ordena al verdadero profeta, amonestar al impío (Ezequiel 3:18).

(21) Yeshua tampoco pudo haber sido el Sumo sacerdote que oficiase el sacrificio expiatorio por los pecados de todo Israel; pues, según Éxodo 28:1, & Núm. 18:7, ese Sumo Sacerdote tenía que ser un descendiente de la tribu de Leví, y Yeshua no cumplía con ese requisito; pues, su familia biológica, pertenecía a la tribu de Judá (Lucas 3:33-34).

22) Es falso que María (paz sea con ella) haya sido “la virgen” de Isaías 7:14; pues, esa “virgen”, es en realidad una personificación alegórica de la comunidad compuesta por las casas, las ciudades y las tribus de Israel, según Isaías 37:22, Amos 5:2-3, & Jeremías 18:13.

23) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido el “Emanuel” que habría de ser engendrado por la Virgen de Isaías 7:14; pues, como el nombre “Emanuel” literalmente significa “Dios (está) con nosotros”, es obvio que “Emanuel” no es una persona, sino una pluralidad [o “comunidad”] de individuos. Esta comunidad, sería testigo de una liberación tan grande, que no tendría otro remedio que proclamar que Dios estaba con ellos [¡Emanuel!].

¿Cual sería esa comunidad? Pues la de los creyentes que verían como, la Tierra de Rezín y de Peka [los reyes de Siria e Israel que se habían levantado contra Judá, según Isaías 7:1-2], sería arrasada por el rey de Babilonia; como está escrito- «he aquí, por tanto, que el Señor hace subir sobre ellos (Peka y Rezín) aguas de ríos, impetuosas y muchas, esto es, al rey de Asiria, con todo su poder; el cual subirá sobre todos sus ríos, y pasará sobre todas sus riberas... y extendiendo sus alas, llenará la anchura de tu tierra, oh Emanuel»- Isaías 8:7-8.

¿Y que proclamaría esta comunidad, luego de ver esta gran liberación? Pues proclamarían: «Tomad consejo, y será anulado; proferid palabra, y no será firme, porque ¡Dios está con nosotros! [¡Emanuel!]»- Isaías 8:10.

(24) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido el cordero pascual, cuyo sacrificio cargaría con los pecados de toda la nación Israelita; pues, los pecados de Israel, no eran expiados por nada de lo que acaecía en la fiesta de la Pascua, sino por lo acaecido en la fiesta de Yom Kippur (es decir, en la gran fiesta de la Expiación), según Levítico 16:19.

Y, el animal que cargaba con el pecado de Israel [durante esta fiesta de Yom Kippur], no era un cordero, sino un macho cabrío. No solamente esto, sino que, ese macho cabrío [que se llevaba los pecados de toda la Nación], no era sacrificado por el Sumo sacerdote, ni tampoco era su sangre derramada [como se alega que sucedió con Yeshua], sino que era en cambio enviado [vivo] al desierto (Lev. 16:20-22).

En adición, los pecados individuales no eran expiados por un cordero, sino por una cabra (Levítico 4:27-28).

(25) Es falso que, el perdón de pecados, demande el derramamiento de sangre inocente. ¿Por que? Pues porque, el sacrificio de animales, es solo sombra y figura del verdadero sacrificio que agrada al Creador; que no es otro sino el corazón contrito y humillado (Salmo 51:17); y porque, el Creador, ha prometido perdonar el pecado de todo aquel que se humilla, invocando Su Nombre, y convirtiéndose de su maldad (2 Cron. 7:14, Prov. 28:13, Jer. 36:3, Isaías 1:16-18, & Isaías 55:7).

Y, estas promesas de perdón, no demandan sangre alguna, fuera de la que sube al sonrojado rostro del pecador, que se avergüenza de su pecado, y que abandona su vida de maldad.

(26) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido el Salvador del Mundo [pues no hay otro Salvador fuera de יהוה , según Isaías 43:11, & 43:3]. En adición, Yeshua reconoció ser un “hijo del Hombre” (Mateo 18:11); Y, la Tanak, enseña que no hay salvación alguna en el Hijo del Hombre (Salmo 146:3).

No solo eso, sino que, la palabra Hebrea que traducimos como “Mesías”, literalmente significa “Ungido”; un titulo que nunca tuvo la intención de aplicarse a una persona exclusiva; pues, tanto Aarón, como Saúl, David, y el Rey [pagano] Ciro [entre muchos otros], fueron llamados “Mesías” (o “Ungido”), según Levítico 4:3&5, 1 Samuel 2:35, 1 Sam. 12:5, 15:17, 24:6, 2 Sam. 22:51, & Isaías 45:1.

Y la Tanak enseña que, aún el hombre que ha sido hecho un “Ungido” de Dios (o “Mesías” de Dios), necesita en si mismo ser salvado [por יהוה]; como está escrito- «Ahora conozco que יהוה salva a su “Ungido” (o “Mesías”)»- Salmo 20:6. Y el B'rit Hadasha también lo confirma, cuando dice que Yeshua necesitó ser “salvado” [o “librado”] de la muerte (Hebreos 5:7).

(27) Es falso que Yeshua haya vivido una vida libre de pecados; pues “todos los hombres son concebidos en pecado” [por sus respectivas madres], según el Salmo 51:5; y porque, “no hay hombre que haga solo el bien, y nunca peque”, según Eclesiastés 7:20.

(28) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido el único hombre justo que jamás haya existido [pues tanto Noé, como Lot, fueron justos ante Dios, según Gén. 6:9, Y Gén. 18:23].

(29) Es falso que, fuera de Yeshua, no exista hombre que haya hecho lo bueno; pues tanto Asa, como Ezequías, fueron hombres que hicieron lo bueno (2 Cron. 14:2, & 2 Cron. 31:20).

(30) Es falso que Yeshua haya hecho mayores milagros que cualquier otro profeta [pues nadie hizo mayores milagros que Moisés, según Gen. 34:11].

(31) Es falso que, la Vida Eterna, sea el producto de creer que Yeshua haya sido el Mesías; pues, la Vida Eterna, en realidad es el producto de apartarse del mal, para hacer en cambio el bien (Salmos 37:27).

(32) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido "la Verdad"; pues, es "la Ley", y no el Nazareno, lo que realmente es "la Verdad" (Salmos 119:142).

(33) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido "el Camino"; pues, "el Camino" que Dios ha dispuesto para los creyentes, es la obediencia a los 10 mandamientos de la Ley, según Salmo 119:27&32, Jueces 2:17, Deut. 5:29-33, y Deut. 11:22-23.

(34) Es falso que Yeshua haya sido "la Vida" [pues, "la Vida", es cumplir todas las palabras de la Ley de Dios, según Deut. 32:46-47].

(35) Es falso que hayamos heredado la muerte espiritual, a consecuencia del pecado de nuestros Padres [Adán y Eva]; pues, los hijos, no han de morir por el pecado de sus padres (Deut. 24:16).

(36) Es falso que, Yeshua, haya sido mayor que Moisés; pues, cuando Moisés hablaba con el Padre Celestial, la conversación era tan real y certera, que nadie en la multitud dudaba de su autenticidad (Éxodo 33:11, Éxodo 19:17-19, & Deut. 5:22-27); Pero, cuando Yeshua hablaba con el Padre Celestial, la conversación era tan confusa y dudosa, que la multitud dudaba que hubiese realmente ocurrido (Juan 12:28-29). En adición, la Ley dice que, nunca se levantó en Israel, otro profeta mayor que Moisés (Deut. 34:10).

(37) Es falso que, lo que Dios pide del Hombre, es que crea en Yeshua; pues, lo que Dios realmente pide, es que amemos "obrar con justicia, con misericordia, y con humildad" (Miqueas 6:8).

(38) Es falso que, "la Gracia", viniese por medio de Yeshua; pues Noé halló "gracia" ante los ojos de Dios (Gen. 6:8); y Moisés invocó sobre Israel "la gracia del que habitó en la zarza" (Deut. 33:16).

(39) Es falso que Dios espere que los creyentes Hebreos acepten "el presente" [o "regalo"], de "la Salvación gratuita"; pues, los regalos, impiden juzgar con claridad, pervierten la Justicia divina, y corrompen el corazón (Éxodo 23:8, & Eclesiastés 7:7).

(40) Es falso que Yeshua justifique al impío [es decir, al hombre que rehúsa arrepentirse, y comenzar a obedecer los mandamientos]; pues, si fuese cierto que Yeshua justifica la impío, entonces Yeshua sería abominable ante יהוה , según Prov. 17:15.

(41) Es falso que la Justicia se alcance solo por la Fe, y no por obrar según lo ordenado en la Ley. ¿Por que? Pues porque, Finees, obró según lo ordenado en la Ley [dando muerte a los dos adúlteros, según Lev. 20:10]; y, su obrar según la Ley, le fue contado por Justicia (Salmo 106:29-31).

(42) Es falso que, nuestro bienestar eterno, dependa de aceptar la religión [o teología] correcta; pues, en realidad, depende de que conozcamos a Dios, dando "buen fruto", y haciendo [con nuestras propias manos] el bien y la justicia que encarnan los mandamientos dados por יהוה a Moisés [según grabados sobre las dos Tablas de Piedra].

¿Por que? Pues porque, la Ley, muestra que cada persona recibirá el mismo bien [o mal] que haya sembrado (Jeremías 22:15-16, Génesis 4:6-7, Prov. 22:8, Jueces 1:7, Isaías 58:7-12, Isaías 3:10-11).

(43) Es falso que, el hombre que escribió casi la mitad de las epístolas que conforman el B'rit Hadasha [el apóstol Pablo, paz sea con él], haya sido una fuente confiable de sabiduría y conocimiento de la Fe Hebrea [¡pues ni siquiera sabía quien era el Sumo sacerdote Hebreo, según Hechos 23:3-5!].

Finalmente, si la Ley dice una cosa, y el B'rit Hadasha dice otra cosa [o algo contrario], entonces es el B'rit Hadasha [y no la Ley], el que está equivocado. ¿Por que? Pues porque sería extraviado creer que, las enseñanzas de Yeshua, son “el cumplimiento de la Ley” (Mateo 5:17), si tales enseñanzas “no cumplen” con lo que la Ley enseña y ordena.

En adición, las verdades Divinas reveladas en la Escritura Hebrea, son finales e irrevocables; pues, la Ley, no puede ser abrogada, ni mucho menos quebrantada, según Deut. 4:2. Y, el B'rit Hadasha, confirma esta misma verdad, cuando cita a Yeshua diciendo: «la Escritura [es decir, la Ley], no puede ser quebrantada» (Juan 10:35).

Y, las anteriores, son algunas de las razones por las cuales los creyentes Samaritanos respetan y admiran la figura de Yeshua (paz sea con él), pero rechazan tajantemente las cosas que, acerca de Yeshua, afirma la noble teología Nazarena. ¿Quien es un “creyente Samaritano”?

Pues es todo hombre y toda mujer que cree en hacer el bien que ordena la Ley: en no juzgar injustamente a nadie, en no aceptar [o “aprobar”] la conducta de los impíos, en defender al débil y al huérfano, en hacer justicia [dando caridad] al afligido y al menesteroso, y en librar a los afligidos y necesitados de mano de los impíos.

Estos creyentes, son aquellos a los cuales alude la Escritura Hebrea, cuando dice: “Vosotros sois dioses, y todos vosotros [sois] “Benei Elyon” (hijos del Altísimo)- Salmo 82:6. ¿Por que rechazan los Samaritanos las cosas que acerca de Yeshua postula la noble teología Nazarena?

Pues porque, como hemos demostrado, cada una de ellas niega y contradice lo claramente revelado por יהוה en la Ley, en los Profetas, y en los Escritos (la Tanak). Y, la palabra Hebrea que la Tanak utiliza para designar a quien se opone a la dicho y ordenado por el Creador, es “Ha Satán”; un termino Hebreo que literalmente significa “El Satanás”.

¿Que debe hacer entonces el Hombre que desea abandonar las mentiras en las cuales ha sido instruido, para volver en cambio a la senda antigua de la pura, clara, y sencilla fe en la Ley de Dios?

Pues debe renunciar al engaño y la maldad; jurando fidelidad y obediencia a יהוה (Adonai Yah, el Dios de Israel, bendito sea); y haciendo la siguiente confesión pública- «Oh יהוה (Adonai Yah), Señor Dios de Abraham, Confieso que No hay otro Dios, ni hay otro Salvador, tan grande como Tu; Confieso que no hay otro profeta, tan grande como Moisés; ni hay otra Ley, tan grande como Tus Diez Mandamientos.

Confieso que no hay otra Escritura, tan grande como Tu Torah; ni hay otro pueblo, tan grande como Israel. Y confieso que no hay otra teología tan grande, verdadera, y justa, como la de "Medida por Medida" (o "Siembra y Cosecha"): recompensar a cada uno, con el mismo bien que, con sus obras, haya voluntariamente sembrado; y castigar a cada uno con el mismo mal que, con sus obras, haya voluntariamente sembrado (sin nunca haberse arrepentido).

Gracias, porque has escuchado mi oración, y has perdonado [como prometiste] mis pecados. Y gracias por haberme hecho en este día, miembro integral de tu Pueblo Santo; el Pueblo de Dios que está prefigurado en la Nación de Israel. Amén».

So you claim God is only pleased with Jesus, as only he was holy enough to perfectly obey God's Law?

Bretheren, claiming that God is only pleased with Jesus of Nazareth (as he allegedly was the only man holy enough to perfectly obey God's Law) is a well intended thing, and God is definitely pleased with well intended people. But such idea makes no sense at all.

Why? Simply because, while it is true that no Hebrew prophet could ever completely obey the Law (in fact, not even Jesus was able to do so, as he failed to obey the command ordering him to get marry and beget children), it is no less true that God borne witness of being pleased with all of them. How? Well, in the first place, no Hebrew prophet is ever pictured as suffering a cruel [and unjust] death at the hands of Israel's pagan enemies.

In the second place, God allowed them to perform such great and wonderful miracles that not even Jesus was able match them: Moses splitting the Sea and bringing water out of a dry rock; Joshua splitting the waters of the Jordan river, as well as halting the sun and the moon; Elijah closing the skies for 3 years, and bringing down fire from the heavens before the eyes of the whole nation; Elisha making iron float, and defeating a whole army [just by himself]; Isaiah making the Sun to go back on it's track 10 degrees; Daniel surviving a den full of hungry lions; Daniel's friends surviving the fire of a deadly furnace, etc.).

So yes, there's nothing wrong with embracing Jesus message of repentance, deeds of loving kindness, and obedience to God's commandments (which, by the way, has always been the true message of God's Law), but it would be definitely wrong to try making Jesus appear to be larger than what he really is, as God isn't please with the man who bears a false witness ("for the mouths of liars will be shut"- Psalm 63:11, Christian standard Bible).

And how do we know Jesus message was one of repentance, good deeds, and obedience to God's commandments? We know it because Jesus seems to have practiced a modified form of the Samaritan religion (a faith whose emphasis was to do good, as attested by the story of the good Samaritan). But even if we do not buy into the idea of Jesus being any sort of "Good Samaritan", we can still draw the same conclusion from Jesus own words, when he goes on to say:

«FROM THAT TIME JESUS BEGAN TO PREACH, AND TO SAY, "REPENT" ... I tell you, "Nay: but, EXCEPT YE REPENT, YE SHALL ALL LIKEWISE PERISH"»- Matthew 4:7 & Luke 13:3; and also says, "THEREFORE ALL THINGS WHATSOEVER YE WOULD THAT MEN SHOULD DO TO YOU, DO YE EVEN SO TO THEM: FOR THIS IS THE LAW AND THE PROPHETS"- Matthew 7:12. And finally says elsewhere- "... BUT IF THOU WILT ENTER INTO LIFE, KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS... THOU SHALT DO NO MURDER, THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY, THOU SHALT NOT STEAL, THOU SHALT NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS, HONOUR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER: AND, THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOUR AS THYSELF"- Matthew 19:17-19

The sin of pretending to be counted as part of God's own assembly, but without "paying your dues" (your own "half shekel")

God's Law states the following: «The Lord spoke to Moses, saying: "When you take the sum of the children of Israel according to their numbers, let each one give to the Lord an atonement for his soul when they are counted; then there will be no plague among them when they are counted. This they shall give, everyone who goes through the counting: half a shekel according to the holy shekel. Twenty gerahs equal one shekel; half of [such] a shekel shall be an offering to the Lord"»- Exodus

Why was it a sin to count God's people without each person paying his half shekel? In order to understand the answer, we need to bear in mind that God speaks thru parables, whose purpose is to teach us an important moral lesson. As is written: «... I will give parables through the prophets»- Hosea 12:10; «And when he [Balaam] looked on Amalek, he took up his parable, and said, "Amalek was the first of the nations; but his latter end shall be that he perish for ever"»- Numbers 24:20; «Then I said, "Oh, Lord God, they are saying of me, 'Isn't he just composing parables?' »»- Ezekiel 20:49).

Thus, the rite of paying the half shekel is a parable; one whose aim is to teach us that no individual will be redeemed [and be therefore counted as belonging to God's own people] unless he gives at least a minimal amount of his own money toward the Lord's cause (meaning toward those who, like the Levites, had no means of earning a living). And the same truth is taught in the Christian gospels, where a man receives Jesus, but the latter does not count him as saved until he stands up and decides to give a half of his own to the poor.

As is written: «And Zacchaeus stood forth, and said unto the Lord, "Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor"... Then Jesus said to him, "This day is salvation come unto this house"...»- Luke 19:8-9. And the same truth is confirmed in the Hebrew Scripture, when it goes on to say: "Happy is one who is considerate of the poor; the Lord will save him in a day of adversity (the day of Judgment)"- Psalm 41:1.

In short, the half a shekel rite teaches us that there is no such thing as "salvation without works", as he who refuses to have mercy of the needy cannot be counted as part of God's assembly. In fact that was the very reason why the Ammonites were not allowed to enter into the Lord's assembly. As is written: "An Ammonite or Moabite shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord.... [Why?] Because they met you not with bread and with water in the way, when ye came forth out of Egypt..."- Deuteronomy 23:3-4

Christianity is an awesome religion. The problem with Christianity is that it holds fast to an extremist ("Black and White") kind of theology; One in which you either have absolute truth (following the New Testament to the letter of the word), or you don't have truth at all (following anything else); Where you either obey each and every one of God's 613 Commandments, or you do not obey them at all (as your partial obedience is worthless); a faith in which you either consider Jesus to be the perfect, all powerful, all knowing, all present, and unquestionable Creator, or else a foolish madman who is unworthy of your attention; where your short 70 or 80 years life span of sin and/or obedience are either punished with 1,000,000,000,000,000 trillion years of torment and suffering, or else are rewarded with 1,000,000,000,000,000 trillion years of peace and bliss; a theology that will allow any imperfect human father to freely forgive the faults of his penitent children, yet will demand nothing less than blood to be shed for the slightest fault committed against the Heavenly Father [the most merciful of all Parents!]

Seguir las siete leyes de Noah (Noé) es extraviado, pues el Creador desea que todos sigan la misma Ley Divina

La Ley de Dios dice que Israel lloró a Moisés [el padre espiritual de Pueblo de Israel] durante 30 Días. Como esta escrito: "Y LLORARON LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL A MOISÉS EN LOS CAMPOS DE MOAB TREINTA DÍAS..."- Deut. 34:8. Del mismo modo, la Ley ordenaba a Israel dejar que sus

CAUTIVAS GENTILES llorasen a sus padres durante 30 días. Como esta escrito: "... y se quitará el vestido de su cautiverio, y se quedará en tu casa; Y LLORARÁ A SU PADRE Y A SU MADRE UN MES ENTERO..."- Deut. 21:13.

¿Por que menciona la Ley este particular detalle? ¿Que enseñanza ética y moral implica el que Dios desee que los gentiles guarden duelo segun lo revelado en la Ley a los Hebreos? Pues lo que pretende intimar es que, no solamente los Hebreos, sino también los gentiles están llamados a seguir la Ley de Moisés [es decir, a vivir según las verdades que surgen de lo escrito sobre las dos tablas de piedra].

En otras palabras, Dios espera que tanto Hebreos como gentiles sigan la misma Ley Mosaica.

Y, si aparenta que Dios permite que un gentil siga otra Ley distinta a la de Moisés [como podrían ser "la Ley de la gracia de Cristo", "la Ley Shariah", o "las siete leyes de Noé"], es solo porque el Creador es un Dios compasivo, que provee un generoso acomodo a la frágil y extraviada condición humana. De este modo, quien sigue una Ley distinta a la de Moisés, no se encuentra en armonía con la perfecta voluntad Divina, sino que se refugia en la voluntad permisiva del Creador.

¿Y de donde sabemos que el Dios de Israel espera que tanto Hebreos como gentiles sigan una la misma Ley? Pues lo sabemos de la Escritura que dice: "UNA MISMA LEY Y UN MISMO DECRETO TENDRÉIS, VOSOTROS Y EL EXTRANJERO QUE CON VOSOTROS MORA"- Números 15:16. Y tambien dice en otro lugar: "EL NACIDO ENTRE LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL, Y EL EXTRANJERO QUE HABITARE ENTRE ELLOS, UNA MISMA LEY TENDRÉIS..."- Números 15:29

Is anti-semitism ever justified?

Often, antisemitism isn't only justified, but even compulsory. In fact, Hebrew Scriptures command believers to despise he who openly promotes evil and rebellion (usury, murder, atheism, homosexuality, etc). As is written: "WHO CAN LIVE IN YOUR TENT, LORD? WHO CAN DWELL ON YOUR HOLY MOUNTAIN? The person who... does what is right... and speaks the truth... SOMEONE WHO DESPISES THOSE WHO ACT WICKEDLY..."- Psalm 15:1-4 (Common English Bible). And even King David is quoted as threatening to wipe out any wicked Jew living upon the Land [of Israel]. As is written:

"But THE PERSON WHO ACTS DECEITFULLY won't stay in my house. THE PERSON WHO TELLS LIES WON'T LAST FOR LONG before me. Every morning I WILL DESTROY ALL THOSE WHO ARE WICKED IN THE LAND IN ORDER TO ELIMINATE ALL EVILDOERS FROM THE LORD'S CITY"- Psalm 101:7-8. Does the former means all Jews are evil? Not at all! It just means being Jewish doesn't give you any special privilege. If you sow goodness, it is right that you reap goodness; but if you sow evil, it is right that you reap evil (no matter if you are a Jew, or a gentile). May God have mercy of the Jewish people!

"The Jewish people as a whole will be its own Messiah. It will attain world dominion by the dissolution of other races, by the abolition of frontiers, the annihilation of monarchy, and by the establishment of a world republic in which the Jews will everywhere exercise the privilege of citizenship. In this new world order the Children of Israel will furnish all the leaders without encountering opposition. The Governments of the different peoples forming the world republic will fall without difficulty into the hands of the Jews. It will then be possible for the Jewish rulers to abolish private property, and everywhere to make use of the resources of the state. Thus will the promise of the Talmud be fulfilled, in which is said that when the Messianic time is come, the Jews will have all the property of the whole world in their hands."

What do Reformed Samaritans believe?

What is it that Reformed Samaritans believe? We believe that "the Law of Sowing and Reaping" is God's own true religion, and that each man must therefore "sow" unto his fellow human beings the same goodness he would wish to one day be able to reap for himself ("As you have done, it will be done to you..."- Obadiah 1:15). In addition, we believe such goodness consists of no less than 3 things:

- (1) The repentance and confession that leads us to abandon evil, in order to start doing good ("One who covers up his transgressions will not prosper, but whoever confesses and forsakes them finds mercy.... Turn from evil and do good, so you may live forever"- Proverbs 28:13 & Psalm 37:27, Tree of Life Version);
- (2) The acceptance of the yoke of God's kingdom, striving to follow the holy path of obedience to God's [Ten] commandments («And He declared unto you His covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even ten commandments; and he wrote them upon two tables of stone... Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: "Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man"»- Deuteronomy 4:13; Ecclesiastes 12:13, KJV);
- (3) The life of honesty, Justice, mercy, and humility that naturally develops when we love Adonai (the Lord God), as well as our fellow human beings ("Do not add to His words, or else He will rebuke You and prove you a liar... He has told you, humanity, what is good, and what Adonai is seeking from you: Only to practice justice, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God... Seek Adonai, all you humble of the land who have executed His judgment. Seek righteousness; seek meekness! ... Is it not to share your bread with the hungry, to bring the homeless poor into your house? When you see the naked, to cover him, and not hide yourself from your own flesh and blood? Then your light will break forth like the dawn, and your healing will spring up speedily. Your righteousness will go before you, the glory of Adonai as your rear guard”. Then you will call, and Adonai will answer. You will cry and He will say, “Here I am”. If you get rid of the yoke among you— finger-pointing and badmouthing— If you give yourself to the hungry, and satisfy the desire of the afflicted, then your light will rise in darkness, and your gloom will be like midday”- Proverbs 30:6, Micah 6:8, Zephaniah 2:3, & Isaiah 58:7-10, Tree Of Life Version).

Yeshua (Jesus of Nazareth, peace and blessing be upon him) was indeed a great man of God, but as it happens to any other man, Yeshua was flawed [and sometimes even arrogant]. Yet, as he was also sincere, he had no problem recognizing his faults. As is written: “And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God....”- Matthew 19:17, King James Bible.

Jesus was the Son of God, just as all true Hebrew believers are also the Son of God

Suffering Hebrew people are the true Son of God. As is written: “And thou shalt say unto Pharaoh, Thus saith the Lord, Israel is my Son, even my Firstborn”- Exodus 4:22 (KJV). And not only are we the Hebrew people Sons of God; but in a very real sense we even share part of God’s own nature (in other words, we too are gods!). As is written: «I said, “YOU [HEBREWS] ARE GODS; YOU ARE ALL SONS OF THE MOST HIGH...”»- Psalm 82:6. So, just as Jesus could rightfully consider himself to be the Son of God [being as he was a Hebrew believer], so too can we [as Samaritan Hebrew believers] consider ourselves to be Sons of God, and therefore brothers of Jesus. As is written: «And he [Jesus] answered and said unto them, “My mother and MY BRETHREN ARE THESE WHICH HEAR THE WORD OF GOD, AND DO IT”»- Luke 8:20-21. In other words, whenever a Hebrew believer displays the holiness, justice, mercy, and humility that characterizes his Father in Heaven, he is thereby bearing witness of being a true Son of God. As Jesus himself taught, when he went on to say: “... Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; THAT YE MAY [THEREBY] BE THE CHILDREN OF YOUR FATHER WHICH IS IN HEAVEN (SONS OF GOD!)...”- Matthew 5:44-45)

Los seguidores del Samaritanismo reformado no estamos en contra del mensaje que a Jesús de Nazaret adscriben los evangelios cristianos

Los seguidores del Samaritanismo reformado no estamos en contra de las palabras que a Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean con él) adscriben los evangelios cristianos. De hecho, creemos que

Jesús en efecto seguía una versión modificada (o "reformada") de la antigua religión Samaritana. Lo que objetamos, es la interpretación que de su mensaje universal hacen tanto el apóstol Pablo como el Cristianismo en general. Para nosotros, el mensaje de Jesús (un llamado a seguir su ejemplo de lo que significa una vida de servicio a Dios, arrepentimiento, y buenas obras) ha sido convertido en un culto a la personalidad humana de este grande y noble Samaritano.

The Message of Reformed Samaritanism

The implicit message of Moses Law isn't the nation of Israel. Neither is it the gentile nations of the World. Torah's implicit message isn't the land of Israel, the city of Jerusalem, nor is it the Sacred temple. In fact it is neither the figure of Abraham, Jacob, Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, nor any other prophet (peace and blessing be upon them all).

Torah's implicit message, is the logical [but revolutionary] idea that, the Law of 'measure by measure' (also known as the law of 'sowing and reaping', 'cause and effect', or 'action and reaction'), isn't limited to agrarian and/or physical subjects; rather, it's scope includes all non physical subjects [in other words, things like morality, consciousness, soul, and faith].

This Law of "measure for measure" states that we ought to stop doing evil, in order to start doing what is good. Why? Because the universe in which we exist is in itself subservient to the Divine law of 'measure for measure'. Thus, sooner or later the universe will have no other option but to make us to "reap" the same good [or evil] we have voluntarily "sowed".

And this will in turn be the manifestation of God's perfect judgment upon our lives- to give us the same blessings (or curses) we have freely chosen to sow upon our fellow human beings.

And the Torah confirms our claim that the Divine justice will make us "reap" the same [moral] fruit that, thru our 'works' [or 'actions'], we have 'sowed', when it goes on to say: "Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of wisdom, GOD FORBID THAT WICKEDNESS SHOULD BE IN GOD, and iniquity in the Almighty. FOR HE WILL RENDER UNTO MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORK, AND CAUSE EVERYONE TO FIND ACCORDING TO HIS WAY. And certainly God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment"- Job 34: 10-12 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

And also says in another place: "... FOR THOU [OH LORD] REWARDEST EVERYONE ACCORDING TO HIS WORK"- Psalm 62:12 (Geneva Bible, 1599); "... MY CHOSEN WILL ENJOY THE WORK OF HIS HANDS' (Isaiah 65:22). Finally, it says the following: "For many nations, and great kings shall even serve themselves of them: THUS WILL I RECOMPENSE THEM ACCORDING TO THEIR DEEDS, AND ACCORDING TO THE WORKS OF THEIR OWN HANDS"- Jeremiah 25:14 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

And further on: "If you [profess ignorance and] say, Behold, we did not know this, does not He Who weighs and ponders the heart perceive and consider it? And He Who guards your life, does not He know it? And SHALL NOT HE RENDER TO [YOU AND] EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORKS?- Proverbs 24:12 (Amplified Bible, Classic edition);

And the prophets also taught the law of sowing and reaping, when they went on to say: "Then the prophet Shemaiah went to Rehoboam and the leaders of Judah who were gathered at Jerusalem because of Shishak. He said to them, 'This is what the Lord says: YOU HAVE ABANDONED ME; THEREFORE, I HAVE ABANDONED YOU'..."- 2 Chronicles 12:5 (Christian Standard Bible);

"So tell the people, 'This is what the Lord of Armies says: RETURN TO ME —this is the declaration of the Lord of Armies— AND I WILL RETURN TO YOU'..."- Zechariah 1:3 (Christian Standard Bible)«And Adoni-Bezek said... "AS I HAVE DONE, SO GOD HATH REWARDED ME"..."»-

Judges 1:7 (Geneva Bible);

“For the day of the Lord is near, upon all the heathen: AS THOU HAST DONE, IT SHALL BE DONE TO THEE...”- Obadiah 1:15 (Geneva Bible); “SO THEY HANGED HAMAN ON THE GALLOWS THAT HE [HAMAN] HAD PREPARED FOR MORDECAI...”- Esther 7:10 (Amplified Bible)

Thus, it makes plain sense to think that, the well-being of each man rests upon his willingness to repent of his wickedness, thereby turning away from his evil behavior, in order to start doing the good works that please the Creator [in other words, obeying the Ten commandments of the Divine Law]. As it is written, “DEPART FROM EVIL AND DO GOOD; AND YOU WILL DWELL FOREVER [SECURELY]”- Psalm 37:27 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

Or as it says elsewhere: «All has been heard; THE END OF THE MATTER IS: “FEAR GOD [REVERE AND WORSHIP HIM, KNOWING THAT HE IS] AND KEEP HIS COMMANDMENTS, FOR THIS IS THE WHOLE OF MAN [THE FULL, ORIGINAL PURPOSE OF HIS CREATION, THE OBJECT OF GOD’S PROVIDENCE, THE ROOT OF CHARACTER, THE FOUNDATION OF ALL HAPPINESS, THE ADJUSTMENT TO ALL INHARMONIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES AND CONDITIONS UNDER THE SUN] AND THE WHOLE [DUTY] FOR EVERY MAN. FOR GOD SHALL BRING EVERY WORK INTO JUDGMENT, with every secret thing, whether it is good or evil”»- Ecclesiastes 12: 13-14 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

And even the Christian writings attest to the fact that God's righteous judgment consists in rewarding each person according to the good [or evil] he [or she] has performed.

As it is written: “And the sea gave up her dead, which were in her, and death and hell delivered up the dead, which were in them: AND THEY WERE JUDGED EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO THEIR WORKS”- Revelation 20:13 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

And they also say in another place: “BUT THOU, AFTER THINE HARDNESS, AND HEART THAT CANNOT REPENT, HEAPEST UP AS A TREASURE UNTO THYSELF WRATH AGAINST THE DAY OF WRATH, AND OF THE DECLARATION OF THE JUST JUDGMENT OF GOD, WHO WILL REWARD EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORKS: THAT IS, TO THEM WHICH THROUGH PATIENCE IN WELL DOING, SEEK GLORY, AND HONOR, AND IMMORTALITY, EVERLASTING LIFE...

TRIBULATION AND ANGUISH SHALL BE UPON THE SOUL OF EVERY MAN THAT DOETH EVIL: OF THE JEW FIRST, AND ALSO OF THE GRECIAN. BUT TO EVERY MAN THAT DOETH GOOD, SHALL BE GLORY, AND HONOR, AND PEACE: TO THE JEW FIRST, AND ALSO TO THE GRECIAN”- Romans 2: 5-7, & 9-10 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

Thus, when any person [or any thing], stirs up our hearts, turning us away from our rebellious obstinacy [in order to start obeying God's commandments], such person [or such thing] has thereby become the promised Redeemer (or Messiah)- He who has come to save us. As it has been said: “And THE REDEEMER SHALL COME UNTO ZION (UNTO WHOM SHALL THE REDEEMER COME?)... UNTO THEM THAT TURN FROM INIQUITY (REPENT) IN JACOB, saith the Lord” - Isaiah 59:20 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

Again, the fact that the road to everlasting Life is to be found in the performance of the good ordained by God upon the two stone tablets, is such a paramount and undeniable truth, that both the Holy Gospel, as well as the Noble Qur'an, confirms it.

As it is written: “And he [Jesus] said unto him, Why called thou me good? there is none good but one, even God: BUT IF THOU WILT ENTER INTO [EVERLASTING] LIFE, KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS.... THOU SHALT NOT KILL: THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY:

THOU SHALT NOT STEAL: THOU SHALT NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS. HONOR THY FATHER, AND MOTHER: AND, THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOR AS THYSELF”-

Matthew 19: 17-19 (Geneva Bible, 1599);

And also says in another Scripture: “Allah (GOD) HAS PROMISED THOSE WHO BELIEVE AND WORK RIGHTEOUSNESS: THEY WILL HAVE FORGIVENESS AND A GREAT REWARD [IN THE WORLD TO COME]”- Qur'an, Surah 5:9.

ZIONISM EXPLAINED

The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion - a Summary

01. Place our agents and helpers everywhere
02. Take control of the media and use it in propaganda for our plans
03. Start fights between different races, classes and religions
04. Use bribery, threats and blackmail to get our way
05. Use Freemasonic Lodges to attract potential public officials
06. Appeal to successful people's egos
07. Appoint puppet leaders who can be controlled by blackmail
08. Replace royal rule with socialist rule, then communism, then despotism
09. Abolish all rights and freedoms, except the right of force by us
10. Sacrifice people (including Jews sometimes) when necessary
11. Eliminate religion; replace it with science and materialism
12. Control the education system to spread deception and destroy intellect
13. Rewrite history to our benefit (Zionism - NWO)
14. Create entertaining distractions
15. Corrupt minds with filth and perversion (Jewish Zionists)
16. Encourage people to spy on one another
17. Keep the masses in poverty and perpetual labor
18. Take possession of all wealth, property and (especially) gold
19. Use gold to manipulate the markets, cause depressions etc.
20. Introduce a progressive tax on wealth
21. Replace sound investment with speculation
22. Make long-term interest-bearing loans to governments
23. Give bad advice to governments and everyone else
24. Blame the victim

The Trinity is a misguided doctrine, even when measured by Christian Standards

The noble Christian theology claims that God is composed of 3 entities; namely, one father (YHVH), one son (Jesus), and one spirit (the holy spirit). But the former is not only a denial of the revelation previously given by God to Israel, but also of the revelation given by New Testament itself. Why? Simply because, if we were to take the words of the New Testament at face value, we would have to say that God isn't composed of three entities (one father, one son, and one spirit), but rather nine entities (one father, one son, and seven spirits).

In other words, the New testament describes the father as seated on His throne, the son as seated at his right hand side, and His seven spirits standing in front of Him. As is written: “John to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and FROM THE SEVEN SPIRITS WHICH ARE BEFORE HIS THRONE”- Revelation 1:4, King James Version; “And unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith He that hath THE SEVEN SPIRITS OF GOD...”- Revelation 3:1;

“And out of the throne proceeded lightnings and thunderings and voices: and THERE WERE SEVEN LAMPS OF FIRE BURNING BEFORE THE THRONE, WHICH ARE THE SEVEN SPIRITS OF GOD”- Revelation 4:5; “And I beheld, and, lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, WHICH ARE THE SEVEN SPIRITS OF GOD...”- Revelation 5:6

La noble teología Cristiana, es poco mas que piadoso terrorismo religioso

El concepto de “Salvación por Fe” que tanto enfatizan nuestros amados hermanos Cristianos, no es sino un sagaz eufemismo (es decir, “un nombre bonito”), para lo que en realidad es “la esclavitud psicológica” que sufre el hombre que se somete voluntariamente a la dictadura ideológica del Cristianismo- una teología que aterroriza a sus adeptos, así como a todo aquel que pretenda retar el poder de su imperio religioso.

Es que, el Evangelio, prefigura a Jesús [un hombre de carne y hueso], como un dios tiránico, altanero, y orgulloso; un dios que tiene las “agallas” de sugerir a sus adeptos la siguiente idea: “te amo y te quiero tanto, que estuve dispuesto a morir por ti en la cruz del Calvario; pero, si no aceptas incondicionalmente [y sin cuestionamiento alguno] todas y cada una de las contradicciones e incoherencias contenidas en mi Evangelio, haré que ardas para siempre en el infierno”.

En cambio, el Dios de los Hebreos condena esta altanera y orgullosa aptitud; pues su Palabra enseña que, los orgullosos [aquellos que pretenden decir que sus palabras son finales y absolutas], no son quienes han de heredar el mundo que ha de venir; sino que seran en cambio los mansos. Como esta escrito: «Pero los mansos heredarán la Tierra»- Salmo 37:11; y también dice la Escritura: «He aquí que aquel cuya alma no es recta, se enorgullece; mas el justo por su fe vivirá [es decir, vivirá por su fe en que, los mansos, habrán de heredar la Tierra]»- Habacuc 2:4.

Es que יהוה [el Dios de Israel, bendito sea], no se agrada de ningún hombre de carne y hueso que tenga la osadía de demandar ciega obediencia a lo que ha salido de su boca. ¿Porque? Pues porque, tal aptitud, es el colmo del orgullo, así como de la altanería; la vanidad del hombre finito, que tiene la desfachatez de demandar que otros depositen en su persona una fe que ni siquiera el Dios infinito demandó jamás de sus seguidores [como si, la fe en la palabra de un hombre finito y mortal, fuese mas valiosa que la fe en la palabra de un Dios infinito, e inmortal].

Y, ¿como sabemos que, el Dios infinito, no aterroriza a su pueblo demandando [so pena de castigo eterno] que este crea ciegamente [y sin cuestionamiento] en todo lo que ha salido de su boca? Pues lo sabemos porque así lo muestra la Torah. ¿Donde? Pues en el relato de los tres ángeles que hablaron con Avraham [donde el Patriarca porfía exitosamente con Dios, según Génesis 18:32]; tambien lo vemos en el relato de los hombres que se vieron impedidos de participar en la primera Pascua celebrada en el desierto [donde estos últimos porfían exitosamente con Dios, logrando que se les permitiese celebrar una segunda pascua un mes mas tarde, según Números 9:6-11]; y lo vemos en el relato de las hijas de Zelofehad [quienes porfiaron exitosamente con Dios, logrando que se cambiase lo dicho por Dios acerca de las herencias, de modo que estas pudiesen heredar de su padre, según Números 27:1-7].

Lo mismo sucedió con Ezequías, quien luchó con el Creador en oración, logrando que este último anulase el decreto de muerte que pesaba contra su persona, según 2da de Reyes 20:1-6.

De igual modo, la Escritura muestra que cuando el Creador ordenó a Gedeón marchar contra los Madianitas, Gedeón no creyó ciegamente en la palabra dicha por Dios. ¿Se molesto Dios con Gedeón? ¿Le castigó por dudar de su palabra? ¿Por ser incrédulo, en vez de creyente?

¡Absolutamente no! Es que el Dios de Israel no cree en la abdicación del intelecto; no espera que cometamos “suicidio intelectual”, ni tampoco demanda que abdiquemos de nuestro raciocinio. En otras palabras, como las dudas de Gedeón eran sinceras y honestas, Dios no solo le dió las [tres] pruebas que pidió, sino que hasta le dió una [cuarta] adicional. Como esta escrito:

17. Y él respondió: Yo te ruego que si he hallado gracia delante de ti, me des señal de que tú has hablado conmigo.

21. Y extendiendo el ángel de יהוה el báculo que tenía en su mano, tocó con la punta la carne y los panes sin levadura; y subió fuego de la peña, el cual consumió la carne y los panes sin levadura. Y el ángel de יהוה desapareció de su vista.

36. Y Gedeón dijo a Dios: Si has de salvar a Israel por mi mano, como has dicho,

37. he aquí que yo pondré un vellón de lana en la era; y si el rocío estuviere en el vellón solamente, quedando seca toda la otra tierra, entonces entenderé que salvarás a Israel por mi mano, como lo has dicho.

38. Y aconteció así, pues cuando se levantó de mañana, exprimió el vellón y sacó de él el rocío, un tazón lleno de agua.

39. Mas Gedeón dijo a Dios: No se encienda tu ira contra mí, si aún hablare esta vez; solamente probaré ahora otra vez con el vellón. Te ruego que solamente el vellón quede seco, y el rocío sobre la tierra.

40. Y aquella noche lo hizo Dios así; sólo el vellón quedó seco, y en toda la tierra hubo rocío.

9. Aconteció que aquella noche יהוה le dijo: Levántate, y descende al campamento; porque yo lo he entregado en tus manos.

10. Y si tienes temor de descender, baja tú con Fura tu criado al campamento,

11. y oirás lo que hablan; y entonces tus manos se esforzarán

--Jueces 6:17, 21, 36-40; & 7:9-11

Paul was gravely mistaken, when he claimed justification is by faith in Jesus suffering

Christianity is an awesome religion. But Christian theology is sorely mistaken. Consider the following example: The apostle Paul claims that, in the eyes of God, we cannot achieve justification by merely pursuing the life of righteousness demanded by God’s Law. Why? Because if so, then Jesus death was in vain (“... FOR IF RIGHTEOUSNESS COME BY THE LAW, THEN CHRIST IS DEAD IN VAIN”- Galatians 2:21). In other words, Paul implies Jesus (peace be upon him) was too great of a figure for the Law not to recognize his suffering [in the cross] as the supreme standard of obtaining God’s approval. What’s the problem with this otherwise logical argument? The problem is that, when thoroughly examined, we find it to be no more than “wishful thinking” (a purely subjective claim, with no support from the Hebrew Scripture). Why? Because we might use the same line of reasoning to justify the life and ministry of any other great and beloved religious figure, as would be the case with Zoroaster, Muhammad, Joseph Smith, Ellen G. White, William Marrion Branham, etc. In fact, a true Hebrew believer would have grounds to state the opposite of Paul: that justification cannot be achieved only by faith; as if justification is only by faith, then the works and sufferings of Noah, Job, and Daniel (whom pursued the life of righteousness described by God’s Law) were all in vain; that the life of righteousness [and Justice] pursued by these men was just too great not to be recognized as the supreme standard for obtaining God’s approval. And Scripture actually gives us ground to believe that denying what we have just said would be utter foolishness, as the Creator himself bears witness of it, when He goes on to say: “Son of man, when the land sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the staff of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and will cut off man and beast from it: THOUGH THESE THREE MEN, NOAH, DANIEL, AND JOB, WERE IN IT, THEY SHOULD DELIVER BUT THEIR OWN SOULS BY THEIR RIGHTEOUSNESS, SAITH THE LORD GOD.... Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast: THOUGH NOAH, DANIEL, AND JOB WERE IN IT, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; THEY SHALL BUT DELIVER THEIR OWN SOULS BY THEIR RIGHTEOUSNESS [NOT THE RIGHTEOUSNESS OF JESUS, NOR ANY OTHER MAN]”- Ezekiel 14:13-14, & 19-20 (King James Bible). And the fact that pursuing a life of righteousness [and not necessarily faith in Jesus alleged atoning sacrifice], is the supreme means of escaping God’s wrath is also corroborated in the verse where the Creator goes on to say: «... when I [God] say unto the wicked, “Thou shalt surely die [in the world to come]!”; IF HE TURN [IN SINCERE REPENTANCE] FROM HIS SIN, AND DO THAT WHICH IS LAWFUL AND RIGHT; If the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had robbed, walk in the statutes of life, without committing iniquity; HE SHALL SURELY LIVE, HE SHALL NOT DIE. NONE OF HIS SINS THAT HE HATH COMMITTED SHALL BE MENTIONED UNTO HIM: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.... When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby. But IF THE WICKED TURN FROM HIS WICKEDNESS, AND DO THAT WHICH IS LAWFUL AND RIGHT, HE SHALL LIVE THEREBY”- Ezekiel 33:14-14, & 18-19*

Christianity is a great religion, but it's open denial of God's original revelation, can prevent many of it's followers from entering into the Heavenly Jerusalem (the Kingdom of God)

1) The New Testament states that the believer's submission to God's Law (with it's system of prescribed moral and social behavior, it's code of ethics, and it's rewards and punishments) ended with John the Baptist ("The law and the prophets were until John"- Luke 16:16). But the fact is that the New Testament doesn't provide a functional replacement for God's Law; no clear and objective system of settling civil or criminal disputes arising between Christian believers. So, for all practical purposes, Christianity replaced submission to God's Holy Law, with submission to Roman (Pagan) law. And that's why, during Paul's time, many believers had no option but to let heathens settle Christian disputes ("Dare any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?... brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers"- 1 Corinthians 6:1&6).

2) The New Testament teaches that it is the Devil who rules over the earthly kingdoms, and can therefore give them to whomever he pleases: "And the devil, taking him up into a high mountain, shewed unto him all THE KINGDOMS OF THE WORLD in a moment of time. And THE DEVIL SAID UNTO HIM, ALL THIS POWER WILL I GIVE THEE, AND THE GLORY OF THEM: FOR THAT IS DELIVERED UNTO ME; AND TO WHOMSOEVER I WILL I GIVE IT. If thou therefore wilt worship me, all shall be thine" (Luke 4:5-7). But these verses contradict the Holy Scripture, which states that it is God who rules over the earthly kingdoms, and gives them to whosoever He pleases: "This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones; to the intent THAT THE LIVING MAY KNOW THAT THE MOST HIGH RULETH IN THE KINGDOM OF MEN, AND GIVETH IT TO WHOMSOEVER HE WILL, and setteth up over it the basest of men" (Daniel 4:17).

3) The New Testament states that there's no righteous man, as all have fallen (sinned at least once) and are thus under God's curse: "... As it is written, THERE IS NONE RIGHTEOUS, NO, NOT ONE; There is none that understandeth, There is none that seeketh after God; They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable; There is none that doeth good, no, not, so much as one" (Romans 3:10-12). But these verses contradicts the Scripture, that teaches though the righteous may fall, if he repents ("riseth up again"), he'll still be considered righteous- "FOR A RIGHTEOUS MAN FALLETH SEVEN TIMES, AND RISETH UP AGAIN" (Proverbs 24:16).

4) The New Testament states that he who gets circumcised (in order to obey the Law) has fallen from the faith, and cannot therefore be saved- "... IF YE RECEIVE CIRCUMCISION, CHRIST WILL PROFIT YOU NOTHING. Yea, I testify again to every man that receiveth circumcision, that he is a debtor to do the whole law. Ye are severed from Christ, ye would be justified by the Law; YE ARE FALLEN AWAY FROM GRACE" (Galatians 5:3-4). But these verses contradict the Scripture that specifies it's precisely the uncircumcised who will be prevented from entering the Heavenly Jerusalem (the kingdom of God)- "O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O JERUSALEM, THE HOLY CITY: FOR HENCEFORTH THERE SHALL NO MORE COME INTO THEE THE UNCIRCUMCISED and the unclean" (Isaiah 52:1).

5) The New Testament states that God's favor (and His forgiveness), isn't achieved by doing good, but rather by faith- "FOR BY GRACE YOU HAVE BEEN SAVED, THROUGH FAITH, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, NOT BY WORKS, lest anyone should boast” (Ephesians 2:8-9). But this passage contradicts the Scripture, that teaches the Lord is not only pleased with those who do good and abandon evil, but will even grant them forgiveness: “PUT AWAY THE EVIL OF YOUR DOINGS from before My eyes. CEASE TO DO EVIL, LEARN TO DO GOOD; SEEK JUSTICE, REBUKE THE OPPRESSOR; DEFEND THE FATHERLESS, PLEAD FOR THE WIDOW. Come now, and let us reason together, says the Lord, THOUGH YOUR SINS ARE LIKE SCARLET, THEY SHALL BE AS WHITE AS SNOW; THOUGH THEY ARE RED LIKE CRIMSON, THEY SHALL BE AS WOOL. IF YOU ARE WILLING AND OBEDIENT (TO THIS COMMAND) YOU SHALL EAT THE GOOD OF THE LAND; but if you refuse and rebel, You shall be devoured by the sword” (Isaiah 1:16-20)

Abandon this day all kind of falsehood! Choose instead to enter the Kingdom of God, by saying the following prayer: “Oh God of Abraham, I repent from my sins. I acknowledge that you want me abandon deception, to stop doing evil, and to start doing the good that pleases You. You want me to fear You, by obeying your (Ten) commandments (Ecclesiastes 12:13-14). I’m weak, oh Lord!, please grant me the strength I need in order to live the life that pleases you; a life of truthfulness, justice, mercy, and meekness (Micah 6:8); a life of obedience to your commandments (Leviticus 18:5). Thank you God, because I know that if I do my part, you’ll do Your part, thus completing what I’m missing, and letting me into your Holy City (the Heavenly Jerusalem). Thank you for what you have done this day in my life, and for the victory you’ll show me in the end (Jeremiah 29:11). Amen.

Did Jesus raise from the dead?

A faith in Jesus Christ that is coupled with sincere repentance, as well as deeds of loving kindness can definitely bring salvation upon the man who lives away from God’s Law (the non Hebrew). But as for the Hebrew believer, God’s Law demands two or more credible adult [male] witnesses, in order to establish the validity of any “life or death” situation (“On the evidence of two or three witnesses, he who is to die shall be put to death; he shall not be put to death on the evidence of [only] one witness”- Deuteronomy 17:6, Amplified Bible).

And, since no credible witnesses were around Jesus tomb at the moment of his alleged resurrection, therefore the Hebrew believer cannot accept it as a proven fact. And since the validity of Jesus resurrection cannot be legally accepted [as a proven fact], then neither can the validity of his alleged atoning sacrifice [which depended upon his resurrection] be accepted.

As is written: “and if Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is vain [useless, amounting to nothing], and your faith is also vain [imaginary, unfounded, devoid of value and benefit—not based on truth].... and if Christ has not been raised, your faith is worthless and powerless [mere delusion]; you are still in your sins [and under the control and penalty of sin]. ”- 1 Corinthians 15:14&17.

And the former is further confirmed by the Hebrew Scripture, when it goes on to say: «O Lord my strength, my fortress, my refuge in the day of affliction, THE GENTILES SHALL COME UNTO THEE FROM THE ENDS OF THE EARTH, AND SHALL SAY- “SURELY OUR FATHERS HAVE INHERITED LIES, VANITY, AND THINGS WHEREIN THERE IS NO PROFIT. Shall man make gods unto himself...?” (in other words, shall a wise man come to believe that the Creator is mere dust, just like himself?)»- Jeremiah 16:19

How can you deny Jesus own words, and then shamelessly pretend to be his "truthful" messenger?

"I am ascending to my Father and your Father" (John 20:17)

"My Father is greater than I" (John 14:28)

"That means Jesus is equal with the Father"

Why is following the Commandments a safer path (to Heaven) than is to believe in any Messianic prophecy?

«These words the Lord spake unto all your assembly in the mount out of the midst of the fire, of the cloud, and of the thick darkness, with a great voice: and He added no more. And He wrote them in two tablets of stone, and delivered them unto me» (Deuteronomy 5:22). Too many of our dear Christian brothers choose to follow Paul's Christian theology, instead of Jesus Hebrew theology. Why were the ten commandments written upon stone tablets, whereas the rest of Torah was written upon lamb skins? It's in order to teach us that, just as the stone has a much heavier weight than the lamb skins, so does obedience to the ten commandments (written in stone) has a much heavier weight than believing in the Messiah, the restoration of Israel, the rebuilding of the Temple, or the salvation of the gentile nations (things written only upon lamb skins); It aims at teaching us that, just as a stone will always outlast any lamb skin, so will the ten commandments outlast belief in the Messiah, in the restoration of Israel, in the rebuilding of the Temple, or in the salvation of the gentile nations. Why is obedience to the good enjoined in the commandments so important? It is so simply because God's judgment is perfectly righteous (in other words, it is "performance based"), so that every man will [in the end] reap the same good (or evil) he has sowed; he'll be blessed with the same blessings he bestowed upon his fellow human beings, and be cursed with the same curses he bestowed upon his fellow human beings (and from which he never repented). That's why God has promised to bless those who do good (obeying His commandments), as is written: "showing loving kindness unto thousands of them that love Me AND KEEP MY COMMANDMENTS" (Exodus 20:6). It's also the reason why the Hebrew Jesus (God's peace be upon Him) is quoted saying the following: "but IF THOU WOULDST ENTER INTO LIFE, KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS!" (Matthew 19:17). Admitting his theology isn't perfect, is extremely hard for any Christian believer, as it requires a lot of humility. But that's why God has promised good tidings to the meek, as is written: "Yah hath anointed me to preach GOOD TIDINGS UNTO THE MEEK" (Isaiah 61:1). Notice the verse states that the "good tidings" aren't for the perfectly righteous, for the wise, for those who have faith, nor for those who "believe"; they are for the meek! (thus intimating that the meek has already achieved righteousness, wisdom, and faith).

What earthly profit will you gain from accepting this knowledge? Absolutely none! But it will give you a supernatural fortitude. You'll feel the strength of he who is standing upon an unshakable foundation (the rock of God's commandments); a strength that will let you conquer depression, as well as the fear and despair that comes with sickness and poverty. You'll have the certainty of knowing that, no matter what happens to you, God will be faithful to reward you; not for any lip service you might offer Him (He's not interested in any lip service, as it leads mankind to end up "having God in their hearts, but the Devil in their hands"), but for sowing the good works that please Him.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

DOES THE SPIRIT OF MAN CEASE TO EXIST UPON DEATH?

How does Torah (Moses Law) teach us that the spirit of man is just as immortal as it's Creator? It does so by stating God wanted the Temple lamp to constantly burn. As is written: "Command the children of Israel, that they bring unto thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, TO CAUSE THE LAMP (נֵר) TO BURN CONTINUALLY"- Leviticus 24:2, King Jame Bible. In the former verse, what does the Temple represent? It represents the human body, as correctly taught by the Christian gospel, when it goes on to say: "Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.... BUT HE SPAKE OF THE TEMPLE OF HIS BODY"- John 2:19-21. And what does the temple lamp represents? It represents man's spirit, as is written: "THE SPIRIT OF MAN IS THE CANDLE OF THE LORD (נֵר יְהוָה, נִשְׁמַת אָדָם) ..."- Proverbs 20:27. Thus, Hebrew Scripture teaches that, just as God doesn't want the lamp of His temple to ever be extinguished, He likewise doesn't want the spirit (the lamp of the human temple) to ever be extinguished.

There is no Divine wisdom aside from God's Law

The Reformed Samaritan faith is based upon The Law, as given by God to our master Moses at the top of Mount Sinai. And the nature of this Divine code is such that it gives it's followers a clarity of mind that naturally makes them "head", instead of "tail" (leaders, instead of followers). As is written: "And THE LORD SHALL MAKE THEE THE HEAD, AND NOT THE TAIL; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the Lord thy God, which I command thee this day, to observe and to do them"- Deuteronomy 28:13. Not only that, but God himself promises that even the gentile (non Hebrew believing) nations of the World would recognize their wisdom. As is written: «Keep therefore and do them; FOR THIS IS YOUR WISDOM AND YOUR UNDERSTANDING IN THE SIGHT OF THE NATIONS, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, "SURELY THIS GREAT NATION IS A WISE AND UNDERSTANDING PEOPLE!"»- Deuteronomy 4:6. Thus, as soon as the Hebrew believer abandons God's Law, he loses his intelligence, and can no longer tell apart the left path, from the right path (the animal-like behavior, from the human-like behavior). As is written: "... should not I spare Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than SIXSCORE THOUSAND PERSONS THAT CANNOT DISCERN BETWEEN THEIR RIGHT HAND AND THEIR LEFT HAND...?"- Jonah 4:11. In fact, the man who abandons God's Law loses his wisdom, and can no longer tell apart good from evil; thus, he ends up praising the wicked, currying their approval. As is written: "THEY THAT FORSAKE THE LAW PRAISE THE WICKED: but such as keep the Law contend with them"- Proverbs 28:4.

But what is the precise nature of this Divine wisdom? How does it works? Well, the answer to this question is surprisingly simple. You see, obedience to God’s commandments (do not steal, do not lie, do not murder, keep the Sabbath, honor your parents, do not commit adultery, help the needy, do not oppress the weak, let slaves go free, respect other people’s property, flee from corruption, etc) puts your mind in tune with the Divine order of the Universe; with the universal law of “measure, for measure”; “sowing, and reaping”; “cause, and effect”; “you reap, what you have sowed”; “what goes around, comes around”; “the tree, is known by it’s fruit”, etc. Thus, the Hebrew believer cannot be easily fooled by ideological smoke screens, theological sophism, logical fallacies, nor crafty flattering techniques. Why? Because God’s Law has shaped his psyche, giving him a “results oriented” mindset. Therefore, the seemingly unsolvable issues that so often mislead the gentile mindset (Is homosexuality OK? Are men and women really equal? Is salvation achieved by faith?, Is Jesus God? Is Muhammad God’s great last prophet?, Has the Law been abolished?, etc) are non issues for the Hebrew believer. Why? Because he instinctively knows that, no matter the name that is given to the issue, anything that push him away from the Law [or tries to seduce him to deny what the Law commands], amounts to the worship of a strange God. As is written: “Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse; A blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day: And A CURSE, IF YE WILL NOT OBEY THE COMMANDMENTS OF THE LORD YOUR GOD, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, TO GO AFTER OTHER GODS, WHICH YE HAVE NOT KNOWN”- Deuteronomy 11:26-28.

Solo la Ley de Dios Es Verdadera

Ni el nombre “Ha Satan” (Satanás), ni el nombre “Mashiach” (Mesías), aparecen siquiera una sola vez en el único documento que, siendo escrito por el dedo mismo de יהוה, es 100% inspirado. ¿Cual es ese documento? ¡Pues los diez Mandamientos!; aquellos diez “dichos” dados por Dios a Moisés, sobre las dos tablas de Piedra. ¿Por que no incluye este decálogo de mandamientos, los nombres Satanás y Mesías? ¿Será acaso que a יהוה (el Dios omnisciente) se le olvidan las cosas importantes? ¿O será en cambio que desea mostrarnos que, creer en el Mesías [o en Satanás], no compara en importancia con el abstenernos del robo, de la mentira, del adulterio, de la codicia, de la idolatría, y de deshonrar a nuestros padres? ¿No sera que el Creador intenta enseñarnos que, si hacemos el bien ordenado en las dos tablas de piedra, ningún Satanás podrá privarnos del favor y la bendición de יהוה ; pero que, si vivimos en rebeldía a lo ordenado en las dos piedras, ningún Mesías podrá conferirnos el favor y la bendición de יהוה?

The reason why the God of Moses will never become a man of flesh and blood

There are certain things the God of Moses (blessed be He) has decided never to do: One of then is to never be evil (“He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all His ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He”- Deuteronomy 32:4), and another one is to never allow His people to embrace the moral corruption of associating Him with the image of any man. As is written: “Take ye therefore good heed unto yourselves; for ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the Lord spake unto you in Horeb out of the midst of the fire: LEST YE CORRUPT YOURSELVES, AND MAKE YOU A GRAVEN IMAGE, THE SIMILITUDE OF ANY FIGURE, THE LIKENESS OF MALE or female”- (Deuteronomy 4:15-16, KJV).

And the latter might be the reason why Scripture goes on to say: “GOD IS NO MAN...” (Numbers 23:19, KJV). And elsewhere says: “... THE STRENGTH OF ISRAEL WILL NOT LIE NOR REPENT: FOR HE IS NOT A MAN...” (1 Samuel 15:29, KJV). And even Jesus of Nazareth is quoted saying: “GOD IS SPIRIT ...” (John 4:24, KJV).

But why is so morally wrong to claim God is a man? Simply because no man is free from sin (that is, free from moral corruption); as is written: “FOR THERE IS NOT A JUST MAN UPON EARTH, THAT DOETH GOOD, AND SINNETH NOT” (Ecclesiastes 7:20, KJV); And also says, “YET THE CHILDREN OF MEN ARE VANITY, THE CHIEF MEN ARE LIARS: to lay them upon a balance THEY ARE ALTOGETHER LIGHTER THAN VANITY” (Psalm 62:9, 1599 Geneva Bible).

Thus, claiming God is a man, is a subtle way of blaspheming the Creator; implying that, just as it happens with every man, He too is a morally corrupted being (a vain liar!).

The God of Abraham doesn't play, “Hide and seek”

The God of the Hebrews isn't a tyrant, nor is He a religious dictator who plays with His people a cruel game of “hide and seek”. All He demands from those who seek Him is that they do the goodness entailed in His 10 commandments, so they can earn the right to reap a good harvest; a plentiful reward for “the good seed” they have planted for His glory.

As is written: «This commandment that I'm giving you right now is definitely not too difficult for you. It isn't unreachable. It isn't up in heaven somewhere so that you have to ask, “Who will go up for us to heaven and get it for us that we can hear it and do it?”

Nor is it across the ocean somewhere so that you have to ask, “Who will cross the ocean for us and get it for us that we can hear it and do it?” Not at all! The word is very close to you. It's in your mouth and in your heart, waiting for you to do it. Look here! Today I've set before you life and what's good versus death and what's wrong.

If you obey the Lord your God's commandments that I'm commanding you right now by loving the Lord your God, by walking in his ways, and by keeping his commandments, his regulations, and his case laws, then you will live and thrive, and the Lord your God will bless you in the land you are entering to possess.

But if your heart turns away and you refuse to listen, and so are misled, worshiping other gods and serving them, I'm telling you right now that you will definitely die. You will not prolong your life on the fertile land that you are crossing the Jordan River to enter and possess»- Deuteronomy 30:11-18, Common English Bible.

And the fact that God just wants us to do good, is also attested by the prophet, when he says: “He has told you, human one, what is good and what the Lord requires from you: to do justice, embrace faithful love, and walk humbly with your God”- Micah 6:8.

In fact, even Jesus of Nazareth is quoted bearing witness of this Divine truth, when he goes on to say:

“But I say to you, love your enemies and pray for those who harass you, so that you will be acting as children of your Father who is in heaven. He makes the sun rise on both the evil and the good, and sends rain on both the righteous and the unrighteous... Therefore, you should treat people in the same way that you want people to treat you; [for] this is the Law, and the Prophets”- Matthew 5:44-45, & 7:12

The curious theology supporting Samaritan’s faith in Moses second coming

Many Samaritan believers expect a second coming. Not a second coming of Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be upon him), but rather a second coming of prophet Moses. Why? Simply because God’s Law [which cannot ever be abrogated] states that, thru the lips of Moses, God had spoken unto the whole nation of Israel.

And what did He tell them? He promised that, if they would just follow Moses, the latter would bring all of them into the Promised Land (a symbol of Paradise). As is written:

«Go and assemble the elders of Israel and say to them: “The Lord, the God of your ancestors, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, has appeared to me and said: ‘I have paid close attention to you and to what has been done to you in Egypt. And I have promised you that I will bring you up from the misery of Egypt to the land of the Canaanites, Hethites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites—a land flowing with milk and honey”. They will listen to what you say...» (Exodus 3:16-18, Christian Standard Bible).

Notice how God’s promise to Israel seems to be unconditional- As long as they physically follow Moses, their entrance into the Land was assured. But the fact is that not all of those who remained at Moses side made it, as over 600,000 perished in the wilderness: “Your corpses will fall in this wilderness—all of you who were registered in the census, the entire number of you twenty years old or more...” - Numbers 14:29.

Thus, many Israelite leaders raised a worthy complain: “Is there anything false within God’s law? Is God a liar?, Is Moses also a liar? Where is the fulfillment of the promise made to us?”. As is written: “Is it not enough that you brought us up from a land flowing with milk and honey [the land of Goshen, located in Egypt] to kill us in the wilderness?... Furthermore, you didn’t bring us [as you had promised] to a land flowing with milk and honey, or give us an inheritance of fields and vineyards [in the promised Land of Canaan]...”- Numbers 16:13-14.

But the fact is that God is no man, that He should repent; nor is He a son of man, that He shouldn’t stand by His promise. As is written: “Furthermore, the Eternal One of Israel does not lie or change his mind, for He is not man who changes his mind”- 1 Samuel 15:29.

And also says, “God is not a man, that He might lie, or a son of man, that He might change His mind. Does he speak and not act, or promise and not fulfill?”- Numbers 23:19.

In other words, if God had promised that Moses would personally bring Israel into the Promised Land, no power in the universe (not even death!) will prevent it from happening. But isn’t Moses long since dead? How can a dead person guide any man, let alone do any physical thing?

As a matter of fact, even if an Israelite could speak with Moses spirit, it would be a violation of God’s Law, as the Law condemns any sort of communication with the dead (“A man or a woman who is a medium or a spiritist must be put to death. They are to be stoned; their death is their own fault”- Leviticus 20:27).

How could God ever be able to fulfill a promise made so long ago to Israel? Although shocking, the answer to this seemingly unsolvable conundrum is quite straightforward.

You see, just as Christianity claims Jesus was miraculously resurrected by God, in order to return again and finish his [allegedly] global redemption process, so do many Samaritans also believe that God will resurrect Moses, in order to let him fulfill the promise made to Israel thousands of years ago.

Curiously, the Christian gospel hints at the idea that God has already resurrected Moses, and that the latter will come back together with Elijah [the Messiah's forerunner]; as if to imply that Moses will be Israel's final [human] Messiah: "As he was praying, the appearance of his face changed, and his clothes became dazzling white.

Suddenly, TWO MEN WERE TALKING WITH HIM—MOSES AND ELIJAH. They appeared in glory and were speaking of his departure, which he was about to accomplish in Jerusalem"- Luke 9:29-31.

In the former passage, notice how both Moses and Elijah are called "Men". But how can Moses [a dead person] be considered equal to Elijah [a living person, as Elijah never died]? Shouldn't the verse say, "two men were talking with him- MOSES SPIRIT and Elijah"?

In fact, if Moses was still dead at that point, then Jesus was openly breaking the Law that prevented Hebrews from talking to the dead! Was Jesus (peace be upon him) a Law breaking sinner? Was he talking to the dead?

Again, the verse only makes sense if Christians assume Jesus wasn't talking to a dead but rather a living ("Resurrected") Moses. A Moses giving him the guidance one day he'll give again not only to Jesus, but even unto to all Israel, finally taking them all into the Promised Land

A message to our beloved Christian brothers

We the followers of Reformed Samaritans truly respect the sincerity of your belief in Paul's message of grace thru the faith in Jesus Christ. But we feel compelled to warn you of the grave danger you might be exposing yourselves, by following Paul's dogma. Have you ever considered the possibility of Jesus never preaching the ideas Christianity holds so dear?

Have you consider the fact that, according to the original Bible ("The Old Testament"), there is a very real possibility that we have all been deceived not only by the otherwise well intended apostle Paul, but even by the rest of the gospel writers, whom have fed us the sweet little lies we've always [secretly] wanted to hear- namely, that we can obtain "all the Godly benefits", without having to assume any of the corresponding "responsibilities" ("Salvation by Faith").

If that is so, then we better listen to "The Old testament" exhortations, as well as to Jesus own words, when he warns us saying that, "faith without works" will lead us straight into hell. As is written: «... "Depart from me, you who are cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels! For I was hungry and you gave me nothing to eat; I was thirsty and you gave me nothing to drink; was a stranger and you didn't take me in; I was naked and you didn't clothe me, sick and in prison and you didn't take care of me". Then they too will answer, "Lord, when did we see you hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or without clothes, or sick, or in prison, and not help you?". Then he will answer them, "Truly I tell you, whatever you did not do for one of the least of these, you did not do for me". And they will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life»- Matthew 25:41-46.

May the God of our father Abraham bless you all, and guide you into the path of repentance, obedience, and righteousness. Amen

Christianity is an awesome religion; but sadly, Christian theology seem to be ambiguous, and deceptive

Christianity is an awesome religion. The problem with Christianity, is that it's theology often amounts to shameless incoherence, mixed with a hefty dose of arbitrary hairsplitting [things you would normally expect to come from a shrewd politician, and not from a God of justice, truth, and certainty]. Consider a few examples:

(1) While on one hand Christianity claims that Adam and Eve were initially immortals [even though God had asked them to get marry, and beget children]; on the other hand it will tell you that immortal beings don't ever get marry, or beget any children ("But those who are counted worthy to take part in that age and in the resurrection from the dead NEITHER MARRY NOR ARE GIVEN IN MARRIAGE, FOR THEY CAN NO LONGER DIE..."- Luke 20:35-36, Christian Standard Bible).

(2) While on one side, Christianity will tell you there is no truth in the demon ("He was a murderer from the beginning and does not stand in the truth, because THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM"- John 8:44, Christian Standard Bible); On the other side it will tell you the demon truthfully declares Jesus to be the Son of God ("Also, DEMONS WERE COMING OUT OF MANY, SHOUTING AND SAYING, "YOU ARE THE SON OF GOD!"- Luke 4:41, Christian Standard Bible).

(3) While on one hand, Christianity will tell you that Jesus had a God ("But go to my brothers and tell them that I am ascending to my Father and your Father, TO MY GOD AND YOUR GOD"- John 20:17, Christian Standard Bible), on the other hand it will tell you that Jesus himself was God ("while we wait for the blessed hope, the appearing of the glory of OUR GREAT GOD AND SAVIOR, JESUS CHRIST"- Titus 2:13, Christian Standard Bible)

(4) While on one hand, Christianity will tell you the Jewish leaders should not be obeyed, as they represent their father the Devil ("... YOU ARE OF YOUR FATHER THE DEVIL, and you want to carry out your father's desires..."- John 8:44); on the other hand it will tell you the Jewish leaders ought to be obeyed, as they represent Moses ("THE SCRIBES AND THE PHARISEES ARE SEATED IN THE CHAIR OF MOSES. THEREFORE DO WHATEVER THEY TELL YOU, AND OBSERVE IT"- Matthew 23:2, Christian Standard Bible)

(5) While on one side Christianity will tell you everlasting life is achieved by obeying the commandments ("... IF YOU WANT TO ENTER INTO LIFE, KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS"- Matthew 19:17), on the other side it will tell you everlasting life isn't achieved by obeying any commandment but rather by faith ("FOR YOU ARE SAVED BY GRACE THROUGH FAITH... NOT FROM WORKS, SO THAT NO ONE CAN BOAST"- Ephesians 2:8-9, Christian Standard Bible)

In short, just a you would expect to happen when dealing with any shrewd life insurance salesperson [or crafty politician], Christian theology has been purposely designed to be ambiguous, and uncertain. Why? So that you are always given "the short end of the stick", whenever the product you have been sold into fails to deliver as promised.

Think of the first Christian believers- they eagerly embraced the faith, and sold everything they had ("Now all the believers were together and held all things in common. THEY SOLD THEIR POSSESSIONS AND PROPERTY AND DISTRIBUTED THE PROCEEDS TO ALL, as any had need"- Acts 2:44-45). Why would they give up their properties? Simply because they were promised that Jesus return would be imminent («He who testifies about these things says, "YES, I AM COMING SOON"»- Revelation 22:20). And why wouldn't they just abandon the faith, once they have realized they were broke, and Jesus return still wasn't in sight? Very simple! They were given the tricky “short end of the stick”; In other words, they were brazenly [and shamelessly] told that “... WITH THE LORD, ONE DAY IS LIKE A THOUSAND YEARS...”- 2 Peter 3:8, Christian Standard Bible. No wonder shady and unclean spirits love to proclaim this faith! («... A CERTAIN DAMSEL POSSESSED WITH A SPIRIT OF DIVINATION met us... and CRIED, SAYING, “THESE MEN ARE THE SERVANTS OF THE MOST HIGH GOD, WHICH SHEW UNTO US THE WAY OF SALVATION”»- Acts 16:16-17, King James Version).

If Christianity isn't God's true faith, then why is it the largest of all religions?

Christianity is in fact a wonderful religion, full of repentance, good deeds, and enthusiasm. But, if we are brutally honest, we would be forced to acknowledge that, Christian theology, is little more than wishful thinking- a religious mirage, based on the hyped cult towards the great human personality of the man named “Jesus”; a state of willful ignorance, where the believer abdicates his intellect, in order to satisfy his psychological urge to exalt [and thereby glorify] the image of his human [and therefore flawed] idol.

And, the means to achieve his goal, lays in his willful submission to the string of vain conjectures [as well as twisted theological speculations] he finds himself forced to assume, while trying to turn the gospel's shady [and often incoherent] claims concerning Jesus, into absolute [and therefore unquestionable] religious dogma.

And this is the reason why the Hebrew scripture foretold of the day when the [Christian] nations of the world will come to Israel, and acknowledge the fraud of their religious inheritance. As it is written: «O Lord my strength, my fortress, my refuge in the day of affliction, THE GENTILES SHALL COME UNTO THEE FROM THE ENDS OF THE EARTH, AND SHALL SAY- “SURELY OUR FATHERS HAVE INHERITED LIES, VANITY, AND THINGS WHEREIN THERE IS NO PROFIT. Shall man make gods unto himself...?” (in other words, shall a wise man believe that the Creator is a man, just like himself?)»- Jeremiah 16:19.

And when the gentile nations acknowledge the vanity of their religious ideas, they'll come to the Hebrew people, in order to learn God's truth. As it is written: «AND MANY [GENTILE] NATIONS SHALL COME, AND SAY, “COME, AND LET US GO UP TO THE MOUNTAIN OF THE LORD, AND TO THE HOUSE OF THE GOD OF JACOB; AND HE WILL TEACH US OF HIS WAYS, AND WE WILL WALK IN HIS PATHS”; FOR THE LAW [NOT THE GOSPEL] SHALL GO FORTH OF ZION, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem»- Micah 4:2.

In addition, the Scripture foretells that the gentiles will not only start following the Hebrew faith, but will even start to observe the Hebrew holidays. As it is written: «Thus said the Lord of Hosts- In those days IT SHALL COME TO PASS THAT TEN [GENTILE] MEN WILL TAKE HOLD OUT OF ALL LANGUAGES OF THE NATIONS, EVEN SHALL TAKE HOLD OF THE SKIRT OF HIM THAT IS A JEW (A HEBREW BELIEVER), SAYING, “WE WILL GO WITH YOU; FOR WE HAVE HEARD THAT GOD IS WITH YOU”»- Zechariah 9:23.

And also in another place: «And it shall come to pass that, FROM ONE NEW MOON TO ANOTHER, AND FROM ONE SABBATH TO ANOTHER, SHALL ALL FLESH COME TO WORSHIP BEFORE ME, SAITH THE LORD»- Isaiah 66:23.

And elsewhere: «And it shall come to pass that EVERY ONE THAT IS LEFT OF ALL THE NATIONS which came against Jerusalem SHALL EVEN GO UP FROM YEAR TO YEAR to worship the King, the Lord of Host, and TO KEEP THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES. And it shall be that whose will not come up of all the families of the Earth unto Jerusalem, to worship the King, the Lord of Hosts, even upon them shall be no rain... This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishments of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of Tabernacles»- Zechariah 14:16-19. But, if it is indeed true that Christian theology is so mistaken, why doesn't the whole World follow the Hebrew faith? Why would the Creator allow Christianity to have 2 billion followers? And why would He allow Islam to have 1.6 billion followers?

The answer to this question is quite simple- In the first place, the Creator knows that absolute power can corrupt even the best human leader [so God doesn't want the Jewish leadership to control the vast majority of mankind, lest the excessive power end up corrupting them].

Secondly; in addition to the existence of the Hebrew faith, God actually wants the existence of both Islam and Christianity, as their existence causes each of the three religions to compete [in terms of good deeds] against one another. And this is the sort of competition that actually pleases the Creator!

The reason why Marxist and secular Jews so actively promote social degeneracy

Karl Marx was an Ashkenazi Jew. And as so many Ashkenazi Jew, Marx knew very well how to play the passions of the Goyim (the gentiles), in order to use them for his own personal advancement. The fact is that Ashkenazi Jews have historically flourished by sowing social discord, vice, and strife. Inventing Marxism, Marx did just that- he sowed social unrest. How? By appealing to those Anglosaxon gentiles who wanted to be provided with an ideological justification for grabbing power at any cost, and by any means [including treason, cheating, and murdering]. But grabbing power by such brazen and violent means can only be achieved by people who have already abandoned all respect for human life, as well as for morality, family values, religion, and any social restraint. Thus, Marxist Jews know that stripping a society of any adherence to God, to family values, to respect for authority, and for morality is an absolute prerequisite for a successful Marxist revolution. And this explains why secular Jews Ashkenazi are so obsessed with promoting atheism, usury, fornication, sodomy, transgenderism, and all kind of social, religious and moral vices. Sadly, they forget that, as Christians writings correctly say, “sin’s payment is death” (Romans 6:23, Tree Of Life Bible). Or as taught by the Hebrew Scripture, “Whoever digs a pit [against someone else] will [eventually] fall in it” (Proverbs 26:27, Tree Of Life Bible). Therefore, just as Hitler tried to destroy those Jews who had tried to destroy Weimar Germany, so will the whole world try to destroy [in the future] those Jews who are currently trying to destroy the whole world. May God have mercy of these peoples, and grant them repentance before the coming [God ordained] holocaust falls upon them!

A man trapped inside a woman’s body?

The Divine book of Nature teaches that a person considers himself to be a man trapped inside a woman’s body only when he has a “fetus-like” brain. Why? Because a man is literally trapped inside a woman’s body only during a woman’s pregnancy; in other words, at a time when he actually is a fetus [and therefore has a “fetus-like” brain]

Samaritanismo Reformado y Poligamia

Cuando el mundo era perfecto (antes de la caída) el hombre (Adam) tenía una sola esposa (Eva). Pero, desafortunadamente, el nuestro ya no es un mundo perfecto. De ser perfecto, podríamos dormir con las ventanas abiertas. Pero, como no lo es, tenemos que cerrarlas, asegurándolas con rejas de acero, e instalando cámaras de seguridad. En un mundo perfecto, la gente obedece la Ley, porque entiende que es su deber hacerlo; pero, en nuestro imperfecto mundo, la obedecen cuando ya no les queda otra opción, o cuando les sobrecoge el temor al castigo que su infracción conlleva.

En un mundo perfecto, Eva entendía que, si Dios creó primero al hombre (del polvo de la tierra), y luego creó a la mujer (de una costilla del hombre), era porque Dios tenía un plan distinto para cada uno de ellos. En cuanto al hombre, Dios deseaba que su prioridad fuese cuidar la tierra de la cual había sido formado (siendo así el proveedor del hogar). Esto lo intimó el Creador cuando, inmediatamente después de crear al hombre, le pone a labrar y a cuidar el huerto, como está escrito: «Tomó pues הוֹרֵהוּ Dios al hombre, y lo puso en el huerto de Edén, para que lo labrase y lo cuidase» - Génesis 2:15. Pero, en cuanto a la mujer, la voluntad Divina era que esta fuese "la costilla" que ahora faltaba en Adam.

Es decir, que completara, sostuviera, y apoyara a su marido, aferrándose a él del mismo modo que las costillas se aferran al torso del hombre. ¿Con qué propósito? Pues para que este pueda cumplir el mandato Divino de sojuzgar la tierra (Génesis 1:28), siendo así el proveedor del hogar. Pero, en nuestro imperfecto mundo, la mujer ya no acepta el lugar ni la responsabilidad matrimonial que le fue impuesta por su Creador, sino que percibe al matrimonio (que originalmente tuvo la intención de ser una relación monógama) como una irresistible oportunidad para competir contra su marido por el poder y la autoridad del hogar.

La mujer desea usurpar el papel de líder, proveedor, y dueño que concedió Dios a su marido. En adición, demanda "disfrutar de igualdad" con su marido, teniendo los mismos derechos y privilegios que este. Todo esto va contra el plan Divino para la familia y el hogar, pues menoscaba la autoridad conferida por Dios al hombre, y borra la distinción de roles que Dios ordenó que existiese entre el hombre y la mujer.

Es por esto que la Escritura prefigura a la mujer como una "costilla"; como intimando que, la naturaleza de la mujer puede degenerar hasta llegar a convertirla en aquello que simboliza la parte más dura y más torcida del ser humano.

Si la mujer fue tomada de una costilla, fue para enseñarle que la mujer pertenece a su marido (¡y no el marido a su mujer!). Pero si Eva fue tomada de una costilla del hombre, también fue para intimar que, así como es casi imposible que un hombre pueda funcionar normalmente con una sola costilla, de ese mismo modo es casi imposible que un hombre funcione normalmente con una sola mujer.

Es que el poder corrompe, y la monogamia pone a la mujer en una posición de poder que la desalienta de cumplir la función que le ha sido encomendada por el Creador, pues piensa que el hombre está en una especie de "camisa de fuerza", que le obliga a aceptarla, sin importar cuánta obediencia, respeto, u honor muestra a su marido. La Escritura enseña que, esta rebelde aptitud, destruye el fundamento mismo de la familia, así como de la sociedad.

La Reina Vasti rehusó obedecer a su marido (el Rey Asuero), y esto le mereció perder todos sus privilegios, así como ser sustituida por otra reina. En adición, se emitió un edicto donde se exhortaba a todos los hombres a no permitir que sus esposas actuaran de este mismo modo, menoscabando así la autoridad del marido, como está escrito:

«No solamente contra el rey ha pecado la Reina Vasti, sino contra todos los príncipes, y contra todos los pueblos que hay en todas las provincias del rey Asuero. Porque este hecho de la Reina llegara a oídos de TODAS LAS MUJERES, y ellas TENDRÁN EN POCA ESTIMA A SUS MARIDOS, diciendo: El rey Asuero mandó traer delante de sí a la Reina Vasti, y ella no vino. Y entonces dirán esto las señoras de Persia y de Media que oigan el hecho de la Reina, a todos los príncipes del Rey; Y HABRÁ MUCHO DESPRECIO Y ENOJO. Si parece bien al Rey, SALGA UN DECRETO REAL de vuestra majestad y se escriba entre las leyes de Persia y Media, para que no sea quebrantado: Que Vasti no venga mas delante del Rey Asuero; y el Rey haga reina a otra que sea mejor que ella. Y EL DECRETO DEL REY será OÍDO EN TODO SU REINO (AUNQUE ES GRANDE) Y TODAS LAS MUJERES DARÁN HONRA A SUS MARIDOS, DESDE EL MAYOR HASTA EL MENOR. Agrado esta palabra a los ojos del Rey, y de los príncipes, e hizo el Rey conforme al dicho de Memucán; pues envió cartas a todas las provincias del rey, a cada provincia conforme a su escritura, y a cada pueblo conforme a su lenguaje, DICRIENDO QUE TODO HOMBRE AFIRMASE SU AUTORIDAD EN SU CASA; y que se publicase esto en la lengua de su pueblo»- Ester 1:16-22. El anterior pasaje quizás explica el Midrash (Yev. 63b) que dice que, una mala esposa, es mas rápidamente castigada por medio de una rival (una segunda esposa), que por medio de una espina. La anterior realidad existencial, explica el hecho de que aún aquellos hombres que contaron con el absoluto favor Divino, tuviesen mas de una esposa.

La Escritura dice que Avraham tomo a Hagar, y el Creador bendijo aquella unión, haciendo que produjera un hijo varón (Ismael), al cual Dios prometió bendecir. Del mismo modo, Jacob tomo como esposas no solo a Leah y a Rachel, sino a sus dos criadas (Bilha y Zilpa). Y Dios también bendijo esa unión matrimonial, pues varios de los patriarcas (Dan, Neftali, Gad, Asher) fueron hijos de aquellas dos criadas. De igual modo, Dios utilizo poderosamente a Gedeón, sin importar que este tuviese muchas esposas (Jueces 8:30). De hecho, estas esposas le dieron 70 hijos, lo cual en aquella época era una inequívoca señal del favor Divino.

Quizás el ejemplo mas claro de la aprobación Divina de la poligamia, sea la Ley del levirato, donde el mismo Creador ordena que, el hermano del difunto (que murió sin engendrar hijos varones), se case con la viuda (sin importar si este es ya casado): «Cuando hermanos habitaren juntos, y muriere alguno de ellos, y no tuviere hijo, la mujer del muerto no se casara fuera con hombre extraño; su cuñado se llegara a ella, y la tomara por su mujer, y hará con ella parentesco. Y el primogénito que ella diere a luz sucederá en el nombre de su hermano muerto, para que el nombre de este no sea borrado de Israel»- Deut. 25:5-6.

Otro pasaje que despeja toda duda acerca de la validez de la poligamia, se encuentra en 2 Samuel 12:8. Allí (por medio del profeta Natán) Dios impreca al Rey David, por el pecado de haber tomado la esposa de Urías heteo. Pero, note que Dios le indica al Rey que su falta consistía en que, a pesar de que no solo tenía sus propias mujeres sino las que con anterioridad habían sido mujeres de Saúl (mujeres sumamente hermosas, dignas de un gran Rey), si hubiese querido tomar otras mujeres de entre las tribus de Israel y Judah, Dios se lo habría permitido.

Es decir, teniendo libertad para tomar todas las esposas que hubiese querido, David no tenía excusa alguna para tomar una mujer que ya pertenecía a otro hombre: «... Y TE DI la casa de tu señor (Saúl), y LAS MUJERES DE TU SEÑOR en tu seno; además te di la casa de Israel y de Judah; Y, SI ESTO FUERA POCO, TE HABRÍA AÑADIDO MUCHO MAS».

Así, Dios no encontraba falta alguna en que David tuviese varias esposas (poligamia), sino en que tomara una mujer que ya pertenecía a otro hombre, violando con ello lo ordenado por Dios en las dos tablas de piedra, cuando dijo: «NO CODICIARAS LA MUJER DE TU PRÓJIMO, ni su siervo, ni su criada, ni su buey, ni su asno, ni cosa alguna de tu prójimo»- Éxodo 20:17.

A esto era a lo que se refería el profeta Natán, cuando reprendió a David diciéndole: «¿Por que pues tuviste en poco la palabra de יהוה (los diez mandamientos), haciendo lo malo delante de sus ojos? A Urías heteo heriste a espada (violando así el mandamiento que dice, "no mataras"), y tomaste por mujer a su mujer (violando el mandamiento que dice "no adulteraras", y "no codiciaras la mujer de tu prójimo"), y a él lo mataste con la espada de los hijos de Amón (haciendo que un hombre justo y temeroso de Dios muriera a manos de los hijos del incesto y la inmoralidad, violando así el mandato que dice "no tomaras el nombre יהוה en vano")- 2 Samuel 12:9.

En resumen, la Escritura enseña que el hombre debe ser la autoridad del hogar, así como su proveedor. Y que la mujer pertenece a su marido, siendo un instrumento consagrado para el uso exclusivo de este. La mujer que rehúsa someterse al control y el dominio de su marido, debe esperar que este obtenga una mujer adicional, que sepa cumplir mejor su papel de esposa. Por el otro lado, Dios no ha concedido a la mujer ese mismo privilegio.

Es decir, la mujer no puede esperar que su marido se sujete a ella, ni tampoco tiene el derecho a tener un marido adicional, en caso de que su actual marido no cumpla con su deber de proveer el sustento que ella espera. En estos casos, la mujer debe solicitar divorciarse de su esposo.

El siguiente pasaje, es un ejemplo de que la Escritura da por sentado el hecho de que un hombre puede tener dos mujeres; una que es odiada (por ser una mala esposa) y una que es "amada" (por ser mejor esposa que la primera). El pasaje reconoce la poligamia como una realidad existencial, a la misma vez que nos exhorta a evitar que ella nos conduzca a tratar injustamente a nuestros hijos, penalizándoles por la mala conducta de su rebelde madre):

«Si un hombre tuviere dos mujeres, la una amada, y la otra aborrecida, y la amada y la aborrecida le hubieren dado hijos, y el hijo primogénito fuere de la aborrecida; en el día en que hiciere heredar a sus hijos lo que tuviere, no podrá dar el derecho de primogenitura al hijo de la amada con preferencia al hijo de la aborrecida, que es el primogénito»- Deut. 20:15-16.

En esa misma línea, la Escritura prohíbe que la esposa que ha servido de mujer a un segundo hombre, pueda tener nuevamente intimidad con el primero: «Cuando alguno tomare mujer y se casare con ella, si no le agradare por haber hallado en ella alguna cosa indecente, le escribiera carta de divorcio, y se la entregara en su mano, y la despedirá de su casa. Y, salida de su casa, podrá ir y casarse con otro hombre. Pero si la aborreciere este último, y le escribiere carta de divorcio, y se la entregare en su mano, y la despidiere de su casa; o si hubiere muerto el postrer hombre que la tomo por mujer, no podrá su primer marido, que la despidió, volverla a tomar para que sea su mujer, después que fue envilecida; porque es abominación delante de יהוה, y no has de pervertir la tierra que יהוה tu Dios te da por heredad»- Deut. 25:5-6

5 Things Islam Must Correct

Islam isn't a bad religion. In fact, there are plenty of wise, holy, and pious Muslim believers among it's ranks. The main limitation of traditional Islam, is that it is a relatively new religion; Therefore, many of it's basic ideas are still "crude", or simply "underdeveloped". Let's consider a few examples:

(1) The first one, could be the Islamic view of human life; in particular, the life of "non believers" (Jews, Christians & polytheists). The profound respect for human life that characterizes both Christianity as well as Judaism, is not well developed in Islam. Why? Is it because Muslims are more evil than their Jewish or Christian counterparts? Absolutely not! The reason is that, Islamic theology is precariously poor in this particular area.

In other words, the Qur'an never even suggest (let alone records) the idea that men are God's own children; nor that, being fashioned in God's own likeness, human life is intrinsically sacred. That's why Shariah (Islamic Law) includes features like the cutting of opposing hands and feet; as well as the beheading, stoning and executing of infidels, and apostates. That's also why, the last countries to abolish slavery, were also Muslim countries (Islamic republic Of Mauritania, in 1981, Sultanate of Oman, in 1970; United Arab Emirates, in 1963; Saudi Arabia & Yemen, in 1962).

If both Christianity and Judaism abandoned the former (barbaric) practices many centuries ago, why are they still part and parcel of Sharia Law? Simply because, in Muslim theology, human life isn't sacred. Islam may one day evolve, and start viewing life as sacred; but, in the meantime, their view will remain closer to that of ancient Roman emperors: "life is worthy, only if it's the life of Romans; those committed to total Roman dominion over the rest of the world". Modern day Radical Islamism says: "life is worthy, only if it's the life of Muslims; those committed to total Islamic world domination. (2) A second example could be the fact that Islamic theology claims each prophet lifespan was half that of the former prophet's lifespan. Thus, since Jesus died at 125 years of age, Muhammad would have to die at 62.5 years of age. What is the problem with this? The problem is that, if you work the numbers backward [using just the prophets listed by Muslim theology], then lifespan of prophet Avraham's comes out to be close to 4,000 years [which is obviously absurd]

(3) As a third example of Islam's underdeveloped theology, consider the following statements of faith:

- a) Muhammad was the final and greatest prophet; even greater than Jesus
- b) The Gospels and the Torah are both corrupted
- c) Only by Muhammad intercession, and faith in his message (Corán) can mankind be saved
- d) Jesus will one day return, in order to defeat "the Anti-Christ", thereby establishing God's kingdom on the Earth

What's the theological problem with the former articles of faith? Well, the problem is that, if the first three statements are true (and salvation is indeed the result of our exclusive belief in Muhammad's message and prophethood), then why would Islamic theology need to have Jesus returning to earth, in order to defeat "the Anti-Christ"? In fact, why should an Anti-Christ even exist? If the devil really wants to mislead the world, shouldn't there be instead "an Anti-Muhammad"?

(4) The fourth example has to do with the fact that Muhammad (p.b.u.h.,) claimed that his Divine mission was to confirm what was already revealed in the previous books [the Torah, and the Gospel]. What's the problem with this? The problem is that even Muslims recognize that Muhammad was illiterate (he couldn't read a word!). How can you pretend to be able to confirm [or deny] the content of any book you have never read? The most you can do is have someone else read it to you! And, even if you do it, wouldn't it be arrogant for you [an illiterate man] to pretend to be smart enough to validate [or correct] those who can actually write? First correct your illiteracy problem; afterward, you can start hoping that, one day you may be wise enough to validate the ancient literary sages.

(5) The fifth and final example has to do with the Muslim sacred text: Corán's second Surah (chapter) starts with the following words: "This is the book about which there is no doubt, a guidance for those conscious of Allah" (Surah Al Baqarah 2:2). What's the problem with this all important statement? The problem is that, although a powerful and compelling remark, the verse falls into the category of "wishful thinking". Why? Well because the previous verse (the very first verse of the Surah) is comprised of three separated letters [Alif, Lam, Meem]. The meaning of these strange letters is nowhere to be found in the Qur'am; and, up to this date, the Muslims scholars have always been full of doubts as to their exact meaning. In fact at least 29 Surahs in the the Corán start with this sort of unexplained letters. Does the former means that Islam is a false religion? Absolutely not! It only means that Islamic theology still has several “blind spots”; theological flaws that need to be taken care of, and refined. Once this is done, Islam will take its rightful place among the great monotheistic religions of the world.

El problema con los Hebreos, es que estaban acostumbrados a los profetas Hebreos; es decir, a profetas que hacían milagros realmente grandes, milagros incuestionables, milagros realizados públicamente, y ante los ojos de toda la Nación Israelita; estaban acostumbrados a milagros como el que realizo Moisés, cuando abrió las aguas del mar Rojo; a milagros como el que realizo Josué, cuando detuvo el Sol, y la Luna; a milagros como el que realizo Elías, cuando hizo descender fuego del cielo, ante la mirada de todo Israel. Pero, cuando vino el profeta Cristiano (Jesús, paz sea con el) no abrió ningún mar Rojo, no detuvo al Sol ni a la Luna, y tampoco hizo descender fuego del cielo ante todo Israel. Así, cuando los Cristianos piden a los Hebreos, que crean que Jesús es mayor que Moisés, que Josué, y que Elías, estos sienten que, los milagros del Galileo, no fueron lo suficientemente grandes, como para darle mas pleitesía que a Moisés, a Josué, o a Elías

Why worship the Hebrew God? Why can't we worship the Muslim God?

Why don't we stop worshiping Ha Shem (יהוה), and instead start worshiping Allah? Well, the reason for it is very simple: according to Deuteronomy 10:20, the Hebrews were commanded to worship no deity other than the One whose name is יהוה (“Ha Shem”, or "Adonai Yah"); whereas Muslims were ordered to worship a God named “Allah” (“THAT WE WORSHIP NONE BUT ALLAH; that we associate no partners with him; THAT WE ERECT NOT, FROM AMONG OURSELVES, LORDS AND PATRONS OTHER THAN ALLAH"- Holy Qur'an, Surah 3:64).

And although Allah and Ha Shem are technically the same Deity (the only true God, the God of Avraham), the Hebrew perspective of Ha Shem is slightly different, as Ha Shem is perceived by the Hebrews as being morally superior to Allah. And, as we will later explain, their view is correct. For example, according to Leviticus 18:15, Ha Shem doesn't allow any Hebrew believer to marry the wife of his own son; While Allah allowed it to prophet Muhammad (pbuh), who married Zaynab bint Jahsh, the wife of his son Zayd ibn Harithah (Qur'an, Surah 33:37).

On the one hand, Ha Shem ordered the Hebrew believers not to touch any captive woman before first giving her at least 30 days to mourn her deceased parents (Deuteronomy 21:10-13);

While, on the other hand, Allah permits prophet Muhammad (pbuh) to have sexual intercourse with a captive woman named Safiyya bint Huyayy, less than a week after he slew [in war] her parents: "Narrated by Anas bin Malik- The Prophet came to Khaibar and when Allah made him victorious and he conquered the town by breaking the enemy's defense, the beauty of Safiyya bint Huyai bin Akhtab was mentioned to him, and [that] her husband had been killed while she was a bride. ALLAH'S APOSTLE SELECTED HER FOR HIMSELF, AND HE SET OUT IN HER COMPANY TILL HE REACHED SADD-AR-RAWHA' WHERE HER MENSES WERE OVER, AND HE MARRIED HER- Bukhari, volume 3 #437".

Again, note that a young woman's menses regularly last for no more than seven days, and as Safiyya was already experiencing her menses, it means she was forced to have sexual intercourse less than a week after Muhammad's army had slain her parents.

In fact, one of Muhammad's soldiers (Abbu Ayyub) feared Safiyya's retaliation, and therefore stood guard all night long outside Muhammad's wedding tent- [On the night of her marriage to Muhammad, the faithful Abu Ayyub stood guard outside the tent of Muhammad, and when Muhammad saw him and inquired why Abu Ayyub did so, the latter replied: "I WAS AFRAID FOR YOU WITH THIS WOMAN FOR YOU HAVE [RECENTLY] KILLED HER FATHER, HER HUSBAND, AND HER PEOPLE, and till recently she was in unbelief, so I was afraid for you on her account" (Ibn Ishaq, pp. 241-42)].

On the one hand, and through the voice of Prophet Muhammad (pbuh), Allah forces Muslim believers to engage in military battles ("WAR IS ORDAINED BY ALLAH, and all Muslims must be willing to fight, WHETHER THEY LIKE IT OR NOT"- Qur'an 2:216); While, on the other hand, Ha Shem has ordered the Hebrew people (Deuteronomy 20:5-8) that no believer can be forced to engage in any military war, when such believer is afraid of battle; when he is engaged to a woman [but has not yet married her]; when he has not enjoyed his recently built house; or when he hasn't enjoyed a recently planted vineyard.

On the one hand, although prophet Muhammad (pbuh) was an illiterate person, Allah's will was for the Hebrew believers to submit themselves to him (thereby accepting Muhammad as their ruler and king). But, on the other hand, Ha Shem's will for the Jews, was that they reject any illiterate ruler (or king); as their supreme leader should be capable of writing his own Torah scroll. As it is written: "Now it shall come about when he (the king) sits on the throne of his kingdom, HE SHALL WRITE FOR HIMSELF A COPY OF THIS LAW on a scroll in the presence of the Levitical priests"- Deuteronomy 17:18)

On the one hand [and just like a stern master], the Allah of the holy Qur'an doesn't like that His followers ask too many questions ("O YE WHO BELIEVE! ASK NOT QUESTIONS ABOUT THINGS WHICH IF MADE PLAIN TO YOU, MAY CAUSE YOU TROUBLE. Some people before you did ask such questions, and on that account lost their faith"- Surah 5:101-102). But, on the other hand [and just like a loving Father], the God of the Torah has no problem letting His children ask the hard questions, and even to confront Him.

As it is written: "FAR BE IT FROM YOU TO DO SUCH A THING— to slay the righteous with the wicked, so that the righteous fare as do the wicked! Far be it from You! SHALL NOT THE JUDGE OF ALL THE EARTH EXECUTE JUDGMENT AND DO RIGHTEOUSLY?"-Genesis 18:25. And elsewhere-"And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him, and said unto him, The Lord is with thee, thou mighty man of valour. AND GIDEON SAID UNTO HIM, OH MY LORD, IF THE LORD BE WITH US, WHY THEN IS ALL THIS BEFALLEN US? AND WHERE BE ALL HIS MIRACLES WHICH OUR FATHERS TOLD US OF, SAYING, DID NOT THE LORD BRING US UP FROM EGYPT? But now the Lord hath forsaken us, and delivered us into the hands of the Midianites"- Judges 6:12-13.

On the one hand, Allah wanted the Hebrew people to accept Muhammad's (pbuh) prophetic claim [a claim that is based on Muhammad's sole testimony]. But, on the other hand, Ha Shem wanted the Hebrew people to be truthful, righteous, and humble; to avoid any conflict of interests, as well as any kind of falsehood.

In other words, Ha Shem doesn't allow the Hebrews to bear witness of their own merits ("LET SOMEONE ELSE PRAISE YOU; COMPLIMENTS ARE ALWAYS SWEETER FROM A STRANGER'S LIPS THAN FROM YOUR OWN"- Proverbs 27:2, The Voice Bible version); He doesn't allow the Hebrews to accept any questionable claim, nor to accept [as an established fact] anything that can't be confirmed by two [or more] impartial [and independent] witnesses ("One witness shall not rise up against a man for any iniquity, or for any sin, in any sin that he sinneth: AT THE MOUTH OF TWO WITNESSES, OR AT THE MOUTH OF THREE WITNESSES, SHALL THE MATTER BE ESTABLISHED"- Deuteronomy 19:15).

For example, if someone claimed that an angel had spoken to him [while alone, inside a dark cave], and that such angel had informed him that he was God's chosen one [and therefore the Jews had to submit to his guidance], the Hebrew believer couldn't accept such claim, as in the absence of two or more independent witness, there could be a real chance that the [alleged] fact isn't accurate, or even truthful [for example, the whole thing could had just been an hallucination].

And, the latter, could have indeed been the case with prophet Muhammad's (pbuh) prophetic call, as the Hadith mentions that his wives noticed that he would often claim to have had intimacy with them, while none of it had really happened. Curiously [and maybe in order to relieve the prophet from any fault], the former delusion was later explained as being the result of a magic spell cast upon him by a Jewish magician. But this latter explanation only serves to raise more shadows upon the prophet's claim, as the Torah bears no record of any righteous man [nor of any real prophet] ever falling under the spell of any magician.

In fact, the Torah states that, the only magician who dared trying to cast a spell upon the Hebrew believers (Balaam), ended up dying at theirs hands (just as prophet Muhammad ended up dying at the hand of the Hebrew widow who poisoned his food). As it is written: "Along with these leaders, THE PEOPLE OF ISRAEL ALSO KILLED BALAAM, SON OF BEOR, WHO USED BLACK MAGIC [AGAINST ISRAEL]"- Joshua 13:22, God's Word Translation.

Not only that; but, the very same magician, recognized that those who serve the true God of Israel are immune to curses and magic spells. As it is written: "NO SPELL CAN CURSE THE DESCENDANTS OF JACOB. NO MAGIC CAN HARM THE PEOPLE OF ISRAEL"- Numbers 23:23, God's Word Translation.

On the one hand, Allah wants the Muslim nation to exalt itself, by conquering every other land, so that all nonbelievers will eventually be forced to submit to Islam (or, as a default, pay a tax for their unbelief): "Allah's Apostle said- I HAVE BEEN ORDERED TO FIGHT THE PEOPLE TILL THEY SAY: NONE HAS THE RIGHT TO BE WORSHIPPED BUT ALLAH"- Bukhari (8:387); "I WILL CAST TERROR INTO THE HEARTS OF THOSE WHO DISBELIEVE. THEREFORE, STRIKE OFF THEIR HEADS and strike off every fingertip of them"- Quran (8:12) ;

"SOON SHALL WE CAST TERROR INTO THE HEARTS OF THE UNBELIEVERS, for that they joined companions with Allah, for which He had sent no authority"- Quran, Surah 3:151 ; "FIGHT AGAINST THOSE WHO BELIEVE NOT IN ALLAH, nor in the Last Day, nor forbid that which has been forbidden by Allah AND HIS MESSENGER AND THOSE WHO ACKNOWLEDGE NOT THE RELIGION OF TRUTH (I.E. ISLAM) among the people of the Scripture (Jews and Christians), UNTIL THEY PAY THE JIZYAH (TAX) with willing submission, AND FEEL THEMSELVES SUBDUED"- Holy Qur'an, Surah 9:29;

And elsewhere: "FIGHT AND SLAY THE PAGANS WHEREVER YE FIND THEM and seize them, confine them, and lie in wait for them in every place of ambush" (Surah 9:5). But, on the other hand, Ha Shem wants the Hebrew nation to be just and truthful, avoiding any self aggrandizing delusion ["JUSTICE, AND ONLY JUSTICE, YOU SHALL FOLLOW..."- Deut. 16:20 (English Standard Version)]; "These are the things you should do: SPEAK THE TRUTH TO EACH OTHER; MAKE TRUTHFUL, JUST, AND PEACEABLE DECISIONS within your gates"- Zechariah 8:16 (Common English Bible); "FOR THE MOUTHS OF LIARS WILL BE SHUT"- Psalm 63:11 (Christian standard Bible)].

Ha Shem wanted the Hebrew people to avoid the self aggrandizement that comes as a result of trying to impose themselves upon other nations; rather, He wanted the Hebrews to treat non believing nations in a respectful and brotherly fashion. Why? Because, by following that humble behavior [in other words, by not doing against the gentiles that which they would hate, if it were done against Israel], God wanted to make of the Hebrew believers a moral example of the lifestyle that pleases the Creator.

And, this ordained respect for the land, the property, and the religious identity of our "unbelieving" brothers, explains why God forbade the Hebrews from battling against the Edomites, the Moabites, and the Ammonites [among many other pagan nations]. As it is written: "You are about to travel through the territory of YOUR BROTHERS, THE DESCENDANTS OF ESAU, who live in Seir. They will be afraid of you, so be very careful. DON'T PROVOKE THEM, FOR I WILL NOT GIVE YOU ANY OF THEIR LAND, not even a foot of it, because I have given Esau the hill country of Seir as his possession"- Deuteronomy 2:4-5, Christian Standard Bible. And also: "The Lord said to me, 'SHOW NO HOSTILITY TOWARD MOAB, AND DO NOT PROVOKE THEM TO BATTLE, FOR I WILL NOT GIVE YOU ANY OF THEIR LAND AS A POSSESSION, since I have given Ar as a possession to the descendants of Lot"- Deuteronomy 2:9, Christian Standard Bible.

And elsewhere: "Today you are going to cross the border of Moab at Ar. WHEN YOU GET CLOSE TO THE AMMONITES, DON'T SHOW ANY HOSTILITY TO THEM, OR PROVOKE THEM, FOR I WILL NOT GIVE YOU ANY OF THE AMMONITES LAND AS A POSSESSION; I have given it as a possession to the descendants of Lot"- Deuteronomy 2:18, Christian Standard Bible.

What's the meaning of what we have said up to this point? Does it mean that Islam is a false religion? Does it mean that Muslims are lost; that they follow a false prophet, or that they are heading to hell? Absolutely not!! In fact, Islam is a perfectly valid way to serve the God of Avraham. If Islam seems so different from the ancient Hebrew religion, it isn't because Muslims worship a different God; it's because they see Him through a different lens.

How can this be? Very simple!... The Torah teaches that the Creator is sort of like "a Mirror"- the Mirror itself never changes; but, if two men look into it, each one will see something different, as each of them will see a reflection of his own image.

In other words, if a warrior looks into the mirror, he will see "a warrior God" (a "God of Host", so to speak); if a peace maker looks into it, he will see a "God of Peace"; If a loving father looks into it, he'll see a God who is "Our Father, who is in Heaven"; If a merciful man looks into it, He will see a merciful God; but if a stern man looks into it, he will see a stern God.

As it is written: "WITH THE MERCIFUL, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF MERCIFUL; WITH AN UPRIGHT MAN, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF UPRIGHT; WITH THE PURE, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF PURE; AND WITH THE FROWARD, THOU WILT SHEW THYSELF FROWARD"- Psalm 18:25-26, King James Bible.

And the former could easily explain the reason that, while talking to Moses, God describes himself as follows: "I AM the God of thy father, THE GOD OF ABRAHAM, THE GOD OF ISAAC, AND THE GOD OF JACOB..."- Exodus 3:6, King James Bible.

Why did God have to say "the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob"? Why couldn't he just say, "THE GOD OF ABRAHAM, ISAAC, AND JACOB"? Again, because each patriarch perceived God in a different fashion, just as if they were serving three different Gods! But the truth is that, although each of them had a different view of the Creator, they all served the same God; and, although different, each view was correct, as it corresponded with their individual personalities.

In light of this understanding, we can properly say that the Arabs [a race of desert warriors, and conquering people] were right, when they perceived the Creator as a conquering God. Likewise, we can say that the Jews [which are an ancient race of scholars and philosophers] were right, when they perceived the Creator as an abstract [and morally perfect] being. Finally, the Greeks [a race entirely devoted to man's physical and mental perfection] were correct, when they perceived the Creator as the perfect man [incarnated in the person of Jesus].

In other words, each monotheistic religion, is a correct reflection of the nature of it's followers. And, as we had said before, Ha Shem wants His people to respect those who perceive Him differently, and therefore it isn't surprising that the Hebrew faith doesn't claim to be the only right path to God, but rather concedes that all righteous Christians and Muslims will also have a share in the good world that will soon arrive (the "Olam ha-ba").

May it be God's will that we all share the light of this understanding, so that everlasting peace can finally reign among Avraham's spiritual children! Amen.

The Quran's Secret Code

The noble Qur'an has a hidden code by means of which unsuspecting Hebrew believers are secretly warned to avoid certain teachings that contradict the revelation given in the Hebrew Scriptures. For example, if you read Quran's Surah #27, you will notice that it starts with two strange letters. These two letters spell the Hebrew word for number Nine. Notice that the Surah number is 27, and that 2 plus 7 equal 9.

So the code points to number nine, as if to tell us that something within the Surah related to number 9 is wrong [or is dangerous]. And, when we read the whole Surah, we notice it mentions the number nine in the following verse: "And put your hand into the opening of your garment [at the breast]; it will come out white without disease. [THESE ARE] AMONG THE NINE SIGNS [YOU WILL TAKE] TO PHARAOH AND HIS PEOPLE"- Surah 27:12. And now we understand what the secret message is all about- The Hebrew scriptue teaches that God punished Egypt with ten plagues; but the Quran mistakenly claims there were only nine plagues!

And the same happens with several other chapters of the Quran. For example, Surah # 26 also starts with a set of strange letters. But these letters spells the Hebrew word for "branch" (or a wooden stick); as if to warn the Hebrew believer that something within the Surah relating to wood is seriously wrong, or dangerous. And, when we read the whole Surah, we find two verses having to do with wood and sticks:

1) [PHARAOH] SAID, "You believed Moses before I gave you permission. Indeed, he is your leader who has taught you magic, but you are going to know. I will surely cut off your hands and your feet on opposite sides, and I WILL SURELY CRUCIFY YOU ALL"- Surah 26:49.

2) "Then We inspired to Moses, "STRIKE WITH YOUR STAFF THE SEA", AND IT PARTED, AND EACH PORTION WAS LIKE A GREAT TOWERING MOUNTAIN"- Surah 26:63.

And now we can begin to understand what the secret warning about wood and sticks is all about- The Surah places Pharaoh CRUCIFYING people... But this is wrong, as that method of execution wasn't invented until several centuries after Pharaoh's time (it was first practiced by the Persians!). Also, the Surah places Moses striking the sea with his stick. But this is a gross mistake, as the Torah never says that Moses stroke the sea. Rather, it states that Moses stretched his arms over the sea. As it is written: "And MOSES STRETCHED OUT HIS HANDS OVER THE SEA; AND THE LORD CAUSED THE SEA TO GO BACK BY A STRONG EAST WIND ALL THAT NIGHT, AND MADE THE SEA DRY LAND, AND THE WATERS WERE DIVIDED"- Exodus 14:21.

El grave problema con la noble religión Adventista

El Cristianismo adventista, es bueno; pero, la teología adventista, proviene del maligno; pues, al igual que este último, se opone a lo ordenado por el Creador. Por ejemplo, la Escritura Hebrea dice que los sacerdotes [y sus descendientes] debían comer para siempre de la carne de los sacrificios ("Mas el primogénito de vaca, el primogénito de oveja y el primogénito de cabra, no redimirás... Y LA CARNE DE ELLOS SERÁ TUYA; COMO EL PECHO DE LA OFRENDA MECIDA Y COMO LA ESPALDILLA DERECHA, será tuya. Todas las ofrendas elevadas de las cosas santas, que los hijos de Israel ofrecieren a YAH, LAS HE DADO PARA TI, Y PARA TUS HIJOS Y PARA TUS HIJAS CONTIGO, POR ESTATUTO PERPETUO..."- Números 18:17-19); pero entonces viene la teología adventista, y dice que, comer carne, es perjudicial para el hombre [implicando de este modo que habría estado bien que los sacerdotes hubiesen desobedecido el mandato Divino que les ordenaba comer la carne de los sacrificios].

De hecho, los Adventistas ni siquiera creen realmente en el Nazareno (paz sea con él). ¿Por que? Pues porque, el vegetarianismo adventista, conlleva un tácito rechazo a las palabras del Galileo, quien ordenó el consumo de carne, cuando dijo: "EL QUE COME MI CARNE ... TIENE VIDA ETERNA [de suerte que, el adventista que no come carne, no puede tener vida eterna]"- Juan 6:54. La realidad es que, la religión Adventista, tiene mucho que aportar a la noble tradición Cristiana. Pero, ninguna teología que esté fundamentada en los dichos y los escritos de una mujer [como sucede con el adventismo], puede ser considerada como un fiel reflejo de la verdad Divina.

Es que, ningún libro de la Escritura Hebrea [ni de la Escritura Cristiana], fue escrito por una mujer. De hecho, entre los miles de profetas [e hijos de profetas] que tuvo Israel, solo hay registro de dos profetizas; y, estas, solo surgieron en momentos de grave decadencia espiritual; es decir, cuando los miembros del pueblo de Dios, "hacían cada cual lo que bien le parecía".

Es que la Escritura muestra que, cuando el pueblo de Dios anda en camino equivocado, no se avergüenza de publicar su inmoralidad; y, el resultado de esa inmoralidad, es que son los niños y las mujeres (como sería el caso con la Sra. Elena G. De White, q.e.p.d.) quienes dirigen al Pueblo. Como esta escrito: «CIERTAMENTE JERUSALÉN SE DERRUMBA, JUDÁ SE QUEDA EN RUINAS, PORQUE ALLÍ SE DICEN Y HACEN COSAS CONTRA EL SEÑOR, COSAS QUE OFENDEN SU MAJESTAD. Su mismo descaro los acusa; no ocultan sus pecados; igual que Sodoma, los hacen saber a todo el mundo. ¡Ay de ellos, pues preparan su propio castigo!... UN CHIQUILLO ES EL TIRANO de mi pueblo; EL GOBIERNO ESTÁ EN MANOS DE MUJERES. TUS DIRIGENTES TE ENGAÑAN, PUEBLO MÍO, TE LLEVAN POR CAMINO EQUIVOCADO» -Isaías 3:8-12. Y, el extravió de que, el liderato del pueblo de Dios este en manos de una mujer, es tan obvio y contundente, que hasta el mismo Evangelio lo confirma, cuando dice: «LA MUJER APRENDA EN SILENCIO, con toda sujeción. PORQUE NO PERMITO A LA MUJER ENSEÑAR, NI EJERCER DOMINIO SOBRE EL HOMBRE... » 1 Timoteo 2:11-12.

El extraviado engaño de las teologías Adventistas Y Russelistas acerca de la “mortalidad” del alma Hablando acerca de la experiencia donde el rey Saúl habla con el espíritu del difunto profeta Samuel [algo prohibido por la Ley Divina], la Escritura dice [en tres ocasiones distintas] que fue el mismo Samuel quien habló con Saúl. Como esta escrito: «Y Samuel dijo... entonces Samuel dijo... por las palabras de Samuel» (1 Samuel 28:15-20).

Antes de nada, debemos recordar que tanto la Escritura Hebrea como la Cristiana afirman categóricamente que la Ley de Dios es la verdad (Salmo 119:142). Y tanto para Judíos como Cristianos lo anterior significa que no hay mentira alguna en las palabras adscritas tanto a la Ley, como a los Salmos y los Profetas.

Desafortunadamente, Satanás siempre intenta oponerse a las verdades Divinas reveladas en la Ley de Dios. Por eso, si la Ley dice [en tres ocasiones, segun el texto en 1 Samuel 28:15-20] que fue Samuel quien habló con Saúl [demostrando así que hay vida después de la muerte]; entonces viene Satanás y utiliza a personas como Elena G. De White o Charles Taze Russell (que en paz descansen), para negar la Escritura, y decir en cambio que no fue el profeta Samuel [sino un Demonio] quien habló con el rey Saúl.

¿Y por que niega Satanás esta verdad tan auto-evidente? Pues para extraviar al hombre; es decir, a fin de que el pecador se sienta envalentonado a continuar pecando; no teniendo temor alguno de que, inmediatamente después de su muerte, tenga que enfrentar el castigo por sus pecados.

Apártese de toda conducta ilegal, o criminal

Quien viola la Ley de los hombres, se inmiscuye en actividad ilegal. Y si la violación es de tal naturaleza que el castigo prescrito por la Ley es pena capital, es porque la gravedad de tal conducta amerita que sea considerada un crimen. Y lo mismo sucede con la Ley de Dios, que prescribe castigos ligeros (confesión, restitución, multas, azotes, etc) para las violaciones menores, pero prescribe la pena capital para aquellas violaciones cuya naturaleza es tan seria y/o corrupta que amerita sean consideradas como criminales (el secuestro, la esclavización, el incesto publico, el publico adulterio, la abierta homosexualidad, etc).

Y ya que, a diferencia de la ley de los hombres, nadie puede violar la Ley de Dios quedando impune, el creyente debe entonces alejarse de toda conducta ilegal (que viole lo ordenado en las dos tablas de piedra), así como de toda aquella conducta que la Ley Divina considere ser criminal (la idolatría, el ocultismo, el fraude, el adulterio, el incesto publico, la pedofilia, la zoofilia, la homosexualidad, el lesbianismo, etc)

¿Como se practican los valores del Samaritanismo Reformado?

Primero que nada, diríjase a todos respetuosamente, utilizando el articulo de "usted"; es decir, muestre a otros el mismo respeto que desearía que otros le mostrasen a usted mismo. Segundo, siempre que tenga que juzgar o criticar a su prójimo, haga una pausa para decir: "Aunque, en el último análisis, ¿quien soy yo para juzgar o condenar a nadie?". Tercero, cuando salude personalmente a alguien, trate siempre de inclinarse ligeramente hacia el frente, mientras une sus dos manos(en señal de sumisión a los diez mandamientos) y dice: "¡Bendiciones!" (Shalom). Una vez haya incorporado estas tres reglas básicas de conducta, haga su mas honesto y sincero esfuerzo por observar lo siguiente:

- 1) Creer en la existencia de Adonai Yah (יהוה), Creador del universo, y Juez de toda la tierra; el Dios del pacto de circuncisión hecho con Avraham, con Isaac, con Jacob, y con toda la casa de Israel.
- 2) No tener otro Dios fuera de Adonai Yah; Entender que, si bien tenemos el deber de honrar y respetar a quienes han hablado en nombre de Dios (Moisés, Jesús, Muhammad, El Dalai Lama, etc.), nadie fuera de Adonai, es digno de absoluta obediencia y pleitesía, pues fuera de Adonai, no hay nadie perfectamente bueno. Entender que, el hombre que demanda la absoluta obediencia y pleitesía de su prójimo, se exalta exageradamente a sí mismo, y “roba” una gloria y una honra que solo pertenecen a Adonai. Con esta aptitud, ese hombre comete el pecado de idolatría, pues demanda pleitesía para quien no es el verdadero Dios.
- 3) No hacer con nuestras manos (ni con nuestra mente) ninguna imagen física de Adonai Yah; no rendir pleitesía a ninguna figura o imagen, pues esto conduce a la falsa idea de que Dios está solamente allí, donde se encuentra aquella imagen.
- 4) No postrarnos en oración ante ningún otro ser, fuera de Adonai Yah; no dar a ningún otro ser la suprema pleitesía y obediencia que se nos ha ordenado dar solamente a Yah.
- 5) No Tomar el Nombre de Adonai en Vano; Reverenciar el significado oculto de su nombre (יהוה), pronunciándolo como "Adonai Yah" (el Señor, el nombre por medio del cual reina sobre toda su Creación), Elohim (el nombre por medio del cual juzga al Universo), "Ha Shem" (palabras que literalmente significan “El Nombre”), "El Shaddai" (el Suficiente, Omnipotente Proveedor), "El Padre Celestial", "El Eterno", “El Creador”, “El Dios de Avraham”, “El Escudo de Israel”, etc.
- 6) Santificar el Shabbat (día Sábado), no invirtiéndolo en obtener beneficio material alguno, sino purificando con agua nuestras vidas; mostrando misericordia hacia los que sufren; compartiendo nuestra comida y nuestra bebida; absteniéndonos de toda contienda y disensión; y estudiando juntos los mandamientos y leyes de Adonai Yah.
- 7) Honrar y respetar a nuestros Padres (los padres físicos, los espirituales, y los nacionales), a fin de aprender a respetar y honrar a todos los hombres; dando siempre prioridad a la honra y el respeto debidos a Adonai Yah.
- 8) Obedecer el orden moral establecido por Adonai: Abstenerse del adulterio, de la fornicación, y de la homosexualidad. Abstenerse de las prácticas que promueven esa inmoralidad: la ropa corta, ajustada y provocativa; el lenguaje profano, y el doble sentido; respetar la debida separación de los sexos, tanto en la adoración pública, como en la vida privada. Que el joven deje crecer su barba, y cubra su cabeza. Así mismo, que la joven cubra su cabeza, y vista ropa larga y holgada.
- 9) No robar los bienes de nadie; no robar (por medio de la calumnia o la difamación) el honor de ningún hombre piadoso; no tomar ventaja de la bondad de nuestro prójimo, ni hacer al prójimo (ya sea con nuestros hechos, o con nuestras aptitudes) aquellas cosas que no nos gustaría que nos hicieran a nosotros mismos. Abstenerse de todo tipo de fraude, usura, y oportunismo.
- 10) No mentir; No decir algo que, si bien podría ser cierto, no busca en realidad glorificar a Dios, promoviendo la justicia, la misericordia, y la humildad; sino el que la gente nos rinda pleitesía, adulación, o sometimiento. No decir una cosa con la boca, pero otra con el corazón. Hablar lo menos posible, y nunca asentir externamente con nada que nuestra conciencia dicte ser injusto, cruel, arrogante, o contrario a lo ordenado en las dos tablas de piedra.
- 11) No codiciar las propiedades físicas, la posición social; ni el orden natural que ha dado Dios a nuestro prójimo: Que el que tiene ojos negros, no codicie tener ojos azules; Que el que es de piel oscura, no codicie ser de piel blanca; Que la que tiene el rol de mujer, no codicie el rol del hombre; ni el que es hombre, codicie el rol de la mujer; Que el que es corto de estatura, no codicie ser alto de estatura; Que el que es descendiente de Hebreos Españoles, no codicie ser descendiente de Hebreos Alemanes. Estar satisfecho con lo que nos ha dado Adonai; sabiendo que, el único tesoro realmente duradero, es la recompensa que nos dará Yah por todo el bien que hagamos durante nuestro peregrinaje en este mundo. Entender que, el aprender, el vivir, y el enseñar a otros lo ordenado en las dos tablas de piedra, es el tesoro que Dios anhela que todos codiciemos.

12) Nunca aceptar como inspirado ningún libro, ninguna doctrina, ni ningún mensajero que niegue (o ponga en tela de juicio) la vigencia del mandato Divino que nos exhorta a guardar los diez mandamientos, y a meditar en ellos día y noche; como está escrito, «Nunca se apartara de tu boca este libro de La Ley, sino que de día y de noche meditaras en el, para que guardes y hagas conforme a todo lo que en el está escrito; porque entonces harás prosperar tu camino, y todo te saldrá bien» - Josué 1:8. Nunca dejar de alimentarnos espiritualmente del Creador, postrándonos ante Él en oración (tres veces al día), escudriñando su Torah, y rogando que su "Ruaj Ha Kodesh" (Espíritu Santo) repose sobre nuestras vidas, tal y como lo hizo sobre Moshe Raveu (nuestro maestro Moisés).

La Salvación del Alma, según revelada en Génesis 2:15

Cuando Dios crea a Adán, lo primero que hace es ponerle a labrar un huerto (“Tomó, pues, יהוה' Dios al hombre, y lo puso en el huerto de Edén, para que lo labrara y lo guardase”- Génesis 2:15, Reina Valera 1960). ¿Por que? Acaso no había suficiente comida en el Mundo como para satisfacer las necesidades alimenticias de Adán?

¿Porque concede Dios máxima prioridad a que Adán labrase el huerto? ¿Acaso no había cosas mas importantes que la agricultura? Por ejemplo, ¿por que no le da Dios a Adán una Biblia, a fin de que pudiese aprender como habría (en el futuro) de ser salvo?

¿O sería acaso que el Creador deseaba mostrar a Adán que, lo primero que todo hombre debe comprender, es que su vida en este Mundo esta sujeta a “la Ley de siembra y cosecha”; Que si siembra el bien, habrá de cosechar el bien; pero que si siembra mal, solo cosechará el mal? Siembra, y cosecha; Causa, y efecto, Acción, y reacción... Este es el primero y mas importante de todos los mensajes Divinos. ¿Y que significa? Pues significa que, lo que envías a los demás, te será enviado de vuelta a ti mismo; significa que si haces lo malo, tarde o temprano te vendrá de vuelta ese mismo mal (sin importar si eres religioso o ateo); pero que, si haces el bien, tarde o temprano te vendrá de vuelta ese mismo bien (sin importar tampoco si eres religioso, o ateo); Significa que si perdono las ofensas que otros han cometido, también mis ofensa serán perdonadas; que si muestro a otros misericordia, también a mi me sera mostrada misericordia.

Y esta es la Suprema verdad Divina- Hacer a otros el mismo bien que deseáramos se nos hiciese a nosotros mismos (“Así que, todas las cosas que queráis que los hombres hagan con vosotros, así también haced vosotros con ellos; porque esto es la Ley y los Profetas”- Mateo 7:12). Aparte de esto, todo lo demás (quien es el Mesías, cual es la religión verdadera, cuando será el fin del Mundo, etc) no es sino comentario opcional.

La Salvación por Fe, según el Samaritanismo Reformado

La salvación es por fe; por fe en que Dios no fallará en recompensar a cada uno, devolviéndole el mismo bien que [en su prójimo] haya sembrado. Como bien dice la noble tradición Cristiana: “No juzguéis, y no seréis juzgados; no condenéis, y no seréis condenados; perdonad, y seréis perdonados.

Dad, y se os dará; medida buena, apretada, remecida y rebosando darán en vuestro regazo; porque con la misma medida con que medís, os volverán a medir”- Lucas 6:37-38

¿Cómo es posible que un pequeño grupo de judíos seculares (helenistas) gobiernen el mundo entero? Bueno, la respuesta es bastante simple: son increíblemente ricos y controlan eficazmente los medios de comunicación, por lo que pueden corromper, tentar y engañar a los gentiles para que jueguen su juego. Si el gentil es tan estúpido como para caer en esta trampa, entonces se merece lo que le da el judío secular.

El gentil tiene el potencial de ser mejor que el judío, pero abandona su ventaja moral y trata de jugar el juego inmoral del judío; un juego que está destinado a perder. ¿Por qué está destinado a perderlo? Porque nadie es mejor en la inmoralidad colectiva que el judío secular, que en este momento la tiene en sus genes. Por lo tanto, el resultado del juego no solo es correcto, sino también justo.

En este sentido, se puede decir que el judío helenista es el castigo de Dios por la maldad y la codicia del gentil. A la inversa, al entregar a la humanidad las lecciones (o "castigos") que la humanidad necesita, el judío secular se gana el puesto de "demonio atormentador"; un demonio que, mientras cumple el mandato de Dios de castigar a los malvados, está destinado a terminar en el infierno. ¡Que Dios tenga piedad!

Las tristes contradicciones de la noble teología Cristiana : ¿dar gloria a Jesús? ¿o no darla?

¿Cuando se equivoca el Evangelio? ¿Se equivoca cuando dice que los Hombres SI deben dar gloria a Jesús (“El que no honra al Hijo, no honra al Padre que le envió”- Juan 5:23)?; ¿O se equivoca cuando dice que los Hombres NO deben dar gloria a Jesús, pues Jesús no recibe la gloria de los hombres (“Gloria de los Hombres, no recibo”- Juan 5:41)? Y, ¿como no podría llevar esto a la persona mas cuerda, al borde mismo de la bi-polaridad?

El Eterno (sea su nombre bendito) no dice: “Este camino te trae hasta mi, pero este otro no”

Uno de los elementos que con mas fuerza separan al Samaritanismo Reformado de grupos tales como los “Benei Noah”, los “Netsaritas”, o aún los “Hebreos Mesiánicos”, es que los anteriores grupos a menudo basan su teología en una interpretación puramente literal (y por ende reduccionista) de la Escritura Hebrea. Y esto a su vez hace que postulen la existencia de una sola verdad; de una única y correcta interpretación teológica. ¿Cual verdad? Pues obviamente aquella que promulga su secta particular. Y a menudo esto no es sino el lógico producto de un tácito desconocimiento de tanto la tradición como el idioma Hebreo.

Pero una conciencia genuinamente Hebrea, tiene que por definición ser lo suficientemente amplia como para entender que, en lo que a Dios concierne, hay menos absolutos que lo que la mayoría de nosotros estamos dispuesto a aceptar. Por ejemplo, una Aggadah Hebrea basada en Sanhedrin 17a, dice que solamente aquel que era lo suficientemente versado en la Torah como para demostrar que un reptil era ritualmente puro, tenía la capacidad de pertenecer al Sanhedrin (la antigua corte suprema). En esa misma linea, Otra Aggadah postula que, una mala acción que tiene un buen propósito, es mejor que una buena acción que tiene un mal propósito.

Por otro lado, si la Torah declaraba que El Creador aborrecía la idolatría, no era porque Dios (sea su nombre bendito) necesitase de nuestra pleitesía; sino porque, demasiado a menudo, esa idolatría transpiraba en inmoralidad y desprecio por la vida humana. Pero, cuando esa idolatría no traspiraba en crueldad ni injusticia, el Creador era lento en castigarla. Prueba de ello lo es el siguiente relato: Sanhedrin 103b dice que el Rabino Nathan enseñaba que había tres millas romanas entre Gareb, el pueblo donde Micaiah erigió su ídolo, y Shiloh. Esta distancia, era lo suficientemente corta como para que el humo del altar en Shiloh, y el del ídolo de Micaiah, se mezclasen entre si. Cuando los Ángeles ministradores quisieron acabar con Micaiah, El Santo de Israel [bendito sea] procedió a increparles diciendo: “¡Dejadle quieto, pues su pan está disponible para el errante! (como intima el pasaje en Jueces 17:9-11)”.

Quizás aún mas revelador, sea el relato Bíblico acerca de Naamán, el leproso general sirio que se presentó ante el profeta Eliseo (2 Reyes 5). Al final del relato, y como respuesta a la fe de Naamán, Dios obra el milagro de sanarle de su lepra. Debemos tener presente que, en la tradición Hebrea, la lepra era considerada un castigo por el pecado de la calumnia. Aún así, Naamán reconoce ante Eliseo que, aunque en el futuro no adoraría a otro Dios fuera de Adonai Yah, como parte de sus responsabilidades con su señor (el Rey de Siria), quizás tendría que inclinarse ante Rimón (el dios del Rey de Siria). A pesar de esta implícita idolatría, Naamán sale en Paz de la presencia del profeta, quien le intima que no tiene nada por lo cual preocuparse (2 Reyes 5:18-19).

Por otro lado, Giezi (quien día y noche escuchaba la Torah de boca de Eliseo, el ungido de Dios), no honró al Creador, mostrando el mismo agradecimiento [y humildad] que mostró el pagano Naamán. Es que Giezi interpretó lo que debió haber sido una oportunidad para dar gloria y honra a Yah, como una oportunidad para obtener honor personal: dinero, y deleites. Y como resultado de ello, Giezi es sentenciado a servir de ejemplo a futuras generaciones; advirtiéndoles que, sin importar si tienen o no la “teología correcta”, aquellos que utilizan los asuntos de Dios para obtener gloria y lucro personal, habrán de recibir un castigo eterno (“Por tanto, la lepra de Naamán se te pegara a ti y a tu descendencia (espiritual) para siempre”- 2 Reyes 5:2).

¿Que significan los anteriores relatos? Pues, entre otras cosas, significan que la premisa fundamental sobre la que descansa la antipatía Judeo Ortodoxa hacia la figura de Jesus de Nazaret, es fundamentalmente errada. Es decir, el Judío ortodoxo promedio esta completamente seguro de que, quien se inclina ante el “ídolo” llamado Jesús de Nazaret (la paz de Yah sea con él), es un pecador; mientras que, quien cree y sigue a los sabios de Israel, y al ungido que ha de venir, goza del favor Divino. Pero la realidad es que los anteriores relatos muestran que, aunque bien intencionada, la anterior linea de razonamiento carece de fundamento.

Es que la ennoblecadora idea que trata de transmitir la Escritura Hebrea es que, en un sentido muy real, El Eterno (sea su nombre bendito) no dice: “Este camino te puede traer hasta mi, pero este otro no”; sino que dice en cambio- “Cualquiera que sea el camino que escojas seguir (Judaísmo, Samaritanismo, Islam, Cristianismo, etc), puede traerte hasta mi, si lo vives de modo que logre traerte hasta mi”.

En otras palabras, a Dios no le interesa tanto cuan precisa [o correcta] es nuestra teología; ni le interesa tanto cuanta verdad teológica poseemos. Es que, en el último análisis, la mente de Dios (y por consiguiente, su verdad) es tan profunda, que nuestro limitado intelecto jamás podrá entenderla por completo. Obviamente, esto no significa que no debemos buscar conocer el significado mas profundo de las Escrituras; solo significa que siempre debemos tener la humildad de reconocer que solo el Creador posee todas las respuestas.

Si es usted un seguidor del Judaísmo ortodoxo, quizás se este preguntando: “Pero, ¿acaso no es importante conocer la verdad?”. ¿Por supuesto que si! Pero, mas que “tener la verdad”, el Creador está interesado en ver cual será la respuesta que, con nuestras obras (y nuestras aptitudes) daremos a aquello que percibimos ser “la verdad”.

Es cierto que Jesús (la paz del Creador sea con el) no fue el Mesías humano que los Judíos del primer siglo esperaban, pero eso en realidad no importa; lo que sí importa, es cual será la respuesta que a la prédica de Jesús darán sus seguidores Cristianos. Si, al igual que Naamán, el fruto de esta respuesta es bueno, entonces hace poca diferencia si Jesús fue o no aquel Mesías esperado, o si solo fue un idealista soñador.

Como nota al calce, y con respecto a pleitesia que a Jesus rinde el mundo cristiano, note que Dios no inculpa de pecado al cristiano que, por desconocimiento de la Ley, idolatra la figura de Nazareno.

¿Por que? Pues porque según Genesis 20:2-7, Dios no responsabiliza al hombre de pecado sino hasta que tal hombre es hecho a consciente de su pecado. Y esto es corroborado por la Escritura que dice:

“O si tocare inmundicia de hombre, cualquiera inmundicia suya con que fuere inmundo, y no lo echare de ver, SI DESPUÉS LLEGARE A SABERLO, SERÁ [ENTONCES] CULPABLE. O si alguno jurare a la ligera con sus labios hacer mal o hacer bien, en cualquiera cosa que el hombre profiere con juramento, y él no lo entienda; SI DESPUÉS LO ENTIENDE, SERÁ [ENTONCES] CULPABLE POR CUALQUIERA DE ESTAS COSAS. Cuando pecare en alguna de estas cosas, [luego de saberlo] confesará aquello en que pecó”- Levitico 5:3-5.

De nuevo, como Judío Ortodoxo, quizás pueda usted decir: “¿Pero es que Jesús fue un Hereje! ¿No dice la tradición Hebrea que debemos aborrecer a los herejes?”. Y la respuesta a la anterior pregunta es que No. ¿Por que? Pues porque, según la misma tradición oral Judía, Elisha Ben Avuyah (también conocido como “Aher”) fue un hereje que murió sin arrepentimiento, siendo juzgado en Gehinnom; Sin embargo, este mismo “hereje” fue el maestro de la Torah para el Rabino Meir (de paso, el nombre Meir significa “iluminar”).

Y según la tradición, el rabino Meir fue un tan grande maestro de las Escrituras que, si la interpretación de la Ley no se fijó de acuerdo a su opinión, fue porque la generación de su época no poseía el poder deductivo para seguir su razonamiento hasta las últimas consecuencias. A pesar de que Aher era un hereje, la tradición dice que, luego de morir, su hija fue a donde Rabbi (el Patriarca Judío de su época), a fin de solicitar de este último algún sustento económico.

Cuando Rabbi preguntó a la doncella quien era su padre, esta contestó que era hija de Aher; pero rogó al Patriarca que recordase, no las obras de Aher, sino su conocimiento de la Torah. La tradición dice que, en ese mismo instante, fuego descendió de los cielos; y este fuego “lamió” el banco en donde se hallaba sentaba el Patriarca. Al ver aquello, el Patriarca comenzó a llorar, diciendo: “Si tal maravilla se ha hecho a favor de aquel que deshonoró la Torah, ¿cuanto mas no se hará a favor de aquellos que la honran?”.

No solamente permite la tradición Judía aprender de herejes; sino que hasta permite aprender de los idólatras paganos. Es que el tratado Sanhedrin 91b dice que, con sus razonamientos, Antoninus (un emperador romano del segundo siglo de la era cristiana) mostró al Rabino Judah Ha Nasi el momento correcto en que el alma entraba al cuerpo del hombre que habría de nacer.

Lo que hasta aquí hemos intentado formular es que, al igual que sucedió con Naamán, el creyente Cristiano, el Mesianico, o el Musulmán que vive la vida que agrada a Dios, será tan acepto al Creador como el mejor creyente Hebreo. ¿Por que? Pues porque, en la medida en que ese creyente practique la justicia Divina, el amor al prójimo, el temor de Dios, y la humildad, estará practicando la fe que agrada al Creador: la Fe Hebrea que practicó nuestro Padre Avraham.

Durante muchos siglos, el Judaísmo Talmúdico ha esperado la venida de un Mesías humano. ¿Juega la fe Cristiana en el Galileo algún papel en ello? No podríamos contestarlo categóricamente, pero sería interesante recordar que, de acuerdo a la tradición oral Judía (Sanhedrin 97a), el Rabino Isaac dijo: “Mesías, el hijo de David, no vendrá hasta que cada reino se convierta a la fe de los sectarios (es decir, los Judeo Cristianos). ¿Y la prueba de esto? El texto en Levítico 13:13 que dice: Es todo blanco, está limpio”.

¿Seguir la Ley Divina, o seguir en cambio el Evangelio?

La fe Cristiana es estupenda. ¿Por que? Pues porque el arrepentimiento que predica puede conducir al Cristiano a la salvación de su alma. Desafortunadamente, la teología Cristiana es lastimosa. ¿Por que? Pues porque es ambigua y contradictoria; y, esto último, genera incertidumbre y desasosiego en el alma del creyente.

¿En que sentido es el Nuevo testamento ambiguo y contradictorio? Pues un ejemplo de ello podría ser el hecho de que, mientras por un lado afirma (Juan 14:9) que el que ha visto a Jesús [el Hijo] ha visto a Dios [el Padre], por el otro lado afirma que nadie ha visto jamás a Dios (1 Juan 4:12). Otro ejemplo podría ser el hecho de que, mientras por un lado presenta al apóstol Pablo alegando que quien se circuncida “ha caído de la gracia, y se ha desvinculado de Cristo” (Gálatas 5:3-4), por el otro lado presenta a Pablo circuncidando personalmente a Timoteo, uno de sus íntimos compañeros en la fe (Hechos 16:3).

La realidad es que, si somos absolutamente objetivos, tendremos que reconocer que Moisés escribió la mayoría de los libros que comprenden la Ley Divina (una Ley que se describe como “perfecta”, según el Salmo 19:7). Por el otro lado, Pablo escribió la mayoría de los libros que comprenden el Nuevo Testamento (un Testamento que en ninguna parte se describe a si mismo como perfecto). Con respecto a Moisés, la Ley dice que estaba tan lleno de Dios, que su piel brillaba con la gloria Divina (Éxodo 34:35). Pero con respecto a Pablo, el Nuevo Testamento dice que era atormentado por un mensajero de Satanás (es decir, por un demonio, según 2 Corintios 12:7).

Con respecto a Moisés, la Ley muestra que jamás nadie le tildó de loco (o desquiciado). Pero con respecto a Pablo, el Nuevo testamento le tilda de loco en 3 ocasiones en un mismo capítulo (2 Corintios, capítulo 11).

Con respecto a Moisés, se nos dice que este último experimentó una muerte pacífica, muriendo rodeado de quienes le amaban, gozando de plena salud, y por la mano misericordiosa del Creador (Deuteronomio 34:1-7); Pero, con respecto a Pablo, la historia secular narra que experimentó una muerte cruel (por decapitación), alejado de los suyos, luego de padecer hambre y frio en una cárcel Romana, y a manos de sus enemigos paganos.

Curiosamente, el Nuevo Testamento cita a Pablo diciendo que “el fin de aquellos ministros de Satanás que se disfrazan como ministros de justicia, ha de ser conforme a sus [malas] obras” (2 Corintios 11:14-15). Pero si esto es así, entonces a la luz del tipo de fin que experimentaron tanto Moisés como Pablo, tendríamos que preguntarnos a nosotros mismos, ¿cual de estos dos hombres era un ministro de justicia, y cual era un ministro de Satanás?.

¿Significa lo hasta aquí dicho que el Cristianismo es de Satanás? ¡Absolutamente no! Lo que significa es que, siempre que las palabras que a Pablo adscribe el Nuevo testamento contradigan las palabras que a Moisés adscribe la Ley Divina, es Pablo [y no Moisés] quien se equivoca. ¿Por que? Pues porque ninguna persona sensata antepondría la palabra del un hombre que confiesa ser atormentado por Satanás (el apóstol Pablo, según 2 Corintios 12:7), a la palabra de un hombre sobre cuya faz brilla la gloria Divina (Moisés, según Éxodo 34:29).

La pedantería teológica de la noble Fe Cristiana--

El apóstol Pablo (paz sea con el) dice que, cuando Abraham engendró a Isaac, su cuerpo estaba “como muerto”, siendo de casi cien años de edad. Como esta escrito: “Y no se debilitó en la fe al considerar su cuerpo, que estaba ya COMO MUERTO (siendo de casi cien años...)”- Romanos 4:19. Para el creyente Cristiano, el anterior pasaje es la infalible e incuestionable palabra de Dios. Pero, para el creyente Hebreo, es prueba de que hay cosas en los Evangelios que, aunque aparentar ser la infalible Palabra de Dios, realmente son la glorificada pedantería de sus autores.

Es que, la Escritura Hebrea, desmiente lo dicho por Pablo. ¿Cual dice la Ley que era la verdadera condición del cuerpo de Abraham? ¿Sería acaso cierto que su cuerpo estaba “como muerto”? Para contestar apropiadamente esta pregunta, primero debemos considerar los siguientes hechos:

- 1) La Escritura dice que Abraham era diez años mayor que Sara (“¿A hombre de cien años ha de nacer hijo? ¿Y Sara, ya de noventa años, ha de concebir?”- Génesis 17:17).
- 2) La Escritura dice que Sara murió a los 127 años (“Fue la vida de Sara, 127 años”- Génesis 23:1)
- 3) Finalmente, la Escritura dice que [después de la muerte de Sara], Abraham se casa con una mujer llamada Cetura, con la cual engendra seis hijos mas (“Abraham tomo otra mujer, cuyo nombre era Cetura, la cual le dio a luz a Zimram, Jocsán, Medán, Madián, Isbac, y Súa”- Génesis 25:1-2.

Note que, si Abraham era diez años mayor que Sara, entonces tenía 137 años al momento de su muerte. Y si luego Abraham tuvo seis hijos con Cetura, significa que su cuerpo tenía suficiente vida [y virilidad] como para continuar engendrando hijos hasta los 143. Pero, ¿no dice Pablo que, el cuerpo de Abraham estaba “como muerto”, a los cien años de edad? ¿Como puede un cuerpo que esta muerto a los cien años, engendrar seis hijos a los 143? ¿Cual de los dos miente? ¿Miente la Ley? ¿O Miente el Evangelio? Obviamente, si la Escritura Hebrea dice una cosa, y el Evangelio dice otra, entonces es el Evangelio el que miente; pues, aun el mismo Jesús, reconocía que la Escritura Hebrea no puede ser cuestionada ni quebrantada (“y la Escritura no puede ser quebrantada” – Juan 10:35

Dios ama la verdad, así que cuando designaba a un “Mesías” (o a un “ungido”), lo hacia de forma clara y pública, no dando lugar a inciertas conjeturas, ni a falsas especulaciones

La Escritura Hebrea muestra que, cuando el Dios de Israel se proponía utilizar algún personaje [a fin de llevar a cabo una tarea importante], era el mismo Creador quien identificaba de forma clara y explícita a tal personaje. En otras palabras, el Creador mostraba claramente [y sin margen alguna para la conjetura o la especulación], quién habría de ser el representante ante Dios de su Pueblo; quién habría de ser el sumo Sacerdote; quién habría de ser el nuevo Juez; quién habría de ser el Rey de Israel; quién habría de ser el Profeta, o quién habría de ser el Líder ungido.

Así, vemos a יהוה (Adonai Yah, el Dios de Israel) designando explícitamente a Moisés como el mediador entre Dios y su Pueblo (“El sonido de la bocina iba aumentando en extremo; MOISÉS HABLABA, Y DIOS LE RESPONDÍA CON VOZ TRONANTE. Y descendió el Dios de Israel sobre el monte Sinaí, sobre la cumbre del monte; Y LLAMÓ EL DIOS DE ISRAEL A MOISÉS A LA CUMBRE DEL MONTE...”- Éxodo 19:19-20).

De igual modo, Adonai Yah designa explícitamente a Aarón y a sus hijos, como jefes de los sacerdotes de Israel (“HARÁS LLEGAR DELANTE DE TI A AARÓN TU HERMANO, Y A SUS HIJOS CONSIGO, DE ENTRE LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL, PARA QUE SEAN MIS SACERDOTES; a Aarón y a Nadab, Abiú, Eleazar e Itamar hijos de Aarón.”- Éxodo 28:1).

Adonai Yah designa explícitamente a Bezaleel, como arquitecto del tabernáculo de Dios (“Mira, YO HE LLAMADO POR NOMBRE A BEZALEEL HIJO DE URI, HIJO DE HUR, DE LA TRIBU DE JUDÁ; y lo he llenado del Espíritu de Dios, en sabiduría y en inteligencia, en ciencia y en todo arte”- Éxodo 31:2-3).

Adonai Yah designa explícitamente a Josué, como caudillo militar de Israel (“Yah tu Dios, Él pasa delante de ti; Él destruirá a estas naciones delante de ti, y las heredarás; JOSUÉ SERÁ EL QUE PASARÁ DELANTE DE TI, COMO YAH HA DICHO... Y Yah dijo a Moisés: He aquí se ha acercado el día de tu muerte; LLAMA A JOSUÉ, Y ESPERAD EN EL TABERNÁCULO DE REUNIÓN, PARA QUE YO LE DÉ [PUBLICAMENTE] EL CARGO”- Deut. 31:3, & 14).

Yah designa explícitamente a Samuel, como futuro profeta [y Juez] de Israel (“Llamando, pues, Elí a Samuel, le dijo... ¿QUÉ ES LA PALABRA QUE TE HABLÓ [EL CREADOR]? Te ruego que no me la encubras... Y Samuel se lo manifestó todo, sin encubrirle nada... Y SAMUEL CRECIÓ, Y EL CREADOR ESTABA CON ÉL, y no dejó caer a tierra ninguna de sus palabras. Y TODO ISRAEL, DESDE DAN HASTA BEERSEBA, CONOCIÓ QUE SAMUEL ERA FIEL PROFETA DEL SEÑOR”- 1 Samuel 3:16-20) .

Adonai Yah designa explícitamente a David, como Rey de Israel («Entonces dijo Samuel a Isaí: ¿Son éstos todos tus hijos? Y él respondió: QUEDA AÚN [DAVID] EL MENOR, QUE APACIENTA LAS OVEJAS... ENVIÓ, PUES, POR ÉL, Y LE HIZO ENTRAR... ENTONCES EL CREADOR DIJO [A SAMUEL]: LEVÁNTATE Y ÚNGELO, PORQUE ÉSTE ES [EL REY DE ISRAEL]. Y Samuel tomó el cuerno del aceite, y lo ungió en medio de sus hermanos»- 1 Samuel 16:11-13).

Adonai Yah designa explícitamente a Elías, como profeta de Israel (“Cuando llegó la hora de ofrecer el holocausto, se acercó el profeta Elías, y dijo- Adonai Yah, Dios de Abraham, de Isaac, y de Israel, SEA HOY MANIFIESTO QUE TU ERES DIOS EN ISRAEL, Y QUE YO SOY TU SIERVO, y que por mandato tuyo he hecho todas estas cosas... ENTONCES CAYO FUEGO DE ADONAI, Y CONSUMIO EL HOLOCAUSTO, LA LEÑA, LAS PIEDRAS Y EL POLVO, y aún lamió el agua que estaba en la zanja. VIENDOLO TODO EL PUEBLO, SE POSTRARON Y DIJERON- ¡YAH ES EL DIOS!, ¡Yah es el Dios!”- 1 Reyes 18:36-39).

Adonai Yah designa explícitamente al rey Josías, como la persona que habría de destruir el altar pagano construido en Betel por el rey Jeroboam (“He aquí que un varón de Dios por palabra de Yah vino de Judá a Bet-el; y estando Jeroboam junto al altar para quemar incienso, aquél clamó contra el altar por palabra de Yah y dijo: Altar, altar, así ha dicho Yah: HE AQUÍ QUE A LA CASA DE DAVID NACERÁ UN HIJO LLAMADO JOSÍAS, EL CUAL SACRIFICARÁ SOBRE TI A LOS SACERDOTES DE LOS LUGARES ALTOS QUE QUEMAN SOBRE TI INCIENSO, Y SOBRE TI QUEMARÁN HUESOS DE HOMBRES”- 1 Reyes 13:1-2).

Finalmente, Adonai Ya designa explícitamente a el rey Ciro, como quien habría de re-edificar el Templo de Jerusalén («Yo, el que despierta la palabra de su siervo... que dice a Jerusalén: Serás habitada; y a las ciudades de Judá: Reconstruidas serán, y sus ruinas reedificaré... QUE DICE DE CIRO: “ES MI PASTOR, Y CUMPLIRÁ TODO LO QUE YO QUIERO, AL DECIR A JERUSALÉN: SERÁS EDIFICADA; Y AL TEMPLO: SERÁS FUNDADO...”»- Isaías 44:26-28).

De hecho, el Dios de Israel era tan meticuloso en dejar claro quienes eran sus instrumentos escogidos, que aún para la realización de un simple censo, designa explícitamente el nombre y la familia de aquellos que habrían de actuar como funcionarios. Como esta escrito: «Habló Yah a Moisés en el desierto de Sinaí... diciendo: “TOMAD EL CENSO DE TODA LA CONGREGACIÓN DE LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL por sus familias... los contaréis tú y Aarón... Y ESTARÁ CON VOSOTROS UN VARÓN DE CADA TRIBU... ESTOS SON LOS NOMBRES DE LOS VARONES QUE ESTARÁN

CON VOSOTROS: De la tribu de Rubén, Elisur hijo de Sedeur. De Simeón, Selumiel hijo de Zurisadai. De Judá, Naasón hijo de Aminadab. De Isacar, Natanael hijo de Zuar. De Zabulón, Eliab hijo de Helón. De los hijos de José: de Efraín, Elisama hijo de Amiud; de Manasés, Gamaliel hijo de Pedasur. De Benjamín, Abidán hijo de Gedeoni. De Dan, Ahiezer hijo de Amisadai. De Aser, Pagiel hijo de Ocrán... ESTOS ERAN LOS NOMBRADOS [POR DIOS] DE ENTRE LA CONGREGACIÓN, príncipes de las tribus de sus padres...»- Números 1:1-16.

¿Que intenta mostrarnos el Creador por medio de los anteriores versos de la Escritura? Pues intenta mostrarnos que, el Dios de Israel (bendito sea), no es un Dios que sanciona la especulación, la conjetura, la confusión, la duda, ni la ambigüedad. En otras palabras, cuando el Creador desea exaltar a un Mesías (y la palabra Hebrea que traducimos como “Mesias” literalmente significa “ungido”), para que Israel se someta al liderato de este último, El Creador identifica claramente el nombre [y la genealogía] de tal ungido, de suerte que Israel no tenga duda alguna acerca de la veracidad de su ministerio.

Y, aún si se diese el caso de que alguien retase a tal ungido [como fue el caso con Coré, así como con los sacerdotes de Baal], Dios obra los milagros y los prodigios requeridos para que se disipen las tinieblas de la conjetura y de la incertidumbre, de suerte que brille en cambio la luz de la certeza y la verdad.

En resumen, si Israel duda de la veracidad del ministerio profético de alguien que haya reclamado ser un “Mesías” (o un “ungido”) de Dios, es probable que se deba al hecho de que Yah no ha mostrado de forma inequívoca su deseo de que Israel reconozca el liderato de tal ungido. ¿Y por que? Pues porque el Creador quizás no desea que el ministerio de tal persona sea dirigido hacia al pueblo Hebreo, sino en cambio hacia algún otro Pueblo que lo necesite [como podría ser el caso con el pueblo Griego, el Pueblo Romano, el Pueblo Árabe, etc].

Algunas de las razones por las cuales algunos creyentes cristianos abrazan secretamente la fe del Samaritanismo Reformado

A menudo, la lectura objetiva y sosegada de los nobles escritos Cristianos conduce a muchas personas a cuestionar seriamente la interpretación que, tanto de las enseñanzas del Maestro de Galilea (paz sea con él), como de la Biblia Hebrea, articularon los compiladores de tales escritos. A continuación consideraremos algunas de las contradicciones que conducen a algunos cristianos a abrazar [secretamente] la teología del Samaritanismo Reformado:

1) En el evangelio de Juan, capítulo 1, y verso 21, los escribas y fariseos preguntan a Juan el bautista , si este era Elías, y Juan les contesta categóricamente que no lo es. El texto dice así: “Y le preguntaron: ¿Qué pues? ¿Eres tú Elías? Dijo: No soy. ¿Eres tú el profeta? Y respondió: No”. Pero, a pesar de lo que dice el anterior texto, el verso en Mateo 11:14 cita a Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) diciendo lo contrario, dando a entender que, en efecto, Juan era Elías: “Y si queréis recibirlo, el es aquel Elías que había de venir”.

2) En Juan 14:9, Jesús es citado diciendo: “El que me ha visto a mi, ha visto al Padre”. Pero, a pesar de estas palabras atribuidas al mismo Jesús, casi 60 años mas tarde encontramos al apóstol Juan afirmando lo contrario, pues 1ra Juan 4:12 dice así: “Nadie ha visto jamás a Dios”.

3) En Gálatas 5:2, el apóstol Pablo (que Dios se agrada de él) es citado diciendo que, quien se circuncida, ya no obtiene provecho de Cristo. El texto dice: “He aquí, yo Pablo os digo que, si os circuncidáis, de nada os aprovechara Cristo”. Pero, a la vez que se cita al apóstol diciendo esto, se nos dice en Hechos 16:3 que el mismo Pablo procedió a circuncidar a Timoteo, a fin de que este pudiera acompañarle en sus viajes misioneros. El verso dice: “Este quiso Pablo que fuese con él; y tomándole, le circuncidó por causa de los Hebreos que estaban en aquellos lugares; porque todos sabían que su padre era Griego”.

4) En Romanos 3:10-11 Pablo es citado diciendo que no hay ningún hombre que sea justo- “...No hay justo, ni aún uno; no hay quien entienda, No hay quien busque a Dios”. Pero este postulado contradice la escritura que por 1,500 años había sido aceptada (aún por el mismo Jesús de Nazaret) como la incuestionable Palabra de Dios; y es que Génesis 6:9 nos informa que Noé era justo. El texto dice así : “...Noé, varón JUSTO, era perfecto en sus generaciones; con Dios camino Noé”. No solo esto, sino que las palabras de Pablo contradicen el texto en 2da Pedro 2:7, que aclara que Lot también era justo. El texto dice: “... y libró al JUSTO Lot, abrumado por la nefanda conducta de los malvados”. Las palabras de Pablo también contradicen los Evangelios, pues en Mateo 1:19 se nos dice lo siguiente: “José su marido, como era JUSTO y no quería infamarla, quiso dejarla secretamente”. También contradicen las palabras en Lucas 1:6, donde se nos informa que Zacarías y Elisabeth eran ambos justos. El texto dice así: “Y eran ambos (entiéndase, Zacarías y Elisabeth) justos delante de Dios, andando sin reprensión en todos los mandamientos y estatutos del Señor”.

5) Con respecto a la resurrección de los muertos, Pablo dice que el cuerpo que ha de resucitar no es uno carnal, sino espiritual pues, según el apóstol, la carne y la sangre no pueden heredar el reino de Dios. 1ra Corintios 15:44 dice así: “Se siembra cuerpo animal, resucitara cuerpo espiritual...”. También nos informa el apóstol, en 1ra Corintios 15:20, que Cristo fue la primicia (el primero en resucitar) de entre los que durmieron (entiéndase, de los que murieron). El texto dice así: “Mas ahora Cristo ha resucitado de los muertos, primicias de los que durmieron es hecho”. Pero el anterior texto contradice el evangelio, que dice que Cristo resucitó en un cuerpo de carne y huesos. En Lucas 24:39 se cita a Jesús diciendo las siguientes palabras: “Mirad mis manos y mis pies, que yo mismo soy; palpad y ved; porque un espíritu no tiene carne ni huesos, como veis que yo tengo”.

6) En el Nuevo Testamento, el apóstol Pablo enseña que, sin derramamiento de sangre, no hay remisión de pecados; y por ende, tampoco hay entrada en la vida eterna. Hebreos 9:22 dice así: “...Y casi todo es purificado, según la ley, con sangre, y sin derramamiento de sangre, no se hace remisión” . Es decir, Pablo enseña que para obtener el perdón de los pecados se requiere de un sacrificio literal, donde alguien derrame su sangre por nosotros. Pero la realidad era que, en el contexto ritual de la Ley Hebrea, casi todo se purificaba con agua, y no con sangre. Es decir, cuando algo se había contaminado, haciéndose por ello impuro para el servicio divino, se hacía purificación sumergiéndolo en agua (aún las personas que habían sido declaradas impuras, obtenían la purificación por medio de la inmersión en agua). Un buen ejemplo de esto lo eran las mujeres, quienes, luego de su periodo de impureza, eran purificadas sumergiéndose en un baño ritual, o “mikveh”. No solo esto, sino que las palabras de Hebreos 9:22 contradecían el espíritu de la Ley que encarnaba tal rito de purificación en agua. Es que el agua era símbolo de las lágrimas, de suerte que lo que se intima es que el alma es purificada con las sagradas aguas [lágrimas] de sincero arrepentimiento. Y esta verdad estaba confirmada en el texto del Salmo 51:17, que reza así: “Los sacrificios de Dios son el espíritu quebrantado; al corazón contrito y humillado no despreciaras tu, oh Dios” . Es que durante siglos las Escrituras Hebreas habían enseñado que la manera en que el hombre obtenía el perdón de sus pecados era humillándose ante Dios, y convirtiéndose de su mal camino; en otras palabras, arrepintiéndose de corazón. Un claro ejemplo de esto era 2da Crónicas 7:14. Allí se nos dice lo siguiente: “Si se humillare mi pueblo, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y oraren, y buscaren mi rostro, y se convirtieren de sus malos caminos, entonces YO OIRÉ DESDE LOS CIELOS, Y PERDONARE SUS PECADOS, y sanare su tierra”. De igual manera, Jeremías 36:3 enseñaba que Dios perdona el pecado del corazón arrepentido, sin necesidad de sacrificio alguno. Como esta escrito: “Quizá oirá la casa de Judá todo el mal que yo pienso hacerles, para volverse cada uno de su mal camino, y yo perdonaré su maldad, y su pecado”.

7) El Nuevo Testamento enseña que la entrada a la vida eterna no se obtiene por medio de hacer obra alguna, sino por confesar que Jesús es el Señor Dios, que resucito de los muertos. Romanos 10:9 dice así: “Que si confesares con tu boca que Jesús es el Señor, y creyeres en tu corazón que Dios le levanto de los muertos, serás salvo”. Pero este texto contradice las palabras del Galileo, quien en Mateo 7:21 dijo que lo que anhelaba no era que se refirieran a él como “Señor”, sino que se obedeciera a Dios. El texto reza así: “No todo el que me dice Señor, Señor, entrara en el reino de los cielos, sino el que hace la voluntad de mi Padre que está en los cielos”. Y con respecto a cual es la voluntad del Padre celestial, Lucas 10:25-28 aclara que es amar a Dios y al prójimo, es decir, vivir una vida de arrepentimiento. Como esta escrito: «... Maestro, ¿haciendo que cosa heredare la vida eterna? El le dijo, “¿Que está escrito en la Ley?, ¿Como lees?” Aquel, respondiendo, dijo: “amarás al Señor tu Dios con todo tu corazón, y con toda tu alma, y con todas tus fuerzas, y con toda tu mente; y a tu prójimo como a ti mismo”. Y le dijo (Jesús): “Bien haz respondido; HAZ ESTO Y VIVIRÁS».

8) El escritor del evangelio de Juan, capítulo 5, verso 18, nos dice que, al decir Jesús que Dios era su Padre, Jesús se estaba haciendo a sí mismo igual a Dios. El texto dice así: “Por esto los Hebreos aún mas procuraban matarle, porque no solo quebrantaba el día de reposo, sino que también decía que Dios era su propio Padre, haciéndose igual a Dios”. Pero el problema con el texto que acabamos de leer es que contradice otros textos del mismo Nuevo Testamento, donde otras personas son llamadas “hijos de Dios”, sin necesariamente implicar que fuesen iguales a Dios. Uno de estos pasajes es Mateo 5:9, donde se dice que todo hombre pacificador, es un hijo de Dios. El texto dice así: “Bienaventurados los pacificadores, porque ellos eran llamados “HIJOS DE DIOS”. Otro de estos pasajes es Lucas 3:38, donde nos dice que Adán era hijo de Dios. El texto termina diciendo así:”... Hijo de Enós, hijo de Set, hijo de Adán, HIJO DE DIOS”.

9) Otro ejemplo en el cual el Nuevo testamento contradice las Escrituras es que en el libro de Hechos, capítulo 7, y verso 14, se nos dice que el numero de personas que subieron a Egipto con Jacob fue setenta y cinco. Pero Génesis 46:27 dice que fueron setenta. Hechos 7:14 dice así: “Y enviando José, hizo venir a su padre Jacob, y a toda su parentela, en número de setenta y cinco personas”. Pero Gen. 46:27 dice otra cosa. El texto dice así: “Y los hijos de José, que le nacieron en Egipto, eran dos: todas las personas de la casa de Jacob que vinieron a Egipto, eran setenta”.

10) Otra seria contradicción es que en 1ra De Corintios 11:14, el Nuevo testamento nos enseña que al hombre le es deshonoroso dejarse crecer el cabello. El texto dice así: “La naturaleza misma ¿no os enseña que al varón le es deshonoroso dejarse crecer el cabello?”. Pero Jueces 13:5 nos dice que cuando el ángel le dijo a la mamá de Sansón como debía criar a su hijo, le ordenó que este debía dejarse crecer el cabello. El texto dice así: “Pues he aquí que concebirás y darás a luz un hijo; y navaja no pasará sobre su cabeza, porque el niño será nazareo a Dios desde su nacimiento, y él comenzará a salvar a Israel de mano de los filisteos”. No solo esto, sino que la presencia de Dios se apartó de Sansón el mismo día en que su pelo fue cortado. El texto en Jueces 16:19-20 dice así: «Y ella hizo que él se durmiese sobre sus rodillas, y llamó a un hombre, quien le rapó las siete guedejas de su cabeza... Y le dijo: “¡Sansón, los filisteos sobre ti!”. Y luego que despertó él de su sueño, se dijo: “esta vez saldré como las otras y me escaparé”. Pero él no sabía que El Señor ya se había apartado de él».

11) La imagen que a menudo proyectan los Evangelios, es una capaz de inducir en la psiquis de millones de lectores (gentiles), la idea de que los Hebreos (Judíos, Samaritanos, Esenios, Ebionitas, Karaítas, etc) somos gente maligna y perversa; gente satánica, capaz de realizar la mayor de todas las abominaciones- crucificar al Creador del Universo; quien, según el evangelio, se encarnó en la persona de Jesús de Nazaret (paz sea con él).

Y ya que el evangelio presenta a su héroe (Jesús) antagonizando contra todo lo que tenga que ver con los Hebreos, pues el lector se ve emocionalmente forzado a rechazar todo aquello que pueda identificarle con tales villanos; la Ley que los Hebreos guardaban, las fiestas sagradas (Yom Kippur, Pascua, Tabernáculos, etc) que los Hebreos guardaban, y los mandamientos que los Hebreos guardaban.

Por eso, los evangelios citan a Jesús diciendo, “Y en VUESTRA LEY está escrito que el testimonio de dos hombres es verdadero (es decir, en VUESTRA LEY, no en MI LEY)...” - Juan 8:1. Esto último es afirmado en el pasaje de Juan 10:34, donde se cita a Jesús diciendo: “Respondióles Jesús: ¿No está escrito en VUESTRA LEY...” (de nuevo, no en MI LEY, sino en VUESTRA LEY). Del mismo modo, el Evangelio dice: “Estaba cerca LA PASCUA, la FIESTA DE LOS JUDÍOS (es decir, NO UNA FIESTA DE DIOS, ni de Jesús y sus seguidores, sino DE LOS JUDÍOS)” - Juan 6:4.

Y, también dice en otro lugar: “Estaba cerca LA FIESTA DE LOS JUDÍOS; la de LOS TABERNÁCULOS ... (de nuevo, NO LA FIESTA DE JESÚS y de sus seguidores, SINO LA DE SUS ENEMIGOS JUDÍOS). De igual modo, los Evangelios distinguen entre, los mandamientos de Jesús (el héroe de la historia), y los mandamientos de los Judíos (los villanos de la narrativa). Acerca de Jesús, el Evangelio dice: “El que tiene MIS MANDAMIENTOS, Y LOS GUARDA, aquél es el que me ama; y el que me ama, SERÁ AMADO DE MI PADRE...”- Juan 14:21; Mientras que de los Hebreos dice: “Mas en vano me honran, Enseñando doctrinas y MANDAMIENTOS DE HOMBRES (DE LOS JUDÍOS)” - Mateo 15:9.

De este modo, el Evangelio hace de Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) el paradigma de todo lo que es bueno y noble; un hombre a quien aún los espíritus inmundos admiran y reconocen (“Y LOS ESPÍRITUS INMUNDOS, al verle, SE POSTRABAN DELANTE DE ÉL, y daban voces, diciendo: ¡TÚ ERES EL HIJO DE DIOS!”- Marcos 3:11). Pero, este mismo Evangelio, hace de los Hebreos algo peor que espíritus inmundos (¡los espíritus inmundos tenían al menos suficiente “bondad” como para postrarse ante Jesús!).

El Evangelio presenta a los Hebreos como hijos de Satanás; gente maligna y perversa; demonios asesinos y mentirosos, siempre dispuestos a hacer la voluntad de su padre el diablo. Como está escrito, “VOSOTROS (es decir vosotros LOS HEBREOS, con los cuales yo no tengo nada que ver) SOIS DE VUESTRO PADRE EL DIABLO, Y LOS DESEOS DE VUESTRO PADRE QUERÉIS HACER. ÉL HA SIDO HOMICIDA DESDE EL PRINCIPIO, Y NO HA PERMANECIDO EN LA VERDAD, PORQUE NO HAY VERDAD EN ÉL. Cuando habla mentira, de suyo habla; porque ES MENTIROSO, Y PADRE DE MENTIRA”- Juan 8:44.

Así, el Evangelio implanta en el subconsciente de sus lectores (el mundo gentil), la idea de que los Hebreos son hijos del Diablo; que todo lo que los Hebreos predicaban, practicaban, y creen, está bajo maldición Divina; no siendo otra cosa que el vano producto del engaño y la mentira de aquellos que, en su dureza de corazón, rehúsan doblegarse ante el Dios encarnado en la persona de Jesús.

Irónicamente, esta mentalidad es en si misma la mayor de todas las vanidades; pues, en su inocente (pero extraviado) deseo de distanciarse de todo lo que evoque a los villanos de la narrativa, el gentil termina menospreciando la Ley de los Hebreos (que no es en realidad la Ley de los Hebreos, sino la Ley de Adonai Yah, el Dios de Israel; quien, luego de entregarla a los Hebreos, les ordenó guardarla). De igual modo, terminan menospreciando las fiestas de los Hebreos (que no son en realidad las fiestas de los Hebreos, sino las fiestas de Adonai Yah, quien ordenó a los Hebreos guardarlas); termina menospreciando los mandamientos de los Hebreos (que, de nuevo, no son en realidad los mandamientos de los Hebreos, sino los mandamientos de Adonai Yah; quien luego de escribirlos en dos tablas de piedra, ordenó a los Hebreos guardarlos); y termina finalmente menospreciando a Adonai Yah, el Dios de los Hebreos (quien no es el Dios de los Hebreos, sino el Único y Verdadero Dios, quien entregó a Israel la Ley, las Fiestas, y los Mandamientos), para ensalzar en cambio a Jesús (el dios-hombre que, según los evangelios, no reconoció como suyas la Ley, las Fiestas, ni los mandamientos dados por Adonai Yah a Su pueblo Israel).

Así, los gentiles cristianos terminan sustituyendo la Ley de Adonai Yah, con la ley del Evangelio; las fiestas de Adonai Yah, con las fiestas del Cristianismo; los mandamientos de Adonai Yah, con los mandamientos de Jesús y sus seguidores. Y, cuando llegan a esta etapa, se encuentra ya tan alejados de la verdad, que no pueden evitar sufrir el mismo extravío que sufrieron antiguamente muchos de nuestros ancestros Samaritanos (que adoraban a más de una deidad)- es decir, sirven a Adonai Yah (el Dios de Israel), a la misma vez que sirven a Jesús (el hombre-dios de los gentiles).

Entonces, se cumple también en ellos el verso que dice: «TEMÍAN A ADONAI YAH, Y HONRABAN A SUS DIOSES (JESÚS, PABLO, PEDRO, APOLOS, MARÍA, ETC), según la costumbre de las gentes de donde habían sido trasladados. Hasta hoy hacen como primero; que ni temen a Yah, ni guardan sus estatutos (los alimentos puros, la circuncisión, etc), ni sus ordenanzas (las Fiestas Hebreas), ni hacen según la Ley (pues no siguen la Ley, sino el Evangelio) y los mandamientos (los diez mandamientos, que incluyen el Shabbat) que prescribió Adonai Yah (no Jesús) a los hijos de Jacob (los Hebreos que el Evangelio maligniza), al cual puso el nombre de Israel; Con los cuales había Yah hecho pacto, y les mandó, diciendo:

“No temeréis a otros dioses, ni los adoraréis, ni les serviréis, ni les sacrificaréis: Mas a Yah, que os sacó de tierra de Egipto con grande poder y brazo extendido, a éste temeréis, y a éste adoraréis, y a éste haréis sacrificio. LOS ESTATUTOS Y DERECHOS Y LEY Y MANDAMIENTOS QUE OS DIO POR ESCRITO, CUIDARÉIS SIEMPRE DE PONERLOS POR OBRA, y no temeréis dioses ajenos. Y NO OLVIDARÉIS EL PACTO QUE HICE CON VOSOTROS; ni temeréis dioses ajenos: Mas temed a Yah vuestro Dios, y Él os libraré de mano de todos vuestros enemigos”. EMPERO ELLOS NO ESCUCHARON;

antepasados; heredaron lo absurdo, lo que no sirve para nada”» (Jeremías 16:19).

12) Finalmente, quizás la mas seria contradicción del Nuevo Testamento es el hecho de que enseña que Jesús, el Padre, y el Espíritu Santo, son una misma persona. Por ejemplo, 1ra Juan 5:7 dice así- “Porque tres son los que dan testimonio en el cielo: el Padre, el Verbo y el Espíritu Santo; y estos tres son uno”. El anterior texto desafía la lógica y el sentido común.

Veamos un ejemplo- Supongamos que usted entra en un cuarto solitario, y allí haya a un joven de unos 30 años, que se encuentra solo, pero hablando en alta voz. Usted le pregunta que está haciendo, y el joven le contesta que solo está hablando consigo mismo; ¿No sospecharía usted que este joven tiene problemas mentales? Ahora bien, si Jesús y Dios son una misma persona, ¿con quien hablaba Jesús cuando oraba? ¿Hablaba consigo mismo? ¿tenía Jesús (la paz y la bendición sean con el) problemas mentales? ¿O es que Dios no conoce sus propios pensamientos?

Otra contradicción lógica sería la siguiente: Si Jesús y el Padre son una misma persona, entonces se deduce que Jesús es Dios, y si Jesús es Dios, entonces no necesita Dios alguno fuera de sí mismo. Pero la realidad es que, luego de resucitar, encontramos a Jesús confesando que su Dios es el mismo Dios de sus hermanos Hebreos. El texto está en Juan 20:17, y dice de la siguiente manera: “...mas ve a mis hermanos, y diles: Subo a mi Padre Padre y a vuestro Padre, A MI DIOS Y A VUESTRO DIOS”.

De igual modo el texto en 1ra Juan 5:7 contradice flagrantemente el texto en Efesios 1:3, que reza de la siguiente manera: “Bendito sea el Dios y Padre de nuestro Señor Jesucristo...”. Este último texto nuevamente muestra con claridad meridiana que Jesús tenía un Dios, y este Dios era el mismo Dios que adoraban los Hebreos. Quizás esto explique el por que, en Mateo 19:17, Jesús rehúsa que le llamen “bueno”, señalando que el único “bueno” era Dios. El texto en Mateo reza así- “El le dijo: ¿Por qué me llamas bueno? Ninguno hay bueno sino uno: Dios...”.

Otro texto que contradice el concepto de la Trinidad que se menciona en 1ra Juan 5:7 se encuentra en Lucas 24:18-19. Allí se narra el testimonio que de Jesús dan dos de sus seguidores presenciales. El texto dice así: “...Eres tu el único forastero en Jerusalén que no has sabido las cosas que en ella han acontecido en estos días? Entonces El les dijo:Que cosas? Y ellos le dijeron: de Jesús Nazareno, que fue varón profeta, poderoso en obra y en palabra delante de Dios y de todo el pueblo...”

Hay también varios otros pasajes donde podemos ver que, con su misma conducta, Jesús intima que adolece de los atributos de la Deidad. Un buen ejemplo se encuentra en Lucas 24:41. Allí se nos dice lo siguiente: “Y como todavía ellos, de gozo, no lo creían, y estaban maravillados, les dijo: ¿Tenéis aquí algo de comer? Note que en este pasaje se nos dice que Jesús ya había resucitado; Pero Jesús tuvo que preguntar a sus discípulos si tenían algo de comer.

¿No se deduce por fuerza mayor que, si el Jesús resucitado fuese uno con el Padre, sabría todas las cosas?, ¿por que tendría Jesús que preguntarles si tenían algo de comer? ¿Por que no simplemente decirles- dadme de lo que tenéis para comer?

Para que no quede duda alguna de lo errado y contradictorio que es afirmar que Dios y Jesús son una misma persona, examinemos el texto en Juan 18:16-18. El texto reza así: “Y si yo juzgo, mi juicio es verdadero; porque no soy solo, sino yo y el que me envió, el Padre. Y en vuestra Ley está escrito que el testimonio de dos hombres es verdadero. Yo soy el que doy testimonio de mí mismo: y da testimonio de mí el que me envió, el Padre”.

Note que Jesús indica que, de acuerdo a la Ley, el Padre y él son dos personas distintas. ¿A que Ley se refería Jesús? Pues se refería a que, en cualquier caso legal donde un hecho tuviese que ser establecido, la Ley decía que el testimonio de un solo hombre no era suficiente; que se necesitaban al menos dos hombres distintos, que pudiesen atestiguar sobre la veracidad de un hecho particular. La única excepción a esta regla, era el caso de la muerte de un esposo, donde la mujer podía obtener el divorcio en base al testimonio de un solo hombre que hubiese presenciado la muerte de su marido. Note que la Ley no aceptaba el testimonio de una misma persona, con dos nombres distintos; Tampoco aceptaba el testimonio de un siamés (es decir, dos hombres unidos por medio de un mismo cuerpo); tenían que ser dos personas distintas y separadas. Al hacer referencia a esta Ley, lo que Jesús estaba afirmando de modo categórico, era que el Padre y él eran dos personas distintas, con conciencias separadas, tal como sería el caso de dos Israelitas comunes.

¿Significa lo que hasta aquí hemos expuesto, que debe usted abandonar completamente los escritos Neo-Testamentarios? ¡Absolutamente No!. ¿Significa acaso que debe dejar de creer en la figura del Nazareno? ¡Jamás! Lo que significa, es que la evidencia interna apunta al hecho de que los compiladores del “Nuevo Testamento” a menudo esbozaron teologías que diferían drásticamente de las palabras y enseñanzas atribuidas al Nazareno.

Es que Jesús fue circuncidado al 8vo día (Lucas 2:21); acostumbraba asistir el día Sábado a la sinagoga Hebrea (Lucas 4:16); hizo la peregrinación anual al templo de Jerusalén (Lucas 2:42-43); dijo el Shema- “Escucha Israel, el Señor tu Dios, el Señor uno solo es...” (Marcos 12:30); celebró la Pascua Hebrea (Lucas 22:15); y dijo una bendición sobre el pan y el vino (Lucas 22:17&19). Desde cualquier ángulo que lo consideremos, tendremos que aceptar el hecho de que Jesús nació, vivió y murió como un creyente Hebreo. En otras palabras, la religión que practicó Jesús, no fue la religión Cristiana, sino la Hebrea.

Pero, si Jesús no vino a traer una nueva religión, ¿Cual fue entonces su misión? Su misión fue sencillamente diseminar la buena nueva de que El Creador siempre estaría dispuesto a perdonar al pecador que se arrepiente, según prometido en 2da de Crónicas 7:14, en Jeremías 36:3, y en Ezequiel 33:14-16. Su misión fue modelar al mundo lo que era la vida de arrepentimiento a la que debe aspirar todo hombre o mujer que ha sido “ungido” por Dios para, como se cita a Jesús diciendo, “trabajar en su viña”.

La palabra Hebrea para “ungido” es “Mashiach”, o “Mesías”. Y la traducción al Griego de la palabra Mesías, es “Cristo”. Al igual que enseñaron tanto Moisés como los profetas, Jesús enseñó que la vida de un ungido, o un “Mesías”, es una donde nuestro servicio a Dios (por medio de nuestro servicio al prójimo), nos conduce a identificarnos con el dolor del que sufre.

Antes de la llegada de Jesús, el privilegio de ser ungidos (o Mesías) de Dios, había recaído en su abrumadora mayoría sobre la comunidad Hebrea. Por ejemplo, en 1ra Crónicas 16:22, y refiriéndose a los Israelitas que habrían de entrar a la tierra prometida, la Escritura dice así: “No toquéis dijo a mis ungidos (entiéndase, Mesías), ni hagáis mal a mis profetas”.

Pero la realidad es que esta gracia no tiene que excluir al gentil. Es decir, habiendo Jesús practicado la ética y la religión Hebrea, todo el que sigue sus enseñanzas Hebreas está implícitamente invitado a ser parte de ese mismo pueblo; para también convertirse en ungido (o Mesías) y profeta de Dios, tal como lo fueron los antiguos Israelitas. Quizás fue por eso que, sabiendo de antemano que muchos creerían su ejemplo de lo que es vivir la vida de un Mesías, Jesús es citado diciendo las siguientes palabras: “De cierto, de cierto os digo, El que en mí cree, las obras que yo hago, él las hará también, y aún mayores hará, porque yo voy al Padre”(Juan 14:12).

Todos estamos llamados a vivir la vida del Mesías que Abraham, Moisés, Jesús, y los profetas modelaron. La escuela Hebrea de Hillel definía esa vida con la siguiente expresión: “Lo que es odioso para ti, no se lo hagas tú a los demás”. Jesús mismo lo parafraseó diciendo: “Así que, todas las cosas que queráis que los hombres hagan con vosotros, así también haced vosotros con ellos, porque esto es la Ley y los Profetas” (Mateo 7:12). En otras palabras, Jesús decía que la Ley se resumía en hacer bien al prójimo; y Hillel decía que la Ley se resumía en No hacer mal al prójimo- ¡Dos caras de una misma moneda!

Cuando Jesús es citado diciendo, “... yo soy el camino, y la verdad, y la vida, nadie viene al Padre sino por mí” (Juan 14:6), no estaba literalmente diciendo que era algún tipo de intermediario entre Dios y los hombres; o que antes de poder clamar a Dios, había que clamar a Jesús (esto quedaba claro del texto en Jeremías 33:3, que enseñaba que siempre podemos clamar directamente a Dios, sin necesidad de intermediario alguno: “Clama a mí, y te responderé, y te enseñaré cosas grandes y dificultosas que tú no sabes”).

Lo que Jesús quería intimar era que, si queremos llegar a Dios (si queremos conocer la Verdad Divina, si realmente anhelamos conocer el estilo de vida que Dios desea que vivan sus ungidos), tenemos que ir al que sufre. Fue por esto que Jesús se identificó a sí mismo con los oprimidos tanto por el liderato político, como por el religioso; se identificó con los pobres, con los marginados, con los enfermos, con la viuda, con el huérfano, con el preso, y con quien sufría una muerte injusta. ¿Que significa todo esto? Significa que, no podemos conocer a Dios, ni saber la vida que espera de nosotros, sin que, al igual que hicieron todos los profetas, estemos dispuestos a negarnos a nosotros mismos; es decir, renunciar a nuestra propia zona de “confort”, para identificarnos con el dolor de nuestro prójimo.

De modo semejante, y como ya hemos aclarado, cuando Jesús es citado diciendo: “Yo y el Padre uno somos” no está en realidad implicando que literalmente era uno con el Padre. Lo que Jesús pretendía hacer, era llamar la atención a su ejemplo vivencial: que si Dios pudiese encarnarse, no sería el hombre poderoso, que impone a la fuerza su voluntad, y a quien todos temen y adulan; ¡No!, si Dios pudiera hacerse hombre, no sería el rico a quien todos respetan y exaltan; ¡No!, si Dios pudiera hacerse hombre, sería la persona humilde y desposeída; sería el pobre, el enfermo a quien nadie visita, sería el hombre despreciado por el liderato político y religioso, sería el soñador en quien nadie cree, y del cual todos se burlan; sería la viuda; sería el huérfano; sería el preso; sería el que hace bien, y tiene misericordia del prójimo, aún cuando este no pueda pagarle el favor; sería el hombre que hace lo correcto, porque es correcto hacer lo correcto, no porque recibirá beneficio alguno por ello.

Si Dios fuese hombre, sería aquel que da la vida por sus amigos, sería aquel que perdona a quienes le hieren y humillan, sería aquel que paga con bien a aquellos que le hacen mal. El mensaje del Samaritanismo Reformado de Jesús, era que “el Mesías” es la manifestación de Dios en el Mundo; y que, esta manifestación, se hará una realidad el día en que, al igual que hicieron Avraham, Moisés, Jesús, y todos los profetas, escojamos ser el hombre que el Creador mismo escogería ser, si pudiese encarnarse en un cuerpo humano. Esta es la esencia del Samaritanismo Reformado, la fe que vivieron y predicaron todos los sabios de Israel.

Las incoherencias de la noble teología Cristiana: ¿quien es el mayor de entre los nacidos de mujer?

Las incoherencias de la noble teología Cristiana: ¿quien es el mayor entre los nacidos de mujer? El Evangelio cristiano cita a Jesús (paz sea con él) diciendo: “No juzguéis, para que no seáis juzgados...” (Mateo 7:1). Y también dice en otro lugar: “De cierto os digo: Entre los que nacen de mujer, no se ha levantado otro mayor que Juan el Bautista...” - Mateo 11:11. Pero, por el otro lado, el Evangelio cita a Juan el Bautista, juzgando y condenando a Herodes, diciéndole: “¡... No te es lícito tener la mujer de tu hermano! (es decir, tener la mujer de su hermano Felipe)” – Marcos 6:18.

¿En que quedamos? ¿Como pudo Juan juzgar a Herodes (desobedeciendo así a Jesús, quien prohibió que juzgásemos a nadie), y a la misma vez ser el mayor de entre los que nacen de mujer? ¿No dice el Evangelio que, solo aquel que este “libre de pecados” puede tirar la piedra?: “... El que de vosotros esté sin pecado, sea el primero en arrojar la piedra...” - Juan 8:7.

¿Como es posible que, siendo Jesús el Mesías, y habiendo nacido de una mujer, sea Juan (y no Jesús) el mayor de los que nacen de mujer? De hecho, si Jesús era en efecto mayor que Juan, ¿por que fue Juan (un hombre pecador, e imperfecto) el que sintió que estaba suficientemente libre de pecados, como para “tirar la piedra a Herodes”? ¿Por que no lo hizo Jesús? ¿No dice el Evangelio que Jesús estaba libre de pecados? Como esta escrito: “¿Quién de vosotros me redarguye de pecado?” – Juan 8:46.

¿Que significan todas estas contradicciones? Pues significan que, el Evangelio, es un ingenioso ardid; una ingeniosa [y bien sazónada] “ensalada religiosa”, que combina con astucia y sagacidad lo que en efecto es la Palabra de Dios (la Ley), con lo que no es sino la palabra del hombre. Las anteriores contradicciones (entre muchas otras) significan que la Torah tenia razón, al afirmar que, es la Ley (y no ningún libro futuro), la que es perfecta.

Como esta escrito: “La Ley (Torah) de יהוה es Perfecta...”. Y, ya que la Ley es perfecta (y lo que es perfecto no puede ser anulado ni sustituido por algo mejor), concluimos que el Evangelio es irrelevante [es decir, no tiene mayor valor teológico, que el que podría tener el Talmud, o cualquier otro comentario Bíblico].

¿Que debe entonces hacer el creyente? Pues volver a la Ley de Dios, y comenzar a practicar el mandato Divino que le ordena diciendo: “Nunca se apartará de tu boca este libro de la ley, sino que de día y de noche meditarás en él, para que guardes y hagas conforme a todo lo que en él está escrito; porque entonces harás prosperar tu camino, y todo te saldrá bien” - Josué 1:8.

Medite día y noche en la Ley de Dios; ponga especial énfasis en el Libro de los Salmos, y יהוה (bendito sea) no fallara en bendecir su vida, en ennoblecerla, y en darle un maravilloso propósito y sentido.

¿Es la maldad existente en el universo prueba absoluta de que no existe un Dios omnipotente?

Suponga usted que existe un universo donde todo es justo y bueno; donde no hay dolor, ni sufrimiento; no hay muerte; no hay mentira; no hay enfermedad, angustia, hambre, sed, dolor, ni cansancio. Pero los perfectos e inmortales seres que allí habitan no pueden realmente apreciar lo que poseen. ¿Por que? Pues porque no tiene un punto de referencia para el bien y el mal.

Es decir, nunca han experimentado otra cosa fuera de la perfección existencial que siempre han poseído- no saben lo que es experimentar limitación alguna; ignorancia, olvido, dolor, temor, incertidumbre, mentira, maldad, sufrimiento, ni muerte. Un día, estos seres deciden obtener ayuda de su infinito y omnipotente Creador, quien contesta sus ruegos creando otro universo; uno donde existe la maldad, la duda, el olvido, la ignorancia, la muerte, la incertidumbre, y el dolor.

De este modo, sus inmortales hijos pueden escoger [voluntariamente] entrar en ese universo, experimentar el mal, y regresar a su celestial hogar con una mejor apreciación de lo maravillosa que es la perfección existencial que su Creador les ha concedido. ¿Y donde está ese universo de maldad que ha de servir de escuela para estas curiosas almas inmortales? ¡Pues es el universo en el cual ahora mismo nos encontramos!

Así, el que la maldad exista en nuestro universo, no es prueba absoluta de que no exista un Dios omnipotente. De hecho, si nuestro universo estuviese libre de toda maldad, quizás haríamos [erradamente] el mismo reclamo- que el que la maldad no exista en nuestro universo, es prueba de que no existe un Dios omnipotente.

Leyendas Del Samaritanismo Reformado: ¡La bendición Divina puede venir disfrazada de Árabe!

Una antigua leyenda narra la historia de un piadoso creyente Hebreo que tenía una esposa muy virtuosa. Desafortunadamente, el creyente perdió todo lo que poseía, convirtiéndose así en un jornalero. Un día, mientras araba en el campo, el profeta Elías (siempre recordado en buenas ocasiones) se le presentó bajo la apariencia de un Árabe.

Entonces procedió a decirle: “Tienes seis años buenos (viniendo hacia ti), ¿cuando deseas tenerlos? ¿ahora, o al final de tus días? El creyente piadoso le contestó diciendo: “Tu debes ser un hechicero... ¡No tengo nada que darte; déjame en paz!”. Pero el Árabe (Elías) volvió en tres ocasiones consecutivas, haciendo la misma pregunta.

Finalmente [en la tercera ocasión], el hombre piadoso le contestó: “Iré a consultar con mi esposa”.

Entonces fue a su esposa y le dijo: «Alguien vino a mi, para molestarme en tres ocasiones diciéndome: “Tienes seis años buenos (viniendo hacia ti), ¿cuando deseas tenerlos? ¿ahora, o al final de tus días?”». Entonces procedió a preguntar a su esposa: “¿Que dices tu (al respecto)?”. Ella contestó: «Ve, y dile, “¡tráelos ahora!”».

Así, el hombre retornó al Árabe (Elías), y le dijo: “Ve, y traemelos ahora”. Entonces el Árabe le respondió: “Vuelve a tu casa, y antes de que llegues al portón de tu patio, encontrarás que la bendición ya se extiende sobre tu hogar”. Milagrosamente, sucedió que en aquel preciso momento, y mientras los hijos de aquel hombre jugaban a colar tierra entre sus dedos, descubrieron suficiente dinero (enterrado en la tierra) como para sostenerles durante seis años.

Cuando los niños llamaron a su madre, esta salió a investigar lo sucedido, de suerte que antes de que el creyente piadoso pudiese llegar al portón de su patio, su esposa ya había venido a encontrarle, para darle las buenas nuevas. Al ver esto, el hombre agradeció de inmediato al Altísimo (bendito sea) por el gran alivio que había recibido.

¿Que hizo entonces su virtuosa esposa? Pues procedió a decirle: “Como están las cosas, El Santísimo (bendito sea) ha trenzado nuestras vidas con el hilo de su misericordia, pues nos ha dado suficiente sustento como para seis años; ocupémonos pues en hacer obras de bondad y misericordia durante estos años-- quizás el Santo (bendito sea) continuara dándonos mas de su amplia generosidad”.

Y esto fue lo que hizo: todos y cada uno de los días, y cada vez que daba algo a los pobres, diría su hijo menor, “registra (en un papel), cada artículo que dispensamos”. Y así lo haría aquel hijo. Al final de los seis años, Elías (siempre recordado en buenas ocasiones) volvió, y dijo al hombre piadoso: “Ha llegado el tiempo de quitarte lo que te di”.

Pero el hombre le respondió diciendo: “Cuando lo tomé, lo tomé solamente después de escuchar el consejo de mi esposa; ahora que debo devolverlo, solo lo devolveré después de escuchar el consejo de mi esposa”. Entonces el hombre volvió a su mujer y le dijo: “El anciano [Árabe] ha regresado para llevarse lo que es suyo”. La esposa le contestó: «Ve y dile, “si encuentra otros seres humanos mas confiables que nosotros, puedes darle lo que dejaste a nuestro cuidado”».

Así, cuando el Santo Dios (bendito sea) consideró las palabras y los actos de caridad que habían ejecutado esta piadosa pareja, les concedió bienestar tras bienestar, de suerte que se cumpliera en ellos lo que se ha dicho: “Y el efecto de la Caridad será (la) paz” - Isaías 32:17.

En conclusión, la próxima vez que un Árabe (o un Palestino) se acerque a usted, no se deje llevar por los prejuicios ni las apariencias; No asuma que es un hechicero [es decir, un ignorante], ni mucho menos que necesariamente es un ídólatra pagano. Y, aún mas importante, no le mire como a un enemigo; pues detrás de esas vestimentas orientales, quizás se esconda un hermano; alguien a quien Dios ha enviado para ser de bendición a su vida.

Finalmente, tanto Hebreos [Judíos, Samaritanos, Karaítas], como Cristianos y Musulmanes, debemos hacer nuestro mejor y mas sincero esfuerzo por vivir en armonía, entendiendo que en ello se decide nuestro futuro eterno. Como está escrito: “¡Mirad cuan bueno y cuan placentero es habitar los hermanos juntos en armonía!” (Salmo 133:1). ¿Y que termina diciendo el salmo?... “Porque allí envía Adonai bendición, y vida Eterna” (Salmo 133:3).

los Mandamientos Divinos son La Piedra de incommovible de los siglos

La tradición Judía alega que la Ley Divina consiste de 613 mandamientos. Pero la tradición Samaritana alega que el Creador tan solo concedió a Israel 10 Leyes, y que el resto no era sino la explicación detallada de como vivir esas diez leyes de forma corporativa (Nacional).

Y esto ultimo quizás este intimado en el hecho de que, el valor numérico de 613 sea equivalente a 10 (es decir, $6 + 1 + 3 = 10$). De hecho, una leyenda dice lo siguiente: Un joven preguntó en cierta ocasión a un anciano Samaritano: «¿Por que se le llaman los “Diez” Dichos (o “Mandamientos”)? ¿Y por que fueron escritos sobre “Dos” tablas de piedra?».

El sabio contestó diciendo: «Fueron escritos sobre “Dos” tablas de piedra, porque “Dos” son las manos del hombre. Y fueron llamados “Diez”, porque “Diez” son los dedos de esas dos manos. En otras palabras, así como nuestra vida en el presente Mundo depende del uso práctico que demos a los “Diez” dedos de las “Dos” manos que nos han sido dadas, de ese mismo modo nuestra vida en el Mundo que ha de venir depende del uso práctico que demos a los “Diez” mandamientos de las “Dos” Tablas que nos han sido dadas».

El joven replicó: «¿Pero no es acaso cierto que nuestros “Dos” pies tienen tambien “Diez” dedos?» A lo cual el anciano respondió: «Es correcto. Y significa que, quien afirma sus “Dos” pies [es decir, quien edifica su vida] sobre los “Diez” Mandamientos, es como quien construye sobre la piedra: ¡un fundamento incommovible!»

¿Donde en la Ley se enseña que hay tal cosa como un “Cordero de Dios, que quita el pecado del mundo”? ¡Pues en ninguna parte!

¿Donde en la Ley se encuentra aquel único y exclusivo “Cordero”, que expiaba el pecado de todos y cada uno de los Israelitas? ¡Pues en ninguna parte! ¿Por que? Pues porque, la Ley, no proveía una única ofrenda para expiar los pecados del Israelita. Es decir, las ofrendas para expiar los diversos tipos de pecados [no todos los pecados eran iguales], iban desde Becerros y cabras, hasta palomas y flor de Harina.

De hecho, si estudiamos detenidamente lo que la Ley nos muestra ser las ofrendas por el pecado, encontraremos que, para cada individuo (la Comunidad, el Sumo Sacerdote, los Líderes del Pueblo, la gente común, etc), había una ofrenda distinta. Y, curiosamente, ninguna de esas ofrendas era un cordero macho. De hecho, aun en los casos donde un cordero era aceptado, se nos dice que no podía ser macho, sino hembra (es decir, que en vez de ponderar la idea de un “cordero de Dios, que quita el pecado del mundo”, tendríamos que ponderar la idea de una “cordera de Dios, que quita el pecado del Mundo”).

Los correspondientes versos del libro de Levítico, dicen así: «Cuando alguna persona pecare por yerro en alguno de los mandamientos de יהוה ... si el sacerdote ungido pecare según el pecado del pueblo, ofrecerá a יהוה, por su pecado que habrá cometido, UN BECERRO sin defecto para expiación... Si toda la congregación de Israel hubiere errado, y el yerro estuviere oculto a los ojos del pueblo, y hubieren hecho algo contra alguno de los mandamientos de יהוה en cosas que no se han de hacer, y fueren culpables... la congregación ofrecerá UN BECERRO por expiación ... Cuando pecare un Jefe, e hiciere por yerro algo contra alguno de todos los mandamientos de יהוה su Dios sobre cosas que no se han de hacer, y pecare ... presentará por su ofrenda UN MACHO CABRÍO ... Si alguna persona del pueblo pecare por yerro, haciendo algo contra alguno de los mandamientos de יהוה en cosas que no se han de hacer ... traerá por su ofrenda UNA CABRA ... Si alguno pecare por haber sido llamado a testificar ... Asimismo la persona que hubiere tocado cualquiera cosa inmunda ... O si tocare inmundicia de hombre, cualquiera inmundicia ... O si alguno jure a la ligera con sus labios hacer mal o hacer bien ... Cuando pecare en alguna de estas cosas, confesará aquello en que pecó; y, para su expiación, traerá a יהוה por su pecado que cometió, una hembra de los rebaños, UNA CORDERA, o una cabra como ofrenda de expiación ... Y si no tuviere lo suficiente para un cordero, traerá ... DOS TÓRTOLAS, O DOS PALOMINOS ... Mas si no tuviere lo suficiente para dos tórtolas, o dos palominos, el que pecó traerá como ofrenda la décima parte de UN EFA DE FLOR DE HARINA para expiación ... Cuando alguna persona cometiere falta, y pecare por yerro en las cosas santas de יהוה, traerá por su culpa a יהוה UN CARNERO sin defecto de los rebaños ... Y pagará lo que hubiere defraudado de las cosas santas, y añadirá a ello la quinta parte ... Finalmente, si una persona pecare, o hiciere alguna de todas aquellas cosas que por mandamiento de יהוה no se han de hacer ... Traerá, pues, al sacerdote para expiación ... UN CARNERO sin defecto de los rebaños; y el sacerdote le hará expiación por el yerro que cometió por ignorancia, y será perdonado» (Levítico 4:1-35 & 5:1-18)

La realidad es que la Ley enseñaba que, para propósitos de expiación, el cordero, la cordera, y el carnero, eran cosas distintas y separadas (Números 6:14). En adición, la Ley enseñaba que, los casos en los que se mencionaba un cordero, eran aquellos donde la persona ya estaba consagrada a Dios, o estaba libre de pecados voluntarios. ¿Cuales eran algunos de estos casos? Pues el caso donde la persona se había consagrado a Dios por medio del voto de Nazareo [Números 6:13]; el caso donde la persona estaba libre de culpa [como podrían ser los sacrificios de Paz, según Levítico 3:6-7]; el caso donde se trataba de la redención del primogénito [Éxodo 13:13]; y el caso de los holocaustos y las ofrendas, comúnmente asociadas a los ritos y las purificaciones del Templo [Levítico 14:12].

Pero, ¿por que se abstuvo la Ley de presentar al cordero como el paradigma universal de la expiación por los pecados? Pues porque, la Ley, es también una profecía; la profecía de Moisés. Y, nuestro maestro Moisés, previo por el Espíritu Divino, que llegaría el día cuando los paganos, tratarían de utilizar el concepto de un “cordero de Dios”, con el fin de abrogar la obediencia a la Ley. Así, Moisés se aseguro de que, el mensaje de su profecía, fuese escrito de forma tal que desmintiese tan grande blasfemia.

¿Que es יהוה (Adonai Yah, bendito sea), el Dios al cual adoran los Hebreos? Y, ¿donde se encuentra?

Los seres humanos, tenemos una férrea creencia en un común [pero imaginario] concepto: creemos en algo llamado “la nada”. La mayoría de nosotros, tenemos la firme (pero errada) convicción de que, debe haber una infinidad de lugares en el universo, donde no hay absolutamente nada. De hecho, creemos tanto en este concepto, que hasta tenemos un refrán que dice: “¡Las cosas no salen de la nada!”.

El problema con esto, es que nunca hemos observado esa “nada”. Es decir, no importa a donde enfoquemos nuestros telescopios, siempre detectamos “algo”; aun si solamente es tiempo/espacio, y “radiación de fondo”. Es decir, si quisiéramos observar alguna “desgarradura” (o “discontinuidad”) en la “tela” que comprende el tiempo/espacio del universo, tendríamos que alquilar alguna película de ciencia ficción pues, en la vida real, esa “nada absoluta” nunca ha sido observada.

Y este es precisamente el punto de encuentro entre la ciencia moderna, y la antigua religión Hebrea. Verá usted, quienes seguimos la fe del Samaritanismo reformado creemos que יהוה (Adonai Yah, el Dios al cual sirvieron Avraham y Moisés, así como todos los profetas), es la fuente y el Creador de TODAS las cosas.

También creemos que NO HAY NADA QUE NO HALLA SIDO CREADO POR יהוה. Así, nuestra fe postula que יהוה “era” antes de que existiera nada en el Universo; antes de que existiesen las leyes físicas, antes de que existiese el tiempo, el espacio, la materia, la energía, las dimensiones, las emociones, las ideas, o aún lo que conocemos como existencia misma. Pero, esa “nada” (o “falta de existencia”) que estaba presente antes de que existiese “algo”, no es la “nada absoluta” en la cual siempre nos han querido hacer creer; no es un total vacío, sin capacidad para crear cosa alguna. Esa “nada” que precedió todo, es en realidad “algo”; un “algo” que excede al tiempo, al espacio, a la materia, a la energía, a las ideas, a las emociones, y aún a la existencia misma; un “algo” con capacidad para crearlo “todo”.

Ese “algo” es יהוה (bendito sea) el Creador, quien “contiene dentro de si mismo” todas las cosas. Esto es similar a lo que sucedió (en sentido opuesto) con el concepto de “el tiempo”. Durante miles de años, la gente se convenció a si misma de que “el tiempo” en realidad no existía; que era un artificio imaginario, inventado por los hombres, a fin de proveer un marco lógico a la secuencia de eventos que se observaban; al fenómeno de “causa y efecto”.

La mayoría de las personas aceptaron esa idea, hasta que llego un hombre llamado Albert Einstein, quien demostró que “el tiempo” no era un concepto ficticio, ni imaginario; y que, aunque no contaba con una “masa” que pudiese ser pesada; con un “color” que pudiese ser distinguido; o con alguna dimensión física que pudiese ser medida, el tiempo contaba en efecto con una existencia propia, cambiante, e independiente; y que podía “contraerse”, y “expandirse”(acelerarse, y des-acelerarse). De ese mismo modo, se nos ha hecho creer durante siglos que, si pudiéramos “deshacernos de todo” (tiempo, espacio, energía, materia, ideas, emociones, etc.) quedaríamos con “nada”; es decir, un estado de “vacío absoluto”, sin potencial de creación, de cambio, ni de crecimiento. En cambio, los Hebreos creemos que esa “nada” que quedaría (si pudiéramos “deshacernos de todo”), no es una “nada absoluta”, sino que es יהוה, el Creador del Universo (bendito sea).

Para nosotros, el Creador es algo remotamente similar a “El Cero Pitagórico”. Es decir, aunque el

Lo anterior nos lleva a concluir que, la “existencia” del Creador, no puede (por definición) ser medida ni detectada por aparato científico alguno, y cualquier “dios” que pueda ser corroborado por la ciencia (es decir, a través de mediciones físicas), seguramente no es יהוה, el Creador del Universo. Es que, el hecho de que יהוה estuviera ya “allí” (si es que realmente podemos aplicarle esa descripción), antes de que existiesen el tiempo y el espacio, implica que, en su naturaleza mas íntima, יהוה se encuentra “fuera” del ámbito de tiempo y espacio que circunscribe lo que comúnmente entendemos ser nuestra existencia.

En otras palabras, la ciencia no puede detectar la “existencia” de algo que esta mas allá de tiempo y espacio, por no decir mas allá de la existencia misma. Intentarlo, seria algo así como que, el personaje de un vídeo juego, tratase de encontrar al creador del programa de vídeo; pero buscándole en algún lugar “dentro” del mismo vídeo juego. Esto es simplemente imposible; pues, la existencia del creador del programa, excede al programa mismo.

Aunque controla y conocimiento todo lo que sucede dentro del programa, el programador “no existe” dentro del programa; de hecho, la realidad es que, es el programa el que existió primero dentro de la mente del programador. Así, aunque desde la perspectiva de los caracteres del vídeo juego, el programador no existe, su “inexistencia” no significa que el programador sea una “nada absoluta”, sin capacidad para crear, para crecer, y para cambiar.

La anterior línea de pensamiento, dio lugar a que, uno de los nombres que los Hebreos utilizaron para referirnos a יהוה, es “Ha Makom”; un nombre que literalmente significa “el Lugar”. ¿Cual lugar? El lugar que, si bien no esta en ninguna parte del universo (es “cero”, o “nada”), es a su vez el lugar donde se encuentran todas las partes del universo (es el “infinito”, o el “todo” del universo).

Es por esto mismo que, cuando la Escritura dice que alguien “vió” a Dios, que alguien “habló” con Dios, o que alguien “oyó” a Dios, obviamente no se esta refiriendo a la manifestación mas íntima de la esencia Divina, que excede a la existencia misma; sino a alguien (o algo) que habla en nombre del Creador; alguien que le representa; ya sea este un ángel, un mensajero Divino, una voz celestial, un sueño, o algún profeta. Como esta escrito: «יהוה» dijo a Moisés: “Mira, yo te he constituido Dios para Faraón...”- Éxodo 7:1.

Así, el ser humano nunca ha visto realmente a Dios. Y, en esto, la tradición Cristiana concuerda con la tradición Hebrea, pues los Escritos Cristianos cierran su teología con las palabras del apóstol Juan, quien es citado diciendo: “Nadie ha visto jamás a Dios”- 1ra Juan 4:12.

The purpose of God’s Law

The purpose of Torah (God’s Law) is to instruct the Hebrew believer, so that he may strive to be as wise and as holy (in other words, as humble, just, kind, loving, compassionate, and honest) as our master Moses, upon whom HaShem’s glory could be perceived. As is written:

כִּי הוּא חֲכָמְתְּכֶם וּבִינְתְּכֶם, לְעֵינֵי הָעַמִּים: אֲשֶׁר יִשְׁמְעוּן, אֶת כָּל-הַחֲקִים הָאֵלֶּה, וְאָמְרוּ רַק עַם-חֲכָם וְנָבוֹן, הַגּוֹי הַגָּדוֹל הַזֶּה

“for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the peoples, that, when they hear all these statutes, shall say: 'Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people' ”- Deuteronomy

דַּבֵּר אֶל-כָּל-עֵדוּת בְּנֵי-יִשְׂרָאֵל, וְאָמַרְתָּ אֲלֵהֶם--קְדָשִׁים תִּהְיוּ: כִּי קִדּוֹשׁ, אֲנִי יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵיכֶם

“Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, and say unto them: Ye shall be holy; for I the LORD your God am holy”- Leviticus 19:2

In all things man must seek the healthy balanced position, trying to avoid all radical extremes. As it is written: “do not give me poverty, nor riches; (but) keep me of the necessary bread; lest I be satisfied, and deny you, and say: who is Adonai? Or that, being poor, steal, and blaspheme the name of my God”- Prov. 30: 8-9. And also says in another place: “Do not be too honest, nor become too wise; why cause your own ruin?” - Ecclesiastes 7:16

Adam and Eve were originally created with a mortal human nature

Hebrew Scripture says that, right after finishing His work of creation, the Lord said: “And God seeth all that He hath done, and lo, VERY GOOD; and there is an evening, and there is a morning -- day the sixth”- Genesis 1:31 (Young’s literal Translation). In the former verse, the Hebrew words translated as “VERY GOOD”, are “tov meod” (טוֹב מְאֹד). But the original Hebrew language had no written vowels, so the former words sounded eerily similar to the Hebrew words for “TOV MOT”, meaning “DEATH IS GOOD”.

Thus, the verse could also be read as saying, “And God seeth all that He hath done, and lo, DEATH IS GOOD...”. In other words, God foresaw men would turn so wicked, that only the fear of death could bring them back unto the path of righteousness. So Scripture hints men do not die due to any allegedly inherited (spiritual) sin, but rather because death was part of God's original Creation. And that could explain why from the very start God had to provide Adam with food and drink, as the latter would perished without them (why would an immortal being have any need to be sustained with food and water?).

The fact is that, the reason why God commanded his people to get married and beget children is for Israel not to diminish. Why? Because these children would replace those men who would eventually die. As is written:

"Take you wives, and beget sons and daughters, and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not diminished"- Jeremiah 29:6 (1599 Geneva Bible).

So, if the Israelites were immortals, they would've had no need to marry and beget children. And the fact that immortal people don't get married [nor beget any children] was also attested by the gospel, when it went on to quote Jesus saying the following: "... The children of this world marry wives, and are married. But they which shall be counted worthy to enjoy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry wives, neither are married. For they can die no more..."- Luke 20:34-36 (1599 Geneva Bible).

Thus, since God himself married Adam and Eve, and commanded them to beget children ("And God blessed them, and God said to them, Bring forth fruit, and multiply, and fill the earth"- Genesis 1:28), it is obvious that they were both created with a mortal nature.

In short, although Adam and Eve were created with a mortal nature, the tree of life could have prevented them from eventually dying from old age. But, regardless of any sin committed, had they both eaten from the tree of life, they would have lived forever. As is written: "Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: and now, LEST HE PUT FORTH HIS HAND, AND TAKE ALSO OF THE TREE OF LIFE, AND EAT, AND LIVE FOR EVER"- Genesis 3:22

Is astrology real? Do stars control our destiny?

Astrology is a pagan belief- the idea that your destiny is already written in the stars; so that, by studying them, you can know the fate that awaits you. But God's Law teaches otherwise; that neither curse nor blessing is pre-ordained for you; rather, the good [or evil] you freely chose to perform will determine your future. As is written:

"Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse: The blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day: And the curse, if ye will not obey the Commandments of the Lord your God, but turn out of the way, which I command you this day, to go after other gods which ye have not known"- Deut. 11:26-28. Our father Abraham formerly lived as a pagan, but once he found the One true God, he abandoned his old paganism.

From R. Akiba too [we learn that] Israel is free from planetary influence. For R. Akiba had a daughter. Now, astrologers told him, On the day she enters the bridal chamber a snake will bite her and she will die. He was very worried about this. On that day [of her marriage] she took a brooch [and] stuck it into the wall and by chance it penetrated [sank] into the eye of a serpent.

The following morning, when she took it out, the snake came trailing after it. 'What did you do?' her father asked her. 'A poor man came to our door in the evening,' she replied, 'and everybody was busy at the banquet, and there was none to attend to him. So I took the portion which was given to me and gave it to him. 'You have done a good deed,' said he to her. Thereupon R. Akiba went out and lectured: 'But charity delivereth from death': and not [merely] from an unnatural death, but from death itself (Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 156b).

¿Que significa el Logo del Samaritanismo Reformado?

La Estrella de David, que forma parte del logo del Samaritanismo Reformado, está compuesta por dos triángulos a manera de "puntas de flecha". Estas dos "puntas de flecha" son exactamente iguales, pero una de ellas apunta hacia abajo, mientras que la otra apunta hacia arriba. ¿A que apuntan estas flechas?

¿Que significan? Pues significan que la Creación es recíproca: que todo lo que ha descendido del Eterno e Inmortal Ser que habita en los Cielos, debe ser correspondido por sus mortales criaturas, que vivimos acá abajo en la Tierra; significa que se nos devolverá lo mismo que hayamos dado; es decir, que habremos de cosechar el mismo bien [o mal] que libre y voluntariamente hayamos sembrado en nuestro prójimo.

Pero, ¿que razón hay para que las dos "flechas" aparenten formar la imagen de una estrella? Pues para recordarnos que, así como la luz de las estrellas es eterna e inmutable, así también esta verdad (la Ley de “siembra y cosecha”, o “medida por medida”) es eterna e inmutable. ¿Y que significa el que las cuatro letras del nombre Divino se encuentren enmarcadas dentro de la estrella?

De hecho, ¿porque parece el nombre Divino ser la imagen de un hombre cuyo brazo y pierna derecha están “dislocados” (o, “quebrantados”)? ¿Que significado tiene el que la espalda de este hombre aparente estar encorvada, tal y como si llevase una pesada carga?

Pues el significado de todo esto es que, si queremos "ver a Dios", tenemos que buscarle en el hombre que esta quebrantado: en aquel cuyo brazo no es lo suficientemente fuerte como para permitirle ganarse su propio sustento; Encontraremos al Creador en aquel cuyas piernas no son lo suficientemente fuertes como para “ascender la escalera del éxito”;

Encontraremos a Dios en el hombre que lleva sobre sus espaldas una pesada carga (esclavitud, enfermedad, pobreza extrema, etc). En fin, encontramos a Dios en la cercanía del hombre cuyo corazón está roto, como dice la Escritura:

«Cercano está Adonai Yah a los quebrantados de corazón; y salva a los contritos de espíritu»-

Salmo 34:18. Y también dice en otro lugar la Escritura: «Porque así dijo el Alto y Sublime, El que habita la Eternidad, y cuyo nombre es el Santo: yo habito en la altura y la santidad, y con el quebrantado y humilde de espíritu»- Isaías 57:15.

Note que el anterior pasaje no dice que el Señor habita con los Judíos, con los Samaritanos, con los Cristianos, o con los Musulmanes; Dice en cambio que habita con “los quebrantados y humildes de espíritu” (sin importar si son Judíos, Samaritanos, Cristianos, o Musulmanes).

Pero, ¿Por que la letra Hebrea “Yud” (י) hace parecer que el hombre de la imagen se encuentra dirigiéndose (orando) hacia el cielo? La respuesta es que, en el Hebreo en que se escribió originalmente la Escritura, no había una designación separada para los números, sino que las letras tenían en si mismas un valor numérico.

Y, el valor numérico de la letra “yud” (י) era precisamente “10” (un número que significa algo completo y perfecto, tal y como Dios había ordenado a Israel guardar Sus diez mandamientos, símbolo a su vez de la completa y perfecta voluntad Divina).

Es decir, el hombre que quebranta y humilla su corazón, para dejar que la voluntad de Dios (obedecer Sus Diez mandamientos) sea su propia voluntad, es un hombre completo y perfecto, que teme al Creador.

Y este hombre completo y perfecto, puede estar seguro de que Dios escuchará atentamente su oración, como está escrito: «Cumplirá el deseo de los que le temen; Oirá asimismo el clamor de ellos, y los salvará» (Salmo 145:19). Y también promete en otro lugar diciendo: «Los ojos de Adonai Yah están sobre los justos, Y atentos sus oídos al clamor de ellos» (Salmo 34:15).

¿Como sabemos que “la salvación” es el producto de hacer buenas obras, y no el producto de creer en una particular teología mesiánica?

La Escritura Hebrea, dice de la siguiente manera: «NO ENTRARÁ AMONITA NI MOABITA EN LA CONGREGACIÓN DE יהוה (es decir, no se les permitirá ser parte del Pueblo de Dios)... NO ENTRARÁN EN LA CONGREGACIÓN DE יהוה PARA SIEMPRE , [Y, ¿por que no entraran en la congregación de יהוה?], POR CUANTO NO OS SALIERON A RECIBIR CON PAN Y AGUA AL CAMINO, cuando salisteis de Egipto, Y PORQUE ALQUILARON CONTRA TI A BALAAM... PARA MALDECIRTE»– Deut. 23:3-4.

En otras palabras, si los Amonitas y Moabitas se hubiesen abstenido de ser de maldición, dando en cambio pan y agua a los hambrientos y sedientos forasteros Israelitas, se les habría dado a esas naciones entrada en la congregación de יהוה. Esta verdad Divina ilustrada en la Escritura Hebrea fue siglos mas tarde también confirmada tanto por los escritos Islámicos como por los Escritos Cristianos.

El Corán la enseña en el pasaje que dice: «LOS CREYENTES, LOS JUDÍOS, LOS CRISTIANOS, LOS SABEOS, QUIENES CREEN EN ALÁ (DIOS) y en el último día (el día del Juicio), Y OBRAN EL BIEN; ESOS TIENEN SU RECOMPENSA JUNTO A SU SEÑOR. NO TIENEN QUE TEMER [NINGÚN MAL], Y NO ESTARÁN TRISTES» (Sura Al Bacara, 2:62). Por su parte, el Evangelio Cristiano enseña la misma verdad, cuando adscribe al Nazareno (paz sea con él) haber dicho las siguientes palabras:

«Entonces el Rey dirá a los de su derecha: VENID, BENDITOS DE MI PADRE, HEREDAD EL REINO PREPARADO PARA VOSOTROS desde la fundación del mundo. PORQUE TUVE HAMBRE, Y ME DISTEIS DE COMER; TUVE SED, Y ME DISTEIS DE BEBER; FUI FORASTERO [AL IGUAL QUE LOS ISRAELITAS QUE SALIERON DE EGIPTO], Y ME RECOGISTEIS...» – Mateo 25:34-35.

Y lo anterior explica el hecho de que, los creyentes piadosos de entre los Judíos, los Samaritanos, los Cristianos, y los Musulmanes, experimenten una similar bendición Divina; a pesar de que, cada uno de ellos, esboza teologías distinta [¡y a menudo contradictorias!].

Es que, independientemente de la teología que profese, el creyente que hace el bien, agrada a su Creador; Y, las buenas obras de este creyente, le dan entrada automática a “La congregación de יהוה” (o, “El Reino de los Cielos”), de suerte que recibe toda la bendición, la protección, y el Favor Divino prometido a la congregación de los Justos.

Jesus was an awesome man of God. But he wasn't God, as God is sinless, whereas Jesus wasn't. How do we know it? We know it from the fact that he who has no sin, doesn't need to learn any obedience (as his obedience already is perfect). But as for Jesus, the New Testament clearly states that he had to learn obedience. As is written: "Although he was the Son, he learned obedience from what he suffered"- Hebrews 5:8, Christian Standard Bible

La Ley de Dios intima que para toda realidad tangible (material) hay una contraparte intangible (espiritual)

La Ley de Dios dice así: “En el principio creo Dios los Cielos y la Tierra”- Génesis 1:1. Note como el verso intima que Dios crea primero “Los Cielos” (es decir, un ámbito intangible), y solamente después procede a crear “La Tierra” (un ámbito tangible). Es decir, existe primero lo “espiritual” (o “energético”), y esto después se manifiesta como algo Físico y material (¿E=MC²?).

Y el que las realidades tangibles son el producto de realidades intangibles (o “espirituales”) es también intimado en el resto de la Escritura Hebrea. Por ejemplo, el libro de Job narra acerca de una asamblea que ocurre en los cielos (Job 1:6-12), donde un ángel denominado “Ha Satan” demanda que la fe de Job sea probada. Y, como consecuencia de esto [que ocurre en el ámbito intangible], Job termina perdiendo todos sus bienes tangibles (Job 1:13-19).

De este modo, si bien es cierto que las pérdidas materiales de Job tuvieron una explicación física racional (una tormenta de Relámpagos mata a los animales, los esclavos son asesinados por una banda de delincuentes Sabeos, un torbellino destruye la casa donde se reunían los sus hijos de Job, etc), la Escritura intima que todo esto no fue sino la manifestación física de algo que sucedió primeramente en un ámbito que no es físico, sino espiritual.

Del mismo modo, la Tanak narra la historia de un perverso rey llamado Acab. En su afán por tomar una propiedad ajena [en Jezreel], este rey Israelita utiliza la mentira, a fin de hacer morir a Nabot, quien es el justo dueño de la propiedad (1 Reyes 21:2-13). Y como resultado de ello, se celebra en los cielos (es decir, en el ámbito no físico) una asamblea donde se dicta que Acab debe “segar lo mismo que ha sembrado”; siendo víctima de la mentira (de sus ancianos consejeros), muriendo a manos de un rey (el rey de Siria), y a causa de una propiedad (Ramot de Galaad) que este último desea tomar de él.

Como esta escrito: «Entonces él dijo: Oye, pues, palabra de Adonai (el Señor): Yo vi a Adonai sentado en su trono, y todo el ejército de los cielos estaba junto a Él, a su derecha y a su izquierda. Y Adonai dijo: “¿Quién inducirá a Acab, para que suba y caiga en Ramot de Galaad?”. Y uno decía de una manera, y otro decía de otra. Y salió un espíritu (¿el espíritu de Nabot?) y se puso delante de Adonai, y dijo: Yo le induciré. Y Adonai le dijo: ¿De qué manera? El dijo: “Yo saldré, y seré espíritu de mentira en boca de todos sus profetas”. Y él dijo: “Le inducirás, y aun lo conseguirás; ve, pues, y hazlo así”. Y ahora, he aquí Adonai ha puesto espíritu de mentira en la boca de todos tus profetas, y Adonai ha decretado el mal acerca de ti»- 1 Reyes 22:19-23.

De nuevo, podríamos explicar la subsecuente muerte de Acab en términos puramente políticos, racionales, y/o estadísticos; pero tal y como vimos con la historia de Job, lo que la Escritura pretende intimar es que, para toda realidad tangible, hay una contraparte intangible. Y esto es cierto, sin importar si de lo que se trata es de la salud, de la economía, de la milicia, de la política, de la ciencia, de la religión, etc.

Y quizás sea esta la razón por la cual hallamos que, si hay tal cosa como un mensaje que es común a todos los profetas de Israel, es que el bienestar de la vida económica, política, militar, y social de la nación Hebrea, es directamente proporcional a su estado espiritual; a cuan diligente es en observar los ayunos, las oraciones, las limosnas, y en fin la moralidad que encarnan los ritos, las ordenanzas, y las alegorías de la Ley Divina.

Como fue enseñado por nuestro maestro Moises, cuando dijo: “Acontecerá que si oyeres atentamente la voz de Adonai tu Dios, para guardar y poner por obra todos sus mandamientos que yo te prescribo hoy, también Adonai tu Dios te exaltará sobre todas las naciones de la tierra. Y vendrán sobre ti todas estas bendiciones, y te alcanzarán, si oyeres la voz de Adonai tu Dios... Pero acontecerá, si no oyeres la voz de Adonai tu Dios, para procurar cumplir todos sus mandamientos y sus estatutos que yo te intimo hoy, que vendrán sobre ti todas estas maldiciones, y te alcanzarán... Adonai te herirá de tisis, de fiebre, de inflamación y de ardor, con sequía, con calamidad repentina y con añublo; y te perseguirán hasta que perezcas... Adonai te entregará derrotado delante de tus enemigos; por un camino saldrás contra ellos, y por siete caminos huirás delante de ellos; y serás vejado por todos los reinos de la tierra... El extranjero que estará en medio de ti se elevará sobre ti muy alto, y tú descenderás muy abajo. El te prestará a ti, y tú no le prestarás a él; él será por cabeza, y tú serás por cola”- Deut. 28:1-2, 15, 22, 25, 43, & 44.

Paul’s Messiah was a figment of Paul’s ageing imagination

The apostle Paul was indeed a good and holy man. But Paul’s Messiah was a figment of Paul’s "old age" imagination, as the words ascribed [by the four Gospel writers] to Jesus had little to do with Paul’s end-of-life theology.

Why? Simply because Jesus declared himself to be a man spreading the message he had heard from God- a call to repentance, and obedience to the 10 commandments of God’s Law. As is written: «But now you are seeking to kill Me—a Man who has told you the Truth, which I heard from God... From then on, Jesus began to proclaim, “Turn away from your sins, for the kingdom of heaven is near”... but if you want to enter into life, keep the commandments»- John 8:40, Matthew 4:17, & 19:17.

Paul instead spread a totally different message- that Jesus wasn’t a man, but rather God; and that Jesus wanted men to completely disregard the Law, in order to embrace instead the idea of “salvation by faith” (without the need to obey anything God had commanded in the Law)

The Mental confusion displayed by the Jewish Gospel writers

God’s Law warns the believer that, if he abandons God’s commands, he’ll end up mad (mentally confused). As is written:

“But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of יהוה thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and His statutes which I [Moses] command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee... יהוה SHALL SMITE THEE WITH MADNESS, AND BLINDNESS, AND ASTONISHMENT OF HEART...”- Deut. 28:15&28

Were the Gospels written by mentally confused Jewish believers? Did they want us to disobey all that was commanded by the scribes and the pharisees, as they are in league with the Devil (“You are of your father the Devil, and you want to carry out your father’s desires”- John 8:44, Christian Standard Bible)??

Or did they rather want us to obey all what they commanded, as they were in league with Moses, thereby becoming the latter representatives (“The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat: ALL THEREFORE WHATSOEVER THEY BID YOU OBSERVE, THAT OBSERVE AND DO...”- Matthew 23:2-3, King James version).

Why should we have to tolerate such ambivalence? Isn’t it true that the New Testament claims truly Divine wisdom is pure; being free from any trace of partiality or hypocrisy? (“But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable... without a trace of partiality or hypocrisy”- James 3:17, New Revised Standard Version)?

Why tolerate such resemblance of falsehood, when we are told that no lie comes from the truth? (“I do not write to you because you do not know the truth but because you do know the truth. AND YOU KNOW THAT NO LIE COMES FROM THE TRUTH"- Expanded Bible)

The turmoil of spirit manifested in the writings of the noble Christian religion

The contradictions of the New Testament are so serious and undeniable that they require the Christian believer to commit a sort of “intellectual suicide”. But the fact is that even this “suicide” doesn’t solve his problem.

Why? Simply because the New Testament claims that those who commit suicide will have no share in Everlasting life. As it has been written: “... And you know that no murderer has eternal life” (1 John 3:15).

What kind of contradictions are we talking about? Well, a good example of them might be the fact that the New Testament makes “belief in Christ” the spiritual drink from which all believers participate; as it is written: “... and they all drank the same spiritual drink; for they drank from the spiritual rock that followed them, and the rock was Christ” (1 Corinthians 10: 4).

What is the problem with this beautiful passage? Well, if “belief in Jesus” is Christians “spiritual drink”, then unclean spirits also drink from the same spiritual water, as the Gospel says: «And the unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him and shouted saying: “You are the Son of God!” » (Mark 3:11).

In other words, demons also believe in Jesus, thus participating in the same “table” (that is, the same spiritual food and drink) that Christians participate of.

But this in turn is intolerable; for the New Testament command believers not to partake of the same food and drink as demons; as it is written- «You cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of demons; you cannot partake of the Lord's table, and of the table of demons ”(1 Corinthians 10:21). Thus, when the Christian believes in Jesus, he is thereby doing the wrong thing, as he is violating the command ordering him not to drink the same spiritual drink demons partake. On the other hand, if you he doesn’t believe in Jesus, he is doing wrong, as he violates the command ordering him to believe in Jesus («But these have been written, so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son. of God ”- John 20:31).

Thus, we see that the New Testament is a “bi-polar document” [since it asks the believers to do things that are self-excluding, and contradictory]. And this “theological bipolarity” (or ambiguity) prevents the Christian soul from feeling the absolute peace that comes when you know you are doing God’s perfect will.

But why would the Creator allow such thing to happen? The answer is that, the anxiety most Christians experience, is the fulfillment of God’s wrath upon those who turn away from God’s commandments. As it is written: «You rebuked the proud, the cursed, who stray from your commandments” (Psalm 119: 21); And, “There is no peace, said my God, for the wicked” (Isaiah 57:21). You see, God’s law warned us about “mental confusion” that would overwhelm those who abandon its commandments, as it is written:

«But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of יהוה thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and His statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee... יהוה shall smite thee with madness, and blindness, and astonishment of heart: And thou shalt grope at noonday, as the blind gropeth in darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways: and thou shalt be only oppressed and spoiled evermore, and no man shall save thee [not even Moses, Jesus, or Muhammad will be able to save you from these curses]» (Leviticus 28:15, 28,

And the former confusion of spirit is what prevents those who have embraced “salvation by faith” (without the works of the Law) from being able to articulate a peace inducing, simple, clear, consistent, coherent, and unambiguous interpretation of God’s message to mankind; wandering instead among the thousands of sects and cults that populate the Christian religion’s landscape. And this is the reason why Christian theology is so seriously troubled; for while making themselves “the true Israel”, our Christian brothers advocate in favor of “Salvation by faith”, which is a practical refusal to commit themselves to the commands given by God to Israel.

Thus, Christians become liable to the curses, the lack of peace, and the turmoil of spirit which the Creator promised would fall upon Israel, should they turn away from His commandments.

May the God of Israel have mercy of our dear Christian brothers, and restore unto them the peace enjoyed by those who keep God’s commandments (“Great peace have those who love your Law, and there is no stumbling block for them”- Psalm 119:165).

Was Jesus (peace and blessings be with him) the prophet promised by Moses?

Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) could not have been the prophet promised by Moses (“The Lord your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among your own brothers. You must listen to him”- Deuteronomy 18:15, Christian Standard Bible).

Why? Simply because the promised prophet had to be like Moses. And Moses had both a biological father and a biological mother [bear in mind that, being the literal son of God, Christianity claims Jesus had no biological father]. In addition, Moses was distinguished by publicly doing three major things:

- (1) Delivering Israel from it’s political enemies (the Egyptians);
- (2) Splitting the waters (of the Red sea);
- (3) Bring forth water from a rock, so that the whole nation of Israel could drink from it.

On the other hand, Jesus failed to do any of these things, as he never delivered Israel from it’s political enemies (the Romans); he is never recorded splitting the waters of any sea; and he never brings forth water from any rock. Thus, Jesus is in no sense like Moses, which is the identifying mark of the coming prophet promised on Deuteronomy 18:15

Do works follow Salvation? Or is salvation followed instead by Works?

Christian believers claim Salvation goes first, and obedience to God's commandments comes in second place. But Hebrew believers claim otherwise: that obedience to God's commandments goes first, and Salvation comes in second place. Which of the two groups is correct?

Well, the answer to this centuries old dilemma is quite simply: You see, when the Creator delivered the Hebrew people from Egyptian bondage, He followed a specific pattern, so as to teach us a moral lesson.

In other words, He first asked Israelites to commit to obeying the Ten commands brought forth by Moses [on Mount Sinai]; and only then did He give them the Promised Land (symbol of Paradise!). In addition, Scripture says those who refused to follow Moses weren't allowed to enter the Promised land, but rather died in the wilderness. So, the message is crystal clear: Those who refuse to obey the Ten commandments brought forth by Moses, won't be allowed to enter into the promised Land (Paradise).

And this is consistent with the fact that, the first thing God asked from Adam, was to till the land ("So the Lord God took the man [He had made] and settled him in the Garden of Eden to cultivate and keep it"- Genesis 2:15, Amplified Bible).

Why? So Adam could learn that God's creation runs by the principle of "sowing and reaping"; "action, and reaction", "cause, and effect" [if you do good, goodness will come upon you; but if you do no good, you can't expect to be granted any goodness]

El Creador ha determinado que la Fe en Jesús [o en Muhammad] sea opcional; pero que la fe en Moisés sea en cambio obligatoria ¿Que hace de Moshe Ravenu (Moisés nuestro maestro, paz sea con él) un mayor profeta que Avraham, Isaías, Jonás, Miqueas, Daniel, Jesús, Muhammad, José Smith, o cualquier otro mensajero divino (paz y bendición sean con todos ellos)?

Pues el hecho de que, aunque era solamente un ser humano, Moisés era una clase aparte en sí mismo; un tipo de profeta como la humanidad nunca ha vuelto (y quizás nunca más vuelva) a experimentar. Es que la comunicación entre Dios y Moisés no fue privada; no fue algo que diese lugar a cuestionar la veracidad, la certeza, o la realidad de tal revelación.

En otras palabras, Dios habló pública y audiblemente a Moisés, y lo hizo en presencia de las cerca de 3 millones de personas que conformaban el pueblo de Israel.

Y, aquel pueblo, no solamente escucho a Dios hablar directamente con Moisés (corroborando de ese modo tanto la veracidad del Dios al cual servían, como la del ministerio profético de Moisés), sino que la experiencia fue tan real y estremecedora, que dijeron a Moisés que "había sido suficiente"; que ya no necesitaban ninguna prueba adicional, y que preferían que (en lo sucesivo) Moisés hablase privadamente con Dios, pues ellos obedecerían todo lo que se les ordenase.

Como esta escrito: «He aquí יהוה ("Adonai Yah", o "el Señor Dios") nuestro Dios nos ha mostrado su gloria y su grandeza, y hemos oído su voz de en medio del fuego; hoy hemos visto que Adonai Yah habla al hombre (es decir, a Moisés su Siervo), y éste aún vive.

Ahora, pues, ¿por qué vamos a morir? Porque este gran fuego nos consumirá; si oyéremos otra vez la voz de Adonai Yah nuestro Dios, moriremos. Porque ¿qué es el hombre (el Israelita promedio), para que oiga la voz del Dios viviente que habla de en medio del fuego, como nosotros la oímos, y aún viva? ACÉRCATE TÚ, Y OYE TODAS LAS COSAS QUE DIJERE ADONAI YAH NUESTRO DIOS; Y TÚ NOS DIRÁS TODO LO QUE ADONAI NUESTRO DIOS TE DIJERE, Y NOSOTROS OIREMOS Y HAREMOS» (Deut. 5:24-27).

Así, a diferencia del Cristianismo, del Islam, y de cualquier otra tradición monoteísta, la fe Hebrea (Samaritana) no es el producto de una revelación privada; donde un hombre reclama ser [o tener] la última revelación Divina, pero necesita invertir el resto de su vida tratando de convencer a su audiencia de la veracidad de su reclamo.

La fe de Israel es distinta, pues es el producto de una revelación pública (Nacional), donde millones de personas fueron testigos objetivos (y simultáneos) de la veracidad del Dios de Israel (Adonai Yah), así como de la comunicación entre ese Dios y su profeta (Moisés). De este modo, Moisés fue el único profeta que nunca tuvo que convencer a nadie de que, la palabra que hablaba (y que escribía), era la fiel palabra del Dios Vivo.

Por otro lado, y a pesar de los grandes y dramáticos reclamos que, acerca de Jesús y de Muhammad (paz sea con ellos) hacen tanto el Cristianismo como el Islam, estas últimas fueron revelaciones privadas; es decir, no contaron con la clara, objetiva, e incuestionable validación que provee la revelación Nacional de la fe Mosaica.

¿Por que? Pues porque ninguno de estos mensajeros escribió personalmente nada.

Aún así, lo que acabamos de exponer no es tan demoledor como el hecho de que, cuando alguien rehusó creer en Jesús, en Muhammad, en José Smith, o en algún otro profeta (paz sea con todos ellos), estos últimos no tuvieron otro remedio que intentar convencer a sus oyentes (a menudo con la amenaza de un futuro castigo Divino) de la veracidad de sus reclamos.

Y, aunque muchos insistieron en no creerles, a menudo tales amenazas nunca se materializaron.

Pero, con respecto a Moisés, fue totalmente distinto; Cuando alguien (Faraón, los diez espías, Datan, Abiram, Korah y sus seguidores, etc) rehusaba creer la palabra que había hablado Dios por medio de Moisés [o rehusó obedecer lo que Dios había ordenado por medio de Moisés], el Creador se encargaba personalmente de reivindicar a su profeta.

De hecho, cuando toda la nación de Israel se reunió para oponerse a Moisés y Aarón, el Creador decidió hacer acto de presencia (visible), a fin de darles una lección personal: que Dios no toleraría que dudasen de lo que Moisés decía y ordenaba. Como está escrito:

«El día siguiente, toda la congregación de los hijos de Israel murmuró contra Moisés y Aarón, diciendo: “¡Vosotros habéis dado muerte al pueblo de Adonai Yah!”. Y aconteció que, cuando se juntó la congregación contra Moisés y Aarón, miraron hacia el tabernáculo de reunión, y he aquí la nube lo había cubierto, y apareció la gloria de Adonai Yah.

Y vinieron Moisés y Aarón delante del tabernáculo de reunión. Y Adonai Yah habló a Moisés, diciendo: “Apartaos de en medio de esta congregación, y los consumiré en un momento”. Y ellos se postraron sobre sus rostros. Y dijo Moisés a Aarón: “Toma el incensario, y pon en él fuego del altar, y sobre él pon incienso, y ve pronto a la congregación, y haz expiación por ellos, porque el furor ha salido de la presencia de Adonai Yah; la mortandad ha comenzado”.

Entonces tomó Aarón el incensario, como Moisés dijo, y corrió en medio de la congregación; y he aquí que la mortandad había comenzado en el pueblo; y él puso incienso, e hizo expiación por el pueblo, y se puso entre los muertos y los vivos; y cesó la mortandad. Y los que murieron en aquella mortandad fueron catorce mil setecientos, sin los muertos por la rebelión de Coré» (Números 16:41-49).

¿Que intenta enseñarnos la Torah en el anterior relato? ¿Acaso no vendrían luego varios profetas y mensajeros que, al igual que Moisés, también hablarían palabra de Dios? Lo que el Creador intenta enseñarnos, es que la fe en esos posteriores mensajeros, sería opcional; es decir, estaría sujeta a nuestra discreción personal.

Pero, el mensaje dado por Dios a Moisés (los Diez Mandamientos que le fueron entregados en la cumbre del Sinaí) no es opcional, pues es el único mensaje que el Creador ha decidido personalmente defender y preservar (y es por esto fue escrito sobre piedra, a fin de que perdurasen para siempre). En otras palabras, el hombre tiene la opción de creer que Jesús (paz sea con él) fue el Mesías humano que esperaba la antigua secta Judía de los Fariseos; y, esta creencia en Jesús, no necesariamente impide a ese hombre ser acepto al Creador (es decir, el hombre puede ser un admirador del Maestro de Galilea, siempre y cuando no le honre como a Dios, ni le haga mayor que Moisés).

De igual modo, el hombre tiene la opción de creer que Muhammad (paz sea con él) fue el último mensajero de Dios, y esto no necesariamente le impide ser acepto al Creador (es decir, el hombre puede ser un admirador de Muhammad, siempre y cuando no le haga mayor que Moisés, ni le de el respeto y pleitesía que corresponden solamente al Creador).

Pero, el hombre no tiene la opción de rehusar creer en Moisés; ni de creer que ya no está obligado a obedecer los Diez mandamientos de la Ley Divina.

Es que, el rechazo de lo ordenado por medio de Moisés (y la conducta que ese rechazo implica) le impide al hombre ser acepto ante su Creador, pues Adonai Yah no tolera esa rebelde conducta. ¿Por que? Pues porque la obediencia a los mandamientos nos conduce al estilo de vida ético (justo, misericordioso, y humilde) que garantiza nuestra Vida y bendición (tanto en este mundo, como en el venidero).

Por el otro lado, la incredulidad (desobediencia) a esos mandamientos, solo acarrea muerte y destrucción, como está escrito:

«PERO ACONTECERÁ, SI NO OYERES LA VOZ DE ADONAI YAH TU DIOS, PARA PROCURAR CUMPLIR TODOS SUS MANDAMIENTOS Y SUS ESTATUTOS QUE YO TE INTIMO HOY, QUE VENDRÁN SOBRE TI TODAS ESTAS MALDICIONES, Y TE ALCANZARÁN... Y VENDRÁN SOBRE TI TODAS ESTAS MALDICIONES, Y TE PERSEGUIRÁN, Y TE ALCANZARÁN HASTA QUE PEREZCAS; POR CUANTO NO HABRÁS ATENDIDO A LA VOZ DE ADONAI YAH TU DIOS, PARA GUARDAR SUS MANDAMIENTOS Y SUS ESTATUTOS, QUE ÉL TE MANDÓ...» (Deut. 28:45).

En resumen, el hombre que quiera garantizar su entrada a Gan Edén (El Paraíso Celestial) tiene que creer en Moisés, y hacer de la obediencia a su Torah (los diez mandamientos), el supremo fundamento de su fe, de su conducta, de su conversación, de su teología, y de su esperanza.

Por eso advierte la Escritura diciendo: “NUNCA SE APARTARA DE TU BOCA ESTE LIBRO DE LA LEY, SINO QUE DE DÍA Y DE NOCHE MEDITARAS EN EL, PARA QUE GUARDES Y HAGAS CONFORME A TODO LO QUE EN ÉL ESTÁ ESCRITO; PORQUE ENTONCES HARÁS PROSPERAR TU CAMINO, Y TODO TE SALDRÁ BIEN”- Josué 1:8.

Esto, y no la opcional creencia en el posterior reclamo profético de este o aquel otro mensajero (Jesús, Muhammad, José Smith, etc), es el único fundamento seguro; el único apoyo que, al igual que la piedra en la que fue dado, es inmutable, incommovible, e indestructible; como dijo un gran Maestro del Samaritanismo:

“Pero más fácil es que pasen el cielo y la tierra, que se frustre una tilde de la Ley”- Lucas 16:17.

Quien edifica sobre la Piedra (de los Diez mandamientos), es como quien edifica su casa sobre la Roca; Y, si edificar sobre la Roca es seguro, ¿cuanto mas seguro no será edificar sobre la Roca que El Creador personalmente defiende y protege?

El Creador siempre dará mas peso a la intención de nuestro corazón, que a la exactitud de nuestra teología

A los ojos del Creador, un corazón lleno de un sincero deseo de hacer el bien, vale más que una cabeza llena de grandilocuente teología. Y esto explica el curioso fenómeno que observamos en las escrituras sagradas de nuestros amados hermanos cristianos.

Este extraño fenómeno, consiste en que el Evangelio presenta a alguien diciendo [o haciendo] algo sobrenatural y/o maravilloso; a pesar de que, lo que se dice [o se hace], parte de un conocimiento errado [o “defectuoso”] de la Escritura Hebrea. Citemos algunos ejemplos:

1) El evangelio presente a Jesús (paz sea con él) muriendo de un modo noble y admirable; es decir, recitando con sus labios las emotivas palabras del salmo 22:1. Como esta escrito: «Cerca de la hora novena, Jesús clamó a gran voz, diciendo: “Elí, Elí, ¿lama sabactani?” Esto es- “Dios mío, Dios mío, ¿por qué me has desamparado?”»- Mateo 27:46.

¿Cual es el problema con este inspirador pasaje evangélico? Pues ninguno... aparte del hecho de que, desde un punto de vista puramente lingüístico, el pasaje “confunde la gimnasia, con la magnesia”. Es decir, el texto Hebreo del salmo 22:1, no dice “¿lama SABACTANI?”, sino que dice, “¿lama AZAVTANI?”

2) Antes de morir de forma sobrenatural (viendo “los cielos abiertos”), el mártir cristiano identificado con el nombre de “Esteban” aparece reprendiendo al liderato Judío de su época, recordándoles (entre otras cosas) que Jacob fue enterrado en el campo de sepultura que compró Avraham de mano de los hijos de Hamor, allá en la ciudad de Siquem.

Como dice la biblia Griega: «Así descendió Jacob a Egipto, donde murió él, y también nuestros padres; LOS CUALES FUERON TRASLADADOS A SIQUEM, Y PUESTOS EN EL SEPULCRO QUE A PRECIO DE DINERO COMPRÓ ABRAHAM DE LOS HIJOS DE HAMOR EN SIQUEM»- Hechos 7:15-16.

De nuevo, ¿cual es el problema con este noble e inspirador pasaje evangélico? Pues ninguno.... aparte del hecho de que, el campo de sepultura comprado por Avraham, no fue comprado de mano de los hijos de Hamor, y tampoco fue comprado en Siquem. El campo comprado por Avraham, en realidad fue adquirido de Efron (hijo de Zohar).

En adición, este campo no estaba localizado en Siquem, sino en Hebrón. Como esta escrito:

«Si tenéis voluntad de que yo sepulte mi muerta de delante de mí, oídme, E INTERCEDED POR MÍ CON EFRÓN HIJO DE ZOHAR, PARA QUE ME DÉ LA CUEVA DE MACPELA, que tiene al extremo de su heredad... DESPUÉS DE ESTO, SEPULTÓ ABRAHAM A SARA SU MUJER EN LA CUEVA DE LA HEREDAD DE MACPELA AL ORIENTE DE MAMRE, QUE ES HEBRÓN...»- Génesis 23:19.

La realidad es que, el noble mártir Esteban, estaba simplemente confundido; pues quien compró terreno de mano de los hijos de Hamor, no fue Avraham, sino su nieto Jacob. Como esta escrito: «Y ENTERRARON EN SIQUEM LOS HUESOS DE JOSÉ, que los hijos de Israel habían traído de Egipto, EN LA PARTE DEL CAMPO QUE JACOB COMPRÓ DE LOS HIJOS DE HAMOR, PADRE DE SIQUEM...»- Josué 24:32.

3) El Evangelio de Mateo afirma que, por medio de la traición de Judas Iscariote, Jesús cumplió milagrosamente lo que con siglos de anterioridad había sido predicho por el profeta Jeremías- que "el amado" sería vendido por treinta piezas de plata, las cuales serían luego utilizadas para adquirir un campo de sepultura.

Como esta escrito: «ASÍ SE CUMPLIÓ LO DICHO POR EL PROFETA JEREMÍAS, CUANDO DIJO: Y TOMARON LAS TREINTA PIEZAS DE PLATA, PRECIO DEL APRECIADO, SEGÚN PRECIO PUESTO POR LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL; Y LAS DIERON PARA EL CAMPO DEL ALFARERO, COMO ME ORDENÓ EL SEÑOR»- Mateo 27:9-10.

De nuevo, ¿que problema hay con este emocionante pasaje? Pues en realidad ninguno... aparte del hecho de que, el profeta Jeremías, nunca dijo nada de lo que el evangelio le atribuye. Quien dijo algo similar [pero no idéntico], fue el profeta Zacarías, quien es citado diciendo:

«Y les dije: Si os parece bien, dadme mi salario; y si no, dejadlo. Y PESARON POR MI SALARIO TREINTA PIEZAS DE PLATA. Y me dijo Yah- “Échalo al tesoro; ¡hermoso precio con que me han apreciado!”. Y tomé las treinta piezas de plata, Y LAS ECHÉ EN LA CASA DE YAH, AL TESORO»- Zacarías 11:12-13.

4) El Evangelio presenta al Nazareno (paz sea con él) enfrentando con poder y gallardía el destino para el cual había sido [alegadamente] enviado a este Mundo. Como esta escrito:

«HE AQUÍ, ECHO FUERA DEMONIOS Y HAGO CURACIONES hoy y mañana, y al tercer día termino mi obra. SIN EMBARGO, ES NECESARIO QUE HOY Y MAÑANA Y PASADO MAÑANA SIGA MI CAMINO; PORQUE NO ES POSIBLE QUE UN PROFETA MUERA FUERA DE JERUSALÉN» Lucas 13:32-33.

¿Que problema hay con los milagros y las curaciones? ¿Que mal puede haber con que, al igual que sucedió con todos los otros profetas, Jesús deseara morir en Jerusalén? Pues la realidad es que no hay mal alguno... aparte del hecho de que es completamente falso que un profeta no pueda morir fuera de “Jebus” (o “Jerusalén”).

Es decir, tanto Avraham, como Isaac y Jacob, fueron en efecto profetas; y, a pesar de ello, murieron fuera de Jerusalén. De hecho, el mayor de todos los profetas (el profeta Moisés) también murió fuera de Jerusalén. Como esta escrito: «Y MURIÓ ALLÍ MOISÉS siervo de Yah, EN LA TIERRA DE MOAB, conforme al dicho de Yah»- Deut. 34:5..

5) El santo evangelio, hace una grande y poderosa revelación: que, el sacrificio del cordero pascual, hecho por los Israelitas en Egipto, tenía el propósito de prefigurar el sacrificio expiatorio del Galileo, quien no solamente habría de morir para redimir a cada Israelita, sino a toda la humanidad. Como esta escrito: «Limpiaos, pues, de la vieja levadura, para que seáis nueva masa, sin levadura como sois; PORQUE NUESTRA PASCUA, QUE ES CRISTO, YA FUE SACRIFICADA POR NOSOTROS»- 1 Corintios 5:7.

¿Y cual es el problema con expiar los pecados de todo Israel durante la fiesta de la Pascua? Pues ninguno.... aparte del hecho de que, el sacrificio pascual efectuado en Egipto, no tuvo el propósito de expiar el pecado de nadie, sino salvar de la muerte al primogénito de cada familia Hebrea. Es que, si los hebreos tenían un sacrificio donde se expiaban todos los pecados de Israel, tal sacrificio no era La Pascua, sino “Yom Kippur” (es decir, el Gran día de la expiación). Como esta escrito: «Y HARÁ LA EXPIACIÓN por el santuario santo, y el tabernáculo de reunión; también hará expiación por el altar, por los sacerdotes y POR TODO EL PUEBLO DE LA CONGREGACIÓN. Y ESTO TENDRÉIS COMO ESTATUTO PERPETUO, PARA HACER EXPIACIÓN UNA VEZ AL AÑO POR TODOS LOS PECADOS DE ISRAEL»- Levítico 16:33-34. Y, durante esta fiesta de Yom Kippur, el animal que sellaba el proceso de expiación nacional, no era el cordero [que era sacrificado], sino el macho cabrío [que vivía, siendo enviado al desierto]. Como esta escrito:

«y pondrá Aarón sus dos manos sobre la cabeza del MACHO CABRÍO VIVO, Y CONFESARÁ SOBRE ÉL TODAS LAS INIQUIDADES DE LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL, TODAS SUS REBELIONES Y TODOS SUS PECADOS, PONIÉNDOLOS ASÍ SOBRE LA CABEZA DEL MACHO CABRÍO, y lo enviará al desierto por mano de un hombre destinado para esto. Y AQUEL MACHO CABRÍO LLEVARÁ SOBRE SÍ TODAS LAS INIQUIDADES DE ELLOS a tierra inhabitada; y dejará ir el macho cabrío por el desierto»- Levítico 16:21-22.

En resumen, el “Brit Hadasha” (el “Nuevo Pacto”, o “Nuevo Testamento”) contiene relatos fascinantes; dichos y hechos tan emocionalmente arrolladores, que podrían cautivar y/o transformar el corazón mas empedernido. Pero, los autores del evangelio, a menudo exhiben un desconocimiento craso de la Escritura Hebrea, así como un pobre entendimiento de las verdades Divinas en ella reveladas. Y, si por medio de los milagros y los prodigios, el Creador aparenta respaldar la predica cristiana, esto no significa en ninguna manera que tal cosa represente un endoso divino a la pobre y descuidada teología cristiana, sino que es en cambio el producto de la gracia que extiende Dios a todo ser humano.

De hecho, el que los milagros y los prodigios no son garantía alguna de que la persona cuente con el favor Divino, es una verdad tan grande e innegable, que el mismo evangelio la confirma, cuando pone en boca del Galileo las siguientes palabras: «Muchos me dirán en aquel día: “SEÑOR, SEÑOR, ¿NO PROFETIZAMOS EN TU NOMBRE, Y EN TU NOMBRE ECHAMOS FUERA DEMONIOS, Y EN TU NOMBRE HICIMOS MUCHOS MILAGROS?”. Y entonces les declararé: “NUNCA OS CONOCÍ; APARTAOS DE MÍ, HACEDORES DE MALDAD”»- Mateo 7:22-23.

La razón por la cual el Samaritanismo Reformado permite a sus adeptos elegir quien [o qué] ha de ser su personal Mesías

Su fe en un Mesías llamado “Jesús de Nazaret” (en otras palabras, llamar a Jesús su Señor y Salvador) no puede garantizar su salvación. ¿Por qué? Porque el mismo Jesús dijo que muchos de sus seguidores acabarán perdidos. Como está escrito: «Muchos me dirán en aquel día: “Señor, Señor, ¿no profetizamos en tu nombre, y en tu nombre echamos fuera demonios, y en tu nombre hicimos muchos milagros?”. Y entonces les declararé: “¡Nunca os conocí; apartaos de mí, hacedores de maldad!”» - Mateo 7: 22-23.

En otras palabras, no hay salvación alguna a menos que haya también un sincero arrepentimiento, así como las obras que tal arrepentimiento conlleva. Como esta escrito: «Os digo: “¡No!; antes, si no os arrepentís, todos pereceréis igualmente”»- Lucas 13:3. Y también dice: “Y saliendo, predicaban que los hombres se arrepintiesen”- Marcos 6:12. Y finalmente dice: “sino que anuncié primeramente a los que están en Damasco, y Jerusalén, y por toda la tierra de Judea, y a los gentiles, que se arrepintiesen y se convirtiesen a Dios, haciendo obras dignas de arrepentimiento” - Hechos 26:20.

Por lo tanto, las Escrituras cristianas enseñan que el arrepentimiento sincero es en sí mismo el verdadero Mesías Redentor. Y esto es consistente con la Escritura Hebrea, que procede a decir: “Y VENDRÁ EL REDENTOR a Sion, y [¿A QUIÉN EN SIÓN VENDRÁ EL REDENTOR? PUES...] A LOS QUE SE VOLVIEREN DE LA INIQUIDAD [EN SINCERO ARREPENTIMIENTO] en Jacob, dice El Señor”- Isaías 59:20.

En resumen, podemos decir con propiedad que, aunque Moisés, Jesús, ni Mahoma son literalmente el Mesías, siempre que las palabras de cualquiera de estos grandes hombres le aparten a usted [en sincero arrepentimiento] del pecado, en ese mismo momento se han convertido por “antonomasia” (“asociación”) en su Mesías personal.

Y esta es la razón por la cual, aunque su fundamento es Moisés, la Ley de Dios, el arrepentimiento y la obediencia a los Diez Mandamientos escritos en las dos tablas de piedra, el Samaritanismo Reformado no exige de sus seguidores que crean en ningún Mesías específico, sino más bien permite que sea un asunto privado y personal, que no se imponga a nadie más.

¿Como saben los creyentes que Jesús (paz sea con el) no es el Creador; y que, por tanto, no se le debe adorar?

¿Como puede el creyente estar seguro de que Jesús (paz sea con el), no es el Dios Todopoderoso? Pues porque los mismo escritos Cristianos así lo confirman, cuando dicen: "Toda autoridad me ha sido dada en el cielo y en la tierra" (Mateo 28:18). Es que Dios es, en sí mismo, la fuente de TODA autoridad. Es decir, si Jesús (paz sea con él) hubiese sido Dios, no habría necesitado que nadie le diese autoridad alguna, pues TODA AUTORIDAD le habría de antemano pertenecido. Como confirma la Escritura que dice:

«¿Quien me ha dado a mi primero, para que yo restituya? [Como si hubiese algo que aún no me perteneciese]. ¡Todo lo que hay debajo del Cielo es mio! [y por tanto no hay nada que no este ya bajo mi autoridad]» (Job 41:11)

How do Samaritan believers know that Jesus isn't the Creator [blessed be he], and therefore cannot be worshiped?

How can the Hebrew believer be so sure that Jesus (peace and blessings be always with him) isn't the Almighty God? Well, we know it from the Christian writings, when they go on to say: “All authority has been given to me in Heaven and on Earth” (Matthew 28:18).

You see, the God of the Hebrews is the source of ALL authority. Thus, had Jesus been God, he would have needed no one to give him any authority, as ALL AUTHORITY would have already belonged to him.

And the Hebrew Scripture bears witness of this, when it goes on to say: “Who has given me first, so that I may restore? [as if there's anything that doesn't belong to me!]. Everything that is under Heaven is mine [And therefore all things already are under my authority]”(Job 41:11)

La Nación de Israel no es sino un [imperfecto] prototipo-- la “sombra” de un pueblo mucho mas grande e importante

Por medio de una curiosa pieza de exégesis, el Samaritanismo Reformado postula que, el verdadero pueblo de Dios, no es la nación de Israel; sino que lo es en cambio el conjunto de personas que [sin importar su raza o credo] insisten en vivir una vida de pureza moral [es decir, basada en la obediencia a lo ordenado por Dios sobre las dos tablas de piedra].

¿Y de donde lo sabemos? Pues lo sabemos del hecho de que por un lado la Escritura promete que quienes maldigan a Israel serían a su vez malditos (“Malditos los que te maldijeren, Y benditos los que te bendijeren”- Gen. 27:29); Pero, por el otro lado, presenta al Creador mismo maldiciendo a Israel. Como esta escrito: “Malditos sois con maldición, porque vosotros, la nación toda, me habéis robado”- Malaquías 3:9.

Si quienes maldijesen a Israel serían a su vez malditos, ¿Como explicamos el hecho de que Dios maldiga a Israel? ¿Puede acaso Dios maldecirse a si mismo? ¿Como explicamos esta aparente contradicción? Pues en realidad no hay contradicción alguna, pues el verdadero Israel no es un pueblo físico, sino que es en cambio un pueblo espiritual, del cual el Israel nacional es solo una sombra o prototipo.

¿Y quien es ese Israel espiritual? Pues lo es todo hombre [y toda mujer] que tiene un corazón limpio [es decir, un corazón sin injusticia, sin crueldad, y sin orgullo], como esta escrito: «Ciertamente es bueno Dios PARA CON ISRAEL (¿PARA CUAL ISRAEL? PUES...) PARA CON LOS LIMPIOS DE CORAZÓN»- Salmo 73:1.

Así, cuando el Israel nacional decide dar la espalda al Creador, deja de prefigurar al Israel espiritual. ¿Por que? Pues porque con su conducta maldice (es decir, blasfema) el nombre del Creador, haciéndose de ese modo digna tanto de la maldición de Dios como de los hombres. ¿Y como sabemos que ha dejado de ser el pueblo de Dios, para convertirse en cambio en una nación pagana? Pues lo sabemos por el hecho de que, cuando tal hace, el Creador le compara con “Sodoma y Gomorra” (es decir, con naciones malditas). Como esta escrito: “¡Oh gente pecadora, pueblo cargado de maldad, generación de malignos, hijos depravados! Dejaron a יהוה, provocaron a ira al Santo de Israel, se volvieron atrás.... Si יהוה de los ejércitos no nos hubiese dejado un resto pequeño, como Sodoma fuéramos, y semejantes a Gomorra. Príncipes de Sodoma, oíd la palabra de יהוה; escuchad la Ley de nuestro Dios, pueblo de Gomorra”- Isaías 1:4,&9-10.

¿Es cierto que la Ley de Dios produce Maldición?

Si la Escritura dice que la Ley produce libertad y bienaventuranza (“Guardaré tu Ley siempre... Y andaré en libertad... Bienaventurado el varón que no anduvo en consejo de malos ... Sino que en la Ley de YHVH está su delicia”- Salmo 119:44-45, & 1:1-2); Y luego viene el noble Evangelio, afirmando que la Ley solo produce maldición y esclavitud (“Cristo nos redimió de la maldición de la Ley... Estad, pues, firmes en la libertad con que Cristo nos hizo libres, y no estéis otra vez sujetos al yugo de esclavitud”- Gálatas 3:13, & 5:1); entonces la disputa entre Cristianos y Samaritanos queda finalmente adjudicada; el caso ha sido cerrado, y no queda ya nada relevante por discutir.

¿Por que? Pues porque, las Verdades reveladas en la Escritura Hebrea, son finales e irrevocables [pues la Ley no puede ser abrogada, ni mucho menos quebrantada, según Deuteronomio 4:2]. Y, con esto, también concuerdan los Evangelios, cuando citan a Jesús diciendo: «la Escritura [la Ley], no puede ser quebrantada» (Juan 10:35)

Es falso que Jesús halla sido Dios; pues, el verdadero Dios, nunca dice
una mentira (Num. 23:19)

1) ¿Cual de los dos falta a la Verdad?
¿Falta Jesús, cuando dice que, nada de lo que el demonio dice, es verdadero (Juan 8:44)? ¿O falta el Demonio, cuando dice que, verdaderamente Jesús es el Hijo de Dios (Lucas 4:41)?

2) ¿Cual de los dos miente? ¿Miente el Evangelio, cuando dice que, ningún profeta puede morir fuera de Jerusalén (Lucas 13:33)? ¿O miente la Ley, cuando dice que, el profeta Moisés (entre otros profetas), murió fuera de lo que, en aquel entonces, era Jerusalén (Deut. 34:5-6)

The Serpent Has Always Wanted You To Believe Man Can Be God!

The Divine Law teaches God is no man (“God is not a man...”- Numbers 23:19). But the New Testament claims Jesus to be not only God but even “the Second Adam”.

As is written: “I and the Father are one”- John 10:30; “And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit... The first man is of the earth, earthy; the second man is the Lord from heaven” (1 Corinthians 15:45-47, KJV).

So, he who follows God’s Law can properly say that, while the Serpent started out trying to convince Eve that Adam [the First Man] could be LIKE God (“In fact, God knows that when you eat it your eyes will be opened and YOU WILL BE LIKE GOD...”- Genesis 3:5); it ended up making an ever greater claim- that the Second Adam could not only be LIKE God but he could actually be God!

El extravío de adorar a Jesús

Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) comparó proféticamente su destino con el de la serpiente de bronce erigida por Moisés (“Y como Moisés levantó la serpiente en el desierto, así es necesario que el Hijo del Hombre sea levantado”- Juan 3:14).

Pero, ¿que paso con la serpiente de Moisés? Pues que, lo que en un principio tuvo al intención de ser una bendición Divina, terminó convirtiéndose en una maldición. ¿Por que? Pues porque el pueblo de Dios comenzó a rendirle culto, convirtiéndola así en un ídolo abominable que eventualmente tuvo que ser hecho pedazos.

Como esta escrito: “El [Ezequías] quitó los lugares altos... e hizo pedazos la serpiente de bronce que había hecho Moisés, porque hasta entonces le quemaban incienso los hijos de Israel; y la llamó Nehustán (abominable)”- 2 Reyes 18:4.

Y, en este sentido, podemos decir que fueron acertadas las palabras del Nazareno; pues, tal y como sucedió con la serpiente, sucedió también con su persona. Es decir, tanto la predica mesiánica como el ministerio sanador cuya intención inicial fueron el ser una bendición Divina, terminaron convirtiéndose en maldición; pues los seguidores del Galileo terminaron rindiéndole culto, convirtiéndole así en un ídolo abominable cuya adoración el Creador [eventualmente] hará pedazos.

Mentiras, homosexualidad, y perros

La mentalidad Occidental, a menudo acostumbra al hombre a mentir. Y, cuando el hombre se acostumbra a mentir, se hace un revisionista histórico. Para el revisionista histórico, la verdad es irrelevante; y, los hechos objetivos, son inconvenientes que deben ser vigorosamente refutados. Este extraviado ser, termina haciendo un dios de si mismo; Y, a sus ojos, lo importante no es cuales fueron los hechos, sino cuales debieron haber sido los hechos; lo importante no es como sucedieron las cosas, sino como debieron haber sucedido.

Cual es la verdad objetiva, no es importante; lo importante es cual debería ser esa verdad. Es que, como este necio ha decidido hacerse la referencia de todas las cosas (es decir, ha pretendido jugar el papel de dios), también pretende tener el poder de cambiar la realidad histórica (¡algo que ni siquiera el Creador reclama!), a fin de adular su vano y caprichoso ego (pretendiendo ser mas sabio e inteligente que el Creador).

Si la realidad es que Dios hizo al hombre y a la mujer físicamente distintos, este falso dios pretende corregir al Creador, afirmando que TANTO AL HOMBRE COMO LA MUJER SON IGUALES (pues esta "debería" ser la realidad).

Si el verdadero Dios afirma que la Homosexualidad publica es inmoral, y fue la causa de que el juicio Divino cayese sobre los antiguos Sodomitas, este necio alega que esto no es así; y que el relato Bíblico no es sino un mito, pues Dios no debería estar en contra de la Homosexualidad.

En fin, este falso dios que es el hombre, pretende re-escribir la realidad histórica, afirmando que la vida abiertamente homosexual, es algo genéticamente heredado; Y por ende, lo que sería inmoral, es afirmar que tal estilo de vida es inmoral.

Si los patriarcas y profetas de Israel fueron hombres comprometidos con la existencia de un Dios omnipotente, este falso dios pretende decir que los Hebreos nunca hemos creído que haya vida después de la muerte; o que siquiera exista un Creador.

Claro, como el Occidente tilda cualquier creencia en Dios como "burda ignorancia", los Hebreos (que son un grupo sumamente intelectual) nunca "debieron" haber creído en algo tan ignorante como la Vida después de la muerte, o la existencia de un Creador.

Al final, este vanidoso hombre no solamente pierde el contacto con la realidad, sino que comienza a creer sus propias mentiras. Y, lo peor de todo, es que termina actuando en base a ellas. Y, es esta conducta, la que conduce a la eventual destrucción de ese individuo, de ese pueblo, de esa sociedad, y de esa nación.

¿Como? Quizás el relato bíblico nos ayude a entender el proceso: El libro de Génesis, narra que, cuando los mensajeros de Dios advirtieron a Lot acerca de la inminente destrucción de Sodoma, este último trató de persuadir a aquellos Sodomitas que estaban comprometidos con sus hijas.

Pero estos hombres, estaban tan sumergidos en la mentira (cuya máxima expresión es pretender hacer del hombre una mujer; y de la mujer, un hombre), que ya no podían distinguir entre la verdad que salvaría sus vidas, y la mentira que las condenaría. Y, la mentira que ya había destruido sus almas, termino destruyendo también sus cuerpos.

La Escritura asocia la mentira que encarna la homosexualidad publica, con la conducta de los perros. Como está escrito:

«No haya ramera de entre las hijas de Israel, ni haya sodomita de entre los hijos de Israel. No traerás la paga de una ramera, ni el precio de un perro, a la casa de יהוה tu Dios por ningún voto; porque abominación es a יהוה tu Dios tanto lo uno como lo otro» - Deut. 23:17-18.

¿Por que tan fuerte comparación? Pues para imprimir en nuestras mentes una poderosa imagen. Vera, la Escritura Hebrea presenta a los perros como alimentándose de muerte (carroña), y de sangre: «... Así ha dicho יהוה : En el mismo lugar donde lamieron los perros la sangre de Nabot, los perros lamerán también tu sangre, tu misma sangre» -1 Reyes 21:19.

¿Que mensaje ético pretende darnos con esto la Escritura? ¿Cual es la enseñanza detrás del hecho de que los perros se alimenten de sangre?

La contestación quizás pueda ilustrarse con la manera en que los esquimales solían cazar a los lobos: Se dice que el esquimal tomaba un puñal, y empapaba la hoja de metal con una capa de sangre.

Entonces, esperaba a que la sangre se congelara, y continuaba añadiendo capas adicionales.

Cuando la sangre ya había ocultado completamente el filo de la navaja, el esquimal enterraba la empuñadura firmemente en la nieve, exponiendo verticalmente la hoja. Al caer la noche, el lobo captaba el olor de la sangre, y se acercaba a lamerla. El calor de su lengua, hacia que la sangre se derritiera, de suerte que mientras mas vigorosamente lamia, mas sangre aparecía para lamer. En su frenesí, el lobo no captaba cuando la hoja ya estaba expuesta, y la sangre que ahora lamia, era la suya propia. Cuando el esquimal retornaba en la mañana, encontraba que el lobo se había desangrado, y yacía muerto sobre la nieve.

Esa es la lección que pretende darnos la Torah (la Ley de Dios): Que aquel que, siendo reprendido, insiste en seguir sus bajos y animales instintos (en vez de la ética y moral a la que nos llama la Escritura), es como el perro (un animal impuro, según la Ley), pues su alimento es la muerte, ya que bebe su propia sangre.

¿Por que aborrece יהוה (el Dios de Israel) la idolatría?

La Escritura Hebrea (Torah) postula que, en su mas intima esencia, יהוה (el Dios de Israel) no solamente es infinito, sino que es moralmente perfecto, y no posee ninguna limitación humana. Por eso, el Creador nos ordena adorarle solo a el, y no a nada que sea finito, o que posea limitaciones humanas (hombres, animales, fenómenos naturales, la luna, algún planeta, las estrella, las constelaciones, etc).

Es que, cuando damos incondicional pleitesía (idolotramos) a algo que sea limitado, o que posea defectos humanos, tarde o temprano alguien nos echara en cara las limitaciones y debilidades de nuestro ídolo. Y, ante tal situación, nos veremos forzados a mentir, a fin de negar que nuestro ídolo tenga las limitaciones y defectos que se le atribuyen.

Y, cuando mentimos, y pretendemos creer nuestras propias mentiras, corrompemos nuestras almas, pues violamos el mandamiento Divino que dice: “¡No dirás falso testimonio!” (Deut. 5:20).

Entonces, la frecuente violación de este mandamiento, logra insensibilizarnos, de suerte que terminamos violando todos y cada uno de los mandamientos, y viviendo una vida de inmoralidad [de mentira, de robo, de adulterio, de deshonrando a nuestros padres, etc].

Y, es por esto que, el Dios de Israel, abomina la idolatría de todo aquello que pueda representarse por medio de una imagen física [pues ello implica que es algo limitado]. Es que, la idolatría de cualquier cosa, fuera del perfecto e infinito Dios de Israel (יהוה), conduce siempre a la inmoralidad.

Los Evangelios Cristianos implican que, creer que Jesus (paz sea con él) es “el Hijo de Dios”, es darle la razón al Maligno

El Evangelio Cristiano, presenta a Ha Satán y a sus demonios, afirmando que Jesús (paz sea con él) es “el Hijo de Dios” (Marcos 3:11, y Lucas 4:41, entre otros).

Así que, los creyentes Hebreos, no podemos creer que Jesús sea el Hijo de Dios, pues eso sería darle la razón a Ha Satán, y llamar mentiroso a יהוה , quien claramente dijo que “su Hijo” no es otro sino Israel; Como está escrito,

"Israel es mi Hijo, mi Primogénito" (Éxodo 4:22). En adición, solo un Am ha-aretz” (una persona ignorante de las Escrituras) podría pensar que יהוה (bendito sea) se enojaría contra el creyente que se negase a creer lo que afirma Ha Satán, el padre de todas las mentiras del mundo.

The mindset of the Jew who abandons God's commandments is like a house in ruins: a sad string of flattery, pride, self deception, and stubborn foolishness- all standing upon the shaky foundation of a self serving morality. As is written: "... because he [the wicked] flatters himself in his own eyes too much to notice his guilt and to hate it. The words from his mouth are deception and deceit. He has given up being wise and doing good. He plots deception even on his bed. He sets out on a path that is not good. He does not reject wrong"- Psalm 36:2-4 (Evangelical Heritage Version)

La Turbación de espíritu, que se manifiesta en los nobles Escritos Cristianos

Las contradicciones del Nuevo Testamento son tan serias e innegables, que requieren que el creyente cristiano cometa un tipo de “suicidio intelectual”.

Pero, aún este suicidio, no resuelve el problema del Cristiano. ¿Por que? Pues el Nuevo Testamento afirma que los homicidas no tendrán parte en vida Eterna; como esta escrito: «... Y sabéis que, ningún homicida, tiene vida eterna» (1 Juan 3:15).

¿A que tipo de contradicciones hacemos referencia? Pues un buen ejemplo de ellas es que el N.T. alega que “creer en Cristo” es “la bebida espiritual” de la que participan todos los creyentes; como esta escrito: «... y todos bebieron la misma bebida espiritual; porque bebían de la roca espiritual que los seguía, y la roca era Cristo» (1 Corintios 10:4).

¿Cual es el problema con este hermoso pasaje? Pues que si “creer en Jesús” es la bebida espiritual de los cristianos, entonces los espíritus inmundos beben de la misma bebida espiritual, pues el Evangelio dice: «Y los espíritus inmundos, al verle, se postraban delante de él, y daban voces diciendo: “¡Tú eres el Hijo de Dios”!» (Marcos 3:11).

En otras palabras, los demonios también creen en Jesús, participando así de la misma “mesa” (es decir, la misma comida y bebida espiritual) de la que participan los cristianos. Pero esto es a su vez intolerable; pues el Nuevo Testamento dice que los creyentes no pueden participar de la misma comida y bebida que los demonios, como esta escrito:

«No podéis beber la copa del Señor, y la copa de los demonios; no podéis participar de la mesa del Señor, y de la mesa de los demonios» (1 Corintios 10:21).

De esta forma, cuando el cristiano cree en Jesús, esta haciendo lo malo, pues viola el pasaje que le ordena no beber de la misma bebida que beben los demonios [es decir, no hacer lo mismo que hacen los demonios].

Por el otro lado, si no cree en Jesús, también esta haciendo lo malo, pues viola el mandamiento que le ordena creer en Jesús, como esta escrito: «Pero éstas se han escrito, para que creáis que Jesús es el Cristo, el Hijo de Dios»- Juan 20:31.

Así, vemos que, “el Nuevo Testamento”, es un documento bi-polar [pues ordena hacer cosas que son auto-excluyentes, y contradictorias]. Y esta “bipolaridad teológica” le impide al Cristiano sentir la absoluta paz de saber que hace la perfecta voluntad de Dios. Pero ¿por que permite Dios esta triste situación?

Pues la respuesta es que, la falta de paz que experimenta el Cristiano, es el cumplimiento de la Ley Divina, que advierte de la maldición y de la falta de paz que vendrán sobre aquellos que abandonen los mandamientos, como esta escrito:

«Reprendiste a los soberbios, los Malditos, que se desvían de tus mandamientos» (Salmo 119:21); Y también dice, «No hay paz, dijo mi Dios, para los impíos» (Isaías 57:21). Es que, la Ley, advertía acerca de “la turbación de espíritu” que sobrecogería a quienes abandonasen sus mandamientos, como esta escrito:

«Pero acontecerá, si no oyes la voz de יהוה tu Dios, para procurar cumplir todos sus mandamientos y sus estatutos que yo te intimo hoy, que vendrán sobre ti todas estas maldiciones, y te alcanzarán... יהוה te herirá con locura, ceguera y turbación de espíritu...» (Levítico 28:15, 28, & 29).

Es que, la turbación de espíritu impide al Hombre tener una postura firme y clara ante los asuntos Divinos, y le hace divagar entre posturas que a menudo son contradictorias.

Y es por eso que la teología Cristiana está seriamente turbada; pues, abogando por “la Salvación por fe”, ha abandonado la Ley, haciendo de este modo que las maldiciones que son la falta de paz y la turbación de espíritu caigan sobre sus seguidores.

Que el Dios de Israel tenga misericordia de nuestros hermanos cristianos, y les devuelva la paz que ya experimentan aquellos que guardan sus mandamientos, como esta escrito: «Mucha paz tienen los que aman tu Ley, Y no hay para ellos tropiezo» (Salmo 119:165)

Algunos ejemplos de doctrinas satánicas, que propician la bi-polaridad, la depresión, y el suicidio

1) Creer que “Dios hace lo que quiere” (sin importar si es algo justo, o injusto, cruel o misericordioso, humilde o arrogante);

Creer que Dios es un Dios Sádico- un injusto, arbitrario, y Tiránico dictador religioso, que ordena diciendo- “It’s My way, or it’s the Highway!” [¡o lo haces a mi manera, o te arrojo a la carretera!]; Creer que Dios ha predestinado quienes son las personas que habrán de gozar de la recompensa del Cielo, y quienes son las que habrán de sufrir los castigos del infierno [sin importar el bien o el mal que tales personas hayan cometido];

Creer que Dios espera la perfecta y absoluta obediencia del hombre, de suerte que el Creador tenga una excusa para castigar el mas pequeño mal que hayamos realizado, sin tener que recompensar el mas pequeño bien que hayamos realizado (y sin importar tampoco quienes hayamos sido, o cual haya sido nuestra teología).

2) Creer que todos (justos e injustos, ateos y creyentes, homosexuales y heterosexuales, etc) somos “iguales” a los ojos de Dios [de suerte que dé lo mismo si hacemos el bien o el mal, si obras moral o inmoralmente, o si actuamos con justicia o con injusticia].

3) Creer que el alma humana (nuestra conciencia) deja de existir completamente en el momento de nuestra muerte [de suerte que, el suicidio, se haga un fácil escape del dolor que pueda estar produciendo nuestro pecaminoso estilo de vida].

4) Creer que “este mundo”, es “todo lo que existe”, y que no hay “otro mundo”; de suerte que no tengamos esperanza de un futuro infinitamente mejor- de experimentar un mundo [un ámbito de existencia] donde ya no sufriremos las limitaciones que implica vivir en un cuerpo físico: donde no sufriremos la muerte, la vejez, el dolor, la tentación, la lujuria, la lascivia, los celos, la injusticia, las luchas de poder, la debilidad, la fatiga, la enfermedad, el temor, la duda, la ansiedad, ni la incertidumbre.

5) Creer que Dios literalmente sufre de las mismas debilidades y limitaciones que sufrimos los seres humanos: que Dios tiene una imagen [o un cuerpo] que existe en algún lugar dentro de la Creación; y que, por tanto, está sujeto al poder y a los efectos del tiempo, del espacio, y de la materia; creer que Dios cambia, que Dios se retracta; que Dios se cansa; que Dios se arrepiente de haber hecho algo errado; que Dios padece de celos; que Dios se enoja; que Dios pierde la paciencia; que Dios tiene deseos o caprichos arbitrarios; que el Creador tiene necesidad de alguna cosa (fama, poder, placer, adulación, pleitesía, etc)

Desconfíe de cualquier hombre que se alabe demasiado a si mismo (sin importar si ese hombre es Moisés, Jesús, Pablo, o Muhammad)

Cuando las cosas son realmente grandes (el mar, la luna, el Sol, etc), no tienen que pedirle a nadie que las reconozcan; pues es imposible no reconocerlas. Pero, cuando son pequeñas, y quieren aparentar ser grandes, tienen que demandar a todos el reconocimiento.

Hebrew Scripture teaches that following Moses ten Laws (commandments) is the only assured way of deliverance

Hebrew Scripture says: «Now Korah, the son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi, and Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, and On, the son of Peleth, sons of Reuben, took men: And they rose up before Moses, with certain of the children of Israel, two hundred and fifty princes of the assembly, famous in the congregation, men of renown»- Numbers 16:1-2.

Why is it that, according to Numbers 16:1-2, those who rose up against Moses (Korah, Dathan and Abiram), refusing to have him as their spiritual leader, were sent down to the pit (Hell)? As is written:

«And it came to pass, as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them: And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Korah, and all their goods. They, and all that appertained to them, went down alive into the pit, and the earth closed upon them: and they perished from among the congregation»- Numbers 16:31-33.

And why were they punished with fire? («And there came out a fire from the Lord, and consumed the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense»- Numbers 16:35).

The answer is that these things happened in order to teach us that, he who rises up against Moses (taking someone else as his spiritual leader) will go down to Hell, where he'll be punished with fire. And, as for those who refused Moses command to follow him into the Promised Land, why were they barred from entering it? As is written:

«Behold, the Lord thy God hath set the land before thee: [I, Moses, command you to] go up and possess it, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath said unto thee; fear not, neither be discouraged... Notwithstanding ye would not go up, but rebelled against the commandment of the Lord your God [given through me]»- Deut. 1:21, 26.

It was only to teach us that, just as those who refused to let Moses bring them into the [physical] Land, were barred from entering it, so will those who refuse to let Moses bring them into the Spiritual

Land (through the ten commandments), be barred from entering it (that is, from having a share in Life Everlasting)

*In the eyes of God, any stranger who undergoes a religious circumcision [in order to embrace God's Law], is as Israelite as any native born Hebrew. As it is written: "And when a stranger shall sojourn with thee... let all his males be circumcised... and he shall be as one that is born in the land"-
Exodus 12:48 (King James Bible)*

La manifestación del Espíritu del Mesías

Una leyenda Hebrea dice que el Mesías está a la puerta de Roma, esperando a manifestarse. Un joven preguntó a un sabio Rabino: ¿Por quien espera el Mesías, para manifestarse? El sabio le contestó diciendo: ¡Espera por ti!

Otra leyenda Hebrea dice que, en cada generación, hay al menos 36 personas justas, cada una con el potencial de ser el Mesías; pero, muchas de estas personas, ni siquiera están conscientes de ello. ¿Sabe usted lo que significan estas dos leyendas? Significan que, hasta que cada uno de nosotros lo intentemos, no podremos saber con absoluta certeza si somos o no el Mesías para nuestra generación. Curiosamente, la Torah muestra que el valor numérico de la palabra "Serpiente" ("Ha Satán", o nuestro impulso a hacer lo malo), y el de la palabra Mesías (impulso a hacer lo bueno, o "Mashiach") es el mismo. Este valor es 358.

¿Que intima con esto la Torah? ¿Por que se utiliza la serpiente para prefigurar tanto a ha Satán, como al Mesías? Pues porque, aunque la serpiente tiene el potencial de hacer lo malo (es decir, de "tragarse" a su prójimo), también tiene el potencial de hacer lo bueno (despojarse de su vieja piel, o "abandonar" su vieja vida).

De ese mismo modo, el hombre puede permitir que su impulso interno le convierta en un Ha Satán (haciendo mal al prójimo), o puede permitir que le convierta en el Mesías (abandonando su vieja vida de maldad, renovando así su mundo interior).

Esta es la razón por la cual los profetas enseñaron que el Redentor llegaría precisamente a aquellos que se apartan de la maldad, como está escrito, "El Redentor vendrá a Sión, a aquellos en Jacob que abandonan la maldad (es decir, que se arrepienten de sus pecados), declara Adonai"- Isaías 59:20.

Y, de igual modo, dice en otra lugar la Escritura: "Apártate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre"- Salmo 37:27. Así, el impulso que nos conduce a arrepentirnos del pecado (llevándonos de ese modo a abandonar la maldad), es el verdadero Mesías Redentor.

Quizás el siguiente relato arroje luz acerca de esta profunda temática: Una leyenda medieval, cuenta de un Abad que tenía grandes dificultades en lograr que los frailes de su monasterio pudiesen vivir en paz los unos con los otros. Un día, agobiado por las continuas luchas, el Abad decidió salir a orar en un monte cercano.

Una vez allí, se encontró con un anciano Rabino. En medio de su desesperación, el Abad preguntó al Rabino si tenía alguna palabra de sabiduría que le ayudase a lograr la paz entre sus compañeros. El Sabio le contestó que, aunque no tenía idea de como lograr la tan anhelada paz, había algo de lo cual estaba absolutamente seguro. Intrigado, el Abad le preguntó a que se refería.

El Rabino contestó que, si bien no podía precisar quien de todos era, estaba absolutamente seguro de que uno de aquellos frailes era el Mesías. Maravillado, el Abad corrió de vuelta al convento, para dar a sus hermanos frailes la buena nueva.

Luego de escuchar la noticia, cada fraile se retiró calladamente a su celda. Entonces, a la mañana siguiente, algo maravilloso comenzó a suceder; y fue que, cada vez que algún fraile sentía el impulso de enojarse contra algún otro fraile, se restringía a sí mismo, diciendo en su corazón: Pero, ¿cómo puede ofender a mi hermano fraile? ¿qué sería de mí si, después de ofenderle, descubro que es el Mesías?

Por demás está decir que, esta ennoblecedora perspectiva, finalmente trajo a aquella atribulada comunidad, la paz que solamente el Mesías pudo haber traído. Este mismo Mesías espera por usted y por mí, para manifestarse a nuestros vecindario, a nuestra ciudad, a nuestro país, y al mundo entero. ¡No le hagamos esperar!

Do not be dismayed! Even if the struggle against evil seems hopeless [as the wicked seem to be too powerful to ever be defeated], the prosperity of the wicked will come to an end. As is written: "Have I been wasting my time? Why take the trouble to be pure? All I get out of it is trouble and woe—every day and all day long! If I had really said that, I would have been a traitor to your people. Yet it is so hard to explain it—this prosperity of those who hate the Lord.

Then one day I went into God's sanctuary to meditate and thought about the future of these evil men. What a slippery path they are on—suddenly God will send them sliding over the edge of the cliff and down to their destruction: an instant end to all their happiness, an eternity of terror. Their present life is only a dream! They will awaken to the truth as one awakens from a dream of things that never really were!"-Psalm 73:13-20 (The Living Bible)

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

If God's Law (the Torah, the Prophets, and the Writings) states that forgiveness of sins comes through sincere repentance ("Perhaps the house of Judah will hear all the calamity that I am planning to do to them, in order that they may turn, each one from his evil way. Then I would forgive their iniquity and their sin...The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit. A broken and a contrite heart, O God, You will not despise."- Jeremiah 36: 3, & Psalm 51:19, Tree Of Life Bible); And then comes the Gospel and tries to refute the Law, claiming instead that forgiveness of sins doesn't come through sincere repentance, but rather through belief in Jesus ("that all who believe in him will receive forgiveness of sins through his name" - Acts 10:43); Then the disputation between Christians and Hebrew believers is finally settled; the case has been closed, and there's nothing else to discuss. Why? Because the truths revealed in the Law [the Hebrew Scripture] are final and irrevocable [since the Law cannot be abrogated or broken, according to Deuteronomy 4: 2]. And the gospel seems to agree with this, when it quotes Jesus saying the following: "... and the Scripture [the Law] cannot be broken" (John 10:35)

Todos estamos llamados a ser el Mesías

La noble religión Cristiana, es un camino perfectamente válido para acercarse a יהוה (Adonai Yah, El Señor del Universo). Pero, desafortunadamente, esta noble tradición ha heredado del antiguo Judaísmo farisaico, la errada noción de que el Mesías sería un hombre particular, y exclusivo. Y nuestros hermanos Cristianos identifican a ese hombre con la figura de Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean con él).

Pero esta noción, no solo contradice lo revelado por Dios en la Tanak (la Ley, los Profetas, y los Escritos), sino aún las mismas palabras adscritas al Nazareno.

Tratemos de ilustrarlo por medio de un ejemplo: Suponga usted que vive en una compuesta por 1500 personas. Suponga en adición que, 800 de esas personas, deciden obrar el mal, y comenzar a ingerir grandes cantidades de comida con un alto contenido de Nitrato de Sodio (un conocido agente cancerígeno). Como resultado, "el cáncer" llega a estas 800 personas. ¿Como es que "el cáncer" pudo llegar a estas 800 personas, pero no a las restantes 700 personas?

¡Sencillo! La explicación es que, "el cáncer", no es uno solo, sino muchos (un cáncer por cada individuo). Y así mismo sucede con "el Mesías", o "el hijo del hombre". ¿Como puede "el hijo del Hombre" (o "Mesías") llegar para unos [los que obran el mal], pero no para otros [quienes obran el bien]? ¡Sencillo! La explicación es que, al igual que sucede con "el cáncer", "el hijo del hombre", no es uno solo, sino muchos.

Por eso Jesús es citado diciendo las siguientes palabras: «Por tanto, también vosotros estad preparados; porque El HIJO DEL HOMBRE vendrá a la hora que no pensáis. ¿Quién es, pues, el siervo fiel y prudente, al cual puso su señor (el hijo del hombre) sobre su casa para que les dé el alimento a tiempo? Bienaventurado aquel siervo al cual, cuando su señor (el hijo del hombre) venga, le halle haciendo así. De cierto os digo que sobre todos sus bienes le pondrá. Pero si aquel SIERVO MALO dijere en su corazón: Mi señor tarda en venir; y comencare a golpear a sus con-siervos, y aún a comer y a beber con los borrachos, vendrá el señor (el hijo del hombre) de aquel siervo en día que éste no espera, y a la hora que no sabe, y lo castigará duramente, y pondrá su parte con los hipócritas; allí será el lloro y el crujir de dientes»- Mateo 24:44-51.

Asumamos para propósitos ilustrativos que las anteriores palabras no son solamente ciertas, sino que, en adición, tuvieron el propósito de ser interpretadas en su estricto sentido literal.

Entonces, como estas palabras se dijeron casi dos mil años atrás, la lógica dicta que, durante esos largos siglos, tuvieron que haber existido varias personas (sacerdotes, obispos, cardenales, monjas, frailes, pastores, ministros, presbíteros, predicadores, reformadores, diáconos, etc.) que cumplieron con la descripción y la conducta que el anterior pasaje adscribe al "siervo malo" (un ejemplo de estos lo podría ser "Diótrefes", un líder de la antigua iglesia Cristiana, descrito por el apóstol Juan en III Juan 1:9-10).

Así, si es cierto que Mateo 24:44-51 es literal, entonces el HIJO DEL HOMBRE vino en el momento en que esos malos siervos no lo esperaban, y los castigó duramente, poniendo su parte con los hipócritas, haciéndoles sufrir "el lloro y el crujir de dientes".

Entonces, si esto fue así, ¿como es posible que "el hijo del hombre" (el Mesías) haya venido para castigar a esos "siervos malos", pero no haya venido para recompensar a los "siervos buenos" de la época correspondiente? De nuevo, la respuesta es que "el hijo del hombre" (el Mesías), no es uno solo, sino muchos.

Es decir, así como en el anterior ejemplo había "un cáncer" distinto para cada individuo, de igual modo hay un "hijo del hombre" (Mesías) para cada "hijo de un hombre" (para cada individuo, pues todos estamos llamados a ser el Mesías). Jesús ("el hijo del hombre"), era solo un miembro de una familia extendida de "hijos del hombre" (Mesías); uno de entre muchos hermanos, hermanas, y madres.

Como Jesús mismo confirmo, cuando dijo: «El les respondió diciendo: ¿Quién es mi madre y mis hermanos? Y mirando a los que estaban sentados alrededor de él, dijo: He aquí mi madre y mis hermanos. PORQUE TODO AQUEL QUE HACE LA VOLUNTAD DE DIOS, ÉSE ES MI HERMANO, Y MI HERMANA, Y MI MADRE»- Marcos 3:33-35.

Lo que el Galileo trataba de decir era que, su concepto de Mesías (hijo del hombre), no era uno exclusivo y particular; decía que si usted o yo queríamos ser "su hermano Mesías", solo teníamos que hacer la voluntad de Dios; que si usted o yo queríamos ser mas grandes que el Mesías (la Madre del Mesías), solo teníamos que hacer la voluntad de Dios.

En fin, Jesús quería enseñar que, todo aquel que hace la voluntad del Creador, guardando sus mandamientos, es también Mesías.

La realidad es que, no importando lo emocionalmente gratificado que pueda sentirse un Hebreo ortodoxo (o un cristiano), cuando afirma que hay un solo (y exclusivo) Mesías, la idea sigue siendo tan errada, como lo es afirmar que hay un solo y exclusivo cáncer.

De igual modo, decir (como lo hace el Cristianismo) que solo Jesús (la paz de Adonai sea con el) ha vivido una vida justa, y que solamente él puede librarnos de la ira Divina, es totalmente errado, y equivale a arrojar de sobre nuestros lomos el yugo del Reino de los Cielos, rechazando lo que, durante siglos, fue la inequívoca enseñanza Divina.

Es que la Torah enseñaba que Avraham dijo a הוה' que sería injusto de su parte destruir la ciudad de Sodoma, mientras aún hubiese justos morando en medio de ella. El texto dice así: "Lejos de ti el hacer tal, que hagas morir al justo con el impío, y que sea el justo tratado como el impío; nunca tal hagas. El Juez de toda la tierra, ¿no ha de hacer lo que es justo?"

Note que las palabras de Avraham presuponen una interpretación teológica que niega la postura cristiana que dice que no hay un solo hombre justo; y que, por ende, todos nacimos destinados a la destrucción. La respuesta de Dios niega esta perspectiva, y valida la interpretación Abrahámica; que, de paso, es la interpretación que ha heredado la fe Hebrea.

Dios no solo validó la interpretación de Avraham, sino que procedió a mostrarle una verdad aún mas grande: que la vida justa, no solo puede ser alcanzada, sino que debe ser la meta de todo hombre.

¿Por que? Pues porque una pequeña minoría de justos morando en una comunidad, proveen a Dios la excusa necesaria para perdonar a la gran mayoría de injustos que moran en esa misma comunidad.

Dios le revelo esto a Avraham en el pasaje que dice: "Y volvió a decir: No se enoje ahora mi Señor, si hablare solamente una vez: quizá se hallarán allí diez (justos). No la destruiré, respondió (Dios), por amor a los diez (justos)". Y el Señor se fue, luego que acabó de hablar a Avraham; y Avraham volvió a su lugar"- Génesis 18:32-33. Cuando Avraham termino de hablar con Dios, quedo una sería duda en su corazón.

Es que, si bien Avraham sabía que su sobrino Lot era justo, no estaba seguro si el numero de justos en Sodoma llegaría a diez. De no ser así, su sobrino corría el riesgo de ser destruido junto con el resto de la ciudad. Pero Dios tenía guardada otra sorpresa para Avraham: Iba a mostrarle que, cuando El Creador juzga a una comunidad, siempre inclina su balanza a favor de esa comunidad.

Lot, el único justo en Sodoma, abandonaba la ciudad, para morar ahora en Zoar. Por tanto, Sodoma (que perdía su único hombre justo) sería destruida, mientras que Zoar (que adquiriría un hombre justo) sería perdonaba.

El pasaje dice así- "He aquí ahora esta ciudad está cerca para huir allá, la cual es pequeña; dejadme escapar ahora allá (¿no es ella pequeña?), y salvaré mi vida. Y le respondió: He aquí he recibido también tu súplica sobre esto, y no destruiré la ciudad de que has hablado. Date prisa, escápate allá; porque nada podré hacer hasta que hayas llegado allí. Por eso fue llamado el nombre de la ciudad, Zoar. El sol salía sobre la tierra, cuando Lot llegó a Zoar. Entonces El Señor hizo llover sobre Sodoma y sobre Gomorra azufre y fuego de parte de Dios desde los cielos”- Génesis 19: 20-24.

La anterior historia acerca del juicio de Sodoma, es un iluminador ejemplo de la perspectiva que dio origen al concepto de Mesías. La palabra Mesías literalmente significa “ungido”. Y un Mesías no es sino un hombre ungido por Dios para vivir la vida de justicia que habrá de servir al Creador como excusa para perdonar a los injustos de la comunidad. Así, el merito de un Mesías, puede salvar del juicio a aquellos que le rodean.

Es por esto que todos estamos llamados a luchar por vivir la vida de justicia que agrada al Creador, pues esto asegura que nuestra comunidad cuente en nosotros con al menos un Mesías; alguien cuyos méritos puedan librar a toda la comunidad.

Quizás alguien podría argumentar que esto es irrazonable; que no es práctico esperar que nadie se sacrifique a si mismo, para asegurar el bien de aquellos que le rodean. Pero pensar así sería un grave error. Vera, hay una ley de siembra y de cosecha, que garantiza que todo el bien que hagamos será ampliamente recompensado.

Quienes luchan por vivir la vida de justicia que corresponde a un Mesías (entiéndase, un ungido de Dios), son como quienes ahorran una inmensa cantidad de efectivo. Dios utiliza el interés de esa cantidad para salvar, durante esta vida, a sus empobrecidos vecinos, pero deja intacta la suma principal, a fin de devolvérsela al dueño en la vida que ha de venir.

Lo anterior no es una idealización fantasiosa, ni una realidad abstracta e inalcanzable; es una enseñanza practica y funcional. De hecho, el relato Talmúdico contiene una historia verificable, que ilustra de forma casi sobrenatural la verdad de lo que acabamos de exponer. Vera, durante el tercer siglo de la era cristiana, vivió un ungido de Dios cuyo nombre era Eleazar Ben Shammua.

A pesar de ser rico, este ungido de Dios (o Mesías), era un hombre justo. En una ocasión, Eleazar Ben Shammua subía a Jerusalén, transitando por la orilla del mar Mediterráneo. Entonces, vio un barco que era castigado por el mar. En un abrir y cerrar de ojos, el barco se hundió, junto a todos sus pasajeros. Entonces, noto que un hombre logro sobrevivir, aferrándose a un pedazo de madera. Este hombre fue finalmente arrojado [desnudo], a la orilla de la playa. Cuando volvió en si, el hombre procedió a esconderse entre las piedras del lugar. Todo esto sucedió mientras los Hebreos de esa comarca subían a una fiesta en Jerusalén.

Viendo a los peregrinos que pasaban, aquel el hombre les grito diciendo: “Yo soy un descendiente de Esaú, vuestro hermano. Dadme por favor cualquier tipo de vestidura, para cubrir mi desnudez, pues el mar me ha dejado sin nada”. A lo cual los Hebreos respondieron: “Que así como el mar ha hecho contigo, haga también con todo tu pueblo”.

Mientras el hombre miraba alrededor, noto que el Rabino Eleazar Ben Shammua caminaba entre esos peregrinos. Entonces el naufrago le dijo: “Veo que eres un hombre venerable, y respetado por tu pueblo; se que, en tu sabiduría, reconoces la dignidad de cada ser humano. Ayúdame, y dame un vestido para cubrir mi desnudez, pues el embravecido mar me ha despojado de todo lo que poseía”. Al oír esto, el Rabino Eleazar Ben Shammua se quito uno de los siete mantos que llevaba puestos, y se lo dio a aquel hombre. Entonces le tomó y, volviendo a su casa, le dió de comer y de beber. Luego, procedió a darle doscientos denarios, y le regaló la mula en la que cual solía cabalgar, de modo que aquel hombre pudo volver a su patria con gran honra y honor.

Algún tiempo después, murió el perverso Cesar; y, aquel hombre que había naufragado, fue elegido para reemplazarle. Entonces, procedió a emitir un decreto contra aquella provincia. El decreto ordenaba que todos los hombres fueran ejecutados, y que las mujeres fueran tomadas como botín de guerra.

Entonces los Hebreos de aquella comunidad dijeron a Eleazar ben Shammua, “¡Ve e intercede por nosotros!”. El Rabino Eleazar les contestó, “¿no sabéis que este gobierno no hace nada sin que se le pague? Ellos dijeron, “aquí hay cuatro mil denarios- Ve, e intercede por nosotros”. El los tomo, y se fue.

Cuando llego al portón del palacio imperial, dijo a los guardias, “decid al emperador que hay un Hebreo parado frente al portón, y que quiere saludarle”. Al oírlo, el emperador dijo, “¡tráiganlo!”. Pero cuando el emperador vio que el Hebreo no era otro sino el Rabino Eleazar, salto inmediatamente de su trono, y postrándose ante Eleazar le dijo, “mi Señor, ¿que has venido a buscar aquí, y porque te has molestado en llegar hasta este lugar? El Rabino Eleazar contestó diciendo, “en nombre de aquella provincia, he venido a pedirte que anules el decreto que has emitido”.

El emperador contestó, “¿Hay algo en la Torah que sea falso? Eleazar respondió, “¡No!”. El emperador dijo, “¿No está escrito en vuestra Torah, ‘Un Amonita o un Moabita no entrarán en la Asamblea del Señor’ (Deut. 23:4)? ¿Y por que razón?: ‘Porque no os recibieron con pan y agua en el camino’ (Deut. 23:5). Pero también está escrito, ‘No aborrecerás al Edomita, por que es tu hermano’ (Deut. 23:8).

¿No soy yo un descendiente de Esaú vuestro hermano? ¡Y a pesar de todo eso, los Hebreos de esa provincia no me trataron con la bondad que se les ordeno! Y cualquiera que transgrede la Torah, incurre en pena de muerte”. Entonces el Rabino Eleazar dijo, “Aunque contra ti son culpables, perdónalos, y ten misericordia de ellos”.

El emperador le contestó diciendo: “¿No sabe mi Señor que este gobierno no hace nada sin que se le pague?”; Eleazar contestó: “Tengo conmigo cuatro mil denarios. Tómalos, y ten misericordia de este pueblo”; El emperador le dijo: “te presento de vuelta esos cuatro mil denarios, en pago por los doscientos denarios que me diste.

Y, a cuenta del bien que me hiciste, y en recompensa por la comida y la bebida que me diste, perdonare a toda aquella provincia. Ahora, entra en la casa de mi tesoro y, en recompensa por el manto que me regalaste, toma de allí los setenta mantos que mas te complazcan. Entonces, vuelve en paz a los tuyos”.

Cuando el Rabino Eleazar Ben Shammua volvió a su comunidad, sus vecinos le aplicaron el verso que dice, “echa tu pan sobre las aguas, porque después de muchos días lo hallaras”- Eclesiastés 11:1. En resumen, el compromiso del Rabino Eleazar Ben Shammua con la vida de justicia, misericordia, y humildad prescrita en la Torah, terminó convirtiéndolo en el ungido (Mesías) que salvó de la muerte a su comunidad. De ese mismo modo, todo creyente está llamado a vivir la vida de obediencia a Dios que le permitirá convertirse en el Mesías (ungido de Dios) cuyos méritos pueden salvar a su comunidad.

“Salvation by Faith, and without works” is immoral [pagan] witchcraft, only disguised as honourable religious piety; the theological equivalent of “having God in your heart, but Satan in your hands”

LA JUSTIFICACIÓN YA NO ES POR FE, SINO POR OBRAS

«Y creyó [Abraham] a יהוה, Y LE FUE CONTADO POR JUSTICIA” (Génesis 15:6). La justificación “por fe” [y sin necesidad de obras] que alega el Cristianismo recibió Abraham en el anterior pasaje, fue abolida 430 años mas tarde, con el establecimiento de la Ley. Como esta escrito: «Entonces se levantó Finees, e hizo juicio [es decir, obedeció la Ley, administrando el castigo prescrito por ella para los fornicarios y los adúlteros], Y se detuvo la plaga; Y LE FUE CONTADO POR JUSTICIA DE GENERACIÓN EN GENERACIÓN PARA SIEMPRE» (Salmo 106:30-31)

The Nazarene (Christian) religion is good and holy; but it's theology is mistaken, as nobody can die for the sins of another person

In a strict literal sense, Yeshua (Jesus of Nazaret, peace and blessings be upon him) could not have delivered anyone from his (or her) sins, as יהוה (Adonai Yah, the God of Israel, blessed be He) has said in the Tanak (the Hebrew Scripture) that there's no other deliverer besides Him: “I, I AM יהוה (Adonai Yah), AND THERE IS NO SAVIOR BESIDE ME”- Isaiah 43:11 (Tree of Life Version Bible).

In addition, the Scripture goes on to say that there is no Salvation in any man: “Do not put your trust in princes; [nor] in man, in whom there is no salvation” (Psalm 146:3). And the Gospel quotes Jesus bearing witness that he was indeed a man. As it has been written: “now YE SEEK TO KILL ME, A MAN that had told you the truth, which I have heard of God”- John 8:40 (King James Bible, 1984). In addition, Jesus could not have died for the sins of anybody; as the Tanak teaches that every one will die for his [or her] own iniquity [and not for the iniquity of his parents or children]: “But every one shall die for his own iniquity...”- Jeremiah 31:30; «The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers; every man shall be put to death for his own sin»- Deuteronomy 24:16.

In fact, even if Yeshua wanted to die in place of all other men, he could not have done so. Why? Well because [according to Christian theology] it would have required a man with no sin at all. But since Yeshua bore witness that he was indeed a man (John 8:40), that would make him unfit, as the Tanak teaches that no man is free from sin: “For THERE IS NOT A JUST MAN upon earth, THAT doeth (only) good, and SINNETH NOT”- Ecclesiastes 7:20.

And the Christian Writings confirm the former truth, when they state that Yeshua had to learn obedience [towards the Creator]. As it has been written: “Though he were a son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered”- Hebrews 5:8. And it goes without saying that, the reason a man needs to learn obedience, is his former “disobedience” [to God].

Also, notice how the words ascribed to the Nazarene cannot be interpreted in a literal sense. Why? Simply because so doing would lead us into a theological “dead end”. For example, if we take at face value the gospel claim that Yeshua was [literally] the son of God [and not the son of any other man], then Yeshua would [at least] be partly guilty of bearing a false witness, each time he described himself as “the son of man”.

The following is just a small sample of many such passages: “You know that Passover comes in two days, and THE SON OF MAN WILL BE HANDED OVER TO BE EXECUTED”- Matthew 26:2; “So THE SON OF MAN IS LORD EVEN OF SHABBAT”- Mark 2:28; “THE SON OF MAN MUST suffer many things, and BE REJECTED OF THE ELDERS AND CHIEF PRIESTS AND SCRIBES, and be slain, and be raised the third day”- Luke 9:22; “For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself; And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, BECAUSE HE [YESHUA] IS THE SON OF MAN”- John 5:26-27.

JESUS = FINITO
DIOS = INFINITO
FINITO ≠ INFINITO
JESUS ≠ DIOS

Why is Yeshua bearing a false (or “misleading”) witness? Because, according to Christian theology, a literal “son of God” would not have inherited any “original sin”; while a literal “son of man” would have indeed inherited such a sin (therefore becoming disqualified to die for anybody else's sins). In short, if Yeshua wanted to be truthful to the facts, he would have referred to himself only as “the son of God”.

Finally, what are we supposed to do with the gospel verse wherein Yeshua claims that there's no truth in the Devil?: “He [THE DEVIL] was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM”- John 8:44)? If Yeshua's words were to be taken in their strict literal sense [when he claims that the Devil will speak only lies], we would be forced to conclude that Yeshua really isn't the son of God.

Why? Because the Devil claims that he is!: “AND DEVILS ALSO CAME OUT of many, crying out, and SAYING, THOU ART Christ THE SON OF GOD”- Luke 4:41; “AND UNCLEAN SPIRITS... fell down before him, and CRIED, SAYING, THOU ART THE SON OF GOD”- Mark 3:11)? So, which one is bearing a false witness? Is Yeshua bearing a false witness [while claiming that there's no truth in the Devil]? Or is the Devil bearing a false witness [while claiming that Yeshua is indeed the son of God]?

Does the spirit of man cease to exist upon death?

How does Torah (Moses Law) teach us that the spirit of man is just as immortal as it's Creator? It does so by stating God wanted the Temple lamp to constantly burn. As is written: “Command the children of Israel, that they bring unto thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, TO CAUSE THE LAMP (נֵר) TO BURN CONTINUALLY”- Leviticus 24:2, King Jame Bible. In the former verse, what does the Temple represent? It represents the human body, as correctly taught by the Christian gospel, when it goes on to say: “Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.... BUT HE SPAKE OF THE TEMPLE OF HIS BODY”- John 2:19-21.

And what does the temple lamp represents? It represents man's spirit, as is written: “THE SPIRIT OF MAN IS THE CANDLE OF THE LORD (נֵר יְהוָה, נְשַׁמַּת אָדָם) ...”- Proverbs 20:27. Thus, Hebrew Scripture teaches that, just as God doesn't want the lamp of His temple to ever be extinguished, He likewise doesn't want the spirit (the lamp of the human temple) to ever be extinguished.

Why it is acceptable for Moses to be considered God's representative, while blasphemous if applied to Jesus?

God's Law says: "And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, Behold, I have made thee a God to Pharaoh, and Aaron thy brother shall be thy prophet" (Exodus 7:1) .

Why it is acceptable for Moses to be considered God's representative, while blasphemous if applied to Jesus? Simply because, just as the Creator, Moses was extremely humble, and honest ("Moses was a very humble man, more so than anyone on the face of the earth"- Numbers 12:3, Christian Standard Bible); But as for Jesus, he was instead an arrogant [and deceptive] man, who yearned for human glory and recognition.

And it goes without saying that God isn't pleased with any man that, while living inside a mortal body [filled with urine, and feces], falsely thinks he has the right to be proud, or arrogant ("Though the Lord is exalted, he takes note of the humble; but he knows the haughty from a distance...

Everyone with a proud heart is detestable to the Lord; be assured, he will not go unpunished"- Psalm 138:6, & Proverbs 16:5, Christian Standard Bible).

If you don't believe it, just consider the fact that, while falsely claiming to be humble ("Take up my yoke and learn from me, because I am lowly and humble in heart"- Matthew 11:29), Jesus goes on to say the following: "I [Jesus] and the Father are One"- John 10:30.

In the former verse, pay attention to Jesus implied arrogance. Any humble person would have said: "The Father [who is a Pure and immortal Spirit dwelling in the High Heavens, and is thus infinitely superior than me] and I [who live upon the Earth, inside a sweaty human body full of urine and feces] are One". But Jesus says instead: "I and the Father are One", thus arrogantly placing himself (a mortal human being) ahead of God. Not only that, but after placing himself ahead of God, he dares to go on to deceptively play with our minds, trying to "cover his tracks" with the smoke screen of claiming to have said the opposite- that God is greater than him! (keep in mind that, ambiguity, is the Gospel's preferred weapon of mass deception!). As is written: "... for my Father is greater than I"- John 14:28).

What does the Hebrew Scriptures really say about salvation and Messiah?

Nothing written by the Hebrew prophets can contradict what was written by Moses in his five books of Torah (Law); and nothing written in the five books of Torah can contradict what was written by God's own finger upon the two stone tablets- that ultimate freedom is to found in a broken heart that renounces to his own ego, in order to obey God's Ten Laws (commandments), thereby acceptings God's kingdom upon his life.

Thus, Torah isn't a call to believe a specific Messianic Theology; rather, it's a call to brokenness (the sincere repentance that leads to a life committed with doing what is good). This truth is repeated all over the Scriptures:

1) «Depart from rah (evil), and do tov (good); and dwell l'olam (for evermore; life everlasting)»- Psalm 37:27

2) «Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before Mine eyes; cease to do evil; Learn to do good; seek mishpat (justice), relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the almanah (widow). Come now, and let us reason together, saith Hashem (God); though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool»- Isaiah 1:16-18

3) «If Ami (my people), which are called by Shmi (my name), shall humble themselves, and daven (pray), and seek my face, and turn from their derakhim hara'im (wicked ways), then will I hear from Shomayim (heavens), and will forgive their chattat (sins), and will heal their land»- 2 Chronicles 7:14

4) «Perhaps the house of Y'hudah will listen to all the disaster I intend to bring on them, and turn back, each person from his evil way; then I will forgive their wickedness and sin»- Jeremiah 36:3.

5) «Likewise, if, after I tell the wicked person, "You must die," he turns from his sin and does what is lawful and right, if the wicked person restores pledged property and returns what he stole, so that he lives by the laws that give life and does not commit evil deeds; then he will live, he will not die. None of the sins he committed will be remembered against him; he has done what is lawful and right; he will surely live» - Ezekiel 33:14-16

6) «Here is the final conclusion, now that you have heard everything: fear God, and keep his mitzvot (commandments); this is what being human is all about. For God will bring to judgment everything we do, including every secret, whether good or bad»- Ecclesiastes 12:13-14.

And from whence do we know that repentance (and turning away from evil) is the way to have our sins removed? We know it from the verse that reads:

«As far as the mizrach (east) is from the ma'arav (west), so far hath He removed peysha'einu (our transgressions) from us»- Psalm 103:12. Where are the east and the west? And (more importantly), how far is the one from the other? The answer is that "east" and "west" are no particular places, but rather two opposite directions, either of which we can choose to follow.

We could be heading East, but in the moment we stop, and do a 180 degree turn (in order to start traveling in the opposite direction), we have bridged the gap (covering the distance) between East and West. And that's exactly how God removes (pardons) our sins: when we recognize we are heading in the wrong direction (away from God, with our constant transgression of His commandments) and stop, in order to make a 180 degree turn, and start walking in the opposite direction.

We call this "sincere repentance": to have a contrite heart; to abandon evil, and to start doing good. This is God's true sacrifice; not that of a human Messiah, nor that of an animal beast, but the sacrifice of our selfish ego (our "Yetzer ha-ra", or "evil inclination").

This is why the Scripture says: «For you don't want sacrifices, or I would give them; you don't take pleasure in burnt offerings. My sacrifice to God is a broken spirit; God, you won't spurn a broken, chastened heart»- Psalm 51:16-17;

And: «Hashem is near unto them whose lev (heart) is broken; and saveth such whose ruach (spirit) is contrite»-Psalm34:18;

And still in another place: «With what can I come before Adonai to bow down before God on high? Should I come before him with burnt offerings? with calves in their first year? Would Adonai take delight in thousands of rams with ten thousand rivers of olive oil? Could I give my firstborn to pay for my crimes, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?» Human being, you have already been told what is good, what Adonai (God) demands of you - no more than to act justly (with your fellow human being), love grace (doing mercy) and walk in purity (humility) with your God»- Micah 6:8. Thus, mankind redemption does not come from any human Mashiach, but rather from sincere repentance. In fact, that spirit of repentance is in itself God's true Mashiach, as the Scripture confirms: «And the Go'el (Redeemer, Mashiach) shall come to Tziyon, and unto them that make teshuva (sincere repentance) and turn from peysha (rebellion) in Ya'akov, saith Hashem»- Isaiah 59:20.

Notice that the verse doesn't say that Mashiach will come unto those who believe in him, but rather unto those who make Teshuva (repent). Why? Because the fact is that "Teshuva" is actually "Mashiach"! This is confirmed by a Midrash (Sanh. 98a) that promises the Mashiach will come TODAY... "if we hear His voice, and Harden not our hearts... (in other words, if we proceed to sincere repentance)"- Psalm 95:7-8.

Was Jesus sinless?

Jesus (peace and blessing be upon him) was an incredible man of God. But in order to be completely honest, we must admit that he who has no sin, doesn't need to learn any obedience (as his obedience to God already is perfect). But as for Jesus, the New Testament clearly teaches that he had to learn obedience. As is written: "Although he was the Son, he learned obedience from what he suffered"- Hebrews 5:8, Christian Standard Bible

Did Jesus really raise from the grave? (The unlimited power of theological ambiguity!)

Although Christianity is noble and perfectly valid religion, we must admit that, when it comes to the subject of Jesus own resurrection, the Christian Writings are [at best] ambiguous. In other words, if we pay close attention to the doctrine that, concerning the resurrection of the dead, is articulated by the apostle Paul (1 Corinthians 15:44, and 1 Corinthians 15:50), we would have no other choice but to question the truthfulness of Jesus resurrection. Why? Simply because Paul's definition crashes against the Gospel description of the very nature of such event. You see, speaking about the resurrection, the former verses state the following: "IT IS SOWN A NATURAL BODY, IT IS RAISED A SPIRITUAL BODY ..."; and they also say, "... FLESH AND BLOOD CANNOT INHERIT THE KINGDOM OF GOD ...". In other words, Paul claims that, after a person dies, what comes out of the grave isn't a body of "flesh, bones, and blood", but rather a spiritual body. But, against this interpretation, the Gospel quotes Jesus telling his disciples that he has risen in a body of "flesh and bones". As is written: "Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself; touch me and see; because A SPIRIT DOES NOT HAVE FLESH OR BONE, AS YOU SEE THAT I HAVE" (Luke 24:39). In addition, the very Gospel states that, those who saw Jesus after his [alleged] resurrection were not completely sure if the person in front of them was actually Jesus [as he didn't physically look like him], or was instead someone speaking in Jesus name. As is written: “Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And [though they did not physically recognize him] NONE OF THE DISCIPLES DURST ASK HIM, WHO ART YOU? KNOWING [BY CONJECTURE] THAT IT WAS THE LORD”- John 21:12, King James Bible. And this uncertainty concerning the identity of the person who claimed to be the resurrected Jesus lingered until the very end of the narrative, as some of the apostles still had doubts about the whole issue of resurrection. As is written: “Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them. AND WHEN THEY SAW HIM, THEY WORSHIPPED HIM: BUT SOME DOUBTED. And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying... Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost”- Matthew 28:16-19, KJV But if the record of Jesus resurrection is so incoherent, why would “The New Testament” willingly include it in his pages? Well, the answer is quite simple [though known only by a chosen few]. You see, the Christian writings make extensive use of what ancient Roman politicians used to call, “the power of ambiguity”. For example, while on one hand the New Testament claims that Jesus will come back soon («The one who bears witness to these things says, “YES, I’M COMING SOON”»- Revelation 22:20, Common English Bible); on the other hand it claims that, in the eyes of God, a thousand years are like one single day (“Don’t let it escape your notice, dear friends, that WITH THE LORD A SINGLE DAY IS LIKE A THOUSAND YEARS and a thousand years are like a single day”- 2 Peter 3:8). So, when you confront any Christian believer with the fact that Jesus has failed to fulfill his promise of returning soon, the believer can always take advantage of this ambiguity, claiming that Jesus hasn’t really been delayed; as, “in the eyes of God”, the last 2000 years have been like 2 days! (a very short time!!). Thus, just as it happens with the campaign promises of a shrewd politician, the ambiguities purposely built into the New Testament give all Christian believers the “unlimited power” to prove [or disprove] almost anything he wants. And the former explains why we are better off focusing on Moses Five books of Torah, as the theological content of these books is clear, and unambiguous; teaching us that there’s only one God [not a Trinity]; a Just and merciful Being who wants His people to strive on the path of goodness; A fair God, who rewards us whenever we do the good described by His commandments, while punishing us whenever we stray away from the path [without resolving to repent and return]. So, no gimmicks, no Monday morning quarterbacking, and no mental gymnastics are required in order to honestly serve the God of Abraham. As is written: “THIS COMMANDMENT THAT I’M GIVING YOU RIGHT NOW IS DEFINITELY NOT TOO DIFFICULT FOR YOU. IT ISN’T UNREACHABLE... Now in light of all that, Israel, WHAT DOES THE LORD YOUR GOD ASK OF YOU? ONLY THIS: TO REVERE THE LORD YOUR GOD BY WALKING IN ALL HIS WAYS, BY LOVING HIM, BY SERVING THE LORD YOUR GOD WITH ALL YOUR HEART AND BEING, AND BY KEEPING THE LORD’S COMMANDMENTS AND HIS REGULATIONS THAT I’M COMMANDING YOU RIGHT NOW. IT’S FOR YOUR OWN GOOD!” - Deuteronomy 30:11, & 10:12-13 (Common English Bible).

The curious way in which Hebrew scripture intimates that Christian theology is the product of iniquity

Hebrew Scripture states that the lifespan of man is 70 years; and, at most, it is 80 years. As it is written: "THE DAYS OF OUR AGE ARE SEVENTY YEARS ..." (Psalm 90:10). But Scripture also states that the wicked flatters and deceives the masses, thus violating God's covenant, and refusing to keep the Ten Commandments of the Divine Law. In fact, the Hebrew

Scripture warns that these wicked will not reach half of their days (that is, they won't live to be 35-40 years old). In addition, we are told that the wicked will be forced to descend into Hades (the pit of destruction), as it is written: «HE [THE WICKED] HATH PUT FORTH HIS HANDS... HE HATH BROKEN HIS COVENANT. THE WORDS OF HIS MOUTH WERE SMOOTHER THAN BUTTER, BUT WAR WAS IN HIS HEART: his words were softer than oil, yet were they drawn swords... BUT THOU, O GOD, SHALT BRING THEM [THE WICKED] DOWN INTO THE PIT OF DESTRUCTION: BLOODY AND DECEITFUL MEN SHALL NOT LIVE OUT HALF THEIR DAYS... »- Psalm 55:20-23, Authorized King James Bible.

Are the teachings attributed to Jesus (peace be upon him) true? Or are they rather the product of the deception and iniquity of the gospel writers? And, how can we know for sure?

Well, Psalm 55 warns us that, if the teachings attributed to Jesus were the product of flattery and deception, they must present him inciting the public to violate “HIS [GOD’S] COVENANT”.

Also, they had to portray him having WAR insides his heart; they had to present him DYING BEFORE THE AGE OF 35-40 years old; and, finally, they had to present him DESCENDING INTO HADES. According to Christian writings, what does Jesus encourage us to do? To keep God’s covenant (the Law)? Or to rebel against it?

Jesus encourages us to rebel against God’s covenant! As is written: “The Law and the prophets were until John ... [in other words, you can forget about them!]”- Luke 16:16.

What do Christian writings claim to be the end result of Jesus smooth words? Would they bring peace? Or would they bring War? - «Do you think that I have come to give Peace on earth? I tell you: No, but dissension (War!). For from now on, five in a family will be divided, three against two, and two against three ”- Luke 12: 51-52.

At what age did Jesus die? After half of his days (35-40 years old)? Or before them? The answer to this question is that, although the New Testament doesn’t really say, Christian tradition has always claimed Jesus lived to be no more than 33 years old.

Finally, did Jesus descend into the pit of destruction (Hades)? Of course he was! As is written: «Men and brothers, can you be freely told ABOUT THE PATRIARCH DAVID, who died and was buried, and his tomb is with us to this day. But being a prophet, and KNOWING THAT with an oath GOD had sworn to him that from his descendants, as regards the flesh, HE WOULD RAISE CHRIST to sit on his throne, seeing him before, HE SPOKE OF THE RESURRECTION OF CHRIST, THAT HIS SOUL WAS NOT LEFT IN HADES (that is, Jesus was indeed forced to descend into Hades, only he was not left there permanently)”- Acts 2: 29-31.

Thus, both the Hebrew Scripture as well as the Christian Writings are forceful in demonstrating the hidden nature of the sayings [and teachings] gospel writers would later attribute to Jesus (peace and blessing be upon him).

Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) wasn’t God, as God’s Law teaches the Creator would never dwell inside "a camp" contaminated with human feces

God’s Law teaches that although the Creator would indeed allow “the angel of His presence” (the holy Spirit) to dwell within the believer; He would never dwell inside a mortal human body. Why? Because His holiness [and purity] won’t allow Him to dwell within “a camp contaminated with human feces”. As is written:

“The latrines must be outside the camp. You will use them there, outside the camp. Carry a shovel with the rest of your gear; once you have relieved yourself, use it to dig a hole, then refill it, covering your excrement. Do these things because the Lord your God travels with you... For this reason your camp must be holy. The Lord must not see anything indecent among you, or he will turn away from you” - Deut. 23:12-14, Common English Bible.

And since the human body is a sort of “camp” [composed of members like eyes, ears, nose, mouth, lungs, heart, hands, feet, bowels, etc), the former verse also intimates that, although God’s presence (His Holy spirit) can dwell within a believer, God himself will never dwell inside a mortal human body [as the latter will always include the presence of some human feces]

Moral Perfection? God does not demand that we reach such destination; but He does expect that we make the Journey

The God of the Hebrews expects His people to walk towards the moral perfection outlined by His commandments; those written by Him upon the two stone tablets (don't worship other gods, don't make images of God, don't bear false witness, keep the Sabbath rest, don't steal, don't murder, honor your parents, don't covet, etc).

But the commandments are just “the horizon”; they are not the destination! In other words, God will hold us accountable for avoiding the Journey towards moral perfection [and not for being unable to attain such perfection!].

That's why, as we embark in the journey, we often find that the Creator effectively limits the amount of good we are allowed to perform (by not giving us the required health, wisdom, courage, or resources to achieve it). And from whence do we know that Scripture validates this truth? We know it from the story of King David, who wanted to do the great good implied in building a house of praise and worship for the Creator.

But, in the end, God himself prevented him from doing the good he wanted. As it is written:

«Then David the king stood up upon his feet, and said, Hear me, my brethren, and my people: As for me, I HAD IN MINE HEART TO BUILD AN HOUSE OF REST FOR THE ARK OF THE COVENANT OF THE LORD, AND FOR THE FOOTSTOOL OF OUR GOD, AND HAD MADE READY FOR THE BUILDING: BUT GOD SAID UNTO ME, “THOU SHALT NOT BUILD AN

HOUSE FOR MY NAME, because thou hast been a man of war, and hast shed blood”»- 1 Chronicles 28:2-4 (King James Bible). And the same is taught in the story of Jonah- although the sailors tried to do good (by not casting Jonah into the rough sea waters), God didn't allow it, but rather force them to throw him overboard. As it has been written:

«Nevertheless the men rowed hard to bring it to the land; but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous against them. Wherefore they cried unto the Lord, and said, “We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, LET US NOT PERISH FOR THIS MAN'S LIFE, AND LAY NOT UPON US INNOCENT BLOOD: FOR THOU, O LORD, HAST DONE AS IT PLEASED THEE”.

SO THEY TOOK UP JONAH, AND CAST HIM FORTH INTO THE SEA: and the sea ceased from her raging”- Jonah 1:13-15 (King James Bible).

Thus, the purpose of the many limitations God has imposed upon us is to provide the existential context required in order for us to understand the extend of God's power and glory; to show us that He isn't limited by our weakness and limitations.

As it has been written: “And Jonathan said to the young man that bare his armour, Come, and let us go over unto the garrison of these uncircumcised: it may be that the Lord will work FOR US: FOR THERE IS NO RESTRAINT TO THE LORD TO SAVE BY MANY OR BY FEW”- 1 Samuel 14:6 (King James Bible).

And the fact that God doesn't depend on the strength [nor the perfection] of His people, is further attested in the verse that goes on to say: “And the Lord said unto Gideon, THE PEOPLE THAT ARE WITH THEE ARE TOO MANY FOR ME TO GIVE THE MIDIANITES INTO THEIR HANDS, LEST ISRAEL VAUNT THEMSELVES AGAINST ME, SAYING, MINE OWN HAND HATH SAVED ME”- Judges 7:2 (King James Bible).

Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) wasn't God, as God's Law teaches the Creator would never dwell inside "a camp" contaminated with human feces

God's Law teaches that although the Creator would indeed allow "the angel of His presence" (the holy Spirit) to dwell within the believer; He would never dwell inside a mortal human body. Why? Because His holiness [and purity] won't allow Him to dwell within "a camp contaminated with human feces". As is written: "The latrines must be outside the camp. You will use them there, outside the camp. Carry a shovel with the rest of your gear; once you have relieved yourself, use it to dig a hole, then refill it, covering your excrement. Do these things because the Lord your God travels with you... For this reason your camp must be holy. The Lord must not see anything indecent among you, or he will turn away from you" - Deut. 23:12-14, Common English Bible. And since the human body is a sort of "camp" [composed of members like eyes, ears, nose, mouth, lungs, heart, hands, feet, bowels, etc), the former verse also intimates that, although God's presence (His Holy spirit) can dwell within a believer, God himself will never dwell inside a mortal human body [as the latter will always include the presence of some human feces]

The error of claiming that “there’s no righteous man, as no man can perfectly keep the Law”

Who does the Torah (Hebrew Bible) says is considered righteous before God? Only the man who can perfectly keep the Law? Or, is God's definition of righteousness, slightly different from that of our dear Christian brothers? Let's see what the Hebrew Bible has to say about it:

- 1) "I have been young, and now am old; yet have I NOT SEEN THE RIGHTEOUS FORSAKEN, nor his seed begging bread"- Psalm 37:25. Are there lies in the Hebrew Bible? Was David lying when he claimed he had seen many righteous men, but none forsaken?
- 2) "The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but THE RIGHTEOUS SHEWETH MERCY, AND GIVETH"- Psalm 37:21. Do you pay your debts? Do you show mercy, and give unto those in need, even though you don't owe them anything? Then God considers you a righteous man!
- 3) "For A JUST MAN FALLETH SEVEN TIMES, AND RISETH UP AGAIN: but the wicked shall fall into mischief"- Prov. 24:16. A just [man] may fall [into sin], seven times [meaning every day of the week]; yet, if he rises up again (repents), he'll still be called [by God] a just man.
- 4) "THE LORD REWARDED ME ACCORDING TO MY RIGHTEOUSNESS: according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me. For I have kept the ways of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God. FOR ALL HIS JUDGMENTS WERE BEFORE ME: AND AS FOR HIS STATUTES, I DID NOT DEPART FROM THEM. I was also upright before him, and have kept myself from mine iniquity. THEREFORE THE LORD HATH RECOMPENSED ME according to my righteousness; ACCORDING TO MY CLEANNESS IN HIS EYE SIGHT"- 2 Samuel 22:21-25.

Do you strive to do good, and never depart from God's [ten] commandments? Then God sees you as a righteous man! But, what's the precise meaning of "doing good"? Is it to believe that "Salvation is by faith" [without the need to obey God's commandments]? Is it to believe that Jesus (peace be upon him) is the Messiah? Is it to believe in a blood atonement?

What does the Creator us to do? The answer is that God (blessed be He) only wants us to deal justly with our fellow human beings, to have mercy of the poor, and to renounce to pride and arrogance, as it is written: "He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and WHAT DOTTH THE LORD REQUIRE OF THEE, BUT TO DO JUSTLY, AND TO LOVE MERCY, AND TO WALK HUMBLY WITH THY GOD? (Micah 6:8).

Thus, if a man repents of his sins, he will be forgiven. And, if he commits himself to deal justly with his fellow human being, to have mercy, and to embrace a humble lifestyle, his righteousness will go before him, and the Lord will make His glory shine upon him, as it is written:

"Is it not to DEAL THY BREAD TO THE HUNGRY, and that thou BRING THE POOR THAT ARE CAST OUT TO THY HOUSE? WHEN THOU SEEST THE NAKED, THAT THOU COVER HIM; AND THAT THOU HIDE NOT THYSELF FROM THINE OWN FLESH? THEN shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: and THY RIGHTEOUSNESS SHALL GO BEFORE THEE; THE GLORY OF THE LORD SHALL BE THY REWARD.

Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer; thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am. IF THOU TAKE AWAY FROM THE MIDST OF THEE THE YOKE, THE PUTTING FORTH OF THE FINGER, AND SPEAKING VANITY; AND IF THOU DRAW OUT THY SOUL TO THE HUNGRY, AND SATISFY THE AFFLICTED SOUL; THEN SHALL THY LIGHT RISE IN OBSCURITY, AND THY DARKNESS BE AS THE NOON DAY:

AND THE LORD SHALL GUIDE THEE CONTINUALLY, AND SATISFY THY SOUL in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not" - Isaiah 58:7-14.

Jesus Was a Samaritan believer, as as such he never claimed to [literally] be God, nor the Son of God

Christianity claims Jesus is the God of Israel. Is this correct? Or is it just a little misunderstanding?

Well, the gospel records an incident where the Jewish leadership wanted to stone Jesus.

Why? For the blasphemy of making himself equal to God: “We aren’t stoning you for a good work”, the Jews answered, “but for blasphemy, because you—being a man—make yourself God”- John 10:33 (Christian standard Bible). What was Jesus reply to this alleged blasphemy? Was he really making himself equal to God?: «Jesus answered them, Isn’t it written in your Law, ‘I said, you are gods’? («I said, “You are gods; you are all Sons of the Most High”»- Psalm 82:6), If he called those to whom the word of God came ‘gods’—and the Scripture cannot be broken— do you say, ‘You are blaspheming’ to the one the Father set apart and sent into the world, because I said: ‘I am the Son of God’?»- John 10:34-36 (Christian standard Bible). In other words, Jesus reply was the following:

«Listen guys, don’t get upset so fast; If Scripture called “gods” [in a symbolic fashion] those who merely received the word of God, why is it wrong for me to call myself “the Son of God” [a much lesser term]? After all, wasn’t Adam just a man [like myself], yet he is spoken of as “the Son of God” (“... son of Enos, son of Seth, son of ADAM, SON OF GOD”- Luke 3:38)?». In short, Jesus made clear to his audience that, whenever he seemed to make himself equal to God (or to be “The Son of God”), he was merely using a literary license that allowed any Israelite believer to consider himself both “god”, as well as “the Son of God”. As is written: «I said, “YOU [ISRAELITES] ARE GODS; YOU ARE ALL SONS OF THE MOST HIGH”»- Psalm 82:6... «And you will say to Pharaoh: This is what the Lord says: “ISRAEL IS MY FIRSTBORN SON”»- Exodus 4:22

When Paul’s doctrine contradicts Moses doctrine, whom are we supposed to follow?

In order to figure out whether to follow Paul’s doctrine or Moses doctrine, first consider the following facts, then reach your own conclusions:

- 1) Moses wrote himself his five books of Torah (God’s Law): “Moses wrote down this Law and gave it to the priests...”- Deut. 31:9, Christian Standard Bible
- 2) Moses never went blind: “Moses was one hundred twenty years old when he died; his eyes were not weak...”- Deut. 34:7, C.S.B
- 3) Paul could not write his own epistles: “I, Tertius, who wrote this letter, greet you in the Lord”- Romans 16:22. C.S.B.
- 4) Paul had gone blind: “You did not despise or reject me though my physical condition was a trial for you.... For I testify to you that, if possible, you would have torn out your eyes and given them to me"- Galatians 4:14-15.

5) Jesus said that the blind cannot pretend to guide other people, as they will all fall into the same pit: "They are blind guides. And if the blind guide the blind, both will fall into a pit"- Matthew 15:14

Finally, nowhere do we find that Moses had written anything that wasn't the unquestionable word of God. But as for Paul, not everything that he wrote was the reliable word of God. How do we know? We know it from the fact that Paul wrote a letter to the Laodiceans; a letter he wrongly considered to be as divinely inspired as that he had addressed to the Galatians ("After this letter has been read at your gathering, have it read also in the church of the Laodiceans; and see that you also read the letter from Laodicea"- Galatians 4:16). Yet, although the Galatian letter was included in the Christian canon [thereby becoming recognized as Divinely inspired], the Laodicean letter wasn't.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

The problem with Christian religion is that it's followers see no problem with the contradiction of asking you to believe the words of Jesus; words they themselves fail to pay heed to. And from whence do we know this? We know it from the fact that Christian theology claims salvation is by faith, and not by any works we might do. But this idea did not come out of Jesus mouth; it was uttered instead by the apostle Paul. As is written:

"For by grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of yourselves... not by works, lest any man should boast"- Ephesians 2:8-9.

What did Jesus himself said concerning salvation? Well, Jesus taught the opposite of Paul- that man can achieve salvation by working on the performance of God's commandments [whose final aim is no other than to love God with all your heart, and your fellow human beings as yourself]. As is written:

"... Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live. ... But if thou wilt enter into Life everlasting], keep the commandments"- Luke 10:25-28, Matthew 19:17

Sadly, in it's failed attempt to reconcile these two self excluding interpretations, Christian theology becomes so entangled [and so shamefully embarrassed] that it ends up not only insulting our intellect [the common sense law of sowing and reaping; action and reaction], but even casting doubts upon the reliability of the words uttered by both Jesus and Paul

When it comes to organized religion, the Creator says: “It doesn’t matter which side of the mountain you choose to climb, as long as you make it to the top”

Many people are stuck with the idea that Jesus of Nazareth (peace and blessings be with him) is God in the flesh, and that Christianity must therefore be God’s only true religion.

What’s the problem with this otherwise perfect logic? Well, the problem is that, according to the holy Gospels, Jesus had a flesh and bones body both before as well as after his resurrection. And the former means Jesus couldn’t be God.

Why? Because Jesus himself is quoted saying God is a spirit (“GOD IS SPIRIT...”- John 4:24), and that a spirit has no flesh and bones [like Jesus had after his resurrection]. As is written: “... FOR A SPIRIT HATH NOT FLESH AND BONES, AS YE SEE ME HAVE”- Luke 24:39.

So, if Jesus words are to be taken at face value, the fact that he always had a body of flesh and bones disqualifies him from being the God he himself described.

And this squares nicely with the Hebrew Scripture, which teaches that God is no man, nor a son of a man (the latter title being one often used by Jesus to describe himself), as is written: “GOD IS NOT A MAN, that he should lie; NEITHER THE SON OF MAN, that he should repent...”- Numbers 23:19.

But, if Jesus wasn’t God, who was he? Well, the gospels themselves state that he was a powerful prophet; a man who had heard the truth of his God [the God of the Jews]; As is written: “And the multitude said, THIS IS JESUS THE PROPHET OF NAZARETH OF GALILEE”- Matthew 21:11; “... And they said unto him, Concerning JESUS OF NAZARETH, WHICH WAS A PROPHET MIGHTY IN DEED AND WORD BEFORE GOD...”- Luke 24:19; and also says on another place- “But now ye seek to kill me, A MAN THAT HATH TOLD YOU THE TRUTH, WHICH I HAVE HEARD OF GOD...” (John 8:40); and finally says- “... but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I [JESUS] ASCEND UNTO MY FATHER, AND YOUR FATHER; AND TO MY GOD, AND YOUR GOD” (John 20:17).

And, what does Jesus understood to be the Hebrew scriptures main message? Salvation by faith in the person of a coming Messiah? Not at all! He understood it to be a plain call to repentance, and to start sowing unto our fellow human beings the same goodness we would wish to reap for ourselves. As is written:

«FROM THAT TIME JESUS BEGAN TO PREACH, AND TO SAY, “REPENT”... I tell you, “Nay: but, EXCEPT YE REPENT, YE SHALL ALL LIKEWISE PERISH”»- Matthew 4:7 & Luke 13:3; and also says, “THEREFORE ALL THINGS WHATSOEVER YE WOULD THAT MEN SHOULD DO TO YOU, DO YE EVEN SO TO THEM: FOR THIS IS THE LAW AND THE PROPHETS”- Matthew 7:12.

And finally says elsewhere- “... BUT IF THOU WILT ENTER INTO LIFE, KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS... THOU SHALT DO NO MURDER, THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY, THOU SHALT NOT STEAL, THOU SHALT NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS, HONOUR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER: AND, THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOUR AS THYSELF”- Matthew 19:17-19.

In other words, the gospel states that he is in darkness [without knowing who God really is], the man who doesn’t love his fellow human beings [refusing to obey God’s commandments]; as is written: “HE THAT SAITH HE IS IN THE LIGHT, AND HATETH HIS BROTHER, IS IN DARKNESS EVEN UNTIL NOW... HE THAT LOVETH NOT KNOWETH NOT GOD; FOR GOD IS LOVE”- 1 John 2:9 & 4:8;

“... FOR HE THAT LOVETH ANOTHER HATH FULFILLED THE LAW. FOR THIS, THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY, THOU SHALT NOT KILL, THOU SHALT NOT STEAL, THOU SHALT NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS, THOU SHALT NOT COVET; AND IF THERE BE ANY OTHER COMMANDMENT, IT IS BRIEFLY COMPREHENDED IN THIS SAYING, NAMELY, THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOUR AS THYSELF. Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore LOVE IS THE FULFILLING OF THE LAW”- Romans 13:8-10;

And also says on another place: “HE THAT SAITH, ‘I KNOW HIM’, AND KEEPETH NOT HIS COMMANDMENTS, IS A LIAR, AND THE TRUTH IS NOT IN HIM”- 1 John 2:4; And finally says, “FOR THIS IS THE LOVE OF GOD, THAT WE KEEP HIS COMMANDMENTS: AND HIS COMMANDMENTS ARE NOT GRIEVOUS”- 1 John 5:3.

Curiously, in this regard the gospel tends to agree with the Hebrew scripture, when it hints at the idea that love is greater than faith (“Now these three remain: FAITH, HOPE, AND LOVE—BUT THE GREATEST OF THESE IS LOVE”- 1 Corinthians 13:13, Christian Standard Bible); and that therefore man’s “salvation” isn’t by faith, but rather by acts of love and kindness (toward God and toward our fellow human beings). As is written:

«Many will say to me in that day, “Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works [thereby showing proof of our faith in you]?” And then will I profess unto them, “I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity”»- Matthew 7:22-23;

“BE YE THEREFORE MERCIFUL, AS YOUR FATHER ALSO IS MERCIFUL. JUDGE NOT, AND YE SHALL NOT BE JUDGED: CONDEMN NOT, AND YE SHALL NOT BE CONDEMNED: FORGIVE, AND YE SHALL BE FORGIVEN: GIVE, AND IT SHALL BE GIVEN UNTO YOU... For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again”- Luke 6:36-38

In short, regardless of Jesus alleged Divinity, God’s message to mankind is that if man repents from his sins and departs from evil [sowing the good that pleases the Creator and blesses his fellow human beings, as outlined by God’s ten commandments], then it makes little difference whether that man follows Islam, Christianity, Judaism, or Samaritanism, as he has thereby earned a share in everlasting life.

As is written: “The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: A BROKEN AND A CONTRITE HEART, O GOD, THOU WILT NOT DESPISE [DENYING IT FORGIVENESS]”- Psalm 51:17; “IF MY PEOPLE, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and TURN FROM THEIR WICKED WAYS; then will I HEAR FROM HEAVEN, AND WILL FORGIVE THEIR SIN, and will heal their land”- 2 Chronicles 7:14;

“He hath shewed thee, O man, WHAT IS GOOD; AND WHAT DOTTH THE LORD REQUIRE OF THEE, BUT TO DO JUSTLY, AND TO LOVE MERCY, AND TO WALK HUMBLLY WITH THY GOD?”- Micah 6:8; “... FEAR GOD, AND KEEP HIS [TEN] COMMANDMENTS: FOR THIS IS THE WHOLE DUTY OF MAN”- Ecclesiastes 12:13; “DEPART FROM EVIL, AND DO GOOD; AND DWELL FOR EVERMORE [IN LIFE EVERLASTING]”- Psalm 37:27.

May God’s peace and blessings be upon all who fear and glorify Him, regardless of their race or creed.

Is resurrection true? Can dead matter acquire life?

Is resurrection true? Can dead matter acquire life? Of course it can! And even modern science agree with this. You see, science claims [though unwillingly] that this “resurrection” process has already happened in the past, as life [supposedly] evolved from existing dead matter (water, oxygen, hydrogen, carbon, lightning, etc).

Not only that, but if what science claims ends up being true, then it means evolution is a forward process which not even death can stop. Thus, since Human evolution always move “forward” [into higher and more sophisticated forms of existence], it makes perfect sense to assume that, after we die, we will keep on evolving into higher [non-physical?] forms of existence.

But truth be told, we don’t really need science, in order to reach the same conclusion. Why? Cause Nature itself hints at the idea that we humans start our life experiencing one form of existence [within a host body], but then “move forward” and experience a different form of existence outside that host body.

In other words, we first experience one (liquid based) form of existence within our mother’s body, but then move forward, and experience a different (air based) form of existence, outside such body.

אני יהוה הוא שמי וכבודי לאחר לא אתן ותהלתי לפסילים

"Yo יהוה ; este es mi nombre (No Jesús, no Allah, no Aura Mazda); y a otro no daré mi gloria..."- Isaías 42:8

If they tell you... (How to proceed if you are told that God manifested Himself in a physical form)

-- If you are told the Creator manifested in a thorn bush, you should believe it. But, if you are told that a thorn bush is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told the Creator manifested in the Justice of the plagues that came upon Pharaoh [and the Egyptians], you should believe it. But, if you are told that Justice is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told the Creator manifested at a Mount (mount Sinai), you should believe it. But, if you are told that a Mount is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told that the Creator manifested Himself in thunder and lightning (during the giving of the Law), you should believe it. But, if you are told that thunder and lightning are the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told the Creator manifested in the cloud that hovered over Israel during their wandering in the wilderness, you should believe it. But, if you are told that a Cloud is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told the Creator manifested in fire (the column of fire that led Israel thru the wilderness during the night), you should believe it. But, if you are told that Fire is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told the Creator manifested in a fish (the fish that swallowed Jonah), you should believe it. But, if you are told that a Fish is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told that the Creator manifested in a bird (the birds that provided meat for Elijah), you should believe it. But, if you are told that a Bird (a dove, a sparrow, an eagle, etc) is the Creator, you should not believe it.

-- If you are told that the Creator manifested Himself in a man (Moses, whose face shone with the glory of the Almighty), go ahead and believe it. But, if you are told that a Man (Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, Sun Myung Moon, etc) is the Creator, do not believe it.

Is there life after death? How can we know it?

Every living human being is positive proof that there is such thing as “life after death”. Why? Simply because we are now alive [in other words, we currently exist]. But, before being alive, we didn't exist at all [and were therefore dead]. So, since we were first dead, and then we acquired life, it follows that dead things can indeed acquire life [meaning that death isn't necessarily the end of everything, as dead things can later become alive]. And modern science seems to agree with this viewpoint, as it claims that existing life originated from non-living (or “dead”) components like water, salt, oxygen, hydrogen, sunlight, carbon molecules, chemical compounds, heat, and lightning.

Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) was a powerful messenger of God, but claiming that he was God is a doctrine of demons and unclean spirits

Claiming that Jesus (peace and blessing be upon him) is "the Son of God" [and therefore equal to God], implies that [as it happens with all human beings], the Almighty once had the need to pee, and to defecate (as if His insides were full of stinky crap!).

And the latter is such a vile and blasphemous idea, that not only the demons but even the impure spirits would love us to believe it. In fact, the Gospel confirms that demons and impure spirits openly proclaim this blasphemous message, in the hopes that humans will accept it as “the way of salvation”. As it is written:

- 1) “AND THE SPIRITS, THE UNCLEAN ONES, as often as they might see Him, fell down before Him and KEPT SCREAMING OUT, YOU ARE THE SON OF GOD!” (Mark 3:11)
- 2) “there met Him out of the tombs A MAN [UNDER THE POWER] OF AN UNCLEAN SPIRIT... And when from a distance he saw Jesus, he ran and fell on his knees before Him in homage, And crying out with a loud voice, HE SAID, WHAT HAVE YOU TO DO WITH ME, JESUS, SON OF THE MOST HIGH GOD?” (Mark 5:2-7)
- 3) “AND DEMONS EVEN CAME OUT of many people, screaming and CRYING OUT, YOU ARE THE SON OF GOD! But He rebuked them and would not permit them to speak..” (Luke 4:41)
- 4) “Just at that time there was in their synagogue a man [who was in the power] of AN UNCLEAN SPIRIT; and now [immediately] HE RAISED A DEEP AND TERRIBLE CRY from the depths of his throat, SAYING, What have You to do with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have You come to destroy us? I KNOW WHO YOU ARE—THE HOLY ONE OF GOD!” (Mark 1:23-24)
- 5) “As we were on our way to the place of prayer, we were met by a slave girl who was possessed by a spirit of divination [claiming to foretell future events and to discover hidden knowledge], and she brought her owners much gain by her fortunetelling. She kept following Paul and [the rest of] us, shouting loudly, THESE MEN ARE THE SERVANTS OF THE MOST HIGH GOD! THEY ANNOUNCE TO YOU THE WAY OF SALVATION!” (Acts 16:16-17)

God makes no exception of persons

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that the God of Abraham makes no exception of persons (He does not arbitrarily favor one people over another), nor can He be bribed by anyone’s nationality. As is written: “For the LORD your God is God of gods... who makes no exception of persons, nor takes a bribe”- Deuteronomy 10:17.

Rather, God favors the good [no matter if he be Jew or Gentile], but is angry against the wicked [no matter if he be Jew or Gentile]. As is written: “Do good, O LORD, unto those that are good and to those that are upright in their hearts”- Psalm 125:4 (Jubilee Bible 2000). And also, “God is he who judges the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day”- Psalm 7:11 (Jubilee Bible 2000)

Was Jesus the Jewish Messiah? Was He the God of Israel?

The bible definition of a bastard wasn't meant to insult anyone. Rather, it had the intention of preventing the Hebrew believer from falling into the trap of worshipping men [like Hercules] who were [allegedly] the result of the union between a god and a human female.

These men were supposed to have both human and divine attributes, thereby presenting an unavoidable bait for the weak minded Hebrew believer.

In this sense, Jesus (peace and blessings be always upon him) could not have been the expected Jewish Messiah. Why? Simply because [unfortunately for him], not being the biological son of Joseph (his mother’s husband), God’s Law had no other option but to place him under the bastards heading.

And the Law didn’t allow any bastard to be counted as part of Israel’s congregation (let alone be considered Israel’s King, Messiah, or God). As it is written: “A bastard shall not enter into the congregation of יהוה” - Deut. 23: 2 (King James Bible).

And this in turn explains why the Gospel records no Israelite ever offering his daughter in marriage to Jesus; as that would have violated the command given by God on Deuteronomy 23: 2

Is there such a thing as a true atheist?

The Samaritan (Hebrew) definition of God is such that it makes the existence of true atheists practically impossible.

How can it be? Actually, It's quite simple: You see, from the very onset, Moses wanted to make sure that the Hebrew people had the right notion concerning God. Thus, he started the Holy Scriptures with the following verse: "In [the] beginning, God created the Heavens and the Earth"- Genesis 1:1. In the former verse, the word we translate as "God" is the Hebrew word "Elohim".

But, "Elohim", implies the notion of Power and Authority, so that "Elohim" can also be validly translated as "Power of Powers", "Supreme Power", "Supreme Authority", "Supreme Judge", "Judge of Judges", "Presiding Judge", etc. In fact, the Hebrew Bible uses the word "Elohim" when describing the Jewish supreme court judges while exerting their power [this supreme court was also known as "the great assembly", or "the Sanhedrin"].

As it is written: «GOD presides in the great assembly; He gives judgments among the GODS »- Psalm 82:1 (NIV Hebrew/English Bible). In the former verse, both the word translated as GOD, and the word translated as GODS (or "Judges"), is the Hebrew word "Elohim".

But, in order to make sure the Jewish people didn't mistakenly think of God as a Human power, our master Moses wrote the following: "GOD IS NOT A MAN, that he might lie, OR A SON OF MAN, that he might change his mind"- Numbers 23:19. By means of the former verse, Moses taught us that God isn't really a human being.

In other words, God isn't a "He" (or a "She"); God doesn't have any need; God doesn't have arbitrary desires; God isn't subject to anger, hate, or jealousy; God has no regrets, nor suffers from "power trips".

In short, unlike any human being, God isn't "and old man in the sky"; God isn't "a moral dictator", "a Tyrant", nor "a religious terrorist". God simply is "the Supreme Power"; the perfect infinite Power (or "potential") from which all other powers (life, death, purpose, time, space, matter, energy, dimensions, emotions, ideas, etc) and limitations arise.

And from whence do we know that God is indeed perfect? We know it from the verse that goes on to say: "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, HIS WORK IS PERFECT: for all his ways are Judgment: A GOD OF TRUTH, AND WITHOUT INIQUITY, JUST AND RIGHT IS HE"- Deut. 32:3-4.

From whence do we know that God is greater than the whole Universe (and all that the universe contains)? From the verse that says: "But will God in very truth dwell on the Earth? BEHOLD, HEAVEN, AND THE HEAVEN OF HEAVENS, CANNOT CONTAIN THEE..."- 1 Kings 8:27 (JPS Tanakh, 1917).

And from whence do we know that God is the power ruling [and placing limits] upon all other natural powers (life and death, day and night, the waves of the sea, the movement of the stars, wisdom, rain, procreation, etc)?

We get it from the passage that goes on to say: "Where were you when I established the Earth?... Who fixed its dimensions?... Who enclosed the sea behind doors... when I declared: "You may come this far, but no farther; your proud waves stop here"? Have you ever in your life commanded the morning or assigned the dawn its place...?

Have the gates of death been revealed to you?... Where is the road to the home of light? Do you know where darkness lives...? What road leads to the place where light is dispersed?... Who cuts a channel for the flooding rain or clears the way for lightning, to bring rain on an uninhabited land... and cause the grass to sprout?... Who [but Me] fathered the drops of dew...?

Who gave birth to the frost of heaven...? Can you fasten [like Me] the chains of the Pleiades, or loosen the belt of Orion? Can you bring out the constellations in their season, and lead the Bear [constellation] and her cubs? Do you know the laws of heaven? Can you impose its authority on earth?... Can you command the clouds...?

Can you send out lightning bolts, and they go?... Who put wisdom in the heart, or gave the mind understanding?... Who provides the raven's food?"- Job 38:4-41.

Therefore, if we stick to the Hebrew Bible definition of God, a person's god is whatever that person perceives as "the ultimate (or supreme) power"; in other words, the power by which he (or she) guides and shapes his own world.

For instance, if a person claims to be an atheist (not believing in the existence of any "Elohim", or any "Supreme Power"), but then goes on to guide his life as if money, sex, technology, and political correctness were the ultimate form of power, then (according to the Hebrew Bible) that person isn't really an atheist; he just [unknowingly] believes in a different "Elohim" (a different Supreme Power), as he has in effect replaced one "Supreme power" [the God of the Bible] by another "supreme power" [the god of money, sex, technology, and political correctness].

Curiously, the latter phenomenon attests to the fact that nature opposes the existence of any sort of vacuums. For example, nature will make sure that any "power" vacuum is eventually filled up (or replaced) by some form of power. We pray that the power that ends up governing your life, is as praise worthy and perfect as the Power taught by our master Moses in the Hebrew Bible.

As long as you acknowledge sin for what it really is, you remain a believer

The Scripture states that Naaman (a Syrian gentile) decided to serve the God of Israel. Yet Naaman knew that, in the future, he might [unwillingly] had to bow before idols.

As is written: "For from now on thy slave will offer neither burnt offering nor sacrifice unto other gods, but unto the LORD. In this thing may the LORD pardon thy slave, that when my master goes into the house of Rimmon to worship there, and he leans on my hand, if I also bow myself in the house of Rimmon, that the LORD pardon thy slave in this thing, if I bow down myself in the house of Rimmon"- 2 Kings 2:17-18 (Jubilee Bible 2000).

Still, we find that the answer given by God's prophet (Elisha) to Naaman was a reassuring one: "And he said unto him, Go in peace..."- 2 Kings 2:17-19 (Jubilee Bible 2000).

What does it mean? It means that, as long as a man feels ashamed of his wickedness, and acknowledges the sinful nature of his bad actions, he still abides in the light of true faith. But, as soon as he starts rationalizing his evil behavior, and even starts parading it, he no longer abides in light, but rather in darkness

El compromiso con las Diez Leyes Divinas

- 1) Me comprometo con creer en la Existencia y Soberanía de Adonai Yah (יהוה).
- 2) Me comprometo con no Adorar, No Orar, Ni tampoco Servir, a algo que tenga una imagen física; ni a dios alguno fuera de Adonai Yah
- 3) Me comprometo con no pronunciar vanamente el Nombre de Adonai Yah
- 4) Me comprometo con santificar el día de descanso (Shabbat)
- 5) Me comprometo con honrar y respetar a mis Padres físicos y espirituales
- 6) Me comprometo con no matar ni dañar al hombre o a la mujer inocente

- 7) Me comprometo con alejarme de todo aquello que pueda inducirme a la inmoralidad; a la Fornicación, al Adulterio, a la Homosexualidad, o al bestialismo
- 8) Me comprometo con no secuestrar el cuerpo ni la mente de aquel que es mas débil o ingenuo que yo
- 9) Me comprometo con no mentir, difamando a mis semejantes, jurando falsamente, o dañando a mi prójimo por medio de una falsa pieza de información
- 10) Me comprometo con no robar, ni intentar traer dentro de mi posesión, cualquier cosa que ya pertenezca lícitamente a alguna otra persona

Los Seis Pilares Del Samaritanismo Reformado

1. Un Supremo Dios, Rey, Y Salvador: "יהוה" ("Adonai Yah")
2. Un Supremo Profeta y Maestro- "Moshe Ravenu" (Moisés Nuestro Maestro)
3. Una Suprema Ley Y Pacto- Los Diez Mandamientos (o "dichos"), escritos por Adonai (no por el hombre) sobre "Las Dos Tablas de Piedra"
4. Una Suprema Escritura Sagrada- "La Torah" (Los Cinco Libros de Moisés)
5. Una Suprema Familia de Fe- "Los Hijos De Israel" (la familia universal de creyentes prefigurada en la Nación de Israel)
6. Una Suprema Teología- "Medida por Medida" (ley de Siembra y Cosecha); es decir, temer a Yah, quien un día habrá de juzgar a todos con justicia; devolviendo a cada uno el mismo bien (o mal) que durante su vida haya escogido libre y voluntariamente sembrar. Y, prepararnos para ese juicio, buscando a Yah en oración, con un corazón contrito y humillado; renunciando a toda especie de maldad; y comprometiéndonos con el bien encarnado en Sus Diez Mandamientos, según los exponen los estatutos, las ordenanzas, los Ritos, y las Alegorías de la Ley de Moisés

Las Verdades Eternas Del Samaritanismo Reformado

- 1) Hay un solo Dios: יהוה (Adonai Yah), el Dios de Avraham, así como de toda la casa de Israel. Este Dios siempre perdona las faltas del hombre que se arrepiente de corazón, sin importar si ese hombre es Hebreo, Cristiano, o Musulmán.
- 2) Hay una sola fe: renunciar a nuestro orgullo, reconociendo nuestros pecados, y comprometiéndonos con hacer el bien ordenado en los diez mandamientos de la Ley de Moisés (cuya finalidad no es otra que amar a יהוה, amando a aquellos que han sido creados a su imagen y semejanza; es decir, haciendo a los hombres el mismo bien que deseáramos para nosotros mismos).
- 3) Aunque יהוה nos ha concedido libre albedrío, no podremos evitar cosechar el mismo bien o mal que, durante nuestras vidas, hayamos voluntariamente sembrado [sin nunca habernos arrepentido]
- 4) Todo lo que promueve la obediencia a lo ordenado en las dos Tablas de Piedra (la justicia, la misericordia, la humildad, la verdad, la paz, el respeto, la nobleza, la fe, la esperanza, y el amor a Dios y al prójimo), proviene de יהוה; sin importar si se alega haber sido dicho o escrito por Moisés, por Jesus, por Muhammad, o por el Dalai Lama (paz y bendición sea con todos ellos). Y, todo lo que promueve la rebeldía contra lo ordenado en esas Tablas de Piedra, no proviene de יהוה, sin importar si se alega haber sido dicho o escrito por Moisés, por Jesus, por Muhammad, o por el Dalai Lama
- 5) Si Dios nos exhorta a hacer el bien encarnado en las dos Tablas de Piedra, no es porque necesite nuestra fe, nuestra pleitesía, nuestro amor, o nuestra sumisión. Es porque nos ama; y, como todo buen Padre, quiere librarnos del inevitable dolor que, eventualmente, sufriremos como resultado de haber escogido el camino de la maldad
- 6) Desde una perspectiva, todas las tradiciones religiosas (Judaísmo, Islam, Cristianismo, Budismo, etc) son verdaderas; cuando las utilizamos como justificación para hacer el bien encarnado en los diez mandamientos. Y, desde otra perspectiva, todas ellas son falsas; cuando las utilizamos como justificación para hacer el mal prohibido por esos mismos mandamientos.
- 7) Adonai Yah es el Infinito [el "Todo Supremo"], que contiene dentro de sí mismo todas las cosas. Y, siendo el Infinito que todo lo abarca, Adonai no está contenido dentro de nada (ni de nadie) fuera de sí mismo.

Así, siendo que todas las cosas están "dentro" de Adonai (el tiempo, el espacio, la materia, la energía, las dimensiones, las leyes de Física, los universos, la existencia, la justicia, la misericordia, la humildad, las emociones, las ideas, la sabiduría, la ética, la moral, el mundo presente, el mundo futuro, el alma de cada ser, etc), podemos apropiadamente decir que Adonai Yah es el principio, el medio, y el final de todas las cosas; y que no hay perfección alguna que el Creador no exceda.

El Evangelio presenta a Yeshua (Jesús de Nazaret, paz sea con él) pecando, al levantar un falso testimonio; y por tanto Yeshua no pudo haber sido el Mesías que los Cristianos alegan

Yeshua (Jesús de Nazaret, paz sea con él) no pudo literalmente haber sido el Mesías que los Nazarenos alegan fue prometido por los profetas de Israel. ¿Por que? Pues porque, si tal Mesías hubiese sido en efecto una sola persona, tendría que haber sido una en cuya boca no hubiese habido engaño; como esta escrito:

“Y se dispuso con los impíos su sepultura, mas con los ricos fue en su muerte; aunque NUNCA HIZO MALDAD, NI HUBO ENGAÑO EN SU BOCA”- Isaías 53:9. Pero los evangelios Cristianos atestiguan que Yeshua en efecto tuvo engaño en su boca; pues le citan mintiendo en repetidas ocasiones:

1) Jesús mintió, pues dijo que era imposible que un profeta muriese fuera de Jerusalén (“porque NO ES POSIBLE QUE UN PROFETA MUERA FUERA DE JERUSALÉN”- Lucas 13:33). Es que, Abraham, era profeta (“Ahora, pues, devuelve la mujer a [Abraham] su marido; porque es profeta”- Génesis 20:7), pero murió fuera de Jerusalén (“Y MURIÓ ABRAHAM en buena vejez... Y LO SEPULTARON ISAAC E ISMAEL SUS HIJOS EN LA CUEVA DE MACPELA”- Génesis 25:8-9). De igual modo, Moisés era también profeta (“Y nunca más se levantó PROFETA en Israel COMO MOISÉS”- Deut. 34:10), pero murió fuera de Jerusalén (“Y MURIÓ ALLÍ MOISÉS SIERVO DE יהוה , EN LA TIERRA DE MOAB”- Deut. 34:5)

2) Jesús mintió, pues dijo que no había verdad en Satanás y sus demonios (“EL [SATANÁS] HA SIDO HOMICIDA desde el principio, y no ha permanecido en la verdad, PORQUE NO HAY VERDAD EN ÉL”- Juan 8:44). Es que, si los demonios nunca dicen la verdad, entonces los demonios mienten, cuando dicen que Jesús es el hijo de Dios (“También SALÍAN DEMONIOS de muchos, DANDO VOCES Y DICIENDO: TÚ [JESUS] ERES EL HIJO DE DIOS”- Lucas 4:41)

3) Jesús mintió, pues dijo que volvería antes de que sus discípulos acabasen de recorrer todas las ciudades de Israel (“porque de cierto os digo, que NO ACABARÉIS DE RECORRER TODAS LAS CIUDADES DE ISRAEL, ANTES QUE VENGA EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE”- Mateo 10:23). Y, ya que todos sus discípulos murieron, sin que el Hijo del hombre haya venido, concluimos que su promesa fue fraudulenta.

4) Jesús mintió, pues dijo que volvería en breve (“El que da testimonio de estas cosas dice: CIERTAMENTE VENGO EN BREVE”- Apocalipsis 22:20) Y, como ningún hombre racional de su época, habría considerado como “breve” los 2,000 años que han transcurrido sin que Jesús acabe de “volver”, pues el reclamo de que habría de venir “en breve” es sencillamente falso.

5) Jesús mintió, pues se jactó de tener el poder para hacer que el apóstol Juan no muriese, sino que permaneciese vivo hasta su retorno (“Volviéndose Pedro, vio que les seguía [Juan] el discípulo a quien amaba Jesús... Cuando Pedro le vio, dijo a Jesús: Señor, ¿y qué de éste? Jesús le dijo: SI QUIERO QUE ÉL QUEDE HASTA QUE YO VENGA, ¿QUÉ A TI? Sígueme tú”- Juan 21:20-22). Y esto era falsa jactancia, pues Juan no solamente murió, sino que, el mismo Evangelio, desmiente el alegato (“Este dicho se extendió entonces entre los hermanos, que aquel discípulo no moriría. Pero JESÚS NO LE DIJO QUE NO MORIRÍA, SINO: SI QUIERO QUE ÉL QUEDE HASTA QUE YO VENGA, ¿QUÉ A TI?”- Juan 21:23)

6) Jesús mintió, pues discriminó contra los gentiles, diciendo que solo había sido enviado a las ovejas perdidas de la casa de Israel (“NO SOY ENVIADO SINO A LAS OVEJAS PERDIDAS DE LA CASA DE ISRAEL”- Mateo 15:24; “POR CAMINO DE GENTILES NO VAYÁIS, Y EN CIUDAD DE SAMARITANOS NO ENTRÉIS...”- Mateo 10:5-6.

Pero los mismos escritos cristianos admiten que, el anterior reclamo, es falso, pues citan tanto al apóstol Pedro, como los apóstoles Pablo y Santiago, afirmando que Dios no hace acepción de personas (“Entonces Pedro, abriendo su boca, dijo: Por verdad hallo que DIOS NO HACE ACEPCIÓN DE PERSONAS”- Hechos 10:34; “Porque NO HAY ACEPCIÓN DE PERSONAS PARA CON DIOS”- Romanos 2:11; “Mas SI HACÉIS ACEPCIÓN DE PERSONAS, COMETÉIS PECADO, Y SOIS RECONVENIDOS DE LA LEY”- Santiago 2:9)

7) Jesús mintió, pues dijo que estaría tres días y tres noches en “el corazón de la Tierra” [o “en la tumba”], como esta escrito: “Porque como estuvo Jonás en el vientre de la ballena tres días y tres noches, ASÍ ESTARÁ EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE EN EL CORAZÓN DE LA TIERRA TRES DÍAS Y TRES NOCHES”- Mateo 12:40.

Y esto último es falso, pues el mismo evangelio afirma que Jesús murió el viernes en la tarde (“era día de la preparación, y ESTABA POR COMENZAR EL DÍA DE REPOSO [es decir, el Sábado Judío, que comienza a las 6:00 pm del Viernes]”- Lucas 23:54), y alegadamente resucita al amanecer del próximo Domingo (“EL PRIMER DÍA DE LA SEMANA [ES DECIR, EL DOMINGO, QUE ES EL PRIMER DÍA DE LA SEMANA JUDÍA], MARÍA MAGDALENA FUE DE MAÑANA, SIENDO AUN OSCURO, AL SEPULCRO; Y VIO QUITADA LA PIEDRA DEL SEPULCRO [señalando de este modo que el Nazareno ya había salido del corazón de la tierra]”- Juan 20:1). Y, como solamente hay dos noches [y no tres] entre la tarde del Viernes, y la mañana del Domingo, concluimos que Jesús en efecto mintió, cuando dijo que estaría tres noches en el corazón de la Tierra.

8) Yeshua mintió, cuando dijo que la Ley ordenaba al Judío aborrecer a su enemigo (“OÍSTEIS QUE FUE DICHO: AMARÁS A TU PRÓJIMO, Y ABORRECERÁS A TU ENEMIGO”- Mateo 5:43). ¿Y por que es falsa esta aseveración? Pues porque, en toda la Ley, no hay un solo texto que diga literalmente eso. De hecho, la Ley dice lo contrario; cuando ordena que mostremos bondad hacia el enemigo, como esta escrito- “SI ENCONTRARES EL BUEY DE TU ENEMIGO O SU ASNO EXTRAVIADO, VUELVE A LLEVÁRSELO. SI VIERES EL ASNO DEL QUE TE ABORRECE CAÍDO DEBAJO DE SU CARGA, ¿LE DEJARÁS SIN AYUDA? ANTES BIEN LE AYUDARÁS A LEVANTARLO”- Éxodo 23:4-5. 9) Jesús mintió, cuando dijo que, la gente que pide señal, encarna una generación mala y adúltera (“El [Jesús] respondió y les dijo: LA GENERACIÓN MALA Y ADÚLTERA DEMANDA SEÑAL”- Mateo 12:39).

Y esto último es completamente falso, pues los grandes siervos de Dios [Abraham, Moisés, Gedeón, Ezequías, etc] a menudo pidieron señales. De hecho, en algunos casos, el mismo Creador les alentó a que pidieran una señal (“PIDE PARA TI SEÑAL DE יהוה TU DIOS, demandándola ya sea de abajo en lo profundo, o de arriba en lo alto”- Isaías 7:11).

En otros casos, el Creador ni siquiera esperó a que se le pidiese una señal, sino que se adelantó a ofrecerla (“Y ESTO TE SERÁ POR SEÑAL DE QUE YO TE HE ENVIADO: cuando [tú, Moisés] hayas sacado de Egipto al pueblo, serviréis a Dios sobre este monte”- Éxodo 3:12).

De hecho, Dios no solamente permite que su Pueblo pida una señal, sino que espera que no crea en la primera ni en la segunda señal (“Y SI AÚN NO CREYEREN A ESTAS DOS SEÑALES, NI OYEREN TU VOZ, TOMARÁS DE LAS AGUAS DEL RÍO Y LAS DERRAMARÁS EN TIERRA; y se cambiarán aquellas aguas que tomarás del río y se harán sangre en la tierra”- Éxodo 4:9).

La historia del rey Ezequías, quizás sea la que mejor ilustre la falsedad que implica alegar que, solo la gente mala y adúltera, pide señal de un profeta. Es que, aunque el mismo Creador da testimonio de que David era “padre” de Ezequías (es decir que, al igual que David, Ezequías contaba con el favor Divino), cuando Isaías informa a Ezequías que sanará de su enfermedad, este último procede a pedir a una señal del profeta, la cual el último no vacila en proveer.

Como esta escrito: “Así dice יהוה, el Dios de DAVID TU PADRE: Yo he oído tu oración, y he visto tus lágrimas”- 2 Reyes 20:5; “Y Ezequías había dicho a Isaías: ¿QUÉ SEÑAL TENDRÉ DE QUE יהוה ME SANARÁ, y que subiré a la casa de יהוה al tercer día?”- 2 Reyes 20:8; “Respondió Isaías: ESTA SEÑAL TENDRÁS DE יהוה, DE QUE HARÁ יהוה ESTO QUE HA DICHO: ¿Avanzará la sombra diez grados, o retrocederá diez grados?

Y Ezequías respondió: Fácil cosa es que la sombra decline diez grados; pero no que la sombra vuelva atrás diez grados. ENTONCES EL PROFETA ISAÍAS CLAMÓ A יהוה; E HIZO VOLVER LA SOMBRA POR LOS GRADOS QUE HABÍA DESCENDIDO en el reloj de Acaz, diez grados atrás”- 2 Reyes 20:9-11.

En conclusión, Yeshua (Jesús de Nazaret, paz sea con él) no pudo haber sido el Mesías descrito por el profeta Isaías como “no teniendo engaño en su boca”. ¿Por que? Pues porque, los escritos Nazarenos, ponen en boca de Yeshua engaños que son demasiado grandes (y demasiado graves) como para que podamos pasarlos por alto.

“The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him...”

(Revelation 1:1, King James Bible)

How can the resurrected Jesus be God, and at the same time receive “a revelation from God?” Is the Christian God schizophrenic? Or is it rather that He suffers from multiple personalities disorder?

¿Es la teología cristiana el producto de la iniquidad?

La Escritura Hebrea afirma que los días del hombre son 70 años. Y, como máximo, son 80 años. Como esta escrito: «LOS DÍAS DE NUESTRA EDAD SON SETENTA AÑOS...» (Salmo 90:10). Pero La Escritura también afirma que los inicuos adulan y engañan a las masas, violando el pacto de Dios, y rehusando guardar los Diez mandamientos de la Ley Divina. De hecho, La Escritura Hebrea advierte que estos inicuos no llegaran a la mitad de sus días (es decir, no llegaran a cumplir los 40 años de edad).

En adición, nos dice que los inicuos serán forzados a descender al Hades (es decir, al pozo de la destrucción), como esta escrito:

«EXTENDIÓ EL INICUO SUS MANOS... VIOLÓ SU PACTO. LOS DICHOS DE SU BOCA SON MÁS BLANDOS QUE MANTEQUILLA, PERO GUERRA HAY EN SU CORAZÓN; suaviza sus palabras más que el aceite, mas ellas son espadas desnudas... MAS TÚ, OH DIOS, HARÁS DESCENDER AQUÉLLOS [INICUOS] AL POZO DE PERDICIÓN. LOS HOMBRES sanguinarios y ENGAÑADORES, NO LLEGARÁN A LA MITAD DE SUS DÍAS...» (Salmo 55:20-23)

¿Son verdaderas las enseñanzas que a Jesús (paz sea con el) atribuyen los Escritos Cristianos? ¿O son el producto del engaño y la iniquidad de sus autores ? ¿Y como saberlo? ¡Pues muy sencillo! vera, el Salmo 55 advierte que, si las enseñanzas eran el producto de la adulación y el engaño, tenían que presentar a Jesús incitando a su audiencia a violar “SU PACTO” (el pacto de la Ley de Dios).

En adición, tenían que presentarle trayendo GUERRA; tenían que presentarle MURIENDO ANTES DE LOS 40 AÑOS; y, finalmente, tenían que presentar al Nazareno DESCENDIENDO AL HADES. Según los escritos cristianos, ¿a que nos incita Jesús? ¿A guardar el pacto de la Ley? ¿O a rebelarnos contra ella?- «La Ley y los profetas eran hasta Juan...[en otras palabras, ¡pueden olvidarse de ella!]

(Lucas 16:16).

¿Que dicen los Escritos cristianos que trajeron las blandas y suaves palabras adscritas al Galileo?

¿Trajeron Paz? ¿O trajeron en cambio Guerra?- «¿Pensáis que he venido para dar Paz en la tierra? Os digo: No, sino disensión (¡Guerra!). Porque de aquí en adelante, cinco en una familia estarán divididos, tres contra dos, y dos contra tres» (Lucas 12:51-52).

¿A que edad dice el Evangelio que Murió Jesús? ¿Antes de los 40? ¿O después de los 40? La respuesta a esta ultima pregunta es que, aunque los escritos cristianos no lo indican explícitamente, se puede inferir que tenia unos 33 años de edad. ¿De donde lo inferimos? Pues combinando el hecho de que Jesús comenzó su ministerio a los 30 años de edad (Lucas 3:23), con el hecho de que, el numero de fiestas en las cuales participo [según mencionadas en los evangelios], intiman que su ministerio duro cerca de 3 años y medio.

Finalmente, confirman los escritos cristianos que Jesús hubiese descendido al pozo de destrucción (Hades)?- «Varones hermanos, se os puede decir libremente DEL PATRIARCA DAVID, que murió y fue sepultado, y su sepulcro está con nosotros hasta el día de hoy.

Pero siendo profeta, y SABIENDO QUE con juramento DIOS le había jurado que de su descendencia, en cuanto a la carne, LEVANTARÍA AL CRISTO para que se sentase en su trono, viéndolo antes, HABLÓ DE LA RESURRECCIÓN DE CRISTO, QUE SU ALMA NO FUE DEJADA EN EL HADES (es decir, que Jesús fue en efecto forzado a descender al Hades, solo que no fue dejado allí permanentemente)» (Hechos 2:29-31).

Así, tanto la Escritura Hebrea, como los Escritos cristianos, son contundentes en demostrar la naturaleza oculta de los dichos y las enseñadas que los autores evangélicos atribuyen al Maestro de Galilea (paz y bendición sean con el).

Las primeras palabras de Moisés

«¿Cual es la razón para que, las primeras palabras adscritas por la Torah (es decir, la Ley Divina) a nuestro maestro Moisés (paz y bendición sean con él), hayan sido las siguientes: “¿Por qué golpeas a tu prójimo?” (Éxodo 2:13)? Pues la razón es mostranos que, el propósito de la Ley Divina, es que los hombres vivan en paz y armonía con su prójimo.

¿Y por que fue la Ley revelada en un monte llamado “Sinaí”? Pues porque, la palabra Hebrea “Sinaí”, tiene la misma raíz etimológica que la palabra Hebrea “Sinah” (o “Sinat”). ¿Y que significas “Sinat”? Pues significa “Odio” [como intimando que, “la cúspide del mensaje Mosaico”, es que los hombres dejen de odiarse los unos a los otros].

Y es por todo esto que hace perfecto sentido el que nuestra tradición resuma la religión Hebrea diciendo así: «La fe revelada a Israel por “Elohim” (el Poder Supremo que dicta y preserva las leyes que rigen nuestro particular Universo), consiste en no hacer a los otros seres humanos aquella injusticia que odiaríamos que se nos hiciese a nosotros mismos» ¿Que Jesús es Dios? ¡Pero si el mismo Jesús lo desmiente!

Jesús no era Dios, y el mismo Jesús así lo reconoce cuando rehúsa que le llamen “bueno”. Como esta escrito: "¿Por qué me llamas bueno? Ninguno hay bueno sino uno: Dios"- Mateo 19:17. Y el que Jesús no fuese Dios, también explica el que el Nuevo Testamento reconozca que Jesús tuvo que “aprender obediencia” [algo que el perfecto Dios no necesita aprender].

Como esta escrito: “Y aunque era Hijo, por lo que padeció aprendió la obediencia”- Hechos 5:8. Finalmente, Jesús reconoce que, al igual que cualquier otro creyente, tiene el deber de adorar y servir al Dios de Israel. Como esta escrito: “Vete de mí, Satanás, porque escrito está: Al Señor tu Dios adorarás, y a él solo servirás”- Lucas 4:8. Y, “... mas ve a mis hermanos, y diles: Subo a mi Padre y a vuestro Padre, a mi Dios y a vuestro Dios”- Juan 20:17

Could it be true that Christian Theology is a Demon's Doctrine (one that encourages men to behave like demons, rebelling against the Word of God)?

Christianity is a perfectly valid way to serve the Creator. But we have to wonder if a man can be “saved”, while embracing the same doctrine embraced by devils and unclean spirits. Didn't Jesus (peace be upon him) himself say that there's no truth in the devil?

As is written: “He (THE DEVIL) was a murderer from the beginning, and standeth not in the truth, because THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for HE IS A LIAR, AND THE FATHER THEREOF” (John 8:44). Consider the following example: God's truth (as revealed in the Hebrew Scripture) is that Israel is His Son; in fact, His Firstborn Son.

As it is written, “Thus saith Yah, ISRAEL IS MY SON, MY FIRST-BORN”- Exodus 4:22. But, being a compulsive liars, we would expect the devil to say something else. Wouldn't we? Who would the demons say is the Son of God really is? - “And the unclean spirits (demons), whensoever they beheld him (Jesus), fell down before him, and cried, saying, THOU (JESUS) ART THE SON OF GOD”- Mark 3:11.

And also says in another place, “And demons also came out from many, crying out, and saying, THOU (JESUS) ART THE SON OF GOD”- Luke 4:41.

Consider another example: the Creator states that he who refuses to obey His commandments, will be accursed, and his soul will pine away (be lost), as it is written: “But IF YE WILL NOT hearken unto me, and will not DO ALL THESE COMMANDMENTS... but break my covenant; I also will do this unto you: I WILL APPOINT TERROR OVER YOU... THAT SHALL CONSUME THE EYES, AND MAKE THE SOUL TO PINE AWAY” - Lev. 26:14-16.

Again, what falsehood could we expect a demon to say concerning this truth? What would an unclean spirit say about obeying God's commandments? Of course, we would expect him to say the complete opposite. And what would an unclean spirit say concerning Paul's preaching of salvation only "by faith in Jesus" [without the need to obey God's commandments]? Of course, he would endorse it. As is written: "And it came to pass, as we (Paul and Silas) were going to the place of prayer, that A CERTAIN MAID HAVING A SPIRIT OF DIVINATION met us... (and) CRIED OUT, SAYING, THESE MEN ARE SERVANTS OF THE MOST HIGH GOD, WHO PROCLAIM UNTO YOU THE WAY OF SALVATION (Salvation by Grace, without the need to obey the commandments)"- Acts 16:16-17.

Thus, Christian writings bear witness to the fact that, calling Jesus (peace be upon him) "the Son of God", and believing salvation can be achieved only "by Grace" (without the need to obey God's commandments) are two lies Satan (may the Lord rebuke him) would love us to embrace, as they would place us on the devil's side of "the narrative"- in other words, directly opposing the explicit word of God!

But, as a believer, you might argue that your Christian theology is indeed correct, and that, by following your theology, God has [in the past] answered your prayers.

Well, when you say that God is real, you are indeed telling the truth. And yes, it is true that God answers the prayers of those who call upon him with a sincere and broken heart; but that would be true, no matter if the person is a Jew, a Samaritan, a Muslim, or a Christian.

As it is written: "a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise..."- Psalm 51:17 (notice that the verse doesn't demand you to have a specific religion, but rather a broken heart).

But the fact that God has answered your prayers, doesn't negate the fact that, according to the Christian bible, Demons do agree with many aspects of Christian theology; something nowhere to be found in the five books of God's Law. Thus, our humble advice to you is that, if you are going to fail, make sure you fail "on the safe side".

You see, God encourages us to put our trust in Him, not in the Devil ("O Lord my God, in thee do I put my trust" - Psalm 7:1). In other words, God never intended you to put any trust in anything demons [or lying men] have to say about the Creator. Keep in mind that the Hebrew name "Ha Satan" means "The One Opposing". Therefore, Satan would not be Satan (The One Opposing) if he were to agree with anything said in the word of God.

On the other hand, Hebrew believers know for a fact that God spoke to Moses (Peace and blessings be upon him); and Moses wrote down the prophecy he received from God. And likewise happened with David, Micah, Isaiah, and the rest of the prophets.

But, as for Jesus (peace and blessing be upon Him), he didn't personally write his message, and thus the Christian Bible ended up being composed many years after the facts, sometimes by third party persons, some of whom never walked with Jesus, never saw him, never heard his voice, nor even belonged to the Hebrew nation.

Thus, we will never be able to trust the Gospel narrative as much as we can trust the Torah narrative. But you may argue that the Gospel mentions Jesus and his disciples performing many miracles; well, keep in mind that Pharaoh's magicians also performed many miracles! Perhaps you will claim the apostle John uttered end of days prophecy; but so did wicked Balaam!

No dear friend, the truth of the matter is that the road to life everlasting is not to be found in believing Jesus (peace be upon him) is the Messiah, nor is to be found in casting out demons, nor performing miracles.

In fact, even Jesus is quoted saying, "Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I NEVER KNEW YOU: DEPART FROM ME, YE THAT WORK INIQUITY”- Matthew 7:22-23.

Life everlasting, is to be found instead in “yielding good fruit”: in other words, in sowing into our fellow human beings, the good ordained by God’s [Ten] commandments (“FEAR GOD, AND KEEP HIS [TEN] COMMANDMENTS: FOR THIS IS THE WHOLE DUTY OF MAN. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil” - Ecclesiastes 12:13-14).

The former, is the reason why even Jesus is quoted saying: “but IF THOU WILT ENTER INTO [EVERLASTING] LIFE, KEEP THE [TEN] COMMANDMENTS... THOU SHALT DO NO MURDER, THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY, THOU SHALT NOT STEAL, THOU SHALT NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS, HONOUR THY FATHER AND THY MOTHER: AND, THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOUR AS THYSELF”- Matthew 19:17-19.

Gods’ explicit will for mankind, is that we treat one another with justice, that we show mercy to those who suffer, and that we walk [in this world] with a humble spirit [renouncing to all sort of pride, and arrogance].

As it is written: “HAPPY IS HE WHO HATH CONCERN FOR THE POOR AND THE NEEDY; THE LORD SHALL SAVE HIM ON THE EVIL DAY (AND NO DAY IS MORE EVIL THAN THE DAY OF JUDGMENT!); the Lord shall rescue him in his time of trouble”- Psalm 41:1, Wycliffe Bible ; “He [God] hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and WHAT DOTTH THE LORD REQUIRE OF THEE, BUT TO DO JUSTLY, AND TO LOVE MERCY, AND TO WALK HUMBLY WITH THY GOD?”- Micah 6:8.

In short, according to the Hebrew Scripture, salvation can be summarized with this simple statement: “Turn thou away from evil, and do good (obey God's commandments); and thou shalt live forever” (Psalm 37:27, Wycliffe Bible).

But of course, if Jesus (peace be upon him) was indeed a Hebrew believer, he would have affirmed this Hebrew concept of Salvation (to depart from evil, doing instead good to our fellow human beings). Did he? Of course he did! That’s why he is quoted saying the following: “THEREFORE, ALL THINGS WHATSOEVER YE WOULD THAT MEN SHOULD DO TO YOU, DO YE EVEN SO TO THEM: FOR THIS IS THE LAW AND THE PROPHETS”- Matthew 7:12.

DOES THE FORMER MEANS CHRISTIANITY IS A TOTALLY FALSE RELIGION? OF COURSE NOT! It only means Christian theology is gravely mistaken; since, by placing God's commandments on “the back burner”, Christianity opens the door for open rebellion, as would be the case with any Christian believer who thinks he can stand with the wicked (those openly practicing usury, fornication, homosexuality, etc), and still be “saved by Grace”.

The fact is that, by so doing, the former believer makes good upon himself the scripture that goes on to say: “They that forsake the Law praise the wicked”- Proverbs 28:4, KJV; And, “He that turneth away his ear from hearing the Law, even his prayer shall be abomination”- Proverbs 28:9, KJV; And finally says, “That this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the Law of the Lord”- Isaiah 30:9, KJV.

Again, in spite of what has been said, the Christian call to sincere repentance is indeed true (as is also the case with the Muslim call to repentance), and can therefore lead those who sincerely repent, and turn away from evil, into “Olam Ha-ba” (life everlasting), as confirmed by the verse already quoted: “Turn thou away from evil, and do good (obey God's commandments); and thou shalt live forever” (Psalm 37:27, Wycliffe Bible).

La salvación por fe en la deidad y el sacrificio de Yeshua, es el grave extravío de la noble fe Nazarena (Cristiana)

La noble fe Nazarena (es decir, el Cristianismo) se equivoca gravemente, cuando pone su confianza en que Yeshua (Jesús de Nazaret, paz sea con él) es el Santo Dios de Israel.

¿Y como sabemos que Yeshua no es el Santo de Israel? Pues lo deducimos del hecho de que, el santo Evangelio, muestra a Yeshua oponiéndose a todas y cada una de las cosas que dichas por Dios en la Ley (¡pretendiendo así hacer un mentiroso del Dios de Israel!).

Y, la frase que utiliza la Ley para describir a todo aquel que se opone a la dicho por el Creador (un Dios que nunca miente ni cambia), no es otra sino “Ha Satan”, un término Hebreo que traducimos al Castellano como “El Satanás”.

Por ejemplo, si יהוה (el Santo de Israel, bendito sea) dice que la Ley le pertenece a Él (“... Para que LA LEY DE יהוה esté en tu boca”- Éxodo 13:9), entonces viene Yeshua y se le opone, diciendo en cambio que la Ley no le pertenece al Santo de Israel, sino a los perversos Judíos (... En VUESTRA LEY está escrito que el testimonio de dos hombres es verdadero”- Juan 8:17).

Si el Creador afirma que la Pascua es una fiesta del Santo de Israel (“... y lo comeréis apresuradamente; es la Pascua de יהוה ”- Éxodo 12:11), entonces viene Yeshua y se le opone, diciendo en cambio que la Pascua es una fiesta de los impíos Judíos (“Y estaba cerca LA PASCUA, LA FIESTA DE LOS JUDÍOS”- Juan 6:4).

Si el Creador afirma que debemos juzgar con justicia (“... JUZGAD JUSTAMENTE ENTRE EL HOMBRE Y SU HERMANO...”- Deut. 1:16); entonces viene Yeshua y afirma lo contrario; diciendo en cambio que no debemos juzgar a nadie (“NO JUZGUÉIS, Y NO SERÉIS JUZGADOS...”- Lucas 6:37).

Si el Creador afirma que debemos jurar por su nombre (“A יהוה TU DIOS TEMERÁS, y a Él solo servirás, Y POR SU NOMBRE JURARÁS...”- Deut. 6:13), entonces viene Yeshua y afirma lo contrario, diciendo en cambio que no debemos jurar por el nombre de Dios (“PERO YO OS DIGO: NO JURÉIS EN NINGUNA MANERA...”- Mateo 5:34)

Si el Creador afirma ser una unidad perfecta, que no admite la existencia de otro dios con Él (“Ved ahora que yo, yo soy, y NO HAY DIOSES CONMIGO”- Deut. 32:39); entonces viene Yeshua y afirma lo contrario, diciendo en cambio que él y Dios son una unicidad plural (“YO Y EL PADRE UNO SOMOS”- Juan 10:30)

Si el Dios de Israel afirma en su Ley que el hombre debe guardar la Ley para siempre y eternamente (“GUARDARÉ TU LEY SIEMPRE, PARA SIEMPRE Y ETERNAMENTE”- Salmo 119:44), entonces viene Yeshua y afirma lo contrario, diciendo en cambio que la Ley y los profetas no eran para siempre, sino solo hasta Juan (“LA LEY Y LOS PROFETAS ERAN HASTA JUAN...”- Lucas 16:16)

Si el Dios de Israel afirma que no es su deseo que comamos carne con su sangre (“PERO CARNE CON SU VIDA, QUE ES SU SANGRE, NO COMERÉIS...”- Génesis 9:4), entonces viene Yeshua y afirma lo contrario, diciendo en cambio que es su deseo que comamos su carne y su sangre (“SI NO COMÉIS LA CARNE DEL HIJO DEL HOMBRE, Y BEBÉIS SU SANGRE, NO TENÉIS VIDA EN VOSOTROS”- Juan 6:53)

Si el Dios de Israel afirma que no hay hombre que haga solamente el bien, sin nunca pecar (“CIERTAMENTE NO HAY HOMBRE JUSTO EN LA TIERRA, QUE HAGA EL BIEN Y NUNCA PEQUE”- Eclesiastés 7:20), entonces viene el hombre llamado Yeshua, y afirma lo contrario, diciendo en cambio que él si esta esta libre de pecados (“¿QUIÉN DE VOSOTROS ME REDARGUYE DE PECADO?”- Juan 8:46).

Si el Dios de Israel afirma que no hay salvación en el hijo del hombre (“NO CONFIÉIS... EN HIJO DE HOMBRE, PORQUE NO HAY EN ÉL SALVACIÓN”- Salmo 146:3), entonces viene Yeshua y afirma lo contrario, diciendo en cambio que sí hay salvación en el hijo del hombre (“PORQUE EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE VINO... A SALVAR LO QUE SE HABÍA PERDIDO”- Lucas 19:10)

Si el Dios de Israel afirma que nadie puede morir por el pecado ajeno (“Los padres no morirán por los hijos, ni los hijos por los padres; CADA UNO MORIRÁ POR SU [PROPIO] PECADO”- Deut. 24:16); entonces viene Yeshua y afirma lo contrario, diciendo en cambio que ha de morir por el pecado del Mundo (“... Y EL PAN QUE YO DARÉ ES MI CARNE, LA CUAL YO DARÉ POR LA VIDA DEL MUNDO”- Juan 6:51).

Finalmente, Si el Dios de Israel afirma que los Israelitas son hijos de Dios (“...VOSOTROS SOIS DIOSES, Y TODOS VOSOTROS HIJOS DEL ALTÍSIMO...”- Salmo 82:6), entonces viene Yeshua y afirma lo contrario, diciendo en cambio que los Israelitas son Hijos del Diablo (“VOSOTROS SOIS DE VUESTRO PADRE EL DIABLO...”- Juan 8:44).

En resumen, aunque la noble teología Nazarena es coherente con el mensaje esbozado tanto por Yeshua como por sus apóstoles, su teología es ajena [y antagónica] a todas y cada una de las verdades reveladas por Dios a Israel [en el texto de la Ley].

Y, ya que tenemos certeza absoluta de que la Ley es Divinamente inspirada [pues fue revelada públicamente en el Sinaí, ante la atónita mirada de casi tres millones de Israelitas que hicieron las veces de testigos], no queda al creyente Hebreo otra opción fuera de rechazar todo mensaje que niegue, contradiga o menoscabe el mensaje de la Ley Divina. ¡Que el Creador bendiga e ilumine a nuestros amados hermanos Cristianos!

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

Why do rich, healthy and powerful people are fond of denying God's existence?

Often, when people insist on denying God's existence, they don't do it because they harbor any serious intellectual doubts. Rather, they do it because God's reality would hinder their secret longing for power and control. You see, we humans have this foolish obsession with becoming "god like" figures. We lust to become so smart, so powerful, so independent, so admired, and so feared that everybody else will feel compelled to come and pay us homage, bowing down before us. In fact, becoming a "god like" figure can almost be said to be man's natural "wet dream". And maybe that's why the Holy Scripture says God abhors the proud man.

As is said: "Everyone with a proud heart is detestable to the Lord; be assured, he will not go unpunished"- Proverbs 16:5

Dios no condena al creyente que no esta consciente de su pecado

A diferencia de lo que comúnmente se piensa, la Torah (la Ley de Moisés) no es el producto de la revelación dada por Dios a Israel, allá en la falda del Monte Sinaí. La Torah, tampoco es una nueva pieza de información, ni es una caprichosa guía de conducta para el Pueblo de Israel. ¿Que es entonces la Torah? Pues la realidad es que la Torah no es sino la demostración alegórica de la realidad moral del Mundo.

En otras palabras, la Torah es una compilación de los paradigmas morales que rigen tanto a Hebreos como a gentiles. Y, la realidad de esos paradigmas, no depende en lo absoluto de que el Judío [o el gentil] escojan o no abrazarlos. Consideremos un sencillo ejemplo: La Torah enseña que el creyente Hebreo no es responsable de su pecado sino hasta el momento en que llega a conocer lo errado de su proceder.

Como esta escrito: "... Si alguno jurare a la ligera con sus labios hacer mal o hacer bien, en cualquier cosas que el hombre profiere con juramento, y él no lo entendiere; si después lo entiende [solo entonces], será culpable por cualquiera de estas cosas. Cuando pecare en alguna de estas cosas, confesará [finalmente] aquello en que pecó..."- Levítico 5:4-5.

¿Conlleva el pasaje en Levítico 5:4-5 un mensaje que fuese desconocido tanto para los Israelitas como para los gentiles que vivieron antes de que Moisés diese a Israel la Torah? ¡Absolutamente no! El pasaje meramente expone una verdad moral eterna, que aplica tanto a Hebreos como a gentiles. ¿Y de donde lo sabemos? Pues lo sabemos del relato acerca del rey gentil llamado "Abimelec".

Este rey gentil (que vivió 400 años antes del tiempo de Moisés), comprendía con claridad meridiana que Dios no condena al hombre que obra con integridad de corazón, sin tener conciencia alguna de su pecado. De este modo, aunque Abimelec toma como esposa a la mujer del patriarca Avraham [a fin de hacerla su nueva esposa], Dios no castiga a Abimelec.

¿Por que no le castiga? Pues porque Abimelec no sabía que estaba a punto de cometer adulterio, pensando en cambio que actuaba con integridad de corazón [otorgándole a Avraham el privilegio de emparentar con la realeza].

Como esta escrito- «Pero Dios vino a Abimelec en sueños de noche, y le dijo: "He aquí, muerto eres, a causa de la mujer que has tomado, la cual es casada con marido". Mas Abimelec no se había llegado a ella, y dijo: "SEÑOR, ¿MATARAS TAMBIEN AL INOCENTE? ¿NO ME DIJO EL, 'MI HERMANA ES'; Y ELLA TAMBIEN DIJO, 'ES MI HERMANO'? CON SENCILLEZ DE MI CORAZÓN Y CON LIMPIEZA DE MIS MANOS HE HECHO ESTO"» (Génesis 20:3-5).

No solamente se refrena Dios de castigar la ignorancia de Abimelec, sino que le guarda de caer en pecado (impidiéndole tocar a Sara). Como esta escrito: «Y le dijo Dios en sueños- "Yo tambien se que con integridad de tu corazón haz hecho esto; y YO TAMBIEN TE DETUVE DE PECAR CONTRA MI, Y ASÍ NO TE PERMITÍ QUE LA TOCASES"» (Génesis 20:6).

Pero, así como la Ley diría siglos mas tarde que, una vez que conocemos nuestro pecado, ya no tenemos excusa para seguir cometiéndolo, de ese mismo modo Dios recuerda al gentil rey Abimelec que, ahora que ha entendido lo extraviado de su proceder, su ignorancia de la verdad ya no puede justificar mas su conducta, y debe por tanto abandonar su errado camino, so pena de sufrir las graves consecuencias.

Como esta escrito: «Ahora, pues, DEVUELVE LA MUJER A SU MARIDO; porque es profeta, y orara por ti, y vivirás. Y SI NO LA DEVOLVIERES, SABE DE CIERTO QUE MORIRÁS TU, Y TODOS LOS TUYOS» (Génesis 20:7).

En resumen, los paradigmas prefigurados en la Ley de Moisés son verdades morales que siempre han existido, y siempre han de existir. Y, como demuestra la historia del rey Abimelec, estas verdades aplican por igual tanto a Hebreos como a gentiles.

Una aplicación practica del anterior ejemplo se encuentra en el hecho de que la teología cristiana comete el pecado de esbozar ideas que contradicen abiertamente lo revelado por Dios en la Torah (que Dios es "Uno solo", y no un "Uno trinitario"; que Dios no es un hombre; que nadie puede morir por el pecado de otra persona; que no hay hombre que nunca peque; que la Ley nunca ha de cesar; etc).

Es decir, si como resultado de alguna prédica, un hombre procede al arrepentimiento, y abraza con sinceridad de corazón la teología cristiana [no sabiendo que esta última es errada], el pecado de tal teología no le será imputado sino hasta el momento en que conozca suficiente Escritura como para darse cuenta de su error.

De hecho, no solo no le será imputado pecado alguno, sino que sentirá paz y gozo, pues el Creador habrá de bendecirle por su arrepentimiento, así como por el bien que haga mientras se encuentre en ignorancia.

Y lo anterior quizás explica el hecho de que, cuando Israel rehúsa obedecer la orden de entrar a poseer la tierra de Canaán, Dios exime de castigo a todo Israelita de 20 años [o menos]; dando a entender con ello que, estos últimos, no eran lo suficientemente conscientes como para ser hechos responsables de su pecado.

Curiosamente, la anterior verdad es tan patente e innegable que, los evangelios cristianos, la ponen en boca del Nazareno (paz y bendición sean con él), cuando le citan diciendo a los fariseos que, “si no vieses” (es decir, si no pudiesen entender) no tendrían pecado alguno; pero que, ya que admiten que “ven”, su pecado le es imputado. Como esta escrito- «Jesús les respondió: “SI FUERAIS CIEGOS, NO TENDRÍAIS PECADO; MAS AHORA, PORQUE DECÍS ‘VEMOS’, VUESTRO PECADO PERMANECE” (Juan 9:41).

If God is an Infinite Spirit, and not any human being, why is it that Scripture refers to Him using a male pronoun (“He”)?

If God is an infinite spirit, and not any human being, why is it that Scripture refers to Him using a male pronoun (“He”)? As is written: “HE is the rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is HE”- Deuteronomy 32:4 (King James Bible). Is God sexist?

Well, to begin with, the reason why God is described as a “He” has nothing to do sexual identity [as a non physical spirit has no physical organs, let alone sexual organs]. Rather, it’s intention is to draw a metaphorical parallelism between God and His creation.

In other words, to hint at the idea that, just as Adam (the first Human being) was the direct source of all other human beings [Eve included], so is God the source of all other things in the Universe [humanity included].

And just as Adam initially was a single entity, existing alone, and without any similar companionship, so too was God initially a single entity, existed alone and without any similar companionship (in other words, having no Father, no Son, and no Holy spirit).

And this might be the reason why Scripture goes on to say: «Thus says יהוה’ ... : “I am the first (because I have no Father), and I am the last (because I have no son); Besides me there is no God (because I have no brother)”»- Isaiah 44:6, Complete Jewish Bible.... «See now that I, yes, I, am He; and there is no God beside me (in other words, no one else coexists as god within me)» (Deut. 32:29)

La humildad, es la mayor de todas las virtudes, pues la Escritura dice: “El Señor me ha ungido para dar buenas nuevas a los humildes...” - Isaías 61:1. Note que el anterior pasaje no dice que las buenas nuevas son para los santos, para los sabios, para los que tienen fe, para los Judíos, para los Cristianos, para los Musulmanes, ni para los que temen a Dios; ¡son para los humildes! (intimando con ello que, el creyente que posee un corazón humilde, ya han alcanzado santidad, sabiduría, fe, y temor de Dios)

La verdadera religión es aquella que, sin importar su nombre, hace a sus adeptos honestos y humildes

Los niños nacen con la verdadera religión, pues son naturalmente humildes y honestos. Y quizás sea esta la razón por la cual el evangelio cita al Nazareno diciendo, “De cierto os digo, que si no os volvéis y os hacéis como niños, no entraréis en el reino de los cielos”- Mateo 18:3.

Es que, si la fe que tiene un creyente en Moisés, en Jesús, o en Muhammad no logra transformarle en una persona humilde y honesta, entonces su religión es vana y fútil. ¿Por que? Pues porque, el Dios que cada uno de estos grandes hombres reclamó haber representado, es el mismo Dios que ha prometido que, ni los orgullosos ni los mentirosos, han de quedar sin castigo.

Como esta escrito: «Porque Dios es excelso, y atiende al humilde, Mas al altivo mira de lejos»- Salmo 138:6; Y, «Abominación es a Dios todo altivo de corazón; Ciertamente no quedará impune»- Proverbios 16:5.

Y con respecto a la mentira y el fraude, dice lo siguiente: “Destruirás a los que hablan mentira... El testigo falso, no quedará sin castigo; Y, el que habla mentiras, no escapará”- Salmo 5:6, & Proverbios 19:5. Y finalmente dice: “No habitará dentro de mi casa el que hace fraude; el que habla mentiras no se afirmará delante de mis ojos... De palabra de mentira te alejarás... El justo, aborrece la palabra de mentira...

Amaste el mal más que el bien, La mentira más que la verdad. Has amado toda suerte de palabras perniciosas, Engañosa lengua. Por tanto, Dios te destruirá para siempre; Te asolará y te arrancará de tu morada, Y te desarraigará de la tierra de los vivientes” (Salmo 101:7, Éxodo 23:7, Proverbios 13:5, Salmo 52:3-5)

The man who, while calling himself a Hebrew believer (an Orthodox Jew, a Reform Jew, a secular Jew, a Samaritan, a Messianic Jew, etc) openly promotes immoral behavior (atheism, drug addiction, prostitution, homosexuality, etc) blasphemes the Creator, and thereby forfeits his own life. As it has been written: «And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying, “Bring forth him that hath cursed without the camp; and let all that heard him lay their hands upon his head, and let all the congregation stone him [to death]. And thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel, saying, ‘Whosoever curseth his God, shall bear his sin’. And he that blasphemeth the name of the Lord, he shall surely be put to death, and all the congregation shall certainly stone him: as well the stranger, as he that is born in the land, when he blasphemeth the name of the Lord, shall be put to death”»- Leviticus 24:13-16.

Why are Secular Jews so eager to induce the masses into embracing the absurd idea that Nature has no design, and no designer (atheism)? Because, as the saying goes: “Those who can make you believe absurdities, can make you commit atrocities” ... (Voltaire, 1765)

What about “The Servant of God” mentioned in Isaiah 53? Doesn't this passage prove that Jesus is the only true Messiah; the one who bore our sins?

The Scripture reads like this: “When he has made life atonement for sin, he will see lineage, he will live for long days, and the will of יהוה will be in his hand prosperous for him. He will see the fruit of the affliction of his soul, and will be satisfied; by knowledge of him MY RIGHTEOUS SERVANT will justify many, and he will bear their iniquities ”-Isaiah 53: 10-11.

And it also says in another place, “Behold MY SERVANT, I will sustain him; MY CHOSEN, in whom my soul is content; I have put my Spirit on him; HE WILL BRING JUSTICE TO THE NATIONS ”- Isaiah 42:1.

Who is this CHOSEN of God? Who is this suffering SERVANT described by the prophet Isaiah?

Well, this Chosen Servant is no other than the People of Israel, as the prophet himself clarifies when he goes on to say: “But YOU, ISRAEL, YOU ARE MY SERVANT; YOU, JACOB, WHOM I CHOSE”- Isaiah 41: 8. And Isaiah also says: "Now therefore, HEAR, JACOB, MY SERVANT, AND YOU, ISRAEL, WHOM I CHOSE"- Isaiah 44: 1. And he confirms it a third time saying: “Remember these things, OH JACOB, and Israel, because YOU ARE MY SERVANT.

I formed you, MY SERVANT IS YOU; ISRAEL, forget me not ”- Isaiah 44:21.

But, if the nation of Israel is really "God's Chosen Servant", how do we explain the fact that Scripture often describes Israel as a rebellious and stubborn people? Well the explanation is very simple: You see, the Scripture intimates that, the National Israel, is just a paradigm for "the true Israel of God." And who is this “true Israel of God”? It’s no other than "the spiritual body" consisting of those who, regardless of their race [or creed], serve the Creator with a clean and humble heart.

As it is written- "GOD IS VERY GOOD TO ISRAEL, TO THE CLEAN IN HEART"- Psalm 73: 1.

Who does the verse say Israel is? The pure in heart! And the latter is the Israel which Isaiah describes as being "The Servant of God". In fact, it is also the People whom God has promised to save, when He says: "ISRAEL WILL BE SAVED IN יְהוָה WITH ETERNAL SALVATION ..."- Isaiah 45:17.

By the same token, this Spiritual Israel is "the Son of God" to whom the Scripture alludes (and whom we must all give honour); As it is Written, «THE LORD has said thus: 'ISRAEL IS MY SON, MY FIRSTBORN'» - Exodus 4:22. And, «HONOUR THE SON [OF GOD], SO THAT [HIS FATHER] DOES NOT GET ANGRY, AND YOU MAY PERISH ON THE WAY; For his anger flares up...”- Psalm 2:12.

The fact is that, while the Physical Nation of Israel may often exalts itself refusing to obey his Creator, God sees no fault in this other "Spiritual Israel" [which is a humble and obedient Nation that remains trusting the Lord].

As it is written: "HE HAS NOT NOTICED INIQUITY IN JACOB, NOR HAVE HE SEEN PERVERSITY IN ISRAEL ..."- Numbers 23:21. And also, ".... I WILL LEAVE IN THE MIDST OF YOU A HUMBLE AND POOR PEOPLE, which will trust in the name of the Lord ”- Zephaniah 3:12. And in another place, "The Spirit of the Lord God is on me, because THE LORD HAS ANOINTED ME TO BRING GOOD NEWS TO THE POOR. HE HAS SENT ME TO HEAL THE BROKENHEARTED ..."- Isaiah 61: 1.

And it finally says, "I live in a high AND HOLY PLACE, AND WITH THE OPPRESSED AND LOWLY OF SPIRIT, to revive the spirit of the lowly AND REVIVE THE HEART OF THE OPPRESSED" - Isaiah 57:15. In fact, Isaiah himself teaches that, in the moment the Physical Nation of Israel rebels against it’s Creator, in that very moment it ceases to be "the Israel of God", and becomes instead "Sodom and Gomorrah”.

As it is written: «Hear the word of the Lord, you rulers of Sodom! Listen to the instruction of our God, you people of Gomorrah! “What are all your sacrifices to me?” asks the Lord. “I have had enough of burnt offerings and rams and the fat of well-fed cattle; I have no desire for the blood of bulls, lambs, or male goats”- Isaiah 1: 10-11.

Dios nunca esperó que los creyentes guardasen perfectamente la Ley Mosaica

El Creador nunca esperó que obedeciésemos perfectamente los 613 mandamientos de la Ley Divina. Es que la Escritura muestra que el Creador es moralmente perfecto, como esta escrito- “El es la Roca, cuya obra es perfecta, Porque todos sus caminos son rectitud; Dios de verdad, y sin ninguna iniquidad en él; Es justo y recto” (Deut. 32:4); Y, “... El Juez de toda la Tierra, ¿no ha de hacer lo que es justo?” (Génesis 18:25).

De este modo, es imposible que [tal y como promulga hipotéticamente el Cristianismo] Dios castigue al hombre que desobedece uno de esos 613 mandamientos, sin tener que recompensarle por los otros 612 mandamientos que en efecto obedece. Es decir, si bien es cierto que Dios no dejará de castigar el mal que hallamos hecho [y del cual nunca no nos hemos arrepentido], no es menos cierto que tampoco dejará de recompensar el bien que hemos realizado.

Es que, si hubiese sido literalmente cierto que no hay salvación alguna para el hombre que viole siquiera uno de los 613 mandamientos de la Ley Divina, entonces ni Jesús mismo pudo haberse salvado. ¿Por que? Pues porque, el primero de esos 613 mandamientos, era [casarse, y] procrear hijos. Como esta escrito: “Y creó Dios al hombre a su imagen, a imagen de Dios lo creó; varón y hembra los creó. Y los bendijo Dios, y les dijo: FRUCTIFICAD Y MULTIPLICAOS...”- Génesis 1:27-28.

Y esta casi demás decir que el evangelio no registra en ninguna parte que Jesús halla literalmente cumplido con el mandamiento de casarse y engendrar hijos biológicos. De este modo, si los Escritos Cristianos aparentan decir que Jesús cumplió perfectamente la Ley de Moisés, tenemos que [por fuerza] entender que se habla en sentido figurado, y no en un sentido estrictamente literal.

La obediencia perfecta de los mandamientos

La Ley dice así:«EL QUE HACE ESTAS COSAS, no resbalará jamás» (Salmo 15:5). Si, el anterior pasaje, fuese a ser interpretado como enseñando que, para que un hombre sea justificado ante Dios, tiene que obedecer TODO LO ORDENADO EN LA LEY (es decir, guardar perfectamente la Ley), también tendríamos que interpretar que, para que un hombre pueda ser corrompido (y pueda por tanto "ser echado de la presencia Divina"), tendría que desobedecer TODO LO ORDENADO EN LA LEY (es decir, tiene que desobedecer perfectamente la Ley); pues la Escritura dice:«... EN TODAS ESTAS COSAS, SE HAN CORROMPIDO LAS NACIONES QUE YO ECHO DE DELANTE DE VOSOTROS» (Levítico 18:24).

¿Es cierto que no hay redención sin derramamiento de sangre?

¿Que significa el verso que dice: “Porque la vida de la carne en la sangre está, y yo os la he dado para hacer expiación sobre el altar por vuestras almas; Y LA MISMA SANGRE HARÁ EXPIACIÓN DE LA PERSONA”- Lev. 17:11. ¿Acaso significa el pasaje que, el apóstol Pablo (paz sea con él), estaba en lo correcto, cuando afirma que, la redención del mundo, requería de un sacrificio físico; pues, “sin derramamiento de sangre, no se hace remisión” (Hebreos 9:22)? Pues la realidad es, aunque muy sincero, Pablo erraba gravemente.

¿Por que? Pues porque, en su interpretación de la Ley, pasaba por alto el verso que dice: “LOS SACRIFICIOS DE DIOS, SON EL ESPÍRITU QUEBRANTADO; Al corazón contrito y humillado, no despreciarás tú, oh Dios”- Salmo 51:17.

En otras palabras, el sacrificio que Dios acepta incondicionalmente, no es el sacrificio físico de algún animal, o el de alguna victima humana; es el sacrificio de un corazón contrito y humillado por la vergüenza de sus pecados. Y, el hecho de que es el corazón [y no el sacrificio] el que procuran el perdón Divino, esta atestiguado en el verso que dice: “Cercano está יהוה a los quebrantados de corazón; Y SALVA A LOS CONTRITOS DE ESPÍRITU”- Salmo 34:18.

Pero si esto es así, ¿que significa el verso que dice que la sangre habría de expiar por el pecado? Pues, para entender su significado, hay que tener presente dos detalles importantes:

1) El primero de estos detalles, es que la Ley ordenaba que la sangre de los sacrificios por el pecado fuese derramada al pie del altar. Como esta escrito: “Si alguna persona del pueblo pecare por yerro, haciendo algo contra alguno de los mandamientos de יהוה ... traerá por su ofrenda una cabra... por su pecado que cometió.... y la degollará en el lugar del holocausto... LUEGO CON SU DEDO EL SACERDOTE TOMARÁ DE LA SANGRE... Y DERRAMARÁ EL RESTO DE LA SANGRE AL PIE DEL ALTAR”- Levítico 4:27-30.

2) El segundo detalle, es que la palabra que el pasaje en levítico 17:11 traduce como “vida”, es la palabra Hebrea “Nefesh”. Y, “nefesh”, literalmente significa “alma”. Por ejemplo, el pasaje en Génesis 12:13 dice de la siguiente manera: “Ahora, pues, di que eres mi hermana, PARA QUE ME VAYA BIEN por causa tuya, Y VIVA MI ALMA...”. En este pasaje, la palabra Hebrea traducida como “Alma”, es “nefesh”. De igual modo, Génesis 34:3 dice de la siguiente manera: “Pero SU ALMA SE APEGÓ A DINA, la hija de Lea, y se enamoró de la joven...”. En este ultimo pasaje, la palabra Hebrea traducida como “alma”, es nuevamente la palabra “nefesh”.

¿A donde conduce toda esta información? Pues a mostrarnos que, el sacrificio que hace expiación, no es el derramamiento de nuestra sangre, sino “el derramamiento” de nuestra alma.

Y es por esto que la Escritura dice que, la oración de Ana [quien mas tarde llegó a ser la progenitora del profeta Samuel] contó con el favor Divino; pues, aunque no se menciona que hubiese derramado la sangre de ningún sacrificio, se nos dice que en efecto derramó su alma ante el Creador. Como esta escrito: “Y Ana le respondió diciendo... YO SOY UNA MUJER ATRIBULADA DE ESPÍRITU... QUE HE DERRAMADO MI ALMA DELANTE DE DIOS”- 1 Samuel 1:15.

Es que la Escritura muestra que, no importando cuan alejada de Dios se sienta una persona, en el momento en que esa persona derrama [en humillación] su alma ante Dios, para confesar su pecado, y comenzar a apartarse de este último, en ese mismo momento alcanza la misericordia y la redención Divina. Como esta escrito:

“EL QUE ENCUBRE SUS PECADOS, NO PROSPERARÁ; MAS EL QUE LOS CONFIESA, Y SE APARTA, ALCANZARÁ MISERICORDIA”- PROVERBIOS 28:13. Y tambien dice en otro lugar: “SI SE HUMILLARE MI PUEBLO... Y ORAREN, Y BUSCAREN MI ROSTRO, Y SE CONVIRTIEREN DE SUS MALOS CAMINOS; ENTONCES YO OIRÉ DESDE LOS CIELOS, Y

PERDONARÉ SUS PECADOS”- 2 Crónicas 7:14. Y finalmente dice: “Y VENDRÁ EL REDENTOR... A LOS QUE SE VOLVIEREN DE LA INIQUIDAD EN JACOB...”- Isaías 59:20.

¿Cual de los dos miente? ¿Miente la Ley, cuando dice que no hay salvación para el hombre que no este circuncidado (“vístete tu ropa hermosa, oh Jerusalén, ciudad Santa; porque nunca más vendrá a ti incircunciso”- Isaías 52:1)? ¿O miente el Evangelio, cuando dice que no hay salvación para el hombre que este circuncidado (“todo hombre que se circuncida... está obligado a guardar toda la Ley... de la gracia habéis caído”- Gálatas 5:3-4)?

El Samaritanismo predicado por Jesus es la fe universal que agrada al Creador

El santo evangelio cita a Jesús diciendo lo siguiente: «... Maestro, ¿haciendo qué cosa heredaré la vida eterna?. Él [Jesús] le dijo: “¿Qué está escrito en la Ley [de Moisés]? ¿Cómo lees? Aquél, respondiendo, dijo: “Amarás al Señor tu Dios con todo tu corazón, y con toda tu alma, y con todas tus fuerzas, y con toda tu mente; y a tu prójimo como a ti mismo”.

Y le dijo [Jesús]: “Bien has respondido; haz esto, y vivirás [para siempre]”»- Evangelio de Lucas 10:25-28. ¿Que significan estas misteriosas palabras? Pues el Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que su significado no es otro sino que, el Dios de Abraham, ha revelado al Mundo cual es la religión que le agrada; aquella forma de adoración que estamos todos llamados a seguir.

Y esta forma de adoración no es otra sino creer que existe un Juez Supremo, quien un día habrá de juzgar a cada persona de acuerdo a el bien [o el mal] que halla hecho a su prójimo [que esta hecho a imagen y semejanza del Creador].

Es que, amando a nuestro prójimo, demostramos nuestro amor por el Creador; pues, si no podemos amar al prójimo que vemos, ¿cuanto menos podremos amar al Dios que no vemos? Y es por eso que, el profeta del Islam (Muhammad), resumió la fe Musulmana diciendo: “Ninguno de ustedes tendrá fe, sino hasta que desee para su hermano lo mismo que desea para si mismo”- Hadith auténtico, Sahih al-Bukhari 13, narrado por Anas Bin Malik.

De igual modo, Jesús corroboró esta misma verdad, cuando es citado diciendo: “Así que, todas las cosas que queráis que los hombres hagan con vosotros, así también haced vosotros con ellos; porque esto es la Ley [La Torah] y los profetas”- Mateo 7:12.

Y los sabios del antiguo Judaísmo, confesaron también lo mismo, cuando son citados diciendo: “Aquello que seria odioso para ti [es decir, aquello que no te gustaría que te hiciesen a ti mismo], no lo hagas tu al prójimo; esto es toda la Ley. El resto, es solo comentario...” (Talmud Babilónico, Shabbat 31a)

Obeying God's Law [as summarized by His 10 Commandments] is mankind's only guarantee of freedom. In other words, as soon as a man turns away from God's Law, he starts to be deceived, manipulated, and exploited by the sweet and flattering words of other men.

A man trapped inside a woman's body?

The Divine book of Nature teaches that a person considers himself to be a man trapped inside a woman's body only when he has a "fetus-like" brain. Why? Because a man is literally trapped inside a woman's body only during a woman's pregnancy; in other words, at a time when he actually is a fetus [and therefore has a "fetus-like" brain]

Si Te Dicen...

Si te dicen que El Creador se manifestó por medio de una zarza (la zarza ardiente), créelo; Pero, si te dicen que una zarza es El Creador, no lo creas.

Si te dicen que El Creador se manifestó por medio de la Justicia (de las plagas que vinieron sobre Faraón y su pueblo), créelo; Pero, si te dicen que "la Justicia" es el Creador, no lo creas.

Si te dicen que El Creador se manifestó en un monte (el Sinaí), créelo; Pero, si te dicen que un monte es el Creador, no lo creas.

Si te dicen que el Creador se manifestó por medio de la tempestad y el relámpago (cuando entregó la Ley a Israel), créelo; Pero, si te dicen que la tempestad (o el relámpago) son El Creador, no lo creas.

Si te dicen que Dios se manifestó por medio de una nube (la nube de gloria que guiaba de día a Israel), créelo; Pero, si te dicen que una nube es El Creador, no lo creas.

Si te dicen que El Creador se manifestó por medio del fuego (la columna de fuego, que guiaba de noche a Israel), créelo; Pero, si te dicen que el fuego es el Creador, no lo creas.

Si te dicen que El Creador se manifestó por medio de un pez (la ballena que tragó a Jonás), créelo; Pero, si te dicen que un pez es el Creador, no lo creas.

Si te dicen que El Creador se manifestó por medio de un pájaro (los pájaros que trajeron carne al profeta Elías), créelo; Pero, si te dicen que un pájaro (una paloma, un cuervo, un águila, etc), es El Creador, no lo creas.

Si te dicen que El Creador se manifestó por medio de un hombre (Moisés, cuyo rostro resplandecía con la gloria Divina), créelo; Pero si te dicen que un hombre (Moisés, Jesús, Muhammad, Shimon Bar Yohai, José Smith, o Menachem Schneerson- paz y bendición sea con todos ellos) es El Creador, no lo creas”.

Seguir un credo [o religión] que niega el gratuito perdón Divino, es seguir una vanidad ilusoria

Pecado no es otra cosa sino el sentido de separación que experimenta el hombre cuando se rebela contra lo ordenado por su Creador (no robes, no mates, no mientas, no deshonres a tus padres, no explotes a los débiles e inocentes, no codicies lo ajeno, etc).

Pero, como el Creador es un Padre compasivo (“Como el padre se compadece de los hijos, Se compadece Dios de los que le temen”- Salmo 103:13), pues siempre está dispuesto a ofrecer su gratuita misericordia a todo aquel que la pide con un corazón contrito y humillado (“Los sacrificios de Dios son el espíritu quebrantado; Al corazón contrito y humillado no despreciarás tú, oh Dios”- Salmo 51:17;

“El que encubre sus pecados no prosperará; Mas el que los confiesa y se aparta alcanzará misericordia”- Proverbios 28:13; “Quizá oiga la casa de Judá todo el mal que yo pienso hacerles, y se arrepienta cada uno de su mal camino, y yo perdonaré su maldad y su pecado”- Jeremías 36:3). Así las cosas, cuando algún credo niega la gratuita misericordia Divina, reclamando en cambio que no hay perdón para el hombre que no cree primero en tal o cual persona [Moisés, Jesús, Pablo, Muhammad, Elena G. De White, etc]; en tal o cual libro [el Talmud, el Nuevo Testamento, el Qur’an, el Libro de Mormón, etc]; o en tal o cual religión [Judaísmo, Samaritanismo, Cristianismo, Islam, Adventismo, etc], sabemos entonces que tal credo (o religión) sigue la vanidad; pues se cumple en el la Escritura que dice:

“Los que siguen vanidades ilusorias, Su Misericordia abandonan [es decir, renuncian al perdón gratuito que ofrece Dios a todo hombre]”- Jonás 2:8.

Pero la Escritura promete que llegara el día cuando quienes siguen estas vanidades, comprenderán finalmente lo extraviado de su proceder [siendo así libertados de su error]. Como esta escrito: «Oh הַחַיִּים , fortaleza mía y fuerza mía, y refugio mío en el tiempo de la aflicción, a ti vendrán naciones [gentiles] desde los extremos de la Tierra, y dirán: “Ciertamente mentira poseyeron nuestros padres, vanidad, y no hay en ellos provecho”»- Jeremías 16:19

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

If God's Law asks that we do (or believe) in anything (that we should rest on the seventh day; that God rewards those who obey His commandments, and punishes those who disobey them; that God is morally perfect; that God is no man; that the Supreme Being is a single entity, and not a plurality of beings; that no man can die for the sins of someone else, etc), and then comes the Gospel asking us to believe instead the opposite, what is the believer supposed to do? Well, the answer is quite simple. You see, until the gospel appeared two thousand years ago, Hebrew believers never had a reason to question the veracity of God's Law, as [unlike the Gospel] the Law was the result of a National revelation where God spoke publicly not only to Moses, but also to the whole Nation of Israel. In addition, the Law never claimed to be the fulfillment of any future book; instead, it claimed to be self standing righteousness and truth. As is written: "Thy Righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, And thy Law is Truth"- Psalm 119:142 (American Standard Version). On the other hand, the Gospel actually claimed to be the fulfillment of God's Law; so that, unlike the Law [whose veracity doesn't depend upon the veracity of the Gospel], the veracity of the Gospel ultimately depends upon the veracity of the Law. As is written: "Think not that I came to destroy the Law or the Prophets: I came not to destroy, but to fulfill"- Matthew 5:17, American Standard Version. Thus, whenever the Gospel departs from what has been said [or done] in the Law, we have no option but to side with the former, as it is the Gospel that ought to comply with the Law, and not the other way around. In other words, it would be absurd to claim that the Gospel is true, if the latter doesn't comply with the Law [as it is this compliance what validates the Gospel's alleged truthfulness]

The simple reason why Israel's God doesn't want the believer to think He is any man

The Hebrew “image” [or “concept”] of God is unlike that of any other holy book [including the Qur’an and the New Testament]. Why? Simply because, although at first glance Hebrew Scripture depicts a God who not only seems to have human attributes (eyes, mouth, arms, ears, hands), but even suffers from human defects and limitations (He rests, repents, gets angry, vengeful, jealous, and covets human praise and recognition), the truth is that ancient Hebrew believers knew this was just an anthropomorphism; human attributes used to describe the several non human messengers (angels) who, throughout the Bible spoke on God’s behalf. But Hebrew believers knew none of these attributes really applied to the One true God- He who is so infinite and self sufficient that the whole universe isn’t big enough to contain it; the God who is so morally perfect, that He is beyond any moral imperfection; the God so glorious and exalted that no man can see His face (directly interacting with Him) and live to talk about it. And how did they know the whole universe isn’t big enough for God? From the verse that goes on to say: “So will God really dwell on the earth? Behold, heaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain You!”- 1 Kings 8:27, Tree of Life Bible). And how did they know God is morally perfect? From the verse that reads, “The Rock—blameless is His work. Indeed, all His ways are just. God of faithfulness without iniquity, righteous and upright is He. Did it corrupt Him? No! The blemish is His children’s”- Deut. 32:4-5, Tree of Life Bible. Finally, from whence did they know there were angels [and not God Himself] who appeared to them? They knew it from, “You cannot see My face, for no man can see Me and live”- Exodus 33:20, Tree of Life Bible. Thus, Hebrew believers knew God was perfect, happy, and complete, not having any human need nor limitation. In other words, God doesn’t really need our love, our faith, our obedience nor our worship. But you may ask, “if God has no body, and no human need or limitation, why is it that He asks to be loved (‘Love The Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength’ - Deuteronomy 6:5)? How could you love such an abstract God? Can you hug Him? comfort Him? make him merry? Offer Him something to drink or eat?”. And the answer to this question is quite simple- We cannot love Him directly.

In fact, if God forbids our making any human depiction of Him, it’s precisely because He doesn’t want us to try loving Him directly [as He doesn’t need our love!]. How then does He expects us to fulfill the command to love Him? By loving those who have been created in His own image! (“So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him...”- Genesis 1:27, KJV). Thus, when we love our fellow human beings, we are thereby “killing two birds with a single stone”. In short, God doesn’t want us to think He has any human limitation, let alone that He is any human being (“God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent...”- Numbers 23:19, KJV). If God asks His children to obey His commandments, it's only because such obedience will bring upon us the peace and blessing promised by His messengers (angels). As it is written: "And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the Lord thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth: And all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God. Blessed shalt thou be in the city, and blessed shalt thou be in the field. Blessed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep. Blessed shall be thy basket and thy store. Blessed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and blessed shalt thou be when thou goest out. The Lord shall cause thine enemies that rise up against thee to be smitten before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and flee before thee seven ways. The Lord shall command the blessing upon thee in thy storehouses, and in all that thou settest thine hand unto; and he shall bless thee in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee. The Lord shall establish thee an holy people unto himself, as he hath sworn unto thee, if thou shalt keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways.

SAMARITANISMO REFORMADO

El verdadero hijo, es aquel que honra y obedece a su Padre; pues, el hijo que no honra y obedece a su padre, demuestra con su conducta ser un bastardo [es decir, ser el hijo de algún otro padre]. Y, es por esto que, los verdaderos hijos de Dios, son aquellos que honran y obedecen a Dios [independientemente de si son Judíos, Cristianos, o Musulmanes]. Como también intiman los Escritos Cristianos, cuando dicen: «PUES ESTE ES EL AMOR A DIOS, QUE GUARDEMOS SUS MANDAMIENTOS; Y SUS MANDAMIENTOS NO SON GRAVOSOS.... EL QUE DICE: "YO LE CONOZCO", Y NO GUARDA SUS MANDAMIENTOS, EL TAL ES MENTIROSO, y la verdad no está en él - 1 Juan 5:3 & 2:4. Y también dice en otro lugar: «Mas SI QUIERES ENTRAR EN LA VIDA, GUARDA LOS MANDAMIENTOS - Mateo 19:17.

And all people of the earth shall see that thou art called by the name of the Lord; and they shall be afraid of thee. And the Lord shall make thee plenteous in goods, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy ground, in the land which the Lord sware unto thy fathers to give thee. The Lord shall open unto thee his good treasure, the heaven to give the rain unto thy land in his season, and to bless all the work of thine hand: and thou shalt lend unto many nations, and thou shalt not borrow. And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the Lord thy God, which I command thee this day, to observe and to do them: And thou shalt not go aside from any of the words which I command thee this day, to the right hand, or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them"- Deut. 28:1-14, KJV.

Belief In Jesus, Moses, or Muhammad isn't enough, as Scripture states the good tidings (of eternal deliverance) are not for Jews, Christians, or Muslims; rather, they are reserved for the meek, and the humble

The Holy Scripture shows that king Nebuchadnezzar acknowledged the God of the Hebrews to be "the King of kings"; in other words, he acknowledge Him as the Supreme God ("... Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings...”- Daniel 2:47).

In addition, Scripture states that king Nebuchadnezzar bowed down and honored Daniel, thereby recognizing him as God's anointed messenger (“... Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshiped Daniel...”- Daniel 2:46).

But, if Nebuchadnezzar had actually confessed the Lord, and if he had also honored [and recognized] Daniel as God's anointed messenger, why was God still angry with Nebuchadnezzar? (“... this is the decree of the most High, which is come upon my lord the king: That they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field...”- Daniel 4:24-25).

The reason for God's anger was that Nebuchadnezzar thought that the God of the Jews was similar to any other flawed human king; that He wasn't really interested in ruling with humility, mercy, and justice; but was rather obsessed with receiving all the glory, the praise and the honor He could possibly get from His subject (or creatures).

Thus, while acknowledging God and His prophet, Nebuchadnezzar still was a wicked and cruel man; and that's why prophet Daniel had to ask him to redeem his sins by doing righteousness, and by showing mercy to the poor (“.. break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor”- Daniel 4:27).

God was angry with Nebuchadnezzar because the latter still harbored inside his heart the selfish pride and arrogance that angers the Creator (“Everyone with a proud heart is detestable to the Lord; be assured, he will not go unpunished”- Proverbs 16:5).

Thus, even though he confessed the one true God, as well as God's anointed messenger, Nebuchadnezzar wasn't delivered until he finally renounced to his pride, in order to become a meek and humble individual (“the Most High God gave sovereignty, greatness, glory, and majesty to your predecessor Nebuchadnezzar... But when his heart was exalted and his spirit became arrogant, he was deposed from his royal throne and his glory was taken from him... until he [humbled himself, and...] acknowledged that the Most High God is ruler over human kingdoms and sets anyone he wants over them”- Daniel 5:18).

Thus, Scripture teaches us that it isn't enough for the Hebrews to believe in God, and in His servant Moses; nor is it enough for Christians to believe in the Heavenly Father, as well as in the messianic claims of Jesus; neither is it enough for Muslims to believe in God, as well as in the prophetic claims of Muhammad- they all have to validate their confession renouncing to their pride, their arrogance, and their self exaltation [in other words, embracing a lifestyle of meekness, and humility].

And this is why Scripture states that “the good tidings” [of deliverance from all sort of bondage] are not for those who have the right amount of faith [and thereby can perform miracles]; nor is it for those who belong to the right ethnicity (Jew or Gentile); nor is it for those who have the correct theology (Jew, Christian, Muslim, etc).

The good tidings are for the meek, as it is written: “The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound...”- Isaiah 61:1.

But, why are the meek and brokenhearted so dear to the Lord? They are so dear because the proud and arrogant cannot do God's will, which is no other than to renounce to evil and self exaltation, in order to do good [showing justice, mercy, and humility].

As it is written: “But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight...”- Jeremiah 9:24; and also says in another place:

“He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?”- Micah 6:8

El creyente sabio es aquel que se mantiene alejado de todo tipo de falsedad

El creyente sabio, es aquel que sigue la verdad objetiva revelada en la Ley de Dios, alejándose así de todo aquello que tenga visos de ser falso, incierto, o dudoso.

Es que la Escritura muestra que, la Verdad, es el sello de Dios. Como esta escrito: "... DIOS DE VERDAD, Y SIN NINGUNA INIQUIDAD EN ÉL; Es justo y recto"- Deuteronomio 32:4), mientras que la mentira es oscuridad y tinieblas, pues el Creador la abomina.

Y, cuando el creyente sigue solamente la verdad, su alma se siente en paz, pues sabe que mora en Luz y obediencia, pues cumple el mandato Divino que le ordena diciendo: "DE PALABRA DE MENTIRA TE ALEJARÁS..."- Éxodo 23:7. Y también dice en otro lugar, "EL JUSTO ABORRECE LA PALABRA DE MENTIRA..."- Prov. 13:5. Y finalmente dice: "No habitará dentro de mi casa el que hace fraude; EL QUE HABLA MENTIRAS NO SE AFIRMARÁ DELANTE DE MIS OJOS"- Salmo 101:7

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

"The Law of the Lord is Perfect..."

- Psalm 19:7, King James Bible -

Hebrew Scripture states that God's Law is "Perfect". And, by definition, what already is Perfect will never have any need to be improved, upgraded, modified, replaced, or terminated

El Cristianismo es un camino perfectamente válido para agradar al Creador. pero la Escritura Hebrea muestra que nadie fue jamás condenado por no haber seguido a Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él). En cambio, quienes rehusaron seguir a Moisés (es decir, sus Diez Mandamientos), fueron siempre castigados

La Escritura Hebrea, no registra a ninguna persona [ni a ninguna nación] que haya sido castigada, por no haber creído en la venida de un futuro Mesías llamado Jesus de Nazaret.

Tampoco registra la Escritura Hebrea, a ninguna persona [o nación] que se haya “perdido” por haber obedecido los [Diez] mandamientos de la Ley de Moisés. En cambio, lo que la Escritura dejó en efecto grabado, fue una pléyade de casos donde, todo aquel que rehusó obedecer lo ordenado por Moisés [en las dos tablas de piedra], fue finalmente castigado.

Es decir, cuando (según Génesis 20:3) Abimelec estuvo a punto de tener intimidad con Sarah (violando así el mandamiento que prohíbe el adulterio), Dios apareció en sueños a Abimelec, para advertirle de la destrucción que tal desobediencia conllevaría.

Del mismo modo, cuando (según Éxodo 1:22) Faraón violo el mandamiento que prohíbe matar (ahogando en el Nilo a los inocentes niños Hebreos), Dios castigó a Faraón, haciendo que este se ahogase en el Mar Rojo (Éxodo 14:26-31).

Por el otro lado, cuando (según Levítico 24:10-16) el hijo de un Egipcio blasfemó a יהוה (tomando así el nombre de Dios en vano), el Creador ordenó que se ejecutase al blasfemo.

Cuando (según Éxodo 32:7-8) Israel hizo un becerro de oro, y lo adoró [violando así el mandamiento que prohíbe postrarnos ante la imagen de ningún Dios fuera de Yah], el Creador castigó a Israel, haciendo que muriesen 3000 Israelitas (Éxodo 32:28).

Cuando (según Números 15:32) un hombre (¿Zelofehad?) fue hallado recogiendo leña durante el día de reposo (violando así el mandamiento que ordena reposar durante el Shabbat), Dios ordenó que el violador del Shabbat fuese ejecutado (Números 15:36).

Cuando (según Josué 7:1) Acán tomo ilícitamente la plata, el lingote de oro, y el manto Babilónico que pertenecían al anatema (violando así el mandamiento que prohíbe codiciar y robar lo que no nos pertenece), Dios ordenó que Acán fuese quemado (Josué 7:15).

Cuando Israel estuvo en las llanuras de Moab (Números 25:1), y desobedeció el mandamiento que prohíbe fornicar, יהוה (Yah) castigó a Israel, haciendo que una plaga exterminara a 24,000 Israelitas (Números 25:9).

Cuando (según Jeremías 28:10-11) el profeta Hananías trajo a Judah una falsa profecía (violando así el mandamiento que prohíbe levantar un falso testimonio), Dios hizo a morir a Hananías (Jeremías 28:15-17).

Finalmente, cuando (según Números 16:1-3) Korah (Coré), Datan, y Abiram, rehusaron obedecer a Moisés [rechazando así seguir lo ordenado en las dos tablas de piedra], el Creador hizo que la Tierra se abriera bajo sus pies, a fin de que descendiesen inmediatamente al infierno (Números 16:32-33). En adición, fuego de Dios salió del Santuario, y consumió a 250 príncipes de Israel (Números 16:35).

Como si fuera poco, cuando el pueblo se obstinó en imitar el mal ejemplo de Korah (para no seguir a Moisés), el Creador le castigó, haciendo que perecieran 14,700 Israelitas (Números 16:49).

¿Que pretende decirnos con todo esto la Escritura? Pues intenta mostrarnos que, no importando la religión que profese un individuo, el Creador castigará con fuego, muerte, y destrucción eterna, a todo aquel que rehúse seguir a Moisés, violando lo explícitamente ordenado en las dos Tablas de Piedra (es decir, los Diez Mandamientos).

¿Quién tiene la Teología Correcta? ¿Los Hebreos? ¿O los Gentiles?

En cuanto a la incesante contienda teológica entre Judíos, Samaritanos, Cristianos, y Musulmanes, la realidad objetiva es que todo lo justo y bueno es del agrado de Dios [sin importar si se encuentra en el Judaísmo, el Samaritanismo, el Cristianismo, o el Islam]. De igual modo, todo lo injusto y malo, proviene del Maligno, sin importar donde se encuentre. Como esta escrito:

- 1) “TODA BUENA DÁDIVA, Y TODO DON PERFECTO DESCIENDE DE LO ALTO, DEL PADRE DE LAS LUCES...”- Santiago 1:17.
- 2) "YHVH, ¿quién habitará en tu tabernáculo? ¿QUIÉN MORARÁ EN TU MONTE SANTO? (¿el Judío, el Cristiano, o el Musulmán?, ¡No!, sino en cambio)... EL QUE ANDA EN INTEGRIDAD Y HACE JUSTICIA, Y HABLA VERDAD EN SU CORAZÓN. EL QUE NO CALUMNIA CON SU LENGUA, NI HACE MAL A SU PRÓJIMO...”- Salmo 15:1-3
- 3) “HAZ BIEN, OH יהוה , A LOS BUENOS [sin importar su raza, o su credo] , Y A LOS QUE SON RECTOS EN SU CORAZÓN”- Salmo 125:4.
- 4) “SOBRE LOS MALOS HARÁ LLOVER CALAMIDADES; FUEGO, AZUFRE Y VIENTO ABRASADOR será la porción del cáliz de ellos”- Salmo 11:6

Y, el que el perdón esta asegurado a todo aquel que hace lo bueno [sin importar si es Judío, Cristiano, o Musulmán] es enseñado en la Escritura que dice: “Lavaos y limpiaos; quitad la iniquidad de vuestras obras de delante de mis ojos; dejad de hacer lo malo; APRENDED A HACER EL BIEN; BUSCAD EL JUICIO, RESTITUID AL AGRAVIADO, HACED JUSTICIA AL HUÉRFANO, AMPARAD A LA VIUDA. VENID LUEGO, DICE YHVH, Y ESTEMOS A CUENTA: SI VUESTROS PECADOS FUEREN COMO LA GRANA, COMO LA NIEVE SERÁN EMBLANQUECIDOS; si fueren rojos como el carmesí, vendrán a ser como blanca lana”- Isaías 1:16-18. En resumen, la salvación es el producto de abandonar la maldad, para comenzar en cambio a hacer el bien que agrada a Dios. Como esta escrito: «Apártate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre»- Salmo 37:27; Y también dice en otro lugar: “Oh hombre, Él [Dios] te ha declarado lo que es bueno, y qué pide Dios de ti (¿que seas Judío, Cristiano, o Musulmán?, ¡No!)- Solamente hacer justicia, y amar misericordia, y andar humildemente con tu Dios”- Miqueas 6:8

TODA GRAN VERDAD, EXPERIMENTA TRES ETAPAS DE DESARROLLO

- 1) En primer lugar, es ridiculizada
- 2) En segundo lugar, es suprimida violentamente
- 3) Finalmente, es aceptada como una verdad auto-evidente

¿Como saber cual palabra proviene del Dios de Israel, y cual no proviene?

A diferencia de lo sucedido con Moisés [quien escribió en sus cinco libros de la Ley todo lo que acerca del Padre Celestial le había sido revelado], ni el profeta Jesús, ni el profeta Muhammad (paz y bendición sean con ambos) escribieron personalmente nada; no escribieron ningún documento que pueda utilizarse en corte como un solido fundamento para desmentir (o corroborar fuera de toda duda razonable) la veracidad de los dichos (doctrinas) y hechos (milagros) que se les atribuyen.

En otras palabras, todo lo que acerca de Jesús y Muhammad hemos heredado, son dudosos [y a veces contradictorios] relatos hechos por segundas y terceras personas; es decir, por hombres que escribieron varios años después de haber ocurrido los hechos que se alegan; y, en el caso de Lucas y Marcos, hombres que ni siquiera fueron testigos presenciales de nada acerca de lo que escriben.

Así, como el creyente genuino esta obligado a evitar la mentira (“La mentira aborrezco y abomino; Tu Ley amo”- Salmo 119:163) para hablar en cambio solamente la verdad (“Estas son las cosas que habéis de hacer: Hablad verdad cada cual con su prójimo; juzgad según la verdad...”- Zacarías 8:16), el seguidor del Samaritanismo no tiene otro remedio que utilizar lo seguro y certero (es decir, lo escrito por Moisés), como “filtro” para cernir aquello que por naturaleza es incierto y dudoso (el Evangelio y el Coran).

En nuestro caso particular, el Samaritanismo enseña que, todo aquello en lo que el Evangelio [o el Coran] concuerda con lo revelado por Dios a Moisés, sea tenido como Palabra Santa. Pero que, todo aquello en lo que contradiga, niegue, o menoscabe lo revelado por Dios a Moisés, sea tenido como palabra del hombre (es decir, como comentario opcional). ¡Bendiciones!

«... ASÍ DICE יהוה, Rey de Israel... “Yo soy el primero (porque no tengo padre), y yo soy el postrero (porque no tengo hijo), y FUERA DE MÍ, NO HAY DIOS (porque no tengo hermano)»- Isaías 44:6. Y, «Ved ahora que YO, YO SOY, Y NO HAY DIOSES CONMIGO (es decir, no hay nadie que sea un “Co-Dios” conmigo)...» - Deut. 32:39

Hay algo malo con la idea de que Dios sea una Trinidad, tal y como afirman nuestros hermanos Cristianos?

No nada malo con la idea de que Dios sea un Trinidad de personas. Solo que a los seguidores del Samaritanismo Reformado se nos ha ordenado servir exclusivamente a aquel Dios que es UNO solo, y que no tiene semejanza física con nada de lo que hay en su Creación (por eso se nos prohibió hacer ninguna imagen ni semejanza de El).

Es que la idea de una Trinidad es antagónica a nuestro concepto de un solo Dios, con una sola voluntad que todos debemos obedecer. ¿Por que? Pues porque la idea de tres personas distintas implica por necesidad tres voluntades distintas.

Y esto a su vez implica la posibilidad de un conflicto de voluntades, donde una persona de la Trinidad desea que se haga una cosa, y otra persona de la Trinidad desea que se haga lo opuesto. Así, es imposible obedecer a la persona de la Trinidad que Dios que dice, “La ley y los profetas eran hasta Juan...” (Lucas 16:16); y a la misma vez obedecer a la otra Persona de la Trinidad que dice, “Nunca se apartará de tu boca este libro de la Ley...” (Josué 1:8).

Es que la implicación moral de esta última situación es blasfema. Es decir, si la Trinidad es cierta, entonces Dios quiere que sigamos la Ley, ¡y a la misma vez no quiere que sigamos la Ley! Y, como esto es imposible, entonces es imposible obedecer a Dios.

Y, como la desobediencia a Dios es pecado, entonces el hombre no tiene otro remedio que pecar. No solo esto, sino que Dios sería injusto si condenase al hombre por pecar; pues pecar es la única opción que, ante tal disyuntiva, tiene el hombre. Y, si Dios condena al hombre por hacer lo único que puede hacer, entonces Dios es injusto.

Y si Dios es injusto, entonces Dios es un pecador. Y si Dios es un pecador, entonces no es realmente Dios, pues no es mucho mejor que los humanos pecadores a los que pretende juzgar. En resumen, la Trinidad es una de esas doctrinas cuyas implicaciones morales niegan al Dios que se reveló tanto a Moisés, como al pueblo Hebreo. Por eso es que el Samaritanismo Reformado simplemente no puede aceptarla.

Pero, esto no implica que el Cristiano que crea en la Trinidad este “perdido”, o “bajo la ira Divina”; pues, como enseña el Samaritanismo Reformado, “lo que hacemos con la verdad, es mas importante que la verdad”. ¡Bendiciones!

Si solamente lo escrito por Moisés es considerado la incuestionable Palabra de Dios, ¿como se explica el hecho de que los escritos del Samaritanismo Reformado estén llenos de tantas otras variadas y diversas referencias?

El Samaritanismo Reformado cree que solo lo Escrito por el profeta Moisés es la incuestionable Palabra de Dios (con la posible excepción de los Salmos de David, así como del libro del profeta Josué).

De este modo, el Samaritanismo reformado solo cita del resto de los escritos Abrahámicos (Profetas mayores, profetas menores, proverbios, Eclesiastés, Talmud, Evangelio, Coran, Cábala, etc) aquellas porciones que considera estar en completa armonía con lo revelado por Adonay (Dios) a nuestro maestro Moisés; es decir, vivir en santidad, proceder al sincero arrepentimiento, Confesar nuestros pecados, hacer limosna, honrar a nuestros padres, visitar a los enfermos, abstenernos de la usura y la inmoralidad, obedecer lo ordenado sobre las dos tablas de piedra, circuncidar la carne de nuestro prepucio, santificar el día de reposo, obrar con justicia, ser misericordiosos, ser humildes, amar a Dios sobre todas las cosas, y amar al prójimo como a nosotros mismos.

Is God a Trinity?

Is God a Trinity? Whom is God talking to when Scripture goes on to say: «Furthermore God said, “LET US MAKE MAN...” (Genesis 1:26)? To begin with, the Bible intimates that, before creating our physical universe, God had created a non physical realm; one populated by a Heavenly host (angels, cherubim, seraphim, spirits, demons, etc).

So, to whom is God talking to in Genesis 1:26? He’s talking to His heavenly host! Why? Because Scripture intimates God does nothing “below”, without first consulting with His household “above”. Consider the example of king Ahab: When God wanted to slay him, He first met with His household above, in order to select a plan, as well as to whom should the execution of such plan be assigned. As is written: «... I saw the Lord sit on his throne, and all the Host of Heaven stood about him on his right hand and on his left hand. And the Lord said, “Who shall entice Ahab that he may go and fall at Ramoth Gilead?”».

And one said on this manner, and another said on that manner. Then there came forth a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, "I will entice him". And the Lord said unto him, "Wherewith?" And he said, "I will go out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets". Then he said, "Thou shalt entice him, and shalt also prevail: go forth, and do so"»- 1 Kings 22:19-22 (1599 Geneva Bible)

El Cristianismo es una excelente religión, pues induce a los hombres al arrepentimiento. Pero la teología Cristiana es errada, pues falla en comprender que, los seguidores originales del Nazareno, no concebían tal cosa como "salvación por fe, y sin necesidad de obra alguna

Hablando acerca de la fe y de las obras, la Escritura Cristiana dice así: «Hijitos, nadie os engañe; el que hace justicia es justo, como él es justo... El que dice: "Yo le conozco", y no guarda sus mandamientos, el tal es mentiroso, y la verdad no está en él... Pues este es el amor a Dios, que guardemos sus mandamientos; y sus mandamientos no son gravosos... De manera que, cualquiera que quebrante uno de estos mandamientos muy pequeños, y así enseñe a los hombres, "muy pequeño" será llamado en el reino de los Cielos; mas cualquiera que los haga y los enseñe, éste será llamado "Grande" en el reino de los Cielos... Por sus frutos los conoceréis.

¿Acaso se recogen uvas de los espinos, o higos de los abrojos? Así, todo buen árbol da buenos frutos, pero el árbol malo da frutos malos. No puede el buen árbol dar malos frutos, ni el árbol malo dar frutos buenos.

Todo árbol que no da buen fruto, es cortado y echado en el fuego... No os engaños; Dios no puede ser burlado: pues todo lo que el hombre sembrare, eso también segará... Pero, por tu dureza y por tu corazón no arrepentido, atesoras para ti mismo ira para el día de la ira y de la revelación del justo juicio de Dios, el cual pagará a cada uno conforme a sus obras: vida eterna a los que, perseverando en bien hacer, buscan gloria y honra e inmortalidad, pero ira y enojo a los que son contenciosos y no obedecen a la verdad, sino que obedecen a la injusticia; tribulación y angustia sobre todo ser humano que hace lo malo, el judío primeramente y también el griego, pero gloria y honra y paz a todo el que hace lo bueno, al judío primeramente y también al griego; porque no hay acepción de personas para con Dios...

Pero alguno dirá: Tú tienes fe, y yo tengo obras. Muéstrame tu fe sin tus obras, y yo te mostraré mi fe por mis obras. Tú crees que Dios es uno; bien haces. También los demonios creen, y tiemblan. ¿Mas quieres saber, hombre vano, que la fe sin obras es muerta? ¿No fue justificado por las obras Abraham nuestro padre, cuando ofreció a su hijo Isaac sobre el altar?

¿No ves que la fe actuó juntamente con sus obras, y que la fe se perfeccionó por las obras? Y se cumplió la Escritura que dice: Abraham creyó a Dios, y le fue contado por justicia, y fue llamado amigo de Dios. Vosotros veis, pues, que el hombre es justificado por las obras, y no solamente por la fe.

Asimismo también Rahab la ramera, ¿no fue justificada por obras, cuando recibió a los mensajeros y los envió por otro camino? Porque como el cuerpo sin espíritu está muerto, así también la fe sin obras está muerta... Nadie ha visto jamás a Dios. Si nos amamos unos a otros, Dios permanece en nosotros, y su amor se ha perfeccionado en nosotros...

No debáis a nadie nada, sino el amaros unos a otros; porque el que ama al prójimo, ha cumplido la Ley. Porque: No adulterarás, no matarás, no hurtarás, no dirás falso testimonio, no codiciarás, y cualquier otro mandamiento, en esta sentencia se resume:

Amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo. El amor no hace mal al prójimo; así que el cumplimiento de la ley es el amor» - 1 Juan 3:7, 1 Juan 2:4, 1 Juan 5:3, Mateo 5:19, Mateo 7:16-19, Gálatas 6:7, Romanos 2:5-11, Santiago 2:18-26, 1 Juan 4:12, Romanos 13:8-10

Samaritan Perspectives: Why was Adam asked to till the garden?

Hebrew Scripture states that God's Law was initially revealed to Moses in the Hebrew tongue. But Anyone with even a minimal knowledge of the Hebrew language knows that ancient Hebrew was a very imprecise language, as it contained no vowels, no accents, no periods, no commas, no exclamation signs, no upper case, no question marks, etc. How could Bible's message ever be accurately preserved by means of such an imprecise language?

Can a good sword be made out of bad iron? The answer to this question is that Bible's true message (a life of holiness, where we sow the good we wish to eventually reap) is so simple and so self evident that not even a fool can err from it [so no precise language was ever needed!].

As is written: «... and it shall be called "The way of holiness"; the unclean shall not pass over it... THE WAYFARING MEN, THOUGH FOOLS, SHALL NOT ERR THEREIN»- Isaiah 35:8.

And also in another place: "Turn from evil, and do good [to your innocent fellow human beings]; so you may live forever"- Psalm 37:27, Tree Of Life Version.

In fact, Hebrew scripture states that, as soon as God created Adam, He placed him in a garden, so he could till the land. As is written: "The Lord God took the man and placed him in the garden of Eden to work it ..."- Genesis 2:15 (Christian standard Bible). But, why did Adam have to work any land? Didn't he already have the world's food supply at his disposal?

The reason was that, the first thing God wanted Adam to learn was that mankind's well being would depend upon it's recognition of the fact that, the World we humans have been introduced to, works upon the principle of "sowing and reaping" (cause and effect, action and reaction, what goes around, comes around).

As is written; "... Mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands"- Isaiah 65:22; "As you have done, it will be done to you..."- Obadiah 1:15; And also, "... As I have done, so God has repaid me"- Judges 1:7. And finally says, "... The Lord rewards each of us according to what we do"- Psalm 62:12 (C.E.V.).

The truth is that ancient men of God (Enoch, Noah, Job, Abraham, Joseph, etc) had no [Sacred] written scripture available, yet they perfectly knew God's will for their lives, thereby earning God's approval.

In other words, God's will for Abraham was self evident to him ("For I know him [Abraham], that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment ..."- Gen. 18:19).

And this will was none but to to fear God, living a life of righteousness in which we sow upon our fellow human beings the goodness we wish to reap for ourselves.

It was only after mankind had lost it's capability to understand God's wisdom imprinted in the divine book of Nature (the law of "sowing and reaping") that the Creator had to start giving mankind an endless amount of written scriptures (Torah, prophets, Psalms, Proverbs, Gospel, Talmud, Quran, Sunnah, etc).

In short, God's creation (nature) is His supreme revelation; God's own unchangeable Word, eternally written in the Heavens. As it has been said: "Lord, YOUR WORD IS FOREVER; IT IS FIRMLY FIXED IN HEAVEN"- Psalm 119:89; and, "The heavens declare the glory of God, and THE EXPANSE PROCLAIMS THE WORK OF

HIS HANDS”- Psalm 19:1; and finally says, “When I observe your Heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you set in place, what is a human being that you remember him, a son of man that you look after him?”- Psalm 8:3-4.

This Divine revelation is freely available to anyone who would wish to consider it. And any written scripture [or doctrine] that confirm the Divine revelation imprinted in Nature (the law of “sowing and reaping”) comes from God; while any scripture [or doctrine] that denies it does not come from God. But what about the Jewish redeeming Messiah? Don’t we all have to believe in the true messiah, in order to be saved?? Well, the answer is “Yes, and No”. You see, Hebrew Bible hints at the idea that repentance itself is the true redeeming Messiah; so that, as soon as someone turns you away from wickedness, your redeemer has arrived.

As is written: “And the Redeemer shall come to Zion [to whom will the Redeemer come?]. . . unto them that turn [away] from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord”- Isaiah 59:20 (King James version).

In other words, the moment either Moses, Jesus, Muhammad or any other person [or thing] successfully turns you away from wickedness, in that moment such a person [or thing] becomes your personal Messiah

And how do we know that Sincere repentance is in itself the Redeeming Messiah? We know it because, without repentance, there is no salvation from death; as Jesus himself confirmed, when he went on to say: “I tell you, No! But unless you repent, you too will all perish”- Luke 13:3

The Law of God (Torah) prevents the Samaritan believer from “completely” accepting the claims of both Jesus and Muhammad (peace be upon them)

According to the holy Gospel, Jesus of Nazareth (peace be upon him) had no human father [and therefore was technically an orphan].

In addition, the Nazarene never married, nor did he ever procreate any children. Thus, it is impossible to safely rule out the possibility that Jesus testicles were crushed; or that Jesus penis was missing [or cutout].

But, in spite of this uncertainty, the Gospel narrative presents Jesus as claiming to be the Jewish High priest who would offer himself as the ultimate sacrifice to atone for Israel sins.

And why would this be important? It is important because the Torah (the Law of Moses) expects the Jewish religious leadership (particularly the High Priest) to be above any suspicion, or any reproach. In other words, since people with moral, physical, and intellectual limitations will often display a high degree of low self esteem, they are easily tempted to make false [and trumped up] claims, in order to justify receiving the glory and honor they think their current limitations deny them.

And that's why the Torah tells us that God didn't allow anyone with physical blemishes to take part of the priestly sacrifices [let alone become the High Priest]. As it is written- «The Lord spoke to Moses: “Tell Aaron: None of your descendants throughout your generations who has a physical defect is to come near to present the food of his God.

NO MAN WHO HAS ANY DEFECT IS TO COME NEAR: NO MAN WHO IS BLIND, LAME, FACIALLY DISFIGURED, OR DEFORMED; NO MAN WHO HAS A BROKEN FOOT OR HAND, OR WHO IS A HUNCHBACK OR A DWARF, OR WHO HAS AN EYE DEFECT, A FESTERING RASH, SCABS, OR A CRUSHED TESTICLE. No descendant of the priest Aaron who has a defect is to come near to present the fire offerings to the Lord. HE HAS A DEFECT AND IS NOT TO COME NEAR...»- Leviticus 21:16-21.

Not only does the Torah asks us to avoid the questionable situation were a physically disabled person attempts to get an exalted position [in order to satisfy his selfish ego]- but it even commands us to avoid letting into the circle anyone whose motives might be uncertain [or questionable].

As it is written: “He [the High Priest] is to marry a woman who is a virgin. He is not to marry a widow, a divorced woman, or one defiled by prostitution. He is to marry a virgin from his own people, so that he does not corrupt his bloodline among his people”- Leviticus 21:13-15.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

The God of Israel (יהוה) forbids us from worshiping anything that has been created [or begotten]; Rather, He has commanded us to worship only He who is the Father and Creator of all other things

Thus, since the New Testament claims Jesus Christ was indeed begotten (“... Thou art my Son; today have I begotten thee”- Hebrews 5:5), we therefore can't worship him, as that would amount to rebellious idolatry against He who commanded us saying: “Yet I am יהוה thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me: for there is no Savior beside me”- Hosea 13:4, 1599 Geneva Bible

Why can't the High Priest marry a widow? Because people might think that the High Priest had glanced at her favorably, thus inducing her to poison her current husband, in order to be available to the High Priest.

And why couldn't the High Priest marry a divorced woman? Because people might think that she was already pregnant when she married him [and therefore the heir to the High Priest post would end up being a bastard].

And the same rule applies to the post of supreme leader [or “king”] of Israel- No illiterate man could be accepted as king of Israel, as the Torah demanded that the king should be able to write his own Torah scroll: “And it shall be, when he [the Hebrew King] sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write him a copy of this Law in a book from that which is before the priests the Levites”- Deut. 17:18 (King James 21st Century Version).

In summary, the Torah sets a high moral standard for the post of High priest; and since Jesus (peace be upon him) was an orphan [whose father identity remained uncertain], and since he never proved beyond any doubt that his testicles weren't crushed, therefore the Hebrew people cannot accept him as their High Priest.

By the same token, since prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) was an orphan who never learned to read or write, the Hebrew people are prevented from accepting him as their “king” (in other words, as their supreme spiritual leader).

Still, since most Christians [and Muslims] do not have a profound knowledge of Torah, they incur in no fault when they consider Jesus (p.b.u.h.) to be the Messianic High Priest, or consider Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) to be the final and greatest of all spiritual leaders.

Ante los ojos del Creador (el Dios de Abraham, bendito sea), no hay Samaritanos, Judíos, Cristianos, ni Musulmanes

Ante los ojos del Creador (el Dios de Abraham, bendito sea), no hay Samaritanos, Judíos, Cristianos, ni Musulmanes; solo hay gente comprometida con hacer el Bien ordenado en las dos tablas de Piedra (no robes, no mientas, no asesines, no adúlteres, honra a tus padres, etc), y gente que aún no se ha comprometido con hacer ese Bien.

Como esta escrito: "La conclusión de todo el discurso oído [acerca de la vida y de la fe] es ésta: TEME A DIOS, Y GUARDA SUS MANDAMIENTOS; PORQUE ESTO ES EL TODO DEL HOMBRE. PORQUE DIOS TRAERÁ TODA OBRA A JUICIO, juntamente con toda cosa encubierta; SEA BUENA O SEA MALA"- Eclesiastés 12:13-14, Biblia Reina Valera, Revisión de 1977;

“El Señor ya te ha dicho, oh hombre, en qué consiste lo bueno, y qué es lo que Él espera de ti: que hagas justicia, que seas fiel y leal, y que obedezcas humildemente a tu Dios"- Miqueas 6:8, Biblia “Dios Habla Hoy”;

Y también dice en otro lugar: “Bendeciré a los que tienen un corazón humilde y arrepentido [sin importar si son Judíos, Cristianos, o Musulmanes], a los que tiemblan ante mi palabra"- Isaías 66:2, Biblia “Nueva Traducción Viviente”»

Si la Ley de Dios es correcta, entonces toda porción del Evangelio que la contradiga, deber ser errada

Un estudio detallado de la Sagrada Escritura muestra que, "el Brit Ha-dasha" (el Santo Evangelio) no posee el mismo grado de inspiración Divina que posee la Ley de Dios (la "Torah"). Es que la Ley de Dios dice así: “Cuidarás de hacer todo lo que yo te mando; no añadirás a ello, ni de ello quitarás” (Deut. 12:32).

Y lo anterior significa que, la veracidad del Antiguo Testamento (la Ley), no dependía en lo absoluto de nada de lo que pudiese añadir [o quitar] algún futuro libro (como sería el caso con el “Nuevo Testamento”); y significa también que, la veracidad de la Ley de Moisés, no dependía para nada de la veracidad de una futura “Ley de Cristo”.

En cambio, la veracidad del N.T. (el Evangelio), depende absolutamente de la veracidad del A.T. (la Ley); ¿Por que? Pues porque, no es la Ley, la que alega ser el cumplimiento del Evangelio; sino que, es el Evangelio, el que alega ser el cumplimiento de la Ley (“No penséis que he venido para abrogar la Ley o los Profetas; no he venido para abrogar, sino para cumplir"- Mateo 5:17).

Así las cosas, siempre que el Evangelio diga algo que contradiga [o difiera de] la Ley, la lógica nos fuerza a asumir que, es el Evangelio [y no la Ley], quien esta equivocado. ¿Por que? Pues porque, si el Evangelio “no cumple” lo dicho y ordenado en la Ley, entonces sería ridículo reclamar que el Evangelio es “el cumplimiento” de la Ley.

Por ejemplo, si la Ley dice que “Dios no es hombre, ni Hijo de hombre” (“DIOS NO ES HOMBRE, para que mienta, NI HIJO DE HOMBRE para que se arrepienta”- Números 23:19), y en adición dice que nadie puede morir por el pecado ajeno (“Los padres no morirán por los hijos, ni los hijos por los padres; CADA UNO MORIRÁ POR SU [PROPIO] PECADO”- Deut. 24:16); pero luego viene el Evangelio, y no solamente reclama que Dios es en efecto el hijo de hombre llamado Jesús (“Aguardando la esperanza bienaventurada, y la manifestación gloriosa de NUESTRO GRAN DIOS Y SALVADOR JESUCRISTO”- Tito 2:13), sino que también alega que Jesús murió por el pecado ajeno (“Porque primeramente os he enseñado lo que asimismo recibí: Que CRISTO MURIÓ POR NUESTROS PECADOS...”- 1 Corintios 15:3), entonces no nos queda otro remedio sino asumir que, la Ley dice la Verdad, mientras que el Evangelio no la dice.

¿Por que no dice la verdad el Evangelio? Pues porque, su reclamo, “no cumple” lo dicho por la Ley (que es el alegato sobre el cual se fundamenta la alegada veracidad del Evangelio)

La razón por la cual el Samaritanismo Reformado sigue los Diez Mandamientos de la Ley Divina, y no lo que enseña el santo evangelio

La fe Nazarena, es una noble y santa religión. Pero, las contradicciones que hallamos dentro del Evangelio, son demasiado serias [y demasiado numerosas], como para que un creyente honesto pueda aceptarle como la literal [e incuestionable] palabra de Dios.

Por ejemplo, el santo evangelio afirma en un lugar que Jesús espera la honra de los creyentes (“EL QUE NO HONRA AL HIJO, NO HONRA AL PADRE que le envió...”- Juan 5:23); pero, inmediatamente después, el evangelio afirma que Jesús no espera la honra de los creyentes (“GLORIA DE LOS HOMBRES NO RECIBO”- Juan 5:41).

"Abandonar los mandamientos de la Ley", tal y como propone la teología Cristiana, es doctrina de demonios. Y cual es la prueba? Pues la misma Escritura Hebrea, cuando profetiza que, quienes abandonen la Ley, se volveran tan perversos que terminaran alabando a los impios. Como esta escrito...

"Los que dejan la Ley, alaban a los impíos; Mas, los que la guardan, contendrán con ellos" Proverbios 28:4

¿En que quedamos? ¿Quiere Jesús nuestra honra, o no la quiere?

Otro ejemplo: el evangelio afirma en un lugar que, en el futuro, sería errado enseñar los mandamientos de la Ley, pues esta última terminó con la muerte de Juan el Bautista (“LA LEY y los profetas eran HASTA JUAN...”- Lucas 16:16).

Pero por otro lado, el evangelio afirma que, quien en el futuro enseñe los mandamientos de la Ley, será tenido por Grande (“... De manera que cualquiera que quebrante uno de ESTOS MANDAMIENTOS muy pequeños, y así enseñe a los hombres, muy pequeño será llamado en el reino de los cielos; mas CUALQUIERA QUE LOS HAGA Y LOS ENSEÑE, ÉSTE SERÁ LLAMADO GRANDE EN EL REINO DE LOS CIELOS”- Mateo 5:19).

¿En que quedamos?, ¿Hay que hacer y enseñar los mandamientos de la Ley? ¿O no hay que hacerlos y enseñarlos?

Finalmente, por un lado el evangelio quiere que creamos que, afirmando que Jesús era el hijo de Dios, los demonios decían una gran verdad. ¿Por que? Pues porque, siendo el immaculado hijo de Dios, el Nazareno podría [alegadamente] morir en sustitución de la manchada humanidad.

Como esta escrito: «También salían DEMONIOS de muchos, dando voces y DICIENDO: “TÚ ERES EL HIJO DE DIOS...”»- Lucas 4:41.

Pero, aunque por un lado quiere que creamos que los demonios dicen verdad, por otro lado el evangelio quiere que creamos que los demonios NUNCA dicen verdad. ¿Por que?

Pues porque responden al Diablo, un líder en el cual no hay verdad alguna.

Como esta escrito: (“Vosotros sois de vuestro padre EL DIABLO... El ha sido homicida desde el principio, y no ha permanecido en la verdad, porque NO HAY VERDAD EN ÉL. Cuando habla mentira, de suyo habla; PORQUE ES MENTIROSO, Y PADRE DE MENTIRA”- Juan 8:44).

¿En que quedamos? Podemos confiar en algo de lo que dicen el Diablo y sus demonios? ¿O no podemos confiar en nada de lo que dicen?

¿Era Jesús el immaculado hijo de Dios que podía morir por nuestros pecados? ¿O no lo era?

Y, ¿por que nos tortura Jesús con tanta incertidumbre? ¿No se supone que la sabiduría del mensaje cristiano sea pura, estando libre de incertidumbre e hipocresía? (“Pero LA SABIDURÍA QUE ES DE LO ALTO ES PRIMERAMENTE PURA... SIN INCERTIDUMBRE NI HIPOCRESÍA”- Santiago 3:17)

Hermano cristiano, ¿hasta cuando seguirás dando coces contra el aguijón de la Ley Divina? ¿Acaso no sabes que, solo los delincuentes, rechazan la Ley? ¿No sabes tu que, quien se rebela contra la Ley de Dios, se rebela contra Dios, y se condena a si mismo? Como esta escrito...

«Horror se apoderó de mí a causa de los inicuos, que dejan tu ley»- Salmo 119:53

«Pero no oyeron tu voz, ni anduvieron en tu Ley; nada hicieron de lo que les mandaste hacer; por tanto, has hecho venir sobre ellos todo este mal»- Jeremías 32:23

Tanto la perspectiva teológica acerca de “Jesús” [el Mesías del Cristianismo Romano], como la perspectiva teológica acerca de “Yeshua” [el Mesías de los Cristianos Mesiánicos, o "Netsaritas"], es errada y fraudulenta

Tanto la perspectiva teológica acerca de “Jesús” [el Mesías del Cristianismo Romano], como la perspectiva teológica acerca de “Yeshua” [el Mesías de los Cristianos Mesiánicos, o "Netsaritas"], es errada y fraudulenta.

¿Por que? Pues porque, tanto la una como la otra, encarnan una concepción pagana de la fe Hebrea (Samaritana) originalmente revelada por Dios a Israel.

¿En que consiste tal concepción pagana? Pues en creer que, el Dios Eterno, se agrada de algún tipo de sacrificio humano; y en creer que, algún hombre, puede ser lo suficientemente perfecto como para morir en sustitución de otro hombre.

Es que, tanto el “Jesús” Romano, como “Yeshua” mesiánico, alegan haber sido hombres sin pecado, y por ende capaces de morir por la maldad de otros hombres.

De nuevo, esto no es sino falso paganismo, pues la escritura Hebrea enseña que Dios no solamente abhorre los sacrificios humanos, sino que, el aceptarlos, ni siquiera le ha subido al pensamiento; como esta escrito- «Y edificaron lugares altos a Baal, para quemar con fuego a sus hijos en holocaustos al mismo Baal; COSA QUE NO LES MANDÉ, NI HABLÉ, NI ME VINO AL PENSAMIENTO»- Jeremías 19:5.

En adición, la Escritura Hebrea siempre enseñó que no existe [ni tampoco existirá] un hombre que solo haga el bien, sin nunca pecar; Como esta escrito-

«CIERTAMENTE NO HAY HOMBRE JUSTO EN LA TIERRA QUE HAGA (SOLAMENTE) EL BIEN, Y NUNCA PEQUE»- Eclesiastés 7:20. Finalmente, la Escritura Hebrea siempre enseñó que nadie moriría por el pecado de alguna otra persona; sino que, cada uno, moriría a causa de su propia maldad;

Como esta escrito- «sino que CADA CUAL MORIRÁ POR SU PROPIA MALDAD... el alma que pecare, esa morirá... sino que cada cual morirá por su propia maldad... cada uno morirá por su pecado»- Jeremías 31:30, Ezequiel 18:4, Jeremias 31:30, Deut. 24:16.

Place no blind trust in a man who, while pretending to be wise and holy, bears witness of his own person

The apostle Paul (peace be upon him) is recorded as publicly bragging about being a “Hebrew of the Hebrews”. As is written: “Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, AN HEBREW OF THE HEBREWS”- Philippians 3:5, KJV.

Not only that, but Paul even brags about being blameless (perfect) when it comes to the justice demanded by God’s Law: “... TOUCHING THE RIGHTEOUSNESS WHICH IS IN THE LAW, BLAMELESS”- Philippians 3:6, KJV.

But this behavior is unbecoming for any true man of God, as both Hebrew and Christian scriptures commands the believer to be humble, abstaining from self praise as well as from bearing witness of himself.

As is written: “Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips”- Proverbs 27:2; And elsewhere says, “If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true”- John 5:31. Why was it arrogant for Paul to describe himself as “an Hebrew of the Hebrews”?

Because it is arrogant (sinful) to call yourself “an Hebrew of the Hebrews” when you don’t even know who the Hebrew High Priest actually is! As is written: “Then said Paul, I wist not, brethren, that he was the High Priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people”- Acts 23:5.

In fact, Paul seems to have had a serious pride problem, as he would not accept to be treated as a second class citizen, nor would he ever be humble enough to accept the fact that, not being one of Jesus original apostles, he needed the advice [and the guidance] of the latter.

As is written: «But Paul said to them, “They beat us in public without a trial, although WE ARE ROMAN CITIZENS... LET THEM COME THEMSELVES AND ESCORT US OUT”»- Acts 16:37.

And elsewhere says: “... The gospel preached by me is not of human origin. FOR I DID NOT RECEIVE IT FROM A HUMAN SOURCE AND I WAS NOT TAUGHT IT, BUT IT CAME BY A REVELATION OF JESUS CHRIST.... I DID NOT IMMEDIATELY CONSULT WITH ANYONE... NOW, FROM THOSE [APOSTLES] RECOGNIZED AS IMPORTANT (what they once were makes no difference to me; God does not show favoritism)—THEY ADDED NOTHING TO ME”- Galatians 1:12,15 & 2:6, Christian Standard Bible.

What was God's cure for Paul's arrogance? Well, since his Hebrew name was "Shaul", and since [just like ancient king Shaul] he considered himself to be the greatest of all Hebrews, God decided to give him the same punishment he gave ancient king Shaul (1 Samuel 16:14)- to be tormented by an evil spirit.

As is written: "Therefore, so that I would not exalt myself, a thorn in the flesh was given to me, a messenger of Satan to torment me so that I would not exalt myself"- 2 Corinthians 12:7, Christian Standard Bible.

In short although Paul was indeed part of God's plan to bring Hebrew monotheism unto the Gentile nations of the World, the Torah observant believers does well avoiding to place a blind trust on anything written by this noble Christian apostle.

"I am יהוה (Adonai Yah): that is my Name: and my glory will I not give to another (Moses, Jesus, Paul, Peter, Muhammad, etc) ... and make no mention of the name of other gods (Jesus, Allah, Krishna, Aura Mazda, etc), neither let it be heard out of thy mouth"- Exodus 23:13, Isaiah 42:8 (King James Bible)

Christianity is an awesome religion. But Christian theology is just too shady, too contradictory, and too ambiguous to properly represent the truthful and righteous God who, centuries before, had said to the Hebrew people: "Keep thee far from a false matter... A righteous man hateth lying... Trust ye not in lying words... These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man [only] the truth to his neighbour [thereby departing from shady conjectures and hyped suppositions]... O ye sons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into shame [pretending that I'm a god of flesh and blood who gets tired, sweats, and defecates]? How long will ye love vanity and seek after lies?" - Exodus 23:7, Proverbs 13:5, Jeremiah 7:4, Zechariah 8:16, Psalm 4:2 (King James Bible)

Trinity : the hidden immorality behind the idea of God being three different persons

What is the problem with the idea of God being three persons? What's wrong with trying to serve "The heavenly Father", "the Son", and "the Holy Spirit"? Well, the problem is that [as Jesus wisely put it] you can't serve more than one "Master" (in other words, you can't obey more than one will), as according to Jesus you'll end up despising one of them. As is written: "No man can serve two Masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other”- Matt. 6:24.

For example, You can't serve [and obey] the Jehovah (the Heavenly Father) who asks you to hold fast unto the Law (“This book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth...”- Joshua 1:8), while at the same time serve [and obey] the Son (Jesus), who asks you to let go of the Law (“The Law and the prophets were until John...”- Luke 16:16). You will either obey one, or obey the other; but either way you will end up disobeying one of them. And the former contradiction is the very reason why God hated Polytheism, as it lends itself to immoral behavior.

How? Well, when a man had the option of choosing between different gods, he would always choose to follow the god offering him the most, while demanding the minimum; the god asking him the minimum amount of [moral] demands, while offering him the most [freedom from moral responsibilities]. Thus, when a man is forced to choose between the God named Jehovah [who demands that he lives the life of holiness depicted by the Law], and the god named Jesus [who ask no such moral demands from him] this man will always fall for the morally inferior life offered by the god named Jesus.

And this might explain the reason why, although Jehovah's Law prevented the believer from holding slaves longer than six years (“If thou buy a Hebrew servant, six years he shall serve; and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing”- Exodus 21:2), Christian law allowed the believers to hold them instead for life [which is a morally inferior standard].

Salvation without the works of the Law?

Christianity is a perfectly valid path for those who wish to serve the Creator. But the Christian concept of “salvation without the works of the Law” is totally misleading. Why? Because the truth is that, one of the “works” of the Law is that the sinner should repent (confessing his sins). As it is written: “If someone incurs guilt in one of these cases, HE IS TO CONFESS he has committed that sin”- Leviticus 5:5, Christian Standard Bible. And Jesus himself made clear that, without this “work” of repentance, there's no salvation whatsoever: “No, I tell you; but UNLESS YOU REPENT, YOU WILL ALL PERISH...”- Luke 13:3&5 (Christian Standard Bible)

Si solo crees de la Ley de Dios aquello que te conviene, y rechazas aquello que no te conviene, entonces no crees realmente en la Ley [ni en el Dios que la reveló a Israel], sino en tí mismo

A Dios no se le puede creer parcialmente, ni se le puede obedecer parcialmente; o creemos y obedecemos el criterio de Dios, o creemos y obedecemos nuestro propio criterio. No hay puntos intermedios. Dios le ordenó a Saúl destruir a Amalek, incluyendo a todas las personas, así como a todos los animales. Pero Saúl decidió establecer su propio criterio, y re-interpretar la orden Divina, como significando que destruyese solo aquello que no podría ser ofrecido a Dios en holocausto. Así que, Saúl, perdono a Agag, rey de Amalek, así como a lo mejor del ganado.

Pero, esta rebeldía y obstinación, terminó costándole el reino a Saúl; como está escrito- «PORQUE COMO PECADO DE ADIVINACIÓN ES LA REBELIÓN, Y COMO ÍDOLOS E IDOLATRÍA LA OBSTINACIÓN. POR CUANTO TÚ DESECHASTE LA PALABRA DE יהוה, ÉL TAMBIÉN TE HA DESECHADO PARA QUE NO SEAS REY» (1 Samuel 15:23). ¿Que significa todo esto? Pues significa que, todo aquel que deseche lo dicho y ordenado por Dios [en su Ley Divina], para seguir en cambio su vano criterio, sufrirá el mismo castigo que Saúl, siendo reprendido por Dios, y “desechado del Reino” [prototipo de la exclusión de su parte en “el Reino de Dios”, o “el Reino de Los Cielos”] ¿Porque rechazan los hombres la simple religión de Dios?

La “Religión de Dios”, es sencilla, y auto-evidente: “Apártate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre” (Salmo 37:27). pero, una religión tan sencilla y evidente, no es propicia para quien percibe en la religión un medio para obtener fama, poder, riquezas, o libertinaje sexual; para aquel que ve en la religión el medio perfecto para crear su propia “tribu”, y erigirse a si mismo como “Rey” [o “Cacique”] de ella. Y, es por esto que [por medio de forzadas y estrambóticas teologías], los hombres aman complicar la sencilla y auto-evidente religión de Dios, haciéndola casi ininteligible.

¿Por que? Pues porque “El río revuelto, es ganancia de pescadores”. Es decir, mientras mas complique un maestro la simple y auto-evidente verdad Divina, mas importante y necesario se hará ese maestro para sus discípulos. Y, mientras mas necesiten al hombre que les guía, mas gloria, honra, y poder, lograra obtener ese hombre de ellos. De hecho, la necesidad sicológica de tal hombre, podría llegar a ser tan grande, que podrían necesitarle tanto como al Creador, y por ende comenzar a creer que, ese hombre, es en efecto la manifestación de Dios en la Tierra.

SAMARITANISMO REFORMADO
El que no tiene pecados, no necesita aprender obediencia alguna, pues su obediencia es ya perfecta. Y es por eso que, los creyentes hebreos, cuestionamos el reclamo Cristiano que alega que, el Nazareno (paz sea con el), no tenia ningun pecado; pues, "el Nuevo Testamento", reconoce que Jesus tuvo en efecto que aprender obediencia. Como esta escrito:
"Y aunque era Hijo, por lo que padeció aprendió la obediencia"- Hebreos 5:8

La salvación, es más sencilla que lo que le han hecho a usted creer

No se preste usted para promover la ignorancia, la gimnasia mental, los sofismos, ni los malabarismos teológicos. ¡El Creador no es un Dios sádico, que se preste para el juego cruel de esconderse de quienes le buscan, a fin de hacerse el difícil de encontrar! La Salvación, no puede depender de conocer un lenguaje extranjero, ni tampoco alguna compleja, elitista, o rebuscada teología; tiene que depender de algo tan sencillo y auto-evidente, que aún el mas antiguo, aislado, e ignorante indígena del Amazonas, la encuentre fácil de entender [¡aún si nunca supo lo que era una Biblia!].

La Salvación, tiene que depender de algo tan fundamental, que por torpe que sea un individuo, le sea fácil de encontrar. Como está escrito: “y será llamado Camino de Santidad; no pasará inmundo por él, sino que él mismo estará con ellos; EL QUE ANDUVIERE EN ESTE CAMINO, POR TORPE QUE SEA, NO SE EXTRAVIARÁ” (Isaías 35:8).

¿Cual es ese "Camino" (o "Verdad") que todos encontramos fácil de entender? ¡Pues la Ley de "Siembra y cosecha"! Es decir, la ley que muestra que, el hombre cosecha la misma "semilla" (o "fruto") que ha sembrado; Que, si siembra limones agrios, con con el tiempo habrá de cosechar limones agrios; pero que, si siembra higos dulces, con el tiempo habrá de cosechar higos dulces. Así que, el hombre que quiere cosechar el bien [en lo porvenir], tiene que comenzar a sembrar el Bien [en el tiempo presente]; "Sembrar el Bien que queremos para nosotros mismos"... ¡Ahí esta la salvación del Hombre! Y, es por esto que la Escritura resume el plan de salvación, en palabras que aún el mas torpe puede entender: «APÁRTATE DEL MAL, Y HAZ EL BIEN, Y VIVIRÁS PARA SIEMPRE» (Salmo 37:27)

Si sigue usted a Moisés, este último le llevará hasta la la Tierra Prometida

Si sigue usted con fidelidad lo ordenado por Moisés (no idolatres a nada ni a nadie fuera de יהוה, no robes, no mates, no adulteres, no levantes falso testimonio, honra a tus padres, Guarda el día de Shabbat, etc), le aseguramos que [al igual que sucedió con Israel] Moisés le conducirá hasta la Tierra Prometida (Figura del Mundo que pronto ha de venir). Pero, si actúa usted como Korah (Coré); rechazando lo dicho y ordenado por Moisés sobre las dos tablas de Piedra, hay una gran posibilidad de que acabe usted igual que Korah; quien fue gravemente castigado, siendo forzado a descender al centro de la Tierra (un sitio que, aún los antiguos, sabían que ardía con fuego)

¿Cual es la diferencia principal entre lo que postula el Samaritanismo Reformado, y lo que predicán las otras tradiciones religiosas?

La diferencia entre lo que predica un seguidor del Samaritanismo Reformado, y lo que podría predicar un seguidor de alguna de las otras principales tradiciones religiosas, estriba mayormente en lo siguiente: En las otras tradiciones, la fe es un asunto de “tener la razón”: de tener la teología correcta; de tener la religión correcta (judía, cristiana, Islámica, etc.); de seguir la Escritura correcta (Torah, evangelios, Korán, Libro de Mormón, etc.); de orar en el lenguaje correcto (Hebreo/Árabe/Griego/Latín, etc), y de seguir al Mesías/apóstol/profeta correcto (Moisés, Jesús, Pablo, Muhammad, etc).

En el Samaritanismo Reformado , el asunto principal no es creer el dogma (o la doctrina) correcta; el meollo del asunto es actuar de forma correcta, siendo humildes, misericordiosos, y justos.

Para el Samaritano, la realidad suprema es que “El árbol se conoce por el fruto”; que el hombre cosecha el mismo bien o mal que ha sembrado; que quien hace lo bueno, cuenta con la aprobación de su Creador; pero, quien hace lo malo, esta bajo la ira Divina.

La prédica del Samaritanismo Reformado no consiste en hacer complejas apologías teológicas acerca de posiciones doctrinales; sino que consiste en cambio en alentar a los hombres a actuar de acuerdo a la exhortación que, a hacer el bien, nos hace el Creador:

A no robar, no matar, no adulterar, no mentir, no codiciar, no difamar, a honrar a nuestros padres, a ser justos, a ser misericordiosos, a ser humildes, a alejarse de la inmoralidad, y a renunciar al orgullo. Esto no significa que el Samaritanismo Reformado no tenga teología, su Escritura, su lengua de oración, ni profeta propio. Solo significa que entendemos que ello no es en sí mismo una finalidad; sino solamente un vehículo cuya finalidad es forjar en el creyente el compromiso con la vida de humildad y de bien que agrada al Creador.

Y lo anterior no es “romanticismo idealista”, o “wishful thinking”, como a menudo alega la cultura occidental.

De hecho, no es sino el estilo de vida práctico y alcanzable que caracterizó a aquellos creyentes Hebreos cuyos nombres fueron tenidos por dignos de ser registrados en la Escritura Hebrea (Enoc, Noé, Job, Abraham, Eliezer, Melquisedec, Isaac, Jacob, José, Moisés, Samuel, David, Eliseo, Josías, Ezequías, Daniel, Esdras, Nehemías, Ester, Mardoqueo, etc)

No man (nor religion) can “save” Mankind

If you study in detail [and with an open mind] the Holy Scriptures of Jews, Samaritans, and Christians, you will be surprised to discover that, contrary to what most people believe, the former confirm the fact that no human being, no Church, nor any religion can save Mankind.

The only thing that can successfully do it is sincere repentance; the kind of repentance that turns us away from evil, in order to start doing the goodness commanded by our Creator (the Ten Commandments, whose summary is no other than to love God, as well as our fellow human beings). As it is written: “One who covers up his transgressions will not prosper, but whoever confesses and forsakes them finds mercy... Do not put your trust in princes; in man, in whom there is no salvation...

I tell you: 'No, I tell you! But unless you repent, you all will perish the same way'... Turn from evil and do good, so you may live forever... A final word, when all has been heard: Fear God and keep His mitzvot! (commandments) For this applies to all mankind...

For the commandments- “You shall not commit adultery, you shall not murder, you shall not steal, you shall not covet”, and any other commandment- are summed up in this word: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself’ ... Love does no harm to a neighbor; therefore love is the fullness of the Torah (the Law)... The one who does not love does not know God, for God is love”- Proverbs 28:13, Psalm 146: 3, Luke 13: 3, Psalm 37:27, Ecclesiastes 12:13, Romans 13: 9, Romans 13:10, & 1 John 4: 8 (Tree of Life Bible Version).

So, regardless of your religion, the important thing is to make sure your life is one of repentance, and obedience to God’s commandments [love, justice, mercy, and humility]. As is written: “He has told you, humanity, what is good, and what Adonai (The Lord) is seeking from you? Only to practice Justice, to love Mercy, and to walk humbly with your God”- Micah 6:8, Tree Of Life Bible Version.

Cuando hace el bien (temiendo a Dios, y guardando sus mandamientos), el creyente se convierte en Luz para el Mundo El Creyente (es decir, aquella persona que sin importar su raza hace el bien, temiendo a Dios y guardando sus mandamientos), es una Luz encendida por יהוה (el Creador, bendito sea), para que alumbre al Mundo Mundo entero.

Como esta escrito: «¿No es que partas tu pan con el hambriento, y a los pobres errantes albergues en casa; que cuando veas al desnudo, lo cubras, y no te escondas de tu hermano? ENTONCES, NACERÁ TU LUZ COMO EL ALBA, y tu salvación se dejará ver pronto; e irá tu justicia delante de ti, y la gloria de יהוה será tu retaguardia. Entonces invocarás, y te oirá יהוה ; clamarás, y dirá él: “¡Heme aquí!”.

SI QUITARES DE EN MEDIO DE TI EL YUGO, EL DEDO AMENAZADOR, Y EL HABLAR VANIDAD; Y SI DIERES TU PAN AL HAMBRIENTO, y saciases al alma afligida, EN LAS TINIEBLAS NACERÁ TU LUZ, Y TU OSCURIDAD SERÁ COMO EL MEDIODÍA. יהוה te pastoreará siempre, y en las sequías saciará tu alma, y dará vigor a tus huesos; y serás como huerto de riego, y como manantial de aguas, cuyas aguas nunca faltan» – Isaías 58:7-11

Did Moses really exist? Did the Exodus ever happen?

Suppose a person decides to visit the city of Seville, Spain. Once there, he drops by the National archives, and is shown a copy of Christopher Columbus diary, detailing his discovery voyage. In addition, the person is shown a copy written by Columbus son (Hernando) on 1530 C.E.

Would that person dare to say that Columbus never existed? Would he dare to claim that a Spanish encounter with the New world never really happened, and that America was rather discovered by a Korean crew headed by a man name “Ro Tae Woo”?

Why would no rational person make such a ridiculous claim? The reason is that old, dubious, and poorly documented facts can be easily faked.

But faking recent and well documented history (anything less than approximately 800 years) is extremely difficult, as most people are well aware of recent facts. And, since the Spanish discovery of America is so recent that we still have original documentation, no one could rationally deny it.

And something similar happens with Moses and his writings (Torah). You see, according to Jewish reckoning, the Hebrew people were delivered by Moses on 1312 BCE.

But less than 600 years later (721 B.C.E.), Israel’s ten northern tribes went into exile, to be replaced by the people we currently know as “Samaritans”.

In addition, Jewish literature (2 Kings 17:24-28, & Pirkei D’Rabbi Eliezer 38) states that, as soon as the Samaritans settled in the land, the Assyrian king (Sennacherib) sent a priest and two Jewish rabbis [carrying Torah scrolls] to teach them Moses religion (the given name for these two rabbis is R. Dostai BenYannai, and R. Zechariah).

But again, Moses had lived less than 600 years earlier! So the Samaritans could not have been deceived into believing such a lie as a false Exodus [where the Egyptian empire was allegedly humiliated and decimated], nor into a false Moses. Why? Because they were well aware of recent history! In other words, for 700 B.C.E. Samaritans, Moses time was so recent that no one would have dared deny the historical facts, or come up with fake tales about Egyptian national humiliation. In fact, since the Samaritan Torah was written in the old Hebrew (Notarikon) script used before the introduction of present day (square) script, there’s a good chance Samaritans might even have “original documentation” (dating back to the time of Joshua and the Judges).

So, yes; both logic and history supports the idea that Moses actually existed, and that the Exodus did really happen.

Is it really important to be part of Jacob’s race?

Being a physical descendant of Jacob (Israel) will make a difference in a person’s life only if such person strives to live the life of righteousness that pleases the God of Jacob; otherwise, it will avail him nothing. Why? Because Hebrew Scripture states that, although king Ahab belonged to Jacob's stock, when the former stubbornly turned away from God, the Creator himself started to plan his demise. As is written: «And the Lord said, “Who shall persuade Ahab, that he may go up and fall at Ramothgilead?”»- 2 Kings 22:20, KJV).

On the other hand, Job wasn't at all related to Jacob's race, yet God was so pleased with him that He went on to proclaim Job’s name in heaven («And the Lord said unto Satan, “Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?”»- Job 1:8).

In short, Scripture’s teaching is that the God of Jacob (blessed be He) is pleased with him who pursues righteousness (no matter if he be Jew or Gentile). Likewise, He is angry with him who persist in doing evil (again, no matter if he be Jew or Gentile). And the latter is such an undeniable truth, that even the Christian Scripture agrees with it, when it goes on to say: “Now I truly understand that God doesn’t show favoritism, but in every nation the person who fears him and does what is right is acceptable to him”- Acts 10:34-35

El Samaritanismo fue la fe original de Jesús de Nazaret

Cuando Jesús fue interrogado acerca de su teología, respondió diciendo que la vida eterna estaba en amar a Dios y a nuestro prójimo. Como esta escrito- «Y he aquí un intérprete de la Ley se levantó y dijo, para probarle: “MAESTRO, ¿HACIENDO QUÉ COSA HEREDARÉ LA VIDA ETERNA?”. ÉL LE DIJO: “¿Qué está escrito en la Ley [de Moisés]? ¿Cómo lees?”. Aquél, respondiendo, dijo: “AMARÁS AL SEÑOR TU DIOS CON TODO TU CORAZÓN, Y CON TODA TU ALMA, Y CON TODAS TUS FUERZAS, Y CON TODA TU MENTE; Y A TU PRÓJIMO COMO A TI MISMO”. Y le dijo: “Bien has respondido; HAZ ESTO, Y VIVIRÁS [PARA SIEMPRE]”»- Lucas 10:25-28. Y según Jesús, ¿cual religión es la que mejor instruye a sus adeptos a guardar el supremo mandamiento que nos ordena amar a Dios y al Prójimo? Pues el Galileo enseña que es la Religión Samaritana, ya que utiliza a un Samaritano como supremo ejemplo de amor a dios y al prójimo. Como esta escrito: «Un hombre descendía de Jerusalén a Jericó, y cayó en manos de ladrones, los cuales le despojaron; e hiriéndole, se fueron, dejándole medio muerto. Aconteció que descendió un sacerdote por aquel camino, y viéndole, pasó de largo. Asimismo un levita, llegando cerca de aquel lugar, y viéndole, pasó de largo.

Pero un samaritano, que iba de camino, vino cerca de él, y viéndole, fue movido a misericordia; y acercándose, vendó sus heridas, echándoles aceite y vino; y poniéndole en su cabalgadura, lo llevó al mesón, y cuidó de él. Otro día al partir, sacó dos denarios, y los dio al mesonero, y le dijo: Cuídamele; y todo lo que gastes de más, yo te lo pagaré cuando regrese. ¿Quién, pues, de estos tres te parece que fue el prójimo del que cayó en manos de los ladrones? Él dijo: “El que usó de misericordia con él”. Entonces Jesús le dijo: “Ve, y haz tú lo mismo”»- Lucas 10:30-37.

Y el hecho de que la religión Samaritana encarnaba la verdadera fe del Nazareno, es finalmente confirmado en la Escritura que dice: «¿No decimos bien nosotros, que TÚ ERES SAMARITANO, y que tienes demonio? Respondió Jesús: “Yo no tengo demonio, antes honro a mi Padre; y vosotros me deshonráis. Pero yo no busco mi gloria; hay quien la busca, y juzga”» Juan 8:48-50. En el anterior pasaje, note como Jesús es explícito en negar la primera parte de la acusación de sus enemigos [que tiene demonio]; pero, como sería de esperar, se abstiene de negar la segunda parte de la acusación [que profesa la fe Samaritana].

El castigo para el creyente que utiliza el concepto de “la salvación por fe” como medio para justificar su desobediencia a los 10 Mandamientos Divinos, es terminar enloqueciendo

El problema con la mayoría de nuestros amados hermanos Netsaritas (Cristianos), es que se engañan a sí mismos, creyendo que la salvación es “por fe” [es decir, por fe en la grandeza del sacrificio de Cristo], y no “por las obras” [entiéndase por ello las obras de obediencia a los mandamientos del Dios de Israel]. Es decir, que el Creador en realidad no quiere que le obedezcamos, sino que le adulemos. De este modo, el Netsarita no solamente insulta a su Creador [adscribiéndole la misma sed de adulación y pleitesía que agobia a los seres humanos] sino que en adición hace del Dios de Israel un amuleto pagano- una ‘pata de conejo’ que venera y atesora, pero sin un serio compromiso con la vida de santidad ética y moral que demanda Dios de los suyos («Habla a toda la congregación de los hijos de Israel, y diles: “Santos seréis, porque santo soy yo יהוה vuestro Dios”»- Levítico 19:2; «Seguid la paz con todos, y la Santidad, sin la cual nadie verá al Señor»- Hebreos 12:14).

Y, esta falta de compromiso con guardar los Diez principios de la Ley Divina (No tengas otros dioses fuera de יהוה , no levantes un falso testimonio, no robes, no mates, no hurtes, no adulteres, no violes el Día de Reposo, honra a tus padres, no codicies lo ajeno, etc), hace que una perturbadora cantidad de Netsaritas vivan como el Pagano; quien tiene “A Dios en el Pecho, y a Satan en los Hechos”. Es que, a los ojos del Creador, esta aptitud de obstinación y rebeldía hacia lo ordenado por el Creador equivale a los pecados de idolatría y adivinación (es decir, a paganismo idólatrico).

Como esta escrito: “Porque como pecado de adivinación es la rebelión, y como ídolos e idolatría la obstinación. Por cuanto tú desechaste la palabra de יהוה , Él también te ha desechado...”- 1 Samuel 15:23. Es decir, el hombre que se obstina en justificar su desobediencia a lo ordenado por el Dios de Israel, será a la postre desechado. ¿Que significa ser desechado? Pues que, como rehúsa andar en armonía con Dios, el Creador termina rehusando andar con él (“¿Andarán dos juntos, si no estuvieren de acuerdo?”- Amós 3:3).

Y cuando Dios se aparta de una vida, esa vida se expone a ser atormentada por Satán. Como esta escrito: “El Espíritu de Dios se apartó de Saúl, y le atormentaba un espíritu malo de parte de Dios”- 1 Samuel 16:14. Y es por esto que no debe extrañarnos que, así como la arrogante desobediencia de Saúl, fue castigada con el tormento de un espíritu malo, del mismo modo la arrogante desobediencia de Saulo [quien insistía en predicar “salvación sin necesidad alguna de obedecer los mandamientos Divinos”] fuese también castigada con el tormento de un espíritu malo.

Como esta escrito: “... Me fue dado un aguijón en mi carne, un mensajero de Satanás que me abofetea, para que no me enaltezca sobremanera”- 2 Corintios 12:7. Es que el Creador ha advertido a su Pueblo que, el castigo por abandonar los mandamientos Divinos es la locura, la confusión mental, y la turbación de espíritu. Como esta escrito: “Pero acontecerá, si no oyes la voz de יהוה tu Dios, para procurar cumplir todos sus mandamientos y sus estatutos que yo te intimo hoy.... El Señor te herirá con locura, ceguera [mental], y turbación de espíritu...”- Deut. 28:15& 28.

De nuevo, no debe entonces sorprendernos que el apóstol Pablo (paz y bendición sean con él) estuviese lo suficientemente turbado de espíritu como para describirse a sí mismo como “loco”, y a su predica como “locura”:

1) “Lo que hablo, no lo hablo según el Señor, sino como en locura” (2 Corintios 11:17)

- 2) “Ojalá me toleraseis un poco de locura! Sí, toleradme” (2 Corintios 11:1)
 - 3) “Recibidme como a loco, para que aun me gloríe yo un poquito” (2 Corintios 11:16)
 - 4) “Agradó a Dios salvar a los creyentes por la locura de la predicación” (1 Corintios 1:21)
- ¡Que el Dios de Abraham tenga misericordia de su Pueblo, así como de nuestros amados hermanos Netsaritas!

La idolatría que se manifiesta tanto en el Islam como en el Cristianismo

Tanto el Islam como el Cristianismo son religiones hermosas; dos caminos perfectamente válidos para servir al Creador. El problema con ambas confesiones religiosas es que, en su bien intencionado [pero extraviado] deseo de exaltar a sus respectivos fundadores, terminan cometiendo el pecado de idolatría; pues adscriben tanto a Jesús como a Muhammad una perfección física y moral que solo el Creador [y no ningún hombre de carne y hueso] posee. Y, esta idolatría, hace que tanto Cristianos como Musulmanes terminen siendo poseídos por un espíritu de mentira (1 Reyes 22:22); pues mentir es la única opción que les queda disponible cuando sus grandilocuentes reclamos son confrontados con la realidad objetiva de las limitaciones físicas y morales que sufrían tanto Jesús como Muhammad: que aunque muy nobles, ambos hombres se exaltaban exageradamente a sí mismos [menospreciando así el mandamiento que dice, “Alábetete el extraño, y no tu propia boca; el labio ajeno, y no los labios tuyos”- Proverbios 27:2. Y también advierte en otro lugar, “Antes del quebrantamiento, es la soberbia, Y antes de la caída, la altivez de espíritu”- Prov. 16:18. En adición, ambos hombres estaban obsesionados con obtener el reconocimiento y la pleitesía humana [especialmente la de los Judíos]; ninguno de ellos toleraba la disensión o el cuestionamiento objetivo; y ambos sufrían de las mismas limitaciones físicas que sufre cualquier otro mortal (se levantaban con mal aliento, sudaban, padecían de hambre y sed, necesitaban orinar y defecar, sentían tristeza, no lo sabían todo, etc). Así, el Cristiano se ve compelido a negar [mintiendo] que hubiese algo que Jesús [el hombre que el Cristianismo afirma ser el Dios omnisciente] halla jamás ignorado. Y, cuando se le confronta con el texto donde Jesús mismo reconoce no saberlo todo (“Pero de aquel día y de la hora nadie sabe, ni aun los ángeles que están en el cielo, ni el Hijo, sino el Padre”- Marcos 13:32) este Cristiano no tiene otra opción sino mentir con desfachatez, pretendiendo que aceptemos la gimnasia intelectual que insiste en decir que Jesús [el hombre] no lo sabía todo; pero que Jesús [el Dios] sí lo sabe todo (¡algo así como querer convencernos de que el Rey no está realmente desnudo, sino que tiene en cambio un traje transparente!).

Tristemente, el Cristiano falla en entender que, cualquier teología que le obligue a mentir constantemente, solo puede surgir de Satán [el padre de toda mentira], y no del Dios que aborrece tanto la mentira como a los mentirosos (“No habitará dentro de mi casa el que hace fraude; el que habla mentiras no se afirmará delante de mis ojos... De palabra de mentira te alejarás... El justo, aborrece la palabra de mentira... Amaste el mal más que el bien, La mentira más que la verdad. Has amado toda suerte de palabras perniciosas, Engañosa lengua.

Por tanto, Dios te destruirá para siempre; Te asolará y te arrancará de tu morada, Y te desarraigará de la tierra de los vivientes” (Salmo 101:7, Éxodo 23:7, Proverbios 13:5, Salmo 52:3-5). Y este constante mentir, a fin de justificar la idolatría por el Maestro de Galilea (paz sea con él) pueda quizás explicar el singular fenómeno que observamos solamente en el Nuevo Testamento; uno donde tanto los demonios como los espíritus inmundos se sienten tan cómodos con la teología Cristiana, que hasta se ocupan en predicarla.

¿Como? Pues anunciando a viva voz que [en abierta oposición a lo dicho por Dios en Éxodo 4:22]

Jesús es el Hijo de Dios; y que, la adoración de Jesús, es el camino de Salvación. Como esta escrito: «También salían demonios de muchos, dando voces y diciendo: “Tú eres el Hijo de Dios”»- Lucas 4:41; «Y los espíritus inmundos, al verle, se postraban delante de él, y daban voces, diciendo: “Tú eres el Hijo de Dios”»- Marcos 3:11;

«Aconteció que mientras íbamos a la oración, nos salió al encuentro una muchacha que tenía espíritu de adivinación... Esta, siguiendo a Pablo y a nosotros, daba voces, diciendo: “Estos hombres son siervos del Dios Altísimo, quienes os anuncian el camino de salvación”»- Hechos 16:16-17.

¿Significa lo hasta aquí dicho que tanto Cristianos como Musulmanes están perdidos, y por ende condenados al fuego? ¡Absolutamente no! Lo que significa es que, si bien su arrepentimiento y obediencia son aceptas al Creador, no podrán experimentar la completa libertad mental y espiritual que su servicio a Dios promete, sino hasta que hallan abandonado la idolatría que abre la puerta de sus corazones a un espíritu impuro de mentira y falsedad. Y la tradición Samaritana prefiguraba todo esto diciendo que, si un hombre decidiese agarrar en su mano un reptil, tal hombre se haría inmediatamente impuro.

Y, aun si este hombre se sumergiese en todas las aguas del Mundo, mientras mantenga en su mano al reptil, seguiría siendo inmundo. Pero, tan pronto escoja soltar al reptil, solo necesitara sumergirse en un pequeño balde de agua, a fin de obtener su purificación.

Que el Dios de Abraham tenga misericordia de nuestros amados hermanos Cristianos, así como de nuestros amados hermanos Judíos, Musulmanes, y Samaritanos, a fin de que nada ni nadie pueda robarles la bendición que tiene el Creador preparada para todo aquel que le busca en espíritu y en verdad. Amen.

Jesús de Nazareth (Yeshua) no pudo haber sido Dios, pues Dios nunca peca. En cambio, el B'rit Ha-dashah (el evangelio) presenta a Jesús mintiendo y pecando

Yeshua (Jesús de Nazaret, paz sea con él) no pudo haber sido literalmente Dios, ni tampoco el Mesías que los Nazarenos alegan fue prometido a Israel. ¿Por que? Pues porque, si tal Mesías hubiese sido en efecto una sola persona, tendría que haber sido una en cuya boca no hubiese habido engaño; como esta escrito: “Y se dispuso con los impíos su sepultura, mas con los ricos fue en su muerte; aunque NUNCA HIZO MALDAD, NI HUBO ENGAÑO EN SU BOCA”- Isaías 53:9. Pero los evangelios Cristianos atestiguan que Yeshua en efecto tuvo engaño en su boca; pues le citan mintiendo en repetidas ocasiones:

1) Jesús mintió, pues dijo que era imposible que un profeta muriese fuera de Jerusalén (“porque NO ES POSIBLE QUE UN PROFETA MUERA FUERA DE JERUSALÉN”- Lucas 13:33). Es que, Abraham, era profeta (“Ahora, pues, devuelve la mujer a [Abraham] su marido; porque es profeta”- Génesis 20:7), pero murió fuera de Jerusalén (“Y MURIÓ ABRAHAM en buena vejez... Y LO SEPULTARON ISAAC E ISMAEL SUS HIJOS EN LA CUEVA DE MACPELA”- Génesis 25:8-9). De igual modo, Moisés era también profeta (“Y nunca más se levantó PROFETA en Israel COMO MOISÉS”- Deut. 34:10), pero murió fuera de Jerusalén (“Y MURIÓ ALLÍ MOISÉS SIERVO DE יהוה , EN LA TIERRA DE MOAB”- Deut. 34:5)

2) Jesús mintió, pues dijo que no había verdad en Satanás y sus demonios (“EL [SATANÁS] HA SIDO HOMICIDA desde el principio, y no ha permanecido en la verdad, PORQUE NO HAY VERDAD EN ÉL”- Juan 8:44). Es que, si los demonios nunca dicen la verdad, entonces los demonios mienten, cuando dicen que Jesús es el hijo de Dios (“También SALÍAN DEMONIOS de muchos, DANDO VOCES Y DICIENDO: TÚ [JESUS] ERES EL HIJO DE DIOS”- Lucas 4:41)

3) Jesús mintió, pues dijo que volvería antes de que sus discípulos acabasen de recorrer todas las ciudades de Israel (“porque de cierto os digo, que NO ACABARÉIS DE RECORRER TODAS LAS CIUDADES DE ISRAEL, ANTES QUE VENGA EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE”- Mateo 10:23). Y, ya que todos sus discípulos murieron, sin que el Hijo del hombre haya venido, concluimos que su promesa fue fraudulenta.

4) Jesús mintió, pues dijo que volvería en breve (“El que da testimonio de estas cosas dice: CIERTAMENTE VENGO EN BREVE”- Apocalipsis 22:20) Y, como ningún hombre racional de su época, habría considerado como “breve” los 2,000 años que han transcurrido sin que Jesús acabe de “volver”, pues el reclamo de que habría de venir “en breve” es sencillamente falso.

5) Jesús mintió, pues se jactó de tener el poder para hacer que el apóstol Juan no muriese, sino que permaneciese vivo hasta su retorno (“Volviéndose Pedro, vio que les seguía [Juan] el discípulo a quien amaba Jesús... Cuando Pedro le vio, dijo a Jesús: Señor, ¿y qué de éste? Jesús le dijo: SI QUIERO QUE ÉL QUEDE HASTA QUE YO VENGA, ¿QUÉ A TI? Sígueme tú”- Juan 21:20-22). Y esto era falsa jactancia, pues Juan no solamente murió, sino que, el mismo Evangelio, desmiente el alegato (“Este dicho se extendió entonces entre los hermanos, que aquel discípulo no moriría. Pero JESÚS NO LE DIJO QUE NO MORIRÍA, SINO: SI QUIERO QUE ÉL QUEDE HASTA QUE YO VENGA, ¿QUÉ A TI?”- Juan 21:23)

6) Jesús mintió, pues discriminó contra los gentiles, diciendo que solo había sido enviado a las ovejas perdidas de la casa de Israel (“NO SOY ENVIADO SINO A LAS OVEJAS PERDIDAS DE LA CASA DE ISRAEL”- Mateo 15:24; “POR CAMINO DE GENTILES NO VAYÁIS, Y EN CIUDAD DE SAMARITANOS NO ENTRÉIS...”- Mateo 10:5-6.

Pero los mismos escritos cristianos admiten que, el anterior reclamo, es falso, pues citan tanto al apóstol Pedro, como los apóstoles Pablo y Santiago, afirmando que Dios no hace acepción de personas (“Entonces Pedro, abriendo su boca, dijo: Por verdad hallo que DIOS NO HACE ACEPCIÓN DE PERSONAS”- Hechos 10:34; “Porque NO HAY ACEPCIÓN DE PERSONAS PARA CON DIOS”- Romanos 2:11;

7) Jesús mintió, pues dijo que estaría tres días y tres noches en “el corazón de la Tierra” [o “en la tumba”], como esta escrito: “Porque como estuvo Jonás en el vientre de la ballena tres días y tres noches, ASÍ ESTARÁ EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE EN EL CORAZÓN DE LA TIERRA TRES DÍAS Y TRES NOCHES”- Mateo 12:40.

Y esto último es falso, pues el mismo evangelio afirma que Jesús murió el viernes en la tarde (“era día de la preparación, y ESTABA POR COMENZAR EL DÍA DE REPOSO [es decir, el Sábado Judío, que comienza a las 6:00 pm del Viernes]”- Lucas 23:54), y que Jesús [alegadamente] resucita al amanecer del próximo Domingo (“EL PRIMER DÍA DE LA SEMANA [ES DECIR, EL DOMINGO, QUE ES EL PRIMER DÍA DE LA SEMANA JUDÍA], MARÍA MAGDALENA FUE DE MAÑANA, SIENDO AUN OSCURO, AL SEPULCRO; Y VIO QUITADA LA PIEDRA DEL SEPULCRO [señalando de este modo que el Nazareno ya había salido del corazón de la tierra]”- Juan 20:1).

Y, como solamente hay dos noches [y no tres] entre la tarde del Viernes, y la mañana del Domingo, concluimos que Jesús en efecto mintió, cuando dijo que estaría tres noches en el corazón de la Tierra. 8) Yeshua mintió, cuando dijo que la Ley ordenaba al Judío aborrecer a su enemigo (“OÍSTEIS QUE FUE DICHO: AMARÁS A TU PRÓJIMO, Y ABORRECERÁS A TU ENEMIGO”- Mateo 5:43). ¿Y por que es falsa esta aseveración? Pues porque, en toda la Ley, no hay un solo texto que diga literalmente eso.

De hecho, la Ley dice lo contrario; cuando ordena que mostremos bondad hacia el enemigo, como esta escrito- “SI ENCONTRARES EL BUEY DE TU ENEMIGO O SU ASNO EXTRAVIADO, VUELVE A LLEVÁRSELO. SI VIERES EL ASNO DEL QUE TE ABORRECE CAÍDO DEBAJO DE SU CARGA, ¿LE DEJARÁS SIN AYUDA? ANTES BIEN LE AYUDARÁS A LEVANTARLO”- Éxodo 23:4-5.

9) Jesús mintió, cuando dijo que, la gente que pide señal, encarna una generación mala y adúltera (“El [Jesús] respondió y les dijo: LA GENERACIÓN MALA Y ADÚLTERA DEMANDA SEÑAL”- Mateo 12:39).

Y esto último es completamente falso, pues los grandes siervos de Dios [Abraham, Moisés, Gedeón, Ezequías, etc] a menudo pidieron señales. De hecho, en algunos casos, el mismo Creador les alentó a que pidieran una señal (“PIDE PARA TI SEÑAL DE הוּיָהּ TU DIOS, demandándola ya sea de abajo en lo profundo, o de arriba en lo alto”- Isaías 7:11).

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

The Divine Law teaches God is no man (“God is not a man...”- Numbers 23:19). But the New Testament claims Jesus to be not only God but even “the Second Adam”. As is written: “I and the Father are one”- John 10:30; “And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit... The first man is of the earth, earthy; the second man is the Lord from heaven” (1 Corinthians 15:45-47, KJV). So, he who follows God’s Law can properly say that, while the Serpent started out trying to convince Eve that Adam [the First Man] could be LIKE God (“In fact, God knows that when you eat it your eyes will be opened and YOU WILL BE LIKE GOD...”- Genesis 3:5); it ended up making an ever greater claim- that the Second Adam could not only be LIKE God but he could actually be God!

En otros casos, el Creador ni siquiera esperó a que se le pidiese una señal, sino que se adelantó a ofrecerla (“Y ESTO TE SERÁ POR SEÑAL DE QUE YO TE HE ENVIADO: cuando [tú, Moisés] hayas sacado de Egipto al pueblo, serviréis a Dios sobre este monte”- Éxodo 3:12).

De hecho, Dios no solamente permite que su Pueblo pida una señal, sino que espera que no crea en la primera ni en la segunda señal (“Y SI AÚN NO CREYEREN A ESTAS DOS SEÑALES, NI OYEREN TU VOZ, TOMARÁS DE LAS AGUAS DEL RÍO Y LAS DERRAMARÁS EN TIERRA; y se cambiarán aquellas aguas que tomarás del río y se harán sangre en la tierra”- Éxodo 4:9).

La historia del rey Ezequías, quizás sea la que mejor ilustre la falsedad que implica alegar que, solo la gente mala y adúltera, pide señal de un profeta. Es que, aunque el mismo Creador da testimonio de que David era “padre” de Ezequías (es decir que, al igual que David, Ezequías contaba con el favor Divino), cuando Isaías informa a Ezequías que sanará de su enfermedad, este último procede a pedir a una señal del profeta, la cual el último no vacila en proveer. Como esta escrito: “Así dice יהוה, el Dios de DAVID TU PADRE: Yo he oído tu oración, y he visto tus lágrimas”- 2 Reyes 20:5; “Y Ezequías había dicho a Isaías: ¿QUÉ SEÑAL TENDRÉ DE QUE יהוה ME SANARÁ, y que subiré a la casa de יהוה al tercer día?”- 2 Reyes 20:8; “Respondió Isaías: ESTA SEÑAL TENDRÁS DE יהוה , DE QUE HARÁ יהוה ESTO QUE HA DICHO: ¿Avanzará la sombra diez grados, o retrocederá diez grados? Y Ezequías respondió: Fácil cosa es que la sombra decline diez grados; pero no que la sombra vuelva atrás diez grados. ENTONCES EL PROFETA ISAÍAS CLAMÓ A יהוה ; E HIZO VOLVER LA SOMBRA POR LOS GRADOS QUE HABÍA DESCENDIDO en el reloj de Acáz, diez grados atrás”- 2 Reyes 20:9-11. En conclusión, Yeshua (Jesús de Nazaret, paz sea con él) no pudo haber sido el Mesías descrito por el profeta Isaías como “no teniendo engaño en su boca”. ¿Por que? Pues porque, los escritos Nazarenos, ponen en boca de Yeshua engaños que son demasiado grandes (y demasiado graves) como para que podamos pasarlos por alto.

He who forgives becomes the Son of God

Reformed Samaritanism teaches a simple yet profound message. In fact, it’s so simple that it is almost impossible to believe, save by the grace of God. This Divine message is the following: “That when a man forgives the evil done against him, and sincerely forgets the injustice suffered at the hands of his fellow human beings, he thereby becomes a son of God”. In practical terms, this means that if we forgive, God will also forgive us; if we show kindness, God will make sure kindness is shown unto us; and if we behave like the Heavenly father, the heavenly Father will make us His own children. And the former is such an indisputable truth that even the Christian gospel bears witness of it, when it goes on to say: “But love ye your enemies: do good, and lend, hoping for nothing thereby: and your reward shall be great, and you shall be the sons of the Highest; for He is kind to the unthankful, and to the evil”- Luke 6:35 (Douay-Rheims 1899 Bible, American Edition).

¡Cuidado con creer ciegamente en todo lo dicho y hecho por el noble Saulo de Tarso [quien escribió la mayoría de las cartas del Nuevo testamento]! Recordad que, cuando el Rey Saúl se hizo orgulloso, Dios permitió que fuese atormentado por un espíritu malo que contuviese su exagerado orgullo. Como esta escrito: “El Espíritu de Dios se apartó de Saúl, y le atormentaba un espíritu malo...”- 1 Samuel 16:14.

De ese mismo modo, cuando Saulo de Tarso se hizo orgulloso, Dios permitió que fuese también atormentado por un espíritu malo que contuviese su exagerado orgullo. Como esta escrito: “... Me fue dado un aguijón en mi carne, un mensajero de Satanás que me abofetee, para que no me enaltezca sobremanera”- 2 Corintios 12:7

The Falseness of claiming that “Sins can only be atoned with a blood sacrifice (offering)”

"And God saw their works, that THEY TURNED FROM THEIR EVIL WAY; AND GOD REPENTED OF THE EVIL, THAT HE HAD SAID THAT HE WOULD DO UNTO THEM; and he did it not"- Jonah 3:10. God forgave the sins of the people from Nineveh. What blood sacrifice did they offer??? Wasn't it only sincere repentance?

God's judgment hanged upon king Nebuchadnezzar. What was Daniel's advice to him? To offer a blood sacrifice? Or to show his sincere repentance by doing good to his fellow human beings?:

“Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and BREAK OFF THY SINS BY RIGHTEOUSNESS, AND THINE INIQUITIES BY SHEWING MERCY TO THE POOR”- Daniel 4:27.

When king Solomon finished building Jerusalem's Temple, he prayed to God, and God gave him His approval. Why did Solomon feel compelled to pray? Because he foresaw by the Holy Spirit that the Temple would one day be destroyed, and Israel would have to procure atonement without any blood (or wheat) sacrifice. So Solomon prayed that God would accept Israel's sincere repentance in lieu of the Temple (blood and wheat) sacrifices: «IF THEY SIN AGAINST THEE, (for there is no man that sinneth not,) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them to the enemy, SO THAT THEY CARRY THEM AWAY CAPTIVES unto the land of the enemy, far or near;

YET IF THEY shall bethink themselves in the land whither they were carried captives, and REPENT, AND MAKE SUPPLICATION UNTO THEE in the land of them that carried them captives, SAYING, WE HAVE SINNED, AND HAVE DONE PERVERSELY, WE HAVE COMMITTED WICKEDNESS; AND SO RETURN UNTO THEE WITH ALL THEIR HEART, AND WITH ALL THEIR SOUL, in the land of their enemies, which led them away captive, AND PRAY UNTO thee toward their land, which thou gavest unto their fathers, THE CITY WHICH THOU HAST CHOSEN, AND THE HOUSE WHICH I HAVE BUILT for thy name:

THEN HEAR THOU THEIR PRAYER AND their supplication in heaven thy dwelling place, and maintain their cause, And FORGIVE THY PEOPLE THAT HAVE SINNED AGAINST THEE, AND ALL THEIR TRANSGRESSIONS WHEREIN THEY HAVE TRANSGRESSED AGAINST THEE...»- 1 Kings 8:46-50

Centuries later, Israel was taken captive, and spent 70 years exiled in Babylon, where they had neither temple nor the freedom to offer any blood sacrifices. Was prophet Daniel (and his generation) lost because he couldn't offer blood to atone for his sins?? Or was he saved from destruction because he believed God had promised to show His favor to those who would turn in repentance toward Jerusalem, making confession of their sins?:

«Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, HE WENT INTO HIS HOUSE; AND HIS WINDOWS BEING OPEN IN HIS CHAMBER TOWARD JERUSALEM, HE KNEELED UPON HIS KNEES THREE TIMES A DAY, AND PRAYED, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime... AND I (DANIEL) SET MY FACE UNTO THE LORD GOD, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes: AND I PRAYED UNTO THE LORD MY GOD, AND MADE MY CONFESSION, AND SAID, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments; WE HAVE SINNED, AND HAVE COMMITTED INIQUITY, AND HAVE DONE WICKEDLY, AND HAVE REBELLED, EVEN BY DEPARTING FROM THY PRECEPTS AND FROM THY JUDGMENTS». (Daniel 6:10 and 9:3-5)

And what happened right after Daniel prayed for God's favor? He received what he asked for!-- «the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation» (Daniel 9:21)

La división que hace el cristianismo entre “gente salva”, y gente “no salva” es cuestionable

Aunque a primera vista aparenta hacer perfecto sentido, la noción Cristiana que divide a la gente entre “salvos”, y “no salvos”, es realmente extraviada. ¿Por que? Pues porque no es un fiel reflejo de lo revelado por Dios a Israel, sino que apunta en cambio a un sagaz origen humano. ¿Por que? Pues porque la división que hacía la Ley, era entre aquellos cuya voluntad era caminar a diario por “la senda de los mandamientos” (“Guíame por la senda de tus mandamientos, Porque en ella tengo mi voluntad”- Salmo 119:35), y aquellos que no andaban por tal camino (“Reprendiste a los soberbios, los malditos, Que se desvían de tus mandamientos”- Salmo 119:21).

En otras palabras, la salvación mostrada por Dios a Israel era “Performance based”; y estaba basada en la ley de siembra y cosecha encarnada en la sentencia que prescribía “Ojo por ojo, y diente por diente”. En la practica, esto ultimo significaba que Dios era fiel en devolver a cada uno el mismo bien [o mal] que hubiese hecho en cualquier momento dado. De este modo, cuando el hombre se comprometía con no sembrar el mal, sino sembrar solamente el Bien, obtenía de ese modo “la salvación”, pues con ello evitaba todo mal, para segar en cambio el bien correspondiente a la buena semilla que a diario sembraba. ¿Y que si el creyente caía en pecado, y hacía algún mal? Pues que confesaba su maldad, y resarcía el daño causado.

Pero, a diferencia de lo que pretende implicar la terminología Cristiana, “la salvación” del Creyente Hebreo no era “todo o nada”; es decir, ni su futuro bienestar, ni su futura condenación, estaban “escritas en piedra” (como profesa la teología Cristiana de “Salvo siempre salvo”), sino que su salvación era el resultado de la diaria obediencia; de su compromiso con hacer su mejor y mas sincero esfuerzo por caminar por “el camino de los mandamientos”(también conocido como “la senda de santidad”).

Y esto significaba que, si en un momento dado el creyente escogía dar la espalda a esta senda, para obstinarse en la abierta rebelión [sin luego proceder al arrepentimiento], el creyente perdía entonces su salvación. Por otro lado, si un hombre que se hallaba “perdido” confesaba su maldad, y comenzaba a andar por la senda de la obediencia, sus pasadas maldades no le eran recordadas, sino que obtenía de este modo la salvación. Como esta escrito:

1) “Pero si éste engendrare hijo, el cual viere todos los pecados que su padre hizo, y viéndolos no hiciere según ellos; no comiere sobre los montes, ni alzare sus ojos a los ídolos de la casa de Israel; la mujer de su prójimo no violare, ni oprimiere a nadie, la prenda no retuviere, ni cometiere robos; al hambriento diere de su pan, y cubriere con vestido al desnudo; apartare su mano del pobre, interés y usura no recibiere; guardare mis decretos y anduviere en mis ordenanzas; éste no morirá por la maldad de su padre; de cierto vivirá”- Ezequiel 18:14-17.

2) “Mas si el justo se apartare de su justicia y cometiere maldad, e hiciere conforme a todas las abominaciones que el impío hizo, ¿vivirá él? Ninguna de las justicias que hizo le serán tenidas en cuenta; por su rebelión con que prevaricó, y por el pecado que cometió, por ello morirá”- Ezequiel 18:24

La contradicción de alegar que “la salvación no es por obras”, para luego demandar la obras del diezmo y las ofrendas

La Ley de Dios decía que el diezmo era para para los levitas, para los sacerdotes, para los pobres, los huérfanos, y las viudas; pero nunca fue para el pastor de ninguna iglesia. Como esta escrito: «Porque a los levitas he dado por heredad los diezmos de los hijos de Israel»- Números 18:24. Y, lo que la Ley ordenaba diezmar, no era diezmar el dinero, sino el producto de la Tierra (vacas, ovejas, frutas, cereales, etc), como esta escrito:

«Y el diezmo de la tierra, así de la simiente de la tierra como del fruto de los árboles, de יהוה (Adonai Yah) es; Es cosa dedicada a יהוה»- Levítico 27:30. Y también dice en otro lugar: «Y todo diezmo de vacas o de ovejas, de todo lo que pasa bajo la vara, el diezmo será consagrado a יהוה»- Levítico 27:32

Confess Jesus as our Lord?

Confess Jesus as our Lord? But who is Jesus own Lord? Shouldn't we rather worship that person, instead of Jesus? As is written: "If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father: FOR MY FATHER IS GREATER THAN I"- John 14:28, KJV. And also says in another place “And when all things shall be subdued unto him, THEN SHALL THE SON (JESUS) ALSO HIMSELF BE SUBJECT UNTO HIM THAT PUT ALL THINGS UNDER HIM (God the Father)...”- 1 Corinthians 15:28. and finally says elsewhere: “... but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I [JESUS] ASCEND UNTO MY FATHER, AND YOUR FATHER; AND TO MY GOD, AND YOUR GOD”- John 20:17

Es el creyente Cristiano, quien tiene que justificar su Fe

Los Diez mandamientos, fueron escritos por el dedo de יהוה ; En cambio, los Evangelios no fueron escritos por el dedo de יהוה. Así que, son los hermanos Cristianos [y no los creyentes Hebreos], quienes tienen que dar cuenta de su fe, y justificar la razón por la cual rehúsan obedecer lo escrito por el dedo de יהוה [los Diez mandamientos], para obedecer en cambio lo que no fue escrito por el dedo del hombre (los Evangelios, que niegan la necesidad de comprometerse con la obediencia a los mandamientos Divinos)

Jesus (peace be upon him) failure to appoint a clear successor, is proof that he lacked the wisdom required to be considered more than just a powerful (yet flawed) messenger of God

Most practising Hebrew believers have an ample knowledge of the Tanak (the Hebrew Scriptures). And this first hand knowledge allows them to detect many of the inconsistencies often plaguing other monotheistic religions. For example, the Torah states that, before departing from this world, prophet Moses (peace be upon him) bore witness of the divine wisdom [and power] that rested upon his own person. How? Simply by blessing each tribe of Israel, and also by publicly appointing Joshua, as the leader who would replace him at the helm of the believers community.

But, the keen observer, notes that the power to bless Israel, and the wisdom to clearly appoint a successor, is missing from both the Muslim as well as the Christian holy scriptures. In other words, prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) failed to appoint a successor, and that lack of wisdom caused Islam to split into two opposing camps (Sunni and Shiah Islam); two antagonistic sects that keep shedding each others blood up to our present time.

By the same token, something similar (though to a lesser degree) happened with Christianity. In other words, Jesus never publicly appointed a living successor. And, this grave lack of wisdom, allowed Saul of Tarsus [someone who didn't personally walked with Jesus, nor had a first hand knowledge of Jesus teachings] to fill the ensuing void of leadership. In fact, Paul was so efficient at exploiting this lack of wisdom, that he ended up becoming the author of a disproportionate amount of the books comprising the New Testament.

And, since “the many words” coming out of Paul's mouth are given the same Divine authority as “the few words” coming out of Jesus mouth, it followed that Jesus own theology eventually had to be interpreted under the light of Paul's own theology [and not the other way around!].

Thus, it is sound to say that, just as it happened with Islam, Jesus failure to appointing a living successor destroyed the integrity of original Christianity. Why? Because, in the end, Paul's words became more influential than Jesus words. Therefore, it was Paul [and not any of Jesus apostles] who ended up at the helm of the new movement, thereby becoming the theological father of modern day Christianity. But we have to wonder, why would Jesus make such a grave mistake?

Why wouldn't he appoint a leader to replace him? Maybe because it would have been viewed by his followers as a sign of defeat [and thus would have become a source of doubt in their hearts]. Why? Because a man who is in charge of building a lofty tower will only appoint a replacement when he thinks that he won't be able to finish it! In other words, the Jewish background of Jesus original disciples didn't allow them to expect a Messiah that wouldn't finish [at once] his mission of liberating and restoring the nation of Israel. And that's why the gospel quotes Jesus disciples asking him the following question:

«... “LORD, WILT THOU AT THIS TIME RESTORE THE KINGDOM TO ISRAEL”»- Acts 1:6). In order to understand what's going on, we must keep in mind that, although Christianity claims that old testament people got saved by their belief in a future Messiah [one that would die for their sins], the idea itself is absurd, as the gospels attest to the fact that Jesus own [Jewish] disciples never expected him to die for their sins, nor to leave this world before first accomplishing all of the messianic promises.

And that's why the disciples didn't understand what Jesus meant, when he claimed that he had to die, in order to be raised from the dead («And as they were coming down from the mountain he cautioned them to tell no one what they had seen, except when the son of man should have risen from the dead. AND THEY KEPT WHAT HE SAID TO THEMSELVES, DISCUSSING WITH ONE ANOTHER WHAT THE WORDS “WHEN HE SHALL HAVE RISEN FROM THE DEAD” MIGHT MEAN»- Mark 9:8-9).

In fact, the gospel hints at the idea that Jesus seems to have believed that, before leaving this world, he would have been able to single handedly fulfill all of his disciples messianic expectations. And from whence do we know it? We know it from the gospel verses where Jesus scolds the man who starts to build a tower [in other words, a great and lofty enterprise] but then is unable to finish it. As it is written: «For which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it? LEST HAPLY, AFTER HE HATH LAID THE FOUNDATION, AND IS NOT ABLE TO FINISH IT, ALL THAT BEHOLD IT BEGIN TO MOCK HIM; SAYING, "THIS MAN BEGAN TO BUILD, AND WAS NOT ABLE TO FINISH!"»- Luke 14:28-30. After listening to the former statement, there's no doubt that Jesus disciples felt themselves assured that their master would be wiser than the laughable man he had made reference to, and would have indeed complete [at once] "the towering mission" of fulfilling the messianic promises made by the Hebrew scriptures [something Jesus in the end failed to complete, as he never restored back the kingdom to Israel].

In short, Jesus behaviour was that of the person who earns your trust by giving you a bunch of noble and wonderful advises; but then goes on to do the exact opposite! For example, Jesus would encourage his disciples not to resist evil doers, but instead "offer them the other cheek" (Luke 6:29). But, when confronted with the same situation, Jesus himself would resist the evildoer, and would abstain from offering him the other cheek (John 18:22-23).

And something similar happened with prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him); who would encourage his followers to control their sexual appetites [by not having more than four wives], but would himself proceed to marry up to nine different wives. Muhammad would ask his followers to write their last will; but he himself would die without ever writing his own last will.

What was the goal of this contradictory [but shrewd] behaviour? It was none other than to "emotionally paralyze" their audience; as the humble believer is often unable to separate a glorious shining message, from it's faulty and shady messenger. And, even if he is smart enough to do the latter, he often finds himself unable to rally the emotional strength required to effectively oppose the messenger's questionable behaviour, without the guilt of feeling that, by so doing, he's also opposing the glorious message he has come to cherish (and admire).

The former emotional trick, is the one displayed when a venerated [male] school teacher touches the private parts of a young [and naive] female student, in order to teach her "what parts of her body no one should be able to touch". As the teacher has giving her a good piece of advice; the girl feels unable to challenge the teacher's questionable behaviour, so that she ends up dismissing it, and finding a means to rationalize the otherwise improper behaviour [thereby clearing the teacher from any perceived fault].

And this is how Islam explains away prophet Muhammad's multiple faults: by claiming that they were no faults at all, but were rather "special privileges" conferred to him by God (the "special privilege" of having more than four wives; the "special privilege" of not having to write a last will; the "special privilege" to marry his son's former wife, etc). Does this means that Islam and Christianity are false religions? Not at all! It simply means that, although the holy ark used in God's temple was made out of pure gold [and was therefore nonperishable], it's inner core was made out of wood [and was therefore perishable and corruptible].

It means that, although we are expected to drink the sweet wine of God's holy message, the Creator doesn't expects us to swallow the clay cup from which the wine is being poured. In conclusion, a wise believer is he who isn't limited to a "black and white" [all or nothing] view of God's revelation. It is he who learns from everybody; accepting all that is holy, just, merciful, and humble [no matter if the latter comes from Judaism, from Islam, or from Christianity], and rejecting all that is morally shady, unjust, cruel, envious, selfish, or boastful [no matter if the latter comes from Judaism, from Christianity, or from Islam].

El creyente debe tener mucho cuidado de no hacer un fetiche de la tierra de Israel. Es que Jerusalén es una ciudad Santa solamente cuando sus habitantes viven en santidad. De lo contrario, es una Sodoma espiritual, llena de injusticia y opresión. Como bien dicen los escritos cristianos: "Y sus cadáveres estarán en la plaza de la grande ciudad (Jerusalén), que en sentido espiritual se llama Sodoma y Egipto, donde también nuestro Señor fue crucificado"- Apocalipsis 11:8

"Woe to those who call evil good, and good evil; who substitute darkness for light, and light for darkness..." - Isaiah 5:20-21

Woe is he who takes what the Creator calls "evil" (rebellion against God's commandments, as stated on Psalm 119:21), and calls it "good" ("the Freedom of God's grace")... Woe is he who takes what the Lord calls "light" (the holiness of walking in the path of God's commandments, as stated in Proverbs 6:23) and calls it "darkness" ("the enslavement of the Law")

¿Por que rehusan los creyentes Samaritanos (Hebreos) aceptar a Jesús como su supremo salvador y Mesías?

El Dios de Israel (bendito sea), encargó rigurosamente a su Pueblo el perseguir un estilo de vida ético y moral. Y, el aspecto mas relevante de tal estilo de vida, consiste en abrazar la verdad, rechazando todo aquello que tenga visos de ser falso, incierto, dudoso, o contradictorio. Como esta escrito: "DE PALABRA DE MENTIRA, TE ALEJARÁS"- Éxodo 23:7. Y también dice en otro lugar: "Estas son las cosas que habéis de hacer: HABLAD VERDAD CADA CUAL CON SU PRÓJIMO; [Y] JUZGAD SEGÚN LA VERDAD..."- Zacarías 8:16.

Así las cosas, el creyente que desee ser fiel a la verdad, esta forzado a abstenerse de consentir con cualquier postura teológica que parta de la conjetura, o cuyo fundamento sea uno de naturaleza dudosa, incierta, o contradictoria. ¿Por que? Pues porque, de así hacerlo, podría encontrarse a sí mismo dando testimonio de algo que resulte [a la postre] ser poco mas que un ingenioso ardid [violando de ese modo el mandamiento que le prohibía mentir].

Esto último, es particularmente cierto cuando se trata de la noble teología Cristiana; una teología que no solamente niega y contradice las verdades reveladas por Dios al pueblo de Israel, sino que hasta se contradice a sí misma, tal y como si sus autores hubiesen querido [desde el arranque] hacer de tal teología el equivalente ideológico de "un río revuelto"- un ambiente idóneo para "la pesca de hombres" [es decir, para el engaño de las almas incautas e ingenuas]. Y, esto último, esta intimado en el pasaje evangélico que afirma que Jesús deseaba que sus seguidores se convirtiesen en "pescadores de hombres".

Como esta escrito: "VENID EN POS DE MI, Y OS HARÉ PESCADORES DE HOMBRES"- Mateo 4:19, Marcos 1:17, & Lucas 5:10. Note como, el que el Evangelio sugiera que la misión de los apóstoles fuese el hacerse "pescadores de hombres", pone en entredicho la integridad de la teología cristiana. Es que, la imagen que se evoca, es aquella de un pescador; uno que sabe que, su anzuelo, no es [en si mismo] lo suficientemente atractivo como para hacer que el pez desee morderlo.

¿Que hace entonces el pescador? Pues recurre a la trampa y al engaño, escondiendo su dañino anzuelo detrás una seductora y apetecible carnada. Y, lo que todo esto sugiere, es que, el propósito de la teología cristiana, no es presentar la verdad histórica de los hechos, sino el presentar una narrativa tan seductora, tan arrolladora, y tan emocionalmente gratificante, que se nos haga prácticamente imposible rechazarla. Como dice el evangelio: “PERO ESTAS COSAS SE HAN ESCRITO [NO PARA INFORMAR ACERCA DE LA VERDAD OBJETIVA DE LOS HECHOS HISTÓRICOS, SINO] PARA QUE CREÁIS QUE JESÚS ES EL CRISTO”- Juan 20:31.

Y esto a su vez explica el hecho de que, el cristianismo, adule el ego [e inflame las pasiones] de sus potenciales adeptos. ¿Como? Pues asegurándoles que su confianza en la teología cristiana garantiza que recibirán las ricas promesas hechas por Dios a Israel, pero sin necesidad de asumir las correspondientes responsabilidades”. Esto último, es la versión teológica del famoso “Fraude Nigeriano”. Un fraude donde se explota la codicia por dinero fácil que caracteriza al mundo occidental.

El fraude consiste en que, una humilde y devota viuda nigeriana, promete regalar una millonaria suma de dinero a cualquier extranjero que tenga la suficiente fe en ella como para darle acceso a su cuenta bancaria [algo así como cuando la teología cristiana dice a sus adeptos que la salvación es por fe, y no por obras; para luego insistir en que esos mismos adeptos “hagan la obra” de dar sus diezmos y ofrendas].

La realidad es que, el fraude y la falsedad implícita en la idea de “pescar hombres”, explica el hecho de que, la Escritura Hebrea, no registre ningún caso de algún pescador que haya sido llamado jamás al ministerio profético. De hecho, ya que la gente honesta y objetiva, no necesita ser seducida a “tragarse” ninguna gran verdad [pues, cuando una verdad es realmente grande, se hace a si misma auto-evidente, como es el caso con la belleza de una mujer hermosa; como es el caso con la seguridad económica que provee la posesión de oro, de plata, y de piedras preciosas; como es el caso con lo intenso del brillo Solar; y como es el caso con la inmutabilidad de los cambios de estaciones], no debe entonces sorprendernos el descubrir que, la Escritura Hebrea, no registra un solo caso de algún Israelita (sin importar si tal Israelita era un patriarca, un rey, un profeta, o un sacerdote) que hubiese tratado de convencer a algún gentil para que creyese en la veracidad de la Ley de Dios, o para que aceptase la verdad de la fe Mosaica.

Así las cosas, los Hebreos están justificados en rechazar como incierto el reclamo cristiano que afirma que, Jesús (paz sea con él), es el primogénito hijo de Dios. ¿Por que? Pues porque es un reclamo dudoso, ya que contradice la verdad Divina mostrada en Éxodo 4:22, donde se afirma que, el primogénito hijo de Dios, no es otro sino Israel («Y dirás a Faraón: יהוה ha dicho así: ISRAEL ES MI HIJO, MI PRIMOGÉNITO»- Éxodo 4:22).

De igual modo, el creyente Hebreo esta justificado en rechazar el reclamo cristiano que afirma que, Jesús de Nazaret, nunca cometió pecado alguno. ¿Por que? Pues porque es un reclamo dudoso, ya que contradice la verdad Divina mostrada en Eclesiastés 7:20, donde se afirma que no hay hombre justo que haga solamente el bien, sin nunca pecar (“Ciertamente NO HAY HOMBRE JUSTO EN LA TIERRA, QUE HAGA EL BIEN Y NUNCA PEQUE”- Eclesiastés 7:20).

El creyente Hebreo, también esta justificado en rechazar el reclamo cristiano que afirma que, Jesús de Nazaret, murió por los pecados ajenos. ¿Y por que? Pues porque es un reclamo incierto y dudoso, ya que contradice la verdad mostrada tanto en Deuteronomio 24:16, como en Jeremías 31:30, donde se afirma que cada cual habrá de morir por su propia maldad [y no por la maldad ajena]. Como esta escrito: (1) “Los padres no morirán por los hijos, ni los hijos [morirán] por los padres; CADA UNO MORIRÁ POR SU [PROPIO] PECADO”- Deuteronomio 24:16; (2) “SINO QUE CADA CUAL MORIRÁ POR SU PROPIA MALDAD...”- Jeremías 31:30.

En adición, los Hebreos están justificados en rechazar como incierto y contradictorio, el reclamo cristiano que afirma que, quien ha visto a Jesús, ha visto también a “Dios el Padre” (“EL QUE ME HA VISTO A MÍ, HA VISTO AL PADRE ...”- Juan 14:9). ¿Por que? Pues porque es incierto y dudoso, ya que, en otro lugar, el cristianismo afirma lo contrario- que nadie ha visto jamás a Dios [el Padre]. Como esta escrito: “NADIE HA VISTO JAMÁS A DIOS”- 1 Juan 4:12.

Finalmente, el creyente Hebreo esta obligado a rechazar el reclamo cristiano que alega que, fuera del hombre llamado Jesús, no hay salvación alguna para el ser humano. Como esta escrito: “Este Jesús es la piedra... Y EN NINGÚN OTRO HAY SALVACIÓN; PORQUE NO HAY OTRO NOMBRE BAJO EL CIELO, DADO A LOS HOMBRES, EN QUE PODAMOS SER SALVOS”- Hechos 4:11-12. ¿Y por que esta obligado a rechazar tal reclamo? Pues porque es incierto y dudoso, ya que contradice la verdad divina revelada previamente en Isaías 43:11, donde se afirma que no hay salvación alguna fuera de יהוה [Adonai Yah]. Como esta escrito: “YO, YO יהוה ; Y, FUERA DE MÍ, NO HAY QUIEN SALVE”.

En adición, el evangelio reclama que, el salvador cristiano, era “hijo de hombre” (“Porque EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE HA VENIDO PARA SALVAR LO QUE SE HABÍA PERDIDO”- Mateo 18:11); y esto último contradice la verdad Divina, que muestra que no hay salvación en ningún “hijo de hombre”. Como esta escrito: “NO CONFIÉIS en los príncipes, ni EN HIJO DE HOMBRE, PORQUE NO HAY EN ÉL SALVACIÓN”- Salmo 146:3.

Pero, si la Teología Cristiana es tan incierta y dudosa, ¿como explicamos el hecho de que muchos cristianos experimenten el Espíritu Santo, experimenten milagros, y hasta experimenten la profecía? Pues lo explicamos de forma muy sencilla: Verá usted, en su infinita misericordia, el Creador ha decidido recompensar todas y cada una de las buenas obras que realiza el individuo [¡aun si este último se encuentra bajo el juicio Divino!]. Por ejemplo, poco tiempo después de haber estado a punto de ser ejecutado por el ángel que se interpuso en su camino (Números 22:33), el profeta Balaam compuso siete altares, donde procedió a ofrendar al Creador siete sacrificios de becerros y carneros (Números 23:1-2).

¿Y cual fue el resultado de estos sacrificios? Pues que el Creador procede a recompensar a Balaam, dándole la revelación profética que tanto anhelaba. Y, este concepto, no es exclusivo de la fe Hebrea; pues el evangelio pone en boca del Nazareno el alegar que, al final de los tiempos, muchos que obraron milagros y prodigios, terminarán perdiéndose. Como esta escrito: “MUCHOS ME DIRÁN en aquel día: señor, señor, ¿NO PROFETIZAMOS EN TU NOMBRE, Y EN TU NOMBRE ECHAMOS FUERA DEMONIOS, Y EN TU NOMBRE HICIMOS MUCHOS MILAGROS? Y ENTONCES

LES DECLARARÉ: NUNCA OS CONOCÍ; APARTAO DE MÍ, HACEDORES DE MALDAD» (Mateo 7:22-23).

¡Que el Dios de Israel tenga misericordia de su Pueblo, y que bendiga y dirija a nuestros amados hermanos Cristianos!

No ha entendido claramente cual es el mensaje del Samaritanismo Reformado, el hombre que rehúsa juzgar (y tratar) justamente a su prójimo; el hombre que no se solidariza con los que sufren injustamente; el hombre que no es bondadoso para con los niños; el hombre que no es considerado con los ancianos; el hombre que siembra discordia entre los hermanos, entre esposo y esposa, entre padres e hijos; el hombre que adula a los pecadores; ni el hombre que rehúsa mostrar a sus semejantes, el mismo honor y respeto que desearía que se le mostrase a si mismo.

El Mesías de Pablo fue una invención de la envejecida imaginación del apóstol

El apóstol Pablo era un hombre bueno y santo. Pero, desafortunadamente, el Mesías de Pablo fue una invención de su envejecida imaginación. ¿Por que? Pues porque las palabras que a Jesús (paz sea con él) atribuye el evangelio tienen poco que ver con la tardía teología esbozada por el noble apóstol. ¿Y como lo sabemos? Pues lo sabemos por el hecho de que Jesús mismo declaró ser un hombre que difundía el mensaje que había escuchado de Dios: un llamado al arrepentimiento, así como a la obediencia a los 10 mandamientos de la Ley Divina.

Como esta escrito: «Pero ahora buscáis matarme a mí, un hombre que les ha dicho la verdad que escuché de parte de Dios ... Desde entonces, Jesús comenzó a proclamar: Apártense de sus pecados, porque el reino de los cielos está cerca... Pero si quieres entrar en la vida, guarda los mandamientos »- Juan 8:40, Mateo 4:17, y Mateo 19:17. Por otro lado, Pablo difundió en cambio un mensaje totalmente distinto: que Jesús no era un hombre, sino el mismo Dios; y que Jesús quería que los hombres ignorasen completamente la Ley, para abrazar en cambio la idea de “la salvación por fe” (sin necesidad alguna de obedecer nada de lo que Dios había ordenado en la Ley).

¿Que es el Mesías Redentor?

La Escritura Hebrea enseña que el perdón de los pecados [y por ende la salvación del hombre] viene por el arrepentimiento sincero; un arrepentimiento que quebranta nuestros corazones, y hace que nos volvamos del camino de iniquidad. Como esta escrito: «El que encubre sus pecados no prosperará; mas el que los confiesa, y se aparta, alcanzará misericordia»- Proverbios 28:13; «Los sacrificios de Dios, son el espíritu quebrantado; al corazón contrito y humillado, no despreciaras tu, oh Dios [negándole el perdón]»- Salmo 51:17;

«Quizá oiga la casa de Judá todo el mal que yo (יהוה) pienso hacerles, y se arrepienta cada uno de su mal camino, y yo perdonaré su maldad y su pecado» - Jeremías 36:3; «Si se humillare mi pueblo, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y oraren, y buscaren mi rostro, y se convirtieren de sus malos caminos; entonces yo (יהוה) oiré desde los cielos, y perdonaré sus pecados...» - 2 Crónicas 7:14.

Y, ya que la redención del hombre viene por el arrepentimiento, todo aquel [o todo aquello] que nos mueva a ese arrepentimiento (José, Moisés, Aarón, David, Jesús, Juan el Bautista, Pablo, Muhammad, etc) es por antonomasia una manifestación de ese redentor [o Mesías] que viene a salvarnos. Como esta escrito: “Y vendrá el Redentor... [¿a quienes ha de venir el Redentor?] ... a los que se volvieren de la iniquidad en Jacob [es decir, a quienes abandonen la maldad]”- Isaías 59:20

¿Es el Evangelio de Cristo el Nuevo Pacto prometido por Dios a Israel?

El Cristianismo es un camino perfectamente válido para agradar al Creador. Pero la noble teología Cristiana esta errada; pues no es correcto que el Evangelio [que predica “el abandono de la Ley”] sea el cumplimiento del “Nuevo Pacto” prometido por Dios en Jeremías 31:31 (“HE AQUÍ QUE VIENEN DÍAS, DICE YHVH, EN LOS CUALES HARÉ NUEVO PACTO CON LA CASA DE ISRAEL y con la casa de Judá”).

¿Por que? Pues porque, cuando llegue ese “Nuevo Pacto”, Israel no abandonará la Ley [como promueve el Cristianismo], sino que la tendrá en cambio en lo mas profundo de su mente y de su corazón (“Pero este es el pacto que haré con la casa de Israel después de aquellos días, dice YHVH: DARÉ MI LEY EN SU MENTE, Y LA ESCRIBIRÉ EN SU CORAZÓN...”- Jeremías 31:33).

Cuando llegue ese “Nuevo Pacto”, todo Israel conocerá a Dios («Y NO ENSEÑARÁ MÁS NINGUNO A SU PRÓJIMO, NI NINGUNO A SU HERMANO, DICIENDO: “CONOCE A YHVH”; PORQUE TODOS ME CONOCERÁN, desde el más pequeño de ellos hasta el más grande...”- Jeremías 31:34);

Y, cuando llegue ese “Nuevo Pacto”, el Creador hará solamente bien a Israel, no teniendo que reprocharle sus pecados, ni su incredulidad en algún Mesías («Y me serán por Pueblo, y yo seré a ellos por Dios. Y LES DARÉ UN CORAZÓN, Y UN CAMINO, PARA QUE ME TEMAN PERPETUAMENTE, PARA QUE TENGAN BIEN ELLOS, Y SUS HIJOS DESPUÉS DE ELLOS. Y HARÉ CON ELLOS PACTO ETERNO, QUE NO ME VOLVERÉ ATRÁS DE HACERLES BIEN, Y PONDRÉ MI TEMOR EN EL CORAZÓN DE ELLOS, PARA QUE NO SE APARTEN DE MÍ. Y me alegraré con ellos haciéndoles bien, y los plantaré en esta tierra en verdad, de todo mi corazón y de toda mi alma. Porque así ha dicho YHVH: “Como traje sobre este pueblo todo este gran mal, así traeré sobre ellos todo el bien que acerca de ellos hablo”»- Jer. 32:38-42).

Solo la Ley de Dios es Verdadera

Si la Ley predice que, nadie habría de morir por el pecado de los demás (“sino que cada cual morirá por su propia maldad”- Jer. 31:30); pero el Evangelio pretende refutarla, diciendo en cambio que Jesús murió por el pecado de los demás (“Que Cristo murió por nuestros pecados”- 1 Cor. 15:3), entonces la disputa entre Cristianos y Judíos, queda finalmente adjudicada; el caso ha sido cerrado, y ya no queda mas por discutir. ¿Por que? Pues porque, las Verdades reveladas en la Escritura Hebrea, son finales e irrevocables [pues la Ley no puede ser abrogada, ni mucho menos quebrantada, según Deuteronomio 4:2]. Y, con esto, también concuerdan los Evangelios, cuando citan a Jesús diciendo: «la Escritura [la Ley], no puede ser quebrantada» (Juan 10:35)

En el Universo moral, el Nazareno fue una “Supernova”; una estrella que brilla con deslumbrante resplandor. Pero, aunque fuerte de admitir, la realidad es que tanto Judíos como Musulmanes están en lo correcto, cuando rechazan la idea de que algún hombre pueda morir por los pecados ajenos

El Extravío De Anhelar Un Rey Mesías (Ungido) De Carne Y Hueso

Tanto el concepto del Mesías Cristiano, como el del Mesías del Judaísmo Askenazi, son la manifestación de una perversión que surgió en medio del pueblo Hebreo, durante la época del profeta Samuel. En aquel tiempo, nuestros ancestros perdieron la fe, y se alejaron de Dios, buscando seguridad en actuar como las naciones paganas que les rodeaban, las cuales seguían a un hombre de carne y hueso (un rey Humano). Adonai Yah se enojó contra nuestros ancestros, por haberle rechazado de esta manera, queriendo ser “salvados” (de sus enemigos) por un hombre de carne y hueso, en vez de por el Creador.

Como esta escrito: «Y dijo Adonai Yah a Samuel: “oye la voz del pueblo en todo lo que te digan; porque no te han desechado a ti, sino a mí me han desechado, para que (yo) no reine sobre ellos. Conforme a todas las obras que han hecho desde el día que los saqué de Egipto hasta hoy, dejándome a mí, y sirviendo a dioses ajenos, así hacen también contigo”»- 1 Samuel 8:7-8.

Ese Rey ungido (y la palabra Hebrea para “ungido” es “Mashiach” (Mesías) no fue otro sino Saúl, el benjamita. Así, el querer seguir a un Rey Mesías (Rey ungido), fue un grave pecado de parte de Israel. De hecho, Dios les advirtió a nuestros ancestros acerca de las funestas consecuencias de insistir en seguir a su deseado Rey Mesías.

Les dijo que ese Mesías les oprimiría tanto, que al final clamarían al Dios que habían rechazado, para que les librase del Mesías que habían escogido; pero que, en ese momento, Dios no los escucharía: «así hará el rey que reinará sobre vosotros: tomará vuestros hijos, y los pondrá en sus carros y en su gente de a caballo, para que corran delante de su carro; y nombrará para sí jefes de miles y jefes de cincuentenas; los pondrá asimismo a que aren sus campos y sieguen sus mieses, y a que hagan sus armas de guerra y los pertrechos de sus carros.

Tomará también a vuestras hijas para que sean perfumadoras, cocineras y amasadoras. Asimismo tomará lo mejor de vuestras tierras, de vuestras viñas y de vuestros olivares, y los dará a sus siervos. diezmará vuestro grano y vuestras viñas, para dar a sus oficiales y a sus siervos. tomará vuestros siervos y vuestras siervas, vuestros mejores jóvenes, y vuestros asnos, y con ellos hará sus obras. diezmará también vuestros rebaños, y seréis sus siervos. y clamaréis aquel día a causa de vuestro rey que os habréis elegido, mas Adonai Yah no os responderá en aquel día» – 1 Samuel 8:11-18.

Note que Dios se refiere a ese Rey Mesías como “Vuestro Rey que os habréis elegido...”; Como intimando que, el concepto de seguir a un Mesías humano que supuestamente ha de salvar al pueblo de Israel, es una idea y un invento de los hombres, no del Creador; pues, para el verdadero creyente Hebreo (es decir, Samaritano), el único y suficiente salvador es יהוה (Adonai Yah, bendito sea). Desafortunadamente, las consecuencias de seguir a un Mesías humano fueron peores que lo que nuestros ancestros imaginaron, pues Saúl no solamente oprimió a los inocentes (incluyendo a David, su futuro sucesor) sino que mató sin causa a todos los sacerdotes de Nob.

En el pasado, muchos han reclamado ser el supremo Rey Mesías (el salvador nacional) que los Israelitas anhelaron, Y el resultado de seguir a esos Mesías humanos siempre fue el desastre advertido por Dios: opresión, injusticia, y muerte. Un buen ejemplo de ello lo fue “Bar Koziva”, a quien el Rabino Judío llamado "Akiva" proclamo como el Mesías esperado.

¿Cual fue el resultado de seguir a este Mesías humano? Pues la muerte de cerca de 500,000 Israelitas, durante la rebelión contra Roma acaecida en el 134 E.C. Así, quien pone su confianza en Jesús, en Bar Koziva, en Jacob Frank, en Shabbetai Zevi, en Schneerson, o en algún futuro Mesías, invoca sobre sí mismo las calamidades enumeradas en 1 Samuel 8.

¿Significa lo anterior que todo lo que dijeron estos hombres fue falso? ¿Significa acaso que no podemos utilizar sus palabras como parte de nuestras meditaciones devocionales? ¡En ninguna manera! El sentido común dicta que, si estos hombres lograron tal prominencia, no fue porque fuesen personas comunes ni ordinarias; sino porque hicieron y dijeron cosas extraordinarias. No hay absolutamente nada malo con que utilicemos las palabras de Akiva, de Jesús, de Shabbetai Zevi, o de Schneerson (paz y bendición sea sobre todos ellos) como fuentes de inspiración devocional.

El pecado surge cuando ponemos nuestra fidelidad a la figura o las palabras de estos hombres, por encima de nuestra fidelidad a la palabra y el mandato de Adonai Yah. Cuando tal hacemos, hemos hecho de ese Mesías humano un ídolo abominable. Esto último no es conjetura, ni opinión privada; sino que es historia verificable, pues cuando el Mesías del siglo XVII (Shabbetai Zevi) fue forzado por el Sultán Turco a convertirse al Islam, muchos de sus seguidores se hallaron a sí mismos tan esclavizados a la figura de Shabbetai, que abandonaron la fe hebrea, para seguir a su Mesías dentro de la fe Islámica.

Así, el poner su fe en un hombre de carne y hueso, en vez de ponerla en el Creador, condujo a estos creyentes hebreos a apostatar completamente de la fe. Y, a esto es a lo que hace referencia el pasaje en 1 Samuel 8:8, cuando intima que, quien abandona a Dios, para seguir a un Mesías (Rey ungido) de carne y hueso, termina sirviendo a dioses ajenos: «Conforme a todas las obras que han hecho desde el día que los saqué de Egipto hasta hoy, dejándome a mí y sirviendo a dioses ajenos...» (ibid).

Every Muslim and Christian should know this: “Jews and Samaritans can be right with God [having the right theology]; but so can be Muslims and Christians [having the right heart for God]”

According to Moses Law, as soon as a person dies, he becomes impure. Why? Because the Law states that all human corpses are ritually unfit [due to the decaying fecal matter located inside of it]. Also, anyone who touches a dead body (like soldiers and executioners) becomes impure for seven days («He that toucheth the dead body of any man, shall be unclean even seven days..... He shall purify himself therewith the third day, and the seventh day he shall be clean...»- Numbers 19:11-12 (1599 Geneva Bible)».

In addition, if an unclean person touches a clean person, the latter becomes unclean (“Anything the unclean person touches will become unclean...”- Numbers 19:22, Christian standard Bible). And this is why Jews [especially the High priest] wouldn’t come close to a Roman soldier on Passover’s eve, as any acquired impurity would render him unable to eat [or even participate of] the Passover’s lamb. As is written: “But there were some men who were unclean because of a human corpse, so they could not observe the Passover on that day”- Numbers 9:6 (Christian standard Bible). And also in another place, “Then they (the Jews) led Jesus from Caiaphas to the [Roman] governor’s headquarters... They did not enter the headquarters themselves; otherwise they would be defiled and unable to eat the Passover”- John 18:28 (C.S.B.).

And the former hints at the reason why observant Jews (and Samaritans) had such a hard time believing Jesus was both God, as well as God’s own Passover lamb. They reason with themselves, «How could Jesus be God? Wasn’t Jesus rendered impure by the spat thrown upon his face by a defiled Roman Soldiers? Wasn’t he rendered impure by the touch of the Roman soldier who slapped his face? Didn’t Jesus become impure when becoming a corpse hanging on the cross? How could the absolutely pure God ever become impure?

In fact, if Jesus was God’s own lamb, then the lamb became impure [by it’s prior contact with defiled Roman soldiers], and was therefore no longer fit to be offered as Passover sacrifice. And, even if God had somehow chosen to become impure [by coming in contact with His own human dead corpse], didn’t the Law demand that such an impure person be cleansed on the third and seventh day (being sprinkled with water mixed with the red heifer ashes)? Was Jesus sprinkled twice [after his resurrection] with this holy water?

And, if he wasn’t, isn’t he supposed to be cut off from God’s congregation? As is written: “But a person who is unclean and does not purify himself, that person will be cut off from the assembly, because he has defiled the sanctuary of the Lord. The water for impurity has not been sprinkled on him; he is unclean”- Numbers 19:20 (C.S.B.). Besides, Jesus [alleged] resurrection happened on the third day, and by them the Passover sacrifice wasn’t valid anymore, as the lamb could no longer be “eaten” (“You must not leave any of it until morning; any part of it left until morning you must burn”- Exodus 12:10).

Does the former means that, since they believe in Jesus, both Christians and Muslims practice a false religion? God forbid that we say such a thing! It only means that, the content of the Gospel’s revelation, and the content of Moses revelation (the Torah), aren’t exactly the same . But that doesn’t means that Islam and Christianity aren’t valid religions. Why? Because, even if the above Hebrew theology is absolutely right, and both Christian and Muslim theologies are absolutely wrong, honest and God fearing Muslims and Christians would still be granted God’s personal favor.

REFORMED SAMARITANISM
If the Hebrew Scripture (“God’s Law”, or “Torah”) states that pious and oppressed Hebrew believers are God’s own Son (“And thou shalt say unto Pharaoh, Thus saith the Lord, Israel is my Son, even my Firstborn”- Exodus 4:22, RSV), but then comes the Gospel trying to refute it quoting unclean spirits that tell otherwise («And whenever the unclean spirits beheld him, they fell down before him and cried out, “You are the Son of God!”»- Mark 3:11), then the dispute between Torah believers and Gospel believers is finally over; the case is closed, and there’s nothing else to argue about. Why? Simply because the truth revealed by God’s Law is final and immutable, as Scripture cannot be broken, nor modified. As is written: “You shall not add to the word which I command you, nor take from it...”- Deut. 4:2). And the former is also confirmed by the Gospel, when it quotes Jesus saying the following words: “... and Scripture [God’s Law] cannot be broken”- John 10:35

Why? Simply because our Creator is Just, as well as merciful. In other words, He judges the intentions of the heart, holding us accountable for the things we do with the portion of truth we know, not for the portion of truth we still don’t know (or yet understand). And the proof? King Abimelech, who showed himself honest and God fearing with the vague [and uncertain] piece of information he knew about Sarah (Abraham’s wife). Abimelech was told that beautiful Sarah was Abraham’s sister, and since no commoner would ever object to becoming the King's brother in Law, Abimelech went ahead and made Sarah one of his many wives. Thus, although the wrong piece of information led Abimelech into a questionable path [taking another man's wife], he still counted with God's personal favor, as God knew his heart had been honest and faithful to what he considered to be the truth. As is written: «Then God said to him (Abimelech) in the dream, “Yes, I KNOW YOU DID THIS IN THE INTEGRITY OF YOUR HEART, for it was I Who kept you back and spared you from sinning against Me; therefore I did not give you occasion to touch her”»- Genesis 20:6. Thus, just like honest and God fearing Abimelech was granted the honour of having direct revelation from the God of Abraham, likewise honest and God fearing Christians and Muslims will be granted the honor of receiving direct revelation from the God of Abraham (guidance, wisdom, prophecy, deliverance, the Holy Spirit, etc).

Why do the followers of Reformed Samaritanism use the phrase “peace be upon him” when mentioning the name of a deceased person, just as Muslim believers usually do?

Why do followers of Reformed Samaritanism use the phrase “peace be upon him” when mentioning the name of a deceased person, just as Muslim believers usually do? The reason why we do it has to do with the fact that since time immemorial Hebrew believers used to follow the same tradition. For example, it is related that Rabbi Elazar of Modi'in used to say: “One who profanes the Kodeshim (sacred material); one who desecrates the holidays; one who whitens (embarrasses) the face of another in public; one who nullifies the covenant of Abraham our father, PEACE BE UPON HIM; one who reveals meanings in the Torah that run contrary to the law, even though he has Torah knowledge and good deeds, he has no share in the world to come” (Pirke Avot 5:3)

Why is it that Orthodox Judaism invokes the Creator using the sacred name of “Ha Shem” (the Name), while Reformed Samaritanism invokes Him using the sacred name of “Yah”?

The reason why Reformed Samaritanism openly refers to the Creator (blessed be He) using the sacred name “Yah” has to do with the fact that, in this regard, we follow an ancient Bible interpretation made by a Hebrew Rabbi named Rabbi Jeremiah Ben Eleazar”. As is written- «Rabbi Jeremiah Ben Eleazar said: Ever since the Temple was destroyed [and the priests stopped using the tetragrammaton YHVH], it is enough for the World [in extolling God] to use only two letters [of the Tetragrammaton], yod (Y), and he (H); as is said, “Let everything that hath breath praise by saying Yah (spelled YH)”- Psalm 150:6». In others words, since Scripture had stated that the name of YHVH would reside in the Holy Temple («Let your eyes always look toward this Temple night and day, toward the location where you have said “My name will reside there”»- 1 Kings 8:29, International Standard Version Bible), it made sense to think that, as long as the Temple remained “broken” (or destroyed), so would God's name also remained broken. Thus, instead of pronouncing the full name of YHVH, the Psalm now pronounces it as YH (“Yah”)

Gods Law States That Forgiveness Is The Result Of Sincere Repentance; not of the faith in particular Messiah

If God's Law (the Torah, the Prophets, and the Writings) states that forgiveness of sins comes through sincere repentance (“Perhaps the house of Judah will hear all the calamity that I am planning to do to them, in order that they may turn, each one from his evil way. Then I would forgive their iniquity and their sin... The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit. A broken and a contrite heart, O God, You will not despise.”- Jeremiah 36: 3, & Psalm 51:19, Tree Of Life Bible); And then comes the Gospel and tries to refute the Law, claiming instead that forgiveness of sins doesn't come through sincere repentance, but rather through belief in Jesus (“that all who believe in him will receive forgiveness of sins through his name” - Acts 10:43); Then the disputation between Christians and Hebrew believers is finally settled; the case has been closed, and there's nothing else to discuss. Why? Because the truths revealed in the Law [the Hebrew Scripture] are final and irrevocable [since the Law cannot be abrogated or broken, according to Deuteronomy 4: 2]. And the gospel seems to agree with this, when it quotes Jesus saying the following: “... and the Scripture [the Law] cannot be broken” (John 10:35)

Where do African (black) Jews come from?

God's law states that both Jewish matriarchs (Rebekah and Leah) came from a white father named “Laban”. As is written: “Now Laban had two daughters: the older was named Leah, and the younger was named Rachel”- Genesis 29:16. But the Hebrew word, “Laban” literally means “White”, meaning that Laban was of a white complexion.

Thus, having a white father, chances of Leah's and Rachel's children (the 12 tribal fathers) being black were pretty slim. In fact, even if Jacob was completely black [something highly doubtful, as Jacob had a red haired twin brother], his children would most likely be of an intermediate skin color. But if so, where did black Jews come from? According to Samaritan (Hebrew) tradition, they come from three main sources;

1) The first one is that they were former Egyptian slaves, who willingly embraced a common destiny with the Hebrew people- In other words, Ethiopian slaves that joined Israel in the latter's exodus from Egypt. As is written: “A mixed crowd also went up with them, along with a huge number of livestock, both flocks and herds”- Exodus 12:38.

2) Secondly, Ethiopian people appear to have been allowed to join Israel's army (mercenaries?). As is written: «Joab then said to a Cushite (Ethiopian), “Go tell the king what you have seen”. The Cushite bowed to Joab, and took off running»- 2 Samuel 18:21.

3) Thirdly, tradition has it that when the Queen of Sheba (an ancient Ethiopian city) came to Jerusalem, she was so amazed with Solomon's wisdom that she secretly wished to beget a child as wise as the Hebrew King. Thus, in his desire to give her all that she wanted, Solomon got the queen pregnant with his own child (“King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba her every desire—whatever she asked—besides what he had given her out of his royal bounty”- 1 Kings 10:13). And this son went on to be not only the next Ethiopian king, but also the ancestor of most African Jews

Bible states God does no evil nor injustice (Deut. 32:4); but, did He create evil?

Speaking about Reformed Samaritanism, somebody made the following comment: “You guys claim to believe that the Supreme Being (God) is the absolute infinite containing all other things within itself. But this is pure madness, as it would imply that God is the source of both goodness and evil. How can you expect everlasting peace from any coming Messiah, when you believe in a God who brings both good and evil?”

What is Reformed Samaritanism reply to this interesting question? Well, the reply is very simple. You see, there is no doubt that our World does include various kinds of evil (theft, deception, betrayal, immorality, etc). But, if God isn't the creator of the World's evil, then it can only mean that our World has more than one Creator (or God). But the Scripture teaches that there is only one God ("See now that I, even I, am he, and there is no god with me... Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God"- Deuteronomy 32:39 & Isaiah 44:6).

Thus, there is no doubt that evil was directly [or indirectly] created by the one and only true God. As is written: "Shall there be evil in a city, and the Lord hath not done it?"- Amos 3:6. And also says elsewhere: "I am the Lord, and there is none else. I form the light, and create darkness; I make peace, and create evil; I the Lord do all these things"- Isaiah 45:6-7. Notice how the former text compares light with peace (or goodness), and darkness with evil (or sin). Why?

-Salmo 19:7-
La Escritura Hebrea dice que la Ley es perfecta; Y, lo que ya es perfecto, no necesita ser cambiado, sustituido, ni abrogado por alguna otra cosa

Because we would never be able to fully appreciate light, unless we had first experienced darkness. Likewise, we would have never understand the virtues of goodness, unless we had first experienced the chaos of evil. And that's why the Creation account states that God first created darkness (in other words, the present world of sin, evil, and suffering), and only afterward did He create Light (the World to come, where peace and goodness will finally conquer evil, just as the light of the new day conquers the darkness of the previous night).

As it has been written: In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth... and darkness was upon the face of the deep... And God said, Let there be light: and there was light. And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided the light from the darkness"- Genesis 1:1-4. Thus God did not only create darkness (evil) and Light (goodness); but also chose to make Light put a stop to darkness [thereby making goodness conquer evil!]

Is 666 an evil number, as claimed by our dear Christian brothers?

Christianity is an awesome religion. And God fearing Christians will have a good share in the world to come. But, as is often the case with Christian dogma, the idea that 666 is an evil number simply fails to have strong [and clear] support from Hebrew Scriptures. In other words, 666 isn't a symbol of evil. In fact, the number might even be understood as a number of blessing, and freedom.

Why? Simply because it is used in connection with the blessings bestowed upon king Solomon, as well as in connection with the Israelites delivered from Babylonian captivity. As it has been written: : "And the weight of the gold that was brought to Solomon every year, was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold"- 1 Kings 10:14 (Douay-Rheims 1899 American Edition)... "These now are the people of the province who came from those captive exiles King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon had deported to Babylon... Adonikam's descendants, 666 ... "- Ezra 2:1&13 (Christian Standard Bible).

¿Por que hay muchos Judíos que se hacen miembros de movimientos Mesiánicos tales como el de “One For Israel”?

Las ideas, son algo muy poderoso. De hecho, las ideas que escogemos abrazar pueden liberarnos o pueden esclavizarnos. Un buen ejemplo de ello es la idea que postula que, todo aquel que nace de una madre Judía, es automáticamente Judío. ¿Cual es el problema con esta común [pero extraviada] idea? Pues que intima [falsamente] que, ser parte del pueblo de Dios [y contar por ende con el favor Divino], es como heredar una tipo “reliquia familiar”; es decir, adquirir un objeto pasivo que esta completamente divorciado de nuestra conducta ética y moral.

Y, es esta última idea, la que hace posible que encontremos hombres que no perciben contradicción alguna con reclamar ser Judíos, a la misma vez que se auto-proclaman ateos, homosexuales, o anti-semitas. ¿Y por que es falsa la anterior idea? Pues porque la Escritura Hebrea muestra que ser parte de Israel tiene poco que ver con el apellido de nuestra progenitora, pero mucho que ver con la aptitud de nuestro corazón; Como esta escrito- «Ciertamente es bueno Dios PARA CON ISRAEL, PARA CON LOS LIMPIOS DE CORAZÓN»- Salmo 73:1. ¿Quien dice el verso que es Israel? ¡Pues el limpio de corazón!

En adición, la Ley enseña que Rebeca (una madre Judía) engendró dos hijos que, a pesar de ser gemelos, pertenecían a dos pueblos distintos [¡y antagónicos!]. Como esta escrito: «y le respondió הַהוּא: DOS NACIONES HAY EN TU SENO, Y DOS PUEBLOS SERÁN DIVIDIDOS DESDE TUS ENTRAÑAS; El un pueblo será más fuerte que el otro pueblo, Y el mayor [Edom] servirá al menor [Israel]»- Génesis 25:23.

¿Y que fue lo que caracterizó a Edom? ¿Que cosas fueron las que le llevaron a convertirse en un pueblo distinto al pueblo de Israel? Pues, lo que le definió como pueblo distinto, fue que tanto con sus ideas como con sus acciones menospreció lo revelado por Dios. Es que el Creador había mostrado a los patriarcas la supremacía del hijo primogénito. Y la razón para esto era su anhelo de que la descendencia de Abraham internalizara una verdad que habría de guiar su porvenir.

¿Cual era esa verdad? Pues que, Israel, seria “el primogénito” de Dios [es decir, ¡su mas importante hijo!], como esta escrito: «Y dirás a Faraón: הַהוּא HA DICHO ASÍ: ISRAEL ES MI HIJO, MI PRIMOGÉNITO»- Éxodo 4:22. Y, ¿cuando menospreció esto Edom? Pues lo hizo cuando menospreció su primogenitura, como esta escrito: «Entonces dijo Esaú: “HE AQUÍ YO ME VOY A MORIR; ¿PARA QUÉ, PUES, ME SERVIRÁ LA PRIMOGENITURA?”... ASÍ MENOSPREGIÓ ESAÚ LA PRIMOGENITURA»- Génesis 25:32&34.

En adición, Edom menospreció la palabra de Dios traída por boca de su padre Isaac, quien bendijo a Israel (Jacob) diciendo: «MALDITOS LOS QUE TE MALDIJEREN, Y BENDITOS LOS QUE TE BENDIJEREN»- Génesis 27:29. Y, ¿cuando hizo esto Edom? Pues cuando trató de traer maldición sobre Israel, como esta escrito- «He aquí, ESAÚ TU HERMANO SE CONSUELA ACERCA DE TI CON LA IDEA DE MATARTE»- Génesis 27:42.

De este modo, la Escritura intima que, aún si un hombre naciese de una madre Judía, en el momento en que tal hombre abandona la palabra de Dios (la Ley), para hacerse en cambio un abierto enemigo de Israel, en ese mismo momento deja de ser Israelita, para convertirse en cambio en Edomita. Curiosamente, la tradición hebrea confirma estas cosas, cuando identifica a Edom con la fe Nazarena [una de cuyas sectas es el Judaísmo mesiánico]. ¿Por que? Pues porque la Escritura profetiza que Edom “habría de vivir por la Espada”. Como esta escrito: «Y POR TU ESPADA VIVIRÁS»- Génesis 27:40.

¿Que significa que Edom habría de “vivir por la espada”? Pues significa que Edom representa a aquellos que “adquieren la vida” por medio del derramamiento de sangre. Y, esto último, corresponde a la Fe Nazarena, que postula que “la vida del hombre” [es decir, su salvación] esta en el derramamiento de la sangre del Nazareno. Como esta escrito: «Y SIN DERRAMAMIENTO DE SANGRE, NO SE HACE REMISIÓN [DE PECADOS]»- Hebreos 9:22; «SI NO coméis la carne del Hijo del Hombre, y BEBÉIS SU SANGRE, NO TENÉIS VIDA EN VOSOTROS»- Juan 6:53; «Y les dijo: ESTO ES MI SANGRE DEL NUEVO PACTO, QUE POR [LA VIDA DE] MUCHOS ES DERRAMADA»- Marcos 14:24; «Porque tú fuiste inmolado, y CON TU SANGRE NOS HAS REDIMIDO PARA DIOS, de todo linaje y lengua y pueblo y nación»- Apocalipsis 5:9.

En adición, la escritura intima que, el Judío que abandona la Ley, será finalmente enviado a un exilio espiritual, donde acabará adorando al leño, o a la piedra. Como esta escrito: «Si no cuidares de poner por obra todas las palabras de esta Ley, que están escritas en este libro... יהוה TE ESPARCIRÁ [EXILIÁNDOSE] POR TODOS LOS PUEBLOS, desde un extremo de la tierra hasta el otro extremo; Y ALLÍ SERVIRÁS A DIOSES AJENOS QUE NO CONOCISTE TÚ NI TUS PADRES: AL LEÑO, Y A LA PIEDRA»- Deut. 28:58&64. ¿Y que religión describe [proféticamente] el anterior verso con el epíteto de “el leño”? Pues describe a la religión Nazarena, cuyo símbolo es “el leño” [es decir, “el madero” de la cruz].

¿Significa lo hasta aquí dicho que el hombre de madre Judía que desprecia la Torah [haciendose de ese modo enemigo de Israel], está condenado a convertirse en un Judío Mesiánico? No. Lo que realmente significa, es que la combinación de no conocer a fondo la Escritura Hebrea, y no tener una relación intima y amorosa con el Creador [como ordena la Escritura en Josué 1:8, y en Deuteronomio 6:5], crea en la psiquis de este alegado Judío un “vacío” que puede facilmente ser explotado por misioneros Mesiánicos.

Es decir, el judío secular queda paralizado, cuando escucha que un creyente Mesiánico le dice: “Cree en Yeshua, la encarnación del Dios que te amó tanto que se despojó de toda su gloria [haciéndose un hombre de carne y hueso] a fin de derramar su sangre por ti, dándote así el mayor regalo de todos; ¡la salvación de tu alma!”.

De nuevo, estas últimas palabras desarmar a este Judío secular, quien no sabe como justificar su rechazo a lo que, a primera vista, aparenta ser el mas noble, sublime, y desinteresado gesto de amor; un amor tan puro, tan santo, y tan supremo, que demanda ser reciprocado por todo aquel que tenga un mínimo de humanidad, o de agradecimiento.

De nuevo, ¿que hace de este alegado Judío un blanco tan vulnerable? Pues, su verdadero problema es que, a pesar de llamarse a si mismo Judío, tiene la mente de un Edomita (es decir, de un Nazareno). ¿Por que? Pues porque, si el creyente nazareno piensa del modo en que lo hace, es porque su desconocimiento de la Torah le lleva a pensar que, siendo omnipotente, el Creador puede hacer lo que bien le plazca. Como dicen los escritos Nazarenos: «De manera que DE QUIEN QUIERE, TIENE MISERICORDIA, Y AL QUE QUIERE ENDURECER, ENDURECE. Pero me dirás: ¿Por qué, pues, inculpa? porque ¿quién ha resistido a su voluntad? Mas antes, oh hombre, ¿quién eres tú, para que alterques con Dios? ¿DIRÁ EL VASO DE BARRO AL QUE LO FORMÓ: ¿POR QUÉ ME HAS HECHO ASÍ? ¿O NO TIENE POTESTAD EL ALFARERO SOBRE EL BARRO, PARA HACER DE LA MISMA MASA UN VASO PARA HONRA Y OTRO PARA DESHONRA?»- Romanos 9:18-21.

En otras palabras, los Edomitas (Nazarenos) piensan que el Dios de Israel puede actuar de forma caprichosa y subjetiva, sin tener que circunscribirse a lo que ya ha dicho en su Palabra, ni a lo que ha prometido a Israel; que el Dios de Israel puede en efecto hacerse hombre en la persona de Yeshua (sin importar que la Torah diga en 1 Samuel 15:29 que Dios no es un hombre); que el Dios de Israel puede morir por el pecado de otros (sin importar que la Torah diga en Deut. 24:16, en Jeremías 31:30, en Ezequiel 18:20-22, y en 2 Crónicas 25:4, que nadie puede morir por el pecado ajeno, sino que cada cual moriría por su propio pecado); y que el Dios de Israel puede justificar al impío (sin importar que la Torah diga en Proverbios 17:15 que, justificar al impío, es abominación a יהוה); y que, el Dios de Israel, puede “regalar” la salvación (sin importar que, en Éxodo 23:8, la Torah prohíbe que el creyente acepte regalo alguno).

Así, como la ignorancia que de la Ley tiene el Judío secular le hace pensar como Edomita (creyendo que Dios hace como quiere), el primero no puede evitar sentirse naturalmente atraído hacia las dulces falsedades que caracterizan la teología Edomita: que “la vida” esta en el derramamiento de sangre [y no en la obediencia a los mandamientos Divinos] ; que no hay que “complicarse la vida” prestando demasiada atención a la Ley de יהוה [pues esta última ha perdido su vigencia]; y que Israel ya no es el Pueblo escogido de Dios [de modo que, se puede “estar en paz con Dios”, sin necesidad de “estar en paz con su Pueblo”].

«¡Ay de los que, a lo malo, llaman bueno; y, a lo bueno, [llaman] malo!; ¡que hacen de la luz, tinieblas; y, de las tinieblas, luz!»
(Isaías 5:20)

¡Ay de aquellos que, a lo "malo" (la desobediencia de los mandamientos Divinos), llaman "bueno" (es decir, "la libertad de la Gracia"); Y, a lo "bueno" (la obediencia de los mandamientos), llaman "malo" (entiendase, "la esclavitud de la Ley")!

Aun así, el verdadero creyente Hebreo reconoce que, la justicia y la misericordia Divina, reinan supremas; y que no importando cual sea su credo o religión, el Creador no fallará en su promesa de bendecir a todos aquellos que le buscan. Como esta escrito: «Los leoncillos necesitan, y tienen hambre; PERO LOS QUE BUSCAN A יהוה NO TENDRÁN FALTA DE NINGÚN BIEN»- Salmo 34:10 (Note que el anterior verso no promete bienes a Judíos, a cristianos, ni a Musulmanes; sino que promete bien “a los que buscan a יהוה”, sin importar si son Judíos, cristianos, o Musulmanes).

En adición, el Creador será fiel y justo en recompensar a cada hombre con el mismo bien que haya sembrado. Y prueba de esto último lo es el Rey David, quien se comprometió con edificar casa para יהוה . Como esta escrito: «Aconteció que, morando David en su casa, dijo David al profeta Natán: “He aquí yo habito en casa de cedro, y el arca del pacto de יהוה [habita] debajo de cortinas»- 1 Crónicas 17:1.

¿Y cual fue la recompensa Divina para David? Pues que, tal y como David se comprometió con edificar la casa de Dios, de ese mismo modo Dios se comprometió con edificar la casa de David. Como esta escrito: «Porque TÚ, DIOS MÍO, REVELASTE AL OÍDO A TU SIERVO QUE LE HAS DE EDIFICAR CASA; por eso ha hallado tu siervo motivo para orar delante de ti. Ahora pues, יהוה, tú eres el Dios que has hablado de tu siervo este bien; Y AHORA HAS QUERIDO BENDECIR LA CASA DE TU SIERVO, para que permanezca perpetuamente delante de ti; porque tú, יהוה, la has bendecido, Y SERÁ BENDITA PARA SIEMPRE»- 1 Crónicas 17:25-27.

Así, el Dios de Israel ha prometido recompensar con justicia a todo aquel que haga lo bueno, sin importar cual haya sido su credo o religión.

“El creyente sabio, juzga las cosas que son nuevas e inseguras [por ejemplo, las Cartas Evangélicas del apóstol Pablo], a partir de las cosas que son antiguas y seguras [por ejemplo, los Cinco Libros De Moisés]. En cambio, el creyente inmaduro juzga las cosas que son antiguas y seguras, a partir de aquellas que son nuevas e inseguras”

Moisés es el Arca designada por Dios para librar a los creyentes de la Final destrucción

¿Por que indica la Escritura que, el principio de la vida de Moisés, fue entrar en una pequeña arca (o “arquilla” de juncos), para flotar sobre las aguas, y ser milagrosamente salvado (Éxodo 2:3-6)? ¿Y por que dice la Escritura que, este niño que salió airoso de las aguas, terminó siendo el Salvador de todos los creyentes Hebreos (Éxodo 14:26)? ¿Y cual es la razón para que la Escritura reporte que, este niño, llevo a vivir 120 años (Deuteronomio 34:7)? ¿Por que no vivió Moisés el mismo tiempo que vivieron los grandes patriarcas de Israel? ¿Por que no vivió los 175 años que vivió Avraham (Génesis 25:7)? ¿Por que no vivió los 147 años que vivió Jacob (Génesis 47:28)? ¿Por que no vivió los 110 años que vivió José (Génesis 50:22)?

La respuesta a las anteriores preguntas es que, la razón por la cual se enfatizan estos detalles, es que la Escritura intima que, el Mundo, sería destruido en dos ocasiones distintas: La primera vez, sería al comienzo de la historia humana (Génesis 6:13), y por medio de las aguas [del Diluvio]. Pero, la segunda, sería al final de la historia humana, y por medio de las ascuas del fuego Solar (“DESTRUIRÉ POR COMPLETO TODAS LAS COSAS DE SOBRE LA FAZ DE LA TIERRA, DICE יהוה. DESTRUIRÉ LOS HOMBRES Y LAS BESTIAS; DESTRUIRÉ LAS AVES DEL CIELO Y LOS PECES DEL MAR, Y CORTARÉ A LOS IMPÍOS; Y RAERÉ A LOS HOMBRES DE SOBRE LA FAZ DE LA TIERRA, dice יהוה”- Sofonías 1:2-3; “Y la luz de la luna será como la luz del Sol, y LA LUZ DEL SOL [SERÁ] SIETE VECES MAYOR, COMO LA LUZ DE SIETE DÍAS”- Isaías 30:26; “Hollaréis a LOS MALOS, los cuales SERÁN CENIZA BAJO LAS PLANTAS DE VUESTROS PIES, en el día en que yo actúe, ha dicho יהוה de los ejércitos”- Malaquías 4:3). Y, así como la salvación de la primera destrucción, estaba en seguir al hombre que estuvo dentro del arca que flotaba sobre las aguas del Diluvio [Noé], de ese mismo modo, la salvación de la segunda destrucción, está en seguir al hombre que estuvo dentro del arca que flotaba sobre las aguas del Nilo [Moisés]. No solamente eso, sino que, así como el salvador de la primera destrucción [Noé], dedicó 120 años de su vida llamando a los hombres a seguirle (“Mas serán sus días 120 AÑOS”- Génesis 6:3); de ese mismo modo, el salvador de la segunda destrucción [Moisés], dedicó 120 años de su vida llamando a los hombres a seguirle (“Era Moisés de CIENTO VEINTE AÑOS cuando murió”- Deuteronomio 34:7).

¿Y por que dice la Escritura que, la gloria de Dios, resplandecía sobre el rostro de Moisés (“Y al mirar los hijos de Israel el rostro de Moisés, veían que LA PIEL DE SU ROSTRO ERA RESPLANDECIENTE”- Éxodo 34:35), del mismo modo que resplandecía sobre el Arca del Pacto desde donde Dios hablaba con Moisés (“Y DE ALLÍ ME DECLARARÉ A TI [MOSTRANDO MI GLORIA], y hablaré contigo de sobre el propiciatorio, de entre los dos querubines que están SOBRE EL ARCA DEL TESTIMONIO”- Éxodo 25:22)?

Pues para mostrarnos que, así como el arca llevaba en su interior los diez mandamientos de la Ley Divina (“Y TOMÓ EL TESTIMONIO [LAS DOS PIEDRAS] Y LO PUSO DENTRO DEL ARCA”- Éxodo 40:20), así mismo Moisés llevaba en su interior [es decir, dentro de su corazón] los 10 mandamientos de la Ley Divina. Y así como, llevar en su interior los mandamientos, hacia del arca algo sagrada e intocable (2 Samuel 6:6-7, & 1 Crónicas 15:15); de ese mismo modo, el hecho de que

Moisés llevase en su interior [es decir, en su corazón] los mandamientos, también le hacia sagrado e intocable (“¿POR QUÉ, PUES, NO TUVISTEIS TEMOR DE HABLAR CONTRA MI SIERVO MOISÉS?”- Números 12:8).

Y no solamente Moisés era sagrado e intocable, sino también todos aquellos que le siguen; es decir todos aquellos que, al igual que Moisés, llevan en su corazón los 10 mandamientos de la Ley Divina (“Porque has puesto a יהוה, que es mi esperanza, Al Altísimo por tu habitación, NO TE SOBREVENDRÁ MAL, NI PLAGA TOCARÁ TU MORADA”- Salmo 91:9-10; “Mas EL JUSTO ESTÁ CONFIADO COMO UN LEÓN”- Proverbios 28:1).

Es que, el que la Escritura muestre que, la salvación de la primera destrucción Mundial, estuvo en seguir al hombre responsable de edificar la primera arca diseñada por Dios [es decir, el arca construida por Noé], es una profecía que apunta al hecho de que, la salvación de la segunda destrucción Mundial, estaría en seguir al hombre responsable de edificar la segunda arca diseñada por Dios [es decir, el Arca sagrada construida por Moisés].

En resumen, Moisés es el hombre designado por Dios para salvar al Mundo de la destrucción final. Y, la manera en que lo salva, es haciendo que los hombres “entren” [o “se hagan parte”] del Arca sagrada; aquella arca que Moisés encarna en su propia vida. ¿Y que es “entrar” en el arca de Moisés [es decir, hacerse parte de ella]? Pues es “encarnar” las cosas que su contenido prefigura; es decir, las tres cosas que harán que el creyente este seguro del peligro; pues, al igual que el arca, le harán “intocable”.

El Evangelio, dice que Jesús (p.s.c.e.) era Dios ; pero que, a la misma vez, era un hombre común (es decir, un hombre que estaba sujeto a caer en la tentación, y a cometer pecado). Y esto sería perfectamente lógico, si no fuese por el hecho de que, cuando un hombre es tentado, es en realidad tentado a revelarse contra la voluntad del único y verdadero Dios. Pero, si alguien tratase de tentar al único y verdadero Dios (Jesús), ¿contra la voluntad de quien le estaría tentando a revelarse? ¿Contra su propia voluntad? ¿O contra la voluntad de algún otro “Único y verdadero Dios”? ¿Como puede haber mas de un “Único y verdadero Dios”? Si un Dios es único, entonces no hay un segundo dios semejante a Él; y, si en efecto hay otro dios semejante a Él, entonces no es realmente único

Estas tres cosas, son las Tablas de Piedra, el Maná, y la vara de Aarón (Éxodo 31:18, Éxodo 25:21, Éxodo 16: 33, y Números 17:10). ¿Y que significan? Pues, el Maná, significa “la comida” del pueblo de Dios; las tablas, significan los 10 mandamientos de la Ley Divina; y, la vara de Aarón, significa dar buen fruto [pues la vara estaba inicialmente muerta, pero luego reverdeció, dando frutos].

Y esto a su vez intima que, el hombre no será parte del pueblo de Dios, ni estará seguro dentro del arca, mientras insista en abstenerse de hacer de lo escrito en las piedras [los 10 mandamientos], su alimento diario (“COME ESTE ROLLO [DE LA ESCRITURA], y ve y habla a la casa de Israel”- Ezequiel 3:1); y mientras su alma no reverdezca (“Mas LOS JUSTOS REVERDECERÁN COMO RAMAS”- Proverbios 11:28), dando el fruto que glorifica al Creador (“EL FRUTO DEL JUSTO, ES ÁRBOL DE VIDA”- Proverbios 11:30; “BIENAVENTURADO EL VARÓN QUE no anduvo en consejo de malos, Ni estuvo en camino de pecadores, Ni en silla de escarnecedores se ha sentado; Sino que EN LA LEY DE יהוה ESTÁ SU DELICIA, Y EN SU LEY MEDITA DE DÍA Y DE NOCHE. Será como árbol plantado junto a corrientes de aguas, QUE DA SU FRUTO EN SU TIEMPO...”- Salmo 1:1-3; “El hombre será saciado de bien; DEL FRUTO DE SU BOCA; Y le será pagado según LA [BUENA] OBRA DE SUS MANOS”- Proverbios 12:14).

Ningún Hombre puede salvarnos; eso solo lo puede hacer el sincero arrepentimiento

El creyente tiene la opción de seguir a Jesús, a Moisés, a Muhammad, a José Smith, a Charles Taze Russel, o a cualquier otro líder que desee. Pero la Escritura muestra con claridad meridiana que la fe en un hombre no puede salvar a nadie, a menos que esa fe esté acompañada de un arrepentimiento sincero, así como de un genuino deseo de abandonar la maldad, obedeciendo en cambio los 10 mandamientos de la Ley Divina [cuyo finalidad no es otra sino que amemos a Dios, haciendo bien al prójimo que esta hecho a su imagen y semejanza].

Como esta escrito: “No confiéis en los príncipes, Ni en [algún] Hijo de hombre, porque no hay en él Salvación”- Salmo 146:3; «Si se humillare mi Pueblo, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y oraren, y buscaren mi rostro, y se convirtieren de sus malos caminos; entonces yo oiré desde los cielos, y perdonaré sus pecados, y sanaré su Tierra»- 2 Crónicas 7:14; “Apartate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre”- Salmo 37:27 (Biblia Reina Valera, Revisión 1960); «Aquí culmina el relato. Mi conclusión final es la siguiente: “Teme a Dios y obedece sus Mandatos, porque ese es el deber que tenemos todos”»- Eclesiastés 12:13, Nueva Traducción Viviente.

Finalmente, el mismo Jesús confirma la verdad hasta aquí expuesta, cuando es citado diciendo: «Os digo: “No; antes si no os arrepentís, todos pereceréis igualmente”»- Lucas 13:3

Tres curiosas maneras por medio de las cuales Dios exalta a Moisés por encima de Jesús y de Muhammad (paz y bendición sea sobre ellos)

La verdad Divina mostrada en el monte Sinaí (la Ley) es incuestionable, pues fue el producto una revelación pública, donde toda la nación de Israel (es decir, millones de personas) la experimentó simultáneamente. En cambio, las verdades Divinas mostradas tanto en el monte Calvario (Cristianismo), como en el Monte Hirah (Islam) son cuestionables, pues no fueron revelaciones nacionales, sino revelaciones privadas ocurridas ante un reducido numero de testigos.

La idolatría de la personalidad humana [es decir, de hombres de carne y hueso, como lo eran Moisés, Jesús, Pablo, y Muhammad], obligan a sus adeptos a ser mentirosos compulsivos [es decir, a tratar de "tapar" con falsedades, las faltas, los errores, las contradicciones, y los defectos morales de sus finitos y limitados ídolos]

De igual modo, el Dios que se reveló en el Sinaí, escogió llenar el monte con fuego (símbolo de “la Luz de la Verdad”). Como esta escrito: “Todo el monte Sinaí humeaba, por que Dios había descendido sobre él en Fuego”- Éxodo 19:18. En cambio, el dios que se manifestó tanto en el tope del Calvario, como en el interior de la cueva del monte Hirah, escogió llenar ambos lugares de oscuridad (símbolo de la falta de verdad). Como esta escrito: “Cuando era como la hora sexta, hubo tinieblas sobre toda la tierra hasta la hora novena. Y el sol se oscureció... Entonces Jesús, clamando a gran voz, dijo: Padre, en tus manos encomiendo mi espíritu. Y habiendo dicho esto, expiró”- Lucas 23:44-46.

Así mismo, la gloria de Dios brilló permanentemente [durante 40 años] sobre el rostro de Moisés. Pero la gloria de Dios nunca brilló sobre el rostro de Muhammad; y si brilló sobre el rostro de Jesús, fue en una sola ocasión [en el monte de la transfiguración], y ante un minúsculo numero de testigos. ¿Que significa todo esto? Pues significa que, quien anhele presenciar la gloria de Dios [es decir, encontrar la luz de la Verdad], debe buscarla primeramente “en el rostro de Moisés” [es decir, aceptando lo escrito por él sobre las dos tablas de piedra dadas en allá el monte Sinaí]

El verso que resume todo el mensaje de la Biblia

En el original Hebreo, el primero y mas grande verso de la Biblia (Génesis 1:1) lee de la siguiente manera: “Be reshit bara Elohim et ha shamaim...” (“En principio creó Dios los cielos...”). Pero, la frase “Be reshit” no solamente puede traducirse como “En principio”, sino también como, “con principio”. Es decir, el texto puede válidamente leerse de la siguiente manera: “CON PRINCIPIO CREÓ DIOS LOS SHAMAIM (CIELOS)...” ¿A que “principio” alude el verse? Pues al “principio” [o “sabiduría”] que se esconde en los cielos (“shamaim”). Es que, cuando el antiguo Israelita miraba hacia los cielos, se preguntaba cual era el principio que permitía al fuego [del Sol] pasarse entre las aguas [de las nubes] sin que el fuego exterminase al agua, ni el agua exterminase al fuego.

Y la respuesta Divina a esta pregunta es que, lo que sucede en los cielos, es una alegoría de todo el mensaje Bíblico. Es que la Escritura dice que “CON PRINCIPIO CREÓ DIOS LOS SHAMAIM (CIELOS)...”. Es que, la palabra Hebrea que traducimos como “cielo” (Shamaim), está formada por dos palabras distintas: la palabra “esh” (fuego), y la palabra “maim” (agua) [¡Recuerde que el Hebreo Bíblico no contenía vocales!]; Así que, la palabra “shamaim”, y la palabra “esh-maim” (fuego-agua) se escribían exactamente iguales [pues tenían las mismas consonantes].

¿Que pretendía intimar con todo esto la Escritura? Pues que, los Cielos “shamaim) son el lugar reservado para aquellos que, aun siendo enemigos naturales (como lo son el agua y el fuego), pueden vivir juntos y en armonía. Y esto explica el hecho de que todas las religiones monoteístas compartan el mismo mensaje ético (vivir en paz, haciendo bien al prójimo).

- 1) El Cristianismo lo enseña cuando dice: “Así que, todas las cosas que queráis que los hombres hagan con vosotros, así también haced vosotros con ellos; porque ESTO ES LA LEY [LA TORAH] Y LOS PROFETAS”- Evangelio de Mateo, 7:12.
- 2) El Islam lo enseña cuando dice: “Ninguno de ustedes tendrá fe, sino hasta que desee para su hermano lo mismo que desea para si mismo”- Hadith auténtico, Sahih al-Bukhari 13, narrado por Anas Bin Malik.
- 3) El Judaísmo lo enseña cuando dice: “Aquello que seria odioso para ti (aquello que no te gustaría que te hiciesen a ti mismo) no lo hagas tu a tu prójimo. Esto es toda la Torah (la Ley). El resto, es solo comentario...”- Talmud Babilónico, Shabbat 31a

Jesus doesn't need [nor wish] your praise and worship

Our beloved Christian brothers claim that we won't be saved until we start giving glory to Jesus. But, by so doing, they make Jesus a liar (or a “bi-polar” person), as the NT quotes him saying, “I [JESUS] DO NOT ACCEPT GLORY FROM PEOPLE”- John 5:41 (C.S. Bible)

In other words, Why should we have to give so paramount importance to praising and exalting Jesus, when Jesus himself said that he's not interested in any glory we could possibly give him???

Does the former means that the New Testament (or for that sake the whole Bible) is false? Of course not! It just means that the Bible's message isn't what we've been always told...

Rather, the Bible's message is a moral one: that the Divine judgment manifests itself in the law of “sowing, and reaping”; “cause and effect”; “measure for measure”; “action, and reaction”; “what goes around, comes around”...

As is written in the Gospel: “Give, and it shall be given unto you... FOR WITH THE SAME MEASURE THAT YE METE, THEREWITH IT SHALL BE MEASURED TO YOU AGAIN”- Luke 6:38

And also in the Hebrew Bible: “For the day of the Lord (the day of judgment) is near upon all the heathen; AS THOU HAST DONE, IT SHALL BE DONE UNTO THEE: thy reward shall return upon thine own head”- Obadiah 1:15

And that's why the Holy scripture's of both Jews, Samaritans, Muslims and Christians place their emphasis on doing good unto others, so that the same goodness can [later] be done unto us.... You want to be forgiven? Then go, and forgive others....

... You want to be God's own priority? Than make God your own priority. You want to hear God's voice talking to you? Then let God hear your voice talking to Him (in prayer)

... You don't want to be abandoned by God? Then make sure you don't abandon Him...

As is written: «... THUS SAYS THE LORD: "YOU HAVE ABANDONED ME, SO I HAVE ABANDONED YOU..."- 2 Chronicles 12:5...

And also in another place: "THE LORD IS WITH YOU, WHILE YE ARE WITH HIM; and if ye seek him, he will be found of you; BUT IF YE FORSAKE HIM, HE WILL FORSAKE YOU"- 2 Chronicles 15:2...

And finally says: "Therefore, hearken unto me, ye men of understanding... FOR HE [GOD] SHALL PAY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORK, and cause every man to find according to his ways"- Job 34:10-11.

Action, and reaction; sowing and reaping; measure, for measure... that's all there is to God's own religion. Keep it in mind, and you will be safe, ¿Salvación por Fe?

La salvación es "por Fe". Es decir, "por Fe" en que el Creador es un Dios justo, que recompensa a todo aquel que hace lo bueno, y castiga a todo aquel que hace lo malo. Como esta escrito: "ÉL ES LA ROCA; SUS OBRAS SON PERFECTAS. TODO LO QUE HACE ES JUSTO E IMPARCIAL. ÉL ES DIOS FIEL; NUNCA ACTÚA MAL. ¡Qué justo y recto es él!"- Deut. 32:4 (Nueva Traducción Viviente).

Y como también dice en otro lugar: "PORQUE TÚ PAGAS A CADA UNO CONFORME A SU OBRA"- Salmo 62:12. Es que, el fundamento de la Escritura, es que cada hombre ha de segar el fruto de sus obras [es decir, el mismo bien o mal que halla sembrado].

Y, ya que el hombre ha de segar el mismo bien o mal que haya sembrado, el bienestar de cada persona está en arrepentirse de sus iniquidades [abandonando la maldad], para comenzar en cambio a sembrar el bien que agrada al Creador (obedeciendo los Diez mandamientos Divinos). Como está escrito: "APARTATE DEL MAL, Y HAZ EL BIEN, Y VIVIRÁS PARA SIEMPRE"- Salmo 37:27 (Biblia Reina Valera, Revisión 1960).

Y, esto último, es también confirmado por la Escritura que dice: "Pero por tu dureza, y por tu corazón no arrepentido, atesoras para ti mismo ira para el día de la ira y de la revelación del justo juicio de Dios, EL CUAL PAGARÁ A CADA UNO CONFORME A SUS OBRAS: VIDA ETERNA A LOS QUE, PERSEVERANDO EN BIEN HACER, BUSCAN GLORIA Y HONRA E INMORTALIDAD... TRIBULACIÓN Y ANGUSTIA SOBRE TODO SER HUMANO QUE HACE LO MALO, EL JUDÍO PRIMERAMENTE Y TAMBIÉN EL GRIEGO, PERO GLORIA Y HONRA Y PAZ A TODO EL QUE HACE LO BUENO, AL JUDÍO PRIMERAMENTE Y TAMBIÉN AL GRIEGO"- Romanos 2:5-7, & 9-10.

Así las cosas, cuando alguna persona [o alguna cosa], logra hacer que nos volvamos de nuestra iniquidad [para comenzar en cambio a obedecer los mandamientos], tal persona [o tal cosa] se ha convertido en el Redentor (Mesías) que ha venido a redimirnos. Como está escrito: "Y VENDRÁ EL REDENTOR [¿A QUIEN HA DE VENIR EL REDENTOR?...] A LOS QUE [POR MEDIO DEL ARREPENTIMIENTO] SE VOLVIEREN DE LA INIQUIDAD EN JACOB"- Isaías 59:20.

Y, el que la vida eterna está en hacer el bien ordenado en los mandamientos es una verdad tan grande e innegable que, el mismo Maestro de Galilea la confirma, cuando es citado diciendo: "MAS SI QUIERES ENTRAR EN LA VIDA [ETERNA] GUARDA LOS MANDAMIENTOS... NO MATARÁS, NO ADULTERARÁS, NO HURTARÁS, NO DIRÁS FALSO TESTIMONIO, HONRA

A TU PADRE Y A TU MADRE; Y, AMARÁS A TU PRÓJIMO COMO A TI MISMO”- Mateo 19:17-19.

¿Como perdona El Creador nuestras Rebeliones (pecados)?

La Ley Divina muestra que, en su infinita misericordia, Dios ha provisto desde el principio mismo de su Creación un remedio para resarcir el pecado de sus criaturas. ¿Cuál es ese remedio? EL ARREPENTIMIENTO SINCERO. De hecho, los maestros del Samaritanismo Reformado enseñan que, cuando el hombre peca, no tiene que sentirse irremediamente perdido, pues יהוה (Adonai el Creador) ha provisto en el sincero arrepentimiento un acceso a la misericordia Divina que hace que esta última “triunfe sobre el juicio”.

La Escritura dice así: “Como están lejos el oriente del Occidente, así hizo alejar de nosotros nuestras rebeliones (o transgresiones)”. En el original Hebreo, el texto lee así: “Ki-rechok mizra hirehik mi-maarav mi-menu et peshaeinu”- Salmo 103:12. ¿Qué importancia hay en el orden de estas palabras? ¿Por qué primero el Oriente, y solo luego el Occidente? Pues la razón es que el verso alude al recorrido diario del Sol. Es decir, los antiguos Hebreos creían que el lugar de tormento (Gehinnom) se encontraba en el Oriente; pero que, la presencia Divina, se hallaba en Occidente. Y esto último explicaba el que el sol “pusiese” (o “se inclinase”) en el Occidente (como rindiendo reverencia ante su Rey y Creador).

Pero, ¿Cómo está lejos el Oriente del Occidente? ¿Acaso hay una distancia especifica entre estos dos puntos? Pues la respuesta es que no hay una distancia física entre estos lugares. En otras palabras, el Oriente y el Occidente no son ningún lugar en particular, sino que son en cambio direcciones opuestas, hacia las cuales podemos escoger encaminarnos (¡Lo que separa al Oriente del Occidente es un giro de 180 grados!) La imagen que se nos pretende ilustrar es la de un hombre que camina “hacia el Oriente” (es decir, alejándose de su Creador, camino hacia Gehinnom).

SAMARITANISMO REFORMADO
Jesus, No es el mismo Dios que habla en la Escritura Hebrea

«Y vino a él el tentador, y le dijo: Si eres Hijo de Dios, di que estas piedras se conviertan en pan. Él respondió y dijo: Escrito está: No sólo de pan vivirá el hombre, sino de toda palabra que sale de la boca de Dios»- Mateo 4:3-4

¿Por que Jesús (paz y bendición sean con el) responde al Diablo de esta manera? ¿No es acaso Jesús el mismo Dios que habla en la Escritura Hebrea? ¿Por que en vez de haber dicho "escrito esta....", Jesús no respondió diciendo: «Yo ordene que fuese escrito esto, o aquello otro»? ¿Por que Jesús no aclaró el pasaje citado, diciendo en cambio lo siguiente, «“No sólo de pan vivirá el hombre, sino de toda palabra que sale de la boca de Jesús”»?

Pero un día ese hombre se detiene, y razonando consigo mismo, reconoce que lleva su vida en la dirección equivocada. Entonces decide abandonar su camino de maldad, dando un giro de 180 grados para comenzar en cambio a dirigirse en la dirección opuesta, acercándose cada día mas a la presencia Divina que “El Occidente” tipifica. Y lo que el pasaje significa es que, así como este giro de 180 grados puede cambiar de golpe el destino deparado para esta persona, de ese mismo modo un giro de obstinación y rebeldía, a arrepentimiento y obediencia, cambia de golpe el destino eterno del pecador (pues sus rebeliones son alejadas de él).

Y es por esto que la Escritura dice: “El que encubre sus pecados no prosperará; Mas el que los confiesa (reconociendo así lo extraviado de su sendero), y se aparta (para comenzar a caminar en la dirección opuesta) alcanzara misericordia (es decir, recibirá el perdón de sus pecados)”- Proverbios 28:13.

«Habla a toda la congregación de los hijos de Israel, y diles: “Santos seréis, porque santo soy yo יהוה vuestro Dios”»- Levítico 19:2; «Seguid la paz con todos, y la Santidad, sin la cual nadie verá al Señor»- Hebreos 12:14

If Jesus followed the order of Melchisedec, then he could not have fulfilled the Aaronic Passover rite

Christianity is an awesome religion. But Christian theology is seriously flawed. Why? Simply because it is full of grave and serious loopholes. For example, the Hebrew Bible states that, immediately after celebrating their first Passover [in Egypt], the Israelites received total & complete deliverance. Thus, if Jesus death was God’s own Passover celebration [as claimed by Christian theology], how can it be that, 2000 years after Jesus death, Christians still haven't received total and complete deliverance, just as the Israelites did?

In addition, Christian theology claims that Jesus didn’t follow the Aaronic priesthood order [which included a yearly Passover rite]; but rather the order of Melchisedec (“Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedec”- Hebrews 5:6). But, since we are nowhere told that Melchisedec’s order included a Jewish Passover rite, it makes no sense to claim that Jesus followed Melchisedec’s priesthood, and at the same time fulfilled the aaronic Passover rite. In fact, why would any non Jewish priesthood include a rite reminding the Hebrew liberation from Egyptian slavery?

El Dios que adoran los creyentes de la Ley Divina (la Biblia Hebrea), se llama “Adonai Yah” (יהוה). Pero, el dios que adoran los creyentes del Evangelio, se llama “Jesús de Nazaret”. Y, tanto Jesús, como יהוה , son dioses totalmente distintos, pues cada uno de ellos reclama ser el Creador; cada uno de ellos reclama ser el único y verdadero Dios; cada uno de ellos reclama la adoración de los hombres; y cada uno de ellos tiene su propia Escritura que le exalte, y le glorifique. Por esto, no es de extrañar que, el nombre de “Jesús de Nazaret”, no aparezca ni una sola vez en la Ley Divina; mientras que, el nombre de יהוה no aparece ni una sola vez en el Evangelio. Es que, el propósito de la Ley Divina, es que los hombres sirvan y glorifiquen a יהוה (el único y verdadero Dios); pero, el propósito del Evangelio, es que los hombres dejen de servir a יהוה (que es un espíritu inmortal, perfecto, e infinito), para servir en cambio al ídolo llamado Jesús de Nazaret (un hombre que, aunque muy noble, era mortal, imperfecto, y finito)

Is it true that God came down to Earth in the form of a man named Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him)?

The idea that any ordinary man could be God isn't only wrong, but outright immoral, as it would imply that, just like ordinary men, God is somehow "full of urine and feces". In fact, even the Christian New Testament condemns the idea that any deity [let alone the one true God] would come down to Earth, in the form of any man. Where do we find this? We find it in the book of Acts. In Acts 14:11-15, the apostle Paul goes into a pagan city, where he performs a miracle. As a result, the townsfolk believe Paul is a god that has come down to Earth in the form of a man. But when Paul hears about this, he gets extremely upset, and exhorts the townspeople to abandon such a worthless idea. As is written: «When the crowds saw what Paul had done, they shouted... "The gods have come down to us in human form!" The apostles... tore their robes... shouting, "People!... We are people also, just like you... and we are proclaiming... that you turn from these worthless things to the living God..."».

So, according to the New Testament, to believe that God is a deity that has come down to earth in the form of a man named Jesus, is a worthless idea. And not only does the NT teaches this, but also do likewise the Hebrew Scripture, when it goes on to say that God is too big to literally fit into a "small house" [such as planet Earth]. As is written: "But will God indeed dwell with men on the Earth? Behold, the heavens and heaven of heavens [in its most extended compass] cannot contain You; how much less this house that I have built?"- 1 Kings 8:27 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition)

SAMARITANISMO REFORMADO

El concepto del Mesías, se ha convertido en algo abominable

La abrumadora mayoría de nuestros amados hermanos Cristianos ignoran que, el nombre "Jesús", no significa "salvación" (ni tampoco "salvador"). Es que la palabra "Jesús" viene de la frase Hebrea "Yah'shua" (también pronunciado como "Yeho'shua"); y cualquier conocedor del idioma Hebreo sabe que esto último significa "Yah (יה) es Salvación". Así pues, el verdadero creyente en Jesús (Yahshua), es aquel que acepta el mensaje que conlleva este nombre- "Que es יהוה (el Padre Celestial, y no el hombre Jesús), quien puede dar salvación". Como esta escrito: "Yo, yo יהוה, y fuera de mí no hay quien salve"- Isaías 43:11

Moisés, predijo que vendría otro profeta como el (Deut.
18:15)... Moisés abrió las aguas, ante la mirada atónita de todo el Pueblo Israel (Exodo 14:21)...
¿que otro profeta abrió tambien las aguas, ante la mirada atónita de todo el Pueblo de Israel?

El Cristianismo Sigue La Romana Inmoralidad Llamada "Salvación Por Fe"

El Cristianismo fue la religión oficialmente escogida por el emperador Romano, a través del edicto de Tesalónica (380 E.C.).

Pero, como era de esperar, la glorificada mafia Romana comprendida tanto por el emperador como por sus mercenarios, creía [naturalmente] que, en un imperio que había sido forjado por tiranos, dictadores, y delincuentes, "guardar la Ley" [una ley que condenaba la mentira, la extorsión, el robo, el asesinato, y la opresión], era en si mismo un grave delito.

Y esta abominable inmoralidad Romana, es lo que el Cristianismo moderno exalta con el nombre de “salvación por fe” ¡Decir que Jesus es Dios (siendo parte de la Trinidad), es justificar todo el Paganismo y la inmoralidad que ha existido en el Mundo!

Decir que Jesus fue la manifestación [en forma humana] de Dios, hace tanto sentido, como decir que Júpiter, Zeus, Marte, Mercurio, Hércules, o Krishna, también fueron manifestaciones humanas de Dios. Es que, si Dios pudo manifestarse en Jesus, ¿Por que no pudo haberse también manifestarse en Buddah, en Zoroastro, o en el Dalai Lama?

Y, si el Espíritu Santo (que el Cristianismo afirma ser parte de la Divina Trinidad) pudo manifestarse en forma corporal (como una paloma, según Lucas 3:22), ¿porque no pudo haberse manifestado en la forma de un águila, de un cordero, de un león, o de un cocodrilo?

¿No dice el Cristianismo que nada es imposible para Dios? Y, si Dios pudo haberse manifestado en la forma de cualquiera de estos animales, ¿quien puede cuestionar el que, cuando los Egipcios adoraban a un becerro, no estuviesen adorando [correctamente] una previa manifestación de Dios?

La realidad es que, decir que el Creador del Universo [bendito sea] escoge tomar la forma de algún ser humano [o de alguna de sus criaturas], es abrir una caja de Pandora, pues conduce a la idolatría de cualquier hombre que sea lo suficientemente poderoso y sagaz como para inducirnos a creer que en efecto es otra manifestación humana del Creador (ver por ejemplo Hechos 14:11-13).

Y, esto último, es justificar toda la idolatría y el paganismo que ha existido en el Mundo entero.

Adventismo, Russelismo, y la inmortalidad del alma

Varias sectas Cristianas postulan la singular idea de que, cuando fallece un creyente, su espíritu fallece con él, para permanecer en cambio sumido en “la nada” que es “el sueño de la muerte”, esperando pasivamente la llegada de “la mañana” de la resurrección, cuando recibirá finalmente el pago por el servicio rendido a su Señor.

¿Cual es el problema con esta [aparentemente] lógica idea? Pues nada, aparte del hecho de que presenta al Creador como un Dios falso y ladrón. Es que, el Dios de los Hebreos, no se agrada de nadie que rehúse pagar inmediatamente, sino que dilate hasta la mañana el pago debido a sus obreros. Como esta escrito: “No oprimirás a tu prójimo, ni le robarás. No retendrás el salario del jornalero en tu casa hasta la mañana”- Levítico 19:13.

No solamente esto, sino que el anterior concepto implica que, al final de sus días, no habrá castigo alguno esperando al impío, ni tampoco habrá recompensa alguna esperando al justo; una idea que el Dios de los Hebreos simplemente abomina, así como toda teología que fortalezca los brazos de los impíos, debilitando así los brazos de los justos.

Como esta escrito: “Por cuanto entristecisteis con mentiras el corazón del justo, al cual yo no entristecí, y fortalecisteis las manos del impío, para que no se apartase de su mal camino, infundiéndole ánimo- Ezequiel 13:22”. La realidad es que, negar la inmortalidad del alma, equivale a negar al Dios de Israel, así como la revelación Divina dada por nuestro maestro Moisés.

Es que Moisés enseñó que el espíritu del hombre es “una porción de la chispa Divina” puesto por Dios mismo dentro del inerte cuerpo de Adam [en el momento que sopló en su nariz]... En otras palabras, ¡Fue esa chispa Divina, la que dio vida a la carne de Adam... No fue la carne de Adam, la que dio vida a la chispa Divina!

En adición, la Ley ordenaba que “la lampara de Dios” (o “Menorah”) que estaba puesta en el templo sagrado [un templo que, según el Nazareno, era prototipo del cuerpo humano- verdadero Templo de Dios] tenía que arder perpetuamente (Éxodo 27:20-21). ¿Que intima con esto la Escritura? Pues que, así como Dios quería que la lampara divina ardiese para siempre, de ese mismo modo desea Dios que nuestra lampara (es decir, nuestro espíritu) arda para siempre.

¿Y de donde sabemos que el espíritu del hombre equivale a la lampara Divina? Pues lo sabemos del verso que continua diciendo: “Lámpara del Señor es el espíritu del hombre...”- Prov. 20:27. ¿Se le podrá apagar a Dios su lampara? ¡Jamás! Finalmente, si esa chispa divina que está en el hombre pudiese morir con el cuerpo, tendríamos que admitir que Dios cambia, pues una porción del Creador moriría con cada hombre que perece.

Pero esto sería negar al Dios de Israel, a quien la Ley describe diciendo: “Porque yo El Señor no cambio...”- Malaquías 3:6. Y dice también en el libro de los Salmos: “Mas tú, El Señor, permanecerás para siempre, Y tu memoria de generación en generación”- Salmo 102:12; Y también dice en otro lugar: “Ellos dejarán de existir, pero tú permaneces para siempre; se desgastarán como ropa vieja... Pero tú siempre eres el mismo; tú vivirás para siempre”- Salmo 102:26-27.

¿Padecía el noble apóstol Pablo de sus facultades mentales?

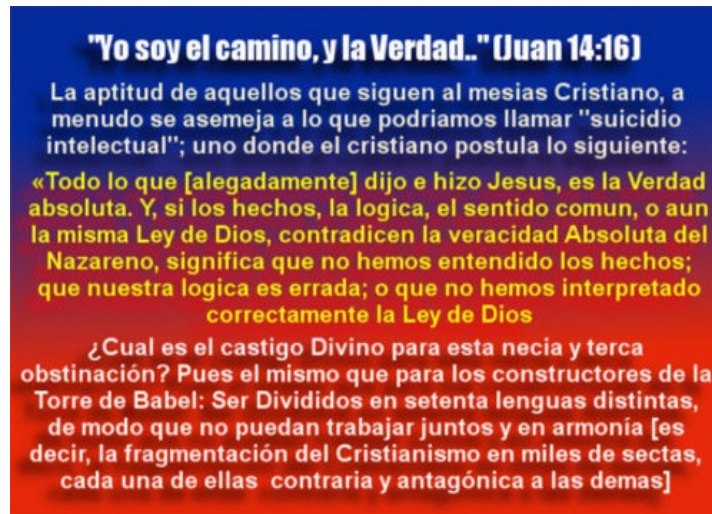

El Samaritanismo Reformado enseña que la mayor parte de la teología que de Jesús articula el Cristianismo Evangélico es el producto de la mente del gran apóstol Pablo. Y la realidad es que Pablo (paz y bendición sean con el), era un hombre santo, y bueno. Pero la Escritura intima que Pablo padecía de algún tipo de trastorno mental que aparentaba ser auto-evidente para él mismo, así como para quienes le rodeaban. Como esta escrito:

- 1) “Estás loco, Pablo: las muchas letras te vuelven loco” (Hechos 26:24)
- 2) “Lo que hablo, no lo hablo según el Señor, sino como en locura” (2 Corintios 11:17)
- 3) “Ojalá me toleraseis un poco de locura! Sí, toleradme” (2 Corintios 11:1)
- 4) “Recibidme como a loco, para que aun me gloríe yo un poquito” (2 Corintios 11:16)
- 5) “Agradó a Dios salvar a los creyentes por la locura de la predicación” (1Corintios 1:21)

Y, el Creador, quiere que su Pueblo se aleje de la locura. Como esta escrito: “Escucharé lo que hablará Dios; Porque HABLARA PAZ A SU PUEBLO Y A SUS SANTOS, PARA QUE NO SE VUELVAN A LA LOCURA” (Salmo 85:8).

Finalmente, el mismo apóstol Pablo reconoce estar influenciado por un poder maligno que le atormenta, a el fin de limitar su exagerado ego (algo que, a excepción del profeta Muhammad, es inaudito en la vida o ministerio de ninguno de los grandes profetas anteriores o posteriores a Pablo).

Como esta escrito: “me fue dado un aguijón en mi carne, un mensajero de Satanás [¡un torturante demonio!] que me abofetee, para que no me enaltezca sobremanera”- 2 Corintios 12:7

Is there anything wrong with the Christian Writings?

Truth is that there's nothing wrong with the Christian gospels, aside from the fact that some of it's ideas are outright dangerous! Take for example the case of the Gospel saying that, while undergoing his baptism, the Holy Spirit literally descended upon Jesus (in a physical form of a dove). What's wrong with this teaching? The problem with this idea, is that it opens a “Pandora's box”. In other words, if The Holy Spirit (the third person of the Trinity, according to Christianity) could come unto the world as a dove, who is to say that He can't return again as a sheep, or as a goat? How can we rule out that He won't come back as a Bull? How then can we condemn those who (like ancient Egyptians) still worship animals? If God could manifest himself in Jesus, how can we rule out that He didn't manifest Himself in someone else? How can we rule out that Vissarion (the modern Russian Messiah) isn't God manifesting in the flesh again? How can we rule out that Alan John Miller (the Australian Jesus), Sun Myung Moon (the Korean Jesus), or Vissarion (the Russian Jesus) aren't God manifesting Himself in the flesh again? And, where does it stops??? How can we ever have any certainty as to who is, and who isn't, God manifesting Himself in the flesh again? As we can see, this idea of God manifesting Himself in a physical body, is a road that leads to nowhere; an idea that only generates uncertainty, anxiety, frustration, anger, and depression. Interestingly enough, this “confusion of spirit” is one of the curses prescribed for those who would refuse to obey God's commandments (salvation only by faith?): “BUT IF YOU won't listen to the voice of the Eternal your God, if you don't CAREFULLY OBEY THE COMMANDS and regulations I'm giving you today, then YOU'LL EXPERIENCE all of -- in fact, they'll come after you!... THE ETERNAL WILL AFFLICT YOU WITH MADNESS AND BLINDNESS AND CONFUSION. As you try to figure out which way to go in life, you'll be groping around the way a blind person gropes in the darkness, even in the middle of the day” (Deut. 28:15, 28&29 – the VOICE Bible version). God commandments forbid us from making (either with our hands or with our mind) any graven image (or “picture”) of Him: “YOU ARE NOT TO MAKE ANY idol or image of other gods. In fact, you are not to make an IMAGE OF ANYTHING IN THE HEAVENS ABOVE, ON THE EARTH BELOW, OR IN THE WATERS BENEATH. YOU ARE NOT TO BOW DOWN AND SERVE ANY IMAGE, for I, the Eternal your God, am a jealous God” (Exodus 20:4-5, the VOICE Bible version). Therefore, If we “picture” God as a dove, we are violating God's commandment; if we “picture” God as a man (like Jesus) we are violating God's commandment; if we picture God as a mountain, as a cloud, as fire, as an angel, as a bull, as a lamb, or as anything else we can see (or perceive) with our human eyes, we are violating God's Law, and are thus liable to the consequences. That's why Reformed Samaritanism teaches that God has chosen never to manifest Himself in flesh and blood, in order to prevent us from ever falling under the aforementioned curses. But, what should a believer in Jesus (peace be upon him) do? Should he abandon his faith in the Nazarene? Not at all! Instead, he should recognize that Jesus wasn't a Christian believer, but rather a Samaritan one. The Christian believer should start acknowledging that Jesus himself recognized that he wasn't God: "... but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and TO MY GOD, AND YOUR GOD"- John 20:17. In truth, Jesus wasn't God, but only a mortal man who heard a [prophetic] message from the one true God- "But now ye go about to kill ME, A MAN that have told you the truth, which I HAVE HEARD OF GOD" (John 8:40, Geneva Bible). The Christian believer must start acknowledging that Salvation isn't the product of blind faith, but rather of sincere repentance ["I tell you, Nay: but, EXCEPT YE REPENT, YE SHALL ALL LIKEWISE PERISH"- Luke 13:3, King James Bible). He should also recognize that salvation isn't the reward for those who believe Jesus is the Messiah, but rather for those who follow Moses (keeping God's ten commandments): "But IF THOU WILT ENTER INTO LIFE, KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS. He said unto him, Which? And Jesus said, These, THOU SHALT NOT KILL: THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY: THOU SHALT NOT STEAL: THOU SHALT NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS. HONOR THY FATHER, AND MOTHER: AND, THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOR AS THYSELF" - Matthew 19:17-19, Geneva Bible.

¡EL EVANGELIO ES PREDICADO POR LOS DEMONIOS!
Si los demonios proclaman a viva voz que Jesús (paz sea con él), es el hijo de Dios (Marcos 1:23-24; Marcos 3:11, y Lucas 4:41); y, en adición, llega un espíritu de adivinación, y proclama a todos que, el Evangelio, es el camino de Salvación (Hechos 16:16-17), entonces el verdadero hijo de Dios tiene el deber de no creer que Jesús sea el hijo de Dios, ni que el Cristianismo sea el camino de Salvación.
¿Por que? Pues porque no puede haber compañerismo alguno entre la justicia, y la injusticia; entre la luz, y las tinieblas; entre los hijos de Dios, y los hijos de Ha Satan; ni entre los justos y los impíos. Como esta escrito: "El consejo de los impíos, lejos esté de mí" (Job 21:16). Y también: "Bienaventurado el varón que no anduvo en consejo de malos" (Salmo 1:1). Y también dice en otro lugar: "Mas los consejos de los impíos [son] engaño" (Prov. 12:5).

¿Por que escucha Dios a aquellos que siguen falsas doctrinas?

Si la teología de una religión particular (Judaísmo, Cristianismo, Islam, Noahismo, Budismo, etc) es incorrecta, ¿Como explicamos el hecho de que El Creador a menudo conteste las oraciones de los adeptos de tales teologías? La respuesta es que, si Dios contesta sus oraciones, es porque Yah no solamente es infinitamente misericordioso, sino perfectamente Justo; y, esa perfección, se manifiesta a traves del hecho de que, el Creador (bendito sea), "no se queda con nada de nadie".

Es decir, no retiene la recompensa debida a todo aquel que ha efectuado alguna obra de justicia (hecho algún tipo de bien), sin importar cuan pequeña haya sido la obra. ¿Cuales son esas obras de justicia? Pues, la mayor de todas ellas, es tener un corazón contrito y humillado; un espíritu libre de falsas pretensiones, de altivez, y de soberbia; En otras palabras, es renunciar a nuestro auto engrandecimiento, anonadandonos a nosotros mismos con el compromiso de someternos a lo voluntad Divina, comenzando a vivir la vida de justicia que agrada a Dios, y que consiste en guardar sus mandamientos, y en renunciar a todo aquello que es bajo, y vil.

¿Por que es tan importante tener un corazón contrito y humillado? Pues porque Dios ha prometido contestar favorablemente la oración del hombre que posee tal corazón, como esta escrito: “Los sacrificios de Dios son el espíritu quebrantado; Al corazón contrito y humillado no despreciarás tú, oh Dios” (Salmo 51:1).

Algunas de las otras cosas que la Escritura clasifica como obras de justicia son las siguientes: no hacer acepción de personas (no favorecer arbitrariamente a una persona por encima de otra), socorrer (brindar ayuda) al huérfano, a la viuda, y a los extranjeros. De hecho, estas obras son tan meritorias, que el mismo Creador nos ha dado ejemplo de su observación (a fin de motivarnos a imitar la misma conducta), como esta escrito:

“Él es el Dios soberano de todos los dioses, de todos los reyes y de todas las naciones. Su poder hace temblar a todo el mundo. Cuando Él toma una decisión, lo hace con justicia, y nadie lo puede sobornar. Dios es justo con los huérfanos y con las viudas, y muestra su amor dándoles ropa y comida a los extranjeros que viven entre ustedes. Así que, muestren amor a los extranjeros, porque también ustedes fueron extranjeros en Egipto” (Deuteronomio 10:17-19).

Y esta casi demás decir que, si Dios anhela que hagamos justicia (demos ropa y comida) a los extranjeros (aquellos que no conocemos, y con los cuales no estamos emparentados), ¿cuanto mas no esperara que hagamos justicia con el huérfano y con la viuda (que en efecto conocemos, y con los cuales quizás estemos emparentados).

Siendo un Dios perfectamente Justo, El Creador (bendito sea) ama la justicia, como esta escrito: “Porque Yah es justo, y ama la justicia...” (Salmo 11:17). Y esta es la razón por la cual ordena al hombre dar prioridad a la practica de las obras de justicia, como esta escrito: “La justicia, la justicia seguirás...” (Deut. 16:20).

Así, siendo que la Tanak enseña que Dios nunca actúa de forma torcida ni injusta (“¿Acaso torcerá Dios el derecho, O pervertirá el Todopoderoso la justicia?” Job 8:3), no debe sorprendernos que el Creador recompense (escuche) el clamor de todo aquel que obra lo bueno, sin importar el credo que la persona profese. Como esta escrito: “Yah me ha premiado conforme a mi justicia; Conforme a la limpieza de mis manos me ha recompensado...” (2 Samuel 22:21).

Dios no juzga a los hombres de acuerdo a la teología que siguen, sino de acuerdo a las obras que ejecutan; Y, el bien que no haya sido justamente recompensado en este mundo, sera recompensado en el mundo que ha de venir.

De igual modo, el mal que no haya sido justamente castigado en este mundo, lo sera en el mundo que ha de venir, como esta escrito: “Tú oirás desde los cielos, y actuarás, y juzgarás a tus siervos, dando la paga al impío, haciendo recaer su proceder sobre su cabeza, y justificando al justo, al darle conforme a su justicia (el bien que realizo)” (2 Crónicas 6:23).

¿Hay alguna forma de asegurar que nuestras malas obras son castigadas en esta vida (donde el castigo es corto y limitado), y no en la vida que ha de venir (donde el castigo podría ser largo e ilimitado)? Afortunadamente la hay, y esta en la confesión y la conversión.

En otras palabras, cuando contristamos y humillamos nuestro corazón, confesando públicamente nuestra maldad, la vergüenza que esa confesión conlleva, equivale a todos los sacrificio expiatorios de la Ley, así como a todos los castigos en ella prescritos. Así, cuando el hombre hace confesión publica, y conversión, sus pecados son perdonados (expiados). Y esta es la razón para que, como hemos dicho con anterioridad, la Escritura enseñe que “los sacrificios de Dios, son el espíritu quebrantado”.

Y es también la razón para que la Escritura diga: “Si pecaren contra ti (pues no hay hombre que no peque), y te enojares contra ellos, y los entregares delante de sus enemigos, para que los que los tomaren los lleven cautivos a tierra de enemigos, lejos o cerca, y ellos volvieren en sí en la tierra donde fueren llevados cautivos; si se convirtieren, y oraren a ti en la tierra de su cautividad, y dijeren: Pecamos, hemos hecho inicuaemente, impiamente hemos hecho; si se convirtieren a ti de todo su corazón y de toda su alma> en la tierra de su cautividad, donde los hubieren llevado cautivos, y oraren hacia la tierra que tú diste a sus padres, hacia la ciudad que tú elegiste, y hacia la casa que he edificado a tu nombre; tú oirás desde los cielos, desde el lugar de tu morada, su oración y su ruego, y ampararás su causa, y perdonarás a tu pueblo que pecó contra ti” (2 Crónicas 6:36-39).

«This is what יהוה , the King of Israel and its Redeemer, the Lord of Armies, says: “I am the first [cause I have no Father preceding me], and I am the last [cause I have no Son who may outlive me]. There is no God but me [as I have no Brother who could be considered my equal].... See now that I alone am He [cause there is no plurality within me, sharing my Divinity]...» Isaiah 44:6, & Deuteronomy 32:39

El evangelio es bueno, pues conduce al hombre al arrepentimiento. Pero la teología cristiana es tan extraviada y contumaz, que los demonios (quienes solo desean la perdición del hombre) se gozan en predicarla

El hombre que no vive para servir, no sirve para vivir

El hombre que no vive para servir, no sirve para vivir. Y está casi demás decir que, no podremos servir, mientras practiquemos un estilo de vida individualista; uno que nos separa y aísla de nuestro prójimo, haciendo de nuestra auto-gratificación la suprema meta de nuestra existencia. Es que, no solamente es malo que el hombre este solo (Gen. 2:18), sino que, la vida no nos mostrara su mas excelsa faz, sino hasta el momento en que aceptemos el hecho de que, cuando hacemos bien al prójimo (cuando servimos al pueblo que nos rodea), nos hacemos bien a nosotros mismos, como está escrito:

"Si tu fueres hoy siervo de este pueblo, y lo sirvieres, y respondiéndoles buenas palabras les hablases, ellos te servirán (a ti) para siempre"- 1 Reyes 12:7

The Kingdom of God is wherever God is obeyed

Is God your King? Do you obey Him [observing what He commanded upon the Two stone tablets]? As is written: “Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the Law of the Lord. Blessed are they that keep his testimonies... Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently”- Psalm 119:1-4; and also- “... but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments”- Matthew 19:17

SAMARITANISMO REFORMADO
Tristemente, los escritos Cristianos equiparan a sus adeptos con gente insensata. Como escribe el apóstol Pablo: “Yo os provocare a celos con un pueblo que no es pueblo; con pueblo insensato, os provocare a ira”- Romanos 10:19. Y también dice en otro lugar: “Nosotros somos insensatos por amor de Cristo”. Y la razón por la cual las anteriores expresiones son tan lamentables, es que el Dios de Israel ha advertido a los suyos que los insensatos no estarán jamás en su presencia. Como esta escrito:
«Los insensatos, no estarán delante de tus ojos» (Salmo 5:5)

La Humildad, es la llave al Jardín del Edén; pues el humilde ya ha alcanzado la Santidad, y la Sabiduría

La tradición Samaritana dice que “la cabeza” (es decir, “la mas alta manifestación”) de la Sabiduría, es el temor a Dios; como esta escrito, “El temor a Dios es la cabeza de la sabiduría”- Salmo 111:10 (la palabra Hebrea “reshit”, que en el anterior pasaje a menudo es traducida como “el principio”, significa también “la cabeza”). Pero, “la humildad”, es tanto mayor al temor a Dios, que este último es solamente su talón, como esta escrito: “Es el talón de la humildad, el temor de Dios ...”- Prov. 22:4 (la palabra hebrea “ekev”, que en el anterior pasaje a menudo es traducida como “recompensa”, significa también “talón”).

De igual modo, “la humildad” es la mayor de todas las virtudes, pues la Escritura dice: “El Señor me ha ungido para dar buenas nuevas a los humildes...”- Isaías 61:1. Note que, el anterior pasaje, no dice que las buenas nuevas [de salvación] son para los sabios, para los santos, para los que tienen fe, para los Judios, para los Cristianos, o para los Musulmanes; ¡Dice que son para los humildes! (intimando con ello que, quienes tienen un corazón humilde, ya han alcanzado sabiduría, santidad, fe, y temor de Dios, sin importar cual sea su raza o credo).

El Cristianismo es una santa y noble religión. Pero, tristemente, sus escritos describen al creyente como insensato, e inmaduro. Como esta escrito: “Hermanos, no seáis niños en el modo de pensar, sino sed niños en la malicia, pero maduros en el modo de pensar”- 1 Corintios 14:20

Why Did God allow Abraham to attempt to sacrifice Isaac?

The Hebrew Bible implicit message is that, there is no evil in the God of Israel [the Creator of the Universe], as He is morally perfect (“HE IS THE ROCK, HIS WORK IS PERFECT: for all his ways are judgment: A GOD OF TRUTH AND WITHOUT INIQUITY, JUST AND RIGHT IS HE”- Deuteronomy 32:4). And this moral perfection prevents the Creator from arbitrarily judging His creatures.

Rather, He made His universe so that, the law of “measure for measure” (also know as “sowing and reaping”, or “action and reaction”), allow his Creatures to judge themselves. How? By being forced to “reap” the same goodness [or evil] they have “sowed”. For example, if a Hebrew believer takes advantage of a widowed woman [or of an orphaned kid], God justice will let such man die, so that his wife becomes a widow, and his kids become orphans [so that his widow and his orphans are in turn taken advantage of!].

As it is written: “YOU MUST NOT MISTREAT ANY WIDOW OR FATHERLESS CHILD. IF YOU DO MISTREAT THEM, they will no doubt cry to me, and I will certainly hear their cry. MY ANGER WILL BURN, AND I WILL KILL YOU WITH THE SWORD; THEN YOUR WIVES WILL BE WIDOWS AND YOUR CHILDREN FATHERLESS”- Exodus 22:22.

And this truth explains why God brought Abraham's son [Isaac] to the brink of death. You see, Abraham's wife [Sarah] asked him to send Hagar and Abraham's son Ishmael into the wilderness (“DRIVE OUT THIS SLAVE WITH HER SON...”- Genesis 21:8).

And, by doing this, Sarah caused extreme suffering on Hagar, whose son was brought to the brink of death («WHEN THE WATER IN THE SKIN WAS USED UP, SHE [HAGAR] LEFT THE BOY [ISHMAEL] UNDER ONE OF THE BUSHES. Then she went and sat down opposite him, about a bowshot away, FOR SHE SAID, “DO NOT LET ME SEE THE BOY DIE” AND SHE SAT OPPOSITE HIM, AND LIFTED UP HER VOICE AND WEPT»- Genesis 21:15-16).

Thus, as Sarah sowed this suffering upon Hagar [letting Hagar's son come to the brink of death], God's perfect justice allowed Sarah to experience exactly the same suffering, as God allowed Abraham to bring Sarah's son (Isaac) unto the brink of death. In fact, just as Hagar couldn't endure the potential death of his son Ishmael, likewise Sarah couldn't bear the potential death of his son Isaac [as the Jewish tradition says that, upon hearing of Abraham's intention to sacrifice Isaac, she died]

¿Como podemos ser salvos? ¿Por la Ley, o por la Gracia?

La salvación es “por Fe”. Es decir, “por Fe” en que el Creador es un Dios justo, que recompensa a todo aquel que hace lo bueno, y castiga a todo aquel que hace lo malo. Como esta escrito: “ÉL ES LA ROCA; SUS OBRAS SON PERFECTAS. TODO LO QUE HACE ES JUSTO E IMPARCIAL. ÉL ES DIOS FIEL; NUNCA ACTÚA MAL. ¿Qué justo y recto es él!”- Deut. 32:4 (Nueva Traducción Viviente). Y como también dice en otro lugar: “PORQUE TÚ PAGAS A CADA UNO CONFORME A SU OBRA”- Salmo 62:12. Es que, el fundamento de la Escritura, es que cada hombre ha de segar el fruto de sus obras [es decir, el mismo bien o mal que halla sembrado].

Y, ya que el hombre ha de segar el mismo bien o mal que haya sembrado, el bienestar de cada persona está en arrepentirse de sus iniquidades [abandonando la maldad], para comenzar en cambio a sembrar el bien que agrada al Creador (obedeciendo los Diez mandamientos Divinos). Como está escrito: “APARTATE DEL MAL, Y HAZ EL BIEN, Y VIVIRÁS PARA SIEMPRE”- Salmo 37:27 (Biblia Reina Valera, Revisión 1960).

Y, esto último, es también confirmado por la Escritura que dice: “Pero por tu dureza, y por tu corazón no arrepentido, atesoras para ti mismo ira para el día de la ira y de la revelación del justo juicio de Dios, EL CUAL PAGARÁ A CADA UNO CONFORME A SUS OBRAS: VIDA ETERNA A LOS QUE, PERSEVERANDO EN BIEN HACER, BUSCAN GLORIA Y HONRA E INMORTALIDAD... TRIBULACIÓN Y ANGUSTIA SOBRE TODO SER HUMANO QUE HACE LO MALO, EL JUDÍO PRIMERAMENTE Y TAMBIÉN EL GRIEGO, PERO GLORIA Y HONRA

Y PAZ A TODO EL QUE HACE LO BUENO, AL JUDÍO PRIMERAMENTE Y TAMBIÉN AL GRIEGO”- Romanos 2:5-7, & 9-10.

Así las cosas, cuando alguna persona [o alguna cosa], logra hacer que nos volvamos de nuestra iniquidad [para comenzar en cambio a obedecer los mandamientos], tal persona [o tal cosa] se ha convertido en el Redentor (Mesías) que ha venido a redimirnos. Como está escrito: “Y VENDRÁ EL REDENTOR [¿A QUIEN HA DE VENIR EL REDENTOR?... A LOS QUE [POR MEDIO DEL ARREPENTIMIENTO] SE VOLVIEREN DE LA INIQUIDAD EN JACOB”- Isaías 59:20.

Y, el que la vida eterna está en hacer el bien ordenado en los mandamientos es una verdad tan grande e innegable que, el mismo Maestro de Galilea la confirma, cuando es citado diciendo: “MAS SI QUIERES ENTRAR EN LA VIDA [ETERNA] GUARDA LOS MANDAMIENTOS... NO MATARÁS, NO ADULTERARÁS, NO HURTARÁS, NO DIRÁS FALSO TESTIMONIO, HONRA A TU PADRE Y A TU MADRE; Y, AMARÁS A TU PRÓJIMO COMO A TI MISMO”- Mateo 19:17-19.

«Yo יהוה ; este es mi nombre; y a otro no daré mi gloria»
(Isaías 42:8)

«Y nombre de otros dioses [fuera de יהוה] no mentaréis, ni se oirá de vuestra boca» (Éxodo 23:13)

¿No es Mesías el Salvador? ¿Por que entonces necesita “ser salvado”?

La Escritura Hebrea, dice así: «Ahora conozco que יהוה (Yah) salva a “Meshijo” (su Mesías)...» (Salmo 20:6)

¿No es Mesías el Salvador? ¿Por que entonces necesita “ser salvado”? Pues porque, ningún Mesías humano (es decir, ningún ser de carne y hueso), es יהוה. Y, siendo que יהוה es el Creador y el sustentador de todas las cosas, יהוה es el único ser que jamás necesitará ser salvado de alguien mas (pues no hay nada ni nadie mas poderoso que Él).

Así que, si bien es cierto que hubo muchos “Mesías” (hombres ungidos, que fueron instrumentos de Dios para hacer la voluntad Divina, así como para librar a Israel de sus enemigos), hay un Mesías (Salvador) Supremo: יהוה (bendito sea), ¡El Mesías de los mesías!

A tree can be known by it's fruit!

How can you know whether an alleged religious truth (or revelation) has a Divine origin, or is rather the result of vain human imagination? In such cases, the safest way to go is to consider the “fruit” (or “merits”) of such revelation:

1) Does the religious truth accurately portray God’s perfect truthfulness, justice, mercy, and Holiness (“He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is He”- Deuteronomy 32:4)? Or does it rather portray the Creator as a morally flawed religious dictator, who does as He pleases, without standing by the word that has already come out of His mouth?

2) Where will such religious truth [or theology] lead you? Will it make you more obedient to God’s commandments (God’s Law)? Or will it get you far from them, thereby bringing upon you the curse allotted for those who wander away (“You rebuke the arrogant, the ones under a curse, who wander from your commands”- Psalm 119:21)?

3) Will this theology encourage the righteous believers and discourage the wicked ones (“Because you have disheartened the righteous person with lies, when I intended no distress, and because you have supported the wicked person so that he does not turn from his evil way to save his life, therefore you will no longer see false visions...”- Ezekiel 13:22-23)?

4) Will it leads you to love righteous actions, while condemning wicked ones (“Learn to do what is good, pursue justice, correct the oppressor, defend the rights of the fatherless, plead the widow’s cause... You who love the Lord, hate evil!... Hate the evil, and love the good...”- Isaiah 1:17, Psalm 97, & Amos 5:15)?

5) Will this revelation bring upon you a sense of objective truth, honesty, peace, justice, honor, and dignity? Will it turn you into a more balanced, merciful, humble, honest, fair, moral, wise, and impartial person? Or does it rather steal your peace, making you feel as if you are not being totally honest with yourself, paying instead lip service to something your conscience tells you to be shady and questionable (“These are the things which you should do: speak the truth with one another; judge with truth and pronounce the judgment that brings peace”- Zechariah 8:16)?

¡Solo la Ley de יהוה es verdadera!

¿Cual de los dos miente? ¿Miente el Evangelio, cuando dice que, solo a través de Jesús, puede el hombre conocer al Padre (“ni al Padre conoce alguno, sino el Hijo, y aquel a quien el Hijo lo quiera revelar” - Mateo 11:27)?
¿O miente la Ley, cuando dice que, todo aquel que hace juicio, justicia, y misericordia, también conoce al Padre (“¿No comió y bebió tu padre, e hizo juicio y justicia, y entonces le fue bien? El juzgó la causa del afligido y del menesteroso, y entonces estuvo bien. ¿No es esto conocerme a mí? Dice יהוה”- Jeremías 22:15-16)?

El Apóstol Pablo, según profetizado en la Escritura Hebrea

La Escritura Hebrea, narra que Dios escogió a un Rey (un gran líder Israelita) llamado “Shaul” (Saúl). Pero, el orgullo de Shaul, y su obsesión por el poder y la prominencia, terminaron desviándole del camino, de suerte que Shaul terminó siendo atormentado por un espíritu de locura (es decir, por “un mensajero de Satanás”).

Y, luego de que Shaul comenzase a desvariar, procedió a cometer el grave pecado de destruir la ciudad de los Sacerdotes (la ciudad de Nob), atentando así contra aquellos cuya responsabilidad era alentar al Pueblo a la obediencia de la Ley Divina. Y, el instrumento utilizado por Shaul para la destrucción del Sacerdocio, así como de la ciudad de los Sacerdotes, fue un Edomita llamado “Doeg”.

El anterior relato, no es sino una alegoría profética; una profecía dirigida a los creyentes Hebreos.

¿Que significaba tal alegoría? ¿Cual era su propósito? Pues su propósito no era otro sino prevenir a los creyentes Hebreos acerca de un grave peligro que habría de venir sobre ellos en un futuro distante; advertirles que llegaría el día cuando, de en medio de ellos, se levantaría un gran "Rey" (es decir, un gran líder Israelita). Este grande líder, utilizaría el pretexto de haber sido [alegadamente] escogido (o "ungido") por Dios, para atentar contra aquellos que tenían la responsabilidad de obedecer la Ley Divina.

Y, la forma en que lo haría, seria induciendo a un Edomita a destruir la ciudad de los Sacerdotes, haciendo de ese modo que cesasen tanto los sacrificios, como la observación de la Ley. La historia demuestra que el gran líder que habría de atentar contra la Ley [así como contra quienes la practicaban], no sería otro sino el apóstol Pablo; cuyo nombre original era "Saulo" de Tarso (note que "Shaul" es la traducción Hebrea del nombre "Saulo").

Y, al igual que sucedió con el antiguo "Shaul", este otro "Shaul" (o "Saulo" de Tarso), siempre anheló el poder y la prominencia; y es por eso que, mientras era aún Judío, vemos que pretendía ser mas Judío que nadie (persiguiendo con saña a todo aquel que se opusiese al Judaísmo).

Del mismo modo, cuando Saulo (Shaul) se hizo Cristiano, pretendió ser mas Cristiano que nadie, escribiendo mas de la mitad de los libros [o cartas] que comprenden el Nuevo Testamento, a pesar de nunca haber andado con Jesús, tal y como lo hicieron todos los otros apóstoles.

Al igual que sucedió con el Rey Shaul, la obsesión con la prominencia, terminó desviando a Saulo, quien al no ser aceptado por los Judíos como el Nuevo y grande líder del mundo Cristiano, comenzó a atentar contra la observación de la Ley. Al igual que sucedió con Saúl, Saulo comenzó a desvariar (alegando que la Ley era una maldición), y a exhibir un tipo de locura.

Como esta escrito: "Lo que hablo, no lo hablo según el Señor, sino COMO EN LOCURA" (2 Corintios 11:17). Y también dice en otro lugar, "¡OJALÁ ME TOLERASEIS UN POCO DE LOCURA! Sí, toleradme" (2 Corintios 11:1).

De igual modo, tal y como sucedió con el antiguo rey Saúl, Saulo fue atormentado por un espíritu malo (un mensajero de Satanás). Como esta escrito: "me fue dado un aguijón en mi carne, UN MENSAJERO DE SATANÁS QUE ME ABOFETEE, para que no me enaltezca sobremanera" (2 Corintios 12:7).

Finalmente, así como las palabras de Saúl, indujeron a un descendiente de Edom (Doeg el Edomita) a destruir la ciudad de los Sacerdotes, de ese mismo las palabras escritas por Saulo en el libro de los Romanos (condenando tanto a la Ley como a los Judíos), alentaron a un descendiente de Edom (es decir, al emperador Romano Tito) a destruir la Ciudad de los Sacerdotes (Jerusalén), haciendo de ese modo cesar la observación de la Ley.

¿Es todo negativo en la anterior profecía? ¡Absolutamente no! La profecía advierte acerca del mal que, tanto a los Judíos, como a la observación de la Ley, harían Saulo y Edom (Roma, o el Cristianismo). Pero también advierte que, tanto "Saúl como su familia" (es decir, "Pablo y el Cristianismo"), caerían derrotados ante los "Filisteos". Y, la palabra Hebrea para "Filisteos" es "Pelishtim" (los ancestros del moderno pueblo Palestinos, es decir, el Islam).

Así, la Escritura predice que el Islam derrotará finalmente al Cristianismo (a quien solo le quedará una pequeña simiente, así como a Saúl le quedó solamente su lisiado hijo Mefiboset).

Y, ¿que sucedió luego de que Saúl y sus hijos fuesen derrotados por los Filisteos? ¡Pues que David ascendió al Trono de Israel! En otras palabras, la profecía dice que, cuando el Islam derrote finalmente al Cristianismo, David (el "Mesías", o "Rey ungido por Dios") volverá a este mundo, para reinar finalmente sobre todo el Pueblo de Dios (sobre todos aquellos que, sin importar su raza ni su credo, guardan los Diez mandamientos de la Ley de Dios).

Como esta escrito: «En aquel día, dice יהוה (Yah) de los ejércitos, yo quebraré su yugo de tu cuello, y romperé tus coyundas, y extranjeros no lo volverán más a poner en servidumbre, sino que SERVIRÁN A YAH SU DIOS Y A DAVID SU REY, A QUIEN YO LES LEVANTARÉ (RESUCITÁNDOLE DE ENTRE LOS MUERTOS)» (Jeremías 30:8-9).

Pero, ¿que significa precisamente que el Islam conquiste al Cristianismo? ¿Significa acaso que el Mundo entero habrá de hacerse Musulmán? ¡Absolutamente no! Vera, lingüísticamente hablando, la palabra “Islam” viene de la raíz Árabe (s-l-m) que significa tanto “sometimiento” [a Dios], como “paz” (salam). Así, el Islam prefigura la paz que surge del sometimiento a Dios [es decir, de la obediencia a los Diez Mandamientos de la Ley Divina].

Por el otro lado, el Cristianismo es la antítesis del Islam, pues representa la carga emocional que agobia al hombre que piensa ser incapaz de someterse a Dios [obedeciendo los mandamientos de la Ley Divina], y escoge en cambio creer que su única opción es aceptar que sea otra persona (Jesús), quien los obedezca en sustitución suya.

Así, cuando la Escritura profetiza que David (el Redentor) habrá de llegar luego de que el Islam “triunfe” sobre el Cristianismo, lo que trata de enseñarnos es que, “la redención” (o “la Paz”) llegara el día en que, nuestro deseo de someternos a Dios (obedeciendo sus mandamientos), venza a nuestro instinto de dejar que “sean otros” quienes lo hagan [es decir, cuando resolvamos convertirnos a nosotros mismos en el cambio que deseamos para el resto del Mundo].

JESÚS NO SALVA A NADIE, PUES SOLO יהוה PUEDE SALVAR

Jesús (paz y bendición sean con el) no puede salvar a Nadie de sus pecados, pues יהוה (el Creador) ha dicho que, fuera de Él, no hay otro Salvador. Como esta escrito: «Yo יהוה (Yah); Y, FUERA DE MI, NO HAY QUIEN SALVE” (Isaías 43:11). En adición, la Escritura enseña que no hay Salvación en ningún “Hijo de hombre”, como esta escrito: “NO CONFÍEIS en los príncipes, ni EN HIJO DE HOMBRE, PORQUE NO HAY EN ÉL SALVACIÓN” (Salmo 146:3). Y, Jesús era en efecto “Hijo de hombre”, pues así lo confiesa cuando dice: «Es necesario que el HIJO DE HOMBRE sea entregado en manos de hombres pecadores, y que sea crucificado, y resucite al tercer día» (Lucas 24:7). De hecho, note como las palabras adscritas al Nazareno, no pueden ser tomadas en sentido literal, sin que caigamos en graves y serias contradicciones. Es decir, si Jesús fue engendrado directamente por Dios, y no por hombre alguno, ¿no estaría Jesús en cierto modo mintiendo, al describirse a si mismo como el “Hijo del Hombre”? ¿No debería haber usado exclusivamente el termino “Hijo de Dios”?

Es que, guardando los mandamientos (no mintiendo, no robando, no matando, no codiciando lo ajeno, etc), nos alejamos de la maldad. Y la Escritura promete que, el Redentor, llegará a aquellos que se alejen de la maldad. Como esta escrito: “Y VENDRÁ EL REDENTOR... [¿A QUIEN VENDRA EL REDENTOR?] ... A LOS QUE SE VOLVIEREN DE LA INIQUIDAD EN JACOB [ES DECIR, A QUIENES ABANDONEN LA MALDAD]”- Isaías 59:20.

La sumisión a los mandamientos Divinos, también hace que los hombres se hagan hermanos, y vivan en paz los unos con los otros. Y el Rey David profetizó que este “vivir en paz y armonía”, traerá la Vida eterna. Como esta escrito: “Mirad cuán bueno y CUÁN DELICIOSO ES HABITAR LOS HERMANOS JUNTOS EN ARMONÍA!...”. ¿Y que termina diciendo el pasaje?... “PORQUE ALLÍ ENVÍA יהוה bendición, y VIDA ETERNA”- Salmo 133:1-3.

Así pues, “el reinado de David” (o “la era Mesiánica”) será una época en la que los hombres vivirán en paz y en armonía, disfrutando de la bendición y la vida eterna. Y, esta vida eterna, será el producto de que, el Mundo entero (Judíos, Cristianos, Musulmanes, etc), resolverá someterse voluntariamente a los mandamientos Divinos, y seguir el mensaje de David, cuando dice: “APARTATE DEL MAL, Y HAZ EL BIEN, Y TENDRÁS UNA MORADA ETERNA (ES DECIR, ¡VIVIRÁS PARA SIEMPRE!)”- Salmo 37:27.

Que la paz y la gracia de יהוה (el Dios de Israel), así como la esperanza en la manifestación del reinado de su rey ungido (David), sea con todos vosotros. Amén

¿Y que de “El Siervo de Dios” que menciona Isaías 53? ¿No prueba este pasaje que Jesús es el único y verdadero Mesías; aquel que cargó con nuestros pecados?

La Escritura dice así: “Cuando haya puesto su vida en expiación por el pecado, verá linaje, vivirá por largos días, y la voluntad de יהוה será en su mano prosperada. Verá el fruto de la aflicción de su alma, y quedará satisfecho; por su conocimiento justificará MI SIERVO JUSTO a muchos, y llevará las iniquidades de ellos”-Isaías 53:10-11. Y también dice en otro lugar, “He aquí MI SIERVO, yo le sostendré; MI ESCOGIDO, en quien mi alma tiene contentamiento; he puesto sobre él mi Espíritu; EL TRAERÁ JUSTICIA A LAS NACIONES”- Isaías 42:1.

¿Quien es este ESCOGIDO de Dios? ¿Quien es el SIERVO sufriente descrito por el profeta Isaías ? Pues este Siervo Escogido, no es otro sino es el Pueblo de Israel, como aclara el mismo profeta cuando dice: “Pero TU, ISRAEL, SIERVO MIO ERES; TU, JACOB, A QUIEN YO ESCOGÍ”- Isaías 41:8. Y también dice Isaías: “Ahora pues, OYE, JACOB, SIERVO MIO, Y TU, ISRAEL, A QUIEN YO ESCOGÍ”- Isaías 44:1. Y lo confirma una tercera vez diciendo: “Acuérdate de estas cosas, OH JACOB, e Israel, porque MI SIERVO ERES. Yo te formé, SIERVO MIO ERES TU; ISRAEL, no me olvides”- Isaías 44:21.

Pero, si la nación de Israel es en realidad “El Siervo Escogido de Dios”, ¿como explicamos el hecho de que La Escritura a menudo describa a Israel como un pueblo rebelde y contumaz? Pues la explicación es muy sencilla: Verá usted, la Escritura intima que, el Israel Nacional, es solo un prototipo de “el verdadero Israel de Dios”.

¿Y que es “el verdadero Israel de Dios”? Pues no es otro sino el pueblo místico (o “espiritual”) que consiste de todos aquellos que, sin importar su raza [o su credo], sirven a Dios con un corazón limpio y humilde. Como esta escrito- «Ciertamente ES BUENO DIOS PARA CON ISRAEL, PARA CON LOS LIMPIOS DE CORAZÓN»- Salmo 73:1.

¿Quien dice el verso que es Israel? ¡Pues los de limpio corazón! Y, este último, es el Israel que Isaías describe como “El Siervo de Dios”. De hecho, también es el Pueblo que Dios ha prometido salvar (“ISRAEL SERÁ SALVO EN יהוה CON SALVACIÓN ETERNA...”- Isaías 45:17).

De igual modo, este Israel Espiritual es “el Hijo de Dios” al cual alude la Escritura (y al cual todos debemos honrar); Como esta Escrito, «EL SEÑOR ha dicho así: “ISRAEL ES MI HIJO, MI PRIMOGÉNITO”»- Éxodo 4:22. Y, «HONRAD AL HIJO [DE DIOS], PARA QUE NO SE ENOJE [SU PADRE], Y PEREZCÁIS EN EL CAMINO; Pues se inflama de pronto su ira...»- Salmo 2:12. Es que, aunque la Nación Física de Israel a menudo se exalta a sí misma revelándose contra el Creador, Dios no ve falta alguna en este otro “Israel Espiritual” [que es una Nación humilde y abatida que confía en su Dios]. Como esta escrito: “NO HA NOTADO INIQUIDAD EN JACOB, NI HA VISTO PERVERSIDAD EN ISRAEL...”- Números 23:21. Y también, “... DEJARÉ EN MEDIO DE TI UN PUEBLO HUMILDE Y POBRE, el cual confiará en el nombre de El Señor”- Sofonías 3:12. Y en otro lugar, “El Espíritu de יהוה el Señor está sobre mí, PORQUE ME UNGIÓ EL SEÑOR ME

HA ENVIADO A PREDICAR BUENAS NUEVAS A LOS ABATIDOS...”- Isaías 61:1. Y finalmente dice, “YO HABITO EN LA ALTURA Y LA SANTIDAD, Y CON EL QUEBRANTADO Y HUMILDE DE ESPÍRITU, para hacer vivir el espíritu de los humildes, y PARA VIVIFICAR EL CORAZÓN DE LOS QUEBRANTADOS”- Isaías 57:15.

De hecho, Isaías enseña que, en el momento que la Nación Física de Israel se rebela contra su Creador, en ese momento deja de ser “el Israel de Dios”, para convertirse en cambio en “Sodoma”. Como esta escrito: “Príncipes de Sodoma, oíd la palabra de El Señor; escuchad la ley de nuestro Dios, pueblo de Gomorra. ¿Para qué me sirve, dice El señor, la multitud de vuestros sacrificios? Hastiado estoy de holocaustos de carneros y de sebo de animales gordos; no quiero sangre de bueyes, ni de ovejas, ni de machos cabríos”- Isaías 1:10-11.

Is Jesus God?

Faith in Jesus can definitely bring repentance (salvation) to the Christian believer. But if Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) is One and the same with the Supreme, non created, all knowing, all powerful, omnipresent, and unique God of the Hebrew Bible, then we must seriously consider the following issues:

- 1) If Jesus is the God who had no beginning, then why was he called, “The firstborn of all Creation”? (Colossians 1:15, Revelation 3:14)
- 2) If Jesus and God are the same person, why did Jesus say, “... nor have I come of myself, but He (God) sent me” (John 8:42)
- 3) If Jesus is the all knowing God, Why didn't Jesus know the day and the hour of the great tribulation, but the Father only? (Matthew 24:36)
- 4) The Gospel says, “He (Jesus) went to the mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God” (Luke 6:12). Does God pray to Himself?
- 5) If Jesus and the Father are the same God, in the presence of whom did Jesus enter, when it is written, “... into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God...” (Hebrew 9:24)
- 6) If Jesus and the Father are two different aspects of the same God, Why did Jesus say that the Father was greater than he (John 14:28)? Can God be greater than God?
- 7) If Jesus is God, who exalted Jesus, and gave him a name above any other name? (Philippians 2:9)?
- 8) During Jesus baptism, who was He who spoke from heavens, saying “This is my beloved Son”? (Matthew 3:17)
- 9) How can Jesus be God, and at the same time be “a Mediator between God and men”? (1 Timothy 2:5)
- 10) If Jesus is God, why did Paul say that “the head of Christ is God” (1 Corinthians 11:3)? Is there anyone ahead of God?
- 11) Why does it says that Jesus “delivers the kingdom to God”? And why does it says that “the Son himself will also subject himself to Him who placed all things under him”? (1 Cor. 15:24, &28). Is God subjected to anybody?
- 12) Does God have a God? Can He be separated from Himself? To Whom was it that Jesus made reference to, when he said that he was “ascending to my God and your God”? (John 20:17)
- 13) If Jesus and God are one and the same, how can Jesus be seated “at the right hand of God”? (Psalm 110:1; Hebrews 10:12)
- 14) If Jesus [who was seen by thousands] was God, then why does the New Testament says that “no one has seen God”? (1 John 4:12, & John 1:18)

15) If Jesus was God, Why didn't people die when they saw Jesus (“for there shall no man see me, and live”- Exodus 33:20)?

16) If Jesus is God, how can Jesus [God] be dead, and God continue to be alive? (Acts 2:23-24)

17) If Jesus was the all powerful God, why would he need someone to deliver him from death? (Hebrews 5:7)

SAMARITANISMO REFORMADO

¿Aceptar la teología Cristiana?

GRACIAS POR SU INVITACION A SEGUIR LA FE DEL NAZARENO. LA REALIDAD ES QUE, LA NOBLE FE CRISTIANA, ES UN CAMINO PERFECTAMENTE VALIDO PARA AGRADAR A יהוה (EL CREADOR). DESAFORTUNADAMENTE, NO PODEMOS ACEPTAR NINGUNA TEOLOGÍA QUE PRETENDA QUE יהוה ES ALGÚN HOMBRE DE CARNE Y HUESO; QUE CONTRADIGA O MENOSCABE LA LEY DE MOISÉS; QUE SE BASE EN ALGÚN TIPO DE FALSEDAD, O CRASA CONTRADICCIÓN; QUE SEA INCOHERENTE; QUE CONTRADIGA LA LÓGICA Y EL SENTIDO COMÚN; O QUE NO RESISTA UN PROFUNDO, HONESTO, OBJETIVO, Y SOSEGADO ESCRUTINIO BIBLICO. ES QUE, PARA LOS QUE SEGUIMOS LA LEY DE יהוה (LOS CREYENTES HEBREOS), HACER TAL COSA, EQUIVALE A COMETER SUICIDIO INTELCTUAL. Y, EL SUICIDIO INTELCTUAL, ES SIEMPRE EL PRELUDIO AL SUICIDIO FÍSICO

18) If Jesus is the all powerful God, why would he need to say, “All authority has been given to me...”? Who gave him such authority? A more powerful God? (Matthew 28:18; Daniel 7:13-14)

19) If Jesus was the invincible God, ¿Why would he need to feel any fear? (Hebrews 5:7)

20) If Jesus is the all knowing and morally perfect God, why does he needs to “learn obedience” (Hebrews 5:8-9)?

21) How can an angel strengthen Jesus? (Luke 22:43). Wasn't he the almighty God?

22) Why would Satan try to tempt Jesus? (Matthew 4:1-11). Didn't he know that Jesus was God [and that, according to James 1:13, God cannot be tempted by evil]?

23) When Jesus was sent to earth, he was “crowned with glory and honor”. Also, he was placed “over the works of His hands” (Hebrews 2:7). Over the works of whom was Jesus placed in charge? And who was He that crowned Jesus with glory and honor?

24) If Jesus and God are one and the same, against whom was Satan trying to make Jesus rebel? (Matthew 4:1). Can God be tempted to rebel against Himself?

25) Before the end of his earthly life, Jesus said “My God, My God, why have you forsaken me?” (Matthew 27:46) ¿Can God forsake (or abandon) Himself?

26) How can the faithful God who says that He is no man (“For He is no man...”- 1 Samuel 15:29) change His mind and become a man named Jesus?

27) How can the trustworthy God who commanded us “not to put our trust in a son of man, in whom there is no salvation” (Psalm 146:3), become a man and ask us to trust in that man's salvation?

28) How can the God who says that “man is a vapor (vanity), and a lie” (Psalm 62:9) change His mind in order to become a human being [thereby becoming Himself a vanity, and a lie]? Is God a liar, that He should change His mind, refusing to stand by His word? Isn't it written, “For I am the Lord. I do not change” (Malachi 3:6); and also, “God is not a man, that He should lie, nor a son of man, that He should repent. Has He said, and will He not do? Or has He spoken, and will He not make it good” (Numbers 23:19)

29) How can the new Testament Jesus [who so often declared himself to be “the son of man”], be the same Old Testament God [who declared Himself to be “no son of man”]? Is God schizophrenic?

Should a Samaritan (Hebrew) believer convert to Islam or Christianity?

Should a Hebrew believer convert to Islam? A Hebrew believer should have no need to make a conversion to Islam. Why? Because, although Islam is indeed a great religion, the Hebrew theology is generally speaking better than it's Muslim counterpart. Why? Simply because [unlike what happens with Muslim and Christian theology], the Hebrew theology portrays the Creator as an Almighty being; one who can save mankind without the need of any partner, or any intermediary.

In other words, when you publicly say the “Shema” [the Hebrew statement of faith], you recognize יהוה (Adonai Yah, also known to the Hebrew people as “Ha Shem”, or “the Name”) as the only true God and savior, and you receive upon you the yoke of His kingdom [His ten commandments]. And, by so doing, Ha Shem automatically saves you right where you are.

On the other hand, if you recognize Allah's greatness, and even if you accept Allah's kingdom [Shariah law], Allah cannot save you by Himself- as He needs that you also recognize Muhammad's prophetic greatness. In other words, Allah cannot save you, unless He enters into a sort of “partnership” with Muhammad (pbuh). And that's why the Shahada (the Muslim statement of faith) says: “I bear witness that there is no God but Allah; and I bear witness that Muhammad is Allah's servant and messenger”.

Notice that the Muslim statement of faith implies that, faith in the power of Allah (alone), isn't enough; you must also have faith in the prophetic power of Muhammad (pbuh)- who thereby “partners” with Allah in the process of saving your soul. In fact, Muslim scholars have recognized that, without the second half of the Shahada [the part provided by Muhammad], one's religion is incomplete; and that it is impossible for man to get salvation without the intercession of Muhammad. And the very same thing happens with Christian theology- where, unlike the God of Israel, the Christian god (also known as “The Heavenly father”) isn't an all powerful deity. Why? Simply because He needs an intermediary. In other words, if you choose to recognize the greatness of the Heavenly Father [and even if you choose to submit to his ten commandments], He alone cannot save you- as He needs you to additionally recognize the greatness of Jesus (pbuh) as God's only “intermediary”.

So, for all practical purposes, both Muslim and Christian theology convey the very sinful idea- that, unlike the God of Israel, Allah and the Heavenly Father are not Almighty Gods, as the final word concerning the salvation of their followers, isn't in their divine hands, but rather in the hands of their respective partners and intermediaries (Muhammad and Jesus, peace be upon them).

In other words, if Muhammad rejects you, there's no way Allah can save you; and if Jesus rejects you, there's no way the Heavenly father can save you; as if both Muhammad and Jesus were equal partners with the Creator, having in their hands the eternal destiny of humankind.

The Muslim tradition hints at this blasphemous idea, when it says the following: «Then the Prophet, peace be upon him, said: "By the One Who owns Muhammad's soul, IF MOSES, PEACE BE UPON HIM, APPEARED TO YOU and you followed him, AND [YOU] LEFT ME, YOU WOULD GO ASTRAY FROM THE RIGHT PATH; and, if he were alive and reached [the time of] my prophethood, he would have followed me”»- Hadith from Sunan of al-Darimi.

Notice how the former passage intimates the idea that, it is Muhammad [and not Allah] who prevents the believers from getting lost.

The Christian scripture also hints at this blasphemous self glorification of mortal beings, when it quotes Jesus (pbuh) saying the following: "I (JESUS) AND MY FATHER ARE ONE"- John 10:30, King James Bible. Notice how the former verse doesn't say "MY FATHER AND I ARE ONE", but rather says: " I (JESUS) AND MY FATHER ARE ONE"- as if to imply that, Jesus honor must go "in front" (or "ahead") of the Heavenly Father's honor.

And whence do we get that this is a contradictory idea? We get it from Jesus himself, when he is quoted bearing witness that "the Father in Heaven" was greater than he (and therefore the Father's honor should have been placed ahead of Jesus honor): "If you loved me, you would indeed rejoice that I am going to the Father [in Heaven], for THE FATHER [IN HEAVEN] IS GREATER THAN I"- John 14:28, Saint Joseph Bible, New Catholic Edition.

And the same idea is also intimated in the verse that goes on to say: «Jesus told him, "I [and not the Heavenly Father] am the way, the truth, and the life. NO ONE COMES TO THE FATHER [IN THE HEAVENS], EXCEPT THROUGH ME [in other words, It's me, and not God the Father, who decides who gets to Heaven, and who doesn't]"»- John 14:6, International Standard Version Bible.

And this blasphemy is further corroborated in the verse that says: "Because IF YOU ACKNOWLEDGE AND CONFESS WITH YOUR LIPS THAT JESUS IS LORD and in your heart believe (adhere to, trust in, and rely on the truth) that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved"- Romans 10:9, Amplified Bible, Classic edition.

Notice how the former verse implies that man's salvation first depends on your faith in the mortal man Jesus [in his Lordship], and only then does it depends on your faith in the immortal Father in Heaven [in that He raised Jesus from the dead].

Does the former means that Islam and Christianity are both false religions? Absolutely not! Why? Simply because , the well being of man's soul stems from doing good [and not from having the perfect theology]; as it has been written- "Depart from evil, and do good, and you will dwell forevermore (life everlasting life)"- Psalm 37:27.

What we tried to say is that, in order for Christian and Muslim theologies to reach moral perfection, they both need to get rid of their subtle idolatric overtones; of the pagan and polytheistic ideas that still linger within their theology. And what's the source of that form of "soft polytheism" [pretending that God have equal partners or associates]? It's none other than the apparently innocuous cult they both pay to the human personality of their respective leaders (Jesus and Muhammad, peace and blessings be upon them).

It is certainly true that these two men were powerful messengers; but, in the end, they both were flawed, finite [and therefore mortal] men, made out of flesh and blood. And it is false [and morally wrong] to attempt to make these flawed, finite, and mortal men, equal partners [and/or intermediaries] of the perfect, immortal, and infinite Creator.

As it has been written: "I, I AM יהוה (Adonai Yah), AND THERE IS NO SAVIOR BESIDE ME"- Isaiah 43:11 (Tree of Life Version Bible). And in another place: "DO NOT PUT YOUR TRUST IN PRINCES (POWERFUL PEOPLE); [NOR] IN MAN, IN WHOM THERE IS NO SALVATION" (Psalm 146:3). And elsewhere says: "Surely THE SONS OF ADAM ARE VANITY, AND THE SONS OF NOBLES ARE A LIE; TO BE LAID IN THE BALANCE, THEY ARE ALTOGETHER LIGHTER THAN VANITY"- Psalm 62:9, Jubilee Bible 2000.

¿Practicaba Avraham el Judaísmo Moderno?

Si bien el patriarca Avraham (paz y bendición sean siempre con el) conocía los rudimentos de lo que luego vendría a conocerse como “la Ley de Moisés”, la realidad es que Avraham nunca practicó el Judaísmo tradicional [es decir el moderno Judaísmo Rabínico], sino que practicó una fe que, en el tiempo de Avraham, era conocida con el nombre de “Temor de Dios”. Como esta escrito: «Y Avraham respondió: Porque dije para mí: CIERTAMENTE NO HAY TEMOR DE DIOS EN ESTE LUGAR, y me matarán por causa de mi mujer»- Génesis 20:11. Y, aunque muy similar al Judaísmo tradicional, esa fe que Avraham llamaba “Temor de Dios”, es distinta al Judaísmo moderno; pues no pone su énfasis en el aspecto ritual y ceremonial de la Fe, sino en vivir la vida ética y moral que agradan al Creador [es decir, en alentar al hombre a que haga el bien, sabiendo que un día habrá de cosechar el mismo bien que haya sembrado].

La realidad es que, ya que la fe que practicaba Avraham, era distinta al Judaísmo moderno, hace perfecto sentido el hecho de que Avraham nunca conoció a ningún Rabino Ashkenazi; Avraham nunca se vistió como se visten los modernos Rabinos; Avraham nunca supo los detalles de las discusiones que, siglos después, serian incluidas el Talmud; Avraham nunca dió sus diezmos a ningún Cohen (sacerdote Aarónico); nunca guardó la separación matrimonial entre Judíos y gentiles [pues engendró hijos de dos mujeres gentiles, como lo fueron Hagar y Ketura]; Avraham no circuncidó a los ocho días de nacido a su hijo Ishmael [sino que lo hizo a los trece años de edad]; no celebró la fiesta de Pesaj (Pascua), la fiesta de Yom Kippur (el día de la expiación), ni la fiesta de Sukkot (fiesta de los tabernáculos); Avraham no decía "el Shema" diariamente; y tampoco decía la bendición del Kiddush [sobre el vino].

Finalmente, y en adición a muchas otras cosas, Avraham se casó con Sarai, la hija de su Padre [algo prohibido en la Ley]; Avraham no dió la mayor parte de su herencia a su primogénito Ishmael [también prohibido por la Ley]; y tampoco guardó una cocina “Kasher” [pues comió carne con mantequilla, mientras entretenía a los tres ángeles que habían venido a visitarle]. En conclusión, Avraham fue el padre biológico y espiritual de Isaac (el patriarca de los Hebreos), de Ishmael (el patriarca de los Musulmanes), y de Edom (el patriarca de los Romanos, o Cristianos); pero, Avraham mismo, no fue Judío, Cristiano, ni Musulmán, sino un paradigma de la vida que, tanto Judíos, como Cristianos y Musulmanes, deben imitar.

The Jews don't really exists anymore, there's just a bunch of religious Anglo-Saxons appropriating themselves of the extinct Jewish identity

The Jews don't really exists anymore, there's just a bunch of religious Anglo-Saxons (Gentiles), appropriating themselves of the extinct Jewish identity [Keep in mind that it is really hard to claim you follow the 613 commands of the Law, when most of those commands require a Temple that ceased to exist 2000 years ago! And it's even harder to claim a semitic (middle eastern) identity, when your skin is white, your hair is blond, and your eyes are blue].

Most Ashkenazi Jews claim that a person's Judaism is inherited from his mother's side. In other words, as long as you are born from a Jewish mother, your soul is also Jewish, regardless of the lifestyle you later choose to follow (observant/non observant, Straight/Gay, Religious/Atheist, etc). What's the problem with this fancy religious outlook? The problem is that it sort of resembles a great and beautiful castle, only built upon the sand. You see, if Judaism actually depends on having a Jewish mother, then Jews are falsely pretending to be something they don't really are, aside from a bunch of gentiles bragging about a noble lineage to which they have real no claim [In other words, that modern Judaism is little more than a pretty lie].

How can this be so? The reason for it lies in the fact that the "Yehudim" (Jews) are the literal descendants of the patriarch Judah. But Judah never had any daughter who could engender Jewish kids. In fact, Judah only sired five male children (Er, Onan, Shelah, Perez, and Zerah). And these children were all born from gentile (Canaanite) mothers [therefore, their offspring isn't really Jewish!].

The first three of these children (Er, Onan, and Shelah) were born from the daughter of a Canaanite man named Shua ("And Judah saw there A DAUGHTER OF A CERTAIN CANAANITE, whose name was Shua; and he took her, and went in unto her. And SHE CONCEIVED AND BORE A SON, AND HE CALLED HIS NAME ER. AND SHE CONCEIVED AGAIN AND BORE A SON, AND SHE CALLED HIS NAME ONAN. AND SHE YET AGAIN CONCEIVED AND BORE A SON, AND CALLED HIS NAME SHELAH"- Genesis 38:2-5).

And, since these kids came from a Canaanite (gentile) mother, it wasn't surprising that most of them were wicked ("AND ER, JUDAH'S FIRSTBORN, WAS WICKED in the sight of the Lord; and the Lord slew him"- Genesis 38:7; "AND THE THING WHICH HE [ONAN] DID DISPLEASED THE LORD; THEREFORE HE SLEW HIM ALSO..."- Genesis 38:10).

On the other hand, Judah's two last kids (Perez and Zerah) were born from a Canaanite woman named Tamar, with whom Judah had had an incestuous relationship.

As it is written: «AND HE [JUDAH] TURNED UNTO HER [TAMAR] ON THE WAYSIDE AND SAID, "COME, I PRAY THEE, LET ME COME IN UNTO THEE" (FOR HE KNEW NOT THAT SHE WAS HIS DAUGHTER-IN-LAW)... And it came to pass about three months after that it was told Judah, saying, "Tamar thy daughter-in-law hath played the harlot; and also, behold, she is with child by whoredom... AND IT CAME TO PASS IN THE TIME OF HER TRAVAIL THAT, BEHOLD, TWINS WERE IN HER WOMB... [THEREFORE] HIS [FIRSTBORN] NAME WAS CALLED PEREZ... AND AFTERWARD CAME OUT HIS BROTHER... AND HIS NAME WAS CALLED ZERAH"- Genesis 38:16, 24, & 27-30).

But, if things are so straightforward, and the matriarchs of modern Jews were all gentile women, why is it that Hasidic Rabbis keep telling everyone that Jews somehow inherit from their mothers a soul that is intrinsically superior to that of the gentiles? Well, the reason for this Historical revisionism is that our big ego often puts a limit to the amount of truth we can comfortably digest. And the story of Tamar presents a truth that is particularly difficult to swallow.

You see, although Hasidic Jews are brought up believing to be so holy [and important] that, had their ancestors not accepted the Torah, God would have found no reason to keep the World alive, truth is that righteous gentiles can be as righteous as any Jewish patriarch. In fact, Judah himself (the patriarch of all modern Jews) confessed that the gentile Tamar was more righteous than Him. As it is written: «When she [Tamar] was brought forth, she sent to her father-in-law, saying, "By the man whose these are, am I with child"... AND JUDAH ACKNOWLEDGED THEM AND SAID, "SHE HATH BEEN MORE RIGHTEOUS THAN I..."- Genesis 18:25-26.

In short, there's no such thing as a superior Jewish soul, and any gentile who chooses to live the life of righteousness described by the Torah is as great [and as deserving of receiving God's glory] as any great Jewish patriarch. In fact, an ancient Hebrew tradition confirms this idea, when it goes on to say: «In the school of Elijah (the prophet) it was taught: " I call heaven and Earth to witness that whether it be a heathen or a Jew, a man or a woman, a manservant or a maidservant, the Holy Spirit will suffuse any one of them in keeping with the [righteous] deeds he or she performs"» (Tanna Devei Eliyahu)

La Bien intencionada [pero errada] percepción que motiva a los seguidores del Noahismo

Dios nunca cambia, ni tampoco esta sujeta a cambios lo que, desde el principio, ha sido su voluntad para con los hombres. Su voluntad para con Judíos y gentiles, ha sido la misma a través de todas las edades. El primer hombre nacido de padres humanos, fue Caín (un gentil). ¿Cual era la voluntad de Dios para con el gentil Caín?: «Si te ocupas a ti mismo con lo que es bueno, seras exaltado»- Génesis 4:7.

¡Dios quería que Caín se ocupara haciendo el bien (no haciendo mal a su prójimo; es decir, su hermano Abel). ¿Y cual era la voluntad de Dios para con los Judíos (que vendrían existir miles de años mas tarde)? ¡Pues exactamente la misma!: "Apártate del mal, y haz el bien, y tendrás una morada segura" / Y, "amarás a tu prójimo, como a ti mismo»- Salmo 37:27/Levítico 19:18.

Así, Dios no tiene una religión para los Judíos, y otra para los gentiles. A sus ojos, tanto los unos como los otros, somos como Caín: hijos de Adam. Y, al igual que Caín, todos tenemos que seguir la misma religión: ¿Cual? ¡Pues hacer lo bueno! Si aparenta que, en algún momento, Dios ha cambia la religión de alguien, es solo una ilusión.

Vera, cuando Dios creó al hombre, lo hizo perfecto: Es decir, Adam fue creado con pleno conocimiento del lenguaje Hebreo; fue creado con una mentalidad de adulto; y con los impulsos y el entendimiento de una persona adulta.

Dios no tuvo que explicarle a Adam cual era el significado del mandato de "crecer y multiplicarse", ni tenia que darle una larga lista de lo que implicaba "hacer lo bueno", y "hacer lo malo"; es que Adam ya tenia naturalmente todo ese conocimiento.

Pero, tan pronto Adam desobedece, comienza a manifestarse en su descendencia (la raza humana) la muerte de la cual advirtió el Creador; una muerte que comienza manifestándose como una "de-evolución" moral. Este proceso, es uno donde la conciencia de la raza humana comienza a oscurecerse de forma progresiva. Esta "de-evolución" moral, hacía que las sucesivas generaciones perdieran progresivamente la noción de lo que implicaba "hacer el bien" y "hacer el mal".

Así, vemos que, en este respecto, Dios tiene que ser especifico con Caín; aun mas especifico con la generación de Noah; aun mas con la generación de los Patriarcas; y mucho mas especifico con la generación de los Israelitas que salieron de Egipto. Finalmente, tuvo que "inundar" con la menudencia de las palabras de los profetas, a los Judíos de la generación del Cautiverio Babilónico. Es que, aquellos hombres, vivieron en una generación donde la conciencia de las personas había perecido por completo; es decir, habían perdido la capacidad de distinguir entre la mano derecha (lo que es correcto), la mano izquierda (lo que es torcido), y muchos animales (la diferencia entre vivir la vida moral que distingue al ser humano, y la que distingue a los animales). Lamentablemente, es esta última la condición moral que al presente experimenta la raza humana.

Es en base a lo que hasta aquí hemos dicho que, si Dios aparenta haber hablado menos (dar menos mandamientos) a los gentiles de la generación de Noé (Noahidas), que a los Israelitas de la generación de Moisés, es solo “una ilusión”.

La realidad, es que la generación de la época de Noé, no tenía una conciencia tan moralmente “de-evolucionada” como la que poseía la generación de Moisés; por eso, los Noahidas no necesitaban que se les enumeraran todos los detalles de lo que implica “ocuparse con lo bueno”.

Pero los Israelitas del Éxodo (que vivieron durante siglos esclavizados en la oscuridad moral de Egipto), sí lo necesitaban. ¿Corroboran la Escritura Hebrea la idea de que Dios esperaba que Judíos y Gentiles tuvieran una misma regla de conducta? Dejemos que el texto mismo lo decida: «La misma Torah (Ley) será para el natural, y para el extranjero que habitare entre vosotros»- Éxodo 12:49.

God is a Just and merciful Judge

The God of Abraham is a Just and merciful Judge. Thus, He will only hold us accountable for the good [or bad] things we did with the small portion of Truth we knew about Him; Not for the portion of truth we never knew [let alone understood] about Him.

And the proof? King Abimelech, who did the best he could with the vague [and misleading] information he had about Sarah. Thus, God recognized that, although he had done wrong [by taking Sarah], Abimelech’s heart was pure. As is written: «Then God said to him (Abimelech) in the dream, “Yes, I know you did this in the integrity of your heart, for it was I Who kept you back and spared you from sinning against Me; therefore I did not give you occasion to touch her”»- Genesis 20:6.

¿Que significa que el verso que dice que el hombre fue hecho a la imagen y semejanza de Dios?

La Torah (Escritura Hebrea) enseña que יהוה (Adonai Yah, bendito sea) lo hizo todo bueno. Pero también enseña que, luego de haber creado al hombre, Yah reconoció que "no era bueno que el hombre estuviese solo" (Gen 2:18). La realidad es que, si el hombre estaba solo, ¿el causante de ello no era otro sino El Creador!

Es decir, el relato de la Creación muestra que (si nos atreviésemos a decir tal cosa) el Creador hizo "cosas buenas", pero también hizo cosas "no tan buenas". ¿Que hizo Yah con aquello que "no era tan bueno"? Pues que procedió a reconocerlo de inmediato (por iniciativa propia, y sin necesidad de que alguien tuviese que convencerlo).

Entonces, luego de reconocer aquello que "no era tan bueno", el Creador procedió a "rectificarlo" (a, por así decirlo, "enderezar lo torcido"). En el caso de Adam, esa "rectificación" consistió en proveer al hombre de comunión y armonía con otro ser humano (con "Hava", o "Eva").

Como si lo anterior no fuese ya "difícil de tragar", la Torah enseña también que Yah (bendito sea) creó al hombre "a su imagen y semejanza" (Gen. 1:26). ¿Que significan estas palabras? Pues que, así como Dios hizo cosas buenas, y cosas no tan buenas, de ese mismo modo el hombre (creado a imagen y semejanza de su Dios) puede también escoger entre hacer "cosas buenas", y hacer "cosas no tan buenas".

Pero también significa que, así como el Creador pudo reconocer (y enmendar) aquello que "no era tan bueno" (proveyendo al hombre comunión y armonía con su prójimo); de ese mismo modo el hombre puede reconocer y enmendar sus errores, entablando una relación de comunión y armonía con su prójimo.

El anterior relato también nos muestra que, si bien es loable hacer "solo lo bueno", es aún mejor cuando, luego de haber hecho lo que "no es tan bueno", tenemos suficiente humildad como para (por iniciativa propia) reconocer nuestro error, y proceder a "enderezar" lo que hemos "torcido" (nuestra relación con el prójimo, sin importar si ese prójimo es el Creador, nuestros semejantes, o nosotros mismos).

La anterior verdad, está confirmada en el siguiente Midrash Hebreo (Berachot 34b): "En el (sublime) lugar donde está de pie el penitente (entiéndase, aquel que ha reconocido su error, y procedido a enmendarlo), no puede pararse ni siquiera el que es perfectamente justo".

En resumen, si la Torah enseña que el hombre fue creado a imagen y semejanza de Dios, es porque el Creador (bendito sea) anhela que el hombre obre de la misma forma que obró Dios [durante el proceso de la creación del hombre]: Es decir, que escoja hacer lo bueno; y que, cuando no lo haga, tenga la humildad y la honestidad de reconocerlo, confesando su error, y procediendo a rectificarlo. Esto es lo que al presente conocemos como «Teshuvah»; palabra Hebrea que significa "volver al camino recto" ("arrepentimiento sincero", o "confesión y conversión")

Why was the gospel once called “avon-gilion” (the gospel of iniquity)?

Ancient Hebrew faith was quite different from its modern counterpart. Why? Simply because, unlike modern Judaism, which places its focus on the ritual aspect of the faith, the aim of the former was the moral perfection of the believer. For example, ancient Hebrew faith taught that the Creator hates liars. In fact, God expects the Hebrew believer to be truthful, to be transparent, and to stand by his word. And the former is attested by the following Scriptures:

- 1) “Thou shalt not bear false witness...”- Exodus 20:16;
- 2) “Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord”- Proverbs 12:22;
- 3) “These are the things that ye shall do: Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbor...”- Zechariah 8:16;
- 4) “Lord, who shall abide in Thy tabernacle? Who shall dwell in Thy holy hill?... he that taketh an oath to his own hurt, and changeth not”- Psalm 15:1&4
- 5) «But all the princes said unto all the congregation, “We have sworn unto them by the Lord God of Israel [that we won’t harm them]. Now therefore we may not touch them”»- Joshua 9:19

And this ancient commitment with truthfulness and integrity forces the real Hebrew believer to automatically reject any uncertain, shady, or convoluted theology; as the latter might unintentionally lead him to bear a false witness [thereby making him lose God’s favor].

A good example of the former is the Christian gospels. You see, the gospel narrative is confusing, as it includes self contradictory statements that, in theory, could be used to justify almost anything you want (including lies, fraud, and deception!).

In fact, the following Jewish tradition describes a case were a Christian judge used the Gospel narrative to justify his dishonest behavior:

In the vicinity of Imma Shalom [Rabbi Eliezer’s wife, who was Rabban Gamaliel’s Sister], there lived a Heretical [Judeo-Christian] judge who had a reputation for not accepting bribes. In an attempt to expose him, Imma Shalom brought him a golden lamp. She then appeared before him [in court], where she said, “I desire that a share be given me in my deceased father’s estate”. He ordered, “Divide the estate!”. But Rabban Gamaliel spoke up saying, «In our Scripture, it is written, “Where there is a son, a daughter does not inherit”».

The heretical judge replied, «Ever since the day you were exiled from your Land, the Torah of Moses has been suspended, and another Torah [the law of the Evangelium] given. In that Torah, it is written, “A son and a daughter inherit equally (Galatians 3:28)”». The next day, after Rabban Gamaliel had brought him a [fine] Lybian ass, the judge said to them, «I have read further to the end of the Book, where it is written, “I came not to destroy the Torah of Moses (Matthew 5:17), but only to add to the Torah of Moses”; and, as you said, in that Torah it is written, “A daughter does not inherit where there is a son”».

At this, Imma Shalom said to the Judge, “May your light shine forth like a lamp!”; But Rabbam Gamaliel added, “An ass has come and knocked down the lamp!” (Babylonian Talmud, Shab. 116, a-b). And this lending itself equally for good and evil might have been the reason why a Jewish Rabbi named "Meir" would call the heretics book, “aven-gilion” (the gospel of falsehood); while Rabbi Yohanan used to call it, “avon-gilion” (the gospel of iniquity).

El Alzheimer bíblico de la noble Fe Nazarena

En una ocasión, una fiel y bondadosa hija iba junto a su anciana madre camino al hogar. De repente, la hija notó que su madre sacaba de su cartera una pequeña mantilla, y procedía a cubrirse con ella el cabello de su cabeza. Entonces la hija procedió a preguntar: “Mamá, ¿que haces?” La mamá respondió: “Me cubro el cabello de la cabeza”; “¿Por que?”, pregunto las hija; “¡Pues porque va a llover!... Toma esta otra mantilla, y cúbrete también el cabello”, respondió la mamá; “No mamá, gracias, pero no quiero...”, dijo la hija; “¡Eres una hija rebelde y desobediente”, repostó la mamá. ¿Cual de estas dos féminas tenía la razón? ¿La lógica y prevenida madre?, ¿o la rebelde y desobediente hija? La percepción y la aptitud de la sabia madre, habrían hecho perfecto sentido... si no hubiese sido por el hecho de que, no solamente viajaban dentro de un auto que tenía las ventanas cerradas, y el acondicionador de aire encendido, sino que no había [en ese momento] ni una sola nube en el cielo.

La realidad es que, la anciana madre padecía de Alzheimer, una enfermedad cerebral que causa perdida de memoria, así como una gradual desconexión de la realidad. En otras palabras, el paciente de Alzheimer puede decir cosas que son perfectamente lógicas, pero que simplemente no corresponden a la realidad.

De un modo similar, el creyente Hebreo que examina a fondo muchos de los grandes postulados de la noble fe Cristiana, percibe a menudo trazas de lo que podría respetuosamente describirse como “Alzheimer bíblico”; es decir, argumentos cuya lógica parece [a primera vista] ser perfecta, si no fuese por el hecho de que están simplemente desconectados del entorno ético, histórico, y teológico de la Escritura Hebrea.

Examinemos algunos ejemplos:

1) El evangelio de Juan, adscribe al maestro de Galilea (la paz y la bendición de Yah sean sobre él) haber dicho las siguientes palabras: “Pero yo no busco mi gloria; hay quien la busca, y juzga” (Juan 8:50). En el anterior pasaje, Jesús afirma que no tiene interés alguno en auto-glorificarse. Pero, en el siguiente verso, se le atribuye decir: “De cierto, de cierto os digo que, el que guarda mi palabra, nunca verá muerte” (Juan 8:51).

¿Percibe usted la desconexión? Es como si el Galileo dijese: “Miren, en realidad no busco auto-glorificarme... ¡pero tengan presente que soy tan increíblemente grande, que el que guarde mi palabra nunca habrá de morir! (algo que ni siquiera el Creador prometió a ninguno de sus profetas!). De paso, ¿cuantos de aquellos que escucharon las palabras de Jesús [y las guardaron], permanecen aún entre nosotros, sin jamás haber visto muerte?

Justo después de haber [supuestamente] dicho las anteriores palabras, Jesús es nuevamente citado diciendo: “Si yo me glorifico a mí mismo, mi gloria nada es” (Juan 8:54). De nuevo, el Galileo afirma que no desea auto-glorificarse. Pero entonces procede a decir: “De cierto, de cierto os digo: Antes que Abraham fuese, Yo soy” (Juan 8:58). Note nuevamente la desconexión: “Está mal que me alabe a mi mismo... Pero, ¿saben que? ¡Soy como Dios! ¡Inmortal!”.

2) La teología Cristiana, afirma que Dios dejó su trono de gloria [localizado en los Cielos], para venir a morar entre los hombres aquí en la Tierra [en la persona del maestro de Galilea]. A primera vista, esto aparenta ser una lógica y hermosa idea... ¿si no fuese porque durante siglos, la Escritura Hebrea enseñó que Dios nunca ha abandonado la Tierra!

Como está escrito: “¿A dónde me iré de tu Espíritu? ¿Y a dónde huiré de tu presencia? Si subiere a los cielos, allí estás tú; Y si en el Seol hiciere mi estrado, he aquí, allí tú estás. Si tomare las alas del alba, Y habitare en el extremo del mar, aún allí me guiará tu mano, Y me asirá tu diestra.

Si dijere: Ciertamente las tinieblas me encubrirán; aún la noche resplandecerá alrededor de mí. Aún las tinieblas no encubren de ti, Y la noche resplandece como el día; Lo mismo te son las tinieblas que la luz” (Salmo 139:7-12).

3) Jesús es citado diciendo: “Yo soy el camino, y la verdad, y la vida; nadie viene al Padre, sino por mí” (Juan 14:6). De nuevo, la anterior es una lógica y hermosa idea, con un subyugante contenido emocional; ¿Quién no se ha sentido en algún momento lejos de Dios, y necesitado de alguien que posea este grado absoluto de certeza y seguridad?

De nuevo, el problema es que, aunque lógica y hermosa, la anterior idea está simplemente desconectada de la realidad de la Escritura Hebrea. Vera, el hombre necesita “utilizar un camino”, solo cuando anhela alcanzar algún lejano destino. Pero la realidad es que, como ya hemos demostrado, el Padre Celestial (Dios) está en todas partes.

Y, siendo que está en todas partes, siempre está cercano a los que le invocan. Como dicen las Escrituras: “Cercano está Yah a los quebrantados de corazón; Y salva a los contritos de espíritu” (Salmo 34:18); “Cercano estás tú, oh Yah, Y todos tus mandamientos son verdad” (Salmo 119:151); “Cercano está Yah a todos los que le invocan, A todos los que le invocan de veras” (Salmo 145:118); “Porque ¿qué nación grande hay que tenga dioses tan cercanos a ellos como lo está Yah nuestro Dios en todo cuanto le pedimos?” (Deut. 4:7); “El ha exaltado el poderío de su pueblo; Alábenle todos sus santos, los hijos de Israel, El pueblo a él cercano. Aleluya” (Salmo 148:14).

4) Los evangelios narran que Jesús sanó a un ciego de nacimiento. Y se alega que esto no deja lugar a dudas acerca del origen Divino de su ministerio, así como de la necesidad de suscribirse a él. El verso dice así: “Le volvieron a decir: ¿Qué te hizo? ¿Cómo te abrió los ojos? El les respondió: Ya os lo he dicho, y no habéis querido oír; ¿por qué lo queréis oír otra vez? ¿Queréis también vosotros haceros sus discípulos? Y le injuriaron, y dijeron: Tú eres su discípulo; pero nosotros, discípulos de Moisés somos.

Nosotros sabemos que Dios ha hablado a Moisés; pero respecto a ése, no sabemos de dónde sea.

Respondió el hombre, y les dijo: Pues esto es lo maravilloso, que vosotros no sepáis de dónde sea, y a mí me abrió los ojos. Y sabemos que Dios no oye a los pecadores; pero si alguno es temeroso de Dios, y hace su voluntad, a ése oye. Desde el principio no se ha oído decir que alguno abriese los ojos a uno que nació ciego. Si éste no viniera de Dios, nada podría hacer” (Juan 9:26-33).

De nuevo, note cuan emocionalmente subyugante, así como perfectamente lógico, es el anterior pasaje: Dios no oye a los pecadores; y, si alguien obra un milagro que nadie haya jamás realizado, pues es un seguro indicio de que tal individuo cuenta con la aprobación Divina. ¿Cual es el problema con esta lógica? ¡Pues que no corresponde a la realidad! Vera, Moisés no solamente dio ojos y vista a quien la había perdido de nacimiento, ¡sino a quien nunca la tuvo! (su vara, la cual Moisés convirtió en una serpiente, dándole así ojos para ver). Como está escrito: “Habló Yah a Moisés y a Aarón, diciendo: Si Faraón os respondiere diciendo: Mostrad milagro; dirás a Aarón: Toma tu vara, y échala delante de Faraón, para que se haga culebra. Vinieron, pues, Moisés y Aarón a Faraón, e hicieron como Yah lo había mandado. Y echó Aarón su vara delante de Faraón y de sus siervos, y se hizo culebra” (Éxodo 7:8-10). De hecho, el milagro de convertir la vara en serpiente, es mayor que el milagro de la [alegada] resurrección del Galileo (paz sea con él). Es que, resucitar un cadáver, solo implica dar vida a un cuerpo inerte, sin cambiar necesariamente su naturaleza; es decir, lo que era un cuerpo humano, sigue siendo un cuerpo humano- mientras que, convertir la vara en serpiente, no solamente implica dar vida a un cuerpo muerto, sino cambiar su naturaleza (de cuerpo vegetal, a cuerpo animal). De paso, note que no solamente es falso que nadie hubiese realizado con anterioridad un milagro tan grande como dar vista a alguien (o algo) que hubiese nacido ciego, sino que es también falso que esto constituya prueba de la aprobación Divina. ¿Por que? Pues porque los hechiceros de Faraón convirtieron también sus varas en serpientes; y Dios, obviamente estaba opuesto a todos ellos: “Entonces llamó también Faraón sabios y hechiceros, e hicieron también lo mismo los hechiceros de Egipto con sus encantamientos; pues echó cada uno su vara, las cuales se volvieron culebras; mas la vara de Aarón devoró las varas de ellos. Y el corazón de Faraón se endureció, y no los escuchó, como Yah lo había dicho” (Éxodo 7:11-13). ¿Significa lo hasta aquí dicho que la fe Cristiana no es un camino válido para acercarse a Dios? ¿Significa acaso que la fe Samaritana es superior a la Cristiana? ¡Absolutamente no! Lo que significa es que, las percepciones (mentalidades) Cristianas y Samaritanas, son intrínsecamente distintas. Por un lado, el creyente Cristiano es como la persona que fija su mirada en un árbol, y procede a analizar el árbol dentro del contexto del propio árbol. Por otro lado, el creyente Hebreo es como quien fija su mirada en ese mismo árbol, pero no limita su análisis al contexto del propio árbol, sino que lo analiza dentro del contexto del bosque que circunscribe dicho árbol, así como el de la montaña que circunscribe a tal bosque.

8 COSAS QUE APRENDEMOS DEL SABIO GALLO

- 1) El Gallo sabe distinguir entre la Luz y las Tinieblas
- 2) El Gallo se levanta temprano a cumplir su misión, aunque el clima no le favorezca
- 3) El Gallo no permite que nada ni nadie le impida cantar
- 4) El Gallo sigue cantando, aunque nadie se lo agradezca
- 5) El Gallo despierta a quienes están dormidos, aunque éstos se incomoden
- 6) El Gallo proclama Buenas Nuevas: "El triunfo de la Luz sobre las Tinieblas"
- 7) Pase lo que pase, el Gallo es fiel a la tarea que Dios le ha encomendado
- 8) El Gallo nunca se queja de su tarea, ni de hacer cada día lo mismo a la misma hora

¡PIDAMOS A DIOS SER TAN SABIOS COMO EL GALLO!

Can Gentiles (Blacks, Asians, Hispanics, Chinese, Arabs, etc) choose to practice the Hebrew (Reformed Samaritan) religion?

Can Gentiles (Blacks, Asians, Hispanics, Chinese, Arabs, etc) choose to practice the Hebrew religion? Of course they can! And from whence do we know it? We know it from the fact that Adonai (the Lord God) has personally said so.

As it is written: “And the foreigners who join themselves to Adonai to serve him, to love the name of Adonai, and to be his workers, all who keep Shabbat and do not profane it, and hold fast to my covenant, I will bring them to my Holy mountain and make them joyful in my House of prayer; their burnt offerings and sacrifices will be accepted on my altar; for my House will be called a House of prayer for all peoples”- Isaiah 56:6-7, Complete Jewish Bible.

And the same truth is attested by the wisest of all kings (king Solomon) when he foresaw that the gentile nations would hear about Adonai, and come to worship them at the Holy temple.

As it is written: “Also the foreigner who does not belong to your people Isra’el — when he comes from a distant country because of your reputation (for they will hear of your great reputation, your mighty hand and your outstretched arm), when he comes and prays toward this house; then hear in heaven where you live, and act in accordance with everything about which the foreigner is calling to you; so that all the [Gentile] peoples of the Earth will know your name and fear you, as does your people Isra’el...”- 1 Kings 8:41-43, Complete Jewish Bible

Al igual que El Creador (bendito sea), el Hombre también es “un lugar”

Desde un punto de vista puramente técnico, el hombre no es sino un pequeño lugar...

 Un lugar donde converge una pequeña porción de todos los tipos de materia del universo

 Un lugar donde converge una pequeña porción de todas las formas de energía del universo

 Un lugar donde converge una pequeña porción de todas las formas de espacio del Universo

 Un lugar donde converge una pequeña porción de todos los tiempos del Universo

 Un lugar donde converge una pequeña porción de todas las historias del universo

 Un lugar donde converge una pequeña porción de todas las probabilidades del universo

 Un lugar donde converge una pequeña porción de todas las leyes químicas, físicas, y biológicas del universo

 Un lugar donde converge una pequeña porción de todas las relaciones de causa y efecto del Universo

 Un lugar donde converge una pequeña porción de toda la voluntad del Universo

 Un lugar donde converge una pequeña porción de todos los estados de conciencia del Universo

Y es bajo esta perspectiva que la fe Samaritana postula que, ya que la Escritura afirma que el hombre fue creado a imagen y semejanza de su Hacedor (bendito sea), este último también tiene por fuerza que ser un lugar (y la palabra que la tradición Hebrea utiliza para esta descripción de la Deidad es “Ha Makon”). Pero Dios no solamente es “un lugar”, sino que es en cambio “El Gran Lugar”. Es decir, El Grande y Maravilloso Lugar de donde surgen todos los “pequeños lugares”; aquel Sagrado e Infinito Lugar donde moran la totalidad de todas las cosas: de todos los paradigmas; de todas las posibilidades; de todas las preguntas; de todas las respuestas; de toda la duda, de toda la certidumbre; de todas las existencias; de todas las inexistencias; de todas las leyes; de todas las formas de tiempo, de espacio, de materia, y de energía; de toda la sabiduría; de toda la justicia, de toda la misericordia, de toda la humildad; de toda la fe; de todo el amor; de toda la voluntad; y de toda la conciencia del universo.

The implicit message of ancient Hebrew faith

The implicit message of Moses Law isn't the nation of Israel. Neither is it the gentile nations of the World. Torah's implicit message isn't the land of Israel, the city of Jerusalem, nor is it the Sacred temple. In fact it is neither the figure of Abraham, Jacob, Moses, Jesus, Muhammad, nor any other prophet (peace and blessing be upon them all).

Torah's implicit message, is the logical [but revolutionary] idea that, the Law of “measure by measure” (also known as the law of “sowing and reaping”, “cause and effect”, or “action and reaction”), isn't limited to agrarian and/or physical objects; rather, it's scope includes non physical things [like morality, consciousness, soul, and faith].

This Law of “measure for measure” states that we ought to stop doing evil, in order to start doing what is good. Why? Because the universe in which we exist is in itself subservient to the Divine law of “measure for measure”. Thus, sooner or later the universe will have no other option but to force us to “reap” the same goodness [or evil] we have “sowed”. And this will in turn be the manifestation of God's perfect judgment upon our lives- to give us the same blessings (or curses) we have freely chosen to sow upon our fellow human beings.

And the Torah confirms the claim that Divine justice will force us to “reap” the same [moral] fruit that, thru our “works” [or “actions”], we have “sowed. When? When it goes on to say: “Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of wisdom, GOD FORBID THAT WICKEDNESS SHOULD BE IN GOD, and iniquity in the Almighty. FOR HE WILL RENDER UNTO MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORK, AND CAUSE EVERYONE TO FIND ACCORDING TO HIS WAY. And certainly God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment”- Job 34: 10-12 (Geneva Bible, 1599). And it also says in another place: “... FOR THOU [OH LORD] REWARDEST EVERYONE ACCORDING TO HIS WORK”- Psalm 62:12 (Geneva Bible, 1599); And further on: “If you [profess ignorance and] say, Behold, we did not know this, does not He Who weighs and ponders the heart perceive and consider it? And He Who guards your life, does not He know it? And SHALL NOT HE RENDER TO [YOU AND] EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORKS?- Proverbs 24:12 (Amplified Bible, Classic edition).

And the prophet also agrees with the former, when he goes on to say: “... MY CHOSEN WILL ENJOY THE WORK OF HIS HANDS' (Isaiah 65:22). Finally, it says the following: “For many nations, and great kings shall even serve themselves of them: THUS WILL I RECOMPENSE THEM ACCORDING TO THEIR DEEDS, AND ACCORDING TO THE WORKS OF THEIR OWN HANDS”- Jeremiah 25:14 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

Thus, it makes plain sense to think that, the well-being of each man rests upon his [or her] willingness to repent of his wickedness, thereby turning away from his evil behavior, in order to start doing the good works that please the Creator [in other words, obeying the Ten commandments of the Divine Law]. As it is written, “DEPART FROM EVIL AND DO GOOD; AND YOU WILL DWELL FOREVER [SECURELY]”- Psalm 37:27 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

Or as it says elsewhere: «All has been heard; THE END OF THE MATTER IS: “FEAR GOD [REVERE AND WORSHIP HIM, KNOWING THAT HE IS] AND KEEP HIS COMMANDMENTS, FOR THIS IS THE WHOLE OF MAN [THE FULL, ORIGINAL PURPOSE OF HIS CREATION, THE OBJECT OF GOD’S PROVIDENCE, THE ROOT OF CHARACTER, THE FOUNDATION OF ALL HAPPINESS, THE ADJUSTMENT TO ALL INHARMONIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES AND CONDITIONS UNDER THE SUN] AND THE WHOLE [DUTY] FOR EVERY MAN.

FOR GOD SHALL BRING EVERY WORK INTO JUDGMENT, with every secret thing, whether it is good or evil”»- Ecclesiastes 12: 13-14 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition).

And even the Christian writings attest to the fact that God's righteous judgment consists in rewarding

each person according to the good [or evil] he [or she] has performed. As it is written: “And the sea gave up her dead, which were in her, and death and hell delivered up the dead, which were in them: AND THEY WERE JUDGED EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO THEIR WORKS”- Revelation 20:13 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

And the New Testament also says in another place: “BUT THOU, AFTER THINE HARDNESS, AND HEART THAT CANNOT REPENT, HEAPEST UP AS A TREASURE UNTO THYSELF WRATH AGAINST THE DAY OF WRATH, AND OF THE DECLARATION OF THE JUST JUDGMENT OF GOD, WHO WILL REWARD EVERY MAN ACCORDING TO HIS WORKS: THAT IS, TO THEM WHICH THROUGH PATIENCE IN WELL DOING, SEEK GLORY, AND HONOR, AND IMMORTALITY, EVERLASTING LIFE... TRIBULATION AND ANGUISH SHALL BE UPON THE SOUL OF EVERY MAN THAT DOETH EVIL: OF THE JEW FIRST, AND ALSO OF THE GRECIAN. BUT TO EVERY MAN THAT DOETH GOOD, SHALL BE GLORY, AND HONOR, AND PEACE: TO THE JEW FIRST, AND ALSO TO THE GRECIAN”- Romans 2: 5-7, & 9-10 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

Thus, when any person [or any thing], stirs our hearts, so that our reply is to turn away from our rebellious obstinacy [in order to start obeying God's commandments], such person [or such thing] has immediately become the promised Redeemer (or Messiah)- He who has come to save us.

As it has been promised in the verse that goes on to say: “And THE REDEEMER SHALL COME UNTO ZION (UNTO WHOM SHALL THE REDEEMER COME?).... UNTO THEM THAT TURN [AWAY] FROM INIQUITY IN JACOB, saith the Lord” - Isaiah 59:20 (Geneva Bible, 1599).

Again, the fact that the road to everlasting Life is to be found in the performance of the good ordained by God upon the two stone tablets, is such a paramount and undeniable truth, that both the Holy Gospel, as well as the Noble Qur'an, confirms it. As it is written: “And he [Jesus] said unto him, Why called thou me good? there is none good but one, even God: BUT IF THOU WILT ENTER INTO [EVERLASTING] LIFE, KEEP THE COMMANDMENTS.... THOU SHALT NOT KILL: THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY: THOU SHALT NOT STEAL: THOU SHALT NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS. HONOR THY FATHER, AND MOTHER: AND, THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOR AS THYSELF”- Matthew 19: 17-19 (Geneva Bible, 1599); And also says in another Scripture: “Allah (GOD) HAS PROMISED THOSE WHO BELIEVE AND WORK RIGHTEOUSNESS: THEY WILL HAVE FORGIVENESS AND A GREAT REWARD [IN THE WORLD TO COME]”- Qur'an, Surah 5:9.

Jesus could not have fulfilled God's Law

Christian theology loves to claim that there's no salvation for any man, unless he can perfectly obey God's Law. Why does Christianity make such a weird claim? So it can convince you of the idea that your only chance of Salvation is to be imputed the merits of Jesus [allegedly] perfect obedience. What's the problem with this? Well, the problem is that God's law consisted of 613 commandments. And the first of those commandments was the following: “Be fruitful and multiply”- Genesis 1:22 (in other words, get marry and have children!). But since nowhere does the gospel say Jesus ever got married [or begot any kids], he could have not fulfilled the Law, as Christians so often claim. Worst than that! He who is perfectly obedient to God's will (as expressed in the Law), will never have a need of learning obedience; but as for Jesus, the new testament says: “Although he was the Son, he learned obedience from what he suffered”- Hebrews 5:8, Christian Standard Bible. And it goes without saying that, the reason any man needs to learn obedience, is his former “disobedience” [to God]

The Jewish, Christian, and Muslim Holy scriptures are a call to sincere repentance, and to good deeds

No believer should never consider himself to be morally superior to any other believer; but the fact is that message of both Jewish and Christian Scriptures is a call to repentance, as well as to do works worthy of such repentance (since “the tree is known by it’s fruit”). As is written in the Jewish Tanakh: “Wash yourselves, make yourselves clean; put away the evil of your doings from before my eyes; CEASE TO DO EVIL; LEARN TO DO GOOD; SEEK JUDGMENT; RESTORE UNTO THE OPPRESSED; HEAR THE FATHERLESS in right judgment; protect the widow. Then come, shall the LORD say, and we shall be even; IF YOUR SINS WERE AS SCARLET, THEY SHALL BE MADE AS WHITE AS SNOW; if they were red like crimson, they shall become as wool”- Isaiah 1:16-18. And as is also stated in the Christian Holy Scripture: “But I announced first unto those of Damascus and at Jerusalem and throughout all the coasts of Judaea and then to the Gentiles THAT THEY SHOULD REPENT AND TURN TO GOD, DOING WORKS WORTHY OF REPENTANCE”- Acts 26:20

Hebrew Bible and the afterlife

In the Hebrew Bible, She’ol (Hebrew שְׁאוֹל) is a place of darkness, to which all the dead go, both the righteous and the unrighteous. But many people claim that the Hebrew scripture makes no mention of the afterlife, and that Sheol is just the silent grave. But we must ask ourselves: If Sheol is only the silent grave, how can the Hebrew scripture say; “Let death seize upon them, and let them go down alive into Sheol...”- Psalm 55:15. How can anybody be surprised by death, yet go down alive into Sheol?

What is the meaning of the word "Amen"?

The word "Amen" is often found in the pages of the Torah (i.e., it is used no less than 12 times in Deuteronomy, chapter 27). The fact is that the Hebrew word "AMEN" is simply short hand for a Hebrew phrase meaning, "El Melekh Ne'eman" ("God, the trustworthy King").

God's existence isn't a scientific issue; it's rather a moral dilemma

Having invented both Physics and Calculus, Sir Isaac Newton (a devout Christian believer) was the greatest scientist of all times. And the key for Newton's success was his absolute belief in the idea that the universe had been created by a logical and rational being (the God of the Bible).

And, since a logical and rational being had created the universe, Newton considered it safe to assume that the latter could be described by means of mathematics [the language of pure reason and logic]. Not only that but, since the Holy Scripture describes God as the Supreme (or “unchallenged”) king of the universe, Newton [safely] assumed that the laws issued by this Supreme ruler of the universe would be fixed, and immutable [so that the universe's behavior could not only be described, but even predicted!].

Unfortunately, Newton wrote 16 times more about religion [and theology], than what he did about physics and mathematics. And this means that he spent only 1/16 of his brain power on Physics research.

In fact, Newton discovered that, when it comes to mechanical bodies, any action is always followed by an equal and opposite reaction.

But had Newton spent more time on it, he would have discovered an even deeper reality: that the law of “action and reaction” (or “cause and effect”) didn't only apply to physical reality, but also to “non physical reality”: that if a person forgives, he too will be forgiven; that if a person gives, it will also be given unto him; that if he shows mercy, mercy will be shown unto him; that if a person does evil, evil shall be done unto that person- in short, like Americans used to say: “What goes around, comes around”.

And the latter is the reason why the issue of God's existence actually isn't a matter of “science versus religion” (as Newton was living proof that you could be a very religious person, and yet be the greatest of all scientists!); it's a matter of moral accountability. In other words, no matter what the facts might be, he whose lifestyle makes him feel threatened by moral accountability, will stubbornly refuse to believe that there's such a thing as objective goodness [or objective evil].

And of course he will also refuse to believe that there's such thing as a moral Judge [or any sort of moral Judgment] in the Universe. But, he who honestly pursues the high moral grounds, abides in strength and confidence; as not only doesn't he feels threatened by the possibility of having to reap what he has sowed; but even expects it with hope, as one who happily awaits his future reward.

La Torah (es decir, las Diez "Palabras" o “Mandamientos” de la Ley de Divina) es la Verdad Suprema

La Escritura Hebrea dice así: “Tu justicia [oh Dios] es justicia eterna; Y TU LEY, ES LA VERDAD”- Salmo 119:142 (Biblia Reina Valera Actualizada- 2015). En el anterior pasaje, note como el Creador enseña que, es LA LEY DE DIOS, la que es "La Verdad" (Y, el término que el pasaje traduce como "Ley", es la palabra Hebrea "Torah")...

No el Judaísmo...

No Moisés (paz y bendición sean con él)...

No el Cristianismo...

No Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él)...

No el Islam...

No Muhammad (paz y bendición sean con él)...

De nuevo, ES LA LEY DE DIOS (LA TORAH), LO QUE ES LA VERDAD.

Pero, ¿que es la Torah (o Ley de Dios)? Pues son las Diez Palabras (o “Mandamientos”) del Pacto eterno dado a Israel, así como a la gran multitud de otras gentes que, en cada generación, acompañan en su jornada espiritual al pueblo Hebreo.

Como esta escrito: “Y ÉL OS ANUNCIÓ SU PACTO, EL CUAL OS MANDÓ PONER POR OBRA, LAS DIEZ PALABRAS; y escribiólas en dos tablas de piedra”- Deut. 4:13 (Biblia Reina Valera Antigua). Y también dice en otro lugar: “Partieron, pues, los hijos de Israel de Ramesés a Sucot... TAMBIÉN FUE CON ELLOS UNA GRAN MULTITUD DE TODA CLASE DE GENTE...”- Éxodo 12:37, Biblia Reina Valera Actualizada- 2015.

Y, ya que sembrar el bien encarnado en los Diez mandamientos de la Ley Divina (la Torah), es la Suprema verdad que todo hombre debe seguir, no es de sorprender que la Escritura muestre que, la obediencia a los mandamientos de la Torah, sea el todo del hombre. Como esta escrito: “El fin de todo el discurso oído es este: TEME A DIOS, Y GUARDA SUS MANDAMIENTOS; PORQUE ESTO ES EL TODO DEL HOMBRE”- Eclesiastés 12:13, Biblia Reina Valera Antigua.

Así las cosas, y siendo que la Torah es la Suprema Verdad del Dios de Israel, siempre que el Judaísmo, el Cristianismo, o el Islam proclamen palabras que concuerden con la Torah (ama a tu prójimo, honra a tus padres, no adores otros dioses, no mientas, no robes, no asesines, no codicies la mujer ni la propiedad de tu vecino, etc), estarán en efecto proclamando la Verdad del Dios de Israel. Pero, en el momento en que el Judaísmo, el Cristianismo, o el Islam proclamen palabras que difieran (o contradigan) la Torah, ya no estarán proclamando la Verdad del Dios de Israel, sino la de hombres sagaces y engañadores, que codician el poder y la pleitesía.

The word “Judaism” is nowhere to be found in the five books of Moses... In fact, it could be properly said that Hasidic theology is the modern brainchild of ancient “Greek” gnosticism (later rebranded as “Jewish Kabbalah”)

Is modern Judaism the old Hebrew faith?

Ancient Hebrew religion consisted on following the commandments given by the Creator to our master Moses. Thus, whenever modern Judaism follows these commandments, it thereby proves to be the Hebrew people’s ancient religion. But, does modern Judaism actually follow Moses commandments? Does it encourages it’s followers to cancel all personal debts every seventh year? Does it command them to allow their lands to “rest” every seventh years [so that homeless people can feed from it’s harvest]?

Are lands and houses returned to their original owners every fifty years [as required by the Jubilee]?

Are women allowed to rest for 80 days after giving birth to a daughter? Do male Jews marry their own brother’s widow [as required by the law of Levirate]?

Do modern Jews abstain from lending money on interest? Do they sacrifice a pascal lamb, placing it’s blood on their houses door posts? Do they follow the lead of Aaron’s children (the Cohanim), as well as that of the council of seventy elders [as ordained by God to Moses]?

Do they bring the first fruits of their harvest, and set aside the poor man’s tithe? Do they have a working Sanhedrin [Court] capable of dispensing the punishments prescribed by God’s Law?

If the answer to the former questions is a resounding “No”, it means that modern Judaism is [at best] a far cry of the ancient Bible religion most Ashkenazi (or, “Anglo-Saxon”) Jews find impossible to follow. Why can’t they follow it? Because it goes against the modern (Western) values blindly worshiped by most Anglo-Saxon people (scientific secularism, capitalism, gay rights, women’s rights, etc.)

God's Law teaches that the Creator rules His universe by means of the law of “sowing, and reaping”; “action, and reaction”; “measure, for measure”; “what goes around, comes around”. That's the foundation for everything else! Thus, whenever a book (the Zabur, the Torah, the Koran, the Gospel, etc) preaches this universal truth, it is in fact preaching God's Law. Likewise, when a book tries to teach you that sowing goodness will lead you to reaping goodness; such book is thereby preaching God's true message. Similarly, when a book preaches that sowing evil will lead you to reaping evil, that book is thereby preaching the word of God “Jews are said to be like dust (Gen. 28:14), and [also] said to be like stars (Gen. 22:17). [What does it means?].... When they go down [morally speaking], they go down to the very dust. When they reach [morally] up, they reach up to the stars”- Babylonian Talmud, Meg. 16a.

Ninguna religión puede salvar al Hombre

Si estudia usted detallada [y objetivamente] las Escrituras Sagradas de tanto Samaritanos, como de Judíos y Cristianos, descubrirá para su sorpresa que, a diferencia de lo que cree la mayoría, estas confirman el hecho de que ningún ser humano, ninguna Iglesia, ni ninguna religión puede salvar al Hombre. Lo único que puede salvarle, es aquel arrepentimiento sincero que le conduce a alejarse de la maldad, para comenzar en cambio a hacer el bien ordenado por el Creador (los Diez Mandamientos, cuyo resumen no es otro sino amar a Dios y a nuestro prójimo). Como esta escrito: “No confiéis en los príncipes, Ni en hijo de hombre, porque no hay en él salvación... Os digo: ‘No; antes si no os arrepentís, todos pereceréis igualmente’... Apartate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre... Teme a Dios, y guarda sus mandamientos; porque esto es el todo del hombre... Porque: No adulterarás, no matarás, no hurtarás, no dirás falso testimonio, no codiciarás, y cualquier otro mandamiento, en esta sentencia se resume: ‘Amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo’... El amor no hace mal al prójimo; así que, el cumplimiento de la Ley, es el amor... El que no ama, no ha conocido a Dios; porque Dios es amor”- Salmo 146:3, Lucas 13:3, Salmo 37:27, Eclesiastés 12:13, Romanos 13:9, & 1 Juan 4:8 (Biblia Reina Valera 1960)

Aléjate de cualquiera que llegue diciendo que "puedes obtener todos los beneficios, sin necesidad de asumir ninguna de las responsabilidades". Es que, quien tal hace, solo intenta incitarte al oportunismo, para luego poder explotarlo para beneficio propio (como sería el caso del líder religioso que, comienza convenciéndote de que "la salvación no es por obras", pero termina convenciéndote de que tienes que "hacer la obra" de entregarle tu diezmo y tus ofrendas)

El Judaísmo moderno, tiene poco que ver con la Fe Hebrea practicada por los antiguos profetas de Israel

El Judaísmo, es una religión maravillosa. Pero la realidad es que, el Judaísmo moderno, tiene muy poco que ver con la Fe Hebrea practicada por los antiguos profetas de Israel. ¿Y como sabemos que la mayoría de los Judíos modernos tienen poco que ver con el pueblo Semita (es decir, con los descendientes de Sem que surgieron por medio del linaje de Abraham, según Génesis 11:10-26)? Pues lo sabemos porque, la mayoría de los Judíos de hoy en día, admiten abiertamente ser étnicamente “Askenazis”. Y la Escritura Hebrea no tiene reparo alguno en mostrar que, los Askenazis [es decir, los descendientes de Askenaz] NO ERAN A SU VEZ DESCENDIENTES DE SEM, sino que eran en cambio simiente de Jafet.

Como esta escrito: «ESTAS SON LAS GENERACIONES DE LOS HIJOS DE NOÉ: SEM, CAM Y JAFET... LOS HIJOS DE JAFET: GOMER... LOS HIJOS DE GOMER: ASKENAZ, Rifat y Togarma...»- Génesis 10:1-3. (En otras palabras, los Askenazis tienen tanta posibilidad de ser Semitas, como los Griegos la tienen de ser Egipcios).

¿Y como sabemos que, el Judaísmo Moderno, tiene poco que ver con la antigua fe Hebrea que modelaron tanto Moisés como los profetas de Israel? Pues lo sabemos porque ya no observa los grandes mandamientos que distinguían a aquella fe (el sacrificio del cordero pascual, el reposo sabático de la Tierra, la cancelación de las deudas, la devolución de las propiedades a sus dueños originales durante el año del Jubileo, el levirato conyugal, etc).

En adición, lo sabemos porque, la mayoría de las modernas sectas Judías (Reformada, Reconstruccionista, Humanista, Conservadora, Hasídica, etc), aceptan en principio el que un Judío pueda ser abiertamente ateo y/o homosexual [sin que ello ponga en entredicho la validez de su alegada identidad Judía!]. Y, en la antigua fe Hebrea, esto último era simplemente intolerable, pues la Escritura catalogaba al ateísmo de “necedad”.

Como esta escrito: «DICE EL NECIO EN SU CORAZÓN: “¡NO HAY DIOS!”- Salmo 14:1». De igual modo, la antigua fe Hebrea consideraba la Homosexualidad como algo abominable- una conducta digna de “perros” [es decir, de bestias irracionales], y no de seres humanos. Como esta escrito: «NO HAYA RAMERA de entre las hijas de Israel, NI HAYA SODOMITA de entre los hijos de Israel.

NO TRAERÁS LA PAGA DE UNA RAMERA NI EL PRECIO DE UN PERRO A LA CASA DE YAH tu Dios por ningún voto; PORQUE ABOMINACIÓN ES A YAH TU DIOS TANTO LO UNO COMO LO OTRO [TENGA PRESENTE QUE EL PERRO SE CARACTERIZA POR LAMER EL ÓRGANO GENITAL, TAL Y COMO HACEN LOS HOMOSEXUALES]»- Deuteronomio 23:17-18.

Y lo anterior explica el hecho de que, la Escritura Hebrea, no mencione siquiera un solo patriarca Hebreo, un solo discípulo de Moisés, un solo miembro del Sanedrín, un solo Juez de Israel, un solo Rey Hebreo, un solo profeta Hebreo, o un solo hombre justo que haya sido abiertamente ateo y/o homosexual. Es que, tal abierta degeneración, era característica de aquellos gentiles paganos de los cuales Israel [y la fe Hebrea] estaban llamados a ser la antítesis.

De hecho, una antigua tradición Hebrea (Rabbah Génesis) confirma lo anterior, cuando dice lo siguiente- Dijo Rabbi: “No había ciudad mas perversa que Sodoma. Cuando un hombre era [extremadamente] perverso, era llamado un Sodomita; Y no había Nación mas cruel que los Amorreos. Cuando un hombre era [extremadamente] cruel, era llamado un Amorreo”. Y en otro lugar dice también esa misma tradición:

El Rabino Joshua Ben Levi dijo en el nombre de Bar Padiah: “Toda aquella noche, Lot se la pasó orando, pidiendo misericordia para los Sodomitas. Los dos ángeles le habrían escuchado; pero, tan pronto como los Sodomitas demandaron [públicamente] diciendo, «Sácalos (a los ángeles), para que [teniendo intimidad sexual con ellos] los conozcamos» (Génesis 19:5), en ese mismo momento los ángeles dijeron a Lot: “¿Tienes aquí alguno más... (Génesis 19:12)?”.

Como queriendo decir: “[Lot,] hasta aquí, pudiste interceder por ellos; pero, ahora que hemos sido testigos presenciales de su maldad, no tenemos otra opción que hacerlos morir” [pues escrito esta: “POR DICHO DE DOS O DE TRES TESTIGOS MORIRÁ EL QUE HUBIERE DE MORIR; no morirá por el dicho de un solo testigo”- Deuteronomio 17:6].

El Tonto [aquel que cree tener todas las respuestas] niega y afirma en terminos rotundos. Pero, el sabio [que entiende que solo un ser infinito podría saber todas las cosas], se abstiene en cambio de afirmar en terminos absolutos, y deja lugar para la duda [para la posibilidad de que "la verdad de un asunto", sea mas abarcadora que lo que puede articular su finito entendimiento]

La fe en un Mesías particular, no garantiza a nadie su salvación; Lo que la garantiza, es la circuncisión de la carne, así como del corazón

Si la salvación de un gentil [es decir, de una persona que no sigue la fe Hebrea] dependiese de hacer algo previamente ordenado en la Ley Divina, ello no sería el creer en la venida de un futuro mesías; no sería creer en las leyes de Noah; en el retorno de las tribus perdidas; ni en la reconstrucción del templo en Jerusalén. Sería en cambio someterse al proceso de circuncisión; un acto tangible, que da testimonio de la intangible contrición de nuestra alma, así como de nuestro compromiso con la obediencia y auto-negación que demandan la fe en el Dios de Avraham.

De hecho, el derramamiento de sangre producto de la circuncisión, cumple la simbología de los sacrificios que se efectuaban en el templo de Jerusalén [un templo que a su vez tipificaba el mas sagrado templo que es nuestro cuerpo]. Es decir, así como la sangre derramada en el [alegórico] Templo de Jerusalén, expiaba los pecados de una persona (“... Y la misma sangre hará expiación de la persona”- Levítico 17:11), de ese mismo modo la sangre derramada [como resultado de la circuncisión] en el verdadero templo que es nuestro cuerpo, expía los pecados de nuestra persona. ¿Y de donde sabemos que la circuncisión física es “el peaje” que debe pagar todo creyente Hebreo, a fin de poder “entrar por las puertas de la Jerusalén celestial” [obteniendo así la vida eterna]? Pues lo sabemos del pasaje que dice: “vístete tu ropa hermosa, OH JERUSALÉN, porque NUNCA MAS VENDRA A TI INCIRCUNCISO...”- Isaías 52:1. Y tambien dice en otro lugar: «Así ha dicho יהוה el Señor: “Ningún hijo de extranjero, INCIRCUNCISO DE CORAZÓN E INCIRCUNCISO DE CARNE, ENTRARÁ EN MI SANTUARIO...”»- Ezequiel 44:9

Hate isn't always bad, particularly when hatred is directed against evil doers (that's why American Law still includes the death penalty!). In fact, the Creator gets angry with the man who proceeds to assists evildoers, without first confronting them with their wickedness. As it is written: “Do you help the wicked, and love those who hate the Lord? Because of this, the Lord’s wrath is on you”- 1

Chronicles 19:2

Antisemitismo humano, versus antisemitismo Divino

Hay dos clases de antisemitismo:

(1) aquel que produce la maldad de los hombres;

(2) y aquel que produce la bondad Divina. El primero de ellos, debemos todos rechazarlo; pero, el segundo, debemos todos aceptarlo. Es que, al igual que sucedió con Faraón, el primero de estos antisemitismos es el producto de la envidia que a menudo sienten los hombres contra aquellos que prosperan y se multiplican a causa de la bendición Divina que sobre ellos reposa; como esta escrito: “HE AQUÍ, EL PUEBLO DE LOS HIJOS DE ISRAEL ES MAYOR Y MÁS FUERTE QUE NOSOTROS. AHORA, PUES, SEAMOS SABIOS PARA CON ÉL, PARA QUE NO SE MULTIPLIQUE, y acontezca que viniendo guerra, él también se una a nuestros enemigos y pelee contra nosotros, y se vaya de la tierra... PERO CUANTO MÁS LOS OPRIMÍAN, TANTO MÁS SE MULTIPLICABAN Y CRECIAN, de manera que los egipcios temían a los hijos de Israel”- Éxodo 1:9-10, &12.

Pero, el segundo tipo de antisemitismo, no surge de la envidia de los hombres, sino del amor de Dios. Es que Dios ama a Israel. Y la Escritura Hebrea dice que, el Padre que ama a su hijo, no le deja sin castigo. Como esta escrito: “Porque el Señor al que ama castiga, como el Padre al hijo a quien quiere”- Prov. 3:12. Y, como el Señor es un Padre amoroso para con Israel, pues tiene que castigar sus extravíos. Como esta escrito: “Reconoce asimismo en tu corazón, que COMO CASTIGA EL HOMBRE A SU HIJO, ASÍ EL SEÑOR TU DIOS TE CASTIGA”- Deut. 8:5.

Es decir, cuando Israel se obstina en promover la usura, el ateísmo, o la homosexualidad, se rebela de ese modo contra su Padre celestial, quien le ha ordenado diciendo: “Porque yo soy el Señor, que os hago subir de la tierra de Egipto para ser vuestro Dios: SERÉIS, PUES, SANTOS, PORQUE YO SOY SANTO”- Lev. 11:45.

Y, ante tal rebelión, Dios se ve obligado a castigar a su Pueblo, con la esperanza de que este último retorne al camino recto. ¿Y en que consiste este castigo? Pues en dar rienda suelta al cruel y perverso antisemitismo humano; es decir, en echar a Israel de su tierra, y permitir que caiga en poder de sus enemigos, de suerte y que estos últimos hagan burla y escarnio de ellos. Como esta escrito:

1) “PERO SI NO ME OYEREIS, NI HICIEREIS TODOS ESTOS MIS MANDAMIENTOS, Y SI DESDEÑAREIS MIS DECRETOS, Y VUESTRA ALMA MENOSPREGIARE MIS ESTATUTOS... PONDRÉ MI ROSTRO CONTRA VOSOTROS, Y SERÉIS HERIDOS DELANTE DE VUESTROS ENEMIGOS; Y LOS QUE OS ABORRECEN SE ENSEÑOREARÁN DE VOSOTROS, Y HUIRÉIS SIN QUE HAYA QUIEN OS PERSIGA...”- Deut. 26:14-17

2) “MAS SI OBSTINADAMENTE OS APARTAREIS DE MÍ VOSOTROS Y VUESTROS HIJOS, Y NO GUARDAREIS MIS MANDAMIENTOS Y MIS ESTATUTOS QUE YO HE PUESTO DELANTE DE VOSOTROS... YO CORTARÉ A ISRAEL DE SOBRE LA FAZ DE LA TIERRA QUE LES HE ENTREGADO... E ISRAEL SERÁ POR PROVERBIO Y REFRÁN [DE BURLA] A TODOS LOS PUEBLOS...”- 1 Reyes 9:6-7.

En fin que, cuando Israel hace lo bueno, Dios le otorga la victoria sobre sus enemigos. Pero, cuando Israel se rebela contra el Creador, el antisemitismo Divino hace que Israel sufra a manos de sus enemigos. Y, en el trato de Dios para con la nación Hebrea, este Divino antisemitismo juega un papel ineludible; ¿Por que? Pues porque [según la tradición Hebrea] será el instrumento de su final redención. Como esta escrito:

Un sabio Hebreo dijo una vez: “Si Israel se arrepiente, será redimido; pero si no, no será redimido”. Le dijo otro sabio: “¿Si no se arrepienten, no serán redimidos? Pero el Santo de Israel, bendito sea, levantará un Rey cuyos decretos serán tan crueles como los de Haman, e Israel se arrepentirá; y así les traerá Él de vuelta al camino recto”

¿Fue al apóstol Pedro “la piedra” sobre la cual se fundamento la Iglesia Cristiana, como promete el Evangelio (“tú eres Pedro, y sobre esta roca edificaré mi iglesia”- Mateo 16:18), y como también reclama la Iglesia Católica?

La noble fe Cristiana es un camino perfectamente valido para agradar al Creador. Pero, el asiduo estudiante de las Escrituras, percibe en ella un fenómeno perturbador. ¿Cual? Pues el que, aunque la noble teología Cristiana hace reclamos que a primera vista aparentan ser tan grandes y poderosos como una montaña, cuando se examina objetivamente la Escritura, se descubre que, la grande y poderosa montaña de reclamos, a menudo pende de un pequeño y débil hilo de evidencia.

Y el reclamo de que Pedro sería la piedra sobre al cual se edificaría la gentil Iglesia cristiana, puede servir como ejemplo ilustrativo.

Es que, ¿como es posible que Pedro halla sido “la piedra” sobre la cual se edificó la Iglesia Cristiana [que es abrumadoramente “Gentil”], siendo que, aparte de la primera y la segunda carta de Pedro, este último no escribió personalmente nada a la iglesia? De hecho, aún en estas dos cartas, Pedro aclara que su contenido no esta dirigido sino a los creyentes Judíos en la dispersión, y no a los cristianos gentiles.

Como esta escrito: “Pedro, apóstol de Jesucristo, A LOS EXPATRIADOS DE LA DISPERSIÓN [ES DECIR, DE LA DIÁSPORA JUDÍA] EN EL PONTO, GALACIA, CAPADOCIA, ASIA y Bitinia”- 1 Pedro 1:1.

¿Y como sabemos con seguridad que la frase “los expatriados el Ponto” hace referencia a creyentes Judíos? Pues lo sabemos del verso que dice, “Moraban entonces en Jerusalén JUDÍOS, VARONES PIADOSOS, de todas las naciones bajo el cielo.... Partos, medos, elamitas, y los que habitamos en Mesopotamia, en Judea, EN CAPADOCIA, EN EL PONTO Y EN ASIA ”- Hechos 2:5&9

Finalmente, ¿no fue acaso el apóstol Pablo quien escribió la abrumadora mayoría de las cartas dirigidas a la iglesia Gentil (Romanos, Corintios, Gálatas, Efesios, Tesalonicenses, Filipenses, etc)?

¿Acaso no dice con claridad meridiana el Nuevo testamento que, “el ministerio de la incircuncisión” (es decir, el liderato y la dirección de los creyentes gentiles) fue dado por Dios a Pablo, mientras que “el ministerio de la circuncisión” (es decir, la autoridad sobre los creyentes Judíos) fue dado a Pedro?

Como esta escrito: “Pero de los que tenían reputación de ser algo... COMO VIERON QUE ME HABÍA SIDO ENCOMENDADO EL EVANGELIO DE LA INCIRCUNCISIÓN (LOS GENTILES), COMO A PEDRO EL DE LA CIRCUNCISIÓN (PUES EL QUE ACTUÓ EN PEDRO PARA EL APOSTOLADO DE LA CIRCUNCISIÓN, ACTUÓ TAMBIÉN EN MÍ PARA CON LOS GENTILES)... nos dieron a mí y a Bernabé la diestra en señal de compañerismo, PARA QUE NOSOTROS FUÉSEMOS A LOS GENTILES, Y ELLOS A LA CIRCUNCISIÓN (los Judíos)”- Gálatas 2:6-9.

La muerte y suplicio del Jesús, según profetizado en el el libro de Ezequiel

«Por tanto, así ha dicho יהוה el Señor: Por cuanto pusiste tu corazón como corazón de Dios (pretendiendo ser igual al Padre Celestial), por tanto, he aquí yo traigo sobre ti extranjeros (el pueblo

Romano), los fuertes de las naciones (Poncio Pilatos y los soldados Romanos, quienes enjuiciaron y azotaron a Jesús, demostrando así ser mas poderosos que el Nazareno), que desenvainarán sus espadas contra la hermosura de tu sabiduría (esto profetiza que los Romanos “desenvainarían su espada” o “matarían” la sabiduría de Jesús, como fue el caso cuando, Poncio Pilatos, hace callar a Jesús, al preguntarle ¿que es la verdad?), y mancharán tu esplendor (esto ultimo se cumplió cuando los Romanos abofetearon a Jesús, y le escupieron el rostro, pues esto le hacia ritualmente impuro). Al sepulcro te harán descender (esto se cumplió cuando el cadáver de de Jesús “descendió” desde la cima del Gólgota el Monte Calvario, hasta su sepulcro en el Getsemaní, y morirás con la muerte de los que mueren en medio de los mares (es decir, con el cuerpo lleno de agua, tal y como salio agua del cuerpo de Jesús, cuando los soldados Romanos le atravesaron con la lanza). ¿Hablarás delante del que te mate, diciendo: “Yo soy Dios”? (este fue el caso con Jesús, que no se atrevió a decir a Pilatos que era la encarnación de Dios). Tú, hombre eres, y no Dios, en la mano de tu matador (Nuevamente, este es Jesús de Nazaret, quien murió a manos de los Romanos, tal y como moriría cualquier otro mortal). De muerte de incircuncisos morirás, por mano de extranjeros (este fue Jesús de Nazaret; quien, a diferencia de los verdaderos profetas de Israel, murió por un método pagano, a manos de incircuncisos Romanos), porque yo he hablado, dice יהוה el Señor»- Ezequiel 28:6-10

«Elijah (the prophet) said: “I call Heaven and Earth to witness that, whether it be a Jew or a heathen (Hebrew or Muslim), whether it be a man or a woman, a manservant or a maidservant, the Holy Spirit will suffuse each of them in keeping with the deeds he [or she] performs”»

Dios no se agrada de la idea de que el hombre puede "salvarse por fe" (es decir, sin esfuerzo alguno de su parte)

La Escritura Hebrea utiliza el pan como una alegoría; una que intenta prefigurar aquel alimento por medio del cual el hombre puede sostenerse a si mismo (es decir, obtener vida). Y, es por esto que, el maná que sostenía con vida a Israel (en su jornada a través del desierto), descendía directamente de los cielos; como intimando que, así como el pan terrenal puede dar vida a los hombres, de ese mismo modo el pan celestial (la palabra de Yah) puede dar vida a los hombres.

Note que el pan no es algo que surge espontáneamente; no crece por si mismo en las espigas. El pan, requiere del trabajo y el esfuerzo de aquel que desea consumirlo; quien tiene que hacer el esfuerzo de recoger la harina, amasarla con agua, fermentarla, y finalmente cocerla.

En otras palabras, la Escritura intima que, no podemos “obtener vida” (alimentarnos), si no estamos dispuesto a hacer el esfuerzo que ello demanda. De hecho, note que, aun los Israelitas que recibían el maná del cielo, tenían que hacer el esfuerzo de salir a recogerlo, molerlo, y prepararlo. Como esta escrito: “El pueblo se esparcía y lo recogía, y lo molía en molinos, o lo majaba en morteros y lo cocía en caldera, o hacía de él tortas” (Num. 11:8)

¿Que significan estas cosas? Significan que Yah (bendito sea) no aprueba que, el pecador que desea obtener vida [es decir, vida eterna], piense que puede hacerlo sin esfuerzo alguno de su parte. En otras palabras, Dios no se agrada del concepto de la “salvación sin obras”, donde el hombre cree poder obtener el pan (la vida eterna) sin esfuerzo alguno de su parte, y solamente confiando en el “trabajo” hecho por alguna otra persona (Moisés, Jesús, Muhammad, etc).

¿Confirman estas cosas las Escrituras Hebreas? ¡Ciertamente! La Torah enseña que, luego de que Adán rompiese su comunión con el Creador, este le dice que, de ese momento en adelante (es decir, ahora que Adán se encontraba espiritualmente lejos del Creador), Adán tendría que ganarse el pan (obtener la vida) con el sudor de su frente. Como esta escrito, «Por cuanto comiste del árbol de que te mandé diciendo “no comerás de él”; maldita será la tierra por tu causa; con dolor comerás de ella... CON EL SUDOR DE TU ROSTRO COMERÁS EL PAN hasta que vuelvas a la tierra... pues polvo eres » (Gen. 3:17&19).

De este modo, Dios intimó a Adán que, la manera en que “obtendría la vida”, sería “trabajando la tierra con el sudor de su frente” (es decir, con su propio esfuerzo). Pero, surge una interesante pregunta: habiendo sido creado del polvo de la tierra, ¿no era Adán en sí mismo un pedazo de tierra? ¿Cual de las dos “tierras” tenia entonces que trabajar? ¿La tierra que conformaba su propio cuerpo? ¿O la tierra que era externa a su cuerpo? Y, ¿no sería la una, el prototipo de la otra?

Esto último, era precisamente lo que el Creador deseaba ilustrar: que así como Adán tendría que trabajar aquella tierra que era externa a su cuerpo, a fin de obtener el pan (la vida material); de ese mismo modo tendría que trabajar la tierra conformada por su propio cuerpo (disciplinando sus pasiones y deseos), a fin de obtener la vida del alma.

La Torah dice: «He aquí el hombre es como uno de nosotros, sabiendo el bien y el mal; ahora, pues, que no alargue su mano, y tome también del árbol de la vida, y coma, y viva para siempre... Echó, pues, fuera al hombre, y puso al oriente del huerto de Edén querubines, y una espada encendida que se revolvía por todos lados, para guardar el camino del árbol de la vida» (Gen. 3:22&24).

¿Por que impidió Dios que Adán comiese del árbol de la vida? Pues porque tal cosa habría equivalido a “salvación sin obras”; es decir, a tratar de obtener vida eterna, en base al “trabajo” (o mérito) de alguna otra persona. Es que, el mérito de haber sembrado el árbol de la vida, no le pertenecía a Adán, sino al Creador.

Así que, lo que Dios quería intimar, era que si Adán deseaba obtener “vida” [eterna], no podía tomar el fácil atajo que implica el alimentarse del mérito de lo que otro había sembrado; tenia que seguir el camino camino angosto que implica ganarse el pan (la vida eterna) “con el sudor de su [propia] frente”, es decir, por el mérito de su propio esfuerzo; y no por el mérito de nadie mas [¡ni siquiera el del mismo Creador!]

¿Quiénes llegarán a la Canaán Celestial?

Una leyenda dice que, en el Mundo que ha de venir, el Santo de Israel traerá delante de todos al impulso a hacer lo malo [también conocido como el “yetzer ha-ra”]; aquel impulso que moraba dentro de cada ser humano. A los ojos de los justos (es decir, de los mansos y humildes), este parecerá ser tan gigantesco como una montaña. Pero, a los ojos de los injustos (los perversos y altaneros), parecerá ser tan pequeño y despreciable como un cabello [de la barba].

Entonces, Dios matará al impulso a hacer lo malo, y tanto justos como injustos procederán a llorar. Los justos llorarán diciendo: “¡Dios todopoderoso! ¿Como fue posible que hayamos logrado vencer a un gigante tan poderoso?; Y los justos llorarán diciendo: ¿Como es posible que no hayamos logrado vencer algo tan pequeño y menospreciable? (Talmud Babilónico, Sukkah 52a).

Y, la anterior leyenda, intima el hecho de que, los antiguos Hebreos, sabían que, el gigante que cada uno de ellos estaba obligado a conquistar, era el gigante de su impulso a hacer lo malo; el creyente Hebreo sabía que, los gigantes que le impedían llegar a “la Tierra prometida” [una Tierra que prefigura la vida en el mundo que ha de venir], eran en realidad la idolatría de las riquezas materiales, la inmoralidad sexual, la mentira, el orgullo, la crueldad, la usura, el robo, el fraude, el asesinato, el adulterio, y la deshonra hacia sus padres.

Curiosamente, la Torah (la Escritura Hebrea) decía que, la persona medrosa y pusilánime, no podía ser forzada a participar de una campaña militar (“Y volverán los oficiales a hablar al pueblo, y dirán: ¿Quién es hombre medroso y pusilánime? Vaya, y vuélvase a su casa, y no apoque el corazón de sus hermanos, como el corazón suyo”- Deut. 20:8).

Pero, si esto es así, ¿que razón pudo haber tenido el Creador para castigar a aquellos Israelitas que, luego de escuchar el amedrentador reporte de los doce espías, carecieron de valor para batallar contra los gigantes que les impedían poseer la Tierra prometida?; como esta escrito: “¿A dónde subiremos? Nuestros hermanos han atemorizado nuestro corazón, diciendo: Este pueblo es mayor y más alto que nosotros, las ciudades grandes y amuralladas hasta el cielo; y también vimos allí a los hijos de Anac [una raza de Gigantes]”- Deut. 1:28.

Pues, la razón por la cual fueron castigados consiste en que, la suya, no solamente era una simple batalla militar, sino que era la encarnación de un paradigma ético y moral- la batalla que, contra los gigantes de la maldad, de la inmoralidad, de la injusticia, de la crueldad, y del orgullo, está obligado a sostener el creyente Hebreo, Y, no solamente el creyente Hebreo, sino también cada ser humano [sin importar cual sea su raza, o su credo].

Es que, la palabra Hebrea que la Torah traduce como “gigantes” es la palabra Hebrea “Refaim”; una palabra cuya forma singular estaba asociada a la raíz Hebrea “Rafa”; que a su vez significaba “curar”, “sanar”, o “quedar sano”. Y, curiosamente, la palabra “Refaim” también podía traducirse como “fantasmas”, o como “espíritus de los muertos”.

Es como si, por medio de esta etimología, la Torah pretendiese intimar que, batallar contra los gigantes de la maldad, trae sanidad, pues hace que el hombre se sobreponga a su muerto espíritu [pues el hombre que vive lejos de Dios esta espiritualmente muerto].

¿Y como luchamos contra los gigantes de la Maldad? Pues tal y como lo hizo el rey David, cuando luchó contra Goliat; a quien logro vencer con la piedra [tal y como el hombre de Dios vence al mal con “la piedra” de los diez mandamientos de la Ley].

Y lo anterior quizás también logre explicar el hecho de que, camino a la Tierra prometida, Dios ordena a Israel que no moleste ni haga guerra a los Edomitas, a los Moabitas, ni a los Amonitas.

¿Y por que? Pues porque el Creador (bendito sea) les había asignado la Tierra que poseían. Como esta escrito: “Pasando vosotros por el territorio de vuestros hermanos los hijos de Esaú, que habitan en Seir, ellos tendrán miedo de vosotros; mas vosotros guardaos mucho. No os metáis con ellos, porque no os daré de su tierra ni aun lo que cubre la planta de un pie; porque yo he dado por heredad a Esaú el monte de Seir”- Deut. 2:4-5 ;

“No molestes a Moab, ni te empeñes con ellos en guerra, porque no te daré posesión de su tierra; porque yo he dado a Ar por heredad a los hijos de Lot”- Deut. 2:9 ; “Y cuando te acerques a los hijos de Amón, no los molestes, ni contiendas con ellos; porque no te daré posesión de la tierra de los hijos de Amón, pues a los hijos de Lot la he dado por heredad.”- Deut. 2:19.

¿Y por que les había asignado Dios tal tierra? Pues porque, aunque no seguían a Moisés, aunque no tenían Torah, y aunque sus dioses no estaban tan cerca de ellos como lo esta Ha Shem de Israel, estas tres naciones tuvieron el valor de dar la batalla contra los gigantes que les impedían heredar sus respectivas porciones de la Tierra Prometida.

Es decir, los Edomitas pelearon contra los gigantes Horeos (Deut. 2:12), los Amonitas pelearon contra los gigantes Zonzomeos (Deut. 2:20-21); y los Moabitas desplazaron a los gigantes Emitas (Deut. 2:10-11). En otras palabras, por medio de estas tres naciones, Dios quiso prefigurar el hecho de que, todo aquel que batalle contra los gigantes de la maldad [sin importar si tal persona es Hebrea o gentil], será recompensada con una porción de la Tierra prometida.

En la práctica, lo anterior significa que, el creyente Hebreo, no debe tratar de “hacer guerra” ni “conquistar” [ganando para su fe Hebrea] al creyente Islámico [ni al creyente Cristiano] que batalla contra el gigante de la usura; o contra el gigante del materialismo secular; tampoco debe molestar a la musulmana que a diario usa el Hijab (luchando así contra el gigante de la pasión sexual); ni debe tampoco provocar al Musulmán que se postra para orar cinco veces al día (luchando así contra el gigante del orgullo y el egocentrismo).

Es que, aunque estas otras “naciones” no siguen a Moisés, ni tampoco tienen Torah, su lucha contra “los gigantes” cuenta con el favor Divino; y, al igual que habrá de suceder con todo fiel creyente Hebreo, el Creador no fallará en también asignarle a ellos una justa porción de la Tierra prometida [una Tierra que a su vez prefigura el “Olam ha-ba”, o “el Mundo que ha de venir”]

What then is God's true and reliable path to religious truth? Well, it's no other than a sincere commitment with the moral life- to strive to perform the good commanded by God through Moses [upon the two stone tablets]; thereby avoiding any kind of perversion, as well as all sort of moral degeneracy (cruelty, injustice, self glorification, etc).

As it has been written: "DEPART FROM EVIL, AND DO GOOD; and dwell for evermore [in everlasting life]"- Psalm 37:27 (King James Bible). And also says: "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: FEAR GOD, AND KEEP HIS COMMANDMENTS, FOR THIS IS THE WHOLE DUTY OF MAN"- Ecclesiastes 12:13 (21st Century King James Bible).

And also in another place: "SAY YE TO THE RIGHTEOUS THAT IT SHALL BE WELL WITH THEM, FOR THEY SHALL EAT THE FRUITS OF THEIR DOINGS. Woe unto the wicked! It shall be ill with him, for the reward of his hands shall be given him"- Isaiah 3:10-11. And elsewhere: "FOR HE (GOD) REPAYS A PERSON ACCORDING TO HIS DEEDS, AND HE GIVES HIM WHAT HIS CONDUCT [AND NOT HIS THEOLOGY] DESERVES"- Job 34:11 (Christian Standard Bible).

El Cristianismo, es un tipo de locura; una locura voluntaria donde, en aras de justificar el emocionalmente arrollador relato Evangélico, el creyente está dispuesto a cerrar sus ojos a las verdades Divinas contenidas en la Ley de Dios, así como a lo que dicta la lógica, la razón, y el sentido común. ¡Peor que eso! El Cristiano, termina haciéndose enemigo de todo aquel que interprete la Escritura de forma lógica y racional [como sería el caso con los creyentes Hebreos]

The person who demands praise and recognition from his fellow human beings has lost his mind!

In the final analysis, the human being is little more than a mobile [and talking] leather bag, full of urine and feces. Therefore, only a foolish person would exalt himself. Thus, no matter if the name of the person is Moses, Jesus, or Muhammad (peace be upon them all), when a man is so arrogant as to demand glory and praise from his fellow human beings, he thereby displays the sort of madness that brings him closer to the beasts, than to rational human beings.

And from whence do we know that the man who exalts himself behaves like a brute beast? We know it from king Nebuchadnezzar, who glorified himself, and ended up eating grass (like a brute beast). As it is written: "The king spake, and said, Is not this great BABYLON, THAT I HAVE BUILT FOR THE HOUSE OF THE KINGDOM BY THE MIGHT OF MY POWER, AND FOR THE HONOUR OF MY MAJESTY? While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying... The kingdom is departed from thee. And THEY SHALL DRIVE THEE FROM MEN, AND THY DWELLING SHALL BE WITH THE BEASTS OF THE FIELD: THEY SHALL MAKE THEE TO EAT GRASS AS OXEN... and HE WAS DRIVEN FROM MEN, AND DID EAT GRASS LIKE AN OXEN..."- Daniel 4:30-33.

And from whence do we know that the man who lust for honor and praise ends up under the influence of an evil spirit? We know it from king Shaul, who dared to ask Samuel to publicly honor him, and ended up being tormented by an evil spirit. As it has been written: "Then he said, I have sinned: yet HONOUR ME NOW, I PRAY THEE, BEFORE THE ELDERS OF MY PEOPLE, AND BEFORE ISRAEL... But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the Lord troubled him"- 1 Samuel 15:30 & 16:14. And, from this standpoint, it is troubling to find that on one hand the holy gospel presents the man Jesus (peace be upon him) exalting himself to the level of God ("I AND MY FATHER ARE ONE"- John 10:30). Why is this troubling? Simply because [as we've just explained] for a leather bag full of feces and urine to claim to be the exalted Creator of the Universe, is plain madness. And the gospel confirms this truth, when it goes on to say: "And when those who belonged to Him (His kinsmen) heard it, THEY WENT OUT TO TAKE HIM BY FORCE, FOR THEY KEPT SAYING, HE [JESUS] IS OUT OF HIS MIND (BESIDE HIMSELF, DERANGED)!"- Mark 3:21 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition). And something similar happened with prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him), who exalted himself by claiming to be the seal of all prophets. As it is written: "MUHAMMAD is not the father of any of your men, but (HE IS) THE MESSENGER OF ALLAH, AND THE SEAL OF THE PROPHETS..."- Qur'an, Surat 33:40 (Yusuf Ali translation). And why is the latter verse so troubling? Simply because [according to Muslim tradition] the man who exalted himself above all other prophets, ended up behaving as a bewitched person (in other words, in a deranged fashion). As it is written: «It was narrated that ‘Aa’ishah (may Allah be pleased with her) said: A spell was put on the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) until HE IMAGINED THAT HE HAD DONE A THING WHEN HE HAD NOT DONE IT. One day he made du’aa’ then he said: “Do you know that Allah has shown me in what lies my cure? Two men came to me and one of them sat at my head and the other at my feet. One of them said to the other, ‘What is ailing the man?’ He said: ‘HE HAS BEEN BEWITCHED.’ He said: “Who has bewitched him?’ He said: ‘Labeed ibn al-A’sam.’ He said, ‘With what?’ He said: ‘WITH A COMB, THE HAIR THAT IS STUCK TO IT, AND THE SKIN OF POLLEN OF A MALE DATE PALM. He said: ‘Where is it?’ He said, ‘In the well of Dharwaan...’»- Narrated by al-Bukhaari, 3268; Muslim, 2189.

Does the former means that Christianity and Islam are false religions? Absolutely not! The truth is that these two religions are perfectly valid paths to come to the Creator.

And all meek and pious Christians and Muslims will indeed enter Paradise. What it means is that, it is wrong [and sinful] for men to exalt themselves, as pride and haughtiness weren't made for human beings, but rather meekness and humility.

As it is written: “BEFORE DESTRUCTION, THE HEART OF MAN IS HAUGHTY; AND, BEFORE HONOUR, IS HUMILITY”- Proverbs 18:12 (King James Bible); “BETTER IT IS TO BE OF AN HUMBLE SPIRIT WITH THE LOWLY, THAN TO DIVIDE THE SPOIL WITH THE PROUD”- Proverbs 16:19 (King James Bible); “SEEK YE THE LORD, ALL YE MEEK OF THE EARTH, which have wrought his judgment; SEEK RIGHTEOUSNESS, SEEK MEEKNESS”- Zephaniah 2:3 (King James Bible)

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

If Jesus (peace and blessings be upon him) took upon himself the eternal punishment [in hell] that our many sins deserved, then why isn't Jesus still being punished in hell? Wasn't our punishment supposed to be eternal? Or was this just a shrewd “high pressure sales pitch” employed by Paul?

Christian theology claims that the true reason we humans die is that we've inherited [from our first fathers Adam and Eve] an original sin. And it also claims that faith in Jesus effectively removes such a sin. But if faith in Jesus cleanse the sin that makes us die, then why is it that Christian believers still die? Which sin has Jesus blood been unable to cleanse, that keeps them from overcoming death? Could it be possible that death was always part of God's natural order for beings made out of flesh and blood, and not the result of any alleged original sin?

REFORMED SAMARITANISM

The Serpent described in the Bible as dwelling in the garden of Eden, is in itself a symbol of “the low life” (a godless lifestyle characterized by selfishness, rebellion, Hedonism, and immorality). Why? Because the serpent’s very nature is to crawl upon of the soil (thereby feeding herself, in a manner of speaking, with the worthless dust of the earth). Thus, when Adam and Eve followed the serpent’s lure away from God’s commandment, they renounced to their God given humanity (standing erect, which symbolizes a life of discipline, respect, honor, and holiness) in order to follow the serpent’s debased lifestyle. And the former is the reason why God revealed His Ten Holy Laws to His servant Moses, writing them upon two stone tablets. In other words, by following these Ten sacred laws, mankind will recover it’s lost humanity. But, how do we know whether we have completely recovered [or not] this God given humanity? Well, our humanity won’t be completely restored until we can start considering the Creator’s opinion more important than the creature’s opinion; until we can start judging our fellow human beings with fairness and justice; until we can start doing a sincere effort to support the innocent experiencing hopeless suffering; until we can be kind to the children; merciful and considerate with the elderly; until we can stop sowing discord between peaceful brothers, between loving wives and husbands, between parents and sons; until we can rally enough courage to stop praising and flattering immoral people (regardless of their race, their money, or their political power), honoring instead those who strive for a humble, honorable and holy lifestyle

Atheism : America's new religion

A person is not religious solely when he worships a Divinity, but when he puts all the resources of his mind, the complete submission of his will, and the whole-souled ardour of fanaticism at the service of a cause or an individual who becomes the goal and guide of his thoughts and actions. Were it possible to induce the masses to adopt atheism, disbelief would exhibit all the intolerant ardour of a religious sentiment, and in it’s exteriors forms would soon become a cult. In this regard, it could be properly said that atheism, homosexual rights, political correctness, social acceptance, fame, money, sex, and power have become America's new religion.

¿Hay una moral absoluta? ¿O toda moralidad es relativa? ¿Que dice al respecto el Samaritanismo Reformado?

El hecho de que la Torah enseña que el hombre fue creado de “el polvo de la Tierra” (Génesis 2:7), implica que los hombres somos “parte integral del Planeta”. Y esto a su vez implica que, sea que nos guste o no, la humanidad esta regida por el mismo conjunto de leyes que rigen los procesos físicos y naturales.

Y quizás haya sido esta la razón por la cual los hombres de la antigüedad hicieron de las verdades que surgían de la observación de la naturaleza y de sus leyes, el práctico y seguro fundamento de su moralidad, así como de su filosofía existencial. Es que los antiguos entendían que el Creador no era un Dios sádico, ni caprichoso; tampoco era un Dios que se hiciese “el difícil de encontrar”, para luego castigar a los hombres por el pecado de no haberle encontrado, ni obedecido.

De hecho, los antiguos entendían que, por medio de las leyes y los fenómenos de la naturaleza, el Creador había revelado al hombre la ética que este último debía seguir, así como las verdades que debía postular. Y, la inmutabilidad de tales leyes, impedían que ninguna futura revelación lograra contradecir ni menoscabar sus verdades.

De este modo, nuestros ancestros resumieron la “Sabiduría Divina” que surge de la observación objetiva de la Naturaleza, por medio de cortos y sabios dichos; algunos de los cuales han sobrevivido hasta nuestra presente generación. A continuación, veamos algunos de ellos:

1) «El agricultor, cosecha el mismo “fruto” que ha sembrado» (se por tanto sabio, y procura “sembrar” en tu prójimo, aquel mismo bien que desearías un día poder cosechar).

2) «Todos “los montes”, apuntan hacia “el cielo”» (es decir, la grandeza y el poder de las realidades tangibles, “apuntan” hacia una mayor y mas poderosa realidad intangible).

3) «Cuando “señales” [acusatoriamente] a alguien con tu dedo, recuerda que tres de esos dedos te señalan a ti» (por tanto, juzgate a ti mismo primero, y solo entonces tendrás derecho a juzgar a los demás).

4) «No todo lo que “brilla”, es oro» (Es decir, no sigas ciegamente tus pasiones, ni juzgues nada con superficialidad. Juzga en cambio cada cosa en base a su contenido mas profundo, así como a sus mas abarcadoras ramificaciones).

5) «Mientras mas “profundo” es el rio, menos “ruido” hace» (en otras palabras, el hombre “profundo”, o “Noble”, evita acaparar la atención con sus muchas palabras, así como alabarse a si mismo).

6) «No por mucho “madrugar”, amanece mas temprano» (¡No intentes “tirar piedras a la Luna”!... Recuerda que no eres el Omnipotente, sino una pequeña y limitada criatura- no importando cuanto te esfuerces, ni cuanto intentes racionalizarlo, no lograras cambiar las leyes del universo, ni evitar que las cosas sigan el orden natural)

7) «Todo lo que “sube”, tiene que “bajar”» (es decir, no te eleves a ti mismo, ni te enorgullezcas demasiado; pues, tarde o temprano, todos terminaremos en el mismo hoyo- es decir, en la oscura y solitaria tumba).

8) «La “mona”, aunque se vista de “seda”, mona se queda» (en otras palabras, ni nuestras arbitrarias opiniones, ni nuestros caprichosos juegos mentales, podrán cambiar las leyes y las verdades que nos gobiernan, y que rigen al planeta- la lluvia seguirá cayendo “de arriba hacia abajo”; el pez grande, seguirá comiéndose al pez chico, la mujer seguirá naciendo con útero y ovarios, y el hombre seguirá naciendo con próstata y testículos).

9) «Mientras mas “grande” es un fruto, mas “bajo” cuelga» (es decir, mientras mas noble es el carácter de un individuo, mas humilde es su persona).

10) «“La escalera”, se “barre” de arriba hacia abajo, y comenzando por el escalón mas alto» (como intimando que, cuando llega el momento de acabar con la corrupción, hay que comenzar con los que se encuentran en “el tope de la escalera”, o en los puestos mas altos de poder).

11) «Los “hombres pequeños” proyectan “grandes sombras”, solo cuando el día ya ha declinado» (es decir, la gente vil y chabacana cobra prominencia solo cuando la moral de una sociedad ha comenzado a oscurecerse).

12) «El Sol, sale para todos; Así que, no importando cuan oscura sea la noche, es seguro que el Sol finalmente habrá de brillar, disipando así las tinieblas» (en otras palabras, no importando cuanta contienda, cuanta mentira, ni cuanta injusticia exista en el mundo, existe un poder Supremo, que finalmente hará que la paz triunfe sobre la guerra, que la verdad triunfe sobre la mentira, y que la justicia triunfe sobre la injusticia).

13) «Cuando viajes “de noche”, sigue el rumbo que marcan “las estrellas”» (es decir, en medio del oscurantismo moral, utiliza como norte los valores legados por los grandes hombres y maestros de la antigüedad- Job, Avraham, Moisés, David, etc).

14) «Tanto da la gota sobre la piedra, hasta que termina rompiéndola» (Y esto significa que, insistir en hacer bien al prójimo, podría transformar el corazón del mas terco y empedernido de los hombres).

15) «El hombre “sigue su trasero”, solo cuando “camina de espaldas”; y, quien escoge caminar de espaldas, tarde o temprano cae en un hoyo del cual no puede luego salir» (es decir, quien sigue la pasión homosexual, actúa en contra del orden natural, se hace daño a si mismo, y adquiere la indeleble mancha de un estilo de vida bajo, y oscuro).

16) «Haz como la hormiga, que trabaja y guarda en el verano, para que no le falte durante el invierno» (Siembra y trabaja mientras tengas fuerza y juventud, de modo que tengas algo cuando llegue la vejez).

17) «Diez perros unidos, ahuyentan a un león solitario» (en otras palabras, engendra muchos hijos, pues una familia unida y numerosa, provee seguridad para sus miembros).

18) «No son los continentes (las masas de tierra con forma fija y definida) los que conforman la mayor parte de nuestro mundo; son en cambio el agua de los mares, y el aire de los cielos (cosas que carecen de una forma clara y definida)... [en otras palabras, las cosas mas importantes de la vida, no son aquellas que nuestra tecnología puede medir y pesar con precisión, sino las cosas inciertas y relativas que atañen a las emociones, a la moral, y a la conciencia].

19) «La fiebre no esta en la sábana, ¡esta en el paciente!» (Es decir, a menudo los grandes males del hombre no son el producto de su pobre entorno externo, sino de la pobre aptitud de su corazón)

20) «El Sol sale por el Oriente, camino hacia el Occidente; pero, como no se detiene [una vez ha llegado al Occidente], termina volviendo a salir por el Oriente» (Como intimando que, en todas las cosas, el hombre debe buscar el sano balance, evitando así los extremos; pues, “demasiado hacia el Occidente, termina siendo Oriente”)

21) «La forma mas segura de tratar a una bestia salvaje, es tratarla como a una bestia salvaje» (es decir, el hombre que escoge vivir como una bestia -guiado por sus mas bajos instintos-, no puede ser persuadido por las palabras, sino por la fuerza).

22) «Mientras más revuelta y oscurecida esta el agua del río, mas fácil es hacer que el pez muerda nuestro anzuelo» (en otras palabras, debemos evitar “tragarnos” cualquier ideología, cualquier credo religioso, o cualquier estilo de vida que de visos de ser dudoso, cuestionable, incoherente, o inmoral).

23) «Cada cual arrima la brasa, a su propia sardina» (es decir, no importando lo que digan la razón, los hechos, o la moralidad, siempre buscaremos la forma de poder justificar y/o racionalizar nuestras oscuras agendas personales)

¿Que significa el verso que dice, “los muertos” nada saben (Eclesiastés 9:5)?

La Escritura Hebrea, dice así: «Porque, “los que viven”, saben que han de morir; pero, “los muertos”, nada saben» (Eclesiastés 9:5, Biblia Hebrea). ¿Que intenta decirnos con esto la Escritura? ¿Por que se nos presenta [como si fuese una gran revelación divina], algo que aun el mas tontos de los pecadores conoce [que, todo aquel que vive, algún día tendrá que morir]? Pues lo hace para mostrarnos una verdad mas profunda.

Es que, cuando el verso habla de “los vivos”, no esta refiriéndose a aquellos cuyos cuerpos están vivos, sino a los justos [aquellos cuyas almas están vivas, pues ya tienen vida eterna]. Estos “vivos”, saben que sus cuerpos habrán de morir, pero no tienen temor, pues saben que sus almas vivirán para siempre.

Por el otro lado, cuando el verso habla de “los muertos”, esta refiriéndose a los injustos [aquellos que se oponen a la Ley de Dios], cuyos cuerpos están vivos, pero cuyas almas están “muertas en vida”. Es que, el alma que no se fundamenta en la Ley Divina, esta “muerta”, y “nada sabe” de las verdades de Dios. Y, si esta alma esta muerta, aun cuando su cuerpo esta vivo, ¿cuanto mas no estará muerta cuando su cuerpo haya fallecido?

La triste historia del evangelista William Marrion Branham (citado de los escritos del Rev. Moises Dayan, concilio evangélico de Antioquia)

El orgullo y la auto-exaltación, son dos de los mas graves pecados. ¿Por que? Pues porque, estos últimos, son la raíz de todos los otros pecados. ¡Peor aún!; El hombre orgulloso comienza exaltándose a sí mismo (haciendo un Dios de su propia persona). Luego, Dios le abate (a fin de mostrarle el error de su extravío), y finalmente le llama al arrepentimiento. Pero el orgullo hace que este hombre rehúse humillarse a sí mismo. Entonces, Dios no tiene otro remedio que entregarle al quebranto de su enemigo, esperando que, en el último minuto, se vuelva de su mal camino.

El anterior, fue el proceder de Satanás; el proceder de Eva; el proceder de los constructores de la torre de Babel; el de los Sodomitas; el de Faraón, y el de Nabucodonosor. Todos estos se exaltaron a sí mismos, y luego rehusaron humillarse en arrepentimiento ante el Creador.

Pero, el mensaje que hemos recibido los que servimos a Dios, es distinto: “Porque cualquiera que se ensalza (a sí mismo), será humillado; y el que se humilla (a sí mismo), será ensalzado” (Lucas 14:11).

Si queremos disfrutar de paz y bendición en nuestras vidas, tenemos que seguir el ejemplo de quien nos exhorta diciendo: “Llevad mi yugo sobre vosotros, y aprended de mí, que soy manso y humilde de corazón; y hallaréis descanso para vuestras almas” (Mateo 11:29).

Por eso encontrará usted que, la persona orgullosa, a menudo sufre de serios y frecuentes problemas mentales y/o emocionales; como dice la Escritura que sucedió con el Rey Saúl; quien, a pesar de ser el ungido de Dios, dejó que el orgullo llenara su corazón, y procedió a exaltarse a sí mismo, en vez de exaltar a aquel Dios que le había escogido como Rey. Como dice la Escritura, «Saúl respondió: “He pecado, pero TE RUEGO QUE ME HONRES AHORA DELANTE DE LOS ANCIANOS DE MI PUEBLO Y DELANTE DE ISRAEL...”» (1ra Samuel 15:30).

A fin de persuadirle del error de su extravío, Dios tuvo que permitir que Saúl fuese atormentado por un mal espíritu (un quebranto mental y/o emocional). Como nos dice la escritura: “El Espíritu del Señor se apartó de Saúl, y un espíritu malo de parte del Señor le atormentaba” (1ra Samuel 16:14). Aún así, Saúl rehusó humillarse, y Dios no tuvo otra remedio que castigar su soberbia, entregándole en manos de su enemigo, sufriendo de ese modo un trágico final, pues no solamente perdió a sus hijos y a sus hombres, sino que terminó suicidándose. La Palabra describe esta triste escena diciendo así: “...entonces tomo Saúl su propia espada, y se echó sobre ella” (1ra Samuel 31:4). Y mas adelante añade lo siguiente: “Así murió Saúl en aquel día, juntamente con sus tres hijos, y su escudero, y todos sus varones” (1ra Samuel 31:6).

Pero, por la gracia de Dios, Saúl fue salvo, pues en los últimos segundos de su vida procedió a humillarse, y a arrepentirse. Fue debido a esto que, el día anterior, Samuel le había profetizado a Saúl las siguientes palabras: “...y mañana estaréis conmigo (en el paraíso) tú, y tus hijos” (1ra Samuel 28:19).

Es que, cuando al igual que el rey Saúl el hombre ha sido ungido por Dios para ser príncipe en medio de su pueblo, ese hombre tiene que diariamente tirarse de rodillas, y clamar ante Dios, diciéndose a si mismo: ¡QUE SIERVO UNÚTIL SOY! (Lucas 17:19). ¿Por que? Pues porque Satanás se encargará de visitar a tal hombre, para susurrarle dulcemente al oído las siguientes palabras: “¡Varón De Dios! ¡Pero que siervo tan ungido eres! ¿Quien como tu?, ¿Quien puede luchar contra ti?” (Apocalipsis 13:4).

En mi carácter personal, he realizado una investigación minuciosa acerca de la vida y la predica del hermano Branham, así como de la iglesia que sigue sus enseñanzas. Y he encontrado, para mi agradable sorpresa, que la inmensa mayoría de los seguidores de este mensaje son gente noble y sencilla, gente de profunda fe, y absolutamente comprometidas con obedecer lo que se les ha mostrado ser la revelación de Dios para este tiempo. A menudo, estos hermanos están dispuestos a, literalmente “ir la milla extra”, cuando de servir a Dios se trata, pues no es raro que estén dispuestos a viajar largas distancias, a fin de asistir a sus servicios de adoración. De hecho, hay en sus servicios religiosos (y particularmente en su adoración) una humildad y una sinceridad que es difícil de hallar en otras denominaciones cristianas.

En resumen, la bendición de Dios definitivamente descansa sobre estos hermanos. Y esto es cónsono con Las Escrituras, que prometen que Dios será hallado de los que le buscan: “Y serviréis allí a dioses hechos de manos de hombres, de madera y de piedra, que no ven, ni oyen, ni comen, ni huelen. Mas si desde allí buscares al Señor tu Dios, lo hallarás, si lo buscares con todo tu corazón y con toda tu alma” (Deuteronomio 4:28-29).

Con todo, la doctrina a la que están expuestos estos amados hermanos, esta plagada de serias y graves desviaciones Escriturales, que es necesario reseñar, a fin de enderezar lo torcido, sanar lo cojo, y volver al Camino aquello que, ya sea por descuido, ya sea por ignorancia [o aún simplemente por negligencia], se ha descarriado del camino recto.

Primero que nada, y en mi carácter personal, pienso que el hermano Branham fue en realidad un hombre escogido por Dios para ser príncipe de Su Pueblo; un hombre sencillo, que tenía dones extraordinarios, y que sirvió al Creador del mejor modo que tanto su entendimiento como sus circunstancias le permitieron. Dicho lo anterior, tengo que también decir que, cuando lo analizamos de forma objetiva, sería un error mayúsculo el poner al hermano Branham al nivel de un ángel o de los grandes profetas de la antigüedad. No porque el hermano Branham no hiciera obras tan extraordinarias como las de ellos, sino por que (como pretendo mostrar a continuación), al igual que sucedió con el Rey Saúl, el hermano Branham tuvo que batallar toda su vida (de forma no siempre victoriosa) con el mismo espíritu de auto-exaltación y orgullo con que luchó el Rey Saúl.

Quizás el hermano Branham nunca estuvo consciente de ello, pero Dios le advirtió de antemano cual sería su lucha. ¿Como lo hizo? Pues por medio del mensaje oculto en su propio apellido. Verá, la Palabra de Dios fue inicialmente escrita en Hebreo. En este idioma, la frase “B’ramah am” significa “con altura (exaltándose a si mismo) se hace pueblo” o, “entre el pueblo elevado (orgullosa)”; B’ramah-am —> B’ramaham—>Bramaham—>Bramham—>Branham

Veamos a continuación los elementos de la vida y del ministerio del hermano Branham que debieran ser objeto de ponderación y/o mejora:

1) El hermano Branham permitió entre sus seguidores el uso rampante de imágenes. Estas imágenes fueron la imagen del hermano Branham (con un halo sobre su cabeza), la imagen del Señor Jesús, y la imagen de una misteriosa nube. Este uso de imágenes, es una flagrante violación del mandamiento Divino que dice: “No te harás imagen ni ninguna semejanza de lo que esta arriba en el cielo (Nubes), ni abajo en la tierra (hombres), ni en las aguas debajo de la tierra” (Éxodo 20:2).

El hermano Branham no tuvo la sabiduría de entender que, una vez permitiese que sus seguidores mantuvieran imágenes de su persona, tanto en sus casas como en sus templos, seria imposible que esa pleitesía no terminase degenerando en una deificación de la figura del hermano Branham, como mas tarde sucedió, cuando varios de sus seguidores comenzaron a reclamar que, el hermano Branham, había sido la encarnación física del Dios que se manifestó en Jesús de Nazaret. El pecado es doble, pues cuando en alguna casa de adoración se muestran conjuntamente la imagen del Señor, junto a la del hermano Branham, se esta provocando a ira al Dios que dijo: “Yo el Señor, éste es mi nombre; y a otro no daré mi gloria...” (Isaías 42:8)

2) Aunque inicialmente rehusó seguir las revelaciones que a menudo recibía, finalmente el hermano Branham (descanse en la paz del Señor) prestó oído a las palabras de una astróloga, que le dijo que su ministerio era inevitable; que tenía que suceder, pues estaba destinado por las Estrellas. Esta astróloga, le enseñó al hermano Branham que, cada cierta cantidad de siglos, un grupo de estrellas se alineaban y, como resultado de ello, un “regalo de Dios” era enviado a este mundo. Ella le dijo que ese “regalo de Dios” para esta época, no era otro sino el mismo hermano Branham. Aunque el profeta alega no haber aceptado la “profecía” de esta astróloga, años mas tarde la incluyó en su testimonio personal, a manera de corroborar la validez de su ministerio.

En otras palabras, el hermano Branham equiparó el reconocimiento que de su ministerio dio esta astróloga, con el de la joven que, estando poseída por un espíritu de adivinación, reconoció el ministerio de Pablo, así como el de sus compañeros de predicación. En esto, el hermano Branham cometió dos graves errores. El primero, es que el mensaje de La Escritura es que nuestro futuro no esta escrito en las estrellas, ni en ninguna algún otro lugar. Es nuestra obediencia (o desobediencia) a Dios, lo que enseñan la Escritura ser aquello que determinara si nuestras vidas recibirán maldición, o recibirán en cambio bendición. Deuteronomio 28:1-2 dice lo siguiente:

“Y sucederá que, SI OBEDECES diligentemente AL SEÑOR TU DIOS, cuidando de cumplir todos sus mandamientos que yo te mando hoy, EL SEÑOR TU DIOS TE PONDRÁ EN ALTO sobre todas las naciones de la tierra. Y TODAS ESTAS BENDICIONES VENDRÁN SOBRE TI y te alcanzarán, si obedeces al Señor tu Dios...”.

Por el contrario, Deuteronomio 20:15 advierte acerca de las consecuencias de desobedecer al Creador: “Y será, SI NO OYERES LA VOZ DEL SEÑOR TU DIOS, PARA CUIDAR DE PONER POR OBRA TODOS SUS MANDAMIENTOS Y SUS ESTATUTOS, que yo te intimo hoy, que VENDRÁN SOBRE TI TODAS ESTAS MALDICIONES, y te alcanzarán”.

El segundo y gran error en cuanto al asunto de la astróloga, fue el igualar a esta última con la joven que en el libro de Hechos “valido” el ministerio del apóstol Pablo. No solo fue inapropiado por parte del profeta Branham el compararse a sí mismo con el apóstol Pablo, sino que muestra un poco de arrogancia. De todos modos, no cabe comparación alguna, pues Pablo no solo había comenzado su ministerio mucho antes de este evento, sino que, a diferencia del profeta Branham, no tuvo necesidad alguna de que esta joven, ni nadie fuera del mismo Señor, validase el origen divino de su ministerio. De hecho, no es Pablo quien escribe el relato de los Hechos (¡lo escribió Lucas!). En adición, se nos dice que a Pablo le molestó la aptitud de la joven, y procedió a echar fuera al espíritu que en ella moraba, de modo que callase para siempre (Hechos 16:16-18). ¿Hizo lo mismo el hermano Branham?

Igual sucedió con Jesús, quien mando a callar y a salir fuera a aquellos demonios que clamaban diciendo: “Tu eres el Hijo de Dios” (Lucas 4:41). Alguien podría preguntarse- pero, ¿que de malo hay en que los demonios den testimonio del ministerio de un enviado de Dios? La respuesta es a esta pregunta es muy sencilla: los demonios nunca dan a Dios la gloria que solamente a Él pertenece; Y, cuando aparentan hacerlo, lo que en realidad hacen es incitarnos al pecado. ¿Cual pecado? Pues el mas grave de todos- el pecado del orgullo y la auto-exaltación. Es que el demonio siempre susurra al oído del hombre de Dios, diciendo: “¡Muchacho!, ¡pero que forma tan maravillosa es esa en la que te usa el Creador! ¡Eres lo ultimo! ¡No hay otro siervo mas grande ni mas ungido que tu!”.

Y los hechos corroboran lo anterior, cuando nos muestran que, el nombre que dio el hermano Branham al templo que personalmente dirigía fue: “Branham’s Tabernacle”, lo que en Castellano significa “El Templo de Branham” (Note que no se llamaba “El Templo De Dios”, sino ¡De Branham!). De hecho, predicando allí desde el altar, en ocasión de su futura mudanza al oeste, el hermano Branham habló a “su iglesia”; y el término que literalmente utilizó fue “mi iglesia” (en vez de “la iglesia del Señor”).

En esa ocasión, y mientras se dirigía a la congregación, el profeta dijo que una de sus seguidoras (la hermana “Steffy”) había tenido un sueño donde vio a un venerable anciano con una barba blanca (denotando con ello sabiduría), y vestido de ropas blancas (denotando santidad). Cuando la hermana miró, se le mostró que este anciano era EL INMORTAL PROFETA ELÍAS, que estaba parado sobre el tope de una montaña, y mirando hacia el este.

En el sueño, cuando la hermana Steffy se acerca al profeta Elías, descubre para su sorpresa que el anciano Elías no era otro sino el hermano Branham. Note usted la irresistible seducción de grandeza y auto-exaltación a la que estaba sujeto el hermano Branham- por medio del sueño de esta inocente hermana, Satanás clama diciéndole a Branham: “Eres sabio”; “eres santo”; “eres inmortal”; “¡eres Elías!” (es decir, lo mas cercano a aquel que es la encarnación de Dios); “¡estas parado sobre una cima alta y gloriosa (eres lo máximo, lo mas grande)!”.

Cuando recibimos con beneplácito estas palabras (cuya verdadera intención no es otra sino inflamar nuestro vano y pecaminoso ego), nos estamos haciendo cómplices de Satanás, pues comenzamos a competir con Dios, apropiándonos de la gloria que, en justicia, solo corresponde a nuestro Creador. Desafortunadamente, quien visite alguna de las iglesias que siguen al hermano Branham, podrá corroborar la veracidad de lo anteriormente expuesto, pues encontrará que, entre sus seguidores, el desarrollo histórico de la figura del hermano Branham ha sido el siguiente: primero, se le aceptó como un gran evangelista; luego, como un gran profeta; luego, como la encarnación de Elías; luego, como la manifestación carnal de la Palabra Divina; y, finalmente, muchos lo ven hoy en día como la encarnación física del mismo Creador, tal y como fue el caso con Jesús de Nazaret. Dentro de estas iglesias, la exaltación del hombre [para suplantar a su Creador] ha llegado al punto donde es común que el pastor predique con la Biblia en un lado del púlpito, y los escritos de Branham en el lado opuesto, citándolos a ambos como la infalible palabra del mismo y único Dios.

De hecho, no nos sorprendería que, en un futuro cercano, los escritos del hermano Branham sean reverenciados aún por encima de las mismas Escrituras, de suerte que la Biblia se comience a interpretada a la luz de las palabras del hermano Branham, en vez de las palabras del hermano Branham ser interpretadas a la luz de la Escritura.

3) Hay un sin numero de errores adicionales que podríamos atribuir a las enseñanzas del hermano Branham (descanse en la paz del Señor) pero quizás el error que mas abomina a Dios es el uso de imágenes; en particular la imagen (cuadro) que pinta los rasgos físicos de Dios (Jesús). ¿En que modo ofende esto al Creador? En que, cuando hacemos cualquier imagen física del Creador, estamos indirectamente negándole. Es que, hacer una imagen de Dios, es limitar al Dios omnipotente, que trasciende el tiempo, el espacio, y la materia; es limitarle a ser hombre, pero no mujer; anciano, pero no joven; anglosajón, pero no asiático; blanco, pero no negro; grande, pero no pequeño; aquí, pero no allá. Pero la realidad es que el Dios de la Biblia no esta limitado; El aparece en las Escrituras manifestándose como un anciano de Días, pero también aparece como un valiente y joven guerrero; aparece como una columna (palabra femenina) de fuego, pero también aparece como el agua que brota de la peña; como una zarza que arde en fuego, pero también como una oscuridad de nube (cargadas de agua); es prefigurado como un águila, pero también como una paloma (¡un animal femenino!).

La realidad es que, en su mas intima naturaleza, Dios no solamente es invisible; es decir, poseedor de una forma que no podemos ver, ¡sino que Dios no tiene forma física! Es solo nuestra humana y limitada imaginación, la que nos lleva a pensar en Dios como siendo un ser invisible, pero con partes corporales.

Otro problema con el uso de las imágenes en la iglesia es que, cuando se pinta a Creador y a su profeta como gente blanca, se esta dando la equivocada impresión de que Dios es blanco; de que la gente blanca tienen mas presencia de Dios en sus vidas, o están mas cerca de Dios, que lo que esta la gente negra, o la gente de color cobrizo. La realidad es que, si Dios tuviese en realidad preferencia por algún color de piel, seria por la piel roja. La razón es que, si estudiamos el original Hebreo en el que se escribieron las Escrituras, encontraremos que, el nombre que se le da al primer hombre (Adam), también significa “Rojo”.

Una cosa si es segura; que, ya que Adam fue creado de la tierra, su piel (el órgano mas grande de su cuerpo) no pudo haber sido blanca, pues la tierra blanca simplemente no existe. Sin embargo, la tierra roja sí existe (le llamamos “barro”). De hecho, hay una interpretación bíblica que dice que, la marca dada por Dios a Caín [como castigo por haber derramado la sangre de su hermano Abel], fue cambiarle el color de su piel- su natural color rojo, fue cambiado a un color blanco. ¿Por que se ve esto como un castigo? Pues porque, el color blanco, es el color de la lepra, que a su vez es tanto símbolo del pecado, como de la muerte que este pecado acarrea. Note como, cuando deja usted de ver [durante mucho tiempo] a algun amigo saludable, si durante el trascurso de este tiempo su amigo ha adquirido algun cancer, cuando vuelve usted a verle halla que la piel de su amigo se ha tornado blanca como un papel; y esto es señal de que “la vida” de su amigo (su sangre) se esta acabando.

4) El mensaje del hermano Branham, es uno que insiste en decirle a sus seguidores que, cuando de conocer la verdad y hallar la voluntad de Dios se trata, el raciocinio no sirve para nada. Se les enseña que la verdad de Dios solo puede conocerse por medio de “revelación divina”. El grave efecto que tiene esto sobre sus seguidores, es que traducen esta enseñanza en una aptitud de pasiva, sumisa e incuestionable aceptación de todo lo que se les enseña. El razonamiento es que, si la verdad de Dios se obtiene solo por medio de revelación divina, ¿quien mejor capacitado para recibirla que la persona mas espiritual de la congregación (el líder, o el pastor)? Así, es extremadamente raro ver que algún miembro de la congregación cuestione jamas nada de lo que se le enseña, tanto en la clase dominical, como en la prédica congregacional. ¡Aun peor!- la gente deja de pensar por si misma

Por ejemplo, si al concluir un servicio, usted se acerca a cualquier miembro de edad madura (40 años o mas) y le hace alguna pregunta que requiera cualquier cosa mas allá de un conocimiento superficial de las Escrituras, encontrará que tal persona no se sentirá suficientemente segura como para manejar la pregunta, e inmediatamente la referirá al pastor, de modo que sea este último quien provea la contestación. Este “seguir sin cuestionamiento” es un tipo de “suicidio intelectual” que, como recuerdan los eventos del “People’s Temple” en Guyana, del “Heaven’s Gate” en California, y del “Branch Davidian Compound” de Waco Texas, puede dar lugar a situaciones sumamente peligrosas. De hecho, el profeta Branham dijo en una ocasión: “...Es la inteligente e intelectual sabiduría; y la sabiduría es precisamente la cosa que te aleja de Dios”.

Pero en esto el hermano cometi6 un grave error, pues Oseas dice así: “Mi Pueblo es destruido por falta de conocimiento” (Oseas 4:20). No solo esto, sino que el libro de los Proverbios fue escrito precisamente con la intención de inspirarnos a adquirir sabiduría e inteligencia, pues estas son el único y verdadero “árbol de vida”. El texto en Proverbios, dice de la siguiente manera: “Bienaventurado el hombre que halla la sabiduría, Y que obtiene la inteligencia: Porque su mercadería es mejor que la mercadería de la plata, Y sus frutos más que el oro fino. Más preciosa es que las piedras preciosas; Y todo lo que puedes desear, no se puede comparar a ella. Largura de días está en su mano derecha; En su izquierda riquezas y honra. Sus caminos son caminos deleitosos, Y todas sus veredas paz. ELLA ES ÁRBOL DE VIDA a los que de ella echan mano; y bienaventurados (felices) son los que la mantienen”-(Proverbios 3:13-18).

5) El hermano Branham enseñó a sus seguidores que, la palabra de Dios, fue escrita primeramente en los signos del Zodiaco (las estrellas). Esto fue un grave error, pues contradice la Palabra de Dios, que dice: “No esta en el cielo, para que digas: ¿Quien subirá por nosotros al cielo, y nos la traerá y nos la hará oír para que la cumplamos?”-(Deuteronomio 30:12) Lo que significa el anterior verso es que, si bien es cierto que las estrellas (al igual que el resto de la creación), pueden servir para comunicarnos grandes y sublimes verdades acerca de nuestro Dios, La Palabra Divina no se encuentra entre ellas, ni tampoco entre aquellos que las estudian (los astr6logos). ¿Por que? Pues por que si así fuera, Dios habría sido injusto con quienes nacieron ciegos, y por ende nunca pudieron ver el mensaje que atesoran las estrellas. Pero entonces ¿donde esta la Palabra de Dios? Pues esta en la boca y el corazón de quienes obedecen sus mandamientos, dándole toda la gloria y toda la honra al único que es digno de ella- al Creador del universo. Como dice la Escritura: “Pues la palabra está muy cerca de ti, en tu boca y en tu corazón...” (Deuteronomio 30:14).

6) En una ocasión, hablando acerca de la naturaleza de Dios, el hermano Branham llegó a negar (involuntariamente) a Dios. Sus palabras textuales, fueron las siguientes: “¿Que es Dios? Dios es el gran Eterno. En el principio, mucho antes de que hubiera un principio, EL NI SIQUIERA ERA DIOS. ¿Sabían ustedes esto? Un dios, es un objeto de adoración; y, en aquel entonces, no había nada (ni nadie) que le adorara; El vivía solo. Y en El, había atributos. ¿Que es un atributo? Es un pensamiento”. La anterior cita del hermano Branham, muestra que el profeta tenía una viva imaginación. Para él, Dios no fue Dios sino hasta después que creó al mundo, y con ello a los seres humanos que luego habrían de adorarle.

El hermano propone una interesante tesis: que, inicialmente, el Creador consistía de atributos, o ideas. Es decir, que las ideas tienen una vida propia, que no depende ni de la creación, ni de los seres humanos. Cabe señalar que seguramente el hermano tomó esta idea de la literatura Cabalista (el credo místico Judío), que desde tiempo inmemorial ha postulado que la primera manifestación del Creador fueron 10 atributos (o, “Sefirot”). De estos atributos, el primero es llamado “Chokmah” (Sabiduría), y el segundo es llamado “Binah” (entendimiento). Estos dos atributos son el fundamento de las ideas. Independientemente de si lo que postula la Cábala Judía es cierto o no, la aseveración del hermano Branham no esta en armonía con las Escrituras, que enseñan que el Creador siempre ha sido Dios. Como esta escrito: “Antes que los montes fueran engendrados, y nacieran la tierra y el mundo, DESDE LA ETERNIDAD Y HASTA LA ETERNIDAD, TÚ ERES DIOS” (Salmo 90:2).

7) El hermano Branham enseñó que hay seres humanos que literalmente son hijos (o “descendientes”) de la serpiente mencionada en el libro de Génesis. Esta es una antigua idea Judía, que aparecía ya en el Talmud Babilónico. Esto último es un tipo de “Enciclopedia Judía”, que fue editada por ultima ocasión en el año 499 de la era Cristiana. Y este Talmud dice [en Avodah Zarah 22a] lo siguiente: “Cuando la serpiente vino a Eva, infundió en ella una sucia lujuria”. Otra cita del Talmud de Jerusalén (Kiddushim, final del capítulo 4, y Masekhet Sofrim, al final del capítulo 15), cita al rabino Shimon Bar Yohai (quien vivió en el segundo siglo de la era cristiana) diciendo lo siguiente: “En tiempo de guerra, al mas justo de los gentiles- ¡matalo!, a la mejor de las serpientes- ¡plastale la cabeza!”. No cabe la menor duda de que el hermano Branham interpretó la anterior tradición judía como enseñando que la razón por la cual Dios ordeno a los Israelitas destruir a las naciones de Canaán, fue el que estos últimos eran el producto de la impregnación de Eva por parte de aquella serpiente antigua.

Pero, aparte de ser una enseñanza originada fuera del Cristianismo, ¿que maldad puede haber en esta enseñanza? La respuesta es que la anterior enseñanza presenta una imagen de Dios que difiera de la imagen que presentan las Escrituras, pues sugiere (entre líneas) que Dios esta predispuesto a favorecer a aquellos que son “sus hijos naturales”; y a rechazar a aquellos que son (literalmente), “hijos del Diablo” (o de la serpiente). Pero la realidad es que, ya sea que haya una simiente, o dos, o aún cincuenta simientes, es absolutamente irrelevante; pues, si hay algo que la Escritura enseña con claridad meridiana, es que DIOS NO HACE ACEPCIÓN DE PERSONAS- ante ÉL, no hace diferencia si somos blancos o negros; Griegos o Judíos; libres o esclavos; hijos de Fulano, o hijos de Mengano. A ÉL solo le interesa que le temamos, y que hagamos justicia (Miqueas 6:8). El apóstol Pedro dió testimonio de esto mismo, cuando en Hechos 10:34-35 dice lo siguiente: «Entonces Pedro, abriendo la boca, dijo: “En verdad comprendo que Dios no hace acepción de personas, sino que en toda nación se agrada del que le teme y hace justicia”».

8) El evangelista Gordon Lindsay [quien, de paso, fue un gran admirador del hermano Branham], escribe en la autobiografía de este último que, poco antes de morir (1965), el hermano Branham confeso que “había sido un neurótico toda su vida”. Hasta apenas un par de meses antes de su muerte, el hermano Branham (que descansa en la paz del Señor) sufrió de constantes y periódicas crisis nerviosas y emocionales. No es que seamos quienes para juzgar la condición espiritual del hermano Branham, pero si la Escritura dice “No hay paz, dijo mi Dios, para los impíos (Isaías 57:21)”, entonces tenemos que reconocer que, al igual que sucedió con el rey Saúl, quizás había cosas en la vida del profeta que no agradaban del todo al Creador.

9) El hermano Branham no solamente fue boxeador (un deporte violento), sino que, en al menos dos ocasiones, y luego de ya ser pastor, intentó cometer suicidio; es decir, volarse la tapa de los sesos con su propio revolver. Note que el Rey Saúl también intentó (exitosamente) suicidarse. ¿Pero lo hizo por que era “el ungido de Dios”, o lo hizo porque, aunque era “el ungido de Dios”, ya no tenía en su vida al Dios que le había ungido? ¿Como no considerar seriamente estos incidentes, cuando la Escritura dice, “... y sabéis que ningún homicida tiene vida eterna permanente en el” (1ra Juan 3:15)?

10) El hermano Branham practicaba el deporte de la caza mayor. Esto de por sí mismo no necesariamente es pecado, pero no es una conducta propia de quien esta llamado a ser un maestro de las Escrituras [para sus seguidores]. Es que denota el desconocimiento del hecho de que, los únicos dos cazadores mencionados en las Escrituras (Nimrod y Esaú) fueron personas violentas y/o de poca visión espiritual. De hecho, no existe en la Biblia tal cosa como “un profeta cazador”. En este aspecto, el verso que hace referencia a Nimrod (Génesis 10:8-9) dice así: “Y Cus engendro a Nimrod, quien llego a ser el primer poderoso (¿tirano?) en la tierra. Este fue vigoroso cazador...”. Por otro lado, una tradición Judía adscribe a Nimrod el haber sido el líder de aquellos que se revelaron contra Dios, diciendo “...Vamos, edifiquémonos una ciudad... y hagámonos un nombre...” (Génesis 11:4). En cuanto a Esaú, el verso pertinente dice así: “Y crecieron los niños, y Esaú fue diestro en la caza, hombre del campo...” (Gen 25:27). Esaú fue un hombre sin visión, y violento; que vendió su primogenitura por un plato de lentejas, y que planeó matar a Jacob, su único hermano.

11) La Escritura dice: “Instruye al niño en su carrera: Aún cuando fuere viejo no se apartará de ella” (Proverbios 22:6). Desafortunadamente, el hermano Branham no tuvo el privilegio de ser instruido en las Escrituras durante su niñez. De hecho, no vino a tener una experiencia de conversión sino hasta la edad de aproximadamente 22 años. A pesar de esto, ya a los 6 meses de su conversión, estaba siendo ordenado como ministro, y a los 18 meses ya dividía la iglesia en la cual perseveraba, para comenzar su propia congregación. Tan pronto comienza su propio grupo, el hermano Branham comienza a tener visiones que le exaltan como el Elías de este tiempo, el gran precursor del Mesías.

Quizás la pobre formación que tuvo durante su niñez, o quizás su [para aquel entonces] escaso conocimiento de las Escrituras, impidieron al hermano Branham ver nada malo con todo esto. Pero, en la Biblia, Pablo advierte a la Iglesia de Éfeso contra esta situación, cuando [hablando a los creyentes acerca de las cosas que descalifican a quien anhela ejercer autoridad sobre la iglesia] menciona lo siguiente: “no un neófito (un recién convertido), no sea que, envaneciéndose, caiga en la condenación del Diablo (usurpar la pleitesía que solo corresponde al Creador)”- 1ra Timoteo 3:6.

12) El énfasis que se le da a las revelaciones recibidas por el hermano Branham, a menudo es desacertado; Es decir, las revelaciones no necesariamente eran claras y confiables, pues a menudo enfatizaban detalles secundarios, en vez de lo que era realmente importante. Por ejemplo, el hermano Branham tuvo una revelación donde se le mostró que, el agua de una inundación, llegaría a 22 pies de altura en Jeffersonville (Indiana).

Pero esta profecía omitió la parte mas importante del evento- el que el hermano Branham y su familia debían alejarse de Jeffersonville; pues, tanto su esposa como su hija menor, morirían a consecuencia de estar allí cuando ocurriese la inundación. Otro caso similar fue el hecho de que, dos meses antes de morir, se le revelo al hermano Branham que “su enemigo, estaba muerto”, refiriéndose a que jamas volvería a padecer de su frecuente y periódica condición nerviosa y estomacal. Esta última profecía, resulto ser fútil; pues, independientemente de si el hermano Branham fue o no sanado, no tendría mucho tiempo para disfrutar de tal sanidad, ya que solo viviría un par de meses adicionales. Otro ejemplo, es el hecho de que el hermano Branham aseguraba que un ángel estaba siempre con él, y no solo hacia las sanidades, sino que le revelaba al hermano Branham lo que estaba en los corazones de todos los hombres. Pero la realidad es que este ángel falló en revelar al hermano Branham lo que había en el corazón de la pareja de borrachos pecadores que habrían de impactar mortalmente el automóvil que conducía el hermano Branham. ¿Que sucedió en esta ocasión? ¿Acaso la bendición de una revelación divina, que termina convirtiéndose en tragedia? Pero, ¿Acaso no dice la Escritura que, “La bendición de Dios es la que enriquece, Y no añade tristeza con ella” (Proverbios 10:22)? De paso, tampoco pudo ese ángel sanar al hermano Branham de las heridas recibidas en ese fatídico accidente. Por demás esta decir que, la muerte de quien muchos entendían ser el profeta Elías, sembró el desasosiego y la incertidumbre en los corazones de miles de sus seguidores, que creían ciegamente en el poder sanador del profeta Branham. Aquí habría que ponderar hasta que punto los seguidores de Branham fueron culpables de echar a sus espaldas el consejo Divino que nos increpa diciendo: “Así ha dicho el Señor- Maldito el varón que confía en el hombre, y pone carne por su brazo...” (Jeremías 17:5)

13) En una revelación que recibió cerca de Tucson, y antes de visitar a su doctor (el Dr. Ravensworth), Branham dice que, estando en el campo, sintió la presencia de Dios. Estas son las palabras del profeta: «Sentí la presencia del Señor. Me quité mi sombrero, y miré alrededor. Pensé, “El esta aquí, EN ALGUNA PARTE. Yo sé que El esta aquí”. Pensé “¿Que sucede?” Di unos cuantos pasos mas. Dije, “Señor, TU ESTAS AQUÍ, EN ALGUNA PARTE”».

Del anterior testimonio, podemos desprender que, el hermano Branham, tenía dificultad en comprender que el Dios de las Escrituras es Omnipresente; Es decir, DIOS NO ESTA “EN ALGUNA PARTE”; ÉL ESTA (CONTINUAMENTE) “EN TODAS PARTES”; ¡SIEMPRE ESTAMOS DELANTE DE SU PRESENCIA! DE HECHO, AÚN SI QUISIÉRAMOS EVITARLO, NO PODRÍAMOS HUIR DE SU PRESENCIA, como nos dice el salmista: “¿Adónde me iré de tu Espíritu, o adónde huiré de tu presencia? Si subo a los cielos, he aquí, allí estás tú; si en el Seol preparo mi lecho, allí estás tú. Si tomo las alas del alba, y si habito en lo más remoto del mar, aun allí me guiará tu mano, y me asirá tu diestra” (Salmo 139:7-10).

14) A pesar de lo sinceramente unguidas que son las prédicas de quienes difunden el mensaje del hermano Branham, si alguien las escucha con objetividad, y durante algún tiempo razonable, comenzará a percibir un patrón perturbador: el que, si el predicador se atiene al mensaje del hermano Branham, lo que inicialmente fue el propósito de su predica (glorificar a Dios), terminara tomando un lugar secundario, para dar precedencia a un esfuerzo sincero (pero errado) de vindicar la teología y el ministerio del hermano Branham.

Es decir, el enseñar la teología del hermano Branham, absorbe de tal modo el mensaje (llenándolo de pormenores teológicos), que el predicador puede hablar durante horas y horas, y aún así no tener tiempo para exhortar a los hermanos siquiera una sola vez a amar al prójimo, a perdonar a sus enemigos, a tener misericordia de los que sufren; a dar de comer al hambriento, a comprometerse con hacer lo que es justo, o a ser humildes.

Desafortunadamente, y muy a pesar de la buena intención del predicador, este estilo de prédica comete el grave error de poner el honor del profeta Branham por encima del honor de Aquel que enseñó que, la verdadera teología que encarnan la Ley y los Profetas, no es otra sino el que hagamos el bien, el que amemos al prójimo, y el que le tratemos como nos gustaría que nos trataran a nosotros mismos. Jesús dijo: “ASÍ QUE, TODAS LAS COSAS QUE QUISIERAIS QUE LOS HOMBRES HICIESEN CON VOSOTROS, ASÍ TAMBIÉN HACED VOSOTROS CON ELLOS; PORQUE ESTA ES LA LEY Y LOS PROFETAS” (Mateo 7:12).

Note cuan profundo es el mensaje del Maestro de Galilea: El Maestro nos enseña que, el propósito de la predica de todos y cada uno de los profetas (Elías incluido), así como el de cada uno de los ritos de la Ley, no es el traer una misteriosa y oculta revelación; ni el que creamos en algún misterio esotérico, o el que creamos alguna compleja teología. La Gran Verdad que trajeron (y deben siempre traer) todos los profetas, es que la voluntad de Dios no es otra sino que nos amemos los unos a los otros; que nos tratemos con amor, con justicia, con misericordia y con humildad. En fin, que entendamos que, en su infinita sabiduría, el Dios de Amor ha decidido que, la religión de sus hijos, sea en sí misma el Amor.

¿Significa lo que hasta aquí hemos expuesto que, los seguidores del hermano Branham, se encuentran perdidos? ¡Absolutamente No! Lo que significa es que, probablemente la pobre instrucción religiosa que durante su época formativa tuvo el hermano Branham, haya sido una puerta utilizada por el enemigo con el fin de desvirtuar su predica, plagándola de graves y serios errores. Estos errores, no son sino el producto natural de poner el énfasis en “EL SIERVO DE Dios”, y no en “EL DIOS DEL Siervo”.

Tengamos presente que, el ser un siervo ungido por Dios, no nos exime del error y el extravío; Noé fue el hombre mas justo de su generación, pero después de haber sido poderosamente usado para preservar la raza humana, se emborracha y se desnuda. Quizás, al igual que el rey Saúl, el hermano Branham cometió serios y graves errores; pero no por eso se le quitó el honroso puesto para el cual fue escogido por el mismo Dios.

Los seguidores del profeta Branham son pueblo de Dios; linaje escogido, al cual el Eterno quiere seguir bendiciendo. Pero primero hay que corregir lo torcido, sanar lo cojo, y volver al Camino lo descarriado, a fin de que estos creyentes tengan libre acceso a la leche espiritual no adulterada, por medio de la cual puedan vivir vidas espiritualmente sanas y victoriosas. Es que Dios no es caprichoso, ni tiene delirios de poder; Si en el libro de Deuteronomio Dios nos exhorta a seguir su Ley (el amor al prójimo), es porque sabe que el vivir por esta norma producirá en nuestros corazones la paz, la nobleza, la justicia, la misericordia, la humildad, y el bienestar que todos anhelamos.

Pero, si despreciamos su Ley, y seguimos exaltando al hombre (o a nosotros mismos), en vez de exaltar a Dios, nuestros corazones quedaran vacíos, y esto solo producirá en nosotros maldición, frustración, ansiedad, turbación, y locura; tal y como sucede en nuestro entorno, con tantos de aquellos que rehúsan dejar que Dios ‘se siente el el trono de sus corazones’. Es que Dios diseñó el universo de forma tal que, si le damos la espalda a la Ley del Creador, nos exponemos a que se cumpla en nosotros la maldición contenida en esa misma Ley: “Te herirá el Señor con locura, con ceguera y con turbación de corazón” (Deuteronomio 28:28).

Y lo anterior no es que Dios sea un Dios sádico; lo que significa es que el producto natural de nuestro “darle la espalda a Dios, para seguir nuestro propio camino”, es la frustración, la ansiedad, la depresión, y la maldición. Cuando nos alcanzan esto males, a nuestros ojos parecen como si hubieran venido de parte de Dios; pero en realidad son el producto de nuestro propio extravío. Esta situación espiritual, es muy similar a lo que sucede con nuestra alimentación: si nos alimentamos solo con comida saludable, nuestros cuerpos se fortalecerán; pero si nos alimentamos con “comida chatarra”

(junk food), nuestros cuerpos se convertirán en un desastre. Que La Paz, la Misericordia y El Amor de Dios sea con todos vosotros. Amen.

25 razones por las cuales los creyentes Hebreos confían más en Moshe ravenu (Moisés nuestro maestro, paz y bendición sean siempre sobre él), que lo que los creyentes Nazarenos (Cristianos) confían en Yeshua (Jesus de Nazaret, paz y bendición sean con él)

Tanto Yeshua (paz sea con él), como la fe Nazarena (es decir, la noble religión Cristiana), son caminos perfectamente válidos para que el hombre [o la mujer] que no conocen la Torah (es decir, la Ley Divina), puedan acercarse al Padre Celestial (el Creador). Pero, para el hombre y la mujer que conocen los pormenores de la revelación Mosaica, el abrazar ciegamente los postulados de la ilustre fe Nazarena, es cometer un tipo de “suicidio intelectual”. Es que, como se muestra a continuación, la Torah no deja duda alguna respecto a la superioridad moral, intelectual, y espiritual de Moshe, de su profecía, y de lo que le fue revelado por el Padre Eterno, sobre las dos tablas de Piedra.

- 1) A pesar de ser un anciano de 80 años, Moshe ayunó durante 40 días; y, esto lo hizo Moshe, en dos ocasiones distintas (según Éxodo 24:18, y Éxodo 34:28); mientras que, a pesar de ser tan solo un joven de 30 años, Yeshua solo pudo ayunar durante 40 días en tan solo una ocasión [es decir, durante su tentación en el desierto, según Mateo 4:1-2].
- 2) A los ochenta años de edad, Moshe no solamente había tolerado ya el desierto durante 40 años [pastoreando las ovejas de su suegro Jetro], sino que luego toleró el desierto durante 40 años adicionales [conduciendo a Israel hacia la Tierra prometida]; Pero, con respecto al Nazareno, a pesar de que solo tenía 30 años de edad, este último no pudo tolerar el desierto durante mas de 40 días (de nuevo, durante su tentación en el desierto).
- 3) Cada vez que Moshe hablaba con Dios, Israel veía brillar su rostro con la gloria Divina (Éxodo 34:34-35); mientras que, el rostro de Yeshua, brilló en una sola ocasión (en el monte de la transfiguración), y solo fue visto por un puñado de discípulos, según Mateo 17:1-2
- 4) Moshe logró “contender” exitosamente durante 40 años contra el liderato Hebreo de su época [así contra toda la nación de Israel]; mientras que Yeshua no pudo contender exitosamente siquiera durante los cortos 3 años y medio que duró su ministerio [de hecho, ni siquiera pudo contender contra toda la nación, pues la mayoría de los Israelitas de su época se hallaban exiliados fuera de Palestina].
- 5) Moshe proveyó pan del Cielo para toda la nación de Israel; y esto lo hizo durante 40 años consecutivos; mientras que, Yeshua, solo pudo alimentar a sus seguidores mas cercanos (por medio de la multiplicación de los panes y los peces); y, esto último, solo pudo hacerlo en un puñado de ocasiones (Mateo 15:34-38, & Marcos 8:4-9, Juan 6:5-13)
- 6) Moshe logró liberar a Israel de la opresión Egipcia; mientras que Yeshua no pudo liberar a Israel de la opresión Romana
- 7) Moshe proveyó salud [física] para toda la nación de Israel (Salmo 105:36-37); mientras que Yeshua solo proveyó salud física para aquellos seguidores por los cuales pudo orar; y que, en adición, poseían la suficiente fe como para que se efectuase en ellos el milagro (Mateo 9:28-29)
- 8) Moshe golpeó la Roca, efectuando el milagro que haría que, esta última, manase el agua que saciaría la sed de Israel (Éxodo 17:5-6, & Números 20:7-11). Y Moshe hizo esto durante los 40 años que duró la peregrinación en el desierto. Pero, Yeshua, no pudo sacar literalmente agua de ninguna roca, sino que se limitó a prometer [a aquellos que creyesen en él] que beberían del equivalente espiritual de aquella agua que Moshe había sacado de la Roca (Juan 7:37-38).

- 9) Moshe confirió a Israel una Ley justa, precisa, y Divina, por medio de la cual Israel podría regirse a si mismo, así como servir de ejemplo al resto de las naciones de la Tierra (Deut. 4:5-6). Pero Yeshua no dejó ninguna Ley precisa, que pudiese en efecto sustituir a la Ley Divina. Y, el efecto de todo esto, fue que los seguidores de Yeshua no tenían otra opción sino recurrir a la Ley pagana (o ley Romana), cada vez que tenían necesidad de resolver alguna disputa legal (1 Corintios 6:1-7).
- 10) Durante los 120 años que duró su vida, Moshe gozó de perfecta salud, pues nunca perdió su vista, ni su vigor (Deut. 34:7); mientras que la [posiblemente] perfecta salud de Yeshua, no pudo haber durado mas de 33 años (es decir, el largo total de su vida).
- 11) Moshe logró que, tanto su propia persona, como todo el pueblo de Israel, pudiesen conquistar el Mar Rojo (cruzándolo a pie, según Éxodo 14:15-16 & 14:29); mientras que, Yeshua, solo pudo conquistar un pequeño lago (es decir, el “mar” de Galilea). Y Yeshua no pudo hacer que nadie más lograra vencer al lago (pues Pedro fue la única otra persona que intentó caminar sobre el agua, pero terminó hundiéndose, según Mateo 14:25-30).
- 12) Moshe derrotó a todos sus enemigos (Faraón, Coré, Balaam, Og, los Amalecitas, los diez espías, etc); mientras que Yeshua fue derrotado por todos sus enemigos [Judas, los Romanos, los Fariseos, los Saduceos, etc].
- 13) Yeshua hizo un reclamo alegórico, afirmando que era “la vid”; y que sus seguidores eran “las ramas”, que no podrían dar frutos mientras estuviesen separadas de él (Juan 15:5). Pero Moshe no hizo ese mismo reclamo alegórico, sino que lo efectuó en la realidad. ¿Cuándo? Pues cuando se convirtió a si mismo en “la vid” que haría que “la rama de Aarón” [es decir, la vara de Aarón] reverdeciera [dando frutos], según Números 17:7-8.
- 14) Dios habló personalmente a Moshe, y a ningún Israelita le quedó la menor duda de ello (Éxodo 33:8-11). Pero, cuando Dios habló [alegadamente] con Yeshua, fue algo tan incierto y confuso que, aquellos que lo oyeron, no estuvieron seguros de si había sido la voz de Dios, o si simplemente habían escuchado un trueno (Juan 12:28-29).
- 15) Moshe escribió personalmente sus enseñanzas y profecías, de suerte que sus seguidores pudiésemos conocerlas con claridad y certeza (Deuteronomio 31:24-26); en cambio, Yeshua no escribió personalmente nada, de suerte que sus seguidores no pueden objetivamente contar con certeza alguna de que Yeshua haya dicho, hecho, o enseñado, las cosas que le atribuyen los evangelios (Lucas 1:1-3).
- 16) La Torah de Moshe, nunca cita el testimonio de ningún demonio (o de algún espíritu impuro) como testigo de la veracidad de su inspiración Divina, o de la pureza de sus enseñanzas. En cambio, el “Brit Hadasha” [el “Nuevo Pacto”, o “Nuevo testamento”] cita tanto a los demonios, como a los espíritus inmundos, dando testimonio de Yeshua, y proclamándolo como el hijo de Dios (Marcos 3:11, Lucas 4:41, y Hechos 16:16-17).
- 17) La Torah [es decir, la Escritura Hebrea] nunca cita a Moshe exaltándose a si mismo, ni demandando ser honrado [ni mucho menos adorado] por nadie. Y, esto último, a pesar de que el Creador le había hecho Dios para Faraón, según Éxodo 7:1. Y, con esa humilde aptitud, Moshe cumplió el mandato Divino que prohibía que ningún hombre se alabase a si mismo. Como esta escrito: “Alabete el extraño, y no tu propia boca; el [labio] ajeno, y no los labios tuyos”- Proverbios 27:2. En cambio, los evangelios describen a Yeshua exaltándose a si mismo, reclamando ser “uno con El Padre”, así como “el Camino, la Verdad, y la Vida” (Juan 14:6). Y, exaltándose a si mismo, Yeshua mostró altivez, despreciando de ese modo la Escritura que dice: “Por que יהוה (Adonai Yah) es excelso, y atiende al humilde. Mas al Altivo mira de lejos”- Salmo 138:6
- 18) El “Brit Hadasha” atribuye al Nazareno el haber resucitado a un difunto (Lucas 7:11-16); y también le atribuye el haber devuelto la vista a un hombre que había nacido ciego (Marcos 8:22-26). Pero, con respecto a Moshe, la Torah dice que este último dio vida a una vara de madera [convirtiendo así a una muerta vara, en una viva serpiente], dándole de ese modo vista a algo que no solamente había nacido ciego [es decir, a un arbusto], sino que no tenía posibilidad alguna de ver (Éxodo 7:8-12).

19) En tan solo 40 años, Moshe fue capaz de cumplir la promesa de llevar a los Israelitas a la Tierra Prometida (Deuteronomio 1:8). Pero, con respecto al Nazareno, 2,000 años no han sido suficientes para que Yeshua logre cumplir la mucho mas sencilla promesa que hizo a sus seguidores. ¿Cual promesa? Pues la promesa de “volver otra vez”. Como esta escrito, «El que da testimonio de estas cosas dice: “ciertamente vengo en breve”. Amen, si ven Señor Jesús» (Apocalipsis 22:20).

20) Los evangelios reclaman que Yeshua conquistó la muerte (Mateo 28:5-7), ¡pero ninguno de sus seguidores estuvo frente a la tumba, en el momento preciso de la resurrección, a fin de servir como testigo presencial de que Yeshua haya en efecto conquistado la muerte. Por otro lado, aunque la Escritura dice que Moshe “murió” [si su muerte fue literal, o solamente alegórica, esta sujeto a discusión], ninguno de sus seguidores estuvo a su lado, en el momento mismo en que Moshe fue alegadamente vencido por la muerte (Deut. 34:5-6).

21) En cuanto a Moshe, el Padre Celestial le constituyó Dios, como esta escrito: “He aquí yo te he constituido Dios para Faraón, y tu hermano Aarón será tu profeta” (Éxodo 7:1). Y también dice en otro lugar: “El [Aarón] será tu profeta, y tu [Moisés] serás Dios para él” (Éxodo 4:16). Pero, en cuanto a Yeshua, como el Padre Celestial no le constituyó Dios, pues no tuvo otro remedio que constituirse Dios por si mismo; como esta escrito- “Yo y el Padre, Uno somos” (Juan 10:30). Y como también dice en otro lugar: “El que me ha visto a mi, ha visto al Padre” (Juan 14:9).

22) Moshe no necesitaba la fe de los Israelitas, a fin de poder obrar milagros y prodigios. En cambio, Yeshua necesitaba la fe de los Israelitas, pues sin ella le era imposible realizar milagros y prodigios. Como esta escrito: «Y no pudo hacer allí ningún milagro, salvo que sanó a unos pocos enfermos, poniendo sobre ellos las manos. Y estaba asombrado de la incredulidad de ellos» (Marcos 6:5-6).

23) Yeshua tuvo que esperar hasta después de su muerte, antes de que el espíritu que estaba dentro de su persona, fuese conferido a sus seguidores; como esta escrito:- «Y habiendo dicho esto, sopló, y les dijo: “Recibid el Espíritu Santo”»- Juan 20:22. En cambio, Moshe no tuvo que esperar hasta después de su muerte, antes de que el espíritu que estaba dentro de su persona, fuese conferido a sus seguidores; Como esta escrito- “Y salió Moisés, y dijo al pueblo las palabras de Adonai Yah; y reunió a los setenta varones de los ancianos del pueblo, y los hizo estar alrededor del tabernáculo. Entonces Adonai Yah descendió en la nube, y le habló; y tomó del Espíritu que estaba en él, y lo puso en los setenta varones ancianos; y cuando posó sobre ellos el Espíritu, profetizaron, y no cesaron”- Números 11:24-25.

24) Mientras estuvo en este Mundo, Moshe nunca reclamó ser el único y exclusivo camino para llegar a Dios; pero, antes de partir, Moshe se aseguró de llevar a los Israelitas ante Dios, de modo que todos ellos pudieran ver su gloria, oír personalmente sus palabras, y hasta participar de “la cena celestial”; como esta escrito- “Y Moisés sacó del campamento al Pueblo, para recibir [personalmente] a Dios; y se detuvieron al pie del monte”- Éxodo 19:17; «Y la apariencia de la gloria de יהוה era como un fuego abrasador, en la cumbre del monte, a los ojos de los hijos de Israel»- Éxodo 24:17; «Y habló יהוה con vosotros de en medio del fuego; oísteis la voz de sus palabras»- Deut. 4:12; «Y יהוה dijo a Moisés: Así dirás a los hijos de Israel: vosotros habéis visto que he hablado desde el Cielo con vosotros»- Éxodo 20:22; «Y subieron Moisés y Aarón, Nadab y Abiú, y setenta de los ancianos de Israel; y vieron al Dios de Israel ... mas no extendió su mano sobre los príncipes de los hijos de Israel; y vieron a Dios, y comieron y bebieron» (Éxodo 24:9-11). Yeshua reclamó en cambio ser el camino a Dios; pero, a diferencia de Moshe, no pudo hacer que toda la nación de Israel lograra ver ni oír [literalmente] al Creador [y mucho menos que comiese delante de su presencia].

25) Yeshua trató infructuosamente de convencer a los Israelitas de que nadie [fuera de él] estaba mejor capacitado para el puesto de “intermediario” [o “vocero”] entre ellos, y su Padre Celestial; como esta escrito- “Nadie viene al Padre, sino por mí”- Juan 14:6. Pero, con respecto a Moshe, este último ni siquiera tuvo que intentar convencer a Israel, pues el Pueblo vino a rogarle que tomase ese puesto. ¿Y por que? Pues porque, el testimonio de Moshe, era aplastante; porque las obras de Moshe eran demasiado contundentes, como para que el Pueblo pudiese darse el lujo de titubear siquiera un momento, pensando que quizás habría algún otro mejor intermediario entre ellos y el Padre Celestial.

¿Que significa todo lo que hasta aquí hemos expuesto? Pues significa que, si el Evangelio es verdadero, y es a su vez un fiel recuento de las enseñanzas del Galileo, entonces los seguidores de Jesús tienen el deber de convertirse a la fe Hebrea, de modo que puedan hacerse formalmente parte de la casa de Israel. ¿Por que? Pues porque Jesús no solamente ordenó a sus discípulos sujetarse a lo ordenado por los que “se sentaban en la silla de Moisés” (los líderes Israelitas), sino que es también citado dando testimonio de que “no había sido enviado sino a la casa de Israel”. Como está escrito: “No he sido enviado sino a las ovejas perdidas de la casa de Israel” (Mateo 15:24).

¿Es usted parte de la casa de Israel [en la forma aludida por Jesús]? ¿No? ¿Pues entonces tiene que convertirse a la fe Hebrea! ¿Que ofrece esta tradición religiosa que otras tantas tradiciones no puedan ofrecer? ¿Pues las enseñanzas de Moisés, el mayor de todos los profetas!

Quizás usted aún dude, y crea que Jesús es en efecto el mayor de todos los profetas. Pero, ¿no hemos demostrado ya lo contrario? ¿será acaso su duda el producto de pensar que Jesús fue el único profeta que ha logrado conquistar la muerte? ¿Que haría usted si descubriese que Moisés conquistó la muerte mucho antes que el Nazareno? ¿No probaría esto que las enseñanzas de Moisés cuentan con mayor aprobación Divina que las del Nazareno?

De nuevo, si los evangelios son ciertos y confiables, entonces Moisés está aún con vida, y conquistó por ende la muerte 1,500 años que lo que lo hizo el Nazareno. ¿Como lo sabemos? Pues porque el Evangelio cita a Jesús haciendo la siguiente afirmación: “Aún así, debo continuar mi camino hoy, y mañana, y el próximo día, PUES NO ES POSIBLE QUE UN PROFETA MUERA FUERA DE JERUSALÉN” - Lucas 13:33.

Pero, ¿No era Moisés profeta? (Deut. 34:10). ¿No dice claramente la Escritura que Moisés murió fuera de Jerusalén, en la tierra de Moab (Deut. 34:5)? ¿Como podrían ser ciertas las palabras de Jesús, sin implicar con ello que el Galileo creyese que Moisés no había muerto, sino que permanecía aún con vida (conquistando de este modo la muerte)?

Así, el Evangelio intima que, la muerte de Moisés [tal y como se describe en Deut. 34:5], fue solamente alegórica, pues Moisés en efecto conquistó la muerte [es decir, que Moisés “murió” solamente a su generación].

De paso, esto sería consistente con el hecho de que Lucas 9:30-31 indica que Moisés apareció [vivo] a Jesús, a fin de aconsejarle acerca de “su partida”, que habría de acontecer en Jerusalén. Así, el relato evangélico, obliga a hacernos la siguiente pregunta: ¿Quien necesita el consejo de quien? ¿El menor del mayor? ¿O el mayor del menor? ¿Necesitaba acaso el vivo y mayor profeta [Jesús] del consejo del menor [y muerto] profeta Moisés? ¿No dice la Escritura que, si los vivos consultan con los muertos, es porque no les ha amanecido? (Isaías 8:18-20) De este modo, concluimos que, de ser cierto el Evangelio, el seguidor de Jesús (paz sea con él) debe abrazar la fe Hebrea, y seguir lo ordenado a Moisés [paz sea con él], pues este último no solamente realizó milagros mucho mayores que los del Nazareno, sino que conquistó la muerte muchos antes que él [siendo así en todo aspecto superior al Galileo]. Por otro lado, si el relato Evangélico es falso [y Moisés en efecto murió fuera de Jerusalén], entonces el "Nuevo Testamento" en realidad no es palabra de Dios. Pero, si no es palabra de Dios, ¿Que es? Pues, en el mejor de los casos, es un comentario acerca de la historia y la Teología de la noble fe Cristiana. Y, este comentario, es de origen puramente humano, si bien está salpicado aquí y allá con la palabra de Dios que a menudo cita directamente de las Escrituras Hebreas.

En el peor de los casos, el relato Evangélico no es sino una ensalada de arrogantes pretensiones, así como vanos reclamos ("wishful thinking"). Y, estos últimos, han adquirido vida propia en base a la fuerza que sus emocionantes relatos ejercen sobre aquellos cuyo pobre conocimiento de la Escrituras hace de sus emociones [y no de su intelecto] el norte que guíe sus vidas. En conclusión, el creyente Hebreo no niega la porción de verdad que podría estar contenida en los escritos sagrados de las otras tradiciones religiosas. Solo que este creyente pone su final confianza en la autoridad de las palabras del maestro Moisés (que Yah continúe exaltándolo hasta el final de los siglos por sobre todo otro profeta).

God doesn't like it when ethnic Jews feel too comfortable living among Gentiles, lest the former despise their religious duty of returning to the only Land God meant them to inhabit

Reformed Samaritanism teaches that, when it comes to their religion, Gentile peoples should force Ashkenazi Jews to think [and behave] in a manner that is truthful, honest, and coherent to the claims they raising concerning their Jewish ethnicity. As the Jewish Scriptures themselves command them to do, when they go on to say, "These are the things that ye shall do: Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates"- Zechariah 8:16, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition. You see, Jewish Scriptures states that ethnic Israelites were given one single Land-- the Land of Canaan... Not modern day America, Argentina, Canada, Australia, Europe, South Africa, nor Russia... Just the Land of Canaan ("And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and possess the good land which the Lord swore unto thy fathers"- Deuteronomy 6:18).

In addition, Jewish tradition states that the Land of Canaan is the only Land fit for the Jews ("The Holy One, blessed be he, further took the measure of all lands and found no land but the Land of Israel that was truly worthy for the people Israel"-- Leviticus Rabah 13:2). And the former is the reason why Jews living outside the Land of Israel are considered to be under God's curse. As it has been said: "I will even make them a horror among all the kingdoms of the earth for evil; a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse (AntiSemitism?), in all places whither I shall drive them. And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, till they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers"- Jeremiah 24:9-10).

Thus, there's no reason [nor justification] for a true, decent, and God fearing Jew to live in any land, other than the land of Israel-- as he has been warned that, while living in exile, he would have to endure the taunt, reproach, scorn, and Antisemitism sent after him by the Almighty.

In fact, the latter Antisemitism could be perceived as Divine "reproofs of love". Why? Because they are God's unique way of encouraging the Jew to "go up" to the land where he truly belongs-- the place where he can be at peace; where God always wanted him to be.

Curiously, ancient Jewish tradition states that, a dead Jew living in the Land of Israel (Eretz Yisrael), is better off than a living one outside of it. Why? Because he who lives outside the land is like one who worships idols (money, sex, power, etc); while he who lives in it receives the pardon of his sins:

«R. Meir wont to say: “Whoever lives in Eretz Yisrael and recites the Shema morning and night, and speaks the holy tongue is a son of the world to come [having atoned for his sins]”... the Sages taught: “A person should always reside in Eretz Yisrael, even in a city that is mostly populated by gentiles, and he should not reside outside of Eretz Yisrael, even in a city that is mostly populated by Jews”. The reason is that anyone who resides in Eretz Yisrael is considered as one who has a God, and anyone who resides outside of Eretz Yisrael is considered as one who does not have a God (“They mingled themselves with the nations, and learned their [wicked] works”- Psalm 106:35). As it is stated: “To give to you the land of Canaan, to be your God” (Leviticus 25:38)»-- Sifrei Devarim 333, & Babylonian Talmud (Ketubot 110b)

Los 70 Grandes extravíos de la noble fe Nazarena

Extravío # 1:

Abraham creyó a Dios, y le fue contado por Justicia (es decir, alcanzó el favor Divino por medio de la Fe, y no por las obras)

Texto De Refutación:

La Escritura dice que, la bendición de Abraham, no fue el producto de su fe, sino de su obediencia. Como esta escrito: «... todas las naciones de la Tierra serán benditas en tu simiente, por cuanto OYÓ ABRAHAM MI VOZ, Y GUARDÓ MI PRECEPTO, MIS MANDAMIENTOS, MIS ESTATUTOS, Y MIS LEYES»- Génesis 26:4-5 (Es decir, Abraham obtuvo el favor Divino, porque guardó los mandamientos del Creador)

Extravío # 2:

El hombre es justificado por la fe, y no por las obras

Texto De Refutación:

Los hermanos Cristianos, afirman que el hombre es justificado por la fe, y no por hacer las obras de la Ley. Y lo prueban, citando a Pablo, cuando dice: «Porque ¿qué dice la Escritura? “Creyó Avraham a Dios, y le fue contado por justicia”» (Romanos 4:3). Pero, el problema con este argumento es que, 400 años después de Avraham, Finees hizo las obras de la Ley (administrando el castigo que esta ordenaba para los fornicarios y adúlteros); y, su “hacer las obras de la Ley”, también le fue contado por Justicia. Como está escrito: «Se unieron asimismo a Baal-peor, Y comieron los sacrificios de los muertos. Provocaron la ira de Dios con sus obras, Y se desarrolló la mortandad entre ellos. Entonces SE LEVANTÓ FINEES E HIZO JUICIO, y se detuvo la plaga; Y LE FUE CONTADO POR JUSTICIA, DE GENERACIÓN EN GENERACIÓN, PARA SIEMPRE» - Salmo 106:20-31. Así que, la Escritura Hebrea confirma que, el mismo Creador (bendito sea), abrogó la alegada “justificación por fe” concedida a Avraham, para remplazarla en cambio por “la justificación por la obediencia a los mandatos Divinos”, que concedió a Finees.

Extravío # 3:

Dios demanda la obediencia perfecta de la Ley; pues, a fin de que el hombre sea acepto ante el Creador, tiene que haber cumplido perfectamente los ritos y los mandamientos de la Ley

Texto De Refutación:

Muchos Israelitas no guardaron la Ley respecto a la Pascua; pero, aún así, fueron aceptos al Creador. Como está escrito:«Porque una gran multitud del pueblo de Efraín y Manasés, y de Isacar y Zabulón, no se habían purificado, Y COMIERON LA PASCUA NO CONFORME A LO QUE ESTÁ

ESCRITO [EN LA LEY]. Mas Ezequías oró por ellos, diciendo: יהוה, QUE ES BUENO, SEA PROPICIO A TODO AQUEL QUE HA PREPARADO SU CORAZÓN PARA BUSCAR A DIOS, A יהוה EL DIOS DE SUS PADRES, AUNQUE NO ESTÉ PURIFICADO según los ritos de purificación del Santuario. Y OYÓ יהוה A EZEQUÍAS, Y SANÓ AL PUEBLO» (2 Crónicas 30:18-20)

Extravío # 4:

Dios es Soberano; hace lo que quiere, y nadie puede cuestionarlo

Texto De Refutación:

La omnipotencia de Dios, no implica que el Creador pueda hacer lo que quiera; pues el Creador no puede [por ejemplo] ser injusto, o mentiroso. Como esta escrito: «DIOS NO ES HOMBRE, PARA QUE MIENTA, Ni hijo de hombre para que se arrepienta»- Num. 23:19. Y también dice en otro lugar: «Lejos de ti el hacer tal, que hagas morir al justo con el impío, y que sea el justo tratado como el impío; nunca tal hagas. EL JUEZ DE TODA LA TIERRA, ¿NO HA DE HACER LO QUE ES JUSTO?»- Génesis 18:25.

Extravío # 5:

Dios ha desechado a Israel; de modo que ahora la Iglesia de Cristo es el Israel de Dios

Texto De Refutación:

Dios ha prometido nunca desechará a Israel. Como está escrito: «Así ha dicho יהוה, que da el Sol para luz del día, [y] las Leyes de la luna y de las estrellas, para luz de la noche... SI FALTAREN ESTAS LEYES DELANTE DE MÍ, DICE יהוה, TAMBIÉN LA DESCENDENCIA DE ISRAEL FALTARÁ PARA NO SER NACIÓN DELANTE DE MÍ eternamente. SI LOS CIELOS ARRIBA SE PUEDEN MEDIR, Y EXPLORARSE ABAJO LOS FUNDAMENTOS DE LA TIERRA, TAMBIÉN YO DESECHARÉ TODA LA DESCENDENCIA DE ISRAEL, por todo lo que hicieron...» (Jer. 31:35-37)

Extravío # 6:

Dios ha escogido a los necios de este mundo, para avergonzar a los sabios

Texto De Refutación:

Dios quiere que sus hijos abracen la sabiduría, y se alejen de la necedad. Como está escrito: «SABIDURÍA ANTE TODO; ADQUIERE SABIDURÍA; Y, sobre todas tus posesiones, adquiere inteligencia» - Proverbios 4:7. «LOS SABIOS HEREDARÁN HONRA, MAS LOS NECIOS LLEVARÁN IGNOMINIA» - Prov. 3:35

Extravío # 7:

Dios se cansó de las rebeliones de Israel; y, por tanto, les abandonó y maldijo, para que dejaran de ser su Pueblo.

Textos De Refutación:

«NO HA NOTADO INIQUIDAD EN JACOB, NI HA VISTO PERVERSIDAD EN ISRAEL. יהוה (ADONAI YAH) SU DIOS ESTÁ CON ÉL, Y júbilo de Rey en él» (Números 23:21).

«BENDECIRÉ A LOS QUE TE BENDIJEREN [O ISRAEL], Y A LOS QUE TE MALDIJEREN, MALDECIRÉ» (Génesis 12:3)

«NO TOQUÉIS, DIJO [DIOS], A MIS UNGIDOS, NI HAGÁIS MAL A MIS PROFETAS» (Salmo 105:15)

Extravío # 8:

Dios ya no considera Justo al hombre que ha caído en pecado, aunque haya caído en una sola ocasión

Texto De Refutación:

Un justo, puede caer cada uno de los siete días de la semana; pero, si se levanta (es decir, si se arrepiente de corazón), Dios le perdona, y le continúa considerando justo. Como esta escrito: «PORQUE SIETE VECES CAE EL JUSTO, Y [SIETE VECES] VUELVE A LEVANTARSE» (Proverbios 24:16)

Extravío # 9:

El Creador, consiste de tres personas distintas: el Padre, el Hijo, y el Espíritu Santo

Texto De Refutación:

«.. ASÍ DICE יהוה, Rey de Israel... “YO SOY EL PRIMERO (PORQUE NO TENGO PADRE), Y YO SOY EL POSTRERO (PORQUE NO TENGO HIJO), y FUERA DE MÍ, NO HAY DIOS (porque no tengo Hermano)»- Isaías 44:6. Y, «Ved ahora que YO, YO SOY, Y NO HAY DIOSES CONMIGO (es decir, no hay nadie que sea un “Co-Dios” conmigo)...» (Deuteronomio 32:39)

Extravío # 10:

El creyente no puede odiar, ni puede usar la violencia contra nadie

Texto De Refutación:

-- Dios se agrada de que odiamos la maldad (la inmoralidad, la mentira, y el orgullo): «Has amado la justicia y ABORRECIDO LA MALDAD; Por tanto, te ungió Dios, el Dios tuyo....» - Salmo 45:7

-- El amor, a menudo requiere violencia: «No rehúses corregir al muchacho; Porque SI LO CASTIGAS CON VARA, NO MORIRÁ.» - Prov. 23:13. «Y REÑÍ CON ELLOS, Y LOS MALDIJE, Y HERÍ A ALGUNOS DE ELLOS, y les arranqué los cabellos, y les hice jurar...»- Nehemías 13:25

Extravío # 11:

El Cristianismo, es la Religión de Dios; y esto le hace la única y verdadera Religión

Texto De Refutación:

Cuando Dios reine finalmente en Sión, no será el Cristianismo la fe que habrá de enseñarse a las naciones gentiles. ¿Cual será la fe que se enseñará a las Naciones del Mundo? ¡Pues la fe Hebrea! Como esta escrito: «Y vendrán muchas Naciones, y dirán: Venid, y subamos al monte de יהוה, a la casa del Dios de Jacob; y nos enseñará sus caminos, y caminaremos por sus sendas. PORQUE DE SION SALDRÁ LA TORAH (LA LEY), y de Jerusalén la palabra de יהוה» (Isaías 2:3).

NOTE COMO, SERÁ LA LEY DE LA FE HEBREA (Y NO LA GRACIA DE LA FE CRISTIANA), LA QUE SALDRÁ DE JERUSALÉN, A FIN DE QUE LA APRENDAN LAS NACIONES DEL MUNDO. ¿Y que de las naciones que nunca entendieron que, si la Ley estaba escrita en Piedra, fue solo para mostrarnos que, al igual que la Piedra, la Ley era para siempre? Pues que vendrán, y confesarán (arrepentidos) la vanidad de sus creencias. Como está escrito: «... A ti vendrán Naciones desde los extremos de la Tierra, y dirán: CIERTAMENTE MENTIRA POSEYERON NUESTROS PADRES, VANIDAD, Y NO HAY EN ELLOS PROVECHO» (Jeremías 16:19).

Extravío # 12:

El Cristiano no puede creer lo dicho y ordenado en la Ley de Dios, porque el Evangelio presenta a Jesús (p.s.c.e.) diciendo algo distinto...

Texto De Refutación:

No es de sabios creer en todo lo que segundas y terceras personas alegan que hizo y dijo el Nazareno. Es que, "el papel aguanta todo lo que le escriben". Si los dichos y los hechos del Nazareno, hubiesen sido tan críticos e indispensables, Jesús habría hecho como hizo Moisés: los habría escrito personalmente, a fin de que no quedase duda alguna acerca de su exactitud y veracidad. Pero la realidad es que, la tradición Cristiana, siempre ha reconocido que Moisés escribió en efecto su mensaje; y que, Jesús, no escribió personalmente nada; como intimando que, lo ya contenido en las Escrituras Hebreas, era más que suficiente para alcanzar la Salvación; como confirma el mismo relato evangélico, cuando dice: "A Moisés y a los Profetas tienen; oiganlos" (Lucas 16:29)

Extravío # 13:

El Ecumenismo, proviene de Satanás. Si alguien es discípulo de Cristo, y comienza a hacer algo de lo que dice (u ordena) el liderato de alguna otra religión (como sería el caso de un Cristiano que comience a encender las velas de Shabbat durante el Sábado Hebreo), tal persona se ha hecho un Ecuménico.

Texto De Refutación:

Si fuese cierto que, el Ecumenismo (es decir, el obedecer lo que dice y ordena el liderato de alguna otra religión), proviene de Satanás, entonces tendríamos que decir que, el Evangelio, también proviene de Satanás. ¿Por que? Pues porque el Evangelio atribuye a Jesús haber sido Ecuménico. ¿Donde lo hace? Pues en el pasaje donde Jesús ordena a sus discípulos Cristianos el seguir todo lo que diga y ordene el liderato Hebreo (los escribas y fariseos). Como está escrito: “En la cátedra de Moisés se sientan LOS ESCRIBAS Y LOS FARISEOS. Así que, TODO LO QUE OS DIGAN QUE GUARDÉIS, GUARDADLO Y HACEDLO” (Mateo 23:2-3)

Extravío # 14:

Dios no se agrada del Ecumenismo (es decir, de que su pueblo imite las buenas costumbres de otra religiones, o pueblos

Texto De Refutación:

Dios espera que su Pueblo imite las buenas costumbres de las naciones gentiles que le rodean. Y cuando no lo hace, Dios se enoja con ellos. Como está escrito: «NI AÚN SEGÚN LAS [BUENAS] NORMAS DE LAS NACIONES QUE ESTÁN ALREDEDOR DE VOSOTROS HABÉIS HECHO» (Ezequiel 5:7). De nuevo, en el anterior pasaje Dios reprocha a Israel por haber fallado en copiar las buenas costumbres de las naciones en las cuales se encontraba exiliado; y por no haberse abstenido de copiar las malas costumbres de esas mismas naciones. Como esta escrito: «PORQUE NO HABÉIS ANDADO EN MIS ESTATUTOS, ni habéis obedecido mis decretos, SINO SEGÚN LAS [MALAS] COSTUMBRES DE LAS NACIONES QUE OS RODEAN HABÉIS HECHO»- Ezequiel 11:12

Extravío # 15:

El Evangelio es la Verdad

Texto De Refutación:

El llamado que hace el Evangelio al arrepentimiento (Mateo 4:17), y a la obediencia a los Mandamientos (Mateo 19:17), es verdadero, y esta en armonía con la Ley Divina. Pero, la teología evangélica que hace de Jesús la encarnación de Dios, es completamente Falsa; pues la Ley enseña que el Creador es infinito. Y, siendo infinito, ni siquiera los Cielos y la Tierra pueden contenerlo. Y, si los Cielos y la Tierra no pueden contener al Creador, ¿Cuanto menos podría haberlo contenido la casa terrenal (es decir, el cuerpo de carne y hueso) que tuvo el Nazareno? Como está escrito: «PERO ¿ES VERDAD QUE DIOS MORARÁ SOBRE LA TIERRA? ¡HE AQUÍ QUE LOS CIELOS, LOS

CIELOS DE LOS CIELOS, NO TE PUEDEN CONTENER!; ¿CUÁNTO MENOS ESTA CASA QUE YO HE EDIFICADO?» (1 Reyes 8:27)

Extravío # 16:

El Evangelio de Jesús (p.s.c.e.), es una mayor revelación que la Ley de Moisés (p.s.c.e.)

Texto De Refutación:

La revelación Mosaica, fue Nacional; y ningún Israelita tuvo duda alguna de que Dios había hablado con Moisés. Como está escrito: "MOISÉS HABLABA, Y DIOS LE RESPONDÍA CON VOZ TRONANTE» (Éxodo 19:19).

Pero, la revelación Evangélica, fue privada y particular, de modo que no todos los Israelitas estaban seguros de que Dios hubiese hablado con Jesús. Como está escrito: «Y LA MULTITUD QUE ESTABA ALLÍ, Y HABÍA OÍDO LA VOZ, DECÍA QUE HABÍA SIDO UN TRUENO. OTROS DECÍAN: UN ÁNGEL LE HA HABLADO» (Juan 15:29)

Extravío # 17:

El "Nuevo Testamento" (N.T.), es la Revelación Divina que "completa, y aclara" lo revelado en "el Antiguo Testamento" (A.T.)

Texto De Refutación:

El A.T. (la Ley) dice así: "Cuidarás de hacer todo lo que yo te mando; NO AÑADIRÁS A ELLO, NI DE ELLO QUITARÁS" (Deut. 12:32). Esto significa que, a la Ley, no se le puede "añadir" nada. Y que, si la Ley no dice explícitamente que Dios es una Trinidad, que el hombre hereda un pecado original, que Jesús es el Mesías, o que habría de venir algo llamado "el Evangelio", el creyente no puede aceptarlo, ni mucho menos hacerlo un indispensable dogma de fe. Es que, la Ley, es perfecta. Como está escrito: "LA LEY DE YAH ES PERFECTA..."- Salmo 19:7. Y, lo que ya es perfecto, no necesita ser completado, aclarado, abolido, ni sustituido

Extravío # 18:

El fin (la finalidad) de la Ley, es Cristo (paz y bendición sean con él)

Texto De Refutación:

La Ley misma explica cual era su significado. Y, ese significado, no es el alegado Mesianismo del Nazareno; sino que Dios ha hecho maravillas por los Hebreos. Y, que, viviendo por los mandamientos, los Hebreos serán tenidos por Justos, siendo de ese modo dignos de heredar la Tierra Prometida (símbolo del Nuevo Mundo que pronto ha de llegar). Como está escrito: «En el futuro tus hijos te preguntarán: "¿QUÉ SIGNIFICAN ESTAS LEYES... QUE יהוה NUESTRO DIOS NOS MANDÓ OBEDECER?”. Entonces tú les dirás: “NOSOTROS [LOS HEBREOS] ÉRAMOS SIERVOS DE FARAÓN EN EGIPTO, Y YAH NOS SACÓ DE EGIPTO CON MANO PODEROSA. YAH HIZO SEÑALES Y MILAGROS GRANDES Y TERRIBLES EN EGIPTO, SOBRE FARAÓN Y SOBRE TODA SU CASA, DELANTE DE NUESTROS OJOS... Y NOS SACÓ DE ALLÁ, PARA TRAERNOS Y DARNOS LA TIERRA QUE JURÓ A NUESTROS PADRES... ENTONCES יהוה' NUESTRO DIOS NOS ORDENÓ OBEDECER TODOS ESTOS DECRETOS Y TEMERLO A ÉL... PUES, CUANDO OBEDEZCAMOS TODOS LOS MANDATOS QUE יהוה' NUESTRO DIOS NOS HA DADO, ENTONCES SE NOS CONSIDERARÁ JUSTOS”» (Deut. 6:20-24).

Extravío # 19:

El Hijo del hombre (Jesús, el alegado Príncipe de Paz), vino a Salvar lo que se había perdido

Texto De Refutación:

El Nazareno no podía salvar literalmente a nadie; pues, siendo un hijo de hombre, no había en él salvación. Como esta escrito: «NO CONFIÉIS en los Príncipes, ni EN HIJO DE HOMBRE, PORQUE NO HAY EN ÉL SALVACIÓN» (Salmo 14:3)

Extravío # 20:

El hombre fue creado inmortal; pero perdió su inmortalidad, y no puede volver a Vivir para siempre a menos que crea en Jesús (paz sea con él)

Texto De Refutación:

El hombre fue creado mortal. Como esta escrito: «Y mandó יהוה' Dios al hombre, diciendo: De todo árbol del huerto podrás comer»- Gen. 2:16. ¡Si Adán necesitaba comer, era porque, si no lo hacía, se arriesgaba a morir de hambre!

El anterior texto intima que el hombre no tenía que creer en Jesús, a fin de poder vivir para siempre- ¡Solo necesitaba comer del árbol de la vida! Como esta escrito: «AHORA, PUES, QUE NO ALARGUE [ADÁN] SU MANO, Y TOME TAMBIÉN DEL ÁRBOL DE LA VIDA, Y COMA, Y VIVA PARA SIEMPRE» - Gen. 3:22» (De nuevo, Si Adán comía del fruto del árbol, podría haber tenido Vida eterna, sin haber creído en Jesús)

Extravío # 21:

El hombre hereda la muerte espiritual, a consecuencia del pecado de nuestros Padres Adán y Eva

Texto De Refutación:

“LOS PADRES NO MORIRÁN POR LOS HIJOS, NI LOS HIJOS POR LOS PADRES; CADA UNO MORIRÁ POR SU [PROPIO] PECADO” - Deuteronomio 24:16

Extravío # 22:

El “Nuevo Pacto” prometido por los profetas, era abandonar la obediencia a los mandamientos de la Ley, para abrazar en cambio la Gracia (sin necesidad alguna de seguir obedeciendo los mandamientos de la Ley).

Texto De Refutación:

«ESTE ES EL PACTO QUE HARÉ CON LA CASA DE ISRAEL DESPUÉS DE AQUELLOS DÍAS, DICE EL SEÑOR: DARÉ MI LEY EN SU MENTE, Y LA ESCRIBIRÉ EN SU CORAZÓN» (Jer. 31:33)

El anterior pasaje, muestra que, el "Nuevo Pacto", no era abandonar la Ley (como erróneamente postulan los Evangelios); sino observarla con mayor sinceridad, llevándola siempre en la mente, y en el corazón

Extravío # 23:

El que se circuncida, ha caído de la Gracia, y no tiene por tanto entrada en la Jerusalén Celestial

Texto De Refutación:

El que no tiene entrada en la Jerusalén Celestial, es el que, pudiendo circuncidarse, rehúsa hacerlo. Como está escrito: «Despierta, despierta, vístete de poder, oh Sion; VÍSTETE TU ROPA HERMOSA, OH JERUSALÉN, CIUDAD SANTA; PORQUE NUNCA MÁS VENDRÁ A TI INCIRCUNCISO ...» (Isaías 52:1)

Extravío # 24:

Los Hebreos que no abandonan los mandamientos (de la Ley), están bajo maldición; y es solo su soberbia, lo que les impide dejar los mandamientos, para seguir en cambio la Gracia de Cristo

Texto De Refutación:

Los que son realmente soberbios y malditos, son aquellos que se desvían de los mandamientos Divinos. Como está escrito: «Reprendiste a los Soberbios, LOS MALDITOS QUE SE DESVÍAN DE TUS MANDAMIENTOS» (Salmo 119:21). Y como también dice en otro lugar la Escritura: «APARTAOS DE MI MALIGNOS, PUES YO GUARDARE LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE MI DIOS» (Salmo 119:115)

Extravío # 25:

Cuando un Hebreo cita solo una porción de algún verso Bíblico, está tratando de ser fraudulento, pues, si quiere ser honesto, está obligado a citar "el verso completo"

Texto De Refutación:

La división de la Escritura en capítulos, párrafos, y versos, es artificial: una adición secular, hecha al texto original muchos siglos después de haber sido este último compuesto. Esta innovación, fue el producto del trabajo de aquellos que intentaron traducir la Escritura a otros idiomas. De hecho, aún en nuestros días, cualquiera que visite una sinagoga Hebrea, descubrirá que, el rollo de la Torah que allí se encuentra, no contiene ninguna división que pueda indicar con certeza alguna donde empieza o termina ningún capítulo, párrafo, o versículo.

Extravío # 26:

No hay otro nombre dado a los hombres, en que puedan ser salvos; así, todos los hombres, están obligados a invocar el nombre del Dios Jesús

Texto De Refutación:

«YO יהוה ; ESTE [Y NO “JE SUS”] ES MI [VERDADERO] NOMBRE; Y A OTRO [SER] NO DARÉ MI GLORIA» - Isaías 42:8

«Y NOMBRE DE OTROS DIOSES [FUERA DE יהוה] NO MENTARÉIS, NI SE OIRÁ DE VUESTRA BOCA»- Éxodo 23:13

Extravío # 27:

Israel no puede representar al Hijo de Dios, ni mucho menos al Siervo sufriente de Isaías 53, pues este último no tiene maldad alguna, mientras que, a los ojos de Dios, Israel está lleno de iniquidades

Texto De Refutación:

El Israel Bíblico, es un paradigma de los fieles creyentes Hebreos (guardadores de los Mandamientos) que se encuentran no solo entre los Hebreos, sino también entre todas las naciones y credos del Mundo. Y, es a este Israel, al cual Dios ve como Hijo, y como Siervo sufriente. De igual modo, es en este Israel, que Dios no ve falta alguna. Como está escrito: «NO HA NOTADO INIQUIDAD EN JACOB, NI HA VISTO PERVERSIDAD EN ISRAEL. יהוה (Adonai Yah) su Dios está con él, Y júbilo de Rey en él» (Num. 23:21)

Extravío # 28:

Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) es el hombre en el cual se ha encarnado la Deidad

Texto De Refutación:

“DIOS NO ES HOMBRE... NI HIJO DE HOMBRE” - Deuteronomio 23:19. ¿Y por que no puede Dios ser un hombre? Pues porque el Creador ha dicho que, el hombre, es vanidad y mentira (“Por cierto, VANIDAD SON LOS HIJOS DE LOS HOMBRES, MENTIRA LOS HIJOS DE VARÓN...”- Salmo 62:9); Y, ya que no hay vanidad ni mentira alguna en el Creador (“El es la Roca, cuya obra es perfecta, Porque TODOS SUS CAMINOS SON RECTITUD; DIOS DE VERDAD, Y SIN NINGUNA INIQUIDAD EN ÉL; ES JUSTO Y RECTO. LA CORRUPCIÓN NO ES SUYA; de sus hijos es la mancha...”- Deut. 32:4-5), es por tanto imposible que Dios se haga sí mismo un hombre

Extravío # 29:

Jesús (p.s.c.e.) es el Señor (Dios); y, a la misma vez, es “el Hijo de David” (el “Mesías”, o “La rama del tronco de Isaí”) prometido en Isaías 11:1

Texto De Refutación:

El N.T. cita a Jesús admitiendo que, le era literalmente imposible ser “Señor” (Dios), y a la misma vez ser el Hijo de David (Mesías). Como está escrito: «¿QUÉ PENSÁIS DEL CRISTO? ¿DE QUIÉN ES HIJO? LE DIJERON: DE DAVID. EL LES DIJO: ¿PUES CÓMO DAVID, EN EL ESPÍRITU, LE LLAMA SEÑOR, DICIENDO: DIJO EL SEÑOR A MI SEÑOR: “SIÉNTATE A MI DERECHA, HASTA QUE PONGA A TUS ENEMIGOS POR ESTRADO DE TUS PIES”? PUES SI DAVID LE LLAMA SEÑOR, ¿CÓMO ES SU HIJO?» Mateo 22:42-45. Es decir, Jesús aclara que, si era “Hijo de David” (el Mesías), entonces no podía ser el Señor (Dios) de David; pues estaría mal que, un hijo, “Señorease” sobre su Padre. Pero, si Jesús admite que no era el “Hijo de David”, entonces tampoco es el Mesías (la "Rama de Isaí") descrito en Isaías 11:1-10. Y, si Jesús no era el Mesías de Isaías 11, entonces todo el andamiaje del Cristianismo, se basa en una falsedad: el que Jesús (p.s.c.e.), es el Hijo de David (el Mesías que restauraría al mundo, según Isaías 11), algo que Jesús personalmente negó.

Extravío # 30:

Yeshua (Jesús de Nazaret, paz sea con él) fue “la vara del tronco de Isaí” (o “el Hijo de David”) que traería la restauración del mundo, y que en el futuro habría de sentarse sobre el trono de David su padre, para reinar así sobre todo Israel (Isaías 11:1-10)

Texto De Refutación:

1) En la Escritura Hebrea, la descendencia era validada por la genealogía del Padre biológico de la criatura (y no por la madre biológica). Y, aunque José fuese descendiente de David, Jesús no podía serlo; pues, según el evangelio, José no fue el padre biológico de Yeshua.

2) En Mateo 1:11-12, se nos dice que Jesús era descendiente de Jeconías; un Rey maldito, de quien se profetizó que, ninguno de sus descendientes, sería digno de sentarse en el Trono de David su Padre. Como está escrito: “Así ha dicho יהוה: Escribid lo que sucederá a este hombre privado de descendencia, hombre a quien nada próspero sucederá en todos los días de su vida; porque ninguno de su descendencia logrará sentarse sobre el trono de David, ni reinar sobre Judá” (Jer. 22:30).

Extravío # 31:

Jesús (p.s.c.e.), es el Hijo (de Dios) al cual hace referencia Isaías 9:6; y, la virgen María, es la Virgen que le concebiría, según Isaías 7:14

Texto De Refutación:

-- El "Hijo" (de Dios) prometido en Isaías 9:6, es Israel; a quien, de tiempo antiguo, la Escritura personifica como "el Hijo de Dios". Como está escrito: «יהוה ha dicho así: ISRAEL ES MI HIJO, MI PRIMOGÉNITO» (Éxodo 4:22). De igual modo, "la Virgen", es un modo alegórico de referirse a Jerusalén, así como a las Ciudades de Israel: «Cayó LA VIRGEN DE ISRAEL, y no podrá levantarse ya más; fue dejada sobre su tierra, no hay quien la levante. Porque así ha dicho יהוה el Señor: LA CIUDAD QUE SALGA CON MIL, VOLVERÁ CON CIENTO, Y LA QUE SALGA CON CIENTO, VOLVERÁ CON DIEZ...» (Amos 5:2-3)

Extravío # 32:

Jesús (p.s.c.e.) es el medio por el cual יהוה (el Dios de Israel) salva a los hombres.

Texto De Refutación:

El Dios de Israel, salva el alma del hombre, sin necesidad de carne ni sangre. ¿Como? Pues aceptando su sincera conversión, y su arrepentimiento. Como está escrito:

1) «Espera a יהוה, y ÉL TE SALVARÁ (Es decir, יהוה mismo te salvará, y no Moisés, Jesús, ni Muhammad)»- Prov. 20:22

2) «APÁRTATE DEL MAL, Y HAZ EL BIEN, Y VIVIRÁS PARA SIEMPRE» - Salmo 37:27

3) «Cercano está יהוה a los quebrantados de corazón; Y SALVA A LOS CONTRITOS DE ESPÍRITU» - Salmo 34:18

4) «Deje el impío su camino, y el hombre inicuo sus pensamientos, y VUÉLVASE A יהוה, EL CUAL TENDRÁ DE ÉL MISERICORDIA, y AL DIOS NUESTRO, EL CUAL SERÁ AMPLIO EN PERDONAR» - Isa. 55:7

5) «QUIZÁ OIGA LA CASA DE JUDÁ todo el mal que yo (יהוה) pienso hacerles, Y SE ARREPIENTA CADA UNO DE SU MAL CAMINO, Y YO PERDONARÉ SU MALDAD Y SU PECADO» - Jer. 36:3

6) «SI SE HUMILLARE MI PUEBLO, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, Y ORAREN, Y BUSCAREN MI ROSTRO, Y SE CONVIRTIEREN DE SUS MALOS CAMINOS; entonces YO (יהוה) OIRÉ DESDE LOS CIELOS, Y PERDONARÉ SUS PECADOS, y sanaré su Tierra» - 2 Crónicas 7:14

Extravío # 33:

Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) es el "Primogénito Hijo de Dios"

Texto De Refutación:

La Escritura muestra que Israel es el verdadero hijo de Dios (“Yah ha dicho así: ISRAEL ES MI HIJO, MI PRIMOGÉNITO” - Éxodo 4:22)

Extravío # 34:

Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) es el Rey ungido [o "Mesías"] que un día habrá de reinar sobre Israel

Texto De Refutación:

La Escritura Hebrea dice que David será quien en el futuro reine sobre Israel. Como esta escrito:

1) “... SINO QUE SERVIRÁN a יהוה su Dios, y A DAVID SU REY, A QUIEN YO LES LEVANTARÉ” (Jer. 30:9).

2) “MI SIERVO DAVID SERÁ REY SOBRE ELLOS, y todos ellos tendrán un solo pastor; y andarán en mis preceptos, y mis estatutos guardarán” (Eze. 37:24)

Extravío # 35:

Jesús (p.s.c.e.), es el Siervo Sufriente de Isaías 53; el Siervo de Dios, que habría de sufrir por el pecado del mundo

Texto De Refutación:

El “Siervo de Dios”, es en realidad el remanente fiel de Israel. Como está escrito: «Pero TU, ISRAEL, SIERVO MIO ERES; TU, JACOB, A QUIEN YO ESCOGÍ» (Isaías 41:8). Y también dice: «Ahora pues, OYE, JACOB, SIERVO MIO, Y TU, ISRAEL, A QUIEN YO ESCOGÍ» (Isaías 44:1). Y como confirma en otro pasaje: «Acuérdate de estas cosas, OH JACOB, e Israel, porque MI SIERVO ERES. Yo te formé, SIERVO MIO ERES TU; ISRAEL, no me olvides» (Isaías 44:21).

Y, si este Israel sufre injustamente, es por el pecado de los Israelitas infieles, así como por el pecado el del mundo gentil, que hostiga y persigue a todo aquel que persiste en vivir guiado por la Ley Divina.

Extravío # 36:

Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) es “el Siervo sufriente” descrito por Isaías

Texto De Refutación:

El “Siervo de Dios”, es en realidad el remanente fiel de Israel. Como está escrito: “ACUÉRDATE DE ESTAS COSAS, OH JACOB, E ISRAEL, PORQUE MI SIERVO ERES. YO TE FORMÉ, SIERVO MÍO ERES TÚ”- Isaías 44:21

Extravío # 37:

Jesús (p.s.c.e.) es único entre todos, pues ningún otro hombre ha sido engendrado del Espíritu Santo

Texto De Refutación:

No hay forma objetiva de verificar que Jesús hubiese sido hijo del Espíritu Santo, y no simplemente el hijo de un hombre común. De hecho, el Evangelio nunca adscribe a Jesús el decir tal cosa acerca de sí mismo. Si algo, Jesús afirma todo lo contrario: que es el hijo de un hombre (pues, no cesa de llamarse a si mismo "el Hijo del hombre"). Como está escrito: «Las zorras tienen guaridas, y las aves del cielo nidos; MAS EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE NO TIENE DÓNDE RECOSTAR SU CABEZA» (Mateo 8:20); «A cualquiera que dijere alguna palabra CONTRA EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE, le será perdonado» (Mateo 12:32); «EL QUE SIEMBRA LA BUENA SEMILLA, ES EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE» (Mateo 13:37); «EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE SERÁ ENTREGADO en manos de hombres, y le matarán» (Marcos 9:31); «NADIE SUBIÓ AL CIELO, SINO EL QUE DESCENDIÓ DEL CIELO; EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE, que está en el cielo» - Juan 3:13; «Y como Moisés levantó la serpiente en el desierto, ASÍ ES NECESARIO QUE EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE SEA LEVANTADO» - Juan 3:14; «y también le dio autoridad de hacer juicio, POR CUANTO ES EL HIJO DEL HOMBRE» - Juan 5:27; «Porque como el relámpago que sale del oriente y se muestra hasta el occidente, ASÍ SERÁ TAMBIÉN LA VENIDA DEL HIJO DEL HOMBRE» - Mateo 24:27

Extravío # 38:

Jesús (paz sea con él) es la encarnación de Dios

Texto De Refutación:

El Creador (bendito sea) es infinito. Y, siendo infinito, ni siquiera los Cielos y la Tierra pueden contenerlo. Y, si los Cielos y la Tierra no pueden contener al Creador, ¿Cuanto menos podrá haberlo contenido "la casa terrenal" (el cuerpo de carne y hueso) en el que habito el Nazareno? Como está escrito: «PERO ¿ES VERDAD QUE DIOS MORARÁ SOBRE LA TIERRA? ¿HE AQUÍ QUE LOS CIELOS, LOS CIELOS DE LOS CIELOS, NO TE PUEDEN CONTENER!; ¿Cuánto menos esta casa que yo he edificado?» (1 Reyes 8:27).

Extravío # 39:

Jesús es la imagen visible del Dios invisible. Así que, el que ha visto a Cristo, ha visto a Dios

Texto De Refutación:

La Torah muestra que nadie puede ver a Dios, y continuar viviendo. Como está escrito: “NO PODRÁS VER MI ROSTRO; PORQUE NO ME VERÁ HOMBRE, Y VIVIRÁ [PARA CONTARLO]”- Éxodo 33:20. Cuando la Escritura dice que alguien "vio" a Dios, que alguien "hablo" con Dios, o que alguien "oyó" a Dios, obviamente no se refiere a la manifestación más íntima de la esencia Divina, que excede a la existencia misma; sino a alguien (o algo) que habla en nombre del Creador; alguien que le representa; ya sea este un ángel, un mensajero Divino, una voz celestial, un sueño, o algún profeta. Como fue el caso con Moisés, según ilustra el pasaje que dice: «יהוה dijo a Moisés: "Mira, yo te he constituido Dios para Faraón..."»- Éxodo 7:1.

Así, el ser humano nunca ha visto realmente a Dios. Y, en esto, la tradición Cristiana concuerda con la fe Hebrea, pues los Escritos Cristianos cierran su teología con las palabras del apóstol Juan, quien es citado diciendo: "NADIE HA VISTO JAMÁS A DIOS"- 1ra Juan 4:12.)

Extravío # 40:

Jesús (p.s.c.e.) es la Luz del Mundo; y, el que no tiene a Cristo, andará siempre en Tinieblas

Texto De Refutación:

La Luz del alma, no llega cuando el Hombre cree que Jesús (p.s.c.e.) es el Mesías; llega cuando el hombre se convierte de su maldad, y comienza a hacer el bien que agrada al Creador; viviendo en humildad, teniendo misericordia de aquellos que sufren, y apartándose de la mentira, de la usura, y de la inmoralidad. Como está escrito: «¿NO ES QUE PARTAS TU PAN CON EL HAMBRIENTO, Y A LOS POBRES ERRANTES ALBERGUES EN TU CASA; QUE, CUANDO VEAS AL DESNUDO, LO CUBRAS, Y NO TE ESCONDAS DE TU HERMANO? ENTONCES NACERÁ TU LUZ COMO EL ALBA, y tu Salvación se dejará ver pronto; e irá tu justicia delante de ti, y la gloria de יהוה será tu retaguardia. Entonces invocarás, y te oirá יהוה; clamarás, y dirá Él: "Heme aquí". SI QUITARES DE EN MEDIO DE TI EL YUGO, EL DEDO AMENAZADOR, Y EL HABLAR VANIDAD; Y SI DIERES TU PAN AL HAMBRIENTO, Y SACIARAS EL ALMA AFLIGIDA, EN LAS TINIEBLAS NACERÁ TU LUZ, Y TU OSCURIDAD será COMO EL MEDIODÍA. יהוה te pastoreará siempre, y en las sequías saciará tu alma, y dará vigor a tus huesos; y serás como huerto de riego, y como manantial de aguas, cuyas aguas nunca faltan» - Isaías 58:7-11

Extravío # 41:

Jesús es la Piedra desechada por lo edificadores (es decir, Jesús es la Piedra hacia la que todos los Hebreos deben mirar)

Texto De Refutación:

La Escritura Hebrea, identifica a Abraham como la Piedra a la que todos los Hebreos deben mirar. Como está escrito: «Oídmme, los que seguís la justicia, los que buscáis a יהוה. MIRAD A LA PIEDRA DE DONDE FUISTEIS CORTADOS... MIRAD A ABRAHAM, VUESTRO PADRE...» (Isaías 51:1-2)

Extravío # 42:

Jesús (p.s.c.e.) es la simiente de Abraham, en la cual habrían de ser benditas todas las Naciones; es decir, “la simiente de Abraham” no eran muchas personas (el pueblo de Israel), sino una sola persona (Jesús de Nazaret)

Texto De Refutación:

La palabra Hebrea que la Escritura traduce como “simiente”, siempre aparece en el plural (simientes), y nunca en el singular(simiente). Por ejemplo, la Escritura dice: «... Y HARÉ TU SIMIENTE COMO EL POLVO DE LA TIERRA (QUE CONSISTE DE UN GRAN NUMERO DE PARTÍCULAS): que si alguno podrá contar el polvo de la tierra, también tu simiente será contada.» (Gen. 13:16, Biblia Reina Valera, Versión 1909). Así que es insensato el decir que Jesús era “la simiente [singular]” prometida a Abraham

Extravío # 43:

Yeshua (Jesús de Nazaret, paz y bendición sean con él), es "la Verdad"

Texto De Refutación:

¡La Escritura enseña que, es la Ley de Dios [y no Yeshua], quien es la Verdad! Como esta escrito: “Y TU LEY (ES) LA VERDAD” - Salmo 119:142.

Extravío # 44:

Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) es tan grande como Moisés, y aún mayor que Moisés

Texto De Refutación:

La Escritura Hebrea prometía que nunca se habría de levantar en Israel otro profeta que fuese como Moisés [es decir, de igual o mayor calibre]. Como esta escrito: “Y NUNCA MÁS SE LEVANTÓ PROFETA EN ISRAEL COMO MOISÉS” - Deuteronomio 34:10

Extravío # 45:

Jesús (p.s.c.e.) es mayor que Moisés (p.s.c.e.); por tanto, hay que seguir a Jesús, y no a Moisés.

Texto De Refutación:

El evangelio dice así: «Y no pudo (Jesús) hacer allí ningún milagro, salvo que sanó a unos pocos enfermos, poniendo sobre ellos las manos. Y estaba asombrado de la incredulidad de ellos» (Marcos 6:5-6). Note como lo anterior implica que, el Dios que se manifestaba en Moisés (paz sea con él), era superior al dios que se manifestaba en Jesús. ¿Por que? Pues porque, el Dios que obraba los milagros por medio de Moisés, no necesitaba de la fe de los Israelitas, a fin de hacer sus grandes maravillas [como por ejemplo, abrir el mar rojo]. Pero, el dios que se manifestaba en Jesús, no podía hacer maravilla alguna, sin la fe de los Israelitas.

Extravío # 46:

Jesús (p.s.c.e.) fue el profeta predicho por Moisés. Como está escrito: «Profeta les levantaré de en medio de sus hermanos, como tú; y pondré mis palabras en su boca... Mas a cualquiera que no oyere mis palabras que él hablare en mi nombre, yo le pediré cuenta» (Deut. 18:18-19)

Texto De Refutación:

El profeta sería “como Moisés”; es decir, sería el producto de dos padres humanos, y haría las mismas cosas que hizo Moisés. ¿Que cosas hizo Moisés? Pues dividió las aguas del mar Rojo; venció a los enemigos de Israel (Faraón y su ejercito); Fue el supremo caudillo y líder de los Israelitas (designando el lugar que ocuparía cada tribu en el campamento); Castigó públicamente a quienes desobedecieron la Ley (por ejemplo, a Coré); Y escribió para Israel un libro donde le daba mandamientos y ordenanzas. Ese profeta, que habría de suceder a Moisés, no era otro sino Josué [el hijo de Nun]; pues, al igual que Moisés, Josué fue el producto de dos padres humanos; Josué dividió las aguas (del río Jordán)- Josué 3:7, & 14-16; Josué venció a los enemigos de Israel (conquistando tanto a Jericó, como a las naciones Cananeas)- Josué 6:24; Josué fue el supremo caudillo y líder de los Israelitas (fue quien decidió que lugar ocuparía cada tribu, en la tierra de Israel) - Josué 23:4; Josué castigo públicamente a quienes desobedecieron la Ley (Acán y su familia)- Josué 7:19-26; Y Josué escribió mandamientos y ordenanzas para Israel (Josué 24:25-26).

Así, Josué fue el profeta prometido por Dios; y, al igual que sucedió con Moisés, el libro que acompañó el ministerio profético de Josué, fue el libro de la Ley (cuyo fundamento son los diez mandamientos).

Extravío # 47:

Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él) es el Sacrificio de Dios

Texto De Refutación:

“LOS SACRIFICIOS DE DIOS SON EL ESPÍRITU QUEBRANTADO (es decir, el corazón arrepentido)”- Salmo 51:17

Extravío # 48:

Jesús fue el único en resucitar de entre los muertos

Texto De Refutación:

Ningún seguidor de Jesús, le vio resucitar de su tumba. Y, quienes [alegadamente] le vieron luego de resucitar, a menudo no vieron la misma persona que antes habían conocido [¡de modo que no tenían certeza absoluta de la veracidad de la resurrección!]. Como está escrito: “Les dijo Jesús: Venid, comed. Y ninguno de los discípulos se atrevía a preguntarle: ¿TÚ, QUIÉN ERES?” (Juan 21:12). Y también dice: “Sucedió que mientras hablaban y discutían entre sí, Jesús mismo se acercó, y caminaba con ellos. MAS LOS OJOS DE ELLOS ESTABAN VELADOS, PARA QUE NO LE CONOCIESEN” (Lucas 24:15-16). Y finalmente: “Pero los once discípulos se fueron a Galilea, al monte donde Jesús les había ordenado. Y cuando le vieron, le adoraron; pero ALGUNOS DUDABAN” (Mateo 28:16-17)

Extravío # 49:

Jesús (p.s.c.e.) murió para expiar el pecado del mundo; y, su resurrección, es prueba de que Dios se agradó de su sacrificio

Texto De Refutación:

El relato de la resurrección de Jesús, es incierto y dudoso; pues, ninguno de sus seguidores le vio resucitar de su tumba. Y, quienes [alegadamente] le vieron luego de resucitar, a menudo no vieron a la misma persona que antes habían conocido [¡de modo que no tenían certeza absoluta de la veracidad de la resurrección!]. Como está escrito: “Les dijo Jesús: Venid, comed. Y ninguno de los discípulos se atrevía a preguntarle: ¿TÚ, QUIÉN ERES?” (Juan 21:12). Y también dice: “Sucedió que mientras hablaban y discutían entre sí, Jesús mismo se acercó, y caminaba con ellos. MAS LOS OJOS DE ELLOS ESTABAN VELADOS, PARA QUE NO LE CONOCIESEN” (Lucas 24:15-16). Y finalmente: “Pero los once discípulos se fueron a Galilea, al monte donde Jesús les había ordenado. Y cuando le vieron, le adoraron; pero ALGUNOS DUDABAN” (Mateo 28:16-17). Para empeorar las cosas, el “Nuevo testamento” enseña que, quienes experimentan la resurrección eterna (a diferencia de quienes solo experimentan una resurrección temporal), resucitan en un cuerpo espiritual, y no en un cuerpo de carne y hueso. Como está escrito: “Se siembra cuerpo animal, RESUCITARÁ CUERPO ESPIRITUAL” (1 Corintios 15:44). ¿Por que tiene que ser esto así? Pues porque, según el Nuevo testamento, “LA CARNE Y LA SANGRE NO HEREDARAN EL REINO DE DIOS”. Como está escrito: “Pero esto digo, hermanos: que LA CARNE Y LA SANGRE NO PUEDEN HEREDAR EL REINO DE DIOS” (1 Corintios 15:50). Así, si es realmente cierto que se resucita en un cuerpo espiritual, y no en un cuerpo de carne y hueso, entonces Jesús en realidad nunca resucitó; pues, luego de haber supuestamente resucitado, el Evangelio le cita afirmando que aún tiene un cuerpo de carne y hueso: “Entonces, espantados y atemorizados, pensaban que veían espíritu. Pero él les dijo: ¿Por qué estáis turbados... Mirad mis manos y mis pies, que yo mismo soy; palpad, y ved; porque UN ESPÍRITU NO TIENE CARNE NI HUESOS, COMO VEIS QUE YO TENGO” (Lucas 24:37-39).

La Escritura Hebrea, profetizaba el nacimiento virginal del futuro Mesías (Jesús), en el pasaje que dice: “He aquí la virgen concebirá, y dará a luz un hijo, y llamará su nombre Emanuel”- Isaías 7:14

Texto De Refutación:

- 1) La palabra que la Biblia Castellana traduce como "Virgen", es incorrecta. La traducción mas correcta, es "Jovencita".
- 2) Los Escritos Cristianos, no indican en ninguna parte que María haya dado a Jesús el Nombre de "Emanuel".
- 3) El contexto de Isaías 7:14, muestra claramente que sería una señal para el rey Acaz, quien la vería hacerse realidad durante el curso de su reinado; Acaz temía una invasión de Rezin y de Peka, pero Dios le prometió que, antes de que el niño madurase, la tierra de estos dos reyes sería arruinada. Como está escrito: "Comerá mantequilla y miel, hasta que sepa desechar lo malo y escoger lo bueno. Porque, ANTES QUE EL NIÑO SEPA DESECHAR LO MALO, Y ESCOGER LO BUENO, LA TIERRA DE LOS DOS REYES QUE TÚ TEMES, SERÁ ABANDONADA" - Isaías 7:15-16.

Extravío # 51:

Según el Evangelio, Jesús (p.s.c.e.) nació en Belén; y esto le califica para reinar sobre Israel, como está escrito: "Pero tú, Belén Efrata... de ti me saldrá el que será Señor en Israel..." (Miqueas 5:2)

Texto De Refutación:

Jesús no solamente estaba descalificado para reinar, sino ni siquiera para ser parte de la congregación de Israel. ¿Por qué? Pues porque la Ley ordenaba lo siguiente: «NO ENTRARÁ BASTARDO EN LA CONGREGACIÓN DE יִשְׂרָאֵל» (Deut. 23:2). Es que, tiempo antaño, cuando un hombre Israelita se desposaba con una mujer Israelita, y esta última daba luego a luz un hijo que no había sido engendrado por su marido, se decía que tal hijo era "un bastardo". Y la Ley de Dios cuidaba mucho de la reputación del pueblo Hebreo, pues prohibía que el bastardo entrase en la congregación de Israel. ¿Por que? pues para evitar que sus nietos pudiesen llegar a ser Reyes, o Sumos Sacerdotes, manchando de este modo la dignidad de tan honorables puestos. Y es por esto que, Jesús de Nazaret [que no nació de José, el esposo de su madre María], no podía ser [formalmente] parte de la congregación de Israel; no podía ser Sumo sacerdote (para poder ofrecer sacrificio alguno por el pecado), y mucho menos podía ser Rey o Señor en Israel. Es que, siendo técnicamente un bastardo, la Ley le descalificaba para todas estas posiciones.

Extravío # 52:

Jesús de Nazaret (paz y bendición sean con él), vivió una vida libre de pecados

Texto De Refutación:

"CIERTAMENTE NO HAY HOMBRE JUSTO EN LA TIERRA, QUE HAGA EL BIEN Y NUNCA PEQUE" (Eclesiastés 7:20)

Extravío # 53:

La Gracia es más que la Ley; por eso la Ley ya pasó, y estamos ahora en la Gracia

Texto De Refutación:

La Escritura dice que la Ley es perfecta. Como está escrito: «LA LEY DE YAH ES PERFECTA...» (Salmo 19:7). Y, lo que ya es en sí mismo perfecto, no puede ser mejorado, abolido, ni cambiado; e, intentar hacerlo, sería un tipo de adulterio; algo prohibido por los Diez mandamientos.

Extravío # 54:

La Ley es Maldición, pues solo trae tristeza, y esclavitud

Texto De Refutación:

-- La Ley trae Alegría, como está escrito: «LOS MANDAMIENTOS DE יהוה son rectos, que ALEGAN EL CORAZÓN» - Salmo 19:8.

-- La Ley Trae Libertad, como está escrito: «GUARDARÉ TU LEY siempre, para siempre y eternamente. Y ANDARÉ EN LIBERTAD» - Salmo 119:44-45

Extravío # 55:

La Salvación es por la fe (en Jesús, p.s.c.e), y no por las obras

Texto De Refutación:

La salvación se alcanza haciendo las buenas obras que agradan a Dios. Como está escrito: “Apartate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre” (Salmo 37:27). Y, como también se le atribuye decir al Nazareno: “Venid, benditos de mi Padre, HEREDAD EL REINO PREPARADO PARA VOSOTROS DESDE LA FUNDACIÓN DEL MUNDO. PORQUE TUVE HAMBRE, Y ME DISTEIS DE COMER; TUVE SED, Y ME DISTEIS DE BEBER; FUI FORASTERO, Y ME RECOGISTEIS; ESTUVE DESNUDO, Y ME CUBRISTEIS; ENFERMO, Y ME VISITASTEIS; EN LA CÁRCEL, Y VINISTEIS A MÍ” (Mateo 25:34-36)

Extravío # 56:

Lo que revela "El Antiguo Testamento", debe interpretarse a la luz de lo que revela "El Nuevo Testamento"

Texto De Refutación:

La veracidad de "El Antiguo Testamento" ("la Ley"), no depende de la veracidad de "El Nuevo Testamento" ("el Evangelio"); Pero, la veracidad de "El Nuevo Testamento", depende absolutamente de la veracidad de "El Viejo Testamento". ¿Por que? Pues porque, no es la Ley, la que alega ser el cumplimiento del Evangelio; sino que es el Evangelio, el que alega ser el cumplimiento de la Ley. Así que, siempre que el Evangelio difiera (o contradiga) con lo dicho en la Ley, la lógica nos fuerza a asumir que, es el Evangelio [y no la Ley], el que está equivocado. ¿Por que? Pues porque, si el Evangelio “no cumple” con lo dicho en la Ley, entonces sería ridículo reclamar que el Evangelio sea “el cumplimiento” de la Ley.

Extravío # 57:

La Vida Eterna, es el producto de creer que Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él), es el Mesías

Texto De Refutación:

La Escritura dice: “APÁRTATE DEL MAL, Y HAZ EL BIEN, Y VIVIRÁS PARA SIEMPRE”- Salmo 37:27. Así, la Escritura muestra que, la vida eterna, es el producto de apartarse del mal, y no de creer en el mesianismo de Jesús (paz sea con el)

Extravío # 58:

Lo que Dios pide del Hombre, es que crea en Jesús (paz y bendición sean con él)

Texto De Refutación:

Lo que Dios realmente pide del hombre, es que sea justo, misericordioso, y humilde. Como esta escrito: “OH HOMBRE, ÉL TE HA DECLARADO LO QUE ES BUENO, ¿Y QUÉ PIDE יהוה' DE TI? SOLAMENTE HACER JUSTICIA, Y AMAR MISERICORDIA, Y HUMILLARTE [EN ARREPENTIMIENTO] ANTE TU DIOS” - Miqueas 6:8

Extravío # 59:

Los Hebreos deben seguir a los Gentiles hacia el Cristianismo

Texto De Refutación:

Son los Gentiles los que deben seguir a los Hebreos, hacia la fe Hebrea. Como está escrito: «Así ha dicho יהוה' de los ejércitos: EN AQUELLOS DÍAS, ACONTECERÁ QUE DIEZ HOMBRES DE LAS NACIONES DE TODA LENGUA (GENTILES) TOMARÁN DEL MANTO A UN HEBREO, DICHIENDO: IREMOS CON VOSOTROS, PORQUE HEMOS OÍDO QUE DIOS ESTÁ CON VOSOTROS» (Zacarías 8:23)

Extravío # 60:

Los Hebreos están bajo una Ley (la Ley de los Mandamientos), mientras que los Cristianos (Gentiles), están bajo otra Ley (la Ley de la Gracia)

Texto De Refutación:

La Escritura ordena una misma Ley para Hebreos y gentiles: «UNA MISMA LEY Y UN MISMO DECRETO TENDRÉIS, VOSOTROS Y EL EXTRANJERO QUE CON VOSOTROS MORA» (Deut. 15:16). El anterior pasaje muestra que, La Escritura Hebrea, no contenía una Ley para los Gentiles, y otra Ley para los Hebreos. La Ley de Dios, simplemente reconocía que cualquier Gentil podía hacerse parte de Israel (abrazando la fe Hebrea); comenzando a obedecer la misma Ley que obedecían todos los creyentes Hebreos (la única Ley que existe, a los ojos del Creador)

Extravío # 61:

Nadie ha podido guardar los mandamientos; de modo que, no hay nadie justo ante Dios

Texto De Refutación:

Pensar que Dios espera perfecta obediencia, de parte de hombres imperfectos, es perfecta locura. Dios solo espera que, aunque nunca lleguemos a la perfección ética y moral, hagamos de ella la meta y la jornada de nuestras vidas. Y, quien tal hace, es considerado justo, como fue el caso con Job y David:

«PÉSEME DIOS EN BALANZAS DE JUSTICIA, Y CONOCERÁ MI INTEGRIDAD» - Job 31:6

«Más que los viejos he entendido, Porque HE GUARDADO TUS MANDAMIENTOS» - Salmo 119:100

«MI ALMA HA GUARDADO TUS TESTIMONIOS, Y los he amado en gran manera» - Salmo 119:167.

«HE GUARDADO TUS MANDAMIENTOS Y TUS TESTIMONIOS, Porque todos mis caminos están delante de ti» - Salmo 119:168

«YAH (יהוה) ME HA PREMIADO CONFORME A MI JUSTICIA; CONFORME A LA LIMPIEZA DE MIS MANOS me ha recompensado» - 2 Samuel 22:21

«PORQUE YO HE GUARDADO LOS CAMINOS DE יהוה, Y no me aparté impíamente de mi Dios» - 2 Samuel 22:22)

Extravío # 62:

Nadie Viene al Padre, sino por medio de Cristo

Texto De Refutación:

Dios no quiere que dependamos de intermediario alguno, sino que clamemos directamente a Él. Como esta escrito: «CLAMA A MÍ (NO A JESÚS, A MOISÉS, A MUHAMMAD, NI A NINGÚN OTRO SER DE CARNE Y HUESO), Y YO TE RESPONDERÉ» (Jeremías 33:3)

Extravío # 63:

El Hombre no puede obtener el perdón de sus pecados, si no cree que Jesús es el Mesías, que murió para salvarle

Texto De Refutación:

El perdón de los pecados está garantizado para quienes proceden al sincero arrepentimiento. Como está escrito: “QUIZÁ OIGA LA CASA DE JUDÁ todo el mal que yo pienso hacerles, Y SE ARREPIENTA CADA UNO DE SU MAL CAMINO, Y YO PERDONARÉ SU MALDAD Y SU PECADO” - Jeremías 36:3

Extravío # 64:

No hay que seguir obedeciendo los Mandamientos, pues la Ley ya pasó

Texto De Refutación:

«LA LEY DE יהיה ES PERFECTA... (Y, LO QUE YA ES PERFECTO, NO PUEDE SER ABOLIDO, NI SUSTITUIDO POR ALGO MEJOR)» (Salmo 19:7)

«NUNCA SE APARTARÁ DE TU BOCA ESTE LIBRO DE LA LEY, SINO QUE DE DÍA Y DE NOCHE MEDITARÁS EN ÉL, PARA QUE GUARDES Y HAGAS CONFORME A TODO LO QUE EN ÉL ESTÁ ESCRITO» (Josué 1:8)

Extravío # 65:

El creyente no puede juzgar, pues Jesús (p.s.c.e.) dijo: “No juzguéis, para que no seáis juzgados”

Texto De Refutación:

La Ley de Dios ordena diciendo: «... JUZGAD JUSTAMENTE ENTRE EL HOMBRE Y SUS HERMANO, Y EL EXTRANJERO» (Deuteronomio 1:16). Y, «JUZGAD SEGÚN LA VERDAD, Y LO CONDUCENTE A PAZ EN VUESTRAS PUERTAS» (Zacarías 8:16)»

Extravío # 66:

Solo Jesús (p.s.c.e.) puede transformar al hombre, y hacerle “nacer de nuevo”

Texto De Refutación:

No es Jesús, sino el arrepentimiento sincero, el que hace que el hombre nazca de nuevo. Como está escrito: «Se escribirá esto para la generación venidera; Y el pueblo que está por nacer, alabará a Yah» (Salmo 102:18). Del final del verso, deducimos que, el Santo de Israel (bendito sea), recibe al hombre que se arrepiente; Porque, al continuar diciendo, “El pueblo que está por nacer, alabara a Yah”, se hace clara referencia al penitente, a quien Dios hace “nacer de nuevo”; dándole una nueva vida

Extravío # 67:

Solo Cristo Salva

Texto De Refutación:

No es Jesús, sino יהוה quien salva a los creyentes. Como esta escrito: «... YO יהוה, Y FUERA DE MÍ, NO HAY QUIEN SALVE» (Isaías 43:11)

«PORQUE YO יהוה, Dios tuyo, el Santo de Israel, SOY TU SALVADOR...» (Isaías 43:3)

Extravío # 68:

El hombre no puede entender por sí solo el mensaje de las Escrituras. Solo el Espíritu Santo puede mostrarle su correcta interpretación

Texto De Refutación:

Dios no es un Dios cruel, ni sádico, que juegue a esconderse de sus criaturas, o a hacerse el difícil de encontrar. El camino a la Vida Eterna, es tan sencillo que, por torpe que sea un individuo, si busca a Dios de corazón, y a pesar de no tener el Espíritu Santo, no se extraviará. Como está escrito:

«Y SERÁ LLAMADO CAMINO DE SANTIDAD; no pasará inmundo por él, sino que él mismo estará con ellos; EL QUE ANDUVIERE EN ESTE CAMINO, POR TORPE QUE SEA, NO SE EXTRAVIARÁ» (Isaías 35:8)

Extravío # 69:

El hombre es justificado por la fe en Jesucristo, y no por las obras de la Ley, ya que la Ley no logró perfeccionar a nadie.

Texto De Refutación:

La Escritura Hebrea muestra que, todo aquel que propuso vivir por la Ley, fue considerado un hombre “perfecto” [aún si su obediencia a la Ley nunca fue perfecta]. Como fue el caso con el rey Asa, así como con Josué y Caleb: «los lugares altos no se quitaron [lo cual es una violación a la Ley, según Deuteronomio 12:13]; CON TODO, EL corazón DE ASA FUE PERFECTO PARA CON יהוה TODA SU VIDA»- 1 Reyes 15:14; «No verán los varones que subieron de Egipto de veinte años arriba, la tierra que prometí con juramento a Avraham, Isaac y Jacob, por cuanto no fueron perfectos en pos de mí; EXCEPTO CALEB HIJO DE JEFONE CENEZEO, Y JOSUÉ HIJO DE NUN, QUE FUERON PERFECTOS»- Números 32:11-12. Y, el que los perfectos son los que siguen el camino de la Ley, es enseñado en el pasaje que dice: «Bienaventurados LOS PERFECTOS DE CAMINO [¿Y QUIENES SON LOS PERFECTO DE CAMINO?... PUES], LOS QUE ANDAN EN LA LEY DE יהוה »- Salmo 119:1

Extravío # 70:

Jesús fue el cordero pascual, que fue sacrificado por el pecado de todos los hombres.

Texto De Refutación:

El cordero pascual, no tenía el propósito de salvar a todos de la muerte; su propósito era salvar solo al primogénito varón de cada hogar Hebreo: “Pues yo pasaré aquella noche por la tierra de Egipto, y heriré a todo primogénito en la tierra de Egipto... y la sangre os será por señal... y veré la sangre, y pasaré de vosotros...”- Éxodo 12:12-13

Reformed Samaritanism

God is no longer pleased with the Jews, as they have become a proud, arrogant, and cruel people

Modern (or, "Rabbinical") Judaism stands upon Jewish Oral tradition-- mostly the Babylonian Talmud, as well as Rashi's commentary on Jewish Scripture (in fact, Jews consider Rashi of Troyes to be the greatest Bible commentator of the past 1,000 years). Unfortunately, the latter writings tend to make Jews proud and haughty; something the Holy One simply abhors ("Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord; my hand upon it! he shall not be unpunished"- Proverbs 16:5, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition). What kind of Oral traditions would incite Jews to become sinfully proud and arrogant? A good example of them could be the idea that Jews are as the most important of all creatures. As it has been said: «The verse, "But now thus said the Lord; Jacob created thee, Israel formed thee" (Isaiah 43:1) means, so said Rabbi Phinehas in the name of Rabbi Reuben, that the Holy One (God) said to His world: My World, My world, who created you? Who formed you? Jacob created you. Israel formed you. Rabbi Berekhiah [hastened to explain]: Heaven and earth were created only for the sake of Israel, for it is said, "On account of the beginning God created" (Genesis 1:1). Here, by "in the beginning" is meant Israel, of which Scripture says, "Israel is the Lord's hallowed portion, the beginning of His harvest" (Jeremiah 2:3)»-- Lev. R. 36:4; Yalkut, Isa. , §452.

World's real battle isn't one of Tyranny versus Democracy, Jew versus Gentile, nor Majority rule versus Minority Rule. It is instead the Battle between Good and Evil-- between living like a rational human being (guided by lofty principles like Family Values, Moral Accountability, Word of Honor, Decency, Solidarity, Fair Justice, Mercy, & Humility), and living like an Irrational Beast (Guided by an uncontrolled urge for Aberrant Sex, Violence, Revenge, Power grab, Selfish gain, Shameless Deception, And Vain Recognition)

La ancestral fuente de sabiduría Hebrea que antecede tanto al moderno Judaísmo Rabínico, así como al Cristianismo y el Islam

La Sabiduría, don del Señor

1:1 Toda sabiduría viene del Señor Yah, y está con Él para siempre. 1:2 ¿Quién puede contar la arena de los mares, las gotas de la lluvia y los días de la eternidad? 1:3 ¿Quién puede medir la altura del cielo, la extensión de la tierra, el abismo y la sabiduría? 1:4 Antes que todas las cosas fue creada la sabiduría y la inteligencia previsoras, desde la eternidad. 1:5 El manantial de la sabiduría es la Palabra de Dios que fue escrita en los Cielos; y sus canales son los Diez Mandamientos. 1:6 ¿A quién fue revelada la raíz de la sabiduría, y quién conoció sus secretos designios? 1:7 ¿A quién se le manifestó la ciencia de la sabiduría, y quién comprendió la diversidad de sus caminos? 1:8 Sólo uno es perfectamente sabio, temible en extremo: Yah el Señor, que está sentado en su trono. 1:9 Es el Señor Yah quien creó la sabiduría; la vio y la midió, y la derramó sobre todas sus obras: 1:10 la dio a todos los hombres, según su generosidad, y la infundió abundantemente en aquellos que lo aman.

El temor del Señor, fuente y plenitud de la Sabiduría

1:11 El temor del Señor es gloria y motivo de orgullo, es gozo y corona de alegría. 1:12 El temor del Señor Yah deleita el corazón, da gozo, alegría y larga vida. 1:13 Todo terminará bien para el que teme al Señor Yah; en el día de su muerte, será bendecido con una gloriosa recompensa. 1:14 El fundamento de la Sabiduría, es obedecer los mandamientos de Yah, el Rey del Universo: la Sabiduría es creada junto con los fieles, en el seno materno. 1:15 Anidó entre los hombres para siempre, y permanecerá fielmente con su descendencia. 1:16 La plenitud de la sabiduría es temer a Adonai Yah, y ella embriaga a sus fieles de sus frutos: 1:17 les colma la casa de bienes preciosos, y con sus productos llena sus graneros. 1:18 La corona de la sabiduría es el temor del Señor Yah: ella hace florecer el bienestar y la buena salud. 1:19 El Señor la vio y la midió, hizo llover la ciencia y el conocimiento, y exaltó la gloria de los que la poseen. 1:20 La raíz de la sabiduría es el temor del Señor, y las ramas del árbol de la Sabiduría, son una vida sin fin. 1:21 El temor del Señor aleja los pecados: el que persevera en él aparta la ira divina.

La paciencia y el dominio de sí mismo

1:22 Un arrebato indebido no puede justificarse, porque el ímpetu de la pasión lleva a la propia ruina. 1:23 El hombre paciente soporta hasta el momento oportuno, pero al fin se llenará de gozo: 1:24 él reserva sus palabras hasta el momento oportuno, y los labios de muchos proclamarán su inteligencia.

Condiciones para alcanzar la Sabiduría

1:25 En los tesoros de la sabiduría están los enigmas de la ciencia; pero, adorar a Adonai Yah, es algo que repugna al impío. 1:26 Si deseas la sabiduría, obedece los mandamientos, y el Señor te la dará abundantemente. 1:27 Porque el temor del Señor es Sabiduría, y Torah: a él le agradan la fidelidad y la mansedumbre. 1:28 No seas reacio al temor del Señor, ni te acerques a él con doblez de corazón. 1:29 No seas hipócrita delante de los hombres, y presta atención a tus palabras. 1:30 No te exaltes a ti mismo, no sea que caigas, y atraigas sobre ti el deshonor: el Señor revelará tus secretos, y te humillará en medio de la asamblea, por no haberte acercado al temor del Señor y porque tu corazón está lleno de falsedad.

CAPÍTULO 2

La constancia en medio de la prueba

2:1 Hijo, si decides servir al Señor Yah, prepara tu alma para la prueba. 2:2 Endereza tu corazón, sé firme, y no te inquietes en el momento de la desgracia. 2:3 Únete al Señor y no te separes, para que al final de tus días seas enaltecido. 2:4 Acepta de buen grado todo lo que te suceda, y sé paciente en las vicisitudes de tu humillación. 2:5 Porque el oro se purifica en el fuego, y los que agradan a Dios, en el crisol de la humillación. 2:6 Confía en Adonai Yah, y Él vendrá en tu ayuda, endereza tus caminos y espera en él.

La confianza en Dios

2:7 Los que temen al Señor, esperen su misericordia, y no se desvíen, para no caer. 2:8 Los que temen al Señor, tengan confianza en él, y no les faltará su recompensa. 2:9 Los que temen al Señor, esperen sus beneficios, el gozo duradero y la misericordia. 2:10 Fíjense en las generaciones pasadas y vean: ¿Quién confió en el Señor y quedó confundido? ¿Quién perseveró en su temor, y fue abandonado? ¿Quién lo invocó y no fue tenido en cuenta? 2:11 Porque el Señor es misericordioso y compasivo, perdona los pecados y salva en el momento de la aflicción. 2:12 ¡Ay de los corazones cobardes y de las manos que desfallecen, y del pecador que va por dos caminos! 2:13 ¡Ay del corazón que desfallece, porque no tiene confianza! A causa de eso no será protegido. 2:14 ¡Ay de ustedes, los que perdieron la constancia! ¿Qué van a hacer cuando el Señor los visite? 2:15 Los que temen al Señor no desobedecen sus palabras y los que lo aman siguen fielmente sus caminos. 2:16 Los que temen al Señor tratan de complacerlo y los que lo aman se sacian de su Ley. 2:17 Los que temen al Señor tienen el corazón bien dispuesto, y se humillan y se postran delante de él: 2:18 "Abandonémonos en las manos del Señor y no en las manos de los hombres, porque así como es su grandeza es también su misericordia".

Los deberes hacia los padres

3:1 Hijos, escúchenme a mí, que soy su padre; hagan lo que les digo, y así se salvarán. 3:2 Porque el Señor quiere que el padre sea respetado por sus hijos, y confirmó el derecho de la madre sobre ellos. 3:3 El que honra a su padre, expía sus pecados 3:4 y el que respeta a su madre, es como quien acumula un tesoro. 3:5 El que honra a su padre, encontrará alegría en sus hijos; y, cuando ore, será escuchado. 3:6 El que respeta a su padre, obtendrá vida eterna; y, el que obedece al Señor, da tranquilidad a su madre. 3:7 El que teme al Señor honra a su padre; y sirve como a sus dueños, a quienes le dieron la vida. 3:8 Honra a tu padre de palabra y obra, para que Su bendición descienda sobre ti, 3:9 porque la bendición de un Padre afianza la casa de sus hijos, pero la maldición de una madre arranca sus cimientos. 3:10 No busques tu gloria a costo del deshonor de tu padre, porque su deshonor no es una gloria para ti: 3:11 La gloria de un hombre depende de la honra de su padre; y, una madre despreciada, es un oprobio para los hijos. 3:12 Hijo mío, cuida de tu padre en su vejez, y no le causes tristeza mientras viva. 3:13 Aunque haya perdido la cabeza, sé indulgente con él; no lo desprecies, tú que estás en la plenitud de tus fuerzas. 3:14 La compasión que muestres a tu padre, no será olvidada, y te servirá de reparación por tus pecados. 3:15 Cuando estés en tribulación, el Señor se acordará de ti, y tus pecados se diluirán como el hielo ante el calor. 3:16 El que abandona a su padre, es como un blasfemo; y, el que irrita a su madre, será maldito por el Señor. La humildad 3:17

Hijo mío, actúa con dulzura en todo lo que hagas, y te querrán más que al hombre generoso. 3:18 Cuanto más grande seas, más humilde debes ser, y así obtendrás el favor del Señor, 3:20 porque el poder del Señor es grande y él es glorificado por los humildes. 3:21 No pretendas lo que es demasiado difícil para ti, ni trates de indagar lo que supera tus fuerzas: 3:22 reflexiona sobre lo que te ha sido ordenado en las dos tablas de piedra, porque a ti no te conciernen las cosas secretas. 3:23 No te ocupes de cosas que están por encima de ti: lo que te ha sido revelado ya es demasiado para la inteligencia. 3:24 Porque muchos se extraviaron por sus vanas especulaciones, y su imaginación perversa falseó sus pensamientos. 3:25 Si no tienes pupilas, te faltará la luz; y, si careces de ciencia, no garantices con certeza nada de lo que afirmas.

Contra el orgullo

3:26 Corazón obstinado, mal acaba; y, el que ama el peligro, perecerá en él. 3:27 El corazón obstinado soportará muchos males, y el pecador acumula un pecado sobre otro. 3:28 No hay remedio para el mal del orgulloso, pues el orgullo es una planta maligna, que ha echado en él raíces. 3:29 El corazón inteligente medita los proverbios y el sabio desea tener un oído atento.

La limosna

3:30 Así como el agua apaga las llamas del fuego, así la limosna en secreto expía los pecados. 3:31 El que devuelve los favores, piensa en lo que vendrá después, y cuando esté por caer, encontrará un apoyo.

CAPÍTULO 4

La ayuda a los necesitados

4:1 Hijo mío, no prives al pobre de su sustento, ni hagas languidecer los ojos del que es indigente. 4:2 No hagas sufrir al que tiene hambre, ni irrites al que está en la miseria. 4:3 No te ensañes con el que tiene un corazón desesperado, ni retrases la ayuda al mendigo. 4:4 No rechaces la súplica del atribulado, ni vuelvas la espalda al pobre. 4:5 No apartes tus ojos del indigente, ni des lugar a que alguien te maldiga: 4:6 porque, si te maldice con amargura en su alma, su Creador escuchará su plegaria. 4:7 Procura hacerte amar de la congregación; e inclina tu cabeza ante tus superiores. 4:8 Escucha al pobre con atención, y devuélvele el saludo con dulzura. 4:9 Libera al oprimido del opresor, y no tengas miedo de hacer justicia. 4:10 Sé un padre para los huérfanos y como un marido para su madre: así serás como un hijo del Altísimo y él te amará más que tu propia madre.

La pedagogía y los dones de la Sabiduría

4:11 La sabiduría educa a sus hijos, y cuida de aquellos que la buscan. 4:12 El que la ama, ama la vida, y los que la buscan ardientemente serán colmados de gozo. 4:13 El que la posee heredará la gloria celestial, y dondequiera que vaya, el Señor lo bendecirá. 4:14 Los que la sirven rinden culto al Santo y los que la aman son amados por el Señor. 4:15 El que la escucha juzgará a las naciones y el que le presta atención habitará seguro. 4:16 El que confía en ella, la recibirá en herencia, y sus descendientes también la poseerán. 4:17 Al comienzo, ella lo conducirá por un camino sinuoso, le infundirá temor y estremecimiento y lo hará sufrir con su disciplina, hasta que tenga confianza en él y lo haya probado con sus exigencias. 4:18 Después, volverá a él por el camino recto, lo alegrará y le revelará sus secretos. 4:19 Si él se desvía, ella lo abandonará y lo dejará librado a su propia caída.

La prudencia y la justicia

4:20 Ten en cuenta el momento y cuídate del mal, y no te avergüences de ti mismo. 4:21 Porque hay una vergüenza que lleva al pecado, y hay otra vergüenza que es gloria y gracia. 4:22 No te perjudiques por tener en cuenta a los demás, y que la vergüenza no provoque tu caída. 4:23 No dejes de hablar cuando sea necesario, ni escondas tu sabiduría. 4:24 Porque la sabiduría se reconoce en las palabras, y la instrucción, en la manera de hablar. 4:25 No digas nada contrario a la verdad; y avergüénzate de tu falta de instrucción. 4:26 No tengas vergüenza de confesar tus pecados ni pretendas oponerte a la corriente de un río. 4:27 No te sometas a un hombre insensato; ni seas parcial, favoreciendo al hombre poderoso. 4:28 Lucha hasta la muerte por la verdad, y el Señor Dios luchará por ti. 4:29 No seas atrevido con la lengua, ni perezoso y descuidado en tus acciones. 4:30 No seas como un león con tu familia, pero miedoso y apocado con tus servidores. 4:31 No tengas la mano abierta para recibir y cerrada cuando hay que dar.

CAPÍTULO 5

La falsa seguridad del rico y del pecador

5:1 No te fíes de tus riquezas ni digas: "Con esto me basta". 5:2 No dejes que tu deseo y tu fuerza te lleven a obrar según tus caprichos. 5:3 No digas: "¿Quién podrá dominarme?", porque el Señor da a cada uno su merecido. 5:4 No digas: "Pequé, ¿y qué me sucedió?", porque el Señor es paciente. 5:5 No estés tan seguro del perdón, mientras cometes un pecado tras otro. 5:6 No digas: "Su compasión es grande; Él perdonará la multitud de mis pecados", porque en Él está la misericordia, pero también la ira, y su indignación recae sobre los pecadores. 5:7 No tardes en convertirte al Señor Yah; no lo dejes de un día para otro, porque la ira del Señor se enciende de repente; y, en el día del castigo, perecerás. 5:8 No te fíes de las riquezas adquiridas injustamente: de nada te servirán en el día de la adversidad.

Contra los pecados de la lengua

5:9 No te dejes llevar por todos los vientos, ni vayas por cualquier camino: así obra el pecador que habla con doblez. 5:10 Mantente firme en tus convicciones y que tu palabra sea una sola. 5:11 Está siempre dispuesto a escuchar y sé lento para responder. 5:12 Si sabes, responde a tu prójimo; de lo contrario, quédate callado. 5:13 Las palabras traen gloria o deshonor, y la lengua del hombre puede provocar su caída. 5:14 Que no tengan que llamarte chismoso, y no enredes a los demás con tu lengua, porque la vergüenza cae sobre el ladrón, y una severa condena sobre el que habla con doblez. 5:15 No faltes ni en lo grande ni en lo pequeño, y de amigo, no te vuelvas enemigo

CAPÍTULO 6

6:1 porque la mala fama heredará vergüenza y oprobio: esta es la suerte del pecador que habla con doblez.

Contra los arrebatos de la pasión

6:2 No te dejes arrastrar por el impulso de tu pasión, no sea que te desgarre como un toro: 6:3 devorarías tus ramas, perderías tus frutos y te convertirías en un tronco seco. 6:4 Una pasión violenta, pierde al que la tiene, y hace que sus enemigos se rían de él.

La verdadera y la falsa amistad

6:5 Las palabras dulces multiplican los amigos, y un lenguaje amable, favorece las buenas relaciones. 6:6 Que sean muchos los que te saludan; pero, el que te aconseja, sea uno entre mil. 6:7 Si ganas un amigo, gánalo después de la prueba, y no tengas prisa en confiarte de él. 6:8 Porque hay amigos ocasionales, que dejan de serlo en el día de aflicción. 6:9 Hay amigos que se vuelven enemigos, y para avergonzarte, revelan el motivo de la disputa. 6:10 Hay amigos que comparten tu mesa y dejan de serlo en el día de tu aflicción. 6:11 Mientras te vaya bien, serán como tú mismo y hablarán abiertamente con tus servidores; 6:12 pero si te va mal, se pondrán contra ti y se esconderán de tu vista. 6:13 Sepárate de tus enemigos, y no te fíes demasiado de tus amigos. 6:14 Un amigo fiel es un refugio seguro: el que lo encuentra, ha encontrado un tesoro. 6:15 Un amigo fiel no tiene precio, no hay manera de estimar su valor. 6:16 Un amigo fiel es un bálsamo de vida, que encuentran los que temen al Señor. 6:17 El que teme al Señor encamina bien su amistad, porque como es él, así también será su amigo.

El aprendizaje de la Sabiduría

6:18 Hijo mío, desde tu juventud, busca la instrucción, y hasta en tu vejez, encontrarás la sabiduría. 6:19 Acércate a ella como el que ara y el que siembra, y espera pacientemente sus buenos frutos: al cultivarla, te fatigarás un poco, pero muy pronto comerás de sus productos. 6:20 ¡Qué dura parece la sabiduría a los ignorantes! El insensato no se mantiene fiel a ella: 6:21 ella lo oprime como una piedra pesada y no tarda en sacársela de encima. 6:22 Porque la Sabiduría hace honor a su nombre y no se manifiesta a muchos. 6:23 Escucha, hijo mío, acepta mi doctrina y no rechaces mi consejo. 6:24 Mete tus pies en sus cepos, y tu cuello en su collar. 6:25 Doblega tus espaldas, y carga con ella, y no te irrites por sus cadenas. 6:26 Acércate a ella con toda tu alma, y permanece en su camino con todas tus fuerzas. 6:27 Sigue sus huellas, y búscala: la Sabiduría se te dará a conocer, y una vez que la poseas, no la dejes, 6:28 porque al fin encontrarás en ella el descanso de tu alma, y ella se convertirá en tu alegría. 6:29 Sus cepos serán un refugio poderoso, y sus collares, un manto de gloria. 6:30 Su yugo será un adorno de oro, y sus cadenas, un tejido de jacinto. 6:31 Te revestirás de ella como de un manto de gloria y te la ceñirás como una corona de júbilo. 6:32 Si quieres, hijo mío, serás instruido, y si pones empeño, sabrás desenvolverte. 6:33 Si te gusta escuchar, aprenderás, y si prestas atención, llegarás a ser sabio. 6:34 Frecuenta las reuniones de los ancianos y si hay algún sabio, adhiérete a él. 6:35 Procura escuchar todo lo que se refiera a Dios, y que no se te escapen las máximas profundas. 6:36 Si ves a un hombre inteligente, ve en seguida hacia él y que tus pies gasten el umbral de su puerta. 6:37 Examina detenidamente los preceptos del Señor, y medita sin cesar sus mandamientos: Él mismo afirmará tu corazón, y te dará la sabiduría que deseas.

CAPÍTULO 7

La conducta en la vida pública

7:1 No hagas el mal, y el mal no se apoderará de ti; 7:2 apártate de la injusticia, y ella se apartará de ti. 7:3 No siembres, hijo mío, en los surcos de la injusticia, no sea que coseches siete veces más. 7:4 No pidas al Señor un puesto importante, ni al rey un sitio de honor. 7:5 No quieras pasar por justo delante del Señor, ni te hagas el sabio delante del rey. 7:6 No aspire al cargo de juez, no sea que no puedas extirpar las injusticias o te dejes intimidar por un poderoso, y así pongas en peligro tu rectitud. 7:7 No ofendas a la asamblea de la ciudad, ni te degrades delante de la multitud. 7:8 No incurras dos veces en pecado, porque ni uno solo quedará impune. 7:9 No digas: "El Señor apreciará la multitud de mis dones; cuando los presente al Dios Altísimo, él los aceptará". 7:10 No dejes de orar con fiadamente ni te olvides de dar limosna. 7:11 No te burles del hombre que está amargado, porque hay Alguien que humilla y también exalta. 7:12 No urdas mentiras contra tu hermano, ni lo hagas tampoco contra un amigo. 7:13 No digas nunca una mentira, porque esa costumbre no conduce a nada bueno. 7:14 No hables demasiado en la asamblea de los ancianos, ni repitas las palabras en tu oración. 7:15 No detestes los trabajos penosos, ni el trabajo del campo, creado por el Altísimo. 7:16 No te agregues a la multitud de los pecadores: recuerda que la ira del Señor no tardará. 7:17 Sé profundamente humilde, porque fuego y gusanos son el castigo del impío.

Deberes hacia los amigos y familiares

7:18 No cambies a un amigo por dinero, ni a un verdadero hermano por el oro de Ofir. 7:19 No te apartes de una esposa sabia y buena, porque su encanto vale más que el oro. 7:20 No maltrates al servidor que trabaja fielmente, ni al jornalero que se da por entero. 7:21 Ama de corazón a un servidor inteligente, y no lo prives de su libertad.

Deberes de los padres y los hijos

7:22 Si tienes ganado, cuídalo bien, y si te da ganancia, consévalo. 7:23 Si tienes hijos, edúcalos y exígeles obediencia desde su niñez. 7:24 Si tienes hijas, cuídalas para que sean castas y no te muestres demasiado blando con ellas. 7:25 Casa a tu hija, y habrás hecho una gran obra, pero dásela a un hombre inteligente. 7:26 Si quieres a tu mujer, no la repudies, pero si no la amas, no te fíes de ella. 7:27 Honra a tu padre de todo corazón y no olvides los dolores de tu madre; 7:28 acuérdate que les debes la vida:¿cómo les retribuirás lo que hicieron por ti?

Deberes hacia los sacerdotes

7:29 Reverencia al Señor con toda tu alma, y venera a sus sacerdotes. 7:30 Ama a tu Creador con todas tus fuerzas, y no abandones a sus ministros. 7:31 Teme al Señor y honra al sacerdote, dale su parte, como se te ha mandado: las primicias, el sacrificio de reparación, y el lomo de las víctimas, las ofrendas consagradas y la primicia de las cosas santas.

Deberes hacia los pobres

7:32 Tiende la mano también al pobre, y serás plenamente bendecido; 7:33 sé generoso con todos los vivientes y no niegues tu piedad a los muertos; 7:34 no des la espalda a los que lloran, y comparte la aflicción de los que sufren; 7:35 no dejes de visitar al enfermo: con tales obras te harás amar. 7:36 En todas tus acciones, acuérdate de tu fin y no pecarás jamás.

CAPÍTULO 8

La prudencia en las relaciones con los demás

8:1 No pelees con un hombre poderoso, no sea que caigas en sus manos. 8:2 No entres en pleito con un hombre rico, no sea que te venza con su influencia, porque el oro ha corrompido a muchos, y hasta el corazón de los Reyes ha pervertido. 8:3 No disputes con un charlatán, no eches más leña a su fuego. 8:4 No bromees con un hombre grosero, para que tus antepasados no sean injuriados. 8:5 No reproches al pecador que se arrepiente: recuerda que todo somos culpables. 8:6 No desprecies a un hombre en su vejez, porque también nosotros envejecemos. 8:7 No te alegres por la muerte de nadie: recuerda que todos tenemos un fin. 8:8 No menosprecies la conversación de los sabios: vuelve sobre sus máximas una y otra vez, porque de ellos recibirás la instrucción y el arte de servir a los grandes. 8:9 No te apartes de la conversación de los ancianos, porque ellos mismos aprendieron de sus padres: de ellos aprenderás a ser inteligente, y a dar una respuesta en el momento justo. 8:10 No inflames las brasas del pecador, no sea que te quemes con sus llamas. 8:11 No te encares con el insolente, no sea que te haga caer en la trampa de tus propias palabras. 8:12 No prestes a un hombre más fuerte que tú, y si prestas, dalo por perdido. 8:13 No ofrezcas garantía más allá de tus medios, y si lo haces, prepárate a pagar. 8:14 No entres en pleito con un juez: en razón de su dignidad, fallarán a su favor. 8:15 No te pongas en camino con un aventurero, no sea que se convierta en una carga para ti, porque él obrará según su capricho y su locura te hará perecer junto con él. 8:16 No te pelees con un hombre iracundo, ni atraveses el desierto con él, porque la sangre no vale nada a sus ojos y cuando estés indefenso, te derribará. 8:17 No consultes tus asuntos con un necio, porque es incapaz de mantener el secreto. 8:18 No hagas ante un extraño lo que debe quedar oculto, porque no sabes con qué puede salir. 8:19 No abras tu corazón a cualquiera, ni dejes que cualquiera te haga un favor.

El trato con las mujeres

9:1 No seas celoso de la mujer que amas, para no incitarla a comportarse mal contigo. 9:2 No te entregues ciegamente a una mujer, hasta el punto que llegue a dominarte. 9:3 No te acerques a una prostituta, no sea que caigas en sus redes. 9:4 No te entretengas con una cantante, para no ser atrapado por sus artimañas. 9:5 No mires demasiado a una joven, no sea que te castiguen por su causa. 9:6 No te entregues a las prostitutas, para no arruinar tu patrimonio. 9:7 No vayas mirando por las calles de la ciudad, ni rondes por sus lugares solitarios. 9:8 Aparta tu vista de la mujer hermosa, y no fijes los ojos en la belleza ajena: muchos se extraviaron por la belleza de una mujer; y, por su causa, el deseo arde como fuego. 9:9 Nunca te sientes junto a una mujer casada, ni bebas vino con ella en los banquetes, no sea que tu corazón se incline hacia ella y por tu pasión te precipites en la ruina.

El trato con los hombres

9:10 No abandones a un viejo amigo, porque uno nuevo no vale tanto como él. Amigo nuevo es como vino nuevo: que se ponga añejo, y lo beberás con placer. 9:11 No envidies la gloria del pecador, porque no sabes cuál será su suerte. 9:12 No te dejes vislumbrar por el éxito de los impíos: recuerda que no morirán impunes. 9:13 Ponte lejos del hombre que es capaz de matar, y no tendrás que temer a la muerte. Si te acercas a él, no te descuides, no sea que te quite la vida: Date cuenta de que caminas entre trampas, y que paseas sobre la muralla de la ciudad. 9:14 Dentro de lo posible, ayuda a tus vecinos, y busca el consejo de los sabios. 9:15 Frecuenta el trato de las personas inteligentes y conversa siempre sobre la Ley del Altísimo. 9:16 Que la gente honrada sean tus comensales, y que tu orgullo esté en el temor del Señor. 9:17 Por la mano del artista, la obra es digna de elogio, y el jefe del pueblo se muestra sabio por sus palabras. 9:18 El charlatán es el terror de su ciudad, y el desmedido al hablar se hace odioso.

CAPÍTULO 10

El buen gobierno

10:1 Un gobernante sabio educa a su pueblo y la autoridad del hombre inteligente se ejerce con

orden. 10:2 Como el gobernante de un pueblo, así son sus ministros, y como el jefe de la ciudad, así son sus habitantes. 10:3 Un rey ignorante, es la ruina de su pueblo, y una ciudad prospera por la inteligencia de los príncipes. 10:4 En manos del Señor está el dominio de la tierra y, en el momento preciso, le envía el hombre que conviene. 10:5 En manos del Señor está el éxito de un hombre y él infundirá su gloria a la persona del legislador. Contra el orgullo 10:6 No guardes rencor a tu prójimo por ninguna injuria ni hagas nada en un arrebató de violencia. 10:7 La soberbia es odiosa al Señor y a los hombres; y, la injusticia, es ofensiva para ambos. 10:8 La soberanía pasa de una nación a otra, a causa de la injusticia, la prepotencia y la codicia del dinero. 10:9 ¿De qué se ensoberbece el que es polvo y ceniza, si aún en vida sus entrañas están llenas de podredumbre? 10:10 Una larga enfermedad desconcierta al médico, y el que hoy es rey, mañana morirá. v11 Cuando un hombre muere, recibe como herencia larvas, fieras y gusanos. 10:12 El orgullo comienza cuando el hombre se aparta del Señor, y su corazón se aleja de aquel que lo creó. 10:13 Porque el comienzo del orgullo es el pecado; y, el que persiste en él, hace llover la abominación: por eso el Señor envió calamidad imprevistas y arrasó a los soberbios hasta aniquilarlos. 10:14 El Señor derribó los tronos de los poderosos, y entronizó a los apacibles en lugar de ellos. 10:15 El Señor arrancó de raíz a las naciones, y plantó a los humildes en lugar de ellos. 10:16 El Señor arrasó los territorios de las naciones y las destruyó hasta los cimientos de la tierra. 10:17 A algunas las arrasó, y las hizo desaparecer, y borró hasta su recuerdo de la tierra. 10:18 El orgullo no fue creado para el hombre, ni el arrebató de la ira para los nacidos de mujer.

Gente digna de honor y gente despreciable

10:19 ¿Qué raza es digna de honor? La raza humana. ¿Qué raza es digna de honor? Los que temen al Señor. ¿Qué raza es despreciable? La raza humana. ¿Qué raza es despreciable? Los que no cumplen la Ley. 10:20 Entre los hermanos, se honra al que es su jefe, pero el Señor honra a los que lo temen. 10:22 Para el rico, el ilustre, o el pobre, la única gloria es el temor del Señor. 10:23 No es justo despreciar a un pobre inteligente, ni está bien honrar a un hombre pecador. 10:24 El grande, el magistrado, y el poderoso, son dignos de honra; pero el que teme al Señor, es superior a todos ellos. 10:25 Hombres libres servirán a un esclavo sabio, y el hombre que entiende, no lo tomará a mal.

La humildad en la verdad

10:26 No te hagas el sabio cuando realizas tu tarea, ni te gloríes en el momento de la penuria. 10:27 Más vale el que trabaja, y vive en la abundancia, que el que anda gloriándose y no tiene qué comer. 10:28 Hijo mío, gloríate con la debida modestia, y estímate según tu justo valor. 10:29 ¿Quién justificará al que peca contra su propia persona? ¿Quien respetara al que no se respeta a si mismo? ¿Quien apreciara a quien se menosprecia a si mismo? 10:30 Al pobre se lo honra por su saber; y, al rico, por sus riquezas. 10:31 El que es apreciado en la pobreza, ¡cuánto más lo será en la riqueza! El que es menospreciado en la riqueza, ¡cuánto más lo será en la pobreza!

CAPÍTULO 11

No fiarse de las apariencias

11:1 La sabiduría del humilde le hace erguir la frente, y lo hace sentar en medio de los poderosos. 11:2 No alabes a un hombre por su buena apariencia, ni desprecies a nadie por su mal aspecto. 11:3 La abeja es pequeña y menospreciable entre los animales que vuelan; pero, a pesar de ello, lo que produce es más dulce que todo. 11:4 No te gloríes de la ropa que te cubre, ni te enorgullezcas excesivamente el día en que seas honrado, porque las obras del Señor son admirables y están ocultas a los ojos de los hombres. 11:5 Muchos tiranos se sentaron en el suelo; y, el que menos lo pensaba, se ciñó la corona. 11:6 Muchos potentados se hundieron en el deshonor, y hombres ilustres cayeron en manos de otros.

La prudencia y la reserva

11:7 No censures, antes de averiguar: reflexiona primero en tu propia conducta, y entonces podrás censurar con justicia. 11:8 No respondas antes de escuchar y no interrumpas cuando otro habla. 11:9 No discutas sobre lo que no te corresponde, ni te entrometas en las disputas de los pecadores.

La moderación en las ambiciones

11:10 Hijo mío, no pretendas hacer demasiadas cosas: si lo haces, no quedarás libre de culpa. Si pretendes demasiado, no lo alcanzarás; y, aunque quieras huir, no escaparás. 11:11 Hay quien se esfuerza, se fatiga y se apura, y tanto más desprovisto se ve. 11:12 Otro es débil, necesitado de ayuda, falta de fuerza y lleno de privaciones; pero el Señor lo mira con bondad y lo levanta de su humillación; 11:13 el Señor le hace erguir la frente, y muchos quedan maravillados a causa de él.

La confianza en Dios

11:14 Bienes y males, vida y muerte, pobreza y riqueza vienen del Señor. 11:17 el don del Señor permanece con los buenos, y su benevolencia les asegura el éxito para siempre. 11:18 Un hombre se enriquece a fuerza de empeño y ahorro, ¿y qué recompensa le toca? 11:19 Cuando dice: "Ya puedo descansar, ahora voy a disfrutar de mis bienes", él no sabe cuánto tiempo pasará hasta que muera y deje sus bienes a otros. 11:20 Sé fiel a tu obligación, entrégate a ella, y envejece en tu oficio. 11:21 No admires las obras del pecador: confía en el Señor, y persevera en tu trabajo, porque es cosa fácil a los ojos del Señor enriquecer de un solo golpe al indigente. 11:22 La bendición del Señor es la recompensa de los buenos, y en un instante él hace florecer su bendición. 11:23 No digas: "¿Qué me hace falta? ¿Qué bienes puedo esperar todavía?" 11:24 No digas: "Ya tengo bastante; ¿qué mal puede sucederme ahora?" 11:25 En los días buenos se olvidan los malos, y en los malos, se olvidan los buenos. 11:26 Porque es fácil para el Señor, en el día de la muerte, retribuir a cada hombre según su conducta. 11:27 Una hora de infortunio, hace olvidar la dicha; y, las obras de un hombre, se revelan al fin de su vida. 11:28 No proclames feliz a nadie, antes que llegue su fin, porque sólo al final se conoce bien a un hombre.

La precaución en la práctica de la hospitalidad

11:29 No hagas entrar a cualquiera en tu casa, porque el falso tiende muchas emboscadas. 11:30 El corazón del soberbio es como una carnada, igual que un espía, espera que des un mal paso. 11:31 Está al acecho para deformar el bien en mal y es capaz de manchar las cosas más limpias. 11:32 Una chispa enciende muchos carbones y el pecador tiende emboscadas sangrientas. 11:33 Cuídate del malhechor, porque él engendra maldades, no sea que te deje manchado para siempre. 11:34 Mete en casa a un desconocido, y te causara problemas; hará de ti un extraño para tu propia familia.

CAPÍTULO 12

La precaución en la práctica del bien

12:1 Si haces el bien, mira a quién lo haces, y te darán las gracias por tus beneficios. 12:2 Haz el bien al hombre bueno, y tendrás tu recompensa, si no de él, ciertamente del Altísimo. 12:3 Ningún beneficio para el que persiste en hacer el mal, ni para quien se niega a dar limosna. 12:4 Da al hombre piadoso, pero no ayudes al pecador. 12:5 Sé bueno con el humilde, pero no des nada al malvado: rehúsale su pan, no se lo des, no sea que así llegue a dominarte, y entonces recibirás un doble mal por todo el bien que le hayas hecho. 12:6 Porque también el Altísimo detesta a los pecadores, y dará a los malvados el castigo que merecen. 12:7 Da al hombre bueno, pero no ayudes al pecador.

Los falsos amigos

12:8 No es en las buenas cuando se conoce al amigo, ni en las malas se oculta el enemigo. 12:9 En las buenas, los enemigos se entristecen, y en las malas, hasta el amigo se aleja. 12:10 Nunca te fíes de tu enemigo, porque la maldad lo corroe como la herrumbre al metal: 12:11 aunque se haga el humilde y camine encorvado, ten mucho cuidado y está alerta contra él; trátalo como quien pule un espejo, a ver si la herrumbre no terminó de corroerlo. 12:12 No lo pongas junto a ti, no sea que te derribe para ocupar tu puesto; no lo hagas sentar a tu derecha, no sea que pretenda tu mismo sitio, y al fin comprendas mis palabras y sientas pesar al recordarlas. 12:13 ¿Quién compadece al encantador mordido por la serpiente, o al domador de animales salvajes? 12:14 Lo mismo pasa con el que se acerca a un pecador, y se entremezcla en sus pecados. 12:15 Por un tiempo permanecerá contigo el pecador; pero, si te rebelas, no te aguantará. 12:16 El enemigo tiene miel en los labios, pero por dentro piensa cómo arrojarte en la fosa. El enemigo tiene lágrimas en los ojos, pero, llegada la ocasión, no habrá sangre que lo sacie. 12:17 Si te pasa algo malo, lo encontrarás allí antes que a ti mismo; simulando ayudarte, te agarrará el talón: 12:18 moverá la cabeza en forma burlesca, y aplaudirá, hablará entre dientes y pondrá otra cara.

CAPÍTULO 13

La prudencia en el trato con los poderosos

13:1 El que toca el betún, se queda manchado, y el que trata con el orgulloso se vuelve igual a él. 13:2 No levantes una carga demasiado pesada, ni andes con gente mas fuerte y mas rica que tu. ¿Puede el vaso de arcilla juntarse con la olla? Chocara con ella, y se romperá. 13:3 El rico agravia, y encima se envalentona; el pobre es agraviado, y encima pide disculpas. 13:4 Mientras le seas útil, te utilizara; pero, si eres torpe, te abandonará. 13:5 Si posees algo, vivirá contigo y te despojará sin lástima. 13:6 Cuando te necesite, tratará de engañarte, te sonreirá y te dará esperanzas; te dirigirá hermosas palabras y te preguntará: "¿Qué te hace falta?" 13:7 Te comprometerá con sus festejos hasta despojarte dos y tres veces; y, al final, se burlará de ti; después, cuando te vea, pasará de largo y meneará la cabeza delante de ti. 13:8 Procura no dejarte embaucar, que no te humillen por tu insensatez. 13:9 Cuando te invite un poderoso, quédate a distancia, y te invitará con más insistencia. 13:10 No te precipites, para no ser rechazado, ni te quedes muy lejos, para no ser olvidado. 13:11 No pretendas hablarle de igual a igual ni te fíes si conversa demasiado: él te pone a prueba con su locuacidad y te examina entre risa y risa. 13:12 El que no se modera al hablar, es un despiadado, y no te ahorrará ni los golpes ni las cadenas. 13:13 Observa bien y presta mucha atención, porque estás caminando al borde de tu ruina. 13:15 Todo animal quiere a su semejante y todo hombre, al de su misma condición; 13:16 todo ser viviente se une a los de su especie y el hombre, a uno semejante a él. 13:17 ¿Qué tienen de común el lobo y el cordero? Así pasa con el pecador y el hombre bueno. 13:18 ¿Qué paz puede haber entre la hiena y el perro? ¿Y qué paz entre el rico y el pobre? 13:19 Los asnos salvajes en el desierto, son presa de los leones: así los pobres son pasto de los ricos. 13:20 La humillación es abominable para el soberbio: así el rico abomina del pobre. 13:21 Cuando un rico da un mal paso, sus amigos lo sostienen; cuando un pobre cae, sus amigos lo rechazan. 13:22 Si un rico resbala, muchos corren en su ayuda; dice cosas irrepetibles, y le dan la razón. Resbala el humilde, y lo critican; se expresa con sensatez, y nadie le hace caso. 13:23 Si el rico habla, todos se callan y ponen sus palabras por las nubes; habla el pobre, y preguntan: "¿Quién es este?", y si tropieza, le dan un empujón. 13:24 Buena es la riqueza, si está libre de pecado, y mala es la pobreza a juicio del impío. 13:25 El corazón de un hombre lo hace cambiar de semblante, tanto para bien como para mal: 13:26 un rostro alegre refleja la dicha del corazón, y la invención de proverbios exige penosas reflexiones.

CAPÍTULO 14

La felicidad del justo

14:1 ¡Feliz el hombre que no ha faltado con su lengua, ni es atormentado por el remordimiento! 14:2 ¡Feliz el que no tiene que reprocharse a sí mismo y no ve desvanecerse su esperanza!

La avaricia y la envidia

14:3 ¿De qué le sirve la riqueza al mezquino, y para qué tiene el avaro su fortuna? 14:4 El que acumula, privándose de todo, acumula para otros, y otros se darán buena vida con sus bienes. 14:5 El que es malo consigo mismo ¿con quién será bueno? Ni él mismo disfruta de su fortuna. 14:6 No hay nadie peor que el avaro consigo mismo, y ese es el justo pago de su maldad. 14:7 Si hace algún bien, lo hace por descuido, y termina por revelar su malicia. 14:8 Malo es el de ojo envidioso, que aparta su rostro de los que necesitan su ayuda. 14:9 El ojo del avaro ambicioso no está satisfecho con su parte, y la avaricia seca el alma. 14:10 El avaro hasta el pan escatima, y en su propia mesa pasa hambre.

El gozo moderado de los bienes de la vida

14:11 En la medida de tus recursos, vive bien, hijo mío, y presenta al Señor ofrendas dignas. 14:12 Recuerda que la muerte no tardará, y que el decreto del Abismo no te ha sido revelado. 14:13 Antes de morir, haz el bien a tu amigo y dale con largueza, en la medida de tus fuerzas. 14:14 No te prives de un día agradable, ni desaproveches tu parte de gozo legítimo. 14:15 ¿Acaso no dejarás a otro el fruto de tus trabajos, y el de tus fatigas, para que lo repartan en herencia? 14:16 Da y recibe, olvida tus preocupaciones, porque no hay que buscar delicias en el Abismo. 14:17 Todo ser viviente envejece como un vestido, porque está en pie la antigua sentencia: "Tienes que morir". 14:18 En el follaje de un árbol tupido, unas hojas caen y otras brotan: así son las generaciones de carne y de sangre, una muere y otra nace. 14:19 Toda obra corruptible desaparece, y el que la hizo, se irá con ella.

La felicidad del sabio

14:20 ¡Feliz el hombre que se ocupa de la sabiduría y el que razona con inteligencia, 14:21 el que reflexiona sobre los caminos de la sabiduría y penetra en sus secretos! 14:22 Él la sigue como un rastreador y se queda al acecho de sus pasos; 14:23 espía por sus ventanas, y escucha atentamente a sus puertas; 14:24 busca albergue cerca de su casa, y clava una estaca en sus muros; 14:25 instala su carpa cerca de ella, y se alberga en la mejor de las moradas; 14:26 pone a sus hijos bajo el abrigo de ella, y vive a la sombra de sus ramas: 14:27 ella lo protege del calor, y él habita en su gloria.

CAPÍTULO 15

15:1 El que teme al Señor hace todo esto y el que se aferra a la Ley logrará la sabiduría. 15:2 Ella le saldrá al encuentro como una madre y lo recibirá como una joven esposa, 15:3 lo alimentará con el pan de la inteligencia y le hará beber el agua de la sabiduría. 15:4 Él se apoyará en ella, y no vacilará, se unirá a ella, y no quedará confundido. 15:5 Ella lo exaltará por encima de sus compañeros, y le abrirá la boca en medio de la asamblea. 15:6 Él encontrará el gozo y la corona de la alegría, y recibirá en herencia un nombre perdurable. 15:7 Nunca la poseerán los que carecen de inteligencia, ni los hombres pecadores la verán jamás. 15:8 Ella se mantiene alejada del orgullo, y los mentirosos no piensan en ella. 15:9 No cabe la alabanza en labios del pecador, porque el Señor no se la envía: 15:10 sin sabiduría no hay alabanza, y es el Señor el que la inspira.

La libertad del hombre

15:11 No digas: "Me he desviado por culpa del Señor", porque Él no hace nunca lo que detesta. 15:12 No digas: "El me hizo extraviar" (¡El Señor me hizo pecar, a fin de cumplir el propósito que había predestinado!), porque Yah no tiene necesidad del pecador. 15:13 El Señor odia toda abominación; y, los que le temen, también la aborrecen. 15:14 Él hizo al hombre en el principio, y le dio libertad para ejercer su propio albedrío. 15:15 Si quieres, puedes observar los mandamientos, y permanecer así fiel a su voluntad. 15:16 Él puso ante ti el fuego, y el agua: podrás extender tu mano a lo que escojas. 15:17 Ante los hombres están la vida y la muerte: a cada uno se le dará lo que prefiera. 15:18 Porque grande es la sabiduría del Señor, él es fuerte y poderoso, y ve todas las cosas. 15:19 Sus ojos están fijos en aquellos que lo temen y Él conoce todas las obras del hombre. 15:20 A nadie le ordenó ser impío, ni dio a nadie autorización para pecar.

CAPÍTULO 16

Los hijos impíos

16:1 No deseas un gran número de hijos inútiles, ni te alegres de los hijos impíos. 16:2 Por muchos que sean, no te alegres de ellos, si les falta el temor del Señor. 16:3 No esperes que vivan mucho tiempo, ni te sientas seguro porque son numerosos: vale más un hijo justo, que mil hijos impíos; y es mejor morir sin hijos, que tenerlos impíos. 16:4 Con uno solo inteligente se puebla una ciudad, pero la estirpe de los hombres sin ley es arrasada.

El castigo de los pecadores

16:5 Mis ojos han visto muchas cosas semejantes, y cosas peores aún escucharon mis oídos. 16:6 En la reunión de los pecadores, arde el fuego de Gehinnom, y contra la nación rebelde como Sodoma, se enciende la ira. 16:7 El Señor no perdonó a los antiguos gigantes, que se rebelaron con toda su fuerza. 16:8 No dejó sin castigo a Sodoma, la ciudad donde Lot vivía; ni a los Sodomitas, cuyo orgullo abominaba. 16:9 No se apiadó de la nación condenada al exterminio, de los que fueron expulsados a causa de sus pecados. 16:10 Así trató también a los seiscientos mil soldados, que se amotinaron por la dureza de su corazón. 16:11 Aunque fuera uno solo el hombre obstinado, sería un milagro que quedara impune, porque en Él está la misericordia, pero también la ira, es tan fuerte para el perdón como pródigo para la ira. 16:12 Tan grande como su misericordia, es su reprobación: Él juzga a cada uno según sus obras. 16:13 El pecador no escapará con su presa, ni será defraudada la constancia de los buenos. 16:14 Él tiene en cuenta cada limosna, y cada uno recibirá conforme a sus obras.

La omnipresencia de Dios

16:17 No digas: "Me ocultaré del Señor, y allá en lo alto, ¿quién se acordará de mí? Entre tanta gente pasaré inadvertido: ¿quién soy yo en la inmensa creación?" 16:18 Mira: el Cielo y lo más alto del cielo, el Abismo y la tierra se conmueven cuando él los visita: 16:19 las montañas junto con los cimientos de la tierra tiemblan de espanto bajo su mirada. 16:20 Pero no se reflexiona en estas cosas ¿y quién presta atención a sus designios? 16:21 Como una tempestad que se desata sin que el hombre se dé cuenta, así la mayoría de sus obras permanecen ocultas. 16:22 "¿Quién anuncia las obras de justicia? ¿Quién las espera? Porque la alianza está lejos": 16:23 así razona el que no tiene entendimiento; el insensato, el extraviado, sólo piensa necedades.

El orden de la creación

16:24 Hijo mio, escúchame, y aprende sabiduría: presta mucha atención a mis palabras. 16:25 Te enseñare la doctrina con mesura, con precisión te mostrare en que consiste la ciencia. 16:26 Por decisión del Señor existen sus obras desde el principio: desde que fueron hechas, él fijó sus límites. 16:27 Él ordenó sus obras para siempre, y su gobierno por todas las generaciones. Ellas no sufren hambre ni se fatigan y nunca interrumpen su actividad. 16:28 No se chocan unas contra otras y jamás desobedecen a su palabra. 16:29 Luego el Señor fijó sus ojos en la tierra y la colmó de sus bienes. 16:30 La cubrió con toda clase de vivientes y todos volverán a ella.

CAPÍTULO 17

La creación del hombre

17:1 El Señor creó al hombre de la tierra y lo hace volver de nuevo a ella. 17:2 Le señaló un número de días y un tiempo determinado, y puso bajo su dominio las cosas de la tierra. 17:3 Lo revistió de una fuerza semejante a la suya y lo hizo según su propia imagen. 17:4 Hizo que todos los vivientes lo temieran, para que él dominara las fieras y los pájaros. 17:6 Le dio una lengua, ojos y oídos, el poder de discernir y un corazón para pensar. 17:7 Él colmó a los hombres de saber y entendimiento, y les mostró el bien y el mal. 17:8 Les infundió su propia luz, para manifestarles la grandeza de sus obras, 17:9 y les permitió gloriarse eternamente de sus maravillas: 17:10 así alabarán su Nombre santo, proclamando la grandeza de sus obras.

La Alianza del Señor con Israel

17:11 Les concedió además la ciencia y les dio como herencia una Ley de vida; 17:12 estableció con ellos una alianza eterna, y les hizo conocer sus decretos. 17:13 Ellos vieron con sus ojos la grandeza de su gloria, y oyeron con sus oídos la gloria de su voz. 17:14 Él les dijo: "Cúidense de toda injusticia", y dio a cada uno preceptos acerca del prójimo.

La misericordia y la justicia del Señor

17:15 Los caminos de los hombres están siempre ante él, y no pueden ocultarse a sus ojos. 17:17 Él asignó un jefe a cada nación, pero Israel es la parte del Señor. 17:18 Él es su primogénito, al que nutrió con su instrucción, y cuando dispensa la luz del amor, no lo abandona. 17:19 Todas sus obras son para él claras como el sol, y Él tiene los ojos fijos en sus caminos. 17:20 Sus injusticias no están ocultas para el Señor y todos sus pecados están delante de él. 17:22 La limosna que da un hombre, es para Adonai como un sello, y tiene en cuenta un favor, como a la pupila de sus ojos. 17:23 Después se levantará y les retribuirá, y pondrá sobre sus cabezas la recompensa merecida. 17:24 A los que se arrepienten de corazón, les permite retornar, consolando así a los que habían perdido la esperanza de obtener perdón Divino. Exhortación al arrepentimiento 17:25 Vuelve al Señor Yah, y deja de pecar; suplica ante su rostro, y deja de ofenderlo. 17:26 Vuelve al Altísimo, apártate de la injusticia, y odia profundamente toda abominación. 17:27 ¿Quién alabará al Altísimo en el Abismo, si los vivientes no le rinden homenaje? 17:28 La alabanza no puede venir de un muerto, que es como quien ya no existe; solo el que vive y goza de salud, puede alabar al Señor. 17:29 ¡Qué grande es la generosidad del Señor, y su perdón para los que vuelven a él! 17:30 Un hombre no puede tenerlo todo, porque el ser humano no es inmortal. 17:31 ¿Hay algo más luminoso que el sol? ¡y sin embargo, también él se eclipsa! ¡Cuánto más la carne y la sangre, que sólo conciben el mal! 17:32 El Señor pasa revista al ejército de los cielos, ¡cuánto más a los hombres, que son tierra y ceniza!

La grandeza y la misericordia del Señor

18:1 El que vive para siempre creó todas las cosas por igual; 18:2 sólo el Señor Yah será hallado justo; no hay otro fuera de Él, y nadie hay mas que Él. 18:3 Él gobierna el mundo con la palma de la mano, y todo obedece a su voluntad, ya que él, por su poder, es el Rey de todas las cosas y separa las sagradas de las profanas. 18:4 A nadie le dio el poder de anunciar sus obras:¿quién rastreará su grandeza? 18:5 ¿Quién podrá medir la magnitud de su fuerza, y quién pretenderá narrar sus misericordias? 18:6 No hay nada que quitar, nada que añadir, y es imposible rastrear las maravillas del Señor. 18:7 Cuando el hombre ha agotado sus posibilidades de conocer a Dios, aún está sólo al comienzo; cuando se detiene, no sale de su estupor, pues su debilidad solo sirve para resaltar la grandeza de Dios. 18:8 ¿Qué es el hombre? ¿Para qué sirve?¿Cuál es su bien y cuál es su mal? 18:9 La vida de un hombre dura cien años a lo más: 18:10 como una gota del mar y como un grano de arena, son sus pocos años frente a la eternidad. 18:11 Por eso el Señor es paciente con ellos y derrama sobre ellos su misericordia. 18:12 Él ve y conoce qué miserable es su fin, y por eso multiplica su perdón. 18:13 El hombre sólo tiene misericordia de su prójimo, pero el Señor es misericordioso con todos los vivientes. Él reprende, corrige y enseña, y los hace volver como el pastor a su rebaño. 18:14 Él tiene misericordia con los que aceptan la instrucción de su Torah; y están siempre dispuestos a cumplir lo ordenado en las dos piedras.

El arte de hacer el bien

18:15 Hijo mío, no echés en cara los beneficios que haces, ni acompañes tus dones con palabras ofensivas. 18:16 ¿No calma el rocío el calor ardiente? Así, una buena palabra puede más que un regalo. 18:17 ¿Acaso no vale más una palabra que un obsequio? Pero el hombre caritativo sabe unir las dos cosas. 18:18 El necio reprende sin ningún miramiento, y el don del avaro hace correr las lágrimas.

La preocupación en el obrar

18:19 Antes de hablar, instrúyete bien en el asunto; y cuídate, antes de caer enfermo. 18:20 Antes de juzgar a otros, examínate a ti mismo; y hallarás perdón, cuando te visite el juicio del Señor. 18:21 Humíllate antes de caer enfermo, y arrepíentete apenas hayas pecado. 18:22 Que nada te impida cumplir tus votos en el momento debido, y no esperes hasta la muerte para estar en regla. 18:23 Antes de hacer un voto, prepárate a cumplirlo, y no seas como un hombre que tienta al Señor. 18:24 Recuerda la ira de los últimos días, y el tiempo del castigo, cuando el Señor apartará su rostro. 18:25

En tiempo de abundancia, recuerda el tiempo de hambre, y en los días de riqueza, la pobreza y la penuria. 18:26 De la mañana a la tarde, el tiempo cambia, y todo pasa rápidamente delante del Señor. 18:27 El hombre sabio está siempre alerta, y en la ocasión de pecado, se cuida para no faltar. 18:28 Todo hombre prudente conoce la sabiduría y rinde homenaje al que la encuentra. 18:29 Los que hablan con sensatez, son sabios ellos mismos, y derraman como lluvia proverbios acertados

El dominio de sí mismo

18:30 No te dejes guiar por tus pasiones, refrena en cambio tus deseos. 18:31 Si cedes a los impulsos de la pasión, ella hará de ti la irrisión de tus enemigos. 18:32 Que tu alegría no consista en darte todos los gustos ni te endeudes para pagar lo que ellos cuestan. 18:33 No te empobrezcas yendo de fiesta con dinero prestado, cuando no tienes nada en el bolsillo.

CAPÍTULO 19

19:1 Un obrero bebedor nunca se hará rico, y el que desprecia las cosas pequeñas, poco a poco se arruinara. 19:2 Vino y mujeres extravían a los inteligentes, y el que frecuenta prostitutas se vuelve temerario: 19:3 su herencia será la podredumbre y los gusanos, el hombre temerario perderá su vida.

La discreción en el hablar

19:4 Quien se confía enseguida, no tiene buen juicio, y el que peca, a sí mismo se perjudica. 19:5 El que se complace en el mal, será condenado. 19:6 y el que detesta el mucho hablar, escapara del mal. 19:7 No repitas nunca un chisme, y no sufrirás ningún daño. 19:8 No se lo digas a nadie, sea amigo o enemigo; a menos que sea pecado para ti, no lo descubras: 19:9 porque el que te escucha no se fiara mas de ti, y en la ocasión mas propicia, te despreciara. 19:10 ¿Has oído algo? Que muera contigo; no tengas miedo, no te hará reventar. 19:11 El necio sufre cuando guarda un secreto, como la parturienta por su criatura. 19:12 Como una flecha clavada en el muslo es el secreto en el pecho del necio.

La actitud frente a los rumores y calumnias

19:13 Aclara las cosas con tu amigo: a lo mejor no hizo nada de lo que se le acusa; y, si lo hizo, para que no lo vuelva a hacer. 19:14 Aclara las cosas con tu prójimo: a lo mejor no dijo nada; y si lo dijo, para que no lo repita. 19:15 Aclara las cosas con tu amigo: con frecuencia se calumnia, y no debes fiarte de todo lo que se dice. 19:16 Se puede cometer un desliz sin querer, ¿y quién no ha pecado con su lengua? 19:17 Aclara las cosas con tu prójimo antes de amenazarlo, y luego da lugar a la Ley del Altísimo.

La falsa sabiduría

19:20 Toda sabiduría consiste en temer al Señor, y solo hay sabiduría cuando se practican los diez mandamientos de la Ley. 19:22 No es sabiduría saber hacer el mal; y, seguir el consejo de los pecadores, no es inteligencia. 19:23 Hay una astucia que resulta abominable, y el que carece de sabiduría es insensato. 19:24 Es preferible el poco inteligente que teme a Yah, al muy inteligente que quebranta los mandamientos de Adonai. 19:25 Hay una astucia sutil, pero injusta, y hay quien usa de artimañas para hacer valer su derecho. 19:26 Hay un malvado que va encorvado por la tristeza, pero su interior está lleno de falsedad: 19:27 se cubre el rostro y aparenta no oír, pero si nadie lo ve, te saca ventaja. 19:28 Si le falta fuerza para pecar, cuando encuentre una ocasión, te perjudicará. 19:29 Por la mirada se reconoce a un hombre; por su aspecto y su barba, al hombre sabio. 19:30 La vestimenta del hombre, su manera de reír y todo su porte revelan lo que él es.

Saber hablar y callarse a tiempo

20:1 Hay reprensiones que son inoportunas, y hay silencios que revelan al hombre prudente. 20:2 Más vale reprender que guardarse el enojo, y el que confiesa su falta, se libra de la desgracia. 20:4 Como el castrado que desea desflorar a la señorita, así es quien pretende hacer justicia, utilizando la fuerza. 20:5 Uno se calla, y es tenido por sabio, y otro se hace odioso por su locuacidad. 20:6 Uno se calla porque no tiene qué responder; y otro, porque espera la oportunidad. 20:7 El sabio guarda silencio hasta el momento oportuno, pero el petulante y necio no se fija en el tiempo. 20:8 El que habla demasiado se vuelve abominable y el que pretende imponerse se hace odioso.

Las paradojas de la vida

20:9 A veces se saca provecho de la adversidad, y otras veces, la suerte acaba en desgracia. 20:10 Hay regalos que no te dan provecho, y hay otros, que rinden el doble. 20:11 Hay desgracias que provienen de los honores, y hay gente humilde que pudo levantar cabeza. 20:12 Hay quien compra mucho a bajo precio, pero después tiene que pagarlo siete veces más caro. 20:13 El sabio se hace amar por sus palabras, pero los cumplidos del necio caen en el vacío. 20:14 El regalo del insensato no te aprovechará, porque él espera que le devuelvan mucho más: 20:15 da poco y echa en cara mucho, abre la boca como un pregonero, presta hoy y mañana exige. ¡Qué detestable es un hombre así! 20:16 El necio dice: "No tengo ni un amigo; nadie agradece mis beneficios; 20:17 los que comen mi pan tienen la lengua olvidadiza". ¡Cuántos y cuántas veces se reirán de él!

El desacierto en el hablar

20:18 Más vale resbalar en el piso, que con la lengua; así es como de repente caen los malvados. 20:19 Un hombre grosero, es como un cuento inoportuno, que siempre está en boca de los mal educados. 20:20 Nadie aprueba el proverbio dicho por un necio, porque nunca lo dice en el momento oportuno. 20:21 A algunos la indigencia los preserva del pecado; y, cuando descansan, no sienten remordimientos. 20:22 Hay quien se pierde por timidez, y se pierde por temor a un insensato. 20:23 Hay quien por timidez hace promesas a un amigo y se gana un enemigo inútilmente.

La mentira

20:24 La mentira es para el hombre una mancha infamante: siempre está en boca de los ignorantes. 20:25 Mejor es el ladrón, que el mentiroso obstinado; aunque uno y otro heredarán la perdición. 20:26 El que se acostumbra a mentir, cae en la deshonra, y su ignominia lo acompaña constantemente.

Ventajas y peligros de los sabios

20:27 El sabio se abre camino con sus palabras y el hombre prudente agrada a los poderosos. 20:28 El que cultiva la tierra, llena hasta arriba su granero; y, el que agrada a los grandes, expía la falta que cometerá hacia ellos. 20:29 Las dádivas y los regalos ciegan a los sabios, y son como un bozal, que acalla sus críticas. 20:30 La Sabiduría escondida, y el tesoro invisible: ¿de qué sirven una cosa y la otra? 20:31 El hombre que disimula su necedad, actúa mas sabiamente que aquel que oculta su sabiduría.

Exhortación a evitar el pecado

21:1 ¿Has pecado, hijo mío? No lo vuelvas a hacer, y pide perdón por tus faltas pasadas. 21:2 Huye del pecado como de una serpiente, porque si te acercas, te morderá; sus dientes son dientes de león, que arrebatan la vida de los hombres. 21:3 Toda transgresión es como espada de dos filos: no hay remedio para su herida. 21:4 La violencia y la soberbia hacen perder las riquezas: así será arrasada la casa del orgulloso. 21:5 La oración del pobre va directamente desde su boca, hasta los oídos del Señor, y la sentencia divina no se hace esperar. 21:6 El que odia que lo reprendan, sigue las huella del pecador; pero, el que teme a Adonai Yah, se convierte de corazón. 21:7 Al charlatán se le reconoce desde lejos, pues el hombre que reflexiona detecta sus artificios. 21:8 El que acrecienta su hacienda a cuenta de dinero ajeno, es como el que trabaja para su destrucción; como quien amontona piedras para su propia tumba. 21:9 La reunión de los pecadores es como un montón de estopa, y su fin es la llama del fuego. 21:10 Amplio es el camino de los pecadores, pues está despejado de piedras; pero desemboca en lo profundo del Abismo; en las tinieblas y tormentos de Gehinnom.

El sabio y el necio

21:11 El que observa los diez mandamientos de la Ley, está completo, pues domina sus instintos, y el temor del Señor es la culminación de la sabiduría. 21:12 El que no posee habilidad, no puede aprender; pero hay habilidades que producen amargura. 21:13 La ciencia del sabio crece como una inundación, y su consejo es como fuente de vida. 21:14 La mente del necio es como un vaso roto: no retiene ningún conocimiento. 21:15 Si un hombre de saber oye una palabra sabia, la elogia, y le añade otra suya; si la oye un necio, le desagrada, y la pone en su espalda, donde no pueda verla. 21:16 Soportar la conversación del necio es como llevar una carga pesada durante un largo viaje; pero, los labios del inteligente saben como agradar. 21:17 La opinión del prudente es requerida en la asamblea, y todos reflexionan sobre sus palabras. 21:18 Como una casa en ruinas es la sabiduría del necio, y la ciencia del insensato es una serie de incoherencias. 21:19 La instrucción es para el tonto como un cepo en los pies, y como esposas en su mano derecha. 21:20 El necio se ríe a carcajadas, pero el hombre sagaz sonrío apenas y sin estrépito. 21:21 La instrucción es para el prudente como un adorno de oro y como un brazalete en el brazo derecho. 21:22 El pie del necio entra rápido en la casa, pero el hombre experimentado se acerca con vergüenza. 21:23 El necio curiosear la casa desde la puerta, pero el bien educado se queda afuera. 21:24 Es falta de educación escuchar junto a la puerta: al prudente se le caería la cara de vergüenza. 21:25 Los labios de los charlatanes hablan sólo de oídas, pero los prudentes pesan bien sus palabras. 21:26 Los necios hablan siempre sin pensar; los sabios piensan, y luego hablan. 21:27 Cuando el impío maldice al adversario, se maldice a sí mismo. 21:28 El chismoso se mancha a sí mismo, y es detestado por los que le rodean.

CAPÍTULO 22

La holgazanería

22:1 El perezoso se parece a una piedra ensuciada: todos silban despectivamente por su deshonra. 22:2 El perezoso se parece a un montón de excrementos: el que los levanta se sacude las manos.

Los malos hijos

22:3 La vergüenza de un padre es tener un hijo mal educado, y si es una hija, viene al mundo para su desgracia. 22:4 La hija prudente tendrá como herencia un marido, pero la desvergonzada será la tristeza de su padre. 22:5 La hija insolente avergüenza al padre y al marido, y es despreciada por los dos. 22:6 Como música en un duelo, son las palabras inoportunas; pero el castigo y la disciplina son sabiduría en todo tiempo. 22:7 Los hijos que, en adición a llevar una vida honesta, tienen con qué alimentarse, hacen olvidar el humilde origen de sus padres. 22:8 Los hijos que son jactanciosos y mal educados, deshonoran el noble origen que pueda tener su familia.

Precauciones en el trato con los necios

22:9 Enseñar a un necio es tan difícil como reparar una vasija rota, o despertar a alguien de un sueño profundo. 22:10 Razonar con un necio es como razonar con un soñoliento: al final dirá: "¿De qué se trata?" 22:11 Llorar por un muerto, porque ha perdido la luz; llorar por un necio, porque ha perdido la inteligencia: llorar serenamente por un muerto, porque él reposa; la vida del necio, en cambio, es peor que la muerte. 22:12 El duelo por un muerto dura siete días; por el necio y el impío, todos los días de su vida. 22:13 No hables demasiado con un insensato, ni andes en compañía del necio; cuídate de él, no sea que te cause un disgusto, y te salpique cuando se sacuda. Apártate de él, y tendrás descanso, estarás tranquilo, sin tener que preocuparte de sus arrebatos. 22:14 ¿Qué cosa es más pesada que el plomo?, y ¿qué otro nombre darle sino "necio"? 22:15 La arena, la sal, y una masa de hierro, pesan menos que un hombre insensato.

La firmeza de ánimo

22:16 Casa bien trabada con vigas de madera, no se desmorona ni por un terremoto: así, un corazón afirmado con madura reflexión, no se acobardará cuando llegue el momento. 22:17 Un corazón apoyado en una reflexión inteligente, es como el estuco que adorna un muro bien pulido. 22:18 Una empalizada puesta sobre una altura, no puede resistir los embates del viento: así, un corazón apocado por necias ideas, es incapaz de resistir el miedo a la muerte.

La amistad

22:19 El que lastima un ojo, hace brotar las lágrimas; el que lastima el corazón, hace aparecer los sentimientos. 22:20 El que tira una piedra a los pájaros, los espanta; el que afrenta a un amigo, rompe la amistad. 22:21 Si has sacado la espada contra un amigo, no desesperes: es posible volver atrás; 22:22 si has abierto la boca contra un amigo, no te inquietes: es posible la reconciliación. Pero ante la afrenta, el orgullo, la revelación de un secreto, y el golpe traicionero, ante esas cosas, huirá cualquier amigo. 22:23 Gánate la confianza de tu prójimo en su pobreza, para saciarte con él en su prosperidad; permanece con él en el momento de la aflicción y, si él hereda, compartirás su herencia. 22:24 Antes del fuego, hay en el horno vapor y humo: así preceden los insultos a la sangre derramada. 22:25 No me avergonzaré de proteger a un amigo, ni me ocultaré de su presencia; 22:26 y, si por su culpa me sucede algún mal, todo el que se entere se cuidará de él.

Deseos del sabio

22:27 ¡Quién le pusiera a mi boca un centinela, y a mis labios un sello de discreción, para que yo no caiga a causa de ellos, y mi lengua no me lleve a la ruina!

CAPÍTULO 23

Súplica del sabio

23:1 ¡Señor Yah, Padre y Dueño de mi vida, no me abandones al capricho de mis labios, ni me dejes caer por culpa de ellos! 23:2 ¿Quién aplicará el látigo a mi pensamiento, y a mi corazón, la disciplina de la sabiduría, para que no se perdonen mis errores, ni se pasen por alto mis pecados? 23:3 Así no se multiplicarán mis errores, ni sobreabundarán mis pecados, ni caeré ante mis adversarios, ni mi enemigo se burlará de mí. 23:4 Señor Elohim, Padre y Dios de mi vida, no me des unos ojos altaneros 23:5 y aparta de mí los malos deseos. 23:6 ¡Que la sensualidad y la lujuria no me dominen, no me entregues a las pasiones vergonzosas!

Los pecados de la lengua: los juramentos vanos

23:7 Escuchen, hijos, cómo se educa la lengua: el que observe esto no caerá en el lazo. 23:8 El pecador se enreda en sus propias palabras, el maldiciente y el soberbio caen a causa de ellas. 23:9 No acostumbres tu boca a jurar, ni te habitúes a pronunciar el nombre del Santo. 23:10 Así como el servidor vigilado constantemente nunca se libra de algún golpe, así el que jura y pronuncia el Nombre en todo momento no quedará limpio de pecado. 23:11 El que jura constantemente, está lleno de iniquidad, y el flagelo no se apartará de su casa. Si falta a su juramento, incurre en pecado; si lo menosprecia, peca doblemente; si juró en vano, no tendrá justificación y su casa se llenará de desgracias.

La grosería en el hablar

23:12 Hay un lenguaje comparable a la muerte: ¡que no se lo encuentre en la herencia de Jacob! Los hombres piadosos rechazan estas cosas, y no se revuelcan en los pecados. 23:13 No acostumbres tu boca a decir groserías, porque al decir las se peca con la palabra. 23:14 Acuérdate de tu padre y de tu madre, cuando te sientes en medio de los grandes, no sea que los olvides en presencia de ellos, y te comportes como un necio. Porque entonces preferirías no haber nacido, y maldecirías el día de tu nacimiento. 23:15 Un hombre habituado a las palabras injuriosas, no podrá ser corregido en toda su vida.

La lujuria y el adulterio

23:16 Dos clases de hombres multiplican los pecados, y una tercera provoca la ira de Adonai: 23:17 El sensual, cuya pasión arde como un fuego; que no se extingue hasta que todo lo ha consumido. El lujurioso con su propio cuerpo; cuyo desvarío no cesa sino hasta que el fuego ya ha devorado; para el lujurioso, toda comida es dulce, y no descansara de su empeño hasta que haya muerto. 23:18 El que es infiel a su esposa, y dice para sí: "¿Quién me ve? La oscuridad me rodea y las paredes me cubren; nadie me ve: ¿qué he de temer? El Altísimo no se acordará de mis pecados". 23:19 Lo que él teme son los ojos de los hombres, y no sabe que los ojos del Señor son diez mil veces más luminosos que el sol, que observan todos los caminos de los hombres y penetran en los rincones más ocultos. 23:20 Antes de ser creadas, todas las cosas le eran conocidas, y lo son asimismo una vez acabadas. 23:21 Ese hombre será castigo en las plazas de la ciudad, será apresado donde menos lo esperaba. 23:22 Así también la mujer que abandona a su marido, y le da un heredero nacido de un extraño. 23:23 Porque, primero, ha desobedecido la Ley del Señor; segundo, ha faltado contra su marido; tercero, se ha prostituido con su adulterio, teniendo hijos con un hombre extraño. 23:24 Ella será llevada a la asamblea y el castigo recaerá sobre sus hijos. 23:25 Sus hijos no echarán raíces y sus ramas no producirán fruto. 23:26 Ella dejará su recuerdo para una maldición y su infamia no se borrarán. 23:27 Así sabrán los que vengan después que, no hay nada mejor que el temor del Señor ni nada más dulce que obedecer sus mandamientos.

CAPÍTULO 24

El elogio de la sabiduría

24:1 La sabiduría hace el elogio de sí misma, y se gloria en medio de su pueblo, 24:2 abre la boca en la asamblea del Altísimo, y se gloria delante de su Poder: 24:3 "Yo salí de la boca del Altísimo, y cubrí la tierra como una neblina. 24:4 Levanté mi carpa en las alturas, y mi trono estaba en una columna de nube. 24:5 Yo sola recorrí el circuito del cielo, y anduve por la profundidad de los abismos. 24:6 Sobre las olas del mar, y sobre toda la tierra; sobre todo pueblo y nación, ejercí mi dominio. 24:7 Entre todos ellos, busqué un lugar de reposo, me pregunté en qué herencia podría residir. 24:8 Entonces, el Creador de todas las cosas me dio una orden, el que me creó me hizo instalar mi carpa, él me dijo: 'Levanta tu carpa en Jacob y fija tu herencia en Israel'. 24:9 Él me creó antes de los siglos, desde el principio, y por todos los siglos no dejaré de existir. 24:10 Ante él, ejercí el ministerio en la Morada santa, y así me he establecido en Sión; 24:11 Él me hizo reposar asimismo en la Ciudad predilecta, y en Jerusalén se ejerce mi autoridad. 24:12 Yo eché raíces en un Pueblo glorioso, en la porción del Señor, en su herencia. 24:13 Crecí como un cedro en el Líbano y como un ciprés en los montes del Hermón; 24:14 crecí como una palmera en Engadí y como los rosales en Jericó; como gallardo olivo en la llanura, como plátano me he elevado. 24:15 Yo exhalé perfume como el cinamomo, como el aspálato fragante y la mirra selecta, como el gálbano, la uña aromática y el estacte, y como el humo del incienso, en la Tienda de reunión. 24:16 Extendí mis ramas como un terebinto, y ellas son ramas de gloria y de gracia. 24:17 Yo, como una vid, hice germinar la gracia, y mis flores son un fruto de gloria y de riqueza.

Invitación a buscar la Sabiduría

24:19 ¡Vengan a mí, los que me desean, y sáciense de mis productos! 24:20 Porque mi recuerdo es más dulce que la miel; y, mi herencia, más dulce que un panal. 24:21 Los que me coman, quedaran con mas hambre de mi; los que me beban, tendrán más sed de mi. 24:22 El que me obedezca, no se avergonzará, y los que me sirvan, no pecarán".

La Sabiduría y la Ley

24:23 Todo esto es el libro de la Alianza del Dios Altísimo, la Ley que nos prescribió Moisés como herencia para las asambleas de Jacob. 24:25 Ella hace desbordar la Sabiduría como el Pisón, y como el Tigris en los días de los primero frutos; 24:26 inunda de inteligencia como el Éufrates y como el Jordán en los tiempos de la cosecha; 24:27 prodiga la instrucción como el Nilo, como el Guijón en los días de la vendimia. 24:28 El primero no terminó de conocerla, y el último ni siquiera la vislumbra. 24:29 Porque su pensamiento es más vasto que el océano; y su designio, más profundo que el gran Abismo.

La intención del autor del Libro

24:30 En cuanto a mí, como canal derivado de un río, como una acequia que atraviesa un jardín, 24:31 dije: "Regaré mi huerta y empaparé mi tablar". ¡De pronto, mi canal se convirtió en un río, y mi río se transformó en un mar! 24:32 Aún haré brillar la instrucción como la aurora, e irradiaré su luz lo más lejos posible; 24:33 Aún derramaré la enseñanza como una profecía, y la dejaré para las generaciones futuras. 24:34 Porque yo no he trabajado sólo para mí, sino para todos los que buscan la Sabiduría.

CAPÍTULO 25

Tres cosas deseables y tres aborrecibles

25:1 Con tres cosas me adorno, y me presento embellecida delante del Señor, y de los hombres: la concordia entre hermanos, la amistad entre vecinos, y una mujer y un marido que se llevan bien. 25:2 Pero hay tres clases de gente que aborrezco, y que me irritan por su manera de vivir: un pobre soberbio, un rico mentiroso, y un viejo adúltero que ha perdido el juicio.

La corona de los ancianos

25:3 Si no has ahorrado en la juventud, ¿cómo vas a encontrar algo en tu vejez? 25:4 ¡Qué bello adorno para las canas es saber juzgar, y para los ancianos, ser hombres de consejo! 25:5 ¡Qué hermosa es la sabiduría de los ancianos, la reflexión y el consejo en la gente respetable! 25:6 Corona de los ancianos es una rica experiencia, y su orgullo, el temor del Señor.

Nueve cosas encomiables

25:7 Hay nueve cosas imaginables, que considero felices, y la décima, también la voy a mencionar: un hombre que está contento de sus hijos, y uno que ve en vida la caída de sus enemigos. 25:8 ¡Feliz el que vive con una esposa inteligente, el que no ha incurrido en falta con su lengua, y el que no sirve a un amo indigno de él! 25:9 ¡Feliz el que ha encontrado la prudencia, y el que la expone ante un auditorio atento! 25:10 ¡Qué grande es aquel que encontró la sabiduría! Pero nadie aventaja al que teme al Señor: 25:11 el temor del Señor supera a todos lo demás, y el que lo posee ¿a quién se puede comparar? 25:12 El temor del Señor es el comienzo de su amor, y es por la fe que uno empieza a unirse a Él.

Invectiva contra la mala mujer

25:13 ¡Cualquier herida, menos la del corazón! ¡Cualquier maldad, menos la de una mujer! 25:14 ¡Cualquier desgracia, menos la causada por el odio! ¡Cualquier venganza, menos la de un enemigo! 25:15 No hay peor veneno que el de la serpiente, ni peor furia que la de la mala mujer. 25:16 Preferiría habitar con un león, o un dragón, antes que vivir con una mala mujer. 25:17 La maldad de una mala mujer, desfigura su semblante, y vuelve su rostro huraño como un oso. 25:18 Su marido se va a sentar en medio de sus vecinos, y no puede reprimir sus amargos gemidos. 25:19 Toda maldad es pequeña, comparada con la de la mala mujer: ¡que caiga sobre ella la suerte del pecador! 25:20 Cuesta arenosa para los pies de un anciano, es la mujer charlatana para un esposo apacible. 25:21 No te dejes cautivar por los encantos de una mujer, ni te apasionas por ella. 25:22 Estallido de enojo, infamia y una gran vergüenza, esperan al hombre que es mantenido por su mujer. 25:23 Corazón abatido, rostro sombrío, y pena del alma, es una mala mujer. Manos inertes y rodillas paralizadas es la mujer que no hace feliz al marido. 25:24 Por una mujer tuvo comienzo el pecado, y a causa de ella, todos morimos. 25:25 No dejes correr el agua, ni des libertad a una mala mujer. 25:26 Si no camina como tú le indicas, arráncala de tu propia carne, y apártala de tu lado.

CAPÍTULO 26

La felicidad de tener una buena esposa

26:1 ¡Feliz el marido de una buena esposa: se duplicará el número de sus días! 26:2 La mujer hacendosa es la alegría de su marido y él vivirá en paz hasta el último de sus días. 26:3 Una buena esposa es una gran fortuna, reservada en suerte a los que temen al Señor: 26:4 sea rico o pobre, su corazón será dichoso y su rostro estará radiante en todo momento.

Los peligros de la mala mujer

26:5 Hay tres cosas que me inspiran temor, y por la cuarta imploro misericordia: ciudad dividida, multitud amotinada, y falsa acusación son más penosas que la muerte. 26:6 Pero pesadumbre y duelo es la mujer celosa de su rival, y en todo está presente el flagelo de la lengua. 26:7 Como un yugo mal ajustado, es una mala mujer: tratar de sujetarla es agarrar un escorpión. 26:8 Una mujer bebedora provoca indignación: ella no podrá ocultar su ignominia. 26:9 La mujer adúltera provoca con la mirada, sus párpados la delatan. 26:10 Redobla la guardia ante una joven atrevida, no sea que descubra una ocasión y se aproveche. 26:11 Cuídate de las miradas provocativas y no te sorprendas si te incitan al mal. 26:12 Ella abre la boca como un viajero sediento, y bebe toda el agua que se le ofrece; se sienta impúdicamente ante toda clavija de tienda, y abre su aljaba a todas las flechas.

Elogio de la buena esposa

26:13 La gracia de una mujer deleita a su marido y su buen juicio lo llena de vigor. 26:14 Una mujer discreta es un don del Señor y no tiene precio la esposa bien educada. 26:15 Una mujer pudorosa es la mayor de las gracias y no hay escala para medir a la que es dueña de sí misma. 26:16 Como el sol que se eleva por las alturas del Señor, así es el encanto de la buena esposa; es como una casa bien ordenada. 26:17 Como una lámpara que brilla sobre el candelabro sagrado, así es la belleza del rostro sobre un cuerpo esbelto. 26:18 Columnas de oro sobre un zócalo de plata son las piernas hermosas sobre talones firmes.

Tres cosas lamentables

26:28 Hay dos cosas que me entristecen y por una tercera se enciende mi enojo: un guerrero sumido en la indigencia, los hombres inteligentes tratados con desprecio y el que vuelve de la justicia al pecado: a este, el Señor lo destina a la espada.

Los peligros del comercio

26:29 Es casi imposible que quienes se dedican al comercio sean librados de incurrir en alguna falta; los que se dedican a grandes negocios, no estarán exentos de la usura y la mentira.

CAPÍTULO 27

27:1 Muchos han pecado por amor al dinero; y, el que busca enriquecerse, se niega a darle ayuda a los pobres. 27:2 Entre la juntura de las piedras, se clava la estaca; y, entre la compra y la venta, se desliza fácilmente el pecado. 27:3 El comerciante que no se aferra firmemente a los mandamientos de Yah, de pronto vera su casa arruinada.

La palabra, prueba del hombre

27:4 Cuando se sacude el cedazo, quedan los residuos: así los desechos de un hombre aparecen en sus palabras. 27:5 El horno pone a prueba los vasos del alfarero, y la prueba del hombre está en su conversación. 27:6 La verdadera naturaleza de un árbol, se manifiesta en sus frutos: de ese mismo modo, la verdadera naturaleza de un hombre, se manifiesta en sus palabras. 27:7 No elogies a nadie antes de oírlo razonar, porque allí es donde se prueban los hombres.

La búsqueda de la justicia

27:8 Si buscas la justicia, la alcanzarás, y te revestirás de ella como de una túnica gloriosa. 27:9 Los pájaros buscan la compañía de sus semejantes y la verdad retorna a aquellos que la practican. 27:10 El león está al acecho de su presa, y el pecado, de los que practican la injusticia.

La conversación de los necios

27:11 La conversación del hombre bueno es siempre sabia, pero el insensato es variable como la luna. 27:12 Que el tiempo que inviertes con los necios sea corto; pero largo el que inviertes con la gente sabia. 27:13 La conversación de los necios es odiosa y sólo les causa gracia el vicio desenfrenado. 27:14 Los que juran constantemente hacen erizar los cabellos y cuando discuten, hay que taparse los oídos. 27:15 Riña de orgullosos hace derramar sangre, da pena escuchar sus insultos.

La indiscreción, ruina de la amistad

27:16 El que revela los secretos hace que le pierdan la confianza y no encontrará jamás un amigo íntimo. 27:17 Sé afectuoso y confiado con tu amigo, pero si has revelado sus secretos, no corras tras él, 27:18 porque como el asesino destruye a su víctima, así has destruido la amistad de tu prójimo: 27:19 como un pájaro que has dejado escapar de tu mano, así has perdido a tu amigo, y ya no lo recobrarás. 27:20 No corras detrás de él, porque está muy lejos, huyó como una gacela de la red. 27:21 Porque una herida puede ser vendada, y para la injuria puede haber reconciliación, pero el que revela los secretos nada puede esperar.

La hipocresía

27:22 Algo malo trama quien guiña el ojo, y nadie logrará disuadirlo. 27:23 Delante de tus ojos, su boca es toda dulzura, y se extasía con tus palabras; pero, por detrás, cambia de lenguaje, y usa tus palabras para causar escándalos. 27:24 Yo detesto muchas cosas; pero, más que nada, detesto al hombre que, en público, ofrece con su boca paz a su hermano; pero, en su corazón, le declara secretamente la guerra; ¡Yah el Señor también lo detesta!

En el pecado, el castigo

27:25 El que tira una piedra hacia arriba, la tira sobre su cabeza, y un golpe a traición hiere también al que lo da. 27:26 El que cava una fosa, caerá en ella y el que tiende una red quedará enredado. 27:27 Lo que el hombre siembra, eso mismo cosecha: Quien hace el mal, lo vera caer de vuelta sobre si mismo, sin saber de dónde vino. 27:28 Sarcasmos e insultos son propios de los soberbios, pero la venganza le acechara como un león. 27:29 Los pecadores caerán en la red; todos aquellos que se alegran de la caída de los buenos; el dolor los consumirá antes de su muerte.

El rencor y la venganza

27:30 También el rencor y la ira son abominables, y ambas cosas son patrimonio de pecador.

CAPÍTULO 28

28:1 Medida por medida: el hombre vengativo, sufrirá en carne propia la venganza del Señor, que llevará cuenta exacta de todos sus pecados. 28:2 ¡Si perdonas, serás también perdonado!: perdona el agravio a tu prójimo, y entonces cuando ores, serán también absueltos tus pecados. 28:3 Si un hombre mantiene su enojo contra otro, ¿cómo pretende que el Señor lo sane? 28:4 No tiene piedad de un hombre semejante a él, ¡y se atreve a implorar piedad por sus pecados! 28:5 Él, un simple mortal, guarda rencor: ¿quién le perdonará sus pecados? 28:6 Acuérdate del fin, y deja de odiar; piensa en la corrupción y en la muerte, y sé fiel a los mandamientos; 28:7 acuérdate de los mandamientos, cuyo fin es no hacer daño a nadie, y no guardes rencor a tu prójimo; piensa en la Alianza del Altísimo, y pasa por alto las ofensas que te han hecho.

Las discusiones y los altercados

28:8 Evita los altercados y pecarás mucho menos, porque el hombre iracundo enciende las disputas. 28:9 El pecador siembra la confusión entre los amigos, y crea división entre los que vivían en paz. 28:10 El fuego arde según el combustible, y la disputa se enciende en la medida del empecinamiento; según sea su fuerza, será la furia de un hombre, y según su riqueza, dará libre curso a su ira. 28:11 Una discordia repentina enciende un fuego, y una disputa precipitada hace correr la sangre. 28:12 Si soplas una chispa, se inflama; si le escupes encima, se extingue, y ambas cosas salen de tu boca.

La maledicencia

28:13 Dios maldice al murmurador, y al de lengua doble; ellos han arruinado a mucha gente que vivía en paz. 28:14 La lengua triple; un calumniador, un calumniado, y un oyente que propaga la calumnia, ha hecho tambalear a muchos, y los ha dispersado de nación en nación; ella arrasó ciudades fortificadas, y echó por tierra casas de potentados; 28:15 hizo repudiar a mujeres valerosas, y las privó del fruto de sus trabajos. 28:16 El que le presta atención, no encuentra más descanso, y ya no puede vivir en paz. 28:17 Un golpe de látigo deja una marca, pero un golpe de lengua quiebra los huesos. 28:18 Muchos han caído al filo de la espada, pero son menos que los caídos a causa de la lengua. 28:19 ¡Feliz el que está al resguardo de ella y no ha quedado expuesto a su furor, el que no ha tirado de su yugo, ni ha sido atado a sus cadenas! 28:20 Porque su yugo es un yugo de hierro, y sus cadenas son cadenas de bronce. 28:21 ¡Muerte funesta es la que inflige, y es preferible el Abismo, a una lengua así! 28:22 Pero ella no tiene poder sobre los hombres piadosos, y ellos no se quemarán en sus llamas. 28:23 Los que abandonan al Señor, serán sus víctimas: ella los abrasará sin extinguirse, se lanzará sobre ellos como un león y los destrozará como una pantera. 28:24 Por eso, rodea tu posesión con un cerco de espinas, guarda bien tu plata y tu oro; 28:25 Ponle peso y balanza a tus palabras; ponle puerta y candado a tu boca. 28:26 Presta atención, no sea que resbales a causa de la lengua, y caigas ante los que te acechan.

CAPÍTULO 29

Los préstamos

29:1 El que practica la misericordia, presta a su prójimo; y, al que acude en su ayuda, se le cuenta como si hubiese cumplido todos los mandamientos la Ley. 29:2 Presta al prójimo que también teme al Señor Yah, cuando esté necesitado; y, por tu parte, restituye a tiempo lo que te han prestado. 29:3 Cumple tu palabra y sé leal con él, y encontrarás en todo momento lo que necesites. 29:4 Los impíos consideran el préstamo como una ganga, y ponen en aprietos a quienes los han ayudado; Actúa como Avraham, con aquellos que invitaba a su mesa. Se generoso con todos, ¡Pero no fortalezcas las manos de los enemigos de Yah!, sino da prioridad a quienes le temen. 29:5 Hasta que reciben, besan las manos de la gente, y hablan con humildad de las riquezas del prójimo, pero en el momento de restituir, piden prórroga, sólo devuelven con palabras quejumbrosas, y echan la culpa a las circunstancias. 29:6 Si llegan a pagar, el acreedor recibe apenas la mitad, y tiene que aceptarlo como un favor. Si no, lo despojan de sus riquezas, y él se gana inútilmente un enemigo, que le paga con maldiciones e insultos, y le devuelve desprecio en vez de honrarlo. 29:7 Así, muchos se niegan a prestar, no por maldad, sino por temor a ser despojados sin razón.

La limosna

29:8 Pero tú sé generoso con el humilde, y no le hagas esperar tu limosna. 29:9 Socorre al indigente, si quieres cumplir el mandamiento; y, en su indigencia, no le despidas con las manos vacías. 29:10 Gasta dinero por el hermano y el amigo: que no se herrumbre bajo una piedra y lo pierdas. 29:11 Utiliza tus bienes según los mandamientos del Altísimo, y obtendrás una recompensa mas perdurable que el oro; 29:12 que el tesoro encerrado en tus graneros sea la limosna que de ellos habrás de dar, y ella te preservará de todo mal: 29:13 mejor que un fuerte escudo, y una lanza pesada, combatirá a tu favor frente al enemigo.

Las fianzas

29:14 El hombre de bien, sale fiador de su prójimo, pero el que perdió la vergüenza lo deja abandonado. 29:15 No olvides los favores de tu fiador, porque él ha expuesto su vida por ti. 29:16 El pecador dilapida los bienes de su fiador, y el desagradecido abandona al que lo salvó. 29:17 La fianza perdió a muchos que vivían prósperamente, los sacudió como una ola del mar; 29:18 obligó a expatriarse a hombres poderosos, que anduvieron fugitivos por países extraños. 29:19 El pecador que se ofrece como fiador y busca ventaja, se expone a ser procesado. 29:20 En todas las cosas, busca el sabio balance: Socorre a tu prójimo en la medida de tus recursos, pero ten cuidado de no arruinarte.

La humillación del que vive en casa ajena

29:21 Lo esencial para la vida es el agua, el pan, la ropa, y una casa para albergarse dignamente. 29:22 Más vale vida de pobre en una cabaña de madera, que comida exquisita en casa ajena. 29:23 En lo poco y en lo mucho pon buena cara, y no escucharas que te reprochan por ser un extraño. 29:24 Triste vida es andar de casa en casa: donde eres un extraño, no puedes abrir la boca. 29:25 Sirves de comer y beber a gente desagradecida, y encima tienes que oír cosas amargas: 29:26 —"Ven aquí, forastero, prepara la mesa, y si tienes algo a mano, dame de comer". 29:27 —"Vete, forastero, deja el lugar para alguien más importante; viene a hospedarse mi hermano, y necesito la casa". 29:28 ¡Qué duro es para un hombre sensible que le reprochen la hospitalidad, y le echen en cara una deuda!

CAPÍTULO 30

La educación de los hijos

30:1 El que ama a su hijo, lo castiga a menudo, para poder alegrarse de él en el futuro. 30:2 El que educa bien a su hijo encontrará satisfacción en él y se sentirá orgulloso entre sus conocidos. 30:3 El que instruye a su hijo, pondrá celoso a su enemigo, y se sentirá dichoso delante de sus amigos, 30:4 Cuando el padre muere, es como si no muriese, pues deja tras de sí un hijo semejante a él. 30:5 Mientras vive, se alegra de verlo, y a su muerte, no siente ningún pesar: 30:6 deja a alguien que lo vengará de sus enemigos, y devolverá los favores a sus amigos. 30:7 No consientas demasiado a tu hijo: vendando todas y cada una de sus heridas, y angustiándote con cada grito de dolor que dé. 30:8 Un caballo sin domar, sale arisco, y un hijo consentido sale insolente y libertino. 30:9 Malcría a tu hijo, y te hará temblar; juega demasiado con él, y te llenará de tristeza, pues nunca aprenderá el serio valor del trabajo. 30:10 No bromees demasiado con él, no sea que, perdiéndote el respeto, al final te cause sufrimiento, haciendo rechinar tus dientes. 30:11 No les des rienda suelta en su juventud, 30:12 pégale sin temor mientras aún es niño, no sea que se vuelva rebelde y te desobedezca. 30:13 Educa a tu hijo y fórmalo bien, para que no tengas que soportar su insolencia.

La salud corporal

30:14 Más vale pobre sano y vigoroso, que rico lleno de achaques. 30:15 La salud y el vigor valen más que todo el oro; y el cuerpo robusto, más que una inmensa fortuna. 30:16 No hay mejor riqueza material que la salud del cuerpo, ni mayor felicidad material que la alegría del corazón. 30:17 Es preferible la muerte, a una vida amarga; y el descanso eterno, a una enfermedad permanente. 30:18 Manjares derramados sobre una boca cerrada, son los alimentos depositados sobre una tumba: 30:19 ¿de qué le sirve al ídolo la ofrenda si no puede comer ni gustar? Así pasa con el hombre perseguido por el Señor: 30:20 mira con sus ojos y lanza un suspiro, como un eunuco cuando abraza a una virgen.

La alegría del corazón

30:21 No dejes que la tristeza se apodere de ti, ni te atormentes con tus cavilaciones. 30:22 Un corazón alegre es la vida del hombre, y el gozo alarga el número de sus días. 30:23 Vive ilusionado con el bien deparado para los justos, y consuela así tu corazón; aparta lejos de ti la tristeza, porque la tristeza fue la perdición de muchos, y no se saca de ella ningún provecho. 30:24 La envidia y la ira acortan la vida, y las preocupaciones hacen envejecer antes de tiempo. 30:25 Un hombre de corazón alegre tiene buen apetito, y lo que come le hace provecho.

Peligro de las riquezas

31:1 Los desvelos del rico terminan por consumirlo, y el afán de riquezas hace perder el sueño. 31:2 La preocupación por el sustento no deja dormir, y priva del sueño más que una grave enfermedad. 31:3 El rico se fatiga por amontonar una fortuna, y si descansa, es para hartarse de placeres; 31:4 El pobre se fatiga para vivir modestamente, y si descansa, cae en la indigencia. 31:5 El que ama el oro nunca podrá ser justo; y, el afán de lucro, hace extraviar al hombre. 31:6 Muchos acabaron en la ruina por culpa del oro y se enfrentaron con su propia perdición, 31:7 porque el oro es una trampa para los que le ofrecen sacrificios; todos los insensatos quedaron atrapados en ella. 31:8 ¡Dichoso el rico de conducta intachable, que no corre tras el oro! 31:9 ¿Quién es? Vamos a felicitarle, pues ha hecho maravillas en medio de su pueblo. 31:10 ¿Quién fue tentado por el Oro, y no terminó inclinándose ante el? Tiene un buen motivo para gloriarse. ¿Quién pudo transgredir la Ley, y no la transgredió; hacer el mal, y no lo hizo? 31:11 Sus bienes estarán asegurados y la asamblea publicará sus beneficios.

La frugalidad en los banquetes

31:12 ¿Te has sentado en una mesa opulenta? ¡No abras la boca de par en par!; ni digas, relamiéndote los labios, "¡Cuántas cosas hay aquí!" 31:13 Acuérdate que está mal tener un ojo ávido: ¿ha sido creado algo peor que el ojo? Por eso derrama lágrimas por cualquier cosa. 31:14 No extiendas la mano a todo lo que veas, para no tropezar con tu vecino en el plato. 31:15 Juzga a tu prójimo como te juzgarías a ti mismo; y, en todo asunto, actúa con reflexión. 31:16 Come como persona educada lo que pongan delante, y no mastiques ruidosamente, para no hacerte odioso. 31:17 Sé el primero en dejar de comer, por buena educación, y no seas insaciable, así no tendrás tropiezo. 31:18 Si estás sentado entre muchos comensales, no extiendas tu mano antes que los demás. 31:19 ¡Qué poco le basta a un hombre bien educado! Por eso no siente que se asfixia, cuando se acuesta en el lecho. 31:20 A estómago sobrio, sueño saludable: uno se levanta temprano, y está bien despierto. Insomnio penoso, náuseas y cólicos: eso le espera al hombre insaciable. 31:21 Y, si te han forzado a excederte en la comida, levántate, ve lejos a vomitar, y sentirás alivio. 31:22 Escúchame, hijo mío, no me desprecies, y al final comprenderás mis palabras: sé moderado en todas tus acciones, y nunca caerás enfermo. 31:23 Los labios bendicen al que sirve bien de comer, y el testimonio de su generosidad es digno de fe. 31:24 La ciudad murmura del que mezquina el pan, y el testimonio de su mezquindad es exacto.

Beneficios y peligros del vino

31:25 No te hagas el valiente con el vino, porque el vino ha sido la perdición de muchos. 31:26 Como la fragua pone a prueba el temple del acero, el vino prueba al hombre en las disputas de los prepotentes. 31:27 El vino es como la vida para el hombre, siempre que se lo beba con moderación. ¿Qué es la vida cuando falta el vino? Porque él fue creado para alegría de los hombres. 31:28 Gozo del corazón y alegría del alma es el vino bebido a su tiempo y en la medida conveniente. 31:29 Amargura del alma es el vino bebido en exceso, con ánimo de desafiar y provocar. 31:30 La embriaguez enfurece al necio hasta el escándalo, disminuye sus fuerzas y le provoca heridas. 31:31 Mientras se bebe vino, no reprendas a tu prójimo, ni lo humilles si se pone alegre; no le dirijas palabras injuriosas, ni lo importunes con reclamos.

CAPÍTULO 32

La actitud del que preside el banquete 32:1 ¿Te toca presidir la mesa? No te envanezcas: compórtate con los demás como uno de ellos y atiéndelos bien antes de sentarte. 32:2 Una vez cumplido todo tu oficio, ocupa tu puesto para alegrarte a causa de los comensales, y verte coronado porque todo está en orden.

La conversación en los banquetes

32:3 Habla, anciano, porque te corresponde hacerlo, pero con discreción, y sin interrumpir la música. 32:4 Mientras se escucha, no te pongas a charlar ni te hagas el sabio fuera de tiempo. 32:5 Sello de rubí en una alhaja de oro, es un concierto musical mientras se bebe vino; 32:6 sello de esmeralda en un engaste de oro, es la música melodiosa sobre la dulzura del vino. 32:7 Habla, joven, cuando sea necesario, dos veces a lo sumo, si se te pregunta. 32:8 Habla concisamente, di mucho en pocas palabras: sé como uno que sabe, y sin embargo se calla. 32:9 En medio de los grandes, no pretendas igualarlos, y si otro habla, sé parco en tus palabras. 32:10 El relámpago brilla antes del trueno, y el encanto precede al hombre modesto. 32:11 Levántate a tiempo, no seas el último en irte, ve derecho a tu casa, sin entretenerte por el camino. 32:12 Diviértete allí como más te guste, pero sin pecar con palabras arrogantes. 32:13 Y por todo eso, bendice a tu Creador, que te embriaga con sus bienes.

El temor de Adonai Yah

32:14 El que teme al Señor acepta ser instruido, y los que lo buscan ardientemente alcanzarán su favor. 32:15 El que busca la Ley se saciará de ella; pero, al que finge observarla, le sirve de tropiezo. 32:16 Los que temen al Señor, comprenden lo que es la justicia, y hacen salir de la oscuridad sus pensamientos. 32:17 El pecador no tolera ningún reproche, y siempre busca un pretexto para rechazar el reinado de Yah sobre su vida, haciendo lo que se le antoja. 32:18 El hombre de consejo, no descuida la reflexión; el impío y el arrogante proceden temerariamente. 32:19 No hagas nada sin el debido consejo, y no te arrepentirás de tus acciones. 32:20 No vayas por un camino lleno de obstáculos, y no tropezarás contra las piedras. 32:21 No seas demasiado confiado: No te fíes de un camino inexplorado, 32:22 y cuídate hasta de tus hijos. 32:23 En todo lo que hagas, sé fiel a tus convicciones éticas y morales, porque en esto consiste guardar los mandamientos. 32:24 El que confía en la Ley, presta atención a los mandamientos; y, el que confía en Adonai Yah, no sufrirá menoscabo.

CAPÍTULO 33

33:1 El que teme al Señor no sufrirá ningún mal; y, en la prueba, será librado una y otra vez. 33:2 El hombre sabio no aborrece la Ley; pero, el que finge observarla, es como un barco en la tempestad. 33:3 El hombre sabio, confía en los mandamientos de la Ley; obedecerlos es para el, seguro oráculo Divino, que presagia vida, paz, y bendición. 33:4 Prepara tu discurso, y así serás escuchado; ordena tus ideas, y luego responde. 33:5 Los sentimientos del necio son una rueda de carro, y su razonamiento es como un eje que da vueltas. 33:6 Un amigo burlón es como un caballo en celo: relincha bajo cualquier jinete.

El dominio del Señor sobre los tiempos y los hombres

33:7 ¿Por qué un día es más importantes que otro, si a todos los días del año la luz les viene del sol? 33:8 Es la ciencia del Señor la que los hizo diferentes, y Él diversificó los tiempos y las fiestas: 33:9 a unos días los exaltó y consagró, y a otros los computó entre los días ordinarios. 33:10 Todos los hombres provienen del suelo, y Adán fue creado de la tierra; 33:11 pero, en su gran sabiduría, el Señor los distinguió, y les permitió marchar por caminos diversos: 33:12 a unos les permitió escoger bendición y honra; les permitió consagrarse, y acercarse a Él. A otros les permitió escoger maldición y humillación, para derribarlos de sus puestos. 33:13 Como está la arcilla en las manos del alfarero, que dispone de ella según su voluntad, así están los hombres en las manos de su Creador, quien ha dispuesto que cada uno reciba el bien o mal que haya escogido. 33:14 Frente al mal, está el bien; y, frente a la muerte, está la vida: así, frente al hombre bueno, está el pecador. 33:15 Considera asimismo todas las obras del Altísimo: están de dos en dos, una frente a otra.

El autor del Libro y su obra

33:16 Yo, el último en llegar, me mantuve alerta como quien recoge detrás de los viñadores. 33:17 Por la bendición del Señor, he llegado a tiempo, y como un viñador, he llenado el lagar. 33:18 Sepan que no me fatigué para mí solamente, sino para todos los que buscan la instrucción. 33:19 Escúchenme, grandes del pueblo, y ustedes, jefes de la asamblea, présteme atención.

Testamentos y administración de los bienes

33:20 Sea hijo o mujer, hermano o amigo, a nadie des autoridad sobre ti mientras vivas. Tampoco des a otros tus riquezas, no sea que, arrepentido, tengas que suplicar por ellas. 33:21 Mientras vivas, y no te falte el aliento, no te entregues en manos de otro: 33:22 es mejor que tus hijos te pidan, que tener tus ojos fijos en sus manos. 33:23 En todo lo que hagas, muestra dominio propio, y no manches con nada tu reputación. 33:24 Cuando lleguen a su término los días de tu vida, a la hora de la muerte, reparte tu herencia.

El trato con los servidores

33:25 Al asno el forraje, el bastón y la carga; al servidor el pan, la disciplina, y el trabajo. 33:26 Obliga a trabajar a tu sirviente, y encontrarás descanso; déjalo desocupado, y buscará rebelarse. 33:27 El yugo y las riendas doblegan la nuca, y para el sirviente perverso, están la disciplina y el trabajo duro. 33:28 Fuérralo a trabajar, para que no se rebele, porque el ocio enseña muchas cosas malas. 33:29 Oblígalo a trabajar como le corresponde, y si no obedece, limita su rango de movimiento. 33:30 Pero a nadie le exijas más de la cuenta, y no hagas nada sin justicia. 33:31 Si no tienes más que un servidor, considéralo como a ti mismo, porque lo has adquirido con sangre; 33:32 si no tienes más que un servidor, trátalo como a un hermano, porque lo necesitas tanto como a ti mismo. 33:33 Si tú lo maltratas y él termina por escaparse, ¿por qué camino lo irás a buscar?

CAPÍTULO 34

La veleidad de los sueños

34:1 Vanas y engañosas son las esperanzas del insensato, y los sueños dan alas a los necios. 34:2 Tratar de asir una sombra o correr detrás del viento, es dar crédito a los sueños. 34:3 Las visiones de los sueños pueden llegar a convertirse en un espejismo: un rostro ante el reflejo de su propia imagen. 34:4 ¿Puede sacarse algo puro de aquel que es completamente impuro? ¿Puede salir verdad alguna de aquel que es pura mentira? 34:5 Adivinaciones, augurios y sueños son vanas ilusiones, como fantasías de una mujer en parto. 34:6 A no ser que te conste que provienen del Altísimo, no prestes crédito a sueño alguno. 34:7 Porque los sueños han extraviado a muchos, que cayeron por poner en ellos su fe. 34:8 El que guarda los diez mandamientos de la Ley, tiene una verdad segura; que se sostiene por sí misma, sin necesidad del apoyo de sueños, augurios, o adivinaciones.

La utilidad de los viajes

34:9 El que ha viajado mucho, sabe muchas cosas; y, el hombre de experiencia, habla inteligentemente. 34:10 Quien poco ha sufrido, poca sabe; pero, quien ha sido sazonado con multitud de dolores, adquiere la destreza de la experiencia. 34:11 Muchas cosas he visto en el curso de mi jornada; mis experiencias son mas amplias que lo que se me permite expresar. 34:12 Muchas veces estuve en peligro de muerte, y gracias a la Sabiduría que aprendí de la Ley, pude escapar sano y salvo.

El temor del Señor, fuente de seguridad

34:13 El espíritu de los que temen al Señor vivirá, porque han puesto su esperanza en aquel que los salva. 34:14 Quien teme al Señor Yah, no tiene miedo de nada; y no se acobarda, porque Yah es su esperanza. 34:15 ¡Feliz el alma del que teme al Señor! ¿En quién se sostiene y cuál es su apoyo? 34:16 Los ojos del Señor miran a aquellos que lo aman: Él es escudo poderoso y apoyo seguro, refugio contra el viento abrasador y el ardor del mediodía, salvaguardia contra el tropiezo y auxilio contra la caída. 34:17 Él levanta el ánimo e ilumina los ojos, da salud, vida y bendición. El culto agradable a Adonai Yah 34:18 Ofrecer en sacrificio el fruto de la injusticia es presentar una ofrenda defectuosa, y los dones de los impíos no son aceptados. 34:19 El Altísimo no acepta las ofrendas de los impíos; y no es por el número de víctimas, que perdona los pecados. 34:20 Como inmolar a un hijo ante los ojos de su padre, es presentar una víctima con bienes quitados a los pobres. 34:21 Un mendrugo de pan es la vida de los indigentes: el que los priva de él es un sanguinario. 34:22 Mata a su prójimo el que lo priva del sustento, derrama sangre el que retiene el salario del jornalero. 34:23 Si uno edifica y otro destruye, ¿qué ganan con eso sino fatigas? 34:24 Si uno suplica y otro maldice, ¿qué voz escuchará el Dueño de todo? 34:25 El que vuelve a tocar a un muerto después de haberse lavado, ¿qué ha ganado con purificarse? 34:26 Así es el hombre que ayuna por sus pecados, y luego vuelve a cometerlos: ¿quién escuchará su plegaria, y qué ha ganado con humillarse?

Los Mandamientos y los sacrificios

35:1 Obedecer lo ordenado en las dos tablas de piedra, es como presentar muchas ofrendas; y ser fiel a los diez mandamientos, es como ofrecer un sacrificio de comunión; 35:2 devolver un favor, es hacer una oblación de harina; y hacer limosna, es ofrecer un sacrificio de alabanza. 35:3 La manera de agradar a Yah, es apartarse del mal; y, apartarse de la injusticia, es un sacrificio de expiación. 35:4 No te presentes ante el Señor con las manos vacías, porque todo esto lo prescriben los mandamientos. 35:5 Cuando la ofrenda del justo engrasa el altar, su fragancia llega a la presencia del Altísimo. 35:6 El sacrificio del justo es aceptado, y su memorial no caerá en el olvido. 35:7 Glorifica a Yah mostrando generosidad, y no mezquinas las primicias de tus manos. 35:8 Da siempre con el rostro radiante, y consagra el diezmo con alegría. 35:9 Da al Altísimo según lo que Él te dio, y con generosidad, conforme a tus recursos, 35:10 porque Yah sabe retribuir, y te dará siete veces más. 35:11 No pretendas sobornar a Yah con un don, porque no lo aceptaría, y no te apoyes en un sacrificio injusto. 35:12 Porque el Señor Yah es un juez justo, y no hace distinción de personas: 35:13 no se muestra parcial contra el pobre, y escucha la súplica del oprimido; 35:14 no desoye la plegaria del huérfano, ni a la viuda, cuando expone su queja. 35:15 ¿No corren las lágrimas por las mejillas de la viuda, y su clamor no acusa al que las hace derramar?

El poder de la Oración

35:16 El que rinde el culto que agrada al Señor, es aceptado; y su plegaria llega a la presencia del Altísimo. 35:17 La súplica del hombre que tiene un corazón humilde, llega hasta la morada de Dios, y mientras no llega a su destino, no recibe consuelo alguno: 35:18 no desiste, hasta que el Altísimo interviene; para juzgar a los justos, y hacerles justicia.

El castigo de las naciones

35:19 El Señor no tardará, y no tendrá paciencia con los abominables, 35:20 hasta quebrar el poderío de los despiadados, y dar su merecido a las naciones; 35:21 hasta extirpar la multitud de los prepotentes, y quebrar el cetro de los injustos; 35:22 hasta retribuir a cada hombre según sus acciones, remunerando las obras de los hombres según sus intenciones; 35:23 hasta juzgar la causa de su pueblo, y alegrarlo con su misericordia. 35:24 ¡Qué hermosa es la misericordia en el momento de la aflicción, como las nubes de lluvia en tiempo de sequía!

Súplica por la liberación de Israel

36:1 Ten piedad de nosotros, Dueño soberano, Dios de todas las cosas; y mira, infunde tu temor sobre todas las naciones. 36:2 Levanta tu mano contra las naciones extranjeras, para que reconozcan tu

Señorío. 36:3 Así como les manifestaste tu santidad castigando nuestras iniquidades, manifiéstanos también tu grandeza, castigando sus iniquidades; 36:4 para que ellas te reconozcan, como hemos reconocido nosotros que no hay otro Dios fuera de ti, oh Señor. 36:5 Renueva tus prodigios, y repite tus maravillas; glorifica tu santa mano, y el poder de tu brazo derecho. 36:6 Despierta tu furor, y derrama tu ira; suprime al adversario, y extermina al enemigo. 36:7 Apresura el fin, recuerda el plazo; pues, ¿quien te dirá: Qué haces? 36:8 Que el fuego de la ira devore a quienes piensan que podrán escapar al castigo; quienes hacen daño a tu pueblo, hallen la perdición. 36:9 Aplasta la cabeza de los príncipes enemigos; de los que, con sus obras, dicen "¡No hay dios que nos gobierne!" 36:10 Congrega a todas las tribus de Jacob, y entrégales su herencia, como al comienzo. 36:11 Ten piedad, Elohim, del pueblo que es llamado con tu Nombre, de Israel, a quien trataste como a un primogénito. 36:12 Ten compasión de tu Ciudad santa, de Jerusalén, el lugar de tu reposo. 36:13 Llena a Sión de tu majestad, y de tu gloria tu santo templo. 36:14 Da testimonio a favor de los que tú creaste en el principio, y cumple las profecías que se hicieron en tu Nombre. 36:15 Dale su recompensa a los que en ti esperan, y que se compruebe la veracidad de tus profetas. 36:16 Escucha, Adonai Yah, la súplica de tus siervos, conforme a la bendición de Aarón sobre tu pueblo, 36:17 para que todos los que viven en la Tierra reconozcan que tú, o Señor Yah, eres el Supremo Señor, el Dios Eterno.

El discernimiento

36:18 El estómago asimila toda clase de alimentos, pero hay unos mejores que otros. 36:19 El paladar distingue los manjares; y el corazón inteligente, las palabras mentirosas. 36:20 Un corazón tortuoso provoca contrariedades, pero el hombre de experiencia le da su merecido.

Necesidad y elección de una buena esposa

36:21 Una mujer acepta cualquier marido, pero unas jóvenes son mejores que otras. 36:22 La hermosura de la mujer, recrea la mirada, y el hombre la desea mas que a cualquier otra cosa. 36:23 Si en sus labios hay bondad y dulzura, su marido ya no es como los demás hombres. 36:24 El que adquiere una mujer, comienza a hacer fortuna, una ayuda adecuada para él, y una columna donde apoyarse. 36:25 Donde no hay valla, la propiedad es saqueada; y, donde no hay mujer, el hombre gime y va a la deriva. 36:26 ¿Quién puede fiarse de un ágil ladrón, que va saltando de ciudad en ciudad? 36:27 Así sucede con el hombre sin nido, que se alberga donde lo sorprende la noche.

Los verdaderos y los falsos amigos

37:1 Todo amigo dice: "También yo soy tu amigo", pero hay amigos que lo son sólo de nombre. 37:2 ¿No entristece acaso hasta la muerte ver a un amigo querido transformarse en enemigo? 37:3 ¡Oh perverso impulso a hacer el mal! ¿De dónde te han hecho rodar para cubrir la tierra de falsedad? 37:4 El mal amigo se fija en tu mesa; pero, cuando estas en aprietos, se mantiene lejos. 37:5 El buen amigo lucha contra tu enemigo, y te defiende de los que te atacan. 37:6 Nunca te olvides de un buen amigo, y acuérdate de él cuando tengas riquezas.

Los buenos y los malos consejeros

37:7 Todo el que aconseja recomienda su consejo, pero hay quien aconseja pensando sólo en sí mismo. 37:8 Se precavido con el que da consejos, y averigua primero qué le hace falta —porque entonces aconsejará lo que le convenga a él— no sea que le dé lo mismo una cosa que otra, 37:9 y te diga: "Vas por el buen camino", mientras se pone enfrente a ver qué te pasa. 37:10 No consultes al que te subestima, y al que tiene celos de ti, ocúltale tus designios. 37:11 No pidas consejo a una mujer sobre su rival, ni a un cobarde sobre la guerra, ni a un comerciante sobre un negocio, ni a un comprador sobre una venta, ni a un envidioso sobre la gratitud, ni a un despiadado sobre un beneficio, ni a un perezoso sobre cualquier trabajo, ni al que trabaja por horas sobre la conclusión de una obra, ni a un servidor holgazán sobre un trabajo difícil: no cuentes con estos para ningún consejo. 37:12 Pero recurre al hombre que anda en el temor de Dios, de quien te consta que cumple los mandamientos, cuya alma es según tu alma; y que, si das un traspíe, sufrirá contigo. 37:13 Mantente firme, guardando siempre una limpia conciencia, porque nadie te será más fiel que ella: 37:14 el alma de un hombre, suele advertir a menudo mejor que siete vigías apostados sobre una altura. 37:15 Y por encima de todo ruego al Altísimo, para que dirija tus pasos en la verdad.

La verdadera y la falsa sabiduría

37:16 El principio de cualquier obra es la razón, y antes de cualquier acción, está el consejo. 37:17 Raíz de los pensamientos es el corazón, y él hace brotar cuatro ramas: 37:18 el bien y el mal, la vida y la muerte, y la que decide siempre en todo esto es la lengua. 37:19 Hay quien es sabio, y obra sabiamente para los demás; y, para sí mismo, es un necio. 37:20 La peor de todas las ignorancias, es ser sabio de labios para afuera; quien así actúa, se hace odioso, y acabará siendo eliminado de todo grato convite: 37:21 no se le ha concedido el favor del Señor, porque está vacío de toda sabiduría. 37:22 Si un hombre es sabio para sí mismo, los frutos de su inteligencia son para su propio cuerpo. 37:23 Hay quien, para la gente de su pueblo, es sabio; y, los frutos de su inteligencia, son para ellos. 37:24 Un hombre sabio es colmado de bendiciones; y, al verlo, todos lo felicitan. 37:25 El hombre tiene sus días contados, pero los días de Israel son incontables. 37:26 Un hombre sabio se gana la confianza de su pueblo, y su nombre sobrevive para siempre.

La templanza

37:27 Hijo mío, para tu régimen de comida, pruébate a ti mismo: mira qué te hace mal, y prívate de ello. 37:28 Porque no todo es conveniente para todos, ni a todos les gusta lo mismo. 37:29 No seas insaciable de placeres, ni te excedas en las comidas. 37:30 Porque el exceso en las comidas acarrea enfermedades, y la glotonería provoca cólicos. 37:31 La glotonería causó la muerte de muchos; pero, el que se cuida de ella, prolongará su vida.

CAPÍTULO 38

Los buenos servicios del médico

38:1 Honra al médico por sus servicios, como corresponde, porque también a él lo ha creado el Señor. 38:2 La curación procede del Altísimo, y el médico recibe presentes del rey. 38:3 La ciencia del médico afianza su prestigio, y él se gana la admiración de los grandes. 38:4 El Señor hizo brotar las plantas medicinales, y el hombre prudente no las desprecia. 38:5 ¿Acaso una rama no endulzó el agua, a fin de que se conocieran sus propiedades? 38:6 El Señor dio a los hombres la ciencia, para ser glorificado por sus maravillas. 38:7 Con esos remedios, el médico cura y quita el dolor, y el farmacéutico prepara sus unguentos. 38:8 Así, las obras del Señor no tienen fin, y de Él viene la salud a la superficie de la tierra. 38:9 Si estás enfermo, hijo mío, no seas negligente, ruega al Señor, y Él te sanará. 38:10 No incurras en falta, enmienda tu conducta y purifica tu corazón de todo pecado. 38:11 Ofrece el suave aroma y el memorial de harina, presenta una rica ofrenda, como si fuera la última.

38:12 Después, deja actuar al médico, porque el Señor lo creó; que no se aparte de ti, porque lo necesitas. 38:13 En algunos casos, tu mejoría está en sus manos, 38:14 y ellos mismos rogarán al Señor que les permita dar una alivio, y curar al enfermo, para que se restablezca. 38:15 El hombre que peca delante de su Creador, ¡que caiga en manos del médico!

El duelo por un muerto

38:16 Hijo mío, por un muerto, derrama lágrimas, y entona un lamento, como quien sufre terriblemente. Entierra su cadáver en la forma establecida, y no descuides su sepultura. 38:17 Lloro amargamente, golpéate el pecho, y observa el duelo que él se merece, uno o dos días, para evitar comentarios, y luego consuélate de tu tristeza. 38:18 Porque la tristeza lleva a la muerte y un corazón abatido quita las fuerzas. 38:19 En la desgracia, la tristeza es permanente; y una vida de miseria va contra el corazón. 38:20 No te dejes llevar por la tristeza, aléjala, acordándote de tu fin. 38:21 Nunca lo olvides: ¡no hay camino de retorno! Al muerto, no podrás serle útil y te harás mal a ti mismo. 38:22 El difunto recuerda la sentencia que pesa sobre los seres humanos: “todos morimos, ayer me toco a mí, y hoy te tocara a ti”. 38:23 Ya que el muerto descansa, deja en paz su memoria, y trata de consolarte, porque ha partido su espíritu.

Los trabajos manuales, y la Sabiduría

38:24 La sabiduría del escriba exige tiempo y dedicación, y el que no está absorbido por otras tareas, se hará sabio. 38:25 ¿Cómo se hará sabio el que maneja el arado, y se enorgullece de empuñar la picana, el que guía los bueyes, trabaja con ellos, y no sabe hablar más que de novillos? 38:26 Él pone todo su empeño en abrir los surcos y se desvela por dar forraje a las terneras. 38:27 Lo mismo pasa con el artesano y el constructor, que trabajan día y noche; con los que graban las efigies de los sellos, que modifican pacientemente los diseños: ellos se dedican a reproducir el modelo, y trabajan hasta tarde para acabar la obra. 38:28 Lo mismo pasa con el herrero, sentado junto al yunque, con la atención fija en el hierro que forja: el vaho del fuego derrite su carne y él se debate con el calor de la fragua; el ruido del martillo ensordece sus oídos, y sus ojos están fijos en el modelo del objeto; pone todo su empeño en acabar sus obras, y se desvela por dejarlas bien terminadas. 38:29 Lo mismo pasa con el alfarero, sentado junto a su obra, mientras hace girar el torno con sus pies: está concentrado exclusivamente en su tarea, y apremiado por completar la cantidad; 38:30 con su brazo modela la arcilla, y con los pies vence su resistencia; pone todo su empeño en acabar el barnizado, y se desvela por limpiar el horno. 38:31 Todos ellos confían en sus manos, y cada uno se muestra sabio en su oficio. 38:32 Sin ellos no se levantaría ninguna ciudad, nadie la habitaría ni circularía por ella. 38:33 Pero no se los buscará para el consejo del pueblo, ni tendrán preeminencia en la asamblea; no se sentarán en el tribunal del juez, ni estarán versados en los decretos de la Ley. 38:34 No harán brillar la instrucción ni el derecho, ni se los encontrará entre los autores de proverbios. Sin embargo, ellos afianzan la creación eterna y el objeto de su plegaria son los trabajos de su oficio.

CAPÍTULO 39

El escriba y la Sabiduría

39:1 No pasa lo mismo con el que consagra su vida a meditar en la Ley del Altísimo. Él busca la sabiduría de todos los antiguos, y dedica su tiempo a estudiar las profecías; 39:2 conserva los dichos de los hombres famosos, y penetra en las sutilezas de las parábolas; 39:3 indaga el sentido oculto de los proverbios, y estudia sin cesar las sentencias enigmáticas. 39:4 Presta servicio entre los grandes, y se lo ve en la presencia de los jefes; viaja por países extranjero, porque conoce por experiencia lo bueno y lo malo de los hombres. 39:5 De todo corazón, muy de madrugada, se dirige al Señor, su Creador, y suplica en la presencia del Altísimo: abre sus labios para orar, y pide perdón por sus pecados. 39:6 Si el gran Señor así lo desea, será colmado del espíritu de inteligencia: derramará como lluvia sus sabias palabras, y celebrará al Señor con su plegaria; 39:7 dirigirá rectamente su consejo y su ciencia, y reflexionará sobre los secretos de Dios; 39:8 con su enseñanza hará brillar la doctrina, y se gloriará en la Ley de la Alianza del Señor. 39:9 Muchos alabarán su inteligencia, que nunca caerá en el olvido; su recuerdo no se borrará jamás, y su nombre vivirá para siempre. 39:10 Las naciones hablarán de su sabiduría y la asamblea proclamará su alabanza. 39:11 Si vive largo tiempo, tendrá más renombre que otros mil; y, si entra en el reposo eterno, la labor que ya ha realizado le bastara.

Himno a la Sabiduría y a la obra de Dios

39:12 Voy a seguir exponiendo mis reflexiones, porque estoy colmado como la luna llena. 39:13 Escúchenme, los que guardan los mandamientos de nuestro Dios, y crezcan como rosal que brota junto a la corriente de agua. 39:14 Exhalen suave fragancia como el incienso, y florezcan como el lirio; derramen aroma y entonen un canto, bendigan al Señor por todas sus obras. 39:15 Reconozcan que su Nombre es grande, denle gracias, proclamando su alabanza, con cantos en los labios, y con arpas; y digan en acción de gracias: 39:16 "¿Qué hermosas son todas las obras de Yah!, todo lo que Él ordena, se cumple a su tiempo". No hay por qué decir: "¿Qué es esto? ¿Para qué está?", porque todo será comprendido en su momento. 39:17 Por su palabra, las aguas se detuvieron como una masa; por una de sus órdenes, se formaron los depósitos de agua. 39:18 Él lo ordena, y se cumple su voluntad, y nadie puede menoscabar su obra salvadora. 39:19 Las obras de todo ser viviente están ante Él, y nada puede ocultarse a sus ojos. 39:20 Él abarca con la mirada los límites del tiempo, y no hay nada extraordinario para Él. 39:21 No hay por qué decir: "¿Qué es esto? ¿Para qué está?" Porque todo ha sido creado con un propósito. 39:22 Su bendición desborda como un río; y, como un diluvio, empapa la tierra. 39:23 Pero su ira será la herencia de las naciones, igual que cuando Él cambió las aguas en sal. 39:24 Sus caminos son rectos para los santos, pero están llenos de obstáculos para los impíos. 39:25 Los bienes fueron creados desde el principio para los buenos, así como los males para los pecadores. 39:26 Lo más indispensable para la vida del hombre, es el agua y el fuego, el hierro y la sal, la harina de trigo, la leche, y la miel, la sangre de la vid, el aceite, y la ropa: 39:27 todo esto es beneficioso para los buenos, y se vuelve perjudicial para los pecadores. 39:28 Hay vientos que fueron creados para el castigo, y en su furor, él los hace más impetuosos: en el momento de la destrucción, desencadenan su violencia, y apaciguan el furor de aquel que los hizo. 39:29 Fuego, granizo, hambre y peste: todo esto fue creado para el castigo. 39:30 Los dientes de las fieras, los escorpiones, y las víboras, y la espada vengadora que destruye al impío, 39:31 todos ellos se alegran de sus órdenes, y están sobre la tierra dispuestos a servirlo: llegado el momento, no transgredirán su palabra. 39:32 Por eso, desde el principio, me convencí de esto, reflexioné, y lo puse por escrito: 39:33 "Las obras del Señor son todas buenas, y a su debido tiempo, Él provee a toda necesidad. 39:34 No hay por qué decir: "Esto es peor que aquello"; porque, a su tiempo, todo será reconocido como bueno. 39:35 Y ahora, de todo corazón y en alta voz, canten himnos y bendigan el nombre del Señor".

CAPÍTULO 40

Las miserias de la vida humana

40:1 Una penosa tarea ha sido impuesta a todo hombre, y un yugo pesado agobia a los hijos de Adán, desde el día que salen del vientre materno, hasta el día que retornan a la madre común. 40:2 Les da mucho que pensar, y los llena de temor la ansiosa expectativa del día de la muerte. 40:3 Desde el que está sentado en un trono glorioso, hasta el humillado en el polvo y la ceniza; 40:4 desde el que lleva púrpura y corona, hasta el que va vestido miserablemente, sólo sienten rabia y envidia, turbación e inquietud, miedo a la muerte, resentimiento y rivalidad; 40:5 y a la hora en que cada uno descansa en su lecho, el sueño de la noche perturba sus pensamientos. 40:6 Descansa un poco, casi nada, y empieza a debatirse como en pleno día, agitado por sus propias pesadillas, como quien huye de un campo de batalla. 40:7 En el momento de sentirse a salvo, se despierta y ve con sorpresa que su temor era infundado. 40:8 Esto le toca a todo ser viviente, sea hombre o animal, pero a los pecadores, siete veces más: 40:9 muerte, sangre, rivalidad y espada, adversidad, hambre, destrucción y flagelo. 40:10 Todo esto fue creado para los impíos, y a causa de ellos sobrevino el diluvio. 40:11 Todo lo que sale de la tierra, retorna a la tierra, y lo que sale de las aguas, vuelve al mar.

El castigo de la injusticia

40:12 El soborno y la injusticia desaparecerán, pero la fidelidad permanece para siempre. 40:13 La riqueza de los injustos se secará como un torrente, es como el fragor de un trueno que estalla en la tormenta. 40:14 Cuando uno de ellos se apodera de algo, se alegra, pero los transgresores desaparecerán por completo. 40:15 Los retoños de los impíos no multiplican sus ramas, y las raíces impuras están sobre una roca escarpada. 40:16 Caña que brota en cualquier agua, y al borde de un río, será arrancada antes de toda lluvia. 40:17 La caridad es como un paraíso de bendición, y la limosna permanece para siempre.

Diversas clases de bienes

40:18 Dulce es la vida del que se basta a sí mismo, y del que trabaja, pero más todavía la del que encuentra un tesoro. 40:19 Tener hijos y fundar una ciudad perpetúan el nombre, pero más se estima a una mujer irreprochable. 40:20 El vino y la música alegran el corazón, pero más todavía el amor a la sabiduría. 40:21 La flauta y el arpa emiten sonidos melodiosos, pero más todavía una lengua dulce. 40:22 La gracia y la belleza atraen la mirada, pero más todavía el verdor de los campos. 40:23 El amigo y el compañero se ayudan oportunamente, pero más todavía la mujer y el marido. 40:24 Los hermanos y los bienhechores son útiles en la adversidad, pero más todavía salva la limosna. 40:25 El oro y la plata hacen marchar con paso firme, pero más todavía se aprecia un consejo. 40:26 La riqueza y la fuerza reconfortan el corazón, pero más todavía el temor del Señor. Con el temor del Señor, nada falta, y ya no es necesario buscar otra ayuda. 40:27 El temor del Señor es la caridad: un paraíso exuberante, y protege más que cualquier gloria.

Reprobación de la mendicidad

40:28 Hijo mío, no vivas de la mendicidad, porque más vale morir que mendigar. 40:29 No merece llamarse vida la del que está pendiente de la mesa de otro. Él mancha su boca con comida ajena; pero es una tortura interior para el hombre instruido y, el hombre instruido y bien educado, se cuida de hacerlo. 40:30 La mendicidad es dulce en la boca del descarado, pero en sus entrañas es un fuego abrasador.

CAPÍTULO 41

La muerte

41:1 ¡Muerte, qué amargo es tu recuerdo para el que vive tranquilo, en medio de sus bienes; para el hombre despreocupado, a quien todo le va bien, y aún tiene fuerzas para gustar el placer! 41:2 ¡Muerte, tu sentencia es bienvenida para el hombre necesitado y carente de fuerzas, para el anciano gastado por los años, y lleno de ansiedades, que se rebela y ha perdido la paciencia! 41:3 No temas la sentencia de la muerte, piensa en los justos que te precedieron, así como a los que te seguirán. 41:4 Esta es la sentencia del Señor para todo ser viviente: ¿por qué oponerse a la voluntad del Altísimo? Aunque vivas diez, cien, o mil años, en el Abismo no te echarán en cara lo poco o lo mucho que hayas vivido.

El castigo de los impíos

41:5 Los discípulos de los pecadores son gente abominable, que frecuentan las casas de los impíos. 41:6 La herencia de los hijos de los pecadores va a la ruina, con su descendencia se perpetúa su infamia. 41:7 Un padre impío se atrae los reproches de sus hijos, porque es a él a quien deben su infamia. 41:8 ¡Ay de ustedes, hombres impíos, que han abandonado la Ley del Dios Altísimo! 41:9 Si ustedes nacen, nacen para la maldición, y si mueren, les tocará en suerte la maldición. 41:10 Todo lo que sale de la tierra, vuelve a la tierra: así pasan los impíos, de la maldición a la ruina. 41:11 Los hombres se lamentan porque perece su cuerpo, y en cuanto a los pecadores, hasta su mal nombre se borraré. 41:12 Cuida tu buen nombre, porque eso te quedará mucho más que mil tesoros de oro. 41:13 Una vida feliz tiene sus días contados, pero el buen nombre permanece para siempre.

La verdadera vergüenza

41:14 Hijos míos, observen en paz mi enseñanza. Sabiduría escondida y tesoro invisible: ¿de qué sirven una cosa y la otra? 41:15 Es preferible el hombre que disimula su necesidad, al que oculta tu sabiduría. 41:16 Por lo tanto, sientan vergüenza de lo que les voy a indicar, porque no está bien avergonzarse por cualquier cosa, ni toda vergüenza merece ser igualmente aprobada. 41:17 Tengan vergüenza de la fornicación, ante su padre y su madre; y de la mentira, ante un jefe y un poderoso; 41:18 del delito, ante un juez y un magistrado; y de la iniquidad, ante la asamblea del pueblo; 41:19 de la injusticia, ante un compañero y un amigo; y del robo, ante tu vecindario; 41:20 de no hacer nada, poniendo los codos sobre la mesa, cuando es tiempo de responder al llamado de Dios a la verdad de su Ley; 41:21 de despreciar el valor que tiene dar y recibir caridad, y de no devolver el saludo que te da tu prójimo; 41:22 de mirar con codicia a una prostituta, y de esconderte del pariente que necesita urgentemente tu ayuda; 41:23 de quitar a otro su parte, o el regalo que recibió, y de mirar con codicia a una mujer casada; 41:24 de tener intimidad sexual con tu sirvienta, —¡no te acerques a su lecho!—; 41:25 de decir palabras hirientes a tus amigos —¡lo que les des no se lo echas en cara! —; 41:26 de repetir lo que has oído, y de revelar los secretos. 41:27 Entonces sentirás una auténtica vergüenza, y serás bien visto por todos los hombres.

CAPÍTULO 42

La falsa vergüenza

42:1 Pero no te avergüences de lo siguiente, y no peques por temor a lo que pensarán de ti: 42:2 no te avergüences de la Ley del Altísimo, ni de su pacto de circuncisión, ni de la sentencia que hace justicia al extranjero; 42:3 de arreglar las cuentas con los compañeros de viaje, ni compartir una herencia con otros; 42:4 de usar balanzas y pesas exactas, ni de obtener ganancias honestas; 42:5 de lograr beneficios en el comercio, de corregir frecuentemente a tus hijos, ni de disciplinar vigorosamente a un mal sirviente. 42:6 Conviene poner bajo sello a una mujer infiel; y, donde hay muchas manos, tener las cosas bajo llave. 42:7 Cuenta y pesa bien lo que depositas, y lo que das y recibes; que esté todo por escrito. 42:8 No te avergüences de enseñar al tonto y al necio; ni al anciano que, aunque decrépito, peca fornicando. Así mostrarás que estás verdaderamente instruido, y serás estimado por todo el mundo.

Preocupaciones de un padre por su hija

42:9 Una hija es para su padre causa secreta de insomnio, y la preocupación por ella le quita el sueño: cuando es joven, se le puede pasar la edad para casarse; y, si está casada, puede ser divorciada por su marido. 42:10 Mientras es virgen, puede ser violada, y quedar embarazada en la casa paterna. Si tiene marido, puede ser infiel; y, una vez consumado el matrimonio, puede ser estéril. 42:11 Si tu hija es atrevida, vigíla bien, no sea que con un desliz te deshonre, y te convierta así en la burla de tus enemigos; en la habladuría de la ciudad, y el comentario de la gente, y te cubra de vergüenza a los ojos de todos.

Las mujeres

42:12 No muestres a ningún hombre su belleza, y entre mujeres no te sientes. 42:13 De la ropa hermosa, puede salir la polilla; así también de la mujer hermosa, puede salir el tropiezo. 42:14 Más vale malicia de hombre piadoso, que bondad de mujer malvada; y, la mujer sin castidad, cubre de vergüenza y oprobio.

La grandeza de Dios en la creación

42:15 Ahora voy a recordar las obras del Señor, voy a relatar lo que he visto: por las palabras del Señor, fueron hechas sus obras. 42:16 El sol resplandeciente contempla todas las cosas, y la obra del Señor está llena de su gloria. 42:17 No es posible a los santos del Señor relatar todas sus maravillas, las que el Todopoderoso estableció firmemente, para que en su gloria el Universo subsistiera. 42:18 Él sondea el abismo, y el corazón del hombre; y penetra en sus secretos designios, porque Adonai Yah conoce todo saber; Elohim fija sus ojos en las señales de los tiempos, escritas ya en los cielos. 42:19 El Shaddai anuncia el pasado y el futuro, y revela las huellas de las cosas ocultas: 42:20 ningún pensamiento se le escapa, ninguna palabra se le oculta. 42:21 Elohim dispuso ordenadamente las grandes obras de su sabiduría, porque existe desde siempre y para siempre; nada ha sido añadido, nada ha sido quitado, El Señor Yah no tuvo necesidad de ningún consejero. 42:22 ¡Qué deseables son todas sus obras! ¡Y lo que vemos es apenas una chispa! 42:23 Todo tiene vida, y permanece para siempre; y todo obedece a un fin determinado. 42:24 Todas las cosas hizo en pareja, todas distintas, una frente a la otra, y nada hizo superfluo: 42:25 pues una cosa asegura el bien de la otra. ¿Quién se saciará de ver su gloria?

CAPÍTULO 43

El sol

43:1 Orgullo del cielo es la limpidez del firmamento, y la bóveda celeste es un magnífico espectáculo. 43:2 El sol, cuando aparece, proclama a su salida, qué admirable es la obra del Altísimo. 43:3 Al mediodía, reseca la tierra, ¿y quién puede resistir su ardor? 43:4 Se atiza el horno para la forja, pero tres veces más abrasa el sol las montañas; él exhala los vapores ardientes, y con el brillo de sus rayos enceguece los ojos. 43:5 ¡Qué grande es el Señor que lo ha creado! A una orden suya, él emprende su rápida carrera.

La luna

43:6 También la luna, siempre en el momento preciso, marca las épocas y señala los tiempos. 43:7 Su curso determina las fiestas: es un astro que decrece después de su plenilunio. 43:8 De ella recibe su nombre el mes; ella crece admirablemente en sus ciclos, es la insignia de los ejércitos acampados en las alturas, que brilla en el firmamento del cielo.

Las estrellas

43:9 La gloria de los astros es la hermosura del cielo, un adorno luminoso en las alturas del Señor: 43:10 por la palabra del Santo, se mantienen en orden, y no abandonan sus puestos de guardia.

El arco iris

43:11 Mira el arco iris y bendice al que lo hizo: ¡qué magnífico esplendor! 43:12 Él traza en el cielo una aureola de gloria; lo han tendido las manos del Altísimo.

Maravillas de la naturaleza

43:13 A una orden suya cae la nieve, y él lanza los rayos que ejecutan sus decretos; 43:14 es así como se abren las reservas, y las nubes vuelan como pájaros. 43:15 Con su gran poder, condensa las nubes, que se pulverizan en granizo. 43:16a A su vista, se conmueven las montañas, 43:17a el fragor de su trueno, sacude la tierra; 43:16b por su voluntad sopla el viento sur, 43:17b el huracán del norte, y los ciclones. 43:18 Como bandada de pájaros, él esparce la nieve y, al bajar, ella se posa como la langosta; el resplandor de su blancura deslumbra los ojos y el espíritu se embelesa al verla caer. 43:19 Como sal sobre la tierra, él derrama la escarcha y, al congelarse, ella se convierte en espinas punzantes. 43:20 Sopla el viento frío del norte, y el hielo se congela sobre el agua, se posa sobre toda masa de agua y la reviste como de una coraza, 43:21 Otro viento devora las montañas, abrasa el desierto, y consume la hierba como un fuego. 43:22 Una niebla repentina pone remedio a todo eso, y el rocío refresca después del viento abrasador. 43:23 Conforme a su designio, Él dominó el Abismo, y allí plantó las islas. 43:24 Los que navegan por el mar cuentan sus peligros, y sus relatos nos parecen increíbles: 43:25 allí hay cosas extrañas y maravillosas, animales de todas clases, y monstruos marinos. 43:26 Gracias a Él, su mensajero llega a buen puerto, y por su palabra se ordenan todas las cosas. 43:27 Podríamos decir mucho más, y nunca acabaríamos; el broche de mis palabras es este: "El Shaddai lo es todo". 43:28 ¿Dónde hallar fuerza para glorificarle? ¡Él es más grande que todas sus obras! 43:29 Señor temible y soberanamente grande: su poder es admirable. 43:30 ¡Glorifiquen al Señor, exáltenlo cuanto puedan, y Él siempre estará por encima! Para exaltarlo, redoblen sus fuerzas, no se cansen, porque nunca acabarán. 43:31 ¿Quién lo ha visto, para poder describirlo? ¿Quién lo alabará conforme a lo que es? 43:32 Hay muchas cosas ocultas más grandes todavía, porque sólo hemos visto algunas de sus obras. 43:33 El Señor Yah, ha hecho todas las cosas, y a los hombres buenos les dio la sabiduría.

Elogio de los antepasados

44:1 Elogiemos a los hombres ilustres, a los pioneros de nuestra fe. 44:2 El Señor los colmó de gloria, manifestó su grandeza desde tiempos remotos. 44:3 Algunos ejercieron la autoridad real, y se hicieron famosos por sus proezas; otros fueron consejeros por su inteligencia, transmitieron oráculos proféticos, 44:4 guiaron al pueblo con sus consejos, con su inteligencia para instruirlo, y con las sabias palabras de su enseñanza; 44:5 otros compusieron cantos melodiosos, y escribieron relatos poéticos; 44:6 otros fueron hombres ricos, llenos de poder, que vivían en paz en sus moradas. 44:7 Todos ellos fueron honrados por sus contemporáneos, y constituyeron el orgullo de su época. 44:8 Algunos de ellos dejaron un nombre, y se los menciona todavía con elogios. 44:9 Pero hay otros que cayeron en el olvido, y desaparecieron, como si no hubieran existido; pasaron como si no hubieran nacido, igual que sus hijos después de ellos. 44:10 No sucede así con aquellos, los hombres de bien, cuya esperanza no se vera frustrada. 44:11 Con su descendencia se perpetúa la rica herencia que procede de ellos. 44:12 Su descendencia fue fiel a las alianzas, y también sus nietos, gracias a ellos. 44:13 Su descendencia permanecerá para siempre, y su gloria no se extinguirá. 44:14 Sus cuerpos fueron sepultados en paz, y su nombre sobrevive a través de las generaciones. 44:15 Los pueblos proclaman su sabiduría, y la asamblea anuncia su alabanza.

Henoc

44:16 Henoc camino con Elohim, y fue llevado a los cielos; él es ejemplo de ciencia para las generaciones futuras; enseñándoles que, todo el que camine con Elohim, será también llevado a los cielos.

Noé

44:17 Noé fue hallado perfectamente justo, en el tiempo de la ira sirvió de renovación: gracias a él, quedó un vástago en la tierra; por la alianza con el, ceso el diluvio. 44:18 Alianzas eternas fueron selladas con él, para que nunca más un diluvio destruyese a los vivientes.

Abraham

44:19 Abraham es padre insigne de una multitud de naciones, no puso tacha en su gloria. 44:20 Él observó la Ley del Altísimo y entró en alianza con Él; puso en su carne la señal de esta alianza; y, en la prueba, fue hallado fiel. 44:21 Por eso, Dios le aseguró con un juramento, que las naciones serían bendecidas en su descendencia, que los multiplicaría como el polvo de la tierra, que exaltaría a sus descendientes como las estrellas, y les daría en herencia el país, desde un mar hasta el otro, y desde el Río hasta los confines de la tierra.

Isaac

44:22 A Isaac, le hizo la misma promesa, a causa de su padre Abraham.

Jacob

44:23 La bendición de todos los hombres, y la alianza, las hizo descansar sobre la cabeza de Israel; lo confirmó en las bendiciones recibidas, y le dio la tierra en herencia; dividió el país en partes, y las distribuyó entre las doce tribus.

CAPÍTULO 45

Moisés

45:1 De él, hizo nacer a un hombre de bien, que halló gracia a los ojos de todos, y fue amado por Dios y por los hombres: Moisés, cuya memoria está envuelta en bendiciones. 45:2 Le hizo en gloria comparable a los santos ángeles, y le engrandeció, para temor de los enemigos. 45:3 Por su palabra, puso fin a los prodigios, y le glorificó delante de los reyes; le dio mandamientos para su pueblo, y le mostró una porción de su gloria. 45:4 Por su fidelidad y mansedumbre, lo santificó, y lo eligió entre todos los mortales. 45:5 Le hizo oír su voz, lo introdujo en la nube oscura, y le dio cara a cara los mandamientos, una Ley de vida y de entendimiento, para enseñar la Alianza a Jacob, y sus decretos a Israel.

Aarón

45:6 Exaltó a Aarón, un santo semejante a Moisés, su hermano, de la tribu de Leví. 45:7 Lo estableció en virtud de un pacto irrevocable, y le confirió el sacerdocio del pueblo. Lo atavió con espléndidos ornamentos, y lo ciñó con una vestidura gloriosa. 45:8 Lo revistió con toda magnificencia, y lo confirmó con las insignias del poder: los pantalones, la túnica y el éfod; 45:9 puso granadas alrededor de su manto, y lo rodeó de numerosas campanillas de oro, para que tintinearan a cada uno de sus pasos, haciendo oír su sonido en el Templo, como memorial para los hijos de su pueblo. 45:10 Le dio la vestidura sagrada —obra de un bordador— tejida en oro, jacinto y púrpura; el pectoral del juicio, con el efod y el ceñidor, hecho de hilo escarlata —obra de un artesano— 45:11 con piedras preciosas, grabadas en forma de sellos y engarzadas en oro —obra de un joyero— para servir de memorial, por la inscripción grabada, según el número de las tribus de Israel; 45:12 la diadema de oro encima del turbante, grabada con la señal de su consagración: insignia de honor, trabajo magnífico, ornamento que es un placer para la vista. 45:13 Antes de él, no se vio nada tan hermoso, y nunca un extranjero se vistió de esa manera, sino únicamente sus hijos, y sus descendientes para siempre. 45:14 Sus sacrificios se consumen enteramente, dos veces por día, en forma continua. 45:15 Moisés le confirió la investidura, y lo ungió con el óleo santo. Esta fue una alianza eterna para él y para sus descendientes, mientras dure el cielo, para que sirvan a Dios como sacerdotes, y bendigan al pueblo en su nombre. 45:16 Él lo eligió entre todos los vivientes, para presentar al Señor la ofrenda, el incienso y el perfume como memorial, y para hacer la expiación en favor de su pueblo. 45:17 Él le confió sus mandamientos, y le dio autoridad sobre los decretos de la Alianza, a fin de enseñar sus preceptos a Jacob, e iluminar a Israel acerca de su Ley. 45:18 Unos intrusos se confabularon contra él, y le tuvieron celos en el desierto: los secuaces de Datán y Abirán y la banda de Coré, ardiendo de furor. 45:19 Al ver esto, el Señor se disgustó, y fueron exterminados por el ardor de su ira: Él obró prodigios contra ellos, consumiéndolos con su ardiente fuego. 45:20 Aumentó más todavía la gloria de Aarón, y le concedió una herencia: le asignó como parte las primicias de los primeros frutos, y le aseguró, en primer lugar, el alimento en abundancia, 45:21 porque ellos se alimentan de los sacrificios del Señor, que Él concedió a Aarón y a su descendencia. 45:22 Pero, en la tierra del pueblo, él no tiene herencia, ni hay parte para él en medio del pueblo, porque "Yo mismo soy tu parte, y tu herencia", le dijo el Señor.

Pinjás

45:23 Pinjás, hijo de Eleazar, fue el tercero en gloria, a causa de su celo en el temor del Señor, y porque se mantuvo firme frente a la rebelión del pueblo, con el generoso ardor de su espíritu: fue así como expió el pecado de Israel. 45:24 Por eso fue sellada en su favor una alianza de paz, que lo hizo jefe del santuario, y de su pueblo, de manera que a él y a su descendencia pertenece para siempre la dignidad de Sumo Sacerdote. 45:25 Hubo también una alianza con David, hijo de Isaí, de la tribu de Judá; pero esa herencia real pasa del padre a uno solo de sus hijos, mientras que la de Aarón pasa a toda su descendencia. 45:26 Que el Señor Yah ponga sabiduría en sus corazones, para juzgar a su pueblo con justicia, a fin de que no desaparezca su felicidad, ni su gloria por todas las generaciones.

Josué y Caleb

46:1 Josué, hijo de Nun, fue valiente en la guerra, y sucesor de Moisés en el oficio profético. Haciendo honor a su nombre, que significa “Yah salva”, se mostró grande para salvar a los elegidos, para castigar a los enemigos sublevados, y poner a Israel en posesión de su herencia. 46:2 ¡Qué glorioso era cuando alzaba su brazo y blandía la espada contra las ciudades! 46:3 ¿Quién antes de él demostró tanta firmeza? ¡Él mismo llevó adelante los combates del Señor! 46:4 ¿No fue por orden suya que se detuvo el sol, y un solo día duró tanto como dos? 46:5 Él invocó al Altísimo, el Poderoso, cuando sus enemigos lo asediaban por todas partes; y el gran Señor respondió a su plegaria, arrojando granizo de una fuerza inusitada. 46:6 Él se lanzó contra la nación enemiga, y en la pendiente aniquiló a los adversarios, para que las naciones reconocieran la fuerza de sus armas, que no es fácil luchar contra el Señor. 46:7 Él siguió los pasos del Poderoso y, en tiempos de Moisés, dio prueba de fidelidad, lo mismo que Caleb, hijo de Jefone: ellos se opusieron a toda la asamblea, acallando las murmuraciones perversas, y apartando de la asamblea la venganza de Yah. 46:8 Solamente ellos dos fueron salvados, entre seiscientos mil hombres de a pie, para ser introducidos en la herencia, en la tierra que mana leche y miel. 46:9 Y el Señor dio a Caleb la fuerza que le duró hasta su vejez, y lo hizo subir a las alturas del país, que sus descendientes retuvieron como herencia, 46:10 para que vieran todos los israelitas qué bueno es seguir al Señor.

Los Jueces

46:11 También los Jueces, cada uno por su nombre, fueron hombres que no cayeron en la idolatría, ni se apartaron del Señor: ¡que sea bendita su memoria! 46:12 ¡Que sus huesos reflorézcan de sus tumbas, y sus nombres se renueven en los hijos de esos hombres ilustres!

Samuel

46:13 Samuel fue amado por su Señor; como profeta del Señor, estableció la realeza y ungió jefes para que gobernaran a su pueblo. 46:14 Según la Ley del Señor, juzgó a la asamblea, y el Señor intervino en favor de Jacob. 46:15 Por su fidelidad se acreditó como auténtico profeta, por sus oráculos, fue reconocido como un vidente digno de fe. 46:16 Cuando sus enemigos lo asediaban por todas partes, él invocó al Señor, el Poderoso, y le ofreció un cordero recién nacido. 46:17 El Señor tronó desde el cielo y con gran estruendo hizo oír su voz; 46:18 él aniquiló a los jefes adversarios, y a todos los príncipes de los filisteos. 46:19 Antes de la hora de su descanso eterno, y ante el Señor y su ungió, pudo dar testimonio de su fidelidad, diciendo: "Yo no he despojado a nadie de sus bienes, ni siquiera de sus sandalias"; y ninguno del pueblo tuvo que reclamar nada de él. 46:20 Después de su muerte, todavía profetizó, y anunció su fin al rey; alzó su voz desde el seno de la tierra, y profetizó para borrar la iniquidad del pueblo.

CAPÍTULO 47

Natán

47:1 Después de él surgió Natán, para profetizar en tiempos de David.

David

47:2 Como se aparta la grasa del sacrificio de comunión, así fue elegido David entre los Israelitas.

47:3 Él jugó con leones, como si fueran cabritos, y con osos, como si fueran corderos. 47:4 ¿Acaso, siendo joven, no mató a un gigante, y extirpó el oprobio del pueblo, cuando lanzó una piedra con la honda, y abatió la arrogancia de Goliat? 47:5 Porque él invocó al Altísimo, El Elyon, que fortaleció su brazo para exterminar a un guerrero poderoso, y mantener erguida la frente de su pueblo. 47:6 Por eso, lo glorificaron por los diez mil, y lo alabaron por las bendiciones del Señor, ofreciéndole una diadema de gloria. 47:7 Porque él destruyó a los enemigos de alrededor, y aniquiló a sus adversarios; los filisteos, quebrando su poderío hasta el día de hoy. 47:8 En todas sus obras rindió homenaje a El Elyon, con palabras de gloria; cantó himnos de todo corazón, mostrando su amor a su Hacedor. 47:9 Estableció cantores delante del altar, para que entonaran cantos melodiosos; 47:10 dio esplendor a las fiestas, y ordenó perfectamente las solemnidades, haciendo que se alabara el santo nombre del Señor, y que resonara el Santuario desde el alba. 47:11 El Señor borró sus pecados, y exaltó su poderío para siempre, le otorgó una alianza real, y un trono de gloria en Israel.

Salomón

47:12 Después de él surgió un hijo lleno de saber que, gracias a David, vivió desahogadamente. 47:13 Salomón reinó en tiempos de paz, y Dios le concedió tranquilidad en sus fronteras, a fin de que edificara una Casa a su Nombre, y erigiera un Santuario eterno. 47:14 ¡Qué sabio eras en tu juventud, desbordabas de inteligencia como un río! 47:15 Tu reputación cubrió la tierra, la llenaste de sentencias enigmáticas; 47:16 tu renombre llegó hasta las costas lejanas y fuiste amado por haber afianzado la paz. 47:17 Por tus cantos, tus proverbios, y tus sentencias, y por tus interpretaciones, fuiste la admiración del mundo. 47:18 Tu eras llamado con el nombre glorioso invocado sobre Israel; amontonaste el oro como estaño, y como plomo acumulaste la plata. 47:19 Pero tuviste debilidad por las mujeres, y dejaste que dominaran tu cuerpo. 47:20 Pusiste una mancha sobre tu gloria, y profanaste tu estirpe, atrayendo la ira sobre tus hijos, y haciéndoles deplorar tu locura: 47:21 así la realeza se dividió en dos, y de Efraím surgió un reino rebelde. 47:22 Pero el Señor no renuncia jamás a su misericordia, ni deja que se pierda ninguna de sus palabras: Él no hará desaparecer la posteridad de su elegido, ni exterminará la estirpe de aquel que lo amó. Por eso, le dio un resto a Jacob, y a David una raíz nacida de él.

Roboám

47:23 Salomón fue a descansar con sus padres, dejando después de él a uno de su estirpe, al más insensato del pueblo, un hombre largo de locura, pero corto de inteligencia: a Roboám, que arrastró al pueblo a la rebelión.

Jeroboám

47:24 Jeroboám, hijo de Nebat, hizo pecar a Israel, y llevó a Efraím por el camino del mal. El pueblo cometió tantos pecados, que fue expulsado de su país: 47:25 se entregaron a toda clase de maldades, hasta que el castigo cayó sobre ellos.

CAPÍTULO 48

Elías

48:1 Después surgió como un fuego el profeta Elías, su palabra quemaba como una antorcha. 48:2 Él

atrajo el hambre sobre ellos, y con su celo los diezmó. 48:3 Por la palabra del Señor, cerró el cielo, y también hizo caer tres veces fuego de lo alto. 48:4 ¡Qué glorioso te hiciste con tus prodigios Elías! ¿Quién puede jactarse de ser igual a ti? 48:5 Tú despertaste a un hombre de la muerte, y de la morada de los muertos, por la palabra de Altísimo. 48:6 Tú precipitaste a reyes en la ruina, y arrojaste de su lecho a hombres insignes; 48:7 tú escuchaste un reproche en el Sinaí, y en el Horeb una sentencia de condenación; 48:8 tú ungiste reyes para ejercer la venganza, y profetas para ser tu sucesores 48:9 tú fuiste arrebatado en un torbellino de fuego, por un carro con caballos de fuego. 48:10 De ti está escrito que, en los castigos futuros, aplacarás la ira antes que estalle, para hacer volver el corazón de los padres hacia los hijos, y restablecer las tribus de Jacob. 48:11 ¡Bienaventurado el que te ve, y los que durmieron en el amor, porque también nosotros viviremos!

Eliseo

48:12 Cuando Elías fue llevado en un torbellino, Eliseo quedó lleno de su espíritu. Durante su vida, ningún príncipe lo hizo temblar, y nadie pudo dominarle. 48:13 Nada era demasiado difícil para él, y hasta en la tumba profetizó su cuerpo. 48:14 En su vida, hizo prodigios; y, en su muerte, realizó obras admirables. 48:15 A pesar de todo esto, el pueblo no se convirtió, ni se apartó de sus pecados, hasta que fue deportado lejos de su país, y dispersado por toda la tierra. 48:16 No quedó nada más que un pueblo muy pequeño, con un jefe de la casa de David. Algunos de ellos hicieron lo que agrada a Dios, pero otros multiplicaron sus pecados.

Ezequías e Isaías

48:17 Ezequías fortificó su ciudad, e hizo llegar el agua dentro de sus muros, con el hierro horadó la roca, y construyó cisternas para las aguas. 48:18 En su tiempo, atacó Senaquerib y envió delante de él a Rabsaqué, que levantó la mano contra Sión, y se jactó con arrogancia. 48:19 Temblaron entonces los corazones y las manos, y sufrieron como mujeres en el parto, 48:20 pero invocaron al Señor misericordioso, tendiendo sus manos hacia Él. El Santo los escuchó en seguida desde el cielo y los libró por medio de Isaías, 48:21 hirió el campamento de los Asirios, y su Ángel los exterminó. 48:22 Porque Ezequías hizo lo que agrada al Señor, y se mantuvo firme en el camino de David su padre, como se lo ordenó el profeta Isaías, el grande y digno de fe en sus visiones. 48:23 En su tiempo, el sol retrocedió, para prolongar la vida del rey. 48:24 Con gran espíritu, vio el fin de los tiempos, consoló a los afligidos de Sión, 48:25 y anunció el porvenir hasta la eternidad y las cosas ocultas antes que sucedieran.

Josías

49:1 El recuerdo de Josías es una mezcla de aromas preparada por el arte de un perfumista; es dulce como la miel al paladar, como música en medio de un banquete. 49:2 Él siguió el buen camino, convirtiendo al pueblo, y extirpó las abominaciones impías; 49:3 dirigió su corazón hacia el Señor, y en tiempos impíos afianzó la piedad.

Los últimos reyes de Judá y el profeta Jeremías

49:4 A excepción de David, Ezequías, y Josías, todos no hicieron más que prevaricar; por haber abandonado la Ley del Altísimo, los reyes de Judá fueron abandonados. 49:5 Tuvieron que entregar su poder a otros, y su gloria a una nación extranjera. 49:6 Los enemigos incendiaron la ciudad elegida del Santuario, y dejaron desiertas sus calles, 49:7 a causa de los malos tratos infligidos a Jeremías: a él, que fue consagrado profeta desde el seno materno para desarraigar, destruir y hacer perecer, pero también para edificar y plantar.

Ezequiel

49:8 Ezequiel tuvo una visión de la Gloria, que Dios le mostró sobre el carro de los Querubines, 49:9 porque se acordó de los enemigos en la tempestad y favoreció a los que siguen el camino recto.

Los Profetas menores

49:10 En cuanto a los doce Profetas, que sus huesos reflorézcan desde su tumba, porque ellos consolaron a Jacob, y lo libraron por la fidelidad y la esperanza.

Zorobabel y Josué

49:11 ¿Cómo enaltecer a Zorobabel, que fue como un anillo en la mano derecha, 49:12 y a Josué, hijo de Josedec? En sus días, ellos reconstruyeron la Casa, y levantaron el Templo consagrado al Señor, destinado a una gloria eterna.

Nehemías

49:13 También es grande el recuerdo de Nehemías: él fue quien levantó nuestros muros en ruinas, el que puso puertas y cerrojos y reconstruyó nuestras casas.

Henoc, José y los primeros antepasados

49:14 Nadie en la tierra fue creado igual a Henoc, porque él fue arrebatado de la tierra. 49:15 Tampoco nació ningún hombre como José, jefe de sus hermanos, sostén de su pueblo; sus huesos fueron tratados con respeto. 49:16 Sem y Set fueron glorificados entre los hombres, pero por encima de toda criatura viviente está Adán.

CAPÍTULO 50

El sacerdote Simón

50:1 Simón, hijo de Onías, fue el Sumo Sacerdote, que durante su vida restauró la Casa, y en sus días consolidó el Santuario. 50:2 Él puso los cimientos de las torres de refuerzo, del alto contrafuerte que rodea al Templo. 50:3 En sus días fue excavado el depósito de las aguas, un estanque amplio como el mar. 50:4 Preocupado por preservar a su pueblo de la caída, fortificó la ciudad contra el asedio. 50:5 ¡Qué glorioso era, rodeado de su pueblo, cuando salía detrás del velo! 50:6 Como lucero del alba en medio de nubes, como luna en su plenilunio, 50:7 como sol resplandeciente sobre el Templo del Altísimo, como arco iris que brilla entre nubes de gloria, 50:8 como rosa en los días de primavera, como lirio junto a un manantial, como brote del Líbano en los días de verano, 50:9 como fuego e incienso en el incensario, como vaso de oro macizo adornado con toda clase de piedras preciosas, 50:10 como olivo cargado de frutos, como ciprés que se eleva hasta las nubes. 50:11 Cuando se ponía la vestidura de fiesta, y se revestía de sus espléndidos ornamentos, cuando subía al santo altar, él llenaba de gloria el recinto del Santuario. 50:12 Cuando recibía las porciones de manos de los sacerdotes —y estaba él mismo de pie, junto al fuego del altar, con una corona de hermanos a su alrededor como retoños de cedro en el Líbano— lo rodeaban como troncos de palmera. 50:13 Todos los hijos de Aarón en su esplendor, con la ofrenda del Señor en sus manos, delante de toda la asamblea de Israel. 50:14 Mientras oficiaba en los altares, y disponía la ofrenda para el Altísimo todopoderoso, 50:15 él extendía la mano sobre la copa, derramaba la libación con la sangre de la uva, y la vertía al pie del altar, como perfume agradable al Altísimo, Rey del universo. 50:16 entonces, los hijos de Aarón prorrumpián en aclamaciones, tocaban sus trompetas de metal batido, y hacían oír un sonido imponente, como memorial delante del Altísimo. 50:17 En seguida, todo el pueblo, unánimemente, caía con el rostro en tierra para adorar a su Señor, el Todopoderoso, el Dios Altísimo. 50:18 También los cantores entonaban sus alabanzas: en medio del estruendo se oía una dulce melodía. 50:19 El pueblo suplicaba al Señor Altísimo, dirigía sus plegarias ante el Misericordioso, hasta que terminaba el culto del Señor, y se ponía fin a la liturgia. 50:20 Entonces, él descendía y elevaba las manos sobre toda la asamblea de los israelitas, para dar con sus labios la bendición del Señor y tener el honor de pronunciar su Nombre. 50:21 Y por segunda vez, el pueblo se postraba para recibir la bendición del Altísimo.

Exhortación

50:22 Y ahora, bendigan al Dios del universo, que hace grandes cosas por todas partes, al que nos exaltó desde el seno materno, y nos trató según su misericordia. 50:23 Que Él nos dé la alegría del corazón, y conceda la paz en nuestros días, a Israel, por los siglos de los siglos. 50:24 Que su misericordia permanezca fielmente con nosotros, y que nos libre en nuestros días.

Conclusión

50:27 Una instrucción de sabiduría y de ciencia es la que se dejó grabada en este libro, que se derramó como lluvia la sabiduría de su corazón. 50:28 ¡Feliz el que repase a menudo estas enseñanzas! El que las memoriza, se hará un sabio. 50:29 Y si las pone en practica, será capaz de afrontarlo todo, pues la luz del Señor iluminara su camino. Bendito sea Adonai por siempre; Amen, Amen

CAPÍTULO 51

Himno de acción de gracias

51:1 Quiero darte gracias, Señor y Rey, y alabarte, Yah mi Salvador. Yo doy gracias a tu Nombre, 51:2 porque tú has sido mi protector y mi ayuda, y has librado mi cuerpo de la perdición, del lazo de la lengua calumniadora, y de los labios que traman mentiras. Frente a mis adversarios, tú has sido mi ayuda, y me has librado, 51:3 según la grandeza de tu misericordia y de tu Nombre, de las mordeduras de los que iban a devorarme, de la mano de los que querían quitarme la vida, de las muchas aflicciones que padecía, 51:4 del fuego sofocante que me cercaba, de las llamas que yo no había encendido, 51:5 de las entrañas profundas del Abismo, de la lengua impura, de la palabra mentirosa, 51:6 y de las flechas de una lengua maligna. Mi alma estaba al borde de la muerte, mi vida había descendido cerca del Abismo. 51:7 Me cercaban por todas partes, y nadie me socorría, busqué el apoyo de los hombres, y no lo encontré. 51:8 Entonces, me acordé de tu misericordia, Señor, y de tus acciones desde los tiempos remotos, porque tú libras a los que esperan en ti y los salvas de las manos de sus enemigos. 51:9 Yo hice subir desde la tierra mi oración, rogué para ser preservado de la muerte. 51:10 Invoqué al Señor: "No me abandones en el día de la aflicción, en el tiempo de los orgullosos, cuando estoy desamparado. Alabaré tu Nombre sin cesar, y te cantaré, en acción de gracias". 51:11 Y mi plegaria fue escuchada: tú me salvaste de la perdición, y me libraste del trance difícil. 51:12 Por eso te daré gracias y te alabaré, y bendeciré el nombre del Señor.

Poema sobre la búsqueda de la Sabiduría

51:13 En mi juventud, antes de andar por el mundo, busqué abiertamente la sabiduría en la oración; 51:14 a la entrada del Templo, pedí obtenerla, y la seguiré buscando hasta el fin. 51:15 Cuando floreció como un racimo que madura, mi corazón puso en ella su alegría; mi pie avanzó por el camino recto, y desde mi juventud seguí sus huellas. 51:16 Apenas le presté un poco de atención, la recibí y adquirí una gran enseñanza. 51:17 Yo he progresado gracias a ella: al que me dio la sabiduría, le daré la gloria. 51:18 Porque resolví ponerla en práctica, tuve celo por el bien, y no me avergonzaré de ello. 51:19 Mi alma luchó para alcanzarla, fui minucioso en la práctica de la Ley, extendí mis manos hacia el cielo y deploré lo que ignoraba de ella. 51:20 Hacia ella dirigí mi alma; y, conservándome puro, la encontré. Con ella adquirí inteligencia desde el comienzo, por eso no seré abandonado. 51:21 Yo la busqué apasionadamente, por eso adquirí un bien de sumo valor. 51:22 El Señor me ha dado en recompensa una lengua, y con ella lo alabaré. 51:23 Acérquense a mí los que no están instruidos, y albérguense en la casa de la instrucción. 51:24 ¿Por qué se privan por mas tiempo, si tan sedientos están de ella? 51:25 Yo abrí la boca para hablar: adquiéranla sin dinero; 51:26 sometan sus cuellos a su yugo, y reciban instrucción: está ahí, a vuestro alcance. 51:27 Vean con sus propios ojos con qué poco esfuerzo he llegado a encontrar un descanso tan grande. 51:28 Participen de la instrucción, aún a costa de mucho dinero, y gracias a ella adquirirán oro en abundancia. 51:29 Alégrese en la misericordia del Señor, no se avergüencen de alabarlo. 51:30 Lleven a cabo su obra antes del tiempo fijado, y él les dará la recompensa a su debido tiempo.

The Quran's secret code

The noble Qur'an has a hidden code by means of which unsuspecting Hebrew believers are secretly warned to avoid certain teachings that contradict the revelation given in the Hebrew Scriptures. For example, if you read Quran's Surah #27, you will notice that it starts with two strange letters. These two letters spell the Hebrew word for number Nine. Notice that the Surah number is 27, and that 2 plus 7 equal 9. So the code points to number nine, as if to tell us that something within the Surah related to number 9 is wrong [or is dangerous]. And, when we read the whole Surah, we notice it mentions the number nine in the following verse: "And put your hand into the opening of your garment [at the breast]; it will come out white without disease. [THESE ARE] AMONG THE NINE SIGNS [YOU WILL TAKE] TO PHARAOH AND HIS PEOPLE"- Surah 27:12. And now we understand what the secret message is all about- The Hebrew scripture teaches that God punished Egypt with ten plagues; but the Quran mistakenly claims there were only nine plagues! And the same happens with several other chapters of the Quran. For example, Surah # 26 also starts with a set of strange letters. But these letters spells the Hebrew word for "branch" (or a wooden stick); as if to warn the Hebrew believer that something within the Surah relating to wood is seriously wrong, or dangerous. And, when we read the whole Surah, we find two verses having to do with wood and sticks:

1) [PHARAOH] SAID, "You believed Moses before I gave you permission. Indeed, he is your leader who has taught you magic, but you are going to know. I will surely cut off your hands and your feet on opposite sides, and I WILL SURELY CRUCIFY YOU ALL"- Surah 26:49

2) "Then We inspired to Moses, "STRIKE WITH YOUR STAFF THE SEA", AND IT PARTED, AND EACH PORTION WAS LIKE A GREAT TOWERING MOUNTAIN"- Surah 26:63.

And now we can begin to understand what the secret warning about wood and sticks is all about- The Surah places Pharaoh CRUCIFYING people... But this is wrong, as that method of execution wasn't invented until several centuries after Pharaoh's time (it was first practiced by the Persians!).

Also, the Surah places Moses striking the sea with his stick. But this is a gross mistake, as the Torah never says that Moses stroke the sea. Rather, it states that Moses stretched his arms over the sea. As it is written: "And MOSES STRETCHED OUT HIS HANDS OVER THE SEA; AND THE LORD CAUSED THE SEA TO GO BACK BY A STRONG EAST WIND ALL THAT NIGHT, AND MADE THE SEA DRY LAND, AND THE WATERS WERE DIVIDED"- Exodus 14:21.

¿Guardar Perfectamente la Ley?

La doctrina que postula que, a menos que un hombre cumpla perfectamente la Ley de Moisés, no podrá agrandar al Creador ni subir por tanto al Cielo, es una idea blasfema, mentirosa, y descabellada. ¿Por que? Pues porque la Escritura muestra con claridad meridiana que, a pesar de que Enoc nunca cumplió perfectamente la Ley, Dios se lo llevo con él ("Caminó, pues, Enoc con Dios, y desapareció, porque le llevó Dios"- Génesis 5:24). De igual modo, aunque Noé nunca cumplió perfectamente la Ley, Dios le declaró ser un hombre justo ("Noé, varón justo, era perfecto en sus generaciones; con Dios caminó Noé"- Génesis 6:9).

Así mismo, aunque Job no cumplió perfectamente la Ley, eso no fue impedimento para que el Creador confesara en los Cielos su beneplácito ("Y el Señor dijo... ¿No has considerado a mi siervo Job, que no hay otro como él en la tierra, varón perfecto y recto, temeroso de Dios y apartado del mal?”- Job 1:8). ¿Y que diremos de Moisés, quien a pesar de no haber guardado perfectamente la Ley no solamente hablaba cara a cara con Dios, sino que reflejaba en su rostro la Gloria Divina? Como esta escrito: “Y hablaba Dios a Moisés cara a cara, como habla cualquiera a su compañero (es decir, con su amigo íntimo)... Y al mirar los hijos de Israel el rostro de Moisés, veían que la piel de su rostro era resplandeciente” (Éxodo 33:11 & 34:35). Finalmente, la Escritura muestra que Elías era un hombre fiero, sujeto a pasiones semejantes a las nuestras, pero aunque Elías nunca pudo guardar perfectamente la Ley, fue llevado por Dios a morar en los Cielos. Como esta escrito: “Aconteció que cuando quiso Dios alzar a Elías en un torbellino al Cielo... yendo ellos y hablando, he aquí un carro de fuego con caballos de fuego apartó a los dos; y Elías subió al Cielo en un torbellino”- 2 Reyes 2:1, & 2:11.

En conclusión, el postular que el Dios de Israel hacía del guardar perfectamente los 613 mandamientos de la Ley un requisito indispensable para obtener la salvación y el beneplácito Divino, es una idea tan enfermiza y disparatada que ni siquiera Jesús se habría podido salvar por medio de ella. ¿Por que? Pues porque el Nazareno falló en cumplir el primero de esos 613 mandamientos, que ordenaba al creyente casarse y engendrar hijos (“Y Dios los bendijo, diciendo: Fructificad y multiplicaos”- Génesis 1:22). De hecho, el evangelio intima que Jesús no creía en tan absurda idea. ¿Como lo sabemos? Pues lo sabemos a partir del hecho de que, cuando contesta la pregunta acerca de como puede un creyente obtener la vida eterna, Jesús no menciona absolutamente nada acerca de guardar perfectamente la Ley, sino que dice en cambio que la vida eterna es el producto de un genuino y sincero compromiso con amar a Dios con todo nuestro corazón, y al prójimo como a nosotros mismos. Como esta escrito: «Y he aquí un intérprete de la Ley se levantó y dijo, para probarle: “MAESTRO, ¿HACIENDO QUÉ COSA HEREDARÉ LA VIDA ETERNA?”. ÉL LE DIJO: “¿Qué está escrito en la Ley [de Moisés]? ¿Cómo lees?”. Aquél, respondiendo, dijo: “AMARÁS AL SEÑOR TU DIOS CON TODO TU CORAZÓN, Y CON TODA TU ALMA, Y CON TODAS TUS FUERZAS, Y CON TODA TU MENTE; Y A TU PRÓJIMO COMO A TI MISMO”. Y le dijo: “Bien has respondido; HAZ ESTO, Y VIVIRÁS [PARA SIEMPRE]”»- Lucas 10:25-28. De hecho, Jesús no percibe en la Ley el mismo mensaje que percibe el apóstol Pablo. Es que Pablo entiende que, el mensaje de la Ley, es mostrar nuestra incapacidad de obedecer la Ley, así como nuestra desesperada necesidad de acudir a Cristo, quien alegadamente ha cumplido a perfección la Ley en sustitución nuestra. Pero Jesús ve en la Ley algo muy distinto: un Divino llamado a sembrar en nuestro prójimo aquel bien que nos gustaría algún día cosechar para nosotros mismos. Y es por ello que el Nazareno resume el mensaje de la Ley diciendo: “Haz a otros todo lo que quieras que te hagan a ti. En esto se resumen las enseñanzas de la Ley y de los Profetas”- Mateo 7:12, Nueva Biblia Viva. Que la gracia del Creador sea con todo aquel que le ama, amando a aquellos que están hechos a su imagen y semejanza (nuestro prójimo)

LOS PROTOCOLOS DE LOS SABIOS DE SIÓN

NOTA: Es probablemente falso que el Judaísmo secular haya urdido un malévolo plan para apoderarse del mundo. Pero es en efecto cierto que existe un ente de maldad [un "Ha Satan"] que utiliza la correspondiente estrategia política para promover la secularidad, el ateísmo, la homosexualidad, el materialismo, y el egocentrismo; esclavizando y destruyendo de este modo al mundo que rehúsa regir su vida por la Ley de Dios [es decir, por los Diez Mandamientos]

PROTOCOLO I

El derecho sólo está en la Fuerza.- La Libertad no es más que una idea.- El Liberalismo.- El oro.- La locura.- La Autonomía.- El Despotismo del Capital.- El Enemigo Doméstico.- La Plebe.- La Anarquía.- La Política y la Moral.- El derecho del más fuerte.- El poder Judío FrancMasón es invencible.- El fin justifica los medios.- Las turbas son ciegas.- Las discordias de los partidos.- La forma de gobierno que mejor conduce a nuestro fin es la Autocracia.- Los Licores Fuertes.- El Clasicismo.- El Libertinaje.- El principio y las Reglas del gobierno Judío y FrancMasón.- El Terror.- Libertad, Igualdad y Fraternidad.- El principio del gobierno dinástico.- Los Privilegios de la Aristocracia de los Cristianos, destruidos. - La nueva aristocracia. - Cálculo psicológico.- Abstracción de la Libertad.- Amovilidad de los Representantes del Pueblo.

Dejemos de lado toda fraseología; estudiemos en sí misma cada idea e ilustremos la situación por medio de comparaciones y deducciones. Voy, pues, a formular nuestro sistema desde el punto de vista nuestro y desde el punto de vista de los cristianos. Hay que hacer notar ante todo que los hombres dotados de malos instintos abundan más que los de buenos sentimientos. Por esta razón hay que esperar mejores resultados cuando se gobierna a los hombres por medio de la violencia y el terror, que cuando se trata de gobernarles por medio de las discusiones académicas. Todo hombre aspira al poder; cada uno quisiera convertirse en dictador; si esto fuera posible al mismo tiempo, muy poco faltaría para que no estuvieran todos prontos a sacrificar el bien de los demás, a trueque de conseguir cada uno su propio provecho. ¿Qué es, pues, lo que ha reprimido hasta ahora a esa bestia feroz que se llama hombre? ¿Qué es lo que ha podido dirigirle hasta el presente? Al iniciarse el orden social, el hombre se ha sometido a la fuerza bruta y ciega; más tarde, a la Ley, que no es más que esa misma fuerza, pero disfrazada. De donde yo saco la conclusión que, según la Ley Natural, el derecho radica en la fuerza. La Libertad Política es una idea y no un hecho. Se necesita saber aplicar esta idea cuando es necesario atraer las masas populares a un partido con el cebo de una idea, si ese partido ha resuelto aplastar al contrario que se halla en el poder. Este problema resulta de fácil solución si el adversario se mantiene en el poder en virtud de la idea de libertad, de eso que se llama Liberalismo, y sacrifica un poco de su fuerza en obsequio de esa idea: Libertad. Y he aquí por dónde ha de llegar el triunfo de nuestra teoría: una vez que se aflojan las riendas del poder, inmediatamente son recogidas por otras manos, en virtud del instinto de conservación, porque la fuerza ciega del pueblo no puede quedar un solo día sin tener quien la dirija, y el nuevo poder no hace otra cosa sino reemplazar al anterior debilitado por el Liberalismo. En nuestros días, el poder del oro ha reemplazado al poder de los gobiernos liberales. Hubo un tiempo en que la fe gobernaba. La idea de libertad es irrealizable, porque nadie hay que sepa usar de ella en su justa medida. Basta dejar al pueblo que por algún tiempo se gobierne a sí mismo, para que inmediatamente esta autonomía degenera en libertinaje. Surgen al punto las discusiones, que se transforman luego en luchas sociales, en las que los Estados se destruyen, quedando su grandeza reducida a cenizas.

Sea que el Estado se debilite en virtud de sus propios trastornos, sea que sus disensiones interiores lo ponen a merced de sus enemigos de fuera, desde ese momento, ya puede considerarse como irremediablemente perdido; ha caído bajo nuestro poder. El despotismo del Capital, tal como está en nuestras manos, se le presenta como una tabla de salvación y a la que, de grado o por fuerza, tiene que asirse, si no quiere naufragar. A quien su alma noble y generosa induzca a considerar estos discursos como inmorales, yo le preguntaría: Si todo Estado tiene dos enemigos y contra el enemigo exterior le es permitido, sin tacharlo de inmoral, usar todos los ardides de guerra, como ocultarle sus planes, tanto de ataque como de defensa; sorprenderlo de noche o con fuerzas superiores, ¿por qué estos mismos ardides empleados contra un enemigo más peligroso que arruinaría el orden social y la propiedad, han de reputarse como ilícitos e inmorales? ¿Puede un espíritu equilibrado esperar dirigir con éxito las turbas por medio de prudentes exhortaciones o por la persuasión, cuando el camino queda expedito a la réplica, aun la más irracional, si se tiene en cuenta que ésta parece reducir al pueblo que todo lo entiende superficialmente? Los hombres, sean de la plebe o no, se guían casi exclusivamente por sus pasiones, por sus supersticiones, por sus costumbres, sus tradiciones y sus teorías sentimentales; son esclavos de la división de partidos que se oponen aun a la más razonable avenencia. Toda decisión de las multitudes depende, en su mayor parte, de la casualidad, y cualquier resolución suya es superficial y adoptada con ligereza. En su ignorancia de los secretos políticos, las multitudes toman resoluciones absurdas y la anarquía arruina a los gobiernos.

La política nada tiene que ver con la moral. El gobierno que toma por guía la moral no es político, y en consecuencia es débil. El que quiera dominar debe recurrir a la astucia y a la hipocresía. Esas grandes cualidades populares, franqueza y honradez, son vicios en política, porque derriban de sus tronos a los reyes mejor que el más poderoso enemigo. Estas virtudes deben ser atributos de los príncipes cristianos; pero nunca debemos tomarlas por guías de nuestra política.

Nuestro objeto es apoderarse de la fuerza. La palabra Derecho es un concepto abstracto, al que nada corresponde en el orden real y con nada se justifica. Esta palabra simplemente significa: Dame esto que yo quiero, para probar que yo soy más fuerte que tú...

¿Dónde empieza y dónde acaba el derecho? En un estado en el que el poder está mal organizado, en el que las leyes y el gobierno se han convertido en algo impersonal, como efectivamente sucede con los innumerables derechos que el Liberalismo ha creado, yo veo un nuevo derecho: el de echarme en virtud de la ley del más fuerte, sobre el orden, sobre todos los reglamentos y leyes establecidos, y trastornarlos; el de poner mano sobre la ley, el de reconstruir a mi antojo todas las instituciones y constituirme amo y señor de los que nos abandonan los derechos que su propia fuerza les había dado, y a los que han renunciado voluntariamente, liberalmente...

Gracias a la debilidad actual de todos los gobiernos, el nuestro será más duradero que cualquier otro, porque será invencible hasta el último momento, y quedará tan profundamente arraigado que no habrá astucia que pueda causar su ruina...

De todos los males más o menos transitorios que hasta hoy nos hemos visto obligados a causar, nacerá el bien de un gobierno inconvencible que restablecerá la marcha normal del mecanismo de la existencia nacional, perturbada por el Liberalismo. El éxito justifica los medios. Pongamos la atención en nuestros proyectos, pero fijándonos menos en lo bueno y lo moral que en lo necesario y en lo útil.

Tenemos delante de nosotros un plan en el que están estratégicamente expuestos los lineamientos de los que no podemos desviarnos sin peligro de ver destruidos el trabajo de muchos siglos. Para encontrar los medios que conducen a este fin, debemos tomar en cuenta la cobardía, la volubilidad, la inconstancia de las multitudes; su incapacidad para comprender y valorizar las condiciones de su vida y de su bienestar. Es necesario no perder de vista que la fuerza de las multitudes es ciega e insensata; que no discurren, que oyen lo mismo de un lado que del otro. Un ciego no puede guiar a otro sin caer ambos al precipicio. Pues de igual manera los hombres de las turbas, salidos del pueblo, aunque estén dotados de un genio singular, les hace falta comprender la política y no pueden intentar con éxito dirigir a los demás sin causar la ruina de una nación.

Sólo un individuo preparado desde su niñez a la autocracia puede conocer el lenguaje y la realidad políticas. Un pueblo abandonado a sí mismo, es decir, puesto en manos de un advenedizo, se arruina por las discordias de los partidos que excitan la sed del mando y por los desórdenes que de esto se originan. ¿Pueden por ventura las turbas populares razonar serenamente, sin rivalidades intestinas y dirigir los asuntos del Estado, que no pueden ni deben confundirse con los intereses personales? ¿Pueden defenderse contra los enemigos de fuera?. Esto es imposible. Cualquier plan dividido entre tantas cabezas como son las de las multitudes, resulta ininteligible e irrealizable.

Sólo un autócrata puede elaborar planes vastos y claros; dar a cada cosa el lugar que le corresponde en el mecanismo de la máquina del gobierno. Digamos, pues, en conclusión, que para que un gobierno pueda ser útil al pueblo y alcanzar el fin que se propone, debe estar centralizado en las manos de un individuo responsable. Sin el despotismo absoluto, la civilización es imposible; la civilización no es obra de las masas, sino del que las dirige, sea éste el que fuere. La multitud es un bárbaro que en todas las ocasiones demuestra su barbarie. Tan pronto como las turbas arrebatan su libertad, ésta degenera en anarquía, que es el más alto grado de barbarie. ¡Ved esos animales ebrios de aguardiente, embrutecidos por el vino, esos hombres a quienes al mismo tiempo que se les ha dado la libertad se les ha concedido el derecho de beber hasta ahogarse! Nosotros no podemos permitir que los nuestros caigan tan bajo.

Los pueblos cristianos están idiotizados por el alcohol y los licores; su juventud embrutecida por los estudios clásicos y el libertinaje precoz al que la han empujado nuestros agentes-maestros, criados, gobernantes, en las casas ricas; otros agentes nuestros, nuestras mujeres, en los centros de diversión de los Cristianos. A estas últimas hay que sumar las que se llaman mujeres de mundo, imitadoras voluntarias del libertinaje de aquéllas y de su lujo.

Nuestra palabra de orden es la fuerza y la hipocresía. Sólo la fuerza puede triunfar en política, principalmente si permanece velada por el talento y demás cualidades necesarias a los hombres de Estado. La violencia ha de ser un principio: la hipocresía y la astucia una regla para los gobernantes que no quieran dejar caer su corona en las manos de una fuerza nueva. Este mal es el medio único de llegar al fin: el bien. Por lo mismo, no debemos detenernos como espantados delante de la corrupción, del engaño, de la traición, siempre que ellos sean medios para llegar a nuestros fines. En política se necesita saber echarse sin vacilaciones sobre la propiedad ajena, si por este medio podemos obtener la sumisión de los pueblos y el poder. Nuestro Estado, en esta conquista pacífica, tiene el derecho de reemplazar y sustituir los horrores de la guerra por las sentencias de muerte, menos ostensibles, pero más provechosas para mantener vivo este terror que hace a los pueblos que obedezcan ciegamente. Una severidad justa, pero inflexible, es el principal factor de la fuerza de un Estado, y esto constituye no sólo una ventaja nuestra, sino también un deber, el deber que tenemos de adaptarnos a este programa de violencia y de hipocresía, para alcanzar el triunfo.

Tal doctrina basada sobre el cálculo es tan eficaz como los medios de que se sirve. No es, pues, solamente por estos medios, sino también por esta doctrina de la severidad como someteremos todos los gobiernos a nuestro Super-Gobierno. Bastará que se sepa que somos inflexibles para reprimir todo conato de insubordinación. Somos los primeros que en los tiempos que se llaman antiguos echamos a volar entre el pueblo las palabras: LIBERTAD, IGUALDAD, FRATERNIDAD; palabras tantas veces repetidas en el correr de los años por cotorras inconscientes que, atraídas de todas partes por este cebo, no han hecho uso de él sino para destruir la prosperidad del mundo, la verdadera libertad del individuo, en otras épocas tan bien garantizada contra las violencias de las turbas. Hombres que se juzgan inteligentes, no han sido capaces de desentrañar el sentido oculto de estas palabras, ni han visto la contradicción que ellas encierran, ni han comprendido que no puede haber igualdad en la naturaleza, ni puede haber libertad, y que la naturaleza misma ha establecido la desigualdad de espíritus, de caracteres, de inteligencias tan estrictamente sometidos a sus leyes; tampoco han comprendido que las turbas. son una fuerza ciega; que los advenedizos que ellas escogen para que las gobiernen no son menos ciegos ni más entendidos en política que ellas mismas; que el iniciado en estos secretos, así sea un ignorante, será apto para el gobierno, mientras que las multitudes de los no iniciados, aunque sean grandes talentos, nada entienden de política.

Todas estas consideraciones no están al alcance de las inteligencias de los Cristianos; sin embargo, en ellas descansa el principio de los gobiernos dinásticos: el padre transmitía a su hijo los secretos de la política, desconocidos a cualquier otro que no fuera de la familia reinante, a fin de que esos secretos no fueran traicionados. Más tarde, el sentido de la transmisión hereditaria y de los verdaderos principios de la política se perdió. El éxito de la obra fue en aumento.

Sin embargo, en el mundo las palabras Igualdad, Libertad y Fraternidad, con la intervención de nuestros agentes incondicionales, incorporaron a nuestras filas verdaderas legiones de hombres que tremolaron con entusiasmo nuestras banderas. Pero estas palabras son la carcoma que roe y destruye la prosperidad de todos los Cristianos, destruyendo por completo la paz, la tranquilidad, la unión, -minando todos los fundamentos de sus Estados. Vosotros veréis en seguida que esto contribuye a vuestro triunfo: nos da, entre otras cosas, la posibilidad de obtener la victoria más importante: es decir, la abolición de los privilegios de la aristocracia de los Cristianos y del único medio de defensa que tenían contra nosotros los pueblos y las naciones. Sobre las ruinas de la aristocracia natural y hereditaria, hemos alzado nuestra aristocracia de la inteligencia y del dinero. Hemos tomado por criterio de esta aristocracia la riqueza, que depende de nosotros, y la ciencia que está dirigida por nuestros sabios.

Nuestra victoria ha sido tanto más fácil cuanto que nosotros, en las relaciones que tenemos con los hombres de que necesitamos para nuestro fin, sabemos siempre herir las fibras más sensibles del espíritu humano: el cálculo, la codicia, la insaciabilidad de las necesidades materiales de los hombres; cada una de estas debilidades explotada separadamente es capaz de ahogar el espíritu de iniciativa, poniendo la voluntad de los hombres a la disposición del que compra su actividad.

El concepto abstracto de la libertad ha hecho posible el persuadir a las multitudes de que un gobierno no es más que un gerente del propietario del país, es decir, del pueblo, y que se le puede cambiar como se cambia un par de guantes usados. La amovilidad de los representantes del pueblo los pone a nuestro arbitrio; ellos dependen de nuestra elección.

PROTOCOLO II

Las guerras económicas son base de la supremacía Judía.- El Gobierno Visible y los Consejos Secretos.- Los éxitos de las Doctrinas Destructoras.- La asimilación en Política.- El papel de la Prensa.- El precio del oro y el valor de las víctimas Judías.

Nos es de todo punto necesario que las guerras, a ser posible, no confieran ninguna ventaja territorial a los beligerantes. La guerra queda así transportada al terreno económico, con lo que las naciones verán la fuerza de nuestra supremacía y esta situación pondrá a los dos adversarios a la disposición de nuestros agentes internacionales que tienen millares de ojos, a cuya mirada no sirve de obstáculo frontera alguna. Entonces nuestros derechos internacionales crearán los derechos nacionales, en el verdadero sentido de la palabra, y gobernarán a los pueblos de la misma manera que el derecho civil de los Estados normaliza las relaciones de sus súbditos entre sí.

Los gobernantes, elegidos de entre el pueblo por nosotros mismos, en razón de sus aptitudes serviles, serán individuos no preparados para el gobierno del país. Así, por este camino, vendrán a ser los peones de nuestro juego de ajedrez fácilmente manejables por las manos de nuestros sabios y geniales consejeros, de nuestros especialistas educados y formados desde su tierna edad para el manejo de los negocios de todo el mundo. No ignoráis que estos nuestros especialistas han sacado sus conocimientos de gobierno de nuestros planes políticos, de las experiencias de la historia y del estudio de todos los acontecimientos notables.

Los Cristianos no se guían en la práctica de observaciones imparciales sacadas de la historia sino por una rutina meramente teórica insuficiente para poder esperar de ella un resultado práctico. Por eso nosotros no hemos de tomarlo en cuenta. Dejados que se diviertan todavía por algún tiempo; que vivan de esperanzas o de nuevas diversiones, o del recuerdo de las que ya pasaron. Dejémoslos creer en la importancia que nosotros mismos les hemos inspirado de las leyes científicas y sus teorías. Precisamente con ese designio hemos fomentado constantemente por medio de nuestra prensa su confianza ciega en esas leyes.

La clase pensante de los Cristianos se ufanará orgullosa de sus conocimientos, y sin examinarlos a la luz de la lógica pondrá en acción todas las enseñanzas de la ciencia acumuladas por nuestros agentes para guiar sus inteligencias en el sentido que a nosotros nos conviene.

No penséis que carecen de fundamento nuestras afirmaciones. Fijaos solamente en el éxito que hemos obtenido creando el darwinismo o el marxismo o el nietzchismo. Para nosotros, al menos, la influencia deletérea de esas doctrinas debe ser del todo evidente.

Es necesario que tengamos en cuenta las ideas, los caracteres, las tendencias modernas de los pueblos, para no incurrir en errores en política y en el manejo de los negocios. Nuestro sistema, cuyas partes pueden estar dispuestas diferentemente, según son los pueblos con que tropezamos en nuestro camino, no puede tener éxito, si su aplicación práctica no está fundada en los resultados obtenidos en el tiempo pasado comparado con el presente. Los Estados modernos tienen en sus manos una gran fuerza creadora: la Prensa. Su papel es el de expresar las reivindicaciones que se dicen necesarias, indispensables; hacer conocer las quejas de los pueblos; crear el descontento y darle una voz con que expresarlo. En la Prensa está encarnada la libertad de palabra. Pero los Estados no han sabido utilizar esta fuerza que ha caído ya en nuestras manos. Por la Prensa hemos conquistado toda la influencia, quedando nosotros ocultos en la sombra, y gracias a ella hemos podido amasar el oro con nuestras manos como precio de los torrentes de lágrimas y de sangre, en medio de los cuales hemos podido arrebatarlo... Pero nos hemos rescatado a nosotros mismos mediante el sacrificio de muchísimos de los nuestros. CADA UNO DE LOS NUESTROS QUE HA SIDO SACRIFICADO VALE DELANTE DE DIOS POR MILLARES DE CRISTIANOS.

Hoy puedo anunciaros que nos encontramos ya cerca del fin. Nos queda por recorrer un poco de camino y el círculo de la Serpiente Simbólica, representación de nuestro pueblo, quedará cerrado. Cuando esto se verifique, los Estados de Europa quedarán aprisionados como con un fuerte tornillo. Muy pronto quedará destruido el equilibrio constitucional, pues lo hemos falseado para que no cese de inclinarse ya a un lado, ya al otro hasta que por fin la balanza se desgaste. Los Cristianos creían haber establecido ese equilibrio sólidamente y siempre estaban esperando que los platillos de la balanza se igualaran. Pero los gobernantes, es decir, el fiel de la balanza, están protegidos por sus representantes que hacen mil tonterías y se dejan arrastrar por su poder sin control y sin responsabilidad. Este poder lo deben al terror que reina en los palacios. Los gobernantes no pueden siquiera acercarse a su pueblo, ni ponerse de acuerdo con él para defenderse contra los que aspiran al poder. La fuerza clarividente de los gobernantes y la fuerza ciega del pueblo divididas por nosotros, han perdido toda su importancia; separadas como están, son tan impotentes como el ciego sin su bastón.

Para azuzar a los ambiciosos a abusar del poder, hemos enfrentado todas las fuerzas desarrollando sus tendencias liberales hacia la independencia. Hemos estimulado todo instinto tendente a este objeto; hemos armado a todos los partidos; hemos hecho del poder el blanco de todas las ambiciones. Hemos transformado todos los Estados en arenas en que se desarrollan todas las luchas. Un poco más de tiempo, y los desórdenes y las bancarrotas aparecerán por dondequiera. Charlatanes inagotables han transformado las sesiones de los parlamentos y las asambleas gubernativas en torneos oratorios. Periodistas audaces, panfletistas sin pizca de vergüenza, atacan todos los días a los gobernantes. Los abusos del poder prepararán finalmente el derrumbamiento de todas las instituciones y todo caerá destruido a los golpes de las turbas enloquecidas. Los pueblos están encadenados a un rudo trabajo, más fuertemente de lo que podrían encadenarlos la servidumbre y la esclavitud.

Sería posible entrar en arreglos con ellos; pero de su miseria nadie puede librarlos. Los derechos que hemos consignado en las Constituciones son ficticios para las masas, no son reales. Todos estos llamados Derechos del pueblo no pueden existir sino en la imaginación, pero nunca en la realidad.

¿Qué puede significar para el proletario, para el obrero que vive encorvado sobre su rudo trabajo, agobiado por su miseria, el derecho que se concede al charlatán incansable, al periodista que escribe toda clase de necedades, aun de asuntos serios que no conoce, desde el momento que el proletario no saca otra ventaja de la Constitución que las miserables migajas que dejamos caer de nuestra mesa, como precio de un voto emitido conforme nuestra consigna en favor de nuestros agentes e intermediarios?.

Los derechos republicanos, para el pobre diablo no son sino una amarga ironía; la necesidad de un trabajo diario no le permite gozar; pero en cambio, esos derechos le privan de la garantía de una ganancia constante y segura, y lo entregan atado de pies y manos a las huelgas, a los patronos o a los compañeros.

Bajo nuestra dirección, ha destruido el pueblo la Aristocracia, que era su protectora, su bienhechora natural, porque sus intereses estaban inseparablemente unidos a la prosperidad del pueblo.

Una vez destruida la aristocracia, el pueblo ha caído bajo el yugo de los acaparadores, de los ladrones enriquecidos que lo oprimen de manera despiadada y cruel. Nosotros debemos aparecer como libertadores del obrero de ese yugo que lo oprime, proponiéndole que se aliste en las filas de ese ejército de [Ateos] Socialistas, Anarquistas, y Comunistas, que siempre mantenemos en pie, con el pretexto de solidaridad entre los miembros de nuestra Franc-Masonería social.

La Aristocracia, que disfrutaba antes enteramente del derecho al trabajo de los obreros, tenía interés en que éstos vivieran bien alimentados, sanos y fuertes. A nosotros, por lo contrario, lo que nos interesa es que los Cristianos degeneren. Nuestra fuerza radica en el hambre crónica, en la debilidad del obrero. porque éstas lo subyugan a nuestro capricho, y porque así carecerá en su impotencia de la energía y la fuerza necesarias para oponerse a ese capricho. El hambre dará al Capital más derechos sobre el obrero que los que jamás otorgaron a la Aristocracia la ley y el poder de los monarcas (!!!). Mediante la miseria, el odio y la envidia que ella produce, manejaremos y utilizaremos sus manos para aplastar a los que se oponen a nuestros designios (!!!). Cuando llegue el tiempo de que nuestro rey universal sea coronado, esas mismas manos barrerán todo obstáculo que pudiera atravesarse en el camino a nuestro soberano. Los Cristianos han perdido la costumbre de pensar por sí mismos algo que sea distinto de lo que nuestros consejeros científicos les inspiran.

Esta es la razón de que no vean la necesidad urgente de hacer ahora lo que nosotros haremos al advenimiento de nuestro reinado, esto es, enseñar en las escuelas primarias la única ciencia verdadera y la primera de todas, la ciencia del orden social, de la vida humana, de la existencia de las sociedades, que exige imperiosamente la división del trabajo, y por consecuencia la distinción de los hombres en clases y condiciones. Es preciso que todos sepan que en virtud de las diferentes actividades a que cada uno está destinado, la igualdad es imposible, pues no todos pueden ser igualmente responsables ante la ley. No es la misma, por ejemplo, la responsabilidad del que con sus actos puede comprometer a toda una clase, que la del que solamente compromete su propio honor.

La verdadera ciencia del orden social, en cuyos secretos no tenemos costumbre de iniciar a los Cristianos, enseñará a todos que el lugar y el trabajo de cada uno deben ser diferentes, como una consecuencia de la necesidad de relación que hay entre la educación y el mismo trabajo. Una vez que los pueblos estudien y aprendan esta ciencia, obedecerán gustosos a los gobiernos y al orden establecido por ellos en los Estados, y al contrario, en el actual estado de la ciencia, tal como nosotros la hemos hecho, el pueblo, creyendo ciegamente la palabra impresa, se alimenta de los errores que en su ignorancia, se le van insinuando por los iniciados en nuestros secretos, contra las otras clases sociales, que él cree superiores, porque no comprende la importancia de cada una de ellas. Cuando el pueblo ve que en nombre de la libertad, se le hacen tantas concesiones, y se tienen con él tantas complacencias, se imagina que es dueño y señor, y se echa sobre el poder; pero, naturalmente, tropieza como un ciego con una multitud de obstáculos; entonces se echa a buscar quien lo conduzca a través de esos obstáculos, y no encontrándolo, acoge la idea de volver a lo pasado y depone todos sus poderes a nuestros pies.

Acordaos, si no, de la Revolución Francesa, a la que nosotros hemos dado el calificativo de grande; los secretos de su preparación no son demasiado conocidos, porque esa revolución, tal como fue, es obra de nuestras manos. Desde entonces vamos llevando al pueblo de un desengaño a otro, para que, al fin, abdique en nosotros su poder, en provecho del Rey Déspota de la sangre de Israel, que venimos preparando al mundo. En la actualidad, como fuerza internacional, somos invulnerables, porque, cuando se nos ataca en un Estado, en otros se nos defiende.

Es la cobardía inmensa de los pueblos cristianos, que se arrastran ante la fuerza, que no tienen piedad para con la debilidad, ni misericordia para las faltas ligeras, pero sí indulgencia para el crimen; que no quisieran tolerar las contradicciones de la libertad, pero son sufridos hasta el martirio, ante la violencia de un audaz déspota; todo esto, favorece nuestra independencia. Toleran y sufren a los primeros ministros de estos tiempos con abusos, por el menor de los cuales harían rodar ensangrentadas las cabezas de veinte reyes.

¿Cómo explicar este fenómeno, esta inconsecuencia de las masas populares en presencia de hechos que parecen de la misma naturaleza? Este fenómeno se explica por el hecho de que estos dictadores- los primeros ministros- hacen, por medio de sus agentes, decir a sotto voce al pueblo, que si ellos causan tantos males a los Estados, es con el fin inmediato y último de alcanzar la felicidad de los pueblos, la fraternidad internacional, la solidaridad, la igualdad de derechos para todos.

Naturalmente que no se les dice que esta unidad debe hacerse bajo nuestra autoridad. Y aquí tenéis al pueblo condenando a los justos y absolviendo a los culpables y cada vez más persuadido de que puede hacer cuanto le plazca. En estas condiciones, el pueblo destruye toda cosa estable y crea el desorden a cada paso. La palabra Libertad conduce a las sociedades humanas a la lucha constante contra toda fuerza, contra todo poder, aunque sea el de Dios y el de la Naturaleza.

Aquí tenéis también por qué a nuestro advenimiento será necesario suprimir del vocabulario humano esta palabra, como principio de la brutalidad que transforma a las multitudes en bestias feroces. Es verdad que las fieras se adormecen cuando se las harta de sangre y que así puede encadenárselas fácilmente. Pero si no se las da sangre, no se adormecen y sus instintos de lucha se despiertan.

PROTOCOLO IV

Las diferentes etapas de una república.- La FrancMasonería exterior.- La Libertad y la Fe.- La Competencia internacional del Comercio y de la Industria.- El papel de la especulación.- El culto del oro.

Toda República pasa por distintas etapas. La primera comprende los primeros días de locura de un ciego que va dando tumbos a diestra y siniestra. La segunda es la de la demagogia que da origen a la anarquía; después viene infaliblemente el despotismo; pero no un despotismo legal y declarado, y por consiguiente, responsable; sino desconocido, invisible, que, sin embargo, se hace sentir; un despotismo ejercido por una organización secreta que obra con tanto menor escrúpulo cuanto que lo hace amparado y cubierto por distintos agentes, cuyo cambio, lejos de perjudicarlo, lo sostiene más, dispensándole de gastar sus recursos, en recompensar largos servicios.

¿Quién puede destruir una fuerza invisible? Pues tal es la nuestra. La Franc-Masonería exterior no sirve más que para encubrir nuestros designios; el plan de acción de esta fuerza, el punto mismo en que se apoya, quedarán siempre para el pueblo en el más absoluto misterio. Aun la libertad podría ser inofensiva y existir en el Estado, sin dañar a la prosperidad de los pueblos, siempre que descansara sobre el principio de la creencia de Dios, y de la verdadera fraternidad humana, excluyendo la idea de igualdad, a la que aun las leyes mismas de la creación son contrarias, supuesto que éstas establecen la subordinación necesaria.

Con esa fe, el pueblo se dejaría gobernar bajo la tutela de sus pastores espirituales, y caminaría sumiso y tranquilo bajo la mano de su párroco, resignado con la distribución que Dios ha hecho de los bienes de la tierra. He aquí por qué es necesario que nosotros arruinemos la fe y arranquemos de los espíritus cristianos el principio mismo de la Divinidad sustituyéndolo por los cálculos y las necesidades materiales.

Así, pues, para que los espíritus cristianos no tengan tiempo para pensar y reflexionar, es necesario distraerlos por medio de la industria y del comercio. De esta suerte todos los pueblos buscarán su provecho material, y luchando cada uno por sus propias ventajas, no darán ninguna importancia al enemigo común. Pero para que la libertad pueda de esa manera disolver y destruir completamente las Sociedades Cristianas, se necesita hacer de la especulación la base de la industria, de tal manera que toda la riqueza que la industria extraiga de la tierra, no quede en manos de los industriales, que se emplee en especulaciones, es decir, venga a parar a nuestras cajas. La lucha encarnizada por la supremacía, los choques de la vida económica crearán, mejor dicho, han creado ya, sociedades sin ideales, frías y carentes de sentimientos. Estas sociedades sentirán repugnancia por la política noble y elevada y por la Religión. Su único culto, su única guía será el cálculo, o lo que es lo mismo, el oro, al que se tributará una verdadera adoración, por razón de los bienes materiales que proporciona. Entonces, las clases humildes de los Cristianos nos seguirán en nuestra lucha contra las clases elevadas y pensantes que están en el poder y son nuestros competidores, y nos seguirán, no ya para hacer el bien, ni aun siquiera por adquirir riquezas, sino solamente para satisfacer su odio a los privilegiados.

PROTOCOLO V

Creación de un fuerte centro de gobierno. - Manera de adueñarse del poder la Masonería.- Por qué las naciones no pueden entenderse. -Predestinación de los judíos.- El oro, motor del mecanismo de las naciones.- Los monopolios en el comercio y la industria.- Importancia de la crítica.- Las instituciones según se ven.- Cansancio ocasionado por los discursos.- ¿Cómo adueñarse de la Opinión Pública?.- Importancia de la iniciativa privada. - El Gobierno Supremo.

¿Qué forma de gobierno puede dárseles a sociedades en las que la corrupción ha penetrado hasta lo más íntimo, en las que no se llega a la riqueza sino por medio de sorprendentes y hábiles combinaciones que pueden ser juzgadas como fraudes o robos disimulados; en las que reina la licencia de costumbres, en las que la moralidad sólo se mantiene por medio de penas y severos reglamentos y no por principios voluntariamente aceptados, en las que los sentimientos de Religión y Patria apenas viven, ahogados por las creencias cosmopolitas? ¿Qué forma de gobierno dar a esas sociedades sino la forma despótica que describiré más adelante?. Nosotros arreglaremos mecánicamente todos los actos de la vida política de nuestros súbditos por medio de leyes nuevas. Esta leyes reprimirán una por una todas las complacencias y las más grandes libertades que fueron decretadas por los Cristianos, y nuestra dominación se distinguirá por un despotismo tan manifiesto y tan grandioso que estará en condiciones en cualquier tiempo y lugar de hacer callar a los Cristianos que intenten oponérsenos y vivan descontentos de nuestro gobierno.

Pero se nos podrá objetar que este despotismo de que hablo no está en armonía con los progresos modernos. Yo demostraré lo contrario. Cuando los pueblos veían las personas de los reyes y gobernantes como una verdadera emanación de la Voluntad Divina, se sometían sin murmuraciones al absolutismo de los reyes; pero hoy, que nosotros les hemos sugerido la idea de sus propios derechos, los gobernantes son considerados como unos simples mortales.

La unción divina ha caído de la frente de los reyes, después que nosotros arrebatamos al pueblo su creencia en Dios; su autoridad ha rodado por las calles. esto es, por los lugares que son de pública propiedad, y nosotros la hemos recogido y nos hemos adueñado de ella. Además, el arte de gobernar a las masas y a los individuos. por medio de una teoría, de una fraseología hábilmente combinada, por reglamentaciones de la vida social y por toda clase de medios ingeniosos, de los que los Cristianos no entienden una palabra, forma también parte de nuestro talento de gobierno, educado por el análisis. en la observación, en tales sutilezas de conceptos en los que nadie puede igualarnos, así como tampoco en concebir planes de acción política y de solidaridad.

Únicamente los jesuitas podrían igualarnos en este respecto, pero ya hemos tenido buen cuidado de desacreditarlos a los ojos de las multitudes estúpidas; porque ellos forman una organización visible, en tanto que nosotros permanecemos en la sombra con nuestra organización secreta. Por lo demás, ¿qué importa al mundo quién será su amo? ¿Qué le importa que sea el Jefe del Catolicismo o nuestro Déspota de la sangre de Sión?. Pero para nosotros, que formamos el pueblo elegido, la cuestión está muy lejos de sernos indiferente. Una alianza universal de los Cristianos podría, tal vez, dominarnos por algún tiempo; pero nos hemos precavido contra este peligro por medio de los gérmenes de profunda discordia que hemos procurado sembrar en sus corazones y que nadie puede ya desarraigar. Hemos enfrentado unos a otros los cálculos individuales y nacionales de los Cristianos; sus odios religiosos y radicales que venimos fomentando y cultivando desde hace veinte siglos. Por esto, ningún gobierno encontrará auxilio en parte alguna. Cada uno pensará que una alianza contra nosotros es desfavorable a sus intereses. Somos muy fuertes. Es necesario que se nos tome en cuenta. Las Potencias no pueden concluir el más insignificante tratado sin que nosotros también tomemos parte en él. Per me reges regnant- por mí reinan los reyes, han dicho nuestros profetas, y que somos los elegidos por Dios mismo, para dominar toda la tierra.

Dios nos ha dado el genio para que podamos llegar hasta el fin de este problema. Hubo un caudillo y guía que hubiera podido luchar contra nosotros con éxito; pero el recién llegado siguió un camino distinto del que llevaba el viejo habitante; la lucha contra nosotros habría sido a muerte y tal como el mundo jamás la habría visto. Luego... esos hombres de genio llegarían demasiado tarde. Todas las ruedas del mecanismo de los gobiernos dependen de un motor que está en nuestras manos: este motor es el oro. La ciencia de la Economía Política, inventada por nuestros Sabios, nos ha dado a conocer, después de mucho tiempo, el prestigio y valor del oro. El capital, para tener libertad de acción necesita obtener el monopolio de la industria y del comercio, lo que ya está en vías de realizarse, mediante una mano que opera en todo el mundo, pero que es invisible. Esta libertad dará más importante desarmar a los pueblos, que empujarlos a la guerra; utilizar sus pasiones enardecidas para nuestro provecho mejor que calmarlas; importa más adueñarse de las ideas de otros y comentarlas, mejor que suprimirlas.

El problema capital de nuestro gobierno, está en debilitar el espíritu público por la crítica; en hacerle perder la costumbre de pensar, pues la reflexión da origen muchas veces a la oposición; en distraer las actividades de los espíritus con banales escaramuzas y torneos de oratoria. Los pueblos, lo mismo que los individuos, siempre han tomado como hechos las palabras, pues, contentándose con la apariencia de las cosas, raras veces se toman el trabajo de examinar si las promesas que se les hacen, relativas a la vida social, sigue su cumplimiento efectivo.

Por esta razón nuestras instituciones deberán presentar una hermosa fachada que demuestre elocuentemente los beneficios que puede reportar el progreso a todos los hombres. Debemos apropiarnos la fisonomía de todos los partidos, de todas las distintas tendencias y enseñar a nuestros oradores a hablar tanto, que el mundo se cansa de oírlos.

Para adueñarse de la opinión pública es necesario tenerla siempre suspensa y vacilante, expresando por todos lados y por largo tiempo tantas opiniones contradictorias, que los Cristianos acaben por perderse en este laberinto de ideas y por persuadirse que es mejor para ellos no tener opinión ninguna en política. Cuestiones son éstas que la Sociedad no debe conocer. Este es el primer secreto. El segundo, necesario también para gobernar con éxito, consiste en multiplicar de tal manera los defectos del pueblo, las malas costumbres, las pasiones, los reglamentos de la vida común, que no haya nadie capaz de desenmarañar este caos y que los hombres acaben por no entenderse entre sí. Esta táctica nos dará también por resultado sembrar la discordia en todas partes, y disgregar todas las fuerzas colectivas que no hayan querido someterse; desalentará toda iniciativa personal, aun la más ingeniosa, y será más poderosa y eficaz que los mismos millones de hombres en cuyo seno hemos sembrado la discordia.

Necesitamos dirigir la educación de las sociedades cristianas en tal forma, que sus manos caigan abatidas en un gesto de desesperada impotencia ante cualquier negocio (asunto) que exija iniciativa. El esfuerzo que se ejerce sobre el régimen de una libertad sin límites es impotente, porque tropieza con los esfuerzos libres de otros. De aquí se originan molestos y enojosos conflictos morales, decepciones y fracasos. NOSOTROS CANSAREMOS DE TAL MANERA A LOS CRISTIANOS CON ESTA LIBERTAD, QUE LES OBLIGAREMOS A QUE NOS OFREZCAN UN PODER INTERNACIONAL CUYA DISPOSICIÓN SERÁ TAL QUE SIN ROMPERLAS, PUEDA ENGLOBAR LAS FUERZAS DE TODAS LAS NACIONES DEL MUNDO Y FORMAR EL SUPERGOBIERNO UNIVERSAL. En lugar de los actuales Gobiernos, estableceremos uno verdaderamente terrible que se llamará ADMINISTRACIÓN DEL SUPERGOBIERNO. Sus manos alcanzarán a todas partes, a manera de unas enormes tenazas, y su organización será tan colosal que ningún pueblo podrá dejar de someterse.

PROTOCOLO VI

Los monopolios. - Las riquezas de los Cristianos.- Su dependencia de esos monopolios.- La Aristocracia despojada de riqueza territorial.- El Comercio, la Industria y la Especulación. - El lujo. - El alza de los salarios. - Encarecimiento de artículos de primera necesidad . - La anarquía y la embriaguez. - La significación secreta de las teorías económicas y de su propaganda.

Muy pronto constituiremos enormes monopolios, verdaderos almacenes de riquezas colosales, a los que los capitales de los Cristianos, aun los más grandes, defenderán de tal manera que al final serán absorbidos, así como el crédito de los Estados en vísperas de una catástrofe política. Señores economistas que estáis aquí presentes, ¡Considerad la importancia de esta combinación!....

Necesitamos por todos los medios posibles tratar de explicar y desarrollar la importancia de nuestro Super Gobierno, representándolo como el protector y remunerador de todos los que voluntariamente se le sometan. La aristocracia de los Cristianos como fuerza política ha desaparecido y ya no tenemos que tomarla en cuenta; pero como propietaria de bienes territoriales, puede perjudicarnos en proporción de la independencia que pueden proporcionarle esos recursos. Es, pues, absolutamente necesario despojarla totalmente de sus tierras. El medio más eficaz para conseguirlo es el de aumentar los impuestos sobre la propiedad territorial a fin de gravar la tierra. Esta medida mantendrá la propiedad territorial en una dependencia absoluta. Los aristócratas Cristianos, al pasar la propiedad de padres a hijos, no sabiendo contentarse con menos de lo que tenían, quedarán arruinados. Al mismo tiempo hay que proteger eficazmente el comercio y la industria, y más todavía, la especulación, cuyo papel es servir de contrapeso a la industria. Sin la especulación, la industria aumentaría los capitales particulares, mejoraría la agricultura, librando las tierras de los gravámenes asignados por los préstamos de los bancos hipotecarios de crédito territorial. Es necesario que la industria prive a la tierra del fruto, tanto del capital como del trabajo, y que ponga en nuestras manos para la especulación todo el oro del mundo, obligados en fuerza de estas combinaciones a quedar relegados a las filas del proletariado, todos los Cristianos se inclinarán ante nosotros para tener como único derecho el de existir. Para arruinar la industria de los Cristianos daremos un gran impulso a la especulación y al gusto por el lujo, ese lujo que todo lo devora. Haremos subir los salarios, pero de tal manera que esta alza no reporte ningún provecho a los obreros, porque al mismo tiempo habremos provocado el encarecimiento de todos los artículos de primera necesidad, haciendo creer que ese encarecimiento es debido a la decadencia y postración de la agricultura y a la misma elevación de los jornales, y minaremos además profundamente las fuentes de producción habituando al obrero a la anarquía y a la embriaguez, y tomaremos también todas las medidas posibles para quitar la tierra de las manos de los Cristianos inteligentes. Para impedir que esta situación sea conocida antes de tiempo bajo su verdadero aspecto, disfrazaremos nuestros verdaderos designios con el aparente deseo de servir y ser útiles a los obreros y de propagar los grandes principios económicos que enseñamos en los tiempos actuales.

PROTOCOLO VII

Porqué deben aumentarse los armamentos. - Perturbaciones, discordias y odios en todo el mundo.- Represión de la oposición de los Cristianos por las guerras y por la Guerra General.- El Secreto, garantía del éxito en política.- La prensa y la opinión pública.- Los señores americanos, japoneses y chinos.

El aumento de los Ejércitos y de la Policía es complemento necesario del plan que hemos expuesto. Es necesario que en todos los Estados no queden fuera de nosotros sino las masas de proletarios, algunos millonarios que nos sean adictos, policías y soldados. En toda Europa, lo mismo que en los otros continentes, tenemos que suscitar la discordia, el odio y el desorden. El provecho de estos disturbios es doble. Por un lado, el respeto de todos los países que así sabrán que podemos, cuando queramos, provocar el desorden o restablecer el orden, por otro, todos los Estados se acostumbrarán de este modo a considerarnos como una carga necesaria. En segundo lugar, nuestras intrigas enredarán todos los hilos que tenemos tendidos en los Gabinetes de las Naciones, y esto por medio de la política, de convenios económicos y arreglos financieros. Para llegar a nuestros fines necesitaremos desplegar una astucia muy grande en el curso de los arreglos y conferencias; pero, en lo que se llama lenguaje oficial, seguiremos una táctica opuesta apareciendo siempre como honrados y conciliadores. De esta suerte, los pueblos y los gobiernos de los Cristianos, a quienes tenemos ya acostumbrados a no ser más que la apariencia de las cosas que les presentamos, nos tendrán una vez más por los bienhechores y salvadores del género humano. A cualquier oposición que surja deberemos estar en aptitud de hacer declarar la guerra por la Nación vecina a los que se atreven a enfrentárenos; y si esta Nación vecina tuviera el atrevimiento de formar una alianza contra nosotros, deberemos rechazarla por una guerra general. El camino que más seguramente lleva al éxito en política es el secreto en todo lo que se emprende: la palabra del diplomático nunca debe estar de acuerdo con sus actos. Debemos obligar con eficacia a los gobiernos cristianos a obrar según el plan que hemos concebido con amplitud y que toca ya a su fin. La opinión pública nos ayudará; esta opinión pública, que es la gran potencia, la prensa, secretamente ha venido también a caer en nuestras manos. Con pocas excepciones, sin importancia que es inútil tener en cuenta, la prensa toda depende de nosotros. En una palabra, para abreviar: he aquí nuestro sistema de coerción de los gobiernos cristianos en Europa. A uno, le haremos ver nuestra fuerza por medio de los atentados, esto es, del terror; a todos, si es que todos se revuelven contra nosotros, contestaremos con los cañones americanos, chinos o japoneses.*

PROTOCOLO VIII

Uso equívoco del derecho jurídico.- Los colaboradores del régimen Franc-Masón.- Escuelas particulares.- Educación superior particular.- Economistas y millonarios.- A quién deben confiarse los puestos de responsabilidad en el gobierno.

Debemos apropiarnos de todos los instrumentos que nuestros contrarios pudieran utilizar contra nosotros. Debemos encontrar en las sutilezas y minucias del lenguaje jurídico una justificación para aquellos casos en que nos veamos en la necesidad de pronunciar sentencias que pudieran parecer demasiado atrevidas o injustas; pues importa mucho al formular tales sentencias hacerlo en términos que revistan la apariencia de máximas morales muy elevadas y un aspecto netamente legal. Nuestro gobierno debe rodearse de todas las fuerzas de la civilización, en medio de la que tiene que operar. Conforme a esto, se rodeará de publicistas, de jurisconsultos experimentados, de hacendistas, de diplomáticos, en una palabra, de hombres preparados por una educación superior especial en esas escuelas también especiales. Estos hombres deberán conocer los secretos de la existencia social, todos los idiomas formados de letras y de palabras políticas; deberán tener conocimiento de las inclinaciones y costumbres de la naturaleza humana, de sus cuerdas sensibles que deben saber tocar con acierto. Estas cuerdas son: la ternura del alma de los Cristianos, sus inclinaciones, sus debilidades, sus vicios y sus cualidades, sus particularidades de clase y condición. Ya se sobreentiende que esos colaboradores de nuestro gobierno no serán sacados de entre los Cristianos acostumbrados a desempeñar el trabajo administrativo sin preocuparse del resultado feliz. Los gobernantes cristianos firman los papeles sin leerlos; sirven por interés personal o por ambición. Rodearemos así mismo nuestro gobierno de todo un mundo de economistas. He aquí por qué las ciencias económicas son las más útiles y por qué importa tanto que se enseñen a los judíos. Estaremos rodeados de una pléyade de banqueros, industriales, capitalistas y más que todo esto, de millonarios, supuesto que, en último término los guarismos son los que todo lo deciden. Por algún tiempo, mientras llega el momento de confiar sin peligro los puestos de responsabilidad en los gobiernos de las naciones a nuestros hermanos judíos, los encomendaremos a individuos cuyo pasado y carácter sean tales que en caso de desobediencia a nuestros mandatos no les quede otra cosa que esperar sino el destierro o la muerte; así ellos defenderán nuestros intereses hasta el último aliento.

Aplicación de los principios masónicos en la re-educación de los pueblos. - La palabra de orden del Franc-Masón.- Importancia del Antisemitismo.- La dictadura de la Franc-Masonería.- El Terror.- Instrumentos de la Masonería.- La fuerza inteligente y la fuerza ciega de los reinos cristianos.- Participación del poder con el Pueblo. -- La arbitrariedad liberal. Usurpación de la instrucción y la educación.- Interpretación de las leyes.- Los metropolitanos.

En la aplicación de nuestros principios debéis atender al carácter del pueblo en medio del que vivís y tenéis que operar: Una aplicación general y uniforme de estos principios, antes que hayamos reeducado al pueblo, no puede dar buenos resultados. Pero aplicándolos prudentemente veréis que no pasarán diez años sin que el carácter más obstinado no haya sufrido transformación y que no contemos con un pueblo más, bajo nuestra dependencia. Cuando llegue nuestro reinado, sustituiremos nuestras palabras de orden liberal LIBERTAD, IGUALDAD, FRATERNIDAD no por otras palabras de orden, sino por las mismas trasladadas a su rango de meros conceptos abstractos; nosotros diremos: el derecho a la libertad; el deber de la igualdad; el ideal de la fraternidad.

Cogeremos al toro por los cuernos, sin tapujos ni reticencias: hemos destruido ya todos los gobiernos excepto el nuestro; más aún, en muchas partes el nuestro es ya un gobierno de jure. En la actualidad, si hay algunas naciones que levantan protestas contra nosotros, es por mera fórmula, u obedeciendo a nuestros deseos o mandatos, porque el Antisemitismo nos es en cierto modo necesario para gobernar a nuestros hermanos menores. No os explicaré esto con mayor claridad, pues es punto que más de una vez ha sido tratado en nuestras reuniones. En realidad, no hay ya más obstáculos que nos detengan en nuestro camino. Nuestro Super-Gobierno se halla en las condiciones extralegales que se ha convenido en llamar con una palabra demasiado enérgica: DICTADURA En conciencia, puedo afirmar que actualmente somos los legisladores, los que dictamos sentencias en materia de justicia, los que condenamos a muerte y otorgamos gracia: Somos como el jefe de un gran ejército y marchamos a su frente, jinetes en el brioso corcel de su general supremo. Gobernaremos con mano firme, pues tenemos en ella las riendas de un partido que fue fuerte en otro tiempo, hoy sometido a nosotros. Tenemos en nuestras manos ambiciones desmedidas, avidedeces ardientes, venganzas despiadadas, odios rencorosos. De nosotros proviene ese terror que todo lo ha invadido. Bajo nuestras órdenes militan hombres de todas las opiniones, de todas las creencias; restauradores de la monarquía, demagogos, socialistas, comunistas, y todo género de utopías; a todo el mundo hemos enganchado en nuestra empresa, y cada uno de ellos va minando las ruinas de poder y se afana por acabar de derribar lo que aún queda en pie. Todas las naciones experimentan convulsiones y reclaman tranquilidad; están prontas a sacrificarlo todo a cambio de un poco de paz; pero esa paz anhelada no se la daremos mientras no reconozcan nuestro Super-Gobierno abiertamente y con completa sumisión. El pueblo todos los días está gritando que es necesario dar una solución a la cuestión social por medio de un acuerdo internacional en la materia. La división del pueblo en partidos lo ha puesto en nuestras manos, pues para sostener una lucha es indispensable dinero, y el dinero somos nosotros los que lo tenemos en nuestro poder.

Podríamos temer una alianza de la fuerza inteligente de los gobernantes con la fuerza ciega de los pueblos, pero hemos tomado todas las medidas que dicta la prudencia para conjurar este peligro: entre esas dos fuerzas hemos levantado una muralla, esto es un terror recíproco. De esta suerte la fuerza ciega del pueblo nos sirve de apoyo y sólo nosotros la podremos dirigir con toda precisión hacia nuestros fines. Y para que las manos de ese ciego, el pueblo, no puedan rechazar nuestra dirección, necesitamos de tiempo en tiempo ponernos en contacto directo con él, si no personalmente, al menos con la intervención de nuestros hermanos más fieles. Cuando ya seamos un gobierno reconocido, conversaremos nosotros mismos con el pueblo en las plazas públicas; lo instruiremos respecto de las cuestiones políticas en el sentido que nosotros necesitamos.

¿Cómo verificar lo que se enseña en las escuelas del pueblo?. Lo que diga el comisionado del gobierno o el mismo gobernante, no puede dejar de conocerse luego en todo el Estado, porque se difundirá inmediatamente por la voz del pueblo. Para no destruir prematuramente las instituciones de los Cristianos, hemos movido por medio de una mano inteligente todos los resortes de su mecanismo. Estos resortes estaban dispuestos en un orden severo, pero justo; nosotros los hemos reemplazado por una arbitrariedad desordenada. Hemos desarreglado la jurisdicción, las elecciones, la prensa, la libertad individual, y más que nada, la educación y la instrucción, que son las piedras angulares en las que la existencia libre debe descansar. Hemos corrompido, embrutecido y prostituido la juventud cristiana por una educación cimentada en principios y teorías que sabemos son falsos y que no obstante han sido inspirados por nosotros.

A más de esto, las leyes existentes, sin mudarlas en su esencia, las hemos desfigurado con interpretaciones contradictorias, obteniendo resultados admirables. Estos se manifiestan desde luego en esas glosas y comentarios, disfrazando las leyes, han sido ocultadas discretamente a los ojos de los gobernantes y las han dejado imposibles de reconocer en medio de una legislación por demás embrollada. De aquí procede la teoría del tribunal de la conciencia. Y vosotros diréis que si los pueblos se dan cuenta antes de tiempo de estas maniobras, se revolverán contra nosotros con las armas en la mano; pero si llegara este caso, en todos los países de Occidente tenemos preparada una maniobra tan terrible, que aún los ánimos más esforzados temblarán: en todas las grandes capitales se irán estableciendo Los metropolitanos (tranvías subterráneos) y nosotros los volaremos por medio de la dinamita con todas las organizaciones y todos los documentos del país.

PROTOCOLO X

La fuerza de las cosas en política.- La genialidad de la bajeza .- Lo que promete el golpe de Estado Franc-Masónico.- El Sufragio Universal.- La estima de sí mismo.- Los jefes de los Franc-Masones.- El guía genial de la Masonería.- Las Instituciones y sus funciones.- El veneno del Liberalismo. La Constitución, escuela de disensiones de partidos.- La Era Republicana.- Los Presidentes, hechuras de Masonería.- Responsabilidad de los Presidentes.- El Panamá. El papel de la cámara de los diputados y del Presidente.- La Franc-Masonería, fuerza legislativa.- La nueva Constitución Republicana.- Tránsito a la Autocracia Franc-Masónica. - Momento de la proclamación del rey universal. - Inoculación de enfermedades y otros crímenes de la Franc-Masonería.

Empiezo hoy por repetir lo que ya os he dicho, rogándoos recordéis que los gobiernos y los pueblos no ven sino la apariencia de las cosas. y ¿cómo podrían desentrañar su sentido íntimo cuando sus representantes no sueñan sino en divertirse? Mucho importa para nuestra plática conocer este detalle, pues, nos servirá de mucho cuando lleguemos a tratar y discutir sobre la división del poder, la libertad de palabra, de prensa, de conciencia, el derecho de asociación, de la igualdad ante la ley, la inviolabilidad de la propiedad y domicilio, los impuestos y la retroactividad. Todas estas cuestiones son tales que nunca es necesario tratarlas ante el pueblo directamente y abiertamente. En los casos en que sea preciso tocarlas, no hay que enumerarlas, sino declarar en globo que los principios del derecho moderno son reconocidos por nosotros. La importancia de esta reticencia consiste en que un principio que no se nombre, nos deja en libertad de excluir esto o aquello, sin que nadie lo advierta, mientras que, si los enumeramos tenemos, que aceptarlos sin reservas.

El pueblo siente un amor particular y una grande estimación por los genios políticos y responde a todos sus actos de violencia con estas o parecidas palabras: . Es un canalla, pero qué listo!...; Esto es el colmo de la habilidad! . Qué golpe más bien dado. ¡Pero qué bribón!

Nosotros contamos con atraer a todas las naciones para la construcción de un nuevo edificio fundamental del que tenemos ya proyectado el plan. He aquí por qué, ante todo, tenemos necesidad de hacer provisión de esta audacia y fuerza de espíritu que en la persona de nuestros actores han de destruir todos los obstáculos que se oponen a nuestro paso. Una vez dado nuestro golpe de estado diremos a los pueblos: Todo iba horriblemente mal; todos hemos tenido que sufrir por una causa o por otra; esto era ya insoportable. Hemos destruido las causas de vuestros sufrimientos, las nacionalidades, las fronteras, la diversidad de monedas. Indudablemente que sois muy libres de jurarnos obediencia o no; ¿pero podéis hacerlo con justicia si lo hacéis antes de experimentar lo que os hemos dado?... Entonces nos exaltarán y llevarán en triunfo con un entusiasmo unánime, y lleno de esperanzas. El sufragio universal, del que hemos hecho el instrumento de nuestra entronización, y al que hemos acostumbrado a los más insignificantes iniciados que forman parte de la colectividad humana, por medio de reuniones, de grupos y de alianzas, representará por última vez su papel expresando el voto unánime de la humanidad de conocernos antes de juzgarnos. Para esto es necesario arrastrar a todo el mundo hacia el sufragio universal, sin distinción de clases y sin censos electorales, para establecer así el absolutismo de las mayorías que no se puede obtener de las clases de contribuyentes y pensantes.

Una vez acostumbrado el mundo de esta manera a la idea de su propio valer, queda destruida la importancia de la familia cristiana y las trascendencias que tiene en la educación y no permitiremos que surjan personalidades a las que las turbas, dirigidas por nosotros, no permitirán que se destaquen ni siquiera que levanten la voz; las multitudes están acostumbradas a no escuchar sino a nosotros, que les pagamos su obediencia y su atención. De esta suerte haremos del pueblo una fuerza tan ciega, que no habrá en el Estado ninguno que esté dispuesto a hacer cualquier movimiento sino bajo la dirección de los agentes que nosotros pongamos para que los dirijan como jefes. El pueblo se someterá a esta dirección, pues sabe bien que de esos nuevos jefes dependen las ganancias, las gratuitas recompensas y toda clase de bienes. Un plan de gobierno debe ser proyectado por un solo hombre, pues resultaría incoherente si muchos talentos se distribuyen la tarea de formarlo. Así, nosotros podemos conocer un plan de acción; pero no debemos discutirlo para no romper su carácter peculiar, la trabazón de sus partes, la fuerza práctica y la significación oculta de cada uno de sus puntos. Que el sufragio universal lo discuta y lo manosee, por decirlo así, y esto sólo bastará para que adquiera el carácter de todas las falsas concepciones de inteligencias que no penetran la profundidad y el enlace de los pensamientos. Sean nuestros planes sólidos y bien concebidos como es necesario. Por eso no debemos arrojar las producciones de talento de nuestros jefes a los pies de las multitudes, ni abandonarlas tampoco en manos de sociedades de cortos alcances. Estos planes no destruirán por lo pronto las instituciones modernas. Solamente modificarán su economía, y en consecuencia, todo su desarrollo que se orientará de conformidad con nuestros proyectos. Casi en todas las naciones existen las mismas cosas, aunque tal vez con distintos nombres: la Representación, los Ministerios, el Senado, el Consejo de Estado, el Cuerpo Legislativo y el Cuerpo Ejecutivo. No tengo necesidad de explicaros el mecanismo de las relaciones de estas instituciones entre sí, porque os es bien conocido; notad solamente que cada una de estas instituciones corresponde a una función importante del Estado, y os ruego que toméis también en consideración que es la función y no la institución la que yo llamo importante, no son, pues, las instituciones las que son de importancia, sino sus funciones.

Las instituciones se han distribuido entre sí todas las funciones del gobierno: funciones administrativas, legislativas y ejecutivas. De esta manera, las instituciones desempeñan en el organismo del Estado un papel semejante al de los órganos en el cuerpo humano. Si nosotros trastornamos una parte de la máquina del Estado, éste caerá enfermo como el cuerpo humano, y morirá. Después de haber inoculado en el organismo del Estado el veneno del Liberalismo, toda su constitución se ha trastornado; los estados están enfermos de una enfermedad mortal, la descomposición de la sangre; no queda ya más que esperar que el término de su agonía. Del Liberalismo han nacido los gobiernos constitucionales que han reemplazado entre los Cristianos a una saludable autocracia, y la constitución, como sabéis vosotros, no es más que una escuela de desórdenes, de malas inteligencias, de discusiones, de disputas, de agitaciones estériles de partidos; en una palabra, es la escuela de todo aquello que hace a un Estado perder su personalidad e individualidad.

La tribuna lo mismo que la prensa, ha condenado a los gobiernos a la inacción y a la debilidad y los han hecho poco necesarios, inútiles, lo que fácilmente explica que sean derribados. La era republicana ha llegado así a ser posible; hemos reemplazado el gobierno por una caricatura de gobierno, por un presidente que sacamos de la multitud, de entre los miles de hechuras y esclavos nuestros. Allí está el fondo de la mina cavada por nosotros bajo el suelo de los pueblos cristianos. En porvenir no lejano, crearemos la responsabilidad de los presidentes. Entonces, sin molestarnos, provocaremos acontecimientos de los que nuestra creación impersonal tendrá que responder. ¿Qué nos importa si las filas de los que aspiran al poder se van aclarando, si surgen dificultades capaces de desorganizar completamente una nación?. En previsión de este resultado, fraguaremos la elección de presidentes que tengan en su pasado alguna mancha infamante oculta, algún Panamá. El temor a las revelaciones y al escándalo y el deseo de todo hombre que llega al poder de conservar sus privilegios y los honores que consigo lleva el puesto, los convertirán en fieles ejecutores de nuestras órdenes. La Cámara de Diputados encubrirá, defenderá, elegirá a los presidentes; pero le quitaremos el derecho de iniciar leyes y de modificarlas: este derecho se le adjudicará al presidente, que no será sino un juguete en nuestras manos. El poder del gobierno vendrá a ser blanco de todos los ataques. Nosotros le daremos el derecho de apelar a la decisión del pueblo, sin tener que acudir a la intervención de sus representantes, la Cámara; es decir: el derecho de recurrir a nuestro servidor ciego e incondicional: la mayoría. Además, daremos al presidente el derecho de declarar la guerra. Fundaremos este último derecho alegando que el presidente, como jefe de todo el ejército de la nación, debe tenerlo a su disposición para defender la nueva constitución republicana, de la que él, el presidente, es el representante responsable. En estas condiciones el Jefe del Santuario (la llave de la situación) estará en nuestras manos y nadie, excepto nosotros, podrá encauzar la fuerza legislativa. Retiraremos además a la Cámara, al implantar la nueva Constitución, el derecho de interpelación, bajo el pretexto de que ese derecho es contrario a la salvaguardia del secreto político. Igualmente restringiremos por la nueva Constitución el número de representantes al minimum, lo que producirá el efecto de disminuir un tanto las pasiones políticas y la pasión por la política. Si, contra lo que esperamos, esas pasiones políticas se despertaran aún en ese corto número de representantes, lo reduciremos a nada, por medio de un llamamiento a la mayoría del pueblo. Dependerán del Presidente los nombramientos de presidente y vicepresidente de la Cámara y del Senado. En lugar de sesiones parlamentarias permanentes, limitaremos las sesiones a unos meses. Además el Presidente, como jefe del poder ejecutivo, tendrá el derecho de convocar o disolver el parlamento, y en este último caso, el de aplazar el momento para una nueva convocatoria. Pero, para que las consecuencias de todos estos actos, realmente ilegales, no recaigan sobre la responsabilidad establecida por nosotros del presidente, en lo relativo a nuestros planes, sugeriremos a los ministros y demás funcionarios que rodean al Presidente la idea de sobrepasar las disposiciones de éste, con sus propias medidas, de tal manera que ellos (los ministros) vengan a resultar los responsables. Aconsejamos encomendar esta actuación, principalmente, al Senado o al Consejo de Estado o de Ministros, más bien que a un solo individuo. El Presidente interpretará conforme a nuestros deseos las leyes existentes que sean susceptibles de distintas interpretaciones; las anulará cuando le demos la necesidad de hacerlo; tendrá derecho de proponer leyes provisionales, y aun nuevo cambio de Constitución, con pretexto del bien supremo del Estado. Estas medidas nos darían el medio de destruir poco a poco y paso a paso todo aquello que en el momento de posesionarnos del poder nos hayamos visto obligados a incluir en las Constituciones de los pueblos; por este medio pasaremos insensiblemente a la supresión de toda Constitución cuando llegue la ocasión y el momento de agrupar todos los gobiernos bajo nuestra autocracia. El reconocimiento de ella puede llegar antes de la supresión de la Constitución, si los pueblos, cansados de tantos desórdenes y de la frivolidad de sus gobernantes dan en gritar. Echadlos y dadnos un rey universal que pueda unirnos y acabar con las causas de nuestras discordias: las fronteras internacionales, las religiones, los cálculos e intereses de Estado: un rey que nos dé esta paz, esta tranquilidad que no podemos alcanzar con nuestros gobernantes y representantes. Sabéis muy bien vosotros que para que estos deseos se realicen es necesario perturbar constantemente en todos los pueblos las relaciones entre ellos y sus gobiernos, con el propósito de cansar a todo el mundo con la desunión, la enemistad, el odio, y aun con el martirio, el hambre, la propagación de enfermedades y la miseria para que los Cristianos no encuentren otra salvación que la de recurrir a nuestra plena y absoluta soberanía. Si damos a los pueblos una tregua para respirar, tal vez el momento favorable no llegará jamás.

PROTOCOLO XI

El programa de la nueva Constitución.- Algunos pormenores del golpe de Estado proyectado.- Los Cristianos, rebaño de borregos.- La Franc-Masonería secreta y sus logias de apariencia.

El Consejo de Estado tiene por objeto hacer destacar el poder del gobierno: bajo la apariencia de un cuerpolegislativo, será en realidad un comité de redacción de las leyes y de los decretos del gobierno. He aquí el Programa de la nueva Constitución que preparamos: Crearemos la Ley, el derecho y el tribunal.- 1), bajo la forma de proposiciones al Cuerpo Legislativo. 2), por medio de decretos presidenciales, por actas del Senado y por resoluciones del Consejo de Estado, bajo la forma de órdenes ministeriales; 3), en caso de que se juzgue oportuno, por medio del golpe de estado. Una vez que de manera aproximada dejemos establecido este modus vivendi, tratemos algo más detalladamente de las medidas que nos servirán para acabar la transformación del Estado en el sentido de que ya hemos hablado. Pretendo hablar de la libertad de la prensa, del derecho de asociación, de la libertad de conciencia, del principio electivo, y de otras muchas cosas que deberán desaparecer del repertorio humano, o al menos alterarse radicalmente, tan luego como la nueva Constitución se haya promulgado. Entonces será cuando nos sea posible promulgar todas nuestras leyes al mismo tiempo. Después, cualquier cambio sensible sería perjudicial por esta razón: si la modificación se opera en el sentido de la severidad y del rigor, puede causar la desesperación provocada por el temor de nuevos cambios en el mismo sentido; si, por el contrario, es en el sentido de mayores complacencias, se dirá que hemos reconocido nuestros errores, y esto debilitará el prestigio de la infalibilidad de nuestro gobierno, o bien se dirá que hemos tenido temor y nos vimos obligados a hacer concesiones, que nadie nos agradecerá ni a nadie obligarán con nosotros. Ambas cosas perjudican el prestigio de la nueva Constitución. Queremos que desde el día de su promulgación, cuando los pueblos estén aún estupefactos por el golpe de estado que hemos de dar, cuando estén aún invadidos por el terror y perplejos, en ese preciso momento reconozcan que somos tan fuertes, tan invulnerables, tan poderosos, que no contaremos con ellos para nada; que no solamente no atenderemos sus opiniones y pareceres, sino que estamos dispuestos y a punto de reprimir toda expresión, toda manifestación de estos deseos y de estas opiniones, con una autoridad indiscutible; que de un solo golpe nos hemos adueñado de todo lo que nos era necesario y que en ningún caso estamos dispuestos a compartir nuestro poder con ellos... Entonces cerrarán los ojos y dejarán venir los acontecimientos... Los Cristianos son un rebaño de carneros y nosotros somos para ellos los lobos. Y ¿ya sabéis lo que sucede a los corderos cuando el lobo llega a penetrar en el redil? Cerrarán aún los ojos, sobre todo, por las promesas que les haremos de volverles todas las libertades que les hemos arrebatado, cuando los enemigos de la paz se hayan calmado y los partidos queden reducidos a la impotencia. ¡Por supuesto que los Cristianos podrán esperar sentados la vuelta del pasado!... ¿Para qué habíamos de inventar e inspirar a los Cristianos toda esta política sin darles los medios de conocerla a fondo, sino para poder emprender en secreto lo que nuestra raza dispersa no podía intentar directa y abiertamente? Esto nos ha servido de base para nuestra organización de la Franc-Masonería secreta, que no es conocida y cuyos designios ni aunquiera sospechan los imbéciles Cristianos, alistados por nosotros en el ejército visible de las logias para distraer las miradas de los hermanos. Dios nos ha dado a nosotros, su pueblo elegido, la dispersión, y en esta debilidad de nuestra raza radica nuestra fuerza que hoy nos conduce al solio de un reino universal. Poco es lo que nos falta edificar sobre estos cimientos.

PROTOCOLO XII

Interpretación masónica de la palabra Libertad.- Porvenir de la prensa en el reinado de los Franc-Masones.- El control de la prensa. Argucias de corresponsales.- Lo que es el progreso para los Franc-Masones.- Su solidaridad en la prensa moderna.- Exageración de las exigencias sociales.- Infalibilidad del nuevo régimen.

La palabra Libertad, que se puede definir de distintas maneras, nosotros la definiremos así: Libertad es el derecho que cada uno tiene de hacer lo que permite la ley. Tal interpretación de esta palabra en estos tiempos hará que toda la libertad esté en nuestras manos, porque las leyes destruirán o crearán lo que nos agrade, conforme al programa expuesto más arriba. Con la prensa obraremos de la manera siguiente: ¿Qué papel desempeña la prensa en la actualidad? Ella sirve para encender las pasiones o mantener el egoísmo de los partidos. La prensa es banal, injusta, aduladora, y los hombres, en su gran mayoría, no comprenden bien para qué sirve. Nosotros la domaremos y la enfrenaremos con fuertes riendas, y otro tanto haremos con las demás obras impresas, porque ¿de qué nos serviría desembarazarnos de la prensa y del periódico si hemos de ser el blanco de los ataques del libro y del folleto? Transformaremos la publicidad, que bastante caro nos ha costado hasta ahora, censurando los periódicos y convirtiéndolos en una fuente de ingresos para el Estado. Crearemos un impuesto especial para la prensa. Al fundarse un periódico, o al establecerse una imprenta, exigiremos una participación. Con esta medida quedará garantizado nuestro gobierno de todo ataque por parte de la prensa. En ocasiones, aun sin mérito para ello, impondremos multas. Estampillas, participaciones y multas producirán un buen ingreso al Estado. Es verdad que los periódicos de los partidos podrían soportar estas pérdidas pecuniarias, pero los suprimiremos a la segunda vez que nos ataquen. Nadie osará tocar impunemente la aureola de nuestra infalibilidad gubernamental. El pretexto para suprimir un periódico podrá ser, por ejemplo, que el órgano en cuestión agita los ánimos sin razón ni motivo. Fijaos bien, os ruego, en que entre aquellos periódicos que nos atacarán, habrá algunos creados por nosotros mismos; pero éstos dirigirán sus tiros exclusivamente a aquellos puntos en los que nosotros deseamos algún cambio. Nada se dará a conocer a las sociedades fuera de nuestro control. Ya desde ahora hemos obtenido este resultado por el hecho de que todas las noticias se reciben por nuestras agencias, en las que esas noticias de todo el mundo vienen a centralizarse. Estas agencias entonces serán exclusivamente nuestras y no publicarán sino lo que nosotros les ordenemos. Si ya desde ahora nos hemos podido adueñar de las inteligencias en las sociedades cristianas, a tal grado que casi todos los hombres ven los acontecimientos mundiales solamente a través de las lentes de color que ponemos delante de los ojos; si desde ahora no hay ya para nosotros cerradura que nos impida apoderarnos de lo que los Cristianos torpemente llaman Secreto de estado, ¿qué será cuando seamos los dueños reconocidos como tales del mundo, en la persona de nuestro rey universal? Cualquiera que desee ser editor, librero, bibliotecario, publicista o impresor, tendrá la obligación de obtener un diploma o credencial que, en caso de que su dueño llegara a hacerse reo de cualquier delito, será inmediatamente recogida. Con estas medidas, el instrumento del pensamiento y de las ideas vendrá a ser un medio educativo en manos de nuestro gobierno, que no permitirá a las masas populares fantasear acerca de los beneficios del progreso. ¿Quién de nosotros ignora que estos beneficios ilusorios conducen a absurdos desvaríos? Estos desvaríos han dado origen a las relaciones anárquicas de los hombres entre sí y con el poder, porque el progreso ha traído las ideas de toda clase de libertades desenfrenadas... Todos aquellos a quienes damos el nombre de liberales son anarquistas, si no de hecho, a lo menos de pensamiento. Todos y cada uno de ellos van persiguiendo la libertad y caen en la anarquía, protestando por el simple placer de protestar. Volvamos a la prensa. La abrumaremos, lo mismo que a los demás impresos, con impuestos en sellos o estampillas a tanto por hoja, y con fianzas: los libros que tengan menos de treinta hojas, pagarán doble impuesto. A éstos, los registraremos en la categoría de folletos; por una parte, a fin de reducir el número de revistas, que son el veneno más peligroso, y por otra, porque esta medida obligará a los escritores a producir obras extensas que serán poco leídas, principalmente por su alto precio. Por el contrario, lo que nosotros editemos para el bien moral, dentro de las tendencias que estableceremos, se venderá barato y será leído por todos. Los impuestos acallarán el vano deseo de escribir, y el temor del castigo someterá a los literatos bajo nuestra autoridad. Si hay personas que intenten escribir contra nosotros, no se encontrará quien quiera imprimir sus obras. Antes de aceptar alguna para su impresión, el editor o impresor tendrá que dirigirse a las autoridades para obtener el permiso respectivo. De este modo nosotros conoceremos anticipadamente los lazos que se nos tiendan y los destruiremos con las explicaciones previas que hagan el caso. La literatura y el periodismo son dos fuerzas educadoras de la mayor importancia; por esto nuestro gobierno será el propietario del mayor número de periódicos. Por esta misma razón, también, la influencia nociva de la prensa privada será neutralizada y adquiriremos una influencia moral enorme. Si autorizamos diez periódicos privados, fundaremos treinta de los nuestros. Todos los periódicos editados por nosotros serán aparentemente de tendencias y opiniones las más opuestas, lo que despertará la confianza en ellos y les atraerá a nuestros adversarios sin recelos ; caerán en el lazo y resultarán inofensivos. Los órganos de carácter oficial estarán en primera línea. Vigilarán siempre nuestros intereses y esta razón hace que su influencia sea casi nula. En la segunda fila estarán los oficiosos, cuyo papel será atraer a los indiferentes y a los tibios. En tercera fila colocaremos a nuestra pretendida oposición. Un órgano, cuando menos, será el antípoda de nuestras ideas. Nuestros contrarios tomarán en este pseudo opositor por un aliado suyo y nos descubrirá su juego. Representarán nuestros periódicos todas las tendencias: las aristocráticas unos, las republicanas otros, igualmente las revolucionarias y aun las anarquistas; pero esto, naturalmente se entiende, mientras esté en vigor la Constitución. Como el dios Wichnou de cien manos, cada una de ellas acelerará el cambio de la sociedad; esas manos guiarán la opinión en el sentido que convenga a nuestros intereses, porque un hombre que vive en un medio demasiado agitado, pierde la facultad de razonar y se abandona fácilmente a la sugestión. Los imbéciles que creerán repetir la opinión del periódico de su partido, no harán otra cosa que repetir y expresar nuestra opinión o aquello que nos agrada. Se harán la ilusión de seguir las opiniones del periódico de su partido, y en realidad seguirán la bandera que nosotros enarbolaremos para que vayan tras ella. Para dirigir en este sentido nuestro ejército de periodistas desarrollaremos un cuidado especial en la organización de esta obra. Bajo el nombre de Oficina central de la prensa organizaremos reuniones literarias en las que nuestros agentes, sin dejarlo conocer, darán la palabra de orden y las señales. Discutiendo y objetando nuestras iniciativas de una manera superficial, y sin llegar al fondo de las cuestiones, nuestros órganos entablarán polémica con los periódicos oficiales para proporcionarnos el medio de hacer declaraciones más francas sobre puntos en los que no hayamos podido ser más explícitos en nuestras primeras declaraciones oficiales. Estos ataques tendrán, además, otro fin muy importante: nuestros súbditos se creerán con las necesarias garantías para poder hablar libremente y esto, por otra parte, dará a nuestros agentes ocasión para afirmar que los órganos que se declaran contra nosotros no hacen otra cosa que charlar, supuesto que no pueden presentar razones de peso para refutar seriamente nuestras medidas y disposiciones. Estos procedimientos inadvertidos por la opinión pública, pero seguros, nos atraerán seguramente la atención y la confianza del público. Merced a ellos encenderemos o calmaremos los ánimos en las cuestiones políticas; los persuadiremos o los desconcertaremos publicando unas veces la verdad, otras la mentira; ya confirmando los hechos o rectificándolos, según la impresión que sea necesario provocar en el público, pero siempre tanteando el terreno antes de asentar en él el pie... Venceremos a nuestros adversarios infaliblemente, porque ellos no tendrán a su disposición periódicos en los que puedan emitir sus ideas hasta llegar al fin de una polémica, en virtud de las providencias tomadas por nosotros, de las que ya antes tratamos. En cambio, nosotros no tendremos necesidad de refutarlos seriamente. En nuestros periódicos oficiales refutaremos enérgicamente los artículos que, como globos exploradores, lanzaremos en nuestros órganos clasificados en la tercera categoría, cuando sea necesario. Ya desde ahora, en las filas del periodismo francés, por lo menos, existe una solidaridad Franc-Masónica. Todos los órganos de la prensa están ligados entre sí por el secreto profesional: a semejanza de los antiguos augures, ninguno de sus miembros dejará escapar el secreto de sus conocimientos, a menos que reciba la orden de quien puede dársela. Ningún periodista se resolverá a traicionar este secreto, porque nadie es admitido a este gremio si no tiene en su vida pasada alguna tacha vergonzosa e infamante; y estas notas infamantes, al punto que se cometa la traición, serían reveladas. Mientras que esas infamias ocultas son el secreto de algunos, la aureola del periodista atrae la opinión de la mayoría del pueblo, que los sigue con entusiasmo. Nuestros cálculos y proyectos se extienden no sólo a las grandes capitales, sino también a las provincias. Es necesario que también en ellas excitemos esperanzas y aspiraciones opuestas a las que excitemos en la capital, a la que inspiraremos las esperanzas y aspiraciones espontáneas de las provincias. Claro es que la fuente de unas y de otras será siempre la misma, es decir, nosotros. Mientras no tengamos por completo el poder en nuestras manos, muchas veces tendremos necesidad de que las capitales sean arrolladas por la opinión de las provincias, esto es, de las mayorías manejadas por nuestros agentes. Es preciso que las capitales, en el momento psicológico, no discutan los acontecimientos por el solo hecho de haberlos aceptado la mayoría de las provincias. Al entrar en el nuevo régimen que preparará nuestro reinado, no podemos admitir que la prensa haga pública la criminalidad: precisa hacer creer que el nuevo régimen tiene a todos de tal manera satisfechos, que aun los crímenes han desaparecido. Los casos que puedan poner de manifiesto esa criminalidad, quedarán ignorados de todos, si no es de sus víctimas, de sus autores y de los testigos accidentales.

PROTOCOLO XIII

La necesidad del pan de cada día.- Las cuestiones políticas.-Las cuestiones industriales.- Las casas públicas.- La verdad es una.- Los grandes problemas.-

La necesidad del pan de cada día hace a los Goim (los Cristianos) callar, y los convierte en nuestros humildes servidores. Los agentes, sacados de entre ellos por nuestra prensa, discutirán bajo nuestras órdenes todo aquello que nos sería molesto publicar directamente en documentos oficiales, y nosotros, entretanto, aprovechando el ruido provocado por estas discusiones, tomaremos las medidas que juzguemos convenientes y las presentaremos al público como un hecho consumado. Nadie tendrá el atrevimiento de reclamar la anulación de lo que se haya decidido, tanto más que esto será presentado como un progreso. La prensa, por otra parte, llamará la atención hacia otras nuevas cuestiones; ya hemos acostumbrado a los hombres a esto, como sabéis, a buscar siempre novedades. Algunos imbéciles, creyéndose instrumentos del DESTINO, se lanzarán sobre estas nuevas cuestiones, en las que no entienden palabra de lo que intentan discutir. Las cuestiones políticas no son asequibles a nadie, sino a los que han creado la misma política y desde hace siglos la vienen dirigiendo. Por aquí veréis que sondeando la opinión de las multitudes no hacemos más que facilitar la realización de nuestros designios y podéis notar que simulamos buscar la aprobación no de nuestras acciones, sino de nuestras palabras pronunciadas en tal o cual ocasión. Continuamente estamos proclamando que en todas nuestras providencias y disposiciones no tenemos más norte ni más guía que la esperanza unida a la certeza de ser útiles al bien común. Para distraer a los hombres demasiado inquietos de las cuestiones políticas les pondremos delante las pretendidas nuevas cuestiones industriales. Que desahoguen sus furias sobre estos nuevos temas. Las masas consentirán en permanecer inactivas y en descansar de su pretendida actividad política (a que nosotros mismos las hemos acostumbrado para luchar por medio de sus intermediarios con los gobiernos de los Cristianos) bajo la condición de tener nueva ocupación; nosotros les señalaremos casi la misma dirección política. Con el objeto de que no lleguen a nada por medio de la reflexión, les distraeremos de pensar en cosas serias por medio de las diversiones, de los juegos, de los pasatiempos, de las satisfacciones de las pasiones, de las casas públicas... Muy pronto propondremos por medio de la prensa concursos de arte, de belleza, de sport..., de todo. Estas futilidades alejarán definitivamente los ánimos de ciertas cuestiones en las que nos sería molesto entrar en lucha con ellas. Los hombres cada día pierden más la costumbre de pensar por sí mismos y acabarán por hablar haciendo coro a nuestras ideas, porque seremos los únicos que fijemos rumbos al pensamiento..., por mediación de personas tales que, ya se comprende, no se creerá que somos solidarios de ellas. El papel de los utopistas liberales acabará definitivamente cuando nuestro gobierno sea reconocido. Hasta entonces, nos prestarán un buen servicio. Por eso todavía ahora seguimos impulsando y estimulando a las inteligencias a inventar toda clase de teorías fantásticas, nuevas y que dan en llamar progresistas, porque hemos trastornado la cabeza a esos imbéciles Cristianos con éxito completo por medio de esa palabreja: PROGRESO, y no existe entre ellos uno solo que vea que tras de esta palabra se oculta un error en todos los casos en que se trate de inventos materiales, pues LA VERDAD ES UNA Y NO SABE NI PUEDE PROGRESAR. EL PROGRESO, COMO UNA IDEA FALSA, SIRVE PARA OSCURECER LA VERDAD, A FIN DE QUE NADIE LA CONOZCA FUERA DE NOSOTROS, LOS ELEGIDOS POR DIOS, LOS DEPOSITARIOS DE LA VERDAD Cuando llegue nuestro reinado, nuestros oradores disertarán acerca de los grandes problemas que han conmovido a la humanidad para traerla finalmente bajo nuestro dominio. ¿Quién podrá entonces poner en duda que todos esos grandes problemas fueron planteados por nosotros, siguiendo un plan político que nadie pudo adivinar ni sospechar siquiera en el transcurso de tantos siglos?.

PROTOCOLO XIV

La Religión del porvenir.- La esclavitud futura.- Imposibilidad de conocer los misterios la Religión del porvenir.- La Pornografía y el porvenir de la palabra impresa.

Al advenimiento de nuestro reinado no reconoceremos la existencia de ninguna religión fuera de la de nuestro Dios único, con el que nuestros destinos están ligados íntimamente, porque somos el Pueblo Escogido, por el cual este mismo destino está unido a los de todo el mundo. Por esto tenemos que destruir todas las creencias. Si éstas han podido dar origen al Ateísmo contemporáneo, este estado transitorio no perjudica nuestros objetivos, sino que servirá de ejemplo a las generaciones que oirán nuestras predicaciones sobre la Religión Mosaica, cuyo sistema estoico y perfectamente concebido nos ha dado por resultado la conquista de todos los pueblos de la tierra

. Haremos ver así su verdad mística en la que podemos decir descansa toda su fuerza educadora. Publicaremos entonces en todas las ocasiones artículos en los que haremos comparación de nuestro benéfico gobierno con los del pasado. Los errores de los gobiernos de los Cristianos serán pintados con los más vivos colores. Tanto horror y repugnancia hacia ellos provocaremos, que los pueblos preferirán el descanso de la esclavitud a los famosos derechos de la Libertad que por tanto tiempo los trajeron atormentados y los privaron hasta de los medios necesarios de subsistencia; que los hicieron ser explotados por una turba de aventureros, sin poder siquiera saber qué era lo que hacían... Los cambios inútiles de gobierno, a los que continuamente empujábamos a los Cristianos, mientras minábamos sus instituciones, dejarán de tal manera cansados a los pueblos en esta época, que más querrán soportar cualquier cosa de nuestra parte que correr de nuevo el riesgo de nuevas agitaciones. Haremos notar especialmente los errores de los gobernantes que figuran en la historia, que sin haber producido un verdadero bien a la humanidad, torturaron durante tantos siglos a los pueblos para correr en pos de ilusorios bienes sociales, sin darse cuenta de que sus proyectos en vez de mejorar las relaciones de la vida humana las empeoraban. Nuestros filósofos discutirán todas las deficiencias de las creencias cristianas; pero nadie jamás podrá discutir nuestra religión desde su verdadero punto de vista, porque nadie la conocerá en su fondo, a excepción de nuestros sabios, que nunca ni por nada osarán revelar sus secretos. En los pueblos que se tienen por adelantados, crearemos una literatura obscena, lúbrica, abominable. La fomentaremos todavía por algún tiempo antes de nuestra llegada al poder, para hacer resaltar el contraste entre nuestros discursos y programas y aquellas torpezas y obscenidades. Nuestros sabios, educados para gobernar a los Cristianos, compondrán discursos, memorias, proyectos que nos darán el necesario influjo sobre las inteligencias y nos permitirán encauzar sus actividades hacia las ideas y conocimientos que queramos imponerles.

PROTOCOLO XV

Golpe de estado mundial en un solo día.- Las sentencias de muerte.- La futura suerte de los Franc-Masones.- Carácter místico del poder.- Multiplicación de las logias masónicas.- El gobierno central de los sabios.- Al asunto Azeff.- La Franc-Masonería, guía de todas las sociedades secretas.- Importancia del éxito público.- El colectivismo.- Las víctimas.- Sentencias de muerte de los Franc-Masones.- Desprestigio de las leyes y de la autoridad.- La predestinación.- Brevedad y claridad de las leyes del futuro reino.- Obediencia a la autoridad.- Medidas contra el abuso del poder.- Crueldad en los castigos.- Límite de edad para los jueces.- El liberalismo de los jueces y del poder.- El dinero del mundo.- Absolutismo de la Masonería.- Derecho de Casación.- Aspecto patriarcal del futuro gobierno.- Deificación del mismo.- El derecho del más fuerte, derecho único. - El rey de Israel, patriarca del Mundo.

Cuando al fin comencemos a reinar con la ayuda de golpes de estado preparados en todas partes para el mismo día, después de la confesión definitiva de la nulidad de todos los gobiernos existentes (y para que esto llegue pasará todavía algún tiempo, tal vez un siglo), impediremos que se conspire contra nosotros. Para ello condenaremos a muerte a todos aquellos que acojan nuestro advenimiento al poder con las armas en la mano. Toda creación de una nueva sociedad secreta, sea la que fuere, será castigada con la pena de muerte. Las que existen ahora y que nos son conocidas, quedarán igualmente abolidas, no obstante que nos han servido y tienen aún que servirnos, y serán desterradas a los continentes más lejanos de Europa. Esta es la conducta que habremos de seguir con los Franc-Masones Cristianos que saben demasiado; a los que perdonemos por cualquier razón, los mantendremos bajo un perpetuo terror del destierro. Promulgaremos una ley, según la cual, todos los antiguos miembros de sociedades secretas deberán abandonar a Europa, centro de nuestro gobierno. Las resoluciones de nuestro gobierno serán definitivas y sin que quepa apelación contra ellas. En las sociedades cristianas en las que hemos sembrado tan profundas raíces de discusiones y protestas, no se puede restablecer el orden, sino por medidas muy severas y que manifiesten un poder inflexible; es inútil tomar en cuenta el número de víctimas que caigan en vista del bien que de tales castigos ha de resultar. El deber de todo gobierno que tiene conciencia de su personalidad y de su ser es no solamente gozar de los privilegios, sino cumplir los deberes que como gobierno tiene y procurar el bien común, aunque sea a costa de enormes sacrificios. Para que un gobierno sea verdaderamente fuerte, inmovible, es necesario que haga brillar el prestigio de su poder, lo que no se obtiene sino por la inflexibilidad majestuosa de su fuerza, que ha de llevar consigo las señales de la inviolabilidad mística de la elección divina. Tal era hasta hace poco tiempo la autocracia rusa, que constituía nuestro único enemigo serio en el mundo con el Pontificado de la Iglesia Católica. Recordad el ejemplo de Italia inundada de sangre, que no tocó, sin embargo, un solo cabello de la cabeza de Sila que tanta de esa sangre había derramado. Sila, a los ojos del pueblo, era como un Dios por su poder; y, a su audaz regreso a Italia, ese pueblo martirizado por él, lo deificó, lo hizo intocable... Así el pueblo no se atreve a tocar a quien ha sabido hipnotizarlo por su valor y su fuerza de voluntad. Mientras llega el tiempo de nuestra dominación, crearemos y multiplicaremos las logias masónicas en todos los países del mundo. atraeremos a ellas a todos los que son y pueden ser agentes aptos. Estas logias formarán nuestro principal centro de enseñanzas y el medio mejor de nuestra influencia y difusión de nuestras actividades. Concentraremos todas esas logias en un gobierno solamente conocido por nuestros sabios. Las logias tendrán su representante, detrás del cual quedará oculto el gobierno de que hablamos, y ese representante será el que dé la palabra de orden y el programa. Formaremos en esas logias el núcleo de todos los elementos revolucionarios y liberales. En su composición caben como elementos todas las clases sociales. Los proyectos políticos más secretos nos serán conocidos y caerán bajo nuestra dirección aun antes que aparezcan. En el número de miembros de esas logias estarán casi todos los agentes de policía nacional e internacional (como sucedió en el asunto Azeff), pues sus servicios son insustituibles para nosotros; la policía puede no solamente tomar providencias contra los recalcitrantes, sino también encubrir y solapar nuestros actos, crear pretextos de descontento, etc... Los que ingresan en las sociedades secretas, de ordinario son los ambiciosos, los aventureros, y en general, hombres ligeros en su mayor parte, con los cuales no tendremos dificultad para ponernos de acuerdo para la realización de nuestros proyectos. Si se producen desórdenes, esto será indicio de que tenemos necesidad de provocarlos para destruir una solidaridad excesiva. Si surge algún complot en su seno, al que hay que señalar como verdadero autor no hay que ir a buscarlo sino entre nuestros más fieles servidores. Es natural que sea alguno de nosotros, pues nadie más que nosotros manejamos los asuntos de la masonería, porque sabemos a dónde vamos, conocemos el objetivo final de toda acción, mientras que los Cristianos nada saben, ni aun del resultado inmediato; ordinariamente se contentan con un éxito momentáneo de amor propio en la ejecución de sus planes, sin fijarse siquiera en que esos planes no se deben a su iniciativa, sino que les fueron sugeridos por nosotros. Los Cristianos entran en las logias por curiosidad, o si no, con la esperanza de que ello les sirva para poder obtener un puesto en el banquete del presupuesto público; algunos, para tener oportunidad de poder expresar públicamente sus sueños irrealizables que no pasan de desvaríos; están sedientos de la emoción que produce el éxito, y acarrear los aplausos, cosas de que nunca nos mostramos parcos ni avaros. También les proporcionamos éxitos, para aprovecharnos de la satisfacción que sienten de sí mismos, la que a la vez nos proporciona la facilidad de que estos hombres acepten nuestras sugerencias sin recelo ni precaución alguna y enteramente convencidos de que expresan sus propias ideas y de que son incapaces de apropiarse las de otros... No podéis imaginaros cómo se puede llevar a los Cristianos más inteligentes hasta la más inconsciente simplicidad a condición de dejarlos satisfechos de sí mismos y al mismo tiempo, cuán fácil es desanimarlos con el más insignificante fracaso, aunque no sea sino negándoles el aplauso, y lo fácil que es someterlos a la más servil obediencia a fin de obtener un nuevo éxito... Mientras los nuestros tienen en poco el éxito con tal que logren realizar sus designios, los Cristianos están prontos a sacrificar todos sus proyectos a cambio de un éxito ruidoso. Esta psicología nos facilita notablemente el trabajo de dirigirlos. Tigres en apariencia, tienen almas de cordero y sus cabezas están completamente vacías. Les hemos dado como distintivo bufonesco el sueño o desvarío de la absorción de la individualidad humana por la unidad simbólica del colectivismo; y ellos no han comprendido, ni comprenderán en mucho tiempo, que esta bufonada es una violación evidente de la más importante de las leyes de la naturaleza, que creó después del primer día de la creación, cada ser distinto de los demás, precisamente para que su distinción afirmara su individualidad. El que nosotros hayamos podido inducirlos a aceptar ciegamente esta necedad ¿no prueba con evidencia palpable hasta qué punto su inteligencia es inferior a la nuestra? Esta circunstancia es la principal garantía de nuestros éxitos. ¿Con qué claridad vieron las cosas nuestros sabios al decir que para llegar a nuestro fin no debíamos detenernos ante los medios ni contar el número de víctimas sacrificadas!

¡NOSOTROS NO HEMOS CONTADO A LOS IMBÉCILES CRISTIANOS Y AUNQUE HAYAMOS SACRIFICADO A MUCHOS DE LOS NUESTROS, HEMOS DADO SOBRE ESTA TIERRA A NUESTRO PUEBLO UN PODER QUE JAMAS SE HABRÍA ATREVIDO A SOÑAR!

Las víctimas, relativamente pocas de los nuestros, lo han salvado de su ruina. La muerte es el fin inevitable de todos. Mejor es acelerar el fin de aquellos que ponen obstáculos a nuestra obra, que no el de nosotros que somos los que a esa obra hemos dado el ser. A los Franc-Masones les damos muerte de manera que nadie, excepto sus hermanos, ni aun las mismas víctimas, pueden sospechar de su condenación; todos mueren. cuando es necesario, como de una enfermedad natural... Sabiendo esto, ni la hermandad misma se atreve a protestar. Estas medidas han desterrado y extirpado de la masonería todo germen de protesta. A pesar de que a los Cristianos predicamos el liberalismo, a nuestro pueblo y a nuestros agentes los tenemos bajo una obediencia absoluta. Gracias a nuestra influencia, la ejecución de las leyes de los Cristianos ha quedado reducida al mínimo. El prestigio de la ley está minado por las interpretaciones liberales que nosotros hemos introducido. En las causas y cuestiones políticas y de principios, los tribunales deciden como nosotros les ordenamos; ven las cosas a la luz que nosotros les presentamos. Para todo esto nos servimos, como intermediarios, de personas con las que nadie cree que tenemos nada de común; nos servimos de la opinión, de la prensa y de otros medios. Los senadores mismos y la administración superior aceptan ciegamente nuestros consejos. La inteligencia netamente animal de los Cristianos es incapaz de análisis y observación, y más todavía, de prever hasta dónde puede llegar una cierta manera de presentar las cuestiones. En esta diferencia de aptitudes que hay entre nosotros y los Cristianos para pensar, se puede ver claramente el sello de nuestra elección y la marca de nuestra humanidad. La inteligencia de los Cristianos es instintiva, animal. Ellos ven, mas no prevén ni inventan (excepto cosas materiales). Por aquí se ve claramente que la naturaleza misma nos tiene destinados a dirigir y gobernar el mundo. Llegado el tiempo que gobernemos abiertamente y que mostremos al pueblo los beneficios de nuestro gobierno, compraremos todas las legislaciones: nuestras leyes serán breves, claras, sólidas, sin comentarios y tales que todos las pueden conocer. La nota sobresaliente de ellas será la obediencia a las autoridades llevada a un grado sumo. Entonces desaparecerán todos los abusos como consecuencia de la responsabilidad de todos, hasta el último, ante la autoridad superior del representante del poder. Los abusos de autoridad de los funcionarios inferiores serán castigados con tal severidad, que a nadie le quedarán deseos de ensayar sus propias fuerzas. Seguiremos con ojo vigilante cada acto de la administración de que depende el mecanismo de la máquina de gobierno, pues el libertinaje en el gobierno produce el libertinaje en todas las clases. Todo caso de ilegalidad y todo abuso será castigado de manera ejemplar. El encubrimiento, la complicidad solidaria entre los funcionarios, desaparecerán con los primeros ejemplos de un castigo riguroso. El prestigio de nuestro gobierno exige castigos eficaces, es decir, crueles, por la menor infracción de las leyes. pues toda infracción es un atentado al alto prestigio de la autoridad. El que resulte condenado será indefectiblemente castigado por su delito; será como el soldado caído en el campo de batalla gubernativo, por la autoridad, los principios y las leyes que no toleran que los intereses privados especulen con los cargos públicos, ni aun tratándose de los que guían el carro de la Sociedad. Nuestros jueces sabrán que si buscan el elogio de una imprudente blandura, violan la ley de la Justicia que ha sido instituida para ordenar a los hombres por medio del castigo de los delitos, y no para que el juez haga ostentación de la bondad de su alma. Es permitido hacer esas manifestaciones de bondad y de estas cualidades en la vida privada, pero no en el campo de la vida pública, que es como la base y fundamento de la educación de la vida humana. Nuestro personal judicial no prestará servicios pasados los cincuenta años de edad, pues los ancianos son más obstinados en sostener sus opiniones preconcebidas y están menos dispuestos a obedecer las nuevas ordenanzas, y en segundo lugar, porque esto nos permitirá más fácilmente renovar el personal, que así nos será más sumiso: quien quiera conservar su empleo, deberá obedecer ciegamente para merecer este favor. Generalmente, nuestros jueces serán escogidos exclusivamente por nosotros entre aquellos que comprendan que su papel es el de castigar y aplicar leyes; no el de hacer ostentación de liberalismo con detrimento del Estado, como lo hacen al presente los Cristianos. Los cambios de personal servirán también para afirmar la solidaridad de los colegas y los tendrán a todos más estrechamente ligados a los intereses del gobierno del que depende su suerte. La nueva generación de jueces será educada de tal manera que considerará inadmisibles los abusos que puedan atacar el orden establecido en las relaciones de nuestros súbditos entre sí. Hoy, los jueces Cristianos, no teniendo una idea exacta de su deber, se manifiestan indulgentes con todos los crímenes, porque los actuales gobernantes, al nombrar para este cargo a los jueces, no tienen cuidado de inspirarles el sentimiento de ese deber y la conciencia de la labor que su cargo exige. Así como los animales hacen salir a su prole en busca de la presa, los Cristianos confían a sus súbditos estos puestos proporcionándoles una buena renta, sin preocuparse de hacerles comprender el fin para que tales cargos han sido establecidos. Por eso los gobiernos se destruyen a sí mismos con sus propias fuerzas y con los actos de su administración. Saquemos, pues, del resultado ya conocido de estos actos una lección más para nuestro gobierno. Desterraremos el liberalismo de todos los cargos importantes de nuestra administración; de esto dependerá la educación de nuestros subordinados con relación al orden social. A esos cargos serán admitidos solamente los que hayan sido educados para ellos por nosotros. Se nos podrá objetar que el retiro de los funcionarios ocasionará fuertes gastos al Erario. Respondemos desde luego que previamente se les proporcionará un empleo particular para compensarlos del que se les quita en la administración pública; y en segundo lugar, que estando en manos de nuestro gobierno todo el dinero del mundo, éste no teme los gastos excesivos. Nuestro absolutismo será consecuente en todo. Por esta razón nuestra poderosa voluntad será respetada y ejecutada sin objeción alguna siempre que ordenemos. No tendrá ella en cuenta murmuraciones ni descontentos; cualquier rebeldía será reprimida con castigos ejemplares. El derecho de casación quedará abolido, sin que nadie, sino nosotros, los gobernantes, pueda recurrir a él, porque no debemos permitir que nazca en el pueblo la idea de que haya podido dictarse una sentencia injusta por jueces que han sido nombrados por nosotros. Si algo de esto llegase alguna vez a suceder, nosotros mismos casaremos la sentencia; pero aplicando al mismo tiempo al juez un castigo tan ejemplar, por no haber sabido comprender su deber y su cargo, que semejantes casos no se repetirán. Una vez más insisto en que nosotros tendremos conocimiento de todos los pasos de nuestra administración, que basta vigilar para que el pueblo esté contento de nosotros, porque hay derecho de exigir a un buen gobierno buenos funcionarios. Nuestro gobierno tendrá, por su parte, cierta semejanza con una tutela patriarcal o paternal. Nuestro pueblo y nuestros súbditos verán en él un padre que conoce a fondo todas las necesidades, todos los actos, todas las relaciones de sus súbditos entre sí y con el gobierno. Con esto, los súbditos se penetrarán de tal manera del pensamiento de que es imposible evadir esta tutela y dirección, si quieren gozar de paz y de tranquilidad, que reconocerán la autocracia de nuestro gobierno con un respeto que toque en adoración, principalmente cuando se convenzan de que nuestros funcionarios no deben al pueblo el cargo que desempeñan y en desempeñarlo no hacen más que cumplir ciegamente las leyes. Quedarán contentos nuestros súbditos de que hayamos reglamentado todo en su vida social, como lo hacen los padres prudentes que quieren educar a sus hijos en el sentimiento del deber y de la obediencia. Pues, los pueblos con relación a nuestra política, y sus secretos, son hijos menores eternamente, como ahora lo son los actuales gobiernos. Como veis, yo establezco como base de nuestro despotismo el derecho

y el deber: el derecho de exigir el cumplimiento del deber, es el primer deber de un gobierno, que es un padre para sus súbditos. El tiene el derecho del más fuerte, y debe usar de él para dirigir a la humanidad hacia el orden establecido por la naturaleza, hacia la obediencia. En el mundo todo obedece, excepto el hombre, a lo menos a las circunstancias, o a su propia naturaleza, o al más fuerte en todo caso. Seamos, pues, EL MAS FUERTE en atención al bien. Debemos saber sacrificar sin vacilaciones a los individuos aislados, violadores del orden establecido, porque hay una gran fuerza educadora en el castigo ejemplar del mal. Si el rey de Israel pone sobre su frente la corona que le ofrecerá Europa, él será el patriarca del mundo. Las víctimas necesariamente sacrificadas por él para que pudiera llegar a este trono, no igualarán jamás en número, a los sacrificados durante tantos siglos de locura y de grandezas por la rivalidad de los príncipes y gobiernos cristianos. Nuestro rey estará en contacto constante con el pueblo; le dirigirá la palabra desde la tribuna, y la ya citada oficina central de noticias difundirá simultáneamente su palabra por todo el mundo.

PROTOCOLO XVI

Las universidades inofensivas.- El Clasicismo sustituido.- La educación y la profesión.- Reclame de la autoridad del gobierno en las escuelas.- Abolición de la enseñanza libre.- Las nuevas teorías.- La independencia del pensamiento.- Enseñanza por imágenes.

Con el fin de destruir todas las fuerzas colectivas, excepto las nuestras, suprimiremos las universidades, primera etapa del colectivismo, y fundaremos otras con un espíritu nuevo. Sus jefes y profesores serán preparados secretamente en su labor, por programas de acción secretos y minuciosos, sin poder apartarse de ellos en ningún punto. Serán nombrados con especial prudencia y en todo dependerán del gobierno. Excluiremos de la enseñanza el Derecho Cívico, así como todo lo demás que tenga relación con las cuestiones políticas. Estas materias serán enseñadas a unas cuantas decenas de individuos seleccionados en virtud de sus aptitudes sobresalientes. Las universidades no deben dejar salir de sus aulas a esos picos de oro forjadores de constituciones como si compusieran comedias o tragedias y que se ocupan en cuestiones políticas de las que ni sus padres comprendieron jamás una palabra. El falso conocimiento que tienen los hombres de esta materia, las más veces ha dado origen a los utopistas y a los malos ciudadanos: a vuestra vista está lo que la educación general de hoy ha hecho de los Cristianos. Hemos tenido necesidad de inyectar en su educación todos esos principios que tan brillantemente nos han servido para debilitar su orden social. Pero una vez que nos hayamos adueñado del poder, proscribiremos de la educación todas las materias de enseñanza que pueden traer el desorden, y haremos de los jóvenes, niños obedientes a las autoridades y amantes de los que gobiernan, como un apoyo y una esperanza de paz y de tranquilidad. Reemplazaremos el Clasicismo, haciendo otro tanto con el estudio de la historia antigua que presenta más ejemplos malos que buenos para el estudio del programa del porvenir. Borraremos de la memoria de los hombres todos los acontecimientos de los siglos pasados que no nos son gratos, no conservando sino los que dan a conocer las faltas de los gobiernos cristianos. La vida práctica, el orden social natural, las relaciones de los hombres entre sí, la obligación de evitar los malos ejemplos del egoísmo, que siembran la semilla del mal, y otras cuestiones semejantes de carácter pedagógico quedarán en la primera línea del programa del porvenir, en la enseñanza de cada profesión, que según ella sea, será distinto, y que no generalizará la enseñanza bajo cualquier pretexto. Esta forma de plantear la cuestión tiene una importancia particular. Cada clase social debe ser educada dentro de los límites precisos, de conformidad con el destino y el trabajo que le son propios. Los genios potentes siempre han sabido y sabrán deslizarse entre las otras clases; pero dejar entrar en clase extraña a los que pueden considerarse como valores negativos, permitirles usurpar el lugar que correspondería a otros por el nacimiento y la profesión al igual que a esos mismos genios excepcionales, es una verdadera locura. Vosotros sabéis qué consecuencias ha tenido para los Cristianos este absurdo manifiesto. Para que el gobierno tenga el lugar que le corresponde en los corazones y el ánimo de sus súbditos, es necesario que mientras dure se le enseñe al pueblo en las escuelas y en las plazas públicas la importancia del gobierno y cuáles son sus deberes, y en qué cosas su actividad puede contribuir al bienestar del mismo pueblo. Aboliremos toda enseñanza libre. Los estudiantes tendrán el derecho de unirse con sus padres en los establecimientos escolares, como se acostumbra hacerlo en los clubs y en los días de fiesta, los profesores darán conferencias, de las llamadas libres, acerca de las relaciones de los hombres entre sí; sobre las leyes de la imitación; sobre los malos resultados de la competencia ilimitada; en fin, sobre filosofía de las nuevas teorías que el mundo todavía no conoce. Haremos de estas teorías un dogma y nos serviremos de ellas para atraer a los hombres a nuestra fe. Al terminar la exposición de nuestro programa de acción en el presente y en lo futuro, os expondré las bases de esas teorías. En una palabra, sabiendo por la experiencia de muchos siglos, que los hombres viven y se dirigen por las ideas; que éstas no les son inculcadas sino por la educación impartida con igual resultado a todas las edades con procedimientos diferentes, entiéndase bien: nosotros adoptaremos y nos asimilaremos en provecho nuestro los últimos resplandores o destellos del pensamiento independiente que desde tiempo atrás venimos dirigiendo hacia las materias e ideas que nos son necesarias. El sistema de represión del pensamiento ya está en vigor en el método llamado Enseñanza por medio de la imagen, que debe transformar a los Cristianos en animales dóciles, que no piensen, que necesiten la representación por las imágenes para comprenderlas... En Francia, uno de nuestros mejores agentes, Bourgeois, ha divulgado el nuevo programa de educación por medio de la imagen.

PROTOCOLO XVII

El Foro.- Influencia de los sacerdotes cristianos.- La libertad de conciencia.- El rey de los Judíos, Patriarca y Pontífice.- Medios de lucha entre la Iglesia existente.- Problemas de la prensa contemporánea.- Organización de la policía.- La policía voluntaria.- El espionaje conforme al modelo judío.- Los abusos del poder.

El Foro ha producido hombres crueles, fríos, testarudos, sin principios, que se colocan siempre en un terreno impersonal netamente legal. Se proponen a todo trance la defensa y no el bien social. De ordinario no rehusan defensa alguna tratando de obtener la más alta recompensa por su labor y aferrándose a las argucias de la jurisprudencia: esto es, lo que ha desmoralizado a los tribunales. Por todo esto, permitiendo esta profesión dentro de ciertos límites, haremos a sus miembros funcionarios ejecutivos. A los abogados, lo mismo que a los jueces, se les privará del derecho de comunicarse con los litigantes: recibirán las causas del tribunal; las estudiarán según las memorias y los documentos de los relatos judiciales, defendiendo a sus clientes conforme a los interrogatorios del tribunal, una vez que esté terminado el esclarecimiento de los hechos. Los honorarios que percibirán serán independientes de la calidad de la defensa. De esta manera tendremos una defensa honesta e imparcial, dirigida no por el interés, sino por la convicción. Esto suprimirá también la corrupción actual de los asesores, a los que no consentiremos más que en el caso que aquel que pague sea el que gane una causa. Hemos tenido buen cuidado de desacreditar la clase de los sacerdotes cristianos y de desorganizar por este medio su ministerio, que mucho podría en la actualidad perjudicarnos. Su influencia sobre los pueblos decrece más cada día. La libertad de conciencia está hoy proclamada en todas partes. Por lo tanto, sólo algunos años tendremos que esperar para ver la ruina completa de la religión Cristiana; lograremos aún más fácilmente la completa extinción de las demás religiones; pero es demasiado pronto para hablar de ello. Al clericalismo y a los clericales los meteremos dentro de marcos tan estrechos, que su influencia será casi nula en relación con la que tuvieron en épocas pasadas. Pero, cuando los pueblos se echen encima de ellos asumiremos el papel de defensores para evitar el derramamiento de sangre. Por esta línea curva, penetraremos dentro de la fortaleza, y por nada la abandonaremos hasta arruinarla completamente. El rey de los judíos será el verdadero papa del universo, el patriarca de la Iglesia internacional. Pero mientras no hayamos educado a la juventud en las nuevas creencias de transición, y después en las nuestras, no tocaremos de una manera manifiesta a las iglesias cristianas existentes; pero lucharemos contra ellas por medio de la crítica, provocando las disensiones. En general, nuestra prensa contemporánea revelará los negocios de estado, las religiones, la ineptitud de los Cristianos, todo ello en términos los más indecentes para infamarlos de todas maneras, COMO EXCLUSIVAMENTE SABE HACERLO EL GENIO DE NUESTRA RAZA. Nuestro reinado será la apología del reinado de Vichnou, que es su símbolo: de nuestras cien manos cada una tendrá un resorte de la máquina social. Todo lo veremos sin la ayuda de la policía oficial, que tal como la hemos formado, en la actualidad no deja a los gobiernos cristianos que vean todo lo que sería necesario. Conforme a nuestro programa un grupo de terceras personas vigilará a los demás, y esto no por otro móvil que el sentimiento del deber y por servir al Estado voluntariamente. Entonces no se considerará deshonroso servir de espía y delator. sino algo digno de alabanza y premio; pero las delaciones mal fundadas serán cruelmente castigadas, para que no haya abusos en este sentido. Nuestros agentes serán sacados lo mismo de las altas clases sociales que de las bajas; de la burocracia que se divierte; de entre los editores, libreros, impresores, dependientes de comercio, obreros, cocheros, lacayos, etc. Esta policía desprovista de derechos, sin autorización para obrar por sí misma, y por lo tanto, sin poderes, no hará otra cosa sino servir de testigo y presentar sus denuncias: la comprobación de las denuncias y las aprehensiones dependerán de un grupo de Directores de los asuntos policíacos, las aprehensiones serán efectuadas por el cuerpo de gendarmes y por la policía municipal. El que no presente su informe o denuncia de lo que haya visto u oído, sobre cuestiones políticas, será considerado igualmente como culpable del delito de encubridor o como cómplice, lo mismo que si hubiera cometido ambos delitos. Del mismo modo que hoy nuestros hermanos están obligados bajo su responsabilidad, a denunciar ante la comunidad a los renegados o a toda persona que emprenda cualquier acción contraria a esa misma comunidad, así en nuestro reino universal será obligatorio para todos nuestros súbditos servir al Estado en esa misma forma. Esta organización destruirá los abusos de la fuerza, de la corrupción y todo aquello que nuestros consejos y nuestras teorías de los derechos del hombre han introducido en las costumbres de los Cristianos. Pero ¿cómo si no hubiéramos podido obtener que se multiplicaran los motivos de desorden en sus gobiernos? ¿Por qué otros medios más aptos? Ciertamente, uno de los más importantes son los agentes a cuyo cargo está la conservación y el restablecimiento del orden. A éstos hay que dejarlos en condiciones de que puedan manifestar y desarrollar sus malas inclinaciones y caprichos, de que abusen, en fin, de sus poderes, y al primer Jefe, aún de que pueda aceptar de vez en cuando sus vasos de vino.

PROTOCOLO XVIII

Medidas de seguridad.- Vigilancia sobre los conspiradores.- Una guardia invisible es la ruina del

poder.- La guardia del rey de los Judíos.- El prestigio místico del poder.- Prisión a la primera sospecha.

Cuando sea necesario aumentar las medidas de precaución por medio de la policía (que tanto desprestigian a los gobiernos), simularemos desórdenes y manifestaciones de descontento valiéndonos para ello de buenos oradores. Las personas que efectivamente alimenten sentimientos contrarios a nosotros, se unirán a aquellos que van desempeñando el papel que nosotros les hemos encomendado. Esto nos dará pie para autorizar pesquisas, cacheos y vigilancias especiales, para las que nos valdremos, como agentes, de los servidores que hayamos entresacado de la policía de los Cristianos. Como la mayoría de los conspiradores lo son por amor al arte, y por fanfarronada, no les causa remos daño alguno mientras no lleguen a vías de hecho; lo único que haremos será tenerlos bien vigilados. No hay que olvidar que el prestigio del poder se menoscaba si con frecuencia se descubren conspiraciones; esto implica una confesión de la impotencia del gobierno, o lo que es todavía peor, de la injusticia de su propia causa. Vosotros no ignoráis que el prestigio de los reyes y gobernantes cristianos lo hemos destruido nosotros por medio de frecuentes atentados cometidos por nuestros agentes, que no son sino estúpidos borregos de nuestro rebaño; es cosa agradable impulsar al crimen por medio de unas cuantas frasecillas de sabor liberal, con un tinte político. Obligaremos a los gobernantes a reconocer su impotencia por las medidas de seguridad que se verán obligados a tomar manifiestamente, y por este medio, aminoraremos el prestigio. Nuestro gobierno será custodiado por una guardia secreta, que casi nadie advertirá, porque no admitimos ni siquiera la idea de que pueda existir un partido o facción contrarios, que no esté en condiciones de combatir y que tuviera que cuidarse de ellos. Si admitimos esta idea, como lo hacen todavía los Cristianos, habríamos firmado una sentencia de muerte, si no la del soberano mismo, la de su dinastía en un porvenir no lejano. Según las apariencias rigurosamente observadas, nuestro gobierno no se servirá del poder sino para bien del pueblo, y no para provecho personal ni de su dinastía. Así, guardando esta conducta honrada y decorosa, su poder será honrado y respetado y defendido por sus mismos súbditos; se le adorará bajo la idea de que el bienestar de cada uno de los súbditos depende del orden y de la economía social... Cuidar al rey de una manera manifiesta y visible sería reconocer la debilidad de la organización del gobierno. Nuestro rey, cuando se encuentre en medio de sus súbditos, estará siempre rodeado de una multitud de hombres y mujeres que parecerán curiosos que ocupan las primeras filas cerca de él, por mera casualidad, y que detendrán las filas de los demás, como para evitar el desorden. Esto será un ejemplo de moderación. Si entre la multitud hubiere algún pretendiente que se empeñe en hacer llegar al soberano su petición, esforzándose por abrirse paso a través del pueblo, los que se encuentren en las primeras filas deberán tomar la solicitud del peticionario de sus manos y a su vista hacerlo llegar a las del soberano, para que todos sepan que llegó a su destino y para que al mismo tiempo comprendan que hay un control, algo que impide que cualquiera pueda llegar hasta él. Con la institución de una guardia oficial desaparece el prestigio místico del poder. Cualquier hombre dotado de cierta audacia se cree dueño del poder, el faccioso no desconoce su fuerza y acecha la ocasión de acometer cualquier atentado contra el poder. Cosa muy distinta decimos a los Cristianos en nuestro discurso. pero bien vemos cuáles han sido las consecuencias de las precauciones manifiestas y visibles. Arrestaremos a los criminales a la primera sospecha más o menos fundada: el temor de padecer un error, no debe ser motivo para darles facilidades de huida a individuos sospechosos de un delito o de un crimen político, crímenes y delitos para los que no tendremos consideración y debemos ser despiadados. Si se puede, forzando un poco el sentido de las cosas, aceptar el examen de motivos en los crímenes ordinarios, no puede haber excusa ninguna para tolerar que alguien se ocupe en cuestiones políticas que nadie, fuera del gobierno, puede entender. Ni aun todos los gobiernos actuales son capaces de entender la verdadera política.

PROTOCOLO XIX

El derecho de petición y de iniciativa.- Los Partidos.- Los crímenes políticos juzgados por los tribunales.- Publicidad para los crímenes políticos.

Si no admitimos que nadie se ocupe directamente en política, en cambio, estimularemos todo informe o toda iniciativa que invite al gobierno a mejorar la condición del pueblo; lo que nos dará oportunidad de ver los defectos o fantasías e ilusiones de nuestros súbditos, a los que responderemos o con la ejecución del proyecto de que se trate, o con una refutación sensata que ponga de manifiesto la capacidad de sus autores. Los partidos no son otra cosa que el ladrido de un perrito contra un elefante. Para un gobierno bien organizado, no desde el punto de vista policial, sino social, el perrillo ladra al elefante porque ignora el lugar que le corresponde y su valor. Basta demostrar con un buen ejemplo la importancia de cada uno, para que los perrillos dejen de ladrar y se dediquen a menear el rabo tan pronto como ven a los elefantes. Para despojar al crimen político del prestigio y la aureola del valor, llevaremos a los acusados por estos delitos al banquillo de los delincuentes vulgares, lo mismo que se lleva al ladrón, al asesino y a cualquier criminal despreciable. Entonces la opinión pública confundirá en su interior esta categoría de criminales políticos en la ignominia y vergüenza de los demás, y los castigará con igual menosprecio y repugnancia. Nos hemos propuesto, y creo que lo conseguiremos, impedir a los Cristianos el que puedan ellos combatir los crímenes políticos de esta manera. Con este propósito, por medio de la prensa, en discursos públicos y por los manuales de historia escritos conforme a nuestras miras, hemos hecho LA PUBLICIDAD DEL MARTIRIO, lo que será aceptado por los facciosos a causa del bien común. Tal reclamo ha aumentado los contingentes de liberales y a miles de Cristianos los ha alistado en nuestro ejército.

PROTOCOLO XX

estampillas.- Depósito de papeles, valores y estancamiento del dinero. - Inspección.- Abolición de la representación.- Estancamiento de capitales.- Emisión de dinero.- El cambio del oro.- El cambio del costo del trabajo o de jornal.- Los presupuestos.- Los empréstitos del Estado.- La serie de papel a uno por ciento de interés.- Los papeles industriales.- Los gobernantes de los Cristianos.- Los favoritos.- Los agentes de los Franc-Masones.

Hablaremos hoy del programa financiero, que he reservado para final de mi informe como el punto más difícil, culminante y decisivo de nuestros planes. Al tratar este punto, os recordaré lo que ya se dijo en otra ocasión: que el conjunto de nuestros actos se resuelve por una cuestión de cifras. Llegado el tiempo de nuestra dominación, nuestro gobierno, por su propia seguridad y conservación, evitará a toda costa sobrecargar a las masas populares con impuestos y no olvidará que su papel es el de padre y protector del pueblo. Pero, como la organización de un gobierno tiene un costo elevado, es necesario encontrar los medios adecuados para sostenerlo. Para esto es preciso ir buscando con todo cuidado el equilibrio financiero. En nuestro gobierno el rey tendrá el goce aparente de la propiedad legal de todo cuanto hay en su Estado (lo que es fácil ejecutar) y podrá, por lo tanto, recurrir a la confiscación de cualquier suma de dinero que juzgue necesaria para regularizar la circulación de moneda en su Estado. Por donde se ve que las contribuciones deberán consistir principalmente en un impuesto progresivo sobre la propiedad. De esta suerte, los impuestos serán aumentados sin molestia y sin arruinar, en una proporción de tanto por ciento en relación a la propiedad, y a lo que cada cual posea. Los ricos tendrán que comprender que su deber es poner a la disposición del Estado una parte de sus sobrantes, ya que él les da garantías y seguridades sobre el resto y el derecho de una ganancia honesta, y digo ganancia honesta, porque el control de la propiedad suprimirá todo robo legal. Esta reforma social debe venir de arriba y su tiempo ha llegado ya, pues se necesita como garantía de paz. La contribución que se exige a un pobre diablo es una semilla de revolución y es perjudicial para el Estado que pierde un provecho de consideración por ir en pos de ruines ingresos y beneficios. Sin tener esto en cuenta, todavía hay algo más: el impuesto a los capitalistas disminuirá el acrecentamiento de riquezas en manos de particulares, en las que han estado concentradas actualmente por nosotros, para contrarrestar la fuerza de los gobiernos de los Cristianos, a saber, las finanzas del Estado. Un impuesto progresivo producirá una renta mejor que el impuesto proporcional de la actualidad, que no nos sirve sino para provocar agitaciones y descontento entre los pueblos cristianos. La fuerza que debe servir de base a nuestro rey ha de ser el equilibrio y estabilidad de la paz. Es necesario que los capitalistas sacrifiquen una pequeña parte de sus rentas para asegurar el funcionamiento de la máquina del gobierno. Las necesidades del Estado, ellos son los que deben cubrir las, pues sus riquezas les permiten hacerlo sin grave molestia. Esta medida destruirá el odio del pobre contra el rico, en el que aquél verá una fuerza financiera Útil al Estado, sostén de la paz y prosperidad, porque no podrá menos de ver que es el rico el que sufraga los gastos necesarios para obtener estos bienes. Para que los contribuyentes de la clase pensante no reciban mayor disgusto por estos impuestos, se les dará cuenta del destino de esas sumas, exceptuando las que se distribuyan para las necesidades del trono y de las instituciones administrativas. La persona reinante no tendrá propiedad personal, puesto que todo lo que es del reino es de él, y habría una contradicción entre una y otra cosa: los recursos personales anularían el derecho de propiedad sobre las posesiones de todos. Los parientes de la persona real, excepto sus herederos, a quienes sostendrá el Estado, deben colocarse como servidores del mismo o trabajar para adquirir el derecho de propiedad: el privilegio de pertenecer a la familia real no debe servirles de pretexto para saquear el Tesoro público. La adquisición de una propiedad, la aceptación de una herencia, serán gravadas con un derecho progresivo de sellos o estampillas. La transmisión de una propiedad en dinero o de otra manera no declarada necesariamente nominal, será afectada de un impuesto de tanto por ciento, a cargo del anterior propietario desde el día de la transmisión hasta el día en que el fraude sea descubierto. Los títulos de traslación de dominio deberán ser presentados cada semana al fisco del lugar donde radique la propiedad, con la designación del nombre y apellidos de la familia y de los domicilios del nuevo y antiguo propietario. Este registro no se exigirá sino cuando se trate de excedentes de una determinada cantidad: los gastos ordinarios de compraventa de artículos necesarios, no serán gravados más que con un derecho mínimo por cada unidad. ¡Calculad cuánto sobrepasarán los productos de estas impuestos a las actuales rentas de los estados cristianos!. La caja de fondo del Estado deberá guardar cierto capital de reserva, y todo el sobrante de este capital deberá ser puesto en circulación. Con las reservas se organizarán trabajos públicos. Como éstos son pagados de los recursos del Estado, de allí provendrá que la clase obrera se sentirá fuertemente adherida a los intereses del Estado y a las personas reinantes. Una parte de esas reservas también se destinará al pago de primas por inventos y producción de artículos. Entonces, sobre esas cantidades fijadas y determinadas, ya no es necesario guardar una sola moneda en las cajas del Estado, pues el dinero se ha hecho para circular y todo estancamiento de dinero repercute en forma perjudicial sobre el funcionamiento del mecanismo del

Estado; la falta de lubricación puede entorpecer la marcha normal de ese mecanismo. La situación de una parte del dinero en valores en papel ha producido justamente tal estancamiento. Las consecuencias de este hecho se han dejado sentir bastante. Tendremos también un tribunal de cuentas, en el que el gobierno, en cualquier tiempo, tendrá a su disposición el estado detallado de los ingresos y pagos de la nación, excepto el correspondiente al mes en curso no terminado y el del mes precedente, no expedido aún. El único individuo que no tiene interés en saquear las cajas del Estado es su dueño, el gobernante. Por esto su control hará imposibles las pérdidas, las filtraciones y los desfalcos. La representación que roba un tiempo precioso a los gobernantes en recepciones y otros actos que exige la etiqueta, será suprimida, para que tenga tiempo para otros asuntos a fin de reflexionar sobre ellos y dominarlos. Su poder no quedará a merced de los favoritos que rodean el trono para darle mayor pompa y esplendor, pero que atienden más a sus propios intereses que a los del Estado. Las crisis económicas entre los Cristianos han sido promovidas por nosotros con el único fin de retirar la moneda de la circulación. Capitales enormes quedaban estancados sustrayendo la plata y el oro de los Estados, que se veían obligados a dirigirse a estos mismos que sustraían esos capitales para obtener oro y plata. Estos empréstitos gravaban las finanzas de las naciones por el pago de los intereses, los que esclavizaban al capital. La concentración de la industria en manos de los capitalistas que han dado muerte a la pequeña industria ha absorbido todas las fuerzas del pueblo y al mismo tiempo las del Estado. La emisión de moneda actualmente no está en general en proporción con el consumo por cabeza, y no puede, por lo mismo, satisfacer todas las necesidades de los obreros. La emisión de moneda debe estar en relación con el aumento de población, y es necesario que se tome en consideración a los niños, que consumen y cuestan desde que nacen. La revisión de la acuñación de moneda es una cuestión esencial para el mundo entero. Vosotros sabéis que el patrón oro fue perjudicial para los Estados que lo adoptaron, pues éste no puede dar abasto al consumo o gasto de moneda de plata, mucho menos, cuando nosotros retiramos de la circulación la mayor cantidad posible de oro. Debemos introducir una moneda creada sobre el trabajo, que sea de papel o de madera. Haremos una emisión de plata de acuerdo con las necesidades normales de cada individuo, aumentando esta cantidad a cada nacimiento y disminuyéndola a cada defunción. Todo departamento, todo distrito llevará sus cuentas con este objeto. Y para que no haya demoras en este envío de moneda argentífera para las necesidades del Estado, las cantidades y la fecha de su remisión deberán fijarse por medio de un decreto del gobierno, con lo que quedará anulada la protección del Ministerio de Hacienda, que no podrá favorecer a una región con perjuicio de otras. Estas reformas que proyectamos, las presentaremos de manera que no provoquen alarma. Demostraremos la necesidad que hay de ellas como consecuencia del fango en que han caído los desórdenes de los Cristianos en materia hacendaria. El primer desorden, diremos, consiste en que empiezan por establecer un simple presupuesto que va aumentando año por año; por esta sencilla razón se formula el presupuesto hasta la mitad del año; después se pide un presupuesto reformado que en tres meses es derrochado y todo acaba con un presupuesto de liquidación, y como el presupuesto del año siguiente es votado con arreglo al total del presupuesto general, y el déficit normal anual es de 50 por 100, el presupuesto anual se triplica cada diez años. Merced a estos procedimientos aceptados por la inconsciencia de los Estados cristianos, sus cajas se encuentran siempre vacías. Los empréstitos subsiguientes devoran el resto y llevan esos gobiernos a la bancarrota. Todo empréstito demuestra la debilidad del Estado y la incomprensión de sus derechos. Los empréstitos, como la espada de Damocles, están amenazando sobre la cabeza de los gobiernos, que en vez de tomar los que son únicamente necesarios de entre sus propios súbditos, mediante un impuesto provisional, acuden como mendigos con la mano extendida a implorar limosna a nuestros banqueros. Los empréstitos exteriores son las sanguijuelas que nunca pueden ya despegarse del cuerpo del Estado y que están chupando, si no caen por sí solas o si el Estado no las arroja radicalmente. Pero los Estados cristianos, lejos de arrancárselas, siguen aplicándoselas, aunque tengan que perecer a consecuencia de estas sangrías voluntarias. En realidad, ¿qué es por otra parte lo que representa un empréstito, especialmente si éste es exterior? El empréstito es la emisión de letras de cambio del gobierno conteniendo una obligación a cierto interés proporcional al monto del capital por el que se hace el empréstito. Si el empréstito está tasado al 50 por 100, en veinte años el Estado ha pagado sin utilidad ninguna un interés igual al empréstito; en cuarenta años, una suma doble; a los setenta, una triple, y la deuda queda siempre sin amortizar. Por aquí se verá que bajo la forma de un empréstito individual, el Estado toma hasta los últimos céntimos del pobre, invirtiéndolos en pagar a los ricos extranjeros de los que ha tomado prestado el dinero, en vez de ir acumulando sus riquezas para sus necesidades, sin pagar intereses. Si los empréstitos son interiores, los Cristianos no hacen otra cosa que traspasar el dinero de la bolsa del pobre a la caja de los ricos. Pero una vez que nosotros nos hemos ganado a las personas que nos eran necesarias para hacer que los empréstitos se traspasaran al exterior, todas las riquezas de los Estados pasaron a nuestras capas y todos los Cristianos quedaron reducidos a pagarnos este tributo de vasallaje. Si la ligereza de los gobernantes cristianos, en lo relativo a los negocios de Estado, si la corrupción de los ministros, o la ignorancia en materia hacendaria de otros gobiernos han abrumado a sus pueblos de deudas que no pueden reembolsar a nuestras cajas, debéis saber que esto también nos ha costado mucho dinero y grandes esfuerzos... Nosotros no permitiremos el estancamiento de la moneda, y así no habrá obligaciones sobre el Estado a excepción de una serie de obligaciones al 1 por 100, a fin de que el pago de intereses no entregue el poder del Estado a las sanguijuelas que lo chupan. El derecho de emisión de valores quedará reservado exclusivamente a las compañías industriales que pagarán sin dificultad los intereses con sus utilidades; mientras que el Estado no saca ningún provecho del dinero que se le presta, aunque el préstamo sea para gastar y no para hacer inversión alguna con él. Los papeles industriales serán comprados por el mismo gobierno, transformándose así de recaudador de impuestos en prestamista por cálculo. Esta providencia hará cesar el estancamiento del dinero, el parasitismo y la prensa que nos eran útiles, mientras los Cristianos eran independientes; pero que no son deseables una vez establecido nuestro gobierno. ¡Es evidente qué escasos de reflexión son los cerebros puramente animales de los Cristianos! Nos tomaban empréstitos con interés, sin reflexionar que debieran haber tomado ese dinero, aun con mayor interés, de las cajas de sus Estados para pagarnos a nosotros. ¿Qué cosa había más fácil que tomar el dinero que necesitaban de sus contribuyentes? Esto demuestra la absoluta superioridad de nuestra inteligencia que supo presentarles el negocio de los empréstitos bajo el aspecto de que eran ventajosos para ellos. Los cálculos que nosotros presentamos, esclarecidos a su tiempo con la enseñanza de la experiencia de muchos siglos, que los estados cristianos nos han dado en la materia, se distinguirán por su claridad y certeza, y demostrarán a todos hasta la evidencia la utilidad de nuestras reformas e innovaciones. Pondrán fin a los abusos, merced a los que hemos tenido bajo nuestro poder a los Cristianos, abusos que ya no podrán admitirse en nuestro gobierno. Estableceremos también nuestro sistema de contabilidad, por el que ni el más insignificante funcionario podrá distraer de su objeto la más pequeña suma, sin que ello sea advertido, ni aun darle siquiera otro destino del que tiene indicado siempre en nuestro plan de acción. Es imposible gobernar sin un plan definido. Hasta los héroes, que siguen un camino determinado pero sin ciertas reservas, al fin perecen en él. Los gobernantes cristianos, a los que en otras ocasiones hemos aconsejado que se distrajeran de los negocios de Estado, por medio de las recepciones diplomáticas y de etiqueta y demás diversiones, no eran más que biombos y pantallas tras de los cuales actuaba nuestro gobierno.

Los informes de los favoritos que los reemplazaban en el despacho de los negocios les eran suministrados por nuestros agentes y dejaban siempre satisfechas sus obtusas inteligencias con las promesas para el porvenir de economías y mejoramientos. Pero economías ¿de qué?, ¿de nuevos empréstitos?. Esto hubieran podido preguntar y no lo preguntaban a aquellos que leían nuestras cuentas y nuestros proyectos. Bien sabéis hasta dónde los ha conducido semejante apatía y a qué desbarajuste económico han llegado, a cambio de la admirable actividad de sus pueblos.

PROTOCOLO XXI

Los empréstitos interiores.- El pasivo y los impuestos.- Las conversiones.- Cajas de ahorro y la renta.- Impresión de la Bolsa de valores públicos.- Tasación de valores industriales.

Agregaremos a lo que tratamos en la reunión precedente una explicación detallada de los empréstitos interiores. Sobre el empréstito interior nada nos queda por decir, sino que ellos llenaron nuestras arcas con el dinero de las naciones cristianas; pero para nuestro gobierno ya no habrá ningún extranjero, supuesto que todo el mundo será nuestro dominio, y por lo tanto, nada habrá que sea extraño a nuestro gobierno. La corrupción de los administradores y la desidia de los gobernantes las hemos aprovechado para recibir sumas dobles, triples y aun mayores, prestando a los gobiernos cristianos más de lo que sus Estados necesitan. ¿Quién podría decir cosa igual respecto de nosotros? Por esto voy a exponer detalladamente el punto relativo a los empréstitos interiores. Cuando se lanza un empréstito, los Estados abren una suscripción para la compra de las obligaciones o bonos del mismo. Para que estas obligaciones estén al alcance de todas las fortunas, se emiten cupones de 100 a 1.000 pesetas; al mismo tiempo se hace una rebaja a los primeros suscriptores. Al día siguiente hay un alza de precio artificial, motivada, según dicen, por el exceso de demanda de los bonos, pues todo el mundo se echa a buscarlos. Pocos días después se corre la voz de que las cajas del tesoro están atestadas de dinero y no se sabe ya dónde guardarlo (¿por qué, pues, seguir tomándolo?). La suscripción excede muchas veces la emisión del empréstito: ¡tan grande es la confianza que hay en las letras de cambio del gobierno! Pero cuando la comedia ha terminado, nos encontramos delante de un pasivo que acaba de contraerse, pasivo demasiado gravoso. Para el pago de los intereses es necesario recurrir a nuevos empréstitos que no absorben sino que aumentan la deuda principal. Una vez agotado el crédito, se necesita recurrir a nuevos impuestos, y éstos sirven no para cubrir el empréstito, es decir la deuda contraída, sino sólo para pagar los intereses del mismo. Resultando que estos impuestos son un pasivo empleado en cubrir el pasivo anterior... Viene después el tiempo de las conversiones que disminuyen solamente el pago de (o mejor dicho el monto) los intereses, pero sin amortizar la deuda, conversiones que, además, no pueden hacerse sin el consentimiento de los que cubrieron el empréstito, o sea los prestamistas. Al anunciarse una conversión, se ofrece devolver el dinero a los que no estén dispuestos a aceptarla. Si todos expresan su deseo de recobrar su dinero, el gobierno queda preso en sus propias redes y se encuentra imposibilitado de cumplir su oferta. Afortunadamente, los súbditos de los gobiernos cristianos, poco versados en negocios financieros, siempre han optado por sufrir la pérdida consiguiente a la baja de interés mejor que correr el riesgo de nuevas inversiones de su dinero, con lo que muchas veces han dado a los gobiernos las facilidades necesarias para poder descargarse de un pasivo de muchos millones. En la actualidad, con las deudas exteriores, los Cristianos no piensan en hacer nada semejante, sabiendo, como saben, que nosotros exigiremos todo nuestro dinero. Así una bancarrota manifiesta demostrará a las naciones la falta absoluta de unión entre los intereses de los pueblos y los gobiernos. Reclamo toda vuestra atención sobre este hecho y los que a continuación mencionaré. Hoy todos los empréstitos interiores están consolidados por las deudas llamadas flotantes, esto es, por deudas cuyo pago es más o menos cercano. Estas deudas están constituidas por el dinero colocado en las cajas de ahorro y en las cajas de reserva. Como estos fondos quedan por largo tiempo en manos de los gobiernos, se evaporan en el pago de intereses de los empréstitos exteriores, y en su lugar entra en las cajas una suma equivalente de depósito de la renta. Estos últimos son los que tapan los agujeros de las cajas del Estado entre los Cristianos. Cuando nosotros llegemos al poder, ocupando el trono del mundo, todos estos agujeros en la hacienda y las finanzas quedarán cubiertos, sin que quede de ellos ni el recuerdo, pues no es cosa que convenga a nuestros intereses; suprimiremos igualmente las Bolsas de Fondos Públicos, pues no consentiremos que el prestigio de nuestro poder se resienta por la fluctuación de precios de nuestros valores. Estos serán declarados por ley al precio de su valor completo sin fluctuación posible (el alza trae consigo la baja y así es como desde el principio de nuestra campaña hemos jugado nosotros con los valores de los Cristianos). Sustituiremos las Bolsas por grandes establecimientos de crédito especial cuyo objeto será tasar o cotizar los valores industriales según las miras del gobierno. Estos establecimientos estarán en condiciones de lanzar sobre el mercado quinientos millones de valores industriales por día. De esta manera todas las empresas industriales quedarán bajo nuestra dependencia. ¡Ya podéis imaginar el poder que conquistaremos por este medio!

PROTOCOLO XXII

El secreto del porvenir.- El mal secular base del bien futuro.- La aureola del poder y su adoración mística.

Con todo lo que hasta hoy llevo expuesto me he esforzado para mostraros el secreto de los acontecimientos pasados y presentes: ellos anuncian un porvenir próximo ya a realizarse. Os mostré el secreto de nuestras relaciones con los Cristianos y el de nuestras operaciones financieras. Poco queda que decir sobre este particular. Tenemos en nuestras manos la más grande fuerza moderna: el oro; podemos en dos días retirar nuestros depósitos en la proporción y cantidad que sea de nuestro agrado. ¿Será, pues, necesario todavía demostrar que nuestro gobierno está predestinado por Dios? Lo que no podremos probar por medio de esta enorme riqueza es que todo el mal que nos hemos visto obligados a causar durante tantos siglos ha servido finalmente al verdadero bien, a poner todo en orden... ¡He aquí la confusión de nociones de bien y de mal! El orden se restablecerá, en parte, por medio de la violencia, pero se restablecerá al fin. Sabemos probar que somos bienhechores de la humanidad; nosotros que hemos hecho al mundo torturado el verdadero bien de darle la libertad al individuo, que podrá gozar de descanso; la paz, la dignidad en las relaciones, a condición, entiéndase bien, de observar las leyes establecidas por nosotros. Explicaremos de paso que la libertad no es el libertinaje ni el derecho a la licencia; ni tampoco consiste la dignidad ni la fuerza, en el derecho de cada uno a proclamar principios subversivos y destructores, como el derecho de libertad de conciencia, de igualdad y otros semejantes, ni en modo alguno tampoco el derecho del individuo consiste en excitarse a sí mismo o excitar a otros haciendo alarde de talentos oratorios en asambleas tumultuosas. La verdadera libertad consiste en la inviolabilidad de la persona que observa honrada y exactamente todas las leyes de la vida en común; la dignidad en la conciencia de sus derechos y juntamente de sus deberes y de los derechos de que carece, y no sólo en el desarrollo ilusorio y fantástico del tema de su YO. Nuestro poder será glorioso porque será pujante; porque gobernará y dirigirá y no irá remolcado, por decirlo así, por líderes y oradores de los que a gritos lanzan palabras huecas y carentes de sentido que enfáticamente llaman grandes principios, y que no son otra cosa en realidad sino utopías. Nuestro poder será el árbitro del orden, que es el único que hace la felicidad de los pueblos, y de los hombres.

PROTOCOLO XXIII

Reducción de la producción de artículos de lujo.- La pequeña industria.- La huelga.- Prohibición de la embriaguez.- Condenación a muerte de la sociedad antigua y su resurrección en su nueva forma.- El elegido de Dios.

Para que los pueblos se acostumbren a la obediencia es necesario que se acostumbren a la modestia y disminuir, por consiguiente, los objetos de lujo disminuyendo su producción. Restableceremos la pequeña industria que dará el golpe a los capitales particulares de los fabricantes. Esto es aún necesario, porque los grandes industriales dirigen todavía, muchas veces sin saberlo, es cierto, el espíritu de las masas contra el gobierno. Un pueblo que fomenta las pequeñas industrias no sabe de huelgas; sino que vive apegado al orden establecido, y por lo mismo, también a la fuerza del poder. La huelga es algo muy perjudicial para un gobierno. Para nosotros su papel terminará tan pronto como el poder esté en nuestras manos. La embriaguez será igualmente prohibida por la ley y castigada como un crimen de lesa humanidad, pues los hombres que se embriagan se transforman en brutos bajo la influencia del alcohol. Los súbditos, lo repito una vez más, no obedecen ciegamente sino a una mano firme, completamente independiente de ellos en la que ven una espada para defenderlos y una defensa contra las calamidades sociales. ¿Qué necesidad tienen los súbditos de ver en su soberano un alma angelical? Lo que importa que vean en él es la personificación de la fuerza y del poder. El soberano que sustituya a los Gobiernos actuales que han venido arrastrando su existencia en medio de sociedades desmoralizadas por nosotros y que han arruinado aun el mismo poder de origen divino, y en cuyo seno. por todos lados se levanta el fuego de la anarquía; este soberano, antes que nada, tendrá que extinguir esta llama devoradora. He aquí la razón que le obligará a condenar a muerte esas sociedades: tendrá que ahogarlas en sangre para hacerlas luego resucitar bajo la forma de un ejército bien organizado que sepa luchar y combatir conscientemente contra toda infección que pudiera invadir el organismo del Estado. Este elegido de Dios es nombrado de lo alto para sujetar las fuerzas locas y desatinadas movidas por el instinto, no por la razón, por la bestialidad y no por la parte noble de la humanidad. Esas fuerzas triunfan ahora, roban, cometen toda clase de atentados, toda suerte de violencias, bajo el pretexto de la libertad y de los derechos. Ellas han destruido todo orden en la sociedad para levantar sobre estas ruinas el trono del rey de Israel; pero su papel terminará en el momento en que ese rey ascienda a su trono. Entonces hay que alejarlas de su camino en el que no debe quedar el menor obstáculo. Entonces podremos decir a los pueblos: Dad gracias a Dios y prosternaos delante del que lleva en su frente el sello de la predestinación hacia la que Dios mismo ha guiado su estrella para que nadie, excepto ese predestinado, pueda libraros de todas las fuerzas y de todos los males.

PROTOCOLO XXIV

Consolidación de la estirpe del rey David.- Preparación del rey.- Exclusión de los herederos directos.- El rey y sus tres mentores. - El rey-destino. - Intachabilidad de costumbres exteriores del rey de los israelitas. Pasaremos ahora a tratar de los medios de asegurar las raíces dinásticas del rey.

En esta obra nos guiarán los mismos principios que hasta ahora nos han suministrado nuestros sabios para la dirección de todos los negocios mundiales. Dirigiremos el pensamiento de toda la humanidad. Muchos miembros de la estirpe de David prepararán los reyes y sus herederos, escogiendo estos últimos, no según el derecho hereditario, sino teniendo en consideración sus cualidades sobresalientes; los iniciarán en los más ocultos secretos de la política; en los planes de gobierno, siempre bajo la condición de que nadie llegue a penetrar esos secretos. El objeto de esta manera de proceder es que todo el mundo sepa que el gobierno no puede ser puesto en otras manos sino en las de aquellos que están iniciados en los misterios del arte de gobernar. Sólo a estas personas se les enseñará la aplicación de los planes políticos, las enseñanzas de la experiencia de los siglos; todas nuestras observaciones sobre las leyes político-económicas y sobre ciencias sociales ; en una palabra, todo el espíritu de estas leyes que la naturaleza misma ha establecido como infalible para normalizar por ellas las relaciones de los hombres. Muchas veces los herederos directos serán excluidos del trono, si en el tiempo de sus estudios dan pruebas de ligereza, de dulzura de carácter y de otras de esas cualidades o defectos que son perjudiciales en el poder y que hacen ineptos a los hombres para gobernar y dañan la actuación propia de un jefe de Estado. Sólo a estas personas se les enseñará la aplicación de los fines firme e inflexiblemente, hasta cruelmente, si es necesario, y recibirán de manos de nuestros sabios las riendas del poder. En caso de alguna enfermedad que pudiera ser causa del debilitamiento de la voluntad, los reyes deberán, conforme a la ley, abdicar en otras manos que sean capaces de sostener con la firmeza necesaria las riendas del gobierno. Los planes de acción del rey, planes inmediatos que haya de trazar por razones imperativas de inmediata necesidad, sus planes más remotos todos quedarán ignorados aun de aquellos que se le asignen como primeros consejeros. Sólo el rey y sus tres mentores conocerán lo por venir. En la persona del rey, dueño de sí mismo y de la humanidad, gracias a una voluntad inquebrantable, todos creerán ver el destino con sus caminos desconocidos. Nadie sabrá qué es lo que el rey pretende como objeto de sus mandatos, y así tampoco nadie se atreverá a atravesársele en un camino que es para todos desconocido. Es necesario sobreentender que la inteligencia del soberano ha de corresponder al plan de gobierno que tiene encomendado. Por esto es que no subirá al trono sino después de haber dado pruebas satisfactorias de su capacidad a nuestros sabios de que ya hemos hablado. Para que el pueblo conozca y ame a su soberano, es necesario que trate al pueblo y se comunique con él en los lugares públicos. Esto producirá la unión necesaria entre las dos fuerzas que hasta hoy nosotros hemos conservado distanciadas por el mutuo terror. Este terror nos era absolutamente necesario en otro tiempo, para que estas dos fuerzas, separadamente, cayeran bajo nuestro poder e influencia. El rey de Israel no debe estar bajo el dominio de sus pasiones, especialmente bajo el de la voluptuosidad, ni debe, por alguna flaqueza de su carácter, dar lugar a que sus instintos animales se sobrepongan a su razón. La sensualidad obra de manera demasiado nociva sobre las facultades intelectuales y la clarividencia de las cosas, inclinándose hacia el lado peor y más bestial de la actividad humana. La columna de la humanidad en la persona de la semilla santa de David, debe sacrificar a su pueblo y por su bien, todos sus gustos personales. Nuestro soberano tiene que ser de una irreprochabilidad ejemplar. La fuerza ciega del pueblo no puede quedar un solo día sin tener quien la dirija, y el nuevo poder no hace otra cosa sino reemplazar al anterior debilitado por el Liberalismo. En nuestros días, el poder del oro ha reemplazado al poder de los gobiernos liberales. Hubo un tiempo en que la fe gobernaba. La idea de libertad es irrealizable, porque nadie hay que sepa usar de ella en su justa medida. Basta dejar al pueblo que por algún tiempo se gobierne a sí mismo, para que inmediatamente esta autonomía degenerare en libertinaje. Surgen al punto las discusiones, que se transforman luego en lucos de buenos sentimientos. Por esta razón hay que esperar mejores resultados cuando se gobierna a los hombres por medio de la violencia y el terror, que cuando se trata de gobernarles por medio de las discusiones académicas. Todo hombre aspira al poder; cada uno quisiera convertirse en dictador; si esto fuera posible al mismo tiempo, muy poco faltaría para que no estuvieran todos prontos a sacrificar el bien de los demás, a trueque de conseguir cada uno su propio provecho. ¿Qué es, pues, lo que ha reprimido hasta ahora a esa bestia feroz que se llama hombre? ¿Qué es lo que ha podido dirigirle hasta el presente? Al iniciarse el orden social, el hombre se ha sometido a la fuerza bruta y ciega; más tarde, a la Ley, que no es más que esa misma fuerza, pero disfrazada. De donde yo saco la conclusión que, según la Ley Natural, el derecho radica en la fuerza. La Libertad Política es una idea y no un hecho. Se necesita saber aplicar esta idea cuando es necesario atraer las masas populares a un partido con el cebo de una idea, si ese partido ha resuelto aplastar al contrario que se halla en el poder. Este problema resulta de fácil solución si el adversario se mantiene en el poder en virtud de la idea de libertad, de eso que se llama Liberalismo, y sacrifica un poco de su fuerza en obsequio de esa idea: Libertad. Y he aquí por dónde ha de llegar el triunfo de nuestra teoría: una vez que se aflojan las riendas del poder, inmediatamente son recogidas por otras manos, en virtud del instinto de conservación, porque la fuerza ciega del pueblo no puede quedar un solo día sin tener quien la dirija, y el nuevo poder no hace otra cosa sino reemplazar al anterior debilitado por el Liberalismo. En nuestros días, el poder del oro ha reemplazado al poder de los gobiernos liberales. Hubo un tiempo en que la fe gobernaba. La idea de libertad es irrealizable, porque nadie hay que sepa usar de ella en su justa medida. Basta dejar al pueblo que por algún tiempo se gobierne a sí mismo, para que inmediatamente esta autonomía degenera en libertinaje. Surgen al punto las discusiones, que se transforman luego en lucepararán los reyes y sus herederos, escogiendo estos últimos, no según el derecho hereditario, sino teniendo en consideración sus cualidades sobresalientes; los iniciarán en los más ocultos secretos de la política; en los planes de gobierno, siempre bajo la condición de que nadie llegue a penetrar esos secretos. 1140. No hay que ser caballo, para saber de carreras.

«Más vale oficio que renta: los bienes se pierden, y el oficio queda»

1141. Si hay trato, amigos pueden ser el perro y el gato.

1142. El hombre ha hecho de la Tierra un infierno para los animales.

1143. Un país se puede juzgar por la forma en que trata a sus animales.

1144. Los perros son buenos amigos; no hacen preguntas, y tampoco critican.

1145. A juicio de los gatos, las personas no son mas que muebles de sangre caliente.

«Ni arroyo sin piedras, ni oficio sin quiebra»

1146. El perro sabe, pero no sabe que sabe.

1147. El amor de un perro, es el único que se puede comprar con dinero.

1148. Dos cosas sorprendentes: la inteligencia de las bestias, y la bestialidad de los hombres.

1149. No me llames perro; no merezco tan alto calificativo; no soy tan honesto, fiel, ni leal; solo soy un ser humano.

1150. Los animales y la naturaleza son poca cosa para el hombre, cuando el hombre es poca cosa.

«Oficio, quita vicio»

1151. No me importa saber si un animal puede razonar. Solo se que es capaz de sufrir, y por ello lo considero mi prójimo.

1152. Tener compasión de todos los seres vivos, es lo que hace al hombre realmente humano.

1153. Si fuese cierto que el hombre común es un ser racional, no habría duda de que la conducta del peor de los hombres, sería mas ennoblecedora que la del perro [el mejor de los seres irracionales]. Pero la realidad es que, en esto último, hay graves y serias dudas.

1154. Quien vive sin disciplina, muere sin honor.

1155. Soy tan partidario de la disciplina del silencio, que podría estar horas hablando de ella.

«Quien sabe un oficio manual, lleva consigo un caudal»

1156. La indigestión es la encargada de predicar moral al estomago.

1157. La inmoralidad es como el sudor; no podemos escoger que ocurra en una parte de nuestro cuerpo, y no en el resto.

1158. Con la moral, corregimos los errores de nuestros instintos [animales]. Y con el amor [que se manifiesta en misericordia] los errores de nuestra moral.

1159. El sabio busca siempre el balance.

1195. Pedir perdón es de inteligentes, perdonar es de nobles, y perdonarse es de sabios.

«Nadie conoce la olla como el cucharón»

1196. No sirve de mucho la riqueza en el bolsillo, cuando hay pobreza en el corazón.

1197. Inscribe los agravios en el polvo; las palabras de bien, inscríbelas en el mármol.
1198. La mayor parte de los hombres son capaces mas bien de grandes acciones, que de buenas acciones.
1199. Es preferible fiarse del hombre que se equivoca a menudo, que de quien no duda nunca.
1200. Hay un remedio para las culpas, reconocerlas.

«Olla de familia rica, nunca chica»

1201. Siempre que haya un vacío en tu vida, llenalo con amor.
1202. Del mismo modo que no tenemos derecho a consumir riqueza sin producirla, tampoco lo tenemos a consumir felicidad sin producirla.
1203. No se debe juzgar al hombre por sus cualidades, sino por el uso que hace de ellas.
1204. De nada vale que se nos enseñe cual es nuestro deber, si no se nos hace amarlo.
1205. Las leyes [seculares] son como las telas de araña, a través de las cuales pasan libremente las moscas grandes, y quedan enredadas las pequeñas.

«Besando una boca, se olvida otra»

1206. Un hombre es aquello que piensa a lo largo de todo el día.
1207. Muchos que equivocaron el camino, culparon al camino.
1208. El que teme sufrir, ya sufre el temor.
1209. Me gustan los arboles, pues parecen mas conformes que otros seres con la manera en que les ha tocado vivir.
1210. El que sea cierto, no significa que sea convincente.

«Si tomas amigos nuevos, no te olvides de los viejos»

1211. A los veinte años, la voluntad es reina; a los treinta, lo es el ingenio; a los cuarenta, lo es el juicio.
1212. Los primeros cuarenta años de vida, nos dan el texto; los treinta siguientes, el comentario.

1213. De quien mucho miente, huye la gente.

1214. Es mejor estar callado, y parecer tonto, que hablar y confirmarlo.

1215. La verdadera felicidad, consiste en hacer el bien.

«Con las glorias, se olvidan las memorias»

1216. Quien quiere hacer algo, encuentra un medio; quien no quiere, encuentra una excusa.

1217. El trabajo mas productivo, es el que sale de las manos de un hombre contento.

1218. No te acerques a una cabra por delante, a un caballo por detrás, y a un tonto por ningún lado.

1219. Para tener enemigos, no hace falta declarar una guerra; solo basta decir lo que se piensa.

1220. Un tigre no pierde el sueño, por la opinión de las ovejas.

«Quien no olvida, atormenta su vida»

1221. Las dificultades preparan a personas comunes, para destinos extraordinarios.

1222. Morir no es sino cambiar de residencia.

1223. Basta una sola mentira para poner en duda todas las verdades.

1224. Si la evolución es cierta, no debe haber razón para que se detenga con la muerte.

1225. Somos una imposibilidad, en un Universo imposible.

«En lo que no se puede enmendar, olvidar es remediar»

1226. Ambiciona Honor, no honores.

1227. El hombre honrado, es el que mide su derecho, por su deber.

1228. Todo hombre debe ser soldado, cuando se trate de combatir la inmoralidad.

1229. La ira ofusca la mente, pero hace transparente al corazón.

1230. Suavizar las penas de los otros, es olvidar las propias.

«Quien bien ama, tarde olvida»

1231. Nacimos para cometer errores, no para fingir ser personas perfectas.

1232. El viaje no termina jamás, solo los viajeros terminan.

1233. ¿Que clase de Ciencia es la nuestra, que puede mandar maquinas a Marte, y no hace nada para detener el asesinato de un ser humano?

1234. Una vez, es coincidencia; dos, es casualidad; y tres, es la acción de enemigo.

1235. Lo que nos hace personas normales, es saber que no somos normales.

«De mirar nace el amar, y de no ver, el olvidar»

1236. La verdad no siempre es bonita, pero el hambre de ella si.

1237. El progreso se evapora, y deja atrás una estela de burocracia.

1238. No sabe mas, el que mas cosas sabe, sino el que sabe las que mas importan.

1239. Perro que no conozcas, no le espantes las moscas.

1240. El hombre que se levanta, es aún mas grande que el que no ha caído.

«Amor es demencia, y su médico, la ausencia»

1241. Nunca tomes decisiones permanentes, sobre emociones temporales.

1242. Yo no tengo tiempo para odiar a la gente que me odia, pues estoy demasiado ocupado en amar a la gente que me ama.

1243. La sonrisa mas bella, a menudo llega después de la lágrima mas dolorosa.

1244. Nunca discutas con un necio; te hará descender a su nivel, y allí te ganara por experiencia.

1245. Un barco no debería navegar con una sola ancla, ni el hombre vivir con una sola esperanza.

«La envidia sigue a los vivos, y a los muertos, el olvido»

1246. No hay luna como la de enero, ni amor como el primero.

1247. La vida es como la bicicleta; hay que pedalear hacia adelante, para no perder el equilibrio.

1248. La salud, es la justa medida entre el calor y el frío.

1249. La Política [secular] es el arte de obtener dinero de los ricos, y votos de los pobres.

1250. Toda dilación es odiosa, pero suele generar prudencia.

«Quien buena ocasión perdió, de necio se graduó»

1251. Temo a Dios, y después temo principalmente a quien no le teme.

1252. Cada criatura al nacer, nos trae el mensaje de que Dios todavía no pierde la esperanza de los hombres.

1253. La inteligencia es la función que adapta los medios a los fines.

1254. No es bueno que todo suceda como deseamos. Cuando todo nos sonrío en el mundo, nos apegamos a éste muy fácilmente y el encanto es muy fuerte. Por eso, y porque Dios nos ama, no permite que durmamos mucho y muy cómodamente en este lugar de destierro 1255. De nada vale la ciencia, si no se convierte en conciencia.

«Al galán y a la dama, Satán los inflama, y la ocasión les hace la cama»

1256. Dios es tal, que todo lo que él hizo, comparado con él, es como si no existiese.

1257. Dios mira las manos limpias, no las llenas.

1258. Dios es sofisticado, pero no malévolo.

1259. Cuando se deja de creer en Dios, enseguida se cree en cualquier cosa.

1260. Las matemáticas son el alfabeto con el cual Dios ha creado el Universo.

«Para librarse de faldas, no hay cosa como volver las espaldas»

1261. Estar preparado para la guerra es uno de los medios mas eficaces para conservar la paz.

1262. El que no quiere economizar debe agonizar.

1263. La justicia es gratuita, lo que cuesta son los medios de llegar a ella.

1264. Dios perdona siempre, los hombres a veces, y la naturaleza nunca.

1265. No hay falsedad tan insensata que no la apoye ningún testigo.

«Quien espera lugar y tiempo, logra su intento»

1266. Dios ha puesto el placer tan cerca del dolor que muchas veces se llora de alegría.

1267. A veces sucede así en la vida: cuando son los caballos los que han trabajado, es el cochero el que recibe la propina.

1268. Quien yerra y se enmienda, a Dios se encomienda.

1269. El hombre tiene que establecer un final para la guerra. Si no, la guerra establecerá un final para la humanidad.

1270. Hay pueblos a los que se les soborna con el nivel de vida para que no se paren a pensar por dónde anda el nivel de su vida.

«Ocasión venida, aprovéchale enseguida»

1271. Muchos pocos hacen muchos.

1272. La compasión está por encima del poder real y tiene su trono en el corazón de los reyes; es un atributo del propio Dios; el poder terrenal se muestra muy semejante a Dios cuando la piedad suaviza la justicia.

1273. Cuando obedecemos al honor, aunque nos imponga ser muy desgraciados, siempre se siente una voluptuosidad delicadísima y magnánima que nos compensa de todos los dolores.

1274. El amor es el camino más corto hacia uno mismo y hacia Dios.

1275. El que quiere amar a Dios, ya lo ama.

«Las flores y la ocasión, son de corta duración»

1276. Si no tiene amor, el hombre no tiene a Dios; y sin amor y sin Dios, ¿que queda del hombre?

1277. Intencionadamente o no, se confunden siempre los jueces con la justicia y los curas con Dios. Así se acostumbran los hombres a desconfiar de la justicia y de Dios.

1278. Quien se humilla ante los hombres se vuelve glorioso ante Dios.

1279. Si quieres escucharme te daré un consejo. Por el amor de Dios no vistas la ropa de la hipocresía. La vida futura es lo eterno, este mundo solo un instante. No vendas el reino de la eternidad por un segundo.

1280. Si Dios no existiera, sería necesario inventarlo.

«Eso es saber; a su tiempo soplar, y a su tiempo sorber»

1281. El hombre no tiene descanso hasta que descansa en Dios.

1282. La única prueba de Dios capaz de convencer a muchos, es la prueba del amor al prójimo.

1283. Si en nuestra vida solo buscásemos amar plenamente a Dios, y a todos los hermanos, lo habríamos hecho todo.

1284. En cuanto creí que existía Dios comprendí que no tenía más remedio que vivir para Él.

1285. Es necesario sentir la mano de Dios en la propia espalda para poder ser su mano en la espalda de los otros.

«El llanto, sobre el difunto»

1286. El amor es el camino de Dios hacia los hombres; y el camino de los hombres hacia Dios.

1287. El amor es el ala que Dios nos ha dado para subir hasta Él.

1288. Donde está la verdad está Dios.

1289. Dios creó el tiempo, pero el hombre creó la prisa.

1290. Querer saber solamente por saber, es curiosidad; querer saber por ser conocido, es vanidad; querer saber por adquirir honras y riquezas, es torpe ganancia; querer saber por mejor servir a Dios y edificar al prójimo, es virtud.

«La ocasión de pecar, se debe siempre apartar y quitar»

1291. La teoría es asesinada tarde o temprano por la experiencia.

1292. Si tu intención es describir la verdad, hazlo con sencillez, y la elegancia déjasela al sastre.

1293. Estudia como si fueras a vivir para siempre; vive como si fueras a morir mañana.

1294. Sé virtuoso y te tendrán por excéntrico.

1295. Creo en el Dios que hizo a los hombres, pero no en el que los hombres han hecho.

«Quien la ocasión evita, el peligro quita»

1296. Témele al hombre que teme a Dios.

1297. También Dios tiene su infierno: su amor por los hombres.

1298. Primero persiguieron a los comunistas, pero yo no era comunista, así que no dije nada. Después persiguieron a los socialdemócratas, pero yo no era socialdemócrata, así que no dije nada. Después persiguieron a los sindicalistas, pero yo no era sindicalista. Después persiguieron a los Hebreos, pero yo no era Hebreo y tampoco hice nada. Y cuando me llegó el turno no quedaba nadie que pudiera defenderme.

1299. ¿Quieres que hablen bien de ti? No hables bien de ti mismo.

1300. Cuando los Sodomitas gobiernan, no solo el justo Lot, sino aún los santos ángeles, corren el riesgo de ser Sodomizados.

«Ocasión y tentación, madre e hija son»

1301. Ponderemos los riesgos de quien toma el partido de creer en la existencia de Dios: Si gana, lo gana todo- Si pierde, no pierde nada.

1302. La basura es basura; sin importar si es basura blanca, basura nueva, basura famosa, basura grande, basura impresionante, o basura original.

1303. A la basura, le gusta la basura.

1304. La basura atrae más basura.

1305. La basura debe ser eliminada, no defendida, ni preservada.

«Ida la coyuntura, ida la ventura»

1306. El niño [habla], de los sueños de la vida; el joven, del amor de la vida; el hombre maduro, de los refranes y proverbios de la vida; y el anciano, de la vanidad de la vida.

1307. Los niños nacen con muy buena religión: humildad, y honestidad.

1308. No crees un vacío, sin primero tener algo mejor para llenarlo.

1309. Nadie cree sinceramente en su ateísmo [o en su religión] hasta que no está dispuesto a ofrendar su vida, en la defensa de sus verdades mas fundamentales.

1310. La verdad, según Adolfo Hitler: "Haz la mentira grande, hazla sencilla, y repitela sin cesar. Con el tiempo, la gente terminará creyéndola".

«Abierto el saco, todos meten la mano»

1311. La verdad del Dios de los Cielos, es como el aire y la lluvia de los Cielos: aunque de un valor incalculable, descienden gratuitamente sobre todos, no siendo monopolio de hombre alguno.

1312. No pierdas tu tiempo tratando de cambiar el Universo; recuerda que no eres Dios, sino un simple y pequeño mortal.

1313. La Ciencia, es incapaz de sustituir a la Misericordia; la Política, es incapaz de sustituir a la Justicia; y la Religión, es incapaz de sustituir a la Humildad.

1314. Mientras mas pequeño es un hombre, mas se ufana de grandeza.

1315. El hombre encuentra sentido a su vida, solo cuando sigue algo mas grande que si mismo; y nada es mas grande que Dios.

«Oficio en que no se come, otro lo tome»

1316. El que engrandece aquello que no es esencial [lo pequeño], termina empequeñeciendo lo que es esencial [lo grande].

1317. El que es misericordioso con el cruel, termina siendo cruel con el misericordioso.

1318. Una onza de plata en la mano, vale por diez en el banco.

1319. El hombre que es nada, se ufana de mucho; pero el que es mucho, no se ufana de nada.

1320. Se un soldado del bien: si no puedes batallar con tus manos, hazlo con tu boca; si no puedes batallar con tu boca, hazlo con tu corazón.

«Ora cada día, y con todos verdad trata, y lo demás Dios lo haga»

1321. El derecho a opinar, no es derecho a insultar.

1322. Cuando tengas ochenta años, y libertes [por cuenta propia] a un pueblo de la esclavitud, tendrás derecho a creer que tu opinión tiene el mismo peso que la de Moisés.

1323. El Sabio, es respetuoso, y se le instruye con palabras; El necio, es contumaz, y se le instruye con palos.

1324. Hacer el bien, a veces significa hacer el menor de los males.

1325. El ateo pregunta, ¿En que lugar de la Creación se encuentra el Creador? El niño pregunta, ¿En que lugar del reloj se encuentra el relojero?

«Oración breve, a menudo y devota»

1326. Si el Creador puede hacer al hombre, partiendo de una pequeña gota [de liquido seminal], ¿cuanto mas no podrá volverlo a hacer [resucitándole] de un montón de tierra [el polvo en que eventualmente se habrá de convertir su cadáver]?

1327. Se imita lo que se admira como superior a uno mismo; por eso, la Ciencia imita a la Naturaleza, no la Naturaleza a la Ciencia.

1328. El nuevo vehículo, no siempre resulta ser mejor que el antiguo.

1329. La vida comienza de nuevo a los cuarenta.

1330. No hay cosa que haga más daño a una nación, como el que la gente astuta pase por sabía.

«Sube al cielo la oración, y baja de allí la bendición»

1331. El alma dicta el deber, y la astucia da pretextos para eludirlo.

1332. Inteligencia, es extrapolación mesurada; la capacidad para deducir las cosas inciertas, partiendo de las que son ciertas; de descubrir las cosas intangible, en base a las tangibles.

1333. Sabiduría, es utilizar la inteligencia como instrumento para hacer el bien.

1334. Quien no tiene toda la inteligencia de su edad, tiene toda su desgracia.

1335. Sólo la inteligencia se examina a sí misma.

«La plegaria debe ser la llave de la mañana, y el cerrojo de la noche»

1336. El bien que hagamos con la verdad [que tenemos a la mano], es mas importante que [si lo que tenemos a la mano es] la verdad.

1337. La ignorancia es atrevida.

1338. La inteligencia es casi inútil, a aquel que no tiene [nada] más que eso.

1339. Cada generación piensa que puede ser más inteligente que la anterior.

1340. La tontería se pone delante para ser vista, la inteligencia detrás para observar.

«La oración no siempre cambia una determinada situación, pero puede cambiar nuestra forma de mirar dicha situación»

1341. El sabio se recupera de un fracaso, el necio nunca se recupera de un éxito.

1342. Eres inteligente cuando ves más allá de la puerta de tu casa.

1343. Errar es humano, pero solo los idiotas perseveran en el error.

1344. El inteligente sabe lo que dice; y el sabio, sabe cuando decirlo.

1345. Un pedante es un imbécil adulterado con inteligencia.

«Con el aire, se hincha el odre, y con la vanidad, el hombre»

1346. Un hombre inteligente es aquel que sólo se cree la mitad de lo que escucha, uno brillante es aquel que sabe cuál mitad debe elegir.

1347. El paraíso de los necios, es el infierno de los sabios.

1348. El hombre inteligente, no es el que tiene muchas ideas, sino el que sabe sacar provecho de las pocas que tiene.

1349. No hables con un necio, puede que nadie note la diferencia.

1350. Haz como las hormigas, acumula tu sabiduría para cuando te haga falta, no la desperdicies antes de tiempo.

«Decir, dice cualquiera; hacer, solo el que sepa y quiera»

1351. No hay hombre más tonto que el que se cree inteligente.

1352. El tonto no tiene amplitud de miras como para darse cuenta de que lo es.

1353. El que quiere ser grande, debe aparentar ser pequeño.

1354. Todas las inteligencias son invisibles para el que no tiene inteligencia.

1355. El cántaro vacío, es el que más suena.

«Siempre presume de vista un tuerto»

1356. No es completamente malo, el terrorismo que hace que nos aterrice lo malo.

1357. El ciego, es inocente de su ceguera; no así el que cierra voluntariamente sus ojos.

1358. La vida es una constante lucha de poder.

1359. El [mucho] poder, corrompe [a los hombres].

1360. Deja el asunto para mañana; que, para gastar dinero, para quedar mal, para empeñar nuestra palabra, y para hacer lo malo, nunca debe haber prisa.

«Cuando el asno es muy asno, entonces se tiene por caballo»

1361. La inexistencia de evidencia, no es evidencia de inexistencia.

1362. El proceder del necio es así: Cierra su ojo izquierdo, luego mira al Sol con su ojo derecho; y, poniendo su dedo pulgar en frente de este último, se dice a si mismo- ¡Que inmenso soy! ¡El mas pequeño de mis dedos, es mas grande que el Sol!"

1363. Un texto, fuera de contexto, es un pretexto.

1364. Puedes llevar el caballo al río, pero no puedes obligarle a tomar el agua [puedes mostrarle a otra persona la verdad acerca de algún asunto, pero no puedes obligarle a aceptarla].

1365. Solo el torpe burro de Circo es capaz de decir a la Cobra [venenosa]: "Esto de estar en jaulas separadas, es una desigualdad y un discrimen que debe ser abolido".

«La pretensión de don Facundo: no podía gobernar a su mujer, y quería gobernar el mundo»

1366. El escepticismo radical, demanda radical escepticismo.

1367. ¿Mujer virtuosa, quien la hallara?

1368. La mujer buena, leal y con decoro, es un tesoro.

1369. La mujer buena y honesta, el hacer algo es su fiesta.

1370. Aquella es buena mujer, la que barre su casa al amanecer.

«Nadie más engreído, que un tonto bien vestido»

1371. Dile [a la mujer] que es hermosa, y la verás gozosa.

1372. Cada día se muda el viento, y la mujer a cada momento.

1373. El infierno no tiene tanta furia como la de una mujer despechada.

1374. Es ridículo, espantosamente ridículo hacer guerra en nombre de la paz.

1375. La Vanidad es un adjetivo femenino.

«Dos orgullosos no caben en un burro»

1376. Hay que dejar la vanidad a los que no tienen otra cosa que exhibir.

1377. Es tan ruin la vanidad, que para afrentarla basta llamarla por su propio nombre.

1378. El mayor castigo para una mujer, es el que atormenta su vanidad.

1379. La Vanidad, es parienta del orgullo.

1380. Si sólo tuviera un sermón que predicar, sería un sermón contra el orgullo.

«Quien menos vale, más presume»

1381. La oveja y la mujer, puesto el sol en casa estén.

1382. Doncella sin amor, flor sin olor.

1383. La mujer dice y hace lo que le place.

1384. La rosa en su rosal; y la doncella en su hogar.

1385. La esencia fina, viene en frasco chico.

«Presumir, y valer poco, tema de loco»

1386. No limites tu seguridad a aquello que perciben claramente tus sentidos: Recuerda que no son los continentes [masas de tierra con forma fija y solida] los que conforman la mayor parte de nuestro mundo; son el agua y el aire [cosas inciertas, que carecen de una forma clara y definida].

1387. Nunca sigas a alguien que distinga menos "colores" (detalles de la vida) que tú. Es que, quien solo puede ver las cosas como "blancas o negras", está pronto a perder la vista.
1388. La ignorancia [del pueblo] es bendición [para los tiranos].
1389. El ignorante no sabe si está siendo oprimido, o siendo defendido.
1390. Los tiranos paralizan las masas, inundándolas con información y detalles acerca de asuntos secundarios [que hacen pasar como primarios]. Y, mientras mas autoritativa, contradictoria, e indescifrable sea la información, mas efectiva logrará ser su estrategia.
1391. Presumir y no valer, es ramo de poco saber.
1392. Presumir de hidalguía con la bolsa vacía, pura tontería.
1393. Abundancia y soberbia, andan en pareja.
1394. Riqueza parió a soberbia, y soberbia parió pobreza.
1395. Un gallo en un estercolero, desafía al mundo entero.
1396. Gente pobre y necia, poca ropa y mucha soberbia.
1397. Orgullo, riqueza, y hermosura, son nada en la sepultura.
1398. Con hombre vano, ni en invierno ni en verano.
1399. Quien piensa que todo lo merece, nada agradece.
1400. ¿A que tantos manteles para unos tristes pasteles?
1401. La vida tienes que tomarla como viene, no como a ti te conviene.
1402. Procura lo mejor, espera lo peor, y toma lo que viniera.
1403. Dios nos dé paciencia, y muerte con penitencia.
1404. En la dolencia, paciencia; en la aflicción, resignación.
1405. Lo que no está en tus manos evitar, con paciencia lo has de soportar.
1406. A quien con su poco se contenta, Satán no lo tienta.
1407. Si mucho te pesa, llevalo en dos veces.
1408. A lo que no puede ser, los hombros encoger.
1409. A gran dolor, paciencia mayor.
1410. Paciencia con experiencia, doble ciencia.
1411. Mejor es resignarse, que lamentarse.

1412. Por ser sufrido y paciente, no es uno menos valiente.
1413. Perder y ganar, sereno lo has de llevar.
1414. Mientras el mal persevera, sufre y espera.
1415. Da Dios la gracia, al que se conforma con su desgracia.
1416. Conténtate con tu estado, y vivirás descansado.
1417. A cama corta, encoger las piernas.
1418. Mozo pagado, el brazo le has quebrado.
1419. Quien paga adelantado, aténgase al resultado.
1420. Si no pagas lo que debes, y dices que tienes mucho dinero, o eres un tramposo, o eres un embustero.
1421. El mal pagador, ni cuenta lo que recibe, ni regatea en lo que le fían.
1422. A mal pagador, buen cobrador.
1423. La palabra honesta, mucho vale y poco cuesta.
1424. Palabras sin obras, se venden barato.
1425. De las palabras, no el sonido, sino el sentido.
1426. "Las palabras", hembras son; mas "el hecho", es de varón.
1427. Demasiada cola, ya no pega; demasiadas palabras desagradan.
1428. Con buenas palabras, y mejores hechos, conquistarás el mundo entero.
1429. Cual es uno, tales son sus palabras.
1430. Más bien se conoce a los hombres por las palabras, que por la cara.
1431. Pan por pan, y vino por vino, y no engañarás a tu vecino.
1432. El pan de poco peso, y de mucho el queso.
1433. Para que él sea a bueno y ella sea buena, el pan blanco y la mujer morena.
1434. Más alimenta el pan casero, que el que vende el panadero.
1435. Pan tierno y vino añejo, dan la vida al viejo.
1436. Muchos parientes hay para sólo reñir y aconsejar, mas no para socorrer y remediar.
1437. Más vale amistad, que parentesco.

1438. La que por mí se desvela, ésa es mi madre y abuela.
1439. Enemistad entre parientes, dura largamente.
1440. Parto largo y parto malo, hija al cabo.
1441. Buen parto, y parir hija, cuéntalo por maravilla.
1442. A la primeriza, antes se le conoce la preñez en los pechos, que en la barriga.
1443. El parir embellece, y el criar envejece.
1444. Fe sin obra buena, castillo sobre arena.
1445. La fe, en las obras se ve.
1446. La mano del pobre, es la bolsa de Dios.
1447. La desgracia mayor, es estar enemistado con nuestro Señor.
1448. Pecado de mucho bulto, no puede estar siempre oculto.
1449. Pecado encubierto, medio imaginado, medio cierto.
1450. Siete veces al día peca el justo, y setenta el injusto.
1451. Pecado mortal: saber bien, y hacer mal.
1452. No debe ladrar el perro, cuando se encuentra entre leones
1453. Propaganda, es pretender que los hechos son opiniones, y que las opiniones son hechos

«El buen corazón, no da consentimiento al error»

«¿Tu secreto? ¡Ni al mas discreto!»

«La vejez empieza cuando los recuerdos pesan más que la esperanza»

«Por lo que perdiste, no estés triste; haz de cuenta que nunca lo tuviste»

«Al viejo, amor y respeto»

«You claim there's no such fantastic thing as a God? Well, if we pause, and take into account the really fantastic scale of the Cosmos, we would be forced to conclude that, only the fantastic, is likely to be real»

«Dejar lo cierto, por lo dudoso, es peligroso»

«¿Riguroso en las Ciencias, y Negligente en la Moralidad? ¡Que vana Escolaridad!»

«No llames virtud, a lo que te hace perder la salud»

«La viuda honrada, su puerta cerrada»

«Ni chocolate recocado, ni mujer de otro marido»

«Reniego del que anda moralmente roto y descosido, y pone faltas al bien vestido»

«You can never go Wrong, by doing what is Right»

«El hombre que pierde todos sus valores, pierde todo su valor»

«Hay un solo camino para llegar a Dios. Y es el siguiente: “apártate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre” (Salmo 37:27). Así, las distintas religiones no son sino distintos "autobuses" que el Creador ha permitido a los hombres construir, a fin de darles la libertad de escoger cual de todos prefieren utilizar en su transitar por el Camino que conduce al Creador»

«Todos lo montes apuntan a los cielos; pero algunos montes son más altos [es decir, proveen una vista mas abarcadora] que otros. ¿Que significan "los montes"? Pues los gigantes de la fe; aquellos mensajeros Divinos que, comparados al resto de los seres humanos, eran como "montañas". ¿Y qué significa que "apuntan al cielo"? Pues que señalan a la misma sublime verdad celestial»

«Los sacrificios de acción de gracias continuarán siendo agradables al Creador hasta el final de los siglos»

«Ame a su hija, a su mamá, a su esposa, a su hermana, y a su abuela; pero nunca le dé a ninguna de ellas tanto amor, espacio, confianza, libertad, o beneficios materiales, como para que dé lugar a su propia destrucción [destrucción espiritual, física, emocional, financiera, o personal], de modo que [al igual que sucedió en la Escritura con Abimelec] no se tenga que decir de usted: "¡Una mujer le mató!"»

«Quien no se avergüenza de la mayor perversión (zoofilia, homosexualidad, incesto, asesinato, etc) mucho menos se avergonzará de la menor perversión (lenguaje soez, hipocresía, mentira, soberbia, robo, infidelidad, opresión política, etc)»

Entre creyentes Musulmanes, Hebreos, y Cristianos, suele darse el caso de que sea el creyente Musulmán quien tenga el mayor compromiso con someterse a Dios; el Cristiano, el mayor compromiso con alabar a Dios; y, el Hebreo, el mayor compromiso con entender a Dios.... solo resta que cada uno decida si habrá de tomar o no "lo mejor de todos los mundos"...

«Cuando la interacción entre los sexos es opcional, la regla a seguir es: “los varones, se mantienen con los varones; y, las hembras, se mantienen con las hembras”»

«Nunca abandone una verdad certera y objetiva [sin importar cuan escueta o sencilla aparente ser], para abrazar en cambio una verdad incierta y subjetiva [sin importar tampoco cuan glamurosa aparente ser]»

«La cosas que no se hacen como la Torah ordena, terminan en pena»

«Un hombre puede errar a menudo; pero, no será un fracasado, sino hasta el momento en que comience a culpar a otros por sus propios errores»

«Desafortunadamente, la Torah es una de esas cosas que nadie puede explicarnos; la única forma de entenderla, es experimentarla por nosotros mismos»

«Hablad verdad cada cual con su prójimo» (Zacarías 8:16)

«El final de todas las cosas se acerca; arregle sus cuentas con el Creador, y conduzca su vida como quien asume que es su último día en este mundo. Es que, dentro de lo que parecerán haber sido solo unos breves momentos, su presunción será correcta»

«De todo lo que pasa (o está por pasar) en este mundo; de todos los eventos políticos, científicos, económicos, sociales, o religiosos, hay una sola cosa que es realmente importante; y es hacer aquello que decidirá como habremos de pasar la eternidad. Esto no es otra cosa sino confesar públicamente “La Verdad”; es decir, confesarla con nuestra boca, con nuestro corazón, y con nuestras acciones. ¿Cual es esa Verdad? , Pues que Dios nos ha creado para hacer solo lo bueno, sin importar cuantas excusas o justificaciones presente el mundo para que hagamos lo malo»

«El hombre que solo tiene grandes hechos, es superior al hombre que solo se las echa de grande»

«Aquellos que hacen lo bueno, heredaran el Reino de Dios, pues la Escritura dice: “Los malos se inclinarán delante de los buenos; Y los impíos [se inclinaran] a las puertas del justo” (Prov. 14:19)»

«No vemos las cosas como son, sino como somos; por eso el hombre oportunista y caprichoso percive al Creador como una Deidad oportunista y caprichosa»

Quien sigue a Moisés, sigue la fe Mosaica; quien sigue al Cristo, sigue la fe Cristiana; y quien sigue a Mahoma, sigue la fe Mahometana. Es decir, la fe de un individuo, está determinada por la persona que tal individuo entienda ser el mayor (o "el sello") de todos los mensajeros Divinos; en el caso de los creyentes Hebreos, esa persona es Moisés; en el de los Cristianos, es Jesús; y, en el de los Musulmanes, es Muhammad (paz sea con todos ellos)

«¿Salvación sin esfuerzos humanos? ¡La Salvación de los Villanos!»

«La cola del león, es mayor que la cabeza del ratón»

«¿Salvación sin obediencia? ¡La del Hombre sin conciencia!»

«El que a buenas obras no estuvo atento, que no espere de Dios reconocimiento»

Dos ángeles caminan siempre con cada hombre. Uno de ellos, es un ángel bueno, El segundo, es un ángel malo. Y, ambos ángeles, tratan de seducirle. El ángel bueno, se llama “conciencia”, y siempre trata de seducirle a renunciar al mal, para hacer en cambio el bien. El ángel malo, se llama “orgullo”, y siempre trata de seducirle a renunciar al bien, para hacer en cambio el mal.

«El Villano utilizará cualquier excusa vanal, para justificar hacer el mal»

«Ten cuidado, no sea que pierdas aquello que tiene substancia, por querer agarrarte de aquello que solo es una sombra»

«Cuando prestas mucha atención a la persona que es poca cosa, te hieres a tí mismo»

«La apariencia externa, es un pobre sustituto para el valor interno»

«Mentirte a tí mismo, solo terminará destruyéndote»

«A veces despreciamos aquello que redundará en nuestro mayor beneficio»

«Es fácil pretender despreciar voluntariamente aquello que, por más que nos hubiésemos esforzado, jamás habríamos logrado alcanzar»

«Nunca confíes en aduladores»

«Tus pequeños amigos, un día podrían llegar a ser tus grandes amigos»

«Cuando veas crecer la raíz del mal, destrúyela; sino, ella crecerá, y terminará destruyéndote a ti»

«Exterminando a 6 millones de Hebreos, y causando la muerte de 60 millones de soldados, Adolfo Hitler no trajo tanta maldición al mundo como la que puede traer un hombre que, gozando de la admiración pública, se declara abiertamente homosexual. Es que, el hombre (o la mujer) que tal hace, está bajo la ira Divina, y el Juicio de Dios caerá repentinamente sobre él, tal y como cayó repentinamente sobre los Sodomitas. Así, el creyente sabio siente fobia de aquellos que son abiertamente homosexuales. Y esta fobia hace que se aparte de ellos, tal y como Lot se apartó también de los Sodomitas, salvando así su vida»

«Las perlas son valiosas, pero solo para quienes saben apreciarlas»

«No le hables de las virtudes teóricas del ateísmo a quien creció en el infierno práctico que fué un hogar sin Dios y sin moral alguna»

«Es fácil sentirse valiente, cuando nos mantenemos a una distancia segura del peligro; y, es fácil sentirse santo, cuando nos mantenemos a una distancia segura de los [diez] mandamientos»

«¿Por que hay pobreza y miseria en el mundo? Pues para dar a cada hombre la oportunidad de ganar su salvación; Como está escrito: “Bienaventurado el que piensa en el pobre; En el día malo [el día del Juicio final] lo librá Yah [de toda condenación]” (Salmo 41:1)»

«Ningún seguidor de Jesús (paz sea con él) estuvo al lado de su tumba, para presenciar la realidad de su [alegada] resurrección. Y ningún seguidor de Moisés (paz sea con él), estuvo al lado de su tumba, para presenciar la realidad de su [alegada] muerte»

«Si no puede ser un político, y mantener sus valores, mantenga sus valores, aunque no pueda ser un político»

«La Demagogia, es travestismo moral; es vestir las cosas menores, con las palabras mayores»

«La historia ha demostrado que, a menudo los mas grandes defensores de la Libertad, terminan siendo los mas grandes Tiranos»

El hombre que pretende ser “Liberado” de Dios, a menudo termina siendo “Esclavizado” de los Hombres [como han demostrado los ateos y totalitarios regímenes comunistas]. Es que, la Ley de siembra y cosecha, dicta que el Hombre no tenga asegurado su bien ni su libertad, sino hasta que se asegure de ser esclavo del bien y la libertad a la que le obliga la obediencia a los [diez] mandamientos Divinos.

«No hagas un Dios de la Ciencia; pues la ciencia no es sino una creación de los hombres - una herramienta que hemos inventado para tratar de explicar la realidad que nos rodea [una realidad que, por mas que nos afanemos, nuestra ciencia nunca ha logrado completamente descifrar]. Pero la verdad objetiva es que, la Ciencia, nunca ha hecho de nadie un hombre más justo, más misericordioso, ni más humilde; nunca ha hecho a nadie un hijo más considerado con sus Padres; un esposo más comprometido con su esposa; un mejor hombre, un Padre más honorable y honesto; un amigo más desprendido y solidario; una persona más paciente, más altruista, o más desprendida»

«¡Nunca siga la homosexualidad! Es que, cuando un hombre “sigue sus asentaderas”, es porque está “caminando hacia atrás”; Y, esto último, no es sino un presagio de su inevitable caída»

«No me insultes, pidiendo que te explique en breves minutos, la jornada que me ha tomado largas décadas en realizar»

“Una verdad que teme ofender a los hombres poderosos, es una verdad que idolatra a los hombres [pues les considera ser mas poderosos que el Creador]”

«El hombre que insiste en exaltar su propia persona, se descarta a sí mismo de ser un digno custodio de la Verdad Divina»

«Toda gran verdad [es decir, todo aquello que echa por tierra una gran mentira], experimenta tres etapas de desarrollo: (1) Primero, la rechazamos y ridiculizamos; (2) Segundo, como no tenemos argumentos racionales para combatirla, pues recurrimos al insulto y a la violencia; (3) Finalmente, cuando aceptamos el hecho de que, el ridículo y la violencia, no son suficientes para deshacernos de ella, nos vemos forzados a ponderarla con mayor detenimiento; y esto a su vez nos conduce a descubrir que, aquello que combatíamos, era una verdad auto-evidente [y que, si no lo percibimos de inmediato, fue por culpa de nuestra ciega y terca obstinación en seguir una gran mentira]»

To publicly claim [in an arrogant and insulting fashion] that there is no God [as supposedly there is no objective proof of His existence], is not only foolish, but even dangerous. Why? Because, “the good we do with whatever truth we happen to have in our hands, is far more important than the quality of such a truth”. In other words, there might be no objective proof for the existence of God, or for that sake of things like honor and respect, but only a suicidal idiot would dare using such “lack of objective truth” as an excuse to drop by a Muslim Mosque, and openly start insulting Allah (God) or Muhammad. Such stupidity, may easily cause that person his own life, as the penalty prescribed by Muslim law for openly insulting prophet Muhammad is death penalty [which goes on to prove that, refusing to believe in the god called “respect”, is a dangerous thing to do]

“The most stupid fool, is better off than those who think they are wise, when they are not”- Proverbs 26:12 (Good News Bible Translation)

If you consider yourself an observant Jew, but you find that your Judaism cannot free you from the moral abomination that is the openly gay lifestyle, it can only mean that your soul isn't really Jewish; and therefore your place isn't with the Jews, but rather with our Christian [or with our Muslim] brothers... Be faithful to your true soul; go to the nearest church [or Mosque], and ask Jesus [or Muhammad] to free you from your spiritual bondage.... If you do so, you will at last feel in your proper place, and experience the freedom, the holiness, and the peace your soul has been longing for.

“Democracy destroys itself because it abuses its right to freedom and equality. Because it teaches its citizens to consider audacity as a right, lawlessness as a freedom, abrasive speech as equality, and anarchy as progress”

Los Hebreos existen para recordar a Cristianos y Musulmanes que, en lo que a las cosas de Dios respecta, deben estudiar un poco mas; Los cristianos existen para recordar a Judíos y musulmanes que, en lo que a las cosas de Dios respecta, deben alabar un poco mas; y los Musulmanes existen para recordar a Judíos y Cristianos que, en lo que a las cosas de Dios respecta, deben tener un poco mas de castidad y honor

Vive y camina con Dios de suerte que, al final de tus días, tu vida termine siendo el libro que tanto tus hijos, como los hijos de tus hijos, se gocen en leer

Nunca permanezcamos pasivos ante ante ningún injusto derramamiento de sangre inocente

Cuando ore, una los diez dedos de sus manos; así, recordará que el favor Divino se obtiene guardando
Sus Diez mandamientos

El hombre sabio, no se apresura a siempre ser el primero

«Human life is sacred, as man was made in the Creator's own image. Thus, whenever a society refuses to believe in the existence of a Holy Creator, that society loses it's respect for life, thereby losing it's own humanity. And this lack of humanity is what causes Marxist [and atheistic] regimes to openly massacre their own people, as was the case with Marxist Russia and Communist China»

«¿Donde esta la Tierra de Israel? Donde quiera que se encuentre un Hijo de Israel, allí también se encuentra la Tierra de Israel. Y, donde quiera que se encuentre un hombre que desee hacer las cosas que Dios ha ordenado a Moisés, allí también se encuentra un Hijo de Israel»

“Where is the Land of Israel located? The spot where you'll find the Land of Israel, is the very spot where you find a child of Israel. And the spot where you find a child of Israel, is any spot where you find a man [or a woman] willing to obey what God ordained by the mouth of Moses”

«A man does not becomes religious only when he worships a supernatural deity. Why? Simply because that man could be able to achieve the same level of fanaticism if he chooses to blindly renounce to objective [and critical] thinking; As would be the case when he puts all of his energy, all the resources of his mind, and the whole submission of his will, at the service of a cause [or individual] who becomes the absolute goal [or unquestionable guide] of his thoughts and actions. And what are some examples of these? One example could be the Hedonist lifestyle (the blind pursue of Money, Sex, and Power). Other examples could be the Political correctness movement, Secular Humanism, Church and State separation, Gender equality, LGBT rights, Women's rights, Atheism, individualism, etc»

“For a wise man, a gentle hint; for a fool, a fist”

“No amount of pseudo-religious gymnastics or twisted logic could with any modicum of intellectual integrity suggest that the God’s Law would allow same sex marriage, civil or otherwise. In fact, God’s Law is full of statements to the contrary”

«Elijah (the prophet) said: “I call Heaven and Earth to witness that, whether it be a Jew or a heathen (Hebrew or Muslim), whether it be a man or a woman, a manservant or a maidservant, the Holy Spirit will suffuse each of them in keeping with the deeds he [or she] performs”»

“No one is a true Hebrew believer, until he abandons the pagan values and culture taught by the Secular Western World, in order to embrace the Middle Eastern values and culture taught in the Hebrew Scripture”

«Los hijos de Israel [pueda yo ser expiación por ellos] son como la “madera de caja” (o “boxwood”); ni son [completamente] negros, ni son [completamente] blancos, sino de una tonalidad intermedia»

El problema con los ateos es que, a la vez que reclaman no creer en dios alguno, pretenden jugar ellos mismos el papel de dioses [imponiendo prepotentemente al público sus perspectivas, a menudo de forma tiránica y caprichosa]

“The ignorant man does not understand the learned, for he has never been learned himself; but the learned man understands the ignorant, for he was once ignorant himself”

“Woe to those who call evil good, and good evil; who substitute darkness for light, and light for darkness; who substitute bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter. Woe to those who consider themselves wise, and judge themselves clever”- Isaiah 5:20-21

«Conocer la Teología, la Cultura, la historia, y la Filosofía Hebrea, son aspectos importantes de la Fe. Pero, ninguna de estas cosas definen al creyente; Lo que le define, es que antes de hacer cualquier cosa importante, el creyente se pregunta a sí mismo: ¿Cual es la voluntad de Yah en este asunto? ¿Que está escrito en su Torah (Su Ley)?»

«Si los jóvenes te dicen “¡Edifiquemos el templo!”, no los escuches. Pero, si los ancianos te dicen “¡Destruyámoslo!, escúchales; porque el construir de los jóvenes, a menudo es destrucción; mientras que el destruir de los ancianos, a menudo conduce a mejor construcción»

«El hombre tuerto que desee “guiar” (o, “someter”) a un hombre que posee dos ojos, tiene que primero convencer a este último de que sus ojos son irrelevantes; pues proveen la ilusión de una capacidad visual que en realidad no poseen. De igual modo, el hombre villano (el que carece de valores, el orgulloso, el cruel, el oportunista, el mentiroso, el ateo, y el que practica la abierta homosexualidad) no podrá “guiar” (o, “someter”) al hombre que posee valores éticos y morales, si primero no logra convencerle de que tales valores son irrelevantes, pues surgen de la [alegadamente] falsa creencia en la existencia de un Creador»

«Dios no aprueba la prominencia que da su gente a ninguna teología, sino hasta que esa teología prueba la prominencia que da a Dios, y a su gente. Como está escrito: “¿Yah, quien habitará en tu tabernáculo?... Aquel a cuyos ojos el vil es menospreciado, Pero honra a los que temen a Yah”- Salmo 15:1-4»

“la verdad”, no es “La Verdad”; “La Verdad”, es lo que hacemos con “la verdad”.

Cuando hacemos el bien, con la poca o mucha "verdad" que tenemos a la mano, ya hemos encontrado “La Verdad”.

“Una Gran Verdad”, que nos hace orgullosos, injustos, o crueles, es la peor de todas las mentiras”

«El hombre acostumbrado a temer a Dios (siendo consciente de que un día habrá de ser juzgado), y a abstenerse de hacer mal a su prójimo, es un hombre justo, y cuenta con el favor Divino. Pero, el hombre acostumbrado a atropellar a su prójimo, y a no tener en cuenta la opinión de su Creador, se condena a si mismo a su eventual destrucción»

«Todo lo bueno (aquello que es justo, misericordioso, y humilde), proviene del Creador: No importando si es Un Midrash Hebreo, Una Canción Cristiana, o Una leyenda Musulmana; Si aumenta mi respeto, mi confianza, o mi fe en el Creador, se que proviene de Él; Si me alienta a ser mas justo, mas misericordioso, y mas humilde, se que contiene la chispa Divina»

«Cuidado con cualquier organización de carácter político, religioso, o aún científico, que prohíba cuestionar la moralidad de su ideología (esta es la definición de lo que significa convertirse en una secta). Quien se somete ciegamente a alguna de estas organizaciones, corre el peligro de cometer “suicidio intelectual”. Y, el “suicidio intelectual”, es siempre la triste antesala del suicidio físico»

«La Verdad seguiría siendo Verdad, aún si nadie la creyese. Y La Mentira seguiría siendo Mentira, aún si todos la creyesen»

«En la geografía Bíblica, Sodoma y Gomorra estaban localizadas en el punto mas bajo de la tierra de Canaán (las inmediaciones del mar muerto). ¿Por que? Pues para enseñarnos que la Sodomía publica y el libertinaje sexual son el punto mas bajo al cual puede descender la moral de un creyente. Es que, el hombre que da rienda suelta a sus pasiones (se acerca a la Sodomía), termina devorando su propia carne (cometiendo incesto), como ilustra la historia de Lot y sus hijas»

«La lengua, y el corazón, son las partes mas blandas y dulces del hombre (cuando su alma es pura, estando limpia de la injusticia, la crueldad, y el orgullo). Pero, la lengua y el corazón son también las partes mas duras y amargas del hombre (cuando su alma es impura, estando contaminada con la injusticia, la crueldad, y la soberbia)»

«Cuando el Dios de los menesterosos y quebrantados habite dentro de su corazón, será usted como las estrellas del cielo; pues la luz de sus buenas obras alumbrara la oscuridad moral de la noche que es el presente siglo»

«Donde hay Soberbia, allí habrá ignorancia; mas, donde hay humildad, allí habrá Sabiduría (Prov. 11:2)»

«Recuerde siempre que, a los ojos del Creador, somos lo que dicen nuestras acciones y nuestras aptitudes, no lo que dicen nuestras palabras. Vivamos de suerte que nuestras acciones y aptitudes testifiquen al mundo que somos parte del verdadero Israel; el pueblo que ha sido santificado (apartado del mal) para servir a Yah, el único y verdadero Dios»

«No es verdadera Libertad, la que le conduce a hacer lo que se le antoje (destruyéndose de ese modo a usted mismo); la verdadera Libertad, siempre le conducirá a vivir sabiamente; siendo justo, misericordioso, humilde, y prudente»

«Cuando el hombre abandona la Ley de Dios (los Diez mandamientos), termina aplaudiendo la inmoralidad, como está escrito: “Los que se apartan de La Ley, aplauden a los malvados; pero, los que la obedecen, se oponen a ellos”- Prov. 28:4»

«Ama al Cielo, y ten también temor del Cielo; de modo que tanto el regocijo como el temblor estén contigo cuando obedezcas los mandamientos. Si haz cometido una leve falta contra tu prójimo, que parezca a tus ojos una sería ofensa (de modo que te sea difícil volverla a cometer); Si le haz hecho un grande bien, que sea a tus ojos como una pequeña nimiedad (de modo que evites creer que haz hecho algo realmente grande; y, sintiéndote satisfecho, no vuelvas a hacerlo). Por el otro lado, si tu prójimo te ha hecho un pequeño bien, considéralo como algo grande (así, darás gracias a tu prójimo; quien, sintiéndose honrado por ello, sentirá la motivación de volver a hacer otro bien). Pero, si te ha hecho un grande mal, considéralo una nimiedad (así, viendo que no ha logrado ofenderte con sus palabras, alentarás a tu prójimo a desistir de calumniarte)»

«El hombre no es responsable por las palabras que emite en su hora de desasosiego»

«Ama a quien te corrige [por medio del regaño honesto y sincero], pero odia a quien te manipula [por medio de la falsa alabanza y adulación]»

«El tonto, se apresura al primer lugar; Pero, el Sabio, no tiene reparos en ocupar la último posición»

«Vive cada día cerca de Dios, presumiendo que es tu último día en la tierra. Es que, el día que menos lo imagines, tu presunción será correcta»

¡Cuando dos elefantes pelean, la grama es la que sufre!

Aquellos que pueden convencerte de que creas cosas absurdas (que el homosexual en realidad es una mujer, solo que atrapada dentro del cuerpo de un hombre; que el hombre y la mujer son exactamente iguales; que lo seres humanos solo son computadoras biológicas; que el bien y el mal son siempre relativos, etc), también podrán convencerte de que hagas cosas atroces (tiranía, genocidio, aberración sexual, cambio de sexo, satanismo, etc)»

«La Mayoría De Nuestras Ofensas Son El Producto De Nuestras Palabras. Seamos parcios en la Critica, pero generosos en la alabanza. No juzguemos ni condenemos a nadie; y, si no nos queda otro remedio que hacerlo, aseguremos incluir las siguientes palabras: "... aunque, en el último análisis, ¿quien soy yo, para juzgar ni condenar a nadie?»

«No Vemos Las Cosas Como Son, Sino Como Somos. Es decir, el “espejo” de nuestros valores personales, a menudo provee el matiz que damos a la verdad que nos muestran los hechos. Así, el hombre que teme a Yah, ve en el prójimo a alguien hecho a imagen y semejanza del Creador; alguien a quien debe respeto y consideración. Pero, el impío, ve en el prójimo a un competidor; alguien contra quien batallar; alguien a quien despojar, luego de haberle derrotado»

«Usa Lo Que Tienes A La Mano (Judaísmo, Islam, Cristianismo, Samaritanismo, etc), Para Hacer Solamente El Bien. Entonces, Serás Amado Por Dios Y Por Los Hombres»

«La verdadera adoración a Yah (también llamado “Elohim”, o “Autoridad Suprema”) demanda nuestro sometimiento a su voluntad, según expresada en las dos tablas de piedra (no robes, no mates, no mientas, no forniques, no deshonres a tus padres, no violes el día Sábado, etc). Pero, cuando Yah no es la Autoridad suprema en una vida, esa autoridad termina siendo los dioses de la fama, del dinero, del sexo, y del poder. Desafortunadamente, la Escritura muestra que la adoración de falsos dioses, siempre conduce al sacrificio de víctimas humanas. ¿Quienes serán

esas víctimas? Pues todos aquellos que se opongan [o sean impedimento] a la fama, al dinero, al sexo, y al poder que tanto adoramos».

El mas grande de todos, es el que mas sirve a su prójimo, sin buscar gloria para si mismo

«Cuando un maestro predica la Torah, debe siempre preguntarse: ¿Estoy predicando la Verdad de Adonai? ¿O estoy adulando a los hombres? ¿Predico para que los hombres se arrepientan de su maldad? ¿O para que me apoyen financieramente?»

«¿Cree usted en ser el Hijo de Dios? Si aún no cree, debe saber que la Torah nos exhorta a creerlo. Pero, ¿que es ser el Hijo de Dios? ¿Quien es este Primogénito del Altísimo? ¡Es la comunidad de creyentes, prefigurada por la Nación Israelita, que sufría opresión y persecución de parte de los enemigos del Altísimo! Como está escrito: «Y dirás a Faraón: יהוה (Adonai Yah) ha dicho así, “Israel es mi Hijo (¡el Hijo de Dios!), mi Primogénito»- Éxodo 4:22. Hágase hoy mismo parte de la comunidad de creyentes prefigurada por aquella oprimida y quebrantada comunidad Israelita. De este modo, usted también se convertirá en el Hijo de Dios: en su Primogénito»

«Visita a aquel que puede ser visto, pero que no puede ver (el hombre que es ciego); a fin de que se te conceda la recompensa de ser visitado por aquel que no puede ser visto, pero que todo lo ve (El Creador)»

«¿Por que se quitó la vida a la esposa de Lot (convirtiéndola en una estatua de sal)? Pues porque, aún después de descubrir que Yah aborrece la conducta de los Sodomitas (y por ende, habrá de destruirlos), tuvo la osadía de “mirar hacia atrás” (es decir, de añorar la compañía de aquella gente rebelde y contumaz). Así, el Creador respetó la elección de aquel extraviado ser, pues le concedió experimentar la misma destrucción que experimentaron aquellos Sodomitas; y que experimentarán también todos aquellos que añoren su compañía (abrazando el mismo estilo de vida)»

«El hombre que da limosna en secreto, es mayor que Moisés nuestro maestro; porque, de acuerdo a la Escritura, Moisés nuestro maestro admitió diciendo: "Porque temí a causa del furor y la ira..." (Deut. 9:19); pero, con respecto al que da limosna en secreto, la Escritura declara: "La dádiva (limosna) en secreto, calma el Furor..." (Proverbios 21:14)»

«El líder religioso que fortalece (o “apoya”) las manos (o “acciones”) del ladrón, del mentiroso, del adultero, del fornicario, y del que deshonra a sus padres con su estilo de vida homosexual, comete una grave torpeza, y actúa como un Sodomita, pues la Escritura dice: “Y en los profetas de Jerusalén he visto torpezas; cometían adulterios, y andaban en mentiras, y fortalecían las manos de los malos, para que ninguno se convirtiese de su maldad; me fueron todos ellos como Sodoma, y sus moradores como Gomorra” (Jeremías 23:14)».

«Hay seis cosas, y hasta siete, que el Señor aborrece por completo: los ojos altaneros, la lengua mentirosa, las manos que asesinan a gente inocente, la mente que elabora planes perversos, los pies que corren ansiosos al mal, el testigo falso y mentiroso, y el que provoca peleas entre hermanos (Proverbios 6:16-19)»

«Todos los justos de entre las naciones de la Tierra tendrán también una porción en el mundo que ha de Venir (la Vida Eterna)»

«El sagaz gobierna sobre el ingenuo, del mismo modo que el poderoso gobierna sobre el débil»

«El hombre sabio, siempre se asegura de que sus palabras sean dulces y suaves, de modo que, si se equivoca, no tenga dificultad alguna en tragárselas»

«El mayor de todos los fraudes (la mayor de todas las mentiras), es engañarse a uno mismo. Después que llegamos a este grado de degeneración, todos los demás pecados son fáciles de racionalizar»

«Mi “verdad” (cualquier verdad filosófica o intelectual) no es “verdad”, si me conduce al “error” (es decir, si me conduce a la injusticia, la crueldad, y la arrogancia de hacer al prójimo inocente, el mal que no desearía que me hiciesen a mi mismo). Y, “mi error”, no es error, si me conduce a la “verdad” (es decir, a tratar a mi prójimo inocente, con la misma justicia, misericordia y humildad con la que desearía que me trataran a mi mismo)»

“Cuando un hombre se enoja, si es un sabio, su sabiduría se va de él; si es un profeta, su profecía se va de él”. “Cuando un hombre se enoja, aún si la grandeza ha sido decretada para él, es reducido de su grandeza”

«“No te engañes a ti mismo, pensando que el castigo (Divino) no habrá de venir”»

“Porque siete veces cae el justo, y vuelve a levantarse; Mas los impíos caerán en el mal (sin volverse a levantar)”- Proverbios 24:16. El Justo, no es el aquel que “nunca cae” (es decir, que nunca comete un pecado); es aquel que, luego de haber caído, insiste en levantarse; a fin de, por medio del sincero arrepentimiento, continuar caminando hacia la perfección.

«Después que murió Rabbi (Judah I, el Patriarca) la humildad y el temor del pecado cesaron (de en medio del pueblo Judío)»

«El Rabino Hiyyah dijo: El día que Rabbi murió, cesó la santidad (de en medio del pueblo Judío)»

--Todo está en manos del Cielo, excepto el temor del cielo--

«Dijo el Rabino Hanina: “Todo está en manos del Cielo, excepto el temor del cielo; como se ha dicho, “Ahora Israel, ¿que pide Adonai Yah tu Dios de ti, sino que temas a Adonai Yah...” (Deut. 10:12)»

“Quien actúa [sirve a Dios motivado] por amor, es mayor a quien actúa por temor”»

No podemos pensar solo en nuestro propio bienestar

El hombre que se arrepiente, recibe una nueva Vida

Después de los cuarenta años, la bebida es mas beneficiosa que la comida

Aún después de encontrarse ya a la puerta de Gehinnom (el infierno), el impío rehúsa hacer penitencia (convertirse). Como está escrito: “Y saldrán, y verán los cadáveres de los hombres que se rebelaron contra mí”- Isa. 66:24 (en el original Hebreo de este verso, la palabra traducida como “se rebelaron” es “poshe'im”, la cual está en el tiempo presente). La Escritura no dice, “se rebelaron contra mí”, sino “se rebelan contra mí”, implicando así que continúan en rebelión perpetua

«No te emborraches, y no pecaras»

“Uno no debe hablar mientras mastica la comida, no sea que el conducto de aire se adelante a la garganta, y se ponga en riesgo la vida”

En una sesión de estudio, se debe dar precedencia a la sabiduría; en inclinarse (participar) en un festín, a la edad

«Cuando un hombre no enseña un oficio a su hijo, es como quien le enseña a ser un bribón»

«El que cría a un niño, es llamado “Padre”; no aquel que solamente le engendra»

“El alma de un justo, iguala en peso a todo el mundo; al mundo entero»

«El Santo de Israel (bendito sea), proclama diariamente el merito del hombre pobre- aquel que devuelve a su dueño un artículo perdido»

El Santo de Israel (bendito sea) tiene mas consideración por el honor de los justos, que por su propio honor

«El impulso a hacer lo mal, no tiene poder alguno sobre los ángeles»

«Un sueño, es una forma inmadura de profecía»

«¿Por que lo creemos? ¡Pues porque Moisés lo dice! ¿Y la opinión de los expertos? Pues que la escriban en un libro, y esperen treinta y cinco siglos; solo entonces podremos compararla con la de Moisés»

Para cada cosa física (tangible) hay una contra-parte no física (intangible); y el Creador es a su Universo, lo que el alma es al cuerpo humano

Para algunos, no hay tal cosa como un Dios; pues afirman que, esto último, no es sino “un cuento de hadas” utilizado para manipular a las masas. Para otros, no hay tal cosa como un Homosexual ateo; pues afirman que, esto último, no es sino “un cuento de hadas” utilizado para justificar la poca vergüenza

Permanecemos firmes como piedra, cuando estamos unidos; Y, estamos unidos, cuando permanecemos firmes sobre la Piedra [de los 10 mandamientos]

SERVICIO DE SHABBAT (SÁBADO HEBREO), SEGÚN LA LITURGIA DEL SAMARITANISMO REFORMADO

Reglas de conducta durante el servicio religioso

- 1) Evite el proselitismo, así como toda expresión religiosa (símbolos, literatura, conversaciones, etc) que cuestione o contradiga la importancia suprema que tiene el obedecer los diez mandamientos, tal y como lo exponen las leyes, los ritos, y las alegorías de la Ley Mosaica.
- 2) Diríjase a todos con respeto y cortesía; es decir, trate a todos con palabras tales como “usted”, y “tenga”.
- 3) No intente promover ni realizar transacción comercial alguna.
- 4) Evite toda conducta de naturaleza sexual, o moralmente cuestionable; un ejemplo de esto podría ser la innecesaria interacción con personas del sexo opuesto ; o el tocar a alguien del sexo opuesto que no pertenezca a su círculo familiar.
- 5) Evite el lenguaje profano, así como todo tipo de interrupción, ruido excesivo, alboroto, o altercado.
- 6) Mantenga su celular, así como todo tipo de equipo electrónico, apagado. No tome fotos, ni grabe nada en video sin primero obtener el permiso escrito del liderato de la congregación.
- 7) En la medida en que sea posible, evite la conversación de temas triviales acerca de la vida secular; la negatividad, los problemas en el trabajo, los conflictos familiares, la política, la economía, la arrogancia, la crítica, el lenguaje soez, el doble sentido, y cualquier otro tema o aptitud que lacere o menoscabe la atmósfera de dignidad, respeto, reverencia, y santidad que deben caracterizar la casa de adoración.

-- Al reunirnos en el lugar de adoración, nos saludamos unos a otros diciéndonos: “Shabbat Shalom” (“¡La Paz Del Shabbat!”).

--- Antes de comenzar el servicio, cada persona procede a lavarse el rostro y las manos [tal y como hacían los Sacerdotes y Levitas, antes de comenzar a ministrar en el tabernáculo], reconociendo así que, para que el Creador “nos mire” con su favor, debemos venir a Él con “manos limpias de toda maldad”. Cuando lave sus manos, diga: “¡Oh Dios de Abraham, te pido que limpies mi dureza de corazón, mi orgullo, y mi soberbia!”

--- Al entrar al área donde celebramos el servicio religioso, removemos el calzado de nuestros pies, siguiendo así la antigua costumbre del pueblo Hebreo, cuando ayunaba públicamente , implorando a Dios para que su bendición (la lluvia) descendiese desde los cielos.

--- Las mujeres se sientan aparte de los hombres, a fin de evitar distracciones.

--- Tanto hombres como mujeres se sientan en el piso, sobre alfombras previamente colocadas (ancianos y personas con serios problemas de espalda, pueden solicitar que se les provea una silla plegadiza)

--- Entonces, antes de encender las dos velas de Shabbat, la persona previamente designada, lee en alta voz las siguientes palabras:

"Como estas velas dan luz a todos los que las observan, que así mismo podamos nosotros dar luz a todos los que nos observan. Que así como su brillo nos recuerda las generaciones de Israel que han encendido luz, que así también podamos nosotros, en nuestro día, estar entre aquellos que enciendan luz".

--- Ahora la persona procede a encender las dos velas, y luego cubre sus ojos, mientras dice la siguiente oración:

בָּרוּךְ אַתָּה, יְיָ אֱלֹהֵינוּ, מֶלֶךְ
הָעוֹלָם, אֲשֶׁר קִדְּשָׁנוּ בְּמִצְוֹתָיו
וְצִוָּנוּ לְהַדְלִיק נֵר שֶׁל שַׁבָּת.

"Baruj Ata Adonai, Eloheinu melej ha olam, asher kideshanu bemitzvotai, vetzivanu lehadlik ner shel Shabbat"

(Te bendicimos a ti Señor Dios nuestro, rey del Universo. Tu nos haz santificado con tus mandamientos y nos has ordenado encender las luces del Shabbat)

¡Que haya gozo! (¡Que haya Luz!); ¡Que haya Paz! (¡Que haya Shabbat!)

--- Luego el Hazán (la persona que conduce el servicio) procede a ponerse de pie ante la congregación y, luego de darles la paz diciendo "Shalomaleychem" (la paz sea sobre vosotros), dice las siguientes palabras:

"Un arameo a punto de perecer fue mi padre, el cual descendió a Egipto y habitó allí con pocos hombres, y allí creció y llegó a ser una nación grande, fuerte y numerosa; y los egipcios nos maltrataron y nos afligieron, y pusieron sobre nosotros dura servidumbre. Y clamamos a el Señor Dios de nuestros padres; y El Señor oyó nuestra voz, y vio nuestra aflicción, nuestro trabajo y nuestra opresión; y El Señor nos sacó de Egipto con mano fuerte, con brazo extendido, con grande espanto, y con señales y con milagros; y nos trajo a este lugar, y nos dio esta tierra, tierra que fluye leche y miel".

--- Entonces, la congregación contesta diciendo:

"¡Esta tierra es sombra y figura de la vida que El Señor quiere para nosotros!; Nuestro Dios quiere que, viviendo una vida de humildad, nos sintamos como aquel que mora con el polvo de la tierra (Isaías 26:19); quiere que nuestros actos fortuitos de bondad sean los pequeños higos que endulcen, como la miel, nuestras vidas; Nuestro Dios quiere que el amarnos unos a los otros fluya de nosotros tan naturalmente como la leche materna fluye del pecho de la madre que amamanta a sus criaturas. Es por eso que en este día, venimos ante el Creador del Universo con un corazón sincero y humillado, implorando que su presencia nunca se aleje del altar en que se ha constituido nuestra vida, de modo que podamos seguir siendo esta buena tierra, todos los días de nuestra vida" (Éxodo 20:24).

--- Entonces, el Hazán contesta diciendo:

¡Amén! ¡Baruj Ha Shem!

(Amén, bendito sea el nombre de nuestro Dios)

--- Luego, el Hazán dice estas palabras:

"Hermanos, la Torah dice que el Sumo Sacerdote tenía que primero hacer expiación por sus pecados, y solo entonces podía proceder a interceder por los pecados del pueblo. Si esto era cierto con respecto al Sumo Sacerdote, ¡cuanto más lo es con respecto a nosotros mismos! En adición, se nos ordenó (Deut. 20:10) que, cuando nos acercáramos a una ciudad, para combatirla, debíamos primero intimarle Paz. Por otro lado, nuestra tradición dice que Dios perdona el pecado del penitente; pero que, con respecto a las faltas cometidas contra nuestro prójimo, somos nosotros mismos los responsables de procurar la reconciliación con nuestro prójimo. Así, si he ofendido a alguno de los aquí presentes, ya sea de palabra, de obra, o de omisión, reconozco públicamente que he obrado mal, y pido sinceramente ser perdonado".

--- Entonces, los presentes responden diciendo:

"Os perdonamos vuestras ofensas, que el Dios de Avraham perdone también nuestras ofensas".

--- Entonces, el Hazán dice:

"¡En el momento en que ganamos la batalla interior, en ese mismo momento cesa la batalla exterior! ¿Estamos todos en paz? ¿Nos hemos ya perdonado todos unos a los otros?"

--- A lo cual la congregación responde diciendo:

"¡Amén! (¡así sea!). Bendito es Adonai el Señor, el Dios Omnipotente, que hace que el león y el cordero habiten juntos en armonía" (Isaías 11:6).

— El Hazán dice:

"Hermanos, el Rey Shlomo (Salomón) nos alentó a servir al Rey de Reyes, cuando nos dijo que los mandamientos de Yah son lámpara, y su Torah (instrucción) es luz; y camino de vida son sus reprensiones (mandamientos) que nos instruyen. Proclamemos ahora nuestra sumisión a la Ley de nuestro gran Rey

--- Entonces la congregación contesta diciendo:

Me comprometo con creer en la existencia y soberanía de Yah (יהוה)

Me comprometo con no adorar, no orar, ni tampoco servir, a nada que tenga una imagen física; ni a Dios alguno fuera de Adonai Yah

Me comprometo con no pronunciar en vano el nombre de Adonai Yah

Me comprometo con santificar el día de descanso (Shabbat)

Me comprometo con honrar y respetar a mis padres físicos y espirituales

Me comprometo con no matar ni dañar al hombre o a la mujer inocente

Me comprometo con alejarme de todo aquello que pueda inducirme a la fornicación, al adulterio, al incesto, a la homosexualidad, o al bestialismo

Me comprometo con no secuestrar el cuerpo ni la mente de aquel que es mas débil o ingenuo que yo

Me comprometo con no mentir, difamando a mis semejantes, jurando falsamente, o dañando a mi prójimo por medio de una falsa pieza de información

Me comprometo con no robar, ni intentar traer dentro de mi posesión, cualquier cosa que ya pertenezca lícitamente a otra persona

--- Entonces el Hazán procede a cantar la oración "ose shalom" ("el que hace la paz"):

עֲשֵׂה שְׁלוֹם בְּמִרוֹמָיו, הוּא יַעֲשֶׂה
שְׁלוֹם עָלֵינוּ וְעַל-כָּל-יִשְׂרָאֵל,
וְאָמְרוּ: אָמֵן.

"Ose shalom bimromaiv, hu yaaseh shalom aleinu ve al kol Yisrael, ve'imru: Amén"

(Que aquel que hace que la Paz reine en los altos cielos, haga que la Paz reine entre nosotros, en todo Israel, y en el mundo entero).

--- Luego, cada miembro de la congregación se vuelve a su mano derecha y, estrechando la mano de quien se encuentra a ese lado, le dice las siguientes palabras:

"Shalom aleynu ve al kol Yisrael"

(que la paz sea sobre nosotros, y sobre todo Israel).

--- Después, la persona se vuelve a su mano izquierda, y le da el mismo saludo a quien se encuentra en ese lado.

--- Al concluir el saludo, el Hazán dice:

"Baruj Shem Kevod Maljuto, Le olam va ed"

(Bendita sea la gloria majestuosa de su reino, desde ahora y para siempre).

--- Entonces el Hazán dirige la congregación a cantar el pasaje (Salmo 133) que dice:

הִנֵּה מָה טוֹב וּמָה נָעִים
שֶׁבֶת אֲחִים גַּם יַחַד.

"Hine ma tov u ma naim, shevet ajim gam yahad"

(Mirad cuan bueno y cuan placentero es habitar los hermanos juntos en armonía).

--- Luego el Hazán (o la persona designada) se para frente a la congregación para dirigirla a cantar la oración llamada "ve-shamru" (y guardaran...):

וְשָׁמְרוּ בְנֵי-יִשְׂרָאֵל אֶת-הַשַּׁבָּת.
לְעֲשׂוֹת אֶת-הַשַּׁבָּת לְדֹרֹתָם בְּרִית
עוֹלָם. בֵּינִי וּבֵין בְּנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל אוֹת
הִיא לְעֹלָם, כִּי-שֵׁשֶׁת יָמִים עָשָׂה
יְיָ אֶת-הַשָּׁמַיִם וְאֶת-הָאָרֶץ, וּבַיּוֹם
הַשְּׁבִיעִי שָׁבַת וַיִּנְפָשׁ.

"Ve-shamru benei Yisrael et HaShabbat
Lasot et HaShabbat ledorotam berit olam
Beini ubein benei Yisrael ot hi le-olam
Ki sheshet yamim asa Adonai et ha shamaim v-et ha-aretz u-vayom hashvi-i Shabbat vayinafash".

(Los hijos de Israel guardarán el Shabbat, observando el Shabbat en cada generación como un pacto perpetuo. Es una señal entre mí y los hijos de Israel. Porque en seis días el Dios Eterno creó el cielo y la tierra, y en el séptimo día cesó de sus obras, y fue refrescado).

--- Luego de esto, el Hazán (o la persona para esto designada) procede a decir la oración llamada el "ve ahavtah":

וְאַהֲבַתְּ אֶת יְיָ אֱלֹהֶיךָ בְּכָל-לִבְּךָ
וּבְכָל-נַפְשְׁךָ וּבְכָל-מְאֹדֶךָ וְהָיוּ
הַדְּבָרִים הָאֵלֶּה אֲשֶׁר אֲנֹכִי מְצַוְךָ
הַיּוֹם עַל-לִבְּךָ וְשָׁנַנְתָּם לְבְנֶיךָ
וּדְבַרְתָּ בָּם בְּשַׁבָּתְךָ בְּבֵיתְךָ
וּבְלִקְתְּךָ בְּדַרְךָ וּבְשֹׂכְבְךָ וּבְקוּמְךָ
וּקְשַׁרְתָּם לְאוֹת עַל-יָדְךָ וְהָיוּ
לְטָטְפֹת בֵּין עֵינֶיךָ וְכִתְבָתָם עַל-
מְזוֹזוֹת בֵּיתְךָ וּבְשַׁעְרֶיךָ.

לְמַעַן תִּזְכְּרוּ וַעֲשִׂיתֶם אֶת-כָּל-
מִצְוֹתַי וְהֵייתֶם קְדוֹשִׁים לֵאלֹהֵיכֶם.
אֲנִי יְיָ אֱלֹהֵיכֶם אֲשֶׁר הוֹצֵאתִי
אֶתְכֶם מֵאֶרֶץ מִצְרַיִם לֵהָיוֹת לְכֶם
לֵאלֹהִים. אֲנִי יְיָ אֱלֹהֵיכֶם.

(Y amarás al Señor, tu Dios, con todo tu corazón y con toda tu alma, y con todas tus fuerzas. Y estas palabras que Yo te ordeno en este día estarán sobre tu corazón, y las repetirás a tus hijos, y hablarás de ellas estando en tu casa, y andando por el camino, y al acostarte, y al levantarte. Y las atarás como señal en tu brazo, y estarán como recordatorio entre tus ojos; y las escribirás en los postes de tu casa y en tus puertas. Recuerda todos mis mandamientos, para ponerlos por obra; así os consagraréis vosotros mismos a vuestro Dios. Yo soy vuestro Dios Eterno, que os saque de Egipto para ser vuestro Dios; yo soy vuestro Dios Eterno).

--- Ahora el Hazán (o la persona designada) pasa al frente y canta la oración llamada "Avinu Malkeinu" (Nuestro Padre, nuestro Rey):

אָבִינוּ מַלְכֵנוּ, חַנּוּן וְעֲנּוּן, כִּי אִיוּ בָנוּ מַעֲשֵׂים.
עֲשֵׂה עִמָּנוּ צְדָקָה וְחַסֵּד וְהוֹשִׁיעֵנוּ.

"Avinu Malkeinu, janeinu va-aneinu
Avinu Malkeinu, janeinu va-aneinu
Ki ein banu maasim

*(Nuestro Padre, Nuestro Rey ten misericordia de nosotros y contéstanos porque no tenemos buenas obras, trátanos con compasión y misericordia,
y sálvanos).*

--- A continuación, la persona designada viene al frente, y lee las palabras del salmo 81:3-4 :
"Tocad la trompeta en la nueva luna, En el día señalado, en el día de nuestra solemnidad. Porque estatuto es de Israel, Ordenanza del Dios de Jacob".

--- Luego que la persona se sienta, pasa al frente la persona designada para tocar el Shofar, y dice (con la ayuda del Hazán) la siguiente bendición:

"Baruj ata Adonai Eloheinu melej ha olam asher kidishanu bemitsvotav vetsivanu lishmoa kol shofar"

(Bendito eres tu Señor Dios nuestro, Rey del Universo, que nos has consagrado con tus mandamientos, y nos has ordenado escuchar el sonido del Shofar).

--- Luego de decir esta bendición, la persona procede a soplar el shofar

--- Luego que la persona vuelve a su lugar, el Hazán pide a la congregación ponerse de pie para cantar el "Shema". Mientras se cubren los ojos con las manos, se dice lo siguiente:

שְׁמַע יִשְׂרָאֵל: יְיָ אֱלֹהֵינוּ, יְיָ אֶחָד!
כְּרוּף שָׁם כְּבוֹד מַלְכוּתוֹ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד!

"Shema Yisrael, Adonai Elojenu, Adonai Ejad. (Voz Baja): Baruj Shem Kevod, Maljuto leolam Vaed"

(Escucha, oh Israel, el Señor es nuestro Dios, el Señor es Uno -en todo el universo, no hay nada ni nadie igual a nuestro Dios-. Bendita sea la gloria majestuosa de su reino, desde ahora y para siempre).

--- Ahora, el Hazán procede a cantar el salmo 29 (Mizmor le David).

UN SALMO PARA DAVID:

*(Atribuyan a Adonai seres divinos, atribuyan a Adonai gloria y
fuerza.*

*Atribuyan a Adonai la gloria de su nombre, póstrense ante
Adonai en la belleza del santo.
la voz de Adonai sobre las aguas, el Dios de la gloria trueno,
Adonai sobre las aguas numerosas.*

*La voz de Adonai con fuerza, la voz de Adonai con majestad.
la voz de Adonai rompe los cedros, astilla Adonai los cedros del Líbano.*

*Los hace bailar como una ternera, [a los montes] Líbano
y Sirión como un joven buey.
La voz de Adonai cincela las llamas del fuego.*

La voz de Adonai sacude el desierto, sacude Adonai el desierto de Kadesh.

La voz de Adonai tuerce los robles y devasta los bosques, en su santuario todos dicen "gloria".

Adonai durante el diluvio permaneció, establecido está Adonai como el Rey para siempre. Adonai fuerza a su pueblo le dará, Adonai bendecirá a su pueblo con la Paz.)

--- Luego de terminar el salmo, todos se ponen de pie, mirando hacia el Medio Oriente (Yerushalaim), para recitar una versión abreviada de la Amidah. Siempre que durante esta oración se mencionen las palabras "Baruj ata Adonai"(Bendito eres tu Señor), el Hazán se inclina hacia el frente, en señal de reverencia:

אֲדֹנָי, שְׁפַתִּי תִפְתָּח, וּפִי יִגִּיד תְּהִלָּתֶךָ.

"Adonai sefatai tiftaj, ufi yagid tehilateja"
(Adonai, abre mis labios y mi boca declarará tu alabanza)

(;Eterno es tu poder, mi Señor , tu eres quien resucita a los muertos; abundantemente capaz de salvar. Con tu bondad sostienes a los vivos, con tu abundante misericordia resucitas a los muertos; eres quien sostiene al caído, sanas al enfermo, libertas al cautivo, y mantienes la fe con aquellos que duermen en el polvo de la tierra. ¿Quién puede igualarte, Dios poderoso? ¿Quién es semejante a ti, oh Rey que causas la muerte y restauras la vida, y hace que la salvación germine? Dios de la vida y la muerte, Fuente de la Salvación. Bendito eres tu Adonai, Fuente de vida. Y tu eres fiel para resucitar a los muertos. Bendito eres tu Señor, quien resucita a los muertos)

--- En este punto, la congregación se vuelve hacia el Hazán y, permaneciendo aún de pie, dice la siguiente oración, llamada "Kedushah" (santificación):

נְקַדֵּשׁ אֶת־שִׁמְךָ בְּעוֹלָם, כְּשֵׁם
שִׁמְךָ דִּישִׁים אוֹתוֹ בְּשָׁמַי מְרוֹם,
כַּכְּתוּב עַל־יַד נְבִיאֶךָ: וְקָרָא
זֶה אֶל־זֶה וְאָמַר:

קָדוֹשׁ, קָדוֹשׁ, קָדוֹשׁ יְיָ צְבָאוֹת,
מְלֵא כָּל־הָאָרֶץ כְּבוֹדוֹ.

"Nekadesh et shimja va-olam, keshem shemake-dishim oto bish-mei marom, kakatuv al yad ne-vieja: ve-kara ze el ze ve-amar: Kadosh, Kadosh, Kadosh Adonai ze-vaot me-lo jol ha-aretz kevodo"

(Santificaremos tu nombre en este mundo, así como es santificado arriba en los cielos; como fue escrito por tu profeta, "Y un ángel llamaba a otro diciendo ¡Santo! ¡Santo! ¡Santo es el Señor de los ejércitos! Toda la tierra está llena de tu gloria)

אֲדִיר אֲדִירֵנוּ, יְיָ אֲדִירֵנוּ,
מָה־אֲדִיר שִׁמְךָ בְּכָל־הָאָרֶץ!

"¡Adir adirenu, Adonai Adoneinu, mah adir shim-ja ve-kol ha aretz!"

(Fuente de nuestra fuerza, Señor Dios nuestro, ¡cuan majestuoso es tu nombre en toda la tierra!)

בָּרוּךְ כְּבוֹד־יְיָ מִמְּקוֹמוֹ.

"Baruj kevod Adonai mi-mekomo"

(Bendita sea la gloria de Dios, en el cielo y en la tierra)

אָחַד הוּא אֱלֹהֵינוּ, הוּא אָבִינוּ,
הוּא מַלְכֵנוּ, הוּא מוֹשִׁיעֵנוּ; וְהוּא
יִשְׁמִיעֵנוּ בְּרַחֲמָיו לְעֵינֵי כָל־חַי:

"Ejad hu Eloheinu, hu Avinu, hu Malkeinu, hu moshieinu; ve-hu yashmienu ve-rajamaiv le-einei kol jai"

(Solo Tu eres nuestro Dios, nuestro Padre, nuestro Rey, nuestro libertador, y nuestro ayudador; y en tu misericordia te revelas a la vista de todos los seres vivos)

”אָנִי יְיָ אֱלֹהֵיכֶם!”

"¡Ani Adonai Eloheijem!"

(¡Yo soy tu Dios Eterno!)

יִמְלֹךְ יְיָ לְעוֹלָם, אֱלֹהֵיךְ צִיּוֹן, לְדוֹר וָדוֹר. הַלְלוּיָהּ!

"¡Yimloj Adonai le-olam, Elohaij tzion, le-dor va-dor, hale-luyah!"

(El Dios Eterno reinará para siempre; tu Dios, oh Zion, de generación en generación. ¡Haleluyah!)

לְדוֹר וָדוֹר נַגִּיד גַּדְלֵךְ, וְלִנְצַח
נִצְחִים קִדְשְׁתָּךְ נִקְדֵּישׁ. וְשִׁבְחֵךְ,
אֱלֹהֵינוּ, מִפִּינוּ לֹא יִמוּשׁ לְעוֹלָם
וָעֵד. * בָּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְיָ, הָאֵל
הַקָּדוֹשׁ.

"Le-dor va-dor nagid gad-leja, u'le-netzaj ne-tzajim ke-dushate-ja nake-dish. Ve-shiv-jaja, Eloheinu, mi-pinu lo yamush, le-olam va-ed. Baruj atah Adonai, ha-El ha-Kadosh".

(De generación en generación haremos conocer tu grandeza , y hasta la eternidad proclamaremos tu santidad. Tu alabanza, oh Dios, nunca se apartara de nuestros labios)

--- Ahora la congregación se sienta, y el Hazán procede a decir la siguiente oración:

אַתָּה קָדוֹשׁ וְשִׁמְךָ קָדוֹשׁ וְקָדוֹשִׁים
בְּכָל-יוֹם יְהַלְלֶנּוּךָ, סְלַח * בְּרוּךְ
אַתָּה יי, הָאֵל הַקָּדוֹשׁ.

"Ata kadosh veshimja kadosh, ukedoshim bejol yom yehalelujah selah. Baruj Ata Adonai, hael Ha-Kadosh".

(Tu eres Santo, y tu nombre es Santo, y diariamente proclamamos tu Santidad. Bendito eres tu Adonai, el Santo Dios).

--- Entonces toda la congregación procede a cantar la siguiente oración:

יְהִי לְרָצוֹן אִמְרֵי-פִי וְהִגִּיוֹן
לְבִי לְפָנֶיךָ, יי צוּרֵי וְגֹאֲלֵי.

עֲשֵׂה שְׁלוֹם בְּמְרוֹמָיו, הוּא יַעֲשֵׂה
שְׁלוֹם עָלֵינוּ וְעַל-כָּל-יִשְׂרָאֵל,
וְאָמְרוּ: אָמֵן.

"Yiheyu le'ratzon imrei fi, vehegyon livi lefaneija, Adonai tzuri ve'goali. Oseh Shalom binromaiv, hu yaaseh shalom aleinu v'al kol Yisrael, v'imru: amen"

(Que los dichos de mi boca y la meditación de mi corazón sean aceptables ante ti, oh Dios, mi roca y mi redentor. Que aquel que hace que la paz reine en los altos cielos, haga que la paz reine entre nosotros, en todo Israel, y en el mundo entero. Y decid: Amén)

--- Ahora la congregación se pone de pie, y todos recitan la siguiente bendición:

*Reunidos al pie de la montaña, nuestro pueblo,
aún doblgado por la opresión,
te encontré a ti,
encontré tu Torah,
encontré tu verdad
y abrazó el destino que ha moldeado mundos.*

*Ayúdanos a continuar dándole forma al mundo de acuerdo a tu voluntad;
ayúdanos a enseñar y a aprender,
a oír nuevamente tu palabra,
y a encontrar en ella nuestra senda al bien y la verdad.*

--- Permaneciendo aún de pie, todos recitan la siguiente bendición:

עַל שְׁלוֹשָׁה דְּבָרִים הָעוֹלָם עוֹמֵד:
עַל הַתּוֹרָה, וְעַל הָעֲבוּדָה, וְעַל
גְּמִילוּת חַסְדִּים.

“Al shloshah devarim ha-olam omed al ha-torah, ve-al ha-avodah, ve-al guemilut hasadim”

*(El mundo depende de tres cosas:
de la Torah, de la adoración, y de actos de misericordia)*

--- Ahora el Hazán dirige la congregación a cantar la siguiente oración:

אֵין-כְּמוֹךָ בָּאֱלֹהִים, אֲדֹנָי, וְאֵין
כְּמַעֲשֶׂיךָ. מַלְכוּתְךָ מְלֻכּוֹת כָּל-
עוֹלָמִים, וּמְשַׁלְּתְךָ בְּכָל-דּוֹר וְדוֹר.
יְהוָה מְלֵךְ, יְהוָה מְלֵךְ, יְהוָה יִמְלֹךְ
לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד. יְהוָה עֵז לְעַמּוֹ יִתֵּן,
יְהוָה יְבָרֵךְ אֶת-עַמּוֹ בְּשָׁלוֹם.

“Ein-kamoja ba’elohim Adonai, v’ein kema’aseija. Malchuteja, maljut kol-olamim, u’memshalteja b’jol-dor va’dor. Adonai melej, Adonai malaj, Adonai yimloch, l’olam va’ed. Adonai oz l’amo yiten, Adonai yivarej et amo va’shalom”

(No hay nadie como tu Señor entre los dioses que son adorados, y no hay obras como las tuyas. Tu soberanía es Eterna; tu reino por todas las generaciones. El Señor reina; El Señor reinará para siempre. El Señor dará fuerza a su pueblo. El Señor bendecirá a su pueblo con la Paz)

--- Ahora el Hazán dirige la congregación a ponerse de pie y decir la siguiente oración:

אֵל חַרְחַמִּים, הִיטִיבָה בְּרָצוֹנָךְ
אֶת צִיּוֹן: תִּבְנֶה חוֹמוֹת
יְרוּשָׁלַיִם. כִּי בָךְ לְבַד בְּטַחָנוּ,
מֶלֶךְ אֵל רַם וְנִשְׂא, אֲדוֹן עוֹלָמִים.

“El jarajamim heitivah viretzoneja et tzion: tivneh jomot
Yerushalaim. Ki veja levad vatajnu, melej el ram venisa, Adom olamim”

(Fuente de la misericordia, permite que tu bondad sea una bendición para Zion: permite que Jerusalén sea reconstruida. En ti solamente confiamos, Oh Soberano Dios, Señor de todos los mundos)

--- En este momento, se abre el Arca donde se encuentra el rollo de la Torah, y entonces el Hazán dirige la congregación a cantar la siguiente oración:

כִּי מִצִּיּוֹן תֵּיצֵא תוֹרָה, וּדְבַר-
יְהוָה מִירוּשָׁלַיִם. בָּרוּךְ שֶׁנָּתַן
תוֹרָה לְעַמּוֹ יִשְׂרָאֵל בְּקִדְשָׁתוֹ.

“Ki mitziyon teitzei Torah ud’var-Adonai mi’rushalayim. Baruj shenatan Torah l’amo Yisrael bik’dushato”

(Porque de Zión saldrá la Torah, y la palabra de Dios desde Jerusalén. Bendito es aquel quien en su santidad dió la Torah al pueblo de Israel)

--- Ahora el Hazán dirige la congregación a decir la siguiente oración:

בֵּית יַעֲקֹב, לְכוּ, וְנִלְכֶה בְּאוֹר יְיָ.

“Beit Yaakov, leju, ve-nelejah be-or Adonai”

(Oh casa de Yaakov, venid y andemos a la luz de nuestro Dios)

--- Luego el Hazán dirige la congregación a cantar la siguiente oración:

שְׁמַע יִשְׂרָאֵל יְיָ אֱלֹהֵינוּ, יְיָ אֶחָד!
אֶחָד אֱלֹהֵינוּ, גָּדוֹל אֲדֹנֵינוּ, קְדוֹשׁ שְׁמוֹ!

“Sh’ma Yisrael Adonai Eloheinu, Adonai Ejad!

Ejad Eloheinu, gadol Adoneinu, kadosh sh’mo! ”

(Escucha Israel, El Señor es nuestro Dios, El Señor es único; en todo el universo, no hay nada ni nadie igual a Adonai. El nuestro es un solo Dios; grande es nuestro Señor, y Santo es su nombre)

--- Inmediatamente, todos recitan la siguiente bendición:

גְּדַלּוֹ לַיְיָ אֱתִי, וְנִרְוִמָהּ
שְׁמוֹ יַחְדָּו.

“Gadalu Le-Adonai iti, une-romemah, shemo yahedav”

(Proclamad la grandeza de Dios conmigo, y juntos exaltemos el nombre de Dios)

--- Con la congregación aún de pie, se hace la procesión de la Torah, mientras todos recitan la siguiente bendición:

לְךָ, יְיָ, הַגְּדָלָה וְהַגְּבוּרָה וְהַתְּפָאֶרֶת
וְהַנִּצָּח וְהַהוֹד, כִּי כֹל בַּשָּׁמַיִם
וּבָאָרֶץ, לְךָ, יְיָ, הַמַּמְלָכָה וְהַמְתַּנְשֵׂא
לְכֹל לְרֹאשׁ.

“Leja, Adonai, hagedulah vehaguevurah ve-hatiferet ve-hanetzaj vehahod, ki kol ba-shamaim u-vaaretz, leja Adonai ha-mamelajah ve-hamitenase

lejol le-rosh”

(Tuyos oh Dios son la grandeza, el poder, la gloria, la victoria, y la majestad: porque todo lo que está en el cielo y en la tierra es tuyo)

--- Ahora toda la congregación se sienta, y la persona designada para hacer aliyah (alguien con kippah y Tallit) viene a la Torah (que ya se encuentra de vuelta en la Bimah). Esta persona besa la punta de su Tzitzit, y procede a tocar con este el rollo de la Torah, mientras dice la siguiente oración:

בְּרַכּוּ אֶת־יְיָ הַמְּבַרְךְ!
בְּרוּךְ יְיָ הַמְּבַרְךְ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד!
בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה, יְיָ אֱלֹהֵינוּ, מֶלֶךְ
הָעוֹלָם, אֲשֶׁר בָּחַר בָּנוּ מִכָּל־
הָעַמִּים וְנָתַן לָנוּ אֶת־תּוֹרָתוֹ.
בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְיָ, נוֹתֵן הַתּוֹרָה.

"Barju et Adonai ha Mevoraj!

Baruj Adonai Ha Mevoraj le olam vaed

Baruj Adonai Ha Mevoraj le olam vaed

(¡Bendito es aquel a quien debemos nuestra alabanza!

¡Bendito es aquel a quien debemos nuestra alabanza desde ahora y para siempre!

Te alabamos a ti , Dios eterno, soberano del Universo: Tu nos has llamado a tu servicio dándonos la Torah. Te alabamos a ti, oh Dios, dador de la Torah)

--- Entonces, la persona designada para exponer la porción de la semana (Parasha y/o Haftarah), procede con el mensaje; no sin antes pedir a la congregación que se ponga en pie, para juntos hacer la siguiente confesión de fe:

«Oh יהוה (Adonai Yah), Señor Dios de Abraham, Confieso que No hay otro Dios, Rey, ni Salvador tan grande como Tu; Confieso que no hay otro profeta tan grande como Moisés; ni hay otra Ley tan grande como Tus Diez Mandamientos. Confieso que no hay otra Escritura tan grande como Tu Ley (la Torah); ni hay otro pueblo tan grande como los antiguos hijos de Israel. Y confieso que no hay otra teología tan grande, verdadera, y justa, como la de “Medida por Medida” (o “Siembra y Cosecha”): recompensar a cada uno, con el mismo bien que, con sus obras, haya libre y voluntariamente sembrado; y castigar a cada uno con el mismo mal que, con sus obras, haya libre y voluntariamente sembrado (sin nunca haberse arrepentido). Gracias, porque has escuchado nuestra oración, has perdonado nuestras faltas, y nos has hecho en este día un miembro integral de tu Pueblo Santo; el Pueblo de Dios alegóricamente prefigurado por la antigua nación Hebrea. Amén»

--- Una vez concluida la exposición, el Hazán se pone de pie, y dirige la congregación a decir la siguiente oración:

בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה, יְיָ אֱלֹהֵינוּ, מֶלֶךְ
הָעוֹלָם, אֲשֶׁר נָתַן לָנוּ תּוֹרַת
אֱמֶת וְחַיֵּי עוֹלָם נָטַע בְּתוֹכֵנוּ.
בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה, יְיָ, נוֹתֵן הַתּוֹרָה.

"Baruj ata Adonai, Eloheinu melej ha olam asher natan lanu Torah emetz ve-hayei olam nata betojeinu
Baruj ata Adonai, noten ha Torah
Amén"

(Te alabamos a ti Dios Eterno, Soberano del universo: Tu nos has dado una Torah verdadera, implantando dentro de nosotros vida eterna. Te alabamos a ti oh Dios, dador de la Torah)

---- Ahora, con la congregación de pie, la persona designada levanta en alto el rollo abierto de la Torah. Y, mientras se canta la siguiente oración, cada congregante apunta con el extremo de su tallit hacia el rollo abierto de la Torah:

וְזֹאת הַתּוֹרָה אֲשֶׁר-שָׂם מֹשֶׁה לְפָנָי
בְּנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל, עַל-פִּי יְיָ בְּיַד-מֹשֶׁה.

"Ve-zot HaTorah asher sam Moshe lifnei benei Yisrael, al pi Adonai ve-yad Moshe"

(Esta es la Torah que Moisés puso ante los Hijos de Israel, para cumplir la palabra de Dios)

--- Ahora, todos se ponen de pie, y dicen la siguiente oración, mientras el rollo de la Torah es devuelto al interior del Arca (por el momento, las puertas del Arca permanecerán abiertas):

יְהִלְלוּ אֶת שֵׁם יְיָ,
כִּי נִשְׁגָּב שְׁמוֹ לְבָדוֹ.

“Ye-hale-lu et shem Adonai ki nisgav she-mo le-vado”

(Alabemos al Dios Eterno, cuyo nombre es solamente exaltado)

--- Todavía de pie, la congregación canta la siguiente oración:

הוֹדוּ עַל אֶרֶץ וְשָׁמַיִם.
וַיִּרְם קֶרֶן לְעַמּוֹ, תְּהִלָּה לְכֹל
חֲסִידָיו, לְבְנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל עִם קְרוֹבוֹ.
הִלְלוּיָהּ!

“Hodu al eretz ve-shamaim.

Vay-yarem keren le-am, te-hilah lejol jasidaiv, livnei Yisrael am ke-rovo hale-luyah!”

(Tu esplendor cubre los cielos y la tierra; tu eres la fortaleza de tu pueblo, haciendo gloriosos a tus fieles, Israel, un pueblo cercano a ti. ¡Aleluyah!)

--- Todavía de pie, el Hazán dirige a la congregación a decir las siguientes palabras:

*La enseñanza de Dios es perfecta, que revive el alma;
La palabra de Dios es infalible, hace sabio al sencillo.
Los preceptos de Dios son rectos, deleitan la mente;
El mandamiento de Dios es claro, da luz a los ojos.
La doctrina de Dios es pura, permanece para siempre;
La guianza de Dios es verdadera, y completamente justa.*

(He aquí se os ha dado una buena doctrina, mi Torah; no la olvidéis. Es árbol de vida a todos los que a ella se aferran, y todos los que la exaltan encuentran felicidad. Sus caminos son caminos de placer, y todas sus sendas son paz. Ayúdanos a volver a ti, oh Dios; entonces habremos verdaderamente retornado. Renueva nuestros días, como en el pasado)

--- En este momento, la persona designada procede a cerrar el Arca

--- Ahora la congregación se pone de pie para cantar el “Aleinu”:

עֲלֵינוּ לְשַׁבַּח לְאֲדוֹן הַכֹּל, לְתֵת
גְּדֻלָּה לְיוֹצֵר בְּרֵאשִׁית, שְׁלֹא

(Debemos alabar al Dios de todas las cosas, al Creador de los cielos y la tierra, quien nos ha separado de las otras familias de la tierra, dándonos un destino único entre las naciones. Por tanto, nos inclinamos en pleitesía y alabanza ante aquel que es soberano de todas las cosas, aquel que es
Santo y Bendito)

(Dios extiende los cielos, y establece la tierra - Isaías 51:13; Tu eres nuestro Dios; no hay nadie fuera de ti. En verdad, solo tu eres nuestro Dios soberano, como está escrito en la Torah: conoce en este día y lleva a tu corazón que Adonai es Dios arriba en los cielos, y abajo en la tierra; no hay nadie fuera de Él (Deuteronomio 4:39). Y ha sido dicho: Adonai será Rey sobre toda la tierra; En aquel día Adonai será uno, y el nombre de Dios será Uno - Zacarías 14:9).

---- Ahora, el Hazán dice las siguientes palabras (la congregación responde a cada oración, con la porción que se muestra en itálico):

¿Y ahora Israel, que es lo que el Dios Eterno pide de ti?

"Caminar en mis caminos, amarme y servirme con todo tu corazón, y toda tu alma"

Ayúdame a conocer tus caminos, oh Dios: enséñame tus sendas. Condúceme en tu verdad, y guíame.

"Quiero misericordia, y no sacrificios; el conocimiento de Dios, en vez de las ofrendas quemadas"

¿Con que vendré ante el Dios Eterno?

"Alejaos del mal, y haced el bien: así viviréis para siempre, porque Dios ama la justicia"

Ha sido enseñado: "Haced justicia, amad misericordia, y andad humildemente con vuestro Dios"

Ha sido enseñado: "Guardad justicia y rectitud"

Ha sido enseñado: "Buscadme, y viviréis"

Ha sido enseñado: "Los justos vivirán por su fe"

Y ha sido enseñado: "Y sucederá que el Espíritu de Dios será derramado sobre toda carne; vuestros hijos y vuestras hijas profetizarán, vuestros ancianos soñarán sueños, y vuestros jóvenes verán visiones"

Purifica mi corazón para servirte en verdad. Consagra mi corazón para reverenciar tu nombre. Crea en mi un corazón puro, oh Dios, y renueva dentro de mi un espíritu dispuesto

Yo soy Hebreo, porque la fe de Israel prohíbe la abdicación del intelecto

Yo soy Hebreo porque la fe de Israel requiere de mi, toda la devoción de mi corazón

Yo soy Hebreo porque, en cada momento de desasosiego, el Hebreo mantiene la esperanza Yo soy Hebreo porque, el mensaje de Israel, es el más antiguo, y también el más moderno...

Yo soy Hebreo porque, para Israel, el mundo no ha sido aún completado: nosotros todavía lo estamos completando...

Yo soy Hebreo porque, para Israel, la humanidad no está aún definitivamente creada: nosotros todavía la estamos creando...

Yo soy Hebreo porque Israel pone a la humanidad, y a la unidad de ella, no solo por encima de las naciones, sino por encima de Israel mismo.

Yo soy Hebreo porque, por encima de la humanidad (que es imagen de la unidad Divina), Israel pone a la unidad (que es Divina)

--- Luego, se hace memoria de los seres queridos que han partido de este mundo y, poniéndose de pie, toda la congregación procede a decir la oración llamada "El Kaddish":

יִתְגַּדַּל וְיִתְקַדַּשׁ שְׁמֵהּ רַבָּא. בְּעַלְמָא דִּי בְּרָא כְרַעוּתְהָ,

(Que la gloria de Dios sea ensalzada, y el grande nombre de Dios sea santificado en el mundo que creo de acuerdo a su voluntad. Que Dios reine en nuestro propio día, y en nuestra propia vida, y en la vida de toda la casa de Israel, y digamos: Amén. Que el grande nombre de Dios sea bendecido por siempre y eternamente. El Santo, el Bendito, está por encima de todas las alabanzas, canciones y adoraciones que podemos emitir; aún así, es Él a quien glorificamos, honramos y exaltamos. Y digamos: Amén. Que la bendición de la Paz, y la promesa de vida, se haga una realidad para nosotros, y para todo Israel. Y decid: Amén. Que aquel que causa que la paz reine en los altos cielos, haga que la paz reine en medio nuestro, en todo Israel, y en el mundo entero. Y digamos: Amén)

--- Entonces, se hace mención de aquellos que necesitan salud física, emocional o espiritual, y toda la congregación procede a cantar al unísono la siguiente oración:

מִי שְׁבֵרַךְ אֲבוֹתֵינוּ מְקוֹר הַבְּרָכָה לְאַמוֹתֵינוּ.
מִי שְׁבֵרַךְ אֲבוֹתֵינוּ מְקוֹר הַבְּרָכָה לְאַבוֹתֵינוּ.

"Mi sheberah avoteinu, mekor habraha le-imoteinu. [May the source of strength, who blessed the ones before us, help us find the courage to make our lives a blessing, and let us say "Amen"]. Mi sheberah imoteinu, mekor habraha la-avoteinu" [bless those in need of healing, with "Refuah Sh'leimah", the renewal of body, the renewal of spirit, and let us say "Amen"]

(Que la fuente de la fuerza, que bendijo a quienes nos precedieron, nos ayude a encontrar el coraje para hacer de nuestras vidas una bendición, y digamos: Amén. Bendice con tu "re-fuah she-leima", a quienes necesitan sanidad, una renovación del cuerpo, una renovación del espíritu, y digamos: Amén)

--- Para concluir, el Hazán cubre su cabeza con su tallit y, levantando las manos hacia la congregación, dice sobre ellos la bendición sacerdotal (Núm. 6:24-26):

“Yevarejéja Adonáy veyishmeréja: yaér Adonáy panáv eloéja vijunéja: yisá Adonáy panáv eléija. veyasém lejá shalóm”

(Que el Señor te bendiga y te guarde. Haga el Señor resplandecer Su rostro sobre ti, y tenga de ti misericordia. Que el Señor Dios alce su rostro hacia ti, y te conceda paz)

--- En este momento, la congregación pasa al lugar preparado para participar juntos del pan y del vino. Todos ponen en sus vasos una pequeña porción de vino (o jugo de uvas) y, el Hazán procede a levantar su copa, y decir la siguiente oración:

בָּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְיָ אֱלֹהֵינוּ מֶלֶךְ
הָעוֹלָם, בּוֹרֵא פְּרֵי הַגֶּפֶן.

בָּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְיָ אֱלֹהֵינוּ מֶלֶךְ

(Te adoramos a ti Dios Eterno, Soberano del Universo, Creador del fruto de la vid. Te adoramos a ti Dios Eterno, Soberano del Universo: Tu nos has llamado a la santidad por medio de la Mitzvah del Shabbat- El signo de tu amor, un recordatorio de tu obra creadora, y de nuestra liberación de la esclavitud Egipcia; nuestro día de días. En Shabbat prestamos especial atención a tu llamado para que seamos tu pueblo Santo. Especialmente Bendito eres tu Señor Dios nuestro, Rey del Universo, que creas el fruto de la Vid).

--- Entonces la congregación contesta diciendo:

“ ¡Le Jaim! “ (¡A la Vida!), ¡Shabbat Shalom! (¡La Paz del Shabbat!)

--- En este momento, todos proceden a beber de sus copas.

--- Inmediatamente después, el Hazán toma el pan de Jalá (trenzado), lo levanta, y dice la siguiente oración:

בָּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְיָ אֱלֹהֵינוּ מֶלֶךְ
הָעוֹלָם, הַמוֹצֵיא לֶחֶם מִן הָאָרֶץ.

"Baruj ata Adonai, Elojeinu Melej Ha Olam, ha motzi lehem min ha aretz" (Bendito eres tu Señor Dios nuestro, Rey del Universo, que nos das pan de la tierra).

--- Entonces todos proceden a tomar un pedazo de pan, y comerlo. Inmediatamente después de esto, la comunidad celebra un “oneg”, donde los miembros comparten juntos comida y bebida “kasher” (ningún tipo de mariscos, cerdo, o mezcla de carne roja y leche).

— Aqui termina el servicio de Shabbat —

Do good, and live every single day as if it were your last one [avoiding evil, knowing that you will soon have to give an account of your life in this Earth]. Doing so, you will become a good Samaritan; a son of God who is light in the midst of moral Darkness

“We have lost our understanding that it is right and proper to hate hateful things. We need a kind of rehab for our natural instincts of righteous indignation. It is about ordering our affections. Loving the things that God loves. Hating things that are wrong. We are told that any kind of hate is intrinsically unacceptable. It has been decided that none of us can hate anything. Yet these people are utterly lacking in mercy. They have no space for forgiveness. Cancel culture is all about demonstrating that there is no forgiveness, let alone tolerance in their souls. Cancel culture is nothing if not atheist cultural Marxism”.

¿Que creemos?

- 1) Creemos que hay un solo libro que posee absoluta e incontaminada inspiración Divina: el libro de Dios, que יהוה (el Creador y Juez del Universo) escribió con “su propio dedo”, sobre las dos tablas de piedra (los Diez Mandamientos).
- 2) Creemos que, a fin de aclarar la correcta interpretación (e implementación) de sus diez mandamientos, el Creador inspiró al profeta Moisés (con la posible ayuda del profeta Josué), quien escribió la profecía contenida en sus cinco libros: Génesis, Éxodo, Levítico, Números, y Deuteronomio (la Ley De Dios, o "Torah").
- 3) La profecía de Moisés (la Torah), no fue escrita sobre piedra, sino sobre rollos de papiro (o sobre pieles de ovejas).
- 4) Si el libro de Dios (los diez mandamientos) fue escrito sobre piedra, mientras que la profecía de Moisés fue escrita sobre papiro (o sobre pieles de ovejas), fue solo para enseñarnos que, así como la piedra tiene mucho mayor peso que el papiro (o que las pieles); de ese mismo modo, creer en (obedecer) los diez mandamientos, tiene mucho mayor peso que creer en cualquier profecía (la futura restauración de Israel, la futura reconstrucción del templo, la futura manifestación del Mesías, etc)
- 5) A consecuencia de lo anterior, creemos que la obediencia a los diez mandamientos, hace que el hombre entre en el pacto de su Creador; que obtenga el favor Divino, y que se convierta en parte del pueblo santo (apartado del mal) prefigurado por la nación Hebrea. Como esta escrito: «Y Él os anunció su pacto, el cual os mandó poner por obra; los diez mandamientos, y los escribió en dos tablas de piedra» (Deut. 4:13)
- 6) Por tanto, creemos que, el libro escrito por Dios (los diez mandamientos), así como los cinco libros de Moisés (que contienen su profecía), son la totalidad de la revelación Divina que el creyente necesita. Cualquier otro libro, no puede ser considerado sino comentario explicativo; pues, añadirlo al anterior canon, equivaldría a robarle a Dios una porción del terreno espiritual que, en el corazón (alma) del creyente, demarcan sus diez mandamientos. Es decir, utilizar alguna otra cosa (la restauración de Israel, la reconstrucción del templo, la venida del Mesías, etc) para disminuir (dividir o diluir) el celo que, por guardar los mandamientos del pacto, debe caracterizar al verdadero creyente. Como esta escrito: «No añadiréis a la palabra que yo os mando, ni disminuiréis de ella, para que guardéis (sin la innecesaria distracción que surgiría de añadir libros adicionales) los mandamientos de Yah vuestro Dios, que yo os ordeno» (Deut. 4:2).

El Camino de Dios

El bienestar eterno del ser humano, esta contenido en la Escritura que dice: “Apártate del mal, y haz el bien, y vivirás para siempre. Por que Yah ama la rectitud, y no desampara a sus Santos” (Salmo 37:27-28). Y, en cuanto al significado de “hacer el bien”, este se encuentra resumido en el siguiente verso: “Oh hombre, El te ha declarado lo que es bueno. Y, ¿que pide el Señor de ti? Solamente hacer Justicia, y amar misericordia, y humillarte ante tu Dios” (Miqueas 6:8).

Pero, alguien podría cuestionar esta interpretación, citando el verso que dice: “Hay camino que al hombre parece derecho, pero su fin es camino de muerte” (Proverbios 14:12). ¿Como podemos corroborar que “el camino” que agrada al Creador esta en hacer lo bueno (hacer el bien encarnado en sus diez mandamientos), y no en creer en este o aquel otro dogma religioso? La manera de hacerlo, es recordar la Escritura que dice : “Bienaventurados los perfectos de camino (¿Quienes son estos perfectos de camino?...); Los que andan en la Ley de Yah. Bienaventurados los que guardan sus testimonios, Y con todo el corazón le buscan; Pues no hacen iniquidad los que andan en sus caminos. Tú encargaste que sean muy guardados tus (diez) mandamientos. ¡Ojalá fuesen ordenados mis caminos, para guardar tus estatutos! Entonces no sería yo avergonzado (reprendido por Dios), cuando atendiese a todos tus mandamientos. Te alabaré con rectitud de corazón, cuando aprendiere tus justos juicios. Tus estatutos guardaré; No me dejes enteramente. ¿Con qué limpiaré el joven su camino? Con guardar tu palabra. Con todo mi corazón te he buscado; No me dejes desviarme de tus mandamientos. En mi corazón he guardado tus dichos, para no pecar contra ti. Bendito tú, oh Yah; Enséñame tus estatutos. Con mis labios he contado todos los juicios de tu boca. Me he gozado en el camino de tus testimonios, más que de toda riqueza. En tus mandamientos meditaré; Consideraré tus caminos. Me regocijaré en tus estatutos; No me olvidaré de tus palabras” (Salmo 119:1-16).

Así, el camino que agrada al Creador, consiste en comprometernos con guardar los diez mandamientos de su Ley, que son el Pacto de Dios con la humanidad. Todo el que deja de observar esos mandamientos, abandona el buen camino; y, en su soberbia, se expone a caer bajo maldición, como esta escrito: “Reprendiste a los soberbios, los malditos que se desvían de tus Mandamientos” (Salmo 119:21). O, como también dijo el profeta Ezequiel: “Por tanto, así ha dicho Yah el Señor, vivo yo, que el juramento mio que menosprecio, y mi pacto que quebranto, lo traeré sobre su misma cabeza” (Ezequiel 17:19).

El verdadero creyente, anhela conocer el camino de Dios que constituyen sus mandamientos, como esta escrito: “Hazme entender el camino de tus mandamientos, para que medite en tus maravillas” (Salmo 119:27). Cuando el creyente comprende el camino Divino que son los mandamientos, su corazón se ensancha, y le impulsa a desear fervientemente transitar su jornada; Como esta escrito, “Por el camino de tus mandamientos correré, Cuando ensanches mi corazón” (Salmo 119:32). Pero, el corazón del impío, no es recto para con Dios (pues esta extraviado); el impío no aborrece la maldad; y, por ende, rehúsa comprometerse con el bien encarnado en los mandamientos. Como esta escrito: “Ha dejado de ser cuerdo, y de hacer el bien. Medita maldad sobre su cama; esta en camino no bueno (pues), el mal no aborrece” (Salmo 36:3-4).

En conclusión, "el camino de Yah", es hacer el bien encargado en sus diez mandamientos (su Ley). Por eso la Escritura dice que, los justos, son aquellos que tiene su corazón puesto en la Ley de Yah: “La boca del justo habla sabiduría, Y su lengua habla justicia. La ley de su Dios está en su corazón; Por tanto, sus pies no resbalarán” (Salmo 37:30-31). ¿Por que no resbalaran sus pies? Pues porque están afirmados sobre la piedra (las tablas de piedra en las cuales fueron escritos los mandamientos). Y, quien esta cimentado sobre la piedra (quien construye su vida sobre ella), vive seguro, pues descansa sobre un fundamento incommovible. Por esto, aun los escritos Cristianos citan a Jesús de Nazaret (la paz y la bendición de יהוה sean con el) diciendo: “... Mas si quieres entrar a la vida (eterna), guarda los mandamientos... No matarás. No adulterarás. No hurtarás. No dirás falso testimonio. Honra a tu padre y a tu madre; y, Amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo” (Mateo 19:17-19).

«En nuestro Universo moral, existen tres grandes verdades. Y, toda otra verdad ética, esta directa o indirectamente sujeta a estas tres: (1) Yah (El Creador) es Uno solo: es decir, el Creador es único; pues, en toda su Creación, no hay nada ni nadie con igual (o mayor) perfección ética que Yah. Por eso, solo Yah es digno de reinar, pues el suyo es un Reino Bendito (estando dirigido por el mas bueno y justo de todos los Reyes; uno en el cual no hay vicio ni defecto moral alguno). (2) En términos morales, Yah ha dado a los hombres un libre albedrío, a fin de que estos tengan la libertad de escoger su futuro; decidiendo si van a hacer lo bueno (sembrar el bien), o si van a hacer lo malo (sembrar el mal). (3) Yah no habrá de juzgar arbitrariamente a nadie; pues su Juicio siempre consistirá en permitir que cada uno “coseche” (reciba de vuelta con justicia) el mismo bien (o mal) que, con su vida, haya libremente y voluntariamente "sembrado" (dispensado a quienes le rodearon)»

El Hombre, Creado a Imagen de Dios

La Torah (Escritura Hebrea) enseña que, Adonai Yah (El Creador) lo hizo todo bueno. Pero también enseña que, luego de haber creado al hombre, Yah reconoció que "no era bueno que el hombre estuviese solo" (Gen 2:18). La realidad es que, si el hombre estaba solo, ¡el causante de ello no era otro sino El Creador! Es decir, el relato de la Creación muestra que (si nos atreviésemos a decir tal cosa) el Creador hizo "cosas buenas", pero también hizo cosas "no tan buenas". ¿Que hizo Yah con aquello que "no era tan bueno"? Pues que procedió a reconocerlo de inmediato (por iniciativa propia, y sin necesidad de que alguien tuviese que convencerlo). Entonces, luego de reconocer aquello que "no era tan bueno", el Creador procedió a "rectificarlo" (a, por así decirlo, "enderezar lo torcido"). En el caso de Adam, esa "rectificación" consistió en proveer al hombre de comunión y armonía con otro ser humano (con "Hava", o "Eva").

Como si lo anterior no fuese ya "difícil de tragar", la Torah también enseña que Yah (bendito sea) creo al hombre "a su imagen y semejanza" (Gen. 1:26). ¿Que significan estas palabras? Pues que, así como Dios hizo cosas buenas, y cosas no tan buenas, de ese mismo modo el hombre (creado a imagen y semejanza de su Dios) puede también escoger entre hacer "cosas buenas", y hacer "cosas no tan buenas". Pero también significa que, así como el Creador pudo reconocer (y enmendar) aquello que "no era tan bueno" (proveyendo al hombre comunión y armonía con su prójimo); de ese mismo modo el hombre puede reconocer y enmendar sus errores, entablando una relación de comunión y armonía con su prójimo.

El anterior relato también nos muestra que, si bien es loable hacer "solo lo bueno", es aun mejor cuando, luego de haber hecho lo que "no es tan bueno", tenemos suficiente humildad como para (por iniciativa propia) reconocer nuestro error, y proceder a "enderezar" lo que hemos "torcido" (nuestra relación con el prójimo, sin importar si ese prójimo es el Creador, nuestros semejantes, o nosotros mismos).

La anterior verdad, esta confirmada en el siguiente Midrash Hebreo (Berachot 34b): “En el (sublime) lugar donde esta de pie el penitente (entiéndase, aquel que ha reconocido su error, y procedido a enmendarlo), no puede pararse ni siquiera el que es perfectamente justo”.

En resumen, si la Torah enseña que el hombre fue creado a imagen y semejanza de su Dios, es porque el Creador (bendito sea) anhela que el hombre obre de la misma forma que obro su Creador (durante el proceso de la creación del hombre): Es decir, que escoja hacer lo bueno; y que, cuando no lo haga, tenga la humildad y la honestidad de reconocerlo, confesando su error, y procediendo a rectificarlo. Esto es lo que al presente conocemos como «Teshuvah»; palabra Hebrea que significa "volver al camino recto" ("arrepentimiento sincero", o "confesión y conversión").

Refutación De Un Falso Proverbio: Los hijos son responsables del pecado de sus Padres

"Vivo yo, dice Yah el Señor, que nunca más tendréis por qué usar este refrán en Israel. He aquí que todas las almas son mías; como el alma del padre, así el alma del hijo es mía; el alma que pecare, esa morirá. Y el hombre que fuere justo, e hiciere según el derecho y la justicia; que no comiere sobre los montes, ni alzare sus ojos a los ídolos de la casa de Israel, ni violare la mujer de su prójimo, ni se llegare a la mujer menstruosa, ni oprimiere a ninguno; que al deudor devolviere su prenda, que no cometiere robo, y que diere de su pan al hambriento y cubriere al desnudo con vestido, que no prestare a interés ni tomare usura; que de la maldad retrajere su mano, e hiciere juicio verdadero entre hombre y hombre, en mis ordenanzas caminar, y guardare mis decretos para hacer rectamente, éste es justo; éste vivirá, dice Yah el Señor" (Ezequiel 18:3-9)

"El alma que pecare, esa morirá; el hijo no llevará el pecado del padre, ni el padre llevará el pecado del hijo; la justicia del justo será sobre él, y la impiedad del impío será sobre él. Mas el impío, si se apartare de todos sus pecados que hizo, y guardare todos mis estatutos (mandamientos) e hiciere según el derecho y la justicia, de cierto vivirá; no morirá. Todas las transgresiones que cometió, no le serán recordadas; en su justicia que hizo vivirá" (Ezequiel 18:20-22)

“Avinu Malkeinu (nuestro Padre y nuestro Rey), ten misericordia de nuestro extraviado país; que vuelva a la obediencia de tus mandamientos, antes de que caiga por el precipicio al cual se encamina. Oramos confiados en la promesa (Deut. 28:1-14) que hiciste por medio de Moisés, quien prometió que habrías de bendecir a todo aquel que guardase tus mandamientos. Es en el nombre de tu siervo Moisés (creyendo en lo prometido por él), y no en nombre de nuestro propio capricho, que rogamos a ti, oh Señor Dios Omnipotente. Amen”

Adonai Yah (bendito sea) dice esto a todos los hombres: «¡Quién diera que tuviesen tal corazón, que me temiesen, y guardasen todos los días (de su vida) todos mis mandamientos; (¿Para que?) para que a ellos y a sus hijos les fuese bien para siempre (es decir, para que reciban bendición en esta vida, así como en la venidera)! -Deuteronomio 5:29. ¡Obedezca los Diez mandamientos de la Ley de Dios, y sera bendito para siempre!

Confesión de obediencia a los Diez Mandamientos De La Ley De Dios (Torah)

1. Me comprometo con creer en la existencia y soberanía de Yah (יהוה)
 2. Me comprometo con no adorar, no orar, ni tampoco servir, a nada que tenga una imagen física; ni a Dios alguno fuera de Adonai Yah
 3. Me comprometo con no pronunciar en vano el nombre de Adonai Yah
 4. Me comprometo con santificar el día de descanso (Shabbat)
 5. Me comprometo con honrar y respetar a mis padres físicos y espirituales
 6. Me comprometo con no matar ni dañar al hombre o a la mujer inocente
 7. Me comprometo con alejarme de todo aquello que pueda inducirme a la fornicación, al adulterio, al incesto, a la homosexualidad, o al bestialismo
 8. Me comprometo con no secuestrar el cuerpo ni la mente de aquel que es mas débil o ingenuo que yo
 9. Me comprometo con no mentir, difamando a mis semejantes, jurando falsamente, o dañando a mi prójimo por medio de una falsa pieza de información
 10. Me comprometo con no robar, ni intentar traer dentro de mi posesión, cualquier cosa que ya pertenezca lícitamente a otra persona

«Adonai Yah dijo a Salomón: “He aquí te he dado corazón sabio y entendido, tanto que no ha habido antes de ti otro como tu, ni después de ti se levantara otro como tu” (1 Reyes 3:12). El Creador (bendito sea) prometió a Salomón que, en lo porvenir, no nacería hombre alguno con mayor sabiduría que la suya (esto incluiría a todos los hombres, sin importar si son profetas, mensajeros, maestros, reyes, o mesías). Así, luego de experimentar el bien y el mal; la fama, el poder, el sexo, y las riquezas, el hombre mas sabio de todos, resumió la esencia de la Sabiduría Divina, diciendo las siguientes palabras: “El discurso ha terminado. Ya todo ha sido dicho. Honra a Dios, y cumple sus (10) mandamientos, porque eso es el todo del hombre (todo lo demás es secundario). Dios habrá de pedirnos cuentas de todos nuestros actos, sean buenos o malos, y aunque los hayamos hecho en secreto” (Eclesiastés 12:13-14, Biblia "Dios Habla Hoy"). En resumen, la Sabiduría Divina, consiste en reconocer que, por cuanto el Juez Supremo habrá de juzgar un día nuestras obras, debemos por tanto abandonar la maldad, para comenzar a hacer el bien que nos ha encomendado hacer, por medio de sus mandamientos. Esto, es todo lo que el hombre necesita para entrar en El Olam Ha-ba (La Vida Eterna); todo lo demás, es secundario; solo comentario explicativo»

«Mira, yo he puesto delante de ti hoy la Vida y el bien, la Muerte y el mal; porque yo te mando hoy que ames a Yah tu Dios, que andes en sus caminos, y Guardes sus (10) Mandamientos, sus estatutos y sus decretos, para que vivas y seas multiplicado...» (Deut. 30:15-16)

«Pesa exacta y justa tendrás; efa cabal y justo tendrás, para que tus días sean prolongados sobre la tierra que יהוה tu Dios te da. Porque abominación es a יהוה tu Dios cualquiera que hace esto, y cualquiera que hace injusticia» (Deut. 25:15-16)

«Nunca se apartará de tu boca este libro de La Ley, sino que de día y de noche meditarás en él, para que guardes y hagas conforme a todo lo que en él está escrito; porque entonces harás prosperar tu camino, y todo te saldrá bien. Mira que te mando que te esfuerces y seas valiente; no temas ni desmayes, porque Yah tu Dios estará contigo en dondequiera que vayas» (Josué 1:8-9)

«Obedece mis mandamientos, y vivirás (para siempre); Y, (guarda) mi Ley, como (a) las niñas de tus ojos»- Proverbios 7:2.

«La lengua y el corazón son las partes mas blandas y dulces del hombre; cuando su alma es pura, estando limpia de la injusticia, la crueldad, y el orgullo. Pero, La lengua y el corazón son las partes mas duras y amargas del hombre, cuando su alma es impura, estando contaminada con la injusticia, la crueldad, y la soberbia»

«Sacrifica a Dios alabanza, Y paga tus votos al Altísimo; E invócame en el día de la angustia; Te libraré, y tú me honrarás» -Salmo 50:14-15

«Cuando el Dios de los menesterosos y quebrantados habite dentro de su corazón, sera usted como las estrellas del cielo; pues la luz de sus buenas obras alumbrará la oscuridad moral de la noche que es el presente siglo»

«Atheism, Gay rights, women's rights, equality, multi-culturalism... the modern [yet deceptive] song of sirens!! In truth, they are just the functional tentacles of the “political correctness” beast; Cultural Marxists weapons, designed to covertly “divide & conquer” the societies they want to overrun. Be careful, lest your gay people start feeling more empathy toward Marxist gay activist, than toward their straight [and democratic] local authorities; It’s the road that leads to open treason! Assert your National identity (language, religion, culture, family values) and crush this Marxist trap!»

Hebrew Scripture hints at the idea that, in the hands of the Creator, antisemitism can sometimes play a healthy and constructive role

Most liberal Jews will strongly defend the Gay lifestyle. How? By claiming it to be a genetic predisposition that cannot be altered. In fact, they would summarize their rationale by stating that “you don't choose whom to love”. Yet, if true that a person cannot choose whom to love, then neither can he choose whom NOT to love.

But the latter implies that “you don't choose whom to hate”. Thus, it stands to reason that, hating Jacob (the Hebrew Bible's symbolic name for the Israeli people), is sometimes justified, as the person might be genetically predisposed to do so.

And the latter is such an undeniable fact, that even the Jewish Scripture bears witness to it. When? When it goes on to state that, while still inside his mother's womb, Esau was already waging war against Jacob. As it is written:

«Later, Isaac prayed to the Lord on behalf of his wife, since she was unable to conceive children... his wife Rebekah became pregnant. But when the infants (Esau and Jacob) kept on wrestling each other inside her womb... So she asked the Lord for an explanation. “Two nations are in your womb,” the Lord responded, “and two separate people will emerge. One people will be the stronger, and the older one will serve the younger”»- Genesis 25:21-23, International Standard Version.

Thus, Esau's ingrained hatred for Jacob wasn't the result of any social construct, any hate speech, nor any misinformation campaign; Rather, it was genetically wired into Esau's psyche [so it could be abated, but not completely removed].

Why was it so? In order to accomplish the healthy [and Divinely appointed] purpose of turning Esau's offspring into a separated [and independent] nation-- a strong people, free from any Jewish yoke. As it was later said,

“... By thy sword shalt thou live, and shalt serve thy brother; and it shall come to pass when thou shalt have the dominion, that thou shalt break his yoke from off thy neck”- Genesis 26:27-40, King James Bible.

Thus, Jewish Scripture teaches that hatred toward the Jews isn't necessarily bad, as God can sometimes use it in order to achieve a greater good-- fostering freedom and independence from undue tyranny and subjugation.

Did God give the land of Palestine to the Jewish people?

All the blessings listed in the Hebrew Bible are based upon our willing submission to the holy values set forth by God's Law. Thus, whenever Israel collectively enforces a godly moral lifestyle, the Land is promised unto them (“Be careful to observe every command that I'm instructing you today, in order that you may live, increase, and enter and take possession of the Land that the Lord promised by an oath to your ancestors”- Deuteronomy 8:1, International Standard Version).

But, whenever Israel turns away from the latter, in order to embrace moral degeneracy, the promise of possessing the Land is taken away from them (“Because you will not have obeyed the Lord your God... Just as the Lord delighted to prosper and increase you, so now the Lord will delight to destroy, exterminate, and banish you from the Land that you are about to enter to possess”- Deuteronomy 28:62-63, International Standard Version).

The secular Jew is like a demon, as he won't get you by force, but by temptation

Homosexuality is a form of sadomasochism-- one where a man comes to enjoy being sexually abused (or, “Sodomized”) by another man. But the fact is that the man who enjoys being [sexually] Sodomized by another man, will also come to enjoy being [politically] Sodomized by another man (“Tyranny”). And that’s the reason why Marxist and/or Totalitarian Jews so persistently defend [and try to normalize] the homosexual behavior. But of course, since no truly religious person would consent with such moral aberrations (tyranny and sadomasochism), therefore the Jew is forced to constantly downplay [and denigrate] all sort of moral and religious values. And it goes without saying that the former is the very reason why an old [and wise] Russian proverb goes on to say, “The Jew won’t get you by Force, but by Temptation!”

The reason why the secular state of Israel deserves to be destroyed

Both Jewish written and oral traditions state that God-fearing Jews ought to be revered and defended... But as for rebellious [gay-friendly & secular] Jews, it prescribes that they be fed unto the lions. As it has been said: “... Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm... It is the man of God, who was disobedient unto the word of the Lord: therefore the Lord hath delivered him unto the lion, which hath torn him, and slain him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake unto him... Now consider this, ye [secular Jews] that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver”- 1 Chronicles 16:22, 1 Kings 13:26, & Psalm 50:22-- King James Bible.

Thus, whenever the state of Israel collectively embraces atheism and immorality, it is fair [and just] for the Jewish God to tear it to pieces, just as Hamas did on their former attack... Otherwise, Judaism would be found to be a lie-- one with which Jews have deluded the whole world [playing the victim card] for more than 3500 years. And if the latter be true, then the Jews would also deserve to be torn into pieces. For what reason? For deceptively using the false and shameless idea that God had granted them the Land [in order to justify the killing of countless innocent Palestinians, as well as stealing their lands and property]. May the Almighty have mercy of the Israelite nation!

“[Secular] Jews don't overtake you by force; Instead, they take you by temptation”- Russian proverb

The secular Jew overpowers the gentile psyche by craftily playing with it's base instincts, it's faulty logic, and it's lack of wisdom and clarity. In other words, the global Jewish media constantly screams to the gentile world: “Come to our side!... Embrace our godless materialism, and see how our morally degenerated [and atheistic] lifestyle will get you to the top of the world!... Be just like one of us, and you too will be feared and respected... Embrace our rebelliousness, and you too will obtain all the money, power, and sexual pleasures you have always [secretly] desired”.

Jewish Gay pride parades? Only “a talking beast” [or a seriously deranged Jewish male] would be unhinged enough to march, in order to show his “Pride” for being Sodomized by other males. In fact, if there is no God, and amoral evolution is the ultimate source of biological advancement [as a result of the constant reproduction of our genes], then objective logic dictates that all homosexuals (Jews included) ought to be exterminated. Why?

In order to spare the precious resources they presently consume (air, water, space, food, energy, ect), so that the latter could be given instead to those individuals naturally willing to contribute to the general genetic pool [by the generous multiplication of their genes]

Sadly, Western Democracy has become a rotting cadaver... And the carcass is being devoured by Jewish vultures

Israel's steady moral degeneracy

When Israel turns away from God, in order to openly embrace deception, injustice, and moral perversion, God abandons the Jewish people [so that even it's allies are defeated in the process!]. As it has been said: «But there came a man of God to him, saying: “O king [Amaziah] let not the army of Israel go with thee; for the LORD is not with Israel, even with all the children of Ephraim. But if thou wilt go, and do engage never so valiantly in battle, God will cast thee down before the enemy; for God hath power to help, and to cast down”-- 2 Chronicles 25:7-8 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

People who call themselves supporters of Israel are actually supporters of its moral degeneration and ultimate destruction.

The Slow Death Of Talmudic Judaism

Modern Judaism is undergoing a grave existential crisis; A sort of slow and painful moral backwardness that threatens the very existence of this ancient religion. Why? Sadly, because most of it's current Ashkenazi leaders are suffering from a severe case of Narcissistic Personality Disorder. And, for a very long time, the latter malady has been steadily undermining the moral foundation of this ancient tradition; a faith that was supposed to be part and parcel of the meek and the humble [in other words, where there was no place for proud and arrogant people!]. As is has been said: “Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD; my hand upon it! he shall not be unpunished... But the humble shall inherit the land, and delight themselves in the abundance of peace... For the LORD of hosts hath a day upon all that is proud and lofty, and upon all that is lifted up, and it shall be brought low... but on this man will I look, even on him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at My word”- Proverbs 16:5, Psalm 37:11, Isaiah 2:12, Isaiah 66:2 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

The Holy Faith Of Reformed Samaritanism

Do modern Jews have the right to be free from Gentile’s Antisemitism?

«And the children [Jacob And Esau] struggled together within her [Rebekah]... And the Lord said unto her: “Two nations are in thy womb, and two peoples shall be separated from thy bowels (a Jewish nation, and it’s corresponding Gentile adversary)”... And they set on for him by himself [Joseph], and for them by themselves, and for the Egyptians, that did eat with him, by themselves; because the Egyptians might not eat bread with the Hebrews; for that is an abomination unto the Egyptians...»- Genesis 25:22, & 43:32, JPS 1917 Edition

While being the most righteous, the most distinguished, the most rich, the most intelligent, and the most powerful Jew of his epoch [so that even his own father was destined to come and bow before him], we find Joseph [the son of Jacob] to be a kind, honest, and humble person-- one who never claimed to be too important to tolerate the harsh antisemitism that constantly surrounded him [so that he wasn't even allowed to eat with his Egyptian servants!] Yet, though infinitely inferior [in moral terms] to their ancestor Joseph, we find modern Jews often taking the vain, arrogant, and insolent stance of he who considers himself too righteous, too important, too smart, too powerful, and too privileged to be disliked, or stand in need of any corrective and/or constructive criticism from his gentile counterpart-- let alone be deserving of the slightest amount of real [or perceived] antisemitism. And the latter might be the reason why Jewish Scripture quotes the Holy One promising to bring punishment upon the Jewish people. How? By using the Gentile nations as a means to break up the proud arrogance of the Jewish people. As it has been said: “And if in spite of these things ye will not be corrected unto Me, but will walk contrary unto Me; then will I also walk contrary unto you; and I will smite you, even I, seven times for your sins. And I will bring a sword upon you, that shall execute the vengeance of the covenant; and ye shall be gathered together within your cities; and I will send the pestilence among you; and ye shall be delivered into the hand of the enemy”- Leviticus 26:23-25, JPS 1917 Edition

Antisemitism?... Jewish Scripture teaches that, when Jews are rightfully persecuted, God's name is thereby glorified!

When Jews are rightfully persecuted [as a result of their stubborn and rebellious character], gentile peoples witness miracles, and the Jewish God is thereby glorified. And the proof? Jonah, who [as a result of being rebellious to God's word] was thrown overboard by the gentile crew of a passenger ship ("Then they [the gentiles] took Jonah and threw him overboard, and the raging sea grew calm"- Jonah 1:15, New International version). And what happened immediately next? That the ship's crew feared Jonah's God, thereby starting to serve and glorify Him ("At this the [gentile] men greatly feared the Lord, and they offered a sacrifice to the Lord and made vows to Him"- Jonah 1:16, New International Version)

Whence we get that Jewish homosexual behavior, as well as same-sex marriages, are the unavoidable result of a Divine curse hovering upon the Jewish people? We get it from the Jewish Sacred Scripture, for when the Almighty couldn't tolerate them anymore, He went on to foretell the following words: "... They [the Jews] shall commit harlotry, and shall not increase (bearing children); because they have left off to take heed to יהוה (the Lord)"- Hosea 4:10, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition. What sort of Harlotry (sexual perversion) does never yield any increase (children)? The homosexual perversion! Therefore, whenever God can no longer tolerate Jewish degeneracy, He lets them fall pray to their own lies and delusions, so that the homosexual aberration becomes endemic among them.

Jewish liberals claim that you don't choose whom to love; Rather, you are supposedly born with a natural inclination to love a certain type of people, while feeling aversion against another set of people!... But if that is truly so, then you shouldn't be afraid to "come out of the closet", letting the world know about your non-traditional feelings [that you don't love Jewish people!].... In other words, you should just be proud and true to yourself-- not letting anyone bully or discriminate against you for the racial orientation [and ethnic preferences] you were originally born with

«I am ashamed of the [Jewish] representatives of God on Earth and when I look at their actions and listen to their words I feel more divorced from my faith (Judaism) than ever before»

-- Marc Goldberg, on his article titled "The Corruption of Judaism", posted in "The Times of Israel" (July 19, 2013)

If we were to be brutally honest, we would have to admit that ancient Judaism used to be a noble and worthy religion. Unfortunately, modern Jewish leaders have turned it into the moral equivalent of "used toilet paper"-- In other words, as a means to "cleanse" (or "whitewash") the endless stream of injustice, oppression, and moral excrement generated by prominent Jewish people like Karl Marx, Leon Trotsky, George Soros, Bernie Madoff, Harvey Weinstein, Jeffrey Epstein, Jerry Springer, Sara Silverman, Howard Stern, Bibi Netanyahu, etc.

Eduard Bloch: The Noble Jew That Hitler Adored

Eduard Bloch (30 January 1872 - 1 June 1945) was an Austrian physician practicing in Linz, who, for many years until 1907, was the family doctor of Adolf Hitler and his family. When Hitler's mother, Klara, was dying of breast cancer, Bloch billed the family at a reduced cost and sometimes refused to bill them outright. An Austrian Jew, Bloch was awarded special protection by Hitler, who personally intervened to ensure his safety following the German annexation of Austria in 1938. In 1937, Hitler, who at the time was in full control of Germany, asked his aides to check on Bloch, describing the Austrian physician as a "Noble Jew" ("Edeljude"). The dictator went further to remark that, "If all Jew were like him, there would be no Jewish question [to solve]". Following Kristallnacht and the escalation of anti-Jewish sentiment in Germany, Hitler allowed Bloch to emigrate to the United States [carrying a considerably sum of money], where he lived until his death in 1945, succumbing to stomach cancer.

It is false that Hitler hated ALL Jews....

The deranged logic of Jewish LGBTQ activists

An ancient Russian proverb states that, "Secular Jews, don't know what shame (honesty and intellectual integrity) is"... And that's why, though most Zionist do not believe in God, they feel no shame in claiming that He promised them the land of Palestine

The true believer is bound to show antisemitism toward any openly wicked Jew

No one is a true believer, until he loves what God himself loves, and hates what He Himself hates. Who is beloved by the Holy One love? The Righteous Jew! ("... The Lord: who loves the righteous"- Psalm 146:8, Common English Bible).

And who is hated by God? The wicked Jew! ("God will rain fiery coals and sulfur on the wicked; their cups will be filled with nothing but a scorching hot wind"- Psalm 11:6, Common English Bible).

Thus, no one is a true believer, until he treats Jewish people the same way God Himself does: showing favor and sympathy toward the righteous (God-fearing) Jew, but contempt and antisemitism toward the wicked (atheistic and gay-friendly) Jew.

Why? Because doing otherwise [trying to be more just and merciful than the Holy One], will only bring God's wrath upon him. As it has been said: «And Jehu the son of Hanani (the seer) went out to meet him, and said to king Jehoshaphat (the Jewish King): "Shouldest thou help the wicked, and love them that hate the LORD? for this thing wrath is upon thee from before the LORD"»- 2 Chronicles 19:2, Jewish Publication Society (1917 Edition)

PEACEFUL PEOPLE.

--An Israeli woman held by the military wing of the Palestinian resistance movement Hamas during the regime’s war on the Gaza Strip has thanked the movement’s fighters for their kind and humane behavior

Daniel Aloni’s commendation came in a letter released by Palestinian media outlets on Monday. She was held in Gaza along with her six-year-old daughter Emelia. The letter was written in Hebrew while Aloni was in detention in which she has praised the behavior of al-Qassam Brigades’ fighters who accompanied and guarded her and her daughter during the days they spent in the blockaded territory. Daniel and her daughter were among the first batch of Israeli captives who were released on Friday after the Hamas movement reached a prisoner swap deal with the regime. Other released Israeli captives have also testified to the good treatment they had received while in Hamas captivity.

Israeli captive held in Gaza thanks Hamas for kind, humane treatment

This photo released by the Palestinian media shows former Israeli captive in Gaza Daniel Aloni and her daughter Emelia, along with pictures of her handwritten letter to Hamas fighters in Hebrew and Arabic. (via Palestinian Information Center)

After being released on humanitarian grounds, an 85-year-old Israeli woman said the Hamas fighters provided all the needs of the captives and gave them the same food that they themselves ate. Aloni thanked al-Qassam fighters from the bottom of her heart for "extraordinary humanity that you have shown towards my daughter Emelia. You treated her like your own." She added that due to extraordinarily good care that Hamas fighters provided her daughter she "considered herself a queen in Gaza and felt like she was the center of the world."

Here is the full text of Aloni's letter, which has been translated from Hebrew:

"To the commanders who have accompanied me in recent weeks. It seems that we will part ways tomorrow, but I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for your extraordinary humanity that you have shown towards my daughter Emelia.

You treated her like your own. You welcomed her in your room whenever she walked in. She says that you are all her friends, not just acquaintances. You are her true and good loved ones. Thank you, thank you, thank you for the countless hours you spent with her as caregivers.

Thank you for being patient with her and showering her with sweets, fruits, and everything available, even if it wasn't readily accessible. Children should not be in captivity, but thanks to you and other kind-hearted individuals and leaders we have met during our presence here, my daughter considered herself a queen in Gaza and felt like she was the center of the world.

We did not meet a single person, whether a member or leader, during our long stay [in Gaza] who did not treat her with kindness, tenderness, and love. I will forever be a captive of gratitude because she will not leave this place with a permanent psychological trauma.

I will remember your kind manners, which you showed in here despite the difficult situation you were coping with yourselves, and the heavy losses that befell you here in Gaza.

I wish in this world that we could be really good friends one day. I wish you all good health and well-being. Health and love to you and your families.

Thank you very much. Daniel and Emelia.”

The true believer is bound to show antisemitism toward any openly wicked Jew

No one is a true believer, until he loves what God himself loves, and hates what He Himself hates. Who is beloved by the Holy One love? The Righteous Jew! (“... The Lord: who loves the righteous”- Psalm 146:8, Common English Bible).

And who is hated by God? The wicked Jew! (“God will rain fiery coals and sulfur on the wicked; their cups will be filled with nothing but a scorching hot wind”- Psalm 11:6, Common English Bible).

Thus, no one is a true believer, until he treats Jewish people the same way God Himself does: showing favor and sympathy toward the righteous (God-fearing) Jew, but contempt and antisemitism toward the wicked (atheistic and gay-friendly) Jew.

Why? Because doing otherwise [trying to be more just and merciful than the Holy One], will only bring God’s wrath upon him. As it has been said: «And Jehu the son of Hanani (the seer) went out to meet him, and said to king Jehoshaphat (the Jewish King): “Shouldst thou help the wicked, and love them that hate the LORD? for this thing wrath is upon thee from before the LORD”»- 2 Chronicles 19:2, Jewish Publication Society (1917 Edition)

«We humans were originally wired for faith in a “Supreme Power” (or “God”); but since Jewish global media needs to kill any notion of a “Supreme Power” [other than themselves], they've created new gods for us to embrace. So, their new Atheism has given rise to Atheism+; a quasi-religion dedicated to “social justice”.

And, in the spiritual void left by receding religion, they now enjoin us to worship “Wokeness”, a new Original Sin (whiteness), a new Holy Trinity (Diversity, Equity, Inclusion), and a new message of “Good news” (or “Gospel”)-- that man can create his own moral reality (choosing, from day to day, to which biological sex he wants to belong) »

When Israel turns away from God, in order to openly embrace deception, injustice, and moral perversion, God Abandons Israel [so that even it's allies are defeated in the process!]. As it has been said: «But there came a man of God to him, saying: “O king [Amaziah] let not the army of Israel go with thee; for the LORD is not with Israel, even with all the children of Ephraim. But if thou wilt go, and do engage never so valiantly in battle, God will cast thee down before the enemy; for God hath power to help, and to cast down”»-- 2 Chronicles 25:7-8 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

I am your God, don't criticize me!

"What God loves, the Jews despises"-- Russian Proverb

God's holy people?

If Jews are God's chosen people, then how come the Jewish establishment allows one of it's ordained Rabbis to own PorHub (World's largest hard-core Porn conglomerate)? Could it be that Jews actually worship Evil (having "God in their lips, but Satan in their hands")? And, if Jewish leaders and organizations are free to do and spread moral evil, why shouldn't Muslim leaders and organizations [like Hezbollah and Hamas] be likewise free to do so? is there any evil greater than incest, pedophilia, rape, prostitution, homosexuality, and drug addiction?

Konrad Heiden, the AshkeNAZI Jew who first came up with the term "NAZI"... As the wise proverb goes: "It takes one to know one!"

"Ancient Judaism was an awesome religion, but no modern Jew has ever volunteered to pay any of our bills. Why then should we feel the urge to bow down, seek the approval, or placate any Jewish institution? In fact, since we owe them nothing, we consider the Jewish view on issues like race, atheism, political correctness, homosexual behavior, feminism, egalitarianism, Zionism, Nazism, antisemitism, Church-state separation, Human rights, etc to carry no special weight [or value]. Again, as we owe them absolutely nothing, we feel no compulsion to agree, believe, or promote anything Jews have to say or do"

"Most Zionists don't believe that God exists but they do believe that he promised them Palestine"

—Ilan Pappé, Israeli Historian

There's nothing wrong with Judaism! In fact, the only problem with this ancient & noble faith are Modern day (Zionist) Jews. What about them? That most are shameless liars! Why? Because only an utterly depraved individual would dare to claim being an atheist [thereby rejecting any Divine Authority], and at the same time expect his Palestinian neighbors to accept the idea that this "non-existing God" promised his ancestors the Land of Palestine [shamelessly expecting Palestinians to do what he himself isn't willing to do-- submit to a Divine Authority, renouncing to everything else!]

"If you're not careful, Western Media will have you hating the people who are being oppressed, and loving the people who are doing the oppressing"

God Hates The Jew Who Afflicts Palestinian Widows And Orphans

“Ye (Israelites) shall not afflict any [Jewish] widow or fatherless child [living in your midst]. If thou afflict them in any wise– for if they cry at all unto Me, I will surely hear their cry– My wrath shall wax hot, and I will kill you with the sword [of your enemies]; and your wives shall be widows, and your children fatherless”– Exodus 22:21-23 (Jewish Publication Society,1917 Edition).

Don't Blindly Believe Any Piece Of Information Until The [secular] Jewish Leaders Vehemently Deny It

“Can a secular Jew dispense the fiery lies of hell (atheism, usury, pedophilia, homosexuality, false sense of racial superiority, etc.) without his conscience being seared?”

In what sense are a deaf Gentile and an Jewish gay activist the same? In that the former cannot hear the voice that is outside of him [that of his fellow human being], while the latter cannot hear the voice that is inside of him [that of his moral conscience]

There's nothing wrong with Judaism! Save the following...

Jewish atrocities: the murder of 12 years old Muhammad al-Durrah

Remembering Muhammad al-Durrah, 23 years on

Twenty three years ago, a video of an innocent 12-year-old Palestinian boy being killed in Gaza reverberated around the world. Talal Abu Rahma, the cameraman who shot the video, remembers that day. On September 30, 2000, a Palestinian cameraman from Gaza, Talal Abu Rahma, shot a video of a father and his 12-year-old son under fire on the Saladin Road, south of Gaza City. The boy, Muhammad al-Durrah, was mortally wounded and died soon after. The video of Jamal al-Durrah trying to shield his son as bullets rained down on them was aired by France 2, the news channel Abu Rahma was working for. It became one of the most powerful images of the Second Palestinian Intifada (liberation war). The Israeli government tried to challenge the veracity of the video, with the Israeli military denying that its soldiers had been responsible. It took until 2013 for a French court to vindicate France 2 and Abu Rahma, ultimately upholding their defamation case against Philippe Karsenty, a French media commentator who had accused them of staging the video, and fining him 7,000 euros. Abu Rahma, who has won numerous awards for his work, including the Rory Peck Award in 2001, is now based in Greece, where he, his wife and six-year-old son are residents. He works between there and Amman, Jordan. He has been banned from returning to Gaza since 2017.

Beware of Jewish Promoted Equality, As It Is Just A Clever Trap

BEWARE OF JEWISH-PROMOTED "EQUALITY"

— IT IS A CLEVER TRICK!!

An old Russian proverb goes on to say: "A Jew is nourished by mischief". Why are Jews the never ending promoters of things like "abortion", "feminism", "gay rights", "social justice", "equality", "global warming", etc? Because, as he is "the real power hiding behind the throne", the Jew flourishes in the midst of strife, dissent, and social unrest. Why? Because the Jew can craftily use the latter in order to justify taking away individual citizens rights, thereby obtaining far more power [and wealth] for himself. But, how can a ruler profit from equality? Well, we may consider the example furnished by the ancient Roman empire; where, In order to allegedly promote peace and equality, the emperor would demanded all citizens to share the same religious rites. Thus, whenever the day arrived for the yearly sacrifice of a living Bull [to Jupiter], the representatives of each community had to likewise sacrifice a bull. And what if a group objected to publicly sacrifice a living bull in such a day? For such "violation" of the equality principle, the ruling elite offered three options: 1) A fine of 40,000 pieces of gold, for offering a dead bull, instead of a living one; 2) A fine of 80,000 pieces of Gold for offering a dead bull, but at a different day; 3) A fine of 120,000 pieces of gold for not offering the bull at all. Of course, the ruling elite would always promise to use the latter cash in a wise and prudent fashion-- selflessly promoting "inclusiveness" and "equality" (and never using it in order to line their own pockets!)

Beware of Secular Jews!

Beware of the Jews!

Gentile peoples need to beware of the Jews. Why? Because their own Scriptures bear witness to the fact that [for the most part] they are a shameless gang of slanderers, corruptors, cheaters, liars, and moral perverts. As is has been said: «They should be ashamed of their detestable practices, but they have no shame; they don't even blush!... They are tin and iron; they are headstrong and rebellious. They live to slander. They act corruptly—every last one!... One cheats the other; no one tells the truth; they train themselves to lie; they wear themselves out by doing wrong. You live in a world of deceit, and in their deceit they refuse to know me, declares the Lord... Their bias in judgment gives them away; like Sodom, they display their sins in public. Doom to them, for they have done themselves in!»-- Jeremiah 8:12, 6:28, & 9:5-6, Isaiah 3:9 (Common English Bible)

Israel's ancient rebellion, and what God demands from any gentile who wish to be called by His name

“Shout aloud! Don't hold back! Lift up your voice like a trumpet! Declare to my people their rebellions, and to the house of Jacob their sins. They seek me day after day, and are eager to know my ways, as if they were a nation that practices righteousness and has not forsaken the justice of their God. “They ask me to reveal just decisions; they are eager to draw near to God. ‘Why have we fasted,’ they ask, ‘but you do not see? ‘Why have we humbled ourselves,’ they ask, ‘but you take no notice?’”

“Look! On your fast day you serve your own interest and oppress all your workers. “Look! You fast only for quarreling, and for fighting, and for hitting with wicked fists. You cannot fast as you do today and have your voice heard on high. “Is this the kind of fast that I have chosen, merely a day for a person to humble himself? Is it merely for bowing down one's head like a bulrush, for lying on sackcloth and ashes?

Is this what you call a fast, an acceptable day to the Lord? Isn't this the fast that I have been choosing: to loose the bonds of injustice, and to untie the cords of the yoke, and to let the oppressed go free, and to break every yoke? Isn't it to share your bread with the hungry, and to bring the homeless poor into your house; when you see the naked, to cover him with clothing, and not to raise yourself up from your own flesh and blood?” “Then your light will break forth like the dawn, and your healing will spring up quickly; and your vindication will go before you, and the glory of the Lord will guard your back. Then you'll call, and the Lord will answer; you'll cry for help, and he'll respond, ‘Here I am’.

“If you do away with the yoke among you, and pointing fingers and malicious talk; if you pour yourself out for the hungry and satisfy the needs of afflicted souls, then your light will rise in darkness, and your night will be like noonday. And the Lord will guide you continually, and satisfy your soul in parched places, and they will strengthen your bones; and you'll be like a watered garden, like a spring of water, whose waters never fail. And your people will rebuild the ancient ruins; You'll raise up the age-old foundations, and people will call you ‘Repairer of Broken Walls’, ‘Restorer of Streets to Live In’.

“If you keep your feet from trampling the Sabbath, from pursuing your own interests on my holy day, if you call the Sabbath a delight and the Lord's holy day honorable; and if you honor it by not going your own ways and seeking your own pleasure or speaking merely idle words, then you will take delight in the Lord, and he will make you ride upon the heights of the earth; and He will make you feast on the inheritance of your ancestor Jacob, your father. “Yes! The mouth of the Lord has spoken” (Isaiah 58:1-14, International Standard Version)

The Righteous Perishes — The Jewish Genocide Of Palestinians

“The righteous person perishes, and no one takes it to heart. Loyal people are gathered together, and no one understands that because of evil the righteous one passed away. They will find peace; those who walk in straight paths will find rest on their burial beds”-- Isaiah 57:1-2 (Common English Bible).

“But as for you, come here, you children of a sorceress, you offspring of adulterers and prostitutes! Whom are you mocking? And against whom do you make a wide mouth and stick out your tongue? Are you not children of transgression, the offspring of lies... Those who do evil will perish. But those who wait on the LORD will inherit the land. Yet a little while longer, and the wicked will be no more. You will search for his place, but he will not be there.

The humble will inherit the land; they will take in abundant peace”- Isaiah 57:3-4, Psalm 37:9-11 (International Standard version)

The solution to “the Jewish problem” is for Gentiles to force Jewish people into a strict compliance with Moses Law (including it’s harsh demands and punishments)

Ancient Jewish tradition states the following: “There are three insolent ones: Israel among the nations, the dog among beasts, and the cock among fowls (some also say the goat among small cattle, and the caper shrub among trees)”. In addition, Rabbi Meir (2nd Century C.E.) is quoted saying: «Why was the Torah given to Israel? Because they are of a fiery temper. For in the school of Rabbi Ishmael it is taught, “At His right hand was a fiery Law unto them” (Deut. 33:2), meaning that the Holy One said, “It is right that they be given a fiery Law [to restrain them]»». Some say, “Israel’s Laws had to be of fire, for IF THE TORAH HAD NOT BEEN GIVEN THEM, NO PEOPLE OR TONGUE COULD WITHSTAND THEM” -- Betz 25b

Thus, it is self-evident that, due to their “fiery” (or “brazen”) nature, no other group can be more vile, shameless, deceptive, or degenerated than secular Jews. Therefore, in order to limit their potential for evil, the “fiery” Jews must be forced to submit to God’s “fiery” Law (or “Torah”).

Why? So that, whenever they feel tempted to corrupt their neighbors by openly promoting evil (incest, homosexuality, pedophilia, atheism, adultery, usury, deception, oppression, blaspheme, racial superiority, etc), they be reminded that Torah commands them to be punished with beheading, stoning, hanging, burning, cutting of hands, public floggings, spit upon their faces, monetary fines, etc.

And, should Jewish authorities refuse to enforce the latter punishments, the rulers of the gentile nation wherein they reside must step in, in order to force them to do so. In fact, enforcing God’s Law upon those claiming to be God’s holy people is indeed a noble and meritorious act that exalts the Gentile nations.

Thus, if Torah seems to be “backwardly harsh”, it is only for a good [and very practical] reason-- in order to temper Jewish wickedness, so that their moral decadence won’t end up “infecting” (and thereby destroying) the nation they currently inhabit. And whence we get that Torah’s punishments aim at “scaring straight” (or “terrorizing”) the wicked from among the Jews? We get it from the Jewish Scripture that goes on to say: “AND IF YE SHALL DESPISE MY STATUTES, OR IF YOUR SOUL ABHOR MY JUDGMENTS, SO THAT YE WILL NOT DO ALL MY COMMANDMENTS, but that ye break my covenant: I also will do this unto you; I WILL EVEN APPOINT OVER YOU TERROR, consumption, and the burning ague, that shall consume the eyes, and cause sorrow of heart: and ye shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it”- Leviticus. 26:15-16 (KJV). And also in another place; “And the judges shall make diligent inquisition: and, behold, IF THE WITNESS BE A FALSE WITNESS, and hath testified falsely against his brother; THEN SHALL YE DO UNTO HIM, AS HE HAD THOUGHT TO HAVE DONE UNTO HIS BROTHER [EYE FOR EYE, TOOTH FOR TOOTH, HAND FOR HAND, FOOT FOR FOOT, ETC]: so shalt thou put the evil away from among you. AND THOSE WHICH REMAIN SHALL HEAR, AND FEAR, AND SHALL HENCEFORTH COMMIT NO MORE ANY SUCH EVIL AMONG YOU”- Deuteronomy 19:18-20 (KJV).

West Trying To Impose Immorality On Uganda

For the USA, to allow Israel to keep murdering thousands of innocent Palestinian women and children is no reason to censor anybody... But God forbid that Uganda refuses to accept the Jewish Homosexual agenda!!.... I guess Genocide is not as an important human rights violation as allowing morally inept people to infiltrate your society is....

“Direct your children onto the right path, and even when they are older, they will not leave it”- Psalm 22:6 (New Living Translation)

One day, two young men came before one holy elder and asked: “Tell us, holy sage, how to properly deal with bad inclinations and eradicate bad habits?” To this the hermit said to one of the young men:

“Pull out this sprout.” The bush was tiny, and the young man pulled it out easily, with one hand. After this, the elder said again: “My friend, now pull out this tree.” The young man did this too, but with difficulty and effort: the bush was much taller and stronger than the first. Then the elder said for the third time: “Now try to pull out this tree.” The young man hugged his trunk and tried to fulfill the command, but in vain. He called his brother, and the two of them tried to at least shake the tree, but in vain. The tree is deeply rooted in the ground. Then the elder said to the brothers: “My children, evil inclinations and habits are like these trees. If they are not yet deeply rooted in our hearts, then a strong will alone is enough to destroy them. But once they have grown stronger and taken root, it is almost impossible to deal with them. Eradicate the bad in yourself before it develops into something more.”

Hear, oh Israel: No bad deed ever goes unpunished!

The true believer is bound to show antisemitism toward any openly wicked Jew

No one is a true believer, until he loves what God himself loves, and hates what He Himself hates. Who is beloved by the Holy One love? The Righteous Jew! (“... The Lord: who loves the righteous”- Psalm 146:8, Common English Bible).

Western Democracy Is Like A Rotten Cadaver

«“Pride goes before destruction...”- Proverbs 16:18, English Standard Version»

On the date of October 7, 2023 the Israeli people were celebrating a Jewish holiday called “Simchat Torah” (the Joy of receiving “Torah”, or “Divine instruction”). During that day, Israelis were supposed to rejoice; but, since the latter had become open promoters of Homosexual pride parades [thereby becoming the functional equivalent of Sodom & Gomorrah], God allowed Israel to be surprisingly attacked, so that the joy was instead in the heart of their Palestinian neighbors. Likewise, Israelis are currently celebrating the feast of Chanukah.

This is an 8-days celebration, where Israelis are supposed to celebrate a great victory over their ancient oppressing neighbors. In addition, they are to celebrate a miraculous supply of oil. But, since Israel has currently become an oppressor of it’s Palestinian neighbors, God will turn the tables around; so that no oil be provided to Israel (an oil embargo). In addition, Israel’s neighbors will obtain such an amazing victory, that it will seem to be a miraculous deliverance.

Why would the Holy One allowed the former be so? In order that God’s Law be fulfilled, when it goes on to say: “... Thou shalt give life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, burning for burning, wound for wound, stripe for stripe”- Exodus 21:23-25 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

And the former means that, sooner or later, every man is bound to “reap” the same goodness [or evil] he has freely [and willingly] “planted” upon his fellow creature. As it has been said: “For the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations; as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee; thy dealing shall return upon thine own head”- Obadiah 1:15 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition).

May the Almighty have mercy of the Israeli people!

Why are secular Jews compared to pigs?

"The boar out of the wood doth ravage it" - Psalm 80:14... Why is the unlearned Jew (the "am ha-aretz", or "boorish person") said to be like a boar? Because like the boar, which extends its cloven hooves when lying down, as if to say, "See how Kosher I am", so does the boorish Jew robs and despoils, yet makes it appear that the legal tricks he resorts to are fair practice.

NOTE: Clean (kosher) animals have cloven hooves and chew the cud; the pig has cloven hooves, but does not chew the cud; so, though it outwardly seems to be clean, it actually is unclean.

The hidden reason why secular Jews want you to abandon your moral values, your faith, and your culture

A small [but united] group of people can easily subdue a much larger [yet divided] society (Divide and Conquer!). And the latter explains why people lusting for power (Tyrants, Cultural Marxists, Politicians, Bankers, LGBT activists, environmentalists, ONG's, Social Activists, atheists, Masons, Jews, etc) will always strive to secretly undermine all that might bring unity [and therefore strength] to the society they intend to subjugate. What are those things? Things like a common set of moral and family values, a common language, a common border, common culture, a common history, a common religion, etc. And the fact that it almost takes a miracle to defeat a people that is united by a common bond is also attested by the Scripture that goes on to say: «And the Lord said: “Behold, they are one people, and they have all one language; and this is what they begin to do; and now nothing will be withholden from them, which they purpose to do”»- Genesis 11:6 (Jewish publication Society, 1917 Edition).

Should God-fearing people blindly support the state of Israel?

Should God-fearing believer sheepishly follow whatever policies Israel's government chooses to enact? Absolutely not! Why? Because believers are called to imitate their Creator –who is morally perfect–, and not any of His morally imperfect creatures. As it is written: “For I am the Lord that brought you up out of the land of Egypt, to be your God; ye shall therefore be holy, for I am holy”- Leviticus 11:45, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition. In addition, Scripture states that the Holy One stands for Israel only when Israel stands for holiness. But when Israelites become rebellious and stubborn [against godly moral values], the Creator starts to view them as pagans, and proceed to abandon them (“For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as idolatry and teraphim. Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, He hath also rejected thee...”- 1 Samuel 15:23, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition). And the latter is the very reason why Scripture forbids any pious Jew from casting his lot with a rebellious Israel. As it has been said: «Go not up, for the Lord is not among you... and ye shall fall by the sword; forasmuch as ye are turned back from following the Lord, and the Lord will not be with you... But there came a man of God to him, saying: “O king [of Judah], let not the army of Israel go with thee; for the Lord is not with Israel, even with all the children of Ephraim”- Numbers 14:42-43, & 2 Chronicles 25:7, Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition.

Is Anti-semitism always bad?

“Anti-semitism” entails psychological anguish and trouble. Yet Hebrew Scripture states that this sort of trouble is actually good for the Jewish nation. Why? Because, as a rule of thumb, no wealthy and/or powerful Jew will come back to God unless he feels hopelessly stalked (or “troubled”) by his enemies [just as a proud and stubborn man won't pray to God unless he finds himself ambushed by a hungry lion]. As it has been said: «For I [God] will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah; I, even I, will tear and go away, I will take away, and there shall be none to deliver. I will go and return to My place, till they acknowledge their guilt, and seek My face; in their trouble they will seek Me earnestly»- Hosea 5:14-15

Beware of blindly opposing any form of “anti-semitism”!

Beware of blindly opposing any form of “anti-semitism”! Why? Because God’s wrath rests upon he who shows unconditional support toward an openly wicked Israelite. As it has been said: «And Jehu the son of Hanani the seer went out to meet him, and said to king Jehoshaphat: “Shouldest thou help the wicked, and love them that hate the Lord? for this thing wrath is upon thee from before the Lord”»- 2 Chronicles 19:2 (Jewish Publication Society, 1917 Edition)

Antisemitism is a clever tool designed to justify wicked behavior!

Modern “Antisemitism” is the crafty excuse brandished by most Jewish leaders in order to avoid moral accountability (or, “constructive criticism”). And the latter desire to justify wicked behavior turns the Jew into a frequent promoter of militant atheism. Why would any member of “God’s chosen people” promote atheism? Again, in order to escape from the hatred [for evil behavior] that good religion would normally instill upon his fellow Gentiles. For example, Bible enjoins Gentile believers to despise any Jew behaving in an openly wicked fashion (“Lord, who may stay in your tent? WHO MAY DWELL ON YOUR HOLY MOUNTAIN?... THE ONE WHO DESPISES THOSE WHO ARE UTTERLY WICKED, but who honors the one who fears the Lord”- Psalm 15:1-4, International Standard Version). In addition, the former states that God is well pleased with any Gentile who loves justice, but hates wicked behavior (“YOU LOVE JUSTICE AND HATE WICKEDNESS. THAT IS WHY GOD, even your God, HAS ANOINTED YOU rather than your companions WITH THE OIL OF GLADNESS”- Psalm 45:7, I.S.V.). Therefore, as wickedness is so rampant among modern day Jews (i.e., A Jewish Rabbi owns Porn-Hub), their clever way to escape from the hatred of religious Gentiles is to deny the existence of any God [and therefore the validity of any religious text].

“Where a [secular] Jew walks, men’s tears flow”– Ancient Russian Proverb

Starting with 2024, the world will no longer remember the so called “Jewish Holocaust”.... Instead, it will commemorate the “Palestinian Holocaust”... And the latter will be a sober reminder of how deadly [and dangerous] is for the nations of the world to let secular Jews secretly control the cultural, economical, and political landscape of any major Western Power....

«What is Bibi Netanyahu trying to achieve by destroying Northern Gaza, and displacing its native population? Very simple! He aims at doing against Muslim Gaza what Turkey did to Christian Cyprus.... In other words, just as Turkey [forcefully] created the Muslim Republic of Northern Cyprus, so does Netanyahu wants to [forcefully] create the Jewish Republic of Northern Gaza....

Quando la gente diminuta logra proyectar grandes sombras, sabemos con certeza que la oscuridad [de la noche] esta a punto de caer sobre todo el Mundo... De ese mismo modo, cuando la diminuta moralidad del Judío secular se convierte en el patrón para medir tanto lo que es moral como lo que es inmoral (lo que es crítica constructiva, y lo que es anti-semitismo; lo que es “un genocidio”, y lo que es “defensa propia”), sabemos con certeza que las tinieblas de la oscuridad están a punto de caer sobre todo el Planeta...
